

Teacher Pact Set For OK

After 10 months of negotiations a final settlement between the Northville school district and teachers appears definite.

School board and teacher bargaining representatives put their stamp of approval on a 30-page document last Thursday, the first contract ever negotiated in the history of Northville schools.

Ratification of the master contract, the final step in the bargaining procedure, will hopefully come within the next three weeks, spokesmen for both parties said.

As proposed, the new salary schedule calls for a pay boost of $500 to $2,200 for each of the 121 teachers, additional fringe benefits and improved working conditions.

Although exact cost of the total package has not been determined, Assistant Superintendent Raymond Spear, the district negotiator, said that salaries alone will cost an additional $175,000, a figure that includes salaries ticketed for 17 new teachers. Last year teachers' salaries totaled $725,000, biggest expense item in the school budget.

The proposed new contract establishes a salary range of $5,600 to $8,280 for a BA, compared to last year's $5,100 to $7,100 in the same time, 11 years.

Teachers having an MA will receive from $6,000 to $9,765 in 11 years as compared to last year's $5,400 to $8,500 in 12 years.

Super maximum steps for an MA have been set at $10,255 in 15 years and $10,765 in 20 years, in comparison with last year's figures of $9,000 and $9,500, respectively.

Those with an MA plus 30 hours will get from $6,500 to $10,585 in 11 years; last year's figures were $5,700 to $8,800 in 12 years.

The super maximum applying to the MA plus 30 hours provides a salary of $11,114 in 15 years and $11,670 in 20, compared to last year's salaries of $9,300 and $9,800.

"The bachelor's schedule is slightly lower than average for the Detroit area," said Don Brown, chief negotiator for the teachers. "But the master's puts us more in line with the rest of the Detroit area."

"The new salary schedule does two things," said Spear. "It encourages teachers to move to the master's schedule, and secondly, it is more competitive

Township Races Highlight Tuesday Primary Election

HAPPY ENDING—Don Brown and Ray Spear can smile now. Several months of negotiations ended last week with a master contract for one year. Brown and teacher negotiating team must now win Teacher Club approval of the pact, while Assistant Superintendent Spear has turned the document over to the board of education for ratification.

State Party Nominations At Stake

Voters will go to the polls Tuesday to nominate candidates for U. S. Senatorial, congressional, state, county, township and judicial offices.

The primary will set the stage for campaigns leading up to the November election.

Except for the non-partisan judicial posts, voters must select either a Democratic or Republican ballot. Split tickets may not be voted in the primary election.

In addition to the selection of candidates, township voters will decide whether or not to continue to permit hunting with firearms in the township.

The no hunting proposal will be a "yes" or "no" question asking whether House Bill No. 2544 as adopted by the state legislature, an act to prevent hunting in Northville township, should be ratified and enforced.

The ballots present a widely different field of choice depending upon party. Incumbents are generally running without opposition from their own party, while the party out-of-office may have two or three candidates seeking nomination.

A full roster of names that will appear on all ballots is published on page 4-B.

In the township the Republican party is providing competition from within its ranks for the offices of treasurer, clerk and trustee.

Two Democrats are running unopposed for nomination for supervisor and clerk. They are Joseph Fiorilli and Mrs. Eugene Guido, respectively.

Republican Supervisor R. D. Merriam is unopposed for nomination.

Republican Incumbent Trustee Wilson Tyler opposes Incumbent Treasurer Alex Lawrence for the latter's post. And Mrs. Eleanor Hammond and Mrs. Rita Smith are seeking the Republican nomination for clerk.

Thomas D. Armstrong, Bernard W. Baldwin, Mrs. Elsie Price and Gunnar Stromberg, all newcomers to the board and Republicans, are competing for three trustee vacancies.

None of the officials elected in November takes office until April. The present board will be expanded to seven members at that time. Presently, the board is composed of a supervisor, clerk, treasurer, and two trustees. The new board will have four trustees.

Only present board member whose term does not expire in April is Trustee James Tellam.

Trustees are elected to four-year terms, while other officers hold office for two years. The nominated trustee polling the least number of votes in the November election will serve for two years so that his term will coincide with Tellam's. The top vote-getting trustees will serve four year terms.

Polls open at 7 a.m. and close at 8 p.m. City electors residing in precinct one vote in the city hall council chambers; precinct two in the lower level of the city hall; and precinct three at Amerman school. Township electors in precinct one vote at the community building and precinct two at the township hall.

Novi Township Race May Decide Cityhood

Even though he's battling for the Republican nomination for supervisor, one of the two Novi candidates is seeking to eliminate township government.

The unique political platform belongs to Novi businessman, Leo Harrawood, who is pitted against veteran supervisor, Hadley Bachert, a leading defender of township government who seeks to preserve township autonomy in Tuesday's primary election.

Still another unusual twist to this race is the fact that Harrawood is a recently elected councilman of the village government.

Harrawood has been informed, and several municipal attorneys have supported the theory, that he can legally hold both the council post and the supervisor position at the same time. If he wins, Harrawood has stated he will hold both posts.

His battle for the supervisor post is the only contested match in the perennial Republican-voting community.

His battle for the supervisor post Incumbent Republican Clerk Lloyd George, Treasurer Duane Bell and Trustee Ralph Luckett are unopposed. No Democrats are seeking office.

The battle between Harrawood and Bachert has been underway for several months, although not specifically over the struggle for the supervisor's post.

Harrawood is an influential member of the Novi incorporation committee that tangled with Bachert and the township board over petitions to incorporate Novi as a fifth-class city earlier this year. Such an incorporation would eliminate all but about 2-percent of the present township.

Bachert and the board contested the petitions in court and they were scrapped by the village council when it became apparent that the court would hand down a ruling in favor of the township.

Nevertheless, incorporation petitions are again being circulated and are expected to be presented to the village council in the near future. And, once again, Bachert has indicated he and the board will challenge them if they believe them to be illegal because of insufficient population in the community.

Admittedly, Harrawood's purpose in seeking the supervisor's post is to remove an obstacle in the way of incorporation and bring about the elimination of the township government, which he says is a useless, expensive body in view of the fact that the village governs almost all of the same area.

Bachert, on the other hand, argues that the township government is responsible for many important services, including a public library, fire department facilities, and a self-sustaining park. He predicts cityhood would bring increasing taxes without comparable increases in service. And, he warns, that cityhood could possibly result in the loss of state school bus revenue for the school district.

Board Seeks Annexation Of New School to City

The Northville board of education decided Monday night to petition the township board and the city council for annexation of the new Moraine elementary site on West Eight Mile road to the city of Northville.

High School Principal Appointed

John Wellington was named principal of Northville high school Monday night.

The 44-year-old Albion college graduate comes to Northville from the Michigan State Department of Education where he has worked since March as a coordinator for scholarships.

Previously, Wellington has held high school principalships at Mackinaw City, Fowlerville and Holt.

Appointment of Wellington to succeed Fred Stefanski, now at Schoolcraft College, was recommended by Superintendent Alex Nelson and approved by the board.

Wellington was given a two-year contract at an annual salary of $13,000. Born in Albion in 1922, Wellington served in World War II for four years as an ordinance staff sergeant. He was graduated from Albion in 1949. He and his wife, Marjorie, have three children.

Wellington served as principal and taught social studies and commercial courses as well as coaching at Mackinaw City from 1949-50. At Fowlerville from 1950-59 he was principal, teacher and coach. He carried on similar duties at Holt from 1959 until March, 1966, when he accepted the position as coordinator for scholarships for the state of Michigan.

Wellington majored in business administration at Albion, received his master's degree from MSU in educational administration, and a diploma from Cleary college in accounting and economics. He has 24 hours work beyond the master's degree in areas of community college and educational finance.

Board Attorney James Littell explained that annexation of the 10-acre site could be accomplished without an election through joint resolutions of the city and township governing bodies.

Police protection and traffic control assistance were given as reasons by the school board for seeking city status.

Littell pointed out that such requests have "caused considerable feeling" at the township level. He said he had approached Supervisor R. D. Merriam on the question, and that he had been reluctant, but willing to cooperate. Littell noted there was no loss of tax base to the township in the transfer of school property.

The reaction of Mayor A. M. Allen Tuesday was less than enthusiastic. He noted that the school board had not been interested in city status when determining the location of the school, and also pointed out that a more practical plan of annexation would be the entire parcel on the south side of Eight Mile road extending from the present city limits to Beck road. The north side of the road to an 8 1/2-mile line as far west as Beck road is within the city limits.

"This is my first reaction and speaking only for myself," said the mayor.

The petition for annexation will be presented to the township board at its September meeting and, if approved, to the city at its following meeting.

Architects reported Monday night that work on the Moraine school is picking up in tempo. Work is now on a 10 hour-per-day schedule. But completion of the first eight-room wing is not expected before October with the remaining dozen rooms slated for December opening.

Meanwhile, Superintendent Alex Nelson reported that temporary space is being sought in churches. He said the First Presbyterian church is being considered, although a fire sprinkler system may be needed as well as conversion of doors from in-swinging to out-swinging to gain fire marshall's approval.

The superintendent said that about 140 students and 20 teachers will be moved to Moraine when it is completed in December. He said the church facility would be used only until October. The rest of the Moraine overflow can be accommodated in existing elementary schools until the December opening, he noted.

Another major problem at Moraine involves traffic safety on Eight Mile road. The board is examining the possibility of an overpass from the school grounds to the north side of Eight Mile. Estimated cost of this was reported from $18,000 to $25,000. An automatic flashing unit to slow speeding traffic was proposed by Superintendent Nelson. This would cost about $2,000.

costs in Northville Justice court on charges of drunk and disorderly conduct and assaulting policemen.

Arnold Gornall, Jr., 21155 Meadow-brook road was arraigned Friday before Judge Charles McDonald.

Police said that when they answered a call at 1:43 a.m. last Friday at the Paddock bar, they found Gornall using abusive language and bent on fighting.

They got Gornall outside, police said, where he began scrapping with the two police officers. In the scuffle, a police flashlight was broken while being used on Gornall, it was reported, until another police officer came to assist.

Another fight, involving a Northville man, broke out at 3:01 a.m. on July 24 at 450 Gardner street.

Charged with being disorderly in front of his house, James Boyer, and the influence on West Dunlap and Linden streets.

Saturday for the violation that occurred
Friday.

And a fistful of drunk and disorderly persons were once again brought before Judge McDonald.

raigned Monday, was fined $55 and paid
$10 costs. He pleaded guilty.

According to Northville police, Mo-

An overloaded semi-trailer resulted in a $110 fine and $10 costs for the driver, Rigby Corbett, 40, of Columbus, Ohio. He was arraigned the same day the violation occurred in Ferndale,
Friday.

Two baseline residents, Leah Baker

police said.

road, was formally charged with careless driving at 5:47 p.m. on July 17.
When arraigned Monday he was fined
$25 and paid $10 costs.

