

Subscription Contest Ends Saturday

It's Nip & Tuck for Color TV

With The Northville Record-Now! News subscription contest entering the final week, two or three contestants are within striking distance of the top prize, Contest Manager Mary Ware announced.

The contest ends at 5 p.m. Saturday. "If the leaders really push this last week," she said, "several should become eligible for the color television set. To be eligible for the color TV a contestant must sell 75 or more new subscriptions.

"Two contestants are already eligible for the black and white television set and several are eligible for other major prizes."

Selection of the winners — once they become eligible — will be determined by the total number of points they accumulate, she explained.

Leading all contestants for the second straight week is Jackie McAtee of Wixom with a total of 915 points. She has sold 59 new subscriptions, and three two-year renewals.

In second place with 790 points, 46 new subscriptions and 41 two-year renewals is Steven Balu of Northville. Richard Alspaugh is in third place with 440 points, Ian Dingwall in fourth place with 380 points, and Debbie Arlen in third place with 275 points. The latter three are also Northville residents.

Mrs. Ware reminded all contestants that another 60 bonus points will be awarded those who sell five or more new subscriptions during the final week — 50 points for five or more and 10 points just for reporting any new sale.

In addition to prizes offered in the contest, each contestant will be paid 50 cents for each new one-year subscription or for each two-year renewal; 75 cents for each two-year new subscription; and $1.50 for a four-year new subscription. Payment will be made whether the contestant wins a prize or not.

Prizes include a Coronado color television console; black and white TV; power lawn mower; AM-FM clock radio; fishing rod and reel; and 10 transistor radios.

Prizes have been ordered and may be seen at Stone's Gambles store. Under the point system, Mrs. Ware explained, 10 points are awarded for each new one-year subscription; 15 points for each new two-year subscription (maximum of four-year new subscription earns 25 points); and 5 points for two-year renewals.

TOP STUDENTS—Kathy Erwin, (left), the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Edward Erwin of 40401 10 Mile road, Novi, was named valedictorian of the 1967 Northville high school graduating class. She has a better-than-A average of 4.055. Lynn Elkins, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Clifford Elkins, 371 Welch street, was named salutatorian with a 3.831 average. With the announcement, Principal Fred Holdsworth officially brought a friendly rivalry to a close.

The same two girls tied as valedictorian of the eighth grade class at Novi school with identical 3.9 averages in 1963. And scholarship is not unknown in Kathy's family. Her father was valedictorian of the 1941 Northville high school graduating class. Both 17-year-old girls were active in many extra curricular activities. Kathy will attend the University of Michigan; Lynn said her choice is Olivett college in Nazarene, Illinois.

City OK's Water To Township

Extension of city water service to a proposed Northville township car wash was unanimously approved by the council Monday — but not before Mayor A. M. Allen pressed for and secured several teething restrictions.

Request for water came from Donald Thompson, who plans to erect an automatic car wash at 19076 Northville road on the east side of the road just south of Seven Mile.

City water has been furnished to the property through a quarter-inch line, but Thompson's request was for a two-inch line.

Installation of the new line is to be financed by Thompson as is its maintenance.

Emphasizing that "you can't be too cautious", Mayor Allen suggested the resolution, which was subsequently adopted, specifies that plans for the line first be approved by the council and that in the event the council finds that the line is not being adequately maintained or the use is abandoned the city has the right to shut off the water immediately.

Allen said a written guarantee of this kind is essential in view of the many problems related to water service that the city has experienced in the past.

The resolution also makes clear that the sale of water to Thompson does not abrogate the city's policy against sale of water to non-city residents. This sale, the council explained, is really a continuation of a service already in existence and therefore does not conflict with the policy.

An appeal by Dennis Wilson, proprietor of the Northville Cue Ball, 120 West Main, for a city ordinance amendment to permit youngsters from ages 14 through 16 in his business establishment was referred to the city attorney, who is to prepare a proposed amendment.

Once the amendment is prepared the council will set a public hearing on the proposed change. Wilson, who sought immediate permission, was told the city had to abide by the normal procedures concerning amendment changes and that the change — if approved — probably would not take place until early in June.

Wilson is seeking the change because police recently cited him for a violation of the ordinance. He admitted Monday night that he had been permitting persons younger than 17 to play

Steimel, Williams New Planners

Two new members were appointed to the Northville city planning commission Monday night.

Named to the nine-member commission were Donald Williams and John Steimel, who will fill out the unexpired terms of Edwin Langtry and Councilman W. Wallace Nichols, both of whom resigned.

Williams will serve until July of 1968 and Steimel until July of 1969. The council also appointed Douglas Slater to fill out the unexpired term of James Allen — until July of 1968 — on the board of appeals.

billiards or pool because it had been a practice in the past and because he was not aware of the prohibitive ordinance.

In conjunction with the amendment, Wilson volunteered to require youngsters between the ages of 14 through 16 to obtain written permission of their parents before being permitted to frequent his establishment. He said obtaining of written permission had been his practice while permitting youngsters to play in violation of the ordinance.

None of the councilmen expressed any opposition to the proposed amendment, although it was suggested that Wilson be required to verify the parent's signature by calling the boy's home.

City Attorney Philip Ogilvie was instructed to draw up a written agreement giving John Mach, owner of the Ford dealership, permission to grade and top city property adjacent to the west side of his own property on Seven Mile and to use it for parking and storage. Meanwhile, City Manager Frank Ollendorf is to study any future use for the property, which is actually a dedicated extension of River street on the south side of Seven to Cass Benton Park.

Mack recently purchased two lots west of his existing business property and adjacent to the eastern edge of the roadway. He plans to grade it to the level of Seven Mile as he would the city's street property.

Mayor Allen, who said he had no objections to Mach's use of the undeveloped street property, declared that he unquestionably opposed to selling or giving up the city's claim on it.

Mobile Home Suit Filed in Township

A circuit court suit against Northville township has been started by the Aaron Mobile Homes Valley company over the township's refusal to rezone 50 acres at Beck and Six Mile roads for a $800,000 mobile home development.

Word that action has been started in circuit court was reported to the township board Tuesday night by Supervisor R. D. Merriam.

Plans for the 325-lot mobile home community were introduced in September, 1965. Township planners and the township board subsequently denied the rezoning request of Charles and James Lapham, Rodney Grover and Gilbert Pearson, partners in the company, and the appeals board declined to hear the case.

Calling All Dogs

City and township dog owners can obtain vaccinations for their dogs, as well as licenses, Saturday at a 9 a.m. until noon clinic.

It will be held in the fire station at city hall.

City and township ordinances require vaccinations. Licenses must be obtained by May 31.

Becker, Lyon Won't Seek School Board Re-election

With less than two weeks remaining in which to file nominating petitions, only three persons have indicated they will seek election to three Northville board of education posts in June.

At least two new faces on the board was assured this week when Board President Wilfred C. Becker and Trustee Richard Lyon announced they would not seek re-election.

Becker has headed up the Northville board for the past two years and is completing his second term. Becker and James Kiper rank as senior members of the present board, having both been elected for the first time in 1966.

Last June Becker re-assumed the reins as president when a deadlock occurred between Kiper and Donald Lawrence. The latter has since resigned from the board and Richard Martin was named to fill his post until the June election.

Martin announced this week that he will seek election, but to a four-year term, rather than the unexpired two years of Lawrence's original term.

Martin was almost elected to the board last June. A tie vote with Stanley Johnston was broken by a draw, won by Johnston.

Of the three terms that expire this June on the Northville board, two are for four years and one has two years to run.

Two other persons have announced their candidacy — Andrew Orphan, 356 Rogers, for a four-year term and Glenn Deibert, 9825 Napier, for the single two-year term.

Deibert is seeking election for the first time and Orphan was an unsuccessful candidate for a four-year term a year ago.

Petitions are available at the board of education offices of both school districts. Petitions, which must contain a minimum of 20 signatures, must be filed no later than 4 p.m. on Saturday, May 13.

On Schoolcraft Board Northville Seat Open

William Secord, an unsuccessful candidate for a one-year term on the Northville board of education last June, has announced his candidacy as Northville's representative on the Schoolcraft College board of trustees.

He seeks a six-year post.

Dr. Gordon Forrer, Northville's present trustee, has decided not to seek re-election and is circulating nominat-

Leaving Barn Door Open Thing to Do This Time

Fire leveled their barn last Thursday, but a Northville family can breathe a sigh of thankful relief for little things — like a young girl's procrastination.

Saving the day was 12-year-old Debbie Arlen, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Arlen of 44560 Country Lane.

Debbie left the barn doors open, affording two prize Morgan show horses a chance to escape death in the flames that engulfed the Arlen barn in seconds. Still, the fire took its toll. Damage was estimated at upwards of $2,500, including the loss of at least $1,500 in horse gear and the estimated $1,000 barn. Furthermore, four kittens perished in the fire.

Debbie, according to her mother, had just sat down at the dinner table at 6 p.m., 10 minutes after she had fed the horses in the barn. A neighbor called asking if the barn was on fire. Sure enough.

"The barn was in a mass of flames and the first thing we thought was 'Oh, the horses.' But they had run out into the pasture," Mrs. Arlen said. Debbie, anxious to eat, had left the barn doors open, thinking she would return later to close them, her mother said.

"Mom, you're lucky I'm lazy," Debbie later chirped.

The barn was an inferno when Northville firemen arrived on the scene, most of them dressed in their Sunday best. They were preparing to attend the funeral of Police Sergeant Louis Westfall's father in Plymouth when the alarm sounded.

No sooner had the firemen returned to the station and resumed dressing for the funeral when an alarm at 8 p.m. sent them scurrying again for the fire engines. There was a fire at the Old Farney Coal yard, located east of the C&O railroad tracks behind the Ford Valve plant.

A dilapidated and deserted shed, owned by the C&O railroad, burned to the ground. Fire Chief Bud Hartner believes the fire was ignited intentionally.

Finally, their night's work done, the firemen were free to attend the funeral. They left directly from the fire hall.

But the episode was hardly closed. Monday, smoke curled from the burnt remains of the Arlen barn, prompting the fire department to make another run. The smoke was doused shortly after 2 p.m.

Friday, the department quickly extinguished a small grass fire at 2 p.m. on Marilyn road near Five Mile road.

Flames leveled this Northville township barn of the Robert Arlen family.

Call Public Hearing On Bradner Paving

A public hearing on proposed paving of Bradner road from Six to Five Mile roads is scheduled Tuesday in the offices of the Wayne county road commission beginning at 10 a.m.

The offices are located on the seventh floor of the Guardian Building, at 500 Griswold in Detroit.

According to Township Supervisor R. D. Merriam, owners of 51-percent of the property adjacent to Bradner petitioned the county for the controversial paving project, which reportedly will cost approximately $249,205.

Cost of the project is to be shared by all abutting property owners along Bradner and by the county. Much of the abutting property, according to Merriam, is owned by Thompson-Brown, Greenspan, and Alex Gordon, subdivision developers.

Survey and plans for the improvement have been completed.

Purpose of the hearing, according to the county, is to give all interested persons an opportunity to state their views on the proposed paving project and to have their questions answered. After listening to these comments, objections and supporting arguments, the commission will determine if the improvement is necessary.

Persons unable to attend the hearing may write a letter to the commission giving their views. These letters, according to the commission, will be given the same weight and consideration as a personal statement.

Plans call for a 37-foot wide paved roadway — a "complete city-type improvement". By curbing the roadway, the commission plans to eliminate the necessity for roadside ditches.

The county's share of the cost will be for a 10-foot wide strip along the one-mile stretch. Property owners will be assessed for the remaining 27-foot wide strip.

Under commission policy, a special assessment roll will be established with a minimum of four equal annual installments plus interest. However, as many as 10 installments may be arranged. Property owners will be assessed a proportionate share of the cost on the basis of their land fronting on Bradner.

Several private property owners along Bradner have already expressed objections to the proposed assessment.

A portion of the abutting property is owned by the Northville School district, which is also subject to the assessment.

Two Open Ends

Mystery Water Main Uncovered

School contractors and city officials were perplexed last week when a new water line extended to the junior high school site failed to produce water.

The hook-up had been extremely smooth. The spot in the ground where city water system maps said the main was located proved exactly right. Contractors making the tap dug down 14 feet and found a cast iron water main, about 12-inches in size, just as described.

The tap was completed and a line was run from the connection point at the west end of Northville Heights subdivision between Taft road and Center street all the way to the junior high school site.

