Growing Obstacles May Mar September 3 School Opener

Although a mountain of problems appear to be piling up in front of the entrances, Northville public school doors are expected to swing open on time Tuesday, September 3.

Exuding a confidence that seemingly ignores the ordinary school opening problems as well as the bigger ones facing the school system this year, Superintendent Raymond Spear anticipates no delay in the start of classes.

In announcing the school schedule, he emphasizes two points:

—Teachers and the board of education have "not given up hope" that contract negotiations will be settled prior to the September 3 opening.

—Recent extra-curricular cutbacks voted by the board in the face of two millage defeats will not change the academic program provided here at the close of school in June.

While the current positions of the board and the teachers are still "apart", neither side is willing to concede that an insurmountable stalemate has been reached.

As for the cutbacks voted by the board last week, Spear points out that they will not affect the school system's academic program. Furthermore, the cutbacks do not mean, for example, complete elimination of band or debate. Teaching of debate and band as part of the school's regular course of instruction will continue.

The cutbacks, he adds, mean elimination of all activities that normally occur after school hours.

Nevertheless, the superintendent admits that problems do exist:

Elimination of these activities are likely to have a demoralizing affect upon both the student and teaching bodies, and since colleges recognize such activities as essential part of a school's curriculum Northville's standing in the eyes of these institutions is likely to suffer.

"But," says Spear, "I'm still confident the people will approve the millage on September 14. We have an excellent school system and I'm sure we have enough people in our community who want to preserve our educational standard."

All teaching positions have been filled, giving Northville a total of 137 teachers — two less than last year. Of these, 36 are new. Originally, the superintendent planned to fill 143 positions, but because of the millage failures, six of these positions were scratched from the program.

Officials expect an enrollment of 2,735 with the opening of school — a decrease from the June enrollment of 2,755 but an increase over last year's September enrollment of 2,690.

The strike in the construction industry this year slowed up the completion of residential development within the school district, thus accounting for a smaller starting enrollment than originally anticipated, the superintendent explains.

This slow-up, though limiting the initial enrollment, is likely to cause some real headaches later in the year. "It means," he explains, "that students we expected to be in in our school system on "D" Day (the fourth Friday in September when a student count is made by law to determine the district's per pupil state school aid) will not be here and we will not receive state aid for them when they arrive after that date."

Roughly, the enrollment will include 1,205 students at the elementary level, 640 in junior high school, and 890 in high school. About 200 are expected this September in kindergarten classes.

The only new facility to greet students this September will be the swimming pool at the high school. It has now been filled with water, and on Monday received its final inspection. Swimming instruction will be conducted during school hours as part of the school system's physical education program, but it will not be open for extra-curricular swimming.

Barring unforeseen developments, paving of Taft Road is expected to be completed by the opening of school. However, during teacher orientation

Tuesday through Friday (August 27-30), staff members at Ida B. Cooke Junior High School will use the athletic field entrance.

Final teacher orientation is slated next week Friday. Following Labor

Day on Monday, September 2, classes will begin Tuesday, September 3 — 8 a.m. to 2:40 p.m. in the junior and senior high schools and from 8:45 to 11:30 a.m. and from 12:40 to 3:30 p.m. at the elementary level.

He Couldn't Swim

Detroit Boy Drowns in Pit

Apparently spurred on out of pride even though he could not swim, a 15-year-old Detroit boy drowned in a deep Northville gravel pit Friday evening.

The victim is Mark Eugene Smith, son of Mr. and Mrs. Merwin Smith of 18420 Glastenbury.

Northville police and firemen, state police and the sheriff department's water patrol searched the water, located on the south side of Griswold near Eight Mile road, throughout the night and into the late morning before finding the body at 11:05 a.m. Saturday.

According to authorities, the boy attempted to follow two young companions swimming for a small gravel island located some 80 feet from shore in water that ranged up to 40 feet deep. The survivors told police the victim was about 15 to 20 feet from shore, behind them, when he screamed for help and went under about 7 p.m.

An aunt, Mildred Ellison of Northville, who arrived at the scene shortly after midnight to take up an all-night vigil, identified the body after two state police skindivers brought it to the shore. It was found in about 20 feet of water, 60 feet from shore near the island.

The woman told police the boy was unable to swim, that he had declined to take swimming lessons last year because he apparently was embarrassed because he was so much larger than other youngsters taking lessons.

State police and Wayne County Sheriff's department skindivers worked in shifts. Dragging operations continued throughout the night and skindiving resumed in the morning.

Troopers William Ogden and William Chatfield, both skindivers, were being towed beneath the water by a sheriff's department boat when they recovered the body.

The boy's companions were identified as Mike Magy, Mark Anderson, John V. Geoffey, Jr., and Michael Widde, all of Detroit.

Rescue operations were hampered by violent thunderstorms that hit the area Wednesday night. Cold water, shifting currents, and weeds also created problems for skindivers and rescuers using grappling hooks.

City, Township Join Area Disposal Plan

Both the Northville city council and township board approved adoption of a resolution calling for formulation of a six-community authority to develop a sanitary landfill site by 1970. The six governmental units include the cities and townships of Northville and Plymouth and the townships of Canton and Salem.

The multi-community study of disposal needs began two years ago. It will continue to seek alternate methods of handling refuse while working towards formation of the authority.

Adoption of the resolution to proceed with the project does not commit any of the individual governments to membership in the proposed authority. First an authority charter must be drawn and approved by each of the participating official bodies.

Mobile Home Appeal Denied

An attempt to appeal the Wayne county circuit court decision in the Northville township mobile home park suit has been denied.

Northville Township Attorney John Ashton informed the board Tuesday night that an application to take the case to the court of appeals had been refused.

The denial could be pursued to the state supreme court if application is filed within 20 days.

Specifically, the case involved a request by Charles Lapham and associates for a permit to construct 275 mobile home sites on a 50-acre parcel on the northwest corner of Six Mile and Beck roads. The township refused to issue a building permit.

Last February Wayne County Circuit Judge George T. Martin ruled in favor of the township saying that the residential zoning now designated for the area is reasonable.

City Dump Raises Stink

A strongly-worded letter from the Wayne County Department of Health warned the city of Northville to improve its operation of the Gerald avenue sanitary landfill, or face loss of its state license.

City Manager Frank Ollendorff assured the council Monday night that definite steps have already been taken and that county health officials have been invited back to the municipal dump to observe the improvements.

A permit to operate a sanitary landfill, issued by the state, is slated to expire August 30.

The county letter stated "it would be a definite understatement to say that the refuse dump is not in conformity with state law".

It cited scattered piles of refuse, garbage (which is not permitted), small fires. "Areas not actively burning showed evidence of having been burned in the days prior to our visit. There was absolutely no evidence of regular spreading and compaction of this refuse. There was no evidence of any effort to cover the refuse on a regular basis with earth."

Unification Meeting Set

A public information meeting on the results of the recent unification feasibility study conducted jointly by the city and township of Northville will be held Monday at 8 p.m. at the city council chambers.

Members of the steering committee, the professional consultant employed to assist in the study and citizens working on the project will explain their findings to the city council and any other interested citizens.

Tuesday night the township board set Tuesday, September 10 as its night to hold a similar public information meeting. Site of the hearing is still indefinite, although the high school auditorium was proposed.

Kidnapped Girl Escapes Tuesday

A 16-year-old English girl, reportedly kidnapped on Eight Mile Road here Friday night, walked apparently unharmed into a Detroit police precinct Tuesday night.

Catherine Marie Reid of Liverpool, England told Detroit police that she had escaped from one of two houses in Detroit where two Negro men had kept her captive for four days. She said she managed to escape when one of the men left for work and the other fell asleep.

Search for the houses and the two men was launched immediately.

According to Novi police, who had been assisting State Police detectives in an attempt to locate the girl, she reportedly was seized while walking on Eight Mile Road near the 20889 Cambridge Drive home of Dr. Donald J. Lane where she and a 13-year-old cousin, Margaret P. Barton, also of Liverpool, had been staying with relatives.

The two girls had left England on July 19. An uncle, John McIntyre, had driven the girls to a bus stop and they took a bus to Detroit Thursday where they were to attend a rally of the Student Organization Against Racism (SOAR). When they did not call or return McIntyre notified police.

Margaret told police this story on Friday:

Following the rally, the two girls went to an all-night dance and drinking party in Detroit with chance acquaintances. Later, they attempted to call McIntyre but had lost his telephone number. Walking on Grand River looking for a taxi, they were offered a ride by two 20-year-old Negro men. They accepted.

The men stopped two times enroute, once to ask directions and once to pick up two other youths and a girl, all Negroes.

Not wishing to be let out of the car in front of their home, the girls left the car near Guernsey Dairy on Novi Road, and circled through Village Green subdivision, and then headed east on Eight Mile Road. Near the Harold Mogridge home, 41750 Eight Mile Road, the car approached them again. The driver, after asking where they were going, told them to get back into the car.

