Vol. 99, No. 11, 26 Pages, Two Sections • Northville, Michigan — Thursday, July 25, 1968 • 10¢ Per Copy, $4 Per Year In Advance

WHAT IS IT?—Looking more like the site of a new housing development than a highway, Taft road paving preparation began Saturday. The project—a half-mile strip of concrete from Eight Mile road north to the city limits—will be completed before school begins at the Taft-road-located junior high school in the fall.

Manpower Cuts Hit Mail Service

Mail service beginning Saturday will be curtailed, Postmaster John Steimel announced this week.

Curtailments, resulting from cutbacks by the Congress, will include:

- Elimination of all Saturday and Sunday window service.
- Saturday collection of mail from street deposit boxes will be adjusted to conform to the generally less frequent Sunday collection schedules.

Steimel also noted that planned extensions of city and rural delivery were scrapped on July 1. "At this time," said the postmaster, "there are no plans to provide mail delivery service to new subdivisions and apartment projects."

General delivery windows will be open for two hours on Saturdays from 9 a.m. to 11 a.m. to give mail to general delivery patrons and to firms that normally call for their mail at the post office, he said. Residential customers who have received notice that parcels are being held for them also may call for them during these two hours.

The curtailments, according to Steimel, were ordered by Postmaster General W. Marvin Watson to conform with a recently enacted tax bill that reduces postal service and new hiring to the 1966 level.

"This is not a matter of dollars but of people," Watson explained in issuing the order. "under the manpower restrictions imposed by the tax bill, we simply will not have enough people to continue all postal services at their present level."

Steimel said the Northville office is being permitted to operate temporarily within its current budget and to maintain services at or near the present level.

However, Steimel noted that he has been directed to submit his plans by September 1 regarding his proposal as to how and when Saturday delivery on city residential routes should be handled locally.

An effective date for the elimination of Saturday residential delivery here and nationally is expected to be established soon by the postal department, Steimel said.

"The exact total of the overall employment cut that will apply locally is not yet known and it will be affected to some extent by the rapidity of job turnover in the local staff in the months immediately ahead," he said.

To make the overall cutback to the June 1966 level, post offices have been ordered to fill only three out of four vacancies as they occur.

For the second time in less than two months, voters of the Northville School District will be asked to approve or disapprove a 2-mill levy for operational purposes Monday.

The proposition—same one that voters defeated 484 to 470 in June—provides for a 2-mill increase to raise an additional $100,000 that school board members unanimously agree is "an absolute necessity" to maintain the current standard of operation for the school system.

In the wake of the June defeat by 14 votes, the school board voted to put the proposition to the voters again in hopes of winning support on the second try.

However, in doing so school board members and Superintendent Raymond Spear advised citizens that the board is prepared to slice school services to the bone should the millage proposition fail again.

Curtailment of expenditures, board members pointed out, will become a necessity should the millage fail, and they instructed Spear to prepare a list of those school services that may go on the chopping block.

They insist that their action is not a "threat" but simply an explanation to the people that school services are at stake. "People should know," said one spokesman, "just what we will be forced to do to maintain a balanced budget."

One suggested area for trimming that is likely to draw favor from some and considerable objection from others is competitive athletics.

According to Spear, curtailment here will mean "complete elimination" of the extra curricular activities—both athletic and academic. Chopped from the school program will be football, basketball, baseball, and G.A.L., he said.

It means also, he added, elimination of band and forensics.

Although the board declined to definitely establish specific areas for cutbacks, it gave strong indication that reduction will result in extra-curricular activities and in the following general areas:

- Decrease of the teaching staff, with elimination of some services and a possibility of increased class sizes.
- Reduction in instructional supplies and materials necessary for classroom instruction.

- Reduction of transportation services, requiring the elimination of field trips and spectator buses together with regular bus runs only on mile roads.

- Elimination of new equipment purchases for instructional and non-instructional purposes.

In addition to these anticipated cuts, the board also is considering several possible sources for additional revenue. Among these are:

- Increasing elementary book fees.
- Establishment of rental fees for all non-school building use.

- Increasing student fees for lab, shop, etc.

- Increasing all athletic event admissions should they be continued.

- Continue investigating the possibility of requiring tuition for students residing on non-taxed land.

Additional student fees, the board has concluded, could gain the school system some $28,000 more in revenue.

Although board members were ultimately unanimous in their decision to put the 2-mill question to the voters again, some board members initially considered the June defeat as a "mandate" and suggested that the board begin cutting the school services immediately.

Others, however, argued that the election result could not logically be interpreted as a mandate, particularly in view of the small turnout of registered voters.

Two Killed In Crash

Two died and two were critically injured in a two-car head-on collision between Milford and Wixom Roads on I-96 Sunday noon.

May C. Jackson, 55, of New Palestine, Indiana and Marilyn Anne Panaretos, 18, of Detroit were both dead on arrival at Botsford General Hospital.

Robert W. Jackson, 54, also of Box 354, New Palestine was in critical condition as was Cynthia Francine Seleski, 18, of 9601 Vaughn, Detroit, upon their arrival there, according to Wixom police.

Jackson was the driver of a pick-up truck that was traveling east on I-96 when, according to an unidentified witness, a front tire blew out on the truck. Wixom Patrolman Roger Declercq, who policed the accident, Continued on Page 9-A.

Any Elector Eligible to Vote

The election's in the board of education building—not the community building or the township hall.

The board of education offices are in the old junior high school—located immediately west of the community building on Main Street.

Because the law requires the election machines to be locked before the August primary, voters in Monday's special school election will be using paper ballots instead of the machines.

All registered electors within the school district, both property owners and non-property owners, are eligible to vote.

Deadline for applying for absentee ballots is Saturday at 2 p.m. They may be obtained today and tomorrow from 8 a.m. to 3:30 p.m. in the board offices.

He's 'All-American' Commander Paquin Honored by VFW

Ray C. Paquin, immediate past commander of Northville VFW Post 4012, has won coveted national honors for his service here.

Commander of the post for the past two years, Paquin was named All American Commander—a distinguished status reserved for only top commanders of the more than 10,000 posts throughout the nation.

His selection by the National Department is the first in District 4 in over 12 years.

Paquin had already earned laurels for himself and the Northville post by winning All State honors for two straight years—a unusual accomplishment since most commanders serve but one year.

He will be formally presented the national award at a special luncheon during the national convention of the Veterans of Foreign Wars at Cobo Hall on August 19. At this luncheon he and

Mrs. Paquin will be the guest of Commander-in-Chief Joseph A. Scerra. In addition to an All American button and an appropriately embroidered cap, Paquin, who lives at 19378 Fitzgerald in Livonia, will receive $100 for expenses while attending the national convention.

Probably most indicative of the outstanding role he played during his two years as commander of the Northville post is the fastastic growth of the post during those two years—from 111 to 385 members.

During his tenure here as commander, he was active in numerous post, district, state and national committees. Under his direction, the Northville post and several of its members also won national plaudits for work with Cub Scouts, veterans benefit programs, and organizational projects.

Presently, Paquin serves on the post building committee and is assistant membership chairman for District 4.

'Bank Investigation' Thwarted

Con Artists Up to Old Tricks Again

Like perennial weeds, schemes of fraud are springing up again to bilk area residents of their hard-earned cash.

That's the word from Northville-Novu police officers, who warn unsuspecting residents—particularly the elderly—prime targets for the smooth-talking con-men who seem to thrive in warm weather.

Latest of a hybrid crop of con-games came to light this past week in Northville, one involving the "bank investigation" racket and another the "police fund donation."

An alert bank clerk at Manufacturers National Bank may have thwarted the "bank game" last week thereby saving an elderly resident several thousand dollars. But putting the clamp on this scheme can be embarrassing and even cost a bank a good customer.

Here's how the bank swindle works:

A man, representing himself as a bank investigator or police officer, calls an elderly man or woman and gains his or her confidence by saying he is investigating a bank teller suspected of taking money from the customer's bank account.

Once he has his victim's confidence, the con-man asks the victim to assist him and his police agency in trapping the teller.

"Go to the bank, withdraw your money, and we'll watch what the teller does," the con-man suggests.

The victim, upon entering the bank may notice the "investigator" watching the transaction from the bank lobby and perhaps even receive his nod of approval indicating, "You're doing fine, our men are watching closely, go ahead and make the withdrawal."

After the victim has withdrawn his money and returned home, he's likely to receive a visit from the "investigator." Smooth talking and convincing, he'll tell the victim he's done an excellent job, that police now have all the evidence they need to make the arrest.

"As a matter of fact I'm on my way back to the bank now to finish up the investigation and make the arrest. No need for you to return...I'll just take your money back to the bank and have it redeposited."

Naturally, the victim never sees his money again.

There are variations of this swindle, including such "cloak and dagger" schemes as having the victim picked up by a taxi cab-courtesy of the "investigator"—and driven to the bank to make the withdrawal. Sometimes he may be told that a "police officer" will meet him outside the bank after making the withdrawal.

Although bank personnel are aware of this swindle technique, thwarting it without angering a customer is a difficult matter, explains A. Russell Clarke, manager of Manufacturers branch here.

Put yourself in the bank's position: Suppose an elderly person comes in to make a sizable withdrawal. He may or may not be an intended victim of the swindle. You're teller is suspicious and advises the customer of the scheme. If the customer is indeed a "victim" he's apt to become all the more suspicious of the teller, who he believes is taking husband had been convicted of a gambling charge.

Last week Attorney C. D. Hill, representing Mrs. Tomasovich, argued that his client, not her husband, would own and manage the business. He said she needed the business income because her husband is losing his eyesight. The attorney said his client would agree to any restrictions set forth by the council barring Mr. Tomasovich from the bar premises.

Only Councilman Charles Lapham voted to recommend the transfer. He explained that the applicant would not risk loss of the liquor license and a large investment. Further, Councilman Lapham argued that "knowing of the gambling charge the police will watch the operation more carefully."

Councilmen Del Black and Wallace Nichols led the opposition. The former seemed inclined to approve the application if the proposed restrictions were placed on the husband. But Nichols advised against over-riding the police recommendation. He urged the council to call in Chief Samuel Elkins and again review the gambling charge.

The police chief did not agree with Councilman Lapham's theory that knowledge of an offense makes policing easier or more intent. He held that his previous report to the council was unchanged.

Although it had appeared earlier that the council would reverse itself, both Mayor A. M. Allen and Councilwoman Beatrice Carlson joined Councilmen Black and Nichols in opposing the recommendation.

(Note: In last week's report The Record referred to the "Northville Restaurant" as the "Northville Hotel & Bar". The latter is located on South Main street and is owned and operated by the Manica brothers. There is no application for transfer of the Northville Hotel & Bar license.)

News Around Northville

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Horn and their two children of Sarasota, Florida were visiting in Northville last week at the home of Mrs. Horn's brother, Mr. Donald Schwendemann. Highlighting their visit was some unique local entertainment provided by the Schwendemann family and their neighbors the George Muranys. While visiting here, Mr. Horn purchased several antique clocks from the local shops.

