

Board President Answers School Problem Quiz

The Northville school system has just completed a year that was pressure-packed with a series of challenges that must rank it with the most demanding in the 140-year history of public schools locally.

In addition to the adjustment accompanying a change in superintendents for the first time in 25 years, Northville faced teacher contract negotiations, over-crowded classrooms, a building program plagued by spiraling costs and a controversy involving possible experimentation with the ungraded system.

This week The Record reviewed the past year and looked ahead to 1966-67 with W. C. Becker, president of the Northville board of education.

President Becker answered a number of questions posed by The Record, noting that the answers were his and not necessarily a reflection of official board position.

Q--Even with the opening of Moraine elementary school classroom space will be at a premium. What are some of the immediate plans to cope with this situation?

A--Space will be tight at the junior high school. The high school will be about the same as last year, which is definitely over-crowded. Elementary classroom space will be good for about one year after Moraine opens.

The junior high school is now out for bids. Its basic plan would be filled almost immediately, so the board has asked for bids on alternates that would provide needed additional classrooms. Increasing costs have caused the board to reduce the original plans for the junior high school. But the board may decide to return to the public for additional funds for adequate junior high facilities as well as the new classroom planned for the high school.

Q--Can the board take the $500,000 approved for the swimming pool and use a portion of these funds for classrooms?

A--No. The public approved this money for a swimming pool. It cannot be used otherwise without another vote authorizing transfer.

Q--If the board did decide to seek additional funds for the building program, how much would this increase the local school millage?

A--Not at all. Under the provision of the state qualified bond program the seven mill limitation for building debts would still apply. It would extend the period of time that the seven mills would be levied, however.

Q--It has been said that the Amerman elementary school has reached its capacity and, because of new homes proposed for the area, the problem is becoming acute. What plans, if any, are being made in this regard?

A--There are no plans to expand the size of Amerman. It is true that walking students will more than fill the school.

Q--In looking ahead what will be needed first, another elementary, junior high or high school?

A--Another elementary will be needed first with a second junior high school in four or five years. Additions at the high school should take care of students for the foreseeable future.

Q--Some people are saying that the board is gradually and purposely de-emphasizing the school athletic program. Is this true?

A--No. In fact, the board has expressed interest in expanding the intramural athletic program so that more students can get involved in physical education.

Q--In your opinion are there any inadequacies in the present curriculum? If so, what are they and what measures can be taken now to strengthen them?

A--I'd hate to call them inadequacies, but I think in some areas we're not keeping pace with new developments. I'd hope we can make advances to stay abreast of other area districts. One new program coming up this year that I'm enthusiastic about is "curriculum day". It's a half-day per month to be set aside for discussions between teachers and administrators to improve the integration and articulation of our school programs.

Q--What is being done to provide better vocational training and facilities for youngsters not going to college?

A--We're hoping that Schoolcraft college can help us in this regard. But legislation to permit this is lagging. We've expanded electronics and business courses. It's expensive to provide such courses as auto mechanics. There has been discussion of a cooperative program in vocational training with other high schools of the community college district.

Q--Is there any board thought to hiring an administrator or specialist to handle future teacher negotiations or will one of the present administrators handle it as in this past year?

A--We've been discussing some changes to make more effective use of personnel.

Q--This year's teacher contract negotiations required nearly 10 months. Is the board considering seeking a two or three-year master contract in the future?

A--We tried last year. To give more stability to the situation, we'll try again. We don't anticipate as many problem this year since the initial contract is always the most difficult.

Q--What is the status of the fish hatchery transfer and, if successful, how will this affect the classroom shortage?

A--We're still waiting for word. It won't significantly aid the classroom situation, but some use may be made of the buildings for special education classes and administrative offices.

Q--What about the present junior high school building?

A--It may be needed for additional classrooms for either elementary or junior high school.

Q--This newspaper has criticized the school board for its frequent closed (executive) sessions. Would you comment on this?

A--First, it should be remembered that the school district is operating a million dollar business which has all the attendant problems of any business. It becomes necessary to discuss in depth and with complete candor problems concerning personnel in order to make prudent decisions for the district. It is not always in the best interest of the district to explore certain areas of the district's business in public since they can, and have been, mis-interpreted to the ultimate detriment of the educational program.

There must be a time to discuss actions, salaries, and evaluations of personnel to make reasonable decisions without jeopardizing the effectiveness of school personnel. This past year has seen a number of such meetings to evaluate personnel and to keep

Schools Await Record Enrollment

Classes Open Sept. 6 For 2,650 Students

ADMINISTRATIVE LINEUP—Northville school administrators are working feverishly to prepare for opening day of schools. Part of that activity was a work shop held last week, in which these administrators participated:

(seated l-r) Assistant Superintendent Raymond Spear, Superintendent Alex M. Nelson, Administrative Assistant Elroy Ellison, (standing) Ronald Horwath, new assistant principal at the high school, Fred Holdsworth, new high school principal, Dutch Van Ingen, junior high school principal, Harry Smith, principal of Main street elementary school, Milton Jacobi, principal to head the Moraine elementary school now under construction, and Robert W. Stafford, new principal of the Amerman elementary school.

There's little doubt about it: Northville's four public schools will be bulging at the seams when doors open September 6 to a record-shattering 2,650 students.

The fifth, still unfinished Moraine elementary school, is not expected to be ready for students until late fall or early winter.

Thus, 125 more students than were enrolled last year will be housed in buildings that already a year ago were creaking under a heavy load.

Actually, the increased enrollment appears even larger in view of the fact that Nov. tuition sophomores will be attending school this year in Nov. for the first time in history. Last year, the local enrollment included 59 sophomores from Nov.

Although arrangements for placement of students on the elementary level are not yet completed, officials estimate that 620 students will be housed in Amerman as compared to 575 last year; 550 in Main street, same as last year; 580 in the junior high school as compared to 535 last year; and 900 in the high school as compared to 865 last year. (While the Main street elementary enrollment remains the same, two more of its classrooms will be used for junior high classes.)

With the opening of Moraine later this year, enrollment at Amerman and Main Street will drop to below 500 in each, with 350 attending Moraine.

Altogether, some 1,124 students were housed in the two elementary schools last year with 37 teachers. This fall, after the opening of Moraine, 1200 students will be housed in three buildings with 42 teachers. The teacher-pupil elementary ratio is expected to drop from 28-29 to 25-26.

Although the high school enrollment is up, creating cramped quarters, plans are on the drawing boards now for high school additions that will increase the capacity of the school by 288 to 938. Plans also provide for future expansion to 1,100 students.

Northville's total teaching staff will hit 120 this year—provided administrators are able to hire two more teachers before school opens. That's 17 more than were in the system last year.

Of the 17 additional teachers, 11 will be assigned to the elementary level, five to the junior high and one to the high school.

Altogether, 45 teachers will be new to the system this year. A year ago, 24 new teachers joined the system. (See names and biographies of the new teachers on Page 8A.)

Six of the new teachers will be assigned to Moraine when it opens along with six veteran Northville teachers.

The two unfilled teacher vacancies include junior high school shop and junior high school special education. (Earlier this summer in accepting the resignation of Roy Herald as the junior high school shop teacher, the

On the following day, full-day classes for 350 students will begin at Our Lady of Victory, with Father John Wittstock offering mass at 7:55 a.m. preceding the opening of classes.

