It's Fall Again: Mustangs Host Plymouth Gridders

Arch Rival Walloped In Last Visit

The last time Plymouth brought its football team to Northville - September 17, 1965 to be exact - it suffered the worst defeat ever in the traditional rivalry - a crushing 45-0 shut-out.

But that was 1965. Last year in the opener at Plymouth the Rocks gained some measure of revenge, 18-12.

Some of the sting is certain to linger on, however, as the Plymouth eleven opens the 1967 season in Northville tomorrow night.

Rated underdogs going into the game, the Northville Mustangs might rise again, that is if their "secret seapon" proves effective.

"Yah, you could call it a 'secret weapon', I guess," said Northville's head coach, Alex Klukach. "It'll either explode or fizzle."

Klukach, who is entering his second season as head coach, was talking about a new backfield formation he plans to unveil tomorrow when the two teams meet at 8 p.m. Like the sculptor who refuses to show off his handiwork until it's finished, Klukach isn't saying any more.

Last year, with a 3-4 league record and a 3-5 mark for the season, the Mustangs worked the T-formation together with a split. How this will change remains to be seen.

One thing's for sure: The Mustangs hope to undo last season's 18-12 loss at the hands of the Plymouth rivals, who tossed a wrench into plans for an aerial attack by smothering Quarterback Chris Holman and his passes.

Without that passing attack, the Mustangs were stripped of their most effective weapon, one they were relying on to loosen the defense and make room for light backs, not fast, not slow, who needed every inch of daylight.

It was a painful debut for Klukach, - just one more reason he'd like to uncor an early victory.

Following tomorrow's game, Northville will open its Wayne-Oakland league stand at Holly the following week, then clash with Brighton here on September 29, West Bloomfield at Keego Harbor on October 6, Clarkston here for homecoming on October 13, Bloomfield Hills there on October 20, Milford there on October 27, and closeout the season here with Clarenceville on November 3.

A pre-game look at the Northville eleven discloses a bigger and stronger squad than Klukach fielded for the opener last year. Seventeen lettermen are back and, according to the coach, "it looks like a bigger club."

The line is especially beefy, probably as big as in any the league and a pretty good match for the always big Rocks. Nearly all of last year's big line men are back.

Starting linemen include Gregg Carr, the lean senior left end who last year demonstrated some nifty, twisting catches to spark a number of crucial drives; Bob Hicks, left tackle; Glenn Heffner, left guard; and Dale Price, center. On the other side of the center are Bob Hubbert, right end; Dan Conklin, right tackle; and Jerry Asher, right guard who last year won honorable mention in the W-O league stand-out players list.

Joe Andrews, who saw varsity action last year primarily as a defensive halfback, will probably start at quarterback, although Coach Klukach indicates that Stan Nirider, who moved up from the Jayvees, is "coming along nicely and should help." The starter will be replacing John (Chris) Holman, who in his senior year completed 36 of 118 passes, good for 538 yards.

Playing split halfback will be Dennis Matthews, while Barry Deal will start at the other half. At fullback will be Everett Greer.

Others, besides Nirider, who are edging close to starting positions, according to the coach, are Pat Caley at fullback, Craig Turnbull, who "looks real good", and Terry Mills, who probably will play a flank or half.

The final stamp of approval was given the 1967-68 master teacher contract Monday night as the board of education voted ratification.

With two members absent, the five remaining members voted favorably as had 71 of 117 voting teachers last week Tuesday morning.

Board action followed review of sections of the contract, a brief discussion, and the recommendation for approval by Acting Superintendent Raymond Spear, who said he had no desire "to do this all over again."

During the discussion, Trustee Robert Froelich suggested that the document had become too "cumbersome" and, because of its minute details, would make administration of it more difficult. He said it was unnecessarily detailed, much more so than most teaching contracts that he has studied.

In addition to placing a "real burden" on the people who must administer it, he said, it either substitutes for existing policies or establishes new ones.

Board members Stanley Johnston and Andrew Orphan said they found it a "good" contract. Johnston said he was particularly pleased that the contract placed the board and the teachers on a cooperative basis relative to class sizes and Orphan contended that it gives teachers adequate protection while allowing the board administrative freedom.

The superintendent concurred with Froelich that the contract was a weighty one, but he noted that with the advent of contractual negotiations, documents of this kind are likely to become even more cumbersome rather than less detailed.

Related board action Monday included approval of changes within the school calendar, which the board had adopted in May.

To fulfill the state required 180 attendance and 190 teacher work days, the changes establish Friday, December 22 as a student attendance day - making up the day lost September 5 when teachers failed to report to classes, and establishes teacher work days on Saturday, January 20 and Saturday, June 8 to make up the two days teachers were to report prior to the opening of school.

Because some teachers did report prior to school, these teachers will be excused.

Unless student population increases between now and September 22 - the official county day - the school district may lose nearly $27,000 in anticipated state aid. According to Spear, the school system had a student population of 2,723 last Friday, 2,708 on Monday. The preliminary budget projected an enrollment of 2,800.

Spear said he could not explain the unusually low increase. Normally, he explained, the system has grown between 7 and 8 percent each year, while projections have been conservatively based on a 5-percent growth factor. Monday's count of 2,708, he said, is but one more student than the system had at the close of school in June.

The kindergartens this fall have only 175 pupils whereas they normally carry over 200, Spear said, noting also that the sixth grade is down 17 students below expectation.

The board voted not to pay a special assessment for improvement of Bradner road, based upon the school attorney's explanation that, under the law, the school district cannot be assessed for property not being used for school purposes. Its 17 acres adjacent to Bradner fit this category, it was explained.

Had the board voluntarily agreed to pay its proportionate share of the road improvement, as it could, the district would have had to pay an estimated $3,200.

How the board's action will affect the assessing process has not yet been explained by the county road commission, which is supervising and sharing the cost of the project with property owners adjacent to Bradner road.

Attempts to unionize custodial, maintenance and mechanics of the Northville school system are underway, Business Manager Earl Busard reported. Local 347 of the Teamsters' union is making the bid.

With some 30-percent (or seven persons) of the personnel within these three categories desiring unionization, the required percentage necessary to vote on a bargaining agent apparently has been met, he said. However, the school contends, he added, that if unionization is to take place it should include all non-certified personnel. Local 347 "does not want the others", he said.

A labor board hearing is to be held soon to decide the issue, Busard said.

A limited lunch program will begin at Amerman school next Monday while school administrators develop a fee formula and policy affecting the program.

The lunch program had been abandoned because all students attending that school are now "walkers". None are bussed. However, at the direction of the superintendent, Principal Robert Stafford surveyed parents to determine their views.

A sufficient number of parents said they would like a lunch program for either steady, frequent, or occasional use by their children to warrant it, Spear said. Forty-eight of 60 families indicated they would be willing to pay for the program, he said.

Fifteen families (representing 21 children) indicated their children would make steady use of a lunch program; nine families (representing 17 children) said their children would make frequent use of it; and 36 families (representing 52 children) said their children would use it occasionally.

Thirteen of the 15 steady users indicated a willingness to help pay for the program; eight of the nine frequent users said they would pay; and 27 of the 36 said they would pay.

Spear is to recommend a fee formula and overall lunch program policy at the next meeting of the board.

*****
Representatives of the Northville city and township planning commissions probably will meet soon with the Novi planning board to discuss a proposal of the Northville school board that some method of setting aside school sites within proposed subdivisions be established.

City's Take On Racing Surprises

Like the better with an "across the board" ticket whose horse finished third, all was not lost for the city of Northville as it counted its slice of the parimutuel handle from Northville Downs for the 1967 season.

Because five of the 54 nights of scheduled racing were lost due to the riot curfew and a rainstorm, the city had anticipated a cut of some $30,000 in its budget estimate of $170,000 from racing returns.

Instead, the city received a total of $157,200.62, less than $13,000 below the estimate.

City Manager Frank Ollendorff reported that the final parimutuel rebate check for the past season was received from the state Tuesday.

"It's less than we estimated before the budget, but more than we had expected after the lost racing nights", Ollendorff stated, adding that the city still has a tight budget for 1967-68.

"Breakage", the odd pennies between the pay-off to bettors and the actual winning, apparently accounted for the extra money. This money is turned over to the state along with its regular share of the handle.

Chamber Seeking Record Membership

Northville's Community Chamber of Commerce has launched its fourth annual membership campaign and is looking forward to again topping the 100 mark.

All members, new and old, are being urged to submit their applications and dues not later than September 20 so that the chamber's "booklet of information" may be prepared for early publication. It will contain, in addition to area information, a complete classified index of all members of the chamber of commerce.

Last year nearly 1,500 of these books were distributed to businesses, industries and individuals interested in obtaining information about Northville.

Chamber President Dempsey B. Ebert announced this week that two new memberships had been added this year - one an industry and the other a commercial business. Foundry Flask & Equipment, recently purchased by James R. Hayward, took out a chamber membership, as did the new Northville Tire Service, owned by Dick Ashton.

The membership fee schedule is as follows: 0-9 fulltime employees, $25; 10-24, $50; 25-49, $100; and 50 or more fulltime employees, $200 annually.

For further information on chamber of commerce membership, contact Ebert at 349-1010.

COM'ON ROCKS-Ready and waiting for their opening encounter tomorrow with the Plymouth Rocks, this probable starting Northville lineup is aiming high. In the backfield (l to r) are: Halfback Dennis Matthews, Quarterback Joe Andrews, Fullback Everett Greer, and Halfback Barry Deal. On the line (l to r) are Bob

Township Given Court Date

Mobile Home Suit Filed

Northville township's refusal to issue a building permit for a proposed mobile home development will be challenged in Wayne county circuit court November 27.

Township Attorney John Ashton informed the township board at its regular meeting - last week - that the court date had been set.

The mobile home village, known as

Seek Water Service

Petitions for water service were received last week by the Northville township board from residents of Marilyn and Fry roads in the township's southeastern area along Five Mile road.

Supervisor R. D. Merriam said the petitions were signed by more than 51 percent of the property owners of the two streets, but noted that Park Lane and Fry roads were within the same residential area.

The project, if undertaken, would be paid by residents of the area to be served through special assessment. Detroit water is now provided in the township to the Bradner road area just west of the Marilyn-Fry area - along Five Mile road.

The proposal was turned over to the township engineers, Mosher & Associates, for cost estimates.

In other business at the township board's September meeting an amendment of the dog ordinance was approved increasing the rates for boarding stray dogs from $2 to $4 per day.

The board also approved a $200 annual membership fee for joining the Southeastern Michigan Council of Governments, and ordered refunds of any inspection fees charged for "re-inspections" of swimming pools. A $5 fee is charged for first-year inspections only.

Supervisor Merriam reported that he had made a request to the Wayne county road commission for widening of Seven Mile road from Beck west to the county line (Napier road). He noted that the road had been widened from Beck road to the city limits, but was only 18-foot wide west of Beck.