If you're wondering why most of Northville's antique shops seemed lifeless and slightly washed out last weekend, it's probably because many of them had exhausted themselves for the antique show at Livonia Mall.

The show lasted from Thursday through Saturday and was held in the main thorough-fare of the mall. About 38 dealers took part in the display.

Marvis Donahue is among the 58 high school students enrolled in the French language division of the Midwestern Music and Arts Camp at the University of Kansas, June 16 through July 28. This is the first time that a French division has been included in the camp.

The French language division offers programs of instruction for students at various levels, with the primary purpose of developing and improving the basic language skills—comprehension, speaking, reading and writing. Students are in class five hours daily five days a week. They study French literature and culture and have use of the University's language laboratory.

The Midwestern Music and Art Camp, now in its 31 season, has more than 2,100 high school students from all 50 states in its 10 divisions. The other divisions are music, art, ballet, speech and debate, journalism, science and mathematics, Latin, German, and Spanish. Campers live in air conditioned dormitories on the K.U. campus.

Most people picture a European tour as a rich and cultural awakening, but to Jim Castillo, a visiting Northville teenager, the trip was more of a cold shock.

"It was like traveling back to the 17 century," he explained, "with no electricity, no running water, and no soap."

Despite these seemingly primitive conditions, Jim had a great time on his tour through Sweden with the Allan Peterson family of 19850 Fry Road. Traveling with Jim Peterson, a close friend, Jim visited Norway and Sweden from north to south. They visited largely with the Peterson family, stopping only a few times to spend the night in hotels.

The five travelers flew to Copenhagen on June 22. From there they ferried to Sweden and stopped to visit with relatives on a farm. Contrary to what Jim had expected, rural life in Sweden was vastly removed from farm life here in America. The family was living in much more primitive conditions with no electricity or hot water.

Their meals were usually limp (bread) and cheese with milk coming straight from the cow.

Although the food was good, Jim admits he returned home weighing 14 pounds less.

The family traveled about visiting Stockholm, Galaberg, and the isolated island of Skellefteau. The most interesting part of the journey, says Jim, was the opportunity both had to enjoy teenage European social life. Asked to make the obvious comparison, Jim said the Europeans mature faster than Americans and are given more to extremes.

"In America one sees hippies mostly in colonies—only an occasional extremist on the local streets. In Scandinavia a much larger proportion of young people are given to far out modes of behavior."

Perhaps the most unusual part of the trip, he said, was learning to adjust to the midnight sun. It's difficult to sleep, and when you find yourself swimming at 3 in the morning, well it's quite a shock.

A small international reunion was held recently at the home of Janet Ogilvie, 525 Linden Court. Janet, who was an exchange student last year to the Netherlands, was visited by her foster sister Jacoba and Maryke, a friend. Both girls were visiting the United States for the first time, although Jacky had attended high school this past year in Clarkston.

Both girls, 19, plan to continue their education when they return home to "Okkerboom and Friesland in Holland. Their impressions of the United States were typical of those expressed by other exchange students visiting here from Europe: They were entranced by the wealth, the food, and the friendliness of the people, but they found European students more serious and mature.

The girls both hope to return to the United States where they have enjoyed a very pleasant visit.

ANTIQUE ORGAN repair may prove more than a casual hobby to two teen-age students who bought this old instrument for fun. Shown here are Jan Moorehead and Chick VanFossen refinishing the first of the three organs they plan to revamp this summer.

For Teenage Antiquers

Hobby's A Musical Pot O' Gold

To two local teenage music-lovers, refinishing an antique organ seemed like an ideal summer hobby. Now suddenly their brain-storm seems to have back-fired into a full scale mini-business.

The two young entrepreneurs are Rosemary VanFossen and Jan Moorehead, both music minded students living in Northville Township. On July 4 they found an antique organ in the Village Pump and decided to try their hand at refinishing it.

When they returned that Saturday to complete the purchase, they made friends with another customer in the shop. He mentioned friends in the city who might be interested in buying the restored antique. A couple of days later, they were informed that a Detroit society which collects old instruments was definitely interested in buying the restored organ. Right then business blossomed.

Object of their attention, the antique organ, is a handcrafted model of the Karn Manufacturing Company. It is fashioned from a beautiful walnut wood with hand-carved filigree decorating the outside. The organ has one bellows and two pedals covered in needlepoint. A repair date of 1875 is marked inside and the young people estimate the instrument to be at least seven years older than that. They also believe it has a good tone and a beautiful exterior.

The two have divided work on the restoration, with "Chick" doing the outside and Jan repairing the interior. The outside walnut surface is being refinished and another needlepoint is being made to cover the pedals. On the inside, Jan is trying to rejuvenate the parts, replacing all those which cannot be maintained. He is also attempting to return the old instrument.

Although this is his first attempt at revamping an organ, he has a good understanding of what he is doing. Not relying on his own musical background, Jan has consulted with piano tuners in Plymouth. Several of these, who have played with orchestras in Detroit and Schoolcraft College, have assured him he was proceeding correctly. The couple expect the organ restoration to be completed in several days.

Besides receiving the call from the music society, the teenagers report that several other persons have expressed interest in the organ. They are confident that they will have little difficulty in selling the finished product. After that they plan to continue refinishing organs — in fact they have already purchased another with plans to buy one more. The second organ is still sitting in the dealer's shop, and the owner's report that several customers have expressed an interest in it.

Both young people have discontinued their other summer jobs in order to devote themselves to the restoration. They have a strong background in music, with music lessons and memberships in the High School Marching and Jazz Bands.

In the fall Jan begins his sophomore year at Michigan State University and Chick will be a senior in high school. If their project continues as planned, the financial rewards should help appreciably to finance their education.

Employees Fete Their Boss

Twenty-four ladies who had been employed by Miss Margaret Dunning during most of the 21 years she owned and operated Dunning's Department Store in Plymouth honored her at a retirement dinner at the Round Table Club in the Mayflower hotel.

Miss Dunning recently sold the department store to Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Chaiken, former owners of Minerva's, which was destroyed by fire last year.

Mrs. Virginia Shaw held the longest employment record among those honoring their "ex-boss". Mrs. Shaw joined Dunning's when Miss Dunning purchased the original store owned by Abe Goldstein and located on Main street in Plymouth in 1947.

Mrs. Zella Collon was next in the line of service, having been head buyer of ready-to-wear and an employee for 19 years. Mrs. Bessie Sallow, buyer of yard goods, has a record of 17 years, and Mrs. Ethel Dodge and Miss Ethel Widmayer both 15 years. Mrs. Camilla Barringer has been ready-to-wear buyer for 10 years, while Mrs. Josephine Astle and Mrs. Hilda Eckles have served nine years.

Miss Dunning was presented with several gifts, including a book of remembrances from her employees entitled "Doings at Dunning's".

chairman for the 1966 drive.

Mrs. Rockafellow attended the University of Michigan, and her husband is a lecturer at the university's Dearborn campus.

In addition to her Torch Drive work, Mrs. Rockafellow is active with the U of M Faculty Women's Club and the Farmington Jaycees Auxiliary.

She and her husband have two children, Stuart, 6, and Briton, 5.

Farmington Housewife Gets Novi Area U-F Post

Directing this area's residential campaign in the 1968 Torch Drive will be Mrs. Craig J. Rockafellow, of 23819 Wilmarth, Farmington.

Mrs. Rockafellow has been reappointed residential chairman for campaign Region 44 comprised of Farmington, Novi, South Lyon, New Hudson, Walled Lake and the townships of Farmington, Novi, Lyon and Commerce.

She was named this week to the Torch Drive post in which she served last year. Her reappointment was announced by Mrs. John N. Canavan, of Birmingham, Oakland residential unit chairman.

"We are pleased and grateful that Mrs. Rockafellow again has accepted this important assignment," Mrs. Canavan said.

"She is an enthusiastic, dedicated and able volunteer who has worked in many previous Torch Drives. Her experience and knowledge will be invaluable."

Mrs. Rockafellow will organize, train and direct the solicitation efforts of volunteers in the house-to-house canvass.

The twentieth annual United Foundation campaign will be held October 15 through November 7 to raise operating funds for nearly 200 health and community services. The goal will be announced in September.

Last Year's drive raised a record-breaking $27,573,109 for 32 child care services, 25 health research centers, 54 health and medical services, 32 services for the aging, 68 character building services and 44 services for troubled families.

She was a doorbell ringer in two campaigns before moving up to be district chairman, the post she held for two years before becoming a division

HOTDOG MACHINE—The hotdog machine is grinding away at Moraine Elementary School where last Thursday youngsters put on a circus, complete with clowns, bicyclers, baton twirlers, and hoola hoopers, to mention just a few. Here, visible inside the box—pardon us, inside the machine—are a couple of unfortunate "dogs" rounded up to make the circus even more "authentic". The "dogs" rolled out of the grinder looking considerably like colored strips of paper ribbon.

Crowd Pleaser To Kick off Fair

One of the greatest crowd pleasers at the Michigan State Fair will be the group of Quarter Horse contests beginning on opening day, Friday, August 23 and continuing through Sunday, August 25.

All together, 15 free horse shows are slated for the State Fair which continues through September 2 (Labor Day).

That versatile animal — the Quarter Horse — and its name originated more than 300 years ago in the Carolinas and Virginia where early settlers raced their horses on country lanes.

These races seldom ran beyond 440 yards so the horses became known as "quarter milers". The settlers moved west, cross-bred their horses to develop a heavy muscled animal that could pull a plow, take the long cattle drive, and still be a pleasure mount.

The Quarter Horse soon was adopted by rancher and cowboy because of its remarkable "cow sense".

E. J. "Jeff" Keirns, State Fair manager, explains that halter and performance classes give the State Fair spectator an opportunity to see the conformation of the horses.

Reining classes, in which the horse must follow an exact pattern and rein with ease, display the versatility and disposition of the horse.

The applause really increases for

Kings Mill

It was a colorful, lively luau and splash party which was held Saturday at the Kings Mill Townhouses. The affair featured Hawaiian food served in a Polynesian atmosphere. Entertainment was provided by Al Wicker and his orchestra and two Hawaiian dancers. In all it proved a great way to break the hot syndrome of summer monotony.

On tap this week is a card party to be held from 7 to 10 on Sunday. Refreshments will be served during the party.

Prepares for College

Students who will be freshman at Western Michigan University this fall spent three days on the university campus during the past week for testing, orientation and registration. Among them was Rhonda Bongiovanni of 131 Walnut Street.

Working in groups of around 125, the new students lived in the residence halls, took a battery of tests, met with their counselors, and received a get-acquainted tour of campus.

When WMU's fall semester begins, September 2, the new students will have additional orientation and meetings before starting their first classes on September 4.

