

Moraine to Open On New Semester

The end of the present school semester (January 26-27) will be moving days at Moraine elementary school if hopes of the Northville school administration are fulfilled. Board of education members learned Monday night that Moraine students, except perhaps kindergartners, can expect to begin the new semester January 30 in the new school.

In conjunction with the move will come transportation problems which the board decided to review in a crash study to be ready before the new semester begins. It decided to consider also the request from three mothers who live on Glenda avenue for bus service on the street, as well as requests from five other areas, in the study.

After hearing from Charles Kehrer, transportation director, and three bus drivers who said it is impossible to meet even present schedules, the board feeling seemed to be that a "less liberal but more punctual" service may be instituted.

E. V. Ellison, administrative assistant, urged that residents of Taft Colony and Northville Estates subdivisions be made aware that their children will be walking to Moraine school when it opens.

The board resumed discussion of possibility of an overpass on Eight Mile road for children in Northville Estates subdivision but did authorize it. Board Wilfred Becker indicated that after authorizing architects' sketches in November and getting a $20,000 cost estimate that it was having "second thoughts" and would like to have a chance to evaluate traffic flow and conditions at the crossing after the school is in operation.

The board did not seem to be in complete accord on need for the overpass as Donald Lawrence indicated he understood the board had "virtually committed" itself to the construction. Becker explained that in informal discussion the board thought there might be a possibility of the overpass becoming a community project. In the meantime, he said, the district would see if it could provide adequate protection during school hours.

Taft subdivision children will be expected to walk on a gravel path to be constructed at the edge of the woods to the school.

Assistant Superintendent Raymond Spear said Tuesday that while the administration is hopeful of starting classes in the new school January 30 it is studying holding the Moraine kindergartens at Amerman school until the new kindergartens are completed, probably during the latter part of February.

The board approved continuing the sick leave for Moraine Principal Milton Jacobi after Superintendent Alexander Nelson reported he had been ill in bed but was expected back in a few days.

Council Hits Snow Removal, Explores Home Complaints

City councilmen flexed their muscles at meetings held Wednesday, January 4 and Monday evening.

At Wednesday's session the council heard complaints against Dave Pink Builders dealing with problems in their newly-finished homes in Northville Heights number two.

Charles Flain, 331 Sherry Lane, represented a contingent of homeowners in the subdivision who he said had experienced "basic problems" in their homes that were not being corrected by the builder. He appealed to the council for help.

Some of the complaints included frozen water pipes, lack of insulation, inoperative fireplaces, sagging floor, a front door that wouldn't open and cold second floors. One resident said that water froze on a second story bathroom floor.

"If their complaints are justified, we should do everything we can for these citizens", said Councilman John Canterbury.

Several courses of action were proposed. It was agreed that a state agency controlling issuance of builders' licenses should be contacted. First, however, the residents were asked to meet with the city manager and city attorney to specify all complaints. The meeting was scheduled last night at city hall.

City Manager Frank Ollendorff said that a check will be made to see if there had been any oversights in city inspections of the houses. He noted that some of the homes were constructed before an ordinance was passed in June requiring insulation for heating ducts and water pipes.

Randolph Suit Set for Hearing

A property owner suit against the city of Northville is scheduled to be heard in the Wayne county circuit court of Judge Joseph A. Moynihan, Jr., next Wednesday at 9 a.m.

The action was brought by some 48 residents of Randolph street representing 29 of 44 properties against which were levied 25 per cent assessments for installation of improvements and paving.

The protesting citizens maintain that they received no benefit from the improvements. They will be represented in court by Attorney Ferris Fitch.

City Attorney Philip Ogilvie will defend the city action. Testimony is expected to extend the hearing over two or three days.

and water pipes.

The manager indicated that the city had experienced some trouble with the builder and said that some occupancy permits had been issued without city approval.

Monday night the council turned its attention to the removal of snow from city sidewalks. Mayor A. M. Allen and Councilmen Del Black and Canterbury were most vehement in their criticism of the performance of Robert Cole, who holds a city contract for snow removal in three-quarters of the city.

They pointed out that the city had received "dozens of complaints" this year and they charged that Cole was missing some areas, failing to go back to others when snow continued to fall and, in general, was not providing the same standard of service as in previous years.

The council took the position that if the service could not be improved, it should be dropped.

Cole blamed unusual conditions for most of his trouble. He said rains had turned the snow to ice and that his sweepers cannot remove ice. He said he had used two sweepers steadily and had not relaxed his service.

He promised to spread sand on walks Tuesday to help reduce slippery conditions.

"You show us your willingness to improve, clear away snow and ice at intersections, and we'll keep the service. This is a trial", said Mayor Allen.

Bright Lights Coming to Town

There are brighter nights ahead for Northville's business district.

Monday night the city council approved installation of new mercury-vapor lights that will more than double the present illumination.

Installation isn't expected before spring or early summer, however.

The move to brighten the business district has been long encouraged by Councilman Del Black, but the project faced delays because of uncertainty of installation costs and rates. The council learned Monday night that Detroit Edison would make no charge for replacing the 24 street lights in the business district. Increased operating costs were estimated at $75 per month.

Councilman John Canterbury questioned the appearance of the new lights and the desirability of the brightness. Black called the downtown area "very dark" and pointed out that the only styles available were the bulb-type mercury vapor lamps and the tube-type fluorescent lamps. All councilmembers agreed that the mercury lamps were preferable.

The motion to order installation of the new lamps passed unanimously. All lights will be installed in the same locations as the present posts with the exception of a lamp at the city hall corner. It will be moved to the northwest corner of Main and Wing. Other locations extend from Wing to Church on Main street and from Cady to Dunlap on Center street.

In other business Monday night the council approved application for certification of a workable program for community improvements. The application goes to the regional office of the Department of Housing and Urban Development and is required procedure for any community wishing to obtain federal funds for planning, park site acquisitions or urban renewal.

The application required the city to indicate existing problems that have been considered, community plans or schedule of plans for the "elimination or prevention of slums and blight". It is, the city manager explained to the council, a prerequisite for application for federal funds, but not a commitment that funds will be sought. The city obtained a federal grant to undertake its comprehensive master plan study. Funds could also be obtained to carry out specific studies and engineering plans on such projects as the central business district plan, for example. Manager Frank Ollendorff said approval of applications usually takes from two to 12 months.

The city's insurance business on its fleet of vehicles was awarded to the Northville Insurance Agency on a low annual bid of $1135.78. It was noted that competitive bidding had reduced city cost on vehicle insurance by some $600.

A service and tap charge of $2,200 was approved for providing the new junior high school with four-inch water line service.

