

It's Mothers' March Time

Every area home can expect a visit from a Marching Mother.

The 1966 Mothers' March on Birth Defects for the March of Dimes campaign gets underway in Northville today. Ladies will be canvassing door to door in their respective neighborhoods during the next six days, calling a halt at 8 p.m. Tuesday, February 1.

In Novi a three-day March will be staged, Sunday, January 30 through Tuesday, February 1.

Mrs. Hiram Pacific, Northville city and township Mothers' March chairman, reports that she has about 85 enthusiastic volunteers including 23 area captains. Their territory includes the City of Northville, Northville township, Connamara Hills subdivision of Novi and some bordering area of Plymouth township.

Over $1,500 was collected last year. Novi co-chairman Mrs. Bernard Marchetti reports that more volunteers are needed to assist in the 32-square mile area or that campaign although about 100 are already involved counting 12 captains.

The Wixom campaign is being conducted in conjunction with the Walled Lake-Commerce area and thus has no local chairman.

This year the March of Dimes headquarters has extended the March for several days rather than a single day due to past campaigns having been frequently hampered by winter conditions.

Concentration on raising funds to combat birth defects, which strike one of every 15 babies born in the United States, is being made this year. Past campaigns in behalf of polio were so successful that that affliction has been effectively diminished.

In addition to the renown Mothers' March, other means of soliciting contributions include canisters and slot cards placed in business establishments.

SCHOOL SETS MAY 16 FOR MILLAGE HIKE VOTE

Board Election Follows in June

Northville school district voters will be asked to go to the polls three times this coming spring to vote on two millage requests (Schoolcraft community college and Northville school system) and to fill three board posts in the annual June election.

It was determined there would be three trips to the polls as the Northville board of education Monday night voted to hold separate elections for millage increases for operating expenses and to fill three board vacancies at the annual election June 13.

The millage election was slated for May 16.

Board members present (James F. Kipfer was the only member absent) voted unanimously to hold the two elections in order not to make the millage issue "a political football." They expressed the fear that possible candidates for two four-year and a one-year post might make the millage increase a campaign issue.

Questioned on the cost of an additional election by board member Eugene Cook, Elroy Ellison estimated it will run between $300 and $500 for each election. Schoolcraft community college has already announced it will be necessary to seek an additional quarter-mill operating monies in an election April 4.

Board secretary Donald B. Lawrence questioned Superintendent Alexander Nelson about estimates under way of the amount which will be needed for increased operating expenses from expansion, salary increases and for instituting new teaching methods. Nelson reported the figure will be available for board study shortly. ("Guessimates" run to 10 mills the superintendent indicated.) Lawrence repeated his earlier recommendation that citizen committees be activated to explain need for the additional monies and "to sell it." And the board is presently seeking volunteers for committees.

Turning to construction problems, the board sought the opinion of its attorney, James Littell, regarding necessity for a township building permit for the elementary school to be constructed on Eight Mile road, the first school to be constructed in the township by the district.

Littell said his feeling was that the township does not have the authority to require a building permit for construction of public schools. He based his opinion on the premise that the jurisdiction of education has been pre-empted by the state as local school districts now submit plans and building specifications to the state superintendent of public instruction and also to the fire marshal. Thus, Littell, said, state rights and inspections override any local ones. Littell advised the board to direct its architect to remove the contractor requirement that building permits be sought.

In giving the opinion Littell cited cases in Washtenaw circuit court (with the Ann Arbor school district) and in Kalamazoo township where the attorney general delivered verdicts in favor of the schools both times.

The question of permits arose as informal conversation between Ellison and township officials indicated that if the township issued permits a charge between $400 and $500 would be made.

It appeared Monday, however, that the question would not come up as the board decided to proceed without requesting local permits.

Nelson reported to the board that the district's application for participation in the National Defense Education Act has been approved on a $10,116 allocation with 49.9 per cent supplied by the NDEA. Largest amounts are allocated to science, history and reading fields.

Contracts for two new elementary principals were signed (story elsewhere). The board then voted to discuss teacher salary requests in private and adjourned to executive session.

Don Brown, Northville teachers' club president, confirmed Tuesday that the board "didn't move last year" on salaries and that the club feels Northville "is in poor shape competitively in terms of starting teacher salaries." He said the group would be seeking a starting salary with a preliminary figure of $6,200 being introduced. Brown pointed out the district is "near the bottom" among 20 suburbs studied in starting salaries. Competitively, he added, the district in upper level salaries is in the "bottom of the top third."

Brown said that 1966 seems to be destined to be the year of the "big push" salary-wise. The board originally scheduled an executive session to study salary proposals for next Monday night. Nelson said Tuesday, however, this will be postponed as the board has been asked to meet with the city council in the board offices to discuss possibility of extending city water lines to the new school.

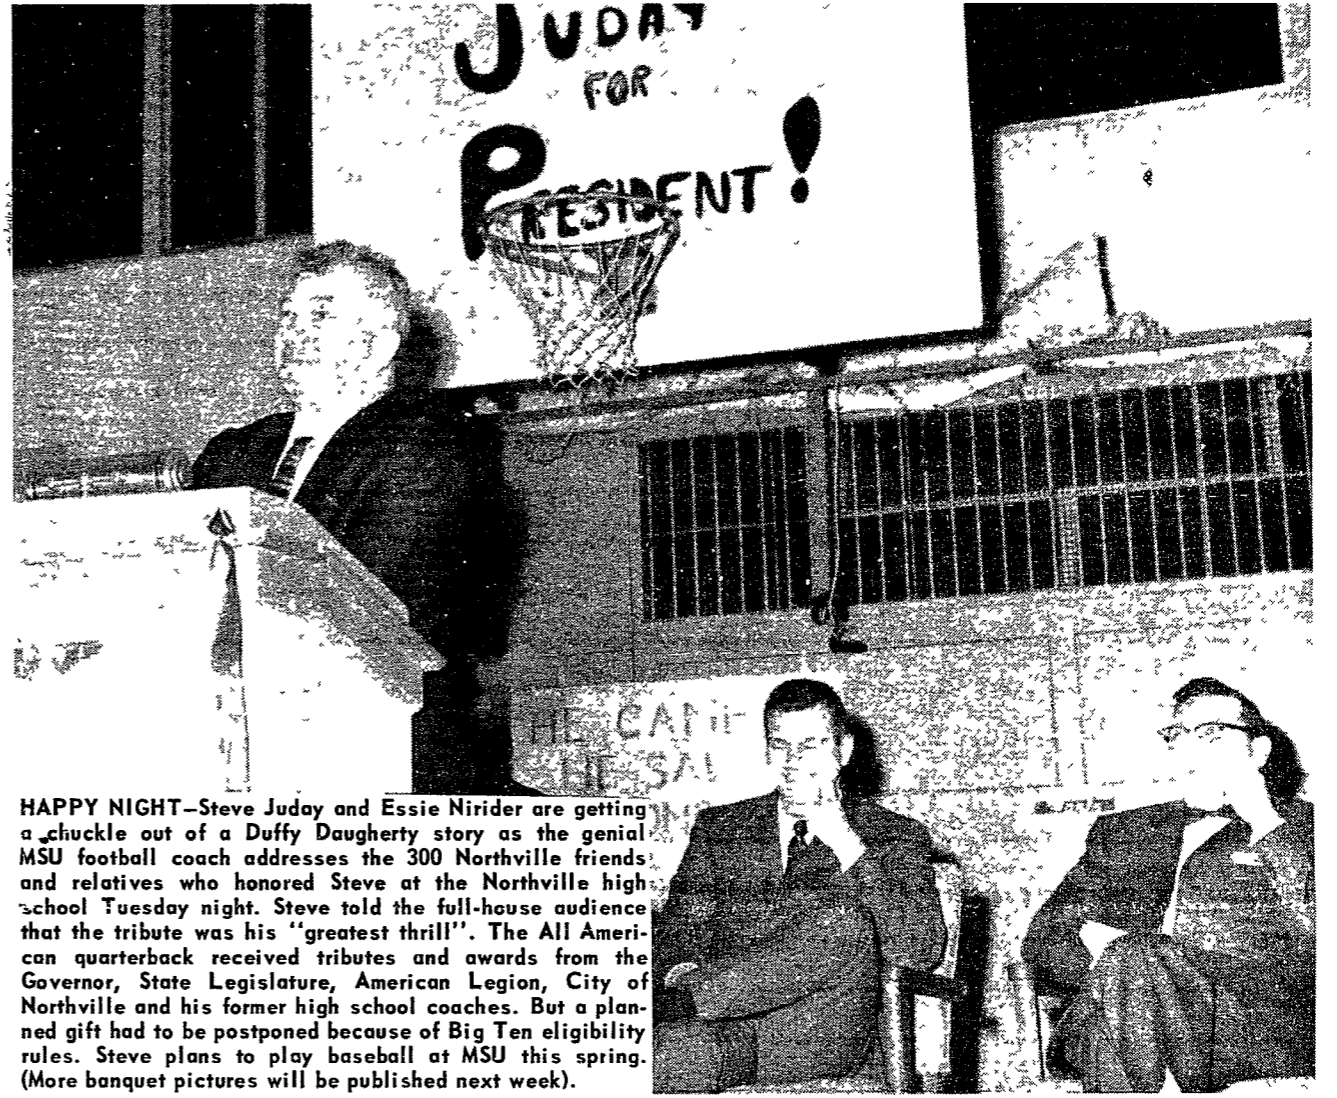

The board is scheduled to meet February 10 to open contractors' bids for the Eight Mile elementary school and will hold a regular session February 14. Nelson and Board President Wilfred Becker are scheduled to attend the national school administrators' convention in Atlantic City February 12-17.

the additional cost per light would be approximately $2.50 per month over present incandescent lights.

