

Area Christmas Service to Hail Birth of Savior

Many area churches will herald the birth of Christ in words and music during special Christmas Eve and Christmas Day services this weekend. Some churches held their Christmas services this past Sunday.

Christmas Eve service at the First Presbyterian church of Northville, from 11 to midnight, will include a choir presentation from Handel's Messiah and feature the Young Bell Ringers group. Director William G. Williams is arranging the program.

"Thanks ... thank you very much."

There was little need for more because the beaming faces of their children expressed more than any words that Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd Boursaw could muster.

Novi to Vote On Cityhood

For the third time in eight years, voters in Novi will march to the polls to voice their opinion on making the village of Novi a city.

The election, set Monday by the village council, will be held April 4. Electors will also vote for at least nine members of the charter commission.

Paving the way for the election was the ruling of Circuit Court Judge Charles Thorburn. He held that it was not mandatory for Novi to meet the statutory population requirement of 500 people per square mile before becoming a home rule city.

Twice previously incorporation as a city had appeared on the ballot in Novi. It was defeated 766-175 in 1959, and 527-264 in 1962.

Prom Tapped For Rec Job

Bob Prom

Robert Prom has been named to succeed Kenneth Conley as director of the Northville recreation program.

Recreation Commission Chairman R. D. Merriam announced that Prom had been interviewed and appointed by the joint city-township commission last week.

Conley, who had been program director for the past seven years, resigned earlier this month. Prom takes over January 1.

Northville's recreation program will not be new to Prom. During the 5 1/2 years he taught fifth and sixth grades in the Northville public school system Prom also worked in the community recreation program.

This year he left the Northville system to accept a position as school community agent for the Romulus district for the Southern Wayne County Economic Opportunity Group, Inc.

Specifically, Prom has been setting up recreation programs for disadvantaged persons. His work includes pre-school programs, after-school enrichment programs for school-age youngsters, and adult education programs.

The local recreation program is a part-time postpaying $4,000 annually.

Prom, 33, is a life-long Northville resident having graduated from Northville high school in 1951. He received his degree in education from Eastern Michigan University. Prom and his wife, Delores, have three children and reside at 967 Allen drive.

morning at 9:30 p.m.

Rev. Lloyd G. Brasure also has announced that the student reception has been changed to Sunday, January 1 following the 11 a.m. service. Communion will be observed at 8:30, 9:30 and 11 a.m. on January 1, he added. Deacons will serve at 8:30, elders at 9:30 and 11.

A Midnight Mass Christmas Eve at Our Lady of Victory Catholic Church will be preceded by Christmas carols sung by students of OLV school at 11:30 p.m.

Regular Sunday Masses will be said Christmas Day at 7, 8:30 and 10:30 a.m. and 12:15 p.m.

A Christmas Eve family service will be held at St. Paul's Lutheran Church of Northville, beginning at 7:30 p.m. The Rev. Charles Boerger's sermon theme will be "Christmas Means the End of Fear".

mon theme will be "Christmas Means the End of Fear".

At 11 p.m. the church will hold its candlelight service, sponsored by the church youth. It will feature an Advent chancel drama, carol singing and candlelighting.

The Christmas Day Festival Service at 10:30 a.m. has the sermon theme, "The True Joy of Christmas."

A Communion service will be held New Year's Eve at 7:30 p.m., with the theme, "Jesus Christ, always the Same", and on New Year's Day at 10:30 a.m. Communion will again be celebrated. Special music by both the junior and the senior choirs will be rendered in all services.

"Christmas Greetings" will be the theme of the 11 a.m. Christmas Day service at the First Baptist Church of Northville, according to the Rev. Robert Spradling.

A Watch Night program is planned for New Year's Eve from 9:30 to midnight. It will consist of a color film entitled, "The Power of the Resurrection." Refreshments will be served following the film. Later, college students will present a special program, followed by a Communion service at midnight.

Communion will be celebrated at 11 p.m. Christmas Eve at Evangelical Lutheran Church of the Epiphany in Northville township.

Regular Sunday worship services are scheduled at 11 a.m. and 7 p.m. Christmas Day at Orchard Hills Baptist Church, according to the Rev. Fred J. Daniels.

A Christmas Eve service featuring organ music and singing will be held at the First Methodist church of Northville beginning at 7:30 p.m. According to the Rev. S. D. Kinde, pastor, only one service -- at 10 a.m. -- is scheduled for Christmas Sunday.

No special Christmas services are planned at Full Salvation Union. Services will be held as usual at 8 p.m. Saturday and at 3:30 and 8 p.m. Sunday, with Sunday school at 2:30.

Regular services also are planned at Trinity Baptist Church, with worship service at 11 a.m. and Sunday school at 9:30 a.m. Christmas morning.

Children and young people at Willowbrook Community church will signal the start of the Christmas celebration from 8 to 10 p.m. Saturday with Christmas morning.

Board Tosses Out School Bids

Readvertisement for a general contracting bid and resubmission of the district's original request for the Fish Hatchery property were unanimously authorized by the board of education Monday night.

Decision to readvertise for bids followed the scrapping of all original general contracting bids, which in turn was sparked by a legal question over the completion date.

The board acted upon the advice of the school attorney, who contended that the board could not legally award the contract to the lowest bidder because he failed to meet all specifications--namely agreeing to complete the additions by September, 1967.

The architect in turn recommended that the board not award to the second lowest bidder but seek entirely new bids. The subsequent board action does not affect bids submitted by subcontractors on mechanical and electrical work. These have already been let to low bidders.

The legal question developed when C. H. Reisdorf & Sons submitted a low bid of $579,000 -- some $16,000 lower than that of J. V. Moriarty -- but conditioned its bid on the basis of a completion by February, 1968. Moriarty and all other bidders conformed to bid specifications requiring a September, 1967 completion.

To award the contract to Reisdorf, the attorney reasoned, would be to circumvent the intent of the specifications. And, in the opinion of the architect, awarding of the bid to the second low bidder meant too great a loss of money.

In readvertising with a bid opening set for January 16, the architect is to emphasize the importance of an early completion date, but leave the date open to the bidders. By doing so, the board hopes to have an earlier opening of classroom facilities than the swimming pool -- perhaps still by September, 1967.

The architect indicated the board "should get a pretty decent price" in readvertising.

Representatives of both firms were present at the meeting, with Reisdorf stating that it conditioned its bid because it "did not want to kid anyone but rather submit a realistic completion date" and Moriarty claiming that it merely followed the requirement laid down in the specifications.

Concerning the Fish Hatchery matter the board decided to scrap its revised request which called for use of the property as a retarded children's day care school and resubmits its original request which calls for the property to be used for recreational and local classroom purposes.

The original request is to carry with it the board's "strong" contention that the facilities can best be used by the Northville school district for its own purposes and with the board's assertion that it cannot in good faith ask that the facilities be used for retarded children simply as an inflated means of winning ownership.

Federal officials had informed local officials that, since it gave top priority to mentally retarded programs, the district could enhance its request by at least temporarily permitting the facilities to be used for this purpose.

The motion to re-submit the original request was made by Richard Lyon, who last week was most vocal in opposing the revised request, and was supported by Donald Lawrence, who said he was equally adamant in this position after a thorough review of the revised request during the week. Fellow board members agreed.

Lt. Holman Killed In Vietnam Crash

"... it is a way of proving to others and to ourselves we still stand behind our founding ideal -- freedom for all."

For that ideal, Lt. (j.g.) Gerald Holman, son of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph D. Holman, 17130 Beck road, gave his life.

The 27-year-old Navy pilot was killed as were two members of his crew on December 14 when his plane crashed into the Gulf of Tonkin. Two other crew members bailed out to safety.

Holman's plane, a Navy E-1 Tracer used for radar reconnaissance patrols over Vietnam, crashed because of an engine failure. He was the first Northville serviceman to die in Vietnam.

The letter asserting his belief in the principles laid down by the founders of this nation was received by his parents after his death. He wrote:

"This is not a 'Holy War' for us, nor is it a fight to death to preserve our American way of life.

"But it is a way of proving to others and to ourselves that we still stand behind our founding ideal -- freedom for all."

Lt. Holman, who had left for South Vietnam in June aboard the aircraft carrier USS Franklin D. Roosevelt, was scheduled to sail home late this month. His four-year tour of duty with the Navy would have ended in November. According to his mother, Holman

Ford Given Ok to Build

Northville's board of appeals gave Ford Motor Company the go-ahead for a $1 million addition to its Main street valve plant.

Approval came by an 8-1 vote. The lone dissenter, Sidney Frid, protested vehemently. He was joined by his brother, Cyril, and four residents of the area. The Frids own an apartment building directly across from the Ford plant.

Several other residents representing the city, school board and Northville

Area Economic Development Corporation spoke in favor of the proposed addition.

Ford Motor company officials explained that an addition was necessary on their Northville plant to install equipment for a new plating process needed to lengthen the life of the valves and meet requirements of the new extended warranty program.

The company was represented by J. P. Spellicy, chief facility planning engineer, James D. Irvine, Staff Attorney, and Robert J. Whan, government affairs.

In their appeal the company officials noted that several possibilities had been examined for location of the addition. But because of the manufacturing system it was impossible to locate the plating process area anywhere but in the front.

Setback requirements for industrial buildings are 50 feet from the lot line. Ford requested a variance to permit placing the addition within three feet of the Main street lot line, which would be some 16 feet from the curb. On Griswold the setback would be seven feet from the lot line to permit relocation of office facilities.

After all arguments were heard the board granted the request stipulating that the office should be removed from the Griswold side so that the building would maintain a continuous straight line. It was also requested by the board

Gunmen Rob Camera Shop

The Northville Camera Shop was held up Tuesday night and three young negroes escaped with camera equipment and an undetermined amount of money from the cash register.

Owner Bob Webber said he was alone at 8:20 p.m. when the three young men, one holding a revolver, entered the shop at 200 South Main street. Within three or four minutes, Webber said, the robbers had fled to their car parked on Main street.

Equipment stolen during the holdup included three projectors, three cameras and three tape recorders.

This preliminary drawing shows the Northville valve plant as it would appear with the proposed addition. Ford officials have agreed to move the offices, shown extending from the building along the west side, so that a continuous building line would run along Griswold.

A Northville student sang with the Northland College choir at the choir's annual Christmas concert. Carol Lundsten sings alto with the 53-voice choir. Miss Lundsten is a senior at Northland. The traditional Christmas concert was presented Sunday afternoon in the Alvord Theater on the campus in Ashland, Wisconsin. The program has been a tradition at the college for more than four decades.

Ernest Lusk of 561 Grace returned early Thursday morning from Montego Bay, Jamaica. A guest of the Kroger company on a five day all expense paid vacation, he stayed at the Half Moon Hotel. The trip along with 23 other men of the surrounding zones was won through the efforts of yearly promotions of the products and over all profit. He is meat manager of D-412 of Warren.

