

City-Township Water Line Proposed for School

Northville's board of education agreed Monday night to wait two weeks for an answer from the city council on whether or not it can provide water service to the new Eight Mile road elementary school site.

Meanwhile, the city must await an answer from the township before it can reply to the school board.

The triangle developed as the school board, city council and representatives of the township board met at the city council chambers to discuss the possibility of water service to the new school.

The hour-long meeting concluded with these proposals:

- the school board, anxious to begin construction and obtain water for building purposes, would postpone drilling a well for two weeks, but by that time the city must say when it can provide water, at what cost and pressure;

- the city will consider installing a line as far west as Beck road;

- the township will consider permitting annexation of the entire 90-acre parcel (including the 10-acre school site) from the city limits on the south side of Eight Mile to Beck road by joint resolution;

- if this fails, only the 10-acre school site parcel would be considered for annexation;

- with approval of full 90-acre annexation from the township the city would agree to install a 16-inch water line, which would be large enough for township use beyond Beck road in the future.

Time is running out on the proposal, but the school board admitted advantages to having city-supplied water if possible.

Sewer service would rank even higher in importance, but this prospect appears slim and the officials only touched upon the possibility.

The city council had called the joint meeting. It was attended by all school board members, the superintendent, assistant superintendent and director of administrative services. The township was represented by Supervisor R. D. Merriam, Clerk Marguerite Young, Trustee Wilson Tyler and William Mosher, township engineer.

Mayor A. M. Allen wasted little time in getting to the point. He asked the township to consider a joint resolution calling for annexation of the 90-acres of the old Whipple Estate to the city so that the city could install the water line by special assessment.

Supervisor Merriam said he "didn't think" the township board would object to annexation of the 10-acre school site, but that he had strong doubts about the full 90-acres. "This would be a board matter," he added.

Because there are no residents on the 90-acre parcel, it can be annexed to the city only by joint resolution of the two governing bodies or by an election of the full city and full township. The 35-acres on the adjoining Taft property recently annexed to the city by joint board action would have been annexed by an election involving only the three voters living on the parcel to be annexed and the voters of the city of Northville.

Supervisor Merriam stated that the township was interested in the prospect of a 16-inch water line, not 12-inch as proposed by the city. He noted that this could eventually be extended to Napier road serving the western township area.

The township supervisor went on to point out that studies by township engineers indicated that the city could supply only 30-pounds of pressure with its system to the school site. He noted that 40-lbs. was required.

Township Engineer Mosher joined in with Merriam to state that the township "is interested in a solution to benefit the community. It would be a waste of community funds to build two lines out Eight Mile", he noted.

Both the supervisor and engineer urged the possibility of joint use of a 16-inch line that would eventually be served by Detroit water. But they insisted that a pumping station would be needed for adequate pressures and estimated cost of the 16-inch line to Beck road at $80,000 and the booster station at $35,000.

The city had given estimates of $67,000 for a 12-inch line, designed large enough to serve areas up to, but not beyond Beck road. City Engineer Harold Penn indicated that pumps in the school could bring the pressure up to 40-lbs.

The school board said its cost for drilling a well and developing its own system would be an estimated $6,700. Admittedly, this was based on hitting water at the first drilling. Cost of the septic field has been estimated at $15,000.

School Board President W. C. Becker opened the Monday night meeting by explaining the school's position in the matter of utility service for the school.

Becker said the school hadn't anticipated asking for utilities at the outset. Some problems with percolation tests at the site prompted investigation of possible sewer sources. This was dropped, however, when an estimate of $100,000 was received from the township to extend service from Beck road and Main street cross-country to the school.

Annexation of the Thompson-Brown property brought the possibility of water closer, Becker noted, so discussions were held on the possibility of annexing all of the Whipple property to the city so that service could be obtained. He said meetings with township officials had not brought favorable response to this, but he noted that the township had suggested joint installation of a 16-inch line. The board president said the school board was skeptical of this prospect because the township admittedly had no money for the project.

Councilman John Canterbury called Becker's remarks "enlightening", stating that he hadn't known that the school had not intended to seek utilities and that he hadn't heard of the joint water line proposal previously.

Mayor Allen agreed with Merriam and Mosher that a 16-inch line would be more practical for future area development, and he pointed out that it would be impractical for the city to build a water line down one side of the road without being able to assess the other (township) side.

The school board is planning to open bids February 10 and stated that water would be needed for construction within a month after ground is broken.

Trustee Wilson Tyler said that the joint city-township effort for a water line appeared to be the best solution and he offered to help gain financing information on how this might be accomplished.

Unofficially, many observers were pessimistic over the ability to bring all tangled ends together in time to provide water for the school. But the council promised to give it a try.

Boxcars Flip Off Viaduct

Cause of a freak train derailment which dumped two loaded boxcars onto Northville road near Five Mile Friday has not been determined. Investigation by railroad officials continues this week.

Motorists were astounded about 1:45 p.m. that afternoon when the box cars plunged off an overhead trestle onto the roadway and adjacent embankment, completely sealing off the underpass.

No injuries were incurred and no passing motorists became involved during the plunge, nor afterward when the highway was blocked. A half hour earlier or later there would have been the normally heavy traffic beneath the overpass and fatalities could have resulted, said a spokesman for the Wayne county sheriff's department.

Damage to the Chesapeake and Ohio railroad was estimated at $25,000 by a company spokesman, including that to a cargo of automobile gasoline tanks being transported to assembly points.

The 73-car train was not speeding along the track as is normally the case in such events, but was moving at a scant 7-8 miles per hour, having just started into the main track from a siding about 50 feet south of the trestle. It was northbound for Flint from Grand Rapids.

More than 24 hours were required to clear the wreckage. The important north-south artery between Northville and Plymouth was opened at 2:20 p.m. Saturday. Meanwhile, traffic on Edward Hines drive and Northville road, which come together at a fork about 250 feet north of the overpass, was rerouted.

Fifteen cars had cleared the main track and the siding and had passed over the trestle, including several double-length auto carriers. The last of these skeletal cars was just ahead of the two box cars which plummeted to the roadway and were among 13 others which were derailed and left balanced precariously on the railroad right of way. The derailment extended forward and rearward from the 'lost' cars, including several still on the siding.

The train engineer said that he felt nothing unusual during the start-up except the normal series of jerks produced on slack being taken up. The first sign of an emergency to trainmen was the locking of the automatic emergency airbrakes which occurs whenever couplings are broken.

Speculation on the cause includes the theory that a faulty "frog" switch jammed, jerking one of the fallen boxcars and causing it to lift off its wheel truck and begin the chain of derailment. In addition to the boxcars, two sets of these wheel trucks were hurled to the pavement during the accident.

Randolph Paving Faces Law Suit

Monday night the Northville city council takes its next step in the special assessment procedure for improvement of Randolph street.

But the project seems doomed to court action, unless the council suddenly does an about-face and drops proposed assessments, or protesting Randolph residents change their present attitudes.

On January 3 the council voted unanimously to move forward with the proposed street improvements on the basis of a 25 per cent assessment against abutting property owners.

Monday night the council will receive the assessment roll based on estimated cost figures. It is probable that the roll will be accepted and a second public hearing will be called for February 21 for approval of the roll.

Meanwhile, Mrs. Paul Steencken, 562 Randolph, who has acted as spokesman for the residents who do not believe the improvement should be assessed, has announced that the group has retained the services of an attorney.

