Artists Await Start of Classes

Four artists will teach their specialties, ranging from water color and oil painting to drawing graphic arts and sculpture in a new series of art classes beginning this month at the Severance Art Supplies store, 131 East Cady.

Initially scheduled classes in all-crafts to be taught by Marilyn Kerns Hopping and in oils by Richard Alwood already are filled. Additional classes will be scheduled if there is sufficient demand.

There still are openings in oil and crafts classes to be taught by Mrs. Donald Van Ingen and drawing and all graphic arts classes to be given by C. Phelps Hines.

Mrs. Van Ingen, who previously has held adult art classes in her home, will teach oils and crafts in an eight-lesson series Tuesday afternoons, if 10 students are registered. A graduate of Eastern Michigan University where she received a B. degree, she has had additional study at the Society of Arts and Crafts in Detroit and at Schoolcraft college.

She has taught at the Society of Arts and Crafts and in Kalamazoo, Clarkston and Northville high schools.

Mrs. Hopping studied Cass Technical high school and was scholarship to the Art Institute of Chicago where she majored in sculpture and drawing. Her Saturday morning classes for junior and senior high school students will cover acrylics, drawing sculpture and water color.

She has exhibited in enamels and sculpture in student shows at the Chicago Institute of Arts, a certified art teacher, she has taught Winnetka and Highland Park, Illinois, and in Detroit.

Hines will teach drawing and all graphic arts in Monday evening classes. A designer and art in Detroit-area advertising agencies for 20 years, Hines has a bachelor of industrial design degree from the University of Michigan.

He was a graphic arts specialist with Ford Motor company for three-and-a-half years. For the last several years he has been a designer and builder of trade show displays and special decorations. He has his own company for five years. Houghton drafting at Schoolcraft college during its first year of operation.

Richard Alwood, whose evening class in oils for adults begins tonight, plans his classes for artists who want to paint for pleasure.

A graduate of Wayne University, he has painted all his life and studied art in high school and college and with private instructors, all as at the Detroit Institute of Arts.

He has taught private classes for several years and in the past two years has been at the annuals, 19106 West McNichols, Detroit. He is a Detroit resident. The others are all Northville residents.

series of art classes. They are (l. to r.) Mrs. Donald Van Ingen, Richard Alwood, C. Phelps Hines, and Marilyn Kerns Hopping.

Gordon Hammond Takes Utah Bride

Gordon Roy Hammond, son of Mr. and Crispin Hammond, 47100 Timberlane, took Merlynn Garr of Hyde Park, Utah, as his bride in a ceremony in that city December 15.

She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Dennis Garr of Hyde Park, a suburb of Logan, Utah. They were married in a 6 o'clock ceremony in the Hyde Park Church of the Latter Day Saints.

For the ceremony, attended by members of the family only, and a larger reception following in the Hyde Park cultural hall, the bride wore an off-white knit brocade dress with pearl button trim. Her attendant, Dee Ann Stocks, wore a short yellow bouffant sheer dress with satin cummerbund. Both had corsages of red roses and white carnations.

Best man for Gordon was Robert Tanaguchi of Price, Utah.

Bishop Dalnes officiated in the traditional short ceremony at an altar decorated with banks of red Christmas roses and greens.

For the wedding the bridegroom's mother wore a raspberry red dress and matching hat. The bride's mother also wore a red costume. Both had red-and-white corsages.

The red-and-white Christmas color scheme was carried out at the reception also where the bride, who is one of seven sisters, was assisted by her little sisters. They wore red-and-white aprons.

After a brief wedding trip, the newlyweds now are at home in their apartment at 350 Reed street, Salt Lake City. The bridegroom is finishing his senior-year studies at the University of Utah.

Police Recover 2 Stolen Cars

Northville police received word this week from the Fayette county, Kentucky, sheriff's department that they have impounded a car reported stolen here last June. The car, a 1965 Plymouth, registered to Arthur and Elmer Kish of Ecorse, was taken from the race track area and found the next day in Kentucky, but not discovered to be the Northville one until last month by Kentucky police.

The case now will be handled by the Federal Bureau of Investigation, Chief Eldins said, as the car was transported over state lines.

A stolen auto complaint was received by Northville police December 29 from James Williams, 42871 Ten Mile, Novi, who said he had gone into Joe's meeting of the Presbyterian Men's club, Thursday, January 11.

Because of community interest in the recently-approved probation department, the Men's club has opened the meeting to the public. Persons wishing to attend the dinner may make reservations by calling the church, FI 9-0911. Dinner is scheduled for 6:30 p.m. Those wishing only to hear Judge Ogilvie may do so at 7:30 p.m. Meetings are held in the Fellowship Hall of the First Presbyterian church.

