

Parade, Services To Honor War Dead

Northville city officials will join local veterans in Northville's annual Memorial Day parade at 9:30 a.m. Thursday as the community plans to participate in the 100th Memorial Day observance.

Speculating that it is one of the oldest annual parades in Michigan, Walter Sousa, who is in charge of VFW parade arrangements, says a "Memorial Day parade has been held in Northville as long as anybody can remember."

The parade will form in the Kroger parking lot at 9 a.m. with the Northville high school band, members of VFW Post 4012 and the American Legion Lloyd H. Green post 147 participating. Sousa said cars will be available for any veterans unable to walk. Local boy and girl scout troops also are to march.

Pat Foley, the commander of the department of Michigan Veterans of Foreign Wars, will be guest speaker at the ceremonies in Rural Hill cemetery, which follow the parade.

Pamela Smith, Voice of Democracy contest winner, will read her winning entry at the cemetery ceremony. The invocation and benediction will be offered by the Reverend George Jerome, Northville state hospital chaplain.

After the ceremonies the parade will re-form and march back to the American Legion home where youngsters will receive ice cream donated by the Northville Downs.

Originally conceived in 1868 to honor men who had died in the Civil War, the Memorial Day observance now remembers those who died in the Spanish-American war, World Wars I and II and the Korean and Vietnamese war.

Most Northern States observe it on May 30 but Southern States have their own days for honoring the Confederate dead, ranging from April 26 through June 3.

The original observance was said to be a southern one with some southern women choosing May 30 to decorate graves of both Union and Confederate soldiers. It is believed that a Virginia woman, Cassandra Moncure, was largely responsible and that she chose the May 30 date as, of French origin, she knew this as the French "Day of the Ashes" commemorating the day of the return of Napoleon's remains to France.

Although the earliest Memorial Day observances locally are not on record, it is certain that Northville as well as the state was involved in the Civil War from early in 1861.

A copy of the official state history of the war, "Michigan in the War," compiled by Jno. Robertson and printed in 1882, relates that, when war was declared, the president called upon the state to furnish a regiment. It was estimated that $100,000 would be required and since the treasury could not supply this sum, it was raised by public subscription.

Many Northville names appear early on the subscription list, including A. S.

Lapham and Co., Sol. Gardner, Robert Blackwood, J. C. Nevins, J. P. Donaldson, W. C. Gardner, W. T. Johnson, F. Barrett and Samuel White, who contributed amounts ranging from $50 to $500.

The historic book is the possession of Dr. Russell Atchison.

The Northville Record

IF IT'S NEWS...AND IT HAPPENS IN NORTHVILLE...YOU CAN READ IT IN THE RECORD

Vol. 99, No. 3, 30 Pages, Three Sections • Northville, Michigan - Wednesday, May 29, 1968 • 10¢ Per Copy, $4 Per Year In Advance

CHAMBER HONORS—Four charter board members of the Northville Community Chamber of Commerce were presented special plaques in recognition of their service Tuesday night at the annual membership meeting.

Chamber President Dempsey Ebert made the presentations to (l. to r.) Thomas Quinn, Mrs. Margaret Zayti, John Carlo and Howard Atwood. Seated are Robert Webber, Carl Pursell and the Reverend and Mrs. Lloyd Brasure.

Pursell, president of the Plymouth Chamber of Commerce, was the speaker. The membership also elected three directors: David Biery, Arthur Jahn and Fred McLean.

Recreation Plans Begin For Fish Hatchery Site

A check for $16,375 from the city of Northville is on its way to the General Services Administration for purchase of the 13.5-acre federally-owned fish hatchery site on Seven Mile road.

The Northville city council put its official approval on the transaction last week. But councilmembers had some trouble deciding whether or not the check should be for twice that amount.

Councilman Wallace Nichols and Mayor A. M. Allen were reluctant to take advantage of the half-price offer. Mayor Allen finally relented, but Councilman Nichols cast a negative vote in the 4-1 decision.

The site must be used for recreational purposes under the terms of the half-price purchase agreement. Mayor Allen predicted that part of the site might one day be needed for governmental buildings. Councilman Nichols stated flatly that he opposed joint ownership with the federal government.

Under the terms of a proposal sent to GSA by the city the property will be confined to recreational use for the community and can be controlled by the recreation department.

Councilman Del Black, who also serves on the recreation commission, argued strongly for the half-price purchase. It was also recommended by the city manager.

Perhaps the clincher in Black's argument was the fact that if the city now withdrew its application to buy at half price, the procedure would have to begin all over again. New approval would be needed from congress and new appraisals on the property's worth would be required.

Black also argued that application could be made to alter the use, perhaps to include governmental facilities, at a later date. He also pointed out that the city could, if necessary, pay the remaining half and acquire the property outright in the future.

This week City Manager Frank Ollendorff said he expected to receive the deed to the property shortly. He added that work would begin on improving the site for recreation so that it could be used this summer.

In other business last week the council approved its 1968-69 budget of $802,680 calling for a 3.8-mill tax increase.

The budget was defended by Manager Ollendorff after a letter from a former city councilman, John Canterbury, was read opposing the hike. Four citizens in the audience also questioned the boost.

In his letter Canterbury commended the council on doing a fine job, but added: "I fear that you may be trying to do too good a job of providing for the needs of our citizens...or, to put it more precisely, you are apparently trying to do too much in too little time."

"It is up to your excellent manager to propose—but it is up to you, the council, to dispose. I very earnestly appeal to you...to find a way tonight to reduce your proposed tax levy a meaningful degree," Canterbury's letter concluded.

The proposed budget expenditures were also questioned by Peter Gross, Art Adams, Robert Strack and Sidney Frid.

Manager Ollendorff defended the budget noting that it contained a revenue increase of $97,000 of which all but $20,000 would be needed to meet the need for new employees and salary increases. He said capital outlay had been restricted and some services, such as sidewalk snow removal, eliminated.

He was supported by his council, which indicated it had studied the budget "more than 30 hours", and was ready to give it unanimous approval.

In final action the council voted 4-0 (Councilman Charles Lapham was permitted to abstain) against approving a request for transfer of the liquor license of the Northville Restaurant and Bar, 113 West Main street. An investigation by Northville police revealed the husband of the applicant had been convicted of a gambling charge.

New County District Plan Attracts Host of Candidates

If the present plan for apportioning Wayne county into 26 voting districts to elect a county board of supervisors survives the challenges it faces in court, Northville will be a part of district 26 with a population of about 100,000.

That population includes voters in Plymouth, Livonia, Northville, and part of Canton township.

(For a complete analysis of the reapportionment plans in Wayne and Oakland counties, together with stories on the jangled terms of office for township officials, see Page 3-B).

The new elective office and the new voting district should present a husky challenge to any local candidate seeking a seat on the board. At the moment, several area men have indicated an interest in running for office in District 26. They include Livonia Mayor Harvey W. Moelke, Plymouth Councilman Arch Vallier, Livonia Council President Edward McNamara, and Plymouth Chamber of Commerce President Carl Pursell. Neither Mayor A. M. Allen of Northville and Northville Township Supervisor Gunnar Stromberg have voiced interest in the position.

The plan won approval more than a year ago from the men who sat on the reapportionment commission. It was in limbo until Supreme Court action set the reapportionment machinery in motion a few weeks ago.

The men who sat on the commission and who voted for the plan included the Wayne county prosecuting attorney, treasurer, clerk, and chairman of the Wayne county Republican party, Henry Sladek.

The chairman of the Wayne county Democrats, David Lebenbom, also a member of the commission, voted against the plan.

Since the 4-1 vote in favor of the present 26-district plan, deadlines for offering alternate plans to the Michigan Court of Appeals have expired. The plan is now being tested in circuit court by the mayor of Dearborn Heights, John Canfield. Canfield reportedly charges that the plan does meet the legal requirements.

Joseph Branigin, Wayne county clerk, told this newspaper Monday that in his opinion the plan is fair, does meet the legal requirements and is the best plan developed to meet the requirements.

The plan was developed by election workers under the clerk's jurisdiction. During the time it was being considered it was described as "the clerk's plan." Branigin denies any claim to authorship for the districting plan. He gives credit for the work to his election's staff, who, Branigin said, did an excellent job in mapping districts of near equal population while meeting the

Meeting Changed

Because of the June 10 election, the Northville board of education has scheduled its next regular meeting for Tuesday, June 11.

The board meets in its offices in the old junior high school at 7:30 p.m.

54-Night Meet Opens Thursday

'Biggest Season' Seen for Downs

Harness racing moves to Northville Downs Thursday night to open a season that Executive Manager John Carlo expects to be the biggest ever in the 25-year history of the Northville track.

Night pari-mutuel harness racing was pioneered in Michigan at Northville Downs beginning in 1944.

The 1968 season will provide 54 nights of racing ending July 31.

The silver anniversary opening on Memorial Day is expected to set an opening night record, providing good weather prevails.

Last year the track opened to a crowd of 2,920 fans who wagered $211,701.

Carlo is looking beyond opening night to a record season. He points out that last year the track lost five nights of racing—four because of the curfew and one due to heavy rains.

"If we race every night and get any break at all in the weather, we should have the biggest meet ever," Carlo predicted. He points out that tracks across the country are up in mutual handle, some as much as 25 per cent. Wolverine Raceway, which closes its season tonight (Wednesday), is up seven per cent in betting.

"We should average $300,000 nightly," Carlo stated. Last year betting at the Downs averaged $282,847 per night.

An average handle of $300,000 would bring smiles to the faces of Northville city officials. The general fund would receive $175,000 in rebates from the state.

Activity at the Northville track began perking up Monday as horses moved into Downs' barn facilities. Altogether 1,000 horses are expected for the meet with 700 actually housed at the Downs.

Two of the biggest events planned for the 1968 meet are the 13th renewal of the Michigan Trotting Derby slated for July 10 for an estimated purse of $16,000, and the 14th Michigan Pacing Derby for $16,000 on July 25.

Post time is 8:30 p.m.

Reception Set for Smith

A community reception for Harry Smith, who is retiring at the end of this school year as principal of Main street elementary school, will be held at the community building (former junior high gymnasium) on Main street from 7 to 10 p.m. next Thursday, June 6.

Present Main street parents, parents who have had children in Smith's school, friends and pupils of years ago all are invited to attend the punch reception. It is being arranged by P-TA mothers under the direction of Mrs. Keith Wright.

Smith first joined the Northville school system as a high school teacher in 1937. He was called to active service during World War II, returning to become high school math teacher and driver education instructor. He later was athletic instructor.

He assumed his present post as Main street principal in 1955.

An Army reserve officer ever since his graduation from Michigan State university, Smith attained the rank of full colonel in the Army and has retired at that rank after 31 years' service.

In July Mr. and Mrs. Smith plan to move to Cape Coral, Florida, where they have purchased a home.

See Candidates Tuesday Night

The seven candidates who are running for two four-year posts on the Northville board of education will be presented in a "Meet Your Candidates" program sponsored by the P-TAs of Northville's five schools at 8 p.m. Tuesday, June 4, in the board meeting room (old junior high library) on West Main street.

Candidates invited to speak are Eugene K. Cook, incumbent and currently board president; Robert E. Deisley, Reginald D. Holloman, Roger E. Rinaldi, Dr. Orlo J. Robinson, John J. Searles and Robert A. Stenger.

Representatives from the Northville Senior and Junior high P-TAs and from Moraine, Amerman and Main street elementaries will be hosts

Ex-Northville Man Weds in New York

Dalice Frances Haug and Charles Conrad Yost exchanged vows in a double-ring ceremony Saturday, April 27, in The Methodist Church of Floral Park, New York.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Eugene F. Haug of Floral Park, and the bridegroom's parents are Mr. and Mrs. Peter F. Yost of Plymouth, formerly of Northville.

The Reverend Richard Guice officiated at the ceremony.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore a white peau de soie gown with a panel train, both applique with Swiss cotton lace. Her silk illusion veil was fastened by a seed pearl crown, and she carried a bouquet of Stephanotis with an orchid center.

Mrs. Steven Weber of Wakarusa, Kansas was maid of honor for her sister. The bridesmaids were Karen Ann Haug of Ozone Park, New York and Mary Frances Yost of Plymouth. All wore floor length buttercup yellow linen dresses with chiffon trains and carried bouquets of multi-colored spring flowers.

James Peter Yost of Jackson was his brother's best man, and the guests were seated by ushers William Harper Yost of Plymouth, George Eckhardt of Staten Island, New York, and junior ushers Donald Henry Haug of Floral Park and Edward Allen Haug of Ozone Park, New York.

Mrs. Haug chose a mint green linen dress with lace insets, and Mrs. Yost wore a beige sheath embroidered in white.

The reception was held in the New Hyde Park Inn, New York. After honeymooning in Bermuda, the couple are now residing in Westland.

The new Mrs. Yost is a graduate of the Methodist Hospital School of Nursing in Brooklyn and will begin her duties on the staff of St. Mary Hospital in June. Her husband, a Navy veteran, studied at Cleary college and is now in management training at Chrysler corporation in Dearborn.

DAR to Present Student Awards

The annual awards given by the Sarah Ann Cochran chapter, Daughters of the American Revolution, to the high school student and the eighth graders who have done excellent work in American history will be presented this year at local school assemblies.

The Medal of Merit award was to be presented to Pamela Witzke, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur E. Witzke, by Miss Florence Keith, a Northville teacher and DAR member, at an assembly dinner Tuesday, May 28. Pamela is a junior at Northville high school.

A Certificate of Recognition is to be awarded to Peter Kunst, son of Mr. and Mrs. Eugene S. Kunst, June 8 at Our Lady of Victory school.

Lois Rodenbeck, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Egon H. Rodenbeck, will receive a Certificate of Recognition at St. Paul's Lutheran school June 6.

Three Northville junior high students will be honored with Certificates of Recognition at the Cooke junior high assembly June 11. They are Guy Dixon, son of Mr. and Mrs. Sanford Dixon; Randy LeFevre, son of Mr. and Mrs. Ryerson LeFevre; and Peter Bedford, son of Mr. and Mrs. Michael Bedford.

A BARREL OF ANTIQUE goods is being filled for Northville's first flea market to be held June 5 on Main street by Miss Eleanor Lowell, market chairman, left, Mrs. Catherine Hartley and Walter Carroll, who plan to have booths at the all-day event. (See in Our Town.)

News Around Northville

Mrs. Carl Johnson of 800 West Main street is in Atlanta, Georgia, this week attending the grand opening of a new Horne's motel and restaurant. She is merchandise manager for Greyhound corporation, which owns and operates the 75 Horne units and 137 Greyhound depots throughout the United States.

Mrs. Doris Maltby of Marilyn road attended the Woman's National bowling congress tournament in San Antonio, Texas, earlier this month. She bowls on the Detroit woman's all-stars team and is a Northville Lanes employee.

As the Northville high school play, "Bye Bye Birdie," was presented last Friday and Saturday evenings for the second and concluding weekend, it was apparent that the students had a "solid hit" that was compared favorably to professional productions.

