But Only on Business District Streets

City Enforces Night Parking Ban

The council decided to "move slowly" before attempting a return engagement with a familiar foe Monday night.

A proposal by City Manager Roger Rehberg that overnight parking on all city streets be banned so that snow-removal plows can operate more easily was shelved.

Instead, the council agreed, the city should enforce its latest resolution made last spring which calls for no overnight parking in the general business district area.

The manager told the council that parking should be prohibited overnight on all city streets both summer and winter. He said it would greatly improve street-cleaning chores and that "residents would soon become accustomed to the regulations".

But Councilman Fred Kester recalled that he had received more adverse comment on the parking ban than any other matter since he has been on the council. About two years ago the council tried a citywide overnight parking ban, but numerous residents protested that they had no place else to park.

"Let's get the first step done first", chimed in Councilman Del Black. "We haven't even posted the business district yet."

When Mayor A. M. Allen suggested that the ban might be tried again, Councilman John Canterbury said "I'm willing, but we backed down because of all the unique situations before and we'll have the same problems."

"Maybe we could just urge all residents not to park on the street at night", concluded the mayor.

Enforcement in the business district on Hutton, Center, Wing, Dunlap and Main streets will be initiated. And residents will be asked to cooperate by keeping cars off the streets in early morning hours when snow-plows operate.

Manager Rehberg won another proposal, but not without some council displeasure. He suggested immediate advancement of Patrolman Louis Westfall to sergeant.

Councilman Canterbury criticized the manager for calling for action on a proposal that had not been on the agenda or previously discussed. He noted that the city had adopted a policy against having the position of sergeant on the force. "I feel you should have investigated our reasons beforehand", he explained.

Other councilmembers were obviously upset at the short notice (Rehberg asked for the promotion effective Tuesday). But all were reluctant to decline the request because it was agreed that the officer deserved promotion.

Acting Chief Dave LaFond told the council he could "run my department best with a sergeant". And Manager Rehberg said he was seeking a "quick and complete recovery" in the police department with the advancement of Westfall to acting-sergeant for six months (the same trial period given LaFond who succeeded Chief Eugene King).

"The manager has sold me", said Councilwoman Beatrice Carlson. So the council approved the proposal.

Gas Fumes Still Plague Fairbrook

Gas fumes that caused an explosion earlier this year at the residence of Councilwoman Beatrice Carlson on Fairbrook avenue are again plaguing residents of the area.

Mrs. Carlson expressed deep concern Monday night to fellow councilmembers that "something should be done ... it isn't safe and we can't sleep."

No one seems able to determine the source of the trouble. A suspicion that it was gasoline from a neighborhood station running into the sewer has been traced, but without success. The theory that broken sewer lines in several of the area homes might be the problem has been denied. Mrs. Carlson said she had a plumber inspect her home and examine a sewer tran.

If the problem is gasoline from the station getting into the line, Manager Roger Rehberg and Engineer Harold Penn said this could be corrected by running the sewer line from the station directly into the interceptor, bypassing other houses on the same line. This would cost an estimated $3,000, however.

"Let's not spend that kind of money until we determine the problem", said Councilman Del Black, who urged immediate attention to the matter.

The council instructed the manager to check out the problem and recommend a solution.

In other business Monday night the council appointed Harry Copp of Allen drive to the board of appeals succeeding Cy Frid, who retired.

Late 'Shopper' Robs Gambles

A "customer" stayed after closing hours at Stone's Gamble Store Friday night and left with "several hundred dollars".

The theft was reported to Northville police Saturday by Jerry Stone, store owner, who said that the thief emptied two cash registers but took no merchandise.

"Because it was the weekend before deer season, our sales had been high and we had more cash on hand than usual", Stone reported. He didn't reveal the exact amount stolen.

Stone told police that the "customer-thief" apparently hid under a table in the second-floor toy department. Escape was made by cutting a screen in a second floor window and walking along the roof and to the ground at the rear of the building.

City Proposes Set of Guidelines For Local Library Commission

The city council gave tacit approval Monday night to an outline setting forth the establishment of a library advisory commission.

The document, patterned after similar organizations in other communities as well as the recommendations as set forth by the Wayne County Library Board, was prepared by Councilman John Canterbury.

The document was prepared by Councilman John Canterbury and reviewed by the council. It was patterned, Canterbury stated, after similar guidelines drawn by other communities and proposed by the Wayne County Library Board.

Specifically, the city is acting on an early-summer recommendation that a joint city-township library commission should be formed to assist the local library.

The township appointed its three members to the commission last May, but the city has waited until a satisfactory document could be drafted setting forth organizational purpose and function.

Township appointees were Mrs. Roy Mattison, Mrs. Harold Price and Mrs. William Sliger.

Monday night the council agreed that it approved of Canterbury's work, but declined to make any appointments to set the commission in motion until the township board has had time to review the proposed organizational set-up.

Purpose of the commission would be to advise and assist the city council and township board in provision of library service in cooperation with the county library board.

It would be composed of seven members -- three appointed by the city, three the township and one by the commission itself. Purpose of the commission, as outlined in Canterbury's proposed regulations, would be to prepare reports and submit recommendations on library matters, create and maintain public interest and raise funds and conduct activities related to the library, receive gifts and administer trusts for the library, set forth the library's budget needs and represent the community in dealings with the county library board.

The commission would keep the city and township advised concerning the satisfactory performance of services covered by the contract with the county.

'Pick-Up' Attempt Brings Warning

Northville school officials reminded all pupils last week of the dangers in accepting invitations to enter stranger's cars.

The warning was prompted by a November 7 incident in Northville township. A Taft Colony mother told officials and county sheriff's department that her elementary school-aged daughter had been invited to "go out and play" by a passing motorist.

The man was described as being about 50-years-old with dark, thinning hair, and dirty, crooked teeth, driving a late model very clean, dark blue or black car.

No other similar incidents have been reported in the area to police and no leads to the suspect have been uncovered, according to Acting Northville police chief, David LaFond.