But when the faucet was turned on — nothing.

"Must be a shut-off valve somewhere", reasoned City Manager Frank Ollendorf. So he sent DPW crews looking for the valve.

Instead they found two open ends to a 73-foot long main extending in a straight line ... exactly six feet away from and parallel to the actual water line servicing Northville Heights.

The city untapped the school line and extended it six feet into the proper main.

No one knows who installed the "mystery main" in the ground. "The pipe is worth several hundreds of dollars", said Manager Ollendorf, who noted that it would cost that much to get it out.

Incidentally, water from the new connection is just fine.

Corser-Murphy Pledge Wedding Vows in Detroit

Sixty-eight candles lit the way as Gayla Lynn Corser, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ernest G. Corser of Detroit, walked down the aisle of Coronado Baptist Church to become the bride of J. Patrick Murphy, Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. John P. Murphy, Sr. of 499 Hill street, on April 8.

The bride chose a floor length gown of white linen trimmed with Viennese lace, with a shoulder dropped train and a Spanish Mantilla veil. She carried an orchid on her white Bible with trailing ribbons and stephanotis. Serving as matron of honor and best man were the brides sister, Sharon Zannis and her husband George.

The bridesmaids, in pink crepe and white lace gowns with shoulder dropped trains and carrying bouquets of shaded pink carnations and baby's breath were the bridegroom's nine year old sister, Colleen Murphy, Carol Cardella, sister of the bride, and Jean Steffans, a life-long friend.

Seating the guests were the ushers, Larry Corser, brother of the bride and friends, Bert Serra and Mickey Steffans.

After dinner for 150 guests in the church parlor, the bride and bridegroom cut a traditional three-tiered wedding cake, baked by the bridegroom's mother, then shared a five foot long submarine sandwich, presented to them by the owner, Ed Spector, of the Super Sub Shop on West Seven Mile road.

The bride's mother wore a magenta knit suit with pink roses. The bridegroom's mother chose a champagne cocktail suit with green accessories and wore yellow roses.

The bridegroom's two grandmothers, Mrs. Carmen Russell and Mrs. Zella Grant both of Northville, wore corsages of pink carnations.

Here for the happy occasion from Madison, Wisconsin were the bridegroom's sister and brother-in-law, Dr. and Mrs. Keith Yandell and their three children.

The rehearsal dinner for the bridal party, given by the bridegroom's parents, was held the previous night at Cregar's Pickwick House in Detroit.

After a honeymoon at Niagara Falls and Washington, D.C., the newlyweds set up housekeeping in the Detroit home where he spent his childhood before moving to Northville in 1963.

Both the bride and bridegroom graduated from Henry Ford high school in Detroit. Mr. Murphy is employed by Hydra-matic Division of General Motors in Ypsilanti.

Fisher-Gregory Exchange Vows

Mr. and Mrs. Clifford Rollings of Northville announce the marriage of their daughter, Barbara Fisher, to Mr. Lonzo Gregory, son of Mrs. Verna Gregory and the late Mr. Gregory of Morehead, Kentucky on Saturday, April 8 in Cranston, Kentucky.

Miss Noel F'Geppert and Leo Gregory, brother of the bridegroom, were the attendants. The newlyweds are residing in Plymouth.

ADMIRING THREE of the 65 door prizes which will be a feature of the Northville State Hospital Auxiliary's benefit dessert card party to be given at 12:30 p.m. Tuesday at the O.T.R.T. activities building at the hospital are, left to right, Mrs. James Sugrue, Jr., executive vice-president of the auxiliary; Mrs. Eino Kero, chairman of prizes and favors; and Mrs. Jack Doheny, card party chairman. There also will be five raffle prizes. The public is invited. Funds will go to the all-faith chapel fund of the hospital.

News Around Northville

Mr. and Mrs. Roy Matheson of 322 North Rogers were feted at a surprise golden wedding anniversary party Sunday evening by some 30 friends from the First Baptist church of Northville.

The party, which took place shortly after evening church services, was held in the couple's home. Their friends brought the food, cake, table setting, and even cleaned up afterward, the surprised and thrilled couple reported.

The Mathesons, both natives of Northville, have lived in their present home since their wedding in the Methodist parsonage here on April 30, 1917.

Mr. and Mrs. James Kipfer have been invited by Mrs. Winthrop Rockefeller to a reception for officers, committee chairmen, and district branch chairmen of the American Psychiatric Association on Sunday, May 7, at the Pick-Fort Shelby Hotel in Detroit. They also have been invited to be the guests of Harvey J. Tompkins, M.D., president of the American Psychiatric association, at the reception preceding the banquet of the association on Wednesday evening, May 10 in Cobo Hall. Following the reception and banquet, the Kipfers will join members of the House of Representatives Committee on Mental Health for the dance.

Mrs. Lucy Lapham of 673 Randolph is at St. Mary Hospital in Room 436 for observation.

Mrs. James Daniel was feted at a baby shower Sunday at the home of Mrs. Vickie Bedore, 520 Butler. The hostess was Mrs. P. Daniel.

Heldi Anne Handorf, daughter of Dr. and Mrs. H. Handorf of 300 Wing Court, was graduated from the University of Michigan Saturday. She received a BA degree in political science.

Miss Handorf will work for the United States government in Washington, D.C.

Mrs. John Murphy of 459 Hill street underwent surgery at Botsford Hospital last week Wednesday.

Wilson Funk of 845 Grace street was taken to the University Hospital Sunday where he was described as seriously ill "but doing as well as expected." Reports that he suffered a heart attack have not been verified.

Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Dunnabeck of 21900 Beck road returned Sunday by plane from St. Petersburg, Florida after spending two weeks with Mrs. Dunnabeck's parents, Mr. and Mrs. John Holian.

On April 25 Mr. and Mrs. Holian had an open house for their friends and relatives in celebration of their 50th wedding anniversary and the 25th wedding anniversary of Mr. and Mrs. Dunnabeck, which happened to be on the same date.

Mary Godfrey, daughter of Dr. and Mrs. Hugh Godfrey of 385 Eaton drive, was awarded a certificate in dental hygiene by the University of Detroit school of dentistry on Sunday, April 30. Miss Godfrey is a graduate of Northville high school.

In Our Town

By JEAN DAY

WHEN A WITCH'S daughter casts only good spells, there must be a fairytale reason. An original marionette show, "Wanda, the Witch Who Wasn't," will unfold it at the mother-daughter tea at 4 p.m. Sunday at Northville Methodist church.

The tea, under chairmanship of Mrs. Warren Fittery, is sponsored by the WSCS with all mothers invited to bring their daughters to this "enchanting" event.

The marionette show is the very professional hobby of Mrs. James Binder of Reed street and her former neighbor, Mrs. Harry Reed of Pontiac. Sixteen months ago their hobby of creating original puppets and marionettes became a major project as they began giving their own shows for PTAs, nursery schools, church groups, etc.

They have 20 marionettes for the story of "Wanda, the Witch That Wasn't." (She's really a princess.) They also have puppets for a Punch and Judy show. They take the speaking parts, but have taped them to make it easier to concentrate on hand movements. It took them five years to build their six-by-eight foot stage - and it requires both family station wagons to transport props and dolls to shows.

Their productions are much in demand. Mrs. Binder estimates they have given them "about two dozen times" last year with a great number at Christmas. There are six scheduled this month.

The project that began over coffee cups in Pontiac before the Binders moved to Northville soon may be ending, however, as the Binders expect to move to Washington, D.C., by the end of summer. Marge's husband, Jim, will be leaving his position with The Detroit News to take a publications job. They have three sons, 13, 6 and 2.

NEW OFFICERS will be installed at the May meeting of the Northville Methodist Women's Society for Christian Service following luncheon at 12:30 p.m. Tuesday in the fellowship hall. It will be served by the Bertha Neal Circle and will be preceded by Chapel Moments led by Mrs. John Angell.

New members will be welcomed into the society and special memberships awarded by Mrs. T. J. Bacalis, membership chairman. Devotions will be led by Mrs. Paul Beard. They will be a memorial service in memory of members who have passed away during the year.

Installed as 1967-68 officers will be Mrs. Fittery, president; Mrs. Harold Penn, vice-president; Mrs. Orin Cooley, secretary; Mrs. Fred Hicks, treasurer; Mrs. Douglas Bolton, membership secretary.

Others are Mrs. Paul Beard, spiritual life; Mrs. Russell Clarke, missionary; Mrs. Raychel Hinman, supply; Mrs. James Miller, Christian social relations; Mrs. Charles Skene, Mrs. Jesse Boyd, local church activities; Mrs. Richard Somers, program materials; Mrs. Essie Nirider, campus ministry secretary.

A MUSICAL EVENING is scheduled for the meeting of the Northville Senior Citizens at 7:30 p.m. Tuesday, May 9, in the fellowship hall of Northville Presbyterian church.

A three-part program of sacred, secular and humorous-novelty selections will be presented by Kenneth Clum, soloist, accompanied by Mrs. Edwin Langtry.

A member of the Northville Presbyterian church choir and a soloist with it, Mr. Clum has lived here five years. He is district manager for Standard Brands' Detroit office.

His training was with private teachers and in the Eastman school of music, New York, where he majored in voice and choral direction. He sang for two years with the Rochester Park band and for three years with the Rochester Telephone Hour, station WHAM. He also sang for three seasons with the Eastman Kodak Aires. He has been a guest and soloist with the Rochester symphony orchestra and has directed church choirs in New York and Pennsylvania.

Mrs. Langtry, a Northville Presbyterian church organist, will present two piano selections.

The special spring program has been arranged by Mrs. John Blackburn. Guests will be welcomed.

THE WONDERFUL WORLD of Women and Flowers is the theme for the annual meeting of the Northville branch of the Woman's National Farm and Garden association which will open with luncheon at noon Monday in the Northville Presbyterian church fellowship hall.

A program, "The Happy Task of Flower Arranging," will be presented by Mrs. E. O. Whittington.

Mrs. Reuben Jensen, social committee chairman, has named Mrs. H. J. Frogner, luncheon chairman. She will be assisted by Mrs. H. O. Evans, Mrs. Werner Krause and Mrs. Clyde Schoultz. Members are asked to bring a sandwich. The committee will serve dessert and coffee.

An executive board meeting at 10 a.m. will precede the annual meeting.

Officers for 1967-68 to be installed are Mrs. William Slatery, re-elected president; Mrs. Clyde Whittlesey, first vice-president; Mrs. William Switzer, second vice-president; Mrs. Frank Whitmyer, recording secretary; Miss Betty LeMaster, corresponding secretary; and Mrs. Paul Schulz, treasurer.

THE CREATIVE TALENTS of four Northville garden club members were displayed last week in Detroit as they represented Northville in the annual exhibit by Michigan clubs at Wright-Kay jewelers.

Theme for this year's presentation given Wednesday and Thursday was "Treasures." Mrs. James Kipfer and Mrs. Donald Ware decorated one of the six Woodward avenue windows using the Australian gem, the opal, as the motif, which was carried out with an arrangement of cymbidium orchids.

A table setting by Mrs. Whitmyer, titled "Season's Jewels: Autumn Gold," was done with gold-banded appointments and an arrangement of mums in two tones of gold.

Mrs. Gene Cushing did a niche with the theme, "The Melody Lingers On: Moonlight Sonata," in which white snapdragons and Easter lilies in a black vase were arranged in a crescent line-like the moon. She also planted a demijohn terrarium to represent "Pearls of the Orient: Fairyland Under Glass."

In the name of the Michigan Branch of the WNFCA the store is donating $1,500 for a national beauty-conservation project of the 4-H clubs.

CALENDAR: Today, May 4 - King's Daughters luncheon-bazaar, Methodist church 11-2. May 9 - Northville State Hospital auxiliary dessert card party, 12:30 p.m. at the hospital. May 11 - Presbyterian Men's club Ladies Night.

Good Ol' Country Store Returns to P-TA Carnival

The country store will again be a feature attraction at Space Fantasy, the P-TA community carnival on May 19, Northville Mothers' Club President Mrs. William Davis reported this week.

To be located in the lobby area of the junior high school boys' gymnasium, the country store will sell homemade articles of candy, doughnuts, and other food stuffs and such homespun items for the "little woman of the house" as Sunday-go-to-meeting bonnets.

