

Building Boom Comes to Halt

Area construction came to a screeching halt here and elsewhere in Michigan Wednesday as building trades unions went on strike in the absence of new contracts.

Affected locally are numerous housing development projects and school construction in Northville (swimming pool) and in Wixom (elementary school and the nearby Walled Lake high school).

Contractors and local officials had their fingers crossed in hopes the strike would end soon, although some predicted a lengthy layoff. The crippling strike is expected to put a real dent in the area's early 1968 building pace.

Through the first four months of the year, valuation of new construction hit $1,699,486 in Northville township; $1,320,281 in Novi; $219,043 in the city of Northville; and $146,196 in Wixom.

The big building boom in Northville township resulted primarily from new construction in Smokier's townhouse development (Kings Mill) in March. Total construction value was considerably above the township figure for the corresponding four months of 1967—$910,485.

The monthly building value was pegged, in the township, at $33,700 in January; $3,860 in February; $1,471,319 in March; and $190,607 in April.

The monthly values in Novi were: $107,060 in January; $152,400 in February; $453,450 in March; and $607,371 in April.

Monthly values in the cities of Northville and Wixom, respectively, were: $77,730 and $70,000 in January; $65,944 and $46,000 in February; $71,697 and $1,300 in March; and $3,672 and $28,896 in April.

City Denial Challenged

Pure Oil Sues for Rezoning

Because its request for rezoning to permit modernization and expansion of a service station was denied, a major oil company is suing the city of Northville.

The complaint was filed by Pure Oil division of the Union Oil company of California naming the city of Northville as defendant in the circuit court action.

A petition for rezoning Main street property adjoining the Pure Oil station and Main and Wing streets so that the facility could be expanded was denied by the planning commission in September, 1966. Subsequently, the company appealed to the city council to over-rule the planners' decision, but without success.

The oil company holds an option to purchase the former Rathburn Chevrolet Sales building, which extends some 107 feet eastward along Main street next to the service station. Rathburn still owns the building. Presently, the site is zoned C-2 (general commercial). C-1 zoning is required for service stations.

Planners had denied the rezoning on the basis that service stations are not permitted within the central business district (CBD) as provided in the master plan. The site, planners contend, is needed to provide customer parking in the development of the business district. Craig Rathburn, son of Kenneth Rathburn and spokesman at the council appeal, argued along with Pure Oil representatives that the project would enhance the business district, add tax base and be located on the fringe of the CBD where it would not be harmful.

Company plans call for removal of the existing buildings, now housing several businesses including a barber shop, pool hall and TV repair service, and rebuilding of the station. The site adjoins an existing city parking lot and a connecting alley between Main and Dunlap streets.

The council was not unanimous in its support of the planning commission's denial. Mayor A. M. Allen and Councilman Charles Lapham have both expressed reservations. But the latter did not take office until after the issue had come before the council. Planning Chairman George Zerbel argued strongly, however, that the city's retail business district is already limited. He said that a new service station building on the site would endanger the plan for business district redevelopment.

The council decided at a November, 1966 meeting to explore the possibility of obtaining federal funds to purchase the Rathburn building and reserve the site for development of the CBD plan.

City Attorney Marvin Stemples said this week that he must reply to the summons within 20 days. He said unless a compromise settlement is reached outside the court, the matter would probably be scheduled for hearing in Wayne county circuit court within three months.

More Damage

Survey of street signs in Northville this past week showed that 24 signs have been damaged by vandals since the survey and replacement of signs late last year, City Manager Frank Oltendorff reports. Cost of replacing the damaged signs was pegged at $400.

Edison Wins in Landslide

The Detroit Edison company was accorded another 30-year franchise in Northville township by a unanimous vote Monday.

Only 51 of the 1,640 registered electors in the township cast ballots, but they were all "yes". And that means that the utility can continue to run its electricity through lines in Northville township.

An Edison company official noted that it was "unusual not to get one or two 'no' votes".

City, School Taxpayers Face Hikes

There are strong indications that the Northville board of education will ask school district voters for additional operating millage in June.

The indications are even stronger that the Northville council will decide to hike city taxes at least three, perhaps four mills, this year.

The preliminary budget will be unveiled publicly for the first time next Monday evening. Official hearing and final approval of the budget will take place at the council's second meeting of the month, May 20.

Presently, the city levies a tax of 9.25 mills. The 1967-68 budget, which failed to balance falling short by some $45,000, amounted to $545,000.

The new budget, as proposed by City Manager Frank Oltendorff, totals $673,680. The city's fiscal year runs from July 1 through June 30.

Although copies of the preliminary budget have not yet been prepared for public scrutiny, Manager Oltendorff noted that it would include raises for most city employees, including police, firemen, DPW workers and clerical and administrative posts. (See story on police and DPW pay hikes).

He also noted requests for additional help in the form of one policeman, two DPW workers and one-plus clerical assistant.

The city council has the authority under state law governing cities to levy as much as 20 mills without a vote of the public.

Teachers Slice Demands

Bargaining between the Northville Education association and the board of education will resume today (Thursday) as the two sides attempt to slice the difference between their positions.

The two teams have been evaluating proposals placed on the table last week. One involved the pared package of the teachers, the other the written non-economic demands of the board of education.

Still waiting for the first salary offer of the board, teachers last week criticized the board for its delay while emphasizing that they (teachers) have now presented two different salary packages to the board.

The latest proposal, according to teachers, represents a substantial decrease in economic demands. Superintendent Raymond Spear, on the other hand, brushed aside the teachers' concessions as too little to make much of a dent in the original salary demand increase that he pegged at $55,456.

Teachers contended that their revised salary package "very roughly" represented a decrease of from $75,000 to $100,000. The board says its only about $35,000 less.

Meanwhile, it appears likely that a millage increase proposition will appear on the ballot for the regular June election, no matter how the package is sliced. Deadline for placing such a proposition on the ballot is mid-May.

Among some of the demands by the board are:

—Revised procedures for notification of personal illness and for teaching intentions for the next school year.

—Beefed up professional study requirements and a related penalty clause.

—Better teacher cooperative effort in support of curriculum enrichment and in supervision of student conduct and behavior.

—A provision for a "locked" salary in cases where teacher performance is deemed unsatisfactory.

—Teachers placed on third-year tenure shall not be eligible for advancement to the next salary step until the year of probation is served.

—Provision for reduction of the teaching staff where and when it is deemed in the "best interest of the district."

—Curbs on personal business days.

—A three-year contract through June 30, 1971.

Township Eyes Appointment

Northville Township Clerk Eleanor Hammond, acting as supervisor since the death of R. D. Merriam April 17, announced that the township board will probably act to appoint a successor at next Tuesday's regular meeting.

An executive session of the board has been scheduled to discuss possible appointees.

The board may choose one of its own members, or it may select any qualified elector residing within the township. If a board member is tapped for the job, another appointment must be made to fill the seat previously held by the newly-appointed supervisor.

The appointment is made for the balance of the late supervisor's term—November, 1970.

Northville township board meetings are held on the first Tuesday of each month at 8 p.m. in the township hall on South Wing street.

'Become Involved' Local Group Told

By example, Fenton Luedtke, member of Joseph L. Hudson's New Detroit Committee, revealed the aims and purposes of the 39-man committee formed by Detroit Mayor Jerome Cavanagh and Governor George Romney following last summer's Detroit riots as he spoke Monday night to Northville Mothers' club members and guests.

A creative writer with Campbell-Ewald advertising agency and before that an Associated Press reporter writing political news in Detroit and Lansing, Luedtke said his experience had included covering campaign train visits of Truman and Eisenhower. He also had been a newspaperman of the Pontiac Press.

Luedtke revealed that he was "drafted" to serve on the New Detroit full-time staff of 20, eight of whom were Negroes, which he did full-time until January 1 with Campbell-Ewald paying his salary. Commenting that he and his family had just returned to their Birmingham home from a Petoskey vacation, Luedtke said he went directly from that atmosphere to what was being called a riot, rebellion, revolution or civil disturbance.

He added that he preferred to call it a "good revolution" as "good results can come of it."

The committee, he said, "has been a rallying point of concern, bringing together resources."

One of the most-often-asked questions as he talks to interested groups, mostly suburban, he said, was "What can I do?"

"Become Involved" was his first advice, saying this could be through churches.

"You can do something," he continued, "but you personally have to begin with admissions that there are motivations (fear, moral feelings or economic self-interest) for action."

In his general observations Luedtke pointed out that as people move away from the center of the city they feel they have less to do with the city.

"We have the sad situation of the decaying of our cities and the people in them are in sad shape."

The problem is how to make people in the suburbs understand the depth of the problems—he cited the rats, illness, etc., bred in cities and the exploitation in rentals. People (Negroes), he continued, still can't live "where their achievement should permit them to live."

Luedtke accused the inner city schools of having textbooks "even 32 years old," stating that tests after graduation show an inner city student two years behind in educational attainment from his suburban fellows.

The speaker said he also is most-often asked if in his opinion there will be riots this summer. He feels there will be nothing to compare with last summer in Detroit, saying that some, both Negro and white feel encouraged, but that an incident could "turn anything on." He mentioned the relative calm that existed following Martin Luther King's death as encouraging and attributed it to better feeling rather than the immediate presence of troops, although, he added, a firm hand is necessary at critical times.

Continuing his theme of what an individual can do to help, Luedtke said some "helps" don't cost money or much time. He asked individuals to examine their "build-in" prejudices as "attitude toward other people is the real problem of the day." In listening to the news, for example, he asked that adults "cool it" in regard to prejudices before commenting before children.

He suggested that wives could check with their husbands if they have small companies as the larger ones, Ford, Chrysler, GM, Michigan Bell, have been having good experiences hiring Negroes.

He listed three books as good reading on the subject: "The Other America" by Michael Harrington, "The Turner Report" and the New Detroit Committee interim report available from the Detroit Bank and Trust company office at $1.

Luedtke concluded his formal talk by paraphrasing Martin Luther King: "Perhaps the tragedy of our times will be not the noise, clatter or genuine bad men, perhaps it will be the appalling silence of good men."

In asking many requests about how a suburban woman can "become involved," he suggested working through churches and in the HeadStart program. He mentioned that open housing can be actively pursued, adding that he was "happy about Birmingham" where it had just passed.

Two Petitions Out for Board

Just two petitions have been taken out as the May 13 deadline for filing for the annual school board election draws closer.

Petitions have been taken by the two board members whose terms expire in June—but they have not yet filed. They are Board President Eugene Cook and Trustee James Kipfer.

Nominating petitions are available at the board of education offices.

In Our Town

By JEAN DAY

OVERTURE-TO-OPERA will make its debut in Northville just a month late as the curtain rises at 8:30 p.m. Saturday in Northville high school auditorium. Mrs. Donald Ware, general chairman, reports that the curfew-caused postponement has presented a minimum of difficulty.

Ticketholders will use originally-issued tickets for both the performance and the afterglow, which was transferred to the Mayflower hotel ballroom in Plymouth. The delay, however, has made it possible for Mr. and Mrs. Ralph McElvenny and Mr. and Mrs. Benton Lackey to be honor guests here. Mrs. McElvenny is general chairman of the Detroit Grand Opera association and Mrs. Lackey is woman's committee Overture chairman.

They, the cast and Dr. and Mrs. David DiChiera (he's the Oakland University Overture producer) will be guests at the afterglow.

A limited number of tickets for the Overture performance of The Medium and act one of LeBohème still are available. Mrs. Ware announced this week. The committee is anxious to have a full house now as postponement at the last minute necessitated duplication of some expenses: a rented grand piano had been installed in the auditorium, flowers had been delivered, etc. Anyone interested in Overture tickets may call Mrs. Ben Zayti, 349-3234, or Mrs. Ware 349-2232.

