

BACK ON THE JOB—Santa Claus heard treasured requests from two-year-old Roy Williams, son of Mr. and Mrs. Alton Williams of 226 Linden street, and from the other community youngsters who turned out Friday and Saturday for his first visit to Santa's colorful workshop in the American Legion building. He'll be back every Friday, from 10 a.m. to 1 p.m. and

3 p.m. to 9 p.m., and Saturday, from 10 a.m. to 9 p.m. until December 15 when he'll be on hand every day from 10 a.m. to 4 p.m. and 6 p.m. to 9 p.m. The workshop and all its colorful displays will be open these same days and hours. Both Santa's visit and the workshop are sponsored by the Northville Retail Merchants division of the Chamber of Commerce.

It's Time Again For Tax Notices

A larger number of taxpayers will be forced to dig deeper into their pocketbooks than ever before when the postman arrives with their winter tax bills this week and next.

That's the word from city and township officials who reveal that taxes and tax payers have climbed to record highs.

The total winter tax bill in the township is up more than $100,000, from $747,492.65 last year to $865,971.30 this year. And in the city the total bill had climbed from $675,320.42 to $789,946.50.

While the total tax levy is increased so too are the number of tax bills. An estimated 2,300 will pay bills in the city and close to 1,700 will do the same in the township.

Up, too, is the equalized valuation, with the city climbing from $15,994,586 to $18,909,810 and the township from $17,271,050 to $20,326,520.

Total equalized valuation of the entire Northville school district is pegged at $43,044,944, up from $36,355,433 last year. The district's millage levy, which remains at 32.90, will, because of increased valuation, produce $220,084 more than last year's total tax income of $1,416,178.

Aside from these increases, a major difference in this year's tax bills will be the method of tax dollar computation.

Previously, the state imposed equalization factor was multiplied times millage rates. Now the factor is applied to the assessment. The result is the same but perhaps less confusing to those who saw their assessments remain the same but millage take big jumps.

Township assessments, for example are multiplied by a factor of 1.37, up from 1.28 last year. Thus, the township taxpayer will receive a bill showing his equalized assessment (1.37 times the township imposed assessment) and the true millage rates for township, schools, county and Schoolcraft college. Multiplying his equalized assessment times the millage rates he can compute what his tax should be for each of these categories.

Theoretically, the equalization factor boosts assessments to 50-percent of property market value and more fairly distributes taxes from one house to another, from neighborhood to neighborhood, and from community to community.

In the city where local officials established 50-percent assessments this year, there is no equalization factor. Therefore, taxpayers will simply multiply their local assessments times the various millage rates to double check their tax bills.

Presently, the township is wrapping up a reappraisal program that will also result in establishment of a similar 50-percent assessment by the next winter tax period.

Millage rates in the township are: Township, 1 mill; county 7.15 mills; schools, 33.11 (Northville) and 27.13 (Plymouth); and Schoolcraft Community college, 1.78 mills.

In the city they are: (Wayne county portion)—county, 7.17 mills; schools, 33.21 mills, and Schoolcraft, 1.78 mills.

(Oakland county portion)—county, 5.837 mills; schools, 33.229 mills; and Schoolcraft, 1.787 mills.

The above figures include an excess of roll factor, thus accounting for differences in school millage within the district.

Winter taxes do not include taxes paid into city coffers. City taxes are levied in the summer. The city merely acts as the collection agency for school, county and Schoolcraft taxes in the winter.

Public schools will take the biggest chunk of the tax dollars—76.6 or $663,544.66 percent in the township and 79.4 percent or $610,975.95 in the city.

In the township, Schoolcraft college will get 4.3 percent, the county 16.8 percent and the township, 2.3 percent.

The county will receive 16.2 percent of the tax levy in the city while Schoolcraft will get 4.3 percent.

Treasurer Still Opposes City Site

Township OK's Move

Northville township will move its official offices into the city-located old library building "as soon as possible".

The action won unanimous approval of board members attending the special meeting Monday night. Treasurer Alex Lawrence, who has opposed the move, was not present.

It was pointed out in board discussion, however, that the treasurer has taken the position that he will move his offices into his home if the township hall is located in the city.

(The executive secretary of the Michigan Townships Association declares he has never been confronted by such a question, but renders the opinion that it is not mandatory for the treasurer to hold office in the township hall—see Speaking for Township Record, page 8-B.)

In a report from Supervisor R. D. Merriam the board learned that the cost of moving a four-room building (which has been offered the township without charge) to the site of the present township hall would be $1,650.

The supervisor said he had been unable to find a contractor who would submit a bid for foundations and remodeling needed to attach the new building to the existing township hall. He estimated the cost at between $6,000 and $7,000.

Like Old Times

When the township moves its offices into the South Wing street library building across from city hall, it will be returning to familiar surroundings.

Prior to the December, 1955 vote approving city incorporation, the township shared the village hall, located where city hall now stands.

"We held our meetings there on evenings when the village commission didn't meet", recalls Supervisor R. D. Merriam.

After incorporation the township rented the building at 16860 Franklin road from the school district.

Supervisor Merriam said he hoped to make the move into the library building "shortly after Christmas".

Merriam said the board had three alternatives: remaining as is; adding the four-room building; or moving into the old library building.

He said he favored the latter and noted that the existing township hall was too small and afforded no office privacy.

The supervisor also reported that arrangements had been made to move township voting precinct number two into the gymnasium of the old junior high school. Polls for precinct one are presently located in the adjoining community building.

Clerk Eleanor Hammond noted that more space could be available in the existing township hall if voting machines were moved. She suggested that this might provide adequate space for private offices. The clerk also reminded the board that "we have a treasurer who won't move".

"I recall a previous trustee who objected to the treasurer sitting in the bank and collecting taxes", said Trustee Bernard Baldwin. "At that time the treasurer said he did it for the convenience of the taxpayers. Now he says that township offices in the city, near the bank, would be inconvenient. It doesn't make sense", he stated.

The board discussed comparative costs and found expenses less in the library. The township owns 46 per cent of the facility. The city, owner of 54 per cent, has agreed to a dollar-per-year rental arrangement.

Board members noted that the library building is more spacious, provides four private offices, is more conveniently located and less expensive than any alternative.

"It all comes out in favor of the move", remarked Baldwin.

"There's no logical reason to turn it down", agreed Trustee James Tellam.

Supervisor Merriam stated that he had received a number of calls opposing the move. Trustee Gunnar Stromberg reported that he had been told by the secretary taking minutes for planning commission meetings that she would require an increase in pay if it were necessary to attend meetings at the library because of its greater distance.

"Are there any objections that we have not considered?", asked Baldwin.

The board decided there were none and passed unanimously a motion by Trustee Thomas Armstrong that the move take place "as soon as possible".

Novi Considered As Missile Site

Novi and New Hudson are two of six metropolitan area communities being considered by the U.S. Army as the site for a nuclear antiballistic missile base as part of the government's new defensive program for Chinese missiles. Final choice of the site is to be made within five months.

Timely Loan Eases School Finances

It was touch and go but Northville school officials came up with $300,000 of borrowed money late last week, thus preventing a "payless payday" for teachers.

Even so, teachers who normally receive their paychecks the day before the Thanksgiving holiday, received them by mail Friday or Saturday or upon their return to school on Monday, Business Manager Earl Busard said.

Delayed payment of state aid, explained Busard, necessitated a "last minute" sale of tax anticipation notes at a special Thanksgiving eve meeting of the school board Wednesday night to prevent the payless payday.

