METTA J. AMBLER

At 98 She's Still Whiz at Figures

"Oh, goodness, it was only a burg when I came here," laughed the silver-haired lady fingering her birthday orchild and remembering her move to Northville more than three-quarters of a century ago.

That's a pretty good recollection in anyone's book, particularly so when you consider the fact that Mrs. Mark S. Ambler celebrated her 98th birthday Tuesday.

She adds, subtracts and computes dates with the accuracy of an actuary. "Let's see, I was born September 19, 1869 ... came to Northville when I was 21, so that's about 77 years ago, isn't it?"

Attendants at Northville Convalescent Home, where this chipper little woman makes her home, hardly bat an eye at her remarkably alert comments. "She's like that everyday ... happy, and always alert," explained one of them.

Mrs. Ambler is probably Northville's oldest resident but she makes no claims to the title, noting simply "I just take everything as it comes along." Blind now and hard of hearing and a little impatient with these handicaps she says she is "losing my grip a little", but you'd never guess it the way she fits about her room and tosses smiles at her guests.

Mrs. Ambler moved to Northville from a "mile-square" farm off 10 Mile road in Farmington and on September

1, 1892 ("that's 75 years ago, isn't it?") married Mr. Ambler, who, if not a Northville pioneer himself, was certainly an offspring of early Northville history. She lived here a few years, moved to Ypsilanti, later to Detroit, and eventually back to this community. "I've been here about 50 years since then," she adds.

Her marriage produced two children, a son and daughter, 5 grandchildren, a half-dozen great grandsons and an equal number of great granddaughters, two great great grandsons and a single great great granddaughter.

Asked, finally, the traditional though trite birthday question, she smiled and said:

"Well, I don't mean to be impertinent but my father told me to be pleasant and gracious. I guess I've tried to follow that advice ... and I've tried to mind my own business."

Mrs. Ambler was feted at a birthday celebration Sunday at the home of her granddaughter, Mrs. Lon Bates, in Livonia. Co-hostesses were Mrs. George Westphal and Mrs. Harold Smith, also grandchildren. A buffet dinner was served.

Guests attended from Detroit, Livonia, Farmington, Birmingham, Northville and Plymouth, including a daughter-in-law, Mrs. Leota Ambler of Plymouth, and two other grandchildren, Richard Ambler of Northville and Mrs. Evelyn Kendall of South Lyon.

School Budget Set For Public Hearing

A balanced, record budget calling for a reduction of more than $44,000 from the initial proposed budget to offset larger than anticipated teacher salaries, will come up for approval at a public hearing Monday night.

The 7:30 meeting will be held in the old junior high school library.

The budget calls for a total outlay of $1,913,406, or $283,842 greater than the 1966-67 budget of $1,629,564.

Included in the proposed new budget are provisions for 16 additional teachers, salary up-grading, additional library and instructional materials, and operation of the new junior high school.

Major cuts from the initial proposed budget ranged from $16,900 for administration and $16,443 for instructional supplies and equipment to $500 in fixed charges. Other major decreases include $10,490 for plant operation, $4,700 for maintenance, $7,500 for capital outlay and $2,250 for transportation.

Originally, officials proposed a budget of $404,495 for instruction on the elementary level, $533,084 on the secondary level. In the budget to come up for hearing Monday, these figures increased to $442,779 and $629,745, respectively.

Costs of instruction (teacher salaries) comprise 73-percent of the proposed total budget. Cost of the new salary scales is pegged at approximately $140,000.

The "instructional" budget provides a salary outlay of $92,050 for five principals, one full-time assistant at the high school, one half-time assistant principal at the junior high, plus clerical assistance in these areas. Determination of individual administrator's salary increases have not been made, pending a report and recommendation of a board committee studying the administrative structure.

Other outlays within the instructional category include $1,191,844 for teaching, $18,000 for substitute teachers, and $72,680 for instructional materials.

The budget provides $97,995 for administration, $195,230 for operation of the schools, $63,400 for fixed charges such as insurance and employee benefits, $14,000 for capital outlay, and $14,200 for student services.

Bulk of estimated revenues will be produced by taxes to the tune of $1,114,864. Other local estimated revenues include $25,813 in tuition, $9,000 in book fees, $2,100 in motor fuel tax refund, $3,000 in rentals, $2,500 miscellaneous income, and $25,000 in interest on investments.

State and federal income is pegged at $731,129, including $599,559 state support, $6,000 driver education, $1,000 vocational education, $51,570 special services, $60,000 transportation, $8,000 NDEA, and $5,000 guidance and counseling.

Annual Report Published

The annual report of the Northville public school system for the 1966-67 appears on page 8-B.

In addition to financial data, the report includes a statement from the superintendent as well as an inventory of property, personnel, administration, teacher salaries and individual school enrollment.

The report notes that teacher stations will be increased from 103 to 121 with the completion of new facilities and that the teacher-pupil ratio during the past year had been reduced from 24.3 to 1 to 21.5 to 1.

It also lists improvements and views the opening of new facilities.

ALMOST READY - Northville's new junior high school, located on Taft road north of Eight Mile road, probably will open Monday morning—providing the state fire marshal finds everything in order Friday. Acting Superintendent Placing its bravest foot forward, the Northville city council Monday night adopted a series of traffic and parking regulations that promises to spark sharp reaction.

All of the changes came as recommendations of either the city parking authority or police department.

Specifically, the council approved:

--No left turn off Center street onto Main street;

--No parking from 2:30 a.m. until 7 a.m. on any of the metered lots in the business district;

--No parking in any of the non-metered, two-hour customer lots from 2:30 a.m. until 9 a.m.;

--No parking on the east side of Wing street from Dunlap to Cady;

--No parking on Church street from Cady to Main.

Further, the council made entry and exit changes in the Main street parking lot opposite the theater. Left turns into the lot off Main street will now be permitted into the western-most entrance. Exits onto Main street from the lot will be restricted to the eastern-most driveway and by right turn only.

All of the action was not by unanimous council vote. Councilmen Del Black and Charles Lapham opposed the no parking until 9 a.m. in non-metered customer lots.

City Manager Frank Ollendorff said the recommendation for no parking in the lots had been set "as long as possible to enable work crews to clean".

The Main and Center street intersection described by the manager as the "number one accident corner in the city". He reported that an average of 15 to 20 accidents occur there annually.

Beginning November 1 all street parking in the city of Northville will be prohibited between the hours of 2:30 and 7 a.m. to permit street cleaning and snow removal and as a safety measure.

The business district parking restrictions will become effective as soon as signs are erected, probably within two weeks, the manager stated. This includes the lots, turns into the parking lot and new Wing, Cady and Church street restrictions.

It may be two months, however, before the left turn ban is enforced at Center and Main. Manager Ollendorff reported that this required Wayne county approval.

The left turn ban off Center onto Main street was approved on a 90-day trial basis. Councilman Lapham was reluctant to vote in favor of the measure urging fellow councilmembers to seek other alternatives first. But when Councilman Black made the motion for approval, Lapham voted "yes".

In approving all the recommendations the council did so expecting some negative reaction. Parking bans have brought strong protests in the past from both residents and merchants.

Manager Denies Charge Of Hurting Building Sale

A charge levied by C. A. Smith accusing City Manager Frank Ollendorff of upsetting the sale of a Smith-owned Main street commercial building was flatly denied this week by the city manager.

Instead, Ollendorff stated that the sale was encouraged because "it was my feeling that she (the potential buyer) would be an asset as an owner".

The manager, city council and planning commission came under Smith's fire in a letter read by Smith to the council two weeks ago. The council reserved comment stating that an answer would be made in writing. Ollendorff was directed to write a reply and it was approved Monday night. Smith is owner of the Brader department store building, 141-145 Main street. He charged that a prospective purchaser of the building had contacted the city manager and had been told "that the building is to be demolished and the space used for parking."

Ollendorff denied the statement was made. He also answered Smith by pointing out some of the city's accomplishments in the business district.

The letter, complete text of which follows, was accepted by the council without comment.

Mr. C. A. Smith: "The City Council has directed that I respond to your letter of September 5, 1967, regarding the sale of your property in Northville's business district.

"Although the conversation related by you never took place, I am indeed sorry that the potential sale of your building did not go through as you had planned. The truth of the matter is that your potential buyer was encouraged by city officials to proceed with the purchase. It was my feeling that she would be an asset as an owner.

"Please be assured that planning for the future of our business district is continuing. We are hopeful of being able to present plans in the near future which will meet your approval as well as that of Northville residents.

"In answer to your question as to whether various city agencies are interested in business district progress, I present the following partial list of measures taken by the City, which I believe indicates our interest:

1. Complete new street lighting system - 1967;
2. Six public parking lots - 1966-67;
3. Alley paving - 1966;
4. Razing three deteriorated buildings - 1966-67;
5. Over 3000 man-hours of study of further improvements - 1965-67;
6. Acquisition of key parcels for immediate development.

"While I find your statement that you will "...advertise Northville as a place to avoid" somewhat inconsistent with your oft-professed interest in aiding the community, we welcome any positive ideas you may wish to put forward. Criticism and opposition is often well deserved and always easy to obtain; positive suggestions and timely proposals are more difficult to acquire. It is with the latter that your knowledgeable aid is earnestly solicited."