Marilyn Taylor, daughter of the Jack Taylors of 39901 Six Mile road, was feted at a wedding shower by her friends and neighbors this past week at the home of Mrs. Roy Mattison of 39861 Six Mile road. Co-hostess with Mrs. Mattison was Mrs. Donald Robinson. Miss Taylor will be married on December 27.

Mrs. Walter Hinman has left for Florida to spend Christmas with her son, John, who is stationed at Key West Naval Base.

Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Straus of Beck road again entertained the County Korners Farm Bureau for their annual Christmas party, Tuesday, December 13. After a short business meeting, program and gift exchange a delicious potluck lunch was enjoyed by all.

The Strausses and Deila Jo Leonard made a trip to Frankenmuth recently for dinner at Zenders and a trip through Bronners beautiful Christmas display and sales room.

In Our Town

By JEAN DAY

THE SEASON to be jolly is just that. Greens were hung early this year in readiness for parties and open houses.

With all the traditions that abound at Christmas it isn't easy to be original, but the dinner party hosted Saturday night by Mr. and Mrs. William Schulz at their West Main street home really was.

Over the mantel was their greeting: "Merry Christmas From the Schulz Clan," accompanied by caricatures of Bill and Betty Schulz, Heidi and Kelly, Bill's parents and his sister and her family, the John Northups. Even the German shepherd, Fritzie, was pictured.

During the evening the young artist who had done the caricatures, Lynn Eshelman, a Northville high school sophomore, was present to sketch the guests. The 26 guests were present from Northville, Ann Arbor, Birmingham, Grosse Pointe and Trenton.

OLD AND new neighbors and friends were welcomed at the open house given by John and Ginnie Wisner at their new home in Edenderry last Saturday evening. The Wisners moved from Ely drive to their new colonial home earlier this year.

Sunday evening the Wisners' neighbors on Laragh, Blake and Carol Couse, also held open house in their new home, which was decorated with reds and greens in Williamsburg tradition.

Last Saturday evening the Elroy Ellisons hosted a real "fun" dinner party for a group of long-time friends at their home on Dunlap. Guests brought "white elephant" presents - and bought them with play money.

The day before, as president of Northville Woman's club, Mrs. Ellison added a special sentiment to the traditional of gifting new members with corsages. Mrs. Robert Shafer, secretary, pinned all new members except the last - then Mrs. Ellison personally had the joy of honoring her daughter, Mrs. David LaFond, who this year became a member of the 74-year-old organization.

A record number of 138 members and guests attended the Northville Woman's club's musical Christmas program Friday at Northville Presbyterian church. The red felt-covered tea table, centered with a miniature tree decorated with tiny red bows, was a focal point. The pine-and-boxwood tree was the creation of Mrs. Richard Cooper, who was encouraging others to "make them" for their own homes. (She suggests using a styrofoam base and penetrating it with a pencil point before inserting the pine branches. The boxwood will go in more easily, she says.)

RETURNING to the party calendar, the William Crumps have invitations out for an open house at Thistle Hill December 28.

ATTENDANCE at the Christmas potluck party of Northville Newcomers club last Saturday evening was double that of last year with 50 coming to the American Legion Hall. President Mrs. Kingsley Purton reports that it was a "truly successful party with a great variety of delicious food" at the buffet.

Party planners were Mrs. Vern Lind, Mrs. Robert Cartwright, Mrs. Thomas Handy, Mrs. Robert Kucher, Mrs. James Smolinski and Mrs. Kent Mathes.

By popular request, Mrs. Purton announced Tuesday, it has been decided to have the January meeting be a luncheon the last week of the month at Topinka's country house. Details will come later.

THE LOOK of Christmas on Main street is a festive one. The snowman scene on Gamble's window is the work of one of their part-time employees, Roberta Trast of Livonia. Roberta has been working at the store for eight months and is a commercial art major at Schoolcraft college.

The holiday season was chosen by Mrs. Helen Meisel of Farmington and Mrs. Arlyn Reilly of Livonia for the opening of Northville's newest antique shop, the Emporium for General Antiques, on Main street.

The new partners are good friends of Sally Thomas and Eleanor Lowell who operate The Barn Door two doors away. At first glance, this appeared to be rather close competition, but actually was encouraged by The Barn Door proprietors who envision "more people coming to Northville as there are more places to browse."

Sally reports they "really searched" to find an old-fashioned little tree to adorn their window. In keeping with the period, "lights" are tiny tin candleholders.

Farther along Main street the McAllisters are completing a long-planned expansion, making the porch of their decorating studio an added room.

GREENFIELD VILLAGE, as well as the museum, is a holiday season attraction to appeal to everyone in the family. Early American crafts are being demonstrated in the museum daily (except Christmas) through December 31. At the same time guided tours by sleigh or carriage will take visitors through authentically decorated buildings - and will end with hot spiced cider.

At the museum visitors will see glass ornaments blown, rag dolls stuffed, candles made and cookies baked. After a press preview early in December we "fried" an exclusive - the recipe for their delectable lemon (instead of the usual nutmeg) cookies from the gracious museum staff. This we printed last week, together with the Village's famous recipe for fishhouse punch.

With such ingredients, we wish you the happiest of Christmas seasons.

BIRTHS

A baby boy was born to Mr. and Mrs. Paul DeJohn of 17875 Beck road December 15 at St. Mary's Hospital. Named Paul Joseph, the baby weighed in at 7 pounds, 6 ounces.

Exchange Vows In Holiday Setting

Holiday greens, white candles and white poinsettias decorated the sanctuary of Northville Presbyterian church for the Christmas season wedding of Carol Louise Jones and Richard Ivan Joannis at 7:30 p.m. Saturday evening, December 17.

The bride, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Albert E. Jones III of Six Mile road, was given in marriage by her father. Carol wore her mother's wedding gown of candlelight satin, fashioned in princess lines with a sweetheart neckline and short, chapel train. A lace cap, trimmed with pearls and brilliants, held her four-tier fingertip veil of illusion.

Her corsage was of white orchids, white roses and trailing ivy.

Margaret Susan Jones, the bride's sister, was honor maid in a floor-length sheath of mint green crepe, its high waistline accented with lace, beaded with contrasting velvet ribbon. The bridegroom, son of Mr. and Mrs. Ivan A. Joannis of Detroit, asked Philip Moosekian of Detroit to be best man.

Bridesmaids were Janice Williams, Mrs. Lance Hauer of Chico, California, and Jacqueline Joannis, sister of the bridegroom. They wore moss green gowns similar to that of the maid of honor and circlets of mistletoe in their hair. They and the honor maid carried bouquets of white poinsettias and holly.

Ushers were the bride's brother, John, Arthur Garrett of Detroit and James Florey of Cambridge, Massachusetts.

The Reverend Lloyd Brasure officiated at the service for which Mrs. William G. Williams, church organist and a family friend, played. Mr. Williams sang the wedding hymn, "Prelude" by Handel.

For the ceremony and reception following at the Western Wayne County Conservation club the bride's mother wore an ivory brocade dress embroidered in turquoise and gold and a turquoise peau de soie coat. The bridegroom's mother chose a chartreuse crepe. Both carried white orchid corsages.

The 225 guests attended from Northville, Detroit, Grand Rapids, Holland, California and Florida. A special guest was Mrs. Jones' father, John McCollough of Fort Lauderdale. Mrs. McCollough was unable to come because of illness. The McColloughs formerly lived on Halstead road before moving to Florida.

After a wedding trip to an undisclosed destination in the South, the newlyweds will make their home in Lansing where both are students at Michigan State university.

about WOMEN Newlyweds Tour New York City

Following a honeymoon motor trip to New York City, newlyweds Mr. and Mrs. David G. Dunning have taken up residence at 284 Plymouth road.

Married at noon on November 26 at Our Lady of Victory Catholic Church, the bride is the former Christine Marie Martin, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Eugene A. Martin of Northville. The bridegroom is the son of Mrs. Margaret Dunning of Plymouth.

The Rev. Father John Wittstock, pastor of Our Lady of Victory, officiated at the double-ring ceremony. The church altar was adorned with white arrangements of mums. Organ music was furnished by John Spinner, friend of the bride's family.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a Peau-de-soie A-Line dress with embroidered Alencon lace. It featured a Beateau neckline, long bridal sleeves and a detachable chapel train. The satin plateau headpiece and an elbow length illusion veil, was accented with crystal settings. She carried a cascade of white snowdrift mums, carnations and white roses.

The maid of honor, Sandra Grand of Novi, wore a leaf green illusion dress, with sheath underskirt of taffeta and chiffon overskirt. It had an empire waist with satin trim. Her plateau headpiece included a short illusion veil. She carried a cascade of Bronze wheat and tangerine daisy mums.

The bridesmaids, Mrs. Eugene Martin of Novi, sister-in-law of the bride, Mrs. Robert Power of Plymouth, and Miss Jacqueline Dunning of Plymouth, sister of the bridegroom, wore dresses similar to the one worn by the maid of honor. They carried cascades of yellow wheat and bronze daisy mums.

Serving the bridegroom as best man was Richard Meyers of Plymouth. Ushers were Eugene Martin, brother of the bride, Robert Power of Plymouth, and William Dunning, brother of the bridegroom.

For her daughter's wedding, Mrs. Martin wore a deep pink dress with pale pink trim and deep pink accessories. The bridegroom's mother wore a red knit suit with leopard trim and brown accessories.

Following the wedding a reception was held at Carpenter's Local 982 headquarters on Grand River in Redford, with over 300 guests attending. A catered meal was served on tables decorated with white mums.

Guests attended from Buffalo, Gary, Indiana, Creston, Ohio, Farmington, Detroit, Redford, Warren, Birmingham, Grosse Pointe Woods, Mt. Clemens, St. Clair Shores, Brighton, Dearborn, Holly, Livonia, Lansing, Plymouth, Novi and Northville.

Prior to the wedding a rehearsal dinner was given at the home of the bridegroom's mother.

For the wedding trip, the bride wore a plum knit suit with matching accessories. She is employed at Plymouth State Home and Training School here, and her husband is co-owner of Salon Rene' in Northville.

1-Card of Thanks

A warm thank you to all my friends and relatives for the many inquiries, gifts and cards sent to me during my stay in the hospital. All the kindnesses to my family were equally appreciated. A special thank you to Rev. Merrell, friends of the Methodist Church, V.F.W. and the ladies of the Rebekah Lodge. Juanita Wiseman H51cx

To our neighbors, friends and the men of Michigan Seamless Tube Company who expressed their sympathy in so many beautiful and practical ways during our recent bereavement, extend our heartfelt thanks. Special thanks to Gerrie, Teddy, Mrs. Fran Scheffer, Van Harper and Jack Jones. Judy Hagopian Sandra Watkins H51cx

To my many friends who have so kindly remembered me in so many thoughtful ways during my hospitalizations and convalescence, a big thank you. May each of you have a Merry Christmas and a Happy New Year. Marge Longwill H51cx

We wish to express our sincere thanks to all our relatives, friends and neighbors for their many acts of kindness and expressions of sympathy during the illness and departure to this "Heavenly Home" of Our Loved One, Norman Wilson. H51cx

The city council took preliminary steps to alleviate the money squeeze Monday night by approving an application for permission to sell $60,000 worth of tax anticipation notes.

