Schools Hit by Rising Costs

Junior High Up $169,000

Final proposed plans for the new Northville junior high school were shown at the board of education meeting Monday night, and board members found that estimated construction costs had risen more than $169,223 from the estimated $1,250,000 budgeted in the $3.3 million bond millage election last June to a present estimate of $1,419,223.

As board members and interested citizens in the audience questioned spiraling costs and such features as location of the athletic fields, size of the gymnasium and vocational education rooms, it was decided to delay approval until further study could be made at a special board session at 7:30 p.m. next Monday night.

C. Henry Haberkorn, administrative coordinator for architects O'Dell, Hewlett and Luckenbach, said possibly contingency funds, if not needed, could narrow the gap in construction costs and suggested that some high school and miscellaneous plans might have to be deferred.

Haberkorn was asked to explore costs of increasing the gymnasium size in the present proposed plans. As now conceived, the gymnasium measures 42 by 74 feet. Junior High Principal Donald Vanling pointed out that this is smaller than the present boys' gymnasium without spectator section. Haberkorn explained that the "cafeteria area" was designed to be dual purpose, serving as a cafeteria and as a girls' gymnasium.

Proposed as alternates were two of the 11 suggested basic classrooms, paving and an entrance canopy which would add $93,195 to the $1,419,223 estimate.

In presenting the interior design Haberkorn pointed out his firm had been working with the Northville school staff since last fall in designing a school that would "be flexible enough for any type program" with an academically-centered area of classroom clusters around a resources center. The school, he said, was designed for 600 students and could expand to 750.

The schedule, suggested by the architects, calls for bids to be awarded by the beginning of August with construction to be completed and the buildings ready for occupancy by August 15, 1967.

Among the questions which the board and the architects are expected to take another look at next Monday night was Assistant Superintendent Raymond Spear's observation that the girls will have to cross the front road to get from the locker room to the girls' athletic field, now located in front of and downhill from the building toward Taft road. William Secord also objected to its "front yard" location.

Secord also asked about ventilation for three interior classrooms that are windowless. Forced, fresh air ventilators will be included, Haberkorn assured him.

In addition to the problem of rising costs, the board was faced with the continuing problem of vacation of the Bernhardt drain as the proposed setting for the school is over the drain in the northeast corner. Vacation proceedings are to be undertaken by City Attorney Philip Ogilvie who will act for the school and Thompson-Brown. Ogilvie was reported to have promised he would get to the matter right after April 15.

The $1,419,223 cost for the building, it was indicated, would be reviewed and, where possible, pared down. The sum included $158,410 for built-in and movable equipment as well as the site fee and estimated $79,000 for site development.

If bids are received in line with the present budget, the junior high's added costs of $169,223 with the over-cost on the elementary school of $81,000 (as its costs appear to be "firmed up" at $706,325 instead of $625,000 estimated in the bond issue), will total $250,223 above estimates. With these figures, $2,125,548 of the $3.3 million bond issue will have been spent. Still in the bond issue are high school expansion, a bus service center, central office facilities and the swimming pool. These facilities, whose estimated costs also are expected to spiral, originally were budgeted for $1,300,000, which is more than remains from the bond issue, according to present figures.

Family Reunion Provides Happy Ending To Escape from Burning Ship at Sea

When Mrs. Bruce Bradshaw resumed her fifth grade classes after spring vacation Monday, honors for the best "show and tell" experiences belonged to the teacher.

A weeklong Caribbean cruise ended abruptly early Friday morning for Mr. and Mrs. Bradshaw and passengers of the Viking Princess. A fire, which spread throughout the cruiser, resulted in a series of episodes that happily ended without tragedy and capped the vacation with a never-to-be-forgotten experience.

There were many reasons for HAPPY REUNION—It's been three years since the Bruce B. Bradshaw family has been together at one time. They almost didn't make it Easter Sunday. The senior Bradshaws were aboard the Viking Princess which burned in the Caribbean in the early morning hours Friday. A life jacket serves as a reminder of the near-tragedy. Seated (l. to r.) are: Mr. and Mrs. Robert Bradshaw, Mr. and Mrs. Bruce Bradshaw with Sherry and David, and (standing) Mr. and Mrs. Kent Bradshaw.

Like the other passengers and crewmen of the Viking Princess, the Bradshaws were rescued at sea, taken to Guantanamo, and finally, caught up in a swirl of publicity that followed them right to their Sheldon road home.

"No more stories . . . you're the last interview", Bradshaw told The Record Easter Sunday. The Bradshaws had been interviewed by newspaper reporters, taped by radio commentators and photographed by television cameramen.

There were many reasons for thankfulness Sunday.

For the first time in three years the Bradshaw family was together.

There was son, Kent, who is 28, and his wife and two children, Sherry 3, and David 1. Kent is a captain in the air force now on leave and recently back from Vietnam.

There was son, Robert, who is 25, and his wife. They reside in Muskegon where Bob is a speech therapist for the Muskegon school system.

And then there was Grandfather

P. G. Thompson, who resides with the Bradshaws at their 19061 Sheldon road home. It was his 87th birthday Sunday.

In these familiar and comfortable surroundings the Bradshaws could reflect upon their experience and even enjoy its lighter side.

Thursday night as the cruiser returned from visits to the Caribbean islands of Aruba and Curacao the passengers enjoyed a masquerade party. The Bradshaws returned to their cabin and retired shortly after midnight, but within an hour heard a knocking at their door.

Bradshaw expected to find one of the revellers from a rather noisy party in the next cabin. But instead it was a crewman with instructions "to dress and go to your muster station".

When the lights wouldn't work, the Bradshaws were convinced the alarm was genuine. Dressing hurriedly in the dark, they hardly suspected that what they were leaving behind would be lost forever: all their clothes, luggage, money, camera and rolls of vacations films, two pairs of Mrs. Bradshaw's glasses.

On the deck they were joined by fellow passengers dressed in everything from formal wear and

Track Quiet At Downs

Hope for a spring harness racing meet in Northville died completely this week as negotiations with horsemen and mutual clerks switched to Wolverine and Hazel Park tracks.

Harness racing is scheduled to open April 25 at Wolverine, while runners open at Hazel Park. Horsemen met Tuesday with Commissioner Berry Beaman and reportedly offered a new package which bases their percentage for purse money on the total evening's handle.

In Northville horsemen had sought 44 per cent, while the track was offering 39 1/2.

Mutual clerks, too, have reportedly made changes in their demands for pay hikes and meetings are scheduled with both tracks. Northville's Mayor A. M. Allen appealed to Governor Romney last week to aid in settlement of the dispute. His reply expressed sympathy, but declined interference with state mediators.