A MOTHER-DAUGHTER banquet—almost a May tradition—is planned for 6:30 p.m. Thursday, May 9, at the Northville Methodist church. Mrs. John Butler of the Detroit Storytellers' League will present a set of three stories, designed to enthrall even very young daughters.

Mrs. Charles Skene is in charge of dinner arrangements with the dinner to be served by men of the church. Mrs. William Brown, general chairman, asks that reservations be made at the church office before May 7. They are $1.75 for adults and $1 for children 12 and under.

MAY 9 is one of those dates on a small-community schedule that have many events listed for the same evening. In addition to the Methodist Mother-Daughter dinner, there will be the annual dinner at Northville Presbyterian church at which men honor their ladies. Catered by Cregar's, it will be at 6:30 p.m.

"FLOWER POWER" is the theme for the style show to be given next Thursday by Northville junior high home economics students in the school cafeteria, with black-and-white flower decorations and using as a theme a take-off on Rowan and Martin's Laugh-In. Featuring fashions made in class, the show will incorporate the winners of the school talent show—Neil Olsen and the Inorganic Matter group.

In the gymnasium will be exhibits from the science, social studies and shop projects. Creative writings also will be displayed. The evening is being called "A Festival of Flowers" and is under the co-chairmanship of Mrs. Molly Shoup and Mrs. Kay LaPointe. Parents will be notified of the exact time for the events.

Finally, May 9 also is the date of the Northville Senior high school PTA annual election of officers and business meeting at 7:30 p.m. This will be followed by exhibits of class work.

POSTERS IN LOCAL store windows have never seemed more eye-catching. The large, red barn-shaped posters advertising the Mothers' club sale of clothing, household goods, etc., from 10 a.m. to 4 p.m. this Saturday at the Cavern Teen club on Main street were designed by Mrs. Frederick Hartt and made by Mrs. Harold Wright and her committee.

Up this week are the Northville PTA Carnival committee's posters for the Olde Time Country Fair to be held from 4:30 to 9:30 p.m. Friday, May 17, at the new junior high. Stenciled on burlap and decorated with bright felt flowers, they are the work of Mrs. Robert Prom who took on publicity duties as her husband assumed carnival chairmanship.

SPRING VACATIONS took several Northville residents out of the country. Not a rest, but an inspirational experience was the trip taken to St. Croix in the Virgin Islands by Northville high school junior Betty Klein and seven fellow students of Epiphany Lutheran church. With the Reverend David Strang they spent two weeks in a native community—painting the church, helping any way they were asked and living with native church leaders.

Dr. and Mrs. Frederick Bentley and their sons, Ricky and David, of West Main street, flew to Mexico. They spent two days in Mexico City and visited Acapulco but spent much of their 17-day vacation at fishing camps near La Paz and in the Baja peninsula.

Mrs. John (Betsy) Baldwin, daughter of Councilman and Mrs. Wallace Nichols, left Friday for Hawaii where she joined her husband who is on a week's rest leave. He has been serving with the American division combat engineers in Vietnam.

Before returning home, she will spend a week in Arcadia, California, visiting her husband's parents, the John Baldwins.

Mrs. Clarence Luchtman and her daughter, Gail, a junior at Western Michigan university, have just returned from spending a week at the Castle Harbour hotel in Tucker's Town, Bermuda.

Celebrate Anniversaries

Mr. and Mrs. Alfred Parmenter, 727 Thayer, who were married 25 years ago on May 1 in Northville First Presbyterian church, were honored at an open house given for 60 guests by their daughters, Mrs. James (Pam) Correll and Sandy, at the home of the former in Utica, Sunday afternoon.

Guided by wedding pictures taken in 1943 at the ceremony the girls had the original bouquet copied with pink sweetheart roses and stephanotis. The three-tier wedding cake also was duplicated. Also decorating the tea table was a centerpiece of white roses framed with silver leaves.

Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence Parmenter were the couple's attendants at the wedding ceremony performed by the Reverend Harold Fredsell. Other guests attended the open house from Plymouth, Northville, Detroit and Livonia.

Clement road neighbors of Mr. and Mrs. Grant Allen honored the couple with a silver wedding anniversary celebration Saturday, April 20, that has become a neighborhood tradition.

Earlier this year Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence McCarthy were feted as they marked their 25th anniversary. Then the neighborhood honored Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Clarke.

Mr. and Mrs. James Anderson began the party for the Allens by inviting neighbors in for champagne cocktails. The group then went to the Canopy restaurant in Brighton for dinner and a surprise wedding cake. A second wedding anniversary cake was waiting at the McCarthy home where a red carpet was rolled out to welcome the honorees by host, Lawrence McCarthy.

Red Jones to Speak At Annual Ladies Night

The 12th annual Ladies Night program of the Northville Presbyterian Men's club at 6:30 p.m. Thursday, May 9, in the church fellowship hall, will feature one of baseball's most colorful umpires, Nicholas "Red" Jones.

Jones, who spent 14 years as an umpire, is regarded as one of the most entertaining speakers in the country on the subject of baseball. A native of Charlotte, North Carolina, Jones started his umpiring career in the South Atlantic league in 1936. He moved to the Southern Association in 1940, and four years later started a career in the American League. He also has been a baseball broadcaster in Cleveland and in Saint Paul, Minnesota.

Jones, unlike the public's conception of umpires, is a big, genial man with a highly developed sense of humor, who heartily enjoys a laugh at his own expense.

Reservations for the dinner at which the Presbyterian men traditionally honor their ladies may be made with Ed Langtry or the church office. The dinner will be catered by Cregar's.

Littering's Expensive

At least two area residents found it quite inconvenient to use Novi roadsides to dispose of trash accumulated from spring housecleaning.

One volunteered to clean both sides of Taft road between Nine and Ten mile roads, after being identified to police as responsible for dumping a load of trash along Taft.

A Farmington couple paid $50 in fines and costs after being cited by Patrolman George Biggs, who came upon them while they were unloading a trailer load of trash along West road.

Peterson Wins Top Trophy

Boosters Tip Hats to Athletes

Some 250 persons were on hand last week Wednesday evening as the Northville Booster's club presented its first annual all-sports banquet honoring athletes of Northville high school. Established by the Boosters under a philosophy that all sports—not just one—are important to the success of the athletic program here, the banquet program was held in the high school auditorium following dinner in the cafeteria prepared by Mrs. Marie Knapp and her cafeteria staff.

Highlight of the evening was the presentation of a giant new trophy honoring the "Athlete of the Year". First annual selection went to James Peterson, a stellar competitor in cross country, basketball and track. His name will be inscribed on the trophy which will take its place in the high school trophy case. Names of future selections also will appear on the trophy. A surprise award by the Boosters was made to Ronald Horwath, former coach and now principal of Atherman elementary school, for his contribution to the Northville athletic program.

With Master of Ceremonies Andy Bertoni serving up his special recipe of humor and congratulatory comments, the banquet was hailed as a success by parents, coaches and, of course, the young athletes who were guests of honor.

Guest speaker for the occasion was Larry Hand, star defensive end for the Detroit Lions who made the presentation to Peterson.

Another celebrity on hand was Northville's own All-American quarterback, Steve Juday, president of the Boosters club. Juday opened the program.

Northville coaches and their players were introduced, and each coach highlighted his team's performance. Coaches included Paul Osborn, cross country; Alex Klukach, football; Jack Townsley, wrestling; Richard Willing, baseball; David Longridge, football (also athletic director and assistant high school principal); Ralph Redmond, track; Richard Norton, tennis; and Al Jones, golf.

In his closing remarks, Bertoni emphasized that the real behind-the-scenes heroes of Northville athletics are the parents. He pointed to Northville's reputation as a fine school and as athletic power in competition, and he urged the community to support the Boosters club and similar organizations as a means of maintaining the community's outstanding standing in athletics.

Wins $24,600 Speedster

Sonny Fortune Upsets Top Trotters

Ignoring 24-1 odds, Northville's four-year-old colt, Sonny Fortune, upset the nation's leading trotters Saturday night in winning the $24,600 Speedster Trot at Chicago's Washington Park. Driven by Ted Taylor of Columbus, Ohio and trained by David Thompson of Detroit, Sonny Fortune streaked past

Gale Force, at 13-1, by two lengths in the mile time of 2:01 3-5. Flamboyant, last year's three-year old trotting champion and 4-5 favorite, was third. Sonny Fortune's 1968 Detroit record of two victories in two starts in 2:09 and 8:09 2-5 sparked little support from the crowd of 15,609. He went to the post at 24-1 and never was worse than third in the race.

Owned by Lloyd Spencer, 8627 Napier road, Sonny Fortune — by virtue of the big win Saturday — is the nation's current money winner in the four-year old class. His Saturday triumph paid $50, $17.60 and $6.

Flamboyant, winner of the $183,463 Dexter cup in New York last fall, took the lead at the half, but began to fall back at the top of the stretch as Sonny Fortune and Gale Force produced their stretch rallies.

Keystone Pride, who placed second in the 1967 Hambletonian, was fourth in the eight-horse field. Dazzling Speed placed fifth.

Halifax Hanover, reportedly sold to the Santa Pasta stable of Rome, Italy, for $125,000, finished a disappointing sixth.

Sonny Fortune will square off with the outstanding four-year-old trotters again on May 11 in the $20,000 added Lawrence B. Sheppard Mile.

Besides the top trotters in the Speedster, older kings in trotting — include Carlisle, Governor Ambro, Grandpa Jim, Perfect Freight, Sir Sasse, and Real Speed — will be out to crack the Washington Park track record of 2:00 1-5 set two years ago by Dough. Carlisle, trained and driven by Billy Houghton, was voted champion of trotting's older division last year.

shortened by five days. He scored with 97 winners in the abbreviated 79-day campaign.

That far surpassed the effort of Charles Baltazar, who brought in 88 winners as an apprentice in 1965. Curiously enough, Larry Snyder was the third-highest winner in track history when he reached the victory circle 86 times last year, but all that got him was second place in the standings behind Gallimore.

Hazel Park Eyes Handicaps

Two $7,500 handicaps will headline the 10-race card at the Hazel Park Race Track Saturday, May 4. They are the Great Lakes Handicap for three year olds and up, and the Hillsdale for three year olds, each at one mile.

Thoroughbred racing will continue daily except Sundays at the Hazel Park Track, Dequindre and Ten Mile roads. The post parade for the first race starts at 2:10 on Saturdays and holidays, and at 3:20 on other days.

The present Hazel Park meeting has attracted perhaps the finest array of race riders in the history of the track. Included among the saddlemasters are several past track champions, including Bob Gallimore, Larry Snyder, Ronnie Campbell, Ronnie Baldwin and Tommy Barrow.

Insiders agree that this could be the year when a jockey breaks the 100-victory barrier at the track. Gallimore might have brought it off last year if the meeting had not been

Leads W-O League

Northville Nine Grabs Three More

With the score knotted at three runs each in the bottom of the eighth Northville pushed across an unearned run in the tense, extra-inning contest to take a 4-3 win over previously unbeaten Bloomfield Hills Saturday.

That victory, sandwiched between a 4-0 win over Milford on Friday and another 4-0 triumph over Clarkston on Monday, gave the Mustangs undisputed possession of first place (6-0) in the Wayne-Oakland League race.

Monday's victory was Northville's second straight win without a loss.

While Saturday's game was close right down to the wire, the other two contests were relatively easy for the Mustangs as two local hurlers turned in fine pitching performances.

Bill Skelly came within a single hit of a no-hit shutout victory over Milford, while, Fred Holdsworth gave up but four hits in his shutout over Clarkston.