Very truly yours,
Frank Ollendorff

Third Robbery Costs $7,200

An estimated $7,200 worth of camera and related equipment was stolen from Northville Camera Shop, 200 South Main street, early Saturday morning--the third time within a year that the store has been hit by thieves.

According to the owner and manager, Robert Webber, 61 cameras were stolen including his own personal equipment together with a friend's used camera valued alone at more than $1,000.

Tape recorders, projectors, an adding machine and a number of other pieces of equipment were taken, he said.

Northville police, who with detectives of the Wayne county sheriff's department are investigating the burglary, said the thief or thieves broke into the building through a window in the rear of the building, located off the alley.

At least one good finger print was lifted by county detectives, and footprints of a small person were discovered inside the building amid powder that had been spilled during the burglary.

Area police departments have been alerted in hopes of obtaining a clue to the burglars' identity.

The thieves apparently let themselves in through the window, picked keys from the office desk and opened the show cases containing many of the cameras. Much of the new equipment was taken from the boxes.

Because the thieves apparently knew their way around the interior of the building, Webber believes they may have visited the shop earlier during store hours.

Shortly before Christmas, three bandits robbed the store at gunpoint and were subsequently caught. Two of them were released on probation and another was jailed. And about a year ago, a burglar broke into the store and stole a camera, was caught and subsequently released.

Chamber Praises Unification Study

The Northville Community Chamber of Commerce this week sent letters of commendation to the city, township and Northville Area Economic Development Committee for their sponsorship of a unification feasibility study.

The letter, signed by Chamber President Dempsey B. Ebert, said that "this impartial and cooperative approach to determining future community problems and possible solutions certainly deserves the full support of all citizens and civic groups."

City and township officials agreed to the joint study last May after deciding to join a broader study that would have included the city and township of Plymouth and Canton township.

The city-township committee is composed of Councilmen Del Black and Wallace Nichols and Township Trustees Bernard Baldwin and Gunnar Stromberg. A fifth member of the steering committee is Donald Lawrence, who represents the Northville Area Economic Development Committee.

So far the steering committee has hired a consultant, Donald M. Oakes, to head-up the study and is presently in the process of setting forth a program for procedure and appointing perhaps 15 to 20 citizens to take part in the four-month project.

Oakes has estimated that the study will cost between $2,500 and $5,000 and the city and township have agreed to split the bill.

Following is the complete text of the Chamber letter:

"By unanimous action of the Northville Community Chamber of Commerce board of directors a resolution was adopted commending your bodies for undertaking a unification study.

"It is our understanding that this program will be jointly financed by the city and township and will be guided by a committee composed of city, township and development committee members. Further, we note that an expert in government matters has been retained to direct the study.

"This impartial and cooperative approach to determining future community problems and possible solutions certainly deserves the full support of all citizens and civic groups.

"It speaks well for the leaders of our respective governments.

"We look forward to the findings which should give us all an opportunity to weigh alternatives based on facts rather than personal preferences or prejudices.

"You may be sure the Chamber will follow the study with keen interest and perhaps, at the conclusion, have further comment to make."

Eight Mile Stop Light Step Nearer

A long-awaited traffic light for the intersection of Eight Mile road and North Center street moved a step nearer reality this week.

But City Manager Frank Ollendorff said it's probably still two months' away.

Approval of a four-way traffic light at the busy school area intersection was acknowledged this week by the traffic engineering division of Oakland county, Ollendorff stated. This was accomplished earlier in Wayne county, but final approval must now come from the road commissions of the two counties (Eight Mile road is the county dividing line and both counties, along with the city and school district will participate in the cost of the installation).

Attempts by city and school officials, as well as concerned parents, to have the blinker light replaced began more than two years ago.

International Theme Popular at Show

"Flowers Internationale," 29th annual flower show sponsored by the Northville branch of the Women's National Farm and Garden association, "bloomed" in Saturday afternoon sunshine as more than 200 members and visitors inspected a wide variety of displays of flowers and vegetables artistically arranged under the international theme.

Staged in the Northville Presbyterian church fellowship hall, the show opened at 2 p.m. as Mayor A. Malcolm Allen cut the entrance ribbons, assisted by City Manager Frank Ollendorff and Councilwoman Beatrice Carlson. As he welcomed visitors, Mayor Allen commended the committee and the club for this community effort.

An especially eye-catching feature of the show, arranged by Mrs. Denis Schwarz and her committee, was a section of tables, set and decorated for a variety of meals. In this category first place awards went to Mrs. Orson Atchinson, an English tea table; Mrs. Chris Kontos, Middle East dinner; Mrs. William Slattery, Hawaiian patio supper; and Mrs. E. O. Whittington, Austrian Kaffeeklatsch.

First place blue ribbons in the horticulture division repeatedly were won by Mrs. H. W. Fuller, who won for her Coxcomb, Dahlias and gladioli (2). Other winners were Mrs. John Begle, Mrs. William Wiley, Mrs. Gene Cushing and H. O. Evans, who won a first for spotted canna and a special first award for his tuberous rooted begonias.

First place perennial winners were Mrs. H. W. Fuller (2), Mrs. E. O. Whittington, Mrs. Olive Knauge, Mrs. Richard Martin. House plant firsts went to Mrs. George Adams (2), Mrs. H. W. Fuller, Mrs. William Davis, Mrs. Julia Matheson, Mrs. C. W. Whittlesey.

Blue ribbon winners were Mrs. H. W. Fuller, grapes; E. O. Whittington, melons and canteloupes, cucumbers and peppers; Mrs. Douglas Lorenz, squash.

Artistic design first place winners in Old Country, Japanese and African themes were Mrs. Herman Bednar, Mrs. Olive Knauge (2), Mrs. George Kohs, Mrs. H. W. Fuller, Mrs. Alfred Millington (2), Mrs. William Wiley, Mrs. Frank Whitmyer (3), Mrs. Jack Scantlin, Mrs. E. O. Whittington, Mrs. Edith Craig; Mrs. George Adams, Mrs. L. L. Norman.

Blue ribbons in the "For Men Only" division were awarded to Howard Fuller and Ron Strath. Firsts for miniature arrangements went to Mrs. John Begle, Mrs. L. H. Robertson, Mrs. R. N. Ditts, Mrs. S. S. Scott.

Among the junior gardeners firsts in vegetable awards were won by Marty and David Goss. Junior design blue ribbons were awarded to Jean Egbert, Darlene Evans, Joan Boor, Colleen Cushing, Stacey Evans, Terry Cushing, Stephanie Bach (2), Dawn Schwarz, Ann Frogner (2), Linda Cunningham, Teryn Cushing, David Frogner, Sue McIntire, Kimberly Strath, Carol Terry, Joan Whitmyer and Mark Jennings.

FLOWERS INTERNATIONALE, 29th annual fall flower show sponsored by the Northville branch of the Women's National Farm and Garden association last Saturday at Northville Presbyterian church, opened with smiles and sunshine as Northville Mayor A. Malcolm Allen, cut the ribbons and lauded the club for its community activity. Watching, from left, are five-year-old Dana Schwarz, Mrs. John Begle, Mrs. Harvey Whipple (behind), Mrs. William Slattery, club president, Councilwoman Beatrice Carlson, Mayor Allen, Mrs. Denis Schwarz, show chairman, City Manager Frank Ollendorff and visitors.

In Our Town

By JEAN DAY

THAT TRIP to Marshall, Michigan, taken last Saturday by a Northville quintet was a serious fact-finding mission: The five committee members of the first Vintage Home Tour to be held in Northville October 5 were there to see how that city's most successful annual house tour is staged.

Mrs. Keith Wright, Northville tour chairman, Mrs. William Dyke, Mrs. Albert Flecka, Mrs. Glenn Jordan and Mrs. Robert Froelich related that it turned out to be a "fun" day as they visited four homes, the Marshall historical museum and heard a concert in the Episcopal church. They also conferred with the Marshall tour chairmen.

They visited Mrs. Froelich's mother, Mrs. Herman Beuker, whose home is in Marshall. With 4,000 tickets sold, Nan Froelich reports this was one of their 'best-ever' tours.

TICKETS for Northville's Vintage Home Tour haven't been printed in that quantity, but they now are available in advance sale, Mrs. Robert Bretz announces.

Sponsored by the Women's Association of Northville Presbyterian church, the tour includes five homes, an antique sale and a Country Kitchen bake sale at the church.

While tickets will be on sale at the church October 5, Mrs. Bretz suggests advance purchase to avoid delays and has tickets available from area chairmen: Mrs. John Brown, Edenderry and Shadbrook; Mrs. Robert Regenhart, Brookland Farms and north area; Mrs. John Moorhead, Taft Colony and West Main; Mrs. Ray Jackson, Northville Estates.

They also may be purchased by calling Mrs. Bretz, 349-0890.

Homes to be open for the tour are those of Mr. and Mrs. George Kohs, Mr. and Mrs. C. Harold Bloom, Mr. and Mrs. E. A. Chapman, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Ely, Mr. and Mrs. H. F. Meyer. The antique sale will be at the Maplewood street home of Mrs. Robert Froelich.

HUNGRY tour visitors will be able to stop for luncheon on the tour day at Northville's St. Paul Lutheran church. In a true spirit of cooperation members of the Lutheran women's guild headed by Mrs. Warner Krause agreed to serve a luncheon at their church... thus solving the problem of where large groups could eat.