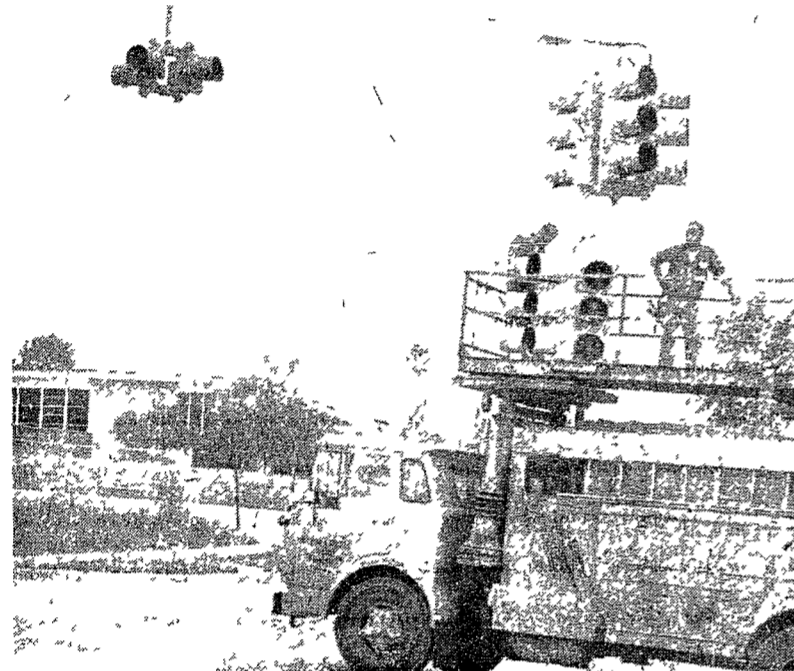

Margaret ran to the Mogridge home to report that her cousin had been forced into the car. It was described as a late model Buick or Pontiac, and was last seen driving east on Eight Mile Road.

Ballots Ready

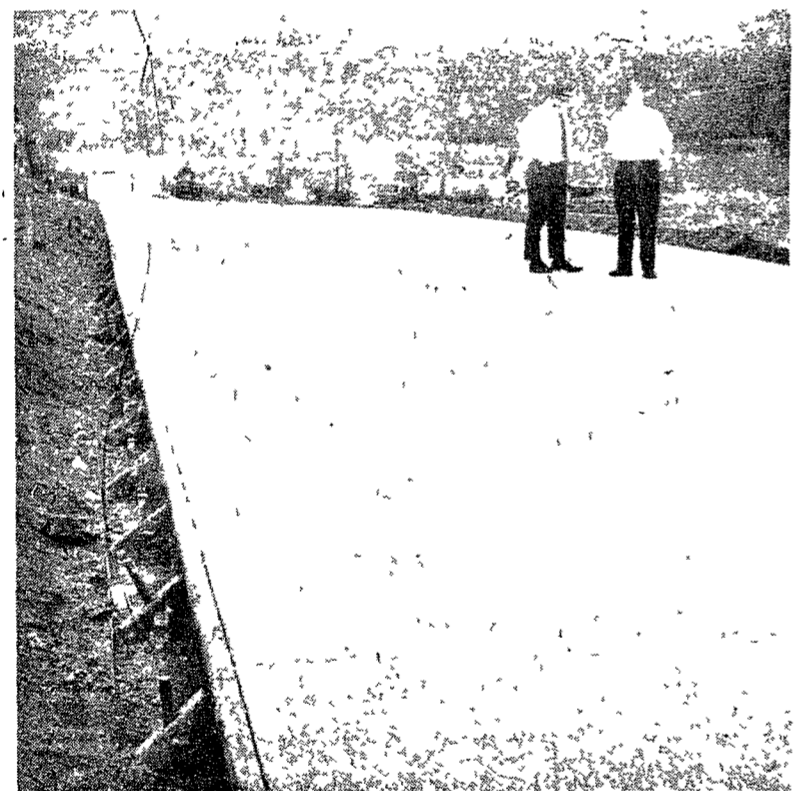

Absentee ballots for the Saturday, September 14 school millage election are now available at the Northville board of education offices. They may be obtained as late as 5 p.m., Friday, September 13.

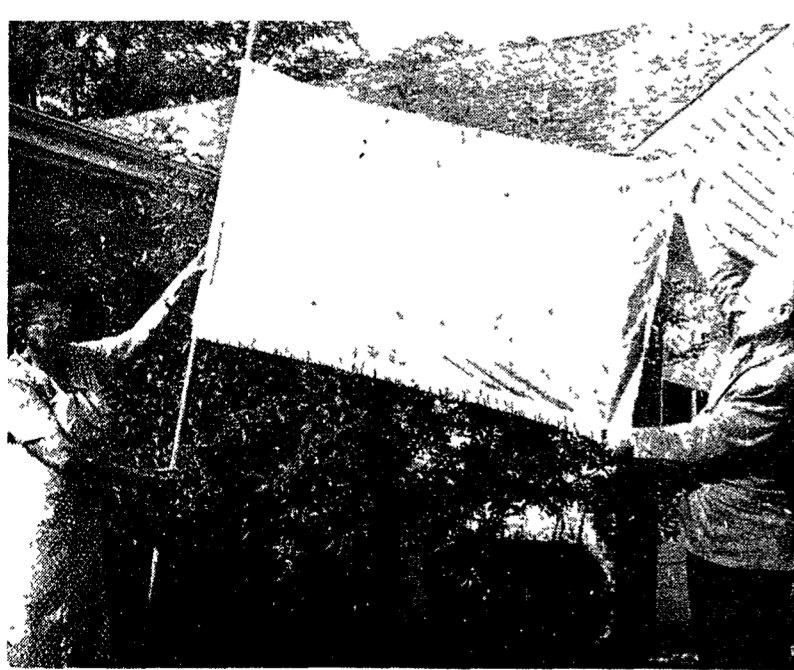

BODY FOUND — Local, state and county police personnel together with Northville firemen dragged and searched a gravel pit here for 15 hours before the body (foreground) of a 15-year-old drowning victim was found in 20 feet of water. A State Police trooper secures the county rescue boat while waiting for the coroner. (Story on this page.)

SURPRISE — More than four years ago the city council, school board and concerned citizens urged both Wayne and Oakland county road commissions to consider installation of a stoplight traffic signal at North Center street and Eight Mile road. The long-promised lights were installed Tuesday.

PAVING PROGRESS—Pouring of concrete on Taft road from Eight Mile to the city limits, half-a-mile north, will be completed this week. Hopefully, when school bells ring September 3, the road will be ready for use. That's City Manager Frank Ollendorff and Councilman Del Black inspecting the job.

CITY FLAG—Councilwoman Beatrice Carlson and Ed Welch unveil the first (and only) city of Northville flag. It will be officially presented to the city in a special public ceremony Sunday, September 8 at 3 p.m. at the city hall park. The idea of a city flag was Welch's. A contest was sponsored by the Northville Beautification Commission, which is chaired by Mrs. Carlson. Winners of the design and slogan contest will receive their awards at the presentation ceremony. The winning design was submitted by Tom Hutcherson, the winning slogan by Julie Brown, both Northville High school students.

Fall Fashions on the Go

A fashion show, featuring lovely creations for fall and winter, will be sponsored next month in Plymouth by the Novi Jaycee Auxiliary.

Carol A. Mason, an auxiliary spokesman, said the show will be staged at the Mayflower Meeting House on the evening of September 26.

The 8 p.m. event, tagged "Fashion on The Go", will also feature a wig demonstration and offer many attractive door prizes. Models for the fashion show will be wives of Novi Jaycees.

The show committee, chaired by Mrs. Ronald Cowden of Novi, is busily working on the initial preparations for this gala event — first of its kind undertaken by the relatively new Novi young women's organization.

Reservations for the show may be obtained by calling either 474-2122 or 476-7944.

Atchison-Casterline Pledge Vows Here

In a double ring ceremony at the First United Methodist Church Roxanne Marie Atchison pledged her vows to Ray J. Casterline II. The wedding was held at 8 p.m. on August 10 with the Reverend Guenther Brandstner officiating.

Decorating the church were altar vases filled with white gladioli and white mums. Candelabra wound with smilax adorned the railing of the second floor stairs down which the bridal party descended. Music was provided by organist Mrs. Richard Somers, who played the bride's favorite selections half an hour before the ceremony.

The parents of the bride are Dr. and Mrs. Russell McRae Atchison, of 332 South Rogers Street. Mr. and Mrs. Fred A. Casterline of 114 Dunlap Street are parents of the bridegroom.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore her sister's bridal gown of embroidered organza. It featured a portrait neckline and a cathedral train bordered with the same motif as the gown. A full veil fell from the double bow of eyelet lace. Completing the outfit was a nosegay of pink rosebuds, stephanotis, and baby's breath.

Mrs. Roger Schlack of Detroit, sister of the bride, served as matron of honor. The bridesmaids were Diane Ambler of Northville, cousin of the bride; Miss Beverly Spiker, Northville; Miss Christina Barasch of Union Lake and Margaret Ahearn of Farmington (college friends); and Cheryl Strachan of Detroit.

All of the bride's attendants were gowned alike in mortar crepe fashioned with a fitted waistline, elbow length sleeves, rolled collar, and trimmed in willow green silk braid. A rolled satin bow and floor length streamers of willow accentuated the back waistline. Each girl wore matching silk shoes in a mortar shade and carried a French bouquet. The flowers were an arrangement of pinks, tiny red rosebuds, cornflowers, yellow daisies, and baby's breath.

The two flower girls, Debra and Judy Brokas, were cousins of the bridegroom. They were gowned in long dresses of white organza with a pinafore ruffle extending from the front waistline over the shoulders and down the back. A small rose of white organza emphasized the back waistline. They wore willow green satin bows in their hair and carried small baskets of field flowers.

The ring bearer was Patrick Kiser, son of Dr. and Mrs. Dale Kiser of Dunlap Street.

Serving as best man was John P. Callahan III of Plymouth. Ushers were Glen Bartholic, Jackson; Robert Langtry, Northville; Benjamin Boyd, Traverse City; Daniel Rowda, Pittsburgh, Pennsylvania; Lawrence Towne, Northville; Roger W. Schlack of Detroit, and Russell Atchison of Northville.

