Mayor Asks Canterbury to Draft 'Procedure Plan' for Detroit Water

Northville's city council became serious about the possible acquisition of Detroit water Monday night.

Mayor A. M. Allen called for the appointment of Councilman John Canterbury to pursue the question of "exactly what we want here."

The matter came before the council Monday night following a report by City Attorney Philip Ogilvie on a meeting last Friday between Detroit Water Board officials and the city attorney, City Manager Roger Rehberg and City Engineer Harold Penn.

Detroit wants to sell water to Northville. Water consultants hired by Northville to study the local system and make recommendations have strongly advised purchase of Detroit water.

But costs still remain somewhat fuzzy. And alternatives do exist.

It will be Councilman Canterbury's job to outline alternatives, define advantages, compare costs and provide the council and community with definitive proposals.

Some of the advantages of Detroit water have already been outlined by consultants. They include: softness and no iron; supply to meet ultimate growth of area; reliability of continued adequate supply over wells; and lower cost if equivalent treated water were to be supplied from wells.

Consultants have informed the council that the city faces some $87,000 in needed improvements to the system to provide proper circulation whether Detroit water is purchased or the present ground wells maintained.

It was also pointed out that an additional well is needed if the city is to continue with its present source.

In addition to the basic expenses facing the local water system, purchase of Detroit water would boost present rates about 50 percent. This cannot be definitely determined because Detroit is presently studying its rate structure with an eye to possible changes.

City Manager Rehberg reports that the system improvements would reduce "low pressure spots" in the system and provide the city with better fire protection.

If Northville should extend its system westward to Northville Estates and eventually loop the system from Eight Mile south along Beck to Main and eastward again to the city (a proposal outlined by the consultants), it was estimated this could boost costs another 24 percent.

It was not explained, however, what effect additional customers would have on the rate structure.

City OK's Study Of 8-Mile Utilities

The city council reaffirmed its pledge Monday night to pursue possible installation of sewer and water facilities westward along Eight Mile road to the entrance of Northville Estates.

A motion by Councilman Fred Kester called for an immediate study of estimated costs by the city engineer.

The possibility of extending utility lines out Eight Mile was raised by Mayor A. M. Allen in a special session last week. Official action could not be taken until Monday's regular meeting.

If the project is feasible, it would answer the school district's problem for water and sewer service at its proposed elementary site on the south side of Eight Mile across from Northville Estates. The extension of service would probably mean, however, that the 10-acre parcel would have to become a part of the city. The south side of Eight Mile lies in the township.

In other business Monday night the council spent an hour discussing a proposed ordinance regulating coin-operated laundries with an attorney representing an association of coin-op laundries.

It delayed passage of the ordinance that will call for closing during night hours unless an attendant is on duty to consider some suggestions by the association representative. But the council was firm that it would not change its position on night closing without an attendant. The question of when to close and open was undecided.

The council also awarded a police car bid to John Mach Ford, low bidder at $1182 including trade in; appointed Duane Butler to the parking authority replacing Scott Krause, who was unable to serve; decided to retain Robert Cole for snow removal this winter subject to final contract agreement; and recommended interim improvements to roads in Northville Estates at less expense than the $9,000 complete sealcoating proposed by the city engineer.

Sewer Bids High For 7 Mile Line

The cost of sewer construction is going up.

That was pretty well established at the Northville township hall Monday afternoon when four contractors submitted bids for installation of a sanitary sewer along Seven Mile road from Marilyn to Northville road.

When the project was first proposed in 1963, the township engineers estimate the cost at $70,000.

When the bids were opened Monday the lowest figure was $123,300.

Others came in at $127,500, $174,000 and $237,000.

Whether or not the sewer will be installed depends upon Dr. W. E. Gyzynski of Livonia. The project was proposed to accommodate a nursing home and hospital planned at Marilyn and Seven Mile by Dr. Gyzynski. In a contractual arrangement with the township, the doctor agreed to pay for installation of the sewer on a pay-back basis. Over the next 20 years he would receive $200 of each $400 tap-in fee charged future users of the line.

Representatives of Dr. Gyzynski at the bid opening Monday were obviously disturbed by the high cost, although no decision has been made on whether to proceed or drop the plan.

Supervisor R. D. Merriam said soil conditions in Northville have prompted many contractors to bid high in this area. Gravel and water plagued contractors installing the Novi sewer line through the city as well as the Detroit water line.

New School Plans Ready for Viewing

Complete plans for the proposed new elementary, junior high school and additions to the high school will be presented to the Northville board of education next Monday evening.

Included in the presentation scheduled by the architects will be the addition of the swimming pool at the high school.

Superintendent Alex Nelson stated that the meeting will be held in the boys gymnasium of the junior high school to accommodate interested citizens.

The presentation will come first on the agenda of the regular board meeting. Board sessions begin at 7:30 p.m.

It's Our First Color Pre-Print

A "first" in the history of The Northville Record and Novi news is recorded this week.

It appears on page 7B.

A "hi-fi" pre-print color advertisement for Schrader's Home Furnishings is the first ever published by this newspaper.

The color page is prepared elsewhere and delivered in roll form so that it may be inserted on the press along with other rolls of newsprint. It winds into the newspaper with the continuous color advertisement being cut wherever the page length falls.

Backside of the color page is blank for regular use.

He has a B.S. degree from Western Michigan University and an honorary doctor's degree in public administration from the same school.

The October 28 dinner will be held at 7 p.m. at the First Presbyterian church. City employees, volunteers and members serving on unpaid boards and commissions will be honored for their community work.

Fire Guts Novi Plant

A prominent Novi industry was completely destroyed by a raging fire early Thursday morning, despite the efforts of six area fire departments.

Damage estimated at near $1 million was dealt to the American Plastic Products company and the building in which it was housed at 40261 13 Mile road. Firemen were powerless to save the factory but were able to keep the blaze from a home about 400 feet away.

Novi, Walled Lake, Wixom, Northville Commerce and Farmington township departments responded following a call placed by that home's owner, Mrs. Irene Whitworth, at 6:45 a.m.

Although the fire smoldered and burned all day Thursday and was still hot enough to be troublesome Friday, the blaze was contained within the factory structure within two hours after the arrival of the Novi department.

The total loss to the building was placed at $140,000 by Tor-kum Prince, co-owner. Definite estimates of losses to the contents were not given by company officials, although plant superintendent O. Caliguri ventured a guess of total loss at nearly $1 million, including the building.

American Plastic Products is a division of Swedish Crucible Steel company of Hamtramack, whose vice president in charge of manufacturing and overseer of the Novi concern said that critical dies removed on Friday from the debris were undergoing examination to learn if they had been damaged.