LUNCHEON GUEST—Mrs. Arthur Hempe (right), of 46246 W. Fonner Court was among the five 1967 Torch Drive unit chairmen invited to an evaluation meeting and luncheon given by Mrs. Milton B. Osgood of Indian Village, tri-county chairman for residential campaigns. Mrs. Feld was chairman for door-to-door collections in Central Wayne. At the meeting in the Detroit Boat club, Mrs. Osgood said the residential campaigns raised $1,017,597 or 105.7 per cent of quota in the 19th annual United Foundation campaign. The drive total of $27,573,109 will underwrite operating costs for nearly 200 health and community services.

Mrs. Carolyn J. Seefeldt, director of social service at Northville State Hospital, has been elected to membership in the International Platform association.

The association is an organization of distinguished and dedicated persons throughout the world who have been instrumental in bettering the quality of the American platform not only as it applies to the booking of celebrities but also as it relates to the field of school assembly programs available to children.

Membership includes many of the celebrities of the news and entertainment media, the press, TV, radio and the theatre.

Mr. and Mrs. Ruland and family of 48155 Rushwood Lane have returned from a 10-day holiday visit to Ft. Lauderdale, Florida where they visited numerous points of interest. While in Florida they also visited both sets of their parents.

PROMOTED—William Beadle, son of Mr. and Mrs. William Beadle of Border Hill road in Novi, has received his third Petty Officer stripes aboard the USS Maury in the Pacific. Captain George Aubert made the presentation. Beadle, who enlisted in the Navy in November, 1965, will leave in March for a 10-months tour of duty in Japan. Municipal Court

Five cases of minors in possession of intoxicating beverages were among the dozen heard by Municipal Judge Philip Ogilvie in year-end court cases.

Richard C. Kurlapski and William B. Baron, both 18 and of Livonia, pleaded guilty December 19 of being in possession, but sentencing was deferred until December 27 so that a parent could be present. Each was fined $25 and $2.50 state costs.

Edward P. Nowalk, 14391 Blackburn, Detroit, pleaded guilty to the minor-in-possession charge and was fined $25 and $2.50 December 19 with a parent present. David Anglin, 17, 12032 Levern, Detroit, pleaded guilty to the same charge and received the same fine December 27.

Upon motion of City Attorney Marvin Stempien, the charge of drinking on the highway was dismissed against John T. Hay, 18, 15142 Sumner, Detroit, who pleaded guilty to the added count of minor-in-possession. He was fined December 27—$25 and $2.50.

Harvey Garrison, 44, of the Northville Downs pleaded guilty December 26 on two counts: driving without an operator's license and driving under the influence of alcohol. He was fined $25 and three days on the first violation and $100 on the second.

Dean A. Newton, 19, 18800 Indian, Detroit, pleaded guilty to driving on a revoked license December 31 and was fined $50 and three days.

Three motorists found guilty of speeding 35 miles an hour in a 25-mile zone at the East Main street curve near Griswold each received $10 fines. They were caught by radar.

Lenard R. Morrison, 19, 18937 Oakfield, Detroit, pleaded not guilty December 12 but was found guilty by Judge Ogilvie December 27. Kurt J. Toppa, 20, of Livonia pleaded not guilty December 12, but also was found guilty December 27.

Gerald E. Nastally, 25, 316 Griswold, also was fined December 27.

Susan Kay Hill, 17, 14155 Shadywood, Plymouth, was charged with disobeying a stop sign at West Main and Wing streets December 15. This count was suspended with the count of failure to yield right of way added. She paid court costs of $10.

Mustangs' Title Hopes Ride on Next 3 Games

"The next three games will tell the story."

Northville basketball mentor Dave Longridge is no soothsayer, but he's got his finger on the league pulse when he sees his squad's title hopes riding on the next three games.

Undeclared in their first three W-O starts, the Mustangs will travel to Bloomfield Hills tomorrow where the Barons, just a half-game behind second-place Northville, are determined to boost themselves into contention.

Fifth-place Brighton, running just behind Holly, will host the Mustangs next Tuesday night in a make-up game postponed earlier because of the flu bug at Brighton.

And then next week Friday, the undefeated, league-leading Lakers of West Bloomfield will invade Northville to lay their quest for the championship on the line.

Although he and his cagers will have their hands filled in this three-game series, Longridge takes hope in the fact that the varsity squad showed determination during the holiday tournament at River Rouge.

Northville lost two of its three games in that tourney, but Longridge came away impressed by his squad's "good showing."

"They looked real good in the first game against Garden City—one of the top three or four teams in the state."

Langfield Lands Prize Bonefish

Fishing in the Metropolitan Miami fishing tournament on a recent vacation in Florida, C. E. Langfield, of Northville, won angling recognition for landing a 5 lb.-8 oz., and 6 lb.-12 oz. bonefish in the Light Tackle Division. He fished with Capt. Sam Ellis on the "Bonefish Sam" out of Bimini. Langfield won recognition also for releasing seven bonefish.

With a couple of breaks we could have won it. I really think it was their best game of the year.

"In the second game they looked pretty good, too, about the same as in the Milford game. It was a good offensive game. Peterson (Jim) was hurt in the last game and didn't play. We didn't shoot well."

Garden City East, which lost out to Ecorse in the finals for the River Rouge tournament crown, clipped Northville, 62-56, in the opening round.