The mother of the bride wore a pink silk floor length gown beaded in pearls with matching pink silk shoes. She wore a wrist corsage of pale pink cymbidium orchids. The bridegroom's mother wore a floor-length gown of heaven blue with crystal beading at the neckline and blue silk shoes. She, too, wore a wrist corsage of pink cymbidium orchids.

Approximately 300 guests attended the lawn reception held at the bride's home on Rogers Street. Refreshments were served from inside a yellow and white tent, with tables scattered throughout the yard. The tables were skirted in pale yellow and decorated with French bouquets centered with a hurricane lamp over a white candle.

Guests attended from several states including Pennsylvania, California, Ohio and Indiana. Music was provided by an orchestra in the summer house in the back yard.

An apple-green coattress with beige and white accessories was chosen by the bride for her wedding trip to Nassau. The couple planned to remain there for one week, then journey on to Puerto Rico to visit a few days with the bride's brother, Captain Richard M. Atchison.

The new Mrs. Casterline has completed two years at Central Michigan University and is transferring to Eastern Michigan where she will complete her studies in elementary education. The bridegroom will attend Schoolcraft College for one more year, then transfer to Wayne State for a career in mortuary science.

The newlyweds will make their home in Northville.

Novi Girl Marries Farmington Man

Dianne Howard of Novi became the bride of Private First Class Dale Chamberlin of the United States Army, in a candlelight ceremony at the Forest Hills United Missionary Church, Farmington. The Reverend Orville Bell performed the double-ring ceremony on the evening of June 28 at 7 p.m.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Grant Howard of Novi, and PFC Chamberlin is the son of Mrs. Lorelee Yoell of Farmington.

The church was decorated with bouquets of white gladioli, stock, and chrysanthemums, backed by palmo and candlebra. Mrs. Evelyn Smiley of Farmington, was organist. "Because" and "The Lord's Prayer" were sung by soloist Larry Wood of Northville. Carol Shaw of Illinois sang "The Wedding Prayer".

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a long sleeved cage gown of embroidered English lace over a fitted slipper satin sheath. Motifs of similar lace were applied at the neckline and outlined the wateau train. The bodice was trimmed with lace and crystal tear drops. Dianne's floor-length veil of silk illusion fell from a three-tiered white peau de soie bow, adorned with lace, seed pearls, and tear drops. The bride carried a cascading bouquet of white roses and stephanotis with streamers tied in sweetheart knots. Placed within the bouquet was her white engagement Bible incased in organdy and lace.

Jacqueline Young, sister of the bride was matron of honor. She carried a colonial bouquet of baby pink carnations and red sweetheart roses. The bridesmaids were Tammy Fust of Novi, Karen Linsey of Illinois, June Britton of Novi, and Carol Shaw of Illinois. All the attendants wore matching aqua-blue sleeveless, chiffon gowns with floor-length trains of flowing chiffon. Their head pieces were single bows of peau de soie satin with silk illusion veils. The flowers were colonial bouquets of varied pink carnations and gladioli.

As flower girl, Susie Thomas of Novi, wore a floor-length dress of aqua blue chiffon trimmed with satin bows. She carried a basket of sweetheart roses and carnations.

The three attendants were identically gowned in yellow lace empire dresses with a semi-cage panel attached at the shoulders by bows of yellow peau de soie. They carried baskets of yellow mums and snapdragons.

The bride was dressed in a peau de soie fitted sheath which was covered by a loosely fitting lace cage. The dress hem was banded in peau de soie as was the lace train, which was attached at the shoulders with peau de soie bows. She wore an illusion finger-tip veil secured by a crown of seed pearls and lace.

For her daughter's wedding, Mrs. Wedemeyer chose a french blue crepe sheath trimmed in a white collar of seed pearls and mother-of-pearl sequins. The bridegroom's mother was attired in a pastel pink silk wool sheath with a stand-up collar. Both mothers wore corsages of deep pink carnations.

A reception for 200 guests was held immediately following the wedding in the church parlor. Hostesses for the reception were Mrs. Joseph Swartz and Miss Luanna Fisher, cousins of the bride from Columbus, Ohio, Miss Barbara Pilarz of Northville, Miss Jeanne Tetter of Garden City, and Miss Carolyn Hardies of Escanaba, Michigan.

For their honeymoon, the couple are taking an extended trip to Worcester, Massachusetts, where they will be making their home.

OLV Service Unites Couple On August 9

Before an altar decorated with yellow gladiolus and white daisies, Sharon Helene O'Brien and Peter Michael Wharton were united in marriage on Friday, August 9. The Reverend John Wittstock officiated at the evening ceremony held in the Our Lady of Victory Church. Music, The Nuptial Mass, was provided by the church organist.

The bride was given in marriage by her father. Her parents are Mr. and Mrs. William O'Brien of 18831 Beck Road. The bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. James Wharton of Novi.

For her wedding the bride chose an outfit of white floor-length peau de soie. The gown was trimmed in venetian lace with a lace yoke and long lace sleeves. A satin bow headpiece secured the full, fingertip veil. She carried a cascade of red roses and white daisies.

Serving as matron of honor was Mrs. Robert Schlenker of Ann Arbor, sister of the bride. The bridesmaids were Camille Wojciechowski of Northville and Conne Fugate of Maybee, Michigan. All three wore similar ensembles of floor-length aqua linen, with aqua headpieces of satin bows. Each girl carried a nosegay of yellow and white daisies.

The best man was Jack Anglin Jr. of Novi. Joseph Rogala of Livonia and Mathew Schoech of Westland served as ushers.

For her daughters wedding, Mrs. O'Brien chose a gold silk dress with matching coat and accessories. She wore a corsage of coral gladiolus and yellow tea roses.

Following the ceremony a reception was held in the Colonial House in Taylor. About 150 guests attended from Northville, Detroit, Ann Arbor, Upper Michigan and Ohio.

For a wedding trip to Colorado, the bride chose a blue floral suit with white accessories. Both newlyweds are graduates of Northville high school, and Peter has graduated from Schoolcraft college. At present the couple are residing in Northville.

School Opens September 3

New Teacher Joins St. Paul's

St. Paul's Lutheran School, Elm and East Streets, will open its tenth academic year on Tuesday, September 3, with a worship service in the church at 8 a.m.

The newly elected student council officers of the Northville School will be installed at this service. They are Edward Hosbach, chairman; Courtney Lytle, vice-chairman, treasurer; and Carol Witzke, secretary.

A newcomer to the staff will be Miss Barbara Luhring, a 1968 graduate of Concordia Teachers College, River Forest, Illinois. In addition to teaching the intermediate grades, Miss Luhring will have charge of the physical education program. She will be inducted into service at the 10:30 a.m. worship service on Sunday, August 25.

Teachers returning will be Mrs. Audrey Campbell, who will teach kindergarten; Miss Dorothy Bartusch will teach the primary grades; and Warren Zabell, principal, who will teach the junior high grades.

Mrs. Edna Huff and Mrs. JoAnn Krause, who taught part-time last year, will not be returning. However, Mrs. Krause will continue to act in an advisory capacity to the science program.

A new science program is being introduced this year. In the primary grades, the Laidlaw Science Series will be used. Harcourt, Brace & World's Concepts in Science Series and Holt, Rinehart & Winston's Modern Science Series will be the basic texts for the intermediate and junior high grades respectively. The next basic text in the Silver Burdett Social Studies program will be introduced to the junior high grades. This is the text, A World View, a world geography course published this year.

Tuition fees for children of parents who are not members of St. Paul's Ev. Lutheran Church have been raised this year. The new tuition schedule is as follows: one child, $225; two children, $325; and a maximum of $375 for three or more children. Members of the

OLV School To Add Music

Our Lady of Victory School will open September 3 with an anticipated 300 to 320 student enrollment in grades one through eight.

During the first week, September 3, 4, 5 and 6, school will be dismissed at 11:30 a.m. Tuition will be paid and books purchased from 1:30 to 4 p.m. on these days.

Staffing the school will be five Sisters and four lay teachers. Leaving the school is Sister Joan William and Sister Francis Dominique. Replacing them will be Sister Anthony Clare and a lay teacher.

School hours and other details will be listed in the OLV Church bulletin.

Added to this year's curriculum will be a music program under the direction of Paul LaBoda.

The vacation schedule for OLV will follow that of the public schools.

GOP Club Meets Tonight

E. O. Weber, delegate to the recent national Republican Convention, will be the guest speaker at a meeting of the Northville Republican Club tonight (Thursday).

The 8 p.m. meeting will be held in the Detroit Edison Company building located at the northeast corner of Center and Dubuar Streets.

congregation support the school through their total support of the congregational program in their weekly offerings.

Registration day is set for Wednesday, August 28 from 9 a.m. to 4 p.m. Parents should be prepared to pay the registration fee of $12.50 per child, which covers all secular books and workbooks. Kindergarten registration is $10 and covers all materials used. Parents having children in grades three through eight should also be prepared to purchase the necessary religion books. Those who are unable to come in during the specified time may call the office (349-2868 or 349-2033) for an appointment.

Contrary to popular belief, the school is not crowded and there are openings in all grades. The classroom load averages 20-25 pupils. Parents interested in a Christian education for their children may call Zabell for further information.

The school calendar will closely parallel the calendar of the Northville High School with the school day running from 8 a.m. to 2:30 p.m. Vacation periods are the same as the public schools.

