Asks City for Traffic Help

Downs Proposes $3 Million Expansion

A $3 million expansion and improvement program for Northville Downs was revealed Thursday evening by John Carlo, executive manager of the harness track, at the general membership meeting of the chamber of commerce.

Carlo predicted that the expanded facility would more than double revenues now paid the city with an estimated $400,000 annual yield within 10 years.

The Downs' building program calls for:

- a three-floor clubhouse directly west of the present grandstand with a covered auto entrance off Center street;
- another enclosed grandstand to the east of the present facility;
- expansion of parking to accommodate nearly 4,000 cars with lots extending northward to Cady and from Center to an extension of Griswold, and eastward from the track to South Main street and from Gardner on the south to Beal avenue on the north.

Carlo said plans call for construction of the luxury clubhouse next year, possibly beginning in the spring, depending upon racing dates.

He estimated the cost of the clubhouse at $600,000.

The new grandstand would come later at a cost of $900,000. It would be larger than the present stands. Acquisition of property to provide the proposed parking along with the improvements account for the additional expenditure.

The Downs' manager made a strong appeal for city help in bringing about fulfillment of the proposed expansion.

"The city stands to benefit substantially in tax revenue and it behooves the council to assist us in this", Carlo stated.

Carlo wants city help in providing better ingress and egress for the track. He pointed out that the Downs presently has two entrance-exits and that all tracks have at least three.

He believes track traffic problems could be solved by extending Griswold south from Main street across Cady to an improved and widened Beal avenue. And he thinks the city should bear the cost of this improvement.

The track executive said he didn't think his plan conflicted with the city's proposed master plan.

Chamber President Essie Nirider said that the nine-member board had fully endorsed the Griswold-Beal avenue improvement.

Widening of Wing street and its extension straight south through to Hines drive was also proposed to handle northwest traffic and remove some of the burden from Center street.

Carlo called the total improvement project a "five to 10 year program".

Mayor A. M. Allen, Councilwoman Beatrice Carlson and City Manager Roger Rehberg attended the chamber meeting.

The mayor asked Carlo "how far the Downs is willing to go in acquisitions on Beal street". Carlo replied that he thought it was the city's responsibility to acquire the property for widening, but that the track would agree to buy any excess depth for parking.

While the mayor proposed a committee meeting composed of representatives of the council, planners and chamber to discuss the plan, Councilwoman Carlson balked.

"It should be discussed before all members of the bodies - the full chamber board, planning commission and city council - so that we'll all understand", said Mrs. Carlson.

She got her way at a special meeting of the city council Tuesday night when the council accepted an invitation from the chamber to meet with planners. No date was set. The chamber will be asked to make arrangements.

10c Per Copy, $4.00 Per Year In Advance

School Construction Won't Begin in '65

Prospects that the new elementary school might get underway this year appeared slim this week.

Superintendent of Schools Alex Nelson said that progress has been bogged down in legal red tape, mostly surrounding the sale of bonds. Approval is now expected from the Michigan Municipal Finance corporation before December, Nelson stated.

Meanwhile, negotiations are still incomplete in the purchase of a 10-acre parcel on West Eight Mile road for the elementary school.

School Board Attorney James Littell reported to the board Monday night on progress in acquiring the Eight Mile road site as well as some 14 acres sought on Taft road for the new junior high school.

Littell said it appears certain that the Salvation Army, owners of the Whipple Estate property on the south side of West Eight Mile, is prepared to go ahead with the transaction.

But on Taft road the school district must deal with two property owners to acquire the desired site behind the high school athletic field. It is not anticipated that this transaction can be completed this year.

Meanwhile, however, the board decided to go ahead with topographic surveys so that the architect might proceed with plans.

Proof that the Northville system needs the additional classroom space was presented by student enrollment figures given the board Monday night.

Student population in all schools now stands at 2,534, an increase of 132 over the same time last year. All schools are jammed, said Superintendent Nelson, with individual school enrollments as follows: Amerman elementary - 574; Main street elementary - 551; junior high school - 522; and high school - 887.

In other business Monday night the school board was given private showing of the 325-unit mobile home complex proposed in Northville township.

Charles Lapham and Rodney Grover outlined the $800,000 development, stating that they wished to familiarize the board with the project because they recognized the concern over additional school load.

The project is proposed for a 50-acre site on the northwest corner of Beck and Six Mile roads. The request for rezoning is now being considered by the Northville township planning commission. But no hearing date has been granted.

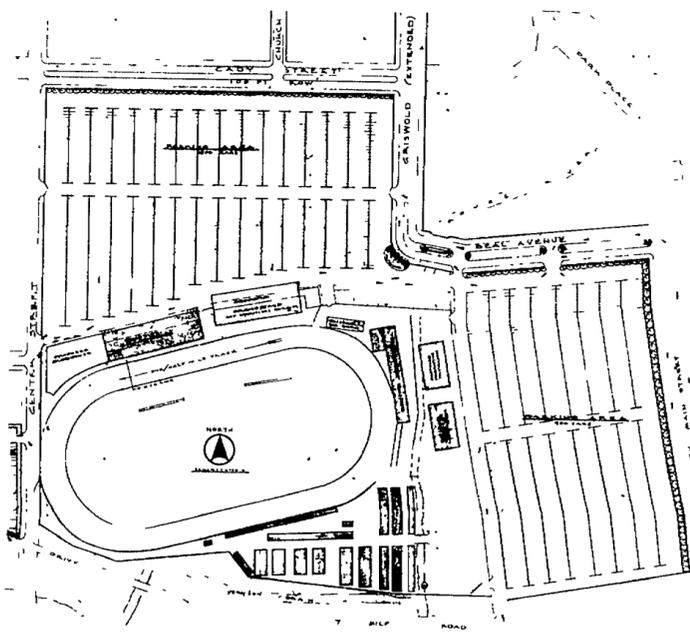

Grover and Lapham emphasized that they were concentrating on retirees and they noted that one nearby mobile home area had only a total of six children in 154 homes. Statistics supplied by Grover indicated that the average mobile home would pay nearly as much in school taxes as typical homes in Village Green and Northville Heights. He said the payment per student would be $163 compared to $173 and $198 in Village Green and Northville Heights respectively.

Board members had few questions, but Trustee Eugene Cook recalled that the board has taken a position of opposition to the proposed "trailer park" on Beck road in the school district.

A proposal suggested by Superintendent Nelson to provide bus service from Amerman school for junior high school students living north of the Eight Mile road cut-off is being studied. E. V. Ellison, director of administrative services, said it's possible that the service can be introduced within a month.

The board went on record as commending the service provided by the John Mach automobile agency in resolving problems with two new school buses purchased this year.

In final board business some $280,000 in tax anticipation notes were purchased by Manufacturers National Bank at an interest rate of 1.90 per cent; a September 27 or October 25 date was proposed for meeting with the city council to study possible water and sewer service to the new elementary school and development of a new access road to the high school; state aid for the 1965-66 year has been computed at $255 per membership child for a total of $469,149 with other state reimbursements; teacher salary increases for in-service growth requirements were approved; and cafeteria lunch charges were approved at 35¢ for type A and 40¢ for burger line.

Enlarged parking areas are shown north and east of the Downs' track. Griswold is extended southward, Beal avenue widened and track property extended eastward to South Main street.

Only 10% Cast Ballots In Primary Vote Here

It was a quiet day at the polls in Northville Tuesday. With only nominations for the Wayne county circuit court at stake few local residents bothered to vote.

The entrance of Northville Municipal Judge Charles McDonald in the race added a local flavor, but the young attorney failed to finish among the top eight who will compete for four seats on the circuit bench in November.

The eight nominees and their total county votes were: Blair Moody, Jr., 80,916; Charles Farmer, 78,792; Thomas Foley, 69,720; Harry Dingman, Jr., 64,007; Joe B. Sullivan, 56,317; Orville Hubbard, 48,154; Anthony Szymanski, 41,966; and Robert DeMascio, 41,650.

In Northville McDonald led the field handsly. He received 93 of the 159 votes cast in Northville township and 126 of the 162 votes cast in the city.

Total vote by precinct in the township was 102 votes in predict one and 57 votes in precinct two. With nearly 1650 registered voters the turnout in the township was about nine per cent.

