

Babbitt-Gazlay Speak Vows

Cheryl Ann Babbitt exchanged marriage vows with John Christopher Gazlay in an early fall ceremony at 2:30 p.m. Saturday in Northville First Presbyterian church.

The bride is the daughter of Major and Mrs. Louie A. Babbitt of Bunker Hill Air Force Base, Indiana. Her husband is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Francis P. Gazlay, 221 South Rogers.

The Babbitts are former Northville residents, and the bride's paternal grandmother, Mrs. K. H. Babbitt, lives at 306 South Rogers.

For the ceremony the petite bride wore a white silk organza cage gown over taffeta. The deeply scalloped neckline was outlined with peau de auge lace, beaded with seed pearls. Matching lace appliques adorned the dress and chapel train. A pearl crown held her fingertip veil, which also was edged with matching lace. She carried a bouquet of white roses and stephanotis centered with orchids.

She was given in marriage by her father at the altar decorated with candles and large bouquets of chrysanthemums and gladioli mixed with blue-tipped mums. The Reverend Lloyd Brasure officiated.

The bride's sister, Linda Lee Babbitt, was honor maid. Bridesmaids were Carole Decker, Diane Forbes and Martha Gazlay, sister of the bridegroom. They wore ming blue floor-length chiffon gowns with matching headdresses and shoes and carried nosegay arrangements of blue-tipped mums.

John Lowey was best man; ushers were Bill Lindemann, Fred Franke and Mark Gazlay, brother of the bridegroom. Mrs. Edwin R. Langtry was organist with W. E. Williams singing two solo arrangements.

A reception for 150 guests followed the ceremony at the church. Guests attended from Hinsdale, Illinois; Pittsburgh; Cleveland; and Indiana. Mrs. Gazlay's parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. S. Pettitt, attended from Benzonia, Michigan. Former neighbors Mr. and Mrs. Dewey Butt and their six children came from Wadsworth, Ohio for the festivities.

A buffet supper for the bridal party and relatives followed at the home of Mrs. K. H. Babbitt.

The bride's mother wore a gown of pale blue crepe with matching accessories. The bridegroom's mother was in a royal blue ensemble.

For a wedding trip through the Smokies the bride changed to a beige suit trimmed in suede with which she wore brown accessories and an orchid corsage. She attended Indiana University and Schoolcraft college. Her husband was graduated from Kenyon college where his fraternity was Phi Kappa Sigma.

They will make their home at 19301 Shiawassee, Detroit.

Candlelight Ceremony Unites Race-Scates

Virginia June Race became the bride of Robert Scates in a candlelight ceremony read by the Reverend Lawrence Kinne September 2 at St. Matthew's Lutheran church, Walled Lake, at an altar decorated with large bouquets of white gladioli and mums.

The bride, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Gerald Race, 28000 Dixon road, Novi, was escorted down the aisle by her father. The bridegroom's parents are Mr. and Mrs. Edwin Scates of Livonia.

The bride's gown of white silk organza was fashioned with a lace bodice, its scalloped neckline embroidered with sequins and pearls. The skirt was styled with a lace front panel and a Watteau train. Her elbow-length veil was held by a satin headpiece bordered with sequins and pearls. She carried white carnations and sweetheart roses.

Deanna Bellinger was maid of honor in a royal blue chiffon cage over taffeta with matching accessories. She carried blue-tipped carnations. Bridesmaids Brenda Stabile, Dorothy Johnson and Elizabeth McFarland, also in royal blue sheath gowns, carried bouquets of yellow carnations. Patricia Johnson was flower girl in a yellow gold gown with gold trim that was a replica of the bridesmaids'. Neal Johnson was ring bearer.

David Hawkins was best man. Ushers were Lloyd Johnson, cousin of the bride; Howard Sherman, cousin of the bridegroom; and Gerald Race, Jr., brother of the bride.

For the wedding and reception for 275 guests following in the Wixom UAW hall the bride's mother wore a princess blue chiffon cage dress trimmed with lace and matching accessories. Mrs. Scates wore a pink silk crepe gown with matching accessories. Both wore pink rose corsages.

Guests attended from Detroit, Lansing, Bad Axe, Grand Rapids, Greenville, Birmingham, New Baltimore and St. Petersburg, Florida.

For a wedding trip to Northern Michigan the bride wore a navy linen suit with white accessories. She is a 1965 Northville high school graduate. He is a 1964 graduate of Clarenceville. Both attended Schoolcraft college.