Borrowing against anticipated tax collections has been a regular procedure of this and other school districts, he said, because state aid checks arrive too late to meet immediate financial obligations of the local districts. This year, he said, state aid is arriving even later.

With the $300,000, borrowed from Manufacturers National Bank of Detroit at the low bid interest rate of 3.3-percent, the school treasury is back in the black with sufficient monies to pay all outstanding bills until state aid arrives.

Busard confirmed a report that payment of tuition reimbursements to teachers has been late in coming because of the "tight-money" situation prior to the $300,000 loan. These reimbursements will now be paid, he said.

Still another oddity of last week's financial "crisis" was that the special board meeting had to be held in the old library building—under rules of the state which had to approve Northville's request to borrow money.

Because the request was made before the board's move to the old junior high school quarters, the state insisted that the meeting be held in the library building.

"If we couldn't have gotten into the building," said Busard, "we would have met on the library porch—just to meet the requirement."

As it was the unheated library building was still vacant and board members met inside, wearing coats and hats, huddled around a table next to a portable electric heater.

The only other business to come before the board Wednesday was the reappointment of Mrs. Robert Arlen, Republican, and Mrs. Eugene Guido, Democrat, to the board of canvassers. Their terms will expire December 31, 1971.

Half Day Off

Northville public schools will be dismissed next Wednesday afternoon for curriculum study sessions involving teachers.

The junior and senior high schools will be dismissed at 11:15 a.m. and the elementary schools will be dismissed at 12 noon.

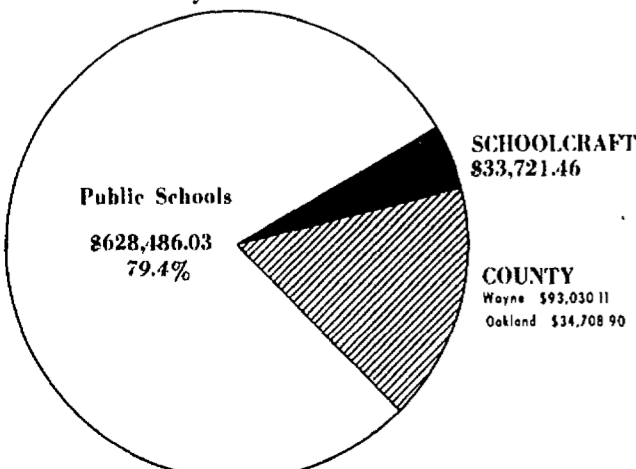

Teachers will convene early in the afternoon in departmental and grade level meetings to evaluate curriculum content at their respective levels.

The study is the second to be conducted this year.

Interfaith Rites Unite Couple Here

In an interfaith ceremony at Our Lady of Victory Church Saturday, November 11, Lorraine Cutler of Northville became the bride of Terrence Hallinan of Redford township.

The 11 a.m. ceremony was conducted by the Reverend Fr. John Wittstock of Our Lady of Victory and Bishop Lloyd Adams of the Reorganized Church of Jesus Christ of Latter Day Saints. Church decorations included gladioli and bronze chrysanthemums.

Parents of the bride are Mr. and Mrs. James Cutler of 419 South Ely drive, and the bridegroom's parents are Mr. and Mrs. Edward Hallinan of Redford township.

Given away by her father, the bride wore an ivory silk and wool A-line gown, embroidered with crystals and pearls over lace on the bodice, the skirt front and the elbow length sleeves. The train was accented with embroidered lace.

She carried a cascade of white Fugi chrysanthemums and snow drift mums with white roses throughout the bouquet.

Miss Suzanne Houk, maid of honor, was dressed in a copper colored gown with ivory lace on three-quarter length sleeves and the empire waist. It featured a portrait neckline, pearls and a slight train. She carried green Fugi mums, champagne carnations, green sea-oats and star flowers.

Attired similarly were the bridesmaids Mrs. James Mayo and Miss Mary Gallarno.

The flower girl, Bonnie Beth McIntosh, wore a copper colored, ballerina length gown with white eyelet lace overskirt and matching rose headdress and veil, and she carried a basket of champagne carnations and yellow snow drift chrysanthemums with green star flowers and spring rye greens. Headdresses of the maid of honor and bridesmaids were the same as that of the flower girl.

Ring Bearer Doree James Apley wore an Eton suit and carried a satin cushion with the rings.

Serving the bridegroom as best man was Larry Lamb, while Arron Stander and Wallace Fusilier were ushers.

Music for the ceremony was provided by Mrs. Russell Knight of Plymouth, organist, and William Sivyver of Redford, soloist. The organist played a trumpet tune in D Major by Henry Purcell for the processional and a postlude in G Major by Handel for the recessional. Mr. Sivyver sang the Wedding prayer and The Lord's Prayer.

For her daughter's wedding, Mrs. Cutler wore an apricot silk and wool suit dress, while the bridegroom's mother chose an avocado three-piece ensemble with jeweled neckline. Mrs. Cutler wore bronze cymbidium orchids with copper star flowers and Mrs. Hallinan, gold cymbidium orchids with brown star flowers.

Following the wedding, a reception for some 175 guests was held at the Botford Inn. For her going away outfit, the bride chose a grey silk worsted suit dress with black accessories.

Following a honeymoon to Chicago, the newlyweds took up residence at Ypsilanti where both attended school at Eastern Michigan university. The new Mrs. Hallinan also attended Graceland college in Iowa.

"We'll have just about everything imaginable for sale."

That's what patients at Northville State Hospital are boasting as they prepare for their Holiday Bazaar tomorrow and Saturday at the hospital.

The hand-made gifts, all the handiwork of patients in "D", "F" and "G" buildings, will go on sale at 1 p.m. both Friday and Saturday. It will continue until 8 p.m. each day.

In addition to the sale of these gifts, refreshments will be served and Santa Claus will drop in from 5 p.m. to 8 p.m. Saturday.

Northville-Novu area residents are especially welcome to attend, a patients' spokesman said. The bazaar will be held in "D" building, with signs posted on the hospital grounds directing visitors to the correct location.

BPW Club Enjoys Movie

Members of the Northville Business and Professional Women's Club dined at Greenfield's Monday evening then enjoyed the movie "Thoroughly Modern Millie" showing at the Northland Theatre.

An afternoon Holiday get-together for the members is being planned for December 10 at the home of Councilwoman Beatrice Carlson.

In Our Town

By JEAN DAY

THE CAVERN - Northville's teenagers' club - received an early Christmas present Monday night from its sponsor, the Mothers' club. The club voted $547 for equipment for the Cavern's new quarters in the former community building on Main street.

The sum represented the profit from the benefit Candlelight buffet-dance of November 11 plus two individual donations. Mrs. William Davis, dance co-chairman, reported the dance profit of $512.

At the suggestion of Mrs. Gordon Forrer, Mothers' club representative for the Cavern, a club committee is being appointed to help the teenagers select equipment for the Cavern. Mrs. A. L. Wistert will be chairman.

High on the want-list of equipment needs is a professional pool table that will withstand the wear it will get. Mrs. Forrer is hoping the club will be able to find a satisfactory used one. It was pointed out that the Cavern is a non-profit organization and that donations to it are tax deductible.

A CHRISTMAS party for all the children of the community is being planned by the Cavern club for December 23, it was announced Monday night at the Mothers' club meeting.

The teenagers are planning to bring such popular television attractions as Milky the Clown as well as Santa to the party, for which they have set a 25-cent admission.

Mothers' club voted a $12 donation at its meeting at the home of Mrs. Blake Couse to help with expenses of the annual children's toyland in the American Legion building and the downtown holiday decorations, the projects of the merchants' association.