Only Wayne county precincts one and two voted in the city. Precinct one cast 93 votes out of a registration of 798, while predict two had only 63 votes from a registration of 772. The city turnout was just over 10 per cent.

For the first time out in county-wide competition Judge McDonald did very well. He finished 18th in the field of 46 candidates and polled a total of 17,378 votes.

Nirider Outlines Chamber Goals

Chamber of Commerce President Essie Nirider outlined eight committees and seven potential projects at last Thursday's general membership meeting of the year-old group.

A disappointing turn-out (see "Speaking for The Record", page 7B) attended the city hall session. But all nine board members were on hand.

Nirider called for the formation of working committees in the following areas: Projects and Activities, Economic and Industrial Development, Education and Church, Finance and Legislation, Streets, Traffic and Transportation, Membership, Publicity and Public Relations and Retail Merchants.

And for "things the chamber can do" the new president suggested: piping water back into the Old Spring (now being undertaken by the city), new street lighting, a paint-up, clean-up campaign, Michigan Week participation, fire prevention program, an employment agency and an annual community-wide event such as the Fourth of July program, scheduled to be resumed next year by the Jaycees.

Nirider said he would call for a workshop at the next meeting where committees can be organized and aims established.

The chamber honored its charter president, Dempsey Ebert, with the presentation of a plaque by Dr. L. W. Snow. Also honored with a plaque was the past vice president, Wynn Wakenhut.

Board members in addition to Nirider, Ebert and Dr. Snow are Howard Atwood, John Carlo, John Macauley, Fred McLean, Thomas Quinn and Mrs. Margaret Zayti.

City Ponders

Detroit Water?

City councilmen are studying a report from the consulting firm of Ayres, Lewis, Norris and May to determine long range policy for Northville's water supply.

The water report was presented at special session Tuesday evening. A full review of the report will be made in next week's edition of The Record.

Basically, the water consultants proposed system improvements to provide for growth whether ground supply is continued or Detroit water is purchased. The report indicated that the cost of supplying Detroit water might increase present rates 50 to 60 per cent. To improve the present system and add new ground supply would also hike rates nearly 50 per cent, while installing a local system to soften water would cost considerably more.

In other business Tuesday evening the council okayed purchase of a Randolph street residence for $7,500 so that the curve may be removed at Eight Mile road when Randolph improvements are undertaken. The city manager was given authority to provide a second weekly rubbish pick-up in the business district if businessmen agree to purchase large, centrally located containers. And the manager was also instructed to initiate a new system for better control of the city dump to eliminate "bootleg" dumping and excessive burning.

Pajot Joins Record

Dennis Pajot, editor of The South Lyon Herald for the past two years, takes over editorial desk duties at The Northville Record and Novi News this week.

Pajot will assume expanded responsibilities in directing the news departments of The Record-News as well as The Herald.

A resident of South Lyon, Pajot attended Michigan State University. He is married and has two children.

HOW'S THAT—Dave Ballinger has just stenciled the house number on the curb in front of the Richard Norton residence, 325 South Ely drive. Young Steve Norton seems to approve. It's a Northville Jaycee project that will begin Saturday. Jaycees will call door-to-door throughout the city offering to stencil addresses on curbs at one dollar each. Jaycee John Macauley checks Ballinger's work.

Now That's An Idea

"I never thought of advertising to find a house to rent."

That's a familiar phrase from house-hunters. They look in the want ads for rentals, but they neglect to take the initiative themselves.

Two smart Northville residents tried using Record Want Ads to find a house to rent recently - and both were successful!

And in these days of rental scarcities, that only emphasizes our claim that "Record Want Ads Really Work."

As flower girl, Elizabeth Ann Schwarze carried a miniature of her aunt's bridal bouquet. Her dress was beige silk organza over yellow satin. The bridegroom, son of Mr. and Mrs. J. Robert Tipton of Ashland, Ohio, asked Jerry Westerhouse of Hammond, Indiana, to serve as best man. Ushers were Stephen and Robert Davis of Ashland, Joseph Thomas of Attleboro, Massachusetts, and Frederick Schwarze.

Jeffery Lutz, nephew of the groom was ring bearer.

Both mothers chose shades of avocado green for their costumes. The bride's mother wore a silk chiffon empire gown and beige and green hat. Mrs. Tipton wore silk linen and matching pill box hat. Bronze cymbidium orchids completed their costumes.

A reception in the church Fellowship hall followed the ceremony. Mary Ellen Culik was in charge of the guest book. Elizabeth and Susan Schmidt of Playa Del Rey, California, Etta Rutan, and Kathleen Gallagher assisted at the punch and tea tables.

Following a honeymoon in northern Michigan, the new Mr. and Mrs. Tipton will return to San Francisco where they will make their home.

Our Prescription Fitting is Precise

Poll-Parrot SHOES
For Boys and Girls

That's why we don't give fast service either when you bring your child in for a size check or for new shoes. We know that proper fitting is too important to be done hurriedly. We want your child to wear shoes that fit correctly and this is our method:

Both feet are measured carefully for length and width using accurate measuring device.

The arch height is considered for support should be firm.

The ball of the foot is checked, for the widest part of the shoe must be fitted to the widest part of the foot.

Toes must have wiggle room and growing room too. We fit to allow 1/2" to 3/4" growing room.

Heels must fit snugly enough to prevent rubbing and heel base must be broad enough.

Gridders Host Plymouth in Opener Friday

It may be a long evening for Northville when the Mustangs take on Plymouth here in the traditional grid opener for both teams tomorrow.

Kick off is scheduled for 8 p.m. at the high school field.

Northville Coach Ron Horwath is singing the blues. He's on the lookout for two linebackers who can stem the Plymouth offensive tide.

And the Mustangs will have to do that to end the long drought against their arch rivals. Not since 1961 has Northville walked off the field the winner.

Last year it was a narrow scrape, but a Mustang loss nevertheless as Plymouth posted a 19-12 win. A fumbled pass from center that was recovered on the Northville three yard line led to the first Plymouth TD, and a high pass from center which rolled to the Northville one set up another.

And in the previous two years Northville lost by 19-6 and 26-12 scores.

Plymouth, like the Mustangs, has a batch of untested griders. But Coach Horwath pointed out that the Rocks always have come up with better than adequate replacements.

Plymouth, like Northville, will probably stake its offensive on a stable of sturdy backs. They're headed by Jon Adams, Jim Arnold and Curt Irish. At quarterback, the Rocks are trying three new prospects.

Northville may be in for a few surprises, simply because the Rocks have a new head coach - John McFall. He was an assistant under departed Coach Mike Hoben.

Horwath will rest his hopes on his big backfield, comprised of Doug Swiss (providing he's healthy), Mike Turnbull, Dave Boerger and Quarterback Tom Baughman.

It's the defense that is nightmarish. Injuries have taken two Mustangs hoketed for linebacking duty out of the Plymouth game. Dan Bongiovanni is recovering from a slash in his foot incurred when he stepped on a piece of glass. The most recent casualty was untied but promising Steve Kehrer, who broke his hand in last Friday's scrimmage.

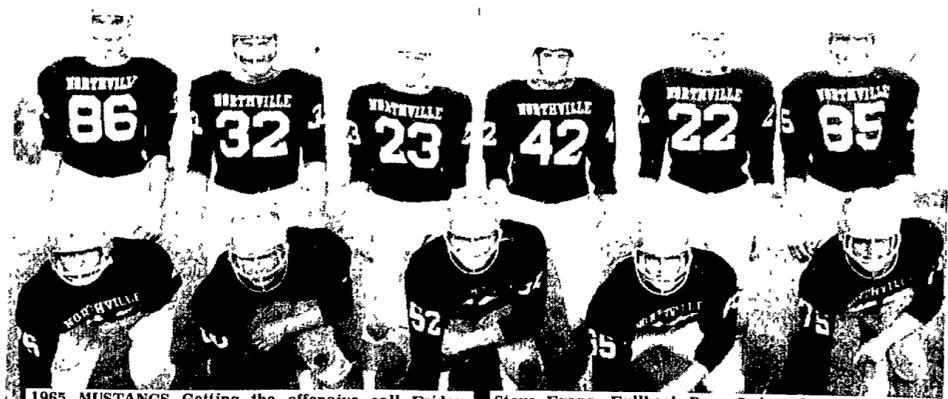

So Horwath is on the prowl for two hopefuls who can handle the chores, but quickly. One of the youths who will probably get the call is Boerger, a transfer student from Onaway.

