

LBJ Exit Leaves Experts Wordless

It's the 143rd day of the Detroit newspaper strike. Here's what's happening on the outside world:

TV commentators choked up, political pundits were stunned, and stock prices rocketed upward in the wake of President Lyndon B. Johnson's surprise announcement Sunday night that he would not seek nor accept the Democratic nomination for the presidency.

President Johnson explained his refusal to run again on the following day as an effort to save the integrity of his office, and he urged candidates for the top post, the press, and the nation at large to emulate his example.

His startling 'refusal' Sunday, telecast live, almost buried his major announcement to de-escalate the bombing raids on North Vietnam.

On Monday, trading volume on the New York Stock Exchange soared to a record 17.73 million shares, topping the old mark of 16.41 million shares on October 29, 1929. Dow-Jones industrial average set the largest one-day advance since President Kennedy's assassination.

An estimated 22,000 local units of government face reapportionment as a result of the one man, one vote ruling of the United States Supreme Court on Monday. In a 5-3 decision the court said all local units "with general governmental powers over an entire geographic area must follow the equal population standard if its officers are elected from districts.

All Michigan counties and those cities using a ward system are affected by the ruling, which continues the historic transfer of political power from rural areas to suburbs and cities.

Despite Michigan Supreme Court's landmark decision upholding the Civil Rights commission authority to deal with housing discrimination complaints, legislators still faced the thorny open housing question.

Citizens' Report Raps Training School Set-Up

Sweeping changes including the removal of the medical superintendent have been recommended in a report on the Wayne County Child Development Center (training school) by a citizens review committee.

The report comes as the result of a study called for by the Wayne County Board of Supervisors "to investigate and propose recommendations regarding operation" of the facility. It began last May. The report was submitted last week.

Wednesday morning (yesterday) the committee, medical superintendent, administrative board of the school and training school committee from the board of supervisors were scheduled to meet at the City-County building in Detroit.

Dr. Pasquale Buonicontio, medical superintendent of the Sheldon road facility in Northville township for more than 10 years, was cautious in his comments on the report.

"I haven't analyzed it thoroughly yet ... there are some good recommendations in the study ... there have been other studies ... I've been operating for years under a real handicap."

Northville Mayor A. M. Allen and Township Supervisor R. D. Merriam are members of the seven-man training school committee appointed by the county board of supervisors. The committee itself is not flattered by the report.

Allen and Merriam reserved comment on the study previous to Wednesday's scheduled meeting, although both expressed loyalty to Dr. Buonicontio.

The citizens' review committee was chaired by J. Russell Bright and had as its members Andrew W. L. Brown, Tom W. Coleman, Jr., James P. Curran, June P. England, Frank E. Hartung, Dwight B. Havens, Lawrence E. Jackson, M.D., Adrienne James, Gladys M. Kett, W. Mason Mathews, Kent Mathewson, Emil Mazey, Jacob Ogelsby, Elizabeth Phillips, John S. Reynolds, Jean Trisco, Carolyn R. Tourkow, Roscoe Trisko, Thomas Tucker and Allen Wallace.

Specifically, the report made the following observations:

"The relationship of the training school committee of the county board of supervisors to the Center is not clearly defined. In the past influence of this committee has been token. Its influence with the board of supervisors and hence with the Center itself could be considerable.

"The administrative board has operated with either indifference, ignorance, or ineffectualness. To have known about the deplorable conditions that existed at the Center and yet not act upon them is inexcusable. Not to have known what was going on at the Center is equally inexcusable. What is definitely indicated is a change in the makeup of the present administrative board ... meetings of the board should be open and notice posted two weeks in advance. It is recommended that the board be required to hold at least half of its meetings at the Center. (Note - the administrative board is composed of the director of special education for the county school system, the superintendent of the intermediate school district of Wayne county, the presiding judge of the probate court and four citizens appointed by the county board of supervisors. The medical superintendent serves as secretary to the administrative board.)

"The superintendent has clearly abdicated his responsibility to persons not equipped by training or temperament to handle such responsibilities. We recommend that the present superintendent be removed.

"The director of the children's care and living department has in the past exercised enormous power and control at the Center. The manner in which he exercised his authority ... was totally untherapeutic for the student population and extremely detrimental to the functioning and morale of the remainder of the professional staff. We recommend that the present director of children's care and living department be removed.

"The current administrative structure ... with each department head reporting directly to the medical superintendent ... is unrealistic. All services which are directly concerned with child management, training and education, and other disciplines should become the direct responsibility of the assistant superintendent or clinical director; business, personnel management, and other non-professional functions would become the direct responsibility of the business administrator. The heads of both divisions would be directly responsible to the superintendent.

"The report also called for a consultative research and training program in treatment services, additional psychiatric consultation, better evaluation programs, a "sorting out" of the student population to determine resources needed to handle problems, an improved educational program, more teachers and an upgrading of the staff, an improved vocational program to provide students with marketable skills upon return to the community, a comprehensive in-service training program, affiliated programs with other schools and training programs for psychiatric residents, additional medical coverage to bring about a more favorable physician-patient, nurse-patient ratio, improved disciplinary practices, establishment of a professional advisory committee, improved communication between the institution and the parents and the children.

The committee also called for immediate steps to transfer both administrative and financial responsibility for the Center's operation to the Michigan Department of Mental Health.

Dr. Buonicontio told The Record that the training school is operating with 23 teachers, 15 short of the needed staff. He said teachers are paid at least $850 per year less than in surrounding districts.

He noted that his request for a director of research training was never approved, and that the office of administrative assistant could not be filled because an adequate salary has never been provided.

His assistant medical superintendent, Dr. Robert Bowman, resigned two weeks ago. Dr. Buonicontio said he had interviewed one qualified applicant for the assistant's post who is currently making $29,000 annually. The top post at the training school, held by Dr. Buonicontio, pays $26,000.

Most of the problems at the training school, according to Dr. Buonicontio, can be traced to the fact that funds provided by the county are insufficient to attract competent personnel. The major problem area is the unfilled posts: 20 per cent shortage in the child care and living area; 50 per cent short in the all-important psychology department; social worker vacancies up to 25 per cent; only 18 of 40 budgeted teaching positions were filled at the beginning of the year.

The clinical director post went unfilled for 13 years. It was filled six months ago, but vacated again because of a more lucrative offer.

In some instances, notes Dr. Buonicontio, money is provided for positions, but not enough to attract competent help, so persons with less experience must be hired.

Dr. Buonicontio noted that "there are many loyal and competent teachers who have been here many years," but the school cannot compete with other school districts, hospitals or institutions for new professional talent.

"I've been alone in trying to do the job without the help of key top personnel," Dr. Buonicontio concluded.

Annual Meeting Box Office Flop

There are more than 1,700 registered voters in Northville township. Saturday 22 of them approved the township's 1968-69 budget and considered other governmental details as properly come before an annual meeting.

Approved was a one mill levy and the budget of $125,490 as recommended by the township board.

A "nay" vote was recorded by Treasurer A. M. Lawrence, who complained that his raise was not sufficient. The treasurer told the audience that he was willing to compromise for a $1,000 increase. The budget provides a salary increase for the treasurer from $4,500 to $5,057 annually.

No action was taken by the board or audience to change the salary levels. The supervisor received a hike from $5,700 to $6,405; the clerk from $5,000 to $5,618.

In other required business, the audience adopted resolutions setting regular board meetings for the first Tuesday of each month at 8 p.m. and designating Manufacturers National Bank, Northville office, as the depository for township funds.

The board was also urged by the audience to consider pay increases for office personnel as well as fringe benefits.

Trustee Bernard Baldwin reported that a study is underway to establish job classifications and pay scales. The board also noted pension insurance was recently adopted and that other fringe benefits, vacations, etc., are also under consideration.

A motion by Joseph Fiorilli that would have earmarked surplus funds for use in pay hikes and fringe benefits died for lack of a second.

McAtee Wins In Close Race

A near record number of voters returned Wixom Mayor Wesley McAtee and Councilman Gunnar Mettala to office Monday, but turned out Oscar Simmons in favor of two new council members - Mrs. Mary Parvu and Charles McCall.

With 522 persons casting ballots - 76-percent of the 731 qualified electors - McCall led all candidates with 309 votes.

McAtee won his fourth two-year term by a slim 41 votes, defeating his challenger, Frank Jadzinski, former Wixom police chief, 294-253.

Mrs. Parvu was the fourth highest vote-getter with 251, followed by Wixom's veteran councilman, Mettala, with 246.

Missing one of the three, four-year council posts by only 10 votes was challenger Neil Taylor, who garnered 236 votes - 10 better than incumbent Simmons. Mrs. Kathryn Miner, another political newcomer, finished with 195 votes.

Councilman Donald Nissen, elected four years ago, did not seek re-election.

Chamber Prods City, School on Poor Road

The Northville Community Chamber of Commerce has called upon the city council and board of education to meet jointly to discuss the paving of the road between East street and the high school parking lot.

In a communication read to the city council Monday night the Chamber noted that "numerous comments have been heard concerning the poor condition of the road".

Actually, it is the extension of Baseline road (which ends at North Center street) from East street to the rear area of the high school. The road is jointly owned by the city and school district. Its condition is particularly poor due to construction at the high school.

The council instructed City Manager Frank Ollendorff to arrange for a meeting with the school board to discuss the road and any other matters of mutual concern.

Dr. Pasquale Buonicontio - "I've been alone in trying to do the job."

By 3-2 Vote Council Continues Night Parking Ban

The ban on overnight parking on all streets in the city of Northville will be continued through the summer. And unless an investigation brings a change of mind, it also appears that the council majority will prohibit overnight parking in city-owned lots during the summer.

The action to continue the parking ban between the hours of 2:30 and 7 a.m. was passed by a 3-2 vote of the council Monday night.

Councilmen Del Black and Charles Lapham argued unsuccessfully that the major reason for the parking ban was to permit snow removal, therefore during summer months overnight parking on the street and in city lots should be permitted.

Mayor A. M. Allen and Councilmen Beatrice Carlson and Wallace Nichols supported a recommendation by the city manager to continue the ban. They maintained that accidents were reduced on the streets by the car removal and lots could be cleaned easier if they are clear of cars.

"I think we have one of the dirtiest cities in the state", Black charged as he questioned the frequency of street and lot cleaning.

Black and Lapham both maintained that overnight parking should be permitted "for the convenience of the citizens".

"If we change in the summer, we'll just have to educate the public all over again in the fall", said Mayor Allen.

Black and Lapham did win a review of overnight lot parking. Manager Frank Ollendorff, Councilman Lapham and DPW Superintendent Bud Hartner will study the matter.

Manager Ollendorff reported that the city issues special parking permits for hardship cases. He said citizens should report such instances to his office.

Township Aims 108 Protests

Township Supervisor R. D. Merriam reported that the Northville township board of review heard 108 protests in March hearings following recent reassessment of property.

Reductions were allowed in 31 instances, the supervisor stated, amounting to $156,000 or .77 of one percent of the total assessed valuation.

The township has been assured by county authorities that there will be no "equalization factor" this year because of the reappraisal program bringing all assessments to 50 percent of market value.

Last year all township assessments were multiplied by a factor of 1.376.

Lexington Commons Plan OK'd

Tentative approval was given the "residential unit development plan" submitted by the Thompson-Brown company Monday night before the city council.

Councilmembers also gave the development firm the green light to move ahead with its engineering plans for the first area to be constructed within the proposed total development. Specifically, the council approved the overall plan for Lexington Commons, a 117-acre development of single family homes, apartments and park area at Taft and Eight Mile roads. The total project will include 160 single family residences and 261 apartment units. The single-family homes will cover 71.6 acres, the apartments 25.5 acres and the park area reserved for exclusive use of Lexington Commons' residents measures 19.9 acres.

Initially, the Thompson-Brown representatives told the council development will take place south of Eight Mile road at Taft where 60 homes are proposed. The council gave preliminary approval to this plat.

Town Hall Speaker To Discuss Music

Composer-lyricist Richard Adler will speak on "Musical Comedy, the Composer and His Songs" at the final Northville Town Hall lecture of the 1967-68 series at 11 a.m. Thursday, April 18, at the P & A Theatre. The celebrity luncheon following will be at Meadowbrook country club. Mrs. Robert Brueck, Town Hall chairman, announces that luncheon reservation checks must be sent to the Northville Town Hall, Box 93, Northville, by April 12 and that later reservations cannot be honored. Price of this luncheon is $4.

Among Richard Adler's well-known hits are "Pajama Game," "Damn Yankees," "Almanac," "When in Rome," and "A Mother's Kisses." He also has written many popular and well-remembered tunes, some of which are "Rags to Riches," "Hey There," "Hernando's Hideaway," "Steam Heat," "You've Got to Have Heart," "Whatever Lola Wants" and "Everybody Loves a Lover."

The composer also is credited with some of the nation's leading advertising commercials, including the Newport filter cigarette jingle and the well-known "Let Hertz Put You in the Driver's Seat" commercial.

In 1950 Adler began writing musical composition and lyrics professionally. He has been engaged in writing and producing for the theatre and allied media ever since. He was born in New York City in 1921. He was graduated from the University of North Carolina with an AB degree and a major in dramatic art. In 1946 he was a production assistant with the Broadway company "On Whitman Avenue." In the same year he took a job with the Celanese corporation in their advertising department where he stayed for four years.

More recently, he produced and staged the New York birthday salute for the late President Kennedy at Madison Square Garden and has been called upon to take charge of other Democratic spectacles, including the inaugural gala in January, 1965, and has garnered appropriate talent for dinner entertainments at the White House.