Bus students should note the schedules printed elsewhere in this issue for their times of pick-up and delivery to the school. If there are any questions or problems concerning transportation, please contact the school office.

The elected officers of the Parent-Teacher League for this year are Mrs. Charles Keher (349-1062), president; Mrs. Victor Miller (349-9717), treasurer; and Mrs. James Vlassis (453-3009), secretary.

Principals Switch Jobs in Northville

Two principal switches and the addition of one new principal, effective earlier this summer, will mark changes in the 1968-69 edition of Northville's administrative staff with the opening of school.

New to the system is William Craft of Livonia, who has been named principal of Amerman Elementary School. He replaces Ronald Horwath, who has become principal of Ida B. Cooke Junior High School.

Donald VanIngen, who was principal of the junior high school, assumes the principalship of Main Street Elementary School where Harry Smith, a long-time administrator here, retired at the end of the past school year.

No changes in other principal positions have been made. Fred Holdsworth remains at the high school, with David Longridge as assistant. Longridge, however, has given up the athletic directorship, which has been assumed by Robert Kucher.

Milton Jacobi remains principal of Moraine Elementary School, and Richard Norton is still assistant principal at the junior high school.

Other administrators include Superintendent Raymond Spear, Business Manager Earl Busard, and Curriculum Coordinator Miss Florence Panattoni.

For Mustang Eleven

Practice Starts Monday

"We've got an abundance of backs," commented Northville Head Football Coach Al Klukach this week as he and his staff prepared for Monday's opening drills. "That's a plus in our favor."

But not everything's a plus for the Mustangs, admits the coach.

"The uncertainty of Northville's athletic program is likely to spill over into varsity football and "maybe cause some letdowns."

"It appears the coaching staff will be limited to three, thus requiring more practice.

*Waterford Mott, a strong, new opponent for the Mustangs this season, is an unknown commodity.

*Northville will be lacking seasoned veterans at the ends.

*It's uncertain whether or not coaches will take the field if no new teachers contract is approved upon expiration of the current contract September 1.

Uniforms are to be issued tomorrow (Friday); first practice will start at 9 a.m. Monday with a chalk talk followed by an hour workout. Drills will resume in the afternoon.

This will be Northville's last year in the Wayne-Oakland League. Next year the Mustangs will shift to the still unnamed conference that includes, among others, Plymouth and Walled Lake.

And the way things are stacking up, Northville — last year's third place finisher — isn't expected to have the best chance of "going out in a blaze of glory." The '68 edition of Michigan Football, a 160-page publication listing state high school and college teams, gives the inside chance to Milford — the 1967 champions.

"They'll be strong, no doubt about it," says Klukach, "but I'd have to take West Bloomfield. They'll be tough, too."

The Lakers finished second last year. This year, Coach Art Paddy, will build his hopes around two all-conference choices: Quarterback Robin Brennan and Guard Kevin Gawronski. He'll have 13 lettermen back.

Defending champion Milford will tie its hopes to 18 letter winners, including Quarterback Bob Clinard who completed 55 of 102 passes for 425 yards last fall. Both of Clinard's prime receivers will be back, too.

Northville has but 10 returning lettermen. Replacements must be found at both ends, center, and one tackle. Barry Deal and Terry Mills return at halfbacks. Deal was the leading rusher, while Mills was an outstanding receiver.

"One thing that will hurt us is that we don't have a second experienced quarterback. So Nirider (Stan) has to be our iron man," said Klukach.

Although the veteran ends will be missing, the coach hopes that there are enough other receivers on the team to keep Nirider firing. He's counting, too, on Fred Holdsworth and Brad Conklin, who move up from the junior varsity at defensive half and end and half or fullback, respectively.

Because of the cutback in athletics, Klukach and his staff (Dick Willing, line, and Ralph Redmond, ends) are including all high school hopefuls in their varsity drills. "Everybody's welcome," he said.

By combining practice of all candidates the coach hopes to meet state requirements of three weeks of practice prior to playing. Then if the 2-mile proposition is approved on September 14 the junior varsity players will be eligible to compete if junior varsity competition is restored.

If the mileage fails and the cutbacks stand, said the coach, "we'll try to work out some practice scrimmages so junior varsity players can get some action."

Concerning teacher negotiations, Klukach explained that the staff will get in a full week of practice before the current teacher contract expires September 1. Will the coaches take the field if a new contract is not approved? Klukach said he preferred to "wait and see" what happens before commenting on this touchy issue.

CITY CHAMPS — Champions of the summer baseball program sponsored by the Northville Recreation Department — the Casterline Braves — finished the season, including tournament action, with a 9-8 record. Members of the team are shown here with their coach, Gordon Rushlow. They are

Here's Grid Schedule

Northville's '68 competition — last in the Wayne Oakland League — will get underway Friday, September 13 with arch-rival Plymouth in a non-conference contest at Plymouth.

Next up will be Waterford Mott, a newcomer to Northville's schedule, here on Friday, September 20.

Last year's seventh-place finisher, Brighton, will host the Mustangs on Friday, September 27, and then on Friday, October 4 West Bloomfield will invade Northville for a parents' night billing.

Clarkston will host the Mustangs on Friday, October 11, and Bloomfield Hills will travel to Northville on Friday, October 18.

Defending Champion Milford will be here on Friday, October 25 for the colorful homecoming game, and then, on Friday, November 1, Northville close out its long association with the W-O conference with a game at Clarenceville.

Andy Bertoni Honored By Golf Course Group

Northville's Andrew Bertoni of Meadowbrook Country Club was one of several past national directors of the Golf Course Superintendents association of American who were honored recently.

The awards were presented to the men for their contributions to the organization and to American's golf fraternity.

Honors were awarded at the Orchard Lake Country Club where the Michigan and Border Cities Chapter held their meeting.

Joining in the presentation with Ben J. Chlevin, GCSAA executive director, was Donald A. Clemans, superintendent of the local club and a director of the Michigan and Border Cities Chapter, and Richard Sincerbeau, chapter president.

Chlevin said the man who used to be a greenskeeper now has many more responsibilities.

"He is the man who has the direct responsibility for the playing conditions on a course. Today, the job of maintaining a golf plant has become extremely specialized and highly technical, and it is in the hands of a greatly experienced and capable man who is a golf course superintendent," Chlevin said.

No Snap Says Coach

Novi Faces 8-Game Schedule

Although Novi is expected to field a stronger football team this year, the non-league schedule won't be a snap.

Far from it, says Athletic Director and Head Coach John Osborne. The eight-game schedule, beginning with the opener at Hartland on Friday, September 13, includes three Class A schools.

And Novi is familiar with only one of them: Ypsilanti Roosevelt, one of the local eleven's opponents in Lakeland C competition last year.

Fortunately, nearly all if not all of last year's varsity lettermen — about 20 of them — will be back this fall since Novi last year did not have a senior class. This year marks the first time in history that Novi offers a full high school curriculum through the 12th grade.

Osborne and Milan Obrenovich will send their gridiron hopefuls through their first rigorous drills of the season beginning Monday at 8:30 a.m. It'll be a mixture of on-the-field workouts, chalk talks, and football study from the morning hour until 2:30 p.m. throughout the week.

Today and Friday the staff will be passing out uniforms to any new students in the community who want to take a crack at football. Earlier, Osborne sent out 54 invitational letters to graders from last year's teams.

Two new faces will greet Novi athletes this year: Joining the staff are Fred Gerhardt and Bob Weinburger. Gerhardt will join Fred Hanert at the junior varsity level, while Weinburger will combine with Norm Norgen at the junior high.

The lineup of coaches is especially interesting to High School Principal Gerald Hartman. Both Weinburger and Gerhardt and returning Coach Obrenovich are former students of Hartman when he was principal at South Lyon.

There will be some other additions as well: Last year's new football field will be sporting a new scoreboard and lights. All three of Novi's home games will be played under the lights. Previously, Novi played its games here during the afternoon.

The electronic scoreboard will make its bow thanks to the efforts of citizens of the community who conducted a campaign to collect funds for its installation.

Following the Wildcats' initial game at Hartland, Livonia Churchill will invade Novi at 8 p.m. on September 20 to give the lights, the scoreboard and the local squad its seasonal home-town baptism.

On September 27, Novi travels to Dearborn Annapolis for its first encounter with one of the three Class A teams on its schedule. It'll be an afternoon contest beginning at 3:30 p.m.

Two more Class A teams will offer the Wildcats competition on the next two Fridays. On October 4, it will be Waterford Mott here at 8 p.m., and October 11, Bloomfield Hills Lahser at Bloomfield beginning at 3:30 p.m.

Ypsilanti Roosevelt, which last year entertained Novi at Ypsi in a wet, snowy night game, will visit Novi on October 18 at 8 p.m. — hopefully under better weather conditions.

Novi travels to Williamston near Lansing on October 25 for a 7:30 p.m. game, and then on Saturday, November 2 heads north to Flint St. Mary to wrap up the season, beginning at 7:30 p.m.

Osborne said feelers are still out in an attempt to enter Novi in a league by 1969 or perhaps the following year. Among those still under consideration, he said, are the Southeastern conference which involves South Lyon among others and the new league which Northville will be joining along with Walled Lake and others.

The latter league may be a tough one to crack, but fingers are still crossed, the athletic director indicated.

South Lyon Downs Novi

South Lyon Jaycees took their tenth victory in the District 19 league from Novi last Wednesday.

Novi's hitting was good — they had 10 in all — but the superior South Lyon fielding was too much for them. South Lyon played one of the best games of the year to beat them. That makes Novi nine losses and only three wins.

