

City to Bring All Assessments to 50% Immediately

A proposal to bring all city assessments—both land and buildings—to the state required level of 50 per cent of true market value before the mid-March board of review hearings was approved Monday night by the city council.

Manager Frank Ollendorff requested the action so that the city might eliminate its equalization factor for next year's winter (school and county) tax roll.

Previously, it had been the city's plan to reappraise all land immediately and raise assessments to 50 percent in time for board of review hearings. Building valuations were to have remained the same with reappraisal to take place during the summer. The manager noted that this would not have eliminated the equalization factor until the 1968-69 roll, because the new assessments on buildings would not have been included on this year's tax roll.

Monday night the manager reported that reappraisal of all land in the city—both developed and undeveloped—is nearly complete. He reported that both

Wayne and Oakland county tax officials have indicated that if no reappraisals undertaken this year by the city, the equalization factors imposed will rise sharply.

He said the Oakland county factor is slated to go from 1.21 last year to 1.37; and the Wayne county factor will be increased from 1.29 to 1.43.

To the taxpayer the "factor" is that percentage which is multiplied against his property assessment to determine the assessment against which millage is levied.

It is the city's objective to eliminate the factor so that there will be no inequities between taxpayers. Frequently, where appraisal has not been undertaken uniformly, application of the equalization factor boosts some properties above the 50 percent level, while leaving other properties still far below.

Manager Ollendorff told the council that once all land has been reassessed at 50 per cent a factor of approximately 1.25 can be applied against all buildings within the city to bring their assessments to 50 percent of market value. He said most buildings in the city are presently assessed at approximately 40 per cent.

"This uniform increase may be unfair to a few building owners whose assessments are presently above 40 per cent, but they will have the opportunity to appeal the assessments at the mid-March board of review hearings", Ollendorff pointed out. He explained that the city would still undertake to reassess each building this summer to eliminate inequities that might exist.

Manager Ollendorff said that every lot and all acreage in the city have now been inspected and reassessed. Wayne and Oakland county tax officials have given assistance. The program has been conducted by the manager and Assessor Harold Penn with real estate agents, James Cutler and George Clark, acting as advisors.

The manager noted that the worst examples of under-assessment existed on undeveloped acreage. As an example, a 39-acre parcel within the city assessed in 1963 was given a market value of $660 per acre. It was reappraised at $2,500 per acre, an increase of more than 300 per cent.

Manager Ollendorff emphasized that the new appraisals have all been based on recent sales within the area of the parcel being assessed. "While recent sales serve as a major factor in determining market value, we consider other things", the manager stated. He said that no appraisal exceeded market sale evidence, and that frequently these figures were reduced because a "scarcity" of lots frequently inflates values in Northville.

While raw land values were generally found to be very low, lots on which houses now stand were found to be appraised very close to present market values.

He gave the following examples in the Oakland county portion of the city: Lot A, appraised in 1960 at $2,475, now at $3,000; lot B, previously appraised at $2,925, now determined to be worth slightly less, $2,830.

The manager said that in Oakland county, most developed lots would receive a slight reduction—or remain about the same.

Township Too Late for 1967-68

Last week Northville township board members approved reassessment of all township land to 50 per cent of market value.

The program of land reappraisal will take place this summer, too late to be recorded for the 1967-68 school, county and township taxes. Therefore, township tax payers will still have their present assessments increased by an equalization factor next winter, probably somewhat higher than the 1.28 factor applied last year.

Last week Supervisor R. D. Merriam indicated that reassessing accomplished this summer could be recorded for the coming year. It was learned, however, that such increases cannot be made after March board of review hearings.

While the township plans to reassess each parcel of land, building assessments will be raised "across the board" from an existing average of 40 per cent to the required 50 per cent.

Canterbury Won't Seek Re-Election

There will be at least one new member on the Northville city council after the April 3 election.

Veteran Councilman John Canterbury reaffirmed this week that he will not seek re-election.

Canterbury has been a member of the Northville council since city incorporation in 1955. He is completing his third four-year term.

Meanwhile, two other councilmembers—a veteran and a newcomer—have indicated that they will run again.

Mayor A. M. Allen, who like Canterbury has been on the council since city incorporation and who also served as a village commissioner, will be a candidate for the two-year mayor term.

Wallace Nichols, recently appointed to the council to succeed Fred Kester, has also declared himself a candidate for re-election.

William Bingley is the only other announced candidate for council. Petitions are currently being circulated for Allen, Nichols and Bingley. The latter resides at 1039 Allen drive and has been a member of the zoning board of appeals for nearly four years. He was an unsuccessful candidate for city council in 1961.

Canterbury, who serves as mayor pro tem, is Regional Operations Manager of the automotive assembly division of Ford Motor Company. He pointed to increased travel requirements in his position as one of the reasons for his retirement from the Council, but also noted that "I really believe that over a period of time it is better for more people to take part in city government. Turn-over has merit", he concluded.

When Canterbury was elected to the first Northville city council, the late Claude Ely was elected mayor and Allen, Earl Reed and John Stubenvoll were fellow councilmembers.

Deadline for filing petitions for the two four-year council seats and two-year mayor post is February 28. Petitions must contain the signatures of at least 50, but not more than 75, registered voters.

Citizens Plan Meeting Tonight

A newly organized citizens committee seeking alternatives and "new ideas" for Northville's central business district will hold its third meeting tonight at the city hall.

The group, composed of several property owners in the business district area and other interested citizens, has expressed dissatisfaction with the planning commission's proposed CBD-CBP master plan.

Chairman of the group is Ed Welch. Newly named committee chairmen are Edward Mollena, group name committee; alternate plans, C. A. Smith; publicity, Paul Folino and Mrs. Stanley Schaefer. Another committee is to be named to encourage building improvements in the commercial area and improved merchandising techniques.

The group expects to adopt its official name tonight. It has approved as its slogan "progress is our policy". Meeting time is 8 p.m.

Overpass at Moraine?

The much-talked-about overpass between Moraine elementary school and Northville Estates subdivision moved a step closer to reality Monday night as the Northville board of education directed its architect to secure bids on the proposed facility.

But in so doing, the board made it clear that its action does not signal final approval of the overpass, which would provide a walkway over Eight Mile road.

Once again residents of the subdivision were present at the board meeting to reinforce their position that something should be done immediately to secure the safety of their children who cross the highway to the new school.

Also present was the Northville police chief, Samuel Elkins, who recommended erection of school zone signs with flashing lights, reduction of the speed limit to 40 miles per hour, and use of an adult crossing guard. It was his opinion that these safety measures would be sufficient "at this time". However, he did not rule out the overpass, noting simply that that decision was up to the board.

Subsequently, the board voted to purchase the signs recommended by the chief at a cost of $1,500. Monthly maintenance was estimated at between $2 and $2.50.

Before taking action to purchase the signs, the board first rescinded an earlier vote to purchase automated signs as were recently installed in Plymouth. Officials have since learned that the Plymouth signs have functioned poorly.

At this point Trustee Eugene Cook, who questioned purchase of the signs recommended by Chief Elkins because the city is not paying for them, motioned to table the purchase but his suggestion was voted down. He was the lone dissenter when the board finally voted to purchase them.

Pressed by parents as to why the speed limit is not lowered below 40 MPH, Elkins pointed out that speed limits on the highway are controlled by the county, which must meet certain standards in order to qualify for road tax monies. Hence, the county is unwilling to further reduce the speed limit, he said.

Furthermore, the chief said the county will agree to lower the speed limit to 40 MPH only if the lighted signs are installed.

The chief explained that the county will not permit erection of a traffic signal at the crossing.

Concerning the crossing guard, Superintendent Alex Nelson indicated that

Nelson, Spear Get Pay Hikes

Salary increases for Superintendent Alex Nelson and Assistant Superintendent Raymond Spear were approved by the Northville board of education Monday night.

The increases—retroactive through January—are $600 for the superintendent, raising his total salary to $16,200, and $700 for the assistant, whose salary is now $15,000.

Nelson presently is serving the second year of his three-year contract which expires next year.

There was no board discussion prior to nor following the action to raise salaries. But it is known that private discussions concerning administrative salaries have been in the works since late in November when principals suggested a salary increase proposal.

Subsequently, principal salaries were increased, and Board President Wilfred Becker indicated at the time that the board would give serious consideration to similar adjustments in the salaries of top administrators.

No raise has been given to Administrative Assistant Elroy Ellison, former high school principal, whose salary remains at $13,700—$300 less than that received by High School Principal Fred Holdsworth. Holdsworth is the highest paid principal.

In other action involving school monies, the board voted to purchase three pianos at $569 each for the new Moraine elementary school, accepted low bids from three different companies on recorders, record players, projectors and screens for Moraine at a total of $2,819.41, and voted to lease a 66-passenger school bus from the McFadden Corporation at a monthly cost not to exceed $154.60.

Purchase of the pianos followed re-bidding on the instruments. The previous low bid instruments did not meet specifications and delivery could not be secured for three months, school officials explained.

The board also approved modification of specifications for special library equipment for the high school and authorized its architect to obtain bids on the equipment which has been estimated at nearly $17,000. Of this cost, nearly $3,000 is for installation of wiring connections in the floor of the library and the remainder for study carrels to accommodate 56 students.

Study carrels (enclosed cubicles) will permit individual and group use of audio-visual equipment, such as recorders that may have taped lessons or supplementary information pertaining to a wide range of subjects, officials explained.

Purchase of the equipment to be used in the study carrels has not been made as yet.

Bus Vandalism Brings Four Suspensions

Three Northville high school students have been suspended and now face possible expulsion on charges of vandalizing 11 school buses which were rendered inoperative for one or more days this past week.

A fourth student, who was one of a group of five which allegedly planned the vandalism early last week, also has been suspended. No action against the fifth has been taken. Two of the five were not actually involved in the damaging of the buses.

In addition, the three youths who police say have admitted damaging the buses have or will face court action.

One youth, Michael Moody, 17 of 43679 12 1/2 Mile road, Novi pleaded guilty to malicious damage Friday before Municipal Judge Charles McDonald. He was fined $110, placed on six months probation and ordered to pay the fine within 30 days or face a 90-day jail sentence.

He also must make restitution for part of the damage during the period of probation.

Harry Weiser, 17 of 589 Langfield, stood mute upon his arraignment and a February 27 trial date was set.

Police filed a petition in probate court Monday against the third youth, a 16-year-old minor who faces possible prosecution through the juvenile division of that court.

The four youths were suspended from school after their admission of guilt to city police. School officials now are weighing the possibility of expulsion—which means permanent removal from the Northville school system. A decision may be made Monday.

According to police, five youths planned the vandalism probably early last week. Two of them did not take part in the actual damaging of the buses.

The three youths are charged with damaging 11 of the school's 14 buses parked at the high school Wednesday night about 10 p.m. by ripping wires beneath the bus hoods, removing or jerking loose air cleaners and vacuum hoses, and bending carburetor rods.

Directional signal arms inside some of the buses also were damaged.

School personnel discovered the damage early Thursday morning as they prepared to start the buses for the morning run. None of the damaged buses could be used that day, leaving only one bus that had been in the garage and two pusher-type buses—the motors of which they were unable to reach.

By Friday, two of the damaged buses were back in service, and by Monday—after nearly 100 hours of repair work—only one bus was still out of action.

Administrative Assistant E. V. Ellison estimated the damage at between $800 and $1,000. As of Monday, after work continued Friday and Saturday, the labor bill alone had mounted to $435 he said.

Ellison said special assistance was given by John Mach Ford and Rathburn Chevrolet in repairing the vehicles. In addition, he said two citizens volunteered their services, Richard Myers and Duane Briggs. Briggs worked all-day Friday and Saturday, he said.

The damage is covered by insurance, he said, but restitution probably will have to be made by the boys either to the school or the insurance company. Two years ago, vandals broke about $1,000 worth of windows in buses, with insurance also covering that loss.

According to authorities, the boys planned the vandalism last week Monday to "get out of school".

Despite the shortage of buses, absenteeism was "remarkably low", Ellison said. There were 101 absentees on Wednesday and only 169 the following day when buses were not running, he said. "Parents cooperated remarkably well", he said.

Four custodians were on duty at the time the vandalism took place, authorities said, and police had made five or six routine checks of the property during the evening.

However, after damaging the buses, the boys replaced the bus hoods so that damage could not be detected until discovery the following morning, they explained.

Vandals knocked 11 school buses out of action last week by ripping wires and removing parts beneath the hoods of the vehicles.

Drug Hearing Set March 2

The hearing of the 15-year-old boy accused of preparing and distributing barbiturate capsules has been delayed until March 2, Police Chief Samuel Elkins reported this week.

Local police had requested the delay of the planned February 23 hearing because two police officers are presently attending a police administrative course at Michigan State university and will not be back on regular duty until February 24.

They are Earl VanCise, who was the chief investigative officer in the barbiturate case, and Phillip Young.

No other court action in the case is contemplated at this time.

AAUW Sees Near Sellout For Its Play

Northville parents were reminded this week that tickets for Saturday's play, "The Princess and The Pea", should be secured immediately to be sure their children get seats.

According to Mrs. John O'Reilly, publicist for the AAUW which is presenting the play, "very few tickets were available at the door" in past years because of the large pre-performance sales.

To avoid the disappointment of being turned away, parents wishing their children to attend the play, which will be staged in the Plymouth High school, are asked to call Mrs. David VanHine at 349-3015 or Mrs. Roger Rinaldi at 349-0215.

Tickets cost 40-cents each.

Four performances are planned Saturday, at 9:30 a.m., 11 a.m., 1 p.m. and 2:30 p.m.

In Our Town

By JEAN DAY

THE DOORS of a group of Northville's most charming historic homes will be open for a day next fall on the Vintage Home Tour being sponsored by the woman's association of Northville Presbyterian church.

Five — and possibly six — homes will be open from 10 a.m. to 5 p.m. Thursday, October 5, on the tour. This is the first home tour in present times, and possibly the only one in our town's history, although the garden club has sponsored Christmas walks in years past to see holiday decorations.

Mrs. Keith Wright, tour chairman, has become more and more enthusiastic about the treat in store for everyone who loves the past as she talked with owners of the homes.