That's not the only wrinkle in the Mustangs' defense. "As a team we have looked bad, the Mustang mentor said. Even the veterans have been a source of concern, Horwath reports, because they haven't been hitting those ball carriers with authority.

One letterman has been a stand-out on both defense and offense however. He's Jerry Insland, the Mustangs' six-two veteran end. He's been playing with sharp determination this year.

But another offensive stalwart, Swiss, has been crippled by a leg injury. "I don't know whether he'll be ready or not for Friday's game," Horwath said. "He didn't practice all of last week."

Most of the burden, unless the offense shapes up, will fall on the offensive unit.

SOMETHING NEW—To avoid any kibitzing in the huddle, the Northville Mustangs will have a new huddle this year. They'll line up facing the quarterback with the wingback standing just off to the quarterback's right.

Court Proceedings

The case of Gerald Murray LaRoque of 257 Hutton was heard Monday in Northville municipal court. Judge Charles McDonald presided over the trial, involving a charge of felonious assault with a knife.

Eugene J. Corolan of 10303 Cedarlawn, Detroit, made the charge May 8. The assault took place in Cass Benton Park.

LaRoque was arraigned May 23 at which time he pleaded not guilty. He was released on $1500 bond.

At his trial Monday the defense attorney entered a motion to waive examination and that the case be bound over to the Wayne county circuit court. The prosecuting attorney concurred with the motion, and the case was then bound over to the circuit court.

The bond continues at $1500. The case will be heard in the next term of the court.

Two patients at Maybury Sanatorium were charged September 7 by Fred Lawson of the sanatorium with possessing alcoholic beverages at Maybury. Carl Robertson and Davis Byrd were arraigned September 7. Both entered pleas of guilty.

The judge fined them each $25 or one day. They were thereby confined to the Detroit House of Correction for a day.

Reckless driving on East Main street cost James Oscar Grady of Plymouth $50 plus $5 costs. The charge was levied September 7. He was released on a cash bond pending arraignment. At arraignment September 13 he pleaded guilty as charged.

Carl Smith of 496 West Cady was charged July 18 by Lawrence Bevins of 41320 West Seven Mile with assault and battery. He was arraigned July 26 and entered a plea of not guilty. He was released on bond.

The trial was heard Monday. After testimony was taken, the complainant asked to withdraw his charge. The motion was granted provided that the defendant pay $35 costs.

CATHERINE V. LITTLE

Born March 5, 1887 in New Haven, Connecticut, she was preceded in death by her husband, Harry. Surviving are two sons, Frank Sullivan of Northville and Joseph Sullivan of Atlanta, Georgia, and 10 grandchildren. Mrs. Little moved to Northville about three years ago. She was a member of Our Lady of Victory Church and the Third Order of St. Francis. A rosary was said Friday at the Casterline Funeral Home. A requiem mass was said Saturday at Our Lady of Victory Church with the Reverend John Wittstock officiating. Burial was at Holy Sepulchre cemetery.

...sides her husband, surviving are a son, Rodney Arthur and a daughter, Pamela Joan; her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Oscar Warner of St. Ignace; and a sister, Mrs. Patricia Falaris. She was a member of the Holy Redeemer Lutheran Church in Southgate. Funeral services were held yesterday at 2 o'clock from the Evangelical Lutheran church of the Epiphany in Plymouth with the arrangements by Ebert Funeral Home. The Reverend David M. Strang and the Reverend Roy Houser officiated. Interment was at Rural Hill Cemetery.

MILDRED MARIE BRAUN
Mrs. Mildred Marie Braun, 35, died September 12 at Sinai hospital, Detroit after being ill for several weeks. She lived at 113 Ely drive. She is survived by her husband, Oliver Warner. Born August 22, 1930 in Newberry, she moved to Northville in 1963. Be-

LESTER C. JOHNSON
Lester C. Johnson, a former Northville resident, died suddenly Friday in Livonia. She lived in Garden City and was employed by the Ford Transmission Plant in Livonia. For many years she worked for the Maybury Sanatorium. She was born September 14, 1917 in Detroit and was 47 years old. She is survived by her mother, Mrs. Irene O'Neill of Garden City; a son, Dennis of Northville; three brothers, George Ronald of Southfield, James Neil, and John Alvin of Garden City; and two sisters, Mrs. Helen Byron of Owingsville, Kentucky and Mrs. Joyce Berner of Garden City; and one grandchild. Funeral services were held Monday from Ebert Funeral Home at 2 o'clock. The Reverend Lloyd G. Brasure officiated. Burial followed at Parkview Cemetery, Livonia.

LEAF CLEANER—Mike Williams displays the city's latest equipment purchase, a leaf cleaner. This fall the city will schedule leaf pick-ups and request residents to rake their lawn leaves near the curb for collection.

Find Man Beaten Here

Northville police found and gave lodging to a man "either drunk or beaten" alongside the American Legion hall Saturday night. William Philip, Jr. about 27-years-old, 673 Randolph street, was found lying between two buildings. He was taken to police headquarters and held overnight without arrest when police could learn none of the circumstances. Officers reported that it appeared as though someone had "worked him over." His face was marked and his clothing torn.

Police Chief Eugene King arrested a man September 8 for uttering and publishing no account checks. Paul Farley of Utica stood mute before Justice Charles McDonald and was scheduled for pre-trial examination September 20. He was charged with passing bogus checks at Northville Downs during the last race meet. Vandallism has struck repeatedly in new homes being built in Village Green subdivision. Police said that contractors have reported several instances of equipment and materials being carted from homes under construction. And imagine the impact of a prank which came to police attention this week. A Dunsany street resident was chagrined to see three yards of new sod taken from their lawn arranged neatly in the middle of the street as a Nazi swastika. Fluttering in the open ground where the sod had been was a small American flag.

Tanager, Chairman, Mrs. John Campbell, Mrs. Glenn Gordon, Mrs. William Riley and Mrs. P. David Vincent, Jr. AAUW is now conducting a membership campaign during September and October. Vending Machines Looted

A wave of vending machine robberies passed through Northville this past weekend. At least 10 police hope it passed. Two local industrial sites were hit at about the same time, sometime between 6 p.m. Saturday and their opening for work Monday, September 13. Kwik-Lock Form company, 279 Park Lane, and Foundry Flask company, 456 East Cady, were the locations. Object of the thieves were the coin boxes inside pop machines.

At Kwik-Lock a single machine was torn open and about $12 in small change taken. Damage to the machine was estimated at about $30. The Foundry Flask incident produced higher losses. Two machines were hit to the tune of $110 in coin and about $250 in damages. Police Chief Eugene King said that no signs of forceable entry into either building was found. Fred Kuekes, manager for the company whose machine is at Kwik-Lock, reported that at about the same time another of his machines was broken into in Livonia, leading police here to believe all were done by one person or group. "They knew exactly what they were doing," said King. "They went right down the catches on the doors with a prying device. And they were wearing canvass gloves, as shown by the fingerprint lifting powder."

Sounds of Fall and Football

Oom-Pa-Pa

TUNING UP—You know for sure that fall and football have returned when you hear the roll of the snare drums, the boom of the bass drum and the oom-pa-pa of the tuba. Northville's 110-member marching band will take the field to entertain fans at the season opener Friday night against traditional rival, Plymouth. Director Robert Williams says the band will emphasize "good music and precision drill". Formations are kept to a minimum because of the difficulty of viewing from low stands. Making sure he'll be on key is Mike Utley, a junior, who is section leader of the four tuba players in the Mustang marching band.

St. Paul's Evangelical Lutheran Church of Northville

What do you think about honesty? Is it a good thing? Of course, it's all right to recommend to others! After all, you want people to give you a fair deal. You loath dishonesty -- in others! But, how about yourself? Do you despise yourself when you recall some instance when you took advantage of your neighbor?

God has much to say about honesty. Proverbs 11:1 we read: "A false balance is an abomination to the Lord; but a just weight is His delight." This proverb deals with but one of many kinds of business transaction, but it serves to show God's attitude toward honesty in general.

The Lord abhors dishonesty in every form. He delights in honesty, and every practice of it. Long ago God laid down as one of His ten fundamental rules for human conduct: "Thou shalt not steal." In the many transactions of our everyday life in the world of business, commerce, and finance, and in every exchange of goods and money there are a thousand applications of this basic business rule.