The money won't be needed until February, but it's expected to take nearly that long to have applications clear the Municipal Finance Commission in Lansing and then advertise for bidders for sale of the notes.

It's the first time the city has ever been financially embarrassed. The money shortage is temporary, resulting mostly from cancellation of spring racing dates at Northville Downs this year plus an ambitious public improvement program.

City Manager Frank Ollendorff told the council that the city would be about $20,000 short by February. The deficit will reach $48,000 by April 30. Funds from racing, which begins this year on June 1, and tax collections that become payable July 1 will soon bring revenues to repay the notes.

Plans to borrow money from the city's cemetery fund were dropped when it was learned that the fund is now earning 4 1/2 per cent and the sale of tax anticipation notes could be made at a maximum interest of 4 per cent.

The council adopted a proposal by the city manager to appoint a property acquisition "action team". Mayor A. M. Allen, Councilman Del Black and the manager were named to a committee to investigate and negotiate for purchases of property within the business district as they become available for parking or commercial redevelopment. The committee cannot actually purchase without council approval, but it will save time and keep the council "on top" of possible acquisitions.

Center and Dunlap streets in Northville. The display was purchased this year by the Northville Chamber of Commerce. The theft took place Friday night.

Ford Given Green Light

that the new exterior be continued the full depth of the present building along Griswold to match the front.

It was proposed that the office area be elevated to a second level.

For more than an hour before recessing to reach its decision the board heard pros and cons from interested citizens.

Most critical of the proposal were the Frid brothers. Cyril distributed and read a statement claiming "the approach to Northville will be destroyed by a factory built up to the lot line".

"What about the citizens that live near this factory? Is it going to make these homes a better place to live in? On the contrary, it will drive these people out of this area and ruin their property," Frid stated.

Appeal Board Member Sid Frid joined his brother in assailing the proposal. "If you could take some of the road, you'd get a lot more space wouldn't you?", he charged. He said no one could make a brick wall look good and despite Ford officials' assurances that they would "do our best to make our plant attractive, as we have always done", Frid replied that "you say this but once approval is granted you can do as you want".

Frid said "I can't conceive of any reason for granting this variance".

Others objecting included Mr. and Mrs. Bruce McAllister, owners of McAllister's House of Decorating, which is also their residence at Main and Griswold. McAllister said he had no objection to the noise, "but I don't feel Northville wants to have a factory on Main street. There's no benefit to the people", he added.

Mrs. McAllister questioned the next step in Ford's expansion. She wondered how long before Ford would be forced to vacate the site because of lack of expansion area. Company representatives said there was no way to project this but that the company "has no plans for going elsewhere and no plans for leaving Northville". The official noted that the company was very happy with its valve plant operation and that it would not be adding to the facility if there were plans to leave.

Ford officials also pointed out that the addition did not constitute an expansion in production, but rather the addition of a new process made necessary by the new warranty. It was stated that it would be necessary to begin plating operations by next May. An official noted the only alternative would be to have the plating process done elsewhere, which would result in higher costs.

Mrs. Chancey Shoebridge, 422 East Main street, said she would object to increased noise or vibration. Ford officials said the new wall on the addition would reduce the noise factor.

Mrs. George Morrison, 510 Butler, objected to the possible traffic hazard at the corner of Main and Griswold. Ford officials stated that the building would not interfere with the traffic view. E. V. Ellison, director of administrative services for the public schools said that his investigation of the proposal indicated there would be no hazard for school buses.

Mrs. Robert Swanson, 441 Butler, said the new building was "not in keeping with the oldness and atmosphere of Northville" and that it would destroy a lovely view. She also expressed fear of loss of trees for parking.

Several citizens then spoke in behalf of the appeal. Superintendent of Schools Alex Nelson asked if there was any gain to be realized by the community if the addition were permitted and what opinion the Northville Area Economic Development Corporation had on the proposal.

Ford officials estimated the investment in building and equipment at between $1 million and $1 1/2 million.

Fred Kester, president of the economic development corporation, said that the organization was "definitely in favor" of the proposal. He noted that taxes last year from the plant amounted to $116,000 for the community, that a recent addition would add more this year and that the proposed addition would amount to some $35,000 more for the city and school district.

"With school taxes up some 35 per cent this year we need these additional revenues", Kester concluded.

School Board Members Eugene Cook and James Kipper also spoke in behalf of the proposal noting that the welfare of the community should be considered along with a "moral obligation to Ford Motor Company which has always been extremely good to our community."

"It's a mutual opportunity", added Kipper.

A. R. Clarke pointed out that the property was already industrial and the addition would mark no change in operation. "There are probably 10,000 communities that would give their eye teeth for this opportunity", Clarke stated.

George Clark pointed out that the company (Ford) needed help. "And if we don't help them, some other community will and we could end up with an empty building on our hands".

The Frid brothers countered that those favoring the addition were only interested in money and had no concern for people. "Doesn't Ford Motor Company make enough money now?", Cy Frid asked.

Before adjourning for 20 minutes to adopt a resolution the board heard Chairman Harvey Ritchie explain that the board must decide whether or not a hardship existed, and weigh possible damage to neighbors against the general community welfare. He noted the question was not one of zoning, but of granting a variance within proper zoning use.

Voting "yes" to grant the variance were James Allen, David Biery, William Bingley, Harry Copp, L. M. Eaton, Francis Gazlay, Ritchie and Raymond Westphall.

IN UNIFORM

San Antonio - David R. Nash, son of Mr. and Mrs. Richard Nash of 430 DuBuar, Northville, has been commissioned a second Lieutenant in the U.S. Air Force upon graduation from Officer Training School (OTS) at Lackland AFB, Texas.

Lieutenant Nash, selected for OTS through competitive examination, is being assigned to Sheppard AFB, Texas, for training as a data systems statistics officer.

The lieutenant, a 1960 graduate of Northville high school, received his B.A. degree in 1964 from Hope College. He also attended Wayne State university. He is a member of Omicron Kappa Epsilon.

USS Vesole - Seaman James F. Byrd, USN, son of Mr. and Mrs. Raymond J. Byrd of 1865 Charms road, Wixom left Newport, R.I. as a crewmember aboard the destroyer USS Vesole of Destroyer Squadron-24, Cruiser Destroyer Force, Atlantic Fleet for a four-month deployment with the Sixth fleet in the Mediterranean.

The Vesole is scheduled for various operations and exercises with other units of the Sixth Fleet, plus visits to a few of the many scenic and historic ports on the three continents that ring the Mediterranean.

While deployed with the fleet the Vesole will be playing an important part in the Navy's overall mission, "control of the seas."

PFC David Luedtke of the United States Marine Corps is presently serving aboard an aircraft carrier in Vietnam. He is the son of Mrs. Noreen Luedtke of 228 church street.

All mail should be sent to PFC David Luedtke, 2175491, Mar-Det USS Providence (CLG-6), F.P.O. San Francisco, California, 96601.

PFC Luedtke attended Northville high school before entering the Marines on September 29, 1964. After basic training at San Diego, he attended a specialized reconnaissance school at Camp Pendleton, California.

San Antonio - Airman James Suszek son of Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Suszek of 45310 Ten Mile road has been selected for training at Lowry AFB, Colorado, as an Air Force munitions specialist.

The airman recently completed basic training at Lackland AFB, Texas.

A 1965 graduate of Northville high school, he attended Schoolcraft community college.

Chu Lai, Vietnam - Builder Third Class Michael J. Deaton, USN, son of Mr. and Mrs. Ollie J. Deaton of 25325 Wixom road, is a member of Mobile Construction Battalion-40, which arrived at Camp Shields, Chu Lai, Vietnam, for its first deployment since recommitment.

Since arriving at Camp Shields, the men of the battalion have built a mile-long Short Airstrip for Tactical Support (SATS). This is a crosswind strip that will allow aircraft to take off and land safely during the monsoon winds. Built of specially designed aluminum matting, it is crucial to sustained air support during the monsoon season.

Battalion personnel are presently concentrating on construction projects for American and Korean fighting forces in the vicinity of Chu Lai.

AN ENGINE FOR BRADLEY-
Thanks to the ingenuity of Noble Dahlgren, 839 Grace street, his grandson, Bradley's Christmas will be happier. Primarily using junk parts, Dahlgren put his knowledge of threshers and manual skill to work to build this toy threshing engine. Electrically operated, it's a faithful replica of the old steam driven engines used around the early 1900's.

Flat Mustangs Fly by Brighton 63-48

The game's basketball, but the way Northville and Brighton played it last Friday night, it might just as well be called harum-skarum.

Both teams threw deliberation to the winds and blew from one end of the court to the other with the ball exchanging hands faster than you could say, "who's got it?"

It was a toss-up, all right, until Northville finally put the clamp on the ball and the game to win its fourth game in a row and third in Wayne-Oakland Conference, 63-48, to remain tied with Clarkston and Holly for first place.

"Northville always brings the best out of Brighton," Northville coach Dave Longridge said. "It was our flatest ball game."

That's the combination that almost pinned the first defeat of the season on Northville. The issue was in doubt through three frantic quarters as the determined Bulldogs battled Northville off the boards and employed sniping tactics which almost matched Northville's pressing game.

Brighton withered under the furious pace, however, and Northville came on strong in the last quarter to discourage the Bulldogs' upset bid. "It was a sloppy game," Longridge declared.

In a game conspicuous for turnovers, the two teams literally froze when shooting. Northville hit on only 26 of 67 shots (39 percent) from the field and converted just 11 of 27 free throws for 40 percent. Brighton netted 20 of 64 shots (31 percent) from the field and 8 of 19 for 42 percent from the free throw stripe.

Forward Jim Zayti was the only Mustang to shoot accurately as he took 13 shots, made 10 and added a free throw for a game high of 21 points. On the season, Zayti has been Northville's top marksman, hitting on 26 of 45 shots (58 percent). Guard Dennis Mathews was the second leading local scorer with 12 points. His season's average is 48 percent (13 of 27).

Crippling Northville's attack was the inability of Center Jim Peterson to score from the field. The lid seemingly closed as Peterson fired 19 times and connected on three. One of the Mustangs' top scorers, Peterson had eight points.

In one of the wildest quarters of this and any other year, Brighton surprised the Mustangs with a full court press and jumped to a 5-1 lead. Northville surged back on Zayti's drive, and Peterson's and Joe Andrew's jump shots. The lead and the ball flitted back and forth with Northville taking a slim, 14-13, lead at the end of the first quarter.

Capitalizing on superior height, Brighton raced to a 23-20 lead in the second quarter before Zayti personally put Northville out front to stay.

