Bus Vandalism Stirs City - School Dispute

Board Letter Hits Council Interference

An act of vandalizing 11 school buses by Northville high school youngsters two weeks ago has produced repercussions that have reached the highest levels of the city and school administrations.

Embroiled in the controversy over the past 10 days have been the city council, school board, their chief administrators, the police department and the high school administration and faculty.

While the controversy — which has been marked by sharp differences of opinion and varying interpretations of circumstances — now appears settled, it sparked an exchange of signed statements, official letters, an adoption of a resolution by teachers and a protest by one school board member against the content of a letter from the board to the city.

It also resulted in board action overriding recommendations for long suspension or expulsion by the superintendent, high school principal and teachers.

At least two secret sessions were called by the school board to deal with the issue; the council called a special meeting to outline its procedure.

The strong wording of the letter prompted Board Member Donald Lawrence to inform The Record that he "took exception to offensive statements" in the board's reply letter to the city.

(See both the city council letter and school board reply letter on page 6-A).

The incident is certain to have widened existing breaches within the school board and to have strained city-school relations. In its official reply to a city council letter the school board charged "it is indeed regrettable that the city council and the city administration thrust themselves into the administration and resolution of school problems before becoming informed as to the status of the individuals involved."

The controversy began Thursday evening, February 9. Northville police were questioning four youths and one parent about the bus vandalism. Police report that the boys met privately with the lone parent and said they would relate details of the vandalism if they could be assured that they would not be expelled from school.

Police Chief Samuel Elkins reports that he stated such a promise could not be made by police, but that he would contact school authorities.

The police chief then called Superintendent Alex Nelson, who came to the police department. It was approximately 10:30 p.m. According to Chief Elkins, the superintendent guaranteed the boys they would not be expelled. The superintendent stated that suspension was in order, but explained that this could run from three to five days or even as long as 15 days, but he would guarantee the boys that they would be suspended not more than three to five days, perhaps not at all, depending upon their records, police report. One boy was expected from any promises, another was assured he would not be kicked off an athletic team, Chief Elkins stated.

On the basis of these promises the police report that they received written statements from the youngsters which revealed how many had taken part in the act and how many knew about or helped plan the vandalism.

The next morning Chief Elkins reports that the superintendent asked to be relieved of his promise because he had obtained more facts about the boys.

City Manager Frank Ollendorff and the police chief reported these details to the city council Monday night, February 13. The manager and the chief expressed concern about the future effectiveness of the department with high school youngsters if the terms of the agreement were not upheld.

The council decided to send the manager, police chief and City Attorney Philip Ogilvie to the school board, which was in session that evening, to attempt to reach agreement in the matter.

As a result of that meeting, the board said it would take action the following Monday. (See story on this page).

Meanwhile, the council decided to put its version of the incident in writing and send a covering letter requesting the cooperation of the board.

High school administrators and teachers favored suspension of the youths involved for the rest of the semester.

Superintendent Nelson supported their stand, admitting that he had given assurances to some of the youths involved, but that closer examination of their records prompted him to favor suspension.

In a letter to the city manager Superintendent Nelson pointed out that "emotions were high" at the Thursday evening meeting with police and the youths. He stated that he was "saddened by the necessity for such a meeting" ... and that "this increases the difficulty of an accurate remembrance".

The superintendent explained that "on the basis of information given me at the time, I was able to say that two boys who were not actively involved in the bus vandalism would probably not be expelled." (One boy was not present at the meeting).

He explained that school administrators can suspend, but that expulsion takes board action. He said he agreed not to recommend expulsion, but that there would be suspension. "The chief then asked if the suspension would be three or five days. I believe it was at this point that I stated 'it might be,'" the superintendent added.

Superintendent Nelson said he reviewed normal suspension procedure with parents and the chief. He added that on Friday morning "after scrutiny of the boys' school records and conferences with the principal, I called Chief Elkins to state that additional information concerning the boys made it necessary for me to request a release from commitments I made the previous evening".

In its letter to the council the school board revealed the decision it had reached at a Saturday meeting. It held a hearing with the students and parents Monday to explain its decision.

IGLOO OPEN HOUSE — It's so authentic looking, neighborhood children—and adults too, can't resist a visit to the igloo built by the Francis Gazlay children at 221 South Rogers street.

Topped off by an American flag, the icy confines don't exactly have the comforts of home, but these two nine-year-olds, Fritz McKay and Richard Curl, think it's just right. They can even stand up inside.

Bowling Alley Liquor Opposed

A strong appeal to deny a request for a bowling alley liquor license was heard Monday night by the Northville city council.

Mrs. W. C. Becker, 543 Dubuar, submitted petitions signed by 236 community residents opposing a favorable recommendation from the city to an application by Northville Lanes, 132 South Center street, for a license to operate a bar serving alcoholic beverages.

The council will not make its recommendation until March 6. Only three members of the council were present Monday night, Mayor Pro Tem John Canterbury and Councilmen Del Black and Wallace Nichols. Canterbury said he would prefer a full council before taking action. In addition a required police report on the applicant had not been completed.

Mrs. Becker made a convincing presentation. The council also received a letter opposing the licensing from the Woman's Society of Christian Service of the Northville Methodist church.

In her appeal to the council Mrs. Becker praised the bowling establishment as now operated and stated that issuing of a liquor license would change the environment. "There are a limited number of public places for youngsters to go for recreation now", she pointed out.

Mrs. Becker, whose husband is president of the school board, said she fully realized the difficulty public bodies face in making such decisions and that she was not trying to complicate their job, but that she felt the public's opinion was important in such matters. She noted that the council has the power to review thereby implying "a right to oppose".

Mrs. Becker explained that her own children had enjoyed bowling at Northville Lanes, that she knew the present operator would conduct a bar operation properly, but that the business could change hands.

She said that there had been very few refusals to sign the petition. Mrs. Becker added that she believed the owner "could still make a good living without a liquor license."

Her objections also pointed out that the request was for a "resort" license, which limits operation to 10 months of the year. She said this was a means of circumventing the quota regulations for liquor licenses in the city.

Councilman Wallace Nichols asked Mrs. Becker if limiting hours of the bar operation so it would be closed during youth-leagues would be favored. Mrs. Becker replied that this could lead to a reduction of hours for the youngsters so that bar service could be lengthened.

City Manager Frank Ollendorff asked City Attorney Philip Ogilvie to clarify exactly what the role of the council should be in reviewing such license requests. He wondered if the council merely reports on the character and qualifications of the applicant, or if it is expected to take a position on the desirability of issuing the license.

Ogilvie said he would review the regulations and report to councilmembers prior to the March 6 meeting. The council's recommendation goes to the State Liquor Control Commission, which makes the final determination in issuance of licenses.

Terrill III

Roy M. Terrill of 50900 West Six Mile road, former Northville township treasurer, has been confined to Whitehall Convalescent Home, 43455 West 10 Mile road, following a stroke early last week.

According to Mrs. Terrill, he is responding to therapy treatments. Because of his condition, however, visits are being restricted.

But Sets Probation Terms Board Removes Suspensions

Although suspensions of three Northville high school boys charged — along with a fourth — with vandalizing 11 school buses recently have been lifted, apparently only one of them has elected to return to school here.

Three of the boys were given the opportunity of re-enrolling Monday night following a lengthy closed hearing before the board of education. Present were parents of the boys, one of the boys himself, and an attorney.

The fourth boy, a 17-year-old senior was permitted to voluntarily withdraw from the Northville school system, and apparently he has decided to "drop out" of school entirely.

Principal Fred Holdsworth last week had recommended expulsion of all four boys.

Here are the decisions made by the board in lifting the suspensions:

---One of the three 17-year-old seniors was given the option of returning here or continuing night school in Plymouth, and he chose to continue in Plymouth.

---Two other boys, one a 16-year-old junior and the other a 17-year-old senior, were given the option of returning to school here under a probationary status or make up classes at night school in Plymouth. They were told to report to the high school principal Tuesday morning to discuss the terms of the probation prior to re-entering school. Only one boy reported Tuesday, leading officials to conclude that the other had decided to continue his studies in Plymouth.

None of the four boys — through Tuesday — had been in school here since their suspensions more than a week ago.

Whether or not the boys will be permitted to participate in graduation exercises here next June — upon successfully completing school in Plymouth — has not yet been decided. The board left this decision up to the principal and Superintendent Alex Nelson, who indicated Tuesday that no decision had been reached.

Here are the kinds of terms of the probation affecting two of the boys:

---Strict adherence to all normal school rules, including attendance;
---Exclusion from extra-curricular activities, except for one youth who will be permitted to take part in sports.

---Full restitution for bus damage.

---Parents are advised to set up some kind of curfew program for their sons and to encourage their sons to attend church.

---They may not drive a car to school.

---At least one of the boys has agreed to "work off" his share of restitution by working Saturday's for the school system doing odd jobs such as washing buses.

Violation of any one of these or other terms may mean immediate expulsion.

One of the four youths has pleaded guilty of malicious damage before Municipal Judge Charles McDonald and he has been fined $110 and placed on probation for six months. Trial of another has been set for next Monday, and a third faces possible prosecution through the juvenile division of the county probate court.

No criminal charges were filed against the fourth youth.

A fifth boy who allegedly took part in planning the vandalism was not suspended, nor was he charged by Northville police.

There's Shortage Of Candidates For City Council

Only five days remain for city council candidates to file petitions for the April 3 election.

And through Tuesday the tally showed just enough candidates to fill the vacancies.

Mayor A. M. Allen has announced he will seek re-election for the two-year term as mayor. Councilman Wallace Nichols intends to run for re-election to a four-year term. But Councilman John Canterbury has stated that he is retiring after three terms.

William Bingley, who had taken out petitions for council, announced that he is withdrawing.

Paul Folino is the newest and second candidate for one of the two council openings.

Prospective candidates have until Tuesday, February 28 to file petitions.

Folino has run for the council on two previous occasions, the last time in 1961. He is well known in the community as a businessman and active participant in chamber of commerce and retail activities. Folino, 38, is a State Farm Insurance agent with offices at 115 West Main street. He is married and lives at 210 South Center street.

Council petitions are available at the city clerk's office in city hall. Petitions require signatures of at least 50, but not more than 75, registered voters.

Only two of the five-member council whose terms do not expire in April are Councilmembers Del Black and Beatrice Carlson. They have two more years to serve on their current terms.

Council Briefs

Northville's city council was caught short-handed Monday night. Mayor A. M. Allen is vacationing in Missouri, while Councilwoman Beatrice Carlson is attending a beautification conference in Washington, D.C.

With Mayor Pro Tem John Canterbury at the gavel and Councilmen Del Black and Wallace Nichols providing a quorum the council handled the following matters in a shorter-than-normal two-hour meeting:

---passed a beautification ordinance calling for establishment of a nine-member clean-up commission;

---set March 6 as the public hearing date for a proposed amendment to the zoning ordinance providing for revised rear and side-yard requirements in multiple dwelling areas;

---adopted a resolution providing for minimum employment standards of the Michigan Law Enforcement Officer's Training Council so that the city may qualify for state funds for police training;

---approved $8 per hour payment for appraising all land in city for reassessment program; Manager Ollendorff reported that approximately 140 hours were involved;

---instructed the city attorney to determine what steps can be taken with Novi to alleviate drainage onto Northville Heights number two property.

