

Longest Haul...

Twelve of the longest single piece steel girders ever moved across Michigan highways and largest ever built in the state, were moved out of their birthplace at Paragon Bridge & Steel company in Novi Monday and Tuesday and hauled by highway tractor to Southfield where they will be used in the new Northwestern Highway overpass on I-696. They measure 146 feet from tip to tip.

SAFE AND HAPPY - Jack Lakner hugs his daughter, Patricia, in the Novi police station following her abduction Monday.

Abducted Girl Freed Unharm

A weary eight-year-old Wixom girl, presumed abducted and the object of an intensive search Monday, was returned safely to her parents after she had been missing for nearly five hours.

Patricia Lakner, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Jack Lakner, of 47000 West road, was reportedly dragged from her bicycle 300 feet from her home on a remote part of West road and pulled through the front window into a car.

She was found later approximately four miles from her home by Mrs. Roger Rogerson, a Farmington township resident who first stopped the girl at 2:30 p.m. wandering along Haggerty road in front of the Rogerson home.

On her way to the store about 4 p.m., Mrs. Rogerson said she then picked up the tired, dazed girl. She was standing on Grand River.

After buying the girl pop at the store, Mrs. Rogerson said she brought Patricia home. "She told me her telephone number, and said some man had picked her up and forced her into a car," commented Mrs. Rogerson. She then called Mrs. Lakner.

Patricia told police that although the man had driven her around and through Walled Lake before dropping her off on Haggerty road, he did not harm her.

Area police are still searching for the apparent abductor, whom the girl described as 40, dark haired, wearing a mustache, about 5'9" tall and 200 pounds. She told police he drove a light blue car which was damaged on both sides.

Mrs. Lakner said that she went to the store at 11 a.m. and left her daughter, Peggy, 14, to baby sit. When she returned at 12:30, her daughter Karen, 9, came in, saying Patricia's bicycle was down by the railroad tracks, she reported.

"I checked with the neighbors," said Mrs. Lakner, "but they had not seen her." Mrs. Lakner said she called her husband and then notified Wixom police at 1:30 p.m.

Wixom, Novi, Walled Lake and Milford police and sheriff's deputies responded to take up the search. To aid the officers, golf-

In Novi Animal Cruelty Charge Denied by Brothers

The chunky, greying factory worker poured a bucket of coffee-colored water into a slop trough and exclaimed:

"These pigs get all they want to eat. Once a day, I cut grass for 'em."

So spoke 44-year-old David Hamilton of Plymouth late Thursday afternoon, minutes after his arrest at 23633 Taft road on a charge of cruelty to animals—the second such charge against him within two years.

Novi police discovered the condition of the animals while checking out the complaint of a neighbor concerning a junk car near the front yard of the frame house where Hamilton's brother, Orvel S., lives.

The pigs grunted, licked the water and then walked away. Black tadpoles skimmed across the surface of the water. "See, they're not thirsty," he pointed out. "You never want to give 'em a lot of water in hot weather. It's not good for them."

All the while, dogs yapped inside the second floor of the dark, hot barn. The temperature outside had passed the 90-degree mark for the first time this year. None had water.

Four dogs were chained inside, four others chained outside and several others wandered about the barn yard strewn with junk cars. Five or more puppies cuddled next to two nursing mothers.

The pigs—59 of them by Hamilton's count—were penned up

Fireworks Climax Day-Long Program

From the starting parade whistle to the last burst of an aerial bomb, Northville's Fourth of July celebration will be chock full of fun and excitement.

Kicking off the day-long celebration, sponsored by the Junior Chamber of Commerce, will be parade of bands, floats, queen, antique cars, horses, bikes and dozens of colorful marchers.

The parade will form in the Northville Downs parking lot and step off at 10 a.m. sharp, traveling west on Main street from the community well, past Center to Roger, north to Dunlap, and east to the Kroger parking lot.

Special band and marcher performances will take place at the Main-Center intersection and in front of the judges at the American Legion building on Dunlap. Leading the band will be a color guard made up of members from the local American Legion and VFW organizations.

Performing bands and marching units will include: Northville's colorful high school band, the 45-member Blue Water Drum and Five corps with color guard, the 35-piece Loomis Civil War Battery of men and women dressed in Civil War uniforms, an 18-piece Pontiac American Legion group called Chief Pontiac, the 1965 VFW state champion drum and bugle corps and color guard from Madison Heights called the Marauders, a 40-piece all-girls band called the Rae-Vens, and the Royal Canadian Sea Cadets. Groups that have already indicated they will enter floats in the parade include the Jaycee

Lapham Rezoning Denied

A request to rezone 50 acres at Beck and Six Mile roads to permit development of a 325-lot mobile home community was denied Tuesday night by Northville township planners.

The action came quickly on a motion by Bernard Baldwin, who said that permitting rezoning from R-2 to R-M would "cause serious conflict with land use in the area." The vote was unanimous.

Charles Lapham, who owns the property and first introduced the plan for the $800,000 development of mobile homes to planners last September, was represented by an attorney at the hearing. A request for written notification of the action was made.

It has been indicated that a denial of the rezoning request would be appealed in the courts.

In other action by the planning commission Tuesday night a September 13 public hearing was set for a new proposal by the Greenspan company for apartment units on Five Mile near Robinwood. Under the new plan the 12 1/2-acre parcel west of church property originally proposed for multiple dwellings would be developed as single-family homes. A 22-acre parcel east and north of the church would be developed into 300 apartment units. The latter parcel extends to a 100-acre site on Bradner planned for residential development by Greenspan.

Early Copy

Like most local businesses, The Northville Record offices will be closed Monday, July 4. All advertising and news copy for the Record and Novi News must be submitted early for next week's edition.

All copy that can be submitted by Saturday at 1 p.m. would be appreciated. Final deadline for want ads is 10 a.m. Tuesday and noon Tuesday for news items and display advertising. The Record-News telephone is FI 8-1700.

It's Time to Select 'Week End' Winner

The first winner of weekend family accommodations at an Albert Pick motel or hotel will be decided Friday morning.

Twenty Northville merchants are sponsoring the week end vacation contest that will continue 10 weeks with 10 area families each winning the luxury accommodations including meals.

The names of 20 shoppers are listed in an advertisement on page 7-B. A single name appears in each of the 20 advertisements.

City Votes 'No' on Union

City employees voted against unionization last week by a vote of 16 to 5.

A total of 21 votes, with two absentees, were cast in the secret balloting at the city hall Wednesday to determine whether or not the UAW-SCME should represent non-supervisory employees.

The election was supervised by Leonard Bennett, representative of the State Labor Mediation Board.

Excluded from the voting was City Manager Frank Ollendorff, Department of Public Works Superintendent Herman Hartner, and Acting Police Chief David LaFond. Voting were police, clerical and DPW employees.

The union, which represents state, county and municipal employees, cannot hold another unionization election for one year, Bennett pointed out.

Jones Quits Athletic Post; New Principal Takes Leave

Athletic Director Al Jones has resigned his post after 13 years in that capacity with the Northville school system.

His letter of resignation was read to the board of education Monday evening and accepted later "with regret" by Superintendent Alex Nelson.

In other board action Amerman Principal Keith Berkley was granted a two-year leave of absence and a resigning teacher sharply criticized Superintendent Nelson.

In his letter, Jones said he hoped he had contributed something to the school system as athletic director. He said "I think it is time I step down and give someone else the opportunity to head the program."

Jones said the resignation was not meant to influence the board in making its choice for a high school principal for which he is a candidate.

He indicated he plans to continue teaching in Northville next fall as well as coaching the golf team.

Nelson is to report back to the board at its next regular meeting as to whether or not the athletic director's post should be filled.

Concerning the high school principal vacancy, Nelson said Tuesday that seven candidates have been interviewed and that seven more applicants will be screened before he recommends three or four top candidates to the board.

Still another administrative vacancy faces the board with the announcement of Amerman Principal Berkley that he will leave to take a temporary teaching position at Wayne State university while working for his doctorate.

Berkley, who was appointed principal in February to take the place of Raymond Spear, who became assistant superintendent, asked for and received a two-year leave of absence. Under this arrangement, he can return if a principal's post is open.

Resignations of three teachers, Jeanne Dugan, high school English, William Hensch, counselor and social studies, and Jan Werner, business education, also were accepted by the board Monday.

In his letter of resignation, Hensch, who has been with the system for 15 years, lashed the superintendent for poor choice of words in an address to teachers, for sparking a "new low" in teacher morale, and for his negative attitude in teacher negotiations.