Mrs. Steencken reiterated the group's position that the assessment is "not justifiable" and stated that the protesting residents are ready to take legal action if the council approves the proposal.

The Randolph improvement calls for widening of the street to 33-feet, installing curbs and gutters, removing a curve near Eight Mile, repairing a culvert and paving the street with concrete.

The total project is estimated to cost $122,530, not including the purchase price of property acquired to aid in removal of the curve.

The council is making its 25 percent assessment against an estimated cost of $25,980. This amount represents what it would cost to improve Randolph if asphalt were used instead of concrete, if the width were 30-feet instead of 33 and not including curve removal and culvert repair costs.

Councilmembers have taken the position that this represents the normal costs that would be subject to assessment on any residential street in the city. Because it bears heavy traffic to and from the city's expanding northwest section, widening and concrete were recommended by the engineer.

In the January public hearing the council defended the assessment although a majority of the street's residents attended in protest. Mrs. Steencken maintains that the improvement is for the benefit of the general public and should be paid entirely from general funds. She has also stated that the street is satisfactory for neighborhood use and that widening and paving will be detrimental to property values.

No Money!

Township Vetos Joint Waterline

Any hope of a joint city-township effort to provide water service to a new Eight Mile road elementary school site some 4,000 feet from the city was killed Tuesday during the regular session of the full township board.

(See story at top of this page for complete background details).

Agreement was reached by the five members to notify the city and school board that the township facilities and finances do not permit participation in extending a 16-inch water line.

No mention was made of a proposed annexation of 90 acres to the city. Annexation of the 10-acre school site was mentioned only off-the-cuff and without attempt at a board decision.

Shortly after introduction of "the doggone school thing" by Supervisor R. D. Merriam and explanations of the water line cost by Clerk Marguerite Young and Trustee Wilson Tyler, who all attended the joint city-township-school board meeting the night before, Merriam commented, "I think the whole thing is that the city sees it as a chance to annex the Whipple Farm" (the 90 acres adjacent to Eight Mile road in the south).

Tyler had just suggested that the township board show its good faith by replying to the city and school its "willingness" but lack of power to comply.

Main point of township concern was that its $26,000 probable share of the 16-inch line would be a poor investment of limited funds. The officers felt that it would be some time in the distant future before development of the surrounding area would require water service.

Merriam stated that in his opinion it seemed that the school ought to go ahead with its wells, to provide construction water, and thus save utility payments until such time as other users could help. Mrs. Young and Tyler agreed, as did Tellam.

Lawrence did not join in the discussion until after the decision had been reached and a special meeting called for 10 a.m. Saturday, February 12, to okay a letter to the city and school. Then he noted that state interest in taking over Maybury Sanatorium may mean Maybury would have to have water service through the same line. "And that would be a tremendous break," he offered.

City OK's New Sewer Route

Northville councilmembers approved the route for a new sanitary sewer line to serve the proposed Thompson-Brown home and apartment development at Taft and Eight Mile roads. The line will also provide relief for the city's northern residential area.

Three alternatives were presented Monday night by City Engineer Harold Penn. The council chose the route which provided the most benefit to the existing system, and also is estimated to cost less.

The line would extend from the Taft-Randolph area along Randolph to Center street, north to Rayson, then east on Rayson to the new Novi sewer line at the mill pond.

Cost of the project is estimated at $89,610. It is to be divided between the city and the developer on the basis of benefit.

One hitch remains before the proposed route may be used. Permission to tap into the Novi sewer must be gained from Oakland county. The council instructed Acting City Manager Philip Ogilvie to contact Oakland authorities on the proposal.

In other business at a special council meeting Monday night, posting of three unimproved, city-owned parking lots was ordered by the council. Complaints that cars are parked on West Main, East Dunlap and North Wing street lots for several days at a time prompted the council to call for 24-hour limits. The city's improved parking lots have two-hour limits.

It was reported by Councilman John Canterbury that 22 city manager applications have now been received. The council called for a special meeting again this week to review the applications and schedule interviews.

A low bid of $3,909 from G. E. Miller agency for a Dodge truck for the department of public works was approved.

One Designation Sought

Novi Road Zoning Held Up

Novi planners have shelved a revised rezoning request entered by Charles Lapham of Northville for commercial and industrial designations for a Novi road site.

Lapham asked for medium industry (M2) for a major portion of his property located adjacent to Novi road on the east from the Guernsey Farms dairy property to Nine Mile road and generally to the Chesapeake and Ohio railroad. He sought a commercial (C2) classification for a 500-foot strip along Novi road to a depth of 350 feet.

Previously Lapham had withdrawn a similar request in which the entire 1350-foot frontage along Novi road would have become C2. He has revealed intentions of building a professional center, restaurant and motel on the commercial area.

The planning commission, however, has been instructed by the village council to come up with a single zoning designation for all the property in the triangle formed by Novi road, the railroad and Nine Mile road. Included in this area is a smaller 8.6-acre triangular shaped plot adjacent to Nine Mile road which the council declined to rezone heavy industrial (M3) upon request of the owner, Arthur Heslip.

