

Esch, Vivian Attack President's Vietnam Policy

INTERVIEWS Campaign '68

★ ESCH

Are we going to accept the mistaken idea that federal money will solve our problems?
That one question, declares

Congressman Marvin Esch, GOP candidate for re-election in the Second Congressional District, is the all-important one in this year's Presidential election.

Vietnam, crime in the streets, education — all are important election issues — but the role of the federal government in solving social ills is the overriding issue, he contends.

Among other statements made by the congressman in an interview with this newspaper were:

—Unlike many Republicans, he opposes the Johnson administration's policy in Vietnam.

—Of the GOP nominees put forth in Florida, he first preferred Michigan Governor George Romney as the most ideal presidential candidate and second, New York Governor Nelson Rockefeller.

—With Richard Nixon as his party's standard bearer, he is finding a "new spirit" of enthusiasm and party unity in the Second Congressional District.

INTERVIEWS Campaign '68

★ VIVIAN

Although it may spell political suicide, the Democratic candidate for the Second Congressional District, Wes Vivian, opposes the Johnson administration's Vietnam policy and vigorously attacks Governor George Wallace.

The former congressman, who seeks to regain the seat lost to GOP Congressman Marvin Esch two years ago, candidly admits, too, that Eugene McCarthy, Ted Kennedy, and particularly George McGovern better represented his views than does Vice-President Hubert Humphrey and that the candidacy of any one of these three men probably would have enhanced his own candidacy.

Nevertheless, Vivian is convinced that the Vice-President's current pro-administration views on Vietnam will soon change significantly and that Humphrey will take a stand on this issue more closely identified with that of his own.

"I don't see the American's presence there (in Vietnam) as having any more benefit to the United States and very little for the South Vietnamese," declared Vivian when questioned by this newspaper.

'NPSD' Goal: $19,184

Citizens Seek Donations For School Activities

An ambitious campaign to raise $19,184 to reinstate a portion of the activities sliced from the Northville school program was launched late last week by concerned citizens of the community.

By noon Tuesday $3,190 had been donated — not counting numerous pledges from organizations, businesses and individuals.

The campaign follows on the heels of voter rejection of three millage issues that forced the board of education to cut nearly $100,000 worth of the school's curriculum.

Monies raised in the campaign will be used only for the reinstatement of extra-curricular activities. It does not cover such things as remedial reading, additional teachers, etc., which also were cut from the budget.

Faced with a capacity audience of adults and students who urged approval of their proposal to raise money for specific activities, the board adopted a resolution granting permission and set up ground rules under which money may be donated. Rather than permitting reinstatement of one or two activities, such as march band, the board concluded that all extra-curricular activities must be supported or none at all.

Basically, the rules are these:

On the $19,184, a total of $4,796 — or 25-percent must be collected by October 1 (Monday) at which time all extra-curricular activities will be placed

★ ★ ★ How to Give

Tax deductible donations to the NPSD may be mailed or dropped off at three locations:

Lapham's Men's Wear, 120 East Main Street, Dayton Deal's office, 103 South Center Street, or by mailing them to NPSD Donation, Box 1968, Northville Post Office.

Checks should be made payable to NPSD.

back in the school's program. By October 15 an additional $9,592 — boosting bringing the total to $14,388 or 75-percent of the $19,184 must be raised. And by October 23 the entire $19,184 must be raised.

If sufficient monies are raised by Monday to put the activities back into the budget, they will continue only if the remaining two deadlines are met. If $14,388 is not raised by October 15, for example, all of the activities will be dropped — including those that have already begun.

None of the money will be used by the board of education until the total amount is raised. The sponsoring citizens group, calling itself Northville Public School Donation committee (NPSD), is depositing all money in an account at the local bank. On the deadline dates, the board of education will ask the bank for a certification of deposit to verify the amount raised.

Should the total not be raised, the citizens committee will return donations to the donors — minus "a small amount" incurred in conducting the campaign and for expenses covering extra-curricular purchases (athletic equipment) that the board may have made in anticipation of the total.

According to Business Manager Earl Busard, the $19,184 covers $13,184 in salaries for coaches and sponsors; $2,000 represents team transportation, fees for judges, referees, and registrations, bus driver salaries and gas and oil for buses; and $4,000 is for supplies and equipment supporting the extra curricular activities.

Extra curricular activities covered by the donations do not include varsity football, varsity and junior varsity basketball, yearbook, safety patrol and service squad, which were not removed from the budget. Nor does it include cross country, junior varsity and junior high school football, which cannot now be reinstated because it is too late to schedule competition with other schools.

Activities it does cover are:

High School —

Art club, baseball, junior varsity baseball, freshman basketball, cheerleading, debate, play, forensics, future homemakers, future teachers, G.A.L., instrumental music, operetta, pep club, tennis, track, library club, wrestling, United Nations, National Honor Society, N Club, high school newspaper.

Junior High School — Seventh and eighth grade basketball, cheerleading, G.A.L., intramurals, and junior high school track.