School officials decided to issue the warning to youngsters, Assistant Superintendent, Ray Spear stated. But both school officials and police noted that the incident was isolated and should not cause public alarm.

olastically and athletically, during his high school years in Northville. He was a member of Northville high school foot ball and basketball teams in 1961-62 that went undefeated.

He has played as Michigan State's first string quarterback for three years and this season has lead the Spartans to the Rose Bowl. His popularity with the squad is evidenced by the fact that he is co-captain of the team along with Don Japenga. He's also a top performer on the baseball team.

Two big college football games remain for Steve.

Saturday he leads the undefeated Spartans against fourth-ranked Notre Dame at South Bend. If Michigan State wins, it will retain its number one ranking in the nation.

And on New Year's Day the 1965 team will complete its schedule as Big Ten representative in the Rose Bowl.

Although not directly connected with the "Steve Juday Day" observance, but certainly a part of the overall effort to show that Northville is proud of the Spartan quarter back, is a proposed charter plane to the Rose Bowl.

Persons interested in attending with a Northville group are urged to call FI 9-2010.

Steve is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Richard Juday, 304 Lake. His brothers, Bill and Jim, were also outstanding athletes. Bill captained Vanderbilt university's football team last year. Jim is a sophomore member of the Spartan squad.

Steve's All-America

If Coach Duffy Daugherty has his way, Steve Juday will gain All-America honors this year.

The Spartan football coach said this week that "Juday's an All-American in my book -- he's broken all of State's passing records".

The popular mentor said he had recommended Steve highly for selection to the post-season honor squads.

Undoubtedly, the showing of Steve and State against Notre Dame Saturday will have much to do with determining the popularity of the Northville quarterback in national ratings.

Ford to Expand Northville Valve Plant

An 11,700-square-foot addition will be built at Ford Motor Company's Northville valve plant to accommodate a new cold-header operation, R. M. Cuddohy, general manager of Ford's Engine and Foundry division, announced this week.

The addition, measuring 150 feet by 78 feet, will be built on the north side of the plant building on East Main street. It will permit installation of equipment which will cold-form valve heads prior to forging.

The plant's employment of about 285 persons is not expected to change as a result of the addition. Cuddohy said.

Ground will be broken for the construction work by December 15 and completion is scheduled for May, 1966. Contractor for both design and construction of the addition is H. F. Cambell Company of Detroit.

The Northville plant is affiliated with the Dearborn Engine plant and is the prime producer of valves for the Ford Motor company, cars, trucks and tractors. It has a maximum output of 188,000 valves per day.

The addition is a part of a major engine and foundry division expansion program costing some $81 million.

Taxes Cut—Honest!

It doesn't happen very often, so when it does it's front page news.

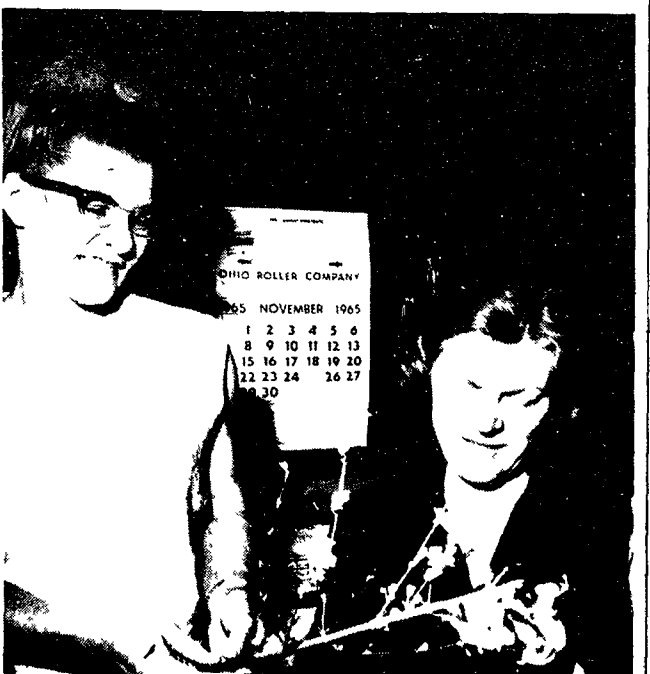

Approximately 200 Northville township property owners were given tax cuts in action taken last week by the Northville township board.

For some unexplained reason these 200 properties had been taxed for many years for original installation of the Middle Rouge Interceptor and maintenance of the township's Sly drain. Many of the taxed properties had received no direct benefit. And the latest Middle Rouge Interceptor installation had been paid from general funds, rather than assessed directly to specific properties.

Supervisor R. D. Merriam discovered the sewer and drain maintenance levy ranging from 26 cents to $10 on some 200 properties and asked the board last week to switch the annual payment to the water and sewer fund.

The motion was unanimously approved.

CONFUSED FORSYTHIA—Mrs. Edward Matatali, 46141 Sunset, shows a sprig of yellow, bell-shaped Forsythia blossoms that normally are seen in the spring. Her Forsythia bush and dandelions bloomed in her sheltered back yard last week as the sunny, mild weather caused June-in-November confusion. Record Society Editor Jean Day is one of the amazed witnesses.

BACK AT LAST—It was more than two years ago that the above stone was removed from the old city hall lawn. After the new structure was erected, the stone was supposed to be returned. But for one reason or another it was ignored, standing outside in the DPW grounds near the city dump. City Councilman John Canterbury told the council Monday night that someone had informed him that the engraved plaque had been removed from the stone's face. "They're going to hold it until the stone is replaced," Canterbury stated. He did not know who had removed the plaque. Tuesday the city's work forces returned the two-ton stone and that very evening the plaque was taken to the police department. The inscription on the plaque reads: "Erected by Allen M. Harmon Woman's Relief Corps No. 225 of Northville, Mich., Dedicated to the Grand Army of the Republic and Soldiers and Sailors of All Wars, May 30, 1930." Shown replacing the stone are Horace Aenbacher and Alvin Daniel.