In one instance, she reports, tour-goers even will be invited to peek into the attic.

Homes that will be open are those of Mr. and Mrs. Harold Bloom, 710 West Main; Mr. and Mrs. E. A. Chapman, 239 High; Mr. and Mrs. Charles Ely, 247 West; Mr. and Mrs. George W. Kohn, 473 West Cady; and Mr. and Mrs. Howard Meyer, Sr., 48120 West Eight Mile. A possible sixth home on the tour will be the historic home of Mrs. E. M. Starkweather at 48265 West Seven Mile, one of the oldest in the Northville-Plymouth area. This was one of the area farms which hid and sheltered runaway slaves in the pre-Civil War period.

Both the Bloom and Chapman homes have family histories.

tea of Northville Women's club at 2 p.m. Friday at Northville Presbyterian church.

He is to be introduced by Mrs. E.E. Mueller, program chairman.

An avid traveler who has circled the globe five times, he will share his personal experiences in out-of-the-way places and promises to give little known facts about these not-often-read-about spots.

In addition to being a practicing attorney, Clifton Hill is president of Travel Plans, Inc. He is past chairman of the district for Rotary International, president of Schoolcraft college foundation, a member of the state bar of Michigan, of the state bar association and of the American bar association.

TWO NEW MEMBERS — Mrs. L. E. Ording and Mrs. Samuel McSeveny — were welcomed into Northville Mothers club at a business meeting Monday.

Arrangements were completed for the University of Michigan men's glee club appearance here at 8 p.m. March 9 in the high school auditorium. Tickets for the bi-annual concert now are on sale at the high school for students, it was announced.

Club president Mrs. William Davis and Mrs. Gordon Forrer have been invited to represent Northville on the new J. L. Hudson company Westland advisory board. This panel will meet for monthly luncheon sessions.

NORTHVILLE TOWN Hall has been fortunate, Mrs. Robert Brueck, its president, commented this week in having just the right person in our own community to introduce Vincent Price. Mrs. Marjorie Becker of Timberlane road, in addition to being an admirer of the TV celebrity had a special interest in the program as she is coordinator of art for the Livonia school system.

Vincent Price has a special appreciation for the Detroit area as relatives of his mother's family lived here and were visited by him in his youth. He was reminded of this, he said, when two portraits in the Peale exhibit seemed especially familiar. He had seen them in a relative's home before the Wilcox family donated them to the Detroit Institute of Arts.

Vincent Price Displays Double Barreled Talent

LECTURER VINCENT PRICE

Lecturer Vincent Price gave Northville Town Hall's full audience the benefit of art connoisseur Vincent Price's expert knowledge - and then actor Vincent Price concluded with three dramatic presentations to make the third TH program of the current season a many-splendored morning.

In a vibrant voice familiar to many from his motion pictures, Price spoke of "The Enjoyment of Great Art" as a way of life. He termed civilization the "sum of man's culture" with art not just pleasure but the "spirituality of human consciousness."

Life, he said, is enriched by the arts, but art is difficult to understand without making an effort. He told his audience that it is fine to study art books, "but you MUST see the originals." He advised going to museums in various parts of the country, pointing out that the United States has more museums than any other country.

He encouraged seeing the current Peale family exhibit at the Detroit Institute of Arts which shows America at its beginnings. He mentioned also the excellent collection of graphics, etchings and drawings to be seen in Albion.

"There is no better way to become involved with art than owning it," advised Price who went on to describe the "excitement" of buying a work of art "that you like." He said he feels it is much better to own an original by a young artist than a reproduction by a great master. Young artists, he declared, need to be encouraged. "You would be amazed how much creativity there really is in our country," Price commented as he reported seeing promising works everywhere, including those of Michigan students.

In explaining abstract art Price said, "If you accept it, it allows you freedom to make your own identity, using the basic abstracts of truth, beauty, love."

Pop art, he said, has been "blown out of proportions but it does express the times." He said it probably will fade and "a lot will be thrown away."

Through his association with Sears, Roebuck company as art consultant Price mentioned he personally has bought 55,000 works of art in five years. He admitted his "kick" is buying contemporary work and thus supporting today's artists.

In reporting on the theater arts, Price said he has been gratified to see that American actors now are being treated with some of the same esteem that the English give theirs.

The tall - six feet, four - speaker concluded his program in the role of actor as he presented three selections, beginning with Tennessee Williams' essay, "A Streetcar Named Desire" published in the New York Times three days before "A Streetcar Named Desire" opened and after his success with "Glass Menagerie."

Following with selections by Christopher Fry and Shakespeare (death scene from Romeo and Juliet), Price's mastery of the theater arts was so complete that his was the only voice heard in the theater.

While his program was dedicated to encouraging his audience to enjoy art "to be touched with your eyes and heart," his conclusion was an artistic treat for the ears.

DAR Chapter Plans Children's Antique Show

A "Look and Do Antique Show for Children" is being planned by the Sarah Ann Cochrane Chapter, Daughters of the American Revolution.

To be held April 29-30 at the Joy Road Studio, 48234 Joy, Plymouth, proceeds from the benefit show - described as a "miniature Greenfield Village with the added attraction of being able to touch, as well as view - will be used for Michigan Indian scholarships.

Members are currently seeking items to be used in the affair, such as a wheel-driven lathe, a treadle sewing machine and cobbler's bench.

Purpose of the unique show is to exhibit toys and crafts done by children during Colonial days, plus actual craft demonstrations by children, when feasible.

Present plans call for a "toy shop," which will invite visitors to drop a penny in an animated bank; a "kitchen," stocked with old-fashioned cookies, cakes and candy to tempt your pocketbook; a "doll house," featuring four rooms of antique doll furniture; a "cobbler's shop" to catch a boy's interest with demonstrations of how to saddlestitch and hammer a sole on a shoe;

SENIOR CITIZENS DISPLAY-To acquaint members with the activities of senior citizens groups elsewhere, local club officials contacted other states during the past several months. The results were compiled in a book. But beyond this, response was terrific. Boxes of materials representing business, tourist bureaus, and general attractions of these states were received from all parts of the nation. All of them were on display for members in a special program Tuesday. Shown here with three of the items are (l to r) Howard Fuller with peanuts from Virginia, Mrs. Beatrice Carlson with a rock from the LBJ ranch, and Mrs. Ruth Hoystradt, with a robot from General Electric in South Carolina. Others on the 1966-67 program committee were Mrs. Wilbur Johnston and William Monroe.

School Eyes Bus Policy

A school bus policy that may substantially curb the number of stops made by buses is under study by the Northville board of education and may come up for adoption in two weeks.

Several parents who have attended the past several board meetings to press for better school bus pick-up stations for their children learned Monday that the proposed policy may reduce the number of stops and prohibit "back-tracking" and traveling of private drives.

The proposed policy, which reportedly will set the stage for more restrictive scheduling, was recommended by a board committee comprised of two board members, the transportation superintendent and two administrators.

Another policy - this one concerning student behavior - also is under study and is expected to come up for adoption soon. It reportedly covers areas of dress, ethics, etc.

A policy concerning junior high school dances, an outgrowth of a recent survey made by the Junior High School P-TA, also is expected to come up at the next meeting of the board.

In other business Monday, the board authorized architectural studies into the location and building of a bus garage. But in authorizing the study, members emphasized that their action did not imply that the garage carried top priority on the list of incomplete projects covered by the building and site bond issue.

It was suggested that because other projects, such as improvement of the road system at the high school may be just as important, a review of all outstanding projects together with a report on available funds be made.

The board also -- ---Accepted the resignation of Rosanne Weinberg, speech therapist, effective in June.

---Approved a city water tap charge of $1,000 at the new junior high school site plus a $1,200 charge for the line servicing the area.

---Heard a report that the Salvation Army has denied the school a walk-way easement through its property to Moraine school.

---Approved a policy relating to an equivalency diploma program.

---Learned that a hearing is to be held in Detroit on February 27 relative to the abandonment and discontinuance of a portion of Bradner road near Six Mile road.

---Tabled an outstanding snow removal bill from the city. The bill reportedly covers the period from 1963 to 1965 and is in excess of $1,000.

---Recommended tabling of a proposed high school citizenship award trophy, which is being donated, until after the administration has developed an award program.

---Decided against sending board members or administrators to the upcoming National School Board Conference because of budget limitations.

Overpass

While most subdivision residents attending Monday's meeting and the previous board meetings seemed to favor the overpass, one citizen questioned its need in view of the other proposed safety measures planned. He suggested fencing along the entire front of the school property to prevent children from crossing other than over the walkway. Without fencing, he said, there is no guarantee that children will not run across the street after school hours.

While no official action was taken by the board, residents of the subdivision were assured that their children will be bussed to the school until special signs are installed and the crossing guard is provided.

The proposed overpass for which preliminary plans have been approved by the county will be erected east of the entrance to the subdivision. Ramps will be erected at right angles to the 82-foot span, with a 150-foot sidewalk from the ramp to the entrance of the subdivision.

Estimated cost of the structure, which will be enclosed with chain link fence, was put at approximately $20,000.

Novi Girl Eyes Olympics

Fifteen-year-old Marjorie Marque, 10th grader at Novi high school, is but a short distance from qualifying for the Olympics as a figure skater.

Daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Gerard Marque of 24030 Glen Ridge, she placed ninth in the Junior Ladies figures and free skating competition conducted by the United States Figure Skaters association in Youngstown, Ohio this past December.

Miss Marque has one more year of competition in which to qualify for the Olympics. Her latest performance pushed her closer to the magic mark, skating officials revealed.

Northville Girls Receive Degrees

Recognition of Central Michigan university's 75th anniversary began with a record-breaking graduating class January 28 — a class that included two Northville girls.

Northville graduates at Central include Kathryn Ann Lee and Susan Jeanne Swank, both of whom were awarded bachelor of science degrees.

Highlighting the commencement exercise was an address by Senator Robert Griffin, a 1947 Central Michigan alumnus. His topic was "Where Do We Grow From Here."

She Pledges

Beta Rho Chapter of Sigma Sigma sorority at Western Michigan university has announced the pledgship of Janice Moon, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Lewis Moon of 390 Fairbrook. Miss Moon was graduated from Northville high school in 1965.

STOP DROPPED—The stop sign for southbound traffic on North Center street at Baseline has been removed. The stop at the foot of the hill has long been a controversial issue, which has finally given way to anew designation: "dangerous intersection". City Manager Frank Ollendorff said the new sign had been placed too close to the intersection (as pictured) and would be moved northward up the hill to serve as a warning to motorists. Council action prompted the stop sign removal.

Municipal Court

Two men, one from Northville were arraigned on a charge of drunk and disorderly conduct before Judge Charles McDonald in Northville Municipal court this week.

Robert A. Smith, 42, was also charged with not having a proper driver's license on his possession when stopped on North East street on Sunday. He was fined a total of $32.50 and assessed a cost of $5. Smith lives at 114 Walnut.

Claude L. Strader of South Lyon was ordered to pay $15 costs after he pleaded guilty to being drunk and disorderly at the Cloverdale Dairy, 134 North Center street.

Duncan Fraser, 51, of Detroit paid $10 costs on a charge of having no Michigan registration when his car was stopped January 5 on Sheldon road.

A patient at Maybury Sanatorium, Willie Witherspoon, pleaded guilty to having alcohol in his possession on sanatorium property and was sentenced to 30 days in jail.

Norman Mackin, 33, who gave no address, was sentenced to an additional 30 days in the Detroit House of Correction. He pleaded guilty to escaping from the penal institution. Originally sentenced to 60 days, Mackin was previously charged in Dearborn with non-support.

Joins Local Agency

Thomas M. Wynkoop, Jr., has joined the Northville Insurance Agency, 160 East Main street. Announcement was made by Kenneth Rathert, agency owner.

A Wayne State university graduate, Wynkoop is 34 and has been associated for seven years with the Aetna Life and Casualty company, both in Detroit and Charlotte, North Carolina. He is a member of the Chartered Property and Casualty Underwriters, professional insurance society.

It's State Tourney Time

The time is near when frenzy will grip the state. State tournament basketball time, of course.

Countdown has already begun. Just 12 days remain until the district tournament here in Northville gets underway on February 28 in the high school gymnasium.

Representatives from South Lyon, Clarenceville, Dearborn Crestwood, Dearborn Rivers and Lutheran West will be on hand Tuesday for the all-important drawings for pairings in the tourney. Two teams will draw byes, exempting them from the opening round.

Two games will be played Tuesday, February 28, and two Thursday, March 1. Starting times will be 7 and 8:45 p.m., Athletic Director Dave Longridge announced.

The championship round will be played at 7:30 p.m. Saturday, March 4.

In W-O Conference

Wanted: Win to Clinch 2nd

Out of the gloom of a heart breaking loss to Clarkston came a good word late Friday night.

Clarenceville upset Bloomfield Hills 48-40, to virtually hand sole possession of second place in the Wayne-Oakland Conference to Northville.

Northville now has an 8-3 record, while Bloomfield Hills, the only challenger with a mathematical chance of catching Northville, is 5-6.

The magic number is one. A Northville victory or a Bloomfield Hills loss would sew up second place for Northville. Unlikely though it is, Bloomfield Hills could tie Northville for second place if Northville loses its remaining three games.

Tomorrow, the showdown begins. Northville will entertain West Bloomfield at the local high school and the following night, Saturday, the Mustangs will travel to Bloomfield Hills to play the much improved Barons.

West Bloomfield doesn't pose a real threat — unless taken too lightly. Northville beat the crippled Lakers on their home court earlier in the season, 66-57, and the Lakers don't figure to be any stronger away from home.

For Coach Art Paddy and his cagers this has been their most miserable season in the W-O. They have won only one of 11 games and have taken over the spot, the cellar, usually reserved for Brighton.

From the beginning, Paddy has had troubles. The sparkplug of last year's team and one of the best players in the conference as a junior, Tim Molner, suffered a leg injury that put him out of commission for the season. Lately, other members of Paddy's admittedly weak team have missed games, either through ineligibility or injury.

Bloomfield Hills, however, is a different matter, especially on its home court and with Coach Hal Henderson thirsting for revenge of that 60-54 loss to Northville at Northville. Furthermore, as in seasons past, the Barons have been getting stronger with every game.