Despite the presence of workmen, incomplete facilities, shortage of some equipment, and expected confusion over location of classrooms, Northville's new junior high school opened Monday with a "minimum" of problems. Students who have awaited the long delayed move apparently were plenty excited about the Big Day because fewer students turned up absent than normally miss school. Classes were shortened the first two days but returned to the regular, 8 a.m. to 2:40 p.m. schedule on Wednesday.

from the PASTOR'S STUDY

Rev. Robert Beddingfield First Baptist Church of South Lyon

It is a common experience to find souls kneeling at the altar and calling upon God with apparent great anguish of heart, but fail to receive anything.

David said, "If I regard iniquity in my heart, the Lord will not hear me."

The righteous Pharisee thanked God that he was not like other men; extortioners, unjust, adulterers, or even as the Publican.

Another sin that will destroy communion with God is gossip or criticism. The childish taunt, that "sticks and stones will break my bones but words will never hurt me" is not true. How many people do I talk to who no longer attend church because their liking for the preacher, the teacher, or the songleader has diminished!

Perhaps unforgiveness is blocking God's blessings. Did you ever notice how quickly a little child can get over a disagreement with a playmate?

These are only a few of the obstacles that can creep into the Christians' life and cause discontentment with self and others.

Are you willing to pray the prayer of David, "Search me, O God, and know my heart; try me and know my thoughts; and see if there be any wicked way in me, and lead me in the way everlasting." (Psm. 139:23, 24).

You'll buy a new furnace maybe once in your life. Here's how to do it right.

First, call Edison. We'll give you the names of electric heat contractors near you. Each has been Edison-approved as capable and reliable.

Next, the contractor will check your home, review your needs, and recommend the type of heat best for you. He will estimate both installation and operating cost and give them to you in writing.

Then, after your new electric heat system is installed, Edison and your contractor will make any adjustments necessary to the system if operating cost exceeds the original estimate during the first three years of use.

Reminiscent of An Era Long Past

Of Ely's Vintage House History Survives Beautification

EDITOR'S NOTE: Following is the last of a series of articles on the Vintage Homes to be visited today, October 5, during a tour sponsored by the Women's Association of the Northville Presbyterian Church.

President Lincoln probably had not yet begun his famous debates with Stephen A. Douglas when the hand hewn timbers were hoisted into place forming the superstructure of the Charles Ely home at the southwest corner of West and Randolph streets.

Today, 21 presidents and well over a hundred years later the house still stands. Years and periodic alterations and additions have erased its original appearance and its early Cape Cod lines have disappeared, but a hard to describe quality remains, despite its modern-day beauty, that is reminiscent of an era long past.

It may be the setting beneath towering pines, its simplicity, or its blown glass windows, but whatever, it radiates untold history of the many families who have made it their home for more than a century.

Records show that Alvah Smith first owned the farm in 1831 on which the house later was built. The Smiths soon sold the property to John Miller, Northville's first settler, who in turn sold it to William Dunlap and Daniel L. Cady. Still later it became the property of William Hay.

The Elys, who have called the house their home for 22 years, can only look at the original timbers and guess the home's age. Nor can they be sure who built it. Any one of the early property owners may have been instrumental in its birth.

Among the most recent families to occupy the house were the Laheys, Frys and Creigers. Harold Bloom's grandmother lived in it many years ago.

The original structure probably included two bedrooms, dining room, kitchen and a parlor. The low, period stairway remains, but a wall has been removed to make a long living room, the front door has been moved from the east to the north side, and the exterior cellar door has been removed. The brick fireplace in the living room has been paneled but its white wood surface complements the house's age. And to give it an added touch of history, Mrs. Ely has decorated it with a bedwarmer that has been in the Ely family for nearly 150 years, coming originally from England. Another family heirloom is the refinished dresser that occupies the "back bedroom." There is little else in the house, Mrs. Ely admits, that has been passed down through the family. Nevertheless, she has decorated the home with a few simple antiques that are combined nicely with modern furniture. She unconsciously displays sentimental attachment when noting that "an old" dining room table "probably has had many families around it."

Mrs. Bloom has given the Elys an antique tureen, which was in the house when Mr. Bloom's grandmother lived there many years ago.

Visitors to the home are impressed by a collection of cruets that began with a purchase at a Presbyterian Church white elephant sale years ago. And they go away fascinated by a collection of 50 or more dolls which Mrs. Ely has been collecting during her trips to foreign countries over the past 20 years.