He said that the mercury vapor lamps provide twice the illumination.

While it was once estimated that the cost for pole and fixture replacement might be $1,600, Glass said there was a chance that this conversion charge would be dropped.

Councilman Black has already surveyed the business area and collected some pledges from businessmen to help offset the conversion cost. He had asked the council to consider the change and assume the higher monthly rate in the interest of a more brightly lighted community.

HAPPY NIGHT—Steve Juday and Essie Nirder are getting a chuckle out of a Duffy Daugherty story as the genial MSU football coach addresses the 300 Northville friends and relatives who honored Steve at the Northville high school Tuesday night. Steve told the full-house audience that the tribute was his "greatest thrill". The All American quarterback received tributes and awards from the Governor, State Legislature, American Legion, City of Northville and his former high school coaches. But a planned gift had to be postponed because of Big Ten eligibility rules. Steve plans to play baseball at MSU this spring. (More banquet pictures will be published next week.)

City Establishes Body For Master Plan Study

The city council took a step Monday night which has been long-awaited by the planning commission.

A resolution establishing a citizens advisory committee to aid in the study and promotion of the proposed comprehensive plan for the central business district was passed by the council Monday night.

No appointments have been made to the body, but the council indicated it has a list of 53 names under consideration.

The planning commission has urged the council to establish the citizens' committee so that its proposed master plan might proceed. Acceptance of the master plan "in principle" has already been given by the council, but a final recommended draft from the planning commission remains to be presented for council action.

The advisory committee would provide the machinery to set the proposed plan into action. It also meets one of the provisions set forth by the federal government to qualify for federal assistance if desired.

The resolution, as drafted by Councilman John Canterbury and unanimously approved by the council reads as follows:

Be it resolved that there is hereby established a Citizens' Advisory Committee. This Committee shall be appointed by, serve at the pleasure of, and be responsible to the Northville City Council. The primary purpose of the committee shall be to study, advise, and assist the City Council regarding the determination of community needs and the relative desirability, feasibility, and priority of various community improvement actions and programs. Primary functions of the Committee shall be the following:

(1) - To determine and/or assess and evaluate the determination of others regarding the nature and extent of deficiencies or areas where further improvement is desirable in the community. Such study areas are meant to include, but are not limited to, parks and recreation, long and short range over-all planning, capital improvement programs, health, senior citizen programs, central business district development, zoning, redevelopment programs, and inter-governmental relations.

(2) - To develop means and methods of remedying community deficiencies and/or to assess and evaluate the community improvement recommendations developed by others.

(3) - To help inform the public regarding community needs and proposed improvements.

Initially the Committee shall consist of 15 members for 1 year terms; however, the membership of the Committee may be increased from time to time dependent on the need and the recommendations of the Committee. All appointments shall be made by the City Council and members, insofar as possible, should be selected so as to be representative of all elements of the city.

The Citizens' Advisory Committee shall, as soon as practical after appointment, meet and organize by the election of one of their members as Chairman, and by election of such other officers as they may deem necessary. Meetings of the Committee will be held bi-monthly, and as often otherwise as may be deemed necessary by the Chairman. Minutes of proceedings of the Committee will be maintained, and copies will be transmitted to the Northville City Council.

In other business Monday night the council voted to pass along the county increase of one-half cent per thousand gallons of water used for sewage treatment to the customer. The council took the position that to absorb the cost would weaken the position of the city water department, which must pay for operation of the system from revenues.

Finally, the council directed the city engineer and acting manager to return next week with possible routes for a sewer line to serve the new development in the Taft road-Eight Mile area.

In bidding for greater joint community effort Canterbury proposed more frequent meetings between inter-governmental bodies and suggested that the city, township and school board should appoint representatives from their respective bodies to meet regularly and maintain closer liaison.

The project, if feasible, would require city, township and school board cooperation.

The city councilman said that he believed it should be known that the city's desire to provide the service are sincere and he called for a meeting with school officials to clarify the matter. (See story in column one of this

An appeal for improved communication between city, township and school was voiced Monday night by City Councilman John Canterbury.

The senior councilmember spoke out on the subject after it became apparent that efforts to work out a means of supplying the new Eight Mile road elementary school with city water

City-School Tackle Water Problem Again

At the invitation of the Northville city council, the council and Northville's board of education are meeting together next Monday night in the board offices to make another attempt at bringing city water to the new elementary school being built in the township on Eight Mile road.

The invitation came following a plea from John Canterbury, who was acting mayor in A. M. Allen's absence at council meeting Monday night. He told fellow councilmembers that the city should do everything possible to aid the district in supplying water to the school.

At the same time the board, meeting in offices across the street, had given up all hope of bringing water to the site and authorized Superintendent Alexander Nelson to sign the low-bid contract with O. O. Corsaut company of Oak Park to drill a well at a cost of $2,630.

Polling board members Tuesday morning, Nelson received an okay to hold up the awarding of the contract pending negotiations with the city. He also obtained approval from the firm to hold the bid.

Previously, the board had understood that it would be impossible to bring Northville water beyond the city limits and that the township did not look favorably on allowing the 10-acre site being joined to the city.

Board member Eugene Cook expressed a desire to see if it were at all possible to have the site brought into the city for reasons other than water. He felt the school should have local police protection and, with a water supply, better fire and insurance coverage.

(For The Record's opinion, see page 8B).

New Lights Eyed In Business Area

Northville may brighten up its business district.

After listening to a presentation by a representative of the Detroit Edison company Monday night the council named Councilmen Del Black and Fred Kester to study the proposal and make a recommendation back to the council.

The Edison representative, Kenneth Glass, told councilmembers that 400-watt mercury vapor lights provide the most desirable lighting for business areas and have been installed in many communities.

An earlier proposal once considered by the council had called for replacement of 24 street lights in the business district. Although rates are currently being revised, Glass estimated that

Women Schedule Shape Up Drills

First "shape up" evening of calisthenics and volley ball for area women is scheduled from 8 to 10 p.m. Monday, February 7, in the junior high girls' gymnasium, Mrs. Eugene Guido announced this week.

She reported an "enthusiastic response" to a request last week asking if area women would be interested in a weekly session to help build muscle tone and perhaps lose a few holiday-acquired pounds. The program is planned, she said, with the cooperation of Kenneth Conley of the Northville recreation association.

With about 40 inquiries received last week, Mrs. Guido hopes to have at least 30 appear February 7. She stresses that there still are openings in the group and anyone interested should call her at 349-2039. Possibility of an additional class to work out on Tuesday nights also is being explored, she added, as a dozen inquiries had been received for that evening.

An hour of directed calisthenics is planned for each session to be followed by volley ball play. Mrs. Guido said the charge will be nominal, probably about 50 cents a session, if as many as anticipated show up.

Captain Richard K. Somers spent two days last week with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Richard Somers, 18900 Valencia road. Captain Somers is a flight instructor at Moody Air Force base, Valdosta, Georgia.

In Our Town

By Jean Day

TWO MOVIES are being brought to Northville by local groups which are inviting the entire community to be guests at the special presentations.

"The Morgan Horse" will be presented by the Double N Riders, a 4-H group under the leadership of Mrs. G. R. Whitefield, at 8 p.m. Tuesday, February 15, in the lunch room of the junior high boys' gymnasium. Then, on April 11, Alpha Nu chapter of the Delta Kappa Gamma Society International, will bring "The Lady from Philadelphia," the story of Marian Anderson's trip to the Near East, to the Northville high school auditorium.

SINCE NORTHVILLE is a horse-minded community with several Morgan horse farms, the 4-H group decided to open the program to anyone interested. It will follow the Double N Riders' monthly meeting, "The Morgan Horse," produced by the National Morgan club is narrated by James Cagney, who has a Morgan horse ranch. It has been shown on special TV sports channel 50.