He declined to comment further on the loss, referring questions to the company attorney.

Cause of the fire was said by company foreman Daniel McFadden and confirmed by Novi Police Chief Lee BeGole to be an injection machine high pressure hydraulic oil line breakage, which issued a fine mist of oil. This was ignited by a neighboring machine heating coil.

BeGole reported the foreman as saying that he had first taken the stunned machine operator, a woman, out of the building and then returned to fight the fire with an extinguisher.

This failed, however, as the flames had reached highly flammable plastic material, and the midnight shift of 11 persons was evacuated. None were injured.

DeHoCo Superintendent To Speak at City Dinner

William H. Bannan, superintendent of the Detroit House of Correction, will be the principle speaker when Northville city employees and volunteers are honored next Thursday night at the annual Recognition Banquet.

Chairman for arrangements is Councilman Del Black, while Municipal Judge Charles McDonald will serve as master of ceremonies.

Prison work has occupied most of Bannan's adult life. While at the Michigan Reformatory in Ionia he worked as a custodial officer, cashier, business manager and deputy warden.

He was named warden of the state prison of Southern Michigan at Jackson in 1952, retired in 1963 and was appointed superintendent at DeHoCo on February 1, 1963.

The queen will be presented with a bouquet of flowers from president of the N-club and each member of the court will receive a corsage.

Torch Drive Collections Running Ahead Locally

First week collections in the residential campaign for the United Foundation's annual torch drive are running ahead of last year with $1,784 collected by last Friday.

Mrs. Arthur Hempe, city and township residential chairman, reported Tuesday. She said she expects the goal of $2,200 will be met as 120 volunteer workers begin call-backs to homemakers not reached in the initial kick off October 12.

Mrs. Hempe added she expects the initial report figure will rise at a second report meeting set for Wednesday. She emphasized that she is urging workers to make their return calls as "this is the only way the goal can be met." The goal is an increase of $100 over last year's. First week reports last year showed only $1,400 collected.

Meanwhile, the business drive headed up by Fay Waldron and Mrs. Margaret Zayti topped its goal of some $1,000 by more than $100. The Northville unit was the first to complete its drive and report its collection to UF headquarters.

Two Spots Open In Bridge Tourney

Only two couples are needed to start a sixth evening group in the Mothers Club marathon bridge tournament. Mrs. Harold Wright, marathon chairman, reports that she has eight couples interested in forming a team and hopes she can find two more couples willing to play once a month in the tournament. Anyone interested may call her at 349-1276. If the sixth group can begin play this month, she said, the September play will be the only one to be made up. The couples play each other couple in the group monthly through next May at dates of their own choosing.

In Our Town

By Jean Day

LIVING WITH ANTIQUES is doing what comes happily for many Northville homemakers. This inclination was given strong re-enforcement last week by Greenfield Village and Henry Ford Museum. Antique-lovers, Quilters club members and area dealers were well represented at the week-long sixth annual Midwest Antiques Forum at the museum.

Enrolled for the entire forum were Mrs. Harold F. Thomas and Mrs. Robert Arlen. Both women (who have turned their love of things old into businesses) felt the programs were especially rewarding when they delved into decor, showing how to use antiques in twentieth century settings.

Good news for those who did not make the forum is that the special exhibits set up by the museum in conjunction will remain until November 30. These incorporate such room details as paneling, cornices and moldings. They show authentic drapery treatments - and how to "blend" telephones and television sets into colonial-styled rooms.

Mrs. Arlen reports that a forum highlight for her (and almost everyone attending) was the slide-lecture showing the restoration and furnishing of an eighteenth century Connecticut farmhouse. Its appeal, she analyzed, was that "it's the sort of thing most of us could realize." Mrs. Arlen found her study had paid, as the Arlen circa-1750 family room is authentic, complete with a Shaker grandfather clock and tilt-top tea table.

Sally Thomas, one of the owners of The Barn Door shop on Main street, also points out that it is possible to own museum-quality pieces. Cupboards were shown, she said, filled with pewter, soft paste and slip ware. She has just filled a red slip ware bowl in her shop with silvery-white money tree branches.

The huge family-room fireplaces, so frequently being incorporated in Northville-area homes, Mrs. Thomas remarks, are authentic BUT were used quite differently in colonial days when their function was to cook food. Lecture-goers learned that the fireplaces contained several small fires - to cook at varying heats.

NORTHVILLE WOMAN'S CLUB members took an armchair tour of Greenfield Village and Museum Friday with Roy Barnes, manager of radio and television for the village, "stopping" at the row of 22 Early American shops. Designed to show commerce of 100 years ago, the shops actually produce tinware, pewter and handmade candles, which can be purchased. The candles of bayberry, beeswax and glistening white whale oil are especially popular at Christmastime.

Mrs. Paul Beard, program chairman of the day, said the collections-from the Edison laboratory in the village to the rows of early automobiles in the transportation section of the museum - have provided "a great deal of our children's education through the years."

FINE FURNITURE reproductions of pieces in the village and museum now are available, Barnes told club members. Featured in the October issue of Family Circle magazine, these include both formal tables and painted country cupboards. This was not news to several local housewives who decorate with Early Americana. The green-gold channel back chair in the Stephen Foster memorial home is reproduced - and is in the living rooms of more than one Northville-area home, as are small multi-sided tables and the old-red cupboard seen in the original in the Luther Burbank house in the village.

A HALLOWEEN PARTY is on the calendar of the Northville Cooperative Play group for October 29. There's excitement EVERY Monday, Wednesday and Friday, though, when 32 three-and-four year olds gather from 9 to 11:20 a.m. to play at the Scout-Recreation building.

Mothers who would like to put their children's names on the group's waiting list may call Mrs. Larry Meyer, president, 349-0116, or they may contact Mrs. Kenneth Kaestner, 941 Novi street, new membership chairman.

Mrs. Douglas Smith, publicity chairman, reminds that mothers are continuing their money-raising project of selling hosiery from the same firm as in previous years. Former play group members may place orders with Mrs. James Arnold, 526 Langfield.

Northville Men Strike It Rich

Ivan Ely, Warren Hansen and Orson Atchinson were among many Northville men who "struck gold" in their closets last week.

Yes, "struck gold" in their closets!

They found that their old outdated suits were worth 8 to 12 dollars during Lapham's "trade-in" days.

Between now and October 23, Lapham's are offering $8 to $12 on any suit toward the purchase of one of these great suits - Kuppenheimer, Botany 500, Anderson, Clippercraft.