Specifically, Hensch charged that "morale of teachers reached a new low when it was rumored that many teachers were not wanted here and that Mr. Nelson had been given a list of people to 'move out.' The immediate question was 'is my name on that list?' This was the way we started each day and tried, in spite of this, to do a good job of teaching."

Nelson denied major allegations outlined in the letter.

The superintendent said the word "damn" was used by him once in a figurative story concerning a hypothetical reading teacher who, when he backs out of the garage and into the door, stops and says, "Look, Look, See, See, Damn, Damn!"

He said his attitude was not negative at all, that he firmly believes that "what is good for the teacher is good for the school system."

"I am sorry," he said, "if rumors have created so much apprehension among teachers." Concerning the teacher's resignation, the superintendent noted that Hensch had indicated a desire to resign a year ago before "false" rumors began circulating.

The board voted to award teaching contracts to five new teachers. They and their classroom assignments are:

Donna Hill, early elementary; Diana Langhorst, early elementary; Richard Willing, high school business education; Louise Anderson, junior high science; and Marilyn Huber, sixth grade.

Regarding teacher negotiations, Spear reported "they are at a standstill", with some six to eight issues still in dispute. Nevertheless, he said a letter will be drafted to be sent to the teacher representatives indicating the school's readiness to meet and complete an agreement.

School's State Aid Going Up $54,000

Preliminary estimates show that Northville may receive a net gain of approximately $54,394 in state aid next year.

According to school officials, the increase is based upon the recently revised state aid allowances by the legislature and upon projected enrollment figures.

Using a projected enrollment of 2,600, they estimate that $722,800, less $182,863 for the Wayne county training school, will be returned to the district. Last year, the school district's share of the total state aid allocation was $485,543.

The exact amount of next year's state aid return cannot be determined until after the official school census in the fall, they point out.

Should the actual fall census reach 2,650 students, officials note that the district could realize a total of $736,700, less $183,863 for the training school.

Last year school officials estimated an enrollment of 2,500 students in working up its budget. Actual enrollment in the fall was 2,517.

WORK HALTS - Sewer installations which began on Randolph street last week stopped abruptly Tuesday as pipelayers went out on strike. Summer projects scheduled for Randolph include storm and sanitary sewers, culvert construction, curve removal and paving. Slated for completion August 20, the strike threatens to delay all work. Meanwhile, the city, as well as Randolph residents, issued an appeal to motorists to avoid use of the street. It is open to street residents only.

Former Northville Girl Weds

A former Northville girl, Linda Ann Taxis, was married June 18 to Eugene Alexander Krusysse. Judge Alfred L. Taxis Jr. performed the ceremony at the Fourth Presbyterian Church of Bethesda, Maryland.

The church was decorated with palms and floral bouquets for the afternoon service. Music included Purcell's "Trumpet Voluntary" and Guilman's "Grand Choeur a la Handel."

The bride is the daughter of the Reverend and Mrs. John O. Taxis of Ft. Lauderdale, Florida. He was pastor of the First Presbyterian church of Northville from 1955 to 1960. The bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Coenraad Krusysse of Amersfoort, the Netherlands.

The bride's floor-length silk organza over taffeta gown was fashioned with elbow-length sleeves and a full train. Lace embroidered with seed pearls accented the train, bodice and hem of the dress.

Mrs. Douglas Edsall was matron of honor while Miss Sophia Clara Krusysse was maid of honor. They wore nine green silk organza over taffeta gowns with embroidered bodices and elbow-length sleeves. They carried pink rosebuds against dark green foliage. Bridesmaids were Barbara Stevens, Nancy Ordway, and Carole Hoffman. Barbara Taxis was a junior bridesmaid. Their outfits were the same as the matron and maid of honor's but they carried only dark green foliage.

Attendants for the bridegroom were Russ Cadle, Jim Johnson, Chris Halverson, Stu Murtoff, Lee Johnson and Steve Haney.

For the wedding Mrs. Taxis chose a beige lace sheath and matching coat. Mrs. Krusysse wore a turquoise sheath.

A reception in the Fellowship House was attended by 250 guests, mainly from the New York, New Jersey, Pennsylvania and Washington D.C. area.

The newlyweds took a wedding trip to Boothbay Harbor, Maine. The new Mrs. Krusysse wore a pink knit suit for the trip.

She is a 1966 graduate of the American university. Mr. Krusysse is a 1964 graduate of the Hotel Management School in Lucerne, Switzerland.

The couple will make their home in Washington D.C.

Remein-Hollon Exchange Vows

The First Baptist Church of Farmington was the setting for the June 4 wedding of Elizabeth Ann Remein and Harold Lane Hollon. The Reverend Walter Ballagh performed the ceremony.

Harold West sang "Because" and "A Wedding Prayer" during the service. The bride, escorted by her father, wore a chantilly lace gown with long sleeves, a scalloped neckline and a long, full skirt. A bouffant fingertip veil was held by a pearl crown. Her bouquet was made of orchids and white flowers.

Her maid of honor was Dora Johnson, who wore a pink taffeta gown and carried pink flowers. James Burke was best man, while Jack West and James Rula-paugh seated the guests.

A reception followed the ceremony in the church parlor. The couples' honeymoon was in northern Michigan and the upper peninsula.

They are now living in Novi. Mrs. Hollon is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ted Remein of 51766 Pontiac Trail, Wixom. Her husband is the son of the Alvie Hottons of Walled Lake.

News Around Northville

Mrs. Robert Casady (formerly Marilyn Cavell) and sons, Warren, Brook and Kevin and a foreign exchange student living with them, arrived recently from Novato, California to spend the summer with her mother, Mrs. Lavern VanHorn, 312 West Main, and sister, Mrs. Sterling Eaton of Plymouth and other area relatives. Mr. Casady will join them here later.

The exchange student, Pieter de Hejer from Gouda, Netherlands, will visit with a friend who had been an exchange student at his home in the Netherlands. He will return here to leave with other exchange students on July 25.

Over the past weekend the Casadys visited her brother and sister-in-law, Dr. and Mrs. Ted Cavell, at Tawas.

Matthew Boring of 48855 West Seven Mile has returned home after spending six weeks in St. Mary hospital recovering from a heart attack.

Mrs. Alpha Murray of 125 Lake Street leaves Friday for a two-year stay in Honolulu, Hawaii with her son and daughter-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Stephen Murray.

Mrs. James Cowie returned last week from a "simply marvelous" seven-week trip to Europe. She was joined in Europe by three sisters, Mrs. Robert Hunter of Birmingham, Alabama, Mrs. Dennis Siegel of Los Angeles, California, and Mrs. Howard Porter of Detroit.

While Mrs. Hunter and Mrs. Siegel sailed aboard the "Queen Elizabeth", Mrs. Cowie and Mrs. Porter flew from New York to London. In London they were reunited and began their tour. After a week in London, they spent one week each in Ireland and Glasgow, Scotland. Their next stop was in Aberdeen where they visited their cousins, Mr. and Mrs. William Bremner, for two weeks. The Bremners visited Mrs. Cowie last year in Northville.

A ten-day stop in the beautiful resort town of Bourmuth, England came next. Then they returned to London for a few more days of sightseeing before returning home.

Mrs. Cowie and Mrs. Porter flew back across the ocean, while their two sisters were held up in London due to a dock strike there. They were scheduled to board the "Queen Mary" for their return, but ended up taking a Dutch liner home.

STILL GOING STRONG -Housekeeping and outdoor chores are still attacked with zest by Mr. and Mrs. Vernon Johnson, who recently celebrated their 60th wedding anniversary.

Couple's Still Active At 60th Anniversary

"I'm still chipper as ever," laughed the barefoot 85-year-old housewife as she hung up the laundry in the backyard. Indeed she is!

Mrs. Vernon Johnson of 41625 Fourteen Mile road in Novi saw no reason for slowing down just because she'd just celebrated her 60th wedding anniversary June 20.

Her husband, 82, agreed with his wife when he drove into the yard with a gasket he'd purchased so he could fix the lawnmower. He was in a hurry to get it fixed because he had a lot of mowing to do - about a half-acre of it.

A remarkable couple in more ways than one.

They're living in the same house in which they were married by the Rev. Joseph Fox on a hot, summer Wednesday 60 years ago as nearly 150 guests jammed into the nine-room house and yard for the ceremony. Only two of those guests are still alive.

The 75-year-old frame house replaced a log cabin in which Mrs. Johnson was born to Mr. and Mrs. George A. Welfare. The 80-acre farm has been in the family for 123 years. It was pared down from the original 160 acres purchased by her uncle, George Welfare, for $1,000.

