THREE GOLDEN KINGS of Orient adorn the lawn of the Donald L. VanIngen home at 744 Grandview as one of the earliest and most imaginative outdoor decorations of the season. The life-size papier-mache figures, complete with the Star of Bethlehem, are the creation of Mrs. VanIngen who hopes that weather and passers-by will be imbued with the spirit of Christmas and will treat her Biblical kings gently. A teacher, Mrs. VanIngen reports that her scene took merely time, gold paint and lots of newspaper for a total cost of about $8. Again this year the Northville Junior Chamber of Commerce is sponsoring a home decorating contest to encourage outdoor decorations.

D.J. Stark Dies at 66

Daniel J. Stark, a former Northville township clerk, assistant postmaster and real estate agent, died at Kalkaska hospital Sunday.

Funeral services were held at the Casterline Funeral Home Wednesday at 2 p.m. with the Reverend William Hughes officiating. Reverend Hughes is now retired and formerly was pastor of the First Methodist church in Northville. He was a close friend of Mr. Stark.

In ill health for the past year, Mr. Stark lived with his wife at 840 Scott avenue. The Starks have a summer home near Kalkaska and Mr. Stark was hospitalized when his illness became acute.

An accountant by trade, Mr. Stark started work at the Northville post office under F. S. Neal on January 16, 1924 and was appointed assistant postmaster on January 1, 1929.

Mr. Stark retired from the post office July 1, 1956. That same year he was appointed township clerk and was elected in 1957 to a two-year term. He did not run again.

As a realtor, Mr. Stark was a member of the United Northwestern Realtors association, a life member of the Masonic Lodge No. 186, past president of the Exchange club and a charter member of the Northville American Legion post.

Mr. Stark was born in Novi, August 2, 1899 the son of Mr. and Mrs. Willard Stark.

He is survived by his wife, Pearl; a son, John of Eau Claire, Florida; a daughter, Mrs. David G. (Ellen) Hazlett of Lake Wales, Florida; a sister, Mrs. Clifford Hyde of Seaboard, Texas; a brother, Howard of Plymouth; and five grandchildren.

Burial was at Rural Hill cemetery.

Roger Rehberg Going Back to Cheboygan

City Accepts 'Effective Immediately'

"I'm sorry. I'm not cut out to be a city manager."

With those words echoing behind him, Roger Rehberg walked out of the Northville City council chambers Monday night. His four-month career as city manager of Northville ended abruptly.

If the council was sorry, it did not show it. Rehberg's resignation had been hinted and was the subject of "city hall gossip" last week, but nothing official had been presented to the council until the close of Monday's meeting.

Rehberg then read his resignation, which revealed a new job opportunity, and stated that he would like to leave by December 16.

Mayor A. M. Allen moved that the resignation be accepted effective immediately. Councilman Fred Kester seconded the motion and the council voted unanimously.

At this point Rehberg made his parting statement, picked up his coat and walked out of city hall. It was 9:50 p.m. The meeting adjourned at 10:08 p.m. after the council decided upon an acting city manager.

Specifically, Rehberg accepted a job as federal project manager for a new method of rehabilitating substandard housing. The pilot project will be conducted in Cheboygan, where Rehberg previously served as city manager before resigning.

His letter to the council stated: "I wish to resign my position as City Manager of the City of Northville, effective at the earliest convenience of the City Council, for the following reason: 'To develop, plan, apply for and coordinate a plan of action through NORCAP a method of rehabilitating sub-standard housing, as a pilot project in the eleventh congressional district starting out with Cheboygan County. This plan, originated by myself, has caught the interest of many in the eleventh congressional district, including Congressman Clevenger, who has stated that he would help in any way possible towards the development of this plan of action to meet the requirements of the various federal agencies.'"

"I feel honored to be asked to carry out this project for the City of Cheboygan and NORCAP, for which I will be working to rehabilitate sub-standard housing with government stimulus to create private action. My interest is such that salary has no bearing in my decision."

"I would not leave Northville, a fine community, and also retire my career as City Manager, if I did not believe I could accomplish more for the betterment of communities."

Rehberg, 34, was Northville's third city manager in nine years. John Robertson, now assistant to a community college president in Missouri, served from 1956 until 1961. Bruce Potthoff, now city manager in Berkeley, held office here from 1961 until June, 1965.

Rehberg took over in Northville on August 9 this year. He left Cheboygan when a difference of opinion developed between the manager and county board of supervisors on the location of a new court house. Rehberg said he resigned in Cheboygan because he felt the board had expressed its antagonism towards him in rejecting a downtown site for the court house. If he left, he felt the board might reconsider the city site.

Although some friction had developed between the council and the manager in Northville, most observers considered the problem as one of "getting acquainted". In general the council was satisfied with Rehberg's performance.

Specifically, the council-manager difficulty arose over the manager's aggressiveness in making changes and exercising authority. Both councilmembers and the manager recognized the problem and discussed it. Rehberg had been accustomed to a free rein management; the Northville council has traditionally operated with close scrutiny of its manager's actions.

"The difficulty was not considered major, and was not pointed to by either the council or Rehberg as the reason for his departure."

It was pointed out by one councilman that Rehberg's new job had been pending for several months and that it paid about $3,000 more annually than his $9,750 Northville position.

Ogilvie Named Acting Manager

While the Northville council begins its search for a new city manager, City Attorney Philip Ogilvie will serve as acting manager.

Mayor A. M. Allen asked Ogilvie if he would accept the added responsibility until a new manager can be found.

The mayor also suggested that Clerk Martha Milne could "act as coordinator" for Ogilvie at city hall.

Ogilvie said he would report to city hall each morning for an hour or two before going to his law offices. He said he would meet with department heads at that time and handle any routine matters. He added that he would be available for other matters that might arise at his office.

During the interim between the managerships of John Robertson and Bruce Potthoff the city attorney took over the manager's duties. When Potthoff resigned, George Clark, a former township supervisor, served as acting manager.

Post Office Sets Christmas Hours

At the same time he took the opportunity to remind shoppers to "mailearly" and to put zip in their mail by using the zip code.

But Hearing Delayed

Objections Heard To Randolph Paving

Because one of the Randolph street residents was over-looked when assessment notices were mailed for proposed improvements on the street, the city council Monday night rescheduled the assessment hearing for January 3.

But the council chambers were filled with objectors from Randolph street. And the council heard their story without comment.

Mrs. Paul Steencken, 562 Randolph, acted as spokesman for the group of property owners.

She presented a petition to the council which she said contained signatures of an estimated 75 per cent of the street's property owners.

In her comments to the council Mrs. Steencken said that the proposed improvement would be detrimental, reduce property values and that the changes would "destroy the restful character of the street . . . compound hazards to residents . . . diminish natural beauty and charm by removal of trees".

The report concluded that Randolph is being developed as a major artery for heavy vehicles and greater volume and that this would benefit the city at large but not the abutting property owners especially.

The council was asked to void the special assessment and pay for the project from general funds on the basis it is an improvement beneficial to the city as a whole.

Presumably, the council will reply to these statements at the January 3 hearing.

The resident forgotten in the assessment notices was the home of Mr. and Mrs. Harold Hartley, last house on the north side and west end of Randolph.

and increase traffic. She said the property owners would rather see the street resurfaced just as it is without a special assessment.

Pointing to a section of the city charter dealing with special assessment Mrs. Steencken noted that the council has the power to determine the special assessment "in proportion to the benefits derived" - and she held these were nil.

The city proposes to widen the heavily-travelled street to 33-feet, construct curbs and gutters, make culvert repairs, pave the street with concrete and remove a curve near Eight Mile road.

The total project cost is estimated at $122,500. The total assessment against some 44 property owners is estimated at $18,250.

The objecting residents held

Novi Board 'Almost' Hires New School Superintendent

Almost, but not quite. That's the result of Novi's negotiations to obtain a new superintendent of schools.

The Novi board announced last week that Robert Young, superintendent of Freeland Community Schools, had accepted the position of superintendent in Novi.

Young, 40, accepted the appointment last Friday after gaining release from the Freeland board Thursday night. Young was to have taken up his duties here in about three weeks.

But Monday night the Freeland board apparently had second thoughts. After another meeting with his board Young called Novi Board President William McDermid and stated that he felt "morally obligated" to remain in Freeland.

Since Tom Culbert, Novi's former school superintendent, resigned last August to accept the superintendency in Manistee the Novi board has interviewed 21 candidates.

Board President McDermid was disappointed by the turn of events.

"We'll have to start all over again now," he stated.

McDermid said that he feels it is the limitations on salary range that creates Novi's biggest problem in finding a successor to Culbert.

The Novi board has placed a $10,000 to $12,000 range on the job. Young was offered $12,000. "If we want to find more applicants, we'll have to raise the salary," McDermid commented.

Principal Gerald Hartman has been serving as acting-superintendent during the board's search for a replacement.

