

Record One-Hour Rain Drenches Community

"It came in over the steps like Niagara Falls."

That's how Angelo Gadioli, owner of Northville Lanes bowling alley, described one of the artificial rivers of water caused by last week Wednesday's downpour that washed out roadways and lawns, flooded basements and damaged homes and at least one business place.

What happened at the bowling alley was typical:

Water gushed into the north door of the building, covering carpeting to about an inch deep in some places, flowed in under the alleys themselves and pocketed to three inches deep behind the automatic pinsetters in the rear of the building.

No damage was reported to the wooden alleys.

Out-front, in the center of the Cady-Center streets intersection, water exploding through the storm sewer blew up the 50-pound man-hole cover, which landed 10 feet away, and created a steady flowing fountain of water 24-inches in diameter four feet high.

Along the sidewalk, several fountains of water shot up through cracks in the concrete, and asphalt around the catch basin was washed away, threatening collapse of the basin itself.

Cause of these and other artificial rivers, lakes, waterfalls, and fountains was a summer-evening rainstorm that started slowly about 5 p.m. and increased in intensity until between 6 and 7 p.m. when it fell hardest.

Within one 45-minute period, two home-made rain gauges recorded three-inches of rainfall, according to City Manager Frank Ollendorff, in what may have been one of the heaviest downpours in the community's history.

Considering the amount of rain that fell, however, the number of serious resulting problems was minimal, the city manager said. He said most reports of flooding were isolated. Nevertheless, the police department received 27 flooding calls following the rain, and a steady stream of problem reports continued to come in Thursday. Ollendorff guessed that many homeowners just didn't bother to call because they were too busy mopping up.

City employees worked until nearly midnight Wednesday and were back at dawn the following day trying to correct some of the problems.

Hardest hit were the subdivision areas in the north part of the community.

At 556 Langfield, home of the vacationing William D. Lemon, Jr. family, a backyard sunken patio filled with several feet of water, backing up against a glass door-wall and gushing into the ground level of the bi-level home.

Neighbors armed with a pump, shovels, pails and mops worked feverishly to remove the water in which recreation and bedroom furniture floated.

Tons of water poured down over the rear lots in the Maplewood, Grace Court, Horton and Welch street areas, washing out newly planted lawns and piles of firewood and flowing into the creek running along the bottom of the ravine behind the homes. The creek, already overtaxed by storm waters coming from the drain from the Northville Heights area, quickly became a river and then a lake before the rain stopped.

By morning the creek was back to normal, but lawns were ruined and the exit drain into which the creek flows was heaped with logs and debris.

Grace court was covered with water. Center street near the Bell telephone station was flooded and eventually washed out. It was closed until the following morning when several loads of gravel were brought in.

Water covered the intersection of Carpenter and North Ely and flooded three basements at Carrington and Ely - including the home of Police Chief Samuel Elkins.

The problem pond behind homes along the north side of Sherry, where residents and the city department of public works have been trying to remove water for months, was back up to its almost normal depth - some six feet in one area, thus wiping out three-days of continuous pumping in less than 20 minutes. However, no flooding of yards or basements were reported.

Across the street on the south side of Sherry, rivers of water flowed out between the homes toward the streets, damaging lawns and undermining sections of the sidewalk and at least one drive.

Hill street was flooded with water that flowed down over yards of area residents - including the home of Councilman Delbert Black.

Two basements in the Grace-Lake streets area were flooded with about four feet of water when the sanitary sewer backed up.

Allen Drive, where flood problems had plagued residents and the city in past years, escaped problems this time, Ollendorff explained, because of a new storm relief sewer.

On Main at Center water covered part of the street and went up over the sidewalk, seeping into the doors of the Northville bar and restaurant. Part of Center street was covered with water near Ely's garden center.

Water poured down off the parking and play areas of Main Street elementary and the junior high school, heaping mud along Cady to Wing street.

Eaton drive was flooded to about a foot in depth in some places, forcing motorists to move parked cars to higher ground. At least one basement was flooded in the area.

The Cass Benton parkway drive flooded and was closed.

Several Northville township roads were turned into washboards, especially Haggerty between Six and Seven, but township officials stated there were no reports of major flooding problems. High up on Reservoir drive, however, at least one basement was flooded.

No water damage was reported by construction crews working at the new junior high school off Taft and at the high school, and police said no automobile accidents were directly attributed to the rainstorm.

No major water problems were reported in Novi, Wixom and South Lyon, which apparently missed the heavy downpour that occurred here.

Too Wet for Horses

For the first time since June 19, 1954 a full night of racing was cancelled at Northville Downs Wednesday, June 28 due to the downpour that flooded Northville at 6 p.m.

At 6:50 track officials called off the evening meet. Water had flooded the stands and pari-mutuel betting area and had covered electrical cables controlling the tote board and betting machinery.

Fearful that a "short" and electrical failure might result officials cancelled the meet and called in electricians to examine the system. No damage was done.

By 8:30 p.m., drains had cleared the stands and track.

Thirteen years ago on June 19 a similar cloud burst closed the track.

Although blanked at the betting windows Wednesday night, the Downs came back strong Thursday, Friday and Saturday to record nightly mutual handles of $271,000, $361,000 and $363,000.

Mutual handle average for the current season through last Saturday night is $270,414, down 11 per cent from last year.

Board to Consider Setting Date for Millage Election

The organizational meeting of the Northville board of education will take place Monday in the junior high school library beginning at 7:30 p.m.

At this meeting members of the board will elect their own officers, following the seating of two new members and one incumbent.

Taking their seats following their June election will be Glenn Delbert, who was elected to a one-year term, and Andrew Orphan, who was elected to a four-year term.

Richard Martin, who was serving in a seat vacated by Donald Lawrence, will officially take over a new four-year term. He too won election in June.

No longer members of the board are Wilfred Becker and Richard Lyon, neither of whom sought re-election.

Officers of the board through June were Becker, president; Stanley Johnston, secretary; and Eugene Cook, treasurer. Johnston and Cook remain on the board as does James Kipfer and Robert Froelich.

Among other business Monday that the new board will take up will be a proposed resolution for a possible millage election. According to Acting Superintendent Raymond Spear the resolution, if approved, calls for establishment of special election on August 28.

The resolution does not spell out the amount of the millage nor the length of the levy.

If this resolution is approved, Spear explained, the board must by August 7 either cancel the election or adopt another resolution establishing the amount of the millage levy and the duration of the levy.

August 28 is the last day on which an election may be held if the millage levy is to be spread on the December tax roll. If an election is held and a millage issue is approved by voters, officials will have only three days in which to certify the results and officially notify the various taxing units of government of the tax levy. Although the board has informally discussed the possibility of a millage election, there has been no decisions made and several members have voiced some reservations concerning a millage hike.

Schoolcraft Teachers Fume After Heel-Cooling Session

In his first appearance on the Schoolcraft college board of trustees Monday night, newly-elected B. William Secord of Northville stepped into a hornet's nest stirred up by teacher unrest.

And chances are that unrest - a result of a reported breakdown in master contract negotiation - will get worse before the summer's out.

Anthony Rizzo, chairman of the teachers' negotiating team, and fellow members were steaming and nearing the point of strike talk when the board - after a two-hour and 15-minute executive session - reconvened to vote 6-1

"to continue with the present offer indicated here-to-fore."

Secord was one of the six members who voted for the resolution. George Martin, newly-elected at-large member of the board, cast the lone dissenting vote. No public comments were made by any of the board members as to the reasons for their stand. However, the resolution itself undoubtedly was prompted by stinging criticism voiced earlier in the meeting by Rizzo.

Rizzo, who along with other members of the teachers' negotiating team attended the meeting, read a two-page missive. The board, declining to comment on several questions raised by the teachers because they didn't "think it wise for us to enter into open debate", recessed for the executive session. Waiting in the halls and growing angrier by the minute, teachers predicted the board's subsequent action and talked of the "breakdown" in negotiations.

