

Randolph Hearing Set for Feb. 21

The Northville city council approved the assessment roll for the proposed Randolph street improvement Monday night and set Monday, February 21 as the night for a public hearing on confirmation of the roll.

Residents along the street who object to paying an assessment for the project have indicated they will bring suit against the city.

The residents, through their spokesman Mrs. Paul Steecken, claim that the improvement should be paid entirely from general funds because the road is a thoroughfare serving the entire community and does not require improvements for neighborhood use.

Fifty-one properties are listed on the assessment roll and will be subject to the 25 per cent assessment for front lot line improvement and 12 1/2 per cent for side yard line. The total of the 51 assessments is $17,772.12. The assessments range from a single high of $1,676.24 on the Steenken property to a low of $72.24. Average assessment is $340. Under the city's ordinance assessments may be paid over a 10-year period at a six per cent interest rate.

In other business Monday night the council took official action approving a one-half cent increase per 1,000 gallons of water in the county's sewage fee. It also approved sharing legal costs with the school district and Thompson-Brown company for abandonment of Bernhardt spring through the Oakland county circuit court.

Councilwoman Beatrice Carlson announced that plans for a Beautify Northville campaign were progressing and that an organizational meeting will be held in the council chambers at 2 p.m. on Saturday, February 26. Members of Mrs. Carlson's committee are W. C. Becker, Essie Nirdler, Mrs. William Slattery and Ed Welch.

Reorganization of Community Recreation Department Urged

Report Asks Budget Hike

A complete reorganization of the management procedures governing operation of Northville recreation program was recommended Monday night by Councilman Del Black.

In addition to budget increases, Black's report called for sweeping changes in management—including the proposal that the city take over direct operation of the joint city-township program.

The council's representative on the recreation commission, Black said his suggestions had the backing of other members of the commission.

In his report Black submitted a budget of $17,105, up some $4,000 from last year.

The city's direct share of the new budget would be $9,303, compared to $6,400 last year. The township, which heard the new budget proposed at its meeting last week, would pay $6,202 as its share of the proposed budget compared to $4,300 last year.

In the past the city and township have jointly operated the recreation program through a joint commission and its director, Ken Conley.

Because of the growth of the program, lack of sufficient help and a budget squeeze, Conley had recently indicated to the recreation commission that he was prepared to resign. The board asked that he reconsider until there was time to submit new budget proposals to the city council and township board.

Under the new budget the director would receive a $400 annual raise to $4,000 and an assistant director would be hired at $1,800.

Just before Black introduced his recommendations to the council a petition bearing the signatures of 51 members of the senior citizens club called upon the council to retain Conley as director and cited the outstanding work he had done for their organization.

The petition was also sent to the township board.

Black submitted the following recommendations from the recreation committee:

- 1 — The city should run the recreation department through city hall and the department records should be on file at city hall. The director, of course, would run the department.

2 — The City would hire all employees with the director choosing the personnel.

3 — All vouchers should be paid through the city office. (At present the committee treasurer pays all bills. These bills are paid from recreational department checks.)

4 — The city should take over the repair the maintenance of recreation building (including janitorial services).

5 — The city should handle purchase of all utilities.

Black told the council that the recreation program is "fast becoming a giant" and predicted that a full time director would be needed shortly. He said that, in his opinion, the recreation commission as appointed by the city council and township board should serve "as advisors and policy makers and not as administrators."

He also pointed to the cost of maintenance of the Cady street Scout building, headquarters for recreation activities. He said this cost should be added to the department budget and shared with the township under the same ratio as cost of the operating program is now financed.

Councilman Black said he would not oppose the township taking over administration of the recreation program because "either government body could better run the recreation department than under its present system."

The council praised Black's report and promised to give careful attention to the recommendations in its new budget.

When the recreation department budget was presented to the Northville township board, last week, it was received well but not immediately adopted.

The township portion calls for a $1,900 increase over the previous budget, to a $6,200 outlay. Recreation committee member Stan Johnston presented the request and answered numerous questions from the board members.

He explained that about two-fifths of the approximately 1,000 youths taking part last summer were from the township, and that budget increases this year are mainly for an additional supervisor and pay increases for present staff members.

"We're in danger of losing our people to better paying jobs," he said.

Roy Herald, a veteran in the program, is being considered for the $1,800 assistant's post. Other pay increases would be meted out to hourly paid personnel, largely on a scheduled basis for experience and schooling compensation.

The township must prepare its 1966-67 budget for approval at the annual meeting the first week in April. The city council prepares its budget in May for the fiscal year which begins July 1.

Cityhood, Sewers Studied in Novi

While Northville struggles with sewer, water, school and street improvement problems, Novi, too, is showing signs of growing pains.

City incorporation is one issue that will make its third attempt in Novi.

Leader of the cityhood drive in Novi is C. A. Smith, well-known, too, in Northville. Petitions have been submitted to the village council calling for an incorporation election, but Smith notes that the council has been urged to delay the date until after the March 8 village election to avoid confusion between village council and city charter commission candidates.

A May election date is anticipated. If the proposal wins voter approval, the village would continue to operate under its present status until elected charter commissioners had drafted a charter. If voters then approve the document, Novi would become a city.

Committee chairmen have already been named and a strong campaign is being outlined by proponents of the incorporation.

Novi has lost territory to both Wixom and Northville. Most notable was the incorporation of Wixom, which removed the huge Ford plant from the Novi tax rolls. Advocates of city incorporation point out that land losses can be curtailed by becoming a city.

Also in Novi a public hearing has been called on Monday to air plans for the extension of sewer lines to Connemara Hills subdivision.

The development of fine homes lies on the northern boundaries of the city of Northville along Taft road to Nine Mile.

The proposed project calls for extending a 15-inch line along Nine Mile road from Center street to the subdivision at an estimated cost of $280,000.

It is estimated by Novi officials that the assessment per lot in the 155-lot development for sewers, laterals, house-leads, etc., would be approximately $1,500.

Connemara has long had a problem of sanitary disposal. Its development was halted in 1958 when percolation tests showed the area generally unsuited to septic systems.

Presently, there are 27 homes in the 155-lot subdivision.

Buildings Face Fire Inspection

The city council gave approval Monday night to a request from the chamber of commerce for fire inspection tours of Northville's mercantile and public buildings.

The project had been proposed last year by the chamber, but failed to materialize. Dave Biery, new chairman of the project, said that details had been completed for professional inspection teams to examine local buildings March 23.

The inspections will be made with representatives of the local fire department so that they might observe any fire "trouble spots" firsthand, Biery stated.

At Amerman

New Principal Takes Over Post

Like most persons newly assigned to jobs in the Northville area, Keith Berkeley is looking for a home for his family.

He is the new principal of Amerman elementary school.

The 34-year-old professional administrator has a family of four: his wife Lesley, who is a registered nurse; Sabrina, 10 and a fifth grader; Keith, six and in the first grade; and John, a pre-schooler four. They live in Garden City now.

Berkeley took over Amerman duties from Ray Spear, who is now assistant superintendent. He was formerly elementary principal at North Dearborn Heights for three and one-half years. Prior to that he was a teaching principal in the Port Huron elementary school system for three years and began his career with a two-year stint there teaching the fourth grade.

He is a graduate of Wayne State University with a bachelor of science degree in education and a masters degree in elementary school administration and supervision.

Port Huron is his hometown and his high school alma mater. He has worked as a shirt store manager and department store men's wear buyer and served two years in the Army in Germany, where he and his wife lived with a German family and enjoyed a common interest—travel.

He bowls, plays golf and knows his way around most any position on a softball team.

Berkeley started at Amerman on January 31.