Susan Jenesel, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Nicholas Jenesel, 931 Carrington, who was Mothers' club representative to Girls' State in Lansing last summer, was introduced by Mrs. Donald Hannabarger, president.

A senior at Northville high school, Susan recounted the most memorable of her experiences as she thanked the club. "Most inspiring," she said, was Mrs. Romney's talk and "most valuable experience" was writing a set of teenage laws.

Mrs. Couse's refreshment table arrangement of brilliant dried flowers - and three others on tables and chests in various rooms - were the objects of club members' admiration Monday night, especially when it was learned that she had gathered and dried Northville's own wild flowers and leaves to create them this fall.

Called "everlastings" by our colonial forefathers, such arrangements of strawflowers, baby's breath and sumac leaves used to brighten homes through the winter. Carol Couse confessed to having spent "hours and hours" seeking the wild flowers and drying them in coffee cans or hanging them to retain their colors. Her tip for anyone interested in trying such arrangements next year: begin to collect your materials in summer to get a wide variety and coloration.

CLOVES - Whose spicy scent is so much a part of traditional Christmases - were in short supply in Northville this week and at least one supermarket was sold-out.

One reason was the holiday workshop held by the Baseline Hoster's Monday at the home of Mrs. Thomas Lovett on Pickford road. Mrs. Lovett and her co-chairman, Mrs. Orin Hove, had bought up a supply of cloves so that members could make fragrant pomander balls. Pressed solidly into apples and then tied with wide bands of velvet, the cloves become an aromatic decoration.

In Mrs. Lovett's kitchen club members painted Peter Hunt-type decorations on little wooden angels and decouped Christmas pictures on wooden plaques. In this area the planning hostesses had assists from two neighbors, Jack Scantlin and Larry Robertson, who did the wood-cutting in their home workshops.

SHOP-AND-STOP - Is the theme of the "shoppers' luncheon" planned by the Northville Newcomers club as its December meeting. It will be at noon Tuesday, December 12, on the sixth floor of Stouffer's Northland Inn. Members and guests are welcome with reservations to be made by December 6 with Mrs. Walter Carter, 349-5995. No program is planned as the committee felt members would prefer just to "stop and rest tired feet."

A CHRISTMAS TEA at "Everseal", the Cambridge road home of Mrs. Charles Walker, is scheduled by the Northville branch of the Michigan Farm and Garden Association for 12:30 p.m. Monday, December 11.

Mrs. Harold Schmidt is tea hostess chairman, assisted by Mrs. Howard Fuller, Mrs. John Burkman, Mrs. Jack Scantlin and Mrs. George Adams. Mrs. George Kohls is program chairman for the day. In a change of plans, it was decided by the club officers to make this a for-members-only event.

ANTIQUA JEWELRY and its history will be discussed by Mrs. David Fredrick at the Northville Woman's club tea and guest day meeting at 2 p.m. Friday in Northville Presbyterian church.

Mrs. Frederick and her husband have a jewelry business in Detroit. He is descended from several generations of European jewelers. Mrs. Fredrick, a native of Detroit, began to collect antique jewelry actively 10 years ago. Her two children, ages 10 and 12, also have become collectors.

"Wear your antique pieces," advises Mrs. Leonard Klein, program chairman. She reports that by definition jewelry no longer in production is considered antique.

Members and guests will learn about garnets - "the chambermaid's jewelry" - and other Victorian and Georgian types.

CALENDAR - Nov. 30 - Rotary Travelogue, "Northville," 8 p.m., Northville High school. Dec. 1 - Woman's club, "Antique Jewelry," 2 p.m., Presbyterian church. Dec. 9 - Jaycee Young Miss Pageant, 9 - Plymouth Symphony, "Handel and Greyl," 4 p.m.

Engaged

The engagement of Miss Violet Routt to Airman Second Class Donald H. Dearing has been announced. The young couple's wedding date is set for December 20.

Miss Routt is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John H. Routt of Merced, California, and her fiancé is the son of Mrs. Elizabeth A. Dearing, formerly of Northville now residing in Croton, Michigan.

Airman Dearing presently is stationed at Castle Air Force Base in traffic control. He attended school in Northville and a year after his graduation entered the Air Force.

Slain Buck 'Flees' Atop Patrol Car

Clara Jones of Ecorse was sure she had hit a deer as she drove along Sheldon road near Six Mile after dark one evening last week. But she couldn't find it and drove shakingly into Northville.

She informed Northville police officers to the site where they found the wounded deer which was so seriously injured it had to be destroyed.

Noted that under state law, she was now the legal owner of 150 pounds of freshly killed venison, she turned away with a "No Thanks" comment.

Later, upon arriving home, her husband convinced her she should take the deer. But, alas, by the time she returned, the deer was gone - last seen riding atop a Wayne county sheriff's deputy's car.

Christmas Tea Planned Tuesday

Northville Kings Daughters will meet Tuesday for their annual Christmas tea.

Members are reminded to bring their gifts for hospitalized children. The tea will be held at the home of Mrs. Charles Wilcox, 129 West Cady street, beginning at 2 p.m.

Choir Director Joins College Staff

Keith Sturdevant, conductor of concert choirs for the Highland Park school system and prominent music educator in Michigan, has joined the staff of Schoolcraft College as director of the college's Evening Choir.

Announcement of Sturdevant's appointment was made by Wayne Dunlap, chairman of the college Humanities division.

Sturdevant received his bachelors and masters degrees in music education from the University of Nebraska, and has directed choirs in Michigan schools for the past 18 years.

as a judge for choral festivals. He is currently serving his second two-year term as an elected officer of the Michigan Music Educators Association.

The Schoolcraft College Evening choir was organized by Dunlap in the fall of 1964 with the purpose of creating a community-wide choral group capable of performing the large choral master-works. The choir developed a membership of 50 during its first year and performed with the Plymouth Symphony, of which Dunlap is conductor.

In 1960 Sturdevant directed the All-State Honors choir, and is certified by the Michigan State Vocal association,

In 1965, the long-established Northville Choral society, under the direction of Leslie Lee, became part of the Evening choir. With this community-wide background, the choir is believed to be unique in the area.

"The addition to our staff of Mr. Sturdevant as director of the Evening Choir, will do much, we believe, to further enhance this fine, growing musical organization," Dunlap said. "We invite all persons in the community who would like to join to attend a choir rehearsal as soon as possible."

The choir meets from 7:30 to 9:30 on Wednesday evenings in Room F-310 in the Forum. Parking is available in the student parking lot.

Dunlap listed these membership requirements: ability to read simple music, some previous choral experience in church, school or otherwise, and regular attendance at rehearsals.

There is no membership charge and music is furnished, Dunlap said.

The choir, accompanied by the 30-member Schoolcraft orchestra, will perform Schubert's Mass in G Major in a concert at the college on December 15. A spring performance is also planned.

News Around Northville

New officers of the Orient Chapter No. 77, Order of the Eastern Star, will conduct their first initiation meeting Friday, December 1 at 7:45 p.m. at the Northville Masonic Temple. Refreshments will follow.

A "private enterprise" project of Mrs. Peter Sylvain and her sons Chris and Peter, 934 Jeffrey drive, was to collect Halloween candy which was surplus from their neighbors and take it to Maybury sanatorium.

Before her sons began the collection, Mrs. Sylvain checked with the sanatorium and found such a treat would be welcomed.

Mrs. Elizabeth A. Dearing of Croton, Michigan, formerly a resident of Northville, bagged a four-point buck on the opening day of the season at 7:30 a.m. in Newaygo county.