FLAG FOR TOWNSHIP - A new 50-star flag is presented to Northville Township Clerk Mrs. Crispin Hammond for use in the new township offices by Mrs. Norman Saunders of Plymouth, regent of the Northville-Plymouth Sarah Ann Cochrane chapter, Daughters of the American Revolution. The presentation of the auditorium-size flag was made last week Tuesday in the township office, the former Northville library on Wing street.

THE CURTAIN will rise on Northville's first Overture to Opera presentation at 8:30 p.m. Saturday in Northville high school auditorium - and ticket tallies taken Monday by Mrs. Donald Ware, chairman, and Mrs. Ben Zayit, ticket chairman, indicate that the talented young artists of Overture will be singing to a full house.

With a champagne buffet afterward following at Meadowbrook country club the evening for music lovers also promises to be a sociable one. Mrs. Paul Hughes has been in charge of afterglow arrangements.

The evening will begin early for one group, members of St. Paul Lutheran couples club, planning to gather beforehand at the church for an informal potluck supper together. Mrs. Kenneth Rathert and Mrs. George Loeffler are in charge of arrangements.

A group of Shadbrook subdivision neighbors plans to have champagne-and-steak dinner in Plymouth together before going to the Overture program. This includes the W. P. McDermotts, David Allans, Robert Harrison, Charles Fountains and the Jack Dochens.

The Robert Bruecks of Dunsany road have asked friends in for cocktails beforehand as have the Edward Zywiecs, also of Dunsany road.

Mr. and Mrs. Ross B. Northrop, Jr., of Six Mile road, have invited eight guests for dinner before the program.

Overture Chairman Mrs. Ware announces that Leslie Lee, retired head of the Northville high school music department, will welcome guests and the Overture cast onstage to begin the evening.

She adds that she is just delighted that the response to Northville's first Overture presentation has been "entirely enthusiastic."

Full credit for the success must go to Mrs. Ware herself and her committee who made the arrangements that enabled our town to be one of only five Metropolitan Detroit communities to share Overture this season.

In bringing the presentation of "The Medium" by Gian Carlo Menotti and act one of "La Boheme" by Giacomo Puccini here Mrs. Ware and Mrs. Ernest Shave made personal commitments to the sponsoring Detroit Grand Opera association and its co-sponsor, Oakland university.

The possibility of bringing an Overture opera program to Northville occurred to Mrs. Ware as she joined Mrs. Shave as a Northville representative on the Detroit Grand Opera committee which has sponsored the Detroit appearances of the Metropolitan opera. Mrs. Shave has been a member of the committee since its inception.

Three large panels which will decorate the auditorium lobby for Overture will be decorations for the Metropolitan opera afterglow in Detroit in May. Adorned with elaborate masks, violins and musical scores, they have been loaned for the evening.

Others working on the project with energetic Mary Ware (who even sold more than 20 tickets in Birmingham) have been Mrs. Charles Wheatley, Mrs. Stan Schaefer and Mrs. Harold Wright. Mrs. Ware says the presentation was originated as a one-time venture - to bring music closer on a spring evening.

THE JAYCETTES - a young and active group composed of wives of Jaycee members - invited husbands to join them at the annual installation and awards banquet last Saturday evening at Lofy's in Plymouth.

Couples were invited first to the home of the Richard Nortons for cocktails. Mrs. Norton is retiring Jaycette president.

During the program Mrs. Omar Harrison was installed as president; Mrs. Delbert Burson, vice-president; Mrs. Russell Anger, secretary; and Mrs. Jim Belz, treasurer.

Mrs. Joseph Kluesner was presented the "Outstanding Jaycette" award from the chapter. Awards from the state auxiliary for work done on the local level included first-year member "Spokette" awards to Mrs. Anger, Mrs. Burson, Mrs. Belz, Mrs. Michael Janchick and Mrs. Peter Lindholm, who also will be serving as a director on the board.

Seaman and Mrs. Wayne Douglas Ritter

Seaman Takes Bride In Greenfield Chapel

Historic Martha Mary chapel in Greenfield Village was the setting for the candlelight ceremony that united in marriage Judith Ardella Snelgrove and Seaman Wayne Douglas Ritter March 23.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Dean H. Snelgrove, Fairbrook street; the bridegroom's parents are Mr. and Mrs. Richard Ritter of Taft road, Novi.

The Reverend Edward Hoge of Unity Church in Grand Rapids, a friend of the bride's family, officiated at the double ring ceremony before an altar decorated with white gladioli and chrysanthemums. Another family friend, William Lutz of Battle Creek, was soloist.

Judith's gown, made with kabuki sleeves and trimmed with pearls and sequins at the high neckline, was a lace cage, ending in a chapel train and worn over a taffeta sheath. Her elbow-length veil was held by a jewel trimmed headpiece and she carried a cascade bouquet of white carnations and roses.

Louise Snelgrove served as her sister's maid of honor and Mrs. Richard King of Medina, Ohio, was matron of honor. They wore empire-waisted gowns of aquamarine chiffon, veiled headpieces held by matching Dior bows and carried colonial bouquets of carnations and roses.

The bridesmaids, Arlene Hoffman of Toledo, Ohio, and Debra Golze of Northville, wore identically styled gowns in yellow chiffon, as did the flower girl, Kathy Ritter, the bridegroom's sister.

Brian Snelgrove and Lynn Eady, the bride's brother and cousin respectively, served as ring bearers, and another brother, Brent Snelgrove, was one of the ushers.

Other ushers were Philip Presnell of Novi, Richard Ritter, Jr., and William Ritter, the latter two are brothers of the bridegroom. Paul Romanow of Novi served as best man.

Mrs. Snelgrove and Mrs. Ritter wore bead-trimmed pink knit suits, matching accessories and white orchid corsages for the ceremony and the buffet dinner reception at the K of C Hall in Plymouth which followed the five o'clock nuptials.

Out-of-town guests came from Toronto, Battle Creek, and from Columbus, Toledo and Medina, Ohio.

Following the honeymoon in Florida Seaman Ritter is scheduled to return to the Vietnam area with the U.S. Navy. Both he and his bride are graduates of Northville high school, and she has an associate business degree from Schoolcraft college.

Here's Synopsis of Saturday Overture

(EDITOR'S NOTE: The following summaries of La Boheme, Act I, by Giacomo Puccini and The Medium by Gian-Carlo Menotti were condensed from material prepared by Mrs. Chris Kontos, former Northville music teacher who has been assisting the Overture committee. Notes were based on the New Milton Cross' Complete Stories of the Great Operas.)

LA BOHEME opens in Paris about 1830 in the Latin Quarter attic studio-apartment of two Bohemian friends. As the curtain rises, Rodolfo, the poet, and Marcello, the artist, are trying to keep warm, dapping in their work.

As they sacrifice Rodfo's manuscript to the fire for warmth, Colline, the philosopher, comes in. Suddenly messenger boys arrive with food, wine and fuel, followed by Schaunard, a musician, who tells how he earned the money playing the piano for a parrot until the bird died (a sprig of parsley finally did the trick.) Angered when the friends don't listen, he snatches the food away as the landlord appears. They humor him and all leave except Rodolfo.

Mimi, a seamstress, then arrives, collapsing after climbing the stairs. She is revived and then loses her key. In an exchange of arias they hunt for the key, and fall in love. They leave to join his friends at the cafe.

THE MEDIUM is set in the apartment of Madame Flora (Baba), a medium, in a city in Europe today. The curtain rises on Toby, a mute, and Monica, Baba's daughter, who play-act a fairy tale until interrupted by Madame Flora, who orders Monica to get ready for a seance.

Mr. and Mrs. Gobineau, who hope to speak with their boy who died as a baby, and Mrs. Nolan, who wants to speak with her sixteen-year-old daughter who died last year, arrive. With Monica's help, the clients seem to hear their children.

As an eerie chord is heard, Madame Flora gasps - turns on the light. She cries that someone has touched her, is panic stricken and ends the seance. After the clients leave, she accuses Toby of scaring her; Monica tries to comfort her with a song about a black swan (This theme will return and is referred to as the Black Swan Duet.) Suddenly, Madame Flora alone hears the voices again.

Act II begins several days later with the children playing. Again they are interrupted by Madame Flora who tries to get Toby to say he is the one who touched her in the seance. The clients return and beg for another seance.

Madame Flora refuses and orders all to leave.

Alone, she hears the voices again and comes to the point of the opera as she wonders if she who has seen so much horror in life is haunted by the dead as she longs for peace. She prays for forgiveness and falls asleep.

Toby reappears and scratches on Monica's door. Madame Flora stirs; he hides behind the puppet theatre curtain. After asking who is there and receiving no answer she shoots into the curtain. A red stain appears on the curtain and Toby falls.

As Monica rushes out for help, Madame Flora kneels beside Toby and asks "Was it you?". The curtain falls.

county area by Women for the United Foundation in cooperation with the United Health Organization.

Others will be scheduled at Westland shopping center central mall May 16-18 and at Wayne State university June 8-9.

The Health-O-Ramas are designed to focus attention on the importance of annual physical examinations as a safeguard to health and to familiarize residents with the resources offered through Torch Drive agencies.

At each Health-O-Rama free screening tests will be offered for anemia, blood pressure, cancer, cholesterol, diabetes, glaucoma, hearing, height and weight, oral cavity and vision along with a chest X-ray which will be checked for lung cancer, emphysema, enlarged heart and tuberculosis.

Tests will be administered by physicians associated with the health agencies assisted by volunteer medical technologists and student nurses from Detroit area schools of nursing.

Rotary Travelogue Focuses on Ceylon

"Ceylon - The Magic Island" is the topic of the final travelogue in the 1967-8 Northville Rotary club adventure series. It will be presented at 8 p.m., Thursday, April 11, in the high school auditorium.

Presented by Ed Lark, the travelogue will take viewers to the large spice island off the coast of India that many ancient mariners considered the most exotic and picturesque port along the trade routes of the East. Here the visitor beheld enchanting scenery - lush, green forests shrouded in perpetual mist; jungles so dense that even animals could scarcely penetrate the undergrowth.

There were wondrous mountains and extravagant tropical flowers that led one to believe this was the threshold of Paradise - until suddenly startled back to reality by the trumpeting of an elephant or the sight of a dragon reptile slithering across the path.

The inhabitants of the island were a small, handsome, dark-skinned people who often fought among themselves or with the Portuguese, Dutch and English colonists. Many of their customs, rituals and celebrations were strange to Western eyes.

Twentieth century Ceylon has changed considerably ... jungles have been cleared for planting tea, rubber and spices. Modern industries are producing a variety of manufactured goods. But Ceylon still has an incredible variety of strange plants and animals ... carnivorous plants that devour insects, perch that hop out of water, moving over the ground on flippers to climb a tree. Even today elephants continue to be used as beasts of burden in Ceylon.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Shelton Annett

Dianne Haynes Wed To Charles S. Annett

A cascade of white daisies carried by Dianne Louise Haynes as she became the bride of Charles Shelton Annett in an afternoon ceremony at Northville First Baptist church March 16 set the motif for the wedding.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles H. Haynes, 46355 West Main street. Her husband is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Clifton Annett, 13889 Marilyn.

A fireside basket filled with white daisy mums and gladioli and palms and candles decorated the altar for the ceremony performed by the bridegroom's pastor, the Reverend John Williams of Pembroke chapel, in the church of the bride.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore an A-line gown of peau de soie with a deep yoke, sleeves and train fashioned of daisy-medallion lace. Individual lace daisies fastened with seed pearls encircled the neckline of the gown, which was made by the bride.

The bride's sister, Cindy, was honor maid, in a long sky-blue dress of antique satin. She wore a white daisy halo and carried a basket of white daisies. Judy Annett, Susan Black of Birmingham and Elizabeth Rae Haynes of Terre Haute, Indiana, were bridesmaids in gowns matching that of the honor maid. They wore blue daisy halos and carried baskets of blue daisies.

Robert Annett, a brother of the bridegroom, was best man. Another brother, six-year-old John, was ring bearer. Ushers were William Binkleman and David Scherf of Dover, Delaware, cousins of the bridegroom; Charles Haynes, Jr., Terre Haute; and James Stewart of East Lansing.

Soloist was Jo Ann Kitzman. A recessional trumpet solo was played by George Berryman.

For the ceremony and reception following for 200 guests at Botsford Inn coach house, Farmington, Mrs. Haynes wore a yellow silk shantung coat ensemble with matching hat, purse, and shoes. Her corsage was yellow cymbidium orchids. The bridegroom's mother wore a frosty pink brocade coat ensemble with a small pillbox hat of pink rose buds, pink purse and shoes. She wore pink cymbidium orchids.

After a wedding trip to Pere Marquette Lodge in Grafton, Illinois, the newlyweds are now making their home on the Michigan State university campus where both expect to be June graduates.

Millage Levy Set For County Vote

The voters of Wayne county will be asked to continue a special one-mill property levy in the August 6 primary election in order to avoid a "severe curtailment" of county services.

The county board of supervisors, meeting March 26, acted without a dissenting vote to put the renewal proposal on the ballot.

The five-year special levy, which amounts to $1 per $1,000 of equalized valuation, was approved by the voters in 1964 and expires next year.

The levy means about $9.5-million a year for operation of vital county services.

A special supervisors' committee composed of top public officials from throughout the county recommended that the voters be asked to continue the millage. The county board of auditors had warned that loss of the revenue would result in a "severe curtailment" of public services and have an "adverse effect on the residents of the county."

"We are not asking property owners to approve a tax increase," Richard H. Austin, secretary of the board of auditors emphasized.

"We are asking only that the citizens of Wayne county continue their present level of support for critically-needed public services which, even with the one mill, are operating at a bare minimum.