Tonight the Northville board of education will open bids for construction of the new Eight Mile road elementary school. While initial estimates of the cost of construction stood at $645,000, labor and material increases now bring these estimates to $660,000.

Although no official decision was reached Monday night by the city council in its efforts to determine whether or not it is possible to extend water service to the school site, hopes waned as it was learned that a proposed city-township effort was declined by the township.

The latter plan would have called for joint construction of a water line by city and township, or annexation to the city of some 90-acres on the south side of Eight Mile road between the city limits and Beck road so that the city could special assess both sides of the road.

It's Bid Night for New School

In studying possible costs Monday night the city council attempted to determine the division of costs on the basis of extending a 12-inch line to Beck road. Estimated cost of the installation is $67,900. Only properties on the north side of Eight Mile, plus the new Thompson-Brown development and school would contribute to the cost of the line.

The city has promised an answer to the school board by next Monday on costs of such a line.

Meanwhile, City Attorney Phillip Ogilvie was examining possible financing methods and is scheduled to report to the council this weekend.

Councilman John Canterbury wondered aloud Monday night as to the possibility that the school might consider a proposal to move its site eastward next to the city limits so that both water and sewer facilities would be more readily available.

There has been no official indication from the school board or administration that the proposal of changing sites will be considered.

But unofficially, strong opposition to any switch in location has been indicated from administration and board circles.

The proposal has brought favorable response, however, from both city and township officials.

Likewise, while the city council has made no final determination of the city's ability to extend water service to the school site, unofficially the prospects seem dim in the time remaining.

Cost of installing a septic field for the school has been estimated from $12,000 to $24,000, while the well and water system will cost an estimated $6,700.

School officials are still hopeful that the badly needed school building can be opened for the fall semester. But architects now admit that there is little hope the building can be completely finished by September.

Bid opening is scheduled for 8 p.m. at the board of education offices.

Drivers' License Sales Boom

Northville's police department is doing a booming business—in its drivers' license department.

With many area communities no longer issuing drivers' licenses because of the more complicated, photo-taking procedure Northville is finding its facilities taxed.

The council has noted, however, that legislation is pending at the state level to correct the problem.

Meanwhile, Police Chief David LaFond's report for January show that 89 original licenses were issued in January, 1966 compared to 17 last year; 568 operators' licenses were issued, compared to 194 last year; chauffers' licenses were 116 against 39; change of address, 78-38; written tests, 113 compared to less than 10; and temporary permits and road tests 32 and 48 compared to less than 10 each last year.

In other police affairs it was a relatively quiet month. Total calls were down from 459 to 420; animal complaints from 33 to 22; embezzlement from 6 to 1; family trouble from 3 to 1; disorderly conduct from 6 to 3; vandalism from 11 to 6; auto accidents from 19 to 10; and moving violations from 71 to 40.

On the upswing were: Wayne County Training School escapees from 0 to 17; Northville State Hospital escapees from 8 to 35; doors open, 14 to 24; and teletype service calls from 69 to 88.

GETTING ACQUAINTED—Former Amerman Principal Raymond Spear (right), now assistant superintendent, helps his successor, Keith Berkeley, get acquainted at Amerman elementary school. These kindergarten youngsters are doing their part, too, showing the new principal their "airport".

Livonia Still Eyes Township Parcel

The city of Livonia is still trying to find out whether or not it can obtain a new census and increase its share of tax refunds from the state by annexing a 10-acre section of Northville township.

Although there has never been an official approach made to the township on the matter, Supervisor R. D. Merriam told the board last December that Mayor Harvey Moelke of Livonia had proposed the idea. The 10-acres is located in the southeast corner of the township near Haggerty and the proposed route of the new expressway.

Last week the Livonia council called for an attorney general's opinion to determine if changing its borders by annexation can require a new census of the city. If so, the council believes additional revenues from state gasoline, highway and sales would be gained because of the city's growth since the 1960 census.

The township board was somewhat cool to the proposal, but requested that Livonia submit its proposal through the township attorney.

'Philadelphia Lady' Coming to Northville

Arrangements are being finalized by the Alpha Nu chapter of Delta Kappa Gamma International society for the presentation of the 57-minute film, "Lady from Philadelphia," with Marion Anderson at 8 p.m. April 11 in the Northville high school auditorium.

Plan Films

Northville Historical society will highlight its February meeting at 8 p.m. Tuesday with the showing of three films from the Wayne County film library in the junior high library.

Two of the films have historical subjects: "Canals -- Townships West" and "Rural Buildings in America." The third, "American Cities," shows development and planning for better cities. Mrs. L. K. Edgerton, publicity chairman, announces that the public is invited to share this program.

Miss Anderson's "See It Now" film tour of Southern Asia made for the State Department reveals not only her "rare gift as one of the world's greatest singers," Miss Ruth Knapp, chairman, points out, but also shows "her equally inspiring ability to communicate through spoken words." Miss Anderson made this trip between 1957 and 1960, Miss Knapp reports, adding that the film is being brought here for all local groups to see as guests of the Alpha Nu chapter.

Karen Sue Hembrey Tops Homemakers

Karen Sue Hembrey, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. F. W. Hembrey, 9300 Napier road, Northville, has been named this year's Betty Crocker Homemaker of Tomorrow for Northville high school. Announcement was made this week by General Mills, Inc., that she scored highest in a written knowledge and attitude examination taken as a member of the high school's Future Homemakers' association.

She was one of 14 girls in the club, open to any senior girl interested in economics, who entered, according to Miss Meroe Stanley, sponsor. She now is eligible for state and national awards ranging from $500 to $5,000. Miss Stanley reports the state's four top ranking girls receive the awards and go on to national competition. Miss Hembrey's entry has been sent on for state competition, and will be judged competitively. This Friday she and Susan Hill have been invited to take tests at Michigan State University for its Distinguished Alumni Scholarship.

In Our Town

By Jean Day

'LOVE ON A BUDGET' -- program theme for next Monday's meeting of the Northville Branch, Woman's National Farm and Garden association, takes appropriate note of the date. Past President Mrs. George Kohs will demonstrate the making of corsages and special holiday floral arrangements.

Mrs. Kohs is opening her stately Victorian home at 473 Cady street for the program and a Victorian Bouquet Tea at 12:30 p.m. Mrs. Jack Scanlin is chairman of the tea committee. The Valentine party also will include a white elephant gift exchange for members.

VALENTINE WEEK hospitality also is to include a festive punch-bowl welcome, an innovation at the celebrity luncheon to follow Fulton Lewis III's lecture at Northville Town Hall at 11 a.m. Thursday in the P and A theatre. The celebrity luncheon will be held at the new Mayflower Meeting House on the second level of the Plymouth Chamber of Commerce building opposite the Mayflower hotel in Plymouth. This also is to be the location of the March 17 luncheon following Vance Packard's town hall appearance.

Mrs. Duane Butler, town hall luncheon reservations chairman, is accepting reservations through next Monday for the luncheon. She reports that reservations automatically are made for the 200 town hall members who have permanent reservations but points out that the reservation should be cancelled by Monday if it is not to be used. The Mayflower Meeting House, she says, is in the same colonial feeling as the "parent" Mayflower hotel with soft crystal chandeliers and period decor. Mrs. Wilson Tyler is luncheon arrangements chairman. Mrs. William Soellner will be hostess at the speaker's table, with Mrs. Gene Karrer serving as chairman of luncheon hostesses.

At Thursday's town hall, Fulton Lewis III will be speaking on problems of today's youth in "Revolt on Campus." Because of this emphasis, 20 Northville high school students have been invited to attend the lecture. Mrs. James Tellam will be transportation hostess to the speaker with Mrs. Clifton Hill in charge of theatre arrangements and Mrs. Ted Marzonie, theatre ushers.