Sister Marion Therese succeeds Sister Bernarda as principal. She previously was on the elementary school faculty of Saint John the Baptist school, Ypsilanti.

Other faculty members are Sister Jane Mary, first grade; Sister Josanne, second grade; Mrs. Ann Zweck, third grade; Mrs. Mildred Madigan, fourth grade; Mrs. Virginia Mulligan, fifth grade; Sister Juline, sixth grade; Sister Leona, seventh grade, and Sister Raymond Cecile, eighth grade.

sive 15 weeks, is designed to help children grow in reading skills.

A physical education program also will be inaugurated. The classroom teachers will instruct students in all aspects of physical fitness, from basic sports to gymnastics and tumbling.

Line Break Delays Detroit Water Here

A transmission line break postponed the conversion to Detroit water in the city of Northville this week.

Originally slated for Monday, City Manager Frank Ollendorff said the new schedule calls for switch-over either Friday or Saturday.

The transmission line connecting the Detroit line at Center and Baseline to the city's reservoir split at a joint when water was flushed through the line last Saturday.

Manager Ollendorff reported that it was repaired Monday and that the line was retested Tuesday and Wednesday.

Purity tests will be made after water is transmitted through the line Wednesday and Thursday. If the purity and pressure tests are successful, Detroit water will be run into the system Saturday, the Manager stated. Users will be notified by mail Saturday of the switchover.

Kelly's the Name

Manager Ollendorff had more on his mind than street improvements and water lines last week.

His wife, Donna, gave birth to an eight pound, two ounce daughter, Kelly Deanne, Wednesday, August 17. The new daughter was born at St. Mary hospital at 2:54 p.m. Mrs. Ollendorff returned home Sunday. The Ollendorffs live at 411 East street and have a one-year-old son, Todd.

Hospital Patients Enjoy 14th Annual Fair Here

Two months of planning by committees and sponsoring groups produced another giant annual patients' fair yesterday and Tuesday at the Northville State Hospital.

It was the 14th event of its kind. Thirteen-hundred patients enjoyed the carnival like atmosphere, moving about the 17 booths set up on the hospital grounds, testing their skill and luck at various games.

All the while, Ed DeSantos and his orchestra, Eddie Schick and his orchestra, The Smith Music company of Plymouth, and the Patients Combo provided some rousing background music.

Among the booths were: ball throws, horse-race contests, easy bingo and a shooting gallery.

Heading up the entertainment and hospitality committees were Mrs. George M. Schueder, 45926 Pickford, and Mrs. Charles E. Ratiiff, respectively.

Co-chairmen for the entire event were Louis J. Schuldt, director of community relations for the hospital, and Richard V. Lindsey of Detroit.

Included among the groups that provided the necessary 150 volunteers and financial support was the Northville State Hospital auxiliary, under the chairmanship of Mrs. Robert F. Lang, 105 Linden.

On the first afternoon of the fair, Mrs. Wanna Thomas, active with the shut-in committee of the fair for many years and chairman of the hospital's Red Cross hospital volunteer, was honored as volunteer of the week by the United Community Services of Metropolitan Detroit.

For several years Mrs. Thomas has been first in the number of hours of volunteer service provided Northville's patients. All together she has logged over 5,000 hours in her duties as a volunteer.

Marg Becker Writes Top Essay in Contest

A Northville girl, one of 93 boys and girls from 40 high schools in Michigan and Ohio who participated in a concert tour of Europe, has written the best essay in the Musical Youth International contest.

Margaret Becker, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Wilfred Becker of 543 Dubuar street, won the contest arranged by State Senator Gilbert E. Bursley of Ann Arbor on the subject, "Contributions of the 1966 MYI European tour to International Understanding."

Her essay is entitled "Musical Youth International and International Good Will."

Governor George Romney rested Miss Becker and MYI Director Lester McCoy of Ann Arbor in his office at the Lansing Capitol yesterday.

She will receive a large trophy Tuesday following a dinner at Ann Arbor high school held in honor of the visit in Michigan of 65 persons from Tuebingen, Germany, Ann Arbor's sister-city, and 63 high school musicians from that city.

The final concert of the 1966 MYI band and choir will be given Sunday at 3 p.m. in Hill Auditorium. The program, which will include a performance by the Kepler Gymnasium Orchestra of Tuebingen, is free to the public.

As members of the touring students, Miss Becker and Larry Woods of Northville visited Scotland, England, The Netherlands, Belgium, Germany and Switzerland.

Visits, which began June 23 and concluded July 27, included stops at the sister-cities of Bay City (Mechelen, Belgium), Sturgis (Wiesloch, Germany), and Ann Arbor (Tuebingen).

Letters were exchanged between members of the families in nine European cities and the 93 boys and girls, starting six months in advance.

She's Community's Ambassador To Northville -Novi Newcomers

Carol Wegeng, a housewife and mother of three boys, is a one-woman welcoming committee on behalf of local merchants and community officials.

It all stems from the fact that merchants and officials - anxious to welcome new families to the Northville- Novi area - just don't have the time to personally visit each newcomer at home.

So Mrs. Wegeng carries the "key" to their stores and community as their ambassador of good will.

And she performs her job with the grace and dignity of a diplomat, visiting 15 to 20 newcomers a month in and around Northville and Novi.

On her visits she brings with her a friendly hello, a pile of free gifts from Northville merchants, and an abundance of information about the community.

Mrs. Wegeng began calling on newcomers almost five years ago through the Calling Cart, which has operated in the Northville area for many years.

"Mrs. Helen Adams, who ran it then, called on me when I first moved to Northville," she explains, "and I told her if she ever gave it up I'd gladly take over."

"Well, she thought at that time that she would do it for four or five more years, but the next summer her husband was transferred to Pennsylvania. So she called me, and I took over."

Mrs. Wegeng seldom has trouble finding new families to call on. She is constantly receiving calls from friends in subdivisions who have new neighbors, from the city hall, the schools and local real estate agencies. "Sometimes," she adds, "We get names by just driving around and seeing new homes."

Once she has located a new family, she makes an appointment to see them, or "just appears on their doorstep," bringing 14 gift certificates as an expression of the merchants' welcome. One of each type of business in town is represented.

She tells the family what each merchant has to offer, answers questions about the community in general, and relates information about the many clubs, activities and services available in town.

Newcomers usually react enthusiastically to this generous treatment, she points out. "They think it's tremendous to have someone come and see them like that. They are all very pleased."

Many of them, she adds, compare this service with similar ones of other communities are "overwhelmed" by Northville's personal touch.

Laughingly she explains how one pattern appears over and over again. Sometimes she'll call on people for days before anyone offers her a cup of coffee. Then one day she'll visit four or five people who all serve her coffee "until I'm ready to perk."

Nevertheless, she is always pleased to call on newcomers and she asks any newcomer that she may have missed to call her up so she can add them to her list.

She enjoys her work immensely, noting that it's never a "routine job." "Every person is different. Many people ask me back to visit again, and some of the people I call on have become my very best friends. Yes, it's always interesting to get out a couple afternoons a week and meet people."

GOP HONORS HER-Surprised at the 19th Congressional District GOP convention last week Wednesday in Livonia, Mrs. Beatrice Carlson of Northville, was given an unprecedented citation of honor for nearly 30 years of active service with the Republican Party. A GOP precinct delegate for nearly a decade, Mrs. Carlson received the corsage she admires here and a standing round of applause by the conventioners. Mrs. Carlson stepped down from her delegate post this year and was succeeded by A. T. Gillahan of Northville.