County Charter Plan OK'd

The long-debated proposal to establish a home rule charter for Wayne County moved a step closer to reality this past week with the announcement that the charter proposal will be placed on the November Presidential ballot.

According to Henry Sladek, member of the Wayne County Apportionment Commission which made the decision Wednesday, voters will decide in November whether or not Wayne county should have a charter.

Car Dumpers Draw Warnings

Northville township residents are being reminded by Township Police Officer Ron Nisun that the township's ordinance concerning abandoned vehicles is being enforced.

The recently-adopted ordinance pertains to various articles such as trash, large boats or cars that are unlicensed being stored in public view on private property.

Officer Nisun reports that he has issued a number of warnings in addition to five specific violations.

He also noted that violations are now being issued for unlicensed dogs. New dog licenses were due for the 1968-69 year on June 1.

In addition, voters will choose partisan candidates for the 35-member charter commission which will draw up the county charter. Then in a special general election the following February voters will pick the final 35 members who will constitute the charter commission.

"Actually, since top party candidates will be chosen at the November election that election for this particular purpose could be called a primary. Those winning their party nomination then will seek the 35 posts in the February general election," explained Sladek.

However, Sladek pointed out that if the voters defeat the charter proposal in November, the election of party candidates is nullified and no election will be held in February.

The plan adopted by the five-member commission last week provides for 35 charter commission districts from which charter commissioners will be elected to draft the charter. The charter commission elected in February will then have two years in which to develop a charter and present it to the voters for their approval.

"If voters approve a county charter, many of its provisions will quite likely not take effect until 1972," said Sladek.

Present county government is operated mainly according to state law. Adoption of a county charter and county home rule will permit the county to operate according to its own guidelines as provided in the county charter.

Redford Township will have a charter commission district; Livonia and Northville will make up another district. In all, the suburbs will have 13 of the 35 charter commission members.

Sitting with Sladek, county Republican chairman, on the five-member board were County Prosecutor William Cahalan, County Treasurer William Funk, County Clerk Edgar Branigan, and Democratic County Chairman David Lebenbom.

These are the same men who developed the reapportioned County Board of Supervisors plan.

Cycle, Go-Cart Stolen Here

During the night of July 16 a motorcycle and a go cart were stolen from different locations in Northville.

The motorcycle belonging to John D. Pheney, Jr. of Farmington disappeared from the grass area in front of the Northville Swim Club between 10:30 p.m. July 16 and 9 a.m. July 17, Pheney told police. The motorcycle was inoperable, having no seat or chain and the ignition was locked, with the key in the owner's possession, police said.

The go-cart, valued at $75 by owner Lester E. St. Thomas, was taken from his back yard at 333 North Rogers Street, according to city police.

LEGISLATIVE MEMORIAL—The wife (right) of the late Northville Township Supervisor Robyn D. Merriam receives a framed copy of a Michigan House of Representatives and Senate memorial for Mr. Merriam from Representative Louis Schmidt, who offered the memorial resolution to the Legislature. Others on hand for the presentation of the resolution to Mrs. Merriam at the township hall were (l to r) Supervisor Gunnar Stromberg, two daughters of Mr. Merriam, Mrs. Greig Chapman and Mrs. Cleon Newton.

Mrs. Merriam Accepts Tribute

Late Supervisor Honored

A memorial paying tribute to the late Northville Township Supervisor Robyn D. Merriam was presented to his wife in a brief ceremony Monday at the township hall.

Presenting the framed memorial to Mrs. Merriam and her two daughters, Mrs. Greig Chapman and Mrs. Cleon Newton, was Representative Louis Schmidt.

The resolution, adopted by both the Michigan State House of Representatives and the Senate, reads:

"Whereas, Mr. Robyn D. Merriam, supervisor of Northville Township, chairman of the Northville Recreation Commission, secretary of the Township Water and Sewer Commission and former Township School Board member, died at 68 years of age April 17, 1968; and

"Whereas, born in Oklahoma June 1, 1899, his family moved to Charlevoix, Michigan during his early childhood, and he attended public school there. Before he was 17, Mr. Merriam enlisted in the United States Marine Corps, and was discharged in 1919 with corporal rank; and

"Whereas, for two years he worked in St. Louis, Missouri with the Burroughs Adding Machine Company and entered the University of Michigan to study civil engineering. He accelerated his studies in all available extra hours and in summer courses, to graduate in three years with a bachelor of science degree; and

"Whereas, from June 1924 to December 1966, Mr. Merriam served the Wayne County Road Commission, first as bridge inspector and rapidly progressing to chief engineer in charge of bridges, structures and expressways, retiring after 42 years of distinguished achievements. A registered professional engineer for 30 years, his primary interest was in building bridges. He was resident engineer for the Davidson expressway, the first depressed expressway in the United States and was resident engineer for the seawall along the Grosse Pointe Lake Shore Drive; and

"Whereas, Mr. Merriam was an active member of the Michigan Geological Society, the Michigan Academy of Science, Arts and Letters, the Michigan Botanical Society, was an honorary member of the American Society of Civil Engineers, a member of the Cranbrook Academy of Science, served as director for the state botanical organization and for the Detroit Audubon Society. He held numerous other professional, business and service organization memberships, serving presiding terms in most of them. His lifelong contributions to local and state functions, and his abundantly shared talents in selfless service to fellow men richly merited the great esteem given him; and now therefore be it

"Resolved by the House of Representatives (the Senate concurring), that by these presents a memorial of tribute is accorded Mr. Robyn D. Merriam, who served Michigan with professional expertise and dedication and in active contributions to her scientific, civic and social life; and be it further

Resolved, that copies of this memorial be presented to the Merriam family for condolence and in testimony of the esteem of the Michigan Legislature."

Police Nab Wayne Man With Cash Box Money

A Wayne man was apprehended by Northville police as he fled for the parking lot at Northville Downs with a handful of money taken from a bar.

William Marshall Whitson, 25, 7080 Niagara, Wayne, is in the local jail awaiting arraignment on a charge of larceny.

Police said he was at Bar No. 3 on the lower level of the grandstand at the Downs Monday at 11:25 p.m. when the bartender walked to the other end of the bar. Whitson reportedly reached into the cash box and grabbed an indeterminate amount of money. Witnesses yelled, Whitson ran out of the bar, and officers in the area gave chase.

Officer Robert Pankow caught him as he reached the parking lot, according to Police Chief Samuel Elkins. Whitson told police he is a school teacher.

Municipal Court

Two out-of-town judges, pinch hitting for vacationing Judge Philip Ogilvie, heard six cases in Municipal Court last week.

Plymouth Judge Dunbar Davis July 17 heard the arraignment of Russell N. Preville of Detroit who was charged with being drunk and disorderly at Northville Downs on July 16. Preville was sentenced to pay $50 fine or spend eight days in jail, with costs of $5.

Judge Richard Hammer of Garden City arraigned four persons on charges of being drunk and disorderly and entered a nolle prosequi in the case of Joan Eileen Gay of Ann Arbor who had stood mute at her arraignment on July 3 on a charge of being a disorderly person on June 22. An innocent plea had been entered. She paid $25 costs on the trial date of July 18.

Drennon Hugh Aday, of Westland was fined $30 or six days in jail with costs of $3 on a charge of being drunk and disorderly at Northville Downs. Ronald E. Farrell, 140 North Center Street, received the same sentence on this charge, as did Casey Mathew Beals of Dearborn and Ronald Carl Davis of Northville.

University Charter Expert

Advises Graduated Novi Millage

If Novi city charter commissioners hoped to snatch an expert's recommendation for the type of government the new city of Novi should adopt they failed Thursday night.

Dr. Louis Friedland of Wayne State University, guest speaker at last week's charter commission meeting, declined to make a recommendation—and furthermore, he saw little significant advantage of one form of government over another.

The strong mayor type government received about the same amount of his plaudits as did the city manager form of government.

However, Dr. Friedland, who has written many charters himself and assisted in writing many others, did make one significant recommendation: Novi, he said, should consider incorporating a graduated tax formula in its charter, a formula he wrote into the city charter of Sterling Township—the first such provision in history.

This formula basically means that a new city provides for a minimum millage rate for the first five years, a larger rate after 10 years and a maximum rate after 15 years. In Novi, for example, Novi could have a 6-mill rate at the outset, increase it to 12 after 12 years, and to 18 after 18 years, he suggested.

Such a provision, he suggested, may be more palatable to present Novi taxpayers.

He emphasized, too, that although the graduated formula may be a charter provision, the council makes the final determination of whether or not all or part of the millage should be levied at these five or six year intervals.

While Dr. Friedland sidestepped making recommendations as to the form of government the new city of Novi should have, he was convinced of one basic point: Novi SHOULD become a city. To remain a village, he said, would be a mistake. He declined, however, to comment on the outstanding court attempts by the township to upset the incorporation of Novi.

Concerning the two forms of government under consideration by the commission, Dr. Friedland saw advantages for each:

—The strong mayor concept provides for a mayor who is probably more sensitive to public opinion than a city manager.

—The city manager usually has considerably more administrative training than does the mayor.

—Generally speaking, a city manager remains in his position longer than does an elected mayor so there is a little more "continuity" under the manager concept.

—If the community is a political minded (not in the sense of partisan politics) then perhaps the strong mayor concept is more advisable.

—Although the city manager usually has more training and serves longer than an elected mayor, there is little other appreciable advantage of the manager form of government over the strong mayor.

Dr. Friedland said he could find as many "bad" mayors as "bad" managers in the nation. The fact that the mayor may be a political leader, he said, does not mean he generates bad government.

"If a council assumes its fiscal responsibility and stays out of departmental operations, then I would say a city manager could function very well. If there is an unwillingness on the part of the council to leave administrative matters to the manager then perhaps the mayor form of government would be more advantageous."

He advised the commission against writing provisions for both city manager and strong mayor in its charter.

However, he saw no disadvantage in a strong mayor form of government that permits the mayor to hire a city executive to supervise administrative matters. In these cases, such an executive serves at the discretion of the mayor, he explained, not the council.

He also advised the commission against a districting or ward system of electing councilmen. Districting, he suggested, tends to perpetuate "log rolling" at the expense of the "community of the whole."

Concerning the commission's concern that the charter must be written in a 90-day period, Dr. Friedland said the courts have interpreted the law as saying the charter must be written within two years. The Sterling charter, for example, took 13 months to write and it was approved by the Governor, he said.

As to the average cost involved in writing charters, he said the average is somewhere between $6,000 to $12,000.

Readers Speak

Are Students Worth Additional 6 Cents?

To the Editor:

The citizens of our school district will have another chance to indicate their interest in and concern for the youth of our community when they once again vote on the two mill tax increase next week. It is never easy to vote to increase one's taxes—even minimally. The apathy which was evidenced by the small turnout at the June election is no credit to our community.