In Our Town

THANKSGIVING TREAT for Northville Woman's Club members, who will meet at 2 p.m. Friday in the junior high library, will be the appearance of Mrs. Edward Williams whose wit and love of fine books is well known to the many Northville women who have visited her bookshop in Rochester, Michigan.

Helen Williams' reputation as a story teller has grown as she lectures in a warm, rich voice, giving polished talks sprinkled with Irish humor and going right to the "meat" of literary materials. She was a protege of the late Professor Eloise Ramsay of Wayne State University in Detroit, who was considered by many to be the country's greatest authority on children's literature.

Mrs. Williams taught and lectured at Wayne for many years and was a guest lecturer one year at the University of Chicago. For several years she has written a monthly column, "The Incessant Trumpet" in the Michigan Educational Journal. There she reviews and evaluates both adult and children's literature. She has presented several book festivals in Michigan and has helped set up libraries.

She also conducts a regular invitational group in Conversations in Literature in her Rochester home. Friday's speaker comes from a book-appreciating family. Her father was an educator and classical scholar who enjoyed reading the Greek classics in the original. His great, great grandfather was one of the two founders of Bowdoin college in Brunswick, Maine.

A great, great uncle founded the Yale University school of literature. Her father was president of "Guarantors of the Committee of the Chautauqua" in her home town; so the family often entertained featured performers of the evening. MRS. WILLIAMS, therefore, remembers listening "avidly" to the conversations of artists like Cornelia Otis Skinner, Ruth Draper, Alice Neilsen, Carveth Wells and Mischa Elman. Mrs. Williams is a graduate of University of Michigan and is married to a retired Michigan Bell Telephone executive. They have three sons.

Asked by a New York publishing company to write a book on children's literature, Mrs. Williams has been working on the project as her busy lecture schedule permits. Woman's club members are invited to bring guests. A Thanksgiving tea is to follow the program.

An enthusiastic admirer of Mrs. Williams is Woman's club member Mrs. Francis Gazlay. Last Friday she attended a workshop on children's books at which Mrs. Williams lectured. She relates that part of the speaker's charm is the delightful way she presents her impressive material. Mrs. Gazlay and Mrs. Glenn Deibert, who teach the Northville cooperative play group, attended the Greater Detroit teachers auxiliary workshops last week.

THE SUGAR PLUM season has "goodies" for both children and grown-ups. The tradition of Sunday-before-Thanksgiving open house is being continued by both Stone's Gamble store and Lila's Flower and Gift shop, adjacent stores at 115 and 117 East Main street.

Sunday, November 21, Santa Claus will make his first 1965 visit to toyland on Gamble's second floor. From noon to 6 p.m. during the open house he will hear small folks' desires and dispense balloons and candy canes while older children and parents are invited to pause for cider and donuts or cake and coffee. Lila's will be open from noon to 8 p.m.

AT LILA'S Flower and Gift Shop next door the wrappings will be off the windows for a surprise holiday view. Mrs. Lila Collins has selected unusual Spanish wrought iron candlesticks, Italian glassware, Mexican tinware, Californian pottery and a variety of English ware as decorative gifts.

For the open house she intends to have the striking arrangements of flowers and greens that visitors may order for holiday giving or decorating. Designs of evergreen, holly and red or white flowers arranged with such gift items as a black filigree Spanish candelabra have become a trademark of Lila's.

WSCS Workshop Eyes Extremism

Mrs. Fay Waldron, secretary of missionary education of the Women's Society of Christian Service of Northville Methodist church, and Mrs. William Canfield, a member of the state board of United Church Women, an affiliate of the Michigan Council of Churches, attended a fall workshop of the United Church Women in Lansing last Friday.

Dr. Wendell Bassett, president of the Michigan Council of Churches, spoke on "Extremism," bringing to the attention of the women a noted publication: "The Strange Tactics of Extremism," telling how to detect and combat extreme right wing organizations.

There was a dedication service of "Share-a-Loaf" coin folders for CROP, for which United Church Women is one of the sponsoring organizations for this project supplying Michigan beans and powdered milk to Church World Service for distribution wherever there is need without regard to race or creed.

Workshops were held for three special days United Church Women sponsor: World Day of Prayer, May Fellowship and World Community Day. Mrs. Canfield points out that, while Northville does not have a Council of United Church Women, for several years members of the Women's Association of the Presbyterian church and the Woman's Society of the Methodist church have joined in fellowship on these three days.

HOOTENANNY HEROES—Entertaining at Plymouth State Home and Training school for a Hootenanny last Thursday night were "The Disciples". ## They Thrilled to Disciples ...Long Hair and All

Teenagers at Plymouth State Home and Training School "Wat-usted, frugged and twisted" to the music of the disciples, a five piece combo from Northville. Joining in the dance with them were "Candy Strippers", high school hospital volunteer service girls from Northville, Plymouth and Livonia.

Chips, hot dogs, and pop were added to the entertainment from 7:30 to 9:30 pm last Thursday evening, by members of Beta Sigma Phi International Sorority, Plymouth Chapter, the sponsors of the evening's entertainment. For those who are not familiar with the residents of Plymouth State Hospital, these "Teens" are a group ranging in age from thirteen to sixty-five, physically developed, but mentally retarded.

Wayne Lawhorne, Recreation Director at the home, stated that a well-rounded recreation program for the mentally retarded should offer opportunities for social contacts with other young people, especially the young people from surrounding communities. The contact enables them to develop good socialization skills. The retarded learn so much from observing others. Lawhorne further stated - "There exists a need for more social entertainment of the type they enjoy, such as provided by the Disciples."

Lawhorne invited contact by phone or in person from any group who might be interested in this type of project.

New Police Chief Hires First New Officers (2)

Acting Police Chief, Dave La Fond this week announced the hiring of two new patrolmen bringing the force to six men and the chief.

