Parade, Barbecue, Fireworks Highlight Big Fourth Celebration

Ogilvie Enters Race For District Judge

The Northville Jaycees have pulled out all the stops as it prepares to stage its annual Fourth of July festivities.

Kicking off the fun with a gigantic parade at 10 a.m. and climaxing activities with a spectacular fireworks display at dusk, they'll sandwich a big barbecue between the start and finish.

The parade, featuring a mixture of bands, marching units, drum and bugle corps and floats, will start forming in the Northville Downs parking lot at 9 a.m.

Moving out the northeast exit of the parking lot, the parade will proceed north to Main Street, west on Main to Cady, south on Cady to Fairbrook and then east back to the Downs.

Special features of the parade will include:

Canada's all-girl marching angels named "Canada's Sweethearts"; the All-State Security Horses; the Suburbanettes; the Redford Highlanders; and more than a dozen antique cars.

Northville's own marching band will step off as well.

Other parade participants will include majorettes, Boy Scouts, students of Miss Millie School of Dance, the American Legion train, and the Jaycee-Jaycette float carrying the Little Miss queen, her court, and the Junior Miss runner-up in this past year's contest, Kyle Stubenvoll.

Floats entered by numerous clubs, organizations and businesses also will share the spotlight. Typical of these will be the Northville Historical Society float, which will combine the parade's theme on youth with preservation of the Township hall building.

A scale model of the building, constructed in the basement of C. A. Chapman and containing thousands of tiny shingle, siding and glass, it will be the center of attention as youngsters in costume walk beside it. (See Page 10-A)

Following the parade, barbecued chicken dinners will be served in the city hall park where the Little Miss will hold court.

Dinners will be served until 8 p.m.

At dusk, what may be the biggest fireworks display in the state for communities of Northville's size, will be held at the high school athletic field. Cars may park at the high school.

Northville Municipal Judge Philip R. Ogilvie has entered the race for the newly-created position of district judge.

Judge Ogilvie journeyed to Lansing Monday to register his candidacy. Deadline for filing was Tuesday, July 2.

Ogilvie became the second Northville attorney to file for the district judge post. Earlier Allen C. Ingle, a resident of Northville Estates with law offices in Farmington, announced his candidacy.

The Northville municipal judge said his decision to run came after considerable thought and discussion. He has had a general law practice in Northville since 1949. Election as district judge would mean that he could no longer conduct a private practice.

For 14 years Ogilvie served as village and city attorney in Northville. He was appointed municipal judge one year ago when Charles McDonald resigned the post.

A graduate of the Detroit College of Law, Ogilvie, who is 49, started practicing in Northville immediately following graduation in 1949. He lives at 525 Linden court with his wife, Ethel, and their children, Janet and Gary.

Ingle has practiced law for 19 years in both Michigan and federal courts and has been active in court reform measures before the Michigan legislature. He has served as a member of the Michigan Traffic Safety Committee. He also has 12 years of judicial experience and has been honored for several years by being selected for the publication, "Who's Who in the Midwest."

Ingle is 47, married, and has three children.

He served in World War II and is a member of the Foreign Wars and the American Legion. He has served on the State Bar Court Administration Committee, and is a member of the American Trial Lawyers and the Northwest Lawyers Association.

A primary election will be held August 6 and the general election in November for both legislative and judicial posts. The new district court, which does away with all justice of the peace courts and municipal courts in most communities, officially comes into being January 1, 1969. The term of office for judges is four years.

The Northville district will include both the city and township area as well as the city and township of Plymouth and Canton township.

Others who had filed as of Tuesday at 10 a.m. (the deadline was 4 p.m.) are: Dunbar Davis, Robert Greenstein and Thomas Healy, all attorneys from Plymouth.

Manager, Strong Mayor: Which is Best for Cities?

EDITOR'S NOTE —

Following is a report of a meeting held in Novi by its newly-formed charter commission. Purpose of the session was to help the commission to determine what type of charter might be best for Novi. Livonia's Mayor Harvey Moelke described the "strong mayor" form, while Northville's City Manager Frank Ollendorff listed the advantages of the city manager form. The information is excellent for citizens of all communities, but seems particularly pertinent at this time in Northville when city-township unification is being considered, which would lead to the drafting of a new charter.

A strong manager and a strong mayor recommended and defended their respective forms of government in a sparring match before the Novi City Charter Commission Thursday night.

Neither could claim a victory. Commissioners expect to hear others talk about the two basic forms of government before deciding which type of government they will choose for Novi.

Thursday's contestants were Harvey W. Moelke, mayor of Livonia, and Frank Ollendorff, city manager of Northville. While the two espoused opposite viewpoints, they were agreed on two fundamental issues:

Whichever form of government is picked, give the mayor or the manager sufficient powers to carry out the duties of his office, and in writing the charter make it a clear-cut document that does not mix strong manager—strong mayor charter provisions.

Here are the basic points of the two sides:

Moelke—
*The strong mayor-council form of government provides a check and balance system not provided under the city manager form.

*It offers a healthy public forum, resulting in better public awareness of the issues.

*With both the mayor and the council being elected, the people know where the responsibilities belong and they can act accordingly.

*The city manager cannot exercise authority as can the mayor who is elected by the people; furthermore when the elected mayor goes to Lansing or to Washington, D.C. for some request he carries with him a good deal more authority.

*A mayor usually has been a resident of a community for a considerable time and knows first-hand many of the problems and the citizens of the community.

*The mayor can express his own opinions and fight for his position whereas the city manager does not often express differing points of view. How can the manager be held responsible for council action where its decision may have been made by a split vote?

*The strong mayor system provides organized groups with an opportunity to advance a candidate and to have some influence in capturing the mayor's seat.

Ollendorff—
*The lines of responsibility under the manager system are clear-cut and the people know it. A manager who fails to do his job can be disciplined or dismissed.

*In local government there are two distinct functions: policy-making and administrative. A manager, trained in administration, can do this job best, leaving policy-making to the council.

*If the council errors it cannot "pass the buck" to the mayor or vice-versa as is the case under the strong mayor form of government.

*If your citizens voice little interest in local government, then perhaps the strong mayor form is preferable. But if the people have a real interest in their government, the city manager form has the edge because here the people, not the mayor, represent the "check" on the council.

Public Invited To Visit Cavern

Ever been to The Cavern?

If you're of high school age and living in the Northville area, the answer is undoubtedly "yes".

But if you're a parent, it might just be the place to which your son or daughter tell you they're going.

Now you're invited. This Sunday from 2 until 5 p.m. and from 7 until 9 p.m. The Cavern is holding an open house for the public — young and old alike.

It's a "get-acquainted" with your Cavern affair designed to give the public a chance to look around, enjoy a few light refreshments and ask questions.

Hostesses will be Cavern President Sue Jarvis, Secretary Jane Forrer and Treasurer Nancy Secord.

Mrs. Gordon Forrer, adult advisor to the group from the sponsoring Mothers Club, will also be on hand to greet visitors.

For more information on The Cavern Open House, see "Trogloodytes" written by Daryl Holloman on Page 10-B.

RESCUED—For more than three hours, nine-year-old Steve Elody, son of Dr. Marta S. Elody, 392 Welch Road, shivered and cried in 2½ feet of muddy water in a basement excavation at Westridge Subdivision as more than a dozen Novi policemen, firemen and village employees worked feverishly to free him. Detective Sergeant Richard Faulkner and Water Department Superintendent Roy Marr worked for an hour to remove the boy, whose foot was painfully impaled on a long, crooked nail and wedged awkwardly in framework and mud beneath the water. Because of the pain and the uncertainty of how his foot was caught, they called in a fire truck pumper and two portable pumpers to first remove the water. Then with the ambulance on the way and Dr. Lorne Dyer on hand, his foot was pulled free. Treated and released from St. Mary Hospital, the boy had been wading in the basement. See picture on Page 10-A.

City's Oakland Area Shows Biggest Gain

Population of the Northville, Novi, Wixom communities increased by 3,115 persons between the 1960 and July 1, 1967, according to the latest count by the planning division of the Southeast Michigan Council of Governments.

The head count climbed from 19,625 in 1960 to 22,740 last July. This total, explained planners, includes the large non-household population of the institutions in Northville Township.

Biggest jump in population occurred in the Oakland County section of Northville where figures climbed from 985 to 1,490—a 505 increase or 51-percent jump.

The Wayne County portion of Northville increased from 2,982 to 3,800 for a jump of 818 people or 27-percent. Altogether, Northville's city population was put at 5,290.

Novi—including both the village and the township—showed a population increase of from 6,454 to 7,200, a jump of 746 or 14-percent.

Population increased from 7,673 to 8,400 in Northville Township of an increase of 727 or nine percent.

In Wixom, the population increased by 319 or 21-percent, from 1,531 to 1,850.

Population estimates of the seven-county area, according to SMC, show an increase of 541,646. As of July 1, 1967, the region grew to 4,723,000 persons—a gain of 13-percent over the seven year period.

Greatest percentage growth occurred in Macomb County which had a new high of 577,000 residents for a 42-percent increase since 1960. Two communities, Warren and Sterling Township, accounted for most of this gain with about 111,000 additional persons. This represents a growth of 94-percent for Warren and 181-percent for Sterling Township.

Oakland County had the greatest numerical growth with 865,000 residents for a gain of 25 percent of almost 175,000. Leading communities include: Royal Oak with 96,000; Pontiac with 85,300; Southfield with 65,000; and Waterford Township with 56,200.

For Wayne County the population totaled 2,772,000 for an increase of 105,700 since 1960. Livonia and Westland recorded over 50-percent of this gain with new highs of 101,000 and 78,500, respectively.

75% Assessment Brings Objections

Despite strong arguments from citizens protesting a 75 per cent assessment, the Northville city council Monday approved the proposed project for paving of Taft road and set July 15 for opening of bids.

After listening to property owners from other unpaved streets in the city, as well as an attorney representing Mr. and Mrs. Nicholas Zander, owners of 300-feet of frontage on Taft road, the council recessed briefly before announcing its decision.

While sticking to the 75 per cent level of assessment, the council reduced the estimated cost per front foot to the individual property owners from $14.56 to $13.70 on the basis that eight-inch concrete is being used and the normal requirement for residential streets is seven-inch. The proposed assessment was therefore reduced by the estimated difference between the cost of the two thicknesses.

Attorney James Ebel, representing the Zanders, urged the council to consider a compromise "because Taft road represents a unique situation." He said that the main purpose of the

Council Urges 'Yes' Vote

Northville's city council extended a helping hand to the Northville board of education Monday night.

By official resolution the council urged city taxpayers to support the two-mill request for operating funds that will come before voters for the second time July 29.

"We're probably in a better position than most individuals to recognize the need for more money in these times of rising costs," said Mayor A. M. Allen.

"Maybe our support will mean something to citizens who have confidence in our judgment," he commented in urging adoption of the resolution.

City Reviews Storm; Eyes Sewer Relief

City Manager Frank Ollendorff outlined the city's efforts to halt over-loading of its sanitary sewer lines with storm water Monday night as several interested citizens, their spirits still dampened from last week's downpour, listened.

One of the city's major trouble spots lies in the northwest area, including Northville Heights subdivisions one and two, he reported. He said a survey to determine how storm water infiltrates the sewer system was being made using television cameras and dye marker.

One positive action the council urged was the cutting off of any patio drains that may be connected into the sewer lines.

An inter-county drain district involving Northville and Novi has been formed, the manager revealed, to provide means of handling water coming from the north — a situation that becomes more acute as more housing development takes place.

In other business Monday night the council approved the rezoning of the northerly 350 feet of Eastlawn rest homes property adjacent to Baseline road from R-2 (two family) to R-3, multiple dwelling.

Councilwoman Beatrice Carlson reported that she had received a donation of $200 from Mr. and Mrs. C. E. Langfield to help pay for the recently-designed official city of Northville flag.

June Wedding Bells Chime for Four Brides

MR. AND MRS. WALTER E. CLARK

MRS. DENNIS TUTTLE

Mary Jackson - Walter Clark

In a morning ceremony at the St. Luke's Episcopal Church in Allen Park, Mary Joanne Jackson became the bride of Walter E. Clark. The Reverend Ward H. Clabuesh officiated at the June 15 double ring ceremony.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John C. Jackson of Allen Park. The bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Clark of 10650 West Seven Mile.

