Approve Sale of Fish Hatchery Site

13.5 Acre Hatchery Site to Become Recreation Area

Half-Price Cost to City $16,375

If it can come up with a check for $16,375.00 the city of Northville will become the new owner of the 13.5-acre fish hatchery property on Seven Mile road.

The price is one-half the appraised value.

City officials were notified by the General Services Administration this week that their proposal for use of the land for park and recreation purposes had been approved. A string is attached to the sale at the half-price figure, however. The land must be perpetually used for such stipulated purposes or the property reverts back to the federal government.

Last January a 2.11-acre portion of the hatchery property lying on the north side of Seven Mile road was sold on public bids. It contains two houses and was sold for a high bid of $36,666 to the Roland Bonamici family, now residing in one of the homes.

Most of the remaining 13.5-acres on the south side of the road lies in the township. It contains two buildings, one a large multi-floor frame house that served as headquarters and research center for the government facility when it was used for raising game fish and later studies concerning the lamprey eel.

The city's application to the federal agency (GSA) was filed last October. It stipulated that the site would be used as a community park and recreation center to include facilities for such activities as camping, picnicking, skating, tennis and nature study.

When the application was prepared, there was some question as to whether sale of the parcel at the half-price figure would be granted if the use of the area were to be confined to community residents only. The application indicates that scheduling of activities at the center will be "in the hands of the recreation director" and that fees to non-residents would be higher than community residents.

Presumably, if there is open time available, non-area residents may be granted use of the area at a nominal fee.

City Manager Frank Ollendorff said that a five-year program for development of the site at an estimated cost of $80,000 was outlined in the application to GSA. Included is removal of the largest building, construction of tennis courts, filling and leveling of some of the former pond areas and general beautification of the area.

It still isn't clear where all the money for purchase and development will come from. Presently, the city and township share the cost of the community recreation program based on a formula of resident participation. Because more city residents take part in the program, the city pays the biggest share of the recreation budget.

The school district also contributes to the recreation program through donation of facilities, such as buses.

With approval of the township and school district the city took the initiative in making application for purchase of the hatchery site after it was declared surplus property by the federal government. City Manager Ollendorff said that copies of the application for proposed use were sent to both the township and school boards for approval before being forwarded to GSA. Also included, he said, was a request for financial aid in the purchase and development of the site.

For the sake of time it seems likely that the city council will find it necessary to come up with the purchase price alone and negotiate later with the township and school boards to see if a cooperative financing plan can be arranged.

In 1918 at the age of 17 he enlisted in the Marine Corps, attaining the rank of corporal upon his honorable discharge.

Board to Appoint Successor in May

A meeting of the Northville township board is expected to take place soon for the purpose of appointing a successor to Supervisor R. D. Merriam who died suddenly last week Wednesday.

No definite date for the meeting has been set.

According to the township's legal counsel, such a meeting is called by the clerk of the township, who serves as acting supervisor until the board appoints a successor.

The appointee, according to Attorney John Ashton, will serve out the remainder of Mr. Merriam's term — until 1970. Any qualified elector of the township, including board and non-board members, is qualified to hold the supervisor's position, he said.

Clerk Mrs. Crispin Hammond, who presently is acting supervisor, said the meeting probably will be held early next month — probably at the same time as the regularly scheduled township meeting on May 7.

The law provides that she convene the board for this purpose but that another member of the board serve as chairman of that meeting. It provides for no special election, nor does it provide for filling the post at the next regular election in November.

Clerk Hammond noted that township electors wishing to propose candidates for the supervisor's post could direct them to the township hall and they would be given board consideration.

Planners Veto Rezoning Bid For Service Station Facility

With a capacity audience on hand, the Northville planning commission Tuesday night unanimously denied a rezoning request to permit erection of a service station at the southwest corner of Allen drive and Novi road.

The commission's action is final — not a recommendation to the city council.

Specifically, the request called for a change from C-2 to a C-1 classification to permit erection of a Marathon Oil company service station.

In denying the request, commission members noted the strong objection by neighboring homeowners, undesirable effects of a service station upon the adjacent residential property, inherent nuisance factors related to service stations, and the fact that the property as C-2 can be sold for a commercial use and therefore the property's value is not diminished by maintaining the R-2 classification.

Robert Gaberman, representing Marathon, argued that under the existing commercial classification a less desirable commercial development than a service station could be erected. He emphasized that plans called for a development of the highest quality, but that his firm would consider suggestions of neighboring homeowners in adjusting the station's location and the architectural plans to ensure a mutually satisfactory service station development.

The service station itself would occupy only about half of the total acreage, Gaberman said no plans have been made for the remainder of the parcel, but it was noted that efforts would be made when some future development is contemplated to discuss it with the neighboring homeowners.

Suggestions that a "compromise" design, however, were quickly scuttled by Paul R. Vernon, president of the Northville Civic association representing neighboring Village Green homeowners, an estimated 30 of whom were present at the hearing.

In a letter presented to the council, Vernon stated in part: "In the interest of the welfare of the people of Northville by keeping the northern entrance to our city esthetically acceptable and in the interest of promoting public safety we again respectfully ask the Northville planning commission to deny any and all requests to rezone this property to any zoning other than R-1."

Elaborating, Vernon said the association was not opposed to commercial developments permissive in the existing C-2... "with some reservations."

He said the association was in the process of establishing a use proposal, involving the adjacent city-owned "well" property and part of the property in question for the city council's consideration. He said he was not at liberty to disclose these plans Tuesday.

Vernon and others cited the new shopping center, located on the opposite side of Allen drive, as the first step and the proposed service station as the second step towards the "cancerous beginning" of a commercially blighted area.

The association conceded that some commercial developments permissive in C-2 may be less desirable than a service station, but he refused to be budged from the association's position. He hoped, he said, city officials would, if a less desirable development be proposed, act to safeguard the interests of the citizenry.

While the commission agreed with several of the associations arguments against the service station, it did not accept the "safety" reason as being valid. And, according to Chairman George Zerbel, allegations regarding the shopping center are premature until the owner has completed all unfinished building and site development as required by the city.

School Board Candidates Still Scarce

With little more than two weeks before the deadline for filing, only one nominating petition for the Northville school board has been taken out for circulation.

Only Board President Eugene Cook, who holds one of the two seats that will come up for election in June, has obtained petitions. Deadline for filing is May 13.

The other board member whose term expires in June, James Kipter, has not yet decided whether or not he will seek re-election.

Nominating petitions are available at the board of education offices, located on the second floor of what was formerly the junior high school on Main street.

School officials also remind school district residents that the deadline for registering for the June election is May 10.

Name Deleted From Letter By Mistake

A "letter to the editor" appearing on page 8-B of this edition was written by G. G. Davis II, a student at Wooster college in Ohio and the son of Mr. and Mrs. William Davis of West Main street. The signature was inadvertently omitted.

It expresses the young man's reaction to an earlier letter written by Ervin A. Sedlow concerning the hiring of Negro teachers in Northville. The student is alarmed by the thought that "pigmentation could become the criterion for hiring our educators."

Davis is not the only youngster concerned with man's attitude towards fellow man. Five Northville high school youngsters also wrote a letter to the editor this week. Their names appear with the letter on page 8-B also.

Three Area Homes Robbed Monday

Daytime thieves apparently work the same hours that residents of rural area homes are away at work.

Three homes in the rural area west of Northville were entered sometime Monday, the dwellings ransacked, and an undetermined amount of cash taken.

The thefts are under investigation by the Washtenaw county sheriff's department, State Police, and other agencies.

STILL EMPTY—Detroit now has the distinction of recording the longest newspaper strike in history. The area has been without its two major daily newspapers for 162 days. The sluggish negotiations prompted Governor George Romney to call for a meeting of union and publisher representatives in his Lansing office Monday. Detroit Mayor Jerome Cavanagh, who has made several attempts at bringing about agreement, said he didn't think the governor could break the stalemate.

Newcomers Eye Social Events

Northville Newcomers' club committees are busy with arrangements for two upcoming social events. The Mod Musicale couples' party, delayed by the curfew, will be held at 8:30 p.m. this Saturday at the home of the Halton Axtells, 19600 Beck road.

The club's annual spring coffee for area newcomers is planned for May 14, beginning at 10 a.m., at the West Main street home of Mrs. J. F. Keese.

Invitations are being sent to all women who have moved into the community during the past year. Any new resident not receiving an invitation is asked to call Mrs. Keese.

system, as she introduced the famous composer to the Northville Town Hall, Thursday.

The dapper Mr. Adler, a tall slim man with dark hair and flashing eyes, wore a burgundy red jacket with charcoal gray trousers. He presented a picture of the suave New York celebrity. However, he confessed to "opening-night nerves" as he began his talk on "Musical Comedy, The Composer and His Songs."

Born in New York City in 1921, Adler was brought up in a musical atmosphere. His father had been a concert pianist, who, after retiring from the concert stage established a summer music colony—using a converted barn for a studio. Famous people were a part of young Richard's everyday life. "Professor Albert Einstein", Adler recalled, "used to visit us, and play his violin while my father accompanied him at the piano." Another good friend was the renowned author, Somerset Maugham, who wrote "Of Human Bondage".

Adler graduated from the University of North Carolina, majoring in dramatic arts. In 1950 he began writing musical composition and lyrics professionally. Among his hits are the musical comedies, "Pajama Game" and "Damn Yankees".

Adler was astonished to receive a call from President Kennedy back in 1962 asking him to stage the Birthday Salute to be held in Madison Square Garden. This was to raise funds for the Democratic Party treasury. He told about Marilyn Monroe's appearance in a gown that the late Mr. Adlai Stevenson described as "flesh with sequins sewn on it." She sang, in her inimitable style, "Happy Birthday, Mr. President". For the next six years, Mr. Adler staged inaugural parties, and various gala White House events. He concluded, "And that, ladies, is how I got into government—staging what I call my Presidentials. President Johnson autographed a picture for me—'To Richard Adler, the President's Impresario'."

He now is back in the business he really loves—show business and the world of music and entertainment. He is working on a musical at the present time and expects to have it open on Broadway in October. The name of this comedy is "Mother's Kisses", which is about the problems of a 17 year old son and his relationship with his mother and severing the silvercord. It has a song that Adler says is very, very, funny even though it's title is, "I Hate My Mother!"

By popular request, Adler sang a medley of his hit songs: "Whatever Lola Wants," "Rags to Riches," "Hey There," "Fernando's Hideaway," "Steam Heat," and "You've Got to Have Heart," and added his two well publicized advertising jingles, "Newport Filter Cigarettes," and "Let Hertz Put you in the Driver's Seat."

Later, following the luncheon at Meadowbrook Country club, a more serious Richard Adler answered questions about politics, civil rights, music and the modern generation. He proudly told of his two teenage sons who he has raised alone since the death of his wife.

Some of his observations were: "There is turbulence and unrest all over the world, and Northville with its trees and grass and lovely ladies can't be isolated from the problems that face us today."

"New York is a city of unrest and there are undercurrents of fear. It is sad that one is afraid to walk alone in Central Park."

"Rome is the last great city in the world where one still has the feeling of an era we once knew and loved."

"We are living in an age of revolution and we must recognize the rights of all people."

Dr. Martin Luther King—"He had a vision in his eyes."

John Kennedy—"A fine, brave man. His brothers do not measure up to him."

President Lyndon Johnson—"He is a wonderful, self-sacrificing man. To know him is to love him. He is really warm and friendly."

Mrs. Lyndon Johnson—"A tiny and very pretty woman. She is a good mother and being First Lady and also a mother is a very rough role."

About his work: "A composer has all kinds of complexes. If a critic for the New York Times doesn't like a play—you've had it! It closes. A businessman can hide his failures and mistakes but a flop for a playwright and producer is there for all the world to see."

"I compose the music and also write the lyrics. I use a small toy xylophone to work out the tunes and then have the music written down on paper. Just this morning, I dictated some music over the phone to my New York office."

Curriculum Study Set for Teachers

A curriculum development study session is planned for this Saturday in the Northville high school auditorium for all teachers in the district. The Saturday meeting will compensate for the teaching day lost during the teachers' strike at the beginning of the school year, according to Miss Fiorence Panattoni, curriculum coordinator.