And when the Lord in this passage from Proverbs speaks of false balances and of just weights, condemning the one and praising the other, He gives us definite principles to live by, and lays down the only policy for His people to follow in the field of business ethics.

It is a good thing for us to examine ourselves carefully to find out whether or not we are really honest as a matter of principle, or only as a matter of expediency. That is, are we honest at heart, or do we practice honesty only when it is for our own benefit?

"Well," you say, "I try to be honest -- most of the time, anyway -- and when it doesn't cost me too much." Well, then, WHY ARE YOU HONEST? Is honesty really the ONLY policy with you? When a mistake is made in your favor, and you alone detect it, do you say to yourself: "Thou O God, seeest me -- and I know that a false balance is an abomination to Thee, but a just weight is Thy delight"? Or are you honest only because, and only when, it puts something into your pocket?

You often hear the remark:

"It pays to be honest." It doesn't always seem so. Honest people do not always become rich. And even when God blesses the honest efforts of a Christian man and grants him a good measure of prosperity, the Christian man knows that His money is not God's payment to him for his honesty. Both his honesty and his money are gifts of God.

Perhaps you have always tried to be honest and are making little headway on the ladder of financial success. You've turned down, for the sake of honesty, some shady business deal, while others who went into the venture, are buying new cars and summer homes. So now you are wondering whether it really pays to be honest.

You can be sure that it does not always pay at once in terms of cash. Perhaps God has arranged things this way so that we strive to be honest, not simply for selfish reasons, but for the glory of God.

Let's admit it, none of us has a perfect record in matters of honesty -- let's admit it and confess our sin to God. Christ has borne the punishment of our sins of dishonesty. Look to Him for cleansing from those sins. "The blood of Jesus Christ, God's Son, cleanse us from all sin."

Then, with a clean heart and a right spirit you can make a new effort, with the help of God, to give up your dishonest habits and practices. Out of love for Him who gave His life on the Cross for you, you will want to adopt honesty as the only God-pleasing policy.

This is one of the snapshots from my vacation trip. Friends ask why I made this the frontpiece in my album rather than that shot of the bald crest of Mt. Marcy -- or the telescopic close-up of the Old Man of the Mountains.

Sure, I know this scene is commonplace. I saw a hundred villages with their white steeples peering above the trees and their comfortable old houses nestled around the church. And each one had a pond with pines and birches guarding its shore.

But this picture says more than all the others. It speaks not just of beauty and natural wonder . . . it tells of a good land populated by a great people. It reminds me of God . . . and of my neighbor. It whispers that all I cherish can endure for generations.

The landmarks of a great people proudly point to Faith. The Church belongs at the center of our life. But only you and I can keep it there!

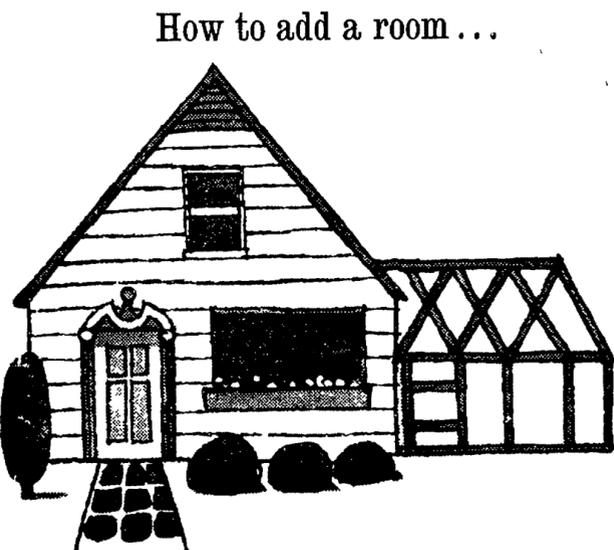

THE CHURCH FOR ALL

ALL FOR THE CHURCH

The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the Church. They are: (1) For his own sake. (2) For his children's sake. (3) For the sake of his community and nation. (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.

They Spent Summer Vacation Helping Poor in Colombia

Two young Northville people focused their attentions on widespread poverty and other problems plaguing the tiny south American country of Colombia when they visited there this summer. Tom and Peggy McGuire, whose parents are the John T. McGuires of Orchard drive, were representatives of the Association of International Development, a cultural exchange program for college students. Tom is a seminarian at Mary Knoll Seminary in New York. After his ordination as a priest in two years, he plans to make missionary work his life. Peggy is a sociology major in her second year at Schoolcraft College.

They were part of a group of 38 students who participated in the program. They lived with middle class Colombian families but spent their days working with the very poor.

Tom claims, "This is the best way to study sociology - by working with people on the job."

"On the job" meant working in a poor children's orphanage for Peggy. She and several other girls played with the children, took them on field trips and most important, showed them the attention and affection they desperately need. The orphans had been neglected until the A.I.D. group came to work with them.

Tom worked for Radio Sutatenza, which is a system used to give basic education to the "campesinos" (poor farmers). There is an institute for both men and women. Tom's group trained people so that they could go back to their villages and direct auxiliary training programs on their own.

Health, agriculture, arithmetic, reading and religion are the five basics taught. The people must buy their own transistor radios, but the rest of the instruction is free. Three or four families share one radio to hear the 10-minute lectures by doctors, teachers and priests.

After the lecture they are instructed and then practice what they have learned. Each student has a manual and books to help him too.

Tom says, "The program has been very successful." In fact, the station now reaches most of the country. One drawback, however, he explains, is "the weak follow-up."

Besides the social projects, the young people conducted research and went on many trips to learn more about the causes and possible solutions for the country's problems.

Tom discovered the basis for many of the problems while visiting a very poor and illiterate barrio (neighborhood). The barrio's priest called a meeting at which he explained that the people should not depend on him for leadership, and that they should organize themselves and select their own leaders.

One woman, agreeing with the priest, delivered an impassioned speech. The people were roused. They formed a committee to protect the area from new people moving in who would crowd the neighborhood even more.

The committee proceeded to tear down a house where a family was going to build on and thereby bring in more people. Tom recalls that "people got pretty roughed up" during the resulting fight.

He feels that this incident shows "The only way these people know how to react is through their emotions. The people need education, and they need educated people to show them how to work in committees and groups."

Tom adds, however, that "There is a great deal being done in such barrios. University students in Colombia are working with them, but often the people don't want to co-operate. They feel that if things change, they're likely to lose everything."

In helping the poor people, the group also helped the middle class families they lived with. Peggy explains, "We made the people we were living with aware of the problems, and our work helped them to realize that something could be done."

During their 10-week stay they also took extensive Spanish courses. They will receive college credits for the Spanish classes and also credits in sociology for their social work.

Tom describes the trip as "a very maturing experience" and

"very successful as it taught the college students what it's like to work in another country."

Peggy adds, "We went with the purpose of helping the people, but we learned more from them than we could ever give. It was great!"

RADIO SUTATENZA—These pictures show two aspects of the radio system which provides basic education to poor Colombian families. Above, Tom McGuire explains further to some young students the subject taught that day over the radio. In this case it was the alphabet. Below, he listens to a radio lecture along with a Colombian family who are following the lesson in their manuals. Tom worked with the radio this summer when he and his sister, Peggy, visited Colombia on a sociology trip.

IN ADDITION TO ENDING LIFTING, LUGGING AND HANGING CLOTHES ON WASHDAY!

- VALF SERVICE—wrinkles can be removed from corduroys, velveteen or wool garments by placing them in dryer for short tumbling period with damp sponges or bath towels. Place sponges or towel in dryer before putting in clothing to build up steam. Use medium heat setting. Bath towels leave flat on dark cottons, so damp, color-fast sponges are best. There must be moisture to release wrinkles and prevent shrinkage. Remove garments before completely dry and hang on wooden or plastic hangers until completely dry.

The clerk read a letter from Mr. C. A. Boyer, Chief, Michigan Dept. of Agriculture, replying to Mr. George Clark's letter wherein he enclosed a copy of Mr. Tom Wheaton's communication relative to Dutch Elm diseased trees - particularly local situation. The city manager was asked to determine if the city tree service follows directions in removing diseased elm trees according to state directives; obtain tree-spraying policy from City tree service company and also those from neighboring communities (in relation to this - are privately owned trees sprayed when they are close to city owned trees - what is approximate distance?) City manager, city engineer and DPW supt. to check out trees that should be replaced or replanted.