Luncheon co-chairmen Mrs. E. O. Weber and Mrs. Arthur Witzke plan to serve from 11 a.m. to 1 p.m. It will help, they note, if groups can make advance reservations by calling Mrs. Weber, 349-9971.

Incidentally, those attractive tavern sign posters in Northville shops advertising the Vintage Tour were the creation of Mrs. William Crump, who made them well in advance of her European jaunt. She and her husband have been touring London and its environs as well as the Scandinavian countries.

ON THE MOVE in a different sense this summer was the Robert Bretz family. While moving her family from Northville Estates to their white home at 47133 Nine Mile road where "Cindy can have a horse," Mrs. Bretz efficiently arranged her home tour ticket sales. (Her tickets are complete with maps of the city marking tour home locations).

Other summer moves include that of Mr. and Mrs. W. G. Williams, who moved from their Eaton drive home of many years, to 370 Orchard drive. Next week Mrs. Williams' mother, Mrs. J. A. Chenoweth, will be joining them. The Williams' former home now is the first home of the Roger Rathburns.

Mr. and Mrs. William E. Davishave moved around the corner from Orchard to their new white colonial home next to Our Lady of Victory church on West Main street.

Dr. and Mrs. Donald R. Karr have moved from the Village Green to a ranch home in Bloomfield township.

BRIDGE, pinoccha and other card games will be played at the fall card party benefit planned by Our Lady's League of Our Lady of Victory church. It will be held in the social hall at 7:30 p.m. Tuesday, October 10.

Mrs. F. F. Ishac, general chairman, held an organizational meeting last week. Ticket chairman is Mrs. Charles McDonald, 349-2589. Tickets also are available from Mrs. Ishac, 476-4068, and will be sold at the door. Mrs. Peter Kunst is in charge of the bake sale to be held in conjunction with the party. Here the committee plans to sell Duncan Hines fruit cakes.

In planning the fall event Mrs. Ishac has encouraged her committee to enlist the help of husbands in ticket selling—as the event has proved popular with men in the past.

Lecture topics this year will center upon the arts, politics and psychology. Sponsored by Our Lady's League of Our Lady of Victory church, lectures are held at the P & A Theatre in Northville with celebrity luncheons following at Meadowbrook country club or the Mayflower House in Plymouth.

The board also points out that baby sitters again will be available to mothers attending, through cooperation of Our Lady of Victory school.

Mrs. Michael Scott Knauff

Jean Downer Wed In Double-Ring Rites

Jean Louise Downer became the bride of Michael Scott Knauff in an afternoon ceremony September 16 at Northville First Methodist church.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Gael L. Downer of Northville. The bridegroom's parents are Mr. and Mrs. Charley S. Knauff of West Portsmouth, Ohio.

The Reverend S. D. Kinde officiated at the double ring ceremony at the altar decorated with white gladioli and mums and flanked by lighted candelabra. William Hughes was organist.

The bride's gown of daisy-patterned Alencon lace was fashioned in a cage silhouette with a cowl neckline and hem bordered in peau de soie over taffeta. The design was repeated on the straight train. The bride designed her veil and headpiece, a Dior bow holding tiered illusion veiling. She carried a classic cascade of stephanotis centered by a white orchid.

Bonnie Carr of Sand Lake, maid of honor, and Sandy Parmenter and Carol Yahn of Northville, bridesmaids, wore identical floor-length dresses of melon silk, styled with cowl necklines and empire waists. Their hairbows and shoes matched. They carried old-fashioned nosegays of rosebuds and mums. Andrea Clarke of Northville was flower girl in a short melon silk dress. She carried a small basket of roses and mums.

University of Michigan friends of the bridegroom served as attendants. Martin Byskowski of Ann Arbor was best man. Ushers were Bruce Canfield, Columbus, Ohio and Joe Sobel, New York.

The bride's mother chose a powder blue crepe dress adorned with nylon applique at the neckline and sleeves. She wore a white rose corsage. The bridegroom's mother wore a beige lace sheath and matching coat. Her flowers were green-tipped white carnations.

As guests entered the church, they registered in the guest book presided over by Patti Burden.

A reception in the church hall followed the ceremony. Aunts of the bride, Mrs. George Snyder of Ovid and Mrs. Harold Jorae of Amherstberg, Ontario, were table hostesses. Also assisting were Mrs. Kenneth Clarke, Pam Burden, Sandy Mogridge and Mrs. Raychel Hinman.

The bridegroom, a University of Michigan graduate, now is working on his master's degree at Michigan State university and is a science teacher at Pattengill school in Lansing. The new Mrs. Knauff is a junior at MSU. They will live in Lansing.

News Around Northville

A proclamation designating September 17-23 as Constitution Week in Northville was signed by Mayor A. M. Allen last Thursday.

It urges all "our citizens to pay special attention during the week to our Federal Constitution and the advantages of American citizenship.

"In witness whereof, I have hereunto set my hand and caused the seal of the city to be affixed hereto this 14th day of September in the year of our Lord one thousand nine hundred and sixty-seven, and the independence of the United States of America, the one hundred and ninety-first."

September 17, 1967, marks the 180th anniversary of the adoption of the Constitution of the United States, and the proclamation accords official recognition to the anniversary.

Constitution Week locally is boosted by the Daughters of the American Revolution, Sarah Ann Cochrane chapter.

St. Mary Hospital of Livonia will begin a "Nurse Refresher Course" on November 1, officials announced this week.

Classes will be conducted two days per week from 8:30 a.m. to 12:00 noon for six weeks. Nurses interested shall be interviewed beginning September 25 through October 25, Monday through Friday.

Interested persons are asked to contact Mrs. Walter Guska 7-4800, Extension - 218, for appointment.

Art Show Set at Library

A single artist show, featuring Mary Ann Beltz, opened this week at the Northville public library.

Mrs. Beltz, who lives at 362 Welch, considers painting as more a profession than a hobby.

"In every person, object, or social relationship there is an inner electricity or energy," she explains. "I want to represent my impressions of this energy. In my work I attempt to say something I need to express. I do not paint paintings to match someone's sofa."

The artist received her bachelor's degree at North Texas State university in drawing and painting. She has since done graduate work at Eastern Michigan university.

Mrs. Beltz has had her work exhibited at the Dallas Museum of Fine Arts, The Helbing Gallery in Ft. Worth, The White Elephant in Dallas, and the Raven Gallery in Birmingham, Michigan.

Scouts Plan Sale

Fresh, scout-made apple and cherry pies as well as cake and sundae toppings will be dished out with ice cream at the fall social to be held by Northville Girl Scout Cadet Troop 209 from 2 to 7 p.m. Sunday in the parking square behind the D and C store on Main street.

The new location for an ice cream social was the inspiration of Mrs. Glenn Deibert, troop leader, who has the cooperation of the dime store in the venture, most recent fund-raising activity of the troop which has long-range plans for a European trip.

With leaders, Mrs. Deibert, Mrs. Fred Sterner and Mrs. Tom Taggart, the girl scouts have been pitting cherries and peeling apples for the fresh pies. Coffee and cold punch also will be served.

Marathon Back in Action

The Northville Mothers' club Bridge Marathon has swung into action with 80 couples playing one night each month. "Interested people continue to call each day, and only four couples are needed to form another group," according to Mrs. Bernard Bach, Marathon chairman.

The group will be composed of beginning to average players, and interested couples may sign up by calling Mrs. Bach at 349-2306.

In loving memory of our loving husband, father and brother.
What would we give to clasp his hand. His happy face to see.

Of the grief that is borne in silence For the one we loved so well.

Supervisor Plan Up for Revision

Heading suburban objections, Wayne County officials and state lawmakers will explore possible alternatives to a plan for a 26-member county board of supervisors.

Out-county officials voiced their opposition to the 26-member plan at a meeting called by Mel Ravitz, chairman of the board of supervisors on September 13.

Several mayors and councilmen complained that their cities would be split up and that some out-county communities could end up with no representation on a Detroit-dominated county legislative body.

The board of supervisors is now composed of 130 members, serving either because they are local office holders, such as mayors, councilmen and township supervisors, or because they were appointed by local office holders.

The reapportionment plan calls for partisan election of a 26-member board from districts of approximately equal population.

The plan was drawn up by a five-member commission under a 1966 state law, which requires revamping of county boards on a district basis. The constitutionality of the law is being challenged in the courts.

The meeting was advised that, although the law permitted as many as 35 districts in Wayne County, the 26-district plan was now final, barring amendment of the law.

State lawmakers at the meeting expressed willingness to consider amending the law.

Several participants favored 37 districts, as proposed in a model county home rule bill prepared by the Wayne county board of supervisors.

It was agreed that Ravitz will appoint a supervisors' committee to meet with the house, towns and counties committee and the Senate municipalities committee to explore the problem.

The Apportionment Commission which adopted the 26-district plan consisted of County Clerk Edgar M. Branjgin, County Prosecutor William L. Cahalan, County Treasurer Louis H. Funk, David Lebenbom, county Democratic chairman, and Henry E. Sladek, county Republican chairman.

The 26-district plan was approved 4-1, with Lebenbom opposing it. He submitted a 35-district plan. Sladek proposed a 30-district plan before voting for the 26-district one.