The floor-length gown of the bride was fashioned of peau de soie with features of Alencon lace applique. The neckline was scooped and adorned with clusters of seed pearls. A bouffant skirt with similar Alencon lace fell from a fitted bodice. The illusion veil was elbow-length and secured by a Dior bow. The bride carried a white prayer book centered with an orchid, stephanotis and ivy.

Appearing as matron of honor was Mrs. Robert Quandt of Allen Park, whose street length A-line turquoise dress featured a high bodice bow which secured the veil. She carried a colonial bouquet of white carnations centered with turquoise daisies.

Donning similar ensembles were Mrs. Richard Juchartz of Wyandotte and Miss Mary Low of Highland Park, who carried a colonial arrangement of yellow carnations and daisies. The flower girls, Danielle Juchartz and Kimberly Quandt, wore identical pale yellow dresses and carried baskets of yellow and white daisies.

Jerry Baker of Plymouth assisted as best man. Escorting the guests to their seats were Richard Clark of Northville, brother of the bridegroom, and John Jackson, Jr., the bride's brother. The bridegroom's nephew, Gerald Watson, of South Lyon, was ring bearer.

Out-of-town guests attended the wedding from Stoney Creek and Hamilton, Ontario, and Port Huron. Following the nuptials, the newlyweds were feted at a luncheon reception in Seabury Hall. They will reside in Lincoln Park following a honeymoon in Northern Michigan.

Mary Jendrisak - Dennis Assenmacher

Near an altar flowered with palms and white blossoms, Mary Kay Jendrisak was married to Dennis Assenmacher on June 1 at Our Lady of Victory Church. The wedding took place at 11 a.m. with the Reverend Father John Wittstock officiating.

The new Mrs. Assenmacher is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Jendrisak of 986 Grace Street. Her husband's parents are Mr. and Mrs. A. Assenmacher of Monroe.

The bride carried a bridal cascade of white roses with white miniature carnations and spring rye mixed with pearl hearts. Her gown was made from a silk, candlelight colored peau de soie. A long panel in the front was trimmed with rose point lace and seed pearls, with the same lace trimming the wedding band neckline. A floor-length train fell from the waist in back. For a headpiece she wore a dutch like cap which was trimmed with more lace and seed pearls. This secured a long, matching candlelight veil.

The maid of honor was Bonnie Jendrisak. She served with other attendants Carol Morse and Sharon and Karen Assenmacher. Their dresses were made from rainbow hues of mint green, blue, yellow, and pink. For flowers the maid of honor carried a cascade of rubrum lilies with carnations, spring green stars, and a streak of orange-yellow roses. The other bridesmaids carried similar cascades with clusters of star flowers to match their dresses.

Mrs. Jendrisak, the mother of the bride, wore a pink silk suit. She wore a corsage of white rubrum lilies and white roses. The bridegroom's mother wore a celery green dress with a corsage of yellow roses and ivory ribbon.

James Foster, a room-mate of the bridegroom, served as best man. Ushers in the wedding party were Dave Jendrisak, Rick Jelorfek, and Dave Boss.

Following the wedding an open house was held at the Jendrisak home at 986 Grace. Friends and relatives attended from different areas of Michigan and Ohio. Earlier, a pre-rehearsal dinner had been held at the Raleigh House in Southfield.

The new Mrs. Assenmacher is a graduate of Ladywood High School who attended the University of Detroit. She is presently employed by the Ford Motor Company. Her husband is a senior in the medical school at the University of Michigan.

Jean Findlay - Dennis Tuttle

Jean Findlay pledged her vows to Dennis Tuttle in a wedding ceremony on June 22 at the Methodist Church in St. Johns, Michigan. The marriage took place at 2 p.m., with the Reverend Homer officiating.

The new Mrs. Tuttle is a first-grade teacher at Amerman Elementary School. Her parents are Mr. and Mrs. Loree Findlay of St. Johns. The bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Farice Tuttle of Dearborn Heights.

The bride was given in marriage by her father under altar arrangements of daisies and roses. The two songs sung were "Oh Perfect Love" and "Our Wedding Prayer".

The bride's gown was made from organza and characterized by straight, simple lines. The belled sleeves were made of lace, with matching lace motifs scattered down the front panel of the skirt. Another panel in the back fell into a floor-length train. More lace motifs formed the headpiece, which secured a fingertip veil of silk illusion. The bride carried a bouquet of white daisies and roses intertwined with baby's breath and ivy.

Serving as maid of honor was Janet Findlay, a sister of the bride. Other attendants were Lynda Goss, and Eileen Herbst. All three wore empire gowns of aqua organza. The dresses were trimmed with borders of white daisies.

Carol Tuttle, a sister of the bridegroom, acted as junior bridesmaid. Lynn Burke, friend of the bridegroom, assisted as best man. Other men in the wedding party were Larry Rhodes and Carl Ragla.

Both mothers of the couple wore tailored jacket dresses. Mrs. Findlay wore a dress of light green satiny material and the bridegroom's mother wore an aqua colored outfit.

Following the wedding, a reception was held in the church parlor for approximately 120 guests. The newlyweds made a wedding trip to Mackinac Island and settled in Fairbrook apartments upon their return.

Jill Rockefeller - Robert Steeper

Jill Ethel Rockefeller and Robert Lorne Steeper exchanged marriage vows on June 7 at the First United Methodist Church of Northville. The Reverend S. D. Kinde performed the evening ceremony.

Candelabrum and standing bouquets of yellow fiji mums and white gladiolus decorated the church, with white ribboned mums trimming the pews. The music was provided by organist Arthur Pipok with Donald Valentine singing "I Love Thee" and "The Lord's Prayer".

Jill is the daughter of Mrs. Stuart Rockefeller and the late Mr. Rockefeller of 43450 Reserve Road. Her husband's parents are Mr. and Mrs. Lorne Steeper of 19320 Marilyn.

The bride was given in marriage by her brother Craig Rockefeller. Her gown, made of imported silk organza, had an A-line silhouette. It was enhanced with a panel of embroidered Alencon lace along the front bodice and the skirt. The dress had a portrait neckline and long sleeves fastened at the wrist with tiny buttons. A Dior bow of matching fabric held a shoulder length illusion veil. The flowers carried were a colonial bouquet with yellow roses fashioned with a detachable going away corsage.

Serving as maid of honor was Deborah Hines, a long time friend of the bride from Western Michigan University. The other attendants were Patricia Hicks, Mary McMannis, and Leanne Steeper.

They wore similar costumes of pale yellow Georgette with a floating panel in the back. The gowns were trimmed with imported French Cupiere braid. Their flower bouquets were yellow daisies with a yellow rose in the center.

Mike Horner, a long-time friend of the bridegroom from Rutgers University, acted as best man. Serving as ushers were Fred Steeper, Dale Deditch, David Chabut, Pat Templeton, and Clifford Smith. Two nephews of the bride, Stuart and Britton Rockefeller were junior ushers.

Mrs. Rockefeller, the bride's mother, wore a beige lace sheath with blue accessories. The mother of the bridegroom, chose a pink lace sheath with a matching coat.

A new daughter, Beth Anne Marie, was born to Mr. and Mrs. John H. Walasky, of 979 Allen Drive. The eight pound baby was born June 20 at St. Joseph's Hospital in Ann Arbor.

The baby's grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Virgil Joseph and Mr. and Mrs. John Walasky, are residents of Plymouth.

Immediately following the wedding a reception was held at the Mayflower Meeting House in Plymouth. About 200 friends attended from Florida, Ohio, Canada, Michigan, and New York. Among the guests was Mrs. Fred Steeper, grandmother of the bridegroom. Mrs. Steeper, who is in her eighties, traveled all the way from Canada to attend the wedding.

For a wedding trip, the new couple traveled to New England. The bride's going away outfit was a navy silk worsted suit.

Previous to the wedding ceremony, the new Mrs. Steeper was honored with three showers. One, a family shower, was given by her aunt Mrs. Brown. Mrs. Daniel Lanning in Livonia, and Patricia Hix and Debbie Hines also gave showers in her name.

Both newlyweds are 1965 graduates of Northville High School and seniors at Western Michigan University. They plan to make their new home in Kalamazoo Michigan.

HAPPY WINNERS—Their smiles tell the story: Northville's cheerleaders have won another Camp All American first place. They are (l to r, back row): Vicki Elkins, Pam Witzke, Donna Bissa, and Jane Forrer; front row, Sandy Schwendemann, Kim McCormick, and Coach Miss Patricia Dorrian.

Northville Cheerleaders Win Again!

Nine wins in nine years isn't bad... in fact a trophy a year is pretty nice tradition. But when you bring home a first place for the fourth time, well that's something to get excited about.

For the fourth time in nine years, the Northville High School cheerleaders won first place at Camp All American at Hartland in Walden Woods. In competition with 30 other high schools, some much larger than Northville, the girls emerged victorious.

They returned Friday with ribbons and a trophy to display in the high school.

One of the cheerleaders, Sandy Schwendemann brought back added honors when she copped second place in the individual cheering competitions.

Since tryouts on the first of April, the Northville cheerleaders have been practicing for the cheerleading camp. The girls, coached by Miss Patricia Dorrian, are all seniors except for one. They are seniors Vicki Elkins, Sandy Schwendemann, Kim McCormick, Donna Bissa, and Pam Witzke, and junior Jane Forrer.

From their departure Tuesday 'til their return three days later, the girls lead about 20 cheers and chants. They also performed a few unrequired entertainments such as a pom-pom routine to the tune of "A Little Help from my Friends" by the Beatles.

On the morning before their return they presented a skit viewing football through the eyes of different spectators.

The results were spectacular. On the first night when judged on leadership and total appearance, the girls won first place. The next evening they performed two cheers for a first and a second. The last night they won two seconds to knot the title.

Camp All American, run by Miss Polly Hess of Michigan State University, is one of three such camps in the country. Later this summer, winners from all three will come together to compete for a national title. Previously Northville, has done well in this competition winning two firsts from other national winners. This August the squad will try again, and the girls are keeping their fingers crossed.

70-Percent of '68 Class

Most Northville Graduates To Return to School in Fall

Freedom is not an easy thing to come by. When 247 graduating seniors walked up the aisle last month, over 70 percent realized the end of study was not yet in sight. A total of 176 of them are going back to school this fall, most of them to colleges and universities, some to specialized career institutes such as beauty schools.

This is significant rise over last year's students to indicate that students are coming to realize that you just can't always get a satisfactory job with a high school education.

Perhaps equally significant is the fact that of the 176 college-bound students only 59 graduated with honors. This means that more than 66 percent of those going on to college graduated from high school with less than a 3-point (B) average.

Around the first of June a poll was taken by the high school counseling department to determine the future plans of the '68 high school seniors. Although several of the students were not positive about their intentions, it was evident that most of them were planning to continue their education.

Following is the list of schools and local students who will be entering them as freshmen:

Fairy Tale Luncheon

TINY TASTE TESTERS Bridget and Patrick O'Conner of 7460 Salem Road, sample one of the variety of treats offered by Mrs. Betty Young, assistant home service director of Michigan Consolidated Gas Company, when 10 youngsters were called in to select the menu for the Central Business District Association third annual "Fairy Tale Luncheon". The Luncheon, held in conjunction with the CBDA's Children's Art Competition, will be August 13 at the Sheraton Cadillac. Mrs. Young and other home economists of Michigan Consolidated decided on "Snoopy and Friends" for the theme of the test dishes.

Sexy Perfume Lures Gypsy Moth

With the help of a sexy perfume, a team of state and federal agricultural department workers began hunting for gypsy moths in the Duck Lake area southwest of Lansing on July 1.

Scene of the hunt is 196 square miles around Calhoun County's Duck Lake and adjoining bits of Eaton and Jackson counties. The area was treated for gypsy moth last year, when an infestation of gypsy moths popped up. This was five years since the last treatment, in 1962, and during that time the moth was not detected in Michigan.

Since scientists discovered a perfume with a fatal attraction for male gypsy moths looking for female companionship, the work of taking a gypsy moth count has become easier. The perfume, called a sex attractant, is mixed with a sticky substance and placed in clever traps that resemble paper cups.