After coffee, teachers will be welcomed at 9 a.m. by Superintendent Raymond Spear. Miss Panattoni will discuss "The Why and How of Change."

A video-tape presentation is to follow in "Into the Future With Our Changing Schools" with a panel discussion of reactions. Another videotape presentation, "The Chemistry of Learning," also is scheduled. Small group meetings by teaching specialty and grade level are set for the afternoon.

For President

Students Tap Tom Doyle

Thomas J. Doyle, a 19-year-old sophomore chemistry major who plans to transfer to the University of Michigan, was elected president of the Schoolcraft College Student Senate in balloting on April 2.

An honor student who has consistently made the dean's list and was an officer of Phi Theta Kappa, national scholastic honorary society for community colleges, Doyle lives in Taylor. He succeeds William J. Pfeiffer as Senate president.

Doyle defeated Ernest J. Allison of Plymouth, 258 to 138, in the only contested race for Senate officers.

Also elected in unopposed contests were Theodore C. Pfeiffer, Detroit, as vice-president; Angeline A. Antonelli, Livonia, secretary; and Alice Webster, Garden City, treasurer.

Pfeiffer is the brother of the outgoing Senate president, and recently succeeded his brother as president of the Schoolcraft Omicron Iota Chapter of Phi Theta Kappa.

Miss Antonelli 'succeeds' her sister, Linda, as Senate secretary.

Elected from a field of five to fill four seats as Representatives on the Senate were Tina Pederson, Plymouth; Frederick Flynn, Detroit; Gary T. Greening, Livonia; and Ron Moscow, Livonia. Fifth candidate in the field was Mary Ann Loughman, Livonia.

The new officers will serve a one-year term starting with the spring term, May 6.

SALUTE CHIEF—National VFW Commander-in-Chief Joseph A. Scerra (right, at mike), is welcomed to Northville by Ray Paquin, Post 4012 commander, during introductory ceremonies here Saturday morning. The post and its auxiliary hosted the top VFW dignitary and guests at a special breakfast program.

Years 'Creep Up' For Centenarian

Because she is his only grandchild, Mrs. George White of Northville, her husband and two children, made a special trip to Millington to help her grandfather, Samuel Girard, celebrate his 100th birthday Sunday.

The open house Sunday was an informal celebration, Mrs. White says, because of her grandfather's failing health. He was able, however, to enjoy visits with many old friends who came for the day.

He was born April 22, 1868, in Oswego, New York, and married Lillian Sharpe January 21, 1896, in Saginaw. At 91, Mrs. Girard still is in good health, Mrs. White reports, adding that the couple celebrated a 72nd wedding anniversary earlier this year.

The couple lived in the Saginaw Bay area until 1964, moving then to Millington to live with a daughter, Mrs. Edith Hess. Another daughter, Mrs. Clarence Sovey, lives in Saginaw.

The Girards have visited their granddaughter, her husband and their only great-grandchildren, David and Kathy, at their home here on North Center street.

"When you have grown old gracefully, I guess 100 years sort of creep up on you sudden like," Girard commented as he entered his centennial year. He was the eldest child in a family of 13 and is the only survivor. His wife, who attended the last mother-daughter banquet at Northville Presbyterian church with Mrs. White, also is the only survivor of a family of eight.

Mrs. White's grandfather always has been a horse-lover and recalls that when he was 15, his father gave him his first team and that he had never been afraid of horses.

He tells the story of purchasing an old mare for $25 because she was reputed to be the meanest horse in the area. The owner had locked her in her stall for six months as she kicked everything that crossed behind her. When he bought her, Girard recalled, he locked her in a barn, tied her down and washed her.

"I soaked her and scraped her back. Then I gave her another dose, took her home and do you know, she wouldn't kick any more," he concluded, as he reminisced for a centennial story.

On their Linwood, Michigan, farm the Girards raised horses, chickens and cows. Mrs. Girard said she tried to help with the milking until her husband informed her that she milked "too slow." Then she let him do it himself.

Storm Slaps Tree, Wires

Tuesday afternoon's brief storm caused a traffic stoppage on Ten Mile road in Novi as a telephone pole went down, and in Northville it necessitated a 15 and 20-minute delay in releasing Northville junior and senior high school students, respectively, and felled a tree at Grace and Maplewood streets.

The tree caused an electrical blackout as it knocked down electrical wires.

The fallen pole just west of Taft road draped guy wires from Detroit Edison power poles at car-top height across the roadway. Although an Edison crew promptly cleared wires from the pole, they left the telephone company pole over one traffic lane. The strike-bound Michigan Bell firm was contacted by Novi police, who remained at the scene directing traffic through the one open lane.

Northville youngsters were saved from a drenching as Earl Busard, district business manager, made the decision to delay bus departures because of the intensity of the downpour, not because a tornado watch was in effect. As many walking students as could be accommodated were taken to town on shuttle buses.

Elementary buses then departed only three or four minutes late. If the weather had made it necessary to delay the dismissal of school longer, Busard added, mothers would have been notified on the telephone fan-out system.

PREVIEW—In a special dress rehearsal, trained rats perform for Doug Slessor and Bob Ely as the critters get set for their public bow Friday at the Las Vegas party in the VFW hall. It's part of a party night for adults, sponsored by the Junior Football association as a means of raising money for football uniforms.

Las Vegas Party Boosts Football

The Northville Junior Football association has captured the interest of about 155 boys in the 9-12 age bracket, ordered about $5,000 worth of uniforms and equipment to launch the youngsters into a football program next fall, and is holding a Las Vegas party at the VFW Hall tomorrow night to raise money to help pay for the equipment.

The association made a big crack in that $5,000 nut with the sale of Christmas trees last season. Now members are hoping to tap the gambling spirit of Northville sports, and their ladies, with an evening of party fun patterned after Nevada industry.

Two croupiers for the night, Bob Ely and Doug Slessor, will be manning money racks at the rat-race table. Both insist that, like all other games for the affair, the rat race is strictly on the up and up — that the rat training that has taken place in a garage on North Center street for the past month has been only to get the rats used to lights and people.

In any event, it's for a cause, and it will be the first event held in the newly-redecorated VFW Hall on South Main. It's described as a party for adults to have a good deal of fun while spending money to back a new program for Northville youngsters. It's scheduled to start at 8 p.m.

Hungry Thief Steals Watch

Thieves made off with a Northville family's keep-sake collection of old recordings and a man's wristwatch that had been a birthday present from his wife 25 years ago in one of two breaking and entering cases last week.

Theft of about 40 older 78 rpm records and the watch occurred at the home of Cecil Taggart, 610 Oakland, between 2:45 and 11:30 p.m. last Thursday evening. The thief also eased his hunger, eating two sandwiches stored in the refrigerator.

In another entering case last Thursday night, someone entered the Jones Floral Shop at 417 Dubuque street between 9:30 p.m. and 5:30 a.m. Friday. It appeared entry was gained through a broken window pane. About $10 in change was taken from a cash register.

WORK STOPS—An unauthorized strike Friday halted work during the second shift at Ford's Wixom plant. Wixom and Novi police were on hand to maintain order as workers protested paychecks covering shortened work hours during the period of unrest following the assassination of Dr. Martin Luther King. Workers reported to their jobs Monday.

School Approves Building Leases

Renewal of leases to Schoolcraft college and The Cavern teen club for use of the former community building was approved Monday by the Northville board of education.

The leases extend to June of next year.

Schoolcraft will pay $350 per month for use of the gymnasium portion of the building, and the college will pay its own custodial services, with the Northville school system picking up heat and light costs.

The Cavern will pay $125 per month for use of the cafeteria side of the building, which members have completely redecorated and furnished at the club's expense, and it will pay $20 for each dance that it holds in the gymnasium portion of the building.

Club members also provide their own custodial services.

The board also approved a resolution for an $84,800 loan from the State School Bond Loan Fund in accordance with its previous application.

The money represents the difference between the district's 7-mill bonded indebtedness and the 9.7 mills the district would have had to levy to meet outstanding bond payments.

Plan Concert At Junior High

A spring band concert will be presented by the Ida B. Cooke junior high band and the Northville sixth grade band at 8 p.m. Tuesday, April 30, in the junior high gymnasium.

Directed by George Berryman, the concert will include show tunes, marches, overtures and some popular pieces. There is no admission charge, but donations will be accepted at the door.

Wildcats Win Third Straight

Rick Dale Gloves Ball to Cut Down Fast-Stepping Dutchman

The Novi Wildcats won their third baseball game in a row Monday night with a four-run surge in the seventh inning to take a come-from-behind win over Columbia Central.

The three wins, all over Lakeland C Conference opponents makes it a notable season for the Wildcats who are playing the first varsity baseball for their school.

A three-run double by Freshman Catcher Tom VanWagner after two were out in the seventh kept Novi hopes alive after Columbia Central built up a 4-1 lead.

Walks to Lee Snow and Steve Davey, followed by two outs, then another loaded the bases to set the stage for VanWagner. He drove the ball over the left fielder's head to clear the bases and pull the Wildcats into a tie. Gary Boyer then sent VanWagner across with the winning run with another two-base blow.

Pitcher Snow went all the way for the Wildcats, picking up his second win.

The Novi High Wildcats won their second baseball game, taking an 8-2 win over Manchester on Thursday afternoon.

Coupled with the Wildcat's opening game win over Grass Lake, the two league wins by Novi's first varsity baseball team provided a measure of satisfaction for Wildcat followers, who were tormented by these same teams in basketball and football.

Lee Snow went all the way on the mound for Novi, holding Manchester to eight scattered hits and striking out eight. He had a contest until the Dutchmen's pitching collapsed in the fifth and seven runs crossed the plate as 11 Wildcats went to bat.

Manchester scored one run in the first inning and held the lead until Novi tied it in the third. It stayed 1-1 until the big Novi fifth, when five walks and singles by Snow and Phil McMillan produced the seven Novi runs.

Coach John Osborn's squad takes on the Clinton Redskins today in another conference game that begins at 4 p.m. on Novi's diamond.

'Ruth' Tryouts

Tryouts for the Novi Babe Ruth baseball teams will be held this Saturday at 2 p.m. and on Saturday, May 4 at the Novi high school.

Jeff Crawford and Bob Budlong, who are heading up the operation, said all boys who did not play on last year's team and would like to play must attend the tryouts.

Budlong said any boy who played last year and has his uniform should bring it with him Saturday.

For more information about the teams call 349-2712 or 455-1730.

Defeats Novi Thinclads, 81-37

Grass Lake's Too Powerful

"If we had met a weak opponent, I'd be disappointed. But Grass Lake was tough—probably the strongest in the league, so our boys didn't do too badly."

That's how Novi Track Coach Fred Hanert viewed his squad's 81-37 defeat at the hands of Grass Lake here last week.

Although he had hoped the Wildcats would do better in a couple of the events, Hanert was far from disappointed, braced for Tuesday's contest with Columbia Central and tomorrow's battle here with Manchester.

The Friday meet will get underway at 4 p.m.

Grass Lake took advantage of its superiority in the running events and banked on its depth in the field category in putting together its relatively easy triumph.

Where Novi was able to grab some firsts in the field events, Grass Lake picked up the all-important first and second places thus collapsing the Wildcats advantage.

In all four of the events in which the Wildcats placed first, Jon VanWagner took the limelight. The high-flying junior won first in high jump, pole vault, and first hurdles and was a runner with Novi's first-place mile relay team.

His two firsts in the field events were not spectacular since he had not yet reached his peak. In high jump, he went 5' 7" and in the pole vault, he went 10' 8".

He ran the high hurdles in 18.0.

With Van Wagner in the mile relay squad which zipped to victory in a time of 4:00 flat were Tom Boyer, Brad Burdham and Lenny Beadle. Even this time fell short of the squad's potential. A week earlier, the Wildcats posted a 3:58.5 time.

Mark Earl, in picking up a third in the two-mile event, finished off his second place mark of two weeks ago in a time of 11:20.8. Against Ann Arbor he posted a time of 11:20.3.