Here is how teachers described negotiations which began back in January:

-The "present offer" referred to by the board is "the same $60,000 economic package offered in January, just wrapped a little differently."

-The initial salary hike asked by the teachers was for $1,950 annually.

-The board's negotiation team took a subsequent teachers' revised package, which included reduction of a number of "side economic matters" and came back with a "ridiculous $1,450 across the board cut in the present salary level, telling us there just wasn't any money available."

-When weeks of negotiations failed to produce an economic package, the board of trustees called in the state labor mediation board, which reportedly recommended that trustee representatives come back with a written proposal that is bargainable and that issues be met head on by the board's representatives.

-On June 19 the teachers and the board agreed to a proposal changing the career (promotional) salary structure "so they could place some new people but it didn't include any salary agreement for the present faculty."

-On June 21 the teachers came up with a counter offer of $1,450 - or $500 less than originally requested.

-And on June 28 the trustees' representatives offered a $700 raise, which teachers insist is the same $60,000 package offered in January. Teachers contend the board, to justify the earlier offer of a salary cut, "probably are cutting out other economic matters in order to come up with $700, but we don't know what they may be because we have nothing in writing."

-Also on June 28, following the board's proposal, teachers cut their salary increase request to $1,350 - where it stands today. Teachers peg this at a $110,000 package, or $50,000 more than offered by the board.

-All but a few non-economic issues have been settled.

Asked during the recess if teachers will refuse to return to work in September if a master contract - the first in the college's history - is not agreed upon, Rizzo declined to predict the teachers' reaction but he clearly indicated that plenty of trouble is brewing. He said his group is prepared to call a general meeting of the teachers to decide what to do in such a case.

Meanwhile, the faculty has filed numerous unfair labor practice charges with the state labor board, which reportedly is very nearly ready to call a trial.

Rizzo, who reminded board members Monday that more than 80 per cent of the faculty members have refused to return signed contracts, emphasized that 15 teachers have already resigned and others are considering to do so.

Earlier Monday, the board of trustees re-elected its officers. These include:

Harold Fischer of Plymouth, chairman; Mrs. Jane Moekle, at-large, vice-chairman; Paul Mutnick, who was just re-elected to the board without opposition from Clarenceville, secretary; and L. Clarke Oldenbarg, treasurer.

Other members beside these, Secord and Martin, are Sam Hudson, at-large, and James Boswell, Livonia.

Sudden emergence of a wading pond attracted youngsters to this ravine running through Village Green subdivision near Maplewood. But harness racing fans weren't attracted to the Downs. The picture below was taken at 8:30 p.m. Wednesday-post time for the first race. Racing was cancelled at 7 p.m. when water flooded stands.

New Taxes Won't Help State Hospital

Although many legislators may feel they've beaten back Governor George Romney's threatened austerity budget by approving a new tax plan, the director of the Northville State Hospital sees real financial problems for his institution.

Dr. E. G. Yudashkin contends the new tax package offers Northville State Hospital no new monies to cope with antiquated equipment and "at best let's us maintain what we have-which isn't good enough."

The director told The Record that additional monies provided in the new package is offset by increases in civil service salaries - certainly no reason to shout for joy. Actually, the package is itself an austerity program, he said, although he indicated that the Governor's threatened program would have meant disaster for Northville State Hospital. The latter, he said, would have meant dropping a substantial number of the hospital's 875 equated employee positions.

Dr. Yudashkin said much of the hospital's equipment is old and in need of repair or replacement. The new tax package, he said, provides no money for orderly replacement. Dramatic examples, he said, are X-ray and dish-washing equipment. But other basic necessities such as parts for toilets and sinks cannot be purchased without more monies than offered in the proposed new tax package passed by the House of Representatives last week.

The package, he said, is really only a "breather", permitting the hospital to maintain inadequate facilities without substantial curtailment. He suggested that there is much more in the way of treatment that could be done but that insufficient funds prevents their implementation and that the hospital must necessarily emphasize custodial care over treatment.

Northville State Hospital, located in Northville township on Seven Mile road, presently has 1,904 mental patients.

Apartment Plan Rejected

Northville township's planning commission refused for the second time last week to approve a plat plan for the proposed 260-unit Northville Forest Apartments.

The project will be developed by the Greenspan building company on Five Mile road west of Marilyn.

Specifically, planners told Fred Greenspan that the new plan had basically the same traffic problems that were criticized in the original plan submitted a month ago. They also pointed to improper calculation of certain building lengths and widths, as well as parking and traffic problems.

George Vilcan, consultant to the planning commission, estimated it would require the deletion of 10 units to correct traffic problems.

Greenspan accused the board of exceeding its authority and criticizing the design of the apartment complex. Township Attorney John Ashton said the board was acting within its rights and that its remarks had been directed at legitimate details, not design.

The request for approval was denied unanimously.

In other business planners set July 25 public hearings on zoning ordinance amendments dealing with the establishment of two multiple family residential districts and open space requirements in multiple family districts. Notices appear on page 6-B.

A committee of Leonard Klein, J. Craig Bowlby and Attorney Ashton was named to draft a proposed ordinance to control storing of old cars and other vehicles, as well as trash.

Hundreds of area families lined the route of the Jaycees' Fourth of July Parade Tuesday. Later they enjoyed barbecued chicken and fireworks in unseasonably cool weather. See page 6-A.

"FOR PRESERVATION-SHOOT IT!"

TAKING THEIR CUTS—Preliminary to Knothole softball play,

Yankees, Cubs Lead Knotholers

The John Mach Ford Yankees jumped off to a quick lead in the Northville Recreation Knothole Baseball circuit—but not without a scare.

Behind the pitching of Captain Ken Worly and Jim Watson, the Yankees posted 6-1 and 11-3 victories over the Dodgers and the Giants, respectively.

The Dodgers spotted the Yankees five runs in the first inning on singles by Bob Smith and Watson and four walks. The Dodgers pushed across a run in the fifth, but could not make up the difference.

The Yankees then ran at will over the hapless Giants after allowing three runs in the first inning. Worly, Watson and Brian Mills led the hitting attack as the Yankees scored in every inning. Those were the two easy wins. In the first game of the season, the Yankees barely eked out a 3-3 tie with the Angels.

With the Angels leading 3-1, catastrophe struck. Their star hurler, Scott Cummings, pulled up with arm trouble and had to be relieved.

Mark Matthews led the Angel attack, scoring two of the three Angel runs. Pegged to give the Yankees a real run for their money are the Athletics. The A's romped 7-0 over the Dodgers in their only contest to date.

Pitcher John Marshall was the Athletics' sparkplug. He allowed only one hit, while striking out every other batter. He also scored the first run as he singled and was moved around with the help of John Boland and Jim St. Lawrence.

Four runs in the second and two in the third inning provided a cushion for Marshall.

Terry VanHellmont pitched and batted the Clippers to a 5-3 win over the Indians.

In the only other game, the Dodgers beat the Angels, 3-1. Singles by Richard Rushlow, Scott Karr and Bill Phillips gave the Dodgers an early lead. Later, hits by John Jerome and Greg Phippips provided an Angel threat.

He's Untouched

He's untouched.

Don Funk, that is.

In two Knothole softball games, only one batter has hit Funk's pitching. He's struck out every other batter—23—and walked only three.

His two no-hitters paced the Cubs to 11 wins, including a 11-0 victory over the Colts and 7-0 victory over the Lions. Pacing the Cubs attack is Dave Klechner, who has had a hit every trip to the plate.

Ty Cole and Gary Mapes have been the big guns in the Tigers' two early season victories, one a 5-4 squeaker over the Rams, and a 11-8 slugfest win over the Panthers.

Other Knothole softball scores: Panthers 6, Cougars 5 and Cougars 18, Colts 0;

Boys' Derby Cart Race Planned

Three new events have been scheduled by the Northville Recreation department, Director Bob Prom announced this week.

A derby cart race will be held sometime in August. There will be two categories: boys 12 and over and boys 11 and under.