Active in the preparation of articles for sale and in the planning are Barbara Zerbel, Virginia Pauli, Dorothy Bach, Dorothy McSeveney, and Andy Schaefer.

Club members have many additional workers lined up.

Girl Scouts of troop sponsored by the Mothers' Club, which is under the leadership of Dorothy Holman, are already involved in the making of items to sell.

Many of the active teenagers of The Cavern, also sponsored by the Mothers' Club, will assist in staffing the country store during business hours.

"Come see us at Space Fantasy," urges Mrs. Davis. "The country store has always been earthbound before, but on May 19 it will orbit as high as any other activity at the carnival."

Dorrs to Show Films For 3 Cities Art Club

Three Cities Art club has invited area residents to attend an upcoming travelogue presented by Barbara Dorr.

Last October Mrs. Dorr and her husband, who has recently retired from a position with the University of Michigan, took a trip around the world with a group of professors from the university. During their trip Mrs. Dorr captured in colored slides, many fascinating and exotic sights including the temples of Bankok, scenes of Pompeii and Cambodia and the hand-hewn underground temples of India called the Caves of Elloria.

Mrs. Dorr's slide lecture may be seen in Northville on May 9 at the Amerman elementary school beginning at 8 p.m.

Thespians Eye Full Stage Fare

Two student directed plays, a multiple reading and humorous reading will be presented Friday at 8 p.m. in the high school auditorium.

"The Ugly Duckling", is a one-act play by A. A. Milne, directed by Kurt Kinde, and assisted by Allison Lyke and David Kenger. Contrary to the title, it is not about a duck, but about a beautiful princess who, like the 'ugly duckling', is ugly on the outside but beautiful on the inside.

In the cast are: Jack Crawford, Bob Prodger, Kurt Wiley, Greg Balko, Betty Klein, Dani Toussaint, Kurt Kinde, Bob Shafer and Linda Johnson.

The district multiple reading includes Glenn Diebert, Allison Lyke, Bill Sliger, Brian Tabor, Carline Col-lacott, Barb Bogart, and Steve Jordan.

Kurt Kinde will give his regional winning humorous reading.

"Sorry, Wrong Number", is another one-act thriller directed by Chris Becker and assisted by Stacey Evans.

In the cast are Pam Smith, Janet Ogilvie, Bob Shafer, Amy Hannert, Bev Adema, Gary Becker, Linda Simpson, Tom Wheaton, Ellen Thomas, Mary Hartt, Allison Lyke, Margaret Godley and Chick Van Fossen.

Admission is 50 cents.

Band Concert Set for May 16

The annual Langfield memorial concert will be presented Tuesday, May 16 in the Northville high school auditorium.

Featuring Northville's honors band, composed of top chairs in all sections of the band, the concert will include, among others, selections from Shof-takovich, Aaron Copeland, Leonard Bern-stein, and Henry Mancini.

Featured attractions will be a wood-wind quintet and a short presentation by the high school stage band.

Proceeds from the concert are earmarked for the band scholarship fund. A 50-cent admission will be charged.

Young GOP's Slate Meeting

An organizational meeting of the Northville Teenage Republicans club will be held May 9, at 7:30 in the basement of the Detroit Federal and Loans Bank.

The meeting is open to all interested teams in the Northville area. Bob Smart, president of the Michigan Federation of Republican College Organizations, will speak on "The Purposes and Goals of TAR".

Permanent officers will be elected from those present and the constitution and by-laws will be passed.

Membership is $1.00 and offers teens a chance not only to learn about politics but to actually get involved in it.

Northern Lites Sets Meeting

A meeting of the Northern Lites Home Extension study group will be held Monday at 7:30 p.m. in the home of Mrs. Howard Atwood, 121 High street.

Co-hostess will be Mrs. John Ling. Mrs. Harold Marks and Mrs. Day Waldren will present the lesson, entitled "Interior Design on a Limited Budget."

Honored

James W. Kleinsorge of 360 Fairbrook is one of more than 1,000 Central Michigan University students who have been named on the scholastic honors list for the fall semester.

Of the 1,008 students honored, 350 were freshmen, 250 sophomores, 223 juniors, and 185 seniors, Kleinsorge is a freshman.

Band Battle Coming Up At OLV

A "Battle of the Bands" is slated to take place tomorrow (Friday) at Our Lady of Victory Church. Sponsored by the OLV Teen Club, the 8 to 11 p.m. dance will feature five bands competing for a $50 cash prize.

The dance, open to all area teenagers, will be held in the basement of the church located on Thayer Boulevard.

Delta Kappa Gamma To Meet Monday

The Farmington Alumnae association of Delta Gamma will meet at the home of Mrs. Russell Atchison, 332 South Rogers street, Northville, on Monday, May 8, at 8:00 p.m. Mrs. Jack Sinclair will be the co-hostess for the evening.

The program will be a series of slides from Delta Gamma executive office showing new Delta Gamma housing throughout the country.

All Delta Gammas in the area are urged to attend this meeting.

In Michigan Week

Art, Race Share Role

Plans for an art and antique exhibit, garden display, and knitting, furniture refinishing, spinning and pottery demonstrations in connection with Northville's upcoming Michigan Week celebration were revealed this week.

All of these events will take place on the final day of Michigan Week - May 27 - in the community building. Also slated for the same day, titled Our Youth Day, will be a special push cart race for area youngsters sponsored by the Northville Jaycees.

In addition, a display of products manufactured in Northville or by firms outside of the community who have key employees here is tentatively planned for May 27 by the Northville Chamber of Commerce.

Events at the community building are being coordinated by the Northville Newcomers club.

Participants, in addition to this club, will be the Northville Historical Society with an antique display, a pottery and spinning demonstration by Mrs. Kay Edgerton, an art display by the Hartley-Powers Gallery, and the knitting, gardening and furniture refinishing segments by the Newcomers club.

Refreshments also will be served by the Newcomers, who, by their participation are emphasizing Hospitality Day, which occurs earlier in the week on May 26.

The Historical Society is emphasizing Our Heritage Day, Tuesday, May 23, and the Chamber of Commerce, Our Livelihood Day, Wednesday, May 24.

Other events planned thus far include a display by the Senior Citizens club in the window of Del's Shoe Store throughout the week, May 20-27. Other participants will include the Daughters of The American Revolution, the schools and possibly the Three Cities Art club.

As it has for many years, the Northville Rotary Club will host officials of Pinconning - Northville's Michigan Week mayor's exchange city - at a luncheon program, on Monday, May 22.

Other plans for that day include a flag raising ceremony and a tour of community manufacturing companies and Northville schools.

A special feature of this year's Michigan Week celebration will be Civic Pride Day slated for Saturday, May 20. Locally, Northville will participate by conducting its annual street washing that day, sponsored by the Beautification commission as a wrap-up to its beautification campaign.

Also, Paul Folino, who has personally spearheaded a campaign to have flower or shrub planters displayed in front of downtown business places, is hoping the project can be completed by Civic Pride Day. Folino has obtained oak barrels for this purpose - free of cost - and the junior high school shop classes have cut them in half and stained and varnished them.

Jaycee President Orville Beemer reminds area youngsters that they still have time to register for the push-cart race. Youngsters who wish to form teams, build a cart, and enter the race are asked to fill out applications available at their schools or by writing the Jaycees, Box 241, Northville.

There are no restrictions as to size or shape of the car, he explained. Boys or girls are urged, however, to form teams of four or five persons, pick a captain, and begin building immediately.

Other days of Michigan Week include Education Day, Thursday, May 25, and Spiritual Foundations Day, Sunday, May 21. Persons or groups wishing to sponsor activities in conjunction with any of the days of Michigan Week are asked to contact Jack Hoffman at FI 9-1700.

OBITUARY

TERESA M. McCLINTOCK
Teresa M. McClintock, the wife of a former Northville jeweler, died Friday at the age of 68 in her home at 17510 Bentler in Detroit. She had been in failing health for the last two years.

Born on August 24, 1898, in Waltham, Massachusetts, she was the daughter of George and Mary Doucette. Mrs. McClintock's husband, James, died in 1929. He formerly owned a jewelry store on Main street.

Surviving her is one daughter, Mrs. Patricia Beale of Detroit, one brother, George Doucette of Waltham, and three grandchildren, Judith, Nancy and Cynthia.

A resident of Northville until recently, Mrs. McClintock came to the community in 1920. She was a member of Our Lady of Victory Church of Northville and Senior Citizens and the American Red Cross of Detroit.

The rosary was said at 9 p.m. Friday at the Casterline Funeral home.

Funeral services were held at 10 a.m. Saturday at Our Lady of Victory church, with the Reverend Father John Wittstock, pastor of Our Lady of Victory, officiating.

Burial was in Holy Sepulchre cemetery, Southfield.

By Baron Thinclads

They're Upset

Track Coach Ralph Redmond could only shake his head and wonder last week.

Bloomfield Hills had just run Northville into the dust, 80 1/2 to 37 1/2. The score alone didn't account for that look of chagrin on Redmond's face, for the feeling that the gods are unjust.

This was Bloomfield Hills, the team decimated by graduation losses in the dashes, the hurdles and even the distances. This was Northville's year to even the score with the bad Barons on the cinders.

The tables were turned, however, when Bloomfield Coach Don Huff had a dream come true. Three transfer students walked onto the school grounds: Tom Myhra, Tom Hartwell and Ron Imirie.

Myhra, a transfer from Flint Central, is one of the three best hurdlers in the state. He won the lows in :19.4 and the highs in :14.8 to beat out Northville's Ron Gjoetner in each event. It wasn't even close as Gjoetner posted times of :20.9 and :16.3, respectively.

Hartwell, a transfer from Chicago, isn't a prep facsimile of Bob Hayes, but he's the hottest dash man going in the Wayne-Oakland Conference. He posted times of :10.1 in the 100 and :22.6 in the 220 to beat Northville's Jack Crawford who ran the events in :10.5 and :22.9 (the fastest he has run the 220).

Ron Imirie, another transfer student, was clocked in 2:00.5 in the 880 to win hands down over Mustang George D'Haene. He ran the distance in a fast 2:10.

"That Huff must live right," Redmond stated. "Some of the best times in the state beat us, and he lost a lot through graduation. Bloomfield Hills is the strongest team in the Wayne-Oakland Conference."

On the basis of last year's performance and returning thinclads, Northville was pegged to give favorite Clarenceville a tussle. Even though the Trojans whipped Northville 74-44 earlier this year, it was closer than the score indicated and Redmond wasn't conceding a thing.

Overnight, Bloomfield changed all that. Now the race shapes up as a slugfest between Bloomfield and Clarenceville, with Bloomfield getting the edge. Unless miracles come true (and they can), Northville will be relegated to third in the league, a notch over last year.

Redmond's still game. "We realize we have a lot of improvement to do," he said. "Bloomfield Hills really made us stretch our legs, something the boys thought they only had to do against Clarenceville."

Despite the surprise and the disappointment, Northville didn't succumb without a fight. Gjoetner and Bill Harrison, touted as number one in the league in the pole vault and 440-yard run, won their specialties.

Gjoetner tied his school record by vaulting 12 feet, and Harrison legged the 440 in :52.5. Last year at the same time, Redmond said, Harrison was still in the fifty-two point fours.

Northville slammed in the pole vault, led by Gjoetner's first. Rick Ratiiff soared 10'6" for second and Greg Carr went 9'6" to take third.

Northville did a little table turning of its own last Thursday against Brighton. The Mustangs reversed their loss to Bloomfield by beating Brighton, 82 1/2 to 35 1/2.

Golfers Win First Match

Netmen Keep Rolling Along

At long last, the Northville golf team did it.

Coach Al Jones linksters wrapped up their first win in five starts this year by edging not-especially-strong Milford, 178-184, at Meadowbrook Country club.

Consistency was the hallmark of victory. Seniors Keith Mueller and Mike Hlohenic shot 44's and Sophomores Billie Thomas and Tom Fagan fired 45's.

Dick Yeager of Milford, however, walked off with medalist honors with a 42.

"They (Milford) never seem to shoot Meadowbrook too well," Jones stated.

Despite the win, Jones is looking for his golfers to knock a few strokes off their present scores. "I know we're capable of shooting better golf," he said. "They may come on late, which is all right by me. All should shoot consistently below 45."

That wasn't the case against West Bloomfield Friday at Pine Lake golf course. The Lakers took a 186-189 victory, the second over Northville this year.

Mueller led the local field with a 45. Hlohenic and Thomas shot 47's and Fagan carded a 50.

