

Can a Democrat Fiorilli Predicts Upset of Merriam

The excitement in Northville township elections usually takes place in the primaries, when Republican is pitted against Republican.

A Democratic name on the local ballot is a rarity; that a race between township Republican and Democrat could be close is without precedent.

But Democrat Joseph Fiorilli is determined to make a race of his bid to unseat Republican Supervisor Robyn D. Merriam. This week he predicted victory as a result of his house-to-house, meet the voter campaign.

The odds are still very much against Fiorilli, but there are signs that his determined campaigning have caused supporters of Merriam to do some last-minute campaigning of their own.

Aside from Fiorilli, the only other Democratic name of the township ballot is that of Mrs. Eugene Guido, who is running against the Republican candidate for clerk, Mrs. Crispin Hammond.

All the other candidates are unopposed Republicans. They include: Treasurer A. M. Lawrence; Trustees Thomas Armstrong, Bernard Baldwin and Gunnar Stromberg; and Constables Richard Mitchell and Joseph Siprak.

Winners of the contests in the township election do not take office officially until next April. Merriam, if re-elected, and Lawrence, both incumbents, would continue in office. Baldwin is also presently on the board having been appointed to fill the vacancy created by Trustee Wilson Tyler's resignation following the August primary.

Other members of the board include Clerk Mrs. Marguerite Young, who retires in April, and Trustee James Tellam, whose term has two more years to run.

Merriam is serving his second two-year term as supervisor. He was employed by the Wayne County Road Commission for 40 years and was engineer in charge of bridges, structures and expressways when he retired in 1963. He is a graduate of the University of Michigan and is a civil engineer. He is married, has three daughters and lives at 18910 Beck road.

Fiorilli is an option program coordinator for Ford Motor Company. He was graduated from Xavier University and once taught English and history in high school. A resident of Northville township for 3 1/2 years, the 47-year-old Fiorilli lives at 39914 Harbert drive and is married and has one son.

Democratic clerk candidate, Mrs. Dorothy Guido, is presently active as an executive board member and women's chairman of the 2nd Democratic Congressional District of Wayne county. She is a former girl scout leader, den mother and an election official of Northville township. She is active in P-TA functions, and has been employed in the past by the Chrysler Corporation, working out of the company's administrative offices. She lives at 20390 Westview drive with her husband, Eugene, and their three children.

Mrs. Eleanor Hammond, Republican candidate for clerk, has been employed in the township offices for the past 18 months. She was instrumental in the formation of the Northwestern Child Guidance Clinic for emotionally disturbed children and she became the clinic's charter president. She also was vice-president of the planning committee of the Western Wayne Community Service group, served two years as the president of the combined Northville P-TA, was the only woman chairman of the P-TA Carnival, was a charter member of the Northville State Hospital auxiliary and a member of the Northville coordinating council. Mother of six children, she and her husband, Crispin, live at 47100 Timberlane.

Election Interest High State, National Offices, 18 Vote Age on Ballot

Despite the existence of few local issues, there appears to be plenty of political electricity in the air to charge area voters as they prepare to cast their ballots.

Just how much voltage political pundits have generated will be determined when election officials tally Tuesday turnouts.

City and township officials see a heavier than usual off-year election turnout. An estimated 1,400 are expected in the township, where a whopping 88-percent or 1,493 persons cast ballots for the presidential election two years ago. In the city, close to 1,000 are expected to cast ballots. Two years ago, 80-percent of 2,084 persons voted.

In Northville township, where only two offices offer political opposition 1,777 persons are registered to vote—an increase of 57 over the number registered for the primary in August. Precinct 1 shows registration at 932, and Precinct 2 at 845.

And in the city, where no local issues are at stake, a total of 2,518 persons are registered—91 more than the 2,427 registered for the primary.

In the primary election, 49-percent of the township voters turned out at the polls, while 32-percent of the eligible city voters cast ballots.

Polls will open at 7 a.m. and close at 8 p.m. Township residents in Precinct 1 will vote at the Northville junior high school (community building), while those in Precinct 2 will vote at the township hall. In the city, those in Precincts 1 and 2 vote in the city hall and those in Precinct 3 at Amerman school.

Although some voters of the two municipalities will vote on several different candidates, all will help decide the state proposal giving the right to vote to 18-year-olds, and state posts that include the governor, secretary of state, attorney general, education boards, and the United States Senatorial seat.

In the latter contest, residents will vote twice; once to pick a senator for the full six-year term and once to pick a senator to fill out the unexpired term of the late Senator Pat McNamara. While it isn't likely to happen, voters could send one candidate to the Senate for two months and the other for the longer, more important term of office.

For the Congressional race, voters of the township and the Wayne county portion of the city will make a pick between Democratic incumbent Weston Vivian and Republican Marvin Esch. Voters in the Oakland county portion of the city will decide between Democratic incumbent Billie Farnum and his Republican challenger, Jack McDonald.

Oakland county residents in the city will decide between Democrat Dwight Lawler and Republican incumbent Clifford Smart of Walled Lake for the state house of representatives, while those in the city's Wayne county section and Northville township will decide between Democratic incumbent Marvin Stempfen and Republican Louis Schmidt.

Voters in both Oakland and Wayne counties here will find the same state senator candidates on the ballot: Democrat Paul Livingston and Republican George Kuhn.

Horseowners May Ask Vote On Restrictions

Northville township horse owners let their displeasure be known to the township board Tuesday night over the recently adopted amendment to the ordinance governing the keeping of horses.

They asked the board to consider less restrictive changes. They also indicated that they would file a petition for a referendum of the issue, a maneuver that would withhold enforcement of the amended ordinance until an election, or compromise agreement had been reached.

About a dozen horse owners attended the meeting. Their spokesman was Robert Geake. Specifically, they asked that the land requirement be reduced to one acre for one horse. Additional horses would be permitted on the basis of one per major portion of one acre. They also asked that fences be permitted to lot lines, instead of setback, where neighbors agreed.

Under the new amendment there must be three acres for one horse, five for two, seven for three and five acres for each additional. Horse owners called this unreasonable and questioned its legality.

Township Trustee Bernard Baldwin pointed out that the proposal of the horse owners would be less restrictive than the original ordinance.

Even though present horse owners could continue to use their land for horses under the old ordinance as a non-conforming use, it was pointed out that sale of the land would remove the non-conformity. Mrs. Frank Angle stated that the ordinance had already blocked sale of their property. She said it is one-tenth of an acre less than three acres and that any new owner could not keep horses at all under the new restrictions.

The board agreed to ask the planning commission to consider the recommendations for change at its next meeting, November 29. Horse owners were told they could appear before the planners with their proposals.

In other business the board approved rezoning of the northwest corner of Five Mile and Haggerty roads from R-4 to B-1 to permit construction of a bank.

Unique Travel Films Scheduled Wednesday

What promises to be one of the finest travelogue programs this season is on tap next week Wednesday as the Northville Rotary club presents its second in a series of programs in the high school auditorium.

Titled "Desert to Dixie", it will feature a unique presentation in which three screens and four projectors are used.

Host for the 8 p.m. program will be Robert Brouwer, who took time out from an electrical contracting business and a photographic hobby to put together this unusual program that has won wide acclaim throughout the country.

In this slide production, Brouwer incorporates high-fidelity stereophonic equipment, music and sound effects recorded on the scene. His program has sometimes been referred to as a "movie-slide presentation."

Recently, travel officials of the Netherlands commissioned him to produce a similar travelogue on Holland, underwriting all his expenses—an unprecedented arrangement in the travelogue field.

The slides carry a flavor of the Old West, taking viewers on visits to cities known for romantic foreign atmosphere. They recapture the South's romantic past and explore the fascinating variety and vastness of the scenic desert.

Tickets may be purchased from any Rotarian or by calling Kenneth Rathert, chairman, at 349-1122.

Legal Opinion Sought

Can Communities Unite Police Forces?

Can five area communities legally form a single police force?

That's the question the Wayne County prosecutor's office will be asked soon by officials of the city and township of Northville, the city and township of Plymouth, and Canton township.

Decision to seek clarification from the prosecutor's office came last week at a meeting of representatives from the five communities at Plymouth.

Noting that opinions from attorneys have differed on the question, Richard Lauterbach, joint police study chairman, authorized drafting of a letter to be signed by officials of the five communities and delivered to the prosecutor's office.

Hopefully, the question will be answered by the group's next meeting, scheduled for November 30 at the Northville city hall.

Representing Northville at last week's meeting were Police Chief Samuel Elkins and Eugene Guido, chairman of the township police study committee.

Andrew Birtheimer, also of Northville, was present to volunteer his services as a technical advisor by virtue of some 26 years with the Detroit police department.

Guido presented the committee with an opinion from the Northville township attorney, who, like State Police Commissioner Frederick Davids, believes that existing laws prohibit a single police authority as proposed.

Lauterbach, on the other hand, indicated that he had obtained an opposite opinion from another attorney.

Because of these conflicting opinions, the group agreed to question the prosecutor's office and, if necessary, the state attorney general's office.

If the group finds that a joint police authority is indeed illegal, its members expect to help propose legislation that would permit establishment of an authority.

While the police authority study group has hardly gone beyond the organizational stage, it plans at future meetings to take up such matters as municipal support, financing, police control, make-up of the proposed authority, and personnel required.

Actually, the group that will meet here later this month is but a subcommittee of a larger inter-governmental study committee, having the blessing of the chamber of commerce organizations of Northville and Plymouth, which also is considering a proposal for establishment of a joint inclinator program. Its studies and recommendations are to be reported back to the parent organization.

THE NEW LOOK—Police Chief Samuel Elkins puts the smoothing touches on the new decal, showing Northville's historic well.

