Esch, McDonald, Schmidt, Kuhn Win in GOP Sweep

Northville climbed aboard the Republican bandwagon Tuesday turning out in record numbers for an off-presidential-year election.

The township (see story on this page) voted at an 80 per cent of registration pace, while the city hit 66 per cent with 1,676 of the 2,529 registered electors casting ballots.

Area voters gave Republicans big margins and, unlike many previous years, found their choices elected. And both city and township voters followed the state trend against the 18-year-old vote with the city saying NO 343 and YES 996, while the township voted NO 269, YES 905.

While Governor George Romney's sweeping victory was being credited with pulling U. S. Senator Robert Griffin into office over ex-Governor G. Menen Williams, it also showed results in other races.

Republican George Kuhn topped Democrat Paul Livingston for the 14th district seat. This office had been held by Republican Farrell Roberts, newly elected circuit judge.

Louis Schmidt defeated Incumbent Democrat Marvin Stempfen for a seat in the state legislature in the 35th district, while Incumbent Republican Clifford Smart returned to the house in the 60th district.

Both Democratic incumbents were defeated in the two congressional districts covering the Northville area. Marvin Esch ousted Congressman Weston Vivian in the second district, while Jack McDonald, the Redford township supervisor, upset Billie Farnum in the 19th district.

Here's a rundown of the results as unofficially determined at press time Wednesday:

Torch Drive Nears Quota

Even though residential collections had not yet reached local Torch Drive goals Tuesday, Metropolitan United Foundations officials were full of praise for campaigns in Northville and Novi.

Biggest bouquet was directed to George Kenyon and his staff, who solicited 207.8 percent more funds than Novi's business quota—the best showing in Oakland county.

Novi's business collections hit $2,017.60—more than $1,500 more than the goal. Similarly, Northville's business drive climbed over that community's drive, netting nearly $200 more than the goal of $1,162.

Officials said Novi was given the U-F's silver award because one of its businesses, Inter Lake Window, showed contributions by more than 80-percent of its employees.

By Tuesday afternoon—just one day before the drive was to officially end—Mrs. David Vincent, chairman of Northville's residential solicitations, reported collections were within $77 of the $2,560 goal and were expected to "go over" by the deadline.

Novi's residential chairman, Mrs. Gale Calhoun, reported collections of more than 80-percent of that community's $1,548.

New Parking Program Calls for Employee Lots

A parking plan for the city of Northville that includes metered lots for business district employees was presented to the city council Monday night by the parking authority.

Strict enforcement of all parking regulations was emphasized by the authority as the key to success of the program. Stiffer fines for parking violators were also recommended.

Specifically, the plan earmarks city-owned lots on North Wing, West Main, East Dunlap and near the Presbyterian church for business district employees.

These lots would be provided with meters that would take up to five nickels, which would allow one-hour per nickel for the first 20-cents. The fifth nickel would advance the meter to a full 12 hours of parking for 25 cents.

Parking lots for shoppers would remain unmetered, but the two-hour limitation would be strictly enforced under the authority's proposal. Likewise, enforcement of street meters was recommended.

The plan was introduced to the council by Charles Altman, Richard Lyon and Jack Ruland, members of the planning parking authority. Chairman John Stubbenvoll was attending a meeting of the citizens advisory committee on behalf of the parking authority.

The council accepted the report and set aside a special meeting for Monday to study the recommendations. Meters for employee lots was generally accepted by the council and a tentative order for 65 new meters placed.

Parking authority members pointed out that the main objective of their plan is to provide as many convenient parking spaces as possible for customers by encouraging employee parking on the fringes of the business district. The report noted that the plan represents an "interim parking plan" for the central business district and pointed out that customer parking was not adequate.

Altman noted that many business district employees now use customer parking all day long. He said that observations by the parking authority revealed that 12-15 spaces in the privately-owned Kroger lot are occupied daily by cars belonging to persons working in the business district, not at Kroger's. He reported that there are 292 persons employed in the business district.

The authority's report listed 375 privately-owned parking spaces in the business district, 144 city-owned spaces for customers, 113 spaces in city-owned lots earmarked for employees, and 105 metered spaces on streets in the business district.

Recommendations by the authority included:

--stricter control over parking through assignment of areas for customers and employees;

--12-hour meters (25 cents per day) on employee lots opening at 7 a.m.;

--non-metered customer lots restricted to two-hour parking between the hours of 9 a.m. and 6 p.m.;

--no parking on employee lots between 2:30 a.m. and 7 a.m. or on customer lots between 2:30 a.m. and 9 a.m. to permit maintenance of the lots by the city;

--no parking on either side of North and South Wing street between Dunlap and Cady;

--no parking on the north side of Cady between Wing and Church;

--no parking on either side of Church between Cady and Main;

--no parking on Hutton on either side between Main and Dunlap except where now metered;

--no parking on either side of Dunlap between Hutton and Wing except for spaces now metered;

--overtime parking fines one dollar within first 24 hours, five dollars thereafter;

--prohibited parking violation, five dollars.

It was suggested by the council that this might require the addition of another policeman or a "meter maid". The city manager encouraged the addition of an officer, who might carry out other assignments besides parking enforcement. Most councilmembers expressed the opinion that a meter maid might be preferable, pointing out that the addition of an officer might result in the slighting of parking patrol again. But Councilman Fred Kester took the position that no additions are needed and that parking can be enforced with the present staff.

Merriam Tops Fiorilli, 784-495

Stickers Slow Township Polls

A sticker campaign, waged principally in precinct two at the township hall polls, jammed voting machines and caused a delay of nearly two hours.

The difficulty also brought representatives of the secretary of state's office to the township hall.

Despite problems, township voters recorded an 80 per cent turnout with 1,320 of the 1,775 registered casting ballots.

Traditional Republican majorities prevailed in the township with Incumbent Supervisor R. D. Merriam turning back Democrat Joseph Fiorilli, 784-495, and Mrs. Crispin Hammond, GOP candidate for clerk, downing Democrat Mrs. Eugene Guido, 890-356.

A determined door-to-door campaign by Fiorilli showed results as he led all other Democrats running in the township. In precinct two Fiorilli made it a race, losing to Merriam by 43 votes, 296-253.

There was no competition for treasurer, or constable where Treasurer Alex Lawrence piled up 964 votes. Votes for trustee were: Thomas Armstrong, 934; Bernard Baldwin 919; Gunnar Stromberg, 931; and for constable, M. Richard Mitchell, 956, and Joseph Siprak, 915. Trustees-Elect Armstrong and Stromberg and Clerk-Elect Hammond do not take office until April.