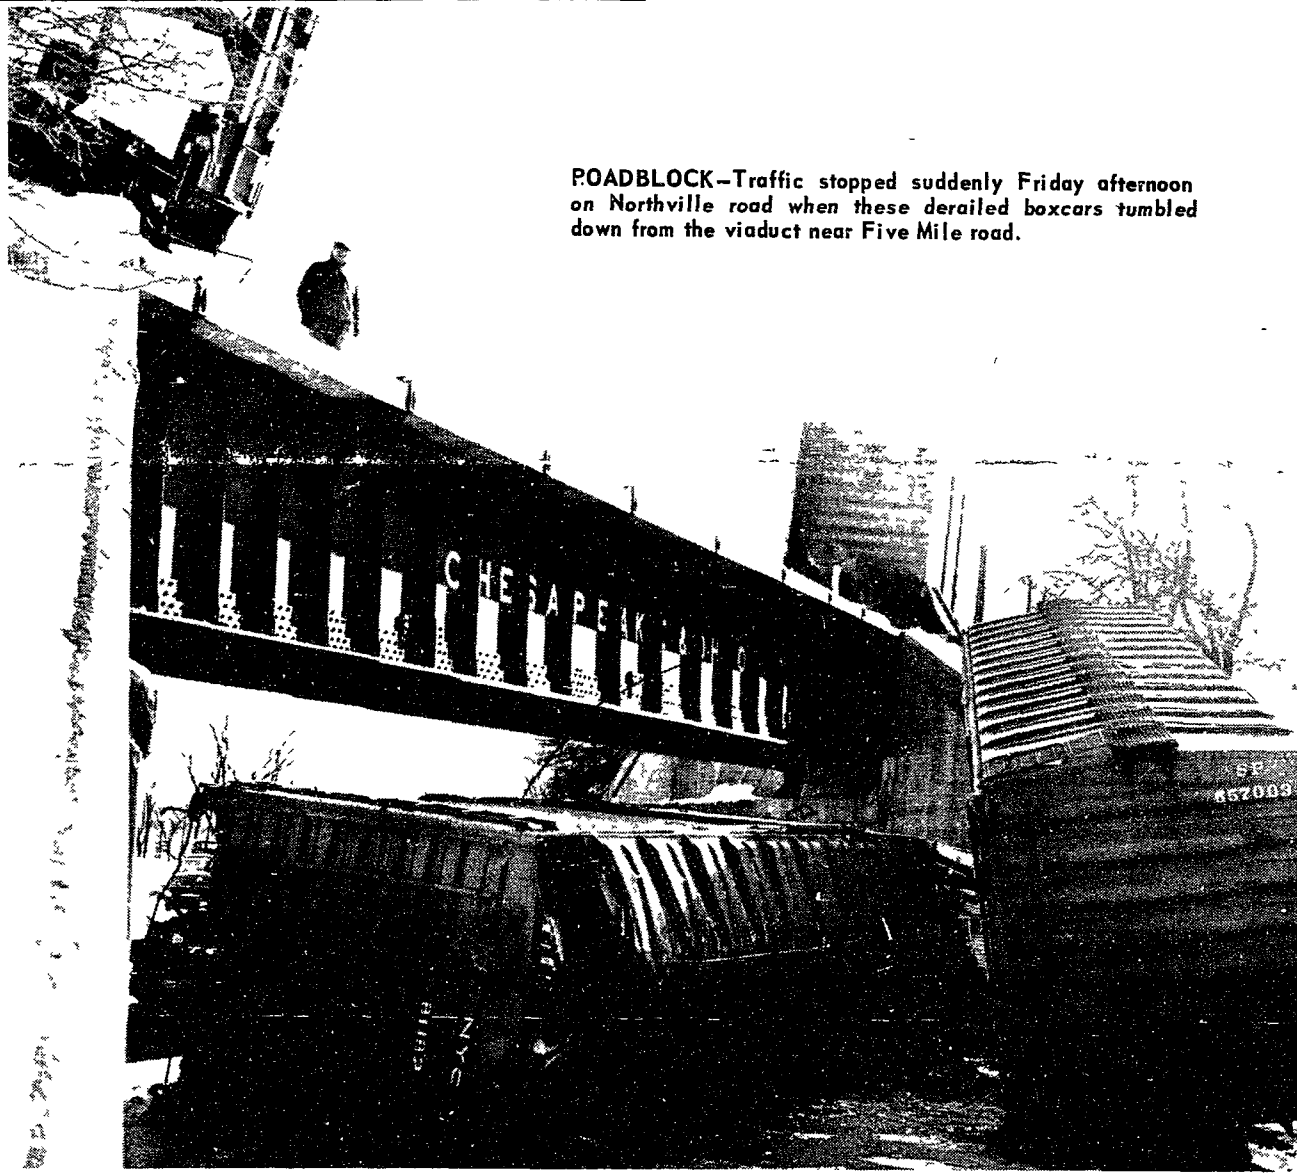

Having heard several arguments from neighboring residents against the commercial and industrial proposals, and having on record a recommendation of planning consultant Waldemar Johnson that only light manufacturing (M1) would be favorable to the village, the council hopes to ally continued community turmole over the tract.

A cement manufacturing firm which sought to locate on the Heslip parcel has turned to Wixom for rezoning of another property in the face of apparent unwelcome in Novi.

Lapham, aware of the belief that M1 industry is considered less undesirable by nearby residents and the planners, disagrees. Not only will M1 promote smaller shops and therefore more unsightliness than a larger M2 concern, but it will also make more difficult the task of selling the property, he contends.

His primary interest is in erecting the professional center restaurant and motel. But, he said he would not settle for a small plot of PO (professional Center) zoning. Other uses are not permitted in a PO district.

ROADBLOCK—Traffic stopped suddenly Friday afternoon on Northville road when these derailed boxcars tumbled down from the viaduct near Five Mile road.

Family Camping
Meeting Here

All area families interested in camping and hiking are invited to attend an organizational meeting of the National Campers and Hikers association at 7:30 p.m. Monday in the scout-recreation building on Cady street.

Mrs. Marjorie Schulkins of Farmington, field director for the NCHA, announces that enough interest has been shown in the area for organization of a local chapter of the non-profit camping association. Ken and Jean Stumpf, district field directors for Wayne, Oakland and Macomb counties, are to attend the meeting to explain the association, its aims and activities and answer questions.

At Monday night's meeting slides will be shown of local chapter activities, the Michigan state "campvention" at Holly, Michigan, last May, and the national "campvention" at Bowling Green, Kentucky, last July. Refreshments will follow the meeting.

The camping association, Mrs. Schulkins reports, now has 11 Detroit and suburban area chapters and a total of 28 chapters in Michigan.

Anyone with an interest in camping, hiking and nature is encouraged to join. Nominal dues include a subscription to Camping Guide magazine, the NCHA's own bulletin - Tent and Trail, and opportunity to participate in all NCHA activities, the NCHA points out that all officers and directors of the association are volunteers, donating their time in the interest of better camping.

Most chapters, Mrs. Schulkins points out, have activities scheduled throughout the year, with a summer camping schedule supplemented with winter meetings to plan the next season and to view slides and movies.

Dimes' Drives
Show Decline

The community-wide Mothers' March conducted by 87 Northville city and township women from Thursday through Tuesday netted approximately $1,400.

Mrs. Hiram Pacific, chairman of the Northville March, reported that some areas remain to be reported but it appeared that the drive for funds to fight birth defects would fall short of last year's $1,525.

The Northville marchers reported their collections Tuesday night at the American Legion building.

In Novi bad weather and a shortage of volunteers hampered collections, reported Mrs. Bernard Marchetti.

Although all money collected had not been counted Tuesday evening, Mrs. Marchetti and her co-chairman, Mrs. Santo Gargiano, were hopeful that this year's final tally would meet the 1965 total of $414.

Even though 100 women did take part in the March, Mrs. Marchetti noted that some Novirural areas and part of Willowbrook subdivision were not contacted.

She asked that anyone in these areas not contacted may mail contributions to the March of Dimes, 2279 South Telegraph road, Pontiac.

The Northville collection will again be boosted by the annual March of Dimes bowling tournament. Northville Lanes Owner Angelo Gadioli reported that all league member bowlers participated in the charity tourney contributing some $820.

Another Northville activity will be the March of Dimes dance sponsored by the Ugashonten club. The charity affair will be held February 12 at the community building with music provided by the Disciples.

A BIG DRESS parade Monday night presented proof of the "shrink power" of members of Eater Beaters, local chapter of TOPS (Take Off Pounds Sensibly). At the Eater Beaters seventh birthday celebration Monday at Amerman school five members were honored who have been active since the chapter was organized.

They were asked to wear the dresses they joined in - and then to shed to reveal the new, smaller size they now are. Honorees were Mrs. Victor Lonn, who is leading the chapter for the second year, Mrs. Foster Ashby, chapter weight recorder, Mrs. Louis Mallette, Mrs. Clyde Schoultz and Mrs. Clarence Jerome.

The five honorees are among the seven members of the group who reached their reducing goals and now are KOPs, which means they are Keeping Off Pounds Sensibly. As weight recorder, Mrs. Ashby noted that the 30 active Eater Beater members lost a total of 300 pounds during 1965. Members meet every Monday night at 7:30 p.m. at Amerman school to tabulate weight losses and encourage each other. Anyone interested in losing weight sociably is invited to join the group at its weekly meetings.

In addition to Mrs. Lonn who is beginning her second year as chapter leader, 1966 officers are Mrs. Herbert Bissa, co-leader; Mrs. Gregory Penrod, secretary; Mrs. Othal Baggett, treasurer.

A VALENTINE COFFEE is planned for Northville Newcomers club beginning at 9:30 a.m. Wednesday, February 9, at the home of Mrs. Harry Gilmer, 22279 Haggerty road. The get-acquainted coffee hour, is one of the club's mid-winter social events with members especially invited to bring new neighbors, Mrs. Earle McIntosh, president, reports.