"Vital services at facilities such as juvenile court and the youth home, Wayne County General hospital, the Jail and the county health department would have to be reduced even further if the voters fail to continue the one mill.

"In the meantime, we are continuing our efforts to persuade the State of Michigan to face up to its full responsibility to reimburse the county for state services which the county is required to render.

"We were partially successful last year when the State Legislature agreed to return 1/8th of 1 percent of state income tax revenues to the counties.

"However, the relatively small amount gained from this has been more than offset by the tremendous increase in the cost of goods and services which has occurred in recent years," Austin noted.

School Board Readies OK

'Outside District' Prom Likely

The Northville board of education is expected to grant formal approval Monday for holding the senior prom "outside" the Northville school district.

Last week at its study session, the board studied the senior class' request and informally concluded that it should be granted.

However, the board authorized Superintendent Raymond Spear to draw up a set of ground rules to qualify the permissive action. Last year the board denied seniors similar permission, but several members have since changed their position on the matter.

In discussing their predictions last week for school needs for the next six years, Spear and Business Manager Earl Busard also suggested that the board will need to reorganize or re-define the organization of the school system.

The schedule for construction of these facilities, they explained, will be dependent upon a 5-3-4, a 6-2-4, or a 6-3-3 elementary, junior high and high school organizational plan.

In discussing long-range needs, several board members indicated a preference for tackling facility needs in shorter, perhaps three-year increments, rather than preparing now for needs as far away as 1975.

Taking "two bites" at projected six-year needs, they contended, not only would be more palatable for the public in so far as financing is concerned, but also because it would permit re-examination of needs closer to the target dates. Basis for this contention is that needs may change over the years.

Other members, however, took the position that the projected needs are not unrealistic, that they take into account only those housing developments already planned or underway and do not account for those unpredictable ones that may occur between now and 1975.

The imminent housing development in the Nine Mile-Taft road area alone will require a new elementary school within a very short time, they reasoned.

An even more acute problem, according to Busard, is that the state equalized valuation of the district is not likely to keep pace with the cost of enrollment increases and facility needs, thus placing a spiraling burden upon the taxpayer.

Houses, particularly in the $25,000 class, do not offset the cost of educating the children that live in them, he explained.

Busard also reminded school board members that all new bond issues will require a hike in debt retirement millage because the state has changed requirements for participation in the state bond loan program.

To qualify for participation now a district must levy 13 mills before it can borrow low-interest money from the state. The 7-mill limit under which the Northville district now participates has been eliminated. Furthermore, by 1970, the district must share 50-percent of all outstanding bond debts over the 7 mills.

This means, said Busard, that based upon an estimated state equalized valuation of $52 million in 1970, the district would be required to levy 7.8 mills in that year to cover the full amount of old bond debts or 7.4 mills under the bond loan program's 50-50 split formula. Any new voted issue would have to be fully covered by the district, thus boosting the total levy still higher.

Concerning improvements needed at Main Street elementary, such as reconditioned and new toilet facilities, room expansion, etc., Spear said cost estimates run about $20,000 more than the $60,000 budgeted for this purpose. He said he would confer with the principal and faculty in determining priorities to keep the cost within the budget.

Northville to Register Kindergartners April 29

Registration for all youngsters who will be entering Northville kindergarten classes next fall is scheduled for Monday, April 29, beginning at 7:30 p.m. in the high school cafeteria.

All parents of these youngsters are encouraged to attend and bring along birth certificates of their kindergarten bound children.

The program will include a slide presentation explaining the local kindergarten program and suggestions on how to prepare youngsters for their first year in school.

Two weeks after registration, a screening program will be held for those youngsters who turn 5 between September 1 and December 1. An explanation of this program will be given at the registration meeting.

Letters to parents of known youngsters entering Kindergarten will be sent out. However, should someone be missed, parents are still urged to attend.

VFW POOL CHAMPS—Northville VFW Post 4012 clinched first place honors in the 10-post pool league last Thursday night by defeating the Romanowski Post of Detroit, the state's largest VFW unit. Shooting for Northville were Joe Gotro (at the table) and Ed Matatall (left). Standing next to Matatall are Mike Utley, also a team member, Post Commander Ray Paquin, Herb Olson, post pool chairman and team coach, and Ed Smith, team member. The 10 teams in the league played a double round-robin of 10 games of eight-ball nightly.

Novi Boosters Meet Tuesday

Tuesday's the "target day" for boosters of Novi sports. That's the day when the initial formation meeting of the Novi Athletic Boosters club is slated. It will get underway at 7:30 p.m. in the Commons room of the high school at Taft and 11 Mile roads.

Principal speakers will be Gerald Hartman, principal, and John Osborn, athletic director.

Following the organization meeting, refreshments will be served by the "N" club and the cheerleaders.

All interested parents are "invited and needed", says one of the boosters. "Show our young athletes and their coaches that you are interested in them by attending."

Golf Leagues Planned Here

Because of interest expressed in the past, a golf league is under consideration by the Northville Recreation department.

According to Director Robert Prom, if sufficient numbers of adults notify him that they would participate in such a league it will become a reality.

"We envision a league for men and another for women," said Prom. The men probably would play late in the afternoon and the women earlier in the day. Much depends on the schedule of area golf courses."

Interested persons are asked to contact the director immediately at FI 9-2287.

Novi Coach Banks On Sliced Squad

Novi High's baseball coach, John Osborn, is leading a squad of only 15 men toward a season opening league game at Grass Lake Monday, April 15.

Enroute to that first game, Osborn and his squad have already weathered a few more storms than most coaches and their teams encounter in several seasons.

A most recent negative development that, occasionally crops up to test a school, a coach, and the athletes was a violation of training rules that caused Osborn to promptly cut the size of a squad already small because Novi has not yet filled out as a four-year high school.

After passing that test, Osborn counted three juniors, five sophomores, and seven freshmen to form a nine-man team and play what must be considered a fairly tough schedule.

Experience is what the Wildcats will lack as they take on Manchester in the first home game April 18, and contest with the other Lake and C schools. How fast the young team can benefit from game experience will determine how successful they are in the won-lost column this year. In any event, the under-classes are going to store away many innings of competition that will make them rich with experience in seasons ahead.

Among the juniors, the Wildcats are strengthened with the presence of Gary Boyer. Expected to furnish an outpost of strength at shortstop, Boyer is also scheduled to carry a share of the pitching duty. Jeff Adams, who was on the squad last year, provides Osborn with a junior outfield prospect, along with transfer student Steve Davey.

In response to the limited manpower situation, Osborn is planning to field a versatile team with several members playing different positions from game to game and within seven innings.

Freshman Tom VanWagner, who Osborn says is already a "real varsity catcher," will also get some pitching duty and infield assignments. Another freshman, Gary Gillett, will help behind the plate. Freshman Dave Bumann is headed for first base, with classmates Bob Vivian, Jack Smith, Tom Van Sickle, and Greg Budlong contending for outfield positions.

Sophomore Rick Dale is another who will appear at several positions, at third base, shortstop, and perhaps in the outfield. Sophomore Phil McMillan will get work at second base, along with pitching, while Dan Flattery will help at third.

Among the difficulties Osborn, and his squad contend with is the inability to work out on their diamond due to stubborn wet conditions that also kept the squad from the field until late in the season last year.

But Finish 6th in Huron Relays

Mustangs Beat 45 Track Teams

Missing second by "only an inch," Northville's track squad piled up 23 points to finish sixth in the always-rugged Huron Relays at Eastern Michigan university Friday.

With 51 competing at Eastern, the sixth place finish is a surprisingly strong one, and it gave Coach Ralph Redmond plenty of reason to beam with pleasure over the Mustangs' initial showing in the infant season.

But even with this showing (last year the Mustangs finished a commendable 11th), Redmond had mixed emotions. "We missed a second place finish by an inch," the coach explained, noting that his shuttle-hurdle relay squad finished first only to be disqualified because one of the boys left his starting block "an inch" too soon.

Another heart-breaker was a leg injury suffered by Chuck Keegan, who ran the fastest preliminary heat in the 60-yard dash but was forced to pull out after leading in the semi-finals because of a pulled muscle.

Keegan is expected to be out of action for about two weeks, Redmond said.

"I can't say enough for them," the Coach said. "Our boys showed lots of heart and desire. Under ordinary circumstances a sixth-place finish would be an exceptionally fine showing, but second place was within easy grasp."

Northville finished just behind arch-rival West Bloomfield, which garnered 23 1/5 points. In first place was Shelby with 64 1/5, followed by Clyde 36, Wyoming 32 1/5, and St. Anthony 31. In seventh was Bay City John Glenn with 22, followed by Montpelier 21, Malabar 20 1/2, Willow Run 20, and Oxford 20.

Three Northville school records fell in the meet. Ron Gloetzner became the first Mustang ever to vault 13 feet, Jim Peterson high jumped an even six feet, and the shuttle-hurdle relay squad, including Barry Campbell, Randy Simpson, Gloetzner and Peterson, turned in a school mark of 30.2 in that disqualified race.

Gloetzner, who took second in the pole vault event, performed flawlessly through 13 feet. Then with only himself and Shelby's Mike Utz remaining, the bar was lifted to 13' 8". Both boys missed on their first two attempts but on the third, Utz sailed over and Gloetzner barely skinned the bar. The 13' 8" jump is a new Bowen Field record.

In the two-mile relay, Northville's Paul Bedford, Greg Marshall, Phil Kennedy and Bill Harrison finished second with a time of 8:44. Clyde (Ohio) took first at 8:24.

Peterson's record six-foot high jump was good enough only for fourth place. The best jump - 6' 4" - was turned in by Bud DeVries of Erie Mason.

Jon Stuyvenburg, one of Northville's young but promising freshmen, took 10th place in the long jump, turning in a whopping 19' 1 1/2" mark. He missed the finals by a scant 1/4 inch. The school record here in the event is 20' 10".

Keegan, who took first in the preliminaries with the fastest 60-yard dash time (6:6), was out front of the pack when he pulled the leg muscle in the semi-finals.

Turning in a solid eighth-place shot toss of 46' 8 3/4" was Bill McDermaid. The record at Northville, set in 1958, is 48' 7".

BASKETBALL WINNERS - Three Northville varsity cagers have won top honors in the Wayne-Oakland all-league selections. Jim Peterson, accepting the congratulations of Coach Dave Longridge, and Randy Pohlman were named to the W-O's first team, while Captain Joe Andrews (left) won honorable mention. Peterson also won the school's freethrow trophy, and Pohlman's teammates voted him the Mustangs' most valuable and most improved player.

Jim Peterson Wins Cage Scoring Title

Jim Peterson and Randy Pohlman led the Mustangs in scoring during the recently completed varsity basketball season, according to statistics released this week by Coach Dave Longridge.

The stellar cage performers turned in 237 and 318 points, respectively. Altogether, the Mustangs racked up 1,152 points compared to 1,069 by their opponents.

The varsity five, which finished the league season with an 11-3 mark and the overall season with a 13-6 record, scored 438 field goals and converted 276 of 430 free throw attempts.

Pohlman was also the Mustangs' leading scorer at the free throw line, tossing in 80 of 119 attempts for a 67.1 percent mark. Best percentage was put together by Peterson, with 78.4 percent (69 of 88) followed by Jeff Taylor (six for eight) with 75-percent.

Other scoring marks included: Joe Andrews, 198 points, including 48 of 76 FTA; Ken Boerger, 165 points, 25 of 38; Bob Hubbert, 51 points, 12 of 25; Chuck Frogner, 51 points, 17 of 29; Jeff Taylor, 46 points, 6 of 8; Ralph Robinson, 28 points, 2 of 10; Stan Nirider, 17 points, 7 of 14; Dennis Matthews, 14 points, 6 of 11; Gregg Carr, 9 points, 3 of 8; Craig Turnbull, 7 points, 1 of 2; Barry Deal, 4 points, 0 of 1; and Greg Marshall, 4 points, 0 of 1.

Other top shooters at the charity line included:

Ken Boerger, 66-percent; Andrews, 63-percent; Frogner, 57-percent; Matthews, 55-percent; Nirider and Turnbull, each with 50-percent; Hubbert, 48-percent, Carr, 38-percent and Robinson, 20-percent.

TEACHER HONORED-Edward C. Mollema, (center) Northville teacher who will retire in June, received the Jaycees' top honor of the year last week Wednesday when he was awarded the Distinguished Service Award for his dedicated and dis-

In Baseball Opener

Mustangs, Lions to Tangle

Mustang Baseball Coach Dick Willing is expressing cautious optimism as he readies his team for the season-opening contest with South Lyon on the Lion's field next Wednesday.

Willing's optimism is based on his capability to field an experienced team that has taken advantage of early-season field conditions and impressed him with spirited performance in two intra-squad games.

Team Captain Randy Pohlman at first base, Stan Nirider at second, Dennis Primeau at short, and Doug Anglin at third provide an experienced infield with returning lettermen at each position. Pat Cayley is expected to be behind the plate for the South Lyon game.

In the outfield, Sophomore Terry Mills is ranked number one at center, Joe Donner, the only returning outfielder from last year is scheduled to start in right field, and Bob Hubbert is expected to start in left field.

"We should have a good hitting team, based on improvement I've seen in practice, and we have a few men capable of speed in running bases. We'll probably play a wide open, aggressive, hit and run game," Willing said.

In the pitching department for the South Lyon game Willing will choose between right-handers Bill Skelly, senior and returning letterman, and Fred Holdsworth, a sophomore. Willing expressed satisfaction with the readiness of his pitchers after performances in the two practice games.

Willing's optimism about the hitting potential stems from the returning letterman who hit well last year, Stan Nirider, coming back after hitting at .301 last season, and veterans Dennis Primeau, .278, Joe Donner, .285, and Randy Pohlman, .270 have all been hitting fairly well in practice considering the early point in the season, Willing said. He singled out Primeau as one he expects to better the .278 average last season.

