

Water's Popular In Heat

Hot? You bet it's been. But the heat's sopped up little of Northville's dwindling water table, according to DPW Superintendent Herman "Bud" Hartner.

Northville gobbled up 9.6 million gallons of water during the 24-day heat wave, beginning June 20, some 20-percent more than was used here last year, Hartner reports.

Nevertheless, there's still little danger that the city will run out of water before Detroit water starts bubbling through taps late this month, even though the water table is dropping off steadily.

Fortunately, says Hartner, heavy rains during the heat wave cut down the amount of water used for sprinkling, thus saving some of the water in the city's two wells located off Novi road and behind the city hall.

To illustrate what's happening to the water table here, Hartner notes that the pumps are able to produce only about 600 gallons of water a minute, compared to 850 gallons last year.

"And that's not because the pumps are giving out," he adds.

The sinking water table makes the switch-over to Detroit water increasingly important every day, he says. But delays caused by labor problems means the contractor may not get started on the line from Center to the city's water storage tanks for several more weeks. The job itself isn't expected to take much more than two weeks.

Hartner explains that the Detroit Water, when it can be used, will be pumped into the city's storage tanks

500 Students Say Goodbye To US Here

An army of excited foreign exchange students will invade Northville next week Wednesday — but chances are tears will outweigh the laughter before the day's out.

That's the day when some 400 to 500 students, who have been living in Michigan, Indiana and Illinois converge on this city to say good-bye to their foster families and returning to their European homes.

The students have been in the United States as part of the Youth for Understanding program.

Hosting the always tearful departure is the Northville Rotary Club. This year, however, no program is planned. Students will board buses, immediately after registering, and head for New York where they will depart by ship Thursday for Europe.

Registration will take place at the high school.

Counselors will meet at the high school between 9 and 11 a.m., buses will arrive at noon, and registration will take place at 1 p.m. in the parking lot. Should it rain, registration will take place indoors.

According to Rotarian E. V. Ellison, altogether some 1,000 persons will be here for the departure and local area eating establishments probably will be swamped, even though Rotarians will man a concession stand at the high school.

Northville has no foreign exchange students in the program this year, Ellison said, but should a family in the area wish to host a student during the next year they are asked to contact him or the high school.

Merchants Tell City

'Let's Get New North-South Route'

A renewed appeal for an alternate north-south route through Northville was heard Monday night at a meeting of the city council.

It came from representatives of the retail merchants division of the Northville Community Chamber of Commerce.

Specifically, the merchants aimed their ire at Center street truck traffic.

Merchant representatives included Chairman Gerald Stone, Douglas Lorenz, Fred McLean and Ray Noder. Charles Lapham, also a retailer, attended but noted that he was "not representing the merchants' association."

The downtown businessmen were primarily attracted to the council session by a proposal to erect a traffic signal on Main street midway between Hutton and Center.

It was the merchants' position that a greater problem exists at the Main and Center street intersection and with the heavy through traffic on Center street.

A traffic signal, which would be coordinated with the Center and Hutton lights but would have a manual control for pedestrians, has been considered for Main street to reduce jaywalking, provide more convenient crossing for shoppers and help alleviate traffic problems associated with the public parking lot on the south side and the theater on the north side.

Councilman John Canterbury first proposed the plan and has been its leading advocate. But Monday night announced that he had "genuine doubts" about it and said that it was possible "it might even cause a bottleneck."

The councilman's reversal caught the merchants by surprise. "I'm not going all out for this idea. It was proposed to help the merchants by providing ease of crossing for shoppers. But it's been given little support even though many have said it's a good idea", Canterbury stated.

Councilman Del Black, also a retailer, said that he believes there is a need for the light.

Lapham didn't agree. "I'm no expert, but I see no problem", he commented. He pointed out that the biggest hazard is at Main and Center where 38 of the city's 126 car accidents occurred last year.

The mayor noted that the problem would become more acute shortly. Sheldon road is slated for widening to accommodate increased traffic from the new Ford plant in Plymouth township south of Five Mile road. Northville road is also earmarked for another lane and I-96 expressway will soon parallel Haggerty road, he noted.

In response to a council comment that trucks must use Center for lack of another route, Fred McLean said, "better the trucks have a problem than us. Let them find another way than going through town".

McLean, Spinning Wheel proprietor and a Chamber of Commerce director, said that the truck traffic and heavy non-stop traffic on Center street hurt business. He expressed the hope that the no-parking restrictions now enforced during certain hours on North Center street could be removed if an alternate north-south route were found.

Councilman Black proposed that a committee of businessmen join the city in renewing efforts at the state and county level to provide a north-south route.

One of the possibilities, proposed by the Chamber, was noted. It's the continuation of Griswold southward to a widened Beal street. Another Chamber idea is the continuation southward of Wing street to Hines drive.

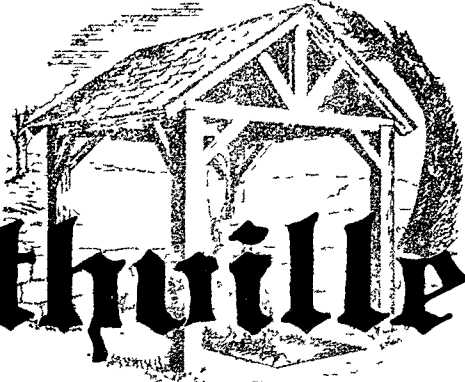

Retailers Elect Stone

Gerald M. Stone, manager of Stone's Gamble Store, 117 East Main, was elected chairman of the merchants division of the Northville Chamber of Commerce Thursday night.

He succeeds R. Douglas Lorenz of Gunsell Drug Store, chairman for the past year.

Some nine members of the division attended the meeting held at Brader's Department Store.

Council Slaps Occupancy Ban On New Sub

The Northville city council found itself in a predicament this week... one that it had predicted and one that it had sought to avoid even to the point of going to the Oakland county circuit court.

To keep matters from getting worse, the council took action Monday night that may contradict the court ruling.

Involved is Northville Heights No. 2, a new subdivision of homes adjoining Northville Heights. The first residents of the 69-home development moved in last week (see story, page 3B).

But Monday night the council ordered a halt to all occupancy permits in the subdivision until the sewer system serving the development is hooked into the new Oakland county interceptor on Novi road.

Builder Dave Pink and the city became involved in a court case last March over Pink's right to build homes until the sewer tap was assured. It was the developer's responsibility to build a sewer line from his subdivision to the Novi Interceptor, which winds its way through Northville to the Wayne county Middle Rouge Interceptor.

But the council was reluctant to permit building until actual tap-in rights had been gained from Oakland county. The Novi line is needed to serve the new subdivision because existing lines in the city's northern section cannot service further development.

The court ruled in March that the permits should be issued, but that occupancy permits "may be withheld until June 1". It was assumed that by that date the connection to the Novi sewer would have been made.

But a master meter, needed to record the amount of flow into the Novi line, is still undelivered. And Oakland county refuses to permit the tap in.

City Manager Frank Ollendorff is following the council's instructions. No occupancy permits. But he has one eye on the ruling issued by Circuit Judge Frederick Ziem... "occupancy permits may be withheld until June 1", another on irate residents of Oakwood subdivision, who have experienced flooded basements and want no more taps into their lines (which are now temporarily serving the new subdivision).

Meanwhile, he's awaiting the return of City Attorney Philip Ogilvie from vacation for some legal advice.

Teachers-School Board Near Contract Agreement

Negotiating representatives of Northville teachers and the board of education Tuesday predicted settlement by Friday — or possibly early next week.

Assistant Superintendent Raymond Spear and Donald Brown, chief negotiator for teachers, while meeting Tuesday said that negotiations were "progressing very well" and that a meeting of the entire negotiating team probably would be held Friday to give formal approval to a one-year contract.

Should approval finally materialize, it will end negotiations that first began last fall. During that period, disputes raised the ire of both sides and stymied settlement.

The conflict was topped by a teacher boycott of a board-sponsored dinner for employees and a subsequent one-day school walk-out.

Downs Down

Northville Downs is losing in its race against last year. But the race is close.

Through last Saturday night, the 18th of racing in the current 35-night meet, bettors have waged $5,231,354 for an average of $290,631 nightly.

Last year the first 18 nights produced $5,252,667 for an average of $291,815.

BUILDING SAVED—As smoke billows out of the upper story of the industrial plant, firemen pour water onto flames licking at the roof. Quick action by the fire department and by employees of the plant saved the building and kept Kwik Lock in business.

Firemen Praised

Kwik Lock Saved By Quick Action

Men and machines continue to work at a full-production clip this week despite a $20,000 fire that gutted part of two upper floors of the building housing Kwik Lock Form company, 279 Park Place, Thursday afternoon.

"Thanks to the quick action of my men and the fire department, we lost only one hour of work", commented Frank Pauli, owner of the firm, as he surveyed the damage.

Flames ate out the interior of the front section of the second and third floors, causing some $15,000 damage to the building and approximately $5,000 damage to furniture and office equipment.

The ground floor, where 12 employees were working when the fire broke out about 3:30 p.m., escaped damage.

According to Pauli, he and some of his employees detected the smell of smoke earlier in the afternoon, but they were unable to find any fire — even though they removed a portion of a drop ceiling above Pauli's private office on the second floor.

Caused either by defective wiring or spontaneous combustion, the fire apparently started between the drop ceiling and the rafters, slowly eating its way up through the top floor and down through the second-floor partitions and outside wall.

Both Pauli and employees at the nearby service station notified the fire department at about the same time, shortly after the firm's electrical system failed at 3:30.

By then the flames had engulfed the entire upper front section of the building and threatened to break through the roof.

While firemen poured water onto flames through the upper-story windows, employees aided by hosing from the stairway leading to the second and third floors.

Altogether, three offices — including the private office — were gutted and a washroom and adjoining closet were heavily damaged. Third floor rafters and the front walls were damaged, and the front floor section was severely weakened.

Owned by Roy Van Atta, 605 Randolph, the building was built more than 75 years ago, and over the years it has been used by numerous businesses.