PRETTY REMINDER—Sue LaRue reminds area slow-pokes that the deadline for obtaining 1967 license plates is next Tuesday. Since the Northville Secretary of State's office has been closed, motorists must now obtain their plates elsewhere. Most are going to Plymouth where the office is located at 181 West Liberty.

Plymouth Concert Features Chorale

Plymouth Symphony Orchestra's fifth concert of the current series will be conducted Sunday, March 5 at the Plymouth high school, 650 Church street.

The concert, now in its 21st season, will include Eine Kleine Nachtmusik by Mozart, Prelude and Lovedeath, "Tristan and Isolde" by Wagner, and A German Requiem by Brahms.

It will feature the Kenneth Jewell Chorale.

The concert is being performed on the same day of the opening of the centennial celebration in that community, and the symphony society board has dedicated the program to the centennial.

All concerts are open to the public without charge. Baby sitting service is available in Room 106.

Immediately following the March 5 concert, which will begin at 4 p.m., the audience will be invited to join the orchestra, the Chorale and the society board in a "Symphony Soiree". Coffee, punch and cookies will be served in the auditorium of the high school.

About the Chorale: Kenneth Jewell is director of personnel at Interlochen Arts Academy. He commutes to Detroit each week to rehearse and perform with the chorale.

The group consists of 40 high trained vocal artists, who are appearing with the orchestra for the third consecutive season. Soloists for this performance are Carolyn Grimes, a soprano and Pastor Walter Scarvie, baritone.

Pastor Scarvie is a Lutheran minister, with a church in the Mt. Clemens area.

AIDES OF YEAR—Mrs. Lucy V. Steeper of 19320 Marilyn, one of two psychiatric aides of the year for Northville State Hospital, was presented with a $25 savings bond for outstanding service to patients at the annual tea sponsored by the hospital's Patient Council. Speaker for the occasion was Zolton A. Ferency, chairman of the Democratic State Central committee, which made the presentation to Mrs. Steeper, mother of three children, who joined the hospital's staff in August, 1955.

Wixom Man Takes Walled Lake Bride

Dianne L. Deyo and James E. Hughes repeated their marriage vows before the Rev. Father James Mayworn on Saturday, February 4 at St. Williams Catholic Church of Walled Lake.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ted Deyo of Walled Lake and the bridegroom's parents are Mr. and Mrs. Robert Hughes of 28080 Wixom road.

For her wedding, the bride chose a Victorian antique gown, featuring a bodice decorated with lace. The skirt flowed into a chapel train, and she wore a fingertip veil. Her flowers were red and white carnations.

Serving as maid of honor was Susan Maki. Bridesmaids were Mrs. Gary Stryk, Krista Maki and Kathy Koolman.

The best man was Richard Hughes of Wixom, and ushers were Michael Greenlee, Gary Stryk and Harold Begzos.

For her daughter's wedding, Mrs. Deyo wore a light aquamarine wool ensemble with matching accessories. Her corsage was a white orchid. Mrs. Hughes' dress was of gold antique silk with matching accessories.

Greeting guests was the bride's grandmother, Mrs. E. W. Hare of Detroit. The wedding reception was held at the Rotunda Inn where a smorgasbord dinner was served.

Following the reception, the newlyweds left for Hancock, Michigan where they will make their home.

The bridegroom is a senior at Michigan Technological university. He will graduate in June with a degree in electrical engineering. The bride attended Michigan State university and Northern Michigan university.

Engaged

Judith Zayti

The betrothal of Judith Ann Zayti to Joseph Slowik was announced at a family gathering by the bride elect's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Benny A. Zayti, 10862 West Seven Mile road.

The prospective bridegroom is the son of Dr. and Mrs. Stanley Slowik of Auburn Heights.

Miss Zayti is a graduate of the University of Detroit and is currently a child welfare worker for the department of social services.

Mr. Slowik is a communication arts graduate of Michigan State university. A June 30th wedding is planned.

BIRTHS

Captain and Mrs. Richard M. Atchison of Wright Patterson Air Force Base announce the birth of a baby boy on February 6. The baby, named Scott MacRae, weighed 7 pounds, 14 ounces. He has a sister, Ann, 19 months old.

Grandparents are Dr. and Mrs. R. M. Atchison of 501 West Dunlap and Mr. and Mrs. Albert Anders of Sacramento, California.

Mr. and Mrs. Stewart C. Oldford of Plymouth announce the birth of a daughter, Amy Ruth, on February 10 at St. Joseph Mercy Hospital in Ann Arbor.

Maternal grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. John C. Burkman of Northville, and the paternal grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. Stewart Oldford of Plymouth.

In Our Town

By JEAN DAY

THIS IS A Monday town - with Mothers club, garden club and the Questers antiques club as well as the city commission and school board all scheduling regular meetings on the first business day of the week.

Baseline Questers society chapter will have its February meeting next Monday at the home of Mrs. Charles Ely, 247 West Street, beginning with dessert at 1 p.m. Mrs. Ely is to present a paper on dolls, both antique and international. Mrs. Ely's own collection of dolls, garnered on trips the Elys have taken, will be on display.

FORMER MICHIGAN Supreme Court Justice Otis Smith has been invited to speak on "The Trend in Supreme Court Decisions Today" at the guest night meeting of Northville Mothers club at 8 p.m. next Monday at the home of Mrs. William Sliker, 18439 Fermaugh court.

The Honorable Justice Smith, who was defeated in the Republican landslide last November, previously had served also as state auditor general.

A Democrat, he makes his home in Flint. Mrs. Al Wistert, program chairman, reports there is to be a question-and-answer session following the talk.

NORTHVILLE Branch of the National Farm and Garden association, in addition to regular meetings on the second Monday of each month, has been holding a series of Monday workshop sessions in preparation for the annual Tri-Club Luncheon of the Northville, Rosedale Gardens and Plymouth garden clubs. This year the Northville club will be hostess for the luncheon to be held April 11 at Botsford Inn.

Mrs. William Slatery, club president, announces that the program will be a colorful slide presentation of the 49th annual International Flower Show held in New York. Compiled by Better Homes and Gardens magazine, this program, Mrs. Slatery confides, is much sought after and is booked far in advance.

Centerpieces for the luncheon are being fashioned in the workshop meetings under the direction of Mrs. E. O. Whittington.

HARPER HOSPITAL School of Nursing's alumnae association will hold its annual banquet honoring the class of 1967 next Thursday evening, February 23, at the Hotel Pontchartrain. Miss Ruth Knapp, a member of the class of 1916 who long has been an active alumna, will attend with her guest, Mrs. B. A. Zayti.

Dr. Oscar Brown will speak and show slides of work and conditions in Pakistan.

NORTHVILLE'S active Senior Citizens club has welcomed five new members. They are Mrs. Mary Asher, Mr. and Mrs. Harold Hatchett, Mrs. Lillian Jackson and Earl Heard. At its last meeting the club counted a record attendance of 73 members and three guests at a business session.

The club will meet for a cooperative dinner to be followed by a social hour at 6:30 p.m. Tuesday, February 28, in the Scout-recreation building.

WHEN YOU have traveled more than 500,000 miles, you are certain to have encountered far-from-average tourist experiences. Northville Attorney Clifton Hill admitted to Northville Woman's club last Friday that these are the experiences he seeks - and encourages.

He told of cutting wires to Russian "mikes" hidden in the chandelier of his Moscow hotel room - and then being billed for 80 cents' worth of tape. In Tai Pai, he recounted, he discovered the profession of blind massagers which flourishes because of native modesty, and thus gives the blind a livelihood.

At the meeting Mrs. E. V. Ellison, club president, welcomed two new members: Mrs. Alex Johnson, Jr., and Mrs. J. Hardee Bethea.

News Around Northville

Mr. and Mrs. Victor O. Lonn, 40733 Apollo street, were honored Saturday evening at a surprise silver wedding anniversary celebration planned by their two older daughters and their son-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Annett (the former Judy Lonn) of Detroit and Miss Vicki Lonn.

A three-tier wedding cake centered the dinner table at Hillside Inn, Plymouth, as 50 guests, including neighbors, former neighbors from Detroit and friends, gathered to fete the couple. Also present were their three younger children, Patricia, Elizabeth and Victor J. The Lonnns were married February 28, 1942.

One of the highlights was a champagne toast given the Lonnns by a close friend, Lorne Steeper.

Twirler's Performance Amazes Contest Judges

"Once in a lifetime."

That's how officials viewed the fantastic scoring of 13-year-old Sharon Thomas of Northville in the World Twirling association contest Saturday at Melrose, Ohio.

Not only did the Northville junior high schooler cop the grand championship by taking first place in each of the five categories that she entered, but she also was crowned the World Valentine Queen.

The most points any one contestant from the Eastern United States could compile was 25. That's exactly what Sharon scored: First in twirling, first in best appearing majorette in military strutting, first in military strutting, first in fancy best appearing, and first in fancy strutting.

Daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Jack Thomas of 883 Allen drive, the eighth-grader just last December was judged the third-runner-up in the Most Beautiful Majorette contest. She also won a number of other prizes in that meeting held at Atlantic City.

U-M Glee Club To Appear Here

Two months after the internationally famous University of Michigan Men's Glee club makes its March 9 appearance at Northville high school the club will be embarking on a world tour which will include competing for world honors at the International Musical Elstedtdof in Longollen, Wales.

The glee club, second oldest college glee club in America, on its last trip to Wales in 1963 won first place in the male choir competition. Earlier, in 1959, the club was the first American choir ever to win this competition.

The club's appearance here, at 8 p.m. Thursday, March 9, under sponsorship of Northville Mothers Club, promises to be a full, musical treat with numbers by soloists, solo groups and by the full 90-voice choir.

The club has been hailed as "young engaging and adventurous" by music critics. It is under the direction of Philip Duey, chairman of the voice department of the School of Music and chairman of the doctoral program for voice majors at the university. He came to the University of Michigan as a professor of vocal music in 1947 after a distinguished career as a professional singer.

A veteran of 5,000 radio broadcasts, Director Duey sang on coast-to-coast programs as featured soloist. He was a member with James Melton of the Revelers quartet. He became the only Michigan member elected into membership of the American Academy of Teachers of Singing in 1960. He was elected president of the National Association of the Teachers of Singing for the 1966-67 biennium.

Tickets for the concert are available from any Mothers club member or from Mrs. William Wiley, ticket chairman. They are $1.50 for adults and $1 for students.

Receives All A's At University

A Northville girl won a distinguished student rating at Purdue university recently by compiling straight-A grades during the fall semester at the Lafayette, Indiana school.

She is Deborah Ann Baldwin, 37955 Rhonwood Drive, a home economics major.

Another girl, Lynn Ellen Tipton of 800 West Drive, also was cited for exceptional grades. She is a humanities major.

Deborah was listed among the university's top one-percent, while Lynn was among the top six-percent.

Straight-A students will receive special recognition at the president's scholastic honors banquet on May 16, along with outstanding students in academic honors program.

To qualify for the distinguished rating, a student must have a grade index of at least 5.5 points out of a possible of 6.0 in at least 14 hours of academic credit and have no grade below C (four points).