If Northville fails to win over West Bloomfield or Bloomfield, that would place Northville in the dubious posi-

Pontiac Pins 63-44 Loss On Wildcats

Superior shooting and experience.

As in games past, these two ingredients won out over Novi Friday and Emmanuel Christian of Pontiac walked off the Novi floor with a 63-44 victory.

The all-sophomore Novi team made a game of it for two quarters, trailing by a slim 26-21 margin at halftime. But then Christian got hot and scored 19 points in the third quarter and 18 in the fourth to put the game out of Novi's reach.

Novi's varsity is now 1-7 on the season.

Jon Van Wagner led the local scorers with 17 points. Lee Snow and Gary Boyer had nine points apiece.

The junior varsity suffered the same fate — by a 51-28 margin. Dave Adema led the ninth graders with eight points. Other scorers for Novi were Rick Dale and Dennis Diem (6), and Rick Hill and Phil McMillan (3).

The Novi varsity girls team hooked up with South Lyon Monday in a real whistle tooter. No less than 62 fouls were called in the game which South Lyon won, 46-23.

Like the boys, the girls were playing at a disadvantage. South Lyon floored a team of junior and seniors, while Novi, now only a two-year high school, floored an all-sophomore team.

Sue Primeau led Novi with 13 points, followed by Dale Gilmer's four.

In the junior varsity clash, the Novi girls whipped South Lyon, 31-11, for their third victory against only one loss. Leading scorers were Beth Reid with seven, Cindy Ortwine with six and Karen Ling with five.

CONFUSION—This is part of the confusion which reigned at Northville high school Friday night after the clock had run out. Clarkston's Dan Fife (33) listens as Referee "Doc" Kosteva (hand raised) explains what happened to Don Mauti, Clarkston athletic director and assistant principal. Northville's Jim Zayti (24) is still on the floor where he fell while chasing Fife and the ball. Northville players stand in back of Mauti as Clarkston cagers, who also came off the bench, are seen in the right background.

Quick Action Halts Explosive Ending

What happened during the hectic closing seconds and the aftermath of Friday's ball game with Clarkston? To be sure, confusion reigned Friday night. But until after the disorder did officials begin to piece together the sequence of events that led to skirmishes on the Northville High school gymnasium floor.

Predictably, tension was high for the game.

Clarkston wished to preserve its unbeaten status and win the Wayne-Oakland Conference title.

The incentive was equally as great for Northville. The Mustangs still held slim hopes of somehow, miraculously, grabbing a share of the title. At least, Northville hoped to avenge an earlier, 84-49 trouncing by Clarkston and to spoil Clarkston's hopes for an undefeated season.

About 3,000 fans from Northville and Clarkston — one of the biggest crowds in Northville's history — were packed into the gymnasium. Every available seat was taken, including extra chairs under the baskets, and standing spectators jammed the exits.

Enthusiasm was electric. Through the early stages of the game, the tempo was furious, abating somewhat a half-time when Clarkston pushed into a 38-30 lead.

But Northville surged back at the beginning of the second half and the crowd reaction picked up with the frantic pace of the game. The lead changed hands three times in the final quarter and Clarkston finally edged ahead 50-49. Northville called time out with 48 seconds left.

When play resumed, the stall began. Tension began building to a fever pitch as seconds ticked away. Finally, Guard Joe Andrews took a shot with only seven seconds left on the clock.

The ball bounced off the back brace and at least six players jumped and clawed frantically for the rebound. Finally, Clarkston's Dan Fife tapped the ball toward the sideline and raced for it. He sprawled on the floor as Zayti fell on his legs and the ball went out of bounds.

Tie for W-O Lead

Colts Trounce Cubs

"We completely tore them apart," uttered by Coach Bob Kucher, the words tell more than the score (79-56) of the Colts' prowess Friday night.

Victory enabled Northville to tie Clarkston in the race for the Wayne-Oakland league junior varsity title. Both teams have 9-2 records.

"They played a tremendous game," Kucher said of his cagers. "They were as ready for the game Friday as any team I've coached."

And Clarkston was anything but a patsy. The Cubs had height to burn in 6'5" Eric Hood, and two other front line starters who measured 6'2" and 6'3". And at guard, Clarkston had Rick Palladino, a sure shot.

This combination provided Clarkston with a 66-59 victory in the first meeting of the two teams, and the one that had won nine of 10 ball games.

But Northville was rarin' to go, jumping to a 22-16 first quarter lead and outscoring Clarkston in every successive period: 19-13, 21-14 and 17-13.

Clarkston Ekes Out 50-49 Win As Game Erupts in Last Seconds

Northville's bid for an upset over unbeaten Clarkston failed by inches Friday night as Clarkston eked out a 50-49 win in a thrill-packed game marred by fighting after the final buzzer had sounded at Northville high school.

With many of the standing-room-only crowd of 3,000 spectators milling along the sidelines, Captain Jim Zayti stepped to the free throw line for a one-and-one minutes after time had run out.

Had he made the first free throw, it would have entitled him to a second. But the ball bounced off the front of the rim and Clarkston had its 11th Wayne-Oakland Conference victory in a row. It was then that players and fans mixed it up on the floor. The furor didn't die until coaches, teachers and Northville auxiliary police broke up the melee.

This was the game of the year in the conference, a battle between the first and second place teams. From the opening tip-off, tension filled the air and increased as the teams fought for the lead.

But it was the final 48 second that triggered the pandemonium. Clarkston led, 50-49, and Northville went into a stall to set up a final, desperation shot. As the seconds ticked off, the roar of the crowd became deafening.

Clarkston knocked the ball out of bounds with 15 seconds left. Northville tossed the ball back into play.

Guard Joe Andrews, who played the finest game of his varsity career, fired the ball toward the basket with seven seconds left on the clock. The ball bounced off the back of the rim.

Players from both teams leaped frantically for the rebound as the ball was batted several times into the air. Finally, Clarkston's Dan Fife tipped the ball away from the board, scrambled after it and was knocked sprawling as the ball went out of bounds. Time had run out, and Clarkston players and fans started for the floor.

One referee indicated Zayti had fouled Fife in the scramble. But another referee had detected a prior foul under the basket. Zayti had been pushed, it was reported, as he went for the rebound. The foul against Zayti took precedent. Zayti then missed the free throw.

Northville was the last obstacle standing between Clarkston, an unbeaten season and the league title. By winning, the Wolves (11-0) thus ensured themselves of a share of the title with only three games remaining to be played. Northville is 8-3.

"We were as high as the sky," Northville Coach Dave Longridge said. "We dedicated ourselves to this game."

And Northville's performance indicated as much. Beaten 84-49 in the first encounter between the two teams at Clarkston, Northville battled back from an eight point deficit Friday night and traded baskets with Clarkston through the third and fourth quarters in a determined effort to win the ball game.

This was, indeed, Northville's finest game of the year. It had to be, for Clarkston is a versatile, experienced club, one of the best to play in the W-O. In fact, if the Wolves win the rest of their games — as they assuredly will — they will be the second team to win 14 conference games without defeat. Northville did it in 1961-62.

Fife, the all-stater, is the team leader and driving force. Averaging 33 points going into Friday's game, the 6'2" cager, is an accurate shooter from outside and a demon when driving.

Guard Joe Andrews drew the assignment to cover the Clarkston senior. Andrews, a 5'7" junior, rose to the task. He clung tenaciously to Fife, holding him to 23 points and continually cut off scoring avenues.

And despite his size, Andrews was a demon on the boards, leaping high to snare rebounds away from taller opponents. And as in the past, it was Andrews who brought the ball safely up court to discourage any press by the speedy Wolves.

The second quarter provided the margin of victory for Clarkston. The Wolves peppered the nets from outside for 12 points while holding Northville to a mere five to take a 28-20 lead at halftime.

"We may have played a little too cautiously in the second quarter," Longridge said.

There was no sign of timidity when Northville returned to the floor. The Mustangs scored on their first two shots, then added another bucket after a Clarkston turnover to cut the margin to 28-26 and set the tenor for the remainder of the ball game.

Northville's game plan worked to perfection. Coach Longridge declared before the game that Northville would play deliberate ball to contain Clarkston's devastating fast break and to slow the tempo. Seldom did the Wolves get a chance to break loose as they did in the first game against Northville.

From the outset, Northville looked like a fired-up ball club. The Mustangs hit on their first three shots from the field — two by Andrews and one by Forward Glenn Deibert — to take a 6-1 lead. Northville continued the pace and held a 12-7 lead midway through the first period as Deibert and Center Jim Peterson both chipped in with three points apiece.

Suddenly, a reversal set in. Clarkston began hitting from outside with unerring accuracy. Randy Nicholson canned three jump shots and Fife and Tom Allen an apiece to give Clarkston a narrow, 16-15 lead at the end of the first quarter.

Then came what was to prove to be the decisive period — the second. Fife scored six points and Allen pumped in four, primarily by arching soft shots over the collapsing Northville defense. Zayti's layup and Mathew's jumper and free throw were the only points Northville could garner.

The question at halftime was how big Clarkston's margin would be. But then Northville came out, once again fired up.

Deibert connected on a jump shot as did Peterson the first two times Northville got its hands on the ball. A traveling violation gave the ball back to Northville and Peterson promptly scored again on a jumper to narrow the margin to 28-26. The lead see-sawed through the third period and Clarkston held a 37-36 advantage going into the final period.

Forward Nelson Hyatt then put Northville out front for the first time since the first quarter. He scored on a baseline drive and fouled, converted the free throw for a 39-37 Northville lead.

During the action-packed six minutes until the final buzzer, the game was tied three times. Fife was the key to Clarkston's victory. He scored Clarkston's final seven points.

Zayti led the Northville attack by scoring 12 points. Peterson and Deibert each tallied nine points. Nicholson scored 10 for Clarkston.

LOOK ALL WAYS BEFORE CROSSING

Decisions. Decisions. Decisions.

(May we help you with an important one?)

Your choice of a heating system is one you'll live with for a long time. So, naturally, you'll want to make sure you get a system that won't cost too much to own. That's where our new electric heat guarantee comes in.

Here's how it works: We'll see that you get a written estimate of heating costs—before you buy. Then, your monthly bills may be less, but they won't be one cent higher than the estimate. We guarantee it.

If the installation needs adjustments to meet the guaranteed cost figure, we'll see that it's done. And if at the end of three complete, consecutive heating seasons the system is still not operating within our estimate, we'll remove it and refund your money.

Before you make any more important modernizing decisions, get the facts on modern electric heat. You can't lose!

Drop Charges Against Youths

Charges of disorderly conduct filed against 15 youths, nine from Northville, were dismissed February 4 in Northville Municipal court.

Instead, Judge Charles McDonald ordered the teenagers to write a 1000-word theme on "What I learned from my experience" on January 24. At that time, as many as 80 youths created unrest that threatened to end in a rumble, it was reported.

Motion for a new trial for David A. Wilder, 17, who admitted "looking for a fight", was granted. Charges were dismissed and a fine of $55, levied during his arraignment, was rescinded. He was one of the 15 instructed to write a paper.

Cases against two boys involved in the January 24 disturbance are still pending.

Freydl's Installing New Store Signs

Installation of a new sign for both Freydl's stores - ladies and men, 112 and 118 East Main street - is being completed this week.

Charles Freydl, Jr., said that the new sign would extend across both fronts but would contain individual names. He said the lettering would be done in early American design. Last summer the exterior building improvement began with sand-blasting of the brick and installation of shutters.

Pilfer $682 In Gas, Tools At School Site

Among the items stolen from the trailer were two power saws, a power drill, a level and case, 100 feet of surveyor tape and a speed bit, police said.

The breaking and entering was discovered around 8:14 a.m. when workmen for E. E. Powell & Company, contractors, reported for work Monday. The last day of work, police said, was last Friday.

Fish Hatchery Fate Remains Uncertain

Little optimism existed this week as city officials waited for official word on the disposition of the Seven Mile road fish hatchery property.

According to City Manager Frank Ollendorf, who was in contact with both government and Wayne State university officials late last week, the government's General Services Administration (GSA) has agreed to delay its decision on the property for 10 days.

Furthermore, he said GSA has suggested that the city and Wayne State university consider the possibility of cooperatively sharing the property.

In discussing the matter with university officials, Ollendorf learned that the university would give "the matter some thought" since it may have some difficulty in raising sufficient funds to operate the 15-acre fish hatchery property as a research center to include a laboratory on water pollution.

Ollendorf said GSA may take one of three steps at the end of the 10-day period:

— Further delay its decision pending consideration of the city's application.

— Award the property to Wayne State university as recommended by the Department of Health, Education and Welfare (HEW).

— Further delay its decision in order to give the city and Wayne State time to come up with a cooperative-use proposal.

Stepped up attempts by the city to secure at least a portion of the facility followed HEW's action on February 3 in denying the Northville school system's application in favor of use by Wayne State university.

The city is basing its right to be considered as a possible recipient of the property on an April, 1966 letter to GSA in which it stated that in the event the school system's application was denied that its application (the city's) be given consideration. GSA subsequently acknowledged the city's letter.

There Goes Another Load Of Birds!

Some automobile plants may be pulling in their belts because of slipping sales, but not so at Ford's Wixom plant where assembly lines continue to hum as Thunderbirds and Lincoln Continentals head for more than 9,000 Ford and Lincoln-Mercury dealers throughout the United States as sales continue at a brisk pace. Train load after train load of Wixom-built cars pull out of the plant weekly. (See story on Page 3B).

from the PASTOR'S STUDY

Reverend Arthur V. Norris
Willowbrook Community E. U. B. Church

The General Epistle of I John contains the words, "There is no fear in love; but perfect love casteth out fear." Fear does amazing things to people. An incident happened recently which perhaps demonstrates what this means. A newcomer to the Detroit area had occasion to do some traveling in the area of an inner-city housing project. Because he did not know the area or how to get there, he began to ask for directions. His questions elicited negative responses such as, "Why do you want to go there?" "You had better be careful!"

Not knowing what to expect, this newcomer became fearful. He locked his car doors, rolled up his windows and very fearfully drove into the community.