Walter Kane of South Lyon, regional vice-president of the National Morgan Horse club, will introduce the presentation. It was filmed in various areas of the country with the camera ranging from New England to California. In the film are scenes of Northville's Woods and Water farm with owner Eddie Earehart and his stallion, Billy-B-Geddes. The horse died in 1963, shortly after being photographed, but the Eareharts presently have five Morgan horses on their farm. Some of the local 4-H members also have Morgan horses. The late Gerald Taft, who ran Springbrook farm of Morgan horses on Eight Mile road before his death, served as a national president of the Morgan horse club.

MARIAN ANDERSON'S trip to the near East, described in "The Lady from Philadelphia," was made as a representative of the U. S. State Department. Feeling that it was worthy of being viewed by the entire community, Alpha Nu chapter decided to bring the movie here at 8 p.m. Monday, April 11, in the high school auditorium. All future teachers and local club groups are especially invited. Co-chairmen for the event are Miss Ruth M. Knapp and Mrs. Myrtle Funk.

"It is a wonderful movie," reports Miss Knapp, who made efforts to bring it to our town after seeing it in Detroit. Both movies are being shown without charge.

MRS. H. A. BOYDEN, president of the Northville Senior Citizens, reports to us that word has reached here, belatedly, of the death of a former resident, Mrs. Harold Turner, in Riverside, California, last April due to a coronary attack. She had been making her home with her daughter, Mrs. George Michalka, and her family, her husband having died some years earlier.

Mrs. Turner, Mrs. Boyden relates, was a member of the Barnum family who lived on Rayson street and was graduated from Northville schools. Her husband was the son of Dr. and Mrs. Thomas Turner, Dr. Turner having been a well known Northville physician. In addition to her daughter, Mrs. Turner left six grandchildren.

SCENES OF NORTHVILLE on note-size stationery are available as one of the fund-raising activities of Northville Mothers club. Assorted boxes with 30 notes and envelopes have scenes of the old library, the spring, Parmenter's cider mill and a horse-and-sulky at Northville Downs. Mrs. Carl Stephens, club president, reports the stationery can be purchased from any club member.

Two Local Couples Join Flying Country Club

Members of a unique new club, including two Novi members, recently returned from a Florida weekend aboard their own privately owned DC-7 airliner.

Members from this area, who participated in the maiden flight of the Nomad club (New Year's weekend in Ft. Lauderdale), are: Mr. and Mrs. Jeff Schoof, 23717 West LeBost Drive, and Mr. and Mrs. Harold Searfoss, 23971 West LeBost drive, all of Novi.

Based in Detroit, Nomads has members from all parts of Michigan, Ohio and Illinois. Sole purpose of the club is adventuresome travel — and its members fly for as little as one-third to one half commercial air fare (typical round-trip cost Detroit-Acapulco $90).

One of several such clubs springing up around the country, Nomads has been called a "flying country club". The aircraft has been purchased from commercial airlines which have been phasing out the "young" DC-7s in favor of jets.

CORNER

NEW RESIDENTS—North Center street is the new home of the Edward Stephens, who moved here from Garden City.

Mr. and Mrs. Edward Stephens and Butch, their Persian cat, are Northville's new residents at 872 North Center. The Stephens moved here from Garden City several months ago. They rented their present home until December when they purchased it.

That purchase means staying in Northville for a long time -- and they are both glad. Mrs. Stephens says, "We like it here real well. We've been wanting to move here for a long time." Their dream now is to buy a lot in Northville and build their own "bigger house." Alma Stephens is a graduate of Bentley high school in Livonia, while her husband is a graduate of Thurston high school in Detroit. He works as a journeyman plumber. In his spare time he enjoys photography.

Merritt Meaker Chosen For Claude Ely Award

The Claude N. Ely Memorial Fund Committee has selected Merritt F. Meaker as recipient of the Ely Award for 1965. He was a teacher of Social Sciences in Northville high school from 1943 until his retirement in June, 1965. The award will be presented by Mayor Malcolm Allen during the PTA Founders' Day program February 2 at the high school.

The Ely Memorial Award is made annually to a local citizen who has, in the estimation of the committee, made a significant contribution toward community consciousness of the responsibilities of citizenship. The committee feels that Meaker, who taught Government to the young people of Northville for a period of 22 years, has indeed fulfilled this qualification.

Meaker received his B.A. degree from Illinois Wesleyan University, and his M.A. from the University of Michigan. Before coming to Northville the Meakers lived in Syracuse, New York, where he taught Social Science for many years in the Syracuse high school. They have two children: Helen, who is a Registered Nurse and who is currently enrolled at Scarritt College for Christian Workers, Nashville, Tennessee, where she is studying to be a Deaconess; and Merritt F., Jr., who is a high school teacher in Wayne, Michigan.

Mr. and Mrs. Meaker make their home at 45801 West Seven Mile road, Northville, but are spending the winter months in Florida. It is expected that Merritt F. Meaker, Jr., of Dearborn, will accept the award in his father's behalf.

PTA to Sponsor Schoolcraft Tour

Northville high school PTA is sponsoring an open house tour of Schoolcraft community college for all Northville residents at 8 p.m. Thursday, February 10.

PTA members and all interested area residents are asked to meet in the college library promptly at 8 p.m. to tour all facilities of the community college. They will view evening classes in session. Preceding the tour an explanation of the college program will be given.

In announcing the tour Fred Stefanski, high school principal, stressed that the PTA has planned the event to familiarize the community with the college facilities and purposes. This is one of three PTA meetings scheduled by the high school for the year.

Good Turn Out For Story Hour

Mrs. Robert Flattery, Novilibrarian, reports an enthusiastic response to the library's first pre-school story hour held January 19. Nineteen "eager little children" attended, she said, and each checked out a book afterward.

With the help of volunteers the story hour will be held at 2 p.m. each Wednesday. After hearing stories, children will be invited to draw pictures and explore library book shelves. This week the youngsters were to hear a talk by Mrs. Flattery on what a library contains and how to care for the books they take home.

Plan Meetings On Baby Feeding

A series of four monthly meetings on "The Womanly Art of Breastfeeding" will be open to Northville, Novi, Plymouth and Farmington women beginning next month.

The meetings are to be held in homes on the third Thursday of the month, according to area La Leche League organizer, Mrs. Wilford Schaldenbrand.

Meeting dates and topics will be February 17, "Advantages of Breastfeeding to Mother and Baby;" March 17, "Art of Breastfeeding and Overcoming Difficulties;" April 21, "The Baby Arrives and Family in Relation to the Breastfed Baby;" May 19, "Nutrition and Weaning."

Anyone interested in attending is asked to call Mrs. Schaldenbrand, 476-4985. Mrs. Schaldenbrand reports she attended meetings in Detroit and Livonia and instituted one series in this area previously. Membership in La Leche League includes a year's subscription to LLL News. Babies, Mrs. Schaldenbrand stresses, always are welcome at meetings with their mothers. La Leche, which literally means "the milk," she adds, has a loan library with books on nursing, mothering, childbirth and child care.

King's Daughters, Mizpah chapter, will meet at 2 p.m. Tuesday at the home of Mrs. Jennie Turnbull, 222 Fairbrook.

What's Cooking At High School

Following is the Northville high school cafeteria menu for the week beginning January 31 with hamburger-on-bun and French fries offered as an alternate main course choice each day:

Monday -- chili and crackers; or beef noodle soup, meat sandwich; both with relishes, prune-marble squares and whip cream, milk.
Tuesday -- hot dog on bun, German potato salad; or minestrone soup, meat sandwich; both with relishes, rainbow cake, milk.

Wednesday -- Goulash, rolls and butter; mushroom soup, meat sandwich; both with lettuce wedge, pears and cookie, milk.
Thursday -- fried chicken, mashed potatoes, gravy, buttered corn, rolls-butter; or split pea soup, meat sandwich, relishes; both with apple sauce, milk.

JC-OLV Hootenany Tonight

A record giveaway and a free round of refreshments are features of the hootenany being co-sponsored by the Northville Jaycees and Our Lady of Victory Catholic church from 8 to 11 p.m. today at OLV.

Admission for a nominal fee will include an entertaining evening with folk music recording artists "The Jaycee Three." Purpose of the hootenany, according to Jaycee spokesmen, is to promote benefit sales of "The Jaycee Three" recordings as proceeds of the Livonia Jaycee Trio's albums go to Michigan Emotionally Handicapped Society, a state-wide Jaycee project.

Free records, approximately one to every three admitted, will be given at the hootenany and the first round soft drinks and chips also will be without charge. The event is scheduled for a Thursday night as the Northville junior and senior high schools have no classes today or Friday.