The board had hoped to have a new superintendent during the proposed expansion of the junior high school to provide for senior high school facilities.

An election asking for approval of a $735,000 bond issue to construct the addition will be held Monday.

The junior high school building on Taft road, which presently houses seventh, eighth and ninth graders, will have one wing extended with science suites and will have another complete wing added.

Its present capacity of 350 pupils will be increased to 650 with these and lesser expansions included in the building proposal. At present enrollment rates, this expanded facility will be adequate for junior-senior high school needs until 1972 the board believes.

Phase-in of ninth graders was accomplished this past year and tenth graders will be added this coming fall. Eleventh and twelfth graders will follow in the ensuing two years, per agreements with the Northville board of education.

Northville Schools have traditionally accepted Novi high schoolers but space needs there have forced discontinuation of the arrangement.

Township OK's Main St. Paving

The Northville township board Tuesday night decided to split a $7,000 street improvement project with Wayne county.

Boardmembers agreed to go along with a proposal made by Supervisor R. D. Merriam to blacktop West Main street from Clement to Woodhill with an oil aggregate. The 1,400 foot stretch would cost about $5 per foot, the supervisor estimated. He said the county road commission would pay one half the cost.

Treasurer Alex Lawrence said he approved of the project but expressed some hesitancy because of other requests that might be made for paving.

Trustee Wilson Tyler said each case would have to be examined on its own merits. And Supervisor Merriam noted that the road, which rises sharply from Clement, is widely used by subdivision residents throughout the area. "It would not be practical to special assess the abutting property owners alone," he noted.

In other business the board agreed upon several changes in a library commission policy drafted by the city. Mainly the township proposed sharper limits on the authority of the commission. Their recommendations will be forwarded to the city for consideration.

J. Craig Bowiby, 15405 Lakeside drive, was named to the planning commission replacing Ralph Gibson, who is retiring from the board.

The board waived penalty for late payment of winter taxes and set the deadline date back to the last day of February instead of February 15.

A proposed policy procedure manual outlined by Trustee Tyler was discussed. In general it would govern board procedure in appointments, purchasing, meetings, public relations, etc. Tyler asked fellow board members to record their ideas in these areas so that he might compile the material into a policy manual. Board members agreed to bring proposals to the January meeting.

School Bonds Sold at 3.758%

First of Michigan corporation was low bidder for the $3,300,000 Northville school district bonds at 3.75846 per cent and was awarded the bid at a special meeting of the Northville Board of Education December 1.

The bid, one of four submitted, was termed by Alexander Nelson, superintendent of schools, as "disappointing." He said if the attorney general's office had approved the bonds when submitted six weeks earlier he felt the district would have obtained a more favorable interest rate.

Nelson added that Northville and other districts with similar delays have discussed a joint protest in January to the state.

Nine dealers participating in the account purchase by First of Michigan are Blyth and company, Inc., Hartman Ripley and company; Equitable Securities corporation, Nashville, Tennessee; Franklin National Bank, New York; Kenower, MacArthur and company; McDonald and company; Cleveland; Roosevelt and Cross, Incorporated, New York; and Walston and company.

Other bidders were John Nuveen and company, 3.78 per cent; Halsey-Stuart, 3.79 per cent; and Bank of the Commonwealth, 3.81 per cent.

Contract for printing the bonds was awarded to Midwest Printing company of Plymouth at a cost of $351.

The bonds were purchased by First of Michigan on a rate scale as follows: 1966-75, 4 per cent; 1976, 3.7 per cent; 1977-80, 3.6 per cent; 1981-85, 3.7 per cent; 1986-88, 3.75 per cent; 1989-91, 3.8 per cent. A premium of $528 was included in the sale. The board retained First of Michigan's good faith deposit of $66,000. The bonds are being re-offered to yield 2.85 per cent in 1966 out to 3.80 per cent in 1989-91.

Because of the Christmas holiday the board voted not to hold a second December meeting December 27. It will meet in regular session at 7:30 p.m. Monday.

Income from sale of the bonds will be used to construct a new elementary school on Eight Mile road, a new junior high, an addition to the present high school and for conversion of the present junior high to other school uses. First to be constructed will be the district's third elementary school. Construction bids are slated to be let in January.

about WOMEN

A CHRISTMAS WALK, sponsored by the Plymouth branch of the Woman's National Farm and Garden association, will lead to the home of Mrs. John Stuyvenberg, Jr. at 18101 Shadbrook, Northville. Mrs. Stuyvenberg prepares to welcome area residents on the tour by placing a pine cone wreath on her door. Tickets for the walk may be obtained from Mrs. Stuyvenberg or any club member. Six Plymouth homes also will be open December 16 from 11 a.m. to 5

In Our Town

By Jean Day

PINE CONES and styrofoam, satin balls and sequins, and even leprechauns and holly--these are the things "Christmas is made of." It's also sugar and spice (nutmeg) and all things nice as Northville's girls and their mothers have begun what promises to be a most-decorated holiday season.

New ideas for greenery decorations for gifts are certain to abound at the Christmas luncheon to be held by the Northville branch of the Woman's National Farm and Garden association at noon Monday in the Northville Presbyterian church fellowship hall.

The leprechaun-and-holly decorations will honor the speaker, Mrs. Alice Wesels Burlingame of Birmingham, internationally known horticulturalist, who will talk on "Christmas Giving." She is expected to include comments on a trip last summer to Dublin, Ireland.

Mrs. Burlingame has written a regular column on gardening for several years. Her horticultural therapy techniques are being followed in South America, Europe and in many sections of the United States. This is a guest day meeting.

THIS SATURDAY the garden club will be selling wreaths, roping and angel decorations in the lobby of the junior high gymnasium from 9:30 a.m. to 5:30 p.m.

A HOLIDAY LUNCHEON at Topinka's restaurant opened the month for members of Northville Newcomers club and their guests December 1. Table decorations were created by club members in workshop sessions. Using decorated plastic detergent bottles for the vases, members filled them with yule arrangements. Participating members decided at the meeting that the workshop had been "such fun" that they would continue meeting to design seasonal decorations.

Mrs. Ethel Bell, guest speaker and until recently a long-time staff member of a Redford florist, presented additional decorating ideas. She showed a pine cone tree door decoration with a styrofoam triangular base forming the tree into which the cones were inserted.

IN SHADBROOK Mrs. John Stuyvenberg, Jr., has hung a pine cone wreath on the door of her home as she begins decorating for the Christmas Walk to be given from 11 a.m. to 5 p.m. December 16 by the Plymouth branch of the Woman's National Farm and Garden association. Six Plymouth homes also will be open on the walk, which includes a stop at the Mayflower hotel in Plymouth where the branch is holding a Christmas bake sale.

ILLUSTRATIONS from a family song book provided inspiration for the silhouette and tree decorations designed by Mrs. Paul Robinson, 43430 Reservoir road, Plymouth, for part of the Christmas settings at the Detroit Historical Society.

Well-loved poems and stories, the society finds, are as dear today to the hearts of children at Christmas time as they were to earlier generations. These have inspired the settings for the Detroit Historical Society Guild's annual service project, the "Hanging of the Greens," at the museum, Woodward and Kirby, this Sunday. Guild members have developed this year's presentation in keeping with the museum's fantasy-world, "Through the Looking Glass" exhibit of toys, games, dolls, books and children's dress from the last century.

What's Cooking At High School

Following is the high school cafeteria menu for the week of December 13 with hamburger on bun and French fries offered as an alternate choice daily:

Tuesday -- ham, scalloped potatoes, rolls-butter or minestrone soup, meat sandwich; all with carrot-pineapple salad, apple crisp and milk.

Wednesday -- chili, crackers, bread-butter or split pea soup, meat sandwich; all with relishes, hot fudge pudding and milk.

CORNER

PROUD PARENTS Mr. and Mrs. Russell Anger pose with their small son Jeffrey as they prepare for their first Christmas in Northville in their new home at 936 Novi street.

This is a holiday season of "firsts" for the Russell Anger family of 936 Novi street. It will be the first Christmas in the Angers' first home of their own. And, most importantly, it will be nine-month-old son Jeffrey's first Christmas ever.

The Angers moved from an apartment into their new four-bedroom home in mid-October this fall. He is associated with his father and brother in the Anger Manufacturing company at 755 Novi road. His sister, Mrs. Thomas Calcaterra, also is in the firm. The company's plant was built in Northville in 1963.

At the moment Mrs. Anger's hobby is refinishing furniture which, she points out, she is doing to supplement furniture from an apartment to fill a living room and family room. Susan Anger attended University of Michigan and formerly lived in St. Clair Shores. Her parents still make their home there.

Both she and her husband are sports enthusiasts. In addition he is a stamp collector. He attended school in Redford. His family now lives in Rosedale Park.

Both hope to become more active at Our Lady of Victory church which they have been attending.