Nichols Herda Receives Award

Awards honoring 82 men, including one for Northville, will be presented during the annual meeting of the Michigan section, American Water Works association, at Grand Rapids today.

The local recipient is Nicholas Herda of Northville State Hospital, 41001 West Seven Mile road.

The Edward Dunbar Rich service awards, which is presented annually, was established in memory of Colonel Edward D. Rich, who was director of engineering of the state health department from 1913 to 1946.

This year's recipients of the award represent some 27 different Michigan communities. Since the award was established in 1946 a total of 1,313 individuals have been honored.

Story Hour Nears Start

The pre-kindergarten story hour program will resume Wednesday, October 5 at the Novi public library, officials announced this week.

Interested parents are asked to call the library, FI 9-0721, for registration or additional information.

Leo Cherne to Head Cavern

New officers of The Cavern teen club, headed by Leo Cherne, are planning a double attraction for their bi-monthly dance Saturday, September 23.

The MUNX, Cleveland's number one teen band, and the Southbound Freeway will be featured for the regular admission of $1 for members and $1.50 for non-members.

Sharing executive duties with President Cherne are newly elected board members Sue Jarvis, vice-president;

Jane Forrer, secretary; Nancy Secord, treasurer; and Robin Armstrong, corresponding secretary.

New chairmen are Buzzy Collocott, entertainment; Peg Tiilikka, advertising; Leanne Steeper, door; Rosemary Van Fossen, decorations; Mike Conley and Pat Jones, refreshments.

New officers and the club played host to a record crowd of more than 700 teens at the last dance with the Left Banke from England featured. This was the biggest dance of the year, they reported. Teens are reminded by the board that 1966-67 memberships have expired and new 1967-68 blue membership cards are required now. They will be on sale at the dance.

October 7 the Scott Richard Case will be back for a return engagement with Our Mother's Children. Also scheduled for future appearances are The Thyme, Ashmallyan Quintet, and Bob Seger and The Last Heard, the board announced this week.

During the "Flattop's" last cruise to Southeast Asia, it spent 109 days "on the line" in the Gulf of Tonkin and launched more than 8,000 combat and support sorties over North and South Vietnam.

Before arriving at its combat station, the Coral Sea made port calls in Hawaii, Japan, and the Philippines.

A camporee within the Sunset District will be held soon at the Charles Howell Reservation at Brighton.

Troop officials extend an invitation to boys and their parents, who are interested in joining the Scout movement, to attend one or more of the troop's regular meetings held each Monday evening at the Northville Methodist church beginning at 7 p.m.

City manager explained that Mr. Hartner, DPW Supt. had been able to locate a 1962 Terra Tractor with tilt blades owned by Dr. Jerome Robb of Pontiac. This could be used for small ditching jobs (new machine which is a little larger lists at $15,000). City manager recommended that bids be waived.

Rocks Nick High-Flying Mustangs, 20-14

But for a mistake or two, the coach riding atop the shoulders of the jubilant football players might have been Northville's coach Al Klukach.

Such was not the case, however, and it was Tom Moshimer, a Northville graduate come back to haunt his alma mater, who bounced on the shoulders of Plymouth gridders seconds after the Rocks claimed a thrilling, 20-14 victory here Friday night in the season opener.

No defeat could have been more painful for the Mustangs who battled out from beneath a 14-point deficit, knotted the score and threatened to take the lead from their arch rivals before the ceiling fell in.

And even with the Rocks out front in the closing seconds, a Northville victory seemed within grasp. A TD and an extra point would have been enough. But the clock wouldn't wait.

The real back-breaker and probably the most costly error of the game came in the opening minutes when the Mustangs were forced to punt over because of an illegal procedure penalty.

Halfback Tom Elias gobbled the ball on his 30, galloped around the left end past would-be tacklers, cut to his right and then streaked into the end zone with the first score of the game.

The fullback's ground race was indicative of the battle between the two squads. Plymouth won on the ground; Northville came close to winning in the air. And the statistics attest to this air-ground display: Plymouth netted 241 yards on the ground, Northville 84; Northville picked up 203 yards in the air, Plymouth 84 yards.

By the time Halfback Russ Carlson's split end failed to produce a score, Plymouth was unable to take advantage of its early, stunning lead and widen the margin.

Yet, even though Northville's new I formation with split end failed to produce a score, Plymouth was unable to take advantage of its early, stunning lead and widen the margin.

Twice the Rocks were forced to punt in that first quarter, and twice Northville's attack churned to a halt deep within the opposition's territory.

On their first series of plays after the opening score, the Mustangs drove from their own 37 to the Plymouth 29 before giving up the ball. Then, after forcing the Rocks to punt, Northville took command again and soon was camped on the Plymouth 37. This time, on second down, Dennis Mathews pulled in a pass at the Plymouth 15, fumbled, and Plymouth covered the pigskin on the 12.

With the opening of the second quarter, Northville carried to the Plymouth 27 before a fumble and a ground-losing play forced them back to the 49 and into a punting situation. The Mustangs mounted still another attack in the quarter, pushing into Plymouth's half before losing the ball on a fumble.

Plymouth, on the other hand, tasted the opponent's territory only once following their initial score. Late in the second stanza the Rocks pushed a few feet past the mid-stripe momentarily before punting.

The second half was a replay of the first — only this time Northville's aerial supremacy produced two touchdowns. But two more by the ground-churning Rocks spelled the difference.

Plymouth drove to the Northville 16 in the opening series but fumbled and Northville took possession on its own 7, sputtered to the 26 and punted. Then, with the ball on the Northville 41, Plymouth's Halfback Bill Tobey broke through the line and dashed to the 13. It took four more plays, however, before the Rocks' quarterback, Mike Cederburg, sailed around the right end for the tally.

The extra point kick was good. Down by 14 points, the Mustangs refused to play dead. Fullback Everett Greer pushed to the Plymouth 35 on a couple of smashes over the center, and Mathews pulled in a pass at the 29 before the quarter ended. Fullback Pat Caley caught a shoe-stringer at the 13, followed by a blooper ball pass that hit its mark, a couple of line plunges, and the ball lay on the one-foot line with four downs to make it good.

Greer pushed it across on the first play, and Caley booted the extra point.

Plymouth failed to do anything with the ball after the kick and Northville took possession on its 25, moved to the 29 and had six yards to go on third down when Andrews rifled a long one to Tight End Bob Hubbert who raced unmolested in for the score.

Once again Caley kicked the extra point, and the Mustangs were back in the game.

The tie was short-lived, however, as Plymouth came back in four plays to score the deciding touchdown. The Rocks had pushed to Northville's 47 on a series of ground gainers by Halfback Tom Elias when Cederburg uncorked a pass to End Jeff Adams who pulled it in on the 20 and scampered in for the tally. Halfback Russ Carlson's kick went wide of the mark.

Now battling both the clock and the score, Andrews grabbed the kick on the 20, carried it to the 37, and then fired a pass to End Greg Carr, who cut in at the 50 and leaped high to snag it.

Little more than a minute remained when Andrews fell back to pass and was smothered by a host of tacklers on Northville's 44. Once again Carr grabbed a pass, carrying this time to Plymouth's 37. A long pass sailed over the outstretched hands of Hubbert, but another hit Carr and the Mustangs were camped on the Plymouth 22, first down, with 35 seconds to play.

Plymouth smothered Northville's passer on the first play, pushing the Mustangs back to the 32, and a long pass from Andrews to Carr failed on the second try with 13 seconds to play. On the third play, Plymouth moved into an umbrella defense to stop the big bomb and Northville countered with a ground play that went no-where as the game ended.

The slim victory was the second in as many years for the Rocks — the first for Plymouth's new coach, who came back to Northville where he last tasted high school football as a player 15 years ago.

End Greg Carr Snags Another

For W-O League Opener

Northville Travels To Holly Tomorrow

In weighing last week's loss to Plymouth, Coach Alex Klukach and his assistants see no reason to panic.

"We've got some mistakes to clean up, but these fellows proved they can come back," said Klukach as he prepared for tomorrow's first Wayne-Oakland League contest tomorrow at Holly.

The switch from last year's split

T offense to variations of the I together with a split-end neither fizzled nor exploded. But there was enough promise in it that Klukach isn't apt to change in mid-stream.

That plus the fact that Quarterback Joe Andrews' arm promises to be an ever-present threat to opponents is enough to make local fans find solace in the opening loss.

Biggest loss last Friday was Northville's 6-foot, 170-pound Guard Glenn Heffner. The junior lineman suffered a cracked arm in the first half and is expected to be out for the remainder of the season. All other players, however, came through the initial battle with little more than the cuts, scratches and bruises characteristic of all football games.

Like Northville, Holly, which tied with Flint Bendle in its opener last week, probably will unleash an I-formation attack in an attempt to avenge its 9-7 loss to the Mustangs last year. In playing that game, Northville had suffered a similar opening game defeat at the hands of Plymouth.

Reports received by local coaches put Holly in the "building" stages, trying to put together a winning combination. And its tie with the Flint eleven gave it an opportunity to test its strengths and weaknesses before hosting Northville.