Northville Downs must still reach agreement with the horsemen and clerks for its scheduled 35-night summer meet, June 27-August 5.

Proposed School Budget Shows More Increases

A detailed presentation of the Northville school district's proposed budget for 1966-67 drew criticism when it was presented at the board meeting Monday night, showing a total expected increase of $308,098 — a figure 10 per cent higher than the $282,000 used on the millage increase budget study.

Board member E. O. Weber pointed out that the board is asking voters to approve a millage increase of eight mills and a continuation of 10 mills on May 9 under a proposed $282,000 budget.

With the Eight Mile road elementary school not expected to be fully operating in the fall, he declared, the budget should be less, not more. The $308,098 figure, he said, would increase the total budget by 25 per cent in one year. He said he felt strongly that at this time the district should be "doing some catching up on its deficit".

Among added costs in the new budget, Elroy Ellison, administrative assistant who prepared it, said, were provision for the elementary principal at $11,100, an additional maintenance man at $5,500 and a proposed overtime pay scale for maintenance men.

He said the budget was to be considered "a work sheet for the allocation board" and that before August 15 there would have to be further revisions as "there now are many unknowns, including teacher salaries, number of students and the state aid formula." Robert Shafer added that when the budget is presented to the allocation board "you have to have everything in there."

The budget was returned to the administration for further work. In other action the board approved purchase of two 66-passenger Chevrolet buses with Thomas bodies at a cost of $6925.57 each. It accepted the bid of International Insurance, represented locally by Ken Rathert, for workmen's compensation insurance at a cost of $3,735.49.

The board also voted to have a letter prepared to the Northwest Child Guidance clinic, which also would go to other participating districts, suggesting that some priority be given to students from districts supporting the clinic. Assistant Superintendent Raymond Spear reported that 14 student cases have been referred to the clinic with six completed, three still being treated, one waiting, one withdrawn, and three applications not completed by parents, and thereby not complying with clinic regulations for treatment.

First of Series

Citizens' Report On Millage Vote

EDITOR'S NOTE—This is the first of a series of articles which will run weekly until Northville votes on school millage on May 9th. It has been prepared by the Northville schools' citizen millage committee.

In the May 9th vote for school millage, the only issue facing the Northville voter is the continuing need for adequate education in the community.

The May 9th vote has nothing whatsoever to do with educational programs currently being discussed in the community. In other words, the kind of program has nothing to do with the need for millage approval.

Approval of the millage request will not constitute an endorsement of any particular program. What approval will do is supply needed funds to continue the Northville education program at a level consistent with past quality and necessary for the present and future well-being of the community.

Subsequent articles in this series will detail the cost factors and show that funds are needed regardless of what particular course Northville education takes in the future.

Additional 8 Mills Needed

At the May 9th millage vote, citizens are being asked to approve 18 mills. Of this, 10 mills are a continuation of operating funds which ran out in December 1965 and eight mills are additional millage.

The additional eight mills do not represent a funding of any experimental programs, but rather a hard-headed business assessment of minimum, immediate school needs.

A large part of the additional eight mills will provide eighteen more teachers to help staff the new elementary school, beef up existing weak spots in teacher supply throughout the system and reduce the student-teacher classroom ratio to a more desirable level.

Another chunk of the increase will go for salary increases and materials and equipment. These also will be detailed in future articles.

What Increase Will Cost

As every home owner knows, one mill of tax translates to one dollar per thousand out of pocket expense. On a house with an assessed valuation of $10,000 the May 9th millage proposal would mean an increase of $96 per year or $8.00 per month, based on the current equalization factor.

As most residents also know, Northville's business-to-home ratio is such that the home owner bears a heavy burden of the school tax bill. However, as real estate people will tell you, the value of a home and the community is protected by a community's adequate schools.

Moreover, as the community expands and new business with its increasing need for an educated populace seeks places to locate, the schools become an important attraction — in many respects an important partner in future community growth.

The Constitution of the State of Michigan, Article eleven, section one, has charged the people, "Schools and the Means of Education Shall forever be encouraged." It's a charge no citizen should take lightly.

Anyone interested in more information is invited — indeed urged — to contact School Board President Wilfred Becker at the Board of Education offices, phone number 349-3400. Just say "I want more information on the tax vote."

Meanwhile, the citizens committee will continue to supply information through these articles until the May 9th vote.

Cars, Lights Hit by BB's

There's a "pellet prowler" in Northville.

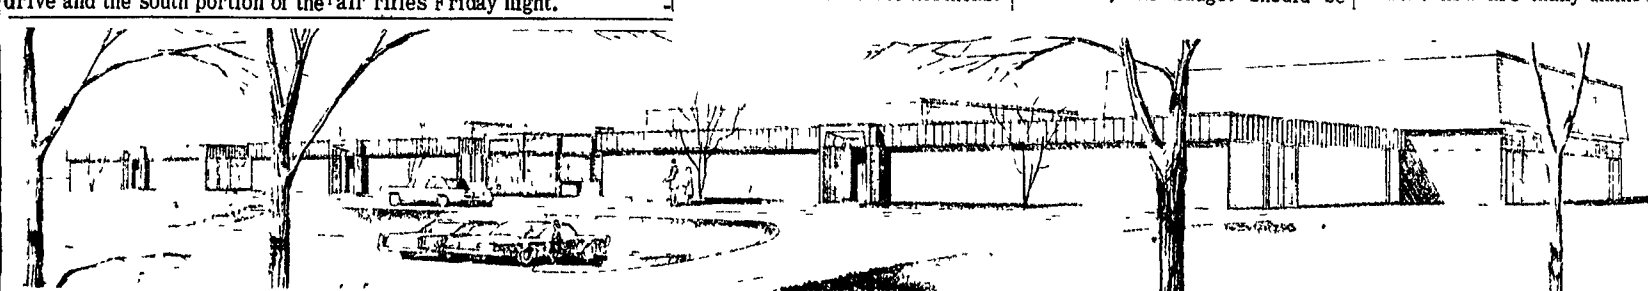

Police Chief David LaFond reported this week that there have been seven recent cases of car windshields being hit by pellets or BB's, all in the vicinity of

South Center street and Hines drive and the south portion of the business district.

The police chief has issued an appeal to parents whose youngsters have air rifles or pellet guns to check closely on their

He reported that all streetlights on Fairbrook had been shot out by air rifles Friday night.

Northville's proposed junior high school, as it will face on Taft road, features low lines and a cluster concept.