Police reported that Smith was dragging with another automobile from the stop light at the corner of Main and Center streets. The race continued east and south down Main street, police said, while many pedestrians were in view.

If you would like to give your paneling or woodwork a limed oak effect, take one pound of unslaked lime to two quarts of water. Rub the lime across the grain of the wood. When partially dry, wipe off the grain to remove the excess lime. Seal with two thin coats of white shellac and finish with a thin coating of paraffin wax.

To cut plywood or any hardwood with a bench saw without splintering the finished edge of the wood, mark a line for cutting and place a strip of cellulose tape over it. Run plywood through the saw slowly and you'll have a neat edge. Then just peel off the tape.

When removing fireplace ashes burn a wadded newspaper in one corner of the hearth. The rising hot air will draw the dust you stir up the chimney and keep it from blowing out into the room.

Four Businesses Hit by Burglars

Four Northville business establishments were burglarized over the weekend and a fifth breaking and entering was foiled apparently when the thief was scared off.

Stores rifled were Rathburn Chevrolet, Allen Monument Works and Cal's Gulf Service station number two, all on South Main street, and Nick's Barber Shop on the Seven Mile road cut-off. Attempt to break into the Good Time Party Store backfired.

All of the break-ins were executed in the same manner. The burglar smashed a window and reached through to unlock either a door or window to gain entrance.

Northville Police Chief Samuel Elkins reported $20 was stolen from Cal's Gulf and an indeterminate amount of money from Nick's Barber Shop. Each place was ransacked, but nothing but the money taken, Elkins said.

"We're quite positive the same thief is responsible for each breaking and entering," the chief said. "He seems to want only money," he added.

Police are now investigating.

Police discovered the break-in at Rathburn's at 12:29 a.m. Saturday morning. They said they found the glass to an overhead door broken in the rear of the garage. Nothing was taken or disturbed, police reported.

Upon inspection of Allen Monument Works at 1:10 a.m., police said they found the glass in the side door broken out, and the door unlocked. Nothing was taken or missing, said the chief.

Later that morning, at 4:20 a.m., police discovered that the plate glass window in the front of Nick's Barber Shop had been smashed, the door opened, and the place ransacked, they said.

When owner Charles Altman reported for work that morning at the Good Time Party Store, he called police immediately to report an attempted burglary, police said. The burglar had broken the window in the east side door. Burglary of Cal's Gulf station was reported at 7:09 a.m. Sunday by the owner. Police said the thief broke a 12 by 16 glass in the rear of the building, opened the window and crawled through. The garage was ransacked and approximately $20 in silver taken, it was reported.

Board Approves Junior High Plans

Plans for the Taft road junior high school were approved Monday night by the board of education and September 12 set as the night for opening of bids.

Latest estimate on the cost of the 21-room one-level building is $1,482,719.

An alternate bid providing for four additional classrooms will be included with the four-room addition planned for the southeast corner of the building, directly south of the gymnasium.

If the alternate comes close to the $93,000 estimated, it is anticipated the board will choose to include the addition, Superintendent Alex Nelson stated.

Board President W. C. Becker noted that rising costs threaten to reduce the extent of work that may be accomplished under the $3,300,000 bond issue.

Originally, in addition to the Moraine elementary school and the junior high school, additions to the high school, site improvements at all schools, improvements at the old junior high school for administrative office use, a school bus garage and site purchase for a new elementary school were planned.

The $500,000 swimming pool addition at the high school comes under a separate bond issue.

Board Member Robert Froelich called for a determination by administrators of a priority list of needed improvements and an accounting of available funds.

E. V. Ellison, director of administrative services, reported that a letter was anticipated from the city giving approval to use of existing city sewer facilities for the new junior high school once connection is made to an Oakland county interceptor in the city's northern section. Connection to the main is now being delayed until a meter is installed to measure flow into the sewer.

The city council indicated last week, however, that it would not grant the school permission to connect to the system until it was assured adequate capacity existed. Engineer Harold Penn expressed some reservations. The council noted that it would prefer that the new school connected to a main that the Thompson-Brown development company had planned to serve a proposed Taft-Eight Mile road subdivision. The city is now completing installation of a sewer along Randolph street to connect to this proposed sewer and serve that portion of the city in which the new school will be located.

Assistant Superintendent Raymond Spear reported that there are five unfilled teaching positions in the system. The resignation of Richard Gray, a junior high school social studies teacher, was accepted. Gray has accepted a position with the Michigan Education Association staff. Miss Susan Taylor, Amerman kindergarten teacher, asked to be reinstated after dropping plans to return to college for further study. She was accepted.

Spear reported that 40 new teachers have been hired, 15 for new posts, 24 as replacements and one to take the position of Ron Horwath, now assistant high school principal.

Spear noted that 58.5 per cent of the new teachers have had previous teaching experience.

The board approved borrowing $300,000 on anticipated tax revenue and heard Ellison report that the system is currently operating with a deficit of between $60,000 and $70,000.

In other business the board approved purchases amounting to $1,000 for blackout shades in three rooms at Main street, two at the junior high school, two at Amerman and three at the high school. Spear noted that this purchase was agreed upon in negotiations with teachers.

The board also approved a new salary schedule for custodial and maintenance personnel. It reflects an increase of some $29,000 over last year with employees being paid on an hourly basis and receiving raises of slightly more than $400 annually.

Approval was given for a contract with the school psychologist for $5,000 annually for a 44-week period for two days' per week in the system.

Approval was also given to hire a library aid for clerical duty at a rate not to exceed $60 per week.

A salary of $1,000 annually for the duties of district athletic director was approved. The new director, David Longridge, will assume a full teaching schedule. His service will be broadened to include intra-mural sports in all schools, Superintendent Nelson reported.

A recommendation by Superintendent Nelson that school buses be allowed to drive into Westview drive providing residents of the subdivision improve the road so that travel is safe and proper turn-around may be made was approved by the board.

Newly elected board member, Froelich, noted on several issues that many of the matters coming before the board were administrative problems. He proposed that such issues should be determined by administrators and that board permission sought only when issues deviate from established policy.

THE ROYERS—June and Richard Royer, their son Wayne and twin daughters, Stacey Ellen and Lorie Jean.

Ten-month-old twin girls have kept the Richard Royers busy at home since moving here from New York in April. The twins' names are Stacey Ellen and Lorie Jean.

Mrs. Royer explains, "We had a hectic move with the twins, but now we're beginning to like it here very much."

They also have an 8-year-old son, Wayne, who is having a good time riding his bike and swimming this summer. The Royers' home at 38289 Southfarm lane in Meadowbrook subdivision is right on the borderline between Northville and Farmington, so Wayne attends Gill elementary school in Farmington.

Mr. Royer, who works at Greyhound Food Management, enjoys golf and working with stereos in his spare time. He has put several stereos together.

His wife, June is a bowler, but hasn't had much time for her favorite sport since the arrival of the twins. Both of the Royers went to schools in New York.

We Slipped Up

It was erroneously reported July 14 that Richard Luttman, of 46745 West 12 Mile road, Novi, was ticketed for failing to yield the right of way.

Richard Luttman was a passenger in the vehicle driven by his brother, Frederick A. Luttman, 31, of 21653 Strathaven, Novi. It was he who was ticketed for the violation that occurred July 6 at the corner of Grand River and Beck road.

Jaycees Continue Clothing Drive

The Northville Jaycees' clothing drive for needy persons in the area continues in co-operation with the Southern Wayne County Economic Opportunity Group, Inc.

Mrs. Robert Prom, wife of the school community agent for the opportunity group, reminds local citizens that there is a special need for clothing for children of elementary school age.

She explains that many of these children have been unable to participate in the Project Head Start program, which prepares children in low economic area for school, because they don't have suitable clothing.

She said that many older children are embarrassed and reluctant to start back to school because of their lack of clothes.

"It would give a big boost to these kids to have some new clothes, and get them on their way," she added.

Types of clothing most desired are winter garments, dresses, sweaters, scarves, trousers, mittens, coats and hats. Clothing donated should be cleaned or washed, if possible.

Anyone who wants to donate clothing is asked to call the Proms at 349-2287 for pickup arrangements, or the items may be taken to 967 Allen drive.

The Northville Jaycees will have a key role in the August 2 primary.

In an effort to speed up reporting of vote results of the gubernatorial and senatorial races, the local Jaycees will serve as special precinct reporters in this area for the AP-UPI Michigan Election Pool.

Orville Beemer, president of the Northville Jaycees, said members of his chapter will call from their assigned precincts with the results of the two key races to the AP-UPI news gathering center at the Fort Shelby Hotel in Detroit.

Each local Jaycee precinct reporter will be properly identified with a letter from State Elections Director Robert M. Montgomery.

The AP-UPI Election Pool said the Jaycees in turn will receive a cash grant from the wire services for taking on the statewide project to assist the news media in getting the vote results to the public as soon as humanly possible.

The grant is earmarked for Jaycee projects dealing with the promotion of governmental affairs, free enterprise activity and community development work.

Novi Ousted In Tournament

It was a long ride back to Novi last Wednesday.

The Novi Little Leaguers had just dropped a 6-2 decision to the North Farmington Nationals. But defeat was no disgrace.

"The boys did a commendable job," said Manager Jack Van Wagner. "They never gave up."

Novi was thus eliminated in its initial outing in the district Little League tournament played at Bond field in Farmington.

For five innings it was a game that could have gone either way. Neither team was bagging many hits. The score was 3-2, the Nationals.

But then Farmington bunched three of its five hits off Novi's Tom Van Wagner and coupled them with a hit batsman and an error to score three times to mount a comfortable margin.

It was the Van Wagners, Pitcher Tom and Jim, who solved the Farmington hurler for all Novi's hits — a slim three. Tom pitched well enough to win, striking out 11, but Farmington was simply too strong, Manager Van Wagner said.

Novi jumped in front, 1-0, in the second inning as Tom Van Wagner doubled to left center and scored on an error. Farmington knotted the score in the third, capitalizing on a single, a walk and an error.

Jim Van Wagner put Novi back in front when he duplicated Tom's earlier effort by doubling and scoring on the third baseman's error. This lead, too, was short lived as North Farmington took a 3-2 lead in the fourth on a hit batter, a double and an error.

With the three-run outburst by the Nationals that was all she read for Novi.

In regular season play, Flynn won its only game to maintain its slim hold on second place in the Novi Little League. The Jayhawks clinched the title last week.

Flynn whipped Paragon, 12-5, on the arm of Pitcher Jim Wilenius who gave up only five hits. Three of the hits were doubles by Paragon's Darrel Winner, Mike Pittman and Gary Penrod. Jim Assemany led Flynn, which collected six hits, with a double.