NORTHVILLE STATE HOSPITAL Auxiliary's annual birthday luncheon is scheduled for 12:30 p.m. Tuesday in A-building cafeteria. Reservations are being taken by Mrs. Charles Fountain, Mrs. Robert Lang, auxiliary president, will moderate a panel discussion on the proposed quarter-million dollar inter-denominational chapel for the hospital. The auxiliary, she reports, already made a kick-off presentation of $500 at Christmas to the fund which now totals $1,500. Serving on the panel will be Dr. Richard Lilly, Rabbi Solomon Gruskin, Father Paul Lederman, Mrs. Eleanor Nelson, Reverend George Jerome and William Cook, community relations director for Ypsilanti state hospital, whose three-denominations-in-one chapel the group hopes to pattern Northville's after.

At present, Mrs. Lang says, clergy go into the wards or use the hospital auditorium for services.

The auxiliary also reports another project, the hospital gift shop, ended the year by breaking sales records. Its Christmas business topped the previous year's by almost $500 for a December sales total of $2,347. This success, gift shop chairman Mrs. James Sugrue and Mrs. Rae Pearlman point out, enabled the starter gift for the chapel as well as the annual gift of $500 to the patients' indigent fund.

DIAMONDS MAY BE a girl's best friend, but Northville Woman's club speaker Mrs. Patricia H. Breen, a stockbroker with Merrill Lynch, Pierce, Fenner and Smith, Incorporated, chooses stocks instead, pointing out, "I like to have my money work for me." In her talk last Friday the tanned, blonde stock broker encouraged women to study the stock market, saying that she finds women do very well in it as they are willing to take the time to compare and make "good shoppers."

Mrs. Breen, who is one of the city's few women stock brokers, has 1400 clients, with 800 of them active traders, she said. She had just returned from a vacation in Mexico and confessed she last year took a financial "flyer" in the market that provided a trip to Europe -- a glittering dividend!

Fulton Lewis III Coming to Town Hall

Fulton Lewis III, controversial spokesman for conservatism, will be the speaker at the third Northville Town Hall Thursday, February 17. He will be on stage at the P & A Theatre at 11 a.m.

"The Revolt on Campus," problems of today's youth, will be the topic presented by Lewis. He is currently National field director and a member of the board of directors of Young Americans for Freedom, the nation's largest conservative youth organization.

Lewis will be introduced to the Town Hall audience by Thomas Roberts, director of audio visual education at Wayne State University, announced Town Hall President Mrs. William R. Slattery. Born in Washington, D.C. in 1935, Lewis graduated from Charlotte Hall Military Academy and spent his college years at the University of Virginia, where he majored in speech and political science and earned his degree in 1957.

His first employment was as news director of an upstate New York radio station. During this period, he compiled, at the request of the local board of education, a study of communist penetration and influence in public school libraries, a study which has been widely published and distributed through the Nation. It showed shocking statistics concerning the number and nature of books, authored by Communist Party members and members of front organizations, which were present in the libraries of our public schools.

In 1959 he was hired by the House Committee on Un-American Activities of the United States Congress, and was appointed a research director, the youngest person to hold this title.

During the next two years, he accompanied the Committee on all its hearings, including the exciting Puerto Rican hearings in 1959 and the now-famous hearings in San Francisco in May, 1960 when the student riots and demonstrations occurred. Lewis was an eye-witness and subsequently interviewed many of the participants of the riots.

In June 1960, Lewis was assigned by the House Committee to be narrator and technical director of its film report on the San Francisco hearings—a film entitled "Operation Abolition." This film was destined to become the most talked-about and controversial documentary ever produced. It has been viewed by over 38 million Americans around the country.

It was partially because of this controversy that Lewis resigned from his Committee post in 1961, to embark on a nationwide speaking tour (primarily of college campuses) "to defend the committee on Un-American activities and its film from a well-organized and dynamic campaign of attack from the Left," says Lewis. Later he began to broaden his speaking topics, and today addresses audiences on subjects ranging from the House Committee on Un-American Activities to issues dealing with U.S. foreign policy, the philosophy of American conservatism, its rise on American campuses, Communist subversive tactics at home and abroad, plus a number of other subjects.

In addition, Lewis has engaged a number of the country's most outspoken liberals in public debate. Included among these are Norman Thomas (whom Mr. Lewis debated at Yale University); Michael Harrington of the Socialist Party (whom Mr. Lewis has debated 17 times); Frank Donner, author of "The Un-Americans," Joseph

Fulton Lewis III

Rauh, a founder of the Americans for Democratic Action, as well as various directors and leaders of the American Civil Liberties Union, The National Council of Churches and the American Association for the United Nations.

All in all, the youthful spokesman for conservatism has appeared on over 500 college campuses, speaking to an estimated college audience of over one quarter million students. He has also spoken to hundreds of civic, business, social and patriotic organizations.

The blonde, blue-eyed and handsome young Lewis has appeared on such national television programs as David Susskind's "Open End," David Brinkley's "Journal," NBC-TV's "Today" show.

He also frequently substitutes for his father, Fulton Lewis Jr., on the latter's news commentary program emanating from Washington, D.C. The younger Lewis also makes his home in Washington, where he is in a position to keep close contact with the news and the events behind the news. He has been a contributor to the National Review Magazine, Human Events, The New Guard Magazine and other journals.

Mrs. Edgerton Heads 3 Cities

New officers of the Three Cities Art Club assumed their posts at the club's monthly meeting Tuesday night in the Plymouth credit union building. Mrs. Kate Edgerton, of Northville, is president, having been elected on a slate presented to the membership last month.

Other officers are Franklin York, vice-president; Mitzie Hale, corresponding secretary; Anne Gentry, recording secretary; Mary Engstrom, treasurer; Marie Bonamico and Roy Pederson, members-at-large. Program chairman is Mabel Bacon; membership, Jessie Hudson; library, Miss Engstrom.

Alice Hosback Leaving School

Miss Alice Hosback, who has served two Northville superintendents of schools during her 14 years and 4 months with the Northville school system is resigning as secretary to Superintendent Alexander M. Nelson effective February 18.

Miss Hosback recalled that when she became secretary to former Superintendent Russell

H. Amerman in October, 1951, there was no other help in the office. She served as his secretary until his retirement last July, and since has been Nelson's secretary.

Before beginning a new position next month, Miss Hosback said she plans a week's vacation in Canada. She lives in Livonia with her mother and sister.

Women Respond To Trim Drills

A total of 49 Northville-area women reported for the first "trim up" calisthenics session held Monday night in the junior high girls' gymnasium under sponsorship of the Northville recreation association.

The group exercised under the direction of Miss Patsy Kollen of South Lyon, who is a gymnasium teacher at Bentley High school in Livonia. An hour of volley ball followed.

Mrs. Eugene Guido, who was inspired to try to get such a group together to "fight results of holiday indulgences", reported that 31 women paid their dues of $5 for a series of 12 meetings and that others planned to pay at the next weekly session. She said there still are openings for anyone interested. The exercises follow the Canadian Royal Air Force book so that they also can be done at home. The meetings are at 8 p.m. each Monday.

Selling Cakes For Santa Suits

A bake sale to be held by Mizpah circle, King's Daughters, beginning at 9:30 a.m. February 18 in Northville branch of the Manufacturer's National bank will raise funds for a Christmas project. Among the volunteer projects of King's Daughters at the Ann Arbor Children's hospital is an annual Christmas party. It was found during the holidays just past that new Santa suits are needed by Christmas 1966.

Mizpah circle hopes to earn enough in the bake sale to purchase material for two suits, which an Ann Arbor circle has volunteered to make. Mrs. Douglas Bolton is bake sale chairman.