Commenting about the opposition next Wednesday, Willing said that he has very little knowledge about the South Lyon strength. "We'll just try to be ready to win," he said.

Probable Starting Lineup:

- CF Terry Mills
- 3B Doug Anglin
- SS Dennis Primeau
- 1B Randy Pohlman
- RF Joe Donner
- 2B Stan Nirider
- LF Bob Hubbert
- C Pat Cayley
- P Bill Skelly
- P Fred Holdsworth

Star Fields Big Stable

Terry Buter, the 23-year-old reinsman featured in The Record last year, is handling one of the largest stables at the Wolverine Harness meeting at the Detroit Race Course.

A year ago he had a dozen head here but already he's training 20 horses. "I'll have 30 head in a week or so," the intelligent little fellow tells you.

After high school in Zeeland Terry went to Grand Rapids junior college in hopes of majoring in physical education. But training and driving horses for his dad, Glen, soon made him change his mind.

"It's my life now," Terry confesses. "I'm not sorry about the decision. 'Excuse me,' he said politely, 'I've got to get out on the track.' Buter sent out and brought home Go's First, Ted Oosting's seven-year-old mare, in a driving finish for an $18 mutuel.

OUT OF THE FEEDBAG: Jim McGarty wintered at Hawkinsville, Georgia, a miniature Pompano Park. "I should have stayed down there another week," he smiled as he brushed the mud off his silks... Clyde Snook came all decked out in new flashy red silks.

Lowell Kline, the veteran from Fowlerville, took his 12-year-old trotter, High Lloyd, postward for the sixth race the other night... "I've had this horse since he was a three-year-old and he's been good to me," Kline said... High Lloyd, with lifetime earnings of $26,866, finished second.

Bev Kingston, 23-year-old trainer-driver from Toronto, has 14 head at Wolverine... Tenare trotters... Kingston made his first appearance in 1961 as a 16-year-old second trainer under Cecil Coke.

Detroit Tigers Open Tuesday

With an assist from the weather, the Tigers could attract their largest Opening Day crowd in nearly a decade when they pry open another season at Tiger Stadium on Tuesday against the Boston Red Sox, defending champions in the American League pennant race.

The team's strong finish for a second-place tie in 1967 and favoritism in the 1968 flag chase have pushed advance ticket sales strongly and a big turnout is expected for the Tigers' first home appearance.

Opening day attendance record was set in 1960 when 53,563 turned out to see the Tigers win, 6-5, over the Chicago White Sox in 80-degree weather. Totals since then have ranged from 29,411 on a 36-degree day in 1962 to 41,643 in 1961 when the mercury reading was 54.

For the traditional first-pitch ceremony, Governor Romney and Mayor Cavanagh, who have been an opening day battery since 1963, will team up again.

Fans will find Tiger Stadium sparkling. Much of the grandstand has been freshly painted.

Following the Opening Day clash, the Red Sox will remain for another date with the Tigers Thursday, April 11. Games with the White Sox April 13-14, Cleveland Indians April 17-18, and Oakland Athletics April 29-30 complete the first month's home schedule.

Steve Evans Rocked

In his second outing of the season for the University of Michigan, Northville's Steve Evans was rocked for five runs - three of them unearned - that ended in a 6-3 defeat against the University of Arizona, Tuscon.

Former star hurler for Northville and now a sophomore at the University, Evans gave up five hits in the first two innings, but yielded only one hit the remaining six frames.

In going the route, Evans gave up six hits, three earned runs, struck out eight and walked five. He is one of two highly touted sophomores expected to help bear the brunt of the University's mound fortunes.

In another start Evans failed to survive the first two innings. His record as Michigan returned home was 2-0.

The Wolverines have now dropped six consecutive games, five of them to Arizona State in their warm-up for the upcoming Big Ten baseball campaign.

At Schoolcraft College Contract Talks Resume Friday

Negotiations on a faculty contract for the 1968-69 academic year at Schoolcraft college resumed Friday, March 29.

Announcement of the resumption of bargaining talks was made in a joint statement dated March 22, and signed by W. Kenneth Lindner, Vice-President for Business Affairs at the college and chairman of the bargaining team for the Board of Trustees, and Anthony V. Rizzo, geography instructor and chairman of the bargaining team for the Faculty Forum.

Contract talks were suspended February 9. On February 14, the Faculty Forum's negotiating team filed with the Michigan Labor Mediation Board an unfair labor charge against the college.

On March 14, before a scheduled hearing was convened, the Mediation Board adjourned the hearing indefinitely.

On March 22, the Faculty Forum team announced the "unequivocal withdrawal" of the charge "in the interest of resuming negotiations and expediting an early contract agreement."

The text of the joint statement: "On February 9, 1968, the bargaining team for the Faculty Forum found it necessary to file an unfair labor practice charge against the college. This filing was made solely for the purpose of clarifying procedures under which bargaining was to be conducted.

"The hearing on this charge has been suspended indefinitely by the Michigan Labor Mediation Board. "Under this circumstance no clarification could possibly be made.

"In the interest of resuming negotiations and expediting an early contract agreement, the bargaining team of the Faculty Forum hereby indicates their unequivocal withdrawal of the above referenced charge."

The two bargaining teams met informally on March 22 and agreed on an eight-point list of ground rules, the last of which read: "...it has been mutually agreed that negotiation sessions will resume Friday, March 29, 1968, at 4 p.m."

Among the items agreed upon was one which provided for a mutual release of information about negotiations to public communications media and to the college's student newspaper.

The two teams also agreed to exclude observers - including attorneys and consultants - from bargaining sessions, but provided for invitation of these persons to the sessions "when their participation is essential to a particular point in question."

The agreement, which also was signed by both Lindner and Rizzo, also provided for mutual exchange of written progress reports by either team to their respective constituents;

Judge Chairmans YWCA Fund Drive

The Honorable James N. Canham, circuit judge of the third judicial court of Michigan, has been named general chairman for the Northwest Branch YWCA expansion fund campaign.

New facilities for the YWCA, located at 25940 Grand River and serving this area, will include an indoor swimming pool as well as the addition of a new multi-purpose room and several smaller meeting rooms.

The three-county total campaign is for $1.6 million, of which $900,000 is to be expended on the Northwest YW facilities. The goal for the Northwest area campaign organization to raise itself, however, is $250,000.

Commenting on the need for recreational and character-building programs in this area, Canham said, "The Northwest YWCA is located in the center of an area rapidly increasing in population. When the structure was originally built, it was anticipated that this growth would take place and land was purchased to accommodate future additions.

"The expected need has long been surpassed and the need for facilities is critical. Services such as the YWCA provides for women and girls and their entire families are an essential factor in the well-being of total communities."

Judge James Canham

THE NEW
SALON RENE'
SOON-AT NOVI RD. AND ALLEN DRIVE

'Register Now' Jaycees Urge

With approximately 50 persons registered last week in a continuing drive by the Novi Jaycees, the young men's organization will tackle Willowbrook subdivision Saturday.

As in other recent drives, the Jaycees will transport Village Clerk Mabel Ash through the subdivision to permit residents to register "on the spot" instead of having to do so at the village hall.

Theme for the registration drive is: "We're not a horse-town anymore - Register to vote now."

The clerk is carried into the various Novi neighborhoods in a Jaycee horse trailer bearing the organization's campaign theme.

"We believe," said a Jaycee representative, "that this campaign represents a unique first in our community. Instead of requiring the people to go to the clerk for registering to vote, we take the clerk to the people. It makes registering more convenient for the people."

Last Saturday, in canvassing Highland Hills Estates, some 50 persons were registered. The special drive was so effective, Jaycees explain, that Mrs. Ash ran out of registration forms and had to return to the village hall to get more.

"The drive is really serving several purposes as it turns out. Besides meeting newcomers to our community, we've lined up numerous potential Jaycee members."

WELCOME SIGHT-This recently installed street sign, brought a quiet cheer from area business people who have long been seeking better identification of streets as well as highway signs that would help motorists to find Novi and specific location in the village.

School Promotes Service Employees

Tentative promotion of two Northville service personnel has been announced by Earl Busard, business manager of the Northville school system.

According to Busard, two employees have been elevated to supervisory capacities on a "training basis" for eventual assumptions of the duties of Frank Cochrane, buildings and grounds supervisor, who will retire on May 24.

Charles Kehrer is training to become foreman of custodial and custodial personnel, while Paul Rebitzke has been tapped for a working foreman's post in grounds supervision.

"This change, if the men accept the posts after training until the end of the school year, will give us a better division of supervisory responsibilities," Busard said.

"It will mean no increase in personnel, except for the replacement for Kehrer as mechanic."

Concerning the service personnel roster, Busard revealed that the school employs 79 persons in this area, with "a little over half of them" employed on a full-time basis.

Service personnel include, he said, 28 custodial employees (all but one full-time), 15 cafeteria personnel (five full-time), 13 bus drivers plus three "stand-bys", six lunchroom supervisors (part-time) in the elementary schools, and 14 clerical positions throughout the school system.

Municipal Court

Charges of contributing to the delinquency of a minor against an Inkster man were dismissed on payment of $20 in costs. Charged with furnishing beer to a minor, Robert W. Lowallen, pleaded innocent at his arraignment March 20. The dismissal came during his trial last week Wednesday.

Charles Hibbard, 54284 Eight Mile road, pleaded innocent to contributing to the delinquency of a minor by furnishing beer when arraigned February 14. He was found guilty at his trial and was sentenced to a $40 fine or eight days and $4 costs.

Oiva W. Koivupera, 29 Brookside Place, pleaded innocent to being a drunk and disorderly person at his arraignment March 6. He was found guilty at his trial. His sentence was a $40 fine or eight days and $4 costs.

James C. Fisher, Plymouth, pleaded guilty to being a minor in possession on arraignment last January 24. In court last week he drew a sentence of a $20 fine and $5 costs or five days and $2 costs.

Thomas A. Dowdy, 60690 Pontiac Trail, Wixom, stood mute when arraigned March 2 on a charge of driving under the influence of intoxicating liquors. An innocent plea was entered for him. In court last week, the charge was dismissed and Dowdy pleaded guilty to driving while ability was impaired by alcohol. He was sentenced to pay a $100 fine or spend 20 days in jail.

John Parisi, Mt. Clemens, was fined $10 after pleading guilty to having no operators license on his person while operating a vehicle.

Justice Court

A Novi man cited recently for damaging autos while breaking a path through a line of cars at a railroad crossing on Novi road, then fleeing the scene, pleaded guilty last week to reckless driving and leaving the scene of an accident in Novi justice court.

David Sikkila, 203 Henning street, drew a sentence of $35 and $15 costs or 15 days on the reckless driving charge, with the same amounts assessed on the second charge.

John Oliver, Southfield, pleaded guilty and drew a $20 fine for a citation charging operation of a defective vehicle on June 21, 1966.

Robert Isherwood, Northville, cited July 26, 1966 for failing to display two license plates on his car, pleaded guilty last Friday and was fined $20.

Linda S. Loveless, Pontiac, answering to a citation issued December 16, 1965 for a defective exhaust, pleaded guilty and paid a $20 fine.

Carol Ann Sittkins, Hamtramak, cited for improper passing December 16, 1965, pleaded guilty and paid a $20 fine.

Robert L. Fobear, Saginaw, cited for driving while under the influence of liquor while driving near East Lake and 14 Mile roads last Saturday, pleaded guilty to an added count of reckless driving. Fobear was sentenced to pay a $75 fine.

what do you trust?

You can't do much without trusting in something besides yourself. And sooner or later, all our trust must come to a focus in God. We must go deeper with our spiritual searchings until we understand Him as the divine Principle of everything that really exists. Over Northville Teacher Contract Early Bargaining Optimism Turns Sour

The air of optimism that marked the initial teacher contract negotiations has turned sour and it appears that a gap between the two bargaining sides is widening.

Attacking the teachers' initial demands as "unreasonable", Superintendent Raymond Spear found himself under attack last week for failing to make specific proposals to the teachers.

Spear and the board of education argue that teachers, by their "unreasonable" demands places the district in a financial dilemma. Teachers, on the other hand, argue that their demands may seem unreasonable only because the board's demands have not yet been unveiled.

Basically, their contention is: You've had time to reflect on our proposal, time to determine that it is—in your opinion 'unreasonable'—but we have not received your specific proposals and hence cannot say how unreasonable you will be.

--Provisions relative to the elimination of teaching positions in the event of a financial shortage.
--Reduction of and more restrictions for personal business absences by teachers.
--Consideration of a three-year contract.

Fight Blocks Center Traffic

A fight among four young men held up traffic on North Center street late Saturday night, attracted a number of sidewalk spectators and brought charges of being disorderly persons against two men from Walled Lake and one from Northville.

Spear, who last week pinpointed areas within the present contract that the board wishes to change and who asked the teachers' bargaining team to suggest guidelines in these areas, said he would spell out the board's specific demands in these areas at the insistence of the teachers.

He said he had wished to avoid "this kind of horse-trading" and, instead, mutually resolve the board's broad suggestions in discussions with teachers.

Areas which the board of education, through Spear, indicated it wished to explore, did not include a salary proposal. Among the areas included were:

A fourth man involved in the midnight street melee escaped Northville police by fleeing on foot through an alley.

Taken into custody were James R. Gow, 20, and Michael G. Moody, 17, both of Walled Lake, and Hugh F. Burns, 18, of 2222 Beck road.

Northville police reported that the three were arrested on the disorderly charges after police broke up a fight in the street on North Center between Dunlap and Main about midnight Saturday.