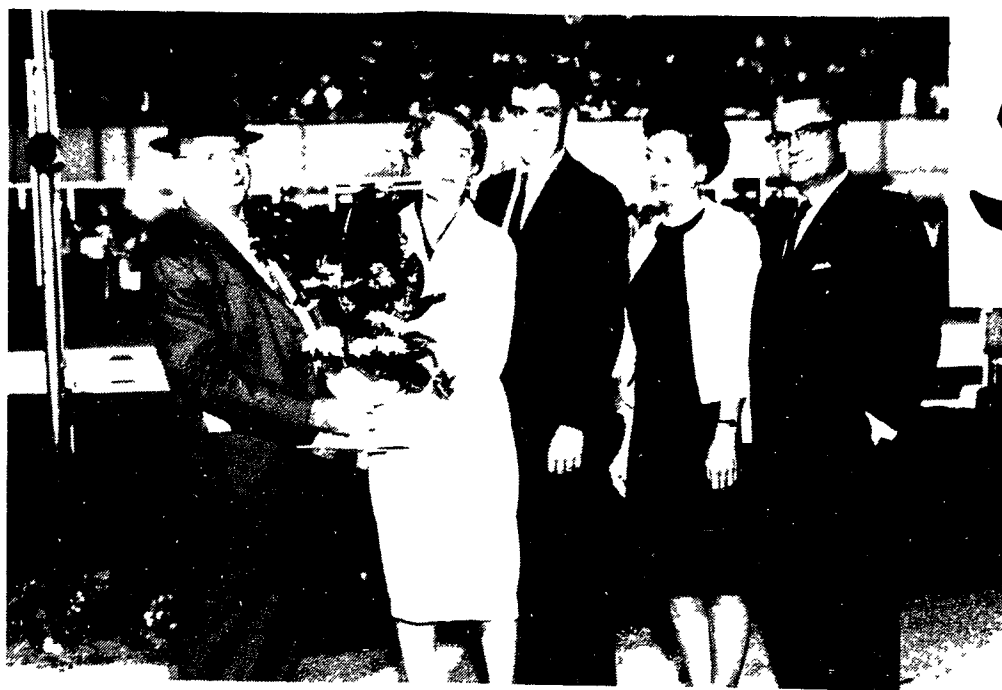

Keeping pace with Flynn was the Novi Party Store, posting a 12-5 victory over Rexall. Steve Bosak hurled a two-hitter, both coming off the bat of Vince Fodera.

Bosak helped his own cause by rapping a triple and double. Gary Carmichael and Joe Campbell also hit triples, and Mark Lytle a double for Party Store.

The Jayhawks continued their mastery of all opponents in the league by winning their only game, a 13-3 pounding of Smith.

Pitcher Ron Caviil gave up only four hits, including a double by Dave Winkler. Caviil's teammates backed him solidly with 10 hits, led by Les Branch's triple and double. Mark Bumman and David Ward also hit triples and John Pantalone, and Tom Van Wagner bagged doubles, all for the Jayhawks.

FOND FAREWELL—One of the most familiar figures at Northville Downs since 1945 has been Mrs. Marvel Montgomery. She was honored with a special race in her name Friday night by employees and officials of the track. Mrs. Montgomery sold tickets, checked passes and many other duties at the Downs. Her late husband, Earl Montgomery, was a lifelong Northville resident and once served as police chief. Mrs. Montgomery is shown above receiving flowers given by Lila's Flowers & Gifts. She received a cash remembrance from fellow employees and officials. That's Downs Executive Manager John Carlo on the left, Mrs. Montgomery, John A. Carlo, nephew of the manager, and Mr. and Mrs. Harry Woodman, daughter and son-in-law of Mrs. Montgomery.

Season Average Up

Downs Sets Record In Weekend Handle

Blessed with perfect weather for the first time of the meeting which ended its fourth week Saturday, Northville Downs shattered its record for wagering on a weekend with a total of $787,158 for Friday and Saturday.

The record making weekend actually started Friday when a crowd of 5,659 wagered $396,095 to better the previous mark of $385,640 for a Friday set on July 3, 1964.

Then an audience of 6,886 poured $391,063 through the windows Saturday to boost the two-night total to record proportions. The big weekend hiked the nightly average to $293,699 compared to the $291,093 for the same period a year ago, an increase of one per cent.

Northville handled $7,048,779 for the first 24 nights of the 35-night meeting which ends on Friday, August 5.

Saturday was a longshot night which saw such winners as: Shadydale Marion ($26.40), Miss Legality ($21.20), Torjo ($38), Leader ($40), and Felix Forbes ($25.80) and Success Hera ($18).

Local Braves Cool Hot Bill's Market

Bill's Market, a team that was blowing hot, was suddenly cooled last Thursday when the Casterline Braves beat Bill's 6-4.

Despite the Braves three consecutive wins, University Litho still occupied first place, dumping two Northville teams by lop-sided scores of 14-1 over the Orioles and 16-0 over the Oilers.

There were heroes galore in the Braves victory over Bill's. Pitcher Steve Utley struck out 11, Matt Liacos hammered a home run and a single, Jim Hostetter doubled and Ric LaRue, Pete Kuts and Utley singled.

Two runs in the seventh inning clinched the victory for the Braves, but Bill's threatened throughout the game.

The going was a little easier against the Plymouth Jaycees Friday. Braves won by forfeit when only six Jaycees showed up for the contest. Score: 7-0.

Northville's Orioles split their two games, beating DiPonio, 10-4, but losing to tough Litho, 14-1.

Bill Pucket hurled the win, the first time he has pitched this year. Ed Hammond supplied much of the hitting punch by rapping out two singles and a double in four trips.

In other contests, Bill's Market slaughtered WCTS, 22-3, the Braves edged DiPonio, 2-1, and the Plymouth Jaycees walloped WCTS, 13-2.

Plumbers Forfeit Playoff Chances

The Northville Plumbers forfeited two games the past week to blow a chance to play in the recreation league playoffs for a trip to the national baseball tournament.

Injuries, vacations and boys working prevented the Plumbers from fielding a team, said Coach Joe Kritch. For both games only eight players turned out, Kritch added.

To make the playoffs, Northville would have had to win two of its remaining three games.

NOVI LITTLE LEAGUE ALL-STARS—These are the boys who were selected as members of the Novi All-star team that was defeated in its first outing in the district tournament. They are (l to r front) Bruce Simmons, Jim Assemany, Chris Byrd, John

Northville Nines Soar in Class E

Two Northville teams made their moves in class E play, but Fisher Shoes held tightly to first place with a 9-0 mark.

Bloom's Insurance went on a hitting spree to beat Plymouth, 8-4, then posted a 9-6 loss on the Novi General Filters.

Spagy's also jumped in the standings by beating Novi General Filters, 9-1, and the Northville Plumbers 5-2.

Bloom's was threatened only once, in the fifth inning when Plymouth scored twice to close the score to 6-4. But Bloom's got those two runs back in the sixth to seal the victory.

Bloom's garnered 11 hits, with Pitcher Craig Turnbull bagging three singles in four trips to the plate.

In beating Novi, Bloom's played over four errors committed in the first three innings. A three-run outburst in the top of the seventh broke a 6-6 tie.

Kim Marburger's triple scored two runs, and he scored on Dave Versch's single. Marburger led the 11-hit attack with a single, double and triple. Jeff Taylor received credit for the win, Bloom's third in a row.

Randy Simpson held hard-hitting Novi to two singles as Spagy's scored three runs in the fifth and four in the sixth to ice the victory.

Pat Cayley with a triple and single, and Dave Grandin with a single and double paced the seven-hit Spagy attack.

Tied one-up going into the fifth frame, Spagy's suddenly exploded for four big runs to defeat the Plumbers. Ron Asher's double, MacDermaid's and Simpson's singles, a hit batter and a walk keyed the rally.

MacDermaid gained credit for the win. Larry Bogart was the loser.

The Plumbers, however, played one of its strongest defensive ball games in beating University Litho, 10-1. Rich Adams and Barry Deal, both with two hits, paced the Plumber hitters.

Three runs in the first and six in the third put the Plumbers in front to stay. Bruce Grigg hurled the win.

Yanks Win First Game

In a battle of cellar dwellers, the Indians outlasted the Yanks in Knothole baseball, 7-6.

The Yanks jumped out to a six-run lead in the first inning, but then the Indians' Robbin Clark came in to put out the fire and hold the Yanks.

The Giants worked one of those rarities, beating the Angels, 5-1, even though Angel pitchers combined to throw a no-hitter. Walks turned the trick. Mike Schwartz was the winning pitcher, giving up only one hit.

It was well-nigh impossible stopping the Dodgers who have yet to be beaten. They posted a 4-2 triumph over the slumping Athletics. Joe Bishop picked up the win.

Gary Allen fired a no-hitter to pace the Indians to a 10-2 victory over the Giants.

In other games, the Pavers edged by the Angels, 4-3, and the Athletics revived to down the lowly Yanks, 8-3.

In Knothole softball, the Rams took over first place by whipping the Tigers, 11-1. Tom Marzoni singled and scored four times for the winners.

The improving Colts upset the rugged Cubs, 8-4, as Ken Chio and Bill White collected singles for the Colts.

"Peanut" Brown pitched the Clippers to a 3-0 win over the Panthers.

Youth Apprehended On Exposure Charge

Cooperative efforts of Novi and Farmington township police and an eye witness who immediately called Novi police led to the capture of a 17-year-old youth who was booked for indecent exposure.

The Farmington youth was released on $100 bond after his apprehension Saturday in an Orchard bordering the Farmington Country Club golf course. He was officially booked on a disorderly conduct charge of indecent exposure.

Police said they are attempting to work out a plan of treatment for the youth. He has had treatment in the past, police reported.

Police received a call at 6:12 p.m. from a witness who had observed the boy as he exposed himself across from the Farmington Country Club swimming pool. Site of the incident was the west side of Haggerty road between 12 Mile and Grand River.

Officer George Biggs and the eye witness chased the youth across the golf course and into a bordering orchard while Farmington township police, who had been summoned, closed in from the other side, the east.

With six police cars in pursuit, the boy was taken into custody near Halstead and Howard streets in Farmington. Since the violation took place in Novi, the case is being handled by Novi authorities.

This was the third incident within the last month involving exposure, assault or attempted assault on minors. A nine-year-old Wixom girl was kidnapped as she rode her bicycle 300 yards from her home, and a young Novi girl was pursued down a sparsely settled road, but her assailant was scared off by her screams. The Wixom girl was found unharmed eight miles from the site of the abduction.

Teacher Pact Set

Besides increased salaries, Spear said the contract provides additional fringe benefits, including:

- 10 days of sick leave per year for those with one through five years experience in the system, and 15 days per year for six or more years, cumulative to 110 days. Previously, teachers got 10 days sick leave per year, cumulative to 100 days.

- three business days per year. During the past year, teachers were given two days which were deductible from sick days.

- tuition reimbursement of $20 per semester hour up to $200 per year, not to exceed the actual tuition paid, for hours taken while working on a degree program or with prior approval of the superintendent. Teachers received $8 per credit hour last year.