Upon presentation of plans for a cart, the recreation department will furnish boys with a set of wheels, front and back, which may be kept. Wheels must be picked up between July 7 and July 14.

Exact date and whereabouts of the race will be announced in The Record.

Another event just getting underway is girls' softball. Six Northville teams and two Plymouth teams will comprise the league.

The first practice will be held at 9 a.m. tomorrow at the First street field. Schedule of games (two weekly) will be announced Friday, as will further practice details, Prom said.

Adults and children are invited to join the Chest club, now in operation for the fourth week. The club meets every Thursday at 8 p.m. at the Scout-Recreation building.

A full spectrum of trips is on tap. There's still room on Saturday's bus trip to Tiger stadium, Prom said. Youngsters are asked to call the Scout-Recreation building or register in person. The bus is scheduled to leave from behind the Community building at 11:30 a.m.

Two zoo trips are scheduled, one Wednesday, July 12, and another Tuesday, July 25. Capacity is limited to 55 persons per trip.

The second nature hike through Kensington Metropolitan park will take place Tuesday, July 18. Number of participants is limited to 35.

One of the biggest events of the year — the Turtle race — is looming near. It will be held Tuesday, July 18, in back of the Scout Recreation building.

Finally, Prom announced that the Men's Slo-Pitch league will no longer play Friday night games. Instead, two games will be played Wednesday night, beginning at 6:15 and 7:30 p.m.

WE'VE GOT TIRES—That's what Bob Prom, director of Northville recreation department seems to be saying. Donated by Warren Products, these tires will be given to youths wishing to enter the department's soap box derby. It will be held sometime in August.

20th Hole Trips Jim In Tourney

Northville's Jim St. Germain playing "well enough to win", lost in the quarter-finals of the 56th Michigan Amateur golf championship tourney at the Charlevoix Belvedere club last Saturday.

St. Germain lost in an over-time match on the 20th hole to Dick Robertson, who was tripped-up in the semi-finals by the new 1967 champion, Bill Newcomb of Ann Arbor.

St. Germain had no excuses. "I was playing good golf, good enough to win, but it just didn't happen", he stated.

In his first try in the Michigan Amateur in 1964, St. Germain also reached the quarter-finals. He failed to qualify the next year, then lost to former champion Bud Stevens in the third round in 1966.

The 20-year-old St. Germain twice won the state high school championship while attending Northville high school. Now he's a member of the top ranking University of Houston squad.

He's planning a full summer of tourney play turning next to the Golf Association of Michigan's father-son tourney on the weekend at Orchard Lake and Pine Lake country clubs where he'll pair up with his father, C. J. St. Germain.

Here's Invite To Golf Outings

Amateur golfers interested in tournament play — regardless of what they shoot — can probably find action at the right price and the right time this summer, thanks to daylight savings time and the Western Wayne Golf association.

The WWGA, organized in 1964 to help promote city tournaments in Western Wayne communities — a function now being carried on by recreation departments — is sponsoring two or more tournaments each month this summer, all on weekend afternoons, all at a rate of about $5 per 18 holes of play, and all open to any interested male golfer.

"Our format is really pretty simple," says tournament director Roger Turner, of Westland. "Because of daylight savings time, it is now possible to start 50-60 players as late as 2-3 p.m. and have every player complete 18 holes — so we do it!"

All WWGA tournaments are at Salem Hills, a 7000-yard championship course on Six Mile road about three miles west of Napier road in Salem township. Entry fee is $5 per each 18 holes of play with $2 of the amount going for merchandise prizes. Tee times always start at 2 p.m.

Three tournaments are on the July schedule — beginning with a one-day two-man best ball event (18 holes) this Saturday, July 8. Sixty players (30 teams) will be accepted on a first-come first-serve basis. Reservations may be phoned to the Salem clubhouse at 437-2152.

Other July events include a two-day 36-hole two-man Best Ball on Saturday and Sunday, July 15-16, and a two-day 36-hole Individual Medal event starting Sunday,

Last week will go down as the week for underdogs in the Novi Little League.

Behind the strong pitching of Chuck Foley, Novi Party Store pinned a 4-2 loss on league leading Flynn Modernization on June 26.

That, momentarily, gave the second place Mobarak Jayhawks a magnificent shot at the lead with the two top teams scheduled to play Friday.

But the aroused Rexall Pillers played giant killer, with Dave Brown playing the part of the storied David. Brown lashed a two-out two-run double in the bottom half of the last inning to give Rexall a 5-4 victory over the Jayhawks.

Those two games set the stage for the season's second clash between Flynn and the Jayhawks. Flynn evened the score by posting a lopsided 12-3 victory.

Little Chuck Foley was the hero in Party Store's victory over Flynn. He limited Flynn to only six hits, two of which were doubles by Steve Jacques.

A big three-run third inning gave Foley all the runs he needed.

The Pillers' Brown, besides slamming a game-winning double, also held the Jayhawks in check with his sterling pitching. He gave up only three hits: Jim Van Wagner's double and singles by Dave Ward and Ron Frisbee.

Leading the Piller attack was none other than Brown. He had two doubles, Eric Hansor had a single and double and Mike Holyrode and Jerry Primeau, singles for the Pillers.

A six-run first inning sealed Flynn's victory over the Jayhawks Friday as Flynn Pitcher Tim Assemany took over from there. He gave up only six hits and single runs in the first, second and fourth innings.

Meanwhile, his teammates unleashed a relentless attack. Steve Jacques and Gary Colton both had two doubles, and Roger Provo and Kim Smith each had a triple to pace Flynn's nine-hit onslaught.

John Pantalone and Joe LaFleche had doubles for the Jayhawks, who trail Flynn by three games. Flynn is 12-2, the Jayhawks, 7-3.

In Flynn's other game, it wasn't even close as Flynn posted a 19-0 win over the Paragon Steelers, who have been crippled lately by vacationing players.

Roger Provo limited the Steelers to only two hits.

Gary Colton with a triple and double and Tim Assemany and Jim Ortwin with doubles were Flynn's leading hitters.

Gary Penrod and Mike Vivian had singles for the Steelers.

B-V Construction broke out for two victories last week in the only other games played.

B-V collected only four hits, but made the most of them with walks and errors to beat the Pillers, 9-7, on June 26.

Winning Pitcher Bob Taucher had a double.

The Pillers had 10 hits, including triples by Jim Cook and Terry Butler and doubles by Dale Brown, Mike Butler and Jerry Primeau.

B-V Construction posted the most lopsided score of the year in Little League play Friday, beating the Steelers, 32-6.

B-V had 23 hits, while the Steelers garnered only eight.

Dave Winkler, who got credit for the win, also led the B-V attack. He had three doubles. Dale Smith and Pierce had two doubles apiece, while Cookson had a double.

Craig Love and Hartshorne doubled for the Steelers.

C. Richard Castillo

A 19-year-old Northville combat Marine, who was wounded on June 6, has been recommended for the Silver Star for gallantry in action.

Recommended for the award by his commanding officer is Lance Corporal C. Richard Castillo, son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles W. Castillo, 41400 Seven Mile road.

Corporal Castillo, who was protecting an observation-communication bunker on Hill 950 situated above Conthien, was wounded by shrapnel from hand grenades. He was hospitalized for three weeks and then returned to action at Khe Sanh, Vietnam.

Recommendation for the Silver Star carries the explanation that Corporal Castillo inflicted "heavy casualties upon the enemy by sniping while wounded."

The serviceman joined the Marine Corps in June of 1966 after attending Michigan State University.

Thieves Hit New
Junior High Again

The new Northville junior high school now under construction on Taft road was hit again by thieves.

Equipment totaling an estimated $233 was stolen sometime last Thursday night or early Friday morning. Reporting the breaking and entering was Willard Black of Clawson, the equipment superintendent.

Stolen was a nine horse power gasoline engine and two electric cords. According to Northville police, the thieves gained entry by smashing a window in the south side of the building, then cutting a chain and lock off an inside door to make their way into the main school building.

There was the usual tempo of small thefts throughout Northville.

