

Township OK's New Zoning Plan

The Northville township board approved the new 90-page zoning ordinance Tuesday night, a product of two-years' work by the planning commission.

Meeting without Supervisor R. D. Merriam, who is recuperating from surgery, the board discussed possible revisions but made no changes. Clerk Marguerite Young presided at the session.

The ordinance is essentially the same as presented at the January public hearing by the planning commission. Some changes were made following complaints registered at that hearing, however. They include removal of the expanded commercial zoning on Seven Mile road across from the State Hospital and the application of R-1 zoning to that area; and the removal of industrial zoning on Haggerty between Five and Six Mile roads and the substitution of R-4 zoning.

Objection to R-1 zoning in an area immediately west of Clement road and also in the Marilyn road area just north of Seven Mile road was raised by Clerk Young. She noted that other homes in these areas were much smaller than the R-1 minimums and that to build larger homes would not be realistic.

Trustee James Tellam, who also serves as a member of the planning commission, upheld the zoning noting that the new ordinance provides for appeals of such cases. He was upheld by Trustee Wilson Tyler and Leonard Klein, a planning commission member. It was noted that appeals for variance may be needed in many areas, but that no objection was heard to the proposed zoning at the public hearing.

Clerk Young received support from Treasurer Alex Lawrence, but both decided to approve the document and it won a unanimous vote. It becomes immediately effective and will be published in The Record at a later date.

Both Tellam and Klein urged adoption of the ordinance because of pending public hearings that will find basis for decisions from the new ordinance. These hearings include a request for multiple dwelling zoning for a 55-acre parcel on Seven Mile road approximately across from the State Hospital and a 12.5 acre site at Five Mile and Robinwood. This hearing will be held March 15.

A hearing is also scheduled on April 26 to consider a request by Charles Lapham to rezone property at the corner of Beck and Six Mile road to permit installation of a mobile home community.

In other business Tuesday night the board adjourned a public hearing on a special assessment sewer project until other property owners involved may be polled. The sewer would be installed along Northville road for a distance of 600 feet south of Seven Mile. It would be extended from the east side across Northville road to the interceptor. Purpose of the sewer is to correct a faulty septic field at a residence cited by the Wayne county health department.

Township Engineer William Mosher noted that the project was expensive because of its limited service area. Total cost of the project would be an estimated $16,520 with $13,791 of this amount assessed against seven properties. Assessments would run from $1177 to $3,210 per lot.

Two of the property owners attended the hearing and objected, though admitting the condition was serious and should be corrected. If other property owners object, the board decided it would refer the matter back to health authorities so that the offending lot-owner could be informed of corrections that must be made. It was reported that three dwellings housing 18 persons exist on the lot with the faulty septic field.

Taxpayers Set Record

Northville township taxpayers set the best paying pace ever this year, Treasurer Alex Lawrence told fellow board members Tuesday night.

Of the total roll levy of $562,659.34 for 1965-66 school, county and township taxes the treasurer reported collecting $540,166.98 by the February 28 deadline date. That's a performance of 95.99 per cent, Lawrence noted.

Novi Road Rezoning Date Set

The Novi planning commission and village council has set March 28 for a public hearing to consider a request by a Northville merchant for rezoning along Novi road on the borders of the city limits of Northville.

It will mark a return engagement for Charles Lapham, owner of Lapham's Men's Shop. In previous sessions with the Novi planners his original appeal for zoning some 1,300 feet of frontage on Novi road directly across from Village Green and Northville city limits to commercial classification and M-2 was denied. Northville's city council and planning commission had protested to the commercial zoning along the entire 1,300 feet on the basis that it would constitute a shopping center threat.

Now Lapham has complied with planners as well as area resident requests. He will ask that 500 feet along the east side of Novi road and north of the new Guernsey Farms Dairy to a depth of 350 feet be zoned C-2 (commercial). The remaining portion of the property back to the railroad track would be M-1 (light manufacturing).

Lapham plans to construct a professional building with eight offices on the site. He stated that a restaurant is also planned adjacent to the professional building. Work would begin as soon as zoning is approved and sewer service can be extended, Lapham stated.

Court Settles Long-Standing Dispute Between City, Subdivider

The city of Northville and Dave Pink, Builder, Inc., went to court Monday and the suit was settled the same day.

Action in the settlement of the dispute was swift, but the difficulty itself had been boiling for months.

The builder is afraid that buyers of his homes won't be permitted to move in when the houses are completed; while the city is afraid that they will move in before proper sewer connections have been made.

Pink has taken over the remaining development of Northville Heights subdivision on North Center street. Through agreement with the city he has already completed installation of streets, curbs, gutters and utilities within the subdivision. Sales of his homes have already begun, but Pink could not obtain building permits from the city... that is, not if he wanted assurance of occupancy permits, too.

There's an agreement drawn between the city and Pink that calls for installation of a sewer line from Northville Heights subdivision No. 2 to the new Oakland county interceptor serving Novi.

The agreement calls for Pink to pay for two-thirds of the cost of this off-site sewer line. The city will pay the remaining cost so that it might relieve some of its sewer lines in the northern portion of the city by directing sewage through the new installation.

Pink had no argument with the contract, but he refused to sign and make his $9,000 payment on the project unless occupancy permits were guaranteed by early spring.

The city couldn't, or wouldn't, do this because Oakland county hasn't given its final okay on tap-in. And the city wants to be sure it has someplace to dump the

'Ungraded' Label Discarded

NO SHOVEL SHORTAGE—Last time the Northville school system broke ground for a new school building (the high school) two shovels were brought to the ceremony. Both were saved and were used again Wednesday morning as school administrators and board members participated in ground-breaking ceremonies for the new Eight Mile road elementary school. Shown above (l. to r.) practicing for the event are: Robert Shafer, Board President W. C. Becker, Superintendent Alex Nelson and William Crump. As the senior board members, Shafer and Crump are old hands at such occasions. Shafer was first elected to the board in 1956 and participated in the high school ground-breaking. Crump became a board member in 1958 and took part in the high school dedication ceremony.

Board Acts to Define Educational Objectives

The word is out this week — call Northville's school plans the "individualized approach" or even "continuous growth" but don't say "non-graded" or "ungraded."

Northville board of education Monday night indicated it was well aware of the concern of the district's citizens regarding the ungraded program to which it had committed itself, but took pains to stress that the plan was a "concept" and that "no tremendous change" was anticipated to revolutionize the present school system.

In a move "to de-emphasize ungrading and stress ungrading," in the words of James Kipper, board vice president, the board obviously sought to reassure the voters (millage election is upcoming in May), who had expressed anxiety regarding costs and also about college-acceptance of the ungraded theory, that it would not be proceeding on an ungraded course in any rush.

Assistant Superintendent Raymond Spear reported that he had spoken to three community groups on the concept and had taped audience questions and answers. Board members indicated they had listened to the tapes and were attuned to the concerns of parents.

Robert Shafer, board trustee, stated he felt the board has "labeled the educational desires" for the district without explaining the board's real objectives fully.

Board Secretary Donald Lawrence said the board was just labeling "what we have been doing." He pointed out that even at the high school level "we have aspects of it (non-graded system) now... there are advanced and general courses, easy and hard subjects, pre-college and vocational subjects."

Spear stated the previously announced sequence to ungrade all schools in the district during the next three years was "set up as the logical way" but pointed out that it is not necessary to follow the plan. It is not necessarily a "firm situation", he added.

Board President Wilfred C. Becker indicated the trend of the board thinking as he cited the schools' need for more and better equipment and learning tools. "We are lacking in individualized equipment wherein children can work above average," he pointed out, saying that both staff members and tools are needed to upgrade.

William Crump, board treasurer, said the district is not planning to accelerate a 7-year-old into tenth grade but rather is "planning a greater depth program" at each level.

E. O. Weber, board trustee, said he would like to see the concept explored in a pilot program only at the new elementary school. He stated he would not be willing to say the concept was "good beyond the sixth or eighth grade." This opinion was seconded by Lawrence.

Board Member Eugene Cook also gave his opinion that the concept should be tried in a "target-type project." All stressed that it will not be "rushed" and will be followed closely.

Mothers Seek Teen Club Site

A campaign to assist high school students in the establishment of a "teen center" in Northville has been undertaken by the Northville Mothers' Club.