CHRISTMAS WREATHS for the holiday greens market to be held by the Northville branch, Woman's National Farm and Garden association, from 9:30 a.m. to 5:30 p.m. Saturday, December 11 in the lobby of the junior high boys' gymnasium are wired with decorative velvet bows by Mrs. Frank Whitmyer (left), market chairman, and Mrs. Gene Cushing. The market will include roping, pine cones and angel decorations as well as a bake sale.

Senior Citizens Plan Party

A musical Christmas program will highlight the annual Christmas party of Northville Senior Citizens' club at 7:30 p.m. Tuesday in the Scout-Recreation building.

The Northville Presbyterian church bell ringers, a teenage group directed by William Williams, will play. A Christmas tree and other yuletide decorations are planned.

A monthly business session will follow the musical presentation. Refreshments and a social hour will conclude the evening.

Mrs. Mary Alexander, Mrs. Beatrice Carlson and Mrs. Nora Lynch are in charge of the program with Mrs. Orlo Hauger.

Mrs. Robert Sample

Hull-Sample

In a ceremony in Ann Arbor Saturday, December 4, Robert Walbridge Sample, son of Mr. and Mrs. James A. Sample, 20803 Chigwidden, Northville, claimed Sue Carol Hull as his bride.

She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James W. Hull of Long Grove, Illinois, and formerly of Ann Arbor. The 2 p.m. ceremony at Ann Arbor First Methodist church was performed by the Reverend Verlin Main and the Reverend Edwin Weiss.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a long gown of ivory crepe with cathedral train. Re-embroidered Alencon lace adorned the elbow-length sleeves, the modified Empire waist and the hemline. She carried cream roses.

Juday To Leave Hospital

The condition of Richard Juday, who is recovering at Traverse City Osteopathic hospital from a heart attack, is reported as definitely improved this week.

Mrs. Juday told The Record that doctors had indicated that the former Northville city councilman could leave the hospital Sunday. But she added that they will remain at their Central Lake cottage until approximately December 20, when they expect to return to Northville.

The Judays are still planning to attend the Rose Bowl on New Year's Day to see their son, Steve, perform as quarterback for Michigan State. Mrs. Juday said doctors had agreed that her husband's recovery has been good enough to permit this.

She said her husband feels fine, but must remain in bed. She commented that both she and her husband appreciated the many flowers and letters that had been received from Northville.

A banquet honoring Steve has been rescheduled for January 25 in Northville.

Dumper Leaves Calling Card

Calling cards left among illegally dumped debris in the village of Novi have led police to the culprit.

The name of G. T. Blacklock of Farmington was found among the refuse left on Meadowbrook road and on Squire Drive.

When questioned by police he admitted the fact and cleaned up the area and was also fined $40 by Justice of the Peace Robert K. Anderson on December 2.

Burglar Ducks Out on Officer

Novi police are seeking a burglar who left by the back door early Monday while a police officer was checking the front door. The loss, according to police, from Wilkins Parts and Equipment, 45900 Grand River, was estimated at between $2 and $5 in cash from a cigar box under the front counter, and two impact wrenches which are operated with an air compressor.

When the officer reached the back of the building he found a broken window in the double doors. Foot prints of the suspect were found by the officer leading to and from the building from the rest area on the I-96 freeway. Casts of the footprints and fingerprints in the building were made with the help of the state police.

The owner of the business, C.H. Johnson of 106 East Cady street, Northville, was notified shortly after the 5:25 a.m. break-in.

Out of Season

Someone went fishing for money at a Rawlins, Wyo., bank but he didn't catch anything.

Police said the would-be thief used a rig consisting of four fishing lines attached to a plastic bag. The bag, weighted by rock "sinkers," was dropped into the bank's night depository box.

A patrolman found it before it could be tested.

Wixom Police Seek Murderer

Wixom police are investigating the death of a Wixom man as possible homicide.

According to police Chief D'Arcy Young, the death may have resulted from an alleged beating at the home of the 58 year-old man, on November 1.

Walter C. Teddy, 28515 Beck road, died November 26 at Martin Place West hospital in Detroit.

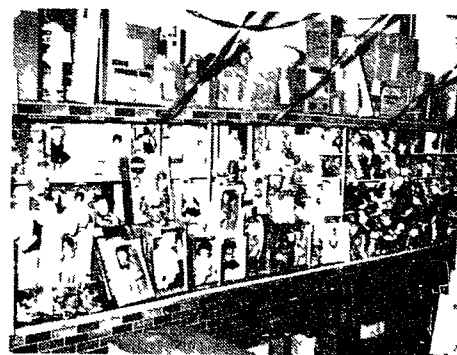

According to Chief Young, members of the Teddy family reported that the beating occurred in the Teddy home when some youths broke in. But the beating was not reported until after the death, Young stated.

Dr. Edward S. Zawadzki of the Wayne County medical office is preparing the coroner's report in the investigation, Young stated.

Wixom police also report the theft of $40 from the Continental Bar and Grill at Twelve Mile road and Grand River.

The burglary occurred early Monday morning. Entrance was gained through a side window, police report. The business is owned by Fred Burleigh.

Cagers Trip Holly In League Opener

It was a typical Northville-Holly game Friday night — a harem-scarem Wayne-Oakland Conference battle that was not decided until the last seconds of play.

With Northville leading by just two points and only 12 seconds to go, Holly pressed the Mustangs in their back court as they tried to take the ball out of bounds. The Mustangs needed a break, and they made their own.

A well-designed play, formulated seconds before when Northville took time out, worked to perfection. Guard John Jameson raced down court, took a long, arching pass over his shoulder, dribbled twice and laid the ball through the hoop to give Northville a 54-50 victory.

That gave Northville a 1-0 record in league play, and a clean slate in two starts this season. Coach Dave Longridge's cagers won their opener last week Tuesday, 72-45, over South Lyon.

As in the South Lyon contest, Northville had the height advantage. But conspicuously absent on the Mustang forward wall was 6'3" Steve Evans, who did not play because of illness.

This threw two relatively inexperienced men, Forwards Mike Turnbull and Glenn Deibert, into the gap. "They did a nice job," said Longridge, but Evans' savvy was sorely missed nevertheless.

The smaller Broncos put up a stiff battle throughout. They trailed all the way, but an old bug-a-boo, the all-court press, came back to haunt Northville in the last quarter. Northville was leading by 10 points, when Holly put on the clamps, pressing the Northville back court men, harrying them all the way. And make mistakes the Mustangs did, throwing the ball away twice.

Each time Holly came back to score, and added to two buckets scored on rebounds, the Broncos sliced the margin to 52-50, before Jameson added the clincher.

Both teams were overzealous. Play was stopped time after time as Holly, then Northville, committed fouls.

With Evans out, Holly put the pressure on Northville's high scoring center, Jerry Imsland, who had tallied 27 points in the opener. The Broncos jammed up the middle, and fouled Imsland at will, but the all-state gridder was almost unerring at the foul line. He converted 12 of 14 tries, and added three field goals to lead all scorers with 18 points. Guard

Jim Zayti and Forward Mark Cushing both tallied nine points.

Cushing, who towers a slim 6'5", was the Mustangs' prime rebounder. It was his board work that prevented the Broncos from getting more shots.

Holly's two back court men, Guards Bill Taylor and Mark Phalen, sparked the Broncos' attack with their jump shots. Taylor had 16 points, Phalen, 13, with most of Phalen's coming in the last period surge.

The first quarter was punctuated by the referee's whistle, as was most of the game. Nine of Northville's first 17 points were scored at the foul line as Northville took a 17-0 lead at the end of the first quarter.

Fouls were more instrumental in the second period. Northville scored nine of its 13 points from the free throw stripe and walked off the court with a 30-25 lead at halftime.

Both teams settled down to a more consistent game in the third quarter as Northville took a 42-35 lead.

The fourth quarter furnished all the excitement as Northville surged to a 10-point lead and seemingly had the game in control, then Holly surged back.