Love struck male gypsy moths, lured by the scent, come from far and away to enter the traps, thinking that there's a lady love inside. They then become another statistic in the campaign to keep Michigan forests free of this serious pest.

The gypsy moth is a major destroyer of hardwood trees. In the East more than a half million acres of hardwoods have been defoliated in a single season. Two successive years of defoliation spells death to many types of trees.

Twelve hundred paper cup traps will be affixed to trees in the Calhoun-Eaton-Jackson area. The plan is to set six traps per square mile with a higher concentration near Duck Lake.

The gypsy moth program is a joint effort between the Michigan Department of Agriculture's Plant Industry Division and the USDA's Plant Pest Control Division.

Northville Council Minutes

Special Meeting
June 19, 1968

A Special Meeting of the Northville City Council was called to order by Mayor Allen on Wednesday, June 19, 1968, 9:20 p.m., at the Northville City Hall.

Present: Allen, Black, Carlson and Nichols
Absent: Lapham

The purpose of the Special Meeting was to consider the Assessor's Report for Taft Road Improvement and date for a Public Hearing for same.

Nichols moved, support by Carlson, to call a Special Meeting for above reason. Unanimously carried. (Waiver from Councilman Lapham attached)

Moved by Carlson, support by Black, to receive Assessor's Report for Taft Road Improvement Special Assessment and set Public Hearing for Monday, July 1, 1968. Unanimously carried.

The meeting was adjourned at 9:30 p.m.

Frank Ollendorff
Acting Clerk

75% Assessment Brings Objections

improvement was to benefit the school system and Thompson-Brown company, developers of a proposed subdivision on Taft road.

He also argued that the private property owners were actually paying more than 75 per cent because they also pay city and school taxes and would therefore be paying a share of the portion to be paid by the city and the school district. The attorney said he was not asking the city to change its general assessment policy, but to consider the Taft project as unique and "get down to a realistic figure".

Several other property owners — none from Taft road — protested the new 75 per cent level adopted by the council. They argued that most streets had been paved entirely from general funds or at a 25-per cent assessment level.

"What will your argument be when you get to our streets?" one resident asked. "Once the assessment was nothing, then 25 per cent, now 75 per cent. Next it will be 100 per cent," he challenged.

Mayor A. M. Allen recapped the history of assessments for street improvements in Northville. He pointed out that many residents had paid assessments at the 100 per cent level. Later, he noted, the improvements were paid entirely from general funds, and finally, a 25 per cent level was adopted.

"But the council always made it clear that as new areas were annexed to the city all improvements — water, sewer, paving — would be assessed at 100 per cent," the mayor stated. He explained that the council disliked the dual assessment practice — 25 per cent in the "old city" and 100 per cent in the "new city". Therefore, a compromise of 75 per cent for all areas was adopted.

City Manager Frank Ollendorff read the following estimated assessments: Thompson-Brown company (at 100 per cent), $66,543.31; Northville school district (at 100 per cent), $8,753.91; Charlotte Robinson, $5,025.16; Mark Larkins, $5,227.92; Nicholas Zander, $4,110; Charles Lapham, $1,370; and Harold Kassab, $1,188.89. The City's share of the assessment is $7,052.88.

The city provides for payment of the assessments over a 10-year period.

Mayor, Manager Debate

*It is untrue that the manager-council form of government is too one-sided and without conflicting viewpoints. Councilmen disagree and the manager can and does argue his points, although in the end it is the council not the manager who makes the final decision.

*The nation-on-one average stay of a city manager on his job is five years, less probably in smaller communities. But this means the manager comes to your community with greater on-the-job experience together with education in municipal government.

Both Moelke and Ollendorff said they believed their particular forms of government are best for Novi. The mayor, looking ahead to Novi's future development which, he said, is certain to bring problems, "you'll need strong political leadership." The manager form of government, emphasized Ollendorff, would be ideal for present Novi and for the immediate future. Perhaps, he added, when Novi grows to 100,000 or more people, the need for strong political leadership will become more important. "But that is not to say you don't have strong leadership under the manager form."

Both men advised the commission that the charter should call for an elected mayor—no matter what basic form of government is chosen.

Moelke admitted that years ago he preferred the manager form of government but that he has since changed his mind. Originally he thought the college education and training of a manager was essential, the mayor said, but he believes now a strong mayor can appoint department heads who have the education and training to carry out the administrative functions of government while the mayor himself can address himself more to policy-making.

Moelke suggested that should a mayor fail in his duties, the citizenry can remove him from office. Citizens, he said, cannot remove the manager. Retorted Ollendorff: "More managers are fired each year than mayors are recalled."

It is not difficult for the council to soon spot deficiencies of the manager, said Ollendorff. He added it is essential that the manager to keep the council abreast of all problems arising in the community. Mayor Moelke said he, as mayor of Livonia, does his utmost to keep his council informed.

Under the government in Livonia, explained Moelke, the mayor appoints all department heads and various commissions, such as planning, and all are directly responsible to him. Questioning of these appointees by council members must be channeled through the mayor.

The mayor of Livonia has veto power, he explained. Noting that the federal and state government is built upon the executive-legislative government setup as is represented by the strong mayor system, he likened the city manager system to "committee government" such as school boards where the city manager holds about the same responsibility as the school superintendent.

Asked why Livonia's recent charter revision proposal was defeated at the polls, Moelke, who won re-election by a landslide, took credit for its defeat, pointing out that the original intent of the revision was to strengthen the mayor's position, but that the final recommended revision did just the opposite by taking away some of the power of the mayor and giving it to the council.

Finally, Moelke noted that some communities with strong mayor forms of government provide for an administrative executive, responsible to the mayor, who perform those functions characteristic under the manager setup.

LINKED BY PHONE—Children of the Plymouth State Home and Training School in Northville Township will receive a little extra training in social behavior—thanks to a donation by the fourth council of the Telephone Pioneers of America—that elite group of veterans with Michigan Bell Telephone company with 21 years or more of service. They donated a telephone amplifier talking device that two of the children enjoy using here as Arnold Dreifuss, program director of the Binet Home, and E. F. Trombley of Northville, vice-president of the council, look on. The council has made numerous other similar donations to other metropolitan area institutions.

GERTRUDE STARR

Mrs. Gertrude P. Starr, 55 of 329 Mrs. Street died suddenly June 29 at Providence Hospital in Southfield.

Born March 14, 1913 in Detroit, she was the daughter of Clarence and Ida (Wilkinson) Parmenter. She was married to Donald E. Starr on August 26, 1931.

A life-long resident of the community, she is survived by her husband; a daughter, Mrs. Marion (Phyllis) Lee, Jr. of South Lyon; grandchildren Debra and Tammie Lee; and a brother, Clifford Parmenter of Detroit.

Funeral services were conducted Tuesday, July 2 from Casterline Funeral Home, with the Reverend Miss Elizabeth Etz of Northville.

Burial was in the South Lyon Cemetery.

RALPH WILLIS

A resident of Northville for 80 years, Ralph B. Willis, 84 of 903 Spring Drive died June 30 at Concord Nursing Home in Detroit. He had been ill for the past four months.

Born May 16, 1884 in Wayne, he was the son of Clark L. and Emma (Maby) Willis. A retired building contractor and realtor, he was a member of the First Church of Christ Science in Plymouth.

Besides his wife, Millie G., he is survived by a daughter, Mrs. Alfred (Pearl) Parmenter of Northville; a sister, Mrs. Ruth Humphries of Northville; two grandchildren, Miss Sandra Parmenter of Northville and Mrs. Pamela Correll of Utica; and one great grandson, Todd Correll.

Funeral services will be conducted today (Wednesday) at 10 a.m. from Casterline Funeral Home, with Mr. Paul Simons of Royal Oak officiating.

Burial was in Rural Hill Cemetery.

ARTHUR J. HESLIP

Novi lost one of its last dairy farmers and one of its veteran school officials last week with the death of Arthur J. Heslip, 59.

Mr. Heslip, who had been ill for the past two years but who continued active as president of the Novi Board of Education until several months ago, died Tuesday night, June 25 at his home, 42680 West Nine Mile Road.

Born August 18, 1908 at River Rouge, he was the son of William James and Margaret Jones Heslip.

His wife, Rosmary, survives him as do one daughter, eight sons and 25 grandchildren. His children are Miss Mary Ruth, Novi; James of Manchester; John of Plymouth, Dr. Thomas of Northville; Robert of Novi; William of South Lyon; Patrick of Grand Rapids; and Richard and Michael of Novi.

A Novi farmer for 26 years, Mr. Heslip served as school board president here longer than probably any other man in history. He was last returned to this top post by fellow board members in July of last year. His election then represented the fifth time he had been selected for the top board post.

A school board member for nearly a dozen years, Mr. Heslip was first elected to the board in 1956 after the Durfee District was consolidated. He served that board as president. Not all of his tenure as president were served consecutively.

Mr. Heslip, who wielded a strong hand in leading the board over the years, had weathered many stormy sessions. Where others failed to master position, he persisted until his position usually won out.

Under his leadership, Orchard Hills Elementary School was built as was Novi Junior High School and, most recently, the addition that expanded the junior high to its present high school size. He died just a few months before Novi launches a 12th grade class, thus becoming a complete kindergarten through high school system.

A former member of the Novi Village Planning Board, he also was a member of Our Lady of Victory Catholic Church, the Novi Rotary Club, the Farm Bureau, and the Knights of Columbus of Plymouth.

A Rosary service was held Thursday, June 28, and the funeral service the following morning at Our Lady of Victory, Reverend Fr. John Wittstock, pastor, officiated.

Burial was in Holy Sepulchre Cemetery, Southfield.

CHARLES G. CHASE

Charles George Chase, 60, of 39876 Harbet Drive, died Tuesday, June 25 at Harper Hospital in Detroit. He had been ill for three weeks.

Manufacturing manager of the Transmission Division of the Ford Motor Company, with whom he was employed since 1946, Mr. Chase was born April 9, 1908 in Detroit.

Besides his wife, Jean, he is survived by his father, Roy B. Townsend of Lapeer; a son, John of San Francisco, California; a daughter, Mrs. William (Cynthia) Bailey of Livonia; a brother, Howard Chase of Lapeer; and four great grandchildren.

Mr. Chase had lived in Northville for the past eight years. He was a member of Meadowbrook Country Club and of the Society of Automotive Engineers.

Funeral services were conducted from Casterline Funeral Home on Friday morning, June 28, with the Rev. Yung Hfuan Chou of Grace Episcopal Church, Lapeer, officiating.

Burial was in White Chapel Memorial Park at Troy.

BARBARA DEFINA

Funeral services will be held at 2 p.m. today (Wednesday) for Mrs. Barbara M. Defina, 40, who died suddenly Monday, July 1, at her home, 40734 Stoneleigh.

Officiating at Casterline Funeral Home will be the Rev. Lloyd Brasus, pastor of the First Presbyterian Church of Northville. Burial will be in Rural Hill Cemetery.

Mrs. Defina was born May 11, 1928 at Williamstown, Vermont, the daughter of Alfred H. and Signie M. (Matson) Smith, Sr. She was married to Frank J. Defina, who survives her.

A resident of the community for 27 years, she was a graduate of Northville High School, a member of the First Presbyterian Church, and a former employee of The Northville Record.

Besides her husband, she is survived by her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Smith; three daughters, Kathy, Kristine, and Bonnie; a son, Frank, Jr.; two brothers, Stanley Smith of Northville, Alfred Smith, Jr. of Greenbush; and two sisters, Mrs. Mary Germain of Belding and Mrs. Shirley Clark of Novi.

BATTER UP! Sheila Corcoran gets ready for a healthy cut at the ball and Adrienne Chapman gets ready to catch it—signalling the start of the summer softball program for Northville girls. Competition in the Livonia league by Northville's 16 and under and 13 and under teams began this week. Girls making up these two teams, plus other interested girls, also will play in a Northville league. Interested girls are urged to contact Robert Prom, recreation director, at the Scout-Recreation Building.

FIRE, WHO CARES? It could happen only in golf: while Northville firemen battled a blaze confined to the bar section of Dun Rovin clubhouse, unconcerned golfers, bent on getting a crack at the ball even before Saturday morning's early morning mist had cleared hardly gave the fire or the smoking debris a second glance. Anywhere else, spectators would stand in line to see a good blaze.