A number of articles were published in the Northville Record prior to the last election explaining the needs of the district—the increased student population, and increasing costs for supplies and services. It should have been apparent that the requested millage which was necessary for next year's budget would not provide, much in the way of improvements, but was primarily necessary to maintain the present programs in our school system.

Prior to 1957, the State Aid to our school district covered approximately 2/3 the cost of education. Since that time the state portion has shrunk to a little more than 1/3 (38 percent) of the costs in 1967-8. Rapidly rising costs have forced districts like ours to obtain the difference through local assessments. While it may not be an equitable way to finance educational costs, it is the only recourse open to your school board, until the state reassumes a more equal share of costs.

The term "program of excellence" is perhaps misleading. While our system does provide a good basic program, there are areas which need strengthening in both depth and breadth. Excellence is at best relative—and when one compares Northville to many school systems around us, we find that our "excellence" is perhaps a bit over-stated. We have some outstanding teachers, some good ones, some inadequate. Some facilities are excellent, some good, some inadequate. Some of our curriculum is well programmed, some adequate, some out-of-date. A reduction in available funds, however, will not help to strengthen the weaknesses which exist.

It was easy to find an excuse for voting against the millage—from a rejection of more taxes, to the dislike of an administrator, a teacher, the pool, "frills", counselling program, sports, reading—you name it. One could seek revenge for dissatisfaction, real or imagined, by not voting for the millage increase. While it may be a good catharsis for one's emotions, a vote against the millage and its subsequent failure means a lowering of the educational program for the students of our district.

According to my figures, the present budget calls for an increase in expenditures of about 36 cents per day per child next year or about 6 cents per hour. This increase is needed to cover increased costs in all areas, teaching, maintenance, library supplies, lab supplies and equipment—all the materials and professional needs which are part of the school program. Denial of the millage will necessitate cuts in our present program—cuts which we as parents and as citizens cannot accept.

If we are striving to achieve a true "program of excellence" we cannot do it on a diminished budget. Good teachers cost money. Equipment and supplies cost money. Facilities cost money to repair, maintain and refurbish. The educational program for our district for next year is on the ballot Monday. Your vote will determine the educational standards for the 2850 students who will be in our schools next year. This decision is too important to have been decided by whether or not a few teachers voted in the last election. This election will be decided by those who go to the polls and those who don't. An absent voter votes with the majority. The question is—Are our students worth an additional 6 cents an hour for their schooling? It should be more. It cannot be less.

Con Artists at Work Again

money from the customer's account. If he is not the victim, he's angered that the bank is hesitant to permit him to make the withdrawal. Either way, it's pretty touchy.

Last week, a "victim" here made a withdrawal despite the teller's warning. Her suspicion, together with the suspicion of a relative who had talked to the victim, however, apparently scared off the con-man before he got his hands on the cash, says Clarke.

Police Chief Samuel Elkins, aware of last week's attempt to work the bank swindle, also reported that a man, who passes himself off as a metropolitan area police officer by flashing a police badge, is making the rounds asking for donations for a police benefit.

Area residents, who are approached by this or any other questionable person, are urged to check with their police departments. Both Northville and Novi have solicitation ordinances which require permits. A quick check can verify the authenticity of most of the cases.

"You wouldn't believe how slick talking most of these guys are," says Novi Police Chief Lee BeGole. "They're top-notch sellers who probably could do an excellent job in some legitimate business. But they stick to their con-game, picking mostly on old people."

Probably the most fantastic but successful con game policed by BeGole involved the so-called "chimney rat" racket that fortunately hasn't been working here for years.

Dressed in coveralls with the names of their company sewn on them, these con-men knock on the door of the victim and pass themselves off as chimney experts.

"We're checking this area because of the dangerous condition of chimneys in the neighborhood. We fixed your neighbor's chimney and noticed yours. We have reason to believe it's been weakened by chimney rats. We'll make an inspection free of charge."

Whereupon the chimney experts climbed to the roof, poke down into the chimney and come back with the report: "It's true. The rats have eaten the mortar from the bricks and your chimney is almost ready to collapse."

Then, astonishingly, they produce a couple of live, soot-covered rats that they were able to catch while on the roof.

With that kind of evidence, the victim can hardly disbelieve the silver-tongued experts. "They'll pay almost anything to get the chimney fixed and get rid of the rats," says BeGole.

"Roof repair and black-top con-men are our biggest headache," says BeGole.

Once again the "salesman" says he's been working in the neighborhood—this time repairing roofs. His company has produced a special plastic paste that covers the roof and guarantees 20 years of protection from leaks.

"We've got our equipment in the neighborhood, so we can give you a special price for your roof."

According to the chief, these con-men actually apply a paste to the roof. But by the next rain, both paste and the con-men are gone.

Same thing with the blacktoppers. They're in the neighborhood, have some left-over asphalt from a nearby job, and for only a fraction of the cost they can blacktop the "victim's" driveway. They apply a paper-thin coat of asphalt, pick up their money and leave a sticky mess.

"They're driveway experts alright," says BeGole, "they drive away before you know what has happened."

Although the schemes border on the ridiculous, they're not "funny" to the victims. But, unfortunately, the victim often is too embarrassed by having been "taken in" to report it to the police. In the absence of reports, or because the "victim" refuses to prosecute, the con games go on, explains BeGole.

Even though the elderly are most often the victims of these con men, younger people—even teenagers—are good targets.

Take for instance the sale of "hot" razors in Novi awhile back. An "on the run" salesman spread out his collection of nicely packaged electric razors in front of a couple of boys looking for a good buy. Believing the razors were "hot" (stolen), they were able to buy them at only a fraction of their "real value."

Actually, the razors were cheap reproductions of the real thing. Yet, because the salesman was able to convince the boys the razors were "hot", he managed to sell them for far more than he bought them for at a discount store.

"You get the same kind of business from the 'rug men'," says BeGole. "The guy spreads out all these Oriental rugs, tells you they're hot. He's got to get rid of them in a hurry and he'll practically give them away."

"Magazine salesmen the same way. Most of them are legitimate. But every now and then you get the guy who sells magazines or books whose only out to get your money. They couldn't care less about the stuff they're suppose to be selling."

"And it's these type of guys who make it tough for those who are out really trying to do a good job."

Although con games go on year-round, they seem to thrive in the summer. "That's probably because con men do so well financially they can go to Florida in the winter," quipped BeGole.

Two Killed

said this threw the truck across the median where it struck head-on a 1966 car going west on I-96. The car was driven by Miss Panaretis; her passenger was Miss Seleski.

Autopsy reports indicate that Jackson's wife possibly died of a broken neck and Miss Panaretis suffered severe chest injuries and a skull fracture.

Declercq happened to be on patrol within a tenth of a mile of the scene he said, and saw the car fly into the air, as he headed east on the expressway. He said he found the pick-up in the middle of I-96 and the car overturned on the north of the expressway near the shoulder. He pried both of the Jacksons out of the truck and with a sledge hammer, he broke the rear window of the car, he said, and got Cynthia out. It took two wreckers, however, to free Marilyn, according to Declercq.

The patrolman called two Fleet ambulances. In order to get through the bumper-to-bumper traffic, they had to reach the scene by driving west in the eastbound lane.

Declercq was emphatic about the need for traffic in this area "to slow down." "No matter how tight the cars are, people insist on pushing traffic along fast. This particular accident was purely an accident; a tire blew. But most of the ones we've policed have been the result of two much speed," he said.

The Sunday previously, July 14, Declercq recalled that the Wixom department alone investigated an eight-car property damage accident at 11:45 a.m.; a five-car at 1:30 and a three-car property damage accident at 1:45 p.m. At 2:05 the same day, they policed a three-car accident with a personal injury involved, and on July 16, a four-car accident occurred in this same short span between Milford and Wixom roads.

Traffic on July 21 was actually lighter than usual, according to area police who are familiar with Sundays when large picnics are scheduled at Kensington Park. However, due to the fatal accident, traffic was backed up, three to four miles, to I-696.

Crashes Blamed on Rains

Torrential rains, for the second time in as many weeks, were blamed for a chain of accidents on I-96 expressway last week Tuesday, Novi police reported.

At least one person was injured seriously.

Just before 2 p.m. six cars were involved in a chain accident on the expressway, one-quarter mile east of Beck Road in the west-bound lane.

Veronica Drescosky of Dearborn, one of the drivers, and her seven-year-old son, Teddy, suffered bruises and were treated at Oakwood Hospital in Dearborn. Seriously injured and in Ford Hospital with internal injuries is George Spriggs.

Other motorists involved in the collision were Anthony Shapas of Owosso, Bondele Smith of Detroit, Bruce Albright of Dayton, Ohio, and Janice Shomo of Dearborn.

According to Novi police, Shapas apparently hit a pond of water on the highway and his car stalled. All of the other drivers, except Spriggs managed to stop behind Shapas' car. Spriggs' vehicle crashed into the vehicle driven by Mrs. Drescosky setting off the chain reaction.

The car driven by the Shomo woman contained 11 passengers, police said, but fortunately none were injured.

Woman Injured in Northville

A Novi woman received minor injuries in a two-car accident at Novi and Eight Mile Roads Monday afternoon.

Darlene Bogrow, 22, was a passenger in the car driven by her husband, Howard. Donald Morgan, 36, 633 Reed Street, Northville told police he was going south on Novi Road and stopped for the stop sign at Eight Mile Road, saw no on-coming car, so he started to cross.

Morgan was traveling east on Eight Mile and told police he couldn't stop in time to avoid hitting Morgan's vehicle.

Mrs. Bogrow was taken to St. Mary Hospital in Livonia for emergency treatment of minor injuries. She said initial reports from X-rays indicate an ankle injury is probably not a fracture. The accident occurred about 4:30 p.m.

Downs Closes July 31

Sonny Fortune Races Friday

Entering the final weekend of its 54-night campaign, which ends on Wednesday, July 31, Northville Downs will bring out the finest trotters and pacers for rich events on Friday and Saturday.

In fact, the final full week has all the appearances of being one of the best of the meeting.

The big events began Wednesday (July 24) with the Michigan Pacing Derby with a total value of more than $20,000.

Friday's card will bring Sonny Fortune, generally rated the best trotter in Michigan history and certainly the finest to come from the Northville area, back for his final appearance of the year on his home track.

Sonny is owned by the Briar-Lea Stable of Northville and already had earnings of more than $30,000 this year.

Pitted against him will be Little

Dominion, the 1968 Merchants and Manufacturers Trot champion; Chancey Guy, who captured the Michigan Trotting Derby two weeks ago; Baron of Amboy, El Dor, El Darno and Dan W. Diller.

Then on Saturday, Philip Brian, owned by the Mijal stable of Westland, will show why he's the king of the pacers at the 'Downs this year. The aged star has won four of the weekly Open events and will be gunning for his fifth.

Then following the big weekend, the 'Downs will swing into the final three nights before ringing down the curtain on the season.

