City Ponders Center St. Paving

25 or 100% Assessment Weighed

Next summer's street improvement program already shows signs of controversy ahead for Northville's city

Although no definite decisions have been made; the council is studying the possibility of paving North Center, Taft, Grandview and Spring, and extending Wing street through to Hines drive during the coming construction season.

Almost certain to come in for improvement is North Center street. And this will undoubtedly be the most delicate issue the council hashandled since it established its policy of 25 per cent assessment several years ago.

About 50 citizens have petitioned for the improvement of the street at an assessment of 100 per cent, None of the petitioners, however, reside on North Center. Instead, they are area residents who frequently use the street.

Several North Center street residents appeared at a council work session Monday night to let it be known that they do not want the street

Specifically, they called for diverting traffic away from North Center and suggested Novi street. They objected to the city manager referring to Center as a "through route" and suggested that paving would create a traffic hazard.

Finally, however, they urged the council, if paving must come, to "keep safety in mind and avoid building a speedway". They also expressed con-cern over the matter of financing the Admittedly, North Center street presents a problem. It represents a division between what previous councils have designated "new" and "old" city sections. The east side of the street from the end of present paving to Maplewood, one block, is in the "old" city. The entire west side of the street north to the city limits, two blocks, is in the "new" city.

Under present practice new portions of the city have been assessed at the rate of 100 per cent (like new subdivisions) for street improvements. A 25 per cent assessment has been levied against original (not newly annexed) portions of the city.

Legally, it's believed to be impossible to assess persons on the same street receiving the same benefit at different rates.

It's known that the council is considering a levy of 25 per cent on both sides of North Center from the existing pavement to Maplewood, then 100 per cent on both sides for the final block to the city limits. The latter section is all within the "new" city.

Whatever the decision, it will be made by the council after receiving a recommendation from the city manager. A public hearing must then be called to consider the improvement. This will probably take place at the council's February 19 meeting. Notices must be published and sent to property owners on the street before such a hearing is held.

Another consideration on North Center street is whether to use the new "deep-strength" asphalt process; which the city manager has recommended, or to pave with concrete. Mayor A. M. Allen has indicated he favors the City Manager Frank Ollendorff has proposed that the city also consider paving Grandview and Spring this year. Residents of the streets petitioned for the improvement nearly two years ago. Mayor Allen suggested holding off on these improvements until the Taft road paving and the extension of South Wing could be considered. In discussion the council also gave consideration to a bonding program that would schedule improvement of all streets in the "old" city under the 25 per cent assessment program. Following completion, the council indicated the city would then adopt a 100 per cent assessment policy for all street improvements in all portions of the city. Manager Ollendorff has promised recommendations in this area when he presents his proposed budget for 1968-69 along with a five-year capital improvement program. This will be ready

For Year-Round School

Board to Name Study Committee

Naming of members to a committee to study the possibility of establishing some kind of year-round school program in the Northville school district is expected to be completed this week.

A number of citizens were suggested as members by the board of education Monday night. Their appointment, however, awaits acceptance by the citizens themselves. Others attending Monday's meeting volunteered.

Under'a suggested plan of Superintendent Raymond Spear which received the tacit approval of the board, the special committee and subcommittees will involve all board members, nine administrators, 19 teachers, and 26

Plans call for a steering committee and four subcommittees. The latter will include: Research; concept and implementation; pupils, facilities, staff and finances; and survey and publicity.

Tentative time table suggested by Spear calls for a meeting of all subcommittee members yet this month, subcommittée meetings in February, subcommittee reports to the steering committee during the first week of March, recommendations of subcommittees to the steering committee on April 15, and steering committee recommendations to the board of education article is slated for February 1.

- Which year-round school concept would be best for Northville? Why?

- What is the community's attitude toward the year-round school?

Survey of public opinion, explained Cook, must necessarily come last because neither the citizens nor the board of education know at this time what kind of program "we're talking about." A year-round program can mean any number of things, he said.

Among the different kinds of programs tossed out as possibilities are: A 12-month school year on either a quarterly or tri-semester basis; a 10 or 11-month school year; an intensive summer school program; and a day and night curriculum.

City to Quit License Service

Northville's police department is getting out of the driver's license business.

The city council approved a recommendation by City Manager Frank Ollendorff that the service be dropped, probably around February 15.

Manager Ollendorff explained that if the city were to continue the service it would require moving from police offices and adding another clerk, He said the business has become so large that it is interferring with more important police matters. He noted that no other communities in the area provide the service and the state is now encouraging all locally-operated stations to turn the service over to state stations. (Many South Lyon, Novi, Wixom and Plymouth drivers obtain licenses in Northville.) The Northville city manager said that customers from outside the Northville community purchasing licenses locally outnumber local residents about 13-1. "In effect, city taxpayers are supporting a service for outsiders", Manager Ollendorff said that the state had indicated that their station in Livonia on Five Mile near Middlebelt could handle the Northville area business.

Flames raced out of control in downtown Plymouth Sunday afternoon. completely destroying several business places on Penniman avenue, opposite the post office, but firemen from 10 communities prevented it from engulfing an entire city block.

No one was injured in the blaze, which demolished a single, two-story brick building, but Plymouth Fire Chief George Schoenneman and three of his fire fighters were hospitalized overnight for smoke inhalation and exposure in the near-zero temperatures.

The fire, brought under control late Sunday afternoon, erupted again in the evening and stubbornly burned throughout the night and well into the next day. It was still smoldering on Tuesday.

Wiped out by flames was Bode Restaurant, Minerva's dress shop, Penniman barber shop, Selective Service Board No. 102 and all its records, the Western Union office and a number of private offices.

Northville firemen, among the first called in to assist, fought the blaze from the roof of the adjoining paint store on the west and successfully prevented it from spreading to that building, while other firemen prevented it from touching off the old Penniman theater building on the opposite side. The paint store and the theater were damaged by smoke and water,

Thompson-Brown Unveils City Plan

Fresh from its success in winning rezoning for its giant development in Northville township, Thompson-Brown company revived plans last week for a similar development of homes and apartments inside the city of North-

Originally planned more than two years ago and then shelved because of a "tight" money situation, the development moved a step closer to reality with the presentation of a prepreliminary plat to the planning com-

Presentation of the drawings represented the company's first step in processing the project under the city's new unit subdivision ordinance and the state's new plat act requirements. Like the proposed township development, the building proposal for the city unit development calls for a specific number of homes and apartments, together with open space, to meet municipal density criteria.

Unlike in the township, however, Thompson-Brown's proposed city development requires no zoning change but it must meet all requirements of the city's new laws dealing with unit developments.

Specifically, the city development as presented by the company in its updated plan calls for 60 homes on the south side of Eight Mile road, just west of the Taft road intersection: 52 homes and 255 apartment units at the northwest corner of Eight Mile and Taft roads; and 54 homes on the east side of Taft road, adjacent to the north side of the new Cooke junior high

The total complex will be situated on 117 acres of land - 71.3 acres of single family homes, 25.5 acres for apartment units, and 20.2 acres for parks or open space area.

Robert Carey, president of the company, told planners last week that the homes on the south side of Eight Mile road will be developed first. Pilot apartment units, to test the market and demand for numbers of bedrooms, will follow. No date for initial construction has been announced.

Based on present market value, homes proposed for the complex, to be called Lexington Commons, are pegged at $40,000 - the same as those planned in the township development.

Lot sizes, which will average 93 x 120 throughout the total project, have purposely been made larger south of Eight Mile road to more blend with lot sizes in adjacent Taft Colony subdivision.

A total of 20.2 acres of land are reserved for park purposes in the development - including four acres of park land on the south side of Eight Mile road.

Originally, the property included 132 acres. Subsequently, 10 acres were sold to the school district for the site of the junior high school and five acres to the First Methodist church of Northville for its proposed new building.

With less land remaining for building sites, Thompson-Brown proposes in its newest plan to reduce the number of single dwelling homes from 225 to 166 and to increase the number of apartment units from 225 to 255. Thus, the overall change means a reduction of the total number of units from 450 to

Helping Hands Sought Here

Helping Hand homes still are needed in Northville and Northville township by the sponsoring Northville Jaycettes who still are trying to place two Helping Hand symbols (to indicate homes where children can get immediate help) in every block.

Only 100 Helping Hands have been placed, mostly in Northville Heights, Village Green and Edenderry subdivisions, Mrs. Joseph Kluesner, chairman, reported Monday. Considering this sparse coverage for an area with about 2,800 homes the Jaycettes hope to intensify their drive for volunteers before spring.

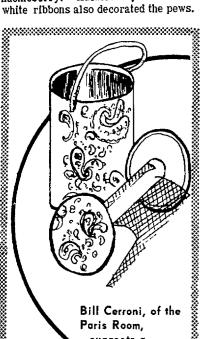

If you will be a Helping Hand, call Mrs. Kluesner, 349-5019, or Mrs. Paul Sobol, 349-1065.