Here's Her Winning Essay

It is very rarely, if ever, that an ordinary American, especially a high school student, has the opportunity to participate in promoting better international relations. I had such an experience this summer, but it is only upon reflection that the tour I took with Musical Youth International assumes real significance in promoting International harmony.

During our tour we stayed with nine European families and found them, perhaps surprisingly for a few of us, remarkably like our own American families. We had a chance to see the small towns and country people and to talk to them about our common hopes, practices, and interests. Maybe more important, we were taught the different customs of these folk, and we were able to teach them a few of ours. But from each new contact both European and American gleaned a little knowledge, and through knowledge, understanding.

A few of the many examples we brought home of contacts between people's hearts and minds are the night two American boys made grilled cheese sandwiches for their amazed and delighted English family, the day when one of our farm boys helped with the English harvest, and the afternoon three curious Americans were taken in two by three Scottish children and shown their home town through a child's eyes. A hundred more such examples could be given by each of us to show how warmly we were received and how eager both parties were to learn about the other.

While I was participating in this program I thought little, if at all, about the fact that such experiences as we had are a very important part of international understanding. But since I've been home, answering questions by my own friends about the people I met, it has very slowly penetrated how important such a tour is. We were just as much our country's ambassadors for good will as those politically appointed. And maybe our experience has been more a true representation of our country than a hundred White House White Papers or peace talks in Geneva. Political contacts are vital to keep governments in touch. However, a government is only a reflection, at best, of the people behind it. The official opinions and stands change with every change in government, but the people remain the same.

We stepped through the proverbial looking glass and saw the real people and gave them a chance to see us. We learned that Europeans are just as human as you or I, and they learned the same about us. But this contact is not confined to the families we stayed with, but extends to the three little Scotch girls who were our guides, the farm hands who helped bring in the grain with our boy, the teens we met at dances, and the hundreds of friends who will hear about their guests. And we will contact hundreds of Americans with our experiences.

Now I am an ambassador to my own country as are my European hosts to theirs, helping to dispel the suspicions, fears and misconceptions about each other. Our People-to-People tour has planted a tiny mustard seed of understanding. This will grow and blossom as we extend our influences. We have had a very practical education in human understanding and not one of us can help but be a better person for it.

Recovery progress of Jim Weidner at Mt. Carmel hospital is described as "excellent". Jim, son of Mr. and Mrs. William Weidner of 672 Fairbrook, suffered a fractured vertebra in his neck as the result of a diving accident July 27. He is now wearing a neck brace and is able to sit up. He has gained full movement of his legs, but is still undergoing therapy to regain use of his hands. He is expected to be in the hospital two more weeks before returning home.

Another Northville boy hospitalized at St. Joseph's hospital in Ann Arbor suffering from fractures of the pelvis is Tom Frounfelter. He was injured when the car in which he was riding slid off the highway. Now in traction, Tom is expected to return home in two weeks. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs.

Doug and Gip Knapp of 18333 Pinebrook, together with their children Donna, Steve and Scotty, have returned from two weeks at Lake Tawas. Highlight of the trip, according to the boys, was trout fishing. Steve caught five brook trout and Scotty caught a "13 inch giant."

FAIR TIME-While her father, Ralph Foreman, Jr. of 49711 West Seven Mile road, completes the intricate design for the display the Foremans will enter in the State Fair, seven-year old Susan Foreman helps out by picking some of the apples that will go into the colorful exhibit. The Foreman display, always a favorite at the fair, must be ready for tomorrow's judging. Until then, the display theme remains a secret.

State Fair to Attract Two Dozen Area Entries

The farmer and his wife will get a chance to compare their products with those of their neighbors, while city folks can get an eyeful of what's going on down on the farm.

Where? At the Michigan State Fair which opens in Detroit Friday, August 26, and runs through Labor Day, September 5.

There'll be more cattle, horses, swine, sheep, poultry, canned goods, cakes, needlework on exhibit than ever before.

Ask Bids Again On Sewer Bonds

Because no sealed bids were turned in Thursday on the sale of Willowbrook sanitary sewer bonds, readvertisement for their sale was launched this week.

Bids will be opened on September 7. If no bids come in this second time, the village may then negotiate with any financial institution for bond sale. Of the bonds, $345,000 worth are for special assessments while the remaining $95,000 are in general obligation bonds.

The later bonds are for defraying part of the cost of village's share of sanitary sewer improvements in Willowbrook.

The special assessment bonds are issued in anticipation of collection of special assessments, which have been divided among Willowbrook property owners.

Vandals Beware!

Destruction of an electrical meter this past week at the Ely coal yards prompted a stern warning from Detroit Edison officials.

Vandals who destroyed the meter, located in the yards east of the C&O railroad and the city well, reportedly came "within an inch of possibly electrocuting themselves" because of a high power line attached to the meter.

Parents are advised by officials to keep their youngsters away from the property.

State Appoints Local Principal For Committee

Milton Jacobi, principal of the new Moraine elementary school has been invited by the state department of education to serve on the state committee on elementary education for the school year ending June 30, 1967.

The appointment came from Dr. Ira Polley, state superintendent of public instruction, in a letter to Alex Nelson, superintendent of the Northville public schools.

This committee will, in addition to seeking for elementary education problems, also study intensively the present status of the total educational program in the state as it has been influenced by recent developments and recommend to the state superintendent appropriate changes.

The committee also will study changes brought about by the increased tempo of activity in education through new federal programs, the reorganization of the state department of education and the new, powerful role for a reconstituted state board of education.

Seed New Lawns Now

One of the hottest times to be out in the yard is between August 15 and September 15. It's also the best time to seed your new lawn.

Weather conditions are ideal at this time and those hot temperatures are excellent for proper seed germination, according to James Tyson, soil scientist with the Michigan Cooperative Extension Service. Also, there are few hard rains which can wash away the seed during this period.

The soil needs to be moist to develop a good stand of grass. "Don't let the surface soil dry out after the seed once begins to germinate," cautions Tyson.

The development of good turf is much easier with generous fertilizer applications. A soil test will accurately determine just the kind of fertilizer to be used. One pound of nitrogen per 100 sq. feet of lawn should be applied to Kentucky Bluegrass three times during the growing season. Merion Bluegrass requires twice this amount of nitrogen.

Home owners seeding a new lawn this fall can get some timely tips and hints from County Extension Service offices. Just ask for extension folder-211-entitled "Making a New Lawn".

Pay Hikes in Store For All Teachers

New and old teachers alike will share in hefty pay hikes when school resumes in 12 days.

There's only one hitch. Negotiated salary figures must be ratified by the teachers tonight and subsequently by the Northville school board at its meeting Monday.

Indications are that both bargaining committees will be pushing hard for ratification of the salary schedule. In the event of approval by both sides, here's what teachers will be paid this year.

Teachers fresh out of college will receive $5,600, a boost of $500 over last year's beginning salary. Others on the bachelor's level can earn as much as $8,280, $1,180 more than last year and in 11 years.

Teachers with an MA will get a $600 increase, starting at $6,000, while those in the upper brackets can climb as high as $9,765 in 11 years. Last year the maximum was $8,500 in 12 years.

