

Retired in 1960, But...

Jill, Queeny... 100-Year Team

She cupped her hands over her mouth as she stood there at the end of the lane and shouted: "Here Queeny, here Jill."

From up the farm lane, now framed in weeds and vines of disuse, two grey giants raised their heads into the wind, hesitated a moment and then trotted obediently into the barnyard. For more than 35 years this same team of workhorses have been answering the familiar call but now it means only that food is waiting — no plow, drill or wagon.

The two horses and the empty barns are the only remaining links to the once bustling activity that was so much a part of the 160-acre Fuerst farm in Novi.

Today, the farm goes untilled, and the farm equipment is collecting dust.

"The horses are the only things we have left to remind us of the past," said Ruby Fuerst wistfully after calling the horses. "We could never give them up; they're part of the family."

The two workhorses, probably the last remaining in this area, were retired to the pasture in 1960 shortly after a Record-News photographer snapped a picture of the animals pulling a cultivator through a cornfield. Carved from the countryside more than a half-century ago, the Fuerst farm once housed dozens of cows and horses and its fields were dressed in healthy crops. The stable of workhorses was the finest in the area but its owner turned eventually to the more productive tractor to till the soil.

When Jacob Fuerst, Sr. died in 1941 at the age of 80, only two of his horses remained. He had kept them as kind of a reminder of the success they had brought to his Novi farm and to the farm he once owned near to the University of Detroit.

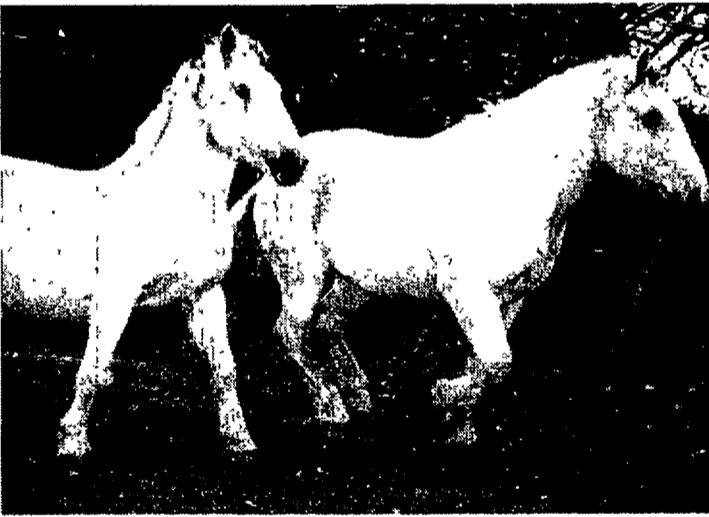

"Papa or brother Jacob bought the horses long before they died — at least 35 years ago," recalls Miss Fuerst. "We had a lot of horses at the time so we didn't pay much attention to exactly when or where he got them."

Another of Fuerst's daughters, Iva, believes they may have come from the farm that became Echo Valley subdivision.

Big and apparently still strong, the horses — at 35 — would in human terms be nearly 100 years old.

"But they're healthy and I can't remember them ever being sick. The only times we have trouble with them is in the winter when they slip on the ice. They're not shod so they can slip and fall pretty easy."

"Oh, but aren't they pretty? So gentle and nice. Can you blame us for not wanting to get rid of them?"

Township Employs Police To Enforce Ordinances

Formation of a police department for the purpose of enforcing local ordinances has been approved by the township board.

At a special meeting Tuesday the board emphasized that the authority of the officers was confined to enforcement of township ordinances, such as the ban on hunting and unlicensed or stray dogs.

The department as established comes under the direction of Supervisor R. D. Merriam, who has hired Ronald Nisun, an elected Livonia constable, to assist Northville Township Constable Richard Mitchell.

Recently, the township purchased a radio-equipped patrol car. Constable Mitchell and Officer Nisun man the vehicle and can be reached by calling the Wayne county sheriff's department, telephone 721-2222, and requesting patrol car number 75.

The matter of the extent of the authority of the local officers came in for discussion at the Tuesday board meeting when Supervisor Merriam reviewed the role of the township officers in apprehending a trio accused of robbing a Northville service station, and when Mr. and Mrs. John Riley of West Main street commended township officers for action on Halloween and urged continuation of the service.

All four of the board's trustees, Thomas Armstrong, Bernard Baldwin, Gunnar Stromberg and James Tellam,

Early Copy Deadline

Deadlines for news and advertising copy in The Northville Record-News and South Lyon Herald newspapers will be advanced by one day next week.

Because of the Thanksgiving holiday next Thursday, the newspapers will be published early for Wednesday home delivery.

Deadline for classified advertising will be Monday noon. News and display advertising will be accepted until 4 p.m. Monday. Copy that can be submitted Friday and Saturday morning will be appreciated.

Correspondents are asked to submit their copy no later than Sunday afternoon.

Community Tops UF Goal

In the final hours of the 1967 Torch Drive last week Northville and Novi went over-the-top in their residential campaigns.

Mrs. David L. Longridge, Jr., division chairman for Northville, reported a complete residential total of $2,604.85 to top the goal of $2,596. Assisted by Mrs. Robert Kucher, she made last-minute return calls late Tuesday to achieve her goal.

In Novi, Mrs. John T. McGuire, who filled the residential chairmanship just as the campaign got under way, zoomed past her goal of $1,310 by $256. Her total of $1,566 achieved 116 per cent of the goal set, topping the overall achievement of the metropolitan UF score of 104.5 per cent.

Commenting that she "came in late" and had to recruit workers just as the 23-day drive was beginning, Mrs. McGuire praised the efforts of her Novi volunteers who covered Novi, part of Northville township and a portion of Walled Lake.

Wixom, in the Commerce township division in Oakland county, also exceeded the residential quota with Commerce reporting 110 per cent of its goal. The Commerce business quota exceeded its goal of $1,630, bringing in $2,066 for a 127 per cent.

Northville business district also reported a successful campaign under Frank Ollendorff. With $955 collected by the first of the week, Ollendorff said the district definitely would be over $1,000 with eight calls remaining to be completed of the 110 total.

Mrs. Arthur Hempe, Jr., of Northville, who served as Western Wayne county residential unit chairman during the campaign, reports that last-minute work and call-backs took Western Wayne over its goal of $94,136. Her 105.4 per cent victory brought the WW unit in second among the five units that comprised the campaign areas.

Northville also supplied a regional chairman for the 19th annual torch drive. Mrs. David Vincent served as regional chairman for Northville, Livonia and Redford area. Area and regional chairmen turned in final figures at the Victory Dinner Thursday at the Sheraton-Cadillac hotel headquarters. Mrs. Longridge reports they were rewarded by the appearance of Lorne Greene, Dan Blocker and other "Bonanza" TV stars. They also met the 1967 "Miss Torchy," Jacqueline Piper.

Schools Enlist 'Weather Watchers'

An 11-member team of "weather watchers" will assist in determining when Northville schools should close this winter because of impassible or dangerous roads.

Business Manager Earl Busard revealed establishment of the new weather-watch system to the board of education Monday.

The 11 members, all women living in key areas of the district, will report their findings of road conditions on days of inclement weather. These findings will be compiled, said Busard, and after consultation with state and local police either Busard or Superintendent Raymond Spear will make one of four decisions:

- Close schools completely;
- Delay opening of schools for a definite period of time;
- Open schools to walkers only and not operate buses;
- Declare buses will run on main roads only, such as Five, Six, Seven and Eight Mile roads.

Upon making a decision, Busard or Spear will notify three radio stations, WKMR, WXYZ, and WJR, "hopefully" before 6:30 a.m.

With that decision, Busard said, each school's individual "fan-out" system will be triggered. This means a key parent for each school will notify other parents, and these others until all parents of children bussed to school have been contacted.

The 11 weather-watchers are Mesdames Herbert Bissa, Willard Wilson, Douglas Bolton, Orin Hove, Robert Tefft, Edward Baughman, Edward Pilarz, Earl Egbert, E. O. Weber, Kenneth Morse and Lawrence Wood.

District Supports Vocational Study

Support for a proposed study to determine the feasibility of a Schoolcraft college area vocational center was approved by the Northville board of education Monday.

Similar board support is being sought by Schoolcraft from the other four school districts making up the college district — Clarenceville, Garden City, Livonia, and Plymouth.

Purpose of the study, according to Schoolcraft representatives, is:

- To determine the need and feasibility of a center serving five school districts;
- To investigate and project population characteristics and enrollment patterns as they would relate to the center;
- To investigate occupational demands and establish criteria for selected programs that could be offered in the center;
- To determine the scope and adequacy of present vocational education offerings in the local districts;
- To recommend policy guidelines for administration in the operation of the center;
- To recommend plans for implementation and financing.

Specifically, the center envisioned at this date would service high school students who may be receiving little or no technical training in the local school districts.

By law, Schoolcraft is designated to serve post-high school students in this area, and it also is designated to serve high school students provided local school districts are interested in having the college perform this function.

Formation of an executive committee and a "Blue Ribbon" citizens' advisory committee is contemplated, Northville school board members learned.

Membership of the executive committee would include superintendents of each of the five districts, the chairman of the citizens' advisory committee, and the president, chairman and

Township Trustees Lose 'Bonus Terms'

The new state law awarding "bonus" terms to township trustees is unconstitutional and it now appears at least two local officials will face re-election next year.

That's the word from a spokesman for the Attorney General's office, who told this newspaper Monday that the State Legislature has been advised that the portion of State Act 215 dealing with terms of trustees elected in 1964 is unconstitutional.

"No doubt the Legislature will have to enact something to correct (the law), probably call for an election in 1968," he said.

Bi-partisan efforts by Legislators are already in the works, he said. Specifically, township officials had earlier been informed that the new state law, in an attempt to abolish "lame duck" township boards, had extended four-year terms of trustees elected in 1964 to November 20, 1970.

Now, however, the Attorney General has ruled that this provision is unconstitutional since the new constitution provides that township trustees may serve no more than four years nor fewer than two years.

Northville Trustee James Tellam and Novi Trustee Charles Goers are affected locally since they were elected to four year terms in 1964.

While the Attorney General's ruling concerned only those trustees elected to four-year terms in 1964, the spokesman indicated it probably would affect, too, the four-year terms of trustees elected last year. Under the original provisions of the act, the terms of these trustees were to be extended to November 20, 1972.

The ruling would not, he said, affect the extension of terms of township officers, such as supervisor, clerk and treasurer, although the legislature may decide to make some changes here, too, in any revision of the law it makes in conformance with the constitution.

Santa Issues Call for Help

Santa's Workshop needs workers! Members of the Northville retail merchants' committee for installation of the "Santa Workshop" display have issued a call for help. This year the work must be completed on one week end, this Saturday evening and Sunday.

The committee has suggested that each local retailing firm could help get the job done by sending one representative. Any interested local citizen would be welcome, however. Helpers are needed Saturday beginning at 6 p.m. and all day Sunday. For more details, contact Mrs. Fred McLean at the Spinning Wheel.

The community Christmas display, located in the American legion hall, will be open to the public beginning Friday, November 24.