The fighting and a car belonging to one of the participants that was halted in a traffic lane, held up traffic back through the intersection of Main and Center. A gathering of about 30 sidewalk spectators viewed the fracas.

--Exclusion of the curriculum coordinator and department heads from the bargaining unit.
--Change in requirement for notification of personal illness.
--Establishment of a date for notification of teachers' working intentions for the coming school year.
--Elimination of a salary increase for teachers placed on third-year probation for teachers whose performance is "questionable".
--Provision for the department heads to assist in supervision of teachers in their departments.

Optimists Plan Tuesday Meet

Next week's meeting of the Northville Optimist club will take place Tuesday—instead of Wednesday, and at the Northville high school cafeteria—instead of the Thunderbird Inn.

Reason for the changes is the planned oratorical contest sponsored by the club. The dinner meeting will get underway at 6:45.

Other upcoming programs include: a program on April 17 featuring dogs trained for police work (admission, one bone); and a business meeting on May 1 in which the budget for the next year will be prepared.

In Uniform

Joseph DeRosia, U.S. Navy, arrived back in the United States March 28 after a training cruise that took him to Spain, Italy, Malta, Greece and London, England.

He will spend Easter with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Ted DeRosia, 24744 Taft road, Novi.

Beaten, Robbed

A Northville service station attendant was beaten and robbed of $75 early yesterday. (Wednesday) morning.

Treated at St. Mary Hospital after he was knocked down and kicked by a young, unidentified man, was Cliff Gerald Beaty.

Beaty was working at the Clark service station, 510 South Main street, when the young man, acting as if he were drunk, knocked him down and robbed him.

The attendant described his assailant as a white male, 5' 10", 160 pounds, with reddish, blond hair. Bearded, his age was put at 20.

Loan Bonds Sold

Manufacturers National Bank was the lone bidder in the sale of $45,000 worth of tax anticipation warrants by the city of Northville Monday night.

The money is needed to complete the city's fiscal year ending June 30 and will be repaid by September 1. The interest rate charged is 3.75 per cent.

'Drug Forger' Fined in Novi

A Detroit man arrested by Novi police for purchasing a quantity of the drug Dolophine with a forged prescription was placed on probation for one year and assessed $96 in costs after pleading guilty to a disorderly person charge in Novi justice court last Thursday.

Tommy Lee Finley, Detroit, was apprehended by Novi police March 8 and linked with purchase of the drug with prescription blanks bearing the name of Detroit doctor. Police report that the prescription blanks might have been stolen.

When arraigned before Justice Emery Jacques, with a state prosecutor present, Finley pleaded guilty to the disorderly charge, which was reduced from obtaining a drug by fraud.

Grass Fires Plague Area

A number of grass fires this past week have kept sirens wailing and firemen on the run in both Northville and Novi.

The dry condition and the large number of fires also brought an order from the Michigan Conservation Department to halt issuing of permits for burning.

Fire Chief Floyd Loynes of Novi said that the wind has been a factor in the high number of recent fires, as the moving air and warm temperature caused an extremely dry condition with ground cover. Once a flame is ignited, the wind causes the fire to grow and spread rapidly, Loynes said.

No burning permits will be issued until there has been a good soaking rain and the conservation department lifts its order.

Last weekend provided the busiest time for firemen. Novi firemen had five calls Friday, six Saturday, and two on Sunday. The Northville firemen had seven calls Saturday with the bulk of their activity during the hours from 12:30 to 9 p.m.

Tuesday - Stuppy Joe on bun, brownie potatoes, cheese wedge, relishes, Prince's pudding, peaches, milk. Soup, split pea.

Wednesday - Submarine, potato chips, relishes, orange juice, strawberry shotake, milk. Soup: chicken noodle.

Thursday - Roast chicken and dressing, gravy, beans, mashed potatoes, sweet potatoes, rolls and butter, Easter cupcake, milk. Soup: beef vegetable.

Good Friday - No school. Happy Easter vacation.

Novi Draws Iron River

After backing away from a match with Hancock in the mayor's exchange program of Michigan Week because of time and distance involved with travel, a redrawing matched Novi with Iron River, another city of about 4,000 population in Iron county at the western reaches of the Upper Peninsula.

Village President Raymond Harrison, and the president pro-tem, Councilman Leo Harrawood, were designated as Novi's official ambassadors who will be the guests of Iron River officials on May 20.

The redrawing matched a village, Novi, with a city, Iron River, on the day that Novi citizens are scheduled to vote on incorporating as a city. Which means that Harrison and Harrawood will probably be among those casting absentee ballots, unless Novi township officials, who favor maintaining village status for Novi, are successful in preventing the scheduled election.

Novi Goodfellows Pick Lee BeGole

Novi Police Chief Lee BeGole was elected chairman of the Novi Goodfellows last week. He succeeds Richard Bingham.

Other newly elected officers are Florence Harris, vice-chairman; Dorothy Farrali, treasurer; and Eugenie Choquet, secretary.

One of the first projects of the organization this year will be the sale of candy.

In 100 MPH Chase

Nab Redford Speedster

A high-speed chase that saw a fleeing car reach speeds exceeding 100 MPH along Eight-Mile road, and accelerating car on North Center that saw one driver narrowly miss a man attempting to cross the street, resulted in two area men being cited for reckless driving by Northville police.

The chase on Eight Mile began on North Center street about 3 a.m. Sunday morning. Patrolman Ronald Wankowicz heard the squeal of tires and observed a car accelerate rapidly and head north on Center as Wankowicz was driving through the Kroger parking lot. He followed, estimating the speed past the high school at 60 MPH and observing the car weave across the center line. After turning east on Eight Mile, the auto failed to stop on signals from the patrol car.

With police from Farmington and Farmington township alerted, the auto was halted at Eight Mile and Farmington after reaching a reported speed of 110 mph.

The driver, Roger C. Henderson, Redford, was taken into custody, charged with reckless driving, and released on $100 cash bond. According to the report, Henderson said that the only reason he stopped was because. "I thought I blew my transmission."

The other reckless driving citation grew out of a dispute between two men driving on Plymouth road, near Plymouth. It terminated on North Center when one of the drivers set his car in motion, forcing the other driver, who was on foot attempting to reach a Northville police car, to leap backward from its path.

According to Northville police, Patrolmen Phil Young and Robert Pankow were stopped on Randolph at North Center about 12:30 a.m. last Thursday morning. When John E. Robertson, of Belleville, stopped his car on Center street and attempted to cross the street to speak with the officers, he was forced to leap backward as he crossed the center line when a car, driven by James P. Tauchers of Livonia, started forward.

Band Concert Tonight

Student conductors will take the spotlight tonight (Thursday) when the Northville high school band presents its annual spring concert in the high school gymnasium beginning at 8 p.m.

Sharing the baton will be Seniors Gary Becker, Mike Conley, Kyle Stubenvoll, Scott Bergo and Dan Wortman.

Special presentations will include the March Opus 99 by Prokofiev, several selections from the Planets Suite by Holst, and some of Duke Ellington's works.

Donations will be accepted at the door.

Police Recover Stolen Cars

Three cars stolen from Northville owners last week were quickly recovered, two in Northville and one in Brighton.

A 1966 convertible owned by Mrs. Margaret Zayti stolen from Northville Downs parking lot about noon Tuesday, March 26, was recovered Wednesday night in Brighton. Northville Police Chief Samuel Elkins reported that a 16-year-old Northville boy charged with the theft has been turned over to Wayne county juvenile authorities.

Tuesday morning a car abandoned in the A & P parking lot was identified as one removed from the used car lot of G. E. Miller Sales and Service at 127 Hutton street. The car was bearing license plates stolen from another vehicle.

The third stolen auto, a 1961 model station wagon removed from a driveway at 673 Randolph Tuesday night, March 27, was recovered Wednesday noon when police located the auto parked on Gaudner near River street.

Pretty Judy Taylor is but one of scores of crippled youngsters at the Easter Society's center in Wayne who will benefit from the Northville Rotary club's current Easter Seal campaign. With more than half of its $1200 goal collected, the Rotarians and members of the high school "N" club will take to downtown streets Friday and Saturday selling tiny lilies in an attempt to raise additional funds. Admiring the Easter bunny decorated with the flowers that will go on sale, Judy has her own admirers—(l to r) Rotary Easter Seal Chairman Dale Kiser, "N" Club President Jim Peterson, and Charles Smith, Rotarian and member of the society's board of directors.

Rev. Father John Wittstock
Our Lady of Victory Church

If we examine the sixth chapter of John the Evangelist we find that he describes the event of the multiplication of the loaves in a Eucharistic way. He contrasts the Passover meal of the Jews with the Christian Passover and he mentions the approaching Passover feast at the time of the multiplication of the loaves of bread. John makes it clear that he was thinking of the Eucharistic meal when he describes Jesus doing the very things He did at the Last Supper; He took bread, gave a blessing of thanksgiving and gave it to the people to eat.

Crowds of people followed Jesus because they saw the great things He was doing for people who suffered. It was late and there was no place for them to buy food for such a great crowd. This human concern for a very basic human need should strike us. This event is significant in that it demonstrates the fact that Jesus was conscious of all that the world needs and suffers; He sympathized and sacrificed Himself for the good of humans. "Tell the people to sit down". Five barley loaves and two fish were all that could be gathered. It's interesting to note that barley bread was the bread of the poor. Jesus was a man of the poor as all of us must be. Well, you know the story. Everybody had enough to eat — it must have been a real picnic. Jesus satisfied their hunger and even ordered the left-overs to be collected. "Twelve baskets-full" is a sign of abundance. Jesus again shows that what He has to give never runs out. The bread that He gives is a symbol of Himself. He is the Bread of Life. If anyone receives Him, he will get Everlasting Life and will be satisfied. Remember the episode at the drinking well? Jesus told the Samaritan woman that He would give living water that would never run out.

After the Divine Master fed the people they responded with a kind of a trust in Him. He did what money couldn't buy. And do you know — He still does it for us today. But to really comprehend what Christ would do for them and for us, one must look beyond his stomach, beyond what money can buy. Christ gives Everlasting Life — but to hunger for this Life, we must feel the need for it. We must really know that we are poor and are enriched only when we share in this banquet.

If our celebration of Christ's total giving of Himself is to be more than a ritual of selfish quest for our own salvation, then we must have compassion on those who are hungry. We cannot take the Bread of the Eucharist without having the will, the honesty, to share the bread of our lives — our time, our energy and our money in behalf of Christ's poor and hungry.

Spring is so much more than just a season. It is a miracle, enacted against a backdrop of perfect days. It is the time of rebirth . . . of reaffirmation.

Spring is Christ's story, beautifully illustrated by nature. It is all the teachings of the Church, brought to reality, spread out gloriously for you to see. Nature, in her sweet, new loveliness, touches the world, touches you with the Christ-like spirit. If your vision has been dulled, she gives you the chance to see again more brightly than ever.

Palm Sunday is here again. Never before have the doors of the Church seemed to stand quite so open . . . so ready to receive you. Never has the lesson of everlasting life . . . Christ's lesson . . . been so poignant. There will be new richness in your life if you will trust in the Church. In your soul there can be eternal spring, and all the bleakness, questioning and doubt can be erased from your heart forever.

THE CHURCH FOR ALL . . . ALL FOR THE CHURCH

The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the Church. They are: (1) For his own sake. (2) For his children's sake. (3) For the sake of his community and nation. (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.

The hushabye heat.

Soft and low Gentle and quiet That's electric heat. If it's quietest, there's no sound at all. If it's a warm-air furnace, the fan runs at a lower speed. Gives only a gentle hum, soft as a lullaby. What else? Electric heat is clean. No fumes. No soot. No draft. No chill. One moment nor a burst of hot air. The next the humidity stays in the comfort range.

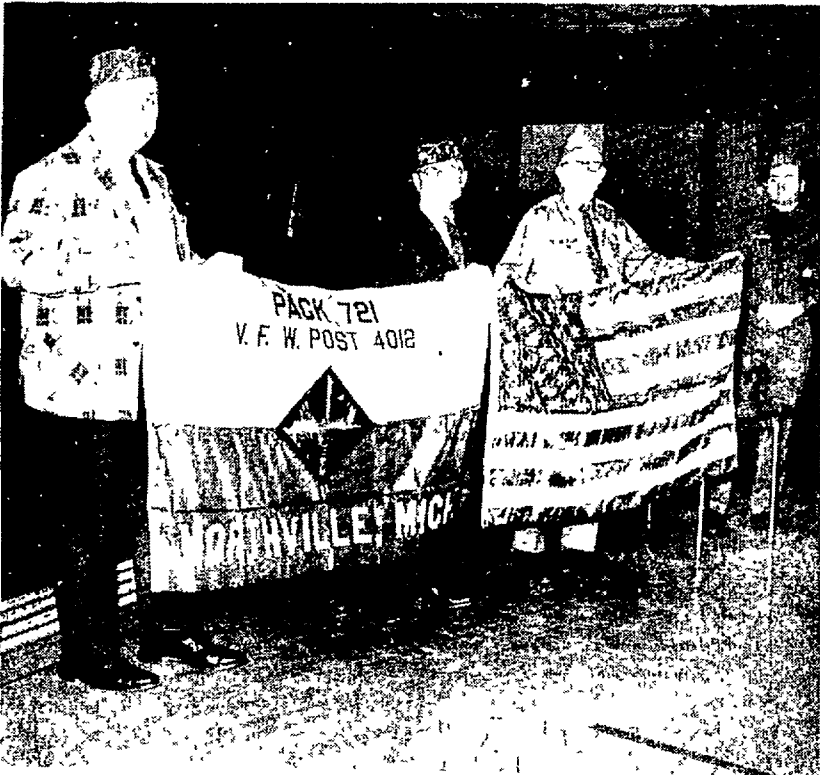

It's better for you. Your nose and throat. Better for your home. Call Edison for the name of your nearest Edison-approved Electric Heat Contractor. He'll give you a no-obligation survey. Supervisor's Choice

Mayor Canfield To Head Board

Dearborn Heights Mayor John L. Canfield is in line to become chairman of the 130-member Wayne county board of supervisors at its April 9 meeting. Mayor Canfield was nominated for the post by the out-county supervisors association at a meeting in Inkster March 21.