Would You Be-Leave It?

Playing in fall's collection of leaves is a favorite pastime of children everywhere. In Jerry Peterson's case it took an odd twist prompting some double-takes.

Those upside-down feet really belong to brother Robert, hiding under the leaves. The boys are the sons of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Peterson of 19665 Meadowbrook.

Halloween Prank Hospitalizes Woman

Halloween "fun" resulted in serious injury Monday night when a pumpkin shattered the windshield of a car, sending glass splinters into a Salem woman's eyes.

The incident marred an otherwise quiet Halloween night in the communities of Northville and Novi.

Mrs. Clara E. Hamlin, 21825 Chubb road, was taken to Botstorf General hospital, Farmington, for treatment. She was released, it was reported, but danger exists that she might suffer permanent damage to one eye.

"We brought her to the station," Novi Police Chief Lee BeGole stated, "and tried to locate a doctor." Unsuccessful in their attempts, police called an ambulance and Mrs. Hamlin was rushed to the hospital. To prevent glass splinters from injuring Mrs. Hamlin's eyes while she was in transit, BeGole reported, her eyes were "taped shut."

The incident occurred at the corner of Eight Mile and Beck roads. Mrs. Hamlin told Novi police that as she was driving west on Eight Mile road, a car came at her "head on."

It swerved at the last moment, she reported, and a pumpkin was thrown through the left front side of the windshield. Impact shattered glass and pumpkin throughout the inside of Mrs. Hamlin's car, police said.

Blinded by glass particles, Mrs. Hamlin said she regained control of her car and pulled it to the side of the road, police stated. She then reported the incident to a nearby resident who called police at 9:15 p.m.

Partly responsible for keeping Halloween incidents at a minimum was the use of additional Northville and Novi police to patrol during the night. Eight Novi police officers and three volunteer citizen cars were on duty in Novi and six officers and four volunteer policemen in Northville.

Thieves broke into the Orchard Hills school early Tuesday morning, however, and stole $28, police reported.

"We stopped all strange cars entering Willowbrook subdivision," BeGole said. Novi police confiscated nine and one-half dozen eggs, soap and toilet paper.

BeGole lauded the Novi board of commerce and its Halloween party for youngsters at the community building. The center of Novi, he said, was very quiet.

Northville Police Chief Samuel Elkins reported, "it was quiet," adding that there were only a few egg and pumpkin throwing incidents and some soaping of windows.

A Halloween party for youngsters, sponsored by the Northville recreation department, may also have kept pranks in Northville at a minimum.

Five small fires, two of which police suspect was the work of vandals, kept Novi firemen hopping Monday.

The first burst out at the home of Norman Reid, 28875 Summit drive. Sparks from a wire basket burner, whipped by high winds, spread fire to surrounding grass. Firemen quickly extinguished the small fire at 4:30 p.m.

Fire next broke out at 4:45 p.m. in an area south of Nine Mile road between Novi and Taft roads. Neighbors extinguished the fire that police suspect vandals ignited.

Novi firemen responded to a grass fire at the home of Stanley Ktowski, 47070 West 12 Mile road, at 5:12 p.m. The fire was confined to a small area in the rear of the house.

A very small fire at the rear of Guernsey's Dairy on Novi road was extinguished immediately after the alarm was sounded at 7:44 p.m.

The last fire at 9:30 p.m., which broke out on Center street just south of Nine Mile road, was started by vandals, police said.

Township Sets Rezoning Hearing

The Northville township board set Tuesday, November 15 for a hearing before the township board and the planning commission on a proposal to rezone 20 acres on Five Mile road for construction of apartments.

Officially, the hearing was called upon the petition of eight property owners of the area. Their protests will be presented by their attorney.

Planners have recommended the rezoning over protests of area residents. The hearing will be held at 8 p.m. at the township hall.

P-TA to Weigh JH Student Dances

Northville junior high school's annual P-TA open house meeting at which parents meet their children's teachers in their classrooms is scheduled for 7:30 p.m. Thursday, November 10.

Del Black, P-TA president, requests parents to gather first in the junior high boys' gymnasium for a brief meeting before following a condensed version of their child's classroom day.

During the meeting parents will be asked to consider what social activities they want for their junior high children. Because they have been approached by parents requesting the elimination of evening junior high dances, the board members decided to seek the opinion of parents at the P-TA. The re-evaluation of activities is being made, Black pointed out, as the junior high now is composed of sixth, seventh and eighth graders. The ninth graders, who in years past were a main reason for having the dances, now are at the high school.

Black said he had been called following the appearance here of Dr. Richard Cutler, vice-president of student affairs at University of Michigan, at a Mothers' club meeting. (Cutler stressed the responsibility of parents in guiding children and decried the early beginning of mixed parties.)

Parents will be asked to fill out questionnaires regarding social activities for the junior high-age youngsters.

At 8 p.m. parents will visit classrooms for 15-minute visits with teachers, who are to outline aims and projects for the year. No individual conferences will be held at this time, but parents wishing to talk privately to teachers may make arrangements to do so.

Notices will go home next week with students to enable parents to pre-register and pay P-TA dues of 50 cents a member beforehand. Dues also may be paid at the meeting.

WSCS Plans Supper, Bazaar

An old-fashioned chicken pie supper will be served by the Women's Society of the First Methodist church on Thursday, November 10.

In addition to the supper, bazaar items will be sold.

Three supper settings are planned, at 5, 6 and 7 p.m.

Tickets should be purchased by Monday, November 7 at the church office. A few tickets will be available at the door.

The regular monthly meeting of the WSCS will be held on November 8, with chapel moments beginning at noon led by Mrs. John Angell.

Luncheon will be served at 12:30 by the Lucy Filkins Circle. After the business meeting, some of the members will present a playlet entitled, "Suspended Judgment" or "How Not to Think."

Birth

Mr. and Mrs. John W. Blackburn of 456 Orchard Drive are the proud grandparents of a baby boy, born October 29, to their daughter, Mrs. Noble L. Smith of Detroit. The baby weighed 8 pounds, 4 ounces at birth and was named Gregory Lane. The paternal grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. Noble L. Smith of Alexandria, Virginia.

nings and Mrs. Thomas Taggart, consultants, and Mrs. William Switzer, Girl Scout organizer. Jo Krause, who is serving her third year as Brownie organizer, also is on the team, which meets monthly to help with troop problems.

In addition to getting to know each other better "so we can say hello in the grocery store," Mrs. Krause planned the coffee to give her new Brownie leaders inspiration. She arranged table displays of art work creations (like pine cone turkeys) that the fingers of second and third grade Brownies are capable of making. Since Brownie troops' treasures usually are slim, they also were designed to show things that can be created of materials at hand.

NEW BROWNIE leaders of the three troops at Amerman school and co-leaders are Mrs. Keith Pixley, Troop 220, with co-leaders Mrs. John Frew and Mrs. Ronald Spencer; Mrs. Arthur Rupert, Troop 211, with co-leader Mrs. Robert E. Jones; Mrs. Richard Davis, leader of the newest and not yet-numbered troop, with co-leader Mrs. David Biery.

There are two Brownie troops at Main street elementary. Mrs. T. J. Heckler leads Troop 205 with co-leader Mrs. Stanley Chavey. Mrs. Kenneth Beyer with co-leader Mrs. Donald Rittenour leads Troop 223.

The sixth new troop is composed of Brownies who will be Moraine school pupils. They presently are meeting in the front of the junior high boys' gymnasium with Mrs. Fred Schwarze, Troop 214 leader, and co-leader Mrs. Leroy E. Armstead.

In addition to committing themselves to weekly meetings with their troops, these mothers are giving time for training sessions, for "hunting up supplies and ideas" as well as a substantial investment for registration, insurance, uniforms, gas and "the extras" all Scout leaders seem to do. As Mrs. Krause observes, "There's a lot to be said for the woman who volunteers to lead a troop."

THE DECORATIVE aspect of antiques will be considered by Eleanor Lowell in her talk, "Hang It All," to Northville Woman's club members and guests at 2 p.m. Friday in the fellowship hall of Northville Presbyterian church.

Miss Lowell, a partner in The Barn Door antique shop on Main street plans to take a room-by-room house tour in her talk, giving suggestions for wall arrangements. These promises to include a potpourri of off-beat items home-makers may never have thought of decorating with, as well as old picture frames and hobby collections.

Mrs. James Tellam, program chairman of the day who is to introduce the speaker, says Eleanor Lowell hopes to encourage her audience to "use imagination to make their homes really theirs."

Miss Lowell, who grew up in the Detroit area amid Victorian antiques in her grandparents' home, now particularly loves primitives--and books.

Because it combines working with people, with her hands and with her mind ("Learning about antiques is a never-finished process"), Eleanor Lowell thinks she has found a near-perfect business. She will have a question-and-answer session following her talk.

FOR NEWCOMERS' club members and their husbands "Halloween fun" was last Saturday night. More than 70 uniquely costumed guests arrived at the home of Hal and Barbara Axtell on Beck road for an evening of fun and games. Bob and Joyce Cartwright were social chairmen in charge of the party.

Mrs. Kingsley G. Purton, Jr., Newcomers president, announces that the next club event will be an hour-and-half tour of Northville State hospital at 10 a.m. Tuesday, November 29. She asks her members to reserve the date for the educational trip "which will better acquaint us with the work being done in our community." Details, she adds, will be given in a newsletter.

A LOOSE LEAF

By ROLLY PETERSON

What do Jack and the Beanstalk, Batman, A Patch of Blue, For Whom the Bell Tolls, The Flies and A Loose Leaf have in common?