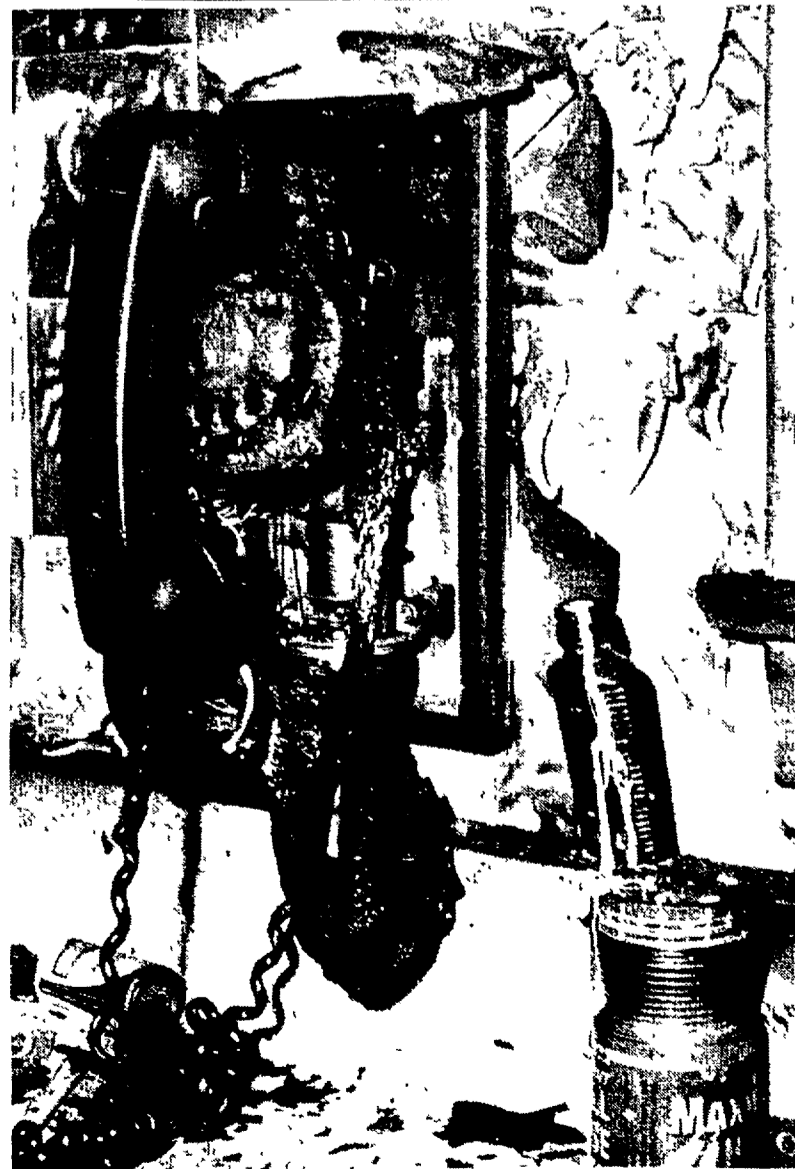

Act 215 had extended two-year terms of township officers elected in 1966 to November 20, 1970.

Still another provision of the act, which reportedly is constitutional, is the abolishment of four-year terms of trustees after 1972.

Had the Attorney General found the new act constitutional, all officers and trustees, whether they were elected in 1964 or in 1966, would enjoy an extra 19-months in office without facing election.

Primary purpose of the act was to abolish "lame duck" sessions of the township board in which officials elected last November did not take office until this past spring.

Recognizing the problem inherent with the "lame duck" board, the legislature moved to change the time for taking office from April 10 to November 20. It is this part of the act that the Attorney General found to be unconstitutional.

HOT LINE—The last call from this kitchen wall phone of Robert Moe went to the fire department.

Flames and heat then ended its service for good. See story on Page 7-A.

Family Tradition Plays Wedding Role

Family tradition and sentiment played a large part in the wedding of Judith Ann Nauman and Dr. John Pereira DaSilva Saturday at Our Lady of Good Counsel church, Plymouth.

Father Robert Schaden officiated at the 9 a.m. service at the altar decorated with white fuji mums and red-and-yellow daisies. The bride is the daughter of Mrs. Philip Hall Nauman of Conemara drive and the late Mr. Nauman. She was given in marriage by her mother and brother, Robert P. Nauman.

For her wedding the bride wore a champagne-hued gown, designed and made by her sister, Mrs. Harry A. Christman of Frankenmuth. The Empire bodice and sleeves were of lace from her mother's wedding gown. The sheath skirt was of imported sheer wool. A tiny pillbox held her fingertip illusion veil.

On the lace bodice Judy wore an antique diamond brooch, which had belonged to her great-grandmother and had also been worn by her sister at her wedding. She carried a cascade bouquet of bittersweet, centered with a Glamefia. As an added bit of sentiment, she wore a lucky sixpence in her shoe, brought back from England recently by Mrs. William Crump.

Mrs. Christman, who was her sister's matron of honor, wore a floor-length gown of cranberry velvet styled with wrist-length bell sleeves. She carried bronze fuji mums in a cascade of bittersweet.

Dr. DaSilva, who is the son of Mr. and Mrs. F. F. DaSilva of Pawtucket, Rhode Island, invited Dr. Peter Corbett of New York to be best man. Both were associated with Bellevue hospital in New York city where the bridegroom was chief of oral surgery. Ushers were the bride's brother, Robert, and brother-in-law, Harry A. Christman. For the ceremony and dinner reception following at Hillside Inn in Plymouth, the bride's mother wore a rose brocade sheath with matching floral hat and a gardenia-and-bittersweet corsage. Among the 115 guests were out-of-townsmen from New York, New Jersey, Lansing, Ann Arbor and Frankenmuth.

Among the guests was the bride's uncle, Bernard H. Smith, who was soloist at the wedding. He was joined by Judy's aunt and two cousins, who sing professionally as The Smith-tonians, as they led a serenade to the newlyweds at the reception.

In the wedding cake, made by the bride and decorated by her aunt, Mrs. George W. Nauman, were silver charms with wishes "from Judy and John."

The petite bride is a graduate of Western Michigan university and the University of Michigan from which she received her bachelor of science degree in nursing. Her husband was graduated from Tufts college and dental school in Boston. He now is in service, stationed at Camp Pendleton, California.

For their car trip to California the new Mrs. DaSilva changed to a bittersweet corduroy pantsuit with reptile accessories. She wore a corsage of two Anthurium orchids. Their future home will be at 1807 South Meyers, Ocean-side, California.

In Our Town

By JEAN DAY

AN OUTSTANDING young woman in this area who has participated in community affairs "in ways which will endure" is being sought to be the recipient of the second annual community service award from the Northville Jaycettes.

The young woman the Jaycettes are seeking to honor must be active in civic or educational life, be a resident of the area and be not less than 21 and not yet 36 years old (by June 30, 1968).

The Jaycettes have sent letters to local organizations asking for nominations. Nomination forms also are available through Mrs. Omar L. Harrison, 453-6442, committee chairman. They must be returned by the November 25 deadline.

Northville's winner then will be entered in the state contest in which four outstanding young women are selected from throughout the state.

Last year's recipient of the Jaycette auxiliary's first award was Mrs. Robert (Jean) Arlen, who was cited for her activities in the Republican party and in the Northville-Plymouth women's federation.

The Jaycettes plan to honor this year's recipient at a coffee December 16.

OPERA ENTHUSIASTS and Northville workers for Detroit grand opera — Mrs. Ernest J. Shave and Mrs. Donald Ware — participated in the dawning of the silver anniversary year of grand opera in Detroit last Wednesday as they attended a general meeting and sherry party-and-luncheon at Grosse Pointe Hunt club.

Mrs. Ralph T. McElvenny, 1967-8 opera general chairman, was hostess for the party at which 80 women heard upcoming season plans, which include expansion of the popular Overture series during March and April.

The association brings the Metropolitan opera from New York to Detroit for a week each spring. Mrs. Shave has been an active member of the committee working to achieve this musical treat every year. Last year she was joined on the area committee by a second Northville area representative, Mrs. Ware.

Both report they are happy to answer local questions about these presentations and to assist in getting tickets for the operas.

A TINY gold-and-enamel pansy pin, smaller than a dime, is the distinctive jewelry Mrs. Levi Eaton is wearing this week. It was given to her by Kappa Alpha Theta to mark her 50-year-anniversary in that organization.

Mr. and Mrs. Eaton and Mrs. Carl Bryan returned just a week ago from an extended cruise-tour of Europe. They left September 27 to join a Presbyterian tour that began with a 13-day cruise September 30 on the Italian liner, the Raffaello, which included the Canary Islands and Gibraltar on its ports of call.

After touring throughout Italy, the group continued through Austria, Germany, Switzerland and France. There they embarked at Cherbourg for New York on the Queen Elizabeth. The trio was wished bon-boyage and then welcomed back by Dr. and Mrs. Harold Fredsell of Stamford, Connecticut. Dr. Fredsell was formerly pastor of Northville Presbyterian church and now is with the National Presbyterian in New York.

ALSO JUST back from Europe are Mr. and Mrs. E. O. Whittington of Stratford court. A high point of their European trip was a visit to Budapest, Hungary.

Mrs. Whittington returned with just three days to prepare a display of Christmas crafts for the guest day dessert-meeting of the Northville branch, Michigan Farm and Garden association, Monday at Northville Presbyterian church. She credits her committee of eight with all the preliminary work.

A holiday workshop session will be held at the Whittington home November 27.

HOLIDAY DESIGNS for Thanksgiving and Christmas centerpieces, mantels or for gifts were demonstrated at the Garden Club meeting by Dewey Gardner, assisted by Lila Collins.

Emphasis was placed on the use of artificial flowers and fruit, candles, dried materials and plants in conjunction with live flowers. When bright ornaments are used in a planter, Mrs. Collins pointed out, these later can be removed and the recipient still has a growing decoration.

Noting the increased cost of civic decorating for the holidays, the club voted to resume its donation to the Retail Merchants association and contribute $25 toward Christmas decorations.

Mrs. William Slattery pointed out that last year 3,000 children visited Santa's workshop sponsored by the association.

Mrs. Slattery welcomed Mrs. Hiram Pacific as the club's newest member. Mrs. Donald Ware was named new social chairman, replacing Mrs. Reuben Jensen, who has moved to Indianapolis.

A PRE-THANKSGIVING open house, which has become a Sunday-before-Thanksgiving tradition with two Main street merchants, Stone's Gamble store and Lila's flower and gift shop, this year also will include participation of The Barn Door antique shop a Main street neighbor.

Also participating for the first time in the holiday open house will be across-the-street merchants, Lapham's and Hugh Jarvis Gifts. Both will be displaying gift items and dispensing refreshments.

All will serve refreshments with Gamble's officially opening this year's Toyland. Special holiday arrangements and new decorations will be unveiled at Lila's, now owned by Dewey Gardner. As befits an antique shop, the Barn Door will decorate with greens and serve wassail and cookies. All will be open from noon to 6 p.m. Sunday.

Seven Troops Of Brownies Open Season

This fall Northville has a record number of seven Brownie Troops organized and meeting. Mrs. Warner Krause, Girl Scout Brownie organizer for the Northville area, announced this week.

This is one additional troop over last fall's six groups, which set a record then. In all, Mrs. Krause said, the troops have enrolled about 145 second and third grade girls.

There are three troops meeting in the scout-recreation building, three at Amerman elementary school and one at Moraine School.

Amerman troops and their leaders are: Troop 149, Mrs. Richard David, leader, Mrs. David Biery, co-leader, Mondays; Troop 211, Mrs. Angelo Chinni, leader, Mrs. William Milligan, co-leader; Fridays; Troop 220, Mrs. Keith Pixley, leader, Mrs. John Frew, Kathy Lister, co-leaders, Tuesdays.

Meeting at the scout building are Troop 205, Mrs. George Purcell, leader, Mrs. Daniel Swayne, co-leader, Tuesdays; Troop 223, Mrs. Kenneth Beyer, leader, Mrs. Donald Ritenour, co-leader, Tuesdays; a new troop with Mrs. Leroy Armstead, leader, and Mrs. James Mahoney, co-leader, Mondays.

Moraine Troop 214 with Mrs. Michael Anusbigian, leader, and Mrs. Roy Cohn, co-leader, meets Tuesdays. All troops meet at 3:30 p.m.

'Helping Hands' Need More Help

Northville's Helping Hand program still is short-handed with volunteer mothers needed in town and in all areas of the township. Mrs. Peter Lindholm of the sponsoring Northville Jaycette auxiliary said this week in an appeal for more help.

Instituted this fall to help young school children who become confused, lost or injured, the program needs mothers who are home especially during just-before and just-after-school hours and at lunchtime in walking areas. Participating mothers or any interested citizens display the identifying sign of a blue hand in a window to signify to a child that immediate help is available.

The program was used for the first time last week when a new pupil at Amerman elementary school lost her way and appealed for help at a "Helping Hand" home. When the volunteer called the school, the newcomer's mother already was there seeking her child.

Mrs. Lindholm said that the program now has 70 volunteers with six more being processed but many more are needed to cover every block. Only the Village Green and Northville Heights areas are completely covered. More are needed in town and in township subdivisions.

Pointing out that it takes from two to three weeks for an application to be processed (police check every applicant), Mrs. Lindholm asked that anyone interested call as soon as possible. Her number is 349-1596.