Lapham's are also giving a generous trade-in allowance on your old ties too!

These four great names give customers a price range in smartly - styled suits ranging from $55 to $125.

In addition to receiving money for their old suits, customers at Lapham's were given immediate and expert tailoring for their new suits.

Check the many extra jobs a modern GAS DRYER can do for you...

IN ADDITION TO ENDING LIFTING, LUGGING AND HANGING CLOTHES ON WASHDAY!

- VALET SERVICE—wrinkles can be removed from corduroy, velveteen or wool garments by placing them in dryer for short tumbling period with damp sponges or bath towels. Place sponges or towel in dryer before putting in clothing to build up steam. Use medium heat setting. Bath towels leave lint on dark cottons, so damp, color-fast sponges are best. There must be moisture to release wrinkles and prevent shrinkage. Remove garments before completely dry and hang on wooden or plastic hangers until completely dry.
- FLUFFING OR DUSTING draperies, chenille bedspreads or other articles that need airing. Place in dryer on "no heat" setting and allow to tumble for 5 to 10 minutes.
- REMOVING MOTHBALL ODORS from clothes that have been stored. Use "no heat" setting and short tumbling time.
- BATHING SUITS & SNOWSUITS can be dried in preheated dryer with bath towels (which have been in dryer during preheating). Dark towels are advisable with dark fabrics.

Bloomfield's Ground Game Too Much for Mustangs

It was just like medieval times last Friday night when the Bloomfield Hills Barons roved the local gridiron with the abandon of feudal knights of old.

Brandishing a potent running game, they ran over and through the vaunted Northville defense, which had not yielded a touchdown all season long, to post a 26-6 victory.

In a game that admitted little save for the Mustangs' wounds, they claimed one distinction. Quarterback Tom Baughman set a school mark by filling the air with 28 passes, half of which found their way into receivers' arms for a total of 159 yards.

Knight errant who stood out in his shining armor for the Barons was Halfback Dick Kraatz. Once he knifed through a hole in the Northville line, he was gone, long gone for a TD.

The speedy junior halfback -- that's right, he'll be back next year to plague opponents -- ran for touchdowns of 34 and 36 yards, and was instrumental in Bloomfield's longest TD drive of 87 yards, ripping off another gain of 34 yards.

It seemed like the same story over and over again, for every time it was the same play -- a slant over right tackle, then off to the races for a touchdown as Kraatz simply outran the Northville secondary.

By any football standards Kraatz had more than a fair day as he carried the ball just six times for 131 yards, an average of slightly less than 22 yards per try. How badly was the Northville defense beaten? Soundly. Going into the contest, the Mustangs had yielded a meager 83 yards average in each of their games.

But Bloomfield demolished that enviable record and the Mustangs by rushing for 258 yards, exactly what they had threatened to do, but Northville just couldn't stop them. In Northville's previous four games opponents scored but two TD's -- both on errors by the offensive unit.

With the ground game working to near perfection, seldom was there need for Coach Bill Tummel's charges to resort to the airways; but at that, they connected on three of four passes for 58 yards.

Despite the score and the fact that Bloomfield led from the outset, Northville still was in the game. Six times the Mustangs pushed deep into Bloomfield territory, but each time the stalwart Bloomfield defense tightened and held.

Only once did Northville cross the goal line, and it came late in the final quarter when Halfback Jim Zayt took a punt on his own 22, burst through a wave of Bloomfield tacklers and raced down the left sideline 78 yards for the score.

By defeating Northville in convincing fashion, Bloomfield stamped itself as the top heavy favorite in the race for Wayne-Oakland conference honors. Half the season is over and right now the Barons are in first place with a 4-0 record, a game ahead of the closest contender, Milford.

Holly, pre-season pick to pick up all the W-O marbles, was upended by Brighton 20-19 Friday in the surprise of the conference year. As a result, the Broncos dropped a game and one-half off the pace with a 2-1-1 record. The Barons deserve to be ranked one of the top 15 class A teams in the state, according to a sports scribe from Birmingham, who tabbed Bloomfield as the top team in that area.

It was a sad night for Northville. The Mustangs were virtually wiped out of the title chase with one win, two losses and a tie to its credit.

It's Homecoming

Milford Loaded On Front Line

It's what's up front that counts -- and Milford has more than enough. The Indians have four men on the front line who average over 200 pounds.

Two of them, tackles John Griffin and Keith Grantham, tip the scales at 260 pounds each, and then there are two guards, 220-pound Chuck Andrews and the little man, Bruce Larson, who weighs 195.

Those are the facts, that Northville will have to face when the whistle blows to sound the beginning of Friday night's homecoming game at 8 p.m.

Besides all that beef up front, the Indians have a halfback, Mike Yeager, who is one of the few triple threat men in the state, let alone the Wayne-Oakland Conference.

But the Indians can be beaten as Holly proved when it topped Bloomfield Hills stunned the crowd, taking the opening kickoff 41 yards to the end zone with Halfback Randy De Arment diving over right tackle three yards for the score. A fourth down pass, covering 25 yards to the Northville nine yard line, was the turning point in the drive.

The Mustangs took the succeeding kickoff on its own seven and drove out to the 41 yard line -- it looked like the Mustangs were coming back. But lightning struck again as Bloomfield recovered a fumble on the 34, and Kraatz took it in for the TD on the second play from scrimmage.

Northville mounted three drives that carried it deep into Bloomfield territory in the second period, but in each instance the brawny Baron defense braced, either batting down Northville passes or red dogging to drop the passer to the turf.

First, Northville surged 40 yards to Bloomfield's 28 yard line before the Barons took over on downs. After hanging up three first downs, the Barons punted out of bounds on the Northville 34.

Undaunted, the Mustangs struck back, this time moving to the Bloomfield 13 yard line by way of Baughman's passes before Bloomfield pushed Northville back to the 31. In the drive, it was the combination of Baughman to End Jerry Insland that kept the drive alive. Insland caught four passes for 41 yards.

The same combination accounted for 29 yards in Northville's last threat before halftime as it ended on the Bloomfield 28.

Northville didn't let up, however, when the second half got underway. The Mustangs took the opening kickoff on their 43 and with the aid of a 15 yard penalty and passes to Insland, they moved to the Bloomfield 21, just one short yard shy of a first down as Bloomfield took over.

On the next series, the Barons' Kraatz put on a one man show and personally dealt a death blow to the Mustangs' chances. Kraatz dashed for 20 and 36 yards, capping a 60-yard drive with his last run. That tally made it 19-0, putting the game out of Northville's reach as the fourth quarter began.