Although different forms of entertainment — fairy tale, TV program, movie, novel, play and criticism — they all have the same apparent purpose—to delight and entertain.

Not everyone would be inclined to agree. They would fervently object to the contention that Batman was, is now, or ever will be instructive. But then, doesn't Batman always win? Doesn't the villain always lose? Doesn't good win over evil?

Perhaps in a superficial sense, Batman does instruct as it most assuredly entertains millions of viewers. No one would grant Batman the same status, however, enjoyed by Jack and the Beanstalk, A Patch of Blue, For Whom the Bell Tolls or The Flies.

Why? Because there is an almost indefinable artistry that distinguishes the rare from the common, For Whom the Bell Tolls from Batman.

A Loose Leaf is another matter. This is its debut, the first in a series of weekly appearances. Its specific purpose: to delight and instruct while reviewing books, plays, TV programs and movies. Hopefully, there will be something savory for every palate as A Loose Leaf tries to separate the common from the rare.

The new musical, Walking Happy, now playing at the Fisher Theatre until November 19, has all the trademarks of success.

There's lyricist Sammy Cahn and Composer James Van Huesen, two perennial Oscar winners who have collaborated on such popular songs as All the Way, Call Me Irresponsible, High Hopes and Love and Marriage.

There are Producers Cy Feuer and Ernie Martin, who are battling almost 1000 with eight Broadway successes in nine attempts. Some of their better known hits are Guys and Dolls, Silk Stockings, Little Me and How to Succeed in Business Without Really Trying.

Despite the glitter of names, Walking Happy is an uneven production with great expectations. At best it titillates the imagination, at worst it threatens to dull the senses.

The play's most lucid moments come early and promise a gay evening of sustained fun. But expectations are frustrated, especially after intermission when the music loses its glitter and the story labors, looking for strong thematic ties.

The play opens in a London pub, where there is the usual merriment. George Beenstock (Ed Bakey), out to rid London of demon alcohol, bursts onto the scene, hoping to find converts. The song, Think of Something Else, sets a light tempo of good fun. But something's emphatically wrong.

For all his fine acting, do-gooder Beenstock looks more like the typical arch villain, a gaunt figure complete with handlebar mustache.

Carousing with tipping millhands is Henry Horatio Hobson (George Rose) an incorrigible drinker, a scrouge who looks like Santa Claus. In this part, Rose rises to full stature, fulfilling it to a T.

While asserting the felicity to be found in drink, he proclaims "there is only one master in my house," — himself. And he intends to hold his oldest daughter, 30-year-old Maggie (Louise Troy) in thrall, running his lucrative shoe shop and tending his home.

As an actress, Miss Troy's talents are undeniable. She radiates omniscient determination, demanded by her role. But her resonant voice, peculiar in its echo quality, detracts from her performance. The viewer suspects a hidden microphone that amplifies her voice.

Hobson is thwarted in his attempts to hold his daughter captive. Being as strong willed and demonstrative as her father, she sets eye on Will Mossop, one of her father's cobblers.

Their relationship, despite efforts to make it plausible in this frothy setting, remains dubious. She gives Will the once over and decides peremptorily he's the man to wed. Never is Maggie's love questioned, strangely enough.

Taking the part of Will is Norman Wisdom, a diminutive Englishman who exudes energy. He actually sparks the role of Will, the reticent runt with inhibitions galore, to life, and in doing so, pulls the musical along.

At Maggie's insistence, Will departs with her to establish a shoe store of their own, leaving Hobson fuming. Eventually, they succeed in business without really trying, marry and bring about a reconciliation with Maggie's father.

Giving the musical its early force, besides the acting of Wisdom, Rose and Bakey, are the songs, Think of Something Else, How D'ya Talk to a Girl and Use Your Noggin.

The most exciting number in this musical bound for Broadway, however, is Clog and Clog, a dance choreographed by Danny Daniels. In intricate precision, the millhands stomp out the catchy rhythm, with thick wooden soles on the pub floor.

After intermission, the story line wavers and with the exception of the thematic song, Walking Happy, there's little music to strike the fancy. There is no residue of haunting melodies.

MORAINES MEET— Mrs. H. O. Evans pours coffee for Mrs. Reva Shave, Moraine fourth grade teacher, and Milton Jacobi, principal, at a tea last Thursday for Moraine room mothers given at the home of Mrs. Douglas Day on Woodhill road. Co-hostesses were Mrs. E. O. Weber, Mrs.

Virgil Matheus, Mrs. Raymond Spear and Mrs. Evans. Mrs. Shave, Jacobi and Mrs. Evelyn Zeuner, school secretary, reported on progress of the new elementary school and outlined room mother activities for the year.

Slides and narration concerning the work of Dr. and Mrs. W. J. Steininger and Miss Elizabeth Beard in Bolivia, South America will highlight the program.

FORCED LANDING—Anticipating a hard fall, Milford Halfback Dave Dennis, arm extended, eyes the ground as Northville Guard Rick Suckow (60) hugs Dennis' legs for dear life. Guard Jerry Asher (61) closes in on the play.

WHO WON?—The ball did as it beat Northville Halfback Jim Zayti down the field and eluded his grasp. Milford's Skip Harris was definitely beaten however.

PREFERRED by Civic Searchlight and Oakland County Citizens League

In a wild and woolly game played on a wind swept field Friday night, the Northville Mustangs stopped a driving Milford football team in the fourth quarter to preserve a 19-9 victory.

Much of the second half and most of the fourth quarter were played in Northville territory, and twice Northville's staunch defense choked off threats.

This was a game of penalties, with 135 yards being walked off against Northville and 75 against Milford. Action was brought to a standstill at one point late in the game as Northville committed five infractions in nine plays.

But it was ability to generate an offense early in the game that brought about a Northville victory, its third in six Wayne-Oakland Conference games. Northville is now tied with West Bloomfield (3-3) for fourth place, with only one game remaining to be played tomorrow night.

Northville will journey to nearby Clarenceville to take on the Trojans at 8 p.m. They are presently tied with Clarkston for second place. Both have 4-2 records.

For the second year in succession, Bloomfield Hills has won the W-O football crown. The Barons, a cinch since their victory over Northville 10 days ago, actually clinched the title last Friday by trouncing Brighton, 56-7.

Northville kept its hopes alive of grabbing at least a share of second place by scoring early against Milford, each time depending on a long gainer to either score or set up the touchdown.

Defensive Halfback Barry Deal picked off a Milford pass early in the first quarter to set up Northville's initial touchdown. He returned the ball to Milford's 12 yard line, but a clipping penalty brought the ball back to the 27.

It didn't take the Mustangs long, however, to punch the ball over, the key play being a 20-yard pass from Wingback Jim Zayti to End Gregg Carr, who made a twisting, leaping catch on the two yard line. Zayti then dived into the end zone for the touchdown and a 6-0 lead.

The extra point kick was good, but Northville was detected holding and the ball placed down on the 17. As Zayti skirted left end, he was tackled nine yards short of the end zone and Northville still held a 6-0 lead.

A fresh bounce of the ball resulted in a Milford touchdown late in the second quarter. After driving from its own 20 to the Northville 35, Milford sent Halfback Dave Dennis off tackle.

He fumbled the ball after picking up nine yards. But a Milford back picked the ball up on a perfect bounce and ran untouched into the end zone for the score. Kick for the extra point was perfect and Milford held a 7-6 edge.

On the next series of downs, Northville drove 64 yards to once again take the lead. The drive started inauspiciously enough.

Halfback Dennis Mathews and Zayti took turns carrying the ball to grind out a first down on the Northville 48. After Quarterback Chris Holman had been trapped for a six yard loss, he uncorked a perfect pass to Mathews, good for 16 yards and a first down on Milford's 42 yard line.

Three plays later, Halfback Ron Gloetzer, behind six blockers, gathered in a screen pass and headed goalward. He slanted for the east sideline, shook off the only man to have a shot at him on the four and scored standing up. The play covered 42 yards and gave Northville a 12-7 halftime lead, when the kick for the extra point missed.

Northville scored an insurance TD the first time it got the ball in the second half, marching 67 yards for the score.

Getting the drive rolling was a 13-yard-pass from Zayti to Carr, which gave Northville a first down on its 46. Deal ran off tackle for two yards, then Holman and Fullback Pat Hall teamed up on a 25-yard pass play and a first down on the Milford 27.

Hall ran for six and Zayti for seven yards to give Northville another first down on the Milford 14. Zayti turned left end for the final 15 yards and the touchdown. Extra-point kick was good, giving Northville a 19-7 lead.

Milford, aided by an interference call and a new found passing attack, came right back. The Redskins moved from their 27 down the field to the Northville 10 yard line.

Collecting its defensive wits, Northville stopped the drive on the four yard line. Defensive End Roger Kline played a key role in styming Milford by dropping Milford Quarterback Skip Harris for a 10 yard loss as he was attempting to pass.

The defensive heroes were far from over, however, and the antics just beginning.

Back to punt on the Northville eight yard line, Zayti was faced with a stiff wind coming out of the north and a hard charging Milford line. He got the kick away — straight up in the air. The ball bounced around the eight, then rolled back into the end zone where Milford fell on the ball for a safety.

Northville still held tentatively to a 19-9 lead, but because of the safety, Northville was forced to kick off to Milford on the following play.

Milford returned the free kick to the Northville 38, and when the Redskins failed to gain ground, they punted to the Northville 18 yard line.

Gains of four and 10 yards, which would have given Northville a first down, were nullified by two penalties. The Mustangs found themselves still on the 18 yard line and faced with a fourth down.