Novi's miler, Lenny Beadle, ran second at 5:20—a better showing than his second two weeks ago.

Tom Boyer, who took first in the first meet with a time of 2:12.8 in the 880 yard run, posted a second last week with a mark of 2:20.4.

Rick Hill posted Novi's two other second place finishes. He ran 11.6 (11.4 two weeks ago) in the 100 yard dash, and he notched a time of 25.8 (25.5 two weeks ago) in the 220 yard dash.

Two exceptionally good marks were set by Grass Lake in shot put (42' 8") and in the long jump (19' 4 3/4" for first and 19' 3 3/4" for second).

Help! Boys' Baseball Hangs in Balance

The proposed adult golf league has "gone down the drain" and there's a real possibility that the Northville Recreation department's summer baseball program for boys may come to a screeching halt, too.

That's the word from Recreation Director Robert Prom, who announced this week that the baseball program faces cutting unless more adults volunteer for manager and coaching positions.

"We simply cannot operate the program without adult supervision," Prom said. "We've asked several times for volunteers but the response has been too little."

The director said plans for an adult golf league had to be scrapped because an insufficient number of adult men and women volunteered, too.

"We're still hoping that we can have some kind of golf tournament later in the summer. At least it's one of our goals."

Applications are being accepted for the Northville Junior Rifle club's next series of classes slated to get underway next week Thursday. Classes are open to all boys and girls, ages 10 to 18.

Persons interested in participating in these classes are asked to call Prom, 349-2287. Adults interested in coaching or managing summer baseball teams also are urged to contact the director.

An orientation meeting is slated Saturday morning for Class F evening baseball and morning knothole baseball hopefuls, according to Prom.

Youngsters are asked to report to the large baseball diamond in Cass Benton Park beginning at 9 a.m.

Here is the age qualification: boys 10 years old before September 1, 1968 and who will not have reached their 14th birthday before September 1, 1968.

Taylor's Back At Wolverine

Ted Taylor, the popular Ohio reinsman, is back at Wolverine Raceway after performing most of the winter at Florida's Pompano Park.

The 42-year-old Taylor, one of America's most popular and successful driver-trainers, is still pursuing a life-long ambition.

"One of these years I'd like to check in with 200 victories," he tells you with a smile.

Taylor got started on the right track last Saturday night when he won both features. He won the $4,500 preferred trot with Sonny Fortune in Sonny's first start of 1968 and came right back with Sudan's Comet in the $5,000 Open pace.

Taylor thought he was on his way to his 200-victory season in 1967 but got caught in a November-December slowdown and wound up with 191 victories.

Jerry Imsland Shines at U-M

Jerry Imsland, former Northville athlete, and a transfer from Kentucky, will be a strong candidate for a berth on the University of Michigan football squad next fall.

Imsland had an unusually successful spring practice and he was a standout in the annual game which climaxed the 20 days of early drills.

He gained 100 yards on five passes, including a 28-yard touchdown pass which gave the White squad a 14-7 lead over the varsity Blues. Imsland took the scoring toss from Don Moorhead, South Haven sophomore quarterback. He will probably see action at tight end, alternating with veteran Jim Mandich at the post in the 1968 campaign.

First 300 Game Bowled at Angie's

The pins were falling like flies Monday night at Northville Lanes. First James Rozek, a 180-average bowler from Livonia, rolled a perfect game, the first sanctioned 300-game ever bowled at the 28-year-old local alley.

Then Charles Hook of Northville tossed a 287 game to help his Northville Lumber company team to a 1104 game, a new record for a single team game. The Northville Lumber quintet racked up a high series of 2957 with the following individual scores going along with Hook's 633 series: Buck Rutenbar, 634; Don Yerkes, 593; Bud Blake, 579; and Carl Dyar, 518.

Rozek's 300 game boosted him to a series of 689. It also bolstered his wallet by $100. The money was presented to Rozek by Northville Lanes' Owner Angie Gadioli, who noted that area alleys usually award $25 for perfect games, "but we've never had any so I increased the prize to $100."

Trout Season Opens Saturday

An army of anglers is gearing up for the annual invasion of Michigan lakes and streams Saturday with the opening of the trout season.

The season continues through September 8, except in the waters of the Great Lakes and in the Detroit and St. Marys rivers where the season opened April 6 and continues until November 30.

Also available during the April 27-September 8 season are Coho, Chinook, and Kokanee.

Saturday also marks the opener for Muskellunge, Northern Pike and Wall-eyes in trout lakes and streams. In non-trout lakes and streams, the opener for Muskellunge and pike is May 27.

Only a month away is the black bass opener — on May 30. Bass fishing in Lake St. Clair doesn't begin until June 15.

Pan Fish — including bluegill, sunfish, crappie, rock bass, and perch — may be taken any time in all waters but trout lakes and streams. And they may be taken in the latter waters beginning Saturday through September 8.

Trout and salmon fishermen are reminded that they need both the regular $3 resident license plus the $2 trout and salmon stamp.

Another Ace At Bob-O-Link

With the season just getting underway it appears that the 11th hole on the north course at Bob-O-Link has something special about it this year. The second hole-in-one of the season was scored on the 145-yard 11th last Monday afternoon.

Edward Nithie, 25667 Monroe, Novi made it in one stroke Monday, duplicating an achievement of Peter Tabara of Detroit on April 7.

For Mustangs' 4th Win

Holdsworth Fires 2-Hitter, Fans 15

Northville's varsity nine dumped Brighton, 10-3, Monday for its fourth straight victory without defeat this season.

Following league victories last week over Holly and West Bloomfield, the Mustangs are 3-0 in the league and go to Milford this afternoon for a game that will clearly establish the favorite for the championship.

It was Sophomore Fred Holdsworth who hurled for the Mustangs against the Bulldogs. The curve ball specialist, who served up a string of stinging fast balls, went the seven inning route in picking up his second win. He fanned 15 batters in the process.

Holdsworth's performance on the mound has been a highly pleasing development for the Mustangs' coach, Dick Willing. With Holdsworth and senior Bill Skelly boasting 2-0 records in early season performances, Willing feels that he has the nucleus for the mound corps he needs for the three-games-per-week part of the schedule that lies ahead.

Against Brighton the Mustangs picked up a run in the first inning, three in the third, and six in the sixth. The big sixth inning push came after Brighton made it a 4-3 ball game in their half of the sixth inning, taking advantage of three miscues in the field.

In the hitting department Randy Pohlman, Stan Nirider, and Bob Hubbert are emerging as a power trio. After four games Pohlman is hitting .308, Nirider .364, and Hubbert .400. Hubbert and Pohlman each received credit for two runs batted in, as did shortstop Dennis Primeau.

In the pinch-hitting department, Barry Deal is two for three. He contributed a single and scored a run in the big sixth inning that helped to make it a long ride home for Brighton.

in picking up his second victory with a seven hit performance. The fast-baller is ticketed for action again this afternoon (Thursday) against Milford in what may be the "big game" of the season.

Milford, billed as Northville's chief competition in the Wayne-Oakland league, will host the game Saturday afternoon the Mustangs will host Bloomfield Hills.

Big gun of Thursday's defeat of the Lakers at Keego Harbor was Dennis Primeau, shortstop, who blasted a grand-slam homer over the left-field fence in the top of the fourth.

It was only Primeau's second hit of the season. His first also was a four-bagger.

He took two balls before the Lakers' hurler "put one down the pipe"—just right for the shortstop's big bat. The smash all but ended the Lakers hope

Golf Squad Defeats Holly

Golf Coach Al Jones and his covey of linksters prefer to forget Monday's opener and look ahead instead to tomorrow's match at Milford.

Despite the 186 to 220 win over Holly at Meadowbrook Monday, neither coach nor players were satisfied. In fact, says Jones, "we looked pretty bad."

Jones' two key players, Tom Fagan and Billie Thomas, who were expected to lead Northville's delegation, found themselves behind Dan Condon, a transfer student who only recently took up the game. Condon, a junior, carded the lowest score of the afternoon — a 44.

Tomorrow's match with Milford isn't expected to be an easy one. Milford, Bloomfield Hills and last year's Wayne-Oakland League champs, the Bulldogs of Brighton, share the favorite roles in competition this year.

Other players for Northville include Jim Penrod, Jerry Asher (the only Mustang senior), John Eberhart, Kenny Neisch, and Jack Jones.

Jones expressed the school's appreciation to Meadowbrook, Brae Burn and Brooklane for permission to use their facilities.

for a triumph. Actually, Northville iced the game in the first inning, pushing four runs across the plate on only one hit as the starting and losing hurler, Fukes got off to a shaky start. He was lifted in the fourth with the bases loaded when Primeau stepped into the batter's box.

Best hitting performance of the game was turned in by Stan Nirider who collected three hits in three trips to the plate. Bob Hubbert and Randy Pohlman each picked up two hits.

One of the 11 Mustang hits was a pinch hit triple by Barry Deal.

NEW TROPHY—Unveiling of this giant, new trophy was made Wednesday night during the All Sports Banquet in honor of the "Athlete of the Year." Name of the winning Northville athlete had not been revealed by press time.

The name of this year's first top athlete will appear on the trophy, to be kept at the school, and names of future winners will be added each year. The banquet was sponsored by the Boosters.

Flexing their hitting muscles Thursday afternoon, the Mustangs unleashed an 11-hit attack that staggered the West Bloomfield nine, 15-3.

The third-straight Northville victory was the best performance at the plate for the local nine, which had banded out only eight hits in the previous two games.

Northville's ace hurler, Bill Skelly, went the distance for the Mustangs county sheriff's department. Also on hand was the township's patrol car.

Officials from the city, township and the Northville school system attended the church service and the graveside service at Glen Eden Cemetery.

Flags at the city hall and in the school systems were flown at half-staff in tribute to the late supervisor, and township offices were closed Friday afternoon.

Members of the Northville fire department, which serves both the city and the township, paraded to the funeral home in dress uniforms Thursday to pay their respects. Joining them were members of the Northville police department.

For P-TA Carnival 'Old Time' Gets Jet Appeal

Although Northville's annual spring P-TA carnival will have an Old Time County Fair theme this year, it will have jet-age appeal as youngsters will be able to buy helium-filled balloons as well as old fashioned ones.

Scheduled for Friday, May 17, at the new Ida B. Cooke junior high school, the carnival special events under chairmanship of Howard Meyer also will include a picture-taking feature attraction - Polaroids, not tin-types.

Other features will be an old-fashioned white elephant booth staffed by members of the women's associations of the Presbyterian and Methodist churches; cookie booth by the Northville cooperative nursery; country store, Mothers' club; cake walk by Our Lady of Victory "bakers"; balloon booth by Presbyterian Men's club; flowers, Young Republicans; and a seedling sale, Northville Junior Football league.

There also will be the traditional junior and senior midways arranged by Joseph Kluesner, Paul Robinson, Bruce Griggs and Robert Arlen. The P-TA master committee headed by Robert Prom is making plans for outside concessions, food stands and music by the high school band.

Mrs. Herbert Weston is in charge of arrangements for the spaghetti dinner and reports that 290 people can be served at one sitting.

At weekly meetings the committee also has been making arrangements for door prizes with emphasis to be placed on those that will have appeal for children.

Youths Keep Police Busy

Young men and automobiles helped to keep Northville police active last week. Among cases handled were three runaway boys from Alabama, two 15-year-olds from South Lyon and New Hudson who ran afoul of federal law by stealing a car from Northville and taking it into Ohio, and a 14-year-old Northville boy who fled from police at high speed through Northville streets while joy riding in his mother's sports car.

The runaways from Alabama, ages 13, 15, and 18, were taken into custody last Saturday morning when Patrolman Lawrence Towne halted their car at North Center and Dunlap.

After checking with Alabama authorities, who reported five boys were missing, police were told by the three picked up in Northville that the other two were hiding in a wooded area near Bloomfield Hills. The two were picked up by Bloomfield township police and all five were turned over to Wayne county juvenile authorities. Parents in Alabama were contacted and left immediately for Detroit to pickup their youngsters.