The Mustangs lost its playing edge in the final quarter as Peterson fouled out with three minutes to play and Forward Randy Pohlman, high-point scorer, was forced out with two minutes to go.

Northville was down 15-12 going into the second quarter, maintained its pace and the short end of the score, 30-27, at the intermission, lost ground at the three-quarter mark, 47-40, and then outscored Garden City in the final period to pull within six points of the winner.

Pohlman came up with 19 points, Chuck Frogner scored 12, and Joe Andrews finished with 11.

The Mustangs zipped past Robichaud early in the second game, finished stronger in the final two quarters and came away with a comfortable, 63-43 victory.

Pohlman blistered the nets with 24 points to easily lead his squad, as well as the opponents, in scoring. He netted 10 field goals and four charity shots — most of them in the final half.

Northville led 14-12 at the first-quarter mark, built up a 27-23 half-time lead, and then zoomed out front, 44-31 going in to the final quarter.

Second highest scorer for the Mustangs was Andrews with 14. Two Robichaud players hit double figures, with 10 points each.

The Mustangs hit only 18 points in the first half against Highland Park, losing 58-33 to the Class A five.

In the final quarter, Northville came up with 13 points — its high for the evening — but Highland Park pushed 22 points through the hoop to win going away.

The quarter scores were: 11-7, 23-14, and 36-18.

Andrews' five field goals and five charity conversions led the Mustangs losing cause, while a 16-point output by Forward Lenon Smith was high for Highland Park.

Christmas Tree Sale Gives Gridders Boost

"It was a big success," spokesmen for the newly organized Northville Junior Football association revealed this past week as they reviewed the association's first project to raise money for football uniforms.

Association members, including many of the youngsters who next fall will represent Northville in junior football competition, sold Christmas trees as their first project.

Officials extended their appreciation to the citizens of the community who made the project a success. "We're especially thankful to Mr. John Carlo who let us use the Downs property for the Christmas tree sale."

Officials also revealed that the association has adopted the name, "Colts", as the official nickname for the junior football teams to be fielded here next fall.

Car Impounding Off to Fast Start

Northville police have been impounding overnight all cars being driven by minors found in possession of alcoholic beverages since Christmas, but with the start of the new year also will make an administrative charge for impounding, Police Chief Samuel Elkins said Tuesday.

Acting on city administrative orders, Elkins stated, police will charge an administrative fee of $5 plus $1 a day storage in addition to towing charges.

From December 26 to January 2 police issued tickets to seven youths and one girl, charging possession of beer or in one case, other alcoholic beverages. All have January court dates pending.

The impounding procedure has been instituted by the city to curb the growing incidents of minors being found in possession of beer. Five such cases were heard by Municipal Judge Philip Ogilvie in year-end cases reported in court news.

Chief Elkins reported that both city crime and accident rates remained at "more or less routine levels" during the Christmas through New Year holiday span.

A ticket was issued to a 17-year old youth for careless driving December 28 when he drove into a parked auto, causing an estimated $2,000 damage. He said salt and mud on the windshield prevented his seeing the car. A January 3 court date was set.

Police were called to Clark Gas station on South Main street December 29 where attendant James Schmitz complained that Chris Dulas of Fairbrook street accosted him with a knife. He was to sign a complaint.

A 17-year old Plymouth youth was arrested on disorderly conduct charges in the parking lot of the former community building now used for Cavern dance parking. Officer L. E. Towne on duty at the Cavern Dance December 31 made the arrest when the youngster used foul language and resisted. He is to appear in court January 17.

Drunk and disorderly charges were issued against Louis McLean, 27, of Livonia, December 31. He is free on $100 bond pending a January 9 court date. Alvin Dudley, 70, 46056 Sunset, was arrested for driving under the influence of alcohol and jailed after a blood test was administered. His car was impounded.

Austria: Key to the Continent

Globe trotter Robin Williams will unlock Austria's past and peer into the future next Wednesday evening as the Northville Rotary club presents its third program in the Northville Rotary Travelogue series.

In a sweeping color film panorama, Williams will show Austria from the Alps to Zell am See, from the highest village in Europe to the beautiful banks of the Danube.

And all of it will materialize in the Northville high school auditorium beginning at 8 p.m.

Even in its geography, roughly key-shaped, Austria is in many respects a key country in Europe. For centuries, Vienna, at the crossroads of the Continent, has been its cultural capital.

Seat of empires, fought over, won and lost, settling for royalty, and more recently escape channel to the West, Austria has been a key to much of Europe's greatness.

Half surrounded by communist countries, Austria, says the film's narrator, is "a key example of an eminently successful democracy at the very edge of the Iron Curtain." In his film, he shows its great traditions of imperial splendor, as it was under centuries of Hapsburg rule, to its proud status as a peaceful democracy today.

Williams, who has been roaming the world since 1958, has won accolades throughout the nation for his ability to film in color the unusual off-the-beaten path places of interest.