Among those in the community who helped with the two-act musical comedy was Millie Turnbull, a local resident who has a dance studio and who donated her talents for the musical portion of the show.

About 200 Northville high school seniors and their dates attended "Midsummer Night's Dream," the senior class dinner dance last Thursday evening, May 23, at the Raleigh House on Telegraph road.

School administration officials were special guests of the evening. Bob Duran's orchestra played for dancing. Folk-singer-comedian Ron Coden entertained.

Chuck Frogner, senior in charge of arrangements, said the event was considered a "tremendous success" and high school officials hope it can be repeated for next year's senior class.

A Northville resident, Ron Jennings, who is serving as president of the Detroit Dairy Technology, arranged a tour of the food laboratories and other branches of the Dairy Technology association with Dr. H. Harman of Michigan State university for the meeting of the Dairy Technology Association of Michigan at Kellogg Center in Lansing May 21.

NORTHVILLE'S Main street from Center to Hutton will be closed to regular traffic next Wednesday, June 5, as it becomes "the scene" of an antique-and-arts flea market sponsored by the Northville retail merchants association.

About 25 antique dealers have taken booths for this Northville "first." There also will be 10 arts and crafts booths at which demonstrations of silk screening and furniture antiques will be features.

A successful outdoor activity in other communities (Rochester held one last Saturday), the flea market is under the chairmanship of Eleanor Lowell of the Barn Door antique shop.

There will be no admission charge, but proceeds from the sale of booths and from popcorn machine profits will be used for the annual Santa's workshop and for downtown Christmas decorations. The market will be open from 9:30 a.m. to 9 p.m. In event of rain, it will be postponed a day to June 6.

Because the market is outdoors, events scheduled are under "weather control." But unless winds are too strong the silk screen demonstration will be given by Margaret Cramer, a professional artist whose works have been on display at the Hartley Gallery for several years.

The furniture antiques demonstration will be given at Stone's Gamble store booth by Joanne Gasaway of Livonia.

All in-town antique dealers will have their wares out. Assisting in the market is one of the newcomers, Walter Carroll of the Littlest Gallery.

LONDON antiques may be on display at the Barn Door booth as co-owner Mrs. Harold Thomas is expected from England this week. She has been on a shopping tour of London and its environs with two Detroit-area dealers and already has shipped a pine cupboard. Only the "pack-with" antiques that she brings in her suitcase are expected in time for the market, of course.

Mrs. Verne Magee, whose Stone Celler shop is on North Center street, has just returned from an Eastern trip with her mother. Mrs. Magee's family has operated Schmidts Antiques in Ypsilanti for many years; so she is familiar with eastern "shopping" spots. Many of this trip's items came from the Rochester, New York, region. Mrs. Arlyn Reilly, whose shop is the Main street Emporium, also is just back. She and her husband really went to Florida on vacation but also managed to shop enroute.

FALL FABRIC showings took Mr. and Mrs. Fred W. McLean to New York City last week. With friends, Mr. and Mrs. Eugene Karrer, they also made it a pleasure trip, staying at the Waldorf and seeing "Mame" as well as the new Radio City Music Hall show, a tribute to Irving Berlin.

They also viewed three floors of fabrics and notions at the Sheraton-Atlantic and report it will be a "feminine fall" with much lace trim and also a season of vinyl-that-really-seems-like-leather. (It will be easy for home sewers to work with, predicts Fred McLean.)

MORaine Elementary PTA President Mrs. Edward C. Kelly, Jr., is taking first action as new president today. She is hostess for a coffee this afternoon at her Brookland Farms home at which the retiring executive board of Moraine PTA will honor Mrs. Robert Bogart.

Ginny Bogart retired as Moraine's first PTA president last Thursday. She was honored at the school PTA program both by the PTA and by the school staff, who presented her with a photographic record of her son's activities. Now her board is organizing "thank you" for her year of organizational work. To give time needed for setting up a parent organization at the new school she resigned from her other club and social activities. At the presentation, Principal Milton Jacobi said her hours of effort have made the PTA a "going organization" that accomplished 23 projects during the year.

In assuming the top Moraine parent post, Mrs. Kelly also is clearing her calendar. She has resigned as head of educational volunteer services for Northville for the Michigan Cancer society, but has promised to help whenever she can.

HERE AND THERE: This - and every - Memorial Day has a unique personal meaning for Dr. Russell Atchison and his family. Colonel John McCrae who wrote the verse, "In Flanders fields the poppies blow--", was a cousin of Dr. Atchison's.

Dr. Atchison has a framed copy in Colonel McCrae's handwriting of the famous verse. It originally was given to a nurse who later presented it to Dr. Atchison. Colonel McCrae, a Canadian doctor, also was the nephew of Mrs. R. E. Atchison of Wing street.

After the poem gained world-wide popularity the poppy was adopted as the flower in the annual Poppy Day sale, which was sponsored locally by the Northville VFW last Thursday to raise money for needy and disabled veterans.

FIRST PAINTINGS of a local adult art class in oils will be on display in the Northville library for two weeks beginning this Saturday.

Add to the list of parent school helpers: Mrs. Constance Barnes, Mrs. Joanne Keys and Mr. and Mrs. Eugene Otewnik. The four will chaperone the approximately 80 Northville high school seniors who will be leaving at 4 a.m. Memorial Day for New York City by bus. In NYC they will be accompanying the seniors to "Hello Dolly," Lincoln Center, Staton Island, etc.

ANKARA, Turkey, will be visited next month by Dr. and Mrs. Omer K. Sonbay and their four children on a three-week vacation. As Turkey is Dr. Sonbay's native land, the trip will include visits with family and friends. This will be the first time three of the children will have seen their Turkish family.

Moraine Pupils Spruce Up Homes, School in Contest

The grounds of Moraine elementary school were picked as clean as a putting green last week as the various classrooms competed for prizes in a contest as to which room could collect the most paper, stones, bottles, and other litter from the area.

The homes of children in the school's service area also came in for some attention as the contest was extended and credit given for work done at home. It was a part of the Clean-up, Fix-Up campaign. Parents were involved by having to sign check off sheets of work performed to enter the homework in the contest.

At the end of the clean-up work, the administration rewarded the youngsters with a surprise ice-cream treat. Mrs. Cynthia Pringle's fourth-grade room took down first prize for collecting the most trash. Mrs. Diane Hedeman's third-grade group was second, while Mrs. Mary Jane Honecker's kindergarten group finished third.

about Women and the family

Frank Cochran Feted at Dinner

Frank Cochran, first employee to retire under the Northville school district retirement allowance system, was honored by 150 friends, neighbors, fellow workers and old acquaintances at a retirement dinner Saturday evening in the Junior high school cafeteria.

Cochran, who lives with his wife at 626 Thayer boulevard, has been with the Northville schools for 21 years and was superintendent of buildings and grounds at his retirement.

A Northville resident for 50 years, he first served as a school custodian at the old high school for nine years. Cochran, who will celebrate his 70th birthday next month, plans to remain a Northville resident.

Among those present to honor him at the banquet were his daughter, Mrs. Dwight (Marlene) Miller, and her husband. Others included former Northville schools superintendent Russell Amerman, who had just returned from a Rotary International convention in Mexico; Mrs. Ida B. Cooke, Fred Stefanski, Elroy Ellison; and present board of education members, Robert Froelich, Eugene Cook and Andrew Orphan.

Cochran was honored also with the surprise presentation of a religious picture and a purse.

Historical Society Elects Jack Hoffman

Northville Historical society elected Jack Hoffman, The Northville Record editor, as its president at the final meeting of the season May 21.

Other new officers are Mrs. W. H. Canfield, vice-president; Mrs. Hurd Sutherland, secretary; Mrs. William Crump, treasurer. Elected to the board of directors were Mrs. Jack Scantlin, Mrs. Catherine Hartley and Mrs. Rhea Wilcox.

The club met earlier than usual and at 8 p.m. went to the community building to view Michigan Week displays, including the society's own.

Members also held a sneak preview of the new filmstrip of the old Northville library building, the Wing street structure now housing Northville township offices. The filmstrip is in process of being completed professionally for the purpose of trying to save the library building. The project is under chairmanship of Francis Gazlay.

Plans also were made to have a float in the Fourth of July parade.

Next meeting will be September 17 with everyone interested in historical Northville invited.

Piano Students To Give Recital

Piano students of Mrs. Leland Mills will be presented in a recital at 7:30 p.m. Tuesday, June 4, in the Northville First Methodist church.

The program will include compositions by contemporary American composers as well as standard works. A concert arrangement of Greig's Piano Concerto in A Minor will be played by Dorothy Shipley. Wendy Wheaton will play "Malaguena" by Lacuona.

Piano solos also will be played by Jill Angle, John and Muriel Bedford, Bruce, Clark and Susan Edwards, Ann Frogner, Martha Gazlay, Kathy Hixon, Mary Hubbard, Shannon Lovett, Sandy Perry, Julia and Mark McDaniel, Marna Owen, Lisa Willis and Beverly Wistert.

The public, as well as family and friends of participants, is invited to attend.

King's Mill

'Weather-cooperating,' Kings Mill Townhouse residents will dive into their new, heated pool tomorrow. Open swimming is scheduled from 1 to 6 p.m. Memorial Day with an adults-only splash party and buffet to begin at 6 p.m.

In event of rainy weather, the party will be held on the next nice day of the weekend.

Fashions for Father, the style show to provide Father's Day gift ideas, will be held at the poolside at 8 p.m. Monday, June 3, Del's shoe store and Lapham's men's store will show fashions. Dewey Gardner of Lila's Flowers is supplying both background decorations and organ music for the show.

Kings Mill Mothers' club will hold its June business meeting at 1 p.m. Wednesday, June 5, at the clubhouse. The newly-organized group of young townhouse mothers has been meeting twice a month.

CONSERVATIONISTS—Fifth grade youngsters at Amerman elementary school, combined the study of conservation, observation of Michigan Week, and a trip to the nature center at Kensington Park and then put into practice some of their new found information by planting violets around the school.

In addition, they found the study so much fun that they reinforced it by making display posters on the subject of conservation and dipped into the class treasury to purchase a subscription to a national wildlife magazine for the school library.

Over Memorial Weekend

Kent Park Braces for Opening

A wide variety of recreation, including swimming, will be available at Kensington Metropolitan Park, a 4,300 acre site near Milford, over the four-day holiday from Memorial Day, Thursday, May 30 through Sunday, June 2.

Martindale and Maple Beaches will also offer swimming during the week-end of June 8-9. Daily operations for the 1968 summer season will begin on Saturday, June 15. Swimming is permitted only when lifeguards are on duty and only at Martindale and Maple Beach sites along Kent Lake. Oakland county health department laboratory tests the water weekly to insure it is safe for swimming.

Beach sites have large lots for parking, well-kept grounds for rest and relaxation, sandy beaches, food service, first aid stations, heated showers, dressing rooms, restrooms, coin-operated lockers for clothes checking. The showers and dressing rooms are free, however, there is a 25-cent charge for the use of coin-operated lockers.

Over 11 large picnic areas are provided throughout the park, all with stoves and tables and many also have shelters and play equipment. Groups of 50 or more persons should register at the park office, although no picnic reservations are accepted. Thus park rangers know where large picnic groups can be found should emergencies develop or other persons are seeking a group.

A popular attraction with many visitors is the "Island Queen", a replica of an old Mississippi Riverboat, which makes 45-minute tours around Kent Lake from noon through 6 p.m. daily. Over 200,000 persons have enjoyed the water cruises since the Island Queen started its Kent Lake cruises in 1958. Charges are 50 cents for adults and 25 cents for children under 12.

Golfers can test their skill at the 6,400-yard, 18-hole Par 71 golf course. Family groups find many interesting exhibits at the Nature Center and on self-guided hikes along the Nature Trails. Bluegills, crappies and bass inhabit Kent Lake one of the most popular fishing sites in southeastern Michigan. Fishermen may use the boat launching ramps or the rental craft available at the Boat Rental Building at nominal charges. Motors are limited to 7 1/2 horsepower on rental boats and there is a maximum speed limit of 10 miles per hour on Kent Lake. No water skiing is permitted. Gasoline and bait are not available at the park.

Kensington Metropolitan Park, which marks 20 years of service on Memorial Day, is one of eight recreation sites developed and maintained by the Huron-Clinton Metropolitan Authority, a five-county regional park agency serving the counties of Livingston, Macomb, Oakland, Washtenaw and Wayne.

The HCMA parks include Metropolitan Beach near Mr. Clemens, Stony Creek Metropolitan Park near Utica, Marshbank Metropolitan Park near Pontiac, Kensington Metropolitan Park near Milford, Lower Huron Metropolitan Park near Belleville and Delhi, Dexter-Huron and Hudson Mills Metropolitan Parks near Ann Arbor.

A free map showing the location and facilities of all HCMA parks is available by writing to METROPARK GUIDE, Huron-Clinton Metropolitan Authority, 1750 Guardian Building, Detroit, Michigan, 48226, or phone 961-5865 (Detroit).

GREET ROCKEFELLER—On hand to greet New York's Governor Nelson Rockefeller as he appeared to address the Economic Club of Detroit was William McLaughlin and E. O. Weber (center), both of Northville, who are alternate delegates to the National Republican convention. McLaughlin also is first vice-president of the Michigan Republican party and Weber is chairman of the Wayne county portion of the Second Congressional district. "Governor Rockeefeller was most impressive as well as candid," said Weber. "He's probably aided his candidacy, although the Michigan delegation is, of course, committed to Governor Romney, as its favorite son, on the first ballot."

Interrupts ABC Service

Novi Water Main Ruptures

The critical importance of water for industry surfaced during a council meeting last week Tuesday when Village Manager Harold Ackley informed council members of ruptures to a water main on Nine Mile road that supplies the ABC Photo plant.

Interruption of service caused interruptions of production at the plant, which processes film for a large number of retail stations in Michigan and Ohio. Ackley described a plan for extension of a water main that would include a loop to permit an alternate flow into the plant if one main should have to be shut down for service for housing development that will occur in areas south of the plant, Ackley said.

The council approved Ackley's request to have the village engineer prepare plans for the extended water main and the loop to insure a constant supply of water to the plant.

Novi Township Justice of the Peace Emory Jacques was in the audience at the meeting last Tuesday, the day after Novi citizens voted in favor of the city form of government for Novi. A discussion of how the village could avoid paying twice for justice court services on cases turned over to Jacques from former Justice of the Peace Robert Anderson focused on a problem of how to handle old cases. It was noted that in some cases transferred from Anderson's court sufficient time had elapsed so that there might be a question involving statutes of time limitations.

In previous meetings council members had expressed concern about a statement of billing from Anderson that sought payment for all the cases turned over to Jacques for final processing.

Bond informed the council that he had met with Anderson and had prepared a master check-off list so that payment could be in accord with the rate at which the cases are completed.

Jacques and Bond agreed to meet to review the master list and make some determination about the cases of long tenure.