Northville scored two runs in the second and an equal number in the second at Milford as Skelly was nicked for the single in the bottom of the fourth off the bat of Pat Reed. He struck out four and walked one.

Fire-baller Holdsworth struck out 13 batters in his turn at the plate Monday. Northville scored one run in the fifth and the other three in the final stanza.

With those 13 strikeouts, Holdsworth is now averaging nearly two strikeouts per inning.

The Mustangs came up with a total of 23 hits in those three games, boosting the team's batting average to .263 over the seven games.

In that tense Saturday contest, Jeff Taylor started on the mound, worked four innings and then was relieved by Holdsworth who finished out the remaining four innings. Holdsworth was credited with the victory as Northville scored once in the first, one in the second and twice in the eighth.

Bloomfield collected six hits, Northville eight.

The Barons came up with a run in their half of the eighth to grab a one-run lead as the Mustangs came to bat. Barry Deal led off with a single to left, followed by an error and an out. Terry Mills drew an intentional pass to load the bases, and Doug Anglin fanned — but not before Deal crossed the plate with the tying run on a balk.

Now, with the score knotted, Dennis Primeau was walked intentionally to again load the bases. On the first pitch to Randy Pohlman, Milford was charged with another balk ("hidden ball trick") and Pat Cayley raced across the plate for the winning run.

Terry Mills' three for four performance at the plate against Clarkston was the high point of Northville hitting attack in the three games. Those three and his teammates' other six bingos were off Pitcher Rich Johnson, who came into the game boasting a no-hitter, two-hitter and a three-hitter.

The Clarenceville Trojans will invade Northville this afternoon (Thursday) and on Monday Northville will travel to Holly. Today's game marks Northville's half-way point in season competition.

Coach Dick Willing, obviously happy over his team's outstanding early performances, announced that the Mustangs have drawn Redford Union (9-0) in the opener of the Livonia Tournament that gets underway on May 25.

Men's Softball Open's Monday

Competition in the Northville Recreation Department's men's softball league will get underway Monday with four of the league's eight teams taking the field.

The Jaycees will take on Plymouth State Home at 6 p.m., followed by a game at 7:45 p.m. between Perkins Engines and Ford Motor. All games are played at Ford Field.

Next week Wednesday, the other four teams will open the season as Lapham's Men's Store goes against Matatal Builders at 6 p.m. and Angle's Northville Lanes squares off with Pyles Industries.

Novi Nine Places 4-0 Mark on Line

Leading the league with a 4-0 mark, Novi's title hungry Wildcats will square off with Clinton here tomorrow in what shapes up to be a real humdinger of a baseball game.

Not counting its game earlier this week, Clinton clung to second place with a 2-0 record—the only other undefeated nine in the Lakeland C conference.

Taking the mound tomorrow for Novi will be big Lee Snow, who picked up his third straight win Monday as Novi bombed Whitmore Lake, 16-4. He or his pitching cohort, Phil McMillan, may hurl against Ypsilanti Roosevelt here on Monday.

"We're tight down the middle," explained jubilant Coach John Osborn in noting his team's exceptionally fine start. "Pitcher, catcher, short and second and center."

He billed tomorrow's contest as the "show-down." If the Wildcats can get past Clinton tomorrow, he said, Novi will be in good shape as it nears the second half of the 12-game schedule. All teams are expected to be tougher "the second time around."

In taking credit for Monday's victory, Snow fired eight strikeouts, walked four and gave up seven hits. Novi, on the other hand, collected seven hits, fanned nine times and worked six walks off the losing hurler, Bob Grimston, who was lifted in the seventh.

Actually, Whitmore helped the Wildcats to the victory by committing seven errors. Most of Novi's runs were unearned.

The Wildcats scored three times in the third, six in the fifth, two in the sixth, and five in the finale.

Novi now boasts victories over Whitmore Lake, Grass Lake, Manchester, and Columbia Central.

But Slips in Relays

Northville Sweeps Triangular Meet

After sweeping a triangular meet at Livonia last week, Northville's thinclads excelled in several individual categories but failed to live up to expectation in the Howell Relays Saturday.

Northville finished fourth behind Grand Blanc 56, Howell 42, and West Bloomfield 40, with a total of 33 points. In the triangular competition earlier, the Mustangs finished first with 81 1/2, followed by Stevenson at 60 1/2 and Southfield at 6.

Two Howell Relay records were sent spinning by Ron Gloetzer in the pole vault and Jim Peterson in the high jump. Gloetzer vaulted 12' 6" to smash the 1963 mark of Milford's Tim Mullins at 12'. Beautiful form was the key to Peterson's win, too, as he sailed over the bar at 6' 1" inbreaking the 1956 mark of Grand Blanc's record of 5' 9 1/2".

Gloetzer also finished first in the low hurdles, just one-tenth of the Howell record with a time of 20.5. In the high hurdles he placed second at 15.4, but broke Northville's 1962 record of Dick Bathey.

Freshman John Stuyvenberg picked up fourth-place points in the long jump; Phil Kennedy set a new Northville record in the two-mile run with a time of 10:23 (Grand Blanc won it in a sprint-like finish at 9:58); Peterson placed third in the high hurdles; Bill Harrison took fifth in the mile; Bill MacDermaid took fifth in the shot put; and Greg Marshall copped fourth in the 440.

In the relays, Harrison, Peterson, Al Earehart, and Marshall teamed up for fifth place (3:41.1) in the mile, and Gregg Carr, Randy Simpson, Glen Heffner, and Earehart turned in the fastest 880 cinder time of the season (1:35.1) for fourth.

Northville's depth paid off in big dividends in last week's triangular. The Mustangs collected seven firsts and 11 seconds in the 14 field and running events.

Kennedy, who has butchering his times each outing, finished first in the two-mile (10:33.2) but bettered even this mark at Howell. The 880 relay team turned in its best time of the season at 1:35.4, also topped at Howell.

Harrison, back in the lineup after a bout with a cold, turned in a first-place mile time of 4:51 (he's expected to get down in the 4:30's soon). Stuyvenberg took only second with his best long jump of the season (19' 11 3/4") as Dave Mastney of Stevenson sailed 20' 10".

Thinclads Paste Manchester

Records Fall as Novi Wins Two

Novi's Lennie Beadle Shatters Mile Run Record

The weather may have been cool Friday—but not so Novi's young track team.

The Wildcats smashed six school records and tied another as they swept past Manchester here in a dual meet, 85-33. It was the second win of the season for the thinclads as they prepared for this past Tuesday's meet here with Clinton and today's meet at Ypsilanti Roosevelt.

Novi will travel to Central Michigan university Saturday for the CMU Relays competition.

Against Manchester, records were posted by Mark Earl in the two-mile run; the 880 relay team; Lenny Beadle in the mile run; Tom Boyer in the 880 yard run; Rick Hill in the 440 yard dash; and the mile relay team. John Davey tied the school record in the 220 yard dash.

All but two of the record smashers were for first place. Boyer finished second in the 880 run and Davey finished second in the 220 dash.

The Wildcats also posted non-record breaking firsts in the long jump (Don Maki, 18' 9 3/4"); high jump (Jon VanWagner, 5' 10 1/2"); pole vault (VanWagner, 11' 0"); high hurdles (VanWagner, 18.7); 100 yard dash (Davey, 11.5); and low hurdles (VanWagner, 23.4).

The record times were: two mile, 11:13.7; 880 relay (Maki, Jeff Gilbert, Thom Holmes and Davey), 1:41.7; mile run, 5:08.5; 880 run, 2:10.9; 440 dash, 55.5; 220 dash, 25.5; and mile relay (Boyer, Brad Burnham, Beadle, and Hill), 3:50.5.

Second place positions were won by Lef Taffralian in the shot put (36' 8 1/2"); Davey in the long jump (18' 6"); Ken Osborn in high jump, (5' 2"); and Maki in the 100 dash (11.6).

Young Netters Defeat Holly

Northville's tennis team evened its record in league competition with a 4-0 win over Holly Monday night. One match was cancelled by rain.

Coach Dick Norton's squad, with a 4-3 season record, now stands 2-2 in league play. The Mustang netters posted wins over Clarenceville and Holly but lost in league play to Clarkson and Bloomfield Hills. The other Mustang wins were over Fenton and Romulus. The third loss came at the hands of Ypsilanti High.

Working with a 17-man squad that includes nine freshmen, the Mustangs have been getting strong performances in singles play from three seniors led by Randy Burnett. Norton hopes experience will strengthen his team in doubles play.

In addition to Burnett, seniors Ken Boerger and Bruce Gryslawicz form the nucleus for singles play. Burnett is 4-3 in competition and should improve as the season progresses, Norton said.

Among the underclassmen who have been showing improvement and should provide some winning help this season are Freshmen Vincent Parent and Bill Pink, Norton said.

Following a home match scheduled last night with Milford, the team starts the second round of league play with a match at Clarkson tomorrow and a home match with Clarenceville Monday.

Evans Shines

Steve Evans, former Northville ace, threw a four-hitter at Michigan State university Saturday. The 4-1 victory put the University of Michigan in first place in the Big Ten race. Evans struck out seven while going the nine-inning route.

lative style. Hill assisted the relay squad to its match-deciding win, and VanWagner streaked to a win in the low hurdles.

VanWagner also picked up first-place points in the high hurdles, pole vault, and high jump. He has yet to be beaten in either of the latter two field events, although he is still jumping short of potentiality. "Until pits and weather are favorable, I'm suggesting that he jump only to win — not to establish records," explains Coach Hanert.

Four school records fell in the meet, however, as the Wildcats took firsts in the long jump, VanWagner's low hurdles race, the 440 and the 100 yard dash.

Two of those records were set by Don Maki, who transferred here from Redford Union. The junior speedster soared 19' 5 1/2" in the long jump and was clocked at 11.3 in the 100 yard dash.

Hill finished first in the 440 in a record time of 56.4.

Other first-places were posted by Tom Boyer, a freshman who won the half-mile in 2:16.9; Lenny Beadle, mile in 5:22; Mark Earl, two-mile in 11:42.2; and of course, the other three members of the winning relay team — Boyer, Brad Burnham, and Beadle.

Syd Chapman, a sophomore who is rapidly improving, finished second in the high hurdles, Steve Pomeroy took third in the 440, Dave Bingham finished third in the mile, Doug Osborn, another freshman, third in pole vaulting, Lev Taffralian third in the shot, and John Davey third in the long jump.

Wixom Cracks Elias in Opener

Wixom's adult softball team got off to a flying start in the Walled Lake Industrial Softball league Monday night by drubbing Elias Big Boy, 11-0, in the season opener.

Fred Waara picked up the victory for the Wixom Athletics, with an assist from Tom Burke. The two pitchers gave up only four hits, while they and their teammates shelled the losing hurler, Kenny Stout, for 14 hits.

Big blow of the game came off the bat of Terry Jadzinski, who smashed a homer in the bottom of the fifth.

Next game for the Athletics in the 19-game regular season is slated next Monday night at the Wixom recreation grounds beginning at 6:30 p.m. Clashing with Wixom will be the rugged Kimberly squad.

P-TA's to Consider Axing Outside Ties

A motion was made to the Northville P-TA coordinating committee at the April business meeting of the Moraine elementary P-TA last Thursday night that: "Moraine parents recommend to the P-TA coordinating committee that Northville school district parents withdraw from the national and state P-TA and form an independent community organization of parents."

The action was taken following a discussion indicating the parents hoped a local parent organization might be more active in Northville schools. Moraine P-TA President Robert Bogart asked the P-TA committee to respond within the next month so that the matter would not be held over until fall.