Then, of course, there's a wall display of early kitchen utensils to spark memories of years past.

Two Students Cited For Scholarship

Letters of commendation honoring them for their high performance on the 1967 National Merit Scholarship Qualifying Test (NMQT) have been awarded to two students at Northville, Principal Fred Holdsworth has announced. Those named "Commended" students are Gary Becker and Michael Conley.

They are among 40,000 students in the United States who scored in the upper 2 percent of those who will graduate from high school in 1968. The commended students rank just below the 14,000 Semifinalists announced in September by the National Merit Scholarship corporation (NMSC).

John M. Stalnaker, president of NMSC, said: "Although commended students advance no further in the Merit Scholarship competition, their outstanding record in a nationwide program deserves public recognition. Their significant academic attainment gives promise of continued success in college."

"The commended students should be encouraged to pursue their education since their intellectual talent represents an important and much needed natural resource. Our nation will benefit from their continuing educational development."

The commended students' names are reported to other scholarship-granting agencies and to the colleges they named as their first and second choices at the time they took the NMQT. The reports include home addresses, test scores, anticipated college majors and career intentions of the commended students. NMSC encourages these students to make every effort to continue their education.

Schoolcraft

A schedule of test dates for the Schoolcraft college counseling tests has been announced by Director of Admissions Barbara Geil.

"If a student has not been formally admitted to the college, he is urged to contact the Admissions Office to make an appointment," said Miss Geil. "Failure to take the counseling tests may prevent the student from taking the course of his choice during the winter term."

Three of the test dates are scheduled for Saturday mornings at 8 a.m. They are: October 14, November 4, and December 2.

The other two dates are scheduled for evenings at 7 p.m. They are: Tuesday, October 24 and Wednesday, November 15.

The first of three concerts on the Schoolcraft college fall semester Humanities Series will be presented at 11 o'clock Thursday morning, October 12, when Flutist Marilyn Jones and Pianist Harpsicordist Uel Wade will present a program of Music for Four Flutes from Three Centuries.

The concert, to be performed in the Library, is open to the public. There is no admission fee.

The program takes its title from the fact that Mrs. Jones has scheduled works for the treble recorder, the German flute, the flute and the alto flute. Works by Purcell, C.P.E. Bach, Telemann, Brahms and Martinu are on the program.

One of the works is "Piece for Alto Flute and Electronic Tape Recording" by Felciano. Its performance will be contingent on whether the work is completed in time for performance on Oct. 12. The piece was commissioned by Mrs. Jones' husband, David, as a birthday gift for his wife. It will be receiving its first public performance at Schoolcraft.

Schoolcraft College President Dr. Eric J. Bradner will head a delegation of four Schoolcraft administrators attending the 24th annual convention of the Council of North Central Junior Colleges in Cleveland, Ohio, October 1-3.

Dr. Bradner, a member of the council's executive committee, will serve as chairman of a group discussion for administrators during the afternoon session on Monday, October 2. The convention will be headquartered at the Pick-Carter Hotel in Cleveland.

Theme of the convention is "Creativity and Diversity for the Seventies."

Can anything be done, either before or during the cooking of hard-cooked eggs, to make certain that the yolks will be centered?
There is no certain way to center the yolks in hard-cooked eggs, but this method will provide reasonable assurance. Simply turn the eggs gently but continuously during the first minute of cooking, and four or five times more during the remaining period.

Hospitals Feel Pinch For Registered Nurses

LANSING — "About 100 nurses are needed, right now, at Sparrow Hospital," notes Roger Busfield, associate director of the Michigan Hospital Association.

Sparrow is a 465 bed hospital in Lansing. Its cry for registered nurses is echoed throughout the state. Urban and rural, large and small, many hospitals in Michigan are feeling the pinch of the R.N. shortage.

William Bresler, business manager of the Michigan Nurses Association, says, "It's not so much a shortage of registered nurses as it is a shortage of working registered nurses." So many nurses have left the profession that there are just not enough to satisfy the demand, he points out.

Young, graduate nurses are soon lost to marriage and family. Many who return to nursing do not return to general duty in hospitals. Instead, they enter private, industrial or school practice. The pay is better and the hours more stable.

The nurses association and the Michigan Employment Security Commission have set up five-week refresher courses for "retired" registered nurses, hoping to attract those who have raised their families back into the general duty field.

