

There's Still Time to Enter Subscription Contest

Richard Alsbaugh

He's Leading Race to Win Color TV

Another 11-year-old Northville boy captured the lead in the Northville Record-Novl News subscription contest as it entered the second week. The new leader is Richard Alsbaugh of 601 Reed Court, with a total of 145 points. Just five points behind in second place is Ian Dingwall, 11, who had taken the lead on the second day of the contest.

Both boys picked up 10 bonus points for reporting sales last weekend. Some of the other contestants missed the extra points by not reporting.

"Youngsters, families and groups in Novi and Wixom," Contest Manager Mary Ware noted, "are missing a golden opportunity to make themselves some extra money and perhaps a big prize by not selling. There's still plenty of time to enter, however, and lots of places to sell," she added.

Contestants may sign up at The Record Office, 101 North Center street, in Northville on either Friday afternoon or on Saturday. To be eligible for the bonus points, sales must be reported at the Record office on either of these two days, or they must reach the Record office by mail by Friday or Saturday.

Top prize in the contest is a 23-inch Coronado color television set. Other prizes include a portable TV set, power lawn mower, AM-FM clock radio, and fish rod and reel and line plus 10 transistor radios.

A point system will determine who wins the top prizes, but all contestants will be paid 50 cents for each new subscription or two-year renewal sold. For each new two-year subscription sold the contestant will get 75 cents.

A new one-year subscription is worth 10 points, a new two-year subscription 15 points, a new four-year subscription 25 points and a two-year renewal of an existing subscription five points.

JC Survey Tests City

Northville residents get a chance to make out "report cards" on city performance this week.

Through the efforts of the Northville Jaycees, a questionnaire is being sent to residents asking them to evaluate the community by marking "excellent, good, average, below average or poor" on subjects ranging from water pressure to general community appearance.

Surveys must be returned (return stamped envelopes are provided) by Thursday, April 20.

"By answering these questions to the best of your ability," Jaycee officials explain, "we as Jaycees can better inform the necessary city officials as to what should be improved or, as the case may be, what is generally approved and accepted by the citizens of Northville."

On questions answered "below average" or "poor", citizens are asked to elaborate on the reverse side of the questionnaire. Residents need not sign their names, however. All that is needed is that residents indicate in what general area they reside.

Besides the subjects to which residents may answer in the above manner, several additional questions pertaining to parking and shopping facilities, may be answered by a "yes" or "no".

Still another question asks for a percentage of shopping that the resident does outside Northville and another asks residents to indicate who should provide recreational opportunities for the community - school district, city, private individuals or a combination of any of these.

Flooded Basements Plague City

Complaints of sanitary sewers backing up into basements on Grace and Carpenter streets were heard last Thursday evening at a brief session of the city council.

TOWNSHIP TRIBUTE—Friends and fellow officials of Northville township said "farewell" to Clerk Marguerite Young and Building Inspector Ralph B. Willis Tuesday night at a party in their honor at Thunderbird Inn. Mrs. Young, who has been clerk for four terms, did not run for re-election. Her term expired April 10. Mr. Willis retired on the same date after six years as township building inspector. Pictured at the head table (l to r) are: Mrs. Leo (Mollie) Lawrence, who served the township for seven years as treasurer and 13 as supervisor; Treasurer

Alex Lawrence; George Young and wife, "Clerk Rita"; Mr. and Mrs. Willis and Supervisor and Mrs. R. D. Merriam. City of Northville Mayor and Mrs. A. M. Allen, as well as City Clerk Martha Milne and her husband, William Milne, joined some 60 township residents at the dinner gathering.

But Who Will Pay? City Bids for Hatchery

While the exclusive rights to make application for the fish hatchery property have now been given the city (by agreement between the city, township and school board), some question remains as to whether or not the cost of the acquisition will be shared.

The city is proceeding under the impression that the site will be acquired from the federal government for community recreation purposes. City Manager Frank Ollendorf and councilmembers have given indications that they anticipate school-township financial participation in the purchase and preparation of the site, probably on a similar basis that recreation costs are now shared.

The township board has not revealed any plan to share in the cost. But Supervisor R. D. Merriam said this week that it would be his recommendation to call for a special vote to gain public approval. He said the township cannot legally spend money for such an undertaking. The supervisor said it would seem reasonable for the township to share in the costs based on the percentage of participation in the recreation program.