Novi Loses, 14-7; Closes Out Season

The football season's over. Novi called it a day, a sad one, last Thursday as Monroe Catholic Central's Jayvees eked out a 14-7 victory.

Coach John Osborne, Assistant Milan Obrenovich and their charges hoped to close the season with a refreshing victory. It would have given Novi a winning 4-3 record.

Instead, the record was reversed and their hopes snuffed out by confusion that led to Central's two touchdowns in the first quarter.

"We weren't prepared for their offense," Osborne confided quietly. "Their traps and counter plays took us by surprise. Our defense was confused, kept off balance."

Novi learned and learned quickly, adjusting to stop Central through the remaining three quarters. But the resurgence came too late.

You can blame this loss on Dame Fortune. Because Novi high school, with only grades nine and 10, is in an embryonic stage, it does no scouting as other senior high schools do. Conceivably, a scouting report would have permitted Novi to parry those Central thrusts in the first period.

And another trick of fate, when a back failed to set, cost Novi a touchdown late in the fourth period.

Although Coach Osborne's expectations were frustrated, he looked optimistically to the future. "We certainly profited from the season. What we gained in experience will very definitely show up in seasons to come," he predicted.

The action was furious in the first period. After receiving a Novi punt on its own 30 yard line, Central drove down field, slicing out sizeable yardage each time, to score a touchdown. Run for the extra point was good and Central led, 7-0.

Deep in the hole later in the first period, Novi punted short to its 35 yard line. Central, still capitalizing on the

With the wind driving into his face, Zayti punted safely to the Northville 45, but the play was whistled back and Northville was penalized 15 yards for holding.

Standing on the end zone stripe, Zayti punted to the Northville 36 where the ball rolled dead. Offsetting penalties killed the play and Northville had to punt over.

Zayti tried again — and this time succeeded in punting out to the Northville 47.

About three minutes remained on the clock and Northville's lead was still in jeopardy when Milford began its final drive for the end zone.

A 15-yard holding penalty momentarily stopped the drive on the 27 yard line after Milford had gained a first down on the Northville 12.

On fourth down, Northville's defensive line, which was minus the services of Tackle Daly Hill who is out for the year with two broken ribs, stopped a slant off tackle. The tape was brought in; the ball fell two inches short of the first down.

Northville took over, sticking to the ground to run out the clock.

Local Man Wins Fishing Contest

Andrew A. Torok of 328 North Center won first place in the large-mouth bass classification of the Ford Motor Fishing contest.

An employee of the Northville Ford plant, Torok took first place with his catch of a 5-pound, 4-ounce large-mouth bass. The prize winning fish was 22-inches long and had a girth of 16-inches.

wildcats' confusion, drove to the six where Novi recovered a fumble.

On the next play, however, Central got the ball back on the five yard line after a freak play.

One of Quarterback Gary Boyer's passes bounced off the shoulder pads of the receiver, and a Central back caught the deflected ball in the air. Two plays later Central had its second touchdown and kicked the extra point for a 14-0 lead.

Novi burst into the scoring column and back into the game in the second period as it recovered a fumble on its own 35 and marched 65 yards for the touchdown.

Longest run of the drive was a 12-yarder by Halfback Jon Van Wagner. Fullback Mike Farah got the TD by running eight yards off tackle and into the end zone. Boyer added the extra point on the option play.

Deep in their own territory again and trailing by 14-7, the Wildcats made their bid for the tying touchdown in the fourth period.

They moved for a first down on its 16, and Boyer rifled a pass to Andy Pantello, good for 20 yards and a first down on the 36.

Faced with a fourth down and a situation after gaining eight yards, Boyer jolted the crowd, ie bootlegged the ball 55 yards around end and ran unmolested to the end zone — only to have the play whistled back.

South Lyon Wins First In Grid Quiz

South Lyon walked away with top honors in the football contest last week.

The number of misses was unusually high due to a tie game, a couple of upsets and a "goof" by the contest editor who listed "Stockbridge" as South Lyon's opponent. Actually, South Lyon played Dundee and went down fighting to the undefeated Dundee eleven, 20-18. South Lyon plays Stockbridge this week.

Tie games, unless accurately predicted by the contestant, are always marked wrong. The South Lyon "Stockbridge" game was also marked wrong, unless the contestant correctly inserted the name "Dundee" and then correctly selected the winner.

In any event Claude T. Cobb, 59300 Ten Mile road, South Lyon, had the winning entry with six wrong. Several others also missed only six, but Cobb was closest to the Green Bay-Detroit score. He won $10.

Tied for second and dividing $8 were Kathryn Byrne, 860 Spring drive, and Kurt Suckow, 917 Novi street. They also missed six games and tied on the Green Bay-Detroit score.

Most mistakes were made on the Iowa-Indiana, Ohio State-Minnesota and Buffalo-New York games.

But this is another week and a new chance appears on page 14B.

ELUSIVE—Accounting for a substantial share of Milford's rushing yardage was slippery Quarterback Skip Harris who scrambled time and again against the Mustangs.

Winning Local Debaters Eye W-O, State Programs

With several impressive victories under their belts Northville's varsity debaters are looking forward to regular league and state debate programs.

The students are debating the proposition, "Resolved: That United States Aid to Underdeveloped Countries Should be Limited to Non-Military Assistance."

On Saturday, October 22, the varsity debaters traveled to Eastern Michigan university where they clashed with Ann Arbor, Lansing, Waverly, Ferndale and Battle Creek. They won all but one, bowing to Battle Creek.

Earlier, Northville copped three out of four debates in the clinic and tournament at Wayne university on October 15. On October 8, the local squad traveled to Ann Arbor for a pre-season clinic.

State debates this year will include meets with Detroit Cady, Redford Union, Troy and the University of Detroit.

In addition, local debaters will hold practice debates with Southfield, Farmington, Walled Lake and they will participate in tournaments at Belleville, Battle Creek and Hope college.

Following the preliminary debates they will enter the district tournaments.

Members of the varsity squads are Pam Smith, Glen Deibert, Cris Becker, Kathy Erwin, John Bunn, Kurt Kinde, Karen Stefanski, Sue Jenesel, Buzzie Collocott, and Wayne Miller.

Members of the newly formed novice debate squads include:

Kim McCormick, Pam Witzke, Craig Balko, Jenette Gensley, Debbie Forsyth, Mark Buoniconti, Susan Deisley, Merrie Hart and Rosemary Van Fossen.

The novice teams are participating in a novice league composed of Dearborn, Grosse Pointe, Detroit Country Day, University of Detroit, Dominican High and Belleville — all schools that offer debate as a regular part of their curriculum.

At tournaments held at Dearborn and Belleville recently, the novice teams won five out of eight debates.

BRAKES WITH TWO LIVES ARE A NEW CAR BONUS

If you are buying a new car this year, one of the safety features with the most practical impact on your daily driving is the new "dual braking" system for the rear and front wheels.

Briefly, the engineers have not created two systems as such but "split" the one master cylinder that previously brought fluid pressure on all four wheels into two reservoirs. One reservoir operates the front wheels and one the back.

If one system fails, the other will remain untouched and can stop the car.

Then, so that the motorist will know if one set of brakes is not operating, the system comes equipped with a warning light that turns on in the event of a failure of either set of brakes.

The system is required by the U. S. federal government on all cars purchased for government use. It also provides a method of testing the warning light in case it should fail before the braking system.

Some European auto makers have divided the braking between diagonal front and rear wheels. This was considered until testing revealed the front and back system was superior for North American conditions.

The new system will not mean faster stops, only insurance against hydraulic fluid leakage from the master drum or fluid lines that previously could have left the motorist with no braking power at all. It is a true bonus of safety in the new cars.

Local Man Hurt In Accident

Trying to avoid a collision, a Northville man was injured October 26 in Novi when the car he was driving jumped over a ditch, ran into a culvert, onto a driveway, struck a car, went across a lawn and smashed into a utility pole, splitting it down the middle.

Ernest J. Ling, 46, of 41380 West Eight Mile road was taken to Botsford General hospital, where he received several stitches in his chin.

According to Novi police, Ling was driving west on 10 Mile road when a car driven by Joseph Talarczak came out of a driveway and stopped astride the west-bound lane. Talarczak, 54, who lives in Wayne, told police he stopped as he saw a car approaching.

Ling, seeing the car in the road, tried to avoid it, police reported, and turned off the road.

Both drivers were issued violations, Ling for having no license in his possession and Talarczak for interfering with oncoming traffic.

She's Coolest Tot Under Hot Pressure

Cool. That's the word you could use appropriately in describing Brenda Lee Daniels, a seven-year-old Novi girl.

With her broken arm in a cast, Brenda was awakened suddenly early Saturday morning by smoke that filled her bedroom at 45945 Pontiac Trail.

Brenda, after looking for her parents, realized that her father and mother were not in the house, she told Novi police. Her father had gone to pick up her mother from work, a run that takes 15 minutes.

The floor was hot, Brenda told police.

But she remained cool. Knowing her family and the family renting upstairs didn't have a telephone Brenda immediately walked in her night gown across the road to her girl friend's home. Firemen, who arrived shortly after the call was made at 3:19 a.m. found the fire had been extinguished by condensation of steam escaping from red hot water pipes, police said.

Corporal Gordon Nelson reported that the intensely hot fire melted seals on the copper pipes.

The fire department extinguished the few remaining sparks and Brenda calmly returned to bed, police reported.

"For we hold that a man is justified by faith apart from works of law." Romans 3:28

A WORD TO CHURCHMEN ON THE ANNIVERSARY OF THE REFORMATION

The doctrine of justification by faith is a teaching that always needs to be emphasized among Christians. Here is an example. One day two men went to church to pray. One was a very religious man, who had a strict upbringing. As he prayed, he thanked the good Lord that he was himself such a good Christian. He said, "I don't prevaricate, discriminate, or fornicate; but I pay, pray, and obey."

