

'Peace' Most Wanted Gift for Christmas

Although Northville shoppers may have their eyes on a host of downtown bargain gifts, many share a common hope: "Peace on Earth."

That's what The Record learned this week in asking shoppers, "What would you most like to have for Christmas—if you could have anything at all?"

Nevertheless, physical gifts were on the minds of some.

Mrs. Richard Chadwick of 20210 West View drive may not be a songster but she's thinking about a Singer. She would like "a sewing machine with a 'Dial-a-matic'."

Mr. and Mrs. Lance Lash, 106 East Cady, each had their own idea what they'd most like for Christmas. A bedroom suite was his choice while she said a new refrigerator would be fine. They've been married just five months.

A special kind of gift was the choice of Darlene Clor of Novi. She would like an "A" in her national government course at Schoolcraft college.

Two Northville teenagers spoke for young folks everywhere when they voiced their wishes. One, for example, Chris O'Leary, 534 Dunlap, can't wait for a phone of her own, including a permanently paid bill for it.

Al Earehart, 131 North Rogers goes all out with his request. He wants "a blank check."

J. T. Choate, 335 Eaton drive said he wants "the boys back home from Vietnam", especially his nephew of Caro.

The new assistant pastor of Northville's Presbyterian Church, The Rev. Timothy Johnson, 313 Cherie Lane says, "Peace on earth, of course, and brotherhood among all men. Nothing is more important than that."

The Christmas wish of Mrs. Lucille Fairfield of 502 Novi street was brief but emphatic:

"What I want most of all is no more war ... peace on earth."

"What do I want more than anything this Christmas?" repeated Mrs. Joseph Holman, 17130 Beck road. "Well, next week it will be a year since my son, Lieutenant Gerald Holman died in a plane crash off the coast of Vietnam. My son, David, will be 19 in January and there are several other young men—nephews and sons of good friends who are already there."

"Let the war in Vietnam be over and soon. Do whatever is necessary to end it and bring the boys home."

Also Agree on Water Lines

City, Novi OK Drains

A giant proposed subdivision inside Novi just north of the city boundary moved a step closer to reality Monday night as the Northville city council granted preliminary approval of storm sewer and water line construction here.

Although located inside the city, the proposed storm sewer and water line will serve 55-acres inside Novi, including existing Connemara subdivision, West Ridge subdivision under way off Novi road, and the southern part of the proposed North Hills Estates subdivision.

The later development calls for 180 multiple dwellings and 202 homes as well as relocation of Center street inside Novi. Novi planners have already granted preliminary plat approval, and latest estimates call for initial construction to begin in the spring.

The storm sewer, to cost an estimated $52,000 also will provide relief for overloaded lines in the Northville Heights area of the city, according to City Manager Frank Ollendorff.

Under the two agreements approved by the council, the city and the village of Novi will split the cost of the storm sewer, and Novi and its developers will pay for the water line.

The storm sewer proposal—the product of negotiation between top officials of the two communities—also was approved by the Novi council Monday night.

Because surface water from the Novi area flows southward, Northville demanded that Novi pay the cost of a larger sewer line inside the city to handle the anticipated increased water flow.

Novi argued that since part of the surface water originates inside the city, Northville should pay a portion of the construction bill.

A 50-50 compromise agreement resulted—which the city manager and Mayor A. M. Allen say "is the best we could do"—with Novi paying $26,000 and Northville $26,000.

The storm drain, consisting of three parts, includes a 36-inch line from Maplewood to Hill in the Horton street right-of-way, 36-inch line from Horton to Novi street, and a 42-inch line from Novi street and behind Allen drive to the branch of the Rouge River.

Northville is to contract for the storm sewer installation and supervise construction.

According to Mayor Allen, bids probably will be sought in February for construction next summer, thus allowing the city to provide its share of the cost from the 1968-69 fiscal budget.

Although the preliminary agreement of the storm sewer drew unanimous approval, Councilman Wallace Nichols was reluctant to give his okay because the plan does not call for immediate correction of ponding water behind Northville Heights—a condition that originally sparked negotiation between the two communities.

Ollendorff explained that it is first necessary to provide adequate "down stream" sewer capacity. Development of the Novi property, on which the water ponds, will then provide lines to drain this area into the newly enlarged sewer. The corrective line is a prerequisite of the developer in order to build.

Nevertheless, Nichols suggested that Novi apply pressure to developer in hopes of an early solution.

The proposed water line, which will tap into the main at old Baseline, will travel north on Grace street to Maplewood, west on Maplewood to North Center and north on Center into Novi.

Agreement for the water line requires Novi to pay all costs.

Council Considers Probation Plan

Plan for a probation department utilizing volunteer help was unveiled by Municipal Judge Philip Ogilvie here Monday night.

The plan is being considered by the city council, which heard the judge's report, and it may be authorized before the month is out.

Basically, the plan as outlined by Judge Ogilvie calls for appointment of a paid, part-time chief probation officer, and a staff of volunteers who would assist the court in making corrective sentences.

Ideally, probation would deter defendants from repeating violations without saddling them with a prison record, Judge Ogilvie said.

The department, he explained, could legally handle only cases involving persons 17 years of age and older—not minors under 17.

Specifically, the department as proposed by the judge would be responsible for pre-sentencing reports, supervision of persons placed on probation in lieu of prison terms, and aiding defendants in making permanent readjustment.

Pre-sentencing reports, he explained, would provide the court with information relative to the defendant's police, family, social, and employment records so the judge can make wiser sentences.

Requirements of a person placed on probation could include, he said, regular progress reports to the probation officer, compliance with curfew, orders prohibiting him from frequenting establishments such as taverns, and assignment to a work detail.

The work detail requirement, he suggested, could mean cutting lawns of city property, repair of street signs, or other maintenance work.

According to the judge, establishment of the department would not require a special city ordinance or any enabling legislation. However, it was noted, the department would be required to meet standards of the State Department of Corrections.

The corrections department, the judge said, generally requires that the chief probation officer have a college degree—preferably in one of the social fields. But it will approve a person without a degree if he has had probation work experience, he said.

Judge Ogilvie told council members he is confident that a qualified person could be found locally—perhaps a retired school teacher. He pegged a suggested salary scale for such a person at between $1,000 and $2,000. The type of person likely to apply for the job, however, would be more interested in serving the community than in the salary, he said.

The chief probation officer, who probably would work about 30 hours a month, would supervise the department, attend all regularly scheduled court dates, furnish presentencing reports, maintain records, and assist in recruiting and training volunteer probation officers.

Volunteers, under Judge Ogilvie's plan, would be assigned to supervise the probation of specific defendants and assist the chief officer.

Although establishment of the department would mean financial support by the city, the judge said part of the cost, which would include paper, forms, etc., could be partially recouped through fees charged to the person placed on probation.

Initial council reaction to the proposal was favorable, but members deferred making a decision pending further study—possibly at the next regular meeting of the council.

City Manager Frank Ollendorff agreed that the probation department would be an asset to the city, but he urged that its formation not disuade the council from considering establishment at a later date of a police juvenile officer, which he said is equally as urgent, although more costly.

The manager said the juvenile officer could spend half his time with strictly juvenile matters and the remainder working as a police detective.

Hearing Slated For Community Of 568 Dwellings

The Northville township planning commission set December 28 as the night for a public hearing to consider rezoning on a 161-acre site for development of a community of single family homes, apartments, a shopping center and office-business center.

Last Tuesday evening planners viewed a preliminary presentation by the Thompson-Brown company which outlined the proposed development on the north side of Six Mile road at Bradner on the Farm Crest Farms property. Specifically, the plan calls for a total of 568 dwelling units including: 91 single family units on 41.5 acres; 91 RM-1 units (low density multiples) on 21.3 acres; 386 RM-2 units (multiple dwellings) on 47.5 acres; and 5.6 acres for professional offices (OS-1) and 14.4 acres for commercial development (B-2).

In addition the proposed plat shows 10 acres set aside for future development of township offices.

(See Speaking For The Record, 10-B.)

Several residents of the Bradner road area were at the Tuesday meeting to question the developers about the route of water and sewer lines to service Northville Commons, a 343-home development planned for the south side of Six Mile along Bradner on a 175-acre portion of the Farm Crest Farms land. They were told that utilities would be extended along Bradner and would be available to other residents, subject to normal township tapping charges.

In other business planners hit a snag in the long-discussed rezoning of a 40-acre site on Seven Mile road near Marilyn where Dr. W. E. Gizynski proposes to construct a retirement village and doctors' clinic—professional center-nursing home complex.

The site is presently zoned RM. It won that classification last spring when the township board over-ruled a recommendation by planners that the request for multiple zoning be denied until a new zoning classification providing for retirement-village-type developments could be adopted.

In the meantime, the township has adopted RM-1 and RM-2 zoning classifications replacing the old RM designation.

The planning commission held a public hearing last month to consider changing the Dr. Gizynski parcel from RM to RM-1. Attorney James Littell, representing the land owner, opposed the action, and continued to do so last week as the hearing continued. He maintains that RM-1 would be too restrictive and would not permit construction of as many units as desired. He asks for RM-2, which is identical with the old RM designation.

Further, the hearing was complicated by the fact that Littell maintained that planners had been directed by the township board to call a hearing to rezone the land RM-2, not RM-1. After some argument, it was proven that the official minutes of the township board supported Littell's claim, although the planning commission minutes did not agree.

The hearing was finally closed by Chairman Gunnar Stromberg. The board indicated it would study the matter further and determine whether to recommend a change to RM-1 or RM-2.

There was some disagreement between township representatives and planners for the proposed development as to whether the number of units desired to provide an economically feasible retirement village could be constructed on the 40-acre site under either RM-1 or RM-2 zoning.

Planners have expressed a desire in the past to apply a zoning designation to the area that would allow only retirement village apartments on the site, thereby preventing construction of regular multiple apartment dwellings.

motors charge that the present single-family residential zoning is unreasonable and that under such zoning the land in question cannot be economically developed.

The site, a 50.83 acre parcel, is

No Driver Licenses For Two Weeks

Northville's driver's license bureau department will be closed the last two weeks of this month, City Manager Frank Ollendorff announced.

The department will be closed, he said, because the city's examiner will be vacationing during the two weeks and no qualified substitute is available.

Big Water Sale

Township Gusher

Northville township's water sales have been given a giant boost.

Supervisor R. D. Merriman informed his board Tuesday night that agreement has been reached between the township and the state on sale of water to Northville State Hospital and the Plymouth State Home and Training School.

A contract has already been signed by the township. It's now in Lansing for approval by the Department of Mental Health.

The contract should provide the located at the northwest corner of Beck and Six Mile roads. It abuts a gravel mining operation, which is the main reason the plaintiffs maintain the land cannot be developed for single family homes.

The township holds that the present zoning (R-2) is reasonable.

Following the testimony the judge ordered the attorneys to file briefs, Dexter first with Ashton given 30 days thereafter to respond. A decision is not expected before two months.

Saturday Judge Martin visited the site with the two attorneys.

The Aaron Valley developers propose a community of 275 mobile home units and estimate the cost of the project at $650,000.

township with the necessary credit to finance expansion of its system of water lines throughout the southern portion of the township.

It is anticipated that installation of lines to serve the hospitals will begin next spring.

A contract with the city of Detroit gives the township exclusive rights to sell to all customers within its borders.

Mobile Home Suit Completed

Testimony in a suit brought against Northville township for failure to issue a building permit for a proposed mobile home development was heard in Wayne county circuit court last week.

Arguments and witnesses were heard Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday with final testimony completed by Thursday noon in the court of Judge George T. Martin.

The suit was filed by Charles and James Lapham, Rodney Grover and Gilbert Pearson, promoters of the proposed mobile home village known as Aaron Valley. They were represented by Attorney Phillip Dexter, while the township was represented by John Aston, township attorney.

Specifically, the Aaron Valley pro-

George-Witt Exchange Vows Here

In an evening wedding ceremony at the First Methodist Church of Northville, Kathy Louise George became the bride of Frederick Russell Witt on November 25.

The Reverend S. D. Kinde, pastor, performed the ceremony in a candelabra setting of vases of white gladiolus and chrysanthemums.

Mrs. Richard Somers was the organist and Mrs. Leland Mills, soloist, sang "O Perfect Love, Whither Thou Goest and the Lord's Prayer."

Parents of the bride are Mr. and Mrs. Charles A. George of 16850 Meade, and the bridegroom's parents are Mr. and Mrs. Norman W. Witt of 311 North Center street.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a slipper satin gown decorated with Chanilly lace medallions. It featured a modified empire bodice with A-line skirt and a detachable court train.

She carried a cascade of miniature carnations and white roses accented by a white velvet ribbon.

Miss Dawn McAllister, friend of the bride, was the maid of honor. She wore a floor length red velvet gown with a cape collar and she carried a white fur muff with pink sweetheart roses accented by a red velvet ribbon.

Bridesmaids were Mrs. Karon Frisbie, and Wendy George, sisters of the bride, and Miss Carole Overholt, a friend. They wore floor length red velvet gowns with cape collars and carried white fur muffs with red sweetheart roses and pink velvet ribbons.

The flower girl was Kim Fredenburg, cousin of the bride, and the ringbearer was Wade Segrest, nephew of the bridegroom. Kim wore a pink velvet teen dress.

Serving the bridegroom as best man was Al H. Rasegan of South Lyon. The ushers were David Reese of Wayne, and Steven Adams and Richard Talbot, both of Northville.

For her daughter's wedding, Mrs. George chose a turquoise matelasse brocade coat and dress ensemble with silver accessories and a pink rose corsage. The bridegroom's mother wore a deep coral crepe dress trimmed with lace, brown accessories, and a corsage of white roses.

A reception followed the wedding ceremony in the church hall, with 250 guests from Ohio, Canada, Iowa, Missouri and Northern Michigan attending.

The bride's going away outfit was a gold wool dress with black accessories. The couple honeymooned in California where they will take up residence at Riverside.

Both the bride and the bridegroom are graduates of Northville high school. He is presently serving in the United States Air Force, and she is employed as a secretary by the Borman Food company.

In Our Town

By JEAN DAY

'TIS THE SEASON to be jolly—and holiday festivities already scheduled promise a brimful Christmastime.

Several of Northville's club groups are reviving the tradition of a small gift exchange at their Christmas parties.

MEMBERS of the Northville branch of the Michigan Farm and Garden association will be carrying brightly wrapped packages when they meet at 12:30 p.m. Monday at the home of Mrs. Charles Walker, 21101 Cambridge road.

Mrs. William Slatery, president, decided it would be fun to resume the old-time practice of the club at this Christmas tea program.

Mrs. George Kohs, program chairman of the day, is brushing up on her marionette theatre skills this week in preparation for the presentation of A Christmas Story with old-fashioned marionettes.

They are coming down from her attic where they were stored when she and a friend became too busy to continue the shows they presented for children's and church groups several years ago.

ALWAYS a tradition at the Christmas potluck party of Northville Mothers' club, a gift exchange is planned for the party at 6:30 p.m. Monday at the Beck road home of Mrs. Clifton Hill.

Mrs. Donald Hannabarger, president, points out that in years past members always made the gifts they brought, but with many members busy or lacking nimble fingers, this rule has been relaxed and those who wish may bring any dollar gift.

Members also are asked to bring their own passing dish and table service. Co-hostesses are Mrs. E. E. Mueller, chairman, Mrs. Stuart Campbell, Mrs. Essie Nirlder and Mrs. Irvin Marburger.

Life members of the club are special guests at the party.

SENIOR CITIZENS will devote their next scheduled meeting entirely to a Christmas program at 7:30 p.m. Tuesday in the scout-recreation building.

There is to be community singing of traditional carols led by Mrs. George Jerome with piano accompaniment by Mrs. Albert Jones. Mrs. Jerome also will sing a selection of Christmas solos.

Mrs. Paul Schulz will present a Christmas reading.

Holiday refreshments and a social hour are planned to follow the program.

INVITATIONS with red santas or sprigs of holly have been mailed early as hostesses reserve December dates.

Mrs. R. M. Atchison and Mrs. E. V. Ellison are giving a holiday coffee Friday morning at the former's home on Rogers.