Training School Promises Child Abuse Investigation

There'll be no white-wash of charges that "widespread" abuse of children exists at the Wayne County Training School.

That's the word from Dr. Pasquale Bouniconto, school superintendent, who told The Record that he and the school's board plan to investigate the charges thoroughly.

"We want to hear the full story from both sides," he said.

However, Bouniconto said he found it hard to believe that abuses of children are "widespread" at the school as charged by three former teachers at a public hearing last week before the school's administrative board.

The hearing was called as a result of written complaints of the three teachers and the Michigan Association of Teachers of Emotionally Disturbed Children.

Former teachers making the accusations are Mrs. Gail Wilkins, Mrs. Janice Hibbard, and Mrs. Betty Hyslop.

All three teachers said they quit teaching at the school because children were physically abused. Specific charges of beatings were leveled against Robert St. Germain, education director, and two male teachers, Eugene Moran and James Hesterly.

Bouniconto conceded that there have been isolated cases of abuse by teachers over the years, but that whenever these occur immediate action is taken. "Either the teacher is suspended or fired," he said.

"I won't say it doesn't happen here, but I don't believe it's widespread."

There are too many safeguards for the students, Dr. Bouniconto said, for abuses to go undetected.

He cited the following six ways abuse can be reported:

1. Examination of each student is required by the cottage parents. Detailed reports of any marks are required;
2. Pupils have an opportunity to report to the medical clinic where detailed reports are kept on any injury;
3. The child can report to his counselor;
4. Children can report abuse to their own parents;
5. Children can report any injustice to the social service department;
6. Two clergymen are available for discussions with the children.

Council Names Nichols To Succeed Kester

W. Wallace Nichols

W. Wallace Nichols was the unanimous choice of the Northville city council to succeed Councilman Fred Kester at a special meeting held Monday night.

Kester resigned officially Monday night. He had informed the council last September that a promotion to buyer for D & C Stores, Inc., at its headquarters in Stockbridge would mean that he would relinquish his council seat in the near future.

Nichols is not new to city government. He presently serves as vice chairman of the planning commission. Prior to his appointment to that body four years ago he served one year on the board of appeals.

He was also an unsuccessful candidate for council in the April, 1965 election.

Nichols will serve out the remainder of Kester's term, which expires in April. The terms of Mayor A. M. Allen and Councilman John Canterbury also expire in April. Councilmembers Beatrice Carlson and Del Black have two more years to serve on their current terms.

Nichols, 58, lives at 219 Ely drive south. He and his wife, Katherine, have two children, Elizabeth Ann (Betsey), 21, and Randy Burnett, 17. They have been residents of Northville for seven years.

For the past 11 years Nichols has been employed by Creditors Service, Inc., in Detroit. He is firm manager of credit control for North America and has been in the credit and collection business for 28 years. He is a graduate of Jackson high school and Cleary college and is a veteran of World War II.

Nichols expressed pleasure at being named to the post by the council and said "I will try to do as good a job as Kester ... I will make a sincere and honest effort to be a good councilman".

He will be sworn in at the next regular meeting of the council, Monday night.

Kester has sold his home at 349 High street and purchased a new home in Stockbridge. He expects to move with his wife, Grace, and their five children in February.

Formerly the manager of the local D & C Store, Kester has been active in community affairs during his 10 years here. He was elected to the council in April, 1963 and has been a popular and conscientious council member.

Meet First Baby

It's Michelle Lynne DuFort

Like many people the Arnold DuForts of 344 Ely Drive North stayed awake New Year's Eve - but for a little different reason.

Instead of ushering in the New Year at a spirited party or in the quiet of their home, they did their celebrating in the confines of New Grace Hospital in Detroit.

And why shouldn't they? It was there they became the proud parents of a baby girl, their first, and the winner of this year's First Baby Contest.

The baby, named Michelle Lynne, was born at 3:29 a.m. January 1 - not the earliest time for a first baby in the 11-year history of the contest, but certainly one of the earliest. The attending physician was Dr. Philip Peven. Michelle Lynne, who weighed 7 pounds and 2 ounces, returned home with Mrs. DuFort Friday afternoon.

Actually, there was a time when the DuForts thought their first child might be the last born in 1966. They left for the hospital from their Northville home about 9 p.m. Saturday, December 31. But the baby waited for several more hours.

Even so, Michelle Lynne now accepts the title from Ronald James Hesse, 1966 champ and earliest arrival ever. Ronald, now a 22-pound bundle of energy, was born at 12:50 a.m. January 1, 1966.

Mr. and Mrs. DuFort, both graduates of the University of Michigan, Dearborn campus, moved to Northville in October "because we liked the community - a kind of happy medium between the small and large towns we grew up in."

The beaming father is a native of Fairgrove, a small community east of Bay City, and his wife hails from Redford township. They were married June 6, 1964 in Redford.

The DuForts met while attending the university, from which he was graduated in February, 1964, and she in June, 1965. Following graduation, Mrs. DuFort taught kindergarten for one year at Jackson elementary school in Livonia.

He joined the Chevrolet Motor Division as a cooperative student in 1962 and now heads a financial department for Chevrolet in Ypsilanti.

With Mr. Stork's presentation this year, he put the girls in the lead in the annual contest - with five boys and 6 girls.

The first contest winner in 1957 was Ruth Ann Edgin. Subsequent winners included Sherry Coykendall in 1958, Timothy McDonald in 1959, Danny Rolph in 1960, Tamera Ann MacDonald in 1961, Kimberly Ann Berger in 1962, Sherry Lynn Folsom in 1963, Mark Thomas Moran in 1964, and Scott Allen Yamamoto in 1965.

Because their daughter is the First Baby this year, the DuForts will receive the following gifts from sponsoring merchants:

Fifteen half-gallons of milk from Guernsey Farm Dairy, an all-night vaporizer from Novi Rexall Drug, a dinner for mother and father at the Old Mill Restaurant, 24 jars of baby food from Kroger, a gift certificate from The Little People Shoppe, a three-piece silver set from H. R. Noder's Jewelry, a toiletry kit from Northville Drug company, a portable nursemaid from D&C Store, and a baby blanket from Brader's Department Store.

Plans Readied For 'Dimes' Drive

March of Dimes activities in Northville picked up steam this week as precinct captains met at the home of the area chairman Monday morning to map plans for the upcoming Mothers' March.

Hostess for the orientation coffee hour was Mothers' March Chairman Mrs. Hiram Pacific of 46959 Grasmere.

Meanwhile, the American Legion Lloyd H. Green Post 147, official sponsor for the month-long March of Dimes campaign in Northville, began distributing canisters and posting signs.