Members and officers of the NPSD steering committee are:

Robert Bogart, chairman; Mrs. M. L. Utley, secretary; Dayton Deal and Bernard Bach, co-treasurers; Robert Massel, publicity chairman; Student Council Mayor David Poppe and the four high school class presidents; volunteer students Sue Jarvis and Billie Thomas; Jack Townsley, teacher representative; Miss Florence Panattoni, school administrator representative; Stanley Johnston, school board representative; and Dean Snelgrove, citizen representative.

Members of the citizens' liaison committee are:

Art Adams, Robert Honecker, Ralph Geddes, Essie Ninder, and Miss Barbara LeBeauf.

HEAT'S ON members of the citizens group which is attempting to raise $19,000 for extra curricular activities by the October 23 deadline. It's a lot of money for such a short October 23 deadline. But Charles Lapham, Dayton Deal and Student Mayor Dave Poppe are confident of success as they view the "thermometer of collections" on display at Lapham's Men's Wear.

Robert Gregory Killed in Vietnam

Word was received here Sunday morning of the death of a Northville man, Sergeant Robert Arthur Gregory, on active duty in Vietnam.

A career Army man who had just completed 13 years of service in August, Sergeant Gregory was serving with the Eleventh Armored Cavalry Regiment stationed on the Cambodian border.

Sergeant Robert Gregory

In a follow-up telegram received by his family Tuesday from Major General Kenneth Wickham of the Adjutant General staff it was learned that Sergeant Gregory died September 19 as a result of injuries received while on guard duty when a military vehicle rolled over him.

He was married to Ann Gregory of Milford. The couple had three children, Julie, 8, Teresa, 4, and Arthur, 2. His parents are Mr. and Mrs. Floyd Gregory, 346 South Rogers, and Mrs. Elizabeth Gregory, 348 South Wing. He also has a sister, Mrs. Patricia Bingham of Novi.

Sergeant Gregory had been on active duty on search-and-destroy missions at the time of his death. He left for Vietnam June 29. His tours of duty previously included Germany, Alaska and Hawaii. Prior to going to Vietnam he was training troops at Fort Leonard Wood, Missouri. He was a graduate of Northville High school.

The Army has notified the family that the body is being shipped home and will arrive in seven to ten days. Funeral service arrangements will be completed at that time by Casterline Funeral Home.

Administrators Get Pay Hikes

Teachers aren't the only professionals in the Northville school system to receive healthy increases in salaries this year.

Three top administrators and seven principals received pay hikes ranging from $400 to $2,772 by action of the Northville School Board last week.

(See school board story on this page and story of administrative raises in Plymouth on Page 3B).

Biggest increase went to Richard Norton, who splits his time as assistant principal and a teacher at the junior high school, from $10,003 to $12,775. Lowest went to William Craft, who just started this month as principal of Amerman Elementary School, from $14,500 to $14,900.

Superintendent Raymond Spear's salary jumped from $18,000 to $20,400, while the salaries of the other two top administrators, Business Manager Earl Busard and Curriculum Coordinator Miss Florence Panattoni, increased by $1,600. Busard's salary went from $12,500 to $14,100, and Miss Florence Panattoni's from $13,200 to $14,800.

High School Principal Fred Ildsworth received a $2,400 increase, from $15,800 to $18,200. His assistant, David Longridge, who started in his capacity as assistant principal during the last school year, received a salary increase of from $12,300 to $14,330.

Ronald Horwath, who became principal of the junior high school this all following his term as principal of Amerman Elementary School last year, received a pay hike of $2,700 — from $13,300 to $16,000. Part of this increment was based upon his move to

Time to Register

Voting age residents who have not registered have until 8 p.m. Friday, October 4 to become qualified electors for the November presidential election.

City and township clerk offices will be open during normal hours daily for registrations and, in addition, on Saturday, September 28 from 8 a.m. until 5 p.m. and the final day, October 4 from 8 a.m. until 8 p.m.

the junior high school.

Donald VanIngen, principal of the junior high school last year and principal of Main Street Elementary School this year received an increase of $1,300 — from $16,000 to $17,300.

Moraine Elementary School Principal Milton Jacob's salary went from $14,900 to $16,700.

According to the board's subcommittee on salaries, $400 of the principals' hikes represent the difference received by teachers between that amount originally budgeted and that amount teachers actually received.

In determining principal salaries, the board subcommittee establishes a difference between the 11th step on the salary schedule of the master's degree teacher and the junior high school assistant principal, then increased salaries of other principals by a like amount taking into consideration time of service, etc.

Salaries of the top administrators are based on no particular formula.

Martin, Orphan Vote Against Teacher Contract

Despite earlier board reports of unanimity over the recently recommended teacher salary schedule, the measure failed to win unanimous support at a special meeting of the Northville Board of Education last week Wednesday.

The salary schedule was approved, however, by a vote of 5 to 2.

Two members — Treasurer Andrew Orphan and Trustee Richard Martin — cast the dissenting votes, arguing that the schedule was but part of the total teacher contract which should not be approved in pieces; that insufficient money is available in the present budget to meet the expenditure; and that teachers had not yet ratified the contract nor the specific salary schedule.