First Church of Christ Holds Dedication Services

First Church of Christ, Scientist, Plymouth, held two services on Sunday, May 26, in dedication of the church edifice at 1100 West Ann Arbor Trail. The first service was held at the regular hour of 10:30 a.m., and the second at 4:00 p.m. Many out-of-town guests were present at both.

Earl J. Philip, First Reader, read a letter from the Christian Science Board of Directors in Boston, which said in part: "On this joyous day of dedication, you meet together to praise God for the light of the Christ—the ideal of man's sonship with the Father—which has touched your hearts, bringing healing and regeneration into your lives. As workers in the Father's vineyard, you have the opportunity, through this loved branch of The Mother Church, to spread the truths of Christian Science in your community day by day...May you feel assured of our good wishes and sincere interest in the fruitage of your work. Faithfully yours, The Christian Science Board of Directors."

Mr. Philip then read a brief resume of Christian Science history in Plymouth, concluding:

"A Christian Science church may be dedicated only when free of debt. It is my privilege to announce that this church is now free of debt, and is hereby formally dedicated on May 26, 1968."

Plymouth's original Christian Science church, on the site of the present City Hall, was Michigan's first church of this denomination erected expressly as a church. It was built in 1903. The present church was occupied in 1958.

About Boy Scouts

Last Saturday with fair weather once again gracing their efforts the Boy Scouts of Troop 731, sponsored by the First Methodist Church of Northville, took part in the annual "Rouge River Clean-Up."

Kurt D. Kinde Wins Honors

Kurt David Kinde, 139 West Dunlap, has been named to the Dean's List at Western Michigan university for outstanding academic performance.

To qualify for the honors title, a student must maintain a 3.5 grade point average on a 4.0 scale while enrolled in at least 14 hours.

Four Plymouth area students also were named to the list. They are: William M. Arnold, 45300 North Territorial; Sally Ann McKenzie, 11469 Haggerty road; Nancy Ann Miller, 11021 Haggerty road; and Wendy Gladys Stokes, 12731 Beck road.

NORTHVILLE LODGE NO. 186
F. & A.M.

Regular Meeting Second Monday

Herbert Famuliner, W.M.
R. F. Coolman, Sec.

Leaving home bright and early with words of encouragement ringing in their ears, such as Dads' "Hurry home so you can mow the lawn", Moms' "Don't get your feet wet", and Sisters' "Did you have to make so much noise", the boys rendezvoused with the Northville J.C.'s and embarked in trucks to their starting point.

The boys approached their formidable task with great gusto, which was only slightly diminished when they set foot in the icy water.

After working for about three hours a halt was called to give the boys a chance to dry out, and an impromptu baseball game was started with a bat and ball found in the river.

At this point, because of the unusual depth and cold temperature of the river, Scoutmaster, Andrew Pelt, decided to curtail the work schedule, and the group adjourned to partake of a sumptuous lunch prepared for them by Girl Scout Troop 371, with an able assist from Girl Scout Troop 407. A large vote of thanks to the girls and their leaders for a job well done.

Following lunch the boys and girls played baseball, after which they disbanded, concluding a very successful work day which turned out to be a fun day.

DEUTSCH ONLY - Visitors to the German House for women on Albion college's campus receive fair warning before they enter that "Deutsch" is the only language spoken within. The "German only" rule is a special treat for Heidi Christiansen (right), a native German from Hamburg, who serves the house as both a house-mother and as a teacher. Talking with Miss Christiansen is Jo Hildebrand, an Albion college senior majoring in German. Miss Hildebrand, who lives in the German House, is the daughter of Ardyce E. Hildebrand, 17071 Franklin road.

Northville Planners Approve Zoning Change Requests

Two rezoning requests involving existing businesses received unanimous approval of the Northville planning commission last week Tuesday.

They included: property of Mr. and Mrs. Harvey P. Ritchie (Northville Laundry), located on the west side of Center street, 350 feet north of Randolph; and property of Sidney and Cyril Frid, located at the southwest corner of Main street and Park Place.

The former, rezoned from C-2 (general commercial) to C-1 (local business), will permit enlargement of the laundry for vehicle loading and unloading near the rear, while the latter provides for the rebuilding and enlargement of the Gulf Oil company service station now located at the corner.

The Frid zoning change went uncontested, but the other zoning request met opposition from James Cutler, who argued the zoning change constituted "spot zoning".

Ritchie, a member of the commission, excused himself from council deliberation and its decision concerning his business.

In other business, the planners resolved questions of citizens who live near the Convent Food Mart shopping center, Allen Drive and Novi road. Specifically, the citizens were referred to the planners by the city council to learn what requirements the commission desired in connection with the proposed greenbelt between subdivision homes and the shopping center.

Pack Sends Kits

About 40 model kits will be mailed to Vietnam next week as the gift of Northville Cub Scout Pack No. 721, Den Seven.

Den mother Mrs. Per V. Iverson says that the boys decided to buy the kits for convalescing soldiers in the DaNang Naval hospital in Vietnam when they read of the lack of projects for bed-ridden patients.

Other dens in the cub pack have been adding with the project, Mrs. Iverson added.

Northville Library Hours to Change

Northville public library will begin its summer hours next week.

Beginning June 7, the library will be open from 10 a.m. to 5 p.m. Fridays and will be closed Saturdays.

Monday through Thursday, as usual, the library will be open from noon to 8 p.m. These hours will continue until school resumes in September.

Relations Council Plans Third Meeting

Third meeting of the recently reactivated Northville Human Relations council will be held at 8 p.m. Wednesday, June 5, at the main building of Northville State Hospital on Seven Mile road. Everyone interested is invited to attend.

The council, which is in process of forming resolutions and getting acquainted, plans to continue to meet throughout the summer.

Schools Report Measles Cases

A "light rash" of measles is being reported in some of Northville's schools. In most instances the measles are said to be a very light variety with only slight temperatures and rash.

It is being termed "Hungarian measles" by laymen, but Dr. Russell Atchison of Northville Doctors' Clinic states that the term is purely a lay one used to describe a strain of German measles. Since the cases seem to be light ones, he said he has seen none of them. He adds encouragingly that with the advent of immunizations during recent years the few cases being reported in the schools do not compare with the two-to-three hundred of a few years ago.

Almost all cases have been reported at Morame elementary school which has had about 15 to 20 measles or "rash" reports during the past two weeks. None was reported at Amerman or Main street elementary although a case of chicken pox has been called in to Main street by a parent this week.

You'll love it! A history-riding Pêche island pre-opening ferryboat cruise

Be one of the first* to enjoy the return of ferryboats to our magnificent and historical Detroit River.
*Exactly 26 years ago Ferryboat Service was discontinued on the Detroit River.

The Pêche Island ferryboat fleet is new... safe... clean... comfortable... and painted bright Pêche Island red to tell the whole world that Windsor and Detroit have once again opened the beautiful Detroit River to residents and visitors who would like to see how our cities look from the water.

Safest boats in service anywhere... all steel construction.

The Pêche Island Ferryboats are the safest, most modern craft in use on the Great Lakes. Powered by the most advanced turbo-charged diesel engines and built of steel, the Pêche Island Ferryboats surpass the strictest safety requirements of the Department of Transport. Each boat is operated by a licensed captain and first mate.

Where, When and How to Board Ferryboats for the One-Hour Pêche Island Pre-Opening Cruise, beginning 9 a.m., Thursday, May 30.

From Windsor:

The boats leave downtown Windsor at the foot of Ouellette Street from 9 a.m. to midnight. This dock is located directly behind the British-American Hotel. Parking is available in the immediate area in public and private parking lots.

Tickets are sold on the boat. The price of the round-trip one-hour Pêche Island Pre-Opening Cruise from downtown Windsor is $1.95 for adults and $1.00 for children between 5 and 12.

For additional Windsor information call (1-519) 735-2157.

From Detroit:

Passengers boarding the ferryboats in downtown Detroit may park in any of the Cobo Hall area parking lots. The Pêche Island Pre-Opening Cruise dock site is located at the River on the Civic Center Drive at the West end of Cobo Hall, approximately 500 feet east of the foot of Third Street.

Passengers coming downtown on the Lodge Freeway may take the Wayne Exit directly onto the Cobo Hall Roof Parking Area. Passengers coming from Washington Boulevard, Larned, Congress, East Jefferson or Atwater may park in any of the Cobo Hall Garages or in the Veterans Building parking lot. The dock site is on the river, directly behind the west end of Cobo Hall.

Information to help you plan your Pêche Island ferryboat cruise.

Tickets will be sold on the Ferryboats from 9 a.m. to midnight.

The one-hour round trip Pêche Island Pre-Opening Cruise fare is $1.95 for adults and $1.00 for children between 5 and 12.

For additional information on the Detroit cruise, call (1-313) 963-9555.

Each boat has a sundeck which seats 60 passengers on roomy contour fiberglass seats. The lower level accommodates 140 people on comfortable vinyl covered foam seats. Two rest rooms serve passengers. A snack bar features sandwiches, cold and hot drinks and other food items.

Your guide will describe how a small group of Frenchmen in 1701 founded Windsor and Detroit... how the cities were named... interesting facts about the River, the Great Lakes, the Tunnel, the Bridge... how the two cities were one until 1796... how a British Commander settled the International Boundary problem... how the Indians lived on Pêche Island... David Dunbar Buick's brilliant plan to celebrate Detroit's 200th birthday... the life of Hiram Walker... 1968 Plans for the International-Freedom Festival and hundreds of other historical facts and anecdotes that will make your unusual Pêche Island Pre-Opening Cruise an event you will always remember.

Because the Pêche Island Ferryboats do not stop until your return to the downtown Windsor or Detroit dock where you boarded, there is no customs or immigration inspection.

You will be given a passing visit and description of the facilities being readied on exciting and historic Pêche Island, which will be opened to the public for the first time in history July 1, 1968.

You'll love it! Make your plans NOW to be among the first to enjoy a Pêche Island Pre-Opening Cruise. Reservations are now being accepted for Special Group Programs on Pêche Island beginning July 1. Phone: Detroit (1-313) 963-9555 and Windsor (1-519) 735-2157 for details.

CITY-SCHOOL SESSION—Members of the Northville city council and board of education and their administrators met Tuesday evening at school board offices to discuss mutual problems. Reports were given by City Manager Frank Ollendorff on the status of the Taft road paving, Eight Mile at Center street traffic light, and city-township unification study. The school board reported that it questions the future need of the community building for school use and indicated consideration of sale of the facility to private interests. Mayor A. M. Allen pointed to possible need of the building for public use and the bodies finally agreed to a joint study to determine a "best use for the most people". The board reserved, however, the right to dispose of the property as it sees fit, as owner. The possibility of the community recreation program coming under school direction was then discussed, but the board expressed reluctance at the undertaking based on anticipated costs. Again it was agreed, however, that a study by the recreation committee setting forth a future plan for the recreation program would be considered. Finally, the board and council discussed with Northville Community Chamber of Commerce representatives several possible plans for correcting traffic problems at the entrance to the high school. Among them was improvement of old Baseline road leading to the rear of the high school off High street. The city manager was instructed to draft such a proposal along with cost estimates. Pictured at the meeting (l. to r.) are: City Manager Frank Ollendorff, Councilmen Charles Lapham and Wallace Nichols, Mayor A. M. Allen, School Board President Eugene Cook, Board Vice President Stanley Johnston, Board Trustee James Kipfer, School Superintendent Raymond Spear, Superintendent's Secretary Mrs. Winifrid Proctor, School Business Manager Earl Busard, Board Secretary Glenn Deibert, Board Trustees Andrew Orphan, Robert Froelich and Richard Martin. Councilmembers Del Black and Mrs. Beatrice Carlson were absent.

2 Mills Called Modest Increase by Administrator

EDITOR'S NOTE: Following is the third of four articles concerning the operational millage election slated for June 10 in Northville. It was written by Curriculum Coordinator Miss Florence Panattoni.

In today's world there is little if any disagreement about the importance of each school system providing the highest quality of educational service, including teacher performance, physical facilities, equipment, supplies, supportive services and leadership effort. The Northville Community, The Northville Board of Education, the administrators and the teachers have cooperated effectively to give form and substance to the educational program. As a result of this solidarity, the Northville Public School have attained a high quality program. This is not to imply that now we stand still and coast. Education today is dynamic—a challenge to the student, the teacher, the administrator, and above all to the community that, in the final analysis, determines the kind of educational program the community can boast.

The United Board of Education determined that two (2) mills is necessary to retain this kind of educational program. What is the program you are being asked to support? You are being asked to support an educational system that recognizes every child as important, but, at the same time, a system that can claim numerous college students on dean's lists and is recognized in all areas whether it be athletics, model United Nations, young authors, musical productions, bands, choirs, speech activities, science fairs or mechanical drawing exhibits. The Northville Public Schools have not failed the community.

A comparison of the Northville Public Schools today with our schools five or ten years ago would reveal many changes. However, the world today is not what it was five or ten years ago. We've learned much more about why and how children learn than we knew—even a few years ago. Five or ten years ago, the number of students entering the 7th grade was considerably larger than the number graduating from high school seven years later. Today, the Northville Public Schools, have less than a 3% drop-out rate, one of the very lowest in the state.

The reason is that we've learned that all students have the ability to learn if we have the methodology, the programs, the structures, the equipment and the leadership that permits learning. Citizens of Northville have not failed their young people, they provided the means.

When it was recognized that some children experienced difficulty in learning to read, reading specialists were placed in your schools. The widely accepted concept of new mathematics resulted in teacher training and programs instituted. Emphasis on the importance of understanding peoples of other nations meant additional language programs—today Northville High School offers four years of French, two years of German, three years of Spanish and two years of Latin. Our hope is to include languages at the elementary and junior high levels. With technological advancement came inclusion of electronics in the curriculum. As pressures for college entrance and guidance increased, Counselors and Special Service personnel were added. The importance of meeting the needs of all students resulted in Honors and Basic Programs in English, social studies, mathematics, science and a Cooperative Education Program being included in the curriculum. Instructional Materials Centers become the hub of elementary and secondary schools as in-depth programs developed. In the last two years, some 28 courses were added to the high school schedule. Northville children have the opportunity to visit museums, attend plays, lectures, concerts, and follow sport teams. When educational research proved that certain audiovisual equipment facilitated learning, the hardware was made available. The importance of motivation at the elementary level brought high interest supplementary materials into the classroom and changes in methods of teaching. Teachers who enjoy spending time beyond the classroom hours with their students and who are willing to give up lunch hours, meet after school, attend conference in the evening and on Saturdays in order to update their knowledge of meeting children's needs staffed the classrooms. Effective leadership was provided.

Your Board of Education President, Mr. Eugene Cook, in his article on May 16, 1968 and your Superintendent, Mr. Ray Spear, in his article on May 23, 1968, spoke to the quality of our school system. I agree with them in their opinions. If you've visited our schools in action, I'm certain you agree to this. In one classroom, I talked with some excited and proud young people who related with enthusiasm their joint efforts to present a program and provide the refreshments for a parent evening. I attended a P.T.A. program in one of our schools that made me proud to be a part of the system. When youngsters unite their talents, to present an instrumental, vocal and art program of that caliber, we can be proud of students and the personnel who guided them. Recently, two third grade boys took me on a tour of the museum they're building—they're involved in a team teaching program in music, art, social studies and English. As a result, these youngsters write the necessary letters, read, visit museums, relate, sing about, and talk in archaeological terminology that I'm certain I didn't know existed when I was at that level.