A fitted cloche of silk and seed pearl petals held her imported illusion veil which extended into a chapel train. She carried a nosegay of white stephanotis and pink carnations, tied with pale pink ribbons. She wore her great, great grandmother's gold locket.

Janet Gay Kennedy was honor maid for her sister. Gerd Kylberg of Ann Arbor was bridesmaid. Both wore long, A-line gowns of Bristol blue peau de soie with matching shoes. The same fabric was used in fashioning their headpieces of clustered petals. They carried flower muffs of blue-tipped white carnations.

Randall Fox, Jr., of Berkley was best man for his brother. Ushering were Thomas Krueger and Gary Hall of Royal Oak, and the bride's brother, Philip Kennedy.

A reception followed for 84 guests at the home of the bride's parents. Out-of-town guests attended from Florida, St. Louis, Bay City, Royal Oak, Birmingham and Grosse Pointe. The Kennedys are former residents of Grosse Pointe Farms.

For the ceremony and reception Mrs. Kennedy wore a royal blue costume suit with matching accessories and a modified pillbox hat of flax blue coq feathers. The bridegroom's mother chose a green silk worsted coat-anddress combination with a matching silk hat and accessories. Both wore orchid

CONFESSIONS of a formerly fat girl who lost 25 to 37 pounds-many times before shedding down to a size 9 and staying there for the past three years made amusing listening last Friday.
"I was a garbage pail," Mrs. Florene Mark, executive director of Weight Watchers of Eastern Michigan, dramatically told Northville Woman's club members. Through personal reminiscences she portrayed the problems of fat young girls who become fat young matrons and gave realistic ways of changing eating and food-thinking habits. "Like Alcoholics Anonymous," she declared, "persons with a weight problem need a mental 'fix,' and anyone who is 10 pounds or more overweight has a weight problem."

"From the neck down there was plenty of me," the speaker commented as she stated that too many fat people look in the mirror "from the neckup." She told of the mother of an overweight collège girl who made the daughter put on a paper bag with holes only for eyes and then in a full-length mirror inspect her pudgy naked figure. The coed, she said, promptly lost 65 pounds.

"Statistically," Mrs. Mark declared, "most people who have a weight problem don't eat breakfast." She emphasized that it is what is eaten that causes weight problems, pointing out that in her overweight days she wasn't even a gourmet eater but a compulsive

She said that the Weight Watchers organization, introduced in Eastern Michigan from New York, stresses the necessity of meals with meat, bread, fruits. The organization now has 2,000 Michigan members in the Detroit area and is expanding to Windsor, Flint and Ann Arbor.

Mrs. Mark in her personal confession related that she dieted regularly with pills until her body rebelled and she suffered a temporary paralysis. She told also how she "hid behind walking suits with long jackets" and warned her listeners that "women who keep their coats on and men who stay in sweaters are trying to hide pounds."

Besides being easier on the heart and feet, she encouraged, "it's easier to like yourself when you're thin."

Mrs. Leonard Klein, program chairman, introduced the speaker and also announced that a special diamond jubilee program was being planned for the February 2 meeting, Reviving the "Gentleman's Even-

In Wild Adventure

Grandmother Zips Across Africa

After a family Christmas reunion in Africa with her granddaughter and her husband and a tour of the wild countryside in a land rover, Mrs. A. W. Litsenberger, 572 Randolph, has many adventures far more exciting than fairy tales to tell Northville children for whom she is a favorite baby-

Her fellow members of the Northville Senior Citizens club also are hoping to hear her experiences and see films of the three-week jaunt.

Most crucial moment in their manyadventured trip, Mrs. Litsenberger relates, was when their land rover broke down in the Ngorongoro crater where "hundreds of wild animals roamed."

A passing land rover rescued the women in the party, whe says, with the men staying overnight with their vehicle. She laughs as she recalls transferring to the other rover, wading in water to her knees, but admits that she was glad the zebras, lions, buffalos and elephants in the huge crater were not near-by.

Mrs. Litsenberger flew to Lisbon for three days, continuing to Rome and then to Nairobi in Kenya, Africa. She accompanied her daughter and son-inlaw, the William Holdsworths of Bloomfield Hills, who were to visit their daughter and son-in-law, Joanne and John Kreag, Completing the party were John's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Kelth Kreag of Royal Oak. He is curator at the Detroit Zoo.

The young Kreags, both Michigan State university graduates, have been teaching with the Peace Corps in Mogadishu, capital of the Somali Republic. They joined a year-and-a-half ago and after training and language study in New York were sent to Africa.

The young couple, Mrs. Litsenberger reports, will be glad to return this summer, as Peace Corps volunteers have not been well accepted in Mogadishu. They are discouraged, she said, as many natives are not anxious to be taught.

Mrs. Litsenberger said she felt their visit at Christmastime had been a welcome one under these circumstances and probably worth the dozen preparatory shots she suffered. These included protection for flu, yellow fever and typhoid as well as the smallpox vaccination.

In addition to the wild animal life, Mrs. Litsenberger relates, the group was impressed with the African mountains and had a spectacular view of Mt. Kilimanjaro, usually enveloped in clouds. Also memorable the abundant plant life, which was lush as summer began in Africa December 2.

The group returned by way of Athens and Madrid. Now Mrs. Litsenberger is hoping all those pictures taken with her Christmas gift camera turn out.

the girls will study infant care and home nursing. A sewing class and then a study of nutrition will follow.

Today's graduates began their course the beginning of November with make-up kits, booklets on grooming and weekly lectures by Mrs. Marti Maly of the Montgomery Ward-Wendy Ward charm school at Livonia. One hour sessions on Monday, Wednesday and Friday each week were conducted by Miss Worman to supplement the volunteer assistance from the department store.

Each girl has been loaned an outfit to wear in the show by the store. Four of the young models already have been released by the hospital to return to community life. They are returning to participate in today's program.

Miss Worman, whose family lives in Adrian, accepted the post at the hospital upon graduation from Western Michigan university last June.

She hopes to develop this pilot program into a complete family living orientation. A registered nurse is helping with the infant care and nursing course, which is given to help prepare the girls for situations that could develop as they return to normal living. Volunteers also are assisting with the sewing program.

Working under Dr. M. Kemal Goknar, section chief, for this young adult unit at the hospital, Miss Worman explains they hope the young women graduates will have an added background to meet upcoming situations as they return to community living.

Citizens Identify Civil War Veteran

Jasper Elliott, the Civil-War veteran whose picture appeared in the Record-News last week, has been identified by several of Northville's

Mrs. Clara Spencer of 311 First street, a resident here for more than a half-century, recalled that Elliott operated a bicycle shop adjacent to his home on what was then called Yerkes street, It is now Rayson street.

"He lived directly across from us near the corner of Center street," she said. 'I don't remember much about him, but he was an elderly gentleman at the time, about the age of my grandfather, who also was a Civil War veteran."

****** "Everyone called him Jap," membered Mrs. H. A. Boyden, who pointed out that Elliott lived in the former Ernest Willis house. "His sonin-law was Bill Safford, former Northville police chief and band director who used to direct from the 'crow's nest' in the center of town. Lawrence Miller of the Masonic Lodge here is either a grandson or greatgrandson of Mr. El-

Gordon "Curley" Allan, 499 Weich, concurs with Mrs. Spencer. "She's right, even about the street," he said, following a conversation with Charles Carrington, who also called to say that Waldo Elliott of Wyandotte, son of a former Northville baker, is a relative of the Civil War veteran.

Said Allan: "I recall him very distinctly because he once told me how to keep a bicycle without costing anything. 'Just take it home and hang it up,' he told me. ********

Howard Miller of Novi, former director of that community's department of public works, called to say that his cousin, Norwood Miller of Livonia, is a grandson of the Civil War veteran. The cousin was out of town and could not be contacted.

"He (the cousin) has his saber and his discharge papers," said Miller.

The picture of Jasper Elliott was given to The Record-Novi News by Victor Rust of Novi, who received it and a number of other pictures from still another person.

None of the persons who called the newspaper office could recall if Jasper Elliott was a relative of the Elliott family that once operated the Elliott House, also called the Ambler House, that stood at the southwest corner of Main and Center streets.

History Society To Meet Tuesday

Northville Historical society will hold its January meeting at 8 p.m. Tuesday at the home of Mrs. Kathleen Edgerton and her daughter, Miss Linda Edgerton, 571 Randolph.

The program will be presented by a committee headed by Francis Gazlay that has been making a survey of communities having historical museums. The society hopes that Northville may have such a project in the future.

Any person interested in Northville and Michigan history in general is invited to attend. "This is one way to learn more about the history of your community," emphasizes Society President Mrs. Ruth Starkweather.

both voting precincts, one and two, were moved to the gymnasium of the old junior high school building on Main street. Formerly, the township voting polls were located in the township hall and the Main street elementary school.

Court Date Awaits Three Motorists

Court dates are pending for three persons arrested by Northville police during the past week in traffic violations that include, reckless and careless driving and driving under the influence of intoxicants.