The board considered, but took no action, on water rate increases. A recommendation will be made to the board by the sewer and water commission, Supervisor Merriam stated.

The township has been notified by the Detroit water board that water rates will be hiked 5 1/2-cents per thousand gallons on November 1. This is about a 15 per cent increase to the township, but could be covered by an eight per cent increase to users, the supervisor stated. Merriam, who was reappointed to the water and sewer commission last week, serves on the commission with Frank Arlen and William McDermott.

Charles Lapham, who would manage the development, has stated that the 50-acre parcel cannot be developed for homes as zoned because of its location next to gravel mining operations. He said that mining is slated to continue in the area for 20 years.

Lapham added that the company is ready to begin as soon as permission can be gained. "We have all layout and engineering work completed and the necessary state approval", Lapham said.

The Ziguener

He's Floating in His Dream

There's a special pride of ownership twinkling in the eye of Mark Greidel of Northville as he takes the wheel and looks out over the bow of the haughty Ziguener.

Neither could be happier; Mark as builder and captain and the German gypsy as a proud boat breathing new life.

ONCE A FISHER-The hull of the Ziguener once was an old Great Lakes fishing boat. Now it houses comfortable family quarters.

The two met three years ago down on the Ohio shore of the Erie where he traveled the roads as a sales engineer and she plied the waters as a dirty, aging collector of fish.

For years Mark Greidel dreamed of owning a "big ship", one big enough for himself and his family to live on. But his pocketbook suggested otherwise. "I just didn't have the $20,000 or $30,000 necessary to make it real," he recalls. Then one day - he doesn't remember exactly when - he decided to build his dream into a reality.

Scouring the shore of the Erie in his travels through northern Ohio, Mark came across the Ziguener, then a fishing boat that twice or more daily roared out onto the lake to gather fish from nets. She was a dirty boat but she performed well enough to convince Mark that here was the foundation of his dream.

Then one wintry December day, two fishermen plowed her through the ice to a Monroe drydock where for the next three years Mark and his family turned the smelly fisher into a luxurious house cruiser. The Ziguener received her trial exercises late last year and became a full-fledged Great Lakes cruiser this summer.

The transformation cost Mark an estimated $8,000 - $4,000 for the steel hull

'Helping Hand' Program Set For Northville

The Northville Jaycettes, headed by co-chairmen Mrs. Paul Sobol and Mrs. Joseph Kleusner, are launching a "Helping Hand" program in Northville. The program is part of a nationwide project to place placards bearing a symbolic hand in the windows of homes as a wordless sign to children in trouble that they can find help at those homes.

If children are injured, bullied by other children, lost or threatened by a child molester, they will know they can find aid in a home displaying a sign, officials explain.

The local Jaycettes plan to place hands in homes throughout Northville and Northville township. They hope to post two signs per block.

The symbol of help is an 8"x8" placard with a dark blue hand on it. On the back of the placard are local emergency telephone numbers and instructions for volunteers.

Volunteers will be instructed to assist the child by summoning the parents and the proper emergency agency. They are advised not to apply medication.

All homes displaying the "helping hand" will be investigated beforehand relative to the character of the home and the importance of having someone home during school hours.

The program has been endorsed by the city council, City Manager Frank Ollendorf, Police Chief Samuel Elkins, Acting Superintendent Raymond Spear and the school principals.

PTA presidents have been contacted and will discuss it at their first meeting to explain the project further and answer questions.

The group will need volunteers. If interested, contact Mrs. Peter Lindholm, 349-1596.

Institution Seeks Help

Volunteer needs for the Plymouth State Home and Training School will be outlined during the facility's annual volunteer drive Tuesday from 9:30 to 11:30 a.m.

State Home staffers will give a brief history of the institution, slides will be shown and the needs and purposes of volunteers will be discussed.

A coffee hour will follow. In asking for volunteers, officials note that volunteers may donate a few hours weekly in a number of ways.

The first, of course, is working with the children. This includes playing, dressing, bathing, and feeding them. In addition there are some classroom settings that would be of particular interest to persons with experience or an interest in teaching.

For volunteers with the inclination and of equal importance, are the various offices that require help. Typing and filing is always needed. The X-ray, library, pharmacy and research departments are only a few of the areas where help can be used.

The Plymouth State Home and Training School is located in Northville township at 15480 Sheldon road, between Five and Six Mile roads. Persons having questions pertaining to volunteer work are asked to call the volunteer office, GL 3-1500, extension 227.

Ann Salo Becomes Bride

Ann Louise Salo became the bride of William D. Mahn on August 19 at St. Matthew's Lutheran Church, Walled Lake. The Reverend Lawrence A. Kinne officiated. The soloist was Carl Temple of Detroit.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Paul E. Salo of Wixom and the bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. D. W. Mahn of Minneapolis.

She was attired in a gown of organza over taffeta with a bateau neckline and fitted bodice with French lace trim. The gown had an empire waistline with a sheath floor length skirt and a detachable bouffant chapel train. The headpiece was a pillbox of organza with a bouffant silk illusion veil. She carried a mantilla bouquet of Phalaenopsis orchids.

The bride's sister, Martha Salo was the maid of honor. She wore a floor length moss green crepe dress with a brocade A-line coat to match. She carried a cascade of yellow fugi-mums.

Mrs. William D. Mahn

The bridesmaids were Georgia Leliviska of Wixom and Sandra Harrell of Pontiac. Their gowns were identical to the maid of honor's.

Neil Paul Salo, brother of the bride, was the best man and David Steiner and Joseph Lilla of Minneapolis were groomsmen. Ushers were John Lund and John Clemens also of Minneapolis.

The mother of the bride wore an apricot chiffon dress with matching accessories. She carried roses of the same shade.

Mrs. Mahn chose a mint green sheath with a matching lace coat and hat to match.

The reception was held following the wedding ceremony at the U.A.W. Hall in Wixom. The couple traveled to the Pocomo Mountains and New York City for their honeymoon. They concluded their trip with a stop in Minneapolis where they were honored by a reception at the home of the bridegroom.

The bride is a graduate of Western Michigan university and the bridegroom will be continuing his education at Wayne State university while also working as youth director at Nazareth Lutheran church in Detroit.

The couple plan to reside in Detroit.

Planning Style Show

Local area members of the Tri-County Osteopathic Hospital auxiliaries are busy preparing lending their support for the group's third annual High Fashions for Higher Education style show slated for the Latin Quarter on Tuesday, October 3.

Co-chairmen of the event, Mrs. Christopher Mazure of Bloomfield Hills and Mrs. Gary Schirs of Mt. Clemens, explain that proceeds will benefit the Michigan Osteopathic College Foundation Fund.

Mrs. Gordie Howe, wife of the Red Wing star, continues her support of the benefit by serving as honorary chairman for the third year.

A Plymouth resident, Mrs. F. M. Sutherland, is in charge of decorations. Other local participants include Mrs. Donald Lane of Northville, Mrs. Lyle Feltig of Novi, and Mrs. W. C. Herbolt, Dr. Theresa Klucka, and Mrs. William Ross, all of Plymouth.

His case came to trial September 9, at which time he was found guilty and he paid a $25 fine.

Earl James Wise of Inkster was arraigned September 9 on the same charge. He pleaded guilty and was committed to the Detroit House of Correction for 10 days.

A $25 fine was levied against George Gary Quick of Detroit after he pleaded guilty to careless driving at his arraignment September 13.

Donald James Patterson of 324 Yerkes was arraigned September 6 on the same charge and pleaded not guilty. A verdict of guilty was delivered at his trial September 12 and a fine of $35 was issued.

Driving under the influence of alcohol was charged against Donald Allen McCalder of 46162 Sunset on August 8. He pleaded not guilty to the charge at arraignment August 9.

At his trial September 6 the original charge was dismissed and a count of reckless driving substituted. The defendant pleaded guilty to this charge and paid a $75 fine.

Other traffic violations included the charge of speeding 55 in a 35 zone levied against James David Moringstar of 51992 Pontiac Trail, Wixom.

He entered a plea of guilty at arraignment September 6 and was issued a $25 fine.

Benjamin James Simms of South Lyon was charged August 20 with allowing an unlicensed person to operate a motor vehicle. He paid a $30 fine after pleading guilty at arraignment.

For failing to heed a traffic signal, Barbara Ann Vasus of Farmington was arraigned September 9. She pleaded guilty and was charged a $25 fine.

Janis Beryl Brunley of 22 Woodland Place paid a $25 fine after pleading guilty upon arraignment September 12 to a charge of failing to yield the right-of-way causing a property damage accident.

For speeding 45 in a 25 zone, James Jay Zaytl of 43555 Six Mile road was issued a $25 fine at his arraignment September 12.

Two cases of violating the city curfew July 26 were heard in court September 6. James Gerald Schmitz of 411 Horton was arraigned on that charge August 8, at which time he pleaded innocent.

At his trial September 6, he was found guilty and paid a $20 fine and $2 costs.

Edmond Dale Dick of Detroit was arraigned September 6 on the same charge. He pleaded guilty. A fine was suspended, but he paid $20 costs.

Numerous cases of disorderly and drunken persons were also heard. James Loudon Heller of Plymouth pleaded guilty at his arraignment September 6 to being drunk and disorderly August 29. He paid $44 fine and costs.

The trial of William Robert Hukill on drunk and disorderly charges was heard September 6. He changed his plea of innocent, entered during his arraignment August 22, to a plea of guilty and paid $25 costs.

The same charges were issued against Lewis Max Coe Jr. of 151 East Cady September 7. He was arraigned the same day. He paid $33 fine and costs after pleading guilty.

Terrell Alan Palmer of Livonia was arraigned September 12 and pleaded guilty to a charge of being drunk and disorderly August 29. He paid $44 for costs and fine.

Two counts were levied against Steven Clark Probst of Detroit and Lewis Burl Brown of Peebles, Ohio on July 7. They were charged with being disorderly persons and with being disorderly in a manner which disturbed the peace.

Both were arraigned July 18, and entered pleas of innocent.

The charges against Probst were both tried September 12. The count of being disorderly was dismissed, but he was found guilty of disturbing the peace and paid $35 fine and costs.

Brown was tried September 6 on the charge of disturbing the peace. He changed his plea to guilty and paid $25 costs. The fine was suspended.

Three youths were arraigned September 6 for being minors in possession of beer: Mark James Chard of Farmington and Gary Payton of Livonia, both 19, were arrested September 1 at Sheldon road and Seven Mile.

They both pleaded guilty. Their fines were suspended, but they each paid $25 costs.

David Dantel Schmidt of 20117 Woodhill, 20, was charged August 29 at Clement road and Eight Mile. He pleaded guilty at arraignment and paid $25 costs, with the fine being suspended.