Plan Corn Roast

Northville Commandery No. 39 of the Masonic Orders will hold its annual corn roast at the Famuliner home on West Six Mile. The potluck meal will be served at 1 p.m. on August 28.

St. Germain Wins by Eagle

Northville's Jim St. Germain and his partner, Dick Draeger, won the Meadowbrook country club's invitational best-ball tourney Sunday with scores of 70-71-69 for a total of 209, four shots better than Hunter McDonald and Mark Avery.

It was St. Germain's eagle on the par five 17th that clinched the victory.

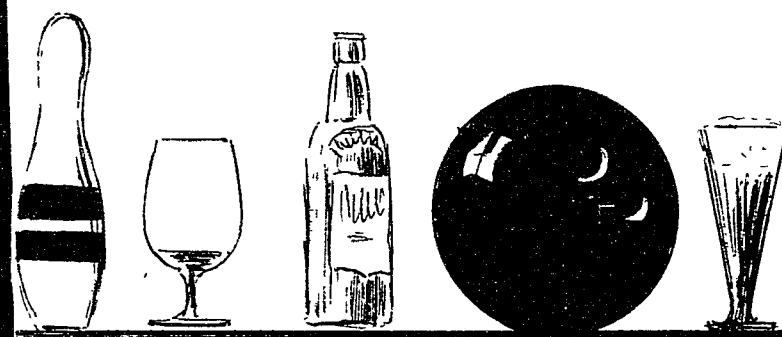

Gridder Exams Slated Tonight

Physical examinations for boys who will participate in the Northville Little League football program this fall will take place this evening (Thursday) between 6 and 8 p.m. at the Northville VFW Hall.

Cost for the examinations is $1.50. However, officials report that the cost will be increased to $3 per youngster at the final examination period slated for Sunday.

Early Collection Of Taxes Sought

Formal request for early school tax collections has been made by Northville school officials.

Letters were mailed last week to the city and township of Northville, and Salem, Lyon, and Novi townships — collecting agencies for Northville school taxes. Copies were sent, too, to the boards of Supervisors of Wayne, Oakland and Washtenaw counties.

The move is aimed at saving the school district money.

"Each year at this time," wrote Superintendent Raymond Spear, "the Northville Board of Education is confronted with the problem of borrowing monies to operate the district until receipt of local school taxes in December and January."

"Needless to say, these loans cost the district considerable dollars (estimated at $11,500 for 1968-69) each year."

Specifically, the school asks the city to establish the practice of collecting all school taxes in July when it sends out city tax bills, and it asks the townships to collect one half of school taxes in July of each year and the remaining half in December as is presently done.

"This would," continued Spear, "provide a good portion of our anticipated revenue during the summer months and eliminate the need for borrowing large sums of money in anticipation of school taxes. It will also serve to eliminate expenditures of from $8,000 to $12,000 annually for interest on loans. (As our district budget increases, we can anticipate even larger interest payments.)"

Early collection of these taxes, he explained, is permitted by state law. It is a practice "carried out in many other communities."

While Spear's letter did not mention it, officials noted earlier that July collection of these taxes would permit investment of money in short term notes rendering interest to the district as well as eliminating the necessity of borrowing money.

Justice Court

Thursday, August 15, was an expensive day in Novi Justice Court for David Terrace Cooke of 6312 Island Lake Road, Brighton. In all he paid fines and costs amounting to $230. He paid a $100 fine and $15.00 costs on a disorderly person charge and the same amount on a careless driving charge.

Daniel Arthur Lichtman, 19, of 28618 Kendellwood, Farmington, paid fines of $10 and $5 costs in Judge Emery Jacques' court for driving 70 mph in a 55 mile zone.

Elmer Joseph Fody, 18, of Farmington was sentenced to pay a $15 fine on a charge of careless driving.

Dannie Jerome Chavis of Novi, charged with having a defective vehicle and no operator's license, paid a $20 fine for each offense.

Donald R. LeGallee of Centerville, Indiana was sentenced to pay a $15 fine or spend 10 days in jail for driving with no operator's license.

Motorist Burned By Trailer Fire

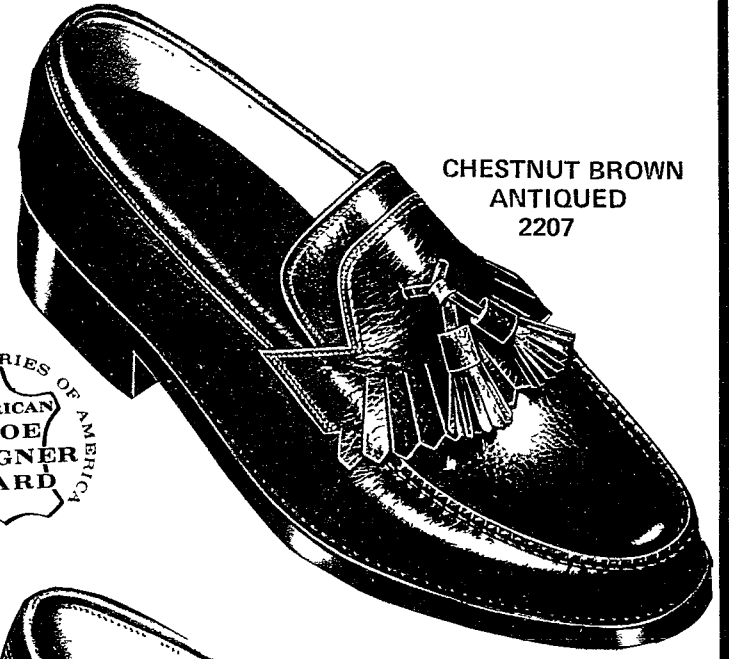

Fire in his trailer resulted in a leg burn for Willie Coleman of Detroit.

While traveling on I-96, a fire believed to have been of electrical origin, started in the rear of his trailer but was quickly extinguished by the Novi Fire Department.

Coleman was taken to Botsford Hospital in Farmington by Casterline ambulance for treatment.

GLADYS MAUDE HOLLIS
A long-time, active member of the Northville community died suddenly last Wednesday. Mrs. Gladys Maude Hollis, 74, of 119 W. Cady Street died quietly in her home.

She is survived by two daughters, Mrs. Arthur Prodder and Miss Mary Hollis, both of Northville. Also surviving are a sister, Mrs. Oren Elwell of Northville, and two brothers, Donald E. Starr of Northville and Carlton Starr of Ypsilanti, and five grandchildren.

Mrs. Hollis was born on July 31, 1894 in Kingsley, Michigan to Mr. and Mrs. George B. Starr. She was a graduate of Manistee schools and Normal college. After teaching for about five years in Manistee County, she came to Northville with her family in 1920. Here she pursued the seamstress occupation.

At the time of her death, Mrs. Hollis was quite active in several community organizations. She was affiliated with Orient Chapter No. 77, O. E. S., and Royal Neighbors. She was also a member of the Senior Citizens of Northville.

Funeral services were held at Ebert Funeral Home in Northville on August 17. The Reverend Elizabeth Etz officiated. Burial was in the Rural Hill Cemetery in Northville. Previously the Eastern Star memorial services were held on August 16 at 7:30 p.m.

Northville Oil Driller, Top Taggart Dies at 78

W. C. (Top) Taggart, 78-year-old Big Rapids millionaire whose speculation for oil here turned the state's attention to the Northville area, died at his home last week Wednesday.

It was more than a decade ago—in January 1954—when area residents were stunned but excited by discovery of a 5,000-barrel-per-day well on the Napier Road farm of the late Roy LeMaster. The discovery turned the area into a bustling center for promoters for some two years—but the lasting boom never came.

The LeMaster well, a steady producer, proved to be rich in gas.

Municipal Court

Several persons were fined upon pleading guilty in Northville Municipal Court of disorderly—drunk charges. All paid $20 fines and $15 costs in lieu of seven day jail sentences.

They are Warren Perkins, Jr. of Farmington, Vernon H. Glover of Chatham, Ontario, Arthur D. Sichelco of Dearborn, and Earnest E. Parkerson of Garden City.

In addition, the fine of George Manooshian of Dearborn Heights, charged with being disorderly by using profanity, was suspended but he paid $10 court costs in lieu of a two-day jail sentence. All of the disorderly acts occurred on or near Northville Downs property.

Also, two persons contested traffic tickets but were found guilty. Frank G. Pauli, Jr., 508 Garden City, paid a $5 ticket for driving an automobile with a defective exhaust, and David L. Andrews, 51630 West Eight Mile Road, paid a $10 ticket for speeding 50 MPH in a 40 MPH zone on Novi Road between the curve and the city limits. Both had pleaded innocent.

TALUS Survey Shows Northville '65 Income Tops

The 1965 median family income in this newspaper's circulation area ranges from a high of $9,610 in Northville Township to a low of $6,010 in Lyon Township. The median income in other municipalities included City of Northville $8,690, South Lyon 8,000, Walled Lake $7,740 and Wixom $7,400.

This information is part of a statistical profile outlining how 4.4 million people in Southeastern Michigan live. It was produced by TALUS (Detroit Regional Transportation and Land Use Study), under the direction of Irving J. Rubin.

The study itemizes 48 elements of information about 115 communities in the region.
TALUS is a special project of the Planning Division of the Southeast Michigan Council of Governments (SEMCOG). Its headquarters are at the Center for Urban Studies of the University of Michigan (Dearborn Campus).