The two 14-year-olds from South Lyon and New Hudson were identified by Michigan State Police, who contacted Northville police to check registration of a car halted by officers in Wapakoneta, Ohio. The car, with a set of plates believed stolen from another vehicle, was traced to its owners, the John Mach Ford Sales at 550 Seven Mile road.

Although transporting a stolen vehicle across a state boundary is a violation that places jurisdiction with the FBI, authorities believe that jurisdiction for the young offenders will be given to juvenile authorities.

The boys' parents went to Ohio Monday to pick up the youngsters.

School Buses Keep Lights On

"Thanks, but no thanks."

That's the word from Northville school bus drivers who are receiving a courteous "blink" from motorists who see school bus lights during daylight hours.

"For reasons of safety," explains Business Manager Earl Busard, "we operate the buses with the lights on - day and night. Motorists blink their lights when they see the bus lights to remind drivers that the lights are on."

Bus drivers appreciate the courtesy, he points out, but it's unnecessary.

In another incident Sunday evening Northville Police reported a chase involving a 14-year-old Northville driver that included running a stop sign at Seven Mile and Hines at a speed estimated at 70 MPH.

After observing the car at Seven Mile and South Main about 8:20 p.m. Sunday, Sergeant Richard LaFond and Patrolman Robert Pankow chased the car west on Seven Mile.

Losing ground while traveling 60 in a stretch zoned for 35, the officers estimated the car's speed at 70 when it ran the stop sign at Hines.

Police took the youngster into custody when he stopped his 1966 Mustang for the red light at Seven Mile and Sheldon. The other Northville youngsters, ages 14 and 16, in the car were released. The driver was released to the custody of his parents pending an investigation.

Scouts Hawk Show Tickets

Thousands of smartly uniformed Boy Scouts throughout the metropolitan Detroit area, hundreds of them from this vicinity, are out knocking on doors, ringing doorbells and stopping friends, neighbors and relatives to sell them tickets to the huge Scout-O-Rama '68 show at Michigan State Fairgrounds this coming June 7-8-9.

The Scouts have always been enthusiastic ticket salesmen.

Spring's a many splendored thing for a host of activities from house-cleaning to working in flower gardens. In the Northville-Novi area where county, metropolitan and state parks abound, it's a perfect time for lolling on a bridge above a quiet stream or for eating catsup drenched hot dogs roasted over an outdoor grill.

THE CHURCH FOR ALL • ALL FOR THE CHURCH

The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the Church. They are: (1) For his own sake. (2) For his children's sake. (3) For the sake of his community and nation. (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.

larly and support the Church. They are: (1) For his own sake. (2) For his children's sake. (3) For the sake of his community and nation. (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.

A Bird in Hand

The hands are gentle and deft... the bird-banding process painless and quick. Soon the bird will fly off, safe and unharmed, unaware that it has become another link in the chain of research concerning the migratory habits of birds.

Our feathered friend has no interest in the fact that his experience ultimately will help chart the flight lines of all migrant birds. With heart beating wildly in its soft, downy throat, it longs only to be free.

Sometimes people are like that bird. Caught in circumstances beyond our control, we flail and thrash about. Fear and doubt overwhelm us and we fail to realize and acknowledge the loving arm of God that is present and sustaining in every situation.

Place your faith and trust in God and His Church. In times of need, strength and help are yours for the asking.

PRAYER

Prayer is the soul's desire for God; it is an appeal from the child of God to his Father. Prayer is communication with God. Prayer can be used to accomplish various ends as we approach God. We can pray a prayer of praise, of confession, of supplication, of Thanksgiving, or of intercession. Every prayer should be offered to God in Jesus' name, as Jesus instructs us from the New Testament gospels. Postures in prayer as examples of such are found throughout the scriptures vary from falling on one's face to bowing down, kneeling, bowing the head, standing, looking up while standing, and to lifting up the hands.

The first prayer that should and must be said in order for God to hear forthcoming prayers is the prayer of repentance. As the publican, humbly stood in the temple, he prayed, "God be merciful to me a sinner." Jesus said of his repentant man, "I tell you, this man went down to his house justified... for everyone that exalteth himself shall be abased; and he that humbleth himself shall be exalted." The Apostle Peter said, "The Lord is not slack concerning his promise, as some men count slackness; but is long-suffering to us-ward, not willing that any should perish, but that all should come to repentance." May we commit ourselves through repentance to the will of God and enjoy the consequential blessings derived from prayer.

You'll buy a new furnace maybe once in your life. Here's how to do it right.

First, call Edison. We'll give you the names of electric heat contractors near you. Each has been Edison-approved as capable and reliable.

Next, the contractor will check your home, review your needs, and recommend the type of heat best for you. He will estimate both installation and operating cost, and give them to you in writing. All without obligation. We'll check the quotes if you like.

Then, after your new electric heat system is installed, Edison and your contractor will make any adjustments necessary to the system if operating cost exceeds the original estimate during the first three years of use. At the end of this time, if operating cost still exceeds the estimate, and you aren't satisfied, Edison will remove the system and refund your original price.

That's our new Three-Step Protection Plan. Remember the first step. Call Edison.

College Offers Labor Study

A college level program in labor studies leading to an associate degree will be offered for the first time at Schoolcraft college this fall, it has been announced by the vice-president for instruction, John H. Brinn.

Approved by the college board of trustees, the curriculum is intended primarily as a non-baccalaureate career program and is arranged over a four-year period to accommodate part-time students.

The program was developed with the assistance of a five-member advisory committee that included Carroll M. Hutton, director of education for the United Auto Workers, and three members of the UAW education department: William Hardy, St. Albert, and Paula Paley. Dr. Larry Rogin, professor of labor studies at American University, Washington, D.C., was the fifth member of the committee.

The new program, believed to be unique at the community college level, has been endorsed by Walter P. Reuther, UAW president; and by Leonard Woodcock, UAW vice-president who is also an elected member of the Wayne State university board of governors. Reuther hailed the long-range goals of the program as "nothing less than a new era in the relations among labor, management and the communities that nurture them."

"This is a program to add new dimensions to the historic contributions of the American labor movement to American society. It will enable workers to extend their horizons to the wider boundaries of a metropolitan, complex civilization, to apply a rounded view to the solving of the many problems they face both as participants in a technological revolution, and as concerned citizens in a changing world."

"The study of labor's role will give to others, outside the labor movement, a wider understanding of the American labor movement; of its philosophy, goals, and contributions to the economic well-being of every American. This broader understanding will inevitably lead to more knowledgeable, more responsible relationships between labor and the educational institutions, and between labor and management," Reuther said.

Initiation Set At Legion Hall

Joint ceremonies for the initiation of new American Legion (Post 147) members and auxiliary members will be conducted here Saturday evening. The program will get underway at 7:30 p.m. in the Legion hall. Members, particularly new ones, are urged to attend.

Specifically, male members of the post and new auxiliary and junior auxiliary members are involved. Initiation of the post members will be performed by a team of past commanders of the post.

Following the ceremonies refreshments will be served.

Dr. Eric J. Bradner, president of Schoolcraft college, said "every segment of our community will benefit in some significant way from this program."

"The labor studies program is a tangible example of what a community college really means to its community. Among its many benefits, the program will place a college degree and the knowledge behind such a degree within the reach of many workers who until now had considered it beyond their grasp."

"We have been pleased to work with officials of the United Auto Workers in developing this program, which opens a whole new segment of learning at the community college level."

Brinn said two and possibly three other Michigan community colleges may also initiate similar labor studies programs in the fall. In this eventuality, Brinn said, Schoolcraft would work as a member of a consortium of community colleges that would include Macomb county community college, Highland Park college and possibly Flint community junior college.

County Denies Budget Hearing

To speak or not to speak. That was the question at the April 15th meeting of the Oakland County Board of Supervisors. And it wasn't a $64 question, either. It was a $1.8 million question about county surplus funds.

The Oakland County Homeowners and Taxpayers association wanted to ask the board of supervisors where that surplus figure is shown in the county's tentative budget and, "And, if not in the budget," they asked, "where is this money?"

On April 9 the group was denied a public hearing on the tentative budget when county legal advisors ruled that a hearing is unnecessary until a final budget is adopted in the fall. Monte Gerald of Madison Heights then suggested that the board allow a representative of the group to speak to the board at its next meeting, when the tentative budget would be presented.

Vance C. Fouts, Hazel Park city manager, cast the one dissenting vote.

In spite of a plea from Mrs. Marguerite Simson of Pontiac, the group's spokesman was not allowed to be recognized. She said that "...this is a democracy—a word that comes from the Greek 'demos' meaning 'people', and these people should be heard."

Another Supervisor, Alexander Perinoff of Southfield, asked the board to recognize the spokesman "... in fairness, and in support of our beliefs in democratic practices." A voice vote again failed to get permission.

In a recent letter to the board of supervisors, Glenn Swindler, president of the taxpayer group, stated, "It is neither fair nor ethical to drain money out of the 15-mill property tax for capital programs without submitting those capital programs to the voters for approval. If," he continued, "you Supervisors can't sell airports and buildings to the people, then you shouldn't expect the people to pay for them."

Swindler said his group is asking that the 1969 budget be adjusted to include as revenue the "almost $2 million surplus." The group also requested that the State income tax rebate for 1968 either be included as revenue or allocated to the Road Commission for use on county roads.

The next step, said Swindler, is to find out "what rights citizens have to be heard by the Tax Allocation board." This committee will study the budget between now and the end of June.

Speeder Jailed By Novi JP

A high-speed chase by Novi police early Friday morning terminated with a Novi man pleading guilty in justice court to driving while his license was suspended and facing examination on charges of fleeing from a police officer.

The arrest of Kenneth P. Little, 21, of 303 Duana, Novi, stemmed from a drag racing incident on Novi road.

Cruising southbound on Novi road about 1 a.m. Friday, Patrolman Dale Gross observed what appeared to be two northbound cars lining up as though to race. As the police car neared the vehicles, one accelerated while the other slowed. Gross pursued the fleeing car at over 100 MPH.

The other car and driver escaped. Little was taken into custody, after objecting to arrest, when police caught up with him at 303 Duana, near 13 Mile road.

Arraigned on the driving charge Friday morning, Little pleaded guilty and was sentenced by Justice Emery Jacques to pay a $50 fine, $10 costs and to spend three days in jail. Little stood mute to the charge of fleeing from a police officer. A plea of innocent was entered by the court. Examination on the charge will be held today in Novi justice court.

Homeowners Elect Seven

Seven persons were elected Friday to the board of directors of the recently organized Northville Civic association.

Holding two-year terms will be Paul Vernon, John Bock, Art Adams and Pete Volgt. Elected to one year terms were Bill Masson, Al Pfeuke and Dolores Prom.

The election meeting was held at Amerman school.

Election of the new executive board was in keeping with the association's newly changed by-laws. Quarterly general business meetings were another change effected by the membership in place of an annual meeting of the general membership.

A third item of business receiving the membership's attention was the ratification of the association's proposal for the city well site property. It is to be presented to the city council upon final drafting by the association's attorney, Rodney Kropf.

Spring Forensics Turn to Regional

Northville high school was to be represented in five categories at the Regional Spring Forensics Contest Tuesday at Ypsilanti.

Northville garnered entries to the Regional Contest by placing in the April 2 district contest with first places in multiple reading and humorous reading; and with second places in Declamations, Girls' Extemporaneous Speaking, and Girls' Oratorical Speaking.

Seniors Kevin Barnes, Gregg Carr, Everett Greer, Daryl Holloman, Rick Jameson, Alison Lyke, and Frank Weir walked off with top honors in the District Contest with multiple reading selections from "Alice in Wonderland."

Senior Jane Tyler won a dictionary, as did the M. R. group, with a first place finish in the humorous reading contest with three selections titled "The Waltz," "On Skating," and "Say Hemlock and Hop."

Seniors Diane Holdsworth and Jan Brown finished second in the Girls' Extemp and Girls' Oratory Contests respectively.

According to Mrs. Frances Chambers and Miss Barbara Le Boeuf, teachers in charge of the NHS contestants, "All Northville students made the final rounds in Ypsilanti."