Daniel Perry C. Aldrich, 32, Milford, will join the force Nov. 23. The second man, Earl Wayne Van Cise III, 27, 861 Allen Dr., will begin his duties November 15.

They replace patrolmen James Hollingsworth, 24, Detroit, who left the force to take a better job, and La Fond who was promoted to acting chief of police.

This still leaves the force short by two men. La Fond said that he hopes to hire a third new man in the future and ask the city council for the additional money.

Other members of the force are Louis Westfall, Herb Zachmann, and Gus Aleck. William McGee has been ill, but is presently on partial duty.

LaFond also announced the hiring of a third clerk, Joyce White, 34, to work at the police desk and help issue drivers licenses.

Spice CABINET

Here's an easy way to dredge chicken pour flour into a clear plastic bag, add a few pieces of chicken, and shake. The bag may be saved and used over and over again.
No need to wait till the last minute to whip cream. Sweeten the whipping cream with confectioners' (rather than granulated) sugar, whip, and store in refrigerator. It will keep for several hours.
To tenderize tough meat, soak it for several minutes in a strong solution of vinegar and water.
The next time you're making a boiled frosting add 1 teaspoon heated vinegar to it at the same time you add the flavoring. The vinegar keeps the frosting from becoming brittle, or from "breaking" when the cake is cut.

FIX-IT TIP

Change coarse grade sandpaper into fine sandpaper by holding it against a grinding wheel.
When you fold sandpaper or roll it tightly to reach into crevices it usually cracks. This not only makes sanding difficult, it shortens the sandpaper's life. To avoid it, pull the sandpaper down over the edge of a table, allowing it to lie flat. When you've done this a few times the sandpaper will be flexible enough to fold or roll without cracking.

Mediocre Season Produces Local Gridiron Records

The Northville Mustangs finished far from a sparkling grid season two weeks ago, but there was no lack of glitter when the final individual statistics were tabulated.

Stealing the spotlight were two Mustangs, Quarterback Tom Baughman and End Jerry Inslund, who made Northville's offense conspicuous because of its fine passing game—rare among prep teams.

Together they set 22 local school records, and among high schoolers throughout the state, their performances must rank with the best.

On the strength of the facts, both Inslund and Baughman would get all-state consideration in the post season polls, but there is one thing working against them. It's the Mustang's mediocre record on the season of 5-2-1 and 4-2-1 in league play.

In selecting the all-state squads, pollsters usually give the nod to gridgers who play on teams high in the state rankings. Northville finished third in its conference, a far cry from any state distinction.

Local grid fans and coaches, however, have lauded the fetes of Inslund, who, at 6'3" and 200 pounds, has the makings of a top-notch college end. Besides size, Inslund has the sure hands, the moves and the speed to outflank most secondary defenders.

Against a giant Milford team on a rain-soaked field, Inslund turned in his best game of the season to lead the Mustangs to a 19-7 upset victory. The rangy end outleaped and outwrestled defenders 5 times for passes totaling 141 yards. And one TD pass play of 53 yards was called back.

That was the pattern all season long, Inslund outmaneuvering the opposition to grab a pass for vital yardage. In all, the husky senior caught 63 passes for 811 yards, which Coach Ron Horwath estimates exceeds most southeastern Michigan high school pass catching marks.

Inslund has made shambles of local receiving records, holding the high school mark for the most TD passes in a season (7), most TD passes in a game (2), most receptions in a game (15), most yards one game (231), most receptions career (83), most yards career (1129) and most TDs by end in career (9).

It's not only on offense that Inslund excels; he also called the defensive signals to lead Northville's defensive forces. He made tackles all over the field to seal off more than one TD thrust.

To Baughman goes the distinction of having smashed almost every high school passing record held by Steve Judy, who now quarterback the Michigan State Spartans, presently ranked number one in the nation and Rose Bowl bound.

Small at 5'9" and 150 pounds, Baughman nevertheless proved his mettle in the face of on-charging linemen. He set school marks by throwing 189 passes this year, completing 112 for a total of 1459 yards. He hit a phenomenal 59.3 per cent of his passes.

Other passing records set by the diminutive quarterback were most passes in one game (36), most completions in one game (24), percentage for one game (86 on 19 of 22), most TDs one game (4), most yards career (1965), most passes career (273), most completions career (151), most TDs in one season (12 this year), most interceptions season (10) and most interceptions career (14).

Although Inslund was Baughman's prime target in a season that saw the Mustangs pass more and more with each successive game, there were other alternate receivers Baughman could hit to keep the attack on the move.

In 6'3" Steve Evans, Northville had another tall end with sure hands. His specialty was the long pass, for he caught only 14 passes for 253 yards, an average of 18 yards per pass. Others ranking high as receivers were Halfback Mike Turnbull (11 for 152 yards) and Halfback Doug Swiss (9 for 104 yards).

This was the year in which Northville took to the airways in almost complete disregard of a running game, except to keep the defensive honest. The Mustangs averaged 183 yards passing per game and only 74 yards rushing for a game average of 257 yards.

Northville's eight opponents could muster only 154 yards a game, 74 on the ground.

When Northville did utilize its running game, it called primarily on three backs. Swiss led the pack with 228 yards in 59 tries, Halfback Dave Boerger touted the ball 31 times for 128 yards, two more than Turnbull who lugged the pigskin 29 times.

For the second season in a row, Coach Horwath can look back and mull over what might have been—but for a few breaks. With the exception of Northville's 26-6 loss to league champs, Bloomfield Hills, the Mustangs took all other opponents to task.

The other loss and the tie resulted from offensive miscues. Northville's 7-0 loss to Clarkston came on an opening quarter interception, and the 6-6 tie with Holly resulted from a fumbled punt attempt in rainy weather on the four yard line. Only a little over three minutes remained in the contest when it happened.

And with the exception of that Bloomfield game and a free-scoring contest with Brighton in the last game of the season, Northville's defense was neig impregnable. It gave up only nine points per game as compared with Northville's average of 17.5 points per tilt.