The local organization, which has traditionally directed its activities to supplying extra-curricular school needs, envisions the center as a "place for supervised recreational activities of many kinds".

Mrs. Gordon Forrer has been named chairman of the teen-club project.

In a letter addressed to all community organizations this week Mrs. Forrer points out that "facilities now in existence are frequently not available for parties and dances, and because of the many groups they must serve they are not suitable for the permanent installation of equipment such as ping pong and pool tables".

The letter seeks to gain interest and support from other community organizations in backing the teen club project.

Letters have also been sent to the city council, township board and board of education expressing interest in obtaining one of the fish hatchery buildings for a teen club headquarters.

The request for a fish hatchery building could prompt the city council and township board to make some determination of their sincerity concerning future interest in the 15-acre fish hatchery building.

It is slated to become available for purchase by the local governments if it is not claimed by another federal agency late this month. The likelihood that the federal government will want use of the land is considered slim.

Under rules of disposal of federal land to local governments the price is set at one-half appraised value.

With 10 acres in the township and five in the city it appears that the two local units must decide if the site is to be purchased jointly, separately or by one of the two units empowering the other to acquire the entire parcel.

If neither expresses interest, the land could be sold to private interests for whatever development it might be suited.

The teen club project has already had a beginning. Organized by high school youngsters dubbed "The Cavern", it has held two dances and plans a "battle of the bands" Saturday night at the community building.

Local Man Cleared In Car Crash Death

Richard A. Gadwell of 884 Allen drive, Northville, has been cleared of any responsibility in the traffic accident February 18 which caused the death of Meadowbrook Country Club chef, Harvey Bondy.

Wayne County Sheriff's department detective Kenneth Grant told The Record Friday that an eye-witness reported that Bondy's car had been in the wrong lane — not Gadwell's.

According to Grant, the eye-witness followed Bondy from the Meadowbrook parking lot about 10:30 p.m. that evening and noticed that Bondy "at times was driving in an erratic manner."

Grant said that the witness claimed having tried to get Bondy's attention by sounding the car horn and flashing his headlights. When this did not stop Bondy,

Grant reported that the witness followed Bondy onto Eight Mile road eastbound where he observed Bondy driving "about half the time in the eastbound lane and the other half in the westbound lane."

Before reaching Haggerty road, where the fatal accident occurred, the witness told police that Bondy's car forced another going in the same direction off the road.

As Bondy approached the Haggerty road intersection he was traveling on the westbound side of the road, the wrong side, according to the witness's testimony to Grant.

Gadwell, approaching from the opposite direction in the proper lane during a heavy snowfall, was seen by the witness who was unable to warn him. Grant said the witness reported that Bondy was driving with only a single headlight.

The detective reported Gadwell as stating after hospital treatment for minor injuries that he was blinded by the light of the oncoming car and didn't know how far to go off the road in the inclement weather.

"We anticipate no prosecution of Gadwell," said Grant. "He didn't contribute anything to the accident."

Information gained for last week's report of the accident came from a night sergeant at the sheriff's department and erroneously indicated that Gadwell's car had been in the wrong lane.

AMAZING COINCIDENCE—Mrs. Fern Mitchell of 46105 West Seven Mile road could not believe it at first, "and actually had to look at my old plates to realize what had happened" when she was issued exactly the same automobile license plate number as she had last year.

Dimes Drive Tops $2,600

A final account of the 1966 March of Dimes campaign in Northville this year shows that collections topped last year's effort by more than $100.

General Chairman C. Oscar Hammond reported that area residents contributed $2,622.44 to help in the fight against birth defects.

Last year the total was $2,500.

Hammond itemized the collections from the following sources:

- Lloyd H. Green Post No. 147 ...$50.00
- School collections ... $68.50
- Mothers March ... $1397.52
- Cannister & dime boards ... $101.02
- Ugashonton Club Dance ... $185.00
- Bowling Tournament ... $820.00

While Hammond served as chairman of the general community campaign, Mrs. Hiram Pacific headed the Mothers March.

ELEEN AUUVIL - master weaver and, by her own definition, a believer in intuitive creativity - will explore "The World of Creating" for Northville Woman's Club members and their guests at 2 p.m. Friday in the Northville junior high library.

Her studio at 109 South Main street, Romeo, Michigan, is sought out by decorators and architects who custom order "everything that can be woven - rugs, upholstery, drapery fabric, wall hangings, screens."

The Cranbrook graduate, whose work and reputation are nationally known, related to Mrs. H. O. Evans, program chairman of the day and former Romeo resident, how her studio came about:

"My desire to have a self-supporting studio brought about the mohair throw and pillows coordinated-to-throw which sell in better retail departments across the country ... for several years I'd woven in one side of a 70-foot greenhouse, the other half full of orchids which bloom year round.

"However, in June, 1963, the need for more studio space forced me to move into Romeo (a one-stop light village) where I now have much needed elbow room... We've done such things as carpet the one show area in off-white, painted all walls white, covered an unsightly section of wall with weathered unpainted boards (dramatically lighted), and had a chandelier made around two power loom shuttles."

DESIGNER AUUVIL, we'll venture to guess, is almost certain to have a special rapport with her Northville audience, for she describes her village of Romeo as having "marvelous old Victorian architecture ... some of the houses are magnificently proportioned." This could equally well be said of Northville.

She also identifies with "Night People," admitting that her best ideas come between midnight and 4 a.m. "Many nights I get so involved and unaware of time that dawn comes before I even think about stopping. If only our physical being would be as our mental-emotional being wished. Horizons would then be completely unlimited."

In a refreshingly different autobiography from the sort a newspaper usually receives, Mrs. Auvil also confesses to an affection for Siamese cats -- up to seven at one time. Now, she says, "We are down to one tiger cat, Persephone ... she sits on the top of my loom, gently switching her tail in my face, unobtrusively moving with me so the tail always fans me. Never has she ruined any wool - always the lady." -so speaks Eileen Auvil of Romeo.

THE HOMER F. WEIR family poses in the tri-level home on the grounds of Plymouth State Home and Training school where Dr. Weir assumed his duties as medical superintendent February 1. The family moved here from Olympia, Washington. Son Frank, left, is enrolled at Northville high school. Mrs. Weir already has become active in Northville Newcomers club.

A white tri-level on the grounds of Plymouth State Home and Training School on Sheldon Road, Northville, is the new home of Dr. and Mrs. Homer F. Weir and their son, Frank. Dr. Weir assumed his position as medical superintendent at the Plymouth

State Home February 1. While moving and resettling never is an easy task, Mrs. Weir says she's rather accustomed to moving as they've been located in Illinois, Texas and Seattle, Washington.

Dr. Weir and his family came here from the northwest where he formerly was medical director of Mt. Rainier State School for the retarded at Olympia, Washington. Prior to that he was director of the retardation center, department of pediatrics, Baylor University; and director of consultation, diagnostic and evaluation center at Rockford, Illinois.

Pointing out that they originally were mid-westerners, Mrs. Weir recalls that she met her husband in Illinois. A school of nursing graduate of the University of Minnesota, she has an understanding of her husband's field through her own professional background.

Her "big hobby" has been raising three sons, she says, but with only Frank, a sophomore at Northville high school, at home now, she hopes to have time to play golf again come spring. Mrs. Weir also is a bridge player.

The Weir's son, Silas, is a representative for the American Hospital Supply company. He is married and makes his home in Chicago. Another son, George, is attending Southern Methodist University in Texas. Son Frank, who learned to ski on the slopes of real mountains in Washington, is disappointed in Michigan's lack of snow this winter.

Dr. Weir was graduated with honors from the University of Illinois College of Medicine in 1940 and received his certification in pediatrics in 1945.

Mrs. Weir met her husband's staff at the home at a reception earlier this month. She has met Northville women at Northville Newcomers club and reports that she was pleased to find such an active group here.

D G's to Hold Area Luncheon

A Delta Gamma Founders' Day luncheon for Detroit-area alumnae will be held March 12 at the Village Women's club, 190 East Long Lake road in Bloomfield Hills under sponsorship of the Birmingham alumnae chapter.

Luncheon will be at 12:30 p.m. followed by a talk by Magola Benz, an International Education student from Austria who is attending the University of Michigan and living at the XI chapter house. Northville area alumnae may make luncheon reservations through Friday with Mrs. Richard Boyesen of Livonia.