Milton West, 21800 Connemara, was ticketed for reckless driving northbound on Center street when he was clocked at speeds as high as 50 miles an hour in a 25-mile zone and failed to stop at Eight Mile road on January 5.

The court date was postponed at his request to January 17.

Robert Pross, Detroit, was issued a ticket for careless driving January 4 when he lost control of his vehicle at

Grass Lake Wins, 75-61

'New' Wildcat Defense Too Late

It was the best scoring night of the season for the Novi cagers, but the effort fell short as Grass Lake swept to a 75-61 victory here Friday.

Down 25 to 45 going into the third quarter, Novi's young high school team switched to a zone defense for the first time this season and chopped the visitor's lead to six points with three minutes to go in the final quarter.

The score was 65-59 at that point. But Grass Lake, possibly sensing an upset, scrambled quickly to score 10 more points in those final three minutes, while limiting the Wildcats to a single free shot.

'I guess we'll have to go with the zone more often," said Novi Coach Jim Ladd in reviewing his squad's loss. Up until mid-way through Friday's game, Novi had used the man-to-man defense exclusively.

The switch, admitted the coach, was a desperation move when early defensive efforts failed to stop Grass Lake's fast break and its scoring splurge.

"We got off to a slow start," Ladd said. "Maybe it was the three weeks layoff for the holidays. But the boys came back strong in that second half. It improvement."

With its new-found defense clicking, the Wildcats picked off some important rebounds and at one point hit nine out of their 10 field goal shots. They hit 53-percent of their shots in the second half.

Ladd singled out Center Gary Boyer and Forward Mark Gilbert as playing "outstanding games." Gilbert was high point man with 18 points, while Boyer hit 8 - the same number turned in by Pat Haley.

Forward Jon Van Wagner was the runner-up scorer with five field goals and three charity shots.

John Schroen, forward, took scoring honors for Grass Lake with 19 points, followed by Forward Dennis DeVerna with 18. Walter Paszriet and Dave Kimball were the only other players to hit double figures - 14 and 11, respectively.

Cagers Lose, Too

Novi's junior varsity quintet lost to Grass Lake Friday night by nearly the same margin as the varsity squad.

Sweeping past Novi, 23-8 in the first quarter, Grass Lake coasted to a 79-66 victory despite sizzling scoring efforts by Doug Schott and Tom Boyer.

Schott grabbed seven field goals in the first half and six more in the second half to take top scoring honors, while Boyer came up with 11 field goals. Both flipped in more points than either of the two top scorers for Grass Lake, who each came up with 21.

Grass Lake scored a total of 34 field goals compared to Novi's 31. But the biggest difference was at the free throw line where the visitors flipped in 11 of their 19 shots while Novi managed only 4 of 15.

The quarter scores were: 23-8.

42-32, and 69-44.

Aside from the efforts of the two Grass Lake players and Coach Milan

Obrenovich's key players, Scott and Boyer, no other cagers on either team hit double figures.

Township Proceeds With Water Project

The Northville township board decided Tuesday night to continue its program of special assessment for installation of water lines to serve residents of Marilyn, Maxwell, Fry and Park Lane near Five Mile road. A few objections were voiced, especially at the estimated cost of $10 per front foot. Engineer William Mosher explained that the estimates might be high, but that in preparing special assessment rolls this is necessary. If bids should come in more than 10 per cent higher than estimates, the project must be dropped and the whole procedure repeated.

Total estimated cost of the project is $135,400. The average lot is 66-feet wide, making the estimated assessment, which is to be levied at 100 per cent, $660. Other costs, including meter, connection, extension to the house, etc., may bring the total cost per house to $1,200. The assessment may be paid over a 20-year period at six per cent interest.

More than 50 per cent of the area residents petitioned the township for the installation of a water system. They were told Tuesday night it might be July or August before the project is completed.

Bids will probably be received in two months, Engineer Mosher estimated. Next step will be to sell bonds for financing. The five per cent limitation on such bonds may discourage bids, Mosher warned, which could also slow down or cancel the project.

At Hearing Tonight

State to Air X-Way Plan

A public hearing concerning the proposed freeway from Detroit to Ann Arbor, running through Plymouth and parts of Salem township, will be held tonight (Thursday) in the Plymouth High school auditorium beginning at 8 p.m.

Purpose of the hearing is to explain the project and record testimony concerning its economic effects. Transcripts will be forwarded to the State Highway Commission and the U.S. Bureau of Public Roads for consideration before final decisions are made.

The proposed M-14 Freeway would link Detroit's Jeffries Freeway (I-96) and the existing M-14 Freeway near Dixboro, passing through Plymouth, Salem and Superior townships in Wayne and Washtenaw counties.

Based on present construction and right-of-way costs, it is estimated that the project will cost $32 million.

It would skirt the north edge of Plymouth and continue west to Ridge road, just north of Territorial road. At that point it would swing southwesterly, cutting through a corner of Salem township and then paralleling Plymouth-Ann Arbor roads to existing M-14 Freeway just west of Plymouth-Ann Arbor roads.

He fished with Captain Ellis Taking a cue from the junior varsity squad, Northville's Mustangs staged a dramatic comeback Friday night at Bloomfield Hills to grab a thrilling 54-48 triumph over the Barons and stretch their undefeated Wayne-Oakland league streak to four games.

The game was much closer than the score might indicate.

Behind most of the contest, the Mustangs entered the final quarter trailing by three points, 39-36.

With five minutes to play, Forward Randy Pohlman stepped to the free throw line and plunked two shots through the net to knot the score at 41.

Both squads followed with a field goal, and then with 3:25 to play, Pohlman netted two more free shots to push Northville into the lead, 45-43. Another field goal increased the Mustangs' lead to four points and the Barons, in desperation, called a time out.

Bloomfield's Forward Steve Jones sliced the gap to two-points following the break and then added a one-point conversion to put the Barons within a single point of the leaders, 47-46, with less than two minutes to play.

Once again Pohlman was fouled this time coming through with a single point at 1:31. The score was 48-46.

Now with the crowd screaming, Jones fired another two-pointer but missed a free throw to tie the score with a minute to go, 48-48.

With the game riding on his sizzling accuracy, Pohlman followed with a spine-tingling two-pointer to snatch the lead for Northville once again. Forward Jim Peterson quickly added another, and then Pohlman capped the scoring blitz with the final field goal of the game.

Turning point in the game, saidjub-ilant Coach Dave Longridge, came with about two minutes into the third quarter when the Mustangs "went to a full court press and changed the tempo of the game."

The Mustangs trailed by as much as eight points in that third quarter before chopping the Barons' lead to one point shortly before the final quarter got underway.

The score was 11-11 at the end of the first quarter, 27-23 at the half, and 39-36 at the three-quarter mark.

Pohlman, who led both teams in scoring with 21 points, hit 66-percent of his field goal shots while turning in a red-hot 75-percent record at the free throw line. In addition, he came up with four offensive rebounds and three on defense.

In that all-important final quarter, Pohlman two field goals and seven of nine free throws.

Peterson also had a good night. Scoring 13 points, he hitata 55-percent clip from the floor and 50-percent from the free throw line.

Top scorer for the losing Barons was Jones, who came up with 18 points.

Whew! Colts Win In Final Seconds

Ron Hubbard hit a jump shot from 20-25 feet out with only three seconds to go to break a 52-52 tie and give the Mustang JV's a come-from-behind win over the Bloomfield Hills, Friday night.

'I was right in line with the shot. Knew it was good all the way," said Coach Bob Kucher.

The 'tie-breaking basket climaxed a long struggle that saw the Colts down 17-4 after a first quarter as: cold as the weekend weather.

The four first-quarter points were all free throws. The JV Cagers didn't hit a field goal until three minutes into the second quarter. They trailed 28-20 at the half, 40-36 at the three-quarter mark, and tied the score 48-48 with one minute to go. After trading field goals, the tie held at 52-52.

Red Hot Lakers On Tap Tomorrow

With Friday's victory over Bloomfield Hills, the Northville Mustangs remained a half-game off the frontrunning pace of West Bloomfield, which coasted to its fifth straight Wayne-Oakland league triumph Friday night by thumping Clarenceville, 63-44.

A victory Tuesday night over Brighton would give Northville an identical 5-0 record, setting the stage for the do-or-die battle here tomorrow with the West Bloomfield Lakers.

In other W-O contests Friday, Brighton pasted Milford, 61-43, while Clarkston, winless in its last three games, zipped past Holly, 60-46.

The Lakers had little difficulty in picking up its fifth victory of the season. They held a 30-19 lead at halftime, staved off a Trojan threat in the third quarter that cut the lead to six -? points, and then pulled away for the final 19-point margin.

Brighton led the Redskins 26-21 going into the third quarter, then iced the game with a 25-point splurge in thethird quarter while holding Milford to a lean eight points.

Wrestlers Win By A Closing Pin

Northville wrestlers subjected their supporters to another evening of anxious suspense before heavyweight Dan Conklin came through again to pin his opponent and provide five team points for a 23-18 win over North Farmington Friday night. The Raiders led 19-18 when the big men went to the mat.