Other NHS contestants included Scott Bergo and David Kenger. Serious Interpretive Readings; Gary Becker and Bill Yerkes, Radio; Carol Rathert, Declamations; Stacey Evans, Girls' Oratory; Virginia Round, Girls' Extemp; Terry Fraser and Joe Hines, Boys' Extemp; and Bob Shafer, Humorous Reading.

According to Miss Le Boeuf, "Both Mrs. Chambers and I have enjoyed our first year in Forensics. We were pleased with the results, but we're not so pleased that we haven't vowed to win more places next year."

"It's a tremendous experience for the students involved, and we were delighted to see that such a great number participated."

Miss LeBoeuf also commented on the spring forensics contests as a whole:

"Although the results aren't always agreeable to us, the contest itself motivates a student toward a goal. Even if one has not made it to the top of the ladder, he should realize that he's certainly worked his way upward."

Palladium Reviewed

According to Yearbook Editor Virginia Round, delivery of the 1968 Northville high school Palladium is expected around the first of June.

The following is a brief rundown of this year's NHS Yearbook as related by Editor Round:

"The Palladium is completed, as far as the staff's end is concerned. We are waiting for final pages to come back to be proofread and then we will only be waiting for the actual printing. There are actually no new features. We have combined clubs and activities and we tried to get more emphasis on underclassmen activities. We wanted to make it a book for the entire school, not just the seniors."

"As for this year's cover design, it is very simple. It will have a hard cover, rather than a soft one which is to be in brown and gold."

"It has a divided sand texture with two gold rectangles towards the bottom with 1968 Northville high school Palladium in gold letters."

"We are, as I said, switching from soft cover to hard. We are also excluding the sayings under senior pictures and The Class Will to make way for other features. We also did away with the dedication."

"We didn't actually choose one particular idea or thing as a theme, we just tried to make the most complete and the liveliest history of this year that we could."

RIGHT IN STEP with the theme of the upcoming P-TA fair, these two youngsters, Mary Westervelt, 5, and Joe Beltz, 6, are churning up some advance publicity for the fun and adventure slated for next month.

In Washington, D.C.

Students Attend Assembly

During the past weekend four Northville high school students attended the National Invitational Model General Assembly on the Georgetown University Campus in Washington, D.C.

Leo P. Cherne, Mike K. Conley, Mike Beard, and Scott F. Bergo represented the delegation of Uganda in the program which included many other students from across the United States, Mexico and from Puerto Rico.

Due to late complications, Gary Becker, J. David Kenger, and Robert Shafer were unable to attend.

Many issues were discussed during the Model General Assembly. Each delegate prepared for one of the basic committees within the general assembly, having various specific questions which were resolved.

In the political-security committee, questions such as the admissions of Red China, Germany and Nepal, and the problem of arms control and disarmament were debated.

Mike Conley, a senior in his third year in United Nations study, was the Uganda representative on this committee.

Delegation Chairman Leo Cherne, also a senior and in his third year, was on the special political committee where the topics for debate were the Vietnamese War, the Arab-Israeli War, Cyprus, and aspects of national sovereignty.

Scott Bergo, who has had two years of U.N. study and is also a senior, was on the social-economic committee, where U.N. finances including the regular budget and peace-keeping funds and economic programs; such as population, world trade unions, and further assistance to developing nations were discussed.

Mike Beard, a rookie freshman, was the representative on the colonial-humintaral committee. The questions which appeared before his committee were the problems of racial governments of such areas as The Republic of South Africa, Southern Rhodesia, Angola, and Mozambique.

Early last Wednesday, April 17, Mike, Leo and Mike Beard drove to Washington in order to do some sight seeing in the Nations capitol during Thursday when Scott arrived.

Friday afternoon was spent talking to the Ambassador of Uganda and preliminary meetings.

Saturday morning the General Assembly was called to order in what Leo Cherne called, "The greatest collection of students dealing with the great conflicts of man - hatred, friendship, violence and benevolence."

During most of Saturday the group was in further preliminary meetings. On Sunday the long General Assembly proper finally resolved the questions, completing the NIMGA.

Upon being asked how the model general assembly operated, the group explained, "The MGA was, of course, only a replica of the operatives of the real United Nations. We find what the problems are, we understand their meanings, and we find how they are to be solved."

"Because of the great number of people and ideas that are in conflict, preliminary meetings are held so that unwanted draft resolutions can be removed. From the preliminary meetings the resolutions which were accepted in committee go to the general assembly floor, where debating and voting is held."

NIMGA representatives were sponsored by the Northville Rotary club.

Ida Cooke Plans Show Of Talent

The Ida B. Cooke junior high school will present an all-school talent show Friday, April 26, at an assembly scheduled sometime during the course of the school day.

Cash prizes are being awarded in two categories, courtesy of the IBCJHS student council.

Prizes for a group act consist of a $10 first prize, a $5 second prize, and a $3 third prize. Individual prizes are $5, $3 and $1.

According to Assistant Principal Richard Norton, "Tryouts for the show were held Monday and Tuesday to eliminate some kids who aren't so good, so the better ones will be in the show."

Mr. Norton also points out that this is the first time a contest of this type has been launched at the JH level, and that it's being spearheaded by Mrs. Susan Sysima.

"It may be the last time," he speculated, "but I don't know. We'll have to wait and see how it works out."

"The enthusiasm is great. The kids are really up in the air about it, but I'm not sure how many are entering."

Mr. Norton hinted that some teachers may enter, but he added that "They may just be fooling around though."

Cavern Spotlights The Blue Magoos

"We're anticipating it as the biggest bash to ever hit the Northville area," stated a Cavern official, referring to Friday night's Cavern headlining The Blues Magoos, backed by Poor Richard's Almanac and The Stuart Avery Assemblage.

The Blues Magoos are making their only Detroit Area appearance in nearly a year.

The Magoos are reknowned nationally for single hits including "Pipe Dream," "We Ain't Got Nuthin' Yet," and "Tobacco Road."

The Detroit group also has two record albums to its credit titled "Psychedelic Lollipop" and "Electric Comic Book."

Aside from hosting a nationally exposed group, The Cavern features two popular bands to back up The Blues Magoos.

Poor Richard's Almanac is a group from the Detroit area which has performed at The Cavern in the past, and enjoys popularity at The Fifth Dimension and The Grande Ballroom.

From the Birmingham and Southfield area comes The Stuart Avery Assemblage to once again play at The Cavern. The Assemblage has also performed at The Fifth Dimension and The Grande.

Admission to Friday night's special bash is $2 for members, $2.75 for Northville teens without a Cavern membership, and $3.25 for Cavern patrons residing out of town.

Students Prep For Musical

Stage construction for Northville high school's production of the Broadway musical, "Bye Bye Birdie", has been going strong this past Easter vacation.

According to Director Mr. Donald Valentine and Student-Director Penny Anchors, "Mr. Roy Pederson, the art teacher, and many students gave up parts of their vacation to work on set construction and rehearsals."

The major portion of construction work was made up of platforms, a bedroom set, and a big Telephone Hour set.

Mr. Valentine defines the Telephone Hour set as "A set made up of compartments for each actor to simulate teenagers talking to one another from their separate bedrooms."

The performance for "Bye Bye Birdie" is currently scheduled for May 18.

20-Year Success Story Kent Park Birthday Near

In just a few weeks — Memorial Day of 1968 — Kensington Metropolitan Park near New Hudson will mark the 20th Anniversary of its opening to the public.

"We have made no plans for any special celebration," said Kenneth L. Hallenbeck, director of the Huron-Clinton Metropolitan Authority, the regional agency which developed Kensington park as its first major recreational site in its present chain of eight parks throughout the counties of Livingston, Macomb, Oakland, Washtenaw and Wayne. But he stated that this might be a good time to recall a bit of history concerning the park and its development.

Shortly after an enabling act passed the Michigan State Legislature in 1939 and the voters of the five counties approved the creation of the Authority in the general election of 1940, Huron-Clinton officials selected Kent Lake site as a major project.

A spadeful of Huron River bottom land, turned at a dedication ceremony on August 9, 1946, marked the first construction project of what was then referred to as Kent Lake park project. HCMA officials then looked ahead and forecast a time when thousands of residents of southeastern Michigan would be using the future park site.

Shortly afterward one writer stated that the 60-acre swampy waters of Kent Lake could hardly be dignified by the term "Lake" and pointed out that the average motorist passing along Grand River road hardly noticed the site for scenic value or recreation.

That cannot be said of the site today. Each year the busy Grand River (I-96) Freeway carries hundreds of motorists daily into or near Kensington Metropolitan Park.

The first step in this gigantic undertaking was the building of a dam, on land leased from the State Conservation department, which was completed in 1947. It stretches 290 feet across the Huron River and helped transform the then small Kent Lake into 1,200 acres of sparkling waters, which has since become a major attraction for fishermen, boaters and swimmers. One important step was the removal of thousands of trees from the new, enlarged lake bottom, which was flooded in the spring of 1948.

One of the predictions concerning park attendance came from the late George W. McCordic, then engineer-director of the HCMA, who said, "We should be able to accommodate 50,000 persons a day." The record day use for the park is over 51,000 which was established on June 30, 1963. Annual use has climbed from 94,000 in 1948 to an average of 2 million persons for the past six years. McCordic, who died in October 1950, was among a group of citizens, commissioners and staff who made an early contribution to making this park system one of the best in the country.

Since 1951 Hallenbeck has been director of the Authority. He pointed out that the aim of the HCMA is still to build recreational sites in the valleys of the Huron and Clinton Rivers within easy reach of the citizens of the five counties comprising the Detroit Metropolitan Area. The Authority and its projects are supported by 1/4 mill tax on the assessed valuation of the general property of the area. "To the average home owner this means a tax of $1.50 to $2.00 per year," said Hallenbeck.

The name "Kensington Metropolitan Park" was officially adopted by the Board of Commissioners on March 14, 1947, upon the suggestion of the late R. Bruce McPherson, Howell resident and Livingston County's representative on the HCMA Board from 1941 to 1953.

The park is named after the historic town of "Kensington", which was notorious for its wildcat bank and for its merchants who had a propensity for not paying their bills. When the merchants couldn't collect their bills, they often said, "the goods have gone to Kent", which was a local short for Kensington. Even today many area residents refer to the park as "Kent Lake Park". A small sawmill, built in 1832 along the Huron River where it crossed Grand River road, was the start of the town of Kensington, which barely reached a population of 300 and became a ghost town in 1890. Kensington Baptist church, located at the cemetery at Grand River and Kensington roads, was one of the last remains of the town and was torn down in 1953.

But the name Kensington remains, where perhaps it has become more famous than ever before. For today, Kensington Metropolitan Park is considered one of the finest playgrounds in Michigan and recognized by park planners throughout the country as a model park of excellent design. "One of the surprising features about Kensington Park is that it has been developed fairly close to the master plan of design made over 25 years ago," remarked David O. Laidlaw, park superintendent. "People coming to the park this spring can hardly realize what visitors found 20 years ago," said Laidlaw. He pointed out that then Kent Lake had just been opened for use and the park had just one bathing site, with the bathhouse and toilets constructed from rough-hewn oak from trees removed in the lake-bottom clearing operation. "Even the fact that the roads were dirt and half the park was under preliminary construction did not keep visitors from using the park," remarked Laidlaw.

Kent Lake plus the wonderful rolling hills of the area add an unmatched scenic appeal. Facilities now include a nature center, nature trails, boat rental service, launching sites, two bathing beaches with bathhouses, playground areas, an 18-hole golf course and several large picnic sites.

"Some of the early sites had just basic facilities, but refinements in design and landscape work have transformed these into first-class facilities, with many the product of 23 years of improvements. Much of the work has been done so gradually that few people notice the improvements made from year to year unless a major new facility such as a nature center, golf course or new boat rental harbor are developed," said Laidlaw.

Kensington Metropolitan Park, which provides 4,300 acres, is the largest of the Huron-Clinton chain of eight parks throughout the counties of Livingston, Macomb, Oakland, Washtenaw and Wayne. It was the site first opened and with attendance at the 2 million mark serves more people than any other HCMA park.