Today Mrs. Richard Martin is having a Christmas coffee at her home on Whipple drive for members of the bridge groups in which she plays.

Saturday evening Jim and Pearl Conway are hosting an open house at their home on Bloomcrest.

A SHERRY party Sunday afternoon, December 17, is a tradition that Charles and Mary Esther Fountain are bringing from Canada. The hostess reports that this was a popular way to wish friends well in Montreal and they now are planning to offer this hospitality at their home on Pickford road.

Sunday evening, December 17, the Orin Hoves will be hosts at a champagne open house at their home on Pinebrook drive.

The E. O. Webers have sent out invitations for an open house at their home on Woodhill road for December 22.

A MUSICAL, sponsored by the "League for the Musically Handicapped," was the fun party and original inspiration of the Robert Langs and the Frank Angles. It was given Saturday evening at the Angle home on Thornapple lane for some 37 dinner guests.

Song sheets were passed out and guests spent the evening singing as red-vested Dave Lindley provided piano accompaniment. Dave, Lang comments, is a talented professional who played regularly at Detroit's Rathskeller during his college days.

YULE SHOPPERS can find inexpensive gifts AND aid the work of the Northville State hospital auxiliary at the Gift Mart to be held from 10 a.m. to 4 p.m. December 12 and 13 at the hospital.

Ordered for Christmas giving by the auxiliary, the items are almost all in the under-$5 range at this annual event at which hospital staff members and the public are invited to shop.

Co-chairmen Mrs. James Sugrue, Jr., and Mrs. Louis Pearlman hope that everyone in the area knows the Gift Mart is a public event ... and an easy way of helping the auxiliary. The shop is manned by auxiliary volunteers who also will serve coffee. It will be held in the hospital auxiliary room reached through the main lobby of the hospital.

ANTIQUE JEWELRY holds interest today as hand crafted pieces from yesteryear are one-of-a-kind treasures. Mrs. David Fredrick explained to a large group of Northville Women's club members and guests last Friday.

Any jewelry at least 50 years old is antique, she stated, adding that this is half the 100 years needed to make furniture or china legally antiques. Old jewelry, however, is harder to find, she explained, as in past times it was melted down and used as a medium of exchange. Age indicators are a piece's styling and workmanship.

More important than the gold content of a bracelet, pin or ring, she said, is the workmanship. French jewelry commonly combined silver and gold and featured marcasites and turquoise. Italian pieces of old have cameo and mosaic work.

Victorian jewelry includes black enamel detail and opal stones. Queen Victoria, the speaker related, did her best to break the superstition of the opal being bad luck unless it was a birthstone as she popularized the stone mined in Australia. Actually, the superstition was originated by jewelers who did not have a monopoly on the opal market, Mrs. Fredrick told club members.

Opals are a perishable stone, she added, which should be cleaned like pearls, with soap and water. Both need air — pearls to keep their color and opals to avoid becoming brittle. Mrs. Fredrick, whose husband's ancestors were European jewelers, was introduced by Mrs. Leonard Klein, Women's club program chairman of the day.

CALENDAR —

Dec. 10 — Plymouth symphony, 4 p.m., Hansel and Gretel.

Dec. 11 — Garden club Christmas tea, 12:30 p.m., Mrs. Charles Walker, 21101 Cambridge.

Dec. 11 — Mothers' club, Christmas potluck, 6:30 p.m., Mrs. Clifton Hill, 17740 Beck.

Dec. 12 — Newcomers luncheon, Northland Inn, noon.

What's Cooking

At Northville High School

Following is the Northville school menu for the week of Monday, December 11 through Friday, December 15:

Monday — Hot beef sandwich, mashed potatoes and gravy, buttered peas and carrots, banana muffin, peaches and milk.

Tuesday — Doggie in a blanket, German potato salad, relishes, prune spice cake and whip cream, and milk.

Wednesday — Meat pie, fruit mold salad, bread and butter, pudding and milk.

Thursday — Salisbury steak and gravy, mashed potatoes, buttered corn, rolls and butter, Princess peach pudding, and milk.

Friday — Fish and French fries, cole slaw, rolls and butter, rhubarb, and milk.

Alternate menu for each of these days include hamburger on bun, French fries, salad, dessert, and milk. Soups offered include minestrone on Monday, Chicken noodle on Tuesday, bean on Wednesday, potato on Thursday, and vegetable on Friday.

Engaged

Connie Lee Lewis

Mr. and Mrs. William Lewis, 60111 Pontiac Trail, New Hudson, announce the engagement of their daughter, Connie Lee, to Melvin Lee Underhill of Brighton. His parents are Mr. and Mrs. Melvin F. Underhill of Marion, Illinois.

Connie is a 1967 graduate of South Lyon High school. Her fiancé is a foreman at Phillips Products on North Territorial road.

A January 20 wedding is planned.

Chapter Aids Handicapped

The number of underprivileged families in Northville apparently has dwindled during the past year.

At least that's the conclusion of members of the Mizpah Circle of the Kings Daughters who report they've received names of only two families who will receive Christmas baskets of food and clothing this month.

Considerably more names were received last year, they report.

Anyone knowing of a needy family is asked to call Mrs. Mabel Cooley at 349-1034 immediately so they can be added to the list in time for Christmas.

Northern Lites Meet Monday

A potluck dinner and Christmas party is planned Monday by the Northern Lites family living study group.

The meeting will be held at the home of Mrs. Andrew Orphan, 356 South Rogers, beginning at 6:30 p.m.

Mrs. Frederick Russell Witt

SHE'S CROWNED—Flanked by a disappointed but nevertheless proud court of pretty girls, Junior Miss Pamela Smith poses for photographers that dashed to the stage Saturday night. The girls with the pageant winner are (l to r) Linda Johnson, Bobbie Byrd, Claudia Nieber, Kyle Stubenvoll, and Evelyn Budlong. The lone Jaycee is Joe Kluesner, club chairman of this year's pageant.

6 Compete in 2nd Pageant

Name Pam Smith Junior Miss

Dazzling colors, talent, rousing music and suspense highlighted the second annual Junior Miss Pageant here Saturday night.

And when it was all over, blond, misty-eyed Pamela Smith wore the 1968 Junior Miss crown that Lynn Tihlkka was awarded by Northville Jaycees last year in the first annual pageant.

Five other senior girls, all of whom drew applause from judges and the audience, joined the new Miss Junior Miss of Northville in producing another successful pageant.

They are:

Runner-up Kyle Stubenvoll, Bobby Byrd, Evelyn Budlong, Linda Johnson, and Claudia Nieber.

The girls were judged on scholarship, mental alertness, (together representing 30-percent of the judging), poise and appearance, creative and performing arts and youth fitness.

Judging of scholarship and mental alertness took place earlier in the week, while the remaining categories were judged as the girls performed on stage at the high school auditorium.

The four judges were Morgan Miller, account executive of the Ross Roy Advertising agency; Robert Johnson, assistant dean of the evening college of commerce and finance for the University of Detroit; Dr. Harvey Hershey, director of adult basic education at Wayne State university; and Robert Padgett, national director of the United States Jaycees.

Scholarship and mental alertness judging was based on the girls' academic standing and their response during interviews with the judges; poise and appearance were based upon the appearance on stage and unrehearsed answers to questions put to them by Terry LaRue, master of ceremonies; creative and performing arts, based on individual songs, and dances and acting by the girls; and the youth fitness, on performance of the girls during joint singing and dancing.

Miss Smith, for example, set the mood for her creative performance and sang "One of Those Songs," and she answered LaRue's question, "What approach would you take in making a major decision?"

Prior to and throughout the program Northville high school's Jazz Band, under the direction of Robert Williams, presented rousing numbers for the audience.

LaRue, who came up with his usual command performance, purposely pushed the suspense to the wire by toying with the envelope containing the winner's name.

Production advisors for the gala event were Miss Florence Panattoni and Miss Barbara LeBoeuf. Paul Tabor, Dan Bennett, and Mark Buoniconto were members of the stage crew, and Mrs. Phyllis Ely was in charge of the auditorium decorations.

This year's Junior Miss is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Myrn R. Smith of 20114 Woodhill drive. She has one brother, Lieutenant J.G. Frank Smith serving with the United States Navy in Maine.

Following graduation in June, Pam hopes to pursue her actress ambitions at Rollins College in Florida.

A student in the Northville school system since the sixth grade, she is a fourth-year debater, president of the Forensic club, treasurer of the National Honor Society, member of the student council, and an honor member of the Thespians.

Besides winning the honor of representing Northville at the state Junior Miss Pageant, Pam also was given a cash award, floral bouquet, and a trophy.

The five other contestants also received trophies.

Last year's local Junior Miss Lynn Tihlkka, now a student at Central Michigan university, was on hand for the festivities. She offered her thanks to the community and the Jaycees for the opportunity to represent Northville during the past year.

Coffee Hour Set Tonight

The December meeting of the Plymouth Branch of the American Association of University Women will take place today (Thursday) at 7:30 p.m. in the Dunning-Hough Library. A coffee hour is planned, with Mrs. I. G. Penhale and Mrs. John Lodge as hostesses.

The program will feature Christmas readings by Mrs. Warren Worth and Mrs. Leon Scharmen.

Newcomers to the area who are eligible to join AAUW are cordially invited to attend. Persons wishing further information on membership are to call Mrs. David Van Hine at 349-3015.

Methodists Plan Musical

Northville Methodist church Women's society will hold a musical Christmas program at the church at 8 p.m. Tuesday, December 12.

Highlights of the program will be selections by the Northville Presbyterian bellringers and the church's own harmony choir. This will be a guest night.

PLENTY OF CONVENIENT PARKING

COMO TO COVA - Julia Cova, wife of Bob-O-Link Golf Club pro, won the women's first flight in the sixth annual Perry Como Amateur golf tournament last week at the St. Luce Country Club in Port St. Lucie, Florida, firing a low net score of 147. Como presents the winning trophy to the Novi golfer.

Postmaster Urges Early Mail Delivery

Northville Postmaster John Steimel reminds area residents that it is just as important to mail early in the day as to mail early during the Christmas season.

By mailing early in the day postal employees can assure that gifts, cards and letters can be sent on their way by the earliest possible transportation, often there is only one connection per day for many distant points. If mail is deposited after that transportation has left there can be a one day delay in moving the mail on to its next sorting point.

Because of the heavy nationwide Christmas mailing, Postmaster Steimel says that more than ever before, citizens mail early in the season to assure that there are no jam ups in major cities where trains, trucks and planes converge with their mail.

"Early mailing assures an even flow of mail, not a sudden surge which could jam the postal system," the postmaster said. "According to Postmaster General Lawrence F. O'Brien's predictions, there will be over nine billion pieces of mail delivered during the Christmas Rush. If all mail were to hit at one time there would not be enough workers or space to handle the mail and Christmas mail would be delayed."

The postmaster also encouraged all mailers to use ZIP Codes on every piece of mail to assure efficient postal operations.

Steimel also reminded parents and teen-agers should be aware that willful damage to mail boxes or mail receptacles is a federal crime.

The federal law provides that anyone who willfully or maliciously injures, tears down, or destroys any mail box or other receptacle intended or used for the receipt or delivery of mail on any mail route, or breaks open the mail box, or willfully or maliciously injures, defaces or destroys any mail deposited in the mail box may be fined $1,000 or imprisoned for up to three years, he said.

The postmaster also said that under Michigan law parents may be responsible for vandalism attributed to their children.

One Year Ago...

....A program of strict enforcement of parking restrictions in the city of Northville began. The objective of the council-endorsed move was to provide more available parking in the business district for both shoppers and commercial area employees.

....Harold S. Hartley, a cabinet maker who used the music of Bach and other masters as the catalyst in writing thousands of poems, died suddenly of a heart attack.

....A dozen high school girls competed for the coveted Junior Miss title in the first of an annual pageant sponsored by the Northville Jaycees. Jaycees officials emphasized that the pageant was not a beauty contest and that bathing suit competition was not allowed.

....A Salem man was picked as one of the 10 most outstanding foreign language teachers in the United States. Donald L. Riddering who heads up the foreign language department at Detroit's Cooley high school was chosen as one of the 10 Master Teachers in the recent American Classical League Master Secondary School Latin Teacher and Program Award.

Five Years Ago...

....Northville's drive to collect $12,000 to complete construction of the Scout-Recreation building received a big boost. Two sizeable contributions lifted the total to date to $5,126.

....Ed Welch, 222 South Wing street, was in critical condition at Beyer Memorial Hospital in Ypsilanti. Welch suffered a heart attack and his physician, Dr. H. Handorf, stated that Welch is "seriously ill, but holding his own".

....Student personality of the week was Holly Hines, a 17-year-old junior who is taking, along with the usual eleventh grade subjects, Mechanical Drawing, a course few girls have the courage to take. As if that weren't enough, she is out-ranking all of the boys as far as grades are concerned.

....Funeral services were held for Thomas R. Carrington, one of Northville's best known businessmen and community leaders. He had been ill since August when he suffered a heart attack. He died at St. Mary hospital in Livonia.

....The Northville township board adopted a resolution that would boost the salaries of supervisor, clerk and treasurer. The proposed hike would not take place until after the April election and would be a part of the new budget submitted to township citizens at the annual meeting.

....A lack of scoring capabilities resulted in the Northville Mustangs' 52-45 defeat at the hands of Clarkston in the opening game of the season.

Fifteen Years Ago...

....Harry Sedan, Jr. left Tuesday on a three-day trip to New York City with other Detroit Times carriers as the result of winning a subscription contest sponsored by the newspapers among its carriers.

....Mrs. George Chabut began seeking 200 volunteer Santa Clauses in the village to answer requests from the children in the Farmington Children's Convalescent Home and in Maybury Sanatorium.

....The village commission agreed to give the Northville Recreation committee $200 to round out its budget for the year. Northville township had already agreed to give the committee an additional $100.

....The city of Livonia finally had a mailing address. A new Livonia branch of the Detroit postoffice opened for business in a building at Auburndale and Plymouth roads.

....An exhibition of art work done by the students of Mrs. Marlon Sober was held at the studio on Sheldon road. Featured in the exhibit were scenes of Sheldon road and Pontiac Trail. A large crowd of visitors expressed appreciation for the work done by the local artists.

Area Farm Wins Title

A farm owned by John F. and Frederick A. Butterfield of 55025 Pontiac Trail, New Hudson, has been designated as a Centennial Farm by the Michigan Historical Commission.

The farm, located in Oakland county has been in the possession of the family since 1853. It was originally purchased on December 19, 1853, by George and Julia Vowles grandparents of the present owners, from Heman and Penelope Smith.

According to Secretary of State James M. Hare, whose department directs the activities of the Historical Commission, the Centennial Farm program in Michigan was established in 1948. Since that time, certificates and metal markers have been awarded to more than 1,800 Michigan farms.

The program is administered under the direction of the Commission, while markers are provided by Detroit Edison and Consumers Power Companies.

According to Hare, a Centennial Farm is one which has been in the continuous possession of the same family for 100 years or more. For this purpose, the Historical Commission considers a farm to be 10 or more acres having estimated sales of more than $50 yearly, or less than 10 acres but having estimated sales of $250 annually.

Persons owning farms who wish to apply for Centennial Farm certificates are asked to write for an application to Michigan Historical Commission, Michigan Department of State, 3369 N. Logan street, Lansing, 48918.

Twenty Years Ago...

....The General Electric television set recently installed in the Schrader store attracted a large number of local people who are interested in viewing this latest wonder of the world. Not only adults but children have dropped in the local store for showing.

300,000 Skiers Wait, Too

83 Sports Centers Await Snow

Bring on the snow, Michigan is ready for the 1967-68 winter vacation season.

Eighty-three winter sports centers, including two new areas and another that is reopening after being closed for a year, are ready to host an expected record number of winter sports enthusiasts, according to the Michigan Tourist Council.

Major improvements have also been made at many centers, including new lodging, slopes, multi-place lifts and tows.

An estimated 300,000 skiers, in addition to several hundred thousand ice fishermen, snowmobile enthusiasts, festivalgoers, and sightseers, are expected to join in Michigan's winter fun, usually beginning in mid-November and continuing through early April.

