UF Drive Opens Tuesday

Citizens Introduced To Unification Study

Northville and Novi quotas for the 1967 Torch Drive were received this week by residential and business campaign chairmen as preparations near completion for launching the United Foundation campaign next Tuesday.

Northville residential quota is $2,596 with the business quota set at $1,195. In Novi the residential quota is $1,310 with a business quota of $3,171.

Frank Ollendorf, Northville city manager, heads up the business area solicitation. Members of his committee who have been assigned specific businesses to call upon are Del Black, Charles Freydl, Jr., Stanley Johnston, Charles Lapham, Al Laux, Richard Lyon, Philip Ogilvie and William Sliger.

Northville residential district chairman is Mrs. David L. Longridge, Jr., 523 Reed. Another Northville woman whose husband's business is in Novi, Mrs. John McGuire, 240 Orchard, is now Novi residential chairman. Robert Metz, president of Inter-Lake Window & Enamalum company of Novi, is Oakland county regional chairman for the area that includes Novi, South Lyon, Wixom and Walled Lake.

Novi and Northville leaders report to Oakland and Western Wayne county chairmen, respectively.

Oakland county goal is $295,517 in house-to-house solicitations with the commercial and business goal set at $69,609.

Western Wayne County residential unit chairman Mrs. Arthur R. Hempe, Jr., of Northville, has the goal of $94,136 for home solicitations. Quota for the Western Wayne community business campaign is $37,346. Directing the canvas of neighborhood businesses, offices, stores and plants in Oakland county is Edward J. Blanch, assistant comptroller of Ford Motor company.

Area contributions will go toward the overall goal of $26,360,595 which is to underwrite operating costs of nearly 200 local, state and national community services. Of this total nearly one million is to be raised through residential solicitations in the tri-county area. The business target is $501,246.

More than 130,000 volunteers will call on neighbors and fellow workers for contributions during the 19th annual drive. It will be the UF's first campaign not headed by the ailing Walter C. Laidlaw. Laidlaw is recuperating from recent surgery. In founding the TD in 1949 and directing each of its record-setting campaigns he established a pattern for more than 2,200 other united campaigns in communities throughout the country.

The campaign becomes official at noon Tuesday when 500 Torch volunteers will gather for a kick-off luncheon in the grand ballroom of the Sheraton Cadillac headquarters. Messages from the campaign general chairman, Robert B. Semple, Wyandotte Chemicals corporation president, and United Foundation president Wendell W. Anderson, Jr., president of Bundy corporation, will be given. Anderson also will signal the opening of the campaign by passing a lighted torch to Semple and challenging chairmen to meet or surpass the goal of the victory drive.

Can Lend A Hand

Here's How You . . .

Expressing the hope that the wordless blue "helping hand" symbol on signs being distributed by the Northville Jaycettes will become familiar to all area elementary and junior high children, Northville Mayor A. Malcolm Allen Monday proclaimed October 15-21 Helping Hand Week.

Mayor Allen signed the proclamation presented by Mrs. Paul Sobol, co-chairman of the project locally.

The hand, displayed in a home window, indicates to a child who is lost, hurt, bullied or accosted that immediate help is available.

Mrs. Peter Lindholm a member of the Jaycette committee, hopes to have hands distributed to participating mothers in all sections of the city and township. Flyers sent home from Northville elementary and junior high schools last week, she reports, have been returned by 75 mothers expressing interest in the program. These, she said, will be asked to fill out questionnaires which will be filed with the Northville police de-

Members of the citizens' committee to study the feasibility of city-township unification got acquainted with one another and their subject last week.

It was the first meeting of the citizens' group, although the steering committee and consultant had met earlier in organizational sessions.

Committee members heard Consultant Donald M. Oakes outline procedure for the four-month study, while Councilman Del Black, chairman of the steering committee, discussed assignments for study.

Oakes provided committee members with material outlining local government structure, assessed and equalized valuations, growth patterns, and an inventory of services such as fire, police, recreation, department of public works, library and rubbish disposal.

Sewer and water utilities, governmental personnel, revenue sources and anticipated growth were also listed in the data compiled by Oakes. He told the group that more information would be available soon including a complete financial report on both the city and township.

Meanwhile, the study committee members were urged to start their own studies in areas assigned and seek out the questions they most want answered. "Rather than provide you with all the material that might lead one to conclusions, we'd prefer that you determine what the questions are. Then we'll help

Slow Justice

Still no decision. That's the word again this week from the court of Wayne County Circuit Judge Joseph B. Moynihan, Jr., on a case heard last May involving residents of Randolph street and the city of Northville.

The residents refused a 25 per cent assessment levied by the city claiming that the paving did not constitute an improvement to their neighborhood, that the street is a thoroughfare and paving and storm sewer costs should be paid 100 per cent from general tax funds.

Board Actions Made Official

Appointment of Raymond Spear as superintendent of schools was given formal approval in a unanimous vote of the board of education Monday night.

The board had appointed him superintendent at a closed session a week ago but formal approval was delayed you find the answers,' the consultant stated.

Black re-emphasized the purpose of the unification study - to determine objectively the feasibility of unification of all or part of the township of Northville with the city now or in the future.

Oakes said that the cost of providing services now rendered in the city to a wider area could be accurately determined.

Members of the unification steering committee are Councilmen Black and Wallace Nichols, Township Trustees Bernard Baldwin and Gunnar Stromberg and Donald Lawrence, representing the Northville Area Economic Development Committee.

City and township residents serving on the citizens' committee and their study assignments are: H. O. Evans, Charles McDonald and Mrs. Donald Schwendemann, public safety; Halton Axtell, Dr. Gordon Forrer and Joseph Petrock, public works; Clifford Jones and William Wiley, public improvements (streets); Harold Lane, Richard Morrone and Frank Whitmyer, public improvements (water and sanitary sewer); Dr. Orlo J. Robinson, Robert Shafer and Wilson Tyler, finance; and Paul Hunt, Richard Ambler and Glenn Cummings, administration and planning.

Black said that one or two more citizens would be added to the committee, but they had not been contacted for confirmation.

By Split Vote

It's Ida B. Cooke Junior High School

By a split vote the Northville board of education formally named the new junior high school "Ida B. Cooke" in honor of a former Northville teacher Monday night.

The decision represented a reversal of an earlier recommendation of a board committee and a departure from an unwritten policy to refrain from naming schools after individuals.

Stanley Johnston and Andrew Orphan, members of the board committee which earlier had recommended that the school be named simply "Northville Junior High School", told board members they had reconsidered their proposal and had decided instead to recommend the "Cooke" name.

In the subsequent board vote on the matter, only Robert Froelich and Richard Martin cast negative votes.

Neither voiced any specific objections, although Martin said he was of the opinion that the board had already decided upon "Northville Junior High School" and Froelich wondered when board members had reportedly "agreed" on the "Cooke" name.

To the latter question, Board President Eugene Cook replied that the matter had been discussed informally among "some" members but not all. As for Martin's contention, the board reminded him that the previous action was acceptance only of the recommendation by the board committee—not of the name itself.

That earlier recommendation had carried with it a stipulation that an appropriate plaque be installed in the school honoring Mrs. Cooke for her many years of devoted service to the public schools.

In explaining the switch in their recommendation, the committee members conceded that public opinion had prompted them to consider the "Cooke" name but that their decision was not made as a result of public pressure. In reviewing the matter, the committee members noted, they had discovered that Mrs. Cooke's name had been considered twice before when names for Amerman and Moraine elementary schools were in the making.

Plans for dedication of the new school, according to Superintendent Raymond Spear, are underway and will be soon announced.

Construction work at the school, he reported, "is pretty much wrapped up" except for the shop and gymnasium, and some equipment shortages still exist in the kitchen, art and home economic areas.

Since classes began in the school, he noted, three major problems have arisen. These include an apparent lack of space in the band room, a high ceiling in the vocal music room, and cramped quarters in the faculty room where no source of water was provided.

Concerning the move, Business Manager Earl Busard said it was accomplished smoothly and Trustee Glenn Deibert indicated he came away from a visit to the school with the impression that students were delighted with the new facility.

Spear, who investigated reasons for the city's increased charge for a sewer tap to the new school, said he was convinced the city was justified in making its charge of $6,880.

The superintendent also reported that the city is attempting to resolve differences in road building specifications with the village of Novi prior to making a decision on possible surfacing of Taft road. Meanwhile, the city had indicated it will grade the road periodically in an attempt to make it acceptable for school transportation, Spear said.

Administrators also noted that Monday was the first day that meals had been prepared in the kitchen of the new school. During the previous week they had been prepared elsewhere and transported to the school. More than 400 of 683 students are buying hot lunches, they reported.

Two weeks ago students and teachers made the long-awaited move to the new junior high school. This week it was the administrative staff's turn to pack up and move to new quarters. The school board and administrative offices were moved from the old library building on Wing street to the vacated top floor of the old junior high. Linda Juday bids farewell to the old quarters at the left as Barbara Tefft totes supplies into one of the new offices.

Township Declines Detroit Water 'Concessions'

The Northville township board took a dim view of a Detroit Water Board request that would permit Detroit to negotiate with Northville State Hospital for the sale of water if the township does not consummate a deal by December 31, 1968.