The other man had a much different approach, because he was a tax-collector. And tax-collectors in those days were in even worse odor than in our day. So all that he could bring himself to say was, "Lord, I'm done for." And he threw himself on the mercies of God.

But God, according to our Lord Jesus Christ, reckoned such faith to the tax-collector as righteousness (Luke 18:14).

What Had Happened Here?
These two men illustrate the need for emphasizing the doctrine of justification by faith among Christians. For one of them was using his supposedly good record of keeping the law as a means of putting God under obligation. "Look, I did this and this; now, Lord, you must reward me." He was trying to control God by a sort of plousbookkeeping of his merits and demerits.

The tax-collector, on the other hand, appealed beyond the law to God himself. He knew that God puts no stock even in his saints. So he depended completely on God. That was wisely done; for God has taken upon himself to "justify"—declare righteous—ungodly people through faith apart from works of law; he delivered his Son for our offenses, and raised him again for our justification (Romans 4, 25).

This Has to be Emphasized
Opportunity must always be granted to emphasize "faith" in this sense. For such faith alone really gives God the glory, in that it ascribes to him 100% credit for saving us eternally. And only such a faith in the utter dependability of God can deliver us from our native-born self interest. Through faith in Christ the Holy Spirit causes us truly to fulfill what the law requires; namely, to love God for his own sake, and to serve our fellow men freely, without the need to gain thereby personally, either in earthly praise or heavenly merits.

This divine teaching of faith prevents our "good works" from becoming "self-righteousness"; it keeps correctness of church dogma from becoming mere intellectual pride; it preserves the outward organization of the church, with its orders and offices of authority, from sinking into spiritual tyranny. This is what the Reformation of the church, which we celebrated on October 31, was all about. "For we hold that a man is justified by faith apart from works of law."

Missionary To Give Sermons In Plymouth

The Rev. Bernhard Johnson, Assembly of God church executive of Brazil, South America, will deliver the sermons at the 11 a.m. and 7 p.m. service Sunday at the Plymouth Assembly of God church, 42021 Ann Arbor Trail.

Rev. Johnson was an official delegate from Brazil to the World Congress of Evangelism, which closed November 4 at the Kongresshalle in West Berlin. Delegates from more than 100 nations attended the congress. Rev. Johnson is stopping at the Plymouth church on his return to Brazil.

The Plymouth Assembly of God has contributed to the support of Rev. Johnson and his family, who have served as missionaries to Brazil since 1954. Mrs. Johnson is the former Doris Puckett of Plymouth, a 1948 graduate of Plymouth high school and a 1952 graduate of the Central Bible college, Springfield, Missouri. Two of her brothers, Robert and James, are residents of Northville.

Her parents, Mr. and Mrs. O. N. Puckett, live at 14605 Haggerty.

It happened while I was hiking in the mountains . . . suddenly I came into a clearing and saw the crumbling foundations of what had once meant shelter and protection for a pioneer family. Rugged mountains surrounded the decayed dwelling on three sides. But in front there opened a panorama across a valley which in all its beauty held me spellbound.

I turned and noticed a small old-fashioned rose bush which seemed to reminisce with yesteryear beside the molding stoop. I could feel the presence of those long-ago people. How they must have loved this place! The woman had tended flowers, and vegetables here, had borne her babies and had helped her man carve a life from the wilderness.

What was their secret . . . these pioneer people? Where did they find the courage and confidence needed to face the privations and dangers of primitive living? God was their refuge and strength. Their love of Him illumined their lives, and goodness graced their days.

Just so today, God and His Church are the source of all bounty, greatness, and joy. They are yours for the asking

From Out of the Past

ONE YEAR AGO...

...North Novi lost a $1 million industry but gained good prospects of a $2 million apartment complex. Village planners and councilmen cleared the way, zoning-wise, for a 10-building 120-unit apartment complex on 14 Mile road just east of Novi road. A 14 1/2 acre plot was rezoned R2A, restricted multiple dwellings, from its R1 one family residential classification when no objections were raised at a public meeting. Groundbreaking for the first 12-apartment unit was expected to begin in November by developer L. J. Wischman.

...Fire completely destroyed a 200-foot-long barn at the Farm Crest Dairy 42270 Six Mile road. Estimates of total damage could not be immediately determined, but it was conservatively set at more than $100,000. Firemen from four communities battled the flames to save the adjoining dairy and retail store.

...Ground was broken for the new $45,000 Wixom branch of the Birmingham-Bloomfield bank.

...Detroit water was to be in Willowbrook subdivision homes by the first of the year — if the weather didn't cause too many problems.

...The diamond jubilee installation was planned by Orient Chapter No. 77, Order of the Eastern Star, at Northville Masonic Temple.

...The Northville Mustangs saved their best for a cold, windswept field at West Bloomfield, walking off the victor, 14-7.

...In a game that couldn't be closer, a determined Novi frosh squad upended Northville, 14-12, in the season finale for Northville.

FIVE YEARS AGO...

...It was a night for the people to be heard. And nearly 200 residents of Northville took advantage of the opportunity at the city council's public hearing on a proposal to levy a 25-percent assessment for the improvement of portions of five streets.

No decisions were reached but a lot of people expressed a variety of opinions. A secretary recorded the word so the council could study the transcript and reopen the hearing November 27.

...Mrs. Fred Ballo saw something dart under the grain building on the Ballo farm at Napier near Nine Mile road. By Sunday morning her husband had captured the critter, which turned out to be a coypu (or nutria) — a native of South America.

...Northville zoning board of appeals hear three requests to permit variances in the city's zoning ordinance in connection with remodeling of the new A & P store.

...The engineering and surveying office of Wynn W. Wakenhut was scheduled to move from 202 West Main street to 124 North Center.

...Dr. K. M. MacLeod, assistant superintendent of schools in Northville, was a patient at St. Mary's hospital in Livonia where he was to undergo surgery.

...With only one league game left in the season, Northville's Mustangs became indisputable leaders of the Wayne-Oakland league as they honored their parents and wowed fans by a 52-0 humiliation of the Clarkston Wolves.

The win put the Mustangs on top with a 6-0 league standing. Tied for second place were Bloomfield Hills and Holly, each with 4-2 records in league play.

TEN YEARS AGO...

...Business of the city of Northville became the responsibility of John C. Robertson. The former Michigan Municipal League staff member began his duties as city manager. He was chosen October 9 by the city council from a field of 30 applicants to become the city's first manager.

...More than $1,200 was donated toward the fight against "cystic fibrosis" at a turkey smorgasbord dinner in Northville.

...Placards were carried by some 40 to 50 irate patients at Maybury Sanatorium's Seven Mile road entrance as they protested food being served at the institution.

...The first indication of how Northville would vote came when more than 900 students went to the polls and gave the Republican party a clear victory. President Dwight Eisenhower and Vice President Richard Nixon swept to a 5-2 margin over the Democratic team of Adlai Stevenson and Estes Kefauver. The GOP was favored 645-260.

...Lewis D. Crusoe of West Nine Mile road, executive vice-president of Ford Motor company's car and truck division, was reported "resting very satisfactory" at Henry Ford hospital.

...What Northville's Main street could look like with changes suggested by the Kawneer Architectural Products firm of Niles was to be presented before a special dinner meeting of the Retail Merchants.

...Miss Margaret Sours, first grade teacher at Amsman elementary school, was the recipient of the "Bouquets for the Living" award at a meeting of the Northville Optimist club.

...Oakland county candidates included: Paul Sutton and William S. Broomfield, 18th district; Fred Elias and L. Harvey Lodge, 12th Senatorial district; and S. James Clarkson and Theodore F. Hughes, state house.

FIFTEEN YEARS AGO...

...The local Penniman-Allen Theatre was scheduled to reopen and remain open if enough patrons supported it. The opening production was to be "Flying Leathernecks", starring John Wayne.

...Perry Kenner Post, Novi Amvets, was conducting a scrap metal drive.

...Pastor Nieuwkoop, formerly of Zeeland, accepted a call to the First Baptist church in Northville.

...Hazel P. Dunlop, author and lecturer, was the guest speaker at a meeting sponsored by the Northville Woman's club.

...Mrs. Flora W. Babbitt of 148 East Cady street, oldest continuous member of the First Presbyterian Church of Northville died at her residence at the age of 87.

...At the school here local health authorities vaccinated 30 high school and 28 grade school pupils for small pox.

...The 13 Girl Scout troops in Northville were observing National Girl Scout week.

...Wilson Funk, instructor in leathercraft, called a meeting of his pupils at the Scout Hall.

...The Northville Record conducted an open house, providing a souvenir and refreshments for visitors.

...The Northville Clinic, 206 West Dunlap, operated by Dr. V. George Chabul, was broken into Saturday night.

...Mrs. Rano Papini of Wing Court entertained at a neighborhood party, which served to introduce Mrs. John Canterbury, a newcomer to the village, to her neighbors.

...Northville grade school children collected $77.53 for the Youth Crusade for Freedom program.

THIRTY YEARS AGO...

...Although the low temperature experienced here is not unusual, the thermometers dropped to 25 degrees, setting the lowest mark recorded in 63 years and threatened to ruin the apple crop.

...Dr. J. K. Eastland was named Maybury sanatorium dentist to replace Dr. D. A. Brief, who resigned.

THIRTY-FIVE YEARS AGO...

...E. M. Bogart was received into membership of the Northville Rotary club.

...Hugh Babbitt and Clyde Merritt left for a two-week moose hunting trip in the northern peninsula.