Skiers alone are expected to spend some $30 million, an increase of about $2 million over the 1966-67 season when ideal conditions for winter sports contributed to record spending.

Ski centers making their debut when the snow flies will be Schuss Mountain, a multi-million-dollar development west of Mancelona in northwest lower Michigan, and Black Forest Ski area west of Port Huron in southeast lower Michigan.

Schuss Mountain will open with eight slopes, two double chair lifts, snow-making equipment, ski and snowmobile rentals, chalet and hotel accommodations, a restaurant, cafeteria and cocktail lounge.

Black Forest will offer seven slopes and rope tows, snow-making equipment, a ski shop with rentals and instruction, lodging, and an adjacent restaurant and bar.

Snow Valley near Gaylord will reopen under new management.

Among improvements made during the summer months is the installation of the world's second four-place chair lift at Walloon Hills near Walloon Lake. The first was installed several years ago at Boyne Mountain, Boyne Falls.

Other new multi-place lifts include a triple chair at Boyne Highlands near Harbor Springs, and a third two-place chair at Sugar Loaf Village near Traverse City. Sugar Loaf has also expanded its lodging and will become the first mid-America ski area to offer closed circuit TV ski instruction.

Thunder Mountain, northeast of Boyne Falls, and Walloon Hills have installed snow-making equipment and Thunder will offer rental chalets for the first time this season.

As part of a $300,000 expansion and improvement program, Caberfae west of Cadillac has added two chair lifts and overhauled its electric rope tows. Cannonsburg Ski Area has added eight slopes and new runs have also been put in at Boyne Mountain, Maplehurst Ski Area near Kewadin, and Pando Ski Area near Grand Rapids.

Brice's Hill west of St. Ignace has installed lighting for limited night-skiing.

Michigan is well equipped to host vacationing skiers with facilities ranging from modest to plush and a price for every budget.

In addition to weekend skiing, many winter sports centers offer economical ski-week packages including lodging, dining, ski instruction, entertainment, programs for children and baby sitting. Most centers feature instruction and rental equipment.

More than half of Michigan's centers have snow-making equipment, giving mother nature a hand with snow conditions, and about the same number have lighted slopes for night skiing.

To accommodate large crowds during peak periods, there are more than 650 slopes and over 400 lifts and tows, including 46 double, triple and four-place chairs.

Seven centers have heated swimming pools, two have airplane landing strips, 43 offer meals and 26 have cocktail lounges and bars.

Dancing, entertainment and teen activities are offered at many centers in addition to skating, snowmobiling, sauna baths, sleigh rides and fashion shops.

Fifteen of Michigan's winter sports centers are located in the upper peninsula where the Scandinavians who helped settle the state to skiing more than a century ago. There are 38 in west Michigan, 18 in east Michigan and 12 in southeast Michigan.

Sixty-seven of the centers feature skiing only, four feature tobogganing, and 12 have both skiing and tobogganing.

Additional information on Michigan's winter sports centers is contained in the 1967-68 Michigan Winter Sports Map which can be obtained free of charge by writing the Michigan Tourist Council, Lansing, Michigan 48926.

NEWS BRIEFS

Whitey Wistert Admitted to Grid Hall of Fame

EDITOR'S NOTE: Because of the Detroit daily newspaper strike, The Record-Now News presents the following news briefs of state and national stories that might otherwise be missed.

Francis (Whitey) Wistert of Toledo, the first of three All American Wistert brothers—one of whom, Alvin Wistert, lives in the Northville area—was inducted into football's Hall of Fame Tuesday night in New York. Whitey played from 1931-33 at the University of Michigan. Brother Albert was an All-American in 1942 and Alvin an All-American in 1948-49. Alvin attended the New York ceremonies as the official representative of the University of Michigan.

A $3,738,750 contract for 828 automatic 20-mm cannons was awarded to the Hydramatic Division of General Motors, Ypsilanti, by the United States Army.

Toys Anyone?

Got any toys that still work, don't need repairs and that you can spare? If so, the Northville Police Officers association asks that you bring them to the station. Then, at Christmas time police will pass them out to children at the Wayne County Children's Development Center.

Issue Invention Patent

The United States commissioner of patents issued patent number 3353528 to Donald E. Robinson, 39955 Six Mile road, Northville, for his invention of a "heat exchanger".

Robinson, a former Northville township trustee, invented the unit which is used primarily in water heaters for travel trailers. The invention was filed in December, 1965 and the patent recognition issued November 21, 1967. The "heat exchanger" permits construction of a smaller, compact water heating unit for trailers that matches larger units in production of heat.

In October, 1965 Robinson and several partners formed the Mobil Temp, Inc., company in Brighton, which now produces the new heating units.

Township Meeting Routine

The Northville township board moved swiftly through a routine agenda Tuesday night adjourning before 10 p.m. Supervisor R. D. Merriam was authorized to reach an agreement with the superintendent of schools regarding charges for improvements made in the old library when the building was used for board of education offices. The school board has asked $800.

No definite date has been set for moving township offices into the old library building, but it is expected by the end of the year.

In other business the board: approved new appeal fees without refunds of $20 for residential, $75 for commercial and $150 for industrial; decided to consider a special election date for granting a franchise to Detroit Edison company at its January meeting; approved the preliminary plat of Thompson-Brown's Northville Commons subdivision number three and accepted the final plat for the Greenspan company's Northville Colony Estates; and appointed Richard Brown, Stratford court, to the water and sewer commission replacing Frank Arlen, who has moved from the community.

Ken Rathert Wins Honors

Kenneth A. Rathert, son of Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth R. Rathert, 450 Maplewood, was one of 205 Valparaiso university students accorded recognition for academic achievement at the annual Fall Honors convocation held Wednesday morning, November 15, in Memorial chapel.

The program honored those students who earned a grade average of 2.5 points or better under a 3.0 system during spring semester, 1967.

Dr. Marcus E. Riedel, associate professor of philosophy at VU, was the convocation speaker.

Rathert is a sophomore in the college of arts and sciences.

VU has a total enrollment of 4378 students. This includes 3797 on-campus students, 384 graduate and undergraduate students in the evening program, and 197 students in nursing divisions in Cleveland, Fort Wayne, and St. Louis.

Meadowbrook Elects Littell

James Littell of Northville township was elected president of Meadowbrook Country Club for the 1967-68 year recently.

Others elected at the club's annual meeting were: Roy Costigan, vice-president; Robert Hallam, secretary; and Joseph DeNies, treasurer.

Hallam, George Rice and Littell were re-elected to the board of directors, and Lee Belanger and L. David McCabe were elected to their first terms.

Installation Saturday

Frederick G. Kirby, the Right Eminent Grand Commander of the Grand Commandery of Michigan, will be the installing officer Saturday for the 20th Installation of The Northville Council No. 89 at the Northville Masonic Temple at 8 P.M.

Ernest Gartz is the retiring Thrice Illustrious Master. Herbert Famullner will be installed as the new Thrice Illustrious Master. Others to be installed are: Paul Mullen, Deputy Master; Thomas Quinn, Principal of Work; Arthur Buckberry, Treasurer; Lawrence Miller, Recorder; Clyde Lampman, Captain of the Guard; Roswell Tanager, Conductor of the Council; Jack Shimomishi, Stewart; Jack Day, Sentinel; and Herman Wedemeyer, Marshal.

Rulands Attend Conference at Cobo

Mr. and Mrs. Jack Ruland, 533 Langfield drive, attended the statewide founding convention of the Michigan Conference of Concerned Democrats Saturday at Cobo hall.

Keynote speaker was Zolton Ferency, state chairman of the Democratic party who recently announced he would resign from the post. Congressman John Conyers and Robert Vaughn, TV's Man from Uncle star, were also featured speakers.

The Concerned Democrats have expressed dissatisfaction with some of the aspects of President Johnson's foreign policy.

Funeral services for Harry Wismer, famous as a football announcer and team owner, will be held today in Port Huron where he died Monday at the age of 53.

New York police arrested more than 1,000 anti-war demonstrators who marched on the Whitehall induction center in Lower Manhattan Tuesday.

The 17-nation disarmament conference has formally received President Johnson's offer to accept the international inspection standards for private nuclear activities in the United States—provided they apply to all other nations.

Flint's recently passed open housing law was automatically suspended Monday night when the city commission set a February 20 special referendum date on the controversial measure. Commissioners voted 6-3 against repealing the ordinance, then set the February election.

President Johnson threatened to take action in an effort to throttle a wage-price spiral posed by impending hikes in steel prices.

Senate Republican Leader Everett M. Dirksen successfully stalled Senate consideration of a giant school aid bill—at least temporarily—by proposing a ban on the use of federal funds for busing students to overcome racial imbalances.

An anti-trust suit against the National Farmers Organization, filed last March during the NFO's milk withholding action, was dropped by the Justice Department in exchange for a pledge of advance notice of any future attempts to keep farm products off the market.

Says State Publicist

Pollution Control Called Vital If Man is to Remain Alive

Control of air pollution, costly as it may be, "is one of the things we're going to have to face in our modern culture if we are to stay alive."

So stated G. William Hughes, publicist for Michigan Air Pollution control commission, in a dramatic slide presentation before a meeting of the Beautification Council of Southeastern Michigan recently at the First Methodist Church of Northville.

The luncheon program, attended by representatives of more than 30 communities, was sponsored by the Northville Beautification commission. Councilwoman Mrs. Beatrice Carlson, commission chairman and corresponding secretary-elect of BCSM, was the official hostess.

Hughes presented a series of color slides showing how some Michigan industries cause a good deal of the pollution of the air that blankets the state, particularly in the larger cities. Under the new rules and regulations aimed at preventing pollution, these industries gradually are being asked to either switch to less noxious burning techniques or to cap their smoke stacks and cupolas with expensive collectors.

Often times different burning techniques, he said, are less expensive and, in some cases, can lead to recovery of valuable by-products that otherwise would pollute the air.

It is not the intention of his organization to drive industry from the state, he emphasized. Where possible industries are permitted time to make the necessary changes as economically as possible. That is why, he explained, the process of correcting air pollution is a slow one.

Some mechanical collectors can cost millions of dollars, he said, and smaller firms find the cost prohibitive.

In showing a slide of a cone-shaped incinerator at Flint, Hughes pointed out that these so-called "safe" disposal methods are in reality unsafe and therefore are no longer lawful. The safest substitute for burning of trash and garbage, he pointed out, is the sanitary landfill. But these, he added, are difficult for cities to provide because of the shortage of land.

What can the individual citizen do to help combat pollution of the air?

Hughes suggested citizens report findings of violations to the air pollution control commission and lend support to legislative efforts to combat pollution. It was, he said, the efforts of citizen groups that led to the new Clean Air Act.

While his presentation did not dwell long on the contributing problems of automobiles, he nevertheless noted that some 60 percent of the nation's air pollution is caused by gaseous emission from automobiles. This particular problem, he added, may not be as critical in Michigan as it is in other states but in cities like Detroit it is becoming a menace.

It was explained that under a new program of the UAW, individuals are being trained to spot violations resulting in pollution of air and water. These persons will be provided with forms on which they can note data concerning the violation for submission to the control commission.

A recent study showed, he said, that along one Detroit expressway some 200 parts per million of carbon monoxide was detected in the air. The potential danger represented by this gas, he pointed out, can be seen in the fact that some laws prohibit factories from producing more than 50 parts per million.

While this level of pollution (200 parts per million) is not fatal, tests have shown that fewer than 10 parts per million can affect an individual's alertness, thus leading some to speculate that many of the accidents on expressways may be caused by "dizzy" motorists breathing this air.

Concerning one of the by-products of cigarettes, tests showed that a person living in Detroit inhaled as much of this ingredient from the air in one day as produced by more than three dozen cigarettes.

3 Cadets Win Honors

Three Northville youths who are cadets at the Roosevelt Military Academy in Aledo, Illinois, were cited for excellence at special ceremonies honoring award winners for the first quarter of the school year.

Michael Pressly, son of Mrs. Patricia M. Pressly of 413 Ely Drive South, excellence in military; Patrick Sissem, son of Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Sissem of 319 Ely Drive South, military and beginners band; and Linwood Snow, son of Mrs. Elaine Snow of 130 West Cady street, academics and military.

The awards were presented by Colonel Glen G. Milligan, superintendent of Roosevelt, which is located in western Illinois and has an enrollment of 165 cadets.

Cadet Snow has attended Roosevelt for two years and is a freshman.

Hospital Talent Show Sets Trend

Patients and staff of the Northville State Hospital young adult unit presented a talent show recently, featuring singing, dancing, group singing, skits and situational comedy.

The talent show was seen as a part of the hospital and unit's efforts to create within the hospital an environmental situation which is comparable to that existing in the community. It was an attempt to further look at the particular segment of the population for which this unit serves in a more realistic manner and deal with their problems not only from a psychiatric point of view but from all the other aspects that go to make up the individual's situation within the community.

Participants were not limited only to the patients, but through the cooperation of the staff, included the volunteers who dedicated their time and energy adding to the total treatment program.

Not only was the talent show a first and unique situation existing within a state hospital but the unit itself is new and unique. It is one of the first psychiatric units set up to deal specifically with those patients who fall within the middle ground—the middle ground being that of not quite an adult and no longer a child and this is ages 17 to 21.

A new segment of population, a product of the present day society, is on the way of emerging with characteristic psychological, social, cultural attitude, hospital personnel note. This segment covers the period between adolescence and adulthood and can be properly labeled as "Young Adulthood", but somewhat not uniformly defined by law, or social agency or even by Psychiatric Centers.

"The increase rate of admission of patients from this age group '17 to 21 years old' to the State Institution obliged us to open a special unit to study particular psychiatric, social, familial, educational, vocational problems in this area," they point out. "Since Northville State Hospital is located near a large Metropolis (Detroit), surrounded by several universities and colleges, by major industrial centers, serving part of suburban, part of inner city population a variety of cases with average or superior I.Q. has been studied.

Young Adult Unit consists of two wards with a total of 30 female, 30 male patients and a therapeutic team of two psychiatrists, one resident, four social workers, occupational therapist, music therapist, recreational therapist, one special education teacher, D.V.R. coordinator, two R.N.'s and (part time psychologist, students from each discipline, attendants, etc.) have reviewed 130 patients in six months with 80 of them placed in the community during the same period.

A four step, structured program and team conditioning is established:

- 1) a period of observation and preparation of the patients to total therapy;
- 2) A period of structured activities with emphasis on group identity;
- 3) Internalization period of structure, emphasis on individual identity, separation from group with special planning on the outside;
- 4) Structuring patients' community, follow-up and gradual discharge. Most modalities of therapy are available, including an interesting weekly psychodrama where a group of University of Michigan sophomore psychology students take equal part in with the patients.

Characteristics of these patients statistically can be defined: Education—30 percent high school graduates or college drop-outs, the rest at high school level; Family—70 percent came from broken homes (with the mother in the picture 85%; Social Class—60 percent lower class and 40 percent middle class; Racial—60 percent white and 40 percent negro.

Northville Police Seek Purse Snatcher Here

Investigation of separate cases of purse snatching, including three at the First Methodist Church Sunday, continued Tuesday.

According to Police Chief Samuel Elkins, a teenage boy is a prime suspect and an arrest may be made yet this week.

Saturday evening during the Junior Miss Pageant at Northville high school, purses of three women—including one of the contestants—were robbed.

Miss Roberta Byrd, 20196 East Whipple road, one of six Junior Miss contestants, reported $3 was taken from her purse in one of the rooms adjoining the auditorium. Mrs. Kathy Burson, 401 1/2 North Rogers, lost $4, while Mrs. Rosemary Zillich, 350 Sherrie Lane, found three credit cards missing from her purse.

Shortly after choir members at the Methodist Church had hung up their robes Sunday morning three of the women reported their purses had been robbed.

Mrs. Geraldine Mills, 225 Church street, lost $16, Mrs. Andrew Orphan, 356 Rogers, $4, and Mrs. A. Bates, 2803 Chigwidden, $7.

