KIDNAPPER—Still at large is the man pictured in the artist's conception above who is wanted for the kidnapping and molesting of a young Wixom girl. Anyone recognizing or seeing this man is urged to contact the Wixom police department by calling MA-4-1111. Police first reported that the girl said she had not been harmed, but according to the county Prosecutor further questioning revealed she had been assaulted but not raped.

Animals Fed Cruelty Charges Dropped

"We may have lost in court, but we've accomplished the most important thing: the animals are being fed well now."

That's how County Humane Officer Marshall London summed up his case against two brothers, whom police officials had accused of cruelty to animals.

Novi Justice of Peace Robert K. Anderson dismissed the cruelty charge Thursday when it was learned that London and Justice Court Officer William Hicks did not have a search warrant when they inspected the farm property of Orvel S. Hamilton at 23633 Taft road.

Hamilton and his brother, David, were arrested two weeks ago and released on bond pending Thursday's trial.

Following the trial, London returned to the farm Friday morning with a search warrant, but the brothers were ready for him. "Those animals had more to eat yesterday, Friday, than they had in a month. They were watered and well fed."

London said the brothers had purchased licenses for the dogs. "They've gotten rid of four of them, and they must give up four more. Some of the junk cars have been removed, and they've agreed to fix the well near the barn so that there is plenty of clean water for them."

Novi police report they were bombarded with calls from area residents offering to help care for the animals. A stream of motorists paraded past the farm Friday and Saturday, they said.

London said he has warned the brothers that their farm will be kept under surveillance, and he's promised to take them back into court again "if the animals aren't cared for properly."

Luxury Apartments Underway

Construction is underway on a $8.5 million apartment complex located on the west side of Northville road between Seven and Six Mile roads.

According to the developer, Bert L. Smokler company, plans call for completion of initial construction by January of next year, with first occupancy tentatively slated for the following fall. Initial construction will include a $150,000 community building, swimming pool and an apartment model.

To be built in stages, the development eventually will include approximately 469 co-operative apartment units clustered about an oval shape drive stretching east from two entrances off Northville road.

The community building will face Northville road, and the swimming pool will be in the rear of this building.

Tentative approval has been secured from the Federal Housing Agency (FHA), and the developer will obtain mortgage commitments in six sections. Selling of the luxury apartments, to begin early next year, will take place with the completion of each section. Purchasers of the co-op apartments will hold the deeds.

The one, two and three bedroom townhouse-type apartments will sell for about $140 to $180 per month with approximately $1,300 down.

Built similar to Smokler's Farmington Village development at Nine Mile and Gill roads, some units will be rectangular in shape, others will have a T-shape appearance. All will feature individual apartment privacy. Each will have private entrances, front and rear, a private full basement, and private yards.

Still other features will include 1 1/2 baths in most two-story units, double walls between apartments, silent mercury light switches, air conditioning, landscaping and automatic sprinkling system, and underground wiring.

Plumbing, heating, electrical repairs, landscape maintenance—snow removal, lawn and shrub care, are provided without additional cost to residents.

Mandell Berman, vice-president of the Smokler company, said the development is designed to appeal to couples with college-age children now living in $30,000 to $40,000 homes, and to young married couples with good incomes.

The vice-president is scheduled to meet with township officials Tuesday to finalize arrangements for use of taps in the interceptor sewer system. The multi-million dollar development presently requires a 277 tap guarantee of some 1500 allotted the township.

Board Re-Elects Becker To Break Deadlock

BOARD OFFICERS—Wilfred C. Becker (left) was re-elected president of the Northville board of education after two votes and an executive session failed to break a deadlock between James Kipfer and Donald Lawrence. Joining Becker as board officers are Stanley Johnston (center), secretary, and Eugene Cook, treasurer. The board did not elect a vice president.

Kipfer-Lawrence Tie for Presidency

Wilfred C. Becker, was re-elected president of the Northville board of education Tuesday night—but not before the board had cast two tie votes involving two other members.

Re-election of Becker by unanimous vote of the six members present followed two 3-3 ties between James Kipfer and Donald Lawrence.

Froelich, one of the three newly elected board members, was absent.

Although the votes were taken by secret ballot, it was evident by nomination motions and seconds that the newest board members, Stanley Johnston and Richard Lyon were supporting Lawrence, while Kipfer had the backing of Eugene Cook and Becker.

When the first tie vote was cast, Superintendent Alex Nelson telephoned Fred Thurn, Lansing attorney who helps write school laws for the state, for his advice. Thurn, who said a split of this kind was the first he had encountered in more than a quarter-century of school work, advised the board to either vote again or postpone the election of a president until Froelich returns from vacation later this month.

But the situation was further complicated when it was noted that another board member will be absent the week Froelich returns. Also, Thurn said the board could not legally transact business until after the election.

At this point the second tie vote was cast, and Kipfer then called for a recess so the board could meet in an executive (private) session.

When the regular meeting was reconvened, trustee Cook nominated Becker and the unanimous vote of those present followed.

The sudden compromise selection of Becker caused some speculation that the board may have agreed to reconsider the presidency at the September meeting, when all members are present. Becker said Wednesday morning that efforts to break the deadlock in the private session were futile, but he declined to say whether or not the board would call for a new election.

"The board was deadlocked and I was the compromise choice," Becker stated.

City Sweetens Pay Increases

Northville city employees had Christmas in July Tuesday night.

The council added another $5,000 to pay increases that had previously totalled some $25,000 and took effect July 1.

City Manager Frank Ollendorff said a second look at the newly approved salary schedule for all city employees revealed that could further strengthen its schedule to be competitive with area communities. He said that additional money was available for the increases.

As a result most employees will receive raises averaging $500. The latest hike increased most positions from $100 to $300 more than previously proposed.

In addition to pay increases city employees will now receive full payment of their individual Blue Cross hospitalization insurance and one-half for dependents. Police have been changed from a 48-hour week to 40 hours.

Manager Ollendorff is still hopeful that Northville will convert to use of Detroit water by July 20. Contract language was scheduled to be corrected for approval by the city council at special session Wednesday night. And the manager said that extension of Detroit lines from Center street at Baseline along the Baseline easement

Sheldon Paving Sought by City

Mayor A. M. Allen told the Northville city council Tuesday night that the Wayne county road commission has now decided to extend the widening and paving of Sheldon road from the C & O railroad in Plymouth to Six Mile road.

