

Council OK's Open Housing Unanimously

An audience of nearly 50 citizens attended a public hearing on open housing Monday night and most applauded as the Northville city council voted 4-0 to approve the ordinance.

One councilmember, Wallace Nichols, arrived too late for the hearing and therefore did not vote on the ordinance. He stated after the meeting that he would have voted "yes."

The motion for approval of the ordinance was made by Councilman Del Black and supported by Charles Lapham. Mayor A. M. Allen and Councilwoman Beatrice Carlson joined Black and Lapham in casting affirmative votes.

The legislation, which has brought strong citizen reaction both for and against in several Michigan communities, passed with hardly a ripple. The hearing lasted only 15 minutes before the vote was taken.

Mayor Allen called upon City Attorney Marvin Stempien to explain the ordinance and then opened the hearing to comments from the floor.

Stempien explained that the ordinance prohibits discrimination in the sale, leasing or rental of real property because of race, color, religion, national origin or ancestry. It also prohibits discrimination in lending, he noted, as well as discrimination in terms or privileges, publication which indicates certain preference based upon race, color, religion, national origin or ancestry, false or misleading statements, or inducement of violation of provisions of the ordinance.

The attorney explained that an exception to the ordinance would be a person renting or leasing three or less housing units in a dwelling house in which the owner or members of his immediate family resides. He pointed out that the exception related only to the "leasing or renting", not selling of the property.

Stempien also emphasized that "the free market place is still free" and a seller can "discriminate" in the sense that he can sell property to the highest bidder.

He noted that the ordinance carries the standard penalty for a misdemeanor in the city of Northville, a 90-day jail sentence and/or a fine not to exceed $500.

The attorney also pointed out that the council had included as its final section in the ordinance the standard provision for bringing the test of an ordinance to the vote of the people. This section provides that "this ordinance shall become operative and effective when adopted, but may be made null and void by referendum vote of a majority of the electors voting in a referendum election thereon which shall be held upon filing with the clerk a referendatory petition, addressed to the Council, signed by not less than 250 registered electors of the City as of the date of filing the petition which signatures shall have been obtained within twenty-one days before the date of filing the petition."

In answer to a question from the audience asking if a local open housing ordinance is now necessary "since the state has adopted an ordinance", the city attorney noted that the state legislation had not yet been signed by the Governor and was therefore not a law.

"Certainly it will be signed", agreed Stempien, "but I'd still strongly recommend a local ordinance," he stated.

Stempien explained that this is the purpose of "home rule"—to adopt local ordinances that parallel state ordinances so that the local community can control enforcement.

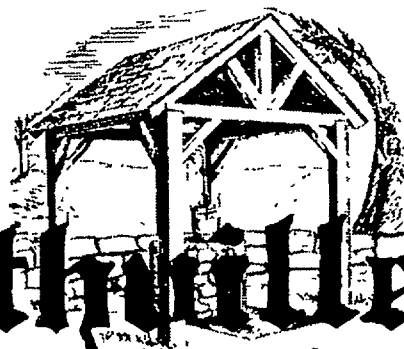

"If there is no local ordinance, the county prosecutor must be called to handle a case in behalf of the state. City ordinance violations are handled by the city attorney and tried in our local court," Stempien explained.

Northville Township Next?

One night following the city council's adoption of an open housing ordinance the Northville township board voted unanimously to consider a similar ordinance.

Monday School Ballot: Two Mills, Two Seats

Names of seven candidates, a 2-mill proposition, and a proposal to change Northville from a fourth class to a third class school district will appear on the ballot Monday when voters go to the polls in the annual June election.

Voters will cast their ballots in the board of education building (old junior high school) in the boys' gymnasium from 7 a.m. to 8 p.m. A total of 4,799 persons are registered to vote.

Only two of the seven candidates will be elected to three-year terms. One is for the post of Incumbent President Eugene K. Cook, who seeks re-election; and the other is for the post of James Kipfer, who is not seeking re-election.

Besides Cook, the other candidates are Robert E. Deisley, Reginald DuRex Holloman, Roger E. Rinaldi, Dr. Orlo J. Robinson, John J. Searles and Robert A. Stenger.

Board members whose terms are not expiring include Vice-President Stanley Johnston, Secretary Glenn E. Deibert, Treasurer Richard Martin, and Trustee Robert Froelich and Andrew Orphan.

Probably capturing most attention and perhaps generating more controversy than either the board election or the third class proposal is the proposition asking voters to approve or disapprove a 2-mill increase for operation of the school system.

The proposed increase would boost the total levy for both operation and debt retirement to 34.90 mills.

Coming on the heels of the state income tax and increasing property assessments, particularly in the township, the board of education took a long, hard look at the school's financial picture before deciding unananimously to ask voters to approve the millage hike.

The two-mill increase represents what board members consider to be a minimal increase in view of spiralling costs that reportedly far exceed anticipated additional revenue from state aid and the ballooning state equalized valuation of the school district. Neither increase in revenues from these areas nor the proposed 2-mill increase is seen as adequate to cover initial contract demands of the Northville Teacher Association.

Herein lies another dilemma for the board: faced with the task of developing a budget before all costs are known and not wishing to jeopardize collective bargaining, board members had to strike a compromise and guestimate the approximate cost of the final contract settlement without tipping their hand to the teacher negotiation team.

Thus, the board has provided for an increase of $212,677 for instructional purposes and $86,921 increase for all other purposes in its proposed 1968-69 budget of $2,193,303. The total amount budgeted for instructional purpose is $1,597,545 compared to $1,384,868 in the 1967-68 budget.

Despite the increase in instructional outlay in the new budget, the cost percentage of instruction in the proposed budget is down from 73.13 to 72.92.

The equalized valuation of the district, up from $43,044,944 to $49,983,910, will—taken together with state aid—generate $1,376,476 in revenue, according to school officials, for a total income of $2,092,303. The additional two mills, if approved, will bring in another $101,000, hopefully balancing the budget at $2,193,303.

Interestingly, this marks the first year in which the assessed valuation of Northville Township exceeds the City of Northville, according to Business Manager Earl Busard. The valuation of the township is $23,443,240, while the valuation of the city is $19,866,470.

As for the proposal to change Northville to a third class district, school officials point to a number of specific advantages but the key, they say, is that the present fourth-class status is the "bottom rung on the educational" ladder and occasionally legislation is adopted or proposed that bypasses this district or that is less advantageous than for third class.

All Township Officials Face Election in Fall

All township officials were ordered this week by Wayne County Clerk Edgar M. Branigan to file petitions by June 18 for the August 6 primary election, regardless of when their terms expire.

Northville Township Clerk Eleanor Hammond said the order came through "pending a last minute decision by the state attorney general's office."

If the attorney general would rule that township officials elected in 1966 are entitled to serve until November, 1970, only Trustee James Tellam's seat will be up for election in November.

It seems more likely, however, that the ruling will come down calling for all township officials to stand for election again this fall. All terms—trustees and supervisor, clerk and treasurer—would then be two years only and all seven board members would run for election each even-numbered year in November.

The confusion developed when the new state constitution was adopted changing township elections from April to November and making all terms of office of two years' duration. With the exception of Tellam all Northville township officials were elected for two-year terms in November, 1966, but their previous terms extended until April, 1967—and newly elected officials did not take office until April,

Appointment Postponed

The Northville township board decided Tuesday night to defer action on the appointment of a trustee to fill the vacancy created when Trustee Gunnar Stromberg was named supervisor to succeed the late R. D. Merriam.

Board members agreed that in the light of the uncertainty surrounding the extension of terms of all board offices that it would be unwise to make an immediate appointment.

It was suggested that an appointment might come later, however, from candidates who file for the August primary. The board had been considering a list of four possible appointees when the decision to delay action was reached.

1967 even though elected in November, 1966.

The question then became: could their terms be extended from April, 1967 to November, 1970? or should they be abbreviated to less than two years and extend only to November, 1968?

One circuit court ruling of record states that terms cannot be extended beyond the two-year limit as elected. The attorney general, however, has not made an official ruling on the issue.

The action means that Northville township Democrats and Republicans have 12 days to file petitions for four trustee posts and supervisor, clerk, treasurer offices.

Deadline for filing is Tuesday, June 18 at 4 p.m. Petitions, which must contain at least 20 signatures of qualified electors, are now available at township hall offices.

To date two petitions have been taken out for the position of trustee on the township board. Petitions have been filed by Allan Maltby, 15930 Marilyn, and are now being circulated for Incumbent Trustee Tellam. Both are Republicans.

RFK Out of Surgery

Senator Robert F. Kennedy, critically wounded by a would-be assassin early Wednesday morning, was reportedly showing signs of improvement at 11 a.m. following surgery in a Los Angeles hospital.

The Senator was shot in the head shortly after making a victory speech in California where Tuesday he garnered 46 percent of the Democratic presidential primary vote compared to Senator Eugene McCarthy's 42-percent.

Shot while walking through the Ambassador Hotel amidst cheering well-wishers shortly after Midnight (Pacific Time), he was rushed to the hospital where a half-dozen doctors removed a 22-caliber bullet fired from a pistol. A young suspect, unidentified immediately, was arrested.

It was just 4½ years ago that the Senator's brother, the late President John F. Kennedy, was assassinated at Dallas, Texas.

99th NHS Class Graduates Monday

Diplomas will be presented to the 247 members of Northville's 99th high school graduating class in commencement exercises at 8 p.m. Monday in the high school gymnasium.

This will be the last Northville high school graduation to include students from the Novi School District since the new Novi kindergarten-through-twelve program will be in operation next year. This year's class includes 76 tuition students from Novi.

A baccalaureate service will be held in the high school gymnasium at 8 p.m. Sunday. Following the program Monday evening, parents of the graduates will honor them with a traditional all-night party.

At the commencement program the Reverend Charles F. Boerger will give the invocation following the class processional and singing of the "Star Spangled Banner."

The valedictory address will be given by Charles Keegan, and the salutatory, by Diane Holdsworth. After remarks by Superintendent of Schools Raymond E. Spear, the class will be presented by Principal Fred Holdsworth for diplomas, which will be given by Eugene Cook, Northville board of education president.

The Reverend John J. Fricke, II, is to give the benediction. Playing for the program will be the Northville high school band under the direction of Robert Williams.

The baccalaureate address Sunday evening is to be given by the Reverend S. D. Kinde, who will speak on "Str

What You've Got!"

The class processional led by Linda Johnson and Pamela Smith will open the service at which the Reverend Father John Wittstock will give the invocation. Selections by the high school choir are to follow. It will be accompanied by Stacey Evans and Linda Johnson.

Reverend Wittstock will give the scripture reading. The benediction is to be given by the Reverend Robert Spradling. Pamela Smith and Linda Johnson then will lead the class recessional.

"Aloha '68" is the theme of the graduates' party Monday at the high school where parents are creating "a bit of Hawaii." This final evening spent with their classmates has become a part of Northville's traditional graduation events.

Planned since March, the party will feature a WKNR disc jockey, and throughout the evening and early morning there will be entertainment and drawings for door prizes.

The parent committee asks that parents of graduates who have not yet contributed their five dollars please do so as the money is needed. Checks should be made payable to Northville high school, senior class party fund, and should be mailed to Mrs. John Hahn, 464 Welch.

All classes in Northville schools will close for the year at the end of the day next Wednesday.

School Ends Friday At OLV, St. Paul's

Both Our Lady of Victory and St. Paul's Lutheran church schools will end their school year this Friday.

Eighth grade graduation ceremonies at St. Paul's will be held at 7:30 p.m. today in the church parish hall with the congregation invited to attend.

Heading the graduating class of five are Lois Rodenbeck, valedictorian, and Laurel Wroten, salutatorian. Others in the class are Parker Irey, Lorri Boerger and Cheryl Neff. They will receive diplomas from a member of the church board of education. Pastor Ralph Unger of St. Timothy Lutheran church of Detroit is to be the commencement speaker.

At 8:45 a.m. Friday there will be a closing service for students in the church. Friday evening at 5:30 p.m. a potluck school picnic for St. Paul students and their families will be held at Cass Benton Park.

Our Lady of Victory pupils will report from 9:15 to 9:30 a.m. Friday to pick up their report cards.

Graduation Mass will be at noon Saturday followed by a brunch for the

The annual picnic of the Farmington Alumnae Association of Delta Gamma will be held at 6:30 p.m. Saturday, June 8, at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Jones, 27650 Terrence, Livonia.

The picnic, to which members bring their husbands as well as meat and table service, will conclude the group's activities for the year.

A former Northville resident, Mrs. Gladys V. Beasley, who has been a patient at St. Joseph Mercy Hospital, Ann Arbor, for more than two weeks, is hoping to hear from long-time friends here. She is in room 435.

The family moved from Northville to Durand in 1949, and Mrs. Beasley has been living at 503 South Oak Street, Durand.

Hospital Plans

3rd Art Show

Third annual arts and crafts show featuring work of patients at Northville State Hospital will be given Friday for patients, Saturday and Sunday for the public at Northville First Presbyterian Church.

Work created by patients during the past year, including sculpture, oils, water colors and pastels, will be displayed in the fellowship hall at the church. Mrs. Shirley Ford, art therapist at the hospital, is show coordinator. The work has been done by the young adults of H building.

Assisting with the show is Mrs. Howard Meyer, Jr., president of the church women's association, which will serve refreshments Friday, Patients' Day, from 9:30 a.m. to 4 p.m. Mrs. Ford explains that patients will be bussed to the show at intervals all during the day.

Saturday the show will be open to the public from 10 a.m. until 4 p.m. with local Girl Scouts serving refreshments. Sunday show hours are 10:30 a.m. to 4 p.m.

HOSPITAL ART SHOW PREVIEW—Watching a young adult art student at Northville State Hospital complete work on a show piece which will be in the arts and crafts exhibit this week end at Northville Presbyterian Church are Carol Dyer, left, one of the girl scouts serving refreshments Saturday; Mrs. Howard Meyer, Jr., president of the Presbyterian Women's Association; Timothy Johnson, assistant church pastor; and Dr. K. C. Nair, hospital section chief of H building young adults unit. All works to be on display were created in the art therapy program during the past year at the hospital.

IN VILLAGE HOOKING BEE—Mrs. Jack Scantlin,

46287 Pickford, displays the eagle-design rug she will enter in the Greenfield Village display this Sunday. She is one of more than 40 experienced rug hookers in the Detroit area invited to demonstrate their craft beginning at 10 a.m. Sunday on the Village Green. A lecture on "The Therapeutic Value of Rug Hooking" is scheduled for 1 p.m. (See In Our Town.)

In Our Town

By JEAN DAY

A GROUP OF NORTHVILLE women who have become "creative hookers" during the past winter has been invited to participate in the fourth annual Hooking Bee at Greenfield Village from 10 a.m. to 5 p.m. next Sunday, June 9.

They will don calico gowns and ruffled dust caps to re-create a mood of yesteryear as they set up hooking frames on the lawn in front of the village town hall.

Part of the fun, relates Mrs. Jack Scantlin who originated the hooking group in Northville, is the interest of visitors with men and teenagers as fascinated as women in this old-time craft.

Mrs. Scantlin, who lives at 46287 Pickford, began her rug hooking under Mrs. Helen Talant of Royal Oak about six years ago when the family lived in that community. Mrs. Talant, an acknowledged expert, helped set up the original hooking bee at Greenfield Village four years ago with Robert Kaiser who demonstrates the old art in the Village cotton gin. The initial event was such a success that it is repeated annually.

This year Mrs. Scantlin, who has been invited to participate each year, will enter her almost-completed rug in the judged competition. The rug is a gold eagle design on a medium blue field. As a true artist, she "blends and paints" with thin strands of fine wool fabric that she has dyed with special dyes. She explains that she usually dyes six shades of each color used in creating her shadings.

She is hoping the Northville neighbors and friends she has interested in working with the little wooden-handled crochet-like hooks will join her next Sunday. In event of rain they will demonstrate inside the town hall.