Junior High PTA Eyes 'Headstart'

Northville junior high PTA will hold its third meeting of the year at 8 p.m. Thursday, March 10, in the junior high library. The program, "Operation Headstart High School," is designed to help parents understand and prepare students for high school.

Appearing on the program will be Donald Van Ingen, junior high principal; Fred Stefanski, high school principal; Gene Quay, assistant high school principal; and counselors from the junior and senior high school.

The requirements for graduation from high school, including hours, required courses, and electives, will be outlined. The program is planned to show parents what factors help to determine the courses a student is allowed to take. It also is to answer questions regarding number of semester hours a student is required to take, when specific courses should be taken, and foreign language needs.

How the junior high school is preparing students for high school will be explained and parents will be told the high school registration procedure. A question period will follow the program.

Van Ingen points out that while the program will undoubtedly have more meaning for parents of eighth grade students, it is felt all parents will benefit.

Historians Slate Talk On Jesuits

Northville Historical Society will mark the celebration of 1966 as Pere Marquette Year at its meeting at 8 p.m. Tuesday, March 15, in the junior high library with an illustrated talk, "The Jesuits in North America," to be given by Dr. Ferris Lewis.

Dr. Lewis, who is associated with Henry Ford Community college, also spoke to the society last year.

His talk March 15 will relate how 300 years ago on September 30, 1666, Jacques Marquette, who was 29 years old, arrived in Quebec from his Jesuit training in France. After two years spent studying the Indian language, he was appointed missionary to the Ottawa at Sault St. Marie. He established several missions in the area and in 1673 set out with Joliet to investigate Indian tales of the great river to the west and south.

They and five voyagers covered nearly 3000 miles in birch bark canoes, exploring the Mississippi as far south as the mouth of the Arkansas. Father Marquette died in 1675 at a spot near the present site of Ludington and is buried at St. Ignace.

Dr. Lewis' talk is open to all interested citizens.

Presbyterian Women Set Lenten Program

This Lenten season will be celebrated by a special program sponsored by the United Presbyterian church women Wednesday, March 9.

A noon interlude of 15 minutes of organ music "quiet Time" will be provided in the church sanctuary followed at 12:15 p.m. by a luncheon served in Fellowship Hall.

Guest speaker Frederic F. Piggins, an attorney who has been practicing law for more than 20 years and is affiliated with the Detroit firm of Piggins, Balmer, Grigsby and Skillman, will speak on "The Arrest and Trial of Jesus Christ."

A member, elder and trustee of the Jefferson Avenue Presbyterian church, Detroit, where he has taught adult Bible classes, the speaker long has had a deep interest in the trial of Jesus and has researched the subject. He has toured the Holy Land, most recently last April, and visited sites of the trial. He has spoken on the topic to church and fraternal groups.

The program will begin at 1:15 p.m. in the fellowship hall with everyone invited, even without attending the luncheon.

"Please join us and bring a friend," is the invitation extended Presbyterian women by Mrs. George Jerome, chairman. Those planning to bring a guest to the luncheon are asked to notify the church office, 349-0911.

1-Card of Thanks

The Ladies of the Martin Luther Memorial Home wish to express thanks to all who participated in the bake sale of February 19 and special thanks to Williams and Lloyd garage.

Our sincere appreciation for flowers and expressions of sympathy extended to us in our recent bereavement at the loss of our dear husband and father.

My sincere appreciation for the kindness shown to Marion during her illness and to me in my sorrow by all our friends, neighbors and the senior citizens. Also Rev. Spradling and Fred Casterline.

2-In Memoriam

Mr. Louis Lanning - March 8, 1965
God knew he was suffering,
The hills were hard to climb,
So he closed his weary eyelids,
And whispered "peace be thine."
He went away without farewell,
He said goodbye to none,
But Heaven's gate was open wide
And a loving voice said "Come".
Always remembered and sadly missed by wife and children.

CLEAN-UP SESSION-Some 30 organizations were represented at the first meeting of the newly formed beautification committee for the city of Northville. The group met Saturday afternoon at the city hall and plans subsequent organizational sessions. Shown addressing the meeting is Councilwoman Beatrice Carlson, chairman of the committee. Also at the speaker's table are (from left) W. C. Becker, Reverend Elizabeth Etz, Mrs. Gloria Kennedy and Mrs. Robert Krieger, both of the Beautification Council of Southeastern Michigan, and Myron Utley and Harry White, representing the VFW and American Legion, respectively.

Music-Art Program Slated for Tuesday

An unusual combination of music and art will be offered by the Three-Cities Art Club at an open meeting next Tuesday, March 8, in the auditorium of the Plymouth high school. The musicians are talented teenagers from North, Plymouth and Livonia who play with the Junior Symphony under the leadership of Michael Endres, teacher of music in the Plymouth schools. The musical part of the program will feature such colorful pieces and Handel's Royal Fireworks Music, a collection of dance-like movements. The second piece, "The Little Baroque Suite" includes works of several composers and combines suites based on the dances of court and country familiar to the period. The "Telemann Sinfonia" as arranged by contemporary composer Robert Brown retains the true style and character of the original by George Michael Telemann, a prolific composer of operas, oratorios who was a contemporary of J. S. Bach. The fourth piece, "Symphonette" was written by Ignaz J.

Pleyel, a student and later rival of Franz Joseph Haydn. This is a miniature symphony consisting of three short sections, fast, slow and finale in very fast tempo. "Regina Coeli" from the opera "Cavalleria Rusticana" by Pietro Mascagni, though not historically baroque contains some of the expressive and dynamic contrasts typical of that period. Art of the same period was also grandiose, dramatic and expressive. Famous names of the era are Peter Paul Rubens, Franz Hals, Rembrandt Van Rijn, Jean Watteau and William Hogarth. Similarities between Baroque music and art will be pointed out by Mrs. Jessy Hudson, teacher of art in Plymouth high school and Mr. Endres. Three-Cities members will present an exhibit of their own works in conjunction with the Junior Symphony and a discussion period in which visitors can talk about art with the artists present will follow the concert. The public is cordially invited to attend the program which is expected to last from 8 to 10 p.m.

Christian Scientists Mark 100th Year

Plans for a year-long observance of the 100th anniversary of Christian Science has been announced by The Christian Science Board of Directors of The Mother Church, The First Church of Christ, Scientists, in Boston, Massachusetts. Major events will include a worldwide public speaking tour by the Editor in Chief of The Christian Science Monitor, publication of a new book titled "A Century of Christian Science Healing," and the start of work on a new "Church Center" construction program. The Centennial stems from events in 1866 which marked the turning point in the life of Mary Baker Eddy and began her pioneering of a world religious movement.

A spiritual healing which Mrs. Eddy experienced in 1866 turned her life-long study of the Bible into an intensive searching that produced the earliest manuscripts on Christian Science. She became convinced that Christianity is scientific in the deepest spiritual sense and applies to every aspect of human experience. Later, she wrote the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures," and founded a church which now includes 3,300 branches in more than 50 countries. Centennial activity within the Church will come to a focus at the Annual Meeting in Boston on June 6. Land clearance will begin that day for construction of an expanded 15-acre Church Center, while members gather to consider their movement's progress and spiritual mission. Today, the Church has a healing ministry carried on by more than 7,000 full-time Christian Science practitioners in over 40 countries. Cases brought to them cover the whole range of humanity's problems and conditions, moral and physical, and they are just as apt to be dealing with alienation, injustice, poverty, or criminal habits as they are with sickness. Health is looked upon in its deepest sense as spiritual wholeness. There is also an extensive network of public Reading Rooms maintained by branch churches; a Board of Lectureship that delivers more than 4,500 lectures a year around the world; an international daily newspaper that is generally ranked among the top newspapers in the world; a radio series that is broadcast over some 950 radio stations in several countries; an Armed Services ministry that includes 477 lay workers as well as commissioned Chaplains; and student organizations in more than 400 colleges and universities. Probably even more important, however, is the fact that the individual Christian Scientist normally feels a deep necessity to bring the practice of his religion increasingly into every aspect of his life. It must transform his own conduct and acts, the way he conducts his business or profession, his family and community responsibilities - the whole broad spectrum of human life.

This is the commitment that the Church will be reaffirming this year in the Centennial of the discovery of Christian Science.