Although Jones isn't proclaiming great things for his charges, he has sized up the league. In his book, Brighton is pegged as the top dog. "They've beaten everybody they have faced this year," Jones said.

Northville's tennis squad came through with three more victories during the past week, despite the absence of one of their top three singles men.

Mark Alexander, number two man, was dropped from the squad last week for disciplinary reasons. His departure leaves a gap not easily filled and definitely puts a crimp in Northville's chances of repeating as the Wayne-Oakland Conference champs.

Actually, the impact of his loss has not been felt, thus far. Coach Dick Norton's juggled lineup posted three more victories, including a 3-2 win over stubborn Bloomfield Hills.

That gives Northville a 4-1 record in league play and a 10-1 record over the season. Individually, Northville has won 62 of 78 matches.

If the Mustangs hope to improve their lot in the W-O, they'll have the chance of a life time when league-leading Clarkston comes to town Friday. In the initial clash Clarkston won, 4-1, with M. Alexander still in the ranks.

Norton indicates he'll go with the same winning juggled lineup used last week. Jim Long, of course, will be playing number one singles, Dane Alexander will move into his brother's number two spot and Bruce Durham will play in the number three slot.

Durham moved up from the second doubles squad. Moving into his slot alongside Chuck Skene is Jonathon Eberhart. The number one duo of Ken Boerger and Randy Burnett, who have lost only once this year, stays intact.

In Friday's narrow scrape over visiting Bloomfield Hills, Dane Alexander provided the margin of victory by being the last netter off the court. He was extended to three sets before disposing of Fred Miller, 2-6, 6-2, 6-1.

Clarenceville and Holly were mere gristle for the Northville mill. Northville whipped Clarenceville, 5-0, last week Wednesday.

Holly barely fared better Monday, losing, 4-1.

Mustangs Host Wolves Today

Northville will put its title chances on the line Thursday when it entertains undefeated Clarkston.

Clarkston is 6-0 and Northville is 4-2 in Wayne-Oakland league play. Bloomfield Hills is 5-1.

Within the past week, Northville won two and lost two.

West Bloomfield surprised Northville, 9-3, as Northville committed eight errors, a wild pitch and a passed ball to open the gates for seven unearned runs.

Coach Bob Kucher switched Pitcher Dennis Primeau to short stop and Doug Anglin to third against Brighton. It paid off with an 8-2 victory. There was only one error.

Northville then lambasted Milford, 16-2, scoring six runs in the second and 10 in the sixth. Bloomfield Hills, however, shelled three Northville pitchers and beat the Mustangs, 8-5, Monday.

Novi, Northville Jayvees Split Diamond Duel

The series between the Northville and Novi jayvee baseball teams is evened at one apiece and the rubber game was scheduled to be played yesterday.

Lee Snow's pitching and Andy Pantaleo's hitting paced Novi to a 7-1 victory in the first encounter.

In going the route, Snow gave up only four hits, struck out nine and walked only two.

Pantaleo banged out two doubles to drive in five runs. The first two-bagger, a solid smash down the left field line, scored Novi's first two runs in the third inning. His second, down the right field line, cleared the bases in the fourth inning.

Northville's Craig Turnbull, who hurried the first five innings, was the victim each time.

In the re-match, Northville won, 6-5, as Terry Mills lashed a single to score the winning run in the bottom half of the seventh and final inning.

Until that time, the game was a see-saw affair.

The wildness of Novi Pitcher Gary Boyer paved the way for the first five Northville runs. Boyer walked seven and threw five wild pitches in his four-inning stint. He was relieved by Jim Poole, who was tagged with the loss. Boyer was more effective at the bat, banging out two singles in each game.

Fred Holdsworth, who pitched the first two and last three innings for Northville, was credited with the second-game victory.

Forensic Entries Surpass Old Mark

Northville high school reached another milestone in forensics recently. Four students, three more than in any previous year, advanced to the Michigan State forensic finals to be held May 6 at Ann Arbor. They are Kurt Kinde in humorous reading, John Bunn in declamatory, Cristie Becker in recitations and Pam Smith in extemporaneous speaking.

And Pam Smith, competing against the 30 top debaters in the state Friday and Saturday at the Sheraton-Cadillac hotel in Detroit, placed fourth.

Except for an oversight by the judges, Pam would have finished in the scholarship money, awarded for third place. The judges made their irreversible decision before realizing that the eventual third place winner had mistakenly argued the affirmative, which had been assigned to Pam.

The four state forensic finalists qualified by winning in their respective categories in the regionals, held at Dearborn high school.

Florence Panattoni, Northville debate coach, and Glenn Deibert, previous two-time state forensic winner, will assist in the running of the state finals.

Veterans of World War I Celebrate 11th Birthday Here

The newly decorated dining room of the local American Legion Home was the setting of the Benton Parkway Auxiliary #267, Veterans of World War I in celebration of their 11th birthday, last Sunday, April 30th. Sixty-six persons enjoyed the banquet at blue and gold decorated tables.

Distinguished guests from department, district and past officers numbered 22. Those attending were: Mrs. Florence Schingek, department president; Michael McCalla, department commander and Mrs. McCalla; Mrs. Elizabeth Pisula, district president; J. L. Matteson, district commander; Mrs. Elizabeth Marberger, first vice president of department; Mrs. Charity Slater, junior vice president, department; Mr. and Mrs. Harold Sessions, past department commander and president;

Mrs. Mary B. Simons, department past president; and Mr. and Mrs. Murray Condon.

During the program, Mrs. Bernice Denure, president of the local auxiliary presented ten and five year membership pins to charter and other members.

The Benton Parkway Barracks was organized more than 11 years ago in Northville where they held their meetings at the VFW hall. Later they moved to the Veterans Community center in Plymouth.

Members from Northville, Plymouth, Livonia, Farmington, Novi and Westland meet the first Sunday of each month for their potlucks and fellowship. Alvin Schippel of Livonia serves as commander and Mrs. Charles Denure of Northville as auxiliary president.

Buses Used as Targets

Investigation of still another report of bus vandalism is underway this week by the Northville police department.

School Bus Superintendent Charles Kehrer reported damage to seven buses late Friday afternoon - although, according to Business Manager Earl Busard, it has not been absolutely determined when the damage occurred.

Windows of the buses, Kehrer said, appeared to have been damaged by BB shots, and radiators of two apparently were punched by a sharp instrument.

The vandalism did not disrupt bus service.

Kehrer theorized that the vandalism occurred sometime after school closed Thursday and 6:30 a.m. Friday when he discovered it. But Busard suggested, after talking with Kehrer, that it may have occurred before the buses were moved from the high school to Amerman elementary school.

While the investigation of the growing number of vandalism incidents continues, plans for installation of lights at Amerman to facilitate easier inspection of the buses move ahead. Busard said he hoped the lights would go up yet this week or early next.

The buses were moved to Amerman last week Tuesday in an attempt to halt the vandalism. Under this temporary stopgap measure, buses are parked with the hoods facing the fence along Eight Mile road where police and citizens can better see them at night when most of the damage has occurred.

Honored

More than one-third of the 1500 in the student body of Wooster college of Wooster, Ohio, including two from Northville, earned places on the dean's list last semester.

The local students honored were George G. Davis, son of Mr. and Mrs. William E. Davis of 352 Orchard drive, and David Jerome, son of Rev. and Mrs. George P. Jerome of 743 Horton.

George is a freshman and David a junior.

Police Break Up Party; 8 Youths Face Charges

Northville police broke up a beer party involving eight local boys and two juvenile girls on April 22 at a Northville apartment.

Charged with having liquor in their possession are Patrick J. Walter of 19856 Meadowbrook road, Kerry Ludtke of 228 Church street, Michael G. Moody of 943 Carrington street, all 17;

Donald Kustmaul of 47131 Chigwid-den drive, Mark Hesse of 42241 Nine Mile road, Tom Peterson of 19665 Meadowbrook road, Bruce Allan of 18238 Shadbrook and Douglas Dingwall of 225 Ely drive, all 18. No court date has been set for their arraignment.

The two juvenile high school girls were referred to Juvenile Officer Philip Young.

A call at 11:33 p.m., reporting boys fighting and making noise outside at 228 Church street, alerted police. They found two of the accused boxing on the front lawn and six others and the girls in the back apartment, police said. There were 48 bottles of beer, empties and full, in the apartment, police reported.

Six of the youths cited have records of previous offenses, two for having liquor in their possession.

No adults were present.

Man Fined For Soliciting

A 21-year-old Fort Worth, Texas man, working for a magazine sales firm with a reported reputation for shady deals, was fined $5 for soliciting without a permit in Novi last week.

George Burnham, 21, who gave his address as a Detroit hotel and was employed by Local Readers Service, Inc., pleaded guilty to soliciting charges. Home base of the firm is Terre Haute, Indiana.

Novi police urged local residents to beware of unlicensed magazine salesmen or women posing as college students or housewives trying to earn a trip on a savings bond program. Every salesman must be licensed by the village of Novi.

He's on Beam

Long ago - June 30, 1966 - a 22-year-old young man from Northville made a prediction in this newspaper.

Gary Kohs announced that he was bringing his Sports Car Spectacular from South Bend, where he had just then graduated from Notre Dame, to Detroit. It would be held May, 1967, at the Light Guard Armory, corner of Eight Mile and Mound roads.

Well, Gary was right. Thanks to his resourcefulness, Detroit has its first sports car show. It opened yesterday and will run through Saturday. The general Manager? Gary, of course.

Cleaning, Planting And Beautifying

Northville's annual beautification campaign got into full swing this week. Paul Foltio (upper right) came up with an idea for the business district. He obtained a quantity of whiskey barrels, which are being cut and stained by James Maddock's Junior high shop class. They'll be filled with plants and placed in front of stores. Uga-shonion club members will sell flowering crab trees on the next two Saturdays. That's Retail Merchant Association President Jerry Stone (center) with Al Earehart and Dave Grondin of the Uga-shonions. The girls cleaning up the grounds of the scout building are members of troop 209 of Northville. For Arbor week the city planted a tree in Village Green. That's City Manager Frank Ollendorf watching John Miller and Bill Sliger do the work.

"Is Your Kitchen Yellow?"
Suppose that today you believe you will paint your kitchen yellow. In fact, you believe in a yellow kitchen for your home. So you go to the paint store. But you come back with green mist. What happened to your yellow kitchen? The answer is that you only had an "intellectual belief."

Some people believe in Christ this way. They only have an intellectual belief in Jesus Christ. They know Him, but only in their minds. Some church folks will go to hell because they only have an "intellectual belief." I don't want to discredit intelligence. But intellectual belief alone will not save you from hell. The Bible says, "For with the heart man believeth unto righteousness, and with the mouth confession is made unto salvation." (Romans 10:10).

Two things must be done in order for you to be saved and have everlasting life. First, you must desire with your heart. Secondly, you must ask with your mouth.

Now suppose that you believe with all your heart in a yellow kitchen for your home. You will not only believe in your mind, but you will also desire with your heart. You now have purpose in your heart. If one store does not have what you want, you will go to another.

When you find the yellow paint available, you will indicate your desire by confessing your desire.

When you believe in Jesus Christ with your heart, it's the same. You desire and determine with all your heart to have Him. You realize there will be no golden heaven without Him. You indicate your desire by asking Him to save you. "For with the heart man believeth unto righteousness, and with the mouth confession is made unto salvation."

Is your kitchen yellow? It is if you desired with all your heart and asked with your mouth.

Is Christ your Saviour? He is if you have desired with all your heart, and asked with your mouth!

Alone in a Field

A man alone in a field . . . making the field ready for spring planting . . . perhaps is closer to God than he realizes.

The field didn't "just happen." The earth didn't "just happen." Those fruit trees, laden with blossoms, didn't choose to bloom just because they wanted to look pretty.

Stop and think about it. In the natural order of life, little is left to chance. There is a precision about the very rotation of the earth itself. There is a miracle embedded in each blade of grass.

All about us is the unmistakable evidence of Creation, by a Master Hand. The man in the field is, in some ways, closer to this creation than many of us, yet he too may very well be unaware of it. We can all capture or recapture this awareness by going to church regularly.

ALL THE CHURCH FOR ALL

The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the Church. They are: (1) For his own sake (2) For his children's sake (3) For the sake of his community and nation (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.