The scrappy forward drove the baseline to score, stole the ball and scored again on a baseline drive, then took a pass after another interception, missed the shot but banked in the rebound. On the next in-bounds play, Brighton threw the ball away and Mathews drilled a set shot to give Northville a 28-23 lead. The Mustangs protected their margin to walk off the court with a 34-28 halftime lead.

Continuing to play inspired ball, the Bulldogs cut Northville's lead to three points early in the third period, 36-33. Zayti provided another key basket on a jump shot. Andrews bagged a fade-away jumper and Mathews converted a free throw to discourage Brighton's final serious threat.

Leading 47-39 at the end of the third quarter, Northville then put the game out of Brighton's reach by scoring seven consecutive points on Mathews' three pointer and two jump shots by Nelson Hyatt.

W-O League Superstar

Next Up: Clarkston's Dan Fife

Can Northville stop Dan Fife?

That's what Northville must do in order to whip Clarkston and remain in first place in the Wayne-Oakland Conference. Clarkston, Northville and Holly all have 3-0 league marks.

Coach Dave Longridge is making no secret of the fact that Northville is gunning for Fife, the league's top player and probably the best the league has ever produced.

Last year the 6'2" phenom averaged better than 30 points per game and gained some recognition as a class A all-stater. This year he's just as good, if not better with the added year of experience, and if he continues his current pace, he's a sure bet for all-state honors.

With Fife leading the Wolves, they have most teams scared, Longridge pointed out. The advance notices and past reputation of the versatile Fife intimidate the opposition.

Simply take a look at Fife's most recent accomplishment. He scored 49 points in Clarkston's 78-73 victory over Clarenceville. It was strictly a Fife affair. With Clarenceville leading 58-57 entering the final period, Clarkston scored 20 points and Fife scored them all.

The Clarenceville contest did prove another thing, besides Fife's prowess. It clearly demonstrated that Clarkston is not invincible, for Clarenceville, far from a cage power in the W-O, lost by a mere five points.

Although stopping the high scoring Clarkston ace will take some ambitious work, Coach Longridge contends that it can be done. He ought to know, for his cagers held Fife to 19 and 22 points in two games which the teams split last year.

Longridge will employ the same tactics this year.

"We're going to make him keep the ball," the Northville coach said. "We're going to force him left and outside. He doesn't like to go left. This way, we'll make him work for the good shot and that'll use up time and possibly slow him down. He's much more effective on right and inside," Longridge added.

That's the game plan, but it will take much more to implement it. "We'll have to be much more alert and anticipate more when we're pressing," Longridge said. "We'll have to be tougher on the boards also."

Longridge concedes that Fife will score. He's simply hoping that his cagers can contain and counter with a much more balanced attack.

Despite the fact that Clarkston has an all-veteran team, hopes ride with Fife and Fife alone. No other Clarkston player can take up the scoring slack, although the Wolves have a 6'4" center in Tom Richards and a scrappy guard in Randy Nicholson.

In other games played Friday night, Holly edged Bloomfield Hills, 59-51, and West Bloomfield trounced Milford, 70-52.

GUARDS IN ACTION—Two reasons why Northville is unbeaten in four games are Guards Joe Andrews and Dennis Mathews. An adroit dribbler, Andrews (top) moves smartly away from an unidentified Brighton player who tries to swipe the ball. Mathews (bottom) gets a step on his man, drives, and moments later laid the ball through the hoop. That's Northville's Jim Peterson watching the action.

Holiday Tourney To Open Tuesday

Northville's junior varsity and varsity quintets will once again participate in the annual River Rouge Holiday basketball tournament at River Rouge high school next Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday.

The varsity is scheduled to clash with Lincoln Park at 6:30 p.m. Tuesday. Coach Dave Longridge's cagers will play one game each night in the tournament.

The junior varsity will play Thursday at 2:30 Tuesday in the opening round. Coach Bob Kucher's cagers will play each day of the tournament.

Besides Northville, Lincoln Park and Thurston, other entries are Highland Park, Inkster Robichaud, River Rouge, Ecorse, and Taylor Center.

Novi Wildcats Drop Opener To Pontiac

Suffering from sophomore-itis, the Novi Wildcats dropped their opening game of the 1966-67 season Friday night, 65-41, to Pontiac Emmanuel Christian.

Strategem that upset the Wildcats, Coach Jim Ladd explained, was a half-court zone press. "We held our own on the boards and there was nothing wrong with our defense," the coach said.

Even though playing on their home court, the Wildcats couldn't find the range. They shot 51 times and hit only 17 from the field for an average of 33 percent; Emmanuel Christian hit a torrid 45 percent on 26 goals in 58 attempts.

Novi was equally cool at the foul stripe, converting just 7 of 27 shots. Christian hit 13 of 20.

The Pontiac five led 16-10, 32-22, 48-34 at the end of respective quarters. Guards Gary Boyer with 12 points and Jon Van Wagner with 11 paced the local attack.

The Jayvees won a thriller in overtime, 42-31, for their second victory in three outings.

Colts Preserve 4th Win Against Tough JV Five

Final score was 74-49 in favor of Northville's Jayvees, but it was a battle most of the way.

Unlike other teams Coach Bob Kucher's charges have faced this year, Brighton didn't crumble, even when it trailed by as many as 15 points.

Four straight buckets at the outset of the third period finally gave Northville the thrust it needed to win its fourth game in a row without defeat.

"Most teams have folded, but Brighton stayed in there," Kucher stated. "They had a lot of football players who were tough on the boards. They were bigger than us and really strong."

Northville jumped off to its usual start in the first quarter, taking a 23-9 lead. Brighton scrapped through the second period and Northville only led by 40-25 at halftime — reason for concern, said Kucher.

But the Colts charged out in the third quarter, fired in four baskets and preserved their fourth win.

Balanced scoring was a key to victory with Gregg Carr tallying 18 points, Craig Turnbull 14, Ralph Robinson 13, Jeff Taylor 12 and Stan Nirider 11.

For New Novi Church Christmas Eve Opening Set

Construction crews worked feverishly this week to complete the new Holy Cross Episcopal Mission church in Novi in time for a Christmas Eve opening.

The Rev. Father John J. Fricke II, vicar, has planned a 7:30 Eucharist in the new facility on Christmas Eve. Eucharist will be said Christmas Day at 11 a.m.

Installation of the heating system and general cleanup were primary concerns of workmen, both professional and members of the congregation, this week as the deadline neared.

Located on a 10-acre site on the west side of 10 Mile road, just east of Taft, the facility marks the first of a four-part building program.

It includes a chapel, space for four classrooms, an office, and storage facilities.

Future plans call for construction of additional Christian education facilities, a parish hall unit, and the church proper.

Upon completion of the entire four-part program, the present building will become the parish hall. It has been architecturally designed to complement the future building.

Constructed of brick and masonry, the L-shaped multi-purpose unit will seat about 130 persons. The chapel features a laminated wood beam ceiling. Parking for 47 cars will be provided in the rear of the building.

The architect was Merritt-Cole- McCallum of Farmington, and Virgil Cornwell of Farmington is the contractor.

Holy Cross, established in Novi on May 19, 1957, has been holding services for the past several years in Orchard Hills elementary school.

$1,000 FOR SCHOOLS—Mothers' Club President Mrs. William E. Davis presents a check for $1,000 to Raymond Spear, assistant superintendent of schools, while Mrs. Walter F. Gall, the club's school representative, looks on. The Mothers' Club annually makes contributions to the public school systems for needed equipment.

This year the $1,000 will be used to purchase an overhead projector, a set of die plates for the drafting department, educational paintings, two tape recorders with headsets, materials for the junior high school library, filmstrip sets for the junior high and Amerman schools and language skill development records and filmstrip set.

mas caroling throughout the community. They'll return to the church at 10 p.m. for refreshments.

At 11 p.m., the church will hold its Christmas Eve candlelight service, according to the Rev. S. V. Norris, who during Advent has based his sermons upon the theme, "The Coming of The King". A Christmas worship service will be held Sunday at 11 a.m.

A candlelight Communion service will be held Christmas Eve from 8 to 9 p.m. at the Rev. R. A. Mitchinson, and the regular Sunday church service will be held at 9:30 a.m. Christmas Day.

The church chorus will sing at both services and Rev. Mitchinson will deliver sermons concerning Christ's birth.

"O Holy Child" will be sung during special Christmas Day services at 11 a.m. in the First Baptist church of Novi. Rev. Gib D. Clark's Christmas morning message will be entitled, "A Savior Is Born". The Christmas story will be told in all Sunday school departments.

In the 7 p.m. service, a Concordia 43-minute film entitled, "Glory In The Highest" will be presented. Youth meetings an hour earlier, at 6 p.m., will carry a Christmas theme.

Salem Congregational Christian Church, which also held its regular Christmas program last Sunday, has been invited to join with Faith Baptist Temple of Farmington in a Christmas Eve Watch Night service. The Rev. Fred Neal, pastor of Salem Congregational, will be a guest speaker at the service, which will include a film entitled, "The Big Blast."

Christmas candy will be given to children attending Sunday school Christmas morning at Salem Federated Church. The regular Sunday worship service will be held at 10 a.m., with a worship and baptismal service slated for 7:30 p.m.

This past Sunday, the Rev. Ivan E. Speight spoke on "The First Christmas Tree."

Training School Establishes 7-Area Program

The Plymouth State Home and Training School has been divided into seven program areas, the monthly report of the Northville township institution revealed this week.

Among the program areas are: Nursery-toddler, growth and development, activities of daily living, trainable, pre-vocational and vocational, infirmity, and special programs such as physically handicapped and the blind.

Program directors have been assigned to head up each program area and are directly responsible for patient care personnel assigned to their programs.

Recruiting activities have been intensified in a continuing effort to fill vacancies as they occur so that the institution's admission schedule will not be slowed down.

The census as of the last day of September was 973. There were 28 direct admissions from the waiting list, 61 patients were transferred in, making a total of 89 admissions during the month.

The unit for the physically handicapped probably will not be ready until January or February, officials report.

Events of interest:
A seminar on "Methods for Obtaining Goals" was presented by Alex Sklar, vice-president and general manager of Electro-Mechanic division of Essex Wire corporation.

A farewell party was held for Dr. John C. Mall, chief of medicine, who accepted the position of medical director at Hillside Hospital in Warren, Ohio.

Three officers of the VFW auxiliary, Wayne, met with officials to discuss possible projects for the retarded at Plymouth.

Obituary

MARY B. FLINT

Mary B. Flint, 78, a life-time Novi resident, died Sunday in Detroit General Hospital, Farmington, after a two-year illness.

Born September 30, 1888, in Novi, she was the daughter of William D. and Alice (Bishop) Flint.

Miss Flint was a member of the First Baptist church of Novi.