Meeting together to hook on Tuesdays have been Mrs. E. O. Weber, Mrs. John Frew, Mrs. Orin Hove, Mrs. Charles Skene, Mrs. L. H. Robertson and Mrs. John Balkwill. Mrs. Bruce Scott of Plymouth also has joined the Northville group.

Some of the members of the hooking group began learning the craft the old-fashioned way, experimenting on a small piece of material that could later become a utilitarian door-step as it covered a common brick. Mrs. Scantlin enthusiastically invites anyone interested in this craft to visit the hooking bee to see what has been accomplished by expert hookers from the Detroit area.

THE "SOMETHING OLD" studied by the Base Line Chapter of Questers at its final meeting of the season last Monday was China. From her family collection Mrs. E. A. Chapman illustrated her paper on old china with examples of ironstone, lusterware, Limoge and others that had belonged to her grandmother and great-grandmother.

Mrs. C. O. Brosius was hostess to the group at her new home in Milford.

Mrs. Charles Ely succeeded Mrs. Paul Beard as president of the antiques chapter. Other new officers elected for the coming year are Mrs. Thomas Lovett, first vice-president (programs); Mrs. Robert Bretz, second vice-president (trips); Mrs. Harry Deyo, corresponding secretary; Mrs. William Crump, recording secretary; Mrs. Orin Hove, treasurer; and Mrs. Robert Froelich, historian.

MARATHON BRIDGE competition winners are announced, this week by Northville Mothers' Club, sponsors of the benefit which started play last September and continued monthly through May.

Seven leagues of ten couples each and two duplicate bridge leagues were in play. Highest scores in the competition were earned by Mrs. Paul Hughes and Mrs. Robert Lang, who tallied 32,470 points.

They led daytime league I with Mrs. Claude Crusoe and Mrs. W. L. Howard taking second honors in that league followed by Mrs. Stuart Campbell and Mrs. Gerald Daub in third place.

Mrs. Edward Hodge and Mrs. W. B. Heffner were first place winners in day league II followed by Mrs. Orson Atchison and Mrs. William Weidner; and Mrs. F. F. Ishac and Mrs. Fay Waldren.

Mrs. Blake Couse and Mrs. William Siebert won in day league III followed by Mrs. Charles Fountain, Mrs. Ben Kline; Mrs. Calvin Chen, Mrs. Gale Calhoun.

Duplicate I winners were Mr. and Mrs. James McCormick with 371 points in nine games, followed by Mr. and Mrs. Paul Hughes and Mr. and Mrs. Robert Lang. Duplicate II winners were Mr. and Mrs. Paul Butz, 301½ points in eight games, followed by Mr. and Mrs. Donald Schwendemann and Mr. and Mrs. Edward Langtry.

Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Crupi won 29,890 points as winners of night group V in regular marathon, highest score among the four night leagues. They were followed by Mr. and Mrs. Robert Horner and Mr. and Mrs. George Murany in their league.

Night group III winners were Mr. and Mrs. David Goss, Mr. and Mrs. Alec Johnson and Mr. and Mrs. Greg Penrod; Group IV, Mr. and Mrs. Glenn Jordan, Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Hubbard, Dr. and Mrs. W. L. Howard; Group VI, Mr. and Mrs. Fred Laird, Mr. and Mrs. Bruce Turnbull, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Ollendorff.

In announcing the winners Mrs. Bernard Bach, marathon chairman, noted that from the 178 players 14 of the announced winners this year have won before. This concludes the fifth year of marathon in Northville.

Profits from the nine months' play in which competing couples play monthly in each others' homes is used to benefit the schools.

MR. AND MRS. DAVID WARREN GILBERT

DR. AND MRS. CHARLES W. HALL

Northville Girl Marries Ann Arbor Doctor Here

In an evening ceremony at the First Methodist Church of Northville Deborah Lyn Older became the bride of Dr. Charles W. Hall. The Reverend S. D. Kinde officiated at the May 24 ceremony.

The bride is the daughter of Mrs. Louise D. Older, 929 Novi, and D. Drake Older of Highland Park. The bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Allen R. Hall of Elizabeth, New Jersey.

The bride's gown of cloudwhite silk organza was floor-length, fashioned on A-lines with the front accented from wedding-band collar to hemline with a double row of fine Swiss embroidery. The long, puffed sleeves were gathered into wide cuffs of matching embroidery and fastened at the wrists with tiny buttons. The chapel-length panel train, which fell from the shoulders, also was centered with a single row of the Swiss embroidery extending the length of the train.

A large Dior bow of matching Swiss embroidered fabric held a shoulder-length illusion veil. The bridal bouquet was lilies of the valley and stephanotis.

Shirley Weygandt, maid of honor, Rebecca Worn and Emily Canterbury, bridesmaids, wore floor-length gowns of floral print, overlaid with pale green silk organza.

Dr. Gene Lewis was best man, and

Dr. Earl Feringa and James Bennett were ushers.

For the wedding and reception following at, the bride's home the bride's mother wore a pink Thai silk sheath and hat of matching fabric. The bridegroom's mother wore a turquoise chiffon dress fashioned with a beaded lace yoke. Her hat matched.

Following a week's trip to the coast of North Carolina the newlyweds will live in Ann Arbor for a month. Dr. Hall is a resident in neurology at University Hospital at present. He will be leaving for Vietnam in mid-August where he will be stationed with the United States Army.

The new Mrs. Hall is a senior and an honor student in the University of Michigan college of nursing and expects to receive her degree in December.

In a double ring ceremony at the First United Methodist Church of Northville May 25 Margaret Ann Becker, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. C. Becker of 543 Dubuar, became the bride of David Warren Gilbert.

The bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Ronald W. Gilbert of Angola, Indiana. The Reverend S. D. Kinde officiated at the late afternoon ceremony, which was followed by a buffet supper in the church hall.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore an Empire-waisted gown of white taffeta, fashioned with a portrait neckline and long chapel sleeves that extended over the wrists in points. A band of floral-patterned white cotton lace formed an apron-effect design. Her full-length illusion veil was held by a stephanotis headpiece. She carried a spray arrangement of gardenias, stephanotis and ivy.

Katy Beard was maid of honor and the bride's sisters, Cristie and Merilee, were bridesmaids. All wore pale yellow gowns, styled with Empire waists and tiny cap sleeves. They wore white gloves and daisy headdresses that held yellow veils. Their flowers were daisies.

Steve C. Gilbert of Muncie, Indiana, the bridegroom's brother, was his best man. Another brother, Bruce of Angola, and the bride's brother, Gary, ushered.

Out-of-town guests attended from Georgia, Vermont, Indiana, Kansas and Canada.

After a wedding trip to Northern Michigan the newlyweds are making their home in Detroit.

The bride, a 1966 Northville High School graduate, is a junior at Wayne State University where her husband is doing graduate work. He received a B.A. degree in speech from DePauw University and is a Phi Gamma Delta. He is now with Fireman's Fund American Insurance Companies.

Garden Club Meets Monday

Members of the Northville Branch of the Woman's National Farm and Garden Association will gather in a woodland setting—the country gardens of Mrs. Werner Hess, 20300 Spring Lane, at 12:30 p.m. Monday, June 10.

Appropriately, the program will be on "Wildflowers." It is to be given by Walter Van Dien, conservation education specialist with the Michigan State University extension service. He received his bachelor's degree from MSU and his master's in wildlife management from Cornell University.

Mrs. Frank Whitmyer is chairman for the day, assisted by Mrs. John Begle, Mrs. Charles Brosius and Mrs. Hiram Pacific.

Judge Canham Upholds Wayne County Districting

"You've been sitting on your rights too long," Judge James Canham of the Wayne county circuit court ruled Tuesday as he granted a summary judgment supporting the new 26-district plan for Wayne county.

Specifically, Judge Canham's decision means that county supervisors will be elected from 26 districts divided on a population basis in Wayne county. More importantly, it means that candidates must file by June 18 for the August 6 primary election. The supervisors will be elected on a partisan party basis.

As newly constituted, the new board of supervisors will be reduced from its present 130-membership to 26 members. Presently, each city and township has a supervisor on the board. Under the new one man-one vote plan Northville, for example, will elect a supervisor from a district including the city and township of Plymouth and Northville and Livonia and Canton township.

Presently, Northville is represented on the Wayne county board of supervisors by Mayor A. M. Allen and Township Supervisor Gunnar Stromberg, and on the Oakland county board by Sydney Frid.

Attorney General Frank Kelly ruled this week that elected supervisors cannot hold city or township offices. Therefore any such office holders seeking county supervisor positions would be forced to resign their local seats if elected.

The decision Tuesday by Judge Canham came as the result of a suit filed by John Canfield, mayor of Dearborn Heights and chairman of the Wayne county board of supervisors. Canfield's suit did not dispute the one-man one-vote principle, but charged that the 26 district plan in Wayne county was illegally constituted.

Judge Canham ruled that Canfield had waited too long to take action.

The decision by Judge Canham supported the position taken by Northville City Attorney Marvin Stempien, who prompted the court trial by seeking petitions to run for supervisor from this district. Stempien was denied petitions by the county clerk because no ruling had been made providing for the 26-district plan.

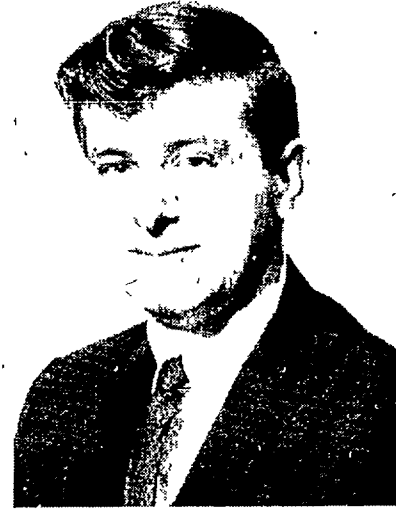

"I have no plans to run for supervisor," Stempien said Tuesday. "I pressed to require enforcement of the law because I was involved in drafting the legislation and getting it passed in 1966," explained the ex-state legislator.

Newcomers Off to Races

"A Night at the Downs" is being planned by Northville Newcomers Club for Saturday, June 22, with post time at 8 p.m.

The success of the club's first venture at the track last summer led to the scheduling of this season's outing, Mrs. Kent Mathes, club president, announced. A highlight of last year's outing, she added, was a special race in the club's honor.

This year's party will be preceded by a cocktail get-together from 6 to 7:30 p.m. at the home of the Frank Ollendorffs, 444 East Street.

After the races the group will go to the home of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Zillich, 340 Sherrie Lane. Reservations for the evening should be made by June 17 with Mrs. Ollendorff, 349-0794.

This Saturday evening Newcomers and their husbands will have their annual June dinner-dance at Lofy's in Plymouth, gathering first at the home of the Walter Carters.

Northville Candidates Speak Up on Two Issues

Following are answers to questions asked of each of the candidates for the Northville Board of Education. The questions are: 1. What is your position on the school's request for two additional mills? 2. The school board is currently considering the possible sale of the community building for revenues for other building purposes. Do you have an opinion on this matter?

EUGENE K. COOK

Resident of Northville 8½ years, he is married and has three children, lives at 118 South Ely Drive, received a mechanical engineering degree from General Motors Institute, is employed as sales engineer for the Detroit Diesel Division of General Motors Corporation, was member of the City Planning Commission three years, board of directors of Northville Area Development Corporation, PTA membership chairman and president of Amerman P-TA and PTA area council.

1. As a member of the Board of Education, I was part of the unanimous vote to put this question on the ballot. I wholeheartedly support the need for these additional operating funds and urge your "Yes" vote.

An article appears in this issue of the Record by Mr. Busard, Business Manager. The last three issues have had articles by Miss Panattoni, Mr. Spear and myself and each of these articles discussed reasons why the additional two mills is needed. In summary these reasons are:

1. Continue our "Program of Excellence."
2. Provide expanded courses for the gifted student, for the average student, and for the vocationally oriented.
3. Provide for as much individualized instruction as possible.
4. Provide a salary structure that is fair and competitive for teachers, administrators, and support personnel.
5. Maintain our facilities, buildings, buses.
6. Provide more supplies and teaching aids to support the special equipment purchased over the last two years.

We have maintained a "better than average" program in Northville for many years. In the last few years, we have made giant strides in all the above areas. Only with your support can we continue this program to improve methods, course structure, salaries, etc., in the future.

2. The utilization of the community building whether it be by selling for commercial use, expansion of Northville city facilities, expansion of the library, operation by the City-Township Recreation Department, or other use is only part of the future concerns of your Board of Education. It does not appear that the Community Building will be needed for instructional purposes by the Northville Public Schools. With the numerous subdivision plans under way and actual building in our district, an expansion of classrooms is imminent.

At a joint meeting of the Board of Education with the City Council on May 27, it was decided to establish a committee to explore "the utilization" of this facility. I consider "selling the building" as only one alternative, and as mentioned, there are other alternatives. By late this year, after the committee has examined the alternatives, the Board of Education must decide on the utilization of this property to serve the best interests of the greatest number of people in our community.

ROBERT E. DEISLEY

Age 51, raised in Detroit, a resident of Northville four years, is married and has three children, lives at 936 Allen Drive, employed as director of purchasing for the Masco Corporation, studied at the University of Michigan and was graduated from

1. Concerning the two mill increase requested by the Board, I must confess to a certain admiration for a group who can show this restraint. It would have been so easy to ask for five or six mills and then waste them that I must conclude the Board acted with civic responsibility in mind. It appears to me that because of this small request, the Board will once again, at election time, have to ask for additional millage, but they apparently have reached the conclusion that the people who pay the taxes in Northville have grown up, and it is no longer necessary to play games with the voters.

I will vote for the two mill increase, and I think that everyone in Northville should do so with a sigh of relief. The fact that we will have to pay a further increase at the next election will be tempered by the fact that we apparently have a fiscally responsible Board of Education.

2. As pertains to the community building, I must admit that I am opposed. The School Board may not need it, but it is my experience that it is always easy to sell property and it is extremely difficult to buy it. If the community center is to be used for private purposes, it should not be sold outright, but it should be retained on lease, and the lease should be an escalation type where recovery is possible by the lessor in a relatively short time, five or ten years. Naturally, I am quite open to any logical arguments that are presented, but I do know from bitter experience that no thing of value should ever be sold in the year 1968 unless it is paid for at the rate of 1975.

REGINALD D. HOLLOMAN

Age 45, born in Kentucky, attended school in Kentucky and Detroit, moved to Northville 20 years ago, is married and has three children, lives at 320 Orchard Drive, studied two years at the University of Kentucky, employed by the Wayne County Road Commission, served with the Army Medical Corps during World War II, is a past commander of American Legion Lloyd H. Green Post 147 and past Chief de Gare of the 40&8.

1. I have resided in the City of Northville for twenty (20) years and have witnessed a tremendous growth from a small, sleepy village, into the present confines of the city.

With the population increasing, new subdivisions being planned in the school district, (meaning additional schools), the need for adequate personnel to maintain our present levels of teaching and to upgrade our programs, and to maintain our present facilities, I feel we need the additional two mills. If we do not have it, we might be unable to carry on our present programs for our students, nor will we be able to add curricula which will be beneficial to our students to meet the challenges of the adult world.

I firmly believe the budget should be reviewed for the purpose of channeling monies to the best interest of all concerned, teachers, students and taxpayers. To use common sense in disbursements of monies received, and as citizens of this school district to come forward with a better plan for financing all school districts, through State Aid, to help alleviate the taxpayer of some of his burdens.

2. The community building was purchased from monies laid aside by the Race Track Interests, and supplemented by the General Fund (Taxpayer's Monies) of the Village of Northville, as it was felt the village needed a community building for various activities. A few years later, the schools needed additional space and the community building was sold to the school district.

As to the selling of the school property, I feel that the issue should be brought before the voters if the community building is to be sold. Also, if it is agreed by all persons concerned to sell, I would insist the money be placed in abeyance for new construction only. Also, that the property would not be sold to any commercial interests that would jeopardize the health, safety and morale of the children attending Main Street Elementary School.

