

Council To Lose Kester

Northville's city council will soon lose one of its most popular members. Fred Kester, top vote-getter when he won election to the council nearly four years ago, has been given a promotion by the D & C Stores, Inc., and his new position will mean that he must move from Northville.

Manager of the Northville D & C Store for the past 10 years, Kester has been named buyer for the chain of variety stores. His office will be at company headquarters in Stockbridge.

Kester will continue to manage the local store until a replacement is named, probably in two weeks. He said that he will maintain his home in Northville until a new residence can be found in the Stockbridge area.

It is unlikely, however, that Kester will remain on the council until his term expires, next April. The council is expected to name a successor who would serve until the spring election. Officially, however, there has been no council comment on the subject.

Kester, 42, lives at 349 High street with his wife, Grace, and five children, Ruth, 16, Joan, 15, Fred, 13, Paul, 8, and Susan, 2. He has been active in community affairs serving as charter president of the Northville Jaycees, president of the Northville Area Economic Development Committee and as an elder of the First Presbyterian church.

Planning: The Guardian of Our Future

Fred Kester

Take the 58.52 square miles that make up the communities of Wixom, Novi and the city and township of Northville, stir in the per-mileage population of Hong Kong and you come up with a population that's pretty hard to swallow.

More than a half-million men, women and children!

There's little chance of a population like that developing here, yet without proper planning these communities easily could be flooded with people or inundated with industrial smoke stacks.

Basically, that's why all four communities have planning and zoning boards and commissions. "They are," as one Northville township official explains it, "guardians of our future."

In a series of articles during the next few weeks, The Record will take a look at these planning groups, examining their work and exploring the future that they and others see for this area.

In the following, first article, the purpose and work of the Detroit Metropolitan Area Regional Planning Commission and county planning commissions are examined.

It's been a long time in coming, but Wayne county has finally followed in the footsteps of Oakland and Washtenaw in establishing a county planning commission.

The 11-member commission was established earlier this year by the board of supervisors.

And now, according to a spokesman for the board, the task of staffing a department and establishing a specific planning program "is in the works."

Commissions have been active in Oakland and Washtenaw for years—in Washtenaw since 1947 and in Oakland since 1949. Until now, Wayne county, which has relied heavily upon the work of the Detroit Metropolitan Area Regional Planning Commission for information related to population projections, dwelling and development facts and figures, apparently has not felt the need for planning as has its sister counties.

"Don't ask me why it's taken so long to get started," the spokesman said. "Suffice it to say, we've finally seen the light."

Primary purpose of the new commission and of the older Oakland and Washtenaw commissions, is to develop county-wide plans, advise local municipalities, and coordinate planning of municipalities within the respective counties.

For example, Oakland county is about to wrap up a federally financed program involving—in part—development of a county land-use map. In addition to helping Oakland determine the kinds of facilities it will need to properly service the county in the future, the land-use map and its related studies will be available to local municipalities.

Township Approves Sewer Installation

Acceptance of a lone sewer construction bid and initial action on a petition for another sewer highlighted the monthly meeting of the Northville township board Tuesday evening.

Board members voted to award a contract to the Don Gargaro company for the installation of 800 feet of 8-inch sanitary sewer line on Northville road, between Seven Mile road and Bohl's Lunch restaurant.

Gargaro was the lone bidder—at $18,730, nearly $2,000 more than the project estimate. One other bid was received but it was declared void because it carried no signature and failed to meet all specifications.

The board accepted the higher-than-estimate bid of Gargaro, upon the advice of its engineering consultant, because members feared rising costs would result in even higher bids should the project be readvertised.

Estimated cost to property owners within the sewer district was set earlier at $8,755, to be paid in equal annual installments over a 20 year period.

Construction of the sewer is expected to begin within three weeks.

Concerning a petition of Edward L. Grieger, 16110 Northville road, for sewers to his property, the board took action to set up a special assessment district within the area.

Officials are to determine costs of such a project and the area to be included within the district before the public hearings on the matter.

Earlier this summer Grieger was informed by the county health department that because of sewage problems in the area he would have to install adequate sewers.

Grieger's petition contained four signatures.

For the second time, the resolution from the Northville school board for annexation of the Moraine school property to the city of Northville was left on the table. "We've heard no more on it," said Supervisor R. D. Merriam, "and I think we'll leave it tabled until we do."

Last month the resolution was tabled because township officials understood that the city might wish to annex a greater area than just the 10-acre school site.

Another request of the school board drew favorable response. Board members voted to renew a lease to the school for use of the old library building for administrative offices. Under the one-year lease agreed to by the township, the school must maintain the building.

The Record still has a supply of Northville city maps available to the public without charge.

They may be obtained at The Record office, Main and Center streets.

'No Hunting' To Mean That

Anticipating widespread violation of its recently enacted hunting ban, Northville township will put teeth in the new law next month by pressing its new dog warden into service as a hunting officer.

Warden Ron Nisun was hired Tuesday to assist the township constable in policing the township during the upcoming pheasant season.

His dog warden duties will continue. Meanwhile, Supervisor R. D. Merriam has been authorized to secure "no hunting" signs to be erected throughout the township.

Township residents voted to adopt the "no hunting" law in the primary election, with special authorization by the state legislature.

Because the township has been open for hunting in years past, officials fear the annual migration of hunters to the area will continue to be heavy at least for this first year of no hunting.

Township board members hired Nisun because the township's second constable, to be elected in November will not take office until next spring—well after the last township pheasant falls.

Band Loses Honor, Money

Label Labor Day unlucky for Northville's marching band.

First Band Director Robert Williams was informed late Saturday evening that the Northville band had been selected as the official welcoming band for the arrival of President Lyndon B. Johnson at Metropolitan airport Monday.

Three tunes were hurriedly prepared for the honored occasion: "Hail to the Chief", "The Yellow Rose of Texas" and "Ruffles and Flourishes".

But a last-minute change in security measures was made and an army band was selected to do the honors. When Northville's two buses arrived, they were not permitted to enter the hanger receiving area.

So the bandsmen joined the throng, hoping to get a glimpse of the President.

Meanwhile, back at the buses, someone was relieving band members of their lose change, which they had planned use for entertainment at the State Fair, where they were to perform later in the afternoon.

But all was not lost. The band did present a concert for fair-goers. And those bandsmen who had money stolen were given free tickets for rides and concessions.

Fire Leaves Family Homeless

The Orville Beemer family is house-hunting.

Fire drove them from their 21655 Novi road home Sunday, August 28 and since that time they have been residing with Mr. and Mrs. Del Black at 896 Carpenter.

The Beemers have two children, Deanna, four, and Dennis, seven. They'd like to rent a house in the Northville area.