HONORS - Second Class Petty Officer Jay Leavenworth of Northville, whose wife and two daughters are living in Japan, recently was awarded his aircrew wings.

An eighth-year serviceman, Petty Officer Leavenworth has won several combat medals in 39 missions over Vietnam. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. J. Bine Leavenworth of 588 Randolph.

TRUCK VANDALISM - Twelve brand new trucks awaiting installation of bodies at the U-Haul assembly plant on Seeley road in Novi were driven from the parking lot by five juveniles, smashed into trees and driven through a nearby swamp. Detective Sergeant Richard Faulkner estimated damage at $5,000.

Beating Victim Faces Possible Paralysis

A court examination is slated today for a 25-year-old man charged with beating a youth so severely that he may suffer permanent paralysis.

Edward Noble of Athol, Kentucky will appear for hearing in Novi justice court today following his arraignment Monday before Justice of Peace Robert K. Anderson on a charge of felonious assault with intent to do great bodily harm less than murder.

Meanwhile, in St. Joseph Hospital in Pontiac with a brain concussion that, according to doctors, may result in temporary or permanent paralysis is Jack Overbee, 20, of Walled Lake.

According to Novi Officer Warren Thrushman, who investigated the case, Overbee from his hospital bed said Noble beat him with a baseball bat for apparently no reason while the two young men were in the bunkhouse Saturday at the Apple Crest Farms, 40100 Eight Mile road. They worked at the farm, Thrushman said. Investigation disclosed that the two men had been drinking earlier in the day.

According to Thrushman, Overbee was struck on the head seven times, once on each shoulder, once on the back and once on a knee. He told the officer that he lost consciousness for approximately an hour, and later could not get co-workers to take him to the hospital. He finally had to "hire" someone to take him home from where his sister took him to the hospital.

The Oakland county prosecutor's office issued a warrant and Thrushman made the arrest. The assault was first brought to the attention of Novi police by a nurse at St. Joseph.

Thieves Try To Enter Home

An attempted breaking and entering of an upstairs apartment at 113 East Main took place September 8, according to the Northville police department.

Ann McKenna told police someone attempted to enter her apartment through a bathroom window while she was at work.

The window screen and frame were bent. Several pieces of grass and dirt were found on a rug within the room, and several items were lying on the floor.

A tree outside the window is believed to have been used to reach the window. Several freshly broken branches were found nearby.

INVITATION TO BID City of Wixom

Sealed bids on one snow plow for F800 Ford dump truck will be received by the deputy city clerk, Wixom City Hall, 49045 Pontiac Trail up to 8 P.M. Tuesday, Sept. 26, 1967. The council reserves the right to reject any and all bids and to accept the bid that in the opinion of the council is in the best interest of the city.

Minutes of the Northville Board of Education

Minutes of the Regular Meeting August 7, 1967.

The meeting was called to order by President Eugene Cook at 7:32 p.m. in the Library of the Junior High School Building.

Members present: Mr. Eugene Cook, President; Mr. Stanley Johnston, Vice President; Mr. Glenn E. Deibert, Secretary; Mr. Richard Martin, Treasurer; Mr. Robert Froelich, Trustee; Mr. James Kipfer, Trustee; Mr. Andrew Orphan, Trustee.

Others present: Mr. Raymond Spear, Acting Superintendent, Mr. Earl Busard, Business Manager.

Visitors Present: L. K. Edgerton, Kathleen Edgerton, Carol Forrer, Glad Evans.

The president declared that a quorum was present and directed the board to proceed with the regular order of business.

Motion No. 37 by Mr. Johnston, supported by Mr. Kipfer, that the agenda be adopted as amended. Motion carried.

Motion No. 38 by Mr. Deibert, supported by Mr. Johnston, that the Minutes of July 10, 1967, July 20, 1967 and July 24, 1967, be approved as published. Motion carried.

Secretary Deibert read a Notice to property owners from the Board of Wayne County Road Commissioners, signed by William LaGosh, Engineer of Streets, concerning the postponement of the hearing on the petition for paving of Bradner Road from Six Mile road to Five Mile road, via relocation; said hearing originally scheduled for July 24, 1967, to be held on August 7, 1967, for the purpose of hearing objections to the proposed improvement. The Board of Education questioned whether the school district can be forced to pay a special assessment without their consent when proposed improvements are levied against it. Acting Superintendent Spear indicated he would check into this aspect of the situation and report his findings to the board at the next meeting.

Secretary Deibert read a letter from Mrs. Beatrice Ellis, who has been on maternity leave, indicating her intention to resign from her teaching position in Northville.

Secretary Deibert read a letter from Mr. Joel L. Piell of Miller, Canfield, Paddock and Stone, attorneys, which offered suggested conditions for an easement agreement with Thompson-Brown company for installation of a temporary walkway to the new Junior High school from the east side. The letter stated two provisions to be inserted into the agreement by Thompson-Brown relative to entry upon school property to accomplish future grading, and the fact that the walkway will automatically be extinguished when the road-way is dedicated to public purposes by Thompson-Brown. Mr. Busard, Business Manager, pointed out that when the agreement is drafted, we should seek a stipulation whereby a walkway would be maintained between the time of "dedication" of the road-way and the actual construction of same.

Secretary Deibert read a letter from Mr. Robert Carey of Thompson-Brown Company in response to one from Mr. Spear, reviewing chronologically the circumstances surrounding the Board's consideration of the 10-acre parcel on Bradner road as a potential school site. In essence, Mr. Carey further explained that he did not concur with a suggestion that the cost of the 10-acre site be incorporated into the developer's asking price to home owners but, instead, felt the $50,000 quoted last October was supported by the Board-initiated appraisal and substantially lower than what would be quoted today. Mr. Cook cited the desirability for a Board-citizens committee to conduct a long-range study of school site needs.

Northville Board of Education Minutes

Mr. Spear recommended -- in view of the already prolonged consideration of this particular site -- that the board take some positive action to either accept or reject the Thompson-Brown offer to sell.

Motion No. 39 by Mr. Kipfer, supported by Mr. Martin, that the feasibility of an option agreement for the 10-acre Bradner Road site be explored, with the provisos of a guaranteed price, including water and sewer to site, and an annual renewal clause at no penalty to the School District. Motion carried, with Mr. Orphan abstaining.

Motion No. 40 by Mr. Kipfer, supported by Mr. Martin, that the resignation of Mrs. Beatrice Ellis be accepted, and that a letter of appreciation be sent to her. Motion carried.

Motion No. 41 by Mr. Johnston, supported by Mr. Kipfer, that teaching contracts be approved for Mrs. Muriel Ross, Mr. Robert Benson, and Miss Sandra Finn. Motion carried, with Mr. Froelich and Mr. Martin abstaining.

Discussion was opened involving a re-evaluation of the need for a special millage election on August 28, 1967. It was pointed out that recent legislative action which increased State Aid to the Northville Public Schools District by approximately $30,000 precludes the necessity for a special election at this time.

Motion No. 42 by Mr. Orphan, supported by Mr. Froelich, that a resolution rescinding the previous resolution calling for a special millage election on August 28, 1967, be adopted. Motion carried. (Appendix I to these minutes)

Acting Superintendent Spear informed the board of a joint convention of the Michigan Association of School Administrators and the Michigan Association of School Boards to be held at Cobo Hall on September 19, 20, and 21, 1967. President Cook appointed Mr. Froelich visiting delegate to the convention and Mr. Johnston as alternate. Mr. Spear was requested to make arrangements for the two delegates to attend. Mr. Cook suggested that it would also be desirable for all board members to attend the convention at some time on one or more of the specified dates.

A discussion of a lunch hour situation, which has developed as a result of students no longer being bussed to the Amerman school, centered around three lunch hour alternatives presented by Mr. Spear as follows: 1) a policy stating that Amerman School walkers will not be permitted to eat lunch at school; 2) a policy stating that walkers may eat lunch at school but will be charged a weekly fee of x dollars to pay for the noon supervisor; 3) no policy -- allowing our past practice to continue and hire a noon supervisor from General Fund monies. These alternatives were suggested as possible solutions to anticipated problems evolving from the elimination of a mandatory regular lunch hour program and noon supervision at the Amerman school. In response to an inquiry from Mr. Spear, a letter from Mr. Stratton Brown, board attorney, offered legal backing for a suggested policy of permitting walkers to eat lunch at school for a nominal fee to the parents to defray the cost of employing a noon hour supervisor. Mr. Spear was directed to survey the extent of need for Amerman School walkers to remain at school during the lunch hour, as well as parental reaction to payment of a fee, and establish a suitable policy. The board indicated that such a "policy of accommodation," if feasible, would be acceptable to the board as a general policy for all elementary schools which might be confronted with an identical situation in the future.

Mr. Orphan and Mr. Johnston, the Board committee appointed for the purpose of recommending an appropriate name for the new Junior High School, reported that only three suggested names for the new Junior High school had been submitted thus far. They further reported that the committee was not ready to recommend a name and expressed a desire to extend this project until after the opening of school, at which time a contest might be conducted among the student body to solicit more suggested names.

The preliminary version of the Final Budget Report for 1966-67 was reviewed.

Motion No. 43 by Mr. Kipfer, supported by Mr. Johnston, that the preliminary Final Budget Report for 1966-67 be accepted as presented. Motion carried.

Mr. Busard reported that after an evaluation of the maintenance and general care provided by the Northville Teen club and similar provisions offered by Schoolcraft College, it was his judgment that contract arrangements could be entered into with these groups, at no additional cost to the District, for use of the Junior High Boys' Gym.

Motion No. 45 by Mr. Orphan, supported by Mr. Froelich, that the Administration be instructed to negotiate contracts with the Northville teen club, Schoolcraft college, and any other organization within the framework of board policy, for use of the Junior High Boys' gym during the 1967-68 school year. A. Make necessary renovations to convert the basement level to central receiving, storage and maintenance department.

The board briefly reviewed priority items approved for allocation of Building and Site monies on July 24, 1967. It was suggested that in allocating the balance of Building and Site monies, the Administration be given latitude with respect to time as well as money in proceeding with priorities in the remaining classifications of the subcommittee's recommendations.

Motion No. 48 by Mr. Johnston, supported by Mr. Froelich, that the Superintendent be authorized to expend monies from the Building and Site Fund for Priority C Items (Complementary instructional needs -- Items which are significantly important to the maintaining of a well-rounded curriculum.)

Motion No. 47 by Mr. Johnston, supported by Mr. Martin, that the Administration be authorized to proceed with drawings and plans for remodeling the present Junior High school building in accordance with the recommendations listed below as previously submitted by Mr. Spear for utilization of this building:

A. Make necessary renovations to convert the basement level to central receiving, storage and maintenance department.

B. Remodel first level for elementary classroom use: library, music, art, and other special service programs.

C. Remodel the top floor for central administration use, Board office, and special services office area.

Motion carried.