The funeral will be held at 1 p.m. today (Thursday) at the Casterline Funeral home with the Reverend Gibbons Clark, pastor of the First Baptist Church of Novi, officiating.

Burial will be at the Novi cemetery.

JOHNNIE F. GOSS

EN-1 Petty Officer First Class Johnnie F. Goss, 50, died December 12 at U.S. Naval hospital, Newport, Rhode Island, following a heart attack suffered aboard the USS San Pablo, agricultural experimental survey ship number 30.

As a Navy recruiter for the Detroit area, Petty Officer Goss was stationed in Northville for four and one-half years.

Born February 15, 1916, in Preston county, West Virginia, he was the son of Francis F. and Merl (Hebb) Goss of 2016 Merrill street, Parsons, West Virginia.

Surviving him are his wife, Christine (Repair), his mother, two sons, Donald T. of South Lyon and Johnnie F., Jr. of Los Angeles; two daughters, Mrs. Christopher (Carol) Flynn of Northville and Mrs. Delbert (Linda) Pennington of Parsons; two brothers, Leo H. and Donald C., both of Parsons; a sister, Mrs. Robert (Lucille) Beal of Parma, Ohio, and nine grandchildren.

Petty Officer Goss served in the navy during WWII in the European theatre, the Korean conflict and the Cuban blockade. Chief Petty Officer Goss was completing his 23rd year of service and had requested retirement, to begin in 1967.

The funeral was held at 2 p.m. Saturday at the First Presbyterian church of Parsons, with the Reverend Acie H. Bryant, pastor of the First Presbyterian church of Parsons, officiating. Assisting him was the Reverend Meade F. Gutshall, pastor of the First Methodist church of Parsons.

Burial was at the Parsons City cemetery, where he was accorded military rites.

MARVEL M. MONTGOMERY

Marvel M. Montgomery, 70, of 201 South Center street died Saturday, December 17 at Woodside Medical Center.

Born November 5, 1896 in Northville, she was the daughter of William and Etta (Stuart) Lewis. Her husband, Earl, died in 1955.

A life-long resident of Northville, she was affiliated with Benton Parkway Barracks No. 267, World War I Veterans auxiliary, the Macabees, and the Lloyd H. Green Post 147 American Legion auxiliary.

She is survived by a daughter, Mrs. Harry (Betty) Woodman of Warren, and one granddaughter, Stephanie Woodman.

Funeral services were conducted Tuesday, December 20 from the Casterline Funeral Home, with the Rev. S. D. Kinde, pastor of the First Methodist Church of Northville, officiating.

Burial was in Rural Hill cemetery.

Interloan System Beefs up Library

"If we don't have it, we'll get it." That seems to be an unwritten motto of the Northville public library which has access to thousands of books, films and tapes through the Wayne county library system.

According to Librarian Mrs. Helen McClatchey, many area people are unaware of this giant interloan system which puts, for example, some 3,200 films within easy reach.

These films, which concern a wide range of subjects for both children and adults, are free of charge to all library patrons, she said. Schools are excluded. Many are ideal for service club use.

Patrons need only check the film catalogue at the local library, pick out the appropriate film, and an order is sent out immediately to the county library headquarters in Wayne, she said.

Interloan deliveries are made twice weekly.

Similarly, books which are not on the shelves of the local library can be ordered through this interloan system. And, if the search of the county library system fails to produce the desired book, the library has access to books at the Michigan State Library and at the Detroit Library.

During the past year, Mrs. McClatchey said, some 480 books were obtained through the interloan system.

In addition, some 16,000 works in braille or tapes for the blind are available. These, however, are ordered directly from the Wayne headquarters and sent to the home of the blind patron.

Another feature of the library operation which places "special books" at the fingertips of local patrons is the circuit book system. Books which are usually too expensive to be part of the permanent collection here are circulated through the entire county library system, staying three months in each branch.

A patron desiring one of these books, even though it may not presently be on the local shelves, may also order it through the interloan system, the librarian said.

Mrs. McClatchey gave the names of the following books as examples which are currently on the shelves but will leave for another branch in three months:

The World of Salvador Dali, The Splendor of Africa, The French Cabinet Makers of the Eighteenth Century, The World of Flowers, Rescued Treasures of Egypt, and the Pictorial Dictionary of Ancient Rome.

Explosion Injures 3 Teenage 'Chemists'

Mixing chemicals in a basement room Sunday afternoon, three Northville teenage boys were seriously burned in a resulting explosion.

Reported in satisfactory condition at St. Mary Hospital Tuesday with burns about the face and arms were Gregory Hannabarger, 15, son of Mr. and Mrs. Donald E. Hannabarger of 220 North Wing; William Wilcox, son of Mrs. Wayne J. Wilcox of 690 Thayer Boulevard; and Michael Reed, 16, son of Mr. and Mrs. Warren G. James of 43785 Doris Court.

The Hannabarger boy were the most seriously burned.

According to the parents, the boys were in a basement room of the James home as Michael attempted to "break-down" a chemical compound using benzene. Gas in the air caused by the dry mixture was ignited by a nearby burner.

"It simply was an experiment in chemistry," one of the parents explained. "They were not trying to make a bomb or anything like that."

A resulting fire in the basement caused little damage, firemen reported. Flames were out by the time they reached the scene.

from the PASTOR'S STUDY

Reverend Gib Clark, Pastor
First Baptist Church of Novi

Again we raise our voices in carols and hymns to express the hope in our hearts. It is the season for poetry and songs for reverence and worship. The songs of the angelic hosts, the rule manger-cradle, the simple but believing shepherds—all this makes Christmas a time of rejoicing, for it recalls the time when God gave to men the gift of love for His Son. His Father—heart was revealed and through His Gift, we are drawn to Him. Hope is born anew in our hearts.

The Christ—child was born "in the fullness of time." On the human side, He had a beginning; He was conceived by the Holy Ghost and born of a virgin. On the divine side He had no beginning; He was from all eternity. In Isaiah 9:6, we read: "For unto us a child is born, unto us a Son is given." The distinction is obvious between the child which was born and the Son which was given. In like manner, it is stated in Galatians 4:4, "But when the fullness of the time was come, God sent forth His Son, made of a woman, made under the law." He who was the eternal Son was, in the fullness of time, "made (the offspring) of a woman."

The world needed the message brought by the birth of Christ. The first Christmas came in a time of despair. The art and learning of Greece had degenerated; the Roman Empire was disintegrating; the religion of Israel had become a system of legalism. The political, economic, moral, and spiritual world of that day was decadent. The time was ripe for a redemptive power. And so it was in the time of the worlds need that Christ was born.

John the apostle states (John 1:1) that Christ who was one with God and was from all eternity, became flesh and dwelt among us (John 1:14). Paul likewise states that Christ, who was in the form of God, took upon Him the likeness of men (Philippians 2:6, 7); and "God was manifest in the flesh" (1 Timothy 3:16); and He who was the effulgence of God's glory and the express image of His person (Heb. 1:3), took upon Himself the seed of Abraham and was in all things made like unto His brethren (Hebrews 2:16, 17). Luke in greater detail presents the historical fact of His incarnation, both as to the conception and birth (Luke 1:26-38).

When considering the result of the incarnation, two important truths should be recognized; (1) Christ became at the same time and in the absolute sense very God and very man, and (2) in becoming flesh, He though laying aside His glory, in no sense laid aside His Deity.

The Bible presents many contrasts but none more striking than one Person should be at the same time very God and very man. Illustrations from the Scriptures of these contrasts are many: He was weary, yet He called the weary to Himself for rest. He was hungry, yet He was "the bread of life." He was thirsty, yet He was the "water of life." He was in agony, yet He healed all manner of disease and soothed every pain. He "grew, and waxed strong in spirit," yet He was from all eternity.

He was tempted, yet He, as God could not be tempted. He became self-limited in knowledge, yet He was the wisdom of God. He prayed, yet He answered prayer. He wept at the tomb, yet He called the dead to arise. He asked, "Whom do men say that I the Son of man am?" yet He "needed not that any should testify of man: for He knew what was in man." He said, "My God, my God, why has thou forsaken Me?" Yet it was the very God to whom He cried who was at that moment "in Christ reconciling the world unto himself." He died, yet He is eternal life. He was God's ideal man, and man's ideal God.

The day in which we live may be another "fulness of time." We are ready for the Word of God to be spoken again, for ours too is a world of great need. Our political, economic, moral and spiritual world needs to hear afresh the message of Christmas and all that it implies. Christmas has meaning for our day. Sin, trouble, strife and greed will make a shambles of our civilization unless men will hear and heed the message of Jesus Christ the Son of God.

The Wise Men of that day worshipped Him and brought Him gifts. "Shouldn't we do the same?"

Dr. Pierce, Former Minister Dies

The Rev. Dr. Ralph Milton Pierce, pastor of the First Methodist Church of Northville for some five years shortly after the turn of the Century, died last week at his home in Lakeland, Florida.

Church records show that Dr. Pierce was pastor here from 1911 through 1915. Several area couples were married by him a half-century ago.

A son, Dr. Robert Pierce, is pastor of Temple Methodist Church of Chicago, largest Methodist church in the United States.

And enjoy it!

Christmas is a time for tradition. One tradition is calling family and friends Long Distance on Christmas Eve and Christmas Day. Always exciting but sometimes frustrating—when you experience delays because almost everybody calls at the same time.

This Christmas, you've got two extra days to call Long Distance... all day Saturday and all day Monday when low evening rates apply. No need to wait for the peak holiday Long Distance jam.

On Sunday (Christmas Day), the lowest night rates apply all day so there's no need to wait until evening.

Pass the jam and have a Merry Christmas.

(Lower rates do not apply on person-to-person calls within Michigan.)

THE CHURCH FOR ALL ALL FOR THE CHURCH

The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the Church. They are: (1) For his own sake. (2) For his children's sake. (3) For the sake of his community and nation. (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.

Are You Paying For Repairs Covered By Warranty?

JOHN MACH

You may be. Especially if you are not mindful of where to take your car for service.

That's because it's more profitable for a dealer to perform customer-paid service than factory-guaranteed warranty. It's more profitable and a lot less trouble than going through the red tape of processing your service claim through the manufacturer.

If your service claim is subject to question under warranty terms covering abuse and neglect, then a dealer is further influenced to ask for customer payment rather than look to the factory to cover it. Warranty work affords no profit on parts and labor is "flat-rated" at factory minimums, which the dealer's mechanic may exceed only at cost to the dealer.

How can you be sure of fair treatment on warranty work? Well, short of being your own trouble shooter, it is best to look for a dealership whose customer policy protects you. This is the type of automobile agency that looks to the repeat customer ahead of today's profits. They count the effort to satisfy a service customer as time and money well spent. Their reward is in that customer's repeat business and recommendation to others.

All other things being equal, you are more likely to find this kind of dealer in your own home town.