Pauli has operated his firm there for one year, manufacturing concrete forms, material handling equipment and automobile parts.

Evaluation Of Plans, Needs Eyed

A 15-member citizens' advisory committee was named Monday night by the city council to "study, advise and assist the city council regarding the determination of community needs and the relative desirability, feasibility and priority of various community improvement actions and programs".

The committee was first proposed in conjunction with the planning commission's community master plan.

A resolution approving creation of such a committee was adopted by the council in January, but actual appointment of the committee has met with a series of delays.

Mayor A.M. Allen announced Monday night that an organizational meeting of the group would probably be held in September.

All of the members except one are residents of the city. A school board representative was named to the group and it was decided Monday night that the township board would be invited to name a representative.

Committee members accepting the appointment are: Arthur Adams, the Reverend Lloyd Brasure, Robert Bretz, Mrs. William Bake, Sr., George Clark, A. R. Clarke, Robert Hart, Robert Horner, Stanley Johnston, John Mach, Essie Nirider, Arthur Prodger, Kenneth Rathert, Mrs. David Schoultz and Harry Wagenschutz.

The township resident is John Mach, owner of John Mach Ford agency in the city, and the school board representative is Stanley Johnston.

While the council adopted a resolution of purpose definitely broader than the resolution prepared by the planning commission's consultant, the committee will undoubtedly find itself involved in the master plan proposal as created by the planning commission.

The master plan includes areas for recreation, schools, residential and industrial zoning plans as well as a traffic network and improvement of the central business district.

In an apparent effort to avoid assignment of the committee exclusively to master plan proposals the council drafted a resolution establishing its primary functions as:

1. To determine and/or assess and evaluate the determinations of others regarding the nature and extent of deficiencies or areas where further improvement is desirable in the community. Such study areas are meant to include, but are not limited to, parks and recreation, long and short range over-all planning, capital improvement programs, health, senior citizen programs, central business district development, zoning, redevelopment programs, and inter-governmental relations;

2. To develop means and methods of remedying community deficiencies and/or to assess and evaluate the community deficiencies and/or to assess and evaluate the community improvement recommendations developed by others;

3. To help inform the public regarding community needs and proposed improvements.

City Taxes Due

You can expect a letter from the city of Northville this week.

It's your 1966-67 city tax notices. Usually in the mail by July 1, the notices have been delayed, but are now payable without penalty until August 31.

Some 2,200 property owners will receive the notices. The city tax levy is 12.5 mills against the local assessed valuation of the property.

The revenue from the real and personal property tax amounts to a total of $157,840.73 with $111,819.25 coming from the Wayne county portion of the city and $46,021.38 from Oakland county.

Taxes may be paid at the city clerk's office in city hall, which is open daily until 5 p.m. and Saturdays until noon.

Margaret Zayti: Whirlwind of Energy

Margaret Zayti is an incredible whirlwind of energy and activity: she plays a major role in not one, but three important Northville operations — Northville Downs, Zayti Trucking corporation, and the Chamber of Commerce.

The smartly dressed, dark-haired businesswoman's work with the Downs began in 1946. Since then she's been a valuable asset as recording secretary and partner of John Carlo, owner of the track.

During the off-season she winks through piles of bookkeeping while attending to other business details.

During the racing season, which usually includes spring and summer meets, she adds many other duties to her bookkeeping chores.

One of these jobs is handling entertainment; she greets and entertains visitors and business associates who come to the Downs, answering their questions, and often showing them through the expansive buildings. And she arranges many private parties of country clubs, groups and individuals at the races.

She's also on the telephone daily, notifying newspapers and other news media of special events.

To make sure the Downs compares well with other tracks, she takes a "businessman's holiday" about four times a year and "sees what the competition has to offer."

Summer days are spent almost exclusively at the track, from 9 to 5:30, and then back for the races at 7:30.

During the races, she is busy in the general office section of the facility, handling problems which arise nightly, such as cashing checks, answering questions about the races, and attempting to soothe irate customers.

But she doesn't take full credit for the monumental task of managing the office. She claims, "the other girls in the office really help a lot too."

Mrs. Zayti has a difficult time pinpointing just what she likes most about her job. "There are so many things, but I think I like meeting the people most."

There's no resting in the non-racing season when her chores at the Downs taper off. That's when the Zayti Trucking corporation, in which she is partner and vice president, occupy much of her time. "I don't go to the office (of the trucking company) often during the racing season, but I spend most of my time there in off-season," she explains.

Here, in what normally is considered a "man's world", the Northville woman tackles the job with gusto, efficiently supervising the operation of 20 giant highway tractors and trailers. The firm's prime contract is with Detroit, hauling rubbish for the world's automotive capital.

The Chamber of Commerce is the third operation which fills her remaining hours. She's been secretary of the group since its inception three years ago. With a note of pride in her voice, she says the 105-member chamber is "the first truly successful one in Northville's history. There have been four others in the past."

The board meets once a month, but her work doesn't end there. She helped with the preparation of the brochure about Northville which includes, among other things, a history of Northville and its local businesses and notable points of interest.

As secretary, it's also her job to answer inquiries received by the chamber, and she says, "It's surprising just how many the Chamber of Commerce does get."

People ask about historic sites such as the old spring and the foundry, accommodations, private cemeteries, taxes, sewers, housing, government, schools, and a long list of other topics, she adds.

To add to this breathtaking pace, she has assumed still another job this year: chairman of the businessmen's United Foundation drive slated for next fall.

Finally, Margaret Zayti is not only a successful businesswoman, but she's also the proud mother of three children. Her oldest son, Mike, is in Vietnam with the United States Marines. He may be sent to Hawaii later on this year, and his mother hopes to visit him there. He has seven months remaining in the service.

Her younger son, Jim is a senior at Northville high school, and her daughter, Sherry, is a ninth grader. Sherry helps her mother out at the race track.

Mrs. Zayti has time in the non-racing months to do all her own house-keeping, but during racing season she has helped a few times a week.

As for relaxing, she smiles and says, "Well, I love to swim, but last Sunday was the first chance I got to swim this year."

"But," she adds concerning this busy pace which doesn't allow much time for relaxation, "I wouldn't do all this if I didn't enjoy it."

SUPERVISING—During the non-racing months she spends her days at the Zayti Trucking corporation. Here she confers with Wayne Hazelton, a company driver.

PARTNERS—She points out the race track to co-owner, John Carlo. Behind them are the betting booths.

Peterson-Grier Wed

Penny Eileen Peterson became the bride of Wilson C. Grier July 9 at the First Methodist church. White gladioli, daisies and snapdragons, and greens decorated the church for the afternoon service said by the Reverend S. D. Kinde.

Music was provided by Mrs. George Jerome, soloist, accompanied by Mrs. Peterson on the organ. The songs were "True Love", "Always", and "O Lord, Most Holy."

The bride, given in marriage by her father, is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Allan Peterson of 19850 Fry road. The bridegroom is the son of the W. C. Griers of Columbus, Georgia.

The bride wore a white lace over taffeta gown with long sleeves and an empire waist, and a fingertip veil. Her bouquet was made of white roses, daisies and stephanotis.

The bride's sister, Karen Peterson, was maid of honor. She was dressed in a full-length pink dotted gown, and carried pink and white daisies. Janet Funk, serving as bridesmaid, wore yellow dotted Swiss, and carried yellow and white daisies.

Sue Peterson, also the bride's sister, was a junior bridesmaid in turquoise dotted Swiss. Her bouquet was of turquoise daisies.

Best man was Edward Kirkland. Dudley Wells, Ron Bennett and James Peterson seated the guests.

A tangerine dress with white accessories was worn by the bride's mother. Mrs. Grier chose a pink dress and pink accessories.

A reception following the ceremony in the church's Fellowship Hall was attended by 135 guests from Caro, Homer, Litchfield, Mason, Detroit, Columbus, Georgia and Northville.

The new Mrs. Grier wore a two-piece green suit for a wedding trip to the southern states.

She is a graduate of Northville high school. Her husband graduated from Columbus high school in Georgia, and is now a student at Schoolcraft college.

They will make their home in Northville.

Drama Teacher Visits Krezels

Miss Florence Panattoni, speech and drama teacher at Northville high school, recently returned from a trip to the East. One of the highlights of her trip was a stay with the Kenneth Krezels, formerly of Northville, in East Haddam, Connecticut.

The Krezels are former students of Miss Panattoni. Kenneth Krezel now manages the Goodspeed Opera House on the Connecticut River. The old opera house, originally built in 1877, was restored after Mr. Krezel joined the company.

Yachts dock at the back of the theatre, and the occupants embark to dine at the Goodspeed Dining Room, also managed by Mr. Krezel, before attending a performance at the opera house.

Miss Panattoni saw a performance of "Beyond the Fringe" during her visit.

While in the East, she also toured the Cape from Provincetown to Buzzards' Bay. She visited Martha's Vineyard with its gingerbread houses, colorful fishing docks, and Indian reservations.

Baseball and work with the recreation department fill the summer hours of BOB BELLER. Actually, baseball is part of his job - he teaches the children how to play. He also helps out with the recreation's other activities.

At night he plays baseball too, as a member of the Northville Plumbers.

Bob is a sophomore political science major at Michigan State. He is a member of the campus unit of Pershing Rifles, a national honorary military society. The society's activities help prepare him for the career he plans to pursue in the army.

His parents are Mr. and Mrs. Howard Beller of 771 Horton.

School remains foremost in CAROL KLOPFENSTEIN'S summer pursuits. She recently finished two months of summer school at the University of Michigan. Now she is taking eight more credits toward her music major at Interlochen Music Camp.

She plays the French horn in the camp's orchestra, which will be presenting several concerts throughout the summer.

Carol, daughter of Doctor and Mrs.

Moris Klopfenstein of 20145 Beck road, is now a junior at Michigan.

LEONARD FRITZ was named to the dean's list for academic excellence spring term at the Saulte Ste. Marie branch of Michigan Technological University. He was one of 113 students on the list.