It yet remained for the Barons to stage their best drive of the night, an 87-yard march to paydirt with that man, Kraatz, ripping off a 34-yard jaunt and Bloomfield Quarterback Bob Calhoun passing a 34 yards to Sophomore Halfback Pete Young who lugged the ball to the Northville 12.

A one-yard dive, Calhoun's roll out for five yards, and then Halfback Greg Roche added the finishing touch by running over right tackle seven yards for the TD. The extra point kick was good, giving Bloomfield an insurmountable 26-0 lead early in the fourth period.

Zayt's sparkling run, however, saved Northville from a white-wash with only 2:21 left in the game.

Ties Make Grid Quiz Run High

South Lyon produced its second football quiz winner in two weeks.

Tops in last week's contest was Rudolph Verbos of 60870 Nine Mile road. He missed six games, the only contestant with fewer than seven wrong picks.

Everyone missed three games right away -- there were three tie contests last Saturday.

While Verbos took the $10 top prize, second place and $5 went to V. G. Stuckey of Meadowbrook road in Northville. Third place went to Mike Hlohinec, 529 Randolph, who tied Stuckey with seven misses, but wasn't as close on the Lions score. Mike won $3.

There's another contest this week, so try again. And remember, it's MSU over the Bollermakers!

Give Report On Boys State

Two Northville high school seniors related to the Northville Optimist club Wednesday night their experiences at Boys State last June.

Frosh Whitewashed, 19-0

Visiting Milford exploded on the first play from scrimmage and went on to defeat the Northville frosh, 19-0, in last Thursday's clash.

Before Northville could collect itself Milford floated a pass over the secondary. The Milford receiver caught the ball and raced to the end zone to complete an 81-yard TD play. Milford added one more touchdown in the second quarter, and a third on a 55-yard dash in the third period to end the scoring. Miscues prevented the local gridders from getting on the score board. Coach Jack Townsley said, however, that his charges did play improved ball in the final half.

Local frosh will journey to Milford today to play Milford Highland, a team they previously beat, 20-7.

Novi Frosh Win First

Novi Freshmen gridders won their first contest of the season Thursday, downing Highland, 7-0, on a four-yard run by halfback Jon VanWagner.

VanWagner also scored the extra point on a run around end. Meanwhile the Novi defense stoutly held Highland to midfield ground the entire game.

It was a stirring victory for the Frosh who only the week before had suffered a 20-5 setback at the hands of Milford. Three long pass plays by Milford had bombed Novi before it really got set. A return match is scheduled at Novi today (Thursday) at 4 p.m.

Mike Farah, Novi fullback scored the only home team touchdown in the 20-6 Milford encounter, going three yards on a dive play. He was also the game's outstanding rusher, according to his coach, John Osborne.

In routing Highland the touchdown play was set up by a 30-yard punt return by Novi's Bary Boyer which set the locals on the Highland 20-yard line. It was in the second quarter.

In the second half Novi threatened again at the Highland one-foot line, but were thwarted. Strong defensive efforts were given by Joe Morrison, Lee Snow, Boyer and Van Wagner.

THE DISCIPLES MINUS ONE—They played for one high school dance and would like to return. But unless at least three of the members visit the barber, their school-playing days are over at Northville. Left to right are John Paul Morgan, Joel Symms, Terry Krug and Ron Deaton. Missing is George Burchfield, vocalist for the group.

Long Hairs Can't Play At High School Dance

"The Disciples" are long-hair rock and rollers looking for work. The month-old group played for a Northville high school dance after the Clarenceville game, but a return engagement scheduled after last Friday's game was cancelled, not because their music was bad, but because their hair was long.

Principal Fred Stefanski has banned the group from school-sponsored dances and maintains that "lines must be drawn, someone has to take a stand, and I've taken a stand".

The high school principal points out that the musical group is an out-of-school organization. "When we hire someone to play, we're responsible to see that they look proper". To prove his sincerity Stefanski added:

"I wouldn't hire the Beatles!"

Stefanski maintains that long hair doesn't make good music and he points out that demands of proper appearance are made upon teachers and administrators, too.

"When we hire a student group, they represent the student body in a sense", said the principal, who added that he'd be glad to hire the boys if they'd "clean up a little".

"The Disciples" don't agree. They maintain that long hair is the thing. "The majority of the teens go for the long hair and if you want to go as a band, you have to have it".

"The Disciples" are: Terry Krug, lead guitar who graduated from Northville high school this year and is taking a pre-dental course at Oakland university; George Burchfield, vocalist who also graduated last summer and was a member of the football and basketball teams; Ron Deaton, rhythm guitar and a ninth grader at Novi; John Paul Morgan, bass guitar and a senior; and Joel Symms, drummer and high school junior.

"What about George Washington and Abraham Lincoln?" the boys point out in unison when questioned about their locks.

They also claim that, while they can attend classes, they cannot participate in extra-curricular activities at school.

Principal Stefanski says this isn't true, but he admits that the long hair wouldn't be allowed if they were out for sports. "It wouldn't be healthy", said Stefanski.

"We're not worried", said Morgan, "we aren't having any trouble getting jobs".

"We're not?", asked Krug. "That's good to hear. I thought we were looking for work!"

Post Office Announces Yule Hiring Procedure

Northville Postmaster John Steimel reported this week that the post office will hire temporary workers for the Christmas season under new hiring procedures which have been developed jointly by the post office department and the Civil Service Commission. He said that the new hiring system, based on experience and merit qualifications, provides for filling Christmas jobs in the following manner:

1. Those with prior satisfactory experience during a Christmas season will be given first consideration, with available veterans given priority.
2. If there are not enough applicants in the first group, those who are on regular Civil Service registers of job eligibles for clerk, carrier or mail handler positions will be considered next.
3. If there are not enough applicants from the first two groups a special Civil Service examination will be conducted and the Christmas assistants will be selected from among successful competitors. This exam will be a standard Civil Service Commission test to be used throughout the postal service for Christmas employment, and the usual veterans preference points will apply.

Some hiring will begin about December 4, but it is expected to reach a peak about December 13. The post office department expects a record mail volume during December, exceeding 12 billion pieces. Hiring will be at the rate of $2.29 per hour, the hourly wage rate provided under pay level 3 of the Postal Field Service.

You'll Need Proof of Insurance To Buy New License Plates

Harold Hartley, manager of the secretary of state's auto license office in Northville, is a worried man.

He knows that many persons are uninformed on the new Michigan Motor Vehicle Accident law that becomes effective November 1 when 1966 plates come out.

He also knows that most motorists probably won't have proof of insurance when they come in to get their plates. Motorists without proper insurance must pay $25 into the claims fund.