NORTHVILLE

Mustangs Grab 2 Cage Starts

With two victories under their belts, Northville's varsity cagers will tangle with Milford tomorrow night in their first home meet with a Wayne Oakland League opponent.

Despite those initial two victories and Milford's 48-38 loss to Bloomfield Hills Friday, Northville Coach Dave Longridge isn't exactly bubbling with enthusiasm.

Noting that his squad played only mediocre ball in winning its first two games, the coach predicted tomorrow's game will be "no snap".

"When you're favored, they'll be gunning for you and the pressure will be on. We can expect that all season."

In its home opener with non-league South Lyon last week Tuesday, the Mustangs had to battle to the wire in nipping the Lions, 60-55. Three nights later in its first league game Coach Longridge's quintet came up with a 49-41 victory but not before Clarenceville had bounced from behind to knot the score at halftime.

Recalling his squad's first game, Longridge said Northville had its opportunity to break the game open in the second quarter as South Lyon missed shots and turned the ball over in the face of an all-court press.

But the Northville players failed to seize the opportunity and South Lyon's zone defense continued to work down to the wire.

"If we had gotten a bigger lead," said Longridge, "it may have forced South Lyon out of the zone. We were having difficulty with it."

Northville started with a tight man-to-man pressing defense and several times the Lions looked timid and gave up the ball on turn-overs. They eventually solved the press, however, and forced Northville into conventional man-to-man and zone defenses.

The Mustangs edged the Lions 16-13 in the first quarter, slipped to a narrow 34-33 lead at the half-way mark, and then increased their lead to 46-43 going into the final stanza.

Statistically, Northville had the edge. The Mustangs grabbed 56 rebounds to South Lyon's 30 and they outshot the Lions, 72-61. But Longridge's cagers made only 22 shots to South Lyon's 20.

The widest shooting spread came in the first quarter as Northville virtually battered the Lions off the boards. The Mustangs hit on six of 24 shots, while South Lyon netted four of nine.

Forwards Jim Peterson, Ken Boerger, and Randy Pohlman led the Mustangs in scoring against the Lions, notching 17, 14 and 13 points, respectively.

tively. South Lyon's Forward Scott Bennett drilled the net repeatedly in the first half to lead his squad with 24 points.

Fouls and sloppy shooting earmarked Northville's performance in knocking off Clarenceville. Fortunately, the Mustangs kept the lid on the Trojans' basket in all but the second stanza and thus managed to preserve its unblemished early season record.

Peterson, Boerger and Forward Bob Hubbert each netted two baskets in the opening quarter to push the Mustangs into a four-point lead by the second quarter, 12-8.

The Trojans bounced back with six field goals and five charity shots in the second quarter, however, to tie the score at 25 all. Northville was charged with five fouls in that first half, Clarenceville, two.

Northville came back strong in the third quarter, pumping in seven field goals to Clarenceville's five. And in the final quarter, both teams had difficulty finding the mark, with Northville picking up four of its 10 points via the free throw line while the Trojans hit for only three field goals.

Despite the low-scoring game, Northville hit for over 50-percent, netting 22 of its 41 shots. At the free throw line the Mustangs connected on five of their nine shots.

"Clarenceville was obviously shooting for us," said Longridge, "playing slow-up ball with a zone defense," thus accounting for the low score. "We shot good from the floor but we can do much better," the coach said. Boerger, Peterson, and Pohlman were the top Northville scorers with 14, 11 and 10 points. High man for Clarenceville was Forward Dave Brandemihl with 14 points.

In other W-O league action last Friday, West Bloomfield trimmed Clarkston, 57-51.

Post 33-20 Triumph

Wrestlers Tame Lions

South Lyon came on like a Lion but went out like a Mouse last Thursday at Northville in the first wrestling match of the season for both teams.

Northville posted a 33-20 victory.

Two falls in the lighter weights—both against newcomers—gave South Lyon a quick 10-0 edge, but then the Lions hit a dry spell and Northville won all but one match.

The top match of the evening pitted South Lyon's Larry Janes against Northville's Dan Conklin in the heavy-weight division. Janes jumped off to a lead, but as one observer put it, escaped with a 2-2 draw.

Last year, the same two youths also fought to a draw. Janes is one of the Lions' top wrestlers and went to the state last year where he lost out in the first round.

Giving Coach Sam Holloway's squad an early lead were pins by 95-pound Ronnie Cole and 103-pound Dave Taubee, a winner last year in the regionals and a state finalist.

Cole pinned M. Griffin in 1:15 of the first period. Taubee pinned J. Sasse in :45 seconds of the second period.

Then the South Lyon draught. The Lions lost the next seven matches—112 through 154—and found themselves trailing by a substantial margin.

Bill Krist started the Northville surge by decisioning Kevin Lindquist in the 112-pound class. Bob Baber, a veteran wrestler, then pinned Mike Allan in the 120 class.

In the 127-pound class, South Lyon forfeited to John Tam of Northville. Marty Richardson, wrestling at 133 pounds and Northville's top prospect for regional and state honors, gained a fall over Bill Yadlosky.

Curt Olewnik (138), another stellar performer last year in the regionals, pinned Dan Lott, and Don Sasse (145) followed suit by pinning Dave Gaylord.

JIM PETERSON PLUNKS IN 2-POINTER

Rick Suckow, another holdover from last year's team, gained a 6-1 decision over Clayton Montgomery.

South Lyon's Jim Riordan finally broke the string when he won a 12-7 decision over Brad Conklin, brother of Heavyweight Dan, and just a freshman.

Deal Led Gridders In Season Rushing

Barry Deal, who piled up 334 yards in 79 carries for the Mustangs during the 1967 football season, led his teammates in rushing, according to statistics released by the high school athletic department this past week.

In pass receiving, Greg Carr led the way with 35 carries for 529 yards, four touchdowns, and an average carry of 14.8 yards.

Deal also scored four touchdowns and he gained 4.3 yards per rush. Deal and Carr led the Mustangs in scoring with their four touchdowns or 24 points.

Quarterback Joe Andrews, who handled the bulk of the team's passing, completed 58 of his 135 passes for a total of 904 yards and a completion percentage of 43.

Robert Hubbert, Mustang punter, kicked 23 times for 861 yards and an average kick of 37.4 yards.

Other rushing leaders were: Andrews, 70 carries, 153 yards, 2.2 yards per rush, three touchdowns; Craig McDermid, 33, 94, 2.9, and one; Ev Greer, 24, 93 and 3.9; Stan Nirider, 12, 64, 4.3 and one; Terry Mills, 12, 61, 4.08 and one; Dennis Matthews, 4, 15, and 3.75; Pay Cayley, 3, 10, and 3.3; and John Gustaf.

Receiving: Hubbert, 8 carries, 226 yards, 28.3 per carry, and three touchdowns; Deal, 6, 62, and 10.3; Mills, 3, 36, 12 and one; Matthews, 3, 30, and 10; Hicks, one, 12 and 12; Greer, one, four, and 4.0; and Dave McMillan, one, 3, and 3.0.

Football Group Tackles Trees

With organization of Northville's Junior Football association barely underway, plans have been launched for the group's first fund-raising project aimed at purchase of 120 uniforms.

The association has begun selling Christmas trees on the west side of Center street, across from the Northville Downs.

Goal of the association in this and other forthcoming projects is $6,000—the estimated amount needed to purchase uniforms, insurance and pay for referees.

According to Richard Bloomhuff, president of the new organization, the initial program, which will get underway next fall, will involve 120 boys in the Western Junior Suburban Football league. Locally, it means Northville will field three teams—freshmen, junior varsity and varsity.

Already letters of interest have been filed with the local group by enough boys to make up the entire program. However, a "reserve" list of names will be maintained so that boys who may be found ineligible or who drop out of the program before it starts can be replaced.

Parents of boys who may not yet have enrolled and who may want to participate are asked to call Bloomhuff at FI 9-1957. Membership in the association by parents is encouraged but is not a requirement for participation by their young sons.

Under the junior football program boys are divided by weight as well as age to put them on a more "equal footing" with boys whom they play.

The freshmen team, for example, is composed of boys ages 9 and 10, with a minimum weight of 65 pounds and a maximum weight of 105 pounds.

Junior varsity football players are boys 9 and 10, who weigh no less than 65 pounds or more than 125 pounds, and 11 year old boys whose minimum weight is 65 pounds but not more than 95 pounds.

Varsity boys of ages 11 and 12— and 10 year olds, who exceed the maximum weight for the junior varsity. Purpose of the Western Suburban Junior Football League, which includes Livonia, Nankin, Garden City, Plymouth and now Northville, is "to provide a healthy, typically American, body-contact sport for boys. On the premise that boys will play football anyway, somehow and somewhere, the league directs this activity toward proper playing fields, provides the best protective equipment, competent instruction and officiating.

Other officers of the local organization are:

Keith Trumbull, vice-president; Lee Eaker, financial vice-president; Harold Price, secretary; Robert Cole, treasurer; and Robert Ely, publicist.

Diplomats On Deck Next Week

Tickets for the December 16 basketball game between the Diplomats, a professional cage team similar to the Globe Trotters, and teachers will go on sale Saturday morning.

Members of the Northville Boosters club will sell the tickets in the downtown area between the hours of 10 a.m. and 2 p.m.

Tickets cost $1 in advance and $1.50 at the door.

This year's game, to be held at 8 p.m. in the high school gymnasium, will mark the third appearance here by the Diplomats.

Last year the spirited teachers' squad barely missed an upset before a crowd of 1,000 spectators. A repeat display of hilarious cage performance—but one that's certain to bring home a victory—is promised by teachers this year.

The contest is billed as a combination of comedy and basketball skill—"just right for the whole family." Booster club officials point out.

Proceeds from the game will be used by the Boosters to sponsor a non-money making All Sports banquet, to honor athletes of the high school, next spring.

I would like to thank everyone who sent me letters, prayers and packages during my stay in Vietnam, especially the VFW women. It was real nice of them to send the boxes. It is nice to know that someone cares.
Sgt. Clyde Hogan H49p

I wish to thank all my neighbors and friends and especially the ladies of the Novi Rehoboth Lodge for all the cards and visits while I was convalescing.
Leon W. Clutz

The family of the late Clyde Johnston wish to thank our friends and neighbors for their kindness and sympathy during our time of sorrow and especially wish to thank Pastor Clark for his comforting words and also Dr. Dyer for his help, also, Mr. and Mrs. Harbin of the Novi Funeral Home, Mrs. Clyde Johnston, Mr. and Mrs. Fred Johnston and Mr. and Mrs. Ted Remien.

NOTICE PUBLIC HEARING MONDAY, DECEMBER 18, 1967 8:00 P.M. City Hall - Northville

An Ordinance to amend the City of Northville Housing Code
The City Council ordains that the city of Northville Housing Code be amended as follows:

Section 702: delete "(except as otherwise permitted under Section 703 of this article)"

Section 703: delete

Martha M. Milne
City Clerk

NOTICE

There will be a Public Hearing Monday, December 18, 1967, 8:00 P.M. at the Northville City Hall to consider the following ordinance amendment:

FENCING ORDINANCE

TITLE: An Ordinance to regulate and provide for the construction, erection, rebuilding and maintenance of all fences within the City of Northville.

THE CITY OF NORTHVILLE ORDAINS:

Section 1. Title and Purpose:

This ordinance shall be known and cited as the "Fence Ordinance." Its purpose is to promote and protect the public health, safety and welfare.

Section 2. Permits:

No fence shall hereafter be erected or altered without first obtaining a permit therefor from the City Building Inspector. The permit fee shall be $5.00 for each installation. Application shall include a sketch of the property showing location of proposed fence and a description of the type and height of said fence, as well as all other information which may be required by the Building Inspector in order that he may determine whether the construction of such fence complies with City ordinances and restrictions.

Section 3. Protective Measures

Fence:

Fences designed for protection of the property enclosed may be constructed, erected, rebuilt or maintained upon approval by the City Manager or his designee for such approval following the showing of need therefor in any commercial, industrial, or track zoning district as defined by the Zoning Ordinance, provided the following requirements are met:

a. HEIGHT: Not more than ten (10) feet including barbed wire or other protective device. Barbed wire or other protective device must not be less than six (6) feet above ground level.

b. LOCATION: Not less than 25 feet from any street intersection.

c. PUBLIC UTILITY FENCES: Not withstanding anything to the contrary herein contained, barbed wire enclosures may be placed on top of fences enclosing public utility installation in any zoning use district, which fences shall be constructed to a height of not more than eight (8) feet nor less than six (6) feet.

Section 4. Residential Fence:

Fences, including plantings or hedges designed to serve as a barrier, may be erected, constructed, rebuilt or maintained in districts zoned residential as defined by the Zoning Ordinance, provided the following requirements are met:

a. HEIGHT: No fence may be constructed to a height of more than four
(4) feet except that any fence located in the rear of the rear building line may be six (6) feet in height. No fence may be less than three (3) feet in height.

b. LOCATION: No fence shall extend beyond the street setback line as defined in the Zoning Ordinance. Fences which divide residential lots or properties shall be constructed on the dividing lot lines where the abutting property owners contribute to its cost or mutually agree to such location. Where one property owner builds a fence entirely at his own expense the fence shall be constructed wholly on the builder's property. In all other cases, fences shall be constructed entirely on the property of the holder of the permit. In every case, the provisions of the Zoning Ordinance of the City of Northville, as amended, shall be observed in the location of fences.

c. CONSTRUCTION: For post and wire fence or wood fence, supporting posts must be sunk in the soil to a depth of no less than 6 inches for every 12 inches height above ground.
For solid construction fences, footings must be placed to a depth required by the circumstances, as determined by the Building Inspector.

CAT OR KITTEN?

THE CHURCH FOR ALL . . . ALL FOR THE CHURCH

The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the Church. They are: (1) For his own sake. (2) For his children's sake. (3) For the sake of his community and nation. (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.

If someone asked you which you would rather have for a pet, a leopard or a pussycat—you would probably think they were crazy. Why? Because to you a pussycat is a soft cuddly animal—a leopard, a ferocious beast of prey. But suppose when you were small, someone had taught you that both animals are similar? Then, the question would not seem absurd.

So much depends upon how we've been taught. A mistaken interpretation of a particular word can distort our thinking. Take for instance, the word Christian. Some people think of a Christian as a fanatical do-gooder. Others see him as a hypocrite, praying loudly on Sundays while ignoring religious responsibility. Still others, know of the spiritual riches to be found in following the examples of Jesus.

Your church teaches and interprets God's truths. The spiritual values you learn there can illuminate your entire life.

from the PASTOR'S STUDY

John J. Fricke, Vicar
Holy Cross Episcopal Mission, Novi

Recently I heard a story about a clergyman who had asked a young man to be the preacher on Layman's Sunday. The young man had only recently returned home from Vietnam and the rector felt that it would be well for the congregation to hear some of his experiences and observations. I'm sure the rector felt that this young man would "pep things up", but it seems he got more than he had expected. At first, the young man was reluctant. He agreed finally, with the stipulation that the congregation must first sing the hymn Onward Christian Soldiers. Finally, on Layman's Sunday, when the congregation had finished singing the hymn, the young man began his sermon. Essentially, this is what he said:

"You have been singing: 'Like a mighty army moves the Church of God...' That might have been right once . . . but the trouble is, that now over ten million men know exactly how an army moves, and they certainly DON'T move the way a lot of folks at Christ Church move. If an army moved the way the Church does, then we may as well all surrender, the battle is lost before we begin."

While I'm sure the rector of Christ Church, (Winnetka) didn't expect to hear what he heard, he could only agree that what the young man said was true. Just picture an army having reveille at 11:00 a.m. All squads on the parade ground. The Sergeant barks out: "Count off by fours." One . . . Two . . . Three . . . "Four?" "Where is Private Jones?" Someone from the ranks calls out: "Private Jones was too sleepy to get up this morning. He said to tell you he would be with you in spirit." "Fine," says the Sergeant, "Give him my regards." "Where is Brown?" "Oh," says another soldier, "he's bowling this morning. He gets only one day a week for recreation, and you know how important that is." "Sure, sure," says the sergeant. "Hope he has a good game." "Where is Robinson?" "Robinson," says one of his buddies, "is sorry not to be here in person this morning, he is entertaining guests today. Of course, he was at drill last week." And so it goes . . .