President Cook called a short recess at 10:05 p.m. Meeting reconvened at 10:15 p.m.

Acting Superintendent Spear informed the board that his latest report from the Architect and General Contractor indicated that the new Junior High school would be ready for occupancy on September 5, 1967. However, Mr. Spear expressed reservations on the certainty of the building's readiness by September 5 and invited a plan of direction from the board should his concern become a reality. In keeping with an anticipated possible delay in the opening of the new Junior High school Mr. Cook requested the Administration to evaluate various courses of action which might be taken in the interim and submit recommendations to the board at the next meeting on August 28, 1967.

In accord with his declared intent at the July 24, 1967 Board meeting, President Cook appointed the following committees:

1. Administrative Personnel/Salary Committee -- Mr. Froelich, chairman; Mr. Orphan and Mr. Martin -- to study all administrative and central office personnel job specifications and salary schedules.

2. Extra-curricular Activities Committee -- Mr. Kipfer, chairman; Mr. Johnston and Mr. Deibert -- to study the extra-curricular program, the extent of participation and the degree of emphasis placed on administration and operation.

President Eugene Cook and Acting Superintendent Raymond Spear will act as ex-officio members of both committees.

Both committees so appointed were directed to submit preliminary reports to the board at the second meeting in October.

Explosive 'Homecoming' in Works

FOOTBALL MINERS - Digging hard for a winning Northville eleven in an ore rich in defensive talent and sparkling backfield hopefuls, Head Coach Alex Kluckach (center) and his assistants, Ralph Redmond (left) and Dick Willing are aiming for an early strike Friday when Northville opens its 1967 season here against the diamond-hard Rocks of Plymouth.

It'll be an "interesting" homecoming for Plymouth's new head coach when he and his varsity eleven invade Northville tomorrow for the annual football classic.

That's how Tom Moshimer sees tomorrow's opener in a community where he was raised and against his high school alma mater.

But Moshimer doesn't expect the welcoming mat - except possibly from his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Bert Moshimer, who live at 355 East Baseline - in view of last year's Plymouth triumph.

With only two regulars back this year, Moshimer has his fingers crossed in hopes of continuing the fantastic win-loss record he notched while coaching at Dundee. "I can't really tell (his team's strength) until we see what the opposition looks like," said the Plymouth coach as his squad warmed to a playing pitch.

Moshimer, who graduated from Northville high school in 1952 after four years of football here, was named to the head coaching job at Plymouth following eight years at Dundee where he compiled a 44-21-3 record, including the school's recent stretch of 35 victories without a loss.

In those eight years at Dundee, his football team garnered four league championships making him one of the most successful coaches in the state. Moshimer, who received his degree at Michigan State university where he spent two years as an assistant freshman coach before moving to Dundee.

"We're carrying about 38 players," he said, including only two regulars from last year's team. They are Mike Waller, a 175-pound center, and Captain Tom Elias, a 187-pound senior halfback. Several others, however, saw "some action" last year, he added.

Working a multiple offense, Moshimer will start Mike Cederburg at quarterback. It'll include "a little" of the Wing-T formation. With Cederburg, a 5-11 senior, in the backfield will be 145-pound Dick Dyer at fullback, Elias at one half and either Steve Montgomery or Terry Wagenschutz at the other half.

Sharing starting positions on the line with Waller will be Larry Olson and either Larry Olson or Martin Rossow at the guards, Jeff Adams and Dave Hale at the ends, and Rick Neale and possibly John Campbell at Tackles.

Assisting Moshimer in the coaching department are Paul Cummings, line, Frank Fisher, back, and Pat Montagano, end.

Moshimer is married, and he and his wife, Connie, and their two sons, Duncan, 3 1/2, and Mike, 2, are living in Plymouth.

Wixom's Tom Burke Smothers Brother

Rivalry in the Burke family took a twist recently as Tom Burke's Wixom mens softball squad defeated his brother Joe's Walled Lake team in the post-season playoffs.

Brother Joe claimed the upper hand in regular season activities as Penny Manufacturing swept to the league championship. But in the playoffs, it was Tom and his Wixom diamond giants who took top honors.

Penny opened up with an 8-5 victory at Walled Lake, while Wixom nipped the Walled Lake rivals the next day, 9-8, and then came back to claim the post-season title, 11-10.

Wixom had to battle to the wire in clinching the final victory, however. With his squad out front by one run going into the final inning, Tom, who doubles as player-coach and as the city's recreation director as well, was on the mound. The first two outs came relatively easy. Then Joe came to the plate and laced Tom's pitch for a sizzling single. The next batter fled out, however, ending the threat.

Three Wixom players came up with homers, including John Fawcett, Terry Jadzinski, and Fred Waara.

With the final out, members of the nine-team league are now looking forward to the league banquet to be held September 30 at the DAW Hall in Wixom. Tickets for the 8 p.m. event are being sold by the team managers.

Novi Church To Get Help

Miss Marie Shelly has been named parish worker at the Willowbrook Community United Methodist church, 41671 West Ten Mile road, Novi (as a result of recent Annual Conference voting of the two denominations, The Evangelical United Brethren Church and The Methodist church will be formally merged as The United Methodist Church this coming April, 1968).

The new parish worker has worked with the Mission Board of the Michigan Conference of the Evangelical United Brethren Church for 17 years. She has worked in churches in Detroit, Grand Rapids, and Ann Arbor. Prior to her assignment here she worked for two years as a parish worker with the Faith Evangelical United Brethren church in Lansing.

Miss Shelly's work will include making a survey of the community and working in the church. During her stay at the Willowbrook Church she is living in the local community. Her own home is in Detroit.

Several Thefts Hit Northville

Several thefts were reported to the Northville police department this past week. Two occurred at Northville high school.

Martin Cayley told police a drive chain had been stolen from a 1967 Honda belonging to his son, Patrick. It had been parked in the school parking lot September 5.

James Sanders reported a Hamilton, 17 jewel wrist watch, valued at $125, stolen from his locker in the boys' gym locker room while he was at football practice.

A tricycle was stolen from the backyard of Harry Jackson of 876 Allen drive in the Village Green subdivision on September 5. Jackson said he found the bike missing when he returned from work that evening.

After searching the surrounding area, he found the bike lying in a creek behind the subdivision. He says the tricycle was completely demolished.

Another bike, a 24" boys' bicycle, was reported stolen by Ray Southers of 405 Horton street September 9.

He said the bike was parked in his yard, but wasn't locked. It disappeared sometime Friday evening or early Saturday morning.

A 15-year-old Farmington runaway is being sought by Novi police for purchasing a truck with a forged $125 check.

Johnnie Williams of 1915 Austin Drive reported the check, which was reported stolen from the boy's father.

NOVI MENTORS - Head Coach John Osborne and his sidekick, Milan Obrenovich, have their fingers crossed as the Wildcats prepare for tomorrow's season opener against Boysville at Tecumseh. Junior varsity Coach Fred Hanert, who pits his eleven against Milan on Saturday, joins Osborne and Obrenovich in coaching the varsity squad.

Help! Prom Can't Do It By Himself

With plans in the making for establishment of touch football and shooting programs, Recreation Director Robert Prom issued a plea for volunteer help this week.

Volunteers are needed to officiate football games - both for adults and another for boys. The shooting program, still only in the preliminary planning stage, would involve the safe means of using air rifles and 22-caliber rifles.

Prom proposes to establish a touch football program for adults and another for boys. The shooting program, still only in the preliminary planning stage, would involve the safe means of using air rifles and 22-caliber rifles.

Persons wishing to volunteer for any of these programs are urged to contact Prom at 349-2287.

Wanted: More Men For Jaycees

An orientation meeting for any men interested in learning more about the local Jaycees will be held Tuesday, September 19 at 8 p.m. in the Northville Junior High school library. Wives are encouraged to accompany their husbands.

Orchard Hills Plans Revival Services Here

The Orchard Hills Baptist church, on Novi road north of Nine Mile, will be engaged in Revival services for eight days beginning this Sunday. This will be their first such meeting since moving into their new building.

Rev. Willard Martin will be the evangelist. He is an Area Missionary in the southeastern part of Michigan. He is also serving as an interim-pastor in Dundee, Michigan. Mr. Martin is the former pastor of the Livonia Baptist church.

Mr. Bill Valade, Music Director of the Orchard Hills Baptist church, will be in charge of the music. Mrs. Valade will be assisting him at the piano and Mr. Ken Scheuer, church organist, will be at the organ.

Child care will be provided for all those in attendance, according to the pastor, Fred Trachsel.

The evening services will commence at 7:30 and the public is cordially invited to attend.

LOOSE GOOSE - Mrs. Jack S. Lambath of 41089 Malott drive in Novi heard a knocking on her door Monday. She answered it, but no one was there. Another knock. This time she screamed. Peeking on the door, obviously wanting in, was a wild Canada goose. Refused entry the goose walked about the Lambaths carport until a neighbor came to the housewife's rescue. Together they "shooed" him into the garage and called Nov. Officer Dale Gross, who in turn called in Hartley Thornton, naturalist of the Proud Lake Recreation area, who took him back to a more natural habitat. Where did he come from? A neighbor lady was consulted but the officer received an indignant stare when he asked if she owned the loose goose. His search stopped, naturally, but the mystery goes on.

and gasoline engine and $4,000 to build a spacious cabin and outfit it with all the conveniences of a home. Today, insurance companies value her at more than $15,000, while Mark, remembering the work that went into her, places the value up there among the "ships" that started him dreaming.

Cost was not as difficult to swallow as was the painstakingly slow building process, says Mark. On the road continually, he had only a precious few hours each Sunday to swing a hammer or use a saw. So for three years, the boat stood in drydock, only gradually changing color, size and shape.

"My sons (Mark and Robert) were a big help," says Mark. "Without them or my wife, I'd never have made it." Yet, he recalls that even the enthusiasm of his boys dwindled as the months passed and the boat remained on land. "When you have a boat that can float but remains out of water," he explains, "it's hard to maintain initial excitement. It was hard for all of us. Now, it's different; everyone's got plenty of enthusiasm again."

The hull of the Ziguener, christened by Mark's wife, Marcy, who also decorated the interior, is 40 feet long. The interior of the one-deck cabin is 26 1/2 feet long, 12 feet wide, and 6 feet, 8 inches high. It is fitted out with a kitchen that includes sink and running water, a propane gas stove and refrigerator, a bathroom with sink and chlorine toilet, a specially built davenport-bed for two, four berths, table and chairs.

Indoor-outdoor carpeting stretches the full length of the interior, and aluminum - screened windows grace both sides of the cabin. Two of the windows open outward for easy exit in case of an emergency.