Previously, the road improvement was to have been made as far as Five Mile road, the line dividing Plymouth and Northville townships.

The council supported the mayor's proposal that the county should be encouraged to continue its improvement to Seven Mile road. "If it's going as far as Six Mile, we'd better get it done all the way to Seven Mile now or it will never be done", Mayor Allen stated.

A new Ford Motor Company plant is currently under construction on Sheldon near the railroad and is expected to sharply increase traffic on the north-south road connecting Northville and Plymouth.

to the water tower can be completed within 10 days.

The council approved new water rates that indicate increases in water and sewer bills to the average user of about 50 per cent. The new schedule shows that a 10,000 gallon user will pay $7.65 quarterly for water and sewer, while the present bill would be $5.15.

Maximum volume users will pay twice as much for Detroit water.

In other business Tuesday night the council approved purchase of property on Randolph near Eight Mile road to remove a curve. The agreements with property owners selling portions of their property to the city included $1,000 to Miss Ada Knight, $1,000 to James Cutler and Earl McIntosh plus a portion of city property in the area and use of fill dirt.

It was noted that an ordinance preventing sale of certain glue to minors would become effective July 18, and a public hearing was set for July 18 for a new swimming pool ordinance.

The manager was authorized to advertise for bids for installation of a sidewalk along the west side of North Center street from Ely drive south to Ely drive north.

Complaints of no parking signs "at any time" on the south side of Cady were heard from William Bailey, a resident of the street. The council promised to change the signs so that there could be no parking at night during the racing season.

Finally, the council heard criticism of a proposed signal in the middle of the Main street block between Center and Hutton streets.

David Van Hine, a Northville resident and employee of the Wayne county road commission's traffic and safety department, questioned the practicability of the pedestrian signal. He questioned the need for the crosswalk on the basis of traffic and stated that it would not prevent jaywalking. Van Hine also questioned the legality of the signal as proposed.

Councilman John Canterbury, who first proposed the crosswalk, argued in behalf of the idea, stating that it would reduce jaywalking and assist shoppers. In general the council was cool to Van Hine's criticism and at one point Mayor A. M. Allen proposed installing the light.

The council decided to bring the matter up for discussion again so that interested merchants could be heard before acting.

Betting Climbs

The holiday week end boosted activity at Northville Downs with a big Saturday night crowd setting the betting and attendance mark for the young season.

Through Monday, July 4th, the seventh night of the 35-night harness racing meet, total mutual handle stands at $1,979,640 compared to $1,931,572 last year over the first seven nights of the summer meet.

Average handle of the current meet is $282,806, while last year it was $275,938 for the opening week, but reached an average of $293,000 for the season.

Biggest night at the Downs this year was Saturday when 6,452 fans wagered $371,859.

Record Changes Look

A new format, designed for easier reading, is introduced in this edition of The Record.

Two of the changes will be most evident to the reader: 1. A wider column; 2. The omission of columns rules.

With the adoption of the wider column, which is approximately 7 1/4 inches wide compared to 7 3/4 inches previously, the number of news columns per page has been reduced from eight to six.

The elimination of vertical rules between the news columns provides a column that is easier to read.

Elected secretary and treasurer, respectively, without other nominations were Johnston and Cook.

No other business was transacted, but Assistant Superintendent Raymond Spear reported school officials will meet with teacher representatives next week Wednesday morning. He said he was optimistic that an agreement will be reached at that time.

Township Trailers Under Fire

The Northville township board will seek enforcement of its order calling for the removal of trailers from the Gerald avenue area in Northville municipal court, it was decided at Tuesday night's meeting of the board.

Decision was made because residents with trailers on their property failed to comply with the township's order. The deadline was June 30.

Only those families affected who can prove non-conforming use will be exempted from the eviction, and that must be proved in court, members agreed.

A summons will be issued to all of the 17 families now living in trailers.

Trustee Wilson Tyler said that "if there is no teeth in them (the ordinances), there is no sense in having them on the books. It's a nasty situation all the way around," Tyler added, "I don't see how we can back out now."

Order for removal of all trailers was sent out April 15 after the board unanimously approved the eviction action. But not one resident has complied.

In other business Tuesday night, the board, by resolution of the Michigan legislature, was given tacit authorization to connect with the sewer that presently services Northville State hospital.

It only remains for the legislature to formally approve the township's request for an easement across state property by act of legislature in 1967. The line will serve a proposed convalescent home and doctors' office for Dr. W. E. Gizynski to be built on Seven Mile road.

In other matters: Supervisor Merriam reported that the Wayne County Department of Public Works is still working on the agreement that would permit the township to purchase approximately 600 additional sewer taps. Cost of the additional one cubic foot per second of capacity is estimated at $77,000.

The board accepted the planning commission's recommendation to deny the request of Charles Lapham for rezoning of a parcel at Beck and Six Mile roads for development of a mobile home community.

FIRST WINNER—Mrs. Millard L. Mitchell, 48801 Gyde road, Plymouth, is the first winner of the weekly vacation-paid weekend contest sponsored by 20 Northville merchants. A teacher at Our Lady of Good Counsel School, she accepts the winning order from Fred Kester of the D & C Store, 139 East Main, as her children, Michele, 11, (left) and Annette, 7, look on. Mrs. Mitchell, her husband, an employee of Twin Pines Dairy, and their children are entitled to a free weekend, food included, at an Albert Pick Motel or Hotel. For contest rules see Page 6-B.

Budek-Cooper Exchange Vows

Bridegroom Sings at His Wedding

A romantic twist highlighted the June 11 wedding of Roselyn Marie Budek and Lynn Graydon Cooper.

The novel idea is in line with his musical background. He was a drum major in college, and will teach vocal and instrumental music this fall.

The wedding was held at the Good Shepherd Lutheran Church. Pastor

David Strang said the early afternoon service.

Parents of the couple are Mr. and Mrs. Theodore James Budek of 17685 Ridge road, and Mr. and Mrs. James Robert Cooper of Ypsilanti.