Here's how the season stacked up, game for game: Northville 45, Plymouth 0—Northville tipped its season hand by firing 24 passes and connecting on 19 for 292 yards to rock Plymouth back on its heels in the opening contest. It was the biggest margin posted by Northville in the traditional battle. Baughman fired for four TDs.

Clarkston 7, Northville 0—Playing heads-up ball, Clarkston's Dan Fifield picked off a Baughman pass on the Northville 31 in the first quarter and ran it back untouched for the TD. Otherwise, it was all Northville; mistakes stymied the offensive.

Northville 19, Clarenceville 0—Northville rushed for 193 yards to surpass the passing mark of 100 yards for the first and last time. Swiss led the field with 72 yards in 16 tries in a lop-sided contest.

Northville 6, Holly 6—In a defensive game marked by ferocious tackling, it was a matter of inches. Northville tallied early to take a 6-0 lead, but Holly came up with the back breaker, the recovery of a fumble with less than four minutes to go on the Northville four yard line. In one play it was all even.

Bloomfield Hills 26, Northville 6—It was Kraatz, Kraatz and more Kraatz named Dick as the Bloomfield Halfback sped through the Northville defense for 131 yards in six carries and two TDs. Bloomfield game ground near the goal line.

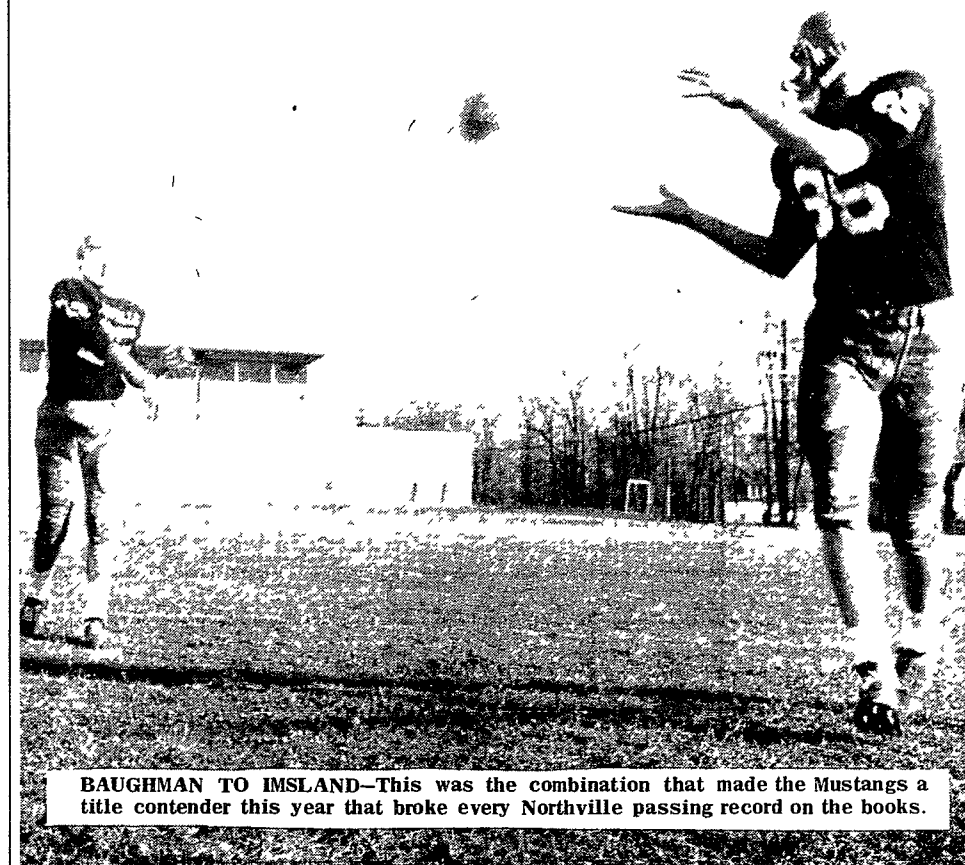

Northville 19, Milford 7—Northville pulled the upset of the year as it shifted into a shotgun offense for the first time and filled the air with footballs. Baughman passed 28 times in a driving rain storm, hitting 15 for 282 yards. Inslund sparkled at end.

Northville 14, West Bloomfield 7—Two second-half touchdowns sealed the victory as Inslund caught 11 for 231 yards and both TDs. One was a 57-yard pass play. Again Northville went to the air out of its shotgun offense.

Northville 29, Brighton 18—Behind 18-8 with less than four minutes left in the game, Northville came alive to bury Brighton under three quick TDs. Baughman once again passed from the shotgun, this time a record 36 times.

BAUGHMAN TO INSLUND—This was the combination that made the Mustangs a title contender this year that broke every Northville passing record on the books.

Tie Makes 4 Winners

South Lyon and Plymouth walked away with the prize money in last week's football quiz.

Because of a tie, there were four contestants sharing honors -- and three were women.

But top winner was Rudolph Verbos, 60870 Nine Mile road, South Lyon, who missed only three games and came within 7 points of accurately predicting the Lions' 49-ers score.

It marked the second time that Verbos has won grid prize money this year.

Sharing second place were two South Lyon women, Mrs. Shelby Lakvold, 501 West Lake, and Mrs. Janet C. Cobb, 10987 Silverlake, tied with three wrong. Mrs. Donna Groth of 844 Ross in Plymouth was awarded third place money. She also missed three games.

Both Mrs. Lakvold and Mrs. Cobb, like Verbos, have won prize money in previous contests this year.

Most frequently missed games in last week's contest were the losses by Michigan, Texas and the Detroit Lions.

But that was last week. There's one more opportunity to share in prize money that could come in mighty handy for Christmas shop-

South Lyon Boy Wins Midwest Area Pass-Punt

David Brandon, once afflicted with a deformed foot bone, will be playing for the Detroit Lions Professional football team next month.