Car Slams into Pole Pinning Couple Inside

A South Lyon man and his wife were hospitalized early Tuesday morning when the car in which they were riding on 10 Mile road slid on slippery asphalt, slammed through a ditch, sheared an Edison pole and landed on its top, pinning the driver.

Carl B. Leinonen, 36, of 55600 Woody Lane and his wife, Elaine, 34, were taken by ambulance to Botsford General Hospital, Farmington. Leinonen was reported to have a broken back.

Leinonen was driving west on 10 Mile road, four tenths of a mile east of Napier road at 12:43 a.m. when he suddenly lost control of his car. Novi Police Chief Lee BeGole said it was raining at the time and the blacktop was extremely slippery.

According to police, the car skidded across the center line, crossed a ditch five feet deep and 15 feet wide, sheared a telephone pole and landed upside down.

Mrs. Leinonen was thrown from the vehicle, and police described her injuries as "apparently not serious." Her husband, pinned in the wreckage, was later freed.

The car was a total wreck. Leinonen complained of internal injuries, police reported, before the hospital confirmed that his back was broken.

Chief Defends Teen Dances

Recent criticism relative to The Cavern dances prompted the sponsoring Mother's club to disclose a letter it has received from Northville Police Chief Samuel Elkins.

In his letter to the club, Elkins said: "From personal observation, and that of other officers, I feel the criticism unwarranted. I have checked the parking area behind the community building personally and have found no youngsters in their cars. I also observed the chaperones inside the building. I found them closely checking on things, especially the youngsters who wanted to leave the building. These youngsters were told that once they left the dance, they would be unable to return. I know other officers have also found this to be so."

According to the chief, the dances "are well supervised" by chaperones and several officers.

"It is true there has been some trouble, not consistently, with some of the youngsters. However, considering the large number attending these dances, it seems unfair to condemn a worthwhile and wanted activity because of the action of just a few people who would in all probability cause trouble wherever they were."

In conclusion, Elkins wrote that he hoped the dances will not be discontinued. "The young people in our community have little enough in the way of activity outside of school affairs and I feel it would be a great disservice to them to stop these dances."

In Uniform

Joseph DeRosia, son of Mr. and Mrs. Ted DeRosia of Taft road, Novi, returned to his Naval base at May Port, Florida, after spending 13 days with his parents. When he arrived Easter Sunday, a surprise party was given for him. It was attended by friends, neighbors and relations.

He and his parents visited relatives in East Tawas, Alpena and Rogers City. He was entertained at other dinners and parties as it was anticipated that this may be the Navy man's only leave for a year.

His ship in a month will be going to the docks in South Carolina for repairs. In February, his parents report, his ship suffered a boiler explosion with Joe and the entire crew working six days and nights consecutively with little sleep to install a boiler at sea. As the ship also had a 20-foot hole only six inches above water line, the whole experience was a "hair-raising" one, he told his parents, as, had the sea become rough, they could have been in great danger.

His ship, the U. S. S. Standly joins the eighth fleet in Vietnam in November, 1968.

grandchildren; several nieces and nephews.

Interment was at Mount Calvary cemetery, Grand Rapids.

Where's Board's First Offer?

To the Editor:

This letter is in response to your editorial on negotiations between the Northville Public Schools and the Northville Education Association. Of course the negotiations "show no signs of starting at a reasonable point and progressing to a compromise within a reasonable time". After three months of waiting for a solid proposal, the teachers negotiating team has yet to receive a proposal of salary from the boards negotiating team. The process of negotiation involves initiative and responsibility from both sides, not just one side.

It is a basic fact that teacher salaries have to increase tremendously in order to attract and keep good teachers in the profession. In a recent news release, the Federal Department of Labor stated an average family (husband, wife and two children) needed about $9,240 to live moderately in these United States. I cannot believe that a teacher is worth less than this. For that matter, I cannot believe that a teacher is worth less than a garbage collector, or a policeman, or an auto worker. I cannot believe that the people of Northville do not want to compete for the best qualified teachers in the state of Michigan. In order to compete for the best in the field of education, a competitive salary schedule has to be negotiated.

Should Northville compete with Detroit at a starting salary of $7500 for 1968-69, or Warren at $7000, or Lansing and Bloomfield Hills at $6800? The children in the community are the ones who suffer the consequences or reap the profits of a good competitive educational system. In any community that wants the best of everything for their children, why should they not want the best educators?

Respectfully yours,
Peter F. Johnson

Could religion prevent one from going to Heaven? Let us review John's Gospel, chapter three. A man by the name of Nicodemus repaired to Jesus for some answers. Nicodemus was an aristocrat. He was a Pharisee, devoting himself to the strict observance of the law and tradition. His character was impeccable. He was a ruler of the Jews, suggesting the achievement of some civic distinction. Would any honorable, respectable, religious leader such as Nicodemus be in need of the saving power of Christ? The positive answer from Christ Himself is found in verse seven, "Ye MUST be born again (or anew)!"

What about you? Are you religious but still outside the kingdom of heaven? It seems that I hear you saying, "But, I am an honest person and a law abiding citizen." (So was Nicodemus.) "I pay my debts and I even belong to institutional religion." (So did Nicodemus.) "I am an educated person." (So was Nicodemus.) Yet Jesus exclaimed, "Ye must be born again!"

Pharisees were most religious. They were educated leaders—in both the civic and religious realm. Steeped in tradition and legalism they kept all the "rules". They were quite careful to monetarily support organized religion. But they were woefully lax in weightier matters such as justice and compassion. Is it any wonder that Jesus said in Matthew 5:20, "For I say unto you, That except your righteousness shall exceed (to overflow copiously) the righteousness of the scribes and Pharisees, ye shall in no case enter into the kingdom of Heaven." The kingdom of heaven demands more than institutionalism, rule keeping, and observance of outward forms. The new righteousness of Christ begins in a renewed heart and expresses itself in human relations.

All of our attempts to educate, improve, clean up, and otherwise improve ourselves fail to solve the root problem of sin. The new birth (receiving Christ as Lord and Saviour in our lives) is necessary because sin is real! Before one is saved he puts God out of his life and puts self in the center of his world. A person does not gradually "grow" into the Christian life. Rather there is a definite, personal, spiritual experience of receiving Christ as Saviour. At this time one crosses the line from being dead in trespasses and sins to the abundant life through Christ Jesus. "For whosoever shall call upon the Name of the Lord shall be saved!"

Whether you are as sinful as the thief on the Cross or as "good" as Nicodemus—Jesus continues to demand—"Ye must be born again!"

CONSTANT COMPANIONS

Strasburg, Va.

"Those three are always together," remarked Lisa's mother. She was referring to her little daughter, who is seldom seen without her beloved collie, and her well-worn rag doll. They are constant companions.

"Lisa is very sensitive about friends," her mother continued. "And this week she came home from Sunday School with a very important lesson. Her teacher told her about God's love, and how He never leaves us. Lisa came skipping into the house and announced, 'Now I have three good friends, and the best one of all is Jesus.'"

Little Lisa had indeed learned a wonderful truth. All of us need to discover it for our own lives. For every life needs the companionship of God. Let your church bring this hope and promise to you.

Out of THE PAST

FIVE YEARS AGO...

...The possibility that Northville school district electors would vote on the community college question in June became a probability as legislation enabling Northwest Wayne county community college district to annex an adjoining district passed the state legislature and awaited signing by the governor.

...James Drew and Dave Lane, and Gail Hartner and Christine Boretti were slated to alternate in leading roles for the two-night performance of Gilbert and Sullivan's operetta "Patience."

...The city of Northville's proposed 1963-64 budget hit a record of $406,055, but at no change in tax rate.

...Contract for demolition of the old city hall and fire barn was awarded to Paul Palmer Construction of Northville at a cost of $3,450.

...Both members of the Northville board of education whose terms were to expire in June - W. C. Becker and Edward F. Angove - indicated they would seek re-election.

TEN YEARS AGO...

...Novi Township's county equalized valuation was set at a record-breaking $29,416,385 - nearly 50-percent higher than in 1957. The increase was not expected to change Novi's financial picture however, for it was already anticipated when township officials compiled their budget earlier in the year.

...Campaigning for Wixom's May 19 city election got off to a brisk start when 13 candidates for city office told why they deserve election. After a 45-minute recap of his term as village president, Candidate Joseph Stadnik was challenged on several points by Candidate Wesley McAtee.

...Steel girders were swung into place and Novi's new elementary school (Orchard Hills) began taking shape. The first unit was scheduled for opening in the fall.

FIFTEEN YEARS AGO...

...Serious overcrowding of Northville schools, a condition they have managed to escape until this date (May, 1953), was expected to be quite noticeable when grade and high school sessions opened in September. This became evident when the school board decided that 23 tuition students from Cooper school district and three from Nankin Mills district would not be allowed to attend the high school here the following year.

...Sale of Park Place to Michigan Powdered Metal Products company was ratified informally by the Northville village commission. Details of the combination sale-trade deal were worked out by Commissioners A. Malcolm Allen and Gerald C. Woodworth and John Haller, vice-president of Allied Products company, of which Powdered Metal Products was a subsidiary.

...Manning & Locking Gravel company received formal permission from the Novi township zoning appeals board to open a new gravel pit on the 55-acre tract of land at the northwest corner of Center street and Baseline. Simultaneously, the Northville school board reaffirmed its desire to purchase the area for us as a future school site (high school).

TWENTY YEARS AGO...

...The Northville high school was again placed on the accredited list of the University of Michigan for a three-year period.

...A scarlet fever outbreak was predicted for Northville and Plymouth by Dr. David Littlejohn, director of the Wayne county health department. Five cases were reported in the city of Plymouth, two in Plymouth township, and one in Northville.

...Announcement was made that Michigan's first American totalizer would be installed soon at the Northville Downs.

...Mrs. William Milne was elected president of the Pre-School Play group.

...Clarence Carroll, grinder operator, was elected president of Local 896 UAW-CIO here.

...Petitions were being circulated about the village by teachers and other interested persons asking that the question pertaining to a change of the 15 mill amendment be placed on the fall ballot. Specifically, they asked that the millage amendment be placed on the ballot so that the millage may be increased for a period of not exceeding 20 years (the law at that time limited the period to five years).

TWENTY-FIVE YEARS AGO...

...An announcement by Dr. Rufus Traver, acting pastor of the Baptist church of Northville revealed that the board of trustees had invested in $3,000 worth of war bonds.

...Northville's 100 ton scrap pile heaped on the local parking lot finally was carted away.

...A war department bulletin listed Staff Sergeant Charles R. Walker of Northville as wounded in action in North Africa.

...Named American heroes in The Record were these four servicemen: Lloyd H. Green, Donald J. Wilbur, Kenneth Wilbur and George Risher.

...Every employee of the Village of Northville was given a raise of approximately $450, boosting the budget by some $3,000.

...Northville's baseball team defeated Brighton in the season opener, 23-11.

...Twenty-two members were taken into the membership of the First Presbyterian church.

...Northville climbed over its allotted quota for the Second War Bond Drive and was busy building up an over subscription that reportedly would easily run 25-percent over the goal $60,000.

...The block system and the local sponsorship of the Civic committee of the Women's club made the tin can pick up really click as an estimated one-ton of metal was collected.

SIXTY-FIVE YEARS AGO...

...Forest fires, whipped to ravaging proportions, were sweeping through vast sections of the state, with reports of devastation near Alpena, Cheboygan, Ishpeming, and Traverse City.

...Mrs. Elizabeth Van Valkenburgh, born in New York state in 1828 and a resident of Northville since the spring of 1867, died at the home of her son.