Academy Cites Two Local Boys

Two Northville boys have been cited for excellence at special ceremonies honoring award winners for the second quarter at Roosevelt Military Academy in Aledo, Illinois.
They are David King, son of Mr. and Mrs. Eugene King of 512 West Dunlap, and Linwood Snow, son of Mrs. Elaine Snow of 130 West Cady.
Cadet King was cited for excellence in concert band and Cadet Snow for excellence in military and beginners band.
The awards were presented by Colonel Glen G. Millikan, superintendent of the academy, which is located in Northwestern Illinois and has an enrollment of 165 cadets.
Cadet King has attended Roosevelt for two years and is a sophomore, while Cadet Snow has been at the academy for one year and is an eighth grader.

City, School Letters

February 18, 1967

Northville School Board
Northville Public Schools
Northville, Michigan

Gentlemen:

Enclosed for your information are copies of statements regarding the regrettable differences which have developed between school and city officials concerning disciplinary action taken, or to be taken, against three students.

We can appreciate that there are many complications involved in these cases and that the School Board and School Administration, as well as the City Government, have been put in a difficult position. Indeed, there may be no solution that is altogether satisfactory to all parties concerned. However, we earnestly ask that you give careful consideration to our sincere conclusion that the overriding issue is one of moral integrity. The keeping of one's word or promise is of utmost long term importance in its effect on our citizenry, most especially on our young people. This is particularly significant when it involves elected and appointed officials who are expected to set the highest example and when it involves the question of trust and respect for police officials.

Compared with the central moral issue involved, we suggest that other questions or issues, while of immediate concern, are in the long run clearly subordinate. Such include:

(1) Should the Police Department have asked for a promise in behalf of the accused in the first place?

(2) Should any promises have been made by the Superintendent?

(3) What would be the best and proper punishment for the offenders?

We regret that we find ourselves involved in differences with other elected officials of the community. But, as stated above, we believe we are in-trically involved in this situation.

We ask that you give further consideration to our point of view. Perhaps the integrity of all concerned can be protected and, at the same time, the disciplinary objectives of the school can be achieved through alternate and varied penalties.

The City Council would appreciate the opportunity of further discussion with your Board before final action is taken. Our entire group, or representatives of the City, would be most pleased to meet with you at your convenience.

Very truly yours,
John S. Canterbury
(in the absence of Mayor Allen)

February 19, 1967

John S. Canterbury
Mayor Pro Tem

Dear Mr. Canterbury:

This letter is in response to yours of the 18th, addressed to the Northville Board of Education. Although there is considerable disagreement and misunderstanding over the commitment which Mr. Nelson made to individuals who feloniously vandalized the buses, as is witnessed by examination and comparison of the statements of the accused, Chief Elkins, Sgt. Westfall, and the City attorney, Mr. Ogilvie, the Northville Board of Education is prepared to take the following steps in the interest of preserving harmony between the City of Northville and the School District:

1. "Live up" to the alleged promise made to the (3) boys - names deleted - (one returned to school on Monday, February 13, after it was determined that his part consisted only of knowledge of the proposed destruction. He was placed on probation following a conference involving the principal, the student and his father. He has in fact, been in attendance at school for five days prior to the City Attorney's letter accusing the district of not living up to its promise.)

2. The students will be re-admitted under a reasonable contract of behavior standards, reviewed by the board and agreed to by both the parents and the student.

3. Work out alternative measures for the benefit of the students and their parents on an individual basis.

It is indeed regrettable that the City Council and the City Administration thrust themselves into the administration and resolution of school problems before becoming informed as to the status of the individuals involved. It is my understanding that the two seniors will earn credits so that they may qualify for a diploma from Northville High School this year. The other, a junior, may return to Northville High School next fall, if his behavior in the meantime indicates that he really desires an education. The fourth student has already violated the terms of his suspension. In view of the fact that Chief Elkins indicates that no promises were made to him, the District feels free to take whatever action seems necessary in his case.

While the behavior of these individuals has co-mingled the concerns of the School District and the City, confusion as to jurisdictional rights should not exist. The School has not, and does not intend to direct the city's efforts at law enforcement. Rather, it is in the interest of both governmental bodies to cooperate for the benefit of the total community.

Since the Northville Board of Education is prepared to readmit the students on an individual basis, there is no longer any necessity of involving city officials any further in what is clearly school business. As I stated to you earlier this morning on the phone, it is our intent to try to make the parents and the boys realize that their chances for success will be extremely small in a school situation where they will daily face hostility from their classmates, and a microscopic examination from the teaching staff. It would be far kinder to encourage the students to continue their education in an atmosphere which is less pressured and more conducive to a successful outcome for them. Such is the case in the evening school program in which they are presently enrolled. (The Board has a copy of a letter signed by thirty-one teachers at the high school which requests both suspension and a psychological examination for the boys involved, the suspension to last for the rest of the semester).

In closing, it is the opinion of the Board that its superintendent, Mr. Nelson, had full authority to take whatever steps he felt were necessary in the original situation as it existed Thursday evening. His intent, I'm sure you realize, was to cooperate with police officials to resolve the problem at hand. Your attorney, Mr. Ogilvie, and Mr. Ollendorff suggested to Mr. Nelson, Mr. Holdsworth, and me last Wednesday afternoon that perhaps Mr. Nelson had not been properly advised of the situation and that he had been unfairly requested to commit himself in a situation before all of the information was at hand. (As to the nature of that commitment - the evidence you supplied is still inconclusive, except that a promise of no expulsion was made to (3) boys named.)

While the intent of the School District will continue to be harmonious cooperation with law enforcement officials, it must be stated here that in the future the District will not expect to be asked to bargain away their rights to disciplinary action to help secure the City's legal objectives.

We hope that the course of action outlined on page one will resolve the problem which is our mutual concern, to your satisfaction. Our major concern at this point is the effect of any action which would make the continued education of the individuals involved more difficult.

Sincerely, Wilfred C. Becker
President, Northville Bd. of Education

Northville Faces League Foe

When the buzzer signals the beginning of the district tournament at Northville high school next Tuesday, Northville will encounter its first opposition. The team? None other than Wayne-Oakland Conference foe, Clarenceville.

DISTRICT DRAW-Ronald Horwath, assistant high school principal, picks a slip out of the box held by Dave Longridge, Northville athletic director and basketball coach. It was part of the Tuesday's drawings for the district tournament which begins next week at Northville high school. Northville will square off against league rival, Clarenceville, in the first game of the opening round Tuesday. Game time is 7 p.m.

The game is scheduled to get underway at 7 p.m.

That was the luck of the draw Tuesday. Being the host school, Northville was automatically eliminated from gaining one of the two first-round byes. Lutheran West and Dearborn Crestwood gobbled up that distinction.

Second game of the first round Tuesday will pit Dearborn Riverside against South Lyon at 8:45 p.m.

Thursday's schedule will find the winner of the Northville-Clarenceville game taking on Lutheran West at 7 p.m. and the winner of the Riverside-South Lyon scrap facing Dearborn Crestwood in the nightcap at 8:45.

The finals will be played at 7:30 p.m. Saturday.

Northville will face Clarenceville in a rubber game for them. Northville soundly beat the Trojans here early in the season, 63-47, but the Trojans eked out a 61-59 victory in the return match at Clarenceville.

On the basis of records and home court advantage, Northville assumes the favorite's role. In addition, the Mustangs are the twice defending district champions.

It's a toss-up from there on. Riverside (9-7) gets the nod on the basis of record, but cross-town rival, Crestwood (4-11), has beaten Riverside twice. Once in a double overtime and once in triple overtime. Both schools are in the Tri-River league.

South Lyon (4-11), a Southeastern league team, matches Crestwood on paper. On a given night, the Lions could be troublesome, reports say. Northville beat South Lyon, 64-53, in the opening game of the season on South Lyon's home court.

Lutheran West (2-13) is relegated to a definite underdog role. A perennial loser, West at one time had a string of 50 losses in a row. West is a member of the Mid-Wayne league.

THE ZONING ORDINANCE OF THE CITY OF NORTHVILLE

THE CITY OF NORTHVILLE ORDAINS:

Part I. The Zoning Ordinance of the City of Northville, as amended, is hereby amended by amending Section 6A.06 and Section 6A.08, respectively, to read as follows:

Section 6A.06 SIDE YARDS. Each lot upon which a multiple dwelling is erected, shall have two (2) side yards each having a width of not less than ten (10) feet. Providing, however, where the multiple dwelling is designed with dwelling units facing or backing up to a side lot line, the side yard shall not be less than thirty-five (35) feet.

Section 6A.08 REAR YARDS. Each lot upon which a multiple dwelling is erected, with dwelling units facing or backing up to the rear lot line, shall have a rear yard with a depth of not less than thirty-five (35) feet.

PART II. SEVERABILITY CLAUSE. Should any section clause or provision of this Amending Ordinance be declared by the Court to be invalid, the same shall not affect the validity of the remaining portions of such section or of this Ordinance or part thereof other than the part so declared to be invalid.

PART III. CONFLICTING PROVISIONS REPEALED. Any Ordinance or parts of Ordinance in conflict, herewith, are hereby repealed.

PART IV. This Amendment to the Zoning Ordinance dated March 18, 1946, as amended, shall become operative and effective on the 6th day of March A.D., 1967.

2 Brothers Nabbed Looting Local Garage

Two brothers whose residence remains unknown were surprised early Sunday morning while robbing G. E. Miller Sales and Service at 127 Hutton street. Dennis E. and Leonard A. Smith were arraigned the same day before Judge Joseph F. Sutka in the Wayne County prosecutor's office. Inkster. Sutka is a Wyandotte municipal judge.

Charged with breaking and entering a business establishment, both men stood mute. A $1,000 cash bond was set on each man. Examination will be held Monday before Judge Charles McDonald in Northville Municipal court.

While on routine patrol at about 3:05 a.m., Northville Patrolmen Earl Van Cise, Roger Beukema and Howard Reeves spotted the two men in Miller's garage. The officers pinned the men in the building and immediately called for assistance.

Additional Northville police, Plymouth police and Wayne county sheriff's deputies responded. They then went in after the two men, Police Chief Samuel Elkins reported.

They were flushed out and apprehended, the chief said. One was found hiding in the cab of a truck parked in the garage, the other was found hiding in a loft in the back of the building, Elkins said.

"They said they just wanted a place to sleep," Elkins reported. Entrance to the garage was gained by knocking plywood out of a back door and reaching through to remove a bar locking the door, Elkins stated.

The cigarette machine had been broken into, the chief reported, and $11.70 in change and three 22-caliber shells were found where they had been discarded behind a waste paper can.

They also broke into an upstairs office, Elkins said. It was ransacked. The dial and hinges had been broken off the safe in the office, but police apparently arrived as the thieves were trying to break the safe open.

The car the two men were driving had Minnesota license plates, the chief said. As of Monday, he said local police were awaiting further information about the two men.

Municipal Court

A 25-year-old Northville man is serving 30 days in jail after pleading guilty to two charges in Northville Municipal court on February 17.

Dennis G. Cutlip, 9421 Chubb road, was unable to pay his fines and thus was sent to jail. He was ordered to pay a $100 fine and $15 costs or serve 30 days for driving recklessly on Eight Mile road between Taft and Beck roads.

He was also ordered to pay a $10 fine and $5 costs or serve 30 days for driving on an expired license. Since the sentences were concurrent, he must serve just 30 days.