...Extensive improvements on the Federal Fish hatchery were made during the summer, the hatchery's slack season. The improvements were made possible through a $22,000 appropriation covering the three stations at Northville, Charlevoix and Alpena.

Vandals Destroy Mail Sack

Pranksters destroyed an empty mail sack inside a mailbox at the corner of Carpenter and Hill streets Thursday evening.

Matches were tossed inside the mailbox, igniting the sack. No mail was destroyed, but Acting Postmaster John Stiemel warned the offenders that pranks of this kind are federal offenses and punishable by fine and jail sentences.

"We're simply not going to let such acts get by," he said. "The culprits will be prosecuted when caught."

Stiemel noted that almost daily his department finds bottles, eggs, tomatoes, water and obscene notes inside mailboxes. All of these acts, he noted are crimes.

Stiemel also has announced that a mailbox has been set up at the drive to the Kroger parking lot for the convenience of local patrons. The box is situated on the driver's side of the car, he said.

Concert Set Here

Leslie Eitzen, well-known Detroit mezzo-soprano, will present a program of Heder at 11 a.m. Thursday, November 10, in the library at Schoolcraft college.

Miss Eitzen will be making her second appearance in two years on the Schoolcraft on-campus concert series.

Presently teaching in the Detroit school system, Miss Eitzen has taught voice at Schoolcraft and has had teaching appointments at the Detroit Institute of Musical Arts, the University of Michigan and the University of Iowa.

She has appeared with the Detroit Opera company in the title roles in "Carmen" and "Madame Butterfly" and as Marguerite in "Faust," and has sung in concert performances in the area and as soloist with the Plymouth Symphony Orchestra.

Allen Shaffer, of the Schoolcraft music faculty, will accompany Miss Eitzen.

...the way

The fast tempo of these times is enough to make one wonder whether he's coming or going. There's got to be a fixed point of departure and return.

The Christian faith is rooted deeply in the lives of those who have found Jesus Christ to be the beginning and the ending of all their "to and fro" wanderings in the earth.

It was a confused disciple that Jesus said:

"I am the way, the truth and the life." John 14:6

ORDINANCE NO. 18.77

AN ORDINANCE TO AMEND THE ZONING ORDINANCE OF THE VILLAGE OF NOVI ORDAINS:

PART I. The Zoning Ordinance of the Village of Novi, as amended, is hereby amended by the addition of a new Article to become and be known as ARTICLE XIII-B, RESIDENTIAL UNIT DEVELOPMENT, to read as follows:

ARTICLE XIII-B
RESIDENTIAL UNIT DEVELOPMENT

Section 13-B.01 PURPOSE. The purpose of planned unit development approval is to allow diversification in the relationships of various buildings, structures, and open space in planned building groups and in the allowable heights of said buildings and structures, while insuring substantial compliance to the district regulations and other provisions of the Zoning Ordinance. Further it is the intent of this Ordinance to require adequate standards relating to the public health, safety and general welfare, without unduly inhibiting the advantages of modern large scale site planning for residential purposes.

13-B.02 STATEMENT OF PRINCIPLES. Consideration by the Planning Board and the Village Council of proposed "Residential Unit Development" shall reflect the following basic principles:

1. This ordinance (Article XIII-B) provides an optional method of subdividing property and approval of any Residential Unit Development subject to the discretion of the Village of Novi.

2. Particular attention shall be given to the effect of a planned Residential Unit Development upon the immediate area, where the character of that area has been established by previous development.

3. In considering the application of the planned Residential Unit Development, the Planning Board and the Village Council shall consider the following objectives:

(a) To provide a more desirable living environment by preserving the natural character of open fields, stands of trees, brooks, hills and similar natural assets.

(b) To encourage developers to use a more creative approach in the development of residential areas and to encourage a more efficient, aesthetic and desirable use of the land while recognizing a reduction in development costs and by allowing the developer to by-pass natural obstacles on the site.

(c) To provide a more desirable living environment than would be possible through the strict application of Ordinance requirements.

(d) To encourage the provision for open space within a reasonable distance of all lot development of the subdivision and to further encourage the development of recreational facilities and areas.

13-B.03 APPLICATION. Application for approval shall be made by the owner or owners of any tract where use of the planned unit development process is contemplated. The application shall be accompanied by a fee to be determined by resolution of the Village Council in each case, and shall cover the cost of evaluating the plan as to the principles and conditions hereinafter set forth.

13-B.04 The application for approval as aforesaid shall contain the following information in addition to the information required by other Sections of this Ordinance:

1. A description of the land proposed to be dedicated to the common use of the lot owners (herein called open land), including the following as a minimum:

(a) General description of open land in scale drawing.

(b) Topographical survey of open land.

(c) Type of soil in open land and off-site drainage.

(d) Description of natural features on open land. (Stands of trees or other vegetation, streams or other bodies of water, etc.)

(e) Other relevant factors as requested by the Planning Board or Village Council.

2. The proposed plan of development of the open land shall be contained in the application and shall include the following as a minimum:

(a) How legal title is to be held.

(b) How said property shall be regulated.

(c) Provision for the payment of taxes.

(d) Persons or corporations to be responsible for maintenance.

(e) How maintenance is to be guaranteed.

(f) How maintenance and development are to be financed.

(g) Proposed uses of open land.

(h) What improvements are to be constructed by the developer and an estimate of the cost thereof.

(i) Other relevant facts related to the proposed uses of the open land.

3. The application shall also contain a statement of the benefits to be realized by the residents of the proposed subdivision and the Village by approval of the planned Residential Unit Development.

13-B.05 DRAWINGS AND PLANS. The application shall be accompanied by a general subdivision development plan to be submitted to the Village Planning Board which shall study the plan and its relation to the Novi General Development Plan for the Village and make such recommendations as deemed advisable. The plan shall show the use or uses, dimensions and locations of proposed structures, areas to be reserved for vehicular and pedestrian circulation, parking, public uses, such as, schools, and playgrounds, landscaping, open spaces, together with architect drawings and site plan showing the proposed design and character of the proposed uses and the physical relationship of the uses. Such other pertinent information shall be included as may be necessary to determine the contemplated arrangement, or use, making it desirable to apply regulations and requirements differing from those ordinarily applicable under the Zoning Ordinance. After preliminary approval of said development plan by the Village Planning Board the applicant shall have prepared and submit a detailed estimate of improvement costs by an engineer or architect.

13-B.06 CHANGE OF DISTRICT. No application shall be accepted for a use which will require a change in the over-all density of a zoning district, unless said application is accompanied by an application for a zoning district change.

13-B.07 HEARINGS. A PUBLIC HEARING SHALL BE HELD BY EITHER THE VILLAGE PLANNING BOARD OR BY THE VILLAGE COUNCIL BEFORE FINAL APPROVAL OF AN APPLICATION TO DEVELOP PROPERTY UNDER THE PROVISIONS OF THIS ORDINANCE.

IN CASE OF A REQUIRED ZONING AMENDMENT INCREASING OVER-ALL DENSITY OR CHANGING THE CLASSIFICATION, THE HEARING SHALL BE HELD IN MANNER PROVIDED IN ARTICLE XXVII OF THE ZONING ORDINANCE. IN ANY EVENT, SUCH A PUBLIC HEARING shall be held by publishing notice thereof at least fifteen (15) days prior to the hearing in a newspaper of general circulation printed and published in the Village of Novi.

“Democracy was exercised in no purer form anywhere in the land than at a Board of Supervisors' meeting. Representative Marvin R. Stempien's bill would cut county boards to efficient size, put the popular will behind them, harness them with responsibility to the ballot box. He has studied an area too-long neglected by apathetic consent, claims to have bi-partisan support in dealing with what is a bi-partisan concern.”

Free Film Set At College Friday

A film adaptation of the Dostoyevsky novel, "The Idiot," will lend further international flavor to the Schoolcraft College fall semester Creative Arts on the Campus film series when the French-made movie is shown Friday.

Director George Lampin tackled the monumental task of bringing a Dostoyevsky novel to the screen with a cast headed by Gerard Philippe who plays the name role of a simpleton prince who unsuccessfully attempts to convey his blissful air of tranquility to a debased society.

The film will be shown at 2 p.m. and 8 p.m. in the amphitheater of the forum and is free to the public.

EMPLOYEE GOODWILL—As they have done in years past, employees of the Northville branch of the Manufacturers National Bank dressed dolls again this year for presentation to the Goodfellows who in turn will give them to needy children. Dave Biery is shown with this year's doll lineup.

Girl Scouts Hear Debbie Reynolds Sing

Cobo Hall Arena darkened and spotlights shone down on a singing, dancing Piper Miss Debbie Reynolds film star who led a Girl Scout chorus from Metropolitan Detroit down the center aisle to the stage.

Miss Reynolds introduced the new record "Come Follow the Piper". It tells of a song to sing, a tale to tell and a game to play.

Miss Reynolds, presently a Girl Scout leader of her daughter's Junior Troop, told of her childhood life in the Girl Scout program. She firmly believes it has been a significant influence in her life by giving her values.

The tale was told by Miss Daphne Tabor, New York City, of the need for all adults in the Girl Scout movement to retain present girls in the program and to reach more girls 7-17 years of age.

Mrs. J. Lucian Smith of Atlanta, Georgia, told more than 3000 delegates at the Girl Scout National Council meeting, October 23-27, 1966, of the game that Piper teams in all councils throughout the U.S.A. will be playing for the next 3 years.

The game will focus on the girls in the belief that all Girl Scouting shall ever be open to all girls. Adult members of Girl Scouting, in order to accomplish their goal, must travel all roads — the narrow and twisting as well as the wide and straight — to find these girls.