Like a mighty army? If the Church moved like a mighty army I'm afraid that many, many Christians would be court-martialed.

As we approach the first Sunday in the Christian Year, the First Sunday in Advent, December 3, won't you give prayerful thought concerning your role as a soldier in the army of your Lord?

Church Backs Open Housing

The official board of the Northville Methodist Church at its November meeting reaffirmed the position it had taken eight years ago in favor of open housing.

The secretary of the board was asked to send telegrams to Representatives and Senators of the area encouraging them to vote for the pending bill.

The Christian Social Concerns commission will be taking a 'Social Concerns poll' of the membership in the near future, a spokesman said.

Bazaar Planned

Plans were revealed this week for a Christmas bazaar to be held Friday, December 15 under the sponsorship of the Holy Cross Episcopal Mission Church.

The bazaar will be held from 3 p.m. to 8 p.m. at the church, 446200 West 10 Mile road, Novi.

ELIMINATE THIS "GRUESOME TWOSOME" WITH A Gas Incinerator

Yes, one clean, smokeless, odorless appliance—a gas incinerator—can replace this depressing duo. No further use for that trash burner—a gas incinerator burns paper, rags and cartons. No need to put refuse in that smelly can—a gas incinerator burns garbage and bones, too. Not only does a modern incinerator consume garbage and trash without smoke or odor—it does it indoors.

Meet Your Bus Drivers

Mrs. Fred W. Cobb

Mrs. Fred W. Cobb
A relatively new bus driver for the Northville school system, Mrs. Kathryn Cobb, who lives at 21355 Beck road, was a bus driver for one year some 10 years ago. She resumed her bus driving duties last year for two months and has been driving since the beginning of this school year. Originally from Illinois, Mrs. Cobb moved to the Northville area 11 years ago from Redford. Her husband died two years ago. A consistent winner at the Michigan State Fair with her canned fruit, vegetables and meat, Mrs. Cobb is a member of the First Baptist Church of Novi and Northville Chapter 77 of the Order of The Eastern Star.

Mrs. Edward Veresh

Mrs. Edward Veresh, who lives with her husband and three children at 16591 Bradner road, has been driving mentally handicapped children to and from Northville for the past four years. Currently, nine children from this area attend Wilcox elementary school for the trainable handicapped in Livonia. Children are transported in a station wagon. A life-long resident of the area, Mrs. Veresh has lived in Northville township since she was married. Her husband, a tool maker, is employed by Fisher Body in Detroit. Their children are David, 15, Kathleen, 13, and Karen, 11. Besides driving for the Northville school system and caring for her children and home, Mrs. Veresh is an avid bowler, participating in two different leagues.

Optimists Hear Talk By Hyde

An explanation of Northville high school's new co-operative employment program highlighted a meeting of the Northville Optimist club last week Wednesday.

John Hyde, teacher coordinator of the program, made the program presentation together with three of the participating students.

Some 27 students presently are working under the cooperative program, Hyde said, with plans for expansion dependent upon participation by more business men.

Hopefully, the program will be expanded to 40 students by the start of the next school year, he said.

The three students, who discussed their particular work schedules, were Sandy Balko, who is working as a dental assistant; Clare Wilson, working at the Northville city hall; and Mike Schoultz, working as a food handler at Meadowbrook Country Club.

Novi Justice Court

Miss Lynn Sue Kelley, now a resident of Detroit but formerly a resident at 449 North Sheldon road, was found guilty of driving with an expired operator's license last April and was fined $15 and $15 costs by Novi Justice of Peace Emery Jacques, Jr. last week.

Other charges on the docket of Justice Jacques included speeding and excessive noise.

David C. Dean of Birmingham pleaded guilty to speeding, 55 in a 40 mile zone and paid a fine of $20.

Nelson J. Valdon of Drayton Plains was fined $20 after pleading guilty to driving 65 in a 50 mile zone.

Another $20 fine was levied for speeding, this time against Thomas L. Wheelis, 788 Brushwood, Walled Lake who admitted driving 40 in a 25 mile zone.

David C. Lone, 130 Hillcroft, Walled Lake, pleaded guilty of driving 50 in a 30 mile zone and paid a $30 fine.

Harriette J. Schneider, 26803 Napier road, Wixom pleaded guilty of driving 70 in a 55 mile zone between Beck and Wixom roads on Grand River and was fined $20.

The four drivers charged with excessive noise all pleaded guilty, including: Hagop Tatrallian, Detroit, fined $20; Phillip W. Warden, Detroit, fined $20; Mark E. Kosty, Farmington, fined $15; and Theodore Long, Jr., Detroit, fined $25.

Ollie Thompson, 40990 Ten Mile road, pleaded guilty of interfering with traffic at Grand River and Hagerty and was fined $15.

Donna Marie Maltese, Wayne, pleaded guilty of failing to yield right of way and was fined $15.

Pleading guilty of a charge of improper lane usage, Stanley P. Niebor of Roseville paid a fine of $15.

John R. Zimmerman of Detroit pleaded guilty of running a stop sign and paid a fine of $15.

NOVI HIGHLIGHTS

Mrs. H. D. Henderson FI-9-2428

Miss Marguerette Miller was honored at a pre-nuptial linen shower by Mary Ford of Farmington at her home Saturday evening. There were 13 present, mostly those employed by the Star Cutter company. Miss Miller and her fiancé, Dewey Perry have set their wedding date for February 17.

Mrs. Willis Miller returned home Sunday evening from a sojourn in Botsford Community Hospital where she underwent surgery on her eye last week.

The Kenneth Cooks received word last week that their son, David who is in the service and stationed at Camp Hood, Texas, had the misfortune to be in an automobile accident in which he sustained an injury to his neck.

Thanksgiving Day guests of Mr. and Mrs. Duane Bell were the latter's brother and family, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Trickey Jr. and Chuck, Keven and April, from Tecumseh.

Glen C. Salow is a patient at St. Mary's Hospital in Livonia where he is recovering from a major operation performed last Friday.

The Clark Subdivision association meeting was held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. J. D. Mitchell last Monday evening. On Monday night this week the general meeting was held in the Novi Community hall at 8 p.m. New officers and board members were elected. Coffee and donuts were served by the committee.

Mrs. Arthur Kreger of Lake Orion called on several people in the community and attended the Methodist Church services this past Sunday. The Arthur Kregers formerly lived in the Clark subdivision.

Weekend guest of Mrs. Harold Henderson was her sister-in-law, Mrs. Mildred Schwarz of Detroit. Saturday they attended with Mr. and Mrs. Russell Race and Mr. and Mrs. Al Gow a party at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Edward Rix in Plymouth.

Out of town relatives who attended funeral services for Mr. Clyde Johnston on Saturday were his sister-in-law, Mrs. Ernest VanCamp of Hudson, Indiana and a nephew, Robert Johnston of California, Michigan.

Mrs. Muriel Holmes and daughter, Mary returned last Saturday from a week's visit with her daughter and son-in-law, Dr. and Mrs. William Barber at Pickford in the upper peninsula. That same evening Mrs. Holmes received a call from Ontario, Canada telling of the death of her mother, Mrs. Mary McKeller. Immediately Mrs. Holmes left for Canada to be with her relatives there and attend her mother's funeral.

After bowling Tuesday morning the Coffee Cup bowling league had their annual Christmas luncheon. They were Pat Kozak, Millie McHale, Vivian Coleman, Florence Slentz, Marge F'Geppert, Marge Trotter, Gert Goldfein and Marge MacGillivray.

The Oakland County Farm Women's committee met at the Novi Community hall on Tuesday for their annual potluck luncheon, Christmas party and gift exchange. There will be a Silent Auction of gift articles and baked goods and a business meeting.

Saturday's visitor at the home of Mr. and Mrs. James Haas on West Grand River was the former's aunt, Eva Demby who has just returned from a tour of European Countries. She showed the family many interesting pictures of places seen on her tour.

BLUE STAR MOTHERS
Novi Chapter 47 Blue Star Mothers will have their December meeting at the home of Mrs. Clyde Wyatt on Novi road. Election of officers will be on the business agenda. The annual Christmas party will be held next Tuesday December 12 at the home of Mrs. Gertie Lee on Duana street, Walled Lake.

WILLOWBROOK NEWS
The L. C. Richardsons have been for the past three weeks entertaining the latter's parents, Mr. and Mrs. A. O. Schultz. They returned to their home in Milwaukee, Wisconsin, last week.

Mr. and Mrs. Richardson had surprise visitors very early Thanksgiving morning. They were: Lee and Jewel Hering of Indianapolis, Indiana who formerly lived on the same street with the Richardsons.

Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Rivers entertained on Thanksgiving Day their daughter and family of Taylor and a brother and his family from Berkley.

Mrs. George Swengel of Wayne spent a few days of last week with her daughter and son-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Rivers.

One evening last week Mr. and Mrs. Lester Coffey of Southgate were visitors at the Ralph Rivers home.

Mr. and Mrs. Arnold Bell and children spent a week of vacation at their cottage near Cadillac. One weekend they took a trip up into the upper peninsula to visit Mr. Bell's sister and family at Brevort where they are the owners of the Happy Hank Dude Ranch. Needless to say they all had a happy time.

E.U.B. WILLOWBROOK COMMUNITY CHURCH

Tuition Up At Northville

Northville's board of education has approved a tuition rate for Novi's 76 seniors amounting to $34,782.16. The rate is based upon a formula devised by the state, officials said.

Individual rates, as approved by the Northville board, is $431.73 for elementary students and $457.66 for secondary students. Last year these Northville tuition rates were $319.13 and $339.23.

With the addition of Novi's own 12th grade curriculum next year, the number of tuition students in Northville is expected to drop to four - all from the Wash-Oak area within the Lyon school district.

Novi Police Get Pratt's Bouquet

Walled Lake Police Chief Leland F. Pratt expressed his department's appreciation for assistance of Novi police in a letter last week to the Novi village hall.

"We would like to take this opportunity to express our sincere appreciation for the fine response by your department to our plea for help on the morning of the 18th of November."

"For their quick and heroic efforts we would also like to offer our grateful thanks to Officer Gross and Officer Arbour. They are a fine example of the unsung heroes who daily offer their lives to protect ours."

Chief Pratt referred to the assistance given by Novi police when a Walled Lake man shot at police last month and was himself brought down by police guns shots.

NOTICE

There will be a Public Hearing on Monday, December 18, 1967, 8:00 p.m. at the Northville City Hall to consider the following ordinance amendment:

THE CITY OF NORTHVILLE ORDAINS:

The following amendments shall be made to the Code of Ordinances of the City of Northville:

Title 7

Chapter 3

Article 1

SECTION 7-308 - USE ON ONE CONNECTION, LIMITATION

In all cases where water service is intended to supply more than one but not more than three (3) dwelling units, shops, stores, buildings or combinations thereof, it shall be the duty of the person making such service connection, or causing the same to be made, to install a separate branch with a stopcock for each such unit.

In all cases where water service is intended to supply more than three (3) dwelling units, shops, stores, buildings or combinations thereof, it shall be the duty of the person making such service connection, or causing the same to be made, to install a separate branch with a stopcock for each such unit, except that this requirement may be waived by the City Manager upon recommendation of the Water Superintendent in any case where compliance with this requirement serves no useful purpose, creates a hardship, and does not contribute to the public health, safety or welfare.

SECTION 7-318c WATER RATES - READINESS TO SERVE CHARGE (addition)

The above charge shall be paid before approval of building permit.

Detroit Planner Smothers Satellite City

Explosive fireworks failed to materialize last week as a principle Detroit planner smothered reports of a Detroit satellite city in the Northville area.

Speaking to members and guests of the Northville Rotary club, Robert Hoffman, Detroit planner for long range planning, repeatedly emphasized that there is absolutely no existing proposal for a satellite city in or near Northville.

(Last October when the alleged proposal was leaked to the daily press, The Record contacted the Detroit planning commission which initially denied the report. Subsequently, a second call gained acknowledgement of the proposal but the commission spokesman said the plan was not as broad as outlined by the report.

(Specifically, Detroit Mayor Jerome Cavanagh was reported as having called for a plan that would create a "suburban satellite" with a population of up to 100,000 in an area of from three to nine square miles in Northville and Plymouth townships.

(Such a city, it was reported, would be planned and controlled by the existing Detroit government but would be developed by private enterprise).

These reports, so far as he can determine, are without foundation, Hoffman declared. However, he said there are a number of reasons why people might falsely assume that such a proposal is on the Detroit planning boards. Among these, he said, are:

—A recent magazine article written by a non-Detroit official discussed the new skip-city or satellite city concept, leading some to believe he was talking about Detroit.

—Population projections indicate that places will be needed to house a flood of new people anticipated in the metropolitan area.

—On August 31 the mayor asked the corporation council to investigate the legal aspects regarding codes, zoning, etc. of Detroit property located in the Northville area. As yet there has been no written response to that request, the planner said.

—Following Detroit's riots the mayor initiated a task force of citizens to study problems of the city and directed them to come up with some "reasonable" recommendations.

In the three volume report coming out of the study, explained Hoffman, was a minor section concerning the disposition of the city's Maybury Sanitarium property. It recommended only that a district wide appeals board be established that would be empowered to decide zoning issues that affect not only the community in which the property is located but in the surrounding areas as well.

This proposed super appeals board, it was suggested, would be called upon when requests and appeals at the local level and circuit court are denied.

The planner said a number of proposals have been advanced over the years suggesting what might be done with the Maybury property. Residential development, as proposed by Northville township, is economically impractical for Detroit, he said.

Hoffman did not reveal any proposals that Detroit may now be considering for Maybury. Instead, he simply emphasized that suburban communities like Northville must face up to their responsibility to help cure the ills of the central city, which is reality is the life-blood of the suburbs. If the central city suffers, he suggested, so too do the suburban communities.

When, during a question and answer period, Hoffman suggested that "satellite" cities already exist across the country—even near Pontiac, he cleared up questions of puzzled Rotarians by noting that his definition of a satellite city is a suburban community, independently governed, that accepts its responsibilities.

He skirted the issue of open housing but obviously meant this as one of those responsibilities, pointing out that building a better community means more than bricks and mortar; it means helping to solve social problems as well.

"As members of a large region with a big stake in these problems all of us must share the burden because it is morally right and an economic must."

Detroit Man Faces Robbery Charge

A 29-year-old Detroit man, who allegedly robbed a cab driver at gun point early last week, faces examination in Northville municipal court Monday on a charge of carrying a concealed weapon.

Released to the custody of Michigan State police pending his arraignment is James L. Kelly, who also faces an armed robbery charge in Farmington township.

Northville police arrested Kelly, who answered the description of the bandit, at Northville Lanes. He carried a loaded pistol upon his arrest. He was jailed overnight for being drunk and arraigned the following day by Judge Philip Ogilvie. He pleaded innocent of carrying a concealed weapon and the judge set the examination for December 1.

According to the cab driver, Archie

Gillies, Kelly hailed his cab in Detroit and asked to be driven to his parents' home in Walled Lake. He couldn't remember the address and asked the cab driver to drive along a gravel road. Ordered to stop, the cab driver said Kelly pulled out a cocked pistol and took $32.

Gillies then drove into Northville, although he didn't know at the time where he was. Stopping at the traffic signal on Center street in front of the Record office, he turned off the ignition, pulled out the keys and jumped from the cab. The bandit also fled but not before a Northville resident saw how he was dressed.

Northville police officers recognized the description as that of a man they had seen earlier entering Northville Lanes and made the arrest.

With Our Servicemen

U. S. Army, Vietnam (AHTNC)—Army Private First Class Frank E. Macy, 19, son of Mr. and Mrs. Frank E. Macy, 2573 N. Trail Court, Walled Lake, is participating in "Operation Wheeler" in Vietnam with other members of the 101st Airborne Division's 1st Brigade.

Wheeler, which began in September, is the fifth operation the brigade has been in since joining Task Force Oregon in May.