- extra credit pay for $100 for each group of 10 hours earned beyond the initial 10 hours required by law beyond the bachelor's degree.

- extra curricular pay which, for the total program, amounts to an additional expenditure of $3,000.

It's in the area of working conditions that teacher negotiators say they have made the biggest gains.

"It's one of the better contracts in terms of determining the educational fate of the children of Northville," said Bill Case, president of the Northville branch of the Michigan Education Association and also a member of the teacher negotiating team. "This is where we have made significant gains, not in the area of money," Case emphasized.

One of the major gains, cited by Brown, is binding arbitration wherein both teachers and the board will submit problems explicitly outlined in the contract and which cannot be resolved on the local level to arbitration by a state mediator. Both parties are bound to abide by his decision.

In return for this concession, the teachers agreed to a clause that prohibits the use of strike. Northville teachers staged what they called a "walkout" on June 14 during the last school year.

Another significant non-monetary gain, according to Brown, is the establishment of joint teacher-administration committees to discuss the evaluation of teacher performance, driver education policies, the audio-visual program and what procedures to follow in case of a need for cutback in the work force. "From now on," Brown said, "we will be able to sit down as equals in education."

Elementary teachers will be given 30 minutes a day for preparation; in the past, they received none, Spear said.

Other clauses improving working conditions include the installation of additional duplicating machines and typewriters for instructional purposes, and paid employment beyond the school year for those teachers in special areas, counseling, library and science, that require more preparation time.

With ratification the only hurdle to be cleared, and with school set to open without incident in September, both sides will begin bargaining anew for a 1967-68 contract sometime in September they said.

"With regard to the bachelor's maximum in area districts, we are at the low minimum," Brown said. "This, among other things, we will attempt to improve in future negotiations."

Spear indicated the board is looking for a three-year contract, minor revisions in the present contract, requests for additional fringe benefits and demands by teachers pertaining to work areas.

Instead of using glue to mount wood veneer trim, use photographic dry-mounting tissue. The tissue contains a special shellac that sets when heated. Attach it lightly to the reverse side of the veneer by touching it in spots with the tip of a hot iron placed on a wool setting. Put the veneer in place and run the iron over it firmly.

Novi Accidents Injure Two

A 21-year-old Walled Lake man lost control of his car in Novi and crashed into a tree Sunday night.

Patrick J. Bennett was taken to Pontiac Osteopathic hospital for diagnosis of stomach pains.

According to Novi police, Bennett was driving west on North Haven at 11:30 p.m. when his car failed to negotiate a curve and hit the tree.

In an earlier accident Sunday, a motorcyclist was injured when a car sideswiped him as he was making a turn.

George Somers, 20, of Plymouth was taken to Botsford General hospital in Farmington for treatment of cuts and bruises and released.

Somers was about to make a left turn on Grand River west of Haggerty road, police said, when he was sideswiped by a car driven by William Campbell of Brighton.

Campbell told police he thought Somers was going to turn right, so he, Campbell, went to the left. The accident occurred at 7 p.m.

Big Swinger!

Five year old Jack Lancaster takes a king-size swing at the ball not even in sight as Tommy McDonald, six, grimaces in anticipation behind the plate. Both boys participate in the Northville recreation department's weekly baseball clinic for Pee Wees, boys five to six. Every Thursday morning they receive instruction in fundamentals of the game, and get a chance to take their cuts. Jack is the son of Mr. and Mrs. L. M. Lancaster, 302 Debra Lane, and Tommy, the son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles McDonald, lives just down the street at 314 Debra. Northville's Recreation department conducts a full scale baseball program for boys throughout age 18.

from the PASTOR'S STUDY

Ray Pippins, Pastor,
Church of Christ, South Lyon

When Joshua stood before the children of Israel, he called upon them to make a choice. This was not a political choice between two candidates but was a religious choice. John 24:15. This was a urgent choice, one that needed to be made without delay. Joshua said they should "choose this day whom ye will serve." Their choice was to serve the gods of their fathers before the flood or the gods of the Amorites in whose land they lived or they could serve the Lord along with Joshua and his house.

In I Kings 18:21, Elijah placed a similar choice before the people on Mt. Carmel. He said how long halt ye between two opinions? If the Lord be God, follow Him; but if Baal is God, then follow him.

Jesus said "But the hour cometh and now is when the true worshippers shall worship the Father in spirit and in truth; for the Father seeketh such to worship Him. John 4:23-24.

Yes, even today there is still before mankind a choice that must be made. One must decide which he will serve. Will it be the traditions of men that have been handed down or will he follow some of the more modern ideas that have arisen during the Twentieth Century or will he be a true worshipper of God? One that worships Him in spirit and in truth. John 4:24.

In Hebrews 10:22, we read "Let us draw near with a true heart in full assurance of faith, having our hearts sprinkled from an evil conscience and our bodies washed with pure water." Jesus said, "Sanctify them through thy truth: thy word is truth." John 17:17. Man must come before God with a sincere heart (in the right spirit) and perform those things that are commanded in His truth. Jesus said to those in His time, "In vain do they worship me, teaching for doctrine the commandments of men." Matt. 15:9.

The choice is ours, which will it be? Examine yourselves, whether ye be in the faith; prove your own selves. II Cor. 13:5. May our choice be wise or we must suffer the consequences. David said, "The wicked shall be turned into hell with all nations that forget God." Psalms 9:17.

All hail the power of Jesus' name let angels prostrate fall. Bring forth the royal diadem and crown Him Lord of all. "Wherefore we receiving kingdom that cannot be moved, let us have grace, whereby we may serve God acceptably with reverence and Godly fear." Hebrews 12:28.

Now it's just an antique, a relic of a bygone era. Formerly it served a practical purpose, a special need. Today, Grandfather's horseless carriage is completely outmoded.

Some philosophies are also out of date. New ideas grip our minds and challenge the intellect. We would not want a "horse and buggy" philosophy in this modern world of growth and change.

Some things do not change, for they are eternal. For example, man's soul and his need of God. No modern invention can ever make God and the Church obsolete. Society is different today than it was in Grandfather's day, but man's spiritual needs are the same.

Discover the value of the timeless in the midst of time. Worship God in your church this week and find the eternal truth which spans the ages.

Here's What Candidates had to Say at Northville Public Meeting

Twenty-four candidates or their representatives outlined platforms and fielded questions on topics ranging from the war in Viet Nam to the merging of the city and township of Northville here last week Wednesday.

Sponsored by the Northville chamber of commerce, the candidates' forum was held in the junior high school cafeteria, with Northville Municipal Judge Charles McDonald and The Record Publisher William Sliger sharing moderator roles.

Here briefly are resumes' from statements by candidates or their representatives:

Jack H. McDonald, Republican from the 19th Congressional District: Taking the position that a Republican victory is particularly important this year, he said voters are especially concerned about the war in Viet Nam, the rising cost of living, and usurpation of the power of local municipalities by the federal government. He said he stood for a winning policy in Viet Nam — the same policy desired by the American people, who, he said, are thoroughly dissatisfied with the federal government's power-grabbing tactics and with the spending spree of Congress.

Richard D. Kuhn, Republican from the 19th district: With American boys dying in Viet Nam, he said, it is incumbent upon the government to give them the kind of support that will win the war. Under the present administration, he said the nation's heritage of individual initiative has been replaced by a hand-out philosophy that is leading to the decay of the family. As a Congressman, he said he would help preserve and promote the free enterprise system.

Larry D. VanderMolen, Republican from the 19th district: As a political scientist having been involved in studies of Asia, he said he had the necessary international background required of a Congressman. Concerning Viet Nam, he said his studies prove that this nation should not negotiate with the Communists until after it has gained sufficient military advantage to make peace efforts meaningful. The nation must insist upon a win policy, he said.

James Swinehart, representing Democrat Weston E. Vivian of the 2nd Congressional District who was unable to attend because of Congressional business in Washington, D.C.: He pointed out that Vivian is the only scientist in Congress with a doctorate degree and that his experience in science and business makes him a valuable asset in Washington, particularly in his role with the House Science and Astronautics committee. His record in Congress, Swinehart said, has gained him the admiration and respect of fellow Congressmen. He pointed to Vivian's promotion of two conferences for businessmen, support of Medicare and the United Nations, and his regular visits home to meet constituents as examples of a good record.

Marvin L. Esch, Republican from the 2nd District: Pointing out that he has become a candidate at the urging of people both from this district and from Lansing, he said his platform is based upon the belief that the government must rededicate itself to the principals of the nation's founders and that the Republican Party must redefine its positions on major issues. He said the government's role is not to do things for people but to create an environment in which people can do things for themselves.

George Meader, Republican from the 2nd District: Charging the Democratic Incumbent, Vivian, with incompetence, he said that Vivian is far to the left in the Democratic Party, that he does not represent the thinking of this district, and that he wrongfully supports the inclusion of Red China in the UN.

Earl J. Demel, Democrat from the 14th State Senatorial District: He emphasized that to properly serve his constituents, a candidate, like himself, cannot represent one segment of the district but rather must do his best to represent all of the people. He said he stands on a platform determined to do something about promoting road safety and adopting policies for correction of stream pollution. His background as a mayor, justice of peace, road department official, and an attorney active in legislative matters, he indicated, qualify him for doing the job well.

Paul F. Livingston, Democrat from the 14th District: His philosophy, he said, espoused the belief that today's generation is responsible to future generations. He said he would push for restructuring of the state's fiscal make-up by bringing in a non-politically oriented organization, such as Brookings Institute, to analyze the structure and recommend methods of improving it. He supports, he said, return of more federal monies to the state so it can more effectively combat pollution of Michigan lakes and streams.

George W. Kuhn, Republican candidate from the 14th District: The current crisis at the local school level, he said, points up the importance of his efforts to have a portion of the federal income taxes, paid by Michigan residents, returned to Michigan to help finance local government and schools. Experienced as a mayor and a citizen active in the promotion of better government, he noted his key role with some 75 mayors in opposing city income taxes on non-residents.

John A. MacLellan, Republican from the 14th District: Pointing out that as a legislative attorney he has drafted a good deal of legislature that includes the establishment of Northville State Hospital and Hawthorne Center, he said he believed in a stronger legislature, stronger even than the executive branch. One of the problems with which he is concerned, he said, is where the money will come from for financing Medicare in Michigan.

Carl D. Pursell, Republican from the 14th District: Concerned with such problems as education, air and water pollution and what is happening to the tax dollar, he said he seeks property tax relief and redistribution of the tax dollar. One of the problems with which he would cope as a senator, he said, would be mass transit of a rapidly growing population. He contends that suburban transit will soon be a key economic problem requiring the dynamic energy of young men like himself.

Marvin R. Stempien, Democrat from the 35th House District: In the two years he has served as a Representative, he said he has always tried to represent each of the citizens within the district. He takes pride, he said, in his record of cooperation with all members of the legislature as well as with Republican Governor Romney.