Chuck Shonta

Teacher Named Head Coach Of Ypsilanti Vikings Eleven

Chuck Shonta, Northville teacher and former star halfback with the Boston Patriots, has been named head coach of the Ypsilanti Vikings of the Midwest Professional Football League. The Vikings will open the 1968 MFL season against the Pontiac Firebirds in an exhibition game at Wisner Stadium in Pontiac on July 20. Regular league will start August 3.

"Early start of the MFL is experimental," explained Shonta as he sent his players through their first drills on Monday, "the reason being the cold weather which the MFL fans must endure. The early start will subsequently end the season earlier with hopes of better weather for both teams and spectators."

request of the Allstars. At the end of the '68 season Lansing will advise the league of their condition and whether or not it will operate as a full-league member in the 1969 campaign.

Shonta has set a vigorous schedule for the Vikings starting with the introduction of the team and coach Monday through Wednesday, followed by a break for the Fourth of July. Practice resumes Monday.

"I have considerable knowledge of the MFL and the information we have received regarding the other members of the league are impressive," Shonta said. "We are the smallest city in the league at present and our work will be cut out for us if we are to make any serious challenge for the title this year."

The Vikings will have a majority of returning veterans. However, in view of the fact that Ypsilanti (where, incidentally, Shonta starred for Eastern Michigan's football team) second place finish in the past two years, no position will be automatic, he declared.

In Little League

Novi Party Store Blanks B-V, 13-0

Larry Taylor fired a one-hitter to lead Novi Party Store to a 13-0 triumph over the B-V Earthmovers in Novi Little League action last week.

The victory marked the 10th this season for Party Store, which leads the Red Division with a record of 10-4. Rexall Rangers, who two weeks ago dropped its first game of the season, continues to lead the pack in the Blue Division.

In addition to his superlative pitching performance, Taylor also aided his team's cause by punching out two singles. Chuck Foley added a double and a single, while Jerry Fulcher also singled to account for the five Party Store hits. Stuart Taylor collected the Earthmovers lone hit-a single.

Earlier, the Party Store bombed Wroten Brothers, 23 to 1. Party Store came up with 13 hits, while Chuck Foley limited the opponents to three hits.

Ron Buck and Larry Taylor each collected a pair of doubles for the victors, while Craig Love doubled and singled in his team's losing effort.

Behind the three-hit pitching performance of Tim Assemany, Michigan Tractor defeated the Mobarak Jayhawks, 10-4.

Ron Wilenius singled and doubled and Roger Provo singled to account for the three Michigan Tractor hits. Ken Mobarak picked up two singles and Ron Frisbee another for the three Mobarak hits.

League leading Rexall Rangers posted Mobarak Jayhawks, 14-3, behind the five-hit pitching performance of Eddie Brown. Mike Holroyde doubled for the Rangers, who collected a total of seven hits, and Keven LeFleche tripled twice and Ron Frisbee once for the losers.

Firecracker Pace Tops Downs Races

With a long three day holiday coming up beginning Thursday, (July 4) Northville Downs is looking forward to the greatest three-nights of business in history.

Through last Saturday the mutual handle is up 14.2 per cent. Betting and attendance lagged somewhat last week due to a seige of rain. But Saturday night 6,354 fans bet a total of $395,876.

To date the average nightly handle was been $308,714. A total mutual handle in the current 54-night meet is $8,335,267.

The previous single night high of $429,602 set on July 10, 1965 has been broken twice during the meeting. Executive Manager John Carlo has hopes that it will be shattered again next Friday and Saturday nights.

With the thought in mind of presenting the best possible programs during the long holiday, Racing Secretary Harry Peterson plans to have all of the best trotters and pacers in action at some time during the three-nights.

Thursday's (July 4) program will be headed by the Firecracker Pace followed by the $5,000 Open Handicap Trot Friday, featuring Sonny Fortune, and the $5,000 Open Invitational Pace on Saturday which brings Philip Brian, Boy Diller and Sudan's Comet to the attention of fans.

The beginning Monday (July 8) the 'Downs will present a series of six $3,500 Michigan colt stakes, bringing the state's best two and three-year-old trotters and pacers to the 'Downs for the only time of the meeting.

The $16,000 Michigan Trotting Derby, one of the two traditional Northville stakes, is listed for Wednesday, (July 10) bringing many of the midwest's fastest trotters to Northville.

Bob Starnes

Where Is He Now?

Robert Starnes, who thrilled fans with his swivel hip performance on the Northville High School gridiron and basketball court back in the late 50's, has traded in his football jersey for the uniform of an Air Force captain.

A pilot, Captain Starnes, who flew high in sports, is now flying jet cargo planes out of Japan into Vietnam. His wife, Gay, an Alabama native, and their three children live with him in Japan.

Following graduation here, Captain Starnes took his stellar athletic abilities to the University of Louisville where he starred in football. He entered the Air Force upon graduation from U-L and, according to his father, Paul Rumley of 314 West Dunlap, the 27-year-old pilot may make the Air Force his career.

DR. E. GORDON YUDASHKIN

Of Mental Health Department

Dr. E. Gordon Yudashkin Named Assistant Director

Dr. E. Gordon Yudashkin, medical superintendent of Northville State Hospital for the past two years, has been named assistant director of the Michigan Department of Mental Health.

The appointment was announced by Dr. William H. Anderson, director of the Department, who said Dr. Yudashkin will begin his new duties in Lansing upon the appointment soon of his successor here.

"Dr. Yudashkin has established an excellent reputation for his work in developing hospital programs in the metropolitan area of the state," said Dr. Anderson, "and in furthering community relationships with mental hospitals."

"He has broad administrative and clinical experience in both in-patient and out-patient agencies. I am confident he will be of great help in the development of Michigan's mental hospital services."

Dr. Yudashkin, who replaced Dr. Philip N. Brown here, will take up the direction and coordination of operations in Michigan's nine hospitals for the mentally ill in his new capacity. More than 14,000 patients are residents of these hospitals. He will be administratively responsible to Dr. Anderson.

Certified by the American Board of Psychiatry and Neurology, Dr. Yudashkin is a diplomate in psychiatry. He was an assistant director of the New York State Department of Mental Hygiene from 1954 to 1960, and he was founder of the Brooklyn Aftercare Clinic—one of the nation's first.

Dr. Yudashkin also founded the Psychiatric Consultation Clinic in Nassau County, New York, where he was medical director at the time he accepted his appointment as medical superintendent at Northville State Hospital. The Nassau Clinic provides consultation, education, treatment, and diagnostic service to the courts and the county departments of Health, Welfare, and Probation.

He received his medical degree from the University of Toronto in 1946 and completed his residency in psychiatry at Central Islip State Hospital, New York, in 1950.

He remained at Central Islip for seven years directing several of the hospital services and advancing to senior staff psychiatrist.

Dr. Yudashkin was on the faculty of Nassau County Academy of Medicine and the New York School of Psychiatry and was a lecturer at Adelphi College Graduate School of Social Work. He has assisted with community mental health planning in New York and Michigan and served an interim appointment in the former state as medical director of a community mental health board.

Sparkling Fourth

Colorful Fourth of July festivities are best enjoyed by children, who see the flags, the floats and the dazzling fireworks as a glorious holiday unmarred by wars, nagging social and economic questions and national unrest. Written in their eyes, as it is in those of seven-year-old Jimmy Snook, it is a beautiful world, full of excitement and challenges.

from the Pastor's Study

"By this deed thou hast given great occasion to the enemies of the Lord to blaspheme." II Samuel 12:14

David had just committed one of the most hideous sins ever committed against a loyal friend. He had wickedly plotted to satisfy his desires as he laid his snare for Uriah.

David had always sought the will of God and was obedient in the knowledge of it to the point that God had referred to him as "A man after his own heart". But David was not infallible. No matter how closely he had walked with God in the past, he had now been taken captive by his own lusts until "He despised the commandments of God to do evil in his sight."

"The thing that David had done displeased the Lord." He had connived to bring about his own lustful gratification and, he supposed that no one knew. But God has always revealed the deepest secrets. He warned David, "What thou hast done in secret the whole world will know about." There is no sin that God does not see and hate and even more so in his own people. Neither is there any sin that he does not forgive when we ask forgiveness and turn from it.

David was one of the noblest of his day but God has no favorites when men flaunt his laws; neither is he a respecter of persons when any are willfully disobedient. David had turned his back on the commandments of God for a short time but he reaped bitterly the rest of his life what he had sown.

Even before the child was born he knew that it would not live.

Also, God told him through the prophet Nathan, that he would take his wives before his eyes and give them unto his neighbors.

Thirdly, he was warned that the sword would never depart from his house. His son, Amnon, followed him in adultery, and brother, murdered brother. To add to his grief, his own son rebelled against him as he had rebelled against the Heavenly Father.

Yet, David was always painfully conscience that his sorrow was the fruits of his own sin.

But in mercy, God called David to repentance long before David sought him. Finally from a contrite heart he confessed, "I have sinned against the Lord." His sin was forgiven but as he had given the enemies of God occasion to blaspheme, they were also given occasion to tremble as they saw David suffer the consequences of his sin.

Bill Aimed At Fireworks

Representative Louis E. Schmidt's bill regarding permits for fireworks shows has been made a special order of business for July 23. At that time the conference committee report will be considered by the House and Senate.

The intent of the bill is to establish a procedure for means of applications and permits which will provide for more adequate and satisfactory control over the handling and storage of fireworks.

The present procedure allows permit issuing in one area and the fireworks display in another. The bill stipulates that the permit will be processed by the proper authorities in the community in which any fireworks show is to be presented. Before approval of the bill, however, the Senate attached an amendment relative to persons licensed to carry pistols and their compliance with the stipulations of the license. The amendment also defines areas in a vehicle in which pistols may be carried.

FROM SEA TO SHINING SEA

Fourth of July, and, from sea to shining sea, our flag flies proudly. Across the nation, school bands parade, fireworks splinter, and hometown newspapers carry full-page dissertations on what it means to be an American.

And I wonder. In these troubled days of dissension and White House pickets, what does it mean? Does it mean free speech without responsibility? Does it mean moral freedom that lacks integrity?

To be sure, an American today is a citizen in a changing world; but the things that count have not changed. Inalienable rights still require us to account for our deeds.

As our ancestors migrated across this vast continent, the Church moved with them. It taught integrity, responsibility, and a calm strength in the face of danger.

In today's world of unrest and contention, the Church remains steadfast. The principles it teaches still point the way for us to be a "nation with liberty and justice for all."

During 1967

New Housing Up; Multiples Lead

The number of residential units authorized in the Detroit region during 1967 registered a substantial increase over 1966, according to figures released by the planning division of the Southeast Michigan Council of Governments.

Among the counties, all but one registered increases over the previous year. These ranged from a 24.3-percent gain in Macomb County to a loss of 18.4-percent in Washtenaw County. The greatest numerical increase was in Oakland County with 2,217 units while Washtenaw declined by 680. Gains in Oakland, Wayne, and Livingston Counties were 24-percent, 19-percent and 17.2-percent, respectively.

A further comparison of these figures with previous years reveals that 1967 ranks second in total units authorized. Within the region these totals are exceeded only by those issued in 1965 and that year represented a 10-year high in the region.

The trend towards greater construction of multiple units continued with 14,692 (45.1-percent) permits issued in the region, and 12,926 (43.5-percent) issued in the three-county area. These are the highest ratios recorded since 1965 when multiples were 44.4-percent of the region's total and 41.8-percent of the three counties.

Locally, the City of Northville showed a net total gain of 19 units, Northville Township, 220; Novi, 86, and Wixom, 10.

In the City of Northville, the total included 17 single-family units, two two-family units, no multiples Northville Township recorded 33 single family units, no two-family, 189 multiples, and two demolitions. In Novi, the total included 87 single family units, no two-family or multiples, and one demolition. Wixom had 10 single family, no two-family or multiples.