NOTICE OF PUBLIC HEARING Township of Northville Planning Commission

PROPOSED AMENDMENT TO THE ZONING ORDINANCE OF THE TOWNSHIP OF NORTHVILLE PROVIDING FOR THE ESTABLISHMENT OF FEES FOR REVIEW OF SITE PLANS BY RESOLUTION OF THE TOWNSHIP BOARD

At a meeting of the Northville Township Planning Commission to be held in the Township December 27, 1966, a Public Hearing will be held at 8:00 p.m. to consider the following:

An Amendment to the Township of Northville Zoning Ordinance: AN ORDINANCE ENACTED UNDER ACT 184, PUBLIC ACT OF 1943 OF THE STATE OF MICHIGAN, AS AMENDED, TO PROVIDE FOR THE ESTABLISHMENT OF ZONING DISTRICTS LYING WHOLLY WITHIN THE UNINCORPORATED PARTS OF THE TOWNSHIP OF NORTHVILLE, WAYNE COUNTY, MICHIGAN, WITHIN WHICH ZONING DISTRICTS THE USE OF LAND, NATURAL RESOURCES, AND STRUCTURES, INCLUDING TENTS, AND TRAILER COACHES, THE HEIGHT, THE AREA, THE SIZE, AND THE LOCATION OF BUILDINGS HEREAFTER ERECTED, THE LIGHT AND VENTILATION OF SUCH BUILDING, THE AREA OF YARDS, COURTS, AND OTHER OPEN SPACES, AND THE DENSITY OF POPULATION SHALL BE REGULATED: TO PROVIDE FURTHER FOR A METHOD OF ADMINISTRATION AND ENFORCEMENT OF ITS PROVISIONS AND TO PRESCRIBE PENALTIES FOR THE VIOLATION OF ITS PROVISIONS: TO PROVIDE FOR A BOARD OF APPEALS AND ITS POWERS AND DUTIES.

THE TOWNSHIP OF NORTHVILLE ORDAINS:

Part 1. That the Zoning Ordinance of the Township of Northville is hereby amended by the amending of Sub-section 12.25 (b) of Article XII to read as follows:

(b) Every site plan submitted to the Planning Commission, in accordance with the requirements of this Ordinance shall contain such information and be in such form as the Planning Commission may prescribe in its rules. No site plan shall be approved until same has been reviewed by the Township Engineer and the Planner for compliance with the standards of the respective departments. Fees for review of site plans shall be established by resolution of the Township Board.

PART II. VALIDITY. Should any section, clause or provisions of this Ordinance be declared by the courts to be invalid, the same shall not affect the validity of the Ordinance as a whole or any part thereof, other than the part so declared to be invalid.

PART III. CONFLICTING PROVISIONS REPEALED. Any Ordinance or parts of Ordinance in conflict, herewith, are hereby repealed.

PART IV. EFFECTIVE DATE. Public hearing having been held herein, the provisions of this Ordinance Amendment are hereby given immediate effect, pursuant to the provisions of Section 11, of Act 184 of the Public Acts of 1943, as amended.

GUNNAR STROMBERG, CHAIRMAN
NORTHVILLE TOWNSHIP PLANNING COMMISSION

After 30 Years

Post Office to Lose Joe Litsenberger

January 1 will ring in a new life for Joe Litsenberger.

That's when he's scheduled to officially begin his retirement from the United States postal service, bringing to a close a 30-year association with the Northville post office.

Retirement doesn't mean a complete life of leisure for the surprisingly spirited 60-year-old. He'll remain on the job in general admissions at Northville Downs come the racing season.

Freed from his regular job at the post office, Litsenberger and his wife, Helen, will pursue a dream of traveling throughout the United States with their 19-foot trailer. "We'll go back to some of the places I've been and didn't have time to look around," he stated.

Although born in Fennville, Litsenberger has lived in Northville almost all his life—56 years. As a boy of four he first came here with his blacksmith father and the family. His father was Northville's last blacksmith.

Litsenberger began his service with the Northville post office in the 1930's as a substitute city carrier and clerk. Soon, he moved up to regular city carrier, a job he held until 1950. Then he took over a rural route, holding that job until 1961 when he assumed duties as a substitute clerk. For the past four years, he has been a regular clerk.

"I've enjoyed the work," Litsenberger said. Just one measure of his devotion is the fact that he is a charter member of the Wayne County postal employees Credit Union, its first vice president and has been its president for the past two years.

His willingness to handle any job has made him an invaluable part of operations at the post office, Acting Postmaster John Steimel explained. "He can fill in for me when I have to be away on another job," Steimel said.

Away from the job, the same attitude prevails. "I'll tackle anything," Litsenberger said, and the building of his house is a case in point. With the exception of the plastering, he finished the inside of the house they are now living in at 46121 Fonner court.

Before you throw away your vacuum cleaner, ask yourself this.

Which is cleaner—oil heat or gas?

Heard the old wives' tale that oil heat is dirtier than gas? It's totally untrue. Both are equally clean. Chemical analysis shows it's cooking fats, tobacco smoke and airborne dust that cause dirt—not heating. Don't spend hundreds of dollars to convert to gas until you compare. Call new Standard Oil Hot Line—the modern service that has revolutionized oil heating. Get the facts on modern oil heat compared to gas.

No obligation. It could save you money. Now more than ever—You expect more from Standard and you get it!

Don't buy the "gas line" until you call Hot Line.

Out of the Past

ONE YEAR AGO...

...Northville's two United States Congressmen jointly requested that the Northville fish hatchery property, soon to be declared surplus property, be offered to the city and township of Northville for use as a recreational site.

...Northville's city council adopted a procedure of "compromise and reasonableness" for the improvement of Randolph street, a project which met with a petition of protest from a majority of the residents of the street. In a special council meeting the council took a position of firmness insofar as application of the 25-percent assessment. But the members decided to take a personal, first-hand look at the site and see just how close the proposed 33-foot width would come to properties along the route.

...A 16-year-old Plymouth boy was killed and two of his companions were seriously injured. They were victims of an auto crash that ended a wild race with a Northville police pursuit car early Saturday morning.

...John Carlo and Harley Cole, both of Northville, suffered heart attacks and were hospitalized.

...A barn housing five cattle on Novi road was demolished when it was struck by a car which swerved off the roadway to avoid a head-on collision with another car.

...Northville's debaters added another honor to their growing list of laurels when they won the Wayne-Oakland Conference championship.

...The city of Northville's building report for November, as submitted by Building Inspector C. Oscar Hammond, revealed building activity for the month totalling $292,760.

FIVE YEARS AGO...

...Wayne County Health Department was making an epidemiological study of hepatitis outbreaks in the county outside of Detroit. Dr. Joseph G. Molner, Wayne county health commissioner revealed.

Three cases of hepatitis were reported in Northville in 1961 - two in the township and one in the city. The latest report of a local case was made December 11.

...C. Oscar Hammond, 511 North Center street, was named to the National Security Training Committee for the American Legion.

...Although her retirement was not to become official until the end of the month, City Clerk Mary Alexander recorded council minutes for the last time.

...Northville rolled to the fourth straight win of the young cage season in methodical, unexciting style, 54-40. Latest victim of Coach Dave Longridge's Mustangs was previously unbeaten Bloomfield Hills.

...Lynn Walker of Northville, who had served as president of Meadowbrook Country club for two years, turned over the gavel to Clarence L. Athanson at the president's night party.

...Officials of Northville and Clarenceville agreed to resume interscholastic relations that were severed by local administrators following the November 3 football game between the two schools.

...The Reverend John W. Miller turned the first spade of earth at groundbreaking ceremonies for the new church, Evangelical Lutheran, on Five Mile between Bradner and Haggerty.

...The public got its first glimpse of the new Early American design of Northville's A&P store after city and company officials participated in special ribbon-cutting ceremonies.

TEN YEARS AGO...

...Northville voters gave the go ahead to the board of education to build a new high school and undertake three other projects costing a total of $3,000,000. The vote was 481-294 - with 61 percent of the voters favoring the proposal.

The "yes" vote gave Northville a new ultra-modern high school building, an eight-room addition to the Amerman school, a rejuvenated present high school building to serve as a junior high and a future site for a new elementary school.

...Northville's proposed protest to the Public Service commission concerning local telephone service died. Councilmen voted four to one to reverse a month-old resolution after being convinced that latest efforts by Michigan Bell Telephone company offer satisfactory improvement. Only Councilman John Canterbury opposed the "reprieve".

...One of the first students caught studying a model of the new high school was Freddy Steeper, a seventh grade president of the junior student council who was to be one of the first students to attend classes in the proposed new building.

...Reverend John O. Taxis, pastor of the First Presbyterian Church of Northville, wrote a front-page Christmas message noting that "he keeps Christmas well who lets the starlight of Bethlehem burst upon the manger of his own heart and murmurs softly... 'unto ME a Son is given...'"

...Robert Jordan, 20, was the victim of a fatal accident, when he fell through the ice at the Mill Pond while skating and drowned.

THIRTY YEARS AGO...

...For the fourth consecutive year, villagers heard Leslie G. Lee's chorus of 75 voices sing Handel's immortal "Messiah".

SIXTY-SEVEN YEARS AGO...

...B. A. Wheeler's store offered these items:

Four pounds of mixed candy, 25-cents; a good mixed candy, per pound, 7-cents; choice of mixed nuts, per pound, 15-cents; Broker taffy candy, per pound, 10-cents; and peach pits candy, per pound, 15-cents.

...Mark S. Ambler offered coal for $5.50 a ton.

...Wheat locally was selling for 65-cents, oats 25-cents, and shelled corn, 42-cents.

For Breech Enterprises

Soellner Named Sales VP

William C. Soellner

William C. Soellner, for the past eight years a resident of Northville and active in civic affairs here, has been named by Breech Enterprises, Inc. to the newly created position of vice president, sales.

Headquartered in Birmingham, the company is distributor of Motorola television, radios, stereos; Bolens tractors; Lawn Boy mowers; York air conditioning and heating; and Easy-Gibson appliances.

Soellner joined Breech Enterprises in 1964 as sales manager of the Motorola Division. He came to that position from Westinghouse Appliance Sales in Detroit, where he was sales manager, special products. He had previously served Westinghouse Appliance Sales in Chicago as sales promotion manager for Illinois and Wisconsin, following experience as assistant sales manager and major accounts manager for Glendale Electronics and branch manager for Delmonico International, both of Detroit.

A graduate of Fordson high school in Dearborn, Soellner attended Henry Ford Community college and later completed special business courses at Wayne State and Ohio State universities.

A past President of Yerkes Civic association and Northville Players Guild, he lives at 43714 Dorisa Court with his wife and son, who attends Northville high school.

Torch Drive Services

Seek Big Brothers Here

A combined effort to recruit more Big Brothers - adult men who will volunteer to become friends on a one-to-one basis of young, fatherless boys in the Novi and Northville area - has been launched by three Torch Drive services.