The course runs eight hours a day, five days a week and combines classroom instruction with hospital duties. There is no tuition and a small stipend is paid to those who qualify. Legally, any registered nurse who stays registered with the state can practice nursing without taking a refresher course no matter how many years she has been away from the profession. However, most nurses returning after long absences want to be brought up to date, Bresler said.

ECONOMIC security of nurses is also undergoing a change, Bresler says. It wasn't until February of this year that nurses were brought under the Federal Minimum Wage & Hour Act. Until that time, some hospitals didn't pay overtime, he maintains, although policies varied from hospital to hospital.

Wages are just now beginning to reflect the years of education and training required, Bresler maintains.

Busfield, reflecting hospital views, feels that nurses' wages are generally in line with other skilled professions. He agrees there are too many exceptions where pay is still low. He points to a recent survey published by the hospital association which lists the "average starting monthly salary" for general duty nurses in Michigan at $410, up from $390 in 1965. Maximum salary for general duty is averaged at $481 monthly.

BEDSIDE nursing has become the job of nurses' aides and practical nurses, while registered nurses are now bookkeepers. Busfield and Bresler stress this is undesirable.

Although both men agree that R.N.'s are trying to correct the situation, they do not agree with what caused the trend.

Busfield feels that the nurses, by constantly upgrading their profession, "up-graded" themselves into keeping records and leaving routine nursing tasks to those less qualified.

Bresler maintains that "it just kind of happened." Nurses were always held responsible for patient records, he says. As "red tape" increased in hospitals, nurses were assigned more of the paper work. "It just grew like Topsy," he said.

There are three ways to become an R.N. in Michigan. Some community colleges offer an associate degree in a two-year program.

A three-year program is offered by many hospitals. Instruction takes place in hospital classrooms and students pay tuition the same as college students.

A four-year college program leads to a Bachelor of Nursing Science. Graduates of all three programs must pass state exams to become licensed.

Higher pay and more respect for professional abilities must be apparent, says Bresler, before the current shortage of nurses improves.

The state-backed program is expected to entice some 700 nurses back to duty. Hospitals and colleges will graduate several hundred more. These will help, but they cannot fill the need nor solve the problem.

Roger Babson

Panama, Suez Canals Ripe for War or Peace

BABSON PARK, Mass. — Neither the Panama nor the Suez Canal is top news at the moment. But perhaps they both ought to be; for there are rumblings concerning ownership and operation of these international waterways which could tip the scales for war or peace on some tomorrow.

For many months past, the governments of the United States and Panama have been trying to reconcile their differing views on the ownership and operation of the present canal. They have been exploring also the pros and cons of a new, more modern waterway between the Atlantic and the Pacific within present Panamanian borders.

A point at issue is whether we shall remain sole owner of the present Canal and continue to exercise sovereign rights over the bordering strip of land known as the Panama Canal Zone. Pressures from many sources are being exerted to persuade the U.S. to relinquish sovereignty over this area, and it is widely believed that President Johnson may already have decided to do so.

It is easy to sympathize with the burgeoning nationalism of Panama and other Latin American countries, and to understand why their people can so easily be led to believe that the United States—the great colossus to the North—looks down its nose upon the nations of Central and South America.

Perhaps in another burst of misguided generosity we are about to make a strategic withdrawal from a situation and a posture that we had hitherto regarded as sensible and morally justified. If we do relinquish our sovereignty of the Panama Canal Zone, and make other concessions regarding the operation of the canal itself and the disposition of the revenues obtained from it, we must risk having our altruism misinterpreted as a sign of weakness. Hence, in following such a course, we might be inviting outbreak of fresh "brushfires" in Latin America and perhaps ultimate closure of the canal by insurgent elements in Latin America backed by Castro and financed by Moscow.

THE PROBLEM of what to do about the Suez Canal, on the other side of the world, is equally grave. It is four months now since the end of the Arab-Israeli conflict, and the Suez still remains closed. Apparently, President Nasser of Egypt and his Russian mentors and benefactors feel that closure is hurting the Free World more than it is hurting the Egyptian economy, though it is hard to follow this line of reasoning.

Quite obviously, Cairo and Moscow expect the world to believe that closure of the canal will impel Western interests to put pressure on the Israelis to withdraw their troops from the east bank and, ostensibly, leave the way clear for reopening. Whether Nasser and Kosygin believe it themselves is another matter. Meanwhile, there is the real possibility that Israel might seize the canal if hostilities with the Arabs should be resumed.