In its application to the federal government the city is seeking to purchase 12 1/2 acres on the south side of Seven Mile road at half price for recreational purposes. It has also asked for permission to purchase three acres on the north side, which includes two houses, for 100 per cent. The north side request was filed on behalf of the school board, which has expressed interest in the property for use other than recreational.

Strict Junk Control Sought by Township

Preparation of a proposed ordinance to control the storage of trash and garbage has been authorized by the Northville township board.

Attorney John Ashton last week was directed to begin preparation of the ordinance following an explanation by Supervisor R. D. Merriam that he has received complaints about junk cars and improperly covered garbage cans on private property.

Some property owners are dumping trash and garbage in low areas near their homes, it was noted, thus creating a nuisance and perhaps a health hazard for themselves as well as others in the vicinity.

Supervisor Merriam was authorized to check the validity of signatures to a petition calling for the establishment of a special assessment district for water lines along Marilyn, from Five Mile road north to the end of the street.

In reporting receipt of the petition, the supervisor said it must contain the signatures of 55-percent of the "owners of record" in order for the township to take steps to establish a special assessment district.

He said the petition appeared to have 55-percent of the signatures of persons who own or are buying homes on Marilyn but not necessarily owners of record.

Several people on the street, he said, are without water and must carry or pipe in water from adjacent homes.

In other business last week, the board——Voted to purchase seven executive type chairs from Schrader's Home Furnishings at a cost of $68.25 each, and to buy folding chairs from Western Office Equipment company at a cost of $50 for a dozen.

—Authorized the township engineer and attorney to prepare a resolution and assemble information relative to cost, description, etc. in anticipation of signing a contract with the Northville State Hospital for sale of water to that institution.

—Agreed to place the matter of the Committee of 100 on the May agenda.

—Voted to loan the water and sewer department $30,000 from the revolving fund for partial payment on purchase on CFS in the Rouge Valley Sewage Disposal system.

—Directed the supervisor to write a letter to the federal bureau of surplus property indicating that the township no longer had an interest in the fish hatchery property. Purpose of this action, the supervisor explained, is to remove a possible obstacle from the path of the city of Northville in its current attempt to purchase the property.

—Adopted a resolution proclaiming April 16-22 as Savings Bond Week.

—Approved minutes of the water and sewer department, thus implementing a suggestion that a car wash business be charged $4,000 for a tap, which is equivalent to 10 household tap fees of $400 each.

Council to Seat Election Winners

Mayor A. M. Allen and Councilmen Charles Lapham and Wallace Nichols will be officially sworn in tonight (Thursday) at a special meeting of the city council. The trio was elected April 3. Allen and Nichols are incumbents.

Following the eight o'clock ceremonies, the council will adjourn into a budget study work session.

Lapham replaces John Canterbury, who is retiring after 12 years on the council. Other councilmembers are Del Black and Mrs. Beatrice Carlson.

Area Leaders Seek Studies On Unification

Leaders of area communities nailed together some rough scaffolding Saturday that eventually could mean construction of a giant, new city encompassing two or more municipalities.

The building bee took place at Schoolcraft college where 77 officials and citizens representing Northville township, the city and township and Plymouth, and Canton township convened for the second intergovernmental conference sponsored by the Plymouth Community Chamber of Commerce.

Northville city officials were not present, although they had been invited. Specifically, here is what happened:

—A resolution was adopted urging the city and township of Plymouth to underwrite a unification study by the Citizens Research Council of Michigan.

The same resolution left the door open for the city and township of Northville and the township of Canton to become a part of the study if they desired.

—Another resolution was adopted urging state legislators to sponsor enabling legislation permitting cities, villages, and townships to join together in providing police protection.

—Still another resolution was passed asking the five municipalities to give support to the police enabling legislation.

The unification study resolution followed a report by Carl D. Pursell, president of the Plymouth Chamber, in which he suggested the unification of the city and township of Plymouth as a means of preventing the urban problems of the two communities from being "transformed into a major crisis."

Pursell said the Plymouth area is located in the Detroit-Ann Arbor urban corridor destined to become a megalopolis—an important reason for area residents to do something now in determining "form and powers of their government for themselves."

Purpose of the study, he said, would be to "provide up-to-date facts to determine impact of unification on government services and costs."