Quarter Horse

Show Scheduled

The Michigan Quarter Horse Association will sponsor its first horse show in history Saturday and Sunday near Ann Arbor.

The show will be held at the farm council grounds on S. Pine-Ann Arbor Road. This model show hopefully will set the stage for other horse shows to follow.

Especially crowd-pleasing events will take place Sunday from 1 to 5 p.m. These include roping, jumping, barrel racing and pleasure classes.

Highlighting Saturday's performance will be the appearance of Senior George—the world champion cutting horse.

Tickets for the event are $1 and children under 12 will be admitted free.

Among the participants from this area will be:

Angelo DiPonio of Salem Township; Patricia A. Donald, Julie Hamlin, Sharon M. Grinder, Fred and Cathy Cline, all of South Lyon; Edward Andorns of Novi; Gail Cashen, James Collins, Cecil Finlan, Walter Hawkins, Ron Wood, Rick Nixon, Richard Thompson, Norma Schmeman, and Alice and Georgina Gougeon of Plymouth; Merrill Andrews of Farmington; and Benjamin Baloy of Milford.

Lanes Clings

To Thin Lead

Going into the final week of competition, Northville Lanes clings to a one-game lead in the Men's Softball League.

But Matatal Builders, coming on strong, could upset Lanes in the last week. Lanes has led the league throughout the season.

Lanes picked up two more victories in the past week, including a 24-2 swamping of Ford Motor and a narrow, 8-6 triumph over Perkins.

In the latter contest, Joe Humphries and Ken Kujala each homered for Lanes, while Perkins' Bob Oaks slammed a homer and a triple. Against Ford, Lanes collected 20 hits.

Scoring 11 runs in the first inning, Matatal coasted to an easy, 23-12 victory over Ford. Matatal also edged the Jaycees, 11-9, with Bill Hopping smashing two round-trippers.

Plymouth State Home nipped Perkins, 11-10, and then downed the Jaycees, 14-10, before losing to Pyles, 15-3. In the latter contest, two Pyles players collected homers. State Home also lost out to Lapham's Men's Wear, 20-8.

Bob Oaks carried a mean bat again as Perkins downed Ford, 9-3. He slammed two homers and collected a triple.

Lapham's picked up another win—this one a 12-0 shutout over Perkins. Don Thomson collected two homers.

In a makeup game, the Jaycees downed Ford, 11-3.

Office Manager's

Colt Pays for Feed

Tom Garnett is an office manager for a machine company in Marshall and looks the part. As a hobby he dabbles in harness racing.

The other night he brought his three-year-old pacer, Dr. Ruff, over to Northville Downs for his first start in a pari-mutuel race. "I had brought him down here a month ago for his qualifier and frankly I didn't know what to expect this time out," Garnett said.

But the green colt came up with a good race. He left the game well and finished fourth to give Garnett $64 for gas money home.

Garnett has a brood mare, foaled to Rusty Range, and two colts. The colts will not get to the races this year so it will be up to Dr. Ruff to pay the feed bills for the small Garnett stable.

OUT OF THE FEEDBAG: Best of All, the four-year-old pacing sensation of the midwestern tracks, just won his 21st dash of the summer for trainer-driver Jimmy Hackett at Chicago.... Best of All has 17 races this year under two minutes ... Lee Sattleberg and Rex Putnam are training seven head for W. O. Dunkel of Grand Blanc.

Tommy Winn spent a hot and humid Sunday jogging a horse for a friend up in Ortonville... "I'm getting old but it's hard to get a day off," Winn smiled.

Retarded Boys Crack 'Olympics'

No one ever faced competition with more confidence than young Wilbert of Wayne County Children's Development Center. And probably no one ever gave better testimony to the power of positive thinking.

Wilbert went with three other boys from the training school, accompanied by James Evans as chaperone, to Chicago last Saturday to take part in the first Chicago Special Olympics for retarded children. Competitors from all over the nation were grouped in categories in keeping with their abilities—from Novice through Champ—and the 1,000 youngsters were allowed to compete only against others of the same ability.

"Wilbert was Mr. Confidence himself," Evans said, "he was sure he was going to win and he did." Wilbert brought back badges for first place in both the short and long swim. Evans' only worry was that Wilbert would be crushed if he lost. Not a chance. Wilbert just couldn't lose.

A first place trophy came home with Mike who wasn't so "sure of the soft ball throw," but on his second chance he took first place.

Not so on the trampoline! Evans told the boys, "Don't eat too much now or you'll be sluggish." Three hotdogs and buns later, Mike "couldn't get in the air" in the trampoline contest. And when the boys all played touch football against a team of such champs as Notre Dame's halfback Johnny Lattner and the Detroit Lions' Hopalong Cassidy, Ziggy Czarowski and Jim Mello, someone asked Mike, "Did you win?" Mike's answer: "Too many hotdogs..."

Mike did get an award in the bicycle rodeo and came in fourth in the 50 yard dash.

Young Holland competed against his buddy Wilbert in swimming, and took two thirds, so Northville did its share of ribbon winning there.

The group stayed "on one of the world's richest streets" in the LaSalle Hotel in Chicago. The Joseph P. Kennedy Foundation picked up the tab. Eunice Kennedy Shriver was there to represent the foundation, and she and Mrs. Peter Lawford took part in some of the games.

Plans are to hold the Olympic every two years starting in 1970 and to bring into the competition many more of the 1.5 million mentally retarded children in the country.

The Northville school boys were entered in the highest competition, "Champs," because they had proved their abilities at a recent field meet at home. Dr. Pasquale Buoniconito said he "wholeheartedly welcomed the chance for the boys to have this stimulating experience." He said, "It gives them a chance to see a big city other than Detroit, too." The doctor and Reuben Billingslea, acting director of recreation, were instrumental in sending the boys to the unique event. Billingslea said, "I hope in two years we can send eight instead of four to compete; this year we were limited by our supervision and transportation and didn't have enough advance notice to get ready." The four that did go stacked well with these from other schools, Evans said.

Each of the celebrities there from Olympic track, decathlon, figure skating and swimming teams, great football players, boxing and trampoline champions and hockey heroes held clinics to give the boys pointers in their specialties. In fact, Rafer Johnson said "Clemmie has high potential in jumping, and Mike and Hopalong got to be good buddies."

Never was the cliché truer that "a good time was had by all."

Rams Crush Colts, Lead Pack

The VFW Rams are leading the softball pack with 7 wins and 0 losses in the league.

They played another one-sided game against the Colts this past week with a 16-0 win. The Colts failed to get a man past second off the pitching of Kurt Stevens and Dave Heckerl. Not hitting at their usual capacity, the Rams capitalized on Colt mistakes. Heckerl, Paul Knapp and Tom Male all had two hits. Dales, Stevens, Heckerl, Knapp and Rick Marrone each scored twice.

In play with the Cubs, it was Rams 13, Cubs 1. Every Ram hit the ball as Don Dales, Kurt Make and Bobby Heckerl each had three hits. Heckerl's were all blasts to the outfield. Dales, Kurt "Turtle" Stevens, Mack, and Dave Heckerl, the first four Ram hitters each hit safely their first two times up and accounted for 8 runs. Rich Searles' triple rallied the lone Cub run.

With six scored in the first, the Panthers totaled a 7-5 against the Pumas. Dave Iverson's double was the big blow as the Pumas never could catch up. The Pumas scored five in their first, but never threatened again.

It was Cubs 6, Lions 4, with Rich Searles leading the Cubs with a double and a single combined with his own fine pitching. The Lions scored in every inning but fell short of the Cubs who scored four in their second. Keith Stenger scored two Lion runs.

The Cougars kept pace with the Rams, who handed them their lone loss, preparing for their season ending game. Dennis Singleton batted in six runs and scored two himself. On the mound, he didn't allow a Panther past first and gave up only two hits, both to Ronnie Turner. Dave Noutella, Andy Gellner, Peter and Jimmy Wright all had two safeties for the Cougars. The final score: 11-0.

The A & W Rootbeer Cougars stand in second place with six wins and one loss. The Cougars took the Tigers 6-4 in their battle for second place. Cougars' Dennis Singleton outpitched the Tiger's Doug Marzoni in a game almost free of walks. Tied 1-1 at the end of three the Cougars put together five hits and scored three big runs with Singleton knocking in two of them in the fourth to take over the lead for keeps. They added two more in the seventh, again on Singleton's hit. The Tigers staged a late rally in their seventh, scoring on singles by Tim Gross, Jeff Ziniani and Nick Pyett, but they left the bases loaded and put the Cougars in second place.

Giants Maintain Lead, Too

The VFW Giants remain in the top spot with five wins, no losses. They took the Yankees 10-0 and defeated the Spagy Giants 12-2 this past week.

In the game against the Yankees, Dave Schronce pitched his team to victory, allowing only three hits. Although the Yankees had at least two men on base in every inning, at no time could they push one across. The VFW Giants capitalized on Yankee pitcher Jim Curl's wildness to score five runs in each of the first two innings. Dave Wilson and Ed Hosbach both doubled that cleared the loaded bases.

Walks in their other game allowed the VFW Giants to defeat the Spagy

Giants soundly. Ed Hosbach delivered the big blow when he singled home two in the third to make the score 5-2 and assure the VFW Giants of their fifth win. Playing without their regular pitcher, Dave Schronce made more than an adequate replacement.

It was a close one when the Casterline Indians defeated Del's Shoe Twins 12-11. The Twins loaded the bases in the last inning but couldn't push another run across as the Indians held on to the win. The hitters for the Indians were Kevin O'Brien and Rod Baird, both with two hits. Eddie Bagdon supplied the big blow of the Twins nine-run third—a triple.

It was Astros 9, Angels 8, when in a mild upset the Astros scored seven runs in the first inning on eight walks and two errors. They overcame a surge by the Angels — and then barely held on to the win.

The Angels came back with six runs of their own in the first via the same route. The Astros brought in Ed Paslowski to relieve and he gained control. Steve Krause carried the big bat for the Astros with two key hits. He batted in what eventually was the winning run.

Another close one was the 4-3 win for the Yankees over the Dodgers. The Yankees led 3-1 after four. Then the Dodgers scored two to tie on hits by Rick Norton, Bob Wright and Steve French. The Yankees came back in the last inning after two were out.

SAEE AT THE PLATE—Jim Wright slides in safely at the plate with A & W Rootbeer's ninth run of a one-sided contest in which the Cougars crushed the Panthers of Northville Drug, 10-0. The victory kept the Cougars within a single game of the first-place Rams.

Ron Schatzle Fires Shutout

In the Minor League, the Gardeners took an 11-5 win over the Wildcats July 8. T. Wilfong pitched for the winners, and Bill Riley for the Wildcats.

The Wildcats turned the tables on July 11 when they took the Pirates down to defeat with Ron Schatzle pitching his second shutout of the season.

Bill Justice belted the hit that brought in the two scoring runners, Jerry Bodar and Ron Schatzle. Scheffer was credited for the loss for the Pirates, although they played a good game with some excellent plays and one near-double-play.