Subsequently, Martin switched his position and voted favorably on raises for administrators while Orphan continued casting "no" votes because of the apparent shortage in the budget.

Their stand on the teacher salary schedule caught fellow board members by surprise. It was noted that following a recent board meeting, members had in secret session informally agreed to the recommendations of the state-appointed factfinder and it was upon this informal agreement that a tentative settlement had been reached between the board and teachers on the two-year teacher contract.

However, neither Martin nor Orphan apparently are convinced that board accord was reached at the meeting in question. Referring to the fact-finder's pressures, Martin said "we were almost stampeded into it. I didn't like it then and I don't like it now."

"I cannot rationalize an increase of 15-percent. It's an unrealistic approach," Martin said.

Furthermore, Orphan took the position that the fact-finder's recommendations are not compulsory. Furthermore, he said the salary recommendation represents considerable more money than is currently available based upon projected incomes and outlays. (The deficit, which Superintendent Raymond Spear insisted will be erased with further cuts in the program was estimated at from $30,000 to $36,000).

When told that the contract with teachers had not yet been ratified by the Northville Teachers Association, Orphan insisted the board should not honor part (salaries) of the proposal until the total package has been ratified by both sides.

In answer to Spear's contention that approval was urgent because the first payroll was due Friday, Orphan said teachers could be paid based upon last year's schedule and then, after the contract is ratified, the salary increases be made retroactive.

To prepare a payroll based first on last year's salary schedule and then later on the new schedule, said Spear, would be complicated and expensive. He argued that there is little doubt that the contract will be ratified and that board approval of the new salary schedule would not jeopardize ratification of the total package.

When asked if teachers had by a "near unanimous" vote tentatively approved the recommendations of the factfinder, George Berryman, president of the Northville Teachers Association, responded affirmatively.

When the previously discussed assertion that deficit financing is illegal came up again, Trustee Glenn Deibert commented that he could not believe the state would interpret such a deficit illegal when it was a state-appointed factfinder who recommended the teacher salary increases that created the budget deficit.

Finally, Trustee Eugene Cook, who said "we need to get on with the job in a business like manner," motioned to approve the salary schedule. It was supported by Secretary Dr. Orlo Robinson.

On the issue of salary increases for administrators, Orphan again insisted approval could not be given because of the apparent budget deficit. However, Martin said that in view of the teachers' salary increase and because the administrators' salaries must be maintained at a fixed level above salaries of teachers, he had no other choice but to approve them.

Orphan said he agreed with the philosophy that the difference between teacher and administrative salaries should be maintained. The only way to hold administrative salaries "in check" is to "start with teachers' salaries" which the board failed to do, he declared.

The revised school calendar was approved unanimously, but on the matter of hiring replacement teachers for three teachers who asked to be released from their contracts, Orphan voted "no" for the same reasons.

Mrs. Pfluecke announces this week that Mrs. Howard Meyer, Sr., graciously has agreed to open her home on Eight Mile Road again, replacing the home of Mrs. Carl Bryan, which was withdrawn because of unforeseen circumstances.

Bazaars Signal Autumn's Arrival

Announcements of bazaars, rummage sales and luncheons — more than the weather — indicate that autumn officially is here.

A new selling format has been devised for the large, annual rummage sale of the Woman's Association of the Northville First Presbyterian Church being held this Friday and Saturday.

Five downstairs rooms of the Christian education building will be used with merchandise separated into sections for books, games and toys, household wares, baby and toddler wear, boys' and men's, girls' and women's. Mrs. Duane Smith, chairman, is hoping this will make selection easier.

It also is planned that during the Friday morning rush hours beginning at 9 a.m. entrance will be one-way from Church Street, exiting to the parking lot. The sale will continue through 9 p.m. Friday and from 9 a.m. until noon Saturday.

Annual Fall Festival and bazaar sponsored by the Lapeer Parents' Association will be held Saturday, October 5, in the I.O.O.F. Hall, 3248 West Twelve Mile, Berkley. It will be held from 10 a.m. through 9 p.m. with all proceeds going to the mentally retarded children of Lapeer State Home and Training School.

A bazaar, card party and luncheon will be given by Orient Chapter No. 77, Order of Eastern Star, at noon Friday in the Northville Masonic Temple. Tickets may be obtained at the door.

By JEAN DAY

A RECORD ENROLLMENT of pre-schoolers is taking place in our area this month as the Northville Cooperative Nursery School expands to five days a week.

The venerable cooperative, which has been in existence about 18 years, has convened in past years on Monday, Wednesday and Friday mornings. Its present "home" is the community scout-recreation building on Cady Street.

From 9 until 11:20 a.m. these mornings 33 three-and-four-year olds and helping mothers have been playing and learning about the world (and how to get along with each other) under guiding teachers Mrs. Francis Gazlay and Mrs. Glenn Deibert.