Mrs. Johnson and her sister, Grace Angell, 82, of Pontiac, were their parents' only children.

She remembers helping her father "pull down" the one-room cabin, shortly after she was married, with a good, strong horse.

Mr. Johnson hasn't worked the farm for nearly 20 years. It was about that long ago when he retired as a foreman from the GMC Truck & Coach plant in Pontiac.

His wife did most of the milking while he worked in the plant. When she tired of milking 14 cows, they sold the animals.

The Johnsons' only child, Darrell, is a crop-dusting pilot in Phoenix, Arizona. Recently, he presented them with their first grandchild - a boy to carry on the family name.

Mr. Johnson, born in Tread Mill, a forgotten crossroad in the city of Flint, met his wife in Kalamazoo where she was visiting. It was love at first sight.

The newlyweds moved in with her parents and they've lived there ever since.

Showing off the homestead, the proud couple reminisced and Mrs. Johnson tickled her feet in the grass.

"I always go barefoot in the summer," she said, recalling her happy childhood in the same yard.

Jaycettes Cop State 3 Awards

The Northville Jaycette auxiliary won one-third of all awards given in project competition at the state convention in Lansing recently.

The auxiliary received first place for their assistance on the 1965 Jaycee barbecue, first place for social activities and third place for money-making activities.

Jaycette Nancy Roberts reports that the club recently held a successful party, with the proceeds going to the Jaycees for their national convention fund. The convention is being held this week at Cobo Hall.

Presently the Jaycettes are working on their float entry for the Fourth of July parade in town. Gloria Beemer is the chairman of the float committee.

The group will also assist the Jaycees with their barbecue after the parade.

Attend Dance for Vets

A dance party was held Monday evening for about one hundred veterans at the Ann Arbor Veterans Hospital. It was sponsored by the Benton Parkway Barracks #267 Veterans of World War I and the Ladies Auxiliary.

The auxiliary furnished refreshments for the party.

Northville members attending were Mr. and Mrs. Charles De-nune, Mr. and Mrs. C. Oscar Hammond, Mrs. Mabel Cooley, Mrs. Lydella Ely, and Mr. and Mrs. Ervin Sedlow.

Mr. and Mrs. Eldon Schipple, Mrs. Katherine Bangel and Mr. Charles Stowe attended from Livonia, while Mr. and Mrs. Floyd Dolmage attended from Plymouth.

The Benton Parkway organization meets every first Sunday with the exception of July, at the Plymouth Veterans Center. The meetings start at 2 p.m. All World War I veterans are welcome.

Hey Gals! Let's Golf In Plymouth League

Northville women are invited to join the new Women's Golf League at Hilltop Golf Club. There are now 22 women in it, but there is room for 40.

The league meets every Tuesday at 9 a.m. A free half-hour lesson by Hilltop's pro, Chris Burkhardt, precedes each session. All profits from league play are earmarked for the Plymouth Symphony Orchestra.

The club is located at the corner of Beck and Ann Arbor roads.

CORNER

MEET THE FRAKES — New residents in Echo Valley subdivision are John and Joyce Frakes and their children, Michael and Donna. They moved here from Nankin township.

This has been an important year for John M. Frakes. He moved into a new home in Echo Valley subdivision, and received his bachelor of science degree in mechanical engineering from Lawrence Institute of Technology in June.

John, his wife Joyce and their two children moved to 23736 Forest Park on March 9. Besides the busy activities involved with "moving in", the Frakes have managed to keep pretty busy with their other interests too.

They both like to bowl and snow ski, and Mr. Frakes loves to play chess and golf. In fact, his wife says he is involved in almost every sport, either as a participant or an avid fan.

This summer the Frakes also manage to get to the lake with their children often. Donna Marie is three, while Michael Daniel is five and will be a kindergardener at Novi elementary school in the fall.

Both John and Joyce Frakes are from this area. Joyce is from Livonia originally and John from Wayne. They lived in Nankin township, recently renamed Westland, previous to their move here.

Car Crash
Kills Youth

An 18-year old motorist was killed last Wednesday morning when his car hit a tree on Eight Mile road near Napier.

Dead on arrival at Wayne County General Hospital was Edward T. Faucher, a freshman this past year at Central Michigan university. He was driving a car registered to his father, Leo T. Faucher of 45 Hillcrest road, Country Estates.

Driving alone, Faucher was headed west on Eight Mile road when the car veered off the pavement onto the right shoulder of the road for approximately 156 feet. He managed to return the car to the pavement, but it crossed the road, went into the ditch on the south side and traveled another 114 feet before flipping onto its side and crashing — top first — into the tree.

Pinned inside the wreckage, it took Casterline Ambulance and Miller Sales & Service wrecker personnel nearly an hour to remove his body.

The accident was policed by the Wayne County Deputy Sheriff William Raymond.

It's Concert Time

There'll be something for all local musicians in this summer's band program, supervised by Bob Williams, high school band director.

Once again, the Northville band, composed of high school, college and other interested musicians, will present four concerts in the west parking lot at the high school.

The first is scheduled for July 14, a kaleidoscopic fare of music.

The 90 to 100 piece band will play "With Bells On" by Christensen, "Fugue AlaGigue" by Bach, "Theme from Exodus" by Gold, selections from "Carousel," "South Pacific," and "Mary Poppins", Nutmeggers, Valdres and Gallant Men marches, "Italian Polka" by Rachmaninoff and "Habanera" by Chabrier.

Other concerts will be given on July 21, July 28 and August 4. Band rehearsals will be held every Monday from 7 to 9 a.m., beginning July 11 at the high school.

Individual lessons will begin July 5 and extend through August 5. A schedule of practices to be held in the senior high school music section will be distributed to students.

Individual assignments will be made during the first week of the program. Assignment to advanced groups will depend on individual initiative and effort, said Williams.

Adopts Resolutions

School Thanks Officials

The Northville board of education adopted separate resolutions of appreciation Monday for the years of service contributed by retiring members, Robert H. Shafer, William Crump and E. O. Weber.

They read in part: "... that this resolution represent our expression of recognition for the many years of faithful and meritorious service to the public schools of this community, the Board of Education on behalf of the people, hereby expresses its appreciation and hopes the coming years may be filled with happiness and contentment."

Motor Stolen in Novi

An outboard motor, valued at $150, was stolen from a boat on Walled Lake late Friday.

According to Novi police, the motor was taken from a 14-foot boat owned by Ancil Harris of 1821 East Lake drive.

Another motor theft the week previously from Trickey's Hunting & Fishing Equipment has been solved, police report, with the apprehension of two youths in Farmington. The recovered motor is valued at $300.

The boys have been placed on probation to the court of no record.

Two local area men were arrested last week by Novi police and turned over to state police for questioning of a breaking and entering at a New Hudson restaurant.

Police arrested the pair at Duke's Bar, 801 South Lake drive, early Thursday morning when someone reported a robbery was about to take place at the bar.

Although two brothers claimed their farm ani-

a Novi justice court of-

that the animals lack food and water. They inspected the premises
Thursday, finding pigs, dogs, goats, horses and cattle, some of which are shown here. At the
William Hicks reads a warrant for the arrest of David Hamilton (center) on a charge of cruelty to animals as Humane Officer Marshall London looks on.
Hamilton tells officers
the pigs are well fed three of the dogs and a

Animal Cruelty Charged

beneath the barn, in three other outhouse buildings, and in a fenced corral.

At least a half-dozen skinny goats and kids wandered about the barn and in the pasture at the rear of the property where an equal number of horses grazed with a cow and her calf.

Justice court officer William Hicks and Humane Officer Marshall London were discussing the "downright shameful conditions" when Hamilton, just home from the Ford Rouge plant, walked up.

When the officers read him the warrant and placed him under arrest, Hamilton asked for some time to "water the animals before we go." He'd fed and watered them the previous afternoon, he said.

"Sure, go ahead," the officers told him.

He walked to a nearby drainage ditch, scooped up two buckets of the brown water and started making his rounds. "The pump doesn't work," he told the officers. "Besides it's a lot easier to get the water out there (the ditch)."

Turning toward the photographer, he said: "You... someone's going to pay for this .. You get your camera and come with me and get some pictures of me cutting grass. Let 'em see that, too.
I dare you."

He told the officers that he'd run out of feed, but that grass was "plenty good" for pigs. Now, as officers watched, he drove his car into the pasture where he cut grass and put it into the trunk for the return trip.