Once in the community strange things began to happen to this newcomer. For one thing, even though he had explicit directions, he became lost. A Negro taxi cab driver, who helped him with directions, was friendly and polite. Incidentally, this taxi cab driver saved the newcomer from the embarrassing experience of driving the wrong way on a one-way street. Once in the neighborhood he learned that there was an active and beneficial Neighborhood Service Organization. He learned that the Neighborhood Service Organization is an arm of the United Fund. Furthermore, in this area, and in many areas of the city, there are many boys who need the beneficial influence of a man in their lives. Through the "Big Brother" organization this opportunity is provided.

Perhaps the most important thing is that the stranger discovered that men and women in strange communities need not remain strangers! Certainly he learned that fear and lack of knowledge about other people and other communities build barriers to brotherhood and understanding.

During the month of February religious groups are commemorating Race Relations Sunday and Brotherhood Week. Perhaps we ought to remind ourselves that it is easy to fear those whom we do not know. This is especially true when one's race, religion, or economic situation differs from another's. Fear can very quickly lead to hatred and strife.

The epistle of I John reminds us that "perfect love casteth out fear." I wonder what the writer meant when he made this statement? Furthermore, I wonder what it means to love my brother?

100 Women Join In Day of Prayer

More than 100 women in the South Lyon-Novi Hudson area took part in forging a link in the golden chain of prayer around the world Friday, February 10. The World Day of Prayer services were held in the First United Presbyterian church with women from five local churches taking part.

The New Hudson Methodist, South Lyon Methodist, First Baptist, St. Joseph's Catholic and the United Presbyterian churches were represented in the choir and in the order of worship.

The offering from the service will be sent to assist in the ministry to the American Indians in the Route 66 area of the southwestern part of the United States and to the tiny kingdom of Swaziland, a country about the size of the state of Connecticut, located in south-east Africa.

Background and history of these people were presented by Mrs. Shirley Mitchinson of New Hudson and Mrs. Luella Nephew of South Lyon. The ladies enlivened their talks by dressing in the garb of the people they were depicting.

Other leaders in the service were: Mrs. Rita Beddingfield, Mrs. Rosemary Bergin, Mrs. Iris Heath, and Mrs. Christine Bradley. Mrs. Katherine Alley rendered a solo, "I'm Praying for You".

Plan Evangelism Services in Novi

Non-denominational evangelistic services will be held at the Novi community building Thursday, February 19 and Tuesday, February 26 at 8 p.m. Evangelists Helen Seidel and Wilma Linton will conduct the services, using the Bible as their text.

"The services will be quiet and reverent, upholding the life and teaching of Jesus," they explained.

WSCS to Hear Hospital Talk

Charles Kent of the Brighton hospital on Grand River avenue will be the speaker at the South Lyon Methodist WSCS meeting at the church Tuesday, February 21, at 2:30 p.m. Following his talk the group will go to the hospital for a guided tour of the buildings.

do I make my point CLEAR?

No wonder there's a Berlin wall!
It's so hard to get people to accept ideas—to continue to accept them.
It takes ruthlessness, brutality, oppression.
Or does it?
Jesus Christ was a carpenter in Nazareth. That was centuries ago. But the ideas he shared with his disciples are preached from our pulpits today. The truths for which he offered his life are being lived by millions of Christians.
How did he make his point so clear . . . and so eternal?
He did it through Love and Self-sacrifice . . . and God's Power. He did it through the very gifts which he imparts today to those who worship Him!

At Ford's Wixom Plant Sales Keep Lines Humming

While others tread water in a sea of slumping car sales, Ford Motor's Wixom plant continues to produce automobiles at a brisk pace.

Between 25 and 30 Thunderbirds roll off the assembly line hourly, along with a steady stream of Lincoln Continentals. And as other plants begin to pull in their belts, the Wixom assembly lines continue to run two shifts daily, five days a week.

Sure indication that things are booming at Ford Wixom is the rapid expansion of the plant facility, which has exploded in size since its start in 1957 to become Ford's largest assembly plant in North America and the second largest in Ford's worldwide empire.

The German Ford plant in Belgium covers 2.42 million square feet.

In that decade it has nearly doubled size. Today the plant covers 54 acres — or 2,341,626 square feet — all under one roof.

When production began in 1957, the plant covered 1,691,750 square feet. Three years later another 159,750 square feet was added, followed by 109,236 more square feet in 1963.

Last year new construction added 328,890 square feet — largest expansion program to date — and this year another 52,000 square feet is in the works.

Located on the southwest side of the already mammoth facility, the new addition will include 39,000 square feet for body shop sub-assembly operations and material storage and a 13,000 square foot section that will provide space for more stock.

Work on the new addition is well underway and is scheduled for completion in time for the 1968 model year production.

Initially, the plant turned out only the Lincoln car line. Thunderbird production started in the spring of 1958 when assembly operations were shifted from Dearborn.

Employment and output climbed as demand rose for Wixom-built products. Originally, the work force totaled 2,400. With the addition of a second production shift in 1960 another 1,200 were added to the payroll. Last summer 1,500 more employees were hired.

Today the workforce stands at nearly 7,000 employees, including hourly and salaried personnel plus office tenants from Overseas Distribution Operations, and Ford, Lincoln and Mercury sales personnel.

The annual payroll has shot up to $50 million.

Initially geared to produce 30 cars an hour, the plant now has a maximum capacity of 44 jobs hourly. Last year the plant produced 72,734 T-Birds and 52,169 Lincolns.

Fifty rail cars and 145 trucks are unloaded daily just to supply parts and materials for the assembly system.

Bodies and other components are assembled on 105 overhead and floor-type conveyors which, if stretched out in a continuous line, would be more than 10 miles long. A teletype system informs key production stations of specifications for every car.

ASSEMBLY LINE—With sales of Thunderbirds climbing, the Wixom Ford assembly line spews out between 25 and 30 T-Birds an hour.

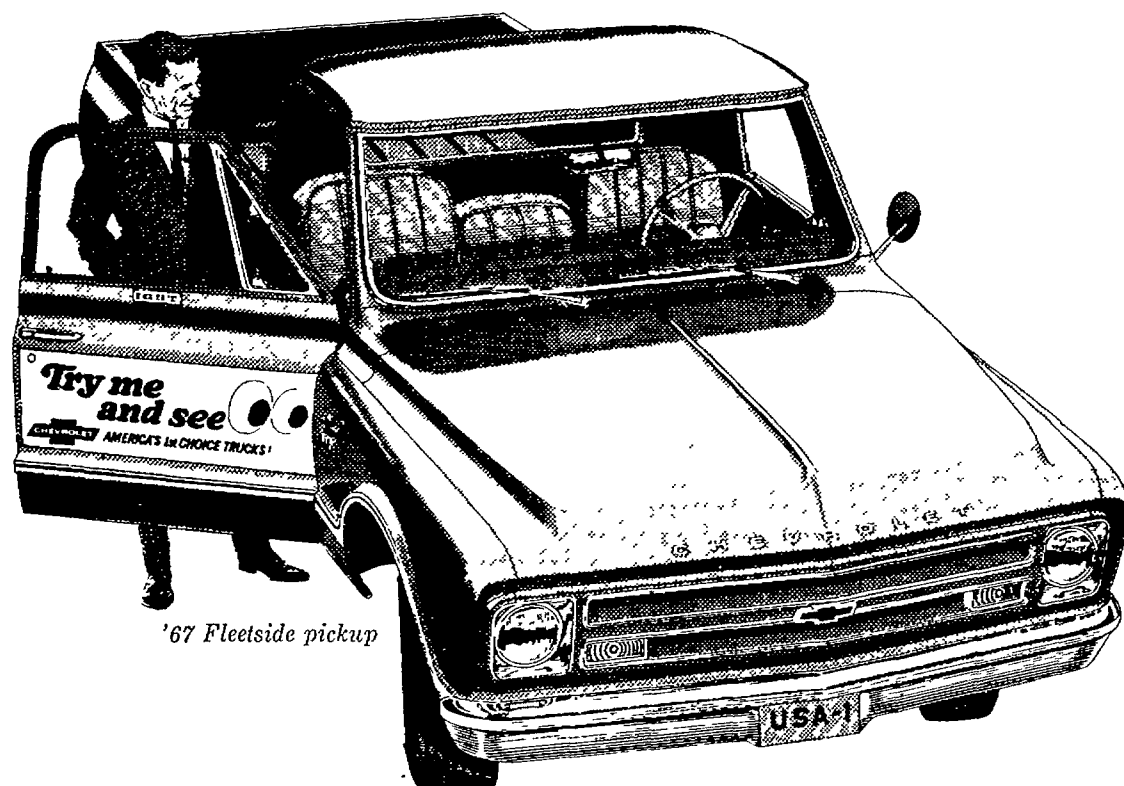

Approximately 1,250 cars are in various stages of completion in the assembly system at one time. A car completes the assembly cycle in about two days.

Thunderbird and Lincoln Continental production from Wixom supplies more than 9,000 Ford and Lincoln-Mercury dealers in the United States. About 1,000 cars are exported annually.

Seventy-five percent of Wixom-built cars are shipped to market on multi-level rail cars. The remaining 25 percent are dispatched by truck.

In addition, Wixom ships tractors from the Highland Park plant and units from the Michigan Truck and Wayne Assembly plants.

Schoolcraft Too!

Romney's Budget Worries Colleges

Dismayed and concerned over Governor Romney's approach to state assistance to community colleges, Schoolcraft College President Eric J. Bradner this week warned of the possibility of curtailment of enrollment and educational programs at the college in the next school year.

"We are caught in a crossfire of increasing operational costs, including faculty salaries, greater enrollment and program demands on the one hand," Dr. Bradner said, "and what I can only describe as an unrealistic attitude by the governor on financial assistance to community colleges, on the other hand."

Dr. Bradner, along with presidents of other Michigan two-year colleges heard Romney explain his plan for aid to higher education and for tax reform at a meeting in Lansing early this month.

A key point in the Romney plan, so far as two-year colleges are concerned, is a freeze on state assistance at $325 for each fulltime academic student.

"Both the State Board of Education and the State Board for Public Junior and Community Colleges, a constitutional body, have recommended an increase to $500," Dr. Bradner said. "This is a thoroughly realistic figure if the demands on the fastest growing segment of higher education in this state are to be met."

"Unfortunately, the governor has felt it necessary to ignore these recommendations."

"To say the least, we were not pleased with what we heard at Lansing," Dr. Bradner said. "The governor's plan means there will be no additional state assistance for operations, and could mean an actual cut of as much as 15 percent from what we received this year."

"The governor told us that if we got behind his tax reform program we could look for a stand-pat appropriation for operations, but that if we didn't support the program we could expect a 15 percent cut in state aid."

"Needless to say, the reaction of the presidents of the two-year colleges to those alternatives was less than enthusiastic."

As a result of the meeting with the governor, Dr. Bradner said he had instructed college Business Manager W. Kenneth Lindner to recast the Schoolcraft operating budget for the 1967-68 school year.

"We must take steps now to protect ourselves against a possible reduction in state assistance," Dr. Bradner explained.

"No matter how the question of tax reform is resolved, the outlook for the two-year colleges is not bright," he went on. "We enrolled 3,200 students last fall and have been planning on the basis of close to 4,000 this coming fall."

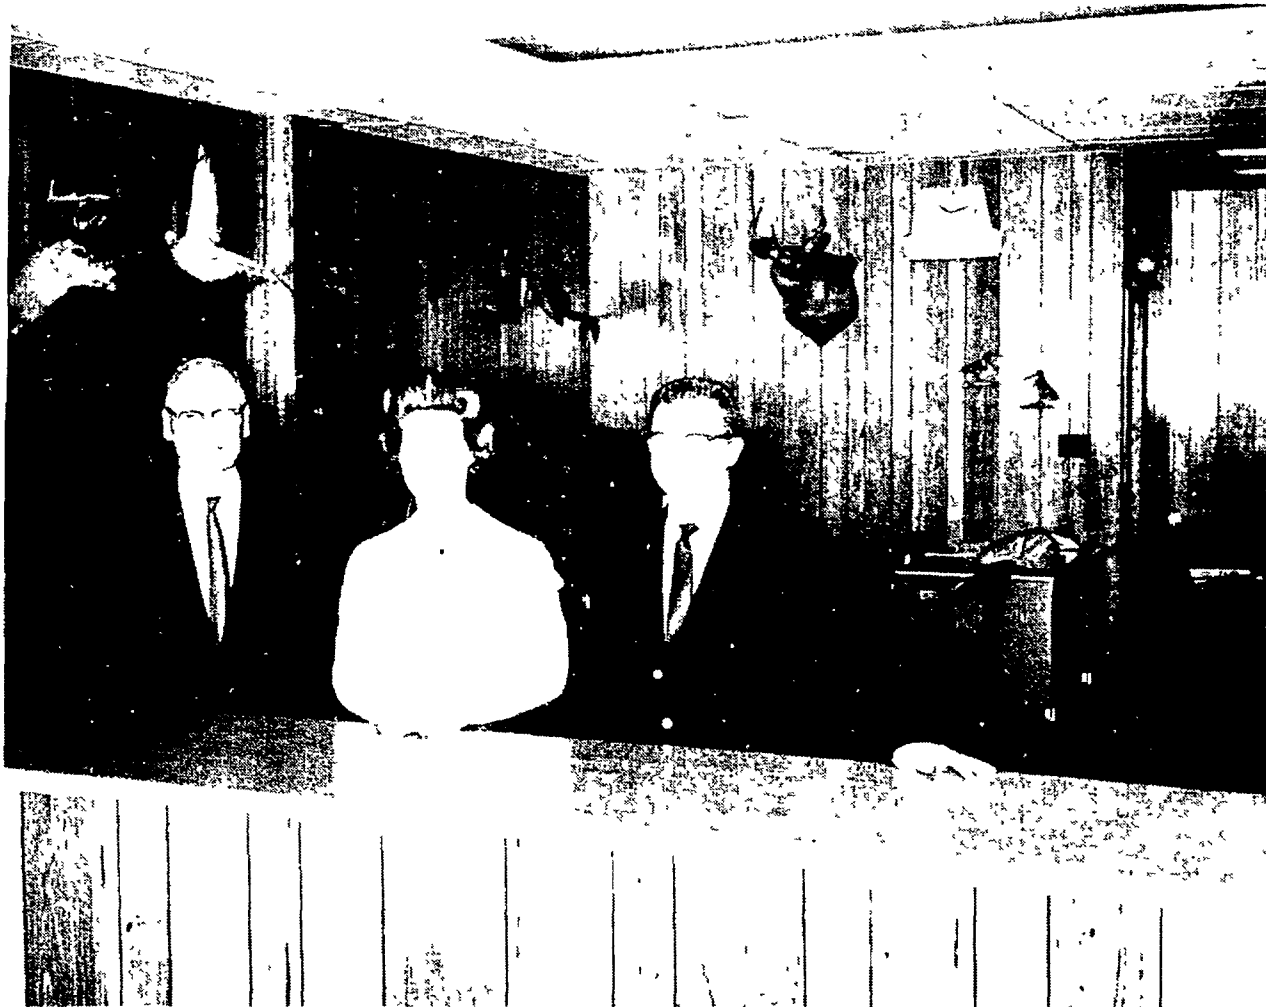

"We may well be forced to put a ceiling on enrollments. In addition, we may have to put off a number of plans for an expanded educational program."