So popular has the program been that whenever a baby brother or sister joined a family who had been a "co-op-participant" the name was placed on the future waiting list. In the past couple of years the list grew impossibly long.

As Mrs. Stanton Schaefer, president, explains, "We knew they would be beyond nursery school when their names came up."

So the decision to expand was made by the nursery board.

By instituting a Tuesday-Thursday program (eventually to be for younger pre-schoolers), it was possible to eliminate the current waiting list, Mrs. Schaefer said happily.

She has been involved with the nursery ever since Stacey, now finishing junior high, and older son Patrick were enrolled. Now young Andrew can hardly wait for school mornings.

Already a waiting list for next year has been started with Mrs. Robert Discher, membership chairman, 474-8766, accepting applications.

NEW TEACHER for the Tuesday-Thursday program is Mrs. Lawrence Bemish of Napier road. She will work with Biz Gazlay, who has agreed to teach five days a week. Eugenie Bemish is familiar with the co-op as both her Andy, now a third grader, and Casey, a kindergartener, were pupils. She has an elementary teaching degree from Eastern Michigan.

In announcing her appointment after last week's nursery school meeting, Mrs. Schaefer commented that the group was "delighted and very much impressed with the outstanding applicants" from which they chose. She added that it was a "really tough decision" as all were so well qualified.

Mrs. W. Paul Reagan will be hostess for Tuesday's meeting of the Tuesday-Thursday group at her home at 47787 Eight Mile Road at 8 p.m. Monday. Their children's first day of school will be October 1.

Mrs. Reagan and her family have just moved into the home on Maybury grounds occupied for many years by Dr. and Mrs. W. L. Howard. Dr. Reagan is director of respiratory disease control for Detroit and Wayne County. The family comes here from Little Rock, Arkansas. Youngest of the five children is four-year-old Jennifer.

Mrs. Reagan is a pediatrician but, while she practiced in her former community, does not plan to now. Moving and settling have taken all her time — and enrollment in a "co-op" nursery also entails time.

ALSO BEGINNING for the first time this fall is a Creative Day Nursery to be held from 9 a.m. until noon at the Northville Presbyterian Church. Director-teachers are Mrs. William Craig of Northville and Mrs. Douglas Clifton of Warren.

There will be an emphasis on music and the arts as Mrs. Craig holds a certificate in music and Mrs. Clifton, in elementary education. This is planned to start the end of the month and will not have mother participation.

THE REPUBLICAN dinner at the Sheraton-Cadillac Hotel in Detroit a week ago today was attended by Mr. and Mrs. E. O. Weber. Chairman of the Wayne II district, Bud Weber renewed acquaintances with Republicans the Webers met at the national convention in Miami. Honor guest was George Murphy of California, who flew in to help with the fund-raising.

The dinner was one of 22 being held about the country, raising a total of five million dollars to help Richard Nixon's campaign. (The Detroit fete was $1,000 a plate for men with their ladies being served for $100).

GIBRALTAR, Michigan, on the Detroit River, was the Saturday destination of Mr. and Mrs. Harry Luehrs, 21183 East Chigwidden Drive. There duck decoy collectors and "appreciators" gathered at a state convention.

Says 'Back Door' Tourists

Czech Crisis Stirs 'Air of Doom'

"People in Yugoslavia felt it was the beginning of World War III," Mrs. Mariann Zander, Northville art teacher, recalled as she related how a veritable "air of doom" seemed to hang over Europe as Russia invaded Czechoslovakia a few weeks ago.

With her husband, Nicholas, owner of Nick's Northville barber shop, she spent six weeks touring France, Austria, Germany, Italy, Hungary and her husband's native Yugoslavia this past summer.

"We were on our way through Hungary toward the 'back door' of Czechoslovakia," she told her young art pupils at Moraine and Amerman elementary as she showed colored slides of the trip, "when the Russians came in the 'front door' to Prague."

The Zanders, who were touring by car, then changed itinerary of their trip, which was a honeymoon delayed one year. (Mariann Zander — whose brown eyes and hands also "talk" expressively — explained that last year her college graduation and marriage were enough; so the trip was postponed until this year.)

It really was a honeymoon, she added, as she described the lovely

Mediterranean resorts on the coast of the Adriatic Sea where they spent "a lot of time."

In the small towns inside the country, however, she said, it truly is another world, much behind ours. In these areas, she explained as she sketched a tiny village that was her father's birthplace, 100-year-old buildings aren't old.

The Zanders, who were accompanied on the trip by his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Blaz Zander of Plymouth, also visited the industrial city of Kutina where the senior Zanders spent their time visiting old friends.

Nick Zander has returned to Yugoslavia several times since he first escaped after his country was occupied. On this trip the Zanders re-discovered the Austrian farm estate near Klagenfurt where he worked in 1956-7 before coming to the United States.

Typical of the country attitude, Mrs. Zander illustrates, was this farm owner with whom Nick reminisced over a glass of wine. Nick remarked that Austria had grown. "Oh, really," the farmer commented, "I've never been off the farm."