The sticker candidate was J. Clifford Jones for trustee. Jones resides at 15690 Robinwood in the southeast section of the township where residents are currently protesting proposed rezoning for multiple dwellings in the area. The sticker campaign was interpreted as a protest against the zoning action.

Mrs. Margaret Tegge, assistant township clerk in charge of polls at precinct two, reported that 69 stickers with Jones' name were cast in precinct two. Eight Jones' stickers were cast in precinct one.

Mrs. Tegge said the stickers jammed the machine and locked it shortly after 10 a.m. She stated that either the stickers were too thick for the tape or that multiple stickers were applied on top of one another. She said four such stickers were found together. Mrs. Tegge said she was instructed by the Wayne County Bureau of Elections to tell voters to write in their candidate's name instead of using the stickers. Apparently, Mrs. Tegge stated, the sticker voters did not wish to comply with this order. She reported that she received a call from John Foley of the secretary of state's office who said an attorney, Thomas Healy of Plymouth, had reported the sticker problem to the secretary of state's office. Healy represents township residents in the rezoning protest which is scheduled for public hearing on November 15.

At 1 p.m. two representatives of the secretary of state came to the township hall. While they were there, Mrs. Tegge reports, the stickers were again used and jammed the machine. Mrs. Tegge said the election officials told voters not to use the stickers and to comply with the Wayne County Election Bureau's instructions.

Mrs. Tegge prepared a two-page report on the matter for the secretary of state. She said the officials told her she had acted properly in instructing voters to not use the stickers.

LATE LINE—The last ballot was cast in Northville township precinct two at 9:45 p.m. Tuesday, nearly two hours after polls had closed. The line-up was caused by a locked voting machine, which election officials say was caused by use of stickers.

In Our Town

By JEAN DAY

FLOWER ARRANGEMENTS that brighten the indoors during Michigan's bleak months always seem to create a special, festive atmosphere.

Seven such elegant fall and holiday arrangements will be designed by John Moss of John Moss Flowers, Birmingham, at a special guest day program of the Northville branch of the Woman's National Farm and Garden association to be held at 12:30 p.m. Monday, November 14.

For this program (a change from the listing in the membership book) Mrs. Charles Walker will be hostess at "Ever-seal," her lovely home at 21101 Cambridge road. In announcing the new program, Mrs. C. W. Whittlesey, second vice-president, reported that well-known Birmingham florist seldom makes such demonstration talks but made an exception for the Northville branch because he was being asked to return. He was most popular when he appeared here several seasons ago.

He is to be introduced by Mrs. Jack Scantlin. Best of all, his seven arrangements will be given away following the demonstration!

Tea chairman will be Mrs. Orson Atchinson with co-hostesses Mrs. Wilbur Johnston, Mrs. L. M. Eaton, Mrs. R. G. Nelson, Mrs. O. F. Reng, and Mrs. Reuben Jensen.

"COME FOR COFFEE" is one of Northville's most popular ways of getting to know new neighbors. Last week Mrs. Robert W. Bogart invited about 22 neighbors on West Main street and from adjacent roads in nearby Whipple subdivision to her home to meet three newcomers—Mrs. Robert G. Byrd, who was to move to Whipple road last weekend, Mrs. Frank Zimmerman, who recently moved to West Main street, and Mrs. Eugene Olewnik, who has been a West Main street resident for some time. Co-hostess with Mrs. Bogart was Mrs. Samuel McSeveny.

A GOLD EAGLE decorated invitations to Republican workers and friends for an election night open house to be held at the Republican headquarters on Main street.

BAZAARS, where the Christmas-minded shopper could pick up finely sewn doll clothes and pretty aprons as stocking-stuffers, are ALMOST an event of the past in our town. Again this year there is no big garden club fair nor is there a large Holly Mart at the Methodist church.

This year members of the Northville Methodist WSCS are putting the emphasis on the old-fashioned chicken pie dinner being served at the church tonight. And this event most assuredly is going to be a success. Even with three sittings scheduled, Mrs. Douglas Bolton, WSCS president, knew by Tuesday that it was virtually a sell-out.

For the lucky ones with dinner reservations there will be opportunity to do some bazaar shopping as the WSCS is holding a "smaller scale" mart with aprons, doll clothes and Christmas cards, in conjunction with the dinner.

THE HOLIDAY BOUTIQUE, a first-time feature of the Mothers club nearly new sale from 9 a.m. to 5 p.m. this Saturday, will give all shoppers who come early enough a chance to do some Christmas shopping. With Christmas about six weeks away those aprons that glitter with detachable trees should be especially appealing. There also will be a variety of gift items stitched and glued by club members... and the club's own Northville stationery.

PLEASE note that the boutique and the nearly-new sale will be held at 124 East Main street (the former Alice Rebecca shop next to Lapham's Men's shop—through the generosity of the Laphams.) Mrs. Essie Nider and her helpers will be collecting items for the like-new sale and pricing them this Friday evening.

A business meeting of Mothers club is scheduled for 8 p.m. Monday at the home of Mrs. C. A. Hoffman, 16181 Homer, with Mrs. Stuart Campbell, Mrs. John Canterbury and Mrs. Robert Bogart as hostesses.

Richard L. Cutler, vice-president for student affairs at the University of Michigan, is being quoted in our town these days as a result of his talk before the October meeting of Mothers Club. His feelings on parental responsibility and student activists on campus were thought provoking.

Mrs. A. L. Wistert, who helped arrange his appearance here, expressed concern that his figures regarding student demonstrators not be misunderstood; so we quote directly from an article by Dr. Cutler to Michigan alumni:

"On the University of Michigan campus, there are perhaps fifty hardcore, dedicated, and consistent protestors. These will demonstrate for any one of a number of causes—civil rights, ban the bomb, Vietnam, etc. In addition, there are perhaps 150 others of diverse concerns who will join with the hardcore activists on occasion, but only if convinced the specific cause they champion is their own. Also about two-thirds of the student body is latently concerned about some particular cause and might be brought into action in a specific circumstance."

Novi Eyes '68 Problems

Although the season's over, football in Novi is still very much in the air. Up in the air, that is. Pondering the future makes it that way.

For one thing, Novi isn't even assured of a place to play football next year, according to High School Principal Gerald Hartman. The present field, located behind the high school, is scheduled to have its face lifted.

Initial construction, let alone completion, is uncertain, Hartman said. In the event the new facility is not completed in time for the 1967 season, Hartman explained, Novi will have to secure a temporary site to play its game.