Despite the ineptness of Secretary-General U. Thant in prematurely recalling, on his own initiative, the 3,400-man UN peace-keeping force which had been guarding the Sinai desert frontier between Israel and Egypt—a move which many observers believe triggered the Mid East War—the dream of international accord lingers. Disillusioned we may be, but still we hope for peace in our day.

The time is not yet. But one day, perhaps, the UN will reach closer to its full potential as a peace-keeping organization. When that time comes, hopefully a meaningful accord on the use and operation of international waterways like Panama and Suez can be arrived at. Meanwhile, we must grope for partial solutions compatible with our own sovereignty and national interest,—and with our sense of international responsibility and fair play.

WELCOME HOME—You do a lot of worrying when your only son, a 21-year-old Marine sergeant, spends nearly all of his 13 months in Vietnam in combat. So when he finally comes home, safe and unharmed, you're mighty happy. And you'll do just about anything to show him how happy you are. Like having a professional painter come up with signs for the house window, lawn and garage as did Mr. and Mrs. Wendell F. Bryce, 19578 Smock road, last week when their son, Fred, came home from the war. Also thrilled by the Northville graduate's homecoming but unable to be present because of a honeymoon was Fred's newly married sister, Air Force Lt. Joan Smock.

Northville Woman Sells First of Her Many Songs

Years of writing finally paid off for Grace S. Miller, 410 Center street, when the lyrics to her song, "Lonely Rider", was purchased by Music City Songcrafters of Nashville, Tennessee last week.

A country music song, of the "song poem" variety that can easily be set to music, "Lonely Rider" is but one of hundreds of songs written by Mrs. Miller, wife of the late Mr. George W. Miller. It is the first she has sold, however.

It was prompted by a remark of a son who said he was considering riding one of his horses to Colorado. "He said it would be a long trip and I added, 'Yes, and lonely, too.' That got me thinking and I started writing."

"Lonely Rider" is to be available soon in both sheet music and records, the proud author said.

"Meter and rhythm of words always held a special attraction for me," she explained. "As a girl in school, spelling, punctuation and English were my favorite subjects. I was about 17 when my first poems were published in The Record back when Mr. Richard T. Baldwin was editor. He always invited me into the office to talk about my writing and would criticize any work I had at hand.

Five Star Music Masters published one of her songs and produced a trial record some years ago, she recalled, "but it was really Mr. Baldwin who gave me my start and taught me much of what I now know about words and rhythm."

Twice Wounded Marine Back on Duty

Marine Sergeant Robert Elwell, a twice-wounded former Northville high school student, has returned to duty in Vietnam following a month of hospitalization.

One of three children of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Elwell, former residents of Northville now living in Farmington, Sergeant Elwell was first wounded in both legs during the bombing of his air base at Dang Ho over the Fourth of July weekend — just a month after ar-iving in Vietnam.

Returned to duty, he was again wounded during the Labor Day weekend—this time when struck in the head by shrapnel. Six of his close friends were killed in the attack.

Mrs. Elwell, an employee at the A&P store in Northville, credits Robert Piser, The Detroit News correspondent in Vietnam, with saving her son's life. "Bob was running from the radar tower for the bunkers with his buddies when he was hit," she explains. "Mr. Piser grabbed my boy, dragged him to the bunker and gave him first aid and then later took him to the hospital. He saved my boy's life, I'm sure."

Ten days after reaching his 20th birthday, the young Marine was decorated with his second Purple Heart and received his sergeant's stripes. Sergeant Elwell has a little more than a year of his four-year enlistment yet to serve.

Interspaced with constant emphasis of proper physical conditioning, diet, rest and health habits, will be ample opportunity to utilize USATCA's many and varied recreational and religious facilities.

Following the completion of basic training, Private Schlieff, who is the son of Mr. and Mrs. William F. Schlieff, of 43540 West Six Mile and Private Chizmar, son of Mr. and Mrs. William Chizmar, of 19360 Maxwell, will receive at least an additional eight weeks of either advanced instruction or on-the-job training to qualify them in a specialized military skill.

As many as half the trainees in each training cycle are eligible for the early promotion, based on scores attained during range firing, high score on the physical combat proficiency test, military bearing and leadership potential.

During advanced individual training, also of eight weeks duration, those who received early advancement to E-2 may be eligible for another "accelerated" promotion to E-3 (private first class).