It was another nerve-wrenching night for Coach Jack Townsley, as his lightweight men piled up a big lead that melted away to a North Farming-

Then the Raiders came on with a vengeance. Curt Olewnik, who continues to draw the tough men, dropped a decision in the 133 match to North Farmington's Dan Haller. Olewnik wrestled his usual aggressive match that shows no respect for his opponent's reputation and is a source of pride and satisfaction for Townsley.

Don Sass nearly got the Mustangs winning again, getting a takedown and leading all the way, until a determined North Farmington man took the 138 match with a win by pin that came just before the final buzzer.

Northville's kept getting smaller as Brian Jones (145) lost a 2-0 decision, to make the team score 15-8 Northville. Rick Suckow gave the Mustangs a three-point boost with a decision at 154. Suckow almost had the fivepoint pin. The referee slapped the mat, to signal the pin - right at the buzzer. ending the second round. Those two points Northville didn't get looked mighty big as Brad Conkin lost a decision to a strong 165 pound wrestler and Greg Wikaryas lost by a: pin at 180.

That left it to Dan Conklin to adjust the scoreboard that favored North Farmington 19-18.

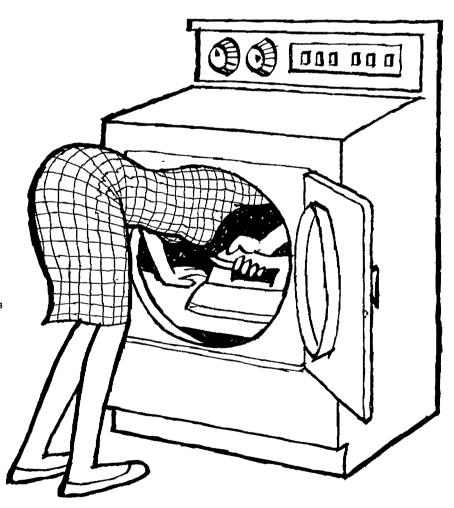

The assignment was in good hands, Conklin faced a bigger man, but found his way into a cradle that meant pin for him and five points and the meet for Northville. The win provided a little extra measure of satisfaction for Townsley and his wrestlers, who lost to North Farmington last year by a one-point margin. Getting the dual meet win over the Class A Raiders marked another successful step along a very tough schedule.

from the Pastor's Study

Reverend Gib Clark, Pastor First Baptist Church of Novi

"Search the Scriptures..." Jesus said, "and they are they which testify of me" (John 5:39) All one has to do to see the close relation between Jesus and His teachings is to read the Gospel of John. Whoever would receive Him must receive His Words. So He took care to promise His disciples that when He went away He would, by His Spirit, cause them to remember all the things He had said to them (John 14:26). When we read the New Testament it is not hard for us to believe that there was God's aid in

There is no question but that the early Christians relied greatly upon the written Word. Paul wrote to young Timothy and reminded him that he was made "wise unto salvation" by the Scriptures. Then he says: "All Scripture is inspired by God, and useful for teaching, for reproof, for correction, for training in doing what is right, so that the man of God may be perfectly fit, thoroughly equipped for every good enterprise." '2 Timonty 3:16, 17) Williams translation. Jesus called Himself "the living bread which came down from heaven;" if a person ate of that bread which came down from heaven he would never be hungry again or ever die. By the Scriptures, we come to know God in salvation, and by them, we learn to do His will - this is spiritual growth, through the use of the Word.

We must not overlook the fact that Paul considered the Scriptures adequate without the traditions of men. The man of God was to be made "perfectly fit" by them. Jesus had already met the problem of the relative value of the accumulated religious traditions which had been put alongside the inspired Word. He had said, "You have transgressed the commandments of God and made it of none effect by your traditions." There was no compromise with Him. The traditions were only the opinions of men (sometimes very clever ones). The Word of God was the inspiration of the Holy Spirit. "So we have seen and proved that what the prophets say come true. You will do well to pay close attention to everything they have said, for, like lights shining into dark corners, their words help us to understand many things that otherwise would be dark and difficult. But, when you consider the wonderful truth of the prophets words, then the light will dawn in your souls and Christ the Morning Star will shine in your hearts. For no prophecy of Scripture was ever thought up by the prophet himself. For the Holy Spirit was within these men of God, giving them true messages from God." (2 Peter 2: 19-21) Paraphrased.

Witnesses Plan Area Convention

For the fourth time in the past few years, Jehovah's Witnesses from sixteen Southeastern Michigan congregations will convene at the High School in Tecumseh for their semi-annual circuit convention.

The anticipated dates for this convention are January 19 through 21. An approximate 1,200 delegates are expected to attend.

There will be a new city represented among the usual onesassigned to Michigan Circuit Number 8, since only recently the congregation from Brighton, Michigan has been included in this group. Victor Szalma, the presiding minister of the South Lyon Congregation, said that the assembly was looked forward to as another happy reunion of Christian fellowship. He, mentioned that the theme of the assembly was "Walking Orderly by Spirit", and that the many talks and demonstrations being planned for presentation there would be a source of mutual encouragement to all present.

In charge of all the necessary plans and details for the occasion is Carlton Cecil. circuit minister of Jehovah's Witnesses in this area.

Mr. Cecil disclosed that the main feature of the three-day program will be held at 3:00 p.m. Sunday, when the public lecture, entitled "Will God Intervene in Men's Affairs?", will be

Optimists Hear Talk On Trucks

The importance of trucks in Michigan and our daily lives was the speech topic of Bill Hammond from Dearborn before the Northville Optimist club yesterday, January 10.

Hammond, sales representative for Hess Cartage company, appeared here through the courtesy of his company and the Michigan Trucking association.

Hess Cartage company, with its home office in Melvindale, is a carrier of steel products, cement, and heavy machinery. Hess Cartage operates approximately 1,030 trucks and trailers in six states over irregular routes.

Hammond has been associated with the trucking industry for the past 20 years. He attended Battle Creek high school and is a graduate of Albion college (class of 1946). He is a member of the Mason's, Detroit Yacht Club, and the Motor City Traffic Club, He resides in Dearborn with his wife and four children.

He is active in the trucking industry having served as a member of the MTA Speakers Bureau for the past several years. The film he presented was entitled, "Horn of Plenty", and stressed the different roles trucks play in Michigan's economy.

THE TOWNSHIP OF NORTHVILLE ORDAINS:

PART I. That the Zoning Ordinance of the Township of Northville is hereby amended by amending Article XII by the addition of three new subsections, to read as follows:

Section 12.26 PARKING OR STOR-

AGE OF CERTAIN VEHICLES, AIR-CRAFT, BOATS AND DISABLED VEHI-CLES. The storage or parking of trucks over one (1) ton capacity, truck tractors, truck trailers, moving vans, automobile utility trailers, aircraft or boats over twenty-four (24) feet in length, in any yard area, or on the street or highway, shall not be considered a legal accessory use in any platted subdivision located in a single family residential district, or in any multiple residential district. Boats under twenty-four (24) feet in length may only be stored in a platted subdivision located in a single family residential district when said boat is owned by the owner of the lot whereon it is stored and must be stored in the rear yard area.

The storage or parking of passenger cars, trucks, farm and gardent ractors, motorcycles and motorbikes, which are wrecked, disabled, abandoned, unlicensed or incapable of movement under their own power, in any yard area, or on the street or highway, shall not be considered a legal accessory use of any R-1, R-2, R-3, R-4, R-M, or O-S-1 district, except that this shall not prohibit the storage of one (1) unoccupied trailer coach under the provisions of Section 12.15 (c) (10) of this Ordinance and with the further exception that this shall not produbit the storage of one (1) small automobile utility trailer when said trailer is stored within the garage building or in the rear yard.

Section 12.27 WASTE, GARBAGE AND RUBBISH AND OTHER OBNOX-IOUS MATERIALS. No garbage, sewage, filth, rubbish, or any other obnoxious matter shall be kept in open containers, or be allowed to be piled or laid on the open ground, in any use district within the Township, nor shall any owner or occupant of any premises within the Township permit burning of any of the aforementioned items so as to give off excessive objectionable odors or smoke so as to constitute a nuisance; nor shall any owner of occupar permit an unattended open fire upon his premises; nor shall any owner or occupant of any premises within the Township allow waste material, cans, cartons or other debris or rubbish to be scattered over open ground. All waste material must be stored in covered containers and be disposed of on a basis sufficiently frequent to control odor and flies.

Section 12.28 WASTE RECEPTA-CLES. The occupant or occupants of every building where waste accumulates, and in case of apartments and multiple dwellings, the owner, lessee or their agent, shall cause to be provided for said building, kept clean, and in place, proper receptacles for said wastes, either stationary or portable. In multiple residential districts all waste receptacles shall be screened from view on at least three (3) sides by a permanent masonary wall of at least six (6) feet in height.

PART II. VALIDITY. Should any section, clause or provision of this Ordinance be declared by the courts to be invalid, the same shall not affect the validity of the Ordinance as a whole or any part thereof, other than the part so declared to be invalid.