One of the measures of educational attainment is the percentage of heads of household who had graduated from college. In the City of Northville 18.8 percent attained this level; in Northville Township, 26.5 percent; South Lyon 19 percent; Novi 10.9 percent; Lyon Township 8.8 percent; Walled Lake 5.3 percent; and Wixom none was listed.

The amount of travel activity per household varied according to educational attainment and income level. In Northville households averaged 8.8 trips per day; in Wixom 8.7 trips per day; in Walled Lake 12.3; in South Lyon 7.9 trips; in Novi 11.5; per day; and in Lyon Township 8.1.

The 1965 survey showed a total population in housing units of 4,570 in Northville; 2,082 in Wixom; 4,220 in Walled Lake; 2,082 in South Lyon; 6,603 in Novi and 2,903 Lyon Township.

Walled Lake peaked all communities with a 92.1 percent persons employed; South Lyon 85.7 percent; Novi 79.4 percent; Northville 76.2 percent; Wixom 76.2 percent; and Lyon 7.9 trips; in Novi 11.5; per day; and in Lyon Township 8.1.

Departments from Salem, South Lyon, Novi and Plymouth joined Northville firemen Saturday morning in departing from their usual roles at a fire. Instead of fighting the blaze in the old consumed the vandals wrecked fish building on Seven Mile Road firemen fed the blaze, pouring water only on nearby trees and another fish hatchery building to protect them from the raging flames. Within an hour after a fireman touched off the blaze in the roof, only ashes and still burning timbers remained. Ironically, two days earlier firemen fought a blaze along an interior wall of the building when vandals tried to beat the departments to the punch. Firemen saved the building for Saturday's display that drew scores of fire watchers. See more pictures on Page 3-B.

Rev. Father John Wittstock
Our Lady of Victory Church

A family is not a boarding house, a place where people live together. It is a community, a sacred community. It is the reflection of the entire Church of Christ.

In the Bible there is a passage which says "Behold I stand at the gate and knock. If anyone opens to Me, I will enter and will sup with him." What a delightful thought! We can have Christ in our homes just as He was present in the home of the bride and groom at Cana. Christ not only present at your family dinner but during your single social life, just like He was in the home of Lazarus, Mary and Martha so many times.

How is this possible? Well, St. John tells us that God is love, and he who abides in love abides in God and God in him. Christ, therefore, abides in us through love. The more your family dwells in love, the more present and the more intimately is Christ connected with the members of your family. I'll never forget the time when I was eight years old that I often went barefooted during the summer vacation period. One afternoon a chubby boyfriend who had big feet and heavy shoes accidentally stepped on one of my little barefooted toes. Well the toe couldn't meet the challenge and it took a detour. It took the shape of a capitol letter L and it felt like it too. Half crying and half laughing I hopped on the healthy leg a distance of half a block to the sacred confines of my home. My brothers and sisters accompanied me, with mixed emotions for I did look like a circus freak for the moment. My mother summoned a lady doctor, a neighbor proficient in the art of domestic medicine. As the lady doctor performed the intricate operation on my painful toe, my six year old sister fainted. Within minutes both sis and I were restored to perfect health. The neighbor children also witnessed the toe operation on our kitchen table. They were curious but sympathetic. Soon afterwards, all of us were laughing and mom prepared cake and ice cream for all of us in that kitchen, the lady "doctor" and about twelve children. Now that was love — I mean Christ was really there — because a demonstration of love was there, and love was there because we saw sympathy and concern, and acceptance of pain and rejoicing together.

Family meals can also be the expression of the internal love existing in the home. Sharing the experiences of the day, laughing at intimate little jokes, showing true kindness and concern for one another — these all help family life grow.

Doing things socially together is important but since the family is a sacred community it must have its own prayer life, in which all the members participate in an active and intelligent way, according to their age and understanding. Family prayer should be meaningful, not merely the mumbling of routine words. Every family should have a Bible or Prayer Book and use it often as a part of the family liturgy or worship. Adapt the various stories and messages in the Bible to special occasions such as feast days and birthdays and yes, even pain days or small accident days — thanking God that a small sickness to a member of the family turned out well.

Lastly, your family has its apostolic mission in the world.

First, there's the mission of being a witness of your faith. You are a sacred community, a community of service to others. Your family members should be sensitive to the needs of others; to the problems of your school and church and the city in which you live. They should be concerned with the feelings of the milkman, the salesman, the paper boy and the clerk in the shop or store. All of these people should be able to say of you and yours "See how that family love one another and their neighbors."

It's Such a Big World

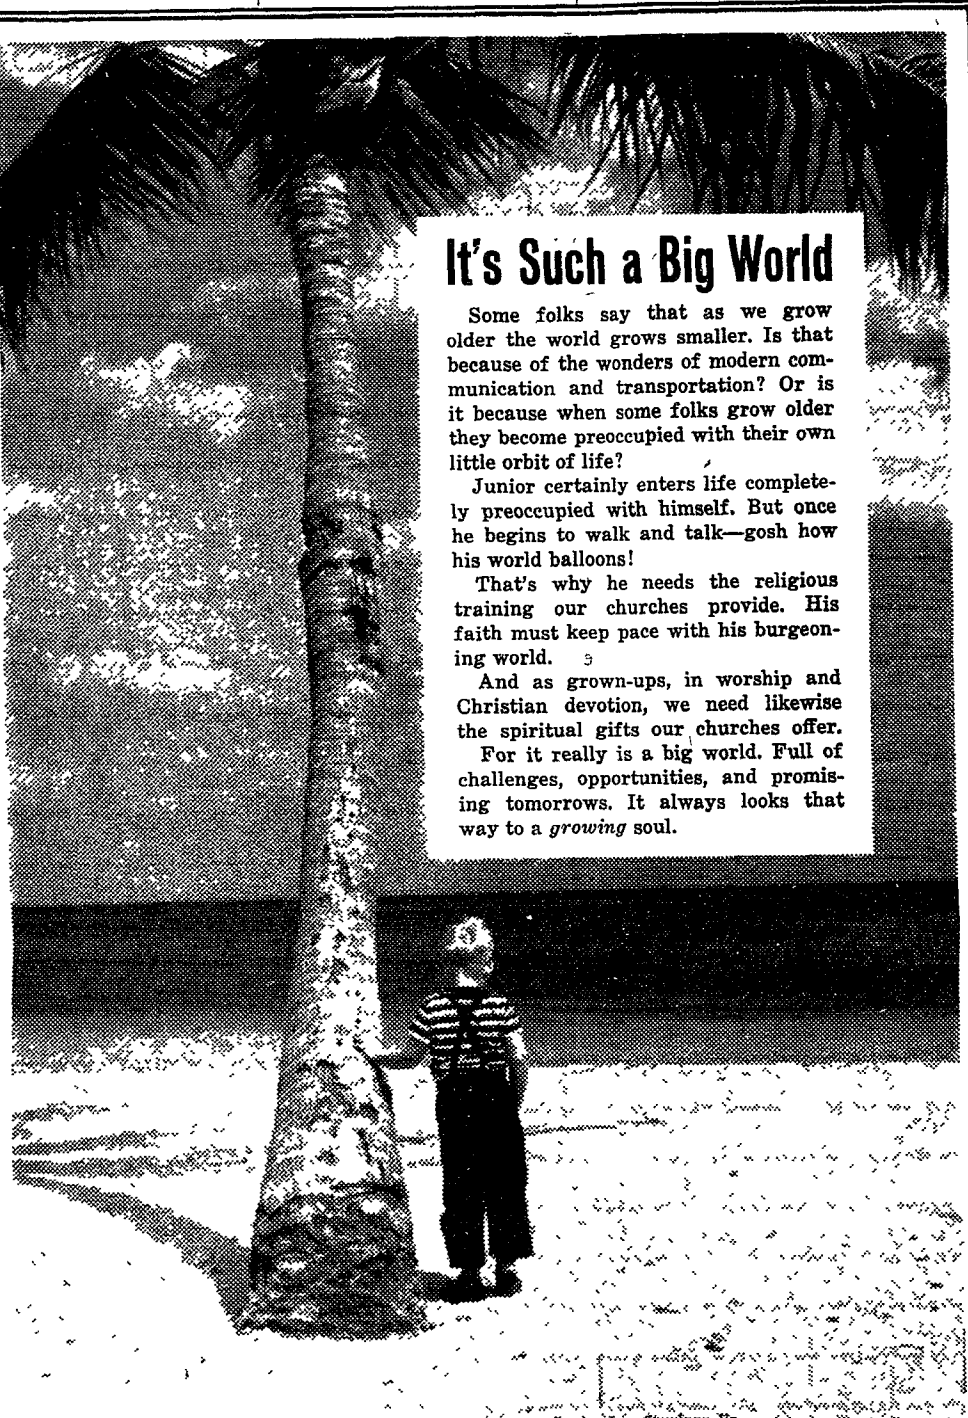

Some folks say that as we grow older the world grows smaller. Is that because of the wonders of modern communication and transportation? Or is it because when some folks grow older they become preoccupied with their own little orbit of life?

Junior certainly enters life completely preoccupied with himself. But once he begins to walk and talk—gosh how his world balloons!

That's why he needs the religious training our churches provide. His faith must keep pace with his burgeoning world.

And as grown-ups, in worship and Christian devotion, we need likewise the spiritual gifts our churches offer.

For it really is a big world. Full of challenges, opportunities, and promising tomorrows. It always looks that way to a growing soul.

TROGLODYTES

Jim Corcoran's 'Meek' But A Solid Hit

"I consider myself a meek folk singer."

Oh, not me mind you, I only lay claim to a nose for news — Jim Corcoran possesses the former claim.