In other games involving W-O teams last week, Brighton nipped South Lyon, 19-13; West Bloomfield took a licking from Waterford, 40-20; Clarkston blanked Oxford, 19-0; Bloomfield Hills lost a squeaker to Oak Park, 26-20; Milford downed Avondale, 31-21; and Clar-enceville had to settle for a 20-20 tie with Whitmore Lake.

None of the opening games were league contests, however, so all eight teams enter tomorrow's battles with clean slates.

Meet The Mustangs!

A "Meet the Mustangs" night, sponsored by a newly organized high school athletic boosters organization, is slated here next Wednesday night.

The pep-rally type program will be held at the Northville high school football field beginning at 7:30 p.m.

On hand for introduction to the public will be members of the Northville varsity, sophomore and freshman football teams and their coaches.

Also to be introduced will be the high school marching band and the cheerleaders.

All parents, fans and boosters of the gridders, cheerleaders, and bandmen are urged to attend to show their support. Participants will be in uniform, so camera buffs may snap away. Boosters emphasize.

An organizational meeting of the Northville Boosters club, to include the election of officers, is slated Thursday, October 5, at the high school gymnasium.

But Novi plans to better their performance tomorrow against Whitmore Lake on their own new football field.

Schoolcraft Grabs Ninth Soccer Win

Schoolcraft college's undefeated soccer team chalked up its ninth straight victory Saturday as it opened its 1967 season with a 7-0 shutout of Delta college in a match at the upstate college.

At the same time, Tom Roncoli's Blue and Gold cross-country team split a pair of decisions in a triangular meet, finishing second to Delta but defeating Muskegon.

Making their debut under Coach Marv Gans, the Blue and Gold soccer squad took the lead mid-way in the first period on a goal by Bahram Farahmand, 20-year-old sophomore from Iran. It was the first of three goals during the match by Farahmand.

Later in the opening period, Joop Doorn, Schoolcraft's All-American, dented the nets with the first of his three goals for the afternoon to match Farahmand's game performance in the scoring column. The seventh Schoolcraft goal was tallied by Bob Lotko, a Norwegian exchange student, early in the third period.

Al Jose, former Franklin high athlete, playing his first collegiate soccer game, turned in a shutout at goal.

Paul Hartge led the Blue and Gold defense with strong assists from Jerry Vanderhaaven, Jim Zell, Gaby Nasrallah, Dan Robinson, Larry DeShano and Doug Morrison.

'500' Driver To Speak Here

Art Pollard of Medford, Oregon, who finished seventh in last May's Indianapolis 500 mile race, will speak to students of Northville high school at 1 p.m. Tuesday, September 26.

Pollard is one of a team of five Indianapolis drivers who are in the Detroit area this week, sponsored by the Detroit Free Press, to appear before general assemblies speaking on safe driving practices and the proper attitude expected of teen-agers.

His subject, "Highway Safety Is No Accident," is one of great importance and interest to teen-agers who are taking driver education courses or who are involved in traffic as they drive to and from school.

Pollard will comment on controlled speed on the race track as against its opposite on the highway and will show a 15-minute, color and sound movie made at Indianapolis last May especially for his program.

In 1964 the coveted Alfred P. Sloan, Jr. award was presented to Champion Spark Plug Company of Toledo for developing and maintaining the program. The National Safety Council has recognized the presentation three times with its Public Service Award.

Distance Runners Eye Invitational

One hundred-twenty high school cross-country runners from 12 area schools will line up for the starters gun at 10:30 a.m. Saturday in the running of the second annual Schoolcraft College Invitational Cross-Country Meet.

Juday Sparks Vikings' Win

Quarterback Steve Juday led the Ypsilanti Vikings to a resounding 34-6 victory over Lansing Saturday.

The former MSU All-American attempted 27 passes, completed 15 for 317 yards. Craig Kirby pulled in three passes for 153 yards, including a 92-yard touchdown play.

While the Vikings were wrapping up their triumph, the Dayton Colts plowed past the Michigan Arrows, thus showing all three teams into a three-way tie for first place in the semi-pro league.

Next home game for the Vikings will take place Saturday at Willow Run high school beginning at 7:30 p.m.

The meet, sanctioned by the Michigan High School Athletic Association, will be run over the Cass Benton Park Loop one-mile course.

Schools which have accepted invitations from Schoolcraft Athletic Director Marvin Gans are Garden City West, Garden City East, North Farmington, Franklin, Thurston, Redford Union, John Glenn, Plymouth, Wayne, Bentley, Stevenson, and Clarenceville.

The harriers will be aiming at the meet record of 10:40 set last year by Doug Norris of Garden City East.

Redford Union took meet honors in the 1966 Invitational by placing three runners in the top seven finishers. Redford Union was paced by Jack Shepherd, who finished second; Daniel McLain, fourth; and Ron Mazurek, who ran sixth in a close duel with Cosper of Garden City West. Mazurek is now a Schoolcraft student.

The first year field of 10 schools, in the order in which they placed in the meet were Redford Union, Bentley, Wayne Memorial, Thurston, Franklin, John Glenn, Garden City West, Plymouth, Garden City East, and Stevenson.

Following the meet Saturday morning, contestants and team coaches will be guests of the college at an awards luncheon in the Lois L. Waterman Campus Center.

Trophies will be presented to the winning team and the runner-up, and individual medals will be awarded to the first seven finishers.

Coaches are Ron Fedraw, Bentley; Al Korpi, Clarenceville; David Juhnke, Franklin; Bob Massey, Stevenson; Kirtley Winn, Garden City East; Jerry Szukaitis, John Glenn; Dick Miller, Wayne Memorial; Gerald Young, North Farmington; John Sandmann, Plymouth; John MacKenzie, Redford Union; and Ray Williams, Thurston.

About Drainage, Water

Northville Seeks Meeting with Novi

A joint meeting with the Novi village council is being sought by the Northville city council to discuss drainage and water problems.

Councilman Charles Lapham proposed the meeting Monday night and the council approved sending a letter to the Novi council.

Lapham suggested that "perhaps Novi councilmembers are unaware of some of the problems involving the drainage from new subdivision developments in Novi along our city borders".

He said a face-to-face meeting with the council might avoid delays for developers. In addition to its concern over water drainage from developments north of the city and along Novi road, the city council wishes to review the proposed route of a water line which will connect to Detroit service in Northville at Baseline and Grace and extend through the city to Novi to provide Detroit water service for new housing in Novi.

In other business Monday night the council approved a contractual agreement with Foundry Flask & Equipment company for vacation of Park Place and construction of a green belt along South Main street; renewed a parking lot lease agreement with the First Methodist church; approved a sewer pay-back agreement with Thompson-Brown company; and approved payment of dues to southeastern Michigan Council of Governments. Councilman Wallace Nichols voted against the latter proposal because of lack of information on the organization.

Commercial Corner Sold

The sale of the former Guernsey Dairy property on the northeast corner of Center and Cady streets was announced this week by Carl Johnson Realty of Northville.

The property was purchased by Angelo Gadioli from John McGuire.

Gadioli, owner of Northville Lanes Bowling alleys, plans to use the site for additional parking and as a nursery for children during morning and afternoon ladies' league play.

The frame building directly on the corner will be removed for parking, while the block building will serve as the nursery quarters. League meetings and other meetings of local groups may be scheduled in the building upon request, Gadioli stated.

from the PASTOR'S STUDY

Pastor Norman A. Riedesel
First United Presbyterian Church, South Lyon

"You must smile!" I said to myself, "People do not know how worried you are. They will think you are angry. Smile!"

I was a guest speaker in a Methodist Church in an Ohio town on a Saturday night. There were two other guest speakers, another clergyman and a prominent citizen of the town. Each of us had been asked to speak ten minutes.

The service had started at 7:30 and I had been assured it would be over by 8:30. Other things being equal it would have been a most enjoyable experience. But things went wrong!

I had promised our son, Edward, employed in a grocery store in a nearby city, that I would meet him at 9:00 when the store closed. The second speaker, good man that he was, had an excellent address. But it lasted much longer than ten minutes. As it drew near nine o'clock I began to worry about the lad, Edward. Where would he go? What would become of him?

What should I do? I hadn't spoken yet. If I slipped out people would think I was angry because the man spoke so long. Even if I explained why I left, the man would be embarrassed. I felt I had to sit it through!

Then I thought, "I wonder if I am wrong! People will think I am angry because of this man's long speech. I must smile!"

And smile I did! At long last the good brother was finished. Now it was my turn. I spoke very briefly. I sincerely complimented the man for his fine address. I complimented the people of the town on having such an excellent citizen. Then after a few swift observations of my own, I was through. When the service was over I quickly greeted a few people and then dashed to the city.

Very fortunately I had no trouble in finding Edward. He was perfectly safe. No harm had been done.

Several days later I met a friend who had been at the service. How he laughed!

"I wish I had that on film," he said. "The longer the man talked the more pleased you became. You seemed delighted that you would not need to say much. And the longer the man talked, the more uncomfortable the host pastor grew. How he fidgeted and wiggled and squirmed and crossed and recrossed his legs! You sat right beside each other. One of you was beaming and the other frowning! It was one of the most comical things I ever saw!"

Little did he know why I had smiled!

How true that is of life! How little do we know sometimes about what is actually going on in someone else's life! How critical we can be, how quick to blame and slow to praise! How we denounce people because they do not act as we think they should! Whereas if we actually knew all the circumstances, we might weep instead!