CLUB TENTS OUT—Members of the Schoolcraft College Varsity Club recently pitched a tent city on the campus and camped out for a week. Purpose of the activity was to generate interest in varsity sports at the college, publicize the club and encourage support for the proposed physical education facility at the college. Dressed in the spirit of the occasion above are, back row, left to right: Herman (Joop) Doorn, All-

Schoolcraft Sets 1.77 Mill Tax Levy

Trustees of Schoolcraft college have set a 1.77 mill tax levy to provide operating funds and debt service money for the 1967-68 academic year beginning July 1.

The levy was approved unanimously by trustees at their meeting of April 19. It will provide an anticipated $1,338,970 in local taxes. Of this approximately $829,478 will help finance the college's operations for the year, and $509,492 will be used to meet debt service requirements.

The levy will be spread against an estimated tax base of $788,000,000 for the college district. This base, not yet known precisely, would indicate an increase of approximately $85,000 over this year's figure.

In other action, the board was informed that acquisition of two parcels of land immediately south of the campus had been completed.

Vice President for Business Affairs W. Kenneth Lindner said deeds had been signed between the college and Mrs. Orpha Byrn for the purchase of the property at 18000 Haggerty Road for $40,000, and between the college and Mr. and Mrs. M. Robert Johnston for the purchase of property at 17950 Haggerty road for $48,000.

The college purchased the land to provide adequate site for a second main parking area on the campus. The acquisitions add approximately 10 acres to the campus site. College officials expect to lose approximately 16 acres from the site later this year when the State Highway department begins acquisition of right-of-way for the proposed I-275 expressway which will pass along the east boundary of the campus.

Trustees also accepted a bid of $1,501 from Marvin Gans for the house formerly occupied by the Johnston's at 17950 Haggerty Road, and a bid of $200 from Joseph Augustine, 17800 Haggerty Road, for a garage on the property.

Gans, director of athletics at the college, and Augustine have 45 days to remove the buildings from the site.

Bids for the buildings were opened at the college on April 14. One other bidder, Leo Cook, 27745 Bramwell, Farmington, offered $801 for the house and the separate garage.

Trustees also authorized execution of a quit claim deed with the Wayne County Road Commission for 60 feet of right-of-way along the Byrn property to permit future widening of Haggerty road.

HONORED — Nicholas Jenesel (left), 931 Carrington road, is presented a gift by Harold W. H. Burrows, president of Parke, Davis & Company, in recognition of 25 years of service to the drug firm. The presentation was made at the company's annual gold watch award banquet at Cobo Hall. The event honored 86 employees of Parke-Davis who have reached quarter of a century marks.

Dimes Campaign Nets $723.98

The 1967 March of Dimes Campaign was a success — a $10,000 increase over last year's increase as reported by county March of Dimes campaign leaders, Mrs. Richard Wolfe and Al Kaline.

They announced that Oakland County citizens donated and pledged $135,600 in seven campaign divisions to fight crippling birth defects. As of May 1, Novi, Northville and New Hudson received $723.98 in donations to fight crippling birth defects.

Andrews, Herrick Receive Degrees

Among the students awarded degrees at Western Michigan university on Saturday was David L. Andrews of 51630 West Eight Mile road and Nicholas J. Herrick of 14341 Northville road.

Andrews received an MA degree and Herrick an MBA degree.

CERAMIC DISPLAY—Bill Case, a Northville art teacher, gazes at one of his many unusual ceramic pieces which are on display on Plum street in Detroit. Rather than following conventional techniques, Case gives full vent to his imagination to produce highly irregular, yet esthetic vases and pots. His work is imbued with subtle humor that pokes fun—with seriousness—at our human foibles. His works will be on display until May 22.

Schoolcraft Plans New Orientation Program

A new freshman orientation program for June graduates of Schoolcraft college district high schools has been announced by Dean of Students Edward V. McNally.

Starting June 19 and continuing through July 29, approximately 1,400 June graduates who have already been accepted for entrance at the college in the fall, will keep appointments for a one-day orientation and counseling session on campus.

Using the small-group technique, college counselors, each assisted by a sophomore student, will meet with 10 to 12 incoming freshmen in the day-long sessions. McNally said scheduling calls for a maximum of 60 freshmen on campus each day.

"In past years our counselors have gone into the individual high schools during May for counseling sessions with students who had been accepted at Schoolcraft. Then the entire freshman class came to campus during the pre-registration period for an orientation session.

"We hope this new technique will greatly improve the counseling and orientation process by providing a more intimate contact with the individual student.

"The student will have greater opportunity to get his questions answered and the counselor will be able to do a far better job with his student charges," McNally said.

Police Nab Two For Novi Break-in

Coincidence and alert Novi police combined to put the bite on two Detroit youths accused of looting a Novi gas station last week Wednesday.

James L. Martin, 20, of Varnell Hannah, 17, both of Detroit, were arraigned the same day before Novi Justice Emery Jacques on charges of breaking and entering. They were remanded to the Oakland county jail to await a May 4 examination. Bond was set at $1,000 apiece.

A small amount of cash and a wrist watch were stolen between 12 and 3 a.m. from the cash register at Ward's Service station, 47277 Grand River. Entry was gained by smashing the glass on the west front door and reaching through to open it.

Besides approximately $16 in small cash found in the accused's possession was approximately 20 pawn tickets for rings, TV sets, stereo phonographs, watches and suits.

The series of incidents leading to the arrest of the two Detroit men began at 3:22 a.m., when Officers Robert Starnes and Ronald Arbour were patrolling Grand River avenue east of Beck road. They observed a car traveling east on Grand River without lights.

The car, driven by Martin, was pulled to the side of the road. Upon questioning, Martin told the officers that he was having generator and voltage regulator troubles. He had been trying to repair it, he told police, ever since leaving the Ford Wixom plant parking lot. The lights, after some tinkering, came back on, but Novi police then issued a ticket for failing to have an exhaust pipe. The Novi officers resumed patrolling, and Martin continued driving east.

Then the officers spotted the breaking and entering at the service station. About to send a Be-on-the-lookout for Martin's car, the officers received a report of another breaking and entering in progress at 136 Buffington.

The officers then noticed Michigan state police at Herb's service station, corner of Novi road and Grand River, and asked for assistance in finding the escaped suspects. Arbour returned to the Novi police station to get a car and Detective Sergeant Richard Faulkner and investigated the B&E at Buffington, while Starnes patrolled Grand River for Martin's car - to no avail.

State Police, however, phoned back their apprehension of the suspected thieves on expressway I-696 at Inkster road. Arbour and Faulkner were dispatched to the scene and brought the suspects back to the police station.

A black cash drawer was found under the seat of the suspects' car and cash was found on the floor. Fingerprints were later taken from the door knob and cash register from the looted gas station.

The B&E at Buffington street proved unfounded.

Our Legislators Report.....

The tax package, after making its second trip in the House of Representatives, was discussed by party leaders between the Friday afternoon session and the Monday evening meeting," Representative Louis Schmidt revealed.

The package under consideration which may be amended would provide: personal income tax, 2 1/2 per cent; corporate income tax, 5 per cent; financial institutions income tax, 7 per cent; cigarette tax, 3 cents per pack; repeal the business activities tax; intangible tax credit raised to $100; deletion of sales tax credit.

A return of 1/4 of 1 percent of the income tax to counties on the basis of the last census. This would mean about $5.50 per capita. Wayne county would receive approximately $14,802,524 for county use.

In lieu of sales tax credit or refund, a return of 1/4 of 1 per cent of the income tax is proposed to be returned to cities, villages, townships and charter townships on a basis of the last census. This would also mean about $5.50 per capita for each resident of a city, village, or township.

Livonia, under this proposal, would receive $462,000 for use by the City Government. Northville would receive approximately $21,450. The amount for Northville township was not available at the time this article was written. The return of this money to counties and local units of government could mean a voluntary reduction of the property tax, or a relief of certain tax millages to schools, or prevent deficits, or provide new and improved services and programs.

Another provision in the tax package would provide for a 14 percent reduction in the county and school property tax which would be reimbursed to the counties and the schools from funds received as a result of the income tax.

"This should not be interpreted, however, to mean that the units of government will receive more money from this tax relief. The boards of education will still be confronted with the need for additional funds; millage elections will probably still be necessary".

Seven Northville seniors took honors in a state-wide competitive scholarship examination, State Representative Louis E. Schmidt revealed this week.

Six of the seven qualified for "certificates of recognition" and one for a monetary award to attend Michigan State university.

Receiving the monetary award is Brian Tabor. The others are Prudence Hart, Dwight Hopper, Susan Jones, Kurt Kinde, Joyce Stuckey, and Anita Westerstrom.

Seventeen communities in the Western Oakland county and Livonia area will share increases of more than $375,000 in street improvement funds under provisions of a "good roads tax package" passed early this week by the senate, Senator George W. Kuhn (R-W. Bloomfield) revealed.

"The bills, which increase the gasoline tax one cent, raise the weight tax on motor vehicles, and change the distribution formula, now are in the house of representatives, where they are given a good chance of passage," said Senator Kuhn.

"If they pass the house and become law, communities in the Livonia and Western Oakland county will get much needed funds for street improvements."

The city of Livonia will get an increase of $182,000 over this year - the largest increase in the district.

Other communities and the increases they are expected to get include: Farmington, $19,200; Holly, $10,800; Kesgo Harbor, $7,100; Lyon, $3,200; Milford, $13,900; Northville, $12,600; Novi, $23,800; Orchard Lake, $4,100; Plymouth, $23,800; Quakertown, $1,800; South Lyon, $4,100; Sylvan Lake, $6,200; Walled Lake, $10,600; Wixom, $6,400; Wolverine Lake, $7,900; and Wood Creek Farms, $2,400.

U.S. Representative Marvin L. Esch has requested a clarification from the Atomic Energy Commission on the selection of Weston, Illinois as the site of the federal nuclear accelerator project.

In a letter to Dr. Glenn T. Seaborg, AEC Chairman, Esch said, "Recent questions surrounding the selection ... prompt me to request official clarification from your Commission." Specifically, he requested the Commission to comment on race relations in Weston and the adequacy of Illinois water resources.

"These questions," Esch said, "have naturally raised anxiety and anticipation on the part of Ann Arbor and Michigan which worked so hard to secure the final selection."

Esch said that the main question was whether the water and racial problems are serious enough to reopen the selection process. "If such is the case, our community stands ready to re-submit our qualifications which we feel fully meet the standards of the Commission."

Mentioning the Michigan Civil Rights Commission, the Ann Arbor Human Relations Commission and a local open housing ordinance, Esch claimed that Michigan and Ann Arbor "stand in the forefront of the nation in the development of forward looking civil rights programs ... and have made great strides in attempting to guarantee equal opportunity for all citizens."

"There is no question that our water and power resources could easily accommodate an accelerator without jeopardizing the needs of surrounding areas," he added.

Esch was careful to point out that his inquiry to the commission is not an attempt to criticize the original decision, but rather to determine the possibility of reviewing it in light of recent controversy.

St. Paul's Starts Registration

Spring registration is underway at St. Paul's Lutheran Christian Day school for the 1967-68 school term. Students meeting the requirements for admission will be accepted into kindergarten through the eighth grade.

Any parent in the community who is interested in a Christian education for his children is welcome to contact the school office (349-2868) for further information.

The school is located at 201 Elm street and offers a course of study fully approved by the State of Michigan.

Schoolcraft

A four-week Summer Music School and Festival from July 3 through 28 has been announced by Wayne Dunlap, director of music at Schoolcraft College.

The school will provide instruction in chamber music and orchestral literature to advanced high school and early college students, Dunlap said. College credit is available to those who wish it. The Festival will provide a series of weekly concerts on Wednesday and Friday nights. The Wednesday evening Court Concerts will be performed by the Court Orchestra composed of faculty members augmented by other professional musicians. Friday night concerts will be performed by the student orchestra. Music of Haydn and Hindemith will be featured. Soloists for the Court Concerts will be William Doppman, pianist, July 5; Leslie Eitzen, mezzo-soprano, July 12; the Kenneth Jewell Chorale, July 19; and Paul Doktor, violist, July 26.