Co-hostess with Mrs. Gilmer is Mrs. Gale Calhoun. Members wishing directions or who plan to bring new neighbors are asked to call her at 476-7286.

Mrs. Gilmer herself is one of Northville's newer residents, having moved to Haggerty road with her family last summer. Her husband is head coach of the Detroit Lions football team.

BON VOYAGE parties have preceded the departure of the John M. Walker family next week for Antwerp, Belgium, where he will be on special assignment for a year with Ford Motor Company. Mrs. Arthur R. Hempe, Jr., honored Mrs. Walker at a farewell luncheon Tuesday at her West Fonner court home. All Taft Colony neighbors were invited to bid Mrs. Walker farewell at valentine-decorated luncheon tables. Assisting hostesses were Mrs. Harold Prazier and Mrs. M. C. Sarnes. A special guest was Mrs. Bernard Bach of Northville Estates, who with her family will be moving into the Walker home on Woodhill road.

Last week Mrs. Walker was feted at a farewell gathering of the Taft Colony bridge club at the home of Mrs. E. O. Weber on Woodhill road. The Webers' son, Karlton, was host Friday for a pre-game surprise supper party attended by seventh grade classmates of Karl and John Walker. The Walkers' daughter, Debbie also was honored earlier at a luncheon-theater party given by Allison Moorhead at the Moorhead home on Woodhill.

NORTHVILLE WOMAN'S CLUB will investigate "High Finance" at Friday's 2 p.m. meeting in the junior high library as Mrs. Patricia H. Breen, a stock broker with Merrill Lynch, Pierce, Fenner and Smith, Incorporated, returns to speak by request.

Mrs. Breen, who is one of the very few women stock brokers in Detroit, or in the country, appears frequently on radio and television programs. She majored in finance at Wayne State University and is a graduate of the University of Michigan School of Business Administration. Earlier in her career she was associated with General Motors, the National Bank of Detroit and a Cleveland investment banking firm.

Mrs. Hurd Clark, program chairman, will entertain the speaker at a luncheon at Thunderbird Inn preceding the meeting. Members may bring guests to the program, which will be followed by a punch reception.

Bakers Celebrate
Golden Wedding

Mr. and Mrs. Mollie Baker

Highlight of Mr. and Mrs. Mollie Baker's golden wedding celebration last week end was a visit from their only son and his family, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Baker and their three children of Harrisonburg, Virginia.

What was planned as a weekend reunion actually was prolonged this week as blizzard conditions closed eastern roads.

The Bakers, who make their home at "Bakers Acres," 51825 West Eight Mile road near Napier road in Northville, were married January 29, 1916, in Detroit. They have been Northville residents for 25 years, moving first from Detroit to a home on Six Mile road.

Mrs. Baker was Bevie Worley when she pledged her vows 50 years ago. Both she and her husband came to Detroit from North Carolina.

Their anniversary was marked by a family celebration and attendance at Northville Presbyterian church, where the Bakers are members.

A NEW MEMORIAL LIBRARY of Biblical and religious books at Northville First Presbyterian church is being readied for official opening after the 11 a.m. service Sunday by Mrs. Carl Bryan, who checks a book with Robert Regenhart, while his mother, Mrs. Robert Regenhart, types forms for the Reverend Lloyd G. Brasure. Mrs. John Begle, in the background, stacks the shelves. The collection is to be for the use of students and adults of the church and the community.

Presbyterians Open Library

A religious memorial library for the use of students and adults of the church and community will be opened officially at Northville First Presbyterian church after the 11 a.m. service Sunday at an open house and coffee hour.

Members and friends are invited by the Reverend Lloyd G. Brasure to visit the religious library and inspect the volumes of reference and study works available. More than $1,000 has been spent to date, he said, as a beginning of what is hoped will be one of the finest church libraries in this part of Wayne county. The project was started about one year ago with funds given to the Living Memorial Fund of the church and designated for this purpose after consultation with the pastor and families of persons being remembered in the fund.

The following have been thus memorialized, and their names are on the memorial plaque: Hugh Babbitt, Ernest Bowden, Mark Byard, Lillian Hallett, Iva Laird, Joseph McCluskie, Louis Nagy, Flora VanDyne, Walter VanFossen, Karl Keiss and William Wilson.

Mrs. Carl Bryan, Mrs. John Begle and Mrs. Robert Regenhart have been responsible for the initial work in setting up the library.

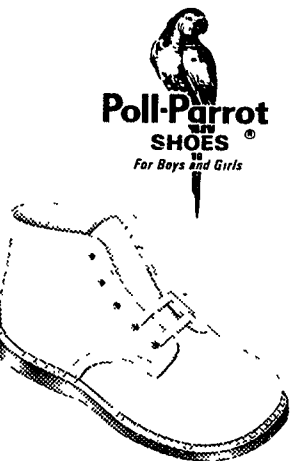

Newest edition of the World Book as well as Biblical and religious volumes is available to students. Among the 300 books now in the starter library are those on Biblical scholarship, information on Bible lands, archaeological discoveries, current theological discussions and ecumenical dialogue between different parts of the Christian church. There also is devotional literature and religious poetry.

One shelf is reserved, Reverend Brasure said, for books dealing with problems of growing children and teenage education in areas of sex and morality. He adds that the library would welcome a copy of the Koran for its shelves.

250 Enjoy Dance

The first dance of the Northville Teen club, the Cavern, held in the junior high boys' gymnasium last Saturday night was rated a success, drawing 250 community teenagers. Chaperones for the evening were Mr. and Mrs. Glen Jordan, Al Wistert and Richard Kay, former Amerman school principal and currently principal of the Richard school in Grosse Pointe.

Arrangements for the dance were made by the newly formed

Teen Club board made up of representatives from the high school student body. Steve Jordan, high school junior, is president. Mother's club members working with these young people have been functioning as advisors but the success of the dance, they report, was due to the efforts of the teenagers themselves.

The Teen Club board is planning the next dance for Saturday, February 19.

AWARD WINNERS-Howard Niles (r.) and Ray Honsinger (l.), both of Northville, are shown receiving a trophy from Charles Coon at the annual meeting of the Michigan Harness Horseman's association. The award was made for the champion two-year-old trotter of the southern circuit in 1965, Egyptian Crusader. The trotter is owned by Honsinger and trained and driven by Niles. Coon is secretary-treasurer of the horseman's association.

BALANCING ACT-Thirteen of the 15 cars derailed while in slow motion remained on the railroad right-of-way, balancing precariously though they were. When two boxcars fell off the Northville road viaduct two wheel trucks (below) fell also. Highway traffic was luckily at a lull.

RETIRING-Matthew O. Boring (right) is extended retirement congratulations by Dr. Lilly, acting medical superintendent of Northville State hospital, while Thomas Peterson, president of chapter 41, Michigan State Employees association, looks on. Fishing, travel and bowling are the plans of the 14½-year Northville State hospital maintenance employee.

Mathew Boring Retires

Employees of Northville State Hospital gathered to honor Matthew O. Boring, 48855 W. Seven Mile, Northville, on his retirement, after 14 1/2 years, from the Maintenance Department of the hospital on January 5. At the luncheon, the employees and friends presented him a rod and reel for his retirement years.

Previously employed for 6 years with the Northville Coach Lines, Boring joined the staff of Northville State Hospital on July 23, 1951. Thus he is among the hospital's first group of employees. He has been an active member of Chapter #41 of the Michigan Employees Association, and presently he is serving as a member of its board of directors.