Supervisor R. D. Merriam told the board at its regular monthly meeting last week that the Detroit Water Board had agreed to make certain concessions under the minimum water useage agreement it has with the township.

The concessions would amount to giving the township credit for water that the hospital would have used during 1965 through 1968, if it had been a township customer.

(Presently, the hospital uses well water. It is negotiating with the township to purchase Detroit water, but must gain state legislature permission. Under its contract with Detroit the township has exclusive right of sale of any water to any customer within the confines of the township).

In return, the township would give up its right to sell the hospital water if settlement were not reached by the end of 1968.

Supervisor Merriam pointed out that

Reappraisal Completed

Township Supervisor R. D. Merriam told board members last week that reappraisal of township property had been completed. The new assessments, he said, would be reviewed Wednesday (yesterday) with the Wayne county assessing officer and James Cutler, employed by the township to assist the county.

Under the new state constitution all property must be assessed at 50 per cent of market value. When assessments are below this level, the state applies an "equalization factor" to all assessments to bring the level to 50 per cent. Last year the factor in the township was 1.28.

The new assessments will not become effective until next year, therefore township assessments will again be increased by a factor, 1.375 this year.

Property owners will have plenty of time to check their new assessments and register protests if they wish. Board of review hearings on the 1968 assessments will be held in March.

Youth Report Set Tonight

A report on proposed programs for Northville youngsters will be made to the public tonight (Thursday) by a study committee of the Youth Services Committee.

Turn-out and response to the proposals will determine whether or not the organization, which was formed last year following incidents of juvenile delinquency, should be continued.

According to Northville High School Principal Fred Holdsworth, the meeting will begin at 7:30 p.m. in the high school cafeteria, instead of the auditorium as reported last week. All interested citizens are invited.

Long Week End For Grade Pupils

Northville's elementary schools, Main street, Amerman and Moraine, will be closed today and Friday for teacher-parent conferences.

First Concert Slated Sunday

Plymouth Symphony orchestra's first concert of its 22nd season will be presented at 4 p.m. Sunday, October 15, in the Plymouth high school with Wayne Dunlap conducting.

Soloist on the program will be Mascha Mischakoff, concert-master of the Detroit Symphony orchestra.

Mischakoff, who plans to retire from the Detroit Symphony after this season, came to Detroit in 1952 after serving for 15 years as concertmaster of the NBC orchestra under Toscanini. Prior to that he played with the Chicago Symphony while Frederick Stock was conductor and with the Philadelphia orchestra under Leopold Stokowski.

Born in Russia in 1897, Mischakoff early decided on his objectives and at the age of seven struck out for himself, going to Kharkov to study violin with Gorsky, with whom his 12-year-old brother already was studying. A year later he became a pupil of Leopold Auer at the Imperial conservatory, graduating at 16 with all top honors. He then served as concertmaster at the Moscow Grand Opera and Moscow Philharmonic orchestra.

Sunday's Plymouth symphony program lists Symphonic Metamorphoses of Themes by Carl Maria von Weber, Hindemith; Symphony No. 8 in G Major, Dvorak; and Concerto in D Major for violin and orchestra, Beethoven.

RETICULES and fans are carried by Northville Woman's club jubilee program committee who donned rustling silk gowns of yesteryear for the club's luncheon program at Meadowbrook country club last chairman of the day. Mrs. Yahne's McKinley-period gown once belonged to a teacher-relative whose pupils at Nonkin school included Henry Ford.

Friday opening the club's 75th year. From left are Mrs. A. J. Verschaeve, Mrs. E. M. Starkweather, Mrs. E. A. Chapman and Mrs. Charles Yahne, program

Judy Nauman Troth Told

Plans for a November wedding are being made by Judith Ann Nauman whose engagement to Dr. John DaSilva is announced this week by her mother, Mrs. Philip Nauman, 21831 Connemara drive.

Judy was to arrive Tuesday from New York City where she has been on the nursing staff at Bellevue Hospital. Her fiancé formerly was associated with the hospital and now is head of the oral surgery clinic at Camp Pendleton, San Diego, California, where he expects to be stationed for two years.

MELODIES that were in vogue around the turn of the century when Northville Woman's club was a "true blue stocking" group are examined by Mrs. E. V. Ellison, right, club president, and Mrs. Harvey Whipple at the club's diamond jubilee luncheon Friday.

In Our Town

By JEAN DAY

CROQUET was the name of the game played on hard dirt grounds between the apple trees in Northville 75 years ago.

The era in which pink roses bloomed on Brussels carpets and homes were surrounded with spindle fences was recalled nostalgically for members and guests of the Northville Woman's club last Friday as the club opened its diamond jubilee year with a luncheon at Meadowbrook country club.

Lending authenticity to the program culled from first-person papers in the club's historybook were costumes worn by the program committee. Mrs. E. A. Chapman's vanilla gown edged and scalloped in bachelorette blue was a contrast to the rustling blacks worn by Mrs. Charles Yahne, chairman, Mrs. E. M. Starkweather and Mrs. A. J. Verschaeve. They read papers describing Northville's early churches and homes and the music of the time.

In welcoming members and guests to the anniversary luncheon Mrs. E. V. Ellison, woman's club president, promised that the club would be marking the year with many special events, including a revival of the Gentlemen's Evening of 1924.

Mrs. Blake Couse welcomed past presidents who traditionally are honored at the luncheon. Response was given by Mrs. Harvey Whipple. Mrs. William Crump announced that Mrs. O. F. Reng is the club's new 25-year honorary member.

MEMBERS OF THE Northville branch, Woman's National Farm and Garden association, will find that "getting there is half the fun" as they ride out to the Highland recreation area to take a field trip through the grounds of Haven Hill, the summer home of the late Mr. and Mrs. Edsel Ford, next Monday morning. There will be a lecture with the field trip.

A day at Haven Hill always has been a popular event for the club. Mrs. Orson Atchinson, publicity chairman, reports, but this month it will double as a fall color tour into the countryside. Members may bring guests. Those attending are to meet at the Kroger parking lot by 8:30 a.m. Today is the deadline for reservations for luncheon in the Haven Hill dining room. They are to be made with Mrs. C. W. Whittlesey, 349-1825.

CHRISTMAS MAGIC — executed with felt, glitter and even coathangers — will be taught in arts-and-crafts series of eight demonstration lectures by Mrs. Gene Cushing. Under sponsorship of the Northville recreation program, the eight lessons will be given from 7:30 to 9:30 p.m. Thursdays, beginning October 19 in the Scout-recreation building, according to Robert Prom, recreation director.

A member of the Northville branch, Woman's National Farm and Garden association, Wilma Cushing has given demonstrations for the club and other area groups in both decorating and flower arranging. Following the examples created by her expert fingers adults taking the class should finish with ornaments and decorations just in time for the holiday season. Mrs. Cushing says each pupil will make a Christmas tree holder — and other decorations, such as snowball trees, cornucopias and felt table squares.

Limited to 20, registrations for the class ($8 for the series) should be mailed to the Northville Recreation department, Northville City Hall. Further information may be obtained from Prom, 349-2287.

TWO NEW NEIGHBORS in Shadbrook subdivision were welcomed and introduced at a coffee given last Wednesday by Mrs. Charles Fountain at her home on Pickford. Mrs. L. H. Robertson was co-hostess.

Mrs. Fountain introduced her next-door neighbor, Mrs. John Balkwill, and Mrs. Louis E. Yeager. The Balkwill family moved into the former home of the John Kerrs. From Greensburg, Indiana, they have a son, John, a Northville high school sophomore, at home and a daughter, Susan, who is a junior at the University of Wisconsin.

Mr. and Mrs. Yeager are not strangers to Northville as they moved from Northville Estates to Pinebrook road in Shadbrook. Their former home on Standstead road has been purchased by the Willard Klotz family from Ohio.

NORTHVILLE'S FIRST Vintage Home Tour was a success the sun shined upon last Thursday. The autumn day brought out almost 500 visitors, mostly from other areas. Mrs. Keith Wright, tour chairman, reports that in the one day between $800 and $900 was raised for the woman's association of Northville Presbyterian church on the tour, the bake and antique sales.

Mrs. Bailey is the former Carolyn Marie Tuthill, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Tuthill of Farmington. Her husband is the son of Mr. and Mrs. William Bailey, 118 East Cady street.

The bride's A-line gown of Irish linen was made by her mother. Seed pearls and cotton lace accented the high waist and edged the elbow-length sleeves and skirt. A floral crown held her illusion veil. Her bouquet was a cascade of carnations and daisy mums.

Maid of honor was Racena Bailey, sister of the bridegroom. Bridesmaids were the bride's sisters, Mrs. Richard Serra and Mrs. Harry Walker. They wore bright pink floor-length crepe gowns and carried cascades of pink carnations and baby roses.

William Bailey, the bridegroom's brother, was best man. Ushers were Richard Serra and Harold Searfoss. A reception at Cregar's Pickwick House followed the ceremony.

An attempt to organize a little league football program in Northville will be made here Monday night.

Parents interested in backing such a program are urged to attend a meeting Monday at 7:30 p.m. in the social hall of Our Lady of Victory Church.