ROGER E. RINALDI

Age 36, resident of school district three years, is married and has three children, lives at 1076 Grace Court, is division manager of quality assurance for the National Seal Division of the Federal Mogul Corporation, received BS degree in engineering from Duke University in 1957, MBA degree in 1963 from Northern Illinois University, is a past candidate for the school board.

1. The question of whether additional revenue should be given to the Northville School System can hardly be debated. One has only to look around his own personal setting to answer the question. Consider just the fact that the school enrollment is increasing. New classes and new teachers will be needed. New teaching equipment and additional facilities will be required. In one's own life, as his family grows and he tends to improve his standard of living, his economic needs increase. Thus, one cannot deny the need for increased revenues.

The underlying problem involved in this issue, however, is not whether additional funds are needed, but where they are going to come from. The average citizen of Northville, or any other town for that fact, is sooner or later going to rebel against the ever increasing tax burden. The Federal Government is talking about a 10 percent tax increase, the State has started an income tax within the past year, the town has increased its tax demands by 3.8 mills, and the schools are asking for two more mills. When does it stop? Probably never. What is needed are additional sources of revenue besides the citizens of Northville. What is being done to bring industry or other tax resources into the Northville area? Have we investigated the possibility of requiring land developers to build schools in the new subdivisions and distribute the cost equally into the selling price of the new homes? Are the Federal, State, County and other city governments paying their fair share in taxes for land they are utilizing within the school district? These are but a few possible sources of income. There are probably more, all of which must be thoroughly investigated. Again, one does not deny the need for funds, but must it always be the citizens of Northville that have to pay?

2. The sale of the Community Building as a source of income is a one time only revenue. After the building is sold and the funds are used, the value of the building to the school system is zero. Perhaps a better plan of action may be to renovate the building and use it for additional classrooms. Although the rooms may not be as desirable as those of some of our newer buildings, they may still be useable. If this concept is not workable, perhaps the building can be used for some other purpose of the school system. Could it have been used to house the new pool? Can some of the vocational classes be transferred there? Can school system offices be placed there? The point in question here really is how can this building best serve the school system, particularly considering future needs. After a complete study has been made, and the public informed of the results, the building should be disposed of or used accordingly. But before we get carried away with selling it, let's first make a thorough study.

Dr. ORLO J. ROBINSON

Age 46, son of a teacher and a school administrator, has been a resident here 20 years, is married and has four children, lives at 718 West Main Street, received his bachelor's degree from Eastern Michigan University and his medical degree from Wayne State University, has been practicing medicine since 1946, served as an Air Force flight surgeon, member Washtenaw County, Michigan and American Medical Associations and the American Academy of General Practice.

1. I'm afraid there is no other choice but to seek the additional millage if we are to maintain the present school program. However, in conjunction with this increase the school board should consider ways of improving its program—ways which would not necessarily mean further increases in taxes. For example, I believe better utilization of the present facilities is an absolute necessity. Personally, I favor a 12-month school program which would more fully utilize our school buildings. Another area which concerns me is teacher salaries. Annual salary increments are necessary. However, I believe some kind of merit system should be built into the salary schedule so that instructional excellence—as opposed to longevity—is the key to salary advancement.

2. It seems to me that the location of the community building is ideally suited for utilization as perhaps a school addition or as administrative offices. The building is structurally sound, has ample parking space, and is adjacent to present school facilities. The school board would be hard pressed to duplicate such a building with monies they might receive from its sale and, most likely, few school buildings could be better situated. I believe the board should explore what might be done architecturally to the building to make it more useful for school purposes rather than consider selling it. And even if sale is to be considered it should not jeopardize the lease arrangements the school board now has with Schoolcraft College and the Mothers' Club.

JOHN J. SEARLES

Age 39, born in Canada and raised in Detroit where he attended school, a resident of Northville four years, is married and has five children, lives at 370 Welch Road, employed as engineer for the Ford Motor Company, past member of the Society of Automotive Engineers, served four years in the United States Navy.

1. I'm against the two-mill proposal and I will vote against it. Number one, I am convinced the board can and should exercise a little more economy of operation without damaging the system's educational needs. Secondly, effectively the school district has an escalating factor built into its budget through the State Equalized Valuation. Furthermore, contrary to the opinion of some, assessed valuations of the district are not at 50-percent. Therefore, if assessments are raised to true market value the district can obtain additional funds without going to the voters. While it is true that the school board has nothing to do with establishing assessments, it can pressure the assessing governmental units to raise assessments to the legal 50-percent level.

2. It's difficult to answer this question unless you know the operational loss versus revenues received. To date I have been unable to learn what these losses or revenues might be. Possibly, if operation of the building is resulting in no loss money to the district, present physical needs may dictate retention of the building.

ROBERT A. STENGER

Age 38, a resident of Northville for three years, is married and has five children, lives at 21326 Summerside Court, is dean of academic instruction at Schoolcraft College, received his bachelor's degree from Eastern Michigan University, his master's degree also from Eastern, and has had additional work at Wayne State University and the University of Michigan, served in the Army.

1. I intend to vote for the two mills. I feel that with the increase in cost of living, and particularly operating costs for schools, two mills is probably a very conservative asking increase for operating funds.

However, I feel that other avenues for operating funds should be explored. Perhaps lobbying for state legislation as a means of increasing operating funds would be one method. For school systems to maintain status quo, not to mention striving for excellence, they must constantly be building up their operational funds.

2. The school board is currently considering the sale of the Community center building for revenue or other building needs.

I am confident that the present administrators and the school board have investigated all the possibilities of use of this building and the possible sale. I am also sure that they are aware of increased costs in building, and to replace a building of this size and type would be extremely costly.

Not being in a position to be aware of all facts, I can only assume that the board is following a course of action leading to a logical conclusion.

Feted at Dinner

A special retirement dinner, sponsored by the Northville Education Association Monday night, was a "huge success" marred only by the fact that one of the honorees—Edward Mollema—was unable to attend because of a mild heart attack suffered last week.

The dinner, held at the Thunderbird Inn, honored Mollema, social studies teacher who is retiring after 31 years in the school system; Harry Smith, principal of Main Street Elementary School and former teacher and athletic director for 27 years; and Charles Yahne, English and foreign language teacher for 28 years.

Each of the retirees were presented with plaques by George Berryman, president of the association, and gifts. Former High School Principal, Fred Stefanski, presented the gift to Yahne, former Superintendent Russell Amerman presented the gift to Smith, and Merritt Meaker presented the gift to the honoree's son, Edward Mollema, Jr. Mollema and Yahne received luggage, Smith a large lawn umbrella. All received cash gifts.

Nearly 100 teachers, friends and retired school personnel and their wives and husbands attended the dinner program, with Patricia Dorrian serving as toastmistress.

Mollema, who is expected to be hospitalized for several weeks at the University Hospital in Ann Arbor, suffered the heart attack last Thursday after spraying flowers at his home.

It's Sign Up Time For Summer Fun

Registration begins this Saturday for Northville recreation department's summer 1968 program which includes three elementary day camps, baseball, other sports, swimming, trips and contests, running from June through August 9.

Registration fees this year have been raised from 75 cents a child to $1.25 for residents of Northville city and township. Non-resident fee has been set at $10.

The recreation department points out every participant in any activity sponsored or directed by the recreation department must be registered and show his registration card when requested.

Cards will be issued at the recreation office, 215 West Gady, from 8 a.m. to 4 p.m. this Saturday and next Saturday, June 15. Registration will be from 3 to 5 p.m. next Monday through Friday, and then each Monday through Friday from 8 a.m. until noon throughout the summer program. Boys and girls who wish to play on any baseball team are urged to register early.

Tying in with the recreation program this summer is a series of special events at the Northville Public Library to encourage elementary-age reading.

The day camp program will be held Monday through Friday, from 9 until 11:45 a.m., June 19-August 7, at the Scout-Recreation Building on Cady Street, Amerman and Moraine Elementary Schools. Activities will include arts and crafts, group games, skits, treasure hunts, special events, etc. A small charge will be made for some materials. Age limit: five years and older.

Swimming for youngsters eight years and older will begin June 19 and end August 9. The swimming program is held at Island Lake with buses loading at the three day camp sites each day at 12:45 p.m. and leaving at 1 p.m. each Monday, Wednesday and Friday. There also will be pick-up points on Clement, Seven and Eight Mile Roads. Buses return at approximately 4 p.m. A charge of 30 cents is the set admission fee. Children under eight are admitted only if under direct supervision of an adult.

Tennis instruction will be offered boys and girls 10 and older each Monday and Wednesday from 10 to 11:45 a.m. at the Cass Benton Park June 24-August 7. A tournament will climax the program.

Canoeing will be offered Tuesdays and Thursdays, June 25-August 1. Participants are to meet at the Scout-Recreation Building at 8:15 a.m. Sessions will include trips to the Proud Lake Recreation Area with the final outing being a trip on the AuSable River (Dates and fees to be announced later.) Fee for regular canoe sessions is 40 cents. Participation is limited to those 12 and older.

Archery instruction will be given each Friday, June 21-August 9 at the rear of the Scout-Recreation Building. Boys and girls 6-10 years old come at 9:30 a.m. Those 11 years and older, at 10:30 a.m. A tournament is planned.

Zoo trips to the Detroit Zoological Park will be taken Tuesday, June 25, Wednesday, July 10, and Tuesday, July 23. Each will be limited to 55. Reservations may be made at the day camps or by phone or visit to the recreation office. Buses will load at 9 a.m. and return at approximately 3:30 p.m. A charge of 35 cents covers cost of the chimp show and train rides. Participants must bring or buy their own lunches.

Nature hikes in Kensington Metropolitan Park will be held July 11 and 18. Each trip will be limited to 35. Reservations are to be made at the day camps or with the recreation office.

Turtle races, an annual event, will be at the rear of the scout-recreation building July 16. Judging of the largest, smallest, best decorated and most originally decorated turtles will begin at 9:30 a.m. Races will begin at 10 a.m. Participants are urged to secure their own turtles, but a limited number will be available at the recreation office July 15.

The annual pet and doll show is set for August 7 at the rear of the scout-recreation building with a parade preceding the judging, beginning at 6:15 p.m. Doll, pet, decorated bike and float prizes are awarded. Categories will be published in The Record the week before the show.

A trip to Tiger Stadium to see the Detroit Tigers is scheduled for July 6. Two hundred boys and girls from 7-15 years old may attend. Reservations may be made at the scout-recreation office with buses to leave at noon. Volunteer adult supervisors are needed.

Netters Finish 2nd in Regional

"Third in the league and second in the regional—we're pleased," said Northville's tennis coach, Richard Norton, last week as the Mustangs neared the end of their 1968 season.

"Ours is a young team which means we'll have a good nucleus for an even more successful team next year."

The Mustangs finished behind champion Cranbrook in the regional meet and were third behind Bloomfield Hills and Clarkston in the league meet late last month. In regular season W-O competition, Northville finished third behind the same two teams.

Here's how the teams finished in the regional:

Cranbrook 13½, Northville 6½, Lahser 5½, Riverview 5, Lowery 3½, Clarkston 3½, Fenton 3, Riverside 3, River Rouge 1, and Holly ½.

In the league meet, Bloomfield Hills, Clarkston and Northville (in order) were followed by Clarenceville, Holly, and Milford. Neither Brighton nor West Bloomfield entered a team.

The Barons were undefeated in regular season W-O competition with 10 victories, the Wolves had an 8-2 record, and the Mustangs finished with six wins against three defeats.

Randy Burnett and Ken Boerger came up with a doubles victory in the league meet, drawing a bye in the first round, downing Holly (6-0, 6-0) in the second round, slipping past Northville's other doubles team—Mark Sheffer and Mark Gazlay (7-5, 7-5) in the third, defeating Clarkston (8-6, 5-7, 6-3) in the semi-finals, and then powering past Bloomfield Hills (6-4, 6-3) in the finals.

Sheffer and Gazlay also drew first round byes, won over Clarkston (3-6, 6-2, and 6-4) in the second round, and then lost to Burnett and Boerger.

Vincent Parent and Bruce Grysiwicz picked up a doubles victory over Milford by default and then lost to Clarkston 6-4, 4-6 and 1-6.

In singles:

Gary Harper drew a first-round bye, defeated Holly 6-2, 6-2, and then lost to Clarenceville, 6-1, 6-3.

Rick Jameson drew a first-round bye and then lost to Bloomfield Hills, 6-2, 6-2, and Chuck Skene lost to Bloomfield Hills, 6-1, 6-0, after he also drew a first-round bye.

Regional competition results:

Skene won over Riverview, 6-4, 6-3, after a first-round bye, and then lost to Fenton, 6-3, 6-2.

Jameson played River Rouge in his opener and won 6-0, 6-1 before losing out to Lowry, 6-0, 6-1.

Boerger and Burnett won over both Riverview and Cranbrook (6-4, 6-1 and 6-4, 6-1, respectively) after drawing a first round bye and then lost a squeaker to Cranbrook 8-6, 7-9, and 6-2. The two hustling Mustangs were ahead 5-2 in the first set before losing it in the stretch, came from behind to win the second set, and then lost the semi-finals match in the final set.

Sheffer and Gazlay won over Fenton 6-1, 6-1 in their first round before losing to Riverside 6-4, 6-2.

Parent and Grysiwicz also won their first round—4-6, 6-4, 6-3 over Lowery—went on to defeat another Riverside doubles team, 6-3, 6-4, and then lost to Riverview, 6-1, 6-1.

Northville to Conduct Elementary Field Day

All's ready for the Northville elementary field day slated Monday at the high school track, according to Robert Prom, physical education instructor.

Grades one through five from all three Northville elementary schools and from Our Lady of Victory will participate, he said, from 9 a.m. to noon. Parents and friends are invited to attend, taking up positions in the bleachers.

Field day festivities will get underway with a flag raising ceremony followed by mass callisthenics.

More than a dozen events will be staged simultaneously, he said, with the elementary classroom boy winners participating in chinning, softball, 30 to 50 yard dash, standing broad jump, running broad jump, standing hop-step-and-jump, and running hop-step-and-jump. Girls also will compete in all of these events but chinning.

In addition, shuttle relay teams representing the schools will compete.

An awards program will follow competition.

Jr. Olympics Set Saturday

Saturday's the target for another annual Kiwanis Junior Olympics program involving more than 20 schools from the Novi-Wixom-Walled Lake area.

Starting time for the competition is 8 a.m. at the Walled Lake High School athletic field. Parents and friends are particularly invited to attend.

The sixth event of its kind sponsored by the Kiwanis Club of Walled Lake, Wixom and Novi, competition will include 50, 100 and 220 yard dashes, 75-yard low hurdles, 200-yard shuttle relay, 440 yard relay, 440 yard dash, pole vault, high jump, running long jump, shot put and softball throw.

Dennis Primeau (most valuable player), Randy Pohlman (captain), Larry Biddle, Dave McMillan, Doug Anglin, Jeff Taylor and Kim Marburger; kneeling (l to r) are Terry Mills, Fred Holdsworth (most valuable pitcher), Pat Cayley, Craig MacDermid, Stan Nirider (1969 captain), Barry Deal (best batting average), and Craig Turnbull.

Clamp on Opponent Hitting Shattered in Tourney Semi-Final

"Twenty-four innings and only two earned runs and then in the 25th two more earned runs and six unearned ones," moaned Coach Dick Willing as he reflected on Northville's 8-0 drubbing in the semi-final game of the Livonia Invitational Tournament Thursday.

"Those who live by the sword I guess die by the sword," he said.

He was referring to the Mustangs' season-long success in bunting and suicide squeezes. Thursday, after winning a heart-throbbing 2-1 game over Livonia Franklin in 14 innings the day before, Bentley came off the bench to successfully practice some of Northville's own tactics and turn it into a humiliating Mustang defeat.