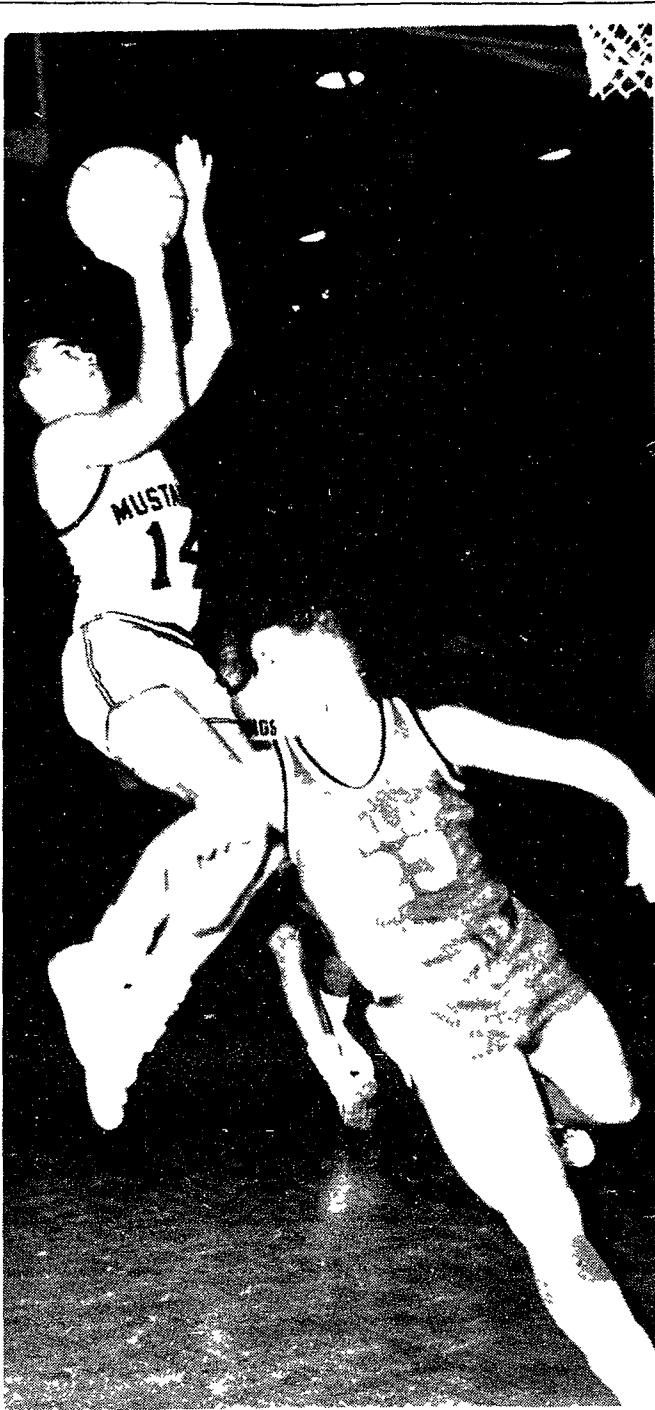

After Phalen hit a jumper to cut the margin to 42-37, Northville spurred on Cushing's tip-in, free throws by Jameson and Imsland and another jumper by Cushing.

Deibert scraped a rebound off the boards and put it back in to give Northville another 10-point lead, 50-40, when Holly suddenly got hot.

Phalen sparked the comeback. He hit two free throws, then connected on two consecutive jumpers to close the gap to 50-46. Zayti momentarily held off Holly with two free throws, but Holly tallied on consecutive rebound shots to close to within two points, 52-50.

Northville took time out. Then came the game breaker as Jameson scored on the break away.

WHERE'D HE GO?—Holly's Mark Phalen (23) seems to be looking around in confusion for his man. Guard John Jameson puts one through the hoop behind Phalen's back as teammate Glenn Deibert trails the play.

Susan Cowie Dimitroff Won't Miss Rose Bowl

EDITOR'S NOTE — There'll be more than one Spartan playing in the Rose Bowl New Year's Day with Northville connections. In addition to Quarterback Steve Juday, there's Boris Dimitroff. He's married to the former Susan Cowie, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James Cowie of Horton Street. Donald Busch, also of Northville and a student taking a journalism course at MSU, points this out in the following story.

The Spartans of Michigan State have an avid follower who supplies her better half to the middle of the offensive line.

The woman in question is Susan Dimitroff, the wife of State's center Boris Dimitroff.

For an obvious reason, Susie follows State's football fortunes very closely. She has missed only two of State's ten games.

Susie knows very little about football. "All I know is when there is a first down and that sort of thing," she said.

Susie said that she talks over the games with Bo but more on the bases of appearance than tactics.

Susie said that she doesn't really worry about Boris while she is watching a game. After the game is over is when she starts to worry about injuries.

Until this year Boris served duty as a second string tackle. He did so well in spring practice that he was advanced to first string center and has done an outstanding job.

Susie and Boris have been married for three of Bo's four year career at State. They have two children: Chris, 2, and Aaron, 6 months.

Football has kept Susie and Bo separated most of the fall. Boris usually leaves for school at eight o'clock and doesn't return from practice until seven o'clock.

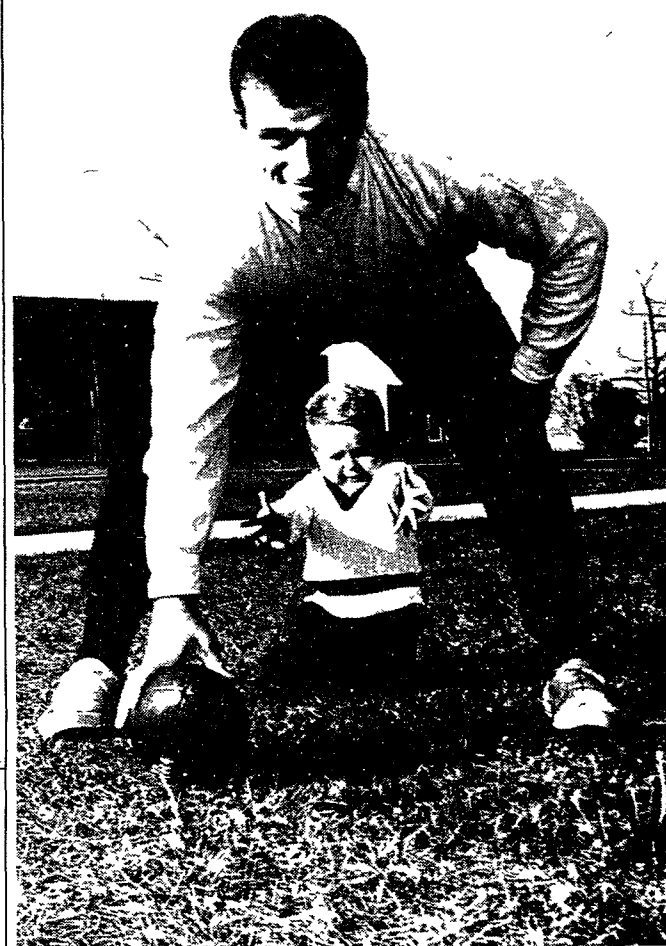

Bo leaves, with the rest of the team, on Friday afternoon and returns Saturday afternoon or evening. This shoots a big hole in his weekend with his wife.

Susie and Boris won't be separated for the Rose Bowl. Susie said that she will be going to the coast to see the game.

Both Susie and Boris go to school. Bo is a senior in History. Susie is a junior in Humanities.

Susie and Bo live in Spartan Village, one of the married housing developments at Michigan State.

Susie is a 1963 graduate of Northville high school.

Ready for the snapback from Dad is two-year-old Chris Dimitroff.

Colts Coast Past Holly

Playing their own brand of basketball, the Northville Colts rolled to their second straight victory of the young basketball season Friday night, whipping visiting Holly, 78-33.

Once again it was the press that stymied the opposition. Coach Bob Kucher's cagers applied the all-court press from the opening buzzer, and never let up.

"We played much better than we did against South Lyon," said Kucher. "We got over our first game jitters."

That's going some, for Northville blitzed South Lyon 66-36 in the opener.

"Holly was better than South Lyon, but we got a quick start and Holly never got started," Kucher pointed out. "They simply never adjusted to our press."

Four of Northville's starting JVs led the scorers, and they only played half the game. In what Kucher described as a "team effort", Center Jim Peterson had 19 points, Forward Bob Hubbard, 15, and Guards Dennis Matthews and Joe Andrews, 13 and eight, respectively.

Northville led 42-9 at halftime. Kucher substituted freely just before halftime and throughout the second half.

Clarenceville Next On Cage Schedule

The Northville Mustangs, off to their best start in three years, are odds-on favorites to make it three straight Friday when they journey to Clarenceville.

Clarenceville, a small team, is 1-1 on the season. What's more, there are few lettermen back from last year that would make the Trojans a serious threat in the Wayne-Oakland Conference.

Northville Coach Dave Longridge pointed out that Clarenceville is small, but a "a hustling team." "They use the zone press, and fast break," he added.

Main cog in the Trojans' lineup is Chris Hawkins, a guard who also excelled on the football field. "He's all over the floor," Longridge noted, after scouting Clarenceville's 61-47 victory over Dearborn Crestwood Saturday.

In its first outing last Friday Clarenceville lost to Milford in the season and conference opener for both teams, 79-70.

Elsewhere around the league, Bloomfield Hills, a powerhouse for the past three years, has apparently suffered a reversal of fortune. Arch rival West Bloomfield pinned the second defeat in a row on the Barons, 51-40. Earlier, Bloomfield lost to Oak Park.

Shaping up as the main threat to the Mustangs title bid is Clarkston. The Wolves, led by Dan Fife, an unerring shooter and speedy driver, flipped in 33 points against Brighton last Friday to lead his mates to a 70-59 victory.

Back on the home front, Coach Longridge got some encouraging news. One of his stalwart forwards, 6'3" Steve Evans, who was sidelined last Friday due to a touch of flu, will be ready for Clarenceville.