According to Richard Bloomhuff, more than 12 fathers have already voiced interest in starting a program for boys, ages 9-13, and have indicated they will be present.

On hand for the organizational meeting will be representatives of the Western Suburban Football league who will discuss formation of a little league here and show films of little league activities elsewhere.

"We're the only community around without a program of this kind," said Bloomhuff, "and I'm sure there are fathers who would like to see one started."

Persons who would like to see the program started — perhaps next fall — but who will be unable to attend Monday's meeting are asked to call Bloomhuff at FI 9-1957.

Cue Ball Cited

Northville Cue Ball billiard and pool rooms at 120 West Main received a ticket Friday for repeated violation of the city ordinance against having the blinds down in such an establishment.

In issuing the ticket against owner Dennis M. Wilson, Northville police noted that the business had received several warnings, including a personal one from Police Chief Samuel Elkins.

Objections Top 'Airport' Hearing

A capacity audience of about 100 persons jammed the Salem township hall Tuesday night for airing of Ronald Shoebridge's request for a commercial airport.

Decidedly, the majority of people on hand favored the airport, as evidenced by a show of hands. Only about 11 people indicated they were against the proposed expansion of Shoebridge's present private operation.

Yet, the decision rests with the board of appeals and its three members, including Chairman Arthur Graham, Russell Knight and Fred Veran. They are expected to reach a decision within a week.

This marks the second time Shoebridge has made the same request — that he be granted a 'conditional' use permit for operation of a commercial airport. In September of 1966, the board rejected Shoebridge's application.

The Airport, now just a 2,500 foot runway in an open field, is located on Six Mile road on the fringe of Salem's heart.

Whereas residents were overwhelmingly against the proposed commercial airport one year ago, there was an about face Tuesday night. Several times, statements made on behalf of Shoebridge were greeted with a round of applause.

Backing Shoebridge were his Attorney Herman Moehlman, Dean Crane of the Michigan Department of Aeronautics, and Dr. Gary E. Hall, state chairman of the Michigan Jaycees. An asphalt contractor, Shoebridge

Students See Stratford Play

Nearly 180 English students together with five teachers traveled to Stratford, Ontario Tuesday to see the Shakespearean play, Anthony and Cleopatra.

The all-day trip represented an annual project for tenth, eleventh and twelfth grade Northville English class students.

Students and teachers made the trip, beginning at 8:30 a.m. in five Greyhound buses. They returned late in the evening.

The trip for this seventh annual Stratford Shakespearean Festival was provided by the Highway Travel Agency, at $10 per student, under the auspices of the Wayne county board of education.

Following the play, which featured Christopher Plummer as Anthony, students were given an opportunity to question the actors and actresses.

2 Hurt in Hit-Run Crash on Novi Road

Two persons were injured and a driver was jailed as a result of a three-car accident on Novi road south of 10 Mile road late Sunday afternoon.

Injured and treated at St. Joseph Hospital in Ann Arbor were Mrs. Anna Bowers of South Lyon and her daughter, June. Mrs. Bowers suffered a severe face cut, a bruised arm and wrenched shoulder, and her daughter suffered a neck injury.

Jailed and later released on a $200 bond to await trial was Fred C. Ely of Ypsilanti, who is charged with fleeing the scene of a personal injury accident and with drunk driving.

According to Novi police and witnesses, Ely was driving south on Novi road when his car crossed over the center line striking Mrs. Bowers' car and then slamming into a second car before fleeing south on Novi road toward Northville.

Shortly after Novi police radioed Northville police to watch for Ely's car, an off-duty state trooper, Corporal James Thompson, who had given chase, arrested Ely at Eight Mile and Novi road.

The driver of the second vehicle, Karen Ann Tokas of Novi, and three occupants in her car, were uninjured.

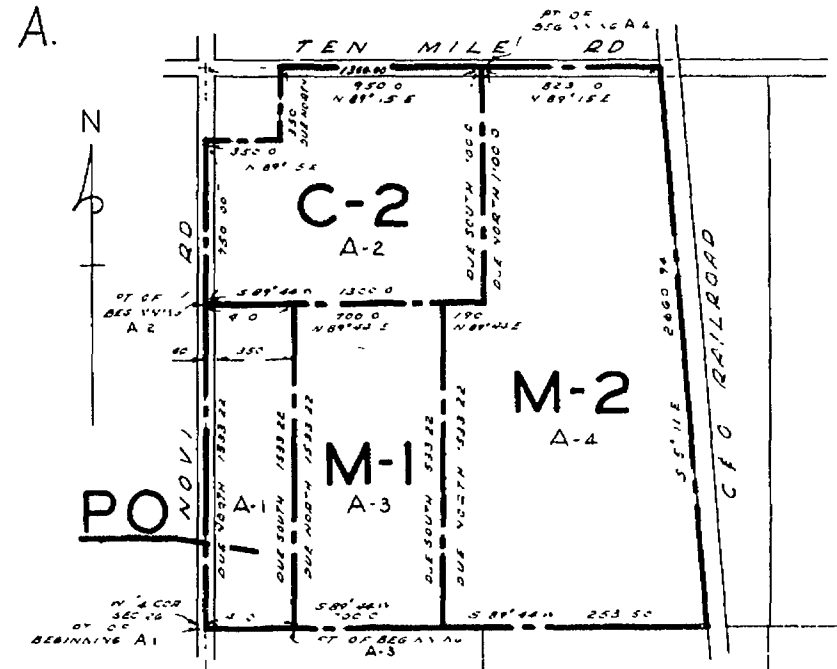

Ely was released from the Oakland county jail on Monday following his arraignment at which time he pleaded innocent of both charges before Justice of the Peace Emery Jacques. He posted a $200 bond, pending trial.

According to Novi police, Ely has a prior "string of moving violations" twice leading to suspension of his license and once to revocation.

Lakers Clip Late Mustang Rally, 34-26

The Mustangs made a game of it, but West Bloomfield's Lakers proved the local gridders didn't know their ABC's well enough.

Arendson, Brennan (Robin and Terry), Carter and Conley were the big difference for the league-leading Lakers at West Bloomfield last Friday night as they held off Coach Alex Klukach's charges, 34-26.

With less than 10 minutes remaining in the final quarter Northville trailed West Bloomfield, 34-13. The Mustangs scored twice in six minutes on long aerials from Quarterback Joe Andrews to ends Bob Hubbert and Greg Carr, but a blocked kick on the final try for extra point left the Mustangs eight points behind and out of range with just 3:27 left on the clock.

West Bloomfield's ABC boys—Rodney Arendson, Quarterback Robin Brennan and his brother, Tim, Tom Carter and Terry Conley—worked smoothly as a unit and frequently fooled the Northville defense. Carter scored three touchdowns and ran for two extra points, while Arendson and Conley scored one TD, and Conley and Tim Brennan added extra points. Robin Brennan tossed two touchdown passes and one aerial for an extra point.

Northville, playing "catch-up" all night long, scored twice on the ground and twice through the air. Quarterback Andrews, having a good night, crossed up the Laker defense on a keeper play and skirted his left end for 52 yards and a touchdown. The score came with 2:44 remaining in the first quarter less than a minute and a half after Conley had plunged over from the one yard line for the Lakers. Scott Bergo converted for the Mustangs to even the score, but the tie was short-lived.

As the first quarter ended Carter took a one-yard pass from Brennan. The run for extra point failed and the score was 13-7.

Northville couldn't move the ball to open the second stanza, while West Bloomfield had help from two penalties, one for 15 yards, in setting up its third score. Carter and Conley both chewed up yardage with runs of 16 and 26 yards, while Arendson travelled the final 14 across the goal line on a well-executed hand-off that caught the Northville defense going the wrong way. Carter ran the extra point across and it was 20-7 with seven minutes remaining in the half.

Both teams held for the next two series of plays. But Northville finally capitalized on a Laker fumble covered by Rick Suckow.

Mark Gazlay pounced on Laker fumbles earlier—once in the opening minutes of play on the Laker 24 and shortly before Suckow's recovery at mid-field. The Mustangs failed to score either time, however.

But Northville took over at mid-field after the latest recovery and crossed the goal line in two plays. Andrews kept the ball and ran for the first 14, while Barry Deal teamed with Andrews to demonstrate perfect execution of the Statue of Liberty play. Deal scampered the final 26 yards untouched. The try for extra point was missed and the half ended, West Bloomfield 20, Northville 13.

The Lakers tallied the next two touchdowns, dominating play in the third quarter. A 58-yard pass from Brennan to Conley featured a sensational catch in a duel between Conley and a Mustang defender.

In the opening minutes of the fourth quarter the Lakers struck again—this time on a 27-yard pass from Brennan to Carter. At 9:47 remaining Northville trailed, 34-13.

About the only bright spot in the third stanza for the Mustangs was a screen pass from Andrews to Deal good for 31 yards around left end. The Northville attack stalled at the 16, however.

Facing a rout, the Mustangs bounced back in the final quarter. Andrews picked up 15 after faking a pass, he connected with short passes to Deal, Dennis Mathews and Ev Greer, and a 15-yard penalty helped as he hit Hubbert for the final 21 yards and a touchdown. Hubbert made a leaping catch to put the Mustangs back in the game, 34-20 with a conversion by Bergo.