Talk Slated Tonight On Ungraded School

"The Ungraded School" will be discussed by Dr. Marshall Jameson, coordinator of Waterford township's 26 elementary schools, at the Main Street elementary school PTA meeting at 8 p.m. today (January 27) in the junior high boys' gymnasium.

Dr. Jameson received his doctorate from Harvard university and has written several books on education, which have been widely read. He was a principal of an ungraded school in Grosse Pointe.

About the only thing a woman can't get on time these days is the kids when breakfast is ready.

Girls Open Cage Schedule

Leave it to the girls to whip up an exciting brand of basketball. They play a wide open game, primarily because regulations permit only three dribbles by any one girl. "This makes for a fast game," said Miss Pat Bubel, director of Northville's girls athletic program. "There's lots of passing and running."

Local fans will have ample opportunity to get a glimpse of girls' basketball, for the Northville varsity and junior varsity cagerettes will soon begin their eighth season of competition with other area high school teams. First opponent will be Livonia Bentley tomorrow at Livonia Bentley high school. Game time is 3:15.

Then in order the girls will play Clarenceville here February 2, Plymouth away February 11, Bloomfield Hills away February 16, Redford Union here February 23, Kingswood away March 4 and South Redford here March 9.

That's a rigorous schedule, but Miss Bubel has chosen the best girls from a bevy who turned out for two weeks of elimination practices - and they're set.

If they duplicate last year's records, they'll be proud as punch. The varsity posted a 5-3 record, the highlight being the first win registered by a Northville girls team over Bloomfield Hills.

And the junior varsity had even more success, going undefeated in six games. Most of this year's varsity is made up of last year's JVs. Only two veterans are returning to bolster the varsity.

Northville-Novi Courts

Penalties for fighting were exacted upon two men this week by Municipal Court Judge Charles McDonald.

A charge of fighting at the corner of Dunlap and Center streets on January 14 drew a fine of $32.50 for Clifford Carter of 168 E. Main street.

Two charges of fighting and one for speeding earned Harold Howell, 146 N. Center, 26 days in DeHoCo when he was unable to pay the fines totaling $118.50 on these charges.

Howell pleaded guilty to fighting at Gunsell's drugstore on January 17 and fighting at Joe's Little Bar on January 19. He was issued a violation by Northville police for speeding on S. Main street on January 4.

Michael Szarnowski of 44109 Stassen, Novi, pleaded guilty to being drunk and disorderly at Joe's Little Bar on January 19, and was fined $37.50.

A fine of $37.50 was levied on Kenneth Bingham after he pleaded guilty to the possession of alcoholic beverages at the Maybury Sanatorium on January 20.

Thomas Abbot of 504 S. Main street pleaded guilty to being a minor in the possession of beer on Northville road January 18, and was fined $32.50 by the court.

An additional 45 days was added to the sentence of Kyle Steele after he pleaded guilty to escaping from DeHoCo on November 25. James Williams was given an

In addition to these cases one case was dismissed and three were adjourned to future dates.

Two motorists found that driving on a revoked license does not pay in Novi - except to justice court coffers.

Justice of the Peace Robert Anderson Thursday issued fines to Howard Parris of Farmington and Alton Cowen of Detroit on this charge.

Parris was ordered to pay $55 for driving on a revoked license and was sentenced to two days in Oakland County jail. A violation for a defective muffler issued by Novi police on November 26, 1964 also brought Parris a fine of $5 he was given until Saturday, January 22 to pay the fines.

Driving on a revoked license and not meeting the state insurance requirements drew a fine of $40 for Cowen on a violation issued by Novi police on December 12 at Grand River and Taft roads.

William Dible of Dearborn pleaded guilty to a charge of reckless driving on I-96 and paid a $35 fine.

In the court of Novi Justice of the Peace Emery Jacques Thursday, Stephan Lacey of 47300 Twelve Mile road, Wixom who was charged with stealing hub caps from 26666 Novi road on January 5 was ordered to pay $50 and put on probation to the court for one year.

Mustangs Cling to W-O Loop Lead

This is clearly the year of the unpredictable in the Wayne-Oakland Conference. Last weekend's cage action is a case in point, and a very good one at that. Northville went into Friday's game with Holly tied with West Bloomfield for first place with a 5-1 record. Having beaten Holly once before this season, and with a decided height advantage, the Mustangs were favored. But they ran amuck, thanks to a six-minute scoreless period and hot foul shooting by Holly, and Holly came away the winner, 75-67.

West Bloomfield, however, was having difficulties of its own in handling Bloomfield Hills, an arch rival it had beaten earlier in the season. Bloomfield won handily, 64-54.

This gave Clarkston breathing room, and the Wolves slipped into a tie with Northville for first place with a 5-2 slate at the end of Friday's games. Before play was completed Saturday night, the standings were shaken once more, but not juggled.

Northville pinned the second defeat in a row on West Bloomfield, 60-43, to hang precariously to a piece of first place. And Clarkston barely eked out a 69-68 victory over Milford to match the Mustangs' stride.

So now it's Northville and Clarkston holding the top spot with 6-2 records, and just behind them are West Bloomfield (fading) and Bloomfield Hills (coming up fast), both 5-3. Holding tenaciously to a slim chance for the crown are Holly and Brighton who have 4-4 records.

"We'll take it game by game," said Coach Dave Longridge. "It will take a couple of breaks for us to win the title." He said that three losses would be good enough to win, and four could tie, a sage prediction in view of past proceedings on league courts. No team can sit comfortably in first place.

It's shaping up as that kind of a season, wherein too much complacency can spell quick disaster.

That was the problem Friday night at Holly. Northville exploded to take a comfortable 23-9 lead within the first minute of play in the second quarter, but the gods blew cold on the Mustangs.

Fired up, Holly picked Mustangs up all over the court and that old nemesis came back to haunt them. Holly scored 22 points before Northville got on the scoreboard again with just a minute and 15 seconds left in the half.

Although Coach Longridge's cagers didn't realize it, those six frigid moments provided the margin of defeat. Even more phenomenal than the local cagers' cold spell was Holly's uncanny accuracy at the "charity" line.

The Broncos converted 23 of 25 chances in the fourth period to beat back a Northville threat, and 31 of 46 during the night.

In its back court duo of Bill Taylor and Mark Phalen, Holly found a combination that was more than a match for the taller Mustangs. Standing under six-feet, they controlled the ball and the game and between them connected on 18 of 23 free throws. As Northville fought to within three points of the lead, Taylor and Phalen dribbled through, around, over and under the Mustangs who strung out helplessly in a mad attempt to get the ball. Northville could do nothing but foul.

Center Jerry Instand was Northville's prime threat, but he didn't get going until it was too late. At that he tallied 14 of his 24 points in the final period to keep Northville in contention. Guard John Jameson tallied 18

Northville jumped off to an unbelievably easy 18-9 lead by controlling the boards and shooting at a hot 50 percent clip (7 of 14). In fact, Northville had a 10-0 margin before Holly scored.

Everything read "runaway" when Northville scored quickly on baskets by Jameson and Guard Jerry Instand. Then Holly went wild by scoring 22 points in a row, and maintained the edge at halftime, 35-29.

Once again Northville came out fast, scoring twice to cut the margin to 35-32, and once again Holly surged back to keep a 50-43 lead at the end of the third quarter.

