

Criminally Insane Admitted to Northville State

Criminally insane are being admitted to Northville State hospital, Dr. E. Gordon Yudashkin, medical superintendent of the hospital, said Friday.

Dr. Yudashkin revealed this fact during an interview with the Record-Now News concerning the hospital's new admissions and treatment program. (See story on Page 12-A). The hospital is located on Seven Mile road in Northville township.

Northville township officials were unaware of hospital's treatment of criminally insane. Supervisor R. D. Merriam expressed dismay upon hearing of it. "It's a surprise to me," he said, "particularly since the hospital is considered one of the least restrictive of any in the state."

Contacted at his Lansing office, V. A. Stehman, deputy director of the State Mental Health department, confirmed Dr. Yudashkin's disclosure and, when asked if any additional security measures had been ordered at the hospital here, said they are unnecessary "because these are not very serious offenders."

Nevertheless, the initial report that criminally insane might be at the hospital was brought to the attention of this newspaper by a citizen who said he heard a Wayne county sheriff's bulletin about a hospital escapee who had been in a gun battle with police years earlier.

Criminally insane have been committed to hospitals other than at Ionia since last July, Dr. Stehman said. This fact apparently missed the attention of local officials and law enforcement agencies because of the department's reference to criminally insane as "forensic" cases. Dr. Stehman said the term "criminally insane" is not a proper one and that the term "forensic" has been used more frequently in the past 10 years by those in the medical field.

Questioned about the kinds of crime that Northville State hospital patients might be involved in, Dr. Stehman emphasized that "serious cases" involving criminally insane are still going to the state hospital at Ionia. However, that hospital, he admitted, is being "phased out" as an exclusive institution for criminally insane by direction of a new state law (Public Act 266 of 1966) which went into effect last year.

He defined "serious cases" as confused, unmanageable persons involved in "certain kinds of crime." Asked if murder or rape would be considered "serious" crimes resulting in the patient's admission to Ionia, he said yes. To his knowledge, he said, there are no cases of this nature at Northville State hospital.

State Police at the Redford post when asked if they were aware that criminally insane are now housed at Northville indicated "it's news to us. We'd certainly like to know if this is the case."

The sheriff's department, which originated the bulletin on the escapee, reported that it has been transporting prisoners directly from the county jail in Detroit to the hospital for months. These involve prisoners facing felony as well as misdemeanor charges, they said. "I couldn't tell you if any were charged with murder," a lieutenant at the jail said.

When the escape occurred, both the state police and the sheriff's department were notified by a Northville State hospital official who labeled the escapee as "dangerous". The sheriff's radio bulletin carried the additional information about the police shooting—which allegedly occurred several years ago—because a deputy recognized the escapee's name and remembered the shooting incident, a road patrol spokesman said.

He has since been apprehended, ac-

Year-Round School: Classroom Cure?

EDITOR'S NOTE — Following is the first of a series of articles on the year-round school concept, which currently is receiving a good deal of attention in Michigan as school districts face critical financial problems that ultimately can affect the education of children.

For centuries wars and education have begun in the autumn and recessed in the spring.

In our schools, that schedule, learned in Europe, fitted well to the agrarian economy of early America. In 1968, with an advanced business-industrial economy, the September-to-June school schedule is coming under serious investigation in Northville, Lapeer, and Portage, and other communities in Michigan and the nation.

Neither the interest nor the idea of year-round schools is new, although the present interest appears stronger and more widespread than before. But schools did operate year-round in several systems for a number of years (in Newark, New Jersey, Nashville, Tennessee, Aliquippa, Pennsylvania) to name a few. Most of the systems adopting the schedule did so during the first decades of this century, during the initial growth-and-development years of the high school as a part of our public education systems.

Most of these ventures were dropped, as economy measures, during the depression years. The idea never died. Today, with economic, financial, and other social features vastly different from those of the 20's, 30's, and 40's, the year-round school concept is up for examination under the new conditions.

The examination process is complicated. It allows little room for generalization, no room for hasty assumptions.

Even though the districts having experience with the year-round operation dropped the schedule as an economy measure with the onset of the depression, most contemporary proponents claim long-range financial advantages for the plan today.

In Michigan, with its system of hundreds of local districts with extreme differences in enrollment size, growth rate and prospects, and need for new construction any financial advantages might also differ widely.

The financial advantages claimed in one published study are linked to the four-quarter system (usually four 12-week semesters) that in effect reduces enrollment by 25 per cent by having only 75 per cent of the enrollment in school during any one quarter.

This, it is claimed, would reduce new construction needs by 25 percent. If a system regularly enrolls 4,000 pupils, with the four-quarter plan classrooms would be needed only for the 3,000 that would be enrolled in any one quarter.

See Speaking for The Record—Page 8-B

Another area of savings often mentioned is the interest a district pays when it mortgages its tax base in the bond market. Repayment of such funds by the district is in much the same manner as a family with a 30-year mortgage on its house. In the case of a $3,000,000 school house, where the $3 million is repaid over 30 years, the interest will about equal the $3 million borrowed.

Tax Date Coming Up

Deadline for payment of school and county taxes is drawing near for city property owners. Township residents have a little more time.

Valentine's Day, February 14, is the last day that tax bills may be paid without penalty. Township deadline is February 29.

Collection penalty after the deadline is four per cent plus one-half of one per cent per month. All tax collections are turned over to the county in March.

City and township residents are paying their winter tax bills at about the same rate. In the township Treasurer Alex Lawrence reports collections of $502,746 out of a total roll of $861,619, or a collection percentage to date of 58 per cent. In the city $435,428 has been collected. The total roll is $789,447, or a 55 per cent collection.

City Eyes New Assessing Rules

Next Monday night the Northville city council has scheduled a "roll-up-the-sleeves" work session.

Up for discussion and, hopefully determination, is the city's policy for street improvement assessments.

Soon to embark upon a street paving program that may include Taft road, North Center, Grace, Carpenter, Horton and Hill this year, and a dozen or more streets in the near future, the council is wrestling with the problem of how much assessment to charge.

In 1961 the council determined that it must initiate some form of special assessment, or raise taxes, if the city were to improve its streets.

Traditionally, the council has maintained a relatively low millage rate (now 9.2 mills despite legal power to levy as much as 20 mills without a vote). It was the council decision in 1961 to attempt to continue the low millage levy while assessing a portion of the street improvement costs to the abutting property owners.

A 25 per cent assessment was adopted with the stipulation that it applied only in the "original" city. New subdivisions had to provide improved streets under the subdivision ordinance requirements (whether in the "new" or "old" city), while newly-annexed areas of the city would also be assessed at 100 per cent for improvements.

The perils of such a "dual" system were duly noted at the time, but the council determined that it could complete the unpaved streets in the "old" city and then adopt a 100 per cent assessment policy for all areas, new and old alike, within the city limits.

At the time it seemed a better step than increasing taxes across-the-board to all citizens.

But the council had not reckoned with North Center street. It divides the "new" and "old" city. When the first block of North Center north of Eight Mile road was paved, there was no problem. The west side (new city) was paid 100 per cent under contract by the school district. Residents of the east side (old city) paid a special assessment of 25 per cent for their half.

Now, however, the council is considering paving of North Center street northward to the city limits. And the law clearly states that property owners on the same street cannot be assessed at different rates for the same improvement.

Should both sides be assessed 25 per cent, or 100 per cent?

When the improvement of Center street came before the council Monday night, Councilman Wallace Nichols said, "I think we ought to hold up until we agree on the percentage of assessment. It's imprudent to consider a resolution tonight."

"I agree, just so we get it at it and face up to a decision on the matter," echoed Councilman Del Black.

Mayor A. M. Allen set the stage for a Monday night work session: "whatever our decision, it should be applicable to the entire city," he stated.

It's known that there are varying attitudes on the matter of assessments within the council.

They range from strong support for complete 100 per cent assessments to none at all. It's acknowledged that the latter could not be realized without a substantial tax increase, and those opposing a tax hike maintain that abutting properties receive the biggest benefit from improvements and therefore should pay special assessments.

How high?

Perhaps a compromise can be reached next Monday evening.

Meanwhile, the council instructed the city manager to formally notify the board of education of plans to pave Taft road from Eight Mile road to the city limits.

As matters now stand, the city plans to charge all property owners along Taft road at a rate of 100 per cent. Four private property owners are involved in addition to the junior high school and the Thompson-Brown company, land developers.

According to City Manager Frank Ollendorff the class A concrete road planned for Taft will cost some $10 per foot less than the normal residential street with curbs and gutters. He estimated the per foot cost at $16.70, making the Thompson-Brown assessment $57,000, the school's $7,500 and the private property owners' from a low of $1,450 to a high of $6,370.

Township Wins Mobile Home Suit

Wayne County Circuit Judge George T. Martin ruled this week that Northville township's residential zoning of a 50-acre parcel at Beck and Six Mile roads is "reasonable" thereby denying a petition requiring issuance of a permit for a mobile home park.

The suit was filed by Charles and James Lapham, Rodney Grover and Gilbert Pearson, promoters of the proposed Aaron Valley mobile home village.

Testimony was heard in late November by Judge Martin, who later visited the site with attorneys for the plaintiffs and the township.

In upholding the township's R-2 (single family residential) zoning Judge Martin said: "primarily, the question involved here is whether R-2 zoning of plaintiffs' property is unconstitutional and confiscatory. On this point, this court declares that under the facts and testimony, and the viewing of the property and its general area, plaintiffs have not sustained their burden of proof and judgment is rendered of No Cause for Action, and a writ is denied."

The township was represented in court by Attorney John Ashton, while the mobile home promoters were represented by Phillip Dexter.

Trial was held over a four-day period in late November and the final briefs were submitted January 14.

The request to develop the mobile home community dates back to 1966. A public hearing to obtain rezoning for the project attracted a capacity audience at the community building. The rezoning was denied and a building permit refused. The development proposed a community of 275 mobile home units at an estimated cost of $650,000.

The 50-acre site on the northwest corner of Beck and Six Mile borders the gravel mining operation of the A. M. Thomson company. In testimony it was pointed out that mining has been carried on for 20 years, could extend another 25 years, and that negotiations have been conducted with the Wayne County Road Commission for use of the property as a land fill operation.

Thomson testified, however, that the land could be rehabilitated for use as a "first class residence subdivision."

In Judge Martin's written findings it was noted that residential areas bordering the mining operation, yet there was sharp conflict of expert opinion as to the potential use of the 50-acre site. An expert for the plaintiffs stated that "residential construction financing would be impossible," while George Villan, planner for the township, testified that the adjacent gravel mined area would be redeemed, that residences are built near mined-out areas elsewhere, and that as an adviser to banks and builders he would recommend the property as a feasible and practical investment.

In his personal inspection of the site Judge Martin said he "found that the topography tended to shield from pedestrian view the mining gravel operation ... and that unlike most parcels in the general area, it was advantaged

Live it Up:

Bet A Million

Plenty of fun and excitement are promised Saturday night as the Northville Jaycees hold their second annual Millionaire's Party at the American Legion building here.

The gala event, which will begin at 8 p.m. and wind up at midnight, will feature door prizes and an auction in addition to a variety of games.

Tickets may be secured from any member of the Jaycee chapter or by calling either FI 9-0111 or FI 9-1617. Monies raised by Jaycees will be used to offset cost of civic projects throughout the remainder of the year.

by on-site sanitary sewer facilities, natural storm draining afforded by a scenic brook flowing through the property, and municipal water sources adjacent to the property."

The Judge further commented that "visually inspected, the property and the area had a more dimensional, a more proportional, and a more attractive look than was presented by either party during the trial."

Judge Martin referred to supreme court rulings that zoning ordinances "must be reasonable, and its reasonableness is the test of its validity". He further noted that each zoning case

Last Chance To Buy Driver's Licenses Here

Saturday marks the last day of operation for the Northville driver's license bureau, Police Chief Samuel Elkins reminded area residents this week.

Northville officials decided in January to abandon the service because of mounting costs and because increased licensing business has begun to interfere with more important police matters.

After Saturday, Northville residents living in Oakland county as well as Novi and Wixom residents may secure licenses at Farmington, while those Northville residents living in Wayne county may obtain licenses in Livonia.

The Farmington office is located at 23342 Farmington road in the shopping plaza. Normal hours are noon to 8:30 p.m. on Monday, and Tuesday through Friday, 8:30 a.m. to 5 p.m.

In Livonia, the office is located at 32646 Five Mile road, a few blocks east of Farmington road. Hours are 8:30 a.m. to 5 p.m. on Monday, Tuesday, Wednesday and Friday, and on Thursday the office remains open until 8:30 p.m.

Clean Up Efforts Win Honors Again

For the second successive year Northville has earned a citation in the National Clean Up contest. This year the community is being presented with a Distinguished Achievement Award for "highly successful clean up and beautification activities for towns of under 25,000 population."

The presentation will be announced at the national Cleanest Town conference February 18-20 in Washington, D.C.

According to Mrs. Beatrice Carlson, Northville councilwoman and head of Northville's beautification project, Northville will be one of 30 cities among several hundred competing to be so honored.

The award, she added, represents a "step up" from last year's honorable mention. The previous citation, she said, "meant we were trying ... this year's Distinguished Achievement Award means that our program is working."

She stressed that the award means that Northville is not just clean but also has a year-round program with health and safety ordinances. Mrs. Carlson added that her commission plans to increase its activities in such areas as working with local schools which already have programs to keep rooms and halls clean.

"This award," she emphasized, "belongs to the citizens of Northville, not any commission, for it is the citizens and businessmen who have been painting and improving their homes and buildings."

Wedding Bells Ring Twice

A double wedding ceremony — a rarity in Northville — united in marriage Saturday morning two close cousins and two Novi brothers.

The altar of Northville First Presbyterian church was decorated with arrangements of white gladioli and mums for the 10 a.m. ceremony at which the Reverend Lloyd Brasure read the marriage vows of Peggy Ellen Gibson and Paul Victor Carter and Barbara June Landau and Jack W. Carter, Jr.

This was the first double ceremony performed by Mr. Brasure and also, so far as records determine, the first in the history of the church.

A reception followed in the church social hall for 100 guests from Michigan, Kentucky and Tennessee.

Barbara is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Edward Landau, 201 Fairbrook, and Peggy is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John H. Gibson, Sr., 44420 West Six Mile road. The bridegrooms are sons of Mr. and Mrs. Jack W. Carter, Sr., 40960 Ten Mile road.

The brides are the young granddaughters of Mrs. Beatrice Carlson, Northville councilwoman. They and their husbands all are Northville high school graduates.