MYI To Open 4th Season

Musical Youth International will open its fourth annual season on Saturday, at 2:30 p.m. in the Saline area high school. The MYI 1968 tour group, concert band and chorus, representing more than fifty Michigan and Ohio high schools, are Mexico-bound for the month of July.

Dr. Lester McCoy, musical director, will introduce the current staff and outline the year's plans.

A special feature of the afternoon's program will be the annual presentation of awards to prize winners in the People-to-People essay contest, which Senator Bursley personally sponsors. Margaret Becker of Northville won first prize in 1966. Laurel Montague of Detroit captured the highest award in the 1967 contest.

FLORAL DESIGNER Dewey Gardner displays some of the Thanksgiving and Christmas arrangements he created Monday for the Northville branch of the Michigan Farm and Garden association at a demonstration session at First Presbyterian church. Lila Collins was commentator for the floral show.

OPERA WORKERS—Mrs. Ernest J. Shave, center, and Mrs. Donald A. Ware, left, discuss 1968 opera plans with Mrs. Ralph McElvenny at the luncheon given by the latter last Wednesday at Grosse Pointe hunt club. Mrs. Shave is Northville chairman for the Detroit Grand Opera association, sponsor of the annual Metropolitan performances in Detroit in May. She was joined on the committee last year by Mrs. Ware. (See In Our Town.)

Woman's Club Tea Set Friday

"The Changing Roll of Women" will be discussed at the tea-program of the Northville Woman's club at 2 p.m. Friday in the meeting room of Northville Presbyterian church.

The speaker will be Mrs. Samuel Greenawalt, a member of the Oakland university Continuum Center speakers' bureau. She was graduated from Northwestern university with honors.

A resident of Birmingham, she is an active volunteer worker, is married to a banker and is the mother of three children. Her varied career includes being a dance teacher and a model. Mrs. James Tellam is program chairman of the day.

The local Junior Miss title is given to the high school senior between the ages of 16 and 19 who best typifies the ideal American teenager. Judging includes personality, talent, scholastic achievement, and personal appearance.

The girl chosen as the local Junior Miss will be presented a scholarship and the Junior Miss trophy. She will also travel to Pontiac where she will compete in the state finals.

The state winner then will compete in the national finals in Mobile, Alabama. The national winner shares in the $42,000.00 America's Junior Miss scholarship fund.

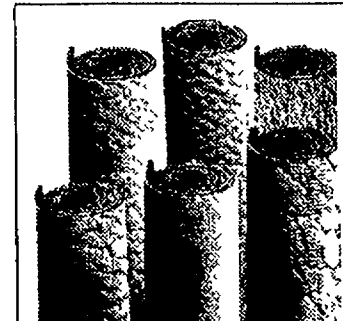

Girls interested in the pageant are asked to contact Miss Florence Panatoni at the high school or Joseph Kluesner at 349-5019 for further details.

1-Card of Thanks

Our thanks to everyone who attended at our son, Norman, during his accident at school Friday. A special thanks to Mr. Iverson.

Mr. & Mrs. Lewis Carver

The family of Alexander J. Funke
Sr., wish to extend their appreciation during their recent bereavement to the following persons and organizations:
Father Wittstock, O.L. Victory students and parishioners; Fred & Emily Casterline; American Legion #147; Veterans Foreign Wars & Aux. 4012 and to those persons who attended and extended their sympathy.

The Willard Lambert family would like to send out a warm and heartfelt thank you to all the wonderful neighbors and friends who so generously helped us in the past two weeks. It made our burden much lighter to know others cared.

We wish to extend our heartfelt thanks to everyone for their many expressions of sympathy in our recent sorrow. Each kindness was much appreciated. Our gratitude and thanks to Dr. Griswold and Dick Phillips for their help.

Men to Conduct Sunday Service

First Methodist church of Northville will observe Layman's Sunday on November 19 with the following laymen in places of leadership: 8:30 a.m.
Service-leader, 8:30 a.m., Elroy Ellison; leader of responsive reading,
William Bates; reader of Scripture,
Thomas Routhieux; and prayer by Russell Amerman.

The sermon at both services will be delivered by Layman Kenneth Knapp whose topic will be "Ambassadors for Christ."

At the 11:00 service the presiding layman will be Richard Norton; leader of responsive readings, L. M. Lancaster; reader of Scripture, John Hobart; and prayer by Ralph Gallagher.

Layman's Day is celebrated throughout the Methodist church in October but in some churches other dates are selected.

Guest organist will be Gale Kramer of Ann Arbor.

District Supports

vice-president of the board, two vice-presidents, and dean of technical vocational instruction, all from Schoolcraft.
The citizens committee, as proposed, would include one board member, principal, businessman, industrialist, professional (not education), labor official and vocational director from each of the five districts.

Thus, the executive committee would include 12 members, the other 35 members.

In voting its support for such a study, the Northville board also reaffirmed its support of a similar study to be conducted by the Wayne county board of education. The board several months ago had approved support of the county study, which has not yet gotten beyond the planning stage, and at that time indicated its willingness to provide personnel assistance.

The proposed Schoolcraft study, though still in the planning stage, is considered in a better position to proceed rapidly because of the existing facilities and the personnel available to assist in its fulfillment.

Northville Secretary Glenn E. Deibert, while voting in favor of the Schoolcraft study, suggested that the proposed executive committee, which will eventually consider financing, include local citizen representation or local elected officials to better insure the study's successful implementation through public support.

Present at Monday's meeting to explain the proposed study were B. William Secord, Northville's representative on the Schoolcraft board of trustees, and Joseph Bergen.

School Board OKs Three Contracts, 2 Without Bids

Three contracts for services or equipment, two of which did not involve a bidding procedure, were approved by the Northville board of education Monday night.

One of the contracts sparked a abstention vote by Trustee Andrew Orphan because the purchase was not put out for bids.

Orphan abstained in the board vote to approve a $7,325.28 purchase of junior high science and social studies equipment from Nystrom corporation of Chicago.

Superintendent Raymond Spear said the equipment purchase was not put out to bid because it would have meant disruption of the junior high school's attempt to provide equipment that complements existing equipment and the school's teaching program.

The superintendent said a study of types of equipment that could best produce a coordinated program had been in the works for several months.

Orphan said he found no fault with the equipment itself or with Nystrom but voiced objection to purchasing equipment without bids.

Electrical services of Gillis Electric company — to the tune of $2,590 — drew no objections, although no bids for this service item were sought. However, it was noted that an unwritten quotation of $3,000 had been secured from another company. That higher quotation plus the fact Gillis Electric could provide immediate electrical service to the proposed new bus compound led to his recommendation that the contract be awarded Gillis, Spear indicated.

The same board vote authorized installation of additional lighting for the compound on a rental basis by the Detroit Edison company.

The low bid of $2,827.33 furnished by Wayne Fence and Supply for fencing of the compound also was approved by the board.

Concerning the junior high school equipment purchase, Business Manager Earl Busard explained that 48-percent of the cost will be reimbursed by the Federal government.

All bids for life insurance coverage, submitted by more than a half-dozen firms, were rejected because the companies did not have sufficient personnel data to submit bids based upon comparable formulas. New bids are to be sought with ages and sex of personnel to be included in specifications.

The administration was authorized to attempt again to secure Detroit Edison lighting service at Moraine elementary school and, in the event the company finds it still cannot provide the service, to secure bids from companies for installing the necessary electrical apparatus.

A snow removal agreement with the city of Northville, at the rate of $15 per hour for salting and $12 per hour for plowing of school sites, was approved.

A special meeting of the board was set for 7:30 p.m. on Wednesday, November 22, for the purpose of opening bids and awarding the sale of notes on anticipated tax collections. Other action at this meeting, to be held in the old library building, is to include appointments to the board of canvassers.

While other board members voted to authorize the administration to seek applications for the board of canvassers, Secretary Glenn Delbert cast a negative vote, saying he objected to the fact that the board must appoint two Democrats and two Republicans to the board of canvassers.

He objected specifically to the fact that politics are involved. When reminded that the appointees must be political party representatives by law he said he objected to the law.

Because of this special meeting and because of the upcoming Thanksgiving holiday, the board voted to cancel its regularly scheduled special meeting on Monday, November 27.

NEW DEALER—Danny Cook, 24, recently discharged from the United States army after serving in Vietnam, has been named dealer at the Standard Oil service station at the corner of Church and Main streets. Cook, who lives at 8707 Chubb road, said that present employees will remain with the firm, the name of which has been changed to Cook's Standard Service.

Woman Hurt In Novi Crash

A Plymouth woman was seriously injured at noon last Saturday when the car she was driving crashed into a parked truck near the Novi road-Grand River intersection.

Taken to Botsford General Hospital, Mrs. Merry Lynn Madden of 14290 Northville road suffered chest injuries, police said. Hospital officials reported her condition as satisfactory Tuesday.

According to witnesses, Mrs. Madden was driving along the outside lane of northbound traffic and was prevented from moving into the inner lane by a pick-up truck traveling in the same direction.

The car struck the unoccupied truck with such force, police said, that cutting tools and a winch were required to remove the driver and passenger, David Madden, her husband. Madden was uninjured.

Driver of the truck, Leonard Briske of Mattawan, Michigan was ticketed by police for illegal parking.

McDougalls At Conference

David McDougall and Mrs. McDougall are attending the American Legion's 41st Annual Midwestern Area Child Welfare Conference at Des Moines, Iowa.

Child Welfare leaders of the American Legion from twelve Midwestern states have convened to discuss Legion child welfare program plans for 1968 and to hear reports from distinguished child welfare leaders.

Theme for the conference is "Programming for Children in the Computer Age."

The McDougalls are members of Lloyd H. Green American Legion Post 147 and Auxiliary Unit 147 in Northville.

Barking of Dogs Saves Sleeping Family from Fire

Two pet dogs were credited with preventing a tragedy early Friday morning when fire hit the home of Robert Moe, 728 Horton.

The dogs, housed in the utility-furnace room barked and scratched at the door, waking Mrs. Moe, who discovered the blaze and aroused her family.

Grabbing a fire extinguisher from his car, Moe battled the flames until heat and smoke forced him to call the fire department. Firemen brought the blaze under control within half an hour.

Fire caused extensive damage to the kitchen and utility room, while general smoke and water damage occurred in the remainder of the house. Heat from the blaze melted the wall telephone in the kitchen.

Cause of the fire, which apparently started near the furnace, has not yet been determined, according to Fire Chief Bud Hartner.

Aid Boosts Teacher Studies

Superintendent Raymond Spear reported to the board of education Monday night that the district's policy of providing tuition reimbursements to teachers is obviously working to the advantage of both the school system and its teachers.

In the summer of 1965, he said, 14 teachers were enrolled in colleges taking a total of 64 credit hours. The following summer, this figure increased to 26 teachers and 116 hours, and this past summer 33 teachers took college courses for 201 hours of credit.

The tuition policy, Spear concluded, is encouraging teachers to return to college and strengthen themselves and the district educationally.

For Substitutes

Teacher Policy Approved

A substitute teacher policy, which provides for a daily pay increase of $2 — from $24 to $26, was approved by the Northville board of education Monday night.

In addition to establishing the daily pay rates of substitute teachers, the policy outlines qualifications necessary for substitute teaching, notes what fringe benefits are provided for substitutes, and outlines working hours and responsibilities of these teachers.

According to Superintendent Raymond Spear, who recommended approval of the policy, it was reviewed by the 'teachers' association, by substitute teachers, and by the administration.

The only major objection, he said, came from substitutes who contended the pay increase was not sufficient.

Specifically, the policy calls for the $2 increase for substitutes with provisional, permanent, life or continuing certificates; maintains a $24 per day scale for substitutes with 60-day, 90-day or full-year special permits; and provides that substitutes teaching 20 consecutive days for the same absent teacher are considered "continuing substitutes" who are to receive $28 per day beginning with the 21st day.

A lesser daily pay scale is provided for substitutes who teach less than a full-day.

Under the policy, a substitute teacher is not eligible for fringe benefits provided by the district. However, where a substitute is employed for a full semester, this teacher becomes eligible for a prorated portion of sick leave days (not accumulative) and personal business days.

Concerning substitutes, Spear indicated he probably will have to hire a substitute to finish the semester for Miss Ione Palmer, junior high school librarian, who has resigned effective November 17 for reasons of health.