A mini-bike, valued at $40, was stolen from in front of 408 Randolph street, the home of Charles Baird, between 11:30 p.m. last week Tuesday and 9 a.m. Wednesday.

A battery, estimated at $20, was stolen from a car owned by Mike Utley, 777 Grace street. The car was parked on Gardner street when the theft occurred on June 29.

A fishing rod and reel worth a total of $28 was lifted from the garage of Charles Fialon, 331 Sherrie Lane.

Rev. Robert K. Spradling
First Baptist Church, Northville

The Bible was written to be read and understood. To demonstrate this principle, this writer selected a twelve year old boy from the morning congregation of our church a few weeks ago, and asked him to read aloud Romans 10:13, which is as follows: "For whosoever shall call upon the name of the Lord shall be saved." The young man was then asked to tell in his own words what he thought the verse meant. His reply was clearly and simply stated: "If someone asks God to save them from their sins, He will do it." A person would not need theological training to observe that the youth was correct in his interpretation of the verse.

There are portions of the Bible that require considerable study to be understood. However, concerning the vital matter of God's method of saving men, the way is so clearly and simply set forth that even a child can read and understand.

Jesus was a man of profound simplicity. He spoke in terms which rich and poor, educated and uneducated could readily grasp. For that reason, many men heard and heeded what He had to say.

It would be interesting to propose the same test to our readers that was tried with the twelve year old boy in our church. What do you think this verse means? "For whosoever shall call upon the name of the Lord shall be saved," Romans 10:13.

Rev. and Mrs. Cal Beukema from Appalachian Bible Institute, Bradley, West Virginia, will conduct this year's Daily Vacation Bible School at the First Baptist Church of Northville. The school will be Monday thru Friday, July 10-14, 9:00 a.m. until 11:30 a.m.

The program is designed for children from 3 years of age thru teens. Activities include Bible and Missionary stories, contests, awards and Scripture memory. All children desiring to attend are welcome.

The closing program will be Friday evening, July 14 at 7:30 p.m.

Rev. Robert Spradling is the pastor of the church.

News Around Schoolcraft

Mezzo-soprano Leslie Eitzen will be soloist with the Schoolcraft College Court Orchestra in the second of a series of four summer Court Concerts in the open-air amphitheater at the college on Wednesday evening, July 12. The concert is scheduled for 8:30 p.m.

During the first half of the program, Miss Eitzen will be accompanied by the orchestra in the cantata, "Miseri Noi, Misera Patria," by Haydn. She will return after the intermission to sing songs from "The Marientleben," by Paul Hindemith.

The orchestra portion of the evening's program will include Suite No. 2 in B Minor for Flute and Strings by Bach; Beethoven's Septet in E Flat Major for violin, viola, cello, double bass, clarinet, horn and bassoon; and Haydn's Symphony No. 100 in G Major - the familiar "Military" Symphony.

Wayne Dunlap, Festival director, will conduct the performance.

Miss Eitzen is well known as a concert artist throughout Michigan, and has been soloist with the Plymouth Symphony on several occasions. She has sung leading roles with the Detroit Opera Company in "Faust", "Carmen," and "Madame Butterfly," and has been featured artist on two occasions on the Schoolcraft College Library Concert series.

Her teaching experience includes appointments at the University of Michigan, University of Iowa, Detroit Institute of Musical Art, and at Schoolcraft college.

In the event of rain the concert will be moved indoors to the Lois L. Waterman Campus Center. Admission is $1.50 for adults, $1.00 for children and students.

Frosh At CMU

Nearly 300 prospective Central Michigan University freshmen are participating in the pre-registration and orientation period scheduled July 5-6 on the CMU campus.

Pre-registration periods are scheduled throughout the summer for the nearly 2,500 who have been accepted for admission to Central. About 300 are being accommodated during each period. Those not able to register this summer will do so September 14-15.

Classes will start September 18.

Students from the Northville and Novi area participating in the July 5-7 orientation period are: Patricia A. Achtel of 23962 Forest Park and Kathleen S. Dinkel, 1970 Meadow Ridge.

NOVI, MICHIGAN

FROM OUT OF THE PAST

FIVE YEARS AGO...

...Judy Lonn, 17-year-old Northville high school senior, reigned as Miss Northville Jaycee, and queen of the Jaycee Fourth of July celebration.

...Northville's school board elected William Crump president in the first session called since the June election.

...The possibility of a court fight over Novi's entrance into the Middle Rouge Interceptor sewer system loomed larger as Northville's city council steadfastly refused to give its blessing to the project.

Meanwhile, however, all other interested parties gave the final okay to the sale of 4 cubic feet per second capacity in the Wayne county system to Oakland county.

...Finishing touches to a report of the Oakland County community college study committee, together with the actual implementation of these plans, were underway.

...Myrl L. Douglas of West Eight Mile road completed her basic training with the WAVES.

...Raymond E. Spear, 31, an elementary principal in the Cherry Hill school system in Inkster, was selected as principal of the Amerman Elementary school in Northville, succeeding Richard Kay who accepted a similar position in the Grosse Pointe system.

TEN YEARS AGO...

...Northville's Mayor Claude Ely and Frazer Staman, Novi township supervisor, turned the first shovels for the new $1,425,000 Michigan Bell Telephone company dial exchange building in Northville.

...Mr. Charles H. Bloom died at 710 West Main street where he lived with his son and family, Mr. and Mrs. C. Harold Bloom.

...Andrew Cain began duties on the Northville police force.

...A petition by residents of Plymouth avenue requesting that the name of their street be changed to "South Main" street to avoid confusion won approval of the council. The resolution was tabled, however, until the city attorney could determine if a public hearing were necessary.

...Salem school district voters approved annexation to the Lyon township school district by a four to one margin.

...Completion of the Full Salvation Union headquarters at 51530 West Eight Mile road was announced by the Rev. James F. Andrews.

...Parking meters and new walks were installed to accommodate 25 cars at the city's new Dunlap street parking lot directly behind Main street stores.

...An intimate part in the battle of the school district pocketbook was given new Northville school board members Andrian Willis and Dr. Waldo Johnson as the board of education decided to borrow another $37,000 in the form of tax anticipation notes.

...Northville's former mayor, C. E. Langfield, emerged as the hero in a rescue of two boys adrift on Lake Michigan. Langfield, president of Northville Laboratories, was credited with saving the lives of two Kenosha, Wisconsin boys age 13 and 15, who had been drifting for 40 hours on a "Huck Finn" type raft. He picked them up about five miles from Waukegan while making a business trip to Chicago aboard his yacht, "N-La-Van".

TWENTY YEARS AGO...

...Dr. Linwood W. Snow of 502 West Main street was elected president of the American Institute of Homeopathy.

...The Henry Ford Recreation field was rapidly nearing completion as bleachers were completed and the softball diamond laid out.

...One of the narrowest escapes from instant death ever recorded in our local history was that of four Northville residents at the Pere Marquette crossing on the Novi road.

W. J. Lanning and wife and their son Robert and wife had started to drive to Novi, in the former's car. At the crossing, Mr. Lanning was obliged to turn out for another car.

As is well known, the planking between the tracks at that point is not wide enough for two cars to pass on it, consequently, the front wheel slipped off the end of the planks, causing it to turn on to the track, and be held there by the rail. At the instant the automobile was stopped, the afternoon south bound fast train appeared. The occupants of the auto jumped for their lives, just an instant before the engine struck the machine, reducing it to atoms.

Fluoride Program May be Extended

There still may be an opportunity for Northville area children who have just completed kindergarten, second, fifth or eighth grades to receive fluoride treatments in the program now being conducted here by the Wayne County health department.

If enough additional children are enrolled in the program, which includes polishing and four treatments with fluoride, the program begun here last week and due to be completed the week of July 10 could be extended, Mrs. Irene Lillis, Wayne county hygienist administering the treatments, said last week.

She expressed concern that only 139 children had signed for the treatments when announcements were sent home from school the end of May. Two years ago, when the program was conducted while school still was in session, more than 1,000 youngsters were given fluoride protection.