John Stelmel, Legion chairman for the campaign, also announced that the local teenage dance club, the Cavern, has volunteered to hold a fund-raising dance on January 14 for the March of Dimes. Larry and John, disc jockies, will be featured.

The dance will be held in the high school gymnasium Saturday from 8 to 11:30 p.m. Admission will be 50-cents for members and 75-cents for non-members, with all profits going to the campaign fund.

Those women who have volunteered to serve as captains for the Mothers' March include:

Mrs. Walter Carter, 2170 Rathlone; Mrs. Warren Stoddard, 503 Maplewood; Mrs. W. R. Flaherty, 47250 South Chiewidden; Mrs. Richard Rusche, 43768 Parkgrove; Mrs. James Tellam, 20031 Caldwell; Mrs. Lulu Witt, 311 North Center; Mrs. Stuart Campbell, 411 Horton; Mrs. Donald Vaningen, 744 Grandview; Mrs. William Kleinsorge, 360 Fairbrook Court; Mrs. Lloyd Phillips, 461 River; Mrs. Bernard Baldwin, 19810 Meadowbrook road; Mrs. Richard Booms, 46985 Grasmere; Mrs. Calvin Chen, 39710 Haggerty court; and Mrs. Charles George of 16850 Meade.

The Mothers' March is scheduled for Tuesday, January 31. However, the mothers will begin collecting during the previous weekend.

Last year approximately $1,400 was collected through the March. Campaign funds will be used to combat birth defects, which is the second-greatest killer in the United States. Approximately 250,000 babies are born with defects each year.

In Our Town

By JEAN DAY

BECAUSE "the food's great in Northville," area residents will enjoy a musical treat Thursday, March 9, when the University of Michigan glee club again will include Northville in its concert tour.

As in 1964 and 1962, the glee club's appearance here will be sponsored by the Northville Mothers' club in the Northville high school auditorium.

The glee club, known for its peppy, varied programs with original presentations of popular, classical and school songs, is much in demand and only can come to a community every second year. Students in the glee club vote upon which invitations to accept.

Mrs. Harold Wright, who has been working on arrangements, reports that the student business manager wrote: May I add that when the possibility of singing in Northville was first mentioned, the response was enthusiastic as the boys remembered "the food's great in Northville!"

Mothers' club members contribute choice dishes and feed the students en masse at the school. To maintain their gourmet reputation (and keep the glee club coming) club members made plans for the club's appearance at a business session Monday night at the Woodhill road home of Mrs. Clyde Whittlesey.

CO-HOSTESSES for the Mothers' club meeting, which also was a guest night, were Mrs. William Wiley, Mrs. Frederick Hart and Mrs. Al Wistert. Buzzie Collocott, a Northville high school senior whom the club sponsored to Girls' State last June, reported on her experiences in Lansing. She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Donald R. Collocott of Doris court.

"IT WAS just enough to intrigue" was the comment on the duo of books on James Boswell reviewed by Mrs. E. A. Chapman for Northville Woman's club last Friday. Mrs. Chapman aroused interest in Frederick Pottle's "James Boswell, The Earlier Years" and "Boswell's London Journal" as she suggested Boswell might be considered an early-day Tom Jones.

During the business session the club membership voted to continue its affiliation with Detroit Federation of Woman's clubs and suggested formation of a separate committee to maintain contact with the federation. Mrs. E. V. Ellison, president, announced that she will announce the appointments at an upcoming meeting.

Mrs. Ellison reports this week that tickets now are available for a federation luncheon and fashion show to be given February 9 at the Latin Quarter as a benefit for the federation's educational and philanthropic projects.

Historians to Meet Tuesday

A talk on early Michigan surveying techniques together with related stories of the Northville Historical Society Tuesday night.

The meeting will be held at 8 p.m. at the home of Miss Linda Edgerton, 571 Randolph. Place of the meeting was switched from the basement of the old library building for convenience of members and guests.

Wynn W. Wakenhut, who has a surveying office at 124 North Center street and who lives in Connemara subdivision at 22351 Connemara drive, will be the guest speaker. He is president of the professional chapter of surveyors in Southeastern Michigan — largest in the state.

In his talk, Wakenhut will describe how early surveyors "chained" Michigan in laying out townships in the virgin wilderness. He will show that Northville and Novi are significantly located on one of the first lines run through Michigan by these early surveyors.

Of special interest will be his explanation for the various instruments used by surveyors in laying out the townships. Among these are the Gunther chain and magnetic compass. The chain of standard length was used by these surveyors in measuring distance, hence the term "chaining".

Early Northville and Novi deeds described pieces of property by mentioning width and length in numbers of chains and links.

Initial surveys established six tiers of townships north and six south of the baseline from the meridian to the east boundary of the state. Thus, the township of Novi became Town One North, while Northville became Town One South.

Poor surveyors, such as the men who "chained" Salem township — considered one of the poorest jobs in Michigan — made errors up to almost a quarter-mile in a township. These errors occurred sometimes because the chain itself became stretched or because one or two links were torn off the chain.

Tuesday's program will mark the third in a series presented during the current society season. The first two included a display and discussion of family relics and heirlooms and a talk by Dominic Paris on "Volney Gunning, Pioneer Fiddler" of this area.

School Architect Honored

O'Dell, Hewlett and Luckenbach, Inc., architectural firm for the school districts of Northville, Novi and South Lyon, has received national recognition for designing the Western Michigan university auditorium in Kalamazoo.

The auditorium was one of eight noteworthy projects displayed at the Theater Architecture Exhibition in Chicago.

Selection of the top designed buildings was made by the American Institute of Architects and the American Education Theater Association.

The Birmingham based architectural firm designed the university facility, which will be used as an auditorium and a theater, two years ago. Construction was started in December of 1965.

Attendance Up At Kensington

Kensington Metropolitan Park led all four parks in the Huron-Clinton Metropolitan Authority in attendance during 1966, Kenneth L. Hallenbeck, director of the authority, announced this week.

Kensington Park, a 4,300 acre site off I-96 near New Hudson, had more than 2,190,000 visitors in 1966 to top the previous high of 2,140,000 set the previous year.

The park was opened in 1948 and quickly became one of Michigan's most popular parks.

Metropolitan Beach, a 550-acre tract along Lake St. Clair near Mt. Clemens, had 1,565,600 visitors in 1966 to also set a new attendance record there.

Court Ruling May Spark New Jury Setup

LANSING — NEAR REVOLUTION in Michigan's most commonly used court level may be taking place these days as the result of a higher court decision regarding jury selection.