A classmate of mine at the Seminary one day took his life! Only then was the sad story of his life revealed! If I could live those few weeks preceding his death again, how much more kind, sympathetic, and helpful I would be!

We need not be gullible. We need not close our eyes to, nor sanction, wickedness. But we can be thoughtful and kind. Moreover if we consistently ask God to guide us, He will enable us to discern things as they truly are.

"Man looks on the outward appearance, but the Lord looks on the heart." (1 Samuel 16:7)

"You must not judge by the appearance of things, but by the reality!" (John 7:24, Phillips Translation)

THE CHURCH FOR ALL

... ALL FOR THE CHURCH
The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the Church. They are: (1) For his own sake. (2) For his children's sake. (3) For the sake of his community and nation. (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.

Here is an example of a one-sided battle! It's that same old battle between the irresistible force and the immovable object.

Study the rounding edges of this massive granite formation. The wind is winning—persuasively and very definitely.

Note the deep clefts where chips have fallen from the old block. Rain, snow, ice are the victors here.

And see the pines growing topside on this barren bulk. Each year their roots press deeper into the hidden faults.

What does this prove? Well, for one thing it shows that the lifeless rock is no match for the moving, living, growing forces in God's creation. So never overestimate the strength of that stubborn secularism that sometimes appears to dominate our world.

In worship and religious pursuit, millions are linking their souls with the vital spiritual forces which shall prevail!

If the thought of buying a new furnace bothers you, read this new Three-Step Protection Plan.

First, call Edison. We'll give you the names of electric heat contractors near you. Each has been Edison-approved as capable and reliable (And, right now, each will give you a $150 trade-in on your old furnace if you convert to electric heat.)

Next, the contractor will check your home, review your needs, and recommend the type of heat best for you. He will estimate both installation and operating cost and give them to you in writing. All without obligation. We'll check the quotes if you like.

Then, after your new electric heat system is installed, Edison and your contractor will make any adjustments necessary to the system if operating cost exceeds the original estimate during the first three years of use. At the end of this time, if operating cost still exceeds the estimate, and you aren't satisfied, Edison will remove the system and refund your original price.

That's our new Three-Step Protection Plan. Remember the first step. Call Edison

Meyer Home Preserves Victorian Touch

EDITOR'S NOTE: Following is the third of a series of articles on the five Vintage Homes which will be visited Thursday, October 5 during a tour sponsored by the Women's Association of the Northville Presbyterian Church.

The Howard and Sherry Meyer farmhouse on Eight Mile road, west of Northville, is in a pleasant setting of trees and old buildings reminiscent of the period of the house—about 120 years old. The rambling home was purchased in 1941 as a setting for Mrs. Meyer's antiques collected to that time.

The original grant of land on which the house stands went to William Rue on September 18, 1827. It passed through several hands before the present owners acquired the property. One of those early land owners, sometime early in 1800, was Lucius Althea Knapp.

While the home does not date back to the land grant, its owners estimate that sections of the present structure may date back to early 1800. Beams and stones of the main superstructure appear to be older than other portions of the home.

Howard Meyer is a great-grandson of the Meyer who came to Greenfield township from Bremen, Germany in 1836, settled at what is now Fennell and Meyer in Detroit and acquired the land from Five Mile to Fullerton along what later became Meyers road. The Burton Historical Collection is working with the Meyer family in putting together the history of Greenfield township.

The quiet setting of trees, barn, stable, stone milk house and guest house belie the once bustling farm that was a livelihood for several generations.

Entering the sunroom on the west end of the house one finds a collection of framed buttons about the fireplace, a Cobalt Blue hand painted china clock on the wall and a unique sewing stand of inlaid varigated woods. A recent acquisition—two solid brass temple candlesticks from a Tokyo temple offer a dramatic touch. A camphor wood chest adds oriental air.

The dining room is completely authentic Victorian — having a walnut corner cupboard with hand painted china and a wall niche holding an exceptional collection of Satin Glass Tumblers. This art glass is the pride of years of collecting and is thoroughly authentic. The cherry dinner table with sausage legs extends to serve 18, and the Regina Disc music box of 1896 offers endless music as only one of many types in the collection.

The near formal Victorian atmosphere is extended and given unity by white wallpaper with a gold and green print. This background for the warm cherry and walnut furniture makes the authentic finger carved furniture all the more interesting.

The parlor mantel holds a 150 year old four seasons French Bisque clock and the book case holds a collection of Bisque babies as well as a Gody's Lady Book dated 1868. The sofas are fine specimens of the period and much needlepoint is to be found throughout.

Also in view will be a collection of antique dolls, childrens' Victorian furniture, a cannonball maple bed, a canopy bed and a tall chest on chest.

Down the road a short distance to the west is the Baseline school built 1886. This one room school, grades 1-8, served the Meyer family and 25 others until 1945. At that time with Mrs. Meyer as director of the board of education it was consolidated with Northville.

The trip through the past is best savored by slow driving and slow walking to better enjoy the simple life and lost craftsmanship envied by today's generation.

Dramatic! Distinctive! Daringly new!

'68s Top Secrets are here 1968 Chevrolets

The 1968 Chevrolets are the very essence of modern design. Every line, every curve is in close harmony. It's a smooth, uncluttered look with roof lines compatible with body lines, grilles and bumpers that blend gracefully into long, rounded fenders. Clean, flowing, beautiful in their simplicity, these '68 Chevrolets are rich and advanced in styling beyond any you've ever seen.

A MORE SILENT RIDE

And for 1968, we've gone to every length to give you more peace and quiet inside. The most sophisticated computers have been used to strategically place body mounts and successfully isolate noise and vibration. Shock absorbers have been improved. The wheel stance on many models is wider for greater smoothness. Exhaust systems have been redesigned to make them whisper-quiet. Even the clocks tick more softly. A sound car is a silent car. The '68 Chevrolets are the most silent, highest quality cars we've ever built.

BETTER PERFORMANCE

There are new engines, a bigger standard Six and V8. There's a new 250-hp V8 you can order that runs on regular fuel. Many new engine components increase dependability and keep your new Chevrolet running stronger. There's a new rear axle ratio you can add for greater economy. On most engines equipped with automatic transmissions, there's a special heater for the carburetor which gives you more efficient performance in cold weather. And with every engine, you get the new GM exhaust emission control.

UNIQUE ASTRO VENTILATION

There's a whole new idea in ventilation, called Astro Ventilation, for Camaro, Corvette and the elegant Caprice Coupe. It's also available on many other models. By opening two new vent-ports on the instrument panel, you bring in outside air that can be directed where you want it. This way, you can leave your windows rolled up and add still more to your peace and quiet.

PROVED SAFETY FEATURES

You get the proved GM-developed energy absorbing steering column, folding front seat back latches, dual master cylinder brake system with warning light, plus many more new features. Among them: energy absorbing front seat backs, and safety arm-rests that shield the door handles.

MUCH MORE THAT'S NEW

There are new roof lines, some formal and graceful, others sporty and quick. There are new instrument panels, richly designed and all controls within easy reach. There are new interiors, new vinyls, new fabrics, new colors. There are models with Hide-A-Way windshield wipers and headlights that disappear behind grilles. There are new side marker lamps, new recessed taillights. There's even a new ignition alarm buzzer that reminds you not to walk away and leave your keys in the car.

These are the newest, the most different, the most dramatically changed Chevrolets ever. And they're at your Chevrolet dealer's now. You'll thoroughly enjoy slipping behind the wheel, experiencing the smooth new handling and library-quiet ride and, more than anything, seeing and feeling the even greater quality built into every new Chevrolet for 1968.

Be smart! Be sure! Buy now at your Chevrolet dealer's.

There's more quality and value built into Chevrolets than ever before, making every new 1968 model an even better buy!

WHAT'S BEST FOR DURABLE PRESS?

Home economists agree that durable press garments look best when dried in a clothes dryer. Housewives who already have a new gas dryer and durable press garments say they were made for each other!

The secret is in the even heat gentle tumbling action and special cycles of the new gas dryer. Dried in the gas dryer, durable press fabrics bounce back to their original shape without wrinkles — creases are where they belong.

Schoolcraft

The Schoolcraft College Foundation will have its annual membership meeting at 8 p.m., today at the Conference Room, Administration Building, to elect new members to the board of trustees and to name new officers for the 1967-68 year.

At a meeting on September 7, Robert K. Barbour, Plymouth bank executive, was named chairman of a nominating committee for the meeting. At least one new officer will be named by trustees when they have their annual meeting following election of trustees.

Clifton Hill, Northville attorney, first president of the Foundation, announced at the September 7th meeting that because of the press of business affairs he intends to step down. Hill directed the Foundation during its successful organizational year.

The annual meeting, Hill explained, is open to all citizens interested in the college and the objectives of the Foundation.

"This is an opportunity for all citizens," Hill said, "to take an active part in an organization dedicated to the expansion and development of the college, which has already earned its place as a benefit to the community. The Foundation needs the help of every citizen to provide the backing this fast-growing college deserves. We welcome every citizen to the annual meeting."

Schoolcraft President Dr. Eric J. Bradner told Foundation trustees the college intends to ask voters of the college district to approve a $5.6 million bond issue in June.

A portion of the bond funds, Dr. Bradner said, will be used to assist in the local share of construction costs of a fine arts building and cultural center by 1969.