"At least three of their eight runs—all of which occurred in the disastrous fourth—were pushed across by bunts," said Willing trying to forget just how many times Bentley bunted.

"You know, I've figured it up: in the three games we lost this season, all three were lost in three innings. So in just 2.4 percent of all the innings we played we gave up 40 percent of all the runs the opponents scored off us. That means 97-percent of the time we played fantastic ball. I guess I can't complain about that."

"Our boys did a fine job all season, and I'm really proud of them. One inning hurts but it doesn't distract from their overall play."

Overall, the Mustangs finished the regular Wayne-Oakland season with a 12-2 record—easily good enough to clamp down another league championship and permanently claim the league's traveling trophy. In the lone non-league game, Northville won easily over South Lyon. And in last week's tournament the local nine won two before losing the semi-final contest.

Bentley, last year's tournament champion, lost out to Garden City West, 4-3, in the final.

"Actually, Northville out-hit Bentley four to two. Furthermore,

Boys' Baseball Needs Coaches

Another call for coaches was issued this week by Recreation Director Robert Prom and he and his staff braced themselves for the largest number of baseball teams in the history of the department.

Four more coaches are needed for the 16 and over teams playing in the Northville-Plymouth League, he said, and five more are needed for the boys' night baseball program.

More than 40 teams are expected to participate in leagues ranging from mites to adults.

Young men interested in trying out for the Free Press League—ages 19 and under (participants cannot be 20 before September 1) and in the Connie Mack League—18 and under (participants cannot be 19 before September 1) are urged to attend a meeting at the Northville high school diamond tonight (Thursday) beginning at 6 p.m. Coaching will be Dick Willing, Northville's varsity mentor who in his first season took the Mustangs to another league championship. Many of his high school players will be in action this summer.

Registration for the girls' 15 and under, 13 and under, and 16 and up softball teams is slated to take place Saturday at the Scout-Recreation Building from 8:30 a.m. to noon.

Northville will be represented in the Livonia Softball League with one 13 and under and one 15 and under team. The remaining girls will play in local league competition.

Northville—a frequent late-starter in pushing across its runs—found itself cut short in the fifth by a tournament rule that automatically ends a game if one team is ahead by seven runs at the conclusion of five full innings.

If you're looking for excuses—and Willing was not—you could size up that marathon against Livonia Franklin the day before. Fourteen innings add up to two full games of baseball. That plus the tension generated in such a tight battle might easily have dented the Mustangs' showing the next day.

With Northville's Fred Holdsworth on the mound, Franklin scored its lone run in the top of the third on a back-to-back triple and single. Northville came back with a run of its own in the last half of the same inning. Holdsworth led off with a single, was forced at second leaving Terry Mills at first. Then with two outs, Dennis Primeau singled scoring Mills from first.

From that point until the 14th it was a see-saw battle highlighted by sterling play in the field. The Mustangs threatened in the seventh but stranded men at third and second. Holdsworth led off with a double, Mills lined to short only to have the shortstop make a superlative catch and double off Holdsworth. Then Doug Anglin singled and Primeau doubled just before the inning ended.

Franklin collected six hits, ruined partially by two Northville double plays, while Northville picked up 10.

In the game deciding 14th, Northville had two outs when Pat Cayley came to the plate to be hit by a pitched ball. Then Bill Skelly, who relieved Holdsworth in the ninth, drove the ball between the outfielders to score Cayley with the winning run.

Downs' Betting, Attendance Up

They're off and running—and setting a fast pace at Northville Downs.

Attendance is up 13 per cent and betting up 24 per cent for the first three nights or racing compared to the 1967 season.

A rainy Saturday night attracted 6,214 fans who wagered the second highest total ever bet at Northville Downs, $417,869. The all-time betting record at the Downs is $429,602 set July 10, 1965.

The Memorial Day opening night crowd of 4,895 bet $324,347, while on Friday night the mutual handle was $364,612 wagered by 5,084 fans.

A daily-double betting pool record was set Saturday night when $39,780 passed through the windows. Previously, the most money ever bet on a daily double at Northville Downs was $39,260.

The average handle for the first three nights of the current season was $368,943 compared to $297,150 last year.

Executive Manager John Carlo has predicted that the Northville harness track will average $300,000 nightly during the current season. The season record is $292,896 set in 1966.

New Well Finally Drilled, Now Old Spring Flows

Northville's on-again-off-again historic spring is on again and, oh, how it's on.

A 15-month project by the Northville Rotary club came to a successful conclusion last week as a newly installed pump began pushing water from a new well through the spring works at a rate of three gallons a minute.

But just as the line carrying the Detroit water was disconnected, water from the original source mysteriously poured down through the disconnected line at a faster rate than pumped from the new well and probably as fast or faster than it did years ago.

Jan Reef, co-chairman of the Rotary project, had mixed reactions. "It took us 15 months of preliminary planning, location of a good place for a well, legal preparations, actually sinking a new well, and then having the water tested. Then when we're finished the old well starts working again."

Reef said water from the old source will be tested "to make sure it's safe to drink and not just overflow rain water."

He could give no professional reason why the old water source was again "working". He guessed, however, that "maybe the water level's back up or maybe the line's worked itself clean again."

If the water proves safe, he said, it probably will be re-directed through the spring works and the new well temporarily capped to be used in cases of emergency. An underground pump currently is pumping water from the new well continuously.

The disconnected line, from which water from the old source is flowing without help of a pump, is located at the edge of the stream about 20 feet below the level of the spring works. The lower level, said Reef, may account for the water's renewed flow.

Water from both sources tastes similar, although the new well source reportedly has greater iron content than did water that originally flowed from the spring works.

No one has ever come up with a clear-cut answer as to where the source of the original spring water is located. Most oldtimers guess it is located near the sand and gravel mining area located several hundred yards to the east. They contend the mining operation disturbed this source, thus accounting for the disappearance of water at the spring.

Despite the mystery, Reef and his fellow Rotarians are satisfied their project is a success. Said Reef: "We've got plenty of water...maybe more than we bargained for."

FIRST DRINK—Jan Reef takes a drink of the water from Northville's spring where last week water began flowing from a new well. The water replaces Detroit water which had been temporarily piped into the spring works when the old well dried up. Looking on is fellow Rotarian Robert Webber.

James Lawrence Aids in Rescue

Word has been received from the Tonkin Gulf area that a Northville man, James Lawrence, 23, son of Alex Lawrence, 16775 Meade Road, has participated in the Navy helicopter rescue under enemy fire of two Navy aviators.

An article in the May 20 issue of Stars and Stripes explains that a helicopter from the carrier USS Yorktown braved fire from shore batteries to pluck two Navy aviators from the water about a mile and a half off the coast just north of Vinh. A Navy F4 Phantom, orbiting overhead, was forced to fire several bursts to keep a nearby Vietnamese junk from interfering with the rescue.

"James Lawrence," it stated, "went into the water to assist the downed fliers, Lieutenant Commander Ejnar Christensen and Lieutenant Worth Kramer."

Now attached to the helicopter service with the Seventh Fleet in the Pacific, Lawrence enlisted in the Navy after his second year at the University of Michigan. He previously was graduated from Western Military Academy where he was a national honors student. The son of Northville Township treasurer, he attended elementary school in Northville.

Klein Heads Planners

Leonard Klein, a member of the Northville township planning commission for the past two years, has been named chairman by his fellow commission members.

He succeeds newly-appointed Supervisor Gunnar Stromberg, who resigned as a planning member.

Supervisor Stromberg said he would appoint William P. Smith, Jr., 15560 Robinwood, to fill his spot on the planning commission. Smith was recommended for the position by the planning members.

CRAIG TAYLOR BELL will receive his bachelor's degree in physical education from Eastern Michigan University in commencement exercises Saturday in the Bowen Field House. Bell, his wife and two children live in Ann Arbor. A 1963 Northville high school graduate, he will teach in Plymouth.

Three Hearings Called by City

Aside from its hearing on open housing (see story elsewhere), the Northville city council had a light business agenda Monday night.

The council set two public hearings for June 17 on rezoning requests from C-2 to C-1 (commercial). Both requests have been recommended for passage by the planning commission. They include permission to build an addition to the Northville Laundry, 331 North Center street, and rezoning of property owned by Sydney and Cyril Frid to permit expansion of the Gulf Service Station at Main and Park Place.

Another public hearing will be held June 17 for the purpose starting special assessment procedures for the paving of Taft road from Eight Mile Road north to the city limits.

Action was delayed on the proposed development of Carpenter Street between Maplewood and Hill. The council will meet with residents of the area to determine their wishes on the proposal next Monday evening.

New Law Aids Voter Registration

Township Clerk Eleanor Hammond announced this week that new state legislation passed and made immediately effective now makes it possible for persons wishing to register as qualified electors to do so at any time.

Previously, the law prohibited any registrations after the fifth Friday before any election until after that election. The clerk noted that anyone wishing to register for the August primary, for example, could not do so this week because of the Monday school election coming up.

Under the new law, persons may register anytime, but they do not become qualified to vote until 30 days after registration.

Township Eyes Open Housing Ordinance

In an action that came surprisingly and swiftly the Northville township board voted unanimously Tuesday night to direct its attorney to draft an open housing ordinance for board consideration.

It was suggested by the board that copies of both the recently adopted Northville city and Plymouth city ordinances be obtained for board examination so that the township ordinance might be in harmony with these documents.

The subject appeared as an item under "new business" on the township agenda and was introduced by Supervisor Gunnar Stromberg who said that "several prominent citizens have suggested we should take such action". The supervisor then went on to suggest that it might not be necessary because of the new state ordinance. He further theorized the "philosophy behind the city's action" was to offset any trouble in Northville if there is "a hot summer in Detroit".

Trustee Bernard Baldwin jumped on this theory and proclaimed that this was not his philosophy. "We're not doing anything for anybody. It's a matter of rights and our action would be only a gesture to prove that we believe in central justice for all," he stated.

"I think we should take action because I think it's a cause that requires grass roots action," he added. The trustee noted that "no action" would be inviting the "extremists" and federal intervention. "It's time to stand up and be counted in what you believe," he said. Baldwin said he would oppose a low-cost housing project in the community to provide homes for the inner-city, but he would stand up for the right of anyone to purchase a home in our community that met the general standards and zoning regulations that have been established.

Trustee Thomas Armstrong expressed doubt that open housing legislation was desired by the colored. "I've been told by colored that this is the white man's way of white-washing the problem," he stated.

A member of the audience, Alfred Galli of 19851 Maxwell, told the board that "we owe something to the turmoil about us to stand up and express human rights". He said he was employed at Northville State Hospital and felt that the ordinance would be a gesture "to those who work here and care for our mentally ill. It would be saying, 'we welcome you,'" he concluded.

After directing Township Attorney John Ashton to prepare an ordinance for consideration the board indicated that action would be taken on the proposal at either the regular July or August board meeting.

In other business Tuesday night the board decided to order all fill illegally dumped along the river bed near the Northville road A & W Root Beer stand to be removed. It was also agreed that the township would join with the city and school district in studying plans for proposed recreational use of the fish hatchery site. City Manager Frank Ollendorff appeared before the board to request the joint study.

A fringe benefit plan for vacations, holidays, sick leave and pay for township employees was postponed for a special meeting, while the installation of four fire hydrants in the Bradner-Five Mile road area at a cost of $750 each was approved.

Swim Club Opening

Northville Swim Club will open officially for the season at 10 a.m. next Thursday, June 13, Edward Zywicz, President, announced Tuesday.

TO ALL our friends who made Sunday, May 26, 1968 such a joyous and eventful day, we wish to express our appreciation and thanks for the heart warming and well planned program and reception at the high school in our honor.

La Metta & Frank Bartlett H23 CX

I WOULD like to thank all the people who sent me cards and flowers during my stay in the hospital.

Mark Ross

I WOULD like to thank friends and neighbors for their thoughtfulness during my stay in the hospital. A special thank to the Novi Little League and the Northville Woman's Bowling League also Dr. Lyle Fellig.

Jackie Cotton

Just a note to try and express our deep appreciation for the kindness and thoughtfulness of our friends during this sorrowful period since Mike's death.

Sincerely
The family of Mike Kidd

2-In Memoriam

IN LOVING Memory of My Husband William Wilson who died June 8, 1965. Death leaves a heartache no one can heal.

Memories are treasures no one can steal.

Hearts that love him never forget.

In memory he is with us yet.

"Dolls" Playing at Penn

For more than a year, "Valley of the Dolls"—Jacqueline Susann's best-selling novel—has been the talk of the country.

Now, under the skilled aegis of Director Mark Robson and Producer David Weisbart, this frank and fascinating contemporary entertainment has come to screen life. Twentieth Century-Fox is releasing this Panavision, DeLuxe Color attraction now playing at the Penn Theatre.

Cast as "the dolls" are: Barbara Parkins, star of TV's popular "Peyton Place" series for three years, playing Anne Welles, the well-bred New Englander who arrives in New York with bright-eyed innocence. Patty Duke, Oscar winner for "The Miracle Worker" and star of her own TV show, in her first adult part—the irrepressibly talented singer, Neely O'Hara. Sharon Tate, lovely, blonde star-to-be with three as yet unreleased major films, portraying Jennifer North, the body beautiful and the girl vulnerable. And Susan Hayward, five-times-nominated Oscar winner back for her first made-in-Hollywood film in four years, starring as long-time Broadway star Helen Lawson.

Also starring are four handsome leading men who provide the romantic interest, and problems, for the "dolls": Paul Burke, Martin Milner, Charles Drake and talented newcomer, Tony Scotti.

Essentially, the story focuses on four women caught up in the heady world of show business and follows their lives as the tensions and disappointments increase, and some of them turn to pills and stimulants for "escape."

For all its realism, the Robson-Weisbart production is lavishly mounted as befits its background. Internationally known designer Travilla has created more than 120 costume changes for the leading ladies alone.

The company traveled to New England and New York, capturing breath-taking country snowscapes and the unique flavor of Manhattan theatrical life. Original songs by Oscar-winning Andre Previn and his wife Dory, for the characters played by Patty Duke, Tony Scotti and Susan Hayward, lend an exciting musical dimension to the dramatic film.