Address

Despite the addition of a third lane on I-96, the expressway is rapidly becoming overtaxed—particularly the west-bound lanes during hot summer months when motorists head for Kensington Metropolitan Park, Camp Dearborn and the recreation areas near Walled Lake and Wixom. Although traffic was backed up from Wixom Road here to east of Novi Road Sunday afternoon, partially because of a fatality accident west of Wixom Road, Sunday's traffic bottleneck was not unusual. In fact, Novi police say it was lighter than on the previous Sunday. See Page 1 for the story on the I-96 accident that claimed two lives.

When we look upon the grandeur of nature—when we gaze with awe at a masterpiece of art—when we are thrilled with the sounds of great music—then we often wonder about the source of all this beauty.

Undoubtedly, our energy and ability is God. It is He who is the real source of beauty in our culture. Human spirits, touched with divine inspiration have given the world treasures untold.

Consider Da Vinci's The Last Supper. Consider Handel's Messiah. Consider the marvelous literature of the Holy Bible. Truly some of the very finest of man's creations have come as the result of an awareness of God.

Indeed today our culture continues to be enriched by the expression of man's faith in the Eternal. Our churches bring us faith in God which is still a vital source of inspiration and beauty. Let the church enrich your life. Attend this Sunday and every Sunday.

Allegheny Mountains, or along the beaches and woods of Indiana and Michigan; or in the Rocky Mountains, or any of the other innumerable places where boys and girls can establish a "home away from home."

Many churches have encouraged camping for boys and girls and young people. Parenthetically, often the entire family gets into the act through family weekend camps, family retreat centers, trailer-camps, etc. Churches have helped to build and maintain campsites which in turn have welcomed boys and girls, young people and families to spend a week or two, or maybe a weekend at the camp.

Perhaps one of the reasons that church camps are popular in the summer months is that camps are fun. The beauty of nature, the experience of new spiritual growth, the fun of an afternoon "splash" in the lake, the friendship of an adult-counselor are all major ingredients of camping weeks for boys and girls. These experiences and others have made boys and girls return home with a glowing report of their time at camp.

Oh, yes, every once in a while a youngster does not enjoy camp. Sometimes it may be the fault of the camp; often, however, it is due to a mysterious disease known as "homesickness." There is nothing more tragic than a severe case of homesickness. In fact, it seems to be incurable if allowed to continue. The disease suddenly disappears when Mom or Dad return to camp early to retrieve their homesick youngster.

But the potential tragedy of homesickness is perhaps camps' greatest opportunity. Camp allows a youngster to leave home for a week. It allows him to view more objectively his home situation and his role in the family. Many boys and girls have returned from camp better equipped to be a part of a family. Often they have resolved under God to be more considerate and helpful. Camp is a place to learn independence and responsibility.

There are many wonderful opportunities found in camping. Camping is a place to learn to like a new food. Camp is a place to meet new friends. Camp is a place to grow emotionally and spiritually. Certainly those opportunities are a part of Christian church camps.

E. F. PETERSON

Appointment of a business manager and an accountant to the Schoolcraft College business office is announced by Vice-President for Business Affairs W. Kenneth Lindner.

Named as Business Manager is E. Frederick Petersen Jr., who has served as Business Manager of Northwestern Connecticut Community College since 1965.

Named as Accountant is George J. Braun Jr., who comes to Schoolcraft from the University of Michigan where he was Assistant to the Controller, University Hospital, Ann Arbor.

Petersen moves into a position newly created in the college's 1968-69 budget, but which bears the same title as that carried by Lindner before he was promoted to vice-president a year ago.

Prior to joining the staff at the Connecticut college, Petersen, 37, was Assistant Business Manager at Hotchkiss School for one year, and was assistant superintendent in the Boston, Mass., division of Texaco, Inc., for five years.

Petersen received a B.S. degree in Business Administration from the University of Rhode Island in 1958, and a M.Ed. degree in Administration, from the University of Hartford in 1968. He is a member of the Association of School Business Officials, and is a director of the ASBO research workshop which will be held at Michigan Technological University on Aug. 12-13. He served as a member of the Budget Planning Commission of the Connecticut Commission of Higher Education.

Braun's appointment fills a vacancy created by the resignation earlier this year of William Dilworth as Accountant. A veteran of 22 years active service with the U.S. Navy, he holds the rank of Commander and served for three years as Special Assistant to the Comptroller of Navy Accounting and Finance.

Braun, 49, taught at the U.S. Naval Academy from 1944 to 1951, and was on the faculty at George Washington University from 1962-63. He received a B.A. degree from the University of Michigan in 1940 and an M.B.A. from George Washington University in 1955.

Prior to joining the University Hospital staff, Braun was Registrar and Admissions Officer at Virginia Polytechnic Institute, and completed a number of accounting office assignments for the Navy at Norfolk, Virginia and in London, England.

Three Changes Proposed

Voters to Decide Amendments To Constitution in Primary

Three proposed amendments to the State Constitution will appear on the August 6 primary ballot, the Michigan Secretary of State's office reminded voters this week.

At the same time, the State Elections Division told The Record there is little truth to rumors circulating throughout the state that the primary election may be postponed.

"There is no prospect for something like that," a spokesman said. "To delay the election," he said, "would only compound the problems."

The proposed amendments are:

1. Provide for the establishment of a Judicial Tenure Commission and to provide for its membership and duties.

The tenure commission would consist of judges, lawyers and laymen. The supreme court, upon recommendation of the commission, could censure, suspend, remove or retire a judge convicted of a felony or guilty of misconduct in office or having a physical or mental disability which prevents the performance of judicial duties.

2. Establish a state officers compensation commission. Such a commission, to be seven members, would be appointed by the Governor. The commission would determine salaries and expense allowances of the Governor, Lieutenant Governor, Justices of the Supreme Court and members of the Legislature.

Furthermore, it would permit the Legislature by a two-thirds vote of each house to reject the salaries and expense allowances determined by the commission.

3. Relating to the filling of judicial vacancies and extending existing Constitutional provisions to appointed judges.

Vacancies in the office of judge of Courts of Records or District Courts, under this provisions, would be filled by the Governor until January 1 following the next general election. It also would extend existing Constitutional provisions to appointed judges.

TROGLODYTES

Cavern Installs An IQ Computer

By DARYL HOLLOMAN

For the past couple of weeks the printed annals of Troglodytes have contained a type of feature focusing on one subject which varies with each new feature. With this in mind, I'll bring you up to date as to the new developments at The Cavern before giving you a rundown on The Unrelated Segments and The Carousel featured entertainment at The Cavern this Friday night.

To begin with in regard to last Friday night's Battle of the Bands, The Wha? received the most votes with The Dickinson Blues Band falling short with a second place ranking.

For emerging as the victor, The Wha? has gained in addition to its cash prize, a return engagement at The Cavern scheduled for a future date in August.

The second Cavern news item concerns The Cavern clubroom. An IQ Computer and a shooting gallery were recently installed, along with new selections for the juke box.

In regard to the third and final item, it's of great importance to those teens who are Cavern members, and those who wish to become members. It's also to my understanding that pin ball machines are on their way, and installation can be expected in the near future.

The IQ Computer grades your intelligence by the score of the answers to questions provided by the machine.

As for the shooting gallery, the object of this game is to score as high as you can when hitting the various targets.

Current memberships expire August 31, so you have just 37 days to acquire a new membership which will go into effect at the termination of the 37 days.

Memberships may be purchased at the dances or at the Cavern coffee house at a cost of $2, entitling a member to enter a Cavern dance $5.00 cheaper than a non-member. However, you should be prepared to help out occasionally at Cavern functions whenever possible to insure that it runs smoothly and successfully.

Now that you've been brought up to date somewhat as to what's been happening at The Cavern, I'll give you a rundown on both The Carousel and Michigan's number two band—The Unrelated Segments.

The Carousel last performed at The Cavern in May when The Amboy Dukes headed the bill as the feature attraction.

The Carousel, a four piece rock band, although hampered by an absent member when The Dukes were in town, were well received by Cavern patrons who are responsible for bringing them back by popular demand.

The Unrelated Segments is a group which once played straight in suits and ties, but changed its style and appearance by going mod. Now their clothes match the mood of their music.

They are most well known for their first song titled "Story of My Life," which climbed to number eight in the Detroit polls and saw some action in the West Coast.

The group writes its own songs and plays underground songs by other groups—songs done by pop groups which aren't very well known.

The sound of The Segments is a combination of blues, rock, and jazz—which at times even appears to be a bit flowery.

Having been together approximately 17 months, the five man group has two major accomplishments to their credit:

1. Last November they were chosen to play in Southfield High School's concert with The Who.
2. Their most outstanding credit being, having "number two" Top Detroit Group for 1967 in the Music in Michigan WKNR Pop Poll, having lost out to The Rationals by only two votes.

With these two points in mind, plus the fact that The Carousel is performing through popular demand, it'll certainly be worth your while to make an evening of it at The Cavern this Friday night from 8-11:30.

Admission for The Cavern Bash is $1 members, $1.50 non-members—and

Out of the Past

FIVE YEARS AGO...

Some 1,882 delegates to the 45 annual state convention of the American Legion Sunday elected C. Oscar Hammond of Northville as their commander for 1963-64. This marked the first time a local man had held the legion's highest state post.

Northville Downs prepared to conclude its 20th anniversary harness racing season with a three-night celebration. All area residents were guests of the management with free admission Monday, Tuesday, and Wednesday evenings.

Herman Moehlman, Roger McClain and Dr. H. L. Dyer were the new presidents of the Northville Exchange, Optimist and Rotary clubs, respectively. All three were elected to take over office in July.

In spite of a little rain over 100 Northville youngsters gathered at Ford Field Friday morning to show off their turtles and watch their favorites in the annual recreation department turtle races.

Wednesday evening over 200 foreign exchange students gathered in Northville with their foster parents for a picnic dinner held on the grounds of the Wayne County Training school. The farewell dinner was sponsored by the Northville Rotary Club.

TEN YEARS AGO...

Gerald Avenue area residents sought relief from the nuisance of the city's dumping area in a petition read Monday night at the Northville City Council meeting.

A controversial 220 acres adjoining Eight Mile were adjudged part of Northville by Oakland County Circuit Judge Clark J. Adams. The suit, brought by Warren products challenged the result of the November 19 elections when the residents of the area voted for annexation to Northville, was thus brought to an apparent end.

SPEAKING for The Record

By BILL SLIGER

Last month this column urged Northville school district voters to support the board of education's request for an additional two-mill levy for operating funds.

The proposal lost by 14 votes in a disappointing 20-per-cent turnout at the polls.

Monday voters will be asked again to pay $2 more per thousand dollars of assessed valuation per year for operation of our schools.

The decision of the board to return to the voters with the same request despite the rejection has been the source of some criticism.