The school faculty includes a number of members of the Detroit Symphony. Faculty members are:

Emily Mutter Austin, violin, member of the Detroit Symphony, and concert master of the Plymouth Symphony, Detroit Women's Symphony and the Community Center Symphony; Inez Hullinger Redman, violin, concert master of the Grosse Pointe Symphony;

David Ireland, viola, member of the Detroit Symphony since 1952; Barbara Fickett, cello, former member of the Rochester Philharmonic, and a graduate of the Eastman School of Music; Marilyn Jones, flute and woodwinds, music instructor at Cass Tech, Detroit; Robert Cowert, oboe and woodwinds, member of the Detroit Symphony, and former principal oboe with the Atlanta Symphony;

James Tamburini, trumpet and brass, first trumpet with the Detroit Symphony for 22 years, and a music faculty member at Wayne State University and Oakland University; Allen Shaffer, piano and music theory, member of the Schoolcraft College music faculty; and Dunlap.

The school is designed for advanced musicians of high school and early college age who are performers on strings, woodwinds, brass and piano, Dunlap explained.

"Particular attention will be given to contemporary music idioms and techniques of ensemble playing," the director said. "In addition to instrumental work, all students will participate in musicianship classes designed for performing musicians."

"All students applying for the school must have the recommendation of a music teacher. Maximum participation and instructional attention will be assured each student," Dunlap said.

Registration for the school is scheduled for June 26 and 27, from 9 a.m. to noon in the college library, but students must indicate by June 15 their intention to enroll, Dunlap said. Tuition is $40 for the four-week school.

NOTICE OF LAST DAY OF REGISTRATION SCHOOL ELECTION

NOTICE OF THE LAST DAY OF REGISTRATION OF THE QUALIFIED ELECTORS OF

NOVI COMMUNITY SCHOOL

41900 Quince Drive, Oakland County, Novi, Michigan

TO THE QUALIFIED ELECTORS OF SAID SCHOOL DISTRICT: WHO MAY VOTE?

Section 2 of Act 199, Public Acts of Michigan, 1951, effective September 28, 1951 provides as follows:

"The inspectors of election at an Annual or Special Election shall not receive the vote of any person residing in a registration School District whose name is not registered as an elector in the City or Township in which he resides..."

LAST DAY OF REGISTRATION

The last day on which persons may register with the Township Clerk(s) or City Clerk to vote at the Annual School Election to be held on MONDAY, JUNE 12, 1967 is

SATURDAY, MAY 13, 1967

Persons registering after 5:00 o'clock, p.m., Eastern Standard Time, on the said SATURDAY, MAY 13, 1967, are NOT ELIGIBLE to vote at the said Annual School Election.

Secretary, Board of Education

How Much Will Next Year's Cars Cost?

About 100 to 150 dollars more than this year's models according to manufacturer's estimates. The increase is due to cover the cost of anti-smog devices, safety features and anticipated factory wage increases later this year. The price savings on this year's new cars may well make them the best buy for many years to come in our constantly inflating economy. The value of our dollar has slipped since 1941 to the point where it is now worth 45 cents in terms of purchasing power 25 years ago. The government's own forecasts predict that the dollar will continue to lose a minimum of 1.5 per cent of its purchasing power, on the average, every year. This means that in another 10 years it will be worth 39 cents in terms of 1949 and still headed down. It is obvious that cars cannot escape continuing price increases on this basis alone even without the added force of safety and other features. Safety features are all to the good, but it is well to remember that the most effective single safety feature of all - the safety belt - continues to be ignored by the vast majority of drivers. Unless human nature undergoes a transformation overnight, driver fault will continue to account for 90 per cent of traffic accidents. The driver alone can change that statistic. He is the greatest single safety factor of all.

Bicyclist Hurt On Novi Road

An 11-year-old Novi girl suffered severe cuts on the left side of her body when she was thrown from her bicycle to the pavement on Novi road last Thursday.

Suzanne Norris, 25914 Clark street, was taken to Botsford General hospital, Farmington, where she received treatment of severe lacerations on the left side of her body, especially her left knee. Her face and head were also scratched.

According to Suzanne, she and a girl friend, Charelene Zielinski of 25915 Clark street, were both riding their bicycles south on Novi road near the C&O railroad tracks when Suzanne's bicycle hit a rut, throwing her into the path of an oncoming car.

It is not known whether the car, also traveling south on Novi road and driven by William S. Milne of Northville, struck Suzanne as she lay on the road. Witnesses estimated Milne as traveling at approximately 25 miles per hour and said he stopped immediately where the girl had fallen.

As she was approaching the railroad tracks, Suzanne said she steered her bicycle off the gravel and onto the pavement. When she turned back onto the gravel, she said the front wheel hit a deep rut and upset her control.

THE WINNERS - Slot car races have become a popular event for Northville Cub Pack 721, sponsored by VFW Post 4012. Last week was no exception. The full troop turned out for the competition (see troop picture at top). After the last cars had swooped down the board track Mark Okopyn (left) was declared winner of the top trophy, while Joseph Wilber took second place honors. The pictures below show the variety of cars entered by the Cub contestants and one of the races as the cars approach the finish line. Judges for the races were Ray Spear, Sam Elkins and Ray Paquin. The races were held in the community building.

Why is our top so way out?

The top of the Volkswagen Convertible is way out of the car for a very simple reason: We had no other practical place to put it.

Of course, we had other alternatives. We could have put the top in the back seat. (It wouldn't have been out of the car, but 2 or 3 people would have been.) Or we could have made room for the top by making the bug a little longer. (But it would no longer have been the little bug.)

The way it worked out, our Convertible has all the practical benefits of our Sedan.

Seating for 4 adults, parking ease, and economy (average 27 mpg; about 40,000 miles on tires).

But many people don't need practical benefits. They simply like our top.

They like it because it has a real glass window in the back. And because it's padded, and fitted by hand, so it's weatherproof and it actually cushions sound.

They like our top when it's up for its smooth custom-made look. And when it's down for its unusual way-out look.

To many people our top is so way-out, it's in.

Steven Jordan Wins Scholarship

Steven Jordan, president of the Northville senior class, was listed this week among the nation's ablest high school seniors by winning a National Merit Scholarship.

Son of Mr. and Mrs. Glenn Jordan of 215 Hill street, he was one of more than 2,400 students from throughout the United States to receive the award.

Three other Northville seniors were finalists in the Merit Scholarship program. They are Kathy Erwin, Mark Hesse and Sue Yoder.

Three-fourths of the awards are sponsored by some 340 different corporations, colleges, foundations, other organizations, and individuals. Some 625 students, a fourth of the total, received National Merit Scholarships underwritten by Ford Foundation grants. Jordan, who was instrumental in the student organization of The Cavern teen club, received his scholarship from the Mobil Oil company. He has indicated that he will attend the University of Wisconsin where he will study physics.

Besides taking his regular high school classes here, the Northville senior also is enrolled in Schoolcraft college enrichment classes.

The 1967 awards were valued at $8.6 million by John M. Stalnaker, president of the National Merit Scholarship Corporation.

"Some 14,000 highly able students became finalists in the 1966-67 Merit program," Stalnaker said. "It is gratifying to report that American business, industry, and colleges are continuing to increase their support of these outstanding young people. Every finalist would be a Merit Scholar, if funds permitted.

Merit Scholarships provide from $400 to $6,000 for four undergraduate years of college, depending on the student's need. They are a type of "educational insurance," since the amount of the award can be adjusted if the student's financial circumstances change while he is in college.

Of the 625 National Merit Scholars, 500 were chosen state by state. The number for each state is proportional to its population of graduating high school seniors. An additional 125 winners were selected from among finalists who overcame unusual handicaps, have exceptional financial need, have shown creative ability, or entered college as early-admission students before completing four years at high school.

Harold E. Wilson To Assist Esch

The appointment of Harold E. Wilson of Ann Arbor as district office representative was announced this week by Congressman Marvin L. Esch.

Wilson, 28, originally of Northville, has been affiliated with Mutual and United of Omaha Insurance in Ann Arbor since 1960. For the past three years he has served as sales manager. He holds a business degree from Michigan State university and was president of the Beta Theta Pi Alumni Association.

Active for several years in local Republican activities, Wilson has been a delegate to several party conventions and served as chairman of the first ward for the Ann Arbor Republican committee.

According to Representative Esch, Wilson's duties will include frequent contact with local officials and community leaders, communication of constituent and governmental problems to Washington and general management of the Ann Arbor and Monroe District offices. He will be headquartered in the Ann Arbor office at 200 East Huron.

Wilson and his wife Lynn and their three children now reside at 2918 Burlington, Ann Arbor.

SCHOOL MENUS

Following is the menu for Northville high school for the week of May 8-11:

Monday - Hot beef sandwich, mashed potatoes and gravy, buttered corn, muffin and butter, pears and milk.

Tuesday - Doggie in blanket, brownie potatoes, shimmering salad, bread and butter, pudding, and milk.

Wednesday - Submarines, relishes, potato chips, hot gingerbread and whipped cream, and milk.

Thursday - Meat loaf and gravy, mashed potatoes, buttered green beans, rolls and butter, peaches and milk.

Friday - No school.

Alternate menu for each of these days includes hamburger on bun, French fries, salad, dessert and milk.

In the soup line will be bean on Monday, chicken noodle on Tuesday, beef vegetable on Wednesday, and tomato on Thursday.

NOVI SCHOOL MENU

Monday - cream of tomato soup, crackers, grilled cheese sandwiches, carrot sticks, pineapple upside down cake, milk.

Tuesday - Irish stew, meat, vegetables, bread, butter, citrus fruit cup, milk.

Wednesday - hot dogs, buttered buns, potato chips, pear-cottage cheese salad, raisin pie, milk.

Thursday - Italian spaghetti, hot rolls, butter, finger salad, fruit cookies, milk.

Friday - cream potatoes, garden peas, tuna salad sandwiches, pickled chips, orange juice, ice cream, milk.

FLAG PRESENTATIONS-Last week the VFW Auxiliary provided a new flag to fly over the Veterans Memorial plot in Rural Hill Cemetery and this week the same organization presented flags for each room of the new Moraine elementary school as well as a giant flag for the front of the building. Making the presentations on behalf of the auxiliary was Mrs. William Durham, chairman of the auxiliary's Americanism committee. In the picture above, Rex Holloman, representing the American Legion, which together with the VFW maintains the memorial plot, accepts the new flag from Mrs. Durham.

Below, Mrs. Durham poses with the flag presented Monday to the Moraine elementary school during Loyalty Day ceremonies. The flag, which flew over the nation's capital, was obtained from U.S. Representative Jack McDonald. Students holding the flag are Muriel Bedford, captain of the Moraine Service girls, and Kelly Moorhead, captain of the Moraine safety patrol. Both are fifth graders. The VFW presented American and Michigan flags for the Moraine stage and room flags were presented by the Sarah Ann Cochran chapter of the DAR.

Novi Justice Court

Three persons were arraigned in Novi justice court last week for driving under the influence of liquor.

Virginia J. Isler, 49, of Berkley was fined $125 on the charge. She was cited as she was driving west on Grand River avenue between Meadowbrook road and Clark street.

Thomas G. Jackson, 30, of 321 Duana street was sentenced to 15 days in the Oakland county jail when he pleaded guilty to driving under the influence and having no driver's license in his possession.

In lieu of fines of $75 and $25, respectively, he was sent to jail. The infractions occurred on Novi road near 12 1/2 Mile road.

Ernest A. Marcincio of Ohio pleaded guilty to driving under the influence on Grand River near Novi road. He paid $50.

For improper lane usage, Raymond E. Plante, 47, of Walled Lake was fined $50. The violation took place on East Lake drive.

Found guilty of having liquor in their possession, James Galembieski and Walter C. Exford, both 17, were fined $50 apiece. Galembieski is from Farmington, Exford from Asbury Park. The infraction took place on Beck road north of 10 Mile road.

Arthur Zielinski, 38, of Detroit pleaded guilty to making excessive noise with his car on Novi road near Flint street. He paid a fine of $25.

William B. Cormack, 28, of Troy was cited for driving east on Grand River avenue at Holcomb street with expired license plates on his car on March 1. He was fined $25.

Richard D. Frederick, 23, of Farmington, cited for improper passing on Grand River was fined $20.

James F. Hartwick, 49, of Highland pleaded guilty to parking on Ludlow and Faywood streets in a manner that created a traffic hazard. He was fined $20.

News About Schoolcraft

Schoolcraft College Foundation has turned over to the Board of Trustees of Schoolcraft college a total of $6,450 in gifts received from five individual donors.

Dr. Eric J. Bradner, president of the college, said the money will be used to help match an earlier grant made to provide financial aids for students at the college.