Her father gave the bride away. She was dressed in a full-length gown of bemberg, which she made herself. It was trimmed in lace and had a lace applique panel. She carried a miniature colonial bouquet of white roses.

Mrs. Carol Jones, the bride's sister, was matron of honor. She wore a pale pink street-length dress trimmed with lace, and carried a basket of pink daisies and carnations.

The bridesmaids, also in pale pink dresses, were Patricia Budek, Gwytha Cooper, Cynthia Hartman and Judy Walker. Christine and Marita Budek were flowergirls.

Rick Kline was best man. Ushers were Ted Budek, Ray Bates, Michael Gaines and Dave Smith.

The bride's mother wore a dusty rose dress of lace over taffeta. The groom's mother wore a medium blue dress with pale blue accessories.

The new Mrs. Cooper's going away outfit was a three-piece pink suit, which she also made. The couple's two-week honeymoon included one week at chalet in the Smokey Mountains. The second week they stopped at various locations along the route home.

They are now living in Ann Arbor. This autumn they will move near Ottawa Lake. Mrs. Cooper plans to attend Adrian College.

Mrs. Lynn Graydon Cooper

Senior Citizens Eye Three Trips

Members of the Northville Senior Citizens' club are planning a trip to the Fisher Theatre on July 13. They will see a performance of "Annie Get Your Gun" starring Ethel Merman.

Two weeks ago the club members were guests of the Plymouth club for a picnic dinner. About 100 members of two groups attended.

Only one meeting of the local club is scheduled for July. On July 26 a potluck dinner will be held in the community building at 6:30 p.m.

August will be vacation month, with the regular schedule of two meetings a month resuming on September 13.

about WOMEN

Mrs. Vincent to Head Residential UF Campaign

Mrs. P. David Vincent, Jr., has been named Torch Drive residential chairman for Northville. Her appointment was announced by Mrs. Arthur R. Hempe, residential chairman for Region 34, which includes Northville, North and South Livonia and Redford.

Northville's quota for the 1966 Torch Drive has not been announced. Last year, women volunteers who called on residences in the area went well over their assigned quota by collecting $2,570.21.

Mrs. Hempe said, "It is with special pleasure that I announce Mrs. Vincent's acceptance of this important post. She will bring great initiative and responsibility to the post as evidenced in her previous positions as area chairman and district chairman."

This year's drive will be held from October 18 through November 10 and will seek operating funds for more than 200 health and social services.

In 1965, a record $25,900,000 was raised during the "Give Once for All" campaign in the tri-county area.

Allocations of United Foundation funds - Torch Drive dollars - are based on the minimum needs of each of the near 200 UF voluntary agencies. Each agency submits its budget annually for study, recommendations and approval by the UF goal and allocations committee.

The committee also maintains a year round watchful eye to assure a fair distribution of funds in relation to the ever-changing community needs. The UF door is always wide open to any voluntary agency that performs needed health and welfare services for your community.

Torch Drive services include 54 health and medical agencies, 68 character building agencies, 32 services for the aging, 44 services for the family, 25 health research agencies, and 32 child care agencies.

Mrs. Vincent, who is a professional social worker, is a member of the board of directors of the Western Wayne County YWCA, public relations chairman of the YWCA, member of the American Association of University Women, and member of Alpha Xi Delta sorority.

Mrs. P. David Vincent, Jr.

Linda Ann Johnson

Allan M. Korn To Wed July 16

Mr. and Mrs. Chester Johnson of Bowling Green, Kentucky announce the forthcoming marriage of their daughter, Linda Ann, to Allan Merl Korn, Lexington, Kentucky, son of the Merl Korns of Northville.

Miss Johnson is a graduate of Bowling Green high school and the University of Kentucky College of Pharmacy, and is now employed with Pearson Drug Co.

The prospective bridegroom is a graduate of Northville high school and the Elkins School of Radio and Electronics in Chicago. He served in the U.S. Air Force, and is now associated with Taft Broadcasting company, WKYT-TV in Lexington.

The marriage will take place Saturday, July 16 at the First Baptist church of Bowling Green. A reception in the church fellowship hall will follow.

They will take a two-week wedding trip to Florida.

Fall Shows Set For Area Pupils

The American Association of University Women have completed plans for the children's adventure series for fall. The programs will be held on Saturday afternoons from 2-3 o'clock at Plymouth high school.

Tickets will be on sale in the schools this September. The programs are geared for about fifth to seventh graders.

The four programs are:

October 1 - Indian dancers from Ann Arbor

October 22 - Ed Johnson Marionettes

November 5 - Jay Beck, Man in Space program

November 19 - Dr. McConnell from University of Michigan on his experiments with flatworms

For more information, call Mrs. Richard Fritz at 453-6072.

College is a novel and exciting time in a person's life. It is a time characterized by colorful banners, football games and a rousing fight song, a diet of hamburgers, french fries and cokes, a habit of biting your nails and praying until the final marks come in, and an exhilarating whirlpool of new ideas, subjects, people and places.

This exciting mood of college life will be the basis of these articles each week. They will convey news of the hundreds of local college students.

EMILY CANTERBURY's active participation in Zeta Tau Alpha sorority at Albion College carried over into this summer. She spent a week at the Shamrock-Hilton Hotel in Houston, Texas recently. Besides meeting sorority sisters from all over the country, she enjoyed attending the meetings and discussions.

The national sorority is involved in many service activities, including work with crippled children and adults, and the awarding of scholarships to students at more than 85 colleges in the United States.

Emily's office in her local chapter is that of historian. A junior at Albion, she is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Canterbury of 204 Randolph.

Working and studying are the summer occupations of JUDY SOMMERS. Under the Co-op program at Schoolcraft college, she has been attending classes in the mornings and working as a secretary at the Northville State hospital afternoons.

At the hospital she works under the assistant director of nursing in the In-Services department. The department helps to train student nurses.

At Schoolcraft she just finished the first summer session. Next summer she will graduate with an associate degree in legal secretarial work.

She hopes to take a one-week trip to New York in August with Sherry Meyer, also of Northville. Judy is the daughter of Mr. Harry Sommers of 4601 Nine Mile road.