Either the pigs were hungry or they just liked grass, because they quickly gobbled it up.

The job of feeding the dogs, he said, belonged to his brother, who lives on the property and for whom another warrant waited in the deputy's pocket. "That's his job. I just take care of the pigs."

The last time Hamilton was observed taking "care of the pigs" less than two years ago, officers found he had been feeding dead pigs to the starving ones.
For that offense he was found guilty and was fined $25.

day, his brother also was arrested.

At the county jail, the two men said some of the dogs were unlicensed because the county had "run out of licenses". Maintaining their innocence, they were released on bond early Friday morning pending their trial in Novi justice court today.

Meanwhile, they have been caring for the animals.

Issue Call For More Thinclads

"We're off to a terrific start, but we could sure use some more participants, especially girls." That's the latest word from Ralph Redmond, who with assistance from Carol Yahn and David Orphan, is directing competitive track in the community's summer recreation program.

"We had about 300 boys and girls tell us they were interested before the program got underway, but we only have about a dozen of them so far," Redmond said.

Even so, the local contingent, calling themselves the Northville Track and Field Club, has come up with some impressive starts, he said.

Two weeks ago, with only six boys participating, Northville came up with a third place in the 880-relay and two thirds in the 440 and 100 yard dash at Pontiac Central.

Al Earehart, Craig Carr, Bill Harrison and Chuck Keegan combined for the relay third, while Harrison took third in the 440 and Keegan, third in the dash.

In 94-degree heat at the University of Michigan's Perry field this past Saturday, Robin Williams, grabbed a fifth place ribbon in the 100 yard junior division meet. Harrison took third again in the 440 and fourth in the 220, and Keegan notched a fourth in the 100 yard dash.

According to Redmond, several other boys have looked impressive in the Monday and Wednesday practice sessions but have yet to face competition. He named Don Beller in low hurdles, Jeff Dawson in high jump and high hurdles, Doug Hazlett and Chris Kline in the mile.

New faces include brothers Peter and Paul Bedford, who are bidding for spots in dashes and distance runs.

The next Federation Track and Field association-sponsored meet will take place Saturday at Cranbrook beginning at 1 p.m. Other upcoming matches include an open meet at Dearborn high school on July 9, and the junior olympics, to be sponsored by the Detroit Metropolitan Youth Fitness program of the department of parks and recreation on July 28 at Belle Isle.

Several inter-mural events and a decathlon are planned here in late July.

Open to boys and girls 10 years or older, the track program holds twice weekly practice sessions on Monday and Wednesday.

MICHIGAN PGA TROPHY - Midge Cova, owner of Bob-O-Link Golf Course, eyes the trophy that 90 professional golfers in the state are vying for in the tournament which began today at Bob-O-Link. In addition, to the winner goes $1500. There's $6000 in all, just waiting to be taken.

Pros Eye Prize At Bob-O-Link

Bob-O-Link Golf Course in Novi will make Michigan golf history this week.

Approximately 90 pros are scheduled to tee off at 10:30 a.m. today in pursuit of $6,000 in prize money at the golf course straddled by Grand River avenue and the expressway (I-96). That's the largest field of Michigan golfers to ever compete in the Michigan PGA, and it's the largest purse.

The winner will walk off the course $1,500 richer for his efforts. Brian Charter won that distinction last year, and he'll be back to defend his title in this, the 44th year the tournament has been held.

For the first time, television cameras will bring the action to thousands of local viewers during a two-hour period, 4-6 p.m. Sunday on Channel 4.

They will see a star-studded field of professionals, including nine-time winner Al Watrous, John Barnum, Wally Burkemo, Gene Bone, Ray McGuire, Tommy Shannon, Ted Kroll, Mack McElmurry, Warren Orlick and Eddie Kirk, all pros at golf courses in Michigan.

Co-sponsors of the event are Midge Cova, owner and PGA pro from Bob-O-Link who also will enter the tournament, and Clohesy Pontiac, of Detroit.

According to Cova, a lifetime devotee to Michigan PGA golf and grounds keeper at Bob-O-Link, the 6,245-yard course is challenging. Par is 70. "The greens are soft and have been expanded, tees have been rebuilt and the roughs are rough."

Tiger Game

There's still openings for those Northville youngsters eight to 15 who wish to go to see the Tigers' play ball this Saturday. Recreation Director Ken Conley announced.

Youngsters must register by 11:45 a.m. Saturday, and meet at the Community building at 1 p.m., ready to board the bus. Game time is 3 p.m.

To accommodate the golfers, the clubhouse is undergoing complete renovation, and if work progresses on schedule, they will get top-notch service.

Workmen are working feverishly to complete installation of a new men's locker room and a new storage area. Already finished are new men's and women's rest rooms, a new bar and a new, modern kitchen.

Spectators may purchase tickets, $3 for the four-day tournament, or $1 per day.

Preceding today's tourney was a pro-am held yesterday at Bob-O-Link.

Hot Clubs Scare Foes

Two young men from Northville failed in their bids for the Michigan State Amateur golf title last week, but they played havoc with the favorites.

Former Northville high great, Jim St. Germain, who now golfs for the University of Houston, beat last year's medalist, Bud Reniger, one-up in the second round with an even par 72.

St. Germain was eliminated in the third round of match play, losing, 5-4, to Bud Stevens Saturday morning on the Belvedere course in Charlevoix. St. Germain qualified for match play with a two-day total of 149 (72-77), then won his first match by whipping Steve Braun one-up with a 72.

Northville's Tom Slattery startled the gallery when he upset five-time Michigan amateur champ, Glen Johnson, of Grosse Ile, one-up in the first round. The match went 20 holes.

Up against Jim Gittieman, who took second in the tourney and was co-medalist, Slattery lost, 4-3, in the second round.

Of the six Northville golfers in an original field of 230 only St. Germain and Slattery qualified for match play. Other local entries were Ken, Phil and Tony Skover and Bob Hallam.

Northville's Gary Kohs

He's Got That Magic Midas Touch

The idea's the thing wherein Gary Kohs hopes to capture the fancy of Detroiters, if not the nation, and make his imprint on the business world.

No sooner had this vibrant, confident youth graduated from the University of Notre Dame this month and returned to his home town, Northville, than he put his initiative to work to implement his idea - a sports car show.

The show is scheduled to be held May 2 through May 8 next year in the Lightguard Armory, corner of East Eight Mile and Mound roads.

Approximately 75 of the world's best sports cars will be exhibited in the spacious armory which, Gary hopefully predicts, will draw at least 50,000 of 4,000,000 people in the Detroit Metropolitan area.

All this has been accomplished with the wizardry typical of Gary, 22, who has abundant energy, courage and foresight, and the experience possessed only by men many years his senior.

Idea of a sports car show was born when Gary was just a sophomore enrolled in the school of business administration at Notre Dame. He was just a fuzzy-faced lad of 19 then, full of dreams like most college youths, but there was a difference. Gary had a burning ambition to make his dream a reality.

Ingenuously the Northville native grabbed some stationary and began to write to car and car accessory manufacturers, asking them to contribute a car or an exhibit for display in the Sports Car Spectacular, sponsored by the university.

Manufacturers initially looked askance on his requests, Gary said. They apparently thought that here was another zany college sophomore with a hair-brained scheme to make money, Gary said, and they politely declined his offer.

Among the skeptics was a tire manufacturer. But Gary wasn't easily discouraged. He solicited the support of the local tire dealer, who speaking on behalf of the young Kohs, wrote a letter to the parent corporation. The manufacturer responded with a tire display. The show was slowly taking shape.

Still response was slow coming, and all too often, it was negative. To help overcome manufacturers' reluctance, Gary hit on a new, but simple idea. He drew up an official letterhead to give his enterprise more authenticity, and sent out 600 letters. It worked wonders as manufacturers began to reply in the affirmative.

Gary sold a local radio station and the South Bend paper on the idea, and they promised free advertising. In the meantime, Gary planned a program, complete with advertising bought by exhibitors. It sold for 25 cents, another source of money, all of which was ticketed for charity.

Through hard work and perseverance, the first university of Notre Dame Sports Car Spectacular was finally presented, and with 36 cars on exhibit, it was a smashing first-year success. One avid sports car fan came all the way from Pittsburgh in his Ferrari. When he parked it in the lot outside the arena, Gary spotted the car, prevailed on the owner to let it be entered in the show, and within 15 minutes after a quick wash, it was on exhibit.

Rather than become complacent, Gary and his student cohorts extended their efforts. During the following two years, the show grew into what most have called the largest sports car show in the nation.