Those with proof of insurance pay $1.

The certificate, which will be provided by the insurance agent (or written on the agent's letterhead), must include the motorist's current insurance policy including the expiration date, signature of the authorized representative and year, make and vehicle number of the car.

Separate certificates are needed where there is more than one car listed on the policy.

And if the motorist who pays $25 thinks he's getting insurance for his money, he's mistaken.

Its Roots Ran Deep

Trees are the world's biggest plants. Their trunks reach upward out of the ground and branch into a crown of leaves high in the sky. Unlike most other living things they never stop growing as long as they live. And their roots are the fastest growing part of the tree. They are longer and have countless more branches than the branches and twigs above them. The giant American Elm pictured above had its roots dug deeply into the earth behind homes on Church street. It stood on ground slated to become parking for Northville Downs and was marked for removal last Thursday. But the Elm, some 10 feet around at its trunk, did not give way easily to man and machine. Inevitably the giant tumbled in a crushing of limbs and an explosion of dust. But the mighty Elm, whose limbs and leaves have observed more than a century of Northville history, kept a crew of men and machines busy for nearly a day before succumbing. For pictures of the battle between man and the Elm, see page 4-B.

from the PASTOR'S STUDY

Pastor Robert Spradling
First Baptist Church of Northville

One of the interesting words of the New Testament is the term "Maranatha" located in 1 Corinthians 16:22. It is one of the few Aramaic words in Scripture, and literally means, "The Lord is coming." It was used by the Apostle Paul to remind the Corinthian Church of the imminent return of Christ.

There seems to be three basic attitudes of men regarding the Biblical doctrine of the Second Coming of Christ. The first is that of the scoffer. The Apostle Peter described this group in 2 Peter 3:3-4: "Knowing this first, that there shall come in the last days scoffers, walking after their own lusts, and saying, Where is the promise of his coming?" In the same chapter, Peter says of these scoffers that they are "willingly ignorant," that is, they have made up their minds about this doctrine without bothering to examine the declarations of Scripture. In other words, they are so biased against the Bible that they would rather question the truth of the Scripture than attempt to examine it for themselves. For every single prophecy in the Bible concerning the first coming of Christ, there are eight prophecies regarding his second coming!

The second attitude is that of the slothful. Jesus described such a man in the parable recorded in Luke 12:45. The servant of the parable said in his heart, "My Lord delayeth his coming." In doing so, this servant represented all men of all ages who give lip service to the idea of the second coming but deny their creed by their conduct. If what men say they believe about the Bible does not influence the life for godliness, then such intellectual assent is pure hypocrisy.

The third attitude is that of the sincere. The writer of Hebrews described this group: "...and unto them that look for him shall he appear the second time without sin unto salvation." (Hebrews 9:28). Only born-again Christians who know Christ by faith, and also, know their Bibles, are concerned about this doctrine. This writer is reminded of the story of a man who was watching a garden ener prepare the grounds of an estate in anticipation of the employer's return. "You are working as if you were expecting your employer to return tomorrow," said the man. "No sir," was the reply. "I am expecting him today!"

Christians in the first few centuries of church history used the term "Maranatha" as a greeting or watchword. The word carries the same meaning to believers in the 20th Century - "The Lord is coming."

WSCS to Observe 'Call to Prayer' Week

Members of the Woman's Society of Christian Service and the Wesleyan Service Guild of Northville Methodist church are making plans to participate next week in the annual "Call to Prayer and Self-Denial" observance. More than 1,700,000 women in 36,000 women's societies and guilds in all 50 states are marking the observance.

Theme of the 1965 observance, "Attempt Great Things for God," has been announced by the sponsoring woman's division of the Methodist board of missions. The two-part observance will include an interpretation meeting on mission projects and a Quiet Day service of prayer, meditation and a silent meal.

This year's theme is taken from the words of William Carey of England, considered the father of the modern Protestant foreign missionary movement. He went to India as a missionary in 1793. Projects to benefit this year from the self-denial offering will be medical missions around the world and a new library for Scarritt College, Nashville, Tennessee, which trains deaconesses, missionaries and others for church-related service.

The observance is one of the oldest for Methodist women, dating back to 1887.

Memphis, Tenn. - Aviation Anti-Submarine Warfare Technician Airman David W. Cheeseman, USN, son of Mr. and Mrs. Homer W. Cheeseman of 511 N. Wixom road, Wixom, was graduated as Honorman from the Aviation Anti-Submarine Warfare Technician Course at the Naval Air Technical Training Center, Memphis, Tennessee. He was first in a class of 21 with an average of 82.1.

Gary was three years old the other day. We took him as a birthday treat for his first trip to the zoo. He dearly loved all of the animals, but the peak of adventure was the elephants. His eyes shone as he watched the great gray trunks snuffle and find his bravely flung peanuts, then stuff them into giant crunching jaws.

"Oh," he breathed adoringly, "elephants are big ... as big as God!"

His arm tightened around my neck as he leaned to throw more nuts to his jumbo friends and I hugged him close, glad that already he has learned to see God everywhere.

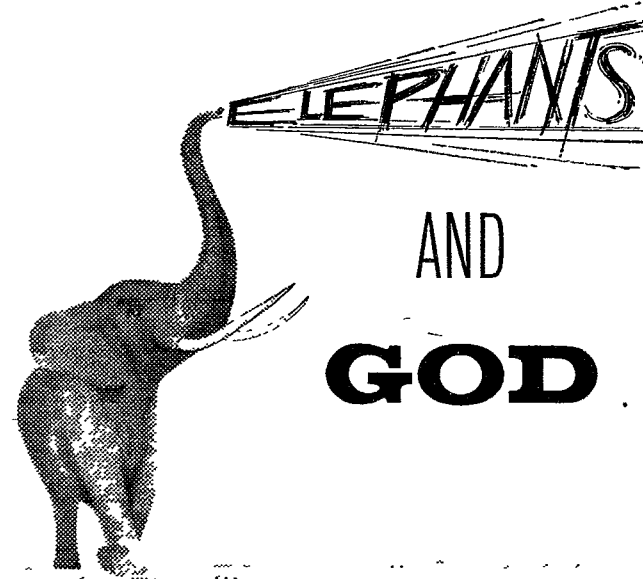

I, myself, was almost grown before I realized God's "ever-presence" and the strength this knowledge brings, so it has been a great joy to watch the awareness of this truth develop early in my son.

Why don't you go to your church and take your child with you? It is the most important experience you can share with him.