Forty-six friends attended a buffet luncheon Sunday in honor of the 25th wedding anniversary of Mr. and Mrs. John G. Harper. Guests came from Milwaukee, Goshen, Indiana, Toledo, Milbury, and Holland.

The Harpers were married at the United States Naval chapel at Norfolk, Virginia on November 23. Recalling that wedding ceremony with friends Sunday, the Harpers said they had no ration stamps with which to purchase food and liquid refreshments.

The Harpers have a daughter, Margo Elaine, who is a sophomore at Western Michigan university, and two sons, Barton, and Gary, senior and sophomore, respectively, at Northville high school.

New Speaker Scheduled For Interfaith Dinner

Replacement of the scheduled speaker for the interfaith dinner at Our Lady of Victory Catholic Church was announced Tuesday.

According to OLV Men's Club President Cliff Hosler, Federal Judge Damon Keith, originally scheduled to speak, will be unable to attend because of urgent business in Washington, D.C.

However, in his place the club has secured Richard S. Huegli, managing director of the United Community Services of Metropolitan Detroit. He will speak at the 7 p.m., December 7 meeting.

Officials reminded area residents that Monday is the final date of ticket sales. They are available by calling either 349-5290 or 349-0541.

All men of the Northville-Novu area are invited to attend.

Nine Novi Cagers Brace For 1st League Season

Northville Wrestlers Eye Conference Battle

CAGE MINUET—Except for the presence of the ball, South Lyon's Bruce Taylor and Northville's Bob Hubbert (right) could conceivably be turning through the minuet in somewhat less than perfect form. Hubbert blocked Taylor's shot and helped Northville to a 60-55 opening game victory Tuesday night.

The stakes are bigger this year but so are Novi's high school cagers who will open the 1967-68 season Tuesday in their first year of league competition.

Coach Jim Ladd and his varsity quintet will travel to Hartland for the season opener and then invade Manchester next week Friday for their first Lakeland "C" contest.

Like Novi's football team which just completed its first season of league play, the basketball players and their coach must "play it by ear" in bracing for competition with schools of unknown athletic talent.

Without a senior class, Novi feels the pinch of manpower, according to the coach, who pins his hopes on just nine players, all juniors. Meanwhile, Junior Varsity Coach Milan Obrenovich is working with a larger but greener crew of 24 candidates. Of the 24, 18 will dress for the games. All nine of the varsity hopefuls are likely to see action this season.

Unlike its opponents in the Lakeland "C" league, Novi is a high school of grades nine through 11 only. It will graduate its first senior class next year.

Presently a Class "C" school, Novi anticipates becoming a Class "B" school by the 1969-70 school year. Returning from last year's squad of sophomores, who compiled a 2-10 record competing against older varsity teams, are Jon Van Wagner, state Class "D" high jump champion, Gary Boyer, who quarterbacked the Wildcats' first league football squad this past season, and Lee Snow.

VanWagner and Boyer led the Wildcats in scoring last season, with averages of 13 and 9 points, respectively, Coach Ladd points out.

Mark Gilbert, a transfer student from Syracuse, New York, will help the team at a guard position, says Ladd with his fingers crossed.

The varsity players, not necessarily in order of their starting positions, are: David Bingham, forward, 5'10", 152 pounds; Boyer, guard, 5'10", 153 pounds; Gilbert, guard, 5'9", 148 pounds; Doug Keith, guard, 5'9", 178 pounds; Ken Osborn, forward, 5'10", Jim Poole, forward, 6'1", 175 pounds; Snow, center, 6'3", 215 pounds; VanWagner, forward, 6'1", 175 pounds; and Joe Morrison, center, 6'1", 200 pounds.

For the first time since its inception almost eight years ago, Northville's wrestling team will be competing this year on a conference basis.

Six of the eight Wayne-Oakland league schools will have wrestling teams and a schedule of dual meets will culminate in a league tournament the last Saturday in February.

In addition to the conference schedule, Northville mat-men will compete in several non-conference meets and tourneys, it has been announced by John Townsley, who is starting his third year as the Mustang wrestling coach.

Townsley is optimistic about his team's chances this year. Several first-year wrestlers, he believes, will support the veterans of previous years. He expects to be strongest in the middleweights where experience is greatest.

Although Chuck Keegan, co-captain, will be unable to wrestle this year at the 103-pound weight, three other veterans are already getting into shape. Senior Bob Baber, who took a third place in last year's regional tournament, will be back in the 112-pound or 120-pound weight class.

Curt Olewnik, at 127-133 pounds and also a third place winner at last year's regionals, is shaping up fast, says Townsley.

Marty Richardson, regional champion at 120 pounds last year, is a senior now and co-captain of the Mustangs.

Running 165 and up, Seniors Bill MacDermald, Dale Price, and Greg Wikarysz should see some action this year. Juniors Pat Cayley and Kim Marburger are already in shape from the recently completed football schedule. Sophomores Steve Bagdon and Randy Marburger and Freshman Brad Conklin help fill out the roster.

At 90 to 95 pounds as they get into condition in the heat of the practice room are skeeter-weights Jeff Forth and Pete O'Hare.

These first-timers as well as the more experienced mat veterans of previous years should put Northville in a good position going into the first year of a regular conference campaign, the coach says.

The season's warm-up meet will take place here tonight at the high school at 7 p.m. against South Lyon.

First conference meet will be at Bloomfield on Tuesday evening, December 5.

Faculty Tunes Up Untried Muscles

Northville faculty members are slowly tuning up for their battle with the Harlem Diplomats December 16. According to a teacher spokesman, breath is still short and kinks refuse to budge from flabby muscles but faculty members are confident they'll be in top shape for the public contest with Canada's version of the Globe Trotters.

Sponsored by the Northville Boosters club, the exhibition contest will get underway at 8 p.m. in the high school gymnasium. Advance tickets are $1 and at the door they'll be $1.50. Proceeds from the game, which will combine basketball skill and comedy, will be used to help pay for an All-Sports Banquet in the spring.

City Approves Leasing Of Private Parking Lot

In an attempt to better regulate the parking turnover in the rear of stores on the north side of East Main street, the city council Monday night voted to lease the Stone's Gambles store private parking lot.

Besides authorizing the mayor to execute the $1 per year lease, the council also approved a format for a standard lease agreement that other businesses may wish to sign.

Two private parking lots of Manufacturers National Bank and one behind Leone's Bakery reportedly are being considered for leasing.

By leasing the lot to the city, Gerald Stone authorizes the city to establish parking time limits and to enforce these restrictions, which probably will be of two-hour duration.

Specifically, Stone sought the lease agreement, City Manager Frank Ollendorff explained, because employees of other businesses were parking throughout the day in his lot, thus cutting down available parking spaces for his customers. Stone sought immediate action on the agreement because of the increasing Christmas traffic, the manager said.

While all city officials attending the special meeting agreed city control of the lots is desirable, Mayor A. M. Allen was reluctant to enter into the agreement on a single lot without similar agreements on the others.

Concerning Stone's lot, he was particularly concerned that citizens must drive through private alleys to reach or leave the lot. If these alleys are blocked by unloading trucks, he noted, parkers will be unable to leave the lot. And their first reaction, he said, will be to storm the city which enforces the parking restrictions.

Their only way out, he quipped, would be by helicopter.

Finally, however, the mayor reluctantly agreed to the lease with the proviso that it contain a written clause noting that the city has no responsibility for entrance or exit from the lot.

Councilman Charles Lapham, who voted for the measure, questioned the advisability of restricting parking until it was firmly established that sufficient metered all-day parking space is available for employees forced to leave the lots behind these stores.