In five months of action, the men of the "Screaming Eagle" brigade have accounted for more than 2,000 enemy kills.

Pvt. Macy is a rifleman in Headquarters Company, 1st Battalion of the brigade's 327th Infantry.

USS Mazama—Seaman David A. Taylor, USNR, son of Mrs. Isabella H. Taylor of 1891 Charms Road, Wixom, participated in a U. S. Sixth Fleet exercise in the Eastern Mediterranean aboard the ammunition ship USS Mazama.

During the 13-day exercise, named "Eager Beaver," the Mazama participated in underway replenishments and an amphibious assault at Saros Bay, Turkey.

Since joining the Sixth Fleet the Mazama has visited Athens, Malta and Izmir, Turkey.

With Attack Squadron Twenty-three, aboard USS Ticonderoga (CVA-14), at sea Airman James C. Ritchie, son of Mr. and Mrs. Harvey P. Ritchie of 821 Spring drive, is presently serving with the "Black Knights" of Attack Squadron Twenty-three.

The squadron flies the A4-F "Skyhawk" light jet attack-bomber, and is currently undergoing intensive carrier qualifications and weapons training aboard the Attack Carrier USS Ticonderoga (CVA-14) off the coast of Southern California in preparation for the "Black Knights" third combat cruise against the forces of Communist aggression in Southeast Asia.

Airman Ritchie is one of the approximately one hundred and seventy-five men in the squadron who work behind the scenes to keep the squadron's A4-F "Skyhawk" aircraft airborne and combat ready.

VII Corps, Germany—Victor E. Arbour, 18, son of Mrs. Ceciliah Arbour, 121 Northaven, was promoted to Army private first class in Germany where he is assigned as a wireman in Battery C, 2d Howitzer Battalion of the 34th Artillery.

USS Parsons—Radarman Seaman Apprentice Gregg H. Penn, USN, son of Mr. and Mrs. Harold W. Penn of 46150 West Main street, and husband of the former Miss Linda M. Polak of Novi is serving in the Pacific aboard the newly recommissioned guided missile destroyer USS Parsons.

Before being selected for conversion to its present status the Parsons was a conventional destroyer.

As a guided missile destroyer the Parsons is armed with the Tartar missile and Anti-Submarine Rocket systems and is capable of conventional and missile striking ability against air, surface, or sub-surface targets.

After completing its fitting out period in Long Beach, Calif., the destroyer will move to its new homeport in San Diego, Calif.

Novi Cub Scouts 'Tour' World

A colorful program with the accent on the theme, "Around the World", highlighted the monthly meeting of Novi Cub Scout Pack 54 Friday night at the Novi community building.

Den 3, under the direction of Den Mother Mrs. Doloris Lavery, presented the program. Cubs and their younger sisters and brothers were dressed to represent various countries as they performed a musical travelogue.

Later, as an international band, the Cubs sang, "I Want to Live in a Friendly World", playing their homemade instruments.

This month's attendance trophies were shared by Den 3 and Den 10. Both had 100-percent attendance, and it marked the third consecutive victory by Den 3.

Den 2, under the direction of their Den Mother Mrs. Jean Fortner, staged the flag ceremony. A uniform inspection was held, but only one den was "picked out of the hat" - Den 10. Other dens will be chosen at forthcoming meetings in the same manner.

The following boys received awards: Bobcat pins - Robin Hager and Kurt Roderick of Den 1, David Reed of Den 4, Marlin Tarnow of Den 5.

Wolf badges - Douglas Rimes of Den 3, who also received one gold and one silver arrow, Guy Garuff of Den 4, and Dennis Mullins of Den 5, who also received one gold and one silver arrow.

Recognition for Additional Work under Wolf Badge - Matthew Bumann of Den 5, two silver arrows.

Recognition for Additional Work under Bear Badge - David Lavery of Den 3, three silver arrows.

Webelos Artist Badge - Mike Alexander.

Service Stars - Terry Beemer of Den 1 (one year), David Lavery of Den 3 (one year), Matthew Bumann of Den 5 (one year), John Anderson of Den 7 (three years), Webelos, Mike Alexander (two years) and Bruce Robertson (one year).

The next pack meeting will be held December 22 at the Novi community building beginning at 7:30 p.m. Theme for the month is "Do Your Best".

NOTICE

There will be a Public Hearing on Monday, December 18, 1967, 8:00 P.M. at the Northville City Hall to consider the following ordinance amendment:

THE CITY OF NORTHVILLE ORDAINS:

The following amendments shall be made to the Code of Ordinances of the City of Northville: Uniform Traffic Code for Cities, Townships and Villages adopted October 5, 1959; shall be amended by adding the following:

CHAPTER I

Section 5.96 - Careless or negligent driving:

Any person who operates a vehicle upon a highway or a frozen public lake, stream or pond or other place open to the general public including any area designated for the parking of vehicles in a careless or negligent manner likely to endanger any person or property, but without wantonness or recklessness, shall be guilty of a misdemeanor punishable by imprisonment in the County Jail or Detroit House of Correction for not more than 90 days or a fine of not more than $500.00, or both.

This amendment shall take effect immediately upon adoption.

Section 5.97 - Driving with Impaired ability; penalty.

(a) It is unlawful and punishable as provided in this section for any person to operate a vehicle upon any highway or any other place open to the general public, including any area designated for the parking of motor vehicles, within this city when, due to consumption of intoxicating liquor, narcotic drugs, barbitol or any derivative of barbitol, his ability to operate the vehicle is visibly impaired. Where a person is charged with violating Section 5.15, a finding of guilty shall be permissible under this section.

(b) Any person convicted of a violation of this section may be imprisoned in the county jail for not more than 90 days or fined not more than $500.00, or both, together with costs of the prosecution.

This amendment shall take effect immediately upon adoption.

Section 9.3 - Penalties

Unless another penalty is expressly provided by the ordinances of this governmental unit, every person convicted of a violation of any provision of this ordinance shall be punished by a fine of not more than $500.00 or by imprisonment for not more than 90 days or by both such fine and imprisonment.

This amendment shall take effect immediately upon adoption.

TITLE 5

CHAPTER I

The City of Northville Ordains:

That the Uniform Traffic Code for Cities, Townships and Villages, adopted October 5, 1959, shall be amended as follows:

SECTION 8.6 - Vehicle Starting from Parked Position:

The driver of any vehicle upon a highway or other place open to the general public before starting, stopping or turning from a direct line shall first see that such movement can be made in safety and shall give a signal as required by Michigan State Law.

This amendment shall take effect immediately upon adoption.

TITLE 8

Chapter I, shall be amended as follows by adding the following:

SECTION 8.114 - Liquor, purchase, possession, transportation or under control of person under 21 years in motor vehicle prohibited.

No person under the age of 21 years shall purchase or knowingly possess, transport or have under his control in any motor vehicle any alcoholic liquor, unless said person is employed by a licensee under Michigan State Law and is possessing, transporting or having such alcoholic liquor in a motor vehicle under his control during regular working hours and in the course of his employment.

The motor vehicle which is used in a violation of this section may be impounded for a period of not more than 30 days.

This amendment shall take effect immediately upon adoption.

SECTION 8.115 - Checks Without Sufficient Funds:

A. It shall be unlawful for any person with intent to defraud to make or draw or utter or deliver any check, draft or order for the payment of money, to apply on account or otherwise, upon any bank or other depository, knowing at the time of such making, drawing, uttering or delivering, that the maker, or drawer, has not sufficient funds in or credit with such bank or other depository, for the payment of such check, draft, or order, in full, upon its presentation.

B. As against the maker or drawer thereof, the making, drawing, uttering or delivering of a check, draft or order, payment of which is refused by the drawee, when presented in the usual course of business, shall be prima facie evidence of intent to defraud and of knowledge of insufficient funds in or credit with such bank or other depository, provided such maker or drawer shall not have paid the drawee thereof the amount due thereon, together with all costs and protest fees, within five days after receiving notice that such check, draft or order has not been paid by the drawee.

This amendment shall take effect immediately upon adoption.

SECTION 8.116 - Drawing check upon bank without any bank account:

It shall be unlawful for any person, with the intent to defraud, to make or draw or utter any check, draft or order for the payment of money to apply on an account or otherwise upon any bank or other depository who at the time of making, drawing, uttering or delivering such check, draft or order has no account in or credit with such bank or other depository for the payment of such check, draft or order upon presentation.

This amendment shall take effect immediately upon adoption.

This request was denied but they are to be notified they will be allowed to have their annual Christmas Kettle and solicit within the Business District during the 1967 Christmas Season. City manager and city attorney to review Solicitation Ordinance.

Letter from Mr. Frattini, Michigan Bell Telephone District Engineer, regarding the proposed conduit to be placed in Center Street from Hines drive to Randolph street. A letter is to be written to Michigan Bell Telephone company requesting the name of the contractor, matter of permit from Wayne County, detailed plans and specifications for restoration of right-of-way.

Minutes of Boards and Commissions:

Question was asked regarding easement mentioned in the 5th paragraph on page 1 of the Planning Commission minutes of November 7, 1967; City Manager stated that there are no plans for curb and gutter on River street at present time. (Page 2 - paragraph 2 - "stop" sign has been installed.)

Minutes of Nov. 7th Planning Commission and Nov. 1st Board of Appeals on Zoning filed.

Building Reports Through October, 1967:

After questions regarding activities of the Inspection Dept., the City Manager was requested to submit a report to Council for a 6 months period showing number of permits and permit fees for all inspectors as well as total money for all permits.

South Center St. Parking Restrictions:

City Manager reported that Councilman Black and he had reviewed the South Center street parking and their recommendations are listed in city manager's Memo #67-43. After some discussion, moved by Nichols, supported by Carlson, to adopt Resolution #67-10 - removing parking from the west side of South Center street from Main street to Cady street; effective immediately (upon signing). Unanimously carried.

Approval of Snow Removal Agreement Between the City of Northville and Northville Public School System:

After questions regarding the proposed agreement, this was turned over to the city attorney who will report at the December 4 meeting.

Approval of Agreement between the City of Northville and Chesapeake and Ohio Railroad.

City Manager reviewed the agreement with the Chesapeake and Ohio Railroad. Moved by Lapham, support by Nichols, to adopt Resolution #67-11, authorizing the Mayor and Clerk to execute said agreement. Unanimously carried.

Set Public Hearing Date for Criminal Ordinances:

City Attorney explained the advantages of prosecuting cases under local traffic ordinances and reviewed the seven sections under Titles 6 and 8.

Moved by Nichols, support by Carlson to set the date of Public Hearing on Traffic Ordinance Amendments - Title 5, Chapter 1, Section 5.96 - Careless or Negligent Driving; Section 5.97 - Driving with Impaired Ability; Penalty; Section 9.3 - Penalties; Section 8.6 - Vehicle Starting from Parked Position; and under Title 8 - Section 8.114 - Liquor, Purchase, Possession, Transportation or under Control of Person under 21 years in Motor Vehicle prohibited; Section 8.115 - Check without Sufficient Funds; Section 8.116 - Drawing Check upon Bank Without Any Bank Account - the above for Monday, December 18, 1967, 8:00 p.m. at the Northville City Hall.

Set Public Hearing Date for rezoning of lots 188, 189, 190 and 191 of Assessor's Northville Plat #2, From

T-1-P to T-1:

Moved by Carlson, support by Lapham, to hold a Public Hearing on Monday, December 18, 1967, 8:00 p.m. at the Northville City Hall to consider the rezoning of Lots 188, 189, 190 and 191 of Assessor's Northville Plat #2, from T-1-P (Track Parking) to T-1 (Track) as recommended by the Northville City Planning Commission. Unanimously carried.

Adopt Resolution Authorizing Chief of Police to set Standards for Parking Permits and Authorize Chief to Issue same:

City Manager reviewed his Memo #67-44, recommending the above authorization. After discussion, moved by Carlson, support by Lapham, to adopt Resolution #67-12 authorizing the Chief of Police to set reasonable standards for parking permits for emergency vehicles and authorize issuance of same. Unanimously carried. (Standards shall be distributed to City Council before general dissemination).

Discussion of Overnight Parking Problems:

This was postponed for a General Work Session.

Request for waiving of all Parking Regulations on days of Northville Town Hall:

City Manager stated that he had received complaints from women regarding tickets they had received in the Business District while they were attending the last Northville Town Hall lecture. Their explanation was that in previous years the meters have not been inspected during the time of the lecture. The Manager asked council regarding such a policy; they were not aware of any such policy and stated that they did not feel such an exception could be made.

Consideration of Water Ordinance Amendments:

The City Manager explained the proposed amendments - Section 7-308, Section 7318c and Section 7-323 and the necessity of same.

Moved by Nichols, support by Carlson, to set Monday, December 18, 1967, 8:00 p.m. at the Northville City Hall for a Public Hearing to consider the above amendments. Unanimously carried.

Appointments to Northville city canvassing board:

Clerk explained the two appointments to be made; moved by Carlson, support by Lapham to appoint Martha Bingley, 1039 Allen drive to the Northville City Canvassing Board to fill the unexpired term of Aubrey French (December 1, 1969) and John S. Lemon, 102 S. Rogers, for a term (December 1, 1967 - December 1, 1971). Unanimously carried.

Report from City Attorney Regarding Application from Northville Lanes:

The City Attorney explained that Mr. Gadioli knows that he must contact the Liquor Control Commission and make re-application to the Northville City Council for approval to hold a private party on New Year's Eve at his establishment, Northville Lanes.

Report from City Attorney regarding the Martin versus City of Northville Case:

The City Attorney reviewed the background of the case of Richard Martin versus the City of Northville on rezoning of property at Novi street and Eight Mile road. This case was dismissed for lack of progress.

There is to be a Work Session meeting of the council on Monday, November 27, 1967 at 8:00 p.m. at the Northville City Hall at the request of Judge Philip R. Ogilvie to discuss the proposal he is making to set up a Probate Department for the Northville Municipal Court.

There being no further business, the meeting was adjourned at 11:50 p.m.

Martha M. Milne
City Clerk

A Special Meeting of the Northville City Council was called to order by Mayor Allen on Monday, November 27, 1967, 8:13 p.m. at the Northville City Hall.

Present: Allen, Black, Lapham and Nichols. Absent: Carlson (excused).

City Manager recommended that the Council approve a standard form of lease for private parking areas in the Central Business District of Northville, and that a specific lease be approved by the City and Roy Stone for a portion of Lot 707al, Assessor's Northville Plat #7.

Mayor Allen questioned whether this should be done on a piece-meal basis since the individual lots did not have adequate ingress or egress. The City Mgr. stated that we should pursue the possibility of more leases but that an immediate problem existed and that this first lease should be approved. Mayor Allen and Councilman Nichols urged that we go slowly until more areas are available.

Councilman Nichols moved that the format of the proposed standard lease agreement be approved, support by Councilman Lapham. Ayes-4, Nays-0. Unanimously carried.

Mayor Allen requested that the standard agreement be corrected to specifically state that the City is not responsible for ingress or egress. Councilman Nichols requested that the standard agreement be changed to provide for cancellation by either party upon thirty (30) days notice in writing.

Councilman Black moved that Mayor and City Clerk be authorized to execute a lease agreement, as corrected, between the City of Northville and Roy Stone for a portion of Lot 707al of Assessor's Northville Plat (for private parking) # 7. Ayes-4, Nays-0. Unanimously carried.

There being no further business, the Special Meeting was adjourned at 9:30 p.m.

Shasta and Her Record Litter

Husky Mother Has Husky Litter

A "world record" of sorts has been established by a Siberian Husky dog of Novi.

At least, that's the word received by Linda Holtz of 40114 Grand River from the American Kennel Club, which revealed that her dog, named Northern Escho's Shasta, produced a record litter of 12 puppies last September.

The litter was the largest ever recorded for the Siberian Husky since the breed was recognized in 1938.

According to Miss Holtz, Shasta's litter included nine greys and three whites, all of which survived and remain perfectly healthy. Presently, the pure whites are the rarest of the acceptable colors for Huskies.

Sire of the litter was Northern Echo's YoHo, owned by Mrs. Carol Sutliff of 9000 Pontiac Trail, South Lyon.