Cop District Debate Title

Northville upheld its winning debate tradition last Saturday when it won the district title at Ann Arbor.

Debating three rounds apiece, the affirmative team of Glen Deibert and Larry Thibos collaborated with the negative team of Sue Conley and Meg Becker to register the district win.

Northville thus earned a trip to the regionals to be held February 17 at Ypsilanti.

WANTED: ANY INFORMATION or clues to the person who knocked down our mail and paper boxes Sunday night. Ray Honsinger, 8 Mile and Currie road, 349-0191.

Official Northville Township Minutes

Township Hall, Tuesday, February 1, 1966. Meeting called to order 8 p.m. Members present: R. D. Merriam, Supervisor, Marguerite N. Young, Clerk; Alex M. Lawrence, Treasurer; Wilson D. Tyler, Trustee; James H. Tellam, Trustee.

Consultant: Mr. John Ashton, Twp. Attorney; visitors: Mr. Stan Johnston, Recreation committee; Mr. Pajot of the Northville Record.

Minutes of the regular township board meeting of January 4, 1966, were reviewed and accepted as written.

The Treasurer's report for January 1966, was read, discussed and accepted.

The following were reviewed: Northville Township office receipts for January 1966, $713.25; Water & Sewer Commission receipts for January 1966 $2,353.67; Northville Township bills payable $3,538.85; Water & Sewer Commission bills payable (including principal & interest on Spec. Assess. Bonds W-1) $2,587.19. Tyler moved, supported by Tellam, the payment of all bills. Motion carried.

Building Inspector's report for January 1966 was reviewed.

Planning Commission minutes of January 25, 1966 listing the changes that had been made to the proposed new zoning map were discussed.

Appeal Board minutes of January 5, 1966 were accepted. New Business

3. At this time Mr. Stan Johnston was asked to place his business before the board. He discussed the Recreation Committee's budget for the year 1966-67 explaining the different budget items and why the committee was asking for an increase of $1900 from the township for operation of the program.

After lengthy discussion, it was decided to carry the matter for consideration when preparing the township budget for 1966-67.

Correspondence:
 1. Letter - Representative Weston R. Vivian - stating that he had been informally assured by the Dept. of the Interior that the fish hatchery will be declared surplus property and was hopeful that the property could be obtained for the citizens of Northville township and city.

2. Letter - Oakland County Road Commission - responding to the township's request of Dec. 17, 1965 for signs at Eight Mile and Westview drive and stating that there were many such situations within the county and it not being the policy of the Oakland County Road Commission to erect warning signs in advance of an intersection of a subdivision street and a Main County road, denying the request.

3. Resolution - City of Ecorse: return to communities portion of Federal Income Tax. No action.

Old Business:
 1. Board meeting table purchase.

Board members were informed that a number of office equipment companies had been contacted and also a cabinet maker. Gregory & Leonard Office Equipment Co. had available a folding 10 foot table, boat shape, which would answer the need of the Planning Commission and township board, priced at $588. After discussion, it was decided to postpone purchase until the March meeting.

New Business:
 1. Appointments to Township Election Canvassing Board.

Tellam moved the reappointment of Eugene S. Guido, Demop-crat and Dwight Grayson, Republican to the Northville Township Election Canvassing, each for a four year term starting January 1966. Tyler seconded. Motion carried.

2. Contract with Victor Corporation covering adding machine. After due consideration, Tyler moved the adoption of the Victor Corp contract covering the adding machine for one year. Tellam seconded. Motion carried.

4. Supervisor Merriam advised the Board that the disposal field of the house two doors north of Bohl's restaurant on Northville road was running over and crossing into the neighbor's yard. Mr. Adelson from Wayne County Board of Health had checked it with him on Friday, Jan. 28, and Mr. Mosher had also checked it with him. The Wayne County Board of Health advised the owner that he would either have to fill his front yard and put in a larger field or he would have to install a sewer line to the interceptor. Mr. Merriam suggested that the township run a sewer line from the north end of this property across two building lots south and cross under Northville road and hook into the 6" sewer line owned by Bohl's restaurant. This, if Mr. Bohl would agree to same. The estimated cost was $3,000 which would cover 100 feet of sewer line plus two manholes and charge made by Mr. Bohl for use of his line. Mr. Merriam further stated that the property owner was unable to pay cash for this installation and asked Mr. Ashton to investigate the legal aspects for time payments.

A Special meeting will be held on Saturday, Feb. 12, 1966, at 10:00 a.m. for further discussion of this problem.

5. Adequate water for new Elementary school on W. Eight Mile road. Supervisor Merriam brought under discussion water for the new Elementary school, briefing Trustee Tellam and Treasurer Lawrence, who were unable to attend the Monday night meeting with the city and school board, on the possible ways discussed for getting water to the school and cost of same. The city engineer had estimated a cost of $67,000 for a 12" line with 30 pounds pressure. Mr. Mosher, Twp. Engineer had estimated a cost of $80,000 for a 16" line and a pumping station at a cost of $35,000 to insure 40 pounds pressure, which the school board stated they needed. There was discussion of sharing the cost of the 16" line with the city so that the township would have ample water to serve Maybury Sanatorium property later when needed. However, there was question of how this could be financed. General opinion was that the school board should go ahead with the drilling of their well at the cost of $6,700 and they would be assured of adequate pressure from their own pumps.

This matter will be taken up again at the special meeting of the township board to be held on February 12, 1966 and the school advised at that time of the township board's final decision.

Trustee Tellam stated that he had received a call from a township resident who was unhappy about treatment received from a building inspector. General discussion followed.

No further business, meeting was adjourned at 11:05 p.m.

Marguerite N. Young, Clerk

Mustangs Lead League All Alone

FOULED—Mustang Cager John Jameson missed the basket but converted the free throw when his Milford opponent was called for hacking.

Squeeze Past Brighton, 59-57

A more crucial basket Northville's sophomore cager, Nelson Hyatt, will never make. He flipped one through the nets with just two seconds left in the game to give Northville a 59-57 hair-raising victory at Brighton Tuesday.

The win kept Coach Dave Longridge's cagers in first place in the hectic Wayne-Oakland Conference, and set the stage for a harrowing league finish. With three games remaining, Northville leads the pack with a 10-2 record, followed closely by Bloomfield Hills, 9-3. Clarkston is 8-4.

The Mustangs' lead will be in jeopardy the rest of the way, for they must face Clarkston here tomorrow night, then on successive Fridays take on Bloomfield Hills at home and West Bloomfield on the road.

In another vital game Tuesday night, Bloomfield Hills whipped Holly, 65-58, to challenge for the loop lead.

In Northville's only Tuesday night league game of the season, Northville and Brighton played see-saw, with neither team able to generate enough offense to pull into a substantial lead. Both teams had their opportunities with five-point leads, only to lose them.

Victory hung on every point, but it was Hyatt's heroics that pulled this one out for the Mustangs. The sophomore transfer student, who just became eligible at the start of the new semester, came off the bench within the last two minutes to top the ball in for a 54-51 lead.

After Brighton had scored, Hyatt came back with a jumper, and Forward Mark Cushing added a free throw to provide a 57-53 margin. But Brighton scored twice, the last time on a steal with 27 seconds left to knot the game at 57-all.

Longridge called timeout with eight seconds left to set up a play. On the out-of-bounds play, Forward Steve Evans raced across the key to get the pass, but no one was open. He shoveled the ball to Hyatt, who leaped high and hit the jumper. The game ended before Brighton could get the ball out of its back court.

Down Milford Easily, 66-49

Northville and Clarkston entered Friday night's League wars deadlocked for first place, but when the last shot had been fired, Northville once again had sole possession of first place.