He won a Lion uniform recently in the zone level of the Ford Motor Company-National Football League Punt, Pass and Kick contest. Sunday he won the 13 year-old event of the regional contest held at Tiger Stadium. He will represent the Lions at Los Angeles December 19 in a semi-final elimination. He may there become the 13-year-old event qualifier to compete for the Western division of the NFL in a League playoff at Miami, Fla.

Other winners in the eight through 13 age classifications will compete similarly. Like Brandon, for their win Sunday each earned a trophy. A college scholarship and a trip to Washington D.C. are in the offing for the top winners of the National contest.

Brandon won first in the South Lyon Punt, Pass and Kick local competition, co-sponsored by the Williams and Lloyd Fort agency and the South Lyon Junior Chamber of Commerce. He rated highest in competition at a University of Detroit stadium competition with others in his zone, being the only above-300 mark among 54 contestants.

Big One Bagged Opening Day

Opening of firearms deer season in the Upper Peninsula of Michigan was all it took for Gary Klocke, 635 North Center street, Northville, to bag his needs in venison. When Salem Packing company proprietor Carl Hughes weighed the field-dressed doe the scales read 123 pounds. Marksmen and would-be marksmen who prefer the Lower Peninsula for this popular field sport will be looking for trophies of their own beginning at daybreak Saturday.

PASTOR'S STUDY

Our Father in heaven, more tender and loving than the most devoted of earthly parents, still often has to use strong means to teach us that His way is the only right one. We may seem to be accomplishing great things, outdistancing others in the race—storing up treasures. But often what we consider "good" (and which rightly done with a sincere intention, would indeed be so), comes from our own ideas, not His, of what is worthy.

We may think we are furthering His cause; consider ourselves valiant soldiers or faithful workers in His vineyard, — yet, without awareness, because somewhere along our path in life on earth we have unconsciously thrust our own ideas, plans, works — ourselves, into the foreground, while He has been pushed back.

Seeing our foolishness and vanity, He offers us His Hand, as our loving Father, to help us get straight again. Sometimes we listen and humbly renew our lives. But all too often we have grown so full of pride in what we consider our achievements, and glory in their seeming success, that we cannot, or do not even hear His Voice. It is our thunderous self-applause for our own accomplishments, (yet, we may even believe that we are true followers of Christ) that deafens our ears to His rebuke or caution.

It is so easy to slip into this state of mind! Because of our weak human nature we are usually prone to put ourselves first; even ahead of Him who created us — by whose will alone we have existence!

Then, because He loves us in a manner too vast for us to even comprehend, He has to take strong measures for our salvation. What a thought! The Omnipotent God, who has no need of us and could sweep us out of His Creation by not thinking of us, yet each one is an individual whom He cherishes, and He so loves us that He does all (except to force us) to redeem our souls — to save us.

And so, things change. It may be that wealth, or success in some profession, or pride in personal beauty, or inordinate attachment is our downfall. Of course, if we are not going to heed Him, nor stop at the warnings He gives, the Divine Mind is already aware of this from the beginning. He simply lets us in some cases retain what we value or believe in — perhaps great riches.

But thereby we have already lost many merits in heaven. Then, there are those who do hear, and are responsive to His touch. The touch may be, as above, the loss of what we treasure. This may be hard to accept, but His love is the greatest thing of all, they realize, and they accept their difficulties as the Will of God. Sadly, there are others who never do comprehend and the devil conquers. God does not force anyone to serve, love or obey Him.

He wants our free giving of ourselves and our hearts and lives. This Heavenly Father longs for us to love Him and He will take us back with joy if we truly repent and come to Him. We are all Prodigal Sons and His patience with us is without limit.

BIG BOOK

The atlas is quite an armful. Chip had a time lugging it down off the shelf, but he wanted, once again, to look at some of the fascinating pictures.

He's a small boy for such a big book. Maybe he doesn't understand all of it. But it whets his curiosity, and the curiosity of a small boy is truly insatiable.

Even as Chip glances at the pictures, questions are racing through his mind. And to whom will he address these questions? To you!

When youngsters ask questions, it is up to us, supposedly "grownup" and therefore wiser, to try to give them the right answers. In this day of sometimes dubious and changing values, that isn't always easy. We must first make sure that we have the true basic answers ourselves. There is no surer way of doing this than by arming ourselves with the faith and wisdom found in the Holy Scriptures and in our churches.

Melvin Mitchell Honored

National recognition for a 30-year Northville resident for outstanding work in the area of labor safety was bestowed recently by the National Safety Council.

Melvin P. Mitchell, 1935 Fry road, Northville, was awarded a plaque at the October 28 meeting of the Labor Conference of the National Council in Chicago.

As a member of the conference and its Safety Training Committee chairman, Mitchell distinguished himself with leadership of an eight-member international committee which during the past year drafted a Safety Training correspondence course.

The course was accepted by the National Safety Council for its use. And each labor organization will be required to have one man participate in its one-year program to become an instructor.

It was the completion of this project which required Mitchell last April to journey to Puerto Rico on the invitation of Fernando Castro, head of the Puerto Rican labor department.

Conferring the second ranking of three similar awards given each year by the conference was Chairman George Elchhorn. With Mitchell on the rostrum was his supervisor, Leslie Ernst, general superintendent of overhead lines for the Detroit Edison company.

Mitchell has foreman of the overhead lines division for 29 years, during which time he has been actively engaged in promoting industrial safety.

He is an ex-board member of the International Brotherhood of Electrical workers, to which he still belongs in local 17, Detroit.

Record Yule Sales Seen

BABSON PARK, Mass. — Trends in retail sales have recently been very encouraging. Some observers expect that Christmas buying will push dollar volume to a new annual record that could top the 1964 total by more than $28 billion. There is good reason for this optimism.

For the first nine months of this year, our country's Gross National Product has averaged 7% higher than a year ago. There is almost certain to be a further rise between now and the end of the year. This, of course, will favor Christmas sales, as will also the fact that employment will be a seasonal upswing.