One Michigan State coed, DIANNE WEDEMEYER, is working as a waitress in the Terrace restaurant at Westland's Hudson Store.

School affairs keep her going too. As a president of the Asher Foundation's House on campus, this summer she will be interviewing and preparing things for the girls who want to live in the house this fall. The brand new house had 30 girls living there this year, but 50 are expected in September.

Dianne is majoring in humanities, which includes studies in English, art history and design. Over spring break she flew with her father to Boston for a short vacation. Her parents are the Herman Wedemeyers of 45189 Nine Mile road.

Jaycees Launch Clothing Drive

A clothing drive to provide clothing for needy persons in the area was launched this week by the Northville Jaycees in cooperation with the Southern Wayne County Economic Opportunity Group, Inc.

Robert Prom, school community agent for the opportunity group, said there is a "particular need at this time for children of elementary school age".

Type of clothing most desired, he said, are winter garments, dresses, sweaters, scarves, trousers, mittens, coats and hats. Clothing donated should be cleaned or washed if possible, he said.

Persons desiring to donate clothing are asked to call Prom at 349-2287 for pickup arrangements, or they may be taken to 967 Allen drive.

News Around Northville

Summer showers - A miscellaneous shower and luncheon was held in honor of bride-to-be Rita Bradford July 12 at the home of Mrs. LaGene Quay on 929 Novi street. The 22 guests came from Plymouth, Ypsilanti, Garden City, Livonia and Northville. The tables were set on pastel gingham cloths. Rita, daughter of Mrs. Violet Bradford, will marry Gregory Edford on August 12.

An Art Fair and Show-Off Time for the oil painting students of Marion Zoner will be held July 23 and 24 at her studio and home on 2385 Commerce road, Milford. The show will be held outside on the grounds weather permitting. The public is invited to attend from 10 a.m. to 4 p.m.

The Reverend Bruce Felker of Purdue university spent a few days last week with his mother, Mrs. Ancil Felker of Randolph street. He officiated at the funeral of his uncle, Lewis J. Felker of Detroit.

Mr. and Mrs. Harry G. Richardson, former Northville residents now residing in Mesa, Arizona, had as their guests this past week Mr. and Mrs. Harry Taylor of Plymouth. Mr. Taylor is exalted ruler of B.P.O.E. #1780 Plymouth Elks Lodge.

Mr. and Mrs. William O'Brien of 18831 Beck road were surprised on their twenty-fifth wedding anniversary last Saturday night with a dinner party given by their two daughters, Sherry and Maureen, and Maureen's husband, Bob. The dinner was held at the Colonial House in Taylor. Guests from Detroit and Northville attended.

The Northville Senior Citizens' club will meet for the last time this summer on Tuesday, July 26. A cooperative dinner will be held at 6:30, followed by a social hour in the community building. Regular fall meetings will begin September 13.

The William Moore family of 509 Langfield Drive attended a family reunion Sunday at the home of the Robert Ruttemans near Fowlerville. Mrs. Wilson Lane of South Lyon, Mrs. Moore's mother, accompanied them. Guests were from Howell, Waterford, Union Lake, Northville, Novi and Kalamazoo.

The latest news from the Elwood Mannings is that they have a new address: 1351 N. 2nd Street, Lot 18, North Drive, Belleville, Illinois. Mrs. Manning is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Guy Coykendall of 47150 Seven Mile road.

2 Students Attend Citizenship Seminar

Two Northville high school students, Sandra Balko and Jack Crawford, recently attended the Young Peoples' Citizenship seminar, sponsored by the Michigan farm bureau, at Camp Kett near Cadillac.

They were selected by Oakland county farm bureau following personal interviews after being nominated by their school.

Designed to help students become better informed citizens, aware of their duties and responsibilities as citizens, the citizenship seminar included a study program, films, and group discussion.

Sandra, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Balko of 22675 Napier road, will be a junior next year. Jack, a senior, is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Jack Crawford of 517 Baseline road.

Salem Celebrity Stars in Detroit

Barbara Lewis, a Northville area girl who has made the big time in the glamorous nightclub and recording music whirl, is on stage, in person right now in Detroit.

She and eight other popular headliners are featured in the "Swinging Time Review" at the Fox Theatre July 20 through July 26 - seven big days of "The Swingingest Go-Go Show Ever," according to the billing.

For two consecutive years Barbara has received Grammy Achievement plaques, given for recordings nominated for Recording of the Year. In 1964 it was for "Hello Stranger" and in 1965 it was for "Baby, I'm Yours."

She has recently been working in New York City with arrangers and choreographers on material for a new club and stage act.

The daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Lewis of 7500 West 6 Mile she first hit the limelight at a South Lyon Jaycee sponsored talent show here. Since then her rise has been phenomenal and has kept her busy. She had planned to appear here last year during Gala Days, but cancelled out.

Fans will want to be sure to catch her performance at the Fox. A Car-A-Van to the Saturday performance is planned.

With her on stage will be master of ceremonies Robin Seymour, Edwin Starr, Deon Jackson, The Capitols, Tidal Waves, J. J. Barnes, Tim Tam and the Turnons and the Earl Van Dyke orchestra.

Northville Boys Alaska Bound

Two Northville boys, Reese Lenheiser and Gregory Stratton, left Sunday as part of the three-week Alaska Cruise for Boys, a program headed by Edward J. Kuhn of Pontiac.

The group, made up of 26 boys aged 11-18, took a bus from Detroit to Windsor where they boarded a train for the westward voyage across Canada.

Tuesday the group stopped in Winnipeg briefly. Yesterday they arrived in Jasper where they will stay until Friday. While there they will visit the Columbia Icefield, largest body of ice south of the Arctic Circle, and ride a snowmobile over the Athabasca Glacier.

Friday they will be met in Vancouver, British Columbia by the local Optimist club and taken on a tour of the city and Stanley Park, a natural forest covering 1,000 acres.

After seeing Vancouver the youths will board the "Prince Edward" steamship for the trip to Ketchikan, Alaska.

Six days in Alaska will include visits to Juneau, the state capital, the Mendhall Glacier, the Alaska-Juneau Gold Mine (largest gold deposit in the world), the Lynn Canal, the gold rush town of Cracross, and the picturesque lumber and fishing center of Wrangell.

A cruise through the channels of the Inside Passage will feature views of numerous glaciers, mountains and forests. Rotary and Optimist clubs in several places will escort them through the cities and famous sites.

After leaving Alaska, they will cross back into the United States by the Puget Sound. Stops on the return trip are scheduled for Seattle, Portland, Oregon, Mt. Hood, the Rocky Mountains and Chicago.

A bus trip from Chicago to Detroit will conclude the trip on August 8.

Reese is the 11-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Dean Lenheiser of 45095 Mayo Court, Gregory, 15, is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Philip G. Stratton of 38039 Tralee Trail.

Book Review

New fiction books in the library include:

Watch the Wall, my suspense novel dealing with a young American girl's encounter with spies and smugglers in England during the Napoleonic Wars.

The Crystal World by J. A. Ballard, about curious natural transformations in an African forest which bring an English doctor to the continent.

I See You by Charlotte Armstrong, stories about childhood, marriage and family life.

The Hospital War by Charles H. Knickerbocker, the story of three young medical specialists who start their career as partners and end as rivals playing medical politics.

Madame Bovary by Gustave Flaubert, the classic novel edited with a substantially new translation by Paul DeMan. Includes background and essays in criticism.

Among the new non-fiction books are:

In Search of the Northoff-Hall story, a dual biography of the authors of "Mutiny on the Bounty".

Public Speaking Without Pain by Maurice Farley, a step-by-step guide to preparing and delivering effective speeches.

Bridge to the Sun by Gwen (Harold) Terasaki, the true story of the marriage of a Japanese diplomat and an American girl.

Handbook of Decorative Design and Ornament by Mary Jean Alexander, source book to over 1,000 motifs, designs and patterns from ancient times to the present.

The New Math Made Simple by Albert F. Kempf, the first eight years of mathematics as it is taught today.

Novi Township Eyes Proposal For Fire District

Representatives of the Novi fire department are studying a proposal by the township to construct an addition to the fire hall.

According to Supervisor Hadley Ba-chert, the firemen will recommend details for the addition at the next township board meeting.

Last week, fire representatives appeared before the board to suggest that the facility be large enough to accommodate one fire truck and training programs for firemen.

It was also suggested and taken under advisement by the board that a fire district be established in Novi. Under this arrangement, Novi voters would appropriate money specifically for the department, similar to the millage appropriation for the library.

In other business last week, the board accepted an agreement with Victor Muscat of Novi Vending company to operate a concession stand at the township park. Under the agreement, 25-percent of the gross sales are to be returned to the township for park operation.

Morrall's Clobbers Plumbers Twice

"We ran into Earl Morrall's." So said Coach Joe Kritch of the Northville Plumbers after his team dropped two decisions in a row to the Earl Morrall nine in recreation league play.

Named after the ex-Lion now New York Giant quarterback, Earl Morrall, the team is as explosive as its name-sake.

They beat the Plumbers, 5-1, and 5-0. Only a tie with Livonia Elks stopped the Plumbers from dropping deeper into limbo. Their record is 3-4-1.

In the first encounter, two errors and a tired pitcher played a key part in tumbling the Plumbers.

Earl Morrall's scored once in the first on an error and a triple, and four times in the bottom of the third on four singles, a walk and an error for all its runs.

All the runs were scored off ace Pitcher Steve Evans, who tired in the third frame and was relieved by Steve Kehrer. Kehrer held Earl Morrall's hitless for two innings and Bill Skelly did it for one, but it was too late. Two of the five runs were unearned.

Coach Kritch vindicated Evans, however, saying that Evans had worked hard all day at his regular job, then came out that evening to pitch. "He was tired and looked slower than normal," intoned Kritch.

Northville picked up its lone run in the secondinning to tie the game momentarily at one-all. John Jameson walked, moved to second on Dave Boerger's single and scored as Phil Andrews hit into a double play.