Powered by a 165-horsepower Nordberg engine, the Ziguener (the name is German for Gypsy) swings a 26 x 22 inch propeller, cruises at 12 miles per hour and has a top speed of 15 MPH.

Sides of the lengthy cabin are of aluminum, the top of vinyl. It is equipped with depth sounder, fuel detector, tachometer, radio phone, and AM-FM radio.

Despite the addition of the large enclosed cabin and the interior furnishings, the boat draws only a quarter-inch more water, says the proud builder and owner.

For those who may have visions of a similar boat, Mark offers this encouragement: "It took us quite a while, but it wasn't difficult to build and it's relatively inexpensive. Oh, I guess you could say building the cabinets above the kitchen sink presented a little problem. But we solved that one by buying cabinets with my wife's grocery stamps."

As for insurance and docking, Mark is finding these less costly than owning a vacation cottage. "And we aren't tied down to the same place as would be with a cottage," he adds.

Was the investment and three long years worth it?

The twinkle in his eye and the pleasant hum of the Ziguener's engine are answer enough.

ONLY AN APPRENTICE - Mark Gredell is the proud builder and owner of a sleek house cruiser but he's admittedly only an apprentice captain learning how to operate the 40-foot boat.

No Lockers, But Opening Seen

A supplier has tossed a wrench into administrative machinery for opening the new junior high school on September 25 - but, alas, the gears are still working.

Despite the unavailability of new lockers, Acting Superintendent Raymond Spear indicated Monday that it still appears the new facility will be ready for occupancy within two weeks.

In his report to the board of education, Spear said that Interior Steel company, after promising delivery of lockers by September 1, informed him last week that the lockers will not be ready until mid-November. He said the company failed to notify the school or the architect earlier of a late delivery, and has refused to assist in installing temporary hangers in the school as a stop-gap measure.

"My first inclination," said Spear, "was to cancel the order." But this step, he explained, would mean placing a new order that probably could not be filled before June of next year.

The locker contract, it was explained, carried no penalty clause.

All other equipment is either in the school now or "on its way," officials noted, adding that work was begun this week on the sanitary sewer line from Eight Mile road to the new school. Pouring of the gymnasium floor was begun last week and this room is expected to be completed, too, by the September 25 date.

If the board of education goes along with its committee recommendation, the new junior high school will carry the official name of "Northville Junior High School."

The two-member committee, including Stanley Johnston and Andrew Orphan, recommended the name at Monday's meeting after a lengthy search for "something appropriate."

The recommendation also suggests that a plaque bearing the name of Ida B. Cooke be prepared and installed in the new school in time for the dedication. Petitions with signatures of more than 250 names had urged the board to name the school after Mrs. Cooke, who retired from teaching here after many years in the system.

Earlier, however, the board had encouraged public suggestions, noting that names of people should not be submitted. Geographic identification or some other less personal name was preferred.

In addition to the petitions suggesting the "Cooke" name, citizens - including students - suggested between 50 to 75 other names, the committee reported. After weighing all of them, Johnston said it was decided to recommend the simple but appropriate "Northville junior high school" - the same name the present school carries.

Asked what the next junior high school might be called, Johnston said he'd wait until such a school materialized before making another consideration. Besides, he added in a breath of exasperation, he wants no part in naming the next school.

GIVE ME AN "N"—With both Northville and Novi opening their 1967 football seasons tomorrow, some of the most enthusiastic participants will be on the sidelines. Nine-year-old Mary Andrews daughter of Rev. and Mrs. James Andrews of 51630 Eight Mile road, who gets in a little pre-game practice here, will have plenty to cheer about tomorrow when the Mustangs open up against Plymouth. Her brother, Joe, will be starting at quarterback. Joining her in his cheering section will be six other brothers and two sisters. Novi meets Boysville in its opener.

from the PASTOR'S STUDY

Rev. Charles F. Boerger
St. Paul's Lutheran, Northville

When Mao Tse-Tung, head of the Chinese Communist Party, was a young man, he attended a Christian Mission School, where he learned to know the Savior, Jesus Christ, from the lips of a Christian Missionary.

Several years after graduation from the school Mao Tse-Tung heard that his beloved teacher was visiting the city. He hurried to the hotel to meet him. There he was rudely refused admission by the doorman. He pushed on past into the lobby, where he asked to see the missionary.

"Get out!" cried the desk clerk of this "Western" hotel. When Mao Tse-Tung persisted in his desire, the desk clerk replied, "We don't allow any Chinese in here!" With that he picked up the rather slight young Chinese and threw him out of the hotel bodily.

Mao Tse-Tung never forgot the incident. To him this Westerner represented Christianity, Western civilization and Capitalism. All China and the whole world today may be experiencing repercussions from that experience.

If you have rejected Christ's invitation, "Come unto Me, all ye that labor and are heavy-laden, and I will give you rest," because of some unhappy experience with a person, won't you listen to His invitation today? Jesus says, "Him that cometh unto me I will in no wise cast out."

Similarly many people today who are outside the kingdom of God do not distinguish between hypocrites and genuine Christians. They have perhaps had some unpleasant experiences in the church. Because it is made up of sinful human beings who have not overcome all their weaknesses through the power of Christ, the unbeliever generalizes and says that the whole church is a bunch of phony hypocrites. He will have nothing to do with them. But he is only cutting himself off from the grace of God in Jesus Christ.

Methodists to Vote On New Church Plans

Members of the First Methodist Church of Northville will vote Sunday on proposed plans of a new church and educational unit.

The church conference will be held at 3 p.m., with the Rev. Joseph Edwards of the Ann Arbor district presiding.

According to the Rev. S. D. Kinde, pastor, the plans call for two basic units — the church proper and an educational wing separated by a hall that will double as a library.

The educational unit will include staff offices, church school classrooms, fellowship and dining hall, kitchen and heating plant. The new church will seat approximately 450 persons, opposed to 250 in the present building.

To cost between $400,000 and $500,000, the brick and stone structure will be built on a five acre site on the south side of Eight Mile road at Taft. Plans for the modern-type building have already been approved by the Ann Arbor District Board on Church Location of the Methodist church.

Architect for the proposed new building is William P. Lindhout of Livonia. Ralph Gallagher is the building chairman, filling the post formerly held by the late Oscar Hammond.

TAKE ME, DADDY

Little arms reach up. I stoop and lift the precious weight of baby son into my arms and smell his sweetness. Prayers of praise and thanks fill my heart.

Cuddling him close, I remember the night of his birth when Mary and I were told that our baby could not live until daybreak. How we prayed in those early morning hours, holding hands and clinging fast to our belief that God in His goodness would spare our son. How grateful we were for the courage and strength God's love and nearness supplied. How glad we were for the Church where we had learned to love and worship the God who gives us all life.

Do you wonder that Sunday morning finds us both in church joyfully worshipping and giving thanks to God?

Attend the church of your choice. Whatever your need, it stands ready to help.

In C. Harold Bloom Home Mason's Handiwork Survives

EDITOR'S NOTE: Following is the second of a series of articles on the five Vintage Homes which will be visited Thursday, October 5 during a tour sponsored by the Women's Association of the Northville Presbyterian Church.

From top to bottom, inside and out the beauty of the late Nineteenth Century home of the C. Harold Blooms fires the imagination and sends it hurdling back over the years to the man who built it.

Perched majestically at the top of the rolling lawn at 710 West Main street, the stone-frame home is the handiwork of James A. Beattie who built it in 1890. The craftsmanship of this Northville mason, grandfather of the present owner, is immediately recognized in the still solid stonework that encases the rambling porch and the foundation.

Its graceful pillars still possess their original strength and beauty, enhancing yet the spacious porch that made outdoor relaxation so popular in years past.

Entering the front door, the visitor is greeted by a floor-to-ceiling hall mirror, framed in the grand style of the 19th Century. The mirror was owned by the Beattie family in Detroit, where the women were dressmakers for old families such as the McMillans, Algiers, etc.

Vintage House Tour

A sliding door to the right leads to what is now the library, still possessing some of its original, handsome wood-work. Forward, up a few steps to the stairway landing, two beautiful stained glass windows lead the visitor back down into the living room exquisitely furnished with antiques. At either end of the living room, which now occupies the full width of the home, two elegant half-moon windows look out over the grounds.

The sofas and davenports in the living room were part of the house when it first welcomed visitors, and decorating the library is a banquet lamp, forerunner of the floor lamp, and a cherry table, purchased by the original owners at the time of their marriage for a second-hand price of 25-cents.

Adding a touch of the past in the modern kitchen is a chest made by the father of Mrs. Beatie for her wedding present. It features seven kinds of wood.

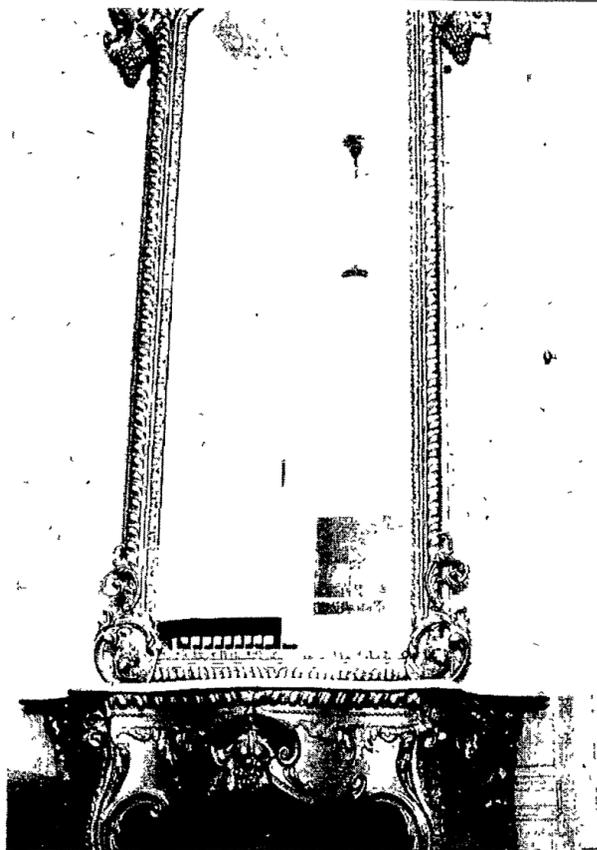

Three bedrooms occupy the second floor, one the large master bedroom featuring a warm sitting room or study for Mrs. Bloom. It, like the other two bedrooms, is tastefully decorated, blending new with the old.

The third, or attic floor has been partially finished, housing a maid's bedroom and a large den that includes heavy built-ins and a magnificent but worn cornice shelf. Originally, this third floor was important more for its height than its living quarters. For it was here that water was piped from a spring nearby and stored in a tank to maintain water pressure.

A special treat is in store for those who tour the Bloom home next month because the attic room itself, together with its dusty but fascinating contents, will be open for viewing.