Fire broke out at the Beemer's rented home on Novi road around 6:30 p.m. Firemen from Northville and Novi confined the blaze to the children's bedroom in the northeast corner of the house, but water and heavy smoke ruined the inside of the house and most belongings.

Estimate of the damage was set at $10,000. Insurance will cover a substantial portion of the loss, which includes most of the Beemer's clothing and furniture recently installed.

Anyone knowing of a house that can be rented by the Beemers is urged to contact Black, either at his home or business, Del's Shoes.

City Takes 'Sweep' At Business District

Action to help improve appearance and sanitary conditions in the business district was taken Tuesday night by the city council.

In awarding its bid for collecting rubbish and garbage for the coming year the council ruled that all businesses using the service must subscribe to two pick-ups weekly.

It also directed the city manager to work with hauling contractors to see that complete and regular service is rendered.

The decision to insist upon double pick-ups in the business district came about as a result of alternate bids offered by the hauling contractor.

The firm, C. B. Rubbish Disposal, set its annual rate for complete once-a-week pick-up of all residences and businesses at $15,000, a jump of nearly $5,000 over last year.

As an alternative, the company said it would pick up all residential stops as well as all businesses once per week for $12,600 providing the number of barrels per business was limited to two.

The firm reported that several businesses use their service just once a week but leave numerous barrels for pick-up. It was reported that one restaurant left as many as 8-12 containers of garbage. It was maintained that such firms should pay for double pick-ups each week.

Some businesses subscribe to a second pick-up, but the city pays for just one. The second call is at the expense of the business place.

Councilman Fred Kester noted that merchants who use once-a-week service often have rubbish placed outside all week as an eyesore and health hazard.

He was joined in this criticism by fellow merchant, Councilman Del Black. "I think we ought to insist on two pick-ups. It would make our city cleaner and healthier," said Black. Mayor A. M. Allen and Councilwoman Beatrice Carlson, who chairmans the "Beautify Northville" committee, agreed.

Manager Frank Ollendorff was instructed to come up with a formula for charging merchants—on the basis of quantity of rubbish—for the additional service. The council decided to pay the contractor directly for the second pick-up and handle the billing of merchants itself.

In other business the council again declined to grant permission for a door-to-door collection by teenagers for the St. Jude Children's Research Hospital, an agency aiding leukemia stricken American children.

Chris Winkler, mayor of Northville high school, appealed for permission stating that Northville is the only community in the metropolitan area refusing the solicitation.

Councilmembers were sympathetic, but remained firm in their support of the "Give Once for All" United Foundation drive. They explained that they urged residents to support this united effort and that the only exceptions were long-established campaigns, such as the March of Dimes and Lions Club White Cane solicitation.

The council approved placement of canisters, but declined door-to-door solicitation scheduled for Sunday, September 18.

It was reported by the city manager that a traffic light has been approved for Sheldon and Eight Mile roads with the city and Wayne and Oakland counties sharing the expense, Northville one-half and the counties one-fourth.

Procedure for charging for officers working at Northville Downs was also clarified. Mrs. Margaret Zayth, representing the Downs, told the council that it was her understanding that the city would pay for three regular officers and the chief of police for nightly track duty. Any additional officers, either regular or auxiliary, would be paid by the track. She said the city had charged the track for regular officers, who are paid more per hour than auxiliary. The manager said the correction would be made.

St. John's Seminary Names New Rector

The Reverend Father Eugene I. VanAntwerp, a native Detroitier who hails from a family steeped in Michigan politics, has been named rector of St. John's Catholic Seminary here.

He replaces Father Edward J. Hogan, rector for the past seven years, who has taken Father Van Antwerp's position as spiritual director of St. Patrick's Seminary in San Francisco.

The new rector's father was the mayor of Detroit, his brother, Daniel, is presently a candidate for Recorder's Court, and his brother, Joseph, is the mayor of Cheboygan.

Born and raised in the Detroit area, Father VanAntwerp was spiritual director of St. Patrick's for the past three years. Prior to that he was with St. Mary's Seminary in Baltimore for 12 years, his last five years there as rector.

He was ordained in Detroit in 1942 under Edward Cardinal Mooney, who was the founder of St. John's in 1947. Cardinal Mooney is buried in the chapel crypt of the seminary.

Operated by the five Catholic diocese of Michigan, St. John's is a post AB training institution offering the final four years of theology prior to ordination. It is the only seminary of its kind in Michigan.

Seminary training resumes Saturday, with a student enrollment of 164, 13 faculty members, five nuns and 35 workmen, all of whom live on the premises.

Father VanAntwerp is the third rector of St. John's since its opening in 1949. The first was Father Lyman Fenn, followed by Father Hogan. They, like St. John's faculty members, are Sulpician priests.

Detroit Water Still Delayed

Still no Detroit water in the city of Northville.

This was the report to the city council by Manager Frank Ollendorff Tuesday night as he revealed that the city's new transmission line from Baseline and Center to the reservoir still fails to pass the leakage tests.

The manager would make no predictions on when the trouble would be found and corrected. Water users will be notified by mail when the switch-over to Detroit water is made, he repeated.

In a progress report on other city improvement projects he said that the installation of a sanitary sewer on Randolph had been completed, electrical and telephone changes installed and storm sewer and grading slated for completion this week. He said that the street's bridge deck would be installed September 10 and paving started by the end of next week.

Martha's on Panel

Northville City Clerk Martha Milne will take part in one of the panel discussions at the 68th annual convention of the Michigan Municipal League Friday at the Statler Hilton hotel in Detroit.

Mrs. Milne will be one of six city clerks who will field questions on "What's Your Problem?", which will be moderated by Arthur J. Leutscher, city clerk of Muskegon and second vice president of the Municipal Clerks Association of Michigan.

Several of Northville's city officials are attending the three-day convention which began Wednesday.

School Lunch Prices Hiked

The cost of lunches at Northville high school have been increased, Superintendent of Schools Alex Nelson announced this week.

Food cost increases, surplus food shortages and a reduction in federal reimbursement for the school lunch program were cited as reasons for the hike.

Rates for the 1966-67 student lunches in the high school cafeteria will be as follows:

- Hamburger line, 50 cents;
- Type A lunch, 45 cents;
- Soup line, 40 cents.

Lunch prices to adults (employees and teachers) will be 65 cents for the soup line and 75 cents for the regular lunch.

Next week's school lunch menu is published on page 8A and will be carried regularly each week during the school year.

(For more comment on school lunches, see "Speaking for The Record, 8B).

The Michigan division of AAUW was organized in 1922 and presently has over 8,000 members in 62 branches.

Fall Festival Set Sunday

Northville will play its part in Plymouth's Fall Festival.

Harold Hartley, well-known Northville artist-craftsman, will be in charge of setting up the Three-Cities Art club display, which will be open to the public Sunday in Kellogg park.