In Our Town

By Jean Day

THOSE SUN-DRENCHED islands of the Caribbean have been ports of call for several fortunate Northville citizens taking early-season vacations. The Crispin Hammonds of 47100 Timber Lane are back home after a 10-day trip to the Virgin Islands which combined sightseeing with a family reunion.

Their headquarters were at St. Croix where they visited Mrs. Hammond's brother and sister-in-law, who have been transferred there by Pan American Airlines. During their stay, the 50th anniversary of the transfer of the islands from Danish to United States ownership was celebrated. They visited the capitol at St. Thomas and sugar plantations at St. John. Stops on their flying trip also included San Juan, Puerto Rico, and Miami and Fort Lauderdale, Florida, visiting a cousin and a niece and their families.

SAN JUAN and a resort near Port-au-Prince, Haiti, were Easter vacation destinations for Dr. and Mrs. Gordon Forrer and their children, Jane, Sue and John, last week. At San Juan the family rented a car to tour the island. Brilliant reddish-orange Flamboyant trees and flowering poinsettias were memorable sights, Mrs. Forrer relates.

St. Thomas in the Virgin Islands and Venezuelan ports were visited by Mr. and Mrs. Wayne McBride of Clement road as they cruised the Caribbean on The Bremen, which, Mrs. McBride reports, was a "live" ship with many shipmates their age. It made eight island stops before returning to New York. One of the delights of such a cruise is the array of handwoven souvenirs available at the island ports. Mrs. McBride arrived home with a rainbow of bright scarves.

FLORIDA RESORTS have been popular with Northville residents all this past winter. Mr. and Mrs. Douglas Bathey and son David have returned following a winter vacation in Naples. Mrs. Bathey and David drove home while Mr. Bathey flew the family airplane back. They expect to return to Naples next December.

The Richard W. Amblers with Ricky, Diane and Nancy have returned to their home on Carrington after a relaxing week "on the ocean" at Pompano Beach, Florida.

A HOUSE BOAT was the real reason for the Easter vacation trip of the William Crump family to St. Louis. Mrs. Crump admits. They first saw what she terms "a cabin on a raft" at the Detroit boat show and ordered one. They went south to see the 42-foot boat being built. It is due to be delivered to a marina at Round Lake near Charlevoix - selected by the Crumps as a summer home port - in mid-May.

Additional fun for daughters Connie, a freshman at Albion, and Allison was being interviewed on a local tourist radio program at the Holiday Inn at Frankfurt, Kentucky. Other trip stops included Berea and Harrodsburg.

Kentucky also was the Easter vacation destination of the Earle McIntoshes with sons, Timothy, Tom, Skip and Matthew. They drove to Louisville and toured the Mammoth Caves.

A NATIONAL MODEL A meet in Chicago took Mr. and Mrs. J. R. Jackson of Silchester circle to The Windy City for an early-spring week end away. He is an antique car hobbyist and has done restorations, but Mrs. Jackson reports this trip was "just to look."

Dr. and Mrs. Russell Atchison with daughter Roxanne and Beverly Spiker spent Easter at Howe Military school where they visited Butch Casterline and attended church services.

PROCEEDS FROM the third annual Our Lady of Victory dinner-dance to be given Saturday, April 23, at Roma Hall in Livonia are earmarked for a special project this year. The ladies of the church hope that the star-studded evening will yield enough profits to purchase educational television for the school, as well as scholarships.

A high light of the evening will be the appearance of Father Joseph Dustin, banjo-playing priest, who is seen often on television and who has recorded two albums. Bob Freeman's orchestra is to play for dancing, which will follow dinner at 7 p.m.

Tickets are available from the benefit co-chairmen, Mrs. Nelson Hyatt and Mrs. Russell Saputo, and also will be sold at the door. They are $12 a couple, including dinner.

Evans Opens Seasons with One-Hitter

The weather was meddlesome, but it didn't hamper Northville in its opening game of the baseball season. Despite cool gusts under grey skies, the baseball squad posted a 3-0 victory at Clarenceville Monday.

Those icy blasts weren't as potent as Pitcher Steve Evans' fast ball. Displaying excellent control in his 1966 debut, Evans silenced the Clarenceville bats, allowing only one hit in going the seven inning route.

Not until the final inning did Northville ice this one by scoring two runs, and in fact, Clarenceville threatened to upend the local squad by making maximum use of its only hit of the game.

With two out in the sixth, outfielder Henry Vader walked, then Clarenceville Pitcher Mike Nye blooped a wind-blown single to right. When Northville Right Fielder Phil Andrews missed a shoe-string attempt, runners moved to second and third.

Evans came through in the clutch, however, striking out the next Clarenceville batter to preserve Northville's 1-0 lead. His teammates then gave Evans a two-run cushion to work on in the bottom half of the seventh, and he retired the side in order.

Northville tallied its first run in the first frame as Third Baseman Dave Boerger, leading off, lined a single between short and third, stole second, advanced to third on a ground out and scored on a passed ball.

Although Coach Bob Kucher said he was satisfied with his charges' stick work because it was an opening game, and although Northville's hitting left something to be desired.

Nye had the Mustangs off balance with his fast ball and slow curve, but he was far from approaching Evans in speed or finesse. Inviting as the left field barrier was, the local batters didn't get enough wood on the ball to come close to the school which serves as a left field fence.

Kucher was especially pleased with the performances of Evans and Andrews.

"Evans turned in a strong game," said the Northville coach. "He has been running a lot to improve his stamina, and the running paid off. Evans didn't weaken in the late innings." Last year, Northville's ace, who throws right handed, was prone to tire.

Andrews solid hitting didn't come as a complete surprise, for he had hit the ball well in practice, spraying line drives to left field with regularity. But Andrews, who sat out last season with a badly sprained ankle after an impressive showing in practice, proved he was dependable under game pressure. He led the team with two ringing doubles to left field.

His double in the seventh frame, a low liner over third base, was the key blow. It drove in two runs that Northville sorely needed. Second Baseman Bob Bartski ignited the rally by lining a shot off the third baseman's glove. On an attempted sacrifice, Shortstop John Jameson bunted back to the mound and Bartski was forced at second.

Catcher Doug Sw's kept the rally alive by singling to right on the hit and run, sending Jameson to third. Jerry Insland, the first sacker, grounded to third and Jameson was cut down at the plate on a perfect throw.

A double steal, executed by Insland and Swiss, put men in scoring position, and Boerger then walked to load the bases and set the stage for Andrews.

Northville's scheduled opening game with Brighton last Thursday was postponed due to snow, as was the tennis match with Milford. And the local golfers' match with Bloomfield Hills, scheduled for Monday, did not materialize because Bloomfield did not show up.