"Worse yet, we may face the unhappy possibility of cutting back some of the programs we are now offering," Dr. Bradner said.

"We have invested a great deal of money to provide facilities and equipment at Schoolcraft College for both academic and technical programs which the people of the college district have said they wanted for their children and for themselves."

"It is simply a case of false economy if they are not used to the fullest extent of their capacity."

DID YOU TELL YOUR INSURANCE AGENT THE COMPLETE TRUTH?

How safe is your insurance coverage? Did you know that all reputable insurance companies list conditions to their policies called "exclusions," under which you are not covered? For instance, your policy may have a driver under age clause requiring you to state if a driver under a specified age will be one of the drivers of the insured car. The premium is usually higher if this is so. If it is so and you fail to inform your agent, your policy could become void in the event of an accident. Premium rates are affected when a car is used for work or pleasure or both. If you failed to state the use correctly, you could find it impossible to collect. Is your garage location correct? Rural addresses mean a lower premium rate usually. If an insured driver furnishes a rural garage address, possibly of a relative, in order to save a few dollars, he is risking coverage foolishly. Most policies deny coverage where a person drives your car without your permission, or if the person is unlicensed or intoxicated. If your driving license has ever been revoked or insurance refused and you fail to reveal the fact in answering an application, you could disqualify your claim. Any doubts about your policy should be cleared up with your agent now, before you have an accident. If nothing else, the payoff in peace of mind will be worth it.

Area State Police Cited for Service

Thirteen Michigan State Police officers, including five who work out of posts serving this general area, have been cited for meritorious service citations by Colonel Fredrick E. Davids, director.

Among the local officers are Detective Ronald W. Schoonmaker of the Brighton post and Det. Sergeant George C. Kerr, Detective Jerry E. Burgis and retired Det. Sergeant Richard E. Avery, all of the Redford post.

The case involving these four officers was the investigation in May, 1965, of about 10 burglaries of post offices and other break-in thefts in the metropolitan and outstate area.

It resulted in the arrest of three subjects initially, leading to later apprehension of six others. About $300,000 worth of money orders, stamps, bonds and property of a reported $400,000 taken in the crimes were recovered.

Trooper Harold R. Riley of the Brighton post also was cited. Off duty at the time shopping with his family, Riley assisted in the apprehension of two subjects wanted for larceny from a store in Livonia last year.

Schmidt Calls For Tax Reform

Northville's 35th District state representative, Louis E. Schmidt, lined up with Governor George Romney this past week in calling for tax reform this year.

However, he did not specifically endorse the tax proposals advanced by the government in a statement to this newspaper. After outlining the proposals of the governor to the press, he said "any tax action must be equitable and fair to all citizens of our state."

"Now it is up to the legislature," he said, "to carefully study the proposals to insure that the citizens of Michigan get the most equitable program possible, and one that will be beneficial to the state for the future. It is also the legislature's responsibility to work on these very important questions of budget and fiscal reform immediately."

Here's Chance to Serve Community Jaycees Seek New Members

"Boost your community and have fun doing it." That's the call issued this week by the Northville Jaycees organization as it launched a concentrated membership drive.

"We're looking for new young men of our community who want to associate with an organization dedicated to the improvement of the Northville area and the self-improvement of each individual member," Jaycee President Orville Beemer explained.

"There are a lot of young men in our community, many of them newcomers, who are capable of giving this organization and the community a big boost. We need them, and we think we have something to offer them in return."

Beemer said the club hopes to boost its membership from the present 25 members to between 35 and 40 members. "The more we have, the more we can do and the less individual time is required."

The Jaycees is a civic service organization for men between the ages of 21 and 35 that is dedicated to providing leadership training through community development work.

Jaycee membership offers the following advantages:

- A voice in community affairs.
- A practical leadership development course not available at any college or university in the world.
- Social and recreational activities with men of similar age.
- A chance to improve your community.

- Responsibilities from committee membership, chairmanship, office, etc., and the resulting development of ability to make decisions.

- Speaking ability attained through practice speaking before groups and audiences.

- A host of new friends and acquaintance with many of the community's civic and business leaders.

Here are examples of projects undertaken by local Jaycees during the past year:

News election service, sponsorship of the measles clinic, sponsorship of the first annual Junior Miss Pageant, current work on water pollution correction and a community survey program, sponsorship of a giant Fourth of July celebration and parade, Teenage Road-ee, a Christmas tree burning project, Christmas decoration contest, and presentation of a distinguished citizenship award.

Originally formed in St. Louis, Missouri in 1915, the nationwide organization today has chapters in more than 6,000 communities and a combined membership of more than 260,000 men.

Locally, monthly general membership meetings are held on the fourth Wednesday of every month, beginning at 8 p.m. in the Northville Hotel. In addition, the Jaycee board of directors meets on the second Wednesday of every month.

Young men wishing to become members are invited to attend one of these meetings or contact Beemer evenings, at 455-0584, for additional information.

Official Minutes of the Northville Board of Education

Regular meeting of the Board of Education of the Northville Public Schools, held on Monday, December 12, 1966, 7:30 p.m. in the Library of the Junior High School.

Members present: Becker, Johnston, Cook, Kipfer, Froelich, Lyon, Lawrence and Superintendent Nelson, Assistant Superintendent Spear, Administrative Assistant Ellison.

Five visitors were present.

Moved by member Lyon, supported by member Johnston and unanimously carried that the agenda with the appendix be adopted as presented.

Minutes of the last regular meeting and special meeting of November 28, 1966 and December 5, 1966 were approved with corrections.

Mr. Hal Wagner, consultant in School Bus Transportation from the State Department of Education reviewed the State's and local school district's responsibilities in the area of bus transportation. He stated that school districts are not required to transport any student. School bus transportation provided within the corporate limits of a city will receive a reduction in state support which amounts to approximately $8.00 per pupil transported. He also stated that the average number of stops per mile recognized by the state is four stops per mile. Elementary pupils may be expected to walk 1/2 mile to a bus stop or route and High School pupils up to one mile. He estimated that the cost of "backtracking" on a bus route would cost about 35¢ to 40¢ per mile. The formula for reimbursement is approved by the State Superintendent of Public Instruction, presently established at $16.00 per seat for a sixty passenger school bus or $980 for the school. Pupils within city limits or 1 1/2 mile of the school are ineligible to receive state reimbursement. The legislature stipulates not more than 75% reimbursement for the actual cost of operating a school bus program. Field trips are at the local school district's expense.

The architect reviewed construction bids for the additions to the High School and recommended that the bid be awarded to the Reisdorf Construction Company. Motion by member Cook, supported by member Lawrence and unanimously carried that the Superintendent obtain a legal opinion relative to the position of the Board of Education in the exceptions presented in the bids and that a Special meeting be called when the opinion is obtained.

Motion by member Cook, supported by member Lyon and unanimously carried that the Science Equipment bid be awarded to State Wide Equipment company as recommended by the Architect at a cost not to exceed $11,005.

Motion by member Lyon, supported by member Johnston, and unanimously carried that the lone bid for Library Equipment be rejected. Library bid to be resubmitted with several changes, deleting the round tables.

Motion by member Johnston, supported by member Cook, and unanimously carried that the Electrical contract for the Senior High School be awarded to Gillis Electric Co. as recommended by the Architect at a total cost not to exceed $6,845.00.

Motion by member Lyon, supported by member Cook, and unanimously carried that the Mechanical contract for the Senior High School be awarded to Magnolia Co. as recommended by the Architect not to exceed a total cost of $222,000.

Motion by member Kipfer, supported by member Cook, and unanimously carried recommending payment of $42,675.30 to De Mare Bros. and $46,654.83 to E. E. Powell Co. as approved by the architect. Payment is to be made from the Building and Site Fund.

The Board Secretary read the communication from Mrs. Kundrick of Glenora Ave. regarding bus transportation. Discussion followed with audience participation. Motion by member Froelich, supported by member Kipfer and unanimously carried that the total transportation situation be reviewed by the administration. Member Lawrence stated that a tremendous cost of bus transportation is involved if the Board complies with each transportation request.

Motion by member Lawrence, supported by member Lyon and unanimously carried that student Lester Monger be expelled from school for conduct unbecoming to a student of the Northville Public Schools.

Motion by member Johnston, supported by member Cook and unanimously carried that the 26 December meeting of the Board of Education be cancelled and a meeting be scheduled for 19 December 1966.

Motion by member Lyon, supported by member Johnston and unanimously carried that the Superintendent be authorized to proceed with the use of the Royal McBee report card system at the High School level.

Motion by member Lawrence, supported by member Johnston and unanimously carried that a contract be approved for the second semester for Julia Crowther at $2,800 (early elementary) and Charlene Jarvella at $3,378 (Jr. High School music).

Motion by member Lawrence, supported by member Cook, and unanimously carried that the administration be given guidance to re-negotiate the $5,000 per acre for the proposed ten acre site, for an elementary school, in the Bradner road area currently under consideration and report back to the Board, and if negotiations are not successful to proceed with attorney to obtain appraisal.

Yeas 4. Nays 0. Carried.

(Councilman Canterbury entered Council meeting at 8:30 p.m.) Consideration of New Street Lights on N. Center street from Dunlap to Baseline road.

City Mgr. Ollendorf called attention to the letter from George K. Blass, Detroit Edison Lighting Engineer, relative to their offer to replace and respace 9 obsolete standards with a system of 10-175 watt mercury vapor (7,000 lumen) lights in modern equipment.

After a short discussion concerning general City street lighting, moved by Carlson, support by Nichols to approve placement of 10-175 watt mercury vapor lights on N. Center street from Dunlap to Baseline road as per Drawing S-40650 at a net monthly billing increase of not more than $13.00 per letter dated January 19, 1967. Unanimously carried.

Moved by Carlson, support by Black to add to January 30th Special meeting agenda, consideration of snow removal generally in the City of Northville and specifically Sidewalk Snow Removal Contract between Robert Cole and the City of Northville. Unanimously carried.

Snow Removal and Sidewalk Snow Removal Contract - City of Northville: City Mgr. recommended that the contract between the city of Northville and Robert Cole be terminated at the earliest possible time - the reason being that the job is not being done as it should be. He felt the following 3 questions should be answered:

(1) Is contract being carried out completely?

(2) Does City of Northville desire to continue snow-plowing of sidewalks?

(3) If above is desired - how is job to be accomplished?

City Mgr. stated there have been numerous times when sidewalks have not been cleared, in accordance with contract, prior to storm of January 26, 1967. City Mgr. reported on his instructions to Mr. Cole, and manner in which they were or were not followed, from Thursday, January 26 through Saturday noon, January 28th, with result that 1/2 or more of Mr. Cole's share of sidewalks were not cleared as of Monday, January 30, 1967.

Mr. Cole defended his position on the basis of not having sufficient equipment to deal with this particular snow storm, but stated that he had done the area from Wing Street to Orchard drive, Fairbrook to Randolph streets twice by midnight of January 26 and had instructed two young men to go to the business district and shovel sidewalks.

City Mgr. recommended that should council desire to continue sidewalk plowing services, the city should purchase a new piece of equipment - S.W. Bombardier at $5600. He and Mr. Hartner had participated in demonstration of this machine and feel it is good equipment for heavy snow removal for sidewalks, parking lots, etc. Mr. Hartner noted that even more equipment would be necessary to do a thorough job.

Mr. Cole is interested in keeping contract - he would negotiate a different agreement - possibly eliminate the Feb. payment of $1,000 from contract.

In City Attorney's opinion, the Sidewalk snow removal contract has been breached not only during the recent heavy snow storm but ever since the inception of the contract. Councilman Canterbury suggested that the problem be reconsidered and a formal agreement be determined by the end of this week (Feb. 4).

Moved by Allen, support by Nichols that since a problem exists for the city of Northville with snow removal from the city's one-quarter of total sidewalks and with the contractor, Mr. Cole, for his three-quarters of total city sidewalks, it is recommended that the city of Northville discontinue its service of citywide sidewalk snow removal for the remainder of the year (1966-67); and cancel its contract between the city of Northville and Mr. Cole for his service in this regard. Ayes: Allen, Black and Nichols. Nays: Canterbury and Carlson. Carried.

Mr. Ogilvie was instructed to write to Mr. Cole that because of the breaching of the contract for sidewalk snow removal, said contract is being cancelled and that the city of Northville feels no further responsibility in that regard.

Moved by Carlson, support by Canterbury to include on the January 30 special meeting agenda, the matters of protection for children crossing Eight Mile road at the new Moraine Elementary School and the matter of changing of ownership for the license at Ramsey Bar located at 105 N. Center street. Unanimously carried.

Changing of Ownership for Ramsey Bar at 105 N. Center street. City Manager read the report from Chief of Police Elkins approving change: Eileen M. Ramsey for Arthur B. Ramsey being dropped as partner and William E. Boyd being added as partner with her on 1966 Class C and SDM license held at 105 N. Center street, Northville, Michigan.

Moved by Canterbury, support by Allen that above change of ownership be approved. Unanimously carried.

The requested license for Northville Eagle's permit for 113 S. Center street to be on Feb. 6th agenda.