Just three downs later Suckow grabbed his second fumble of the evening on the Laker 40 with 4:35 showing on the clock.

Three plays later Andrews found Carr all alone, 38-yards away in the end zone. The up-the-middle pass has been a Mustang favorite this year. The extra point attempt was blocked and now Northville trailed, 34-26, with 3:27 left.

Northville held the Lakers on the next series and a Laker punt that travelled just 10 yards gave Northville the ball on West Bloomfield's 30.

WHOA JOE—Northville Quarterback Joe Andrews made five yards on this left-end run in the third quarter.

GOOD DEAL—That's Northville Halfback Barry Deal on a left-sweep, Statue-of-Liberty play good for 26 yards and a touchdown just before halftime in Friday night's game.

After a five-yard loss the Mustangs tried the Statue of Liberty again and Deal carried for 16 yards to the Laker 28. Three passes and a run failed to gain and the Lakers took over and ran out the clock.

Coach Klukach said it "might have been a different game" if the Mustangs could have scored after recovering a fumble as the game opened. He said the Lakers "executed their plays well, didn't make too many mistakes and threw the ball more than expected." The Mustangs were minus five members of their squad for Friday night's game. They are Pat Cayley (broken hand), Steve Hughes (kidney injury), Glenn Heffner (broken arm), Stan Nirider (head injury), and Greg Krist (boils).

The squad came out of Friday's game without serious injury and Coach Klukach said he expected the team near top condition for Friday's homecoming game with Clarkston.

The Northville coach cited the play of Andrews, Deal and offensive ends, Carr and Hubbert in the Laker game.

Clarkston Cast as Spoiler

Homecoming Festivities Get Underway Today

Northville homecoming activities will get underway today with a bonfire pep rally, hit a high point tomorrow as Northville battles Clarkston in the annual classic, and come to a close Saturday night with a high school dance.

Students will elect their homecoming queen today, voting for Seniors Julia Williams, Luanne Godfrey or Alison Lyke for the coveted crown.

Tonight at 7:30 p.m. students, football players and coaches will gather on the plateau adjacent to the football field for a giant bonfire and pep rally.

Another pep rally will be held tomorrow afternoon in the high school gymnasium where the name of the homecoming queen will be announced. She will be joined by the two runners-up and representatives from the freshmen, sophomore and junior classes, Peggy Lepper, Julie Brown and Bonnie McKinney, for the festivities.

Also on hand for the Friday afternoon pep rally will be the school's prize winning cheerleaders and a newly organized pom pom team composed of 16 girls. This new team of girls, as well as the cheerleaders, are under the leadership of Miss Patricia Dorian.

Also present to lend his team extra support will be Coach Alex Klukach and his assistants.

At 6:30 p.m. homecoming floats constructed by students will assemble near the Kroger parking lot and then parade from Hutton on Main street to Center and North on Center street to the high school athletic field.

Leading the parade will be North-ville's talented marching band, under the direction of Robert Williams.

During half-time festivities Friday, the homecoming queen and her court will be escorted across the gridiron on the arms of their fathers. The queen will be escorted by both her father and the band director.

Planting that traditional kiss at half-time will be this year's N-Club president Jim Peterson.

Judging of floats will take place at half time, with the announcement of the winners shortly thereafter.

Theme for the floats this year is "Legends", while the theme for the dance, which will begin at 9 p.m. in the community building Saturday, is "Camelot."

Northville's football team will have its hands full as Clarkston's league-leading eleven takes the field Friday. The Wolves, who are not a particularly high scoring team, are considered the biggest in the league with enough power to earn them a share of the top spot with West Bloomfield.

In last year's tilt, a spine-tingling goal line stand in the third quarter squelched the only real Northville threat as the fired-up Wolves claimed a 7-0 victory before a screaming homecoming crowd.

Youngsters Sought For Hockey League

Northville youngsters who like to play hockey are invited to join the Plymouth-Northville Hockey Association, which has already opened practice sessions for the coming season.

Coaches Bill O'Brien and Billie Thomas announce that the Plymouth-Northville organization, which is a member of the Michigan Amateur Hockey Association and participates in the Garden City House League, is made up of five teams: the "Squirrels", ages nine and 10; the "PeeWees", ages 11 and 12; the "Bantams", ages 13 and 14; the "Midgets", ages 15 and 16; and the "Juniors", ages 17 and 18.

Several Northville youngsters already participate on the teams, but there are openings in all age groups, say the coaches.

A 14-game league schedule is played at the municipal rink in Garden City. League play begins shortly after Thanksgiving.

Youngsters interested in joining one of the teams should contact either O'Brien at FI 9-0872, or Thomas, FI 9-0425, or Bob Prom, Northville recreation director.

Rifle Club Activities Coming Up

Registration for a junior rifle club, sponsored by the Northville recreation department, will be held Saturday from 9 a.m. to noon, Recreation Director Robert Prom announced this week.

According to Prom, the club will meet weekly for two hours, with members receiving instructions in safe handling, care and maintenance of guns. In addition, demonstrations will be provided during these meetings and members will have an opportunity to practice shooting.

Each member will receive initial training with a Daisy air rifle. Later, after completion of training with the air rifle, youngsters 12 years old and older will move up to the 22-caliber rifle.

The club itself is open to both boys and girls, 10 years old and older. According to Prom interested youngsters will receive additional information as to date, time, place and cost at the time of registration Saturday morning.

Former Fireman, 'Stub' Schultz Dies

WARD E. SCHULTZ

A former volunteer Northville fireman, Ward E. (Stub) Schultz, 55, died suddenly Monday while working at Maybury Sanatorium.

Mr. Schultz, who had been employed for 34 years at Maybury, was a first-class cook at the sanatorium. He served for 15 years with the fire department, including a tenure as assistant chief under the late William McGee.

He and his wife, Esther (Fiscor), whom he married in 1934, lived at 349 South Rogers street. He had been a life-long resident of the community.

Born June 4, 1912 in Northville, he was the son of Barney and Amelia (Witt) Schultz. Besides his wife, he is survived by one brother, Carl of Plymouth, and a sister, Mrs. Marie Brown of Northville.

Mr. Schultz was a member of Northville Post 4012, Veterans of Foreign Wars, having served in the United States Navy in World War II.

Funeral services were conducted yesterday (Wednesday) afternoon from the Ebert Funeral Home, with the Rev. S. D. Kinde, pastor of the First Methodist church of Northville, officiating. Cremation took place at Evergreen Cemetery, Detroit.

ANDREA WILLIAMS

Northville friends of Mrs. W. Leslie Williams, who was the wife of the Reverend W. Leslie Williams, a former pastor of Northville Methodist church, are learning of her sudden illness and death September 19.

Funeral services were held September 22 from Farmington Methodist church with burial in Livonia.

Reverend Williams was minister of the Northville church for six years and superintendent of the Flint district for six years, going to Farmington in June, 1966.

PATRIOTIC EDUCATION WEEK—In honor of Patriotic Education Week, (October 12-19) for which Northville Mayor A. M. Allen has signed a proclamation, two members of the Plymouth Corners Society of the Children of the American Revolution placed a wreath on the grave of a Revolutionary War soldier, Hooper Bishop, in the Novi cemetery Monday.

In addition, society members are exhibiting a display of "Local Landmarks" in the window of Travel Plans, Inc. on Main street in Northville. Placing the wreath as Tom Jordan holds the American flag is Mark Robinson.

ARTISTS' DELIGHT—It was a class decision to paint animals but students let their imaginations go in choosing subjects and colors for the giant display they painted on the blacktopped kindergarten playground area at Amerman elementary school. Nearly 30 students in the fourth grade of Mrs. Robbie Durbin and the art class of Mrs. Barbara Marion participated in the unusual project, which was expected to be finished this week. The project has been in the making for three weeks.

where conflicts develop, they added.

Concerning the board's decision to employ a laundry service rather than continue operation of its own washing facilities, board members also suggested that the administration extend this policy of divorcing the school from other areas of non-educational services.

Vice-President Stanley Johnston presented a report to the board on the city's application for acquisition of the federally-owned fish hatchery property and a preliminary cost estimate of development of the property for educational and recreational use.

Total estimated development cost, as seen by the city, is pegged at $75,570. According to Johnston, the city suggests that the school share in specific development costs such as toilets and shelters, parking, gravel foot trails, etc. at a yet-to-be established formula. Furthermore, such a formula, he said, would be applied in sharing the cost of purchasing the property.

Johnston's report sparked an objection by Treasurer Richard Martin who argued that as a park the facility costs should not be supported by school funds. He noted that the school does not ask the city to share in the cost of purchasing school playground equipment. He said he could not, as a school taxpayer, justify use of school moneys for non-educational facilities but as a city or township taxpayer he would be more willing to contribute for such a facility.

Johnston emphasized that the cost-sharing plan is a preliminary one only and that the city is suggesting that the school share only in those costs which are directly or indirectly related to educational use. Proposed tennis courts and playground equipment, he added, are not included as items for which the school is asked to assist in purchasing.