Demonstrations are scheduled from 1-5:30 p.m.

Club President, Kate Edgerton, also of Northville, will be one of the local artists exhibiting at the festival. She will demonstrate the ancient and modern art of spinning.

Margret Cramer of Wayne will demonstrate silk-screen printing techniques, and Ann Ger'v and Jessie Hudson will demonstrate another historic craft, applique and stitchery. Mary Engstrom of Plymouth will work with oil portrait painting.

Artist-m'ers will wear identifying badges and will be available to answer questions about paintings and ceramics on display.

Nursery School Has Openings

The Northville Cooperative Nursery Playgroup has openings for more pre-school youngsters during the coming year.

The nursery school, which is held in the Scout Recreation Building from 9 a.m. until 11:20 a.m. Monday, Wednesday and Friday, begins Wednesday September 14.

The first meeting of mothers will be held September 12 at 8 p.m. at the Scout building. Interested residents of the Northville-Nowi area may contact Mrs. Kenneth Kaestner, 349-0698.

Planning

County-wide plans are important since "planning ripples in one part of the county can create tides in another." County commissions, however, have no legal power to regulate local planning. They may advise but not regulate, nor enforce community planning.

Similarly, the coordinating zoning and planning committees, which also operate at the county level but apart from the planning commissions, have no jurisdiction over local municipal planning.

One of the purposes of these latter groups is to referee disputes which may arise over zoning or planning changes at the boundaries of unincorporated areas, such as between the townships of Northville and Plymouth.

A proposed change on the boundary of these two townships submitted to the Wayne county coordinating committee to determine if the proposed change will adversely affect established zoning districts in either township.

As more and more areas within the county are incorporated, however, the role of the county coordinating committees diminishes. In Wayne, the county with the fewest unincorporated areas, its "days are numbered," an official predicts.

Working hand-in-glove with the county planning commissions is the Detroit Metropolitan Area Regional Planning commission, a 72-member organization established by the state in 1947 to provide the planning framework for the counties of Wayne, Oakland Macomb and Washtenaw.

Under the direction of Paul M. Reid, the regional planning commission annually prepares and releases reams of information about metropolitan population trends, dwelling statistics and related data used by counties, planning consultants, and local municipalities.

According to Reid, the latest inter-censal estimate of population and occupied dwelling units is just about ready for release.

It was this study that last year showed a population increase within the four-county region of 308,200 from April 1, 1960 to July 1, 1965. More significantly, the study revealed that 36-percent of this growth occurred during the 12 months preceding July 1, 1965.

Population growths of similar proportions are expected to be revealed in the forthcoming report, predicted Reid.

Asked if the latest, still undisclosed data will show significant growth locally, Reid said:

"In relation to other areas, I'd say no.

"Your area (Wixom, Novi and Northville) hasn't had the growth experienced by other areas, but that's to be expected since you don't have the sewers and water — the kind of facilities that spell growth.

"Population projections for Wixom, for example, are off, despite the Ford plant, and I think the lack of sewers definitely is one reason why they haven't stood up."

Aside from population trends and housing data, the regional planning commission also prepares and distributes studies of other kinds.

Most recently, it prepared, through a federal grant, a detailed flood study.

"It was done," explained Reid, "because there is an appalling lack of awareness of the serious dangers to life and property by recurring floods in the river basins of the Detroit region."

$500 in Tools Stolen From Novi Well Site

Approximately $500 of construction tools were stolen last week in Novi.

The theft was reported August 30 when workers employed by the O. O. Corsant Well Drilling company of Royal Oak reported for work.

A set of wrenches, two sets of chain tongs, a drive clamp and a chain were stolen from the site of the drilling near 10 Mile road just east of Novi road.

40 Light, Fast Mustangs Polish Up Passing Game

Throw the ball. That's the word from the practice field where the Northville high school gridders are pushing themselves to beat the clock. Little more than a week remains before the opening clash at Plymouth.

As far as Alex Klukach, Northville's new head coach, is concerned, throwing the ball is sage advice. Either that or skirt the ends to score against bigger foes.

And most teams the Mustangs face will probably be bigger. They don't come much smaller than Northville, not even on the high school football field.

Providing they continue to show well in practice, Quarterback Chris Holman, Wingback Jim Zayfi, Tailback Ron Gloestznel and Fullback Pat Hall will get first call in the opening game. Holman and Zayfi run 175 pounds, Gloestznel and Hall 160.

"We've got good speed," Klukach says, "but he quickly adds that the backs aren't what you'd call speedsters.

Conspicuous by his absence is Fullback Doug Swiss, who has chosen to sit out the season and let his shoulder, injured during the baseball season, mend.

Last year Swiss was Northville's strongest runner and the one called on in the pinch to knock heads with the opposition, slanting off tackle or bulling over the middle.

Light as the backfield may be, it figures to be Northville's forte, along with the ends. Despite the graduation of Jerry Insland and Steve Evans, the ends will be more than adequate.

Veteran Gregg Carr and Bob Hubbert are the reasons for Klukach's elation. Both measure six feet and weigh about 185 pounds, and both have good hands.

"If we get them the ball," Klukach predicted, "we'll be tough."

It's inexperience and lack of depth on the interior line that have Klukach worried.

There's a fist full of guards ready for duty, including Roger Kline, Ron Asher and Daly Hill. Each has played at least one season as a regular.

Although there are two big men who can hold their own at tackle, the pickings are still mighty slim once past the first line. Dan Conklin, a 6'2" 215-pounder will get a shot at one spot and Sophomore Steve Hughes, 6'2" and 210 pounds, will get the other.

Who will be starting at center is anybody's guess, says Klukach. "We'll have to find a center. The job is wide open." Creating the vacancy was the graduation of big Bill Bailey, who, in his first and last year, hiked the ball back with accuracy.

But he's only one of 20 seniors who graduated last year from a team which posted a 5-2-1 mark overall and 4-2-1 record in Wayne-Oakland conference play to finish third in the league.

Klukach was asked whether he thought this year's squad would improve on last year's record. Said he: "I don't want to make predictions."

He's Worth His Weight

Sonny Fortune is living up to his name.

Owned by Northville's Lloyd Spencer, Sonny Fortune has already earned an eye-popping $15,083 this year on Michigan tracks, tops for two-year-old Michigan trotters. In 21 starts, he's won 14 times, taken two seconds and a third.

Latest and the biggest conquest came at Hazel Park August 29 when Sonny Fortune won $7,000 by running the mile in 2:08. Earlier, he won over $3,000 at Wolverine in the Tompkin Memorial race, $3,500 in the Michigan Colt Stake at Northville Downs and $2,217 in the Michigan Futurity at Harrison.

State racing fans are generally agreed on one point: Sonny Fortune is the outstanding two-year-old developed in Michigan in several years. He's been mopping up opposition at state fair grounds.