As planned, the new field will have an encircling fence and track, bleachers and probably new sod, Hartman reported. Lights, he said, are not presently contemplated.

Less of a problem, but still creating some difficulties is next year's schedule, primarily because Novi, which will have grades nine through 11 next year, is not affiliated with any conference.

Only games confirmed thus far are with the Northville Jayvees on September 21 and Oscar Carlson High School of Gibraltar on October 27, Hartman said.

Hartman added that contracts have been sent to Ypsilanti St. Johns, Michigan School for the Deaf and Pontiac Immanuel Christian; replies are expected soon. Novi also is trying to woo Hartland, the principal said.

"I've written to dozens of schools within a 50-mile radius," Hartman explained, "but schedules have to be juggled to fit us in."

If further confirmations are received, Novi will be playing only one Jayvee squad, Northville. Oscar Carlson and Hartland are both class C, and St. Johns, Michigan School for the Deaf and Immanuel Christian are class D.

"Size is a complicating factor in arranging games," Hartman said. "We'll be playing out of our class next year, but I feel we have good material to put on a good show."

Every one of Novi's gridders will be returning for two more years. Furthermore, they'll be a year wiser, having just completed their first year of competition against varsity and junior varsity teams.

The Wildcats started off in high gear, whipping Milan's JV's, 55-7, and the Lutheran West Jayvees, 40-6. Then Novi, against stiffer opposition presented by four varsity teams and a tough JV lot from Northville, dropped four out of five games.

Ashley, a class D school just north of Lansing, pinned a 21-12 defeat on Novi to snap the Wildcats seven-game winning streak that extended over two years.

Then, in order, Northville's Jayvees won, 34-6, as did Michigan School for the Deaf, 32-12. Novi bounced back to edge Immanuel Christian, 13-6, before losing the season finale to the Jayvees from Monroe Catholic Central, 14-7.

Novi's team record (3-4) doesn't show it, but the Wildcats, paced by Sophomore Co-Captains Jon Van Wagner and Gary Boyer, had a productive year.

As a team, Novi rushed 299 times for 1632 yards, a team average of 5.45 yards per try. Novi threw 56 passes for 251 yards. And the Wildcats outscored their opponents, 145 to 120 points.

Van Wagner, the Wildcats' litesome halfback and workhorse of the team, led in two departments, rushing and scoring. He gained 670 yards in 100 carries for a 6.7 average and tallied 46 points.

Boyer, a quarterback who can run as well as throw, attempted 46 passes and completed 16 for 152 yards. He toted the ball 42 times, gaining 211 yards for an average of five yards per carry.

Fullback Mike Farah was the third leading ground gainer. He ran for 166 yards.

Five Wildcats, besides Van Wagner and Boyer, averaged over four yards per carry. End Lee Snow averaged 8.71 yards (7 tries for 61 yards), Doug Schott 7.33 (15 for 110), John Davey 5.14 (27 for 139), Andy Pantaleo 4.75 (16 for 76) and Ken Osborn 4.20 (34 for 143).

Top receiver was End Doug Earl who caught 12 passes for 111 yards, averaging 9.25 yards per catch. Runner up was Pantaleo who snagged two passes for 68 yards.

Other leading scorers were Osborn with 18 points, Davey 14 points, Schott 13 points, Mike Farah 12 points and Boyer 10 points.

Crush Mustangs, 25-7

Trojans End 10-Year Famine

Unleashing the fury of 10 frustrating seasons, the Clarenceville Trojans stormed over Northville last Friday night, 25-7, as a small but vocal Clarenceville crowd screamed with delight.

The Trojans, with their slashing attack, scored three touchdowns in the first half, then battled the Mustangs even in the second.

Not even the field, soggy and cold but surprisingly clean after last week's snow storm, could slow Clarenceville just as it could not save Northville.

It might have been the warmest, balmy day in a decade for the Trojans. This marks the first time in 10 years that Clarenceville has taken the measure of Northville on the football field.

What's more, the victory meant second place in the Wayne Oakland conference for the Trojans, who finished with a 5-2 record. Bloomfield Hills, the champ with a 6-0 record, didn't play last Friday, due to inclement weather.

For Northville Coach Alex Klukach, the loss signals the end of a disappointing season, his first as head coach after taking over the reins from Ron Horwath. Northville finished with a 3-4 league record and a 3-5 mark for the season.

Where exactly Northville will end up in the conference, however, remains to be seen. Besides Bloomfield's clash with West Bloomfield, Clarkston's game with Milford was postponed indefinitely.

After fumbling the opening play from scrimmage, Clarenceville wasted precious little time in scoring its first touchdown. The Trojans halted Northville on the Trojan 30, banged out two first downs on the ground to the Northville 45, then sent Halfback Dave Kaipio wheeling around left end 45 yards for the touchdown and a 6-0 lead.

The next time Clarenceville had the ball, it rolled to the Northville 15 yard line. A pass complete in the end zone, however, was nullified by a holding penalty as the first quarter came to an end.

It didn't take the Trojans long to march right back down field after an interception that placed the ball on the Northville 42. A 15-yard penalty for grabbing the face mask and the nifty running of Fullback Mike Nye negotiated the distance. Nye sprinted twice for 13 yards, the last around right end to score untouched.

Quarterback Dave Wilson put Clarenceville in scoring position the next time it had the ball. Northville, unable to move the ball, punted to Wilson on the Clarenceville 27. Striding like a Greyhound, Wilson broke through a host of tacklers down the east sideline and raced into the end zone.

A clipping penalty, however, brought the ball back to the Northville 26 yard line, just delaying the inevitable. Four plays later, Clarenceville's Nye scored on sweep around right end, a play identical to the one executed in his previous TD jaunt.

This time the kick for extra point was good, giving the Trojans a comfortable 19-0 lead which they carried into the dressing room with them at halftime.

Northville came back on the field an aroused ball club, charging to a touchdown the first time it got its hands on the ball.

End Greg Carr was the key figure in the drive which began on the Northville 40. First the lean junior snared a pass for 12 yards, then Quarterback Chris Holman lofted the ball down field. Carr, reaching back, gathered it in, turned and outlegged the pursuing Clarenceville secondary to the end zone.

The placement sailed through the cross bar, and Northville was apparently on its way back, trailing, 19-7, with less than two minutes having elapsed in the second half.

But Clarenceville tightened up its pass defense and choked off the Northville attack. On the ground, Northville simply couldn't move successfully in the third quarter as Clarenceville stopped Northville for minus eight yardage.