The vice-president also reported that both he and city officials agree that the fish hatchery building probably should be razed if the property is eventually acquired. He estimated cost to renovate the building at from $40,000 to $60,000.

Business Manager Earl Busard reported that the state labor board is to consider a written brief of the school system relative to its contention that if a bargaining unit is to be given representation here it should represent not only custodial and maintenance employees as requested by an outside union but all other non-certified employees — except clerical — as well. A decision, he said, probably would not be rendered for several weeks.

the building of an airport. It had induced industry, hence dollars, to come to the community.

Shoebridge also emphasized that if he is granted a commercial permit, he will be subject to state and federal aviation regulations and ultimately, to the conditions outlined by the township.

Prime objections to the operation were the anticipated threat to safety of the townspeople and primarily, school children, expansion of the airport to include various commercial planes, and fear that a flight school would be established.

Perhaps the most vehement objector was Donald Rittering, who lives adjacent to the airport. He stated that he was not opposed to Shoebridge operating a private airport for his own use, but he was opposed to commercial operation and inclusion of other pilots and planes.

Quoting national figures, he said in 1965 there were 5,196 accidents involving private and commercial planes, in which 1,029 people had lost their lives. Two-thirds of the accidents, Rittering quoted the statistics as revealing, "were caused by error on the part of the pilot."

Rev. S. D. Kinde
First Methodist Church of Northville

Persons living in the Northville area of Michigan live in the midst of beautiful and fruitful trees. Have you taken a hike down any country road and seen the black walnut and shag-bark hickory nut trees laden with nuts? Have you traveled out Seven Mile, Eight Mile, or Novi Roads and seen apple trees with limbs bowed down with delicious red apples? What an inspiring sight to see the maples in orange and red leaves next to a poplar with yellow leaves showing through coloration that fall is here.

This is a good time to take a camera and hike down one of the nature trails in Kensington Park. One of the trees has stood in the forest there for 250 years and is worthy of a second look by those who walk by.

A tall, stalwart tree is a symbol of strength and endurance. Some of the trees have endured wind, lightning, fire, drought, and the ravaging attacks of insects and disease.

Even a small, twisted pine high on a rocky ledge speaks of strength because it has stood through the years with a meager soil base and stood against wind and snow, and hail.

Such trees are able to stand because they have imbedded their root system in the rocks about them.

We can all learn a lesson or two from a thoughtful study of trees. We need to deepen and strengthen our faith in God so that we may be able to stand tall against the storms and troubles of life. Temptations that beat against our lives like a winter gale need to be faced and overcome. We need to be rooted in a sure faith that we may overcome all evil and do good.

Christ is our example of One who stood for the right and who kept a faith in God. In his good life he towered tall among men like a mighty tree.

Let us read the first Psalm thoughtfully:

Blessed is the man who walks not in the counsel of the wicked, nor stands in the way of sinners, Nor sits in the seat of scoffers; but his delight is in the law of the Lord, and on His law he meditates day and night.

He is like a tree planted by the rivers of water, that yields its fruit in its season, and its leaf does not wither. In all he does he prospers.

This is a great Psalm but I would rather begin it this way:

"Blessed in the man who is like a tree planted by the rivers of water." Finding in the words "planted" and "rivers of water" symbols of that which is necessary for the development of spiritual life. A man must be planted in the Word of the Lord, and in a concept of God as the arbiter of right and wrong, and then out of this faith must come principles by which he lives. He must be a person with roots deep in that from which he draws life and power. He must be planted by the rivers of God's love and grace, from which he obtains constant renewal and refreshment. When a man lives with a faith in God his life becomes fruitful like the tree planted near water.

Take a walk this week and look at the trees in your neighborhood. Let them inspire you as they often do.

Well does the poet Ralph Spalding Cushman put it in "Thy Glory In A Common Tree":

I love a tree,
A brave upstanding tree!
When I am wearied in the strife,
Beaten by storms and bruised by life,
I look up at a tree, and it refreshes me.
If it can keep its head held high,
And look the storms straight in the eye,
Ready to stand, ready to die,
Then by the grace of God can I --
At least with Heaven's help, I'll try;
I love a tree, for it refreshes me!

THE CHURCH FOR ALL

ALL FOR THE CHURCH
The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the Church. They are: (1) For his own sake. (2) For his children's sake. (3) For the sake of his community and nation. (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.

Money in a savings account? Money in a checking account? Money in your pocket? These all add up to a fine sense of security. But as everybody knows, the security of money can disappear. The stock market drops, expenses chew up your savings.

There's another kind of security that is not based on the fleeting, material treasures of life. It is the security needed when sickness strikes, a son or daughter disappoints us, or death takes a loved one. This security chases out doubt and fear. It enables us to go right on living day by day, certain that we will not walk alone. In fact, God has said that He will never leave us nor forsake us.

Discover for yourself this security! In your church you can find those eternal values if you trust in the security of Him who cannot fail.

Lunar Eclipse Coming Up

ANN ARBOR—Get up early next Wednesday morning (Oct. 18).

That's not physical fitness advice, but a suggestion from University of Michigan Astronomer Hazel M. Losh. At 4:26 eastern daylight time on that morning the earth's shadow will begin to fall on the full moon, starting a rare total lunar eclipse.

At the start of the eclipse, the moon will be seen toward the southwest about halfway between the horizon and straight up, said Prof. Losh.

The darkened area will gradually creep over the moon's surface until 5:45 a.m. when the moon will be entirely in eclipse, she said. Mid-eclipse will come at 6:16 a.m. and the totality will end at 6:46 a.m.

"The end of the eclipse will not be visible from Michigan, for the moon will not leave the shadow completely until 8:06 a.m.," she said. By that time, the moon will have set and the sun risen.

"From the very beginning until the final emergence of the moon from the shadow will be an interval of three hours and 40 minutes, with totality lasting about an hour," she said.

Prof. Losh explained that for a lunar eclipse to take place, the moon must be full and in nearly the same plane as the earth and sun.

"The reason we do not have a lunar eclipse every full moon," she added, "is because the moon's orbit is inclined to the earth's path about five degrees. Therefore, the moon usually passes above or below the shadow."

During the partial phase of the eclipse, the earth's shadow will appear dark in contrast to the remaining section of the moon. During the total stage, however, the moon will be illuminated by sunlight which filters through the earth's atmosphere and is refracted into the earth's shadow.

The moon, throughout the total stage of the eclipse, will then "shine with a dull reddish glow, having been deprived of its blue rays by the atmosphere which scatters and diffuses the blue light."

Esch...

Two recent actions by the U.S. House of Representatives have helped to prove predictions that this Congress is in a more frugal mood than its predecessors. Hesitation to give appropriation extensions and the tabling of the President's request for a 10 percent surcharge by a committee have served notice on the Administration that now is the time to halt increased spending.

The hesitation came when the House was considering a resolution giving 30-day appropriation extensions to agencies which because of continued Congressional delays have not yet received funds for this year. On September 27, the House, by a 202 to 182 vote, refused to pass the resolution and sent it back to the Appropriations Committee. The committee then reported out a resolution asking for a 10-day extension which the House approved last week by a voice vote.

The key item that forced the House leadership to hop the resolution in and out of committee was increased support for a Republican amendment which would have required an automatic $5 billion spending reduction. This move, to which I gave strong support, was defeated on the second go around by a mere eight votes. Although our move failed, the closeness of the vote alone was enough to alarm the big spenders.

On the heels of this moral victory came word from the Ways and Means Committee that it would take no more action on a tax increase until the President and the Congress could work out a definite program of spending cuts. Although I am less than optimistic about the prospects of such joint action, the fact that the Committee would table a tax increase indicates that the already overburdened taxpayer may not feel an additional federal pinch in the near future.

What this all adds up to is that this Congress is beginning to realize more each day that we can hold the line on increased spending without jeopardizing our military obligations or essential domestic programs. It also indicates an acceptance by more House Members of what we in the Minority have advocated right along — that spending reductions and the establishment of spending priorities are in order before we consider a tax increase.

Frugality has partially prevailed in these two recent events, but only by the slimmest of margins. Let's hope it continues...

Congressman Marvin L. Esch urges families and friends of soldiers stationed overseas to mail Christmas cards and gifts soon in order that they are received in time for the holidays.

The Congressman also emphasized the need for packages to be bound securely and addressed clearly. He suggested that persons looking for direction on packaging should consult their local postal officials.

McDonald...

The House has passed and sent to the Senate a $25 million bill aimed at preventing and controlling juvenile delinquency and encourages communities to develop new methods of care and treatment for such youth. The legislation is unique in that it authorizes block grants of funds to states on a population basis instead of allowing the Secretary of Health, Education and Welfare to make the grants to any qualifying agency on the basis of certain considerations outlined in the bill.

I believe the block-grant method is a sound approach. It will more directly involve the states and local communities. In the field of juvenile delinquency as in other fields, we must provide the incentive for strong state and local action.

The bill also prohibits the receipt of any funds under the Act by agencies administered, or in any part funded, or contracted by the Office of Economic Opportunity. The block-grant approach was contained in a major amendment offered on the House floor and I believe it is far superior to the narrow, specific, categorical method of distributing funds now in use.