In discussing parking elsewhere in the city, Lapham also contended that the city should attempt to resolve those "few" problems where apartment or home dwellers are left with no place close to their homes to park their cars because of recent limited street parking bans.

Some persons, he said, have no drives to their homes and now cannot park on the street.

He refused to accept Ollendorff's contention that the city has no responsibility for providing private parking for homeowners. Nor would he accept the "solution" that such residents can rent space elsewhere or temporarily use the unmetered, no-parking limit lot owned by the city on the south side of Main street just east of Wing.

The discussion died without any action.

Jaycees Wes Klocke (left) and Dick Koziara constructed a "Community Christmas Stocking" that's bigger than both of them! Northville Jaycees are joining with local retail merchants in sponsoring the community stocking project. It's now stationed at city hall where residents can deposit gifts and foodstuffs for needy youngsters in area institutions. Klocke and Koziara are co-chairmen for the Jaycees. They built the giant stocking with the help of Ed Matatall, contractor, and the cooperation of Cal's service station, where the stocking was stored. It will be lighted at night and have a drop-door for gifts. Jaycees will remove contributions daily and make delivery of the gifts before Christmas. Deadline for dropping off gifts is December 16.

CANDLE IN THE NIGHT

There is something about a candle . . . something about a flame . . . something about fire itself . . . that has fascinated man throughout the centuries. Despite the fact that you can translate fire, these days, into a known chemical formula, it is still a mystery, a wonder, and sometimes a fear.

It is an elemental thing that this little girl is studying as she watches the candle flicker. And, like so many of the elemental things—like Nature itself, and like Faith, for that matter—it is awesome.

Faith, too, is a mystery and a wonder. Yet the only fear that Faith engenders is the fear, deep within one's heart, that it might be lost.

So that this essential ingredient of life does not elude you and does not diminish during misfortune, make it a habit of attending the church of your choice regularly. Here you will be given spiritual strength and inspiration and kindle the mystery of love and joy within your heart.

from the PASTOR'S STUDY

Ray Pippins, Minister
Church of Christ, South Lyon

What is the Church? Is it necessary? Is it a denomination? Is it an invisible federation of all denominations? Can a person be saved without being a member of any church? What does Christ have to do with His church, if anything? If Christ is the saviour, why belong to a church anyway? Actually, is the church really important?

Only one book in the world can teach us fully about this widely misunderstood subject, the church, THE BIBLE. To understand the church one must first understand two principles relating to the church.

The first is that Jesus Christ, and not man, was the builder, founder, head, and foundation of the church (Matt. 16:18; Eph. 1:22; 1 Cor. 3:11).

The second principle to understand is that the word Church means "the called out" — referring to these individuals who have been called out of the world through the gospel and have been redeemed by the blood of Christ (Acts 2:47; 11 Thess. 2:14; 1 Pet. 1:18-19).

The church is therefore the spiritual domain made possible, or purchased by, the blood of Christ (Acts 20:28; 1 Cor. 6:19-20). This relationship is also described as the spiritual body of Christ (Eph. 1:23; Col. 1:18-24) and also the Kingdom of Christ (Col. 1:13) Heb. 12:28). Hence we may fairly conclude that: (1) Jesus Christ is the head of His church. (2) That Jesus Christ is the saviour of the spiritual body. (3) Jesus Christ is the King of His kingdom. And all three of these spiritual institutions—the church, the body, and the kingdom—are one and the same thing. They all refer to the same realm or relationship wherein Christ saves. Christ does not save outside of His church, outside of His spiritual body, or outside of His Kingdom.

When a person is baptized "into Christ" (Rom. 6:3), he is at the same time baptized into the church of Christ (Acts 2:38-41), and the body of Christ (1 Cor. 12:13), and the kingdom of Christ (John 3:3-5). These are not three different organizations, but simply three different designations for the same spiritual fellowship in which Christ saves.

Therefore, all — not a few, or some, or many — persons who have been redeemed by the blood of Christ are, without any choice in the matter, members of Christ church or body or kingdom.

When these basic Bible teachings are comprehended men will no longer teach or imply that the church is unnecessary to a person's salvation. It is true that Christ and not the church is the saviour, but this is equally true—the church is that very spiritual body or kingdom that Christ will ultimately save (1 Cor 15:24) (Eph. 5:27). The church does not save. It is the body of the saved.

Yes, the church is inseparably linked with Christ, the blood of Christ, and man's salvation. Christ's precious blood was shed in order that men might have remission of sins through acceptance and obedience to Christ's will (Matt. 26:28; Heb. 5:8, 9). The Bible teaches that the church was "purchased" by the blood of the Lord (Acts 20:28) in as much as all individuals redeemed by Christ constitute the church.

Does, then, one have to be a member of Christ church or spiritual body or kingdom to be saved? While many will say "No" through misunderstanding, the Word of God teaches plainly that the church is that spiritual body which Christ will save (Eph. 5:23). It necessarily follows that if a person wants to be a part of that spiritual body which Christ will save he must, therefore, be a member of Christ's Church.

How does Bob expect to get enough money for a summer home with $20 a week? By saving regularly. Bob's been adding $20 to his NBD savings account every week for the last year. At the current rate of four percent annual interest, paid and compounded quarterly, Bob will have $5,733.32 four years from now.

He'll buy his cottage on the lake, and have money to spare.

Bob chose the National Bank of Detroit for some very good reasons. Bob has the convenience of banking at more than ninety offices. He can save by mail. Or, if he wants to save automatically, he can ask the bank to make regular transfers from his NBD checking account.

He'll also have the security of knowing that he's saving at Michigan's largest full service bank.

If you're saving for something special, take a hint from Bob Duffy. Open a savings account at any NBD office.

It could be the beginning of a lot of sunny days.

At the National Bank of Detroit.

At Amerman Dinner

Kindergartners Play Pilgrims' Role

THANKSGIVING DINNER - Costumes of kindergartners may have been make-believe but the dinner was nothing of the kind last week as Amerman youngsters sat down to a table of turkey with all the trimmings. It was one of the ways that kindergarten teachers and parents cooperated in teaching the children the historical aspects of Thanksgiving.

Kindergartners at Amerman elementary school learned first-hand the traditional meaning of Thanksgiving by donning costumes of Pilgrims, and Indians last week and sitting down to a classroom dinner of turkey and all the trimmings.

The Wednesday Thanksgiving climaxed study of autumn, the harvest, and how animals and people get ready for winter under the supervision of teachers Mrs. Marilyn Kaestner and Mrs. Virginia Krietz.

Pupils visited the Ropert's turkey farm in Livonia to pick out their Thanksgiving turkey and stopped at an apple orchard to buy apples and see how the farmer stores his fruit for the winter.

Later, they walked to one of the parent's homes to make apple sauce, canning several quarts for the big dinner. Some also made butter, cranberry sauce, pumpkin pies, and corn dodgers - the latter from an Indian recipe.

Meanwhile, other groups of youngsters made costumes and jewelry worn for the special occasion. Still others planned the construction of a birdfeeder to be placed outside one of the classroom windows.

Finally, last week Wednesday, the morning and afternoon sections each dressed in costumes fitting the occasion and sat down to the table of Thanksgiving food.

Schoolcraft

Members of the Schoolcraft College Faculty Forum have elected psychology instructor Walter Hoffman as president to succeed Peter Attalai, foreign language instructor.

Three other officers and a member of the executive board were also elected in voting at the college on Thursday, November 16. The Forum is the faculty's official organization at Schoolcraft. The new officers will begin a one-year term on January 1.