In the fourth quarter, Clarenceville dominated play once again, pushing to the 20 yard line and the six before finally solving the Northville defense for a touchdown.

It came on a break, however, as Clarenceville intercepted a Northville desperation pass in the closing moments. Halfback Chuck Watkins ran the last 2 yards around right end moments before the gun went off, ending the game and bringing the season to a close.

Grandmother Wins Quiz

A 67-year-old grandmother won first place in last week's football contest. Her grandson won third place.

Mrs. Kathryn Byrne, 860 Spring, enjoys sports just like all other members of her family. Her son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Kritch, enter the football quiz each week.

So does son, Eddie, age 10, and Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Kritch, Jr., of 429 Lake. Joe, Jr., didn't do as well as Grandmother, but he managed third prize.

Mrs. Byrne missed only three games. Chuck Boerger, 220 Elm, a former winner, missed only four games, as did Joe Kritch, Jr. But Boerger came closest on predicting the Bears-Lions' score. Everyone missed the Lions' game, because no one predicted a tie. Several entries missed only four games, but none did as well as Grandmother Byrne with only three errors.

There's two more weeks to compete. So try, try again.

City OKs Pay Plan For Rubbish Pickup

The city council may have unloaded its rubbish problems Monday night by adopting a compromise pay plan for collections in the business district.

Several merchants had voiced their displeasure to the council last month when it was announced that costs for single and double pick-ups of rubbish in the business district would range from $5 to $20 monthly.

So the council appointed a committee of merchants to meet with City Manager Frank Ollendorff and solve the dilemma. Monday night the manager announced that the merchants had decided to "spread the cost" between some 132 businessmen. Previously, many of these businesses had not been charged for rubbish pick-ups, as is the case with residential collections.

Now all businesses will pay from $2 to $8 monthly. The manager was instructed to inform all businesses of their fee and to start the billing December 1. The $2 fee will be assessed against 34 merchants; $4 will be paid by four; $6 by 15; and $8 by 15 businesses.

Total annual revenue from the commercial district for the collections will be $4,728. Manager Ollendorff has pointed out that the city's collection costs have been increased $6,300 this year and that some $4,900 of this increase applies to the business district.

In other business Monday night approved the sale of a house at 122 East Dunlap to Mrs. Louise Older for a bid of $115. Mrs. Older has been given permission by the board of appeals to move the house to a lot at Rogers that Dubuar. She posted bond to insure that stipulations of the move are met. The Dunlap street lot will be converted into a parking lot by the city.

The city manager and city attorney were given permission to negotiate with a developer of a proposed subdivision on Novi road just north of the Northville City limits for sale of water from the city's now-unused Novi road well site. The council approved re-signing of a lease with the school board for use of the old library as board of education offices. A decision on whether or not to hold a centennial celebration next year was delayed.

But It's Down for Year

Vandalism Climbs in October

Twenty-nine cases of vandalism were reported, 15 more than the same month last year, the Northville police department report for October revealed.

Police Chief Samuel Elkins pointed out that the increase was due to a reduction in the number of auxiliary police officers on duty around Halloween.

"Last year, approximately two weeks before Halloween, we had 12 auxiliary policemen on duty," the chief said. "This year we cut way down. Auxiliary officers were on duty the weekend prior to Halloween and during the Halloween weekend," he stated.

Vandalism for the year, however, is down (24 infractions less than last year's 114), as is larceny over and under $50. Elkins attributes this drop to crime prevention through a factor he admits is hard to weigh, patrolling.

Due to a change in policy, persons charged with drunkenness has increased appreciably, from nine to 33 for the year. "I go by the book," Elkins explained. "Previously drunks were normally brought into the station and put in jail over night to sober up. I feel that if the arrest is made, we should prosecute. If we don't," the chief said, "we could be liable for false arrest."

A shortage of manpower, Elkins reported, accounts for the drastic drop in the number of parking violation tickets issued so far this year. At the same time last year, 1,822 tickets were issued, compared to this year's 950. Only 37 were issued last month; 212 the same month one year ago.

"Since we are short on manpower," Elkins said, "I believe we must put the bulk of the officers on duty during night time, when the more serious crimes take place. We have every intention of picking up, however," he added.

Number of license applications skyrocketed this year, due to the fact that other bureaus are closing down, Elkins said. Because of expense and the time involved, he continued, eventually the secretary of state's office will take over all licensing.

Other facts revealed in the monthly report were total calls totaled 492, an increase of 17 for the month; 17 stray dogs were captured, 5 more than the same month last year and pushing the yearly total to 160 as opposed to last year's 66; total accidents of 18 for the month were down eight from last year, and the number of tickets issued for moving violations decreased 19 from 75 issued the same month last year.

from the PASTOR'S STUDY

Rev. Father John Wittstock
Our Lady of Victory Church

As a Christian I need to develop a deep, personal understanding and appreciation of the great privilege of being called to grow in the knowledge, love and service of Christ through the grace of Baptism. If I regard my faith as an impersonal creed, cult or moral code which I accept because I happen to have been raised a Christian, I shall probably be content with a minimum fulfillment of my religious obligations rather than for an enthusiastic response to God's grace.

Because we are citizens of two worlds, of God and country we are experiencing insistent, competitive demands upon our limited time, energy and interest. One way to meet this challenge is to develop a set of values that classifies these conflicting demands, according to their true significance for my personal fulfillment — "Seek first the kingdom of heaven and all else will be added unto you." Yet merely knowing this truth is not sufficient. We must convince ourselves that it can be done. This requires motivation, dedication, commitment, love — and love not only of principles but of a person. We will become Christian to the extent that we acknowledge our relationship to Christ by continued growth in His knowledge, love and service.

I can act in a Christ-like manner only if I have formed myself to the image of Christ through a definite plan of prayer and study. There are no short cuts to this kind of action. First of all I must supernaturalize my daily work and relationship with others by making a right intention the first thing in the morning, thus becoming more aware each day that the right performance of my duties (carrying out my responsibilities according to my state in life) is my way to Christian perfection. Each day I will consider, even though briefly, the lessons of the Scriptures and their application to personal and social life. Each week I will try to read some religious periodical to learn the problems of the social order. Then in the action for Christ I will not only pray each day for the welfare of my neighbor but implement this prayer by doing something for my neighbor. Then each night before retiring I shall ask myself "What contribution did I personally make this past day to make this world a better place in which to live?" Wouldn't it be wonderful if every Christian could methodically follow each week a spiritual rule of life, namely prayer, study, and action for Christ. Carrying out such a program conscientiously would enable one to be Christian rather than a Christian.