A letter from Chief King recommending that there is no need to continue the two-hour controlled parking beyond the Northville Convalescent Center on W. Communications from Citizens Mr. John Macauley, President of the Northville Junior Chamber of Commerce was presented and presented the proposed money-making project for his group for council approval. The JCCs propose to paint house addresses on the street curbs for a small fee. Mr. Macauley mentioned such a project had been done successfully in Garden City and Dearborn Heights.

Moved by Carlson, supported by Kester that the Northville Junior Chamber of Commerce be granted permission to paint numbers (house) on street curbs within the city of Northville for people who desire this service (money making project). Unanimously carried.

Mr. Sidney Frid, Grace Street asked whether claims would be taken care of before permit was issued to the Weissman Construction Co. for the Detroit Water line; and was told this permit would not be issued until these were accomplished.

Planning Commission meeting minutes for August 3, were received by Council.

The police report for the month of July, 1965 was received by council.

Old Business: Letter from Robert Cole, Fairbrook street, requesting consideration for the snow-removal (sidewalks) contract for 1965-66.

Moved by Kester, supported by Black that the city manager publish for bids for 1965-66 sidewalk snow removal for the city of Northville. After some discussion, Mr. Kester asked that motion be withdrawn with consent of Mr. Black who assented. Council would like a list of properties where sidewalks cannot be cleaned, plus a list of properties which were damaged last year while snow was being removed. City Manager was asked to review this and report back to Council. Mr. Cole to be notified that City of Northville intends to advertise for bids.

2. A letter to be sent to petitioners asking for vacation of 16' public alley located behind the property fronting on Novi avenue, stating their petition is being considered and that they will be duly notified of any action taken.

3. Councilman Black reported on the committee meeting of Board of Education and city council representatives held on August 3. Mr. Rehberg and Mr. Black are to be notified of the next meeting of this committee.

4. The city manager reported that he had examined the equipment of the C.B. Disposal company and found it to be satisfactory and recommended that the council accept the bid of $10,620 and include an option for extending the contract for one year with additional monies to be paid based on building permits.

Moved by Kester, supported by Black that C. D. Disposal company be awarded the contract for garbage refuse collection for the city of Northville, according to the low bid of $10,620 previously presented; with the provision that the city shall have the option to renew said contract for one additional year on the same basis and conditions with any increase in contract being covered by net proportionate increase in housing units, based on building permits for the past year. Unanimously carried.

The city manager explained item "C" in his communication to Council relative to the containers which might be used for the downtown business district. Merchants could use 14-1 yd. and 7-2 yrd. containers which could be purchased by them. The charge for the 2 yard containers is $175 and for 1 yard containers - $105; $17 per month for 2 yard containers and $10 per month for 1 yard containers. The city manager is to look at Plymouth's method of collecting refuse and garbage in the business district - Kester and Carlson to work with him.

It was unanimously agreed to follow the steps as outlined in the city manager's recommendation relative to uniformity of containers being used. A copy of the ordinance pertaining to garbage and refuse is to be printed and distributed along with a letter regarding uniform containers and sent to names on water meter list. After September 1 this will be the only regular pickup service by the city.

Mr. Ralph Hay, N. Rogers street spoke regarding the rough treatment accorded their containers. City manager to speak to Mr. Brooks about this.

4. Based on the city manager's report, moved by Carlson, supported by Black to award contract for 1965 sidewalk program to Angelo Bagnasco, low bidder, in the following amounts: 12,000 sq. feet of 4" sidewalk - $6,400. 1,550 sq. feet of 6" sidewalk - $1,085. Unanimously carried.

New Business: 1. Moved by Canterbury, supported by Kester that the following persons be appointed to the Municipal Parking Authority: John Stubenvoll, 3 year term Scott Krause and Charles Altman, Jr. - 2 yr. terms Jack Roland and Richard Lyon - 1 yr. terms and that Jack Stubenvoll serve as chairman. Terms are to be retroactive to July 1, 1965. Unanimously carried.

2. City engineer obtained prices for 1-inch re-capping of 3 blocks - S. Wing and 1 block of Fairbrook - $9.75 per ton or a total of $3700. City manager said that the 1/4 participation by the city and 3/4 by contractor should be agreed upon before issuing a permit for resumption of construction for the Detroit Water line. City engineer reported that Wing street was in good condition with a few surface cuts; lower end of Fairbrook street the curbing is rough. An agreement is to be typed, explain terms and city manager and city engineer are list broken driveways, etc. to be attached to list.

3. Matter of appointment of treasurer to be discussed at a special meeting on Monday, August 23, 1965, 8:00 p.m. at the city hall. Also bonding of city manager and treasurer to be discussed.

4. City manager is to look into people or business firms having keys for the city dump.

City manager is to determine cost of water line for the city dump and whether this could be shared by nearby businesses. In discussion of proposed hours and wages for the custodian of the dump, the city attorney was asked to determine if federal law is being observed in paying of social security to city employees-part-time, etc.

City manager is to check on item "A" and report back to council.

Items "B" through "E" to be put into practice.

5. City manager to report with figures for seal coating, oil, chloride, cost of grading, etc.

6. City manager to get information on leaf sweeper - look into Plymouth's equipment which is for sale.

The need for a subdivision ordinance was tabled for a future meeting.

8. The proposed police ordinance "Assaulting an officer" and "Resisting Arrest" were referred to the city attorney for a report to be given to council.

9. Moved by Carlson, supported by Canterbury that the next regular council meeting be held on Tuesday, September 7 instead of Monday, September 6 because of Labor Day holiday. Unanimously carried.

Mr. Kester and city manager Rehberg are to look into Mr. Gadioia's request to install a fence on Main street and Center street.

Moved by Canterbury, supported by Black that a resolution be adopted:

Whereas, It has been reported by the city engineer that Oakland Paving Company has agreed to have the north 280 feet of Novi street, south of Baseline road for the same unit price as contained in existing contract with the City

In view of the size of the proposed paving on Novi street it is the considered opinion of the Northville City Council that they could obtain no better price for said work.

Mayor Allen called the Special Meeting of the Northville City Council to order on Monday, August 23, 1965, 8:00 p.m.

Present: Allen, Black, Canterbury (late), Carlson and Kester. Absent: None.

Moved by Carlson, supported by Kester to place on the August 23 special meeting agenda, the matter of the bill to the City of Northville from Linda McKernan relative to the King family; also the matter of acquisition of Randolph street property by the City of Northville. Unanimously carried.

Mayor Allen reported discussing with the McKernan family the bill which had been presented to the council. He directed the attorney to draft an agreement with the McKernan family and a check for $300 was ordered in connection with this agreement. On Tuesday August 17 about 7:30 p.m. Mayor Allen, accompanied by Mrs. Allen to act as witness, went to the McKernan home; Mrs. McKernan was not at home. The McKernan family was instructed to go to the city hall at 4 o'clock the next day and meet with the city clerk, Mrs. Milne, to sign said agreement. The city clerk presented the agreement to the McKernans on Wednesday, August 18 (as per instructions) and the family refused to sign. City clerk then called the city attorney regarding the furniture exclusion provision which the McKernans were requesting. The city attorney's instructions were that this furniture was not to be mentioned in relation to the proposed agreement. The city clerk was instructed to contact Chief King and advise him to return the furniture to the McKernans as soon as possible. This furniture was left to the McKernans by a relative and was being stored at the King home according to Chief Eugene King. Chief King hired two men (city employees) to return this furniture on August 21, 1965. Inasmuch as the McKernans refused to sign a receipt for the furniture returned on August 21, Chief King had the two men hired to deliver the furniture, sign that certain itemized furniture had been accepted by the McKernan family at 210 S. Rogers street Northville, Michigan.

In answer to a question, Chief King replied that neither he nor his wife had ever accepted money from Mr. Cliff Hill of Northville during his illness or convalescence. The bill for Casterline's ambulance service was paid for by the Kings.

Mrs. Carlson reported she had charge at the time of Mr. King's accident, of the food which was contributed to the family and said that any money that was donated to the King family was accepted by Mrs. Alice Ritchie of the Police department.