In accepting Miss Palmer's resignation Monday, the board adopted a resolution commending her for 35 years of dedicated service to the Northville school system. A copy of the resolution is to be presented to her.

Symphony Concert Scheduled Sunday

In its second concert of the current season the Plymouth Symphony orchestra will present Paul Doktor as its soloist at 4 p.m. Sunday in the Plymouth high school, 650 Church street.

On the three-part program are "A Solemn Music and a Joyful Fugue," Virgil Thomson; "Concerto in G Major for Viola and Orchestra," Telemann; and "Harold in Italy," Berlioz. Open to the public without charge, the concert is one of six events planned for the orchestra's 22nd season. A nursery for children over two is provided by senior girl scouts.

When not on concert tours, Paul Doktor teaches at Mannes college of music in New York and in master classes and seminars at numerous colleges and universities throughout the country. It was in this capacity as well as in the role of concert soloist that he appeared at Schoolcraft college last July when many were denied opportunity to hear him because of the riot curfew.

Born in Vienna, he received his first musical education from his father, Karl, the late violist of the celebrated Adolf Busch string quartet. Later, completing a five-year course in two, he received his diploma from the State Academy of Music.

Since coming to the United States in 1947, he has engaged in a dual career of concert work and teaching and is founder of the New York string sextet. He has returned to Europe frequently for professional engagements, including performances at the Salzburg and Edinburgh festivals.

The Piccolo Opera company of Detroit will present Humperdinck's "Hansel and Gretel" Sunday afternoon, December 10, under sponsorship of the Plymouth Symphony orchestra association.

Mrs. Roger Zerby, 453-1077, ticket chairman, announces that tickets will be $1 for adults and 50 cents for children.

What's Cooking

At Northville High School

A special holiday feature on next week's menu for Northville junior and senior high school cafeterias will be a complete turkey dinner with all the trimmings Wednesday.

The menu for Monday, November 20 will be chili, meat sandwich, molded Waldorf salad, pineapple upside-down cake, milk. Beef noodle and meat sandwich is the soup line alternate with salad, dessert and milk.

Tuesday's menu is hot dog on bun, baked beans, relishes, salad, fruit and milk. Chicken and star soup is offered in the soup-sandwich line. Hamburger on bun with French fries, salad, dessert and milk are alternates Monday and Tuesday at the high school. Turkey dinner only will be served Wednesday.

There will be no school Thursday and Friday.

Gun Stolen From Store

Northville police are investigating the theft of a $125 Winchester rifle from the Northville Hardware store, 107 North Center street, about 3 p.m. last Saturday.

A customer reported seeing a man walk out with the rifle and get into a station wagon.

Two other larceny reports include the complaint of Mrs. Richard Pubanz, who said that she returned to 312 Griswold October 31 to find the door open, her desk drawer pulled out and $40 missing.

The other larceny was reported by Mrs. Elma Banta of Plymouth, who was attending a meeting November 10 in the Northville high school cafeteria and afterward found her tan winter coat missing.

College Gets Gift

A gift of $2,250 to establish an endowed scholarship for pre-mortuary students at Schoolcraft college has been announced by Kenneth L. Hulsing, Plymouth, president of the Schoolcraft College Foundation.

The money was accepted by Trustees of the College at a meeting of the College board on November 1.

The gift brings to $10,000 the amount of scholarship funds raised by the Foundation which was organized a year ago to provide tangible support from the community for the college.

Effect of the latest scholarship gift was to release from escrow another $10,000 offered to Schoolcraft last year by Sheldon Hayes of Northville. The Hayes gift, however, was placed in escrow until it was matched.

The Hayes gift, like the funds raised by the Foundation, will be used exclusively to provide financial aid to students.

W. Kenneth Lindner, vice-president for business affairs at Schoolcraft college, has been appointed chairman of the community college research committee of the Association of School Business Officials.

Lindner, a resident of Garden City, received the three-year appointment from ASBO Executive Secretary Dr. Charles Foster.

Edison Seeks Franchise

Township Voters Will Shortcircuiting Power

When Northville township voters throw the switches in the election booths early next year they'll be wielding virtually enough power to short-circuit electric current to their homes.

And voters will have that power all because of requirements of the State Constitution.

Detroit Edison company representatives will appear before the township board next month to request that an election be held in January or February on whether or not Edison should continue to have the right to do business in the township.

Under the Constitution electors of Michigan communities must decide this question once every 30 years.

Thirty years ago, in 1938, township voters approved the question. They'll get another crack at it next year.

According to Jack Menig, special agent for the Detroit Edison company, the special election, unfamiliar to many officials, is nevertheless a binding requirement that dates back to the 1909 Constitution. And the Constitution, he explained, made no provision to change the law.

"What it amounts to," he said, "is asking the people to approve the Edison franchise permitting our company to use public highways and alleys for transmission lines. We must pay all costs for the election."

Those communities having service prior to 1909 are exempt from the law. Among these, he said are Detroit, Highland Park, and Grosse Pointe.

The 30-year franchise for the townships of Northville and Plymouth expires next year. The franchise for the cities of Northville and Plymouth expires in 1976. Expiration dates for Novi, Wixom, South Lyon and Salem fall due in 1971, Menig said.

Under the law, the franchise election cannot be held within two months of a regular election, he said, "so we'll try to get it set well before the November, 1968 election."

Has a community ever rejected franchise permission?

Rarely, said Menig, who could recall only one instance involving a small community in the Thumb area. Few people turned out to vote and a negative movement prevailed. Edison continued to service the community on a day-to-day basis until another election was held, he said.

"Our problem," he said, "is voter apathy. It's hard to get the people out for a special election of this kind. It's the only question on the ballot."

Municipal Court

Out of 16 cases before Judge Philip Ogilvie in Municipal court Tuesday, four were for minors in possession of alcohol (beer) and the remainder covered a wide range of violations.

Gary L. Sutherland, 19, of Detroit, whose arraignment was delayed so that his parents could be present, was fined $25 plus $2.50 costs, and James C. McIntyre, also of Detroit, $25 plus $2.50 costs for being minors in possession.

Ronald J. Jenneman, 18, of Livonia, found guilty and fined $35 plus $3.50 costs along with Phillip W. Hottum of Farmington with the same fine and costs, both for being in possession on Main street between Center street and Hutton.

Found guilty of being drunk and disorderly were Charles A. Cherry of Royal Oak, who was fined $50 plus $5 costs, and Leon L. Frazier, 40100 West Eight Mile, who was fined $20 plus $2 costs.

Ruth Ann Davis, 44891 12 Mile road, was ticketed for disobeying a red light resulting in a property damage accident. She was fined $25 upon pleading guilty.

William C. Sliger, 44, of 18439 Fermanagh court, paid fines totaling $10 for failure to stop at a stop street and speeding 30 in a 25 mph zone.

Joseph Kaweck of Farmington, pleaded guilty to speeding 45 in a 25 mph zone and paid a $30 fine.

For careless driving, Harold W. Milton, Jr. of Troy was fined $25. Herman H. Rowe, Jr., 18 Woodland Place, Northville also pleaded guilty to careless driving and received the same $25 fine.

William James, 2025 Ferry Park, Detroit, pleaded guilty of escaping from Detroit House of Correction January 2, 1967, and had 25 days added to his sentence. He was committed Tuesday.

Isabel Jean Funk of 1032 Allen drive, who was ticketed by Michigan State police for speeding 70 miles-an-hour in a 50-mph zone on Eight Mile road, pleaded guilty and was fined $15 and $15 costs.

For allowing an unlicensed minor to operate a motor vehicle on Seven Mile road November 4 William R. Miller of Detroit was fined $20 and $5 costs.

LeRoy S. Henley, 46, of Detroit was found guilty October 17 of interfering with through traffic at the Seven Mile cutoff and thereby causing a property damage and personal injury accident. Sentencing was deferred until Tuesday when he paid a $35 fine.

After William Ward, Jr. of Livonia pleaded innocent to a charge of driving under the influence of liquor, the charge was dismissed and he pleaded guilty to the lesser charge of reckless driving and was fined $100.

Back in September when she still lived at 46906 Grasmere, Mrs. Marilyn Morian signed a complaint against Mrs. Eileen E. Wild, 21285 Summerside Lane, Northville for allowing her collie dog to run loose. According to the complaint, Mrs. Morian's three-month old toy poodle was severely injured in its own yard by the "wild dog" belonging to Mrs. Wild. Although she pleaded innocent to the charge, Mrs. Wild was ordered to pay a fine of $25 plus $2.50 costs.

Justice Court

Although Frank C. Censich of Detroit pleaded innocent to two charges, driving under the influence of liquor and being a disorderly person, Novi Justice of the Peace Robert K. Anderson disagreed, found him guilty on both counts and fined him $100 and $25 respectively.

Other cases tried in Novi Justice court last week included:

William G. Hawkins of 1317 East Lake drive, was fined $15 for driving his truck with an uncovered load along Eight Mile road between Taft road and Novi road.

Charles C. Davis of Wayne and Charles L. Harrison of 120 West Cady, Northville were each fined $15 for the same charge, defective exhausts.

John R. Francois, Farmington, was found guilty of being a disorderly person and fined $25.

For driving 70 in a 50 MPH zone, Edmond R. Robert of Southfield was fined $30.

Luster Mullins of Farmington was fined $75 for driving under the influence of liquor.

William J. Ricket of Union Lake was found guilty of speeding 55 in a 40-mile zone and was fined $20.

Ross J. McDonald, 2375 Fairbury drive, Wixom was fined $20 for driving 65 in a 50-MPH zone.

For passing a stopped school bus Miss Brenda Lee Secchi of Detroit was fined $15.

Kelvin J. Devoll of Walled Lake was fined $15 for driving without a muffler on his car.

Robert A. Prince of Pontiac, fined $70 for speeding 65 in a 30-MPH zone, also was fined $15 for improper passing.

Mustangs To Meet Public Tuesday

Sports fans, parents and friends of Northville high school athletes and cheerleaders are in for a special treat next Tuesday night.

That's the night the Northville Boosters club stages its "Meet the Mustangs" program in the high school gymnasium, beginning at 8 p.m.

"These kids need all the support they can get," explained Athletic Director David Longridge, "so we're hoping the fans and parents don't let 'em down. Besides meeting the athletes they'll be given some colorful entertainment, too."

Members of Coach Jack Townsley's wrestling squad as well as the varsity, junior varsity and freshmen basketball teams will be introduced.

Although wrestling is an eight-year-old sport locally, relatively few people are aware of its rules, said Longridge, so a special wrestling demonstration will be staged with an explanation of the rules governing the sport.

Special guest at the program will be Pat O'Neill, basketball official, who will interpret new high school basketball rules affecting 1967-68 competition.

Meet The Mustangs, the first such program of its kind here, also will include an introduction of the cheerleading and pom-pom squads and both groups will come up with some special cheers and exhibitions.

All this, plus the fact that fans will get their first look at the new, colorful uniforms that basketball players and wrestlers will be wearing this year.

SPIRITS DAMPENED—Two forwards from the tourney-winning Lorain soccer squad demonstrate the passing finesse that, together with a steady downpour, dampened spirits for Schoolcraft fans and players who maintained visions of championship going into Saturday's tourney finale.

Dick Talbot, Jr. Takes Turf Management Class

Richard Talbot Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. Richard C. Talbot of 40160 Fairway III drive is among 30 students enrolled in a technical training course in the turf grass management at Michigan State university.

Students are in residence at MSU for four terms and also receive six months of experience while in placement training.

The students will be trained to accept employment as golf course managers, highway and industrial grounds keepers, in sod production, and as salesmen for commercial turf suppliers, chemical firms and seed and lawn supply distributors.

The Turfgrass Management Program is offered by the Department of Crop Science in cooperation with other MSU divisions and the Institute of Agricultural Technology in the University's College of Agriculture and Natural Resources. More than 400 students are enrolled in Ag Tech courses at MSU this fall.

Scouts to Aid Handicapped

The Detroit Area Council of the Boy Scouts of America will conduct a "Good Turn" campaign for Goodwill Industries on Saturday.

In Northville Scout Troop 731, led by Scoutmaster G. Whitesell, will distribute Goodwill bags together with fliers outlining the "Help Scouting Help the Handicapped" campaign.

Only clothing is being solicited in this campaign, officials emphasize. Anyone wishing to donate other articles must call the Goodwill office.