Another Schoolcraft student, BONNIE RORABACHER, is working as a cashier at a drug store in Livonia this summer. An elementary education major, one of the highlights of her school year was a trip she took to Chicago during term break with Sue Lutz, another local student attending Schoolcraft.

She is planning to visit her cousin Danny Morgan, and his wife at their home in Virginia later this summer. Her parents are the Herbert Rorabachers of Seven Mile road.

CAROL LYNN LUNDSTEN is devoting her summer to studies. She is attending the six-week summer session at Northland college in Ashland, Wisconsin. Students earn 10 college credits at the session. She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Stanley Lundsten of 38653 Silken Glen.

TERRENCE (PAT) MEYER, a Northville high school graduate, received a degree in police administration and public safety at Michigan State university this June. His parents, the Howard Meyers, live at 48120 Eight Mile road. Pat and his wife lived in Spartan Village this year.

Garden Club Plans Fun Day

Calling all Garden Club members! Mrs. Donald Ware, program chairman, is asking members to lay down their hoes, come in out of the sun, and plan for a day of fun.

Members are asked to meet at the Kroger parking lot at 9:30 sharp on Monday morning. Drivers will receive instructions and maps, and then everyone will be off for Hidden Lake Gardens, Tipton, Michigan in the Irish Hills.

This unique area of 407 acres was developed by Mr. and Mrs. Harry Fee, and then given to Michigan State University. The gardens exhibit valuable plant collections, and the grounds create landscape pictures.

To complete the relaxing day of fun, Mrs. Ware and her committee will furnish a picnic lunch.

If there are any questions, call Mrs. Ware at 349-2232.

NEWCOMER'S

I look upon every day to be lost, in which I do not make a new acquaintance.

-Samuel Johnson

CORNER

Mr. and Mrs. Howard Baldwin and "Flopsy"

Newcomers Mr. and Mrs. Howard Baldwin, their two daughters and a son are an active family. Presently only Mr. and Mrs. Baldwin are at home on 37955 Rhonswood in Meadowbrook Hills subdivision.

Their son, David, now lives in Saginaw where he works with Saginaw Steering Company. He graduated with a master's degree from Purdue University. His wife and he have a nine-month-old daughter, Laurie.

The Baldwins' daughter, Carolyn, just finished her first year of teaching home economics at the University of Arizona. She was awarded a teaching fellowship after receiving her master's degree from the university.

Carolyn's sister, Debbie, is following in her footsteps by majoring in home economics. Debbie, however, is studying at Purdue where she recently won the Danforth Award for being the outstanding junior in home economics.

As part of the honor she is receiving a one-month trip to St. Louis, beginning July 18. Right now she is touring the western states with her sister. They will be arriving home next week.

Their parents are as active as they are. Both of the Baldwins enjoy working in the garden.

Velma is a great golf fan, and spends a lot of time on the course now that it is summer. Howard has a home workshop and enjoys working around the house, in line with his engineering background.

He is the director plant engineering for General Motors, and also belongs to several engineering societies.

Mrs. Baldwin is a member of Engineering Wives, and together they belong to Meadowbrook Country Club and Bushnell Congregational Church.

The Baldwins are both graduates of Purdue University, which makes Purdue almost a unanimous choice of schools among the Baldwin family.

They lived in Rosedale Park in northern Detroit before moving here. Now that they have had time to settle down here for awhile - they moved here last August - Mr. Baldwin says they like living here "very much."

To Aid Atomic Site Selection Realtors Eye Housing Study

Northville and other nearby communities may be included in a study of the housing needs of the Atomic Energy Commission's (AEC) atomic accelerator, which may be located near here in Northfield township.

The Ann Arbor Board of Realtors has started formation of a committee for this study. Albert J. Samborn, its executive vice president, said Tuesday that smaller communities had not yet been approached.

"Nothing is closed about it. It may well be worthwhile to include these. We could involve the Chambers of Commerce of the communities," he said.

Only slightly beyond the idea stage, the study committee is in the process of being formed now. Its purpose is to satisfy a request of the AEC "for assurance that there will be adequate housing facilities on an open occupancy basis in the event the Atomic Energy Commission accelerator is located in this area." The request was made to the Ann Arbor board of realtors.

About 2,000 persons will be employed full time at the $375,000 accelerator facility, with more coming there from time to time to use its resources. The Northfield site lying between Dixboro road and US-23 and Six Mile road and North Territorial road, generally, is one of five still in the running for the prize scientific facility.

Local Students Get Degrees

Several local residents were candidates for degrees at the June graduation ceremonies held at Michigan State University and Eastern Michigan University.

Michigan State held graduation June 12 in Spartan Stadium. Six Northville students and one student from Novi were among the 3,487 graduates who heard the address by Vice-President Hubert H. Humphrey.

From Northville there were Donald T. Busch, receiving a BA degree in advertising; Kenneth B. Grossman, BA in general marketing; Pamela C. Hendrian, BA in elementary education; Diane Shaffer, BS in medical technology; Charles T. Weiss, BS in park management; and Janice C. Williams, BS in interior design. James Frisbie of Novi received a BS degree in packaging.

Eastern Michigan's graduation ceremony was June 11. David Dodds Henry, president of the University of Illinois, delivered the address.

Northville students granted degrees were Helen M. Batzer, master's degree in education; Joan E. Bryce, BS degree and elementary provisional certificate; Norman J. Frid, master's degree in industrial education; Albert E. Jones, master's degree in education; and Peter R. Nieuwkoop, master's degree in education.

From Novi, Nancy Lee Broderson received a BS degree and an elementary provisional certificate.

MUSICAL TOURISTS-Two Northville students are among the 94 students who will tour the British Isles and Europe as members of Musical Youth International, Inc. The chorus and wind instrument band departed by plane June 23 and is presenting concerts in Scotland and England. Appearances are also scheduled in Belgium, Holland West Germany and Switzerland before returning home July 27. Pictured are (l to r) Dr. Lester McCoy, director of the University Choral of the University of Michigan and director of MYI; Pamela Halton of Livonia; Larry Wood, Northville; Cornelia Delaney, Plymouth; and Margaret Becker, Northville.