In Northville's 5-0 loss, Earl Morrall's Steve Bourassa, a left hander, struck out 18 and gave up only four singles to quell any Northville thoughts of an uprising.

Kehrer, also a left hander, pitched for Northville, and with the exception of the first three innings, he was in top form. In fact, he retired the last 14 batters in a row.

But Earl Morrall's had lashed out most of his nine hits and all of its runs in the first three frames.

Two runs were scored in the second on a lead-off triple, two singles and a sacrifice fly, and three in the third on four singles and a double.

Kritch moaned. At that, Andrews pitched creditably until he tired in the seventh. Kehrer came on to pitch to the last batter. With the count 3-0, two out and the bases loaded, Kehrer fired three straight fast balls past the last batter to strike him and preserve the tie.

Kritch reported that Beller, an outfielder, will sit the rest of the season out. Hit on the finger by a pitched ball in the third inning, Beller played the rest of the game, but post game X-rays revealed the finger was broken.

The Elks jumped to a 1-0 lead in the second inning, scoring on a single, a walk and another single.

Northville came back to tie the game in the third, but not before a heated dispute over a play at third base.

Asher singled. On Beller's sharp ground ball, the shortstop threw wild at second on an attempted force, the ball rolling into right field to permit Asher to score.

With Beller standing on third, Boerger grounded to the pitcher who fielded the ball, bluffed Beller, back to third, and threw Boerger out at first.

Beller took three steps toward the plate, drawing a wild throw from the first baseman. The umpire ruled that Beller had interfered with the third baseman and called Beller out.

Northville took a 2-1 lead in the top of the sixth as Boerger singled, stole second and scored on Turnbull's single to right. Livonia tied the game in its half of the inning on two walks and an error.

It was then that Livonia loaded the bases with two out in the bottom of the seventh and Kehrer sauntered in to save the tie by striking out the last man. Leading hitter for the Plumbers is Jameson, who has pounded out seven hits in 14 trips to the plate. He has walked six times.

Two home games are on tap for the Plumbers. They play Garden City at 6 p.m. today at Cass Benton park and Dearborn Heights at the same time next Tuesday.

AKRON BOUND—These lads, (l-r) John Bowen, Dale Orphan and Brad Cole, earned a free trip to Akron, Ohio, to see the All-American Soap Box Derby to be held August 6. The boys are sitting in the racers they built which carried them to victories in their heats of the Detroit Metropolitan Soap Box Derby, held last Saturday.

In Soap Box Derby 3 Northville Boys Cop 1st Heat Wins

Three Northville youngsters won a trip last week to the All-American Soap Box Derby to be held August 6 in Akron, Ohio.

John Bowen and Dale Orphan, both 13, and Brad Cole, 12, won their heats in the Detroit Metropolitan Soap Box Derby last Saturday.

They were among some 250 boys, age 11 through 15, who entered competition in the derby, held on a quarter-mile track at the corner of Mound and Eight Mile roads.

The trip marks the end of four months of work, beginning in March. The boys built their racers from scratch, using wood, nails, manufactured steering assemblies, paint and wheels. Cost of the car could not exceed $30, the boys said.

They worked diligently on their cars in the basements of their homes whenever they could find time. Besides going to school, Dale and Brad delivered newspapers to earn extra money, as did John, who worked part time at Northville laboratories doing odd jobs.

Two weeks before the race, the boys took their cars to the racing grounds to test them. Chances of winning first prize, a $500 bond, were slim, however, for as John pointed out, the fibre glass cars are best. "They're smoother and faster," he said.

"It takes many more hours to build a fibre glass racer," said John. "The winner last year put in 1,000 hours." With spare time at a premium, none of the Northville boys had the time to invest what a fibre glass model demands.

On the quarter-mile track, a top racer can cover the distance in 28 seconds, an estimated top speed of 28 miles per hour.

Winner this year was an 11-year old boy from Garden City. All three Northville boys were eliminated in their second heats.

Of the three, only John has ambitions of becoming a race car driver to earn a living. Already he has had two years of soap box experience. He also won a trip to Akron last year. All three boys admitted, "We did it for fun."

FULL LOAD—Buses have been packed lately as throngs of children get on board for swimming at Whitmore Lake. For one hot and humid week, more than 220 children per day sought relief from the heat. The trips are sponsored by the Northville recreation department.

BIGGEST TURTLE?—Undoubtedly three-year-old Peter Johnson is riding the biggest turtle of all and getting a kick out of it. But it didn't count in Tuesday's judging of the biggest turtle at the Northville Recreation department's annual event. The turtle is made of re-inforced concrete, and was purchased this spring for little tots like Peter. It's located in back of the Scout-Recreation building. Peter is the son of Mr. and Mrs. George Johnson, 645 Fieldbrook.

Turtles Snap Up Laurels for Kids

The turf was lush green under a blue cloudless sky Tuesday. A large enthusiastic crowd ringed the landscaped course, waiting for the race to begin.

Then — they're off! — rang out. Some 50 turtles lumbered toward the white circling finish line in the Northville Recreation department's annual turtle races held behind the scout-recreation building.

Conditions couldn't be better, and approximately 100 local youngsters came out in full force to participate in the judging and races. "It was an ideal day," Director Ken Conley said.

Children beamed as they were notified that their turtles had won a prize. Here's a complete list of winners: BEST DECORATED TURTLE—first, Mary Jo Marburger; second, Susan Olhanczat; third, Dave Horstfall.

MOST ORIGINALLY DECORATED TURTLE—first, Connie Mohr; second, Lois Horstfall; third, Carol Alspaur. LARGEST TURTLE—Peter Dulas. SMALLEST TURTLE—Burnard Bach.

LARGE TURTLE RACE—First Heat: first, Mark Van Ingen; second, Steve Mohr; third, William Erheart; Second Heat: first, David Horstfall; second, David Johnson; third, Lisa Van Ingen.

MEDIUM TURTLE RACE—First Heat: first, Kathy Deal; second, Sherry Erheart; third, Lisa Van Ingen; Second Heat: first, Glenn Bowen; second, Jo Corcoran; third, Judy Mullen.

SMALLEST TURTLE RACE—First Heat: first, David Bowen; second, Sam Puckett; third, Gary Puckett; Second Heat: first, Kathy Herald; second, Carol Eberhart; third, Taryn Cushing.

UNLIMITED RACE—First Heat: first, David Horstfall; second, Connie Mohr; third, Tim McDonough; Second Heat: first, Jo Corcoran; second, Mary Egbert; third, Laura Bowen.

Record Pay-Off

"Sulky Boy" left them smiling last Wednesday night (July 13) at Northville Downs.

The seven-year-old trotter won a conditioned trot to set a record for the biggest pay-off ever at a Michigan harness racing parimutuel meet. At odds of 113-1, Sulky Boy paid $229.60 for a two-dollar win ticket. The pay-off for second and third was $39 and $10.60.

Three bettors held $5 win tickets, while there were 45 $2 ticket holders and 10 with $6 combination tickets.

The previous high pay-off was $177.80 on Best Effort on June 12, 1952, also at Northville.

Set Zoo Trip

The third and final trip to the Detroit Zoo will be taken next Tuesday morning.

Children intending to go must be at the Community building or Amerman school at 9 a.m. Reservations for the trip, limited to 55 people, may be made by calling FI 9-0203 between 8 a.m. and 1 p.m.

The Senior Citizens' potluck supper will be held 6:30 p.m. Tuesday at the Community building.

Plumbers Plunge To 3rd in Class 'E'

Novi's General Filters pushed a run across in the fifth inning to defeat the Northville Plumbers, 4-3, in a battle for second place in the Class E recreation baseball league.

Fisher Shoes continued its winning ways by dumping DiPonio, 9-1, to remain undefeated on top of the league.

Lee Snow led Novi to the win by limiting the Plumbers to five hits and walking four, while hitting a triple and single. Joe Donner also tripled for Novi.

T. Bulmon and Brian Myers led the Northville attack with doubles. Barry Deal, Charles Fox and Ron Hubbard all garnered singles in the loss.

Led by the hitting of Pat Cayley and the pitching of Craig McDermald, the Spagy T-Birds came to life by beating two opponents to take over fifth place in the standings.

Cayley slammed a home run in Spagy's 10-5 victory over lowly WCTS, and hit a double and two singles in a 14-1 triumph over Plymouth.

MacDermald hurled both wins, limiting WCTS to six hits but walking 13. He singled twice in the game.

MacDermald set Plymouth down without a hit Monday, but Plymouth scored a run on an error. Randy Simpson and Jerry Asher teamed up with Cayley to lead the attack. Both had a double and single.

Jeff Ritter, Bloom's ace hurler, matched MacDermald in pitching a no-hitter and giving up one run. Bloom's beat WCTS Monday, 14-1.

Bill's Market Hands Litho 1st Defeat, 10-8

Bill's Market pinned the first defeat of the year on University Litho, but Litho retained a tight hold on first place. Score was 10-8.

Bunched behind Litho in challenging position are the Ely Oilers and Bill's, both with 6-3 marks, and the Casterline Braves, 5-3-1, and DiPonio, 5-3.

Last week's battle between the Oilers and Braves was a classic as the Oilers came up with two big runs in the seventh inning to win, 3-2.

Kenny Lach gained credit for the victory. Bernie Bach, who pitched for the Braves, was tabbed with the loss. He led the Braves' attack with two singles. Both pitchers gave up only three hits. But walks made the difference as Bach walked seven.

In another all-Northville fray, the Orioles bounced back to whip the Orioles, 10-4.

Steve Utley pitched the win, giving up four hits, all singles.

Bach once again led the attack with a triple and two singles. Ric LaRue, Bart Taylor, Utley, Jeff Moon and Jim Hostetler all had singles.

The Orioles played WCTS to a 10-10 tie when the Orioles scored just one run after a nine-run first inning explosion.

In other games, DiPonio beat the Oilers, 4-1; Bill's Market slaughtered the Plymouth Jaycees, 25-2; and the Jaycees clipped DiPonio, 6-3.