In fact, that opening quote was voiced in a recent informal interview I held with Jim at The Cavern Coffee House.

I'd heard that Jim had been up to something big earlier this month, along with the added rumor that he'd be performing at The Cavern Coffee House for the rest of the summer season.

I investigated. I learned the answers.

Regarding the rumor, Jim set it straight with the comment that he'd probably be playing at The Cavern Coffee House "Every once in a while."

However, I wasn't actually interested in the rumor — it had served its purpose as a useful implement to break the ice for a somewhat spur of the moment, informal interview.

I engaged Jim in a bit of casual conversation, ultimately suggesting featuring him in my next Troglodytes column, although I was totally unprepared for an interview — whether it be formal or otherwise.

Jim readily agreed to it.

At last I was heading in the right direction to uncover what he'd been up to.

We began with the basic background information.

"I'm 17... a senior at NHS... a proud member of The Horton Street Hoods... I was born in Detroit ... lived on Kentucky Street... I'm a self-taught guitarist, and have been playing since the seventh grade."

This was all very interesting, especially if you've heard Jim when he's intently playing his guitar during a Coffee House number.

I still hadn't learned what I wanted to know, but I bided my time by asking Jim who his favorite folk singers were.

"Simon and Garfunkle, Peter, Paul and Mary, and a lot of leading single artists."

Jim stated that he selects his numbers from his favorites, adding that "40% of the stuff I do is my own."

It was about this time when it struck me that August 5 Mark Wiley and Dave Reynders had played along with a group joke and recorded the raunchy sound issued forth at The Cavern Coffee House by The Uninhibited Orangoutang.

Unexpectedly, Reynders decided to seriously record Jim's performance, an action inspired at the spur of the moment when it was learned that Corcoran was to a short set for the patrons.

Nursing the hunch, I was about to inquire as to the significance of the recording, when Jim mentioned that he had an item of interest for me to consider for possible use in my column.

It was what I'd been seeking.

As it turned out, Reynders submitted the recording to WABX through an action of curiosity as to what would happen if the radio station personnel took the time and effort to listen and evaluate the tape.

The NHS junior may have gotten more than he'd bargained for.

As of last week, the tape's in Chicago in the guise of a Demo Record. What's a Demo Record?

According to Jim, "A Demo Record is a demonstration recording on the order of a feeler. It tests audience response as to the possibility of recording such a record for market release."

Keep in mind folks that this is not a record in the true sense of a record.

Yet, what really seems to be the meat of the story I uncovered, is that the Demo Record ("Just For You") was written by young Corcoran approximately one month ago.

"It's being played in Chicago with a fair amount of success."

I questioned Jim further to uncover any other possible information which would be useful, by asking him who it was that "discovered" Jim Corcoran.

The answer unearthed a very interesting part of Jim's background prior to the Demo.

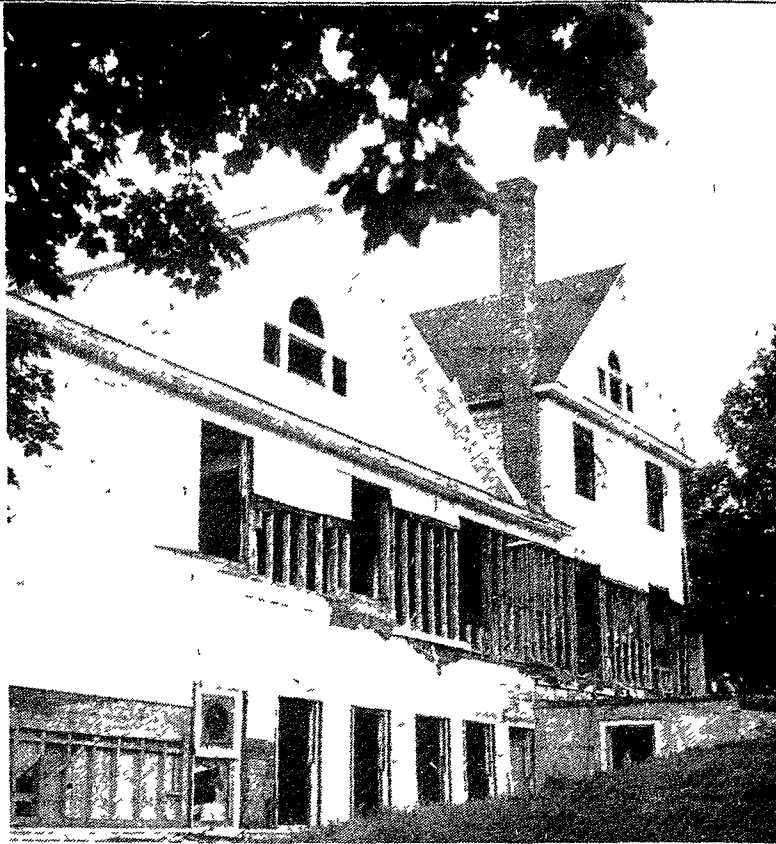

"Actually, Jim Castillo was the first one of my friends in Northville to hear me play, because I had been up to that time keeping to myself."

However, it's quite evident that that's no longer holding true with Jim.

As you can well imagine, I'd found what I'd sought.

But I didn't stop there; afterall, everyone must have plans of some making for the future — and that includes Jim Corcoran.

"This is all very far in the future, but hopefully I'll be able to eventually cut a record — and if everything goes as I hope, maybe I can cut an album."

GOING, GOING, GONE — By the time area residents had salvaged parts of Northville's historic fish hatchery on Seven Mile Road there wasn't much more than a shell of the building left as area departments burned it to the ground Saturday morning. Even some of the siding had been removed and the entire building interior had disappeared (top) when flames, starting at the north roof line, ate their way to the ground level, leaving only the basement walls.

Students Need Health Exams

Parents of kindergarten pupils entering Michigan schools this September must meet a number of health regulations, Northville school officials emphasized this week.

All of these pupils, they pointed out, must — by law — have physical and dental examinations prior to entering school, and proof of these must be presented to the school system. In addition, parents must have evidence that their children have received shots from the common diseases.

The screening program for kindergarten pupils was completed on Friday. The program is aimed at helping parents to determine whether or not their youngsters who have just reached school age should postpone entrance into school until they are better able to cope with this new experience.

The church members were sorry to hear of the death of Father Ayers of Brighton. He died suddenly of a heart attack while visiting his daughter, in England. Rev. Ayers was a great help to the Mission in former days. The mission extends sympathy to the family and to Mr. and Mrs. Orlo John on the death of her father, Mr. William Dagg on Monday, August 12. Services at the Redeemer Church this week.

All are rejoicing with Madge and Jim Martin on the birth of a baby girl, Christine at Beaumont Hospital in Royal Oak.

Bartholomew Day service will be observed in the church at 7:30 p.m.

SPEAKING for The Record

By BILL SLIGER

Only good can come from the proposed establishment of a six-community authority to cooperatively deal with the problem of refuse disposal.

Representatives of the city and township of Northville, Plymouth city and township and Canton and Salem townships recently released the findings of their study of more than a year. Their report shows that each of the individual governmental units will have filled their respective landfill sources within three years.

It also points to the importance of establishing a means of refuse disposal, not only to meet normal anticipated growth, but to encourage industrial development.

The study committee has urged each of the governmental units to adopt a resolution which would hold as its goals the development of a sanitary landfill site by mid-1970, studies of other methods of refuse disposal, and the preparation of documents setting forth the creation of multi-community disposal authority.

Monday night the city council approved the resolution.

A letter from the Wayne County Department of Health added to the timeliness of the city action. It warned that operations of the "city dump" must be sharply improved or it will be recommended that the city's state license to operate a disposal area not be renewed. It expires August 30.

While the city manager assured the council that necessary changes in the operation of the municipal landfill have already been made, it was noted that the six-inches of earth covering required each day will reduce sharply the life of the city's landfill.

"Our landfill's coming to a screeching halt," warned Mayor A. M. Allen.

It's always been the city's objective to develop the landfill area into an industrial site.

But the need for another disposal area then becomes more acute.

The type isn't dry on the report yet, but pot-shots are already being levelled at the validity of the jointly-sponsored city-township unification report.

The sources were predictable, however. They didn't even want a feasibility study made.

Probably the most meaningful study ever made at the local government level, the unification report tells us where we are individually, where we might go together and what the advantages would be and what the costs are.

It offers some food for thought for both city and township taxpayers and may even interest those who relate the value of everything solely to its cost.

It's the kind of study that critics of any kind of city-township cooperative effort would be calling for in five years if it hadn't been done now.

Congratulations to the steering committee members - Bernard Baldwin and Gunnar Stromberg from the township, and Del Black and Wallace Nichols from the city; also City Manager Frank Ollendorff and the late Supervisor R. D. Merriam, the paid consultant, Donald Oakes, as well as the dozen or more citizens from the city and township who helped in the study.

The steering committee has recommended that public information meetings be held by both the city council and township board so that officials as well as citizens can be apprised of the facts. The steering committee and its consultant will conduct the meetings.

First such session is scheduled at the city council chambers Monday at 8 p.m.

Taxpayers Demand Thrift

To the Editor:

Knowing you bend over backwards to be fair in your newspaper, I'd like to be able to give some views on why the Schools can do without that increase in millage.