With a record like that and three more races remaining this year, the Spencers, who live at 8627 Napier road, have every reason to be gleeful.

Results were not available from his latest race last Monday at Inlay City, but he'll probably be running in the money at Hazel Park next Monday, Centerville on September 20 and Hillsdale September 26.

Much of the credit, Mrs. Spencer says, goes to his driver, Ted Tavior, and his trainer, David (Shine) Thompson, men with years of racing savvy.

But equally important is Sonny Fortune's lineage. He was sired by Elby Hanover at Downing Stock farm in Northville. Ironically, Sonny Fortune's mother, Mighty Myth, never got a hoof on the racing turf due to injury.

When the racing season is over, Sonny Fortune will join his mother out to pasture for a well deserved rest — until training begins in the spring.

SONNY FORTUNE wins at Hazel Park.

No interest shall be allowed on the good faith checks and checks of unsuccessful bidders will be promptly returned to each bidder's representative or by registered mail. Bids shall be conditioned upon the unqualified opinion of Miller, Canfield, Paddock and Stone, Attorneys, 2500 Detroit Bank and Trust Building, Detroit, Michigan, which opinion will be furnished without expense to the purchaser prior to the delivery thereof, approving the legality of the notes. The purchaser shall furnish notes ready for execution at his expense. Notes will be delivered without expense to the purchaser at a place to be designated by the purchaser. The right is reserved to reject any and all bids. Envelopes containing the bids should be plainly marked "Proposal for Notes". ## College Corner

by Nancee Slattery

"Life is like an exciting book, and every year starts a new chapter ..."

September, 1966 marks a new and exciting year for college students. Already there's promise in the air of the football games, pep rallies, mixers, homecoming events, autumn concerts and plays — and studies — that will more than fill a chapter in every student's life this fall.

For the next three weeks we'll take a quick look at fall '66 on campuses across Michigan, pausing for a few glimpses of out-of-state campuses along the way.

The University of Michigan began classes during the 80 degree weather of the last week of August. In between class sessions, students have a chance to watch the Wolverines working out for their upcoming season.

Football is always exciting at a Big Ten school, and especially so at Michigan where they have the largest college stadium in the country — seating 101,001 spectators.

A new University Events Building, seating 15,000, is now under construction for basketball games.

During fall term final preparations will be made to celebrate the school's 150-year Sesquicentennial beginning in January. An abundance of events for students, alumni, and the public will be held all year.

Several Northville and Novi students will be on campus this year with the other 40,000 other students.

BARB ELLIOTT will be living in the Delta Delta Delta (Tri-Deltas) sorority this fall. A political science and journalism major, she'll cover news events for the campus paper, the Michigan Daily.

NANCY SHAFER will be on campus for the first time this fall. She spent the summer at Interlochen Music Camp, and will continue her musical studies with a music major at Michigan.

Eastern Michigan University starts a new year Sunday with orientation for new students. Classes begin next Wednesday.

Two new dorms, Phelps and Sellers, are ready for 300 students each. Two other dorms are now under construction which will complete the complex. A new dining commons will serve all four halls.

A huge new library will be opened in mid-November.

Novi Gridders Face Manpower Shortage

Unless they're building iron men in Novi, Novi's football fortunes could dip drastically this year — for lack of manpower.

A maximum of 27 gridders turned out for two-a-day practices last week, barely enough to field two teams for scrimmage. But on a few days, Coach John Osborne had reason to weep real tears — only 21 prospects felt like playing ball.

Enter Jon Van Wagner, top running back — limping. He injured his knee the second day of practice, and re-injured it last Monday.

Osborne's got his fingers crossed on this one. Unless Van Wagner's injury isn't serious, Osborne will have to pick a replacement from already slender ranks.

Things may not be as grim as they seem at first glance however. There are still some prospects who might come into the fold, at least, Osborne's counting on it.

Easing the burden somewhat has been the response of the gridders who have worked diligently thus far and made progress.

Quarterback Gary Boyer's passing has picked up, indicating that Novi will have a passing attack this year which will loosen the defenses stacked last year to stop the running game.

In 240-pound Dan Douglas, Doug Schott and Dave Adema, Osborne has three very bright ninth-grade additions. Douglas will get first call at middle guard on defense, Schott will see action at defensive halfback and Adema gives promise he'll help the running game.

Tackle Joe Morrison, who weighs in at close to 190, Guard Doug Keith and End Doug Earl have been the most improved veterans.

"The kids are coming along well," said Osborne. "Once they get over the soreness, they started to laugh. But I am disappointed by the turnout," he added, sadly.

WILDCAT—Former Northville high school star end and all-state choice, Jerry Insland, will be vying for a starting berth on the university of Kentucky's freshman football team this fall. Highly touted and sought after by various colleges, Insland will reportedly be used as a flanker or pass catching end. He broke most Northville high school pass receiving records last year.

from the PASTOR'S STUDY

Rev. Roger Merrell
First Methodist Church of South Lyon

"For as the body without the spirit is dead, so faith without works is dead also." James 2:26

One way of summing up what is wrong with the human race is that too many "wrong" people are doing the talking thus becoming "leaders" while too many "right" people remain silent - and do the following.

The adage extolling the virtue of silence is false, and deceptive, and can become fatal to mankind's development and well-being. "Silence is golden" is a monstrous untruth. Rather would I assert, "Most silence is high treason" - the resort of the coward, the weak. When did "a strong, SILENT man" ever make a worthy contribution to mankind?

The most notable example of what I am trying to say is Jesus Christ. It would have been (our maxim suggests) the point of wisdom for him to have drawn his garments about him - even "pass on the other side" - when he encountered injustice, and tyranny, and sin, and smugness, and buying and selling in the temple, and casting of stones at a woman convicted of sin. He could, by all the standards of respectable society of his day, have remained silent, even condoned the status quo. Doubtless he could have gained an honorable and comfortable place in the ministries of the temple, have been accepted by the best people, and have lived securely to an old and honored age.

But Jesus chose to speak out in words that cut across the accepted mores and beliefs of his day. Jesus could not have kept "sweet and golden silent" and been the Christ. Silence might have saved him a HIGH PRIEST, but not a SAVIOUR. Silence might have saved him from Gethsemane and the crucifixion; but his silence would not have achieved the resurrection, nor the salvation of mankind.

Jesus had to "speak out" if he was to do the will of his Father. His silence would have been treason to the mission upon which he was sent to earth. Centuries before him, the prophets of Israel had to speak out their convictions even when it meant persecution and banishment. And many Christian martyrs since have gone to untimely deaths because not to speak out would have been treason to their beliefs and their Master.