A teacher with a master's degree who has taught 15 years can expect $10,255, an increase of $1,255, and in 20 years he can reach $10,765 as opposed to $9,500 last year.

With an MA plus 30 hours, a teacher will get a hike of $800, starting at $6,500 and he can earn $10,585 in 11 years, an increase of $1,785. It took 12 years previously to hit the maximum.

The biggest boost, however, will go to teachers who have an MA plus 30 hours and who are on the super maximum level. They'll get anywhere from an additional $1,814 to $1,870 with 15 and 20 years experience, respectively. Salaries range from $11,114 to $11,670.

The proposed package also contains five essential fringe benefits, including: - 10 days of sick leave per year for those with one through five years in the system, and 15 days per year for six or more years, cumulative to 110 days.

- Three business days per year. - Tuition reimbursement of $20 per semester hour up to $200 per year, not to exceed $200 per year.

- Extra credit pay of $100 for each group of 10 hours earned beyond the initial 10 hours required beyond the bachelor's degree.

- Extra curricular pay amounting to a total outlay of $3,000.

The bonds are issued for the purpose of defraying part of the cost of the Village's share of sanitary sewer improvements, and the full faith and credit of the Village are pledged for their payment. The Village will be required by law to levy ad valorem taxes without limitation as to rate or amount for their payment.

No interest will be allowed on the good faith checks, and checks of the unsuccessful bidders will be promptly returned to each bidder's representative or by registered mail.

Bids shall be conditioned upon the unqualified opinion of Miller, Canfield, Paddock and Stone, attorneys of Detroit, Michigan, approving the legality of the bonds, which opinion will be furnished without expense to the purchaser of the bonds prior to the delivery thereof. The Village shall furnish bonds ready for execution at its expense. Bonds will be delivered at Detroit, Michigan.

College Registration

Registration procedures for students enrolling in evening college classes at Schoolcraft college this fall were underscored this week by Registrar Norman H. Dunn, as the college prepared to process an anticipated 2,800 day and evening college students August 29, 30 and 31.

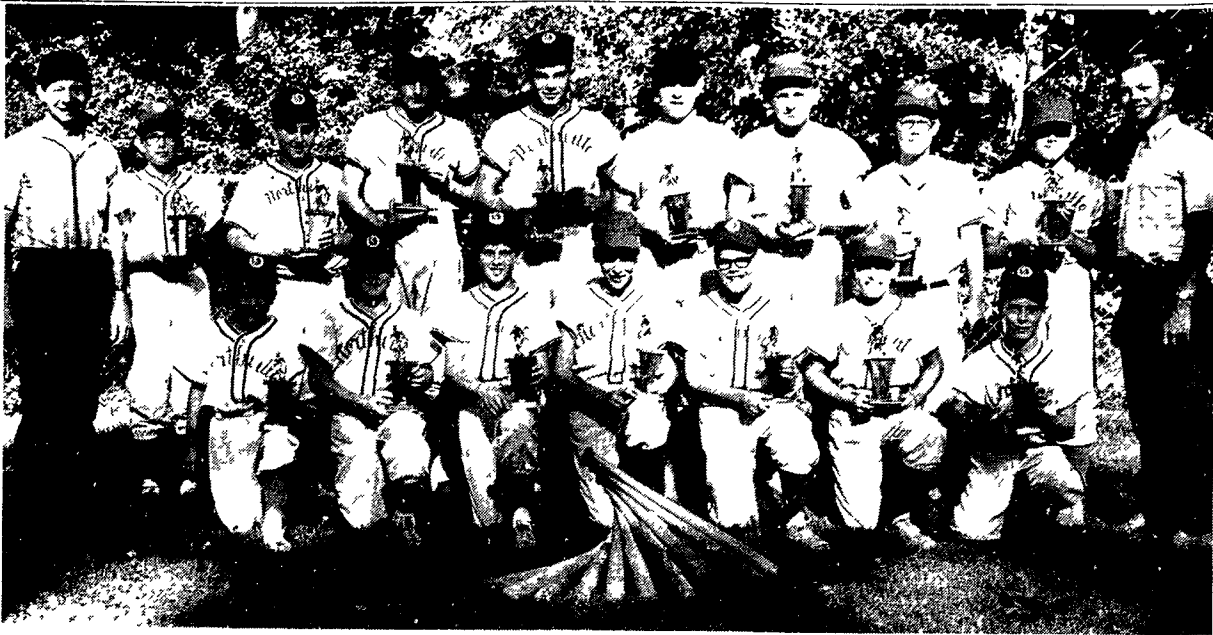

Dunn placed particular emphasis on two categories of evening college students: those who have made application to the college but have not been counseled, and students living within the college district but who have not yet applied for admission.

Students who have applied but have not been counseled, whether they have previously attended Schoolcraft or are newly accepted, will register between 7 and 9 p.m. on any of the three nights of August 29-31.

Classes for both day and evening college start Thursday, Sept. 1.

LaRue, (standing) Coach Jim LaRue, Mark Krause, Jim Hostetler, Matt Liacos, Bernie Bach, Jerry Crawford of the Orioles, Steve Utley, Chuck Cook, Joe Boland and Assistant Coach Terry LaRue. Absent were Jeff

Moon, Hugh Jones and Brad Cole of the Orioles. To enter the tournament for boys 13 and under, the Braves picked Suckow, Crawford and Cole from other Northville teams as permitted by the rules.

Braves Explode in Seventh To Cop Inter-City Crown

It looked like curtains for the Castorlines Braves. They were down 6-0 in the inter-city championship game at Livonia's Ford Centennial field last Thursday evening, and Allen Park's fast-balling right hander, Bruce Coogan, seemed to be getting stronger as the game progressed. But the Braves dug in, Coogan began to slip a bit, and boom—the Braves exploded for four big runs. Still they trailed, 6-4. The sixth inning was uneventful as the Braves methodically went down. Then in the seventh and final inning it happened. Northville tallied once to inch up to Allen Park, 6-5, and with men on second and third with two out, Bernie Bach punched a single to center to score the tying and winning runs. A jubilant squad of Braves whooped it up as they literally flew off the field, champions of the inter-city tournament by a 7-6 margin. It was a fitting finale to a season that saw the Braves start slowly and gain momentum to almost catch University Litho in the class E recreation league for boys 13 and under. Litho was 12-2, the Braves 11-3. In the last half of the season, the Braves lost only one game, by a 3-2 count, and won six, including a savory 3-0 whitewash of Litho. The Braves were just as effective in the tournament as they churned out three harrowing victories to post an over-all record of 14-3. They also edged Dearborn Heights, 4-1, and Westland, 13-12, in extra innings. But the victory over Allen Park was the prize plum, the pick of a fruitful season in which the Braves proved their baseball maturity. It started out badly, however, as Allen Park scored three times in the first inning on two singles and two fouls, and added single runs in the second, on a triple and an error, and in the fourth on a home run. Trailing 6-0 going into the bottom of the fifth, the Braves' Jim Hostetler swung on a 3-0 count and stroked a towering triple to right field that sailed far over the right fielder's head. Three big runs trotted across moments later when diminutive Catcher Rick LaRue beat out a drag bunt that trickled down the third base line. The dike had finally burst on Coogan. The two previous innings the Braves had filled the bases, but Coogan escaped without a run crossing the plate. Now he was shaken. He left the mound after the sixth inning, since he had pitched his quota of innings, and his two replacements became rattled under the Braves' pressure. Little Rick Bingley, a 10-year-old who barely reaches above four feet, walked to start the seventh-inning rally. Chuck Cook followed suit. Then LaRue laid down his second drag bunt to score the fifth run. With a full compliment of fans screaming them on the Braves were desperate for the tying marker, but when Cook was thrown out at the plate on Steve Utley's ground ball, the screams died and the Braves were still desperate. Not dead however. Runners were on third and second and Bach was coming to bat. He swung, the ball arched over the pitcher's mound, eluded the shortstop's grasp and rolled into center field. The Braves had themselves the championship as LaRue and Utley flew ecstatically across the plate.