Thorough they were. After each successive show, the student producers, headed by Gary, made a market survey of 12,600 spectators to determine how the show could be improved, where they had fallen short. Except for a handful of gripe replies, viewer reaction was overwhelmingly favorable, true testimony to Gary's managerial prowess and creative vision.

There were 18,000 paid admissions the third year.

His resourcefulness made the 1966 show the best ever. In it were displayed 60 of the best sports cars the world has to offer, valued at over $2 million. Thirty cars were rejected.

Besides gaining invaluable experience from producing the show, it also helped Gary in the classroom. He wrote a thesis on it to convince a skeptical professor of its plausibility, and he also presented the idea in a marketing class. For both, Gary received A's. Gary was featured in the business annual as the top senior business graduate.

The same know-how Gary brought to town this month and immediately he began forays into the business community to sound out the idea of bringing the show to Detroit. He had already notified manufacturers that he would attempt to move the show to Detroit, a natural as far as Gary was concerned.

First Gary contacted newsmen to get their response, then he talked to exhibitors and other knowledgeable people in Detroit. With enthusiasm they all told Gary, "you can't miss."

Why the heavy optimistic response? It's simple, says Gary.

"No one's ever done it before. No one ever thought of it. Besides the fact that it's a money making project, probably more important, it's a community service."

For maximum protection in case of failure, Gary has taken precautions. He has incorporated. Who's president? Naturally, Gary himself. "Let's see, my wife might as well be vice president," he intoned, "and one of my brothers might be secretary."

That would make a corporation composed all of Northville natives, and more specifically, Kohs. Gary's wife, to whom he has been married for one year, is the former Connie Springer, like Gary, a graduate of Northville high school. Until last Saturday, Gary and his wife resided with George Kohs, of 473 West Cady street. At that time, Gary and Connie moved to Royal Oak to live in an apartment.

To his father, Gary attributes his first interest in cars, for the senior Kohs is manager in charge of parts simplification in the automotive division of the Ford Motor Company. "I was brought up around cars all my life," says Gary.

Although he devotes full attention during daylight hours to his regular job as assistant account executive for Campbell-Ewald Company, an advertising firm, Gary will be laying out plans in his spare time to make Sports Car Spectacular Limited a business venture of the first order. One of Northville's oldest residents, Charles Shipley, died Friday at the age of 94.

He had been a resident of East-lawn Convalescent Home for the past two years and had remained alert.

Mr. Shipley will be best remembered by many Northville residents for his vegetables. For many years he resided at 677 Dunlap street and grew a variety of vegetables in a good-sized garden.

He was a familiar figure throughout the neighborhood as he filled a basket with vegetables and sold them door-to-door.

erend Robert Spradling of the First Baptist church officiating. Interment was at Rural Hill cemetery.

Born on February 14, 1872 at Ann Arbor the son of Charles and Lidia Wellington Shipley, he came to Northville nearly 70 years ago. Mr. Shipley's wife, Louise, died in 1937.

Auxiliary, chamber of commerce, Northville Recreation department, and the TOPs and Garden clubs.

Many others are expected to enter before the Monday starting time.

Still other entries will include decorated bikes of area children, the Farmington Mounted Auxiliary Police, a locomotive, a horse and buggy, Ponies of America, antique cars, and marchers from the Boy and Girl Scouts, the little league baseball teams, and veterans.

Dawn McAllister, Northville's 1955 homecoming queen, will ride in the parade.

Two trophies will be awarded to the top bands, and trophies will be awarded for the most original and the most unusual floats. Judges also will pick the best all-around commercial floats and the best all-around organizational or privately entered floats.

Immediately following the parade, the Jaycees will hold its chicken barbecue in the park adjacent to the city hall. Current plans call for feeding up to 1,000 people, but officials indicate that provisions can be made quickly for many more.

Throughout the dinner and during the afternoon, free rides will be provided on the locomotive in the area of the community building. Adults and children also will be able to demonstrate their throwing skills by dunking a clown.

A street dance will be held near the community building, under the sponsorship of the Teen Club, and water battles between area firemen is scheduled to take place in the afternoon.

Climaxing the day-long festivities will be a 45-minute fireworks display at the high school. Spectators may watch it from the high school and Amerman parking lots and from the Swim Club.

Organizations or persons interested in participating in the parade or helping to defray costs of the project are asked to contact Kenneth Roberts 349-1321 or Richard Norton 349-2467, Jaycee co-chairmen of the festivities.

For Junior High Classes

Board Nixes Half Days

Possibility of half-day sessions for two junior high grades appear slim this week in view of opposition voiced by members of the board of education Monday evening.

The board indicated it will not even consider half-day sessions until after "every possible" avenue of solution has been fully explored concerning anticipated increased enrollment next fall.

Opposition to suggested half-day sessions followed a report by Assistant Superintendent Ray Spear that delay in construction of the elementary school may force the school system to adopt a temporary half-day schedule.

Based upon preliminary investigation, Spear said he would propose half-days for fifth and sixth grades - should half-days become necessary - because youngsters in these grades are capable of performing some of their work outside of the classroom.

He advised against half-days for first graders because a full academic schedule is a greater necessity at this age level.

Considered also, he said, was the possibility of lengthening classes, in the event half-day sessions become necessary, so that fifth and sixth graders are exposed to the maximum possible classroom work.

He said he was investigating the possibility of using other school and non-school facilities in the community for classrooms. Rooms at the First Presbyterian Church were mentioned as a possibility.

Even though Spear's report was not intended to recommend half-days, board members quickly scuttled talk of half-days, pointing out that other possibilities have not yet been fully explored and that efforts to speed up construction of the new school should be increased.

Speaking for fellow board members, Secretary Donald Lawrence said: "It behooves us to make every effort to avoid half-day sessions."

Advising the board that construction of the new school is "nearly on schedule", Superintendent Alex Nelson said he would give the board a detailed account of construction progress at its next regular meeting.

Anticipated enrollment increases next fall also sparked a recommendation by Spear that an additional kindergarten teacher be hired. Board members quickly approved the additional teacher, yet to be selected.

Board Vice-President James Kipper, reporting on his meeting with representatives of the Health, Education & Welfare department in Washington, D.C., in regard to acquisition of the fish hatchery property, said he was advised to redraft the school district's formal request to enhance its chances of obtaining the property.

He said specific details for proposed use of the fish hatchery buildings need to be included in the district's request. He pointed out that Wayne State university, also bidding for the property, has included such details in its request now on file in Washington.

Revision of the request is underway, he said, and the revised document will be resubmitted late this week.

Concerning letters that may be written by local residents favoring the school district's acquisition of the property, he noted that such letters - to be most beneficial - should stress academic use of the facilities rather than recreational benefits that the property might provide.

A report to the board on the high school library showed that the library was used 165 days, with circulation of 4,172 volumes of non-fiction books and 3,385

He also paid $5 costs for failure to transfer registered plates.

Found guilty of reckless driving on Plymouth road June 4 was Eugene M. Micol of Plymouth. He was fined $75 and $10 costs.

Two other motorists were found guilty. Queenetta Thirkill of Detroit was fined $10 for driving 60 miles per hour in a 50 MPH zone on Seven Mile road May 29, and Brett D. Pierce of Livonia was fined $5 costs for operating a car producing excessive noise (open baffles) on Seven Mile road May 16.

A PITFALL FOR SHOPPERS

Looking for the lowest price difference on your next new car? Good. But don't mistake it for a low order price that may disappoint you.

It's easy to do this since better than 50% of all new cars involve a wait for factory delivery. The dealer has the right to reappraise for damage to your used car since the order was taken.

It is a practice with quality dealers to make little or no change in original appraisals. Trouble may arise if a so-called "price" dealer reaches to get an order from his competition with an inflated used car allowance he later plans to lower. He may claim excessive damage, market decline or whatever.

The buyer usually pays the difference—sometimes as much as $200. He may be swayed by the dazzle of the factory-fresh new car. Or he doesn't want to disappoint his family by further delay.

Common sense says that you should know your dealer, or his reputation for integrity, rather than buy on price alone.

The clause is necessary on factory-ordered cars with a three-to-seven-week wait. Accidents can occur. But it can be costly to a reputable dealer who may frequently lose an order by quoting a realistic delivery price he intends to honor against one his competition doesn't. See you next week.

In Nabbing Robbery Suspects

Radio Alert Aids Police

Arrest of two break-in suspects and investigation of an armed robbery topped Northville police activity this past weekend.