Youths Off to Europe On Hostel Adventure

Several adventuresome Northville youths departed today for hosteling trips through Europe. They will be cycling, hiking and riding through the lands for the next several weeks.

Nine Northville students and one Plymouth student, under the leadership of Mr. John Hyde, left early this morning by car for New York. They will fly from New York to Iceland Saturday to begin a four-week tour of England, and the Rhine Valley countries.

The students are Brian Tabor, Robinann White, Charles Hines, Thomas Frountfelter, Bill Forsyth, Timothy Dickinson, Barbara Bogart, Bill Sliger, Roger Kline and Torbett Buenther of Plymouth.

Two cousins, Rick and Glenn Martin, are flying today from New York for a four-week tour of Switzerland and the Rhine Valley. After their hosteling trip is over, they will travel for four weeks on their own.

Rick's younger brother, Frank, sailed June 20 with a New York group. He will be joined in Geneva on July 23 by his mother, Mrs. R. T. Martin, and Mrs. Betty LeMaster. The three will travel through the Scandinavian countries before returning to Northville August 21.

Six other Northville students will be leaving in August for hosteling trips. Five of them will be traveling with Mrs. Wendy Roadhouse, a teacher at Northville high school.

The five are Marilyn Bowen, Carole Clark, Joyce Stuckey, Arthur Hempe and Mike Chabot. Their tour will concentrate on the Scandinavian lands.

The sixth student, Steve Quay, plans on cycling through our eastern states during August. He will see many historic sites as well as national parks and large cities.

News Around Northville

The Fourth of July weekend was a busy and fun-filled one in Northville. Many visitors joined with local residents in celebrating Independence Day.

While the Wilfred Becker family of 543 Dubuar watched the parade and fireworks in town, they thought of their daughter, Margaret, who was spending the Fourth of July in a small English village. The village had a special celebration for the members of the musical Youth for Understanding program, of which Margaret is a part. Larry Wood, son of the L. H. Woods of 43641 Nine Mile road, is also a member of the group.

The group has already performed in Scotland, and Margaret has written her family that she enjoyed the Scottish performance very much. They will be singing in England for several days.

The Harold Bittners of 43650 Nine Mile road had a very busy week. Mrs. Bittner and her niece, Luanna Fisher, who is visiting for several weeks from California, flew to Boston for a few days. They arrived home Thursday morning and then departed again Thursday evening for the Wisconsin Dells with their camper, a fold-out trailer. This time they were joined by Mr. Bittner.

Their weekend included trips to LaCrosse, Minnesota, and an Indian ceremony. They arrived back in Northville late on the Fourth of July.

The Richard Talbots spent the Fourth at Meadowbrook Country club. They played golf, watched the fireworks and attended the buffet dinner. The Talbots live at 40160 Fairway II.

The Lawrence Masselinks of 47230 West Seven Mile were visited this weekend by their daughter and son-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. John Shy, of Princeton, New Jersey. The Shys are living in Ann Arbor this summer.

The John Keyes family relaxed at home on the Fourth after returning this weekend from a one-week car trip to Niagara Falls and Lake George. Karen and Jack Keyes joined their parents for the trip.

A family reunion was attended on Independence Day by Mr. and Mrs. Howard Fuller of 45850 West Seven Mile. The reunion, held in Detroit, was attended by 35 relatives, including the Fullers' son and daughter-in-law and their four children.

Another family reunion was attended on the Fourth by the William Cansfields of 404 West Dunlap. The Reverend and Mrs. Wayne Smith, their daughter and son-in-law, and the Smiths' four children attended the reunion with them.

A total of 18 relatives were at the party. The Smiths are visiting for several days from Altamonte Springs, Florida.

Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Evans of 23750 Heartwood Drive spent the holiday at home. Saturday evening they attended the wedding of John McMillan and Marcy Ruland of Novi.

July 3 marked the first wedding anniversary for Mr. and Mrs. Dean Thomas Smith of Detroit. Mrs. Smith is the former Nancy Beard of Northville.

It was the twenty-sixth anniversary for the Howard Hendrians of 20164 Whipple recently.

The Edwin Langtrys of 712 Thayer celebrated their silver anniversary Saturday with a dinner party at Meadowbrook Country club. About 60 friends attended from Northville and other Michigan communities. Their daughter, Carolyn, came from North Carolina to attend the party. The Langtrys' other two children, Mary Lou, a senior at NHS, and Bob, a student at Central Michigan, were also there. A large, decorated wedding cake added to the celebration.

Richard Minuth, a general science teacher at the Northville junior high, is one of 30 junior and senior high teachers across the country attending the 10-week Summer Institute in Earth Sciences at the New Mexico Institute of Mining and Technology in Socorro. The institute offers a survey of all the major areas of geology. Mr. Minuth attends lectures, lab sessions and field trips.

Pat Raubar, daughter of the John Raubars of 640 Fairbrook, is also in Mexico this summer as part of the Youth for Understanding program. She is studying at the International University, and living with a family in Saltillo. As reported last week, her sister Mary is in Mexico City. This is Pat's second summer in Mexico, and Mary's first.

Two local students, Pat Erwin and Debbie Kuick, attended the two-week Central Michigan University high school music camp recently. Several concerts were given by the camp orchestra, chorus and band. The students, 138 in all, also heard recitals by Central Michigan and camp faculty members during the evening.

Pat's parents are Mr. and Mrs. Edward Erwin of 40401 Ten Mile road. Debbie is the daughter of the Donald Kuicks of 41881 Quince.

Mrs. Albert Atherton and daughter, Nancy, have moved to Farmington from their home on 23869 Lynwood. Nancy graduated from Northville high last month, and will be attending Michigan State in the fall.

LONG-MILE PARADE—One of the biggest crowds ever to witness a Northville parade turned out Monday morning to see a colorful assembly of Fourth of July floats, bands, horses and marchers wind their way through the downtown area. According to the sponsoring Northville Jaycees, the parade stretched out for nearly a mile and would have been even longer had not early morning showers frightened away some of the participants. Top business float went to the Good Time Party Store for its "almost real" still (top left), while second place in this category went to the A & W Root Beer stand for a colorfully decorated float car. The Madison Heights drum and bugle corps, (middle left), took first place and the Ponies of America entries (top center) took second in the marching unit classification. Top organizational floats were the 4-H display of old Americana (top right) the Jaycee Auxiliary candy house and the Northville Co-op Nursery antique wagon, in that order. Following the parade, the Jaycees held a chicken barbecue in the city hall park and then climaxed the day-long festivities with a giant fireworks display at the high school.