What Is GOOD Service?
 As Abraham Lincoln described happiness, it is mostly a matter of attitude. It is the result of your dealer being genuinely interested in doing what is in your best interests. Price estimates should be close approximations of the cost of the finished work—not come-ons so that you'll get the work started only to be presented with a much larger bill later. It is quality parts and supplies. Brake fluid, for instance, is something that most motorists are only dimly aware of. They can't and shouldn't be expected to know that some is better than others. But the dealer should know all about it for them. Though dealer cost of quality brake fluid as well as quality everything else is higher his service charges are competitive. Good brake fluid must have numerous qualities: It must flow freely in sub-zero temperatures; it must have a low boiling point; it must not have an alcoholic base which could result in dangerous "vapor lock"; it must have a chemical balance that will retard evaporation and the forming of gum; it must absorb moisture so as to prevent corrosion of metal parts. This kind of knowledge and a service-minded attitude is what enables a quality dealer to provide you with GOOD service and earn his reputation.

Reshuffled Coaching Staff Finds One Position Open

Nearly a complete reshuffling of coaches in Northville took place this year, and one position remains a question mark. Not yet filled is the post of cross country coach, although school officials indicated newcomer Paul Osborne may get the nod. Last year's coach, Charles Yahne, has been granted a year of leave. It was revealed recently that athletic director and basketball coach, Dave Longridge, will remain another year as an assistant football coach. Also joining Alex Klukach, the new head football coach and former assistant, will be Robert Powell and Ralph Redmond. Powell comes to the staff with an impressive athletic record. He coached freshman football at Central Michigan university last year, and during his undergraduate days there, Powell played football, basketball and baseball. Married, Powell holds a master's degree from Central. Redmond, familiar to most local sports fans, has had experience coaching junior high football in Northville. He'll also coach the track team as he did last year. Two new coaches, Delbert Burson and Richard Willing, will guide the fortunes of the junior varsity football team. Willing played three years of varsity football at Eastern Michigan university, and is better known in the area as a Northville high school gridder. Willing will also assist Coach Jack Townsley in wrestling, and Burson will coach seventh grade basketball. Two newcomers to coaching, Omar Harrison and John Janchick, will handle junior high school football, and in addition, Harrison will coach eighth grade basketball.

Coaching the junior high school track team will be Lawrence Dziobak, another new teacher. Returning to coach the freshman basketball squad is Dave Madden, who, after one year of teaching at Northville, left to obtain his master's degree from Michigan State university. Resuming their positions will be Bob Kucher as head baseball and JV basketball coach, Longridge as head varsity basketball coach, Redmond as track coach, Al Jones as golf coach and Townsley as wrestling coach.

St. Germain Shoots Well In State Open

Northville's Jim St. Germain made a fast start in the Michigan Open golf tourney at Spring Meadows country club in Linden last week. The University of Houston sophomore, who was state high school champion for two years as a junior and senior at Northville, tied for the lead by firing a two-under-par 70 in Friday's first round. He was in fast company. Also shooting first round 70's were former national PGA champ, Walter Burkemo, this year's state open and PGA winner, Gene Bone, John Barnum and Don Richards. St. Germain slipped two strokes off the pace Saturday with a second round 75 and then faded to 10 strokes back and a tie for 10th place with a pair of 78's in the 36-hole wind-up Sunday. Bone's winning 291 total gave him the state open crown for the second consecutive year.

Slattery, Partner Upset Favorites

Tom Slattery of Northville and his partner, Steve Erickson of Grosse Ile, upset defending champions, George Lakotish of Meadowbrook and Fred Ewald of Birmingham last Saturday in the finals of the Meadowbrook Invitational match-play golf championship. Slattery and Erickson finished 2-up to win the title. In the semi-finals, they beat Meadowbrook's Mark Avery and Tom Kilberg. They gained the semi-finals by polishing off Meadowbrook's Ken Stover and Birmingham's Chuck Byre, 3-2.

She Cops Another Twirling Award

Sharon Thomas added another honor to her long list of twirling awards when she took third place in the World Championship Baton Twirling Contest in Cleveland, Ohio, August 17. She competed against contestants from 28 states, including three other girls from Michigan. The daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Jack Thomas of 883 Allen drive, she will be an eighth grader here this fall. She was sponsored in the contest by Freydl's and Guernsey Farms Dairy stores.

Schools Await Big Enrollment

board of education decided to hold him to his contract if a substitute could not be found. Herald, who has accepted a position with nearby Hawthorne Center, reportedly will leave the Northville system anyway, thus putting to test the tenure law requiring teachers to make their teaching commitment before July 1.)

Actually, the proposed new teacher contract will not be up for ratification until tonight at the junior high school library. The board of education is expected to ratify it next Monday. While it is possible that one or both of the bodies could turn it down, ratification by both is expected.

To accommodate additional students this year, one additional bus will be added to the school's 10-bus fleet. It and one other new replacement bus are scheduled to arrive in September.

The bus schedule - published elsewhere in this week's edition of The Record - will be adjusted later in the year after Moraine opens.

No changes in transportation of parochial school children is planned.

When Moraine opens, fewer than 50 youngsters will be bused to Amerman because, with the addition of the new Northville Heights subdivision, walking-distance children will boost enrollment there beyond capacity.

Also, children from Northville Estates, who will be bused to elementary schools within the city limits beginning September 6, will be expected to walk to Moraine when it opens.

Final plans for rearrangement of rooms in Amerman and Main Street to accommodate Moraine-bound students have not yet been finalized. However, these arrangements probably will mean:

Division of the multi-purpose room at Amerman for two classes, use of the Amerman faculty room, library-art room, the Main street library and art-music room, the junior high school counseling office and the junior high faculty room.

Also, in anticipation of the new school year, officials hope to have the high school parking lot resurfaced by September 6. In addition, plans for improving the playgrounds at Amerman and Main street elementary schools are underway, although actual improvements are not expected to begin until after school opens.

Problem Quiz

abreast of teacher negotiations. I know that I speak for all the board members when I say that the fewer the number of such meetings, the better, since it does involve additional time. However, until a better way is found to honestly assess administrators, teachers, and problem students, private discussions are necessary to protect both the individuals' and the district's interests.

And finally, the district is safeguarded by the fact that no official action may be taken by the board except in open, public meetings.

Joseph Trichilo is bass player for the group, and the drummer is Mack Ramsey Margrave of Whitehall.

Richard is married to the former Sandra Hankis of Grand Rapids, and they are the parents of one-year-old Kerry Alan.

Admit Robbing, Tying Pizza Boy

A Livonia youth and three juveniles, including a girl, admitted their part in armed robbery of a Northville delivery boy when they were apprehended by the Wayne County Sheriff's department last week.