Salem Township showed 22 single family units, no two-family or multiples; Plymouth Township, 395 single family units, no two-family, and 94 multiples; City of Plymouth, 18 single family units, four two-family, 17 multiples, and five demolitions; Walled Lake, six single family, no two-family or multiples; Lyon Township, 36 single family, no two-family, 13 multiples, and one demolition; and the City of South Lyon, 68 single family, four two-family, 10 multiples, and five demolitions.

Demolitions throughout the Detroit region during 1967 were higher than in 1966 with the greatest loss again recorded in Detroit.

For total residential permits, 10 communities authorized 1,000 or more units and included all but one of the multiple leaders. These major growth municipalities were: Ann Arbor, Clinton Township, Detroit, Madison Heights, Southfield, Taylor Township, Troy, Warren and Westland.

Neighboring Farmington Township was high on the list with 416 single family units, no two-family, 251 multiples, and five demolitions. In the City of Farmington, the total included 51 single family, no two-family or multiples, and six demolitions.

Northville Crime Rate Up in May

Either local crime is really on the uprise or people have become a lot more concerned about calling their police department. This is the conclusion drawn from the Northville Police Department's activity report for the month of May.

The report shows that during the month police received about 618 calls compared with 475 for May, 1967. The report also indicates that the total number of calls for this year totals 251 more than the same time a year ago.

One assault and battery charge brought the total for this year up to 20. This is almost three times the figure for the same crime a year ago. Vandalism, too, has increased nearly 24 percent over this time last year — 35 complaints compared to 27 calls in 1967. Fortunately, however, murder charges have remained the same: zero.

Other problems such as the number of automobile accidents and the number of persons injured show a disturbing increase. The total number of accidents, although down three for this month, were up five from the same period last year. This year 25 percent more people have been injured in traffic accidents.

Calls for fire are almost twice what they were last year with 71 alarms this year to date.

Reports of drunk and disorderly persons have more than doubled and charges against minors in possession of alcohol, from 19 to 43.

Invitations to crime have increased, as reports of open windows jumped to 79 — over 23 for the same period a year ago.

Finally, one common complaint has dropped significantly: The number of stray dogs decreased by 33 from the 132 calls made for this offense last year.

County Gets Aid

Wayne County has received a $15,996 Federal grant to help finance planning of a comprehensive crime prevention program involving both local and county agencies throughout the county, it was announced today.

The grant, the first of its kind in Michigan, puts Wayne County in line for substantial additional funds to implement the program under the new Federal "Safe Streets" program.

Approval of the grant resulted from groundwork laid by the Coordinating Committee on Crime Control, a committee established last year by Detroit Councilman Mel Ravitz while he was chairman of the County Board of Supervisors.

SPEAKING for The Record

By BILL SLIGER

One of Northville's biggest industries is celebrating its 25th anniversary.

A special section of this edition pays tribute to the industry... Northville Downs.

In ordinary day-to-day parlance race tracks are rarely referred to as industries. But that's exactly what they are.

Some 25 years ago a group of men interested in horse racing had an idea that night harness racing would be a profitable venture. Another group of men owning the local fairground property liked the idea and were willing to rent the track to the racing group.

Thus a new industry was born locally.

Like any other private enterprise undertaking it has had its problems, and they are the same as any other industry. At first the product must be made attractive to the customer. With this hurdle achieved the customer demand must be satisfied. And finally, after the success of the product has been established, improvements to match the inevitable competition must be made.

In business whether it be manufacturing automobiles, sewing machines, mousetraps or staging horse races, there's never time to stand still and say "this is it, we've got it made".

Fortunately, there's always the challenge. And fortunately there are men who are willing to accept the challenge, to risk the time and the investment, because they have an idea and they believe in it.

Really, that's the story of the success of our country. And despite the introduction of hundreds of social programs that offer lifetime security, the strength of our nation will always be contained within the corps of individuals who believe enough in their ideas that they are willing to sacrifice guaranteed security for satisfaction of accomplishment.

Northville Downs has become a successful industry, and it is looking forward to an even more successful future.

Further, its officials have demonstrated a desire to be good citizens of the community — to improve the appearance of their facility, to participate in programs for the good of the community, to contribute both time and money in their behalf.

We salute Northville Downs and the men with an idea and a conviction. May their success in recognizing and meeting the challenges of the future continue.

* * * *

Here's an idea for a pleasant way to cool off and be entertained at the same time.

Start the Fourth Holiday by attending Northville's community band concert tonight at the rear of the high school.

You can sit in your car or take along a few lawn chairs and relax as you listen.

Director Bob Williams promises plenty of volume from his 100-piece aggregation as they play familiar and popular show tunes and marches.

Next Wednesday (July 10), incidentally, the concert will be moved to the park behind city hall. The Mothers Club will add to the entertainment by sponsoring an ice cream social.

Outside of baseball, hotdogs and apple pie, how many traditions can you think of that better portray Americana than band concerts and ice cream socials?

Most modern youngsters have never experienced the fun of these occasions — so why not make it a family affair.

Then someday they can tell your grandchildren about "the good old days" with Mom and Pop at the park eating ice cream and listening to the community band play "76 Trombones".

* * * *

Northville Downs and The Northville Driving Club deserve thanks from the community for sponsoring the band concerts this summer.

And to the Northville Jaycees also should go equal thanks for staging the Fourth of July celebration.

The event marks the beginning of our nation as we know it, and further, it provides entertainment at home that could very well save the loss of lives on our highways.

Have a happy Fourth — and if you do travel this weekend, drive carefully. The computers have already predicted the number of deaths. Don't be one of the statistics.

Teachers Slap 'Prejudiced' News Story

To the Editor:

The Northville Education Association was greatly disappointed to learn that Superintendent Spear had "informally" cited 17 non-voting teachers for the failure of the June 10th millage proposal. Obviously, the 17 teachers should not be blamed when 80 per cent of the eligible voters in the community did not vote. Mr. Spear must have understood this as did the Northville Record. Consequently, we would first ask why the number of non-voting teachers was reported to the Board and published in The Record?

Secondly, we would ask Superintendent Spear and The Record to consider their ethical responsibilities in this matter. Is it proper, not to say fair, to check voting records of private citizens? Furthermore, is it good journalism to report such obviously prejudiced "informal" remarks? Must a citizen vote to avoid public castigation by his employer and the news media? Many other such ethical considerations come to mind, but the point has been made. We would only add that the Northville Education Association worked hard to pass the millage. Our efforts included a written reminder to every teacher of the election date and a request that each teacher vote 'yes'. The Administration offered no such reminder to the staff. We are both disappointed, but the Association does not feel "after-thoughts" of the nature reported in The Record last week are constructive or responsible. They could even prove to be illegal.

Education Association

They don't make 'em like that any more.

Perhaps this comment has been overworked by old timers, but it seems especially appropriate when applied to horror movies. The likes of Dracula, Frankenstein, the Mummy series and most notably, The Picture of Dorian Gray and Phantom of the Opera, no longer are being produced.

Now the focus has shifted to science fiction and the future, rather than the mysterious past. Now, it seems, fact, at least the illusion of it, is necessary before any movie can reach box office proportions.

Gone are the Gothic tales, those wondrous things that basically have no or little anchor in reality, yet stir the imagination and fear of the unknown. Now our only hope is to see these classic horror movies on the late, late show, or occasionally during the summer, when network TV is floundering for prime time movies.

Such was the case Friday night, when NBC blew the dust off a venerable old classic, "Phantom of the Opera." Seeing it again reaffirmed my belief that Gothic tales are far from dead, that time has not tarnished the Phantom's lustre as a horror movie of the first rank.

The setting for "Phantom" is typical — foggy London town sometime in the past, probably the late 19th century. Mystery clings to the damp, night air, lit faintly by flickering lamps as people move like shadows through the night. Evil has to lurk somewhere in this dank hole of a city.

Yet, the people of London are not discouraged by the cloying night air. Although the atmosphere is foreboding, they're out in numbers, attending the premiere of a new play in one of London's historic, musty theatres.

Suddenly, from behind a picture that swings aside, an eye appears, glaring straight at the viewer. It's a hideous thing, this eye, enough to make Sherlock himself tremble in his tracks. Somewhere within the bowels of the theatre, hidden by a century-old labyrinth under the city, a madman lives and casts a veil of fear over the festive gathering.

We know he will strike, but when and where and against whom we do not know. A janitor is killed, a rat collector is knifed to death, an attempt is made on a girl's life. Voices emanate strangely from unseen places, organ music swells from an unknown source.

The police are baffled, and to give credence to the impossible, the inspector speaks, amid skeletons and waxed figures in a criminology museum, of hideous, unsolved murders.

All comes out well in the end — if the two murders can be overlooked, and the death of another person. But by this time, we have been extruded through the eye of suspense and still there is the fear of dark places and the mysterious past.

It was the biggest print shop in the world. It employed more manpower, utilized more equipment, and churned out more printed material in seven days than most businesses can match in a life-time.

Yet, despite its massive production, it folded in just a week. Today it's dead, just a fascinating memory of nearly 100,000 people.

They called it Print 68, the largest collection of printing equipment ever assembled under one roof in history, and it marked the 82nd annual convention of Printing Industries of America.

Benjamin Franklin, one of our earliest printers, wouldn't have been any more awed by the immensity of it than were The Record's plant superintendent and myself. In two days we managed to see less than half of the acres of machinery spread out and operating inside Chicago's stockyard neighbor, the International Amphitheatre.

Quite frankly, it was the size of the show and not the equipment itself that interested me most. Not so with Bob Blough.

In less than an hour, selecting only essential pieces of equipment, we figure we "bought" a half million dollars worth of machinery for the owner of The Record. Fortunately, for him, our checks bounced.

One firm alone — and manufacturers from throughout the world were represented — took up more than 22,000 square feet of space with its 33 pieces of equipment.

More than 3,500 tons of equipment, or about one-third of the total collection, were shipped to Chicago for the show from overseas alone. Altogether, the equipment for this world's largest printing exposition was valued at $1 billion.

It took 1,200 men and women, working an average 14-hour day for 10 days, just to set up the show. Hundreds more from all over the globe sweated over the machines that printed, cut, bound and then destroyed newspapers, books, magazines, stationery during the show.

Paper run through the machines and then scrapped was estimated at 3,000 tons.

Five-hundred companies exhibited products, including 100 European and Japanese firms. Thirty companies showed web offset equipment (like that used by The Record at Novi); over 25 companies showed typesetting and composing equipment; more than 40 firms displayed bindery equipment; and at least 50 companies showed camera and platemaking equipment.

All this — and yet the most important printing industry of all was missing: Not a single dollar bill was produced.

Speaking of size, another behemoth bowed in last week in neighboring Livonia with the dedication of the nation's largest and Michigan's newest dairy.

The 115,000 square foot Kroger Dairy, located at 29600 Industrial Road, will serve an estimated million and a half families in Michigan and northern Ohio. It is the largest combined milk and ice cream plant in the United States.

According to statistical information distributed to newsmen who got a sneak preview, it will take 20,000 cows a day just to keep the plant's shining stainless steel pipelines filled.

Dairy capacity of the plant includes 600,000 quarts of milk, 32,000 pounds of cottage cheese and 50,000 gallons of ice cream.

Four three-story high silo-type tanks from which raw milk is drawn into various lines have a total capacity of 100,000 gallons at a time.

The ice cream hardening tunnel is so cold (40-degrees zero) that employees will work in North Pole-type parkas all summer long. Ice cream is hardened in five hours compared to 36 hours in old-fashioned dairies.

In the bottling area, 52,000 quarts are filled with milk hourly; 120 cups of cottage cheese and sour cream are whipped out each minute; and the batching equipment will weigh and blend ice cream ingredients, with the aid of a computer, at a rate of 4,000 gallons per hour.

That's a heap o' lot o' milk in anyone's language. But strained by the five guzzlin' kids in our family, Kroger, I'm sure, had little choice but to build the giant.

Law Proposal Would Ease Election Workers' Headaches

LANSING—Write-in and sticker candidates create gigantic problems for Michigan's primary election machinery, according to Rep. Russell H. Strange, R-Mt. Pleasant, chairman of the House Elections Committee.

Each write-in must be verified by election workers, down to the list "I" and "t" of his name and address. Strange notes that it may be next to impossible to read the name scrawled on paper ballots; even more so on voting machines. "Try to write a name in the little slot on a voting machine...it's difficult!" he says.