Crossing for Children at Eight Mile road and Moraine Elementary school:

City manager reviewed his memo 67-8 regarding safety measures for school crossing at Eight Mile road and Moraine school. Councilman Canterbury felt that since the school is scheduled to open on Thursday, February 2nd that a Crossing Guard should be employed and the council authorized the city manager to discuss partial payment by the city for same.

There being no further business, the meeting adjourned at 11:30 p.m.

News About Schoolcraft

"Forbidden Games," a shattering tale of children in war, is the next attraction on the Schoolcraft College winter film series, Friday, February 17.

Grand prize winner at the Venice Film Festival, the story opens as a German plane strafes a highway crowded with refugees from Paris. One of the survivors, a delicately beautiful girl of five, is befriended by a young boy who takes her to live with his peasant family.

Innocently ignorant of conventional childhood games, they invent their own: the building of a cemetery for pets and insects.

Performances are scheduled at 2 p.m. and 8 p.m. in the Forum amphitheater. Admission is free.

Schoolcraft College President Eric J. Bradner has announced the bequest to the college of 100 shares of capital stock of the National Bank of Detroit by Mr. and Mrs. Floyd A. Kehrl.

Kehrl is a vice-president of the bank and in charge of its Plymouth branch. The Kehrls live at 41525 Eight Mile road, Northville.

The stock has a current value in excess of $5,000.

The gift was the second of major consequence given to the college by the Kehrls since the college was established in 1961. They had previously donated a set of three chiming bells, which were cast in England and mounted in the campanile adjacent to the administration building on campus.

Although the Kehrls designated no specific area to which the present bequest is to be put, the stock will probably form the start of a special fund for the construction of a business education building on the Schoolcraft campus, Dr. Bradner said. Kehrl has expressed continuing interest in such a project in discussions with officials of the college.

Two Schoolcraft college art instructors, Mrs. Cecilia Kelly and James R. Black, will exhibit a selection of their work in the Lois L. Waterman Campus Center gallery from February 13 through March 8.

Mrs. Kelly, a member of the Ann Arbor Art Association, and the Michigan Academy of Arts and Sciences, will exhibit a collection of water colors as well as a group of drawings and prints. A former student of Aaron Bohrod and Maurice Cantor, Mrs. Kelly has exhibited extensively nationally and in Ann Arbor and the Detroit Institute of Arts, among Michigan galleries.

Black has developed a growing reputation among ceramists for his "people pots". His work is in constant demand for exhibits in museums and galleries throughout the country.

Exhibit hours are 8 a.m. to 9:30 p.m. throughout the week. A reception, open to the public, will initiate the month-long exhibit at 7:30 p.m. Monday night, February 13.

Boosts Fish Hatchery as Park

To the Editor:

Would it be possible for The Record to publish a list of names and addresses of persons who could be written to urging the Federal Government to award the Federal Surplus Property—formerly used as the Fish Hatchery—to the City of Northville?

I am sure that many people feel that this property would be an ideal place for a "Northville Community Park" and a conservation area to promote nature studies, the preservation of our natural resources, horticultural educational exhibits, and the establishment of an historical museum for the preservation of the Northville community heritage.

Organizations such as the Northville Branch, Woman's National Farm and Garden Association, could assist the city of Northville in the planning of gardens, nature trails, conservation projects and exhibits, and bird-feeding stations. One of the buildings could be used for an art center and community projects, another for a teen recreation building.

We, too, are interested and concerned in the care of retarded children and Northville has several institutions nearby devoted to this work. However, this nature study and park would be available to the children and patients in these institutions and hospitals as well as all the children and people of this community—to enjoy nature in all its manifestations. There would most certainly be cooperation and arrangements made by the city of Northville with the Northville school district as well as these state institutions in the planning of this needed community property for its best use.

Local governments should be awarded surplus federal properties and given the chance to plan the use of such property for the benefit of the citizens in their own communities.

We need to "preserve" these small parcels of land wherever possible in our crowded cities and towns that our children and their children's children may always have a little "green space" available for the study of nature and this beautiful land—which—after all—belongs to them.

Sincerely,
Phyllis Slattery
(Mrs. Wm. R.)
President, Northville
Branch, W.N.F.G.A.

EDITOR'S NOTE—Fate of the fish hatchery site now rests in the hands of the General Services Administration. Letters may be written to John N. Malone, Chief of Real Property Division of that agency, 219 South Dearborn street, Chicago, Illinois 60604.

Slaps Snow Removal

To the Editor:

The newcomers who have come here to live in the past year must be discouraged and disgusted with the supervision of this village. I am surprised more comment has not been made before in the peoples column. A little effort and time by the village could make the cross streets near the city hall more passable, for instance at the corner of High and Main street on the sidewalk you walk up a small incline of snow and ice, then step down in a puddle of water to cross the street, then you are compelled to walk in the street for a block, have cars pass by throwing water and slush on your clothes, the same condition at Wing and West Main. The mayor of the village, if he was on the job could see this condition and have it taken care of.

You will note I speak of the town as a village as it is supervised in the same way, except many villages think of their population much better than Northville does. I am quoting conditions near the center of the village, what must it be out in the suburbs. There is no comparison between the city of Dearborn and Northville and it's no wonder people are going there to shop, their streets are all cleaned and shopping centers also, they have a super human Mayor that looks after his citizens and one more thing he has a clean city. This reminds me of the filthy condition within seeing distance of the city hall here in Northville, the resting place for the village drinkers after dark, the flower garden in the summer that's elevated adjacent to the parking lot on West Main, across from the old Ford garage that has been wrecked and dismantled. Each day papers and old beer cans almost cover the spot. One more complaint, the front walk of the Municipal building covered with snow, hasn't been cleaned since the last snow storm. Are all the snow plows on a strike in the village? Let's hope the next election by the village will appoint a man that cares for the citizens.

A Disgusted Citizen

Praises City For Snow Removal

To the Editor:

In regard to the letter in last week's Record, I would like to answer "Concerned". I happen to be an old resident of Northville and I feel it's about time I put in my two bits to our local paper.

The day we had our snow storm I drove to Detroit through part of Farmington township, Livonia and Detroit. On the way home I went through Dearborn, Wayne and Westland. Mr. you're lucky to live in a city like Northville. I was glad to get home so that I could drive up to my house. I think our DPW men deserve a well earned pat on the back. If they keep up the same work they have done in the past, then no complaints will they hear from this citizen.

P.S. Detroit is still trying to get their side streets cleared.

BARN BLAZE—Firemen from Novi, Wixom, Northville, Walled Lake, Bloomfield, Commerce, Highland and Milford fought flames and zero temperatures Sunday morning at the Ralph Buffmyer farm, 620 South Pontiac trail, in Novi. They prevented the fire from spreading from a smaller barn used for storing hay to the larger barn, which housed 18 head of cattle, four horses and hundreds of bales of hay. The animals were led from the barn. The top picture shows the Buffmyer residence from Pontiac trail, while the picture below was taken from the barnyard at the rear. Firemen received the call at 8:20 a.m. Cause of the fire was undetermined. Damage was estimated at more than $10,000.

Jaycee Clean-up Of River Planned

A local plan to clean up the Middle Rouge River was approved Friday night by a Water Resources Commission regional sanitation engineer.

Wayne Denniston, along with George Brusco, district conservation officer, okayed WRAPP, Water Resources Anti-Pollution Program, designed to clean up the stream that runs through Edward Hines Park.

The approval came at a meeting in Northville last Friday evening at the First Presbyterian church. The group, made-up of Northville and Plymouth Jaycees and cooperating Boy Scouts, plans to meet again in mid-March.

Headed by Jerry Hazlett, Plymouth, the project began last year when Jaycees and Boy Scouts covered two miles of the Rouge and pulled out enough junk to fill a dump truck. Working up stream to avoid muddying the water, the volunteers found everything from beer cans to camp stoves to an ice box in the stream bed.

"This year, much more volunteer help is needed," Hazlett said at the meeting Friday, after getting the go-ahead on his plans. "We also will need some money to help finance the project."

Those interested in helping may contact Hazlett at either 453-4256 or 455-0250, Northville's representative with the group is Richard Kernozek.

Thanks Car Agencies

To the Editor:

Last Thursday, our schools experienced a vicious act of vandalism.

Mr. John Mach of the Northville John Mach Ford Sales and Service of his own accord came to us and offered his assistance and resources to repair the damage, placing at our disposal his repair staff.

Mr. Craig Rathburn of the Northville Rathburn Chevrolet Sales and Service likewise gave priority consideration in helping us bring the school bus fleet back into operation.

As a result of this assist, we were able to have several of the bus units operative by Thursday afternoon, and expect to have the entire fleet back to normal schedule Monday morning.

Citizens and business men of this caliber in a community are always a source of assurance and pleasure to work with.

On behalf of the School District and the Board of Education, I wish to use this means to express our sincere gratitude and appreciation to Mr. John Mach and Mr. Craig Rathburn. Thank you!

Sincerely,
Alexander M. Nelson
Superintendent of Schools

This is the first trip south as a Coast Guard icebreaker, though she has participated in all of the past Deep Freeze operations as a Navy vessel. She was commissioned as a Coast Guard Cutter in June 1966.

The Glacier's primary mission while in the Antarctic will be to break ice in McMurdo Sound to the U.S. station on Ross Island, Antarctica.

Glacier is capable of smashing her way through solid ice 20 feet thick, using her 8,600-ton displacement, and 21,000 horse power engines.

After the formalities, crews from the ships participated in various track and field events, a swimming meet, and a pulling boat contest.

The Vesole is homeported at Newport, R.I., and is currently operating as part of the Middle Eastern Forces.

Blames Parents For 'Crime Wave'

The latest events in our crime spree among juveniles should be of utmost concern to every citizen. In the past few weeks we have been able to produce headlines that rival those of any inner city. Illegal use of drugs, wanton vandalism causing thousands of dollars of damage to public property, plus other incidents cannot be ignored.

This is not ordinary mischief. The use of drugs can lead to death, drunkenness to manslaughter when driving, and heaven knows what further crime to expect from the sick minds that plan and execute the useless destruction of property.

When are parents really going to be made responsible for the actions of their children? The entire problem seems to lack of supervision by parents who do not ask "Where are they? Who are they With? What are They Doing?" The present law only makes a parent responsible financially and that up to only $300 for each offense. The law also protects minors from publicity. It was understandably enacted to protect young people involved in only one incident, assuming they would learn the error of their ways and reform.

It seems to have only served to protect families from the scandal of having their names in print in connection with the law. Orientals have a remarkable record of lack of juvenile crime and readily agree it is due to their philosophy of disgrace to the family being a deplorable offense.

If parents were aware that their names would be published you would see a big change in our fine families who go to the station with attorney in tow, berating the police for apprehending their child who has been drinking.

Our service organizations, churches, PTA's and school administrators should make a united effort to deal with our current adolescent problem.

We should assert our backing of the police, press and school administrators. The curfew should be enforced and violators fined.

Drinking students should be dropped from athletic programs.

More support should be given the "Cavern" group. Help them find a happy home in Northville.

Write your Congressman if you feel the law should be changed in order to straighten out our "delinquent parents".

A very concerned citizen

PAST COMMANDERS BANQUET—A capacity crowd, including many visiting dignitaries, was on hand Sunday afternoon for the Past Commanders banquet sponsored by the Veterans of Foreign Wars Post 4021 at the post headquarters.

Consumers Plans Giant Investment

Consumers Power Company will invest $3,200,000 in the western Wayne County area as part of its 1967 program to expand and improve natural gas service, James P. Thomas, West Wayne division manager said.

The division, headquartered in Livonia, expects to add 3,700 new gas customers in 1967. Plans include the construction of an addition to the Livonia service center, Thomas said.

The division serves 67,000 customers in an area encompassing 260 square miles of western Wayne county, including the communities of Farmington, Livonia, Wayne, Northville, Novi and Plymouth.

The projects in the division are part of the company's 1967 expansion and improvement program of $136,000,000.

Thomas said the major project in the division will be the continued expansion of the gas distribution system, with the installation of over 61 miles of new gas pipelines.

The addition to the Livonia service center will add 14,200 square feet for general purposes and 6,700 square feet for storeroom use. The building was erected in 1960 but growth of the gas business and addition of more employees necessitates the addition, Thomas said.

A gas regulator station will be built this year at Newburg and 7-Mile roads to augment the gas supply to the Farmington area.

Consumers Power company provides gas service to 735,000 customers and electric service to 979,000 customers in a combined service area which includes all but one of the 68 counties in Michigan's Lower Peninsula.

Natural gas customers receive gas supplies by way of an interconnected network of pipelines from southwestern United States and from underground storage fields in various locations in Michigan.

To keep abreast of the growth of its gas operations, Consumers Power is continuing a development program in St. Clair and Macomb counties. Included are additions to the Ray gas compressor station and expansion of underground storage facilities.

Circus last week. Hackett also took a group of Novi school children to the circus. It's his way of carrying on the tradition of the Shriners, who, besides treating youngsters, help raise money through the circus to support 19 crippled children's hospitals throughout the United States. Hackett lives at 40141 Eight Mile.

WMU Honors 3 Local Students

Three Northville-Nowi area students at Western Michigan university won scholastic distinction during the fall semester by being named to the university's Dean's list.

They are Eliza S. Batzer, 711 North Center; Robert L. Steeper, 19320 Marilyn; and Susan L. Smith, 40161 Buckingham Court.

To achieve the honor, students must have taken at least 14 hours of classes and maintained a point average of 3.5 out of a possible 4.0 average (all A's).

OFFICE REMODELED—The offices of C. Harold Bloom insurance agency, 108 West Main street, have been entirely remodeled and the 30-year-old agency is inviting the public to "take a look" and have a cup of coffee this week. Complete new paneling, ceiling, carpeting and counter give the office a more spacious atmosphere. It also provides an attractive setting for the well-known display of game bagged by Owner Bloom. Greeting the public to the office, in addition to Bloom, are Richard Lyon and Ruth Ritchie.

Jimmy Matthews has a down payment ready for a summer cottage.

He put all of it into an NBD 90 day time certificate.