Raymond E. Coley, 29, of Walled Lake was also fined $100 on the added count of reckless driving. Infraction, which occurred January 28, led to a property damage accident as Coley was driving on Novi road south of Allen drive.

Charles Young, 46, of 146 North Center street was found guilty of assault and battery by Judge Charles McDonald. Young paid a $82.50 fine, which was the result of a disturbance that arose at 146 North Center.

Robert F. Boucher of Plymouth, who pleaded guilty to being drunk and disorderly in the lobby of the P&A theatre, was ordered to pay a $38.50 fine or serve 30 days in jail.

Dennis Raisanen, 18, of Livonia pleaded guilty to having liquor in his possession on Northville road and was fined $38.50.

A motion to dismiss the case against Warren J. Faulkner, 18, of 24811 Novi road, was granted on receipt of a 1,000-word theme. Faulkner was among 16 youths, charged with being a disorderly person, who were involved in a teenage disturbance at Grace and Dunlap street on January 24.

Previously, charges against 14 other youths were dismissed upon the receipt of a 1,000-word theme on "What I learned from my experience."

McKarns Elected To Cattle Group

Donald McKarns, Northville, has been elected to membership in the American Angus Association at St. Joseph, Missouri.

There were 543 memberships issued to breeders of registered Aberdeen-Angus in the United States during past month.

Old Directory Of Northville Found in Desk

Rummaging through a desk in her home this past week, Mrs. Elmer DeKay of 431 Yerkes came across a small Northville directory, dated June 1894.

Published by F. S. Neal, former publisher of The Record, the directory was "approved" by the village board on May 23, 1894 and listed names and residences of the community together with the names and addresses of businesses.

Among those persons and businesses listed were:

Dr. J. M. Swift, J. A. Attridge, veterinary surgeon and dentist; Mrs. Neal, teacher of instrumental and vocal music; Ambler Mercantile company; Brown & Company photographers; the Park House, "everything first class, electric lights, steam heat", corner of Main and Center street; the Yarnall Gold Cure company institute, Dr. William H. Yarnall, medical director and manager;

And an ad by Neal, "If you do not already take the Record, you should do so at once. Try it for six months for 50-cents, or three months for 25 cents if you do not wish to expend a whole dollar at once."

Justice Court

For driving recklessly and without a license, a 24-year-old Pontiac man was fined a total of $100 in Novi Justice Court.

Ronald Van Cicle was cited as he was driving between Novi road and the expressway on February 11. He was arraigned February 14 before Justice Robert K. Anderson.

Sam Lorus, 69, of Orchard Lake was fined $35 on a charge of reckless driving. According to Novi police, Lorus' car hit a parked car and a pole on East Lake drive.

Tandy G. Watts, 21, of Detroit paid a $25 fine for driving on Grand River without a driver's license.

Julius Watt, Jr., of 48197 Wixom road pleaded guilty to resisting arrest and paid $50 to the court.

Robert Tolentino, 32, of Wayne was fined $25 for illegally passing on a yellow line on Novi road. The violation occurred September 4, 1962.

Red Cross Cuts Records

The Oakland regional office of Red Cross has begun its Easter Voices from Home record cutting daily through Saturday, March 18.

According to Kenneth Winter, regional manager, "Because Easter comes early this year we are presently concerned with notifying parents and wives of our servicemen overseas as well as in military hospitals here in the States that they will have ample opportunity to send their messages on record, free of cost. Hours have been arranged so that no one need miss the opportunity."

To cut your record phone Red Cross FE 4-3575. The office is located at 118 Franklin Boulevard in Pontiac.

BLOCKED — Dennis Mathews, Northville guard, goes up for an underhand layup (top), but an unidentified West Bloomfield cager (32) made a spearing lunge for the ball and knocked it out of Mathews' hands and out of bounds. Guard Joe Andrews (14) had the same frustrating experience as number 45 from West Bloomfield gets a good hand on the ball. That's the way things went during the weekend as Northville barely won one of two games to nail down second place in the league.

Two Minutes Turn Trick Cagers Clinch 2nd in W-O

Two minutes of basketball — a bare minimum — provided Northville with the win it needed to wrap up sole possession of second place in the Wayne-Oakland Conference.

The key figure was Guard Joe Andrews. He drove the lane twice for crucial layups to give Northville an eight-point cushion in the closing minutes of Friday's game here with West Bloomfield. Northville hung on for a 58-53 victory.

In winning, Northville looked nothing like the ball club that pushed Clarkston to the limit the previous Friday before going down to defeat by a point. The cellar dweller and short on talent, West Bloomfield battled inept Northville on equal terms through more than three quarters of play.

The following night, Saturday, Northville played the same brand of uninspired basketball and was soundly beaten, 54-39, at Bloomfield Hills. Fortunately, Northville had second place tucked safely away in its hip pocket, out of the reach of third-place Bloomfield Hills.

Saturday's game against Bloomfield Hills threatened to be the lowest scoring game in the league this season. Bloomfield held a 19-10 lead at halftime as both teams had difficulty in finding the range against collapsing defenses.

Mustangs vs. Broncos In Season's Final Game

One to go. And the regular 1966-67 basketball season will be over for the Northville Mustangs.

Uppermost in Holly's mind will be the most recent reversal at Northville. The Mustangs beat Holly, 61-54, as Forward Nelson Hyatt and Guard Ken Boerger came off the bench to supply the punch Northville needed to dispose of the always pesky Broncos.

As far as standings are concerned, nothing's at stake in Northville's final conference game of the season tomorrow night. Northville has already won second place in the league with a 9-4 record, and is 11-6 overall.

But Holly, always a rugged opponent, will be out to end its regular season on a winning note. And nothing could be finer, as far as Holly's concerned, than to hang defeat on bitter rival Northville.

That's the way the series between Northville and Holly has been going in recent years. Each game narrows down to a grudge battle, or the closest thing to it.

What difference Zatyi would have made is purely speculation, but it was clearly evident that Northville was in the doldrums.

The hot hand of Glenn Deibert kept Northville alive in the first quarter Friday. He scored nine of Northville's 13 points in the period to give Northville a 13-12 lead at going into the second quarter.

Northville then spurred into a 20-13 lead. Doug Swiss, who replaced Zatyi in the starting lineup, scored on a jump shot from the corner, Deibert dribbled half court to score after an interception, Andrews hit on a set shot and Deibert followed with a free throw. Pecking at the lead, West Bloomfield outscored Northville 7-2 in the next few minutes and went to the dressing room, trailing, 23-27.

Plagued by violations and cold shooting, neither team could open up a substantial lead in the third quarter. Northville held the widest margin at 40-37, but West Bloomfield dumped in a rebound at the buzzer.

Through better than four minutes of the final period, the two teams continued playing ragged basketball until the score was deadlocked at 46-46. Then Northville made its move.

Peterson tallied on a rebound and converted a free throw for a 49-46 lead. Coach Dave Longridge called time out with approximately three minutes remaining in the game.

Northville came out in a stall to set up the sure bucket. Finally, with West Bloomfield pressing out court, Andrews found daylight up the lane and dribbled through for an easy layup and a 51-46 lead. Forward Nelson Hyatt added a free throw for a six-point lead.

Again Longridge signalled for a time out. When play resumed, Northville played deliberate ball. And it worked. Andrews broke loose, duplicating his previous bucket to shoot Northville into a 54-46 lead.

West Bloomfield outscored Northville, 7-4, in the closing seconds, but the margin was too great to overcome.

Northville's switch to an all-court zone press, however, opened the game up. It also cut Bloomfield's lead from 12 to seven points at 29-22. But Bloomfield rebounded to take a 35-26 lead at the end of the third period.

Northville continued its press at the outset of the fourth quarter and cut Bloomfield's lead to 35-30 as Peterson flipped in a rebound and Hyatt hit from the corner.

With only one game remaining in conference play, Northville has a 9-4 mark. Bloomfield Hills is 7-6.

Northville was handicapped in its game with West Bloomfield. Captain Jim Zatyi was benched for his involvement in a fracas the week before with Clarkston.

Lakers Clip Colts As Free Throw Falls

Would you believe an ending to compare with the Clarkston's raucous victory over the Northville varsity? Maybe it wasn't a duplication, but the junior varsity Colts pulled off the closest thing to it, dropping a surprising, 64-63, decision to visiting West Bloomfield last Friday.

Like the varsity the week before, the Colts fought back from an eight-point deficit. Like the varsity, Coach Bob Kucher's squad trailed by a point with seconds left.

Then it happened. Northville's Barry Deal was fouled the same instant the game was over, thus setting up a one-and-one situation. As in the varsity contest with Clarkston, the free throw bounced off the rim.

The loss dashed Northville's hopes of claiming a second straight mythical junior varsity championship in the Wayne-Oakland league. With one game remaining, Northville is 10-3. Clarkston is 11-2.

The Colts actually lost where they had been strong all season long — at the free throw line. They converted only 17 of 32 tries for 53 percent. West Bloomfield was a fraction worse, however, hitting on only 10 of 23 at the foul stripe for 37 percent.

West Bloomfield's victory was no fluke. In the first contest between the two teams, West Bloomfield lost in the closing seconds, 61-58.

Balanced scoring was a key to victory. Five visiting cagers scored eight or more points, including Curt Britton (16), Jim Bays (12), Dan Brown (9), and Robin Brennan and Mick Ellwood (8 apiece).

Center Ralph Robinson paced the Northville scoring with 20 points. Following him were Jeff Taylor with 16, Gregg Carr with 12 and Stan Nirider with nine.

A miserable second period, just as in the Northville-Clarkston varsity contest the week before, spelled defeat for the Colts. West Bloomfield outscored Northville in the period, 24-16.

Northville bounced back on foreign soil Saturday, however, to trip Bloomfield Hills, 53-43, on the strength of a fourth-quarter surge.

With Bloomfield leading at the end of the third period, 39-38, Northville began its harrassing press and pulled out of reach. Taylor, who had a game high of 21 points, sparked the Northville comeback with eight points in the final quarter. The Colts scored 15 points to Bloomfield's four.

Robinson was the second high scorer with 12 points. Tony May's 18 points paced Bloomfield.

Northville was on target, once again, at the free throw line, canning 13 of 17 shots for 76 percent. Bloomfield shot 13 of 27 or 48 percent at the foul line.

They're Best in History Wrestlers Enter Regionals

The winningest wrestling team in Northville's history will move into the regional tournament tomorrow and Saturday at Flat Rock and Coach Jack Townsley holds high hopes for his boys.

"There's no reason why we couldn't end up in the first four if we wrestle well," Townsley said. Beyond that, he wasn't willing to commit himself. Understandably.

Sixteen other teams will be competing in the regionals, including tough outfits from Clarenceville, Flat Rock and River Rouge. The top three winners in each weight class will qualify for the state tournament next week at Lansing.

Unlike the regular season dual matches which require team balance, tournament success calls for strong individual performances. That's why Townsley is optimistic.

Two of his wrestlers, Marty Richardson and Dale Ashby, were seeded first in the tournament on the basis of their season records. Richardson, 120 pounds, is unbeaten in 14 matches, while Ashby has been defeated only twice in 16 tries.

Furthermore, three Mustangs were seeded third, including Chuck Keegan, 95, Curt Olewnik, 127, and Heavyweight Dan Conklin.