PART III. CONFLICTING PROVIS-IONS REPEALED. Any Ordinance or parts of Ordinance in conflict, herewith, are hereby repealed. PART IV. EFFECTIVE DATE, Public hearing having been held herein, the provisions of this Ordinance Amendment are hereby given immediate effect, pursuant to the provisions of Section 11, of Act 184 of the Public Acts of 1943, as amended.

I, ELEANOR W. HAMMOND, Clerk of the Township of Northville, do hereby certify that the above Ordinance Amendment was approved and adopted by the Northville Township Board at a regular meeting thereof, duly called and held on the 2 day of January, A.D., 1968, and was ordered to be given publication in the manner prescribed by law.

for The Record

I'd like this week to talk about law enforcement, justice and community objectives.

They're not always the same, but those who enforce and those who obey the laws wish that they could be so.

An important ingredient is cooperation, aimed not so much at crime detection as crime prevention.

This is not an exclusive assignment of the police department. It is a community obligation that can be best fostered in an atmosphere of mutual respect and regard for one another: the citizen and businessman for the officer, and vice versa.

The average citizen cannot be expected to understand all the technicalities that control, and sometimes restrict, the activities of a law enforcement agency; and neither can an officer be fully aware of the peculiarities and problems of each business within the community.

Through teamwork, a program of information, a campaign to inform one another and a mutual concession that each is striving for the same goal, certainly a community can lift itself to a level above bitterness and disrespect.

Too frequently complaints are leveled at law enforcement agencies or individual officers either to the effect that they are lax or that they are overzealous.

More alarming is the charge that the department or an officer is "out to get" a particular citizen or business.

There is very little middle ground in the business of law enforcement. And it becomes particularly difficult to view with any objectivity by one who is lawabiding, but through circumstance finds himself the offender.

Unfortunately, the most objective witness could not deny that on occasion there has been reason for one to suspect that a certain amount of satisfaction has been gleaned from the misfortunes of such victims.

But if this attitude does exist, it is not official and it extends only as far as the nature of the human being.

It may seem at times that law enforcement and justice are not synony-

They are, of course. And the ingredient that can bring them closer together in mind as well as fact is mutual regard for the problems that face each within the community - the average citizen, businessman and our law enforcement officials.

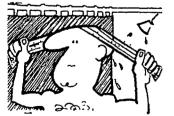

It is hoped that our community and improve this important area.

Northville Fire Chief Bud Hartner would probably say "that's the way my

Their assignment was to prevent the spread of fire into an adjoining paint store. Somebody said "It hardly got warm", thanks to the continuous efforts of the Northville firemen.

A 'Perfect Newspaper'?

Dave Rood and Jim Tagg, who are co-publishers of the weekly Manistique, crank out columns that are prize-winners. Here, as a guest editorial, is part of their award-winning piece on "The Perfect Newspaper."

The newspaper is an institution developed by modern civilization to present the news of the day, to foster commerce and industry, to inform and lead public opinion and to furnish that check upon government which no constitution has ever been able to provide.

We don't have enough special weeks in the year as it is now, so let's add another one and promote an appropriate observance. We have Anti-Noise Week and Anti-Litter Week, so now let's all get together and have Anti-Newspaper Week. From all indications it should be a tremendous success.

A committee can be organized to work out all the details, but certainly special attention should be given to news reporting. Hundreds of people are convinced weekly that the news reporting idea is all wrong, and they would be glad to serve to help correct it. Perhaps they can emphasize that the newspaper should only print good news, and glad tidings and nice things about nice people.

They can campaign to do away with bad news, and prohibit newspapers from reporting that people do get drunk, get involved in auto accidents, receive traffic tickets, make fools of themselves, go into bankruptcy, shoot their wives, assault their neighbors, set fire to the church, embezzle money and spend tax dollars foolishly.

This perfect newspaper could never print the church notices, for there are those who don't believe in churches. and who oppose organized religion, and the newspaper should not offend these people.

This perfect newspaper would carry no advertising, because advertising is competitive, and it isn't fair for one store to buy an ad in the paper because it might help the store sell some merchandise at the expense of some other competitor who didn't buy anad, That's not fair, and besides, everyone knows that newspapers have all the money they need anyway. Why give them advertising?

Our perfect newspaper will carry no pictures, because there is a very good chance that someone might be offended. The camera doesn't lie, they say, but maybe the newspaper does. The picture may be taken too close to the truth for many people to stomach, and it's easier to blame the newspaper for printing the picture than it is to blame whoever or whatever is represented in the picture.

It goes without saying that the perfect paper will never carry news reports of city council sessions or school board meetings or court trials or public hearings. We can't have the newspaper offending politicians and elected officials and bureaucrats who, as everyone knows, are the only ones who know how to run the government. There will be no embarrassing quotes, no reports of what they did or how they acted.

Government will reach a new high in efficiency.

There will be no sports stories, for in every game there is a winner and a loser, and we can't mention losers in the perfect paper. There is also the chance that the paper would forget to mention that Junior Glutz scored three points, and Mr. and Mrs. Glutz would never forgive the editor for such an omission.

Most important, there will be no editorials or columns; no attempt to explain or to comment or to lead the community. This is the best way possible to offend people, so let's cut it out right now.

So there we have it - the perfect newspaper. No news, no pictures, no editorials, no ads. Take an imperfect newspaper and color it black and blue from the lumps it takes while doing its job. Take the perfect newspaper and color it nothing - leave it blank and drab and colorless, for that's exactly what it is.

Not only is it a perfect newspaper, but you'll still be able to wrap your garbage and line the birdcage with it. What more do you want?

Later, Cantor gets to the crux of the matter, after pointing out how CBS and the NFL had signed a mutually profitable pact that would soften grisly Lombardi's attitude toward Gifford, and after conceding that the interview with Don Meredith "was probably more moving than anything that could be written about him."

George continues . . .

Did you know that tomorrow, January 12, marks the 25th anniversary of Rose Bushe's discovery of the plant bearing her name?

Don't panic if you had forgotten that historic date because few would remember it unless they had one of Hallmark's newest calendars of memorial dates. Fortunately, my boss has a firm grip on such matters and permits, on occasion, a glance at his calendar.

Obviously, Hodges, Fitzgerald, Young & Marak Lab - creators of this masterpiece - were influenced by some physic phenomena. How else could they have described my wedding anniversary two days past with: Rome sacked by Genseric the Vandal, 455 A.D.?

For those not privileged to see my boss' calendar - and, like, me too cheap to buy their own - let me give you a sneak preview of a few of the historic dates coming up in 1968:

January 23 - Stomach doctors in Tibet discover, in 1910, "Abdominal Snowman."

January 27-Henry Wadsworth Longfellow receives his poetic license, 1850.

February 15 - Bluebeard's wedding anniversary. He also celebrates similar anniversaries in each of the remaining 10 months, not to mention two dates in January.

February 28 - Birth of George Byrd, inventor of the Diesel Duck.

March 2 - First girdle manufacturer goes out of business for lack of support, 1915.

March 15 - Birth of Gransleptingledop P. Smith, inventor of the tongue twister, 1921.

March 19 - First Feast of the Aardvark.

March 28 - Watchmaker, Marmaduke Ott, fixes clock on London Tower. First big-time operator.

April 4 - Edgar Bent commissioned by U.S. Grant to design Army uniform. First union suit.

April 13 - Evil witches driven from Ireland, Found Greenwitch Village.

April 20 - Russian cattle breeder, Dimitri Pascalonovitz develops a Mos-

May 9 - Yalu Pages added to Korean phone books.

May 22 - Louis V. Vonderkellen of Bonnersville, Maryland, runs amok, May 26 - Earl Crumb named loafer of the year at Bakers' Convention.

June 5 - Charlie Panatella invents the cigar butt, 1908.

June 13 - "We can't myth," says ancient Greek Athlete, Pireus Hosos at Olympic games.

June 24 - Stan Dupp smacks caddy in mouth with nine iron. First "club" sandwich. June 29 - Leaning Tower of Pisa fails to meet building code. Windows too small.

July 9 - Army develops new gun that fits in a soldier's hat. Called "cap" pistol, 1940.

July 12 - Judge Cletis Forn quits after 20 years. No longer has courage of his convictions. July 30 - Francis Scott Key writes his only hit song. August 7 - Patriots train chicken to catch British sympathizers. First chicken cacciatore.

August 20 - Siamese twin Harvy

Fram sues for separate maintenance, August 29 - Post office first organization to sell green stamps, 1900. September 10 - From 400 pounds of steel wool, housewife Amelia Grapple knits first stove. September 25 - British defeated at Boston in 1777, Red Sox 7-British, 2.

October 10 - New TV show aired in Leningrad. "Sing Along or Else." 1953.

October 14 - Olde English sheepdog publishes memoirs. First shaggy dog story, 1901.