In November, the State Court of Appeals handed down an opinion in a St. Clair County Circuit Court case stating that the base for selecting a panel in jury trials should be as broad as possible.

Since that decision, several counties have been challenged on jury selection lists and were found falling short of the desired balance.

IN INGHAM COUNTY, for example, an attorney was successful in getting a criminal trial delayed pending new selection of a jury panel. He contended the panel originally presented did not contain a good cross section of the county population.

The Appeals Court ruling said that the jury need not contain representatives of all the economic, social, religious, racial, political and geographical groups of the community, but that there should be no intentional or systematic exclusion of any of these groups.

In other words, a jury list should not contain only retired citizens and housewives. Neither should it include only factory workers, or Negroes, or any other single classifiable group.

To compile jury panels from one or two groups based on sex, age, employment or other factors does violence to the basic idea that juries represent a cross section, the Court said.

STATE LAW requires that a jury be selected at random from persons listed on tax assessment rolls or voter registration lists. The law specifies that individuals may not ask to be placed on jury panels.

"Jury service is a duty as well as a privilege of citizenship, and this a blanket exclusion of wage earners, either young or old, however justified by prior actions of trial judges, must be counted among those tendencies which undermine and weaken our respected institution of jury trial," the Court said.

PUBLIC REACTION to proposals to tear down Michigan's 90-year-old State Capitol building has been most surprising to all concerned.

This is primarily so because officials fully expected a real furor to arise in all corners of the state when various alternatives were first announced for improving and adding government office space.

Instead there was an almost deafening silence.

Indeed, even after a second round of publicity was given to the possibility that it might be wise to raze the figurative center of state government there was still a surprising lack of concern expressed.

A few citizens did take the time to write their opposing views, and one even sent the Governor a "Stop" sign to express his discontent with the idea. Teenagers attending the annual "Y"

Youth Legislature wrote their sentiments on the matter.

CONSIDERABLE TIME and newspaper space have now been devoted to the various proposals. Many state officials feel the short supply of public sentiment on the matter indicates they can now rule out one proposal: that of spending the money required to restore and renovate the present structure and then move from there to provide space for the government which is so much larger than it was 90 years ago. One of the forthcoming legislative proposals worth watching in Michigan was submitted twice before by Attorney General Frank J. Kelley. Kelley has gathered considerable support during the last two years from legislators for providing some method to help persons who are the victims of violent crimes.

One idea would provide financial help to crime victims who need it and would require convicted criminals to contribute to a fund for this purpose.

Nation's Growth Poses Fiscal Problems

BABSON PARK, Mass., — The tremendous growth our nation has enjoyed since the end of World War II poses new fiscal and other challenges for the states. On the one hand, their role has been diminishing steadily as the federal government has gathered unto itself more power. On the other hand, the prestige of many states has been deteriorating steadily as their largest metropolitan areas have expanded to great size and complexity.

The decline of our states and of their effectiveness in government has been a long time coming. It is traceable to pre-World-War-I years when the federal income tax law was first enacted. But it was not until the great depression of the 1930's that the ball really got rolling. With the coming of the federal social security system and other broad social welfare programs — enacted by Congress, administered by the President, and financed by taxes collected by Washington — the shadow cast over the states by Uncle Sam grew longer.

Then came World War II, a protracted and costly conflict from which America emerged as banker and creditor to both victors and vanquished. The rebuilding of shattered European nations and their economies, of a badly beaten Japan, and the servicing of our own deferred needs — together with the financing of a long and very expensive "cold war" — put new pressures on our fiscal and natural resources. Federal government costs soared.

During these two decades that have followed World War II, we were to discover the high price that must be paid for defense, for the type of social progress which the majority of our people had chosen, and for the leadership of the Free World to which we had fallen heir. We were to discover also that the federal government had grown so much and so fast — and was taking in so large a percentage of the country's total tax dollars — that the states were hard put to carry on their own functions with what was left.

Pushed by rising costs of administration, labor, and materials, and by the expanding need for services triggered by the postwar population explosion, the states — which had hitherto relied mostly on fairly nominal personal and corporate income levies — greatly increased these taxes on income; in addition, they turned more and more to sales taxes as revenue sources. And the end is not in sight.

OUR PROSPERITY of the past twenty years has compounded the problems of the states. There is too much reliance on federal grants and too great a disposition to let an eager federal government monopolize planning and control the administration of social welfare programs, of highway development, and of the expansion of some types of educational facilities.

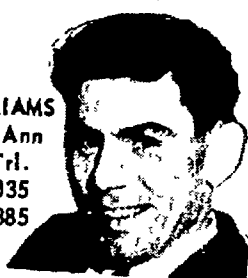

Also, by and large, the states have not faced up to the fiscal problems of their cities. Often state legislatures have imposed intolerable fiscal burdens by making the cities assume responsibility for the cost of programs they had no part in enacting. This has forced many cities — some of which are as large as or larger in population than certain states — to seek more and more direct federal aid. Thus is our birthright of home rule and local government being whittled away.

TAX FOUNDATION, INC. — a leading compiler of data in its field and noted for its careful evaluation of such data — reports that the fiscal future of state and local government is "much better than generally realized". Tax Foundation believes the states can finance their expanding programs during the next decade without extensive tax increases. However, we are not so sure. For the next year or two at least, you would be wise to expect — and prepare for — mounting state taxes, spending, and debt. And you would be smart to take more interest in your state government and arouse public opinion to demand that your state officials grapple squarely and persistently with these fiscal problems.

Consumers Power Reports to Your Community...

Consumers Power Company

CP-Careful Planning
Count all the uses of natural gas in your home—cooking, drying, cooling, and heating—and you'll realize that you do enjoy life more because of it. Fact is, the average Consumers Power customer is paying only slightly more per unit today for his gas service than he did way back in 1947. Any way you look at it, this handful of value from Consumers Power is one of the biggest bargains in your family budget.

CP-Customer-minded Personnel
New tools and techniques constantly are being employed to improve customer service and safety. Pliable plastic-coated gas pipes now can be inserted into the ground without messy trenching. Electronic computers are being used to speed customer inquiries and requests for service. Other computer developments will enable us to monitor our entire, statewide natural gas transmission system every two minutes to avoid service interruptions or irregularities. For all Consumers Power, our first concern is always what we can do for you.

CP-Community Participation
Taxes payrolls, however you figure it, Consumers Power expansions mean more money in circulation—more natural gas for a growing Michigan. Our 1965 state and local tax bill of more than $22 million helped support the activities of schools, hospitals, and other public services. And $80 million in payroll dollars went for houses, food, clothing, charities, etc. Consumers Power, through extensive area development, conservation and other programs also continually seeks needed improvements for a better economic, social, and cultural life for all.