AND IN OUR DAY? I am convinced that any professing Christian - minister or layman - who keeps silent concerning the injustices, and the crimes against human personality that he finds at his doorstep and abroad in the world, is a traitor to his church and to his God. The silent Christian, the silent Church will never help bring the Kingdom of God to rule the earth.

Some of my friends say the pulpit has abandoned prophecy. I hope not. But I am equally concerned that the lay Christian does not abandon his witnessing. It is the layman's NON-silence that must finally win men to Christ, that must overcome the evils of the world. Ministers cannot do it alone.

AN ETERNAL FORCE

The wind is like the power of God.

It is invisible — you can neither see nor touch it. And yet it will carry a sailboat skimming across the waves with all the beauty and grace and freedom of a seagull.

But whereas the wind may die and leave you drifting aimlessly and helplessly with the tide, the strength of God remains eternally steadfast.

It is through the Church that man is given understanding of this Power. For by worshipping God he can acquire the spiritual insight which gives fuel to his soul and purpose for his pursuits.

co City for exchange students attending a leadership conference. Young McGuire is studying for the priesthood.

Eyes Latin America

Student Exchange Sparks Missionary

Student exchange means more than a once-in-a-lifetime experience for a young Northville man, who next year will become a missionary.

Twenty-six-year-old Thomas McGuire, son of Mr. and Mrs. John T. McGuire of 240 Orchard drive, who has twice participated in student exchange programs in Mexico may very well become a permanent Latin American fixture.

Now a deacon in the Catholic church about to complete his last year for the priesthood at Maryknoll Seminary at Maryknoll, New York, young McGuire returned recently from a two-month visit to Mexico where he was coordinator of student activities for the Conference on Inter-American Student Projects.

It was his second trip to Mexico. The first was as a participant in the locally familiar Youth for Understanding program in 1961 — an experience, says McGuire, that greatly influenced his decision to enter the missionary field.

His most recent experience was even more convincing, so much so that he would like to devote his religious life to some similar movement in Latin America.

Sponsored by the Catholic church, but run and financed by college students of all faiths, CIASP differs from the Youth for Understanding program in that its participants take on improvement projects while in Mexico. But like the Youth for Understanding program, it emphasizes the same person-to-person contact.

The United States student organization is divided into three regions, each with its own chairman and governing bodies. CIASP also has a Canadian chapter. Assisting the students are priests of Maryknoll, with consultation through Fr. Don Casey in the United States and Fr. Placido Reitmeyer in Mexico.

In Michigan, chapters are active at Michigan State university, Sacred Heart Seminary, Mercy College, and Marygrove college.

Some 800 college students from across the country participated in the program this year, explains McGuire, combining their energies in helping to develop incentive projects, particularly in rural and urban slum areas of Mexico — a country that has no active United States Peace Corps movement.

"There's nothing spectacular about the work that they do," he explains, "since they're only in Mexico for two months of every summer. But by showing these people, many of whom have little contact with the tremendous technological advances in Mexican urban centers, how they can improve their own lot the students are able to achieve little successes that add up."

For example, says McGuire, one student group showed villagers how to build chimneys for their homes. Previously, these people built fires inside their homes without adequate exit for smoke and soot.

Another group laid the groundwork for construction of a road from a village to a nearby small city. Once the road is in the people, who now must travel only by horseback, can communicate more readily.

Still other students established domestic type schools, he continues, teaching such things as art, cooking, sewing, and carpentry.

Others became social workers, visiting people in their homes, explaining the functions of various federal agencies, and assisting them in solving problems that they might have.

"But most important," emphasizes McGuire, "are the friendships that are cultivated, together with the understanding that students acquire of other cultures and of people at all social levels."

McGuire himself worked out of a central office in Mexico City, acting as a "kind of trouble shooter," visiting students in the field and assisting them with their individual projects as well as answering their personal questions.

In describing the operations of the students activities, McGuire emphasizes that Mexico itself has many programs to assist its people. And, he adds, other privately financed religious and non-religious also have excellent programs in Mexico. CIASP, he says, complements them.

Bubbling with enthusiasm over the program and anxious to get back into it or some similar program, McGuire is hopeful that the program eventually will spread to other Latin American countries.

"What is more important," he asks, "than service to one's brother?"

As for the participating students: "Well, there is no finer way to develop Christian Leadership, acquire a better understanding of the world problems, and define meaning of human values."

In Justice Court

A Flint man wanted for two traffic violations since 1963 was finally arraigned in Novi justice court August 23. James Ferris, 24, was traced when he applied for renewal of his driver's license. He then appeared before judge Emery Jacques and was fined $20 for making excessive noise with a vehicle on E. Lake drive and $20 for speeding 35 in a 25 mile-per-hour zone.

David Simler, 26, of Milford was cited for driving under the influence of liquor and paid a fine of $100, $15 costs and had his license suspended. He reportedly was weaving as he drove south on Novi road near the expressway, forcing other cars off the road. Lloyd Weaver, 42479 13 Mile road, paid a $35 fine on a charge of careless driving August 21 on 14 Mile road and East Lake drive.

Cited for reckless driving, George Kostich, 30, who lives at 40033 West Eight Mile road, paid a $40 fine when arraigned before Judge Robert K. Anderson. His violation took place at 12:45 p.m. on August 19 as he was driving on Meadowbrook road and Mallott drive where children were playing, it was reported.

Allan Rogers, 22, of Northport, was fined $20 for speeding 70 in a 50 zone on 12 Mile road at 1:15 a.m. last Saturday. He also appeared Monday before Judge Anderson.

Larry Riley, 18, of Livonia, charged with malicious destruction of property, was fined $25 by Judge Anderson at Riley's arraignment last Thursday. It was reported he broke a window in a doorway of an establishment at the intersection of Grand River and Novi road.

A Detroit man was fined $25 and sentenced to two days in jail for being a disorderly person.

Bernard R. Witten, 39, was found sleeping in a car owned by Henry W. Prowell and which was parked in the Walled Lake Amusement park parking lot. Police said that Mr. and Mrs. Prowell had locked their car before going away, but Witten had used a hook to open it.

Witten told police he thought it was his brother-in-law's car. He was lodged in the Oakland County jail Sunday

Northville City Council Minutes

The regular meeting of the Northville City Council was called to order by Mayor Allen at 8:00 p.m. at the Northville City Hall on Monday, August 15, 1966.

Present: Allen, Black, Canterbury, Carlson and Kester. Absent: None. The minutes of the August 1, 1966 meeting were approved.

Moved by Black, supported by Kester that bills in the following amounts be paid:

General	$60,153.06
Water	27,295.12
Other Government	6,844.75

Unanimously carried.

Councilman Canterbury commented that he hoped that the policy of being sure that work was properly accepted before paying any contractor any major sums of money was being observed. City engineer explained that engineer checks the work, DPW Supt., bookkeeper and city manager check on possible other expenses and do not exceed 10% which must be held back until final approval. Mayor Allen checked that Proof of Claim is being requested.