School Counselors To Get Spotlight

Packed in their day's work are displays of permissiveness, authority, salesmanship, amazement, excitement, joy and happiness.

That's because the job of the school counselor is an emotional one, selling society on the teenager with positiveness and in turn selling the teenager on society.

To spotlight the importance of this task, the Oakland Area Counselors Association (OACA) is observing a Counselor Week from September 24-30 in an effort to aid in public understanding of counselor services.

Specific attention will be called to the 350 school counselors in Oakland county 120,000 students on the secondary level - including those of this area.

"It is believed that the support of an informed public will add significantly to each counselor's effectiveness as he attempts to bring about guidance services to the students assigned to him," says Dr. Robert Williams, director of guidance and measurements and advisor of OACA. In Oakland county, he notes, most counselors' student assignment is 300 to 400 students.

Adds Virginia Yansen, OACA chairman:

"Our public image is important and we cannot take it for granted. We need to promote a general awareness on the public of our various services available for youth and their parents. Therefore, we encourage all people to become informed of our unique role in the total school program by participating in the Counselor Week activities and by viewing the educational displays presented throughout the county."

According to the Novl counselors, describing the counselor's job in terms of things a counselor does would be "a sham. It is rather like describing the vocation of homemaking as a list of duties. A mother does washing, ironing, mending, cleaning, etc., but what is more important, a mother cares and loves.

"It is necessary that the counselor functions with empathy and not merely as an official with a job to do. Also, it is necessary for the counselor to be able to adapt his methods and techniques to meet the needs of the individual... The method with which a counselor expresses his care for people must be flexible. The fact that he cares about people is essential."

A counselor must view public relations as an important part of his job, they explain. Assisting students and helping them to plan ahead and make decisions effectively leads naturally into this public relations project.

"Counseling is an exciting job because it is alive. Otherwise, it would be depressing because there is so much to be done."

News
Around Schoolcraft

The fall semester schedule for the Friday Night film series at Schoolcraft college has been announced by John Kyriacopoulos, director of the series.

The seven-film schedule will begin September 15 with "Gervaise," and will continue on alternate Fridays through December 15. No film will be shown on November 24, during the Thanksgiving holiday weekend.

The schedule: September 15, "Gervaise"; September 29, "Aparajito"; October 13, "My Uncle"; October 27, "The Loneliness of the Long Distance Runner"; November 10, "The Informer"; December 1, "Viridiana"; and December 15, "Red Desert."

Films will be shown in Room F-530, the amphitheater in the Forum building on the campus mall. Curtain time is 8:30 p.m. "Aparajito," "Viridiana," and "Red Desert," will also be shown at 3 p.m., Kyriacopoulos said. All foreign language films have English subtitles.

The Friday night series is open to the public without charge.

Maria Schell starts in "Gervaise," a French film based on Emile Zola's novel "L'Assommoir (The Dram Shop)" which was the forerunner of his "Nana."

The story is that of a poverty-stricken lame girl in Paris during the 19th century Second Empire. She is dragged down to the depths by a series of tragic incidents and the film ends on an equally tragic note.

Francoise Perier and Suz Delair are featured in the cast which was directed by Rene Clement.

All eight members of the Schoolcraft college board of trustees will attend the second annual meeting of the Michigan Association of Community College boards at Bay-de-Noe Community college on Friday and Saturday, September 29-30.

Trustees will join Schoolcraft President Dr. Eric J. Bradner at the two-day meeting at which Dr. Max Smith of Michigan State University, director, office of community college cooperation, and Dr. Harold Smith of the Upjohn Company, will be principal speakers.

Trustees designated Board Chairman Harold E. Fischer as its official delegate to the meeting, and named Mrs. John Moehle, as alternate. Fischer is president of the association which was organized last year.

Other Trustees who will attend the meeting are Paul Mutnick, board secretary; Clarke Oldenburg, treasurer; James W. Boswell, Sam Hudson, Dr. George Martin and William Secord.

McDonald Heads GOP Fund Drive

Mrs. Don Kory, Chairman of the 19th Congressional District Wayne Republican Committee (Livonia, Northville, Redford Twp.), has announced September 16 as the kick-off date to begin the annual Republican party fund drive in Wayne County. Congressman Jack McDonald, is Wayne county co-chairman of this event. McDonald explains that the need for success of such fund raising, especially in a non-election year, cannot be overemphasized. "Then the party can realistically plan for assisting candidates in time for election, building organization, operating headquarters, and developing positive programs," says McDonald.

The week following the kick-off date residents will be contacted by letter asking for help that can be given for the year ahead.

Directing the drive in Redford Township will be Lou Wilking, Dave Merriam in Livonia and A.T. Gillahan in Northville.

Contributions can be made out to the "United Republican Fund" and given to the precinct representative or mailed to the 19th Dist. headquarters at 15584 Beech Daly road, Detroit, 48239.

Tips from the STOP AND SHOP CHEF
Questions and Answers
What is cream of tartar and what effect does it have on ingredients with which it is combined?

Technically, cream of tartar is a purification of acid potassium tartrate. Combined with egg whites, its most frequent use, it stabilizes the whites after they are beaten, enabling them to retain the air. When cream of tartar is combined with egg whites for angel food cake, it makes for a lighter, whiter product.

EXPANDING—Rapidly increasing demand for its diamond tools prompted ground-breaking Friday for expansion of International Diamond Tool company, 21141 Novi road. The 4,300 square foot addition will nearly triple the size of the Northville industry, located here for nearly six years. According to the owner and operator, Marian Szczepanski, the superstructure of the addition should be completed before freezing weather, with interior work to continue throughout the winter. Looking over the plans for the two-story addition as workmen prepare the site adjacent to the present building is the owner, his wife and son, Victor.

Our Legislators Report

McDonald...

As a member of the Flood Control Subcommittee of the Public Works Committee I have just returned from a personal inspection of the stricken Alaskan flood area.

Although the news of the flood damage to Fairbanks made all the newspaper headlines, the Indian population of Alaska suffered as bad, if not worse damage to their homes and food supplies.

Our team of Committee observers concentrated primarily on the Indian villages of Neana and Minto on the Tanana River near Fairbanks. We were appalled by the damage we witnessed and alarmed at the stark prospects which the rapidly approaching Arctic winter presents.

Time is of the essence. Much work must be done before mid-September's onset of freezing weather and ice-locked streams if the Indians are to survive the coming winter.

The floods of August 14 and 15 submerged their homes, leaving many without shelter to face the bitter winter without the elemental necessities of survival. In addition, most of their hard-won stores of summer-caught fish were washed away by the tide.

I have recommended that the Indians be given the most liberal latitude toward the permissive taking of game through the coming winter. Their claim is not a sportsman's whim or a dilettante's diversion, but the basic need of self-preservation.

Meanwhile, the Army Engineers and the Office of Emergency Planning are struggling to restore the damaged motors of freezing apparatus and to permit the replenishing of sufficient food stuffs to sustain the population and their dog teams which are indispensable to their livelihood.

But the Alaskan Indian is no slacker. He's a hard worker and will endure the desolation and hardship of the ensuing winter with courage and determination to survive. We should do everything we can to help these brave people.

Esch...

Not many people may know the meaning of the word "eutrophication," but those concerned with the preservation of our Water-Winter Wonderland are well aware of its effects.

Technically, eutrophication is the process that a lake may go through naturally. It involves the assimilation of various materials into its water and the development of oxygen deficiencies which kill natural fish and wildlife. It has become quite apparent that man has speeded up eutrophication and shortened the lifespan of our lakes. This long word becomes another name for water pollution pertaining particularly to lakes.

We have heard a lot about river and large lake pollution, but what about America's 100,000 small lakes? A recent report published by the Committee on Government Operations entitled To Save America's Small Lakes, describes the serious threat they face and the need for concern and action. This is nothing new to the lake enthusiast but it does not seem to have aroused the great public interest that it deserves.

Lake pollution is caused by the discharge of industrial and municipal wastes of agricultural and urban runoff, septic tanks, and siltation and wastes from boats. Because a lake has relatively little motion, it has less capacity than a flowing stream to rid itself of wastes. As wastes increase, the normal aging process of a lake is stepped up and soon the lake begins to die. The result is a sharp blow to a lake's recreational uses. Swimming beaches and picnic areas close; fishing and boating decline and property values fall off.

All the causes are basically man made and man can correct them. Unfortunately not much has been done. In 1966, the Federal Water Pollution Control Administration devoted only $150,000 to eutrophication research. Although this is expected to reach $3 million by 1968, it will still be inadequate to cope with the problem effectively.

Employee Group Holds Convention

Grace Felker, Aileen Cole, M. M. Bryce, Charles McQuar, C. A. Rice and Eldin Whalen of Northville have been elected delegate to the 17,000 member Michigan State Employees Association's general assembly, which will meet Friday through Sunday, September 15, 16 and 17 in Grand Rapids for its 17th Annual Convention.

More than 350 delegates, representing 122 association chapters throughout the state will begin arriving in the Furniture City Thursday night for their meetings at the Pantlind Hotel.

MSEA President Larry Hildore, of Rockford, said the main order of business will be consideration of more than 80 resolutions which will shape association policy during the coming year. In addition, Hildore continued, "With the present chaotic situation existing in Michigan concerning strikes or withholding of services by public employees, it is certain that the association will recommend legislation which would require legal action to prevent such irresponsible acts on the part of public employees."

Hildore continued, "We cannot accept using school children of Michigan as pawns to be bantered about the bargaining table."

The highlight of the Convention will be an address, following the banquet on Saturday evening, by David Brinkley, nationally recognized television news commentator who will speak in the civic auditorium. The David Brinkley program also will be open to the general public.

Insurance, Realty Firms Mark Office Expansion

Conference anyone? There's plenty of room now at Northville Insurance and Northville Realty offices. Dentist offices have been converted into office area for the businesses. They're holding open house today, Friday and Saturday.

Northville Insurance and Northville Realty, both located at 160 East Main street, are holding "open house" today, Friday and Saturday to introduce their expanded office facilities to the public.

Kenneth Rathert, owner of Northville Insurance and proprietor of the building, and George Clark, Northville Realty owner, have issued an invitation to area residents, customers and fellow businessmen to stop in for refreshments and see their new offices.

The firms gained new office space and a conference area by moving the dentist offices, formerly occupied by Dr. Stanley DeVries, to the second floor. The new second-level dental offices will be taken over September 15 by Dr. Eugene L. Surmont. The law offices of Philip R. Ogilvie are also on the second floor.

The area for the insurance and real estate firms has been tripled by the remodeling. Private offices for Rathert and Clark, as well as a conference room and "closing office" have been installed in the rear of the building. Both firms still share front office reception space.