Louis E. Schmidt, Republican from the 35th District: Conceding that his opponent, Stempien, had indeed served two years at Lansing, he noted that his opponent was elected to do just that, so it wasn't such an outstanding feat. Government, he said, is quick to give schools additional responsibilities but it fails to provide the additional money to support them. Present methods of supporting schools, inadequate as they are, are leading to the confiscation of the individual's property, he said. He is concerned too about the young businessman who is taxed on business activity and not on net receipts.

Theodore D. Goupil, Democrat from the 60th House District: He said he is primarily concerned with both the quality and the equality of school systems. He noted the unfairness of children of one school district being supported by more tax dollars than the children of another. Other problems he will cope with, if elected, include regulation and enforcement of highway safety and water and air pollution.

Dwight R. Lawler, Democrat from the 60th District: He contends the past session of the legislature wrote a fine record, particularly in the area of mental health, workman's compensation, and school aid. However, the legislature cannot rest on these laurels, he said, but must continue its efforts — especially in the field of mental health. He pointed out that because the 60th District stretches from Eight Mile road to the outskirts of Flint, the man serving the district must be willing to work long hours, like himself, to adequately represent all of the people.

Robert Smart, representing his father, Republican Clifford Smart of the 60th District, who was unable to attend because of a prior commitment: Experience counts, he said referring to the fact that his father is the incumbent, but his father's campaign is based also on expertise. Smart, he said, has a head-start in getting important programs started, so his reelection would ensure the completion of needed legislation. He said his father sponsored every major community col-questions from the audience. Held in the junior high school cafeteria, the event was sponsored by the Northville Community Chamber of Commerce.

lege bill in the legislature during the past two years and spearheaded a movement in the area of traffic safety, which included compulsory motor vehicle inspection. Why take the chance, he asked, on someone new when an accomplished legislator already is in office?

Allen C. Ingle of Northville, candidate for the Oakland county circuit court, introduced himself and invited citizens to vote for him.

Joseph J. Fiorilli, Democratic candidate for supervisor: Because the township has been governed through the years by one political party, he said, it has become stagnant — the type of political stagnation that thwarts forward movement of the community and spawns government unresponsive to wishes of the people. As supervisor, he said, he would attempt to get the township off dead-center by providing strong leadership and a progressive-thinking platform.

R. D. Merriam, Republican candidate for supervisor: In the last six months, he said, more than $1 million of building activity has been started in the township. This kind of growth necessarily increases the workload of township officials, which in turn requires men and women who can give full-time to their jobs. He indicated that he has been and will continue to work full-time in his capacity as supervisor.

Mrs. Eugene Guido, Democratic candidate for clerk, was unable to be present.

Mrs. Crispin Hammond, Republican candidate for clerk: Her family grown now, Mrs. Hammond stated that she has the time to devote to the job. Pointing out that she has worked in the township office for the past year and a half, this experience, she said, together with the information she has obtained by personal studies of 10 other townships and by acquainting herself with the township manual and local ordinances makes her very qualified for the position.

Mrs. William Smith, Republican candidate for clerk: The next few years, she said, will be more important to the community than all of the preceding years since the township's inception because of rapid growth. That growth, she contends, must be neat and orderly. She indicated that officials must be on guard against unscrupulous developers who would erect buildings that could easily be detrimental to the future of the community. With a limited potential for an industrial tax base, the township must be especially careful in planning for the future since the individual taxpayer will bear much of township cost.

A. M. Lawrence, Republican candidate for treasurer: His platform, he indicated, takes the position that people in Northville township should not be taxed for something before they realize the benefits. He pointed out that during his half-dozen years serving the township, including four as treasurer, he has been instrumental in keeping the township tax at a one-mill level, while building up a capital improvement fund, by wise investment of tax dollars.

Wilson D. Tyler, Republican candidate for treasurer: Since the township can look forward to steady growth, its officials, he indicated, must be prepared to cope with the problems of providing police and fire protection, water and sewers and with the impact it will have on school planning. The solution to these problems, he said, may mean cooperative efforts with other communities. And the official must also consider problems of annexation and provision of new township offices. He said he would assign clerical type work of the treasurer to an assistant that he would retain.

Bernard W. Baldwin, Republican candidate for trustee: Because the township is on the verge of great change, he said he is concerned with building programs and resulting water, sewer and tax problems. He believes this problem can be headed-off by proper planning.

Gunnar Stromberg, Republican candidate for trustee: He also said the community is on the step of a gigantic building program. Because he has been a member of the township planning board for the past six years and because he is a member of the Economic Development committee, he contends he is well qualified to face up to this growth.

Thomas D. Armstrong and Mrs. Harold Price, both Republican candidates for trustee, were unable to be present for the meeting.

Following the presentation of statements by the candidates, members of the audience asked written questions. Among these and the answers were:

What is your position on foreign aid?
Richard Kuhn: He is opposed to foreign aid to Communist nations. Communists, he said, have proven they are liars so this nation must deal with them accordingly. Only when they stop being bullies should the United States lend them aid.

VanderMolen: He favors foreign aid, but he believes they are administered improperly. He favors more political and educational aid.

Richard Heady, spokesman for McDonald, who had to leave early: He said he had not discussed this subject with McDonald, but that he personally opposes aid to those nations that give aid and comfort to Communists.

Swinehart for Vivian: Vivian, he said, does not see the world occupied only by good and bad guys; it's not an all or nothing world. He favors careful selectiveness in extending aid. If aid to a Communist nation can help drive a wedge between Communist nations, he favors such aid because it can work to the advantage of the United States.

What is your position on voting for 18-year-olds?

Pursell: Studies have shown that lowering of the voting age may not be a good policy. However, he believes 18-year-olds have the ability and intelligence to vote.

MacLellan: He favors the 18-year-old vote if youths use the right to vote.

George Kuhn: He has grave reservations about lowering the voting age and he favors retention of the 21-year-old minimum.

Demel: At 18 young men and women can marry, which is a very serious matter, and since they are permitted to undertake this important step they should also be permitted to vote, he said.

Livingston: Maturity does not come with age, he said. Many youths have the necessary intelligence to vote so he favors the lower voting age.

Stempien: He said he voted for putting the question on the ballot and he will vote in favor of the lower voting age, particularly in view of the fact that 17-year-olds can be sent to Jackson state prison or serve their country in Viet Nam.

Schmidt: Having dealt with young people much of his business life, he contends they are intelligent enough to vote. He notes they pay income taxes, and that the young people are held responsible for debts incurred by their elders.

Goupil: Favors the lower age.

Lawler: Favors the lower age.

Smart, an 18-year-old himself, speaking for his father: Opposes the lower voting age. He notes that most 18-year-olds are still in high school where they are required to take just one-half year of government; they have no economic interest since most do not have full-time jobs; most have not yet entered the armed forces; they have not completed college; and their interests are still basically tied to their family and community. Furthermore, he believes the 18-year-old would make his voting judgment on personality, not qualification.

Do you see the merging of the city and township of Northville?

Fiorilli: Without a crystal ball it is impossible to accurately predict what will happen, he said. It requires a long-range study. However, a short-range look indicates the township is identified with the city.

Merriam: The two communities eventually will merge as a single government, but the time is not ripe for such a merger at this time.

Hammond: People fail to realize that a great deal of cooperation between the two already exists, she said, citing such things as the library, recreation program, dog clinic, dump, and the community college. She hopes for more and better cooperation.

Smith: She does not believe there has been enough research on the subject to make an intelligent judgment.

Lawrence: He believes the township should stand on its own feet. This is not the time to consider merging. He noted that within two years a fire hall will be needed in the township.

Tyler: Noting that the common denominator is the school system, he took the position that officials cannot afford to wait to consider such a merger. Since it's more than inevitable, officials should make a pass at doing something about it now.

Baldwin: Merger depends, he said, on how well the city plans for the future, on how officials of both communities plan to make such a merger mutually profitable. It could very well happen, he said, that the township's alignment will be with Plymouth if that community's future planning makes it a natural center.

Stromberg: From an economic standpoint, he said, merger may be a wise step. However, he notes that both municipalities have gone to great expense at developing independent planning and ordinances. Nevertheless, merger is inevitable so he suggests establishment of a committee now to study its feasibility.

Should Red China be permitted to join the United Nations?

Richard Kuhn: No, he says emphatically.

Heady for McDonald: In order to make any headway, in the cold war, it is necessary to have a place to sit down and counsel. Therefore, this nation should take the leadership in such consideration.

VanderMolen: He said his personal studies have shown that Red China does not want in the UN. By permitting them in, this nation would be doing a disservice to its allies in Asia.

Swinehart for Vivian: Vivian suggests that they be admitted, but his position is not a wholehearted endorsement. He takes the position that the United States cannot realistically disregard 700,000,000 people. This nation needs a reasonable means of closing off hostilities, otherwise the U.S. may have only a charred mass of friends in Southeast Asia.

What's your position on fiscal reform?

Demel: The time has come when property owners can no longer bear the burden of property taxes. Reform is necessary, but he contends there is no positive answer.

Livingston: He would consider any findings made by a non-political study, but he feels an income tax may be the only answer. Concerning the plight of schools, he contends schools should consider greater usage of present classrooms as has been demonstrated in the Flint school system.

George Kuhn: He takes the position that solution to the fiscal problems of the state can be better achieved by promoting a more favorable business climate because it is here where the tax base exists. He favors too a better distribution of the federal tax dollar, and concerning an income tax, he believes the decision should be left to the people.

MacLellan: He is against an income tax, preferring instead fiscal sanity. Before making a decision, he wants to examine the findings of fiscal studies already underway.

Pursell: He supports the appeal of the business activities tax, redistribution of the tax dollar, and he believes it is the responsibility of the legislature to come up with a program to adequately support schools.

Stempien: Both political parties agree, he said, that there is a need for reform. He stands ready to support any measure, regardless of which political party proposes it, so long as it does the job. It's time to stop talking and to start voting. He proposes studies to have appropriation bills considered earlier during legislative sessions.

Schmidt: Concerning tax reform, he argues that the legislature must overcome its lethargy. He notes that just because the state currently has a surplus treasury, legislators are inclined to forget that the fiscal program is sick and needs immediate attention. Concerning school monies, he slaps the legislature for asking the schools to come up with estimated budgets long before they know what monies they will receive from the state. Why, he asks, is the school aid bill always left to last?

Goupil: If the state needs fiscal reform, he would refer to studies on the matter before making a decision. He sees the collective bargaining law for teachers as presenting still more fiscal problems for the local school districts.

Lawler: Tax relief, he said, must be tied to an income tax and it must include the elimination of some existing taxes. He argues that the people should be given more information about the findings of fiscal studies.

Smart for Smart: Income tax is inevitable, since the present tax structure is based on the sales tax which fluctuates up and down with the economy. He sees the state economy on the tide of a five-year boom that may fall soon, making fiscal reform vitally important. Smart supports, he said, Governor Romney's income tax proposal and the repeal of the business activities tax.