Also named were Gordon Snyder, biology instructor, vice-president; Mrs. Carolyn Dodge, English instructor, secretary; and Leo Bigos, drafting instructor, treasurer. Bryce Lockwood, physics instructor, was named to the executive board.

The nominating committee for the annual election was composed of Angelo Chinni, John Bedford, Bigos, Mrs. Dodge, and Mrs. Cecelia Kelly.

Earlier, members of the Forum had elected a five-member negotiating team comprised of Albert Agosti, Fernon Feenstra, John Kyriacopoulos, Anthony Rizzo, and John Witten.

The Schoolcraft College Friday film series will present "Viridiana", directed by Luis Bunuel and written by Bunuel and Julio Alejandro, at 3 p.m. and 8:30 p.m. Friday, December 1, in the amphitheater in the Forum on campus. The Spanish film has English sub-titles. There is no admission charge.

In exile in Mexico since 1938, Bunuel accepted an invitation from Franco to return to his native Spain in 1961. He was offered government financing to make a film. "Viridiana" was the result.

Two days after the film won the Grand Prix at Cannes, Franco saw it for the first time. He dismissed his Minister of Culture, ordered a press blackout and banned the film. It is not difficult to see why. "Viridiana" is undoubtedly one of the boldest, cruelest and most cynical stories to be depicted on the screen. Its effect must be experienced to be believed. But no matter how one reacts to the story, "Viridiana" is a major cinematic achievement.

For speeding 65 in a 50-mile zone, Nelson J. Valdron of Drayton Plains was fined $20.

Two motorists were fined $20 each for speeding on the same stretch of Novi road between I-96 Freeway and Grand River. Don M. Hays, 1747

Robert H. Schneider, 26803 Napier road, Wixom was found guilty of driving 70 in a 55-mile zone on Grand River west of Beck road and fined $20.

Other cases to come before Novi Justice court included that of a minor in possession of alcohol (beer) and a ticket for a defective exhaust. In the first case Joseph J. Ruelle of Farmington pleaded guilty and was fined $25. Phillip W. Warden of Detroit was found to be driving with an expired operator's licence and was fined $20.

SPEAKING

for The Record

By BILL SLIGER

Unless citizen reaction at the December 18 public hearing is adverse, it appears now that the Northville city council will take a "get tough" stand on the matter of impounding vehicles in which minors are caught possessing alcoholic beverages.

State law now stipulates that a vehicle used in such a violation "may be impounded for a period of not more than 30 days".

The council is inclined to remove the responsibility for making such a decision by an arresting officer by making it mandatory in the city ordinance that the vehicle "shall be impounded for a period of 24 hours".

There's full knowledge on the council that this could lead to "testy" situations.

But an adult will be reminded that when his car is being used by a minor, he is responsible for the conduct of all minors in that vehicle. If one is caught with a can of beer, the car is hauled to the police station where it remains for 24 hours.

City Manager Frank Ollendorff favors a longer impounding period. Aware that incidents of minors-in-possession are increasing, the manager remarked that a penalty which inconveniences the parent might help reverse the trend.

The decision by the Northville township board to move its offices from Franklin road to the city-located old library building leaves the threat by Treasurer Alex Lawrence hanging.

Absent from the special meeting Monday night when the move was given unanimous board approval, Lawrence had left word that he opposed the move and would set-up treasurer's offices in his home before moving into the city-located offices.

An opinion rendered by the executive director of the Michigan Townships Association appears to support the treasurer's right to do so, although the opinion notes "that the question posed is absolutely new and without precedence in the thousands of questions we have answered in the past fourteen years". And it concludes that the "problem must be solved at the local level" where, it further points out, "members of your township board will sit down as normal persons must to arrive at an equitable and just solution".

Despite the treasurer's contention that he opposes moving his offices into the city because it would create an inconvenience for township taxpayers, the facts do not appear to support his claim.

For many years the treasurer has elected to conduct his collection services .. for the convenience of township taxpayers. In the city-located offices of Manufacturers National Bank, two blocks from the new township hall.

It is hoped that Treasurer Lawrence will also consider his responsibility to accept and carry out actions approved by majority vote of the township board.

Obviously, it is the opinion of his fellow board members that township residents will be better served by the facilities offered in the old library.

We can recall many board decisions reached by 3-2 votes with Treasurer Lawrence voting in the majority. We cannot recall a single incidence of one of the defeated board members refusing to comply with that majority decision.

Never underestimate the power of a woman.

Township Clerk Ellie Hammond demonstrated this adage when she proposed an appointment to fill a vacancy on a township commission.

A fellow board member asked her if she had consulted with the proposed appointee to determine if he would be willing to serve.

"No, but I talked to his wife," replied the clerk.

Her all-male board associates agreed this was superior to personal approval.

Teen Criticizes 'Unfair' Policies

To the Editor:

I would like to voice several criticisms about the policies practiced by Cloverdale Dairy towards the teenagers who patronize the establishment. Once Cloverdale was a place for teenagers to converse with friends and have some sort of relaxation and refreshments before going home from school. But it has been brought to my attention that this establishment feels that we are immature to accept the responsibility of an adult. And expressing their feelings toward high school students signs almost protesting against us were placed through the store. For example: NO LOITERING, STUDENTS HALF AN HOUR ONLY, SECTION FOR ADULTS ONLY, must be 21 years of age.

In many other business establishments in Northville students are welcome and treated like adults. In my own opinion, Cloverdale is the only place for students to go for refreshment, due to the fact that there is no other place for us to go. I also feel that since we are considered adults, we should be treated like adults. Our money is as good as that of an adult and since they accept it they should be pleased that we patronize their establishment.

If more people would take interest in the teenagers, including parents, and the business establishments, we wouldn't have problems such as this. Cloverdale should expect some troubles from us just as our parents do. If you don't want us standing around on the street corners all day then please try to help.

Sincerely yours,
Teenager

A LOOSE LEAF

By ROLLY PETERSON

To put it paradoxically, "Cool Hand Luke" is a pleasant surprise. With Paul Newman in the lead as Lucas Jackson, the movie sears the screen with a burning intensity that should brand it as one of the best movies of 1967. Simply, it's that good.

As a portrait of a man, it could qualify as the sequel to "Hud." Newman is the mysterious wastrel who finds himself at odds with the world and perplexed by his own actions. Inexplicably, he indulges himself, like a man bent on his own destruction and helpless to help himself.

There are no rules in Luke Jackson's world, just as there were none in Hud's world. Rules are a temptation, to be broken, not out of any maliciousness, but out of some deep-seated, demonic passion that grips man by the seat of the pants and huris him headlong into a blind abyss. As Luke's mother put it, "When you was born, the hell went out of us."

Appropriately, the action takes place in William Faulkner's south, a teeming jungle of human emotion, where elemental humans harbor deep prejudices and set their own rules. The pervading symbol is the sun, hot, unquenchable, that sweats the lives from men drop by drop.

We might say Luke walks into a hell of his own making. No explanation is ever given why we first see him in the municipal parking lot of a southern town, decapitating rows of parking meters with a pipe cutter. He drinks himself into a stupor, but that's no explanation. It begs the question: why is he drinking?

This is our first glimpse of Luke. Police arrive and Luke, too drunk to move, stares blankly at them. For malicious destruction of municipal property, he's sentenced to two years on a state work farm. And the intensity begins.

Not unlike Hitler's Buchenwald or Auschwitz, the prison is run by sadists, human vultures who feed on the entrails of human misery. Dispassionately, they set upon their victims, working them in the blazing sun from sun up to sundown in a weary succession of senseless minutes.