Orchard Hills Baptist Plans Revival Services

The Orchard Hills Baptist church will conduct revival services November 27 through December 4, Pastor Fred Trachsel announced this week.

The services will be the first of their kind conducted by the church since it moved to the new five-acre site on Novi road, between Nine and 10 Mile roads.

Rev. E. Clay Polk will be the featured speaker. Pastor of the Columbia Avenue Baptist church in Pontiac, he is president of the Baptist Church Convention of Michigan, SBC.

William Valade, music director of Orchard Hills, will be in charge of the congregational singing.

A nursery will be provided for those attending the services, which will begin nightly at 7:15 p.m.

Presbyterians Eat To Furnish School

A Harvest Festival family potluck dinner at the South Lyon United Presbyterian church, Tuesday, November 1, resulted in contributions to date of $717 toward the purchase of furnishings for the new educational unit addition.

Work on the addition which had been at a standstill in recent weeks due to a carpenters strike, was to resume this week. Pastor of the church, the Rev. N. A. Riedesel, said that he is still hoping for completion in the early part of December.

Following the potluck dinner, which approximately 90 persons attended, the group gathered in the church sanctuary for a short inspirational service led by the pastor.

HERB'S HANGOUT

THE CHURCH FOR ALL
ALL FOR THE CHURCH

The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the church. They are: (1) For his own sake. (2) For his children's sake. (3) For the sake of his community and nation. (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.

An alley off Grover Street . . . headquarters for a "big operation." This is Herb's hangout. And Herb is "the boss!"

Here the kids report for their assignments. Here the loot is divided. Here strategy is mapped out for the next foray against a rival gang.

An alley off Grover Street . . . and while a proud community hardly lifts an eyebrow, tomorrow's underworld is growing, flourishing.

Two blocks away is old Trinity Church with its Sunday School, its Youth Fellowship, its dedication to God. What a difference old Trinity could have made in Herb's life; what character might have been molded among the boys who are now "Herb's gang!"

But Herb's folks and the parents of the other boys are among the millions of Americans who are unchurched.

Opposes Atomic Accelerator

To the Editor:

If the AEC atomic accelerator is built here, it will be the ruin of Northville, Whitmore Lake, Ann Arbor and its surroundings.

Without a shadow of a doubt, instead of a nice mixture of city, village and rural living, which still maintains a sense of community life, there will be a sprawling criss-cross of roads, of jerry-built housing, of gas stations, bars, drive-ins and motels, and other buildings which invariably follow all development projects. The kind of hurried life, lack of community feeling, impersonality, and unnatural existence caused by so drastically altering the environment will lead to a life which no one particularly welcomes or desires, if they can have the choice otherwise.

You cannot take 6000 acres, so close to an urban area, develop it, and expect that it will be just a nice little garden spot stuck off on the outskirts of town. NO, THIS WILL BE THE FINAL STROKE TO A NEW LOS ANGELES PLUNK IN THE HEART OF THE MIDWEST.

A project as big as this and demanding so much land should not be put in the already crowded Great Lakes area. It should be put in the desert

West where it will not interfere with the ordered lives of decent, unharried citizens, be they town dwellers or farmers.

It is one thing to solve the problems of the atom. And it is another to create new problems at the same time in the misuse of the land, in the forced crowding of the population, in the breakdown of community living because of a synthetic sprawl, in the lack of political discussion of the social and land issues involved, and in the false representation of benefits which this costly project is supposed to bring to the people of this area.

Worse, we are letting this be foisted upon us by a lot of political trickery and by hard-sell public relations. Perhaps we need machines, development, and atomic power, but if the sensible people do not dictate when, how, and where the machines will be used, we are going to be victims of power we cannot control. And this is much more threatening from the awesome atomic power we have already created. When a nation for the sake of some economic goals is ready to disregard the wise social uses of its resources, it is in deep trouble. We have seen enough of the destruction of the countryside and of urban-factory sprawl since World War II to cry Halt! We have had enough!

I sincerely hope that you will put this in your paper in its entirety and let it stand on its own argument and merits, because without a doubt this is the morally right position on this proposed "racetrack." I have lived too long in this area of northern Ohio and southern Michigan not to feel very strongly on this issue, and for a time I had the good fortune to live (rented room) on Whitmore Lake Road and am familiar with the area.

Sincerely,
T. A. Brindley
Ann Arbor

Links Reds with UNICEF

To the Editor:

I would like to comment on the article that appeared in your paper regarding the collection of money for UNICEF.

It is disheartening indeed to see our churches in the area being so deceived that they collect money for the United Nations — an organization controlled by ungodly, atheistic communism. I am certain that the people in these churches are sincere but just don't know anything about the United Nations. They haven't been told the truth.

I can not believe one cent would come from these people if they realized the United Nations was conceived by the Communists, controlled by the Communists, and has as its end world conquest by Communism.

Sincerely,
Richard C. Heslip

Novi Justice Court

The local men who admittedly attempted to pry old lumber from a vacant tool shed for remodeling purposes were fined $100 apiece in Novi Justice court last Thursday.

Kerry C. Madigan, 22, of 42777 Eight Mile road and Charles E. Klocke, 24, of 45601 West Nine Mile road pleaded guilty to malicious destruction of property before Justice Robert K. Anderson.

They were apprehended, Novi police said, as they were trying to pry lumber from an old tool shed on property owned by Fred Bernhardt, 4644 West Nine Mile road. Site of the incident was property at the northwest corner of Beck and Nine Mile roads.

Police said they were told that lumber would be used for remodeling purposes.

Also slapped with a $100 fine was Joseph P. Korsic, 46, of Walled Lake. Korsic pleaded guilty to reckless driving on East Lake drive and 14 Mile road.

A Detroit man and his wife were arraigned last Thursday on charges stemming from a July 7 incident. James R. Rudolph, 29, was fined $25 for driving without a license and $15 for driving a vehicle with defective lights. Mrs. Rudolph, 22, was fined for letting an unlicensed driver, her husband, to drive.

A Bloomfield Hills youth, Robert W. Robinson, 20, was fined $10 for speeding 80 miles per hour in a 70 zone and was also fined $20 for having liquor in his possession.

Stopped on the expressway between Meadowbrook and Haggerty roads for speeding, Robinson was then discovered with beer in his car, police said.

For driving a truck with an uncovered load of trash, Ronald A. Lang, 26, was assessed a $15 fine by Justice Anderson. Lang lives in Ferndale.