CP-Continuing Progress
It means a lot to know that natural gas is on tap whenever it's required. It takes the combined skills and efforts of some 3,970 Consumers Power employees to provide that dependability. And to insure sufficient gas to meet all future requirements, the total volume of gas being purchased by Consumers Power is being increased 50% in the next five years. This long range planning and day-to-day efficient operation is your guarantee of the best possible gas service at the lowest possible cost.

How To Develop A Dynamic Personality

The Bible makes the interesting statement (Exodus 34:29-30) that when Moses came down from the mountain (Sinai) his face shone. Time spent in communing with God had left its beautiful mark upon him.

This is an experience all of us can have. If we spend enough time in the presence of God, in private and public worship, our faces too will shine. We will become more radiant, dynamic individuals.

Prayer does many things. Tremendous changes have been brought about in the objective world with prayer. Sick people have been made well, obstacles have been overcome, great things have been accomplished, people have been converted to Jesus Christ, all because of other people's prayers. Jesus said, "If you have faith as a grain of mustard seed, you will say to this mountain, 'Move hence to yonder place,' and it will move; and nothing will be impossible to you." (Matthew 17:20)

But prayer also has a tremendous effect upon the person who does the praying. It makes us better able to meet life's situations. It makes us stronger, healthier, happier, wiser, braver, more capable people. Young people who take their religion seriously do better work in school. Adults who regularly, sincerely participate in private and public worship become more skillful individuals. A healthy religion helps us develop more pleasing personalities. Our faces begin to shine.

There are materials which give light at night provided they have been exposed to the sunshine the previous day. We are like that. If we expose ourselves to Jesus Christ long enough we will give light to others. But we must expose ourselves to Him. If we fail to come into His presence often enough or long enough we do not have any radiance.

Christian faith will not automatically stay alive in a person. It has to be nurtured through faithful private and public worship. The person who feels he can be a Christian without going to church is like material which thinks it can stay luminous without being exposed to the sun.

Truth is narrow. A problem can have only one correct answer. I would like to be broad minded and believe that two plus two can be five, or nine, or twelve, or any other convenient number. But if I am going to be realistic I must recognize the narrow truth that two plus two can be only four. Also, I would like to be broad minded and say that we can ignore God and His Church and still call ourselves Christian. But if I am going to be realistic I must recognize that only those are Christian who believe in and follow Jesus Christ.

Jesus Christ can make your face shine as He did Moses' face. Christ can make your life fine, happy, meaningful, and significant. He can give you a radiant, dynamic personality. But if you want that to happen you must spend enough time with Him.

"In the secret of His presence

How my soul delights to hide!

Oh how precious are the lessons

Which I learn at Jesus' side!

Earthly cares can never vex me,

Nor its trials lay me low

For when Satan comes to tempt me,

To the secret place I go."

When Kathy prays

THE CHURCH FOR ALL ALL FOR THE CHURCH

The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the Church. They are: (1) For his own sake. (2) For his children's sake. (3) For the sake of his community and nation. (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Please to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.

When Kathy prays I can almost hear angels wings flutter. Her simple conversations with God are so full of trust and confidence, I feel as though I am standing at the doorstep of heaven.

After prayers, I tuck her into bed, turn out the light and go downstairs. And I find myself continuing the conversation she has started. My prayer is always the same . . . that as she grows, and her needs and wishes change, my little girl will continue to develop her understanding and love of God.

How grateful I am for my church. It has been a constant source of inspiration for my own religious growth. I know it will be ready to help me answer Kathy's questions. It is wonderful to know that I do not have to tackle the religious education of my daughter alone.

Attend your church. Let it help you as you guide your child's religious thinking.

Wrestlers Drop Squeaker, 21-22 To End Streak

Ring out the new and bring back the old.

That could easily be Coach Jack Townsley's cry after his wrestlers greeted the 1967 portion of the wrestling season on a losing note and fell before North Farmington last Thursday, 22-21.

Yep, 1966 was much kinder to the Mustang matmen. They had won five matches in a row — the best record in Northville's history — and there was every indication that Northville was gaining momentum while gaining experience. But then, along came 1967 and Northville's first loss.

Chuck Shonta

Chuck Shonta Named to AFL All-Star Squad

Chuck Shonta, former Northville teacher and coach, has been named to the American Football League's Eastern Division all-star squad for the January 21 game at Oakland.

One of the few remaining original members of the Patriots, Shonta will be making his first All-Star Game appearance. He is a former Eastern Michigan player. He joined the Patriots in 1960 while teaching social studies and coaching wrestling here.

A graduate of Detroit Pershing High school where he was an all-city football and baseball player, he played four years of football at Eastern. Captain of Eastern's squad in his senior year, he was named an all-conference end in 1958.

THE FINE ART OF SALESMANSHIP

Anyone who has ever been confused by a complicated new car purchase will know what I mean when I say that appearances can be deceiving.

Occasionally new car shoppers, for instance, may tour a number of towns and cities, in addition to Northville until they get the best offer (by about $50.00). Then end up buying a different model at a much higher price.

How does it happen? They simply get talked into it by the salesman. The $50.00 they were "saving" just got lost in the shuffle of different model prices, optional equipment, accessories and finance terms. The trade slang for this type of high powered selling calls it "spinning" the prospect.

Out of the confusion of the final deal, the buyer clings to the thought that dominated his mind during the whole transaction. That he was "saving $50.00! In case you're ready to scoff, let me add I've seen many educated and intelligent people fall into this trap! It's not so surprising though when you realize most folks aren't even aware of the exact rate or amount of finance they are paying.

An ethical and reliable dealer will plainly state all the facts of the sale. Be sure you check them. Check the EXACT model and optional equipment if you are comparing price quotations. And buy where you can count on honesty in guarantees and warranties.

JOHN MACH

"Everybody wrestled poorly," Townsley lamented. "We're getting off on the wrong foot in the New Year."

Even then, the match couldn't have been closer. "It was a case of missed opportunity," Townsley stated. That it was. Northville needed a pin to win and didn't get it, Townsley said.

Northville trailed 22-18 going into the final bout. Heavyweight Dan Conklin did everything but pin his man, Townsley said. Then, too, there were three draws, and in each, Northville was in a position to grab a few extra points, but didn't. "Yes, we could have picked up the winning points in several places," the coach said.

North Farmington's brand of wrestling didn't help matters any either. "They are very conservative," Townsley pointed out. "They won't open up so they're tough to beat. You have to go out to get them. We couldn't get any pins."