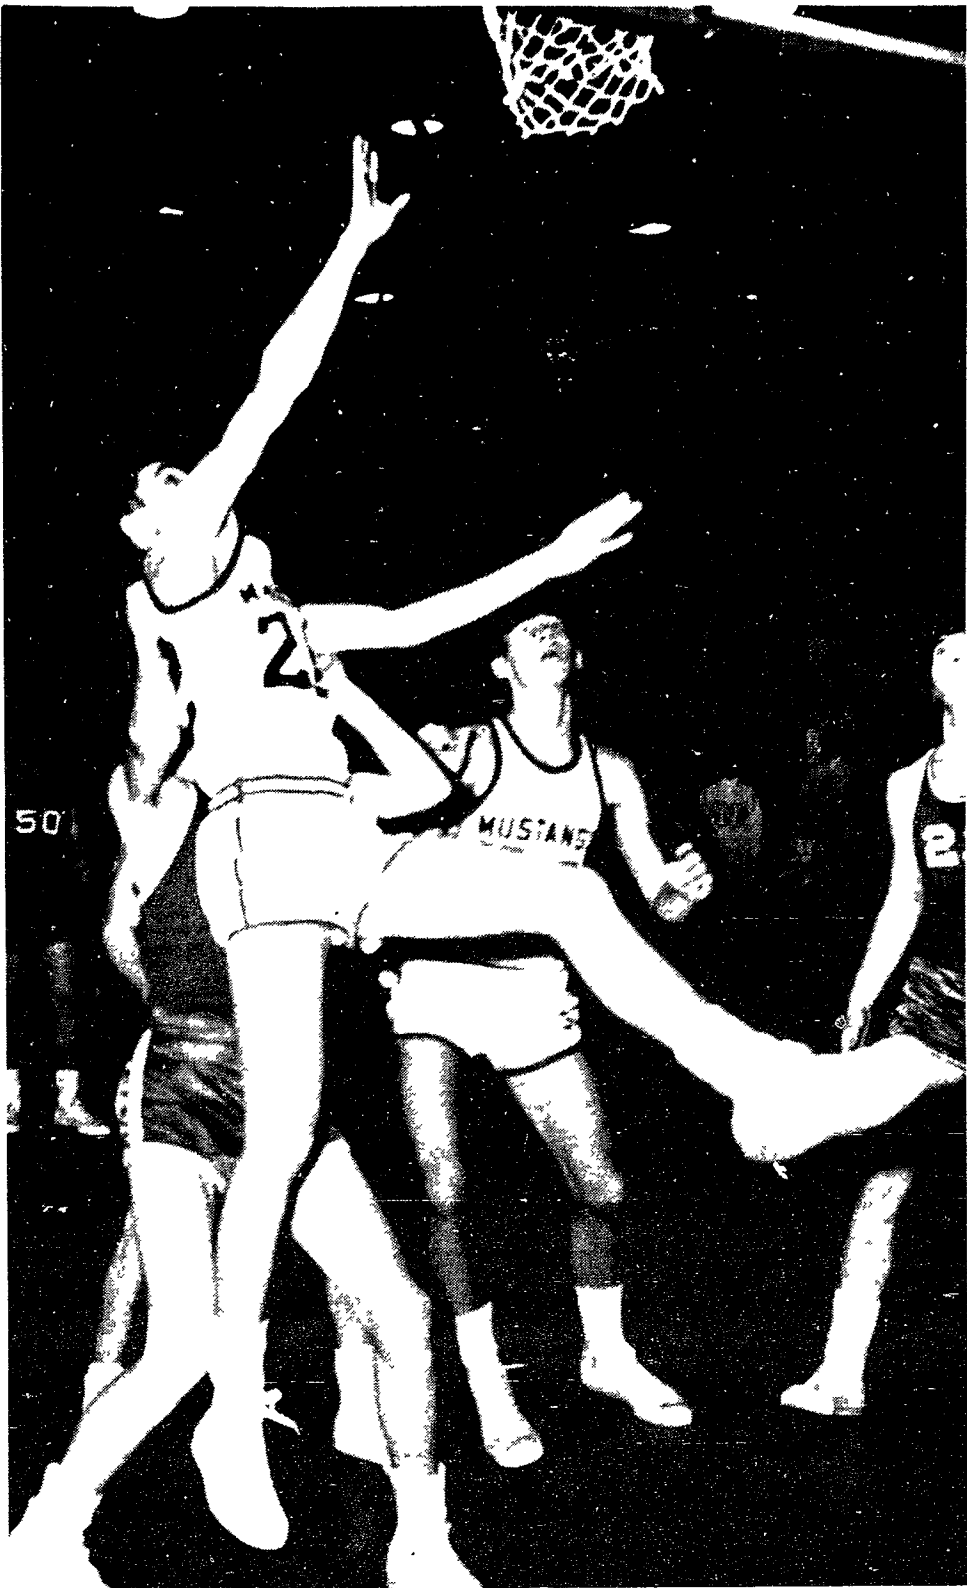

Northville resorted to the all-court press, scoring six to Holly's two to close the gap to 52-50. Momentarily befuddled, Holly regained its poise and turned back the Mustangs' last quarter threats.

Until the towering Mustangs wore visiting West Bloomfield down Saturday night, it looked like a repeat of the "David and Goliath" story of the night before.

Small West Bloomfield scrapped Northville to a standoff in the first half, with Northville barely holding to a 23-22 margin. Then Northville began to methodically pull away to a 44-33 lead at the end of the third period as Instand scored nine points.

Instand capped game scoring honors with 31 points, his biggest output of the season. Forward Steve Evans and Zayti chipped in with 10 apiece.

PUT YOUR LEFT LEG UP—Guard Jim Zayti dove under the basket and here he backs off, jumping high with leg extended to ward off defenders. In a split second he was hacked. He walked to the charity stripe and converted a free throw. Northville won 60-43.

Win Again, 59-37 Colts Unbeatable?

Who's going to beat the Northville junior varsity?

Unless the Colts have a sudden letdown, the conference team that can beat them simply isn't in sight. They've played every league opponent, and while some have been stubborn, all have succumbed.

Milford, a perennial JV powerhouse, pushed the Colts to the limit before falling, 77-63. That contest was played in the favorable atmosphere of Milford's home court; it doesn't seem likely that Milford will be stronger at Northville in the return visit.

Bloomfield Hills came closest to beating Coach Bob Kucher's charges on its home court. Northville, however, overcame a five point halftime deficit to win, 47-44, in what Kucher termed "Northville's worst game."

Last Saturday night the JV's added West Bloomfield to its list of defeated foes, 59-37, to make at least one victory over every W-O opponent.

Northville established its margin of victory early, taking a 27-9 lead at the end of the first quarter before West Bloomfield recovered from the Colts' harrying tactics.

Recover the visitors did, however, as they almost played the Colts on even terms the rest of the way. The margin by quarters was 13-10, 11-11 and 8-7, barely in favor of Northville. "We jumped off to a quick lead, then relaxed and played sloppy ball," Kucher declared. "We also committed many careless fouls."

Hampering the Colts' attack was the absence of Center Jim Peterson, who set out most of the game with four fouls. He scored 14 points in the first period, and finished the game without scoring another point.

Northville blitzed Holly without much trouble Friday night, winning, 70-28.

The Colts played their usual brand of ball, using snipping tactics all over the court to score unmolested with stolen balls. Northville outscored Holly by quarters, 14-9, 21-4, 23-5 and 12-10.

Twelve of 13 Colts who saw action tallied. Peterson led the field with 21 points, followed by Bob Hubbert with 14, Joe Andrews with eight and Randy Burnett with seven. Peterson grabbed 12 rebounds and Hubbert 14.

Clarenceville Here Tomorrow Night

Lowly Clarenceville will come to town tomorrow night. But don't let the Trojans' 1-7 league record fool you; they're far from patsies.

Northville can attest to that. The last time the Mustangs rode down eight mile road to meet their reportedly weaker foes from Livonia, Clarenceville almost pulled the first major upset of the young cage season.

It was a ragged game with both teams throwing the ball away on numerous occasions. Neither team could get rolling until Northville pulled away to a 49-41 lead in the fourth quarter.

Clarenceville wasn't conceding anything. The Trojans came back to close the margin to 58-55 with two seconds remaining. As the buzzer sounded, Guard Fred Neil let one fly from five feet in back of mid-court. The ball slammed through the net, and Northville gained a slim 58-57 victory.

It remains to be seen whether Northville has changed anything since that 1965 encounter. For sure, the Mustangs must take Clarenceville seriously.

In the first encounter, Clarenceville's top scorer, Chris Hawkins, sat out the whole ball game. With him, as the Trojans will be tomorrow night, they threaten to give the Mustangs another tussle.

Northville can claim only one excuse. Two of its top players, Mark Cushing and Steve Evans, were either succumbing to or just recovering from a touch of the flu.

Northville Signs New Principals

Contracts were signed this week by two new elementary principals for Amerman and the planned Eight Mile road school and the Northville board of education. Milton R. Jacobi, presently a Highland Park elementary principal, and Keith D. Berkeley, now principal of a North Dearborn Heights elementary school, will assume the Northville principalships for the second semester of the school year. Contracts cover a period of three-and-a-half years, expiring at the end of the second semester in June, 1969, with a $11,100 salary prorated for the remainder of the present school year and salary to be determined for the remaining years. Berkeley, 34, is slated to begin his principal duties at Amerman school Monday. Jacobi, who asked for time to conclude his present commitment, is expected to come to the system February 28. He is to be principal of the planned Eight Mile road school. Both men were approved by the board January 10.

Berkeley, who will replace Raymond Spear, now assistant superintendent, at Amerman, has a B.S. degree in education and a master's degree in elementary school education, both from Wayne State university. He presently is doing post-graduate work on curriculum construction. He taught and was a teaching principal in Port Huron before affiliating with the North Dearborn Heights system in 1962.

He is married and the father of three children. Jacobi, 31, is married with two children. He has his B.A. degree in elementary education from Michigan State university and his M.A. in elementary school administration from Eastern Michigan university and presently is enrolled in administration and supervision studies.