Sober appraisal should not make it so, however.

Few ideas, inventions or leaders have found "instant success" in their respective efforts at public acceptance. Witness the airplane, automobile, labor unions, social security, Abraham Lincoln.

If Democracy means that a single rejection constitutes a final and forever decision, our nation's history would be quite different, indeed.

Yet voter rejection, however slim, cannot go unheeded. It serves as a barometer of public opinion that must eventually prevail if it proves to be dominant.

Northville's board of education has received the warning: property owners are feeling the pinch of steadily increasing taxes.

Any number of studies that might prove the rate of income exceeds the rate of tax increase, or that the costs of operating schools at the desired level are skyrocketing, make little impression.

Without question, a "new idea", a supporting means of financing education or a better way of distributing funds to schools throughout the state and nation must be devised. It too, however, will find public acceptance slow.

Meanwhile, the responsibility to call the shots as they are best equipped to do so in their position as elected officials rests on the shoulders of the members of the board of education.

Unanimously believing that two mills are needed to provide funds for a quality education and to properly pay administrators, teachers and other personnel, the board members are thus duty bound to return to the voters for approval of the request.

To quit without a second effort would be contrary to the American tradition and, in my opinion, a violation of the duty of their office.

The alternatives, should the second vote fail, have been made quite clear. The decision now rests with the voters.

It is hoped that a majority will record their opinion.

Again, I urge a "YES" vote.

Sees Future for Dying Fish Hatchery

To the Editor:

This afternoon I roamed through the old fish hatchery building, climbed the stairs still sturdy and sound, touched the curved hand rail that held the slender tooled spindles and went from room to room. There are kitchens, bathrooms, lots of cupboards. The windows, some shaped like an arch must have been beautifully draped with lace curtains through which lots of sunlight comes through. The folks who lived there and worked there are gone, everything is gone; the big tanks in the basement where all kinds of beautiful specimens of fish were hatched are empty and I thought, how glad I am I saw it as it was.

Then with shock and disgust I wondered how could it become as it is today. Nearly every window pane broken, bathroom fixtures lay in hundreds of pieces; it must have taken a sledge hammer to do this damage. The sturdy railings and beautifully designed spindles were knocked out of place, smashed and many of them thrown out in the yard. The silence is broken by water rushing out of broken pipes in the basement and flowing down a drain.

It's a mess, it's a disgrace, but as I stood there surrounded by good sized rooms full of destruction, felt the strength of this building, it seemed to me here is what Northville has dreamed of — rooms where meetings could be held, luncheons can be prepared, living quarters for capable caretakers, a basement so large there can be pool and tennis tables, grounds in back for picnic area, and a building next door for senior citizens. As I stood on the ground floor of this second building I saw big sturdy beams with outstretched arm braces that support the upper floor — what a place for a kitchen where senior citizens can have pot luck suppers or walk out to a picnic area under a beautiful big tree. What a project for Senior Citizens to turn this building into a comfortable meeting place.

Northville is alive again with young couples, raising families, people full of energy and talent that could turn the old fish hatchery into, once again, a show place. There are strong young arms and backs and imagination among our youth that could have a part in making this sad, dejected, "lonesome" building live again.

Sure it will take money, time, (Rome wasn't built in a day) effort, organization and all that goes into a big project, but I believe these buildings are too valuable to be destroyed. What do you think?

Voters Will Decide On Best Judge

To the Editor:

I am sure that you wish to report accurately the news, thus I wish to call to your attention, the recent story wherein you reported that a permanent injunction was granted by Circuit Court Judge Robert L. Templin of Oakland County, which prevents the present Municipal Judges in this new District Court District from having their current title on the ballot. Judge Templin's decision applied only to ELECTED Municipal Judges, and does not apply to APPOINTED judges.

The law passed by the legislature clearly provided that only ELECTED incumbent Municipal Judges were entitled to the designation, thus the present Northville and Plymouth Municipal Judges should not have requested the designation on the ballot. The Wayne County Clerk on July 8th, upon discovering that they were both appointed removed the designation from the ballot.

As to your Editorial wherein you urge the election of my opponent, I hope that my 12 years experience as a Judge, during which time I handled in excess of fifty thousand criminal and civil cases, was what you had in mind in your first sentence, "There's a capable field of candidates running for the newly-created district judgeship that will serve the Northville, Plymouth, Canton communities."

I am a firm believer in the principles of democracy which include the Freedom of the Press, and of course the right of the Editor to support whom he pleases, however I am also a firm believer that today's voters will study the qualifications of all of the candidates and make up their own minds.

Very truly yours,

It's No Time to Slumber

JOHN WORTMAN

Top of the Deck

by JACK W. HOFFMAN

"Their run of luck is drying up," quipped my traitorous friend, Frank Kochalko. "Miracles can't go on forever."

For a man seated four stories up above the diamond he was amazingly brazen. Even when two burly giants looked in his direction and spit tobacco juice over the writer's ledge and into the crowd below he continued blabbing profane remarks.

"A loss today, two more tomorrow and bye bye Tigers!"

The Orioles pushed across a run. Even though I've become accustomed to his blasphemous comments, he finally was succeeding in getting under my skin. No wonder your son refuses to speak to you, I thought.

"It's either Cleveland or Baltimore," he continued, "probably Baltimore because Cleveland's weak at the bat."

The Orioles scored again. "Are you admitting," I asked, "that Cleveland's a poor team? You, a war-hawking Indian?"

"Not at all. The Indians are a sounder team than Detroit, but maybe a little weaker than Baltimore, that's all. Don't twist my words."

"Frank," I said, "we've been friends for quite awhile. But you're straining things."

The Orioles' pitcher slammed a two-run homer—his first of the season.

"You can't worry me," I continued, pushing the fingernail chips into a little pile. "It's different this year. The Tigers can be several runs behind and I don't worry anymore because I know and everyone else knows they can and probably will win before the game's over."

My friend has two strikes against him even before opening his mouth. He's a band director and everyone knows a band director can't see beyond his sheet music. And he's a fisherman. They measure success with an elastic imagination.

Another Oriole drilled a homer into the upper

"They've been winning when they should have been losing," he said. "If I was their coach I just wouldn't accept some of those wins. Take Friday's game. They're losing in the ninth and a Junior Leaguer clouts a homer. It's luck, I tell you, just luck."

Our burly neighbors were mumbling now, and it was easy to tell they were mentally considering pitching Frank at the plate umpire. I was considering it, too.

The Tigers scored one. "You didn't hear Campbell say the Tigers were gonna win the Pennant, did you?" he asked, referring to a pregame statement by the general manager over at the Press Club. "He didn't dare. He's choked with worry. Everyone's afraid of a jinx. Even McClain is sweating; spitting over his shoulder instead of at the ball."

Just talk, I thought, everyone genuflects at a ballgame.

Detroit pushed across two more runs.

"Jinx, my foot, McClain just doesn't care if he wins or loses today. So Baltimore's the only team he hasn't beaten this season. So what. The reliever will pull it out anyway."

Mayo Smith drew an X in the dirt with a discarded bat.

Two men on, bottom of the ninth.

"Like I said, Detroit's a different team this year. They always come back strong."

The two burly gents weren't listening anymore. They were too busy threshing tobacco leaves.

Two outs and the Junior Leaguer stepped to the plate.

"Do you always eat peanuts without shucking them?" Frank chided.

The Junior Leaguer fled out.

"Like I told you, the Tigers' luck has run out. Two more tomorrow and bye bye Tigers."

Who's worried? Not me XXX.

State's Income Increase Third in Nation

LANSING — Personal income in all states increased considerably over a year ago, but Michigan was third from the top in percentage increase. Alaska and Hawaii both enjoyed a rise of 12.8 percent, while Michigan scored a 12.1 percent gain. The national average was 7.9 percent. Statistics were compiled through April of 1968.

Some of the increase was due to higher Social Security payments and the higher minimum wage, but business also moved along at a steady clip on all fronts. Hard goods industries in Michigan produced at full tilt while auto production went into overtime. Construction also blossomed out.

The new income tax surcharge, strikes and an expected drop in employment is expected to soften the gains in economic activity for the next quarter.

DISTRICT COURTS in Michigan will replace present Justice Courts and Circuit Court Commissioners January 1, 1969. The 1963 Constitution granted the Legislature five years to design a judicial system. The lawmakers took the full five years to fulfill the mandate.

Senator Robert Richardson (R-Saginaw), chairman of the Senate Judiciary Committee, notes that the District Court will be the court with which most people have contact. Highlights of the new system, according to Senator Richardson, include:

One hundred and eighty two attorney-judges in 99 districts apportioned on population and caseload experience, with annual state salary of $18,000 (local supplement to $27,500) and uniform state court rules. Candidates must file non-partisan petitions or $100 filing fee with the Secretary of State by 4 p.m. on July 2.

Independent financing of county and city-metropolitan districts to insure local control of operation and capital outlay.

Local option for 57 cities in 3rd Class (metropolitan) districts to exempt that district from the system if the city or cities comprise 50 percent or more of the district's population, retaining all municipal courts within such a district, eliminating a possible total of 80 district judges.

A magistrate system in all counties electing less than two judges by itself to assist the judge in arraignments, bonding and sentencing of most traffic, fish, game, and conservation violations in order to promote efficiency and accommodation, especially in sparsely populated areas. Magistrates would be provided in other counties if recommended by the judges and approved by the Board of Supervisors. Compensation set by Board not below $5,000 annual salary or per diem of $20 per day, $10 per half-day.

Criminal jurisdiction of all misdemeanors, including those now handled by Circuit Courts, such as negligent homicide, and exclusive civil jurisdiction up to $3,000, twice the amount now allowed in Municipal Courts, relieving some Circuit Court backlog. Appeals to Circuit Court will be on record, eliminating a new trial in Circuit Court as now required.

A Small Claims Division for civil actions up to $300. If both parties wish to use this service, they must waive rules of evidence, jury, attorneys, and appeals and abide by the decision of the Court. This has worked well in several other states.

Judges will be elected this November to begin serving January 1, the exact date of abolition of the present Justice system. Senator Richardson expressed concern over the new system, noting that a few unfair or "dishonest Justices helped cast a bad image over all Justice Courts.

"The Legislature will undoubtedly watch operations (of the District Court) very closely in 1969 to see where improvements can be made. I believe we have the structure for a good beginning," he concluded.

ASSISTANCE in solving many problems faced by Michigan's older citizens is available, often only a short distance away. The knack is knowing who to contact and where, reminds the Michigan Commission on Aging.

A new "Directory of Services" is offered free of charge by the commission with data compiled on a county basis. General information outlines programs and assistance available to older people, how to apply for such benefits as the Homestead Tax Exemption, and opportunities in employment, recreation and education.

County facilities are listed alphabetically for major areas of concern and make it convenient to find what services are available locally. The directory may be obtained by writing the Michigan Commission on Aging, 1101 S. Washington Avenue, Lansing 48913.