...A curiosity has been on exhibition at the Record office this week, which has puzzled all who have been asked to guess what it is. It has been thought to be leather, a snake's skin, eel's skin and all sorts of things except what it is - bark from a root of one of the ancient willows recently torn out by the flood at the Ambler pond.

...A few jolly Northville ladies innocently started per trolley at 7:30 Tuesday evening to call on friends a few miles east of town, but the little informal visit nearly resulted in a tragedy. When the "girls" reached their destination the family was just retiring and during the visitors' storm of the castle a young gentleman, a temporary member of the family, suddenly beheld, while in the act of disrobing, a row of feminine countenances at his window. Nearly dead from fright at the apparition and the subsequent hilarious invasion of another part of the dwelling by the attacking party, he felt sure they were after him and ignominiously took flight through the window in undress uniform, not venturing to return until the enemy had departed Northville-ward on the next car, when, with the kindly assistance of the hired man, he cautiously re-entered the window, a madder and wiser - and presumably cooler - man.

NH Students Win District

Eight Northville high school students, winners in district competition at Ypsilanti last week, will compete in the state forensic contest at the University of Michigan Saturday.

For the first time in the history of the school, Northville's multiple-reading group swept first-place honors in the regionals, competing against 12 readings of other school teams.

Members of the team are Kevin Barnes, Gregg Carr, Everett Greer, Daryl Holloman, Rick Jameson, Allison Lyke and Frank Weir.

They're reading selection was "Alice in Wonderland."

The eighth regional winner was Northville's salutatorian, Diane Holdsworth, who picked up first place in extemporaneous speaking. She had won second place in the district.

News Around Schoolcraft

Three new programs in metallurgy, each leading to the associate degree, will be offered at Schoolcraft college starting with the fall semester. It has been announced by Dean of Technical-Vocational Instruction Jon P. Adams.

The programs, designed to meet requirements for technicians recommended by the American Society for Metals, were identified by Dean Adams as:

Metallurgy, Metallurgy and Materials Testing, and Metallurgical Technology. All three programs are listed in the college's 1968-69 catalog.

Adams said he believed the three programs are unique among degree-earning curricula now being offered at the community college level in Michigan.

James A. Mansfield, chairman of the manufacturing division at the college and metallurgy instructor, said development of the three programs was based on recent recommendations of the ASM for technical education in metallurgy and related materials sciences.

"We believe these programs are of the quality required for certification by the Institute for the Certification of Engineering Technicians (ICET), which is an arm of the National Society for Professional Engineers (NSPE)," Mansfield said. "We are also hopeful," he added, "that the Metallurgical Technology program, which is the most advanced of the three, will meet requirements for accredited curricula in Engineering Technology, as developed by the Engineers Council for Professional Development."

Schoolcraft has offered basic courses in metallurgy for several years and added five new courses to its catalog this year to implement the degree-granting programs.

The metallurgy program is designed to train the student for entry into the metallurgical or materials industries by providing instruction in the physical structure of metals and alloys, materials testing, and strength of materials.

The program requires 68 to 69 credit hours of work over four semesters. The associate in technology degree is awarded on successful completion of the program.

The Metallurgy and Materials Testing program requires completion of 72 credit hours of work over five semesters.

Northville Township Board Minutes

ANNUAL MEETING
Saturday, March 30, 1968
Northville Township Hall, 107 S. Wing.
Meeting called to order at 1:10 P.M.

Present: Supervisor Merriam; Clerk Hammond; Treasurer Lawrence; Trustees: Baldwin, Stromberg, Tellam; Attorney John Ashton; Visitors: Wm. Sliger of the Northville Record and 22 Township residents

Mr. Merriam welcomed the visitors to the meeting and explained that most Townships have given up their annual meetings, but that this is the only place where you can get down to "grassroots" politics. However, the low attendance at these meetings is discouraging.

Clerk Hammond read the minutes of the meeting of last year, April 1, 1967. Stromberg moved to accept the minutes as read, seconded by Baldwin. Ayes: All. Motion carried.

The Treasurer's report was presented by Mr. Lawrence showing all monies on deposit in the Manufacturers National Bank as of March 15, 1968. These sums are in several accounts, and U.S. Treasury Bills. Mr. Robert Geake moved that the report be accepted, supported by Mr. Mitchell.

Mr. Fiorilli questioned what was covered by the amount listed as Supervisor's "other expenses".

Mr. Merriam explained that the biggest expense in that item was the cost of the reassessment of the Township, the rest were routine expenses for travel, meetings, etc. Mr. Merriam explained that in 1931 the Legislature set up a bill whereby counties over a certain population could set up a Bureau of Taxation and remove the duties of the Supervisor in doing the assessing. Only Wayne County has such a Bureau. Land and properties were so valuable in that area, and the density was so great that a uniform method of assessing had to be set up. This has somewhat changed the concept of the Supervisor's position.

Attorney Ashton commented that being the assessment officer is an important function, but it is not the main job in terms of actual time spent. The Supervisor is the chief law-enforcement officer of the Township and must make certain that the ordinances are enforced. He is also the chief administrative officer and must keep the day-to-day business of the Township moving.

In answer to a question about the increase in pay of the Deputy Clerk, Mr. Baldwin commented that this shows an increase which was granted to her during the year and includes the cost of the pension plan which was recently put into effect. He said further that the Board is going to review and set up a rate schedule for all employees, including possibly an insurance plan and some type of compensatory sick pay.

When questioned about items of expense in the budget for the Clerk, she explained that they were for meetings, and the rest was for election materials and forms sent out to notify residents of a change in voting precincts.

It was asked if the cost of the lawsuit regarding the Mobile Home Development on Six Mile and Beck Road was "worth it". (It cost approximately $4,000)

Merriam replied that that was something each resident would have to decide for himself. However, the Township did not start the suit, but had to defend itself.

There was some discussion about the building inspection department, as to the basis on which our inspectors are paid. One resident said that he objected to the fee basis and suggested that the Board consider a salary basis for these men. Mr. Baldwin commented that we had passed a resolution setting a salary structure and that as yet the fee basis does not reach it.

Mr. Guido questioned the fire protection expense—was there anything in the budget estimate for replacing equipment?

The Township owns a three year old engine, he was told, and is now putting away a certain amount each year to purchase a new one when it becomes necessary. A really thorough study of fire protection is being made in conjunction with the Unification Study, which should be completed about the first of June.

The raise in police costs in the budget was due to the purchase of a new vehicle. The estimate for the coming year includes a figure for the replacement of that vehicle, as well as the usual costs for dog control, veterinarian, etc.

It was requested that next year the budget be changed so as to show separate figures for salaries, maintenance, and equipment. Mr. Merriam explained that the Township is changing the format of the budget to adapt to the type that the County requires, so that next year this requested breakdown would be easily possible.

Mr. Fiorilli made a motion that the Board be empowered to pass on a Blue Cross Plan. Mr. Baldwin commented that the Board is investigating such a plan, and that it already has the authority to make these reviews and changes.

No second to the motion, it was dropped.

REQUIRED BUSINESS

1. Resolution to hold regular Township Board meetings—

Mr. Eugene Guido, supported by Mrs. Wm. Smith, moved to adopt Resolution #68-19 establishing the first Tuesday of each month at 8:00 P.M. for regular monthly meetings of the Township Board. Ayes: All. Motion carried.

2. Bank Resolution (Depository for Township Funds)—

Mr. Harold Price, supported by Mr. Jos. Fiorilli, moved to adopt Resolution #68-20 designating the Manufacturers National Bank — Northville Branch as depository for the Township funds for the fiscal year 1968-69. Ayes: All. Motion carried.

3. Township Budget—

Mr. Lawrence spoke briefly, voicing his objection to the budget in the item of the Treasurer's salary only. Mr. Geake moved to adopt Resolution #68-21 accepting the proposed budget as presented, for 1968-69 and assessing a one-mill tax on the assessed valuation of the Township. Ayes: All but two of the people present—Nays: Mr. Lawrence and one Township resident—Motion: Carried.

Mr. Merriam then made a number of comments of interest to the meeting, as follows:

The contract with the State Hospital has still not gone through. It has been approved by the Department of Mental Health and now the State Administration Board must approve it.

Of the 57 families who have moved into the Smokler Kings Mill Townhouses, only 23 children enrolled in the Northville schools, which is much less than the average in any other type of development.

The estimate for the paving of Bradner Road was $17.30 per foot, which was a figure lower than the estimate. The contract was given to the Minestrelli Co.

The lawsuit regarding the Mobile Home Court is being appealed.

The Unification Study is progressing satisfactorily. Separate committees have been set up to study Water & Sewer, Streets, Administration, Finance, Tax Structure, etc., all of which reports are now in except the one from the Finance Committee. They will make their report about the middle of May, and the Steering Committee will decide whether or not the unification is feasible. If they so decide, the question will be put to the electorate.

The Township has 800 dwelling units projected for the next five or six years. They will use up all the sewer capacity that the Township presently owns. We have started to make negotiations to purchase further capacity from various sources, one of which is the projected Hannan Road sewer which would serve both Plymouth and Northville Township.

In case of possible trouble next summer, our two constables have both taken the training for riot control, and the Sheriff's Dept. and the State Police have gone through extensive riot control training to enable them to control large crowds. The radio in our Twp. vehicle is connected to and directed through the Wayne County Sheriff's Dept.

The Detroit Edison Franchise Election will be held on April 29, 1968.

There will be no Dog Clinic this year.

Mr. Tellam's position of Trustee is up for re-election this year.

Tellam moved for adjournment, seconded by Mr. Lamb. Ayes: All. Meeting adjourned at 2:50 P.M.

Respectfully submitted,
Eleanor W. Hammond, Clerk

He's Billed In Concert

Thomas Wilson of Northville was one of seven Michigan State university students who presented a percussion ensemble concert on Friday evening.

The ensemble, directed by John Baldwin, doctoral candidate in music theory and graduate assistant in percussion, performed a variety of works featuring pitched and non-pitched percussion instruments.

Among the works on the program were "Percussion on the Prowl" by Anslinger; "Toccata" by Chevez and, in oriental style, "The Swords of Modaling" by Peters.

Wilson is a freshman in Lyman Briggs college at MSU.

Municipal Court

A Northville man arraigned on two citations for permitting dogs to run at large and a South Lyon man cited for violating the emergency curfew imposed on the area recently were among cases heard by Municipal Judge Philip Ogilvie last week.

Joseph Spagnuolo, 203 Debra Lane, pleaded guilty when arraigned last Wednesday on two citations for permitting dogs to run at large of different dates in March. He was sentenced to pay $20 in fines and $2 costs.

Paul H. Meier, South Lyon, cited March 27 for being in violation of the emergency curfew pleaded guilty at his arraignment and drew a $5 fine.

James T. Assemany, 46400 West 10-Mile road, pleaded innocent when arraigned last March on a charge of using private property (Kroger parking lot) to avoid a traffic light. He was released on $100 bond until his trial Wednesday. He was found guilty and sentenced to a $5 fine or two days.

Dennis M. Johnson, Detroit, cited in May, 1965 by State Police for driving in violation of restrictions imposed on his drivers license, was arraigned in court last Wednesday. He pleaded guilty and was sentenced to pay a $25 fine and $15 costs or spend eight days in jail.

Medicare Handbook Ready for Delivery

Within the coming weeks, older people in Northville will be receiving a new copy of "Your Medicare Handbook," a new up-to-date guidebook on their Medicare benefits, how the program works, and how payments are made.

Sam F. Test, social security district manager, said the new Handbook highlights the changes enacted in the 1967 social security amendments, improving protection and simplifying Medicare procedures. It has also been made easier for older people to read and understand.

In developing the new edition of "Your Medicare Handbook," Test said, the SSA sought the suggestions of elderly readers as well as experts in the field of communications and representatives of professional organizations.