This Week's Highlights FROM WKBD-TV CHANNEL 50

THURSDAY, JUNE 6

10 p.m. — LES CRANE—"Arabs vs. Jews" Part I. Guests: DR. FAYEZ A. SAYEGH, senior consultant to the Minister of Foreign Affairs of the State of Kuwait, and FRANK GERVASI, author of "The Case for Israel." Dr. Sayegh asserts that, in the opinion of the Arab states, Israel is illegitimate and will not continue to exist. Gervasi, using history as a tool, defends the existence of Israel. (color)

FRIDAY, JUNE 7

10 p.m. — LES CRANE—"Comedy-Clean and Dirty" Comedian MURRAY CLEGG feels that the current Murray Roman album is obscene and that his choice of subject and language is immoral. MURRAY ROMAN, one of the newer comedians, defends his position as social commentary and his own personal point of view. (color)

11 p.m. — JOE PYNE—Guests: LEONARD GRIMES and FRED GAGE, leaders of two national committees that lobby for and against school bussing. JEAN-PIERRE HALLET, author, has written a new book entitled "Animal Kitabu", in which he compares the good and bad traits of wild animals with the human species. (color)

SATURDAY, JUNE 8

10 p.m. — LOU GORDON PROGRAM (Saturday Debut)—"Flying Saucers Are Real!" Guest: STANTON FRIEDMAN, a nuclear physicist for Westinghouse Electric, says he can prove the existence of extra-terrestrial vehicles. Friedman has made a scientific investigation that indicates Earth is being visited by intelligent life from other planets. Also "Criswell Predicts"—Among his predictions are: Denver turning into jello on June 9, 1989, a complete change in the face of the Earth in 1977, and the total destruction of the world on August 18, 1999. (color)

11:30 p.m. — ALAN BURKE—Guests: MELVIN BELLI, famous criminal lawyer and attorney for Jack Ruby. He discusses the effectiveness of the FBI as a crime fighting organization and the practice of civil disobedience as a means of dissent. MAX ASNAS, owner of the world's most famous delicatessen, The Stage. (color)

SUNDAY, JUNE 9

7 p.m. — SPECIAL OF THE WEEK—"Paris: A Story of High Fashion" Behind the scenes at the world's leading temples of fashion. Pierre Cardin, Madam Charles-Roux, the editor of Paris VOGUE, and Madame Helen Gordon Lazareff, editor of ELLE, help tell the story of the creation of a new collection. (color)

8 p.m. — DAVID SUSSKIND SHOW—1. "Welfare Mothers Who Want Everything" Four women on welfare each tell their own story of why they are on welfare, the hardships incurred, the money allotted to them and why they are not working. 2. "Two Couples Who Play House" Two young couples who are living happily together in the unmarried state, discuss how they met, whose idea it was to "move in," whether they intend to marry and whether their parents approve. (color)

10 p.m. — LOU GORDON PROGRAM—1. "Nobody's Child" FATHER RICHARD WARD, originator of the Heart-Line Program in Detroit's urban center, talks about the "hot line"—which kids in trouble can call to be rescued. 2. "The Urban Crisis: What Can I Do?" BERTRAM GOLD, Executive Director of the American Jewish Committee, and DR. FRANCIS KORNE GAY, Executive Director of the Detroit Urban League, talk about the tensions building up in American Cities. (color)

MONDAY, JUNE 10

10 p.m. — LES CRANE—"The President's Commission" Guests: JAMES C. CORMAN of the President's Commission on Civil Disorders discusses the purpose, function and findings of the eleven man body. Deputy Police Chief EDWARD M. DAVIS and DR. JULIAN NAVA of the Board of Education discuss the Commission's findings. (color)

TUESDAY, JUNE 11

8:30 p.m. — DETROIT TRANSPORTATION PICTURE—1968 (SPECIAL) A one-half-hour program, filmed on location throughout the city, dealing with the current transportation picture in Detroit, what has been done in the past and plans for the future. Representatives from the transit field are interviewed. (color)

10 p.m. — LES CRANE—"McCarthy for President?" Emmy award winner ROD SERLING and political spokesman STANLEY SHEINBAUM speak on behalf of Senator McCarthy's campaign for the Presidential nomination. Ramparts magazine's ROBERT SCHEER speaks of the disenchanted voters who see no hope in the Democratic Party.

WEDNESDAY, JUNE 12

10 p.m. — LES CRANE—"Fashion Freak Out" Guests: THEODORA VAN RUNKLE, designer for "Bonnie and Clyde," RUDI GERNREICH, avant garde fashion designer, PENELOPE SPHEERIS, hip clothes designer, and JACK MARGOLIS, communicator and fashion plate. They discuss the reasons for fashion trends and the current trend which allows for interchangeable clothes for men and women. (color)

Don Knotts in Universal's hilarious comedy in Technicolor, "The Shakiest Gun in The West," now playing at The P & A, has an argument with co-star Barbara Rhoades. Starting Wednesday, June 12, "The Secret War of Harry Frigg" comes to the P & A.

He's Boss of "Meet the Press"

LAWRENCE SPIVAK

"Meet the Press," broadcasting's pioneer press conference, began its 20th season on the NBC Television Network, and its 23rd season on radio, last Fall. The program is telecast in color Sundays, 1-1:30 p.m. on NBC-TV, Channel 4.

Live international press conferences via relay satellite were introduced as a feature of "Meet the Press" on Sept. 19, 1965, when British Prime Minister Harold Wilson talked with American reporters during a special half-hour program. Producer and permanent panelist Lawrence E. Spivak plans to continue the innovation.

From the very start, "Meet the Press" has been television's most authoritative and influential public affairs program, bringing its audience a continuing roster of prominent people discussing significant issues of the day. The late President Kennedy referred to it as the "51st state" in a speech to a Maryland audience during the 1960 Presidential campaign. He said: "We have been to New Jersey, Delaware and the 51st state, as I call 'Meet the Press'."

Among world leaders who have appeared on the program are President Lyndon B. Johnson (then Senator Johnson), the late President Kennedy (as a member of Congress on eight occasions), former Vice President Richard Nixon, former Senator Barry Goldwater, the late Prime Minister Jawaharlal Nehru of India, Cuban Premier Fidel Castro, the late Secretary General of the United Nations Dag Hammarskjöld, President Mohammed Ayub Khan of Pakistan, Ethiopian Emperor Haile Selassie, King Hassan II of Morocco and King Hussein I of Jordan.

Other prominent guests include Arthur J. Goldberg, U.S. Ambassador to the United Nations; Vice President Hubert Humphrey; Chancellor Ludwig Erhard of West Germany; Thanat Khoman, Foreign Minister of Thailand; Israel's Minister of Foreign Affairs (then Deputy Prime Minister), Abba Eban; U.S. Secretary of State Dean Rusk; McGeorge Bundy, former special assistant to the President for National Security Affairs; General Maxwell D. Taylor, former U.S. Ambassador to Vietnam; and Henry Cabot Lodge, present Ambassador to Vietnam.

Other guests on the program include Mrs. Indira Gandhi, India's Prime Minister; world famous surgeon Dr. Michael E. DeBakey; the Rev. Dr. Martin Luther King Jr., philosopher Lord Bertrand Russell; historian Arnold Toynbee; the late poet Robert Frost and labor leader George Meaney.

"Meet the Press" was the idea of Lawrence E. Spivak, who developed and co-produced the program with Martha Rountree. In 1953 Spivak purchased her interest and she retired from the program. In 1955 he sold "Meet the Press" to NBC and continued as producer and permanent panelist.

A public affairs presentation of NBC News, "Meet the Press" originates mainly from Washington, D.C. with occasional programs from New York and other locations.

Frankenmuth Festival Opens Sunday

More and more families each year are making the annual Bavarian Festival in Frankenmuth, Michigan a must in their vacation plans. East, West,

North and South...lovers of bierstube music and old world cuisine pour into this small city of 2,000 to enjoy the annual festival which is known from coast to coast. The Festival commemorates the arrival of the original German settlers in 1845 and the love of its Lutheran and Bavarian heritage.

This year's festivities will get under way with a giant parade hi-lited by a beautiful Bavarian princess and her court. The parade will start at 1 P.M., Sunday, June 9, and the Festival will conclude with an "Auf Wiedersehn" on Saturday night, June 15.

FESTIVAL FEATURES BAVARIAN WOOD CARVER!

Georg Keilhofer, an authentic wood carver from Oberammergau, Germany, will be one of the stellar attractions in the Arts & Crafts exhibit in Frankenmuth's annual Bavarian Festival. The Festival will be held June 9-15 in Frankenmuth, Michigan. Georg has his wife Ann and daughter Cristiani with him to help push the chisels.

A healthy appetite is a must, for visitors will find mounds of barbecued chicken and ox roast in giant outdoor barbecues manned by local civic groups, and if this is not enough—giant homemade pretzels, back ofenbrodt, stollen, baked goods of all kinds—deliciously Bavarian and baked by local "haus frau," bratwurst on a warm sesame bun and covered with a hot and spicy sauce...and if you want to wet your bavarian whistle...Frankenmuth can never run out of a frosty thirst quencher brewed and blended for the occasion at the two local breweries. The menu at both hotels will feature Bavarian dishes from authentic Old World recipes. Good food, fun and happiness and good music blend in the "Gemuetlichkeit" for which this annual festival is famous.

Visitors will find a hearty welcome and conducted tours at the two local breweries and a welcoming hand at the local sausage plants. Other attractions include Bronner Display (America's largest display of Christmas decorations), Rau's Country Store, The Cheese Haus, the Schnitzelbank Shoppe and the Tiffany Biergarten. New for visitors this year is the Bavarian Inn Glockenspiel. Dedicated in November of 1967, the sound of the 35 bell Glockenspiel now echoes for miles around the town and twice each day. At noon and at 6 P.M., figures appear on the 50-foot tower on a moving stage telling the age old story of the Pied Piper of Hamelin.

What's the younger generation coming to? You.

Give a kid a job this summer.

There are thousands of kids all over the Metropolitan Detroit area who are ready and willing to work. But they need someone willing to give them a start. Someone like you.

You've probably got a place in your business that used to go to a bright young college kid with nothing else to do. But for the kids we're talking about, there's nothing to do, period.

So give a needy kid a job this summer. A real job. Not just to cut the grass every Friday or to clean out your stockroom on week-ends. But a job that'll start him off right in the world. A job that'll give him an idea of what business is all about. And a job that'll give you some pretty good help in the bargain.

Give the younger generation something good to come to. Give a kid a job this summer.

If you can use ten, a hundred,
or just one good worker...

Here's Look At School Budgets

BIG DIG—Pupils of Main Street Elementary School's three third grade classes took part in an archaeological dig in the gravel pit area, west of the junior high school on Taft road, last week as part of a coordinated study program involving art, music, math, vocabulary, archaeology, research, and science. Digging for Indian artifacts in specially gridded areas, the students didn't find what they were looking for, but, says Art Teacher William Case, they found plenty of fossils. Among other teachers who aided the program was Mrs. Mernie Hines.

3rd Class District Compared to 4th

What happens if Northville voters approve changing the school district from fourth class to third class?

Following is a comparative analysis of the two classifications:

—Board of Education—

Under fourth class membership of the board is limited to seven trustees, serving four year terms. All officers—president, secretary and treasurer, are board members. Under a third class district membership of the board includes seven trustees, serving four OR six years if the board elects to vote biennially with the city. The president and vice-president are board members, but the secretary and treasurer may be non-board members. Officers are elected annually on the first Monday of July.

• Bonds of Officers—

Under fourth class the amount of bond is determined by the board for the treasurer. None is required for the secretary. Under third class bonds are required by board for both treasurer and secretary.

• Board Meetings—

Under fourth class one regular meeting is held each month, with date, time and place fixed by board resolution. Under third class, regular meetings are held the second Monday of each month or at such other times as the board may provide by resolution or by-laws.

• Special Meetings—

Under fourth class, special meetings are called by president or two board members, with notice being given personally or by delivery at residence to person of the household 24 hours before meeting, or mailed to members 72 hours before the meeting. Under third class these meetings are called for as prescribed by by-laws of the board.

• Board Minutes—

Under fourth class, minutes are recorded and signed by the secretary. Under third class, minutes are recorded and signed by the secretary and printed and published immediately after each meeting.

• Board salaries—

Under fourth class salaries are fixed by electors at the annual election. Under third class salaries of the secretary and the treasurer are fixed by the board, while salaries of other members are fixed by electors.

• Annual Election—

Under fourth class the annual election is held the second Monday in June, with the organizational meeting being held the first Monday in July succeeding the annual election. Under third class the annual election is held the second Monday in June.

• Special Elections—

Under fourth class such elections are called for by the board or by petition of 5-percent or more of the school electors but not less than 25 electors. Under third class such elections are called for by the board or by petition of 10-percent of the registered school electors.

• Registration of Electors—

Adoption of registration system is optional with the board under fourth class, while under third class registration is by statute.

• Superintendent—

Under fourth class employment of the Superintendent is optional if there are fewer than 10 teachers, mandatory if there are 12 teachers or more. Term of a superintendent's contract cannot be for more than three years unless he is under tenure as superintendent. Under third class there are no similar provisions.

• High School—

Under fourth class the high school is established on direction of electors, with discontinuance upon direction of electors. Under third class the board may operate such grades and departments as it deems necessary.

• Discontinuance of School or Grades—

Electors may vote to close any or all grades in the district under fourth class status, while no authority to discontinue all grades is given under third class.

• Transportation—

Under fourth class the board may transport resident pupils to district schools only when approved by electors. Under third class the board may transport resident pupils to district schools as it deems advisable.

• Powers of Board Relating to Property—

Under fourth class the board may acquire, purchase or lease sites, purchase, lease, erect and equip buildings, and sell, exchange or lease, unneeded personal or real property. Under third class the board may acquire, purchase or lease sites, purchase, lease, erect and equip buildings, sell or exchange unneeded personal property, and sell, exchange or lease unneeded real or personal property.

• Bonds—

Under fourth class bond issues require approval of school tax electors. Under third class the board may issue bonds to two percent of the assessed valuation of the district without a vote of school tax electors.

Additional powers of the board under the proposed third class district includes: medical inspection for schools of the district, and it may establish a museum and a library separately operated by boards of commissioners.

Local Women Win Prizes

Three Northville residents are among the 46 scholarship prize winners at the State College of Beauty, 824 Penniman, Plymouth.

They are Pat Riley, 717 Grace; Betty Forth, 21718 Kilrush drive; and Esther Schultz, 349 South Rogers. Scholarships whose total value was listed in excess of $11,000 were awarded at the close of the contest May 27.

EDITOR'S NOTE: Following is the last of four articles concerning the operational millage election slated for Monday in Northville. It was written by Business Manager Earl Busard.

The three previous articles of this series gave you an in depth look and explanation of the operation and philosophy of your educational "Program of Excellence".

In education, as in everyday life, you receive a product quality according to what you are able and willing to pay. The citizens of Northville have been providing our children with a good quality program. This program is "Not an off brand", or discounted, obsolete or discarded quality product, but, "top line", one of the best. Let's now look at what your investment is, and what it provides. Our budget this year is $1,893,705, and is being spent as follows:

Instruction—This category encompasses 139 teachers, curriculum coordinator, principals and assistants, as well as the clerical assistance. In addition, the instructional allocation includes expenditures for enrichment curricular activities, summer driver education, special education classes, substitute teachers, textbooks, teaching supplies, library books, audio visual films, and general instructional supplies and materials. All items are increasing in cost along with everything else in Michigan (food services, etc.). This category of our budget represents $1,384,868 or 73.13 percent of every dollar you pay for education, or a per student cost of $514.82 for the 1967-68 school year.

The administration of your school district, including printing, elections, census, legal counsel, salary of Superintendent and Business Manager and district memberships comprises 4.78 cents per dollar spent in our district or $90,611.

Health and attendance—08 percent or $1,475 of our budget is being spent on health services for our students, i.e.: annual visual and hearing screening, in addition to first aid supplies and the required county audit of our attendance.

The citizens of the Northville Public Schools support a transportation program for our students that represents 4.47 percent of our budget or $84,612. This expenditure provides daily transportation to and from school for approximately 1,500 public and non-public students. Our regularly scheduled 13 buses will travel over 150,000 miles, to provide normal service. In addition 200 educational field trips and athletic events will be served by the transportation department. Some 8,055 students will have been involved in these extra trips. Our expenditures for transportation amounts to $31.45 per pupil.

The cost for general operation and maintenance of our buildings amounts to .809 cents per square foot or $93.18 per pupil, 13.24 percent of the budget or $250,652. These expenditures provide for custodians, a maintenance crew, housekeeping supplies, contracted repairs and all utilities, as well as the community utilization of our buildings. These costs are continually increasing, as is home maintenance and repair costs.

The remaining 4.30 percent of $81,447 of our budget provides for an expenditure of $30.28 per pupil and covers fixed charges, including employee and property insurance, interest on funds we must borrow until taxes are received, new furniture and equipment, equipping our athletic program, debate fees, forensics fees, food service and tuition charged by other districts where we are sending students for special training. All this adds up to $704 per pupil, being expended this year. Value received—an educational opportunity for the children of the Northville Public Schools School District that ranks among the best in the State.

WHERE DO WE RECEIVE OUR FUNDS TO PAY FOR OUR "PROGRAM OF EXCELLENCE"?

Revenue to cover our expenditures were received as follows:

Local Sources—$1,200,992 or 63.4% came from local property tax, tuition payments from non-resident students, interest on investments, rentals of our property (Community building, etc.), and miscellaneous fees and sales. The state provided 36.6% or $692,713 in the form of State Aid ($210 per pupil), partial reimbursement for Driver Ed., Vocational Ed., Special Services, transportation and National Defense Education Act.