Beemer Heads Grid Ticket Sale

Orville Beemer, chapter president of the Northville Jaycees, was appointed this week as local ticket chairman of the first annual Michigan Football Classic.

Scheduled for Thursday, August 11, at Tiger Stadium, the classic will feature the Detroit Lions and St. Louis Cardinals who will square off at 8 p.m.

Co-sponsors of the game will be the Michigan Jaycees and the Michigan Jaycee Foundation. Funds from the classic will be used to finance Jaycee community development programs throughout the state.

For further information on how to obtain tickets for the Jaycee Classic, contact Beemer at 349-4095.

WCTS scored its only run in the sixth inning on two walks, a wild pitch and an error.

A 15 year old, Taylor struck out 11. Twice he had four strike outs in a row, and in the fourth inning, Taylor struck out the side on only 10 pitches.

Bloom's Craig Turnbull was victimized by his own wildness as DiPonio beat Bloom's, 4-1. Turnbull gave up just two hits.

University Litho beat Plymouth, 6-1.

Jayhawks Clinch Novi Pennant Title

The Jayhawks clinched the Novi Little League pennant this week by beating Smith, 5-4, to run its record to 11-1.

But there were plenty of sparks flying in the battle for second place, most of them thrown off by Smith's three victories that enabled it to move into second place.

Smith's Jim Assemany gained credit for his team's 4-2 win over Party Store. Gary Colton and Jim Wilenius, both with doubles, paced Smith's eight-hit attack. Mark Lytle, Gary Collins and Steve Bosak collected doubles off the pitches of Assemany.

It remained for Wilenius, however, to hurl the first shutout of the year in little league play in Novi. He blanked Paragon on two hits. Wilenius bagged the only extra base hit of the game, a double.

Tom Ritter led Smith to victory over Rexall, giving up only five hits, and leading the attack with a triple and double. Assemany backed him up with a triple.

Joe Barnes and Jim Christensen doubled for losing Rexall.

The brothers Wagner, Tom and Jim, teamed up to lead the Jayhawks to the win over Smith. Pitcher Tom struck out 17 batters and gave up only three hits, while Jim banged a triple and double. Tom also doubled, as did teammates Les Branch and John Pantalone. Dale Smith led the Smith attack with two doubles.

Top batters in the league which is now in the process of playing make-up games are: Tom Van Wagner (.743), Gary Colton (.568), Les Branch (.567), Jim Van Wagner (.558), Steve Bosak (.550), Dale Smith (.520), Joe Barnes, Joe Campbell and Mike Penrod (.500).

Novi All Stars

If the Novi Little League All-stars won their scheduled clash yesterday in the second round of the district tournament, they will play today at either the Bond School or Eton Park diamonds in the semi-finals.

The district championship game is scheduled to be played Saturday at 2:30 p.m. at Bond School, North Farmington. The field is located at the corner of Orchard Lake and 13 Mile roads.

Make-up games will be played tomorrow.

In City 18-Inch Deep Pools Must Have Fences

An amendment to the swimming pool ordinance was adopted by the city council Monday night reminding the public that "outdoor swimming pools may endanger the public health and safety unless carefully regulated and supervised".

At the urging of a citizen attending the public hearing, G. A. Wanamaker, Jr., of 435 Welch road, the council made the amendment apply to pools with water levels of 18-inches or more, rather than 24-inches as first proposed.

Wanamaker told the council that "you're dealing with the life of children" and that pools 15-24 inches deep without fences and unattended are dangerous.

The council noted that its intention was to provide protection, but not rule out the shallow, plastic-type wading pools. Under the new amendment pools with 18 inches of water must meet all the requirements of the swimming pool ordinance, which calls for protective fences, filtering systems, etc.

In other business the council postponed granting permission for the proposed new junior high school to hook into existing sewer lines northeast of its site. Originally, the school plan called for connection to a sewer to be installed by Thompson-Brown company when it builds its Taft-Eight Mile road development of homes and apartments. That project has been delayed, however, and it is not known if sewers will be installed before planned opening of the school, September, 1967.

The city is now completing construction of an arm of the sewer under Randolph street that was intended to serve the area. It is being plugged at Randolph and Eight Mile, however, until the developers are prepared to extend the line.

Councilmembers were reluctant to give permission to the school to use existing lines. City Engineer Harold Penn said he would "rather not expand use of the lines for the school, but that they would be adequate temporarily".

A lone bid to install a sidewalk on North Center street north of the Amerman school was approved, Detroit water rates okayed and two members of the parking authority, Charles Altman, Jr., and Richard Lyon, reappointed.

The new water rates will not be applied until Detroit water is obtained.

Novi to Hear Requests For Zoning Changes Monday

A public hearing to consider the zoning change request of Harry Slatkin Builders, Inc. of Detroit will be held at the Novi village hall Monday evening. Slatkin is asking for rezoning of 108 acres of property, located on both sides of Center street, between the Northville city limits and Nine Mile road, from agricultural to R-1A (one family dwellings).

Hunt to rezone 45 acres, which was tabled at an earlier hearing, will come up for discussion again.

Also, planners and the council will hear comments by a property owner, adjacent to the proposed Eight Mile road apartment complex, who was not notified in writing of the last hearing at which time the zoning ordinance was changed to permit the apartments.

Another request, that of Mildred

Carol Flynn Named To Record Staff

Mrs. Christopher (Carol) Flynn of Northville has been named to the advertising department of The Northville Record and The South Lyon Herald.

In her new position Mrs. Flynn will assist Advertising Manager John Harington in soliciting advertising from businesses in both communities. Mother of three children, Mrs. Flynn formerly was employed by the Bell Telephone company. Her husband is a former Northville policeman, now with the Berkley police department.

They and their three daughters, Debbie, Christi, and Kellie, live at 530 West Main street, Northville.

above and below ground and from there fed into existing lines throughout the city.

Even after construction of the line to the tanks has been completed, he says, it may take a couple more weeks to get all of the regulating valves working properly. Should difficulties arise, however, the present wells can be pressed into service, he emphasizes.

The 24-day heat wave that Hartner says didn't noticeably affect the water table did tax the average Northville resident. During the period, the mercury topped the 90-degree mark no less than 10 times, hitting a sizzling 98 on July 3. Temperatures were above normal for 18 of those 24 days, not once sinking below a high of 81.

According to Leland Vandecar, meteorologist at the United States weather bureau at Willow Run, if it hadn't been for a few cool nights, Northville and other area communities would have been oven hot.

Two record temperatures were set. The July 3 figure equalled the old record high set in 1949. And the July 10 temperature - 92 - broke the previous high of 91 set in 1948.

This year's hot spell makes last year's look like a piker. Mercury was above normal only five out of the 24 days, and only twice rose above 90, both times in June. High reading last year for the first 15 days of July was 88 on July 13.

Hot as it has been, rainfall for the first 15 days of July - 4.73 inches - has exceeded the normal of 2.68 inches. Most of it, 2.67 inches, fell during squalls last week Tuesday. Only .09 inches of rain fell during a similar July period last year.

The weatherman finally heard and heeded groans of sweltering thousands and brought cooler temperatures. High last Thursday was a soothing 76, the low a relatively frigid 55, and the succeeding days through Tuesday continued cool.

Steve Juday Works at Dow

Steve Juday, ex-MSU quarterback from Northville, is working in the summer college program of the Dow Chemical Company in Midland.

He is one of 116 college students and seven professors assigned to jobs in the research, manufacturing, business or marketing departments.

The program includes a series of orientation meetings covering major areas of the company's operations, tours of research, production and technical service facilities, and recreation activities in addition to work assignments.

Juday is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Richard H. Juday of 304 Lake street. He attends Michigan State university.

Knifer Suspect Bond Set High

Bond was set at $75,000 on a Northville man who previously jumped bond apparently to avoid prosecution on a charge of assault with intent to do great bodily harm less than murder.

Truman Howard, formerly of 19265 Gerald Avenue, will face examination Monday in Northville Municipal court.

He was returned to Northville last Monday from Eugene, Oregon, where he was apprehended and held for local police. Howard reportedly attacked two boys with a knife in the barn area at Northville Downs.

The Northville Record
And The Novi News

Northville, Novi, Wixom

Their Spirit of Cooperation Triples Fire-Fighting Strength

Not all of the cooperative spirit that spurred men in frontier days to walk 20 miles to harvest a neighbor's crop has died. It survives in the form of three suburban communities: Northville, Novi and Wixom.

Adjacent and yet different in many ways, the three communities have similar fire departments made up of volunteers, men who virtually drop everything wherever they may be to respond to a fire call.

"We're an instant fire department," says Northville Fire Chief But Harner, who also doubles as head of the city's department of public works. That holds true for Novi and Wixom, too.

Within a maximum of five minutes after a call has been received, the fire trucks are on the road. The speed with which the men react is not only a product of vigilance. It comes from knowing what to do, and that's the result of many hours of schooling and training and experience.

Each of the men who heads the various fire departments comes highly qualified. Northville's Harner, Novi's Fred Loynes and Wixom's Bob Potter are men not easily come by.

Harner, a veteran fire fighter with 14 years experience, assumed the fire chief's duties two years ago. A resident of Northville for 40 years, he has attended the University of Michigan fire school, participated in many seminars and has had many hours of experience going through practices and procedures.

His fire fighting days began in 1936 with the Northville department. "At that time," says Harner, "we had an old 1930 Arens-Fox with a pumper that held 750 gallons of water, and a Model A grass fire rig. There were 14 in the department."

Loynes, who first joined the Novi department in 1942 when Novi was only a township, has been Novi's fire chief for eight years. Since its beginning in 1928, the department has known only three chiefs: Walter Tuck for a quarter-century, Glenn Salow and now Loynes.

Loynes has attended four fire schools at the universities in Lansing and Ann Arbor, two 10-night courses and a course at Oakland university. Beginning with the Oakley Park fire department in 1957, Potter retained his position, but as a lieutenant. That part of Wixom north of Pontiac Trail was serviced by Commerce, south of Pontiac Trail by the Novi department.