Landau-Carter

Jacksonville, Florida, will be the home of the former Barbara June Landau as her husband, Jack W. Carter, Jr., is stationed in the U.S. Naval Air Service there. It was his military leave that determined the date for the double ceremony.

As she was given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a white A-line gown of lace over satin. The long sleeves extended in points over the wrists. Her shoulder veil of illusion was held in place by a crown of seed pearls and crystal medallions, which matched that worn by her cousin. She carried a long spray arrangement of white gladioli and mums with red roses.

Paula Pruett of Oak Ridge, Tennessee, was honor maid in a gown of aqua chiffon over taffeta. She carried yellow mums and blue iris. Her father, Roy Pruett, was best man with Eddie Landau, Dave Velinski and Douglas Earl ushering.

The bride's mother wore a rose chiffon dress fashioned in empire lines with matching satin trim. A loose chiffon coat completed the ensemble. Her accessories were pink-and-white, complementing the bridegroom's mother's blue crepe dress.

For her wedding trip to Kentucky and Tennessee the new Mrs. Jack Carter changed to a green brocade A-lined dress.

Girl Scout Think Day Coming Up

An international theme will be carried out in the annual Thinking Day program for all Northville-area Girl Scouts to be held from 9 to 11 a.m. Saturday, February 17, in the scout-recreation building.

About 200 scouts are expected from all Brownie, Cadet, Junior and Senior troops in Northville.

A highlight of the ceremonies will be a flag-raising with the American flag and an international flag raised at 9:15 a.m. Weather permitting, this will be outdoors.

Girl Scout Think Day, which actually is February 22, marks the birthdays of Lord and Lady Baden-Powell. Lord Powell originated the Boy Scout movement in Europe, and his sister, the Girl Guides. Therefore, this date is used by the Girl Scouts to make themselves and others aware of world events.

Mrs. Richard Brown, leader of Cadet Troop 371 which is in charge of this year's arrangements, said the girls plan to emphasize that scouting is one way that every member of a girl scout troop can contribute to world understanding for the movement is international with world-wide ties.

Scout sayings translated into 14 languages will form the decorative theme for the meeting. Junior troops are baking foreign cookies to be served with cocoa.

Gibson-Carter

For her marriage to Paul Carter Peggy Ellen Gibson wore a bouffant gown of silk organza, its elbow-length belled sleeves fashioned of lace. Sequin and pearl garlands adorned the skirt and train. A seed-pearl crown held her fingertip veil of illusion. She carried a crescent bouquet of white gladioli and mums centered with yellow roses.

The yellow accent was repeated in the gown of her maid of honor, Debbie Carter. The yoke, and sleeves were of white lace. The gown was of taffeta with chiffon overlay. She carried a bouquet of blue iris and melon-tinted mums.

Paul Hill of Knoxville, Tennessee, was best man with Douglas Earl, Edward Landau and Dave Velinski ushering.

The bride's mother wore an A-line dress of yellow lace for the wedding while the bridegroom's mother chose blue crepe.

For a wedding trip to Kentucky and Tennessee Peggy changed to a yellow knit dress. On return they will make their home in Milford.

BIRTHS

Mr. and Mrs. Richard Norton, 325 Ely drive south, announce the birth of a son, Donald James, January 31. The baby, born at St. Mary hospital, weighed 8 pounds, 14 ounces.

He joins four brothers and a sister at home.

The baby's father is assistant principal at the Ida B. Cooke junior high school. Grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. Phil Norton of Monroe and Mr. and Mrs. James Chase of Kalamazoo.

In Our Town

By JEAN DAY

NEXT WEEK must be a high point of winter activity in Northville. With Town Hall, Rotary travelogue, three annual meetings and at least three club meetings, TV dinners may "rescue" more than one busy clubwoman. They may be forgiven, though, as this also is the week of Valentine's Day.

Northville branch of the Michigan Farm and Garden association opens the week with a guest day meeting at 12:30 p.m. Monday in the social hall of First Presbyterian church.

Norman Ruehr, whose family operates Heide's Flowers in Plymouth, is to speak on house plants. He will include unusual varieties that can be grown at home and is to bring examples. Introducing him will be Mrs. C. W. Whittlesey, program chairman.

It will be a dessert meeting with Mrs. Keith Wright in charge of arrangements, assisted by Mrs. William Wiley, Mrs. M. L. Hoystradt, Mrs. Warner Krause and Mrs. William Crump.

NORTHVILLE STATE hospital auxiliary is celebrating its tenth anniversary with an annual birthday party luncheon at 12:30 p.m. Tuesday in the hospital cafeteria. A special guest will be Dr. E. Gordon Yudashkin, medical superintendent of the hospital.

Mrs. L. M. Eaton, auxiliary president, also has made plans to honor charter members of the auxiliary. She is being assisted by Mrs. J. J. Sugrue and Mrs. Charles Ratliff.

The auxiliary was begun in 1952, just six years after the hospital opened. Through the years auxiliary members have given patient parties, operated a gift shop and a cart service to patients confined to wards and contributed substantially to such needs as the indigent patient fund (presently at the rate of $50 monthly) as well as to the current chapel project.

In January the auxiliary added $600 to the chapel fund, bringing the total to $2,300. In December $500 was donated to the patient benefit fund.

Known as a "working" auxiliary, the group seems destined to expand as Dr. Yudashkin points out the increasing need for individual volunteer-to-patient relationships under new hospital programs.

MOTHERS' CLUB marathon bridge scores are being announced this week as the benefit play has passed the January mid-point. Leading both day and evening groups with a score of 17,710 are Mrs. Charles Fountain and Mrs. Benjamin Kline. They are in daytime group No. 3.

Leading the other day-playing groups are Mrs. Paul Hughes and Mrs. Robert Lang, 16, 130 group No. 1; and Mrs. F. F. Ishac and Mrs. Waldren, 16,360, group No. 2.

Evening-play leaders are Mr. and Mrs. Alex Johnson, 14,670, group No. 3; Mr. and Mrs. Glenn Jordan, 14,650, group No. 4; Mr. and Mrs. Lewis Moon, 13,320, group No. 5; and Mr. and Mrs. Fred Laird, 14,970, group No. 6. Leaders in the two duplicate evening bridge groups are Mr. and Mrs. James McCormick and Mr. and Mrs. Paul Butz.

Mrs. Bernard Bach, marathon chairman, reports that a complete list of scores through January is being mailed to all marathon players. She reminds players that May 25 has been set as the final date for marathon play with all games to be completed by then. Monies raised in the marathon play, she said, will be presented to the Northville schools in May.

DUTCH JOURNALIST Willem Oltmans has confirmed that he will be here to talk on world trouble spots at the third Town Hall of the current season at 11 a.m. next Thursday in the P & A Theatre. (TH officers had been concerned that he might be called to cover overseas crises.)

Theatre ushers for the day are Miss Ruth Knapp, Mrs. Donald Boor, Mrs. Nelson Hyatt, Mrs. Alex Nelson and Mrs. Eugene Kayler. Luncheon hostesses at the Mayflower Meeting House are Mrs. Wilson Tyler, Mrs. Joseph Fiorilli and Mrs. J. Thomas Handy. Mrs. Philip Wegeng will be official hostess to the speaker, Mrs. Robert Brueck, TH chairman, said this week.

LANDSCAPING IDEAS will be presented Northville Newcomer club members, husbands and guests in a slide presentation by Mike Hunt, landscape architect from Green Ridge nursery at the February meeting at 7:45 p.m. next Thursday at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Alfons List, 21875 Novi road.

A question-and-answer session is to follow with refreshments.

Last year Green Ridge nursery was awarded first prize for design and construction of landscapes in the estate-size category in the Michigan Association of Nurserymen's competition.

The program is being arranged by the Newcomers' gardening group with all members and any interested area residents invited to attend. Reservations are asked for by Monday. They are to be made with Mrs. William Bates, 349-1151.

Newcomers may obtain discount tickets for the Detroit builders, home furnishings and flower show February 17-25 at Cobo Hall. They must be purchased in advance from Mrs. Bates, Mrs. Thomas Handy, Mrs. Kent Mathes, Mrs. Joseph Keese, Mrs. Alfred Lanphar and Mrs. List.

HOW DOES NORTHVILLE'S — and Michigan's — Junior Miss of 1968, Pam Smith, daughter of the Myrn Smiths, differ from the average, pert, pretty senior high school girl?

As Pam won the circlet, state crown and the local tiara last month, her mother detailed this blonde young lady's singleness of purpose: she intends to be an actress and winning titles helps such a career.

With a solid background of studies in drama, piano, organ, ballet and singing as well as an outstanding scholastic record, Pam now is going confidently to national competition in Mobile, Alabama, next month.

While other high school friends were traveling to Europe during summer vacations, her mother recalls, Pam was taking summer drama courses at Northwestern university in Chicago, and the year before, at Michigan State.

Pam is the Smiths' only daughter. She has a brother, Lieutenant J.G. Frank Smith serving with the U.S. Navy in Maine.

Already, the Smiths are finding that a national contestant in an event as major as the Jaycee-sponsored contest no longer belongs solely to her family. She will have an official chaperone accompany her to Alabama and will not see her family during the contest judging. Even in the state contest in Pontiac Pam was quartered with an official host and did not see her parents from Thursday through Sunday night.

To pack in the bright red luggage that is one of her state prizes, she will need two additional pairs of long white gloves and the white gown in which she became Michigan Junior Miss will require a hemline alteration. She already has had her blonde hair styled by Junior Miss professionals for the "best hair-do she's ever had," according to her admiring father.

The trophy, scholarships, flowers and gifts Pam has accepted with the assurance of a queen, but one unexpected tribute especially delights and amuses: she is being asked for autographs.

Eye Year-Round School

Any possible reduction in new construction coupled with savings on interest is one feature most intriguing to those studying the four-quarter plan.

How would the four-quarter plan work in practice?

The most drastic change is that some students and their teachers would be in school for a summer quarter. This summer quarter would be populated with the one out of every four students who is on vacation during either the fall, winter, or spring quarter. In this respect, considerable experience and success with similar schedules by colleges and universities effectively rebuts many arguments about resistance from students and teachers to participate in a summer quarter.

It is the summer quarter that most studies on the topic regard as the most formidable barrier to serious consideration of year-round operations. One report relates this problem to the negative response most school administrators have given in the past. Several reliable studies have documented this lack of enthusiasm on the part of administrators.

A survey in 1955 by "The Nations Schools," a magazine serving the school administrative profession, found 72-percent of those questioned giving an unfavorable response.

Five years later, in 1960, the American Association of School Administrators reported that "more school systems each year seem to be moving in the direction of extending the school program into the summer months." The report was noting the growing number of schools having summer sessions for elective or remedial study ranging from four to 10 weeks.

Most of the reports on the four-quarter plan comment on the traditional American practice of vacationing during the summer months as too ingrained to provide for substantial acceptance of the plan. Geography might then be a factor. Two schools in Florida now operating on an 11-month schedule reported having 4,000 applications for a 780 capacity.

Concern about athletic programs also is mentioned frequently as an area that must be dealt with to the satisfaction of coaches, students and the public. Most of those urging serious consideration of the plan suggest that provisions could be made for some permissiveness about attendance that would cover such things as participation in sports and not interfering with a family's vacation by having one of the children in school and others not in attendance.

The superintendent of schools at Lapeer, Clyde Schickler, had this response to possible difficulty about which students would be in school for which quarters. "You can always be negative. Things can be worked out if you want them to."

His comments came when the Lapeer board of education recently proposed a 12-month school year to the education committee of the Michigan House of Representatives.

The report included the following claims for the schedule:

Decrease overcrowding or reduce need for additional facilities;

Maximum utilization of special (expensive) shops, labs, art rooms;

Annual operating costs will go up about 33 percent with teachers working entire year;

Maintenance costs are higher; Administrative costs and fixed charges (insurance) remain same.

The Lapeer report stated: "A change to the quarter plan would mean a drastic change in the attitude of all people. It can work, but the community must be willing to accept the change or it would result in misunderstanding, chaos and confusion."

Another figure active on the school scene in Michigan combined the educational and financial viewpoint in commenting on the increasing interest in the year-round plan in Michigan. Dr. Ray Kehoe, associate director of the Bureau of School Services at the University of Michigan, tied the plan to shortages of teachers in some fields and rising teachers' salaries.

"During the next five years we're going to increase teachers' salaries 30 percent. We might as well have these teachers on a longer work schedule and take advantage of their abilities, either by teaching or working on materials and curriculum to improve the school's program."

Head-on Crash Injures Seven

An auto crash that sent seven young people to the hospital for treatment and brought drunk-driving charges against a Walled Lake man headed the list of highway violence investigated by Novi police last week.

In a head-on collision in front of 1349 East Lake drive, Michael Solar, 19, of Farmington and seven passengers ranging in age from 16 to 22 narrowly escaped serious injury when their car was struck by a car driven by Estell Hinkle, 3268 Pontiac Trail, Walled Lake.

Hinkle and his lone passenger, Dan Martin, of the same address, complained of slight pain but refused medical attention after being shaken up in the crash that demolished both cars, according to Novi police.

According to the police report, Solar was traveling south on East Lake drive about 12:50 a.m. Saturday. He saw Hinkle's car, traveling north, cross into his lane. Solar and his passengers stated that Solar slowed almost to a stop as the distance narrowed. The cars met head on in Solar's lane, police said.

Three young women and three young men with Solar were treated at Farmington's Botsford hospital for cuts and bruises.

A breath test was administered to Hinkle under Michigan's new implied consent law at the county jail and a charge of driving while under the influence of alcohol was filed against him. He is scheduled to appear in Novi justice court today.

In another accident two Walled Lake men were treated at Botsford hospital after crashing through a picket fence and striking a tree in front of the William B. Chase property at 43300 Eight Mile road.

Carroll A. Stieringer, 1622 Lakeview, and his passenger, Gerald A. Serravello, were injured when their vehicle, traveling on Griswold, missed the stop sign at Eight Mile, went out of control, crossed the roadway and was halted by a tree after crashing through a picket fence.

According to Novi police, Stieringer said he had been working long hours and may have fallen asleep. He and Serravello had just completed a midnight shift at a factory near Plymouth.

Stieringer was ticketed for failure to stop at a stop sign.

CD INSTRUCTION-William Burrell, Jr., state CD coordinator for Michigan Technological university, gives area officials some life-saving tips aimed at boosting community awareness of what can be done to avoid loss of life in the event of a nuclear war.