October 30 - Commodore Perryhas a very Erie experience, 1813. November 3 - Ethel P. Kelp, high school English teacher, is first to split the infinitive. November 19 - Linus Garfinkle finds you make a "cigarette lighter" by removing the tobacco. November 27 - Billy the Kid enters University of Oklahoma, Becomes known as O. U. Kid.

November 29 - Genseric the Vandal gets his come-up-pance for sacking Rome on my anniversary when Alaric the Goth sacks him. 500 A.D.

December 2-Organization in Europe adopts Venus De Milo as symbol for disarmament.

December 20 - Georgine Comstock gains 265 pounds in one month. Known as "comstock Lode."

8.6 Million Population Seen in State by 1970

LANSING - Latest figures released by the U.S. Census Bureau show Michigan as the fastest growing of the five states in the East North Central Region, composed of Michigan, Ohio, Indiana, Illinois and Wisconsin, Michigan was surpassed nationally in "growth in numbers" by only six other states during the period April 1, 1960 through July 1, 1967.

In those seven years, the state added 760,000 people to her population, a 9.7% increase. Closest competitor in the region was Illinois which experienced an 8% increase.

BABSON PARK, Mass. - Air transportation - one of the nation's fastest-growing industries - is flying into a crisis which threatens to clipits wings, temporarily at least. Airport facilities

just aren't keeping pace with the demand

... air corridor congestion is serious

especially on the East and West Coasts

... and rapidly rising costs pose new problems of financing.

OUR EMERGENCE into the jet age has broadened the horizons of air transport - both passenger and cargo - but it has also brought us face to face with the need for bigger and costlier terminal facilities. Air traffic has doubled since 1962. You can expect it to double again in the next five years. Most of the nation's airports are overcrowded

... some dangerously so. A few are valiantly trying to handle far more planes than they have capacity for. In some airports, jet runways just aren't long enough for today's huge airliners;

in others, radar installations aren't sufficient to do the job that true safety

Instrument landing systems seem not to be foolproof, at best. If not well maintained, they can contribute to accidents. Without question, pilots need the most accurate information possible to permit them to determine whether planes are coming in at the proper angle and altitude .. but the development installation, and operation of such delicate and sophisticated instruments will entail tremendous increases in the operation-

AIRPORT congestion is getting al costs of airports.

The census bureau forecasts Michigan's population, currently totaling 8.58 million, will reach 8.6 million by 1970; 8.95 million by 1975; 9.4 million by 1980; and 9.9 million by 1985. The state will hold its lead until 1975 and should keep its rank as seventh in the U.S. through 1985.

MAJOR MICHIGAN cities were included in the census figures. They showed Detroit, with a population of 4.06 million, ranked fifth in the nation. Grand Rapids was ranked 60th with a population of 505,000 and Flint was 66th with a population of 469,000.

worse by the week, with New York's

Kennedy and LaGuardia fields, Chicago's O'Hare, and the Los Angeles In-points. But there is also overcrowding of the air corridors themselves as are a decided hazard, and the Federal Aviation Administration has set a new speed limit of 288 miles per hour for planes flying below 10,000 feet. Soon to come, perhaps are regulations calling for wider spacing of aircraft in flight and when circling over airports await-tering a critical period of very rapid growth during which their costs promise to rise sharply while their profit margins decline further. Pan American, which has $1.5 billion in new jets on order, has obtained long-term credit of $180 million to finance new planes.

Trans World Airlines announced it had gotten $800 million in new money and refinanced mortgage notes. In today's high-cost, limited-availability money market, such sums must surely entail heavy burdens which will be a drain on ing to be faced with higher landing, storage, and maintenance fees as airports pass along the huge costs of installing and maintaining new and improved facilities to handle the great increase in air traffic and provide for the growth still

Obviously, the airlines are also go-earnings for some time to come.

MEANWHILE, the airlines are en-ing opportunity to land.

In other population forecasts, Michigan should add about 5% per year, slightly less than national average. By 1975 the state is expected to begin increasing ts population growth at a rate of 8% per year.

The nation is now adding about 2 1/2 million people per year, and the present U.S. population of 200 million should hit 242 million by 1980. At that time the country will begin adding about 4 million people per year to its popula-

CURIOUSLY enough, the Civil Aeronautics Board continued throughout 1967 to favor reduced airline fares ...

thereby whittling away their earnings base and making it more difficult for them to finance the purchase of new also bring many problems to state and nation, notably in the areas of social services provided by government.

Present solutions to social problems will prove less than adequate. More money from the taxpayers will be needed to deal with poverty, air and water pollution; inadequate parks and recreation facilities; general urban ugliness.

GAS TAX refunds submitted by farmers will no longer need to be notarized under a new ruling by the Motor Fuel Tax Division, Michigan Department of Revenue. Farmers who purchase gasoline in bulk for agricultural purposes are required to pay the tax at time of purchase. Revenue derived from the tax is used for public highway purposes and, since the fuel is consumed only on farms, a refund application to the state returns the tax money to the farmer.

The application had to be notarized before being submitted, and this cost many farmers time, trouble and notary fees. Under the new system the application need only be signed by the appli-

A department spokesman said elimination of notary follows the practice of federal income tax returns and sales tax reports, neither of which require notarized forms. The old system was a "hold over", he said, of the days when every form which contained a sworn statement had to be notarized.

SANTA CLAUS has nothing on many of Michigan's newspapers. Christmas, 1967, was no exception. Sale of newspapers by Goodfellows is widespread throughout the state. Proceeds provided needy families with food, clothing and toys. Copies sold by Goodfellows are usually supplied by the newspaper at cost or less.

Charity campaigns by others to raise funds for Christmas receive much publicity by the local press. In many instances the newspaper itself sponsors Yuletide campaigns. In Jackson, for example, the Citizen Patriot raised more than $1,000 toward supplying toys, mittens, caps and candy for local needy youngsters. The Ruth Alden Dress Drive is promoted annually by the Detroit Free Press. Nearly every city has some such activity which is aided by its newspaper.

SOME NEWSPAPERS work "behind the scenes," stimulating civic action and supplying names of needy families to charitable organizations. Others single out families who have suffered extremely bad luck and make their plights known to readers.

These campaigns, like others, depend on reaction from people in the community. In Inkster, a suburb of Detroit, the Goodfellows sale was a flop. The chairman blames a lack of volunteers for the failure and said it probably means the end of the organization in that city. Only $650 was collected by 30 volunteers, whereas the Goodfellows had set a goal of $6,000 and expected about 100 workers to participate. Instead of brightening Christmas for the 400 families on the Goodfellow list, the net proceeds allowed only about five families to be served. Fortunately, there was a reserve fund, now wiped out to help make up the loss. However, the chairman noted, "There just doesn't seem to be any interest in the community, and there's no sense beating our heads against the wall."

Such failures are the exception rather than the rule, and newspapers working hand-in-hand with their communities did much to make Christmas a little brighter for those less fortunate.

Tax collections in area municipalities were generally considered "pretty good" by officials this week.

In the city, which is collecting school and county taxes - not city taxes, $322,017 had been received by Monday morning. The total levy for the Wayne county portion of the city is$547,018.83, while the levy for the Oakland county portion is $242,429.06.

Northville Township Treasurer Alex Lawrence reported that approximately 40-percent of the total levy had been collected through Friday. The total levy is $869,556.68.

Duane Bell, treasurer of Novitownship, reported collections of between 35 and 40-percent. The total levy is $1,236,647.

Roughly 25-percent of the school and county taxes being collected by the city of Wixom have been paid, according to Treasurer Mrs. Elizabeth Waara. The Wixom levy is $1,263,192.31.

Taxes are payable in the cities of Northville and Wixom and in the township of Novi through February 14 without penalty. A 4-percent penalty will be charged thereafter until the rolls are turned over to the counties in March.

Northville township residents have through the month of February to pay taxes without penalty.

Three cases of larceny or attempted larceny from automobiles were reported to Northville police during the past week. Mrs. Jane Young, 855 Scott, reported that she left her purse lying on the floor on the passenger side of her car while it was parked in the municipal parking lot at the rear of the Cloverdale store at 8:55 p.m. Monday. She was returning from making a purchase, she said, when she observed a slim, dark man running away. She chased the suspect but did not locate him; however, she found her purse nearby with items strewn on the ground. Keys and pens were missing. A night supervisor at the Ford Valve plant reported to police at 8 p.m. Saturday that the rear vent window of a car owned by Andy Torok, 328 North Center, had been pushed open and the car glove compartment opened. The car was parked in the company parking lot off Griswold.

Erwin Reich, 562 Langfield, reported to police that a horn ring had been removed with the horn disconnected under the hood of his car. Reich stated his son, Bruce, heard a noise outside and from an upstairs window observed a thin, dark, long-haired youth at the car and gave chase but was not able to catch him. The incident occurred about 12 a.m. January 3.

An estimated $350 of hifi equipment was taken from a Northville homefrom which residents were absent, it was reported to police Sunday. Entry apparently was gained through a window. A Scott amplifier, Gerard recorder and two speakers were missing. Last Friday Northville police recovered a stolen vehicle when they stopped two youths at 2:40 a.m. They were escapees from the Oakland County Juvenile home and were turned over to Novi police who returned them to the home. The car was released to the owner, William Vires of Walled Lake.