"Mr. Boring has been valuable as an employee in our Maintenance Department," commented Dr. Lilly, acting medical superintendent of Northville State Hospital. "We wish him every good fortune in his retirement years."

Mr. and Mrs. Boring, who have lived at their present Northville address since 1943, have been residents of the Northville community for 35 years. They are members of the First Presbyterian Church of Northville. Boring is active in the Masonic Order, the Odd Fellows of South Lyon, and the White Shrine of Farmington. Travel, bowling, and fishing are among Mr. and Mrs. Boring's plans for their retirement years.

Host Milford Tonight Mustangs Cling to League Lead

Each game takes on more significance as the Wayne-Oakland Conference season draws to a close.

No two teams are more aware of the pressure than Northville and Clarkston, who are tied for first place with 7-2 records.

Both have five league games remaining, and the schedule favors neither. Both must face three strong opponents, and a let down against the supposed weak sisters could prove costly.

Milford, a team that Northville trimmed handily, 68-40, before the Christmas break, will make its appearance on the local gym floor tomorrow night.

The Redskins can be dangerous, but the Mustangs should win this one. Forward Mike Yeager is the key in Milford's attack. He scored 24 points as Milford pushed Bloomfield Hills to the limit before losing, 58-56, last Friday.

The Mustangs will then take a short trip next Tuesday to Brighton to play the Bulldogs on their home court. This one could prove to be a real corker, even though Northville knocked off Brighton, 70-52, just three weeks ago.

There's no sweeter balm for the losing Bulldogs (3-6) than a victory over neighboring Northville. This plus the cracker box gymnasium should put the Mustangs on guard against taking the Bulldogs lightly.

Hurting Brighton's chances is the loss of Damon Ewbank, a transfer student who had given it a scoring threat from outside. He moved. But in Bruce Evenson, a 6'6" Center, the Bulldogs have a scoring threat who is thoroughly familiar with Brighton's smaller court.

Victories over Milford and Brighton are imperative if the Mustangs hope to keep their title ambitions alive. The real test will be the last three games. Northville must face Clarkston and Bloomfield Hills here, then it's off to West Bloomfield to wind up the season.

Clarkston, likewise, has its work cut out. Tomorrow night Dan Fife and Company must play Bloomfield Hills on the Barons' home court, and Bloomfield has a way of getting up for the big ones in friendly surroundings.

Clarkston will then play Holly and Northville on the road, and Clarenceville and Milford at home, not in that order.

Stall Fails On Colts

There's one way to stop Northville's high-scoring JVs from scoring - don't give them the ball. Clarenceville did it. They got the opening tip and stalled to stymie the Colts' offensive for six-and-one-half minutes of the first quarter. Clarenceville led, 2-0.

Northville Center Jim Peterson then broke the scoring ice to knot the game at 2-2. Clarenceville, still playing keep away, went back into its stall for another minute.

But then Coach Bob Kucher's cagers broke the spell in their own inimitable way - by pressing their opponent into mistakes to assume a 6-2 first quarter lead. From there they charged to a 50-20 victory.

It enabled the Colts to keep their Wayne-Oakland Conference record clean at 10-0, and boosted their season mark to 11-2.

In the process of winning, the Colts actually turned the tables on Clarenceville. After gaining a 26-7 halftime lead, Northville played control ball to get the good shot. It worked to perfection as the local JVs took a 40-13 lead at the end of the third quarter.

Substitutes played out the fourth quarter and increased the advantage.

Peterson led the Colts with 26 points. He was backed up by Dennis Matthews' 12, most of them on set shots from the outside that helped break Clarenceville's defensive tactics.

Northville hit on a phenomenal 57 percent of its shots.

Frosh Split

The Northville frosh earned a split in two games during the week, and the outcome in each was decided at the foul line.

Coach Al Jones' cagers beat Belleville, 43-39, last Friday night with Berry Deal leading the way with 16 points. Northville had numerous fouls that almost cost them the game at the free throw stripe.

Ypsilanti East topped Northville, 44-39, Monday night as Northville froze at the foul stripe. The local cagers converted only seven of 24 attempts.

Northville's record now stands at 4-6.

Nominate Imsland

Jerry Imsland, Northville's all-state football end, was nominated for appointment to the United States Naval Academy, U.S. Representative Weston E. Vivian announced this week.

Imsland will compete with five other nominees for the appointment, to be made on the basis of a series of tests and other records. Those not selected for the top spot will receive alternate appointments.

Imsland, a senior, is the son of Mr. and Mrs. LuVerne Imsland of Fry road.

Clarenceville Bombed, 66-45

The Northville Mustangs towered over visiting Clarenceville Friday night, both in height and playing ability, to win with ease, 66-45.

Victory preserved Northville's share of first place with Clarkston, both with 7-2 records. Dan Fife scored 43 points to lead Clarkston to a 65-62 triumph over West Bloomfield, a team that once held the Wayne-Oakland Conference lead but now has lost three straight.

Bloomfield Hills continued on the rise, barely chopping down Milford 58-56 to post its third league victory in a row. Bloomfield stands at 6-3. Holly is next with 5-4.

Clarenceville was anything but the team that lost to Northville by a slim point in their first encounter. Although the Trojans stayed in there, they didn't have the personnel to cope with Northville's height.

Forward Mark Cushing, playing his best game of the season, paced his mates in scoring with 20 points. Clarenceville flailed away at the 6'5" Mustang in a futile effort to block his shots. Guard Jim Zayti also turned in a sparkling performance as he drove the middle and headed Northville's fast break. He tallied 16 points.

And 6'3" Forward Steve Evans regained his poise to rebound effectively and score 12 points.

To some degree, the Mustangs forwards owe a vote of thanks to Center Jerry Imsland, who carried a 20-point plus average into the ball game. Being the main scoring threat, he drew man-to-man coverage even though Clarenceville employed a zone. In stopping Imsland with only seven points, Clarenceville gave ground to other Mustangs.

There was little doubt which way this contest would go. Northville took an 18-9 lead at the end of the first quarter by controlling the offensive boards, and Clarenceville could get no closer than seven points thereafter.

The second period was almost a repeat of the first, except for a brief Clarenceville spurt that cut the Mustangs' margin from 34-17 to 36-24 just before the half came to a close.

The Trojans weren't admitting defeat, however. They scored on their first two shots of the second half to cut the Northville lead to 40-28, but the Mustangs fought off the threat and raced to a 51-30 edge at the end of the third period.

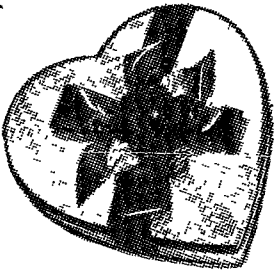

Northville maintained its margin in the third period, hitting on five of 13 shots to mark up a 43 percent average for the contest, 26 field goals in 55 tries. Clarenceville shot a cool 31 percent (18 of 58).

Vivian Still Optimistic On Atom Site

Congressman Weston E. Vivian, U. S. second district, said in a news release this week that he remains convinced that a nearby site stands extremely high on the list of potential choices.

Design funds of $10 million asked for by the Atomic Energy Commission for the project were not included in the president's budget proposal. And the congressional atomic energy committee chairman has let it be known that neither design nor construction funds will be appropriated until the site has been chosen.