20 Area Officials Get CD Training

Twenty Northville municipal, school and area institution officials are to receive family and personal survival certificates for completion of a special Civil Defense course conducted here.

The 20 persons were selected for the course because of their connection with facilities that carry CD survival shelters. They are:

Fred Holdsworth, Raymond Spear, Robert Stafford (since resigned), Donald Vaningen, Richard Norton, H. B. Smith, Milton Jacob, and Earl Busard of the Northville school system; Frank Ollendorff and Herman Hartner of the city government; Sisters Jeannie Therese, Joan William, Francis Patrice and Francis Dominic of Our Lady of Victory; Charles McQueen and Joan Lee, R.N., of Northville State Hospital; Lee Brimhall of Plymouth State Home & Training School; Eugene Harris of Maybury Sanitarium; and Rosalie Bales and Sister Janet D.S.M.P. of Our Lady of Providence school.

Taking part in the program here was Herbert Lee, regional civil defense staff coordinator, William Siebert, assistant civil defense director for Wayne county, and Eugene Guido, training director for Wayne county civil defense participated in the training course here.

Instructor for the course was William Burrell, Jr., state civil defense coordinator.

The free course is conducted through Michigan Technological university under a contract with the Federal Department of Health, Education and Welfare. The program is for the purpose of educating the public on how to survive during natural and nuclear disasters.

The 12-hour course is a survey of the entire national civil defense program as it relates to the states the local communities. It places particular stress on radioactive fallout because previous experience with this program in other states has indicated that the general public has developed several misconceptions about the effects of radioactive fallout.

"Experts in the field of nuclear activity," he said, "estimate that at best we have one chance in 10 of survival in case of nuclear war. But, if our citizens will prepare themselves, our chances for survival can be increased to eight out of 10."

Under a related program also conducted under the sponsorship of MTU, a 15-hour training session is offered to teachers who, upon completion, may receive $60 for each 12-hour course they conduct for the public.

In other words, the qualified teacher will be paid for teaching citizens about the same kind of CD information that was taught local area officials by Burrell.

According to Mrs. Edward C. Kelly, Northville area chairman for the foundation, volunteers are needed in every phase of volunteer aid if work which serves 370 cancer patients in the area is to be continued.

Volunteers are needed to transport cancer patients for treatment, present programs in schools and to service groups, write publicity for newspapers, work in the foundation unit office at 1112 North Telegraph road at Wilson in Dearborn and help prepare dressings for cancer patients.

Anyone wishing to help is asked to call the foundation office, which is open from 10 a.m. to 4 p.m. Monday through Friday, Phone 565-1440.

Kurt D. Kinde In WM Play

Kurt D. Kinde, son of Rev. and Mrs. S. D. Kinde of Northville, will appear in an experimental theatre program for children in the new Shaw Experimental Theatre at Western Michigan university on February 6 through 10.

Prepared and directed by Mrs. Lyda Hausenluck, speech department faculty member, it will be a departure from conventional children's theatre in two respects: first, some of the material was designed for adults; and second, both the actors and the audience will help create the program.

Because of its unusual nature, the WMU experimental theatre presentation is not open to either university students or the general public.

Kurt, whose parents live at 139 West Dunlap, is a freshman at Western Michigan, majoring in speech. He is a member of the university's Wesley Players, Western Players and Ski club.

A 1967 graduate of Northville high school, his previous stage performance took place in high school.

School Seeks Maybury Site

A letter to the Detroit planning commission from the Northville school, requesting sale or donation of Maybury Sanitarium property for a future school site, was sent out last week.

According to Business Manager Earl Busard, the request is based upon local consensus that the 550 acres comprising the Maybury property eventually will be developed residentially. On the basis of Northville township's zoning-dwelling density, he said, development of the property could mean 1,800 school students.

Busard had met with a representative of the Detroit commission prior to sending the letter. However, he emphasized that the Detroit spokesman did not commit himself as to Detroit's plans for the property.

The business manager noted that plans for establishment of a job training center at Maybury have been shelved because of a cutback in federal funds to Detroit.

The school's letter to Detroit asks for disclosure of that city's intended use for the property and that Detroit enter into an "option, agreement of sale, or an outright dedication" with the Northville school system for sufficient school site acreage.

The letter also states: "We would like also to restate our request that the City of Detroit give serious consideration to our request for a temporary loan or permission for our school district, as well as the citizens of Northville, to use a portion of the former children's ward and surrounding grounds as a science field stations well as a nature-study area."

Investigation by the school, the letter says, shows that (1) the property plays a vital role in overall development of the school district; (2) the entire property was at one time put up for sale by Detroit; (3) modern medical techniques apparently will make a TB sanitarium outdated in the very near future; (4) current trends in the Office of Economic Opportunity appropriations indicate little likelihood that Maybury will be further developed as a suburban training site; and (5) urban renewal funds have not been forthcoming for development of so-called satellite cities situated some 30 to 35 miles from the center city.

On the basis of this information, school officials conclude that "in all probability your property will eventually be developed for residential use."

Boys Observe Win Openers

A week-end camp-out and a youth dinner are among local events falling during the 58th anniversary of the Boy Scouts of America marked officially by Boy Scout Week, February 7 to 13.

Following the theme, "Scouting Rounds a Guy Out," the anniversary celebration also marks the golden anniversary year of the Clinton Valley Council in which local troops and packs are among 127 troops and 125 packs in the council.

This year's scouting goal, according to Edward H. Leland, the council's scout executive, is to enroll one of every four American boys in a Cub Scout pack, Boy Scout troop or Explorer post.

Patrol leaders of Boy Scout Troop 731, sponsored by Northville First Methodist church, are planning the camp-out this weekend in the vicinity of South Lyon on the property of Scout Leader Howard Wright.

Monday the troop held a Court of Honor at the church. High point of the evening was the presentation of the rank of Eagle Scout, the highest earned rank a Boy Scout can achieve, to Chris VanEe. The presentation was made by his mother, Mrs. Betsy VanEe.

Thirty-six other awards were presented, including 11 tenderfoot badges, three first-class badges awarded to Richard Alspaugh, Kevin Pelto and Rene VanEe, and five merit badges awarded to Bryn Hartschorn, Steve Hazlett, Kevin Pelto, Richard Shank and Rene VanEe. Slide films of the 1967 Boy Scout Week Jamboree in Farragut, Idaho, were shown.

Last Saturday patrol leaders of Troop 731, accompanied by their adult leaders, participated in a 10-mile hike from Center street via Nine Mile and Haggerty roads to Eight Mile road. A detour caused by flooding at Nine Mile road added excitement to the outing, they reported.

Northville Presbyterian Men's Club which sponsors Boy Scout Troop 755 at the church is honoring boy scouts and all sons and daughters of club members at a youth dinner meeting tonight at the church.

The Boy Scout Week theme will be developed at troop meetings and in services marking the anniversary.

Jack Radcliff, Garden City police officer and member of the National Rifle association, will be the instructor.

Northville Gals Cop Opening Wins

Northville high school girls basketball team, under direction of Coach Pat Bubel, opened their season on the upbeat last week, winning the varsity game with Livonia Franklin, 32-10 and the JV contest 26-22.

They have seven games on the schedule, with four home contests giving plenty of opportunity for spectators to get acquainted with a changing scene in competitive sports for girls.

In talking about basketball and other competitive sports for girls, the coach described the changes taking place.

"When I first came to Northville, about 12 years ago, we had difficulty in finding schools to play. Now the problem is selecting teams for a schedule from all those who want contests."

The game itself is changing, according to Miss Bubel. Evolving more and more through rule changes towards the full-court game that boys play, she sees the present rule requiring two players from each team to remain in the back court as a last barrier that will soon go down.

"It's part of a change that recognizes that girls do not have the many opportunities to gain experience in behaving under stress that boys do. Yet they have the same need to gain such experience, and to enjoy the same feelings that come with testing yourself in a competitive situation."

"The 26-girl basketball squad is very enthusiastic and make good spectators, but want very much to compete," Coach Bubel said.

She described this year's varsity as an experienced team, only fair in height but having good rebounding ability. In the season opener Linda Simpson led the scoring with 16 points. Good all-around teamwork and an outstanding defensive play on the part of Sarah Bowen made the difference in the Livonia contest.

While the JV's were forced into double overtime to win their game, Coach Bubel sees the all-sophomore squad as having a good deal of promise. Sherry Laynt was high scorer with 12 points. Lynn Marci led the defense with a strong game as a defensive guard.

Drop 2 Straight Wildcats' Victory Short-Lived

Novi's taste of victory was short-lived as two Lakeland C fives came up with back-to-back victories over the Wildcats Friday and Saturday.

The Dutchmen of Manchester punched out a 91-64 victory on the Novi court Friday night while the Whitmore Lake Trojans trimmed the Wildcats, 70-47 at Whitmore Lake Saturday night.

The double loss came on the heels of Novi's long-awaited, 64-47 triumph over Bloomfield Reoper two weeks ago.

While the loss to Manchester was no welcome outing, the Wildcats performance was at least better than in the first contest between these two teams.

"They looked pretty good against Manchester - despite the score," said Coach Jim Ladd, "but I was disappointed with the play at Whitmore. We could have done better."

Three Novi players hit double figures in the Wildcats' game against Manchester, with Lee Snow leading the way with six field goals and five charity shots. Jon VanWagner was second high with 15, followed by Mark Gilbert with 10.

Novi was just one-point off the pace going into the second quarter, 16-15, but by intermission the Dutchmen had stretched their lead to 13 points, 44-31. At the three-quarter mark, the score was 76-45.

The Wildcats outscored Manchester at the free throw line, picking up 20 of their 32 shots. Manchester, which fired 40 field goals to Novi's 22, came up with 11 of its 25 free throw attempts.

Whitmore Lake, which had to hustle to down the Wildcats in its first encounter, polished off Novi with relatively little difficulty Saturday night. The Trojans led 16-9 at the end of the first quarter, 36-20 at intermission, and 53-26 at the three-quarter mark.

Only one Novi player managed to score in the devastating third stanza while Whitmore Lake tossed in 17 points.

In the final quarter, however, the Wildcats came back with 21 points. But the scoring barrage came too late to stave off defeat.

The Trojans had the edge in both field goals and free throws. They notched 26 two-pointers and came up with 18 of their 27 free throw attempts for a 67-percent average. Novi scored 16 field goals and netted 15 of its 24 free throw attempts for a 63-percent record.

VanWagner's 11 points were high for the Wildcats, followed by 10 points off the hands of Gary Boyer and 9 points by Gilbert.

Novi Hosts Ypsi

STATISTICS

Novi gets its opportunity to avenge an early season, one-point loss tomorrow night when it hosts Ypsilanti Roosevelt in what may be the Wildcats' most important home game of the season.

Still without its first victory in the Lakeland C conference, Coach Jim Ladd's five needs a triumph tomorrow to erase the stinging 44-43 loss to the Rough Riders in the first encounter.

Besides correcting that one-point loss, a win tomorrow would be a welcome tonic for players and fans as the season enters the final weeks of play.

While Novi entertains Roosevelt tomorrow, Grass Lake will be tangling with Clinton on the Redskins' court, Whitmore Lake will play at Manchester and Columbia Central at Manches- Napoleon in a non-league tilt.

In other games this past weekend, Whitmore Lake trounced Clinton, 81-68, and sent the Redskins spinning into a first place tie with Columbia Central. Columbia topped Roosevelt, 64-52 Friday night to move into first place.

On Saturday night, Columbia lost to the Grass Lake Warriors, 70 -68.

JV Five Splits Weekend Games

Novi's junior varsity quintet split its double billing this past weekend.

The junior Wildcats lost to Manchester, 67-58 Friday night but bounced back with a 52-43 last-quarter triumph over Whitmore Lake the following night.

Manchester grabbed a 16-10 first quarter lead, stretched it to 35-21 at the half and then coasted to the victory as Novi outscored the visitors in the final quarter. In that fourth quarter, Novi came up with 22 points to Manchester's 16.

Taking scoring honors for Novi was Tom Boyer with 17 points, followed by Doug Schott with 13.

Novi came up with another 22-point, last-quarter barrage against Whitmore Lake to win going away. The local five was down 12-6 at the end of the first quarter and 27-14 at the intermission.

But in the third quarter, Novi clamped a lid on the Whitmore Lake basket while scoring 16 points. The score at the end of the third quarter was 33-30, with Novi just three points off the pace.

Boyer was again the leading Novi scorer - this time with 14 points. Schott was second high with 13.

Policeman Aids Deputies Here

A Northville police officer aided two officers of the Wayne county sheriff's department who were engaged in a "struggle" with occupants of a car they had stopped in Northville early last Saturday morning.

Sergeant David LaFond was in his patrol car at a service station at Seven Mile and Northville roads about 3:20 a.m. when he observed a Wayne county patrol car halt a car nearby. The two Wayne county officers had two men and a 14-year-old girl get out of the car, leaving three other occupants in the car. The girl appeared drunk, according to the police report.

As the officers moved the trio toward their patrol car, one officer was struck by a man who attempted to grab the officer's gun. LaFond came on the scene as the officer struggled on the ground with his assailant while under attack from a woman who emerged from the car. LaFond and the county officer subdued the man, while the other county officer kept the others from the struggle.

The six, all from out of state were taken to the Northville police station and later turned over to additional Wayne county officers who were dispatched to Northville.

Unusually nice weather last Monday might have seemed like a good day for house-to-house selling, but profits might be low for two young encyclopedia salesmen.

Estes, Royal Oak, were released on $50 bond each after being charged with soliciting without a permit. The two stated they were canvassing the area to sell books for the Merit Student Encyclopedia company, Detroit.

Northville police recovered a stolen truck before it was reported stolen last week. After checking a 1966 Ford van parked on South Main, Patrolman Phillip Young found that it had been hot wired. A first registration check did not reveal the vehicle listed as stolen. A check with Redford township police did. It was picked up by representatives of the Fleet Leasing of America, Inc., Detroit. The truck had been removed from their parking area on Plymouth road.

'We've Got Your Man'

In what has to be some kind of a record for swift apprehension of a suspect, Novi police had a man in custody at the station before a complaint concerning him was reported.

Here's how: Officer Ron Arbour was on patrol Sunday night when he saw a car traveling south on Novi road at an excessive speed. The car ran a red light at Grand River and sped south on Novi with Arbour in pursuit. Exceeding 100 MPH at times, Arbour chased the car as it turned east on Nine Mile road, then south on Meadowbrook. Arbour pulled the car over on Meadowbrook about one-half mile south of Nine Mile.