The clothing bags will be picked up on Saturday, November 25 by the Scouts of Troop 731.

Necker Joins Kent Park Staff

William D. Necker, who was graduated from Michigan State university with a bachelor of science degree in park management in 1965, has been appointed an administrative assistant at Kensington Metropolitan Park near Milford.

Since January of 1967 he has worked on the grounds maintenance crew at Stony Creek Metropolitan Park near Utica.

Kensington and Stony Creek are among eight parks maintained and developed by the Huron-Clinton Metropolitan Authority, a regional park agency serving the counties of Livingston, Macomb, Oakland, Washtenaw and Wayne.

Junior High Airs Smoking Problem

Last Friday morning at Cooke Junior High school in Northville eighth graders

Federal Judge To Speak Here

All men in the Northville-Novl area are invited by the men of Northville's Our Lady of Victory Catholic church to attend an interfaith dinner in the church social hall at 7 p.m., December 7.

New Federal Judge Damon Keith is to be the guest speaker. Judge Keith was appointed to his present post September 23, filling a vacancy which occurred when another Negro, Judge Wade H. McCree, was elevated to the sixth circuit district court bench.

This first-time event will be a spaghetti dinner. Tickets at $1.25 are available now through OLV Men's club president Cliff Hosler, 349-5290, or 349-0541.

were discussing the effects of smoking and, guided by their science teacher, assessing its health dangers.

Parents learned of the program at the opening P-TA in which 400 parents visited classrooms and inspected the new building Thursday night. In all three grades—sixth through eighth—Principal Donald Vanlengen said, smoking is discussed and film strips showing cancer dangers are shown in both science and physical education classes.

On a statewide basis the P-TA currently is urging that the evils of smoking be taught at the junior high rather than senior high level. It points out that this has been a P-TA project for 20 years and that there is a Michigan law still on the books that calls for schools to teach the bad effects of smoking.

All interested parents and P-TA members are invited to attend a public workshop meeting at 7:30 p.m. today at the Edsel Ford high school

At Recognition Dinner

Two Win Claude N. Ely Awards

For their interest in children and their participation in Northville's civic affairs, James L. McKinney and Wilson Funk were honored as the 1967 recipients of the Claude N. Ely memorial award at the city of Northville's eighth annual civic recognition dinner November 8 at First Presbyterian church.

In making the presentation Mayor A. Malcolm Allen mentioned this work "with our young fry", recalling Wilson Funk's activities in the recreation department and James McKinney's service as a school children's crossing guard at Baseline road. He presently is hospitalized in Ann Arbor.

They were given awards of merit and token financial awards from the memorial which was established by public subscription at the time of Ely's death. He was the last president of the village of Northville and the first mayor of the city.

On the committee of school and civic leaders administering the awards are John Canterbury, Eugene Cook, Raymond Spear, Mayor Allen and A. Russell Clarke. Canterbury also served as master of ceremonies for the dinner.

Also honored at the recognition dinner were George Zerbel, for his 16 years as chairman of the Northville planning commission, and Levi Eaton, who has been in Europe, for his 20 years of volunteer work in the city.

A watch was awarded to Edward Austin, who could not be present because of illness, upon his retirement from the Northville Department of Public Works for health reasons after 19 years of service.

Also honored were three Northville policemen for their work in solving the breaking and entering at the George Miller dealership early this year. They are Roger Beukema, Howard Reeves and Earl VanCise, who now is a member of the Royal Oak police department.

A colorful beginning to the recognition program was the presentation of colors by the Northville police department.

Proclamation

A proclamation has been signed by Northville Mayor A. M. Allen designating November as community development month.

The proclamation is sponsored by the Northville Jaycees, an organization that challenges its members during the month to "re-examine the worth of his organization and pledge himself to do all within his power to assure his community grows and prospers through community development."

Community development is the number one program of the United States Jaycees and its local chapter.

They're 'Babies' At 35

Retired now but still amazingly healthy, a pair of workhorses on the Fuerst farm in Novi are more than 35 years old. In human terms that's an age of about 100. But in the twinkling eyes of Miss Iva Fuerst, the horses are "only babies" — still four years away from that magic age to which she admits. See story on Page One.

Father Edmund Battersby, Pastor
St. Joseph's Church, South Lyon

Fear is a terrible thing, yet it is common to each of us in varying degrees and for sundry reasons. Is there anyone reading this who is not afraid or has not been afraid? Fear it is said is the companion of Love. If we are not afraid for ourselves, we are afraid for those we love. There are great fears and little fears, real fears and imagined ones. We fear storms, traffic, war, sickness, exams, the future, old age, death. We fear because we are human and our Lord does not hold it against us.

A psychologist has said "All men need the feeling of security, inner security. Too often they try to obtain it by means that leave them even more deeply insecure. They make use of the means of the world". He goes on to say "The Spiritually Adult Person knows that he can find his security only under God and within himself. It is only on the basis of an active faith in the All Powerful God who holds us in the hollow of his hand that man is able to recognize and reject the false securities of this life".

Why are we afraid? Because of our little faith. Why the little faith? Because we do not know Christ. We do not really know Him as He is today. He is present to our minds only in the pages of history. He does not live now for us. But Christ does live now. This is the whole point of his miracles. This is what the idea of God implies. God is he who lives, he who loves, he who cares, who watches over his little ones, who will not allow any evil to come upon them but that which in the end will be for their good.

Orchard Hills Baptist Slates Billie Graham Film

Evangelist Billy Graham's motion picture "The Heart is a Rebel", the new feature-length color production stars Ethel Waters, Georgia Lee, and John Milford, is scheduled for its local showing at Orchard Hills Baptist church, 23455 Novi road on Sunday, November 19 at 7:00 p.m.

The story is based on a conflict in the life of a modern young couple when the husband, an advertising executive, can't find a place in his scheme-of-things for his wife's sudden acceptance of the Christian faith. In a completely "down-to-earth" setting the situation provides a dimension of reality seldom afforded a religious motion picture.

Ethel Waters adds a luster to her long career in the role of the practical nurse who exerts a profound influence on the young couple through her day-by-day faith in God! A film highlight is Miss Water's inspiring rendition of "His Eye Is On The Sparrow" and the spiritual "Motherless Child".

Georgia Lee and John Milford give striking portrayals as the young married couple.

Georgia Lee's previous performances in "Oiltown, U.S.A.", "The Crescent & The Cross", "The Flame", as well as her recent entry into the sacred recording field, have endeared her to audiences around the world.

Jane Withers makes a rare guest appearance in the role of a sales girl in a large toy store. One of the foremost child stars of yesteryear, Miss Withers has taken time from a busy domestic life and an active role with the Hollywood Christian Group.

"The Heart is a Rebel" provides a "front row" perspective of the Graham Team in the Crusade setting of Madison Square Garden, New York City. The dynamic preaching of the evangelist is augmented by the singing of George Beverly Shea and the music of a 1500-voice Crusade Choir under the direction of Cliff Barrows.

Plans Service For Thanksgiving

First Church of Christ, Scientist, Plymouth, will hold a thanksgiving service, open to the community, in the church edifice at 1100 W. Ann Arbor Trail, Thursday, November 23 at 10:00 A.M.

This service is a traditional one in Christian Science churches throughout most of the world. Branch churches in South America, Europe, Asia, and the Near East will observe the American Thanksgiving Day, November 23.

A specially prepared "Thanksgiving" lesson-sermon will be read at all these services. It will include passages from the Bible and the denominational textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures," by Mary Baker Eddy.

PURINA!

Horses really go for Purina. Now you can choose from two great Purina horse feeds—new Purina Horse Chow Checkers with built-in hay or Purina Omolene, a favorite of horsemen for almost 50 years.

Purina Horse Chow Checkers are a revolutionary idea in feeding horses. The hay is built in, eliminating the fuss and muss of hay. For those who prefer to feed hay there's the horsemen's standby—Purina Omolene. We offer both of these research-developed Purina horse feeds in handy 50-lb. bags at our store with the Checkerboard Sign.

THE CHURCH FOR ALL . . . ALL FOR THE CHURCH
The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the Church. They are: (1) For his own sake. (2) For his children's sake. (3) For the sake of his community and nation. (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.

The Background of Integrity

There are millions of men in this world whose word is trusted—whose handshake is a binding contract—whose integrity others accept without question.

We've come a long way from the days when a strong man and a stout club were the social graces.

And this growth in man's capacity for integrity has paralleled his growth in religious expression.

Of course, the cynics will point to men and nations who still live by the code of the cave man. Must we believe that the clock of progress has turned . . . is running backward?

The sound, the sensible, the sincere still feel the strength of God's Bible in every handshake. With their children they are finding new spiritual opportunity and hope in the churches they cherish.

Are you with them? Are you, too, pushing forward the frontiers of faith?

OUT OF THE PAST

One Year Ago...

Arguments for and against the proposed rezoning of 19 acres on Five Mile road from R-4 (single family residential) to R-M (multiple dwelling) were heard by the Northville township board and planning commission meeting in joint session.

...A poll taken at the Northville junior high school PTA open house revealed that the majority of parents attending prefer mixed dancing parties only at the senior high school level.

...Northville Torch Drive officials were full of smiles this week as both business and residential collections zoomed past UF goals before the deadline.

...Already threatened with abolition at the hands of the legislature, Northville municipal court received two directives further complicating the local judicial process. One directive stated that the local court had to have a court recorder to transcribe all felony and misdemeanor cases and the second directed the court to appoint an attorney at government expense if the defendant cannot afford one.

...Hiring of a remedial reading teacher at the high school level was approved by the board of education, this in addition to two such teachers in the elementary school and a part-time teacher in the junior high school.

Five Years Ago...

...Plans for solicitation of every resident within the Northville area were being readied as the "second push" in the drive to collect $12,000 for construction of the new Jennette Lawrence Scout-Recreation Building.

...The Novi township board appointed Clerk Hadley J. Bachert as supervisor of the township, replacing Frazer W. Staman, who resigned to seek an Oakland county road commissioner's post.

...Northville's board of education waded through a full agenda of business in a four hour session dealing with routine matters including problems concerning the new athletic field bleachers and policy on contests held at the field.

...Five Northville stores announced a "10 per cent night" when customers could save that much on early Christmas shopping. D & C Stores, E-Jay Lumber Mart, Northville Drugs, Stone's Gamble Store and Tewksbury Jewelers sponsored the one-night event.

...The Northville Town Hall and the Rotary Club both brought personalities to the community. Robert St. John spoke on the "Crisis in the Middle East" at Town Hall and Romain Wilhelmson presented the "Legend of the Sierra Madre" to the Rotarians.

...Northville Township Supervisor George Clark announced his intention not to run for re-election and petitions were taken out by two potential candidates, Trustee R. D. Merriam and Mrs. Harold B. (Elsie) Price.

Fifteen Years Ago...

...Permission to lay more than seventeen thousand feet of two and four inch gas main on 20 Northville streets was granted to Consumers Power Co. by the Village Commission.

...Recently appointed chairman of the Red Cross Northville Branch was Mrs. Arthur C. (Beatrice) Carlson, 201 Fairbrook Street.

To Train Retarded

Center Launches New Program

A new program in training retarded children was launched at the Wayne County Child Development center here with the opening of a residential cottage for 25 boys on Sunday.

The boys, ranging in age from seven to 15, all are newly admitted to the Center located in Northville.

This is the first time a cottage has been reserved exclusively for newly-admitted children, according to Dr. Pasquale Buoniconto, Center superintendent.

He said all the youngsters were screened by Dr. Robert Boman, new assistant superintendent and clinical director, to determine their potential ability to benefit from the new program.

Dr. Rabinovitch To Speak Here

Dr. Ralph D. Rabinovitch, director of Hawthorn Center at Northville State Hospital, will speak on "Adolescence: Problems in Identity," on the Schoolcraft college fall term lecture series in room F-530 in the Forum Building on the campus mall at 3 p.m., Friday, November 17.

Dr. Rabinovitch is a graduate of McGill University and has had psychiatric training at Toronto University and New York University. He has written on a wide range of topics related to the psychopathology of childhood and psychotherapy, and is particularly concerned with the integration of child psychiatry, education and social work on a broad community level.

Events on the Schoolcraft lecture series are open to the public at no admission charge.