Northville took care of its end by beating a stubborn Milford outfit, 66-49, but Bloomfield Hills, which has been coming on late in the season like a house afire, shot down the high flying Wolves from Clarkston, 60-56.

That turn of events gave Northville first place with eight wins against two losses, while Clarkston slid into a second-place tie with Bloomfield Hills. Both had 7-3 records.

It was a battle for the boards with spirited Milford Friday night, and not until the final period did the Mustangs come up with the clincher, an eight point spurt.

Northville led by as much as 13 points after breaking a 10-10 tie in the first quarter, but Milford kept within range, trailing by only seven points with five minutes left in the game.

Forward Mark Cushing put the Mustangs eight points up, 51-43 by converting a free throw. That ignited Northville's scoring drive.

Jim Zayti, who played both guard and forward, tallied on a dog shot underneath, Forward Jerry Inslund flipped in a jumper, then Guard John Jameson hit a jumper and converted a free throw to give Northville an insurmountable 58-43 lead in the fourth quarter.

Northville was given plenty of trouble under the boards, even though the local cagers had a height advantage. It was Center John Griffin, a 6'5" 250-pounder, playing his finest game of the season who gave the Mustangs fits.

Griffin grabbed 14 rebounds and tallied 12 points, his best scoring effort of the year.

Once again it was Inslund, the burly 6'2" senior who led the Mustangs. Playing his second game from a forward spot where his soft jumper gives Northville a key outside threat, he scored 23 points and rebounded effectively.

He got good support from his teammates, including Jameson who garnered 11 points, Zayti and Steve Evans and Mark Hyatt eight apiece.

Sophomore Hyatt was a bright spot in the Mustang lineup. Having sat out the first semester as an ineligible transfer student, he came off the bench to flip in two field goals in three attempts. In the second half he added two more.

He took a last-second shot at the half which sliced through the net to give Northville, a 36-28 lead, and what's more, the basket provided a psychological lift.

And his presence promises to make the Northville attack more versatile. Touted by Longridge as a good outside shooter, Hyatt can replace Zayti at guard for duty at forward.

In other contests Friday night, Holly continued its strong play by handing West Bloomfield its fifth straight loss, 75-60, and Clarenceville turned back Brighton, 74-68.

Title's on Line

The next three games will make or break Northville, and tomorrow night's contest here with Clarkston shapes up as the most important game Northville has played all year.

If the Mustangs can just repeat an earlier season victory over Clarkston, they may clinch a tie for the Wayne-Oakland Conference title.

A packed house is expected for the battle which is scheduled to get underway shortly after the JV game. The JVs play at 6:30 p.m. Clarkston should prove anything but a pushover, even though Northville beat the Wolves with surprising ease in the first encounter at Clarkston, 74-63.

Coach Dave Longridge will employ the same strategy that turned the trick the last time. "We'll use a zone with emphasis on Fife's (Forward Dan Fife) side of the floor."

Fife, just a junior, is the scoring phenom of the W-O. He holds a better than 30-point average, and he has scored from every conceivable angle—driving, jumping, hooking. You name it, he can do it.

Last time Northville's strategy worked to perfection. Northville concentrated on Fife, and playing under terrific pressure, he fouled out in the first few seconds of the fourth quarter to wipe out any comeback chance. Northville led at that point by 15 points, but with Fife in the lineup, Clarkston was far from dead.

Northville also hopes to put the clamps on Rod Allen, the second leading Clarkston scorer. He, too, fouled out of the first encounter in the fourth quarter, after scoring only six points.

If Northville upends Clarkston, the Mustangs will boast a 10-2 record. Clarkston will be 8-4 with two games remaining.

Another big battle will be taking place at Holly tomorrow night, the result of which means much to Northville. Bloomfield Hills (8-3) will play Holly (7-4), and a loss by Bloomfield will give Northville a share of the title.

Northville will have two games remaining: Bloomfield Hills here the following Friday, then West Bloomfield on the road.

Matmen Pin South Lyon For Fourth Season Win

The Northville matmen posted their fourth win of the season last Thursday when they dumped South Lyon, 34-13, at South Lyon in the second meeting of the two teams. Northville has lost seven times.

South Lyon topped the Mustangs in only three weight divisions, while hanging on for a draw in another. Northville won eight matches.

Chuck Keegan, at 95 pounds, started things rolling for the Mustangs by taking a 6-2 decision from Dave Taulbee. Chuck Olewnik (112 pounds) and South Lyon's Bill Zentner fought to a 6-6 draw.

Then Northville opened up a comfortable lead by winning the next three matches. Tom Wright (120) decisioned Mark Yarger, 6-2, Dennis Cook (127) blanked Lon Potter, 6-0, and Pat Jones (133) pinned Jim Hook.

Brian Lott, a veteran Lion wrestler at 138 pounds, beat Devreux Earl, 13-0, and Gary Wickersham upended Dale Ashby (145), 7-4.

Northville put together three pins in a row to ice the meet. Bob Harrison (154) pinned Kent Bailo, Bob Sprenger (165) pinned Carl Heidt and Dan Conklin (180) pinned John Riordan.

Larry James posted the last points for the Lions by pinning Vic Carter in the heavyweight division.

"Both teams fought hard," said Northville Coach Jack Townsley. "They showed vast improvement over performances in the previous meet."

In an invitational held January 29 at Our Lady of Sorrows school in Detroit, Northville tied with Our Lady of Sorrows for third place. Four teams were entered, including Walled Lake, which won first place, and Clarenceville.

Chuck Keegan, wrestling at 95 pounds, took the only first place for Northville. Finishing second were Wright (120) and Sprenger (154). Baber (103), Marty Richardson (112), Harrison (145) and Jones (133) all took third places.

Kucher's Crew Clinches Crown

The Northville Colts ensured a share of first place in the Wayne-Oakland Conference Friday night by whipping Milford, 69-35, a team that had given the Colts bitter tussle in their first encounter.

No other JV team in the league has less than four losses, while the local jayvees are 10-0. Northville is now 12-2 overall.

Northville clinched at least a share of the JV title by grabbing the opening tip-off and tallying four times for a 8-0 lead before Milford could even get the ball over the center line.

Those pressing tactics, which have proved so successful all season long, paid off again. And although Milford was well aware of Northville's strategy, it was helpless to stop the speedy Colts. Center Jim Peterson scored 13 points in the first quarter to lead Northville to a 29-5 lead. He scored 26 points for the night.

Milford never recovered as Northville kept pressing its advantage to walk off with a 49-14 lead at halftime. Guard Dennis Matthews took four shots and hit four from outside and Peterson did the same under the basket to pace the second period attack.

Coach Bob Kucher took off the press and substituted freely in the third and fourth quarters, but his cagers still kept Milford at a safe distance.

It was a complete reversal of the first encounter between the two teams. In that one, Northville raced to a 20-point lead at intermission, but Milford came back to make a close game of it before succumbing in the final moments. Northville won by 11.

The Go-Go boys, Northville's JVs, kept their unblemished record clean and won the junior varsity championship Tuesday by thumping Brighton 68-39.

Victory was never in doubt as Coach Bob Kucher's cagers pressed Brighton to leap into a 38-17 lead at halftime. The Colts now are 11-0 in the Wayne-Oakland Conference and 13-2 over-all.

CIRCUS-BOUND service girls from Main street elementary school are counted by Mrs. Jan Hobart, fourth grade teacher in charge of the service organization, as they board a bus for the trip to Detroit's Shrine circus Monday afternoon. Amerman service girls are scheduled to attend the event today.