Police were dispatched to assist in a truck accident January 2. The fire was out on their arrival. They investigated a smoking oil stove heater at the Littlest Gallery, 138 North Center, January 2. Only smoke damage was reported.

Spear said.

While the Northville Record and other papers told us of many auto accidents, television and radio reporters covered various crashes and injuries, and the National Safety Council and Michigan Auto Club reported dangerous conditions and slippery roads, we in Northville were doing something about

Several months ago, the city council decided that in the interest of safety and protection of property, no cars should be left on the streets overnight.

The D.P.W. has, since late summer, been preparing for winter. The grader engine was replaced. Two trucks were reconditioned. A new plow and spreader were obtained. Tons of salt were stock piled. The men were on 24 hour standby for emergency duty.

The police department, as usual, went on a special Holiday schedule with each man and several dispatchers giving up part of his holiday with his family to patrol the streets and get the drunk driver, the careless driver, and other dangers off the roads. Special written tips and warnings have been given out weekly for several months to the communications media. (Our thanks to the Northville Record for publishing these). The first indications of winter problems came with rain and light snow on December 23 and 24, which froze on Christmas Eve. I personally did not see Santa Claus in a red sleigh full of presents (although my son is sure the old gentleman was in Northville), but I did see Bob Moe in a yellow truck full of rock salt at 3:00 Christmas morning. I saw him again with his helper Royal Keller (no dwarf) at 3:00 Christmas afternoon, and again at 8:00 Christmas nite, each time salting all hills and intersections in the city. Bud Hartner and his men salted streets at 5:00 each morning for the next three days. Saturday, December 30, saw more salting late in the afternoon, and New Years Eve morning Julius Saner was clearing the streets of ice. The last salting of the long week was done early January 2 at several schools in the city. In addition, the men plowed streets in Northville Estates during pre-dawn hours on December 26, the high winds having caused drifting in that part of Christmas Day and New Years Day found the police department on duty as usual, and the daily reports show a good deal of activity in safeguarding our lives and property. The men worked a special schedule and filled the jail cells with potential road hazards. While all officers and dispatchers worked over the holidays, many put in extra overtime hours during the week, including Sergeants LaFond and Westfall, several patrolmen, and Dispatcher Alice Ritchie. for eight hours on Christmas Day, and The result? A week of relative safe-with road conditions. In two of the five, cars parked on the streets at night before the 2:30 a.m. restriction were hit. Not one case of damage to a was reported.

While reporting on service to the community, I must note that the City Clerk Martha Milne and her co-workers in city hall all gave up part of their holiday weekends to keep city hall open on the Saturdays before Christmas and New Years Eve to serve the needs of our citizens. The girls took turns working the days before the holidays to insure that all needs would be met.

Still another plaudit must be given, that being to our fire department. Responding to a call Saturday night before Christmas, a township resident's makeshift dwelling was quickly and efficiently saved by these men and an alert Police officer, although the old out that night and the next and into Christmas Day, the city's fire-D.P.W. chief and his wife, together with the support of numerous concerned Northville citizens, rebuilt the heating system, collected clothes, cooked food, and made the situation temporarily satisfactory for these township residents. Apparently a more permanent solution is now awaiting the action of other units of government.

Quiet, accident-free holidays do not just happen, nor are they inexpensive. Street salting alone for the ten-day period cost over one thousand dollars.

Our Christmas wish was to keep all citizens safe and free of injury and accident. Our annual resolution is to do an even better job in the months

Pat Mahoney - "I'll try harder in school."

Pam Smith Wins National Honors

Pamela Smith of Northville high school has been cited as one of the outstanding high school students of English in the country. The National Council of Teachers of English has named her a 1967 national winner in its annual Achievement Awards competition.

Last spring a committee of English teachers from the high school nominated Pam to represent NHS in the competition. The nation's schools nominated almost 8,000 students for the NCTE citation. Of that number, only 800 finalists were chosen. They represent over 600 schools from 50 states, the District of Columbia and American preparatory schools abroad.

In announcing the winners, James R. Squire, executive secretary of the National Council of Teachers of English, stated that the Council recom-

For Cavern Dance

'Heavy Music' on Tap Here

Featured at the Cavern Saturday, Leo points out that much of this is January 13, is the Bob Seger Sound due to membership participation in pre-System, which has promised to give everyone some of its famous "Heavy Music". Along with the System (formerly known as Bob Seger and the Last Heard), are the December's Children filling the gaps in a performance that "should have everyone dancing."

"We are proud to have Bob Seger and his boys back," states Cavern President Leo Cherne, "he's popular; Heavy Music was one of the top hits in the Detroit area - he has a sound that really moves. To give us some added power, he's bringing a new hit potential that should be coming around soon."

Cherne adds: "Last time we had Seger we had a record crowd, and we are expecting another.'

As an end of the year report, Cherne made a few comments regarding the "The Cavern, during the past year has grown into one of the top scenes in the area, as shown by the growing crowds. There seems to be several reasons for this. One is the increasingly extensive entertainment. Another seems to be that the Cave is doing some face-lifting. We are constantly toying new, better and more popular ideas. ## Memorial Plaque Planned for Pool

A plaque in memory of the late Edward F. Angove, a member of the board of education, is to be erected at the new high school swimming pool upon its dedication within two or three Members of the board of education authorized the preparation of the plaque at their Monday meeting. It is to be unveiled at a public dedication when the pool is completed in late March or early April.

Besides recognizing Mr. Angove's service on the board, the memorial will pay tribute to his support of high school athletic programs.

Upon the suggestion of Trustee Robert Froelich, the board directed the administration to draw up some proposed guidelines relative to future dedication of school facilities and their

Hearing Set For Rezoning

A public hearing to consider a zoning change for 6,000 square feet of land on the south side of Randolph street near the intersection of Taft road will be held January 22 at 8 p.m.

City-owned and optioned to Bernard Remer, who owns the property west of it, the land together with a house was originally purchased by the city to enable a relocation of the curve of Randolph at the time of the street's

An R-2A (restricted multiples) classification is sought, a change from R-2 (residential two-family).

Remer, who will purchase the property for $1,000, cannot build on it but will use it as a drive to his proposed apartment complex on the adjoining

The planning commission last week voted to recommend the zoning subject to the property's sale.

While Remer's plan for apartments on the adjoining property will not be part of the January 22 hearing, planners questioned the "safety argument" for using the small city parcel for a drive if plans are carried out for a second drive

They noted that since Remer claims the city parcel will provide the safest drive possible, a second drive plan defeats this argument.

City Manager Frank Ollendorff has pointed out that zoning laws prevent construction of any buildings on the parcel to be sold to Remer, but that a covenant can be secured from the new owner to further insure against any building.

board members Monday that construction is lagging. He said the contractor appears to be "dragging his feet," despite pressing by administrators.

Although the contract completion date is February 1, it was noted that the contract does not carry a penalty clause. Nevertheless, the board instructed administrators to remind the contractor of the specified completion

Busardalso reported on the progress of the following construction projects: Main Street elementary-Re-lighting of classrooms and halls has been completed and plans are being studied for the renovation of the old junior high

Ida B. Cooke junior high - Nearly all completed, with some minor corrections still to be made, such as improperly fitting gymnasium folding door, hook-up of a shop fan, and electrical errors. Installation of all lockers is to be completed this week. Combination locks, to cost students $1.50 each, are to be purchased. These locks may be kept by students for use by them when they enter high school.

High school addition — One wing is in use now. The library should be ready by the start of the second semester, and installation of all shop equipment should be completed within two weeks, thus completing it for occupancy. Cold weather has temporarily delayed completion of the new bus compound adjacent to the high school parking lot.

In reference to buses, Busard reminded parents that the drive through the athletic field to the new junior high school is to be used by buses only. Recent use of the drive off Eight Mile road by parents driving students to school has hampered bus transportation, he said.

Moraine elementary - A number of construction flaws have been noted and are to be corrected by the builder under a one-year guarantee clause.

Call to Police Stops Ticketing

Northville police are asking anyone whose car breaks down or will not start and, therefore, must be left on city streets during the 2 to 7 a.m. parking ban to notify the police department immediately to avoid being ticketed.

If it is impossible to get garage service for a disabled car or there is other good reason for the automobile being on the street, the police will not ticket, the department said.

People with street parking permits are required to display them in the right rear window of the vehicle.

Council Approves Downs Rezoning

The Northville city council approved rezoning of River street property owned by Northville Downs to permit construction of a barn next to, and duplicating, an existing structure.

The council upheld the recommendation of the planning commission after setting forth assurances that the track meets greenbelt obligations and that both the track and the city take steps to correct complaints of neighboring citizens concerning dust, traffic, eyesores,

Despite these conditions, Attorney Donald Severance, representing certain residents residing across from track property on River street, were opposed to the rezoning. "They don't want a barn in their front yards", he stated.