And he repeats himself in "Austria—Key to the Continent", showing superlative living, festivals, processions, Alpine skiing, the world of Beethoven, Mozart, Schubert and Strauss, castles and abbeys, and the setting for Charlemagne, the Holy Roman Empire, Hitler, and the Resistance.

Tickets for the program are sold at the door for $1.50.

Other programs in the current season will be "Timbuktu and Beyond," Romain Wilhemsen, February 15; "Appalachian Trails," LeRoy Crooks, March 13; and "Ceylon," Ed Lark, April 11.

He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Tony Bongiovanni of South Wing street. His mother operated a beauty salon in Northville for 24 years.

3 Bands Slated

Vocational Funds Used Little Here

Federal and state funds are available, but only eight Oakland county residents in the communities of Novi, Wixom and South Lyon have "active files."

That's the word from the Division of Vocational Rehabilitation (DVR) of the Michigan state department of education.

Michael D. McClure, newly appointed to the DVR staff headquartered in Royal Oak, has been charged with the responsibility of spreading the word that help is available to Oakland County residents, especially those in this area.

Actually, the services of DVR are manifold: medical diagnosis for evaluating work capacity, counseling and testing, job training, job placement, job follow-up to make sure the employer and employee are satisfied, medical care, artificial limbs and other prosthetic appliances, maintenance and transportation costs during rehabilitation, and tools and equipment.

Specifically, McClure works with young people in this area, including high school dropouts, special education students, or those with general class loads. Another coordinator is responsible for the general case load.

McClure explains that there are limitations in reaching people of the Novi and Wixom area. "We at this office are very much aware of the growth of your area," he wrote recently, "our office cannot serve these outlying districts as efficiently as we would like to."

Notification, he asserts, will bring action. The address is 505 South Lafayette Avenue, Royal Oak, 48067. The telephone number is 544-3136.

The avowed goal of DVR is: "to prepare and assist the handicapped to become self-supporting citizens," including diabetics, epileptics, heart patients, the deaf and blind, amputees, the mentally retarded and others.

Examples of DVR clients who have been helped towards employment include:

A man in business was repositioned; a housewife was retrained to support her family, a young financially deprived man was college educated, severely handicapped have received homebound employment, mentally retarded were given competitive employment, and a deaf housewife received employment.

Despite few participants from this area, McClure points out that one out of every 10 persons has a physical handicap. Yet, many who could be helped are not, a condition created by crippling pity — and ignorance, he says. The latter can be dealt with. There are services available to the local handicapped.

SPEAKING

for The Record

By BILL SLIGER

It's May in December and June in January for Bea Carlson, Northville councilwoman who has made her assignment as chairman of the beautification commission a year-around job.

At the urging of Mrs. Carlson the council adopted a beautification ordinance and established an official nine-member commission. As its first chairman, she's become deeply involved in the field of community beautification at the local, state and national levels.

December 31 marked the deadline for the local committee to submit its entry in the annual national cleanest city contest. So much has been done during the past year that the entry consists of two scrapbooks, each with cover designs by John Wortman, an artist and member of the beautification commission.

Three times Northville has won top honors for communities its size in the national contest, once honorable mention. Not a bad average out of four attempts.

Bea has the feeling, however, that an impression exists among some citizens that it's only the contest that matters. This makes her bristle.

She notes, first-off, that winning recognition doesn't mean that we have a clean community, it's merely an indication that we're trying...that beautification is a program of local concern.

"Beautification is a problem that involves every citizen of every community," the local councilwoman points out. Individual goodhousekeeping can be ruined by a thoughtless passer-by who dumps papers or refuse out of his car, a careless industry that permits smoke or waste materials to scatter uncontrolled or a youngster who deposits a lunch sack or half-eaten sandwich on the street.

"Our beautification campaign is what the people make it," Bea emphasizes.

While the "cleanest city" contest provides incentive, and perhaps some recognition for effort, the important goal to the Northville community beautification commission is that every citizen is kept constantly aware — each month of the year — of the campaign to "clean-up, paint-up and fix-up".

What the beautification commission really wants is a clean community, not a trophy.

Winter's timing was perfect this year... the snow fell during Christmas vacation so youngsters could use new sleds, skis and toboggans.

But ice skaters would be hard-pressed to find a public rink in Northville. In years' past the weather hasn't cooperated with efforts to prepare the city skating rink behind the Scout Recreation building. This year, however, there's freezing weather and no rink.

Ice skating has been given top priority when, and if, the city purchases the fish hatchery property.

Meanwhile, wouldn't it be possible for a DPW crew to give the recreation department a hand and rebuild the popular rink at the Scout building?

Only cats have nine lives, but 72-year-old John P. Hobart is hard at work on his third and, who knows, may even start a fourth before the clock runs out.

"It's a brand new life for me," this remarkable gentleman told me this past week, "and I'm enjoying it as much or more than my first two."

John's the father of the former Record-News advertising manager by the same name and he'd come up to Northville from Kentucky for the holidays. Visiting his children was an enjoyable tonic, but John was anxious to get back — back among his fellow students at the University of Kentucky.