Other major HCMA sites include Metropolitan Beach near Mt. Clemens, Stony Creek Metropolitan Park near Rochester, Hudson Mills Metropolitan Park near Ann Arbor and Lower Huron Metropolitan Park near Belleville plus three small parks, Marshbank near Pontiac and Delhi and Dexter-Huron

Local Youth Wins Stipend

Lee A. Porterfield, son of Mrs. W. Frances Cawhney, 46950 Timberlane drive, has been named winner of an Alvin M. Bentley Foundation Scholarship Award for Excellence to Albion college for the academic year 1968-69.

Lee's Bentley Foundation Scholarship amounts to $500 and is one of the major awards presented to 60 Michigan colleges and universities by the Foundation this year.

Commenting on the selection, Bentley said, "The choice of Mr. Porterfield for a scholarship by Albion college results not only from the attainment of an excellent academic record, but also from his achievement in extracurricular activities, which exemplifies the ideals of the scholarship policy of the Foundation."

The Bentley Foundation is currently contributing $69,000 for scholarships for the academic year 1967-68. Its commitments for the school year will bring total contributions to $477,000 for the seven years the foundation has been in operation.

Trustees of the foundation determine each year which Michigan institutions will benefit from the foundation's program "to administer funds for science, education and charitable projects." The institution itself determines who will receive the individual scholarships, which may amount up to a maximum of $500.

Scout Campout A Big Success

Boy Scouts of Troop 731, sponsored by the First Methodist Church of Northville, held a campout in scenic Hudson Mills Recreation area — located approximately 30 miles west of Northville — last weekend.

The entire weekend was planned by the patrol leaders. Preparations included selection of a camp site, purchasing and preparation of food, and transportation arrangements.

The four adult leaders who attended — Andrew Pelto, George Brown, Walter Rosinski, and Scoutmaster George Whitesell, were unanimously agreed that despite showery weather the weekend was an "outstanding success, from potato chip and cheese dip snack Friday night to the French toast and strawberry breakfast Sunday morning."

Cost-per boy for each of the 16 who attended was $4, with no cost to the leaders who provided the transportation.

Campouts are held each month, but only boys who attend Monday night troop meetings regularly are eligible to participate. Canoe trips are planned once or twice each year.

Each Thursday evening the Scouts enjoy swimming at the Wayne County Children's Development Center under the supervision of a qualified life guard who is secured by the troop. After an initial payment of $1, the boys pay 25-cents for each night of swimming. Non-swimmers are taught to swim, and swimmers are taught life-saving techniques. Scout fathers may swim with their sons at no cost.

Next Monday the troop will meet at 6:30 p.m., one half-hour earlier than usual to permit a tour of the Ford Motor company's assembly plant in Wixom. They will watch the afternoon shift of employees building Lincolns, Thunderbirds and Ford's new Mark III. Parents who wish to attend may do so by prior arrangement.

Persons having questions about the troop or about its activities are asked to call the troop's publicity chairman, Harry E. Hartshorne, at 349-5085.

The Informer

...MAKES YOU A BETTER COOK!

Here's an "Informer" that not only gives you the facts but does something about it! How does it work? Simple. Into the center of the meat you put a thermostatic probe, one end of which is plugged into the oven wall. Slide the roast into the oven and turn the indicator to the exact degree of doneness you want. When the meat probe gets the right "inside" information, it signals you — then automatically and instantly shuts the oven off. Takes all the anxious guesswork out of roasting.

News Around Schoolcraft

Schoolcraft college has been approved for a matching grant of $5,670 under the Vocational Act of 1963 for the acquisition of instructional equipment for use in the college's technical programs.

Notification of the grant was received from Ira Polley, state superintendent of public instruction. The federal funds used to match college funds on a dollar-for-dollar basis are allocated for administration to the State Department of Education's division of vocational education.

Schoolcraft Dean of Technical-Vocational Instruction Jon P. Adams said the grant makes possible the purchase of $11,340 worth of laboratory and field testing equipment for use in the college's highway technology program.

Adams said the equipment will be used by second-year students in the program, which the college inaugurated last year in cooperation with the State Highway department and the Wayne County Road Commission.

Students enrolled in the unusual program are first hired as civil service employees by either the state or the county highway departments and then alternate semesters working in the field and attending classes.

According to Ronald G. Simmons, former project engineer with the State Highway department who is instructor in the highway technology program, both the Wayne County Road Commission and the SHD presently have openings for prospective students for a fall start in the cooperative program.

Details on enrolling are available from the office of technical-vocational instruction at the college.

Jacques Tati's comedy classic, "Mr. Hulot's Holiday," will top off the Schoolcraft College Winter Film Series with a single showing at 8:30 p.m., Friday, May 3 in the Forum. Admission is free.

A visual comedy, done mostly in pantomime, about a bungling but gentle bachelor who keeps things in a turmoil at a French summer resort, the film was produced and directed by Tati who wrote the original screenplay with Henri Marquet, Tati, Nathalie Pascaud and Andre Dubois head the cast.

SPEAKING for The Record

By BILL SLIGER

How would you like to draft a budget for a million-dollar business before you knew with any degree of certainty what either your income or expenditures might be for the coming year?

That's the task that faces most school districts this time of year.

The assignment is needlessly complicated by a game of cat and mouse that's become a popular pastime for administrators and teachers during the past couple of years.

Salary negotiations are dragged out far beyond the budget deadline. And two things happen when a preliminary budget is presented:

--either teachers scream "foul" by proclaiming that not enough has been provided in the budget for salaries;

--or, if a generous salary and contingency fund is proposed, guardians of the tax dollar cry that the board is "soft" and has lost the negotiation game by default to teachers who will demand all, or a little more, than provided in the proposed salary kitty.

That the situation amounts to is this:

Because there is no agreement in salary negotiations, it is almost impossible to determine whether or not it is necessary to call for an election for increased operating millage.

And even if such an election is called, how much should be sought?

Secondly, exact school district valuations are still unknown (although a good educated guess can be made), therefore revenues from property taxes are vague. State aid is even more uncertain. This formula is usually a source of last-ditch argument each year in the legislature.

Apparently there's little that can be done to correct the tardiness in determining district assessed valuation and state aid formulas, but teacher negotiations could be improved 100 per cent.

It's still my view that the general public and indifferent school boards can blame themselves for the difficulties most districts are now experiencing in negotiating with teachers.

A little vision exercised a few years ago in the field of employee relations would have paid dividends today.

Nevertheless, yesterday is past. But unfortunately, teachers won't forget.

They're drunk with new authority -- apparently incapable of handling their power with any degree of dignity. They're "getting even" and enjoying it.

But the pendulum of social change swings both ways. Our teachers should be intelligent enough to recognize this even if their adversaries were not.

Northville's 1968 teacher negotiations show no signs of starting at a reasonable point and progressing to to compromise within a reasonable time.

The atmosphere of teacher-administrator negotiations should be one of sincerity and cooperativeness. They should be aimed at three-year agreements and joint efforts to promote long-range programs for increased operating millage and bond issues for building needs.

They are not. And from this viewpoint, they cannot be until the teachers decide to take the initiative and assume the responsibility of professional status.

Even then they face a struggle. The setbacks, however, will not be unlike those experienced by fellow professionals who have known disappointment, both individually and collectively.

I cannot believe that the road to higher salaries, broader benefits and improved facilities for teaching lies in a series of sessions marked by delay, sharp exchanges and degradations.

While the school board ponders the problem of operating millage and wonders whether or not voters should be asked for more money, one thing is certain about the June ballot.

There are two seats to be filled on the board of education and thus far only one of two incumbents has indicated he will seek re-election.

No other candidates have come forth.

The deadline for filing petitions for candidacy to the school board is May 13.

The Northville school district now faces its greatest period of growth, and thus its most serious need for sound decision making. An aggressive, long-range course of action must be taken by the board if our system is to continue to provide a full educational program and adequate classroom facilities.

Talent to help provide this guidance is prevalent in our community. It must step forward, however.

Smiles work their way into Terry Collins' face more often these days, thanks to W8ENE.

The two met about two years ago when W8ENE was visiting his mother who was a patient at Northville Convalescent Center on Main Street. Terry was and still is a patient there, confined to his bed and wheel chair by a crippling muscular disorder for which there appears to be no cure. He shares the room with his sister, who also is afflicted with the same malady.

"We got to talking about radio because I'm a ham operator (W8ENE)," explains Dean Scott of Livonia. "He seemed interested so I gave him a book or two to read."

Scott, now 21, looked forward to Terry's visits and the conversation about the exciting world of the ham radio operator. They talked of many things but mostly about how a young man can get started in radio communication. Then Scott's mother died and Terry naturally feared their friendship would come to an end.

But by now it was a two-way admiration street. Scott, a manufacturing engineer for the Burroughs company, continued to visit the center and his young friend.

"After he read the books and showed a real interest, I bought him a small, three-tube radio," Terry was ecstatic, more interested than ever.

By now Terry had come to the attention of Scott's ham radio friends. W8LRT (Larry Mueller) built a two-meter transmitter and receiver for the young man.

With Scott's assistance, Terry studied for and successfully passed the Federal Communication Commission's test for a novice license, qualifying him to operate on the short-range, two-meter band. It was while working this radio that he met members of the Plymouth radio club. Their reaction was the same as that of Scott and Mueller: "Let's give him some assistance."

Now with coaching and suggestions from several sources, Terry began studying for his technician's license. He eventually was awarded this license and then began working on a conditional license, qualifying him to work all ham radio bands.

Terry Collins Tours World from Bedside

The first edition of "Scope," Detroit's new weekly news magazine, hit the newsstands two weeks ago and sales were as brisk as a Miami hurricane. Within two short days, 60,000 copies were gobbled up. Last week, production was stepped up to 80,000 copies. The result: ditto.

This week, production will reach 100,000 copies, and the number of pages will be jumped from 32 to 40. Already, 5,000 people have subscribed to the 35-cent magazine, and reader response has been overwhelming.

"We've grown like Topsy," chirped Lou Gordon, president of Scope Publishing Enterprises, Inc., and better known as the sardonic, crusading TV star of the "Lou Gordon Show." "The magazine's a surprising and exciting success."

"Scope is the brain child of James Dygert, former Free Press editor, now editor and publisher of the magazine. He broached the magazine idea to Gordon, who lined up financial backing. But something happened.

The prospective investors got cold feet, Gordon explained, when it became evident they would not be granted amnesty from "The magazine that tells it the way it really is." In other words, the millionaire backers wanted the magazine to strike, but not too close to home.

Into the gap with financial help sped Gordon. Editorial staffers from the striking Detroit newspapers were hired, rough circulation channels were mapped out, and without any advance promotional campaign, "Scope" was in production.

In the magazine's premiere edition, Gordon took up his cudgel. He blasted the Detroit Newspapers for sitting on their status quos, for timidity at the sound of battle, for failing to tell it the way it was.

This has long been Gordon's contention. The Detroit newspapers don't conceal the facts, he said, they just play them down, especially facts unfavorable to the business community. Favorable facts get front-and-center treatment.

The call to battle sounded, the fire-works followed. In his column, Gordon ripped into the administration of anti-poverty funds in Detroit as "wanton waste" and implicated Mayor Jerome Cavanagh. Gordon bored beneath the official government investigation of the Detroit anti-poverty office and loaded for bear, fired in customary, unflinching style.

Other articles followed the same vein. Anonymously, "Scope" exposed Mafia-controlled operations on the Detroit Waterfront, took an almost unprecedented look at the Red Wings' failure and pinned responsibility on Sid Abel, and thoroughly reported on Detroit's promising, proposed education experiment to help under-achievers -- "Operation Transfusion."

But for all the fistcuffs -- which are the magazine's strength -- there are apparent weaknesses. They're evident whenever analysis and discovery are abandoned for straight news coverage.

Specifically, the trouble crops up in the various Scope sections: The News-scope, which focuses on events; Duty-scope, which highlights activities of our state and national representatives; Metroscope, which surveys suburban action, and Crimescope.

Easily, the Detroit newspapers have the wherewithal to outstrip "Scope" in straight news coverage. Gordon said he and his cohorts realize this possibility, however, along with others.