The Board of Education and Administration have given due and deliberate consideration to our needs

Educational Boom Viewed

EDITOR'S NOTE—Following is the fifth of a series of articles written by the Northville Education Association on education as it affects Northville.

This is the last opportunity before June 10th that the teachers of Northville will have to ask your support for the millage increase. Throughout the past month, we have attempted to present a factual assessment of the finances involved in running our schools. But we realize that millage elections are not always decided simply by cold facts. Therefore, in this last article on millage, we would like to take a different, more general approach.

Free public education for all citizens is a unique idea. Other nations have found it cheaper to leave some classes of people uneducated, but in America we sought almost from the beginning to accomplish the expensive task of educating every citizen. In the long run, we have discovered that our investment in education has paid dividends that our forefathers never imagined. In a ridiculously short span of time, contending with problems of immigration and diversity of language, religion and race, we have built and maintained a free society with an awesome economic base.

Of course, America did not begin as an entirely primitive culture. On the contrary, we had brilliant leaders who from the beginning possessed and valued education. They recognized that to build a society that would be both free and powerful, education had to be available to all, regardless of class. Thus, they provided for public education because they recognized that public education would provide for them.

We have come a long way from the establishment of the first free public schools. The one room school and its "teacher" without even a high school education has been replaced by a vast million dollar complex with many teachers possessed of one or two college degrees. These changes have been matched by a revolution in curriculum. The three R's are still with us, but they are supplemented by course offerings in every important phase of human endeavor.

Let it be clear, too, that these were not frivolous changes made simply to pamper our young. These changes were dictated by a changing society that in a generation went from horseback to air travel and later from motor driven airplanes to space exploration. In light of these changes, we question whether or not our schools have changed enough in our two hundred year history. At a recent teacher conference, Detroit Councilman Mel Ravitz (A PhD in sociology and professor at Wayne State University) charged that our school systems still taught a 19th century curriculum while our society was moving into the 21st century!

These criticisms notwithstanding, we feel our free public schools have done a remarkable job. No one who reads and understands this article has been failed by public education. Our public services and public servants, our private industry and consumer goods, our leadership both public and private are the products of the fraction of one per cent of the astronomical 800 billion dollar national product that we invest in education each year.

Earlier we said that our schools have provided for you. On June 10th will you provide for them?

Valuations Announced

County and state equalized valuation of the Northville school district has been pegged at $49,983,910, according to Business Manager Earl Busard.

This total includes:

Northville Township, $23,443,240; City of Northville, Wayne County $13,665,850; City of Northville, Oakland County, $6,200,620; Lyon township, $367,300; Novi Township, $5,111,100; and Salem, $1,195,800.

For the first time, Busard said, an equalization factor has not been applied to any of the areas making up the Northville school district.

3 Men Hurt In Novi Crash

Three Detroit men were injured Sunday evening when their car went out of control on Grand River and crashed into a utility pole between Meadowbrook and Haggerty Roads.

Treated at Botsford Hospital in Farmington were Kenneth T. Phillips, the driver, and his two passengers, Bruce C. Nelson and Lawrence Franklin.

According to Novi police, the motorist was driving east on Grand River when he lost control of the car while traveling about 60 miles per hour. No tickets were issued.

CITY ADOPTS FLAG—The Northville city council officially adopted the above design and slogan Monday night as the flag of the city of Northville. It was unveiled before the council by Councilwoman Beatrice Carlson, who is chairman of the Northville Beautification Commission, the body selecting the winning design and slogan from a field of hundreds of entries submitted by Northville public school students. The winning design was submitted by Tom Hutcherson, a 10th grader who is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Hutcherson of 547 Reed. The winning slogan, "Beautiful Past...Promising Future", was the entry of Julie Brown, 10th grade daughter of Dr. and Mrs. John Brown of 45370 Fermanagh. Second place honors in the design contest were won by Dan Stoddard, 12th grader and son of Mr. and Mrs. John Stoddard of 16225 Homer, while the second-place winning slogan was submitted by Connie Mohr, ninth grade daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Mohr of 44138 Wyngate. Her entry was "Progress is our Future...the Past is our Example". The several hundred entries were narrowed down by Roy Pedersen, Northville high school art teacher. The Beautification Commission then decided upon the finalists. Monday night the council approved plans to have an official flag made, but indicated some revisions, particularly in the date "1867". Instead the flag will show that the community was founded and settled in 1827 and later incorporated as a village in 1867. Awards to the winners will be made by the council at a regular council meeting, either June 17 or the first meeting in July. The Northville flag contest was conceived by Ed Welch, a former city councilman and member of the Beautification Commission. He headed up the project for the city.

WINNING GIRLS—This all-girl pop combo, "Girls, Inc.," with Chris Cogsdill, left, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Glen Cogsdill, 47238 South Chigwidden drive, has been named area winner in a Super Teen pop music talent search contest and now is in competition for national honors.

Wixom Youth to Sing In Westminster Abbey

Singing in famed Westminster Abbey and competing in the International Musical Eisteddfod in Llangollen, Wales, is on the summer itinerary of Carmen L. Cavallaro, 2750 Hillcrest, Wixom.

CARMEN CAVALLARO

Cavallaro is a member of the 40-voice Wayne State University Men's Glee Club making final preparations for its six-week European Tour of Norway, Sweden, Denmark, W. Germany, and England.

The Glee Club, which leaves Detroit June 17 and returns July 31, will sing in Bergen, Oslo, Stockholm, Copenhagen, W. Berlin, Llangollen, Coventry and London.

This year's trip is the third European Tour for the Glee Club. In 1957 it was selected for a concert tour of American military bases in England and Germany under sponsorship of the U.S. Department of Defense. The 1964-65 season, marking the Club's 20th anniversary, was climaxed by its second concert tour of Europe as good will ambassadors of the University and the City of Detroit.

The glee club was organized in 1945 under the leadership of Dr. Harry M. Langford, professor of music at Wayne State, who continues to direct the group.

Novi Thieves Steal $595

Novi police are continuing their investigation this week of theft of nearly $600 last Thursday from the Sunoco service station at Novi and I-96.

According to John Kennedy, proprietor, a car filled with teenagers pulled into the station about 10 p.m. Thursday for gasoline. One of the youths asked the attendant for a quarter's change from the station's small strongbox. Later, another customer asked for change and the strongbox was missing.

The strongbox contained some $1,100 in checks, cash and credit cards. Later it was found in the weeds near the station with $595 in cash missing. The checks and credit cards remained.

Police 'Billy' Injures Man

A 27-year-old Novi man, Charles E. Klocke, was hospitalized Sunday for injuries sustained when Patrolman Ronald Arbour used his billy to subdue him.

Klocke, who lives at 45601 West Nine Mile Road, attempted to resist arrest for fleeing the scene of a property damage accident. He wrestled Arbour to the ground and the officer was forced to use his night stick, police said.

He was taken to Botsford Hospital and later transferred to Pontiac General Hospital for treatment of scalp cuts. He faces charges of fleeing from the scene of an accident and resisting arrest.

Police were notified of the accident by Charles N. Barber of Plymouth who said Klocke's car forced his car off Novi road south of 10 Mile road early Sunday evening. Barber said he followed Klocke's car to Novi and Nine Mile road where it turned west. Arbour located the car on Nine Mile Road east of Garfield.

Police Seek Cadets Here

Northville Police Chief Samuel Elkins is inviting young men in the Northville area who have an interest in a law enforcement career to make application for an opening as a police cadet with the Northville Police Department.

Elkins said the cadet opening will provide a young man with an excellent opportunity to get started on a career. In addition to salary, qualified applicants can also be reimbursed for education they might undertake in the field of law enforcement.

The new cadet opening resulted from the retirement of long-time police department employee, Helen Teshka.

Community Foster Parent Needs Told

Need for foster parent homes in the Northville-Plymouth area were dramatized this past week as a Wayne County social service worker described a number of youngsters from Northville who, because of broken homes, have been forced to leave the local school system and enter institutions.

Miss Phyllis Griffin said the "tragic" circumstances of the former Northville students, who were not named, are repeated daily throughout Wayne County.

Unfortunately, the Northville-Plymouth area has too few foster parents to care for even those youngsters from the community without helping solve the problems elsewhere in the county, she said.

Northville's high school counselor, Donald Brown, echoed her sentiments. "It's really a shame to force these kids from their environment here—from our schools and into institutions where they are likely to share life with youngsters with even more sordid pasts."

Too often, he emphasized, institutionalizing these youngsters does more harm than it does good. "In an area like Northville where many adults have large homes and sufficient funds, it would seem there is no good reason for upsetting the lives of these boys and girls."

Miss Griffin and Brown urged qualified Northville adults to take advantage of the county's foster home program for children ages 12 through 17. Both said they are willing to meet with interested persons this week or next to discuss the program.

Those interested are asked to call Brown at the high school (FI 9-3400) or Miss Griffin at the county Department of Social Services office (222-6767).

Miss Griffin emphasized that parents seeking companionship for their own children are not likely to be satisfied with the foster parent program. "A foster parent must be willing to give of himself, not expect to receive something from the foster child."

According to Brown, "these children come from broken families and, because they've had to battle hostility throughout their lives, they have a tendency to rebel against all adults. So a foster parent must be willing to cope with problems they might not have with their own children."

Basic ingredients for this full-time job, according to Miss Griffin, are:

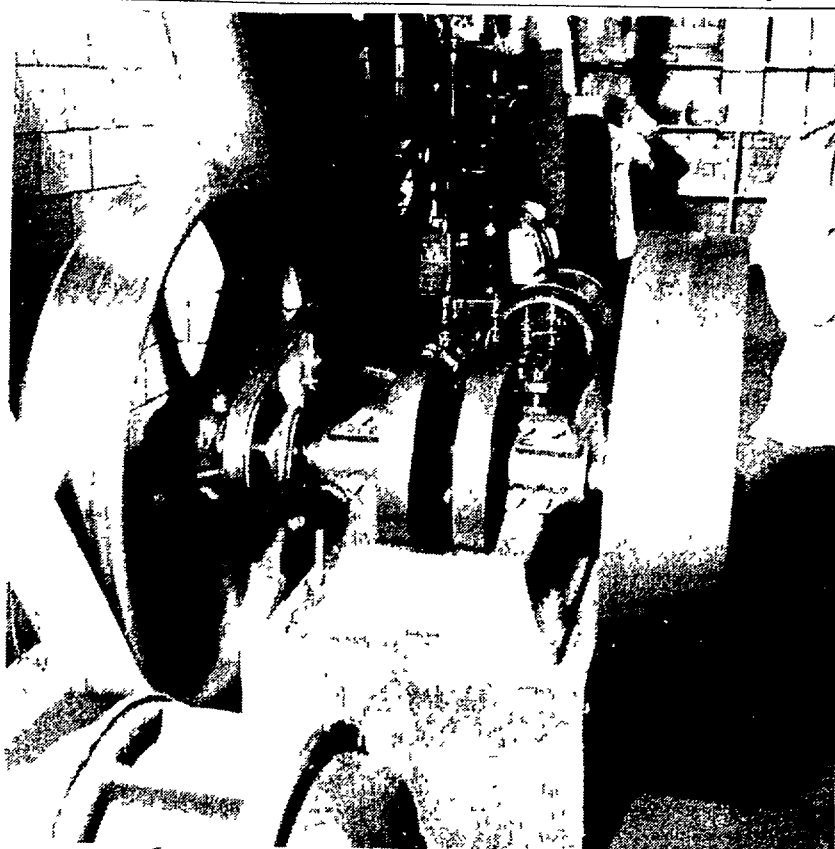

Happily married couples in homes where the mother is not working; couples who have raised or are raising families of their own, residents of Wayne County; and couples who live in single-family homes.

In some cases where circumstances predict satisfactory parent-child relationship some of these requirements, she said, can be waived.

"We don't want to discourage anyone, but at the same time we want to be sure the prospective foster parents can do a good job and at the same time gain a good measure of personal satisfaction from their involvement."

FASHIONS FOR FATHER—These dancers are really models, showing off mens' clothing and shoes in a special fashion show held at the poolside of King's Mill Townhouses Monday night. Participating were Del's Shoes, Lapham's Men's Shop, and Lila's Flowers & Gifts.

COLLECTOR'S ITEM—A heavy piece of Northville's past will bow out tomorrow when the 15-horsepower steam engine at Richie Brothers Launderers-Cleaners, 144 North Center Street, is removed to make room for new equipment. Found by the Frid brothers, former owners, in a Milford dump in 1926 and purchased for $5, the faithful engine "has been churning ever since." The engine carries no manufacturer's name nor date. A member of a Greenfield Village steam engine club has been given the engine, which has been powering equipment and heating water for more than 40 years.

Northville Girl Gets Degree

Featured speaker for Albion College's commencement exercises held June 2 at 4 p.m. was the prominent economist, John Kenneth Galbraith, who spoke on "Politics, Public Opinion and the College Community" before 286 graduating seniors. Galbraith is the Paul M. Warburg professor of economics at Harvard University, a former U.S. ambassador to India, and current national chairman of Americans for Democratic Action.

Among the members of the graduating class to receive the bachelor of arts degree from Albion College during commencement exercises June 2 were Olyvia J. Hildebrandt, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John P. Hildebrandt of 17071 Franklin, and Emily R. Canterbury, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John S. Canterbury of 204 Randolph.

Miss Hildebrandt is a German major and a member of German Club. She has also served as vice-president of International Students Club and is a member of Sigma Alpha Iota, women's national music honorary.

Miss Canterbury is a history major and a member of Zeta Tau Alpha sorority.

Earlier in the day the graduating seniors heard Bishop Dwight E. Loder of the Michigan Area of The Methodist Church speak on "The Foolishness of 20th Century Wisdom." Bishop Loder's talk was given during baccalaureate services at 10.30 a.m.

Seven honorary degrees were conferred during commencement ceremonies, in addition to the bachelor of arts degrees presented. This is the second largest graduating class in Albion's 133 year history. In 1950, returning WW II servicemen expanded the class to 322.

NOTICE

The Board of Directors of the Northville Swim Club reminds all members that the yearly dues must be paid prior to official opening of the pool. Even if the member does not intend to swim this summer, he is still under obligation to pay his yearly membership dues. (Bylaws Article VII, Section 4). Such indebtedness shall constitute a lien against the share of such membership and such indebtedness shall be fully discharged before any sale or transfer will be permitted. However, official notification by letter of a desire to sell his membership before the official pool opening will relieve the member of the duty to pay the yearly dues for this year. Any offer to sell a membership must be made through Douglas Day, membership chairman.

This year, take the vacation you thought you couldn't take.

Take a week in Miami, $150.50.

There's more to Miami than great sun, sand and surf. When you want to go out on the town in Miami, there's a lot of town to go out on. Miami swings. And almost anyone can swing the cost of a vacation there. Miami Beach is a Fun Festival. And low summer prices mean that you can take a Miami vacation for about as much money as you spent last year at the lake, the shore or the cottage.

For instance, on Eastern's exclusive

Miami Beach Party vacation, you can spend 7 days there for only $150.50* a person, including your hotel and round-trip air fare.

We make it easy to get there too. With the only Super DC-8 service to Miami. And if you like, you can even charge the whole thing on Eastern's Charge-A-Trip plan. See a Travel Agent. Or call Eastern day or night at 965-8200. And take the vacation you thought you couldn't take.

*Price based on lowest airfare and double hotel occupancy. Charge A Trip is a service mark.

SOFT WATER

The "soft water" men came over to the church parsonage the other day and installed a new filtering system. I heard the word REGENERATION used quite frequently. The men told me the new water conditioner would regenerate itself automatically. They said the purpose of the regeneration was to dismiss all the impurities that the filtering system had gathered from the water. During the time of regeneration the impurities that had gathered in the system would be washed out.

I got all excited about this process. I went to my Bible and found that man also has a regeneration system. We have gathered into our lives the impurities of sin. What we have collected into our hearts has to be washed away. We need to be cleansed from our sins.