A discussion was held by the Council with respect to the payment by the city of Northville of expenses incurred by Chief Eugene King as a direct result of his being seriously injured in the course of duty. While the city council had previously agreed that the city should pay all said expenses, it was ascertained that no formal motion to that effect had been adopted. It was therefore moved by Canterbury, supported by Kester that the city should pay all of the expenses incurred by Chief Eugene King as a consequence to his being seriously injured in the course of duty. Unanimously carried.

The matter of the claim of Melinda McKernan for additional compensation for babysitting services rendered to Chief Eugene King and his family, while he was hospitalized as a result of his injuries sustained in the course of duty, was brought up for discussion. At the conclusion of the council meeting of August 16 the members of the council had unanimously agreed to offer to pay to Melinda McKernan the sum of $300 which she had requested as additional compensation, upon receipt from her, her sister, Susan McKernan, and her parents, Frederick C. McKernan and Marion E. McKernan, of a release relieving the city of Northville and Eugene King and Lorna M. King, his wife, of any further liability of any kind or nature. A letter in this respect is to be sent by the city attorney by certified mail presenting this offer of agreement and stating they are to meet with the city manager by September 3 (Friday) at 5:00 p.m. or said offer will be withdrawn. Unanimously carried.

Agreement Between City of Northville and Weissman Construction Company: Copies of a tentative agreement between the City of Northville and the Weissman Construction Co. relative to permit for said company to resume construction for the Detroit Water line through the City of Northville had been received by council for examination. Council asked that the attorney re-draft proposed agreement ($1750.00 bond to be maintained throughout construction period) and the time limit for cleanup and repairs be November 1, 1965.

(City Manager or Engineer to check with August Wicke of Fairbrook St. as to possible damage in previous water line construction activity. They are also to check driveways on the east side of S. Wing street).

Appointment of a City Treasurer: City manager recommended that all checks for the City of Northville should be countersigned, requiring 2 of possible 3 signatures and that the Bookkeeper should be bonded. Unanimously agreed.

Moved by Black, supported by Kester that Roger R. Rehberg be named Treasurer for the City of Northville. Unanimously carried.

Moved by Black, supported by Carlson that the Standard Corporate Resolution (relating to Commercial accounts) be adopted, designating Roger R. Rehberg, Martha M. Milne, Marlen L. LeFevre as three persons (of these three any two required) to sign checks for City of Northville accounts; safety deposit box forms to be the same, with same conditions required. Unanimously carried.

Mr. Sliger of the Northville Record is to receive all notices of meetings and all council minutes and also all copies of the Planning Commission Meeting minutes and Zoning Board of Appeals minutes.

Purchase of Grader: After some discussion by council concerning operating condition, adaptability for various jobs of the grader and practicality and cost of seal-coating council asked the city manager to prepare a program of seal-coating for certain streets (Carpenier, Hill, Horton and Grace St.) and cost for same for the next council meeting; also try to complete figures on oil, grading, and chloride for streets in the past year. Seal coating some of the streets will be considered new and purchase of grader in the spring of 1966. City manager to check on agreement for maintenance of Taft road and Beck road with Novi township.

City manager to check with city engineer as to status of paving of Maplewood street. City manager was asked to check master lighting map for the city in relation to requests from residents of Village Green protesting the installation of certain ordered street lights in their area. The lighting study figures prepared by Bruce Potthoff to be checked.

Acquisition of Randolph St. property: Mr. Rehberg, City Manager, reported on his and Mr. Allen's meeting with Mr. Olva Kolvupera, relative to acquiring his property on Randolph street. As a result of this meeting they were able to acquire a 30-day option on property (Lot 443, Assessor's Northville Plat #5) - $100 with cash purchase price of $7500.

Moved by Canterbury, supported by Black that the city attorney be instructed to proceed with exercising the 30-day option for purchase of Lot 443, Assessor's Northville Plat #5, City of Northville, at cash price of $7500. Unanimously carried.

There being no further business, the meeting was adjourned at 10:45 p.m.

SRO World Ahead?

BABSON PARK, Mass. — A few days ago the number of people in the United States crossed the 195-million mark. Contrasted with the 4 million recorded in our first census in 1790 that sounds like an awful lot of people. But the population of the world now exceeds 3.3 billion. And, if we include all of North America and Europe (except Russia), we Westerners make up barely 20% of the world's humans.

Thomas Robert Malthus was ordained in the Church of England late in the eighteenth century. But his fame came from his "Essay on The Principles of Population" launched in 1798. In this he held that the world's population expands at a geometrical ratio, whereas the means of sustaining life increases at an arithmetical rate. Therefore, he concluded, poverty and famine would eventually be the lot of man ... unless disease or war intervened.

For a century and a half after Malthus's famous Doctrine, history contradicted his theories. To be sure, famines and wars took their toll, but advances in agriculture and a slowdown in the birth rate seemed to mute his dire prediction. Today, however, population experts are unearthing the Malthusian Doctrine. They point out that the population explosion, if continued, foreshadows in the next two centuries a world on which there will be standing-room-only for teeming billions of humans.

Such a picture, of course, is impossible of realization. Long before standing-room-only would become the rule, famine and disease would have taken over. But the facts of the world's growing population crisis cannot be ignored. And the most frightening of these is that those peoples are increasing the most whose food supply is already the most meager.

Famine today would be more of a killer in overpopulated India, China, etc. ... if it were not for big food imports from Canada, the U.S. and Europe. Yet, these hungry countries are precisely the nations that will experience the greatest population increase by the year 2000. For their birth rate right now is twice as rapid as the birth rate of the West. Even as early as 1980, the United Nations projects that Latin American peoples will exceed those of North America by over 100 million. Yet the two areas today have a population that is almost equal.

Before the tremendous bulge in world population, it was commonly assumed that improved farm method and aid by the "haves" to the "have-nots" would be able to meet the world's food needs. But aid to under-developed nations was concentrated on "hothouse" industrialization. Now it is realized that the main effort should have been toward building up their farming potential. While that is still important, the stark fact is that agriculture alone cannot do the job. For the world, it boils down simply to ... fewer babies ... or famine.

Birth control and contraceptives were not polite words a few years ago. Now almost everyone is talking about them. President Johnson has stated that he will seek "new ways to ... deal with the explosion in world population and the growing scarcity in world resources." Health and welfare agencies in the U.S. are developing family-planning projects; foreign aid funds are being used abroad. Even the Catholic Church is less hostile and is studying the whole problem.

Since 1957 the number of births per 1,000 women of child-bearing age has been falling in the U.S. Some see the decline accelerating as a result of widening use of oral contraceptives, the anti-ovulation drugs, popularly known as "the pill." To many, contraceptives by mouth are less offensive than mechanical methods. But they are expensive and require repeated attention to detail to be effective. Undoubtedly the price will continue to fall, but population experts are convinced that in the teeming countries where birth reduction is most important, the pill is the least likely method for success. The simpler, less costly, mechanical means known as "the loop" is given the best chance for success. In any case, the fight against the world's being swamped by starving humans has barely begun. If it is to win over the predictions of Malthus, a much greater effort than any yet undertaken will have to be made ... and soon.

Erwins Fare Well At State Fair

How would you like to tack 29 blue ribbons, a blue rosette, 26 red ribbons, 21 white ribbons and 11 pink ribbons up over a display of your special interest? That is exactly what Erwin Farms Market at the corner of Novi road and Ten Mile road has been able to do. The Erwin boys captured that many prizes at the 1965 State Fair with displays of their specialty — apples, plums and peaches. Renowned for their innovations in fruit production and marketing, Erwin Farms brought home the blue ribbons mostly with plates of five apples. The rosette was earned with a single plate of five apples deemed best of show. The Erwin Farms have orchards in the Novi and South Lyon areas and were honored two years ago with a Michigan Week state achievement award for their cold storage process. Last year they took over 40 blue ribbons at the State Fair.

LANSING — Many motorists will have to make two trips this winter to get their new license plates because of a new state law and man's tendency to forget details.

Previously only the vehicle title was required to purchase plates but many motorists forget even this when it is time to re-register cars and trucks.

This year, starting November 1, all vehicle owners will be required to show proof of liability insurance coverage or pay an extra $25 when registering their cars.

A PREMIUM of $1 annually will be levied on all motorists, but $25 will be charged any motorist not able to prove he carries liability insurance. These are part of the provisions of Michigan's new motor vehicle accident claims act.