The Foundation has undertaken plans to develop endowment funds for the cultural center project.

In its first year, the Foundation turned over to the college a sum in excess of $7,000 in gifts from private citizens and organizations for scholarships and grants-in-aid to students.

C. E. Langfield

Langfield Gives Band Another Gift

A $1,500 gift to the Northville high school band in memory of the late Edward Langfield has been made by his son, Conrad Langfield, 501 Fairbrook avenue.

The gift is the second within the past six months by Langfield, who has been a regular financial benefactor and enthusiastic supporter of the band. Earlier this year he presented the band with a $1,000 gift.

In appreciation of the gift, the Northville school board last week commended his continuous support of the band. In addition, the following letter was sent to him by Acting Superintendent Raymond E. Spear:

"It is indeed a pleasure to take this opportunity to drop you a note of sincere gratitude for your most generous contribution of $1,500 to the Northville high school band.

"We receive this donation with warm memories of your father, and will assure you that this contribution will be used in his honor.

"This school district and its band program have much to be grateful for because of your kind generosity and unselfish desire to see our students become well-rounded and more proficient.

"Again, may I extend sincere appreciation."

Novi Students See GM Show

Previews of Progress -- General Motors world-famed science show -- was presented before Novi high school on September 13th.

A non-commercial show, previews has been seen by nearly 35-million students and adults in the United States, Canada and 22 foreign countries.

"We seek through previews to inspire more young people to make science and engineering their career and provide the trained talent America must have to keep pace with the promise of the future," James M. Roche, president of General Motors, declares.

The latest version of the 45-minute stage presentation includes nine different sequences. Designed to show some of the many contributions of research and technology to modern living, the exciting demonstrations are narrated in non-technical language by a specially-trained two-man team. Seven teams take the show to all sections of the country.

A model car powered by sunlight, a roaring jet engine and an air bearing platform that moves across the floor on a thin layer of air, were a few of the features in the fast-moving show.

In the true tradition of show business, previews has been staged under a variety of conditions. It has been presented on platforms of stake trucks in rural areas and on the Starlight Roof of the Waldorf Astoria. Audiences have ranged from groups of fifty to crowds of six thousand.

Previews of Progress has received wide acclaim from educators and civic and fraternal organizations for its success in awakening students and adults to the importance of science and engineering in America's technological progress.

Tips from the STOP AND SHOP CHEF
Questions and Answers
What can be done to prevent cut avocados and prepared avocado dips from becoming discolored on the surface?

Sprinkle the surface of cut avocados with fresh lemon or lime juice. This will delay discoloration for a time. Or leave the seed in one cut half, put the halves together, and wrap them in plastic wrap or wax paper. Avocado preparations such as guacamole and dipping sauces should be coated with light film of mayonnaise, and the bowl should be covered securely. Cut avocados, as well as preparations made from them, should be refrigerated.

SPEAKING

for The Record

By BILL SLIGER

Area sports' fortunes are on the upswing.

Take the Tigers. They're roaring along in first place (at their writing) spreading pennant fever throughout the state.

But this year they're following every pitch - either at the stadium, glued to the tube or with transistor in hand.

Meanwhile, the Lions are acting like they are trying to make Detroit the "city of champions" again (remember that far back?).

Sunday in Green Bay they made the world champion Packers prove it and walked off the field with a 17-17 tie.

The big city sports' writers have decided that Plum's peachy again and that Schmidt has restored pride and (field) punch to the Lions.

And what about our Mustangs?

In their home opener against Class-A Plymouth last Friday evening they served notice to their fellow Wayne-Oakland league members that they're on the field to play.

They came charging back in the fourth quarter to erase a 14-0 deficit in a game that could have gone either way even as the last play was called.

Coach Klukach's gridders will win their share of games this year and give local fans a team to boost.

That brings us to the Northville Booster Club.

It's a locally-organized group of local residents interested in providing extra-ordinary support for the entire athletic program of the high school.

They list their objectives as follows:

--To encourage and uphold the high ideals and traditions of the Northville high school;

--To help in maintaining a superior level of good sportsmanship, clean living, and the development of sound bodies and alert minds;

--To establish methods of recognition, such as banquets, and the financing of same, for all sports;

--To assist in providing special projects relating to sports that are otherwise not provided for;

--The Northville Booster Club would in no way set policy, precedent or interfere in any way with school counseling, coaching or athletes. In no way would it become a pressure group to influence coaches or school board.

--Business of the organization would be conducted by not less than five men. Monies disbursed by co-signers.

The first two objectives of the Booster Club are especially noteworthy of overemphasis of sports per se to the exclusion of its broader role in education.

A healthy and disciplined mind and body are as essential to the classroom as to the football field, baseball diamond, tennis court or wrestling mat.

Occasionally, some of our top professional athletes bring discredit to their occupation. But for every athlete involved with gamblers or barroom brawls there are a hundred Bob Richards, Ted Williams, Al Kalnes, Cazzie Russells, John F. Kennedys, Lou Gehrigs, Gerald Fords - and Steve Judays.

An organization to boost Northville athletes and athletic programs is an excellent idea.

It may help coaches produce more winning teams. It's certain to help the community produce more winning youngsters.

If you're interested in joining the Northville Boosters—like 65 other residents have thus far—contact one of the following organizers: Dave Longridge, Dayton Deal, Gordon Hubbert, Bruce Turnbull, Nelson Schrader, III, or Essie Nirider.

Annual membership dues is just five dollars.

A LOOSE LEAF

By ROLLY PETERSON

There's one television program that's liable to top Red Skeleton in the laugh ratings, although there is absolutely no resemblance between the two whatsoever. "Mannix," which displayed itself for the first time last Saturday, isn't a comedy.

Connors has the prerequisites for the part - swarthy, dashing good looks, impressive black hair, trim lines, a glib tongue - the usual paraphenalia for super-human detectives.

On the face of it, literally, Connors is styled for the part of Mannix. That's the trouble. A surplus of face and a dearth of acting.

No, the trouble lies elsewhere, with the creators, the writers and the producers for having conjured up the monster. They clearly suffer a serious case of myopia and a disease that abounds today - especially in television - lack of creative imagination.

What Richard Levinson and William Link have created is a hybrid form by combining the old and new. Mannix is no more than Sam Spade recast in the "Man from UNCLE" mold, a mix that falls flat.

Mannix, you see, works for Intertech Limited, which, we assume (for it is never made clear) is an international, technical, incorporated detective bureau that looks more like IBM than IBM.

Like 20th century man, Mannix whirls dervishly through his daily routine, shaving while driving to work, knotting his tie on the street, drinking breakfast at a coffee stand and flanking into Intertech offices refreshed.

Through no ordinary means—a closed circuit TV viewer—the boss learns that Mannix has returned. He spots Intertech's best hiding behind a paper, feet propped on his desk. Caught, Mannix responds like an overgrown Huck Finn and walks somewhat sheepishly into his superior's office for his comeuppance.

But Mannix, as we've said, is no ordinary sleuth. He is Intertech's best. Except for a mild reprimand, a slap on the wrist, Mannix gets off the hook, living proof that rules made for average man are to be broken by the Overman.

These are the trappings, the accoutrement taken from a page of "UNCLE" for the express purpose of giving the program that sleek, futuristic look, that wild lure. In my book, it's gadgetry. Strip it from the program and you have a threadbare episode of meagre proportions.

Saturday's story went something like this: the daughter of a wealthy gangster (Sam Dubreo) has, apparently, been kidnapped and is being held for $500,000 ransom.

Mannix gets the assignment, but there's a catch. Mannix must prove his fistic stuff in a brawl with Dubreo's body guard. Who wins? Who else but Mannix, who triggers the brawl by throwing this verbal pearl at the body-guard: "A gun in the hand doesn't mean the world by the tail."

An interesting bit of homemade philosophy, better applied to a television program, "Mannix" by name.

The young mother was crying.

"I just can't go on like this. I can't take it no longer."

You can't really blame them, I said. With the mistakes you've made how can they trust you?

"I know," she sobbed, "but how long does a person have to pay for mistakes? I've learned my lesson; now all I want is a good home to raise my children."

The 18-year-old mother of a year-old baby and now expecting another by a man whom she met shortly after the death of her husband last October is pushing the panic button, scratching desperately for help that's promised but never realized.

For nearly a year she's searched for a home. But because people are afraid "to take a chance" and rent her a home or an apartment the young mother continues to share a four-room hovel with four sisters and a father, who, unable to provide even for himself, has ordered her out.

Last week her plight was disclosed to the newspaper by a VFW member, and the girl, herself, called to ask for help.

No good judge of character, I can't say how sincere she is, nor can I guess accurately the truth of her statements. That she has a real problem and needs help are obvious, however. I've seen the miserable house in which she and her baby live, and I know a little of the family.

It's the kind of home that breeds delinquency, crime and lazy welfare cases. Food and clothing are luxuries; beer and liquor, requirements. The kind of home you read of every week.

The girl's mother divorced her father, married another man who knows even less of how to provide for a family but through the bottle manages to escape his responsibilities.

"I quit school when I got 16 so I could get out," the girl explains. "Now I'm back and trying to get out again. Only now it's not so easy. My sisters will probably quit, too, just to get out of there."