Brian Lovill, 19, of Livonia stood mute and waved examination when arraigned before Judge Robert Martin of Westland August 17, three days after the robbery. Bond was set at $1,000 and he was bound over to circuit court for trial. Conviction carries a minimum sentence of two years and a maximum of life imprisonment.

The three juveniles, a 15 and a 16-year-old boy and a 16-year-old girl will be processed through the juvenile division of the sheriff's department.

In addition, full restitution was made.

A delivery boy for the Northville Pizzeria, Dennis Brooks, was robbed of $53 dollars, threatened with a knife and fire iron and tied to a tree on August 24. Unhurt, he later freed himself.

Brooks was lured to a false address, 20249 West Main street, which had been painted over the real address, 47000 West Main street. The owners of the home were vacationing.

It was through happenstance, however, that the robbers were apprehended. As the robbery was taking place, Detective Arthur Torikian explained, two sheriff's deputies on patrol in the vicinity of West Main grew suspicious of an empty car parked with its hood up.

They took the license number, Torikian said, and later, when the robbery was reported, the owner became a prime suspect.

Moraine: Girders Go Up,
But Too Late for Opener

As steel girders were hoisted and welded into place this week, school officials cross their fingers and hoped that this strike-delayed step in construction signaled a smoother, swifter work schedule for the Moraine Elementary school, located just west of the city limits off Eight Mile road. Even so, delays have been costly... Because the new school isn't expected to be completed until late fall or early winter (it was originally scheduled for completion with the opening of school), officials have been forced to rearrange existing classrooms to temporarily accommodate pupils slated for Moraine. Once open, the 12-classroom school will house 350 of the district's 2,650 students.

800 Attend Convention For Lutherans

Eight-hundred clergymen, parochial school teachers, and laymen representing over 300 Michigan congregations of The Lutheran Church-Missouri Synod held their 82nd convention August 21-25 on the campus of Concordia Junior College, Ann Arbor.

Included in the gathering were the Rev. Charles F. Boerger and Mr. Kenneth Rathert. Both are voting delegates representing St. Paul's Lutheran Church of Northville. Mr. Warren Zabel, principal of St. Paul's Christian Day School, also attended as an advisory delegate.

The Missouri Synod is one of the largest protestant denominations in the state and recently erected a new headquarters building in Ann Arbor. The new facility, adjacent to the Concordia campus, will be officially dedicated at next week's meeting.

The church's national president, Dr. Oliver Harms of St. Louis, Missouri, is the featured speaker, informing the delegates on matters of urgent and current significance.

Matters of business included election of district officials, a proposal for a division of the district, erection of a new worship center at Ferris State college, and a reaffirmation of the district's position on fair employment and equal opportunity for people of all races and colors.

from the PASTOR'S STUDY

Reverend Charles F. Boerger
St. Paul's Evangelical Lutheran Church of Northville

From the awful routine of the daily grind, good Lord, deliver us!

A well-worn legend tells of three men working on a great cathedral who said in answer to the question, "What are you doing?"

The first: "I'm chipping stones."
The second: "I am earning wages."
The third: "I am building a cathedral."

Sounds noble, doesn't it—the answer that the third man gave? But wonder if the author of the legend ever did a good day's work. Work is hard. It's a grind. It wears us out. At the end of every day our muscles ache and nerves are strained. And the plaintive tone on our lips is: "Ya load sixteen tons, and what-a-ya-get? Another day older and deeper in debt!"

But man was made to be a working man. Why should drudgery exist? How can you whistle while you work? Why do we huddle on the wheels of the machinery or work at a stupid job that gives us the heebie-jeebies? Why do we have to plead, "From the daily grind, good Lord, deliver us?"

The good Lord doesn't promise to deliver us from the daily grind. He does promise to deliver us. He never said that we would not get tired, but He did assure us that He would give us rest. And He goes with us — into the daily grind of life, to support us, sustain and strengthen us. He gives point and purpose to our work. He gives a service we can render — to Himself and to a brother. He gives us a job; but more than that, He gives us a reason for the job. He puts us into the struggle, but He makes the struggle worthwhile.

You are delivered! You are delivered by a Christ who saved you from a life of uselessness and self-centeredness.

WITH AN EYE TO PERFECTION

An artist takes a strip of glass with flaws and imperfections (something you and I would carelessly discard), and transforms it into stained glass of unbelievable beauty.

And God makes possible another transformation . . . although our souls are scarred, He can help us develop into creatures of inward beauty and usefulness.

Through Him we can learn to overcome weakness with newfound strength. We can learn to have faith because we know the anguish of despair. We can learn to love—both God and man—because we know the emptiness of living without love.

Through regular church attendance and prayer, we too, can transform our flaws and weaknesses into beauty of character and fitness of purpose.

THE CHURCH FOR ALL ALL FOR THE CHURCH

The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the Church. They are: (1) For his own sake. (2) For his children's sake. (3) For the sake of his community and nation. (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.

Boy Spots 'Rattler' Mistake

It wasn't a diamond back rattle snake at all. So says 11-year-old Jim Ruland, a science buff, who maintains that the snake thought to be a diamond back by Novi police was instead a Massasauga. The three-foot snake was killed by Clyde Triplett in a field across from his home.

A picture of the snake and its killer appeared on page 1 of The Novi News last week.

A student at Orchard Hills school, Jim wasn't fooled for a minute, but he made sure. "In all the books and stuff, the only snake that lives in Michigan is the Massasauga," Jim reported.

And furthermore, Jim said, "Some are poisonous and some aren't. There are only 30 to 50 in lower Michigan. Most of them are found in the upper peninsula."

Jim is the son of Mr. and Mrs. William C. Ruland of 48155 Rushwood in Novi.

Schoolcraft Gets Big Gift

Dr. Eric J. Bradner, president of Schoolcraft college has announced a $10,000 gift to the college from Sheldon G. Hayes, Northville industrialist.

The gift will establish the Sheldon G. Hayes Grant and will be used by the college for student scholarships, loans and grants. A provision of the gift is that the college match the sum. Dr. Bradner said the college is taking steps to fund the matching portion of the grant.

Hayes also made an outright gift of $3,000 to the college for a Schoolcraft college sign to be installed on the campus, and agreed to underwrite the cost of a directional sign at the intersection of Seven Mile and Haggerty roads, Dr. Bradner said.

GOP Slates Coffee Clatch

The final stages of preparation for the Oakland County Republican committee's "Operation Coffee Cup" were completed this week with the announcement of the city and township chairmen for the 60th Legislative District.

Mrs. E. V. Mercer, 415 Walled Lake drive, will be chairman for the Walled Lake area and Mrs. August Kranites of 4810 Halberd, Union Lake, is in charge of the Commerce township area.

Of the 2,650 men and women who were tested at the 1965 State Fair, 731 failed the test, showing some measurable hearing.

Bargains, Sun Draw Crowds

Under sunny skies and in a carnival-like atmosphere, Northville merchants took their wares to the sidewalks Saturday as shoppers toured downtown streets in search of bargains.

Special displays were set up on Main street, which was blocked off to traffic between Main and Hutton, and along the sidewalks. Typical of these was the Mother's Club general store booth (top left) enjoyed by Deidre Sullivan and Joan Boor.

Nearly every Main and Center street merchant participated in the annual sale.