ROTARY SEALERS-The Northville Rotary club devoted its Tuesday program to stuffing envelopes for the annual Easter Seal campaign to raise funds for crippled children and adults. The mailing of Easter seals to some 200,000 homes in western Wayne county began this week. The campaign continues through Easter Sunday, April 10. Hard at work above are Rotarians Dr. Pasquale Buoniccontto, Ray Spear and Robert St. Germaine. They're getting help from Robin White and Jack Winner, Rotary student guests. Kenneth Rathert is in charge of the Easter Seal drive for the Northville Rotary.

Down West Bloomfield, 49-46

Cagers Win Share Of League Crown

The Northville Mustangs earned a share of the Wayne-Oakland Conference basketball title Friday by edging West Bloomfield, 49-46, at West Bloomfield.

Northville had a considerably rougher time mauling down its 11th win than did co-titlist Bloomfield Hills. Bloomfield beat Brighton, 61-48, to likewise post an 11-3 mark.

"Our bench came through," said Northville Coach Dave Longridge, and that it did. With Forward Steve Evans, one of Northville's key rebounders, sitting on the bench, for the last five minutes, the Mustangs were pressured all the way. Right until the last moments, Northville was fighting off the Lakers from West Bloomfield.

The man who gave the local cagers the breathing room they needed in the final moments was Forward Mike Turnbull. The 6'1" senior, a left hander, received a pass under the bucket and hooked left to score and give Northville a 48-44 lead it successfully protected.

Although Northville missed its chance to claim a title outright when it lost the previous game to Bloomfield Hills, Longridge lauded his cagers. "The pressure was on us all season long. Since we were in first place, people were shooting for us," he said, pointing out that "we didn't fold."

Victory over West Bloomfield was truly a team effort. Three Mustangs, Center Jerry Inslund, Evans and Guard John Jameson, scored 11 points apiece, and they were backed up by Guard Nelson Hyatt's eight and Guard Jim Zay-ti's five.

Without the services of Forward Mark Cushing, the pressure was put on Evans and Inslund to control the boards, and they came through.

West Bloomfield was an inspired team last Friday night. The Lakers played like anything but a sixth place ball club, coming from eight points back to give Northville a scrap for its title life.

Key men in the West Bloomfield attack were Center-Forward Tim Molner and Forward Bill Burt. They scored 16 and 14 points, respectively, many of them coming in the late stages to spark the Lakers' comeback.

But the Lakers, who began the season with three straight league victories, including a one-point win over rival Bloomfield Hills, didn't have the punch to pull this one out.

West Bloomfield jumped to a 4-0 lead before Northville could get its bearings. Guard Greg Hepinstall banked in a rebound and Burt did likewise.

Hyatt then connected from the corner, Inslund hit a jump shot and Hyatt flipped in a rebound to put Northville on top, 6-4, and Northville never gave up the lead, although West Bloomfield tied the score three times.

Northville spurred to a 16-9 lead at the end of the first quarter as it set up inside and hit the short shots against West Bloomfield's man-to-man defense.

Completion of the game changed in the second quarter, however, as Northville began to miss shots it made in the opening period. Burt tallied twice, on a fast break and a tip, before Evans bagged a dog shot and converted the free throw to complete the three-point play for a 19-13 Northville lead.

Molner took over at that point, leaping high to tip in a rebound and then hitting a jumper to close the gap to 19-17. Hepinstall squared the count at 19-19 moments later when he scored from the head of the free-throw circle. Northville surged right back on a jump shot by Inslund, Evans' hook and Jameson's free throw to take a 24-21 lead to the dressing room.

Jameson was the sparkplug in the third period. He scored on four jump shots to preserve Northville's margin at 40-36 at the end of the quarter.

West Bloomfield played doggedly in the final period, getting the equalizer on Molner's bank shot with 3:29 left in the game. But Inslund scored the next time Northville had the ball, putting Northville ahead 46-44, once and for all. Turnbull's hook with only 1:40 left put the game out of West Bloomfield's reach as the Lakers scrambled frantically in the waning moments to get the ball. Twice Northville snagged the rebound after a Mustang missed a free throw to protect the lead.

WINNING SMILES—Northville Coach Dave Longridge clinches his fist in jubilation as his cagers applaud with glee immediately following Northville's victory Friday night over West Bloomfield. The win brought a share of the Wayne-Oakland conference crown with Bloomfield Hills. Both finished with 11-3 records. Not since Northville won the title uncontested in 1961-62 have the Mustangs been that happy.

Northville Meets Riverside Five

Will there be a repeat in this year's district tournament? Northville Coach Dave Longridge and his cagers hope so — for good reason — and from the looks of things, it's shaping up that way.

Begin with Dearborn Riverside's 74-56 victory over Clarenceville Tuesday night.

Like last year, Northville will now clash with Riverside at 8:45 tonight at Clarenceville high between Seven and Eight Mile roads. And if tonight's game matches last year's, it will be filled with suspense.

For those who don't recall, Northville beat Riverside, 69-64, but the manner in which the Mustangs did it still threatens to give local fans ulcers.

Behind four points with just 32 seconds remaining in regulation play, Northville came back to tie the game at 59-all, and then played inspired ball to win in overtime.

What was most amazing was the fact that three regulars were sitting on the Northville bench, having fouled out, when the fire-works really began.

Forward Steve Evans, who had not played up to par finally reached his potential, lofting a sweeping hook shot through the net with just 11 seconds left in the game to send it into overtime.

Then substitutes Evans, Guard Ted Bunker, and Forward Mike Turnbull teamed up with regulars, Jim St. Germain and Forward Mark Cushing, to outscore Riverside, 10-5 in the extra period.

From there the Mustangs literally waltzed to the district title by beating Dearborn Easton and Lutheran-West in the finals.

But there have been significant changes in Riverside since then. Surely it will have last year's contest in mind to serve as incentive.

Besides that, the Dearborn outfit is a speedy team, utilizing the all-court press and the fast break to post a 12-3 record, good enough to win the Tri-River Conference.

Riverside's main threats are Don Yasenchak, a 6'1" forward, Sophomore Bruce Dyaer, a 5'10" guard with speed and Tim Marabeas, another forward.

If Northville beats Riverside, the Mustangs will gain the finals, which begin at 8 p.m. this Saturday. Winner of the Riverside-Northville contest will definitely assume the favorite's role.

In the other bracket, three weaker teams are matched, including Lutheran West, Dearborn Crestwood (formerly Dearborn Easton) and Livonia Stephenson. Stephenson is a new high school with only grades nine and 10, yet still has enough students to qualify for the class B tourney.

Lutheran West has not won a game since it beat Northville in 1964 in the River Rouge Holiday basketball tournament. And Northville avenged that loss last year when it trounced Lutheran West, 77-63, in the district finals.

Crestwood is light on experience and height, and Northville beat that Dearborn club, 71-63, before subduing Lutheran West.

Colts Upset in Finale

A miracle came to pass last Friday night, much to the distress of followers of the Northville Jayvees.

West Bloomfield, fighting every inch of the way, upset the Colts, 54-52, on a last-second basket to dash Northville's hopes of an undefeated season.

It was a combination of things which brought the Colts' first defeat in fourteen outings in the Wayne-Oakland Conference.

Center and high scorer-rebounder, Jim Peterson, fouled out after only two minutes of the third period had passed.

Guard Dennis Mathews, who is Northville's most accurate shooter and driving ace, sprained his ankle in pre-game warmups to reduce his effectiveness. He scored two points.

West Bloomfield's varsity coach, Art Paddy, took over the JV helm for the night, which inspired the little Lakers to greater things.

Despite these setbacks, Coach Bob Kucher's cagers fought hard for that clean slate, going all-out to wipe out an eight-point deficit in the fourth period and tie the score at 52-52.

But victory was not in the cards. With 10 seconds left in the game West Bloomfield fired the ball goalward. It bounded off the rim and fell to the floor near the base line.

Two Mustangs and a little Laker scrambled for the ball. The Laker grabbed it, leaped backward and shot on target. The game was over before Northville could take the ball out of bounds.

Kucher singled out the play by Pohlman and Andrews. "Andrews has been consistently unselfish in his style of play," the coach said. "He passed instead of shooting in most instances."

Kucher continued, "Pohlman has made remarkable progress, and we will count on him a great deal next year." Pohlman led the local scoring with 18 points, followed by Andrews' 14 and Peterson's 12.