Conklin Lands Prize Sailfish

Fishing in the Metropolitan Miami Fishing Tournament on a recent vacation in Florida, B. W. Conklin, 19200 Meadowbrook, won angling recognition for landing a 52 lb. 6 oz. sailfish in the general division. He fished with Capt. Jack Steffney on the Viking out of Key Colony Beach Marina at Marathon.

Horwath, Longridge Quit Football Coaching Posts

Ron Horwath revealed this week that he will not coach football next year at Northville high school.

His top assistant, Dave Longridge, also announced that he is through with gridiron duty. Longridge plans to continue as head basketball coach, however.

The announcement came as a surprise, although Horwath indicated he had reached the decision after long "soul searching and deliberation."

Letters of resignation from Horwath and Longridge were read at Monday night's board of education meeting. Both gave as their reasons a desire for more college work on advanced degrees. Both plan to continue teaching in Northville, Horwath in mathematics and Longridge in physical education.

Horwath has enjoyed a highly successful career at Northville. In six seasons his teams have won 35 games, lost 13 and tied three. In Wayne-Oakland league play his record is 31-9-2 with two league titles, on second place finish and three third places.

Gym's Out

Recreation Director Ken Conley announced that the Saturday gymnasium program had been concluded for the year and that the final men's basketball session will be held tonight (Thursday).

While there was no indication in either of the statements submitted by Horwath and Longridge, it is known that unrest exists within the system's coaching staff.

The problem centers around viewpoint. From an athletic standpoint a feeling exists that the Northville system is not hiring enough good coaches. It is argued that youngsters are being short-changed in physical education and that below the varsity level youngsters are not being taught basic fundamentals properly.

Supporters of this theory claim that a teacher is hired and then asked "if they would like to earn another $300 coaching", whether they are trained or not.

Their theory is that good coaches, who are also good teachers, should be sought.

From the opposite viewpoint, the most important qualification for a staff addition is teaching ability. Physical education is incidental.

Imsland Picks 'M'

Jerry Imsland, the senior who holds every Northville high school pass catching record, will play college football virtually in Northville's back yard.

The 6'2" end will attend the University of Michigan on an athletic scholarship, it was reported this week. Imsland said that university officials have indicated that he will be used as a split end.

At 200 pounds, Imsland used his speed, good moves and hands to catch 64 passes for over 800 yards gained during the past football season.

His performance earned him berths on many Southeastern Michigan all-prep teams, and he was chosen as one of the top 32 high school gridirers in the state by the Detroit Free Press.

Two Northville residents, Al Wistert and Bob Kucher, were instrumental in getting Imsland to sign a tender for Michigan.

Wistert is one of the famed three Wistert brothers, all of whom gained fame and all-American honors as tackles at Michigan. Kucher, a coach at Northville high school, lettered in baseball at the university.

By definitely saying he will attend Michigan, Imsland reversed his previous intentions of playing football at the university of Kentucky, where he was also touted as a top college prospect.

ANYTHING TO HELP—When Goodwill Industries placed a drop box at the Northville Kroger store this week Manager Ed Barnes decided it was time to clean house. He found that employees Robert Parent (being lifted) and Ed Trapp were too bulky, however. So, he kept them around after all. One load of discards to aid the handicapped has already been contributed through the drop box which is located alongside Center street.

masquerade costumes to slacks and P.J.'s.

But the emergency routine proceeded just as it had been practiced two days earlier and soon the Bradshaws found themselves in a lifeboat watching smoke pour from the Viking Princess.

A nearby German freighter bound for Australia via the Panama canal picked them up.

The concern and friendliness of the German crewmen impressed both Mr. and Mrs. Bradshaw. "They took us to the lounge and served hot coffee, hauled in cartons of juices, brought in bottles of whiskey and set up a bar and had a doctor in case any of us needed medical attention", Bradshaw stated.

"But the German bread... with garlic... it was awful", he added. Finally, the freighter was radioed instructions to take the rescued passengers to the U.S. Navy base at Guantanamo in Cuba.

The Bradshaws recall that the freighter had to turn and pass by the burning Viking Princess. By now flames were clearly visible and had engulfed the cabin in which the Bradshaws had been quarantined.

When the freighter arrived at Guantanamo Friday morning, base personnel were all in readiness. Emergency equipment lined the dock and military personnel stood at attention. Later a chaplain led the group in a prayer of thanks for their survival.

The PX was opened to the passengers and toilet kits and other items were distributed. The Bradshaws needed socks, and Mrs. Bradshaw bought a tube of lipstick... "which made me feel a little better."

From Guantanamo they were able to cable home that they were safe. Mr. Thompson received the word first about noon Friday. At about 2 p.m. Mr. Bradshaw was able to telephone home and he talked to his son, Bob.

Next the passengers were taken by LST landing craft across the bay to an airfield. The Bradshaws were on the first plane out of Guantanamo bound for Miami. Luckily, they were able to board Eastern Airlines plane from Miami to Detroit late Friday evening which arrived in Detroit at 2 a.m. Saturday.

They took the late plane, Mrs. Bradshaw said, "because I'd much rather return at night in bedroom slippers and slacks than in the daytime".

Their treatment by everyone had been "royal", the Bradshaws noted.

And while they had lost their pictures and other mementos of a spring vacation to the Caribbean, they had one souvenir... an orange-colored life preserver that Mr. Bradshaw had worn in the lifeboat.

Undoubtedly, the Main street students of Mrs. Bradshaw's fifth grade class were more impressed by this single item than all the island pictures they might have taken.

Mrs. Verran Appointed

Mrs. Laura Verran was appointed this past week to fill the vacancy created by the resignation of Salem Township Clerk Edward Fitzgerald.

Mrs. Verran, 7897 West Six Mile, Northville, telephone GE 7-5249, has served as recording secretary for the township board annual meeting, has been chairman of the Salem board.

Fitzgerald resigned at the April board meeting claiming duties of the office required more time than he could spare from his business and that the $1,500 annual salary was not large enough.

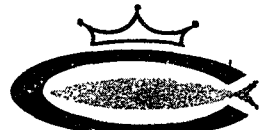

Recent controversies in the township—particularly one currently raging over a landfill operation—were cited by Fitzgerald as causing many residents to make demands upon his time.

Fitzgerald has been noteworthy in Salem politics in that he has served three terms in apparent harmony and popularity. He is a Democrat. The remainder of the board has been Republican throughout and the township is traditionally Republican.

He stated in his letter of resignation that he has enjoyed working with the township boards and enjoyed good working relationships with the Republican township board members.

Mrs. Verran, too, is a Democrat.

Local Judge Sits in Detroit

Northville Municipal Judge Charles McDonald has been selected to serve as Recorder's Court judge in Detroit for a two-week period to help fill-in for vacancies.