Tax Aimed at Travelers Again

WELLESLEY HILLS, Massachusetts—Undaunted by the thumbs-down attitude of Congress earlier this year, the Johnson Administration is pushing once again for a tax on Americans traveling abroad.

Responding to public sentiment and to the dictates of common sense, Congress wisely decided that the original proposal to levy a 30 percent tax on all tourist expenditures exceeding $7 a day should be shelved. We predict that the solons will just as firmly reject this latest—tho milder—proposal to levy a tax on tourist expenditures of more than $15 a day.

Actually, a tax on travel—no matter how stiff—would provide no real curb to the dollar drain. While it is true that the dollars spent abroad by American tourists do add a not insignificant sum to our imbalance of international payments, it is naive to believe that a travel tax would be an effective—or even a proper—remedy. The spirit and the letter of any such tax law could be easily circumvented, with the possible net result being a greater, rather than a smaller, tourist-dollar flow abroad.

In this period of mounting U.S. and world monetary problems, we need to place greater emphasis on free trade and free access to all the markets of the world. Anything that hinders the maintenance and/or expansion of our trade with other countries ought to be looked upon with disfavor by Americans generally and by Congress in particular. Travel is one of the prerequisites of expanding trade. They go together like love and marriage. Hence our government should be encouraging—not discouraging—travel abroad.

Of course, it would be desirable to put the travel segment of our balance of payments into better equilibrium. But there is a way to do this without penalizing Americans traveling abroad. What we need to do is step up our official and other efforts to persuade greater numbers of foreign tourists to visit the United States.

WE ARE FACED with a great challenge...certainly one of the greatest we have encountered in all our history. Our way of life and our economy are squarely on the line. We must make them work. For the immediate future, this means putting our balance of payments and our federal budget in order, and doing so without placing unnecessary curbs on the freedom of Americans or of American enterprise. Big and unbridled government spending have had a whale of a lot more to do with our present plight than has the spending by American tourists abroad.

In this century of unprecedented industrial development, great social change, and enormous economic progress, we need to remember that half the peoples of the world are still underprivileged. If we are to succeed in holding our place in the world—and of bettering it—we must tailor our aspirations to our abilities and our means. If we are to surmount the problems which beset us on every side, we must give clear direction to a well-rounded, closely inter-related social and economic policy, foreign and domestic.

THE TRAVEL tax is ill-conceived. It catches at straws and tries to make scapegoats out of American tourists, while Uncle Sam continues to spend so fast and furiously that the budget is some $25 billion out of whack. Who's to blame? We are all to blame, for the excesses of government are the result of our own indifference and inertia.

The spirit of "Let George do it" is rife in the land. In droves we stay away from town meetings, school committee sessions, state legislative hearings. One result of this has been the tendency of state and big-city governments to side-step their responsibilities...to pass the buck to an Uncle Sam only too eager to govern locally as well as nationally, to centralize, and to control. Would that we realized how high a price we are already paying for such paternalism...in dollars and in diminished freedom.

Marvin Esch

From Congressman Marvin Esch: "The new vocational-technical education program may well prove to be the most important single piece of legislation enacted by the 90th Congress. As one who, since assuming public office, has constantly emphasized the need for broad new approaches in this field, I felt a tremendous amount of satisfaction when H.R. 18366 passed the House unanimously. This satisfaction had a personal tone because I am a cosponsor of the measure and made contributions to it in my committee."

"The bill is designed to move vocational-technical education from the relative obscurity it suffers today into the forefront of our total educational structure. I can conceive of no more important objective for education—and for our country—than this: that every citizen be prepared for a decent job at a decent wage in the economy of today and that no longer will the non-college-bound student be a second-class citizen."

"If we are to achieve these goals or even approximate their achievement, we must thoroughly modernize vocational-technical education. Moreover, we must give it a central place in our total manpower policy and in our educational structure. Unfortunately, we are far, far from that goal today..."

Vernon Foster

Vernon Foster, Democratic candidate for county supervisor of the new 26th district (includes Northville), believes his "thorough knowledge of this district" and his acquaintance with local governmental bodies will be a big asset if he is elected.

A resident of Livonia, the 42-year-old Wayne State University graduate told The Record:

"The supervisor elected in 1968 will have the rare opportunity of forming a modern, efficient, flexible governmental unit. I believe that I can constructively contribute to this objective."

Donald Friedrichs

County government needs a new, hard, unbiased look by informed citizens previously unfamiliar with its operations, says Donald E. Friedrichs of Livonia, a Democratic candidate for supervisor of the district that includes Northville.

He supports the reorganization of the county board from approximately 120 members to the 26 as a "step in the direction of efficiency and responsible government."

Recognizing the danger, however, that this small number of county supervisors may widen the gap between the average citizen and his government, he said he pledges himself to widespread citizen participation in the modernization of county government."

Recognizing the danger, however, that this small number of county supervisors may widen the gap between the average citizen and his government, he said he pledges himself to widespread citizen participation in the modernization of county government."

"The mystery must be taken out of big government so that citizens may know which public service is needed when and why... The man on the street wants to invest in such services as an improved county drainage system but finds it difficult to understand why adequate provision has not already been made through the cooperative efforts of township and municipal leaders."

As a former classroom teacher, Friedrichs said he is deeply concerned over growing threats to public health and the severe limitations currently placed on county health services. Rapid growth, he contends, of the out-county area has not been matched by a comparable growth in juvenile or probate services.

"Residents of the city of Detroit," he said, "must recognize the critical problems of the sprawling suburbs just as the residents of northwestern Wayne county must cooperate with the task of humanizing the inner city."

Ron Mardiros

Ron Mardiros, Democratic candidate for congress, calls for the repeal of the 10 percent surtax increase in the federal income tax and for congress to end the continuation to the following "abuses" of auto insurance companies.

1. Increase rates without justification.
2. Cancel policies without cause.
3. Refuse to write policies in low-income areas.
4. Obtain licenses when they are financially unsound.
5. Write insurance for some groups but not others.

To keep their profits soaring, many companies have adopted a practice of cancelling, or refusing to renew policy holders insurance after one accident, and tack on "risk penalties" for teenagers and older citizens, he said.

"We cannot continue a situation in which every attempt on the part of people seeking better housing, better education, better economic conditions — in short, a better way of life, is choked off, as it has for the last four years by inflation, high interest rates, a tight money market, and now-higher income taxes."

Eugene McCarthy

Senator Eugene J. McCarthy will visit Detroit next Saturday (July 27) as a part of his continuing effort to bring his candidacy to the people. Michigan McCarthy headquarters in Detroit announced that Senator McCarthy will arrive in Detroit Saturday afternoon for a series of personal appearances and meetings with Michigan delegates to the Democratic National Convention.

Climaxing the day's visit will be an address by the Senator at a rally in Detroit which will, in the words of Michigan McCarthy state chairman Professor Otto Feinstein, "...be the largest gathering of public support for any presidential contender in Michigan's history."

This will be Senator McCarthy's third campaign appearance in Michigan.

Carl Pursell

"A trip through medieval days," was the way Carl Pursell described the Wayne County Jail following a recent inspection tour.

Pursell, a Republican candidate for the Wayne County Board of Supervisors in the primary election August 6, said he had made the tour in an effort to more fully learn the workings and problems of county government.

"The jail is in terrible shape," Pursell added. "The facilities are filthy. The plumbing is poor. Only limited medical aid is available, and the TV monitoring systems are not working."

"If just an afternoon spent at the jail uncovered these problems, one can only wonder just what else has gone wrong," Pursell stated.

Noting that he had talked to an officer who was looking for another job, Pursell said that according to this officer, "the officials and supervisors are a bunch of politicians and do a great deal of talking." The officer stated to Pursell that these conditions go on and on.

Pursell indicated that, "If elected, I will make a personal commitment to recommend much needed reforms in one level of county government which is outdated and antiquated. 'In fact,' Pursell continued, 'consider an executive administrator to head all county departments and report directly to the Board of Supervisors.' Keep the Supervisors salary down to minimum scale and pay the administrator well..." Pursell said, "this would stop most of the buck passing." Pursell, the candidate who has spent more time with 5 of the 6 governmental bodies in this district than all the other candidates combined stated that "Leadership and dedication coupled with experience is necessary in solving the complex urban problems of the present and the future."

Louis Schmidt

Representative Louis Schmidt was one of the speakers at the luncheon meeting July 17 of the International Council of Shopping Centers. His remarks were in reference to traffic and parking regulations at shopping centers.

Representative Schmidt introduced a bill in 1967 which would have made it possible for cities, villages, or townships to enact ordinances at the request of the owner or manager of the shopping center, establishing regulations relative to signs, turning of vehicles, crossing of roadways, one way lanes, safety and loading zones, and removal and storage of abandoned vehicles.

The original bill had House of Representative support but did not receive support of the Municipalities Committee of the Senate. Major area shopping centers including Livonia Mall and Wonderland have supported the intent of the proposed legislation.

The chairman of the meeting was Jack Sherkman, International Council of Shopping Centers State Director (Michigan). Sherkman is from the management of Livonia Mall.

Henry Sladek

Henry R. Sladek, candidate for county supervisor, speaking before a group in the home of W. B. Heffner in Northville Township, told those present:

"Community confidence in county government has reached a low ebb as a result of recent events... Abismal conditions at the county jail have been widely publicized... Floods due to faulty and inadequate county drainage systems continue as a threat to the safety and health of many citizens... Controversies over the operation of airport facilities still linger on and on... County road maintenance and construction is a sore subject in many areas. Effort must be directed by the new county board as early as possible towards resolving these problem areas, using present income to develop and implement plans."

"However, I believe the first order of business for the new county board is the matter of organizing itself as a unit of government capable of serving our county effectively and this goal should be accomplished very quickly. Then the board will be in a better position to give prompt and organized attention to its important function without extensive delays and confusion."

During the early stages of organizing itself, said Sladek, the board would do well to press for identification and establishment of priority areas. "Taking these key organizational steps are crucial to the total future usefulness of the board and restoral of public confidence."

Marshall Taylor

Marshall E. Taylor of 45350 Pontiac Trail, Walled Lake, is pushing his candidacy for district supervisor (Republican) for the Novi-Wixom-Walled Lake area by emphasizing his close acquaintance with the area and his long-time service as councilman in Walled Lake.

Former mayor of Walled Lake and still a councilman, he says his policy, if elected, will be: "Never too busy to say hello. Ready at all times to listen to your problem; if worthy, will work to see that it is solved. Progressive attitude. Listen with open mind."

Wes Vivian

Wes Vivian, Democratic candidate for Congress from the Second District, will spend today, July 25, in Plymouth and Northville, visiting with people in the shopping areas and meeting with local Committee workers. Anyone with questions or suggestions for Vivian is asked to look for his appearance in the business areas or to call 453-3761. The primary election takes place August 6th.