When one sees some thirty teachers respond to a call to meet from 3:30 to 5:30 P.M. to discuss with Dr. Leo Stine, of Western Michigan University, the possibilities of updating the social studies program, or knows of two teachers meeting regularly after school to devise a team teaching program in mathematics, or another working far beyond school hours to organize an English course built around concepts that stress accepted values, one cannot help but take pride in the program.

Yes, the educational program in the Northville Public School is dynamic because the Northville Community made it that way. We urge you to keep it that way.

Teachers Suggest

2 Mills May be Too Little

EDITOR'S NOTE—Following is the fourth of a series of articles written by the Northville Education Association on education as it affects Northville.

Last week, we urged the citizens of Northville to vote "yes" on June 10th. We pointed out that the request was modest and the need great.

Without wishing to discourage taxpayers, the Northville Education Association must go on record at this time as having doubts about the adequacy of two mills. After studying past budgets and the projected budget for '68-'69, we wonder how long the schools can be operated on an additional two mills.

In these inflationary times costs are rising so fast that many communities have increased school taxes four or five mills this year. Just recently, as we reported last week, South Lyon passed an eight mill increase. Other communities such as Inkster have raised taxes as much as 13 mills.

Northville, more than many other districts, is a growing residential area with a consequent school population potential that will require expanded facilities and programs. Obviously this means further millage increases. But our concern is that perhaps in the very near future the two mills we hope will be voted June 10th may prove inadequate to meet foreseeable increases in expense. If this develops, will another millage vote be necessary?

Of course, it is not possible to do much now. Two mills has been asked and we support it because even that little will make a great difference. As for the future, we are unsure.

It may be said that the Northville Education Association should have spoken sooner—perhaps before the Board set the proposed increase at two mills. But school budgets are very complex matters which require more study than full-time teachers can properly give them. The Board employs an expert in finance and supporting staff to handle the difficult task of balancing revenues and expenditures. Consequently, teachers hesitate even now to question or challenge the decision of the Board, acting on the advice of its staff, to seek such a modest increase.

However, if the two mill increase is voted and it is immediately apparent that this is too little, we do not wish to join those who made the decision in haste to explain or apologize. Rather, we wish to be on record as having supported the increase, but having questioned its adequacy.

Car Smashes Pole, Young Driver Killed

A young man, a lifetime resident of the area, was killed at 1:55 a.m. Sunday when his car ran off the road and hit a telephone pole.

Michael Kidd, 19, of 40 Woodland Place in Country Estates on West Eight Mile road, was pronounced dead on arrival at St. Joseph's hospital, Ann Arbor. The fatal accident occurred at the sharp curve near the Pettengill homes on Pontiac trail southwest of New Hudson.

State police investigated the accident and reported Kidd was alone in the car. Cause of the crash was not determined.

Michael Earnest Kidd was born October 28, 1948, the son of Charles B. and Rachel Haskins Kidd of New Hudson. He and Laureen Savage were married in New Hudson March 6, 1965.

He graduated from South Lyon high school in 1966 and was a member of the New Hudson Methodist church. He was employed at Western Electric company.

Besides his wife, Laureen, he is survived by a son, Jeffrey Michael and a daughter, Rachelle Laureen, both at home, his parents, and two brothers, Eugene of St. Louis and Stephen in the service.

Funeral services are today (Wednesday) at 2 p.m. at Phillips Funeral Home in South Lyon with the Rev. Robert Mitchinson of the New Hudson Methodist church officiating. Burial is to be in the New Hudson cemetery.

In Livonia Invitational Northville Nine Wins Opener

Playing what may have been their finest game of the season Saturday, Northville's W-O champions advanced to the second round of the Livonia invitational tournament by clipping Redford Union's Class "A" nine, 6-1.

The Mustangs, now billed as the dark horse in the tourney, take on Livonia Franklin Thursday at 1 p.m. If they get past Franklin, they'll play again Friday in hopes of making the championship round on Saturday.

"Our boys were up," said Coach Dick Willing concerning his squad's performance Saturday. "About 16 big league scouts were on hand for the game and all of them seemed to agree that our boys were really hustling. I'd say it was our best game of the season."

Sophomore Fred Holdsworth, mixing up curves and fast balls, was tagged for only two scratch singles, walked none, and fanned six batters. Northville, on the other hand, came up with seven hits and chased two hurlers from the mound before a Redford reliever put out the fire.

Aside from Holdsworth's superlative mound performance, the action of Jeff Taylor at the plate was the high point of the game. Normally a pitcher, Taylor replaced Joe Donner at the plate, and he drove home three runs in the process.

Redford scored first in the top of the second on a single, wild throw to first, and a successful suicide squeeze.

But the Mustangs came back in their half of the second to tie the score. Randy Pohlman walked, advanced to second on a sacrifice bunt off the bat of Barry Deal, and scored on a single to left by Taylor.

The big Northville blitz came in the bottom of the third. Holdsworth led off with a single to left, Doug Anglin singled to left, and both advanced on a wild pitch. Dennis Primeau walked to fill the bases. Pohlman walked and forced home the Mustangs' second tally.

In sending his swing, Deal grounded to first and Redford's first baseman cut down Anglin at the plate for the second out of the inning. Then Stan Nirider singled to left driving in another run, followed by still another single by Taylor—this one to center—to drive in two more runs. Pat Cayley walked to fill the bases again and Holdsworth walked forcing home the sixth run of the game.

Neither team was able to produce much at the plate thereafter, although the Mustangs stranded men at second and third in the fifth.

Redford's coach may have cost him his squad the victory, according to some observers, by not starting his number one pitcher. The coach, eying his squad's league championship game Monday, decided to keep his top hurler in the wings for the Monday game, figuring any of his hurlers, all highly rated, could set down the Class "B" Northville squad.

"Their top pitcher might have done better," conceded Willing, "but the way our boys were playing I'm sure they could have beaten anyone. If they do as well the rest of the way out we've got a good chance to take the tournament."

Novi Thinclads Settle for Fourth

Hopes for perhaps a second place finish in the Class "C" league meet slipped from the hands of the Wildcats last week as the Novi thinclads had to settle for fourth place in a field of seven teams.

Coach Fred Hanert volunteered no excuses for his squad, although when pressed for an explanation he noted that the Wildcats' normally superlative star, Jon VanWagner, failed to come close to his high-water marks "probably because in pole vault and high jump athletes were not permitted to wear cleats. They had to wear tennis shoes."

Nevertheless, VanWagner did set a new school record in the low hurdles but had to be content with a fifth-place finish. He crossed the finish line in a time of 21.9.

Mike Farrah, who has been progressing rapidly with each meet, also set a school record (100 yard dash) and tied another (220 yard dash). He failed to place in the 100 but turned in a low mark of 10.8. In the 220 he finished fifth with a time of 24.5.

In shot put, Doug Keith set a new school record and took fifth with a put of 41' 8 3/4".

Champions of the Lakeland "C" meet were the Grass Lake athletes, who early in the season swamped the Wildcats. They compiled a total of 68 points. Whitmore Lake, which lost out to Novi earlier by a hair, finished second with 37. Third was Columbia Central with 36 1/2. Novi took fourth with 31 1/2. Roosevelt was fifth with 21. Clinton sixth with 20 and Manchester seventh with 10.

First place finishes entirely escaped the young Novi team, but VanWagner managed to take second in the high jump with a jump of 5' 8", Ken Osborn took fourth with the same mark but with more misses, and the Wildcats' 880 relay team took second with a time of 1:39.7. Members of the relay squad are John Davey, Don Maki, Gary Boyer, and Farrah. Still another second was turned in by Farrah in the long jump (19' 11").

Among the Novi third-place finishers were: Van Wagner, high hurdles (16.5); Tom Boyer, 880-yard run (2:11.2); Rich Hill, 440 yard dash (54.3); and the mile relay, Tom Boyer, Steve Pomeroy, Lennie Beadle, and Rick Hill (3:48.3).

VanWagner also took fifth in the pole vault with a vault of 10' 6" and Mark Earl ran fourth in the two-mile run with a time of 10:58.9.

Mustangs Throttle Trojans in Finale

Rifling his fast and curve balls, Northville's big Bill Skelly hurled a three-hitter Thursday as the Mustangs wrapped up their Wayne-Oakland League season with a 10-3 triumph over Clarenceville.

The victory was frosting on the cake for the Northville nine, which had already wrapped up the conference title. It was the 12th victory against two losses.

None of the other W-O nines came close to that record. But the remaining squads were pretty evenly bunched, from the six losses of the runner up to the eight losses of the last place squad.

Northville scored first Thursday, pushing two runs across in the second and eight in the fourth. The Trojans' two runs were produced in the sixth.

In that second inning, Terry Mills led off with a walk, stole second, and Dennis Primeau singled driving him in. Primeau then stole second and came in on a single off the bat of Barry Deal.

In the big eighth inning, Randy Pohlman started things rolling with a single. Deal reached first on an error, Stan Nirider singled home Pohlman, and Pat Cayley reached base on a fielder's choice. Skelly followed with a run-scoring single, Mills did the same, and then Pohlman picked up his second hit of the inning driving in a run. Deal doubled, driving in two runs, but was out at third trying to stretch his hit into a triple.

The victory was the fifth for Skelly, who finished the regular season without a loss. Fred Holdsworth finished with a 6-1 mark, and Jeff Taylor came up with two wins against one loss.

Final Holes Mar Results For Golfers at Pontiac

But for a couple of bad holes, Northville's golf team might have taken the "B" championship in the Pontiac Press Invitational match this past week.

As it was, the Mustangs grabbed second place, missing the top by only one stroke. In overall competition, the local golfers placed 11th in a field of 25 teams.

Northville came up with 338 strokes, second to Bloomfield Hill Lahser's 337. The overall winner was Class "A" Southfield with 315.

The Mustangs were doing well right up to the last two holes when bad luck struck Northville's Billie Thomas who went 10 over par on the two holes and shot up from a possible 80 to 91. Turning the corner, the Mustangs were at 166—just eight strokes behind the overall leader.

Team scores included: Southfield, 315; Royal Oak Kimball, 324; Lake Orion, 325; Waterford Township, 326;

Walled Lake, 327; Pontiac Central, 329; Waterford Kettering, 332; Royal Oak Dondero and Clarkston, 334; Milford, 336; Bloomfield Hills Lahser, 337; Northville, 338; Utica, 343; Rochester, 344; Pontiac Catholic, 348; Bloomfield Hills, 349; West Bloomfield, 351;

Racing: Easier Than Farming

Twenty years ago Art Roach and his brother, Leland, decided that training and racing horses was easier than farming.

"And it's a lot more fun, too," Art chuckled in the paddock at Wolverine Raceway the other night. "We've never made a lot of money but Lee and I never regretted going into racing."

The Roach brothers are from Columbusville, up near the base of the Michigan thumb, but have trained and raced horses all over the East and Midwest.

For three years Art served as a second trainer to George Sholty in New York and then worked in a similar capacity for two years for Tommy Winn. "So you see we've been keeping pretty good company," Art said with a twinkle.

Currently the Roach brothers have five head with the 13-year-old Flying Time as the stable's big bread winner. Torrid G and Rustic Moon are other pacers whom Art and Leland hope will win a purse now and then around the circuit.

OUT OF THE FEEDBAG: The Norris brothers are spread all over the harness racing circuit...Gordon has long campaigned at Wolverine and on the Michigan circuit...Charles made an infrequent visit to Wolverine the other night when he raced Prilly in the $25,000 M&M Trot.

George Davis, the 29-year-old trainer-driver from Northville, wintered at Hawkinsville, Ga., along with Billie Regur, Jim McGarty and Red Ross...Davis sustained a broken collar bone while training a colt and got away to a slow start here...He's training 10 head...Henry Reynolds came up with a strained back muscle last week while unloading feed and turned his driving chores over to young Bill Champion for a couple of nights.

Pontiac Northern, 353; Romeo, 355; Lapeer, 369; Shrine, 372; Holly, 375; Clawson, 390; and Waterford Mott, 406.

In competition between the coaches of the representative schools, Northville's Al Jones took the champion's trophy with a nine-hole total of 37.

Individual player scores included: Dan Condon, 78; Kenny Neisch, 84; Tom Fagan, 85; and Thomas, 91.

In the Wayne-Oakland league tournament, the Clarkston Wolves' dark-horse squad took the title with a score of 317—one stroke behind second-place Brighton. Milford took third at 325, Bloomfield Hills fourth at 327; and Northville fifth at 334. West Bloomfield took sixth and Holly seventh (356 and 365, respectively).

Condon topped the Mustang entries with 81, Fagan and Thomas tied at 84, and Jim Penrod carded an 85.

Wixom to Clash With Liberty

Action in the Walled Lake Industrial Softball League enters the second month tomorrow (Wednesday) as W.L.B.M. hosts Liberty at the Wixom baseball diamond.

Other games slated next week pits Wixom against Liberty Mobil Temp against Haggerty, and Mills against Ultimate on Monday; Big Boy against W.L.B.M. and Penny against Carpentry on Tuesday; Carpentry against Ultimate and Liberty against Imperial on Wednesday.

The teams in the league and their managers and assistants are: Copper Mug, Al Schmitt and Jim Welsh; Mills, Don Brown and Sam McDermald; Wixom, Tom Burke and Fred Evans; Imperial, Roy Bourdeau and Rich Dunger; Big Boy, John Aramini and Ken Stout; Carpentry, Ralph Tauriainen and Jim Parcels; Haggerty, Charles Boice and Darrell Foster; Penny, Joe Burke and Bill Penny; Mobil Temp, Gary Motley and Wayne Hughes; Williams, Mike Odle and Bill Schlammel; Ultimate, Bill Brackney and Gene Sitkowski; Liberty, Duke Gardella and Bill Lucas; Kimberly, Paul Poyack and Walter Mifsud; and W.L.B.M., Bill Denny and Ralph Snyder.

Games are played at 6:30 at Casino, Wixom or Walled Lake junior high diamonds.

Rexall Tops Novi Nines

General Filters No. 2, Rexall, and the Party Store are each holding down first-place positions as Novi Little League action heads into the second month.

Filters No. 2 is leading the Farm League with a 3-0 mark. Rexall is on top of the Red Division with a 6-0 record, and the Party Store out front in the Blue Division with a 5-1 mark.

Results of action this past week: Carl's Shell came up with fewer hits but edged Wroten Brothers, 9-8, on May 25. The big hit of the game came off the bat of Ricky Gault, who blasted a round-tripper.

Novi Party Store collected 14 hits in downing Carl's Shell, 10-6 on May 24. Doubles were picked up by Pete Anderson, Ron Buck, and Jack Colburn.