School Service Girls Attend Shrine Circus

More than 150 service girls from Main street and Amerman schools were scheduled to be guests at the Shrine circus in Detroit this week. The reward for their service has been given annually for several years by a

Shriner, Albert E. Hackett, of Eight Mile road. He usually accompanies the girls on their trip, but due to the death of his wife last Sunday was not with them this year. Two bus loads of 79 Main street elementary service girls attended the performance Monday. They were accompanied by Mrs. Jan Hobart, fourth grade teacher in charge of the service girl organization, Mrs. Judy O'Brian, another teacher, and four mothers, Mrs. Donald Meek, Mrs. John Pappin, Mrs. E. O. Weber and Mrs. Elwyn Kaake.

Approximately 75 Amerman service girls are scheduled to attend the circus today, accompanied by Mrs. Carol Godwin, teacher-in-charge of service girls, and Mrs. Kenneth Morse, service girl mother, who will be assisted by six other mothers.

Fire Halts Wixom Ford Plant Work

Wixom and Novi fire departments assisted in extinguishing "a good, hot blaze" at the Wixom Ford plant Saturday morning. Sent home were 2,000 workmen. The fire, which broke out around exhaust fans in a small parts paint spray booth, was put out approximately one hour after firemen arrived. Alarm went out at 9:45 a.m.

A total of approximately 30 firemen fought the second story fire and six engines including a truck each from the Commerce and Walled Lake fire departments. Cause of the fire and cost of damages has not been determined.

According to Wixom Fire Chief Robert Potter, "other firemen were released when the fire was extinguished and Wixom firemen stayed another hour to help clean up. It was a real hot one," he added.

The blaze started around the exhaust fans, a part of the small parts booth, and went up the smoke stacks to the roof, Potter reported. It did not reach the roof, he said.

Fatal Crash Motorist On Probation

A Southfield man, who was involved in a fiery automobile collision that led to the death of a Northville man, was sentenced to two years probation and no driving or drinking on a reduced charge of negligent homicide.

Originally charged with manslaughter, Robert Oak, of 22200 Carlton, was found guilty in Wayne County Circuit court. The accident occurred April 9, 1965.

The car he was driving east on Main street collided with a car heading west and driven by James Lalewicz, 21, who was boarding at 111 South Wing street. Lalewicz was employed by the A & P store in Plymouth.

According to witnesses, Oak was driving at a high rate of speed, crossed the center line, and hit the car driven by Lalewicz.

Both cars hit a nearby light pole, shearing it off and snapping a high power line, police reported. Lalewicz' compact car with the gas tank in front burst into flames and he was burned badly, police said.

Coroner's report said that Lalewicz had succumbed before the fire.

SELF ANALYSIS QUIZ How Well Can You Look Ahead?

By Jane Sherrod Singer
One very wise man once said, "to be forewarned is to be forearmed." While this is very true, the ability to look ahead to events or happenings is even a greater talent, one that can, fortunately, be trained. Let this quiz help you along the path of anticipation.
1. Are you usually without debts (even minor ones)? () ()
2. Do you make it a practice of thinking before you give a reaction? () ()
3. Do you have many accidents, even minor ones? () ()
4. Do you plan your day in advance? () ()
5. Do you often make notes, lists, and jot down reminders? () ()
6. Do you enjoy crossword puzzles? () ()
7. Without checking your watch, can you usually give the time correctly (within 20 minutes)? () ()
8. Do your friends and associates usually react as you expect them to? () ()
9. Do people often come to you for advice and counsel? () ()
10. When seeing a film or reading a book, are you usually correct in how you think it will end? () ()
11. In planning a party, a meeting, a session of some kind in which you must take charge, do you think through the details rather than relying on things to develop on their own? () ()
12. Are you seldom incorrectly dressed for the weather or the occasion? () ()
13. In situations of success (or failure), do you attempt to find the reasons? () ()
14. Do you sincerely try to understand your friends, family and associates? () ()
15. Do you seldom find yourself needing certain essentials (change, paper, pencils, stockings, food for unannounced guests, etc.)? () ()
SCORING: Give yourself 2 points for each YES answer.
ANALYSIS:
0 to 10 points: You act rashly and with little pre-thought. You are likely to land in some mudholes of difficulties. Slow down and THINK.
12 to 20 points: You take life as it comes, and sometimes it hands you a rough blow. You are often "surprised" and not always happily so. With your strong points, however, research shows that you can develop your abilities to anticipate.
22 to 28 points: You are seldom ruffled by unexpected events. Since you usually know what will or could happen, your abilities to predict have given you confidence in most unforeseen situations.
30 points: You must have a crystal ball, be a descendant of the seventh son of the seventh son . . . and the weather forecasters are looking for just such a person as you!

from the PASTOR'S STUDY

Reverend James Andrews
Full Salvation Union

There is a world-wide religious reformation now in progress that may eclipse all former ones in its scope and results. Dialogue and exchange of views are more and more taking place among different branches of Christians who have divided in their religious ideas and practices. This collaboration now includes not only Christians but also Jews and the followers of other religions. It is hoped that out of this spirit of Ecumenism will come a "Body of Anointed Ones" perfectly joined together in the same mind and in the same judgment wherein all will speak the same thing, which will be the mind of God as it is revealed in connection with such activity as is now going on. To have true Ecumenism there must of necessity be a commitment to the mind of God as it is revealed in such Ecumenism rather than to continue to be committed to the Mind of God as it has been revealed in any particular religious tradition. This means that Roman Catholics and Protestants and Jews and Mohammedans and Buddhists and all others who are now involved in the reformation must be willing to lay their "Isaacs" - ie. - religious ideas and practices, on the altar of perfect surrender to that fuller revelation of God which is now being made known, that they all may be made One in "Full Salvation Union". Until there is union there is no full salvation. This does not mean the forming of one gigantic religious organization but the birth of a living organism perfectly joined together in the revelation of God's mind as it is revealed in this spirit of togetherness that the anguish of the human condition may be alleviated. It is not necessary that any particular understanding of truth and righteousness shall prevail but only that God's kingdom shall come and His will be done in earth as it is in heaven. Who will give themselves to the attainment of such exalted reality?

Quiz Yourself On Smoking

Are you up to date on the facts on smoking? Find out by taking this short true or false quiz:
1. The chances of getting lung cancer from smoking are the same no matter HOW much you smoke.
2. Filtered cigarettes protect you from inhaling cancer-producing substances.
3. Lung cancer is the only medical problem associated with smoking.
4. Smoking is safe if you don't inhale.
Following are the answers:
1. False. There's a direct ratio between how much you smoke and your chances of getting lung cancer. For example, people who smoke half a pack of cigarettes a day are eight times more susceptible to lung cancer than non-smokers; while those smoking two packs a day are 20 times more susceptible.
2. False. While filters trap some of the cancer-producing products, enough of them pass through to do deadly damage.
3. False. Smoking also is known to cause chronic and sometimes dangerous respiratory diseases... inflamed, irritated nasal passages... and chronic bronchitis. In addition, the nicotine in cigarettes has a tendency to open up, or dilate, the small blood vessels of the face. This action can produce flushing which aggravates common skin problems such as acne in teenagers.
One of the most dangerous diseases traced to smoking is emphysema, a disabling and often fatal disease that currently afflicts 10 million Americans of all ages. Emphysema is a loss of elasticity of the small air sacs in the lungs. The patient can no longer exhale as much as he used to, so that too much "used air" remains in the lungs.
Result: The lungs have to work up to three times harder and still don't supply enough vital oxygen. The patient feels sluggish and irritable. Added to his miseries are the almost constant but futile efforts to cough up mucus.
Right now, there is no cure for emphysema; however, breathing exercises and oxygen therapy can help the patient get along on his inadequate air supply.
4. True, but only to a point. Even if the smoke is held in the mouth and then blown out, dangerous tars remain in the mouth.
How did you do on the test?