Passage of the new legislation is critical at this time, not only because of the expiration of the Juvenile Delinquency and Youth Offenses Control Act of 1961, but because the lessons of the past six years have re-emphasized the fact that juvenile delinquency is continuing to outrun the Nation's capacity to deal with it.

By implementing the block-grant system I am hopeful that the delinquency problem can be better dealt with. However, we must keep plugging for righting the federal-state balance in the United States through placing more weight, power, and responsibility on the state's shoulders.

Schmidt...

Last week Michigan House members were doing their final homework in preparation for the special fall session called by Governor Romney for Tuesday. Special legislative committee studies have been temporarily put aside as legislators prepare to study and consider the complicated lower court reorganization issue, which is the main agenda item for the October session.

Justice of the Peace and Court Commissioner offices will go out of existence January 1, 1969, in accordance with the new constitution, with the method for reorganizing the lower courts left to the legislature. Since judges for the new lower court system will have to be elected prior to the August, 1968 primaries. Hopes are that a solution can be found this fall to avoid hasty decisions that might be imposed by deadlines during the 1968 session.

There are probably as many suggestions on how to achieve the necessary revamping as there are legislators in the State Capitol. The different opinions make the job all the more difficult since a 2/3 vote in both the House and Senate will be required to pass a court reorganization bill.

Much of the contention is based on two major points: should district courts be adopted as the form for reorganization, and should judges in the new structure of limited jurisdiction courts be required to be lawyers?

The district court concept poses serious problems for less densely populated areas of the state. If a court's jurisdiction covered two or more counties, a person accused of a minor violation might have to travel as much as 200 miles to appear in court. A possibility being discussed is a district court system with court magistrates in outlying areas of the district to handle minor cases.

The lawyer-judge conflict also holds the most important implications in outstate areas, where it may be difficult to find attorneys who are willing to give up their law practice to preside over a court. Another problem raised here is what happens to the non-lawyers who have gained a great deal of court experience as Justices of the Peace.

These are just a few of the many problems Michigan legislators will have to assess and try to find a solution to that is best overall for the state and its citizens.

The first phase of Michigan's new fiscal reform program, a 2.6 percent personal income tax, began operation October 1. Other features of the program, a 5.6 percent corporate income tax, 7 percent financial institutions tax, and tax credits for property taxes and city income taxes, will go into effect January 1, 1968.

Therefore, the tax returns due next April 15, will be concerned only with personal income taxes. An exemption of $1,200 per dependent, double the federal exemption, will be allowed on the state income tax. Double exemptions for blind persons and senior citizens, or $2,400 each, will be allowed.

Over a full year, with all tax credits figured in, the fiscal reform program is expected to produce about $269 million in state revenue. Over the first quarter year of partial operation, approximately $174 million in revenue is expected.

There has been a belief by some, completely unfounded, that no refunds will be made for over-payment through withholding. Full refunds will be made to all who have more than their lawful tax rate withheld. The unfounded rumor is apparently based on the fact that there will be no rebate to a person whose tax credits outweigh the 2.6 percent rate on his income. In cases

NOTICE OF PUBLIC HEARING PLANNING COMMISSION

Township of Northville

At a meeting of the Northville Township Planning Commission to be held in the Township Hall on October 31, 1967, a public hearing will be held at 8:00 P.M. to consider the following:

AMENDMENT TO THE ZONING ORDINANCE OF THE TOWNSHIP OF NORTHVILLE, MICHIGAN DEALING WITH STORAGE OF CERTAIN VEHICLES, AIRCRAFT, BOATS AND DISABLED VEHICLES, WASTE, GARBAGE AND RUBBISH AND OTHER OBNOXIOUS MATERIALS, AND WASTE RECEPTACLES.

AN ORDINANCE ENACTED UNDER ACT 184, PUBLIC ACT OF 1943 OF THE STATE OF MICHIGAN, AS AMENDED, TO PROVIDE FOR THE ESTABLISHMENT OF ZONING DISTRICTS LYING WHOLLY WITHIN THE UNINCORPORATED PARTS OF THE TOWNSHIP OF NORTHVILLE, WAYNE COUNTY, MICHIGAN, WITHIN WHICH ZONING DISTRICTS THE USE OF LAND, NATURAL RESOURCES, AND STRUCTURES, INCLUDING TENTS, AND TRAILER COACHES, THE HEIGHT, THE AREA, THE SIZE, AND THE LOCATION OF BUILDINGS HERE-AFTER ERRECTED, THE LIGHT AND VENTILATION OF SUCH BUILDING, THE AREA OF YARDS, COURTS AND OTHER OPEN SPACES, AND THE DENSITY OF POPULATION SHALL BE REGULATED; TO PROVIDE FURTHER FOR A METHOD OF ADMINISTRATION AND ENFORCEMENT OF ITS PROVISIONS AND TO PRESCRIBE PENALTIES FOR THE VIOLATION OF ITS PROVISIONS; TO PROVIDE FOR A BOARD OF APPEALS AND ITS POWERS AND DUTIES.

THE TOWNSHIP OF NORTHVILLE ORDAINS:

PART 1. That the Zoning Ordinance of the Township of Northville is hereby amended by amending Article XII by the addition of three new subsections, to read as follows:

Section 12.26 PARKING OR STORAGE OF CERTAIN VEHICLES, AIRCRAFT, BOATS AND DISABLED VEHICLES. The storage or parking of trucks over one (1) ton capacity, truck tractors, truck trailers, moving vans, automobile utility trailers, aircraft or boats over sixteen (16) feet in length, in any yard area, or on the street or highway, shall not be considered a legal accessory use in any platted subdivision located in a single family residential district, or in any multiple residential district.

The storage or parking of passenger cars, trucks, farm and garden tractors, motorcycles and motorbikes, which are wrecked, disabled, abandoned, unlicensed or incapable of movement under their own power, in any yard area; or on the street or highway, shall not be considered a legal accessory use of any R-1, R-2, R-3, R-4, or O-S-1 district, except that this shall not prohibit the storage of one (1) unoccupied trailer coach under the provisions of Section 12.15 (c) (10) of this Ordinance and with the further exception that this shall not prohibit the storage of one (1) small automobile utility trailer when said trailer is stored within the garage building or in the rear yard.

Section 12.27 WASTE, GARBAGE AND RUBBISH AND OTHER OBNOXIOUS MATERIALS. No garbage, sewage, filth, rubbish, or any other obnoxious matter shall be kept in open containers, or be allowed to be piled or laid on the open ground, in any use district within the Township, nor shall any owner or occupant of any premises within the Township permit burning of any of the aforementioned items so as to give off excessive objectionable odors or smoke so as to constitute a nuisance; nor shall any owner or occupant permit an unattended open fire upon his premises; nor shall any owner or occupant of any premises within the Township allow waste material, cans, cartons or other debris or rubbish to be scattered over open ground. All waste material must be stored in covered containers and be disposed of on a basis sufficiently frequent to control odor and flies.

Section 12.28 WASTE RECEPTACLES. The occupant or occupants of every building where waste accumulates, and in case of apartments and multiple dwellings, the owner, lessee or their agent, shall cause to be provided for said building, kept clean, and in place, proper receptacles for said wastes, either stationary or portable. In a Multiple Residential District all waste receptacles shall be screened from view on at least three sides by a permanent masonry wall of at least six (6) feet in height.

All interested parties will be given an opportunity to participate in the hearing and at the close of the hearing, all comments and suggestions of those citizens participating will be considered by the Northville Township Planning Commission before making its decision.

A copy of the item scheduled for hearing is on file in the office of the Township Clerk during regular office hours for public examination.

News Around Schoolcraft

Trustees of Schoolcraft College have reaffirmed their intent to continue operating the institution "as an independent community college," in the face of a proposed state plan calling for a county-wide community college in Wayne county.

The college governing board on Wednesday night, October 4, unanimously passed a motion stating its position in response to a request from the State Board of Public Community and Junior Colleges.

A tentative plan developed by the state board calls for establishment of 30 community college districts in Michigan. The plan proposes that District 30 be comprised of Wayne county.

The plan proposes that in addition to the three independent community college districts (Schoolcraft, Henry Ford, and Highland Park) now in existence, sites for the rest of the county should be determined so there are services within equal distances of most of the residents.

The plan provides an option for the three existing districts: to continue to operate independently, or to become part of a Wayne county community college district.

It was on this point that Dr. John W. Porter, executive secretary of the State Board, asked Schoolcraft trustees for an official reaction.

The Schoolcraft board has consistently held the position that it intends to retain its autonomy as an independent college district in Wayne county.

In other business at its regular meeting, the board of trustees approved the leasing of the Northville community center for physical education instruction, intramural activities and varsity sports at a cost not to exceed $2,100 for 870 hours during the school year, and designated the Manufacturers National Bank as depository for Athletic Account funds.

Earl L. Menary Jr., 3609 Ann Arbor Trail, Livonia, led the ticket as Schoolcraft college students elected seven freshmen members to the Student Senate.

Winners, in a field of nine candidates, were: Menary, Ted Pfeiffer, Detroit; Sandra L. Murningham, Livonia; Gary T. Greening, Livonia; Greg Pawlowski, Detroit; Julie M. Collins, 1641 Old Salem road; and Thomas I. Nedeau, Livonia.