What the people have now, Mrs.

Zander commented, is "300 per cent better than in the past" but it will "take 300 years to catch up." She emphasized that she was differentiating between the economy and the people, whom, she stressed, "are wonderful." The irritations, she pointed out, are "filling out 21 papers in triplicate to mail a cuckoo clock."

The picturesque side of their visit, Mrs. Zander illustrates by showing slides of a gypsy band of about 70, complete with dancing bears, that they encountered.

Because Nick speaks Russian and German in addition to Serbo-Croatian language of Yugoslavia, the couple could travel relatively easily alone. Mrs. Zander confides she learned Serbo-Croatian to speak better with Nick's parents. Her own father, Ivan Sigur, a horticulturalist in Warren, is Yugoslavian. Her mother is Italian.

This month the Zanders, who live on Beck Road in Plymouth, are awaiting word regarding the arrival of Nick's brother, Bronco, his wife and two children, whom he is bringing to this country as he has other relatives. Since Bronco is a chemical engineer, it was difficult to get permission for him to leave and the Zanders have their fingers crossed that he finally will make it.

DAR to Show Indian Arts

Indian history will come to life as costumed Indians, their arts and crafts are exhibited in the Indian show being sponsored by the Sarah Ann Cochrane Chapter, DAR, October 5 and 6 at the Joy Road Studio, 48234 Joy Road, Plymouth.

Adults and children are invited to come from noon to 6 p.m. to see the program, which includes dances by Indian children, and to help raise funds for Michigan Indian Scholarship Funds.

Mrs. Donald Sober is chairman of the project with Mrs. Felix Hoheisel, co-chairman.

YUGOSLAVIAN ARCHITECTURE with weathered, peaked roofs is captured by Mrs. Mariann Zander, Northville elementary art teacher, as she sketches the hamlet where her father was born and which she and her husband, Nicholas, visited this past summer. She recalled the tension as many Czechoslovakian refugees arrived in Yugoslavia after the summer Russian invasion of their country.

24-Page Book Shows History of Plymouth

Hudson has been collecting pictures of bygone Plymouth for the past two years. Included in the book is a list of the local people who made pictures available to him. The book is dedicated to the Historical Society.

The book is being made available in Plymouth stores.

Mr. Luehrs, who had begun his decoy collection in Grand Rapids, joined a Greater Detroit group after they moved here last year. "Antiques" in this hobby, Mrs. Luehrs commented, are of relatively last date since decoys dating from about 1900 are considered old. While their decorating is contemporary, they find this type of collection blends well.

ANTIQUE FANCIERS are promised a varied selection at the flea market being held in conjunction with the Presbyterian Woman's Association home tour Saturday, October 5.

Chairman Nan Froelich (Mrs. Robert) has assembled a goodly selection of articles on consignment at her home, 369 Maplewood, already. (Anyone in the community may bring items with 20 per cent of the sale price going to the church.) She already has a set of six Victorian chairs, a large brass kettle, a Tiffany lamp, candlesticks and other small items in her recreation room, the sale headquarters.

Mrs. Albert Pfluecke, tour chairman, announces that again this year the Presbyterian women have the "ecumenical cooperation" of the women of St. Paul's Lutheran church, who will serve luncheon at their church from 11:30 a.m. to 2 p.m. Mrs. E. O. Weber is in charge of reservations with groups asked to call her in advance, 349-9971. Price again is $1.25.

Northville Woman's Club will open its 72nd year next Friday with its first out-of-town meeting in recent years as 72 members meet for luncheon in the impressive Rivera Court of the Detroit Institute of Arts at 12:15 p.m. Afterward they will take an escorted tour of the institute.

Mrs. William Switzler, program chairman for the day, suggests members enter the institute through the Woodward Avenue doors and go through the Great Hall to the Rivera Court beyond. Those who signed for bus transportation are to park at the Northville Downs where they will leave by chartered bus promptly at 11 a.m.

Public Use of Pool Limited to Groups

Northville's new high school swimming pool will be opened to the public — but there's strings attached.

Members of the board of education agreed last week to open the pool to organized groups within the community that agree to pay all costs involved.

Cost has been set at $55 for a two hour block of time, covering salaries of three life-guards, maintenance, custodian, heat, lights and chemicals.

The pool reportedly will accommodate 100 persons at one time.

It will not be open for individuals on a fee basis. Only groups may "rent" it for their members, according to officials who emphasize that all group swimming activity will be directed by the school.

Because of insufficient funds in its budget, the board of education is not footing any of the swimming bill for public use. Normally, school systems pay part of the bill. In such cases the average fee for individuals runs between 50-cents and 75-cents.

School President Asks Budget Study

Nagged by three millage failures as the Northville School District faces "serious" financial problems, Board President Stanley Johnston named a special budget study committee last week.

In naming the committee and charging it with the responsibility of steeping itself in budget matters, Johnston may have launched the earliest budget study in the history of the school system.