Placing the driver under arrest, Arbour had the driver, George H. Knipple, Livonia, at the Novi police station, charging him with reckless driving and making arrangements to release the car to three passengers who were with Knipple when a complaint came.

It was a complaint from the Mobil station at 26950 Novi road that a motorist had driven off without paying for $5 worth of gasoline. The description of the car and occupants matched.

Knipple was lodged in Oakland county jail after being arraigned before Novi Justice Emery Jacques, Jr. and failing to post $100 bond on the reckless driving charge and $500 bond on a larceny charge.

Trojans Down Local Wrestlers

"We were a little flat and they were up, ready for some aggressive wrestling. We lost a few close matches and that, made the difference," Coach Jack Townsley said after his Mustang wrestlers lost a dual meet to Clarenceville last Thursday night by a 26-18 team score.

The meet was significant to league competition. Clarenceville now appears the favorite as the season enters the final weeks. Northville still has a chance. Clarenceville and Northville are the powers and there should be several encounters between these wrestlers in the final round of the league tournament, February 24.

The meet with the Trojans was closer than the eight-point margin indicates. Unlike horseshoes, there are no points for coming close so Clarenceville picked up nine team points in the 95, 103, and 127 weights where things could on another day go Northville's way. When Townsley says, "We have looked better," it could mean trouble for Clarenceville at the weights where contests were close.

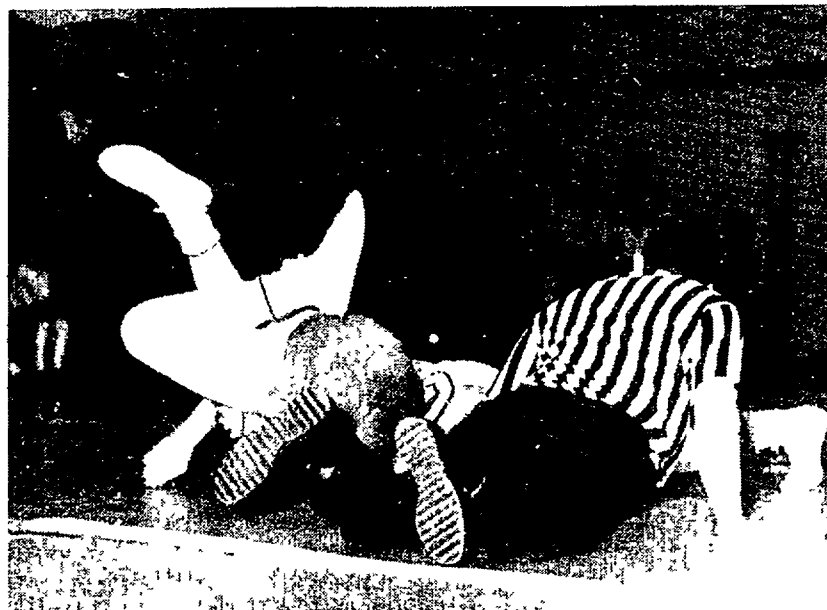

Northville lost the first two matches before Bob Baber (112) pinned his man. John Tam (120) put the Mustangs in front in team scoring with another five-point win by pin.

Then Northville's Marty Richardson and Clarenceville's Roy Wehner met again at 127 pounds. This time it went to Wehner, 2-0. The two points Wehner scored for placing Richardson in a predicament are the only points scored in 14 minutes of wrestling in the two matches this year. Each has one win, as Wehner evened the record against Richardson's overtime win at the Fenton tournament.

Curt Olewnik (133) got a decision win, beating a Clarenceville man who beat him last year. It was long way to the next win for Northville. Clarenceville won five straight matches, putting the meet out of reach before heavyweight Dan Conklin pinned his man in the final match.

There's plenty of work this week for the Mustangs. They entertain Clarkston in a dual meet tonight, then host three teams Saturday afternoon and evening in a quadrangular. Two large Class A schools, Royal Oak Kimball, Livonia Bentley, go against the Class B Mustangs and Lutheran West of Garden City.

Mustangs Regain W-O Lead; Clip Bulldogs As Lakers Lose

Two weeks ago Northville fans were groaning under the unkind tactics of the Milford Redskins who upset the Mustangs and dropped them into a two-way tie for the Wayne-Oakland lead. Last Friday the Redskins picked up another scalp but won the appreciation of local fans in the process.

The change of attitude was sparked by Milford's 47-45 upset over West Bloomfield. The Lakers' loss, coupled with Northville's easy 70-56 triumph over Brighton boosted the Mustangs back into undisputed possession of the W-O lead.

Friday's win over Brighton was the first for Coach Dave Longridge since he was promoted to the assistant principalship of the high school.

"It was probably our best defensive effort in the past two or three times out," Principal-Coach Longridge observed. "All of the boys played well, and I was pleased to see Jim Peterson back at his old form following the foot injury."

The Mustangs led 21-11 at the end of the first quarter, 39-20 at the half, and 51-41 at the end of the third quarter.

Because his cagers were well out in front at the half—primarily because of the team's pre-game strategy of applying pressure, Longridge called only a couple of time-outs in the final two quarters, even though a Brighton threat in the third stanza momentarily chopped Northville's lead to nine points.

"We went out to apply pressure early—steal the ball and press them into mistakes. It worked fairly well. The boys played well—even the substitutes, so I saw no reason to slow down the pace."

Northville's first eight points came off the Bulldogs' mistakes.

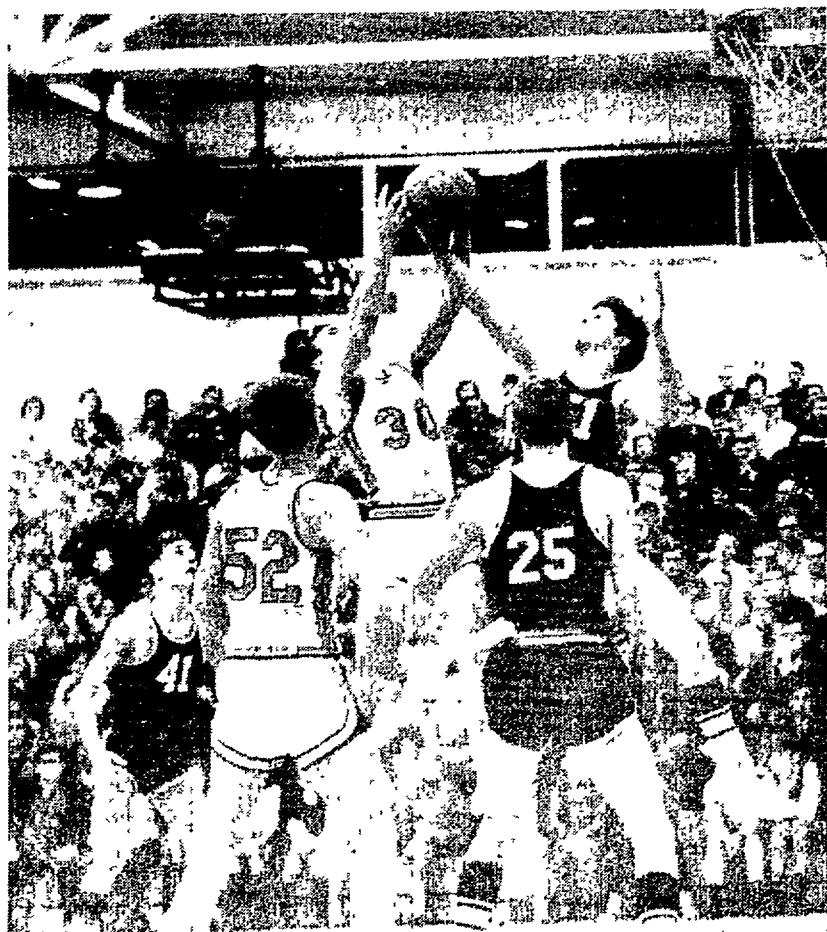

Ten Northville players notched a point or more. Leading the way was Peterson with 23, followed by Randy Pohlman with 11. Dave Brooks, with 15, and John Perry, with 14, were high-point men for Brighton.

In the final analysis, it was Northville's record at the free throw line that spelled the biggest difference in the score. The Mustangs potted 26 of its 34 shots for a 76-percent record, while Brighton came in with 14 of 23 for 60-percent.

Northville scored 22 field goals, Brighton 21. And the host team, Northville, was nicked for 20 fouls, Brighton 25.

The Mustangs hit 34-percent of their 64 field goal attempts. They were led by the 50-percent effort of Peterson who came up with six two-pointers in 12 attempts. Peterson also was tops in rebounding, snagging eight offensive rebounds and five on defense. Team-wise, the Mustangs picked up 18 defensive rebounds, 23 offensive rebounds.

Clarkston Hosts Northville Friday

"Clarkston is always tough—but we always seem to play well against them."

That's the way Coach Dave Longridge envisioned tomorrow's contest with the Wolves as he pushed his cagers through another week of drills.

"If we want the title, we'll have to fight for it. None of the other teams in the league will let us have it without a good scrap. The chips are on the line."

Clarkston proved last week that it's not to be taken lightly. The Wolves clipped third-place Clarenceville, 63-60, after holding off a Trojan rally late in the game.

At one point in the game, Clarkston led Clarenceville 30-13.

In other league action Friday night, Holly knocked off Bloomfield Hills—tied for third with Clarenceville—by a score of 59-51.

Besides Northville's game at Clarkston tomorrow, the Barons will host Clarenceville, Holly invades Milford, and title-contender West Bloomfield travels to Brighton.

Next week Clarkston plays at Holly, Bloomfield Hills at Northville, Clarenceville at West Bloomfield, and Brighton at Milford.

Colts Share JV Lead

Northville's junior varsity five defeated Brighton 68-50 here Friday night.

For the Colts the most important part of the game was the period between halves. Trailing 36-26 at the half, after Brighton racked up 25 points in the second quarter to 12 for Northville, Coach Bob Kucher had his men ready to play basketball after the intermission.

The Colts hit five straight field goals to tie the score 36-36, kept it going with four more to pull eight points ahead before Brighton got a basket. That was the ball game, as the Colts seized and kept control of game. The Colts outscored the Bulldogs 27-4 in the third quarter, 15-10 in the final.

It was a big win for Kucher's team. It wiped out an earlier one-point defeat the Colts suffered at Brighton and put the Colts in a first-place tie. Northville and Brighton JV's are 7-2 in league play with five games to go.

"It was balanced scoring, along with a little extra desire and determination in the third quarter that made our press doubly effective," Kucher said.

Terry Mills and Ron Hubbard each hit for 19 points. Mills had five field goals and nine of 10 tries from the line. Hubbard had seven from the field and five of 10 from the line. Fred Holdsworth was the third man in double figures, getting 12 points on six field goals.

Under New Admissions Plan Hospital Goes to Patients

Under Wayne county's revised admissions program Northville State hospital since July, 1967, has been receiving its share of patients from west of Woodward avenue in Detroit apportioned on census lines and from the Wayne county portion of Northville, Livonia, Plymouth and Redford township.

Other Wayne county hospitals accepting their share of mental patients are Wayne county general, Ypsilanti and Detroit Psychiatric Institute (this embraces the former Detroit Receiving and Herman Kiefer hospitals.)

Dr. E. Gordon Yudashkin, medical superintendent, has divided admissions within the hospital into catchment areas according to community, each with its own in-hospital treatment center and hospital staff members assigned to the area.

This points up a basic change in treatment procedure, planned to provide closer patient-staff contact with a definite follow-up program with the same staff social workers when a patient returns to the community.

In a staff-team concept consultants will work with churches, schools and police in patients' home communities to help them in a return to normal living.

Except for forensic (criminal) patients who are housed in units where attendants take maximum security precautions, new patients will be assigned to units representing their geographic area.

Criminally Insane

cording to Dr. Yudashkin, and committed to Ionia.

Dr. Yudashkin, who indicated that all escaped criminally insane persons are labeled "dangerous" by his hospital regardless of the crime, said the hospital does house murderers, although these cases may not be as serious as those commonly referred to as murders by the public. A woman who has killed one of her children in a fit of passion is an example of the kind of person Northville might house.

He said 28 criminally insane persons have been admitted to Northville since July. They are being treated, he said, with patients who have been there for some time, mostly in "L" and "O" buildings where they can be watched more closely.

Despite the fact that these persons require closer supervision and special handling, Northville has received no additional funds to provide for their care and supervision, he said. There are no bars on windows or doors.

He predicted an increase in escapes from the hospital as a result of treatment here of criminally insane, pointing out that these patients must cross the hospital grounds from one building to another to reach the eating area. Last year's escapees total hit 92. The previous year it was 119.

According to Dr. Stehman, two kinds of criminally insane are referred to Northville: those who have been judged too mentally incompetent to stand trial and those who have been convicted in court but who have been judged incompetent.

Once a patient, who has not yet been tried, is found to be mentally competent again, he is returned to court to stand trial, he said.

Competency, he said, is diagnosed at Ypsilanti in the state's new forensic screening center. It is at Ypsilanti where

Mental Patients Increased at Jail

Wayne county officials are searching for solutions to a growing problem of mentally disturbed prisoners in the county jail.

Sheriff Peter L. Buback, who runs the jail, attributes the problem to four factors: a lack of proper facilities for care of disturbed prisoners, an influx of such prisoners from Ionia State hospital, a shortage of jail guards, and general overcrowding at the jail.

The problem has been underscored by three suicides at the jail in recent weeks. The latest occurred last weekend in spite of the fact that Buback has assigned three guards to special around-

Missing Teens Return Home

Five teenagers reported missing last week Wednesday were located two days later - two of them in Detroit and three others in Florida.

Parents of two Northville girls, ages 14 and 15, located their daughters in a rooming house in Detroit where they had apparently been driven by a Northville boy, police said. One of the girls reportedly called home on the day they turned up missing to say she would be "late" in arriving home.

In an unrelated missing report, three teenage boys - one from the city and two from the township - turned up at a relative's home in Florida, police said, after being reported missing on the same day as the girls.

According to the Wayne county sheriff's department, the parents of the boys will be called in for questioning. No charges are likely to be filed against them, a juvenile division spokesman said.

As for the two girls, Police Chief Samuel Elkins said police investigation is continuing and any juvenile court action against the girls or the boy involved hinges on the outcome of this investigation.

officials determine whether a patient is unmanageable and should be committed to Ionia. "Dangerous" cases are subject to review at Lansing, he added.

As case loads get heavier, Dr. Stehman admitted, it is likely that other state hospitals, perhaps Northville, may eventually perform the pre-trial examinations now conducted at Ypsilanti.