One Man Looks At The World ...

... and it makes him sick!
Another looks at the world and his heart stirs with hope.
The first has seen only the world itself . . . full of evil, injustice, ugliness, pain.
The second has seen more than the world. He has seen God . . . Who is not content with the world as it is . . . Who offers men the spiritual tools with which to change their earthly environment . . . Who promises divine help and lasting reward.
For the man who is tired of scowling at life the Church has a message . . . and a mission.

SAN ANTONIO, Tex. - Airman Jerry L. Raymor, son of Mr. and Mrs. Gerald B. Raymor of 9218 Six Mile road has been selected for training at Lowry AFB, Colorado as an Air Force munitions specialist. PTA FOUNDERS' DAY speaker Herbert A. Auer (right) is welcomed to the second Founders' day dinner, sponsored by Northville's four PTA groups, last Wednesday at the high school, by Superintendent of Schools Alexander M. Nelson and banquet chairman Theodore D. Slabey (standing). Auer, managing editor of the Michigan Medicine monthly journal and secretary of the Michigan PTA, gave the banquet address, stressing the PTA's prime function of meeting the needs of children. He cited the child as "the unifying force in our society."

PRESENTATION of the Claude Ely Memorial Award for citizenship is made at the PTA Founders' Day banquet by Northville Mayor A. Malcolm Allen (left) to Merritt F. Meaker, Jr. of Dearborn, who accepted the award for his father, 1965 recipient of the award, who taught responsibilities of citizenship in his social science classes to Northville students for 22 years before retiring last year. The senior Meaker is vacationing in Florida; so his son, who is following his father's profession as a teacher in Wayne, expressed his appreciation.

PTA Names Chairmen For Annual Carnival

Carnival chairmen and co-chairmen for this year's PTA carnival, which will be held May 20, will be Mr. and Mrs. Samuel McSevny and Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Hempe, Jr.

The appointments were made at the Northville PTA area committee meeting last Thursday with McSevny replacing Myron Utley, who resigned as 1966 carnival chairman. He had served as chairman of the 1965 event.

In naming the May 20 carnival date the committee returned to the practice of having the event on a Friday night with a community dinner. It was the feeling of the committee, E. O. Weber, chairman, reported, that PTA parents were more available to work on a Friday night than for Saturday, as was tried last year.

Clyde Vadner was appointed carnival treasurer and Elroy Elison, ticket chairman, a post he has taken for 10 years.

The carnival is the joint effort of all four Northville PTA's and is the one PTA money-raising event of the year.

Area Fallout Shelters Listed

Radioactive fallout shelters for the northwestern portion of Wayne county, including Northville, were announced this week by the Wayne county office of civil defense.

Citizens would find protection against radioactive fallout in each of the locations, the officials point out. Food, water, sanitary supplies, austere medical equipment and radiological instruments have been placed in these locations under a federal grant program.

Harry E. Sietz, director, said, "There is more than enough shelters in these locations for all the people of your community. In the event of nuclear attack the residents might have up to three hours before radiation levels would be sufficiently high to stop movement."

He suggested that local civil defense officials meet with county representatives to plan movement of area residents in the shelter areas.

R. D. Merriam, Northville township supervisor, has taken steps to give wide distribution of the list of shelters. That list follows:

- Burroughs Corporation, 41100 Plymouth road, 167 persons;
- Mayflower Hotel, 827 Ann Arbor Trail, 409;
- National Bank of Detroit, 843 Penniman, 144;
- St. John's Seminary, 44011 Five Mile road, 453;
- Detroit House of Correction, West Five Mile road, 384;
- Northville Community Hall, 307 West Main street, 52;

Wixom City On the Move

Building in Wixom for 1965 took off with a gallop that left the previous year's grand total for construction in the dust, in Novi this year's building projects doubled the total for 1964.

In Wixom, the amount spent on construction was $3,364,850 for 1965 as compared to $375,945 spent in the previous years.

The bulk of the increase came from industrial expansion. The Wixom plant of the Ford Motor company accounted for $1,700,000 in expansion as the largest single project in the city. Auto-lite Division of Ford was valued at $1,063,000 for its Wixom plant, making it the second largest construction project.

Pyles Industries, which moved to Wixom from Southfield, added $135,000 with its new building on Wixom road.

Residential building in Wixom was the second highest item. Eighteen permits were issued totaling $237,000. An apartment permit for 14 units added $60,000.

Permits for 13 additions and one garage added $15,200.

Three commercial permits, including the new Birmingham-Bloomfield bank, totaled $78,500.

LANSING - A special dinner someone else attends might not generally interest you, but here's one you might try yourself. Start with Paw Paw punch, that's a grape drink. Serve a relish plate of radishes, leaf lettuce, sweet pickles, cottage cheese, celery and carrot sticks. Add a marinated bean salad and make the main course of rib of beef au jus with asparagus spears and a Russet Burbank baked potato. Don't forget the rolls and butter. Finish off the meal with Northern Spy apple pie a la mode.

What's so unusual about this meal? It includes only Michigan-grown and produced products. MICHIGAN is the one and only state, according to the Department of Agriculture, where a full meal of this kind can be served wholly from state-originated foods. Living in Michigan enables you to serve meals of this type with many different vegetables, meats, salads and deserts without using outside products unless you wish to serve coffee or tea. This particular menu was the one used to serve the final meal at the annual Michigan Press Association meeting in East Lansing. Each year the State Agriculture Department cooperates with the association to present an 'All Michigan Dinner' of this kind. This year was the 25th.

Under the driver's control. These include excessive speed, lack of skill, judgment errors, inattention, drinking, drugs, fatigue, and vehicle defects. VEHICLE defects are included in this list because they usually cause accidents only in total breakdown of a problem the motorist should have detected and had corrected previously. As Jerry Gilles, safety director for the Michigan Trucking Association, puts it, "The ultimate responsibility for safe driving rests with the driver. He may not always be able to avoid accident situations created by someone else, but he ought to be able to keep himself out of trouble."

Records in Retailing

BABSON PARK, Mass. - 1965 was a year unparalleled for business and economic advances, a year that saw new records made in the stock market, in industrial output, and in Gross National Product. There is a good deal of crowing about these gains, and not enough people realize that they would not have been possible if it had not been for the strong economic position of the consumer and for his willingness to buy.

high level of consumer confidence. Personal income will continue to lend strength to the economy this year. There may be times when it will not be gaining and may even be sliding back a bit, but the broad trend for 1966 - paced by high and rising wages, mounting government payments, and larger dividend and interest payouts - will be up. The gain in personal income for the year could very well be in the neighborhood of 7%.

expected in business generally. As things look now, full employment conditions should persist throughout most, if not all, of 1966. And with both income and employment pointing up, the financial position of consumers will show further improvement. Purchasing power will reach new peaks and retail trade will provide another strong boost for the over-all economy.

Salem Fire Report

The Salem Fire Department answered 48 alarms during the year 1965 according to the report of Fire Chief Charles Raymond. There were eight dwelling fires with an estimated total damage to those homes, of $6,100 and a loss of $2,300 on household contents. Damage to buildings other than dwellings totaled $5,900, with other fire losses amounting to $950. In all the Salem department extinguished 19 grass fires, 3 car fires and 18 other miscellaneous fires.

unemployment rates were a major problem in Michigan and the nation a fairly short time ago, but the opposite problem is now becoming a factor. Michigan Employment Security Commission Director Malcolm Lovell now notes an acute manpower shortage is evident. The war in Viet Nam is adding to this problem because many of the men who would be getting into the labor force are being taken into the service. This does not mean, of course, that unemployment has been eliminated. It is at the lowest point in more than a decade, but the untrained and unskilled still face chronic joblessness.