Prior to his appointment as Highland Park principal in 1964, Jacobi was an assistant principal in the system from 1963-4. From 1959-63 he taught 5th and 6th grades in the system. He also taught 6th grade in the Livonia school system in 1958-9. Other work experience includes camp counselor and recreation supervisor.

In announcing his appointment Spear pointed out that the administration was particularly pleased to have Jacobi at the new elementary school as he has had experience in ungraded school concepts, which are planned for the school.

Teen Dance To Feature The Corsairs

The Northville Teen Club, now known as The Cavern, will have its kickoff dance this Saturday, January 29, 8-11:30 p.m. in the Community building on Main street. Everyone from Freshman on up is being invited to attend and dance to The Corsairs. Members get a break on admission - and memberships will be sold at the door.

The Cavern (Teen Club) has been made possible through the efforts and support of the Mothers' Club. In order to have a relaxed atmosphere a chaperone will be present.

The Plymouth State Home will present a discussion of medical-psychological treatment of the young retarded child, as well as very recent and interesting MR Epidemiological findings today (Thursday), January 27 at 10 a.m.

Auto Plate Jam Up Predicted

An appeal to automobile owners to purchase their license plates as soon as possible was issued this week by Harold S. Hartley, manager of the Northville office of the secretary of state.

Hartley said that checking registrations takes twice as long this year as last because of the uninsured fund accounting. He pointed out that sales to date approximate those of last year, and that in the period from mid-January to March 1 last year some 3500 plates were sold.

"This means that some 2,000 persons in the area will not be able to get their plates before the March 1 deadline unless daily sales in the next three weeks reach about 100", Hartley stated.

He reminded auto owners that if they have a lien on their car their title is at the lienholder's office. Plates may be purchased with 1965 registrations. The title is not necessary for this purpose.

The Northville office is located at 116 East Main and is open daily from 9:30 a.m. until 5:30 p.m. and Saturdays from 9 a.m. until noon. On Fridays the office is open until 9 p.m.

Planner Resigns

The Northville city council accepted the resignation of Nelson C. Schrader from the planning commission Monday night.

A replacement will be considered after the council receives nominee recommendations from the planning commission.

Sisters Wield Winning Rackets

Two Novi sisters, Pat and Karen Ling, added to their badminton honors in the 17th annual open and novice tournament for youngsters 19 years old and under held by the Detroit Parks and Recreation department last Sunday in Patton Park. Fourteen-year-old Pat, who was a national titlist last year, defeated Pam Stockton of Flint, to win the singles division. She and Pam then teamed up to beat Pam's sisters, Polly and Penny, in doubles. Twelve-year-old Karen Ling and her partner, Bill Moosekian of Detroit, won the mixed doubles division.

Miller to Open New Car Wash

The purchase of the building at Main and Hutton streets by G. E. Miller, owner of the adjoining Dodge automobile agency, has been announced.

The business building, formerly a gasoline station, will be converted to a coin-operated car wash, Miller stated. He said that he hopes to open the new business next week.

The girls are daughters of Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Ling, 41380 Eight Mile road, Novi. They are part of a badminton-minded family with the parents also taking up rackets at Westwood club in Detroit. Originally the girls' father became interested in badminton five years ago in the Ford badminton club. Both parents now play "just for fun," Mrs. Ling says, leaving the laurels to Pat and Karen. The girls are Novi junior high students.

Pat presently is a national champion in the under-14 division, having won single, girls' double and mixed double events.

She will be competing at the National Badminton tournament in Philadelphia March 23-26 in the under-16 age division. Her sister also will be entering the tourney. Both girls plan to play in the Midwest tournament to be held earlier in March in Detroit.

George Pine to Teach Junior High Science

George E. Pine, a former ranger with the National Park Service at Isle Royale, has accepted a contract with the Northville school system to teach junior high science and math beginning January 31.

He is to replace Mrs. Gertrude Fey, who earlier requested a release from her teaching contract as her husband is retiring and they plan to move to Florida. The board of education expressed regret at losing Mrs. Fey and appreciation of her years of service in the system.

The junior high assignment will be Pine's first teaching post. He is a 1956 graduate of Plymouth high school. He attended Eastern Michigan university for two years as a natural science major, leaving school for one year to work in Alaska with the Department of the Interior. He returned to Eastern Michigan in 1959 for one year transferring to Michigan State University to major in fisheries and wildlife management. He was graduated from MSU in 1962, and returned the next school year for additional work in his field and for a teaching certificate.

Since completion of his academic work Pine has been employed by the National Park Service as a ranger at Isle Royale. His contract with the Northville school system will run through June, 1966.

FIGHT BIRTH DEFECTS
 JOIN THE MARCH OF DIMES

Making this week's cover page picture was a heart-warming experience. Needed were two barren walls, a March of Dimes poster, child's leg braces and a cooperative child to cast the shadow. All were found at Plymouth State Home & Training school. But the final picture cannot convey the pride and happiness of a small boy named Ricky who cheerfully took a few halting steps out of camera range to create that shadow.

Ricky was an ideal choice. Only a short while ago Ricky had, in fact, put aside leg braces. He can manage a couple of unaided steps at a time now. And he maneuvers down the halls well on crutches. Thus far March of Dimes funds have not been routed to the home, but the fight against birth defects being waged in earnest this year will help others overcome affliction—like Ricky is doing.

from the PASTOR'S STUDY

Reverend Charles F. Boeger
St. Paul's Evangelical Lutheran Church of Northville

A newspaper recently carried a story about a Mrs. Lila Craig, 81, who has not missed church in 1,040 Sundays — A perfect record for twenty years!

Doesn't she ever get tired of the same old Gospel?

Doesn't she ever have company on Sundays?

Doesn't she ever go anywhere on Saturday nights so that she is too tired to go to church on Sunday?

Doesn't she ever have headaches, colds, nervous spells, tired feelings, sudden calls out of the city, business trips, Sunday picnics, family reunions?

Doesn't it ever rain or snow in her town on Sunday?

Doesn't she ever get her feelings hurt by someone at church?

Doesn't she ever become angry with her minister?

Doesn't she have a radio or TV set so that she can stay at home and hear good sermons?

Apparently her trust in God and her love for her Lord are so real and so great that all these excuses offered by non-worshippers couldn't keep her at home for a single Sunday.

We've often wondered just how some people succeed in fooling themselves — especially when it comes to making up excuses for not attending church.

Do they really believe their own excuses? If not, whom do they think they're kidding?

There's the well-known story of two men who got up early on a Sunday morning and went fishing. Around 11 a.m. their consciences began to bother them.

"Well," said the one, "I guess everyone back home is going to church about now."

"Yes," replied the other, "apparently in deep thought, 'but I couldn't have gone, even if I hadn't gone fishing. My wife's been under the weather.'"

Silly? No more silly than many of the excuses a minister hears every week as he visits his people.

Jesus said, "He who is of God hears the words of God" (John 8:47). If that is true, can there be anything more important for you next Sunday morning than to hear a message from God?

Witnesses Preach God's Love

Robert McConnell and family, 9391 Firwood, Silver Lake, were among the more than 1,200 Jehovah's Witnesses and their friends who gathered at the Tecumseh High School last weekend for their semi-annual Bible forum.

"We preach love," said McConnell, and we try to practice what we preach. The attitudes of this loveless world are inclined to rub off on us and these Christian assemblies strengthen our faith and increase our confidence in the loving Creator."

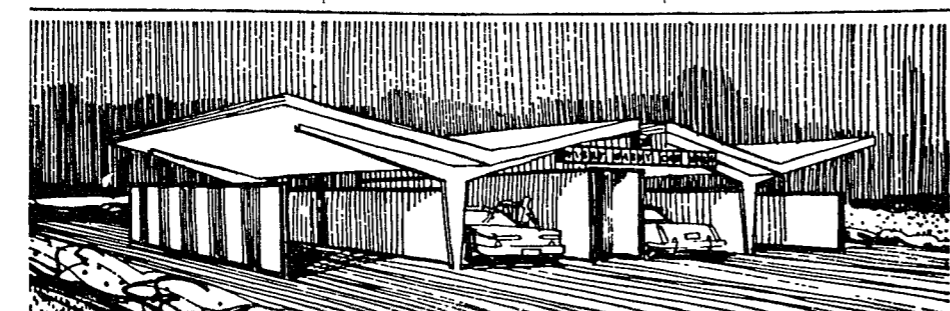

"God isn't partial," he continued. "He allows the rain to fall on the righteous people's land. If a Christian can love and pray for his enemies and those who persecute him, then he is beginning to manifest the same kind of love that his heavenly Father, Jehovah, has."

McConnell pointed to the principal talk of the convention, "What Does the Resurrection of the Dead Mean for You and Yours?" as an illustration of how God will yet show more love.