Parents interested in enrolling children for the treatments, which are $4 for the series, are asked to call Mrs. Lillis at Northville junior high school, where the treatments are being given, Monday, July 10.

Don't let the low price scare you off.

$1823.50*

That's the price of a new Volkswagen. Some people won't buy one because they feel they deserve something costlier. That's the price we pay for the price we charge.

And some people are afraid to buy one because they don't see how we can turn out a cheap car without having it turn out cheap.

This is how. Since the factory doesn't change the bug's shape every year, we don't have to change the factory every year.

What we don't spend on looks, we spend on improvements to make more people buy the car.

Mass production cuts costs. And VWs have been produced in a greater mass (over 11 million to date) than any car model in history.

Our air-cooled rear engine cuts costs, too, by eliminating the need for a radiator, water pump, and drive shaft.

There are no fancy gadgets, run by push buttons (The only push buttons are on the doors. And those gadgets are run by you.)

When you buy a VW, you get what you pay for.

What you don't get is frills. And you don't pay for what you don't get.

SURPRISE HOST - Several members of the Northville Historical Society's museum committee, who visited Governor Moses Wisner's mansion in Pontiac and conferred with Oakland county historical officials last week in gathering information relative to establishment of museums, were greeted by a former Northville resident, Arthur Selden, and Mrs. Selden of Sylvan Lake. Selden, now 79, was principal of Northville high school between 1909 and 1910 during the period when John LaRue was superintendent. He is now a member of the board that operates the historic Wisner mansion. Shown with the Seldens along the staircase of the museum are (l to r) Francis P. Gazlay, Mr. and Mrs. Selden, Edmund P. Yerkes, Mrs. Kate Edgerton and Miss Linda Edgerton.

Police Cases Up, Tickets off in Novi

The May report of the Novi police department revealed a continuing trend. A record number of cases - 345 - were handled by the department, while the number of traffic tickets issued continued to fall off. During the past month, 154 motorists were cited, as opposed to 186 in 1966 and a record 279 in 1965.

One essential factor explains the present trend: more time consumed in major case investigation.

Revenue from court fines reflected this trend. Justices Robert K. Anderson and Emery Jacques levied a total of $2,461 in fines, compared with 1966's May total of $2,719.

The nine-man Novi force put in a total of 1613 and one-half hours, topped by Chief Lee BeGole's 202 hours. In addition, 132 hours were invested in juvenile cases.

Despite the dropping violation figure, police patrolled a total of 10,558 miles during the month, issued 189 verbal warnings (in lieu of tickets) and investigated 208 cars.

Seven of 19 felony cases were closed, including one breaking and entering, two felonious larceny (of two cases) and four simple larceny.

Three civic events - the Memorial Day parade, Mayor Exchange day, the school fair - demanded special duty. Furthermore, the parking situation during the school fair prompted Chief BeGole to make the following recommendation:

"Parking at Orchard Hills school proved to be inadequate for the large number of visitors to the annual school fair. Parking and traffic control, as well as ground patrol and money escort, complicated our usual regular Friday night overload of police problems. I suggest that next year's fair be held at the Novi high school, where more expansive parking facilities are available."

Novi Bureau Arrests Twenty

On the basis of 37 complaints, the Novi detective bureau made 20 arrests during May, Detective Sergeant Richard Faulkner reported recently.

Included among those booked were 19 males and one female.

Ten cases investigated involved traffic safety, six each for general non-criminal, five for larceny and three for breaking and entering.

Submitted also by Faulkner was the May juvenile report.

Fifty-six juveniles were contacted through the investigation of 36 complaints, all of which were closed.

There was a high percentage of repeaters - 27 - and 33 unofficial hearings were held.

Novi Girl Eyes Police Degree

It's off to school for one of Novi's dispatchers.

Janice J. Combs was granted a leave of absence to study police administration and work toward a university degree. The leave of absence took effect June 10.

WMU Tests Pre-Freshmen

Students who will be freshmen at Western Michigan university this fall spent three days on the university campus during the past week for testing, orientation and registration.

One student was Barbara L. Bogart of Northville.

In groups of 125 to 150, the new students live in WMU residence halls, take a battery tests, meet with their counselors, register for classes and receive a get-acquainted tour of the campus. The orientation program began on June 20 and continues through July 28. It is under the direction of Norman Russell, director of orientation and a member of the university's counseling bureau.

When WMU's fall semester begins August 28, the new students will have additional orientation and meetings before starting their first classes on August 29.

Gets Crank Call

A Northville woman reported receiving a crank call this week in which a youth, who gave a false name, invited her son to a "booze" party.

"I'm sure it was his way of getting my son into trouble, and he's probably making other similar calls, so the public ought to be made aware of it," she told The Record.

PROPOSED AMENDMENT TO THE NORTHVILLE TOWNSHIP ZONING ORDINANCE

To amend Article V of the Northville Township Zoning Ordinance from R-M MULTIPLE - FAMILY RESIDENTIAL DISTRICT to RM-1, thru RM-2 MULTIPLE FAMILY RESIDENTIAL DISTRICTS.

At a meeting of the Northville Township Planning Commission to be held in the Northville Township Hall on July 25, 1967, a Public Hearing will be held at 8:00 p.m. to consider the following:

ARTICLE V
RM-1 thru RM-2 MULTIPLE-FAMILY RESIDENTIAL DISTRICTS

PREAMBLE:

The RM-1 thru RM-2 MULTIPLE-FAMILY RESIDENTIAL DISTRICTS are designed to provide sites for multiple dwelling structures to both satisfy the needs of people seeking this nature of facility and to generally serve as zones of transition between the non-residential districts and lower density single-family districts. The multiple dwelling is further provided to serve the limited needs of the apartment type of unit in an otherwise single-family residential community.

SECTION 5.1. PRINCIPAL USES PERMITTED:

In a Multiple-Family District, RM-1 thru RM-2 no building or land shall be used and no building shall be erected except for one or more of the following specified uses, unless otherwise provided in this Ordinance:

a. All principal uses permitted in the One-Family Residential Districts with the lot area, yard and floor area requirements equal to at least the requirements of the abutting, least restrictive One-Family District.

b. Multiple-family dwellings, including two-family districts.

c. Accessory buildings and uses customarily incident to any of the above uses.

SECTION 5.2. USES PERMITTED ON SPECIAL APPROVAL:

The following uses shall be permitted subject to the conditions herein after imposed for each use:

a. Nursery schools, day nurseries and child care centers (not including dormitories); provided that for each child so cared for, there is provided and maintained a minimum of one hundred (100) square feet of outdoor play area. Such play space shall have a total minimum area of at least one thousand (1,000) square feet, and shall be fenced or screened from any adjoining land with planting. Any use permitted herein shall not be permitted in the interior of any residential block.

b. General hospitals, except those for criminals and those solely for the treatment of persons who are mentally ill or have contagious disease, not to exceed four (4) stories when the following conditions are met:

(1) All such hospitals shall be developed only on sites consisting of at least five (5) acres in area.

(2) The proposed site shall have at least one property line abutting a major thoroughfare (a thoroughfare of at least 120 feet of right-of-way, existing or proposed).

(3) The minimum distance of any main or accessory building from bounding lot lines or streets shall be at least one hundred (100) feet for front, rear, and side yards for all two (2) story structures. For every story above two (2), the minimum yard distance shall be increased by at least twenty (20) feet.

(4) Ambulance and delivery areas shall be obscured from all residential view with an obscuring wall or fence six (6) feet in height. Ingress and egress to the site shall be directly from a major thoroughfare (a thoroughfare of at least one hundred and twenty (120) feet of right-of-way, existing or proposed).