A Detroit man and woman were arrested in Plymouth early Monday morning after local police flashed a radio alert to area authorities of a breaking and entering at H. R. Noder's Jewellers, and the previous morning, two young men robbed Northville Cue Ball, 120 West Main, of $225.

The break-in at Noder's, 101 East Main, was the second in less than two months.

According to police, a witness saw a young man and woman break a window in the store and then get into a car on Center street at approximately midnight Sunday.

Minutes after radioing a description of the car, its two occupants, Plymouth police apprehended Barbara Ann Derieg and Robert H. Taylor, both 22. They were identified by the witness, whom police declined to identify.

Of the stolen merchandise, all was recovered but a watch and a ring. Items taken included 22 rings and two wrist watches, valued at approximately $645.

The suspects stood mute before Municipal Judge Charles McDonald Monday. Bond was set at $2500 and a hearing was set for July 25 in municipal court.

Police said the pair admitted the theft and that they will be questioned concerning the earlier break-in at Noder's in mid-May.

Investigation is continuing also into the armed robbery of the billiard establishment.

Dennis Wilson, proprietor, told police two strange men, who had been shooting pool for 1 1/2 hours prior to closing, placed what he thought was a gun against his back as they were leaving and forced him to empty the cash register and the safe.

He said he was unable to see the weapon.

After robbing him, they forced him into the restroom in the rear of the building and tied him up with a towel. He freed himself minutes later and telephoned police.

Wilson told police the men had just said goodnight as he was preparing to close when one of them jabbed something against his back. He estimated their ages at 22.

Police said they have a "good description" of both men.

from the PASTOR'S STUDY

Father Edward Battersby, Pastor
St. Joseph's Church, South Lyon

Rudyard Kipling, the great English poet, was no stranger to military surroundings. It is not surprising then that his verse should be laced with a philosophy of strength that yet portrays insight into human character and much wisdom. In his poem "If" he is quoted as saying:

"If you keep your head, when all about you are losing theirs and blaming it on others, -- you'll be a man my son."

Truly his appeal is to intelligence and not to emotion. Only too often do we fail to appreciate this great faculty of our nature. Too often do we allow our judgment to be influenced and guided not by reason but by feeling, by sensibilities, by human respect. It is quite right for the animal to act by instinct; but for man, the crown of God's creation, such headless action debases rather than ennoble.

Our lives, themselves, should be purposeful. To each of us God's providence has allotted talents and abilities that are peculiar to us alone. In accord with Divine Wisdom there is a special contribution we each must make to human living. If we fail or are deficient in our assigned role then what good we have to offer the world will be lost to all forever.

Frequently today the appeal is made to the average, to mediocrity. The challenge of our lives and our times will engulf mediocrity and shred the average. No one need be either mediocre or average. We misinterpret our abilities if such is our conviction. A pint jar is just as full as a quart jar. True, capacity is different, but it is not that which concerns us. Our control is not over capacity but it is over ability. Each one working to the fullest of his abilities will give to our society an advantage that will not be outstripped in any contest.

In all of this we must remember that we are a God-fearing people. Strong as we are in our own right we must be ever conscious of our dependence on spiritual values and must be ever true to the obligations that such a dependence entails. Spiritual strength has always been the bedrock of strong individuals and the foundation stone for true society. Pray as if everything depends upon God, Work as if everything depends upon yourself.

OUT OF THE

PAST

ONE YEAR AGO...

An appeal by the Northville Coach Line of 41122 Seven Mile road to gain an inter-state permit for chartering buses outside the state was unsuccessful.

Fringe benefits the could amount to some $500 a year were awarded Northville school system teachers by the board of education.

The board officials approved the Blue Cross-Blue Shield full coverage hospital and medical plan for all full-time school employees.

Thirty-eight years in the Northville school system ended for Superintendent Russell H. Amerman.

A committee headed by City Councilman John Canterbury had begun working on the dedication of the new Northville post office. Dedication ceremonies were set for Saturday, July 17 in front of the post office building.

A plaque was presented to the General Motors Girls Club of Detroit by the Wayne County Training School. The Girls club completely refurbished a special counseling room at the school to be used for advising resident girls.

FIVE YEARS AGO...

John C. Robertson, Northville's first city manager submitted his resignation. On August 1 he was to become city manager of Ferguson, Missouri, a city of 22,000 near St. Louis. Manager Robertson came to Northville November 1, 1956, nearly a year after the village had voted to become a city, and took over as first city manager.

The Northville Record began publication of The Michigan Lutheran, a monthly tabloid newspaper published by the Michigan District of the Lutheran church, Missouri Synod.

Dempsey Ebert was installed as president of the Northville Optimists.

Northville Downs did not recover from the bad start it had opening night when rain and cool weather held the normal big Friday crowd to some 4,000 fans and a $200,000 mutual handle.

Disregarding the advice of its planning consultants, the Novi planning board voted five to one to rezone 24 acres on Novi road near Eight Mile road C-2 commercial to permit construction of a proposed shopping center. FIFTEEN YEARS AGO...

Newly installed officers of the Northville Rotary club were Charles F. Carrington, president; Carl Johnson, vice-president; Philip Ogilvie, treasurer; and Edward M. Bogart, secretary. Outgoing president was Arthur Schnute.

New officers of the University of Michigan Alumni group were: James E. Little, president; Miss Florence Panatoni, vice-president; Mrs. Kalin Johnson, secretary; and Alvin Wistert, treasurer.

Members of the Northville Rotary club and many villagers will be sorry to learn of the death of George A. Smith, a prominent educator, who passed away in St. Joseph hospital, Ann Arbor.

David Lee, son of Mr. and Mrs. Leslie G. Lee, was selected as the high school student to visit Europe as the guest of the Northville Rotary club.

At a meeting of the Exchange club, R. W. Bingley gave his report as delegate to the state Exchange club convention.

TWENTY-FIVE YEARS AGO...

Area 'Boy Staters' Win Offices at M S U

Several Northville and Novi boys were elected to offices at Boys' State held at Michigan State University June 15 through 22.

The eight-day session was designed to provide high school boys with firsthand experience in the workings of the government.

This year the boys heard speeches by Governor George Romney, Michigan State President John Hannah, and many state and city officials. Petitioning, campaigning and electing officers on a city, county and state level occupied the remainder of the program.

A march to the state capital climaxed the week.

One Northville boy, Kurt Kinde, was elected chairman of the county board, city councilman, a delegate to the national convention and came close to being elected governor of the session. He lost on the second ballot.

Other local boys elected to various offices were: William Skelly, chief of police; Steve Quay, county board of commissioner; Daryl Hollomon, city health officer; Terry Dryer, county board of supervisors; Gregg W. Carr, city councilman; Mike Moody, city councilman.

Also, Michael Conley, county superintendent and deputy fire chief; Thomas Krauter, chairman of county board of supervisors; Chuck Frogner, public recreation commissioner; Bob Armstrong, state representative; Jerry Asher, constable deputy.

Others were John C. Hasley, city councilman; Bruce Durham, city councilman; Bill MacDermid, deputy of fire department; Gary Becker, surveyor; William Christensen, state board of education; and Bruce Mach, justice of the peace.

State Police to Patrol Highways from 3 Planes

Fourth of July weekend holiday patrols of the Michigan State Police are primed to have their 'eye in the sky' traffic watch in full operation, Col. Fredrick E. Davids, director, reports.

Three state police planes will team with patrol cars for traffic law enforcement in selected hazard areas according to plans to make this a regular operation.

He singled out two factors of concern. One is the greater possibility for multiple death accidents because holiday motoring is generally a full family affair. The other is the added dangers in driving after dark. Both can be effectively countered by sensible compliance with safety rules, he said.

Colonel Davids noted that Michigan had 11 multiple death accidents during the Memorial Day period which accounted for 25 of the weekend's toll of 43 and that 20 of the holiday's 27 fatal accidents occurred in evening, night or early morning hours.

Michigan Mirror

State Beefs up Law Enforcement

Anticipated difficulty in bringing criminals to justice hopefully will be offset in Michigan by steps taken by the state police and legislature this year.

Many law enforcement officials complain that several U.S. Supreme Court decisions regarding confessions, interrogations and presentation of proof add obstacles to the already difficult job of getting evidence to convict criminals.

The first step was undertaken by the state police some months back. Efforts began to hire an attorney with police training in his background.

AIM IN THIS ADDITION to state police personnel was to keep policemen current on the legal implications of U.S. and state court decisions regarding their difficult daily job.

It had already become apparent, even before the latest U.S. High Court edict, that policemen would need more familiarity with the intricacies of the law if they were to remain effective in criminal proceedings.