"We feel we will be able to accomplish more for children who have not had previous contact with the other youngsters here," Dr. Buoniconto said. "Also, we will avoid disruption of existing programs while the new youngsters are getting adjusted to their new surroundings."

"All activities at the cottage will be oriented toward treatment," Dr. Buoniconto added. "The cottage parents and child care attendants who will staff the cottage are undergoing two weeks of special orientation. This includes classroom instruction and field trips to their institutions."

The cottage will be the first to have a name. It will be known as Haskell Cottage in honor of the Center's first superintendent, Dr. Robert H. Haskell.

If the pilot program succeeds, it will be extended to the 19 other cottages at the Center at a rate of six cottages per year, Dr. Buoniconto said.

Haskell Cottage was in use before. Its previous residents have been moved to other cottages and the vacant cottage has been renovated.

Dr. Buoniconto said a "big brother" program will be part of the experiment.

"Older boys will be appointed 'big brothers' for younger boys," he explained. "This will enhance the sense of personal worth for all the boys. The older ones will have the satisfaction of being trusted with responsibility, and the younger ones will feel that somebody close cares about their well-being."

In the past, the practice has been to keep the ages in a cottage as nearly uniform as possible, Dr. Buoniconto said.

The Child Development Center, only county-operated residential school for the retarded in the nation, has about 500 students.

BOY'S HELPER—Henry McCusker, president of the administrative board for Wayne County Child Development Center, gives a tip to one of the first boys enrolled at the center's unique residential cottage dedicated Sunday afternoon. McCusker, together with other center officials and friends, were on hand for the dedication attended by the parents of the boys.

Hillsdale Cites William Chase

William B. Chase of Northville, founder, president and chairman of the board of Shatterproof Glass Corporation, was presented with Hillsdale college's Alumni Achievement Award at the company's 45th anniversary party.

President J. Donald Phillips, of Hillsdale college, made the award which recognized Chase for his "outstanding accomplishment in the field of business and industry and therefore the high honor brought to his alma mater."

A member of the class of 1914 at Hillsdale college, Chase is the 78th alumni to be honored since the inception of the achievement awards program in 1951.

Under Chase's leadership, Shatterproof has become the world's largest independent manufacturer of automotive replacement glass. Company sales for 1966 totaled $25 million.

Cadet Honored

Cadet Michael Pressly, son of Mrs. William Pressly, 413 Ely drive south, a student at Roosevelt Military Academy, Alton, Illinois, was cited for excellence at special ceremonies honoring award winners for the first quarter of the school year.

He was presented with promotion to the rank of private by Colonel Glen G. Millikan, superintendent of the academy, which is located in northwestern Illinois and has an enrollment of 170 cadets.

Pressly, a sophomore, entertained his mother at parents' weekend at the academy October 20-22.

News Around Schoolcraft

A three-member visitation team of college educators has been appointed by the North Central Assn. of Colleges and Secondary Schools to make an on-campus inspection of Schoolcraft College by mid-January, as the college's application for accreditation by the regional association moves into its final phase.

Schoolcraft President Dr. Eric J. Bradner said he expected to hear shortly from the chairman of the visitation team on the date of the visit sometime between December 11 and January 15.

Members of the team are Dr. E. Stecklein, director, Bureau of Institutional Research, University of Minnesota, chairman; Reed L. Buffington, superintendent-president of Chabot College, San Leandro, Calif.; and Prof. Kenneth Brunner, Southern Illinois University.

Dr. Bradner said that in compliance with another NCACSC requirement the college had provided members of the team with a series of reports, publications and other material and information as background on the college prior to the visit.

Preliminary plans to remodel the Schoolcraft college library to meet the space requirements of a student body that has nearly doubled in three years were approved by college Trustees at their meeting Wednesday night, November 1.

The project, expected to be completed by next summer at an estimated cost of $45,000, will add approximately 2,200 square feet of available space for book stacks and student reading area.

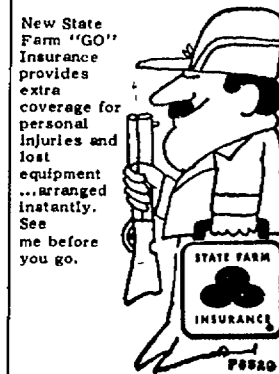

The needed floor space will be recaptured by eliminating four of the eight existing classrooms in the library building. The other four will undergo slight remodeling so that they can be reassigned to strictly library functions.

Included in the project, which makes all of the 21,500 square foot building available for library purposes for the first time, are conversion of two classrooms into a single reserve book stack and reading room; conversion of another classroom into a slide viewing room; use of the present language laboratory as a record and tape listening room; and conversion of a faculty office bay into an audio-visual department.

At present, the library provides seating for 300 students and has stack space for 32,000 volumes. The library's present collection of 29,000 volumes approaches that figure. Stacks for another 12,000 volumes will be added by the project. The additional floor space will provide seating for another 150 to 200 students, based on present estimates.

College officials said they expected the remodeled library to serve the college's needs for the next three to four years. They pointed out, however, that continued growth of the college will require the construction of a new library.

SPEAKING for The Record

By BILL SLIGER

Municipal Judge Philip Ogilvie has informed city officials that he is working on a proposal for creating a probation department for the Northville court.

The idea is not unique, but Judge Ogilvie's approach is one that would establish a department tailored to the problems that are uniquely Northville's.

Admittedly, our community is not a hotbed of crime either at the juvenile or adult level. But there are offenses that are becoming more frequent, and offenders who are more regular.

The judge cites vandalism, malicious destruction of property and minors' inpossession of alcoholic beverages as the most often heard cases in the local court.

In many instances the offenders are not residents of the community, but as Judge Ogilvie points out, they become our responsibility because they come here and cause our problems.

Judge Ogilvie envisions a probation department directed by one, part-time official and manned by any number of volunteers, as needed.

In effect these volunteer probation officers would be acting as "big brothers". They would have been assigned to an individual case by the chief probation officer, and they would come from the ranks of interested community citizens.

The judge points out that the chief officer must have certain qualifications, probably chosen because of his fulltime profession in a related field. Judge Ogilvie believes such an individual could be attracted on a parttime basis for an annual salary of $1,200.

There are many obvious advantages to be gained from the service of such a department.

Initially, it's possible that the chief officer could provide the court with some pre-sentencing information containing background data on the offender and also offer recommendations to the court for consideration in sentencing.

If probation is elected, certain work details would be assigned the offender along with a "big brother" to see that his assignment is carried out.

"Mowing the city-hall yard for six weeks would be substituted for a fine and/or sentencing," Judge Ogilvie explains. The acceptance of a probationary work program by the offender would give him the opportunity to have his case dismissed and remove the offense from his record.

Such procedure is needed primarily where parental guidance, control or interest is lacking. But there are instances, the judge notes, where concerned and interested parents welcome the role of the court and would prefer that probation officers take charge and enforce work assignments.

A local probation department recognizes that problems do exist, that there is a better way than fines or confinement to solve them, and that the community is willing to work to help itself towards that end.

My guess would be that Northville would have volunteer "big brothers" standing in line.

Last Thursday noon I attended a luncheon in Detroit as a member of the public relations advisory committee for the TB and Health Society's annual Christmas Seal campaign.

Our honorary hostess was Miss Judi Kuneman of Redford township, an 18-year-old former TB patient at Maybury Sanatorium.

She's a very attractive and convincing chairman for Michigan's 1967 campaign.

Really, I suspect that the members of the "advisory committee" were not chosen to give advice (at least I've never been asked for any) but rather to promote the crusade of the Christmas seal.

Coming on the heels of the United Foundation's "give once for all" campaign, my attitude towards any collection is less than enthusiastic. But I accepted the food, beverage and hospitality, so there's a responsibility to do something.

First I read the story behind the Christmas Seal — the "crusade for a better life" that began 60 years ago. Next I read a booklet entitled "Facts in Brief about Tuberculosis and other Respiratory Diseases". And finally, I talked to Dr. W. L. Howard, superintendent of Maybury Sanatorium in Northville.

I never did find out exactly why the Christmas Seal campaign has not become a part of the UF, but I'd have to guess that it has something to do with tradition and the pride that Christmas Seal campaigners take in the success of their crusade.

The Christmas Seal stamps haven't "stamped out" TB, but they've helped relegate the disease to a curable level. And they've contributed funds to research that have produced drugs that will assist in the prevention, as well as cure, of a disease that was once a death sentence.

Most of all the Christmas seals we buy and place on our Christmas cards and packages provide for programs of health education in our schools and maintain chest x-ray units and other diagnostic means for detecting TB.

But the crusade continues. There are many other respiratory diseases. And people like Dr. Howard and Judi Kuneman can tell you that your Christmas Seal contributions help save lives. And that's an important contribution. So stick them on your cards and gifts.

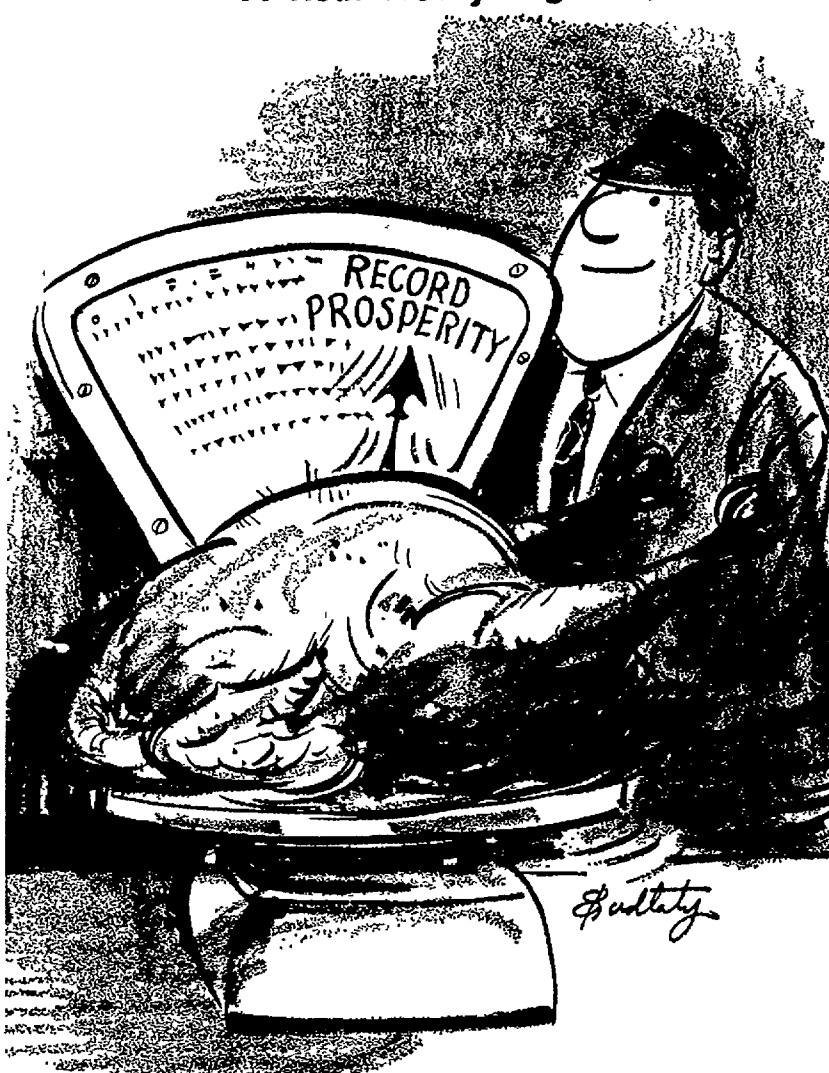

Since 1944 anti-TB drugs have made tremendous strides in the prevention and treatment of TB. But in the first 10 months of this year 2,512 new cases of TB have been recorded in the state of Michigan.

Last year there were 2,818 new cases and in 1965 a total of 2,483.

Right now there are 340 TB patients at Maybury Sanatorium. The average stay of each patient is six months. Thanks to the drugs, many victims can be treated at home or as out-patients of clinics.

Grateful Business Offers Road Sign

EDITOR'S NOTE — The following letter was read at the monthly meeting of the Northville Township Board last week. Because of its uniqueness, it is reprinted here.

Board of Trustees
Township of Northville
We would like to take this opportunity to thank the Township of Northville and the Boards that represent it for the fine cooperation you have given us since we have been operating in the township.