Sticker candidates present similar problems for election workers. In Michigan, 85 percent of the population votes by machine. "Try to put a sticker on that roll," Strange observes. "You'll find many stickers on the bottom of the machine."

The problem occurs, he says, because stickers pasted on through the small slots peel off and fall to the bottom when the roll turns for the next voter. "Some people don't know where to place the stickers either," he adds. "Some end up pasting a sticker on the lever of the machine!"

The answer doesn't seem to be easily apparent. Other states have barred sticker and write-in candidates at primaries, but such a proposal met with strong opposition in Michigan. "We wanted to abolish write-ins, but we couldn't get the votes," Strange says.

Thought was given to furnishing voters separate paper ballots for write-ins, but this was also ruled out. Going to this system, Strange said, would reveal how a particular person was voting.

The burden would be eased under a House bill which requires a write-in candidate for party precinct delegate to have at least three votes before being considered. Strange, sponsor of the legislation, said the bill would help ease the burden on election workers in primaries. The number of write-in votes which must be checked would also be sharply reduced.

Countless hours are spent by election workers chasing down the spelling and addresses of write-ins in telephone books and city directories. Even then, Strange said, workers often cannot find the names in these sources and must resort to more time-consuming procedures. "There's a lot of problems to this whole question," Strange remarked. "We have to find some solutions" Michigan holds its next primary election August 6.

AIR POLLUTION in the state will soon be determined by four mobile pollution monitoring stations. The equipment has been added to facilities used by the Michigan Department of Health to clean up the state's air.

The large main station and its three "satellites" can be moved to any location to measure and record a wide variety of pollutants in the air. The large station determines levels of sulfur dioxide, carbon monoxide, nitrogen oxides and the total amount of hydrocarbons. Other factors, such as wind speed, direction and temperature, are computed. Devices to collect particular matter can also be set up.

The satellite units measure sulfur dioxide, wind speed, direction and, by installing portable equipment, all other data that is gathered by the large station.

Information is recorded on a teletypewriter and on tapes for computer analysis. Equipment can be programmed to take measurements over a wide range; from every few minutes to weekly. In the past, the department had to send air samples to Lansing for analysis, a process which could take as long as a week to 10 days. The longest time required by the new equipment is 15 minutes, and some analysis are instantaneous.

The stations, which cost $150,000, can all be operated by one man and can be set to run unattended over a normal weekend. The main unit and one satellite will be shortly placed in operation in the Port Huron area. The United States and Canada are cooperating on an anti-pollution program involving Sarnia, Ont., across the St. Clair River.

Major use of the equipment will be to measure communities' progress in meeting the state's new air pollution control standards. It can also be used in enforcement of standards, a health department spokesman said.

The U.S. Public Health Service already has mobile air pollution measurement units in operation, and many states are developing such units. New York, for example, has a 30-station system of monitoring sites.

Mortgage Rates Rocket

Mobile Home Sales Upward

Wellesley Hills, Massachusetts. Mobile homes have reached an impressive position in the nation's economy during recent years. And there is every reason to expect great new gains ahead. Almost every possible combination of factors will serve to make mobile homes, of all types, more popular than ever in the immediate as well as the longer-term future.

Housing costs all up and down the scale have been skyrocketing, so that renting, building, or buying a home is more expensive than ever. Mortgage rates—while they have had their transitional ups and downs—have long been on the rise, and no early reversal of this tendency is in sight. Prices of materials and labor have levered construction outlays to all-time heights. So, many families—especially the young just starting out—are reluctant to strap themselves with a long-term mortgage at these greatly inflated levels.

In short, there are growing (and rapidly) numbers of people who are loath to pour their money down the drain by either renting an adequate apartment at an exaggerated cost or tying themselves down with a mortgage for 20, 25, or even 30 years. It is this set of circumstances that has helped to boom the market for mobile homes, as well as for parks where such residences may be hitched up for whatever length of time business change or personal whim may dictate.

In recent months, production of mobile homes has been surpassing earlier predictions made by insiders in the field—and by a rather surprising margin. In fact, for the first four 1968 months 90,940 mobile homes were shipped out by manufacturers, compared with only 64,420 for the same span in 1967. This was an advance of 41 per cent, whereas the Mobile Homes Manufacturers Association had been expecting what they considered an optimistic increase of 20 per cent for the year.

The fact that some half of the mobile home sales go to the younger generation is a reflection of the flexibility and general mobility of today's youth. Great numbers of young couples are not inclined to attach themselves socially and culturally to one home spot, as did so many of their parents. Now is a time of industrial expansion into outlying areas, into new parts of the country, and the young workers—and even many of those within the middle-age brackets—are often willing and eager to let their ambitions lead them into fresh localities. Then, too, the immense upswing in totals of retirees means still another addition to those interested in the freedom of motion so prevalent today.

Recent surveys show that the number of parks for mobile homes is rising rapidly. It is interesting to note, too, that in general they are becoming steadily larger and more luxurious. Even so, a house on wheels still offers one of the most dependable forms of low-cost living now available, and more and more people are becoming aware of this. At present, the median cost of rental for a mobile homesite appears to range between $30 and $40 monthly. In many instances this includes electricity, water, and other essential sanitary facilities.

There are steadily more sites ranging above the $60-a-month mark, and a number (mostly in California) are charging upwards of $100. Park owners setting up new locations are averaging 77 sites, indicating a continuing growth in the size of such establishments. Many of the prime locations (again mostly in California, but with quickening expansion in Florida too) are meeting the competition in the upper-brackets field by providing more sumptuous facilities such as swimming pools, club houses, restaurants, sports areas, and health spas. Vacancies are, on the whole, relatively sparse, and the following states, in the order named, are the most rapid current builders of new mobile home areas to meet rising demand: California, Florida, Texas, Michigan, Arizona, Indiana, New York, Ohio and Oregon.

TROGLODYTES Cavern Plans An Open House

By DARYL HOLLOMAN

During the past year The Cavern board, members, and other interested parties alike have been putting an immense amount of time and effort into a working situation resulting in the atmosphere of the Cavern clubroom.

Sue Jarvis, president of The Cavern, has been quoted in the past as describing The Cavern clubroom as having "An Old-English Tavern effect."

Two weeks ago, in second Troglodytes column, Albie Curry stated that "It has an ale house atmosphere."

Both statements are a far cry from any description of The Cavern clubroom you would have encountered prior to the 1968 school year.

Most of the changes and face lifting of The Cavern Club Room came about under the administration of former Cavern president L. Paul Cheme who was in office actively from September until mid May.

Before describing some of the many changes which have occurred both during and after The Cavern's Cheme administration, I wish to inform the public of all ages that The Cavern is scheduling an open house this Sunday, July 7, from 2-5 and 7-9.

The open house is being staged to acquaint citizens of this community with the results of the efforts put into the redecoration of The Cavern clubroom by members and their adult supporters who are openly interested in the entertainment welfare of this community's youth.

Cavern personnel are willing to show you around, answer questions, and possibly supply you with an idea or two as to what is planned in the future.

As was mentioned earlier, The Cavern clubroom has an old English, tavern or ale house effect.

This effect was first brought about by boarding up various sections of windows and placing lead strips in a triangular pattern on the sections free of boards.

The triangular patterns were in turn painted in a variety of colors. Countless hours were spent in painting each little triangle while following a color scheme.

The Old English Tavern effect was completed by staining every door in the clubroom to match that of the wood trim running horizontally and vertically along the walls.

These, boards were stained and nailed to the walls by Cheme, Mike Conley, the Forrer family and many other members who pitched in when they were free to do so.

The old English Cavern woodcarvings on the stage wall facing the clubroom was a final touch added through the efforts of Dr. Forrer and Chuck Olewnik.

Tables, chairs, and a pool table were purchased to replace the cafeteria "furniture," a move which fully completed the ale house atmosphere.

Aside from these features, ice cream, candy, and pop machines were recently installed in the clubroom—not to mention a juke box.

Many people have donated time and money to The Cavern cause. Donations are tax deductible. A vacuum cleaner would certainly help to keep the carpeted girls' lavatory dirt free and presentable at all times.

By coming to The Cavern open house Sunday from either 2-5 or 7-9, you'll agree that the time, money, and efforts which have gone into The Cavern through the activity of its members and sponsors is well worth it and is in the best interests of the Northville community and its citizens.

Prior to Sunday a completely unique experience is in store for Cavern patrons when The Frigid Pink and The Stuart Avery Assemblage perform Friday night at a charge of $1 members, $1.50 non-members.

The Frigid Pink comes complete with a light show, and The Stuart Avery Assemblage features an electric piano and a group of six guys equipped with four-part harmony.

What's to be featured next in Troglodytes: How does an exclusive interview with The Stuart Avery Assemblage grab you?

Perfect Score

Robert Masson, son of Mr. and Mrs. William Masson of 977 Novi Street, Northville, has been named to the Dean's List for the spring term at Alma College. A graduate of Redford Union, he had a perfect 4.0 average.

Novi Names New Police Patrolman

Twenty-five year old Frank A. Barabas of Detroit has been named to the Novi Police Department, Police Chief Lee BeGole announced this past week.

Barabas replaces Patrolman George Biggs, who has joined the Tucson, Arizona Police Department. His appointment brings the department back up to eight officers and the chief.

BeGole also announced that Gerald Burnham, a graduate of Northville High School, has been appointed temporary Novi patrolman during the summer to fill in while regular policemen take their vacations.

Barabas and Burnham were upon the top five candidates for the open full-time position from a field of 50 applicants for the position. Their scores in tests conducted by Novi High School and the Ann Arbor Police Department gave them first crack at the job.

Barabas, married with one child, is a graduate of St. Gabriel High School in Detroit. He was discharged from the United States Air Force last year after serving four years with the Air Police in Germany.

Prior to joining the Novi department he was employed by Detroit Diesel.

Northville Municipal Court

An Inkster man who escaped from the Detroit House of Correction was brought before Judge Philip Ogilvie's municipal court Monday. Philip M. Bates pleaded guilty and was sentenced to six more days in the Detroit House of Correction.

Six of the other nine cases coming up in court involved illegal use of alcohol, and four of these charges were made at the Downs.

Willie Hamilton of Ypsilanti pleaded guilty to being drunk and disorderly. He was sentenced to $40 or eight days.

Northville Downs History Traced to County Fair Days

There's an ancient saying "Giant oaks from little acorns grow" and it could well apply to Northville Downs, Michigan's pioneer night harness racing track which is celebrating its silver anniversary this year.

It was just 25 years ago that wagering on night races was inaugurated at Northville Downs and the half-mile plant has been nothing but successful since.

The present modern plant, one of the finest half-mile operations in the midwest, had its beginning around the turn of the century when a group of Northville residents got together, bought land, scraped a track and started the Northville fair.

The fair gradually grew and grew until it was rated one of the best county fairs in Michigan, one that attracted hundreds of visitors who made the trip to the six-day extravaganza via horse and buggy and then the interurban street car lines.

For years a group of interested citizens took it upon themselves to scrape and keep the half-mile track in excellent condition for the matinee racing programs held on weekends.

Then in 1926, the same group decided it was about time to erect a grandstand and held a stock sale—300 shares at $10—with the $3,000 used to construct a wooden grandstand capable of holding some 2,000 fans. It was a tremendous thing for that era and all but paid for itself with the additional attendance at the matinee races on weekends and the annual fair.

It was also during the stock sale that the Northville Driving Club began to play such a major role in the start and eventual rise of parimutuel wagering and night racing. The stockholders were members of the club which owned the grounds and now the grandstand.

Dr. Linwood Snow, retired but still residing in Northville, was a prime mover in the events which led to the start of night racing.

Dr. Snow, one of the most colorful and beloved characters in Northville, was a leader in politics as well as one of the city's top physicians. He was interested in everything that would help Northville and especially the Northville Driving Club of which he was a charter member.

During the late '30s and early '40s, "Doc" was manager of the Michigan State Fair where he did an excellent job of upholding the state's reputation for having the most outstanding state fair in the Nation.

During his term as State Fair Manager, "Doc" toured the state and visited many of the county fairs, especially Ionia. Thus, in 1940 when Dr. Snow relinquished the State Fair post, he was asked to take the presidency of the Driving Club and the management of the Northville Fair.