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

Will You Welcome Negro?

To the Editor:

As a concerned group of high school students, we feel we should express our feelings in relation to the issue of Race. Mr. Hoffman's article (April 11) made us realize how isolated Northville is -- isolated not because Martin Luther King was killed down South, or because we don't live within Detroit, but because it is our own prejudiced choice that we choose to remain uninvolved. All of us realize that it is much more comfortable to ignore a problem. We must stop running away and turn toward the issue.

The time is approaching when a Negro family will be moving into your neighborhood. Are you going to panic by moving out, or form a petition in opposition to this Negro family, before you give them a chance to show their personalities? And if you do wait for them to reveal themselves, are you going to demand more of them than of yourself because they are colored? Or will you stand out and welcome them, helping them to feel comfortable?

In regard to the recent letters to the editor concerning a Negro teacher in our school system, we, as students, are mainly concerned with having good teachers, the color being incidental. However, if a good Negro teacher should become a part of our teaching staff, we would consider that teacher to be to our advantage, because it would give us the opportunity to become acquainted with a Negro -- an advantage which many have been denied.

In writing this, we are trying to think ahead, so we may be prepared for what we know is coming. Let's arm ourselves not with guns, but with an opening of our minds, so that we can understand the situation and then offer possible solutions.

Sincerely,

Film Expresses His View

To the Editor:

In the recently released movie "Guess Who's Coming to Dinner" Sidney Poitier says to his dramatic father, "You think of yourself as a Negro man. I think of myself only as a man." There is nothing which expresses more clearly my own feelings concerning Ervin A. Sedlow's letter to the Record. I was only born in 1947, so I cannot claim any personal recollection of Mr. Sedlow's "1940" experience. What I have experienced has been "man's inhumanity to man", an experience I would rather not have had.

Certainly "Guess Who's Coming to Dinner" is rather saccharine but the questions it raised could hardly be more timely or poignant. Mr. Sedlow is to be thanked for bringing the issue alive in Northville; I know I, and probably the others who have written, would never have written on our own had it not been for Mr. Sedlow. These are questions Northville must face immediately -- now is later than it should have been. I can't possibly pretend to have the answers myself, but surely it is horrifying to think that "pigmentation" could become the criterion for hiring our educators or is the criterion for populating our city. I sincerely hope that the mayor, other city officials, the schools and especially our churches, which have remained so very silent, will take the lead and guide Northville into constructive action on these problems.

Respectfully yours

Thief Steals Pet Rabbit

To the Editor:

One year ago in June I was given a rabbit.

Today, April 16, 1968, I went as usual, to feed my rabbit who had now gained the name Rascal. He is brown and white and the best pet I ever had. But this morning he is no more. I walked into the garage where the cage of Rascal's is.

My big brother and I made the cage. Somebody wrecked it. They pulled it apart, broke the sides, ripped nails out of it, and smashed the end of it. They did it last night when they stole my Bunny.

At first mom and I thought maybe it was the raccoon that dumps our garbage pails. We looked all over for him. When Daddy got home and saw the mess he said that no raccoon could bust a cage. Nor could he take nails out of the boards, not unless the raccoon had the strength of a person.

I know it wasn't a raccoon because next to the cage was a bag of rabbit food -- but it wasn't there this morning. Also no teeth or claw marks were on the cage.

Daddy said I could get another rabbit. I don't want another one -- I want Rascal.

I hope whoever took my bunny had a very happy Easter vacation because he stole mine.

My sister is right. She said, "the coon didn't get it -- a thief did."

I don't care who took him, just please bring him back.

Thank you, Danny Daey

Public Employees Negotiations Ignore Public

LANSING — The public's right and the role of the public is largely forgotten in the struggle of collective bargaining by public employee unions, maintains Franklin K. DeWald, State Personnel Director of Michigan's Civil Service.

He sees a vast difference between private bargaining and that conducted by public employee unions. "Private" managers have different motivations for opposing union demands than "public" managers, he says. A private manager's compensation is usually closely tied to company profits. Private business has some options when faced with a strike, it can shut down and use up stored inventory, merge with other firms, or simply "wait out" the union.

Meanwhile the public does not do without. Consumers can buy similar products from a competitor.

NONE OF THESE options is available in a public strike. Most services are not obtainable elsewhere. The public cannot do without them for very long, if at all, DeWald points out.

"You're bargaining with the roots of our democratic society, the taxpayers of the jurisdiction. You shut off a service the taxpayer really needs and can't buy somewhere else in the market place, and he will curse the politicians and the bureaucrats first, but will eventually get around to changing the system. He will bring any such charade to an abrupt conclusion," he said.

THE SOLUTION lies with an entire new approach to the problem, DeWald claims. Public employees have become "acutely aware" of the success of industrial unionism in getting higher wages and job security. They have been told by union organizers and professionals in the private labor management field that the same tactics will work in public sectors.

This is doubtful, he says. "It is a clear fact that the self-interest of public employee unions is adverse to the economic self-interest of the taxpayer. Any workable system must make room for the citizen in the process, make some provision for public hearing prior to approval or ratification by management."

Failure to develop a more constructive method of collective bargaining will result in laws to restrain public employee unions, DeWald prophesied.

THE FUTURE will bring many more strikes before improvements are implemented. Some of the settlements resulting from public employee strikes have brought substantial gains to union members, DeWald points out.

Public employees will continue to have a strong voice in determining their working conditions, he says, but eventually a system must evolve which will protect the public as well as serve the economic interests of the employee.

AN ABSENCE of standards for imitation food products works hardships on the Food Inspection Division of Michigan's Department of Agriculture. According to Lyle Littlefield, chief of the division, the only tests which can be made are those which determine whether the product is safe to use, such as "bacteria count." Foods processed in their "natural state," such as dairy products, must meet minimum standards, and enforcement of these standards is "rigorously made," says Littlefield. Setting standards of quality for imitation food products would make the products more uniform in taste, comparable in food value, and offer consumers a means to judge product excellence before buying the product.

Littlefield also notes that Michigan does not require food processors to list ingredients on labels. He says that voluntary cooperation has been impressive, but feels that legislation is needed to make compliance mandatory.

HISTORY of sixty years ago is written lightly by Karl Detzer, former publisher of the Leelanau Enterprise in Leland, a northern Michigan weekly. "Myself When Young" is Detzer's tenth and newest book.

Since leaving the Leelanau weekly, Detzer became the first roving editor for the Reader's Digest. He has written hundreds of stories for the Saturday Evening Post, Collier's and other magazines. He was also chairman of the Michigan Citizens Committee for Reorganization of State Government and a member of the State Corrections Commission.

Detzer's new book tells about the way things were when he was a boy in South Bend, Indiana. It would warm the heart of older people with pleasant memories; would interest younger readers with its description of "the olden days."

What's Spending Outlook?

BABSON PARK, Massachusetts — Now that Easter is over and taxpayers have — or ought to have — paid up what they owed Uncle Sam on last year's earnings, one of the big questions is: How freely will consumers spend this summer?

Upon the ultimate answer to that question quite a good deal hangs. We are now in the eighth year of a cyclical expansion which has chalked up a $300-billion increase in Gross National Product. But the business community's confidence in the outlook is dampened by a sizable number of uncertainties — political, military, and economic.

While industrial production just hasn't made the long strides earlier forecast by some observers, with a strong boost from inflation GNP has roared ahead at near-record speed. However, uncertainties — especially concerning possible government tax moves and the imposition of wage and price controls — have added a note of caution.

Yet very much on the plus side in any assessment of the situation is the extremely high level of employment which promises to be well maintained over the near term at least. Unemployment is being held to 4% of the total labor force ... about as close to minimum as we can expect.

Perhaps the biggest plus of all is personal income. Already at a record high it continues to move smartly upward. The increases being registered reflect gains in several parts of the economy, including advances in wages and salaries, in business and professional income, in rental returns, as well as in dividend and interest payments.

HOW MUCH money people have available for discretionary purchasing depends in large measure on what it costs them to obtain the necessities of life: food, clothing, and shelter. Living costs go on climbing relentlessly. At the end of February, latest month for which complete figures are available, consumer prices were 3.7% above a year earlier — a record 119% of the 1957-59 average.

But how much money is available for spending depends also on the amounts stashed away in people's socks. And since the middle of last year, savings have risen sharply, climbing to very high levels. This increase in total savings and in the share of income allocated to savings is the consumer's answer to rising prices and higher interest rates.

Boosts in total personal income and in income after taxes have, for some time, been outpacing increases in living costs. As a result, a majority of the nation's consumers are in a favorable buying position even though many people have not shared fully in the broad income gains achieved nationally.

PEOPLE USE their purchasing power in two ways. Either they buy goods and services, or they buy financial assets (savings). Their choice is limited by their income and/or their ability to obtain credit, as well as by the cost of that credit. Purchasing decisions are governed also by a balancing of the benefits and the costs of what is to be bought.

How will consumers react this summer? Since uncertainty begets caution and restraint, our guess is that by and large consumers will continue to buy more freely than last year. But spending decisions will be further influenced by price and tax developments, other government moves here and abroad, our commitment in Vietnam, and by business and employment conditions prevailing in local areas. While profligate spending may be avoided, consumer purchases of goods and services will show further advances this summer. It should be the biggest yet for apparel — especially sportswear, sporting and camping goods; and resort accommodations will get the big play.

CHECK - R - BOARD

43963 W. Grand River

349-3133

Novi, Mich.

Out of THE PAST

FIVE YEARS AGO...

...It took less than two days to move 37 years' accumulation from the old city hall to the interim quarters at 122 North Wing street. With the move the city introduced its first full time communication operation - tabbed the "cadet system."

Under the new set-up at least one person was to be on duty at all times in the city hall communication center to answer fire, police or other emergency calls. Previously, night calls to Northville were directed to Plymouth night clerks and then radioed to local police.

...Directors of the Northville Swim club decided to go ahead with plans to build a new pool. At a membership meeting, the board announced that three swimming pool contractors would submit bids for the project April 29. Construction was scheduled to begin May 15 with the contract calling for completion by July 2.

...An "offstreet parking fund" was proposed by Northville businessmen to help promote an improvement program for customer parking in the shopping area.

...Dedication ceremonies for the Joseph Denton Park were set for May 1.

...The community college committee, headed by Mrs. Eugene Cook and Mrs. William Davis, recommended that the Northville board of education take a stand on Northville's proposed entrance into the Northwest Wayne County Community College district. However, the board declined until it had learned the results of a bill, then in the legislature, which would provide for the annexed district to pay a one-mill tax.

TEN YEARS AGO...

...Two veteran councilmen assumed new jobs as the Northville council acted to fill the vacancy created by the death of Mayor Claude N. Ely.

A. Malcolm Allen, a city councilman for nearly 10 years, became the city's top official. John Stubenvoll, who served for 11 years as councilman but declined to run in April, was named to complete Allen's council term.

...Playing at the state band festival in East Lansing with 93 other groups from throughout Michigan, the Mustang band received ratings of "1" in all four categories.

...A school tax boost of nearly nine mills for 1958-59 appeared inevitable as the Northville board of education gave approval to a tentative budget of $666,043.

The operating budget, coupled with a debt service requirement of $212,893.75, brought the anticipated school tax on state equalized valuations to 29.95 mills. The year previously it was 21 mills.

...A meeting designed to get public reaction to Novi's proposed village charter was scheduled in that community.

...Announcement of the proposed location of a new post office in Wixom brought protests from the Parent-Teachers association and the village council. According to Postmaster Herbert Abrams, the building was scheduled to be erected at Wainstock and South Wixom roads. Resolutions from the P-TA and council insisted that the proposed building was to be located on "the wrong side" of the railroad tracks for the majority of the population and would offer no sidewalks or parking.

...The Lincoln plant in Wixom was selected from more than 1,000 others as one of the 10 best designed industrial plants in the nation.

...A proposed Novi school district budget of $252,200 for the 1958-59 year went into the Oakland county allocation board for study.

FIFTEEN YEARS AGO...

...Chrysler corporation acquired a 600-acre plant site at New Hudson for at least one of its major manufacturing divisions at some future date.