Giant Girders Span I-696

In place and ready for the concrete deck of the extension of Northwestern Highway, 12 of the longest girders ever built in Michigan stretch diagonally across west-bound I-696, a mile east of Telegraph. Built by Paragon Bridge & Steel company the girders measure 146 feet from tip to tip. Plans for the interchange at Northwestern and I-696, together with plans for other major area highways, were revealed to this newspaper this week. (See story on Page 1).

SENATORIAL CAMPAIGN—Carl Pursell, a Plymouth resident running for the state senate seat in the 14th congressional district, talks with Mayor A. M. Allen about his candidacy. Looking on is Pursell's Northville coordinator, Charles Ely. To get acquainted with local voters, Pursell brought a trailer to town last week and stationed it at the corner of Dunlap and Center streets. The primary is August 2. New official headquarters in Northville for Pursell's campaign will be opened July 9 next to the theatre on Main street. At that time, United States Senator Robert Griffin from Michigan a candidate himself, will participate in ribbon cutting ceremonies.

Book Review

New fiction books include:
 A Sunday World by Camilla R. Bittle, about a woman in the contemporary South who clings desperately to her genteel way of life.
 Laban's Will by Albert Lebowitz, a story of an eccentric, middle-aged lawyer who humiliates friends and family into leading more meaningful lives.
 Loxfinger by Sol Weinstein, a satire on the James Bond character, involving the adventures of dashing Hebrew Secret Agent Oy-Oy-7, Israel Bond.
 Rites of Passage by Jean Rikhoff, about the members of a close-knit family who are hampered by their inability to sever the ties of dependency. Third novel of a trilogy.
 Mountain Path by Harriette Louisa Arnow, a tale of life in "Appalachia" during the 1920's and 30's.

Among the new non-fiction books are:
 Life Among the Giants by Leontine R. Young, which explains to adult readers what it is like to be a child.
 Your Career in TV and Radio by George Gordan and Irving Falk, a book written primarily for high school students.
 How to Shake the Money Tree by Robert Metz, which examines the different types of loan and credit programs and advises how to get the best bargain.
 Home Book of Animal Care by Esther R. Guthrie, how to care for and handle a wide variety of wild and domestic animals.
 The History of the United States Flag by Milo Milton, the story of the flag from the Revolution to the present, including a guide to its use and display.

Special Course

Mrs. C. Phelps Hines, of 407 Ely Drive South, Northville, elementary librarian, is one of 120 elementary and secondary school teachers participating in a five-week summer institute for educational media specialists at Michigan State university.
 The institute is sponsored by MSU's college of education and instructional media center in cooperation with the U.S. office of education under Title XI of the national defense education act (NDEA).
 Participants, all state-certified teachers with at least one year classroom teaching, will study such areas as instructional television, 8mm film clips, and programmed instruction.

Teacher Groups Hold Out

The Michigan Education association has noted that the MEA has reviewed 185 teacher contracts negotiated with boards of education by MEA local units and that negotiations have yet to be completed in 262 other school districts where teachers are represented by MEA units.

MEA units represent teachers in 447 out of a total of about 500 Michigan school districts.

The MEA cited these figures as a ruling came from an official of the State Labor Mediation Board on charges of unfair labor practices filed against the North Dearborn Heights board of education.

In the ruling, Robert Pisarski, trial examiner for the LMB, said that the North Dearborn Heights board of education is guilty of unfair labor practices by failing to bargain in good faith with its teachers. Pisarski said that teachers have the right to negotiate wages, hours, curriculum, instructional practices, and other matters of professional concern. The ruling can be appealed.

Unfair labor practice charges filed by MEA units are pending against boards of education in Mona Shores, Buena Vista, Mio, Charlotte and Southgate where teachers have charged that boards of education are indicating failure to negotiate in good faith.

"In response to Governor Romney's request," said Richard Adams, MEA assistant executive secretary for governmental relations, "we plan to exhaust every possible avenue offered by the law to expedite the negotiating of satisfactory agreements before the opening of school in the fall. These avenues will include fact-finding, mediation, and the filing of charges of unfair labor practices."

Adams said he believed that much of the present problem in teacher negotiations comes from school boards' lack of understanding of provisions of the law, which was passed last summer, and a need for more assistance to school boards to understand and implement the law.

The MEA is currently strengthening policies of support for local affiliates in school districts where a satisfactory master agreement has not been reached when school opens in the fall.

Little Use for Laws without Enforcement

LANSING — Laws which duplicate others or cannot be enforced seem a waste of time and money.

One enacted this year involves an edict to school districts to review their textbook purchases to ensure fair treatment of the races.

It tells the local districts, in effect, to be sure that the teaching tools they use do not reflect badly on minority groups such as Negroes, Jews and Indians. It empowers the State Board of Education to check periodically to be sure the local boards are following the law.

Missing, however, is any power for the State Board or any other governmental unit to punish school units which choose to stick with old books which, for example, never picture a Negro or Indian child in a group picture.

While this is not a duplication of any law, a formal policy statement to this effect was issued some years back, however, by then Superintendent of Public Instruction Lynn M. Bartlett.

IN ADDITION to being sent to the various school districts in the state, it was brought to the attention of the textbook publishers and distributors which serve Michigan districts.

Presumably in the three or four years since this policy was circulated, most schools have purchased new textbooks incorporating the policy.

For all purposes, the new law will not likely mean any change in practice. Any school districts which have not followed the policy handed down by Bartlett will feel little pressure to change now since the 1966 law has no enforcement provision in it.

A seemingly ironic problem is reported by the State Corrections Department: Michigan's prison administrators are having a difficult time finding necessary labor to keep the prison industries operating well.

The problem arises partly because of changes in the frequency of paroles and shorter sentences being given criminals. Another factor is the type of criminals housed in the prisons, which operate 14 separate industries.