His first Northville Fair was the biggest financial success in history.

Then came the days of World War II and such things as Fairs were more or less forgotten until 1944 when Dr. Snow and members of the Driving Club Directors were approached by a group of Buffalo, New York businessmen who wanted to discuss the possibility of holding night, parimutuel betting programs at the 'Downs.

JOHN CARLO

DR. L. W. SNOW

Leading Forces of the Downs and Driving Club

The Directors generally agreed that harness racing under the lights at Northville would never go—the pacers and trotters had never raced in anything but daylight and who'd come out to watch them at night.

More than that, where would anyone get horses to compete under lights. It was unheard-of and seemed extremely risky from a financial angle.

But Sam Wiedrick, Harold Dennison and John J. Carlo, representatives of the Buffalo group, wanted to give the thing a try—and after months of talks and negotiations finally received an affirmative reply from the Driving Club Directors and members. Carlo today is executive manager of Northville Downs.

After some difficulties, the matter of getting poles, electric wires, lights and the other things necessary for night racing was also accomplished.

The Buffalo group, which included Max Brock, Abe Goldberg, Earl Reed, Wiedrick, Dennison and Carlo was able to unearth some steel girders to reinforce the grandstand which wasn't considered safe enough to support capacity crowds. Carlo, an attorney, led the search and procurement of the much needed steel.

Then with those problems resolved, there was the matter of convincing horse owners and trainers that the pacers and trotters could go at night under lights—something none had done in the midwest.

Edward Keller, one of the sports greatest racing secretaries who has had a hand in the development of practically every harness plant in the United States, was named racing secretary and immediately started visiting the county fairs to sell night racing.

The great experiment finally jelled in the fall of 1944 with the track ready, the lights ready, the operators ready, the Driving Club ready but less than 30 horses on the grounds.

There was a bit of financing involved in getting that many. Keller and Wiedrick scoured the county fairs,

The winners would share in the purse but, in addition, every owner would receive a flat $100 for each horse entered in each race.

Thus, night harness racing was started in Michigan. There was a touch of county fair to the program, the field in the first race came back for the fourth and seventh; that in the second was back for the fifth and eighth; and the starters in the third were back in the sixth. But there were eight horses going in each of the eight races.

A total of 24 horses were used for an entire night. Just to give one an idea of the troubles, the same horses were used for the next three or four nights before additional pacers and trotters were lured to the track by the $100 per race offer.

Some of harness racing's most famed officials were in the stands for that opening meeting. Such names as Milt Van Giesen, one of the most outstanding presiding judges of all time; J. B. Munsell of Fowlerville, rated a top man in the field; Walter Gibbons, who later was to become director of racing at Roosevelt Raceway; and Keller.

There was considerable question in the minds of the Driving Club directors when the nightly handle averaged only $20,000 and there were many "I Told you so" pessimists.

Once underway, the meeting progressed through the 20 nights and plans were started for the meeting the following spring.

The situation was much different in 1945. Horsemen knew the pacers and trotters could race just as well at night as in the daylight and applications for stalls came from far and wide.

At this time Ed Keller moved East to participate in the opening of one of the New York area tracks, and small, rotund Johnny Daley was named racing secretary. His young assistant, new to the game, was Bill Connors who still directs racing at Wolverine and Hazel Park.

Breaking into the sport as an announcer, where he became known throughout the nation, was Orlov G.

Owen, presently vice president and general manager at Wolverine Raceway.

It was a colorful gang in those early days. The fans were just warming up to the sport and there were many incidents that kept the crowd buzzing at all times.

The handle started to climb upward and soared over the $100,000 nightly average in the spring, and then past $175,000 nightly in the fall.

Then came 1946 and harness racing had an astronomical rise due to the efforts of one pacer, a green one, brought into Northville from Ontario by Lindy Fraser. It was Dr. Stanton, who was to become one of the all-time greats before his career ended abruptly when he dropped dead at the age of 12 while warming up.

Dr. Stanton was only a four-year-old when he came to Northville and had little to recommend him. He won his first race by a half-length in creditable time. He won his second by a half-length in a little better time. He continued winning until the string had stretched to 10 and during that time he became the darling of the fans and attracted large crowds every time he raced.

Credit for the sudden increased interest in the sport has to go to Dr. Stanton. He raced at Northville for two years and then went to the more lucrative tracks in the New York City area when his earnings passed the $200,000 mark during a time when a $10,000 purse was the exception.

Meanwhile a couple of Dutch brothers from Buffalo brought in a trotting mare, Proximity, and it was the story of Dr. Stanton all over again.

The mare quickly showed she was destined for greatness, winning the Michigan Trotting Derby in 1948 in the record time of 2:02.4—a time that still stands today.

The next few years saw a host of standout horses appearing at Northville including the great Michigan-owned Royal Blackstone; Grattan Volo, twice winner of the Trotting Derby; Grattan McKlyo and Jimmy Creed, winners of the Pacing Derby; Demon Hanover, Scotch Valley, Belle Acton, H. D. Hanover and Guinea Gold.

And during that time, there were such stellar racing secretaries as Walter Gibbons, Mickey McLean, and Keller with the job finally going to Connors with Johnny Jenuine as his assistant. "Dutch" German was presiding judge for years and now has a similar post at eastern tracks. Harry Peterson is the current secretary.

Then came the need for improvements and the first was the construction of an additional barn area directly west of the grounds on a cutout portion of a nearby hill. Next the old wooden barns on the grounds were razed and new winter type barns constructed along with a motel-barn building in which living quarters were provided for the drivers and grooms on the upper level and for the horses on the ground floor.

About this time the crowds had increased to the point where the grandstand had to be expanded and modernized. The capacity was boosted to more than 5,000 with the ends glassed in against the weather.

A new winterized paddock was erected, with stalls on the ground level and space for 72 horses on the second or track level. Considered among the best in the country, it is big enough to take care of all the horses competing in the races on any given evening.

The most recent addition was a receiving barn which also has been used for horse sales and has a capacity of several hundred spectators in addition to space for horses.

Just a year ago another major improvement was completed with the installation of a full "tote" board. At the same time the track bought additional land east and north of the grandstand to expand the parking facilities.

There is slight resemblance now to the track and plant of 1944 and Executive Manager Carlo is making plans for the construction of a clubhouse adjoining the west end of the grandstand.

What other changes have the years brought?

Carlo is the lone partner remaining of the six that started the operation in 1944. Wiedrick now resides in Chicago and Brock in Buffalo. Goldberg, Reed and Dennison are deceased.

Dr. Snow remained as president of the Driving Club until a year ago when he retired. His place has been taken by his son-in-law, Cass Hoffman, but it hasn't stopped "Doc" from handling his duties as track physician, just as he has since the opening night back in 1944.

It's a happy silver anniversary for Carlo and Dr. Snow. They have been actively engaged in the 'Downs since the start and probably will be until they depart this earth. Margaret Zayti, recording secretary, has been with the track for 22 years.

They recall the days when Northville Downs contributed to the high school for the purchase of new band uniforms and the days when the 'Downs gave the city $500 nightly for community use. It was the latter fund that was matched by federal funds and led to the construction of the community building.

They also recall the year when the Village Council decided to split part of the fund among the churches in the community.

They like to tell of the early days when it appeared a lost cause and then they point to the modern plant that now exists—largely through their efforts and foresight.

It has been 25 years of hard work and now those who were there in the beginning years are enjoying every moment of the silver anniversary year.

COMING SOON—This modern triple-deck clubhouse is in the Downs' future. Executive Manager John Carlo expects work to begin on the $1½-million project this fall. The lower level will be a continuation of the present grandstands and will provide general admission space. The second floor will have seating, bar and lounge area, tables and light lunch service. The third floor will contain complete and modern dining facilities. Entrance to the clubhouse will be gained off Center Street (Sheldon Road). Carlo predicts the new clubhouse facility will make Northville Downs one of the finest harness racing tracks in the country and boost the mutuel handle far beyond the present $300,000 per night average.

COMMERCE

The new Northville Downs' grandstands provide electric heating units for chilly nights as well as modern facilities for betting and cashing tickets. Second level offices for judges, camera, darkroom and the press have also been added, as well as modern general offices.

Northville Downs Today as seen from a aerial view just south of the harness racing track.

The Downs has come a long way in providing convenient parking for racing customers. Manager Carlo admits, however, that there's still much more parking to be provided and he's busy acquiring land just for that purpose. Presently, the Downs provides spaces for some 1,750 cars.

Two Big Attractions Coming Up...

With the purse hiked to $12,500 added and a total of 27 nominations, the 13th renewal of the $16,000 (est) Michigan Trotting Derby on Wednesday, July 10, promises to be one of the most interesting in the long history.

The Trotting Derby is one of the two rich early closing events traditionally headlining the Northville campaign. As usual the list of nominees includes many of the better trotters in the midwest and east.

Heading the cast this time is Little Dominion, the fleet six-year-old leased by William McGee of Jackson, who shocked the harness racing world earlier in the year with a stunning victory in the ancient Merchants and Manufacturers Trot at Wolverine Raceway.

With Clarence Ayotte at the reins, Little Dominion came from far back in the backstretch to challenge the leading Propensity on the final turn and then moved past the leader in the closing yards for a head victory in 2:06.2.

Mata Gay, a son of the great Matastar who won the Tompkins Memorial at Wolverine a year ago as a two-year-old, could be the one to make things interesting for Little Dominion in the Derby. Mata Gay has been performing well in Chicagoland and is expected to ship in for the rich stake.

Michigan is well represented as usual, in the list of nominees with: Baron of Amboy, Ivan Watters of Gregory; Birth Day, Fred Hradil Jr. of Plymouth; Dude's Sally, Frank and James Dudewicz of Saginaw; Hickory Way, Michael Kearnes Jr. of Royal Oak; Jan Kaye, Don Currier of Inkster; Precious Janyie, Nicholas Rothe of Detroit; Side Step, Rob-Way Stable Inc. of Charlevoix; and Sunny Pride, F. G. Erb of Adrian.

Perhaps as much interest as any in the remaining nominees is the appearance of the name of Blaze Hanover, a speedster from the West Coast who consistently ranks with the best from California.

Past winners of the Derby include such stars as Proximity (1948), Grattan Volo (1949 and 1950), Demon Hanover (1951), Scotch Valley (1954 and 1956) and Avalon Bomber (1965).

The Trotting Derby is scheduled for one mile heat. Eligibles are non-winners of $10,000 in 1967; three-year-olds and up and must have raced at least four times in 1967.

With a record total of 39 nominations, the 14th renewal of the historic $16,000 (est.) Michigan Pacing Derby at Northville Downs on Wednesday, July 24, promises to be as colorful and as exciting as that a year ago when Shady Counsel, driven by Dwayne Pletcher, just did hang on for a victory.

One thing is certain, Pletcher, who won the stake in consecutive years — Transient in 1966 and Shady Counsel in 1967 — won't stretch his string to three straights. He didn't have an eligible for the rich stake.

The purse has been hiked to $12,500 this year from the $10,000 of a year ago, and the added monies are expected to boost the total to $16,000 and perhaps higher by post time.

The roster of past winners of the Derby reads like a list of the all-time great pacers. The stake dates all the way back to 1945 when Red Go, driven by the late Foy Funderburk, won in 2:05 1/2.

Then followed such greats as Grattan McKlyo (1947), Jimmy Creed (1948), Dr. Stanton (1949), Royal Blackstone (1950 and 1952), H. D. Hanover (1953), Warpath (1954 and 1955), Time Square (1956), Emory Hanover (1963) and Transient (1966) in the record time of 2:01.3.

This year's list of nominees has all the class of those in the past.

Heading the eligibles is Lord Butler, a four-year-old son of Adios Butler, who will have the services of Eddie Cobb. Lord Butler, who made only two starts as a three-year-old, won eight of his first 10 this year at Yonkers Raceway.

Joe Marsh Jr., regarded as one of the most outstanding reinsmen in the midwest, will return to Northville with Careless Time, a three-year-old Good Time colt owned by Mrs. Beatrice Tomicie of Grosse Pointe. Careless Time has been a standout at the Chicago area tracks all season and could be the one to watch.