Named to the committee from the board were Dr. Orlo Robinson, secretary; Andrew Orphan, treasurer; and Richard Martin, trustee. "It is my intention," said Johnston, "that each member of this committee be fully aware of the financial structure of the district, including source of income, actual income, and anticipated and actual expenditures."

"There is little doubt in my mind that our two-mill request will have to be renewed again in the coming months. The combined efforts of the board and administration must develop a better and more effective vehicle for bringing our educational needs to the community."

"This subcommittee is to serve as the first stage of the new vehicle."

Johnston prefaced his appointment with a remark that "unless drastic changes are made in the method of financing education, the immediate future years will face similar financial problems."

The board president indicated that because of the two-year salary contract with teachers and the three-year salary contract with the district's support staff, approximately 80-percent of expenditures in the 1969-70 budget are already known and should make budget projections more accurate than in the past.

COMMUNITY GRATITUDE — Novi Jaycee President Bob Stambaugh hands Corporal Dale Gross a check for $60.10 which was 50-percent of the proceeds from the Jaycees 'Gala Days' biggest money-maker. It was the Jaycees' way of demonstrating approval of having Corporal Gross and his dog on the force while expressing sorrow at the tragic loss of Gross' first dog, Rusty. Gross who, with his wife is moving to a home on McMahon Circle, says the new dog (pictured), named Banner, has an even finer nose for tracking than did Rusty.

No Vote Seen As Mandate

To the Editor:

The parade of letters concerning the Northville school system millage election has left us disgusted and nauseated. If we believe all that we read, those who voted against the tax increase are selfish, hostile and vindictive people who are indifferent to the needs and welfare of the student body and the school system, and can no longer be called good Christians. However, there are two sides to the coin, and through the haze of name-calling, one would get the impression that many of the ugly Americans who feel themselves to be the supreme judges of how things must be done, still don't get the message.

We have had many tax increases during recent years; some called fiscal reform, others to finance wars or fight inflation, and still others to pay for new social programs our government officials feel that we must have. The average voter resents these tax increases for several reasons. Individuals, like business and industry, must live within their incomes. Each added cost must be considered in the light of what other things we must give up. Not so with government, or other tax financed activities. There is seldom an unneeded program that can be cut out or an efficiency improvement that can be brought about to pay for the new needs. Additional programs always require additional cost, higher taxes and more things the taxpayer must do without. It always seems to end up that the only public program that is reduced or cut is the taxpayers' income.

Often the taxpayer is aware of a real need for additional services, and after considering the alternatives, is willing to increase his own tax payments to get these services. Too often, however, a tax increase request comes with the threat to cut important or desirable activities if the tax increase is not approved. The voter rebels at this form of blackmail. His no vote in effect tells government or the school board to go back and look at the overall cost again. Find some less needed programs to cut, or perhaps improve administrative efficiency and eliminate some non-teaching jobs. We are sure that the Northville school administration will be able to do the job with the tax income they have when they become convinced that this is what the taxpayers expect of them.

Finally, we believe that the hostile and vindictive looks observed by some people at the last election were really looks of resignation and disgust because the ugly American would not listen to the other side of the story and take no for an answer the first two times. We view the millage defeat, not as a denial of education or advantage to our students, but rather as a mandate to the school board to get the job done within the present school income just as we taxpayers must accomplish the job of living within our own incomes.

It's 39-6: Take Your Pick, Northville or Novi Mustangs Win; Nirider Injured

QB Out For '68

Northville Quarterback Stan Nirider is lost for the season with a broken arm.

That announcement clouded an otherwise cheerful appraisal of his Northville Mustangs' fine victory over Waterford Mott for Coach Alex Klukach.

The coach expressed disappointment at the loss of his outstanding quarterback and defensive safety, but expressed hope that understudy Richard Adams will come along to the point of at least partially filling Nirider's shoes.

Only players Klukach faulted in entire contest were his second string linebacks who failed to cover their receivers and enabled Mott to complete more passes than would otherwise have been possible.

The coach also sorted out several players for special praise. Among these were Barry Deal, the workhorse halfback who gained over 100 yards, Fred Hicks, Brian Myers, and Terry Mills.

Klukach said it was a "very satisfying victory, a good team victory. We were trying to build up momentum for our league opener with Brighton and we feel we're really going to be ready for them."

Coach David Lantz of Brighton's Bulldogs hopes to give the Northville Mustangs a very warm welcome in Northville's league opener tomorrow.

Lantz has only one senior in his starting lineup and hopes to build a future powerhouse. As a matter of fact, he feels he has the material to start winning before this season ends.

The coach says he has his Bulldogs really fired up and growling for the Mustangs. He has no outstanding individuals, however.

The Bulldogs starting offense probably will have Tony Byvee at quarterback and Mark Warren (5'8", 190 pounds) at fullback flanked by Richard Ames and Miles Vieau at the halves. The line is centered by Mickey Kourt, flanked by guards Bill Johnson and Tom Bowditch, tackles Tom Theiser and Jim Pearsall and ends Jeff Miller (the only senior) and Dave Harmon.