Although seeding does not mean fewer matches, it does mean that these wrestlers will not be meeting other top wrestlers early. That's the purpose of seeding, Townsley explained — to pit the two best wrestlers in each weight class against each other in the final match of the tournament.

Townsley has other reasons for welcoming the tournament. All season long, he has been forced to use lighter wrestlers in heavier weight classes because of a shortage of beefier matmen. In the tournament, boys wrestle in their proper weight class.

Despite weight mis-matches, this year's Northville mat team has won more games than Northville did in its first five years of wrestling. Northville's record this year: 12-4.

Only last year's team, which posted a 6-9 season mark, can come close to this year's. And many of the 1966 squad are holdovers. (Northville has had wrestling for seven years.)

To what does Townsley attribute this year's success? "We have gotten a lot of mileage out of our good boys," the coach said, "and others came through to surprise me."

"The kids have improved very much since last year," he elatedly continued. "Their attitude has been exceptional and they're willing to work."

Of course, Richardson and Ashby were singled out for special praise, but there was also Bob Beason, Rick Suckow and Don Sass, who, Townsley added, wrestled over their weight throughout the year. "They did a great job," he said.

Northville finished strong, winning its three final matches within the past 10 days.

First, the Mustangs trounced Lutheran West, 33-13. In the process, they lost only three of 12 matches.

Heavyweight Conklin, Ashby, 145, and Al Earehart pinned their men. Winners by decision were Dave Grondin, 95 pounds; Tom Wright, 112; Richardson, 120; Curt Olewnik, 127; Suckow, 154, and Beason, 180.

Chuck Keegan, 103, lost by decision and John Tam, 133, and Sass, 138, were pinned. Tam, only a sophomore, squared off against a boy who formerly finished second in the state tournament.

Willow Run was the next opponent to fall to Northville, by a 37-11 margin. "They had two or three good boys," Townsley said, "but they weren't real strong."

Keegan, 95, won a decision; Baber, 103, was pinned; Wright, 112, won a decision by 13-0; Richardson, 120, pinned his man; Freshman Brian Jones, wrestling in his first match, won a decision at 127.

Curt Olewnik, 133, won by decision; Sass, 138, was pinned; Ashby, 145, pinned his man; Suckow, 154, lost by decision; Beason, 185, and Earehart, 180, pinned their opponents and Heavyweight Conklin won by forfeit.

Northville then pinned a defeat on Clarkston Tuesday to close out its regular season.

Which Body Style Is Best For You?

Convertible? Station wagon? Sedan or hardtop? Two-door or 4-door?

The perplexing question is one of the pleasanter burdens facing us citizens one of the richest economies in the world. And the decision is much too personal for experts armed with calculators to help us much.

For the record, though, here's what your fellow car buyers, including this area have decided over the last six years:

Convertible sales have remained the same at around 4.8 percent of the market, station wagons have declined from 15.4 to 10.6 percent. 4-door sedans have declined from 40.2 to 27.9 percent and 2-door sedans from 16.4 to 6.5 percent of the market.

The big winner in popularity has been the hardtop. Four-door models have increased in sales from 11.4 percent of sales to 12.5 percent currently. But 'way ahead is the two-door hardtop which jumped from 11.9 to 37.6 percent of the market last year as compared with six years ago.

All the increases and decreases were gradual with the percentages changing evenly over the years.

How come? Best guess is the influence of women buyers on the market. But while women are responsible to an important degree for the sporty and feminine styling of today's cars, they demand equal emphasis on mechanical reliability.

To be sure that you continue to love your new car after the excitement of new styling has worn off, keep in mind that competent and reliable service is a must and buy with that in mind.

Our Legislators Report....

Voicing great concern at the rapidly rising crime rate in Michigan, Senator George W. Kuhn who represents the Novi - Northville area, has introduced a package of four bills designed to strengthen the hand of law enforcement officers in their battle on crime.

"Society must be given the same, if not better, protection as the criminal is currently receiving in terms of law enforcement and justice," Senator Kuhn said.

One of Kuhn's bills would make it unlawful to sell, give away or loan to any minor a knife with a blade more than three inches long and would prohibit persons under 17 from carrying razor blades, straight razors, knives of any description or ice picks in schools or any public place.

Another bill would empower any peace officer to stop a person he "reasonably suspects" is committing, has committed or is about to commit a felony. The officer could demand his name, address and an explanation of his actions. The bill would permit the officer to "search the person for a dangerous weapon" if he "reasonably suspects that he is in danger of life or limb."

A third bill would strengthen the authority of officers to combat riots or potential riots and the fourth bill would require children to remain in school until they are 17, instead of 16 as at present or until they have graduated from high school.

Representatives Louis Schmidt and Clifford Smart have been named as representatives to the state's commission for the Sesquicentennial of the University of Michigan.

Representative Schmidt reports that his fiscal reform mail is "running a distant second" to Eastern or Daylight Time.

Among the bills that Schmidt is sponsoring are: A bill to enable Michigan to secure benefits available under the Federal Highway Safety Act of 1966; a bill which would permit censuses between Federal Census years; and a bill to amend the Fireworks Law in cooperation with John Bunk of the Livonia fire department.

Observations of Representative Schmidt: Fiscal reform continues to be the major topic of business in the Legislature. Republicans in the House have created a "climate" for fiscal reform by passing a schedule that takes up tax matters before acting on appropriations. At present, the state is said to be going behind by $10 million a month, and will be in serious trouble by next December if prompt action is not taken.

As of Wednesday last week, 262 bills had been introduced by the House of Representatives and this number is identical with the number of bills introduced in the House last year at the same time. Some of the bills introduced included a bill which would allow Grand Jurors to discuss with each other information gained in their investigations. The bill would be of particular significance in a large metropolitan area such as Wayne County, Oakland County and Macomb County. Currently, Wayne and Oakland Counties are conducting Grand Jury investigations. The bill has the support of both the Governor and the Attorney General as a necessary tool to fight crime in the state.

The House committee on judiciary reported out a bill which would correct a portion of the Michigan Vehicle Code. The bill was designed to correct a suppression of the news on accident reports. Under Public Act 171 passed by the last Legislature, accident information would apparently not have been available to the news media or anyone having a legitimate interest in the information. This bill would make accident information and the opinion of the investigating officer public information. The current act is scheduled to take effect March 10th, unless this bill is passed and given immediate effect.

Tree Goes Topless, Too!

Last week's predicted snow-storm failed to materialize, but late Wednesday night and early Thursday morning raging winds swept through the area toppling trees, snapping utility poles and television aerials and generally raising havoc with private property. This huge tree at 311 East Main was a victim of the storm, as the winds snapped it off half-way up the trunk and plunged it into the home of Guy C. Boughner. Two television aerials, the roof and the side of the house were damaged.

from the PASTOR'S STUDY

Father Edward Battersby, Pastor
St. Joseph's Church, South Lyon

In the gospel for the First Sunday of Lent we see Christ locked in combat with Satan. As we might expect, victory was Christ's.

The whole life of Christ is a victory over Satan. But in this Gospel we see how persistent the devil is; he is defeated but he is not chained, Man is free and he has to use this freedom to choose Christ permanently, lovingly. So it was with the people of Christ's time, so it is with us.

Christ tells us that even though we have been redeemed by His death and resurrection and even though He drove Satan out of us at baptism, we still have to endure his attacks. We have to expect a relentless battle all our lives, especially during Lent. There can be no halfway service, now of Christ, now of the devil. We have to take sides. "He who is not with me is against me, and he who does not gather with me, scatters." Absolute, irrevocable engagement to Christ and to His way of life is the choice we have to make.

We sometimes weary of the struggle against Satan and self. It seems so permanent, so constant. One of the great temptations of life is discouragement, despair. What Jesus says in the Gospel about the evil spirit coming back again and again—who of us has not experienced that attack? What can we do? We can say, "To you I lift up my eyes, who are enthroned in heaven... our eyes are on the Lord our God till he have pity on us."

Such earnest prayer cannot but bring an answer from Christ Himself into our lives. The same Christ who drove out the evil spirit then is at hand to drive him from us again and again. He drives him out by his word and by his action in the Sacraments."

Nature Center Visits Climb

Hundreds of Oakland county residents were among the 107,200 persons visiting the two Nature Centers operated by the Huron-Clinton Metropolitan Authority parks in Oakland county.

Over 69,700 persons registered at the Nature Center of Kensington Metropolitan Park near New Hudson in 1966 compared to 67,400 in 1965. A total of 625,000 have registered at this Nature Center since it opened in 1957.

Over 37,500 persons assisted the Stoney Creek Center near Rochester, compared to 21,700 in 1965. Visitors have totaled 87,300 since this attraction and the park was opened in the summer of 1964.

NEWLY APPOINTED—Mr. Timothy C. Johnson recently was appointed as a second, full-time minister at the First Presbyterian Church of Northville. He will assume his position in May. His wife, Ann, like himself, is a graduate of Alma college. Presently, he is a senior student at the Pittsburgh Theological Seminary.

"Oh Give Me A Home"

Last night a miracle occurred. It happened on the night after Johnny bought a new guitar and all of us joined in a family hootenanny.

When he came to live with us over a year ago, Sam didn't even talk. Raised in a sub-standard home, he was a mighty unhappy little boy with problems galore.

He didn't like us at first—he wasn't glad to be with us. But, gradually, as the months wore on, he began to trust us and believe in our love.

That night as the family sang together—Sam suddenly began to sing with us. The miracle had occurred. He was now one of the family.

You see, the Church had taught us that the love of God accepts us completely and unconditionally. We had learned that we could love and accept Sam in the same way. In becoming a part of God's family, we had discovered how to create a new family of our own.

THE CHURCH FOR ALL ALL FOR THE CHURCH

The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the Church. They are: (1) For his own sake (2) For his children's sake (3) For the sake of his community and nation (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.

GO CLASSIFIED

We can keep you in hot water.

In fact, we guarantee it!

SATISFACTION GUARANTEED BY DETROIT EDISON

An electric water heater is for the people who don't like to run out of hot water. We're so sure you'll like one, we guarantee your satisfaction—for a whole year! What do we mean by satisfaction? Simply this: If you don't get all the hot water you want, when you want it, you get all your money back, including any you may have spent on installation. And it doesn't matter where you bought your electric water heater. The Edison guarantee still applies. No strings attached. Fair enough?

EDISON

Average-size families with electric water heaters pay as little as $3.88 a month—a standard rate—for hot water. How much are you paying?

DERBY WINNER - Novi's Cubmaster Robert Wilkins presents his son, Tom, with the Pine Derby Race winning trophy. Cubs and fathers of Pack 54 ended several weeks of preparation when they entered their model race cars in the thrilling races on February 10 at the Novi Community building.

OUT OF THE PAST

FIVE YEARS AGO . . .
The highly controversial proposal to levy a 25-percent assessment for Northville street improvement inched forward via the usual city council vote--3 to 2.

January bill for salt and sand was $1,500--a record, city councilmen learned.

Although marked by audience participation reaching such stormy proportions that a "cooling off" recess was called, the Novi board of education acted upon two of three proposals:
--A policy on religion drafted by a 30 member citizens committee and endorsed by nearly 300 residents was approved by a 4-1 vote.

Petitions bearing 430 signatures and calling for President Walter Ambinder's resignation were submitted to the superintendent but not discussed.
--The board unanimously approved a proposal calling for an election asking for a five-year tax increase of six mills.