Thus, what started as a Plymouth community leadership conference at Hillsdale in March of 1966, then turned to a study of joint municipal police and rubbish disposal services, has now blossomed into a complete unification proposal.

While the unification study resolution concerned primarily the city and township of Plymouth, this part of the resolution has significance locally:

"...Also, urge the Citizens Research Council be instructed to include in the appendix all of those neighboring communities which wish to be included as part of the study and pay their portion of the cost of including them in the study."

Before adoption of the resolution, Pursell emphasized that he had no objections to other communities participating in the study, but that the basic communities in the plan should be limited to the city and township of Plymouth because past experience had shown that where additional communities consider unification chances of approval by voters diminish rapidly.

Cost of the study by the research council, a non-profit organization with headquarters in Detroit and Lansing, was pegged at $500. The council a year ago completed a similar study of the Battle Creek area.

In his report on the proposed study, Pursell said a "sampling" survey of major organizations within the Plymouth area indicated that an overwhelming majority of voting members of these organizations supported the study. This sampling, he said, included unanimous support action of the Chamber, the Plymouth Jaycees, and the Democratic and Republican parties.

Among the other groups sampled were the Grange, Business & Professional Women, Kiwanis, Lions, Newcomers, Optimists, Rotary and Woman's club.

The decision to request enabling legislation for joint police protection was reached following a report by Eugene Guido, of Northville township, a member of the joint police committee, that Northville township's attorney, John Ashton, contends that present statutes "do not clearly establish" a township's authority to join with other cities and villages in forming a police authority.

Furthermore, the attorney was reported as concluding that without specific permissive legislation Northville township could not legally join in the creation of a police authority or be able to contract with other communities for the use of their existing police agencies.

Ashton's interpretations of the law are somewhat similar to those expressed several months ago by Colonel Fredrick Davids of the Michigan State Police.

Following a lengthy discussion as to the course of action to follow, the day-long conference recessed until the afternoon at which time the enabling resolution was proposed and adopted. Directed to Representatives Louis Schmidt, James Tierney (both of whom were present) and William Faust, and Senator George Kuhn, the resolution requested them to introduce enabling legislation.

Both Schmidt and Tierney urged immediate action by the group because of today's (Thursday) deadline for proposing new legislation in the House of Representatives. Both indicated that such legislation probably could be attached to bills already proposed.

Another resolution was directed at the officials of the five communities, urging them to adopt similar resolutions backing the enabling legislation.

In a progress report of the intergovernmental incinerator committee, it was noted that there is a possibility that the city of Detroit would consider Detroit House of Correction property as a site for a proposed incinerator.

City of Detroit officials already have been approached with the idea, Committee Chairman Richard D. Blodgett of Plymouth reported, and they appeared ready to study the possibility.

Among those listed as members of the incinerator committee are Northville City Manager Frank Ollendorf and Northville Township Supervisor R. D. Merriam.

Ollendorf also is listed as a member of the joint police committee, along with Guido and B. J. Williams of Northville township, and Northville Mayor A. M. Allen. Dick Luaterback of Plymouth township is chairman of the group.

Present at Saturday's conference, which was moderated by Dr. Howard McCuskey, professor of community affairs for the University of Michigan, from this area were Guido, Williams, Township Trustee Elect Gunnar Stromberg, E. O. Weber, and Mrs. Robert Arlen.

Special guest at the conference was Congressman Marvin Esch.

ON SCHEDULE—Construction of Northville's new junior high school is on schedule, as seen from the high school football field.

Completion of the school is scheduled for September.

Mr. and Mrs. Daniel Sigsbee

Speak Vows in Detroit

St. Anne's Church of Detroit was the scene of a solemn nuptial High Mass officiated by the Reverend Fr. Killoran which united Anne J. Boatman and Daniel Lee Sigsbee in marriage Saturday, April 1.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Guy Boatman of Walled Lake, and the bridegroom's parents are Mr. and Mrs. Harold Sigsbee of Novi.

For her wedding, the bride chose a full chantilly lace tiered gown. Her matron of honor, Mrs. Elbert Edo, and attendants Marian Boatman and Sharon Sigsbee were dressed alike in full length A-line aqua gowns of satin covered with silk crepe, with elbow length cape collars of lace, shoes and long gloves to match sprays of pink carnations.