Magnificent camera work captures the aimlessness of the work and the brutal, militant pride of the captors. As the prisoners cut grass along the road, or cover hot tar with surface gravel, the guards stand tall under the heat of the noon day sun, their rifles projections of themselves - cold and silent.

Godfrey, a tall, lean walking guard is the symbol of blind authority. He wears one-way glasses that mirror the men before him, yet do not permit anyone to see his eyes. Occasionally, he grabs his rifle to snuff out the life of a bird or turtle as a constant reminder to the prisoners that death is a mad dash for freedom.

In this setting, Luke becomes a legend among the prisoners, a symbolic rock which no authority can cleave. Luke is what his prison mates dream of--- cool. Somehow, magnetically, he seems above the rules and regulations, an undaunted spirit afraid of nothing. As one of his mates put it, "Luke, you wild, beautiful thing you."

There is no taming this maverick. He never quits. He escapes and the prisoners revel in what they figure are his wild, free escapades. In Luke's escape, the prisoners find a vicarious kick, a way of defying authority without being punished.

When Luke is re-captured, the prisoners are momentarily distraught, but quickly gather around their idol to worship at the altar of his adventures. "The wild, beautiful thing" escapes again, daringly, in the sunlight and under the nose of his captors. Again, the prisoners babble over what they imagine to be Luke's life of leisure with women and wine. Again, Luke is captured and returned to prison.

This time, there is a difference. The guards step up their brutality, intent on teaching Luke a lesson. His spirit must be broken, the smile, which is evidence of the spirit, wiped off his face. Luke breaks under constant torture. Almost imperceptibly, a change has taken place in the man. What it is escapes explanation, but a change does take place.

Not that Luke is any less wild or spirited. Again he flies the coop in daylight after satisfying the guards that he has, indeed, changed his mind. And there is a change in attitude. Where before he defied man and God, now he only defies man.

Free once more, Luke runs to a vacated church, rather than running away from his captors. He seeks an answer. "You made me like I am," he says, kneeling in the church. "Just where am I to fit in?" But his questions are met with silence.

Publishing a newspaper is a fantastic accomplishment. But over at Fort and Eureka, temporary home of the temporary daily newspaper called DETROIT'S DAILY EXPRESS, newspaper publishing is much more. It is a miracle of the first order. That the EXPRESS reaches the street at all is proof, it seems to me, that the word "impossible" can be scratched from Webster's Dictionary.

While some may question the journalistic ethics of those who sponge up the lost revenue of the two struck dailies, most must admire the daring of a guy who, risking a multi-thousand dollar investment, rents a building, buys stock and equipment, hires employees, and successfully produces a newspaper in the face of unimaginable difficulties.

The guy in this role over at the EXPRESS is Frank J. Beaumont, a handsome young man who owns a piece of the weekly newspaper, The Wyandotte News-Herald.

Unless you know the location of the EXPRESS office you'll probably drive past the place. It's located inside an abandoned automobile dealership, the giant corner sign still signaling customers to good buys. Used cars have been replaced by a regiment of employees' cars, strung out in an irregular formation along the side of the dying, pasty building.

then your eyes wander past a stack of unpacked cardboard boxes, beyond the switchboard operator who sits in a hastily erected cage, to rows of church social tables cluttered with newspapers, typewriters, telephones, cigarettes and people.

It is a single, large, unpartitioned room, the ceiling held up by iron poles and the light furnished by naked bulbs, discolored windows and beautiful, new offset light tables. To the rear is the teletype machine that links this smoky room with the far corners of the world. Apparently broken, the machine refuses to cough up words from its lifeless mouth. Up front in the alcove that probably once housed a gleaming new car, a bevy of women punch the keys of typesetting machines that bounce on wooden tables while a salesman uncrates and assembles the new metal stands that arrived a week after the machines. Along one side of the room are the light tables, newly made and out-of-place next to the long, sagging tables, substituting for desks, and the folding wooden chairs.

The dirty door behind the light tables leads to the single john that serves the army of two-dozen men and women who pound machines, talk into phones that dangle from coils of wire, read, scissor out-state newspapers, smoke, talk and shout.

Many are professional newspaper men and women, some of whom were released from THE FREE PRESS when that newspaper suspended publication, others were hired off the street. All seem busy, but it's a disjointed sort of activity that appears to have no beginning nor end. If the Indians have a chief, and I'm told they do, he is lost in the crazy maze of make-believe.

This is temporary newspapering. You're looking at only a segment of it. There's others, too, like reporters and photographers prowling streets, meeting rooms, stadiums and bars; film processing of pictures and pages; advertising salesmen calling or visiting potential customers; pressing words and pictures on tons of paper (part of the EXPRESS is printed at THE RECORD-NEWS plant in Novi); truck deliveries to stores and street hawkers; payrolls and bills and collections.

Unperturbed by it all in his fresh, crisp white shirt and tie, Frank Beaumont flits back and forth between his temporary employees in his temporary building and appears temporarily to enjoy himself, smiling even when his little daughter enters the room carrying a single, long-stemmed rose. The newspaper day has only begun. By early morning his shirt probably will be soiled with sweat and grime. But now, as the strike moves into another day and another edition of the temporary newspaper miraculously takes shape, he smiles.

It's then that you remember that gamblers cannot afford the luxury of crying.

Vacationing Legislators Escape Open Housing Heat

LANSING—Legislators left for home last week without facing up to the question they are called upon to deal with: an open housing law. In doing so, they succeeded in getting relief from the heat of this issue for a while. It is doubtful they think the issue will evaporate.

Car Repairs Stir Public Ire

BABSON PARK, — Better Business Bureaus and local law enforcement agencies all over the nation are receiving complaints about the poor performance or nonperformance of mechanics at repair garages and service stations.

These complaints range from beefs about carelessness in auto repairs to howls from those victimized by the fraudulent practices of some repairmen who con motorists into okaying repairs or replacements not actually necessary and sometimes not even desirable.

leaders, labor leaders and business leaders tell him that this proposition is moral, fair and necessary. The bill itself is modest in its requirement. It simply says that when property is offered on the open market, its sale cannot be refused on a basis of race, color or creed. The same principle already exists in other markets, in retailing, in hotel accommodations, and in restaurants.

able. One of the most frequent gripes concerns charges for work which subsequent investigation reveals had not been done at all.

Another grievance, becoming more and more widespread nationally, is the overinflated property damage estimate. This particular type of "swindle sheet" is a very important factor in the final price of accident insurance. Every padded damage estimate helps jack up the cost of all auto property-damage insurance.

For every motorist who has been gouged deliberately by crooked garages, there are perhaps a score or more who have been victimized by incompetent repairmen who either have done sloppy work or have failed to diagnose car troubles correctly. Often as not, the poor-quality work or wrong diagnosis has complicated things for the unsuspecting motorist.

But, apart from the inconvenience and unnecessary expense, there is the impact on public safety. No one knows how many accidents each week are directly traceable to the misfeasance or nonfeasance of mechanics whom the non-mechanically-inclined motoring public have trusted, but it is obvious that the number is large enough to be called for a crusader of the persistence of a Ralph Nader.

LAW ENFORCEMENT officers in several areas have lately been citing the need for legislation that would provide supervision of repair garages and legal redress for those victimized by the sharp practices of repairmen. Their argument is that the petroleum corporations which largely control the service outlets are not policing these operations.

In N.Y. State this failure has led to serious consideration of possible methods of licensing auto mechanics. Reportedly, there is significant police support for such a move and public interest in it has been growing. In New York City, a full-blown campaign for reform of the repair garage industry is being sponsored by the Citizens Committee for Metropolitan Affairs. Probability is that New York will enact enabling laws before too long.