The Colts finished the season with a 13-1 league mark and were 15-3 on the season. No other league team came close to the Colts' record — thus giving the local quintet the championship of the junior varsity teams.

In Uniform

USS Turner — Chief Personnelman Francis L. Smith, USN, son of Mr. and Mrs. Leland V. Smith of 419 Yerkes, Northville, participated in the Project Apollo AS-201 mission as a crewmember aboard the radar picket destroyer USS Turner, a unit of Task Force 140.

Turner occupied a downrange recovery station during the sub-orbital ballistic shot which initiated the program slated to put men on the moon by 1970.

Special equipment was installed on the Turner to facilitate handling of the unmanned spacecraft. Her crew has undergone training in spacecraft recovery since her selection for this mission.

Normally operating as a unit of the Atlantic Fleet's Destroyer Force, the Turner was chosen as a recovery vessel because of her search and rescue capabilities. After completion of the mission, Turner returned to her normal duties.

Smart Seeks Citizen Opinions

State Representative Clifford Smart of the 60th district, which includes South Lyon and Lyon township, Novi and Wixom has asked the people of his district to tell him their opinions on issues currently being considered in the state legislature.

"Soon the legislature will be faced with making final decisions on many important issues affecting all Michigan residents. I always welcome and appreciate hearing from citizens in my district and it is my hope that they will take a few minutes to indicate their views on the following questions," he said:

Yes or no answers to these questions can be mailed to Representative Clifford Smart, Michigan House of Representatives, State Capitol, Lansing, Michigan.

The questions are:

1. Do you think ...
1. Michigan needs a full-time, year-round legislature?
2. The school year should be extended from nine to 11 months?
3. Provision should be made for compensating innocent victims of violent crimes from public funds?
4. Law enforcement agencies need greater power in dealing with crime?
5. All new drivers, regardless of age, should be required to complete a drivers' education course?
6. Drivers should be required to pass a test each time they renew their licenses?
7. Driving records should be withheld from public exposure?
8. The state should support an osteopathic college?
9. Property tax relief for disabled veterans should be based on the extent of the disability?

Do you favor...

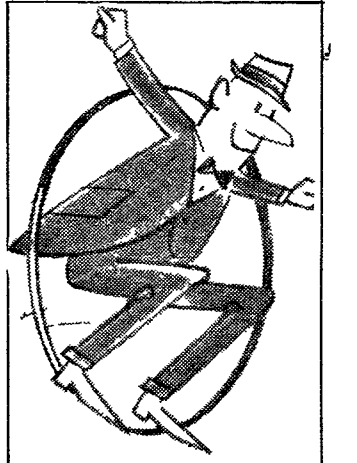

1. Four year terms for all legislators?
2. Renaming the Mackinac Bridge to G. Mennen Williams Bridge?
3. State tuition grants for students at private colleges?
4. State run vocational schools for high school dropouts?
5. Higher salaries for policemen?
6. Control of the deer herd by the department of conservation rather than by the legislature?
7. A Saturday opening for the deer season?
8. Compulsory motor vehicle inspection?
- 9.

Legislation implying consent to blood tests by drivers suspected of drunk driving? 10. The sale of liquor on Sunday providing local communities vote to allow it?

What, in your opinion is the greatest problem facing Michigan today? That was Smart's final question.

Cyril Woodcock of Brighton, England, left the door of his antique shop open to let the cat in for its daily saucer of milk. A thief slipped in instead and stole $1,120 worth of goods. Said Woodcock, "In the future, the cat will have to learn to knock."

IT'S A RIG-A-JIG and it's the most popular piece of 20th century playground equipment to be installed at Northville's Main street elementary school. Even in Monday's drizzle youngsters vie for a turn on the double teeter-totter. The Rig-a-jig and a Hemespheric Ladder, which Principal Harry Smith reports has arrived and will be installed shortly, are gifts of the Main Street PTA which donated $300 for the equipment. The "ladder" will be a half-moon shape for children to climb.

Non-Graded Concept From Parent's Viewpoint

Editor's Note — Starting this week is the first of a series of articles submitted to The Record by Mary Ellen Kelly, which she has written at the request of Harry Smith, principal of Main Street school, and with the approval of Alexander Nelson, Northville superintendent of schools. Currently confined to her home by illness, Mrs. Kelly promises to research the non-graded concept and report to readers. She is an active member of the Main Street PTA and has two sons, Kevin, 9, and Sam, 5, enrolled there. Mrs. Kelly works on a free lance basis with the Plymouth Mail, handling some advertising accounts, and, on a contingency basis, also for Educational Media, Inc., a medical writing and film producing agency. She has written retail advertising for the J. L. Hudson company, La-Salle's in Toledo, and other area stores.

opinion I have already arrived at an intuitive viewpoint. I personally think that if my parents had enrolled me in the University of Chicago at age five, I'd probably be president today. All of those tests and all of those terrible report cards categorized me incorrectly. I wound up an inhibited housewife instead of being president. So you see how easily I've arrived at my personal viewpoint.

But when it comes to kids... our own children... in these days of small-world communication and change and new trends and unheard of concepts and scientific concepts that are nothing short of bewildering to even the most sophisticated mind... then my viewpoint about me, is like the whooping crane, obsolete.

I must consider the world through the eyes of my children. Not anybody else's children, just mine. For it boils down to this:

It doesn't really matter to me how my son compares to your son. It doesn't matter if one reads well and the other doesn't. I am not grooming my son for direct personal competition with your son when they're looking around for the most capable man for the first shot at the moon.

I want my son to be educated to his maximum.

I want whatever potential there is to be discovered and then cultivated. I want his interests to be his teachers' interests. I want him to go to the best available school, that will do the best available job.

I want him to follow his bent... at his speed, determined by his rate of interest and growth.

I want to be with other people who feel this way. I want to know of and talk with educators who feel this way. I don't want to waste any time being sophomore or corny or spending one night a week or a month paying lip service to an "interesting" idea.

I want my son to develop mentally without interruption. Not only for survival, for what is survival but animal instinct.

I can't even really give worry to our own survival. I can only seriously, fervently and diligently prepare my son for the best life and that is the knowledgeable life. For with knowledge new doors open daily.

If the non-graded schoolroom can expedite this matter... can cultivate my son's interest in open doors and in opening them at infinitum then the whole thing is simple.

I shall study and pursue the concept in every way I can.

Next week I'll share my lessons with you. We'll toss intuition out the window, forget about status, pay no never mind to the Good Old Days. Instead we'll get into this thing from every angle and there's only one way to do it: Read what the pioneers have to tell us and then assign ourselves the task of clamping on the irresistible eyes of our children... taking a good look at the teacher, the school and the world through these eternally optimistic eyes.

It may well be that we'll see a new glimmer of hope.

Night Hours For School Library Set

Beginning this week Northville high school library will be open from 7 to 9 p.m. Tuesday and Thursday evenings so that students may use the facility in the evening. Student librarians will be on hand to help.

The night hours were approved Monday by the board of education which requested a check be kept on how much the library was used during the new hours. There was a suggestion that longer after-school hours also might be considered.

In connection with the library, Board Secretary Donald Lawrence requested, "Let's put the library first this year" as a budget item. Lawrence reported that the high school library now has between 6,000 and 7,000 volumes but, according to tables he has studied, it should have 20,000 volumes for a district of Northville's size. It was pointed out, however, that in some libraries the 20,000 volumes are frequently additional copies of the same book.

Superintendent Alexander Nelson called the library emphasis "a step in the right direction." The board scheduled a meeting for 7:30 p.m. Monday to discuss budgets.

Fred Lyke Succumbs In Florida

Fred W. Lyke, 88, a life-long resident of Northville until he retired to Florida in 1957, died February 17 at North District hospital in Pompano Beach. Funeral services were held February 19 with the Reverend Samuel Bell of Pompano First Methodist church officiating. Interment was in Forest Lawn Gardens, Pompano Beach, with graveside services conducted by the Masonic Order.

He at one time owned and operated a hardware store in Northville. He served as a member of the Northville board of Education for 10 years, was Northville township clerk for 15 years and was a life member of Northville Lodge 186, F and AM.

He was born November 29, 1877, to Edgar and Frances Lyke. He is survived by his wife, Minnie, of 220 Northeast 24th Avenue, Pompano Beach; two sons, Jason of Boca Raton, Florida, and Robert of Pompano Beach; a sister, Mrs. Grace Burman of Detroit; a brother, Arthur of Eureka, Kansas; four grandchildren and one great-grandchild.