Quoting the speaker, Harry A. Fetzik, District Supervisor of Witnesses' activity for Ohio, Indiana and Michigan, McConnell said, "Although sacred books such as the Koran of the Mohammedans and Vedas of the Hindus share with the Bible great age and are venerated by untold millions, the Bible alone stands out as unique in its teaching of a resurrection of the human dead. Resurrection is one of the most marvelous of hopes offered to believing persons and opens up the prospect of life as well as a future reunion with loved ones now deceased," he declared.

PLYMOUTH

A DIFFERENT DRUMMER

THE CHURCH FOR ALL... ALL FOR THE CHURCH

The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the Church. They are: (1) For his own sake (2) For his children's sake (3) For the sake of his community and nation (4) For the sake of the Church itself which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.

The world is filled with the sound of many drums. Drums of conformity invite him to keep step with low standards and false values. Drums of greed lure him into the killing pace of selfish getting and gaining.

But a different drum sounds, too. It beats in the rhythm of law and love, and rings with the sound of eternal truths. It beckons man to integrity and true self-fulfillment; it

Insomnia Causes Outlined

Mystery Surrounds Sleep Habits

What is sleep? How much do you need, and how can you get an adequate amount? The answers should be easy but, the fact is, they aren't, says the Oakland County Medical Society.

While medical science knows little about sleep itself -- a great deal is known about what happens to your body during sleep. We know, for instance, that your heart slows from about 75 to 60 beats a minute; your body temperature and basal metabolism decreases; and your breathing drops from approximately 16 to 12 breaths a minute. For reasons unknown, sweat glands become more active and the blood flow to your brain increases.

As you are probably aware, not everyone requires the same amount of rest. Some need 10 hours of sleep a night. Others find four hours adequate.

What causes insomnia? Exhaustion, strange to say, is a common cause. To avoid being "Too tired" at night, try taking a nap -- even for 15 minutes -- during the afternoon or early evening. If you can't fall asleep, at least rest with your eyes closed and turn off the television or radio.

Another problem that may interfere with your sleep is hunger. Your stomach is always on active duty and may crave food just four hours after you've eaten. This type of sleeplessness is easily overcome by snacking just before bedtime. The best type of snack is a piece of hard candy or something sweet which will help your body maintain a constant sugar level.

Many sleeping routines -- such as hot showers, warm milk, counting sheep -- may prove helpful in promoting sleep. Whatever you do, however, avoid the following:

- Overeating at dinner time. Indigestion invites sleeplessness.
- Drinking alcohol and caffeine products such as coffee, or tea.
- Smoking a cigarette to soothe your nerves. Since cigarettes have a tendency to increase heart rate, they may inhibit sleep.

-Looking at the slow passage of time. Watching the clock only aggravates insomnia.

-Wearing night clothing too tight or too loose. Either could inhibit your natural movement in sleep.

-Sleeping on wrinkled sheets. They may raise ridges which keep you awake by irritating your skin.

-Arguing before going to bed. If talk is necessary, keep it natural.

It's Same Old Routine in Legislature

LANSING - Observing the legislative process closely year after year often makes one wonder whether this function of civilization has fallen behind other segments.

In this area, the adage of "nothing new under the sun" seems to hold fairly true despite constant change in other elements of society.

In the state legislature, however, much the same processes are being used today as were in vogue 10 or more years ago.

HARDLY A year has gone by in recent memory that someone hasn't blamed the Conservation Department for allowing hunters to kill off too many deer, either bucks or does.

We're told taxes won't be on the agenda this year, but that won't keep fiscal reform out of off-the-floor discussion, it can be assured.

There's also the decade-old subject of the Governor's mansion. Lawmakers in 1964 thought they could deal quickly with this one because the new Constitution issued a mandate for providing a home for the chief executive.

The repetitious nature of legislative affairs will be increased this year, although there was enough previously, by another part of the 1963 Constitution. It provides that bills not disposed of in the first year of the legislative biennium shall carry over into the second.

SOME 1,500 bills were left from the 1965 session at various stages of consideration. With about this number expected to be introduced again, this carry-over factor does lend something new "under the sun" in legislative activity; a new challenge to the memory of those who try to keep close track of what is being done.

TIMING IS all-important in politics. Every politician and adviser knows this. But judgments are required to determine whether the timing is right, and this is where politicians and advisers sometimes disagree or go wrong.

Detroit's young mayor apparently has decided that his time is now. He seems to care little about being governor, the post viewed as his next logical step when he was first elected.

Mayor Jerome Cavanagh also apparently is convinced that to get to the U.S. Senate he must run this year. Someone has told him it would be easier to get Senator Sen. Patrick McNamara's seat this year than run against Philip Hart four years from now.

So he has decided the time is now, or never.

ANOTHER TIME-honored philosophy among politicians, which will make the mayor's attempt most interesting, is that "you

Farm Week Coming Up

Money making ideas that will keep the farmer of the future in profit making business fifteen years from now will be unfolded at the Michigan State University 1966 Farmers' Week, January 31 through February 4.

"Every department has arranged programs that will help keep Michigan farmers moving forward," according to general chairman Byron Good. Special programs for women and youth are also scheduled.

Exhibits will be open from Monday noon through Friday noon in the Spartan Stadium concourse, agricultural engineering building, livestock pavilion and at the dairy research center and livestock farms.

More than 30 farm-related organizations will hold annual meetings during the week with the dairy breed associations opening the week with sessions on Monday.

Special honors will be presented to the "dairyman of the year," "agricultural engineer of the year," and to three farmers for distinguished service to Michigan agriculture.

On Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday, all departments will have major meetings for visitors both morning and afternoon. There will be evening banquets and free entertainment programs most nights of the week.

Complete programs are available at county Extension Service offices and can be obtained at major exhibit and meeting areas on campus. Special parking and food arrangements are being made for the thousands of visitors expected during the 51st annual farm week.

wait your turn."

After all, McNamara has served well (and got the votes needed) and should be allowed to continue if he cares to run again. And former Gov. G. Mennen Williams made it very clear before he finished his six long, hard terms as chief executive that he had his eye on the Senate seat.

Cavanagh boasts he could defeat Williams in a primary. His contention seems based largely on the notion that many voters have come of age since the assistant secretary of state for African affairs last was on the ballot. The mayor should not forget that it is the party faithful who generally vote in primaries, rather than the youngest voters.

Most interesting in either a McNamara or Williams-Cavanagh primary would be the question of where the Democratic Party leadership will stand. For all intents and purposes the party usually stays neutral in a primary fight, but it would be expected the allegiance will be to the politician who has followed the unwritten rules of the game.

Tips for New Home Buyers

BABSON PARK, Mass.—These bits of advice are aimed chiefly at young couples, those earning enough to consider buying their first home. There are many positive things to look for, as well as some dangers to be avoided.

Before looking for your "dream house", decide on the most sensible and convenient general location in terms of where your job is (or jobs, if your wife also works). If you want to go suburban, be sure that your enthusiasm for one special locale does not lure you so far away from your work that commuting time and expenses become a serious burden. In many instances, a husband and wife will want to agree on how close they would like to be to where they were brought up, to their families, their friends. It is better to talk these things out together in advance rather than have them become a bone of contention later on.

After you have chosen the general area, then you can give attention to selecting a house that you both like, and that you can afford to maintain without undue financial strain. Young husbands frequently are able to learn much about the problems of buying real estate by talking with people who have had experience: Their parents, business associates, officials of their bank, and responsible real estate agents. There is a tendency for youthful enthusiasm to push "green" couples in over their heads.

It is better for you to buy a less expensive house at the beginning and enjoy it than to reach beyond your means and be constantly strapped — or even lose the house. The down payment may vary widely, but that is something you must work out to fit your particular circumstances.

Of greater long-term consideration is the amount of your expected income that should be allotted for monthly payments on your home, including all realty taxes, mortgage, upkeep, and regular utilities. A guideline often set is about one-quarter of your spendable income. To go much beyond that at the start is asking for trouble, even though young workers may have reason to expect their family income to rise as time goes on.