Political News And Views

With the August 2 primary date drawing near campaigning candidates are firing releases daily. What they are saying is reported on this page.

In Wayne, Oakland

Bar Members Rate Judicial Candidates

Preference lists for judicial posts in Wayne and Oakland counties have been published by the Detroit Bar Association and the Oakland County Bar Association.

The Detroit Bar Association rated the candidates either "outstanding," "well qualified" or "qualified" for court of appeals and circuit court.

The ratings are as follows: Court of Appeals (vote for only one) - Levin, outstanding; Torina, well qualified; Brickley, Nugent, Sempliner, qualified; Targonski, no rating.

Circuit Court (vote for three) - Kennedy, Ryan, outstanding; Bartholomew, Golden, Martin, Suchy, well qualified; Danielson, Hathaway, Kasoff, Miller, Robbins, Stanczyk, Szymanski, Williams, Yates qualified; Connolly, no rating.

In Oakland county the judicial candidates were rated by ballot either "preferred" or "qualified" or "no comment".

The tally of the membership of the Oakland County Bar Association was as follows with "preferred" votes only listed:

Circuit Court - Beasley-248, Bronson - 66, Burke - 5, Cunningham - 7, Fitch - 15, Gilbert - 22, Hanna - 13, Ingle - 12, Ingraham - 108, Johnson - 14, Kahn - 14, McCallum - 34, McGrath - 28, Merritt - 108, O'Brien - 59, Prout - 29, Reid, Jr., - 67, Roberts - 93, Rowston - 92, Schmier - 44, Temple - 72, Turner - 28.

Probate Court - Grant - 47, Moore - 93, Shifman - 122, Welton - 57, Whitlock - 91.

For circuit court in Oakland County voters must choose three candidates, while they vote for one judge of probate.

What's Happening In Political Camps

Following are news briefs from campaigning candidates for state and congressional offices serving the Northville-Novi-Wixom area.

DEMEL
Earl J. Demel, during the July 21 membership meeting of the Wayne 19th official Democratic Congressional Organization, repeated his often expressed conviction during this campaign, "Mr. Chairman, I strongly urge the membership to withdraw the motion to select me for endorsement over the other candidates for the 14th Senatorial seat. Indeed, I value very highly your endorsement and support, but I frankly believe that primaries should be open and free."

MCDONALD
- Jack H. McDonald, candidate for congress in the 19th Congressional District, blamed a rubber stamp congress for the rising cost of living that is causing Americans pay checks to be worth less and less.

McDonald pointed out that today it costs $1.33 to buy what you bought for $1.00 in 1950. "Put it another way," he said, "$1.00 saved in 1950 has lost 25% of its purchase value ... it is now worth only 75¢."

"What bothers me most," said McDonald, "is that those persons who are on a fixed income, retirees, social security recipients and the like, suffer most. Inflation is almost like reaching into the pockets of these people and just taking the money they have earned away from them." What can be said for the elderly is equally true for all ages.

There are number of ways in which inflation can be quickly halted. Perhaps the most obvious is to reduce government spending. But, like so many other obvious things, this method is seldom used today.

PURSELL
Carl Pursell, Republican Party favorite and candidate for the 14th District State Senate seat, accused his opponent in the August 2 primary, the former mayor of Berkley, of being a "political opportunist."

Pursell charged that G. W. Kuhn had walked out on his responsibility to the people of Berkley by resigning his post as mayor to move into an unfamiliar district and run for that Senate seat.

ESCH
In a campaign swing through Wayne County last Friday, State Representative Marvin L. Esch, candidate for the Republican nomination for U.S. Congress, proposed that voters in Northville and the Second District meet their Democratic Congressman at the plane when he arrives from Washington for his campaign.

"They should meet him and present him with bills demanding he pay back the $100 million his voting record in the Johnson administration and the inflation it has helped cause has cost this district," Rep. Esch said.

He said that there were 3900 people in Northville and nearly a quarter of a million wage earners in the district. He said that the cost of living had risen about five per cent in the past two years, and that the increase in the national debt had cost everybody dearly.

He also cited increased construction costs of schools, governmental buildings and roads. "In other words, voters in the Second District have paid about $100 million through the hidden cost of inflation."

R. KUHN
Richard D. Kuhn, Republican candidate for U. S. Congress from the 19th District, today made public mention of his answers to the most frequently asked questions, during his primary campaign.

"My basic philosophy as to the function of federal government is simply that I would support such legislation as is necessary to maintain and promote the individual's economic independence, the individual's liberty and the individual's growth ... morally."

"Federal deficit spending is the prime cause for inflation. The cost of living has risen 9% in the last several months. The administration in Washington has failed to check the rise. I would urge the bureaucrats in Washington to follow their own advice to housewives and businessmen and work on the deficits caused by existing government programs. The 'Great Society' is just a lot of 'hog-wash'. The 'War on Poverty' is nothing more than a way of buying political votes. I would fight to restore the free enterprise system which has made this country so great."

"I believe that Viet Nam is another step toward the goal of the international communists to take over all of the developed as well as under-developed nations of the world. In Viet Nam we must win the military war so that our boys can return to their families and homes at the earliest possible moment."

"I am opposed to Foreign Aid expenditures to communist countries. Time and again this Aid only helps those countries avoid paying the full price of being 'communistic.'"

LAWLER
Dwight R. Lawler, Democratic candidate for State Representative in the 60th district has been endorsed by the Oakland County AFL-CIO Council for the August 2 primary.

Lawler, a local 659 Joint Council delegate from the Chevrolet Metal-Fabricating Plant in Flint, was the 1964 nominee in the 60th district.

In a previous letter to the council requesting endorsement, Lawler stated that "My organization and exposure in the 60th district during the '64 election, along with the slim margin of victory of the Republican candidate will be a great asset in my bid to win this seat November 8th. Therefore, I feel that I can better justify the endorsement from Oakland County AFL-CIO Council in the August 2nd Primary."

MEADER
The Meader for Congress Committee announced that four high-ranking Republican Congressmen will come to the Second Congressional District on Saturday July 30th, barnstorming the District for former Congressman Meader by airplane. The four Congressmen will arrive at Metropolitan Airport at noon on Saturday July 30th and will proceed by private plane with former Congressman Meader to rallies at Monroe, Adrian, Fowlerville and Ann Arbor.

The congressmen are Adair, Ayres, Bow and McCullough.

The tentative schedule calls for the Monroe rally to commence at 10 o'clock. Then the plane will proceed to Adrian with the rally scheduled for 2:30 p.m. From Adrian the plane will proceed to the airport between Howell and Fowlerville in Livingston County where the four Republican representatives and former Congressman Meader will make an appearance at the Fowlerville Fair. The final rally will be held in Ann Arbor commencing at approximately 5:30 p.m. at the conclusion of which the Congressmen will return to Washington via commercial plane.

LIVINGSTON
Paul F. Livingston, candidate for the Democratic nomination for State Senator, 14th District, called for "pay-as-you-go-courage" to meet the mounting problems of society.

Livingston said the State was overwhelmed with problems of contemporary life compounded by an exploding population. "Air and water pollution mass transportation, urban sprawl, suburban wastelands, fiscal problems, racial problems are all of major importance."

"If we take the easy way out we will simply pass the buck to our children, and possibly they will be able to push things off another generation. But it all catches up with us sooner or later. Already we are suffering from the undone deeds of past generations as we watch our streams and rivers turn into sewers, our beautiful countryside disappears, and our finances unravel", Livingston noted.

CAMPAIGN TRAIL-Former Governor G. Mennon Williams, now a candidate for United States senator, stopped off at the Walled Lake amusement park Saturday afternoon to present his campaign platform to members of the Communication Workers of America, Local 4000, who were holding their 15th annual picnic at the park, located in Novi. Democrat Williams faces Detroit Mayor Cavanagh. The winner will oppose GOP Senator Robert Griffin in November.

Rural vs. City Battle

Paid Political Adv.

The west 352 square miles of Oakland County, which is almost 2/5ths of the county, is known as the rural area as contrasted with the heavy populated area on the South eastern side of the county. That part of Northville in Oakland County, as well as the Novi and South Lyon area are in this western rural area. When an additional 216 square miles in the northern part of the county is added, which is also a rural area, we find that we have about 64% of the land area, with only about 13% of the registered voters in the county.

Is it any wonder that rural area voice in government is rapidly disappearing. Next Tuesday is election day. How many voters from this area will take the time to vote in this important primary remains to be seen. Many of those who do vote, overlook the non-partisan Circuit Court ballot which is printed on blue background and is usually at the bottom of the machine at the right hand side. This day and age, many of us find ourselves in court at one time or other, yet we will not take the time to select good judges. After you pull your party lever and make your selections, then go to the bottom of the machine at the right hand side and pull the lever down over the name you want for Circuit Judge, then pull your curtain lever.

To stress the importance of the primary election, this rural area has only one candidate for Circuit Judge. If the rural area does not turn out and vote for him so that he will be nominated for the general election in November, then we have lost our chance to have a judge from this rural area in the Circuit Court at Pontiac.

Voters will find 22 candidates for Circuit Judge, and Allen C. Ingle, who is a resident of Northville is the rural candidate. Ingle is well qualified for Circuit Judge, having engaged in the general practice of law since 1949, and in addition has 12 years of judicial experience, during which time he handled nearly 50,000 civil and criminal cases. He gained a reputation throughout the state as a fair and impartial judge, and was called upon to be the judge in the Madison Heights Gambling case or Stern Assembly Club. He was also requested to be the judge in the first cases brought by the State Police in Royal Oak Township, which finally resulted in a Grand Jury.

Ingle is a college graduate in both accounting and law. During his life he has lived in the big city, small city and on the farm, thus he has an excellent background to understand the problems of everyone.

As a result of his leadership in court reform, the protection of individual rights, and his service as President of the Michigan Justices and the Oakland County Judicial Association, Ingle was honored by being selected for the publication, "Who's Who in the Midwest."

Ingle is admitted to practice in all Michigan Courts, as well as the United States Supreme Court, U.S. Court of Appeals, and U.S. District Court. He is a World War II veteran, and member of the American Legion and Veterans of Foreign Wars.

Thus the battle line is formed. The rural area has Allen C. Ingle as their candidate. To keep our voice in government, we should get out and vote and see that he is elected, but in spite of this, we have an outstanding candidate who will be an excellent Circuit Judge for Oakland County, for he has already proven that he maintains an impartial court, protecting the rights of the public but at the same time protecting the rights of the individual who may be ignorant of the law.