SPEAKING for The Record

By BILL SLIGER

I can remember the day (before Medicare) when writing for the local press was considered most undignified by most self-respecting medical societies.

Doctors (MD's, that is) would hardly give you statistics on an epidemic wiping out the community for fear someone might interpret it as "advertising" — and anyone knows that a doctor who would advertise for business would probably operate with unsterile instruments.

Anyway, the medical societies have become more human of late. They're sending out helpful health hints, suggestions for treating sunburn, heatstroke, etc. Our mail is full of such releases — and, frankly, their little campaign to prove that they are, after all, mere mortals has worked on me.

I always read what they have to say. It's like getting a free tip from a golf pro. The other day, for example, I read a column — I can't remember where — that advocated taking naps.

The particular doctor-columnist was rather clever. He said it's a good thing for your health to "be caught napping".

I've always been a great believer in naps. But this doctor really clinched the theory for me. He said that naps are better than exercise in promoting good circulation and preventing coronary attacks.

I've been hearing a little static around the house lately about "getting more exercise" and "losing a little weight".

But since reading the advice of the doctor-columnist, I don't think I'll rush into any such crash program.

I'll take my exercise napping.

Don't be surprised if you find another traffic light on Northville's Main street one of these days.

Councilman John Canterbury has been "gung-ho" about the idea of installing a pedestrian cross-walk on Main street about mid-way between Center and Hutton streets.

His proposal was given support last week by a county road official, and now there's no stopping John.

He theorizes that it will provide more safety for pedestrians — especially youngsters getting out of the theater. And of importance to merchants, it will make walking back and forth across the street more convenient for shoppers.

The traffic signal light would be of short duration and timed with the lights at Center and Hutton to prevent traffic back-ups on Main street.

A county road official is scheduled to meet with the council in the near future and outline exact details for installation.

My friend, Bob Silbar, writes a column called "Fiddle Faddle" in his Fenton Independent newspaper. It's appropriately named. Following are some excerpts:

A Texan left a will: "To my son I leave three million dollars. And he's lucky I didn't cut him off entirely".

You may not have known it but the Biblical figure of Moses really had a press agent. As we hear it the story is that when Moses and his tribe came to the Red Sea, Moses announced that to get across it he would build a bridge. "You can't do that, Moses," his public relations expert told him. "That wouldn't be spectacular enough. Give me something big!"

"Well," Moses said, "If it can't be a bridge, how about making a lot of rafts?"

"But, Moses" the public relations man objected, "Remember your image!"

Moses thought a while and then said, "Okay, I'll just divide the sea in two. We'll walk our people through it, and we'll close the sea up behind us, trapping our enemies."

"Moses, baby," the PR man said, enthusiastically, "You do that and I'll get you two full pages of news in the Old Testament!"

OUT OF THE PAST

ONE YEAR AGO

--Northville Police Chief Eugene King was shot Wednesday by a man that he picked up as a suspicious person. King had answered a call from Detroit Federal Savings, which was robbed twice in recent months. Northville police are holding the man, Warren Robert Wright, for the shooting. King was shot while transporting Wright from Seven Mile road to headquarters in his patrol car.

--Governor George Romney called for a special election February 14 to fill the senatorial seat left vacant by the death of Paul Chandler, senator elect, on December 11. In the race for the seat to represent a wide area of Wayne and Oakland counties are three Democrats and six Republicans.

--Dr. Lloyd Fales of the Michigan Department of Public Instruction looked over the Northville school system. When he had finished his tour he told members of the board of education that a junior high school is more urgently needed than an elementary school. Fales based his opinion for a new junior high on the lack of facilities and not on administration or teaching.

--Wixom's flying farmer was honored by a commercial airline for being one of the oldest pilots, having flown over 2 1/2 million miles. Vernon Spencer, 70, flew with the Royal Canadian Air Force in World War I and then made headlines as an outfielder for the New York Giants and helped the team win the national league pennant and World Series in 1922.

--A multiple dwelling ordinance is now on the books in Novi. The ordinance came from the council at Monday night's meeting on the recommendation of the village planning board. The ordinance limits apartment buildings in Novi to 16 units.

FIVE YEARS AGO

--The balmy days and freezing nights of the past week have caused a rash of calls to Northville plumbers with complaints of freezing water pipes. The freezing of the water lines has brought complaints to the city of air spouting from faucets. This is caused by the deepening of the frost line sinking into the ground from a usual two or three feet to a low of four to five feet.

--Last Sunday in Lansing's Civic Center Northville's Bob Sample, 17, received the Michigan Horse Association's perpetual junior challenge trophy reserve championship for the second consecutive year. The award was made on a point basis after last summer's competitions. Even Bob's horse, High Society, won an award. The horse won the junior jumper championship.

--Saturday night in Novi is ladies night according to the Novi Board of Commerce. The evening's entertainment will start with dinner in the community building followed by a square dance featuring Rip Collins and his band. Last year's event attracted 150 people.

--The Novi village council Monday night heard complaints of a representative of the Echo Valley subdivision, stating that he feels the village is putting too much sand and gravel on the sub-division's streets. Steve Mihlak told the council that this is causing a "mess" in the area with dirt being brought into garages and in general ruining new grass and clogging culverts. The council explained that this measure was felt better than the use of salt.

--Firemen from three companies fought darkness and sub-zero temperatures but were unable to save a house on Six Mile road. The house, which is owned by Northville Township Treasurer Roy Terill, was rented to Mr. and Mrs. Jack Priest who were away when the fire started. The house was engulfed in flames before firemen were called by neighbors.

FIFTEEN YEARS AGO

--Northville Recreation Director, Wilson Funk this week announced that the boys club is open to all boys of the village and township. He said that the club meets on Monday and Tuesday nights in the scout building on the corner of Hutton and Dunlap streets.

--An appeal went out this week from Dr. W. Leonard Howard, medical superintendent of the Maybury sanatorium, for records to be used by the sanatorium's radio station.

--Ticket holders for the Community concert series will hear pianist William Schatzkammer at the February 13 concert to be held at the First Presbyterian church house.

THIRTY YEARS AGO

--The last of the equipment was bought this week, according to one of the promoters, for a brewery in Northville. The spokesman said that the plant which will be built on Plymouth road this spring will employ 80 to 90 men. The building which is to be rebuilt on the site of Stinson factory will be styled like an Old English coaching station.

--Funeral services were held for prominent Northville businessman Nelson Schrader, who died in Fort Lauderdale, Florida February 5. In tribute to Mr. Schrader all businesses closed during the hour of the funeral.

Road to Ruin

An Editorial Remember to Stop

School bus drivers are becoming increasingly concerned with the number of motorists who do not "stop on the flashing signal when school bus stops."

They point out that the state law requiring motorists to stop was designed to protect youngsters crossing the street at loading and unloading.

Whether or not the bus driver is able to pull off the roadway, as they are instructed to do if possible, the motorist has an obligation to stop, by law — and a moral responsibility to stop for the safety of the children.

Kensington Attendance Sets Record

Kensington Metropolitan Park, a 4,300-acre site north of South Lyon, had a record-breaking attendance during 1965, it was announced this week by the Huron-Clinton Metropolitan Authority. Over 2,130,000 visitors were tabulated in 1965 to top the previous high of over 2,120,000 set in 1963. The 1964 figure was 1,997,000 visitors. This regional site was opened in 1948.

Kensington had the largest attendance in 1965 of any of the four major parks which are under the Huron-Clinton Authority in the counties of Oakland, Livingston, Washtenaw, Wayne and Macomb.