The law that resulted in the treatment of criminally insane outside of Ionia is a "lousy one", declared Dr. Yudashkin. An outgrowth of investigations at Ionia, the law is aimed at ending a practice of committing a patient for many years without first being tried in court for his alleged crime. While there is ample justification for some new procedure to ensure a patient's rights, said Dr. Yudashkin, the new law "does not get at the malignancy. It just spreads it to other hospitals."

He said his staff may find that an alleged criminal has regained his faculties but that months may pass before the screening center at Ypsilanti and officials at Lansing agree to return him to the court.

Ironically, the screening center was allotted many thousands of dollars to screen and care for patients for about two weeks, while Northville received no additional funds for caring for the same patients for a year or more, he noted.

Dr. Yudashkin said the Northville hospital is receiving criminally insane at a greater rate than any other hospital in the state. It is difficult to determine if all live in the Northville hospital's service area because of questionable addresses, he said.

Dr. Stehman said Northville is receiving about the same number as any other hospital "give or take a few." If it is receiving more, he added, it is probably because Northville's service area is more densely populated.

the-clock patrols to watch for unusual behavior.

The Sheriff's committee of the county board of supervisors will hold a meeting on the problem at 2 p.m. today in the City-County building.

"Since Receiving hospital closed its ward for psychotic prisoners two years ago, we've had no place to send disturbed prisoners, such as potential suicides," Buback said at a meeting last Friday. "We must have some place to send them."

Dr. Ames Robey, director of the forensic center at Ypsilanti, said his facility may be able to provide some help in a few months.

He said the center plans to open a 50-bed ward this summer and will be able to take some disturbed prisoners.

Other possibilities being explored include sending disturbed prisoners to the psychiatric hospital at Wayne County General hospital and to Southern Michigan Prison at Jackson.

"We are making some progress on this problem and we're going to push until we get an answer," said A. E. Valier, supervisor from Plymouth and chairman of the Sheriff's committee.

Optimists Tour College Here

Members of the Northville Optimist club were treated to a tour of Schoolcraft college last week.

Fred Stefanski of Northville and Joe Borgen, both staff members at Schoolcraft, conducted the tour and answered the questions of Optimists.

Yesterday's Optimist activities were restricted to the club's monthly business meeting. The club meets each Wednesday at the Thunderbird Inn.

Sign of Spring

In keeping with warm sunny weather last Monday, the Novi fire department was called to a grass fire. A truck was dispatched and a small fire extinguished in a field near 44149 Durson in Clark subdivision.

In the new apportioning by census areas Northville state hospital is serving a population of about 1,116,041. "C" building north at the hospital has been designated to serve the southern area of Detroit with a population of 487,092. "C" building south will serve patients from the northern area of Detroit encompassing a population of 463,949.

Patients from the immediate catchment area of Northville, Plymouth, Livonia, and Redford with a population of about 165,000 are being handled in the A5-1-OPD complex.

Another state mental policy change, which Dr. Yudashkin cited as a potentially big step forward, is one which permits admission of patients "at the very time they need help." This means that a patient can admit himself voluntarily after being seen by the hospital's outpatient department or that patients may be admitted under temporary or diagnostic orders.

Northville State hospital, Dr. Yudashkin points out, reflects already the policy of earlier return to the community with after-patient care as the average daily in-patient load is now 1,650, down 400 from last year. The hospital has 18,000 beds.

Fewer patients, Dr. Yudashkin reports, is making it possible to meet other needs better. Drug and medical costs have remained about the same but the hospital is spending more on food, upgrading the menus to include more meat and fresh fruits and vegetables, rather than starches. Dr. Yudashkin illustrated this by pointing out that patients now receive nine ounces of meat per day in comparison to six-and-a-quarter ounces a year ago.

Explains Schoolcraft Dismissals

Dr. Eric J. Bradner, Schoolcraft college president, replied Tuesday to student criticism in the February 5 issue of the campus newspaper, "The Commuter," regarding his "unprecedented move" of notifying six probationary teachers by registered mail last month that their contracts would not be renewed after the winter semester.

He emphasized that three of the teachers were on their second year of probation and the three first-year probationary teachers represented a "normal" turnover from a total of 34 new faculty members hired this year.

The letters, he said, were sent under terms of new teacher contracts requiring notice 90 days prior to the end of the semester. Previously, he added, an administrator could call a teacher in and discuss the matter informally.

Dr. Bradner stated the faculty had "backed off" in its interest in the matter as they originally "felt they had certain prerogatives which their own contracts did not give them." He added that the student reporters had written the story after some of the teachers affected had stated they "felt they were not evaluated by a clear or adequate system," but they had never contacted the school administration for their views. He flagged the story as a "poor journalistic piece."

All new teachers, he added, are hired for a probationary two-year period. He declined to give names or reasons for the dismissals, explaining that they are no reflection on any of the teachers' personal lives. He said they could be compared to an orchestra soloist; he might be an excellent soloist but might not be able to play with a particular orchestra.

If such dismissals were not made, he said, under teacher tenure it would be impossible to release such teachers later and emphasized he was attempting to build as strong a teaching staff as possible for the college.

Stan Johnston Buys Northville Realty

Stanley J. Johnston has purchased Northville Realty company from George Clark.

Announcement of the transaction was made this week. The firm, oldest realty sales' business in Northville, is located at 160 East Main street and shares offices with Northville Insurance company.

Johnston, 44, is a former school teacher and coach. For several years he was associated with the Prudential Life Insurance company. He joined Northville Realty in February, 1965, and has served as sales manager.

Johnston is married and lives with his wife, Frances, and four children at 364 South Rogers.

He announced that Mrs. Kay Keegan and Mrs. Betty Tam would remain as members of the Northville Realty sales staff.

Clark, a former merchant, insurance agent, township supervisor and active participant in community affairs, said that he would continue to maintain an office in the Rathert building for personal business use. Clark is retiring from active real estate participation, he stated.

City Urges Changes In District Court Bill

After hearing a review of the state legislature's latest bill for district court reorganization the Northville city council Monday night decided to let its wishes be known concerning the proposed legislation.

Judge Philip Ogilvie and City Attorney Marvin Stemplen outlined the main provisions of the bill that would set up a system of district courts to replace existing justice of the peace courts as well as municipal courts on January 1, 1969.

Upon their recommendation the council voted to notify legislators representing the area:

- that the council supports local home rule and would prefer that a local option be given so that a city could retain its existing municipal instead of joining the district court system;
- that if the proposed district system is adopted, more magistrates be appointed to assist the district judge;
- that an option be given the local government to operate its own probation department if it wishes (there is no provision for a probation department under the new district court).

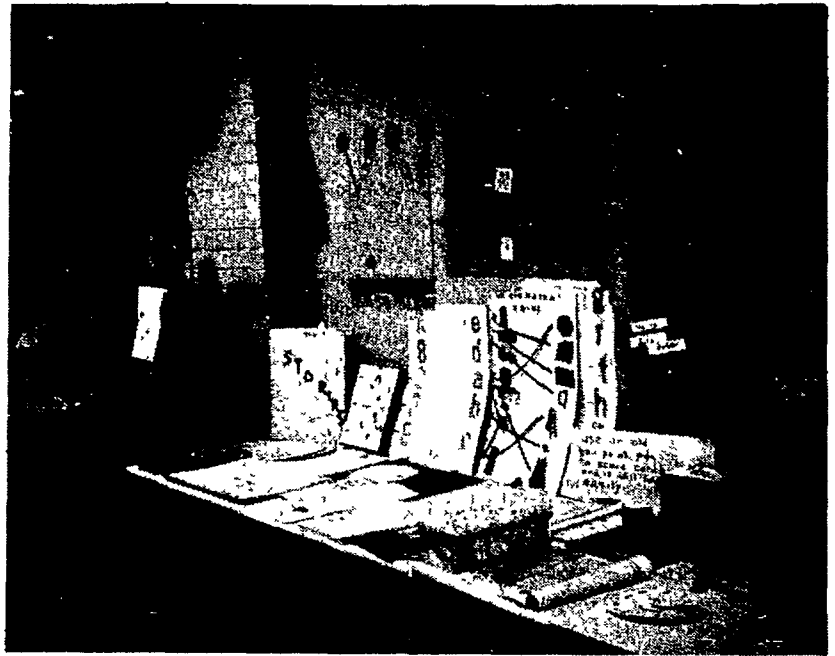

The latest version of the court reorganization bill is on the floor of the House of Representatives this week. Attorney Stemplen, a former state representative and a member of the original committee assigned to the study of the district court, told the council there were strong indications that some form of the bill would be passed so that an election of district judges could take place this fall.

Following are some of the provisions of the newest court proposal as cited by Judge Ogilvie and Stemplen:

- first, second and third class districts would be established providing 99 districts in all with a total of 170 judges;
- the city and township of Northville would be in a third class district along with the city and township of Plymouth and Canton township;
- the district would be served by one judge, paid $20,000 annually by the state with the individual units of government within the district supplementing the annual salary up to a maximum of $27,000 annually;
- cost of operating the court, aside from $20,000 salary, to be paid by local units within district;
- judge must hold court within each unit of 6,000 population or more and may conduct court in smaller local units if community provides court and pays operating costs;
- all fines will have $3.00 added to total, which will go to state, local unit can keep all other fine money for violations within their community if court held in that community, otherwise two-thirds of fine kept by community where court held and remaining one-third sent to community where violation committed;

--judges to be elected on non-partisan basis, serve four years, must reside within district served, must be full-time judge, cannot conduct private practice.

SHARE FAIR—Main Street elementary teachers shared ideas and teaching aids recently in a Share Fair that featured a number of displays, like this one, aimed at acquainting teachers with the kinds of things they may do or use to make the job of teaching easier and more meaningful.

Teachers Swap Classroom Ideas

"Of course teachers swap know-how," says Harry Smith, principal of Main street elementary school.

An example of the kinds of things they do, he points out, was the recent "Share Fair" conducted by Main street teachers during their semester-break workday in which ideas and teaching aids were traded.

A display of aids made by teachers themselves together with equipment available for teacher use was set up in the school library.

The day featured a group conference on uses of equipment in teaching, with demonstrations at intervals throughout the day, Smith said.

Demonstrations were by William Case, art teacher (lettering); Mrs. Joan May, music teacher (letter sounds in music); Betty Willing, secretary, (ditto operation); and Robert Prom, gymnasium teacher (exercises).

Part of the day was spent in making materials to be used for bulletinboards or further teacher aids.

The Share Fair was originated and developed by Mrs. Betty Sellers reading specialist at Main street, and assisted by Mrs. Phelps Hines, librarian.

Pardon us for carping on a tired subject, but anybody likes a choice. Fishermen will tell you even the finny tribe wants variety. And we think people deserve better than that!

So it behooves us all to keep advertising alive. For as advertising flourishes so flourishes competition. And where there's competition, you, the consumer, fare better. And that's no fish tale.

from the Pastor's Study

Reverend James Andrews
Full Salvation Union

The reason God has blessed so many different religious groups with divided opinions has been because He looks on "the heart rather than on the outward appearance". He is not as concerned about the outward act as He is the willing and obedient spirit.

God has blessed many people who have been baptized by immersion in the name of the Father, Son and Holy Ghost but this fact does not prove that this is the form of baptism God demands, for He has blessed many others who have been baptized in a different way or who have not been baptized in water at all. The reason for this is that God is approving of the "willing and obedient spirit" rather than the legal, rigid act.

The Christian Tradition which is the understanding that has been developed in connection with the Christian religion may be as wrong as was the Jewish Tradition when Jesus came to reveal God's mind to His Chosen People at that time. But a "willing and obedient" spirit is never wrong even though the expression of that spirit may be very immature and imperfect.

Oh people of the living God let us not make the same mistake the Jews made so long ago but let us surrender to God without a mental reservation that we may prove what is that good and acceptable and perfect will of God, revealed in that "Oneness" for which Christ prayed.

In the past times of ignorance God has "winked", and blessed imperfect expressions of a "Perfect heart toward Him" but now is commanding all men everywhere to repent—(to change) from devotion to all imperfect expressions which have divided God's people and to come together in "Full Salvation Union".

This means to be fully saved, fully delivered from everything that causes division that the prayer of Jesus may be answered now and the world be enabled thus to believe in the "Way of Peace"; for until the world can see a demonstration of the "Way of Peace" in a many-membered Body of Christ—(Anointed Ones) perfectly joined together in the same mind and in the same judgment, all speaking the same thing, which has resulted from each member having surrendered to God without a mental reservation, they cannot believe in that "Way of Peace" revealed by Jesus Christ as the "Sign Son".

Oh what responsibility lies at the feet of Christendom today! It is a greater responsibility many times over than that which was laid at the feet of the Jews by Jesus in Jerusalem so many years ago.

How much greater our condemnation will be if because of our devotion to "Our own Understanding" — (our tradition, our ideas concerning water baptism, the Lord's Supper, the Sabbath, the virgin birth, the crucifixion, the resurrection, etc., etc., all formed in our minds in connection with our religious environment just as others of God's children have developed their different ideas in their religious environment) — we refuse to be gathered together in One—"Full Salvation Union".

Oh, cannot we see that the salvation of the world depends upon a "willing and obedient" spirit in this regard rather than upon a rigid, dogmatic adherence to certain ideas and practices.

The issue today is not whether you believe in the virgin birth or not, although I do, but whether you believe in "Full Salvation Union". Nor is the issue accepting Jesus Christ as your personal saviour but the issue is to accept what He taught and revealed—"The Way, the Truth, and the Life", which today is "Full Salvation Union", for without full deliverance from everything which causes division in the world there will soon be no truth and life left on this planet.

Because I believe in the virgin birth does not make me a criminal anymore than it makes those who do not believe in the virgin birth criminals. But we become criminals in God's sight when because of our devotion to our beliefs we are ready to "Kill" or destroy the influence and good name of those who do not believe as we do.

ON THE WAY UP

Four years out of college . . . assistant to a department head . . . the junior executive considered most likely to succeed.

Fifteen years from now—or twenty—do you think he'll be president of the company?

We haven't the slightest idea. All we know is that, right now, he's on the way up.

Many things determine a man's potential for positions of responsibility and trust; one of them is character.

Character isn't easy to define—it is much easier to recognize.

This man goes to church every Sunday . . . not because he is seeking character . . . but because he is seeking God.

And the people who know him best figure that is one of the clearest marks of his character.

If the thought of buying a new furnace bothers you, read this new Three-Step Protection Plan.

First, call Edison. We'll give you the names of electric heat contractors near you. Each has been Edison-approved as capable and reliable.