Delivery of the new red, white, and blue edition to the 19.6 million Americans 65 and over will be completed over the next 6 weeks, Test said. In an introductory letter on the inside front cover of the new Handbook, Robert M. Ball, Commissioner of Social Security, reminds older people: "If you need further information or want help concerning your Medicare protection or any other social security matters, please get in touch with your social security office. The people there are always glad to help you." The northwest office is located at 18500 Grand River, Detroit.

'We Care for Trees As God Cares for Us'

(This is an article prepared by Mrs. L. M. Eaton, member of the Northville Beautification commission, to mark the Arbor Week tree planting ceremony of the Northville branch of the national Farm and Garden association last week.)

"We care for our trees as God cares for us." This is the slogan submitted by Patricia Brown, 10 years old, a pupil in our American school, in a Beautification Commission contest. Wouldn't it be wonderful if everyone felt this way? Trees are such a necessary part of our lives.

Eric Sloane, the author, said, "Some day there will be a law requiring you to plant a certain number of trees each time you buy a new car, for when trees decrease and automobiles increase to the extent of contaminating the air with carbon dioxide, only then will man learn to appreciate the real importance of trees."

LEROY KING, retiring after nine years service on the Northville custodial staff, was honored recently by his coworkers at a noontime ceremony at Main Street elementary school. All 29 members of the custodial staff attended, along with the district's business manager, Earl Busard. King intends to remain in this area. He and his wife live at 47840 Seven Mile road.

It is good for city-dwellers to have reminders that theirs is an artificial environment highly dependent upon substances of life — such as fresh water and clean air — produced in rural surroundings. We have yet to see a city which was not improved by shaded streets.

Mr. Frank Ollendorff, Northville's city manager, encourages home owners to plant trees — invites requests for trees. It is the intention of the city to continue planting trees, replacing trees in areas where they were cut down, as the budget permits. Mr. Ollendorff plans to plant 24 trees, 2 inches in diameter, 8 to 12 feet in height this year — half in the spring, half in the fall.

In 1967 there were 18 trees cut down, 21 planted. Home owners may add a sum of money to the city's purchase price of a tree to insure a larger, older specimen. Consult Mr. Ollendorff on this matter.

Those benefiting from the planting of trees are required to water them as often as necessary.

Fifty years ago Northville had beautiful tree-lined streets. Gradually age and disease have taken their toll. It is our hope that old trees may be replaced and new streets may be beautified by many new trees.

Organizations are encouraged to plant trees. The Northville branch of the National Farm and Garden association is co-operating with the city to plant a fine Pin Oak in Joseph Denton Park where several trees had to be cut down. The Northville Woman's club is contributing a tree in memory of Mrs. Ruth Chase, past president, to be planted in the park at the rear of our city hall. There is space and need for more. Look about you. This is the time to plant a tree. They make wonderful gifts.

Dr. Chauncy D. Leake, a professor at Ohio State University, suggests tree-planting as the only way to get sufficient oxygen back into the air. "Every new car and truck takes more oxygen from the air and replaces it with carbon dioxide, while industrial plants and home furnaces are doing the same thing. Eventually, unless we plant more trees, human life will begin to suffer."

A South Lyon man who staged a running donnybrook with Northville police officers in traffic lanes and adjacent fields along Eight Mile road last Friday night will face examination on a charge of resisting a police officer in Northville municipal court next Monday morning.

Leonard Montgomery, 55268 West Nine Mile road, South Lyon, resisted arrest on a revoked driving charge so strenuously that four officers were required to restrain, handcuff, and remove him to the city jail.

The extended action proved an ordeal for members of Montgomery's family, who were with him in the family car and watched from the roadside while he fought and attempted to flee. Officers called an ambulance for Montgomery's 14-year-old daughter who collapsed during the melee.

According to Northville police, Montgomery was stopped on Eight Mile near Taft about 10:45 p.m. Friday for having a defective license plate light. Unable to produce a drivers license, Montgomery began resisting the officers when they placed him under arrest after he informed them his license had been revoked.

Patrolman Robert Pankow and Auxiliary Officer William Phillips made the stop and the arrest.

Montgomery broke away from the officers as they were walking with him to the patrol car, police said. Pankow pursued the fleeing Montgomery along the roadway, tackled him, resumed the pursuit with Phillips when Montgomery broke free and ran into an open field.

Montgomery was restrained following the prompt arrival of two additional officers. A doctor was called and he was treated at the station for minor cuts and bruises received in the struggle.

Later that night Montgomery pleaded innocent when arraigned on a charge of resisting an officer in the performance of his duty. An innocent plea was entered for him and examination was set for next Monday.

Thieves Steal $7,000 Tools

An array of mechanics' tools and tool cabinets valued at about $7,000 were stolen from the Barkman Trucking company last weekend.

Northville police said the burglary occurred late Saturday night or early Sunday morning at the firm's facilities at 20787 Taft road. Entry to the building was gained by breaking a window in an overhead door, which gave access to the lock securing the door.

The police report indicated the tools might have been the only objective and that bulk and weight of the tool-loaded cabinets would impose some difficulty in moving. The case is under investigation.

SPEAKING

for The Record

By BILL SLIGER

Last week this column expressed the viewpoint that Northville teachers are hurting their own cause by failing to begin negotiations in earnest from a reasonable starting point with a three-year pact as an objective.

The Northville Education Association has asked for "equal time" for rebuttal, so we're complying by presenting the teacher viewpoint in the same space.

The Northville Education Association was greatly disappointed with the editorial of April 24th which contained generalizations entirely without basis in fact. It is our wish to counter these with some pertinent information.

Northville's teachers are not "drunk with power". That is, not unless our efforts to share in the development of an instructional program which will include professional salaries and reasonable fringe benefits can be called "drunk with power". Such "power" clearly was not the teachers' when his image was Mr. Peepers - shy, unaggressive, and not very troublesome (or helpful) to the community. Today's teacher has been granted a measure of that power through law; namely, the extension of collective bargaining rights to public employees in 1965. For half a century or more employees in private industry have enjoyed such rights and as a result, from 1939 to 1967 U.S. per capita income grew 114.2 per cent. In that same span, however, teachers' salaries in the ten largest cities of this nation grew 39.4 per cent. Realizing this, teachers in those cities, including Detroit, joined militant organizations such as the American Federation of Teachers which employs strikes as a tactic.

By contrast, Northville teachers have not joined the militant Federation and do not desire to do so. And, although our teachers withheld services for two days last fall because no settlement had been reached, they also agreed to report for work on two Saturdays as "penalty days". If these are the acts of people "drunk with power", then the teachers who struck for weeks in Detroit and dozens of communities in Michigan must be raving maniacs.

Northville teachers are certainly determined to employ every legal means to develop salary schedules and working conditions which are just, as well as instructional programs which compete favorably with other area schools. In some ways our teachers are fortunate; the tuition reimbursement, sick leave and personal business policies, to name a few, are among the best in the area. But our salary schedule ranks 29th out of 39 competing schools in our area, our insurance program is among the very poorest, and in several other significant matters we trail the competition.

No one denies that, in the main, Northville is not satisfactorily competitive. Teacher turnover has been a persistent problem for our administration the last several years and the present contract does not seem to have helped greatly. It is still uncertain how many teachers will leave Northville this year, but an approximation of 30 to 35 per cent is reasonable.

The Record's charge that teachers are seeking revenge this year is also untrue. Perhaps there is reason to believe that because of some unfortunate developments during last year's negotiations, our teachers would wish to get even, but they are not that immature. Anyone who doubts that is welcome to attend the negotiations as a guest of the teachers to witness their efforts.

As an example of the teachers' efforts to move as quickly as possible, their negotiating team submitted a first proposal on March 21, after weeks of study and research. And although the Board's representative did not reply with a proposal for four weeks, the teachers went ahead with the task of revising and developing a second proposal. On April 26, they presented this second proposal and accepted the first proposal from the Board's representative.

Throughout the meetings, as Mr. Hoffman of The Record has witnessed, the teachers have acted with patience and dignity, never indulging in abusive speech or strategic flattery. They wish to move forward with the perfectly legitimate and honorable process of good faith negotiations. They have no interest in revenge or in power for its own sake. Negotiations are new to them and are not their sole or primary responsibility. Superintendent Spear has said repeatedly that he will not waste his time playing games with the teachers. The Record has charged us with playing games. However, teachers are also busy - too busy and too serious, and perhaps, too proud to "play games."

Teaching is a serious business, to which teachers must devote more time. But as in every profession, the quality of performance, the length of service, and the depth of involvement are dependent partly on the rewards forthcoming. For years teachers enjoyed no part in determining those rewards, either monetary, in terms of personal prestige, or in adequate circumstances for success. The results are known to us all - a history of shamefully low wages, desperate teacher shortages, overcrowded classes, overage buildings, inadequate texts, outdated curricula, and so forth. If teachers do nothing about this, who will? If not now, when?

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

'Have Faith in Northville'

To the Editor:

I would like to address this letter mostly to the young people whose letter was entitled "Will you Welcome Negro"

First let me congratulate you on your Christian, Constitutional ideals, but second let me acquaint you with some Northville ideals.

Before you were born Northville recognized that all people are God's children. One of our first contacts with Negroes was with some fine families from Salem, who lived there and not in Northville by choice because of an historical connection. These children attended our Northville schools, were a credit to our school and we looked upon them as just some of the kids. Also the Presbyterian Church sponsored a Christian Endeavor at Maybury for a long time. It was our first contact with sick Negroes. Dr. Willis was in charge there and I was in charge of Christian Endeavor and our missionary project was working with not only the children but adults. One of the great moments in my life was when a Negro man sent for me as he was dying because he wanted to ask God's blessing through me on all those who had made his cross lighter. As he lifted his withered arm toward heaven and prayed I never felt the Almighty's presence closer. And now as many Negroes work in the institutions around us, shop in our stores, bank at our banks, eat in our eating places, have a little faith in Northville people to accept changing times. However, give the Negro credit, too, for deciding what he wants to do, don't try to drag him into what he may not want.

You say let's arm ourselves not with guns, but with open minds, I agree. However, there is a minority in this Country that does not speak or act for all the Negroes and they should be dealt with according to law the same as you and I would be dealt with if we caused trouble.

Keep our high ideals but have faith in the Northville people, its churches and its governments. There has never been an unsolved community problem in Northville and there won't be in the future if we don't go off half cocked but use common sense.

Fish Hatchery: Money Waste

To the Editor:

I understand some of our top brains in city government are considering the acquisition of the old fish hatchery from the federal government. What an unnecessary waste of money for an old white elephant. As a gift, the maintenance and responsibility would not be cheap.

The City of Northville is but a few minutes from a great park and recreation center. Seems we just have to spend money; even that which we do not have.

Very truly yours,
W. G. Troy
709 Spring Drive

The youngster with the missing teeth in our family, who, like his brother seldom confides in his father over important matters, suddenly put his arm around my neck and whispered mysteriously, "I'm in purple."

His gapping smile belied the seriousness of the matter so, despite the puzzling comment, I said as fatherly as could be, "That's alright, Joe, but I hope you're not painting spots on snakes again."

He looked disappointed, then said simply, "you're funny, Dad," and skipped off to bed.

Obviously, I'd made a blunder so I put the question to his mother:

"Has Joe been fighting again?"

"No...at least not since Jim gave him that bloody nose yesterday."

"Has he been painting snakes again...his toe-nails, maybe?"

"No."

"Well, then," I said a little impatiently, "what's this purple stuff he's talking about?"

"Oh, that. He's so proud, isn't he. He's advanced to another level. Isn't it marvelous?"