Robert Moss, 33, of Plymouth pleaded guilty to creating a traffic hazard and paid a $20 fine. Police reported Moss' vehicle, parked on the south side of 14 Mile road, was partly on the roadway.

Ticketed October 17 for defacing his driver's license, Frederick A. Jones, also of Plymouth, was fined $15 on November 2. Jones, 22, was originally stopped for driving a vehicle with a noisy exhaust on Novi road and Grand River.

WHAT MODEL OF NEW CAR SHOULD YOU BUY?

A standard size, intermediate or compact? A six or eight cylinder? A four-door sedan, two-door hardtop or station wagon? How many optional extras?

More than 350 models can be seen in dealer's showrooms this year to dazzle and confuse and beguile the most catered-to motorists in the most abundant auto market in history.

What do the experts say on this confusing subject? The professional fleet administrators, who buy for companies that purchase more than 300,000 passenger cars every year?

A current survey of 312 company and government officials shows the basic fleet car this year will be a standard size (119-inch wheelbase) middle line four-door sedan with automatic transmission.

Business fleets year by year have increasingly swung away from stripped-down economy cars to bigger, more completely equipped models. There are dollars and cents reasons based on greater operating economy and higher used car resale.

This year's study shows 4 percent will be standard size, 25 percent intermediate and 11 percent compact. V-8 engines will power 78 percent, six cylinders 20 percent and V-6s 2 percent. Body styles will be 54 percent four-door sedans 25 percent two-door hardtops and 8 percent station wagons.

Besides economy and resale, fleet buyers are also motivated like most buyers by appearance, dependability, warranty and reliable dealer service.

"They'd rather switch to a Gas Incinerator than fight my smoke!"

"I can't believe it—replaced by a young upstart who doesn't even smoke! This incinerator fellow must not have any pride—he even consumes garbage! No self-respecting trash burner would attempt that! And who's going to keep the neighbors in their place by blowing smoke and soot in their yard? You'll see... replacing me with an automatic Gas Incinerator will make a big difference in their life!"

You, too, can end trash and garbage problems by switching to a new, smokeless, odorless Gas Incinerator

The Michigan Brown Swiss Cattle Breeders' association recently received notice from the state judging committee that they had completed their selection of the "State Bell Ringers".

Edward W. Porath of Salem, who showed some of the top animals at his Canton show, had the following State Bell Ringers:

Reserve junior yearling, Water Cress Lois 478849; senior yearling, Water Cress Kerchief 478853; and reserve three-year-old, Water Cress Image 447827.

These animals are now eligible for competition in the District and National Bell Ringer Contests.

Four ounces of paraffin wax dissolved in a quart of gasoline will make an excellent paint brush preservative. Clean brush thoroughly in thinner, then dip into gasoline-paraffin solution. Hang brush in open air without wiping or shaking dry. Gasoline quickly evaporates but paraffin coating will keep bristles soft and flexible indefinitely. To ready brush for use, wash it in gasoline to remove paraffin.

Overseas: November 10

Mailing Deadlines Set

Acting Northville Postmaster John Steimel reports that a manual for winning the battle with the annual avalanche of Christmas mail has been received here.

Leonard Mazur

Mazur to Join Novi Police

With the hiring of Leonard E. Mazur, 33, the Novi police department was brought to full strength of nine. Mazur, who lives in Detroit, has had 12 years of police experience, including duty with the Novi and Northville police and the Washtenaw county sheriff's department. Now a patrolman with the Bloomfield township police, Mazur will assume his new duties on the Novi force on November 21.

Steimel reminded mailers that the best way to assist the postal service during the Christmas "rush" is to shop early, mail early and use ZIP Codes. "It definitely is not too early to start putting your mailing lists in order," he said. "By organizing your Christmas mailing early, you help yourself to a happier and more relaxed holiday season."

The mobilization manual lists suggested mailing dates to assure on-time delivery of Christmas mail as:

Domestic surface mail — gift parcels for distant states by December 5, for nearby areas by December 14. Greeting cards for distant states by December 10, for near-by areas by December 15.

Overseas surface mail — should be sent no later than November 10. Overseas air mail should be sent by December 10. Domestic air mail is suggested for the tail-end of the mailing rush.

Steimel reminded those mailing to servicemen in the Pacific area and Southeast Asia that small parcels weighing five pounds or less may be mailed at the point of deposit and San Francisco. The packages will be sent by surface to the West Coast and by Air on a space available basis to their final destination.

The special issue of the postal bulletin places heavy emphasis on the use of ZIP Codes.

Goodwill Pick-Up

The next visit of Goodwill Industries pickup trucks to Northville is scheduled for Monday. WHEREAS the Anger Manufacturing Company is the only company or building that fronts upon this road, and

Anti-Poverty Benefits Defended

LANSING — Is the anti-poverty program of value? While the economy booms, it seems there are many jobs which pay well for youths with limited education so they are not much interested in working in poverty projects at $1.25 per hour.

A state-wide Neighborhood Youth Corps project designed to put 1,700 high school dropouts to work drew only 300 volunteers. A Youth Employment Project in the Detroit metropolitan area got only 30 of 70 young men sought for summer work.

Despite these disappointing results, officials heading the projects remained optimistic.

Those who did volunteer for the work were good workers and many could quickly be trained for placement in more permanent types of jobs at higher pay.

Some volunteers on the conservation-type Youth Corps project were willing to continue indefinitely at the $1.25 or $1.50 rate. This was more than their fathers ever made in their lives.

ANTI-POVERTY workers had anticipated they would encounter many youths whose dreams were unrealistic. Other youths from underprivileged homes already had developed a cynicism and apathy which drained any desire for useful work.

While many challenged whether the vast expenditures for anti-poverty work programs were justified by the number served, officials contended that, as in many other government-sponsored projects, every little bit helps.

GOOD NEWS for motorists whose driving habits have given them cause to worry over insurability came Nov. 1 when new Michigan law took effect.

Michigan became the second state to enact legislation specifying the conditions under which an insurance company can cancel auto coverage during the term of the policy.

Rep. Albert Kramer, Oak Park Democrat, emphasized the law was designed to protect both the driver and the insurance company.

Higher rates on auto insurance have hit every driver in Michigan the past several years, but Kramer's law will have no effect on this trend.

Instead it will require that if a company insures a driver for 55 days, it must give cause for a later decision to cancel the policy.

A driver whose coverage is cancelled beyond the 55-day trial period can appeal the company's decision to the State Insurance Department and get a quick decision on whether the cancellation is justified.