Accidents and civil disputes are on the increase. Although we hope you will not find yourself in Circuit Court in the future, if by chance you do, wouldn't you rather appear before Allen C. Ingle, knowing that your rights would be protected and that the so called ignorance of the law would not prevent you from having a fair hearing. Join with us citizens interested in good judges, vote Tuesday, August 2nd, and urge your friends and neighbors to vote. Together we will elect Allen C. Ingle as our Circuit Judge. Remember to look for the non partisan ballot for Circuit Judge on the blue background at the bottom of the machine. Pull the lever down over the name of Allen C. Ingle, leave it down, the same as you have for the candidates in the party you have selected. When you open the curtain the vote for Allen C. Ingle will register and you have helped us elect not only an outstanding candidate but our rural candidate as well.

OUT OF THE PAST

ONE YEAR AGO ...

...Sterling P. Eaton, a former newspaper publisher and area state representative, died at the University medical center at the age of 58. He was formerly the publisher of Plymouth Mail, and his father, the late Elton R. Eaton, was once editor-publisher of The Northville Record.

...A suit challenging the village of Novi's trailer park ordinance was adjourned until August 31. The village council the summer previously had rejected a site proposed by Frank Davis of Novi for a mobile home, so Davis challenged the decision.

...Dutch elm disease was taking its toll of Northville trees. A survey by the state department of agriculture in the city resulted in condemnation of 76 trees.

...Northville's board of education approved its biggest budget. Total estimated expenditure for the 1965-66 school operational budget was $1,254,317, some $20,644 more than the anticipated income and about $100,000 more than the 1964-65 budget of $1,156,578.

FIVE YEARS AGO ...

...The expected signing of final contracts by some 14 communities and the Wayne county department of public works for construction of the Rouge Valley sewage disposal system brought predictions that the state health department ban on buildings in the area would be lifted promptly.

...The city council received official word of the resignation of an employee who would win the city's "most valuable" title hands down. Mrs. Mary Alexander, city clerk, submitted her resignation effective December 31.

...Application for permission to establish a branch office in Northville was made by Detroit Federal Savings and Loan association of Detroit.

...Eric Peterson came in with the tying run on third base and one out to promptly strike out the next two batters in giving Northville Recreation the Class E title in the western division of the Livonia recreation league.

...Wixom wound up its 1961 fiscal year with a balance of $556.08, the June monthly report showed.

...Spurred by President John Kennedy's speech on the Berlin crisis the Novi Civil Defense unit decided to hold a general meeting to discuss home preparedness for protection.

TEN YEARS AGO ...

...Novi School Superintendent William Medlyn urged residents to support consolidation of the four Novi school districts (Durfee, Putnam, East Novi and Novi No. 8). Prime reason given for the proposal was the expected surge in population. Petitions are being circulated.

...Governor G. Mennen Williams was to award the trophy in the annual $10,000 Governor's Cup Trot. The race was scheduled for the night of August 1. Ten horses have entered the classic.

...Two years of concerted effort paid off when Senior Girl Scout troop eight departed for Yellowstone National park. Since June 1954, the girls had planned and worked to raise $5,000 needed to finance the trip.

...A. L. McClain, research biologist representing the Great Lakes Fisheries, concluded a series of electrical experiments at the fish hatchery on Seven Mile road. Object of the experiment was to find a practical way to keep undesirable fish out of hatchery water supplies.

...No comment was the word from Novi's township hall in answer to questions concerning the progress of reported legal action protesting the August 7 special annexation election. Proposed for annexation to Northville was land between 8 and 8 1/2 Mile lines and extending westward one-quarter mile from Center street.

TWENTY YEARS AGO ...

...Dedication of the Veterans' Memorial hall was to highlight the V-J day celebration with sports, games and dances for everyone.

...Above average yield for grain, beans, potatoes and sugar beets were in prospect for Michigan.

FIFTY YEARS AGO ...

...Twenty-six valuable sheep were killed and nine badly injured by dogs on the Wallin farm west of town.

Northville Tops Seal Fund Goal

Closing the books officially on the 1966 Easter Seal Campaign, the Easter Seal Society of Western Wayne County reports a total of $48,088.29 contributed by residents of the area. Although this is under the goal of $50,000 set by the leaders in the campaign it does represent an increase over the 1965 Campaign.

In expressing his appreciation to local leaders and to their neighbors who contributed to Easter Seal services for physically handicapped children and adults, Philip M. LaBo, General Chairman for the campaign summarized some of the highlights of the fund raising efforts.

"Seven communities (Dearborn, Ecorse, Lincoln Park, Melvindale, Northville, Plymouth, and Wayne-Nankin) exceeded the fund raising goals," he pointed out, "Several other areas were just slightly under what they had hoped to collect. In all but a few instances, local reports showed an increase. The most successful appeals were those special, individualized letters to former contributors of $5 or more, and the street sales of paper lilies. Returns in the special letter category increased by 28%, and the Lily Parades by 34% over 1965."

Novi Justice Court

A Farmington man was fined $100 and his license revoked for 90 days in Novi Justice Court for driving under the influence of liquor.

John J. Gleeson III, appearing before Northville Judge Charles McDonald who was presiding in the absence of Judge Anderson, pleaded guilty to the charge which took place at 10:20 p.m. on July 15.

According to police, they chased Gleeson at estimated speeds of 120 miles per hour from Beck road to Novi road as he traveled east on Grand River.

A Northville youth, Roger Hopkins, of 19320 Gerald avenue was fined on three counts last Thursday.

Judge Jacques fined the 18-year-old $20 and $5 costs for being a disorderly person June 9 on East Lake drive. Hopkins was also fined $10 on the original charge for which he was stopped at 9:22 p.m. — driving a vehicle with a defective exhaust.

In addition, Hopkins paid a $10 fine and $5 costs for driving recklessly at an earlier date, June 5. Police reported Hopkins was driving south on Novi road near Flint street without headlights at 4:20 a.m. He told police he had driven from Union Lake to Novi road without headlights.

Four other motorists were arraigned in Novi justice court for various traffic infractions.

William G. Hollow, of Commerce was charged with making an unsafe start at a red light at the intersection of Novi and 12 Mile roads. Police said he squealed his tires as he pulled away from the stop light at 7:50 p.m. on July 9.

Judge Anderson fined Hollow $15 at his arraignment on July 20.

Stopped for driving a defective vehicle, Robert Lee Frey was fined $20 and $5 costs for driving a car with no brakes or muffler.

Judge Jacques also fined Frey, 18, of Duval, Florida, $10 and $5 costs for having a defective operator's license on June 15. Violation occurred at 11 Mile and Grand River.

Wilson O'Brien, 28, of Livonia was fined $20 on July 20 when arraigned before Judge Jacques. He was cited for speeding 50 miles per hour in a 35 zone as he was heading south on Taft road between 11 and 10 Mile roads at 2:20 p.m. on July 15.

Randall Souther, 17, of 1031 Canterbury street, Northville, paid a $20 fine and $5 costs for driving without due care and caution at 1:48 a.m. on July 11. He was arraigned last Thursday before Judge Jacques.

Police said Souther was driving south on Novi road when he lost control of his car. He traveled about 204 feet off the road, striking a guard rail, a signal crossing and a sign next to the railroad tracks, police reported.

Charles Beresky, 19, of Livonia, arraigned before Jacques, paid a $20 fine on July 20. He was charged with driving 65 miles per hour in a 35 zone as he headed east on Grand River at 3:25 a.m. on December 1, 1965.

For being drunk and disorderly on July 17 at the Walled Lake Amusement Park, Fred Bailey, 48, of Detroit was fined $50 and $15 costs on July 18 in the court room of Judge Jacques.

A 19-year-old Livonia youth was fined $25 for having liquor in his possession at 11:23 p.m. on June 10. Dan Bivler, of 29825 Beck road, arraigned before Judge Jacques on July 18 for the violation that occurred near the intersection of Novi and 13 Mile roads.

Tax Reform Won't Go Away

LANSING — Like the rebel's cry for the South, in Michigan tax reform will rise again.

Democratic gubernatorial candidate Zolton Ferency is making fiscal reform a major battleground against Gov. George Romney, although the GOP incumbent has largely ignored his opponent on this point to date.

Romney dropped his plea for tax reform this year in deference to lack of cooperation from the 1965 Democratic-dominated legislature. Since the treasury was in good shape to carry through the current fiscal year, the pressure for reform was off.

When he announced he would not press a reform package this year, however, the Governor indicated the need would be present again soon, probably to make ends meet in the 1967-68 fiscal year.

There were several indications last year that more Democrats might be inclined to get together with Romney on a reform program after the 1966 elections if they maintained their majority.

THE NOVEMBER election will be the first at which the Governor and state senators are named to four-year terms.

Assuming the Democrats maintain control of the 38-member Senate and 110-seat House, it would be easier to go along with tax reform in 1967 or 1968.

House members seeking re-election in 1968 could claim the Governor wanted reform and the Senate wanted reform so they were powerless to stop it. By the time the Senate members sought new terms, most of the electorate would be so used to the new tax structure they would have lost any anger-based intentions of "throwing the rascals out."

MICHIGAN STATE University's request for permission to operate a full-program medical school came as a surprise to some since its two-year human medicine program is just getting nicely started.

The initial program will begin with its first students this fall. It has been in planning for nearly six years and four years have passed since the legislature authorized its operation.

The formal request by the MSU Board of Trustees to the State Board of Education was actually probably very well timed.

AS EXPECTED, the State Board told MSU President John Hannah the request will need study in terms of the overall medical education available in Michigan.

Study, as President Hannah well knows, can and frequently does involve a number of years before any result is seen in terms of a program.

Thus by asking now for permission to expand the new two-year program, Michigan State probably stands a good chance of handing out its first medical degrees to the students who are enrolled this fall in the limited program.

"PEOPLE HAVE regular checkups by their dentists or doctor, but they won't get regular checkups on their cars until the law requires them to," stresses Garnet M. Griffin, managing director of the Traffic Safety Association of Detroit.

Michigan's legislature was not quite ready to require regular safety checks as urged by Griffin and others this year, but it did take a step which the experts believe will eventually lead to mandatory auto inspections.

TRAFFIC SAFETY experts have claimed that states which do require periodic checkups of autos have seen a decrease in accidents.

Legislators were not convinced that mandatory inspections of all cars at state-approved garages would have such a beneficial result.

A spokesman for the Motor and Equipment Manufacturers Association says that over 50 per cent of the cars on the road do not meet generally accepted performance standards for safety. The figure is based on the experience in 20 states which have safety inspection laws.

This was the 15th year the Michigan legislature was asked to pass a compulsory inspection law.

DOUBTERS won out, but they did go along with a spot-check proposal to allow state and local police to establish temporary safety inspection stations.

Motorists stopped and found with mechanically defective autos can be ticketed and taken to court.

Since the bill was not given immediate effect, it will not be used until early next year. Within a year or two after its initiation, this spot survey method is expected to provide data on which the legislature can determine whether mandatory inspection would be of value.

What about 4-Year Congress Terms?

BABSON PARK, MASS. — Congress has been asked by President Johnson to approve a constitutional amendment that would extend the terms of Congressmen from two years to four. This proposal — which is not likely to be acted upon at this session — has stirred up a good deal of comment pro and con.