Siberian Huskies come in color combinations of grey and white, red and white, black and white, and the pure white. They are known, also, for their distinctive facial markings. Some Huskies have blue eyes, an eye color acceptable for few other breeds.

Originally used as work dogs for sled pulling, today Huskies are seldom called upon to use their strength but nevertheless they easily fulfill this task almost instinctively when put to work, says Miss Holtz.

This One's At Crooked Lake

Oakland County Buys 3rd Park

Oakland County purchased its third park site recently.

Crooked Lake in Independence township was formerly known as Lower Bushman Lake and has been partly owned by Frederic C. Pew of Birmingham since 1937. The lake size is 70 acres and the deepest part is 68 feet. It is located at the headwaters of the Clinton River.

The property purchased by Oakland County Parks and Recreation includes 337 acres on the west side of Crooked Lake and the west one-half of Crooked Lake. The shoreline is three-fourths of a mile long and is firm with either a sand or gravel bottom.

There is a small spring fed lake on the property, known as Spring Lake. The overflow from this lake connects to a small spring fed stream which empties into Crooked Lake, which in turn empties, from the Southeast corner, into the main stream of the Clinton River.

In addition, there are 10 other individual springs on the property. All of the water is clean and unpolluted. The preservation of this unspoiled water was a major consideration in studying the possibility of acquiring this property for the people of Oakland County.

The land is ideal for a year around recreation area. It has a rolling terrain with the highest elevation over 1200 feet, which makes it one of the highest points in Oakland County. There are six natural sled and ski areas with northern slope exposures.

Some of the area is wooded with beautiful stands of native trees, some of which are judged to be 200 years old.

Recently much interest was created from gravel samplings from this area. The protection and preservation of this property for recreational use, rather than the development of another gravel mining operation was another issue in the consideration of this acquisition. The property is located three miles north of the I-75 Sashabaw exit. It is about two and one-half miles north and east of Clarkston's northern limits. Purchase price was $1,600 per acre. This was considerably less than the asking price, but was made possible because Oakland County was purchasing it for recreation of its citizens.

This is the third recreation area obtained by the new Parks and Recreation Commission.

Bell Telephone Hits 4-Million

If you had a telephone installed yesterday there's a chance it might be the 4,000,000th one hooked up by Michigan Bell Telephone company.

Based on the current daily average of new telephones installed by Michigan Bell each working day, any one of 730 phones could be the milestone telephone, John Peard, local manager, said.

The four millionth installation could take place here, or in any of the 365 communities served by Michigan Bell.

It could be a business or residence phone - any one of a wide variety of models and colors.

It could be a Call Director in an office, or a Data-Phone set for a computer. It could be a blue Trimline with the dial in the receiver, or a white Princess extension for a teen ager.

These are some of the latest phones and services now offered telephone users 90 years after this form of communication was introduced in Michigan.

The first telephone line in Michigan was installed in Detroit in 1877. (This was 16 months after the newly invented telephone had transmitted its first intelligible sentence on March 10, 1876 in Boston.)

It connected Frederick K. Stearns' drug store to his laboratory a few blocks away. The telephone instruments were connected by means of a single iron wire, strung from the roofs of houses.

Sixty-five years later with a much improved instrument Michigan Bell reached the one million mark in telephones. It was 1942, and war time made installation of that milestone pass by un-heralded.

Following World War II, demand for telephone service increased to such an extent that ten years after the first millionth phone the second millionth was recorded.

That historic telephone was installed in the home of a farm family in Holt, Michigan.

Since that installation, the number of years elapsing between each millionth milestone has been shrinking rapidly.

And, now six years later someone, somewhere has Michigan Bell's four millionth telephone.

Imagine This in Your Kitchen on Christmas Morning!

SPEAKING for The Record

By BILL SLIGER

The west-bound Six Mile road motorist can always tell when he's nearing Northville. Undeveloped, unplanned farmland occasionally cluttered by a cow or two replaces the scenic rows of professionally planned developments for finer living.

In short, subdivisions and commercial corridors.

Inevitably, the hand of creative man stretches outward and molds new communities for finer living, shoving the cows off the landscape to make room for people.

The familiar rolling terrain at Six Mile near Bradner road still exists, but not on paper.

In less than a decade the entire area from Five to Six-and-a-half Mile along Bradner will be converted into a community of dwelling units nearly equal in number to the units presently existing in either the city or the township of Northville.

Major developer of the area will be the Thompson-Brown company. And if the introduction to this appears to lament change, let it be recognized that it is inescapable and the only alternative is good planning, a responsibility of the planning commission (and the citizens who attend public hearings).

The major portion of the Thompson-Brown plan for the 336-acre Farm Crest Farms land comes up for public hearing on December 28. At that time the development company will request rezoning that will permit construction of 386 multiple units (RM-2), 91 lower density multiple units (RM-1) and 91 single family dwellings, along with 14.5 acres for a service-type shopping center and 5.6 acres for offices and banking-type services.

It is a planned community of 568 dwelling units on the north side of Six Mile road, that will follow the development of some 343 single family dwellings slated to get underway on the south side of Six Mile early next year.

The Thompson-Brown plan is impressive. It introduces use of land that

Strictly Fresh

There is doubtless no truth to rumors that college applicants are asked if they plan to major in tests or protests.

Some men can't bear to buy an automatic dishwasher when the one they married is so much prettier.

Teachers are going out on strike in defiance of court orders. School bond issues are being defeated too often, educators complain. Any questions, pupils?

Remember when we used to think that panty raiding or goldfish eating was as nutty as a campus clown could get?

appears most suitable without pressing into service every square foot and without taking advantage of the maximum number of units allowable under density limitations.

Customarily, a developer requests an "ever-so-slight" variance to enable construction of just one or two more units, or to reduce by just a car or two the requirement for parking spaces at an apartment building.

Township planners and area residents attending the public hearing on rezoning for the development may find some undesirable aspects to the Thompson-Brown plan, but it would seem that the most important matter for consideration might be assurance that once approved the plan as proposed is carried out.

The rezoning as requested would permit far greater density of development once granted. It is unlikely that a company of the stature of Thompson-Brown would depart from an announced plan, but times and ownerships have a way of changing.

Meanwhile, the Greenspan Building company is going ahead with its plans in the same area. Their final plat for the 102-home Northville Colony Estates is scheduled for approval this week. It's a 30-acre site that will be followed by development of another 100 acres of single family homes and 12-acres of apartments. This development extends southward from the Thompson-Brown "Northville Commons" project on Bradner from Franklin road to Five Mile road.

With 911 dwelling units planned by Thompson-Brown, probably 500 or more by Greenspan, the area can look forward to nearly 1500 more units within a 10-year period.

Presently, there's 1,690 dwelling units in the city of Northville supporting a population of 5,000.

Without making reference to a Thompson-Brown project planned within the city at Eight Mile and Taft, the Kings Mill apartments on Northville road, and the Novi developments well underway along Northville's northern boundaries, it isn't difficult to conclude that the cows and fields are rapidly being replaced by people and dwelling units.

The prospect should give local businessmen reason to ponder the future... and perhaps take a second look at that master plan for the central business district that planners have talked about for the past five years and the council has viewed and reviewed.

Service Clubs Show Cooperative Spirit

To the Editor:

The spirit of cooperation was exemplified recently when six area clubs enthusiastically joined with the Kiwanis Club of Wixom in providing sufficient money to permit a 12-year-old Novi boy to attend a speech clinic necessary to correct a speech defect.

The boy's problem had hardly been announced by our club when everyone seemed to pitch in and help.

We of the Wixom Kiwanis club are extremely appreciative of the generous donations of our fellow service clubs and believe they are typical of those which place service before self. Our thanks go out to the Rotary clubs of Novi and Walled Lake, the Lions clubs of Walled Lake and West Lake, the Kiwanis club of West Bloomfield, and the Elks club of Pontiac.

Sincerely,

John Finlayson, Wixom

'68 Junior Miss Thrilled, Thankful

To the Editor:

Last Saturday night I had a very exciting experience which I will not soon forget. I was the lucky girl to be crowned Northville's Junior Miss for 1968. Needless to say, I was—and am—very thrilled and happy. For the first time in my life I was speechless!

Now I would like to take this opportunity to publicly thank all of the wonderful people who made the Junior Miss Pageant a reality. Thank you to Miss Florence Panattoni, Miss Barbara LeBoeuf, Gail Geroy, Stacey Evans, and the stage crew for assistance at rehearsals and on that "special" night. Thank you to Mr. Robert Williams and the Northville High School Jazz Band. Thanks also to the Northville merchants who contributed so generously to the pageant.

Most important, a very special thanks to the Northville Jaycees and their wives who worked so hard in organizing the pageant and in handling all the "behind-the-scenes" preparations. Because of their efforts, dreams have come true.

Sincerely,

Pamela Smith

Says Thanks For Coverage

To the Editor:

I would like to take this opportunity to offer, on behalf of the Novi Board of Commerce, our sincere appreciation for your fine coverage of our annual Hallowe'en party.

As you probably know, attendance at the party, exceeded our expectations, and I feel that this was due to the front page space you so generously gave to our organization.

In addition to the written word, we would like to express our pleasure for the excellent picture coverage both before and after the event.

Sincerely,

Peter Alcala

A smart politician takes a stance and develops arguments to defend his position. Inevitably, if he's in politics long enough, changing conditions will demand a shift of position or perhaps a complete turn-about. Furthermore, the politician is just as susceptible to human error as you or me.

Unlike you or me, however, the politician is acutely attuned to his public image. His political fate rests upon it. Of necessity, he must make like an Indian and cover his trail the best he can to save his public face.

Most of the back tracking escapes widespread detection. After all, the average American, caught in the swirl of his particular problems, has trouble enough keeping tabs on his own congressmen, let alone the welter of legislators in Lansing or Washington, D.C.

Two television programs in particular can serve the public good perhaps more than any others from the standpoint of pinpointing politicians and probing relevant issues. The two programs are NBC's "Meet the Press" and ABC's "Issues and Answers." Of the two Sunday panels, "Meet the Press" comes off as first rate, while "Issues and Answers" shapes up as entertaining, but not penetrating.

Last Sunday's programs are testament to the fact.

On NBC's panel of newsmen were Lawrence Spivak, a regular schooled in politics and word-play, E. W. Kenworthy of the New York Times, Charles Murphy of NBC News and Alan Otten of the Walled Street Journal. Noted newsmen all, they didn't rest on their laurels.

On the contrary. Led by Spivak, the fearsome foursome waded into Allard Lowenstein, co-chairman of the splinter group, the Conference of Concerned Democrats, which has broken off with LBJ. Aside from being perceptive and quick on the up-take, the four pundits had obviously done their homework.

Only Lowenstein's own political insight and his marvelous control of the language enabled him to parry questions designed to riddle his stand. Lowenstein vouchered for the Concerned Democrats' backing of Eugene McCarthy, saying it would give Democrats a choice and afford them the chance of registering their discontent with President Johnson.

Lowenstein's reply to Kenworthy's question of how the Concerned Democrats hoped to keep McCarthy in the public eye until the Wisconsin primary in April is an example of the co-chairman's mental alacrity. He said it's not a question of keeping McCarthy in the public eye, so much as maintaining the McCarthy momentum. "He's twice as intelligent as Romney," Lowenstein said, "and twice as attractive as Reagan."

Asked what specific steps he would take to reverse the present disastrous course in Vietnam, Lowenstein didn't hem and haw: stop escalation, propose to withdraw under international supervision and halt the bombings.

Two inquiring reporters carried the ABC load in a confrontation with George Wallace, former Alabama governor. But Tom Jarriel and Piers Anderson, both of ABC, didn't attack with the vigor, knowledge or sweep needed to produce an enlightening exchange.

Wallace, who is heading the right-wing, American Independent party, got off the hook. What resulted was a half-hour of exposure for Wallace, the would-be presidential candidate and his party.

Wallace's intentions were made clear. If both the major parties offer liberal candidates, Wallace will provide a choice by running for the presidency. He stands on a platform of States Rights, pursuance of the war in Vietnam with the Joint Chiefs of Staff plotting the course and confrontation of our allies with the dictum that they help our war effort or we will sever foreign aid.

The two NBC newsmen didn't pursue the dollar question to its conclusion: What percentage of eligible Negro children are attending Alabama's segregated schools? Are there more white than Negro children, and if so, how many of school age? Better yet, the newsmen could have furnished the answers themselves.

Figures quoted previously by one of the newsmen indicate what the situation might be. Alabama ranks 45th of 50 states in the number of illiterates and 48th in drop-out rate.

Both Sunday programs face limitations, and time is one of them. Thirty minutes does not permit a thorough examination of the issues—all the more reason why the antagonist must be well prepared and razor sharp. The "Meet the Press" contingent, in the time provided, got to the heart of the matter, at least.

All of us, I suppose, have read and wondered about those incredible mechanical monsters which are competing with man's brain, but until you actually see one eating and spitting out information you're imagination is being shortchanged.

So it was with me until last week when the folks of the United Northwestern Realty association invited me over to view a talking machine that gobbles up questions and burps answers so fast the human mind is not ready for them.

First of its kind in the world, the newly created computer daily eats reams of real estate data and upon telephone request instantaneously furnishes information concerning any one of thousands of houses in the 800-square mile area covered by the association's members. At lightning speed it digests and answers questions of 250 brokers and 1,700 salesmen operating out of 200 real estate offices throughout the northwestern metropolitan area. And yet the machine is still hungry.

So fast does the machine digest questions and search its memory for answers that its inventor has purposely slowed its responses to five seconds to compensate for the slower human reaction at the other end of the telephone.

And, believe it or not, this monster responds in the English language, using 64 words it knows, and if it needs a word it hasn't learned to say it spells the word out by letter!

What the machine will do for the real estate business is only speculative. But you can be sure it will be reproduced in every major city of the United States.

For me and thousands of other home buyers and home sellers, the monster's a blessing. Let me illustrate:

Suppose I want to buy a colonial style home with three bedrooms, a fireplace, garage, two baths. I'm willing to pay $25,000 for it but I want to live in a particular neighborhood in a particular community.

Using a touch-tone telephone in his office, the Realtor telephones UNRA's monster and gives it a security code number which indicates he is a member Realtor entitled to information. Then, still using his touch telephone, the Realtor dials numbers representing every one of my requests.

The monster interprets the dial tones, searches its memory of thousands of listings, and five seconds later speaks the answer, telling me of houses exactly fitting my specifications.

Now suppose I'm not satisfied that three-bedroom colonials should cost $25,000. I no longer must rely on the Realtor's experienced judgment. He need only dial the monster and ask it what the market value is of such a home in any or all neighborhoods. At this point the monster searches its memory of all homes of my specifications sold during the past year and seconds later tells me of homes fitting my description—their sale price, when they were sold, by whom and what financing terms were used.

Suppose I saw a home in Plymouth last week and now wonder if it is still for sale. The monster can tell me that, too.

In other words I can be as general or as specific as I want in searching for a home. Theoretically, I could ask the machine to give me every listing in the northwestern Wayne county area. But the machine is programmed to give up to only 12 homes. UNRA figures no one will want to bother with more than 12 specific examples.

Nevertheless, the computer—brain-child of IBM—can receive, search its memory for the answers, and respond to as many as 44 inquiries simultaneously. It can handle up to 5,000 calls per hour.

The monster is unlike any other in the world because it utilizes public telephone lines.

Cost of the computer, leased from IBM, is $7,000 per month and for Bell's equipment, $1,200 per month. Yet, neither UNRA nor its members are paying for its service. Great Lakes Title Agency is footing the bill for the first year in hopes that Realtors will give it more of their title business.

The IBM genius who invented the monster told me its vocabulary is being expanded. "When we built it we picked out words we thought were absolutely necessary. Now we're finding that it needs to know other words—like 'bedroom', for example. It doesn't know how to say the word now so it spells it out, letter by letter."

I'd always thought a computer that talks gives out with sentences recorded in full at the time the machine is fed representative. A computer searches its memory for each word it knows their memory for each word it knows and then puts them together. That's why its voice is choppy, without expression.