We thought it might be interesting to you to know that we have become a source of summer "time" labor. Our force in 1967 consisted of the following: 9 High School students, 4 teachers, 5 retirees.

In addition, we thought you might be interested in the fact that the range has been used by most of the high schools and the Schoolcraft Community College as an "outdoor classroom" for teaching golf.

We are proud of the fact that we did not have one incident involving rowdiness, or bad conduct on the part of our customers.

Throughout the season we hosted 250 rounds of miniature golf by children from the Hawthorn Center.

We believe we are providing a recreation activity that is a credit to the community and a family type activity that permits all members of the family to participate.

We are most grateful for the fact that the Township of Northville has made it possible for us to do this.

As a token of our appreciation we would like to offer to have constructed and to place on the right-of-way or on our property a sign chosen by the Township of Northville identifying this as the Northville Township boundary and welcoming people. A safety slogan or a township motto might also be included.

If the Township Board feels that they would like us to do this we would appreciate meeting with one of your designated representatives to work out the details of the sign.

Thank you again for your assistance.

Self Analysis Quiz

Do You Make Good First Impression?

by Jane Sherrod Singer

The impression you first make on someone you meet is often a lasting one, and very difficult to change. Indeed, there are times when, if the initial introduction is not satisfactory, there is never another chance. Here are some keys. How many do you have on your chain in order to unlock the doors to acceptance and friendships?

- | | YES | NO |
|---|-----|-----|
| 1. Do you smile readily and often? | () | () |
| 2. Are you neatly (not necessarily expensively) groomed at all times? | () | () |
| 3. Do you have a firm handshake rather than offering what feels like a dead fish? | () | () |
| 4. Is your posture naturally straight, shoulders back, head high? | () | () |
| 5. When talking to a person do you look into his or her eyes? | () | () |
| 6. Do you speak clearly and audibly instead of mumbling? | () | () |
| 7. Do you show special respect, by standing, opening doors, etc., for people who are older than you? | () | () |
| 8. Can you stand still instead of shuffling your feet? | () | () |
| 9. Do you keep your hands away from your hair and face? | () | () |
| 10. Are your actions free from nervous mannerisms, such as chewing on something, biting your nails, clearing your throat, scratching, giggling, etc.? | () | () |
| 11. When a person is talking, do you give him or her your undivided attention? | () | () |
| 12. Are you genuinely interested in other people? | () | () |
| 13. Do you have a number of interests or hobbies? | () | () |
| 14. Is your language free from flagrant errors, profanity and an over-use of slang? | () | () |
| 15. Is it habitual for you to use courteous expressions, such as "please," "thank you," "I beg your pardon," etc.? | () | () |

SCORING: Give yourself 2 points for each yes answer.

ANALYSIS: This is a difficult quiz to score, for a no on any one of these questions might disfigure certain very critical people. In general, however, we have found the following analysis to be true:

26 to 30 points: You make a very good impression, one that encourages people to want to know you better. It is not difficult for you to land a job and, if you have the necessary qualifications, you'll keep it. Your associates admire you.

12 to 24 points: Like many of us, you are no paragon of graciousness. People tend to brush past you in their first meeting, and you have to prove your worth in their eyes. A little more polish would help you a great deal.

0 to 10 points: You are licked before you start and are indeed masterful in driving people AWAY from you. Since all these points have nothing to do with how beautiful or handsome you are and do not require a million dollars in your pocket, you can help yourself by practicing good manners and self-confidence.

speaking, Haun's showmanship far outweighed the value of his words. But that showmanship means his speeches are never dull.

Friday night he was at his best, squaring off with an executive editor of The Toledo Blade in a debate over what is the newspaper's most important ingredient, stories or pictures. The poor guy from The Blade didn't have a chance; he was beaten before he started.

Who could argue with his conclusive evidence: No reporter can describe in writing a girl in a miniskirt as well as a picture.

Press photographers are front-line soldiers; reporters bring up the rear 15-minutes after the battle to ask, "What happened?" reasoned Haun, and yet the story is published and the picture is scrapped.

Reporters can't write and not everyone can or wants to read what they write, he said. "But... they... can... see," he added while pounding the table for emphasis. "And they like pictures!"

Haun spiced his talk with a couple of familiar stories that seem to get better with each telling. My favorite is about the photographer, who easily could be you or I, sent out to snap a picture of a cow.

Upon arriving at the pasture, the photographer backed up far enough to get the whole cow in the viewfinder. But he wasn't satisfied so he backed up to get a second cow in view. "He kept backing up like that until he got the whole herd, snaps Haun, "and came back with a picture of ants. One of these days, I'll swear, he's gonna back right off the edge of the world."

Concerning ants, Haun contends the photographer must specialize — in ants if nothing else — if he wants to distinguish himself. "Shoot pictures of ants," Haun advises the fledgling photographer. "In your backyard, in the neighbor's yard, everywhere you go snap ants. And someday somebody's gonna rummage through your attic and find a stack of ant pictures and figure you were a nut but a brilliant one."

Like that gal in the mini-skirt, it's pretty difficult to describe Haun in words. But I defy Charlie to come up with a picture that better illustrates a bulldog hitching up his pants.

'Missouri Plan' Would Minimize Politics in Selection of Judges

LANSING—Michigan judges could be selected with a minimum of political involvement under a "Missouri Plan" amendment to the 1963 State Constitution proposed by a citizens' group. Patterned after the "Missouri Plan," now used in 12 states, the proposal calls for judicial candidates to be nominated by a bi-partisan panel of lawyers and laymen.

Such plans call for seven panel members: three attorneys appointed by the state bar association; three citizens appointed by the governor; and a judge who serves as chairman. When a vacancy occurs on the bench, this panel screens possible replacements then puts forward a slate of three or more whom it considers the best qualified candidates. The governor fills the position from the recommended slate.

THE APPOINTED judge serves for three years. He is then required to stand for election on his record only and without opposition. For example, voters in Missouri are confronted with this simple judicial ballot: "Shall Judge X of the Blank Court of Missouri be retained in office? YES, NO (scratch one)."

Before each election, lawyers conduct a poll within their profession on the candidates' qualifications for retention. Results receive wide publicity in local news media. Newspapers also publish biographies, record of reversals, and conduct in office.

Voters then decide whether to retain the judge on the basis of qualification and performance rather than popularity, political activity or a famous-last-name.

IF RETAINED by voters, the judge serves until he dies, retires or resigns. If voters do not approve his tenure, another slate of candidates is offered by the panel and another three-year appointment is made by the governor.

Coupled with the proposal for bench selections is machinery for removing or disciplining judges for misconduct or malfeasance in office. A commission is established to investigate complaints about the courts at all levels. Upon recommendation by the commission, the Supreme Court may hold a public hearing and remove a judge.

Any attorney, public official, litigant or private citizen can report a judge for a disability or dereliction. If the commission staff finds that the complaint has merit, it immediately investigates.

Such a program has been working well in California since 1960. Called the Commission on Judicial Qualifications, the group there is composed of five judges, two laymen and two lawyers. In seven years of existence, the commission has investigated more than 400 complaints, induced 30 judges to resign or quietly retire and recommended one removal.

Resignations and retirements have strengthened the courts, but the power of investigation is also a prod and stimulus to judges to conduct themselves as the office demands.

MICHIGAN NEEDS such a program as now exists in Missouri and California, the citizens' group feels. Sponsored by the Michigan Citizens' Committee for Judicial Selection and Tenure, the League of Women Voters of Michigan, and the American Judicial Society, the group will attempt to obtain 350,000 signatures on petitions by next June to get the proposal before voters in the November, 1968, election.

At a recent conference in Grand Rapids the citizens' committee pointed out that all state judges except the Wayne County District Court Judge are elected by popular vote.

Edward L. Cushman, conference chairman, said, "If we are going to attract the high quality of judges I know our state can produce, we have to assure our judicial candidates that they won't be knocked around like a political football every six or eight years."

AN EDITORIAL in the Kansas City Star sums up the proved benefits of such a plan: "A judge doesn't have to borrow and spend money to conduct a campaign. He is not forced to make political promises to men who control votes. He does not have to answer to a political boss, nor does he need to accept campaign contributions from lawyers who will practice in his court. It is by far the best plan yet devised to keep the bench out of partisan campaigns."

The citizens' committee said it will enlist "maximum participation" by individual citizens and organizations throughout the state to support the enactment of the proposed constitutional amendment.

U.S. Population To Hit 200,000,000 By Monday

BABSON PARK, Mass. — Next Monday the U.S. population — as measured by the Census Bureau's electronic computers — will reach the 200-million mark, — a goal attained by the Chinese some 13 years before the start of the American Revolution. But truly we have come a long way from the 3,929,214 heads counted in our first census back in 1790.

It took our nation until 1915 to grow to 100 million, but only 52 years to reach from there to 200 million. Despite a fall-off in birth rates and a downturn in the fertility rate (births per 1,000 women of reproductive age, 15-44), we have chalked up a population gain of almost 50 million — or 25% of the present total — since 1950.

We have been able to achieve this because — even though birth and fertility rates declined during the latter half of this 17-year period — the number of women of reproductive age has increased rapidly as rising numbers of our large postwar baby crop have reached maturity. The important point is not that we are now 200 million strong, but that our population has gained by one-third in the past 17 years, thus providing a most significant boost to total markets.

WITH THIS sharp upturn in population came large increases in the number of people over 65 and under 25. To this challenge, the housing industry responded with unprecedented gains in the number of single-family units erected plus a broad upswing in multi-family and apartment units. Markets for infants' and children's clothing, toys, and furniture expanded rapidly, and state and local governments were forced to borrow heavily to try to keep up with soaring demand for educational and recreational facilities and programs.

Age composition of the population will plan at least an equally important part in determining which markets will thrive and flourish during the next decade or so. Look for growth in the over-65 and under-18 age brackets to slow, and for the next big population bulge to occur in the 25-35 group as the postwar babies move on toward middle life.

AS THIS 25-35 group becomes better established economically, wider markets for single-family homes will open up; but the bulk of this new stimulus will come in the 1970's rather than in the remaining years of this decade. Meanwhile, despite the scarcity of mortgage money and its continued high cost, demand for apartments should be active and on a scale up from present levels.

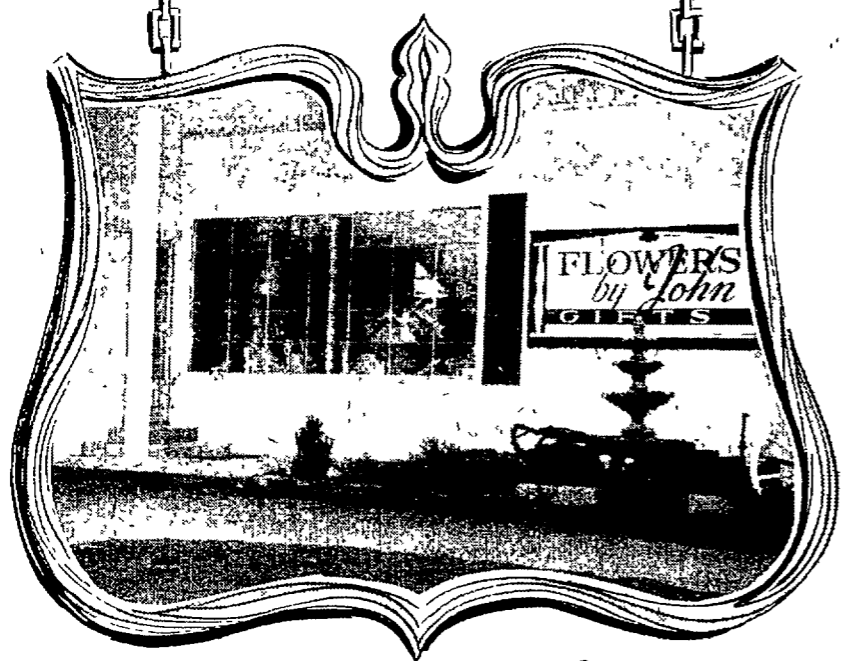

Apartment demand will be heightened by the still strong tendency of people to marry young, compared with 20 or 30 years ago. Hence, in the decade ahead more and more parents still in their 40's will be faced with "empty nests" and perhaps a resultant economic need to exchange their now too large single-family homes for apartments. Another economic consequence of our expanding population will be a further escalation in government costs, especially at state and local levels. Spending by these latter units will top that by the federal government on an annual basis within the next few years.