The Mustangs defeated a pair of Wayne-Oakland rivals to clinch their first league championship since a tie with Clarkston as league leaders of the 1956-57 season.

Bernard R. Bach was elected president of the Northville Estates Civic association, succeeding Duane L. Butler.

TEN YEARS AGO . . .
Novi township Republicans gave Supervisor Frazer Staman a strong vote of confidence but tempered it by naming four political opponents as his major running mates in the April township election. The remaining four major candidates were filled by a young group of township Republicans who campaigned vigorously against Staman's slate in primary electioneering. They were: Incumbent Clerk Hadley Bachert and newcomers Ray Harrison for Treasurer, Stanley Balon for trustee, and Robert Anderson for justice of the peace.

A request by the city of Northville to appeal a decision of Clark J. Adams in the Novi township annexation issued was denied by the state supreme court.

The high court rendered its denial "without prejudice", leaving the way open for a later appeal in case Northville loses its case in the annexation of 82 acres surrounding Amerman school.

Two new flashers were set out along Novi road three times a day to warn motorists to look out for school children in Novi. The flashers were bought after the Novi Mothers' club took steps to insure safer conditions for their children.

Rocky Marciano was the big attraction at Meadowbrook Country Club's annual Sports banquet.

TWENTY YEARS AGO . . .
The following nominations were made in the Salem primary: Supervisor, John M. Waldecker; clerk, Gilbert Thorne; treasurer, Irene Lyke; justices of peace, Francis Hugg and Edwin Hamilton.

Frank Bowers of Salem started a new taxi cab service in Northville.

The results of the 1947 primary election in Novi showed Bachert trailing Clark for supervisor, 355 to 222; Banks with 539 votes for clerk; Kitson leading Harnden for treasurer, 382 to 198; Cook with 498 votes for board of review; and Bogart leading Davis and Yerkes for justice of peace, 372 to 241 and 316.

Rev. Father Woods, pastor of Our Lady of Victory parish, launched the cancer relief unit for the parish.

Darwin Teshka, nine-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Arnold Teshka, received a letter from Greece after sending some clothing overseas through the Northville community clothing drive.

Mrs. Edna Mollima and Earl Gray were leaders at the Masonic-Star Ball.

Mid-year graduates of the University of Michigan included Kalin Johnson of 22041 Novi.

THIRTY YEARS AGO . . .
Sit-downers in the Daisy Manufacturing company in Plymouth continued to occupy the factory and all production there was at a standstill.
The Rev. Dr. T. W. Smith accepted the pledge of faithful service to the local Presbyterian church in an installation service conducted by five visiting ministers. Dr. Smith succeeded the Rev. Harold G. Whitfield.

A solemn hush fell over the gathering of the Legionnaires and their auxiliary at the Legion Hall as Sergeant Walter Schinke took from his pocket a leather folder frayed by a shell shot and yellowed by years.

"I took this from the pocket of Lloyd H. Green after the shell had struck him," the sergeant faltered with tears in his eyes as he handed the leather folder to the two brothers and one sister sitting near.

The story was simply told by the comrade of Lloyd H. Green who had come out to Northville to present to the post which bears his name this souvenir which he had had for 20 years.

Green was a messenger carrier for Sergeant Schinke and was killed, along with five other soldiers, on October 1, 1918. Legion Commander Dr. Willbur H. Johnston presided at the meeting.

Rotary Travel Film Features Portugal

Dr. Gerald Hooper will present his latest travel-film, "Only in Portugal", on Thursday, March 2, at the high school auditorium as the fifth in the current Travel and Adventure Series sponsored by the Northville Rotary Club.

Dr. Hooper is known both in this country and abroad for the excellence of his photographic work, Rotary Chairman Kenneth Rathert said.

"He is director of the travel film division of World Color-Film Studios of Chicago and appears regularly for such well-known organizations as the National Geographic Society of Washington, D.C., New York Town Hall, St. Louis YMCA Travel and Adventure Series, Tucson's famous Sunday Evening Forum, and San Francisco's Auditorium Travel Series."

"Only in Portugal" is an up-to-date portrayal of the people and places of Portugal. Portugal's people at work and play are seen against a backdrop of spectacular scenery and is enlivened with a narration.

Ox-carts, basket-weavers, colorful embroidery, shepherds and storks, 300 pound tuna, schools, sea-caves, markets, trawlers, rice fields, and the famous cork industry are just a few of the many educational sequences that are included.

Tickets for the 8 p.m. program may be secured from Rotarians or at the door of the auditorium on the night of the program.

4 Seniors Gain Scholarship Finals

Four Northville high school seniors have received word that they are finalists in the 1966-67 National Merit Scholarship program.

They are Kathleen Erwin, Steven P. Jordan, Mark S. Hesse and Susan M. Yoder.

As finalists they have been given certificates of merit, signifying that they are among about one-half of one percent of the graduating secondary school seniors in the nation.

The selection process is now underway, and the approximately 2,300 winners of Merit Scholarships will be notified confidentially in late March.

In writing to the four local students, John M. Stalnaker, president of the National Merit Scholarship corporation explained that the program is a means of recognizing talented young people "who will undoubtedly be among its future leaders in many fields."

NOVI HIGHLIGHTS

Mrs. H. D. Henderson
FI-9-2428

Mr. and Mrs. Jack Anglin returned from a vacation in Puerto Rico and the Virgin Islands last Monday. They had been gone since the last of January. They found the climate delightful in the islands.

ICED HAM—Cold weather means nothing to a couple of "hot" radio hams when they have work to do, as these two members of the Schoolcraft College Radio club prove while they put the school's transmitting tower in operating condition. That's Bruce Bickford on the tower and Dave Bartusik standing by. Club members have contacted stations in 15 foreign countries in Europe, Africa, and South and Central America, using facilities of the radio laboratory at the college.

News About Schoolcraft

"Riffi," the classic French film of a brilliantly planned and executed jewel robbery, will be shown on the Schoolcraft College winter film series, Friday, March 3.

Performances are scheduled for 2 p.m. and 8 p.m. in the Forum amphitheater. The public is admitted without charge.

The film is the creation of Jules Dassin, famous for his "Naked City," who not only wrote and directed the film play but, also under the name of Perlo Vito, portrays one of the screen characters.

Larry Vandermolen, political science instructor at Schoolcraft college, was elected vice-president of the Michigan Association of Political Scientists at an organizational meeting of the association at Wayne State university recently.

The purposes of the association are to coordinate political science programs among Michigan universities and four-year colleges and community colleges, to stimulate interest in the profession, and to promote improvement in techniques and methods of teaching political science.

Schoolcraft College President Eric J. Bradner has announced receipt of a $250 gift to the Schoolcraft College Foundation from the Plymouth Lions club to be used for student financial aids at the college.

In presenting a check for the amount to Dr. Bradner, Lions Club President Dr. Ray Barber said the Plymouth service club requested the money be used to help match a $10,000 gift made to the college last year by Sheldon Hayes of Northville.

The Foundation has undertaken the task of raising funds to match the Hayes bequest, which was placed in escrow.

Meet Your Policemen

Chief Lee BeGole

Novi's first and only police chief, Lee BeGole, holds the peculiar distinction of having served two communities—on opposite sides of the state—as chief police executive at the same time.

It occurred back in 1960 when BeGole resigned from the Novi department and accepted a similar post at Cheboygan. However, BeGole's resignation was never accepted by the Novi village council and, after nearly six months as chief in Cheboygan, he returned to Novi at the urging of local officials and citizens.

At the time, dual roles were nothing new to the now 45-year-old chief. In 1954 while serving as city clerk and assistant city attorney at Plymouth he became the unpaid police chief of Novi township.

Serving with him as an unpaid patrolman was Wixom's present police chief, D'Arcy Young. Upon BeGole's official appointment as a salaried police chief in January, 1955, he hired Young as the department's first full-time patrolman. With the incorporation of Novi, his department became a village unit.

A native of Detroit, BeGole attended high school in Windsor, later serving for a brief period in the Reserve Army of Canada. In 1941 he entered the United States Army, serving in Europe and North Africa as an infantry sergeant. Upon his discharge in 1946 he was given a direct commission, becoming a company commander of a National Guard unit. It was here that he met Young.

Also during 1946 he served as a lieutenant in the Michigan State troops serving on Belle Isle.

Later he entered the University of Detroit law school, graduating in 1952. While attending school, he served from 1947 to 1949 as a road patrolman with the Wayne county sheriff's department, patrolling the Northville-Plymouth area.

Immediately upon graduation, he passed his state bar examination and took the assistant city attorney's position as well as the city clerk's position in Plymouth.

From 1955 until the present, he has headed the Novi department that today includes eight officers and four radio dispatchers. Technically, his title is director of public safety, which means he coordinates the activities of the police department as well as Novi's volunteer fire department which is under the direction of Fire Chief Fred Lyles.

Besides his absence in 1960 while in Cheboygan, he also was away for a brief period in 1963 when he was called back into active military service as a first lieutenant.

BeGole has a wide range of police training, including numerous courses at Michigan State, Wayne State, Oakland, and Detroit universities. He was one of the founders of the nationally recognized Metropolitan Police Academy, serving as its secretary-treasurer and legal instructor since its inception in 1961.

He also is a past president of both the Oakland County Law Enforcement association and the Michigan-Ontario Juvenile Officers association.

The bachelor police chief also is a member of the Michigan-Ontario Identification association, the Wayne County Detectives association, Michigan Association of Chiefs of Police, the Reserve Officers association, Novi Rotary, American Legion, AmVets, and the Novi Goodfellows.

Chief D'Arcy Young

Wixom Police Chief D'Arcy Young, 39, was born and raised in Highland Park. Educated in that community he also was graduated from the Carlisle Military School in Vamberg, South Carolina.

Following graduation he served with the United States Army in the Pacific during World War II, attaining the rank of an infantry sergeant first-class. Upon discharge he became a bus driver for the DSR in Detroit.

In 1949 he returned to active duty with the Michigan National Guard, serving in a tank company until 1954. It was during this tour of duty that he met Lee BeGole.

Following discharge from the Guard as a master sergeant, he joined the Novi police department, headed by then by BeGole. He and his wife, Marjorie, lived above the township hall which at that time contained an apartment. Mrs. Young served as a dispatcher.

While serving on the Novi department, Young was elected a constable. He also served as director of Novi Civil Defense.

In 1959, Young left the Novi department, joining the Wixom police department and becoming a police lieutenant under the then Police Chief Frank Jadzinski. On December 22, 1964, he was named police chief, replacing Jadzinski who resigned.

Young's police training includes: FBI basic training school, a degree from the Institute of Applied Science in Chicago, the International City Managers course in police administration at Chicago, bomb disposal at Ft. Benning, Georgia, juvenile training at Wayne university, police administration at Oakland university, and several courses at Michigan State university, including criminal investigation, juvenile training, safety education, arson investigation, and accident investigation.

His professional association includes membership in the Michigan Association of Chiefs of Police, the National Police Officers association, the Oakland County Law Enforcement association, the Michigan-Ontario Identification association, and the Michigan Oakland Juvenile association.

A past president of the Wixom-Walled Lake Kiwanis club, Young presently is treasurer of the Wixom Chamber of Commerce, a lieutenant in the Walled Lake squadron of the Civil Air Patrol (CAP), teaching ground and flight training, and a member of the Wixom Goodfellows.