Jimmy made a smart move. By investing $1000 or more in a 90 day time certificate, he'll earn five percent annual interest. And get these options. Either he or the bank can redeem his certificate at the end of each 90 days. Or if it's renewed automatically, he can let his interest grow and earn five percent on top of five percent. If you've got $1000 that you're saving for something special, consider 90 day time certificates. Start taking a little more interest in your savings, without tying them up.

We'd ask you to compare it... but with what?

Comparing a Cadillac has always been a problem, for the car has long been clearly in a class of its own. In 1967, the challenge is even greater... because Cadillac has never before asserted its leadership so convincingly.

Start with beauty. Cast about for a luxury car contender that can list such styling advancements as Cadillac's dramatic new roof line, its forward sweeping front design and its graceful and flowing side contours. Then consider that there are eleven exciting examples of this kind of Cadillac beauty... as well as the totally new Eldorado, the world's finest personal car!

Consider also the incomparable newness of Cadillac's beautiful interiors and their unexcelled safety and convenience. There are passenger-guard door locks, a hazard warning system, a dual circuit braking system, latches that hold folding front seats securely in place and dozens of other safety features.

And, of course, there's performance. There's nothing else smoother than Cadillac's V-8 power; nothing else easier than Cadillac's improved variable ratio power steering; nothing else surer or steadier on the highway.

Visit your authorized dealer and measure Cadillac against your own motoring requirements. It's the only valid comparison test for the Standard of the World.

SPEAKING

for The Record

By BILL SLIGER

If legislation now under consideration in Lansing wins approval, Northville will lose its municipal court.

There may be long range advantages, but for the foreseeable future the action would serve only to penalize the community.

About five years ago the city council acted to establish a municipal court under an ordinance that provides the judge must be an attorney. The council knew at that time that the days of the old justice of the peace courts were numbered. Therefore, the creation of a municipal court, by vote of the people, was accomplished for the two-fold purpose of providing (1) improved court facilities; and (2) hopefully preventing loss of a local court when the state acted to replace all justice courts.

But the present legislation replaces municipal courts, too. It creates district courts. And under the plan now advocated Northville and Plymouth would compose a district served by one court.

Presently, Northville is blessed with an excellent municipal court. And full credit for its operation must go to Judge Charles McDonald, who has demonstrated that he possesses remarkable abilities to handle this most responsible position.

The court operates effectively, efficiently and profitably.

If the municipal court is abandoned in favor of a district court, this community, at least, will lose valuable court accessibility and familiarity with local problems. It will also lose time and service of its police department, which must send officers to court to testify. The bigger and more distant the court, the longer the time lost by members of the small-staffed force.

There's always the danger, too, that officers, reluctant to "waste" a day sitting around waiting in court, will be less influenced to take action against offenses considered "minor".

The Michigan Municipal League opposes abolishment of municipal courts and seeks only replacement of justice courts. And although we can see advantages to district courts that can attract more judge candidates and, perhaps, provide a salary adequate to maintain full-time status, under present circumstances Northville would stand to lose.

A newspaper trade journal carried a story recently about a newspaper in another state plagued by a rash of school board "executive sessions".

The editor of that paper decided that in the future these after-adjournment meetings would be designated as "secret" and not "executive", so that readers might not be confused as to the nature of the closed sessions.

We think that's a good idea — both in Northville and Novi (the latter board is getting the habit lately, too).

Ironically, as we adopt this clarification of terminology, the Northville board (Monday night) invited Editor Jack Hoffman to remain for the secret session. That made the proceedings sort of half-secret. Hoffman knows what happened, but just like the board members and administrators, he won't tell. That's what makes these secret sessions so effective and constructive — no one ever says a word about what happens, therefore there's never any possibility of conflicting interpretations or confusing rumors.

The invitation to Hoffman to remain for the secret session Monday night may have answered a question that has been puzzling for some time. Nearly every board member, as well as the chief administrator, has insisted that he (personally) is opposed to secret sessions ... if only other members would agree, the press would be free to remain.

Monday night two board members were absent. Who knows?

What school boards seem to fail to recognize is that the press is not campaigning to get its own foot in the door at secret sessions.

It wants the public inside. It believes that the public is just as capable of understanding knotty school problems as board members. And it believes that if there are fewer secret meetings there will be fewer rumors and better community understanding, sympathy and support for our schools.

If the public knows EXACTLY the reasoning behind decisions made at the table, rather than having to depend upon rumor, then it can at least appreciate that thoughtful consideration has been given all sides of the subject. (How many versions can you hear on the administrative pay hikes awarded Monday night without discussion, for example?)

There are times when closed-door sessions are necessary and justified. But they are far, far fewer than has become the custom locally.

Wayne county has put a damper on a local proposal to continue Wing street through to Hines drive.

County road commission and park officials said "no" flatly to the city's request for about 30 feet of park land so that the road might be cut through to connect with Hines drive a short block west of the Sheldon road (Center street) intersection.

The county's main objection was the creation of what it termed a "traffic hazard".

The project, which the city promised to explore, was proposed by the Northville Community Chamber of Commerce and John Carlo, executive manager of Northville Downs.

It's possible that the Downs could provide enough area for the extension through its own property. Carlo would like the road to provide an alternate route around the Center street entrance to the track's proposed, new clubhouse.

Top of the Deck

by JACK W. HOFFMAN

... "so when the bankroll got down to where we started pooling coins, we'd go out and catch butterflies and moths and sell 'em to this nutty professor. He'd pay us a couple of bucks for the lot."

A friend was outlining the various schemes he used in raising money during his college days.

When finally after a lengthy discourse he had unraveled the last tale I felt compelled to go him one better by admitting to a trick taught me by a bearded genius who earned his stripes by living an entire year on left-over cereals from campus dormitories.

Bufford Mundale was his name, sliced down to Buff by those who preferred not to touch off an explosion. He was an honor student, later graduated at the top of his class, and now holder of a job in the nation's Capitol — probably as an assistant to someone like Bobby Baker or Adam Clayton Powell.

At any rate, Buff one day proposed a trip to Kalamazoo. Without disclosing his scheme, he persuaded me to join him in thumbing our way to that city with the promise that we'd make twenty-five bucks — honestly and in only one day.

I should have guessed that this guy would come up with something undesirable, but nevertheless I followed him into the lobby of one of that city's hospitals.

"We're here to sell blood," he announced to the receptionist.

Pulling him aside immediately, I reminded him of an earlier ultimatum that I'd never again submit to a blood-letting. "You know the trouble I have giving blood. Besides, why come all the way to Kalamazoo when we would have done the same thing in Ann Arbor."

"Twenty-five bucks, that's why," he shouted. "Those tightwads in Ann Arbor give only fifteen. I promise this will be the last time."

The "last time" had come and gone several visits previously. But whenever we started running short of cash, somehow we always ended up at the hospital showing our "professional donor" cards. Just the sight of a needle had begun to give me the shakes until finally I had swallowed my pride and admitted my fear.

Reluctantly and already turning white, I offered myself up again.

Buff was one of those people who give blood as easily as turning on a faucet. It was over in two or three minutes. Not me. It took the nurses a good half-hour just to punch the right hole.

This time was no different. He was down and up in a jiffy, sitting on the edge of his couch and mentally counting his twenty-five bucks while I squeezed my fist and watched the ceiling spin.

After the nurse had shifted the needle from one arm to the other and a half-hour had stretched into an hour, I was asked to vacate the couch.

"I'm afraid that's all you have," she said. "Don't you feel well?"

What a ridiculous question. I was worse off than some patients in the ward-of-no-return. Wobbling up to the cashier's window, I watched the gal peel off the crisp bills for my companion. Twenty-five bucks. Admittedly, a pretty good salary for a college kid.

But when my turn came, she plunked down only a five-dollar bill.

"I'm sorry, but I'm afraid that's all we can give you," she apologized. "You gave just five dollars' worth."

Five dollars' worth of suffering. It barely paid for my excursion to Kalamazoo, but it turned out to be a good five-dollar cure. I took a job.

Buff? Well, he made a few more trips to Kalamazoo, finally tiring of that sport and turning to other pursuits. I went into the service and didn't see him for a few years. When he popped up again he was as bald as a watermelon. I didn't ask him but I've a hunch what happened to his hair.

LOOSE LEAF

By ROLLY PETERSON

Everybody loves a hero. And if that hero also happens to be a super star in the mold of Humphrey Bogart, James Cagney, et al Hollywood heroes, then the public is sure to go where our hero is. This is the most compelling, but insubstantial reason why viewers will walk through theatre doors to watch "The Sand Pebbles."

Steve McQueen is "the name" emblazoned on the marquee outside the Music Hall theatre in Detroit where "Pebbles" is presently showing. The role of Jake Holman, which McQueen assumes, is a natural for him.

Holman, in fact, fits the image of McQueen. He's an independent tough guy, a man with a mind of his own. In the beginning, his mind is on one thing only — engines. This particular engine is in the hold of an old gunboat, the USS San Pablo, that patrols the inland waters of the Yangtze river during the revolution of 1925 in China.

It's a soft life aboard the gunboat, which, ostensibly, is protecting the lives of Americans abroad from ruthless Chinese land barons. Or, at least, life has been peaceful. Enter Holman and all hell breaks loose. He's the rugged catalyst whose mere presence stirs up the crew. Does Holman budge? Not him. He defies his mates aboard the San Pablo and cottons only to his engine, his first love.

For Holman, you see, has had a rough boyhood. Circumstance trapped him while yet a youth and he was kicked out of school. Having sworn off human beings, engines are now his only friends. But what happens aboard the San Pablo humanizes Holman. He takes the part of the underdog, assails the odds, and although he may not defeat them, nevertheless, he is a man for having tried.

What happens within — aboard the San Pablo — reflects the turmoil seething without. The Chinese are rebelling against foreign intervention and against cruel war lords. Communism, the panacea, has found its first fertile soil among the discontent masses of the far east.

McQueen is no less battling the exterior forces of Communism. Not because of ideological reasons, for McQueen, with his dogged individualism, could not accept ideology — democratic or communistic — any more than he could accept the rigors of militarism, such as saluting, spit and polish. McQueen fights the forces, the masses of Communism because they brutally snuff out human values. And Holman, through association with Miss Eckert, a missionary teacher, and Frenchy Burgoyne, a ship mate, has become first and foremost, human.

This is the story, primarily an adventure, that Richard McKenna conceived in his novel, from which the movie, "Pebbles," is adapted. But the movie falls far short of the novel and its artistic conception.

A Robert Wise production, the movie is simply stretched veneer thin over three and one-half languishing hours in the typical fashion of all spectaculars. There's a cast of thousands, the sweeping grandeur of panavision, color by deluxe, multi-sound stereo and a 10-minute intermission to store up on popcorn and candy. But all this cannot rescue "Pebbles" from mediocrity.

Aside from McQueen, who is more McQueen than Holman (or is it vice versa?), there is little to recommend this box office splash. Its message — we are human first — is stretched beyond tolerances and breaks as it is humdrummed into us. Better to condense, clip, edit and make into a reasonable two-hour production, at most.

Furthermore, there are a few memorable characters. Most of them play second fiddle to an over worked theme of warring ideologies. As a result, the characters are drawn thin.

The commander of the gunboat, Lieutenant Collins, is no more than an automaton who spouts out America-the-Beautiful shibboleths. In the name of the flag, he kills where there is no necessity.

Holman's girl, Miss Eckert, is a chip off the block of the All-American girl, clean faced, home-made pie and sweet innocence. A sterile role, if you please.

Besides Holman, there is only one legitimate character, Frenchy. He reaches human proportions. The rest of the cast of thousands simply sprawl episodically and somewhat shapelessly over the screen for what seems like an eon.

We Lose More Customers That Way

Following is a transcript of a February 6 telephone conversation between Bill Sliger, Record publisher, and Sam Sherer, president of Detroit Federal Savings & Loan:

Sliger: "Hello, Sam. How have you been? Just called to see if you'd like to have lunch one of these days?"

Sherer: "It'd be a pleasure. Matter of fact, I'll be in Northville Saturday. Are you buying?"

Sliger: "Sure, Sam. You know me. Saturday will be great."

Sherer: "You sure there isn't anything else on your mind?"

Sliger: "As a matter of fact, Sam, I was wondering why you dropped that advertising campaign you've been running weekly on our editorial page. It was a great ad...remember—5¼% current annual rate, $1,000 minimum, six-months certificate, withdraw anytime, automatic renewal, and all that stuff."

Sherer: "We took in too much money. It came in so fast we can't find places to put it to work. You know we're very careful in selecting investments for our customers' money."

Sliger: "You mean the advertising was so effective that you have more money than you know what to do with?"

Sherer: "That's about it...at least for now. So, you see, there's no reason for us to advertise."

Sliger: "Hmmm."

Sherer: "See you Saturday for lunch."

Sliger: "Yeah, Sam. Hope you like hamburgers."

Schrader's Marks 60th Year

Nelson Schrader

Nelson Schrader, Jr.

Nelson Schrader, III

Both Northville, Plymouth Served by 3 Generations

Schrader's has been a familiar name in home furnishings in both Northville and Plymouth for well over a half-century.

And while 1967 marks the 60th anniversary of Schrader's Home Furnishings in Northville, it was 65 years ago — 1902 — that Nelson C. and Fred Schrader opened Schrader Bros. — Furniture and Undertakers — on Main street in Plymouth.

In 1907 the brothers opened a second furniture store and undertaking parlor in Northville — at the same location as the present Schrader's Home Furnishings, 111 North Center street. Nelson C. Schrader moved to Northville to operate the local store and the brothers continued to conduct their businesses as partners until 1925, when the partnership was dissolved. In 1931 Schrader's of Plymouth got out of the furniture business, but continued as undertakers. Schrader's Funeral Home in Plymouth is now owned and operated by Fred's son, Edwin.

Meanwhile, Schrader's of Northville continued to grow and become a leading name in the field of home furnishings in the area. It maintained a reputation for quality, consistent with the needs of the community it served. And it adopted, and continues to recognize, a policy of pricing that meets competitors handling the same lines of furniture.

In 1936 the founder of the Northville store, Nelson C. Schrader, died. The following year his son, N. C., Jr. completed studies at Michigan State and took over active management of the store. His son, N. C., III, was graduated from MSU in 1964, having majored in business administration, and is now learning the furniture business. One day he will take over the operation for his father.