Crippling Northville's chances was the loss of Tom Wright, a veteran wrestler, who will be out most of the season because of an appendectomy performed recently. His absence forced reshuffling of the lineup, Townsley said, throwing a few wrestlers out of their weight class.

Dave Grondin, at 95 pounds, "out-wrestled his opponent but made mistakes". He wrestled his man to a draw. Chuck Keegan, a 103 pounder, gained a decision.

Usually strong in the lighter weights, Northville then suffered a surprise reversal. Bob Baber, a consistent winner and wrestling at 112 pounds, was pinned. Chuck Olewnik, at 120, fought his man to a 3-3 draw.

Undeclared Marty Richardson, a 127 pounder, posted another decisive victory, 9-0, although he was wrestling out of his weight class.

Curt Olewnik preserved his unbeaten streak, but he was held to a 1-1 draw. Lance Oak, North Farmington's "best boy" registered a 4-0 decision over Don Sass in the 138-pound class. Sass was wrestling out of his weight class.

The lead hung precariously in the balance as Dale Ashby, at 145 pounds, posted a 4-0 decision, and Rick Suckow, at 154, lost 7-4. In the "wildest match" of the evening, Bob Beason won his fourth match in six outings this year with a 11-7 decision in the 154 pound class.

That set the stage for Conklin, who went after his man, posted an 8-0 decision, but fell short of a pin. Victory had eluded Northville's grasp.

Harry Gilmer: 'Out of a Job, But Not Football'

Harry Gilmer of Novi, who was relieved of his job as head coach of the Detroit Lions professional football team this past week, has no immediate plans to move from the community.

However, he told this newspaper that he does "plan to stay in football", which means he and his family will have to relocate eventually. He said he has made no plans as to where he might move or as to what kind of future role he may play in football.

"I'd rather not get involved in that until after we've reached some decision," he said. He indicated that his children will remain in school through the remainder of the current school year.

Mr. and Mrs. Gilmer and their family live at 22279 Haggerty near Nine Mile road. Two of their children, Drew and Dale, attend school in Novi. His oldest daughter is a graduate of Northville high school.

The Gilmers moved to Novi early in 1965, purchasing the 25-year-old former residence of Ed Addis. They moved here from Minnesota where he was a member of the coaching staff of the Minnesota Vikings.

Bonus choice of the Washington Redskins, he played behind Quarterback Sammy Baugh and later, at Detroit, behind Bobby Layne. Two years after joining Detroit, he became coach in charge of defense of Pittsburgh. In 1960, with the creation of the Minnesota franchise, he joined Van Brocklin as defensive back coach.

First in Four Years

Mustangs Speed Past Barons

The Rabbits beat the giraffes Friday night.

That may sound like something out of the wilderness passages of Jack London or the fairy tale books of Dr. Seuss, but it isn't. It took place on the basketball court here in Northville.

The giraffes were from Bloomfield Hills, a team that towered over the smaller but quick rabbits from Northville. Northville ran and scrambled on the boards to scratch out a 60-54 victory, Northville's first over Bloomfield in the past four years.

And it took some doing. Coach Dave Longridge's cagers blew a 14-point first half lead and had to come up with a frantic last quarter spurt to salt this one away.

The two Jims, Peterson and Zayti, provided the sorely needed punch in the dying moments. Peterson flipped in a layup dangerously close to the whistle and converted a subsequent free throw to tie the game at 51 apiece. Then Peterson came back with a jump shot and two free throws and Zayti cashed in on a left-hand layup and a three-point break away to break the game open.

Zayti had a wing-ding on the base line. He dove it time and again around the taller Barons for his finest night of the season, 27-points. He hit on 10 of 17 from the field and converted nine of 16 from the foul stripe. Peterson garnered 15 points, cashing in on six of 14 attempts from the field.

Other scorers for Northville were Glenn Deibert with eight points, Dennis Mathews with seven and Pat Hall with one.

The victory enabled Northville to stay in the thick of the Wayne-Oakland Conference race. Northville has a 4-1 mark. But Clarkston showed no signs of fading as it beat Holly on Holly's home court, 79-71. Clarkston is 5-0, Holly 3-2.

Tomorrow night Northville will travel to West Bloomfield to take on Coach Art Paddy's boys. Although the Lakers were beaten, 63-49, last Friday by Clarenceville and have been having a rough go this season, they could upend the Mustangs from Northville.

It all depends. West Bloomfield's top player, Tim Molner, has not played this year because of injury. Should the jumping jack return, Northville will have its hands full of Lakers raring to get back on the winning path.

Backboards, again, might tell the story as it did against Bloomfield Hills. "I was surprised we rebounded as well as we did," Longridge said after his team's victory. "Peterson did the job and he got help from the rest of the team."

Just 6'1", Peterson is hardly a big man, not even on a high school court. Bloomfield Hills had all the giraffes, including Bruce Hall, a 6'6" veteran center, who has scored as high as 39 points in one ball game this year, and Bob Calhoun, the 6'2" quarterback, a burly boy at around 200 pounds.

"We kept the ball away from Hall," Longridge said. "He was forced to shoot over our outstretched hands and he didn't have too much success." Calhoun had one of his best nights, hitting for 12 points.

The Barons looked sluggish after the Christmas lay-off, trailing by a wide margin through the second quarter. But then the Barons tried what has worked so successfully against Northville in previous years, the all-court press. It worked as Bloomfield eventually forged ahead in the third quarter.

Hurting Northville's back court play was the absence of Joe Andrews, the youth whose dribbling ability usually discourages opponents from pressing. Andrews was benched for the game, but will be ready for action against West Bloomfield.

FREE BALL—Three Bloomfield Hills cagers close in on the ball that was batted away by Jim Zayti (24), Northville forward. Zayti led all scorers with 27 points. Behind him (34) is Jim Peterson who was runner up with 15 points.

Cold Colts Edged, 57-55

The Colts were unable to overcome a "lousey first half" Friday night and went down to defeat at the hands of Bloomfield Hills, 57-55.

With 30 seconds left in the game, Northville took time out to map out strategy that would gain them the tying bucket. But a shot in the final seconds fell short, bounced out of bounds and Bloomfield stalled away the remaining few seconds.

The loss gives the jayvees a 5-4 overall record and a 3-2 mark in the Wayne-Oakland Conference.

Forward Jeff Taylor led the local scorers with 22 points.

"We shot only 35 percent for the game," Coach Bob Kucher pointed out, and it was the second-half splurge that hiked the field goal mark that high.

Northville trailed at halftime, 39-26, primarily because Bloomfield, with its tall front line, was dominating the boards.