John Carlo, executive manager of the Downs, agreed to a $2,500 escrow to install a greenbelt along River street from the existing greenbelt to Beal street, Attorney Severance pointed out that this was merely living up to an . agreement that had been made when the first barn was constructed on the track property.

Carlo said the building would improve the appearances by hiding some eyesores. He told the council that he would "not be a party to a move to force sale of property by coercion". Carlo referred to suggestions from at Melbourne Cash, 29720 Milford road, received second and third degree burns over more than 80 per cent of hisbody, it was reported, when a spark of unknown origin ignited a gas tank on which he was working.

The explosion occurred at about 11:50 a.m. at Ed's Sunoco Service station at Grand River and Pontiac Trail in the center of New Hudson.

Cash, in his early thirties and the father of two young sons, is in the intensive care facility at Wayne County General hospital. paid to the Northville school district for state aid reimbursements on 1966-67 school bus transportation, Business Manager Earl Busard has reported.

This money, which is more than was estimated, means the school district finished the 1966-67 school year by $22,174 in the black, he noted.

Prior to the receipt of the money, the 1966-67 fiscal budget showed a surplus of $11.174. Although the district receives money from the state a year after it is credited, explained Busard. under the accrual method of financing it is accounted to the fiscal year for which it was intended.

Based on a recent review of the kinds of bus expenditures for which the district may receive state income, Northville can anticipate aid of $60,000 for bus transportation next year - or some $20,000 more than currently paid, Busard said.

Such items as bus parts, a large share of the business manager's salary, etc., which in the past have not been recouped through state aid, are eligible for partial reimbursement and the district will request monies for them hereafter, he said.

Concerning school financing, the board of education will conduct a special budget review next Monday beginning at 8 p.m.

The meeting is open to the public.

ernments Monday night.
Only Treasurer Richard Martin, who like some of his fellow members was not a member of the board when it first indicated its willingness to participate in 1966, did not vote for membership. He abstained.

The city and township of Northville voted to join the newly organized intergovernmental, quasi-official body several weeks ago as did the city of Wixom.

Dozens of school boards and municipalities throughout the metropolitan area have joined, in hopes that its studies and reports will lead to more uniform planning and development between communities while providing useful information on financing, utility services, air and water pollution control, community planning, and other matters of importance to municipalities - collectively and individually.

Just recently the Detroit Metropolitan Area Regional Planning commission was merged with SMCOG as a step toward smoother intergovernmental planning.

In other action Monday, the board accepted the resignation of Mrs. Robbie Durbin, elementary teacher, reinstated high school librarian Mrs. Marian Sullivan subject to her doctor's report, and employed three new replacement

The new teachers include Miss Barbara LaBeau, library; Mrs. Frances Caughey, elementary; and Mrs. Betty Knapp, vocal music.

The board decided to accept bids for the sale, removal, or demolition of its old Waterford school building recently vacated by the Northville township board, which moved into the old library building near the corner of Wing and Main streets inside the city.

In a separate vote, the board went on record as favoring the retention of the Waterford school site together with the adjoining 17.6 acres owned by the district for possible future use or

New Ambulance on the Job

Ambulance Features 'Stand-up' Interior

A new ambulance placed in service this week by Casterline Funeral Home is distinguished by higher roof and interior space to ease the work of attendants while making use of more extensive equipment.

Designed to meet specifications of an ambulance code that has been proposed for federal legislation, the large interior is completely air conditioned. With its specially constructed body, on a 1968 Cadillac chassis, the ambulance weighs 7,000 pounds with its full complement of equipment.

The "stand-up" design provides a patient area 51" high, 63" wide and almost 95" long. The design provides generally for more patient comfort and improved attendant service while using the first aid and life saving equipment, noted Fred Casterline.

Coronary patients can be transported in an upright position and the large interior enables more efficiency in using oxygen resuscitator, suctions, and other equipment, he said.

Municipal Court

Three drunk-and-disorderly cases were among those heard by Northville Municipal Judge Philip Ogilvie Tuesday.

Joseph Huerta, 40, of Walled Lake, was arrested for being a disorderly person (drunk) in Northville municipal lot No. 2 January 4. He entered a plea of guilty and was fined $30 and $3 state Herschel Strong, 36, of 382 North Harvey, Plymouth, was charged with being drunk and disorderly December 17 at Randolph and Eight Mile. He pleaded not guilty December 27 but was found guilty in court January 3 and assessed a fine of $50 and $5 state costs. The de-

Trial Results In Hung Jury

The jury declared itself "hopelessly deadlocked" in a trial held Friday in Northville municipal court involving a charge of selling alcoholic beverages to a minor.

Defendant in the case was Henry Ackerman, an employee of Good Time Party Store, 567 Seven Mile road.

The charge was brought after Northville police on October 20 observed a youth, with whom they were familiar, leave the store with a brown bag, Later police stopped the car in which the youth. 19, was riding with two juveniles, both 16. They returned to the store and the youth identified Ackerman as the sales-

In trial testimony Ackerman stated that the boy had provided sufficient evidence that he was over 21 on a previous visit to the store, one or two weeks' earlier. Ackerman saidhe remembered the incident and for that reason did not request identification.

The youth denied that he had ever purchased alcoholic beverages in the store previously or that he had ever been asked for identification.

After hearing testimony the sixmember jury went into the jury roomat 12:45 p.m. On two occasions they asked for clarification information from Judge Philip Ogilvie. Finally at 4 p.m. the jury announced it could not reach a unanimous conclusion.

The case was tried by the Wayne county prosecutor's office under state law. Local authorities state that it is the responsibility of the prosecutor to determine whether the case should be dropped or retried.

Charges Dropped

Northville police report that assault and battery charges in an incident at the Clark Oil company station on South Main street have been dropped.

It was erroneously reported last week that Chris Dulas was involved in the incident. Actually, Dulas reported the disturbance to the police. Those accused of wielding a knife during the fracas were unidentified and left the scene before police arrived.

fendant indicated he intended to appeal but withdrew the appeal motionJanuary 4 and paid the fine.

Louis W. McLean, 27, of Livonia was arrested December 31 for being drunk and disorderly on a back porch at 423 Beal street. He was arraigned January 9, pleaded guilty as charged and paid a fine of $30 and $3 costs.

William L. Potter, 25, of Plymouth pleaded guilty to the charge of failing to stop while exiting from an alley onto Dunlap street and causing a property damage accident and fined $40.

Two offenses were charged against Ronald E. Gloetzner, 17, of 24520 Border Hill, Novi. He wasarraigned January 2 and pleaded guilty to the charges of improper plates and defective equipment on his vehicle. Sentencing was deferred until January 9 sothat his parents might appear with him. He was fined $25 on the improper plates violation and $5 on the equipment one.

One appeal to circuit court resulted from five decisions handed down by Judge Philip Ogilvie in a municipal court session held Wednesday morning, January 3.

The appeal was being filed in behalf of Herchel Strong, 383 North Harvey, Plymouth. Strong was found guilty on a charge of being drunk and disorderly, stemming from events occurring near the intersection of Randolph and Eight-Mile road on December 17.

Strong entered a plea of innocent at his arraignment December 27 and was released on bond pending outcome of his

A charge of being a minor in possession of alcoholic beverages last December 31 drew a plea of guilty from Michael John Witgen, Livonia. Released on $100 bond at his arraignment on January 1. Witgen was assessed a fine of $20 and $2 costs. Fine and costs were paid.

Carl G. Taylor, Jr. was sentenced to a $25 fine or five days in jail after pleading guilty to a charge of failing to stop in assurred clear distance on Grace Street December 27. The fine was paid.

Dale Alvin Demankowski of Union Lake was sentenced to pay a fine of $15 or spend three days in jail after pleading guilty to a charge of operating a vehicle with improper license plates December 27. He paid the fine.

Keith Edwin Fisher, Milford, pleaded guilty to two charges involving vehicle violations December 14. He was sentenced to pay a $5 fine or spend one day in jail on a charge of disobeying a stop sign, and to pay $15 fine or spend three days in jail on a charge of operating a vehicle with improper liceuse plates. Both fines were paid.

Joseph Arthur Bechamp, 238 Linden, Northville, was sentenced to pay a fine of $20 or spend four days in jail after pleading guilty to careless driving that resulted in a personal injury accident on Linden street near West Dunlap on December 21. The fine

The Bolling Transfer of

FLAMING HOLOCAUSTS—A man was critically burned in New Hudson and several Plymouth business places were destroyed in major fires Sunday. Burned over 80-percent of his body when the gas tank of his car exploded inside Ed's Sunoco service station (above) in the center of New Hudson, was Melborne Cash, 29720 Milford road. In downtown Plymouth, firemen from more than a half dozen departments battled a raging blaze that burned from shortly after noon Sunday to Monday afternoon. Several business places, including the draft board office opposite the post office on Penniman, were destroyed. Subscribers of The Northville Record and The South Lyon Herald can find additional details on Page one of these newspapers.