Warren and 6'3", 215 pound sophomore Carl Roberts are the outstanding defensive players. Both are linebacks.

Coach Lantz feels his boys are beginning to overcome the mental errors that cost them so dearly in their first two games and are jelling into a team that will be no pushover for anyone from here on out.

A hunch that paid off on an exciting 73-yard razzle dazzle touchdown sprint highlighted Northville's easy 39-6 home opener victory Friday night over Waterford Mott.

Mott, a newcomer to the Mustangs' football schedule this year, had opened the second half with a touchdown and had apparently stopped the Mustangs' touchdown express when Coach Alex Klukach played a hunch and sent in Craig MacDermid. The ball rested on the Northville 27, first down and 25 following a penalty.

One play and 73 yards later, MacDermid had completed the power sweep over the right side, outdistancing all pursuers and scampering into the end zone. Mott was never again able to mount a serious threat.

Pat Cayley's fine kickoff return of 30 yards started the initial Northville drive and put the ball on the Mott 43 yard line. These 43 yards were covered in eight plays, with Barry Deal diving over from the one. The longest play in the drive was a 19-yard Stan Nirider to Craig Turnbull pass play.

Mott's starting quarterback, Gerald McNair, took to the air immediately and moved the team well until they reached mid field where the Mustang defense rose to the occasion and held.

Later, Terry Ruffato fumbled a punt and Brian Myers recovered the ball for the Mustangs to set the stage for the second TD. Cayley dove in from the one four plays later. (he missed the conversion after having booted the first one). Key play in this drive was a beautiful diving catch by Mills on a pass from Nirider. Nirider was hurt on the play and forced from the game.

Waterford was unable to move the ball and punted to Mills. Started near midfield, Northville moved to the 16 on an interference call against Randy Cooper on a Dick Adams pass intended for Fred Holdsworth. Adams, however, was unable to pass the Mustangs any closer to paydirt and Mott took over on the 16.

An exchange of punts followed with Waterford winding up on its own 20. On the first play at that point, McNair fumbled a bad snap from center and Brad Conklin alertly covered it on the 17. Three plays later Deal swept around right end and sped into the end zone from nine yards out.

The 19-0 score did not hold up long, however, as Mills picked off McNair's pass on the first play following the next kickoff and stepped off the 38 yards to another touchdown. The half ended with Northville leading 25-0.

In the second half a much more exciting Mott team took the field. Sophomore Bill Ziem, now the quarterback, pinpointed passes and skillfully planned ground plans to keep the defense honest.

Ziem connected on several short but key passes to Ruffato, End Jim Ford and Halfback Chuck Dohner to set up the TD pass and run play of 22 yards with Ruffato. Scott Butler blocked McNair's conversion attempt, however.

Stunned by this quick score, Northville looked sluggish and capable of being beaten until Coach Klukach sent MacDermid in for the play that sealed Mott's doom.

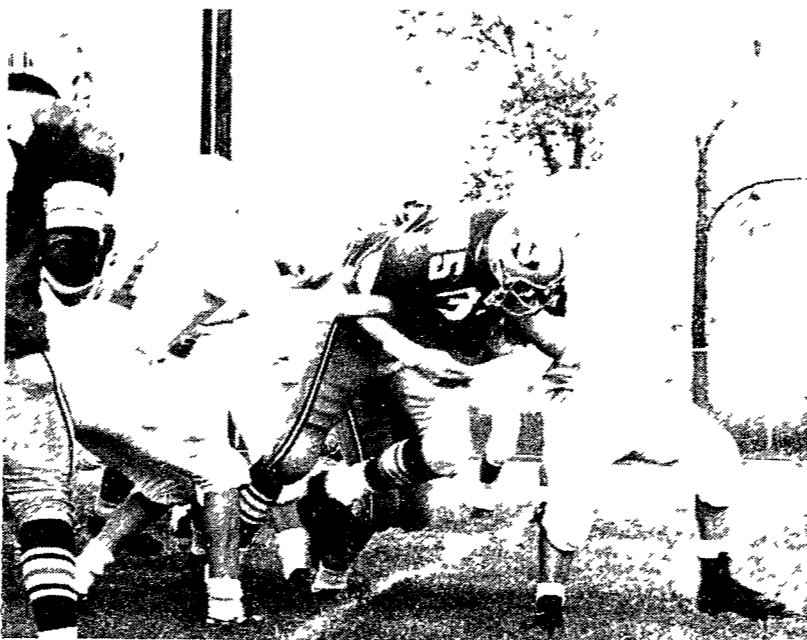

The game's other score came in the fourth quarter when Bernie Bach made a great circus catch of Adams' sideline pass and scampered home from 24 yards out. Cayley's last two boots were good, rounding out a sweet home opener victory.

HUMAN BULLDOZER—Novi Fullback Ken Osborn drives for short yardage through Livonia Churchhill defenders.

CHURCHHILL'S GARY WARNER was intended receiver, but Wildcat Safety Doug Schott picked off this aerial from Jerry Oljace near the end of the first half Friday.