Judge McDonald is the second municipal judge from Wayne county to be asked to hear Recorder's cases. The bench has lost three of its six judges and under the new state constitution permanent replacements must wait for next November's election.

Chiropractor Opens Office In Northville

Dr. Thomas C. Bobo, who formally practiced in New York, has now opened his chiropractic office at 160 E. Main street, Northville, Michigan.

He has been active in his professional organizations, having held the offices of President, Vice President, Secretary-Treasurer, and District Director in his District, and the State office of Vice President in the New York State Chiropractic Association.

In addition, he was secretary-treasurer of the New York State Radiography Society, Inc., and State Representative of that Society to the Canadian Council of Chiropractic Roentgenology of which he was also a member.

Boy Admits High School Robberies

A 17-year-old Northville youth, Randy Lee Soubliere, 1031 Canterbury, has confessed to entering Northville high school with stolen keys on seven or eight occasions between December and March. Northville police said the boy had taken $249 in cash from the library and a tape recorder and two hand microphones.

Police Chief David LaFond said the case has been under investigation for several months. Soubliere appeared before Judge McDonald for arraignment Tuesday.

A felony warrant was issued by the Wayne county prosecutor's office for larceny from a public school building. The youth is out on $1,000 bond and awaits hearing before Judge McDonald April 25, where determination will be made for directing the case to circuit court.

It didn't take Walter J. Aldrich long to get back in trouble. He was released from Maybury Sanatorium and the Detroit House of Correction Monday. That evening he was picked up by Northville police after he was observed breaking a window at Northville Travel Plans, 101 East Main street.

Witnesses from the Masonic Lodge and Gunsell Drugs said Aldrich broke the window and removed a pair of binoculars. He then tried to break the window in Noder's Jewelry next door, but was unsuccessful. Police were called and picked him up immediately. The incident happened at 9:35 p.m.

He was arraigned before Judge Charles McDonald and is now in Wayne county jail awaiting hearing on April 25. A warrant was issued by the Wayne county prosecutor's office.

Two juveniles, ages 10 and seven, admitted breaking into the Northville Athletic Club, 108 1/2 West Main street, and taking $9. Their parents agreed to make restitution and the youths were turned over to Wayne county juvenile authorities. They were apprehended April 8.

Don Bauerle Seeks 1-Yr. Board Term

A petition was taken out Monday by Donald Bauerle, 949 Allen drive, for the one-year term on the Northville board of education to be filled in the June 13 election.

Bauerle is employed by the Ford Motor company as editor of the Wixom plant newspaper. He is a 1960 Wayne State university graduate with previous experience on the Wall Street Journal in Chicago and as editor of The Northville Record. Bauerle and his wife, who teaches night classes in Plymouth, moved to Northville about a year and a half ago. They have three children, Nancy, 5, who is in kindergarten at Amerman school; David, 3, and Jill, five months.

In addition to the one-year unexpired term of the late Edward Angove, now being filled by E. O. Weber, two four-year terms will be filled in the June election. Incumbents Robert Shafer, who has served since 1956, and William Crump, who has been a board member since 1959, have indicated they are not seeking reelection. To date only candidate for a four-year post is Robert Froelich, who has a petition out but who has not filed yet.

The posts are open to qualified electors of the district, whose name or that of a spouse, is on the tax roll and who have resided in the district 30 days and in the state six months. A minimum of 20 signatures is needed on petitions which are available in the school administration offices, but Superintendent Alexander Nelson suggested that petitioners obtain extra names in case signatures are contested. Women, he said, should sign their husbands' names, as Mrs. John Doe. Petitions must be filed at the board office by 4 p.m. May 14.

May 14 also is registration deadline for the June 13 election. It is not necessary to be a property owner to register and vote in the election, but citizens must be residents of the district for 30 days and of the state for six months. Voters also will go to the polls in a millage election May 9. All registered voters may cast ballots in this election also.

Winter's Final Fling?

Old Man Winter never gives up easily. And last week he reminded Spring that there's still a little snap left in the snow machine. But the coat of white was definitely a Spring model . . . so light that it served only as a veil through which signs of Spring still appeared. And it gave hope that perhaps Winter was making his farewell visit for 1965-66.

A PLEA FOR UNITY
Jesus prayed, "Neither for these only do I pray, but for them also that shall believe on me through their word; that they may all be one; even as thou, Father, art in me, and I in thee, that they also may be in us; that the world may believe that thou didst send me. (Jn. 17:20-22)

Just before Jesus was betrayed he uttered this prayer. Certainly it must have been something that was very close to his heart. The Lord's Church today is making that same plea in this 20th century. Jesus did not say in his prayer that he wanted all his disciples to learn to live together with their different beliefs, but that they all be one. Even as He and the Father were one.

Paul the inspired apostle asked the Corinth Church to all speak the same things and that there be no divisions among them. (1 Cor. 1:10.) He also told the Ephesian Church to, "Keep the unity of the spirit in the bond of peace. There is one body, and one spirit, even as you are called in one hope of your calling; one Lord, one faith, one baptism, one God and Father of all, who is over all, and through all, and in all. (Eph. 4:3-6.)

Paul did not ask one group to give up their beliefs and accept another's belief, but he did lay down a platform on which all could unite.

Yes, the unity for which our Lord prayed can be attained on the basis of God's word.
Paul told Timothy, "Every scripture inspired of God is profitable for doctrine, for the man of God may be complete, furnished complete unto every good work. (1 Tim. 3:16-17.) But he that looketh into the perfect law of liberty, and so continueth therein, being not a forgetful hearer but a doer of the work, this man shall be blessed in his deeds. (Jas. 1:25.)

Paul said, "I commend you to God and the word of His grace, which is able to build you up, and to give you the inheritance among them that are sanctified. (Acts 20:32.)

Again, "The word of God is living, active, sharper than any two-edged sword, and piercing even to the dividing of soul and spirit, of both joints and marrow, and quick to discern the thoughts and intents of the heart. (Heb. 4:12.)

Friends, let us make the word of God the final court of appeals, by it all our differences can be settled, and have the unity for which our Lord prayed just before He died. May we lay aside all our pre-conceived ideas and come humbly to His fountain of truth and say, "Speak, Lord, thy servant heareth, Command and I will obey."

It is my prayer that all men who profess to be followers of Christ will feel a personal responsibility to attain this unity for which Christ prayed. Remember, it was Jesus who said, Except you believe in me you will die in your sins. (Jn. 8:24.) Except you repent you will perish. (Lk. 13:3.) He that believeth and is baptized shall be saved. (Mk. 16:16.) David said, "Thy word O Lord is settled forever in the heavens. (Psa. 119:89.) Through thy precepts I get understanding therefore I hate every false way. (Psa. 119:104.)