Tim, Assemany came up with his first homer of the season on May 24 as Michigan Tractor swamped Wroten Brothers, 13-1. Rick Gault tripled, and Don Ling, Sean O'Brien, and Ron Wilentus each doubled.

Kevin LeFleche gave up only two hits as the Jayhawks smashed past Paragon, 19-5. On their way to the victory, the Jayhawks collected 11 hits. Ken Mobarak and Brownlee doubled for the winners.

Dave Brown fired a no-hitter to help Rexall Drugs to a 7-0 victory over B-V Earthmovers on May 24. R. Pelchat tripled twice and Eddie Brown came up with another triple and a double for the winners.

The Jayhawks doubled B-V Earthmovers, 12-5, with doubles by LaFleche and Ron Frisbee, on May 20. The Jayhawks picked up nine hits, the Earthmovers five.

Ron Gloetzner Sets State 'B' Record

Vaults 14-Foot Plus, But Credited for Less

Ron Gloetzner Sails over MSU Crossbar with Room to Spare

"He couldn't have flown much higher with wings."

That was the reaction of fans who watched with bated breath as Northville's big Ron Gloetzner sailed over the crossbar at the state Class "B" record height of 13' 7" Saturday at Michigan State university.

Hounded by college coaches who would like to add the Northville senior to their track rosters, Gloetzner came within a hair of vaulting 14 feet and perhaps setting a record for all Michigan schools.

With the state mark already wrapped up, Gloetzner asked officials to raise the bar, and it went up to 14' 1/2". He missed on his first two tries, but on the third he sailed over with "plenty of room to spare," chortled Coach Ralph Redmond. But because his pole fell forward into the pit — although not disturbing the crossbar — the vault was disqualified and he had to settle for the lesser state "B" mark.

Van Wagner Falls Shy

Jon VanWagner of Novi placed fifth in the state high jump competition Saturday but failed to match his top 1967 state mark of 6' 1".

The Novi junior managed to leap only 5' 8" Saturday, four inches short of the winning jump.

Coach Fred Hanert attributed some of the star athlete's problem to a swollen foot that was injured in the hurdles.

"It was a tremendous effort," said Redmond, "and with a little luck he could have established a near unbeatable record."

Even before Gloetzner set the Class "B" record his soaring vaults had attracted the attention of college coaches. Earlier this month he was invited to compete in the Champ of Champions meet to be sponsored by Western Michigan university on Memorial Day.

Aside from Gloetzner's performance at the state meet, Northville turned in its best state mark in history picking up a total of 11 points—good enough for 15th place. The only other Northville thinslad to pick up points was Jim Peterson, who won sixth place in high jump.

Peterson, who was jumping below his potential, managed to go only 5' 11". Even so, the winning jump was only two inches higher at 6' 1". South Lyon's Mark Saincome, Peterson's arch rival, failed to make 5' 11".

Sponsored by Kiwanis Junior Olympics Scheduled June 8

Preparations moved to high gear this week in anticipation of the sixth annual Kiwanis Junior Olympics program sponsored by the Kiwanis club of Walled Lake, Wixom and Novi.

According to Kiwanian C. A. Behm, originator of the junior olympics program for some 2500 youngsters, this year's event will get underway at 8 p.m. on Saturday, June 8 at the Walled Lake senior high school athletic field. Competing in the day-long series of field and track events will be boys and girls from Walled Lake junior high, Clifford Smart junior high, Union Lake elementary, Glengary elementary, Twin Beach elementary, Decker elementary, Commerce elementary, Oakley Park elementary, Walled Lake elementary, Wixom elementary, Keith elementary, Dublin elementary, St. Patrick elementary, St. Patrick junior high, Novi elementary, Novi junior high, Orchard Hills elementary, St. Williams elementary, St. Williams junior high, St. Matthew's elementary, and St. Matthew's junior high.

Boys and girls grouped according to age, height, and weight in classes A, B, and C will compete in 50, 100, and 220 yard dashes, 75-yard low hurdles, 200-yard shuttle relay, 440 yard relay, 440 yard dash, pole vault, high jump, running long jump, shot put, and softball throw.

Winners will receive the following awards: first, gold medal; second, silver medal; third, bronze medal; fourth, ribbon, and fifth ribbon.

In addition, six outstanding girl athletes will receive the "Henrietta Piltz Trophy; six outstanding boy athletes will receive the Kiwanian Horace Hatfield Trophy; and four relay teams will receive the Kiwanian Sonny Behm Traveling Award.

Parents and friends of the young athletes are urged to attend the day-long meet "to give these kids the moral support they need," said Behm.

St. Germain Aims for Open

Northville's Jim St. Germain passed the first test in qualification trials for the U. S. Open golf tournament last week.

The Eastern Michigan University student and twice state high school champion fired 147 for 36 holes over Forest Lake and Indian Woods courses to finish high among the 24 professional and amateur golfers who qualified in a field of 170.

Next step will be the sectional qualifying round at Knollwood Country club June 4. Top finishers in the sectional will be eligible to participate in golf's biggest tournament, scheduled this year for Oak Hill Country Club, Rochester, N.Y., June 13-16.

St. Germain shot a steady 71 at Forest Lake and then "played it safe" with a 76 at Indian Woods for a sure qualifying spot.

from the Pastor's Study

Reverend Gib Clark, Pastor
First Baptist Church of Novi

I should like to point out some of the ways which the Bible becomes food for growth. Life is one thing, but health is another. The Christian life is similar to the natural life in this respect. Yesterdays food will not sustain good health for tomorrow. Malnutrition may occur in the spiritual realm as well as in the physical. For instance, a woman once said, "All that you can hope to get out of life is what you can eat and what you can wear." The same woman also said, "we have never let any of our children go to any church; then they are free to join whatever church they marry into." We all are dependant on God for good health as well as for the new birth. The Bible is our guide for doctrinal truth. Some people try to make the distinction between practical and doctrinal religion, but the whole truth—as revealed in Christ, for example—was written down because it was essential to spiritual life. To cut out the parts which seem not to agree with our case is hardly an act of humility. The early Christians contended "For the faith which was once delivered unto the saints," Jude 3. Jesus himself said, "Heaven and earth shall pass away, but my words shall not pass away." Matthew 24:35. Today, there is a return to what is called biblical theology, in many groups it is a good sign when people turn to the Bible in search of truth may stand a good chance of hearing the voice of God whether they heed or not will depend on openness of mind and humility of heart.

Another function of the Bible in the believers life is that of overcoming doubt and fear. The two are mentioned together because they are of the same cloth. Both stem from a feeling of rejection which grows out of our own sense of guilt. When little children are afraid or expect to be rejected, we talk to them and re-assure them. What we actually do is to communicate our love to them. This is exactly what God is trying to do to us.

The history of the Bible is the record of God's action in trying to redeem men. One look at the life of Christ, for example, and we see a divine person, "full of grace and truth," John 1:14. Our whole confidence in the resurrection and in immortality is based upon the power of God as manifested in the living Christ. No mysticism can bring man the assurance which God can speak through His Word. "These things have I written unto you," said John, "that you may know that you have eternal life." I John 5:13. Similar to the overcoming of doubt and fear, perhaps even the other side of it, is our growth in love.

The primary method of teaching love in this world is to love. No lessons explaining it will take the place of genuine acts of love. In the Bible we have every possible approach to love. There are examples given, direct commandments, explanations of how love works. But most of all, when I read the Bible I feel that God is loving me; I feel secure in His love. That is why the Bible is spoken of as "God's Love-Letters to man." When the love of God is really accepted two things happen. First, the person who really enters into this experience can no longer be cowed by fear. Most religious rituals are merely insulation against fear. Saying affirmations to yourself every morning is not fundamentally different from the pagan beating tom-toms to ward off evil spirits. But when love comes in fear goes out the window.

It would be futile to try to build a world of love if the "ultimate reality" is either cruel or indifferent. The second effect of God's love is to cause us to love others. This commandment have we from Him, "that he who loveth God love his brother also" I John 4:21. When people read their Bible regularly and allow God to speak through them, love grows. It is a book of love it rebukes our small hearts. God becomes very real to us.

When one of the disciples asked Jesus how he would make Himself known to them after He went away without the world seeing Him, he said, "If a man love me, he will keep my words; and my Father will love him, and we will come unto him, and make our abode with him," John 14:23. Notice that keeping His Words, is both the result of love and the condition of greater love. "For God so loved the world that He gave His only begotten Son that whosoever believeth in Him should not perish, but have everlasting life," John 3:16. Have you believed? Do you love?

Witnesses To Convene

Jehovah's Witnesses from 16 congregations in southeastern Michigan will be traveling to Hillsdale, Michigan, the week-end of June 14-16 for their semi-annual circuit assembly.

All of the estimated 1,200 delegates are looking forward to the event with keen anticipation, especially since it has been several years since Hillsdale has been the host city for one of their assemblies. The Hillsdale High School, 30 S. Norwood, has been selected as the meeting place.

All of the assemblies of Jehovah's Witnesses are guided by a theme. This time the theme will be "Strengthening One Another to Remain in the Faith" (Acts 14:22).

Butterflies aren't Human

THE CHURCH FOR ALL . . . ALL FOR THE CHURCH

The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the Church. They are: (1) For his own sake (2) For his children's sake. (3) For the sake of his community and nation (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.

Our 9A biology trip was a huge success. After we saw the museum's collection of rare lepidoptera, we went outside to collect specimens. Then we ate lunch, and took pictures. Here's one with me, on the left, laughing at Eddie. We were in a big discussion about whether or not butterflies can feel.

While our teacher exchanged notes with the curator, we sat around and talked. After butterflies, we started on missiles and rockets, and whether or not there's life on the stars. Somehow, don't ask me how, we got on the subject of God.

You know, I didn't realize how ignorant some kids are about Him! All of a sudden, I found out how good it is to have some ideas about where, what, and why, I am. A few of those kids were really way out in left field.

Now it's up to me to show them what they have been missing. I think I've talked them all into going to church with me Sunday.

Reapportionment Triggers Controversy

Primary Election in Doubt

While it appears that legal battles might rage right up to election dates, voters should prepare to face election ballots in an August primary that will include candidates for county board of supervisors. The ballots might also include candidates for all townships offices. At this stage, the two are distinctly different — but related — conditions now under legal examination.

The issue of reapportionment and applying the one-man, one-vote principle to electing a county board of supervisors is quite advanced following U.S. and Michigan Supreme Court actions. Arguments now center on the fairness of reapportionment plans, not on whether or not county boards of supervisors will be elected directly by the people from districts having near-equal population.

The direct election of county boards of supervisors by the people marks a departure from the practice of township supervisors being seated on the county board along with members appointed from city governmental units within the county. Plymouth is one city that elects its representative to the county board, deviating from the general practice of appointment.

A question that must be resolved, with the decision likely to come from the attorney general's office, is whether or not township supervisors can also be elected to a seat on the county board of supervisors.

That election issue was made more complex recently when Oakland County Circuit Judge William Beer handed down a decision that in effect challenged the constitutional authority of the state legislature to extend the terms of township officers beyond the length of term voted at the time of the election.

Judge Beer's decision could, if allowed to stand, have state-wide implications. Prior to his May 6 ruling, township supervisors, clerks, and treasurers were to continue in office for another two years—until 1970—without having to stand for election this fall. If his view is upheld, in the face of appeals that can be expected, it might be extended by court action in other Michigan counties to bring about a ballot this fall that will cover every office from township trustee to the Presidency of the United States.

When Judge Beer ruled in favor of Waterford township residents who brought a court action seeking to place township offices up for election this fall, he brought into sharp focus one of the troublesome operations of implementing the 1963 Michigan Constitution. Beer also challenged the constitutional authority of the legislature to lengthen the term of office for which an election has been held.

Legislation enacted in 1967 sought to eliminate a lengthy lame-duck period for township officers, who were elected in November but did not take office until April. This long lame-duck condition was itself a product of implementing the 1963 Constitution. Prior to its adoption, township officers were elected in spring elections in odd-numbered years. Winning candidates took office immediately.

The 1963 convention brought the township offices to the November general election ballot that goes before the voters every two years—the even numbered years. In making the switch to the fall general election, the date of taking office remained as before—in April, five months after the election.

Experience with the long lame-duck period following the 1966 general election prompted the legislature to attempt to eliminate the long wait to assume office.

One of the troubles that cropped up in some counties was that the lame ducks were in office while budgets were built and other vital business was conducted. Winning office holders were in effect saddled with budgets and programs developed by those they had defeated for the office.

The legislature attempted in 1967 to correct the situation by enacting laws extending the terms of present officers for two years beyond that for which they were elected. This was to provide a period of adjustment to change the date for taking office to follow closely on the November election.

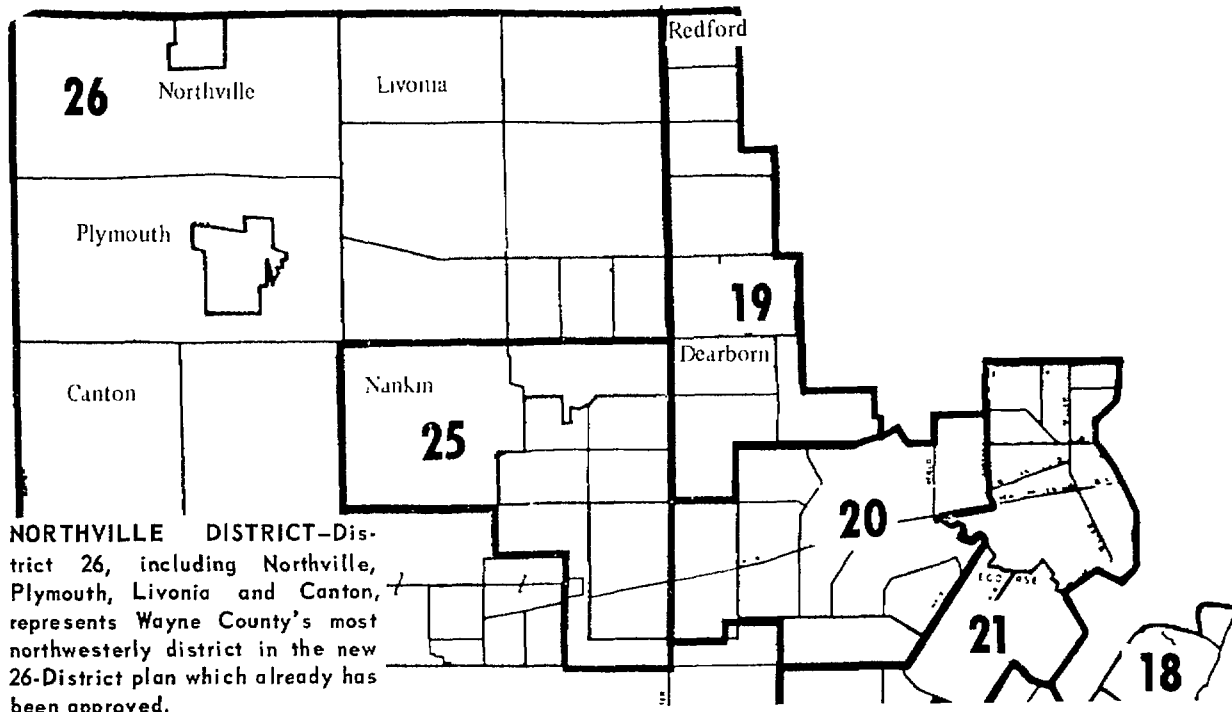

It is that legislative action that seeks to extend the terms of office for township supervisor, clerk and treasurer that the Waterford township citizens tested in Oakland County Circuit Court. Judge Beer ruled in favor of the citizens, holding that the township offices must go on the ballot this fall.