(5) All ingress and egress to the off-street parking area, for guest, employees, staff, as well as any other uses of the facility, shall be directly from a major thoroughfare.

c. Convalescent homes, not to exceed a height of two (2) stories, when the following conditions are met:

(1) The site shall be so developed as to create a land to building ratio on the lot parcel whereby for each one (1) bed in the convalescent home there shall be provided not less than fifteen hundred (1,500) square feet of open space. The fifteen hundred (1,500) square feet of land area per bed shall provide for landscape setting, off-street parking, service drives, loading space, yard requirements, employee facilities, and any space required for accessory uses. The 1,500 square feet requirement is over and above the building coverage area.

(2) The proposed site shall have at least one property line abutting a major thoroughfare (a thoroughfare of at least 120 feet of right-of-way, existing or proposed).

(3) The minimum distance of any main or accessory building from the bounding lot lines or streets shall be at least one hundred (100) feet for front, rear, and side yards when abutting residential districts, and fifty (50) feet when abutting non-residential districts.

(4) All ingress and egress to the off-street parking area, for guest, employees, staff, as well as any other uses of the facility, shall be directly from a major thoroughfare.

(5) A four foot six inch (4' - 6") obscuring wall or fence shall be provided on all those sides which abut a One-Family Residential District.

State's Per Capita Income 14th in Nation

LANSING — Income in Michigan rose at a less-than-average rate in 1966 according to the Office of Economic Expansion. Personal incomes in the state averaged a 7.7% increase over 1965 as compared to a national average of 8.2%.

A lag in manufacturing, led by a cutback in automobile manufacturing, was felt to be the major deterrent in holding personal income to slower gains.

In total personal income per capita, however, Michigan ranks 14th among the 50 states with an average of $3,219 per person annually. Highest in the nation is the District of Columbia with per capita income of $3,969; lowest is Mississippi with annual income of $1,751 per capita.

INCOMES of state and local government employees showed the greatest increase in Michigan, rising 13% over 1965. People employed in transportation, communication and public utilities enjoyed the next greatest rise, 12%; earnings of federal civilian employees increased 9%, the same rate for construction workers. Lowest rise was federal military whose pay increased 4%.

A rehabilitation program for a select group of inmates at Michigan prisons may prove to be the transitional step needed to bridge prison and private life.

Under this program, selected inmates work daytime jobs in the "outside world" and spend nights at the prison. Gus Harrison, director of the Department of Corrections, pointed out that inmates eligible for the "Work Pass Program" must meet three requisites: less than one year remaining before parole; good security risk; no history of mental disorder, assaultive-ness or sexually deviated conduct.

Inmates are placed in jobs located within the communities where they will be later paroled. Care is taken not to assign them to jobs which could be filled from the local labor force.

SUCCESS of the program merits it being continued and probably expanded, urges Harrison. A total of 156 men participated in the first full year of testing. Only 11 were removed because of unsatisfactory work performance or violation of program rules.

Employers expressed general satisfaction with the inmate-workers. Performance ratings on 48 inmates showed "good" to "outstanding" from 75% of the employers. Two-thirds of the employers polled stated they would recommend inmates who had worked for them.

Individual earnings averaged $85 per week. Of the total earned, 30% is sent to families and 50% is placed in a savings account for the inmate upon parole. The remainder goes for work-related expenses such as clothing and transportation. The state assesses $5 per week to help meet program administration costs.

Most inmates credit the program with helping to support dependents and establishing a savings program. In several instances, the plan made possible the removal of dependents from public assistance rolls.

Expansion of the program would involve cooperation of county sheriffs. Inmates could be placed in jobs farther from the correctional institutions if they spent non-working hours in county jails rather than in prison, Harrison reports that many sheriffs have shown an interest in the program and such an extension is likely.

AN ALMOST sure bet can be made that, in a group of 20 people, at least one has an expired driver's license; as many as five or six would not be beyond probability.

The Secretary of State's office has done preliminary studies on the problem and estimates as many as one-third of Michigan's drivers miss renewing their licenses before expiration.

Under Michigan law, drivers' licenses expire on birthdates every three years. No notification of expiration is used.

Recently a group of legislators met with Secretary of State staff to discuss ways of eliminating the problem. During the discussion, one lawmaker reportedly discovered his driver's license had expired.

Penalties for failing to renew on time vary with the court and circumstances involved. Usually the remiss driver is stopped for another, more serious, violation. If a ticket is issued, the court may assess fines for the moving violation but not for license expiration. The time lapse between expiration and apprehension is usually considered another factor. Driving on an expired license is contrary to Michigan statute and does carry a penalty if the court wishes to exercise its authority.

Want to bet your license has expired? Take a look.

Federal Income Tax Hike Seen

BABSON PARK, Mass. — Here in the northeast corner of the U.S., we frequently warn that it is not wise to "review the bid." But then, we know that there is always an "anti-dote" for every aphorism. So we counter with: "Confession is good for the soul." And that is precisely what we plan to do today . . . at the midway mark of 1967. Hence, we turn back to our extensive forecast of things to come in 1967 published here on Dec. 29, 1966. Also, as we go along, we shall adopt a threefold policy aimed at (1) exulting a bit where we were "on the nose," (2) admitting our guilt, and (3) adjusting our course with an eye to the remaining months of the year.

As 1966 ended, we warned that "the greatest danger for the year ahead does not exist on the domestic front."

Throughout the first half of 1967 the direct developments surely have been in the military and political areas abroad. As all eyes were firmly fixed on the increasingly bloody conflict in Vietnam, the Middle East burst into flame.

DISPITE our forebodings of late last year, we then felt that the smoldering fires evident in the Middle East would not erupt into World War III. At the same time we flatly predicted that the issue in Vietnam would not be resolved in 1967. Today as we weigh more recent developments, we are still convinced that neither Russia nor the U.S. views a head-on collision as inevitable. As a nation we are hopeful that the Soviets will gradually give up their aim of world conquest; while the Politburo is persuaded that Americans are drifting steadily leftward and that we will eventually capitulate to Communism without a nuclear war.

ON CREDIT, we expected enough easing to "permit more orderly monetary conditions." On housing we thought it would be "midyear or after before this important part of our economy can contribute much strength to overall business." We viewed labor as standing "at the crossroads" with "more likelihood in 1967 of restrictive labor legislation than at any time since Taft-Hartley was put on the books."

At the end of last year we were somewhat more cautious as to the prospects for common stocks than developments since have warranted. However, we were up the right alley in forecasting "the old aristocracy of the blue chips based on past performance" would be "replaced by a new aristocracy of super-able management based upon hopes of good future performance." This has been borne out by the way the "performance" issues have soared while the blue chips wallowed.

It now looks as if we were over-optimistic on the will and capacity of Congress to curb boondoggle spending. We suggested that Congress would become "more critical of the looting going on under cover of the Administration's War on Poverty." However, even with the rising pressures of war and rumors of more war, our legislators have largely followed a program of "pork barrel" as usual. We are still hopeful for an awakening on this score during the remainder of this year.

FOREMOST, we still feel that income taxes will be hiked before autumn is over . . . as a last-ditch stand against rising inflationary pressures. This should make the current historically high yields on tax-exempt bonds look more attractive than ever. But it certainly is no "bull argument" in favor of buying common stocks "for income."

The practical certainty of further price advances in most consumer items — red meat particularly — will water down the purchasing power of the many wage increases that will be won in the months ahead. Also the expected acceleration in the Gross National Product will look pretty "thin" . . . in terms of constant dollars, ex-inflation.

Finally, we are still looking very hard at possible unfavorable developments in the economic fields abroad. The English pound has been able to give a fairly good account of itself so far this year; but this has not been due to fundamental gains in productivity . . . rather more to financial "window dressing." Higher costs for oil needs, following Middle East disruptions, could once more "upset the applecart." The strain on the pound will again be evident before year's end. And our own dollar may "take some thumps" before the International Monetary Fund's meetings are concluded later in 1967.

SPEAKING for The Record

By BILL SLIGER

Roger Rider, 33, is recovering from injuries suffered when his car collided with another near the intersection of Rogers and Thayer at 5:30 p.m. Monday.

Police described driving conditions as good and both cars, 1964 models, as in good operating condition. Rider, police said, was exceeding the speed limit on Rogers street when his car collided with a second vehicle pulling out of a driveway.