The bridegroom was attended by Martin Boatman as best man and Robert Wishaw and Richard Sigsbee as ushers. All were attired in tuxedos featuring white jackets. Mr. Sigsbee, father of the bridegroom, was dressed similarly.

For her daughter's wedding, Mrs. Boatman was dressed in a blue lace shift with matching coat. The bridegroom's mother wore a shocking pink crepe dress with crocheted corded lace top. The mothers each wore a pink carnation corsage.

Following the wedding, a brunch was enjoyed by about 40 relatives at the Thunderbird Inn. A reception was held at St. Francis Cabrini Hall that evening for about 200 guests.

Buffet lunch and refreshments were served, with about 200 guests attending.

After a honeymoon in the Upper Peninsula, the couple will make their home in Clare.

Joyce Stuckey Scores High

Joyce Stuckey, winner of the Northville high school Betty Crocker Search for the Homemaker of Tomorrow test, ranked among the top 10 contestants in the state, Meroe Stanley, high school economics teacher, announced this week.

The test covers all areas of home-making knowledge and attitudes. Betty Crocker provides two scholarships on the state level and four on the national level totaling $54,000.

Michigan winners were Janet Lewis of Edsel Ford high school and Barbara Wilcox of Swartz Creek high school.

DAR Plans Antique Show

A doll house, featuring French furniture in perfect miniature scale, and a bisque doll, owned by Northville resident Mrs. Kurnal Babbitt, will be one of the featured items on display at the upcoming "Look and Do Antique Show for Children."

Sponsored by the Sarah Ann Cochran Chapter, Daughters of the American Revolution, the unique fund-raising event will be held Saturday and Sunday, April 29-30, from 2 p.m. to 5 p.m., at the Joy Road Studio, 48234 Joy road, Plymouth.

ONLY BECAUSE of living in Northville could most of us claim acquaintanceship with as many as a dozen psychiatrists and their families. Coming to Northville state hospital from Europe and the Orient as well as from North and South America, their presence has lent a cosmopolitan atmosphere to our small town. (It also is a compliment to life-in-our-town that many have decided to make their homes in Northville after serving on the hospital staff.)

Next month, when the Michigan branch of the American Psychiatric Association is host for the national APA convention May 8-13 in Detroit, many local wives will be involved with hospitality duties.

Mrs. F. F. Ishac, who has been working actively on publicity and hospitality for the ladies arrangements committee, has decided to take a room at the Pontchartrain to be close to convention events at Cobo Hall and the Statler headquarters. Both Mrs. George Romney and Mrs. Jerome Cavanaugh will be honor guests, she reports, at the luncheon-fashion show (by Milgrim's) May 9.

Other ladies' events will include a visit to Greenfield Village and museum with luncheon at Lovett Hall, an institute of arts tour and luncheon in Kresge court and a visit to Windsor.

This week Mrs. Ishac is busy with arrangements for a sixth-year birthday party Saturday for daughter Carmen. It was' on that day exactly a year ago that the Ishac family moved to Southfarm lane in Meadowbrook hills after spending 10 months in New Jersey. Dr. Ishac rejoined the Northville hospital staff and also has his own practice.

Also working on the publicity committee is Mrs. Calvin Chen. On the hospitality committee are Mrs. Charles Fountain, Mrs. E. G. Yudashkin and Mrs. Richard Lilly. Mrs. Sanford Bloomberg is on the luncheon arrangements committee. They will be tending a final organizational meeting in Detroit next Thursday. Also participating in convention events will be wives of doctors on the hospital staff, including Mrs. Prem Prasad and Mrs. Stefan Chelecki.

"ANAPA CONVENTION" highlight will be the dinner-dance May 10 at Cobo Hall for which Guy Lombardo will play. Reservations already have been made for this popular event by Dr. and Mrs. Omar Sonbay, Dr. and Mrs. J. J. Miller, Dr. and Mrs. Sirum Sarafoglu, Dr. and Mrs. Rahan Anisoglu, Dr. Francine Larson, and by the Isaacs, Fountains, Chens and Yudashkins.

A LEAGUE OF WOMEN Voters group for the Northville, Plymouth, Novi area is the goal of Mrs. Earle McIntosh, who hopes other area women will be interested in forming a local league in the nonpartisan organization whose purpose nationally is to "promote political responsibility through informed and active participation of citizens in government."