A NOTE OF THANKS

THE CHURCH FOR ALL

ALL THINGS FOR THE CHURCH

The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the Church. They are: (1) For his own sake (2) For his children's sake (3) For the sake of his community and nation (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.

My dear wife died a year ago. Now there's just myself and my little daughter Janice. Don't feel sorry for us, though, because we're managing pretty well.

Last year when the blow came, I admit I went to pieces. We'd only lived in the neighborhood for a few weeks, and it's hard to say what would have happened if it hadn't been for our church. Suddenly I was surrounded by friends. The minister came at once with comforting words of comfort that helped me to face life again. His wife alerted other members and they brought meals, laundered clothing, took care of Janice, and ultimately found the wonderful elderly housekeeper we have now.

I had never given much thought to the meaning of Christian fellowship. Today I know that miracles of kindness can result when people unite in following the "perfect pattern" of self-sacrifice and unquestioning love.

Paul Beard Wins Writing Awards

A Northville youth has won a $700 award in the Avery and Jule Hopwood contest in creative writing at the University of Michigan.

He is Paul Edmund Beard, son of Mr. and Mrs. Paul Beard, 41261 Eight Mile road. He won second prize in the minor fiction category with "A Moment of Glory."

His prize was part of $18,450 given to 25 winners in the annual contest, the largest cash awards for creative writing in the country.

Eighty-five students entered a total of 107 manuscripts in the contest. Judges of Beard's category were J. F. Powers, novelist and short story writer, author of the Pulitzer prize novel, "Morte D'Urban," and Mildred Walker, novelist (author of 10 novels),

Paul Edmund Beard Wins Writing Award

Hopwood prize winner, now on the faculty of Wells college.

Surprisingly, Beard is not a writing major in college. He has majored in political science and history. He will graduate with honors in June and plans to do graduate work in international affairs.

He was valedictorian of his 1962 Northville high school graduating class, has been in the U-M honors college all four years and received Phi Beta Kappa Scholastic honorary membership as a junior.

He is presently trying to decide between Columbia University and Princeton for his post-graduate work. Both have offered him four-year scholarships. He has won the Herbert S. Lehman Award for scholastics, which is available if he attends Columbia.

Beard has never sought to have any of his writing published. A U-M professor encouraged him to enter the Hopwood contest on the basis of work handed in for classes. His written assignments "since grade school" have reflected his interest in creative writing.

His winning short story was one of three entered, two of which were based on experiences in the Mediterranean area last summer when he and two friends worked on a Kibbutz in Israel.

Gas Users

Get Refunds

Consumers Power Company's natural gas customers this week began getting a share of refunds recently received by Consumers Power from its natural gas suppliers.

The company is passing on the customers' share of the refunds in the form of a credit on their next bill. Gas space heating customers will receive credits averaging about $1.50. Gas customers who do not use space heating service will receive credits averaging about 30 cents.

The refund is going to customers who took gas service from the company during October, November and December of 1965, and who still were customers of the Company on March 25, 1966.

Those who changed their address after December will have to apply to Consumers Power directly, before July 1, if they want their refund.

The refund credit is going to some 697,000 customers as a result of lower wholesale gas rates than those originally collected by the suppliers. The total amount returnable to customers of the Company was set at $1,326,122 by the Michigan Public Service Commission in March 1966.

LET'S HEAR IT PAUL FOLINO WHAT WERE YOU DOING AT THE STATE FARM PROFILE OF ACHIEVEMENT CONVENTION?

You were invited there for your outstanding sales record and because of the fine service you've been giving policyholders. But own up... is that really why you were at the convention?

Or was it to attend those business sessions that helped you keep current with the latest happenings in the insurance industry? Information that'll make you even better prepared to give knowledgeable service to all your policyholders.

Just as we thought.

When it comes to serving policyholders a State Farm agent is anything but conventional. Even at conventions. Congratulations, Paul.

Run, Rabbit, Run!

EVER TRY to organize an Easter egg hunt? Northville's Jaycees can tell you it's no easy assignment. Everything seemed under control in the picture above as the youngsters waited for the signal Saturday at the high school athletic field. But then somebody blew the whistle by mistake (above right) and it was chaos. Shouts of "stop" went unheeded and finally (far right below) Jaycee Koziara reconciles himself to the inevitable.

ENTHUSIASM ran high at the Willowbrook Association's annual Easter egg hunt, too. It was held Saturday morning in Edward Hines park. Even the Easter Bunny was on hand and provided eggs for Peggy Graham and Karin Barnes. The "bunny" was Mrs. J. F. Buck.

Tourist Trade Brings Billion in Business

Ever since 1961, when the figure stood at $650 million for the fourth consecutive year, the barometer measuring tourist activity in Michigan has been steadily climbing toward the billion mark. Boosts to $680, $727 and $850 million preceded the 1965 giant step to $960 million in recreational travel spending in Michigan. Officials emphasize these figures are conservative estimates. Extensive surveys in 1964 and 1965 have placed these spending rates in a category called "primary tourist spending."

Only overnight travelers and their expenditures for food, lodging, entertainment and transportation are included. Best guesses of the other fringe areas of spending indicate the business activity involving recreation travel would be well over $1 billion.

Indications that the year-round travel attractions of Michigan are gaining in popularity were good in 1965. Winter spending was up 4 per cent; summer travel activity increased by about 13 per cent, and autumn expenditures increased by about 9 per cent.

Measurement of these activities takes in the several important sources of information throughout the state. These include traffic on the Mackinac, Blue Water and Ambassador Bridges and the Detroit-Windsor Tunnel.

Inquiries to local Chambers of Commerce and the state and regional tourist bureaus also are a part of the tabulation. Attendance at state parks provides still another portion of the measuring stick of tourist volume.

Still another gauge is found in numbers visiting special points of interest such as Greenfield Village and the Soo Locks.

Reports from almost every indicator in the state showed a good year in 1965 and aside from a somewhat disappointing ski season early this year, experts expect the $1 billion mark to be easily passed this year.

Threat of public identification of juvenile law breakers is the latest state effort to combat rising crime rates among youngsters.

Many have overriding doubts that threat of publicity of vandals, thieves and other offenses would have any lasting impact on juveniles. Indeed, there have been instances where publicity was seen by juveniles as a form of recognition rather than a criticism of them.

On the other side is Rep. Bobby D. Crim, Davison Democrat, who sponsored the legislation now under consideration. He contends that if both the juveniles and their parents were publicly called to task for delinquency, it might provide a two-pronged deterrent; from the family and from peers of the offenders.