The Main street building was constructed in 1956 by L. M. Eaton and the late C. H. Bryan, original owners of Northville Realty. At that time Clark established the Northville Insurance company and purchased Northville Realty from Bryan and Eaton in October, 1964. In April, 1965 Rathert purchased the insurance businesses of Clark and Harold Church. In January, 1966 he purchased the building from Eaton.

Joining Rathert and Clark in greeting the public to their offices will be the staffs of the two firms: Doris Rathert and Ann Lang for Northville Insurance; and Sales Manager Stanley Johnston, L. M. Eaton, Kay Keegan and Betty Tam for Northville Realty.

Fully sponsored by business and industry, the activity is guided by executives with appropriate skills and experience.

But it's not all work. There are exciting contests and other opportunities to win honorary awards, scholarships, and travelships. During area-wide social functions, Achievers meet business leaders and personalities from the entertainment field. And a national conference at Indiana University offers a week of campus living.

Empty Chute Falls in Novi

A parachute minus a man floated to the ground in Novi last week Wednesday stirring up a one-day mystery.

Alerted by a call from a citizen, Novi police saw the chute floating over the village hall without a plane in sight. They followed it to Grand River where it fell into a pond near Saratoga Farms restaurant.

A "jump book" was discovered attached to the chute, showing that it had been used first in 1956 and last on September 3 - not counting Wednesday's mysterious jump, said Police Chief Lee BeGole.

Police called Metropolitan Airport where Air Force personnel said it had been accidentally pushed from a military plane flying over the village. The chute was described as a "caro carrying variety."

"FINE FAMILY LAUNDRY SERVICE FOR OVER 40 YEARS"

SPEAKING

for The Record

By BILL SLIGER

For reasons best known to themselves members of the Northville city council have hedged on the question of whether or not the city should declare its intention of joining the voluntary council of governments in Southeast Michigan.

Twice the city manager has recommended payment of the annual fee of approximately $200. On both occasions action has been postponed.

It's unlikely that the four dollars per week is the deterrent even though the council has just experienced its first red-ink year. An unfamiliarity with the proposal seems more probable.

Only Councilwoman Beatrice Carlson has openly expressed any anxiety, and she apparently likens the organization to a first-step of metropolitan government designed to usurp our rights of self rule (such as they exist).

And it is true that the council of governments has been attacked on this basis with charges that local governments will be forced into consolidation in order to receive federal aid, that our individuality will be lost and that we will be swallowed up by monster government that will cost the taxpayer more rather than less.

At this point in time and experience, however, the evidence would support the opposite.

A council of governments would protect local community home rule while providing the resources of a total area with several common problems to find solutions beyond the capability of any one community.

Self independence is commendable to a point at which joint effort and cooperation becomes more commendable.

The voluntary council of local governments for southeast Michigan was proposed by the "Committee of One Hundred" in a report published June 30, 1966. The committee was appointed by William M. Day, chairman of Metropolitan Fund, Inc., in cooperation with the supervisors inter-county committee. Members were either elected or appointed officials representing local government interests in southeast Michigan including cities, villages, counties, school districts and townships in the six-county area of Macomb, Monroe, Oakland, St. Clair, Washtenaw and Wayne.

Representatives to the council would be appointed by the local unit from its own governing ranks.

Programs of study already proposed include child and youth guidance, air pollution, housing, public safety, refuse and sewage disposal, transportation, social services and water pollution.

Resources of the council might prove the key to solving a particular problem or need by gaining authority for cooperative agreements between two or three closely related governmental units, such as the city and township of Northville, or Novi and Wixom, or the school district and the governmental units within its boundaries.

Experience has taught us that the success of such ventures, regardless of good intent, depends upon the effort and spirit of cooperation with which they are carried out.

On the basis of the belief that the organization is truly voluntary and terminable at any time, that community self-rule is not in jeopardy, and that a combined effort is successful more frequently than a solitary one, it is hoped that the governmental units and school districts within Northville, Novi and Wixom will lend their support and take out membership in the council of governments.

To date only Northville township has approved its $200 first-year fee.

A LOOSE LEAF

By ROLLY PETERSON

Apparently it's the "in thing" for lawyers. They're making the switch from the court room to the living room via radio and TV. Frank Lane, appointed defender of Lee Harvey Oswald, has his own weekly radio program. And the latest to enter the lucrative realm of show biz is F. Lee Bailey. He hosts ABC's "Good Company" every Thursday night.

Television is a natural for Bailey, who made his name defending underdogs, such as, Doctor Alan Shepherd and the Boston strangler. Sensational aspect of the cases and the finesse with which he handled them catapulted Bailey into the public limelight. His voluble personality, his coolness under fire, made him a top TV guest attraction.

Strangely enough, Bailey's program permits little projection of his personality. This was clearly evident last Thursday night when he visited the home of actor Tony Curtis. The lawyer articulate wisely slouched in the background as Curtis conducted a tour of his sumptuous home. The program came across as surprisingly astute and definitely entertaining.

Heretofore, Curtis' image was that of a playboy philanthropist with marginal ability as an actor. "Trapeze" with Burt Lancaster and Gina Lollobrigida was probably his most distinctive part, the one which he still credits with having given his career a boost. Since that time, the parts he has assumed have not added dimension to his acting.

Although Curtis' acting image underwent no earthshaking change last Thursday night, Curtis, the person, did a flip. Rather than the obnoxious playboy inebriated by headlines, the soft spoken actor came across as a serious, aspiring student of drama with talents his press notices virtually ignored.

Opulence was everywhere present in the Beverly Hills home and the spacious grounds, but Curtis was as a man im-mured, comfortably at home with riches, but not held captive by them. His attitude toward his wife, Christine Kauffman, was that of a devoted husband, despite the suspicion that this was a Hollywood marriage that could flounder on the rocks. His attitude toward his young children was that of a concerned father.

Most surprising, however, was his penchant for art. He viewed collecting of paintings as "an extension of self." Explain a painting, why it was purchased, why it has value to Curtis? A complete explanation was impossible, he said guardedly, just as describing ones self was impossible. Nevertheless, Curtis evinced a sincere devotion, a sensitive appreciation of art, especially modern art.

His interests went beyond mere purchase and accumulation of art objects. Curtis created by constructing picture boxes of the most dissimilar materials. "I cannot describe the essence of the boxes," he said, "because there is none. But I find them very stimulating, very creative."

On acting: "An actor can't hide his personality on the screen. He can't live a life of lies." Whereas he felt he had compromised himself in accepting previous parts, now Curtis is intent on developing his talents as an actor. "We need to give vent to our needs," he commented.

Curtis was the first of Bailey's guests on the program ABC is booming as interviewing "the most exciting people in the world." Tonight's interview will feature Everett Dirksen, the colorful United States Senator from Illinois, in his home.

By dint of personality alone, Dirksen will be the protagonist: For the second time in his life, Bailey, the sometimes glib and forceful lawyer, will take a supporting role. That's as it should be in a program that promises to become a steadfast half-hour favorite on Thursday nights.

During a lull in negotiations between Northville teachers and the board of education, the state mediator plunked himself down at the table with teachers while board representatives labored in private upstairs on another proposal. Noting the grueling pace of state mediators in face of the then and still critical state-wide situation, someone wondered how he was able to keep awake.

Both labor and management, he said, were entrenched in suites in the same-Detroit hotel. As at Northville, he flew back and forth between the two sides carrying new proposals, revisions and suggestions. As the hour grew later he found himself pounding on the door of one side who had taken to bed. Rousing them, he relayed the message, gathered up the reply and headed back to the other side. Here, too, he had to roust the negotiators from bed.

soon reasoned that the only one doing any work was him-self. So the mediator rang up the hotel clerk, ordered himself a room, left instructions that he was not to be disturbed, and then hit the sack also. "Both sides figured I was busy with the other and we all got our sleep," he chuckled.

the film. I reached the curb it occurred to me that purple hearts were for battlefields only. So under my quivering breath I told the two nearest guys: "Look fellows, they've got cameras trained on me. Pretend you don't care about me and let me through."

Torching a borrowed cigarette, he remembered how he'd face up to the problem earlier in his career.

A few more trips like this and he

A wildcat strike had hit one of the metropolitan plants and pickets were refusing to permit hourly workers access. White collar workers, not really caring whether or not they would be permitted entry, waited on the opposite side of the street awhile and then left for home convincing themselves that they had no alternative.

"No problem, eh?" my superiors asked from the safety of the opposite side of the street.

I would have done the same, but my boss found me jerking in the disappearing crowd and suggested we set up the public relations office in a nearby restaurant. It was an excellent suggestion except that some smart aleck suggested we "test" the strength of the "no work" picket line. The PR department was selected to make the test and, naturally, I was volunteered.

"Not at all," I replied, not daring to give away my secret. So out went the expensive radio broadcasts asking the delinquent employees to return to work in the afternoon. The pickets won't stop white collar workers, they were told. By the afternoon when the employees returned the pickets were gone, fortunately, so my cowardice was never discovered.

So loaded down with attache' case and as company photographers aimed their bazooka-like cameras from atop a nearby building to record the scuffle, I was goaded into crossing the street into the burly line of pickets. The closer I got, the bigger they looked. By

But the experience bothers me now and then. If pickets, like my father, see fit to call line busters "scabs", what do white collars workers call a guy who'd spoil a day's vacation? Dreadful, simply dreadful.

Can You Give A Successful Party?

By Jane Sherrod Singer, M. A., University of California

Former U S Ambassador to Luxembourg, Perle Mesta, known as the "hostess with the mostest" on two continents, says that the one ingredient basic to successful entertaining is a sincere interest in people.

"Anyone who doesn't like people can't really be a good host - or hostess." In addition, however, she has a number of more specific hints. How would you answer these questions?

- 1. Children should be included in the guest list for evening dinners ( ) ( )
2. Your guests should be selected from the same occupations, professions or at least have many interests in common ( ) ( )
3. If you forget a name, honestly admit it ( ) ( )
4. At a sit-down-dinner it is permissible to leave your guests at the table while you prepare the last minute details. ( ) ( )
5. As a host or hostess, wisdom lies in being conservatively dressed. ( ) ( )
6. If an unpleasant subject comes up, quickly change the topic ( ) ( )
7. The same kinds of foods should be served at a buffet dinner as at a sit-down dinner party. ( ) ( )
8. As a host or hostess you should spend most of your time with your shy guests. ( ) ( )
9. Your guests should be urged into joining planned activities after dinner. ( ) ( )
10. The best parties just happen spontaneously. ( ) ( )
11. The more your party shows the "personal touch" of your own planning, cooking, etc., the more successful it is likely to be. ( ) ( )

PERLE MESTA'S ANSWERS.