Getting answers around our house is as tough as bagging a wildcat in a paper sack. You're clawed before the job's done. And even after finishing you've accomplished nothing.

"What level? In what? Where?"

"In school, of course. He's reading at the purple level now. It means he's advanced."

"The purple level! Don't tell me they're reading psychedelic coloring books now?"

"Certainly not, stupid. I told you it's just that he's at a different reading level now. It means he's getting better."

"What color is tops? Gold?"

"I don't know. Besides, that isn't important. What's important is that your son is improving. You should tell him you're proud."

Sure, I'm proud, I thought, worrying a little about those words "improving" and "getting better." But does that mean he's been behind? I asked myself. When I was in school, the words "Jackie's getting better" was the teacher's polite way of saying, "he's a lousy pupil but there's still hope."

I decided to pursue the subject with my son.

"Joe, I'm really proud of you. Mother tells me you are doing just great in reading. But can you tell me a little more about being 'in purple.'"

"Whatcha wanna know?"

"Just tell me everything you can think of."

"Well, I'm in purple in my SRA's, and we read a story, and I put my man on a piece of paper, and the teacher's got a purple pencil, and it's fun."

"Thanks, son, that answers everything. Go to sleep, now."

"Along with the country as a whole, the press has too long basked in a white world, looking out of it, if at all, with white men's eyes and a white perspective. That is no longer good enough."

Words uttered by a Black militant, enraged, embittered and blinded by white control of the press? Quite the contrary. These are the words spoken deliberately, with all sincerity, by the President's Commission on Civil Disorder.

Headed by Governor Otto Kerner of Illinois, the commission was made up of hand-picked "moderates", people neither of the left or right, but distinguished for their independent judgment. Theirs is a reasoned, but urgent voice.

Much has been made of the report's lashing indictment of the police, who are viewed by Negroes as the symbol of white oppression. But the press, likewise, has not lived up to its responsibility, and was, in its own way, an accessory to the riots, the report concludes.

Just how did mass media - newspapers, television and radio - fail?

In the first place, the commission found "a significant imbalance between what actually happened in our cities and what the newspaper, radio and television coverage of the riots told us happened." Things had been exaggerated - a charge often leveled at mass media.

The commission assumed the media had "sensationalized the disturbances." What was discovered, however, was that the facts proved otherwise. The press had not sensationalized.

Yet, the press was not absolved of its guilt. There were instances of "gross flaws in presenting news of the 1967 riots." There were "scare" headlines unsupported by mild stories. Damage estimates far outstripped reality. Here, the supposedly alert press had dropped its guard and accepted official statement as fact, when indeed, the press should have questioned.

The press - especially TV - was also criticized for tending to "define the events as black-white confrontations," when they were, as exhaustive surveys and analysis proved, not "race riots."

Closely allied to these deficiencies and further explaining the press' failure is the "cumulative effect," the tendency of riot reports to snowball in the consumer's mind, and the fact that fear of racial unrest are "deeply rooted in American society," the report says, which tend to color people's reactions to news reports.

Despite these disclosures, the commission made one fact emphatically clear. Whereas media coverage should not be exaggerated, neither should it be underplayed.

"We believe that it would be imprudent and even dangerous to downplay coverage in the hope that censored reporting of inflammatory incidents somehow will diminish violence. Once a disturbance occurs, the word will spread independently of newspapers and television. To attempt to ignore these events or portray them as something other than what they are," the report continues, "can only diminish the confidence in the media and increase the effectiveness of those who monger rumors and the fears of those who listen."

What was primarily wrong with riot coverage, however, was its failure to be representative, the reports states. "We believe that to live up to their own professed standards, the media simply must exercise a higher degree of care and a greater level of sophistication than they have yet shown in this area - higher, perhaps, than the level ordinarily acceptable with other stories."

A more basic fault which the commission found with media was its failure "to analyze and report adequately on racial problems in the United States, and, as related matter, to meet the Negro's legitimate expectations in journalism. Media did not tell "the ills of the ghetto, the difficulties of life there, the Negro's burning sense of grievance."

This was the Commission's major concern - and rightly so. For as an institution protected by constitutional guarantees, the press has an obligation to make the public aware of what is happening, and more importantly, to put it in perspective.

The Commission makes many recommendations, including the establishment of an Institute of Urban Communications, which would primarily recruit and train Negro journalists and improve communications between all parts of the community.

Rather than being defensive about the accusations and dismiss them as groundless or mere word play, every person in journalism should take a close look at the report, then at his own practices, and take any measures necessary to correct any deficiencies in his own operation. Otherwise, we run the risk of, ironically, failing to communicate, as charged.

These Senior Citizens Spurn Inactivity

LANSING) A do-it-yourself Senior Center in Laurium, near Calumet in the Upper Peninsula, provides proof that many retirees are years away from checkers and chess. The center, dedicated February 1, 1968, was built by volunteer labor. Average age of volunteers was 74.

The building, a former warehouse donated by a local citizen expressly for senior citizen activities, was completely remodeled by retired plumbers, carpenters, electricians and other tradesmen. More than 40 men contributed about 4,000 man hours to the project. Many who could not contribute labor purchased sheets of paneling and other material. Some of the cost was financed by a government grant.

The community also has taken an active interest in the center. Townspeople bought building materials, organizations and individuals participated. A church and a service club donated dishes.

Social Security's Not Insurance

BABSON PARK, Massachusetts — Since it became operative more than 30 years ago, the social security system has grown like all get out. Most of us take it pretty much for granted. We are encouraged and elated whenever Congress sees fit to increase benefits, and we grumble only half-heartedly when Congress votes a boost in the social security tax.

Perhaps we would be more deeply concerned for its future (and ours) if we knew that social security is not really retirement insurance. Right now social security is obligated to pay out some $400 billion. However, its reserve is scarcely more than 5% of that amount!

What, then, has happened to your social security tax payments? The answer is quite simple: These payments are channeled into the U.S. Treasury, along with other tax money, and used as Uncle Sam sees fit. Hence your future social security benefits are not being financed by your tax payments of today. That money is being paid out to older Americans already drawing benefits.

BOTH MINIMUM and maximum benefits under social security have been increased a number of times. Of course, more people are receiving more dollars from the system than ever before. But the return relative to social security taxes paid is still disappointing.

Though their benefits may have been small compared with those avail-

Men paroled from Michigan prisons have fewer problems adjusting to community life than those paroled five years ago. Gus Harrison, Director of Corrections, notes that in the early 1960's, about 40 percent of those paroled ran into problems which resulted in their return to prison. By 1965 the average had dropped to 34 percent.

Harrison, encouraged by this trend, says, "There are too many variables which might explain it. But we think it is a hopeful sign when programs which we believe should do some good are followed by improved community adjustment. If further new programs are followed by continued improvement in parole success, we are going to be greatly encouraged."

Some of the new programs cited by Harrison are more intensive efforts in educating and training young offenders, a work-furlough program, group counseling and generally reduced parole caseloads. Parolees under 21 usually have fewer problems of adjustment than older offenders, Harrison said.

AN ALARMING increase in the death rate of young coho salmon, called "fry" by conservationists, is attributed to residue of DDT and other pesticides in Lake Michigan and inland lakes fed by Lake Michigan tributaries.

The Department of Conservation reports that 680,000 fry died during this year's hatching of eggs taken from Michigan sources last fall. This is a mortality rate far greater than experienced in western states. In 1964, almost 851,000 coho were successfully hatched from 1 million eggs received from Oregon.

Wayne H. Tody, chief of the fish division, noted that death occurs at a time in the life cycle when losses should be minimal.

"The fry were being stricken at the 'button up' state, a time when they are undergoing a transition between dependence on food stored in their yolk sac and on hatchery diets. The fish typically went into spinning convulsions, sank to the bottom of the tank, many in a peculiar flexed position and died."

LABORATORY TESTS by Michigan State University detected certain levels of DDT residues in the dead coho fry which exceeded levels reported in New York and Canada. Researchers there attributed heavy fry mortality to pesticide residues.

Although additional research will be conducted, the department theorizes that pesticide residue is absorbed by the parent salmon during the 18 months it spends in Lake Michigan. A portion is concentrated in the fatty material of the eggs, and these concentrations affect the fry during the brief period in the life cycle when the last of the fatty material is assimilated into its system.

Stop-gap measures are being taken in an attempt to reduce the loss, but the only way to solve the problem at its source is to reduce substantially the present pesticide level.

If this is not done, the department stresses, the future of the coho and similar species of fish surviving in Michigan waters is doubtful.

"PINK SLIPS" of dismissal were given to 374 civil service employees in 1966, almost 10 percent of the 39,345 total workforce that year. A similar percentage is expected when 1967 records are compiled.

Frank K. DeWald, personnel director of Michigan's civil service system, points out that only three of the 374 were reinstated by action of the commission. This, he says, suggests that civil service does not overprotect employees. The notion that "it's impossible" to be fired from a civil service job is often expressed by the public.

DeWald notes that less than four percent of those discharged in 1966 appealed to the commission. Another 18.8 percent of employees resigned in 1966, and DeWald estimates that about half of these resigned rather than face removal proceedings.

Either employees or state administrators have the right to appeal a commission decision to the Supreme Court.

CLEANUP EXERCISE—Members of Northville's Tumbleweeds hiking and camping club returned to the South Main boulevard and railroad embankment Saturday for its annual cleanup project. The area had been cleaned earlier by youths of the community but had become littered practically overnight.

Atomic Energy to Horse Racing Michigan Week Exhibit Grows

More than three-dozen displays, ranging from themes of atomic energy and aero-space to horse-racing and Northville history, have already been promised for the Michigan Week exhibit later this month.

"We've contacted most of the organizations in the community," said James McCarthy, chairman of the Jaycee committee assisting in promotion of the exhibit, "and most have expressed a willingness to participate by sponsoring displays."

Meanwhile, Dempsey Ebert, president of the Northville Chamber of Commerce, has been lining up displays by Northville industries. He also reports a "good response."

The exhibit will be held in the community building located on Main street from Monday, May 20 through Thursday, May 23. It will be open during school hours for public and parochial school students of Northville and in the evenings for the general public.

Tours for students, by appointment, will be conducted by members of the Jaycees. A special tour is planned on May 20 for officials of Hastings, Michigan — Northville's Michigan Week exchange community this year.

In addition to displays by clubs and organizations and by agricultural and industrial businesses of the Northville school district, the exhibit also will feature representative products of those manufacturing or utility companies located elsewhere that are either owned by Northville residents or with which Northville residents hold key executive positions.

Among the latter are:

Western Electric, Bathey Industries, Shatterproof Glass, the Aero-Space Division of the Bendix corporation, International Research and Development corporation, Detroit Edison, and Michigan Bell Telephone.

Among those Northville companies that are likely to have displays are: Warren Products, Northville Laboratories, International Diamond Tool company, Allen Monument, Northville Downs, Reef Manufacturing, Anger Manufacturing, Normac, Parmenter's Cider Mill, Foreman Orchards, Ford Motor company, ABC Photo, Haller Division, Cogsdill Enterprises, and Foundry Flask & Equipment.

Displays by Northville State Hospital, Schoolcraft college, High School Cooperative program, and the Northville Education association are planned.

Among the clubs and organizations which have been contacted—most of which have decided to have displays—are:

Base Line Chapter of the Questers Antiques Society, Girl Scouts, King's Daughters, Northern Lites, Northville Boosters club, Garden club, Business and Professional Women's club, Historical Society, Jaycees and Jayettes, Junior Football association, Rainbow

Assembly, Mother's club, Newcomers club, Tumbleweeds, Optimists, Senior Citizens, Daughters of the American Revolution, Veterans of American Foreign Wars, and the Tri-City Art club.