Next, the contractor will check your home, review your needs, and recommend the type of heat best for you. He will estimate both installation and operating cost and give them to you in writing. All without obligation. We'll check the quotes if you like.

Trucks Pay Big Tax Chunk

Highway-user taxes paid by trucks accounted for $36,264,838 of Wayne county's share of all state and federal monies spent for highways during the fiscal year July 1, 1966 through June 30, 1967.

A total of $118,577,904 in state and federal highway money was distributed and spent by the Michigan Department of State Highways in Wayne county during the fiscal year.

Distribution in Northville, according to figures supplied by the Michigan Trucking association, amounted to $38,117, with $11,664 of this figure paid by trucks. The figure in Plymouth was $73,140, with $22,381 paid by trucks.

Engines Get Hot Start

Cold engine starting gear, detoured from arctic military installations, has found its way into the Northville school district.

The equipment that will be used to start school buses on wintry mornings cost the armed forces $1,686 each but was purchased by the Northville school system for $175, according to Business Manager Earl Busard.

"We're hoping this unit," he explained, "will eliminate the need for individual electrical connections that we had planned to buy for the new bus compound."

If the unit, which had not even been uncrated, works successfully the district will have saved more than $1,000 that it would have had to invest in equipping the bus compound, he said.

The unit purchased locally was one of 350 bargain engines purchased by the state for $61,250. Cost to the state was for handling and shipping the engines to the surplus section's Lansing warehouse from Toole Air Force Base in Utah.

Besides providing heat to start the engines of school buses on cold mornings, the unit is also a portable generator that can be used to provide lights. It operates off a gasoline engine capable of producing 100,000 BTUs of heat. It is portable and can be moved by trailer from one vehicle to another, Busard said. It weighs 1,200 pounds.

Warm-up time for each bus is estimated at 1 1/2 minutes.

Making Mosaic is Fun Project for Amerman Pupils

Amerman Pupils Create Mosaic

Amerman elementary school's window mosaic is developing well under the supervision of art teacher, Mrs. Barbara Marion over her fifth grade students.

The completed mosaic is to be a scene comprised of a tree, grass, sky, a river, and a mountain all constructed with colored glass glued to the hall window.

According to Mrs. Marion, "It's just extraordinary. The kids are so excited that they work on it during recess, noon, class time, and would work on it after school if they were able to. They really show an extra interest in the project."

However, there are a few technical difficulties.

"The pieces of colored glass which are fired in the kiln must be smoothed with sandpaper, only four people at a time can work on the window, and it's hard at times to get the children to use the glue techniques."

The colored glass is acquired from a variety of sources. Blue originates from Milk of Magnesia bottles, green from Seven Up bottles, light blue from ball canning jars, and brown comes from beer bottles.

Mrs. Helen Bradshaw, an Amerman fifth grade teacher, donated the red glassware via her husband who collected a supply of broken glass objects at Hudson's.

Once the glassware has been broken, fired in the kiln, and smoothed to perfection, the students glue each piece and place it in the appropriate pattern on the window mosaic.

Music Booms In JH

Mr. George Berryman, the Ida B. Cooke Junior high school band director, has been affiliated with Northville's band program ever since he was a Northville High School band student.

He played the trumpet in his sophomore, junior, and senior years at NHS while preparing himself for an engineering curriculum.

As a senior, his scholastic schedule included three hours of required study, one hour of band, and three study periods.

He didn't want three study periods, so he "taught elementary and junior high school band with Mr. Bob Williams, my band director."

Mr. Berryman graduated from NHS in 1961, and enrolled at the University of Michigan where he graduated with a bachelor of music degree.

His explanation?
"Music and band direction seemed like the kind of job that was really fun."

Mr. Berryman spent three years in Britain, Michigan as the band director in the Britain public school system before coming to the Northville School system this year.

Mr. Berryman is in charge of the sixth grade band and the combined seventh and eighth grade band. He also works with Mr. Williams and the fifth grade band for almost an hour twice each week.

They also teach beginner classes for the fifth grade students. These classes were incorporated for the first time this year.

According to Mr. Berryman, "Band is the only class where it's hoped that a student will stay with one subject and one or two teachers for eight years. It's a lot to expect and it's harder to keep a kid satisfied with a teacher for eight years."

"Music is not something you have to be born with or inherit. You can learn how to read music even if you can't learn how to read English."

"You'll also learn how math relates to music."

The junior high bands are learning how math relates to music by Mr. Berryman versing them on scales, rhythms, and the basic fundamentals of music.

With this background for next year, Mr. Berryman plans to enlarge the band program.

"At the start of the year there were 90 band students. Now there are 110 in the fifth grade band, 60 in the sixth grade band, and 80 in the seventh and eighth grade band."

"Next year there will be three or four junior high bands which will be divided according to ability, instead of by the strict grades."

Regarding the programs the junior high band has played in, Mr. Berryman stated they have "played at two pep assemblies, they played at the Cooke Dedication, and they are to play in a concert open to the public in early April."

Mr. Berryman also cited six officers "who are much more than usually active."

"Guy Dixon who is the head student conductor and president of the officers committee."

"Connie Prodder is the secretary of the officers' committee who takes notes at the committee meetings and takes the attendance during class."

"Sarah Horner is the treasurer. She sells band supplies to the band members and checks the supplies."

"Michele Rody is the publicity chairman who makes concert posters, and posters for the band students illustrating different playing skills."

"Steve Holman is the equipment manager whose job is to make sure everything is set up for the concert performances. He's also in charge of keeping track of necessary equipment repairs."

"The librarian is Jane Skelly who files and sorts music. She also gets extra parts copied and passes out the music."

Mr. Berryman also has a jury in charge of student evaluations. The jury is comprised of all first chair players who have "A" papers on a 300 question test. The test is taken over a period of three years as one advances in grade classification.

The jury is comprised of Peter Bedford, chairman; Sherie Balko, Craig Eshelmann, Sarah Horner, and Elisa Manisto.

UN Group Eyes University Assembly

Northville high school's Model United Nations organization is currently preparing for MUN Weekend, which is to be held March 15, 16 and 17 at the University of Detroit.

Delegates of each of the represented nations will be caucusing, listening to speeches, and voting on resolutions to the important world issues of the Middle East crisis, Red China's admission to the UN, refugee problems, Portuguese territories in Africa, and the question of friendly legal relations.

The nations to be represented by NHS delegates are Ghana, Iraq, and Nigeria.

Members to the delegation of Ghana are L. Paul Cherne, delegation chairman; Michael K. Conley, Scott F. Bergo, Gary R. Becker, and David Kenger.

Iraq's members include Linda Johnson, delegation chairman and club president; Stacey Evans, Chris Walker, Betty Klein and Sue Jarvis.

Members to the training delegation of Nigeria include Beth Angle, Nancy Dawson, Jane Frei, and Gary Klotz.

According to a club spokesman, "This delegation will be learning the operations of the United Nations because Sharon Hohenic, who was supposed to be the delegation chairman, graduated at the end of the first semester."

Service Squad Elects Officers

Elections of new Service Squad and Safety Patrol officers marked the beginning of Amerman elementary school's second semester.

The Service Squad elected Karen McDonald as captain replacing Sandy Crishon, and Karen Stevens as this semester's lieutenant replacing Pam Rickrode.

Mrs. Carol Godwin, sponsor of Amerman's Service Squad, believes "they chose wisely, and not on popularity as you would expect."

As for the Safety Patrol officers, Mrs. Julia Crowther stated: "The old officers did a fine job, and I hope the new officers do as well."

The new Safety Patrol officers replacing last semester's captain Richard Norton and lieutenants Steve Bauman, Dan Black, Jim Dales, Steve Gurney, and Greg Pelt are: Dan Black as captain, and Jim Dales, Steve Rinaldi, Jim Spencer, Brian Steimel, and Gary Winemaster as lieutenants.

Both the Service Squad and Safety Patrol members must remain eligible academically while displaying exemplary behavior.

Cavern Plans SRC 'Bash'

The SRC (Scott Richard Case) is appearing at the Cavern this Saturday night, and according to Entertainment Chairman Peg Tiliikka, "The SRC may go to England to do a tour, so this may be the last chance to see them."

The SRC had a hit recording last July titled "I'm So Glad" and have been working on an album to be released in the near future.

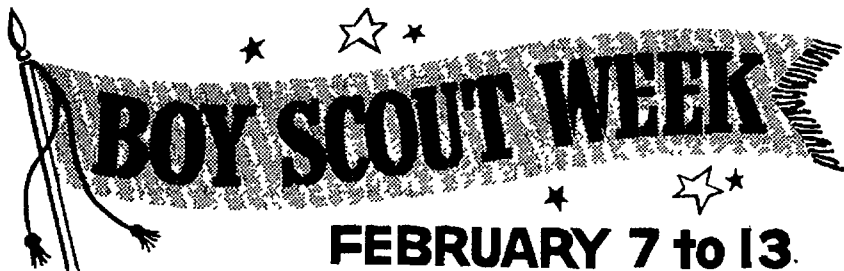

Also appearing with the SRC are the Sugar Cube and a group which was well received at last Saturday's Battle of the Bands titled And Now and Then.

A note of warning to the teenage indulgers and alcoholics by Cavern Board member Bob Shafer: "The Cavern will be enforcing a much stronger drinking policy. Now, anyone who is discovered under the influence of alcohol will be bounced."

As for the decorations in the cafeteria, Cavern Decoration Chairman Chick Van Fossen reports that "With a mere handful of hardworking helpers we have changed the cafeteria's atmosphere from one of a peanut butter and jelly to an old English tavern."

This effect has been accomplished by painting windows, semi-paneling the walls, paneling the unpainted windows, and staining the doors and framework the same color as the wall paneling.

Admission for Saturday's bash is $1 for members and $1.50 for non-members.

Jehovah's
Witnesses
Convene

The Plymouth congregation of Jehovah's Witnesses are guests of the Tecumseh congregation who hosted Michigan Circuit number 8 at the Tecumseh high school last weekend.

The occasion was a three-day Bible convention sponsored by the Watchtower Bible Society of New York. Sixteen congregations were represented, said Mr. C.C. Coonce, presiding minister of the local group, who added that about 120 from here attended.

Marvin L. Hollen, district minister and principal speaker for the meet, set the theme in his opening address, "Walking Orderly by Spirit."

Saturday's program featured a mass baptism of newly dedicated ministers following a talk on baptism by Mr. Hollen who declared, "Baptism is a most important step in life. In fact, any individual desiring to gain everlasting life is obligated to take this step, in walking orderly by spirit."

Carlton L. Cecil, circuit minister for Michigan Circuit number 8, arranged the program in which more than 20 speakers participated.

COMMUNITY PARTICIPATION

James P. Thomas Jr., Division Manager, Consumers Power West Wayne Division

The Consumers Power division manager has a big area to serve. But some of the ways in which he serves it may surprise you. Yes, he manages office operations. Supervises the people who perform their various jobs. Keeps a tight rein on expenses. Troubleshoots in emergencies.

It's an eight-hour day, plus. Plus college foundation and Junior Achievement; plus YMCA and Community Fund; Chamber of Commerce, centennial committee... plus urban problems and rural problems. Study committees, civic projects, advisory groups — all have a claim on this man's time.

The division manager is on the move, participating in community affairs, representing Consumers Power as a good citizen and neighbor. His example is followed by many other Consumers Power people, too. Besides working at their jobs, they work in their communities to help make their better places in which to live.

It's all part of the high standards of service that Consumers Power sets for its people. Plus the recognition of an old truth: what's good for the community is good for the businesses in it.

SPEAKING for The Record

By BILL SLIGER

With a few notable exceptions Michigan's 900-plus school districts are in a financial bind.

It is not one that they are likely to escape from easily, despite a host of proposals to relieve the situation. Most of the antidotes are more than a decade old, and only now are they being examined seriously. Conditions have become so critical, that change has risen to the position of consideration.

Without question the principle reason for the plight of our school districts is the number itself.

Michigan has too many small school districts, organized chiefly by voter desire to retain identity and preserve local control and exclusiveness.

These assets have lost their attraction in the wake of the financial burden and the result has been a flurry of rejected millage requests.

To education itself the following by-products of multi-number districts are more serious than the money-squeeze being placed on taxpayers:

--sharp inequities in the quality of education offered in the various districts;

--a teacher shortage, partially due to traditional low pay and the inability or refusal of school systems to compete with industry in this field;

--draining off of better teachers by richer districts thereby emphasizing the inequity in educational opportunity offered by the public school system by combining poorer teaching talent with poorer facilities;

--shortage of administrative talent qualified to direct both financial and educational programs for districts;

--either a shortage of qualified citizens to serve on boards of education or an apathy by those who are qualified.

A recent school finance study conducted in Michigan for the State Board of Education concluded that an adequate school district should have a K-12 program, enroll at least 2,000 students and have a minimum state equalized valuation per student of $12,000.

The study found that of the 918 local school districts existing in December, 1966, only 147 met the three criteria.

Attention is now being hotly focused on the public school situation chiefly because of the money squeeze.

It's unlikely that such matters as inequities in quality of education, administrative shortcomings, poor teaching or low teacher pay would arouse citizen concern.

But high taxes produce cries that can be heard in the state legislature.

Hearings were recently conducted in Lapeer by the state legislature's House Education Committee, headed by Clifford Smart, state representative from this area, and a former school superintendent.

A host of witnesses from a number of school districts appeared before the legislative committee. All agreed that their school districts were in

Lighter Side

It's not a new story, but occasionally we like to retell it. About the woman at a performance of "Fair Lady", who told a man sitting next to her, "I waited three months for my tickets." The man said he had, too, but added, "It's a shame there is an empty seat next to you." "Oh, that's mine, too," she added. "It was my husband's, only he died." "But couldn't you have brought a friend?" the man asked. "No," she said, shaking her head, "They're all at his funeral."

An illiterate salesman wrote his home office: "Dear Boss: I seen this outfit which ain't never done a dime's worth of nothing with us and I sole them a couple hundred thousand dollars worth of goods. I am now going to Chawago." Two days later the home office received a second letter. "Dear Boss: I came to Chawago and I sole them half a million."

The boss put both letters on the company bulletin board, together with a note, "dear Employees: We have been spending too much time hear trying to sel, instead of trying to sel. Let's watch those sails. I want everybody should read these two letters from Smith who is on the rode doing a grate job for us, and I suggest you should go out and do like he done."

dire financial straits, all wanted more state aid and many introduced some of the proposals for relief referred to earlier.