Idona's Faith, owned by Simon TerHaar of Holland, was a starter in the Motor City Pace at Wolverine and could make things interesting. He had a clocking of 2:04 last fall.

Perhaps the one pacer that will attract as much attention as any is Toughie Direct, a four-year-old who was sold by Don Lulfs of Northville to John Richards of Chicago during the winter. Toughie Direct won five of six a year ago and had two wins in his first six starts this season. He'll have the services of Bob Williams, who always seems to do his best in Michigan stakes. It was Williams who guided Song Cycle to a stunning victory in the Motor City Pace at Wolverine a couple of years back.

The Pacing Derby is scheduled for one mile heat. Eligibles are non-winners of $10,000 in 1967; three-year-olds and up and must have raced at least four times in 1967.

SONNY FORTUNE, Northville's nationally acclaimed four-year-old colt, owes much of his success to his trainer, David Thompson, a veteran of the race tracks who would rather talk about horses—especially Sonny—than eat. One of the top trotters in the country, Sonny ignored 24-1 odds and upset the nation's best in winning the $24,600 Speedster Trot at Chicago's Washington Park. Sonny's home-grown prize owned by Lloyd Spencer of 8627 Napier Road, who likes to call The Downs his "home base."

Art Lutz and George Rattenbury

A Couple of 70-Year-Olds Still Going

For 32 of his 70 years Art Lutz has been training and driving Standardbred horses.

"I'm still not ready to hang up my tack," the wirey little fellow from

Ceresco (near Battle Creek) tells you. "I'm only training three head and that's enough to keep me busy and out of trouble."

Lutz, who sold his dairy in 1952, admitted as how he couldn't figure out the eight-year-old trotter Pick's Choice.

"Now he used to be a pretty decent sort of trotter," Lutz said rubbing his brow, "but last year he was so bad I was ashamed to take him out of the stall."

Pick's Choice warmed up well and the old man kept his trotter in contention all the way. He finished fourth but beaten only by a couple of lengths.

Lutz' best year was in 1952 when Victoria's Guy won 24 dashes. This horse brought him his biggest thrills in 32 years of racing.

Rattenbury is a gentlemen trainer-driver these days. He handles only three or four horses and hopes to win a share of the purse once in a while to make ends meet.

OUT OF THE FEEDBAG: Ed Novak, a trans-planted Pennsylvanian, has five head at Northville Downs where he's the trainer for Orin Grettenberger of Okemos...Novak was second trainer for Mac McQuarrie last year when the former Fowlerville driver was hospitalized with a hip injury...McQuarrie is still in the Merchant Marines...

They put a towel over Fanny Will's face in the paddock before the fourth race the other night... "It keeps her from getting nervous," a groom explained... Towel or no towel, nerves or no nerves, Fanny finished a badly beaten sixth ... Doug Yerkey, the Chevrolet dealer from Grand Blanc, has two fine three-year-old pacing fillies in May Dee Dew and Pixie Dew ... When Yerkey isn't in the sulky Chris Boring does the driving.

OUT OF THE FEEDBAG: Sweet Sailor is a kook, according to trainer-driver Dave Haines of Fowlerville... "If he feels like running he'll come right out of the stall and climb up into the van without hesitation," Haines says... "But he's a balky cuss on days when he doesn't want to go to the races. It takes some doing to get him to the track..." Haines is in partnership with Laurel French of Royal Oak.

Wally McIlmurray

About the Cover

Wally McIlmurray, the lean Livonian who practically learned how to drive and train standardbreds at Northville Downs, will go after his second straight driving championship when this year's meeting opens.

Wally won the Northville crown last spring, beating out veteran Tommy Winn in the final three nights with a winning percentage of .394 contrasted to .373 for Tommy.

Wally had 18 wins, 16 seconds and 15 thirds in 81 starts and Winn had 12 firsts, nine seconds and six thirds.

McIlmurray has one of the better stables and expects to have every one of the speedy pacers and trotters under his direction again at Northville.

He can expect trouble from Ted Taylor this time for the veteran from New London, Ohio boasts one of the most useful stables ever to ship into Northville. Taylor has horses for every possible type of race and has his eyes set on the crown denied him a year ago.

As it was, Ted had the most wins with a total of 37 and received a trophy at the end of the year for that feat — but he wants the driving championship and will be gunning for it.

Drivers Recall Those Early Days

On this silver anniversary year of harness racing at Northville Downs drivers took time out of the paddock to pause and talk of the humble beginning of this pioneer parimutuel meeting in 1944.

"I think there were 28 head on the grounds that night when the first eight-race card was run," mused the veteran Tommy Winn. "I recall how they went out to the farms and talked owners into entering their horses just to fill out the programs.

"You know somewhere in my home over on Merriman Road, I've got some old Northville programs which would answer many of your questions."

It wasn't long before there were 150 head stabled at Northville and stable space was at such a premium that many horses were stabled in tents.

That first meeting a $70,000 handle a night was a rarity and a crowd of 2,000 was considered excellent.

Only Winn and George Rattenbury are still driving among the reinsman who took part in that memorable meeting. Wally McIlmurray and Don Hall were only 17 and McIlmurray was headed for the army.

Oldtime drivers who were standouts in those pioneering days who are still remembered included: Francis Rousseau, Jim and Earl Cariveau, Bert Brennan, Joe Marsh, Sr., Mel Stine, Pat Harvey, Archie Niles, Sr., and Ernie Swartzworth.

The current 54-night meeting ends Wednesday, July 31.

Favorite State Pacer's 'Loafing Like Everyone'

Everett Hammell, the gentlemen farmer from Pinckney, was discussing the fortunes of horse racing in the paddock at Northville Downs.

Hammell has come up with two of Michigan's favorite pacers during the past 10 years. Billie Ellamar, now retired, and Cold Sunday, in his final year of racing, have earned Hammell a cool $158,000.

"Wish I could tell you I had another horse like Billie or Sunday down on the farm," Hammell said with a shake of the head, "but it just wouldn't be true. I don't know where my next bread and butter horse is coming from."

Hammell said that he would buy "a good horse" if he could find one. "But the fellows who have got the good ones are holding on to them"

"What's Billie Ellamar doing these days?" the reporter asked the country squire.

"He's loafing, just like everyone else," shot back Hammell. "Now there's a horse that's got it made. He has acres of pasture and the same stall he's owned all his life."

Basic Information on Harness Racing—

How does harness racing differ from thoroughbred racing?

The object in both sports is the same—to win the race. Thoroughbreds run or gallop. Harness horses must maintain a specified gait, and are guided by a driver seated on a sulky instead of being ridden by a jockey in a saddle.

What do you mean by gait?

Gait refers to trotting or pacing, specific methods of locomotion peculiar to the Standardbred or harness horse. While the tendency to trot or pace is inbred in most standardbred horses, the ability to maintain gait at high speeds and over a distance of ground is acquired only through long months of intensive training.

What is a Standardbred horse?

The modern Standardbred horse is a thoroughly pedigreed animal and originally was called that because the horse had to race up to a certain set "standard" of speed. This "standard," akin to "par" in golf, has steadily decreased time-wise as improved breeding methods produced faster horses. With but few exceptions, to claim Standardbred status for a horse, his ancestry must have been standard and registered for generations. The chances are those horses you see on the track can be traced back through more generations than you can.

What is a trotter?

He's a Standardbred that races with a diagonally-gaited motion. His left front and right rear legs move forward almost simultaneously, then the right front and left rear. Often noticeable is high knee action and a left-right nodding of the head.

What is a pacer?

A pacer moves both left legs swinging forward in unison, then both right legs. It's a piston-like movement often called a lateral gait and most pacers seem to sway from side to side. About 19 out of 20 will wear hobbles, leather or plastic straps worn connecting front and rear legs on the same side to encourage the legs to move forward and back together. Here's your chance to impress the wife or girl friend. If the horse you see doesn't have these straps, say knowingly "That's a trotter." The odds are roughly 20-1 you'll be right.

Which is the faster gait?

Little more than a second separates the world trotting and pacing records (the pacing record is faster). A pacer, generally, is considered slightly faster within a specific race classification, and a pacer can get away faster at the start.

Do trotters and pacers compete in the same races?

Occasionally in qualifying races, scheduled to test a horse's ability to show enough speed to meet a track's minimum standard, the two gaits are in the same field. Otherwise, trotters race against trotters and pacers against pacers.

How fast is a harness horse?

Races usually are contested at speeds averaging 25-30 miles per hour for the mile distance. When leaving the starting point and when in the homestretch, speeds of close to 35 miles per hour are attained by the best horses. It takes a steady hand on the reins with other sulky wheels inches away on either side, and the driver needs the nerve of a Ben Hur when he heads into that first turn.

What may have been the worst rainstorm in local history descended on the Northville area Tuesday night, dumping more than 2 inches of rain in some places.

What is a break?

Many people like to get a break—but not a harness horse-man! A break occurs when a horse leaves its required gait and “breaks” into a gallop. As horses are creatures of habit, drivers try to be particularly careful to avoid allowing a horse to go into a break, thus undoing the work of months of intensive training.

Then why do they sometimes break?

Breaks are caused in several ways. A break coming up to the starting gate could be caused by a speed—either fast or slow—that is uncomfortable for the horse, but usually is brought under control before the start is reached. Other common causes are tired breaks, those occurring when a horse has been raced beyond its ability, by interference or by hitting a hoof against a leg. A thoughtless spectator throwing paper on the track can frighten a horse into breaking.

Is a break penalized?

Where clearance exists, a driver must bring a breaking horse to the outside away from traffic and pull him into his proper stride. A breaking horse must lose ground while galloping. When back on gait, he will and must try to get back into contention. He is not disqualified for a break if the driver restrains him properly. However, if another horse is “lapped on” a breaking horse at the finish line, the breaker automatically is set back in official standing behind the horse or horses which are “lapped on,” providing those horses are on gait.

What do you mean “lapped on?”

A horse is said to be “lapped on” another at the wire when its nose is at least opposite the hindquarters of the horse ahead. Lapped on positions can be determined by examining the photo finish pictures displayed after each race at designated points in the stands.

A horse is called by a great many different names such as colt, gelding, weanling, filly, etc. What do they mean?

Just as a human is a baby, boy or girl and man or woman at different ages, so do we designate horses. When a horse is born he is known as a foal or suckling as long as he remains with his mother (dam). When weaned he is known as a weanling and on the January 1st after he is born he becomes a yearling, regardless of his calendar age. Thus all horses are considered to have the same birthday—a great help to forgetful husbands if adopted by humans but certain to be opposed by the greeting card industry.

A male horse is a colt until he is a four-year-old when he becomes a “horse” or a stallion or stud. A female horse is a filly until she is four when she becomes a mare. A gelding is a de-sexed horse or colt, often gelded to make them more tractable and to race more willingly and consistently.

How long does it take to train a colt?

A colt usually has had about nine months schooling and serious training before making his first start. An aged horse will round into shape with about five months training before starting his annual racing campaign.

What are those pads on the legs of some horses?

These are boots and are worn in several areas to protect the legs from injury if struck or grazed by shoes worn by the horse. There are several types such as elbow boots (worn high on the front legs), knee boots, quarter boots to protect the tender quarter (heel of the foot) in front, bell boots encircling the pastern (just above the hoof) and a few others—all providing protection.

What are the two different type carts used in warm-ups?

One is the training cart, also called a jog cart, and the other is a racing bike, also known as a sulky.

Then what is a sulky?

It's the light racing rig with bicycle type tires used in the actual races—and normally used in the final pre-race warm-up. In it, a driver's legs are alongside the shafts. With the driver in this position, the sulky and its wheels are in almost perfect balance and the result is extreme free-wheeling action which makes the driver's weight of little importance. Sulkies nearly always have hardwood shafts, but aluminum and steel have been used. Total weight averages about 39 pounds and the cost of a sulky is around $400. A sulky frequently is referred to as a “bike.”

Do drivers always wear the same colors?

The colors worn by drivers are registered by the U.S. Trotting Association and the particular pattern and combination chosen by a driver can only be used by him. A driver may ask for a change during his career, and, if available, new colors may be registered for him. These changes rarely are requested and a driver may be identified readily, year after year, by the colors of his jacket and cap.