But the highest impetus for sales will come from record — and still rising — personal incomes. Salaries and wages are already at all-time high levels, and still climbing. Add to these sources of income government payments of various kinds (whose total has been increased by the 7% boost in social security benefits retroactive to last January 1) and larger dividend and interest disbursements than ever before.

Although state and local governments are already relieving Americans of a sizable — and growing — part of the cash that they gained from the federal income tax cuts, disposable personal income will also keep on rising. This year it too will reach a new high.

More important for merchants is the fact that these additional boosts in disposable personal income which we look for will, for the most part, represent discretionary income. As the percentage of personal income required for the essentials of everyday living becomes less, more money will be spent for luxuries and semi-luxuries.

With business and income at record levels and still trending up, total consumer purchasing power is bursting its seams. Consumers themselves are optimistic. Indeed, the long up-trend in consumer buying has been one of the most important factors in the strong forward movement of our economy during the current upturn.

But readers should not forget that retail sales of autos, and of durable goods generally, have soared because long-term credit has been so easy to get and because buyers have been so eager to take on installment debt. The rise in such debt has been substantial in recent months, though perhaps not out of proportion in view of the over-all increase in Gross National Product, in industrial production, and in personal income. To be sure, the ratio of installment debt repayments to disposable personal income has been rising steadily. It is now around 14%, compared to 11.7% four years ago. But this in itself should not cause concern because it reflects the natural growth that comes as households and incomes in-

Romney Vetoes Provoke Dems

LANSING—Three vetoes made public by Lt. Gov. William G. Milliken while Gov. George Romney was on his Tokyo-Viet Nam tour in October appear as a kind of power play by the chief executive.

Previous vetoes from Romney indicate he has gained political skill during his years in the governor's chair. He used the veto power consistently to kill several strictly Democratic Party measures and he was effective a couple of times in just using it as a threat to get changes in measures before they reached him.

The three which provoked majority Democrats to attempt an override in December were the last of several in which he used the veto to display his disgust with the lack of fiscal reform action.

IN QUESTION on these three measures were funds to help senior citizens who rent homes, disabled veterans, and seven state colleges. An estimated $10 million a year was involved in the first two bills, while the third was a one-shot reimbursement of $1.2 million promised to schools which enrolled more students than expected.

Democratic legislative leaders gave Romney the run-around most of the summer on whether they might agree to even give a full hearing to any proposed fiscal reform program, his or one they might put together.

Many veteran observers in both political camps predicted from the start that the majority chiefs were just being polite to listen to the governor's pleas at all. The leadership didn't want to get involved in such a basic issue this year, they said.

MICHIGAN'S surplus funds which will still provide a cushion in the next fiscal year will again discourage any change in the tax pattern which might cost votes at the polls next fall.

The vetoes put the spotlight on Milliken, the state GOP's rising star. Romney made it clear he was in agreement with all action to be announced during his absence.

The three vetoes were his own language, used often: Although the surplus was now $136 million, this would be gone within two years and to spend more without adding revenue would be "unconscionable."

Many said the political dangers of the first two vetoes were great. In the end, however, Romney likely will wind up looking like the great protector of public funds even to the renting senior citizens and disabled veterans who will get no change in tax status.

AN IMPORTANT MESSAGE is going out to Michigan's senior citizens which apparently cannot be repeated and emphasized strongly enough.

This is the word from both federal and state authorities to keep present hospital or medical insurance plans in effect for the time being.

Allen Mayerson reminds persons over 65 that the federal Medicare program enacted this year to dovetail with the Social Security plan will not be effective until next July 1.

Even closer to the July effective date, personal study is encouraged of the new federal plan versus present individual or group insurance programs.

Some doctors and any insurance man whose firm sells hospital-medical policies are very willing to advise whether the Medicare plan is likely to meet an individual's potential needs.

Brochures available from many federal government agencies detail exactly what is and what is not covered under the new program. Some kind of professional advice as to individual needs is strongly advised.

In several cases senior citizens have been advised to seriously weigh the higher cost of private insurance against the relative benefits of the two plans.

SIZE AND SCOPE of Michigan's government agencies frequently are a big surprise to the average citizen.

Perhaps one of the best examples is Michigan's largest department in terms of employment. The State Mental Health Department last year employed about 11,000 people.

Operating with one director and six assistants for various divisions, the department is concerned with services for the mentally retarded, mentally ill, community facilities, planning and research, and, of course, its own internal administration.

OUT OF THE PAST

ONE YEAR AGO

"Arsenic and Old Lace" begins Thursday at the high school auditorium. Three performances of the production by the Forensic club are scheduled for the play.

Police today are still looking for vandals who shattered the windows of Main street merchants. Glass was broken at Lila's Flower shop, and the D&C store, also a pane was knocked out of a door leading to upstairs offices in the building next to Spagy's store. Destruction erupted on Main street last Thursday.

The Northville Retail Merchants dissolved as a chartered group last week and joined the Chamber of Commerce because of dwindling paid memberships.

Applications for the position of Superintendent of Schools are now beginning to roll in. Applications began coming in after R. H. Amerman announced last spring that he will retire. Application information is also being sent to the University of Michigan, Michigan State University, and Wayne State University.

The Wixom Ford plant has been closed since last Friday. The plant was closed not because of local disputes, but because of a parts shortage, caused by supplying plants that are on strike.

Perkins Engines Inc., a corporate affiliate of Massey-Ferguson was welcomed to Novi at a Rotary meeting Thursday. The Novi plant of the company based in England now employs 60 people in a technical capacity but plans are to expand to 100 people next year.

Baroness Maria Von Trapp was the second speaker in the current Town Hall lecture series held at the P&A theater.

A Novi product, the General 990, made by General Filters Inc. has been awarded the Good Housekeeping seal of approval. The humidifier is distinctive because it has no moving parts.