Rider was only two blocks from his home on Eaton drive when the accident occurred. He was not wearing his seat belt; he had not been drinking.

The above is a fictitious accident report, but it is typical of those studied by the Automobile Club of Michigan in its recently-published "Portrait of a Holiday: Memorial Day, 1967".

The study included injury accidents involving automobiles resulted in 204 injuries and 39 deaths over the Memorial Day weekend.

The difference between injury and death in the typical traffic accident may well be the difference between night and day, the report indicates.

While nearly 65 per cent of the injury accident accidents studied occurred in daylight, 61 per cent of the deaths occurred after dark.

Alcohol was involved in at least 36 per cent of the fatal accidents over Memorial weekend but in only 17 per cent of the injury accidents.

Other statistics gathered in Auto Club studies of injury accidents occurring last summer and Memorial Day, 1967 reveal:

—driver error is listed as the prime factor in 84.8 percent of the cases, errors by pedestrians or cyclists pushed the total to nearly 99 per cent;

—Automobile defect was negligible as a cause, being listed as the chief contributing factor only 3.2 per cent of the time;

—In 33.8 per cent of the cases speed too fast for conditions led to injury accidents;

—Two-lane roads or streets were the scene of most accidents, 60 per cent of the bodily injury mishaps Memorial weekend and 70 per cent of last summer's fatalities;

—93.8 per cent of the accidents occur within 25 miles of the drivers' homes;

—only 5.9 percent of the drivers or passengers injured were wearing seat belts and more than half of the cars were not equipped with them, although the average age of the automobiles was less than 3-1/2 years;

—bad drivers were involved in a disproportionate number of the accidents — 10 drivers with an average of nearly 25 points on their lifetime driving records (nearly six times as many as the average motorist gets in a lifetime) were responsible for one-third of the fatal accidents.

The Auto Club report, which is composed as part of the company's "Bring 'em back Alive" campaign, notes that one 32-year-old driver who was killed over the Memorial weekend had amassed 52 points in the past 11 years. Another, 27 years old, had 28 points in seven years, while a 19-year-old had 16 points in two years.

The report complains that the state's point system identifies the drivers with bad records, but fails to take them off the road.

Naturally, the objective of the "Bring 'em Back Alive" campaign is to reduce injuries and deaths on our highways.

It seems to be working. There's been a 19 per cent decrease in highway deaths in Michigan this year, although tourism in the state is up 10 per cent. What's more, the decrease in traffic deaths across the nation during the first three months of 1967 was only one per cent.

The in-depth studies of causes and patterns of such injury accidents will continue throughout July and August and following the Labor Day weekend.

An awareness of the prime causes of highway injury accidents should help all motorists to further reduce the rate in Michigan — and avoid the possibility that our own names might be among those statistics being studied this summer.

All accidents aren't necessarily grim. Just ask newly-appointed Municipal Judge Philip Ogilvie.

A canoe trip down the Manistee river with his son, Gary, was perfectly maneuvered by father and son without mishap. Well, almost, that is.

With His Honor in the rear of the canoe Gary hopped out as they reached their destination to pull the canoe onto shore. A slight tipping action accompanied the pull and the judge ended up dog-paddling downstream while Gary pointed out paddles, bedding and other miscellaneous items to be retrieved.

Novi Police Chief Lee BeGole tells this story about an effort by State Police Sergeant Mike Sibol to teach traffic safety.

In full uniform and riding in a police car with BeGole through the winding streets of Willowbrook subdivision Sibol stopped to permit a small girl to cross the street. Instead, the girl lingered in front of the car with tricycle and gave no indication that she intended to move.

Finally, Sibol stepped out, picked up the girl and tricycle and placed them in front of a man mowing the yard at the house where their car had been stopped.

"It seems to me you ought to teach your daughter to be more careful about playing in the street," the sergeant announced.

"I would if she were my daughter", replied the man as he resumed mowing.

One last anecdote: Attorney Cliff Hill claims a golfing record that undoubtedly will remain unmatched.

On a par three hole at Meadowbrook he was on the green in one, off in two and lost in three!

Combat Serviceman Answers The Question, 'Why Vietnam?'

EDITOR'S NOTE—Following is a letter received by the Northville VFW Post from a serviceman who directs his remarks to the entire community.

To: The Commander of Northville Post VFW Dear Comrades,

I'm just completing over 12 yrs of service today in the U.S. Army. My tours of duty have taken me to Japan, Korea, Berlin, West Germany and now I am just completing my tour of one year here in Vietnam this month. I suppose you asked also "Why Vietnam?" I know and believe we have a beautiful country, the most perfect form of government and the proudest flag. We have all the rights of a free man. But to really know your country is to do something good for it. We must also share our freedom with other countries who wish to be free. We are a strong nation and to remain strong we must support all nations that want to be free. Vietnam is no different than Korea. South Vietnam wants to remain free and independent. If we can help them to do this, then we should. I've had Vietnamese personnel working with me.

They want schools for their kids. They want to make a future for the next generation. They want a chance to build and learn. These people have never had a chance in the past.

Now that we are here they feel a sense of security, a helping hand to guide them.

We are not here to destroy to conquer, but to help them in this struggle against Communism. The VC (Viet-Cong) and the North Vietnam want to take over the same as they did in Korea. This aggression must stop. If we don't stop it here where and what country will be next in Asia. It would never stop.

Governor Romney sent me the Michigan flag on behalf of the Michigan people in appreciation in my fight for freedom for all men.

How can someone tear up a draft card, protest against Vietnam and burn our most beautiful flag, while we fight and die for it. Then this same person say he is an American? To enjoy freedom is to share it. Remember in history we broke off from England to gain our independence. These people want to get away from Communism the same way. If we can help them, then let's do it. We in the service support our government — our president. We love our country beyond just because. We are willing to give our lives for it. This will be my fourth trip coming home from a foreign country. Each time I come home it looks just that much more beautiful — Our country. Yours and mine and a million others. I get disgusted when I read in the papers of people protesting and don't know what's really going on. Ask these same people "What did you do for your country?" Ask them, I bet they don't even get out and vote. But they condemn the government, condemn the country and the flag. How low can they get. Us in the service are dedicated to our country. We are behind our President and we will always keep our flag flying. I hope this can be read at one of your meetings. To let my comrades in arms at home be well aware of what we are doing here. I want to thank the Northville Post for all the help they have given me in the past as I know you will in my future. My thoughts are of all of you, my former home town and my many friends in Northville. Please write. Mail is always good to have.

Hearing from you would be so good. We miss our homes, families and all the good people back home. I know the VFW supports us. As you all have been over these same roads before. Some of us are still going over the same roads. Well, goodbye for now. Write Please: It means a lot over here.

Sincerely SP/5 Ernest C. Pudney

I don't know just where yet. I think of Northville often. After all my childhood years were spent there. I went to school there and was a cub scout, boy scout and also a former member of your post. I now belong to Post #2143 Barstow, California. I would like to leave you all with this thought:

The service I render to my country is not only duty, but an honor and a privilege. Duty, as a citizen, whose life holds responsibilities for country in high regard. Honor, as an individual before God with respect for the ideals that make these United States a democracy. Privilege for the ability to give, and fortunate enough to have been born in a land where my life, mind and ideas are my own.

My country, My home, My Flag. God Bless our Country. (I celebrate my 36th birthday on the 22nd of this month also)

Fails to 'See the Light'

To the Editor:

We sure got something going with this weekly letter writing. I must quit pretty soon and get myself in motion on my book — oh brother! In fact, the kicks of this thing will really show in that little production. I'm giving some of my little goodies away free, you're making all the coin!

Well, here's another one — whenever a firebug gets going and has his fingers slapped for it — regardless of status and his image to the community, even if he could be an Editor — I am glad to know you print everything. So — I'll just wait awhile longer and if it doesn't show up we'll all know what to chuckle at in "Behind the Wallpaper".