"Daddy just don't know how to raise girls."

What "Daddy" didn't know apparently was inherited by his oldest. She quit school, married a year later and immediately became a mother at an age when her girlfriends were still looking forward to graduation.

Her escape through marriage was temporary. Last October her husband was drafted. Together, the young couple headed South to visit his family before he left for the Army. On the day he was to be inducted, the 19-year-old father stopped the car to fix a flat tire. He was dead before the tire was changed—struck down by a hit-run driver.

They had no insurance, and since he had not yet been formally inducted into the Army there were no government benefits. With the burial of their son, the parents marked "closed" their relationship with the daughter-in-law and infant grandchild so she returned to the home here where all of it started.

Since then people have offered help but when they learn of her past they retreat. She's unable to work but Oakland county welfare agencies have offered to pay the rent of a home—in Oakland county—for two years and then attempt to find her a job.

Suppose a reader offers help, what assurance can you give them? I asked.

"Just my word," she replied.

So there you have it—the word of a desperate mother and the cold facts of past mistakes. Anyone willing to take a chance?

Conflicting Views Clash on Abortion Bill

LANSING—Efforts to legalize abortion under some circumstances have begun slowly in Michigan and without much excitement. A bill was introduced by Sen. John E. McCauley, D-Wyandotte, in the last session to permit termination of pregnancy when deemed necessary for the physical or mental health of the mother; in cases of rape or incest; or where there is apparent danger of serious defect, either physically or mentally, in the child. It is still under legislative consideration. There was virtually no reaction to the bill in the last legislative session. Sen. Robert L. Richardson, R-Saginaw, expressed surprise at this time. Since there was little interest, there was no formal committee consideration. Public hearings, scheduled last month, produced some reserved reactions which nonetheless showed strong conviction. In general, it can be said that the Catholic, Lutheran and Jewish religious groups oppose any form of legality for abortion, while most Protestant churches favor this particular bill. The Michigan Council of Churches supports the idea.

Latest to endorse abortion is the State Bar of Michigan. The attorney organization feels that present laws have only encouraged such operations by unqualified people and to a point where they are a major cause of maternal deaths.

The issue boils down to the difference between pragmatic and dogmatic philosophies. The practical people talk more about the rights of the mother; how unfair and unwise it is to force her to bear an unwanted or deformed child. The opposing view is that the fertilized fetus is a living human being and no one has the right under any circumstances to destroy it. Advocates of this position, while they may lament facts regarding the large number of illegal abortions and the suffering of those who are born deformed, argue strongly that no one has the right to perform 'his operation.

More attention to this issue is likely. Colorado adopted a similar law this year. When time teaches what it can about the results there, Michigan will be in a better position to judge what should be done here. In the meantime, it seems certain that legislators will hear more about this controversial topic from constituents on both sides of the question.

MICHIGAN is losing farm families at the rate of about nine a day. In the past 27 years, Michigan has also lost almost five million acres of productive farm land.

But despite this loss in farm families and the decrease in tillable acreage, Michigan's food production has generally increased, reports B. Dale Ball, director of the Michigan Department of Agriculture.

The trend toward fewer but larger farms, with more production per acre, is a national one, Ball points out. He attributes the phenomenon to greater mechanization, more efficient operation, specialization, and better farming methods.

"Farming has never been more dynamic," said Thomas K. Cowden, Dean of MSU's College of Agriculture. He attributes the drop in farm families to increased productivity per farm man-hour, noting that fewer people are needed to fill requirements of farm production.

This, coupled with expansion of farm operations and a corresponding need for more acreage, has reduced the number of individual farm owners.

John Doneth, MSU agricultural economist, finds that for every nine losses of a "census" farm, the state gains three "commercial" farms. "Commercial" farms are those with gross annual incomes of $20,000 or more while "census" farms can be rural tracts of land with little, if any, farming operations.

"By 1980, we expect 55 to 60 percent of all our farms to be commercial in contrast to less than five percent five years ago and only about 10 percent today," Doneth explains.

FARMING is big business, with big investments in land, in livestock and machinery. At the same time, today's farmer is faced with narrow margins of profit on each bushel of grain, ton of fruit or hundredweight of milk and livestock. He must, like retailers and industries, expand to survive.

Modern farming has attracted corporate interest. Large farms, especially in western states, may be controlled by boards of directors and involve thousands of acres. Capital outlay for modern farm machinery has forced many independent farmers to consolidate use of machinery, much the way businesses rent time on complicated computer systems.

Social Unrest Stymies Cities

BABSON PARK, Mass., Mounting social unrest in our cities admittedly stems from various causes. But a growing number of public officials, educators, sociologists, and businessmen feel that the cities are stymied in their efforts to improve conditions by outmoded state constitutions and laws.

Our founding fathers established a federal system comprising (1) a strong central government with specific powers limited by the Constitution and (2) effective state governments to act as a checkrein on this central authority. Their concept of the proper division of power is spelled out in Article X of the Bill of Rights: "The powers not delegated to the United States by the Constitution, nor prohibited by it to the States, are reserved to the States respectively, or to the people."

For the first 125 years of our history as a nation, this division of power was adhered to. But beginning early in the present century the federal government has been growing stronger and more authoritarian, casting an ever-lengthening shadow over the states. Climbing local costs for education, public welfare, and other services—now threatening to expand beyond the ability of the states to pay—are causing real concern. At last, the urgency of the need to strengthen our system by modernizing state governments is being widely recognized.

IN THE VANGUARD of organizations actively plumping for reforms in state government structures is the Committee For Economic Development. The committee asserts that sweeping revisions of state constitutions are necessary to bring these in line with modern conditions. CED also recommends annual sessions for all state legislatures and substantially higher salaries for members. The Chamber of Commerce of the United States is another advocate of state government reform and is trying to enlist broad public support for such a program. Some Chamber officials believe the states could more effectively administer their services if county government functions were to be expanded and updated.

CEd, the Chamber, and other groups have made several further recommendations...with basic agreement on one point: That Governors of states should be given more authority and responsibility and be provided with adequate staffs and budgets to permit the proper exercise of such authority and responsibility.

Considerable interest is now being focused on Massachusetts, one of the original 13 states—which is about to move toward the first major reorganization of state government since colon-

Enrollment Hits 4,813 At Oakland

Oakland Community College's fall enrollment as of September 11 is 4813, an increase of 18 per cent over last year's 4089, S. James Manilla, director of educational services, announced.

Manilla pointed out that registrations for evening and extension program courses are still coming in so that the complete enrollment figures are not yet available.

Enrollments by campus are as follows: Auburn Hills (Auburn Heights), 1623; Highland Lakes (Union Lake, 1804; Orchard Ridge (Farmington twp.), 1386.

OCC opened its doors to students for the first time in September, 1965, to an enrollment of 3860 students on the Auburn Hills and Highland Lakes campuses. And, as the college begins its third year, its enrollment will have increased approximately 25 per cent from its initial figure, Manilla said.

He emphasized that enrollments were still being taken for many adult education courses which will be conducted at Pontiac Northern high school and Washington Junior high school in the Pontiac area, Troy high school, Oak Park high school, Southfield high school, Birmingham Seaholm high school and the Jardon vocational center in the Hazel Park-Ferndale-Royal Oak area.

For information regarding these off-campus courses, call 642-6210.

PLANS APPROVED—Members of the First Methodist Church of Northville approved plans Sunday for the new church and educational unit to be built on a five-acre site on the south side of Eight Mile road at Taft. Plans for the modern-type building, to cost more than $400,000, have already been approved by the Ann Arbor District Board on Church Location. The educational unit will include staff offices, church school classrooms, fellowship hall and dining hall, kitchen and heating plant. The new church will seat approximately 450 persons as opposed to 250 in the present building. Date for ground-breaking has not yet been established.

SEVEN-FOOT LILY—When friends say Mrs. Delmer Schuler of 48565 West Seven Mile road has a green thumb they need only point to this seven-foot lily to demonstrate their point. Not only does Mrs.

Schuler have to climb a step ladder to reach the top of this Easter lily giant, but when she gets there she can count nearly a dozen blossoms.

Cadillac presents elegance in action!

And the "inside story" for 1968 starts with the biggest, smoothest V-8 engine ever put into a production motor car.

Brilliant new styling • Dramatic new interiors • Totally new instrument panel • Concealed windshield wipers • Improved variable ratio power steering • New disc brakes available • Wide choice of eleven exciting new body styles.

Now, enter a new era of luxury car performance. Cadillac's new 472 V-8 has the greatest torque, or usable power, of any passenger car engine and the newest combination of engine components since Cadillac pioneered the V-8 fifty-three years ago. You will notice a brilliant improvement in passing performance that in no way compromises the reserve of strength for Cadillac's usual power conveniences.

You will also be impressed with its amazing quiet—so remarkable that only its responsiveness reminds you that a great new engine lies under the hood.

Cadillac for 1968 provides, in addition, its well-proved triple braking system with finned drums to deliver smooth, straight stopping power. Front disc brakes are available for those who prefer the further refinement of an advanced disc and drum combination, and this year they're standard on Eldorado. You may also choose a greatly improved air conditioning system that moves more air more quietly.

Whether your preference is for one of the more traditional models—or the classic beauty of the Eldorado—come in soon and discover new elegance and excitement in luxury motoring!