General chairman, representing local merchants, was Del Black.

'Atomic Site' Still up in Air

Announcement of the federal Atomic Energy Commission's choice of a site for its $375 million atomic particle accelerator has again been promised by the end of this year.

Rebutting accusations that the AEC has already made its choice, the commission made it anybody's guess still as to which of six remaining site possibilities might eventually be chosen.

Representative Craig Hosmer, California Republican, charged that the AEC had decided but that the White House was censoring the choice. As ranking Republican on the Joint House and Senate Committee on Atomic Energy, he put in a strong plea for his home state as a final choice.

"We should put it where the people are who can build it," he said. Of the approximately 40 such qualified people, by his count, 30 are located near the California site, he said.

Northfield township's site near South Lyon, California, Long Island, New York; Madison, Wisconsin; Weston, Illinois; and Denver, Colorado, are supposedly still in the race.

A $60,000 million dollar yearly operating budget and 2,000 full-time employees make the proposed atom smasher a prize for the area finally chosen.

Announcement of the final selection, regardless of when made, is not expected until after the November elections - to avoid its becoming a critical election issue in the six areas involved.

Justice Court

The flow of traffic in Novi justice court was light last Thursday, with only Judge Emery Jacques holding court.

Ernst Blackwell, cited for being a disorderly person, was fined $20 last Thursday and placed on two years probation.

Bruce Allan, 18, of 18238 Shadbrook in Northville, was fined $25 plus $10 court costs for having liquor in his possession August 13 in a car he was driving east on Nine Mile road near Beck road. Police discovered liquor in the car when it was stopped for a noisy exhaust.

Two Detroit men, David Herman, 25, and Seymour Paben, 31, were each assessed a $15 fine and $6 costs on a charge of using prohibited firearms. Police said the two men were shooting a .38 revolver on Wixom road at 2 p.m. on August 13.

And a Livonia man was fined $10 for soliciting without a permit. Raymond Dunaway, 26, a resident of Livonia, and his crew of four salesmen were cited for selling magazines, after a citizen called police to verify the salesmen were legitimate.

Steam Roller 'Lost'

Novi police received their first report of a stolen steam roller last Thursday evening.

It was found two miles from the reported scene of the theft, but no thief was to be found.

For good reason: The operator, without telling a soul, had driven the steam roller to the Novi DPW yard on Grand River and deposited it there for safe keeping.

That was two miles from the expected pick-up point on 11 Mile and Taft roads. Owner of the steam roller is the Ann Arbor Construction company, which, earlier in the day, had seal coated Taft road between 10 and 11 Mile roads.

In Uniform

Robert Galli, son of Mr. and Mrs. Alfred Galli of 19851 Maxwell, was recently promoted to Specialist-4 with the Army's airborne special forces.

A 1962 graduate of Northville high school, he entered the armed forces in July of 1965. Following basic training at Fort Knox, Kentucky, he was ordered to San Antonio, Texas for training as a medical laboratory technician.

Upon completion of his training at San Antonio he reported Fort Bragg, North Carolina.

He attended the University of Michigan for three semesters following graduation from high school and then transferred to Wayne State university as a part time student while working in the Lafayette Clinic's research laboratory at Northville State Hospital.

SPEAKING for The Record

By Bill Sliger

Anyone who was ever called to school by the familiar ring of the hand-pulled bell will never forget it's sound... "ding-dong-ding-dong".

First bell ... 30 minutes; warning bell ... five minutes; last bell, better hurry.

I remember well the dash up the marble steps of the entrance to our elementary school as the school custodian gave one last pull and the sound echoed just long enough to slip into your seat.

Although most children think their parents trudged a mile through waist-high snow after arising at 6 a.m. to complete chores, the fact is I had one block to go to get to school by 9 a.m. and this was usually accomplished by split-second timing.

Up at 8:20, dressed and breakfast by 8:55, and then the sprint. You had to allow about two more minutes in the wintertime.

This edition of The Record is chocked full of "back-to-school" reminders. And it reminds me of how many different meanings the phrase "back-to-school" holds, depending upon your age.

To the pre-schoolers it's the loss of brothers, sisters and playmates.

To the kindergartener it's a long-awaited adventure, a new level of achievement.

To the grade school set it's the end, the very end, of a perfect vacation and the return to the horrible grind.

To the junior high school girl it's fun and boys and girls and boys and fun and boys. To the junior high boy it's the guys and games and work.

To the senior high youngster it's the greatest. There's the girls and boys; there's the team, the parties, the marks, and the goals: college or a job.

To the college frosh there's the adventure again, the apprehension of kindergarten all over. To the sophs, juniors and seniors there's the boys, the girls, the parties, the serious decisions of career and marriage.

To the college graduate it's the melancholy that comes with the realization that for the first time in two decades school bells are not ringing for you.

For the young mother of the kindergartener it's the relief of a half-day of complete freedom.

To the parent of a high school senior there's the pride of approaching graduation, the sadness that a son or daughter has grown up and will soon leave home, and the worry of financing a college education.

To the parents of a college freshman it's the rush of getting ready, the excitement of new experiences, the sorrow of departures.

And to the grandparents it's the memories of the exciting days that seemed so hectic ... the whole experience... and the anticipation of seeing it all again through the lives of their children's children.

Back-to-school. What meaning does it hold for you?

All citizens interested in combating crime and shabby political maneuvering should be intently concerned about the new appointment of a one man grand juror in Wayne county.

And if the campaign to remove Judge Piggins from the investigation is successful, the public ought to let its disgust known - loud and clear.

Citizen reaction may be the only roadblock to white-washing Wayne county's dirty laundry.

Schoolcraft Administrator Wins Professional Honors

W. Kenneth Lindner, Schoolcraft College business manager, collected two professional honors during a recent two-week period in which he spent 10 days either in classrooms or business meetings.

First, Lindner was re-elected president of the Michigan Community College Business Officials during a meeting of that organization at Boyne Mountain, July 20-22.

A week later, he was graduated with honors from the University of Omaha's short course for college and university business managers.

At Boyne Mountain, Lindner joined business officials of all Michigan community colleges for a three-day meeting in which the organization adopted a new state accounting system for federal programs affecting community colleges.

At Omaha, Lindner completed the second year of the two-year course which meets for one week in the summer and requires a minimum of 72 classroom hours of work for completion. Lindner was a straight-A student during the 78 hours of study he completed over the two year period. Lindner, who holds a master of arts degree, received graduate credit for the course.

He was one of 277 college business office administrators from 45 states and Guam attending this year's course. Other Michigan institutions represented this year included University of Michigan, Eastern Michigan University, Central Michigan University, and Oakland Community College.

Trophy for College

Schoolcraft college is the first custodian of the Clayton H. Nichols Memorial Award, presented by Michigan Kiwanis Clubs for the best job of Circle K club sponsorship.

The award, a handsome trophy, was earned in its inaugural year by four area Kiwanis clubs which co-sponsored the Circle K club at Schoolcraft. The club was chartered on October 20, 1964.

The four sponsoring clubs are Livonia Kiwanis, Livonia Central Kiwanis, and Kiwanis clubs in Garden City and Plymouth. The trophy was presented to the sponsors at the state Circle K convention April 29-May 1, at Oakland Community College.