Insurance companies are protected by the specific reasons permitting cancellation during the coverage period.

Cancellation is allowed for violation of the policy's conditions; a false or fraudulent claim; false information about traffic records or other matters used to determine the insurability of a motorist; revocation of a driver's license; use of a defective vehicle; physical disability that impairs driving; or excessive use of alcohol.

Auto insurance cancellation practices have been under study by legislative committees for several years. Last year, the Insurance department reported about 3,500 complaints were received in which the motorists claimed their policies were unjustly cancelled in mid-term.

Kramer anticipates that the law he introduced will eliminate most of this as the insurance department will get the facts from both sides and decide whether justification exists for cancellation.

WEATHER forecasts indicate Michigan is about due for an old-fashioned winter, and resort operators are ready for the start of the snow sport season.

Skating, tobogganing and related activities usually start about Thanksgiving Day, but resort owners have been working since the close of the last season to prepare facilities for the ever-mounting number of people expected to participate this year.

More than 250,000 skiers are expected to be using Michigan's slopes this year. Best estimates are they will spend about $28 million in the state during the Thanksgiving-through-April season.

Numbers of resorts vary slightly each year and the 83 winter sports centers listed this year will keep Michigan ranked among the nation's leading winter vacation areas.

Many resorts have expanded slopes, built lodges, added the latest maintenance equipment, installed lift and tow facilities and put in related attractions such as sauna baths, heated swimming pools, toboggan runs and skating rinks.

Michigan tourist surveys also show two resorts have added airplane landing strips to appeal to the growing number of "fly-in" skiers.

A downward trend in activity was experienced last year in Michigan but this was the first such drop in 10 years so optimism abounds in the North country for the 1966-67 season.

Yule Outlook Bright

BABSON PARK, Mass. — Marketing and sales people seem confident about Christmas business. Most of them believe that this year's holiday sales will set new records in both physical and dollar volume. Their optimism is warranted.

Retail sales this year have not consistently shown the same upthrust as in 1965, but the trend has been generally encouraging. The cumulative total since January 1 topped that for the same period a year earlier by 9%. An even better record was chalked up by department store sales, which were 14% above those attained in the corresponding 1965 period. Without doubt, both retail sales and department-store sales for 1966 as a whole will better those of 1965 by wide margins.

Out come of the congressional elections should not have any marked effect on retail sales prospects or on results in November and December. Nor will the tight money and credit situation do more than curb the degree of upturn.

CONFIDENCE that holiday business will be good is bolstered by the current very favorable employment-unemployment ratio, as well as by a still rising trend in personal income. At present the number of the nation's employed tops the year-ago level by 1.8 million and is close to the all-time record, while only 3 1/2% of the labor force is unemployed. Between now and year's end, there ought to be at least a normal seasonal rise in employment and we forecast that unemployment will be further downshaded.

Meanwhile, total salary and wage income is moving higher, reflecting the tenor of recent settlements with managements. The continued rise in salary and wage income also reflects a sustained flow of overtime payments as the factory work week holds somewhat above 41 hours on average.

At recent date, personal income in the U.S. was at a seasonally adjusted annual rate of $589.5 billion, — up $37 billion, or 6.7% from the comparable month a year ago when the total had been boosted sharply by a $10.7-billion lump-sum retroactive payment of social security increases. More important even than this mighty gain in overall income is the fact that the rise exceeds price increases. This is a reversal of what was happening in the forefront of this year when prices were rising faster than wages, salaries, pensions, and other income payments.

A SURVEY of economic indicators suggests that both total personal income and income after taxes will make further gains in the final months of this year. This continued upturn will permit consumer buying to be one of the chief supports of the economy. In other words, consumer purchasing power — which is still close to record levels — could show some further expansion.

While we confidently predict record 1966 holiday sales and feel that at least a 7% boost in dollar volume versus a year ago is fully attainable, this will not come about automatically. Nor will it be achieved by all retailers. Despite near-record employment, there are some areas of high unemployment. Despite near-record industrial production, there are some manufacturing companies that are not doing as well as they did a year ago.

Also, it should be pointed out that price rises will account for a larger percentage of the 1966 sales gains than was the case a year ago and that profit margins will tend to narrow for those merchandisers who do not clamp a tight control on costs. In addition to clothes and toys, the items that should move best at Christmastime are recreational equipment, color-TV, furniture, and home appliances.

Census Bureau

To Quiz Voters

A series of questions on registration and voting will be asked in this area during November as a part of the Census Bureau's monthly Current Population Survey, according to Robert A. Yerkey, director of the Bureau's regional office in Detroit.

SPEAKING for The Record

By BILL SLIGER

Last July, this column tossed a few brickbats at the postal service.

Somehow the column found its way to the assistant to the regional director of the post office department in Chicago. His name is Frank G. Sulewski.

You'd never guess what happened as a result. The PO took steps to correct the problem, at least as it applied to the delivery of our newspapers.

Now this column has criticized many government operations in the past, mostly at the local level where targets are better known. Usually we get arguments instead of analysis and correction.

But not so with Frank. He had our system of sacking newspapers reviewed and changed. Since then the department's rechecked our list just to see that it's being kept accurately.

Previously we received frequent complaints from out-of-town subscribers that their newspapers were being received several days late. No more. It appears that the problem's been solved.

I'm not ready to slap the post office department on the back and announce that the government's running a highly-efficient delivery system. In truth I agree with the wit who said that if the telephone system were operated by the government, we couldn't afford to call Chicago.

But in spite of their problems with mounting mail volumes and help shortages it's obvious that the department is trying. And I hope that Frank G. Sulewski will add this column to his collection.

With luck (via air mail-special delivery) it should arrive there just ahead of the Christmas rush.

The early snowfall last week caught many motorists by surprise. I counted five cars in the ditch along Novi road, Ten Mile and Grand River when the storm was at its fiercest Wednesday evening.

It occurred to me that driving on icy roads is like anything else ... when you're out of practice you are a little less adept. Or else we're so accustomed to summer driving that we forget how treacherous a slippery road can be.

At any rate, a release from the Institute for Safer Living reminds us that the "disaster season" is at hand.

Last year the greatest number of accidents occurred during the period between Thanksgiving and New Year's.

Reasons given for the accident increase during the waning weeks of the year are: 1-Increased physical activity and fatigue due to shopping, house cleaning, parties; 2-More people driving on congested roads, during bad weather and frequently after having a few drinks; 3-The usual carefree spirit causes potential accident victims to let their guards down.