Chief and Mrs. Young have one son.

Brothers Face Trial Next Week Following Delay

Trial of the two brothers accused of cruelty to animals in Novi has been postponed until March 2.

Novi Justice of Peace Robert K. Anderson adjourned the case, originally scheduled for last Thursday, until Thursday, March 2 because the defendant's attorney had to appear in court elsewhere.

The brothers, David and Orville Hamilton, were accused of cruelty to animals and for failure to bury dead animals early this month after Novi police and County Humane Officer Marshall London found a dead pony and four dead goats on their rented farm at 23633 Taft road, just south of 10 Mile road.

Last summer Justice Anderson tossed out similar cruelty charges against the brothers because London had failed to secure a search warrant before searching the farm.

London charged last summer that pigs on the farm were starving.

Two years ago David Hamilton was found guilty of feeding starved, dead pigs to live ones, and was fined.

Minutes of the Northville City Council

The regular meeting of the Northville City Council was called to order by Mayor Allen on Monday, February 6, 1967, 8:00 p.m. at the Northville City hall. Present: Allen, Black, Canterbury (excused tardiness), Carlson and Nichols. Absent: None.

Minutes of the regular meeting of January 16, page 3; make "person or coordinator" end of sentence—deleting "to contact interested persons willing to serve on such a committee".

Minutes of January 16th, with above correction and Special Meeting of January 30, 1967 were approved. (Councilman Canterbury entered meeting at 8:10 p.m.).

Mayor welcomed members of Mr. Alvin Skow's 12th grade American government class from Northville High school.

Council instructed City Manager to hold check #1992 ($7,000) until further instructions. City Attorney is to present a formal purchase agreement for the Bunn property on W. Main street at the next regular meeting.

Moved by Black, supported by Carlson to pay bills in the following amounts: General—$46,533.72 Water—$4,817.56 Unanimously carried.

Communications:

The following communications were read:

(1) Letter from Macomb Concrete regarding the reduction of contract payment from 10% to 5%—City Attorney was instructed to reply to them stating city's position against such a reduction at the present time, due to poor paving.

(2) Note from Mrs. Jean Handorf, Wing court, addressed to Chief Elkins, thanking the Police Dept. for their kind assistance in the recent snow storm.

(3) Letter from Emily Amy, 535 Carpenter St., Northville, complimenting the city on their snow removal in the recent storm but urging passage of an ordinance banning all-night parking of cars on city streets and enforcement of garbage regulations. Letter referred to City Manager.

(4) Chief of Police had submitted a list of Northville establishments having liquor licenses and designating type of license.

Communications from Citizens:

Harley Cole, S. Center St., present to "defend" his son Robert Cole relative to the recent cancelling of his sidewalk snow removal contract with the City of Northville.

Mayor Allen stated that there had been a contract that Council felt had not been lived up to and therefore it had been decided to cancel it.

Mrs. Ardis O'Toole, 535 Carpenter, sister of Emily Amy, asked regarding rubbish or garbage burning apparatuses being placed on street. This referred to City Manager; Mrs. O'Toole was told that it is against present city ordinances to burn garbage.

Mayor instructed Council to list any questions they might have regarding Items VI through IX and present them at the Feb. 20th meeting.

Clerk read the report from Chief of Police Elkins concerning a liquor license for the Fraternal Order of Eagles #2504, 113 S. Center, Northville.

Moved by Canterbury, supported by Carlson to approve the application of Fraternal Order of Eagles #2504 application for a Club License and Dance Permit at this location. Ayes: Canterbury, Carlson, Nichols and Allen.

Nays: Black.

Carried.

The request for a Resort Class C license for Northville Cocktail Lounge at 132 S. Center tabled for Police Report until Feb. 20th agenda.

Public Hearing on Subdivision Ordinance:

Moved by Carlson, support by Canterbury to adjourn the Public Hearing on the Subdivision Ordinance until Regular Council meeting of Monday, March 6, 1967. Carried.

Set Date for Public Hearing on Beautification Ordinance:

Moved by Carlson, support by Black to set date for Public Hearing on proposed Ordinance to create a Beautification Commission for the City of Northville for Monday, Feb. 20, 1967, 8 p.m. at the Northville City Hall. Carried.

SPECIAL MEETING

City Manager explained a Model Ordinance that he recommends for emergency adoption. This ordinance would enable the city to recover some of the money that is spent for training police officers.

In answer to a question, Chief Elkins replied that he believed it would be satisfactory to adopt a resolution regarding this matter as suggested by the City Attorney and work on the passage of an ordinance.

Moved by Canterbury, support by Black that a Special Meeting be called to act on a resolution establishing minimum employment standards for the City of Northville for the Police Dept. (as set forth in model ordinance—Michigan Law Enforcement Officers' Training Council), and consideration of a proposed model ordinance concerning same. Carried.

Moved by Carlson, support by Nichols to adopt the foregoing resolution on minimum employment standards for the Northville Police Dept. (Copy on file). Carried.

Moved by Carlson, support by Black to adopt the Model Ordinance concerning minimum employment standards for the City of Northville Police Dept., and set date for Public Hearing for Monday, March 6, 1967, 8:00 p.m. at the Northville City Hall. Carried.

There being no further business, the meeting was adjourned at 8:40 p.m.

Promote Cadet To Sergeant

Cadet Richard M. Milne, son of Mr. and Mrs. William Milne of Northville was promoted recently to the rank of Staff Sergeant according to information received by Kemper Military School and college, Boonville, Missouri.

As a member of Kemper's Corps of Cadets, which is formed under the general provisions of the Department of the Army's R.O.T.C. program, SSG Milne's promotion was announced by Lt. Col. Benjamin H. Purcell, Kemper's Professor of Military Science and the school's administrative board.

The school's enrollment of 560 cadets is the largest in its 123 years of operation, according to Capt. John E. Gould, director of admissions.

WHAT! DO MY IRONING IN A GAS CLOTHES DRYER?
Of course you can't actually iron your clothes from inside a dryer. But what we are saying is that when you dry today's new permanent press fabrics in a Gas clothes dryer, you can forget once and for all about ironing them. With the even heat, gentle tumbling action and special "wash-wear" cycles of a Gas clothes dryer, permanent press clothes bounce back to their original shape without wrinkles and with creases razor sharp. Save yourself a lot of work—let a new Gas clothes dryer do your ironing!

Dems Launch Anti-Romney Attack

LANSING — Democratic legislators launched the first of what will become an increasingly heavy series of attacks on Gov. George Romney; his plans and programs.

Ultimate purpose behind the attacks is to scuttle Romney's prospects as a GOP Presidential candidate. The "loyal opposition" must make him look ineffective in his home state at the very least, and ridiculous if possible. In the current series, Democrats have chosen some petty points as well as some which will gain momentum as the year goes on.

State of the State messages are traditionally presented in joint sessions during the day. So when the Governor asked for an evening audience during prime television time, he was accused of preparing a primarily "political speech." He got his way in the end. Then the minority leadership found fault with the proposed timetable for the legislative session which set final adjournment in late June.

It has been standard procedure to set a May or June closing date, although in recent years this self-imposed deadline has rarely been met. Sessions have been extended on a day-to-day basis.

Democrats argued that the legislature is now a full-time body and should act like one. They loudly protested the June adjournment as Romney's way of providing time to take to the presidential campaign trail.

Republicans countered with references to the 1965 session, when Democrats held control and set a similar mid-year date; and the fact that the Governor can call a special session at will if emergencies arise between sessions.

Another blow has been aimed at the Governor's attempt to slow down implementation of the Medicaid program adopted last year.

Romney has had to eat some crow on this question, but said he plans to propose legislative changes in the law to keep costs of the program down.

TAX REFORM, by far the most controversial matter to face the legislature, is causing the most furor. On this question Democrats are taking aim from several positions.

Some say the proposed 2 1/2 per cent individual income tax rate should be raised.

Local levies should be outlawed, with the additional revenue going back to the local units.

Others want a ceiling, which would require a public vote, for any state income tax written into the Constitution. Several Republican lawmakers share this view.

Still others say the people should be given a chance to vote on amending the Constitution to allow enactment of a graduated income tax, now specifically prohibited.

AN EVEN BALANCE in the 55-55 House head count and an almost even balance in the 20-18 split of Senate seats bring Democrats' complaints more attention than they might receive under other conditions.

Republicans might need a few Democratic votes on any given issue. Gov. Romney must, therefore, carefully weigh any retort he makes to these early barrages of criticism.

The early part of this session has been markedly different from the picture in early 1965 when the Democrats took control and Romney's national image was still quite hazy and unclear.

At that time, headlines across the state read: "Romney, Dems Will Work Together" and "Honeymoon Session Ahead." The honeymoon obviously is over!

SOMEBODY GOOFED and only quick action can correct a situation which poses a threat to the public's "right to know."

It seems that last year Sen. Stanley Rozycki, D-Detroit, felt that a police officer's written opinion relating to a traffic accident should be classified information, available only for analysis by traffic safety experts.

As sometimes happen, the language in Rozycki's bill was revised as it went through the complicated legislative channels. It was enacted into law and takes effect March 10.

No one noticed until the 1966 session was over, however, that the bill as passed might have much greater impact. It could be conceived to close all the police records of accident reports.

As enacted, newspapers might be prohibited from reporting information about an accident unless an arrest was made. Not even "next of kin" could be notified! Insurance companies could not get information about a client's accident.

Mobility Living Trend Swells

BABSON PARK, Mass.—Expositions displaying the latest in mobile homes and recreational vehicles of all types have been popping up all over the country. And never before has the general public showed so much interest in this specialized form of transportation. Well over a million families now depend on such vehicles, sometimes just for week ends and vacations, sometimes for full-time portable homes.

The trend toward more mobility in living has long been on the increase, but in the past few years the epidemic of the wander-bug has been spreading more rapidly. The big switch is in full swing from the simple convenience of auto travel to the more complicated comforts of trailers, tent-camping units, pick-up coach campers, and mobile homes. So far, trailers are still the most popular, since the auto can be unhitched and used separately. But motorized homes, with the compact conveniences of a small dwelling, are gaining steadily.

Sales of recreational vehicles during 1966 smashed all previous records, moving ahead almost 50,000 over 1965 to reach a grand total of more than 314,500 units. There is every reason to expect continuing advances over the years immediately ahead. Better highways, rising incomes, desire to see new parts of the country, increasing availability of suitable camping facilities, and the economical aspects of such modes of travel, — all mean more interest in portable homes.

THE TRAILER rash brought quick emergence of overnight and longer-term parks and camping sites equipped with water, electricity, and other necessities. Many were privately operated, established to capitalize on the swelling migration of trailers. Recently, arrangements for recreation-vehicle sites have been greatly stepped up because of the freshet of new families on the go.

It is estimated that there are currently over 1,400 privately owned parks in the U.S. where recreational vehicles can put up for the night or longer. In the past five years the federal government has opened 41 additional camp sites under the aegis of the National Park Service. This brings to a total of 1,700 the number of such camps run by the government alone. Since vacation — vehicle visits to all parks have skyrocketed from 86,660,000 in 1961 to 137,000,000 during the past year, it is inevitable that there will be speedy efforts to make more localities available in the immediate future. Expo 67, opening at Montreal, Canada, in April, reports 3,000 camp sites already completed in that general vicinity with work in progress or in early prospect on about a thousand more.