The regeneration system for all mankind is found by faith in Jesus Christ. The Bible says, "Not by works of righteousness which we have done, but according to his mercy he saved us, by the washing of REGENERATION, and renewing of the Holy Ghost." (Titus 3:5) Spiritual regeneration is the sin-cleansing process that God automatically does in our hearts when we receive Jesus Christ as Savior. "The blood of Jesus Christ cleanses us from all sin."

The word for "regeneration" in the original language is made up of the words "new" and "birth." Spiritual regeneration is a new-birth, or a new-beginning with God that washes away the guilt of sin, and makes us new creatures in Christ. Jesus said, "Except a man be born again, he cannot see the kingdom of God." Let me ask you, have you been regenerated? Has the process of cleansing and new beginning with God been installed in your life by faith in Jesus Christ?

Riedesels Europe Bound

A local clergyman and his wife are anticipating a tremendous and rare experience when they leave soon to spend the summer in Europe.

The Rev. Norman Riedesel, pastor of the First United Presbyterian church of South Lyon, and his wife, Sadie, a former teacher in the South Lyon schools, are planning a 21-day tour of 13 European countries traveling by means of a "Eurail Pass". Following their tour, they will take up residence in Larnie, Ireland where Rev. Riedesel will serve as an exchange pastor for two months before he and his wife return to the United States.

The Rev. William Brown, pastor of the Larnie church, with his wife and two sons will in turn take up residence here in the Riedesels' home while he serves the South Lyon congregation.

The Riedesels plan to travel by car to New York where they will board AerLingus (Ireland International Airlines) for the flight to Shannon, Ireland.

Filling the Presbyterian pulpit during part of the Riedesels' absence will be three young men of the congregation who are planning to go into fulltime Christian service. They are: Alan Weamer, Martin Lakvold and Bill Zentner.

TRIUMPHANT TRIANGLE

HOME . . . SCHOOL . . . CHURCH! The predominant influences in the life of a child.

The Home provides love, security, example—to shape the growing personality.

The School develops the mind, stimulates initiative, nurtures social responsibility.

The Church cultivates faith and character, building the spiritual foundations of a noble life.

Wise parents understand the vital importance of each of these influences in the growth of their child. They work faithfully to strengthen all three.

The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the Church. They are: (1) For his own sake. (2) For his children's sake. (3) For the sake of his community and nation. (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.

News Around Schoolcraft

Dr. Eric J. Bradner, president of Schoolcraft College, has been invited to participate as a consultant for the National Conference of the Program With Developing Institutions to be held June 13-16 at Airlie House, Warrenton, Virginia.

The four-day conference, sponsored by the American Association of Junior Colleges, will bring together officials from the U.S. Office of Education and community college presidents and governing board members from throughout the country for concentrated discussions and workshops on the implications of federal legislation to the two-year college.

The schedule for the conference includes a series of general sessions, panel programs and specialized subject matter workshops organized on a regional basis. Dr. Bradner will serve as a workshop consultant.

Airlie House is a conference center on a rural estate about 40 miles from Washington, D.C. The June conference is part of a year-long project recently launched by the AAJC to assist community college participation in federal legislation affecting education and institutions of higher learning.

The North Central Association of Colleges and Secondary Schools has invited Dr. Eric J. Bradner to participate in its Consultant-Examiner Associate Program for the 1968-69 academic year.

As a participant in the program, Dr. Bradner will first attend an orientation Conference in Chicago on September 23, and then will serve as a member of three accreditation examining teams during the course of the year.

Dr. Bradner is the second top administrative figure at the college to be invited to participate in the North Central program which is intended to provide the regional accreditation agency with a corps of highly qualified examiners. Dean of Technical-Vocational Instruction Jon P. Adams recently received an invitation from the association to participate in the program next year.

Mrs. Marion Ochs, business education instructor at Schoolcraft College, has been elected secretary of the Michigan Business Education Association for the 1968-69 academic year.

A member of the MBEA for 13 years, Mrs. Ochs joined the Schoolcraft staff in 1964. She had previously taught at Garden City High, now Garden City East.

To the Supervisor and Clerk of the Township of Northville, Wayne
County, Michigan

Sirs:

You are hereby notified that the Board of County Road Commissioners
of the County of Wayne, Michigan, did, at a meeting of said Board held on May 16, 1968, decide and determine that the certain streets described in the minutes of said Board should be County roads under the jurisdiction of the Board of County Road Commissioners.
The minutes of said meeting fully describing said streets are hereby made a part of this notice, and are as follows:
Minutes of the regular meeting of the Board of County Road Commissioners of the County of Wayne, troit, Michigan, at 9:00 A.M., Eastern Daylight Saving Time, Thursday, May 16, 1968.

Present: Chairman Neudeck, Vice-
Chairman Kreger, and Commissioner
Berry.

"Commissioner Kreger moved the adoption of the following resolution:
BE IT RESOLVED by the Board of County Road Commissioners of the County of Wayne, Michigan that it hereby accepts the dedication to the use of the public of the following described streets and they are hereby taken over as county roads and made a part of the county road system of the County of Wayne:

All of Curtis Avenue, Hillcliff
Lane North and Hillcliff Lane
South as dedicated to the use of the public in Glen Meadows Sub.

Honors Convocation Salutes Top Students

The Fourth Annual Honors Convocation program recognizing those Northville High School seniors attaining a "B" or better scholastic average was held May 27 in the NHS cafeteria.

Scott Bergo served as the master of ceremonies, and William Skelly delivered the invocation.

Dinner was served to honors students, their parents, and guests with a background of musical selections by Gary Becker and Robert Shafer.

After dinner entertainment was provided by Jane Tyler delivering a humorous reading titled "The Waltz." "Alice in Wonderland," a multiple reading, rounded out the entertainment.

Multiple readers included Kevin Barnes, Gregg Carr, Mike Conley, Everett Greer, Daryl Holloman, Richard Jameson, and Alison Lyke.

Following the entertainment, Superintendent of Schools Mr. Raymond Spear gave a short talk prior to the presentation of scholarships and awards.

The benediction also was delivered by William Skelly.

Following is a list of students and teachers receiving awards, plus the organizations which presented the scholarships or awards:

Gary Becker, Pam Smith (American Legion); Cheryl Gall, Dan Wortman (Band); Mike Conley, Sue Jensenel (Bausch and Lomb); Linda Johnson (Business and Professional Woman's Club).

Sarah Bowen, Jim Peterson (Danforth Foundation); Pam Witzke (DAR-US History Award); Pam Smith (DAR-Good Citizen Award); Kevin Barnes, Gregg Carr (Driving Club).

Mr. Robert Benson, Mrs. Jennie Donnelly, Mrs. Janice Hobart (Teacher's Plaque and Awards); Evelyn Budlong (F.T.A.); Sara Lindberg, Margaret Wojciechowski (Library Club).

Michigan higher education certificates and tuition grants were presented to Robert Armstrong, Kevin Barnes, Sara Bowen, Michael Conley, Richard Fisher, Diane Holdsworth, Susan Jensenel, Pamela Kozak, Donald Kriss, Patricia Lisowski, Phyllis Marz, Charles Olewnik, Catarina Paolucci, Ronald Radtke, Virginia Round, William Skelly, Karen Stefanski, Kyle Stubenvoll, and Kurt Wiley;

Student Editor Speaks

Writing Was Painful But Well Worth It

This being the final publication of the In and Around School page which I've written twice a month since October, I wish to take the time and initiative to express my thanks to The Northville Record personnel who have gone out of their way to aid me in my journalistic pursuits.

My gratitude mainly goes out to Mr. Sliger and Mr. Hoffman because they are the men who felt that I had the potential and the qualifications to take on the responsibilities of such a page. They were the ones possessing the power to determine whether or not I would be granted the opportunity to gain valuable experience in the field of my chosen career.

Granted, the responsibility of being a Student Editor for The Northville Record was a burden and a pain at times, but it was well worth it a thousandfold. It proved to me that no matter how tough it became, I'd see it through with the same enthusiasm these past few weeks as I'd had when I first began my Record assignments last fall.

Aside from The Record staff, two high school teachers who encouraged me were my journalism instructor, Mr. Ralph Redmond, and my former speech teacher, Miss Florence Panattoni. I really appreciated their interest and concern at the outset of my endeavors.

Regarding Miss Pan, I must deviate a moment to express my appreciation for what she has done. Not only did she go out of her way to supply me with information on current newsworthy items, but she also went out of her way during the spring forensic contests to aid the Northville student contestants.

I personally feel that our "Alice in Wonderland" multiple reading would not have won a plaque distinguishing our achievement as Regional Champions, and would not have placed eighth in the State Competition without her timely advice and guidance, coupled with the efforts of the others involved with our reading.

However, returning to my main discourse, I cannot express enough gratitude for The Record's appointing me to the position of Student Editor. In addition, they have granted me the opportunity to write a column during the summer months. This new opportunity will no doubt enrich my background as has the student editorship.

Troglydotes, a column to center around The Cavern, will begin next week. That's all I'll reveal at this point, so interested persons will have to look for it and read it to determine its worth.

Once again I extend a much appreciated thanks to The Northville Record for contributing to a rewarding senior year of high school.

19 Boys Selected For Boys' State

Boys of high moral character, good clean sportsmanship, and potential leadership ability are the ones especially desired for the American Legion Wolverine Boys' State program.

Such is the case with 11 high school juniors from Northville High School and eight from Novi High School.

These 19 area boys will accompany over 1,300 other students to the 30th Session of Wolverine Boys' State at the Michigan State University Campus June 12-19.

American Legion Wolverine Boys' State is not a schoolroom activity, but is designed as a practical experience in the problems of self-government as operated in Michigan.

It is not meant to take the place of Civics or Government courses as taught in high school.

The program is structured so that the boys may put the theories of American Government into actual practice as they are taught in the classroom.

This program is made possible through the actual control of the city, county, and state offices as organized under the plans of Boys' State's "Mythical 51st State."

Mr. John Steimel, the Lloyd H. Green American Legion Post Boys' State chairman, and Mrs. Violet Bradford, a Northville high school counselor working in conjunction with Mr. Steimel, have selected the following Northville boys to be sponsored at Boys' State:

Mark Bouiconto (Rotary), Fred Hicks (Holcomb Clinic), Thomas Lepper (VFW), Kim Marburger (F. A. M. Lodge 186), Stanley Nirider (Methodist Men), John Pauli (Optimist).

Terrence Peterson (UAW-CIO 896), Michael Skelly (Casterline), Craig Turnbull (OLV Men's Club), Herman Wedemeyer (PTA), and George Whitesell (Lloyd H. Green American Legion Post).

The following Novi students were selected by Mr. Robert Pohlman, assistant Boys' State chairman, and Mr. Gerald Hartman:

Jeff Adams (General Filter), Chuck Colbeck (Michigan Tractor and Machinery Co.), Gerry Courtney (Willowbrook), Dennis Gailbraith (Novi Rotary).

Mark Gilbert (Village of Novi), John Kaminski (Kiwanis-Wixom, Walled Lake and Novi), Robert Kelly (Novi Board of Commerce), and Jon Van Wagner (Township of Novi).

Recently, an orientation for these Boys' Staters was held at the Lloyd H. Green American Legion Post. Mr. Charles M. McKelvey the secretary of Wolverine Boys' State was on hand to answer questions and explain the program further.

Amidst the information he passed on was a brief description of the significance of the one week to be spent at Boys' State:

"It will probably be the fastest, most rewarding week you'll ever experience."

The Thyme to Offer Sweet, Tight Harmony

It's The Thyme for which The Apple Corps make a back-up appearance at The Cavern this Saturday night from 8:00-11:30 p.m.

The Thyme (pronounced time) headline The Cavern's entertainment with a type of musical sound which has been defined as "A Sweet, tight harmony jazzed with a bit of spice."

Jeep Holland (manager of The Thyme, The Rationals, and other Ann Arbor groups) has been quoted in the past as stating that The Thyme's music is:

"Beautiful, there is no sound like this in the Midwest; a unique, unusual rock jazz creation with perfect harmony that people listen to.

"Their gimmick is simply musical ability. All the guys have good singing voices—you've got to have that. Too many groups think they can get by without this. The Thyme has talent."

The talent Holland speaks of emerges from Ralph Cole (lead guitar), Ed Linenthal (drums), Steve Van DeBurg (rhythm guitar and lead singer), and Al Wilmot (bass).

The Thyme has had bookings in Cleveland, Columbus, Chicago; and include appearances at The Grande and The 5th Dimension as a part of their steady engagements in Michigan.

Cavern admission is $1.00 per member, $1.50 per non-member.

SPEAKING for The Record

By BILL SLIGER

Joint meetings of the separate community bodies that govern our city, school and township areas can be useful and meaningful.

They can eliminate, or at least reduce, misunderstandings, coordinate objectives, possibly save tax dollars, and provide an inter-community appreciation for problems peculiar to each unit.

Progress has been made in these areas in Northville through periodic meetings between the city manager, township supervisor and superintendent of schools. They report back to their respective boards and thereby keep members posted on any activities that have common concern.

Last week the city council and school board met together to discuss a number of items including the progress of city-township unification talks, future use of the community building, development of the newly-acquired fish hatchery site, community recreation, traffic problems at the high school and paving of Taft road.

Regular joint meetings, also including the township board, would most certainly be helpful, if only to maintain understanding and harmony. Three times annually would undoubtedly be sufficient.

One helpful ingredient would be "team" preparation by each unit represented. Too much "talking off the top of the head" by individuals is both time-wasting and unwise. A prepared agenda, studied and discussed in advance by each of the bodies, eliminates the guess-work.

Such preparation should not be designed to remove differences of opinion within individual boards. It should, however, eliminate any embarrassing surprises and provide the basis for arguments based on researched facts rather than foggy memory.

Congratulations are due the Northville city council for its decision to purchase the 13.5-acre fish hatchery site for half price from the federal government.

Future generations will be better equipped to assess the wisdom of acquiring open spaces for recreation and nature study.

In its prepared purchase application to the federal government the council gained exactly what it had requested: full right to use the land as it sees fit for community recreation.

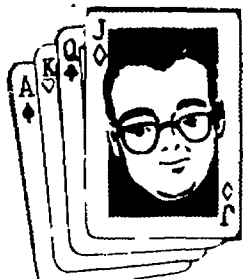

It is difficult to understand a council minority now objecting to the acceptance of its own signed request, preferring instead to pay twice the price.

Taxes bug me as much as they do the next fellow—probably even more than they do my wife who superintends our bank roll. But so does the cost of our home and the cost of clothing and feeding five kids who bite off the biggest chunk of our weekly paycheck.

In that respect I suppose we're no different than most parents.

But when it comes to educating our kids we figure public education costs are pretty reasonable. Frankly, they could double or even triple and we'd probably feel the same—although we'd undoubtedly bellyache more.

The treasurer of our house puts it this way: "A baby sitter for five kids 180 days a year would cost us about $1,800 on today's black market." Teachers, books, supplies and learnin' cost us a good deal less.

All of which means, I guess, that someone else is helping to educate our kids and the kids of most of the other families in town. Business and industry are picking up the biggest tab, childless couples, retired folks, and large property owners a lesser but meaningful amount.

What we've got then is a welfare state, however odious the term, that parents enjoy and perpetuate. My father, for example, with all his close-to-the-rib republicanism and down-with-taxes philosophy contributed to and participated in this welfare aspect of our society simply by siring six kids who attended school. Yet today, retired, his school taxes are no less repugnant than they were 25 years ago.

"There's something crooked in city hall" was a favorite expression of his whenever the subject of taxes came up. He couldn't vote on the income tax nor on his property tax, so one of his sure ways to root out the "evil" was to carry his complaint with him to the school ballot.

Things haven't changed much today.

Taxes still bug parents even though they live in a more affluent society. They have kids, send them to public schools, supported mostly by the taxes of others, and still carry their fights to the school ballot.