When fully effective next January 1, the law will allow motorists involved in an accident with a negligent uninsured driver to make claim to collect damages over $50 from the new fund.

An insurance policy itself, special identification card issued by the insurance company bearing pertinent information, or a letter from the company specifying liability coverage will each meet the proof requirement of the law, said Secretary of State James M. Hare.

An attempt to minimize the return trips by forgetful motorists will be made by Hare's office. He hopes to have posters in most gas stations by November 1 outlining the requirements of the law and serve as reminders.

In addition to providing the so-called uninsured motorist fund, the new law also is designed to encourage drivers to carry insurance.

"The new fund is no substitute for insurance," Hare emphasizes. "If a claim is made against the fund as the result of an accident by an uninsured motorist's negligence, he will still be required to reimburse the fund in full."

"The driver is still subject to provisions of the financial responsibility laws of Michigan and could lose his privilege to drive," Hare said.

EDUCATORS and onlookers both here and abroad have commented for at least a decade that the American college degree is rapidly losing its previous meaning.

A bachelor's degree used to be a mark of distinction, but times have changed and the change is continuing at an ever increasing pace. It seems to involve a chicken-and-the-egg question. Did industry and business demand further educational background or did educator push the need for graduate work?

Regardless of the answer, it appears Michigan is now approaching the point where some individuals are ready to make a reality of the decade-old comments.

A legislative study is now being made under the leadership of Sen. Joseph Mack, D-Ironwood, on whether Michigan should extend its public education program to 14 years instead of stopping at the 12th year when a student receives his high school diploma.

Mack, for one is convinced that the pioneering work in this area being done in California should be followed here. That state is providing two free years of college for resident students.

A kindergarten-through-14 program would relieve enrollment problems at major Michigan colleges and be a boon for development of more community colleges, says Mack.

Since Mack heads the legislative study and favored the idea from the start, it is a pretty sure thing that a proposal of some kind will be put before the legislature in the next year or two. Like the K-12 program, however, it is just likely that several years debate will follow before any action is taken on such a bold step in the field of education.

Here's the Answer

On Your Property

December 31: Assessment Day

December 31 is an important date for most Michigan residents. Each year on that day all real estate and personal property is assessed for tax purposes. The tax is for the current year and not the following; thus, if the taxpayer sells or otherwise disposes of the property on the next day, January 1, he is nevertheless taxed on the property he owned on the prior day, December 31.

Each district levying a tax has its own assessor or assessors & board of review. The assessor determines the value of the property to be taxed, its location and who should pay the tax. The board of review in each district determines whether the assessor's decision was fair and uniform. The assessor is not required to give the taxpayer notice of the results of his assessment. It is left up to the taxpayer to determine this for himself by examining the assessment rolls.

If a taxpayer does not agree with his property's assessment, he may protest to the local board of review. The board's first session is held on the Tuesday following the first Monday in March. The second session is held a week later. Usually the second session is set aside for taxpayers' complaints. Detroit taxpayers first protest to the Board of Assessors.

If that board's ruling is unsatisfactory to the taxpayer, he may appeal to the Detroit Common Council. If the taxpayer is not satisfied with the decision of the Board of Review, he may file a written protest with the State Tax Commission. This protest must be filed before the first Monday in May.

SPEAKING for The Record

By BILL SLIGER

The treasurer of the Northville community chamber of commerce reported last week that the year-old organization has 110 members (35 unpaid) and more than $2,000 in the bank.

Not bad. There's probably never been a community business organization in the history of Northville with as many members.

Everyone of the nine-member board of directors was on hand to hear the report at the general membership meeting last week.

They nearly outnumbered the audience. Representing the general memberships were 12 people (two arrived an hour later). This dozen or so actually represented about seven memberships.

In other words, the Northville community chamber of commerce is afflicted with the same malady that strikes many such organizations - lack-of-interest-itis.

I talked to the new chamber president, Essie Nirider, about the complacency. A seasoned-veteran of such circumstances, Nirider showed little alarm.

"What's new about that", he asked ... and I was stumped.

Nirider can remember retail merchant meetings that could have been held in a phone booth without disturbing customer traffic.

So he's not alarmed. He may even have cause for optimism.

"People are motivated by their own personal interests", the new chamber president pointed out. And this isn't intended as a criticism.

It's no secret that the driving force behind the chamber of commerce has been Northville Downs' executive manager, John Carlo.

Carlo has a problem. He has a booming enterprise that could be strapped for lack of space in which to operate. He needs more parking, expanded seating accommodations and far better traffic flow to and from the track area.

He intends to remedy the parking and seating problems as part of a $3 million expansion program revealed at the chamber meeting. But he needs city government cooperation to solve the traffic problem.

So he's carrying his message to the city through the chamber. And along the way countless other projects - beneficial to the entire community - come up for consideration and support by the chamber.

To date the chamber has been operating pretty much as a nine-member organization with little participation from members-at-large.

It's Nirider's goal to remedy this with working committees outside the board. This expansion of a working base will provide worthwhile progress reports to stimulate interest in attending general membership meetings, Nirider reasons.

Success of the chamber is vital to the progress of our community. And its success depends upon individuals - more individuals motivated by personal interests in the community.

School Book Rental too High?

If you are a Northville taxpayer, as I am and a parent of children attending the Northville public schools, as I am, then maybe you can answer some of my questions. I'm not complaining, I'm just curious. Although my income is below average this is not the basis for my curiosity. I'm just one of the many who would rather not spend money unless necessary.

Here is what started my curiosity, - as the parent of four children, three attending elementary school this year and possibly they will all attend next year, I have to date paid approximately $15 for first grade text books and workbooks and $7.50 for second grade text books and workbooks. Now this year I am being asked to pay $7.50 for second grade and $7.50 for third grade and $6 for kindergarten, which totals $21. This plus a list of supplies for each older child, and the normal amount of clothes, etc., for each adds up to quite a bit. I'm not complaining - just wondering!

What happened to the second grade textbooks I paid $7.50 to "rent" last year? I know what happened to the workbooks but I'm curious as to what happened to those textbooks and why I didn't receive them for my second grader to use this year? If they can't be bought for $7.50 can they be bought for $15? If so can I have them for my next two children? If not, just how much are these books? The same questions applies to the third grade textbooks and so on. At the rate I'm going I will have paid $30 per set of textbooks per grade before my four children have completed elementary school alone. Now I'm not complaining because I don't know all the facts behind this "book rental" procedure and because I know there are other families who have more children than I do, but I certainly am wondering! What are the main reasons for this procedure? Not only am I going to pay $30 each September for books alone plus such supply lists as I was presented with this week but I'm still paying school taxes! Now I'm all for our American system of taxes and I'm all for education and I'm also all for finding out WHAT EXACTLY DID I PAY FOR WHEN I PAID MY SCHOOL TAXES?

Here are my main questions that perhaps YOU can help me with -- If we are paying taxes and we are "renting" books from the school are we further ahead than if we didn't have to pay book rental each year and we paid a slightly bigger school tax? If we paid higher taxes and didn't have to rent books from the school but had them supplied free would this be unfair to the biggest portion of our taxpayers? Or are the biggest portion of our taxpayers parents of school age children? What do you think about this? What other solutions are there? If you would rather have a few more dollars added to your taxes rather than pay book rental fees each year than what percentage of all the taxpayers feel this way? Are we the biggest majority? Is this something we should vote on? I'm not condemning school book rental systems because maybe we are better off with this system than paying more taxes and ending up paying for our neighbors childrens books because maybe they aren't taxpayers.

If this system is better than other cities systems then let's find out and back it up but if not then let's find out and change it. I'm wondering ... ARE YOU?

What Happened to Patriotism?

Dear Mr. Editor:

A few weeks ago, the Detroit papers were headlined with articles pertaining to young people beating the draft by getting married before the midnight deadline set by President Johnson. Also, just a few weeks ago, Schoolcraft college had its orientation. One of the major issues discussed among the students was that if one stays in school it is possible to beat the draft. What all of this amounts to is that young people are getting married before they want and before they can afford it and people are going to school who do not really care about it. It is a good thing to go to school and to get married -- but the draft is no motive. Why doesn't anyone want to fight for the flag and the freedom it stands for? Why don't they want to preserve the ideas and ideals that their fathers and grandfathers fought and died for? Doesn't anyone care about the free society we live in? Patriotism may be coined as "silly" by many people in this decade, but is vital if freedom must be fought for.