They're Just Breezing Along

Except for one score, it's been a breeze for Northville's seventh and eighth grade basketball teams. Both were 3-0 entering Tuesday night's contests with Novi.

Employing the full-court press and the fast break, Coach Omar Harrison's eighth graders have beaten Highland, 48-5, Novi, 50-13, and Milford 51-19.

Coach Gilbert Burson's cagers have almost matched that stride, beating Highland, 32-16, Novi, 44-11, and Milford 29-27.

SPEAKING for The Record

By BILL SLIGER

The wave of protests recorded last week at the Northville planning commission's public hearing on proposed CBD and CBP rezoning of the business district might be assessed as a setback in some quarters.

In reality the response was the biggest boost planners have received since they started working on a plan for revitalization of the local business area some four years ago.

Granted, weak spots were pointed out; but the idea of a plan was accepted. And for the patient planners, that's progress.

Further, and more encouraging, the town is talking about "its plan" and key people throughout the community are beginning to point out refinements that could be made, methods of implementing the plan and what areas should be undertaken first.

They're being caught up in the excitement of a plan that has long excited the planning commission. And they are beginning to accept the fact that something must be done and that we already have the makings of a good plan that can become a reality.

Until now there has been little more than recognition from the public that a plan was being developed. They had heard that the planners were working on something that included a mall, a circular drive and a plot to tear down a lot of buildings. To many the plan was a dreamer's creation.

At last week's hearing the master plan for the city's business district didn't sound like a dream. Parts of it were very practical, as a matter of fact. Other parts were either premature or in need of revision.

The CBP (central business parking) zoning brought the strongest protest. Why couldn't such zoning be postponed until each site is specifically needed? Why couldn't the entire proposed 20-acre central business district be zoned CBD, and CBP zoning eliminated entirely?

The planners listened and took notes. Undoubtedly, they had wrestled with many of the same questions in their own examinations of the plan. But they would re-examine and re-open the hearing before making any recommendations to the city council.

Without doubt the conduct of the planning commission hearing before many concerned, and some irate, citizens brought new stature to the body.

They convinced a majority that they were motivated solely by a desire to first save, then improve an important service and tax-producing "industry" in our community -- the central business district.

Appraisal of the public hearing would indicate that planners do have serious questions to consider. One cannot be unsympathetic to property owners who sincerely believe that a parking zone classification will depress the value of their property.

Still another important question would be the matter of holding to a minimum the number of existing buildings earmarked for parking sites.

As planners explained, the initial step in the total plan is zoning. This gives authority to preserve an area so that development detrimental to the plan cannot take place.

The application of the zoning gives recognition to a plan for the future. It does not say that it will include a mall, or that the circular drive will be located exactly as drawn.

It does, however, designate exactly where planners believe buildings and parking should be ideally located. How much flexibility can be introduced into this portion of the plan remains for the planners, and eventually the city council, to decide.

It is an important step because for the first time it gives the community something to sell -- a plan for development that can be used to attract new business and encourage existing businesses by serving notice that the future holds promise.

The hum of activity that has accompanied the introduction of the CBD zoning is one of the most encouraging demonstrations of cooperative effort in my decade in Northville.

A citizens' committee has an idea for a north-south route that relates to the CBD plan; the Chamber of Commerce has decided to make a closer study of the proposed CBD plan and make a few recommendations of its own; numerous property owners and merchants within the business district are taking a second, more objective look at what planners propose.

We have now come to realize what planners have felt for years: a plan for Northville can succeed, in fact, it must.

Readers Speak

Let's Stay Quaint

To the Editor:

The recent proposal presented by the Planning Committee has me completely baffled. All we are hearing about is parking lots. The city will soon be an asphalt jungle. It seems to me that being concerned about parking lots as far away as Mollema's and Folino's property is providing free parking for the Race Track and nothing more. Unless by some miracle they suppose business is going to boom in Northville and people would be willing to walk from Wing and Cady to Main and Center to make a few purchases which they would be paying about 20% more for, somehow doesn't make sense. In this day of automobiles a shopping center 15 miles away isn't far.

The newcomers to this area are for the most part accustomed to shopping in large shopping centers and will not start shopping for clothing, shoes, household items, etc., in Northville. This business would be very hard to capture. Even grocery stores are limited with only two chain stores in town.

In my opinion the quaintness of the city of Northville should be preserved. The old library, Mrs. Becker's Heritage House, the Methodist church and many other old houses should NOT be destroyed.

The business in Northville will continue to struggle as long as their prices are not competitive and making parking space available is not the answer. Let us follow Franklin "The Town that Time Forgot" instead of making a weak attempt to copy Birmingham.

Don't Blame Gilmer

To the Editor:

The Lions will see championships again and lucky the guy who is head coach then!

My husband is an avid Lion fan and he has missed only one home game in the last fifteen years. During this time, he has seen the Lions as champions, runner ups and way down low. He will not quit attending games because of this poor season they just completed.

The Lions were down (and out) but, it is unfair for Mr. Gilmer to take such savage criticism for this failure. The Lions are professionals; they are paid to play and it is their job to win. Blaming a coach is the excuse of a "fair weather fan" or a poor losers way of staying a hero.

A change might be the answer to the morale problem the Lions are suffering, but it is certainly not fair to place the entire blame on the man who is head coach.

The publicity has been cutting and cruel. Of course, this is one of the pitfalls of professional life. It is also very sad.

I feel that Mr. Gilmer and his family would like to know that not everyone feels that the Lions slump is his personal deed.

Perhaps, a cheer for him and his family would be of some help.

Our best wishes and regards.
Mrs. Richard M. Henderson

Fund Reminder

To the Editor:

I refer you to the story which appeared in your paper Thursday, December 1, 1966, following the death of Harold S. Hartley.

As mentioned in this story, a memorial fund has been set up for the purpose of publishing some of Mr. Hartley's poems. The Writers' Group believes there may be a number of people reached by your paper who would like to contribute to this memorial, if you could find space for a brief article advising them of the opportunity. Checks may be written to the Harold Hartley Memorial Fund, and mailed to Mrs. Roland Bonamici, 899 Hartough street, Plymouth, Michigan, 48170.

Thank you.
Sincerely,
Dorothy A. Jewell

It seems like a long time ago when winter and I began to part company -- about the same time a piece of my tongue, glued to the cold steel of a sled, went sailing down the hillside without me.

Since then there have been many unhappy experiences with this season, all of which have convinced me to join the ranks of those who get their kicks out of the warmth of a fireplace.

I think it was a frozen pipe that finally severed my relationship with winter.