There's something about hitting the books with students less than a third his age that makes this third life both exciting and rewarding.

John's a college student — a junior,

I guess you'd call him, three years into an art curriculum that will lead to a diploma.

That he is a college student at 72 isn't so remarkable until after you flip the pages back through his first two lives.

Three years ago he was a professor — at the same university — pumping studies into young engineering students. He'd taken the job nearly a half-dozen years earlier after wrapping up his first career.

That one began after he earned his master's degree in electrical engineering at the University of Cincinnati in 1921. He became an expert engineer for the Chevrolet Division. Many of the men who groomed under his engineering tutelage today hold top positions with General Motors.

His family grown, the widower stubbornly refused to take up the life of leisure following his retirement as an engineer and instead turned to the field of teaching.

Then, about to retire from teaching, John became interested in a brand new, perhaps nationally unique program just given birth at the university. He helped to christen it.

Under this program, anyone 65 years or older, even those with no high school diploma, may enroll in any university class — tuition free. They may take the classes for college credit leading to a degree, or just sit in on whatever class they choose "just for the heck of it." They attend classes with regular undergraduates at the university or any of its community colleges.

The program sounded so exciting to this energetic man that he decided to taste it himself. An art curriculum seemed like a good choice, so he joined a few of the second and third "lifers" in cracking books with regular students. "I thought they might resent an old guy attending classes," he recalled, "but those kids aren't like that at all. We get along fine, just great."

Today, the program, called the Herman L. Donovan Senior Citizens Fellowship Program, has some 80 enrollees, and universities and colleges across the nation are giving it a long, hard look.

Occasionally, John appears on Kentucky radio to give the university program a first-hand boost. But school work, painting for friends and relatives, and the public relation appearances are just not enough to satisfy his craving for activity. He's become a business counselor for Kentucky's Small Business Administration, giving free assistance to some 22 small companies in the state.

What kind of philosophy does a guy like this have?

"Oh, I don't know, I just like to keep active and help out wherever I can...life's like a mirror—you get out of it what you put into it. Don't you think so?"

Ex-Policeman Slaps Meters

To the Editor:

I would like to take this time of season and let the people of the City of Northville know what it is like to shop out of town.

It sure feels good to leave the city and go to the other shopping centers where you can park your vehicle, and shop as long as you wish without the feeling that your parking meter is going to run out. And when you return to either see a ticket on your vehicle or one of your well paid servants standing along side of your car. As an ex-police sergeant, I know what it is like. But it may be the same now as it was when I was in the department. You are told to write the tickets. It seems now as before that the city hall wants the money. All they can get out of the parking.

I once made the statement to take all parking meters during the month of December and bag them or take them off the post. Give the people a chance to do their shopping here in our little city. But as always I was told that I don't run the city hall. "Thank God for that." There would be some big changes. You would think that the business people would want to see more people in their stores.

I know if I had a store I would be out trying to get rid of some of the meters, not get more in. It seems also every time a vacant lot is taken over by the city they make a nice parking lot for the people to park. But then it don't take someone long to see that the meters are put in so they can once again get the servants to work writing parking tickets.

I am sure that these men do not spend their time and our tax money going to these police schools just to learn how to write a parking ticket. And that isn't the best. Not only patrolmen but even the high paid sergeant are out there. There surely must be other crimes that can be solved by these men.

Thank you for the time
Ex Police Sgt. Frank Heintz

Your Help Appreciated

To the Editor:

We wish to take this opportunity to thank you and your staff and by a letter to The Record, to thank all other private citizens, stores, shops and organizations who were so good to the girls. It certainly would have done all of you a load of good could you have visited our house early on Christmas morning to have heard and seen the excitement that reigned in our living room. Nothing could have made me happier than to have watched these two lovely girls undoing all the nice things that came here for them.

I was happy to witness the care and thoughtfulness which people used in choosing their gifts to the girls. I am sure that there never have been two happier or more excited girls than these two.

My letter to our friend, Patrolman Phillip Young, of the Northville Police Department will confirm my idea and my thanks to them.

Thanking you all very much, in all our names,

Sincerely yours,
Grace & Bob Miller

The secret to the success of variety shows — the last vestige of vaudeville — lies in the hands of the host. It's as simple as that. He's the amalgam, whose presence week in and week out make or break the show.

Think about it.

What would the Ed Sullivan program, with a history as long as television, be without the venerable man with the "mighty good shew"? What of other successful variety shows, extinct or thriving, with hosts Perry Como, Andy Williams, Jackie Gleason or Dean Martin?

Basically, personality's the thing that glues the disparate elements together: singers, dancers, magicians, gymnasts, actors, you name it. Always, the spotlight swings around to our host.

No man has been mimicked more than Ed Sullivan, who has become an institution, a mark of quality, if you will. The diva or The Beatles may get their three minutes of glitter, but Sullivan is the wheelbase whose deadpan antics have become a part of the television scene.