With the establishment of the Wixom force in 1961, Potter became its fire chief, but he did not relinquish his post on the Commerce department until this year. In addition, because of Potter's interest in fire fighting, he was also a member of the Walled Lake department.

Besides 11 years of experience, Potter, like Harner and Loynes, has had many hours of instruction. He has attended two 18-hour courses given by the University of Michigan and participates regularly in fire schools.

The fire chiefs are on the payroll. Loynes getting $400 per year, Potter $500 and Harner $1,500. Wixom pays its firemen $3 for the first hour and $2.50 per hour thereafter, whereas Northville and Novi pay $3 for the first hour and $2 for any extra hours.

There are 22 volunteers on the Northville squad, although Harner admits that through growing demands a bigger force of 30 volunteers should be available. All of these men are truck drivers familiar with the water system and location of the hydrants so necessary for efficiency, says Harner.

Even more important is the fact that they are highly qualified, a significant sacrifice in time because each man must have 60 hours of training and many hours of schooling in fire fighting techniques and attend at least a meeting a month. Realizing the fireman's important role, the city allocated more money this year to send more men to school to learn better methods.

Northville has an arrangement making it unique. Five members each of the police department and DPW double as firemen, including Police Sergeant Louis Westphal who is the assistant chief. It's the close proximity of these men that makes for "an instant force," ready to respond quickly to calls as it did on 187 occasions last year.

Captain of the Northville department is Jim Allen, who also serves as secretary and treasurer.

Loynes and his 24 volunteers are actually under the supervision of Police Chief Lee BeCote, the safety director, who often is the first to get the trucks out for immediate use of the firemen. He also attends most fires to give assistance — approximately all of last year's 120.

Since Loynes, who works as a building maintenance man at Kensington park, is not always immediately available during working hours, there must be and is a succession of supervisory personnel available, besides BeCote, who can take over. There's Assistant Chief Robert Skellenger, Captain Duane Bell, Lieutenant Bob Loynes (son of the chief), Lieutenant and Secretary Willard Sprenger and Sergeant Dennis Ireland.

Although Wixom is the smallest department — 17 volunteers — it is second to none in efficiency. Since its inception, not one house has burned down, said Potter, and the department has more than paid for itself in the fires it has extinguished at the Ford Wixom plant alone.

Wixom, too, has a full force of qualified drivers. Everyone undergoes rigorous training which includes familiarization with street addresses, hours of practice, and schooling in first aid. During the summer, meetings are held once a month and during the winter twice a month.

Potter, who works at the Wixom Ford plant, has a stable of assistants who can take over in his absence. Whenever Potter is working and gets a call, he is immediately free to leave his job to get to the scene of the fire first. In his infrequent delays, Assistant Chief George Spence takes over, or Captain George Lasch or Lieutenant Jack Potter.

There are five fire phones, manned by wives in the men's absence, to ensure the message gets through immediately. Approximately 75 calls were relayed last year. Northville and Novi have fire whistles.

Sizes of the forces and the amount of equipment available varies almost in direct proportion to the size of the community.

With five pieces of equipment carrying 5,400 gallons of water, Northville is adequately equipped. In addition, Northville has converted a small truck purchased from the Wayne county civilian defense corp into an equipment carrier. In it, each man's gear is neatly packed away for the next fire, and smaller equipment, wrecking bars, lights, generators, fire extinguishers, gas masks, shovels and ladders, are stored.

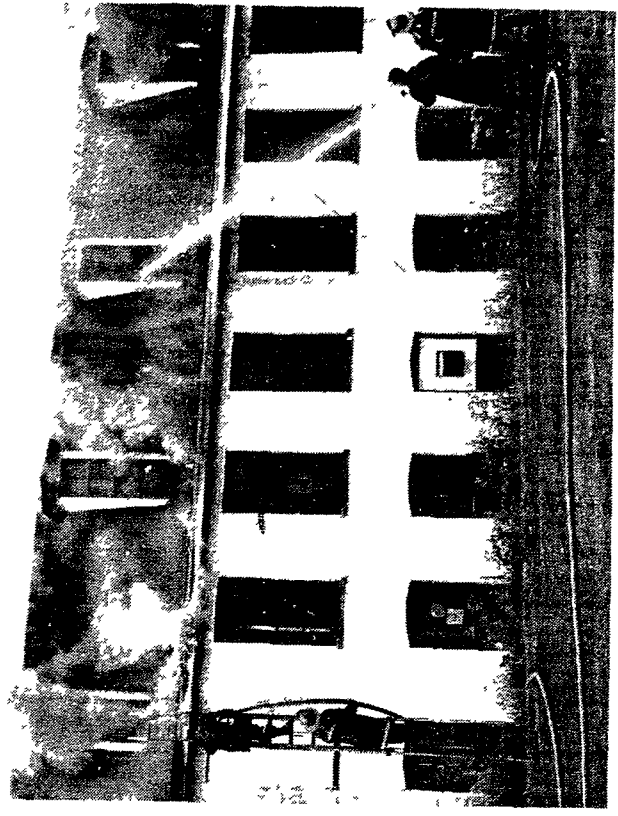

Novi has two pumpers with a total capacity of 1,100 gallons and a 1,000 gallon tanker, and 4,000 feet of hose. Wixom has one truck with a 750 gallon pumper and 2,800 feet of line.

What happens if a fire broke out too big for any one of the departments to handle? A call from Northville, for instance, would bring Novi and Wixom.

As Novi's Loynes put it: "It wouldn't take much to get a $1 million of equipment here to fight a fire. There's complete cooperation between the various fire departments."

Novi, Northville and Wixom are all members of the Tri-County Mutual Aid association, an organization of firemen who saw a need for coordinating action in fighting fires.

As Loynes pointed out, the other day there was a report that a barn fire had flared up near Napier and Eight Mile roads. Novi responded but found out the fire was in Northville. Nevertheless, Novi helped extinguish the fire. This is the singular quality of the fireman. He's ready to assist anybody or any department in an emergency. "It's one way of helping people," said Wixom's Potter.

THEY STAND GUARD — They're only volunteers, but the firemen who guard Northville, Novi and Wixom are professionals in the tough business of fighting fires in their respective communities.

FAMILIES MOVE IN—Three families moved into new homes in Northville's newest subdivision this past week, Northville Heights

No. 2. All of the homes are expected to be completed and ready for occupancy before the end of the year.

First Families Occupy New Subdivision Homes

The first three families moved into Northville's newest subdivision, Northville Heights No. 2, this past week.

They are Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Buss of Dearborn Heights, Mr. and Mrs. William McDonald of Garden City, and Mr. and Mrs. James Lauer of Livonia.

The subdivision is located west of Center street, several blocks north of Eight Mile road.

According to the developer, David Pink of Dearborn Heights, all but four of the 69 new homes in the subdivision have been sold. Approximately 60-percent of them have reached the roughed-in stage, with all basements in but one.

The developer expects 10 to 12 more families to move into their homes by the end of July.

Target date for completion of all homes is December 1.

In addition to these homes, Pink has built or is building five new homes in the older, Northville Heights subdivision. Two of these homes on Debra Lane and Ely Drive have been completed.

Streets in the new subdivision are Sherri Lane, Jeffrey Drive, Ely Drive North, Hillridge Drive and Larry Drive.

The two-story colonial and one-story ranch homes range in price from $18,500 to $29,500. All of three or more bedrooms, basements, and brick and aluminum siding. Nearly all of the colonials have family rooms and many have fireplaces.

Schoolcraft College Offers 'Upgrading' Classes

Residents of Schoolcraft college district who wish to continue their education or upgrade their occupational skills may obtain application materials now, Fred Stefanski, director of the evening college, announced this week.

Non-residents may enroll only after they have completed all parts of the matriculation procedure.

Resident tuition is $8 per semester hour, plus 50-cents per semester hour student service fee. The total non-resident tuition and fee is $12.50 per semester hour.

All students entering the college for the first time must pay a $10 non-refundable application fee in addition to the tuition and student service fee.

Evening college students wishing to accumulate college credit must complete all parts of the application and take the counseling tests. Applications may be obtained at the admissions office, and arrangements for taking the tests may be made upon picking up the applications.

Birthday Party Fetes Whitehall

An open house party was held at the Novi branch of White Hall Convalescent Home, Inc., 43455 West 10 Mile road, recently as the firm celebrated its 15th anniversary.

Refreshments, musical entertainment and pony rides were provided guests of patients and members of the public. A circus tent was erected on the front lawn for the party.

A similar party was planned at the Farmington branch, 40875 Grand River.

Cool Weather's Only Cure

'Prickly Heat' Strikes Millions

If you're one of the millions of persons afflicted by heat rash, you know the discomfort — as well as the embarrassment — it can cause.

Heat rash, commonly known as prickly heat, causes patches of unsightly white or red lesions on the inside of the arms, back of the legs, chest, back and waistline. Thus, it is almost impossible to hide the rash while swimming or sunbathing. Even more distressing is the terrible itching which tempts scratching that invites secondary infection.

The real culprit behind heat rash is ordinary sweat, which pours into the outer layer of the skin but fails to reach the surface. As a result, the ducts of the sweat glands become clogged and irritated. If a high proportion of the ducts become blocked in this fashion, regulation of body temperature can be severely compromised due to impaired sweating.

The most likely candidates for heat rash are infants, obese individuals and persons with sensitive skins or with chronic skin conditions such as allergic rash.

As one physician put it, the only cure for heat rash is the onset of cool weather. However, control is possible even in scorching heat waves. Preventive measures include light, airy clothing and abstention from alcoholic drinks. Baths of colloidal oatmeal or starch also have a beneficial, soothing effect. Drying lotions, such as calamine, plus copious dusting of the affected areas with talc or cornstarch also is helpful. If overweight is a complication, loss of weight can do more good than all of the other measures combined.

When heat rash becomes severe enough to require a doctor's attention, he may prescribe water-soluble ointments to temporarily unplug the sweat glands or even internal medications which reduce sweat output.

Novi Girl Bitten By Skunk

Rare, unusual, were the words used to describe a nine year old Novi girl's encounter with a skunk last Thursday.