ANY WAY you look at it, we are a nation with potentials of extraordinary dimensions. Reaching the 200-million mark is merely another milestone in a success story that has no equal in world history. The future beckons, and it can be a very bright future indeed for the nation and for us individually.

But there are problems, too. One of them is Vietnam and the whole tangled skein of our foreign relations and the challenges they present. Another is productivity — one of the secrets of our success to date.

We're Ready--Are You?

NEW LOOK—Northville fans attending the Meet The Mustangs program, to be sponsored by the Northville Boosters club next Tuesday night at 8 p.m. in the Northville high school gymnasium, will get a preview showing of the new uniforms that varsity basketball players and wrestlers will be wearing this winter. Admiring the uniforms modeled by Joe Andrews, varsity cager, and Marty Richardson, are Coaches David Longridge and Jack Townsley.

Students Boost Newspaper Issues

"This year's staff is interested, enthused, and hardworking." These are the sentiments expressed by Mr. Ralph Redmond, Northville high school journalism teacher and advisor to the school newspaper, The Mustang.

As for publications themselves, Mr. Redmond comments: "The first two issues were not too bad, but they were not that good either. We were not striving for perfection."

The first issue was a welcome back issue so that newcomers to NHS knew there was a school paper; the second publication was put together by both experienced personnel and fledgling reporters who were learning the various techniques of newspaper production.

The Mustang will come out eight times this year, which is an increase of two publications over last year. The Mustang is in its fourth year of existence.

Despite the obstacles incurred by a minimum number of publications, Mr. Redmond contends the "staff has a fairly good scheduling to work with, both for good news stories and advertising to be based around."

The third issue of The Mustang goes on sale at NHS today, and it, (as well as the first two publications), shows a great change over last year in its news coverage. Mr. Redmond points out that "because The Mustang is seldom published, the staff members are diminishing past news coverage in an effort to project future news elements."

Projected news stories add the needed essence to a school newspaper; whereas, past news only cheapens the quality of a newspaper, he notes.

Mr. Redmond points out some of the shortcomings The Mustang Staff must contend with, "We need a working area set apart from the classroom as it is now set up in the Ensemble Room. We could also use a press in the school."

Reporters: Joe Andrews, Karen Barber, Cindy Baldwin, Bruce Boor, John Brevik, Pam Burden, Jeri Busch, Gregg Carr, Dan Conklin, Tom Durham, Steve Galbraith, Hope Hahn, Daryl Herter, Bob Hove, Pat Lisowski, Chuck Skene, Dan Stoddard, Jeff Taylor, Julia Williams, Kristen Wistert.

Copy reader: Marge Wojcienchowski. Columnists: Penny Anchors, Bob Hempe, Daryl Holloman, Sandy Kushmaul, Claudia Nieber, Pat Roth, Don Sasse, Linda Williams.

Student Want-ads: Rod Braun. Advisor: Mr. Ralph Redmond.

Principle: Mr. Fred Holdsworth.

When Editor-in-Chief Virginia Round was asked of her impression of this year's newspaper, she commented, "I think that this year's paper is the best Northville has put out, mostly because of our staff. As editor, I find our staff very co-operative and enthusiastic. Thus, I think our paper improves with every issue."

Parents Examine Jr. High Classes

Ira B. Cooke Junior High School's open house, November 9, proved to be both successful and an overall enlightening experience.

Parents were given their children's class schedules, the purpose being to visit their child's classes and learning exactly what each teacher is trying to accomplish within his class subject.

The following are a few of the various classes and what their teachers are striving to accomplish:

Mr. Lawrence Rodgers, eighth grade math — "I'm trying to serve most of the youngsters on the material of mathematics, more in the ways of solving the problems than in just the answers. I try to involve students in the discovery approach, and the assignments are given with the idea that most of it can be done during the class period."

Mrs. Susan Sytsma, seventh grade English — "Communication Arts and reading are emphasized. An individualized approach to reading for pleasure is employed. The weekly reading in class is one of the greatest responses I've ever gotten, and we also spend a great deal of time writing in school."

Mrs. Jennie Donnelly, eighth grade social studies, employed a different approach in presenting her program to the parents by having two students in each class do the speaking and presentation. John Wilson and Eric Johnson were two such speakers.

John Wilson — "Every student writes his own history book by taking notes from reports given in class. Students volunteer to give these reports on either a state, (its population and products etc.), or a president, (what he did in his term of office and what was transpiring in the world during his term)."

Eric Johnson — "We are constantly reminded that the future of the country is ours. We outline chapters for our history books, and discuss current events every day."

Mr. Norman Hannewald, seventh grade science — "Seventh grade students are interested and want to learn. They can come in, sit down, and relax because I only call on the volunteers... everyone is contributing something to the class. They can develop their interests and I try to get them to do it here."

Mrs. Kathryn LaPointe, home economics — "The students made aprons, and will be sewing skirts and blouses. They have gone through the good grooming unit, and will go into the nutrition unit when we get the three ranges that were ordered. They also give reports and demonstrations on the different sections, (units)."

Mr. Larry Krabill, sixth grade science-math and Michigan Civics — "We are currently working with magnets in science, and studying fractions in math. In Michigan Civics, they're given some idea of Michigan and its products and government. We have a lot of fun, and they know when to study... and if we couldn't have a little bit of humor, I'd be ashamed to be a teacher."

FTA Club Sparks Teaching Interest

The purpose of the Future Teachers of America club at Northville high school is to get students both interested in teaching, and with all the aspects of the teaching profession.

According to FTA sponsor, Mrs. Ann Osborn, "We enjoy what we do and have a good time doing it." This is Mrs. Osborn's second year as the sponsor of the national organization's Northville chapter.

Mrs. Osborn pointed out that last week was American Education Week. "Monday, we gave each teacher, secretary, and principal an apple. Tuesday, 10 students helped the teachers at Amerman elementary school. Wednesday, we gave the teachers a tea. Tonight, (due to last Thursday's junior high open house), we're serving as guides for the high school's P-TA open house."

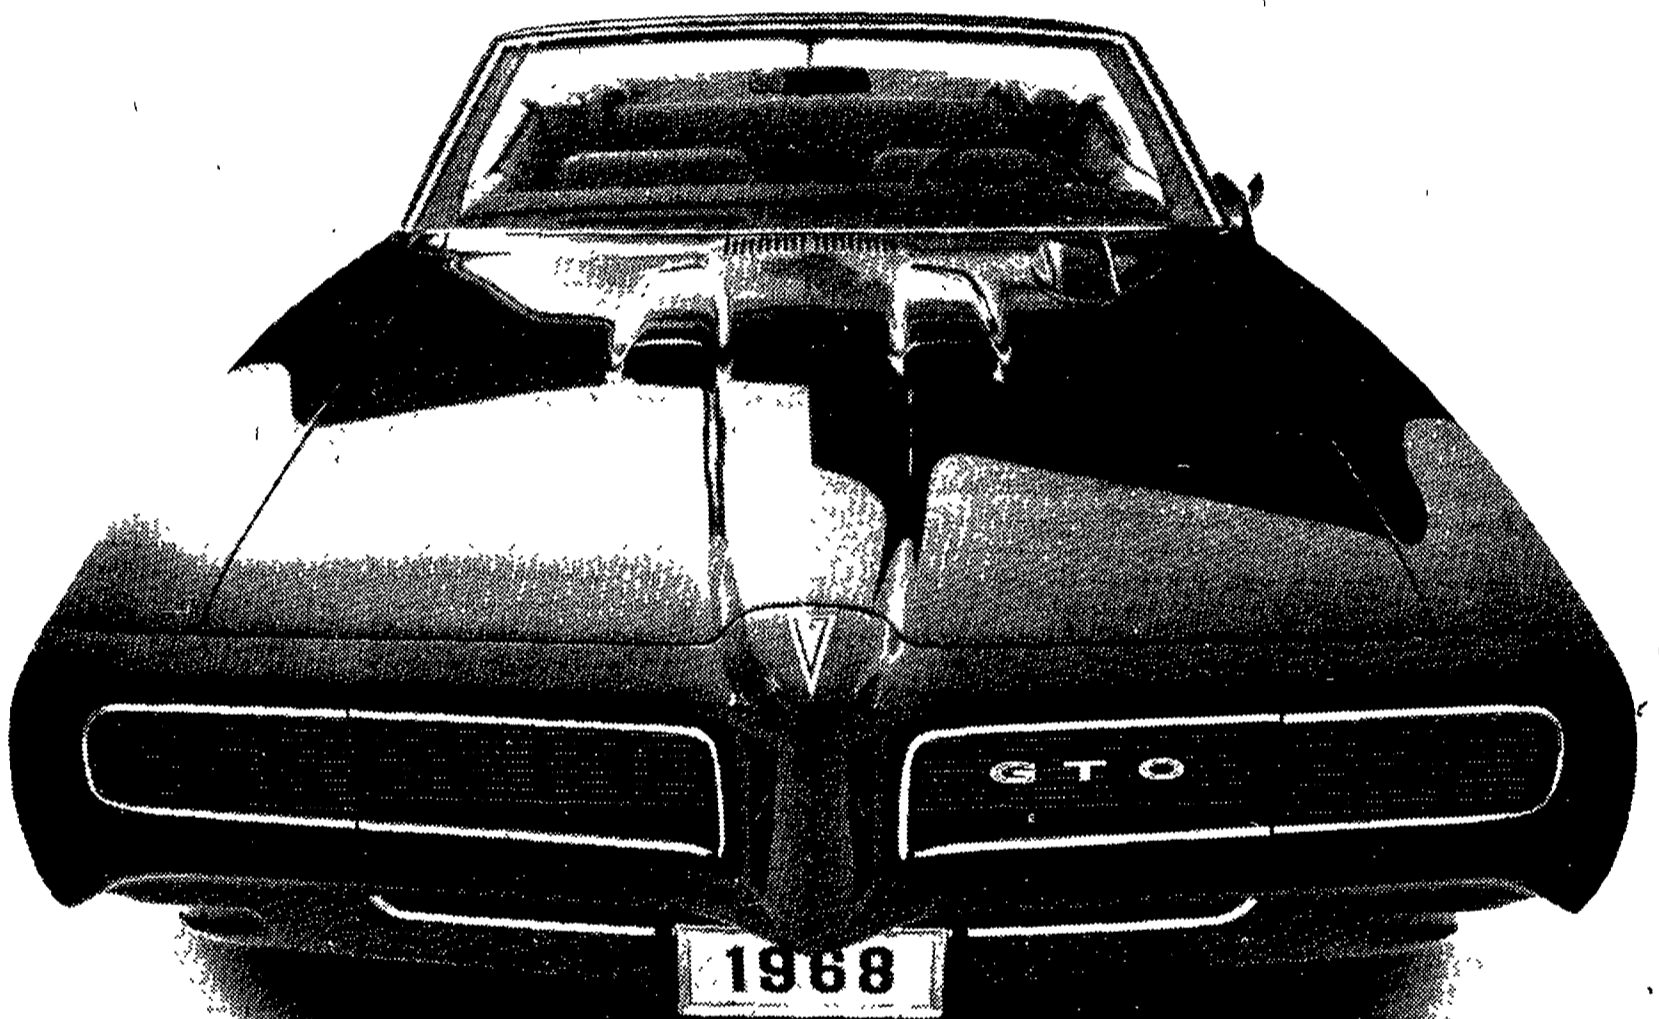

Other projects for the coming school year include a Christmas project, a service project at Our Lady of Providence to help the mentally retarded children make cards and baskets for their parents during the Easter season, and taking two field trips to two Michigan colleges during FTA Day to get acquainted with colleges and with the teaching profession in each member's school of interest.

The following are the members of FTA, (the members that are starred designate those who helped out at the Amerman school during American Education Week):

President Evelyn Budlong*, Vice-President Karen Stefanski*, Secretary-Treasurer Jackie Wallace*, Gregg Balako*, Lauri Batzer, Pam Burden*, Bobbie Byrd, Bill Christensen*, Susan Deisley*, Diane Holdsworth*, Karen Loudy*, Lynn Macri, and Kyle Stubenvoll*.

Scholarships are awarded to the two most deserving seniors for club service and high scholastic standing.