CAGER Of Week

CAGER OF THE WEEK—Whether on the basketball court or on the football field, this week's top cager spells trouble plus for the opposition. Jerry Imsland, Northville's 6' 3" center, led the Mustangs to two early season victories by scoring 27 and 18 points, respectively. And on the boards, he leaves little to be desired. A senior, Imsland is playing his third year as a regular. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. LuVern Imsland of Fry road.

Alias Given by Thief

For his first night on the job, a gas station attendant made a good haul -- he left with the funds.

Two Northville youths, Tuesday night, reported to police that there was no one at the Clark gas station at 510 South Main street.

Police said that the man who was hired by the Clark company reported for work at 10:00 p.m. and left with $150 around 11:00 p.m.

Acting Chief David LaFond stated that the man used an alias when he was hired by the company for a temporary replacement to work nights at the station.

Mustang Grapplers Crush Lions, 36-14

It was a long trip back from Northville to South Lyon Thursday, for the Lion matmen, that is. Northville took the measure of its westward neighbor, 36-14.

Only four South Lyon wrestlers racked up victories in the squad's first match of the season, and experience was the Lions' only payoff. Three of them had wrestled before.

Only newcomer to win was Dave Taulbee, who pinned his 95-pound opponent. His brother, Doug Taulbee, won by a whisker, 7-6, over Bob Baber at 103 pounds. Briane Lott at 145 pounds and Gary Wickersham at 154, both copped decisions.

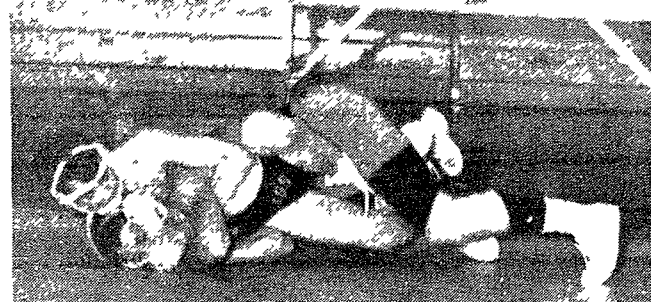

From there on it was all Northville. Five mustangs gained victories by pinning their men, while two gained decisions and one won by forfeit.

Bob Baber, who weighed in at 103 pounds, pinned Bill O'Neil; 127-pound Dennis Cook pinned Lon Potter; 133-pound Pat Jones pinned Jim Hook; Bob Springer at 165 pounds pinned Carl Heidt, and Heavyweight Vic Carter pinned Larry Jones.

Winners by decision were Marty Richardson at 120 pounds who beat Bill Zenter, 3-1, and Jim Lundstrom who outpointed 180-pound Kent Bailo, 6-2.

Northville's Norm Dicks, a 130 pounder, won by default.

KNOT—Wrestlers originally made the twist popular with antics like these which are not uncommon on the mat.

POINT—Northville's Dale Ashby executed an escape to win his only point against South Lyon's veteran wrestler, Brian Lott, but Lott took the match 9-1.

Say Doctors

Snow Shoveling's for Women

A few years ago an eminent heart specialist made this startling statement: "Women are more qualified to shovel snow than men."

Needless to say, this statement stirred replies nationally from indignant members of both sexes.

Actually the physician did not intend to slander the strength of manhood or add still another burden upon womanhood. He was merely stating medical fact.

Shoveling a moderately heavy snow requires approximately the same energy as running seven to eight miles an hour. To the overweight, middle-aged man who lifts nothing heavier than a pencil every day, this unaccustomed strain may cause a heart attack or produce the painful symptom called angina pectoris.

Add to this effort the burden of walking through snow plus the restrictive weight of at least 10 pounds of overcoat, boots, sweater, scarf, hat and gloves and the risk becomes considerable.

Most modern housewives, on the other hand, are slim, trim, and well conditioned by daily tasks which include such Herculean efforts as moving furniture, scrubbing floors, lifting babies and carrying shopping bags.

To see why this type of conditioning is more conducive to snow shoveling without the risk of heart attack, let's take a look at the anatomy of the heart itself.

The heart is a muscular pump nourished principally by blood flowing through coronary arteries. In many middle-aged, overweight persons, the coronary arteries become partially obstructed by a thickening of the arterial walls resulting in a reduced supply of blood to nourish the heart muscle.

Under normal conditions, even this reduced blood supply may be adequate to meet most of the demands of the heart muscle. However, with vigorous activity such as shoveling snow -- the heart must pump much faster, and the muscle needs more blood than the partially obstructed arteries can supply. The resulting undernourishment of the heart muscle frequently is sufficient to trigger a painful anginal attack -- or if severe enough -- a fatal heart attack.

These serious consequences can happen to anyone who is unaccustomed to vigorous physical exercise, even in the absence of heart disease. They are most apt to happen, however, to the fat, flabby, middle-aged or elderly individual who works in an office all day and confines his physical activity to weekends.

Men, if you fit this category, it's a good idea to let your wife shovel the snow. Better yet, save face -- as well as your life -- by hiring a youngster to shovel your walk.

DeClerk, Not LeClerc, Eyes Novi Industry Site

Last week's issue incorrectly named the Le Clerc Industries, Incorporated, of Centerline as seeking rezoning of an 8.6 acre site in Novi Village to heavy manufacturing.

The name is DeClerk Industries.

The request was one of three scheduled for public hearing of the planning commission and village council Monday, December 27 at 8 p.m. in the Novi Village hall.

Not yet having purchased the property in question -- along the west side of the Chesapeake and Ohio railway on and adjacent to the south side of Nine Mile road -- George De Clerc's request was entered by the property owner, Arthur Heslip.

Heslip, chairman of the planning board, absented himself from the board table during discussion of the DeClerk proposal.

The tract is presently zoned residential but is allocated industrial on the Novi Village master plan. Due to its proximity to long-established prime residential areas, the site might prove difficult to rezone.

Low Budget Christmas

Our Boy Frank Goes Shopping!

By Frank Gresock

I thought I had really drawn an easy assignment when the boss told me to write a story on Christmas shopping in Northville. Me, a big city boy all my life, shopping in the intimate stores of people I know on my daily beat.

I grabbed my checkbook, swallowed hard when I saw the balance and headed out the door.

My first surprise came at Schrader's, where I went in search of something for my Mother's new provincial living room. The price tags got me shaking but I knew that somewhere in this store there would be something that I could afford.

After browsing throughout the store I came across a bust of a Greek goddess. I think it was only $10.50 but looked very expensive and antique. Before leaving the store I spied a sign that read "Bargain Basement". I went down to see. They really have some good buys. For anyone just getting started, who doesn't have a lot of money to spend, like me, it's down to earth.

A snow thrower on sale in front of the Northville Hardware caught my eye as I remembered the driveway and the sidewalk that must be cleaned every snowfall.

I stepped in to find another tool for my father to do battle with and against the plumbing, wiring, and anything else that he decides to fix, whether it needs fixing or not. A bright chrome drill caught my eye. (I recalled the constant search for tools that goes on with my three brothers borrowing tools.) For $9.88 dear old Dad can undertake more "little jobs" around the house even though it always costs him more than having it done by someone in the business.

Curiosity sent me across the street to investigate the Spinning Wheel. For anybody that sews or knits this is a playground for the imagination, and the creative seamstress. Being tired of my Christmas tree looking like everyone else's, I might try my hand at making my own tree decorations. They have everything that it takes. Gold braid, sequins, jewels and styrofoam all put together with a little paste could create some really unique decorations.

Who can resist a jewelry store. Even if I didn't have the money I figured I could always say I'm browsing. I did find something that will get my traveling salesman brother to his appointments on time, a travel alarm for under $12. On my way out I noticed a large assortment of bracelet charms that will make good stocking stuffers.

As soon as I find out what little girls wear, I'll have to stop back at the Little People's Shoppe and buy my only niece something for the cold Alpena winter.

After hacking my way through the grapes growing around Lila's door I almost got lost in the confusion of color and glitter of all the plants and flowers. I sent my head spinning. After a half-hour of goggling I decided on some rather rugged looking wooden candlesticks from Spain for $5.95 each. These are for the aunt who taught me the adult meaning of Christmas "cheer" at the tender age of 14.

Having six nephews, Stone's Gamble store was an inevitable stop. The Bird of Paradise must have smiled on my checkbook, because when I reached the second floor I was startled to find the prices on all toys reduced. After a few embarrassing reproaches from the kindly saleslady asking me not to play with the guns, I got serious about the whole thing. For the three younger boys I saw some toys that are meant to be taken apart. You know, the educational type that adults can never figure out. The three older boys will probably drive their parents out of the house with guns that explode targets with noise and air for $9.35.

My list included little girls and the doll section had all sizes and shapes of dolls that talk, cry or just plain look lovable—from $2.18.