Board Stalls 'Riot' Package

The proposed purchase of $43,450 in riot control equipment for the Wayne county sheriff's department has been delayed indefinitely by the County board of supervisors.

The supervisors' ways and means committee decided at a meeting March 21 to delay the purchase until all aspects of law enforcement and community relations in the county have been evaluated.

Ways and means instructed the sheriff's committee of the board to work with the supervisors' human relations committee, the sheriff and the prosecuting attorney in a joint evaluation.

Livonia Councilman Edward Milligan, who spearheaded the move to delay the equipment purchase, called for a thorough study of possible non-lethal means of coping with civil disturbances.

He also called for a "firm statement of policy" from the board of supervisors to the effect that "due process of law and respect for the individual" will be observed scrupulously in all situations.

The proposed purchase included shotguns, rifles and chemical Mace, a teargas-like chemical.

In other action, the ways and means committee approved labor contracts granting pay raises and improvements in fringe benefits to county employees represented by Council 23, American Federation of State, county and municipal employees. The committee also voted to extend the same pay package to all other county employees.

The pay package provides an across-the-board pay hike of seven percent of maximum salary, or $420, whichever is larger, plus an additional holiday, the employee's birthday.

The package is due to be acted on by the full Board Tuesday, March 26.

Detroit Port Fees Tied Up

Regulations designed to bar criminal elements from the Port of Detroit waterfront remain stalled following failure of proposed license fees to pass the Wayne county board of supervisors.

A majority of members present voted 51-39 in favor of the proposed fee schedule at the March 26 board meeting, but a majority of the full 130-member board — 66 members — was needed for passage.

Rules and regulations giving the Detroit-Wayne County Port commission the power to license waterfront businesses were passed by the Board of Supervisors early this year and became effective last June 9.

However, the regulations cannot be implemented until license fees are set.

Andrew W. Fleming, executive director of the port commission, said the commission will submit a revised fee schedule for consideration.

Kings Mill Families Relax and Get Acquainted

Residents, and soon-to-become residents, of Kings Mill townhouses on Northville road got better acquainted Sunday afternoon at an informal open house held at the clubhouse facility.

Mostly, they just enjoyed each other's company and light refreshments. But some, especially the children, took advantage of the recreation facilities.

The clubhouse overlooks a swimming pool that will soon provide more recreation—just as soon as weather permits.

Betty Palm, social director for Kings Mill, was hostess for the open house. Nearly 80 of the townhouses are now occupied. When the development is complete, there will be a total of 455 townhouse units.

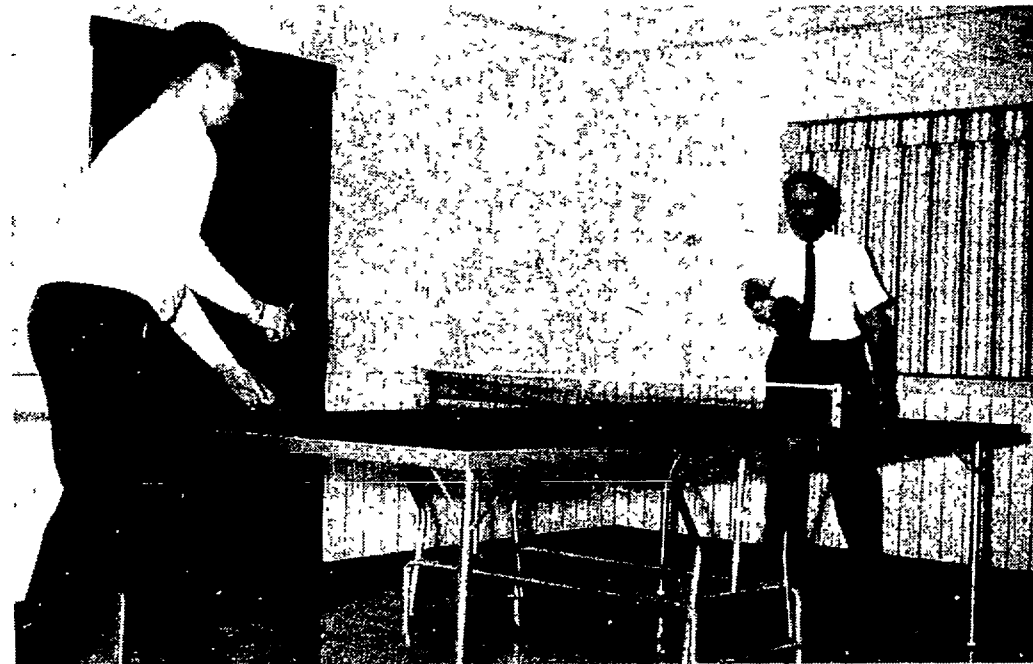

Hostess Betty Palm chats with Lyla McPherson and Arlene Kuegler.

Kings Mill Mothers Club, which plans activities for youngsters, took advantage of the open house to hold a bake sale.

The teenage set was attracted to the pool tables.

No longer teenagers, Ed Reed and Paul Stueckle were still up to playing a fast game of ping pong.

Citizens Group Meets to Fight Tax Secrecy

An Oakland county citizen organization, which encourages participation by persons in the South Lyon-Novici area, will meet Monday to discuss what it contends is unwise spending of tax monies by the Oakland county board of supervisors.

The meeting is slated to take place at 7:30 p.m. in the Seaholm high school, 2436 West Lincoln, Birmingham. Representatives of various homeowner associations in this area are especially urged to attend.

"As you have probably heard the Oakland County Homeowners and Taxpayers association has launched itself on a project to determine how funds are received and dispersed in Oakland county to inform the public on how its tax dollars are spent," explains Walter Chadburne, public relations chairman.

"In line with our efforts to learn more about the proposed Oakland-Orion Airport and to bring the county's monetary policies out in the open, our organization has asked for public hearings, both on the airport and the 1969 county budget. Both have been denied, even though the State Constitution provides for a public hearing on the budget and the people, who must pay for and live with the airport, have been given no opportunity to approve it."

Still another concern of the organization is the plans for expansion of the Pontiac airport. Expenditure of monies for this project, it contends, is highly questionable, but that information about these expenditures are difficult to obtain.

"The timing of our protest is of utmost importance. In April the taxpayer can protest the budget before the allocation is made and the tax rate set for the following year. In October the board of supervisors presents an already adopted budget to the people and any reductions made on specific items would only create a "tax surplus".

The group notes that the Constitution specifically states: "Any county, township, city, village, authority or school district empowered by the Legislature or by this Constitution to prepare budgets of estimated expenditures and revenues shall adopt such budgets only after a public hearing in a manner prescribed by law."

Attacks Community Building 'Sale'

To the Editor:
I was shocked when I read in the Record that the school district was considering "selling" the community building "because it is no longer used locally for educational purposes." Of course it's not. Now that Schoolcraft and the Cavern have leased it no one has been able to use it. I understand several organizations have tried but have been unsuccessful. I thought there was enough protest by parents and others in the Main Street elementary area that the lease would be dropped when it expired. Many of us have objected to transporting our children to the new junior high for recreation, scouting, and other activities and where there is inadequate parking facilities, because the community building is no longer available to us.
Did the board realize that last year the children in Mrs. May's music classes worked very hard on a Christmas program only to be told they would be unable to perform for their parents. We were sent a note home stating that due to the lack of facilities in the Main Street area we will be unable to have a program this year for the

Dear Sirs:
The Northville Jaycees are again planning a full day for our community for July 4th. The day will commence with a parade at 10:00 a.m. and will conclude with a gigantic fireworks display after dark.
We are planning a larger parade this year with several bands and hopefully more floats.
Needless to say, we need your financial support to make the day a success. The community has reacted favorably in the past to these activities and it is with this in mind that we again solicit your donation.
Your donation to the Northville Jaycees, P.O. Box 241 Northville, will help to make the day's festivities a tremendous success.

Roads Turned into Dumps

To the Editor:
I just returned from a sight that makes me so inflamed and angry that a letter has to be written for all your readers to see.
My fear is the ones it should reach are incapable of reading or caring. What I saw was an old couch, a set of springs and mattress, a washing machine, car seats, car doors, a toilet, bags of disposable diapers, and boxes of you name it, it's there. Plus what would probably amount to truck loads of throw-away bottles and beer cans. Sounds like a dump, doesn't it? It looks like a dump too, but it's a typical country road—yours and mine! A road such as many Sunday drivers take to be refreshed from city living. This is far from true anymore. Wild flowers lose their charm growing amid beer cans and shattered whisky bottles.
Have any of you given a thought to what happens to the broken bottles parents. We could come to either school hours while they were performing for the students and also

Moraine or Amerman school during where there were almost no facilities for us.

Where are assemblies held for the children in Main Street school?

I'm sure if some of the other parents, teachers and leaders in the Main Street area would voice their objections to the board, they would see there is still much need for the community building.

Vote Not 'Anti'

To the Editor:
I take issue with the statement made in Mr. Koester's letter that the Village Council vote was an "anti-city hood" vote.
In an election where 13 candidates vie for only three positions, the vote is primarily based upon personalities. For example, Mr. Charles Smith, chairman of the Citizens Incorporation Committee, who has worked hard for this community, is not well known and he made no effort to campaign actively for the council seat.

...MAKES YOU A BETTER COOK!

Here's an "informer" that not only gives you the facts but does something about it! How does it work? Simple. Into the center of the meat you put a thermostatic probe, one end of which is plugged into the oven wall. Slide the roast into the oven and turn the indicator to the exact degree of doneness you want. When the meat probe gets the right "inside" information, it signals you—then automatically and instantly shuts the oven off. Takes all the anxious guesswork out of roasting.

Schoolcraft

Schoolcraft college has received full accreditation as a community college from the North Central Association of Colleges and Secondary Schools, it has been announced by Dr. Eric J. Bradner, president of the college.

Accreditation status was awarded for a period of three years and will be reviewed by the NCACSS within the next three to five years.

Announcement of the decision was made Wednesday, March 27, at the annual meeting of the regional accrediting association in Chicago.

"We are, of course, delighted," said Dr. Bradner. "This means that all of the rights and privileges—as well as the responsibilities—accruing from full accreditation are ours."

"Our students now have unequivocal assurance of the high quality of instruction at the college. Students intending to transfer their academic credits to a four-year institution anywhere in the country may do so in the knowledge that those credits will transfer without question."

"Students enrolled in career programs," Dr. Bradner continued, "gain the same benefits as all other students with the knowledge that the instructional quality they receive meets the high standards of the regional accreditation body."

"All citizens and taxpayers of the college district can take renewed pride in the community college which they support by knowing that within a four-year period Schoolcraft has established itself as an institution of higher education which has from the start met standards of quality required of every university, four-year college and two-year college in the nation."

"It is significant," Dr. Bradner went on, "and a fact that cannot be ignored that full accreditation has come to Schoolcraft in its fourth year of operation. This achievement—alone stamps Schoolcraft as an exception among institutions of higher education."

"Recognition by the North Central Association of the efforts and achievements of Schoolcraft college in the four years it has been serving this community is cause for a feeling of justifiable pride by every faculty member and administrator at the college—a feeling in which all of us can share."

Harold Fischer, chairman of the Board of Trustees of the college, said on behalf of the Board: "The administration and the faculty of the college are to be congratulated. Full accreditation means a great deal to Schoolcraft. The Trustees express deep thanks for the efforts of the entire staff of the college which made it possible."

Schoolcraft has not been without accreditation status during the intervening years since it opened in August, 1964. In March, 1965, the Michigan Commission on College Accreditation granted status to the new college, and the federal government accepted its progress toward regional accreditation as meeting eligibility requirements for federal grants.

In 1966, the North Central Association accepted the college as a candidate for accreditation.

Moraine Pupils Influence New 'Creative' Curriculum

The second and third grade students at Moraine Elementary School have developed a program that calls for suspension of normal class activity once a week while dogs and other animals, parents, and the school's principal, teachers, and the custodian join the children to make music, stage drama productions, knit, make things of wood and cook.

If it appears that the students have influenced the curriculum, then the results must be judged successful because that is exactly what the principal, Milton Jacobi, and his teachers, worked to bring about.

Named the creative activities program, the operation provides for all second and third grade students to have one hour each week to engage in activities that they find interesting.

Now in its second six-week period of operation, the program is formed of several different areas called interest groups, which were formed along lines of interest the students expressed in early planning of the operation.

Student involvement was one main objective. From the outset the teachers' roles were designed as a guiding influence rather than as directors. The children provide the leadership with their interest and enthusiasm while the adults guide through participation in the high-interest activities.

For example, the third-grade drama group wrote an original one-act play with student actors portraying the various characters, (mainly German Shepherds and Great Danes) with the script calling for Miss Florence Panattoni in the narrator's role.

Another objective of the program is to give the children experience in meeting teachers and adults in roles and settings other than those of the usual daily routine.

This brings Mrs. John Sergeant, who has a daughter in the third grade, to school once a week to meet with the pets-and-animals interest group. It also brought Mrs. Carl York, a friend of Mrs. Sergeant, and Sean, the York family setter, who recently demonstrated talents gained while attending a dog-obedience school.