Such leagues, Mrs. McIntosh points out, are open to all women citizens of voting age who believe in representative government. She asks anyone interested to call her at 349-0648.

An organizational meeting is planned for 1 p.m. April 26 at Mrs. McIntosh's home on Woodhill road. Mrs. McIntosh hopes a nucleus group can be started this spring in order to have the 50 required for a provisional league next fall. Working to begin the league in Plymouth is Mrs. William McNamara, now an officer of the Dearborn league.

ADD TO THE list of spring vacationers back from Florida: the Robert Bogarts, who drove south to visit his family at Trapin Springs in the deep-sea fishing region. The Bogarts also visited college friends at Satellite Beach with whom they attended a gourmet international dinner.

Mrs. George Merwin, back from an Indiana state Children of the American Revolution conference at South Bend, reports that daughter Mimi has been re-named state corresponding secretary.

Next local CAR meeting will be at 10 a.m. Saturday at the home of Tom Jordan.

ORIENT CHAPTER'S Past Matrons' club will hold an evening meeting Wednesday, April 19, at the home of Mrs. Leon Boldt in Belleville.

CALENDAR April 13 - Moraine PTA 8 p.m. high school auditorium.

April 18 - Northville Historical society April 20 - Bill Blass, Town Hall, Northville high school, 11 a.m.

Merwin Family to Attend National CAR Convention

The George Merwin family will attend the national convention of the Children of the American Revolution April 20 through 23 in Washington, D.C.

Mrs. Merwin is a member of the national convention committee serving as its processions chairman and her two daughters, Mimi and Jacki, will represent the Plymouth Corners Society of the CAR as delegates.

During the recent state convention of the Michigan society of the CAR in Detroit, the local society received awards for its work in American music, gaining the most new members and the National Merit Award.

Mimi Merwin was re-elected state corresponding secretary for the second year, and Larry Willoughby of the Plymouth Corners Society was elected librarian curator.

Miss Merwin was the personal page to her mother, who is senior state president. Mrs. Merwin has held the post for four years and now has been made honorary senior state president for life - a position that becomes effective following the national convention later this month.

As a parting gift from her state president, Paul Van Dorpe of Detroit, she received a model of the USS Constitution made by Van Dorpe.

Representing Plymouth Corners Society at the state convention besides the Merwin children were Thomas Jordan, Mrs. Robert Willoughby and Mrs. Richard Stuart. Mrs. Stuart is the society's senior president.

From Saks Fifth Avenue

Town Hall Features Designer

American fashion designer Bill Blass and a fashion showing of his designs by Saks Fifth Avenue will be the final program on the 1966-7 Northville Town Hall series at 11 a.m. Thursday, April 20, in Northville high school auditorium.

"An American designer of original fashions can take off for Paris and Rome couture collections without losing his creative integrity," says Designer Blass, a partner in the firm of Maurice Rentner and twice winner of the coveted Coty American Fashion Critics award.

"I admire Balenciaga, Givenchy and St. Laurent," he continues in a fashion comment; "I am not afraid of being influenced by good design — I welcome it. Fashion, like art, music or drama, is one of the great cultures of Paris. Any designer who feels secure in his art need not fear being exposed to others."

Known as an untemperamental designer, Blass says he is extremely proud of the way women look in his clothes. He will speak on "Fashion Today and Tomorrow."

Blass' early life was spent with dressmaking members of his own family in Indiana. He later trained in two New York fashion schools of design, beginning his career in a Seventh avenue sportswear house.

After a three-and-a-half year wartime stint with the Corps of Engineers, he joined the firm of Anna Miller, then merged with Maurice Rentner.

His fashions have been called "smoldering simplicity that make other clothes look fussy and overtrimmed." In a fashion news story Sunday, it was announced that he now is designing lingerie to wear with today's short fashions.

Luncheon at Meadowbrook country club will follow his talk. Luncheon Reservations must be sent to Northville Town Hall, Box 93, by this Friday, Mrs. Duane Butler, reservations chairman, reminds ticketholders.

Tickets for the 1967-8 Town Hall series are available now at $10, which should be sent to Box 93 also.

At the annual TH meeting last month Town Hall series re-elected as its officers Mr. Robert Brueck, chairman; Mrs. Robert Lang, co-chairman; Mrs. Eugene Karrer, treasurer; Mrs. Joseph Fiorelli, recording secretary; Mrs. Nelson Hyatt, corresponding secretary.