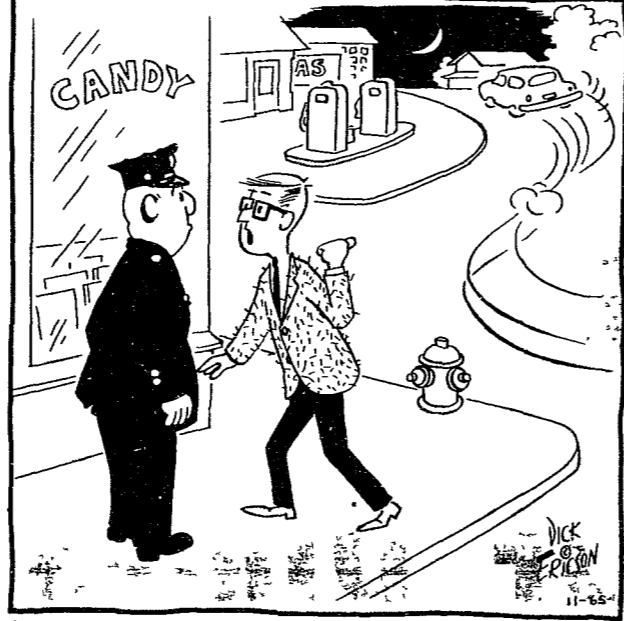

There are many older homes appearing on the market; and they could offer the best starting point. The equity that you build up in any substantial well-constructed house is one type of hedge against inflation, since home values generally move up at least as much as prices overall. An older home, kept in excellent condition or improved where possible, can usually be sold later on at a profit as long as our "creeping" inflation continues. This should assure you a safe backlog, in case increasing need for family space and improving income prompt you to sell and buy a more ambitious place.

Before buying, take a good look at the lasting virtues of a house in terms of its community appeal. Avoid sections that are declining, whatever the reason. See how much land you can get with the house; extra lots are a good longer-term investment almost anywhere. Investigate schools, stores, community services, highway prospects, churches, public transportation, local taxes, and community government. If such aspects of the area satisfy you, they will doubtless satisfy other prospective buyers in the event you decide to sell for any reason in the future.

We have long recommended the purchase of water-site property, on oceans, rivers, lakes, or ponds. There is only so much of that kind of land, and there will never be any more. So, if you find something within your range that borders water, that may well be an important added factor in making your first choice of a home. One last word: The best values for later resale are in the lowest-priced houses in a good area.

SPEAKING for The Record

By BILL SLIGER

There's been an interesting bit of side-play accompanying the preliminary plans for Northville's new elementary school on Eight Mile road.

While this is not intended to criticize anyone, it is a sad commentary on the complexities of government - even at the lowest, local level - and on the personalities that determine how much the taxpayer shall pay for services.

There are so many "ifs" involved, the situation becomes difficult to explain. But simply stated, the new school will cost more money and be served by temporary water and sewer service because efforts to provide city water and sewer service failed.

The efforts, while well-intentioned, became ensnared in a mass of misunderstandings and broken-down communications. Only an outside observer watching all three governmental units participate in the matter can fully appreciate what has happened and, frustratingly, how it will continue to happen and cost taxpayers additional dollars.

Initially, no one considered the possibility of the city extending water and sewer service to the first Northville school district building ever constructed outside the city limits.

After a late start the idea remained complicated by financing and the need for sadly-lacking inter-governmental cooperation.

As late as Monday night the city council was adopting a pledge to explore all possible means for extending water to the new school by building deadline time.

At that very moment, across the street in the offices of the board of education, the school board was awarding a bid to drill wells for water at the school site.

Several obstacles stand in the way of the city extension of water to the school. And the school board was well aware of all of them (with the possible exception of the council's renewed pledge to seek a solution). These obstacles included:

--time, which may be too short;
--financing, which could be bolstered by strong school participation in the project to avoid installation of temporary and more costly service;

--a reluctance by the township to give up more land to the city, plus a contract involving water with the city of Detroit.

The latter point deserves explanation. An approach was made by school officials to township officials - specifically the supervisor and treasurer - to determine if the township would be willing to permit annexation of acreage around the school to the city.

This maneuver was necessary for two reasons:

1. The township pointed to its contract with the Detroit Water Board prohibiting sale of water in the township except by Detroit through township authority;

2. The city has a policy prohibiting sale of water outside the city limits. The township officials said "no" to the annexation bid. And in many respects, this is understandable. But in many others, it is not.

The school district represents a combination of our taxpayers - city and township. And when these individual bodies fail to cooperate it frequently costs their own electors tax dollars.

One more possibility was proposed by the city council Monday night as it pledged its "all out effort" to accommodate the school. The thought was advanced that the Detroit Water Board, presently wooing the city of Northville on the matter of selling water locally, might be inclined to make an exception in the case of the school and permit sale of water to the township-located school building. This latter possibility assumes that the city of Northville is willing to sell to a customer outside its limits.

At this point it appears that city water service to the school is lost. But is my opinion that it should not be.

A possibility still exists and our elected officials - city, township and school - owe it to the taxpayers to sit down and explore all avenues - right to the last tax dollar saved.

(After the above column was written it was learned that the superintendent of schools called for a delay Monday morning in awarding the well-drilling contract. He accepted an invitation from the city council to meet jointly with the school board next Monday night and explore the city water potential again. This is a hopeful sign, that could become even brighter if representation from the township board were included. Any step in this area directed towards saving the taxpayer money must be a step in the right direction).

OUT OF THE PAST

ONE YEAR AGO

--After a 5-2 vote, the Northville board of education Monday night decided that next year will be the last year that Northville will accept 10th grade students from Novi. This means a gradual phase out of the Novi tuition students, with the last one graduating in 1968 from Northville High school.

--A freezing rain descended on the Northville-Nowi-Wixom area Friday causing a rash of accidents and bruises to area residents. The results kept DPW departments on the move spreading salt all weekend, sent residents to local doctors with broken bones and cuts incurred trying to navigate on the glassy surfaces of the sidewalks and streets.

--Marvin Stempien was sworn in January 13, as the new state representative of the 35th district, which includes the Wayne county portion of Northville and all of Northville township.

--Novi residents will be "guests of honor" Sunday at dedication ceremonies for a new $985,000 junior high school building on Taft road.

--After a hearing on the necessity of sewers in the Willowbrook subdivision number 2 the Novi village council and residents Monday night agreed that a neighborhood sewer system was needed. The cost of the project for the 178 homes in the subdivision is estimated at $1,260 per house and $191,523 for the entire project.

FIVE YEARS AGO

--Plans are moving along for a Community General hospital authority as well as plans for expansion of the former Sessions hospital building on Main street.

Plans call for buying the building and expanding the 23 bed facility to 50 beds as well as talking to other communities to decide if interest warrants taking a vote on a community hospital authority and determining when the vote should be taken. At present the hospital is operating at full capacity with both OD's and MD's using the facility.

--Sunday 81 volunteer women, under the leadership of Chairmen Mrs. Eugene Reynders and Mrs. Wayne McBride, will conduct the Mothers March of dimes. The women will begin their march at 2:00 p.m. and expect to finish about 4:00 p.m. If the march continues as last year in these two hours the women will be collecting about $10 per minute.

--New uniforms are on their way for the Northville high school band. The purchase of the uniforms was okayed by the Board of education at its Monday night meeting after studying the bids of 10 companies. The cost of the uniforms was set at $7,650 with the hopes that enough money will be available to purchase 25 more next spring.

--Plans are now underway for the dedication ceremonies at the new UAW local 36 union hall on Wixom road which replaces the old frame structure that housed the union offices before the present building was finished. The new structure was built at a cost of $134,000 and houses the unions offices as well as an auditorium and a stand-up bar. The local has 4,125 members and plans to build a separate building for its credit union in five years at an estimated cost of $50,000.

--A Novi man Monday night was charged with murder after confessing to police that he had shot his stepfather in a New Hudson bar. Earl White of 1910 Austin drive told police that he shot his stepfather, William H. Thompson of the same address, with a borrowed shotgun.

--A Northville resident celebrated his 75th birthday last week but he has no plans for retiring. Charles Conklin, of 41400 West Seven Mile road, is Northville's oldest barber and has no intentions of retiring after 53 years of barbering.

FIFTEEN YEARS AGO

--First Lieutenant Scott W. Cole son of Mrs. J. A. Cole of 130 West Cady street, was awarded the Silver Star Medal for gallantry in action against the enemy while serving with the First Cavalry Division in Korea.

--A special election has been called to allow Novi township residents to vote on a proposed community building which is to be built adjacent to the present school building on Novi road. --Mr. and Mrs. Erlin J. Cobb of 605 Grace street will celebrate their 60th anniversary with an open house Sunday January 28.

THIRTY YEARS AGO

--The site of the Park Hotel was purchased this week by Philip Grennen. The building, which was built on Main street in 1858, burned to the ground December 9, 1929.

--Dr. Mary E. Lapham died at her winter home in St. Augustine, Florida. Funeral services were held at Howard Bloomer funeral home in Detroit for the 75 year old doctor. Dr. Lapham is noted for her writings on the treatment of tuberculosis.

--The curtain will go up next Thursday and Friday on "Girl Shy" a three act comedy, which is being presented by the junior class.

--The mercury skidded to an all time low in the village Monday morning. The official thermometer dropped to six degrees below zero which surpasses the previous low of three degrees below zero set on January 27, 1885.