The drive for additional volunteers

NOTICE OF PUBLIC HEARING OF PROPOSED AMENDMENTS TO THE ZONING ORDINANCE OF THE VILLAGE OF NOVI NOVI, MICHIGAN

NOTICE IS HEREBY GIVEN that a Public Hearing will be held on proposed Amendments to the Zoning Map of the Zoning Ordinance of the Village of Novi to include the following changes:

- I. A. On petition Of George Schreiber the Board has been requested to rezone Outlot "A" of Orchard Hills Subdivision, except the east 150 feet of the north 150 feet being a part of the N. E. 1/4 of Section 26, T. 1 N., R. 8 E., Village of Novi, Oakland County, Michigan, from a C-1, Local Business District to a C-2, General Commercial District.
- B. The Planning Board on their own motion is considering the rezoning of the east 150 feet of the north 150 feet of outlot "A" of Orchard Hills Subdivision, being a part of the N. E. 1/4 of Section 26, T. 1 N., R. 8 E., Village of Novi, Oakland County, Michigan, from C-1, Local Business District, to a C-2, General Commercial District.

coincides with plans to observe "Big Brother Week" Jan. 8-14.

The Torch Drive services involved are Big Brothers of Oakland county, a secular group; Catholic Charities of the Archdiocese of Detroit, and Church Social Services, a Protestant-affiliated organization.

"Adult men, 21 years of age and over, who wish to enroll in either of the three Big Brother programs may do so by telephoning 321-1666," according to the Reverend Chenoweth Watson, director of Church Social Service.

"Our office at 51 West Warren will be the clearing house for the three Big Brother programs in the tri-county area," he said.

He pointed out, however, that the common dialing system would be in effect only for Big Brother Week.

Watson said the shortage of Big Brothers is so great presently that each month his agency alone receives from 60 to 80 more referrals than the staff can match with volunteers.

"The number of Big Brothers in the tri-county area is now 450," he said, "but the number of boys desperately needing this service has climbed to more than 1,500."

He indicated this estimate is probably extremely conservative since the metropolitan area included some 20,000 fatherless boys.

Watson emphasized that not all boys referred to the Big Brother program are juvenile offenders.

"The principal criteria is that they be between 8 and 16 years of age and lacking a father figure in the home," he said.

"They need an adult friend, a mature man to whom they can relate in order to grow into well-adjusted, responsible citizens."

Boys are referred by churches, parents, visiting teachers, police youth bureau or other social agencies.

Each boy is matched with a Big Brother by trained social workers. After being screened, volunteers are given an orientation program.

Northville Jaycees Plan Sparkling End For Christmas Trees

Many trees have not yet found their way into homes, but preparations already have been started for their sparkling demise.

Called "Operation Big Burn", collection and burning of Christmas trees by the Northville Jaycees in conjunction with the city of Northville has been scheduled for Saturday, January 7.

The Jaycees plan to pick up Christmas trees on that day that are left at the curbside as a community service project to save the city the expense of collecting trees.

That evening the Jaycees will burn the trees in a huge bonfire on the field just east of the Northville football field at about 7:30 p.m. that night.

According to Jaycee Chairman Peter Lindholm, "It is hoped that local residents will come out to witness the tree burning. The high school parking lot and the road leading up to the high school will provide an excellent vantage point for viewing the bonfire."

Northville's fire department will supervise the burning.

Educators Hear Senator

State Senator Sander M. Levin, Berkeley, discussed legislative aspects of vocational-technical education, when 20 participants in the University of Michigan leadership development program for vocational-technical education met at Schoolcraft College.

The day-long seminar was the December meeting for the program which provides leadership training in a one-year project that began July 1.

Participants, administrators and educators from community colleges, area vocational schools and secondary schools throughout Michigan, spent the first eight weeks of the program attending classes full-time at the U-M this summer.

Among the participants this year is Joseph Borgen, assistant dean of vocational-technical instruction at Schoolcraft.

The day's program included a tour of the Schoolcraft campus and an explanation of the Schoolcraft vocational-technical program by Dean Jon P. Adams, dean of vocational-technical instruction.

The seminar was devoted to a discussion on the operation of vocational-technical programs in community colleges and area vocational schools.

Senator Levin spoke after luncheon at the Waterman Campus Center. Professor Ralph Wenrich, is project director for the University of Michigan.

'Cavern' Invites Local Alumni To Swing Here

An invitation has gone out to alumni of Northville high school to attend the Christmas Dance to be held here tonight (Thursday) under the sponsorship of The Cavern, a teenage dance group.

The dance, to feature two bands, will be held at the junior high school gymnasium (community building) from 8 to 11:30 p.m.

Featured bands will be the Shy Guys of Allen Park and The Wanted of Grosse Pointe.

Admission prices for this special dance have been raised to $1 for members and $1.25 for non-members to offset additional costs.

Teenage officials also remind students that the dance is to be a "dressy affair", with no shorts, slacks, jeans or knee socks to be worn. Punch and cookies are to be served.

SPEAKING for The Record

By BILL SLIGER

The action taken by Northville's board of appeals last week deserves mention.

Usually such unpaid public bodies go about their business with little or no publicity, unless they adopt a ruling that aggrieves one or more individuals. Then suspicion is cast upon their sanity, heretage, etc.

It should be explained that a board of appeals functions only to consider requests that require variances in existing zoning regulations.

In other words, if exceptions were never to be made to ordinances due to hardships or unique circumstances then there would be no reason or need to provide a board of appeals.

Fortunately, however, government recognizes that its broad rules drafted to serve the majority of cases can sometimes create isolated hardships. In these instances, the individual has an opportunity to take his appeal to a body of nine fellow citizens.

Consequently, members of such a board rarely are faced with "easy" decisions. They must consider the request of the appellant, determine whether or not the broad rules do inflict a hardship in the particular instance, and decide whether or not the general public will suffer damage if an exception is granted.

Members of such bodies must be open minded, objective individuals who reach decisions based only on the facts as they apply to each individual case. There are no precedents on the board of appeals; each hearing has its own individual set of circumstances.

If one were to set out to volunteer for the most difficult service in local government, he would ask to become a member of the board of appeals.

In hearing the appeal of the Ford Motor Company last week the board had a number of circumstances to consider.

But it kept its sights focused on the facts.

It concluded that the appellant did, indeed, prove hardship. And it determined that to grant a variance would not be detrimental to the general community welfare.

Yet before it gave way to the rule and recognized the exception, it required certain esthetic safeguards that were readily accepted.

In my opinion, the Northville board of appeals performed in the highest manner. And its members deserve the recognition of the community they serve.

Christmas is a busy time for merchants. But there's a small percentage of business they'd rather not have.

Shoplifting is rearing its unwelcome head again in many local stores. Christmas is a prime time for such operation. Clerks are busy, aisles are crowded and small items fit neatly and unnoticed into heavy overcoats.

Shoplifters range in degree of expertness, but otherwise there's little to set them apart from any other average shopper. They may be six or 60, men, women and children.

Most merchants are reluctant to sign a complaint against a shoplifter for fear of error and subsequent court action. But frequently they will turn a youngster over to his or her parents. Sometimes this is enough; occasionally, the merchant finds little sympathy with this course of action.

Most merchants are taking a "get tough" attitude with shoplifting. But they'd rather, in the case of young offenders, have the parents get tough first.

While shoplifting may not give rise to public concern on the basis of loss profits to merchants, it should be remembered — even in these sophisticated times — that stealing is against the law.

It took an act of Congress to bring the movie, "Years of Lightening, Day of Drums," before the American public, and specifically, to the new Vth Forum theatre in Ann Arbor.

Unlike the present controversy over the serialization of William Manchester's book, "Death of a President," the film about John F. Kennedy was not withheld through any whim of the Kennedy clan. Nothing as sensational as that.

Congressional action was mandatory because the movie was filmed for use by the United States Information Service, the government agency that handles foreign dissemination of information about aspects of American life.

The information services' productions are not typically seen by Americans, and never before in its history has it released a movie for public scrutiny at home. But apparently the clamor was great and the movie was deemed of sufficient historic and possibly even artistic value to warrant its release.

Whatever the hypothetical tests, the movie apparently passed them. In fact, it's presented by the John F. Kennedy Center for the Performing Arts in Washington D.C.

Directed by Bruce Hershensohn and narrated by Gregory Peck, the movie gained a complete bill of health from the "appointed" protectors of the John F. Kennedy image, but it needs a shot of realistic adrenalin to make it an authentic commentary on the life of JFK.

The fault lies at the productive fount. The United States Information Service, of necessity, screens its materials meticulously to minimize chances of misconstruing. There must be no fodder on which Communists can capitalize.

As a result, the movie is an historical whitewash. John F. Kennedy is shown in all his glory. His contributions to world peace, space travel, the Alliance for Progress, the Civil Rights movement, freedom of the individual and disarmament are highlighted. No mention is made, however, of the Bay of Pigs fiasco or any other blemishes on the Kennedy record.

The movie largely fails as a dramatic accomplishment, too, because of its pristine birth. In short, artistic expression is prostrated to political considerations.

Through Peck's narration, the film is a purified, protracted eulogy to Kennedy, beginning with his assassination. The camera focuses on one of the salient contributions made by Kennedy, then flashes back to the funeral procession for tragic emphasis.

But the movie is not a tragedy in the dramatic sense. Failure to include details detrimental to the Kennedy image leaves the man, Kennedy, bereft of any flaw. He has no shortcomings, and thus does not appear human.

He was, in fact, the most human of men, although extraordinary. Pundits, at this juncture of history, have already noted that in the ocean of history his political contributions will create no tidal waves. He will be remembered for his humanitarian appeal. He had that unique human gift to inspire.

About the season.

Overheard at the American Legion building in Northville:

"You pick it out, honey. You know more about it than me."

"Nothing doing. You asked me to pick it out last year and then never stopped complaining until after we took it down. You pick it out yourself!"

At the same place a lady put this question to Legionnaire Bob Miller: "Can you pick me a perfect tree?"

And Bob's reply: "Lady, the Good Lord put only one perfect thing on this earth and He died on the cross."

Simple but more sincere and meaningful than the professional kind. They're the cards made at school by your youngsters and mine. I found this classic waiting on the table upon arriving home last week:

"For Mother and Father from Jimmy Merry Christmas to You Mom and Dad one of my warts came off today when I was in school."

Ann Chizmar, reading improvement teacher at Amerman elementary school, sent us some samples of "our first attempt at writing in the reading improvement of fourth and fifth graders... In these classes the assignment is just to put ideas on paper. No punctuation or spelling corrections are made."

Here are a couple of them: "The stockings were hanging on the fireplace and the Christmas tree was brightly lighted, but it did not exist for the little boy who couldn't find Christmas. Somehow he fell asleep and dreamed that he was flying through the air but he couldn't find Christmas anywhere. When he came back he stopped outside of a church. As he was ready to depart a voice called out from in the church, 'You can only find Christmas in your heart.'"