The Chamber of Commerce of Wixom will hold a dance and buffet luncheon on Saturday, April 29. The Harmonica Hi Lights will provide the music.
Mrs. Ray Burke, Mrs. Roy Robinson and daughters Don and Terry, Mrs. Fred Robinson and son Jack spent two weeks at Clearwater, Florida. They returned Wednesday, March 29.
Mr. and Mrs. Fred Waara and daughter Freda have returned from a 10-day skiing vacation in Park City, Utah.
Mr. and Mrs. John Ware were guests of the Charles Wares recently.
Mr. and Mrs. Dennis Berkeley are the proud parents of a son, Michael Wayne born April 7. The baby weighed 8 pounds 11 ounces. Great grandparents are the Lee Harrisons of Pontiac Trail.
The Sunshine Social Service group will meet at the home of Mrs. Alfred Gaedt on Wednesday, April 19 at 2 p.m.
On Sunday, April 10, Mr. and Mrs. Charles McCall were the guests of the Charles McCall Jr. in Commerce. The occasion was young Charles' birthday.
Mr. and Mrs. Fred Warra and daughter, Freda, were dinner guests of Mr. and Mrs. Roland Conrad of Berkeley on Sunday, April 10.

Filing your federal income tax can be painful in more ways than one, especially if you're one of the many who prefer to fill out the "long forms" in hopes of saving a dollar here and there.

This year 90-percent of the tax forms will be checked by computer, says Uncle Sam who reminds everyone that besides being the month of showers, April—next Saturday to be exact—is the deadline for filing. Obviously, reasons Richard Robinson of Northville as he pours over his tax figures, that's why someone once wrote "Into each life some rain must fall."

Trustees of Schoolcraft college April 5 awarded a $19,308 contract for the second phase of a master landscaping plan for the campus, authorized a call for bids on two other projects, and approved purchase of office furniture for a fourth project.

The landscaping contract was awarded to Wayne Oakland Landscaping and Nursery Sales, Farmington, lowest of five bidders on the project. The work, which will concentrate on the campus mall, will be completed by June.

Trustees approved plans for remodeling of the administration building and authorized a call for bids for the work. The interior of the building is to be modified to provide additional working space for the president's office, the business office, and the office of instruction.

The board also approved purchase of $5,814 in furniture for the office of student affairs which is scheduled to vacate its present suite in the administration building and move into new quarters being prepared in the former student center in July.

Trustees authorized a call for bids on developing a new parking lot at the south end of the campus. The project timetable calls for completion of the new lot in late July.

Michigan Council of the American Institute for Design and Drafting will receive its AIDD charter at the Council's spring seminar at Schoolcraft college on Thursday, May 4.

The day's program will include presentation of a special award to the Schoolcraft AIDD student chapter, which is sponsored by the council.

General chairman for the day-long seminar is Ralph Northrup, head of the engineering graphics department at Wayne State university. Official host for the event is Jon P. Adams, dean of technical-vocational instruction at Schoolcraft.

Regional science fairs and speech contests recently called on Schoolcraft college faculty members to serve as judges.

James M. Mason, mathematics instructor at the college, served as a judge at the regional science fair at Birmingham junior high. Winning exhibits will compete in the Metropolitan Science Fair at Cobo Hall.

Charles W. Castillo, head of the speech department, and John P. Owdziej, speech instructor, served as judges for the Region N, Dist. 3 Forensic Contest at Franklin High. A total of 65 scholastic orators from Franklin, John Glenn, Wayne Memorial, Lola Valley Junior High, St. Alphonsus and Crestwood, were in the competition. Castillo lives in Northville.

Another faculty member, Richard E. Charlton, economics instructor, attended a conference of the Economics Society of Michigan at the University of Michigan recently.

Report.....

The pause for Easter Recess brought about the usual flood of comment on the pace and relative effectiveness of Congress, Congressman Marvin Esch said this week. "The evidence tends to support those who pronounce the pace to be slow and the effectiveness weak. "At this early date reasons are hard to pinpoint. It is clear, however, that there is a definite lack of direction and few clear objectives; all of which stems from confusion in the White House and among members of the majority party. Little "follow through" can be found for State of the Union proposals, and the Congressional powers—that be appear lost without powerful executive direction that was so evident during the last Congress." An optimistic prediction—that this Congress will be more frugal than its predecessors—might come true, he said. Recent action on the $7.5 billion Post Office-Treasury appropriation bill first saw $112 million knocked off in committee and then an additional $2.4 million cut on the floor. While this fell short of the 5% cut proposed, it is significant and may indicate a trend needed and welcomed economy trend.