The total was comprised of individual gifts of $1,000 from the Reef Manufacturing company; $100 from Ralls-Hamill and Becker; $250 from the Plymouth Lions club; $5,000 from the Plymouth Rotary Foundation; and $100 from the Kiwanis club of Garden City.

Four members of the Schoolcraft College Varsity club, and Athletic Director Marvin Gans recently attended a one-day varsity club clinic at Ferris State college.

Clinic speakers included Jack Cotton, director of athletics for Farmington schools and Charles Forsythe, head of the Michigan High School Athletic Assn.

3 Northville Students To Tour with Musicians

Three Northville student members of the Musical Youth International will be among those who will make a tour of Europe next summer.

They are Sue Jones, Jane Jerome and Gary Becker.

MYI is an affiliated teen club of People-to-People, and, as such, works closely with the total People-to-People program.

One hundred students from 51 high schools will make up the 1967 European tour group, which will leave Metropolitan Airport on June 23 for a five-week tour through England, Wales, Austria, Hungary and West Germany.

MYI is returning to Middlesbrough upon their invitation for a special concert because they won prizes in Middlesbrough's first Eisteddfod last summer. They will then travel to Llangollen, Wales, where the chorus will enter the International Eisteddfod. The week's stay in Wales will be climaxed by participation in Saline Day at Brecon.

Upon their return home, MYI will make a short post-European tour through Canada, where the tour group is a feature at EXPO 67 on August 4, 5 and 6. They will give a concert in Washington, D.C. on August 9, when government officials will receive the group.

Their final concert of the season will be at Gettysburg, Pennsylvania,

Thieves Heist By Wave Length

Victor Muscat would like to know the thieves on his wave length. Already it's cost him $538.

Muscat, who owns a coin-operated vending machine business at 215 Wainwright, has had to hand carts worth $28 apiece, a $350 money counting machine and 22 cases of candy worth $132 stolen from him.

The thieves did it by finding out the wave length that opens an electrically operated garage door to the converted church Muscat uses as his place of business.

NOTICE OF PUBLIC HEARING

PLANNING COMMISSION TOWNSHIP OF NORTHVILLE

At a meeting of the Northville Township Planning Commission to be held in the Township Hall on May 23, 1967, a public hearing will be held at 8:00 P.M. to consider the following:

AN AMENDMENT TO THE NORTHVILLE TOWNSHIP ZONING ORDINANCE

To amend Section 12.11 (g)

When an accessory building, in any Residence, Business or Office District, is intended for other than the storage of private motor vehicles, lawn, garden Tools and Equipment, the accessory use shall be subject to the approval of the Board of Appeals.

All interested parties will be given an opportunity to participate in the hearing and at the close of the hearing, all comments and suggestions of those citizens participating will be considered by the Northville Township Planning Commission before making its decision.

A copy of the item scheduled for hearing is on file in the office of the Township Clerk during regular office hours for public examination.

Notice To BRADNER ROAD Property Owners

From Six Mile to Five Mile Road in Northville Township

The petition requesting the paving of Bradner Road from Six Mile to Five Mile Road via relocation in the Township of Northville has qualified under the provisions of Act 246 of the Public Acts of 1931, as amended, which permits the paving of said street and assessing the property benefited. In this connection, a survey has been made and plans prepared for the improvement. We wish to advise you that this Board will hold an official hearing on the determination of whether or not the paving of Bradner Road between the limits noted above is necessary; said hearing to be held at the OFFICE OF THE BOARD OF WAYNE COUNTY ROAD COMMISSIONERS, 7th FLOOR, GUARDIAN BUILDING, 500 GRISWOLD, DETROIT, MICHIGAN 48226, ON TUESDAY, MAY 9, 1967 AT 10:00 A.M., EASTERN STANDARD TIME.

The purpose of the hearing is to give all the interested parties an opportunity to state their views on this matter to the Board, and to have any questions concerning the improvement answered. If you have any objections, you are urged to be present at the hearing in order to make your objections known to the Board. Inasmuch as there are usually objectors present at these meetings, it is also recommended that some of the individuals in favor of the paving also be present in order to speak on behalf of the petitioners so that the Board can properly determine the consensus of the property owners to be assessed for the improvement and make the proper determination of whether or not the improvement is necessary. If you are unable to attend the hearing, you may wish to write a letter giving your views. Your letter will be given the same weight and consideration as a personal statement.

The Board's plan for this section of Bradner Road contemplates a 37' concrete pavement (back-of-curb to back-of-curb) with rolled integral curb and complete underdrainage. This is a complete city-type improvement and will eliminate the necessity for any roadside ditches, driveway tile, etc. Since Bradner Road is a quarter line road and the pavement width is proposed to be 37' wide, the policy of the Board is to assume the cost of the additional width of 10' beyond the standard 27' wide pavement which will be assessed against the properties benefited. The estimate for the construction of this section of Bradner Road is approximately $249,205.00, which figure will vary depending on the prices bid by the contractor when the bids for the construction of pavement are taken.

The general policy of the Board is to set up the special assessment roll on the basis of a minimum of four (4) equal annual installments plus interest. However, Act 246 permits as many as ten (10) annual installments. The people at the hearing will be asked to indicate their preference and to agree on the number of installments for this project. The installments are spread on your regular December county tax statement, the first one being due the December following the construction of the improvement. No advance payment or deposit is required.

Teen Driving Gets Stiff Test

LANSING — Michigan parents have a unique tool for disciplining their teenagers.

A law which took effect last year allows parents to request revocation of a child's driving license if the minor is under 18. The parents need give no reason for the request, but they usually do.

Reasons given include poor driving habits, disapproval of the teen's friends, a son who stays out too late, a daughter who takes the car and skips school, and others.

Increased cost of insurance when teens are driving is often a factor, but apparently not usually the sole reason.

Most parents believe a letter from the State Department announcing license revocation will have a positive impact on the teen's behavior, especially since the law also permits parents to have driving privilege restored when they feel it is warranted.

Michigan is the only state where such a law is in effect. Authorities in several other states have been looking at the Michigan legislation with an eye toward similar moves.

MICHIGAN WEEK will be observed May 20-27 for the 14th year, reaching more people within and outside of the state each time.

Preparations for the official one-week May celebration take many months.

The effort to enlist all citizens in programs for the advancement and development of their state is by no means seasonal. It is a year-round program with activity reaching its climax in the week starting the third Sunday in May.

Composed of a central state organization and then broken down into committees working at the regional, county and local levels, the working force behind Michigan Week is thousands strong and includes people from all walks of life.

Each day is given a special designation but designed to accommodate local imagination or special attraction.

Sunday is Spiritual Foundations Day; Monday centers around Our Government; Tuesday emphasizes Hospitality; Wednesday, Our Livelihood; Thursday recognizes Education; Friday, Our Heritage; and Saturday emphasizes Youth. In addition, this year the preceding Saturday, May 20, will become Civic Pride Day.

The 1967 celebration will hold extra significance for some. Special recognition for contributions to the state or local areas will be given.

For the many who have worked on Michigan Week since its ambitious beginnings 14 years ago this observance will be another tribute to their enthusiasm.

Is a traffic light the answer to a hazardous intersection? Ask the State Highway Department, if a major route is involved, but don't expect an automatic "yes" just because traffic accidents are frequent.

The department, upon investigation, may decide a traffic signal will not remedy the situation.

What many people don't realize is that stop lights are designed to open one traffic corridor across another at alternate intervals. They are not generally useful devices to prevent accidents.

Accidents at an East Lansing intersection were increased almost four times in one year after a stop light replaced a yellow flashing signal.

Traffic volume is most important in determining whether a stop-and-go signal is warranted. In many cases, volume does not warrant a signal, although accidents are frequent.

A POIGNANT example of the futility of a stop light was seen recently at M-25 and Park Street in Bay City where a car plowed into a dozen school children, killing two.

Department officials agreed that the traffic volume at the crossing warranted a signal light. They emphasized, however, that school authorities were told to continue the use of a crossing guard after the light is installed. The study showed the signal would not have prevented the accident.

See 2.5% Rise in Food Costs

BABSON PARK, MASS. You'll be paying 2.5% more for consumer goods and services by the end of this year than you were at the beginning. That's what the government economists predict, and it looks as though they may be right on the button. Or very, very close to it. Here are some of the reasons the forecast seems to be logical, even if a trifle discouraging to the householder.

Since last fall consumer prices have been comparatively stable, enough so to make the Pollyannas hope that the buying power of their pocketbooks might grow stronger. But most of the slowdown has been due to lower prices in certain foods — such as eggs, fruits, vegetables, and pork. This has tended to offset to a fair degree the basic increase in most other prime goods and services. But the cost of beef, milk, cheese, etc., is on the way up, and it won't be long before other foods follow.

Then the climb in over-all living costs will be resumed. It won't be a mad inflationary runaway, but the advances will be persistent and will involve just about every item in the consumer price index. The value of your dollar is going to be nicked away during the rest of 1967, and probably well beyond that. Some "moms" among the Administration will console you with the claim that this gradual price inflation will help to keep business strong. But you will feel it in the pocketbook; that they can't deny.

ALONG WITH foods, there will be upward pressure on the price of apparel, shoes, gasoline, many household goods, and entertainment. It will be other household appliances, with resultant weakening of prices. It should be noted, however, that housing starts are once again on the rise, and gentler mortgage interest rates are making for more optimism. As this trend intensifies, prices of appliances will be nudged upward again in an effort to come steadily more expensive to eat out, even at restaurants that have thus far sustained the "bargain" image. It is going to cost more for housing, whether you rent or buy. The promise of some softening in mortgage interest rates will not be able to balance out the continuing hike in building costs, insurance rates, and property taxes.

While medical expenses are not a regular family outlay, they are bound to show up when least expected and must be considered as a part of every budget. Over the past twelve months medical costs have skyrocketed over 8%, and this may well be only a beginning. Doctors will keep raising their pay sights, while nurses are organizing to ensure steady gains as well as shorter hours. Naturally, all this is going to be passed along to the patients needing hospital treatment.

CUTBACKS in residential building have slowed sales of color TV and lessen the profits squeeze that has tormented many companies.

Lagging turnover in autos has also placed downward pressure on prices for both used and new models. Dealers are frantic to reduce their inventories, even if it means sharp losses for the time being. Until fall this price sag will prevail, but then will come the 1968 models that will be approximately $100 more expensive than those of 1967. Hence, autos will add their strength to the general climb in costs of all retail goods services.

So far, many concerns have been covering their increases in labor costs from their earlier healthy profits. But outlays for labor are still soaring toward new highs, and many major industries will have to give wage boosts this year and next. The result will be more and more "passing of the buck" to the consumer in the form of higher prices. So there is as yet no end in sight for the rise in living costs.

SPEAKING

for The Record

By BILL SLIGER

The illustration of the multi-armed clean-up campaigner above was submitted by John Wortman, who is a member of the beautification commission and has made it his business to point-up eyesores.

John displayed a few of his "eyesore slides" taken at various residential, commercial and industrial areas around the community to members of the beautification campaign committee last week.

They revealed that there's plenty of room for improvement (by city, school, business and private citizen) both in unsightliness and in conditions that could cause accidents.

The beautification commission is appealing to local organizations to undertake individual projects, such as purchase of attractive trash containers for the business district, landscaping of the South Main street entrance to the city and tree planting.

One of the best projects was proposed by Paul Folino. Thanks to his initiative, planter barrels are now being stained by junior high school students and the retail merchants association has already pledged itself to placing them throughout the business district with appropriate greenery.

Probably unique in all the state (and very possibly the nation) is an agreement reached by The Record and the school administration and teacher negotiation teams.

We've been asked to sit in on negotiation meetings.

Our state press bulletins have discussed these closed sessions and noted that, like all labor-management contract meetings, there's little likelihood of the press being invited inside during arguments.

Ray Spear, assistant superintendent and chief negotiator for the administration, and Pat Babel, chairman for the Northville Teachers Association, met with Jack Hoffman and myself to discuss the possibility of press coverage of the private sessions.

It's been our position that we could do a better job of explaining both sides if we were thoroughly backgrounded in the individual positions.

The negotiators point out that more harm could be done by premature reporting, however, as both sides jockey for position. Sometimes opening offers and demands appear unreasonable and could cause damage to negotiation progress if improperly reported.