The President himself has served with great effectiveness in both the House and the Senate. He is widely regarded as an expert on congressional procedure with knowledge in this field second to none. We would assume, therefore, that his arguments in favor of a four-year term for Congressmen seem valid and constructive to him in the light of his experience, both as member and as President.

Mr. Johnson pleads that this change has become necessary because of the expanding volume — and the complexity — of legislation. He also points to the high cost of campaigning, which is burdensome to candidates for the House of Representatives and especially distracting to those who are running for re-election. In short, he believes we would have more efficient Congressmen if the length of their term were doubled.

THE PRESIDENT deplors "the competitive pressures imposed by the two-year term, when the incumbent must remain in Washington into the fall to attend to public business." He contends that, because of these competitive pressures, the ability of a Congressman — to legislate as well as to campaign — is impaired.

Granted, the frequency of campaigning under the two-year term is a burden, especially in these days of skyrocketing costs. But is it a heavy enough burden to warrant depriving American voters of the right to express their will in selecting Members of Congress every second year?

As a matter of fact, the whole question of campaign funds is a burning issue with which Congress must come to grips before very long. There is wide difference of opinion regarding the ethics involved in raising and spending campaign funds. There are also broad differences on the matter of limiting the amount a candidate may spend in seeking a congressional seat. Once the question of campaign funds is settled, the issue of a two-year versus a four-year term will fall into clearer focus.

In the earlier years of our Republic, and in practice pretty well down to the presidency of Herbert Hoover, Congressmen "sojourning" in Washington, but still maintained homes in their districts as principal places of residence. Thus they kept in close touch with their constituents. Now, congressional sessions are so lengthy that most Members actually live in Washington year-round, making only fleeting visits to their home states for holiday observances, vacations, and some "politicizing". Caught up as they are in the artificial atmosphere of Washington with its multitudes of government employees, their perspective is easily distorted, their feel of the pulse of the nation unsure. Change-over to a four-year term would not be likely to improve that perspective.

THE FOUR-YEAR congressional term is proposed in the name of greater efficiency. Most of us will agree that there is a need for more efficiency in our federal government operations. But it is to be hoped all the angles will be explored before we scrap the two-year term in the name of efficiency.

Undeniably, the four-year term would tend to make Congressmen more "independent." Would it also make them less responsive to the will of their constituents? If, as the President's plan provides, they were elected during presidential election years, would that have a truly beneficial effect, or not? Finally, would a four-year term tend to weaken — perhaps eventually destroy — the system of checks and balances designed by the Founding Fathers to insure that neither our government, nor any of its branches, can become tyrannical?

SPEAKING for The Record

By Bill Sliger

There's an important primary election coming up Tuesday that ought to draw more voters than it will.

Holding elections in August strikes me as about as promotional as staging a knitting bee in Las Vegas. Primaries should be in September, when family vacations are over and when there's just six weeks or so remaining for campaigning until the November election.

But August 2 it is, so a minority of voters will decide which candidates will represent their respective parties.

While there are a number of interesting races at the state and congressional level, locally a good measure of enthusiasm surrounds the township primary.

The competition is all on the Republican ticket. There are only two Democratic candidates, Joseph Fiorilli for supervisor and Mrs. Eugene Guido for clerk and they are unopposed in the primary.

Perhaps the keenest competition exists in the race for treasurer. Here an incumbent trustee, Wilson Tyler, is challenging his fellow Republican board member, Treasurer Alex Lawrence.

In effect, Tyler is saying that in his opinion he can do a better job as treasurer than he has observed Lawrence doing. To say that Tyler has never been a Lawrence fan would not be a revelation to close followers of board proceedings.

When Tyler first ran for township office, nearly four years ago, he was given support by this column. At that time I wrote ... "I'd like to see an 'outsider' on the township board. One who has not been handpicked ... Tyler would be a good starter — one who could become a valuable asset to the township board".

If Tyler were running for re-election as trustee I would find it difficult to support him. I see no advantages to the township in his becoming treasurer.

A decided disadvantage would be the fact that Tyler, a fulltime bank executive, would have to turn the clerical chores of the position over to a deputy treasurer.

Under law governing the township it would be mandatory to appoint and bond such an employee and, of course, pay an additional salary. The treasurer is paid $4,500 annually. Such added expense is not in keeping with Tyler's own concern for economy and, in this instance, seems entirely unnecessary.

In my opinion, Tyler has been an ineffective antagonist on the township board. The opportunity for constructive contribution was lost in a series of insinuations, hurt feelings, arguments, etc.

Ironically, Tyler's philosophy on inter-community planning and cooperation strikes me as 100 per cent accurate. His opponent stands exactly at the opposite position. It is hoped that a board majority will prevail that can introduce gains in this area.

I'll vote for Alex Lawrence for township treasurer.

The clerk's contest on the Republican ticket also promises to be close.

I'll vote for Elly Hammond for this position.

I believe she is able, sincere and offers a record of consistent community service that deserves recognition.

She has the added advantage of having been employed in the township office and gaining some knowledge of the clerk's job and its responsibilities.

Her opponent, Mrs. Rita Smith, is undoubtedly competent and qualified. She also has the strong backing of residents of the southeast portion of the township area in which she resides. This group, which is presently concerned over possible multiple dwelling zoning in its area, is working hard to elect Mrs. Smith, Tyler, Mrs. Price, Baldwin and Armstrong.

Their purpose is unclear. The zoning which they opposed was not approved. It is, however, scheduled to return with changes in location for another public hearing in September.

The area, which lies in the Plymouth school district and thereby is attracted to that community for many of its activities, feels it lacks representation in the township and has expressed disappointment in reception to its problems.

Their interest in zoning problems is understandable, and their right to equal consideration to any other area should be unquestioned. Regardless of the make-up of the township board, all citizens of the township deserve and should receive objective attention to their problems.

In the race for three trustee posts, I'll vote for Bernard Baldwin, Elsie Price and Gunnar Stromberg.

Baldwin's election seems assured. He's been a strong member of the planning commission. He will give the board an articulate spokesman that should provide a big public relations assist.

(I must confess, however, that his views on city-township relationships, as expressed at the candidates' night, left many citizens — both city and township — confused and somewhat irked).

Gunnar Stromberg needs help in the trustee race. He's the target of many who have had zoning grievances because of his long service as planning chairman and on the board of appeals.

I'm four-square behind Gunnar. He's honest, devoted and unafraid to openly discuss problems that the less courageous would hope might go away if ignored.

Few people have given more time, accepted more responsibility and taken more abuse than Gunnar Stromberg.

His objectives have always been the improvement of the community of Northville.

I hope he leads the ticket. It would be a fitting tribute to his many contributions.

My final choice is difficult.

Thomas Armstrong, little known because of his relatively short residence in the community, is a fine and able candidate, I hope, if he is not elected, that he will continue to show interest and offer his services again.

But his opponent, Mrs. Price, deserves the nod because of her constant interest and keen knowledge of township affairs.

She will nettle fellow board members at times, but she will be a watchdog of detail and equity.

Mrs. Price has tried to win a position on the township board on two previous occasions. I hope the third time is her charm.

Briefly, here's how I view the area races for state and congressional seats:

Second congressional district with a contest on the GOP side only — ESCH;

19th congressional district, GOP contest only — Jack McDonald;

14th district, State Senate (Democrat) — Demel; (Republican) — Pursell.

In the 60th district there's competition on the Democratic side. The nod here goes to Goupil.

Vacation Is Over

Leaping from the steps, a doll blanket flapping wildly from his neck, the 10-year-old Batman around the corner is likely to stir some pleasant memories among grownups around these parts.

Back when I was a kid, a doll blanket, mom's black gloves, and a left-over Halloween mask pumped so much realism into the cops and robbers game that the participant scared even himself.

Young Batmen still slink through the shadows today, but what has happened to the other games that boys — and even some girls — used to enjoy so much?

Like the exciting kick-the-can game. I can still hear the rattle of the can as it skipped over the sidewalk or feel that sharp pain when someone's wild aim slammed a hard shoe toe into a bony ankle. Oooo, didn't it hurt!

Or what about fox and geese, summer style, played at night? The geese lived on the porch but for some reason had to wander about the yard until they saw the fox. Then there was that wild, frightening race for the safety of the porch.

And marbles. Real players are rare today. In years past, a kid wasn't part of the gang until his knuckles were raw and split open from "Knuckling down" in the dirt with a favorite shooter. And how about the neighborhood bully who played a game called "fang gobbles", scooping up the marbles and running.

"Eagle claws!" Remember that shout when two guys went hand over hand on a bat in choosing up sides or finding out who would get the first turn at the plate?

Many an over was that fun game involving a tossed ball over the garage or barn.

And every sidewalk in the neighborhood was criss-crossed with chalk lines for a variety of hop-skotch games.

Capture the flag required participants from blocks around.

There were others too, like Simon says, blind man's bluff, the gardner, shadow tag and prisoners' base.

Most of these games were more or less universal. But in our neighborhood, a special breed of games sprang up calculated to send some kid home bawling.

A brother cracked open my head when, during the War, he bombed the Zeros zooming past the porch. He pushed the bombs (rocks) from the porch rail.

Pile-up was a cruncher. Someone lay flat on the ground while a half-dozen others piled on top of him. It usually ended with a scream squeezed from the fellow on the bottom.

Buckety-buck was a vicious variation of pile-up involving two teams, each with six or more players.

And king of the mountain nearly always ended in angry blows.

Farm kids had their own variety of games too. Like leaping from the barn rafters into a pile of straw, riding a bucking calf or a squealing pig, standing inside the silo and letting the newly cut corn pile up to your neck as it poured in from the top, building houses with bales of hay, and riding atop the mountains of wheat as they came in from the fields to the giant, noisy, hungry threshing machine.

There were lots more too, on the farms and in the cities. How many of 'em do you remember?

They'll Save Your Car And Maybe Your Life

John Mach

If Northville motorists are anything like their fellow drivers across the country, a lot of folks in these parts are needlessly depreciating their cars, and perhaps even risking their lives, by driving on worn out shock absorbers.

Six out of ten cars in a recent survey needed new shocks and eight out of ten motorists were unaware of what was making their car hard to handle and ride roughly.

Shock absorbers are much like the check device on a storm door that prevents it from slamming and breaking the glass. Your car would soon be a wreck without them.

A car with worn shocks will lean when cornering as the body is pitched outwards from the direction of the wheels. A driver then tends to corner more widely than he safely should. The extra balance of sure-footed shocks could well mean a prevented overturn.

Yards of rubber are burned off the tires as the wheels rev up in a bounce and then hit the pavement. Suspension wear is excessive, body looseness multiplies and front wheel alignment is almost impossible.

If you've driven 20,000 miles or more on your present shocks, then don't delay in having your dealer check them. If they need replacing, the sooner it is done the less damage will occur and the less ultimate expense. See you next week.