My brother the ski nut drove me into Brader's where I found turtleneck ski shirts that won't stretch for under $3.

With three brothers left on the list, I headed into Laphams to buy the traditional tie. With over a thousand to choose from I picked up one of the new "In" paisley ties. I sure hope John likes orange and chartreuse.

Men, take heed! They won't understand at Freydl's Woman's store if you try and describe your wife or girl. They start asking embarrassing questions like, "What size does she wear?"

This can be avoided by picking up one of their size cards for "the lady" to fill out, it makes the whole thing much simpler.

Mrs. Freydl suggested that I not get too personal in buying a gift for the latest addition to my little black book. So I picked up a leather key case and wallet for under $8.00, which ought to save a half-hour of digging through her purse at the door.

I looked in vain at Freydl's Men's Wear, next to Freydl's Women's Wear naturally, for a cheap suit. Guess what? They don't have any suits on their racks. Come to find out, I could get one tailored to any specifications from a large selection of fabrics on man-sized sample cards. I would have bought one, too, except that my Uncle Louis isn't quite as cheap as the suit I would have had to buy with my fast dwindling checkbook balance. So I bought him some argyle socks for $1.00.

Perhaps the most perplexing visit of all on my shopping spree through Northville was encountered at Del's Shoe Store. Have you ever tried to match cut and texture of footwear to a dear friend's personality? Well, jolly ole Del makes it all the more difficult. He has more dagburned styles and colors and cuts than you can shake a stick at.

When a huge, sorrowful looking hound took my stick away I was convinced, and bought a pair of $10.99 Hush Puppies—in self-defense.

I couldn't resist buying my John Birch-type, Uncle Ed an album entitled "Welcome to the L.B.J. Ranch" at Eli's Electronics.

To tie the whole thing up I stopped at Gussell's drug store to get some wrapping paper and ribbons.

Footnote—Any of my relatives who may read this: Don't send presents, send money!!!

YULE SHOPPING—While out shopping in Northville for family Christmas gifts, Record Reporter Frank Gresock (right) came upon one he hadn't anticipated but readily admired. It was the annual Boy Scout Troop 755 wreath sale. Scouts Richard Moore, Fred Kester and Bob Houtz told him orders taken last weekend would be delivered door to door this weekend simultaneously with street corner sales.

City Buys New Salt Spreader

Although the special assessment hearing for Randolph street and the city manager's resignation held the spotlight in Monday night's city council meeting, other business was transacted.

As one of his last official acts in Northville Manager Roger Rehberg recommended purchase of a salt spreader at a low-bid price of $1,193. The council approved the purchase.

R. H. Amerman, for Northville school superintendent, was named to a three-year term on the board of review beginning January 1.

A $2,400 annual service and maintenance contract with Honeywell, Inc., was approved by the council for the city hall heating and air conditioning system.

The council and police department approved a liquor license transfer for Ramsey's Bar on North Center street from Leo M. and Minnie Markham to Arthur E. and Eileen M. Ramsey. The Ramseys previously owned the bar.

A first reading was given to the proposed library commission ordinance with final passage set for January 20 pending any recommended changes by the township.

Justice Court

Bad driver's licenses drew fines for two motorists in the court of Novi Justice of the Peace Robert K. Anderson Thursday.

Leonard Montgomery, 16675 Meade Road, Northville, had his driver's license suspended and was fined $60 for driving under the influence of liquor and driving on a Wisconsin driver's license with a Northville address.

Novi police stopped Frank T. Mears, 1605 East Lake Drive, for driving with no tail lights and discovered that his license had been revoked. This drew Mears a $25 fine and two days in the Oakland County Jail. A back parking ticket added another $5 to the total.

Thomas D. Teddy, 22, of 28515 Beck road, was ordered to pay $50 on a charge of reckless driving.

In the court of Novi Justice of the Peace Emery Jacques drinking drivers drew the largest fines.

Robert Sheldon of 417 Dunlap, Northville, was fined $100 by Jacques for being a disorderly person. The charge resulted when Sheldon began fighting with a police officer at the Novi station when he was taken there to be booked on a charge of driving under the influence of liquor. The latter charge was dropped.

William Kaczor, 48443 West Nine Mile road, was fined $50 for driving under the influence of liquor on November 22.

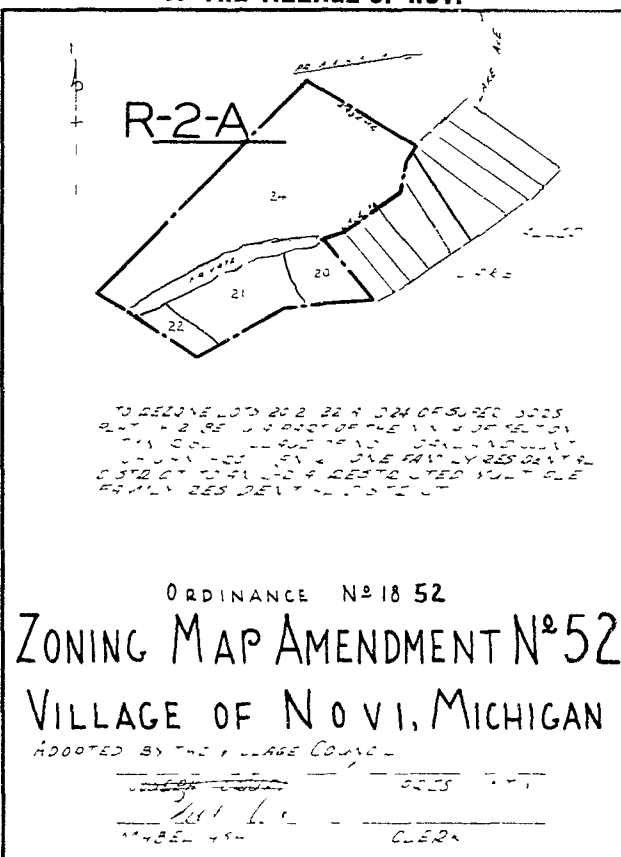

Thomas P. Waitman of Hamtramack was fined $25 for being a minor in possession of liquor on November 22.

Notice of Public Hearing City of Wixom.

SELF ANALYSIS QUIZ

How Are Your Shopping Manners?

By Jane Sherrod Singer

"Life is not so short but that there is always time for courtesy." Ralph Waldo Emerson

Recently we were the dinner guests of a certain socially prominent lady. She was charming, good manners and social grace all in one beautiful groomed package. Alas, the next day, I watched her shop. Our charming hostess had become a harpie. She left her good manners at home! How do you rate as a considerate shopper?

- | | YES | NO |
|---|-----|-----|
| 1. Do you ask to be shown merchandise when you are really interested in buying rather than shopping as a form of entertainment? | () | () |
| 2. Do you pull merchandise out of the packages, unfold garments and leave the shambles to be put in order by the clerk? | () | () |
| 3. Do you wait your turn to be served by the sales person? | () | () |
| 4. Can you resist the temptation of handling things UNLESS you are seriously interested in purchasing it? | () | () |
| 5. Have you trained your children to be quiet, not to run or play and to stay away from merchandise when they go shopping with you? | () | () |
| 6. Do you treat the sales personnel politely rather than acting as if they were moronic slaves? | () | () |
| 7. Do you take up the clerk's time with gossip or unimportant questions when other customers are waiting to be served? | () | () |
| IN A SUPERMARKET: | | |
| 8. Do you leave your cart in the middle of the aisle while you look for an item? | () | () |

| 11. Do you remove cans and packages from the TOP of piles? | () | () |
| 12. When you lean over, do you keep both feet on the floor under you? | () | () |
| 13. Are you a tester? (e.g. pinch fruit and put it back, open sacks, packages, and boxes and then return them to the shelves?) | () | () |

DESIRABLE ANSWERS:

All answers should be YES, except 2, 7, 8 and 13. (Note. Modern supermarkets and department stores have actually been the scenes of accidents -- sprained ankles, mashed fingers, rear-end collisions, etc.)

It pays to be polite when shopping, if only for self-preservation.

SCORING:

10-13 correct: Shopping is easy for you because you are gracious and know what you want. Clerks see this and are helpful.

5-9 correct: Pressures of time and fatigue sometimes make you forget your shopping manners. But you are on the right track, so relax and enjoy buying the things you need.

0-4 correct: For the peace of mind of clerks and other customers you should do your shopping by phone.

Band to Perform Saturday Night

Northville high school's Christmas season band concert to be given at the high school auditorium at 8 p.m. Saturday is being planned as a memorial concert to the late E. C. Langfield, one of the founders of the band.

In dedicating the first public concert of the 1965-66 season as a Langfield memorial the band is repeating a similar tribute given a few years ago. It now is planned that the band's winter concert will be an annual tribute to Langfield in recognition of his interest and support. Robert Williams, conductor, announced this week.

Langfield's son, C. E. Langfield, of 501 Fairbrook, has continued the family tradition of interest in the high school band by supplying $5,000 for uniforms the band members have been wearing for the past five years.