Yet it's no secret that the press (and public, for that matter) has ways of finding out what happens at the most secret of sessions. And sometimes second-hand interpretations can be misleading.

After a meeting and an exchange of letters it was decided by both negotiating teams that sessions would be open to the press "based on our faith that you will use discretion in what you publish".

We have made it clear that we will not forfeit the right of the public to know, but that we will consult with both chief negotiators before publishing information obtained at the sessions.

It is entirely possible that no reports of proceedings will be made until agreement, or hopeless deadlock, seem apparent. But the opportunity to hear firsthand the positions of both sides is definitely advantageous to the press and public.

The Record is grateful to school administrators and teachers for providing this opportunity and displaying confidence in the press. We shall do our best not to violate this trust.

Northville negotiators are to be commended for this cooperative effort to better inform the public. It may set a standard for other school districts.

by JACK W. HOFFMAN

Someday a saucer probably will zip down out of the sky, suck up the water from my favorite fishing hole, and Frank Edwards will have the last laugh. Or rather he'll share that laugh with my fisherman friend, Frank Kochalko of South Lyon. But until then I'll do the laughing.

Both Franks are believers. They tried unsuccessfully to convert me awhile back over at the Engineering Society's plush Detroit headquarters.

Edwards, author of the best-seller, "Flying Saucers Serious Business," was in town to entertain the engineers and their wives with his tales about the metal dishes and cigars that periodically visit our earth. Entertainment-wise he was a smash; a convincing apostle he was not.

Nevertheless, the writer, columnist, radio commentator and collector of space phenomena gave Kochalko and I an hour of his time before addressing a capacity crowd of fascinated believers and skeptics.

He's a big man, obviously not the type of guy the "little green men" would snatch for a trip into space. He's too fat to fit into their space ships.

Although an avid believer in saucers, Edwards does not subscribe to the tales concerning conversations, trips and communal sessions between humans and the visitors from space. He says those that tell these stories are crackpots.

Illustrating, Edwards told us of the young farmer who came home one night with two bruises on his chin. The farmer told his wife and authorities that he had been kidnapped by "some men in grey suits" who took him into their space ship where he was twice forced to make love to a blond who had practically no lips. The bruises, the farmer explained, were caused when the spacemen took blood samples from his chin.

Commented Edwards: "I don't know whether the bruises were made by drawing blood or whether this was their way of keeping score. I'd say that many a guy who gets mixed up with an unknown guy who gets mixed up with an unknown case and I'm anxious to hear what Ann Landers will have to say about it."

Nevertheless, Edwards is convinced that someone from another world is piloting the saucers and that they will undoubtedly make contact with one of our astronauts during one of the upcoming space shots.

"It's a logical place," he told us, "because it's safe and because the astronaut is an intelligent, important representative of our society. That's precisely why many of our astronauts have reported sighting UFOs in the past.

Surprised to hear that our astronauts have seen them, we were told in angry terms that saucers have indeed been spotted by the astronauts but that the government has purposely kept that fact from the public. He maintains that the government is so sure future sightings and contacts will occur that all Apollo radio and television transmissions from space to earth will be delayed 10 to 15 seconds so that the space agency can monitor and censor them before they get out to the press.

Wants Stop Light Now

To the Editor:

There is a very deplorable situation in Northville called the Eight Mile - Center street intersection. In the morning, as our bus approaches the high school drive, there is a long line of cars coming from the other way. Usually, we have to wait for some kind person to give us a chance to make the turn. This I shall say is not too often. I have often asked people if our city knows that a need for a stop light exists here. They say yes.

I strongly believe that our city is totally ignorant of this fact. With gravel trucks, rubbish trucks, and cars moving down this road, someone is going to have to get killed before this needed light is put up. Before Cobo Hall got more protection, a boy had to get killed. It would be sad if a little kid crossed here and got hit. The facts are here, the danger is evident, WHERE IN THE WORLD IS THE LIGHT?

Respectfully,
Kurt Glaser
Student of Northville High

Editor's Note: Neither city or school officials have ignored the situation at the intersection. Both bodies have approved a stop light and have agreed to split costs. However, actual installation awaits the approval of the road commissions of both Wayne and Oakland counties. Traffic engineers of Oakland county have been reluctant to grant approval, according to City Manager Frank Ollendorf.

Who is Best Undressed?

The only list of magnitude that I have ever made, Was the list of cookie donors for my son's third grade.

I might never have bothered by such a small slight, But, last week I learned, tennis shoes have dimmed my right, To shine as a star on Northville's best-dressed list.

So, please give me another chance in fairness I insist.

Consider if you will all poor other gals like me, In a state of great depression, cause their name they did not see.

There must be a lot of us, with clothes sense so unblesseed, Won't you please a new list make and call it best UNDRESSED.

Slaps Doctor's Policy

To the Editor:
On Friday evening about 7:30 p.m. April 28th my little boy Mark was bitten by a neighborhood dog. The owner of the dog called his family doctor, who refused to treat the child because, he wasn't a regular patient even though the dog's owner was. My doctor wasn't available at the time. I was at a loss as to what to do. The only choice I had was to go to St. Mary's emergency ward which used up valuable time. The blood was pouring out of his FACE. He ended with with EIGHT STITCHES in his face and treatments for infection which developed the next day.

Maybe if he had had immediate treatment the infection would not have set in or at least it might not have gotten out of hand. It seems to me it is a sad state of affairs when a child is ignored under these circumstances because his parents aren't "REGULAR PATIENTS". What has happened to the days when you could count on a doctor in an emergency?

The present day rush in our world has gone too far when a child is no longer important to the medical profession. It almost makes you ashamed to be a member of the human race.---

Judy Arthurs

Throughout his book Edwards is extremely critical of the government for its "obvious" coverup. Government explanations for sightings by citizens as well as the Air Force, he told us, often are as asinine as those concerning green men.

Concerning the recent sightings near Dexter, he maintains the so-called "swamp gas" was definitely a UFO—"similar to the one seen a few minutes later by those sheriffs down in Texas, and the same type that has been reported many times."

Spoofing the swamp gas theory, he says if it was a swamp gas the Dexter people saw "then it was swamp gas with windows."

Asked about the UFO reportedly photographed by the space agency and published in his book, Edwards admitted he obtained it by "devious" means. "I knew they'd (space agency) never give me a print so I put a couple bucks in an envelope and told them that the copy I had was not suitable so would they please send me another. Apparently, they figured if I already had a print it wouldn't hurt to give me another one."

Shortly after the book was published, Edwards said, the space agency was swamped with requests for prints. Everyone was told it was not their picture, that no picture had been taken, and that the author was therefore a liar.

"Well, I'll tell you something. I'm going to use the print in my next book coming out this summer. I'll show the back side of the picture. There you'll see the agency's own notation of the date the picture was taken, by whom, and the signature of the guy who sent me the picture.

"They're not going to like me after that."

One of the biggest disappointments in your book for me, I told him, was that most of the pictures of UFOs were of such poor quality.

Whereupon, he barked that his new book would have plenty of good pictures. Pictures, he said, that were taken with professional type equipment. Some of them, he noted, were taken by a couple of college professors.

"I'm going to show them tonight so if you stay for the program you'll see what I mean."

We stayed, and sure enough we did see the pictures. Real beauties. Landing gear and all. But he spoiled them by commenting that the professors had taken them near the Ohio strip mines.

For anyone else that fact probably would mean little. But for Kochalko and I it had special significance because we fish that strip mine area each spring.

And a couple years back we too took some pictures in that area to supplement an article for an outdoor magazine. We needed one of a fish leaping from the water, but the fish wouldn't cooperate. So we rigged up a transparent line with a dead fish dangling just above the pond, tossed in a rock to splash the water, and snapped the shutter.

That picture was a beauty too. But the story wouldn't sell.

CBS television did something last week that was long overdue. It reckoned with young people as individuals, not as mere extensions of parents or adult society, not as children to be tolerated. "Inside Pop - The Rock Revolution," came across as a serious, sympathetic and sensitive program that gave the younger generation a voice and a face.

The approach itself was unusual and appropriate - a look at the hopes, the frustrations and dreams of young people as expressed through pop music. Pop, or more familiarly, Rock music is strictly theirs, an inviolable part of teendom, untouched by adult hands. Rock music thinks, breaths and shouts youth.

Until CBS' hour-long production, however, this fact went unheeded. The music has been much maligned as downgrading noise, the stuff that screams over the radio, sending dad into the cellar and mom off her bean. And youth, the champion of rock, has been derided for its bad taste. While "Inside Pop" didn't necessarily gain any converts, still it planted a seed of respectability, both for youth and music.

The program was divided into two parts, first focusing on the music. An adult analyst of stature was called for, and Leonard Bernstein, the many splendored conductor-teacher-critic, stepped forward. He proclaimed the originality of the conglomerate rock sounds - rock 'n roll, folk-rock, blues-rock and just plain rock. Not all gained distinction as being original, just five percent. That alone, however, was a concession.

Of course, the Beatles came in for their share of praise as the precursors of the newest movement. They can take their place in the annals as having contributed something unique to the music world. What? Mixed rhythms, abrupt tonality, ingenious instrumentation, Bach and oriental sounds, making for a unique musical cake, spiced with surprise.

One starlet in particular created a stir. She's 15-year-old Janis Ian, a veritable creative pop pot. She wrote and rendered "Society's Child." Hair hanging long in the typical, bedraggled folk-fashion, she prowled her guitar as her muted cat voice broke the pattern of normal pop phrasology, like cutting against the grain and across registers. They were unusual, exciting sounds.

Rock lyrics were likened to poetry. They tell of the human condition in the vein of folk literature or music, a highly personal and heart-felt narrative. The words do not overtly satirize or protest deplorable human conditions. Rather, they comment on the condition of mankind, drawing on topical and universal situations. And the words are delivered with sincerity.

Surpassing Bernstein's erudite comments was the second half of the show, which shifted from the music to the young people themselves, pop singer and fan. The Hermits and the Hollies were greeted at every stop of their rock tour by the faithful, who sat glued to their seats with ecstacy bordering on mysticism. This was the rock cult, not unlike the screaming legions of the Sinatra cult, the Rudy Vallee cult or the Valentino cult.

But there is a salient difference of emphasis. Rock music is the younger generation's platform, their voice. Heretofore, pop music was a dalliance, a romantic trinket, a puerile plaything reflecting a happier mood of America's young people. Today's caterwauling and lilting pop is imbued with serious discontent with the world.

Underlining the rock songs is an anguished plea for peace in a troubled adult world, overshadowed by war and the bomb. Viet Nam is deplored as a senseless, brutal war, as are all wars. Politics and patriotism are not at issue; love and peace and freedom are.

Underlining the rock songs is protest against the establishment and its hierarchy of values. Truth is sought, not the sham values taught by an adult world that young people feel has betrayed them. The individual counts, what he is inside, not the cut of his jib, nor his money, nor the fact that he wears a beard or sandals or Levis. Appearances be damned.

Underlining the rock songs is a cry for freedom, freedom for suppressed and starving people, freedom from conformity, freedom to experiment. Primarily, the Rockers want personal freedom to mold their lives as they see fit. Injury of another is the only sacred barrier.

With so many ills in the world, what do they offer as the antidote? What would cure this sick world? Love - platonic, erotic or universal.

This was the word apparent in "Inside Pop," from the citadel of Sunset Strip, where the off-beat congregate to hear their sounds, to the backstage bull sessions between The Hermans and The Hollies, and the muffled lyrics of Brian Wilson of the Beach Boys. This is Rock Revolution. There are bound to be philistines among the ranks of the sincere and faithful. But in the main, Rock is a benevolent musical current that promises to wash the world's wounds and make it a better place to live in.

Chevrolet's room, ride and price. When Automotive News made its annual roominess study, Chevrolet got the most points. It's roomier inside, they reported, than any other American car. The ride is Full Coil suspension smooth. And Chevrolet hardtops and convertibles are still the lowest priced full-size cars of this kind you can buy. Chevelle's quick size. It's quick to climb, quick to turn. Other mid-size cars might be like Chevelle, true. But they're not as low priced. And they're not made by Chevrolet with Body by Fisher, GM-developed energy-absorbing steering column, inner fenders and Full Coil suspension. Camaro's road-hugging stance. At its price, Camaro is the only sportster to give you wide-stance design. It rides steadier, clings to curves better, hugs the road closer. It's the roomiest car you can buy. Plus, you get a bigger standard engine.