Earmarked for a special computer operation, a $344,000 legislative appropriation is designed to help establish Michigan's hookup with a national communications network to exchange information on criminal activity.

Initially the computer will be set up to "remember" and distribute information about stolen cars and warrants issued in Michigan. Eventually it will provide police officers and the courts with descriptions of wanted criminals, unsolved crimes and prison records, all on very short notice.

One side benefit expected to be opened by use of the computer is that it will lessen the paperwork required of law enforcement officers, thus potentially freeing more men for the important work of prevention, detection and enforcement.

BOYS WILL BE BOYS. Figures compiled by the U.S. Public Health Service would lead one to believe it's almost sheer accident that many boys live to manhood.

In Michigan alone last year, the Service reports, some 10,087 people were involved in accidental poisonings. Of this number, 8,117 were children under five years of age.

Aspirin alone, found in almost every home, accounted for 1,694 of the poison accidents. Again well over half of these involved small children.

Household detergents and other cleaning compounds, vitamins and mineral preparations account for the bulk of the remaining accidents.

Curiosity of children can be a wonderful thing to watch. Unfortunately, the curiosity often involves tasting. It is often the carelessness of adults which transforms this curiosity to catastrophe when bottles clearly labeled "Keep Out of the Reach of Children" are involved.

A change in civil service hiring policies adds paperwork to the administrator's job, but may serve little other purpose.

The change requires the hiring agent to explain in writing his reasons if he does not take the person who ranked first in the civil service examination process for the position to be filled. State agency heads have for years been given the names of the top three applicants in filling any position. They could choose any of the three, but could not go lower in the roster than the No. 3 spot unless one of the three was unavailable for work.

CHANGE was instituted to meet objections of civil rights advocates who originally proposed that the rule of three be replaced by a straight regulation that the top applicant be hired in every case.

Civil service officials turned down this idea on the basis that in some cases job experience or personality factors entered into the selection process.

Under the new policy, the hiring administrator will submit his explanation for selecting, for example, the person ranked third on the personnel roster. Then the Civil Rights Commission will analyze the explanation to determine whether race was a factor in the administrator's decision.

Possible flaw in this idea is that both experience and personal evaluations are subjective ones. The able administrator could easily write an explanation which would effectively hide his racial bias if he were discriminating on this basis.

Letters to Congressman

Favor Local Atomic Site

U. S. Representative Wes Vivian (D-Ann Arbor, Mich.) reports that he has received about 200 letters and postal cards from residents in the vicinity of Northfield township, near South Lyon, supporting location of the Atomic Energy Commission's proposed 200 billion electron Volt atomic particle accelerator laboratory in Northfield township.

"It is increasingly clear that, far from opposing the Northfield township site", Vivian commented, "the overwhelming majority of area residents enthusiastically support it. This is in marked contrast to the situation, I might add, which has developed in areas surrounding several other proposed sites which have received active consideration by the AEC."

Most of the mail which Vivian has received on the subject in the past few weeks has been in the form of a postal card printed and distributed by Oren F. Nelson, of Whitmore Lake.

"This is considerably stronger support than a single petition, or series of petitions", Vivian said, "because a postal card campaign demands individual commitment, without the implied pressure which a petition-circulator often seems to carry."

"With a postal card campaign, we can be pretty sure that each signer really means what he is signing. He has, after all, the option of telling the distributor, 'I'll sign it and mail it in myself.' And then he can easily forget to mail it, change his mind, or never have intended to send the card in the first place."

The postal card which Vivian is receiving in large numbers from the Northfield township area says,

Dear Congressman Vivian, I, the undersigned resident of Northfield township, Washtenaw county and the Whitmore Lake area am very much in favor of the 200 billion Electron Volt Accelerator located in this area. I urge you to express my wishes and do what you can to locate this project here. In his reply, Vivian is telling each correspondent that, despite news reports from other states, he is informed, by AEC Chairman Glenn Seaborg, that the Northfield township site is "still very much in the running". He warns area residents to discount rumors to the contrary as being either misinformed or intentionally misleading.

What causes accidents? Ask an expert

He sees them every day, in the traffic congestion of large cities, on the quiet streets of small towns and on the open road. He spends most of every day behind the wheels and he knows what the dangers are on our streets and highways. His driving record shows that he is well trained because Mr. "Average Truck Driver" drives hundreds of thousands of miles without a chargeable accident.

Discuss accidents with him. He won't talk about nuts and bolts. He knows that most accidents are the result of poor driving practices.

The excellent safety record of professional truck drivers is no accident; it is the result of proper driver training and a continuing campaign to emphasize safe driving techniques. As a result, truck drivers obey the law, are courteous, alert and always drive, aware of the dangers which are present.

If you ask an expert what causes accidents, he'll tell you it's the driver behind the wheel that makes the difference.

Manpower Shortage

BABSON PARK, Mass. The manpower drought is about the worst in our history right now, and the reservoir of skilled and executive-type men and women is expected to dwindle still further. The problem is a rough one for employers in practically all lines of business. If you have any doubt about this, look at the "want" ads in any big-city newspaper and see how many pages they fill. Notice the wage-fringe come-ons, the frantic calls in big print from cities on the opposite sides of the nation.

IF A COMPANY is going to take advantage of our boom conditions, and plan intelligently for future opportunities, every method of building and maintaining top-notch personnel must be tried. Astute executives know this. Hence the frantic search for suitable job applicants via every possible source. This is the reason employers are offering bigger job benefits and fatter pay envelopes. This accounts for the "pirate" war going on among management officials in an effort to bid away top employees from their rivals.

Executives may have been a dime a dozen during the depression, but that's a long time ago and the situation now is diametrically different. New executives and management leaders are usually sought in the 35-44 age group, and this category is going to be on the decline for the next decade, according to population experts. This means that younger aspirants are being grabbed up as they come out of college, and polished for official positions. And the race will become more heated as the need for high-skilled workers increases.

Don't think that conditions will be ironed out by some temporary cutbacks in auto production or in an occasional other industry or two. Within the next decade, it is estimated that management will need an additional 1,700,000 individuals, the professions perhaps 4,600,000 more. It has already been proven that electronic operations replace lower-echelon employees, but the demand for highly educated and decision-making workers only expands.

MANAGEMENT should be prompt to upgrade employees within a plant so that younger newcomers may be trained and moved onto the starting rungs of the organization ladder. This is almost always wiser (and cheaper) than bringing in high-echelon outsiders at an exaggerated salary rate. Old-timers are more likely, too, to stick with a concern, less likely to be lured away with bright promises. In-plant training programs are a fine idea, and government help is usually available to help defray costs in such instances. Business colleges and trade schools are developing more programs for young men and women who want to further their education while still working.

As always, there are places where the scarcity of labor is especially severe, — as well as places where there is some easing of the squeeze. The government is now issuing a monthly report to show where and in what industries labor shortages are most acute. Also, study is made of areas with surpluses. In plotting your personnel requirements for now and for the future, it would undoubtedly help you to receive these monthly summaries. Ask to be put on the mailing list for "Reports on Manpower Shortages and Reserves". Send your request to Commissioner Arthur Ross, Bureau of Labor Statistics, Labor Department, Washington, D.C. 20210.

LOOK INTO WAYS of strengthening your personnel, ways that you might not think of under normal conditions. See if any present workers possess unrealized skills that could be used for critical jobs. Re-classify work requirements to be sure they are not higher than need be. Interview low-skill employees with an eye to increasing their potentials. Ask the unions to help you revise retirement policies so that older employees who are willing may be kept on. Increase the use of computers where possible to ease executive bottlenecks. And, as a last note, don't overlook the executive possibilities of women, especially those whose families have grown up and moved away from home.

s funny how certain news releases to print and others fail.

Like the Wally Byam Trailer Rally for ce. ardly a press-stopper. Ordinarily, an ope stamped "News Release: Wally Trailer Rally" wouldn't have its seal n as it passed from a stack of morning into the circular container.

Truthfully, those labelled "advertis- are accorded first priority by all the y publishers I know. And one of et peevies are those sneaky agencies send out news releases in envelopes rately designed to look like advertis- ersion orders).

Back to Wally Byam and the trailer . It came in an envelope from the iliac chamber of commerce. It was the Cadillac Evening News, nearly years ago, that I learned there was re than just news in newspapers. Up il then I had been starving as a report- covering fires and writing obituaries. e late T. O. Huckle paid me $70 a week sell ads.