THE CHURCH FOR ALL - ALL FOR THE CHURCH

The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the Church. They are: (1) For his own sake. (2) For his children's sake. (3) For the sake of his community and nation. (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.

seum of fine arts under the instruction of Otis Dozer. Her art work has been included in the Texas annual juried show and shown in conjunction with concerts at North Texas university and in Dallas. To Hear Sen. Roberts

Roberts will discuss legislation pending in Lansing. He was elected April 5, 1965 to fill the vacancy created by the death of Senator-Elect Paul Chandler, who died suddenly last December. Roberts had previously served in both the house and senate. Earlier, he was assistant prosecuting attorney for Oakland County. He lives in West Bloomfield township and is a Commander in the Naval Reserve. A coffee hour will conclude the evening's program.

Farrell - Roberts, Michigan State Senator representing the fourteenth district which includes Northville, Novi and Wixom will be guest speaker at the Greater Northville Republican Club Open House, Wednesday, October 27, at 8:00 p.m. in the lower level conference room of Detroit Federal Savings, 200 N. Center St. in Northville.

Mrs. Stuart Campbell, president, reported this is the first of several programs designed to interest all Republicans in the Northville area.

Novi Library News Notes

by Mrs. Dorothy Fletcher
Public Librarian

The Library has been in existence now for five years.

Two years ago, a room was added to the original building providing more space for books as well as additional room for study and reference work.

In the past year two sets of encyclopedias have been added to the book collection. One a Junior set of Encyclopedia Britannica and the other, the 1965 Collier's Encyclopedia. Since the new Collier's has arrived, the older edition will be allowed to circulate, thus enabling reference work to be done at home.

In addition to the many references on hand, this past week, two very fine works were added to the collection, a gift of the Novi Friends of the Library. The Lincoln Library of Essential Information and Chambers Biographical Dictionary are the books given.

Since the library participated in the periodical program administered by the State Library in 1965, approximately 36 magazines are received at the library for the benefit of its patrons.

The library hours are as follows: Monday through Friday 1:00 p.m. to 8:00 p.m. Saturday from 10 a.m. to 1:00 p.m.

Schoolcraft Hosts College Meeting

Officials of the Michigan Association of Junior and Community Colleges reported today that the Thirty-First Annual Conference of the Association on October 15 was an unqualified success. More than 900 administrators, Board members, and faculty members from twenty-four Junior and Community Colleges attended the Conference on the Schoolcraft College Campus.

The theme for the entire conference was "Cybernetics and the Community College"; leaders of the twenty-five sectional meetings were unanimous in their reports that this theme provoked lively and valuable discussions. At the same time, Dr. George L. Hall, Director of the Midwest

Community College Leadership Program, and the Reverend Dr. Charles E. Morton, a member of the State Board of Education, spoke briefly to the Community College administrators of the state and led in a discussion of the effects of cybernation on community college goals and objectives.

The final session of the conference was held at Roma Hall where Robert Theobald of the Center for Study of Democratic Institutions, New York City, was the principal speaker. Theobald discussed the subject, "New Technologies and Institutional Changes". Theobald said that the most revolutionary change in the world today is that man is achieving the power he has sought for so long - the power to control his environment. He stated that the three main factors of this power are unlimited energy sources, sufficient resources of brain power, and the computer. He reminded that whereas there were one thousand computers in 1950, there are twenty-six thousand in the United States in 1965.

Theobald declared that there is a mismatch between our present institutional and value structures and the reality of the world in which we are living. He gave as an example the assumption that we should provide decent incomes only to people who can hold jobs. He suggested that we must be willing to develop new policies to meet new conditions and stated as one possibility the policy that everybody is entitled to an absolute constitutional right to a guaranteed income sufficient to live with dignity. He emphasized that it must be the task of the educational system to educate students for such a world.

He declared that the concept of teaching by disciplines is obsolete. He proposed instead that we will have to teach through problem solving seminars in which the teacher is not an authoritarian figure, but a fellow learner, and where the object of the seminar is quite clearly seen as being that of the creation of new knowledge.

Man triumphs. The mighty Elm has fallen and its huge bed of roots lie upturned and broken.

MILLION DOLLAR LOSS—Debris was all that was left of an estimated $1 million industry in Novi after a blaze erupted at 6:45 p.m. Thursday when a machine oil line broke. It was the American Plastics division plant of Swedish Crucible Steel located on 13 Mile road near Haggerty road. Novi, Wixom and Walled Lake, Northville, Commerce and Farmington township fire departments fought the inferno, bringing it under control in the early forenoon but were required to stand by long into the day to quell lingering cauldrons. Above left, a fireman douses smoldering ashes amid the ruins. Above right, the scene from the rear at about 10 a.m. Bottom, one of the front service entrance doors was forced to gain access. The 15-20 persons on the job at the time all escaped without injury. The firm made custom moulding plastic parts for the automobile industry and had been in operation by the present owners since the first of the year. It was originated as General Tool and Machining by George Kovacs. Some critical dies were salvaged and owners hope to rebuild.

Speaking Of Horses

By ROBERT GEAKE

"Barrel Racing has been received in all sections of the country with easily explained enthusiasm," said Midge Kerwin, president of the Michigan Barrel Racing Association as I talked with her in the kitchen of her farm home on Six Mile road last week.

"Is that the same as barrel bending?" I asked innocently. "Oh my, no," she explained quickly. "Anyone can enter barrel bending, wearing anything, and often the entry fee and purse aren't much to speak of. Barrel racing is different. Take the State Fair, for instance. The Fair offered $300 in the M.B.R.A. event, to which was added a $15 entry fee for each of the 18 contestants, making a total purse of $570 to be split among the four fastest riders on each of the two days."

She went on to explain about the precise rules that make barrel racing so exciting, while her husband, Dick Kerwin, drew a diagram showing the "pattern" or path which must be followed around a field of three barrels in record time. While quarter horses have been most frequently used in barrel racing contests, any horse may be entered.

"You mean, I could enter one of your barrel racing events riding an Arabian?" I asked, thinking of all that prize money. "You couldn't enter riding anything," Midge explained patiently. Barrel racing in M.B.R.A. approved events is open only to women and girls."

"It is one of the best tests of combined speed and agility of horse and rider, for it is a race against time coupled with ease of maneuverability around obstacles. Women and girls are particularly adaptable to this performance event and, in colorful attire, they contribute much to the spectator appreciation of the sport."