The Mayor asked that the order of agenda be changed slightly and proceed to opening of bids for improvement of N. Wing street parking lot. The clerk read the notice requesting bids for same as it appeared in the Northville Record. The City Attorney opened and examined the following bids:

Oakland Paving, Berkley—$8,038.30 (can finish by Sept. 15, 1966 — start 5 days after signing of contract). Bid bond was okayed.

Northville Excavating and Trucking Co. — $6,244.90 (Can complete in 30 days — start 5 days after signing of contract). Certified check (in lieu of bid) should have been $312, instead of $308.30.

Council agreed unanimously to waive irregularity in the amount of the certified check which was proffered in place of bid bond.

City engineer was asked to examine above bids and report back to council later in the meeting with a recommendation.

Communications:
The clerk read the letter from Michigan Municipal League requesting reservations for meetings, September 7, 8 and 9, 1966 to be held in Detroit, Michigan.

Unanimously agreed by Council that Mayor A. M. Allen be designated as the official delegate to the Michigan Municipal League meetings and city Manager Frank Ollendorf be the alternate delegate for the September meeting.

A letter was read from the Northville Coach Lines, Mr. Schiller, requesting a subsidy from the City of Northville. Councilman Canterbury asked that following information be obtained by City Manager and a report made at the next meeting, either Special or regular:

(1) Information on possible franchise fees and taxes paid — to who these are paid.

(2) Determine bus charges.

Mayor Allen asked that City Manager talk to Mr. Schiller and if necessary have Mr. Schiller attend a work session or council meeting.

A communication from R. E. Harrison, Wayne County Road Commission, regarding the proposed crosswalk light on E. Main street and proposing an alternate solution. City manager as to determine, from public opinion, reaction to both plans. Council would like copies of Mr. Harrison's letter of August 2, 1966. City manager and chief of Police to consider these proposals also and re-examine matter of left-turns onto Main street from southbound Center street traffic.

Communications from Citizens:
Sid Frid, 865 Grace street, stated that he had contacted Oakland County Road Commission, through Fraser Stemann, regarding the Eight Mile - N. Center street crossing signal light. Councilman Canterbury stated that Mr. Harrison is attempting to get together with Oakland County for a meeting. (Division of payment of a light would be: City — 50%, Wayne County — 25% and Oakland County — 25%).

City attorney rendered an opinion on non-payment of Special Assessment of Roll 66-1 for Randolph street improvement which appears on the 1966 City Tax Bill. His opinion was that property owners may pay only the city tax portion of these bills if they so desire. The unpaid portion will become delinquent on September 1, 1966 and will bear regular penalties for delinquent taxes. City Mgr. stated that the city attorney would like to have the Randolph street residents receive a copy of this opinion regarding non-payment of Special Assessment Roll 66-1 appearing on 1966 city tax bill.

The minutes of the August 2, 1966 Planning Commission were received. Councilman Canterbury commented on the Planning Commission minutes which reflected their difference of opinion on paving of Sheldon road, North to Seven Mile road. The city manager will discuss this later with council and possibly meet with planning commission later.

The building report for July, 1966, was received.

The Police Report for July, 1966, was received. Two items on this report were discussed. City Manager stated a new form was being evolved by the present Police Department which would clarify these items.

The clerk read the notice asking for bids in Workmen's Compensation Policy for City of Northville. Following bids were opened and examined by city attorney:
Michigan Mutual Insurance — $3,512.33.
Northville Insurance Agency — $3,512.

After short discussion re. small difference in the two bids and also that Northville Insurance Agency is a local office, it was moved by Canterbury, supported by Kester to award the Workmen's Compensation Policy for the city of Northville to the Northville Insurance Agency (Ken Rathert). Unanimously carried.

Moved by Kester, supported by Allen to change the next regular council meeting from September 5 (Labor Day) to Tuesday, September 6, 1966. Ayes: Canterbury, Carlson, Kester and Allen. Nays: Black. Carried.

August 29th was designated as a Special meeting to discuss organizational meeting for Citizens' Advisory Committee. Planning Committee chairman and one other planning commission member are to be asked to attend this meeting. Moved by Carlson, supported by Kester to advertise for bids for Garbage and Rubbish Contract for City of Northville, 1966-67 to be received on August 29, 1966, 8 p.m. at Northville City Hall. Unanimously carried.

Progress report on City Improvements:
Randolph St. Improvement — Utility poles will be moved by Edison and Telephone company. Walls of bridge have been formed and will be poured August 16. During the intervening time, a temporary footbridge will be placed across the walls. Bridge will be done within 10 days to 2 weeks.

Water — All house leads have been replaced except for one on east side and five on western end — these are to be done after grading takes place.
Storm Sewer — West end of Randolph street, 120 ft. to be done by August 16; east end — 2 blocks remaining to be done after August 16 — will begin on this within 2 to 3 days.

Grading — Asphalt removal to be completed by August 17.

Sanitary Sewer — done except for east end portion; Gas company has completed all work east of bridge — they will begin connecting 12 house leads west of bridge — 1 or 2 days needed to remove old gas lines — should be done the end of present week.

Paving — Hope to have this done by September 1. City Manager was asked to check contract for compaction of Randolph street.

Detroit Water — Two more days work on meter pit at North Center and Baseline and 2 days work at north end — earliest possible date for Detroit water would be August 22. City Engineer and city manager are to check as to whether top of meter box can be lowered — or if this is necessary, report to Mayor Allen. (Faucet is to be installed at Spring on S. Main street).

Novi Sewer — 2 weeks before meter will be received — city manager has not received verification that this has been shipped.

Special meeting, City Council, August 29, 8:00 p.m.

Present: Mayor Allen, Councilmembers Black and Carlson.
Bids were received for 1966-67 garbage collection and disposal. C. B. Brooks submitted the lone proper bid, as follows:

Once per week pick-up of all residential and commercial — $15,000.
Monthly charge per customer for second pick-up — $8.00.

Discussion of alternatives took place between the Council, Mr. Brooks and the City Manager. Council directed the Manager to meet with Mr. Brooks to obtain further data for the next meeting.

The Manager reported information concerning a request from Northville Coach Lines for a subsidy from the city. The manager was instructed to meet with Northville Township officials and to look further into federal aid programs in this regard. Mayor Allen noted that much more study would be necessary before a decision will be made.

Councilman Black moved approval of the payment of $210.73 to the Northville Jaycees for Fourth of July program expenses and that a letter be written thanking them for a good job. Councilwoman Carlson supported the motion. Motion prevailed unanimously.