The program brings Jacobi out of his office and principal's role into the gym for some exercise with the team sports group. Custodian Al Sorg steps into the role of woodworking hobbyist, and gives time beyond his scheduled hours, to meet with a group of boys having an interest in tools and wood.

The main objective, which furnished the initial force for developing the program was the desire of Jacobi and his teachers to attempt a positive action program that would help attain and maintain a high degree of motivation and positive attitudes towards school and the academic work in the classrooms.

"While it is far too early to evaluate and document for any gains in motivation for the classroom work, there's no question about the motivation for this program," Jacobi said.

He said that students and teachers look forward to the one-hour weekly sessions and there is no apparent falling off of enthusiasm as the program nears conclusion of the second six-week period.

The emphasis on making it the students' program provided for opportunity to change groups at the end of the first six-week period.

"Not many wanted to change," one teacher said, "which seems to support that their choice in the first place must have been based on an honest and strong interest in the particular area."

To provide information about what other groups are doing, in case a student does want to change groups, all the students are brought together at the end of the hour to hear what each group has been doing.

"This is another real benefit of the program," Jacobi said. "This assembly provides for the students to have experience in expressing themselves as an individual in a large group, while the interest groups provide the small-group experience in a manner far different from the classroom situation."

Jacobi and his teachers place a high value on the service the volunteer parents provide in acting as group leaders.

Where the parents are leading the group, the teacher remains in the background to keep with one of the objectives of letting the students see adults in roles other than the dominant one.

One advantage that Jacobi did not mention, but quickly comes to a visitor's mind, is that the program also permits the parents to see children in roles other than and beyond that of the son or daughter who goes to, and comes home from, school.

SPEAKING for The Record

By BILL SLIGER

The Northville unification study, jointly sponsored and undertaken by the city and township, is nearing completion. It seems likely that a full report will be ready for public consideration by June 1.

Presently, only the report from the subcommittee on finance remains to be submitted to the steering committee. Its report has been purposely delayed so that the findings of all other subcommittees could be reviewed and related to the financial ramifications of community unity.

The subcommittee reports completed include: public works maintenance, street improvements, water and sewer improvements, public safety and planning and administration.

When all these reports have been analyzed, the steering committee is expected to make a recommendation — or at least offer a set of alternatives in some order of preference.

The steering committee is composed of two city councilmen, two township trustees, and a representative of the Northville Area Economic Development Committee. It is assisted and advised by the city manager, township supervisor and a public management consultant.

It would be pure guesswork at this stage to predict what recommendations might arise from the study.

From this vantage point it is still difficult to determine whether the study is a completely honest effort to seek out the truth and give it official support, or whether it is merely an exercise designed for the sake of appearances. Hopefully, the community and its citizens would not have been subjected to the expense, time and effort merely to accomplish the latter.

The established purpose of the study is to determine whether or not unification is feasible and, if so, how and when it should be accomplished.

But whatever course is recommended, it remains for the voters of the community to decide at the polls — providing an election is one day called on the matter.

One point discussed at the last meeting of the study committee deserves explanation here. It deals with the difference between "unification" and "annexation".

The terms themselves excite reaction. The former has a more acceptable ring... It indicates a joint, cooperative action. Conversely, annexation hits hard at critics and smacks of "land grabbing".

Actually, the two methods of bringing units of city and township governments together differ in this regard:

by uniting the total existing township area with the city through two favorable votes in both total areas.

Annexation is accomplished when portion of the township (less than the whole) becomes a part of the city thereby disconnected from the remaining portion of the township, through a favorable vote in the total city and in that portion of the township slated for annexation.

Perhaps the most significant difference between unification and annexation is the fact that by the action of the former the entire community (city and township) forms a new city. And two elections are required for accomplishment.

In the instance of unification an election is held to approve or disapprove of the formation of a city encompassing the total city-township area. On the same ballot voters elect "charter commissioners". If the unification vote is approved, the elected commissioners must then draft a city charter. Upon completion, this document must be approved by the electorate within the entire boundaries of the proposed city.

Between the time of the first and second elections the two governments (city and township) continue to function as separate units. Not until approval of a charter has unification, and thereby creation of a new city, been completed.

There are, of course, advantages to "unification" action. Most obvious is the fact that it gives township residents an equal opportunity to determine the kind of charter under which they shall be governed. And it provides residents of the previously unincorporated area an immediate opportunity at the polls to be elected to the new city's governing body.

Annexation, too, has definite advantages.

It permits expansion of city boundaries in stages, if this seems more desirable in keeping pace with development and need for services. It also allows for exclusion of areas that might never be realistically suited to unification with the whole. An example of this is that portion of the southeast section of the township lying in the Plymouth school district. Most of these residents are oriented to the community of Plymouth — its schools, churches and community activities.

Whatever the course... unification, annexation, continued separation... the determination should reduce itself to what is best for the order and proper development of the total community of Northville.

Voters should prepare themselves for serious and objective review of the report from the joint unification

Readers Speak School Bond Issues Sour Taxed Voters

To the Editor:

I believe our past trying period between taxpayers and school bond issues has just about fizzled out.

Since 1961 taxpayers voters have incurred upon themselves $1-billion in debts for construction and renovation of schools. Since 1967 — voters have approved $286.2 million in bond issues, this has soured voters against all taxes.

If we look at the results of some of recent elections in our surrounding neighborhoods, Ann Arbor voters have turned down 15.5 million issue by a vote of 2 to 1 margin. Ypsilanti voters refused to support a $13-million proposal by 3 to 2 vote in February. Grand Rapids turned down $1.5-million issue three times and Kalamazoo lost a $15.3 million building program by 3-2 vote.

In the last seven years school bond issues, financing 98-per cent of school construction have increased more than 200 per cent. Yearly average more than $166-million.

Voters seem to feel they had enough, and Michigan must find a new method of financing education. It would help some to lower the interest rate on bonds of 3.77 per cent.

The Novi school board should be considering year around school operation, but not an extended summer school plan that has been in operation since 1912. School board should ask for a popular referendum on a quarterly plan in which three-quarters of the students would be in school at all times, with one-quarter on vacation at all times on a rotating basis.

If this plan were implemented, a spring or summer election would be unnecessary, because 12 month operation of the schools would increase our existing schools capacities by one third, and would have the same effect as building million of dollars worth of new school buildings as the population increases.

There is certain unrest among people concerning taxes: the evidence is clear as we look at local money elections all over, and the recent amount of school bond issue defeats. We can no longer afford to allow school plants to stand idle in the summer. If we follow the described operation, and increase our school's capacities by one third, there would be no need to build new additions or schools for at least the next decade, based on enrollment projections.

The major factor is the will of the people to adjust, I think now is the time.

A LOOSE LEAF

By ROLLY PETERSON

Television scored another first, although it wasn't done through prearrangement and TV can take no credit. It was President Johnson's declaration Sunday night that he would not seek his party's 1968 nomination for the presidency.

Shock, alarm and disbelief hardly describe the reaction to the President's announcement, which must rank with Lee Harvey Oswald's assassination in a Dallas jail as one of the biggest bombshells ever exploded live on television.

The reaction of newsmen, must, in some sense, compare with the astonishment and disbelief felt when President John Kennedy was assassinated on November 22, 1963. Lacking, however, was the same sense of tragic loss.

Non-plused, newsmen scrambled for something to say. NBC's Ed Newman, in his struggle for words, even contradicted himself. Roger Mudd and Dan Rather feebly reflected and openly admitted their unpreparedness, and flustered Ellie Abel, later after interviewing Eugene McCarthy for his reaction, politely said, "Thank you, Senator Kennedy."

In a way, the TV newsmen's loss for words would be laughable, if it were not such an obvious chink in their oft proclaimed technological edge over other news media.

What TV had was the chance to scoop newspapers and somewhat less, radio. But TV, with 100 percent coverage and innumerable viewers watching, blew it. The plain fact was no network was prepared for the unpredictable, an obvious oversight.

Reporters worth their salt, must, like the Boy Scouts, "Be Prepared," otherwise foresee the name of reporter. An emergency might catch them flat-footed, yet the true test of their mettle is calmness and acumen under grave pressure, the ability, if you will, to provide an instant, considered sounding board for the people.

Such comment is a true test of reportorial and editorial excellence. Yet, no network had the resiliance to bounce back — even hours later — to provide the keen insights demanded in a surprise situation. TV's mistake is further compounded by the fact that its reporters represent what most would concede are the elite corps, having at its disposal infinite news and financial resources.

Which brings us to the plain but often dismissed fact that although technology may give one news media a decided edge, that edge is governed by human limitations. That technology, in other words, is only as good as the men behind it.

Some people will recognize this human limitation and defend the TV newsmen. And there is some justification in this stand. But TV, as the most representative medium of our technological age, stands or falls on its mastery of that medium, new as it is.

President Johnson's surprise disclosure, may well be a blessing in disguise. Surely, it will force television's hierarchy to take a scrutinizing look at their methods in order to come up with a planned approach to the unsuspected. If TV is wise, weakness will be turned to strength.

TV news staffs, at least a solid nucleus, will be in the wings on a standby basis, and technical crews likewise will be ready to return to the airways within a few hours that same day or night to provide the commentary expected of the swiftest, most promising medium.

Although TV techniques may be refined, it is also clear that television will never be able to duplicate the in-depth coverage of newspapers and magazines, not without radical change. But it should definitely provide cogent commentary on an event as important as the President's announcement.

Dislikes Sunday Mowing

To the Editor:

Since moving to Northville we have been most happy in our new surroundings. We appreciate the friendliness of a small town.

However, there is one thing which we shall never get used to nor like, I am referring to the thoughtless practice of mowing lawns on Sunday. Just one power mower and one lawn edger can be heard (and tolerated?) for several blocks.

I realize there are a host of people who neither worship Christ nor acknowledge Him, thus we cannot expect such persons to have any respect for the Lord or His Day of worship and rest. But, in the name of common sense, why can't people be thoughtful of one another? I cannot remember of anyone starting up a lawn mower or edger at six o'clock in the morning and thoughtlessly going about his lawn work. Have you never realized how important a quiet, peaceful Sunday afternoon is to those who have worked hard the past six days in a noisy factory, etc.?

There are between 80 and 110 daylight hours in the week during the lawn mowing season. Few people work that many hours away from home. So, there are other times to break the sound barrier besides on Sundays.

In the name of decency, common sense, and thoughtfulness of others, will you stop and think of others the next time you are tempted to add to the noisiness of your neighborhood? Thank you for your kind consideration of others!

New Group Ready to Help

To the Editor:

Overheard at the supermarket checkout counter, "I declare! Whatever is wrong with the younger generation. It's one problem after another."

Overheard at the Tavern, "I sure don't know what makes my parents tick. I can't talk to them about anything."

Life would be dull without problems of one kind or another. But sometimes they multiply so fast that one does not know what to do about them. At a time when social behavior of both adults and young people is rapidly changing, the "problem crises" become acute. What do we do? The Youth Services Committee of Northville, among other things, has set up a "Referral and Educational Program."

The Committee sincerely believes that many people, both young people and parents, have instances when they would truly like outside professional help, but for one reason or another do not know where to go, or where to begin, or who is a willing listener. To this end, "Referral Program" has been created, to cope with the increasing problems our youth face. This Committee, composed of local people, many in the "helping professions," will on request, secure appropriate help for those who ask for it. "Referral Program" will steer these people toward suitable help in consultation with them. This help may general counseling, family service, Big Brother program, psychiatric help, or any other type of service. "Referral Program" will help by getting help for those who desire it.

The procedure for securing the help of the Referral Program is quite simple. Anyone, either young person or parent, who feels that a crisis exists in his life relating to the problems of young people that is "too big" to handle, may contact his school counselor or principal, his minister, or the police desk. These people will keep names and information confidential. The request will then be given to the Youth Services Committee, which in turn will keep all information in the strictest confidence. The Committee will offer suggestions to where help may be received. If for any reason a person may be unwilling to talk with a "go-between," he may reach the Referral Program directly by writing to: Youth Services Committee of Northville, P.O. Box 82, Northville.

The Educational Program of the double emphasis approach, seeks to present informative programs dealing with subjects which tend to cause the most disturbances in this period of social and behavioral change. Already, there has been an assembly program at the High School on alcoholism. It is hoped that other programs, perhaps in the evening so parents could also attend, will be presented to help both young people and parents to grasp some of the implications of our rapidly changing society.

Sincerely yours,
The Rev. Timothy Johnson,
Secretary
Youth Services Committee

Defends Retiree Village

To the Editor:

For several weeks I followed in the newspaper articles concerning the progress or lack of progress of Dr. Glynzski's retirement village. Since there was so much controversy regarding the issues, I took the trouble to find out from Dr. Glynzski exactly what his developmental plans were. I wonder how many of the residents of Marilyn road who so violently opposed him did as much? Probably none, for many of their objections were without foundation.

What the doctor had planned was a community of one story units, each in the shape of a German cross and containing four two bedroom and eight one bedroom apartments. These he planned to rent to retired or semi retired business and professional people, who either because of reasons of health or because their children had grown and left home, no longer considered owning their own homes feasible.

At the front of the property Dr. Glynzski also planned to construct a circular two story convalescent home. This was to consist of pie shaped rooms each having its own large window. However, the doctor has abandoned these plans because the zoning granted makes such a development economically impossible. What will happen to the property now zoned for multiple dwellings is uncertain. However, the residents of Marilyn road may find it developed in a much less desirable manner than that which they opposed. I think this is a case in point for Northville. We are about to enter a period of tremendous developing. For the good of our community I hope all of us will try to remain well informed and not blindly oppose any and all new developments. All will not benefit our city, but when we oppose let us do so from an informed view point not from a prejudicial one.