And I'll wager that few who have ever tried to coax fuel oil through an ice-clogged pipe could speak kindly of winter. It's enough to crush the spirit of a ski lodge operator after a foot of snowfall.

It was an especially cold winter, as I recall, and many of the college students in our trailer park were having difficulty. But for one reason or another the icy problems seemed to hug me tighter than they did our neighbors.

The copper tube from the fuel tank out back to the stove inside continued to freeze, cutting down the heat to our little home.

I tried everything -- accused the dealer of spiking the fuel with water, banged the pipe with a hammer, wrapped it in rags, attacked it with a blowtorch, slept with two or three extra blankets, and got mad.

Someone suggested that I wrap the pipe with an electrical heating tape. Besides not working, it nearly electrocuted me. In desperation, I removed a 12-foot section of the pipe and took it indoors and kept it there until it thawed out. It worked but it was a little messy.

Finally, I was told that because water settles to the bottom of the fuel tank I should have a filter installed at the tank connection. Too stubborn to ask one of my mechanically inclined friends to assist me, I undertook the task myself enlisting the aid of my reluctant wife.

The tank was nearly full. "Don't grumble," I told her, "it's a simple job. All I have to do is screw out the plug here and then screw in the filter. Your job is simple. When I get the plug out, you clamp your hand over the hole until I'm ready with the filter."

"Will I be able to hold it?"

"Certainly. Look, it's only a small hole. Nothing to it."

So when the plug came out, she clamped her hand over the hole. It was like stopping Old Faithful with a shovel. "Hold it," I screamed as the oil gushed out over her, washing my glasses. "I can't," she cried. "My hand's frozen." And then she fled inside, muttering something about an imbecile while I bathed.

All of which is why I was cheered just a little this week upon receiving a release from my alma mater. It hinted of better things to come: "As the month progresses... there will be a slight increase in the length of the day. By the end of January we will have nearly an hour more of daylight."

A LOOSE LEAF

By ROLLY PETERSON

"The Caucasian Chalk Circle," which will play through January 29, is the first of the John Fernald company's six plays to be presented during its premiere season at the new Meadow Brook theatre on the Oakland University campus. Michigan's first repertory theatre group, the company will also present "Love's Labour's Lost" (February 1-26), "You Never Can Tell" (March 1-26), "The Imperial Nightingale" (March 28-April 1), "The Waltz of the Toreadors" (April 5-30) and "The Three Sisters" (May 3-28).

He's capable of the most heinous acts and the most stirring deeds of gallantry. One moment he's a king, the next, a pariah shunned by all men. That's man and the way he appeared last week at the new Meadow Brook theatre on the Oakland University campus. Clearly, the focus was on man.

Front and center moved a host of actors, members of the newly formed John Fernald repertory company, for their scintillating performance of Bertolt Brecht's "The Caucasian Chalk Circle." It's largely through their talents -- of considerable magnitude and promise -- that the play scaled dramatic peaks.

For bringing these professionals together on the stage, the credit lies with another man, one of unquestionable talent both as teacher and director, John Fernald. To say he is the Johnny Appleseed of the theatre is no hyperbole. As principal and moving force of London's Royal Academy of Dramatic Art, he has fashioned a who's who of acting. Desire for a new challenge brought John Fernald to Michigan to establish the Meadow Brook theatre.

The occasion demanded a play that would test the virtuosity of the actors, a play that would titillate the audience and a play that would stamp Michigan's first repertory company as first rate. Brecht's "The Caucasian Chalk Circle," a three-hour magnum opus, fit the bill. It was all of these things, and more.

Brecht, the man, is a challenge himself. The German playwright does not mince words or ideas, for he believed the theatre was a vehicle for conveying messages. In short, the theatre had a didactic, as well as dramatic purpose. This concept led Brecht to the development of what is called "epic theatre."

To jolt the audience out of its fanciful lethargy, he framed his plays in the fabric of a narrative. Action is interrupted and the audience snapped back to reality by a narrator who comments directly on and interprets the action.

As a result, "The Caucasian Chalk Circle" is an explicit, scathing commentary on our times, even though it is set in the 17th century. The written text, with its strongly pro-communist prologue appended post-script by Brecht, is political. But Fernald chose to delete the prologue and to focus on the human, on man as he essentially is today. A human first, Brecht would not have demurred.

This is, indeed, a study of man. The common man, the men of Grusinia in Caucasia, are being exploited by their own rulers, the grand duke and his governors who are unmerciful and egocentric in pursuing a war with Persia. Although the Persians are the external threat, disaster strikes from within. The princes revolt and bring turmoil to the land. Who suffers? The plebeians, the serfs, the vassals, ironically and unfortunately, the very innocents who cling unswervingly to human values.

Grusha, played by Lorna Lewis, is a creature of compassion, the characteristic Brecht apparently finds most welcome in human beings. Although Miss Lewis does not immerse herself in Grusha, she nevertheless is credible. She sustains the role of the servant girl, who saves the governor's infant son from sure death by escaping with him over the mountains. The first part of the play is Grusha's story, her travails with her adopted son.

In the hands of Azdak, the recorder of Grusinia, lies the fate of the second part. In the person of Eric Berry, this most vibrant role finds fitting repose and the play reaches its pinnacle. Obese and slovenly, Azdak is both comic and tragic when he assumes the robes of the judge of Grusinia, doling out justice by the fairest means possible -- penetrating human intuition and understanding. It is he who prescribes the chalk circle to determine the fate of the Governor's son.

There is a full spectrum of characters demanding that the repertory actors double up on roles.

Aside from the actors, the stark stage scenery with appropriate film projections and the songs made for a complete Brechtian fare. Not even the converted lecture hall, which presently serves as the Meadow Brook theatre, could detract from the production's manifest technical accomplishment, or its human appeal.

Maybe our '67 Pontiac is breaking sales records because people don't want to wait until '68 for a copy.

Pontiac Motor Division

Our engineers have become used to seeing their ideas show up on other cars. Two years late. And apparently so have a lot of car buyers. Because 1967 Pontiacs are selling faster than 1966 Pontiacs. And '66 was a record year.

When you think about it, why should you wait around for innovations like our disappearing windshield wipers? Or for imaginative options like our exclusive hood-mounted tach? Especially when you consider that our engineers wouldn't turn a Pontiac loose with anything less than a standard 400 cubic inch V-8. Or a Tempest with anything less than our revolutionary Overhead Cam Six. (Not to mention all those new safety features like GM's energy absorbing steering column and a dual master cylinder brake system with warning lamp.)

In short, our engineers seem to have done it again. They may even start asking for royalties on the copies.