FIVE YEARS AGO
 Novi Board of Education has decided to purchase 80 acres of land on the southwest corner of Taft and Eleven Mile roads. It is hoped that the land will eventually be used to build a high school. Burglars made off with approximately $900 from two Novi businesses. $855 was taken from the Novi Rexall drugstore and an undetermined amount from the juke box and cigaret machines at Otto's bar. Police are still investigating the drugstore robbery Friday morning and the bar burglary Tuesday.

City Manager John Robertson will begin meeting tomorrow with 10 architects in order to make a selection for the designer for the City Hall of Northville. Money for the structure was obtained from the sale of the Community building to the school district for $145,000.

FIFTEEN YEARS AGO
 The village council of Northville will meet Friday evening to hold a public hearing to decide on rent controls. If the village decides that no shortage exists they will be terminated.

Attorneys Clifton D. Hill and Phillip R. Ogilvie will assume the legal practice and offices of the late D. Harper Britton.

The recent election that voted for a bond issue to build and equip state mental hospitals does not mean immediate action. Because of the lack of bricklayers and shortage of building supplies further work is being hampered.

TWENTY-FIVE YEARS AGO
 Selective Service Board 61 which includes Northville will send three men to fill the draft quota from this area. It was pointed out that the 3 required will probably come from the 11 volunteers, if they pass the physical.

Novi township houses will be renumbered by the Detroit Edison company. This will be an extension of the Detroit system and will replace several systems now in use in the township. The purpose of the renumbering is to simplify service calls and add to the general convenience of the public.

Ray Kelly, Junior was the guest speaker at the Tuesday luncheon meeting of the Rotary. Kelly, a past National Commander of the American Legion spoke on the meaning of Armistice.

The Kings Daughters of Northville are preparing 15 fruit baskets for shut ins. The low number of fruit and provisions baskets this year indicates that employment is adequate to meet family needs.

SPEAKING for The Record

By BILL SLIGER

The communities of Northville, Novi and Wixom have a common problem that will become more acute... and it's already serious.

It involves their police departments.

The importance of efficient, professional police forces cannot be overstated, especially in these rapidly-growing areas.

Police chiefs in all three communities are presently, and constantly, struggling to maintain forces adequate to cover their areas.

They make every attempt to hire only the best qualified men available, but their source of supply is slim and rapidly diminishing.

The reason, of course, is that local departments are faced with stiff competition -- higher pay, more fringe benefits and shorter hours.

These communities, for example, are the only ones in this area with 48-hour work weeks. And in most instances, in comparing local departments with Livonia, Plymouth, Wayne, Farmington and Farmington township, our policemen receive less money for 48-hours than their neighboring officers do for 40-hours.

In Wixom and Novi beginning patrolmen receive $5,200 and can advance to a top of $6,200. The chief is paid $6,800 annually.

Northville starts its officers at $5,642 and has a succession of pay hikes that go to $6,552 in four years.

Farmington township starts its men at $5,700 and advances to $6,700 in two years. Farmington pays $5,570 to start and jumps to $6,110 in two years. Livonia pays its beginners $6,510 and has six-month increases that bring the salaries to $7,000 in two years.

Neighboring communities are not the only competition. Industry and shopping centers grab off trained officers like picking plums for their security forces.

Personnel turn-over in any business is poor, but in police departments it can be disastrous.

If our local police agencies are to maintain what they have, and hopefully improve, our police chiefs must be given ammunition to compete.

One chief pretty well summed up the feeling of all three this week when he said, "I don't know how I'm going to keep a department. I just lost another key man".

How well we maintain and improve our police forces depends upon how much we value police service and protection. And our community leaders must make this decision.

For starters it would seem that elimination of the 48-hour week -- or overtime pay above 40-hours -- would be the most appreciated step.

City Police Study Urged

To the Editor:

The events concerning the administrative appointments made in our city last week have disturbed me greatly and after waiting a week I can see no choice but to express my feelings publicly.

May I make one thing clear I have no adverse personal feeling against any of the people involved, knowing only one in a more than casual way.

It is still hard for me to accept the fact that the person in charge of law enforcement in our city is a youth of twenty-three years of age who by twenty-eight months of service is the senior officer on our force. One thinks of a Police Chief as a mature individual who by years of police experience plus considerable formal training is given the respect the position should warrant.

I think our city councils and city managers over the past ten years have left much to be desired in the formulation of our police department policies. I do not wish to recount a particular case but the high personnel turnover, the public hearings etc. indicate there is something basically wrong.

I read where Chief King's salary was $7,592 while Mr. LaFond's will be increased to $6,708 while he is acting chief of police. In the same edition the salary of two administrative assistants in our school system were given as $12,500 and $13,300 respectively. I realize that the salaries are set by two entirely separate groups but the salaries are paid by the same set of taxpayers for the most part.

I do not suggest that the salaries of our school administrators are out of line but it does not appear that we are going to attract outstanding police officers with the present salary schedules.

Our salaries should be at a level that will attract the college trained law enforcement officer.

Let's Punish Criminals

To the Editor:

I am going to write this letter knowing full well that I will not be able to sign my name publicly for fear of reprisal from anyone -- young or old -- who might be in the area and at an odd moment read the newspaper. I have never written an unsigned letter before, as I firmly believe that anyone with a cause should state it firmly and openly.

The crime in Detroit this past week has most every parent terribly concerned and worried. Last week three girls in this town were stopped by a man in a car and asked to get in and "participate." This man so far has not been found. The police are investigating. Everyone knows in the Detroit area that all detention homes are crowded and that the young hoodlums will go free for lack of a bed! PHOOEY!!! Why do we pamper criminals?? I am tired of trying to raise law-abiding citizens and winking at all others. Let them sleep on the floors without mattresses and have plain porridge three times a day. I do not care right now about rehabilitation. I only believe sincerely in getting these people off the streets immediately. Let them keep them in for life, if they do not improve. Get them in and worry later, but protect the innocent now.

What do we stand for in this country -- why are we afraid of punishment?? For the sake of what's left of humanity DO SOMETHING.