Ironically, Schrader's again has stores in Northville and Plymouth. In 1963 Schrader's opened its Penniman avenue store.

Just as business has grown, so has the size of Schrader's. It now has some 42,000 square feet of display area — compared to less than 4,000 square feet in both stores a half-century ago.

And Nelson Schrader has records to prove that there have been single days in 1966 when the volume of business was more than the entire year of 1933. "But 1933 wasn't a very good year", he's quick to point out.

In 1965 Schrader's enlarged its Northville facilities by adding a "carpetland" in the adjoining building which once housed the post office.

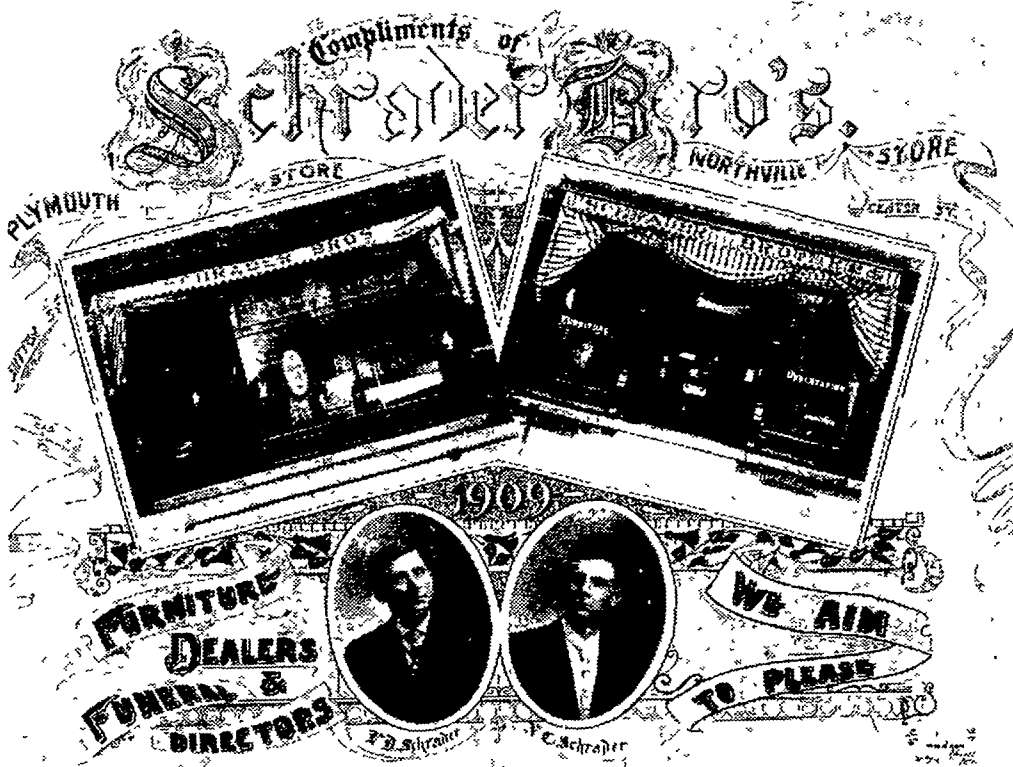

Employees with Schrader's now number 13. The oldest in line of service is Manager Harry Sedan, who has been with the Northville store since 1936. Schrader remembers when there were only three employees... "and we were operating an undertaking business, too". Schrader's sold out the undertaking portion of its business in 1953.

Schrader's maintains a tradition of operation that is unchanged. Good furniture, fair prices, and two sales a year... one in February and one in July. Their sales are always storewide. And if they don't have what you'd like in stock, they'll order it for you at sale prices!

One thing that has changed at Schrader's is the variety. "Upholstered furniture used to have one cover and a suite consisted of a davenport, chair and rocker. For color variety the seats were reversible", remembers Schrader.

Now there are hundreds of colors, covers, and styles.

You can see them all at both Schrader's stores in Northville and Plymouth. Now would be a good time to shop... they're having annual storewide anniversary sales, you know!

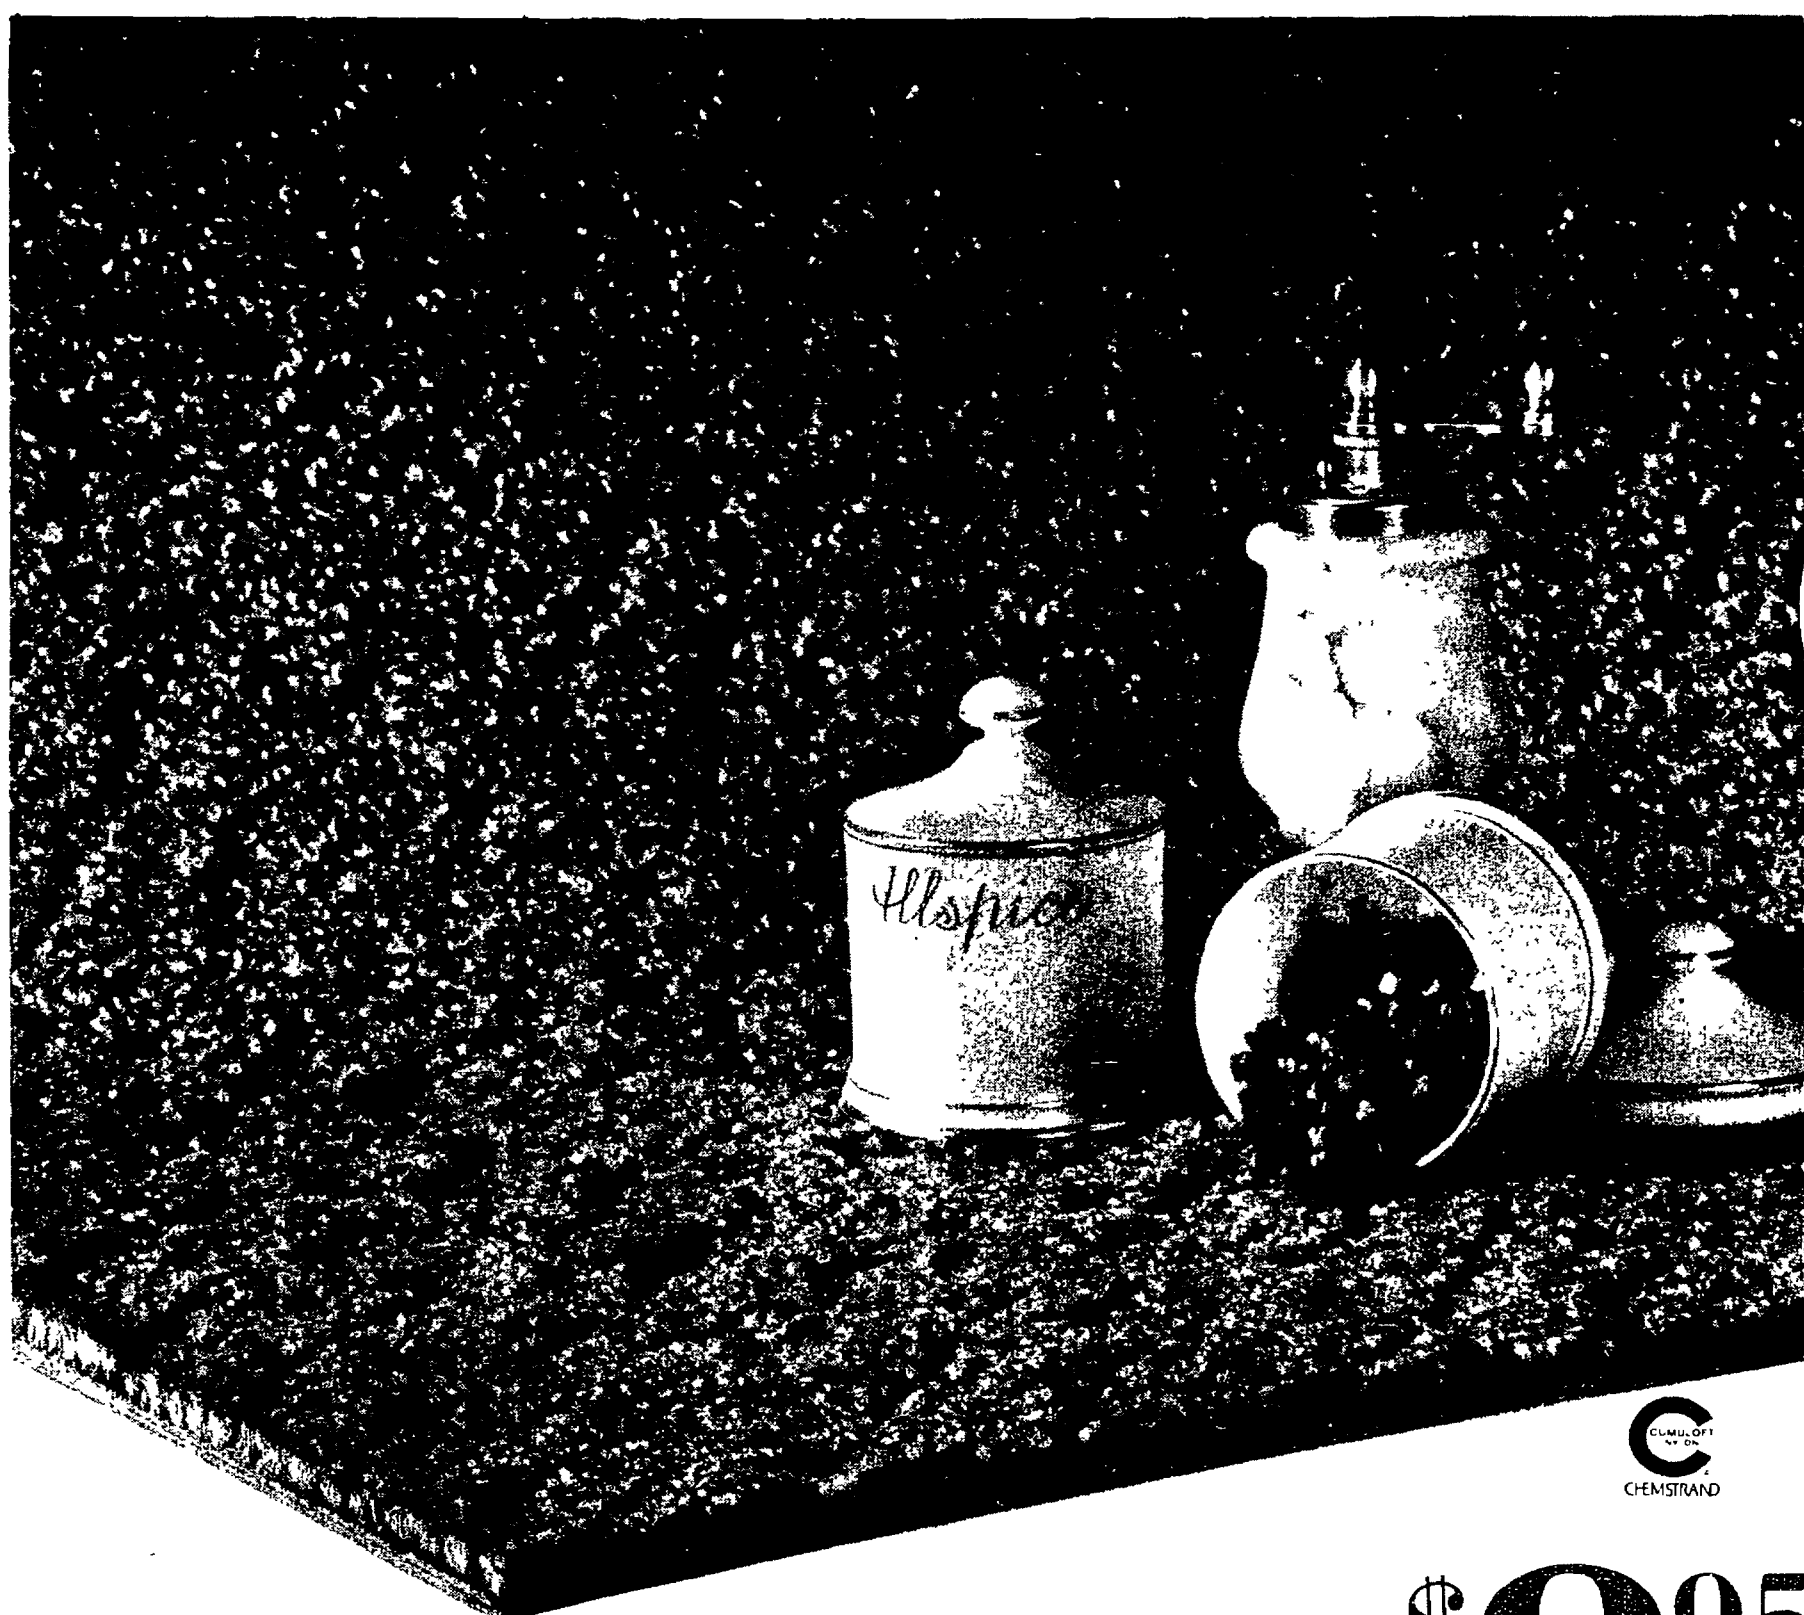

It was 'Schrader's Bros.' in Northville and Plymouth in 1909. Below is a picture taken in the Northville store about the same time.

Wood steals the scene in this show. Boldly, but beautifully, it flatters the clean, uncluttered design of the new Town Life Contemporary Collection by Kroehler. Carved solid Pecan wood frames the crescent shaped backs complemented by the "gunstock knuckle" on front of sculptured modern arm. Warm "Sable" finish enhances the natural beauty of the exposed wood. Choose jewel-tone fabrics in sophisticated muted shades or big, bold and bright modern prints. Also available, High back "carriage seat" pedestal chair that swivels and rocks, and matching ottoman.

HALLMARK is constructed of select pecan veneers and solid ash. The dramatic markings and patterns in the grain of the wood—and the contrasting hues are the result of the romantic whim of nature. This natural phenomenon creates interesting and exciting variety. The personality of the wood in this HALLMARK collection is carefully nurtured and enriched through skilled finishing to give you lasting enjoyment.