TODAY'S INMATE is much younger than previously. In many cases he has little education and has done little or no work during his lifetime. He is frequently hostile and unwilling to accept discipline. He is not inclined to be a good worker.

Prison industries are operated at Southern Michigan Prison at Jackson, Michigan Reformatory at Ionia, and the State House of Corrections at Marquette.

Other corrections facilities, mental institutions, and some other state government units in the past depended greatly on the prison industries for cloth, work clothing and shoes, office furniture, road

Bonds Good Buy Now

BABSON PARK, Mass. — As we New Englanders say, a lot of water has gone over the dam since our business and financial forecast for 1966 was published here on December 30, 1965. Both the Gross National Product and the Federal Reserve Index of Production have scaled new peaks in the first half of 1966 ... just as we expected. But the stock market (as we also felt might happen) stumbled while business was still climbing.

Looking back, we find that last December we counted on more important developments to come out of Russia than actually took place. Very definitely South Vietnam has dominated the international scene. The "fireworks" in that unhappy country may well account for the relative inaction of the Russians.

Also, despite the rumble of threats from Red China, that rousing giant has been preoccupied with shifts in the Peking power setup. These should become increasingly clear later in the year. We were quite right in predicting no major war with either Russia or China. And we still feel our forecast that the balance would swing our way in Vietnam has been borne out, and will become even more apparent when the dry season returns in Southeast Asia.

SIX MONTHS ago we reasoned that the best of 1966 might be seen in the first half. Although some further progress will be made, we still feel that the economy may become more on the defensive. First signs of serious faltering have already occurred in automobiles. In this field we foresaw, last December, "no significant upsurge beyond the high levels of the past two years." Looking toward 1967, we now believe it will be even harder for the car builders to make progress. Best bet is that total output will trail last year by 5% or even more. This will act as a minor drag on business generally.

As projected, the bulge in defense spending proceeded on schedule ... but did not overwhelm our economy; likewise, wage rates and the cost of living spurred, leaving in their wake grave fears of runaway inflation (which has not yet developed) and a slowdown in the rate of profits gain. The biggest block to further substantial advances by business (in addition to the auto slowdown) are the developing paralysis in home building and the checks to the long rise in capital outlays. Last December we expected these retarding trends to develop.

Six months ago we said, "... the greater danger will lie in credit inflation, rather than in price inflation." And we have had indeed a mighty boom in credit; but the wellsprings are drying up. Interest rates have soared. More to the point, those who would like to expand — from home builders to school builders — are finding that funds either are not available or can be had only at prohibitive cost.

Some economists have begged the government to use its tax power to slow the economy ... so credit inflation will not spill over into run-away price inflation and then a big bust. Apparently Uncle Sam has left the job of "cooling off" the boom to the money managers ... the Federal Reserve Board. It is the old-fashioned way; it is cumbersome, all-embracing — sort of a shotgun method that hits around as well as on target — and, above all it is slow. But just because it is slow, don't think it won't work. It is working. That is why we still look for the final half year to be less boomy than the first half.

IN OUR 1966 Forecast, we warned of speculation and gambling in stocks. We also looked for bonds to decline. Actually, bonds have declined more than we expected. They are now at a point where new issues of high quality—"AA" or "AAA"—may be bought on a long maturity basis, especially if they are protected against early call. Certainly they may be better buys than some of the widely touted growth stocks. Indeed, we believe that these days — and the days just ahead — will come to be looked upon as one of the great opportunities of this century for buying and holding top-grade government, local, and corporate bonds with long maturity and with protection against sudden call.

SPEAKING for The Record

By Bill Sliger

"I'm glad our children had an opportunity to enjoy a good old fashioned Fourth of July," said Margaret Becker, wife of the Northville school board president, as Monday's parade drew to a close.

I think that's pretty typical of the reaction of everyone to the Northville Jaycee sponsored event.

It was truly a family holiday in the American tradition, even though many youngsters may have little idea of what was being celebrated.

The crowds were the biggest ever seen at a local Fourth celebration. They lined the streets several deep for the parade. And hundreds of cars and thousands of adults and youngsters jammed the high school grounds to see the fireworks' display.

They cheered and honked their horns at the more spectacular fireworks and broke out in loud approval as the final rapid-fire burst signalled the end of the hour-long display.

To the Northville Jaycees goes the appreciation of the community for bringing back the Fourth of July celebration to Northville.

Co-Chairmen Richard Norton and Kenneth Roberts and their crew of young businessmen did an outstanding job of organizing the program. Their time, of course, was donated. But there were many expenses, and donations are in order. That's one way of assuring continuation of the celebration.

While the Junior Chamber of Commerce is doing its bit for the community, their senior counterparts are not to be outdone.

The Northville Community Chamber of Commerce is currently planning a "candidates night" for July 20.

Nearly 30 primary candidates for township, state and congressional offices representing the area will be invited to meet the public at the community building.

Dempsey Ebert and John Canterbury are in charge of making arrangements.

Speaking of the August 2 primary, there's an interesting bit of inter-play within the Grand Old Party in the township. Slates are being drawn, as demonstrated by a float in the July Fourth parade.

And residents of the Five Mile-Marilyn area in the township's extreme southeast corner are suddenly becoming keenly interested in township hall activities. Proposed zoning for an apartment project sparked the interest ... and it's still pending, although the public hearing is scheduled for September after the primary.

We'll take a closer look at the party split at a later date before the primary.

*****
Several Northville-Nowi-Wixom area families have adopted children—under the Foster Parents' Plan, Inc.

The adoption is strictly financial at $15 per month for one year.

The independent, non-profit agency has assisted some 84,000 children in impoverished countries throughout the world. Following an "adoption" the foster parent receives a photograph and a case history of the child. Each month letters are exchanged between the parent and child with the agency making the translations.

Foster Parents' Plan has no professional fund-raising campaign, but relies on families and organizations who have taken part in their program to pass along the word.

The organization gladly sends information to those who may be interested in such an undertaking. Write Foster Parents' Plan, Inc., 352 Park Avenue South, New York, New York, 10010.