Noting that the proposed budget shows increased expenditures for national defense, education, health care and welfare, Vivian said,

"The schedule for design and construction of this facility has been somewhat delayed. This is due to a decision to make much more extensive studies of possible locations for the accelerator than had previously been anticipated. No matter where the accelerator is finally located, I believe that these studies are well-justified.

"The risk of facing heavy overruns on construction costs can best be reduced by a relatively small expenditure of funds, and a small additional amount of time being consumed, to gain solid knowledge of the geological characteristics of the several sites finally recommended to the Atomic Energy Commission.

"I remain convinced that the Northfield site, in Washtenaw County, stands extremely high on the list of potential sites. It is very likely that extensive geological test-borings of several sites will be undertaken by the Atomic Energy Commission in the months following receipt of recommendations from the site evaluation committee. I believe that the Northfield site will be one of a very small number of sites actually on the recommendation list.

"And I feel certain that, as indicated by the Joint Congressional Committee on Atomic Energy, funds will be provided for design and engineering studies, once the accelerator site has been selected."

The fabled groundhog, sometimes better known as the woodchuck, was to take a look for his shadow this week Wednesday. The story goes that if he saw it there will be six more weeks of winter; if he didn't, spring will come sooner. When this section was going to press Mi. Groundhog would surely have seen his shadow, as he did when this Michigan Conservation Department picture was taken.

from the PASTOR'S STUDY

Pastor Norman A. Riedesel
First United Presbyterian Church, South Lyon

At one time Emily Gardner Neal was an unbeliever. She was a reporter and she had heard about faith healing. One day she decided to write a magazine article exposing such fraudulence.

She set to work and made a very careful case study of all the instances of faith healing she was able to find. To her great astonishment she discovered they were all true.

An internationally known clinician told a woman suffering from brain cancer that she had only one year to live. She was completely healed at a Methodist healing service fourteen years ago. She has suffered no symptoms whatsoever since.

A victim of advanced tuberculosis, medically diagnosed by every known laboratory method, after having been bedridden for sixteen months was completely cured following the prayers of an Episcopal Minister. He was back at work in five days and has had good health during the fifteen years that have followed.

A child paralyzed from the waist down due to polio was carried into a Baptist healing service and walked out without any help. In the twelve years that have followed he has had full use of his limbs.

A man with a heart hopelessly crippled from rheumatic fever received the laying on of hands from his Presbyterian minister and fully recovered.

These are just a few of scores of true spiritual healings which Mrs. Neal discovered. In the end she became a devout Christian. She is a strong advocate of spiritual healing today, and has written two books entitled, "A Reporter Finds God through Spiritual Healing" and "God Can Heal You Now."

Jesus in His ministry emphasized divine healing constantly. There is perhaps no other subject stressed as much in the Gospels. The apostles practiced faith healing. Peter even raised a lady from the dead. The early church practiced faith healing. There is no good reason why we should not do so today. The Bible tells us again and again that God will answer our prayers. That all things are possible for those who believe. (Mark 9:23, Matthew 7:7-11) (John 16:23,24)

It is very reasonable that God will heal us when we pray to Him. He is a God of infinite mercy and boundless compassion. He has such perfect control over this world that not one sparrow can fall to the ground without His will. (Matthew 10:29) He is a Father Who is deeply concerned about us, His children. He loves us so much that in the person of Jesus Christ He suffered and died for us.

Sometimes people pray "Thy will be done" in a mournful way, seeming to feel that the outlook is pretty grim. Actually it is a prayer indicating tremendous possibilities, rather than hopelessness. We pray so often, "Thy will be done on earth as it is in Heaven." Do you think things are hopeless in Heaven? In describing Heaven, Scripture says, "neither shall there be mourning, nor crying, nor pain any more." (Revelation 21:4) Certainly if we pray "Thy will be done" it can mean among other things that people may enjoy good health.

There are people who believe all this but still say they do not have enough faith to bring about physical healing. We should indeed implicitly trust in God's love, wisdom, and power. But we do not necessarily have to have a great deal of faith. Jesus said that if our faith is as large as a grain of mustard seed, we can move mountains. (Matthew 17:20).

STAR BRIGHT

When Millie goes to bed she stops by the stairway window to say good night to her favorite star. It twinkles in the frosty evening sky, and to me it seems remote and cold. But to Millie, the star is a warm and glowing friend. It's just a matter of viewpoint. A grown-up sees through the eyes of experience. The child gazes through the eyes of innocence. And as we all know, it isn't easy to exchange our experience for innocence again.

Yet, this is exactly what many of us need to do. Many of us need a new approach, a new look at the old things, the old truths. We need to open our eyes, and let ourselves see; to open our ears, and let ourselves hear.

There is no better place to discover this new approach than in your church. In church next Sunday you will find a new point of view. Let yourself see, let yourself hear. You will be surprised at the results.

SELF ANALYSIS QUIZ

Are You Really Happy At Home?

By Jane Sherrod Singer

It has been said, "There are men who are happy without knowing it." Perhaps, if you answer these questions honestly, you will have new insights about the life you lead in your own home.

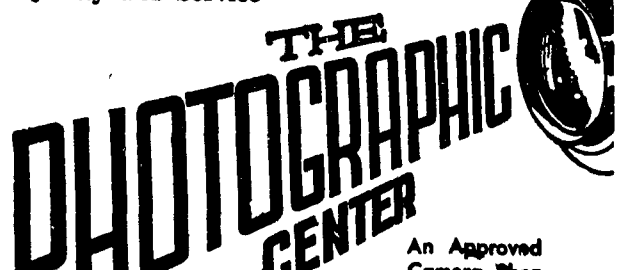

- | | YES | NO |
|---|-----|-----|
| 1. Do you have at least one hobby? | () | () |
| 2. Do you and your family share problems and joys? | () | () |
| 3. Do you resent rules and regulations? | () | () |
| 4. Do you often feel that your living quarters are inferior to those with whom you associate? | () | () |
| 5. Do you actively work toward the maintenance and improvement of your home? | () | () |
| 6. Have you worked out a sensible budget to which you adhere? | () | () |
| 7. Are you careful not to bore the people with whom you live? | () | () |
| 8. Do you often compliment those with whom you live? | () | () |
| 9. Do you resent criticisms or suggestions? | () | () |
| 10. Do you readily open your home to guests? | () | () |

POSSIBLE ANSWERS: All should be Yes, except 3, 4 and 9. SCORING: Your scale can best be found in your own heart and summed up by Hamilton: "Six things are requisite to create a 'happy home.' Integrity must be the architect, and tidiness the upholsterer. It must be warmed by affection, lighted up with cheerfulness; and industry must be the ventilator, renewing the atmosphere and bringing in fresh salubrious day by day, while overall, as a protecting canopy and glory, nothing will suffice except the blessing of God."

Record Publisher Elected to State Press Board

Record-News Publisher William C. Sliger was elected to the Michigan Press Association board of directors last weekend. The election took place at the 98th annual meeting of the MPA at Kellogg Center in East Lansing.

New president of the association is Harry Weinbaum, publisher of the Courier Newspapers in Detroit. He succeeds Arthur P. Gallagher, Ann Arbor News editor.

Sliger has served on the association membership committee and for the past two years has helped direct the state contest for weekly newspapers. He has been a member of the MPA since 1956 when he purchased The Northville Record-News. He also holds membership as publisher of The South Lyon Herald.

The Record-News and Herald publications have been frequent winners of the statewide awards competition in news content, advertising, features, editorials, columns and typography and seven general excellence awards in the years prior to Sliger's becoming a member of the contest committee.