Williams will turn over his baton for a portion of the concert to guest conductor Richard Saunders, director of the Stevenson high school band in Livonia.

The Northville stage band, known for its jazz arrangements, will conclude the concert, presenting "Granada," "Tico, Ti-co" and two other swing numbers.

The concert will include selections by Rimsky-Korsakov, Debussy, and Holst as well as several more recent compositions, including the "Wizard of Oz."

Band members are inviting the audience to remain for a reception after the concert. Refreshments in the cafeteria will be supplied by the members.

The first Langfield memorial concert was given after the band members received their new uniforms. Tickets for Saturday's concert are available from any band member at $1.00 for adults and 50 cents for students.

CHRIST, THE DOOR

John 10:9
"I am the door; by me, if any man enter in he shall be saved and go in and out and find pasture."

Jesus was simple in His preaching. He made the plan of salvation simple. Everybody knows what a door is. It is the place of entrance, also of exit. He is the door into everlasting life and if men will repent, believe and profess Him, he shall be saved. HE IS THE ORIGINAL DOOR—THAT IS THE SAVIOUR FROM ALL ETERNITY.

(a) He is the door through which the God-head is expressed in eternity. "In the beginning, John 1:1. 'In eternity was the Word.' He expressed God in eternity, before the world was made—before time.

(b) He is the door through which God made the world, "by Him were all things made," John 1:3. By Him all things came to be. It took the creator to be the Saviour. If He were not God, He could not save us, or be the re-creator.

(c) He is the door through which God entered into human flesh. "The Word was made flesh and dwelt among us and we beheld His glory, the glory of the only begotten of the Father." God could not die, so He became man, took upon Himself our weakness and our flesh so that He could die for us! WHAT A WONDERFUL LOVE HE HAD!

(d) He is the door through which God holds all things together. Col. 1:17 — "By Him all things consist or hold together." If He were to take His hand from this universe one second, it would blow to pieces. We couldn't live a split second. Yes, He is the "original door" of all life.

HE IS THE OPEN DOOR — HOW DID HE OPEN THE DOOR? John 1:17-18...

(a) In His death on Calvary, He opened Old Testament. If He had not died, Old Testament would have no meaning. He fulfilled all scriptures.

(b) In His death He opened the heart of God and let us see how much He loved us. John 3:16.

(c) In His death He opened the grave. In His resurrection He conquered death, hell and the grave for us.

the only Saviour. Not church membership, not good works. Eph. 2:8-9, Acts 4:12.

(d) When He died, "the veil of the temple was opened." Therefore, the way was opened for everyone of us to go for himself into the presence of God and there find life. Matt. 27:51. Yes, He is not only the door, but the way, the Truth and life.

HE IS THE ONLY DOOR

(a) We are not saved through formality, but by a personality — JESUS CHRIST. A girl 22 years old who had been a member of the church ten years and a member of all the young people's organizations, was on her death bed and she called for her pastor and said, "I am lost." He led her to Christ a few minutes before she passed away. To be saved is to become acquainted with Jesus, to know Him in forgiveness of sin.

(b) Jesus alone saves. He is the only Door, the only name,

Snowfall

It snowed yesterday and when it stopped, I walked along the creek in a world of frosty splendor. The woods were hushed in majestic stillness, and I tread softly. A jay screeched overhead, and bending trees shivered stealthily, with squeaking, ice-coated branches. The falls at the curve of the creek stood immobilized with hoarfrost and icicles, but bending near I heard soft and surely the murmur of the moving creek beneath the icebound surface.

It came to me, how like that creek, my faith has been. At times this faith has been covered by rimes of doubt and selfishness. Often it has been embittered by anguish and despair. But always under that glacial exterior there coursed a stream of consciousness that knew no turning from God—and the things I had been taught from childhood.

How glad I am my parents took me to church and brought me up with such a sure knowledge of God's love that it sustained me even when I tried to turn from His ways.

Pat Reynolds admits she was wrong!

(She was sure electric dryers were more expensive.
Then we showed her these money-saving facts.)

- 1 Gas dryers cost a couple of pennies less per load to operate; we'd be the first to admit it. But with electric dryers you still come out ahead. Read on.
- 2 Electric dryers cost less to buy. Model for model, prices run about $20 to $40 lower than gas dryers.
- 3 And now, for a limited time, this lower price includes installation and wiring, if needed, when you buy from one of the many dealers participating in this special sales event.
- 4 Electric dryers cost nothing for electrical repairs or labor. Gas dryers? Well, you can get a manufacturer's repair service policy—but it will cost you up to $120 over the first five years of operation alone. Of course, if your dryer is electric, Edison comes out, repairs electric operating parts, and leaves without leaving you a bill! (It's the only no-charge dryer repair service offered by a utility company in this area.)

Add up ALL the costs and you'll see what Pat Reynolds saw — electric dryers actually cost less to own.

1. All these comforts are available: steering wheels that tilt or tilt and telescope; AM/FM Multiplex Stereo radio, first ever offered in cars; and Strato-bucket seats (to give you just a sampling).
2. Comforton automatic heating and cooling you can order—Just dial the temperature and turn it on; Comforton automatically keeps you comfortable no matter what the weather outside.
3. More engine choices—the widest horsepower range available: the 425-hp Turbo-Jet V8 in Chevrolet and Corvette to a 90-hp Four in Chevy II.
4. Body by Fisher—Craftsmanship by the world's best known coachmakers with everything from luxurious interiors to the long luster Magic-Mirror acrylic lacquer finish.
5. Self-cleaning rocker panels flush out salt and other corrosives with rainwater, dry themselves with outside air—another way Chevrolet takes extra care so you needn't bother.
6. A hushed and gentled ride with body mounts designed to isolate vibration better and shock absorbers matched to body style—coupe, sedan, convertible, wagon.
7. America's only rear-engined car, Corvair, with more weight over the driving wheels where you need it and less on the steering wheels where you don't.
8. America's only true sports car, Corvette, with fully independent suspension, four-wheel disc brakes and engines you can order up to 427 cubic inches.
9. Higher resale value—Chevrolets traditionally are worth more at trade-in time because more people want Chevrolets... new or used.
10. All these safety features standard now: seat belts, front and rear; padded dash and sun visors, outside mirror (use it always before passing); shatter-resistant inside mirror, 2-speed electric windshield wipers for better visibility in a downpour; windshield washers, back-up lights.

ONE YEAR AGO

The Novi Village council voted unanimously Monday to pass an ordinance to purchase the Willowbrook subdivision water system. The council instructed attorney Howard Bond to draw up the purchase agreement. The system will make it possible for the village to bring water to the village from Detroit at a cost of $210,000. Finances for the project will come from a revenue bond issue and from local water fees.

Preliminary plans for the Campus Center at Schoolcraft College were approved by the board of trustees at the December 2 meeting. Construction of the building will start in March. The facility will house a cafeteria, lounges for the students and a bookstore. Plans also include student activity offices and a study area.

Fire departments from Northville and Novi were unable to extinguish the December 6 blaze which destroyed a home that had been a landmark for over 100 years at Haggerty and Nine Mile roads. The loss of the two story home, owned by Mrs. Eda Clark, was estimated at $40,000.

The old spring on Northville road will be decorated with the usual pine boughs and lights by Roy Stone and his committee of Rotarians, who are decorating the town for Christmas. A huge tree, donated by the village, has been erected out of doors.

Can't Hide from Taxes in Other States

LANESING - Greener pastures do not always lie in the other farmer's field, notes Robert E. Smith with authority.

Smith is the associate legislative counsel for the Michigan Farm Bureau, which regularly keeps its members informed of government matters of interest.

"We as citizens of a county or state such as Michigan often think that we are the only ones plagued with constantly increasing taxes or with governmental fiscal problems," relates Smith.

THE FALLACY in this thinking was brought to Smith's attention by the Michigan Revenue Department, frequently the brunt of verbal blows from the citizenry.

Officials report that nearly two-thirds of the 50 states either adopted new state taxes or increased existing tax rates this year.

Tobacco taxation was increased in 22 states; nine states raised gasoline taxes; sales and use tax changes were enacted in eight states, and two states passed new sales levies. Income tax boosts were passed in nine states and six instances of hiked alcoholic beverage taxes were recorded.

INCOME TAX ACTIVITY, of course, has been of serious concern to Michigan residents in recent years because of legislative consideration of this method of taxation.

The Revenue Department notes that 36 states now have individual state income taxes. Some 24 of these also have a sales tax in effect.

One state enacted an income tax this year, but the Nebraska law is "presently subject to further action" at this time, reports the state department.

MICHIGAN may be arriving at a point where the legislature cannot reasonably enact a state income tax, the Department statistics indicate.

In other states, such as Ohio, the lawmaking bodies have learned that a statewide income tax levy is impractical when many cities use this form of revenue raising. In Ohio about 100 cities have an income tax.