The ruling is likely to touch off a round of appeals and court actions that might carry right down to deadlines for elections. With an August 5 primary election date, June 6, deadlines for filing elections are drawing close. Debate on the issue seems certain to involve members of the legislature, the attorney general's office, and the courts.

The attorney general's office has judged valid that part of the 1967 legislation that extended the terms of present township supervisors, clerks, and treasurers. It can also cite precedents for legislative action extending the terms of circuit judges, Detroit common council members, and other elected office holders in actions occurring under special circumstances extending back to 1901.

While citing the precedents the attorney general commented favorably on the constitutional authority of the legislature to extend the terms of township supervisors, clerks and treasurers two full years beyond the two year terms they were elected for in 1966. At the same time the attorney general judged invalid that part of the same 1967 legislative action that extended to six years the terms of trustees who were elected to four year terms in November 1966.

Now, with time running out for election machinery to function for an August 6 primary election, Judge Beer's ruling has in effect placed all township government posts up for election this year. His action could be appealed to a higher court, the legislature could act to change the contested 1967 Act, or Judge Beer could have the last word.

26 District Plan Survives

It appears that a 26 district plan adopted by the Wayne county reapportionment commission has passed most of the legal hurdles and will be the plan under which a board will be elected in November.

Reapportionment and the 26 district plan promise a drastic revision in administration of the vast operations, including Metropolitan Airport, under Wayne county jurisdiction.

It provides for direct election of a supervisor by the voters in each district. The 26-member elected board replaces a 130 member board, of which only a few were elected and the vast majority held seats by virtue of appointment.

The plan is described as meeting the requirements of having districts of near equal size as is possible while respecting voting precinct boundaries. The districts range in size from 104, 438 for the largest district to the smallest of 99,186. Average size population for the 26 districts is 102,566.

Henry Sladek, Wayne county Republican party chairman and member of the commission that adopted the plan, said that although the plan is based on 1960 census figures it holds up well under recent population studies.

Sladek said that the plan provides for about 61.6 representation on the board for the city of Detroit and 38.4 percent for suburban communities. He cited a 1965 population study that showed percentages showing a slight change to 59.8 percent Detroit population with suburban communities making up about 40 percent of the Wayne county total.

The Wayne county reapportionment plan has advanced past the legal requirements of being approved by the Michigan Court of Appeals. The deadline for interested parties to file alternate plans for consideration has passed. But there might yet be considerable legal wrangling before an election is held under the plan. The length and terms of office have yet to be decided. The amount of salaries is another topic that has to be dealt with. But the election machinery is being set in motion. The Wayne county clerk's office is handing out petitions for those seeking to become candidates. At last report a court order restraining the office from accepting completed petitions was to have been lifted last Monday. Candidates can file for the office by payment of a $100 filing fee and forego the gathering of petitions.

Wayne Petitions Ready; Oakland Treads Water

Although the dates have been set and the office machinery is already humming in Wayne county, the Oakland county clerk's office is marking time as primary election time nears for reorganized county boards of supervisors.

A spokesman for the Oakland county office told this newspaper it is prepared to distribute nominating petitions at the insistence of candidates but that the office prefers to wait results of court challenges to the board of supervisors reapportionment plan and final clarification on whether or not township officers must stand for election this year.

In Wayne county, the clerk's office indicated that candidates for partisan election to the Wayne board of supervisors may qualify for the primary ballot either by paying a $100 filing fee or by returning completed petitions. June 17 is the last day for filing for those candidates choosing the fee method, while June 18 is the deadline to qualify by filing signed petitions, Wayne county officials said.

A Wayne county spokesman said the required number of signatures on nominating petitions will vary from district to district. Candidates who qualify via petitions must collect signatures of registered electors in their own districts.

The signature requirement is based upon the party label under which the candidate is running and the vote recorded for his party's candidate for secretary of state in the November, 1966 general election.

Such signatures must not be more than four percent of the vote cast and not less than one percent.

Meet Slated For Volunteers

Need for more volunteer probation officers was revealed this week by Dennis Dildy, director of Northville's new probation department.

Persons interested in donating their time in assisting persons placed on probation are urged to attend a meeting of probation officers slated for Wednesday, June 5 at the city hall beginning at 8 p.m.

Dildy, in issuing his plea for more volunteers, noted that police department officials have noticed a marked reduction of violations—particularly in the minors in possession category—since the launching of the voluntary probation program.

During the past month, the probation department has had an active case load of 22. Three persons were assigned to volunteer work details, and only one violation of probation was recorded.

Probation office activity included presentence investigation of nine males, and received on probation 10 males for a total of 19.

Of the 22 active probationers, 14 were in the 17 to 20 age group; one in the 21 to 30 group; three in the 31 to 40 group; one in the 41 to 50 group; and three in the 51 and over group.

ing a county board of supervisors under the one-man, one-vote principle is the large amount of area comprising the district for the Novi, South Lyon, and Wixom area.

The plan includes the townships of Novi and Lyon, cities of South Lyon and Wixom, and about three-quarters of Commerce township in a district that will elect one representative to the county board.

If it stands the test of court battles, and is the base for an election this year, one representative to the board of supervisors will be elected from each district. This 27-man board will perform the administrative duties of Oakland county government that are presently carried out by an 87-man board. In addition to the 24 township supervisors holding seats on the present board there are 63 representatives on the board who come from cities within the county.

Most of the 63 city representatives are appointed by city councils. A few are elected due to special provisions in the city charters.

NEW DISTRICT—The solid black line indicates district 27—the proposed new Oakland county reapportionment district including Novi, Wixom and part of Northville.

News Around Schoolcraft

Low bids totaling $2,701,136 for construction of a 97,000 square foot physical education plant at Schoolcraft college have been received and await a decision by the college board of trustees to award a construction contract.

The decision of the board, scheduled within the next four weeks, is contingent on the sale of a $3.7 million bond issue by mid-June. A portion of the proceeds of the issue will be used to supplement the college's share of the construction cost.

The project attracted a total of 31 bidders to the public opening at the college on Wednesday, May 15.

Hyatt Construction company, Wayne, was lowest among eight bidders on the general construction contract, with a price of $1,792,000. Bidding ranged up to $3,346,677 among the general contractors.

Gillies Mechanical Contractors, Inc., Livonia, was apparent low bidder among 11 contractors who bid on the plumbing, heating, and air-conditioning work, with a price of $611,880. Next low bidder was John F. McCarthy company, Dearborn, with a price of $612,000. Bids ranged up to $682,200.

Fred W. Moore Electrical, Inc., Pontiac, was apparent low bidder among 12 electrical contractors, with a price of $297,256. The bids ranged up to $389,169.

The total of the low bids was about $170,000 below the pre-bidding estimate of project architect Eberle M. Smith Associates, Inc., Detroit. But the bids were $149,340 higher than those opened last September before the project stalled for lack of local funding.

Assuming an award of construction contracts next month, the project could get under way during the summer after striking construction trades return to work. An 18-month construction period is expected for the project, which could make the plant available for instructional use at the start of the winter term in January, 1970.

As designed by the architects, the plant will provide a main gymnasium which will seat about 2,500; an auxiliary gymnasium; a swimming pool with a diving area and balcony seating for 400; a wrestling and corrective exercise room, handball courts, a gymnasium room, classrooms, faculty offices, and other facilities for a complete physical education program.

Cost of the construction will be shared by the college and the state, including a $1,178,500 total appropriation from the state.

Out of THE PAST

FIVE YEARS AGO...
...The 1963 Northville graduation speaker was Russell Wentworth, assistant director of Michigan State university's admissions office.
...Northville Downs opened its gates for its 20th season with an earlier starting time and one extra race event nightly.
...A grand opening of the completely remodeled and renamed Noder's Jewelry, 101 1/2 East Main street, was planned by owner Ray Noder.
...An okay on Northville's plans for a new city hall-library-fire hall was received from the federal government.
...With the community college question as an added attraction school district voters were expected to turn out at the polls in numbers "slightly above average"—but below the 916 record set in 1960.
...John Hopkins of Northville, a French language teacher at Plymouth high school, was awarded a National Defense Education Act grant for the study of the French language.
...Northville's varsity nine wrapped up its 1963 season with a 13-6 win loss record while grabbing consolation honors in the Pontiac Press tournament.

TEN YEARS AGO...
...A vacancy on the Novi township board was filled quickly and quietly with the appointment of Gordon Promo, a Willowbrook village resident, as trustee. He succeeded Stan Balon, who was required by state law to resign when Wixom became a city two weeks earlier. Only one other person was nominated for the post: David Fried, also a resident of Willowbrook.
...The Novi school year ended for hundreds of students including 38 eighth grades who were graduated.
...A hunting trip in Canada proved successful for Dr. L. W. Snow and C. A. Hoffman, each of whom killed their black bear with a single shot. Dr. Snow's prize weighed in at more than 300 pounds.
...Still another photography award was received by 16-year-old Harold Hartley, a student at Northville high school.
...Jim Hammond warmed up for the state tennis finals when he won his 13th straight match of the year to lead Northville to a 4-3 win over Plymouth.
...Attorney Cliff Hill and Carl Johnson, owner of Johnson's Jewelry and Gift Shop, returned from a five-weeks' tour of Europe, including Russia.

FIFTEEN YEARS AGO...
...Before a crowd of 4,000 people, the fifth annual Northville Junior Horse Show's 28 classes were run off with the precision of a big time circus.
...Scholarships were awarded to six Northville seniors: Barbara Bayless, Richard Somers, Eva White, Marlene Weiss, Walter Newton, and Theresa Duchesneau.
...The Northville village commission approved the 1953 assessment

Northville Teacher Convention Attends

Norman Hannewald, science teacher at Ida B. Cook junior high school, recently attended the 16th Annual National Science Teachers association convention held in Washington, D.C. The National Science Teachers association serves as the science department of the National Education association and prints several magazines plus other helpful materials for science teachers throughout the United States. Regional conferences are held throughout the year, but the highlight for the association is the national convention held each spring.

Hannewald presented a display on the making of Latex Rubber Models which are extremely useful in the classroom. Different rubber models of plants and animals can be made by the teacher or can be made as projects by interested students. These models make excellent teaching aids and stimulate interest in plant and animal life.

The technique for making rubber models is quite simple, he explained. "Using a freshly killed specimen, place the plant or animal into a natural pose. Next pour plaster of paris over the specimen making sure the plaster is under the legs. Now let the plaster dry for two to three hours, then simply turn the plaster mold over and remove the specimen. After this removal the mold can be filled with liquid Latex Rubber. After doing so let the mold set for one-half hour. Pour the excess rubber out of the mold and let it dry for twelve hours. Then remove the rubber model from the mold.

OPERATION CLEAN-UP—Northville Boy Scouts, in cooperation of the Northville Jaycees' observance of Youth Day during Michigan Week Saturday, waded along the bed of the Rouge River branch in Cass Benton park, cleaning out the rubbish, trees and branches that had accumulated since Scouts last cleaned the river last year. It was cold, tough work, but at noon the Scouts were rewarded with a tasty lunch served up by Northville Girl Scouts. It was the Scouts way of saying, "Let's Keep Northville Clean." According to the Jaycees, who sponsor the annual event, the enthusiasm and work of the Scouts is another reason why "Northville should be proud of its youth."

Smart Seeks Re-election

Clifford H. Smart, Republican state representative from the 60th District, has announced that he is a candidate for re-election.

Representative Smart was the chief architect and sponsor of the 1968-69 state school aid bill which incorporated some substantial formula changes. It also provided a $60 million increase in state support for local school districts throughout the state.

Smart, who lives in Walled Lake, indicated that although the new state aid formula provides substantial improvements that additional study and changes are essential. Property taxes can no longer provide the funds essential for quality education. It is the intent of the taxation and education committees of the House to concentrate on this problem during the period between sessions. Hopefully, some substantial recommendations will be made to the 1969 legislature which, if adopted, will put the financing of school on a better foundation.

Representative Smart was first elected to the State Legislature in 1964 after serving for nineteen and one half years as superintendent of schools in Walled Lake. He presently chairman of the important House education committee and also serves as a committee member on the conservation, elections and retirement committees.

The 60th District includes all of the townships of Mundy, Argentine and Fenton in Genesee county and the townships of Holly, Groveland, Brandon, Rose, Highland, Milford, Commerce, Lyon and Novi in Oakland county. Representative and Mrs. Smart reside at 555 West Walled Lake drive.

St. John's Seminary To Make Faculty Shifts

Some shifts in faculty assignments are scheduled for St. John's Provincial Seminary here when the Ordination Days of June complete the scholastic year. Three members of the faculty will be leaving, but two are expected to return after one year.

Father Thomas Doyle, associate professor of Sacramental Theology, has been given a sabbatical year for further study. He will spend the year at the University of Ottawa, Canada, to complete his doctoral studies. He is expected to rejoin the academic faculty in September of 1969.

Also expected to return, and at the same time, is Father Robert T. Callahan, associate professor of Sacred Liturgy. Father Callahan's sabbatical will be spent in parish work, seeking ways in which his mastery of the liturgical spirit can best be applied in the normal parish situation. Upon his return, St. John's students, all candidates for the five Roman Catholic dioceses of Michigan, will learn the effective methods for today's liturgical worship.

Father Maurice Shea, professor of Canon Law, leaves here after only two years, exchanging posts with Father Charles A. Kerin, who returns to St. John's after an absence of 10 years.

All are members of the society of Priests of St. Sulpice, specialist in seminary work.

8 Area Students Get U-M Degrees

Eight area residents received degrees from the University of Michigan in spring commencement ceremonies held April 27 in the university's new events building where graduates heard Secretary Robert Weaver of the department of housing and urban development.

Last week the U-M board of regents officially confirmed the 5,200 degrees awarded.

Three from the Northville area receiving master degrees are Dennis R. Dildy, 429 Lake street, M.S. in education; Radhakrishnan Nair, 41001

West Seven Mile, M.S. in psychiatry; Darrell J. Schwalm, 38287 Tralee Trail, master of public health degree in environmental health.

Bachelor degrees were awarded to Anne Hembrey Hiemstra, 9300 Napier, B. A. Honors English; Carol Ann Klopfenstein, 20145 Beck; Terrill J. LeRue, 18212 Jamestown circle, B.A. speech; Susan E. Grieger, 16080 Northville road, B.A. German; and Robert D. Bosak, son of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Bosak of Nine Mile road, B.S. in chemistry.