New MPA board members seated with Sliger were Carl Black, Sanilac Jeffersonian in Croswell; Grattan Gray, Monroe News; and Philip L. Richards, Alpena News.

AT SATURDAY night's All-Michigan dinner, traditionally the climax of the Michigan Press Association convention, Record-News Publisher William C. Sliger took part in the program as chairman of the statewide weekly newspaper contest. Sliger introduced Secretary of State James Hare,

It's pure and simple

Electric heat is the clean, modern heat—no flame, no fumes. It's a snap to install—costs less, too—because it's more compact and needs no flue. And only electric heat is 100% efficient; the heat is created right where it's used. It's also economical. You can buy an attractive, low-operating-cost unit for as little as $35-$40 (plus thermostat and installation). And we're talking about a unit that can turn a 12' x 20' polar region into a tropical delight. Just dial the warmth you want, and you get it. Give us a call. We'll send an Edison Heating Specialist to discuss equipment, installation, and operating cost with you. No obligation, of course.

Community Tribute Gives Steve "Biggest Thrill"

There have been many honors, "big games" and tributes that have taken him to the nation's finest football arenas and banquet rooms.

But for sheer tickle-your-spine thrills, Steve Juday told his audience of more than 300 friends last week that the hometown warmth of friends turning out as they did was the experience he'd never forget.

The Michigan State University All American quarterback modestly accepted a host of honors and gifts. They came from his high school coaches, the city council, American Legion, the state legislature, Governor Romney and the sponsoring organizations, Northville Community Chamber of Commerce, Rotary club and the city.

The January 25 banquet was held in the gymnasium. Originally it had been planned for the cafeteria, but the crowd was too large to handle.

MSU Coach Duffy Daugherty was the principle speaker. He said Steve had just one fault... "he's a senior". Others who paid tribute to the Northville athlete-scholar included his co-captain on the 1965 Big Ten championship Spartan eleven, Don Japinga; Al Jones, high school athletic director; and Norm Masters, an ex-MSU All American and Green Bay Packers star, who served as master of ceremonies.

To express his appreciation to his friends in Northville Steve wrote the following letter on behalf of himself and his family:

"We would like to take this opportunity to thank everyone who made this wonderful affair possible and everyone who made it so enjoyable for our entire family.

"This is without a doubt the highest honor that anyone could ever receive. We are very proud of Northville and its people and hope that we can continue to play our small part in making it a fine community. Please accept our most humble 'thanks'."

The Steve Juday Family

State Proposes Aid for Crime Victims

LANSING - A "unique" idea in government activity was suggested last year by Attorney General Frank J. Kelley. At least it sounded unique at the time.

Kelley proposed Michigan should consider some method of helping persons who were the victims of violent crimes. He first proposed it at a conference on crime attended by law enforcement officials from throughout the state.

Since that time, the Legislature has reconvened and two bills have been introduced along this line.

One proposal would provide financial help to those victims of violent crimes who need it. It would require convicted criminals to contribute to a fund for this purpose.

A similar measure would allow local units to set up funds to compensate citizens injured while trying to prevent a crime or capture a criminal.

The notion behind both proposals is the question of the government's liability for failure to completely protect its citizens from criminals.

UNIQUE AS it sounded, it turned out Kelley's idea was not quite original. A survey by a national magazine shows Great Britain has had such a compensation program in effect for some time, having already paid some $31,000 to victims of robbery, rape or assault.

Here in the U.S., California has recently enacted a financial aid program for crime victims. And Michigan Rep. Thomas G. Ford of Grand Rapids reports that a similar plan is seriously being considered in New York state.

Ford is the author of one of the plans now being considered here. His view is, "No crime victim would be made rich by this plan, but it would assure that he wouldn't be left destitute either."

ONE VALUABLE effect can be noted in the Constitutional provision for the carry-over of legislation from the first to the second year of the legislative biennium.

This is the first year the proposal has been effective. It means, simply, that any legislation introduced last year which was not disposed of can be considered this year.

In effect, if wisely used, it can speed up much of this year's session work.

SINCE EVERY year much legislation introduced has been proposed before, the carry-over provision can reduce duplication. What was introduced last year is already in printed form and can get committee consideration to reach the floor early in the session.

Prior to effectiveness of this provision, much early-session time was spent without result. Bills took time to get in printed form, which is required for full legislative consideration. Often a month or more of the session was spent doing little, or nothing, of value.

Surely, committee sessions must still be held early in the session on new proposals, but with the carry-over legislators should be able to get into the floor discussion stage much earlier. The work load of actual session time can be spread out better, rather than having one or two weeks of day-and-night meetings immediately preceding the adjournment time.

ONE SUCH early move has already occurred. A proposal to reduce toll rates on the Mackinac Bridge, which got more than half-way through the legislative process last year, was brought to the floor of the Senate in the second week of the current session. It is too early to rate the relative importance of this bill in the current session, but the idea has been widely discussed lately and there are differences of opinion on how toll reduction should be done.

Left to consider late in the session, the Bridge bill could easily get lost in the shuffle again. Getting to the floor early in the session gives it a much better chance for full debate and well-considered action.

TWELVE MILLION people, more than the state's current population, are expected to come into Michigan this year to visit, travel, fish, hunt, and participate in the myriad other recreational activities which make Michigan the "Water, Winter Wonderland."

Residents throughout the state have already planned nearly 150 special activities for these visitors, ranging from ski jumping contests, to county fairs, golf shows, harvest festivals and art exhibits.

For the walker, there's the Labor Day trek across the Mackinac Bridge. For the bicycle rider, there's a big race in the Tawas area. For the canoe paddler, there's a contest on the Pere Marquette River from Ludington.

The antique buff can find shows to arouse his interest at several places. There is a motorcycle hill climb, more than one baseball tournament, several boat races, and, of course, uncounted garden and home shows.

Once again, in 1966, Michigan is ready to entertain the interests of every traveling individual or family group.

Here's the Answer

Area Farmer Wins Conservation Award

A Northville area farmer has been named Outstanding Soil and Water Conservation Farmer for 1965.

He is Zolte Visnyak, 50855 West Nine Mile road, whose improvements of the 200-acre family farm earned the recognition.

He is also chairman of the County Korner's Farm Bureau chapter, has attended a two-year course in agriculture at Michigan State University and graduated from Northville high school in 1950.

The award was presented during the annual Oakland county conservation meeting at the soil conservation headquarters in Pontiac.

Working with engineers, Visnyak has planted grass waterways and installed tile on the farm which is thus less susceptible to soil erosion.

Roger Babson

Bright Future on the Farm

BABSON PARK, Mass. —Our nation's farmers earned better income in 1965 than for any other year in well over a decade. Realized net farm income was approximately $14 billion. The outlook is for a further boost in 1966. Let's see why prospects are so favorable.

Farmers have not always participated as fully as other segments of the population during times of economic expansion. But in recent months, agricultural income has been bolstered by an especially strong demand for livestock. The country's large cattle supplies have been moving easily and quickly into consumer channels to satisfy the American appetite for beef. At the same time, a big jump has occurred in prices for pork and bacon because of a sharp cutback in the number of hogs farrowed.

THE BOOM in livestock reflects increases in the U.S. population, record employment, and still rising personal incomes which permit more leeway and discretion in food and other buying. These bullish factors should continue to operate throughout much, if not all, of 1966.