Unlike other computers, the UNRA monster—called Realtor—stores its information on discs similar to records instead of on tape.

Ask a conventional computer a question it may have to reverse its tape and speed to the opposite end in order to find the answer. And the very next answer may be on the opposite end of the tape. Running back and forth over a lengthy tape wastes precious seconds.

With the discs, records, platters or whatever you might call them, seconds are reduced to fractions of seconds. When a question comes in over the telephone, a magnetic arm zips out over one of six discs at precisely the right location, sucks up the information (there's no needle), and flips it to the audio system. To scan thousands of listings takes the machine only a fraction of a second.

Homes that are sold are automatically removed from the current listings and stored for up to 12 months. In other words, the machine can tell me that a house was sold one second earlier.

What happens if a Realtor dials a "wrong" number after making contact with the monster? Why, it tells him he's dialed wrong, of course, and hangs up.

And if someone who is not a UNRA member calls, he's curtly told "members only" and left with an empty dial tone.

Finally, because of its break-neck speed the monster works itself into a lather, tossing off tremendous heat. Therefore, the computer room must be cooled and the temperature kept constant. And the hot air generated by the monster is sucked out of the room to heat the remainder of the building.

New Telephone System Aids Freeway Motorists

LANSING — Stranded motorists or those needing police assistance on I-94, between Jackson and Battle Creek, can summon aid quickly by using an experimental freeway communication system.

Calls can be made at any of the concrete poles spaced a mile or so apart. Each pole is topped with a low intensity blue light and supports a red box.

Inside the boxes are telephones for use by motorists who, for one reason or another, need assistance. Motorists using them are connected to State Police Posts at Jackson or Battle Creek.

MOTORIST Aid Phone System — MAPS for short — is one of several different types of communication projects in a half-dozen states sponsored by the Bureau of Public Roads in cooperation with state highway departments.

The Michigan installation consists of pairs of telephones mounted on opposite sides of I-94 Freeway at approximately one-mile intervals in the test area.

Dual installation is designed to reduce the possibility of a motorist walking across the median to reach a telephone on the opposite side of the freeway.

A sign on the side of the standard facing traffic carries a sketch of a telephone. Other signs are posted at the beginning and within the limits of the telephone test area, calling attention to the new service. Additional mileage markers have been installed along the route so that a motorist who abandons his car and walks to the nearest telephone will be able to identify his exact position.

THE TELEPHONE, a handset without a dial, is mounted in a metal box on the far side of the standard, so that a motorist using it will be facing oncoming traffic.

Lifting the receiver from the hook automatically connects the motorist with the State Police Post at either Battle Creek or Jackson by direct line. A light on a panel in the Police Post identifies the telephone from which the call is being made.

The telephone project is classified as a motorist-aid project rather than an emergency system because it is available not only for assistance of lost or of stranded motorists but also for any business which might require the services of the State Police.

THE IDEA of providing some means of communication for motorists stranded on freeways has been discussed by safety officials and highway engineers for five years, but an acceptable plan could not be agreed upon.

The Bureau of Public Roads, after participating in a highway telephone communication plan in New York State where the telephone equipment was leased from a telephone company, agreed to participate in a two-year trial communication where the telephone equipment will be state-owned and maintained.

In a somewhat similar telephone aid in New York, pairs of telephones were installed at regular one-half mile intervals along a 55 mile stretch of freeway.

A QUESTIONNAIRE will be mailed to each motorist using the aid telephones asking how he liked the service, if it filled his needs and any other comments he might have about the aid system.

Mini-Blizzards Toss Big Cities for Loss

BABSON PARK, Massachusetts. Big cities are girding again for their annual battle with those most persistent and costly foes: snow and ice. Good old-fashioned snowstorms, the municipalities seem able to take in stride. It's the mini-blizzards—the small storms—that throw them for a loss.

Among the first of the mini-blizzards this season to plague a major U.S. city was a sneak attack on Boston in mid-November. Downtown, the snow accumulation was a mere three inches; even in the outer suburbs, five-inch cover was rare. Yet in a matter of two hours, this stormlet tied Greater Boston super-hour traffic into one huge knot that was to take eight to ten hours to unravel.

Movement on flat stretches of road was theoretically possible; but drivers could do no more than inch along—their passage slowed or blocked completely by cars unable to negotiate even small grades, or stalled because the long hours of delay had drained batteries and/or gas tanks. Thousands of cars were abandoned, many in the middle of the roadway. Repair trucks, sanders, ambulances, and fire apparatus just couldn't make any headway in the tangled mass of traffic. In the city itself, a coroner's victim had to be removed from a police ambulance and carried on a stretcher a quarter of a mile to Boston City Hospital. Two blocks from the same hospital, a baby boy was born in his father's car which was hopelessly bogged down in the snarl.

DURING and immediately after practically every snow and ice storm, traffic problems are vastly increased as traction becomes more difficult to attain. This is true in the city, in the suburbs, and along rural roads. But the whole problem is compounded as drivers—ill-prepared to cope with winter conditions—fumble and flounder.

Yet driver deficiencies are by no means the only causes of trouble. By and large, snow tires are more effective for braking on snow or ice than for obtaining and maintaining traction on slippery roads. And, let's face up to it: Cars made here in the U.S. are easily thrown off balance when the going gets rough because they carry the bulk of their weight forward and their power wheels behind.

BY CONTRAST, most foreign-made cars have their power directly under their motors, whether these are located in the front or the rear. As a result, these foreign cars do possess a considerably greater degree of road stability for driving under snow and ice conditions than do our larger, poorly balanced U.S. autos.

Ideally, of course, small cars propelled by electric—or perhaps nuclear—power are what we need for winter driving, especially in big cities. And such cars would prove an excellent solution for our rapidly increasing air-pollution problem in urban areas. They would also make for less wear and tear on highways and city streets and would require less parking space. But, alas, electric—or nuclear—powered cars are far from being economically feasible.

BIG CITIES still tend to rely too much on salt and sand to solve winter traffic problems. Often even these are used too little and too late. Ordinances with teeth to restrict the size of trucks on city streets—winter and summer—and to limit truck deliveries to off-peak hours are urgently needed. Another remedy would be more widespread synchronization of traffic lights in downtown areas and on the major roads approaching central city business sections.

TV and radio could also be more frequently and more effectively used to alert drivers to dangerous conditions and to solicit their co-operation. And, in the interest of public safety as well as public convenience, big cities should be making better and more consistent use of professional weather services and of helicopters to obtain advance notice of approaching storms and to locate potential trouble spots before they become so clogged as to defy untangling.

quette founded a mission at Sault Ste. Marie.

It was only a year after the 1668 beginning at the Sault that another priest, Father Claude Allouez, visited the Straits of Mackinac, and it became apparent that this would be a suitable place for more development. The French built Fort Michilimackinac at what is now Mackinaw City in 1715.

MOST OF THE CELEBRATION will evolve around the Fort, which is already a tourist attraction. Much of the Fort is already excavated, but work is expected to bring to light several new houses and buildings which will make a trip to the Fort more significant.

Correct pronunciation of the word "Mackinac" would be a big accomplishment. According to those who live there, and other experts as well, proper spelling of the city is Mackinaw (with a w). Proper spelling for the island is, understandably, taken from the French, and it is Mackinac. The same is true of the Straits of Mackinac. But all three are pronounced as the Americanized spelling of the city: Mackinaw ... not "Mackinack" as those unfamiliar with the background of the area are likely to do.

Amerman Plans Yuletide Program

It's Glee Club At Moraine..

"It'll be a fine program," assured Miss Sandra Finn, Moraine elementary school music teacher, concerning the Christmas program on foreign countries titled "Christmas Around the World".

The Glee club, (which is comprised of the very best fourth and fifth grade music students), and fourth and fifth grades will hold their program December 14; the second grade will host a program December 18; and the first and third grades will deliver their program December 19.

"Christmas Around the World" will deal with the various songs and dances the world over. Examples of such dances are the Hully Gully, and old English country dance, a Scottish dance, a French polka, the Virginia Reel to be performed by the fifth graders, and a Jewish dance called a Hora which will be demonstrated by the Glee club. Each class, except the first graders, will undertake dances in their programs.

Miss Finn re-emphasized the fact that, "The kids are really shaping up now," adding once more that, "it'll be a fine program."

...And Choir At Main St.

"This is one of the most important Christmas Programs I have ever worked on," commented Mrs. Joan May, the music teacher at the Main Street elementary school.

She was referring to the Christmas program being presented by the fourth and fifth grade choir titled "Christmas Carols from Various Countries".

Quite a schedule has been set up for their Christmas program. December 20 at 11:00 a.m. the choir will sing Christmas carols at the Northville Convalescent Home, then at 1:30 p.m. they will migrate to the Moraine elementary school to deliver their program during a school assembly.

December 22 has been set aside for a similar combined program with Amerman elementary school's fifth grade choir during an assembly there at 9:30 a.m. Their program will also be held at Main Street.

A total of 15 carols, including three solos and one trio, will comprise the Main Street program. Soloists include Carol Bellinger, (Christmas Lullaby), Paula Dyke, (I Wonder as I Wander), and Wendy Marino, (White Christmas).

Brent Ashby, Mike Puckett, and Roy Williams make up the trio singing We Three Kings.

The choir is made up of 60 boys and girls who meet for 30 minutes twice a week. Sectional rehearsals are held during the noon hour, and as Mrs. May pointed out, "They, (the choir), have given up their recesses for the Christmas Program which is quite a sacrifice, especially for the boys."

As for the Christmas program as a whole, Mrs. May reflected: "They have done a marvelous job preparing themselves, and they are eager to share something that will mean so much to the people in the Convalescent Home, as well as in the other schools."

The first and second graders of the Amerman elementary school will present the Amerman music department's Christmas program for the school December 20 and the P-TA December 21.

According to Miss Phyllis Hinkel, Amerman school's music teacher, they will present various selections of carols, songs, and poems regarding the theme of Instruments.

The theme of instruments will include such selections as Ring Bells Ring, (regarding bells), Patta Pan, (regarding drums), and Zomba Zomba, (regarding cymbals).

Miss Hinkel explained that the Christmas program was being conducted by the first and second graders because, "The third, fourth, and fifth graders presented the Amerman school's Thanksgiving program."

At Junior High

Season Decorations Go Up

Mrs. Molly Shoup, Ida B. Cooke junior high school's art teacher, has quite an extensive program going for her sixth and seventh grade art students.

Work is currently underway on Christmas decorations. Stain glass windows, decorated hallways, and decorated teacher's doors are the Christmas decoration projects being handled by the sixth and seventh grade art classes.

Accordingly, there will be angel scenes in the cafeteria, the Spirit of Christmas along with Abenezar Scrooge in one hallway, Santa Claus, Christmas Carolers, and many other scenes depicting the Christmas Theme and the significance of its meaning.

They also are making decorations for a non-artificial Christmas tree that will be placed in the junior high. The majority of these decorations will be origami decorations; that is, paper folding will be employed to make various decorations and ornaments in the guise of birds, butterflies, swans etc.

Paper mache will also be employed in the construction of decorations and ornaments.

Concerning the overall art program, Mrs. Shoup stated, "We try to hit just as many things as we can in the junior high school, meaning all types of art except metal work." That's quite a job because sixth graders only have art six weeks out of the year, and seventh graders have it only one semester.

As for the eighth graders, Mrs. Shoup stated, "There is no eighth grade art, which is a crime. We would like to get art into all grades extensively, but there's not enough hours in the day to fit it into their schedules."

The students use a paperback magazine as a textbook titled Artist Junior, which is a monthly subscription printed at the level of their understanding of

Win 3-Foot Trophy

Debaters Cop League Championship

The Northville high school varsity debate squad emerged as champions of the WCTM League Monday, November 27 to receive the newly formed league's

HAPPY WINNERS—Northville varsity debaters beam upon capturing the WCTM League championship last week. They competed against teams from Coldwater, Kalamazoo, coveted three-foot trophy.

Members of the WCTM are Coldwater, Kalamazoo, Lansing Waverly, Northville, and Ypsilanti.

Prior to the three tournaments consisting of 16 debates for each school; NHS was tied for third place with Kalamazoo, while Coldwater and Lansing Waverly were vying for the first place trophy. However, Northville's debaters defeated the two previously unbeaten teams and went on to score six wins to defeat all oncomers.

Four varsity debaters and one novice participated in the tournaments. Cris Becker and Pam Smith upheld the affirmative, while Jeannette Gensley and Pam Witzke upheld the negative on the question: "Congress should establish regulations to control criminal investigation procedures." Virginia Round, a novice, substituted in one round, but the team still managed to score a victory.

Pam Smith and Pam Witzke were presented individual trophies for best debaters in their respective positions. Cris Becker tied for her position for an individual award.

Judges for the debates were from the University of Michigan, Wayne university, and Eastern Michigan university.

Northville's varsity squad is also the only undefeated team in the Wayne-Oakland County League.

'66 Grad Named To MSU Post

EDITOR'S NOTE—The following article was written by Nancy Bosak, a Northville graduate, to fulfill a course requirement in journalism at Michigan State university.

Becky Lyke, a 1966 graduate of Northville high school, has been appointed to a student staff position at Michigan State university.

She is one of 358 students on the East Lansing campus selected as members of Michigan State's unique Residence Halls Program as a resident assistant.

Becky, 19, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Wardell Lyke of 46300 West Twelve Mile road, is in charge of personal counseling, supervising, disciplining and advising the government of a house of 50 girls in West Akers Residence Hall.

She was among four girls chosen of 35 who applied in Akers Hall last spring. After writing several papers concerning the nature of a resident assistant's position, and having several personal interviews, Becky underwent an extensive training period last spring.

In her resident assistant role, Becky must be helpful and sympathetic, show interest and concern, and give guidance to each student, while at the same time translating into practice the rules and objectives of Michigan State university.

The position affords her a unique experience in leadership development and human relations, Becky feels that in her job she "can't help but to learn to understand people, meet people."

"There aren't enough people to listen to others," Becky commented.

"That's why the resident assistant job which Michigan State has developed is most important."

Becky is especially thankful for the good academic background she received at Northville High. Her job has made her realize that "lots of kids have no academic background whatsoever to prepare them for college."

She was a member of Honor Society, Future Teachers, Forensics and Thespians at Northville High school. A sophomore, Becky is majoring in English at Michigan State.

paintings and sculpture. From this has sprung student ideas for making a Christmas project booklet to which each student contributes at least one idea.

Their two major favorite works of art on display were "Watson and the Shark" by Copley, and Van Gogh's "Self-Portrait".

Mrs. Shoup commented that the student council is planning an activity hour, and stated that, "We will have an Art club that will meet twice a week if we have it."

'Christmas Whirl' On Tap December 20

"Christmas Whirl", "A Christmas Star for Olga", and an annual Christmas party are on tap for members of both the Thesbian and Forensic clubs at Northville high school.

"Christmas Whirl" is a dressy dance sponsored by the Forensic club to be held December 22 from 8:00-12:00 p.m. in the high school cafeteria. It's on the order of an old fashioned Christmas patterned after the Junior and Senior Proms, except girls will wear shorter dresses than they would at a prom.

Letters will be written to invite past members of the Forensic and Thesbian clubs to the Christmas dance which the sponsor, Miss Florence Panatoni, would like to see become "A new tradition since Northville hasn't had a Christmas dance in 15 years."

The Thesbians are planning to perform a short play for the elementary schools titled "A Christmas Star for Olga". The plot deals with two spirits named Meflin, (the good spirit), and Grork, (the bad spirit), who are having a dispute about the Spirit of Christmas.

They finally find Olga, (a house maid from "the Old Country"), who possesses the true meaning of Christmas.

Junior and Senior Forensic club members each put on a class skit at the annual Christmas party. Freshmen and sophomore members are delegated to judge the skits, and the winning class receives a plaque with a great big Santa head etched on it. The Juniors won it last year, and will attempt to retain it again this year.

Caroling is also on the agenda for Forensic and Thesbian members.

Every NHS student is reminded that whether he be a freshman, sophomore, junior, or senior—December 22 should find him at the "Christmas Whirl".