Hearing to Determine Bus Drivers' Status

Northville Superintendent of Schools Alexander Nelson and Administrative Assistant Elroy Ellison will meet with the labor mediation board at 10 a.m. Friday in the Cadillac Square building, Detroit, as the district's case to see if Northville bus drivers are to be represented by Metropolitan Council 23, AFL-CIO, is reviewed.

Cautions by Board Trustee E. O. Weber that any board discussion of the subject at Monday night's board meeting might be construed as unfair labor practice, the board studied a survey of bus transportation rates made by Ellison but made no comment.

Charles Kehrer, who spoke for the drivers at a previous meeting when he pointed out the $2 an hour rate was below the area average, attended the meeting, with other drivers.

A progress report on professional negotiations with the district's teachers also was distributed to board members.

Plans were made to have representation at the 18th annual conference of school boards and officials March 25 at University of Michigan.

High school cafeteria increases of five cents on student lunches and ten cents on adult lunches were approved to take effect this month.

The board discussed with Assistant Superintendent Raymond Spear the possibility that Novi would operate its own driver education program this summer on a cost-shared basis with Northville which now receives tuition and state funds for Novi students. Indicating that it would be in favor of Novi training its own students, the board left the choice to Novi. Spear suggested that an added eight hours of classroom instruction be incorporated in the Northville driver training program to follow the student's six hours on the road.

Ellison reported to the board that the well on the new elementary school site had been sunk to a depth of 162 feet last Friday afternoon but that water in the casing was "still." A decision was made by the architects to continue with a four-inch pipe to see if "moving water" could be located deeper.

Telephone Base Rate Area Grows

The Michigan Public Service Commission has authorized the Michigan Bell Telephone Company to enlarge the base rate area of its Northville exchange by adding thereto an area of approximately 2 1/2 square miles adjacent to the present base rate area and now included in the "Novi" locality rate area.

The Commission's action will place 332 locality area customers in the base rate area. Of this number, 271 are 1-party residence customers and will receive reductions of 75¢ per month each, and 61 have 2-party residence service and would receive reductions of 50¢ per month each.

The Northville exchange is located in the counties of Oakland, Washtenaw and Wayne.

Chamber Polls Members On CBD, Traffic Plans

Northville community chamber of commerce members are being polled by the board of directors this week to determine membership attitudes regarding local traffic proposals as well as the central business district plan as proposed by the city planning commission.

A return address postcard, copied below, asks members to respond to four questions. Numbers two and three have been recommended by the chamber at meetings of the planning commission and city council.

All area residents interested in the community are invited to fill out the form and mail it to the Northville Community Chamber of Commerce, Northville, Michigan.

Smart Asks License Proof

State Representative Clifford H. Smart (R-Walled Lake) recently introduced legislation aimed at reducing the number of unlicensed drivers on Michigan roads.

Smart's bill would require a person applying for license plates to prove that he is a licensed driver. Drivers purchasing their own plates would have to display their licenses and in the case where another person is picking up the plates, an affidavit proving that the owner of the vehicle is a licensed driver must be presented.

"This will not eliminate all unlicensed drivers from the road," said Smart, "but it will be a step in the right direction." "Like any traffic safety measure by itself, it will not solve the whole problem of the ever increasing death and slaughter rate on our highways. Each piece of legislation may attack a particular part of the problem and in this way we can make significant progress," he concluded.

A Northville home has won the top award for landscaping in a statewide contest sponsored by the Michigan Association of Nurserymen, Incorporated.

The rustic yard at the home of Mr. and Mrs. George Schueder, 45926 Pickford in Shadbrook subdivision, which invites outdoor living, won the prize in the residential category for its Northville designer.

Milo Hunt, designer for Green Ridge Nursery, 8600 Napier road created the landscape. It was executed by Green Ridge, which is owned and operated by John M. Miller.

The Schueders wanted erosion and drainage problems solved on their sloping lot. They also wanted a spacious outdoor living area which would offer a reasonable degree of privacy at their newly constructed home located on a high bank overlooking the Rouge River.

The result a year and a half later prompted entry in the contest.

Beginning with full-length used railroad ties constructed into a curving stairway down the steep bank to the river, providing an access to a future picnic site on the riverbank, the problem soil was shored and a motif set for the entire yard.

Planter boxes flanking the stairs at random intervals create a feeling of security while offering a degree of safety and adding beauty to the hillside.

A split rail fence at the top of the bank with an inset redwood plank cantilever deck stretching spacious terrace and add interest to the overall picture in the yard.

Louvered redwood panel fencing achieves the privacy without sealing off the surroundings. A firepit ringed with brick set in gravel and outlined by railroad ties combines utility with decoration at one side of the terrace.

A combination of poured concrete squares with redwood dividers plus the decking create a outward caps the peak. The remaining face of the bank is covered by low plants and bushes.

Groupings of pine, spruce and white birch complete the picture.

Swim Club Elects Wisner President

John Wisner was elected president of the Northville Swim Club at a board meeting February 14. Other officers for the year are Douglas Day, first vice-president; Richard Brown, second vice-president; Glenn Deibert, secretary; Mrs. Frederick Sterner, Jr., treasurer. Hugh McKay is financial committee chairman with Brown continuing in charge of the building and grounds committee. Other members of the board are Robert Bretz, Chris Hammond, Bernard Bach.

Final plans for the addition of a diving pool, a pool office and cement deck area around the pool addition, approved at the club's annual meeting last month, were to be inspected at a special meeting of the building and grounds committee Tuesday. Estimated cost of the expansion is $20,000 to $25,000.

Next meeting of the board will be at 8 p.m., March 15, at the home of Douglas Day, 20359 Woodhill road.

from the PASTOR'S STUDY

Reverend Father John Wittstock
Our Lady of Victory Church

In all of history there has been only one perfect Amen or yes spoken by man to God, and the man who spoke it was God's Divine Son. It was He who said, "I have come down from heaven not to do my own will, but the will of Him who sent me." The "yes or O.K." of this redemptive death on the cross remains the one man's eternally perfect Amen of man to God. But this Amen is more significant than one man's yes to God because the one who spoke it is the head of redeemed mankind. He sent out His spirit to incorporate you and me, dear readers, into Himself and so He has thereby graciously involved you and me in this O.K.

Your life and mine is nothing more than our weak efforts to join in His submission of Will to God's. In and through Christ, God has personally encountered each of us. By the grace of God each Christian can truly say "The Lord called me from birth; from my mother's womb He gave me my name." Now this personal call demands of each one a response. That response is your life or rather your life in this response, this Amen, this O.K.

What are some of the most obvious implications in your involvement with Christ? Well, in one instance it is your meeting God publicly, as His holy people, as His family. One way of experiencing this is by your participation in worship with all the other people of God. But in another instance it is your own personal encounter with Christ—person to person. Perhaps we have been living in a depersonalized age. We have made "it" of Grace. We are well satisfied so long as we have not committed a serious offense against God. But all of us must try to get more personal with God.

The other day I asked a third grade student what sanctifying grace was. She without hesitation said "God in me." This surely was the right answer and showed a consciousness on the part of the little student that she was encountering Christ when she expressed this religious experience "God in me."

Little children (and all of us are that in the eyes of God) have been trained to know that God is forever seeking us. He is always with us and demands a mere response from us. One of the reasons why we must give this response is if we don't we shall end up seeking and finding only ourselves. Weak humans that we are we analyze our faults and sins, the same trespasses explored so often in the past, always with a temporary hope to do better but many times ending in the same humiliating defeat. The whole emphasis is on "me." The pre-occupation is with self. The true tragedy of this is that in fixing our eyes so intently on self we never quite get around to raising them where they should be, upon God our Father. Our hearts and our minds become much more on God and much less on ourselves. Our hopes and aspirations should revolve on the premise of not what I will do but rather a hope of what God, through Grace, will enable me to do. When you speak to others about religion you not only inform them what God says but in a very personal way you teach them who God is. In other words you not only give God's message but you shape His image. It is necessary for us then to be in touch with God personally before we attempt to get in touch with God's people. Moses did not descend to the assembly of God's chosen people at the foot of the mountain until first he had ascended the mountain to meet God in face-to-face encounter. This encounter should be our daily life.