Among the ideas aired in Lapeer were:

--A 12-month school year including a four-quarter plan that would have three-fourths of the students at any one time throughout the school year;

--statewide uniform teacher salaries;

--increases in state aid from $40 per student to as much as $150 to maintain balanced budgets in districts;

--an income tax for school districts "because we've reached the limit in property taxes";

--an enforceable law to avert a crisis in teacher strikes;

--a state property tax with proceeds distributed to districts on a per-pupil basis;

--a program of interest-free loans from the state to the school districts for construction of buildings;

--a transferral of property taxes from huge industrial complexes from local to state coffers permitting distribution of these funds on a per pupil basis throughout all districts.

The latter condition ... a large industry located in one district that sends most of its employees' children to other districts ... is exemplified in many instances. The Walled Lake school district, for example, receives huge property taxes from the Ford Wison plant, but it's unlikely that even half of the families employed at the plant reside in the district.

Such situations give rise to the sharp contrast between districts in the amount of equalized valuation supporting each pupil. Inkster, a bedroom community, has a valuation of approximately $5,200 per pupil; Dearborn and River Rouge have more than $30,000 of tax base per pupil.

This means, of course, that the richer district can raise six times as much money with the levy of one mill as the poorer district. Or, looking at it another way, the Inkster property owner would have to pay a school tax of 60 mills to provide his child with the same educational facilities as the Dearborn district levying a 10-mill tax.

While the state legislature seeks to find ways of solving its school financing problems, individual districts are also looking at alternatives.

In Northville a study will soon begin on the year-around school program.

Admittedly, it offers some solutions, especially in the area of new building needs through greater use of existing facilities.

But it also presents new problems, some of which the taxpayer may be unwilling to pay even for the sake of efficiency and economy.

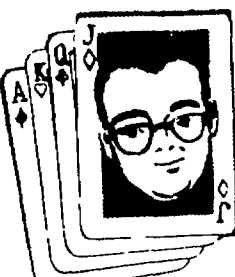

A five-part series begins on page one of this edition dealing with the year-around school program. It will review experience with the program in areas where it has been tried. And it will point up advantages and disadvantages, both financial and educational.

Obviously year-around school is only one area for consideration in the state's complex public school system. But it is a beginning point at the local level.

Another alternative is pressure, placed by you, the taxpayer, on your representatives in Lansing.

If you believe the taxes now levied on your property to support schools is high consider that they must go higher if the present level of education is to be maintained.

Then tell your elected officials there must be a better way.

By JACK W. HOFFMAN

"Do you know," she asked shoving another plate of pizza under my nose, "that your gluttonous behavior is traceable to the early habits of primates?"

I pushed the plate away, my hunger suddenly gone.

"Look, either you put that book away or I'm going to burn it. Can't a guy have a second helping of pizza without being compared to an ape or what-have-you?"

First there was the Life magazine condensed version of Desmond Morris' book, "The Naked Ape, and then, to make matters worse the Book-of-the-Month club mails out the complete work. Ever since, my wife has made table talk about my ape instincts.

"That Morris guy may be an ape but not me. I'm sure if he had unlimited time and a thousand typewriters he probably could punch out the complete works of Shakespeare but that doesn't make him a genius nor does it mean he knows what makes me tick."

With that outburst I pushed myself away from the table and retreated to the couch.

"It just so happens, Mr. Smarty," she continued, taking up a position out of striking range, "that Mr. Morris is a famous zoologist. He has several degrees and has written a lot of scientific papers."

I laughed, remembering the scientific paper that one of my college professors had gotten published. It was as scientific as my friend Frank's belief that fish bite the best when the wind's in the west and the least when it's in the east.

The professor taught zoology. He traded several students an A-grade for cataloging his bug collection. To speed up their work, the students ignored some of his bugs and reclassified others. The catalogue was full of errors and his published paper was based on the information contained therein. Nevertheless, the paper won him recognition from others in his field.

Chances are there is a bug crawling around someplace now that looks like a grasshopper but carries a cricket's name.

"What are you laughing about?" she asked.

"Oh, nothing much. I was just wondering who compiled the data for Morris' book. Let me see it. Might put me to sleep."

She sailed it in my direction and then returned to the kitchen.

I read the first paragraph of the introduction and right away I knew who had compiled his data. "There are one hundred and ninety-three living species of monkeys and apes. One hundred and ninety-two of them are covered with hair. The exception is a naked ape self-named Homo sapiens."

Obviously, he never saw my father in a bathing suit.

As is the tendency of most Naked Apes, I scanned the interior of the book, dwelt at length on the chapter concerning sex -- it's the funnest thing since Bob Hope's biography, and then came across a bit of information that other male apes are likely to find interesting and useful.

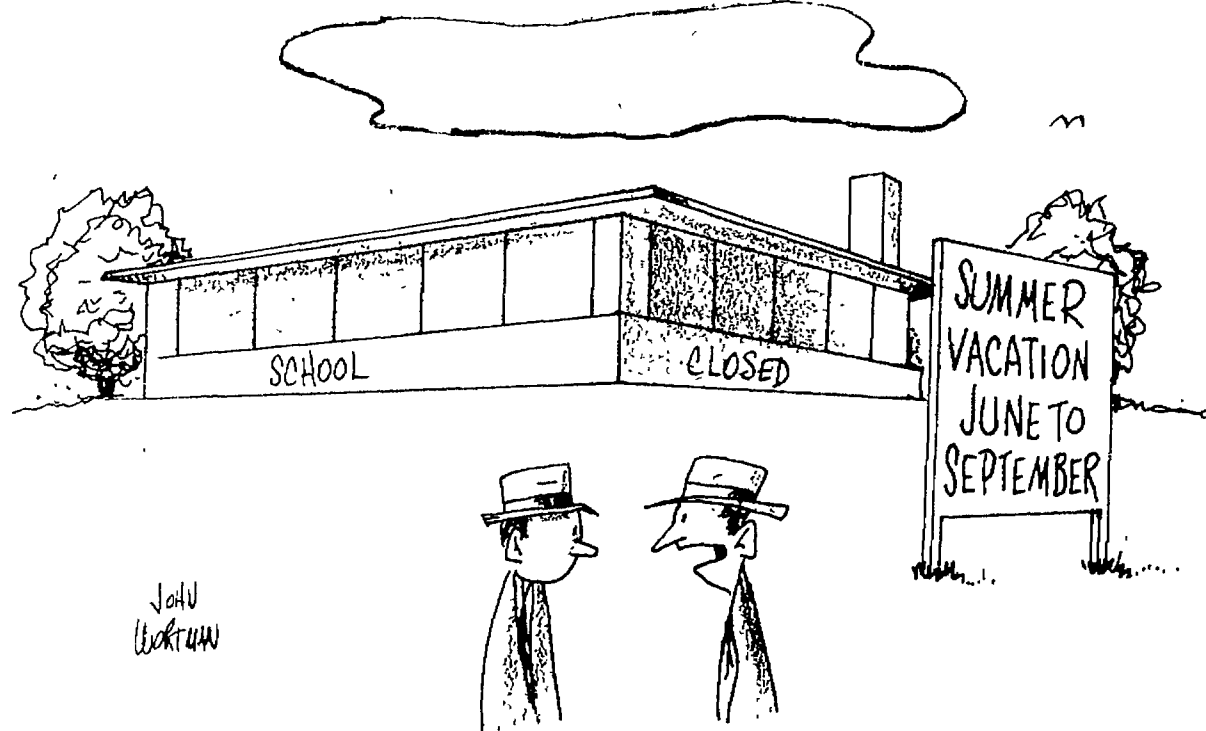

"Females," writes Morris, "frequently resent the departure of their males to 'join the boys', reacting to it as though it signified some kind of family disloyalty. But they are wrong to do so. All they are witnessing is the modern expression of the age-old male-grouping hunting tendency of the species."

This guy might have something after all, I thought.

"Wife," I said joining her in the kitchen, "the guys at the office and I figure Saturday will be a good day to try for Walleyes in Lake St. Clair. You don't have anything planned, do you?"

After she calmed down I read her that bit about joining the boys. It proved only that the female is a violent creature. We're probably the only owners of a copy of The Naked Ape without pages 188 and 189.

Readers Speak Slaps Difference In Paving Bills

To the Editor:

The preliminary plans to pave Taft road will require one of the long time residents in that area of the "new city" to pay an assessment of $6,549.

If this resident finances the $6,549 for a period of 10 years at 6 per cent interest he will have paid $8,514.

Add his increase in property taxes brought about by the paving and he will have endured an exceedingly expensive experience.

With "benefits" like this, who needs obligations.

This particular resident is scheduled to pay this excessive amount because he lives in the "new city" where a 100 per cent paving assessment is required by law. If he lived in the "old city", his assessment would be 25 per cent -- a significant difference.

Gerrymandering a city into paving

EDITOR'S NOTE: This newspaper welcomes letters to the editor. We ask that they be received at this office by Monday noon for publication the same week and that they be limited to 500 words. All letters must contain the signatures of the writer, but names will be withheld on request. This newspaper reserves the right to edit letters for brevity and to avoid profanity or libelous statements.

assessment districts (or for any other reason) to protect the "old city" against the growing pains of the "new city" is, in fact, not equity for the city, or its residents, no matter their tenure or location.

Labeling residents as old or new in general conversation probably does no harm. But, when such terms have a real economic meaning, they are divisive and pecuniary.

A resident's rights and obligations in a city should not be based on seniority, or lack of it. If the membership rules require seniority and you can't get it until you've been assessed 100 per cent to pave a street, it's a high price to pay to belong.

How long can a city endure half free of excessive assessment, and half slave to excessive assessment. A law that is unjust in its inception will work injustice in its application.

For a "total city" to grow and endure in a healthy attitude, it should avoid any retributive suggestion that "the first shall be last, and the last shall be first."

I have deep affection for the City of Northville. I respect its people and their steady progress over the 12 years I have been privileged to reside nearby.

It is this feeling that requires my writing about a law that tarnishes that image.

Ida Cooke Says Thanks

To the Editor:

I wish to thank you, the class of 1935, members of other classes and many town people.

Especially do I wish to thank Eddie Bender and his committee who did so much to make the dedication of the Ida B. Cooke Junior High school such a wonderful success.

There was a lot of planning and Eddie and his committee left out nothing. Thank you very, very much for such a wonderful dedication.

Many sincere thanks for everything. Ida B. Cooke

It has the ingredients that make for a thoroughly theatrical evening. Yet, George Sklar's new two-act play, "And People All Around," misses the mark by failing, in the end, to elevate the viewer to an emotional pitch.

What this does, in essence, is to reduce a potentially explosive play of timely importance to something like an academic exercise. I say something like an academic exercise because Mr. Sklar does communicate emotionally, but not with any consistency.

Surely, the subject of the play now playing at the Meadowbrook Theatre on the Oakland University campus is of immediate interest -- the death of what Mr. Sklar calls three purely fictional civil rights workers who are trying to register Negroes in a mythical town, Leucadia, Mississippi.

The play itself is not so much concerned with the actual event as the reaction of the citizens and especially, of Don Tindall, a native of Leucadia, who witnesses the murder of the three youths.

Played passingly well by Joshua Bryant, Tindall represents Everyman of conscience who becomes aware of his own frailty in the face of the mob. To Tindall, however, the mob is not faceless. It is comprised of friends and neighbors, turned animal, who cling blindly to traditional Southern values.

Tindall's decision is either to remain quiet and live with guilt, or to speak up and perish at the hands of the Supreme Order of White Redeemers. This is the problem, it is made clear, that faces all men of conscience today.

Clearly, Tindall's plight is different from that of the civil rights workers who have come to Leucadia. Dedicated, sincere and youthful, they nevertheless are fighting a principle on foreign soil. Their lives are not a part of Leucadia's fibre, as is Tindall's.

Mr. Sklar's most imaginative stroke is the use of a chorus, which casts interesting light on the play's message. Included in the chorus are four Negroes and two whites, perhaps representing the population ratio of Whites to Blacks in Leucadia.

Like ancient Greek tragedy, the chorus takes many parts. Not only do the men and women represent the people of Leucadia, they represent the audience and its attitudes, they represent the conscience of Tindall, they also provide cogent commentary on the play action.

Although the hero is Tindall, and the part Bryant's, it is Booker T. Bradshaw, Jr., as the chorus leader who is the moving force in this play. His virtuosity goes unquestioned after the final curtain is lowered.

An accomplished guitarist and balladeer (he sings in nine languages), as well as being a stage and television veteran, Bradshaw sings the songs he, himself, wrote, which provide a sardonic, yet sympathetic running commentary on the action.

The opening number, with variations on "Hurray for the Red, White and Blue," is typical of Bradshaw's stinging wit. Leucadia is a "good place if you know your place," he says, "a God fearing town" with 18 churches, and ends with the ironic phraseology, "Hurray for the White."

While many of the characters are typical, character of the sheriff and his deputy raise serious question whether Mr. Sklar has, in this instance, overshot his mark. They seem mere caricatures, rather than flesh and blood creatures.

Is every Southern sheriff unscrupulous? Is every one the image of Bull Connor -- fat, animalistic, sweaty, cigar chewing, diabolical? The movie, "In the Heat of the Night" other movies and television productions and now, "People" would have us think so.

In the final analysis, however, "People" is a courageous, engrossing play because it treats a contemporary problem. And furthermore, Mr. Sklar does not fudge on the issues. There is simply some question as to whether the play reaches its full potential.

How Wisely Do You Influence The Man in Your Life?

Men and women are different! The sexes react differently, think differently and society puts pressures on each which broadens the gap. Since we do live together, an intelligent woman knows how to put her own ideas and needs across in a constructive, peaceful, permanent way.

DESIRABLE ANSWERS:

- No. Men, brought up to be strong, tend to feel that any flaw they find in themselves might be weakness. Therefore, they are not as self-analytical as women.
- Yes. And for the same reason as above.
- No. Men of today are surrounded by pressures of success, usually of a business and monetary nature. They are haunted by status symbols and the need for better and more, material things. Any failure in his capacity to be a man, e.g. his sexual capacity, job, athletic prowess, is likely to leave him feeling he is a failure.
- No. Even as children, boys are more dominant than girls. Males tend to be aggressive in order to protect their ego and more resentful of discipline.
- No. In most societies, a woman has many more outlets in which to find success - housekeeping, civic affairs, motherhood, hobbies - than a man. In the pattern of being a man, his usual yardstick is his accomplishments in business.
- Yes. Psychological evidence points to the fact that women are more sensitive, more perceptive and intuitive than men. Male intelligence is more systematic, logically and graphic than women's.
- No. Timing and approach are vital. Pose your ideas wisely - after dinner when there is no great rush, or after a movie that perhaps has the ingredients of the situation you wish to change. Use the positive approach remembering the male psyche with which you are dealing. (Read answers 1 through 6 again.)
- No. The use of physical affection as a reward - or punishment - is an infantile approach to a problem. Warmth and affection must be natural. You are dealing with a human being, not training a seal to jump through a hoop.
- Yes. Because men need to be masterful, anything they wish to do willingly they usually think is of their own choosing. When the man in your life, takes your ideas as his own, be pleased. You have been a great artist in your subtle salesmanship.
- Yes. You know how much praise means to you. For most men it is doubly valued because of their intense need to have their drive of success (with its few outlets) satisfied.