Although we are still plagued by surpluses of some agricultural products — which cost many, many millions of dollars to store under government price-support programs — these gluts are not as burdensome as they once were. Curiously enough, Uncle Sam's often half-baked farm price-support programs now look like they might pay off in an unexpected manner.

For a quarter of a century, the government tried to limit farm output of selected crops by paying a sort of bonus to farmers who would take land out of production. They assured these farmers that prices for the grains or other crops that they did harvest and put under loan with the government would not dip below certain realistic floors. The result was that farmers cut back their acreage, but then used every means possible to boost productivity. In many cases yields per acre have nearly doubled since 1945.

THIS ABILITY of our farmers to increase their productivity and to vary it as conditions warrant will stand us in good stead now. For we are on the threshold of a great expansion in demand for our farm products. There is a very good chance that total trade shipments of U.S. farm produce to foreign countries will set a new record this year. Increasing economic activity and rising incomes in Western Europe, Japan, and Canada will almost certainly be providing wider markets for our crops.

Over the longer pull the outlook is equally bright. Other nations besides us are in the grip of population explosion, and they will have to look to the large crop-producing countries for needed supplies. Soviet Russia, for example, may well be approaching the point where she cannot — on a regular, sustained basis — produce enough grains and feeds to take care of her own expanding population.

SPEAKING for The Record

By BILL SLIGER

The theme song for Monday night's meeting between city, township and school board members ought to have been "Why Don't We Do This More Often?"

It might be difficult to pin down any specific accomplishment, but a number of misunderstandings were clarified and some new ideas proposed.

If nothing results from the meeting, at least there's better understanding ... a common knowledge of the objectives and the problems standing in the way of accomplishment.

The above meeting is covered in a Record page one story. But it misses a point that occurred after the Monday night meeting ... a thought that appears almost too elementary to have been missed previously.

But its potential has merit that deserves school board consideration.

Why must the school site be located some 4,000 feet out West Eight Mile road from the new city limits?

The Northville board of education was given its choice of any 10 acres within the old Whipple Estate, now owned by the Salvation Army. The board, administrators and architect selected what it considered to be the best parcel - in the middle of the tract and not too far from its western extremity, Beck road.

The site respects the recommendation of the citizens' study committee and is nearly the desired one mile from American elementary. It's also located nicely for Taft Colony and Northville Estates subdivisions.

But how much difference would 3,000 feet make if water and sewer were readily available?

Tuesday morning I asked Henry Haberkorn, the school architect representing the firm of O'Dell, Hewlett and Luckenbach.

"If you are combining sewer with water, there's no question of the desirability of a change in site", he replied.

The school-board-employed architect strongly emphasized the undesirability of a septic field. He said the septic field would be a "continuing maintenance headache". And he noted that percolation tests at the site were less than the best.

Further, the architect noted that there are some traffic problems to be considered at the present site because of its lowness. It appears that a parcel next to the 35-acres recently annexed to the city to permit development of homes by Thompson - Brown would lie about where the old Whipple house once stood ... a high point on the land.

Haberkorn admitted that this might present some additional expense in engineering, but he said the same school plan could be placed on the site. And he added that the immediate prospect of city water and sewer service would be "well worth the board's investment."

Supervisor R. D. Merriam stated Monday night that he thought the township board would "go along" with annexation of the 10-acre school site into the city. If this is true, and the site could be moved next to the present city limits, then the school board could have water, sewer and, the frequently mentioned advantage of city police protection.

Mayor A. M. Allen said Tuesday that if the school site adjoined the present city limits, there would be no problem in providing service by mid-summer. And in the meantime, school contractors could tap into a Randolph road fire hydrant for construction water.

Perhaps after investigation the school board will discover reasons for not wanting to move the site; and maybe the Salvation Army will not permit the switch of sites (although the school board was offered its choice). At any rate, based upon the above facts it would seem that a long look should be given the proposal.

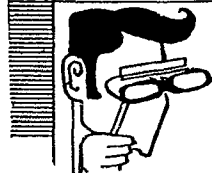

Such a move would not eliminate the prospect of a joint effort by the city and township of extending water service westward on Eight Mile at a future date.

I doubt if there's anyone optimistic enough to believe this could be accomplished in time for the proposed school opening.

The latest campaign by the Northville Area Economic Development Corporation is meeting with success says John Miller.

He's in charge of financing for the project to assist in the $200,000 expansion of Foundry Flask & Equipment Company. So far the local non-profit group has sold $25,000 worth of the six-per-cent debentures. There's another $15,000 to go.

It's explained in an advertisement on this page, if you're interested.

OUT OF THE PAST

ONE YEAR AGO

--City Assessor Harold Penn has recommended that the city council reappraise all city property. But before this is done Penn proposed to reduce the assessment on houses built since 1962 to bring them into line with those houses built prior to that year. The proposed reappraisal resulted from last year's board of review meetings when several complaints were heard from home owners in the newer subdivisions. The Council's approval makes way for the first reappraisal of city property in eight years.

--Icy weather and freezing temperatures did not stop the 130 women who carried on the Mothers March last Tuesday. Volunteers in the city and the township collected $1,525 to top last year's amount of $1,400.

--You can't knock the rock especially when he is a cat named "Rocky Calavito". The cat, which belongs to Eddie Kritch, age 8, of 806 Spring Drive, was shot in the neck, yet, it dragged itself home. After 10 days at the Northville Veterinary clinic, Dr. T. N. Heslip said that Rocky could go home. The cat had been shot in the neck with a .22 caliber slug which then traveled into his back.

--Winter taxes are rolling in, and acting city clerk of Wixom, Elizabeth Waara, couldn't be happier. When one taxpayer paid, 85% of the taxes were paid. The tab of $730,974 dollars was picked up by Ford Motor company. Total levy in Wixom is $761,731.

FIVE YEARS AGO

--The Northville Record received first place in a contest among weekly newspapers sponsored by the Michigan Press Association. The award for general excellence was presented at the 93rd annual convention held in East Lansing last week. This marks the second time in five years the Record has taken top honors in its circulation class.

--At Monday night's meeting of the Northville city council Mayor A. M. Allen will ask the members to seriously consider a resolution calling for an April election to form an area hospital authority. The decision to ask for the resolution grew out of a meeting last Friday in which representatives of five communities voted unanimously to ask their governing bodies to take similar action. The communities that have indicated immediate interest are Novi, Milford township, Farmington township and Northville city and township.

FIFTEEN YEARS AGO

--Cady street has a new look since Michigan Powdered Metal Products, Inc. bought the property which formerly housed the Northville foundry. The new owners have improved the property by tearing down the old buildings and renovating the one that was left standing. Also added was a parking lot. The firm which is owned by John Haller, specializes in making Haller oil well bearings.

--A new committee was added to the Northville Civil Defense at its meeting Friday night in the village hall. The canteen committee was added to lighten the load of the housing committee and to facilitate the preparation of food in case of an emergency. This week members of the Civil Defense are contacting groups in the village which have a knowledge of the preparation of large quantities of food so that a functional committee can be formed.

THIRTY YEARS AGO

--The village council Monday night okayed a ten year lease on the village property at Dunlap and Hutton streets for a Boy Scout house. Building will begin in the spring if the proposed lease is approved by the township board.

--Rehearsals are underway for a minstrel show sponsored by the Northville Rotary club. The performance will contain a cast of 30 in the presentation to be staged in the high school. Proceeds from the show are used for students who need loans to complete their college education. Musical director for the event is Percy Angove.