From Rep. Louis Schmidt:
Debate on fiscal reform began in the House on April 6 and the tax bills appeared headed for a vote this week.
Further revisions in the proposed tax package came up for major discussion in the House Republican Caucus as a showdown on taxes neared.

New information on the expected yield of the program suggested by Governor Romney, originally put at $235 million, caused the caucus to take a second look at the revised program it had submitted. Latest estimates project the yield of Romney's suggestions at $307 million, much closer to what the caucus figured would be necessary to meet revenue needs in coming years.

The Governor's plan calls for a two and one half percent personal income tax, five percent tax on corporations and eight percent on financial institutions. Tax relief features include a 10 percent credit on property taxes, a $10 sales tax credit, repeal of the business activities tax and increased exemptions under the intangibles tax. This is the basic program which was defeated in a Senate test vote and referred back to committee.

The original G.O.P. revision came about through feelings that the Governor's program would not produce adequate new revenue. Romney's suggestions were altered to include a three percent personal income tax, six percent tax on corporations and retention of the eight percent financial institutions tax. Other tentative alterations included dropping the sales tax credit and doubling the property tax relief to 20 percent.

The newly revised plan reinstates the two and one half percent levy on personal income and the five percent tax on corporations. The levy on financial institutions was lowered to seven percent. On the tax relief side a 14 percent credit on school and county property taxes was proposed. That feature was accompanied by proposals to return one quarter of one percent of the income tax to counties and one quarter of one percent to cities, villages or townships. The latest fiscal reform plan, if it is enacted soon enough to take effect this fiscal year, would yield an estimated $314 million in revenue.

State Representative Louis E. Schmidt (R-Livonia-Northville) has been appointed to the five member special committee which will govern this session's House legislative fellowship program.

The committee will work with an academic committee composed of representatives of the political science departments of Michigan State university, Wayne State university and the University of Michigan to select four outstanding students to serve on the staff of the Michigan House of Representatives.

The House Fellows receive a salary of $500 per month. The cost of the program is shared by the House and the Ford Foundation.

Representative Schmidt said he was pleased to be named to the fellowship supervisory committee. He pointed out that state government has a great need to attract the outstanding young people being produced by Michigan's universities and that the fellowship program provides a source of fine potential for government work.

Richard Raupp

Great Lakes, Ill. (FHTNC) March 22—Seaman Recruit Richard E. Raupp, 19, USN, son of Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Raupp of 29 Arbor Way, has been graduated from nine weeks of Navy basic training at the Naval Training Center here.

In the first weeks of his naval service he studied military subjects and lived and worked under conditions similar to those he will encounter on his first ship or at his first shore station.

In making the transition from civilian life to Naval service, he received instruction under veteran Navy petty officers. He studied seamanship, as well as survival techniques, military drill and other subjects.

James C. Ritchie

Ft. Knox, Ky., April 4 - Army Private Michael C. Cayley has been assigned, here in the United States Army Training Center, Armor (USATCA), to Company E, 9th Battalion, of the 3d Basic Combat Training Brigade, for his initial eight weeks of military training.

He will also be taught protective measures and first-aid for chemical, biological and radiological attacks and close-in combat, and will be schooled also in the use of the hand grenade, bayonet and hand-to-hand combat.

Much of this instruction will be vividly illustrated by the latest visual aid techniques and live demonstrations, and by living under actual field conditions for several days.

Following the completion of his basic training, PVT Cayley who is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Martin Cayley of 46262 Sunset, will receive at least an additional eight weeks of either advanced instruction or on-the-job training to qualify him in a specialized military skill.

Tips from the STOP & SHOP CHEF Questions & Answers

Is there a way to keep shelled eggs moist when they are broiled? A few bits of butter distributed over the eggs before they are put under the broiler should do the trick. The eggs should be broiled four inches from medium heat, and they should be cooked just until the whites are set - ten minutes should be sufficient.