Raymond Spear

Spear Receives Specialist

Northville Superintendent of Schools Raymond E. Spear has been awarded the education specialist degree from the University of Michigan.

A former elementary principal here, Spear received his bachelor of education degree from Plymouth State college in Plymouth, New Hampshire in 1955 and his master's degree from the University of Michigan in 1959.

Spear and his family reside at 22304 Connemara drive, Novi.

Municipal Court

Two drivers who failed to respond to summons issued for driving violations made appearances in court last week after being served with warrants.

Muhammed Ibrahim Farraj, 605 Grace street, was arraigned on a speeding violation after being served with a warrant. Farraj pleaded guilty to speeding 45 in a 25 miles-per-hour zone and was sentenced to pay a $45 fine, and $5 costs or serve 10 days in jail.

Leonard E. Barney, Plymouth, appeared after being served with a warrant to answer to a charge of driving after his license had expired. He was cited for the violation on March 22 last year. After pleading guilty, Barney was sentenced to pay a $30 fine and $10 costs or serve eight days.

Three drivers initially charged with drunk driving pleaded guilty to reduced charges.

Jerald D. Cowan 540 Carpenter street Northville, pleaded guilty to driving while ability was impaired by alcohol. He drew a $100 fine and was placed on probation for one year.

Jay D. Poole, Plymouth, pleaded guilty to driving while his ability was impaired, a charge reduced from driving while under the influence. He was sentenced to a $70 fine or 14 days.

Carson E. Copeland, South Lyon, pleaded not guilty when arraigned on a drunk driving charge but pleaded guilty to a reduced charge of driving while ability was impaired. He was sentenced to pay a $75 fine or serve 15 days.

James W. Strange, 19, Detroit, pleaded guilty when arraigned on a charge of being a minor in possession. His sentence was a $20 fine plus $5 costs or five days and $2 costs.

James R. Gow, Walled Lake, charged with careless driving on a citation dated May 6, pleaded guilty when arraigned last Wednesday. He was sentenced to pay a $40 fine or serve eight days and given until 4:30 p.m. June 2 to pay the fine.

John H. Munn Conducts Band

John H. Munn, son of Mrs. Roberta Munn, 46150 Neeson, participated in the traditional outdoor concert as the final appearance of the year given by the Eastern Michigan university bands yesterday (Tuesday).

The Northville student, an EMU senior, conducted "Toucan Overture" by Pares.

The concert featured both the Symphonic Band and the combined Symphonic and Concert bands.

SPEAKING

for The Record

By BILL SLIGER

A few years ago (quite a few) an advertisement in my hometown newspaper caught my eye. It promised a set of golfing irons for only $7.95.

The set included a mid-iron, niblick, mashie, mashie-niblick and putter, all woodshafts, of course.

A clever copywriter made the irons seem as well made as Bobby Jones' own set—specially hewn hickory shafts, forged steel heads, leather handles. All guaranteed to make the ball "click" on every swing.

I still remember the anticipation as I counted out the seven-ninety-five in bills and small change to the man at the jewelry-variety store counter. No, I didn't need a golf bag, I had one, I lied. And who bought golf balls, anyway. You found the strays in the fields that lined the local links.

Although I didn't recognize it at the time, that purchase was one of the best lessons I ever learned

Less than a week later I went back to the store to display one broken shaft and one head and shaft that had parted company just as I was in the middle of my Bobby Jones' swing.

The man made some uncomplimentary remarks about my golf ability. But my mother made some stronger observations about his merchandise. The embarrassment was enough to make a 13-year-old want to walk out and forget it. But not mother. She persisted and I got one new and one repaired club.

I think the putter lasted a full season. But the other irons soon departed. I remember wondering on every shot whether or not the head would fly off. And none of my buddies would stand within 20 yards of me.

The lesson learned, of course, was that you get exactly what you pay for—and $7.95 wouldn't buy a quality set of irons even during depression days.

Today we're being told by our school administrators and board that Northville cannot maintain its present level of education at the current millage rate.

On June 10 voters will be asked to approve a two mill increase. In dollars and cents, that's a hike of $2 per thousand dollars of assessed valuation to property owners. It will bring the total tax levy in the Northville school district—both for operating and building funds—to 34.90 mills; or $34.90 per thousand dollars of assessed valuation.

The size of the increase is not important, although taxpayers may find this a point of contention. The important fact to be determined is what do we want for our money.

Historically, Northville residents have demanded a program of excellence in their school system. We want good teachers, so we must pay them; we like as much individual attention for our students as possible, so we must keep classroom loads to a desirable minimum; we ask for a variety of programs, so we must obtain the teachers and facilities to provide the variety; we like music, athletics, dramatics, home economics, debate, speech; we want help for slow readers and challenges for fast readers.

We have set the guidelines for the type of school system we want. And if we can believe our administrators, that to continue the program we must pay higher taxes, then we should support the request at the polls.

I do believe the increase is genuinely needed. Only a big boost in property valuations last year kept the request as low as two mills.

I'll vote "YES" for two mills for Northville's public schools on June 10.

Education is still the best buy we receive for our tax dollars.

And if we want quality and dependability, we should be willing to pay for it.

Top of the Deck

by JACK W. HOFFMAN

"You went about it all wrong. Now, if you had put on some good top soil first, and if you had put in your seed in the fall you'd have had plenty of grass seed in the spring..."

That's typical of the salty advice that kind but flippant friends rub into my greenthumb wounds after a spring inspection of the crop of weeds I've managed to raise around my home.

It isn't bad enough that my vigorous, blue-blood weeds have choked out twenty-five dollars worth of sure-grow grass seed and specially aged fertilizer. Or that my weeds sneak across lot lines at night and reproduce on the neighbor's green.

But these so-called friends must riddle me with "ifs".

If I would have done this or had done that. Sure, and if I had tried to raise weeds, I'd end up harvesting a quarter-acre of Merion every other week.

The truth of the matter is that I'm simply not a landscaper, or a carpenter, or a mason, or a putter-around-the house. Fact is, I leave much to be desired while puttering around Bob 'O Link.

Now this inability or do it all wrongness is something that I'd probably be able to take in stride, but it has made me the target of a good deal of ridicule at home.

"Daddy, my little friend's daddy built her a real nice swing and sandbox." Or, "When are you going to fix my sled?" Or, "Can't you fix that door and window today?" Or, "Oh, never mind, if I don't do it myself, it'll never get done."

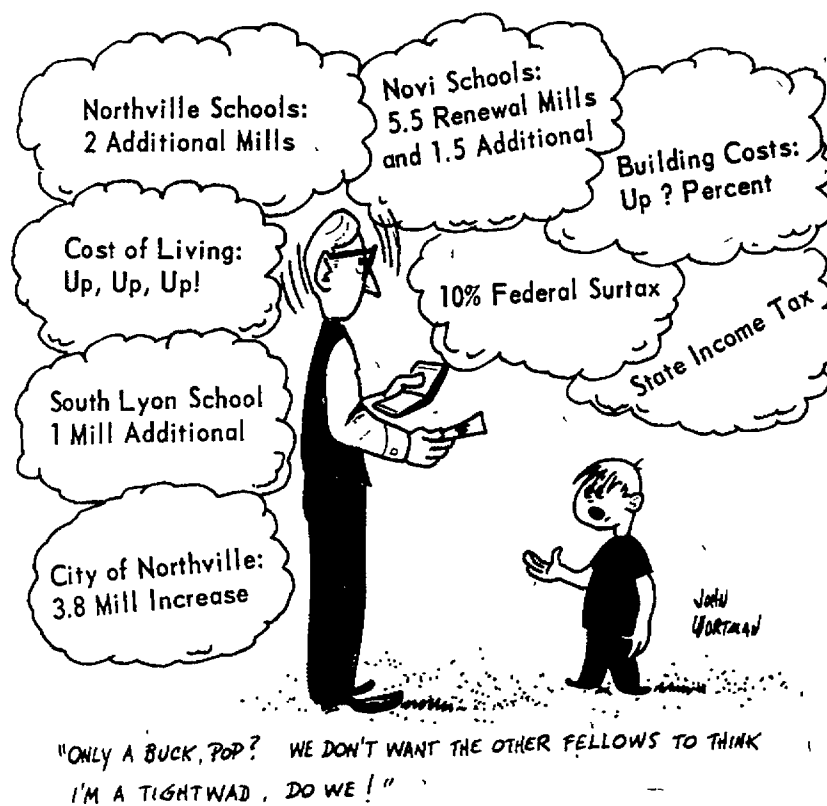

It isn't that I don't pine after the builders and fixiters or putterer-arounders. I do. But for some reason or another after I've hammered a handsome bloodclot into my thumb or carefully peeled off a hunk of epidermis with a razor sharp plane, the project just naturally loses its appeal.

So I've nurtured a prize-winning lawn of weeds. So what. I'm kind of proud of those stately tufts of broad leaves, those crabs and their crawling tentacles, and those pretty flowering dandelions.

Just look at the spunk of those fellows: they've wrestled with the elements, fought shovel, rake and cultivator, gulped poison, shadow-boxed with my wife's paring knife and beat down twenty-five dollars of sure grow grass seed and specially aged fertilizer. My weeds have tussled with the best of 'em and come away victorious. They're champs in my books.

They've proven the naturalist's theory of the "survival of the fittest," so why should I interfere with nature?

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

Didn't Supervisor Get The Message?

To the Editor:

It appears that the Novi Township supervisor didn't get the message at the Novi village election last Monday.

All of the people who voted, live in Novi township as well as the village. Since the majority of the township voters decided that they want to get rid of the Township government, why are the township officials still going to waste our tax money fighting the results?

Do they think that a judge would rule against the vote of the people?

I think the township voters should sue them for wasting our tax dollars. I for one am sick of their attitude.

I am very sorry that they have to go out and get new jobs but I don't think the people of Novi should support them forever.

Very truly yours,
Dean H. Lenheiser

To the Editor:

I'm tired of watching people put garbage in any container they happen to see in our alleys and streets. From now on I shall take down the license numbers of their cars and report them to the police department. Such persons can be fined $100. Why should we have to pay for our own garbage collection only to have others use our containers? Please cooperate; help keep our city clean.

Dear Editor:

We would like to take this opportunity to express to the people of Northville our sincere appreciation for their part in making this year's P.T.A. Carnival a success. It makes one proud to be a member of such a friendly town.

This project is truly a united community effort where service organizations, businessmen, school personnel, parents and students all contribute something of themselves for the benefit of the Northville public schools.

The cooperative attitude of those involved only serves to confirm the "Christmas in May" spirit shown at carnival time. It would be nice to hold on to this spirit of fellowship and cooperation throughout the year.

We hope everyone will overlook whatever faults did occur as part of the hazards involved in such an undertaking. Again a large thank you from my wife and I to all those who made our job so much easier.

Sincerely yours,
Bob and Dolores Prom
Chairman, 1968 P.T.A. Carnival

To the Editor:

As secretary of the Novi Goodfellow's I can definitely shed light on the controversy. Our minutes of the April 29th dinner meeting clearly state and I quote from them, "Mrs. Florence Harris informed the Chairman Lee BeGole that she had personally invited Mr. Fred Buck to speak to us on cityhood for Novi."

I, as secretary, informed Mr. BeGole that we could not take part in politics and he agreed, in his statement to the people at the dinner table, and adjourned the meeting.

Mr. Buck was then introduced as Mr. Fred Buck who will speak on cityhood for Novi...he was not introduced as Mr. Fred Buck a future potential member of the Goodfellow's who will speak on the benefits of voting...therefore when he got up to speak I was the one who shook his hand and told him I did not believe in Cityhood for Novi at this time and left.

How could he confuse the issue by saying he was invited and attended the meeting as a "Goodfellow" for he has never been a member of this organization since it's founding in 1954 and is not to this day. To be a Novi Goodfellow you have to be voted in according to our by-laws filed with the State of Michigan.

I ask myself at this time if he was personally invited by Mr. BeGole why was he introduced as being invited by Mrs. Harris.

Let us call a spade a spade and admit a "faux pas" was made and let it go at that.

Sincerely,
Eugenie Choquet, Secretary

We the undersigned would like to thank the citizens of Northville for their support and attendance at the Michigan Week exhibit at the community building.

We especially would like to commend them on the attitude and interest of their children. Their behavior was a credit to both their parents and teachers.

We enjoyed very much showing and explaining our exhibit to them.

To the Editor:

The main objective of the Novi Education Association has been, and will remain to be, to provide a better education for all the students in the Novi School District. The Board of Education and Superintendent also recognize this as a main objective. In order to meet this objective the Board will ask on June 10, for a renewal of five and one-half mills and an additional one and one-half mills. This millage will provide four new teachers on the high school level and two at the elementary level. It will further assist the high school to meet the standards necessary for accreditation by the University of Michigan. The millage will also provide a special teacher in art, library science, or physical education for the elementary schools.

Because the necessary funds to uphold and increase the educational standards of the Novi School District depends solely upon the passing of the millage, we of the Novi Education Association must go on record as unanimously supporting the millage vote which will take place on June 10. We urge all voters to support their school district in this attempt to provide the best education possible.

New Ship Studies Great Lakes Marine Life

LANING—Problems and behavior of Great Lakes marine life can be studied with greater precision because of a new Michigan Department of Conservation work vessel. The ship, christened "Steelhead" May 2, is a 63 ft., steel hulled, floating laboratory.

It is equipped with modern electronic gear, has a range of 1,000 miles and can remain at sea for five days. The Steelhead has a crew of three: a captain, a marine biologist and a fisheries aide who also serves as a deck hand. The ship is permanently assigned to the department's fisheries division.

REHABILITATION of sport fish in Great Lakes waters prompted construction of the vessel. According to Conservation Director R. A. MacMullan, scientific management of such a large-scale program encompasses far more than just planting fish from state hatcheries. "We need to know about migration patterns, food utilization habits of fish, survival levels of planted fish and contributions to fish population made by hatcheries as compared to natural reproduction," he said.

Location and numbers of forage fish, such as the alewife, must be determined if sport fish like the coho, chinook and lake trout are to have an adequate food supply. Data collected on the Steelhead will provide this information.

A BIOLOGICAL laboratory on the enclosed deck is equipped to handle dissection and other tests necessary to determine age and growth of fish, parasitic activity, food analysis, egg and scale examination. A freezer preserves tissue samples for later investigation of pesticide residue.

MacMullan points out that the Great Lakes suffered virtual elimination of all sport fish in recent years. The lamprey, coupled with exploitations by some commercial fisheries, set the stage for an explosion of alewives and other forage fish.

The primary objective of introducing new predators to the Great Lakes waters is to reverse this biological imbalance and develop new game fish for Michigan sportsmen.

SOME LEGISLATORS question the value of the Steelhead at her $105,000 price tag. MacMullan recalls numerous "jokes" passed among some of the lawmakers. "They weren't very funny," he says.

Michigan is the second Great Lake state to have such a vessel. Ohio already has one in operation and MacMullan expects others to follow suit. The Steelhead will be based at Charlevoix and will operate in Lakes Michigan, Huron and Superior.