Nix on Negroes

To the Editor:

Virgil G. Matheus' suggestion for Negro teacher hiring should be ignored.

We and our children had a sad experience in Detroit's racially mixed schools and open housing neighborhood in the Forties.

We were one of the last two white families to remain in that neighborhood, but the abuse we faced from Negro teenager prejudice was unbearable. Detroit Negroes are demanding a larger percentage of Negro teachers, so why compete.

Some communities envy Northville school system, so why jeopardize the excellence of ours schools.

Top of the Deck
by JACK W. HOFFMAN

I'm not suggesting that a newspaperman requires more than a knife-sharpened pencil and a white cuff to bang out his peculiar prose, but, wow, imagine what he could do if he had one of those new Executive Cockpits being offered by a Chicago firm for a paltry sum of $1,295.

The Executive Cockpit is a desk. Not an ordinary desk, but a made-to-order VIP electronic table that undoubtedly could turn a copy boy into a Hemingway overnight.

Take a look at what this piece of furniture offers:

Built-in console section housing an electronic clock, an AM-FM radio, a transistorized TV set, a cartridge tape recorder, pop-up telephone index and calendar. It operates from a 110-volt outlet, has controls that the reporter, using the TV receiver as a monitor screen, can switch to either of two remote, closed-circuit cameras.

And it has a clock that can be set to awake the dozing reporter, or turn on the radio, tape recorder or TV set at a specified time.

Not many of us will ever enjoy an Executive Cockpit, but a couple of years back I "owned" — for one solid month — a desk that had more class than a Senator's spittoon. Top brass would gladly have traded their key to the executive job for its ownership but I guarded it zealously.

It embittered my boss, who worked atop a box of 1950 vintage, and it rankled the bigwigs who dropped by to visit him.

That the desk came into my possession was a mistake, of course. It was one of those monumental slip-ups that occasionally plague big corporations. For nearly a year, I'd been forced to use a "temporary" desk, while an order for a new one passed from one department to another.

But while I waited, so did the vice-president. And as luck would have it, both desks arrived at the same time and I got his and he, mine. Since he rarely visited our office, my desk escaped his attention — until some blabbermouth ruined everything.

Stomping in one morning on the pretense of talking shop with my boss, the VP quickly outlined a speech he wanted written and then turned to me.

"Well, Hoffman, how do you like your work?" he asked, tapping his fingers on the glossy surface of my status symbol.

"Just fine, sir," I said.

He rubbed his palm along the edge of the rich wood, looked at the matching secretaire behind me, and then glanced at the complementing waste basket. "New desk?"

"Yes, sir. It came in a couple weeks ago," I said, pushing myself back into the thick folds of the leather chair.

That last maneuver was a mistake. He stomped out of the office, tossing an order over his shoulder, "I want the 'speech' by 2." What he meant to say was 'desk.' He had it by noon.

State Eyes 'Clean Up' Bonding Proposal

LANSING — A $435 million state bonding proposal may be included on the November ballot. The proposal is a first step in cleaning up the state's polluted lakes, rivers and streams and would provide additional funds for recreation purposes.

Bills have been introduced in both houses of the Legislature to put the proposal before voters. The issue is promoted by a committee called, "Michigan — America's Recreation State." MARS points out that the proposed $435 million is not enough to complete the job of water cleanup and recreational needs. It is estimated that more than $1.2 billion would be needed to eliminate the pollution problems in the state with an additional $437 million for expanded recreation facilities.

The committee has worked closely with the Governor's office, the Conservation Department and various legislators. It realizes that the bonding request, while not sufficient to solve the problems, is both realistic and a step in the direction of pollution control.

NO NEW TAXES would be required to float the 10-year bonding, MARS is quick to point out. Two state bond issues, the Korean Veterans' Bonus and the Hospital Bond Redemption Fund, will be paid off in 1970 and 1971, so annual payments of these two issues could be diverted to the proposed Clean Water and Recreation bonds. This would leave about $11 million per year to be paid from other sources. MARS suggests this balance be paid from state income tax revenue or other general fund receipts. It notes, however, that the matter of paying off bonds rests entirely with the Legislature. Lieutenant Governor William G. Milliken said that the bonds could be sold at an interest rate of 4-4 1/2%.

With construction costs and land costs rising at an annual rate of 7-10%, Milliken said that action is needed as soon as possible.

ONLY $70 million of the entire $435 million would be at the disposal of the state. The remaining $365 million would be used for match-money programs with local and federal programs.

Under the proposed plan the federal government would contribute $181 million and local government $157 million. Thus, total funds available for water cleanup and recreation would amount to some $723 million. Of this total, $155 million would be spent for recreation purposes, and $568 million for clean water.

Funds tabbed for water pollution control would be used to help local communities build 210 new water treatment plants and install additional sewers and storm water control systems.

Completion of the program is estimated at 1980.

Recreation funds, with the exception of $70 million, would go towards shared-cost grants so local governments could build playgrounds, parks, recreation centers and other facilities. The money under state control would qualify Michigan for federal match-money programs in wildlife, fisheries and state forestry.

THERE SHOULD be much publicity on the proposed bonding between now and November if the Legislature puts the issue on the fall ballot. MARS is organized into various committees and has the support of many state agencies, most notably the Conservation Department. Committee members have been told that "selling" the proposal to voters will not be an easy task.

However, Milliken stated, "If people have an opportunity to become fully aware of the opportunities of these programs, I am sure they will approve them." He noted that progress has been made in cleaning up the water in Michigan's 11,000 inland lakes and along its 3,000 miles of shorelines. But he pointed out that "years of neglect" have brought serious conditions to many lakes and rivers.

Lake Michigan is aging at 300-500 times its normal rate because of pollution, he said. Other waterways are as bad or worse. Recreation is tied in closely with ample supplies of clean water.

The issue is an important one and should be of concern to every resident of the state. The question is not really whether steps should be taken to clean up our water. It is whether this is the best program available.

Nation's Farmers to Seed Fewer Acres

BABSON PARK, Massachusetts — Prospective plantings this year, as indicated by the spring intentions submitted to the Crop Reporting Board, show 10 increases. However, the total for the 17 crops covered is down 2% — or 6 million acres — from a year ago.

Some 6% fewer acres than last year are to be seeded to feed grains, with the cutback in corn slated to exceed 8%. Even sharper paring is in store for sorghums, plantings dropping back 2 million acres — or nearly 12% — from 1967. Indicated acreages for barley and oats are up 2.6% and 2.9% respectively from a year ago. Even so, proposed plantings are down appreciably from the 5-year averages.

The dip in feed-grain acreage is not surprising in view of last year's large outturn. Still it should be remembered that the total feed-grain supply this season is estimated to be somewhat below average. So, if farmers adhere to these early planting intentions, you may expect a generally firmer statistical position — and higher price averages — in the 1968-69 season.

REFLECTING current widespread opinion that cotton plantings were too sharply curtailed in 1967, growers now say they will seed 17% more acreage to this crop. If this proves to be the case — and in the main it certainly promises to be — cottonseed oil and meal should move into somewhat better competitive position pricewise in the next season.

Much will depend, however, on whether growers stick to initial plans to hold the prospective boost in soybean acreage to 3%. Even if this is done, total 1968 oilseed acreage will still be up 5% from 1967 and some 11% above the 5-year average. It looks to us as though oversupply would continue to be a factor in oilseed markets well into 1969.

INTENDED plantings of durum wheat are a hefty 20% above a year ago but an anticipated 12% decline in seedlings to other spring wheat will make for a smaller total than last year. Including acreage sown to winter wheat last autumn, all-wheat plantings will lag 1967 by 8% but still rule 16% above the 5-year average. Given favorable weather, the full 1968 wheat outturn could approximate 1.5 million bushels, — down only slightly from 1967 and still some 23% above average.

Rice allotments were boosted 20% above last year's level, and growers — wisely we believe — are planning to take full advantage of the increase by expanding acreage by just about that amount. The resulting larger production should certainly not glut the market. Nor should the proposed 12% increase in dry-bean acreage lead to any market oversupply. If potato plantings in toto are cut back by 5% as indicated, output should be brought more nearly in line with the average of recent years. However, the large carryover may limit strength in the statistical position and in prices over the next several months.

AT THE BEGINNING of this year, the number of cattle and calves on farms stood at 108,813,000 — up slightly from a year earlier and about 2.7 million held above the 5-year average. Cattle and calves on feed top year-ago levels. Although no runaway marketings are presently indicated, our forecast is that consumers should be able to buy beef at lower than current prices in the weeks directly ahead.

The hog inventory on farms is a bit higher than a year ago and hog slaughter is expected to trend above comparable 1967 levels to midyear and quite possibly beyond. This reflects the sizable fall pig crop — mostly in pigs that are slated to reach slaughter weights this spring. We predict a further backtracking in hog prices before any turnaround occurs, but foresee no very sharp decline from current quotes.

Patriotism's Alive, Growing in Wixom

Patriotism has never gone out of fashion in the Henry Madigan family of Wixom.

Their only son, Sergeant Henry C. Madigan, is recuperating from a hand wound received in Vietnam while serving as a jumpmaster at Fort Bragg, North Carolina. He enlisted two years ago.

The Madigans' only daughter, Jane Christie Madigan, volunteered as an Air Force nurse after passing her state boards last fall and was commissioned a second lieutenant in October.

Jane, who has been at Wichita Falls, Texas, at Shepherd Air Force base, now will go to Hamilton Air Force base in California to take flight training. Now 21, she was graduated last fall from Highland Park college school of nursing.

Both she and her brother, who enlisted after two years of college, are following their parents' example of patriotic service.

The Madigans met during World War II in Alaska where he was a captain in the U.S. Army Signal Corps and Mrs. Madigan was a military nurse.

Now in charge of Whitehall convalescent home on Ten Mile road in Novi, where she has been for 10 years, Mrs. Madigan reflects a down-to-earth patriotism today.

Even while facing the fact that her son as a paratrooper expects to return to Vietnam with the 101st Air Borne division, she points out that "It's for our country, after all, that they are serving."

Because of his hand wound, she adds, her son can return as an instructor but not with combat troops.

In replying to questions about her children's military service, Mrs. Madigan comments, "When you see all the Hippies and Beatniks walking around, that's the time you feel proud of your own kids."

And those Madigan "kids" are two any community also can be proud of.

Special Effects Play Role in 'Blackbeard'

The success of a comedy-fantasy such as Walt Disney's "Blackbeard's Ghost," is greatly aided by special effects. In the title role, Peter Ustinov appears and disappears in a series of nuances that are completely believable because of the cooperative work of Eustace Lycett, head of Special Photographic Effects; Peter Ellenshaw, Supervising Matte Painter; Art Vitarelli, Second Unit Director; and Bob Matthey, head of Special Visual Effects.

Work on special effects begins in the first stages of production planning and continues months after the final scene has been shot and edited.

A great labor and time saver was the Disney developed sodium vapor photographic process, which allows the combination of foreground action with any background footage. Through extensive use of this exclusive Disney technique, location shooting was almost entirely avoided. Under director Vitarelli's supervision, the second unit shot background footage on location, at San Luis Obispo and Trancas which was later combined with stage shots.

Many of the background seascapes in the picture are the work of Peter Ellenshaw and his matte artists. Other location shooting was done at Disney Studios' Golden Oak Ranch. With the use of several fog machines, the small lake on the ranch doubled for the Atlantic coastline in a scene where the ghost of Blackbeard rows a boat to shore.

Simple effects like floating rum bottles were done right on the set. More difficult scenes such as the ghost exchanging bets on a table or snatching a javelin in mid-air were shot as inserts on the special effects stage.

"Blackbeard's Ghost," filmed in color by Technicolor, stars Peter Ustinov, Dean Jones and Suzanne Pleshette. Robert Stevenson directed the Bill Walsh-Don DaGradi screenplay, which is based on a novel by the noted illustrator, Ben Stahl. Walsh was co-producer of the Buena Vista release.

John Davidson runs into a punch from eccentric millionaire Anthony J. Drexel Biddle during a friendly parlor boxing match in this scene from Walt Disney's "The Happiest Millionaire." Filmed in brilliant Technicolor, "The Happiest Millionaire" stars MacMurray, Tommy Steele, Greer Garson and Geraldine Page, co-stars Gladys Cooper and Hermione Baddeley, and introduces Lesley Ann Warren and Davidson. It opens Wednesday at the P & A, which is now showing "Wait Until Dark."

Happiest Millionaire Not Planned Musical

Walt Disney's "The Happiest Millionaire," based upon the book and Broadway play by Cordelia Drexel Biddle and Kyle Crichton, was originally planned for production as a straight comedy. However, work on the picture began just as Walt Disney was finishing "Mary Poppins," and naturally, Walt's enthusiasm for the musical comedy as a screen entertainment medium was high.

Thus, Disney asked co-producer Bill Anderson and writer A J Carothers to transform the story into a musical. Richard M. and Robert B. Sherman joined the production team to write eleven captivating songs, Norman Tokar was assigned to direct, and the five-month shooting schedule got under way in May, 1966.

The $5 million Technicolor production is filled with more than 75 minutes of musical sequences, and is paced by a story that sings and dances its way from the heights of New York society to the raucous brawls of a Philadelphia pub. The film biography of eccentric millionaire Anthony J. Drexel Biddle, it stars Fred MacMurray in the title role, Tommy Steele as his butler, Greer Garson as his wife, and Geraldine Page as New York's socially-conscious Mrs. Duke.

"The Happiest Millionaire" co-stars Gladys Cooper and Hermione Baddeley, and introduces Lesley Ann Warren and John Davidson in a charming musical romance. The film is released through Buena Vista.