Now under treatment for rabies, Diane K. Smith was bitten on the index finger by a skunk while she played with her pet kitten in the family yard at 26950 Taft road.

Already Diane has received six rabies shots, and before treatment is through, she'll probably receive eight more, reported her mother, Mrs. Lawrence Smith.

A spokesman for the Oakland County Department of Animal Welfare division said that "it's rare" when a skunk attacks a human, an indication that something is definitely wrong with the animal. "The skunk is still at large," he said, "but we can't take any chances."

The incident happened at 8:15 Thursday night. Diane was in the driveway watching her pet cat, "Sparkplug", play. "Suddenly," said Mrs. Smith, "there it (the skunk) was. It bit her twice. Strangely, he left hair in the bite." The skunk had apparently darted from nearby bushes.

Diane came in screaming bloody murder," continued Mrs. Smith. "She was hysterical." I could tell by the smell it was serious, so I immediately called the doctor. He gave her a tetanus booster."

The next day Mrs. Smith took an all-important trip to the Oakland County Health department to pick up a supply of seven rabies shots, all that was available at the time.

Diane received her first shot last Friday, and tomorrow, after the seventh shot, the doctor will determine whether Diane needs the second series of seven, Mrs. Smith said.

No longer are the shots excruciatingly painful, since a new serum has been developed. Previously, it was mandatory to give 14 shots by an injection of a needle into the stomach.

"She's running around," said Mrs. Smith, speaking of her daughter after she had received her first shot. "She received the injection in the leg, but there's no apparent discomfort."

Mrs. Lois Tutor of the animal welfare division reported that rare as skunk bites may be, it is even rarer to find rabid dogs in Oakland county. "There hasn't been a dog biting incident in the past 10 years," she said. Incidents with cats are few but more frequent than with dogs, she pointed out.

by Mrs. H. D. Henderson
FI 9-2428

Mr. Arthur Loynes of Taft road and Mrs. Grace Wiede of Blanchard were married on Saturday, July 9, at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Keith Wiede in Millbrook. Mr. Loynes, who has lived in Novi for many years, and Mrs. Wiede will make their home in Blanchard.

Mr. and Mrs. Fred Loynes spent last weekend at their cottage at Gray Lake near Clare. They were among the guests who attended the wedding of Mr. Loynes' father and Mrs. Wiede.

Arkansas, were visitors at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Russell Race this past Saturday.

Mrs. Loraine Gray and daughter, Deanna of La Mirada, California, are the guests of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Floyd Darling, for a month's time. On Sunday a family reunion was held at the home of Mrs. Darling's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Ed Behrendt.

Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Cook returned last Tuesday from a 10 day rally of the W.B.C.C. Club at Cadillac.

Kansas and Mrs. Harry Ackley of Walled Lake and Mrs. Loren Leavenworth.

Mrs. Betty Cotter spent this past weekend at the country home cottage of her nephew E. D. Cotter near Leonard.

Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence Horsfall and Mr. and Mrs. Ed Putnam are having a few days of vacation at the Putnam cottage near Lewiston.

Larson, FI 9-0651.

Several men have volunteered to do repair work around the church and in the parking area.

Morning worship: 9 a.m.; church school, 10:15 a.m. and Wesley choir practice 11:30.

Mr. and Mrs. Tait, and plans included attending the outdoor church service at Grand Blanc, also entertaining the young people from the Miranthe Baptist church and playing Bible baseball another Sunday evening. They also decided to go on their canoe trip to Chippewa Landing in the vicinity of the Au Sable River.

The junior high people went bowling last Friday evening with their sponsors, Mr. and Mrs. Ron Shaw, Mr. and Mrs. Leo Jude, and Mr. and Mrs. Ed Presnell. The young people returned to the church for a buffet lunch, devotions and singing.

Plans were presented at the quarterly business meeting for the new parsonage on Taft road by the building committee. Those working on this committee are Ed Presnell, Ray Warren, Ron Ozark, Lawrence Smith. Additions to the floor plans include making usable the basement of the parsonage for additional classrooms until such time as the new Christian education wing is completed.

Mr. and Mrs. Martin Seiman of Southfield are the parents of son, Daniel Craig, born July 7 at Sinai Hospital. The maternal grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. Fred Loynes of Novi.

Mrs. Arthur LaValley and daughters, Judy and June of Miami, Florida are visiting their relatives, Mr. and Mrs. Ronald Miller of Seeley road for a few weeks this summer. Mr. Arthur LaValley and son, John will be arriving some time soon.

The Harold Millers, William Millers and Stanley Orzechowski have been spending their weekends this summer at the Harold Miller farm near Rose City. Their new cottage is nearly completed.

Paul and Keith Cook, sons of the Dale Cooks of Milford are spending this week with their grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Cook, while their parents are on vacation.

Mrs. Daisy Roberts of Detroit attended the Novi school reunion and spent the weekend with Mrs. Hattie Garlick. Mrs. Garlick went back to Detroit with Mrs. Roberts and they were both entertained for several days by Mrs. Roberts' daughter and her husband, Mr. and Mrs. James Thomson.

Mr. and Mrs. Jack Crawford, Mr. and Mrs. Hugh Crawford and Mrs. Comer were in Northern Michigan this past weekend.

Seaman 2nd class, Michael Deal, who has been visiting his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Ollie Deal on Wixom road while on leave, returned to Navy service July 11 and is now on his way to Vietnam. His unit was the first of four units to combine in the new C.B. Unit. Michael has served two years in the Navy and will be in the service two more years.

Mrs. Harold Henderson was the Sunday dinner guest of Mrs. Marie LaFond.

FIRST BAPTIST CHURCH

Sunday evening July 24 will be young peoples night when the evening service will be presented by the young people of the Marantha church of Lansing. The message for the evening will be presented by John Dixon, director of Christian education and youth work. The song session will be led by Tom Rainberger.

Vacation Bible school opened this week with 122 in attendance on the first day. The theme is "The Way Through the Wilderness." Teachers and helpers for this week include Mrs. Donna Engle, Mrs. Joan Willis, Mrs. Sharon Green, Mrs. Evan McClure, Mrs. Janet Place, Mrs. Nancy Roberts, Mrs. Sylvia Ride-nour, Mrs. Jackie Wilenius, Mrs. Ar-butus Bellefeville, Mrs. Catherine Burton and Mrs. Gladys Calleja. Refreshments have been furnished by the church family.

The senior young people had a planning meeting with their new sponsors,

All church families are encouraged to remember the date June 30 when the annual Sunday school picnic will be held. As in other years, plans are being made for games for all ages, potluck picnic dinner for the whole family, and a baseball game.

Teachers and workers are asked to make their reservations now for the August 5 Bob Lo Island retreat, sponsored by the Michigan Sunday School association. There will be six work shops and a main speaker, M.S.S.A. will again furnish free coffee plus pop. A supervised picnic for all children, ages 5-12 is planned. The boat leaves at 10:00 a.m.

NOVI REBEKAHS

The Past Noble Grands will not meet on Thursday, July 21, as was planned. Next regular lodge will be held in September.

The Novi Rebekahs are sending Susan and Diane, grandchildren of Nellie Rackov to camp near Baldwin for a week's vacation.

The following Rebekahs visited the Rebekah and L.O.O.F. home in Jackson last Tuesday: Mary Ann Atkinson, Rowana Salow, Frances Curtes, Frances Denton, Lulu Whittington, Jean Monroe, Hazel Balay, Lillian Bird and Flossie Eno.

A family reunion was held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd Johnson on Winston street in Detroit for approximately 60 friends and relatives to celebrate the 85th birthday of Mrs. William Kresin, mother of Mrs. Gerald Race of Dixon road.

Former residents of Dixon road, Mr. and Mrs. Harry Fromson of Fayette, Rev. and Mrs. Dean Parker of Trenton were Sunday visitors at the home of the latter's mother, Mrs. Hattie Garlick.

Vacation church school is scheduled for August 8-12. Help is needed. Anyone willing to work please call Mrs.

Justice Court

A Walled Lake man was fined $25 and placed on six months probation for brandishing a pistol in the Saratoga Farms restaurant.

Found guilty by Novi Village Judge Robert K. Anderson was Joseph Krumm, 26, of Walled Lake, when he was brought into court last Thursday.

According to police, Krumm pulled out a BB pistol in the restaurant and "scared the waitresses with it." Police picked him up and booked him shortly after getting the report at 5:55 on July 7.

There were also a rash of motorists brought to trial in Novi last week.

Karl Schneider, 21, of Walled Lake paid $50 in fines assessed by Justice Emery Jacques Thursday. Schneider was charged with reckless driving June 26.

Police reported that he drove 65 in a 40 mile an hour zone, and crossed the center line several times as he sped north on Novi road from Grand River to South Lake drive.

Richard G. Williams, 25, of Brighton was ticketed June 26 for speeding 75 in a 55-mile-per-hour zone. He paid a $15 fine and $10 costs for exceeding the speed limit as he drove south on Novi road from Novi road to Beck road.

John Ledford, 24, cited for speeding 75 on a strip of Grand River zoned 55 miles per hour, was fined $20 by Jacques Thursday. A resident of Brighton, Ledford was apprehended July 2 at 1:50 a.m.

Nordwood Caswell, 18, of Milford was fined $35 for driving under the influence of liquor on June 27. Police reported that they observed Caswell driving east on Grand River, hitting the shoulder twice, and almost hitting the police car that was parked alongside the road.

Appearing before Jacques on Thursday, Carl Beir, 27, of 1807 East Lake drive, Novi, was cited for driving a defective vehicle on July 8 and for having no operator's license in his possession.

He paid $10 on each count. Beir was picked up by police at 9:35 p.m. they reported, as he drove south on Novi road near 12 Mile road.

Justice Anderson fined Robert Dunn, 18, of Middlesboro, Kentucky, $20 on two counts. Dunn was cited for driving east on Grand River with a defective exhaust, and having no Michigan operator's license in his possession. Incident occurred at 7 a.m. on June 28.