His is the father-like image, the latter-day Horace Heidt and Florian Ziegfeld rolled into one, who knows every stage veteran and every budding star. No matter that Sullivan, himself, has no stage talent — except as a magnet. He is the maestro endeared to show biz folks, the man with the talent for picking out winners.

Perry Como, now retired from his weekly program, and his successor, Andy Williams, fit the same mold. They're just plain folks, like you or me, or just happened to make it big. They're the nice guys specializing in good taste.

Soft spoken, almost sheepish, Perry and Andy, as their fans inevitably call them, are accomplished singers in their own right. The ballad, ala Bing Crosby with a little more swing, is their passport to success, another indication that nice guys, casually dressed, win ball games.

Dean Martin is a maverick, a breed of another sort. His first appearance on night time TV left the critics and the viewers guessing. Is he or isn't he stoned? Much of the speculation has died down and now Martin thrives on his imagined or real wastral past as a member of "The Rat Pack."

He's the naughty, overgrown boy, carefree and reckless, but at heart, he's just like us. With a cigarette dangling from his fingers, sloe-eyed Martin — whose lids are heavier than Sullivan's — makes a bungling line go by mis-reading the tele-prompter.

And like Perry or Andy, he sings like a bird. The audience, still wondering whether Martin's high, grants him professional license to mull a song. Rather than rancor, the choked song draws guffaws. Martin has flown the conventional coop.

Singers, by no means, have a corner on the variety show. Jackie Gleason, the most talented host of them all, is a perennial favorite, relying on his comic antics to keep his program bubbling along. He's still pumping life from "The Honeymooners."

But whether the rotund master of ceremonies is sipping his spiked coffee and reeling off pat jokes, or bouncing around at his tempestuous best as Ralph, or skating off stage like a grounded bird, the chuckle keeps the audience in stitches and his program high in the Nielsen ratings.

Latest host to make the scene is Jonathan Winters, another comedian of jolly proportions. His specialty: mimicry. Sometime host of the Tonight show and humorous gad-about, Winters' debut last week as a variety host was erratic.

Maude Frickert, a Winters' creation, seemed weary of too much exposure. Not even sex and senility, a naturally ludicrous topic, could put life into the old girl. Only canned laughter saved her from tomb-like silence.

But in all fairness, Winters did not expose his plentiful humor as a mimic. Instead, he played the host bit seriously, a difficult task when the audience is expecting — and not getting — Winters' shenanigans.

Nursing—A Man-Size Job Goes Unfilled in State

LANSING — Male nurses are in short supply. The situation, which parallels the shortage of all Registered Nurses, is forcing salaries upward and opening new career opportunities for men.

Yet, few men ever apply for nursing positions, possibly because nursing has traditionally been thought of as "woman's work," Arthur W. McClatchey, supervisor of the Saginaw branch of the Michigan Employment Security Commission, stresses nothing could be further from the truth. McClatchey states, "MESCC receives more requests for male nurses than we can furnish. Even licensed practical nurses start at $240

(per month), rapidly advancing to $400." Saginaw does have several registered male nurses. Almost all of these are top administrators or in specialized jobs. Male RN's start at about $500 per month, with extra pay for specialties and added responsibility. Nursing directors throughout the city are asking for more nurses, especially male nurses.

LOW SALARIES probably kept many men from entering the nursing field, but recent upgrading of pay scales now brings monetary as well as humanitarian rewards to those in the profession. Owen W. Pinkerman, vice president and director of William Beaumont Hospital in Royal Oak, points out that the average salary paid to a four-year nursing graduate at his hospital is $750 per month.

Pinkerman, who is also president-elect of the Tri-State Hospital Assembly and a past-president of the Michigan Hospital Association, predicts the average salary for four-year nursing graduates will reach $1,000 per month by 1970.

John A. Doherty, executive director of the Michigan Health Council, believes that men have a better chance of advancing to directors of nursing but notes that many prefer to become nursing specialists, such as certified anesthetists.

MOST MEN fare "extremely well" in nursing, Doherty maintains. Some are offered as much as $18,000 per year for nursing director jobs in larger hospitals. He points out that men who served as medics in the armed forces should be especially interested in the profession.

How do female nurses feel about men entering the field? The newly-elected president of the Michigan Nurses Association is male Registered Nurse, John Wick.

THE GREAT SEAL and the Michigan Coat-of-Arms may look alike, but use of one is specifically regulated by law. The other may be used more indiscriminately.

The Great Seal is, in fact, the Michigan Coat-of-Arms with the inscription, "The Great Seal of the State of Michigan A.D. MDCCCXXXV," imprinted on the circumference. It is used only on official state documents, such as commutations, pardons, extraditions, warrants, land patents, Governor appointments, certifications of appointed and elected officials, and similar state papers. The Seal authenticates all documents on which it appears. For this reason it is illegal for anyone to use the Great Seal for any other purpose.

The Coat-of-Arms, however, is used on the Michigan State Flag, letterheads and envelopes, state publications, and even on doorknobs in the Capitol. Although its use is more permissive, the Coat-of-Arms may not be altered in any way when reproduced.