"As it is now," says Crim, "every time some hood is arrested and convicted, it is never said who it is and the whole juvenile class gets blamed."

Theory of the family pressure idea is that parents might be more concerned about their children's activities if they thought antisocial behavior would openly be reflected on the home.

As the law stands now, probate courts dealing with juvenile law breakers are forbidden from releasing to newspapers the names of youngsters involved.

Crim's bill, now under Senate consideration after passage in the House, would give the probate judge discretionary power to release or suppress these names.

Elimination of overlapping services was one aim of state government realignment completed this year.

Even before the reorganization was completed, there arose a question of duplication which caused some hubbub but over which the state had no control.

An example is the Michigan State University Highway Traffic Safety Center and a traffic research program at the University of Michigan. There is already assurance there will be no duplication.

MSU's Center has been in operation for several years. It depends almost entirely on legislative appropriations for funds and has concentrated on short-term applied research dealing with immediate problems.

The University of Michigan project was just established early this year with the receipt of $10 million in grants from the auto manufacturers' association and two of the Big Three automakers. The grants are for basic research into the cause of traffic accidents.

Auto industry spokesmen and members of the MSU Center staff have emphasized the separate activities at the two institutions will be entirely different.

Staff is available at MSU to conduct the type of research sought under the $10 million five-year grant, but shortage of state funds have prevented this kind of depth work at MSU in the past.

There was some professional jealousy expressed openly over the grant to U-M. Many MSU spokesmen frankly had hopes their Center would eventually get into the pure research field when funds were available.

As it stands, the MSU Center will continue to conduct research on specific Michigan problems and the U-M project will deal with wider scoped research areas with potential national implications.

Plight of Newspapers

BABSON PARK, Mass.—Newspapers in the nation's larger cities are having a hard time surviving. During the past month their plight has been pointed up by a prolonged strike which has shut down the Boston dailies and by announcement of the forthcoming merger of the New York Herald Tribune, the New York Journal-American, and the New York World-Telegram and Sun.

Labor's right to strike was a hard-won goal. Its attainment was a milestone in the nation's progress toward social justice. The right to strike ought never to be seriously questioned. It would not be, if more labor leaders gave more thought to the wisdom of striking. The rash of newspaper walkouts in recent years has led to the death of some papers, to mergers of others, and to the loss of jobs for many. Does it really make sense to strike a newspaper, or other business, that is already operating in the red?

In our prosperity, we Americans have too often become more interested in obtaining security than in preserving freedom. That denotes senility, not youth and virility. There is need for improvement in the processes currently used to settle labor disputes. If better methods are not soon found, an aroused public may convince Congress that the right to strike should be further curtailed . . . perhaps by compulsory arbitration.

IN THIS century, competition in the newspaper field has been eliminated in nearly 500 American cities, with the core cities of the metropolitan areas being hardest hit. During the past 10 years, the pace has been stepped up, with the result that today—apart from New York City—only two of the nation's larger urban communities—Boston and Washington—have more than two competing ownerships of newspapers.

When the contemplated merger of the three Gotham papers is finalized, New York will become the 25th major U.S. city where competing newspapers share production costs and/or office facilities while maintaining separate editorial staffs and identities. Such moves toward consolidation as a defense against spiraling production and payroll costs will likely be even more numerous in the years directly ahead.

THE THREE New York papers whose publishers sadly announced that "The economics of the newspaper industry in New York compel this (merger) move" are all of noble lineage. The roster of their one-time editors or publishers includes such great personalities of the American press as Horace Greeley, James Gordon Bennett, Joseph Pulitzer, William Randolph Hearst, and Charles Dana.

These papers, and many another city daily in the U.S., have come upon hard times because of tremendous increases in costs. Rising production expenses have forced up both advertising and subscription rates. These, in turn, have triggered still higher payroll demands. In addition, there have been circulation losses stemming from newsmagazine and TV competition, from prolonged paper strikes in several cities, and from an increase in the size, prosperity, and prestige of suburban newspapers.

ALTHOUGH newspaper competition in New York City may soon be less grim, competition between the large downtown dailies and the growing suburban dailies is sure to increase. Within 30 miles of Times Square, there are now about 30 daily suburban newspapers. And five of these have circulations larger than 100,000!

As the world becomes smaller because of man's triumph over distance and as our interest in the world—the whole world—becomes greater, new challenges and new opportunities are presented to newspapers. As valid today as it was a century ago is the comment of Henry Ward Beecher: "Newspapers are the schoolmasters of the common people. That endless book, the newspaper, is our national glory."

Senior Citizens Off to Capitol

Seventy members of the Northville Senior Citizens club were scheduled to spend Wednesday in Lansing, touring the capitol and attending a legislative session. Through arrangements made by Marvin Stempel, legislative representative for this district, the group was to lunch in Mason Hall.

Ken Conley, Northville recreation director, was in charge of general arrangements for the charter bus trip. Mrs. Beatrice Janchick was trip chairman.

SPEAKING for The Record

By BILL SLIGER

One of the winning columns submitted to the annual Michigan Press Association contest this year struck me as a brave bit of writing.

It was entitled "Why I Don't Attend Church".

The columnist, an editor of an outstanding weekly newspaper, isn't an atheist. But for reasons which he described, he proclaimed that his church was within himself, and he had seen too many faithful attenders leave their Christian principles inside the church for weekly review.

I don't care to pursue or debate this subject. But it serves as a reminder that there are sacred areas where only the foolhardy dare tread with criticism.

There's motherhood, labor unions, privately-operated hospitals, teachers, medical doctors, the press, veterans, the poverty program and school millage issues.

It's the latter item that should provide cause for concern in Northville.

At the risk of losing my "in" crowd card, I must admit that the new budget increases prepared by school administrators and approved by the board of education leave me wondering what has happened to the good old antagonists who always tear budgets apart and want to know where every penny is being spent and why.

I'm suspicious because it's what the administrators want; it won immediate endorsement of the teachers' representative; and it's exactly twice the amount that voters were told would be needed for operating expenses when they were being encouraged to vote for building construction millage last summer.

And I'm concerned, because from what I can learn (in seepage from executive sessions), it's still going up ... from the $282,000 increase sought just a week ago to some $308,000 now and another $15,000 to $21,000 gaining strong support.

It's no secret that the relationship between the press and our present board of education has been less than desirable. So it's difficult to separate old frictions from the business at hand - that of passing a millage request.

Perhaps my position can best be described by stating that a "YES" vote on the millage would in no way represent a vote of confidence in the performance of the present board.