"Safer Living" gives these suggestions for avoiding becoming an accident statistic:

--Do your shopping early, avoid last minute rush;

--Safety inspect your house;

--Use fireproof ornaments for the holidays and don't hang decorations while standing on a shaky ladder;

--Give "sober" thought to use of the family car.

--Get enough sleep and rest between parties.

If you're going to be a statistic, let it be one of those who are around to enjoy 1967.

Ed Yerkes, an attorney and member of a Northville pioneer family, frequently crusades to preserve old houses and buildings so that all evidence of Northville's heritage is not lost.

Lately he has reminded me of another worthwhile project for our community leaders.

It is the preservation of space -- untouched land for recreation, relaxation and just plain escape for meditation.

He points out that it was T. Glenn Phillips, a former Northville resident, who helped plan the Rouge park system that now extends from Detroit to Northville. Such vision is again needed to help preserve nature areas around Northville, Yerkes states.

Prime examples could be the fish hatchery, the beautiful, rolling Maybury Sanatorium property and many other smaller parcels within the community (Ford Field, etc.).

A LOOSE LEAF

By ROLLY PETERSON

The heat is off American television. Newton Minnow, one time severe critic, has faded into obscurity along with his proclamation that television in the United States is a "vast wasteland."

He made the statement as head of a government committee investigating television, its maladies and possible remedies. Findings revealed that because of popular acclaim, which allegedly was no reliable indicator of quality at all, television was tumbling into a morass of idiosyncrasy.

The argument held validity for the intellectually elite who formerly held this view in private. It irritated some faithful viewers. But the passive majority didn't care one way or the other.

Although the rubarb has long since abated, there's still room for speculation. If Minnow's advice had been followed, what would American television be like?

The answer, or a close parallel to it, can be found by flicking on your television set. Keep turning until you get to channel nine. There, on CKLW, is a promise.

Independently owned, CKLW is affiliated with the Canadian Broadcasting Company (CBC), the Canadian equivalent of NBC, CBS and the ABC networks. Unlike the latter, however, CBC is maintained by the government.

The government actually subsidizes program, s paring commercial interruptions to a minimum (12 is a maximum per hour). In fact, during a CBC program, there may be no commercials for an hour or two.

Surprisingly, although the government does impose other regulations, it observes a laissez-faire program policy, letting, as a reliable Canadian source put it, "the artistic people lead the way in educating the public."

"We're in a pioneering area," the source said. "Our purpose is primarily to educate, to put out quality programs. We're looking for writers with good ideas, sometimes screwball ideas," the source said. "They can do unusual things."

Serving as an experimental outlet for the avant garde is Festival, a CBC program, usually 90 minutes long, to be seen each Wednesday at 9:30 p.m. on channel nine.

Like most quality programs, Festival appeals to a handful of viewers, a reported 10 to 12 percent of the television audience. But presto! Being subsidized, its fare of live plays, original and adapted, and documentaries survive.

"Heloise and Abelard," a play written by John Forsythe and adapted for television and directed by George Bloomfield, was Festival's triumph last week.

With unrelieved dramatic force, the story unfolds before us, no commercials to interrupt the inexorable movement of the play from its ecstatic beginning of love discovered to its triumphant ending in tragedy shared, cemented by love.

The story is old, set in medieval France, but it transcends time and place; it seems as relevant today as the play might have been to 12th century audiences. How is this possible? Because eternal verities are asserted. It is simply a story of man as a human being, who, basically, has not changed through the ages.

And the problems that plagued man then are with us now. The protagonist, Peter Abelard, a cleric, is confronted by an eternal argument: reason versus emotion. Reason tells him that carnal love is sinful. His emotions, however, draw him to Heloise. He falls to desire.

The two, heart and mind, are reconciled in the forceful final scene. Abelard has come to learn that love of Diphtheria was sweeping Milford, increasing numbers of Farmington horses were suffering distemper, and the disease was "making fearful havoc" in Plymouth. And the Record editor took up residence on Prospect Hill following the death of his wife.

The election was over and the Republicans were heralding significant victories in Northville. Their banner waved in the breeze atop the pole they had "raised" earlier at the corner of Main and Center streets. Democrats ignored the hilarity as they walked the new wooden sidewalks and crosswalks laid down by the village.

All in all it was a pretty gloomy post-election period for Democrats that cold November -- 95 years ago.

Wrote Record Editor Samuel H. Little:

"The result of the elections may be briefly stated. Grant has carried every Northern state and many of the Southern states. The Republican majorities are much larger than ever before known.

"The result has been such as to surprise everybody -- even the most sanguine Republicans. The like of it has never been known in the history of the nation. We leave our readers to make their own comments on the result."

In Michigan the Republican majority approached 55,000.

In Wayne county the majority for Grant stood at 2,000.

And in Northville, Horace Greeley lost out to U.S. Grant, 235 to 78.

But the real Democratic loss was yet to come.

Less than a month later, Little wrote:

"The great man has gone. Broken hearted by the death of his wife in the midst of a heated political struggle, it is not to be wondered at that, under the scathing popular rebuke which he received when he was least able to bear defeat, he should have succumbed ... In death Mr. Greeley finds rest and peace, both of which were denied him here. He died November 29th, at the age of nearly 62.

I came across that interesting piece of history while searching the Record files for some concrete evidence that would pinpoint 1967 as the centennial of the incorporation of Northville.

In those files I found the following:

"In 1867 Northville was incorporated as a village. W. P. Yerkes was its first president. In January, 1869, the village ordinances were revised under the presidency of J. W. Dolph."

Since the Record was not founded until two years after 1867 by Sam Little, nothing of real substance can be found in this newspaper substantiating that incorporation.

Neither is there any evidence to disapprove the 1867 date. A report that Roscoe Reed, fourth editor of The Record, was village clerk at the time of incorporation in 1869 appears untrue. Reed was indeed the clerk in that year, but none of the council proceedings published in the Record that year tell of any incorporation. Furthermore, since the earliest Records speak of a village president and other village officers, it would seem that an earlier incorporation is probable since Northville was still part of Plymouth township until 1898.

This item appeared in the April 15, 1898 issue:

"To use 'Swag' in its broader sense the two townships (newly formed Northville and Plymouth) made a 'divvy' in a proportion of a valuation of $1,243,290 for Northville and $1,078,430 for Plymouth. There was $657.23 in the treasury and Northville got $352.27 and the highway commissioner's tools, while Plymouth carried off $304.96 and the clerk's office fixtures, books, etc."