Both the Great Seal and the Coat-of-Arms were designed by Lewis Cass, Governor of Michigan Territory, and presented to the Constitutional Convention of 1835. Several changes of the characters in the Seal have been made from time to time.

Planning's A Must for Retirees Who Are at Mercy of Price Inflation

BABSON PARK, Mass. — Housewives in all income brackets are acutely aware of the climbing prices in food, clothing, shoes, services, just about whatever they buy. But the ones who really are at the mercy of price inflation are the retirees, those with no extra family income, no raises, no stretch in their budgets. How are they going to make out? How can they keep their expenses down to a reasonable level?

WITH SUCH PEOPLE — most of them 60 years old and more — there is a real need for meticulous health care, including the consumption of foods that are nourishing but within monetary reach. Most people think of meats as the prime source of proteins, and the cost of most meats may be just about prohibitive for many fixed-income older people. But there are ways of having plenty of proteins without laying out $1.50 a pound or better for fine steaks. The cheaper cuts of many different types of meat are fully as tasty and nutritious even though they usually have to be cooked longer.

Then, too, it should be emphasized that there are many other common sources of protein, such as beans, cheese, milk, and eggs. For those who need help in planning nourishing but thrifty meals, the government has many booklets obtainable. Your local library will help you find plentiful sources of such information. Also on the shelves there will be books on sound nutrition which may open entirely new doors to those who have never given enough thought to the importance of careful food selection and cooking in terms of health.

WHILE BALANCED meals are an essential for those in the higher age groups, there are many other considerations that are worth attention in preventing costly and distressing medical outlays. An annual checkup with your regular doctor will make you feel safer from diseases that early detection may make easily curable. Weight-control programs are extremely valuable, although frequently ignored or postponed. Safety features — such as night lights in treacherous parts of the house, hand-bars on bathtubs, and non-slip rugs — may avoid broken bones and hospitalization.

Exercise, especially outdoors, should be included wherever possible. Dr. Paul Dudley White's insistence upon walking and bicycling to prevent heart disease has gained nationwide attention. Even the milder sports such as ping-pong, swimming, croquet, and golf are fine constitutions, and good for the morale as well as the physical condition. Particularly rewarding for those with no regular occupation are the simple hobbies that cost little or nothing: Birding, painting or sketching, collecting wild flowers, mushrooms, mosses, sea shells, tree leaves, or minerals.

MANY who have long looked forward to their retirement find that they would like to work at least part-time, either through restlessness or from a need for additional income. In practically every part of the country there are openings for such folk, if they will look around a bit. Men can usually find opportunities in fields formerly their forte, and often only when they feel like helping out. Women are often needed as part-timers in selling, typing, receptionist work, baby-sitting, and cooking or cleaning in private homes. Wages are generally high, and even an occasional job can boost income nicely.

Social workers usually find that those retirees maintaining their own homes are in better spirits than those who try to cut back too drastically. Advance planning on the part of those looking toward retirement should take this into consideration. When a couple is parted by death, there may be a way for the widow or widower to pool resources with a relative or close friend.

In this fashion the pain of loneliness and personal loss can be reduced, as well as the expenses of living during price-inflationary times. Here, again, social workers often see better results in contemporaries making a home together than in the elders moving in with young couples or in-laws.

Colorful Civil War Vet Killed in Gun Battle

EDITOR'S NOTE: Since publicizing last week a letter received by the Northville Historical Society from a Colorado writer requesting information relative to Thomas J. Dean, a Civil War veteran of Northville, The Record has received several telephone calls from interested citizens with bits of information. Ironically, the most comprehensive story found of the man was written by Lieutenant H. M. White and published in a two-part series in The Record during the winter of 1889. Parts of that sketch follow:

Thomas J. Dean was born in Canadaigua, Wayne county, New York, May 22, 1826. His parents moved to Livonia in 1832. As a farmer, his father, Luther, was well known being for some years deputy sheriff and instrumental in arresting and breaking up a gang of horse thieves and counterfeiters who infested eastern Michigan and Ohio.

At the age of 19, Thomas went to St. Louis where he remained some months. Afterward he lived in New Orleans about a year, from there he went to Louisville, Kentucky where he remained three years. In August, 1848 he married Miss Emily McKinney.

In the latter part of 1849 he returned to Michigan and settled on a farm in Nankin. He taught school two or three winters following.

In August, 1862 he enlisted a number of men and mustered with them as a second lieutenant of Company D, Fifth Michigan Cavalry. The last of March following he was made first lieutenant of his company.

Dean was with his company during the campaign of 1863. He received a slight wound on the wrist at Gettysburg by a spent ball. His arm was pretty sore and lame but he remained with the command. He was in command of a part of the picket line at Robertson River, October 9, 1863, and with 10 of his company was taken prisoner. He was exchanged March 1st 1865. During that time he boarded with the rebels at the old Libby at Richmond and at Macon, Georgia.