A football team cannot win if each player is working for his own glory and honor -- for his own benefit. He must work with the rest of the members on the squad to form a team. Only then can he see the honor and victory that is shared by the entire team. So must Americans join the team -- not to think of themselves in terms of the present but in terms of the future. With half of the team sitting around in a school they don't care about or with a wife they really weren't ready to marry, and half the team overseas, we are not going to win that ball game in Viet Nam. Ben Franklin said, at the signing of the Declaration of Independence, "We must all hang together, or as-surely we shall all hang separately."

Many people get angry at anyone who "knocks" the younger generation -- therefore this will probably receive much criticism, but I'm worried about this generation and its freedom because, you see Mr. Editor, I belong to it.

Summer Safety Tips

Is your family planning a summer automobile vacation trip soon? If so, it's time to make certain you have ready in the car first aid supplies and the necessary equipment for safety measures in case of an emergency, says Today's Health, the magazine of the American Medical Association.

Small commercial first aid kits are all right for minor scratches, bruises and sunburn. Additional supplies are needed to care for more serious injuries. Here are some suggestions from Today's Health for supplies for your auto trip--

Keep in your car a first aid guidebook, such as the AMA manual. Be well supplied with wood splints, several 4x30 inches and several 3x14 inches, for use in fractures.

A blanket is useful as a covering to keep an injured person warm, or in fashioning an improvised stretcher.

Due to the response to our portrait - subscription program, the Northville Record-Now News and South Lyon Herald have extended the deadline for taking advantage of this great offer to Wednesday, June 30.

This means you still have time to either renew or take out a new subscription to any of the newspapers and still be able to receive your 11 x 14 Heirloom Tap-stry Finish Portrait, free of charge.

This newspaper has never before made such an outstanding offer. We are sure there are many families who would still like this giant 11 x 14 portrait so why not clip out the coupon from today's ad and send it with your check to either the Record or Herald offices.

All persons subscribing to this offer will be contacted by phone or mail in regard to their appointment time with sittings to begin Tuesday, July 6. A professional portrait photographer from Westvale Studios will be on hand to take the pictures.

If you are currently a subscriber, renewing prior to your expiration date offers no problem. We'll just add this renewal

Roger Babson

Retail Outlook Good

Babson Park, Mass., With prosperity moving persistently into its fifth year, there is bound to be a lot of speculation as to how long business can maintain this upsurge. Tied in with this question--and probably of the widest possible interest to the general public--is the length of time that retail buying can continue its climb to one new high after another.

Thus far in the current upward cycle there have been no apparent signs of buyer resistance, no signals of hesitation at the retail level. Both light and durable consumer goods are turning over at an unprecedented pace, and producers are still planning on output gains for an indefinite period. Hence, both consumer and producer psychology appear more optimistic than at any other time in the nation's peace time economic history.

Vital to this attitude is the persistence advance in personal income of all types. Even the recent increases in taxes have failed to halt the upthrust in disposable personal income (after deduction of municipal, state, and federal levies). On the basis of the 1957-59 average equaling 100, post-tax spendable funds rose from 130.6 during the first quarter of 1964 to 139.5 for the first quarter of this year. Personal savings showed a moderate gain for the same period, reflecting some lay-away thrift even with retail purchasing at the highest level ever.

All of the major labor agreements of the past year have included not only substantial fringe benefits--some of which mean delayed concessions--but also strong hikes in take-home pay and salaries. Not only have immediate raises been provided, but usually multi-year pacts have guaranteed additional wage hikes for the following two or three individual years of the contracts. Apprentice and post-college starter pay rates are steadily pushing upward, particularly in many specialist lines that suffer from a sharp manpower shortage.

Large sums are pouring into family coffers from back interest, rising stock dividends, and ever-broadening government payments. There is also a growing number of families which have multiple incomes contributed by working wives, relatives and older children. All such additional funds generate a stronger sense of security and raise the standard of living in a great many homes.

With such widespread prosperity, spurred on even more by the Administrations' stable outlays for The Great Society, people are not afraid to turn to installment credit for many articles too expensive for their immediate pocketbooks. With the 1957-59 average again equal to 100, it should be noted that installment purchases have soared from 149.1 in the first quarter to 1964 to 165.2 for the 1965 period. While such a climb smacks of overextension to more conservative observers, there is still the encouraging fact that installment repayments are holding at good heights.

For at least the remainder of this year and probably well into 1966, retail trade should continue to reach for new records. This is true for even the high-tag products like automobiles, kitchen appliances, furniture, color TV sets, and other semi-luxury and "status" items. Readers should realize that consumer purchasing is an economic factor slow to react seriously to depression or recession forces. So that, even if there should be a corrective setback in general business--stirred perhaps by foreign reverses and/or uncertainty in the stock market--chances favor continued brisk consumer buying even during any early jitters in the business world.

In brief, retail buying through 1965 and early 1966 will chalk up further gains, though the pace may not match that of the past few spectacular years.

Study Shows Where State Money Goes

LANSING — Record budgets no longer are a rarity in Michigan government, and probably in most other states, because a new record in state spending is set each year.

The basic reason for this phenomenon is easily grasped by most people. It goes without saying that more services cost money, and even a given set of operations can rise in expense from one year to the next.

Extent of Michigan government's growth is a little more difficult to fathom unless all data are available for comparison.

Such a full study of state government growth was made recently by the Citizens Research Council.

To the layman, the Council's study spells out clearly where the so-called record budget expenditures have gone in the past 10 years.

This year, for example, Michigan budgeted $191 million for 84 agencies and services which were not in existence in 1955. The budget for the new fiscal year may add 14 more new programs at an estimated $7.6 million annual cost.

For the fiscal year starting July 1, the council estimated the 84 units new in the past decade and the proposed 14 others would require about $264 million. So it can be seen the cost of operating the relatively new programs is going up considerably more than the amount required for the totally new ones.

Expansion of departments and agencies which existed before 1955 are not included in the Council study, but would add many more thousands through new functions and duties given to divisions of long standing.

"New programs and services appear regularly in annual general fund appropriations," the analytical council notes. Even in the cash crisis years new programs were added. After a peak of 20 new services started in 1956, state expansion has ranged from 2 to 17 programs a year.

Areas of activity have varied as greatly as their numbers. Most recently the new programs have been in the areas of education, mental or public health, welfare, safety, economic expansion and licensing of professional or vocational groups.

The council notes that some programs are self-supporting; others get contributions from the federal government. Still a third category depends totally on state funds for operating. All have one feature in common: they contribute to a rapidly rising state budget and payroll.

SPECIAL EDUCATION offerings by Michigan schools are one of the reasons Michigan school systems are way ahead of other states.

There are presently very few districts in Michigan which do not have some kind of special education service operating or planned for the near future. Despite the size of the state, few students who need these services are very far from well-established programs.

Special education facilities range from those for the physcally handicapped, the mentally retarded and the emotionally disturbed, to the visiting teacher and school diagnostician programs. Children requiring special attention in the classroom vary considerably. Some are slow readers because of vision or hearing deficiencies, while others have much more serious problems.

The physically handicapped programs, covering the widest range of individual problems, served more than 75,000 students in the school year just ended. Crippled, cardiac, epileptic, deaf, blind, homebound and hospitalized students benefitted from these programs.

Another 27,000 students were enrolled in various programs for the mentally retarded. The program for emotionally disturbed youngsters just completed its third year statewide but an estimated 700 students were involved, about 300 more than last year.

Visiting teacher and school diagnostician services were extended to about 24,500 this past year. The biggest portion of this number, probably all but about 225, was part of the visiting teacher program.

A STANDARD PLEA comes forth from the governor's office periodically for a "light the way to safety" campaign.

The occasions for the plea are the various holidays when the bulk of Michigan motorists take to the roads for long trips. Memorial Day, Independence Day and Labor Day, Thanksgiving, Christmas and New Year's are the primary occasions.

Over the period that Gov. George Romney has been in office, the number of cars on the road in daylight with lights on has steadily increased throughout the year rather than just on these special occasions.

Purpose of the plea originally was to use the lights to remind motorists of the need for constant safety consciousness. Whether it has served its purpose is difficult to measure.

Most motorists are conscious of approaching lights in daytime driving. Only the cynics have seen the campaign as great for the auto battery business, if nothing else.