- 1. No. "Not until your children are over 18 and adult in their behavior should they be privileged to be guests."
2. No. "A cross-section of guests is much more interesting. People in different occupations are more curious about each other..."
3. No. "The name comes back if you talk for a little while. But any trick is better than letting a person think you have forgotten his or her name."
4. No. "Everything should be cooked in advance. Guests would rather have something simple and have their hostess with them than to have something time-consuming which deprives them of her company"
5. Yes. "Always let your guests' gowns outshine yours."
6. Yes. "Never make a reference or argue with an embarrassing statement. Change the subject - abruptly if necessary."
7. No. A buffet table should include only foods which can be easily eaten without cutting. "One of my favorites for buffets is Chicken a la King, hot peas and fruit salad. I also like to build a supper around a casserole of baked beans which most people enjoy."
8. No. "A good hostess enjoys her own party and does not spend all her time hovering over her guests. I meet my guests, make sure they know everybody and then enjoy my own party."
9. No. "I never force guests to participate in doing anything, but I always have music as background for my parties. Charades are fun. Some may prefer cards. Unrelieved conversation can be wearing."
10. No. "Chance is rarely on your side. Plan your guest list - plan the type of party and the menu well in advance. Write things down."
11. No. "I think home is the best place for parties, but more and more it's proper to entertain in clubs and restaurants. Even at home, the tremendous growth of catering services makes it easier for hostesses to lean on expert services - if there is one thing a party doesn't need it's a nervous, tired hostess."

"NOT ONLY THE ART OF CONVERSATION IS LOST BUT SO IS OUR CAUSE --- WHAT CAUSE ARE WE FIGHTING FOR, MICHEL?"

Michigan Mirror

State Highway Death Toll Drops Sharply

LANSING — Unless Labor Day drastically altered the picture, Michigan motorists have an impressive traffic record for 1967.

Michigan traffic deaths on holidays, weekends and during the week have dropped sharply from last year's levels while they remained unchanged nationwide says the Automobile Club of Michigan.

In its continuing study of traffic mishaps, AAA reported that during the first six months of this year, including the July 4 holiday, highway fatalities were down more than 17 per cent. Injuries dropped an estimated 10 percent. Traffic volume remained at 1966 levels.

What accounted for the improvement? Auto Club General Manager Fred Rehm attributes a major share of decrease to better driving habits of the state's 4 1/2 million motorists. "Michigan motorists are getting the message...the vast majority of good drivers appear to be using that extra bit of carefulness and alertness to safety that is all they need to get them home safely. And more of the bad ones who've shown by their past records they are unfit to drive seem to be off the roads... on holidays at least," Rehm said.

Michigan's July 4th death rate was down 18 percent from last year. Among the seven largest states, in terms of vehicle registration, Michigan listed 30 deaths, up 7 percent over last year. This in comparison to Texas which recorded 71 deaths, up 73 percent from 1966.

Much room for improvement remained, the study notes. Ninety-one percent of all highway accidents which occurred in Michigan during the July 4th weekend involved "driver error." The four top "errors" were excessive speed loss of vehicle control, right-of-way violations and drunk driving. Drivers with unsatisfactory driving records again contributed heavily to fatal accidents. Nine of the 28 known Michigan drivers involved in traffic deaths had more than the so-called average lifetime record of four points.

ANNUAL REPORT of crime in the United States, released by the FBI, shows another significant increase in crimes of all types. Currently the increase in crime outstrips population growth by almost seven-to-one.

In Michigan, a total of 182,045 crimes were committed in 1966. Burglary accounted for 78,333; larceny for 47,552; auto theft, 29,277; robbery, 13,061; aggravated assault, 11,411 and forcible rape; 1,998. Murder and non-negligent manslaughter totaled 393.

Michigan's Highland Park led the nation in total crimes committed in cities from 25,000 to 50,000 population. A total of 2,848 crimes were reported there in 1966. Lowest in the nation in that population category was South Euclid, Ohio, with only 67 crimes.

The 10-hour day, 54-hour week limitations for women employees will be lifted November 2. The 1909 statute which set the labor ceilings for females was repealed this year when the legislature decided the law had become outmoded by other statutes, particularly by the Federal Equal Opportunity Law.

Scheduling of hours should become easier for employers with women on the payroll, but other statutes still protect females from working under conditions which the State Labor Department may consider injurious.

The Michigan State Chamber of Commerce backed the move to scrap the 1909 law. The chamber represents hosts of employers of women throughout the state. "Progress has to be made," said William A. Wickham, legislative counsel for the chamber.

SENIOR CITIZEN housing in Michigan is on an upswing, reports the Michigan Commission on Aging. In 1964 only 22 communities had completed or were developing low-rent housing projects designed for the elderly. These totaled 163 completed units in five communities.

By June of this year, 62 Michigan communities were involved in building and planning 7,898 units. Eighteen communities now have 1,152 units in operation.

A growing problem has been the shortage of trained personnel to manage housing projects. This is partially solved by new training programs instituted at Wayne State University and U-M.

There is still much to be done if Michigan is to reach its goal of 100,000 units for elderly housing by 1974, the commission noted.

Roger Babson

Optimism Signaling Greater Retail Sales

BABSON PARK, Mass. — There is still a lot of optimism among marketing men despite the fact that consumers lately have been dragging their heels on the retail front. Are the optimists right in their conviction that we are heading into another buying spree? Or is a substantially more cautious view prompted by the probabilities for coming months?

There are some, hopeful signals. Personal income is still heading upward, though not at the invigorating pace of the past few years. Labor is still on the go-go for big pay increases, and many of the settlements this year have pushed ahead of those for 1966, breaking the guidelines and edging into the 5%-7% range. Employment continues to smash one record after another, and jobless totals are small enough to prove that our economy is successfully absorbing millions of the steady additions the labor force.

Even though prices have been pressing upward in many lines, our nearly 200 million consumers have not yet put on any frantic display to buy things before there is "more price inflation." They have, in fact, been socking away more cash in the bank, and reducing the volume of their debts as related to their incomes. These are fundamentally healthy developments; they could lay the groundwork for a later burst of confident buying. But there are other things that must be considered.

The seemingly unwinnable war in Vietnam seems to be having an unfavorable effect on buyer attitudes. There just isn't much desire to splurge when a butter-and-guns economy calls for a big new income tax boost. More and more families are sending their youth to a distant land, paying billions to do it, and seeing no chance of an early end to this bitter situation. Local and state taxes practically everywhere are going in one direction only. And that is UP!

Some lines have had to raise prices because of rising output costs, and this has caused many potential customers to back away. This can also be applied to new homes, with outlays for materials and labor expanding so spectacularly that many young couples would rather just "wait a while" and rent an apartment. All in all, rising prices seem to be holding buyers back from big-tag items. This is the opposite of what happened after World War II, when there was a scarcity of consumer goods instead of today's surpluses.

This doesn't mean that we are heading into a buyers' strike. More likely there will be retail gains over the months ahead. But they will be less sprightly than in recent years because of the continuing nagging doubts about the war and the uptrend in taxes. Some industries are reporting cutbacks in working time, which represent a restraining influence on income advances. And here and there layoffs of workers have been publicized — news that must be almost unbelievable to many young people, and at least vaguely disturbing.

Comparisons with a year earlier in various divisions of retail trade are definitely not going to be as rosy as they have been in recent years, at least not for some time. For one thing, there is nothing moving onto the market yet that is as dramatic as, say, color TV. Some possible car buyers may be held back because they expect still further safety features in the next year or two. And the rise in auto prices brought about by soaring costs and added outlays for safety requirements may add to consumer restraint in this field.

Hence, while it is probably accurate to assume that retail buying will continue to edge ahead, there are not enough plus factors to create an early fresh buying surge. For a time, gains will probably just about mirror increases in population and the advances in personal incomes that will be limited by higher taxes and more saving.

Teenagers to March For Hospital Funds

An army of volunteer teenagers will march through Northville Sunday in a drive for funds to support St. Jude Children's Research Hospital in Memphis, Tennessee.

The annual teenagers March with Danny has been carried on nationally for several years. The 1967 march, however, represents the first time Northville has participated.

Heading up the local drive, similar to those to be conducted throughout the nation, is Linda Johnson, with Ronnee Bell and Chris Walker as co-chairmen.

More teens who have taken on the job of leaders are:

Kyle Stubenvoll, Pam Witzke, Hope Hahn, Luane Godfrey, Jane Jerome, Stacey Evans, Ann Sarnes, Leanne Steeper, Patty Lonn, Janet Ogilvie, Donna Knapp, and Mary Petrock.

The two hour march will be held from noon to 3 p.m. here with approximately 125 teens participating.

Founded by Danny Thomas, St. Jude's is working in childhood diseases, including childhood cancer, leukemia, muscle disorders and nutritional disorders.

Goal set for Northville is $1,300.

Officials emphasize that expenses have consistently been held under 10-percent of all funds raised, with more than 90-cents of every dollar going directly to the research hospital.

According to Miss Johnson, not all of the teens who will be soliciting funds at homes in Northville are from this community. Teens from surrounding communities, she explained, have answered a plea for assistance to make the drive a successful one here. All are volunteers, however, and have a common goal: help the hospital that helps children.

The teenagers will be identified with badges, she said.

In addition to the house-to-house canvass, canisters have been placed in business places for contributions.

College Eyes $5.6 Million Bond Issue

Trustees of Schoolcraft college have authorized college officials to begin work on preparing a $5.6 million bond issue which would help finance the next phase of the college's pay-as-you-go construction program.

The bonds would provide $4 million in local construction funds and $1.6 million to refund the 1962 bond issue, first of three sold by the college to build the Haggerty road campus.

In a companion motion at their meeting on Wednesday night, September 6, Trustees ordered that the question of the new bond issue be submitted to the voters of the college district.

Vice-President for Business Affairs W. Kenneth Lindner said the question would go on the ballot at the regular school election next June.

The trustees' decision endorsed a recommendation by the administration that bond attorneys Miller, Canfield, Paddock and Stone of Detroit, be commissioned to prepare the issue for sale, along with a time table for its approval by trustees, the Michigan Finance commission and the voters.

When sold, the bond issue would provide the local share of capital funds for planning and construction of a number of buildings called for in the original plan for the college.

The bond sale, Lindner told trustees, would assure the availability of local funds to match grants and appropriations from both the state and federal governments.

The construction projects contemplated under the new bond issue include planning and development of the physical education playing fields, and planning and construction of a fine arts building and auditorium, and a business education building.

Other projects will provide for instructional programs in para-medics and culinary arts, and the development of library service, and student service.

The college has sold separate bond issues totaling $6,685,000 to finance development of the campus to its present size. The long-range master plan calls for a college designed to offer a comprehensive educational program for approximately 7,500 students by 1970.

The first bond issue, sold in 1962 provided $2,435,000 in local funds for initial construction. This issue, on which $1,600,000 is still due, would be paid off completely by the proposed new issue.

The other two issues were for $1,250,000 in 1964, and $3,000,000 in 1966.