In July 12 appearances before Anderson, two speedsters, Jerald Willette and James Piper, were fined $31 and $25, respectively.

Willette, 24, a Detroit resident, was cited for driving 100 miles per hour in a 70-mile-per-hour zone. Violation occurred June 25 as Willette drove east on the expressway between Novi and Haggerty roads.

Piper, 18, also of Detroit, was stopped at 7 a.m. on the Fourth of July for speeding 65 in a 40 zone as he drove west on Grand River.

A Novi man, Edmund Delinski, 62, of 126 Penhill, was fined $50 for drunk and disorderly behavior when brought before Anderson last Thursday. Police reported that Delinski was "raising havoc in his neighborhood" at 11:25 p.m. on July 2.

Also nabbed on a drunk and disorderly charge and brought before Anderson on July 11, Ralph Kidd of South Lyon paid $20. He staggered into Mrs. Hadley Martin's yard on West Lake drive, causing a disturbance, police said. The incident occurred at 9:30 p.m. on July 9.

Robert Eads, 23, of Detroit was fined $20 by Justice Anderson on July 9 for drinking in a parked car near Novi road and 12 Mile road intersection. He was ticketed at 12:56 p.m. on June 25.

NEW COLLEGE—Despite labor difficulties, construction of the new Oakland Ridge college off I-696, between Novi and Farmington, is just three-weeks behind schedule, Vice-President James W. Hobson reports. The superstructure of one of the seven initial "learning laboratories" is up and foundations for the remaining buildings are in. Located on 157 acres, the college—slated for opening in the fall of 1967—will serve all of the southwestern part of Oakland county, except Northville, which is part of the Schoolcraft college district.

Never Underestimate
The Power of a Woman

The automobile manufacturers have long recognized that the "little woman" looms pretty big when it comes to deciding on the family automobile and most modern body styles and interiors are aimed at satisfying her taste.

The surveyors got some shocks recently though when they brought their marketing data up to date with a poll of female drivers. First off, the gals told them they didn't like their advertising—too many pictures of pretty girls and too few ads explaining the advantages of the car—which makes some sense.

A real surprise was that most preferred FEWER style changes, higher seats, more built-in safety, doing away with the drive shaft hump, bigger glove boxes and—I knew there must be a feminine angle here somewhere—more places to hang things!

A few came up with a suggestion that a lot of we-he-men could put to good use. They wanted a set of instructions covering "how to fix it" for such things as flooded carburetors and other minor mechanical problems.

Many proposed short instruction courses for ladies so they could understand the workings of their cars and look after them better.

Quality dealer service departments welcome questions from lady drivers regarding their cars and usually make extra efforts to win and keep the confidence and trust of their female customers.

WEEKEND WINNER—A retired millwright with the Ford Motor company, Cass Bolton, is presented a certificate by Glenn Long as this week's winner of the weekly vacation-paid contest. Bolton, the father of two children, has lived at 240 Wing street for about 40 years. The certificate entitles him to a free weekend at any Albert Pick Motel or Hotel. But as Bolton said, he'll probably give it to one of his married children: Mrs. Fred-Hicks or Douglas Bolton, both of Northville. Sponsoring the contest are 20 Northville merchants.

Fly to Europe
A group of 20 high school students, including four Northville girls, flew to London last Thursday under the "Europe Is For Fun" program. The trip was organized at Dearborn High school. The four girls are Narda Foreman, Barbara Fagan, Judy Hallam, and Cyn-dy Smith. They will be touring Europe for three weeks. They have already toured London, Brussels, Belgium, Germany and Lucerne, Switzerland. The remainder of their trip will include visits to Mila, Venice, Florence, Rome and LaSpezia, Italy, Nice and Paris, France, and then London again before flying home. Another Northville girl, Kathy Mc-Niece, will leave for an almost identical trip under the same program on August 2.

Should 18-Year-Olds Vote?

LANSING — Voters in November will have a chance to decide a question regarding teenagers. The teens themselves are apparently fairly evenly divided on the same issue.

The question is: Should the privilege to vote be extended to persons 18 years of age and older? Four states now permit voting by persons less than 21 years, the age of majority in Michigan today.

A proposal to put the question on the fall ballot passed in the State Senate last year and carried over for House approval this year.

TEENS who wrote to legislators about the resolution primarily endorsed the theory that if they were old enough to fight for their country they should have a say about who runs the country.

But a statewide poll conducted by the Youth Advisory Council, an arm of the Michigan Youth Commission, indicated the letter-writing teenagers might be a minority among their peers.

The Council's survey indicated more teens opposed lowering the voting age. Neither the pros nor the cons got a clear majority, however.

The Council study showed 44.46 per cent of some 33,000 high school students polled were opposed to a reduction in the voting age. Almost 14 per cent were undecided or failed to vote. Backers of the proposal numbered slightly over 42 per cent.

In the November tally, only those above 21 who record their opinion will be counted, so the issue will be decided by them.

During legislative consideration both major party organizations backed the proposal, as did Gov. George Romney. Opponents contended teens would be likely to depend on emotion rather than reason in voting decisions.

About 85 per cent of Michigan's population is now served by some kind of community mental health care program under a law commonly referred to as Act 54.

THE LAW, enacted in 1963, was designed to provide mental health services to more people on a local basis. It aimed to reduce full-time hospitalization so often required for adequate psychiatric treatment previously.

In all, 24 community mental health services boards are now functioning to provide Act 54 services to the residents of 29 counties. All but seven of the counties involved are in the lower half of the lower peninsula. The others are in the western half of the U.P.

Participation is based on county initiative. The Mental Health Department has three regional coordinators to assist in county planning to meet standards of operation.

State grants are available, on a first-come, first-served basis, to speed the development of county programs. This year Act 54 was amended by the legislature to allow grants to range up to 75 per cent of the local budget for mental health services.

SIX COUNTIES have been added to the growing list providing Act 54 services this year. Several of the boards represent more than one county. In the Upper Peninsula, for example, Baraga, Keweenaw, Houghton and Ontonagon Counties joined together to form the Copper Country Mental Health Board.

GOVERNOR'S DUTIES

What does the governor's job really involve?

If the governor's name happens to be George Romney, it means he is in demand to speak throughout the country. His background as American Motors Corporation president and because of rising national attention as a political candidate for President, Romney is invited more places than most governors.

Even without these special demands on his time, a governor inherits a round-the-clock job the day he is inaugurated.

ULTIMATE RESPONSIBILITY for all functions of state government fall on the governor's shoulders.

The governor must advise the legislature on the condition of the state and its needs on almost a daily basis. All legislation must be submitted to him for approval or rejection.

He may call special sessions of the legislature as needed, although this power has been denied Romney and previous governors by year-round extension of the regular session.

The governor also has the power to call special elections in certain cases to fill vacancies; make appointments to state boards and commissions; or remove state and local officials if necessary.

Paroles, pardons, commutations of sentence, and reprieves of prisoners also come under his direct control.

Finally, the governor is chairman of the State Administrative Board, which has general supervisory control over the functions and activities of all administrative departments, boards and commissions.

The governor is a busy, busy man.

Demand Lever

BABSON PARK, Mass., — Even with auto production and sales turning down, general business has just swept ahead to new all-time highs. Home building, another of the really big and powerful parts of our economy, is also seriously stumbling. But many of the little fellows — home furnishings, television, textiles and mining — have marched steadily upward, planting production flags on new peaks. And the biggest capital goods upswing ever keeps right on breaking all records... contributing mightily to the stretching out of the longest economic boom in history. How much longer can it last?

The men who run the government in Washington are bound by law to keep business booming, so that all who are willing and able may have jobs. This, in a few words, is the gist of the FULL EMPLOYMENT ACT OF 1946. This has been discussed many times in this column. But we wonder whether it has ever been clearly emphasized that the method of producing full employment is largely one of stimulating demand.

President Franklin D. Roosevelt was one of the first to make an all-out effort to stimulate demand... to pull us out of the great depression of the 1930's. His prescription was to put money in the hands of consumers. They would buy, and that would make the retailer prosperous and he in turn would buy, making the wholesaler, manufacturer, miner, etc., flourish. Yet, years of hoisting the consumer's buying power did not bring prosperity.

BEFORE OTHER experiments in prodding demand could be tried, World War II swept over us. Employment soared. So did profits. We had an old-fashioned war boom. But when Japan surrendered, everyone feared that a huge depression would soon come. Out of this fear the FULL EMPLOYMENT ACT OF 1946 was born. Each President was to have his own Council of Economic Advisers to help him judge when to recommend, and what. And it began to be realized that more than consumer demand had to be stimulated in order to keep the economy big and strong.

Under President Kennedy the theories of a demand economy reached new heights. Profits, once looked upon as suspect, gained stature. The makers of heavy capital goods, it was recognized, had to be prosperous if they were to hire men. In a word, business itself must have its purchasing power raised, not just consumers. Investment became as popular as consumption. Even the wealthy might have their taxes cut... to provide more funds that would be spent for plant and equipment. To push business up, demand would have to be spurred in all sections of the economy. This has been done with great success during recent years. Employment has fallen to nominal levels; growth spurred to peacetime records.

AS PROSPERITY burst into full bloom, the feeling spread among Administration leaders that they had discovered the key to perpetual prosperity. But then the situation went from bad to worse in Vietnam. A great new demand load — for arms and men — was added to our business machine already straining at capacity. Many wholesale and then consumer prices climbed. The real gains of expanding business prosperity are now being threatened by an inflation fire that could be all consuming. So now we have come full cycle — from too little demand to too much.

The economists seem to have overlooked the tremendous importance of the real substance of prosperity. This substance is men, machines, and money. Demand is the stimulant. We may have already gone too far along the road of super-demand. Too much demand for money means too high wage costs; too much demand for machinery leads to the use of less efficient units, hence upped production expense; too much demand for money pushes interest costs higher and causes rationing of credit. All of these together force prices up, and the advantages of full employment are lost in the resulting inflation. We must recognize that there is a time to lower demand pressures as well as a time to increase them.