Both trailers and self-contained motorized homes are now building in a great many features that were once optional, — and extra. People want them, and would prefer, generally, to have them already installed when they buy the vehicle instead of having to go through a dickering deal. More firms are including lavatories, pressure pumps, hot water heaters, carpeting, thermostats, complete insulation, — and some, even bathtubs! Also, demand is growing for larger structures, permitting more room for luxury equipment and storage.

Prices are not exorbitant, everything considered. Some mobile homes on truck chassis are being offered for prices somewhat less than $4,000. The average cost of this kind of transport-home not too many years ago was about $12,000. At present, there is evolving a demand that allows greater production, a situation which has always led to more reasonable prices.

If you thought Pontiac was coming out with just another sports car, you don't know Pontiac!

Pontiac announces not one, two, three or four, but five magnificent new Firebirds for every kind of driving.

Now you can choose from five new Firebirds with the same advanced Pontiac styling, but with five entirely different driving personalities. And they all come with supple expanded vinyl interiors, wood grain styled dash, exclusive space-saver collapsible spare, bucket seats and wide-oval tires

Firebird HO. HO stands for High Output. As a split second behind the wheel will attest to. The Firebird HO boasts a 285-hp V-8 with a four-barrel carburetor, dual exhausts and sport striping. Standard stick is a column-mounted three-speed. Naturally, all Firebird options are available

Firebird 400. Coiled under those dual scoops is a 400 cubic inch V-8 that shrugs off 325 hp. It's connected to a floor-mounted heavy-duty three-speed. On special suspension with redline wide-oval tires. This could be called the ultimate in grand touring. After this, there isn't any more.

Firebird Sprint. Now you don't have to go to Europe for a sophisticated road machine. This is the 215-hp version of our eager Overhead Cam Six. It's mounted on special suspension that practically welds it to the road (Any road!) With a floor-mounted all-synchro 3-speed

Firebird 326. Is there room for a family in a sports car? There is now. The excitement of a sports car with the practicality of a 326 cubic inch V-8 that delivers 250 hp on regular gas. Standard transmission is an all synchro three-speed, but you can order an automatic

for The Record

By BILL SLIGER

Officials representing the cities and townships of Northville and Plymouth and Canton township met as a committee recently to discuss the possibility of establishing an area "incinerator authority"

The thought is that, although sanitary landfill is the most economical means of disposing of refuse, limitation of sites (among other reasons) makes it imperative that consideration be given to incinerating of refuse within the next five to 10 years.

A possible site on Detroit House of Correction property providing desirable high elevation has been proposed. But committee members must first gain permission of their respective governing bodies before exploring this possibility with the city of Detroit.

The idea has several attractive features. Refuse from the participating communities could be deposited at the incinerator site by truck, then the ash removed by nearby railroad facilities.

It would eliminate, eventually, numerous landfill operations and would reduce the volume of refuse at least in half.

But the 50 per cent remaining - the ash - creates problems, too. It is not pleasant. Township Supervisor R. D. Merriam, who visited the Western Wayne disposal plant with other incinerator committee members, describes the ash as a "gooey mess".

Nevertheless, a process that would reduce mounting refuse problem by 50 per cent is one well worth exploring.

The inter-community study effort should be given support.

Do these proposals sound familiar?

- Creation of a municipal parking authority.

- A full-loop circular drive around the central business district.

They were made last week in a report resulting from a six-month study by the Central Business District Implementation Committee of Plymouth.

They're almost identical to those proposed by the planning commission in Northville nearly two years ago.

The city council has instructed Manager Frank Ollendorf to write the secretary of state urging consideration be given to re-establishment of a local auto license bureau.

One local applicant for the agency was informed by the state that for the present a new office was not planned.

The Northville council takes the position that it has continued to provide driver license service, when other surrounding communities have dropped it because of expense of operation.

"If we can cooperate with the state by providing this service for area citizens, it seems as though the state could agree to permit opening of an auto license bureau for citizen convenience", one councilman commented.

The following came from Mr. and Mrs. Donald Ware of Northville. It was clipped from Readers Digest. It applies to Northville, just as it did in Cheyenne...

A 15-year-old boy stood with his downcast father before a municipal judge of Cheyenne, Wyoming. The boy had been charged with breaking and entering a local school at 2 o'clock one morning. After advising the boy that he would be required by law to make full restitution for the damage, the judge said, "Because I want this to be a lesson you'll never forget, in addition I sentence you to walk around that school at 2 a.m. every morning for the next 30 days."

Turning to the boy's father, he continued, "And because you didn't know where your son was at that hour of the morning, I sentence you to accompany him to that school and walk around it with him every morning for the next 30 days. When parents are aware of the whereabouts of their children at all times, half the battle is won."

Readers Speak

Are Churches Filled?

To the Editor: I was born in your fair town and lived there until very recently. The town and its people molded my life, shaped my future and guided me to maturity: I was very fortunate and am sincerely grateful for it. Now that I am gone, I find myself in partial omniscience--no longer a member but being able to observe from afar with an intimate reflection on the former town I once knew. Things have changed. Dope. Theft. Vandalism. Words--no, symbols of those things we used to read about in the Detroit papers. The evil, the sinful, the distasteful has moved from the inner city to suburbia--to my home town--to Northville.

children to come unto me, and forbid them not." Are your churches filled? Do you merely send your sons and daughters or do you take them? Showing by example is the only way to show. The younger generation is weak, as all younger generations have been since the beginning of time. They need the guidance that only their parents can give. They are looking for Life and Truth. Won't you show them?

Wants Better Communication

To the Editor: What has happened to the promises made last year before the school board election?

At that time, many candidates - including myself - expressed a desire for better communication between the school board and the public.

One subject that generated a lot of comment was the publication of school board minutes.

But I noted in the February 16 issue of the Northville Record that the official school board minutes for December 12 and 19, 1966, meetings were just being published. That's a lapse of over two months. Why?

EDITOR'S NOTE -- Official school board minutes are submitted to the newspaper about 4-6 weeks following meetings. In the above instance the newspaper had the minutes a week earlier than publication. As ex-editor Bauerle well knows, newspapers sometimes hold certain copy when priorities must be determined due to space limitations.

Don't Look Now . . .

Henry Biddle, who tools a bus between Northville and Detroit nine times a day, invited me to sit down in the cozy, paneled living room of his Five Mile road home and then began a description of the vehicle with which his father had launched a business when his host was barely out of diapers.

"It was really two old Lincoln touring cars welded together. He bought two of them, had them cut in half. Then he had this long extension put in between two halves. That was his first bus. Not much, really."

The 35-year-old bus driver is a son of the late Tunis P. Biddle who launched what probably was Northville's first bus service back during the depression. The company was eventually sold and today is operated as Northville Coach Lines - headquartered across from the Northville State Hospital, and Henry Biddle is one of its veteran drivers.

"It had four doors on both sides. I'd guess it was about 30 feet long. Carried about 16 people."

All of the initial buses operated by Tunis Biddle out of an old garage on Johnson street, between Yerkes and South Main, hardly resembled today's modern buses. In fact, they weren't buses at all.

"They were called jitneys. I'd guess you'd say they were something like a taxi - an oversized car. Just to haul people back and forth, from Northville to Walled Lake, to Plymouth, Wayne, and to Detroit and back."

Transportation was all-important back in those days. The horse and buggy were all but gone. Depression people bought few personal cars. And the famous Detroit United Railway (DUR) which had served out an admirable life since 1899, was laid to rest in 1927 - five years before Tunis Biddle came on the scene.

His business quickly ripened, and soon he was operating "real" buses, most of them 25-passenger vehicles that were more often than not filled to capacity.

"Twenty-five passenger buses in those days were really something. They'd be like a 60-passenger today. He was running them every hour, in all directions."

Early in the 1940's, Tunis Biddle moved the bus headquarters out to Seven Mile road. Then in 1953, another son, Quentin R. joined his father as a partner - two years after Henry began driving. A year later, with one son operating the business and the other driving, Tunis died.

Quentin continued to operate the business until 1963 when he sold out to the present owners, a corporation with Adolph Schiller as its president. Quentin eventually went into a moving van business, operating out of Seattle. But Henry stayed on, and today he's the friendly, overweight driver who greets passengers boarding at Main and Center.

"If I didn't like driving, I wouldn't be here. As many times as I've made the trip out towards Detroit, there's something new to see - new experiences every time."

"Nope, I like it."

LOOSE LEAF

By ROLLY PETERSON

As a murder mystery, it's a flop. As a documentary, it's barely coherent. As a drama, it simply does not have the substance. Then what, in the name of Hollywood, does "Night of the Generals" have? A startling main character, and enough loose ends to qualify as a maddening movie, and incidentally, as one of the worst of the year.

In the lead is Peter O'Toole as a youthful German general, of course, of pure Aryan stock. He's the typical, rigid Prussian militarist - without the monochrome. Like Hitler, himself, General O'Toole is obsessed with the messianic mission to kill for the fatherland. But there is more, much more.

O'Toole is mad, Freudian mad. Exactly what form of madness, we know not, nor are we likely to ever know by any of the facts presented. Why, for instance, does the self portrait of Van Gogh provoke this reaction: bulging eyes fixed on the picture, beads of sweat, a throbbing headache and near collapse? What affinity is there between the two men, aside from the amazing similarity of the eyes?

There is another mark of madness in the general about whom the story revolves. Why does O'Toole commit three brutal sexual murders, somewhat in the manner of Dostoyevsky's Raskolnikov? Why are all his victims prostitutes?

Most inexplicably, why does the general always wear gloves? Why is cleanliness a passion? Is he, like Lady MacBeth, unable to wipe out "damned spot"? To hide his guilt? Then why does he never show remorse as MacBeth does? Why does he never waver from his course?

Perhaps this is why O'Toole, in the role of the general, will remain an enigma, a memorable enigma. But there is really no strong urge to probe deeper to get at the core of the matter, primarily because there is no indication that this venture will lead to discovery.

While O'Toole is the most unforgettable character, others are better forgotten. Omar Sharif is one such character. He, too, has an obsession. As the investigating major and later colonel, he must find the vicious murderer. He candidly tracks three suspect German generals, including O'Toole, for about three years, from the eastern front to Paris. The role is bland.

Is he a super sleuth to match the likes of James Bond? Probable. Is he modeled after Portray, the indefatigable inspector in "Crime and Punishment"? Hardly. "My madness," he says, "is on a smaller, practical scale."

Then there is Tom Courtenay, a German corporal. His part, likewise, is questionable. He is thrust upon the scene to resolve the story and little else. For no apparent good reason, a bedroom scene is included in which Courtenay and Joanna Pettet gambol about.

Except for her obvious charms, why is Miss Pettet in the movie at all? Why does Donald Pleasence, another general, consume gallons of liquor?

Finally, just what does this movie have to say about Germany yesterday or today? Why is the plot to murder Hitler included in this movie? And are we to assume in the final scene, when O'Toole's army gathers to honor him, that Nazism is on the rise in Germany today?

Where does the responsibility lie for this travesty? This can be answered with surety. With Sam Spiegel, the producer, and Anatole Litvak, the director. They have succeeded in presenting a frayed, worthless piece.