Mayor Allen requested that discussion of Citizens Committee objectives

SideWalk — N. Center street sidewalk will be done by time school starts. City Manager reported that six trees on city property are to be removed; county will remove several, Detroit Edison will remove one and sample are being taken from 5 trees.

Green Ridge Nursery submitted bid on removing trees as follows:
3 trees @ $25.00; 1 tree @ $80.00; 1 tree @ $162.00; 1 tree @ $180.

City manager was instructed to have these trees removed by Green Ridge Nursery. City manager is to also look into tree planting program. City engineer submitted following recommendation:
The two bids received have been checked and reviewed. Northville Trucking had a minor error in addition which placed their bid at $6245.50 instead of $6244.90.

This bid is less than the estimate and $1792.80 below that of Oakland Paving.
I therefore recommend the Northville Trucking, Paving and Excavating, Inc. of Northville, Michigan, be awarded the contract. — H. Penn, City Engineer.

Moved by Carlson, supported by Kester that Northville Excavating, Paving and Trucking Company of Northville, Michigan be awarded contract for improvement of N. Wing street parking lot at $6,245.50. Unanimously carried.

City attorney reported that at December 2, 1963 meeting, the Northville City Council moved to vacate 6 ft. easement on north side of lot #3, Northville Heights Subdivision. He recommended that this vacation be done by Resolution and properly filed.

Moved by Kester, supported by Black that following resolution, vacating 6 foot easement on north side of Lot 3, Northville Heights Subdivision be adopted (Resolution on file). Unanimously carried.

The city attorney also presented a petition from following residents of Wing court asking that Lot 260, Assessor's Northville Plat #3 be divided into 4 parts so that each portion will be substantially across from their property so they can maintain said parcel as a front yard.

Moved by Kester, supported by Black to adopt resolution approving petition as set forth in filed petition. (Resolution on file). Ayes: Black, Carlson, Kester and Allen. Abstaining: Canterbury. Carried.

There being no further business, the meeting adjourned at 11:10 p.m.

Respectfully submitted

HOW MUCH DO YOU WANT A SAFE CAR?
The contrariness of human nature makes merchandising experts age prematurely. Here's an example of why:
The National Safety Council recently made a survey of why many people who had seat belts installed in their cars refused to wear them. The answers aren't too surprising to marketing men who have experienced the low sales appeal of safety.
A very large percentage of motorists said that seat belt brought unpleasant images of wrecks and injury to their minds. By not using the belts they blanked out the unpleasant image and thereby felt safer.
Most motorists conceded that the belts might save their lives but couldn't be bothered using them. Women complained that the belts wrinkled their clothing and many men thought they were "stiffened" though "straight for women and children."
In every auto accident there are two collisions. One when the body of the car strikes an object. A second one when the bodies of the occupants strike the inside of the car. The second collision does the human damage.
If a car body was built like a Sherman tank, nothing known today but a seat belt could stop the deadly second collision.
Seat belts create pleasant images too. And they have social significance. I'm reminded of the baby-sox teenager saying to her friend as her fiance drove off in his convertible: "I just know Alvin is faithful. His seat belt NEVER needs adjusting."

New Billboard Law to Improve Scenery

LANSING — Michigan joined several other states this year in enacting legislation to help preserve natural beauty along roadways.

A highway billboard bill passed by the legislature was the result of agreement between the advertising industry and the highway department, the latter largely representing the viewpoint of the nature lovers. It actually had support of the larger billboard companies.

Under the new law, not fully effective until 1968, many of the scattered signs now in place will come down. Billboards of specified size will be allowed only in business areas, unless the signs give directions, mark historic spots, or advertise a business or activity on the property.

Motorists will no longer see a beer or supermarket billboard five miles from town unless the store stands next to the road.

Provisions of the bill allow for a sizeable number of signs within the designated business areas, however.

LEGISLATORS debated various forms of billboard regulations during the past six years.

It was not until this year that the highway department and outdoor advertising industry got together on legislation, now required to comply with the federal highway beautification act.

Doubts have been expressed whether Michigan's new law will meet federal standards, some of which are yet to be spelled out. Failure carries the threat of the withholding of federal funds.

DISCLOSURE by two public officials of recent threats on their lives focused attention on one of the newest units of state government: the State Commission on Crime, Delinquency and Criminal Administration.

The Commission, like several before it, was appointed to do a specific job, but likely will be in existence for a considerable time because of the breadth of its assignment.

Reports from Attorney General

Frank J. Kelley and Wayne County Judge and Grand Juror Edward Piggins that their lives were threatened because of their anti-crime activities will certainly become part of the commission's concern.

Official assignment of the Governor was to seek additional ways of preventing crime, and improving law enforcement, administration of justice and rehabilitation of offenders.

Nearly a year ago, many months before the commission was formed, State Police Intelligence Chief Lt. Raymond H. McConnell described organized crime as possibly a greater threat to American Society than communism.

A BIG PART of this threat, he said, is the large amount of money available nationally (and presumably in Michigan) for corruptive purposes with judges, police, courts and other public officials.

Kelley's and Piggins' disclosures brought out McConnell's point distinctly. Apparently the threatening parties decided money would not deter these two men from their public responsibilities.

National statistics on crime and delinquency rise annually. Michigan is no exception.

The 47-man commission hopes to have some recommendations ready by the end of this year. Despite its seemingly unwieldy size, the commission's makeup tends to encourage the idea that some progress might be forthcoming.

PART OF the emphasis during the 1967 Michigan Week observance will be on youth.

Robert Miller, chairman of the Greater Michigan Foundation's Council on youth programs, convinced the entire sponsoring organization of the annual brag week that there is considerable need for this emphasis.

He has called for a young people's conference in every Michigan community on Youth Day, the final day of Michigan Week.

"We have been losing some of our best youth talent to other states," says Miller. "Every effort must be made to see that they find the opportunities they seek right here in Michigan. We must get close to them and through their own expressions find out just what they seek in Michigan."

The past two years, the Youth Day programs throughout the state have been focused on the school dropout problem.

In 1967, Miller's plan for youth forums at the community level could bring to light any number of problems involving teenagers who are considered average or above, rather than those at the dropout level.

Miller envisions the 1967 community forums as possibly leading to a statewide conference in 1968, similar to a state meeting held in Flint last year on the dropout situation.

Good Times Need Guarding

BABSON PARK, Mass. — Although there are some clouds on the horizon, right now we Americans are riding the crest of the biggest wave of prosperity ever enjoyed by any people in the history of the world. Today more Americans are better fed, better dressed, better educated, and more financially independent than ever before.

At recent date the total assets of Americans were estimated at a whopping $2,245 billion. Roughly two-thirds of this amount consisted of current assets, including $651 billion in corporate stocks and bonds. Fixed assets comprised the remaining one-third, and of these more than $500 billion represented investments in home ownership.