Dean returned to the regiment and mustered as a captain of Company D, April 14, 1865 at Petersburg, Virginia. He went back in Washington with us, took part in the grand review, after which the brigade started for the west; when we arrived at Leavenworth, Kansas, our regiment was mustered out and sent home. Captain Dean preferred to go on so he was transferred to the First Michigan and started across the plains.

He was mustered out July 11, 1865 and the following September went to Colorado. In 1867 he went to Washington to get pay for his horses which he lost when he was captured and also a pension.

With the close of the war and the discovery of gold, many wild and reckless men went to the western territories of which Colorado had a share. As the mining interest of Grand county became opened up this element also developed.

In the winter of 1864 three commissioners were appointed who were about the same as our county auditors. They met in February; the county clerk refused to act with them and Captain Dean was chosen clerk pro tem. They met again the 3rd of July at the court house; the county clerk still refusing to act with them, Dean was again chosen clerk. They did not complete their business and adjourned to the next morning. Dean and two of the commissioners stopped at the hotel together and in the morning they started for the court house which was some little distance.

They had to go through a little cluster of scrub pines. As they came to it three masked men sprang out and fired upon them. One of the commissioners, who was an old army sergeant, returned the fire killing one of the masked men and at the same instant he fell dead the other was wounded and died the same day.

Captain Dean received one shot in the head and one in the hip.

A crowd soon gathered; the mask was taken off the dead man and revealed the other commissioner. The other two escaped; it was supposed they pulled off their masks and mingled with the crowd. A reward was offered but they were never apprehended.

Dean was taken to the hotel and his son and daughter sent for. The doctor gave them no hope from the first, yet he was hopeful and conscious to the last. He lived to the 17th of July.

Henry J. Dean of Livonia a cousin of Captain Dean and under whom he enlisted, was fatally wounded near Yellow Tavern, about 10 miles from Richmond, a minute ball shot through the abdomen and coming out his back.

The writer, Lieutenant White, was a student of Captain Dean before the latter apparently moved to Northville. Of that experience he wrote: I went to school with him in the winter of 1849. He was a good teacher but very strict, and the large boys soon found he was a bad man to fool with.

Of Dean's military disposition, he wrote:

He was pretty stern and the men liked him in camp, and he was a splendid officer to be out on a raid or scout; if there was anything to be had for men or horse he could find it. I remember one day on the march the orders had been very very strict against the men falling out of the ranks to forage. We passed a flock of chickens, Dean saw them and he knew some of his men left the ranks but he didn't see them of course. After we got into camp at night and the boys were cooking supper Dean came along down the line and said, "Boys, I do like chickens." It is needless to say a generous plateful went to his tent when they were cooked.

Why Do Lawmakers Balk On State Open Housing?

"...I could not conscientiously vote for a bill that could deprive so many of civil rights without really giving any new rights to any group."

That statement, in a nutshell, is Republican Representative Louis E. Schmidt's explanation for voting "no" on open housing last month on the floor of the State House of Representatives. Had State Senator George W. Kuhn, a Republican who also represents voters of this area, been called upon to vote for the measure he undoubtedly would have joined Schmidt and Representative Clifford Smart of Walled Lake in casting a similar vote — though perhaps not for the same reason.

A persistent thorn in the side of Republican Governor George Romney over the matter of open housing, Senator Kuhn on December 27 wrote Acting Governor William G. Milliken:

"I continue to be utterly amazed with the obsession that you and the administration has in its concerted efforts to obtain an open housing law for the citizens of Michigan. This, in spite of the fact that Governor Romney has stated on numerous occasions that he questioned the need for such a law and particularly in view of the state constitutional provision of the Civil Rights commission and the current state policy that already guarantees equal opportunity in the purchase or ownership of any land in Michigan by any person regardless of race, creed or color..."

Kuhn contends that laws to preserve "order in our streets" are more important at this time than open housing. That the Republican administration failed to give "adequate attention and action on this subject" ranks the Senator, who told Milliken: "To me, this has been the biggest disgrace and tragedy of both the regular and special sessions of the 1967 legislature."

Specifically, Kuhn argues that anti-crime and anti-riot legislation "should be the number one concern of the 1968 Michigan Legislature."

And he predicts the 1968 legislature will pass more and tougher anti-crime and riot laws than any other legislature in Michigan history.

Significantly, his observations and predictions for 1968, do not include any reference to open housing.

For Representative Schmidt, failure to support the administration on open housing did not come easy. While he may have favored parts of the bill, others he could not swallow. Specifically, he abhorred possible "entrapment of the respondent" in the section dealing with the investigation by the Civil Rights commission.

"I am deeply concerned about the moral implications and property rights," he says. Because of this I was most careful that I attended all meetings of the committee on civil rights when at times we had but a bare quorum."

Schmidt also points to the "Pulte case" now before the Michigan Supreme Court as a reason for treading water on open housing. A decision in this case, he explains, could result in the voiding of much of the open housing proposal.

"Until such time as this decision is made it seems an exercise in futility to enact legislation that might prior to date of effect not be constitutional."