Returning to the topic of the State Fair (and all that money) President Kerwin reported that Charlotte Zormeler of South Lyon took first place in the Sunday "go-round", zipping around the barrels in 16.2 seconds! Others from our area competing at the Fair were Joan Wrotten of Novi, Marilyn Hyonen, whose horse resides at Wrotten's, Terry Dale of Farmington, and Janet Gates of Livonia.

make good showings in September, both at the Michigan State Fair and at the Kiwanis Club Horse Show at Linden. Ten year old David Earehart chalked up a record to be envied by many adults - three ribbons at each show including a second place in Junior Equitation at the State Fair. Meanwhile, his father, Ed Earehart, was rounding up honors with Ralph Curtis' Broadwall Reveille (5 ribbons), Carla Copeman's Mary Bobs Party Gal (2 firsts and a second), and Gerald Gentry's Kane's Jim Dandy (a first in Western Pleasure riding and a fourth in Morgan Jr. English Pleasure). College Enrollments Surpass Predictions LANSING—Forecasts for higher education enrollments in the 1963-70 period were startling when they were first issued early in the decade.

Now that the predicted period is well under way, the forecasts still startling, particularly because it has turned out to be a very conservative estimate. Experts said as early as 1961 that enrollments in Michigan's public colleges and universities would be boosted as much as 10,000 students a year in the 1963-70 period.

This year the increase hit just under the 20,000 mark!

PREDICTING even a year ahead is becoming more and more difficult. Last year the 12 schools getting state support estimated they would have 147,312 students this fall. The actual enrollment was nearly 2,900 above this estimate.

Largest of the state universities, Michigan State, came close to its prediction of 35,571 students. Only nine more were enrolled last month on the East Lansing campus.

Only Grand Valley State College undershot its estimate. The forecast enrollment was 1,200 but student numbers are 1,170. This still represents a sharp boost from the 530 students enrolled last fall. The newest state college is now leaping toward its long-range size projection.

MUCH NEW responsibility was placed with Michigan's Department of Administration under the 1965 government reorganization law.

The department previously included seven divisions. The two best known responsibilities were accounting and budget. Others were building engineering, property management, purchasing, motor transport and office services.

ADDED by the new law, taking effect next year, were jurisdictions over the state building commission, building authority and veterans trust fund board.

Retirement systems for various lower court judges; municipal, state, and public school employees, and the State Police also will come under the reorganized department.

Headed by a controller appointed by and serving at the pleasure of the Governor, the department of administration prepares the state budget requests for the various agencies. The controller then works out the final budget which goes to the legislature after consultation with the Governor.

This department has been in the news more than usual the past two years because it has been largely responsible for getting under way the giant capitol development project now becoming a reality.

Maintenance of all state office facilities; purchase of materials and equipment, disposal of surplus and salvage, acquisition and operation of the state motor pool also come under control and supervision of the Department of Administration.

PUBLIC reaction to the controversial state income tax question could prove fatal to incumbent legislators if an independent survey is any indication.

Legislators are more aware of this than probably anyone else, as evidenced by their reluctance to conduct the proposed referendum which would allow eventual consideration of a graduated income tax. Some lawmakers remember the public was told they would not face an income tax if they would approve the 4% sales tax.

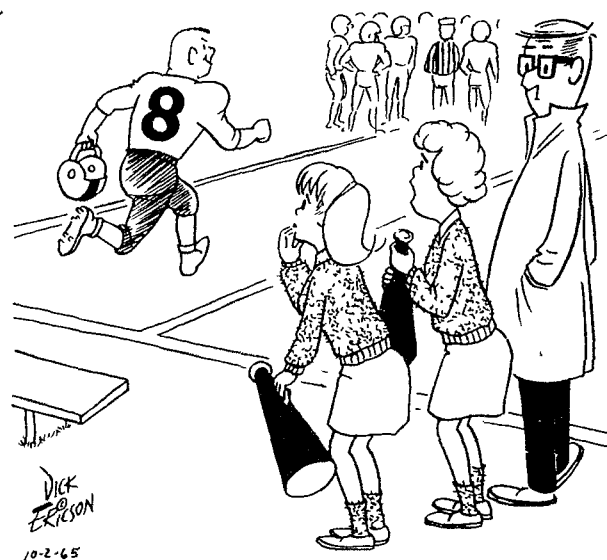

It only sought to measure if respondents favored a change in the constitution which would permit a graduated income tax. But researchers feel responses showed that the public wants no part of any kind of income tax.

The statewide survey by the Michigan Taxpayers Association got an average return rate on a mailing. The results of the return reflect essentially what many lawmakers have been saying for years, and now say is the reason a referendum is unnecessary.

Nine out of 10 respondents oppose a state income tax, and the same number said they would vote against legislators who enacted one.

Many felt the annual discussions of tax reform are just a disguise for more new taxes, another point which has been heard quite frequently in the state Capitol in recent weeks.

Peace ... an Elusive Goal

BABSON PARK, Mass.—Great hopes and great expectations were kindled earlier this month as a result of the Pope's speech to the General Assembly of the United Nations. His words were acclaimed the world over and found response in millions of human hearts. Surely they will serve, for a long time to come, as a guide to a noble goal. But the reality of peace for which man has searched for thousands of years still eludes us.

The Pope has put the moral force and prestige of his half-billion-member church squarely on the line for world peace, at a very critical time. There are wars, or rumors of war, on every continent, ranging from the very hot war in Vietnam to the civil upheavals in Africa. And, one by one, our contemporary champions of peace have been dying off. In the short space of a year, the thinning ranks of the advocates of world peace have dwindled still further with the deaths of Herbert Hoover, Adlai Stevenson and Albert Schweitzer.

Although a man of outstanding professional ability and of dedication as a public servant, Herbert Hoover was not a success as President. He is best remembered for his humanitarian acts following each of the two World Wars and for his lifelong devotion to the cause of peace. He was without doubt the best champion of peace America has produced so far.

Most of us would agree, I think, that true peace must be based on justice if it is to survive. But many of us have widely different opinions of what constitutes justice in a given situation. Our views are colored by our loyalty to our country, by our backgrounds, by our education and environment, and by our own experience.

Most Americans feel that the Civil War was a "just war, but there are a very great many people living in the South who still vigorously dispute that claim. And we are at present in the midst of an agonizing debate on the rightness of our government's course in Vietnam. If peace is to triumph, war must eventually be outlawed; and that goes even for so-called "just" wars!

Loyalty and patriotism are strong, stirring words. But how many sins have been committed by national leaders throughout history as they appealed to these qualities in their followers. Love of country and willingness to sacrifice even one's life in the national interest or for the national honor have been instilled in all the peoples of the world since time immemorial.