...and FORGIVENESS

Sin is a disagreeable word that millions shun. It casts a shadow of separation. It raises chill thoughts of an impenetrable and eternal barrier between humanity and God...

Forgiveness on the other hand is a warm and inspiring word. It promises that life's slate can be wiped clean. It brings us close to God — and to one another.

An Execution on a Friday centuries ago... an Empty Tomb in the dawn of the first Easter Day... a Faith that has gripped human souls for all the generations since — these are forever entwined with the stark realization of man's sin and the blessed assurance of God's forgiveness.

That is why, when we think deeply of the meaning of these words — of their implication in our own lives — we find ourselves at the very heart of the Christian religion.

And it is why these soul-stirring weeks at the threshold of Christ's suffering have long been the time for such searching thought!

THE CHURCH FOR ALL • ALL FOR THE CHURCH

The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the Church. They are: (1) For his own sake. (2) For the sake of his children's sake. (3) For the sake of his community and nation. (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.

Details of Fire Inspection Outlined for Local Project

A complete fire inspection of Northville's merchantile establishments and public buildings has been scheduled for Wednesday March 30, according to David Biery, committee chairman for the Northville Community Chamber of Commerce.
 The Michigan Fire Prevention Association, a division of the Michigan Capital Stock Insurance Association, has accepted an invitation to conduct the inspection. The Association's services will be provided at no cost to the city.
 The inspectors will be field representatives of capital stock insurance companies and are voluntarily donating the time for the inspections. Local independent insurance agents are cooperating.
 On the day of the inspection, the inspectors, along with local Boy Scouts, will visit stores, churches and public buildings. Fire hazards discovered during the visits will be marked with red tags and the owner or tenant will be given a booklet describing the hazard. The booklet will also list recommendations for correcting the hazard.
 Local independent insurance agents said the inspections are made only with the owner's or tenant's permission and will not affect their insurance rates or policies in any respect.
 "The inspections are made not to be critical, but to be helpful," Biery said. "Usually the hazards are small things which anyone recognizes but which often escape attention."
 He said that 85 percent of all fires are started from common hazards which the inspections would uncover.

Annual Report for 1964-65 of the Northville Public School System

TO THE READER:

Your Board of Education and administration are aware of the pride Northville Public School District has in its school system. This report is an attempt to give the people in our school district a summary of what has been accomplished in the past fiscal school year. It is our hope that this report will serve to inform you of some of the important facts concerning our schools. Members of the administrative staff, principals, teachers or classified staff members will be glad to provide you with any further information you may wish.

This past year saw the retirement of Mr. Russel Amerman as the District Superintendent of Schools, after three decades of service to our district.

Growth of school population prompted active citizen committees to point out our future needs. A $3,300,000 Bond Issue was approved by the citizens of our school district to provide the following: (1) a new elementary school; (2) a new Junior High School; (3) urgently needed additions to the High School; (4) a swimming pool; (5) improvement to school grounds and facilities for school buses; (6) renovations of District Administrative Offices. The firm of O'Dell, Hewlett & Luchters, Inc., of Birmingham, Michigan was retained as the Architects and Planning Consultants for the proposed building. The representatives of the architectural firm are working closely with teacher representatives and the recommendations of the Citizens Committees in the development of plans for the new buildings and additions. Guided by the work of the citizens' groups and assisted by competent teachers the architect progress is being made and it is hoped that the new elementary school will be open this coming fall.

The present fiscal school year will see the termination of our district voted operating millage. It will be necessary to seek continued approval of our citizens to renew the needed operational millage for the operation of our schools, including the staffing and operation of the new buildings and to continue the program of upgrading our educational program for all boys and girls of the district.

Your Board of Education and the administrative staff, the teachers and the classified staff are proud of our past achievements, but we are all working to make our schools even better.

May I take this opportunity to express the appreciation of the entire staff for your support at all times, your sympathetic understanding and concern of the problems confronting public education in the Northville Public Schools, School District, and your willingness to approve proposals designed to strengthen our program.

The accounts and records of the District for the fiscal year ending 30 June 1965 were examined by H. Earl Hanson, Certified Public Accountant, according to generally accepted standards of auditing, embracing a review of the systems of internal control and accounting procedures. Verification or tests of the several accounts and records were made and found to be in order. Direct confirmation of cash collections from such revenue sources as tax and interest collections, state aid and tuition were made. As a part of the examination of the recorded collection of taxes and interest on delinquent taxes, a series of tests were conducted to determine that the amounts collected had been properly apportioned between and deposited in the General Fund and the several Debt Service Funds in accordance with the millage assessed for the several years.

The school membership records were examined by a representative of the Child Accounting Division of the Wayne County Board of Education.

The Student/Class Activity Funds were examined and found to be in order.

In the opinion of Mr. H. Earl Hanson, CPA the audit fairly represents the Revenues and Expenditures of the several funds of the District for the fiscal year ended 30 June 1965, in accordance with generally accepted principles of accounting and the accounting procedures as contained in the Revised Uniform Accounting Manual as issued by the Superintendent of Instruction for the State of Michigan.

All financial records, reports and audits are available for your examination in the Board of Education Offices at 107 S. Wing Street, Northville. You are welcome to visit with us concerning the audit or any other matter relative to our school district.

Respectfully
Alexander M. Nelson
District Superintendent of Schools

GENERAL FUND

The total levy for General Fund purposes for fiscal year 1964-65 was 17.90 mills on a state equalized value of $31,582,047.00 while amounts due from previous years was taken from records of taxes uncollected at the beginning of the year. The following statement presents a summary, by years, of uncollected taxes:

Fiscal Year	Amt. Due	Collections During Year	Uncollected
1959-60	$ 2,917.64	—	$ 2,917.64
1960-61	5,255.23	280.13	4,975.10
1961-62	4,964.29	2,239.35	2,724.94
1962-63	10,359.89	9,094.15	1,265.74
1963-64	26,152.43	16,896.85	9,255.58
	49,649.48	28,510.48	21,139.00
1964-65	565,318.64	534,392.06	30,926.58
Total	614,968.12	562,902.54	52,065.58

It will be noted from the above statement that the total collections on prior years' assessment are fairly comparable to the amount of delinquency on the current (1964-65) year's tax roll. However, collections of amounts assessed prior to fiscal year 1961-62 amounted to only $280.13, leaving a total of $7,892.74 uncollected for those years. Inasmuch as all taxes assessed for 1960 and prior years have been offered for public sale or have been bid in by the State of Michigan, it is the opinion of the auditor that uncollected balances due for those years are doubtful of collection and should be charged off against the General Fund surplus. Any further collections made for those particular years could then be taken into Revenues when collected.

There were delayed grants of $9,799.35. These items represent income earned prior to 30 June 1965 and are detailed as follows: (1) National Defense Education Act - $2,599.35; (2) Driver Education Aid - $6,000.00; and (3) Vocational Education Aid - $1,200.00

Due to the fact that expenses for the year exceeded revenues by $47,771.15, the net equity of this fund was reduced to the net amount of $1,362.52 at 30 June 1965. This amount is subject to a further qualification that inclusion of a reserve for probable uncollectibility of past-due taxes in the amount of $7,892.74 would result in a deficit of $6,530.22.

DEBT RETIREMENT FUNDS COMMENTS

All funds on deposit were verified and confirmed by the auditor. All bonds and interest maturing during the year were paid when due, and bonds totalling $31,000.00 of the 1954 series were called and paid prior to maturity, thereby retiring this issue in full.

Under date of 28 June 1965 a cash transfer of $9,982.28, representing the unexpended cash on deposit in the 1954 Bond Retirement bank account, was made to the 1957 Series A Bond Retirement bank account without formal resolution of the Board of Education and without prior approval of such transfer by the Municipal Finance Commission. This transaction was reversed by a redeposit of such funds on 3 September 1965, pending application for approval of the transfer. This was subsequently obtained.