Meanwhile, federal officials are becoming more aware of this overall problem and of the acute need for protecting the public and the honest mechanics in the business from the incompetents and the gougers. At present, Congress is studying the auto insurance problem to determine whether Uncle Sam should exercise control over underwriters in this field. Senators and Representatives will be reminded that one of the significant factors contributing to high auto insurance rates is the outright dishonesty of a sizable segment of the repair industry.

Make no mistake about it, federal controls over such garages and service outlets are coming... possibly even federal licensing of mechanics UNLESS the industry does something about the problem... and does it fast. Little more than a year ago, few of us expected that federal controls over the automobile manufacturing industry would come so soon... or be so extensive. If the large gasoline companies which operate — either directly or through franchise — the bulk of the nation's auto service stations cannot voluntarily bring about honesty and responsibility, as well as competence, on the part of mechanics, they are going to be forced to do so by Uncle Sam. And they will find that federal regulation will hurt profits.

MORE PHONY issues have been dragged into the open housing question than appeared on any proposition in years. Many people who are prejudiced apparently prefer to pretend they are not, and oppose the bill because of some abstract idea only remotely related to the open housing idea.

One legislator defined what might the problem faced by many. He said, "I've got to decide on this vote whether to be a Christian or a politician."

The people will suffer or benefit according to their wisdom in this matter. If they bring about a fair, logical decision, they can realize whatever gain is involved. If the people permit prejudice to prevail, they pay another price. This is the case in a democratic form of government with every issue which is decided.

The open housing question will face legislators when they return from their recess in mid-December. How they face up to this problem will be a mark on their own records and that of the people they represent. The issue will not go away; it must be dealt with.

A PARTNERSHIP between Michigan and Belize, better known as British Honduras, was formed early in 1966 amid high expectations and little fanfare.

Called "Partners of the Alliance," the program is similar to many already formed between citizens of various states and their counterparts in 15 Latin American countries. All are run by private citizens who volunteer to help underdeveloped nations progress socially, economically, and culturally.

Michigan's Partnership program is one of the few in which a single state cooperates with an entire country's citizens.

Independence will be granted to Belize by Great Britain whenever the emerging nation chooses. There is determination among the majority of Belizeans to make the day of decision soon.

The nation is small, approximately 175 miles long and 50 miles wide, with a population of about 110,000. The people are of many races, strongly Christian, highly literate. All speak English and about three-fourths of the population speak Spanish as well.

Major problems face the young nation: secondary education, sanitation, poor economic conditions, lack of industries, and low agricultural production.

But the country enjoys an ideal climate, fertile soil, ample resources and a stable two-party system of government patterned after that of the United States.

Its Prime Minister, George Price, is an educated leader devoted to his country and its development as a strong, democratic nation.

RESULTS of the Partnership are already apparent. Under the chairmanship of former Congressman Alvin Bentley of Owosso, the Michigan-Belize program was organized into 10 committees, each responsible for a different area of development. Each Michigan committee has a counterpart in Belize. The Michigan committee on public health, for example, communicates directly with the Belizean committee on public health.

This system has worked well in the short time the Partnership has existed, but much more needs to be done in the areas of agriculture, education, public health, business development and other important fields.

A membership drive is underway in Michigan to develop higher interest in the project and stimulate greater citizen participation. A small part of Belize's gratitude and respect for this state was reflected in the naming of three Belizean cities: Mount Pleasant, San Luis and San Ignacio. The Michigan flag is flown in Belize's Central Park, further demonstration of that country's appreciation.

One Year Ago...

...A financial squeeze triggered by the loss of revenues from the cancelled spring racing meet at Northville Downs in the spring and compounded by heavy public improvement program began to pinch the city's general fund.

...Novi Village Manager Harold Ackley appeared before the Northville city council requesting city permission for extension of a city of Detroit water line from Northville into Novi.

...The city of Northville saluted its employees and volunteer committee members at the annual civic recognition dinner at the First Presbyterian Church.

...A 48-year-old Farmington man was killed in a hit-and-run accident, the second traffic fatality on Wixom roads in 1966 and the fourth within city limits.

...Winter taxes were to take a substantial jump in both the city and the township of Northville, officials revealed.

The increase was to be up 33 percent in the Northville school district portion of the township, 11 percent in the Plymouth school district portion of the township, 33 percent in the Wayne county portion of the city, and 23 percent in the Oakland county portion of the city.

Free Calls to Servicemen

'Hi Mom' Project Underway Again

"Hi Mom" Those two tender words will be shared by 15 families in the Northville, and surrounding area with servicemen or women stationed outside the continental limits of the U.S.A. during the holiday season.

In cooperation with USO, Local 4015 of the Communications Workers of America in Plymouth is sponsoring the free overseas telephone calls as part of the union's 11th annual "Hi Mom" program.

Gerald S. Greer, president of Local 4015, said anyone with a loved one stationed overseas is eligible to win a free call although "Mom" will be given top priority.

Persons wanting to enter the contest or submit the name of a person should send a letter or postcard with their name, address, and telephone number to: CWA Local 4015, Box # 141, Plymouth.

Deadline for entries is December 15. Winners will be announced December 20, Greer said.

In addition to local participation, Greer said the union is increasing its role in the program this year. CWA will finance 150 calls for servicemen and women with selections to be made by the U.S.O. in cooperation with the military commanders. CWA will finance another 50 calls to wounded and injured military men and women confined to hospitals. The hospitals in which American GIs will be permitted to call home are in Okinawa, The Philippines, Japan, Guam, and Hawaii.

Greer said local winners will be selected by a drawing at the Detroit downtown USO on Wednesday, December 20.

On School Buses

Tickets in Store For Unruly Kids

Unruly school bus students may find themselves "ticketed" under a new disciplining program that the Northville school system will put into effect next week.

According to Business Manager Earl Busard, children who are found unmanageable while riding buses will be issued violation tickets that must be signed by a parent before they will be permitted to ride buses again.

The tickets must be delivered signed to the business manager—not to the bus driver—who issues the ticket to the student nor to Busard via the bus driver. Should the violation occur while enroute to school, the student will be bussed home at the end of the day but will be unable to ride the following day.

One-half of the ticket will say:

"Dear Parent: We are experiencing a discipline problem with your children on the bus. Problem: (description of specific violation) Your child will not be allowed to ride the bus again until this card has been signed by you (reverse side) and returned to Earl T. Busard."

The card will include the name of the bus driver issuing the violation ticket, the number of the bus and the date. A duplicate will be turned over to Busard, while the original will go to the student who must give it to his parent.

"We should have little problem with children not giving the card to their parents," explained Busard, "because under no circumstances will she or he be permitted to ride the bus until the parent has signed the card."

The reverse side will read: "I have reviewed with my child the problem cited on the reverse side. We feel he/she is ready to ride the bus and will follow the appropriate rules and regulations established for the transportation program. If we can be of further assistance, please call us at (telephone number, signature and date).

Busard said that there have been relatively few major problems with children but that when they do occur the driver has had little means making students obey regulations. By directly involving the parent, who in the past may not have been aware of a problem, repeat violations may not occur, he indicated.

Bus drivers, he said, have the important responsibility of getting children to and from school safely and should not be faced with the problem of keeping order.

"I can't believe it — replaced by a young upstart who doesn't even smoke! This incinerator fellow must not have any pride — he even consumes garbage! No self-respecting trash burner would attempt that! And who's going to keep the neighbors in their place by blowing smoke and soot in their yard? You'll see... replacing me with an automatic Gas Incinerator will make a big difference in their life!"