Those organizations which may have been missed but which would like to sponsor displays describing the organizations to the community are urged to call either Michigan Week Chairman Jack Hoffman, FI 9-1700, or Jaycee Chairman McCarthy, FI 9-1617.

In addition to the four-day exhibit, Michigan Week activities will include the traditional exchange of officials between Northville and its 1968 exchange community—Hastings, a Michigan Week luncheon under the sponsorship of the Northville Rotary club, a special Youth Day (May 25) program by the city-township recreation department, clean-up of the Rouge River by

3,000 Spruce Seedlings Carnival to Feature Tree Sale

"Micro-mini Christmas trees for the future" will be the carnival sales pitch at a new booth being planned for the Northville PTA Old-Time Country Fair May 17 at the new Ida B. Cooke junior high school.

Career Night
Slated May 13

Northville parents are reminded of an upcoming occupational careers opportunity program at the high school.

An invitation has been extended to parents, seniors and juniors from the Northville-Novl area to attend the meeting slated for Monday, May 13. It will get underway at 7:30 p.m. in the Northville high school cafeteria.

Colorado blue spruce seedlings will be sold at a booth by the Northville Junior Football league for 10-to-20 cents each, according to size. They will be four-to-eight inches tall and the league expects to have 3,000 to sell. Priced to fit the budgets of even elementary youngsters, the seedlings are expected to be a popular item, but the league has volunteered to purchase any unsold trees.

As is traditional, the fair also will have a junior and senior midway. On the senior midway will be such old-fashioned attractions as huckle-buck, ring-a-cane, roll-a-score and hula hoop.

The carnival committee is enlisting the aid of high school youngsters to man these booths. Other midway features and their sponsors are large ring-a-cane, V.F.W.; hoop-la, Jaycees; polka-dot slide, American Legion; and spill-the-milk, firemen.

On the junior midway will be a fish pond, two ring tosses, make-up, bean bag, bug house, bumper and ping pong toss.

Other booths will sell balloons (regular and helium), cookies, flowers and Polaroid photos. There also will be a country store and a cake walk.

Outside activities will include Pitch-till-You-Win, milk can toss, jumbo barrel toss, basketball toss, putting green and a roller coaster, merry-go-round, ferris wheel, snow cone and cotton candy machines, a coke truck and a hot dog booth.

Spaghetti dinner will be served by Moraine mothers from 4:30 to 8 p.m. with other carnival events in operation from 4:30 to 9:30 p.m.

College to Fete C. E. Woodruff

Ralph J. Cordiner, who will be honored this weekend at dedication ceremonies for Whitman college's Cordiner Hall, will also be one of those recognized by his collegiate fraternity, Phi Delta Theta.

The fraternity's annual Founder's Day observance will be the occasion for presentation of 50-year Golden Legion awards to members of the Whitman chapter initiated 50 years ago. The former chief executive officer of General Electric is one of a dozen eligible this year.

Among those to be recognized are Charles E. Woodruff of Northville.

Tiger outfielders Al Kaline and Willie Horton are the attentive listeners. All three can be seen Saturday afternoon on channel 2 as the Tigers meet the California Angels. Swingin' Time To Feature The Girls, Inc.

Easter vacation for Chris Cogsdill and her four fellow members in an all-girl band, the Girls, Inc., was spent at the Cogsdill home at 47238 Chigwidden in Northville Estates working on original song arrangements.

The Girls, Inc., will be featured on Robin Seymour's Swingin' Time Tuesday, May 7, and Friday, May 10, on CKLW-TV channel 9.

The girls all are high school juniors or seniors in Detroit-area suburban schools. They have been playing together for five months and now are working on their own arrangements.

Chris, the organist, formerly played with boy bands—several in the Plymouth area. A student at Amerman, then at Northville junior high and now a junior at Northville high, Chris has studied organ with Dewey Gardner here and with teachers in Plymouth and Garden City.

Others in the band are Dianne Plemons, bass guitar, and Jean MacEachern, lead guitar, both 17 and Kennedy high seniors in Taylor township; Carol Nemcok, drummer, 16, junior at Ladywood high school and Dearborn resident; and Dustee Carson, lead singer, 17, a junior at Franklin high school, Livonia.

Some of the Girls' past and current bookings include The Club, Monroe; Swanton Colliseum near Toledo; Band Canyon, Bay City; Greens pavilion, Devil's Lake; Roseville Hullabaloo; Tecumseh Teen Center; Blue Light of Midland; Empty-Bottle, Tilbury, Ontario; Rondeau Park, Ontario; Hideaway No. 7, Sarnia, Ontario; Lincoln Park band shell; Crow's Nest, Detroit, and the Detroit Masonic Temple with the ROTC.

ONE OF THE GIRLS is a Northville high school junior, Chris Cogsdill, 47238 South Chigwidden, far left, organist with the all-girl band which plays for club and school dances. The band will be featured on Robin Seymour's Swingin' Time Tuesday, May 7, and Friday, May 10, on CKLW-TV channel 9. Others pictured are Dianne Plemons, Dustee Carson, Jean MacEachern and Carol Nemcok, from near-by suburbs.

In this key scene from "In The Heat of the Night," a Mirisch Corporation presentation, Quentin Dean (in chair) tells police officers' Sidney Poitier and Rod Steiger that she has been assaulted—as her irate brother, played by James Patterson, demands justice! The unusual crime drama is now playing at The Penn and starts Wednesday, May 8 at the P & A.

Water Skiing Thrills On 'Sportsman' Show

What can a person do when he covers an entire State Championship water-skiing competition, and then has his program wiped out by a riot?

It happened to Jerry Chiappetta last July, and he was faced with junking thousands of feet of excellent color film. Screening the action, Chiappetta noted that the up-tight skiers were trying their most complicated tricks, resulting in many a spectacular spill. He edited the tumbles together into a comic feature which will be the highlight of "The Michigan Sportsman" Saturday, May 4 at 6:30 PM on Channel 7.

In this first program after the opening of trout season, Jerry will have six camera crews covering the opening-day action across the state. Jerry and "Michigan Sportsman" reporter Gene Little will combine film from their cameras with that of four free-lance movie-makers from Bay City, Marquette, Kalamazoo and Ludington. This results in what Jerry believes to be the most extensive coverage of trout opening in Michigan TV history.

TV Hits: League-Leading Tigers

Going over program details for a Detroit Tiger telecast is the man who heads up the Tiger television programming, Neal K. Fenkell, and telecasters Larry Osterman and George Kell (l. to r.). Fenkell is well known in the area as a resident of Plymouth.

The front-running Detroit Tigers are hosting their closest competitors (Wednesday and today), the Minnesota Twins, before wrapping up the current home stand against the California Angels with games Friday night, Saturday and Sunday.

This Saturday's game will be televised over WJBK-TV channel 2 beginning at 2 p. m. Next week Telecasters George Kell and Larry Osterman will be on the job for three games, Wednesday night from Baltimore, Thursday night from Washington and again from Washington Saturday afternoon.

A special "awards" night will precede this Friday's game at Tiger stadium involving six Tiger players.

Tom Matchick will receive a trophy for being named as the All Star shortstop in the nations' Triple A leagues as a member of the Toledo nine last year.

Joe Sparma will be honored as the "graduate of the year" by the American Amateur Baseball Congress.

Willie Horton will be given the Liberty Bell Award by the Detroit Bar Association and a personal portrait by Sports Scene magazine.

Catcher Bill Freehan will be given the "Tiger of the Year" award by the Detroit Baseball Writers Association, as well as a "Gold Glove" trophy as a member of the All Star best fielding team in the American League.

Earl Wilson and Al Kaline will receive plaques as members of the American League All Star team and Kaline will also receive a "Gold Glove" trophy. It is the tenth time, out of a possible 11, that Kaline has been given the "Gold Glove" award for his outstanding fielding.

A special guest at Friday night's game in Tiger stadium will be Joseph Cronin, president of the American League. He'll present a special award to Kaline for playing in 2,000 big league games. Kaline reached the 2,000-game mark last week. His entire big league career has been as a member of the Tigers.

Also taking part in the awards' program will be former Tigers Steve Gromek, Billy Bruton, Vic Wertz and George Kell.

The awards' ceremonies begin at 7:45 p.m. and the game at 8 p.m. Saturday's game starts at 2:15 p.m. and Sunday's at 1:30 p.m.

He Keeps 'College Bowl' Rolling

Learn by Reading...

Ivan Ludington, sponsor of the "English in Every Classroom" project for non-readers, will be a featured guest on Channel 50's Lou Gordon Program, Sunday, May 12, at 10 P.M.

Mr. Ludington, president of the nation's largest news distributing firm, and Dr. Daniel Fader, author of Hooked on Books, will explain the basic philosophy of their program—"Let them read anything as long as they read." Mr. Ludington has donated an unlimited supply of magazines and paperback books to 133 schools in the Detroit area alone. The program, designed to help children whose built-in distaste for books handicaps them in almost every area of life, has been a phenomenal success in its two years of operation.

...Or by Singing

There are many ways to learn about other countries. One is through the native songs. An elementary school choir director shows how her students learn about other countries by singing Music Round The World, to be presented Sunday, May 5, at 11 A.M. on WJBK-TV 2.

Miss Joan Knoertzer, director of the U-M Festival of Song, conducts the John Allen Elementary School Choir on this musical world tour. To bring the choir up to performance level, Miss Knoertzer rehearses the children in the more difficult sections of each song, pointing out to them the intricate rhythms and translating phrases from foreign language songs so that they will have more meaning for the choir.

The choir sings "Early One Morning" from England; "Du Du Liegst Mir Im Herzen" from Germany; "Meadowlands" from Czechoslovakia; "Don Gato" from Mexico; and several other selections. Music Round The World is produced by the University of Michigan Television Center.

Robert Earle, the only permanent cast member of NBC Television Network's "G-E College Bowl" color series (Sundays, 5:30-6 p.m.) maintains a modest opinion of his important role.

As moderator of the series, he keeps the intercollegiate game of questions-and-answers moving at a fast pace, and his interpretation of the role has earned him high praise from viewers and critics alike. Yet, Earle insists that he has little to do with making it a good show. "Actually," he says, "I'm the person who asks the questions. The youngsters (student members of the competing teams) who give the answers are the ones who make the show. In fact, they are the stars."

Earle made his TV network debut as moderator of "G-E College Bowl" Sept. 23, 1962 after 16 years experience as a broadcaster, college teacher and communications specialist. He was born in Baldwin, L. I. N.Y., Jan. 5, 1926. After completing high school, he enlisted in the Navy. He served as a radio operator, an amphibious warfare specialist in the Pacific, and what he describes as "probably the first disc jockey on Pavuvu," an island north of Guadalcanal.

After his Navy duty, Earle enrolled at Mohawk College, Utica, N.Y., and also began his broadcasting career when he obtained a part-time job as a radio announcer. He received a B.A. in English in 1951 from Utica College or Syracuse University—where he later was honored (1964) when the College named him its "Alumnus of the Year."

In 1953, Earle was appointed assistant professor and chairman of the Radio and Television Department of Ithaca College (N.Y.). He resigned from that position in 1959 to become a communications and community relations specialist with the General Electric Company at the Advanced Electronics Center, Cornell University. In 1961 he was promoted to manager, Data Communication and Community Programs. In addition to his current role on "G-E College Bowl," Earle also does educational films and commercial work for General Electric and recently started doing the voice part of various TV commercial messages.

Earle was married to Marion Hanna of Utica on March 29, 1948. They live in Ithaca with their four children, Brian, 18; March, 16; Thomas, 14; and Mary, 5.