We're Wishing You A

Christ's Birth Teaches Us Humility

BABSON PARK, Mass. — "And the angel said unto them, Be not afraid; for behold, I bring you good tidings of great joy which shall be to all the people. For there is born to you this day in the city of David, a Saviour, who is Christ the Lord." (Luke 2: 10-11).

Ever since the angel appeared to the shepherds on the hills outside Bethlehem, bringing them "good tidings of great joy", Christmas has been celebrated as pre-eminently the season of joy — the season of children's laughter and games, of presents, of family reunions, of human warmth and light, of the manger with the star shining above it. But there are times — and perhaps the present with its armed clashes, its political unrest, and economic stresses is one of them — when joy seems hard to capture.

IF JESUS was not God, He was certainly the most remarkable man who ever lived. For He left the impress of His name and personality upon the world in a way no other man has ever done. The whole period of life from His day to ours is stamped with His name — the Christian era. The civilization that spread across the world sprang from His teaching and is called after Him — Christian civilization. When we wish to describe moral virtues that exceed anything that pre-Christian man knew, we use the terms Christian charity, Christian justice, and the Christian ethic.

The personality of Jesus was so impressed on the world that its impact surpasses anything that anybody else has achieved. In short, it is unique. One is forced to the conclusion that the personality of Jesus was at least super-human. Yet this super-human being claimed to be even more than that. He claimed to be God. To reject that claim is to say in effect that the greatest personality that ever existed was that of a deceiver.

The story of Jesus began in a stable. It was a night when all the world was upside down. There was no room in the inn for Him who would be acclaimed as a king; yet angels heralded His birth. A ruler would seek His death; and wise men would adore Him. He was a son of the royal house of David; yet there was no bed for Him and He was wrapped in cloths and laid in a manger.

From this the lowest point attainable in human life, from a stable shared by beasts, the world's most amazing story started. In the sky the angels sang the message which would hold good for all time, that peace on earth would be to men of good will. Jesus set out to teach humility and He started most humbly.

JESUS WAS born in the stillness of the night, and it has been traditional to associate His birth with silence — the silence of reverential awe and of humility. One of the most hallowed of our Christmas carols is called "Silent Night", and in his hauntingly beautiful "O Little Town of Bethlehem" Bishop Phillips Brooks wrote nearly one hundred years ago "how silently, how silently the wondrous gift is given."

However you choose to regard the life of Jesus, you cannot help but note that it started in humility and in silence but grew to embrace the whole world. Nor can you help but note that Christmas is the greatest feast or holiday of the year. It is the day we all keep in some fashion or other, though it is to be regretted that for so many it has lost its true spiritual significance.

The lesson of the manger is a difficult one for a stiff-necked materialistic world. The humility of the stable and the silence of Bethlehem are unacceptable to those who see life's sole purpose as the amassing of power and wealth or the attainment of personal success. The silence of Bethlehem on that holy night was not accidental. It was meant to teach us reverence for God, for His creation, for our fellow men. It was also meant to teach us that we must be quiet and listen or we will not hear God when He speaks within our own heart.

Northfield Loses Bid for Atomic Accelerator

A sigh was heard in and around Northfield township near South Lyon this past week. It was a sigh of relief for some; a sigh of disappointment for others.

It came at the announcement that the federal Atomic Energy Commission had by-passed the rural area near Ann Arbor in favor of Weston, Illinois as its choice for the world's largest atomic accelerator.

The $375-million, 200-billion electron volt proton accelerator had been eyed as an economic plum by those who were in favor of its location here. It was viewed as a destroyer of country living and of many individual homesteads by those who were not.

The scientific value of the facility was enormous, as was the prestige value of having a laboratory which would be used by experts from all over this nation and probably from other nations, too.

But it appears headed for a site near Chicago and near the Argonne National Laboratory, an AEC facility. Weston, a bedroom community of 550 persons, is contemplating its own extinction now that the accelerator has been given a huge push in its direction. The town is likely to be within the boundaries of the facility which will employ about 2,000 persons.

The AEC selection of Weston from among the final six possibilities, which included the local site, is believed to be a huge factor in that being the eventual location, but the final decision rests with Congress. Construction authorization and fund appropriation is in the representatives' hands. They will consider the proposal after hearings of the Joint Atomic Energy Committee. Both of these bodies can overrule the AEC.

Peter S. Kelley, supervisor of Northfield township, summed up local reaction, "There's a feeling of mixed emotions. Some wanted it and some didn't. I don't know how badly each side felt about it."

Kelley, like most officials who engaged in the competition to woo the federal agency towards a choice in Michigan's favor, said "I feel that Northfield township has lost a great deal but we have gained a lot of publicity and have gained by it. Other projects and industry will be more apt to look our way now. At least they know we're on the map now."

U. S. Representative Weston E. Vivian, whose Second Congressional district contains the site and who played a leading role in the Washington battle for Michigan contention, had said throughout the campaign that if the accelerator bid was lost the area would at least gain in prestige for any later facilities.

He was happy a midwestern site had been chosen. And he gave an indication of continued interest in promoting such projects for the area. The Congressman, who was formerly vice president of Ann Arbor's Conduccion Corporation, said he was anxious to see diversity of industry in the area. He pointed out that 10,000 new jobs created in the auto industry near here during the past three years had not created overcrowding.

AEC officials gave three reasons for choosing Weston over Northfield township and the four other choices: One was the underground geology which provided bedrock at 50 to 100 feet below the surface more ideally than Northfield's 200 to 400 feet. Another was the proximity to the Argonne sister facility.

State Seeks Aid for Vietnamese

LANSING — "Every family should give serious consideration to taking part in Michigan Christmas in Vietnam," stated Gov. George Romney at a kickoff press conference where the idea was presented.

Briefly, this campaign urges Michigan citizens to demonstrate their Christmas spirit by working through one of several agencies now functioning in Vietnam to help the people and servicemen there.

"The most severe need," stated the Governor, "is for soap." He said that nearly every child needs medical attention and most of this need is related to the fact that they cannot keep clean. Soap, food and money, it is hoped will stream to Vietnam because of Michigan people and their generosity.

NEWSPAPERS and electronic media of the state were encouraged to get facts of the campaign to the Michigan public in time for the Dec. 18-24 special week which was proclaimed by the Governor. The Michigan effort, it is hoped, will stretch well into next year.

Local Jaycee, Red Cross and religious offices are geared to work with state citizens, accepting their gifts and donations on the spot and sending them on to Vietnam.

Organizations cooperating fully in this program are: American Friends' Service Committee, American National Red Cross, CARE, Catholic Relief Services, Christian Children's Fund, Foster Parents Plan, International Rescue Committee, Lutheran World Relief, Project Concern, USO, Vietnam Christian Service, World Medical Relief, World Rehabilitation Fund, World University Service, and World Vision International Relief Organization, Community Development Foundation, Save the Children Federation, NAE — World Relief Commission, People-To-People Health Foundation, Inc., (Project HOPE), Seventh Day Adventist Welfare Service.

PROSPECTS for legislative action aimed at more effectively measuring campaign expenditures may have been enhanced by a question which arose following the November election.

It seems the report filed by former Gov. G. Mennen Williams exceeded the limit now specified by law in spending for his unsuccessful bid at the U.S. Senate seat. The report may be misleading, however.

Present law specifies that a candidate may spend $40 for each 1,000 votes cast for gubernatorial candidates in the previous presidential year election.

Ambiguity in the law permits the candidate to spend this amount while any number of separate committees may also spend this much or more, depending on whether they come under the law's reporting requirement.

In the most recent election, it seems Williams' campaign workers lumped his own spending and that of several committees into one report. Thus his spending went beyond the limit of the law.

WILLIAMS' OPPONENT, the incumbent and victorious Sen. Robert Griffin (and other major office seekers for that matter) took the other route. He filed a personal spending report and individual committees working in his behalf filed separately. Taken together, several other candidates would have gone over the spending limit as well as Williams.

Revision of this law, which in effect is unenforceable because of its ambiguity, has been urged for several years primarily by Secretary of State James M. Hare, whose office tries to administer this law.

Hare has contended that in addition to lacking teeth, the law's ineffectiveness is creating a situation in which only the wealthy can seek public office.

In 1948, when Williams gained his first term as governor he spent less than $50,000 on the campaign. In 1960, Neil Staebler's futile bid for the same office cost him over $173,000 and supporters of Gov. George Romney spent nearly $290,000 on his second term bid. Neither candidate reported any personal spending.

What is needed, Hare says, is a law which will require registration of all political committees working in a candidate's behalf and a firm but reasonable limitation on the overall spending.

Federal Cutback To Delay Area Highway Projects

Highway construction projects in 21 counties originally scheduled to be put under contract during the first six months of 1967 will be delayed as a result of the cutback in federal highway funds, the State Highway commission announced this week.

The construction cost of the projects that are being delayed is an estimated $40 million.

Among those area projects delayed are:

--Construction of modern rest room facilities in the rest area I-96 Novi, $96,000 — originally scheduled for May.

--Landscaping on three miles of I-96 from the Oakland-Livingston county line east to Milford road, $42,000 — originally scheduled for May.

--Landscaping on 7.5 miles of I-96 from the Livingston-Oakland county line west to Grand River at Brighton, $120,000 — originally scheduled for May.

State Highway Director Howard E. Hill told the commission that many other highway projects scheduled for construction after next July 1 will be delayed, too, unless the federal government releases the funds it is withholding as an anti-inflation measure.

"The effect of this cutback will be felt for several years unless the funds that have been withheld are released early next summer," Hill said.

Hill said that projects that are being postponed during the next six months will be re-scheduled at a later date.

"Every effort will be made to get them underway as soon as possible after July 1 but we won't be able to establish firm dates until we know what the federal financial picture will be after July 1," he said.

Paragon To Train 100 Arc Welders

Paragon Bridge and Steel company of Novi, will provide 100 persons with six weeks of on-the-job training (OJT) as arc welders in a project under the Manpower Development and Training Act (MDTA) approved this week by Secretary of Labor W. Willard Wirtz.

The contract for this project is being executed for Secretary Wirtz by Richard A. Reef, acting regional director of the Department's Bureau of Apprenticeship and Training (BAT) in Cleveland, Ohio.

The company will be reimbursed $7,894 in MDTA funds for instruction costs and related training expenses. Approximately $68,160 in wages will be paid the trainees by the company during the OJT period.

Richard D. Swain, of the Detroit BAT staff, worked with officials of the firm and of Shopman's Local Union #508 (IND) in the development of this program.

MDTA provisions direct the Secretary of Labor to enter into agreements with employers, trade associations, unions, private and public agencies and others whom he determines are qualified to conduct effective training programs. Some of these programs require supplemental instruction approved by the Secretary of Health, Education and Welfare.

It's the merry arrival of the holiday season, bringing with it our cheeriest good wishes to all our valued customers. Serving you has been our pleasure and we sincerely thank you for your friendship and trust in us.