My, your last week's food for thought column was windy. Most of your quill scratching is rather good. But after reading your "Gone With the Wind" version, many of us still can't see the necessity of the reports.

"He winds and he pitches. Strike two. The count is three and two on Joe Frump, left-handed batting third baseman. Joe wants Unpire Lou Fosl-dick to take a look at the ball. He throws it out and gives Jim Clogmire a new ball.

"What a game, folks. Last of the ninth, two men out and men on third and first. Ther Zebras are trailing the Hyenas, 4-2, with the winning run at the plate. This has been a honey of a ball game."

"Well, we're ready to go. Frump's digging in at the plate. Clog takes a look at him. Shakes off the sign, shakes again. Winds up and pitches. Frump swings. There's a long ball to left field. Rosey Red goes back, back, back. He's got the ball.

"Games over. The Zebras lose, 4-2."

Big deal. So the Zebras lose. That's my reaction when I hear Mel Mundane, the human tranquility pill, putting me to sleep on another lazy summer afternoon. He's lucky I've hung around long enough for the windup. I mean, after all, how much can a fan take, let alone anyman.

To hear old Mell tell it, baseball is as exciting as tea and crumpets in med-Victorian England. No dash, no hurrah. Just dilly-dally on the diamond.

You've heard the arguments by now. "Baseball. Why my mother is more exciting to watch than that game. I could whip up more excitement with an egg beater. Football, now there's a real game. Thrill a minute."

Even the old baseball zealot who has tuned into the Zebras since '02 realizes he's fighting a losing battle of the tongues. In fact, he'll concede, probably, that baseball ain't what it used to be. Now in the old days, he'll say, fading back to John McGraw, Connie Mack, Joe McCarthy, the Gas House Gang...

Well, fans, baseball hasn't changed

We are not conformists and don't always go along with the group. We have not received our computer number from the Pentagon as yet.

Northville's image has not exactly been up to par lately. Many things contribute to the total overall affect. Too many people will not stand up and be counted today! If this type of reporting contributes to the betterment of our community, then many of us still fail to see the light.

We have been advised that neighbor Plymouth does not release this type of information for public consumption. Am I still number one on your list? I hope so, because I'm really trying.

Another good week for sales —

Bruce McAllister Editor's Note — According to the Plymouth editor — court news, is carried. "We have no judge right now, but when we do we'll continue to have a regular police blotter and court news report," says Editor Ed Edgar.

that much, with the exception of a few rules changes. To the contrary, it's just as exciting as ever. More and better pitchers, better hitters, a livelier ball and a faster and rougher game.

No, baseball hasn't changed.

Doubt it? Take a ride down to Tiger stadium. Same old place. Electric, filled with color. Vendors splitting their spleens yelling, fans chewing on peanuts, popcorn and cigars, sipping something cool, exercising their lungs whether the Tigers win or lose. There's always something to yell about.

And action. Man, always. Outfielders shutting back and forth, infielders yelling it up, throwing dirt around and tensing for the pitch, runner on and steals second, a slop single to left to score a run, a hard shot to left in left field making a fantastic grab against the wall. Groan.

Yep, the old game is the same. The answer to why baseball isn't getting the same pitch as before lies elsewhere.

Football and basketball, in the last 20 years, have been coming on like Gang Busters. Rightly so. As sports spectacles, they had been lagging, while baseball enjoyed an enviable, unchallenged place as the game of games. America's own. Big time.

Meanwhile, during these hot summer days, Detroit suburbanites long for cool country shade, or a refrigerated home. "Tiger stadium is hot, man, and anyway, baseball isn't the same," so goes the rationale.

So what face does baseball present? The voice of the Tigers, the Zebras, the Hyenas — mostly, Mel Mundane's, no color and less pep.

What baseball doesn't need is re-vamping. What it does need is a jumping announcer whose adrenalin flows at a rate of 40,000 gallons a minute. Rather than sitting lackadaisically by, he's hopped up by the game, gets as excited as the fans and lets us in radio land feel the electricity.

His official title is Clerk of The Works.

But contractors have other less comical names for him, some of which are too personal to repeat.

No matter, for Fred W. Coverdill measures the success of his job by absence of friends he generates in cracking the whip. And crack it he does, day to night, Monday through Sunday.

The 'works clerk' is employed by the Lyon township school system to supervise construction of a new high school and several lesser building projects. He's the school system's bird dog, flushing out flaws in workmanship.

Coverdill is paid $10,000 annually — and school officials figure he saved taxpayers well over that amount already and there's plenty of construction work yet to be done.

Hardnosed, balding and sunburned in his wide-brimmed straw hat Coverdill is equally sure of his worth, confounding that with every $1 million school construction project at least $40,000 of taxpayers' money is wasted through sloppy workmanship, mistakes and even deliberate shortchanging.

"No matter how good the contractor might be things can go wrong unless you're there to make sure they don't. And if you've got a poor contractor things can really go bad.

"One brick out of place can ruin a whole job."

That's why he believes all school systems should hire their own construction inspectors and not rely upon the architect's inspector or the contracting supervisor. "They're not always around and they're not as particular as me. I learned a long time ago to 'start it right and do it right and if in doubt, don't do it.'"

Take for instance the present reconstruction of the corridor in South Lyon's high school addition. "It (the addition) was about 95-percent done when I got here — at least everyone thought it was. The floor was terrible. I told the contracting superintendent who I was and what I thought and he told me I had no business telling him what to do. Well, I told him he could think what he wanted but I wouldn't accept it, and the board (board of education) backed me up and held back part of the payment. Now they're in there ripping up the floor and it's going to cost them more than $15,000 to do it over."

"The other day I went into the school," he continued, "and found this kid with his hair down to his shoulder. I asked him what he was doing and he said he was moving the lockers so that they could break up the cement. He said it was stupid but some 'nut' had ordered it.

"Well, I took him to the old part of the school and asked him what he thought of that floor. He said 'pretty good' so I asked him how it compared to the new one. Now, I said, I'm that 'nut' you're talking about and I'm telling you it's going to be done over and done right this time."

Or take for instance the paint job inside the addition. "That painter insisted he'd put two coats of paint on but that he'd made a mistake and used a primer that looked just like the final coat. I told 'em I'd been around long enough to tell the difference between one coat and two and that that job wasn't right."

The contractor fired the painter, and a second coat was added.

Or take the tons of earth dumped onto the interior floor of the new high school. "It just wasn't what the specs called for and I told 'em so. The state inspector backed me up too. They hauled it all out and put in the right stuff."

And finally, there was the case of the workman who "borrowed" some material from the high school site. "I saw him do it and went to the police. The board backed me up, and if he doesn't bring it back I'm going to swear out a warrant for his arrest."

"The board backed me up. That's a key to the success of his job, says Coverdill. "If they didn't have the guts to take what I tell them, my job would be worthless. But this board stands behind me all the way. So does the architect and the contractor. They want the job done right, too, even though they don't always agree with me."

Coverdill, who lives on the new high school site in a house trailer, has been bird-dogging construction projects for more than a quarter-century. For much of that time, however, he was an inspector or construction superintendent for the contractor — a job he refuses to accept now.

Over the years he's supervised construction of nearly 50 schools, several government housing projects and giant "Minute Man" missile complexes in North and South Dakota, Montana, Nebraska and Wyoming. The complex in North Dakota alone covered 16,000 square miles, including construction of dozens of gigantic launching sites and storage silos, installation of 17,000 miles of underground cables and supervision of 8,000 construction men.

But for Coverdill, there's as much personal satisfaction in bird-dogging a $1 million school project as a billion dollar government defense project — particularly when he can save thousands of local tax dollars that might otherwise have been lost because a brick was out of place.

"When this (South Lyon) job's done, you can be sure it will be nearly 100-percent perfect or I'll eat it."

You get the feeling the school will indeed be perfect when it's completed after listening to this guy, but you also come away agreeing with another of his observations:

"Those guys (construction crews) are going to personally chisel the name, 'Old Eagle Eye', on my tombstone."