During the past 10 years this newspaper has supported every single millage request sought by the Northville school system. It has done so on the basis of a wealth of information backed by facts prepared well in advance of needs.

This time we have the feeling that everything is last-minute and super-urgent and definitely necessary if we are to "upgrade a sagging system."

First of all, I don't believe the system is sagging (if it is) from lack of money alone. It needs a shot of spirit that isn't forthcoming ... and won't be from a board of education that refuses to face up to responsibilities.

The present board has proven more than once that it does not like to admit mistakes and that it is almost committed to a policy of not correcting errors in judgment.

In fairness, it should be pointed out that the board is not unanimous in its actions. A serious split exists within the membership that appears to be draining all the fight out of the minority.

Unfortunately, the Northville school system has experienced a transition during the past year that has weighed heavily upon administrators, board members and teachers. Salary negotiations have been more difficult, a building program that is already late is being further squeezed by rising costs, and "upgrading and ungrading" became ensnared in strong differences of opinion and misunderstanding.

But the voter must receive a request that he can understand and believe. He must know that there is no "fat", that assessed valuations won't be hiked to make the new levy produce more than anticipated, that salary increases will be made at the rate we can afford and that teaching additions are made at a "desired minimal level", not ideal maximum.

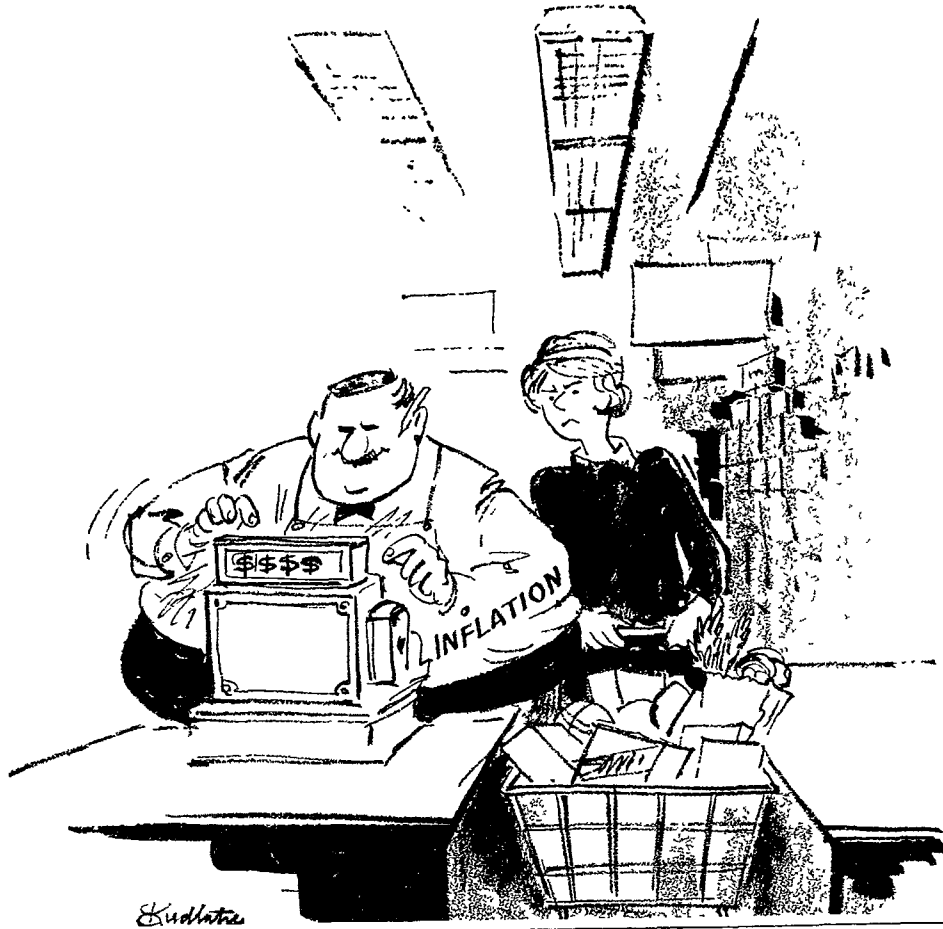

One month remains before the election. And the above remarks are made because they deserve airing and may just stand as the difference between passage and failure of the millage issue.

Mental Health Department Launches Drive for Help

A recruitment campaign was inaugurated today in Southeastern Michigan by the Department of Mental Health and area news media.

The goal is to obtain nonprofessional people to fill vacant positions at the seven state hospitals for the mentally ill and mentally retarded in the seven-county area.

Openings are now available for male institution workers, cooks and janitors; male and female attendant nurses; typists and stenographers. There are no specific education or experience requirements for any of the positions listed except for typists and stenographers who must be high school graduates.

Applicants are to be at least 18 years of age and able to pass basic Civil Service examinations. The new salary range, effective July 1, for institutions workers is $4,343 to $4,573; typist-stenographers $4,491 to $5,311; cooks $4,531 to $5,262; janitors $4,761 to $5,345; and attendant nurses $5,178 to $5,450.

"Rapidly developing new and more effective services for patients at out state institutions has increased the demand for personnel at all levels of employment," said Robert A. Kimmich, M.D., director of the Mental Health Department.

"The need for additional staff has been recognized by the Governor and the legislators through the appropriation of additional funds," said Dr. Kimmich. "With the cooperation and assistance of Michigan's news media we hope to fill the allotted vacancies and provide our patients with the personal services they require."

Under the Michigan Civil Service employment fringe benefits are shared by all state employees, including: liberal vacation and sick leave allowances, paid holidays, 40-hour week, retirement plan, and group insurance. Numerous other inducements for long-term employment include longevity bonuses and additional vacation time.

In charge of the recruitment drive is Ivan Estes, Department of Mental Health personnel director, and personnel officer at the state hospitals.

"Salaries and attractive fringe benefits are not the only compensations for our nearly 12,000 employees," said Mr. Estes. "A major consideration is the satisfaction of knowing their services are contributing to the care and rehabilitation of less fortunate fellow citizens."

Further information and application forms may be obtained by contacting the personnel office at any one of the hospitals either in person or by phone: Hawthorn Center, Northville, 349-3000; Howell State Hospital, 346-3270; Lafayette Clinic, Detroit, 963-5400; Northville State Hospital, 349-1800; Plymouth State Home, 453-1500; Pontiac State Hospital, 335-8146; Ypsilanti State Hospital, 482-8700.

The public appeal recruitment campaign in Southeastern Michigan is being conducted as an adjunct to regular recruitment efforts of the Departments of Civil Service and Mental Health, said Mr. Estes.