Newest Problem for Authorities: Reckless Driving Snowmobilers

LANSING — Snowmobiling, Michigan's newest winter sport, has growth pains similar to those suffered by the boating industry a few years ago. The burgeoning business has reached $150 million in national sales and Michigan will have nearly 75,000 units skimming across the snow by the end of this winter.

The exploding industry has also brought public concern over lack of regulations governing use of the snow machines. Michigan State Police indicate they were flooded with complaints last year, the first season of popular snowmobiling in the southern part of the state. Lieutenant Bryce Grey said the complaints included driving on public highways; racing across pine plantations, breaking off tops of seedling pines which kills young trees; breaking fences to travel cross-country. Two other problems are recognized: the noise of the vehicle and its ability to reach isolated cottages, making them easy prey for burglary.

LITTLE HAS BEEN done to regulate snowmobiling, although some state agencies recognize the growing problems and the need for control. A Department of Conservation spokesman pointed out that discussions of the situation have resulted in few programs. The department wants to maximize the enjoyment of the sport but minimize public damage and inconvenience.

It developed 18 snowmobile trails in the northern part of the state and is in the process of laying out trails in southern Michigan. The U.S. Forest Service also has developed trails on Federal lands.

Only two conservation laws currently apply to the sport. One prohibits hunting from the vehicles. The second limits vehicle travel in certain northern state areas.

LACK OF LAW limits police enforcement. State troopers have been instructed to ticket any snowmobile operating on a public highway for not having license plates. If the vehicle owner figures some way to register his snowmobile and affixes plates, he will be ticketed for insufficient equipment: brakes, taillights, stoplights, etc.

The Secretary of State also feels snowmobiles should be kept off public roads. James Palmer, legislative agent for the office, says snowmobiles cannot be licensed under present laws because they do not meet requirements of the safety vehicle code. Legislation which may be proposed should consider registration of the vehicles, minimum equipment standards, and mandatory safety inspection prior to use, Palmer suggests.

Two bills currently under legislative consideration provide for registering and defining snowmobiles but do not include operating restrictions.

RECOGNIZING THE NEED for public control, the Michigan Snowmobile Association suggested legislation and recently met with legislators and state agency personnel. The association proposes that snowmobiles be prohibited from all public highways; that a minimum operator's age be set; that the vehicles be registered with the state and carry visible registration numbers, and that other restrictions which normally apply to moving vehicles be considered.

Marshall Sayles, publisher of the Michigan Snowmobiler, maintains that most snowmobile operators are responsible citizens, "usually family men." He supports this contention by pointing to the large investment required to purchase a snow machine and popular use of the vehicle for family sport.

Sayles feels that violations do exist and that regulation is necessary if the sport is to continue in popularity and gain public support.

THE FUTURE of snowmobiling may rest with continued development of public trails and growth of private snowmobile resorts. Some of Michigan's summer "dude ranches" have already made plans to remain open as snowmobile lodges.

These will operate similar to ski resorts, offering guests board, lodging, racing tracks and wilderness trails. Such attractions can do much to get snowmobiles out of populated areas, away from pine plantations and other restricted public lands.

City Income Taxes Gaining Popularity

BABSON PARK, Mass. — No matter what city you live in, you may be subject to municipal income taxes in the not-too-distant future, — if you are not already. For most wage earners the federal income levy is a fact of financial life. In recent years it has become customary for a steadily rising number of people to pay state income taxes too. However, in most cities, the municipal income tax is still little more than a threat. But this will not be true long.

Thus far, the concept of a municipal income tax has been largely limited to the Eastern section of the country. In fact, about 86% of all the larger cities using this method of enriching their exchequers are located in Ohio and Pennsylvania. But the idea is intriguing to city fathers everywhere who are responsible for budget requirements, especially with all types of costs and outlays soaring spectacularly. Since 1966, New York City, Baltimore, and Cleveland have introduced income taxation. Other large centers have contemplated such an innovation, including Atlanta, Boston, Chicago, Dallas, Fort Worth, Minneapolis, and San Francisco.

Despite the concentration in the East, it is significant to note how swiftly the city income tax has spread since its inception at Philadelphia in 1938. By mid-1967, more than 170 cities having a population of 10,000 or better were receiving part of their revenue from income taxes on their inhabitants and usually also on non-residents and companies operating within local limits. This figure did not include an unknown, but large, number of villages, towns, educational districts, and other geographical units resorting to income taxes to augment their spendable funds.

IN MOST communities with such a system, the method is simple. It usually involves a flat-rate tax on earned income of individuals or on the net profits of corporations. There are no personal deductions or exemptions, but the percentage tax generally runs quite low. For the smaller cities, the rate ranges from 0.25% to 2%. But New York and Baltimore employ a graduated schedule of rates on personal income, ranging from 0.4% to 2% in New York and from 1% to 2.5% in Baltimore. It is safe — if unfortunate — to estimate that such rates will increase as local expenses rise, as has been the case in federal and state levies.

How much of a city's total tax revenue comes from a community income levy appears to be highly variable, according to the Tax Foundation, Inc. of New York. Its study of the situation indicates that income taxes as a percentage of total city tax collections run all the way from 20% in Pittsburgh, Pa. to an impressive 71% in Columbus, Ohio. One thing is clear, nevertheless: That the community income tax, where it has been operative, brings in sufficient money to make it definitely worth consideration for those cities not yet tapping this source of funds.

THE TAX FOUNDATION'S studies point to strong and continuous growth of community income taxes. In fact, it is estimated that by 1975 substantially more than half of the large-city inhabitants of the country will be subject to these levies if municipal individual and corporate income taxes keep expanding at the rate and prevailed from 1960 to 1966.

There is, as yet, no end in sight for the mounting pressure on the taxpayer, at all levels. Perhaps the only citizen who may not mind so much the incursion of the city income tax is the property owner. It has been noted that property taxes tend to increase far less vigorously than usual where community income taxes are put in operation. But with skyrocketing governmental, educational, and social outlays, even this apparent boon may not long survive.

So Do Northville Police Costs

Crime, Traffic Violations Climb

What price good police protection? Northville city council members pondered this question Monday night upon hearing a report by City Manager Frank Ollendorff that costs have risen sharply for police protection.

While the council appeared to agree that the police service was exceptional, it took note of the fact that cost for this service represents nearly three-quarters of the millage levy.

Ollendorff's report showed that police department costs rose from $94,000 in 1966 to $143,000 in the 1967-68 fiscal year. The $143,000 outlay represents 7.5 mills as compared to the city's total tax rate of 9.25 mills.

Ollendorff's report pointed out that the higher expenditure for police work "appears to be paying dividends in terms of public protection."

The same report noted a small increase in criminal activity and significant jumps in traffic violations and parking tickets.

While it is difficult to measure accurately the criminal activity in the city, an 8-percent increase in calls to the police department is indicative of a small rise, he said. Traffic violations more than doubled, from 690 to 1,422, parking tickets jumped from 1,833 to 4,382, and traffic accidents increased from 170 to 190.

Crimes against property increased from 101 in 1966 to 147 last year. "Prowler" reports were up from 12 to 18, miscellaneous juvenile complaints jumped from 35 to 39, and reports of family trouble climbed from 23 to 33.

Conversely, crimes against persons decreased from 11 to seven, and escapes from area institutions decreased from 582 to 477, he pointed out.

Traffic violations increased from 690 in 1966 to 1,422 in 1967. Courtesy tickets almost doubled, from 110 to 203.

Reflected in these increases was a dramatic increase in arrests — from 177 in 1966 to 411 in 1967. This does not include numerous juvenile arrests. Ninety-four forgery, bad checks, etc. cases were solved in 1967 as compared to 11 in 1966.

Liquor law violators apprehended — nearly all of whom were "minors in possession" — totaled 87 persons in 55 cases as compared to 22 cases in 1966.

Training was one of the most time-consuming functions of the police department last year, Ollendorff pointed out. Most of these hours spent in training were voluntary and unpaid. A total of 61 courses were taken by members of the police department, ranging from one day to a full semester. Total hours in class amounted to 3,062. Half of the men received college credit towards a police science degree.

Among other statistics contained in the report are:

Animal complaints increased from 271 to 326; police discovered 173 doors and windows open and notified owners; dog bite reports declined from 136 to 40, following a stepped up campaign in sections of the city where most complaints originated; cost of operating the department rose sharply.

SHRINE CIRCUS TIME is here again. An annual treat for 130 service girls from Northville's three elementary schools was provided last week by Shriner Albert Hackett, 40141 Eight Mile road, who greets the girls in what has become an anticipated tradition. Hackett has given the "circus outing" reward to the schools for several years.

Krause Agency Ranks Sixth

The Scott Krause Agency of Macabees Mutual Life Insurance company established the enviable record of being ranked sixth among sixty-two Macabees Agencies nationwide. This was particularly noteworthy in view of the fact that 1967 was the Krause Agency's first full year in operation.

Krause, the general agent resides at 47325 Dunsany in Northville Estates. His agency includes specialists in the fields of business insurance, pension planning and health insurance coverages. The agency 1967 results have also qualified Mr. and Mrs. Krause for attendance at the company sales convention to be held in San Juan Puerto Rico in June of this year.

Northville township planners have decided to table a public hearing that originated October 31 for the purpose of considering rezoning of 40 acres on Seven Mile road from RM (multiple family residential) to RM-1.

Instead, the planning commission will hold a public hearing on February 13 to consider rezoning the parcel to RM-2. After the latter hearing, planners will forward their recommendation — either RM-1 or RM-2 — to the township board for action.

A change in zoning designations has eliminated RM zoning and replaced it with two designations, RM-1 and RM-2. The latter is exactly the same as the old RM designation, while RM-1 is more restrictive in its density allowances.

The 40-acres in question, located at Marilyn on Seven Mile road, is owned by Dr. W. E. Glzynski and is slated for development as a retirement village complex. The owner wishes to retain the RM zoning privileges (that exist under the new RM-2), while planners have recommended the more restrictive, RM-1. Whatever they decide after next Tuesday's public hearing must be passed along to the township board for official action.

In other business last week the planning commission delayed until its regular February meeting (the final Tuesday of each month) the election of new officers.

It was also decided that all existing RM zoning in the township should be rezoned after RM-1 or RM-2. Attorney John Ashton advised the board that it would not be necessary to hold a public hearing to change RM sites to RM-2 where site plans have already been reviewed and approved because the new designation is identical in requirements. In areas where development plans have not been formulated, however, a hearing must be held to change the designations either to RM-1 or RM-2.

The commission took note of the fact that a letter had been sent to A. M. Thomson regarding the renewal of gravel mining permit. The existing permit was issued for 10 years on September 11, 1958. Under new regulations, permits run five years with two-year renewal clauses. Engineer William Mosher also noted that exact descriptions of properties to be mined along with the property owner's name is required. New restrictions also provide for land rehabilitation requirements that are more strict than the old.

In final business Luke Bathey, Robert Bogart and the engineer and attorney were named to a committee to study fees for rezoning applications and make a recommendation. The fee is now $100 and frequently does not cover costs of the public hearing, necessary engineering studies, legal reviews and public notices.

Municipal Court

Two defendants were bound over to circuit court and one to Livonia municipal court in action last week in Northville municipal court.

Charged with escaping from the Detroit House of Correction last December 22, Lloyd Mattson, Detroit, stood mute. An innocent plea was entered for him, before a motion to bind the defendant over to Wayne county circuit court was granted.

Another Detroit resident, James L. Kelly, charged with carrying a concealed weapon waived examination and was bound over to circuit court. The charge grew from police apprehension of Kelly at Northville Lanes last fall.

Examination for another Detroit resident, Frank Beznos, on charges of writing about $8,000 in checks last summer without sufficient funds on deposit was transferred from Northville to Livonia municipal court. Examination was scheduled for February 5 in Livonia.

Charges of receiving stolen property against Andy Pringle of Livonia were dismissed on motion of the prosecutor with concurrence of the complainant, William Asher, and a Northville police officer.

Facing charges of being disorderly persons stemming from a disturbance January 21 at Paul's Hamburger stand, Donald A. Lancaster, 635 Horton street, and Norman H. Dicks, Jr., 46655 West Seven Mile road, responded with guilty pleas at their arraignment January 31. Each was ordered to pay $35 fines and $3.50 costs.

Donald J. Bearer, Livonia, received a sentence of $30 fine and $3 costs or six days in jail after pleading guilty to being a minor in possession on December 31.

Walter E. Adams, 40941 West Eight Mile road, was sentenced to a $40 fine and $4 costs or eight days on a guilty plea to being a disorderly person by reason of being drunk from a complaint dated January 17.

A guilty plea to a charge of failure to show proof of insurance brought a $15 fine and an order to produce proof of insurance for Kenneth E. Donahoo, Westland.

Alfred E. Smith, Walled Lake, paid a $30 fine after pleading guilty to speeding 55 in a 35 mile zone on South Main street last December 22.

Kenneth P. Bunn, 361 East Cady street, Northville, pleaded guilty to a charge of driving while under the influence of intoxicating liquor. He was sentenced to pay a $100 fine or serve 20 days and his license was turned over to the secretary of state.

Milton E. West, 21800 Connemara drive, Northville, received a sentence of $60 or 15 days on a guilty plea to a charge of careless driving.

James A. Vanloo, Plymouth, pleaded guilty to failure to yield the right of way at Griswold and East Main streets, January 16. He was sentenced to pay a fine of $15 or serve three days.

Roger P. Funk and Mark A. Seog, both of Livonia, entered guilty pleas to being minors in possession (beer) in the junior high parking lot on West Main street on January 13. Funk was sentenced to pay a $35 fine and $3.50 costs or serve seven days. Seog was sentenced to pay a $25 fine and $2.50 costs or serve five days.

On motion of the city attorney charges of being a minor in possession were dismissed against Mark L. Saunders, Detroit, at his trial January 31.