Presently in Michigan, the cities of Detroit, Flint and Hamtramck have collected income taxes. The cities of Warren and Highland Park expect to collect on personal income next year, barring any public referendum. Saginaw also has been authorized to collect an income tax.

Several other cities are considering this form of taxation. The legislature may find itself pre-empted from this form by its own lack of action if other large cities follow suit.

LONG AN ADVOCATE of the liberal school of correction methods, State Corrections Director Gus Harrison will start a new program next year to help prison inmates adjust more quickly to normal life after release.

Harrison recently announced a plan whereby model prisoners in all state institutions under his jurisdiction might be allowed the opportunity to be part-time members of society.

The plan calls initially for placing a small group of model prisoners who are near the end of their terms in jobs on the outside during the day.

EMPHASIS IN HARRISON'S announcement of the program was on the fact that these would be model prisoners, only those men believed to be good social risks.

"Any inmate who has not established a good institutional record or who has a poor attitude, or is deviated in any way will not be considered," he said.

This, no doubt, is designed to assure members of communities near prison institutions that there will be no danger to them or their families caused by the day-work plan.

In order to be effective, of course, Harrison also must find employers with jobs available close to the various institutions who are willing to start the model prisoners on the road back to responsible living. The emphasis on the type of men to be used in the program should not be lost to the businessmen experiencing labor shortages.

Mass Transit Aided

BABSON PARK, Mass. - In recent months, U.S. transportation policy has swung sharply toward mass transit. This will pit trains and buses more directly in competition with road and air travel. Let's take a look at what is happening and see how it is likely to affect us.

Pushed by the Administration, whose Great Society planners are very much sold on mass transit - and appalled by the high cost of land takings for the huge federally sponsored highway program - Congress has appropriated $90 million for a Boston-New York-Washington high-speed rail line and has authorized the building of a subway in the nation's capital.

But this is by no means all that Congress has done in this field. Your Senators and Representatives have also authorized establishment of the new post of Undersecretary for Transportation in the Commerce Department. And they have enacted laws setting up a Department of Housing and Urban Renewal and promoting public works and economic development. Under the liberal provisions of these two laws, a very great deal of federal money could well be channeled into the development of a larger and more efficient mass transit complex in the years to come.

Biggest beneficiaries of this new emphasis on mass transit will be city and regional rail and bus lines. Already some of these lines have received federal grants for specific projects under urban renewal and other laws. The measures passed by Congress this year will make it easier for more local transit lines to apply for and receive government aid. This will make possible expansions of transit facilities which could not be accomplished otherwise.

As city and regional transportation plans progress, the idea of transit authorities - similar to those now operating in New York City and some other metropolitan areas - will spread. These authorities which are autonomous or semi-autonomous - that is, largely free of local political interference - will take over more and more of the commuter business once operated by the railroads. In so doing, many of them have already bought - and paid very good prices for - railroad rights of way and trackage. This trend will continue. It will help railroads, to a degree.

Except in the cases of the Pennsylvania and New Haven lines, which will benefit in some measure as progress is made toward shortening the running time between Boston-New York-Washington, the rails will not immediately gain. In the beginning, only small amounts of federal money will find their way into railroad coffers. And they will still be hampered by the unfair and archaic controls imposed by the Interstate Commerce Commission.

But over the longer pull, the transportation legislation passed this year by Congress may prove to be a big boost for the rail carriers. These laws will speed the day when railroads will be entirely relieved of the problems - and the losses - stemming from operating short-haul commuter runs. And if the Boston-New York-Washington high-speed line becomes a reality, perhaps railroads can restore a profitable intermediate-haul passenger busness while at the same time increasing their freight tonnage. This could be the beginning of a real "break" for the rail carriers.

Of course, auto manufacturers, airplane manufacturers, and airlines are upset by Uncle Sam's new interest in mass transit. They will not take it lying down, but will strive to make cars and passenger planes more comfortable, convenient, and safe.

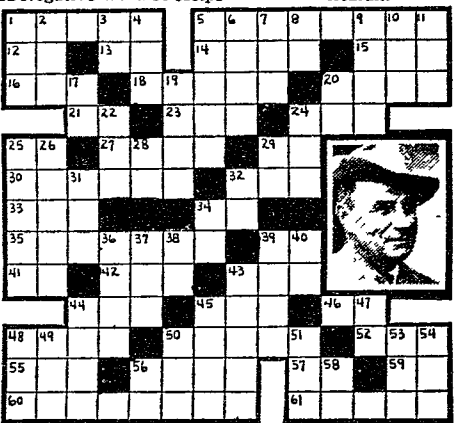

Perhaps some system of carrying autos - with drivers and passengers - piggyback over long distances will be devised to curb highway congestion. Most certainly, vertical-rise planes will be developed to ease airport congestion. The one sure thing is: All this will cost a lot of money - much of which will be tax money.

SPEAKING for The Record

By BILL SLIGER

There's a hard and fast rule I adopted a long time ago — never publish poems.

So Judy Barry, our girl reporter at The South Lyon Herald, called me to say she had received a letter-to-the-editor with a couple of poems. She thought I ought to look at them.

Judy's new with us, so I thought I'd better play along. Letters-to-the-editor I like; but poems, never.

The letter appears on this page. The poems replace my column this week.

Maybe it's the season; maybe the old rules need re-evaluation; maybe these poems and the letter are about the most impressive ever received here.

At any rate I hope you'll take time to read the adjoining letter and following poems and judge for yourself.

Mrs. Keating, who incidentally lives between Northville and South Lyon, wrote the first of the two poems below on behalf of her two-year-old son to the Goodfellows.

TO THE GOODFELLOWS:

At Christmastime
I thank You God
For trees that dance & glow
And add their many Colored lights
To brightly sparkling snow.

At Christmastime,
I thank You God
For hearts
That love the stronger,
And for hands
That pick me up
And play with me the longer.

At Christmastime
I thank You God,
For JESUS
In the Manger ---
Oh yes, and also
For the shoes
You gave me
Through a stranger!
By Kathryn Vivian Keating

CHRISTMAS IS ---

Christmas is my little boy
Anticipating worlds of joy
And all the lovely things to do
When one is small, and "almost TWO".

Christmas is a fireplace show
With stockings hanging in a row
Beyond a baby's eager grasp ---
(Except for one he's holding fast!)

Christmas is a Story-Land
Ruled over by an Elfin hand,
Whose leader wears a suit of red
And rides the sky with Reindeer Sled.

Christmas is an "I don't see
HOW Santa gets down here to me
Through chimney hole so black and small
When he's so fat with toys so tall!"

Christmas is a world of love
Made possible by God above
Who gave His Own Beloved One ---
Himself a babe, like my small son.

Christmas is a hurried pace
With cold snow dancing in your face,
And tales of Shepherds, Kings and Sheep
Who watch a baby, fast asleep.

Christmas is a feeling warm,
A respite from a world of storm;
Christmas is ----- today, as then
A little, baby boy again!

What Happened To Water Study?

Dear Editor:

I am wondering why the city council, after having spent the taxpayers' money for an engineering study on our water system, has not made a decision.

Evidently it must be that the recommendations of the study and what really should be done is felt to be not a popular feeling.

I'm sure the average person would not consider going to a doctor and then ignore his recommended treatment. Nor do I believe that the average citizen is in a position to make a decision on the water issue for they surely don't have all the facts to make a good decision.

I feel too often representatives of the people are too often interested in being re-elected rather than in doing what is best for the people, even though it might be unpopular.

Mother Appeals For Home Work

To the Editor:

With the Christmas Season now in view I wanted to send you two items which I wrote last Christmas — The small poem in the little card was written in an effort to thank the GOODFELLOWS who so kindly provided a new pair of shoes for my little boy, as I was out of work at the time.

The other poem in the larger card was for our friends. Perhaps you would like to use either or both of these in your Christmas Edition layout of the paper. If so, you are welcome to them. I ask only that you protect my authorship.

Since last Christmas, my son has become ill with leukemia and as he becomes worse, I am trying to find enough odd jobs to do in the home to meet my financial obligations. Since I lost my husband before Michael was born — we are having a struggle. A friend has taken us into her home and I am trying to carry my part of the home expenses and am wondering if you know of any local merchants for whom I might do home typing or hand addressing — any kind of secretarial work, child care or ironing.

I advertised for work but received no answers in response to my ad and cannot afford to run it again — I felt with your contacts as Editor you might be more familiar with the needs of the local merchants. I work nights at Plymouth Secretarial Service.

We have just moved to the community and not knowing anyone, I know of no one to whom I might turn except yourself, as Editor of the local paper. I will be so very grateful for any help you could direct me to as I have been told I cannot depend upon my present salary much longer than January due to Michael's illness. I trust in return for your kindness to us, the enclosed poems will be of use to you. I have others for other holidays should you ever wish them.

Sincerely,
Kathryn Vivian Keating