Thomas L. Hiebel, Livonia, and Mary Anne Loughman, Livonia, rounded out the slate of nine candidates for a one-year term on the senate.

SPEAKING for The Record

By BILL SLIGER

A report to acquire the fish hatchery property from the federal government has been prepared by City Manager Frank Ollendorff and his recreation study committee.

Actually, it's a "program of utilization" which outlines intended use and general development plan for the parcel.

Under the proposal, which includes only the 13.2 acres on the south side of Seven Mile road, some $80,000 would be spent for site development over a three-year period.

The main building would be removed. Estimates indicate it would cost nearly $50,000 to renovate the huge structure. Instead, at a cost of $19,600, it would be removed, a footbridge installed and a shelter, toilets, sewers and drains constructed.

Later rehabilitation would include filling of low areas, and providing service drive and parking area, bicycle path, foot trails, recreation equipment, tennis courts and craft center.

Land and water wildlife observation and study areas would also be provided on the fish hatchery property.

What is envisioned for the old fish hatchery site is an area combining the natural beauty that already exists with man-provided recreational facilities so that Northville community youngsters and families may enjoy the wonders of nature and the fun of play.

The advisability of acquiring the site for such purpose should be evident to all area officials who recognize that our open spaces are disappearing. True, a wonderful Wayne county park system stretches into our community — thanks to the vision of former officials — but its facilities are already being taxed as suburbia pushes westward.

STRICTLY FRESH

Some guys are Florence Nightingale drinkers. They order a beer and nurse it for an hour.

Family skeletons used to hide in closets. Nowadays they seem to promenade in miniskirts.

The honeymoon is over when she gets off his lap and gets on his neck.

Some of our nonconformist youth would die rather than not conform to non-conformist standards.

What does a miniskirted gal do when she sees a mouse?

Judging by what he delivers to our house, the mailman should be called the junkman.

A crowded Rouge park system, a Ford Motor company football field lost to development, a few neighborhood lots turned into houses, a "country woods" turned into a subdivision... the wide open spaces are gone.

An alert community can prevent this.

The fish hatchery site should become but the first of several sought by the community for educational and recreational purposes.

Sale price of the 13.2 acre parcel is a bargain — either at half or full price. It's $32,750 if purchased for public purposes without federal strings attached, and half that amount if the federal government takes on any of the exact program outlined for the facility.

The program as being proposed in the first draft makes it clear that it has been designed primarily for local use.

While the city has taken the initiative in making application for the property, there's still some uncertainty whether the purchase will be made solely with city funds.

Some councilmembers have raised the question.

Clearly, recreation is a program of community responsibility that more closely follows school district lines than the borders of the city limits.

If agreement cannot be reached on this matter between city, township and school officials, it may require interested citizen pressure.

Frequently, and naturally, individual governmental bodies (city, township and school, alike) politely ignore any financial responsibility that can be shoved elsewhere.

If this happens in the fish hatchery instance, the city should proceed by itself, assuming the leadership that is sometimes necessary to get a worthwhile job done.

A meeting between City Manager Frank Ollendorff and C. A. Smith has settled the misunderstanding that existed over the sale of a Main street building owned by Smith.

It was all a matter of misinterpretation of statements with both sides actually working towards the same goal: an improved business district.

Long a booster and worker for the Northville area economic development program, Smith hasn't curtailed these efforts. And the exchange of letters has stopped.

While Joe Kritch, well-known baseball scout and Northville resident, would have preferred seeing the Tigers in the World Series, the American League winner made little other difference to him.

He had tickets for games three, four and five in St. Louis.

Editorials Get Things Done

By Eugene Patterson
Editor, The Atlanta Constitution
1967 Pulitzer Prize Winner

Newspaper editorials get things done. At times, I've wondered what. By now, I think I know.

They get people to think.

They may think the editor is an idiot. The Atlanta Constitution is rich with readers who hold that opinion. In order to arrive at it, however, they must (1) read his unsatisfactory argument, and then (2) justify their own. This is a painful experience on both counts, which may account for the soreness they exhibit in letters to the editor. But they have had to think about the subject.

And the longer I live, the more I believe the value of an editorial is not so much to carry the day, to convince everybody, or to comfort the good and convert the evil.

To achieve those goals the average editor would have to be a lot smarter than he is.

The true and lasting value lies in getting people to think for themselves, to talk and to argue, and finally to decide whatever they want to decide. The process of thought may have adjusted their decision some small distance toward the side of right, wherever that is.

"I guess a man's job," William Percy's father told him, "is to make the world a better place to live in, so far as he is able—always remembering the results will be infinitesimal—and to attend to his own soul."

An editorial is, of itself, no better than the incentive it provides the reader to attend to his own soul, I think. Whether the editorial opinion itself is accepted is secondary to that. The people will find their own way when they think.

The race issue in the South was editorially muffled for many years. The primary contribution of editors like Hodding Carter and Ralph McGill and Lenoir Chambers lay not so much in convincing all Southerners that segregation was wrong; they obviously failed, had that been their purpose. Primarily, they encouraged people to talk about it—to break the muffled silence, to stop fearing discussion of it, to speak the unspeakable and think the unthinkable, and to realize it was a subject they could argue.

This breaking of silent fear, this beginning of talking and thinking, is the goal an editor shoots for in a frozen situation where minds have ceased to question. The editorial doesn't have to be right. But it does get things done.

It gets the people to think.

Weekly editors call it "Black Thursday" or "Telephone Day". Some are less reserved in labeling the day following publication.

An editor of a weekly newspaper in another city confided in me some time ago: "I don't consider it a good edition unless I've been raked over the coals by at least a half-dozen readers who telephoned me. And when an irate reader takes the time to tell me off in person — then I know it's a better than usual paper."

All of which reminds me of a story that Mark Twain tells in one of his hilarious, funny-bone ticklers. Although the story is a fictitious one, meant only to evoke the reader's laughter, it nevertheless comes painfully close to reality. Since this is National Newspaper Week perhaps the story is an appropriate one to repeat.

Entitled "Journalism in Tennessee," it concerns Twain's experience as associate editor of the "Morning Glory and Johnson County War-Whoop."

Twain, it seems, had been given an assignment to write an editorial about the actions of competing newspapers. He gave the editorial to his boss, who immediately indicated a disgust for it and set to work hacking the editorial apart.

Finished finally, Twain's boss proudly declared: "Now that's the way to write — peppery and to the point. Mush and milk journalism gives me the fantods."

The revised article was indeed peppery to say the least. It labeled the editors of the "Semi-Weekly Earthquake" as inveterate liars, the boss of the "Thunderbolt and Battle Cry of Freedom" as an ass, the "Mud Spring Morning Howl" people as besotted blackguard, and the "Daily Hurrah!" as a mustard-plaster.

Obviously, the boss' "peppery writing" had appeared in earlier editions because, during Twain's short employment with the newspaper, the office of the "Morning Glory" was a battleground for irate readers. Vocal tirades, however, did not bother Twain. It was the pistol shot that clipped off his finger, the explosion that knocked out a couple of teeth, and the bullet that "ended its career in the flesh part of my thigh" that finally convinced Twain that newspapering was not for him.

And when the boss guessed his associate editor's reaction and commented, "You'll like this place when you get used to it," Twain replied:

"I'll have to get you to excuse me; I think maybe I might write to suit you after a while; as soon as I have had some practice and learned the language I am confident I could. But, to speak the plain truth, that sort of energy of expression has its inconveniences, and a man is liable to interruptions..."

"...No; I like you, and I like your calm unruffled way of explaining to the customers, but you see I am not used to it. The Southern heart is too impulsive; Southern hospitality is too lavish with the stranger. The Paragraphs which I have written today, and into whose cold sentences your masterly hand has infused the fervent spirit of Tennesseean journalism, will wake up another nest of hornets. All that mob of editors will come — and they will come hungry, too, and want somebody for breakfast. I shall have to bid you adieu. I decline to be present for these festivities..."

Don't Laugh, 'Satellite City' Can Happen in Northville

To the Editor:
Detroit and Mayor Cavanagh have, I hope, finally given the City and Township of Northville all the incentive they need to get down to serious discussions relating to consolidation of the two and cut out all the nonsense.

A so called satellite city for Detroit in this area may sound "stupid," "a harebrained idea," or as "a politician's pipedream" to some of our local officials, BUT it sounds like a pretty fair idea to the Editor of the Detroit News (see Saturday, October 7, 1967). It made pretty good sense as well to one Kent Mathewson, president of the Metropolitan Fund Inc. — a private, nonprofit research organization interested in metropolitan area problems. It also has backing from other groups as related in the Sunday, October 1, 1967 editions of the News which broke the story. Realistically the idea could get off the ground and become a reality without too much real difficulty. Our officials, including state officials from this area claim, since this would affect other large metro areas in the state, the legislature would not pass such a measure. I for one beg to differ with this type of false reassurance — it can be done, and in fact may be done, it's very simple, all the proposed bill has to say at its ending is, "the above law shall apply only to counties in excess of two (2) million population," and the ridiculous then becomes fact, it would apply only to Wayne county. You don't believe me, just check our state laws and learn how very many do apply only to Wayne county. Laws are passed every session practically, and they apply only to Wayne county.