"Something crooked in city hall"? I've seen none of it in either Northville or Novi while watching and listening to their boards of education wrestle with budget problems you and I helped create.

I believe the millage proposals in both school districts deserve support. Father of five kids, I'd have a soft spot in my head if I didn't.

Readers Speak Student Likes Local Library

To The Editor:

I wish to comment on the letters you have received concerning the Northville Library. People of all ages want something that is new and up to date. Students are particularly anxious to obtain up to date books for their studies. They need more and more information about modern-day subjects. In that respect I feel, as a student, that our library meets these qualifications. It has been my experience that books can be located quickly, and if a person has difficulty locating one someone is always present to assist.

Michigan Mirror

Low Age Traffic Fatalities Climb, Alarm Police-Safety Agencies

LANSING—The impressive record set last year by Michigan motorists is likely to be buried in a new high of traffic fatalities for 1968. Col. Frederick E. Davids, director of the Michigan State Police, notes that traffic deaths are running already well ahead of last year, 677 killed on highways as compared to the 1967 figure of 617. Holidays, which contribute the largest number of fatalities, have yet to be accounted for. In 1967, the five holidays of Memorial Day, Fourth of July, Labor Day, Christmas and New Years added 182 deaths to the grim statistics.

Police and safety organizations are understandably alarmed. Col. Davids points out that there has been an increase in the number of multiple fatalities in lower age brackets; several cases of drivers going the wrong way on freeways and other evidence of driver irresponsibility. "The driver must learn that once he gets behind the wheel, he alone is responsible for his own safety, for his passengers and others who share the highways," he said.

PROGRESS RECORDED in 1967 makes this year's statistics more alarming. For the first time in three years, 1967 showed a decline in highway fatalities. A total of 2,123 traffic deaths were recorded, just one more than fatalities reported in 1964. This, despite an increase in the number of registered vehicles, licensed drivers and average number of vehicle miles traveled per year.

It was hoped that this trend could be continued. But the 1967 statistics still represented an appalling average of 5.8 persons killed on Michigan highways each day of the year.

ABOUT TWO-THIRDS of the traffic deaths occurred in rural areas, and slightly more than half came at night. Violations, in order of frequency, were speeding, failure to yield, driving left of center, drunk driving, ignoring stop sign, and disregarding signal.

Other facts on the 1967 traffic toll:

For each person killed, 71 were injured.

The economic loss in traffic accidents amounted to the estimated cost of four Mackinac Bridges.

Of drivers involved in fatal accidents who were tested, 30.16 per cent had alcohol in their blood.

One of every 3,862 persons in Michigan was killed in a traffic accident in 1967; one of every 542 was injured; one of every 7.9 cars and one of every 9.5 drivers was involved in an accident.

For each pedestrian killed, 16 were injured.

RECOVERY FROM this year's poor start is still possible, according to Capt. Don Downer of the State Police Safety and Traffic Division. "With some good luck the rest of the year and careful driving by motorists, we still could ... have a fatality score close to last year," he said.

Highway engineers, working with state police and other agencies, seek out high-accident locations on the state highway system. The danger spots, most often intersections, are then redesigned. Other programs are being implemented to reverse the trend of mounting traffic fatalities.

But responsibility ultimately falls on each individual driver, Davids says. A motorist, in order to survive on modern highways, must concentrate on defensive driving, he emphasized.

FOOD PRODUCTS, produced and processed in Michigan, should enjoy greater acceptance in world markets because of the growing number of trade shows. One show, held April 5-21 in Tokyo, Japan, produced immediate sales of over $1 million for American exports and untold future markets.

Called the "American Festival," the show was attended by two representatives from the Michigan Department of Agriculture. The State displayed various food products including fruit juices, plums, apples, cherries, blueberries, turkey products, pudding and pie fillings.

No orders were taken but inquiries were forwarded to the state's commodity participants. Over 100 Japanese companies indicated a strong interest in Michigan's array of goods. Commodity participants pay a small fee, furnished products and paid transportation costs of getting the products to the show. In return, they are granted exclusive rights to inquiries from interested Japanese companies for a limited time. After a set period, the companies' names are made public to all American firms which request the list.

In 1967, $110 million in Michigan farm products were exported to world markets. An annual increase is expected each year because of trade shows and other programs by Michigan agencies and private enterprise. This fall, the MDA may send representatives to Munich, Germany, for another show. The success of past exhibits has proven the worth of such enterprise, the department says.

BABSON PARK Massachusetts—Interest rates are very high. If Congress fails to pass a tax boost, probability is that rates will again be raised. Will today's high mortgage costs cripple the real estate business and dry up demand for new houses?

Not only are interest rates high, but some key rates are at top levels since 100 years ago, when the nation was reeling under the impact of crises deriving from the Civil War. Indeed, many rates are actually higher than during the credit crunch of the third and fourth quarters of 1966.

What killed cheap money? The usual answer to that question is "inflation", but there are quite a number of people who point to the Vietnam war as the chief culprit. The pressures of our deep involvement in Southeast Asia are a factor, of course, but by no means an overriding one.

MOST OF US think of inflation as being a broad rise in the prices of goods and services. Until the strong price advances which began in 1965, we weren't overly concerned about inflation. We simply failed to realize that not only did inflation exist, but also it was expanding at a steady clip. Recently, our tax policy in refusing to absorb enough of the inflationary flood has increased the pressure.

The growth of the economy during the past 7 years, together with the war, hastened the progress of this inflation from the speed of a snail to that of a rocket. This vast expansion in Gross National Product multiplied the need for money and capital funds, but the straw that broke the camel's back was the sharp rise in the general price level.

A second factor, scarcely less important, has been our worsening imbalance of international payments, which has forced the Federal Reserve to restrict the availability of funds and to make them more costly by upping interest rates.

HOW MUCH further interest rates will rise depends on what steps the Administration and Congress take to cool the fires of inflation. Our guess is that the ceiling on interest rates has not yet been seen. Later on, if we have a tax boost and if some of the nation's other problems become a bit less onerous, we would expect interest rates to ease off. Even so, money will not again be cheap for a long time to come.

High mortgage rates and scarcity of mortgage money in selected areas have already hurt the real estate business. Reports from around the nation indicate that property is being moved less readily. In areas where demand itself has been holding up, transactions are delayed and sometimes fall through as prospective buyers fail to obtain mortgages either because lenders are now screening more carefully or because the would-be borrowers cannot pay the sharply upped rates.

POTENTIAL demand for new homes is large and broadly based. Quite apart from the challenges posed by poor housing in city ghettos and rural slums, population increase and continued good economic activity are continually expanding the market.

Yet, high building costs and high mortgage rates are curbing spending for new homes this year. Many people, especially young people, find that right now they simply cannot afford large down payments and heavy carrying charges. As a result, we look for some slide-off in housing starts over the next several months, during which time the recent emphasis on apartments and multi-family houses will persist. If you need a new home, don't wait indefinitely, hoping for a big drop in either the price of the house or the cost of the mortgage.

The American Institute of Laundering cautions

The press is permanent, but to stay permanently white, bright and soft... Permanent Press Sheets and Pillow Cases Need PROFESSIONAL LAUNDERING and FINISHING

Today's fabulous fabrics out-perform those of even a few years ago. Still, if you're to get full service from them, best send them out for laundering. Then skill and professional equipment swing into action. Sheets stay wrinkle-free, retain their smooth texture... the brilliance of whites... the brightness of colors. Pillow cases are truly clean and inviting—rid of those hair oil, make-up and other hard to handle stains.

As a member of the American Institute of Laundering we receive the latest information on prolonging the wear and "like new" appearance of Permanent Press.

CONTINUING PROGRESS

UNDERGROUND AGENTS

Down-under at a Consumers Power regulator station, underground agents are at work. Agents of progress. Adjusting the pipeline pressure to feed natural gas into your home, they are helping to make sure we meet your needs for gas, day in and day out.

Underground and aboveground, Consumers Power people are working to give you efficient, safe service today and to provide for increasing service in the future.

Our older pipelines are continually checked and double-checked for safety. Within the next three years, we will clean, inspect and retest almost 525 miles of transmission pipelines.

To meet growing demand, we are planning to increase our gas supplies by 70 percent in the next five years. Last year alone, Consumers Power spent $40-million for new construction and improvements of natural gas facilities.

Consumers Power people are at work to help you enjoy the good gas life. Because at Consumers Power, continuing progress is more than just a slogan.

Out of THE PAST

FIVE YEARS AGO...
...Reverend Paul M. Cargo, pastor of Northville's First Methodist Church for six years, was appointed pastor of the First Methodist Church of Caro. He was succeeded by the Reverend S. D. Kinde of Chelsea, who at the time had served in the Methodist ministry for 30 years.
...State legislators gave final approval to a congressional reapportionment bill that placed the Oakland County portion of Northville and Novi Township and Wixom in a newly-created 19th Congressional District.
...Weather wasn't very cooperative for the 20th opening of Northville Downs. Only 2,892 fans showed up, betting $173,039 on 10 races.

10 YEARS AGO...
...Joan Degan Wroten was back to defend her crown as Queen of the Rodeo at Northville Downs.
...In one of the largest votes polled in years Donald B. Lawrence was elected to a three-year term of the Northville Board of Education.
...Installation of a water line across the new high property to Northville Heights subdivision and down Hill Street was scheduled to begin.
...Northville extended its heart to five-year-old David Rochon. More than $150 was contributed to buy medicine and pain-killing drugs for the plucky youngster who was doomed by a brain tumor.

15 YEARS AGO...
...Albert E. Jones, coach and teacher, was named new athletic director at Northville High School, replacing Harry B. Smith, who served in the post since 1946. Smith had requested to be relieved of the post so he could devote all his time to driver training and to teaching mathematics. Jones was starting his sixth year at Northville.

...A new slate of officers, headed by President J. K. Eastland, was scheduled to take over the reins of the Northville Optimist Club on July 1.
...Mrs. Eliza M. Wagenschutz became the first woman member of the Northville Board of Education since 1924 in voting on two vacancies Nelson C. Schrader, Jr., was re-elected to fill the other vacancy. Both were to serve three year terms.

20 YEARS AGO...
...Seventy-eight students were graduated from Northville High School.
...Douglas Slessor was appointed recreation director of the Northville Recreation summer program by the Village Council.
...Organization of the Northville Junior Police force was expected to get underway soon, according to a report of Police Chief Joseph Denton.

25 YEARS AGO...
...Sixty-one seniors were slated to graduate from Northville High School, where the commencement address was to be given by Dr. Hartman A. Lichtwardt.
...Dr. L. W. Snow was a candidate to succeed himself on the Northville board of education. No other candidate had filed.
...Named as American Heroes in The Record were these four servicemen: Maxwell Austin, Raymond Beauchamp, George White and Steven Clark Armstrong.
...The alumni association of Northville, with Jack Blackburn as president and Dorothy Vroman as secretary, was planning a picnic in Cass Benton Park.
...New officers of the Red Cross were: Mrs. Eber Ward Lester, chairman; Mrs. Ernest H. Wood, vice-chairman; Mrs. W. H. Cansfield, recording secretary; Mrs. W. E. Forney, corresponding secretary; and Mrs. Harold Bloom, treasurer.

65 YEARS AGO...
...The Record printery had issued some unique and very handsome invitations for the graduating class of 1903, Northville High School, whose members were Misses Charlotte Ferrell, Shirlee Tinham, and Estella Angell, and Messrs Raymond Holcomb and Edwin Perrin.
...A Northville citizen, who the previous fall might have realized a fair profit for his bunch of onions, of which he had 200 bushels, drew the entire lot into a field and there spread them to fertilize the air. As the balm from the Northville bouquet filled the nostrils of the United States Court for the western district of Michigan, he took an inspiring sniff and congratulated himself as not the only bulb speculator who held for a "raise" and raised only a smell.

OUT OF PAST—Workmen at Manning & Locklin Gravel company mine east of the old Northville depot uncovered part of an old railroad last week. According to oldtimers, the tracks were a spur line used by the DUR many years ago in obtaining gravel for its rail beds. They guessed the spur line was installed about the same time the DUR came into existence in 1899. The DUR, which many residents recall as the principal means of transportation between Northville, Detroit and other communities, was abandoned in 1927. How far the spur line extends beneath the sand and gravel awaits further excavation.

Former Principal's Son To Graduate at Sparta

STEVEN QUAY

Steven Quay, son of former Assistant High School Principal LaGene Quay, will graduate Tuesday from Sparta high school where his father is principal.
The former Northville student will enter Western Michigan University next fall on a pre-medical program.
Young Quay was a member of Sparta National Honor Society, varsity band, and varsity basketball, track and cross country teams. The latter placed seventh in the state "B" competition last fall.
As a member of the track team, he broke a 27-year-old school record in the quarter mile and was a member of the mile relay squad that broke a seven-year record.

Gribbs to Get Wayne Sheriff Job

Roman S. Gribbs, Detroit Traffic Court referee and a former assistant prosecuting attorney, has been appointed Wayne County sheriff.
Gribbs, 42, will finish out the term of Sheriff Peter L. Buback, who resigned effective June 1. The term runs to the end of the year.
Gribbs said he will seek election to the sheriff's office in the coming August 6 primary and November 5 general elections.
Appointment of Gribbs was made by a three-member panel established by state law. Its members were County Clerk Edgar M. Branigin, Prosecuting Attorney William L. Cahalan and Presiding Probate Judge Frank S. Szymanski.
Gribbs will head an organization which, with a staff of 388, is the largest police force in Michigan outside Detroit. The Sheriff's annual budget is $4.3-million.
Gribbs has been a traffic court referee (magistrate) for two years. Previously, he was a Wayne County assistant prosecuting attorney for nine years and then was in private law practice for two years.
Born in Detroit, he attended grade and high school in Capac, Michigan. He then attended the University of Detroit. He earned a Bachelor of Science degree, magna cum laude, and a Bachelor of Laws degree, finishing third in his class and winning a scholarship award for the highest four-year grade average in his class.

In Wayne County Hearing Delayed On District Plan

A Circuit Court hearing on a lawsuit which seeks to nullify a 26-district plan for revamping the Wayne County Board of Supervisors was continued until this past Tuesday.
Opening arguments were presented before Judge James N. Canham, Tuesday, May 28.
Canham set another hearing for 10 a.m. Tuesday, June 4.
He said he did so to give other communities time to join the lawsuit, which was filed by the Dearborn Heights city administration.
Canham took the action after Dearborn Heights City Attorney Duane Dunick told the court that at least nine other communities plan to join in the suit. Attorneys for Belleville and Livonia said their cities intended to join in the suit.
The suit, filed on behalf of Dearborn Heights Mayor John L. Canfield, three Dearborn Heights Councilmen and the city itself, charges that the five-member apportionment commission which devised the 26-district plan was illegally constituted.
Canfield later sent telegrams to every mayor and township supervisor urging that their communities join the suit.
Under the reapportionment plan, one supervisor would be elected on a partisan basis from each of 26 districts to replace the present 135-member Board of Supervisors.
Suburban officials are opposed to the plan because, they charge, the new board would be dominated by Detroit and that many out-county communities would be effectively denied representation because the districts would cut across so many local boundaries.
The 26-district plan was devised by a special commission set up in accordance with the apportionment law, which the State Legislature passed in 1966.
The commission consisted of three county officials—the Clerk, Prosecuting Attorney and Treasurer—and the county chairmen of the Democratic and Republican parties.
The suit contends that the commission membership was illegal because the two party chairmen were neither statutory chairmen nor appointed by the state central committee chairmen of the two parties, the two stipulations contained in the state law.

The clean machine!
Strange. Most car prices have gone up. Except on Dodge Charger. The Manufacturer's Suggested Retail Price on the standard 1968 Charger with V8 is $88 less than that on the 1967 Charger (exclusive of optional whitewalls and chromed road wheels shown above). But Charger has a way of being different. It's styled mean and clean. And quietly thundering under the hood is a spirited 318-cubic-inch V8.