OUT OF THE PAST

ONE YEAR AGO

...On the heels of announcements that a 300-home development was on the drawing boards and plans for an extensive water system were well underway came action by the township board to investigate the establishment of police protection.

...The sale of 118 acres in Northville township produced double results: It closed the doors on a pending suit brought against the township, and it opened the way to development of the property into a 300-home subdivision.

...Northville Downs set a new mutual handle record when 8,229 fans wagered $401,121.

...Succeeding A. R. Clarke as president of the Northville Rotary Club was Harold Bittner.

...Two local high school youths with professional potential were selected by the Detroit Tiger organization to tour with a hand-picked team. Junior Doug Swiss, a catcher, and Senior Steve Evans, a pitcher, made the team on the basis of performances in workouts held every Saturday at Dutzel field in Detroit.

...All that remained of a barn on the old Whipple Estate in Northville township was a few gutted timbers. The barn went up in flames after the fireworks show. Arsonists were suspected.

FIVE YEARS AGO

...Herman "Bud" Hartner, Northville's superintendent of public works, suffered a broken leg when a ditch caved in while he was repairing a water line. He was working at Northville Downs near the Church and Beal street entrance where an underground water line had broken. He was taken to Community General hospital where x-rays revealed a broken bone near the knee joint.

...For the first time in the years the state was up to date on its aid payments to Northville schools, thus relieving some pressure for payment of summer bills from the school board.

...Buoyed by a warm reception from Congresswoman Martha Griffiths, the Northville city council decided to take a definite aim at obtaining federal funds for urban redevelopment. Mayor A. M.

Allen appointed Councilman John Canterbury, who introduced the idea, to head the project.

...The Northville township board passed along the findings of the city-township library study committee to the school board "without comment". The report was made June 1 and recommended that administration of the service be placed under the school district and a one mill tax to be levied for support.

FIFTEEN YEARS AGO

...Still more honors were bestowed upon Alice C. Newton, valedictorian of the Northville high school. She was one of 70 seniors from 14 states that were awarded four-year college scholarships in the first nationwide competition among eligible children of Ford Motor Car company employees. Her father, Vernon Newton, was employed at the local Ford Valve plant.

...Tragedy struck a Northville family when Wallace R. Reid, age 25, was killed while working in Trenton. He met death when a tractor and scraper operated by Hugh Johnson of Detroit accidentally ran over him.

...During the fourth week of racing, Northville Downs broke all its records for mutuels handle. The betting for the six days totaled $1,274,166 for the best week in the track's eight year history.

...At the annual school election of the Novi School District No. 8, Sue Watson and Fraser Staman were elected as trustees to serve a three-year term.

...The Northville Retail Merchants association went on record as favoring the reopening of the Penniman Allen Theater.

TWENTY-FIVE YEARS AGO

...Civilian Defense was to be the theme of the local fair to be held August 19-23.

...The committees for the USO drive in the community were named. Howard McKeague was to contact the businessmen and Mrs. Herbert Berendt was to take charge of the house-to-house canvas.

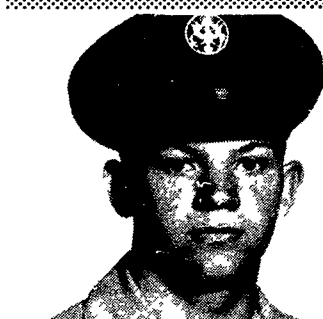

THIRTY-FIVE YEARS AGO

...With the successful signing of 85-percent of deposits in both the Northville State Savings banks under the state moratorium plan, arrangements got underway for the new bank in Northville.

...Of the 120 students who took the state pharmaceutical examination at Big Rapids, James M. Ely was one of three who took highest honors.

...Re-election of Dr. E. N. Cavell and Sherill W. Ambler to trustee positions on the school board featured the annual meeting.

In Uniform

Airman Bernard A. Kenny, son of Mr. and Mrs. Daniel H. Kenny of 42053 12 Mile road, Novi, has been selected for technical training at Lowry AFB, Colo., as a U.S. Air Force aircraft weapons specialist.

The airman recently completed basic training at Lackland AFB, Texas. His new school is part of the Air Training Command which conducts hundreds of specialized courses to provide technically trained personnel for the nation's aerospace force.

Airman Kenny was graduated from Walled Lake high school in 1964.

by JACK W. HOFFMAN

Somewhere, someday, someone in the neighborhood is going to come across a toad with a flesh-colored bandaid — the extra large size — pasted to his warty back.

When they do I hope they let me know how the poor fellow's doing.

The pop-eyed creature, one of an army that nightly marches into our backyard and somehow find themselves staring out of fruit jars, paint cans and even the wash tub, recently was doctored by my youngest son. He's the son who of late has been frightening neighborhood mothers who believe the self-inflicted hairless spots on his head were caused by infectious ringworm.

with the wart story. They crack that one by running to the library and digging up some ridiculous scientific volume disputing our theory. And, yet, two of 'em break open my tool box and make off with three sheets of double sandpaper.

And my wife's pinkie scissors. Top shelf, far corner, inside her mending basket. Stacked chairs for a ladder, a Tarzan like swing to the shelf, hanging by one hand while the other deftly lifts out the toothy instrument and my son is sitting in front of the mirror cutting artistic patterns out of his hair. Yet, he quakes with fear when the real barber starts to work.

It's futile. Kids haven't improved a bit during the past 30 years.

According to my balding son, the toad had a sore back and "just needed doctoring". Already well trained in the art of painting his toes with iodine, he naturally thought he was advanced enough to administer a sticky bandaid.

"Well, son," I said proudly after learning of his act of kindness this past week, "that was a very nice thing to do. But what made you think his back was sore?"

"Because Buddy and me rubbed the bumps on his back with some sandpaper so he won't give anybody anymore warts."

*****

All of which brings me to the knotty problem most parents face in trying to locate hiding places for off-limits utensils. Top closet shelves, locked desk drawers, attics. All are about as inaccessible to children as cherry popicles tucked away inside a refrigerator. And even our best reader becomes an illiterate when it comes to understanding simple signs like, "Don't touch!"

Take the toads for instance. Like parents for generations past, we've been trying to discourage our kids