Read where you will in the history of the progress of mankind and you will find war glorified and the heroes of war venerated. We may be living in a world which aspires to peace, and I believe we are; but we are so brainwashed by the glorification of war that we hardly know how to go about working effectively for peace. Without being unfaithful to the sacred memory of those who died in war that we might live and prosper, we must search for—and honor—new heroes who have been or who are men of peace. We must train our children and grandchildren to look up to those who strive for a true world peace.

Time alone will tell how truly effective for peace has been the visit of the Pope to the UN. Perhaps, as President Johnson has said, the papal speech may be "just what the world needs to get us thinking on how to achieve peace."

Is the world ready for peace? I think not ... because from childhood most of the peoples of the world are taught to rely on the might of arms and on the power and righteousness of their individual countries. The desire for peace is indeed in our hearts, but the will to work for it has yet to be formed and nurtured. What we need is a Great Society that will embrace everybody—the whole world. I am confident this will one day become a reality; but I fear it will be a long time building.

SPEAKING for The Record

By BILL SLIGER

A couple of years ago (or so), when it became evident that newspapering might be about the only career open to these talents, the most important events rolling off the Underwood were the results of athletic contests.

Although things fall a little more into perspective as time passes, you can never completely shake the obsession that you are the world's greatest second guesser.

For that reason I'm regressing into old habits, strictly for the benefit of coaches, such as Gilmer, Dressen, Elliot, Daugherty and Horwath.

One thing I can't stand are these on-the-fence sports columnists in Detroit who tell you one week a guy's washed-up and then do a column two weeks later on how great he is (since he's been traded) and, naturally, they knew it all the time.

But do they ever offer any real advice that a coach can get his teeth into? Of course not.

Take for example Coach Gilmer's problem at quarterback. Everybody knows that Milt Plum has great potential. But how do you make him a consistent performer?

The answer's simple and obvious. Trade him to New York for Earl Morrall.

Charley Dressen could shake Norm Cash out of his early season doldrums if he'd just give a little thought to the subject.

Cash never gets rolling until August. In September he's a whirlwind. Why, even his name's a tipoff to the solution.

Just change contract signing time until August 1. He'll bat .400 in May, June and July.

Coach Elliot's problems at Michigan can be traced back to last year. He had a whiz of a quarterback in Vidmer, a sophomore understudy for Timberlake, who was destined to lead the Blue to another Big Ten title this year.

But Elliot made a terrible mistake. When Vidmer broke his leg in early season play last year, the coach appealed to the Big Ten to grant another year of eligibility to Vidmer.

The conference okayed the request. And now Michigan has a sophomore quarterback instead of a seasoned junior -- and everyone knows you can't depend upon a silly soph.

The final bit of advice is most important. It's for Duffy at MSU. He has a real, immediate problem. Griese and the Boilermakers are waiting down at Lafayette for a clash this Saturday that will probably decide who goes to the Rose Bowl.

Purdue always spells trouble for the Spartans. When the Boilermakers see those green uniforms, they become giant killers.

But for some unexplained reason, the maroon of old Indiana leaves Purdue limp.

That's it, Duffy. Dye those uniforms -- then leave the rest to Northville's Steve Juday.

You Can Brighten Patients' Christmas

To the Editor:

Each year at this season we receive requests from individuals and groups interested in remembering our patients at Northville State Hospital - patients who otherwise are "forgotten" by relatives and friends.

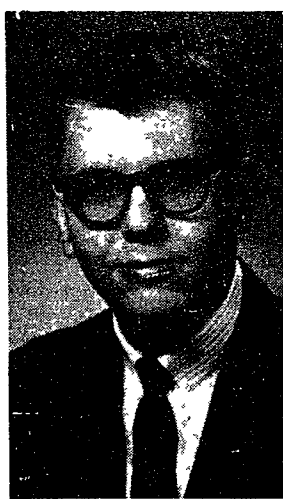

Through a call or a postcard to our hospital's Community Relations Department, a donor can obtain general directions and a specific patient's request for Christmas - usually three choices by the patient in the $1.50-$2.00 range, of which one can be chosen.

Some individuals ask to contribute to our hospital's Christmas Fund with which general gifts can be purchased in advance by volunteers. Such gifts as cigarettes, stretch socks, handkerchiefs and candy, are utilized on Christmas Day, when, in spite of every best effort, we learn of patients who have received no presents. For some of these patients, their anticipation for a Christmas Leave with their family may have ended in disappointment. The availability then of general gifts for them can be most important. We know from previous years that our patients certainly appreciate these remembrances during the Christmas Season.

Sincerely,
Louis J. Scholdt, Director
Community Relations
Department

OUT OF THE PAST

ONE YEAR AGO-

Clarence Luchtman, 551 Orchard Drive, is director of the "Jills," a singing group that will appear Saturday at the Wonderland Shopping Center for the Detroit teen talent search finals. A 17-year-old Northville girl, June Lorimer, is also a candidate in the competition. She is a singer too.

Two Northville residents are members of the 1964 Huron varsity squad at Eastern Michigan University. They are William Chizmar and Dick Willing.

Even snow flurries failed to cool off a fired up Holly team as the visiting Broncos blitzed Northville 18-0 Friday night. Suffering their first loss in the Wayne-Oakland Conference, the Mustangs are now 2-1 in loop play and tied for second place. In first place is Milford.

"Youth in Focus", a program sponsored by the Northville Woman's Club will be held Friday. Carol Yahnke will report on her experience as a delegate to Girls State last summer. Karen Lang will demonstrate her hobby as a handwriting analyst. The local Madrigal Singers, composed of Linda Polak, Gretchen Schneider, Larry Wood and James Drew, will also entertain.

FIVE YEARS AGO-
The first night for registration for Northville's new adult education program resulted in 42 definite applications for courses in sewing, shop, art and typing. Classes are scheduled to begin Monday night.

With many uniforms of his band members "near shreds", Band Director Robert Williams announced plans this week for a candy drive to help raise money for new uniforms.

The Northville Woman's club will hold its annual fall luncheon tomorrow at Meadowbrook Country Club with WJR newscaster Jack Hamilton as the guest speaker.

er. Hamilton will survey the still fermenting Cuban crisis at the luncheon.

The jewelry craftsmanship of Miss Artura Verschaef of Clemon road gained recognition for the artist recently in a Paris, France magazine, "La Revue Moderne Des Arts Et De La Vie."

FIFTEEN YEARS AGO-
Northville's churches are joining in the Christian Rural Overseas Program to aid needy people overseas. Reverend Lorenzo E. Woods, pastor of Our Lady of Victory church, heads the drive with assistance from Harry Sedman of the Methodist church, F. W. Strener of St. Paul's Lutheran Church and Reverend Harold F.