Local participants in the Huron Valley Girl Scout council at the convention included Mrs. William Schler, 43540 West Six Mile road, Mrs. Roger Soucy, 43757 Park Grove, and Mrs. Phillip Nauman, 21831 Connemara.

Here's Way To Help A Youngster

Dr. and Mrs. Lawrence E. Filkin, 621 Fairbrook, have financially "adopted" Leung Kwok Hong, a 6-year-old Chinese boy, through Foster Parents' Plan, Inc., 352 Park Avenue South, New York, N.Y. 10010.

The "adoption" is financial not legal and costs $15 a month for a minimum of one year. Upon receipt of the first payment the Foster Parent receives a photograph and case history of his child.

Every month the child writes to his "Dear Foster Parent" and the Foster Parent writes to the child. PLAN transmits original and translation. Before long there is a warm personal relationship. The child wants to know all about the Foster Parent - his family, his community and his country. In turn he tries to describe his own family and way of life.

Following is part of Leung Kwok Hong's case history:

This appealing lad is Kwok Hong, whose world is the bleak poverty, squalor and teeming beldam of refugee Hong Kong, perhaps the most densely populated area in the entire world. During the past 20 years, hundreds of thousands of families have flocked to the freedom of the Colony, fleeing the Communist persecution of their native China.

Kwok Hong's parents were originally from Kwangtung Province, China, and came to Hong Kong in 1946. His father now works as an odd-job labourer for a bus company, and earns only $48.60 per month. His mother is occasionally able to supplement this by doing piece work in her home, and can make about $2.65 a month.

Kwok Hong, his parents, his paternal grandmother, his brother and four sisters are living in a tiny resettlement cubicle which measures a mere 9 1/2' by 12 1/2'. They are so crowded that they have but two double-decker bunk beds, a plank bed one desk, two wardrobes and several stools as their furnishings.

Kwok Hong's only brother, Kwok Sun (16) is a Form III student his year, where he must pay $9.65 a month for his tuition. He is very anxious to finish his education, as are his parents to have him do so. They realize that schooling is the only key leading to more productive lives for all of their children. Sisters, Mei Han (12) and Mei King (10), are in the 5th and 3rd grades, respectively, at a government school. The other girls are Mei Ying (4) and Mei Kuen (1).

Kwok Hong is in kindergarten this year, where he is studying lessons equivalent to a higher grade level. He is attending the evening class, as it is less expensive than the day-time. He is a quiet young lad, and is shy with strangers. He is much too young to have thought about his future, but as PLAN helps him with his education, he has a chance to grow into a fruitful vocation.

Leung Kwok Hong

What Will Happen If Viet War Ends?

BABSON PARK, Mass. — There is nothing President Johnson would rather have than an end to the Vietnam war. For a very long time, his Administration has been genuinely working toward such a happy goal. But in recent weeks the behind-the-scenes tempo of end-the-war activity has been greatly stepped up. It is reported that more concessions to the enemy have been made than at any time in the past year. So insistent has the "peace offensive" become that we feel it is time to ask ourselves: "What if peace comes?"

When World War II ended, analysts freely predicted that business would suffer a quick boom, to be followed by a deep, but short depression. Many are still waiting for that depression. Behind this belief in a quick postwar up-and-down move in the economy was the historical record after World War I.

But in the years since 1945 history has not repeated itself. The well-remembered pattern of 1918-1920 still stands alone in this century. The failure of the quick boom, quick bust sequence to develop after World War II has been explained by economists as the result of superior direction and handling of our financial and business machine by an enlightened government. But perhaps there are other more fundamental reasons.

Although those of us who remember World War I think of it as having been a titanic struggle, actually it did not compare in magnitude or length of time with the second world war. Of course we had been busy for some time furnishing our later allies with food and weapons; but we did not declare war until April 1917, and the armistice came 19 months afterward.

Another important difference was the nature of our over-all economy at that time, contrasted with its nature a quarter-century later. The U.S. was not nearly so highly industrialized. Farming was still a major activity for the nation; the emphasis was on food. Speculation in grains and farm lands was heavy. But consumer goods did not play so big a part in the lives of the people as they did in the next world war. There was neither the fabric nor the time to build what later came to be known as pent-up demands . . . consumer needs that would be satisfied when the guns fell silent.

IF THE VIET WAR should suddenly stop, the nation would be facing a set of circumstances quite different from those that obtained after World War II. Although the number of U.S. soldiers in South Vietnam is already greater than the forces sent to Korea, we have had a minimum of government interference with our economy. Only "Jawbone" tactics have been used to control prices and wages. Look around you . . . who among your neighbors (who has had the desire and the price) has been unable to get a car, refrigerator, or any other hard goods?

As a matter of fact, all-time peaks in the output of civilian goods have been reached while our military effort has been steadily rising in Southeast Asia. There has been butter plenty . . . even if some feel that not enough emphasis has been put on guns. This surely means that if peace should come tomorrow, there would be no massive pent-up demand for civilian goods (such as existed in 1945).

If the war in the Far East gets hotter, we still may have to ration butter to get the needed guns. But if peace should come earlier than many now expect, the changeover in our economy would be more disrupting than in 1945. Defense industries would be hard hit. Those taken off the armament payrolls would find no great surge in demand from consumer-goods industries to offer a quick job shelter.

But there would be a brighter side too. Demand for credit would slacken. The now hard-hit home-building industry would find mortgages becoming more plentiful and cheaper. Sore-pressed housewives should find food bills easing. Uncle Sam would surely rush toward tax relief . . . from present plans for upped tax burdens. And — best of all — the dirge of death in the Asian swamps would cease.

Name Stretch Of Freeway

Signs designating a portion of I-696 Freeway in Oakland County as "Adler Memorial Highway" will be erected within 30 days, the State Highway Commission reported this week.

State Highway Director Howard E. Hill said a work order for construction of the signs was issued following passage of a resolution by the State Legislature designating a section of the freeway — an extension of Detroit's Lodge Freeway — in honor of the memory of the late Rabbi Morris Adler of Temple Shaarey Zedek.

Hill said standard freeway signing would be utilized and that the signs would be placed just north of Eight Mile road and just south of Telegraph road, "well back from the edge of the pavement into the side slope where they will be visible to the motorist yet not create a hazard."

How Reliable are Political Polls?

LANSING — Predictions of coming events are frequently most interesting if viewed in retrospect.

Political polls measuring potential voter sentiment often provide the most interesting look after that sentiment has been expressed at the election booth.

Polls by newspapers and private organizations are reported periodically throughout the campaign and the statistics can change greatly as the campaign progresses.

This year's gubernatorial campaign, upon which so much national attention was focused, produced no startling public polls except perhaps from the shifting number of "undecided" voters. Gov. George Romney maintained a healthy majority from the start.

One private poll, which gained little attention, may provide the most interesting evaluation in retrospect, however.

Charles Orlebeke, a high-ranking aide to the Republican chief executive, disclosed the results of a private poll taken on behalf of Romney.

An overwhelming majority of the voters, 85 per cent to be exact, approved of the job being done the past four years by the Romney administration, Orlebeke said.

An election margin of this size would no doubt further boost the 1968 potential of the Republican governor. How close does this private survey come to your district's vote?

FINANCIAL DIFFICULTIES are threatening a 15-month-old project of the State Mental Health Department, but officials hope to salvage much through redesign of the program.

The TOP program, for Training, Opportunity and Placement, was operating primarily on a U.S. Department of Labor grant. This money will be exhausted by January 1, when Department officials hope to switch to state support.

TOP aims to place retarded persons in the community; to help them find jobs and homes and to improve work skills as they adapt to a normal life.

Some 575 persons from various state institutions were referred to the project for potential placement and 240 patients were placed. Most of these are still on the job.

Dr. V. A. Stehman, assistant department director for services to the mentally retarded, reports that the shift in financial support will essentially require a shift in focus and administrative changes in the program.

EMPHASIS is placed on strengthening services to the patients already placed, although new placements will continue to some extent, he said.

In the first 15 months of the program each participating institution had a full-time TOP evaluator and placement officers were stationed in various metropolitan areas.

Administratively, the change means the placement officers and evaluation team will be based at the department's Lansing office and travel around the state as the need arises.

Basic idea behind the project will not change: to teach the retarded patient some job skill and personal pride so he can resume life on the outside.

Stehman notes that several of those placed early in the program were given jobs requiring little skill, such as car washing. Time and normal social contacts have already helped many of these improve their abilities so they are ready to move on to new challenges.

Follow-up supervision of those already placed will serve to strengthen the program, says Stehman.

SILENT KILLER. Have you ever heard of it? Could it be in your home?

As many as 100 lives have been lost annually in Michigan to the silent killer despite regular warnings from the State Health Department.

The silent killer is more commonly known as carbon monoxide but gains its nickname because it has no visible color and no odor, but it lurks wherever there is combustion, such as canned heat, gas refrigeration, a furnace, or auto engine.

Prevention is very simple: Just provide adequate ventilation. An open window providing a good strong draft in the house, garage or heated car can eliminate almost all of the accidental exposures to carbon monoxide fumes.

Regular inspection of home heating systems, gas appliances and auto exhaust systems is also recommended to eliminate the possibility of faulty mechanisms leading to carbon monoxide leaks.

33 Teachers Tour College

A group of 33 English language teachers from 17 foreign countries were guests of Schoolcraft College for dinner and a tour of the campus on Tuesday evening, October 25.

Participants in the University of Michigan English Language Institute, members of the group teach English as a foreign language in secondary schools in their homelands.