Further, the Federal government may make available money grants for this type of study, it is looking for answers to big city problems. That, precisely, is what Cavanagh is attempting to do — unload Detroit's problems elsewhere. Go back in history just a little bit — he's offered Maybury San to the state for a dollar if they would use it as a half-way house for returning criminals — beautiful — thank God the state turned him down. A home for Detroit's hard core high school dropouts — more fun for us, he didn't say anything about furnishing us with a large police department to then take care of his transplanted problem. Since they (Detroit) pay us no taxes on their property we couldn't afford a police department. At the present time they are converting part of the San into a rehabilitation center. Our township zoning ordinances permits municipal buildings to be used in almost any manner — you can check that one also, it could give us a lot of trouble.

Cavanagh said we would object on the grounds of race. If he's talking about transferring one of his ghettos to this area, then yes, we should complain as should the people being transferred since it would still be a ghetto only in a different area. On the other hand, if an individual of any race, creed, or color had the where-withal to move here or anywhere else that's his business and good luck to him.

Meanwhile, back at the ranch, the age old argument goes on between the city and township, as to who has the most of everything and why should we merge with you, etc., etc., etc. Our township official, who shall remain nameless, is violently opposed to consolidation with the city and won't even listen to arguments for it. Just the other day he said, and I quote, "It's a case of the have-nots wanting the haves." The statement was coupled with, "they (the city) just want our $2,000 sales tax rebate." If that's all we have we're in trouble!!! That kind of money won't begin to do the things that will shortly be necessary in Northville township, what with all the residential building going on. We need a few more factory chimneys to help with the taxes and we're not getting them.

We do need much additional fire equipment — shortly we'll need police — garbage collection — possible incineration of same, and many more things come with progress and we are moving forward like it or not. Progress is here to stay in Northville, regardless of some of the roadblocks.

There is presently at work on behalf of both these fine, desirable, communities a "Unification Study Committee". It would be my fervent hope that their findings and recommendations would be made known to the public and in fact may the self same public be permitted to vote on their recommendations. Any question of this nature should go on the ballot, but it can't get to the ballot if the officials sit on the recommendations of any study committee in either community.

In closing, I do wish to say thank you for your time and space, should you reprint in the Northville Record the above ramblings of a local citizen. In any case it's off my chest.

Michigan Mirror

State's Doctors Lead Nation in Service

LANSING — Michigan doctors have an outstanding record contributing their services around the world. Only California, where more doctors are licensed, can match it.

The Hope hospital ship, which visits countries inviting it, has 31 physicians and two medical students from Michigan on its staff. For this volunteer service, medical personnel receive no pay, and only moderate living expenses.

Ill and injured Vietnamese are cared for by a separate program sponsored by American Medical Association and supported by the Michigan State Medical Society. Eight Michigan doctors are currently working in Vietnam to help fill the gap left by their need for military service. Vietnam has only 1,000 in the whole country and 650 of these are in the Vietnam army. The remaining 350 care for the country's 15 million civilian population.

American physicians receive a $10 per day living expense, and travel expenses to and from Vietnam. They serve for two month periods in one of the 16 provincial hospitals.

MEDICO is another plan which involves Michigan physicians overseas. It is administered through CARE. Six doctors from the state participated in MEDICO in Asia and Africa.

Many other physicians volunteered their services under church-sponsored medical missionary work.

Dr. Charles H. Moseley, director of the AMA plan, explains, "This program has done more to improve the image of the American physician than any I know of. The Vietnamese people know that a physician who closes his office and comes as a volunteer to their land is making a sacrifice for them."

NINE MILLION books must be added to state school libraries to meet minimum standards.

Michigan has 4,484 school buildings, but only 1,095 have central libraries with full time librarians. Only 840 have space adequate for quality library service.

If Michigan schools are to attain recommended standards, 3,389 school librarians must be added.

Expenditures for library materials should total $6 per elementary pupil and $9 per secondary pupil. In 1965, Michigan averaged $2.13. These are findings reported by the Joint Committee on School Library Development.

Substantial improvement results from federal funds. The state receives an annual allotment of $4.7 million. This has been used to:

Establish 20 area-wide centers to distribute instructional material to schools.

Catalog books so schools without library supervisors can file volumes according to the standard Dewey Decimal classification.

Provide consultants to train school personnel in proper library procedure.

Make available scholarship funds for students desiring library careers.

Extend use of a mobile unit to counties which need facilities to train teachers on the use of audio-visual aids.

The State Department of Education feels these improvements are helpful, but the level of library services are still less than they should be.

SCHOOLS near ghettos can be used to fight injustices of inner-city life under a resolution adopted by the State Board of Education.

The nine point program, proposed by State Superintendent of Public Instruction Ira Polley, would require an $11.8 million legislative appropriation. It would begin in fall of 1968.

Polley's plan includes using school facilities after normal school closing hours for additional teaching sessions and recreational programs.

He proposes class reductions to 15 students from kindergarten through second grade for personalized student attention, and a pre-school program for four-year olds to accclimate them to the school environment.

These special courses would be offered for 10 weeks during the summer. Federal funds could provide student employment for youths in work-study programs.

High school students who have demonstrated ability to do college level work would be eligible for $800 grants to help them continue their educations.

Polley proposed a "College Service Corps" to enlist the aid of college students in tutoring and working with youths from underprivileged homes. He also feels consideration should be given to relaxing academic eligibility requirements so more youngsters can participate in school athletic programs. Polley sees athletics as a positive influence in keeping student interest in the school and a means of giving underprivileged youth self-pride and incentive to stay in school.

The budget proposal to activate the programs will be submitted during the 1968 legislative session.

Retail Sales Hit September High

BOSTON, PARK, Mass.—Sales of retail stores just chalked up a new all-time high for September. That is good news for everybody...especially for merchants from coast to coast. For the late summer surge came hard on the heels of a sluggish performance that had most retailers scratching their heads and wondering why Mr. and Mrs. Consumer were saving so much and spending so little. Now we can confidently look forward to the "best-ever" ringing of the nation's cash registers, come Christmastime.

Recent months have seen personal income persistently poking into new high ground... to the tune of average monthly chunks of better than $4 billion each. Disposable personal income (what's left after taxes and other payments) had been lagging total personal income. The gap seemed to be the result of a greater disposition on the part of consumers to save more. Perhaps all the spring talk of a "mini-recession" had made people cautious.

Latest figures, however, indicate that spending is coming back into fashion. The September surge at retail stores is a most promising omen for Christmas sales. We can foresee new records without half raising our eyelids; and if we look real hard, it is not difficult to predict gains over Christmas 1966 of 6%, or even 8%. Not everywhere, of course, because big strikes will still be pinching consumer pocketbooks in some areas.

NEITHER WAR in Vietnam nor strikes here at home will have too serious an impact on the flow of available goods. Unless, of course, the expected upsurge in store sales should be even greater than we anticipate. In that case, some shelves could be bare for last-minute shoppers.

Fact is, supplies of most goods are plentiful. Not only are we pretty well assured of having both guns and butter; we can also count on generous amounts of quality and luxury items. Next year may be a different story, but for Yuletide 1967 shelves will be well stocked and quality and variety will be more evident than ever.

Most manufacturers, wholesalers, jobbers, and retailers are already optimistic with regard to sales performance during the upcoming holiday season. Some, however, are more cautious,—fearing perhaps that this year's higher prices may prove to be an unfavorable factor. In our opinion, the balance of factors favors optimism. Consumers, generally, are better off financially than they were a year ago. They are able to take higher prices in stride and most probably they will do just that...in response to diligent and well-directed sales effort on the part of merchants.

ONE WORD of caution for buyers, however. It will definitely pay you to shop early this year. Labor and other costs are still rising, and you'll pay more for many a gift in mid-December than you would have had to pay in October or November.

Strong consumer buying power and a disposition to use it will be combined this year with greater availability and wider selection of merchandise than ever before. This combination promises to add up to at least a 6% boost in dollar volume of Christmas sales over the record trade achieved in 1966. Because of higher prices, however, the increase in physical turnover may not be more than 3%-4%.

Retailers should find their increased volume leading to bigger profits compared with the first three quarters of this year. But they will be hard put to improve profitability over their experience at Christmastime last year. Stores that will chalk up the best profits records will be those whose managements make a wise—though not excessive—use of promotions while at the same time keeping a sharp eye on sales personnel performance. And above everything else, hold a tight rein on costs without scrimping on customer services.

Accountants Study Tax Law

Florence Kates and Patricia Clinton of Kates Tax-Accounting Service, 108 North Center street, together with 600 owners and employees of independent accounting firms, studied the new Michigan Income Tax law at a recent workshop in Lansing.

Independent accountants, who are expected to process nearly one million local, state and federal returns for 1967, were instructed by Clarence W. Lock, commissioner of Michigan Department of Revenue, and six key officials from the department's newly-organized income tax division. The workshop is believed to be the biggest single educational program ever undertaken by the Independent Accountants Association of Michigan, an organization that represents 500 accountants and tax practitioners.