While a Chrysler corporation spokesman told The Record-Now News that no definite plans had been made for use of the property, there was reason to believe that Chrysler's top management regarded the purchase as potentially very important.

In confirming the purchase to this newspaper exclusively, the Chrysler spokesman described the deal as "in line with the corporation's confidence in the future of Michigan as an industrial center." He added that "we had an opportunity to buy the property and regard the purchase as a good long-term investment, even though we have no present plans for it."

The large industrial tract was purchased March 12, 1953 from Charles E. Sorenson.

...After three hours discussion, the board of education in Northville settled on two future school sites. These were an 18-acre tract in the southwest corner of the Six Mile-Bradford road intersection and a 57-acre parcel west of North Center street and north of an extension of Base Line road. The latter tract was owned by the Manning & Locklin Gravel company.

...Seven-year-old Mary Suzanne Pauli was fatally injured when she darted into the path of a car on Northville-Plymouth road.

...Transfer of a taxi license from Orson Atchinson to the partnership of Gene Keller and Oza Glass was made by the village commission of Northville.

TWENTY YEARS AGO...

...Mrs. Mary Predmore, one of the oldest residents of Northville, celebrated her 88th birthday. She had lived in Northville for 62 of those years.

...Richard E. Allan was elected president of the Northville Rotary club. Other newly elected officers included Rev. E. E. Rossow, vice-president; A. H. Schutte, treasurer, and E. M. Bogart, secretary.

...Brook trout were planted in the Rouge River in a cooperative effort of the Exchange club and the U.S. Fish Hatchery in Northville.

...Northville's new fire chief was Clayton Walker.

...An estimated $1,500 of merchandise was stolen from the pro-shop of Meadowbrook Country club.

...F. W. Sterner was elected president of the Northville Coordinating council.

...James Girardin of 220 Randolph landed a 20-inch rainbow trout in the Rouge River. His bait: a worm.

...Planning for the 100th anniversary of the erection of the sanctuary of the First Presbyterian Church of Northville was underway.

...Mrs. Harry Wagenschutz was re-elected a member of the Wayne county library board by the county board of supervisors.

...Representative Elton Eaton of Plymouth spoke briefly to the Rotary club, describing Governor Sigler's administrative reorganization bill defeat.

In Men's Club Concert Sunday Five Choruses to Perform Here

Five guest choral groups will perform here Sunday in the eighth annual Presbyterian Men's club concert.

Setting for this year's program, featuring nearly 175 singers, will be the high school auditorium. It will begin at 7:30 p.m.

The five choruses include: Wyandotte Orpheus club, Detroit Post Office Male Chorus, Chevrolet Glee club, Detroit Schoolmen's Chorus, and the Plymouth Choralaires.

Members of these groups will be dinner guests of the Men's club Sunday afternoon.

Chairman of the concert is William G. Williams of Northville, music director for the First Presbyterian Church of Northville.

Among the numbers to be presented are: America Our Heritage, Marching To Praetoria, An Evening Pastoral, The Water Is Wide, This Train, This Is My Country, The Impossible Dream, Onward Ye People, Let There Be Music, and Down In The Valley.

Here's a brief description of each guest group:

Wyandotte Orpheus-An all-male chorus of about 30 members from the entire downriver area, club in its 36th year, presents two formal concerts yearly-in April and in December, in 1964 sang at the World Fair in New York, has made two recordings which have been sold to the public, conducted by David Ward, with Patricia Ross as accompanist.

Chevrolet Glee club-oldest male chorus in the automobile industry, organized in 1932, associated with Michigan and Associated Male Chorus organizations, sang at the World's Fair in Chicago and at the Great Lakes Exposition in Cleveland, sang the first two numbers on the first TV show of WXYZ, performed twice at the national Soap Box Derby, average 25 to 30 engagements for the season.

Detroit Post Office Male Chorus-organized in 1965 for employees of the Detroit Post Office, has prospered and become one of the area's popular singing groups, presenting concerts at Wayne State university and appearing on many radio and television broadcasts. In 1963 affiliated with the Michigan Male Chorus association and Associated Male Choruses of America.

Detroit Schoolmen's Chorus-with Mr. Ivin Thompson conducting is a 40-voice male group. William Mann accompanies. Members are recruited from many different departments and only a few are music teachers. Makes several appearances a year before educational, civic and other groups, and also gives an annual concert. Has participated in concerts given by other males choruses at Toronto, and in earlier years has provided music for the American Association of School Administrators' conventions at Atlantic City, Cleveland and St. Louis. Maintains membership in the MMCA and the AMC of A.

Plymouth Choralaires-came into being in 1961 when 10 men formed a chorus to sing at a retirement party. The fun and enthusiasm generated encouraged the group to hold regular rehearsals and expand. Presently number 25 and are open for more. In 1963 joined the MMCA and the AMC of A. Annually sing with associated member choruses throughout the state. Under the direction of Edward Boyer and accompanied by James Anderson sing for church groups, civic functions and fraternal organizations in Detroit and suburban areas.

At intermission, the Northville Presbyterian church Bellringers under the direction of William G. Williams will perform

County Combats Growing Rumors

Efforts to reduce tensions and dispell rumors in the metropolitan area are being extended to include formation of local rumor control committees throughout Wayne county.

Formation of local committees was advocated by Wayne county officials in an April 18 meeting attended by elected officials and police chiefs from 20 cities and townships.

The meeting was held to discuss the rumor problem and to hear the views of the local officials regarding the recently-established Wayne County Rumor Control Center. The local officials supported the rumor center operation.

Dearborn Heights Mayor John L. Canfield, chairman of the County Board of Supervisors, and Detroit Councilman Mel Ravitz, chairman of the board's ways and means committee, chaired the meeting.

Canfield and Ravitz urged that mayors and township supervisors establish committees of "responsible citizens" to lead anti-rumor efforts in their communities. They suggested that the committees be composed of business, labor, civic, religious and educational leaders.

It is hoped that organization of such committees will lead to formation of rumor control committees at the neighborhood level and in places where people work, the meeting was told.

Canfield and Ravitz said that materials designed to create public awareness of the dangers of the rumor process will be distributed through the committees.

Two rumor control centers are operating 24 hours a day in Wayne County to answer telephone inquiries from the public. The telephone number for the Wayne County Rumor Control Center, established to serve the area outside Detroit, is 721-6800. The number for the Detroit Rumor Control Center is WO 3-9550.

Cities and townships represented at the meeting included:

Allen Park, Dearborn Heights, Detroit, Ecorse, Farmington, Grosse Ile, Huron, Inkster, Livonia, Plymouth township, Redford, River Rouge, Southgate, Taylor, Trenton, Van Buren, Wayne, Westland, Woodhaven and Wyandotte.

SPRING CONCERT-The Plymouth Choralaires is one of several musical groups that will participate in the annual spring concert of the Presbyterian Men's Club slated for Sunday, April 28, at the Northville high school auditorium beginning at 7:30 p.m. They and others will appear with the Presbyterian Bell Ringers. Tickets are $1 each and may be obtained from any member of the Men's club or at the church.

Sixth-grader's Tribute To Martin Luther King

The day following the tragic assassination of Dr. Martin Luther King, John Kelly of the WJBK-TV2 news team received a phone call from Michael Stringer, an 11-year-old Detroit. Michael informed Kelly that he had written a poem honoring Dr. King and wondered if Kelly would be interested in hearing it. He listened and was impressed. Kelly proceeded to invite Michael to come to the WJBK-TV2 studios.

A WJBK-TV2 news team filmed Michael reading the poem and scheduled it on TV2's noon and 11 o'clock reports. Viewers, after hearing the poem, flooded WJBK-TV2 with requests for copies.

Michael A. Stringer lives at 3201 Burlingame in Detroit and is a sixth-grader at Roosevelt school. He seems to offer living proof to the old adage about "out of the mouths of babes..." Here is his poem in its entirety:

ONE MAN

There came a tragedy the other night,
To a man who was loved by both black and white.

One who died in almost silence.
One who believed in true non-violence.
One who always raised his hand,
Stating "We shall reach the promised land".

A man who even gave his life,
Doing what he truly thought was right.
At his last rally as if he knew he'd die,

Now in his coffin he is forced to lie.
A man who could never really be replaced

For human equality, the reason he raved.

A man who never attempted to stop,
Until he reached the mountain's top.
Though I didn't know him personally,
Present at his funeral I'd like to be.

Although I'm only eleven years old,
I wish I could reach that very same goal.
And who or whatever the future shall bring,
I'll give all my thanks to Martin Luther King.

—Michael Stringer

Casual Andy Williams: From Small Town to Big Time

He shoots in the 80's, sells in the millions and is as relaxed as corn silk on a humid day.

That's a thumbnail sketch of Andy Williams, star of "The Andy Williams Show", special in color on NBC, channel 4 Sunday at 10 p.m.

Andy plays golf in the 80's. His record sales total high into the millions. And he is a walking-around example that tranquilizers are unnecessary — for him, anyway.

He made his start as a singer in his home town of Wall Lake, Iowa, when his father, an amateur musician, formed a church choir. It consisted of Andy, his parents and his three older brothers, Bob, Dick and Don.

The boys became noted as a good quartet and made their professional debut — as the Williams Brothers — on radio station WHO in Des Moines. Then they moved on to WLS in Chicago and to WLW in Cincinnati.

The Williams family moved to California where the boys teamed with comedienne Kay Thompson. For the next six years they traveled in this country and abroad playing clubs and theatres.

The act broke up in 1952. But Andy still wanted to sing. He headed for New York and was immediately signed as featured vocalist on NBC-TV's "Tonight" show starring Steve Allen. His two-week contract stretched to nearly three years.

He made the jump to series star when he headed the "Chevy Showroom" on ABC-TV during the summer of 1957. The summer of 1958 the "Andy Williams Show" received critical acclaim for its run on CBS-TV. He also starred in several television specials.

Andy has received many awards during his tenure as a television and recording star. He was named "Personality of the Year" by the Variety Clubs of America in 1959; was awarded an Emmy Award for the 1962-63 season of "The Andy Williams Show"; has been selected as Man of the Year, Vocalist of the Year (Male), and All American Award winner by Radio-TV Daily on five occasions. In total, the honors he has reaped number more than 40.

He married French actress-dancer Claudine Longet Dec. 15, 1961. They have a daughter, Noelle, born in March, 1964, and a son, Christian Jay, born in April, 1965. The family lives in Holm-by Hills, a suburb of Los Angeles.

Andy is a rabid sports enthusiast but considers golf his favorite. He plays about twice a week and would do it every day if time permitted. He is also an avid skier. He collects paintings, mostly by French impressionists. Despite his fame and fortune, Andy still retains some of Wall Lake and is not too impressed by himself. It's a standing rule around the Williams house that his records stay in their jackets while he's home.

Spotlight Features New Idea

Mrs. Agnes Marie Miller and Mrs. Carol Mindey Mytnik will provide an unusual and stimulating interview for Channel 7 newsmen on "Spotlight" Sunday, April 28 at 2:00 p.m. on WXYZ-TV.

The women are attempting a citizen's approach to the prevention of civil strife. They have been organizing face-to-face meetings in homes between White and Negro women. They believe that we fear what we don't know. They state that people-to-people communication must be established so that Blacks and Whites can learn of each other's feelings and needs.

Mrs. Miller and Mrs. Mytnik stress that many who would like to establish such communication don't know how. This is their reason for coordinating such meetings.

Mrs. Miller is vice president for public affairs of the Committee of One-Thousand, Inc. She is membership chairman of the Afro-American Museum and a member of the McFarlane PTA. She was president of the Sherill school PTA during its dispute on bussing students. The Millers have three sons aged 19, 16 and 13.

Mrs. Mytnik is a former commercial model and is engaged in writing a book about the Negro woman, collaborating with Mrs. Miller. Mrs. Mytnik is editor of the church magazine for the Farmington Unitarian-Universalist church, and a member of its Social Responsibility Committee.

"Spotlight" is moderated by WXYZ-TV News Director Bill Fyffe. The ladies will be questioned by Channel 7 newsmen Bill Bonds, Jim Herrington and Bob Maher.