After welcoming remarks by Dr. Eric J. Bradner, Schoolcraft president, and an explanation of the uniquely American community college concept by college vice-president John H. Brinn, the visitors toured the campus. Ralph Kelley, chairman of the Schoolcraft English division and members of the English faculty were tour guides.

The visit was arranged by Marvin Gans, Schoolcraft director of physical education, who is vice-president of the Michigan Assn. of Overseas Educators.

SPEAKING for The Record

By Bill Sliger

It's always been my conviction that people, not parties, make governments good or bad.

In the first instance it's the people selecting the candidates and how carefully and objectively they consider their choices. And secondly, it's the people who are elected and how honestly and judiciously they perform in office.

Next Tuesday voters have a number of important decisions to make. It is hoped that their guidelines for pulling levers consider more than just generally-described party philosophies. Today positions within parties vary nearly as much as between the two.

Throughout the pages of this edition we have published the ballot, biographies of the area's state and congressional candidates and Civic Searchlight preferences.

In this column we'll add our own opinion.

An earlier position on the proposal to amend the state constitution to lower the minimum voting age from 21 to 18 years should be re-emphasized.

This privilege should be reserved for those who have exercised a degree of responsibility in their own lives. Personally, I would be more inclined to vote for a proposal to raise the minimum voting age. Vote NO.

In the second congressional district, which includes Northville township, two able candidates square off. But Republican Marvin Esch faces an opponent who has done an outstanding job in his first term as congressman. Swept into office in the LBJ landslide, Congressman Weston Vivian has taken advantage of the opportunity in a normally GOP district. The Republicans can blame themselves for losing the district originally. For his performance, Vivian deserves re-election.

In the 19th congressional district, which includes the city of Northville, Novi and Wixom, I believe our area would be better represented by Republican Jack McDonald than Democratic Congressman Billie Farnum. McDonald's ability to get things done in Redford township, normally Democratic, has been well demonstrated. He knows the needs of local government and he has the distinction, and experience, of having served as chairman of the Wayne county board of supervisors. In the 19th vote for McDonald.

I'm not sure what Democratic Representative Marvin Stempien can do for an enclave in the 35th district, which includes the Wayne county portion of the city and Northville township. But he should be given the opportunity. His advertising asks voters to "keep the one who got things done". I believe that's Stempien, as advertised. For state representative in the 35th district vote for Stempien.

In the 60th district, which includes the Oakland county portion of the city and Novi and Wixom, Republican State Representative Clifford Smart should be re-elected. He has served the district ably and is a Republican of the Romney image. Vote for Smart in the 60th.

In the race for state senator to represent this entire area I believe the best choice is Republican George Kuhn. I give him the edge over Democrat Paul Livingston because of experience in local government and a long history of community service. Kuhn is the former mayor of Berkley, and while I hold little sympathy with his fight against the city of Detroit income tax, I believe he is better equipped to represent our area than his opponent.

ent. The senatorial seat is now held by Farrell Roberts, a candidate for circuit judge in Oakland county. For state senator vote for Kuhn.

There is another state level race that should be mentioned. I hope area voters will give full support to James F. O'Neil for the state board of education. In my opinion O'Neil personifies the dedicated public servant. He is sincere in his objectives and thoroughly capable. Vote for O'Neil for state board of education.

From this viewpoint it goes without saying that Governor George Romney has earned the vote of Michigan citizens. He has emphasized both personal and fiscal integrity. And the reflection of his image throughout the nation and world restores Michigan to the high level it deserves.

In Northville township Democrat Joseph Fiorilli believes he will defeat Republican Supervisor Robyn Merriam. This would be an upset of major proportions. The last time a Democrat ran for supervisor in Northville township (1963) he was defeated (by Merriam) 600-228.

Traditionally, Northville township votes Republican at least 2-1. But in 1964 LBJ defeated Goldwater in the township by a vote of 731-717. So there's precedent for Fiorilli's boast.

Fiorilli bases his prediction on a campaign to visit every voter in Northville township. He has taken the time to meet the people and he is wooing Republican voters.

Personally, I don't believe partisan politics have any place in township government. Candidates elected to take care of our local needs should be chosen on the basis of qualification, not party affiliation.

Examining Merriam and Fiorilli on this basis, I would cast my ballot for Merriam.

There are many factors involved in this decision, but the most important are that:

--Merriam knows the job better;

--his performance has been more than adequate;

--he gives full time and energy to the job;

--he possesses a genuine likeness for performing the duties of supervisor and he fully understands and uses the resources of county and state agencies for assisting the township.

Fiorilli is meeting the people with his best foot forward. In this atmosphere he comes over smoothly, more so than some of his appearances before audiences at various township meetings.

No one can question Fiorilli's ability. But I seriously question that expertise in industry or business alone is enough to qualify any individual for the position of supervisor of a township government, especially on a part-time basis.

Men like Joseph Fiorilli are needed in Northville township government. But so are Bob Merriams.

Fiorilli represents the "new breed" in our rapidly changing township. His talents and energies can be most helpful. First they should be indoctrinated through membership on official boards and committees, however. Fiorilli is better equipped, through his own attendance and interest in township meetings, to serve on the township board than some trustees elected (almost solely because they are Republicans).

But the "new breed" should not retire the longtime township residents to the bench. Without Merriam at its head, the township board would suffer in balance and the contributions of the voice holding a rich community history would be lost.

Merriam is not without weaknesses. The most glaring is his communication, both with the people and the press.

But his sincerity, devotion and capability should not be challenged. He should not be the victim of a whim to vote for the hard-working underdog.

Northville township is fortunate to have a man of Merriam's unique talents as its supervisor. He deserves reelection.

A 10-dollar award for 10 lost piano keys. That has to be one of the most unusual want ads I've ever run across.

So I checked with the advertiser, who turns out to be 74-year-old George Lockhart, who used to amaze me and fellow members of the now defunct Northville Great Books Society with his literary knowledge.

In and out of the piano tuning business for the past 40 years, George explains somewhat embarrassingly that he had placed the 10 keys on the trunk of his car momentarily while taking care of another matter. Returning, he forgot the keys and drove away. So somewhere between his home on Orchard Drive and Schoolcraft, via Edward Hines Drive—10 keys disappeared.

But why the great concern for piano keys?

Certainly not because they're ivory, says George. But because piano keys are not interchangeable. Each is cut to fit its neighbor, so if he doesn't find the lost keys he'll have to replace all of them or have 10 made to fit the keyboard on which he's working.

All of which led me to ask him about pianos and the tuning business.

"Piano tuning," he points out, "is one of the few remaining skills that truly can be considered a craft. It's a medieval craft that has come down to us almost untouched."

Most competent tuners, he says, are members of the Piano Technicians Guild — although those who are not members are not necessarily incompetent. George currently is president of the Detroit Chapter, and 11 years ago he was national president of the society.

According to George, a piano should be tuned four times a year — that is if you want it to be in top-notch playing condition.

"Pianos change with the seasons, so they should be tuned for each of the four seasons. Minimum tuning means twice yearly, summer to winter with the change of humidity.

"When moisture gets into the sound board and expands it, it puts more tension on the strings. Then when the moisture leaves, the tension leaves the strings. Tuning, then, means tightening or slackening the piano strings to compensate for the action of moisture."

But there's more to it than that.

Using a tuning fork at 440 vibrations per second, George tunes the "A" note first. He tunes all other notes in relationship to "A", "laying up the entire scale." It means turning some 200 piano pins with what is called a tuning hammer.

Tuning also means adjusting or regulating the "action" or "jack". The piano action, he explains, is the guts of the piano, including such interesting sounding parts as hammers, whippers, flanges, jack, back checks, bridge wires, back check wires, and damper spoons.

The tuning fork he uses is an interesting little gadget. It looks like a metal slingshot. But it's so delicate that he always carries it in his pocket so that it remains at approximately 70-degrees.

The piano itself, I'm told, evolved from a box with a single string called the monochord. The dulcimer and psaltery of Old Testament times also had such boxes. On all of them the player plucked the string with a pick.

About A.D. 1000 Guido d'Arezzo invented a movable bridge for the monochord, adding keys or claviers and more strings, resulting in an instrument that was generally in use until the 16th century. Later, the clavichord made its bow, featuring diminishing tone at the command of the player. A closely related instrument is the spinet, an oblong instrument with strings set in motion by picking or twanging. Then, about the middle of the 17th century, the harpsichord came on the scene.

All of these early instruments differed from the innovation of Bartolomeo Christofori in 1709. Generally considered the inventor of the piano, Christofori's claim to fame was the substitution of hammer action for picking or twanging.

George likens Christofori's innovation with the country fair instrument that requires the contestant to roll a target with a hefty hammer to the bell towering overhead.

"It's the same thing. You've got the hammer action and the quick release as the gong drops to permit the bell to ring. Not only did Christofori's invention do away with the scratching sound but it quickly pulled the hammer away from the strings to permit musical vibration."

There you have it, The piano. Or as George insists, the piano-forte — the greatest loud-soft instrument this side of the clavichord.

Urges 'Yes' Vote

To the Editor:

Two important questions affecting the Novi Public Library will appear on the November 8 ballot. Your vote on these questions will determine the future of your library.

In 1962 the residents of Novi voted to establish the Novi Library and approved a levy of up to 1/2 mill to support the library. This legislation was effective for four years and it is now necessary to vote again on these issues so that the library may continue.

The usefulness of the library in our community is clearly demonstrated by the book loan rate — now averaging over 1400 volumes per month, loaned without charge to Novi residents.

It should be noted that voting "yes" on Propositions A and B on the November 8th ballot will not affect any increase in your present taxes — it will continue the authorization and 1/2 mill support of the library.