On the debit side, the total liabilities of Americans were estimated to be $280 billion. These included current liabilities of $82 billion and mortgage debt of $198 billion. Subtracting these total liabilities from total assets leaves us with $1,965 billion. This is the net worth of American consumers.

Of course, such a favorable consumer balance sheet could not be drawn up if it were not for the fact that we have been able to achieve such a rapid rise in personal income over the past several years. Personal income just recently was at an annual rate of $579.7 billion. Ten years ago, it was at an annual rate of $332.2 billion, giving us an increase for the decade of an astounding 74.5%.

THE RISE in income reflects the growth which has taken place in the economy. There has been a tremendous advance in number of people employed and in total of salaries and wages. But there has also been a sizable increase in interest and dividend payments because of the larger sums invested and the generally higher rates of return now prevailing. In addition, there has been a big boost in government payments for veterans' aid, pensions, social security, and Medicare.

The asset-to-debt position of consumers as a whole looks so encouraging on paper it tends to make us overlook the fact that installment credit outstanding is also at record dollar levels. The income picture, too, looks fine, — but it tends to make us overconfident. The truth is that our economy has undoubtedly expanded too fast for its own good. The net effect of so much demand-pull all at once has been to create a cost-push that could prove very dangerous if not curbed.

We are prosperous at the moment, but it is a high-cost economy that we have developed and break-even points for both business and individuals are working still higher. In addition to the rapid drift toward socialism in government and the consequent growing dependence of the people upon government, there is an alarming tendency for younger Americans to overspend and to go sharply into debt. These trends we cannot stop, but we can insulate ourselves against them.

IF YOU ARE under 50, do not neglect to invest in life insurance. Do this before, and in preference to, buying stocks. Then build up a savings account and keep it built up. Work hard at your job or in your own business so that by developing your own resources you can obtain a degree of financial independence. Above all, be wary of debt of any kind ... and of extending too much credit to your customers if you have a business.

Top of the Deck

by JACK W. HOFFMAN

It used to be when Thursdays rolled around and the icebox trays started rattling, the wife would sigh, "Oh, well, we can have bacon, lettuce and tomato sandwiches."

The words, familiar as they were, hit me in the pit of the stomach and rolled around there like pebbles in a cave. Our kids, on the other hand, were delighted 'cause they figured their mother's best recipe came between two slices of bread.

Not any more. The start of the end of our Thursday treat came wrapped in a package marked $1.09 a pound.

"A $1.09 a pound!" I screamed at my wife after she hefted seven grocery sacks into the kitchen. "Were you the high pork bidder at the county fair? The back side of the pig must have been coated with gold."

I put my foot down. Right on top of the $1.09 price tag. "No more bacon".

So when the next Thursday rolled around and the five kids and I scooted our chairs up to the table, a plate full of bologna sandwiches, tastefully decorated with a steaming dish of beans and tall glasses of milk, greeted us. "No more bacon," the wife reminded me. "Lettuce and tomatoes you can have on the bologna."

Like any good husband who knows when to tread lightly, I swallowed my protests along with the bologna.

But awhile later along came this note about the battery of milk bottles on the porch being pinched between the farm and the dairy. And since it's easier to squeeze shekles from my billfold than juice from a cow, our bill was hiked.

So as my blood pressure rose our family's milk consumption dropped. By Thursday the icebox trays rattled even more, and our bologna sandwiches looked kinda lonely with just beans and tomato slices.

Last week when word came that someone was pinching the flour between the oven door and the wheat field, the wife came over to my side. "Bacon, milk, OK, But bread? Never."

So we put our heads together and came up with the simplest solution. In a single, decisive move, we decided to cross Thursdays from the calendar.

The way we figure it, if we can rid ourselves of Thursdays the icebox trays won't rattle anymore and our good grocer won't have to keep offering us his embarrassed apologies.

As a matter of fact, we think the idea's such a good one that some of you "Thursday" folks out there might like to join us.

Just think, no more rattling trays and bologna sandwiches!

SPEAKING for The Record

By Bill Sliger

Inflation is just another word used by economists and politicians until it hits home.

Then its application becomes a little more descriptive, like: "wow, that's a lot of money"; or "what are you trying to do, get rich quick?"

President Johnson aimed his Labor Day address in Detroit at the pitfalls of inflation and urged both management and labor to beware of this "pick-pocket".

About the only thing I can think of that hasn't increased in cost during the past decade or two is the cost of a package of gum. Maybe we ought to ask Mr. Wrigley how he does it.

Last week the city council learned that the price of hauling away rubbish and garbage during the next 12 months will increase nearly 50 per cent - from $10,620 to $15,000.

This week high school youngsters and teachers learned that their lunches will cost more.

At the beginning of last year a regular "soup line" lunch cost 30¢. Later it was increased a nickel. The "Type A" lunch and "hamburger line" also jumped a nickel last year, going from 35¢ to 40¢ and from 40¢ to 45¢.

This year the soup-liners will pay 40¢, the "Type A", 45¢ and the hamburger line, 50¢.

Teachers and school employees (adults) will pay 65¢ for the soup line, compared to 45¢ last year, and 75¢ for the old 50-cent adult school lunch.

So the "pickpocket" is at work. And he's finding fair game in fatter paychecks.

It's a vicious circle best described by the anonymous sage who said, "you can't win".

I talked to Mrs. Marie Knapp about the high school lunches. She has managed the high school cafeteria since it opened and has been in the business for 18 years.

She's proud of her crew and the lunches they prepare. There's eight members, including herself, serving the 900-plus students at the high school. The staff is made up of a cook I and II, baker, salad maker, dishwasher and two cashiers.

"We bake all our own cakes, rolls and bread", she told me. Then she explained again. "This means bake from scratch, not from a box".

"No Betty Crocker or General Mills"? I asked.

"No stree", she replied, and I could suddenly smell the aroma of grandmother's kitchen.

Mrs. Knapp also explained that a "Type A" lunch must contain one-half pint of milk; two ounces of lean meat; poultry or fish or two ounces or cheese or one egg; a three-quarter cup of vegetables or fruits; one slice of bread; and two teaspoons of butter.

A reduction in surplus food commodities and a reduction in federal reimbursement for the school lunch program is responsible for the hike in lunch rates.

Butter has become critically short and Mrs. Knapp revealed that it may be dropped entirely.

But business boomed on the first day of school. More than 150 pounds of hamburger and 1,000 cartons of milk were wolfed down by the returning students.

"Sometimes we hear complaints," said Mrs. Knapp (and she mentioned a few choice words that some youngsters have used to describe the day's menu), "but generally our students are the best behaved of any I've seen."

When they come back to Northville after eating at other school cafeterias, they tell Mrs. Knapp that her lunches are the very best.

And why shouldn't they?

Homemade bread.....!!!!!!!