We have already had a reassessment on our property which is bringing in extra thousands. It must be for I am going to pay close to $2000 in property taxes this year. One of my neighbors will pay over $5000. The Schools in Northville receive 80 percent of our tax dollar, the only township in Wayne county to receive that much. The other townships operate their schools 60 cents on the dollar. The property tax coupled with all the additional taxes is too much of a hardship now. What of the senior citizen on a fixed income, the citizens who have raised their families, the ones who want to be reasonably out of debt? We have reached the breaking point, period. Of course it would be no hardship where the banks and mortgage houses are paying the taxes for the property owner. Such is not the case with everyone, hence the hardship.

You can't make me feel guilty about not voting for an increase. I've graduated five children from Northville schools. I didn't have any of genius calibre. I did get normal, decent, honest future citizens which was what I suspected I would get and I think the majority of parents do get. You can't bluff me as to what children miss in extra-curricular activities. If the teacher does his or her job in the first place, there is no need for remedial teaching. If they spent the proper time on reading, writing and arithmetic instead of art and physical education they might know how to read and write when they reach high school. As far as athletics is concerned, football only affects 22 players and six or twelve cheerleaders. The same for your wrestling and track teams. Too many subjects are nothing but a constant repetition each time on a graduated scale and it doesn't stop at just high school, but continues on into college.

However, the School Board is determined to have its own way and get its increase, but let me warn them. There are just more than enough citizens in this community who want their way, and that way is operating the schools with economy, thrift and no frills. Rather old fashioned virtues to be sure, but well tested ones for successful living. If we can't have them, your going to be faced with a tax strike and revolt. We can give our land to universities and live on it tax free for the rest of our lives. Or we can give Northville an open housing community to end all open housing communities.

It should never be forgotten by the taxpayer. The School Board, Teachers, and employees, are public servants working for the taxpayer. A majority of these taxpayers want thrift and economy and intend to have it.

Two Defeats Are Enough

To the Editor:

Just a few lines to say a few things with regards to the Citizens Petition regarding the millage vote. I think it is a shame that this has been voted on twice already and has been voted down each time. Let's let that be final.

I was born and raised here in Northville, and never had such schools as there are here today. To begin with the schools here are elaborate and expensive for the average citizen to pay all of the added taxes. If the average child that attends this school is a sample of what they learn then they had better go back to the olden days of teaching and use a paddle when it is needed. In other words, let's take a long look at some of the students that we see on the streets night and day.

Getting back to our present schools and their system. Let the original planners and present school leaders pay all of the extra expense themselves. We don't need the big expensive pools and all of the extra extracurricular activities, and let's go back to the real ways of raising the children.

A citizen of long standing

Sports Star Backs Tax

To the Editor:

I am writing this letter in hopes of keeping our community from making a grave mistake. I have lived in Northville for more than 22 years and have benefitted from it tremendously. I have always been proud of my community and its citizens until the recent millage votes.

By living in Northville, I was able to participate in and benefit from numerous activities. Athletics always seemed to gain the center of my attention and the bulk of my participation. I was always very thankful to Northville for providing:

1. A well organized and complete pre-high school recreation programs.
2. Excellent junior high and high school athletic programs.
3. Excellent facilities and equipment.
4. Top-notch coaches and coaching from a well organized athletic staff.

As I think about it now, I can not even imagine my life without athletic participation. Athletics gave me so many thrills they are too numerous to mention, as well as providing me with an excellent college education. My participation in competitive sports taught me something that I could never learn from a book; it taught me to be a man! In addition I learned to win graciously and accept defeat but not like it, to value team work and friendship, self discipline and respect, and so many other things I can not list them all. I am not saying that one can only be taught these virtues through participation in competitive sports. You can learn them in your home and church. But, are you voting NO! to these obligations?

To think that today's athletes may be deprived of the privileges I received only a few years ago disturbs me greatly. I know they are gaining tremendously by wearing the orange and black of Northville High School. Please don't take this part of their education away from them.

A concerned citizen,
Steve Juday

Top of the Deck

by JACK W. HOFFMAN

The exhausted swimmer stroked his way to the shore and then stumbled out of the water as ominous storm clouds whirled overhead. He was fully dressed - a tired, disgusted Northville policeman.

"How many kids have we chased out of here this summer? Fifty? A hundred?" he asked loudly, and answering his own question intended for the ears of the crowd that had gathered on the high embankment overlooking the gravel pit. Some of those up on the hill were kids who, despite repeated police warnings, have made this and other nearby pits their swimming holes.

"Why?"

"You can chase them out every day; they just won't listen," someone said. "Even some of their parents think it's alright."

"They ought to be here now - to see this boy when we find him," said another.

A 15-year-old boy had drowned. Now, too late to save him, police and firemen were preparing for the arduous, awful task of searching the deep water for his body.

A deputy sheriff said, "No matter how often you see it happen it gets you. Especially if it's a kid. Like the time I pulled a boy out of a pool. I looked at him and thought, 'My God! It's my brother's boy!' He looked just like him. The guys said I was so stunned I couldn't move."

The boat moved in wide circles. Behind, dragging along the weedy bottom of the lake, the sharp grappling hooks clutched for the lifeless body that less than an hour earlier laughed and shouted... and screamed for help.

"He was over there... we were ahead of him near the island. We looked back and he was about 15 or 20 feet from shore," said one of the victim's companions.

More help arrived.

It stormed again. It turned cold but the search continued. Shortly after midnight a relative arrived to begin the long, harrowing vigil. The parents were too distraught. The son they knew had left the house... a young teenager... brimming with vitality. He hadn't said anything about swimming.

The crowd thinned but still the search continued. All night long it continued.

In the overcast of late morning, a skindiver left his companions and struggled for shore. Awkwardly, he walked from the water, cold and shivering as the blood trickled from his nose. "I guess I can't take anymore of it," he said.

Still the search went on.

It was nearing noon when the relative left to get the officers something hot to drink. Mercifully, she was gone when the search ended.

"Yes, that's him," she said, covering her face with her hands. "Yes, he was a big boy. Bigger than his age. Their pride and joy."

"I don't know why," she said answering the questions of officers. "He couldn't even swim. He was a big boy. They wanted him to take lessons just last year. He was too ashamed, I guess, to take them because he was so much bigger than the others."

The search was over but not the haunting question, Why?

Bus Schedule Changes

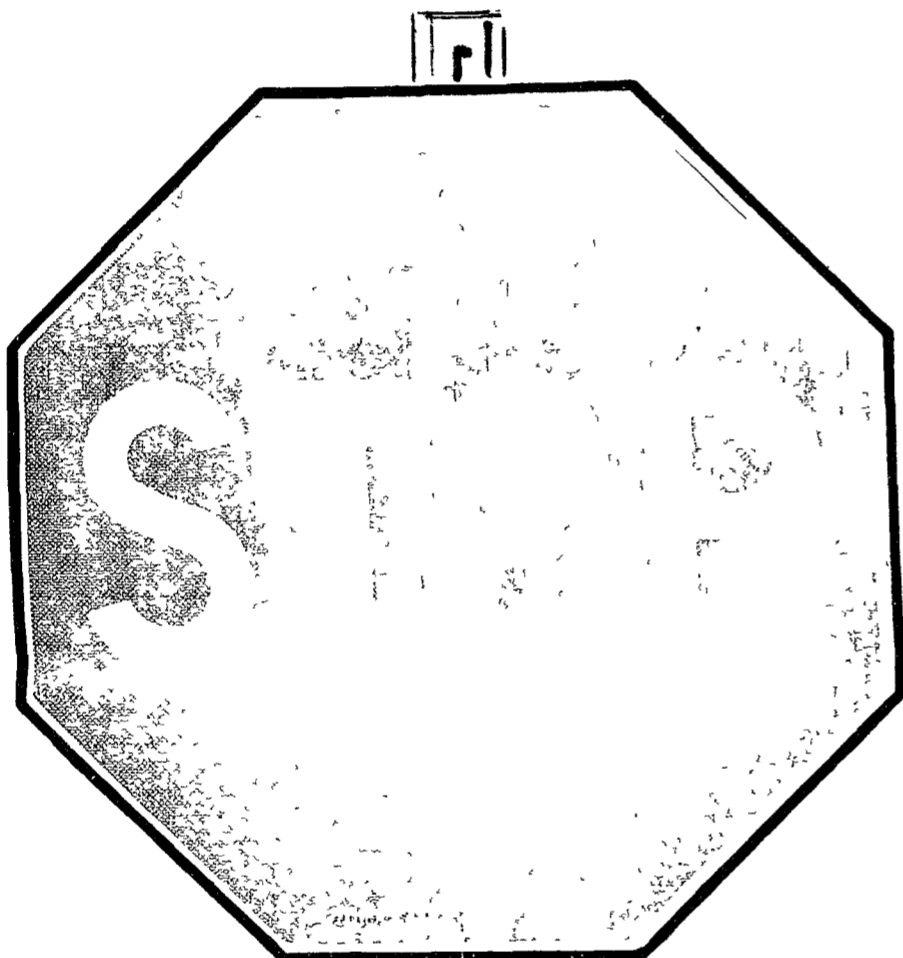

Northville's school bus transportation program this year will remain essentially the same except for two basic changes, Business Manager Earl Busard has revealed.

1. Buses will enter only one subdivision - Brookland Farms. But, said Busard, it is hoped an alternative may yet be reached. Traffic is simply too heavy on Novi Road to permit loading from that point, Busard said.

2. Rerouting has been devised so that no bus will be "half-loaded." This, together with better utilization of buses for transportation of parochial school children, will permit the reduction of buses from 13 to 12, he said. Originally, officials believed 15 buses would be needed this fall.

Of the nine elementary school buses, said Busard, eight will be either 1967 or 1968 vintage.