So I have fond memories of Cadillac... birthplace of our first child, beautifully ated on two lakes, a town of wonderfully r. Sadly people, and it has an excellent golf course.

As an added coincidence, we were plan- ning to visit Cadillac last week for the first time in two years enroute to a press conven- tion at Boyne Mountain.

Back to Wally.

I opened the envelope because it was from Cadillac.

The first paragraph said:

"Adding extra sparkle to the spectacle created by the mammoth Wally Byam Trailer Rally here this week is the story of how a community reaped dual benefits in tourism and industrial progress through a bold venture into big-scale spending completely free of government help".

Really, there are two stories in this release. First, there's Wally Byam, who must be one of the greatest organizers in the world. As close as I can figure out, he has something to do with selling silver-colored, streamlined travel-trailers to thousands of people and then planning conventions and trips all over the U.S., Canada, Mexico and wherever else a car can pull a trailer.

When we were in Cadillac, trailers were streaming in from all directions. There were more than 1,000 already and some 3,500 expected when the rally gets into full swing, June 29-July 5.

Cadillac bid for the "Wally Byam Ninth International Caravan Rally". To win the bid it had to promise to provide a building capable of seating 10,000 Byam members.

The building cost $260,000 and was completely covered by local pledges and gifts. It contains 60,000-square feet of floor space.

Called the "Byam Building" for the summer, it is anticipated that the investment will bring some $2 million worth of business into the community, the estimated level of rallyist spending for food, gasoline, etc.

But the whipped cream on the short- cake is what happens to the building when Wally and his crowd pulls out.

It becomes the home of the Goss Canvas Products Company, a recently-formed Michigan corporation standing ready to add 125 jobs to the Cadillac area payroll.

The Cadillac chamber of commerce reports that the Byam building created a pleasant crisis for the community. Two firms bid for its lease.

The second one is now standing by while construction starts on another building, also a 60,000-square-foot facility with a 1,500-car parking lot.

Hats off to Cadillac. Hail Wally Byam!

Teacher Appeals to Governor

To the Editor:

This is for the Readers Speak Column.

Dear Parents and Taxpayers:

I think it's about time we bombarded Governor Romney with letters; a copy of my letter follows.

Sincerely yours,
Ann Chizmar

Dear Governor Romney:

I am a parent, a teacher for 25 years, a taxpayer in this community of Northville and a member of the Teachers Negotiation Team.

I challenge the validity of the philosophy of equal education for all schools; which seems to be the problem in Northville. We are at a stand-still in negotiating because there is just not enough money. Included with this letter is a thermofax copy of our tax receipt. Seventy-two per cent of the taxpayers money goes to support our local school. With the passage of the 17 mills recently, next year it will jump to seventy-six per cent. Statistics show averages to run from fifty-eight per cent to sixty-eight per cent. We have a high quality educational program in our schools with a low financial base.

There is little industry in Northville, but many homes being built. There are two "low-cost" home subdivisions right next door to the schools in which I teach; with as many as six children coming from each home. Their taxes do not begin to pay for the education of these children. There is another subdivision in the process of being built and we expect these children to enter our school after D. day. Our school board refuses to deficit spend and I myself do not.

Planning the next school year program has much to do with this.

Schoolcraft Says Thanks

To the Editor:

Two weeks ago a millage vote was successfully passed which gave additional funds to Schoolcraft College. No one will know the part played by any particular person or organization in bringing this vote to its happy climax. I know, however, that your efforts were instrumental in informing many people of the need of the college for funds.

On the evening of June 15, the Board of Trustees particularly wished to recognize your help and directed me to express their gratitude to you and to your organization. The thanks of all the college, including my own, are included.

Sincerely,
Eric J. Bradner
President
Schoolcraft College

Financing is a big problem in our negotiation and one in which the State ought to be able to help. When we started negotiations we were $100,000 apart. Both sides have given a great deal. We are still $30,000 apart with a salary schedule below the average of the school districts around us. It has always been like this.

My son (married and expecting a family in November) taught last year as a beginning teacher in a school system comparable to Northville at a starting salary of

Big Job for New Board

To the Editor:

This has been a rough year for Northville Public Schools. The necessary change in top administration could reasonably be expected to create a period of readjustment and no one can quarrel with that. It should be very apparent, however, that this year things have been completely unreasonable and that something is wrong.

There appears to be a consid-

School Encourages Hatchery Site Help

To the Editor:

The Federal government has, just recently, declared the Biological Laboratory in Northville (Fish Hatchery) surplus, and turned over the disposition of the property to the Department of Health, Education and Welfare.

Many of us, in the Northville area, are proposing that this site be turned over to the Northville Public Schools for the use of both public and non-public children living in this area. There are a number of parochial and public schools within walking distance of this site which provides unlimited opportunities in science education, field biology and ecology, as well as for other nature study and recreational uses. This would certainly be an ideal "Outdoor Laboratory" for the Northville area.

Educators and parents in suburban areas are convinced that the maximum use for the greatest good of the greatest number of children and adults would be to permit a local organization, such as the Northville Board of Education, to develop this site for such educational purposes. This, we believe, would be far better than to have it utilized and controlled by an absentee group headquartered elsewhere in Michigan.

You, as a person interested in the "Outdoors", know of the great needs exploding suburban areas have for recreational and $5,000, and the Senate is trying to give themselves a $5,000 raise, and they have other incomes besides this. Is this fair?

Instead of sending Mediators and lawyers down to settle our problem. Please about $50,000 would help greatly.

Enclosed is an article which I hope you will read and meditate. The way things are now it doesn't look as if we will be back teaching the fall as we voted not to go back until we have a master contract.

All of my children have gone through the Northville Public Schools (K-12)

Why I encourage my children to enter the teaching profession I don't know. I have four; one already a teacher, another working on his doctorate with aspirations of teaching at the University level and a daughter entering Central Michigan University to become an elementary teacher. Perhaps the only sensible one is the daughter in business school to become a medical secretary.

erable amount of fuzzy thinking in attempting to assess the various aspects of the "negotiations." Only those people who sat in on all of the negotiations can be expected to make an adequate assessment of all of the facets involved.

There are a few FACTS, however, that should be apparent to those citizens who wish to make an assessment based on logic rather than emotionalism. I presume those who condemn the teachers' one day action on the basis that it was illegal and immoral have never themselves been guilty of breaking any law - not even a traffic law? But to get to the FACTS - Northville has been blessed with a hard core of hard working, diligent, honest teachers whose integrity has been firmly established in this community over the past 15, 20, 25, and even 30 years. It must have required a great deal of soul searching and pain for most of these highly respected people to make the decision to stay out of school for a day, knowing full well that they were doing something quite contrary to their basic beliefs. The fact that they "walked out" anyway should accentuate the deep concern these people must have about local conditions. It seems apparent even to the uninformed that something must be radically wrong. This number of solid citizens do not suddenly turn into lawless bums.

It is going to be extremely interesting to watch the reorganization of the new Board of Education. We can hope that they will expend the major portion of their energies on digging into what has been wrong and less time in defending the actions they have already taken. We shall be fortunate if the damage done in this one year can be repaired in the next five years.

Thank you.

Somebody over at the county dog pound is in for a surprise. They've got a "bite-the-hand-that feeds-him" dalmation that slobbers over with affection - and frightens women motorists from their cars.

It happened a while back in Novi where, according to Police Chief Lee BeGole, everything is bigger and better than any place outside his domain. He's learned that dalmations are no exception.

Returning from Novi, the plant superintendent for this newspaper, Bob Blough, was flagged down by a frantic woman who pointed to her car and said she was afraid to get in.

And it wasn't because of anything that Ralph Nader had said. Lounging inside was this dalmation. Big and handsome and mean looking.

The motorist said she had stopped her car and the dog, apparently lost or strayed, wagged his tail, and climbed aboard. His growl was worse than his breath so the woman climbed out.

Would he, pleaded the woman, persuade the dog to leave. Since gallantry went out with the last nip, Bob summoned the police.

Their badges must have impressed Dal because he switched cars without too many protests.

But at the station house things were different. Just as he had assumed command of the automobile, so too he took over these quarters, and the police retreated.

BeGole's husky, scare-the-thieves voice failed to win any affection, so the dog was farmed out to a sympathetic resident of the village rather than turn "such a beautiful animal over to the pound."

His new residence was also short-lived. Explains BeGole: "He was the smartest thing you ever saw. Somehow he managed to break out of the guy's garage and force his way into the house. What he did inside shouldn't happen to a hydrant."

Anyway, somebody over at the dog pound is in for a surprise.