ANOTHER WARNING was issued by Attorney General Frank J. Kelley to Michigan residents. Kelley notes that two promotional schemes which defraud consumers are gaining momentum in the state.

Home fire alarm systems and "free" stereos are the latest gimmicks used by fast-talk artists and unscrupulous operators.

Fire alarm systems can be of value when sold and installed by reputable companies. But the confidence man goes door to door, usually using the "old referral sales pitch," Kelley says, and tries to wear down the consumer with high pressure scare tactics. Kelley cites one case where such an alarm, mounted directly above the furnace, failed to function even when the furnace blew up!

"Lucky winners" of "free" stereos need only purchase four LP records a month for fifteen months to receive their "prize." Total cost: about twice what the stereo and records would have cost had they been purchased separately.

Aside from these two schemes, Kelley reminds of the spring "gypsies" who offer to resurface driveways, waterproof roofs, paint farm buildings and erect lightning rods. Materials are worthless, sometimes even harmful. The confidence man plays on three human frailties, Kelley points out: "fear, insecurity and greed. These human failings cost Michigan residents thousands of dollars each year as susceptible citizens are bilked by fast-talk artists and unscrupulous operators."

Roger Babson

Reuther Cast In Renegade Role

BABSON PARK, Massachusetts, Walter Reuther, dynamic leader of the United Auto Workers, has long been planning to withdraw from the AFL-CIO and take his membership with him. Now he has done it, by the simple strategy of refusing to pay the UAW monthly dues into the Federation's coffers. The AFL-CIO's constitution provides for suspension of any affiliate falling more than three months behind — and the UAW stopped payment early this year.

The break has been in the cards for a long while. Thirteen years ago Reuther aided Meany in bringing together the long-separated Federation and the CIO to formulate the AFL-CIO. Reuther hoped that his powerful position as President of the UAW would eventually lead him into the line of succession for leader of the union movement when Meany stepped down. But this never came about. Nor did Meany ever encourage his ambitious lieutenant at all in this direction.

Fundamentally, the two have always been irreconcilable rivals. The UAW head has leaned strongly to the left and has eagerly urged liberal reforms for the Federation. He has termed Meany's leadership "stagnant" and "undemocratic." Actually, Meany's views have always been more conservative, and he has shown reluctance to alter his more moderate pattern of action in organizing, negotiating, and running his establishment. These ideological differences became more intense with the passage of time until frustration drove Reuther to his plan for splitting off from the AFL-CIO.

THE INTENTIONS of the UAW chief-tain are undoubtedly more impressive than may be immediately apparent. By leaving the Federation he has brought out of the Meany fold more than a million and half members and better than $1 million annually in dues. According to insiders, however, this is only Step One for the aspiring "renegade". His aim is said to be the construction of a federation of his own, and a number of union officials within the AFL-CIO may well be interested in seeing whether he has more to offer than they might attain by staying with Meany.

Mentioned among those at least interested in Reuther's siren call are the Rubber Workers, Chemical Workers, Woodworkers, American Federation of Government Workers, and the Teachers Union. If all of these groups should pull out, it would add close to 600,000 more members to the emerging separate house of labor. And, of course, it would mean a substantial addition to the income from dues. Bruited about, also, have been reports that Reuther would welcome the enormous and wealthy Teamsters Union into his organization. This division of unionism has been independent since it was cast out of the Federation some years ago for corrupt practices and Red infiltration.

IF FATE should smile on Reuther and most of these prospective groups actually join up with him, it could have a smashing impact on labor relations. For one thing, there would be enough money from dues to implement Reuther's plans to rev up organizing and bargaining tactics. Should he be successful with a smoothly streamlined approach, some of the younger leaders of AFL-CIO segments might decide later to throw in their lots with the new mini-federation.

Rivalry between the AFL-CIO and its pugnacious offshoot could bring serious woes to employers in the affected fields. Competition for the unorganized might easily become as rambunctious as it was in the old days when the CIO and the AFL were separate and hostile. There would inevitably develop the old system of pirating members from established locals. Once such rough and tumble moves begin, the bitterness would increase and invite more violent charges and countercharges. Employers in some lines must expect that growing antagonism between the two factions will make labor relations a real problem. With Reuther's dynamism and the anger generated by it in many AFL-CIO quarters, things will surely pop before 1968 is much older.

Northville Man Gets Red Cross Position

Six new directors, including one from Northville, were elected to the board of the Southeastern Michigan Chapter of the American Red Cross, it was announced today at the annual meeting by incoming Chapter Chairman Chester E. Blanton.

The Northville director is Ray Shapiro, 40100 West Eight Mile road, president of Cunningham Drug Stores, Inc.

Principal speaker at the annual meeting was Samuel Krakow, Director of International Relations for the American National Red Cross, and an active negotiator in recent prisoner exchange programs, particularly those of the Arab-Israeli conflict and the Bay of Pigs invasion.

Retiring chapter chairman, S. F. Leahy, Orchard Lake, will remain an active member of the board of directors, according to Blanton. Taking over Blanton's previous post as chairman of the executive committee is Roderic V. Wiley, Birmingham, who is national business manager, Pontiac Motor Division.

Regional Study Reveals

Northville: White Collar Town With Lots of School Age Children

The Northville-Plymouth-Nowi complex of communities is vigorous and ready-to-grow, according to Irving J. Rubin, director of TALUS.

Reporting on data TALUS (Detroit Regional Transportation and Land Use Study) compiled following a 1965-66 survey to develop a fact base for future regional planning Rubin said:

"The communities in this area—Northville and Northville township, Plymouth and Plymouth township, and Novi and Novi township have a lot in common both in terms of potential and in terms of problems.

"In all communities, auto availability and travel action exceed the average for the Detroit region.

"Other data indicated a relatively high percentage of households have school age children.

"Income statistics indicate that while there is considerable variation in family income levels, there are a substantial number of middle-income families in this sector."

Rubin described the TALUS data base as the most comprehensive gathered by any of some 200 metropolitan area planning projects presently underway in the United States.

He said the information was needed by TALUS to develop a comprehensive long-range plan for growth and development of the seven counties of Southeastern Michigan through 1990.

TALUS is a special project of the planning division of the Southeast Michigan Council of Governments. A four-year, $4.8 million effort financed jointly with federal, state and local funds, TALUS is scheduled to make final recommendations for a land use plan and transportation network by late 1969.

Among the items of data assembled by TALUS concerning Northville-Nowi were population approximations based on the '65-'66 surveys. These showed:

—Northville: 4,600 persons (in about 1,400 housing units).

—Northville township: 3,500 (in about 900 housing units).

—Plymouth: 12,000 (in about 3,500 housing units).

—Plymouth township: 8,000 (in about 2,200 housing units).

Novi and Novi township: 6,700 (in about 1,800 housing units).

The average number of persons-per-household varies as follows: Northville, 3.4; Plymouth, 3.5; Plymouth township, 3.7; Both Northville township and Novi 3.8.

The average for all SEM is 3.5 persons-per-household.

Median annual income in four of the five area communities exceeds the SEM median of $7,760.

In Northville, the median is $8,690. In Northville township, it's $9,610; in Plymouth, $9,000; in Plymouth township, $10,400; and in the Novi area the median income is $6,780.

Area households average a high number of trips-per-household-per day. In all SEM, the average is 8.0. For the area communities, the averages are:

Plymouth township, 11.6 trips-per-day; Novi and Novi township, 11.5; Plymouth, 10.6; Northville township, 9.6; and Northville, 8.8.

"Car availability" is unusually high in two of the five area communities. Three or more cars are available to 11.5 percent of Novi households.

In Northville, 10.5 percent of households have three or more cars available. The SEM average in this category of data is 5.8 percent.

There is an above-average percentage of school-age children in the Northville-Plymouth-Nowi area.

In SEM, the youngest child of the head of the household is a per-schooler (1 to 4 years of age) in 23.5 percent of households. In all of SEM, the youngest child of school age (5 to 17 years) in 26.8 percent of households.

The following are similar statistics for the five area communities:

Northville, 16.8 percent list as the youngest child pre-school, 36.1 percent list as the youngest one of school age.

—Northville township, 13.6 percent; 25 percent.

—Plymouth, 20.7 percent; 27.7 percent.

—Plymouth township, 23.8 percent; 32.9 percent.

—Novi and Novi township, 19.1 percent; 36.8 percent.

The area has a high percentage of household heads who are college graduates. In Northville, 18 percent of the heads of households have college diplomas, Northville township, 26.5 percent; Plymouth, 21.4 percent; Plymouth township, 21.2 percent; Novi and Novi township, 10.9 percent. In all SEM, the average is 11.3 percent.

A majority of the heads of households in four of the five area communities are in "white collar" occupations.

In Northville, 58 percent of household heads are in "white collar" jobs, 42 percent are in blue collar. In Northville township the ratio is 71.3 percent "white collar", 28.7 percent "blue collar". Only in Novi and Novi township is the ratio different, 35.2 percent of household heads have "white collar" jobs and 64.8 percent have "blue collar".

In all SEM, 38.2 percent of residents have lived in their present homes ten years or more. In Northville, the comparable statistic is 38.6 percent. Other figures are Northville township, 47.1 percent; Plymouth, 33.5 percent; Plymouth township, 18.5 percent; Novi and Novi township, 43.8 percent.

L.I.T. To Honor William B. Crump

William B. Crump, a Northville resident, will receive an alumni achievement award from the Lawrence Institute of Technology on Sunday.

Crump, president of Flow Engineering Inc. of Troy, will be presented with the award during the 36th annual L.I.T. commencement exercises at 3 p.m. in the Ford Auditorium in Detroit's Civic Center.

The award is given annually to L.I.T. graduates who have made outstanding contributions of their professions, community and college.

Crump has been a registered professional engineer in Michigan since 1960. He was graduated from L.I.T. with highest honors in 1943 receiving a bachelor of science in mechanical engineering degree.

He has contributed to the design and development of heavy duty conveyor systems for handling scrap materials through automatic shredding machines which his company manufactures.

Crump recently received an award for long service as trustee and president of the Northville school board.

He lives with his wife, Marion, at 46735 Timberlane in Northville. They have two children: Constance, 20 and Allison, 15.

How to raise your sights without raising your new-car investment.

Just do one simple thing many low-priced-car buyers should do, and don't. Price check an Olds 88.

You'll discover a lot of so-called low-price cars cost as much or more.

Suddenly, you can raise your sights to a full size Olds 88 and all its benefits.

You'll gain Olds big-car room. Big-car stability.

Big-car comfort from a full 123-inch wheelbase. Plus the extra assurance that's yours in an Oldsmobile.

You'll also be rid of some problems, too. Like paying extra for a big V-8 engine. (And our Rocket 350 runs smooth and easy on regular gas.)

That's a pretty good return on no increase in investment, isn't it?

...in connection with good grooming and style conscious persons interested in having their clothes restyled or altered. Personal fittings on both men's and women's clothing in our modern tailoring shop. Phone 349-3677. LAPHAM'S, 120 E. Main, Downtown Northville.

Pro Bowler Wins Mustang

Because he rolled seven straight strikes on WWJ-TV's May 19 "Beat the Champ" show, Jack Treloar now rolls around in a 1968 Mustang.

Appearing as guest pro on the popular Channel 4 bowling series—seen Monday through Saturday at 1:00 AM; Sundays at 11:30 PM—Treloar won the car in the second game of his three-game match with amateur Max Milewski. It was the third car awarded to "Beat the Champ" competitors by Charlie Rossi's Downtown Ford.

According to the rules of the program, any professional bowler who makes seven strikes in a row wins a brand-new Mustang. If he elects to try for eight—and makes it—he drives off in an LTD. For nine in a row, the reward is an air-conditioned Thunderbird.

The chance to win a new car also is extended to amateurs. For them, six consecutive strikes earns a Mustang, seven an LTD, eight a T-Bird.

Treloar, after making his seven straight, chose not to try for one more strike and an LTD. He then made his eighth, but left one pin up-right in the ninth frame. He finished with a 267.

Though amateur Milewski rolled a fine 253 third game and 659 series (with handicap), it wasn't enough to capture the regular weekly prize—a console color TV set. Treloar won that, too, with his 696 series, giving him something to watch while his wife Beverly is driving the new Mustang.

“In Your Own Interest” Explores Racial Problems

Monday, May 20, marked the start of one of the most ambitious community action projects ever undertaken to alleviate racial tensions in a major city.

More than 300,000 Detroit-area people are being mobilized into structured discussion groups that will meet in private homes throughout southeastern Michigan. The entire project is keyed to five special prime-time programs which will be televised by WWJ-TV Monday evenings during May and June from 7:30 to 8:00 PM.

The WWJ-TV series, titled “In Your Own Interest,” is being produced in cooperation with the Interfaith Action Council—an organization representing the Metropolitan Detroit Council of Churches, the Roman Catholic Archdiocese of Detroit, the Jewish Community Council and other important religious groups.

The first program examined the “Alternative to Fear” (May 20); the second, “Them” (May 27). The following month WWJ-TV will present “Power” (June 10); “Power Shared” (June 17); and “What You Can Do” (June 24).

Besides analyzing citizens' attitudes and reactions to the racial crisis threatening Detroit and America, the “In Your Own Interest” series presents these sharply-defined points of view.

—The white community must choose between repressing black unrest or accepting its share of responsibility for much of the current agitation.

—There are advantages and disadvantages to both self-determination and integration as goals for the Negro community.

—Violence cannot build a better society. The community cannot and will not tolerate coercion and mob rule.

More than 1,200 churches and synagogues are supporting the massive drive to organize groups that will watch and discuss each program. This attempt to achieve effective two-way communication constitutes what is possibly the largest “town hall” effort ever conceived.

Each group will include a qualified discussion leader. The findings of these groups will dictate the content of the last program, which will pin-point specific actions the average citizen can take to help achieve racial harmony. Emmy-Award winner Arthur Alpert, on leave from the Public Broadcast Laboratory of National Educational Television, is Executive Producer of the series. Robert Buchanan, head of the Audio/Visual department of the Small Business Administration in Washington, is Producer. WWJ-TV's Victor Hurwitz serves as director.

The “In Your Own Interest” programs and discussions are financed by a special grant from the New Detroit Committee, by the denominations represented in the Interfaith Action Council and by WWJ-TV.

What's the younger generation coming to? You.

Give a kid a job this summer.

There are thousands of kids all over the Metropolitan Detroit area who are ready and willing to work. But they need someone willing to give them a start. Someone like you.

You've probably got a place in your business that used to go to a bright young college kid with nothing else to do. But for the kids we're talking about, there's nothing to do, period.

So give a needy kid a job this summer. A real job. Not just to cut the grass every Friday or to clean out your stockroom on week-ends. But a job that'll start him off right in the world. A job that'll give him an idea of what business is all about. And a job that'll give you some pretty good help in the bargain.

Give the younger generation something good to come to. Give a kid a job this summer.

If you can use ten, a hundred,
or just one good worker...