The oldest and best known short course of its kind in the country, the Omaha course has been offered for 17 years and is supported by a number of foundations. G. L. Lee, Jr., University of Michigan controller, is a faculty member.

"It was like this", explained Novi's Police Chief Lee BeGole as he savored a fatty pig's knuckle for dessert over at Saratoga for a Rotary meeting recently. "I saw this sign: A guy sticking his head out of a fox hole with the New York skyline towering behind him. 'Boy! I thought, "that's what I want to do, Guard New York!"

"So I joined the Coast Artillery." That was back before Lee hooked up with the infantry and harvested rats - the four-legged kind - in the caves of Italy during the second Big War. But that's another story.

So he joined the Coast Artillery. Instead of guarding New York, the brass figured he was better suited elsewhere, so they ordered him into some forgotten boondocks of the Upper Peninsula to baby-sit a Howitzer.

"The big gun wasn't much company," he continued, dipping a slice of knuckle into a thick red sauce. "Really dull stuff. Then I see this hot military ambulance scream just to pick up some guy in town who probably clobbered a bartender. It looked like fun, plenty of action.

"Every day this ambulance rips past. I just had to get behind the wheel."

So one day Lee saunters up to the chief medic and pleads for a job. "Sure," the officer says, "but you'll lose your stripes. Have to start all over."

Bidding goodbye to his Howitzer and his stripes, he took the wheel, whizzing in and out of town in daily pursuit of soldiers who took one more for the road.

After a few weeks, ambulance driving turned sour too. "I'd make my rounds, haul in the drunks and rioters, and then head back to the dispensary where I'd climb up on a stretcher and sleep the rest of the night.

"Real dull stuff. Lots of sleep, though.

"Then one day we get this call to pick up a guy who is really sick. My buddy takes the wheel and I climb into the back to keep the sick guy comfortable and we take off for the hospital.

"Soon as I see the doctor's face I know something is really wrong. He asks us if we got close to him 'cause he thinks he's got spinal meningitis and I tell 'em no and then slip out as soon as he isn't looking."

Scared and wondering if the disease was catching, the ambulance driver-turned police chief raced back to the dispensary.

"I whipped open the medical cabinet and took out this big purple bottle of detergent and started gargling. Ugly stuff. But I figured it'd kill any germs.

"Well, there I am gargling, the suds bubbling out of my mouth and getting sick from the soap. My buddy comes in, sees me frothing at the mouth and thinks I've really caught it. He shoves me into the ambulance and hauls me over to the hospital. I'm too sick from the soap to complain.

"They put me in quarantine and I'm in the hospital for three days before anyone believes that I really don't have it."

Lee finished his pig's knuckle and story about the same time. Like the knuckle, it was spiced up plenty, I'm sure, but unlike the knuckle it was worth the audience.

Labor Strikes Test Public Patience

BABSON PARK, Mass. - Peculiar countercurrents are in play in today's stream of labor events. Moving in one direction is the growing determination of workers - even in fields that affect the public welfare - to get more money and wider benefits, regardless of whether it will mean paralyzing strikes to achieve these ends.

ton. But sharp proof of the national concern over tie-ups that injure the public well-being as well as business lies in the fact that so many of our legislators did respond to a call for a curb on the air strike during this crucial year when the labor vote can determine many a close Congressional contest.

'crushing shutdowns will be made less possible - and less necessary - while genuine collective bargaining will continue to receive encouragement. IT IS NOT difficult to see why Congress is likely to be more disposed to reasoned constraints than in the past. The New York City transit strike, which was illegal, spurred millions of local residents to an anger and frustration that did not go unnoticed by President Johnson and the Congress.

to shield their constituents from unwieldy or illicit labor impasses. WHATEVER HAPPENS next year in terms of such labor legislation, the drive for higher wage rates and fringes will continue strong the remainder of 1966 and well into 1967. Employers are afraid of exaggerated advances in basic labor costs, but in many instances they would prefer to give workers what they want rather than risk walk-outs while demand is high for virtually all products.

Despite the lesson of the airline stoppage and its warning repercussions in Congress, a lot of strikes will be seen over the months ahead. There are trigger-happy conditions emerging in quite a number of important industries. There could be at least token trouble, for instance, in telephones, trucking, railroads, oil, and electrical machinery. Success of the grape-growers in California may encourage more union action on farms in some Southeast states.

Revoked Licenses Returned by Court

LANSING - Can some traffic deaths be blamed on the state's Circuit Courts? A check of last year's records makes this a pertinent question.

Under Michigan law a driver with a series of violations within a certain time can be called in for re-examination by the Secretary of State's office. If facts warrant it in the view of these examiners, the driver's license can be suspended or revoked.

The motorist can appeal to a regular appeal board. If he is not satisfied with the result, he has the right to appeal to the Circuit court.

During the first five months of 1966, nearly 11,000 drivers who had their licenses suspended or revoked by the Driver Improvement Section took their cases to appeal boards. About 4,400 were not successful in regaining the privilege to drive legally. But the boards restored the right to drive in 51.8% of the cases.

Some 71% of those who appealed to Circuit Judges last year were successful in regaining their licenses. (Records for 1966 are not yet available.)

This means that Circuit Judges have considered evidence against drivers who have been ticketed frequently and which has been reviewed by a body which specializes in such considerations. Then, in nearly three-fourths of the cases, the judges restored the driving privilege.

It also means that something is wrong either with the arresting and reviewing procedure or that Circuit Judges have been very lenient.

THE PUBLIC has an interest, and it isn't watching out very well for itself. Mr. Citizen should ask himself: How safe are our roads if more than half the drivers with records bad enough to warrant suspension or revocation can have the privilege of driving restored?

Because auto insurance rates are concerned with the kind of drivers on the road, statistics cited here can be considered one of the several factors influencing higher rates.

But if the "average" man does not care about the quality of drivers enough to make a fuss about it, it is hard to see how the situation will be improved.

TIGHT LABOR supply dictates changes to attract the help that is needed, the State Civil Service Commission has learned.

An increase in available jobs and a boost in personnel turnover have coupled with the generally good national economic situation to make placement difficult in many areas.

The problem continues to exist despite a generous pay boost averaging six per cent and a pay-for-overtime policy recently adopted for civil servants. These have helped relieve some of the personnel problems, however.

Facing the need to attract more people to state job vacancies, the Civil Service Department has taken several steps of a semi-temporary nature.

Direct recruiting in high schools and colleges has been sharply increased. Citizenship and other minimum requirements have been waived in some job classifications.

Another change has been the almost unheard-of hiring of people at above the minimum rate in certain job classes where severe shortages of personnel existed.

STILL ANOTHER EFFORT aimed at getting more applicants for state jobs was the opening in Lansing of a recruiting office half-days on Saturday. By this change, the department hopes to reach people who would not be inclined to take time off from present jobs but might be seeking new employment on their off day.

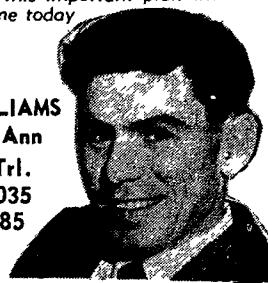

It will be some time before the trial of Saturday hours shows results, if any.

Ultimate hope is that this and the other measures will enable the department to fill its critical vacancy areas, such as male attendant nurses, institution workers, supervisors and house-mothers at the boys' and girls' training schools, and correction officers at Jackson Prison.