Uncollected taxes due all funds, as of 30 June 1965, totalled $18,746.90 and represented the balance of taxes assessed for years as follows:

Fiscal Year Ended	Amount
1959	$1,511.71
1960	2,134.10
1961	1,213.49
1962	285.58
1963	3,758.12
1964	9,843.90
Total	$18,746.90

According to the auditors the amounts due for years 1959 and 1960 should be considered uncollectible and the proper portion charged off against the surplus of each fund. There is sufficient cash on deposit or evidenced by savings deposit receipts to meet the minimum requirements of the 1957 Bond Issues as shown by the following comparison:

Fiscal 1964-5 Tax Levy	A	B	C
	$28,423.84	$97,904.35	$37,898.46

Less Cash Transferred on 3 September 1965	9,982.28	—	—
Cash after adjustment	14,677.81	43,623.56	19,839.68

Total requirements of all Bond Issues during the year amounted to $121,000.00, reducing the outstanding indebtedness to $2,605,000.00. The funds necessary to meet the requirements for maturing bonds and interest were deposited with the paying agent before the due date.

CAFETERIA FUND COMMENTS

The accounting of this fund is maintained on the accrual basis. Salaries of Cafeteria workers are paid through the General Fund to facilitate the deduction of withheld taxes and other items involved in the preparation of payrolls. Periodic reimbursement is made to the General Fund for any funds advanced. During prior years, the Cafeteria Fund also reimbursed the General Fund for a pro rata portion of maintenance workers' wages and Business Administrator's payrolls. During the year under review, operations were charged with the amount of $2,216.00 representing a portion of the Business Administrator's salary.

SPEAKING for The Record

By BILL SLIGER

Beautification is a year-around project.

That was the consensus of the meeting Saturday afternoon called by the city council's beautification committee.

Northville has had a proud record set in past clean-up, paint-up, fix-up campaigns. Three years in a row ... from 1958-60 ... the community won first place for cities of its size in nationwide competition. Those campaigns were sparked by John Canterbury, Ed Welch and Bill Becker as chairmen, and had strong community support.

But a growing feeling that we were beginning to rest on our laurels prompted the council to name Councilwoman Beatrice Carlson chairman of a committee to revitalize the effort.

Saturday's organizational meeting at city hall indicated that Mrs. Carlson also has ample support. Approximately 30 representatives of various local organizations ... Garden Club, Woman's Club, Chamber of Commerce, Jaycees, VFW, American Legion, plus several others... were eager to work.

Several ideas were proposed and another meeting suggested.

At this point it is evident that the steering committee will have little trouble in finding help. But definite projects are needed so that the enthusiasm is not lost and direction may be given the volunteers.

Among the ideas proposed were tree-planting programs, park beautification, and enforcement of existing ordinances so that unkept privately-owned vacant lots will be improved.

It still seems, however, that one strong project to give real purpose and to provide the satisfaction of accomplishment is needed. It might be thorough beautification of the boulevard entrance to the community along South Main street (for a favorable first impression), or planters in the business district or benches for resting.

Councilwoman Carlson and her committee would welcome ideas as well as help.

If you have a suggestion for a community-wide beautification project, call or write city hall.

Incidentally, the committee would like to know who has the prize-winning scrapbooks that recorded projects of the 1958-60 campaigns. They're lost. Many of the ideas could be used again.

Maybe when we start cleaning up, they'll be found.

It's been several weeks since the city decided to post its unimproved lots (on Wing, Main and Dunlap streets) so that cars cannot be parked indefinitely without penalty.

The council directed posting 24-hour limits. This enables many employees to park their cars in the out-of-way lots all day long without interfering with prime two-hour shopper lots. But it would prevent abandonment or "storage" of old vehicles.

The idea is a good one. Let's hope it hasn't been forgotten.

Everyone hopes Northville Township Supervisor R. D. Merriam, now recuperating at home from surgery, gets well soon.

It's safe to say that Clerk Rita Young and her crew at the township hall have more than personal feelings about his recovery. They're finding things a little busy without the boss. (You'll really be appreciated now, Bob).

USS Robert L. Wilson - Radioman Seaman Gerald L. Jerome, USN, son of Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Jerome of 419 Dunbar St., Northville, participated in the Project Apollo AS-201 mission as a crewmember aboard the destroyer USS Robert L. Wilson, a unit of Task Force 140.

Wilson occupied a downrange recovery station during the sub-orbital ballistic shot which initiated the program slated to put men on the moon by 1970.

Special equipment was installed on the Wilson to facilitate handling of the unmanned spacecraft. Her crew has undergone training in spacecraft recovery since her selection for this mission.

Normally operating as a unit of the Atlantic Fleet's Destroyer Force, the Wilson was chosen as a recovery vessel because of her search and rescue capabilities. After completion of the mission, Wilson returned to her normal duties.

U. S. ARMY, EUROPE - Army Pvt. Walter H. Caiger, Jr., whose parents live at 44922 Grand River, Novi, took part in Exercise MARNE MAULER, an 11-day field training exercise in Germany which ended Feb. 7.

Caiger's unit, Headquarters Troop, 2d Reconnaissance Squadron of the 2d Armored Cavalry Regiment, was with the 3d Infantry Division during the exercise, held to provide intensive training against an aggressor force, and to train the division to support itself logistically.

American, German and French air and ground forces took part as friendly and aggressor forces.

Caiger is a tank crewman in the troop. He entered the Army in June 1964 and completed basic training at Fort Knox, Kentucky.

The 19-year-old soldier attended Northville high school.

Amarillo, Tex. - Airman Third Class Linda K. Tolleson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James G. Tolleson of 6869 Six Mile road, Northville, has been graduated at Amarillo AFB, Texas, from the training course for U.S. Air Force administrative specialists.

Airman Tolleson, a graduate of Grayling (Mich.) high school, is being assigned to one of the more than 250 installations world-wide where Air Force combat and support units are based.

Ungraded Plan Threatens School's Millage Election

To the Editor:

I am one of an evergrowing number of concerned parents who do not want to see the ungraded system in our high school. Since the school board has committed itself to this system starting in the new elementary school - without a citizens' poll - there are only two ways to fight it.

I am very sorry to say that this means defeating the bond issue and by taking a very close look at our school board with the knowledge that there will be three vacancies this spring.

Perhaps there will be three candidates who appreciate that right now we have an above average high school for the size and tax structure of our community. We are blessed with some very good teachers - who care about the students' progress. Our students are entering college, and they are staying in college. In fact, our Freshman class at the University of Michigan is doing very well.

If the school board and Mr. Nelson feel that we have to experiment with the educational system, I will go along with the first five grades IF - we have an adequate teaching staff to initiate the program. I know that this means more teachers. Where are we going to get the money? This ungraded system should not be started until it can function adequately at least.

At the junior high level, I definitely believe that the students should remain in the present system. Once they enter college they have to work for grades. Why not now? There are no colleges in Michigan set up to take students from the ungraded schools. Are our students all going to the University of Chicago or a few of the Eastern colleges which are set up for this?

Supposedly they will be admitted to college on the basis of college exams. This does not necessarily work. Many students have worked and made grades that make them acceptable to college, however, when taking these college tests, and national tests they freeze and make poor scores. Are they to be kept out??

Right now in our high school we have a system whereby the very bright students are advanced to the accelerated classes. Why not enlarge upon this theme? Competition has made America great. I truly believe that this system takes away this spirit. I can appreciate that the very bright student will really gain from this system. Perhaps it will be beneficial to the slow student. However, the greatest majority are in the average group. Where do they go?

Who inspires them? Will they be content to remain there?

Also, there are four high schools in this area which are known for their excellence in educating their students: Grosse Pointe, Dearborn, Birmingham, and Ann Arbor. If this system is supposed to be so superior, why haven't these schools switched to it?

Mr. Spear says that they are not sure how far they will go in the high school level - that they probably will give grades. However, Mr. Nelson, the Superintendent, said in an open meeting at the Main Street PTA that he intends to have the high school ungraded. Who is right? Unless I hear that the high school is going to be left "graded", I will not vote for the next bond issue.

Very concerned Mother P.S. The idea was so obvious to move the new elementary site closer to water on Eight Mile road that I am sincerely wondering about the vision of our present school board.

Four and One-Half Percent Time Certificates are automatically renewed at maturity unless notice is given. They may also be redeemed before maturity with 30 days written notice, at slightly lower rates. Certificates redeemed prior to 90 days earn at an annual rate of 3 1/2% - from 90 days to maturity, at 4%.

In addition to the new Time Certificates, which are also available in passbook form, NBD continues to offer Regular 4% Savings Accounts with interest paid and compounded quarterly. You can, of course, deposit any amount desired in a Regular Savings Account.

Time Certificates and Regular Savings Accounts are available at all 85 offices of the National Bank of Detroit.