NOT THIS TIME — Barry Deal is stopped by Mott's Greg Pizza on a bone-jarring tackle.

TERRY MILLS ROLLS TO OUTSIDE — with blocking help from Craig Turnbull as Mott's Terry Ruffato comes up from rear.

Wildcats Throttle Livonia Churchhill

Novi's Wildcats scored early and often in their 39-6 trouncing of Livonia Churchhill Friday afternoon.

At full strength for the first time in the short history of the high school, Novi gained some measure of satisfaction by showing Churchhill what it's like not to have juniors or seniors and to buck an all-grade high school.

It was Novi's first triumph in two starts this season, and it was one of the sweetest victories since Novi began high school competition two years ago.

After forcing Churchhill to relinquish the ball following the opening series, Novi's Rick Hill galloped to the Wildcats' 48-yard line on the punt. John Van Wagner rolled to the 30 in two plays, and Gary Boyer zipped around left end to another first down at the 12. Van Wagner bucked over left tackle on the next play to notch the first TD and then added the first of his three extra point kicks.

Unable to crash through the defense, Churchhill once again gave up the ball following the kickoff. Joe Morrison tried his hand at running and slipped over tackle from the fullback slot and picked up six yards, followed by two yards on a dive play Boyer then pitched out to John Davey, who eluded all defenders to score from 37 yards out.

The next time Novi had the ball — just minutes later, the Wildcats scored in more methodical manner, with Van Wagner eventually breaking through two tackles to power his way into the end zone from eight yards out. A key play in this drive was a 22-yard Boyer to Doug Earl pass.

A recovered fumble by Boyer off a bad snap from center to Churchhill Quarterback Jerry Oljace on the Livonia 13-yard-line set up the final Wildcat score of the first half. A well-executed reverse enabled Ken Osborn to scoot in from the 10 on this one. VanWagner's boot made it 26-0 at the half.

After several exchanges of the pigskin in the second half, another bad snap from center and another fumble by Oljace gave Novi still another break. Tom Van Wagner fell on this one at the Livonia 33. Tom's brother Jon carried twice from this point, once for 14 yards and the next time for the TD.

Reserves poured on the field from the Wildcats' bench at this point and they, too, held. Once again Jack Stewart was forced to punt for Churchhill. And again Novi scored — this time in only two plays. Joe Morrison lugged the ball 25 yards for the first play, then Doug Schott, second-string quarterback, hit Davey with an 18-yard strike to paydirt.

Livonia, now trailing 39-0, suddenly caught fire. After two exchanges of punts, Churchhill took over on its own 43. Oljace, realizing he was unable to pass, tried running instead and scampered to successive first downs at the Novi 39 and the 28. Another pass failed, so he gave the ball to workhorse halfback Evan Smith, who moved to the 11 in two plays. Faking to Smith, Oljace passed off to Paul Meeks on a reverse and he reached the two before he was dropped.

On the next play, Smith dived in for Churchhill's only score of the day.

Novi Invades Dearborn Tomorrow Afternoon

Steve Pomroy and Lev Taffalian opened the holes and Jon Van Wagner and John Davey took advantage.

This was the appraisal Coach John Osborne gave of his Novi Wildcats' fine home opener victory over Livonia Churchhill last Friday. Coach Osborne, however, was quick to add that he felt it was an outstanding team effort.

Some changes will be in store for Wildcats' fans this week as the coach hopes to go with two offensive backfields and thus keep more boys at their sharpest. Also it will give fans a greater opportunity to observe tackle turned fullback Joe Morrison in action.

Osborne feels his squad is starting to come around and has high hopes of avenging basketball and track losses handed them last year by the Cougars from Dearborn Annapolis.

Coach Ron Bales of Annapolis has only 9th, 10th and 11th graders (a problem not unknown at Novi) to choose from this year. His varsity is, however, made up from an undefeated 1967 JV squad.

Bales wants Annapolis to continue its mastery over Novi shown in other sports last year when they clash on the Dearborn school's gridiron at 3:30 p.m. tomorrow.

CHURCH DEDICATION—The First Baptist Church of Wixom conducted a dedication Sunday afternoon of its new $150,000 educational unit. Several Wixom officials joined with church officials and guest ministers from throughout Michigan in special services (above). Below is the olive green carpeted corridor in the new addition.

Grid Fans Start Slow Good Contest Entries Scarce

Good entries were scarce in the first Northville Record—Novi News football contest of the new season.

Only three contestants missed less than five games. And Steve Bosak, 43000 Nine Mile Road, was all alone in first place with only two wrong selections.

Jack Williams, 505 Rouge Street, and Steve Kehrer, 46090 Norton street, each submitted entries with just four wrong but Williams was awarded second place money because his prediction of the score between the Lions and Bears was closer than Kehrer's.

Bosak wins $10, Williams $5 and Kehrer, $3.

One game in the contest was eliminated entirely from the scoring — it wasn't even scheduled. Somehow, the contest judge goofed and had New Mexico State playing Utah State. This unplayed game wasn't counted in the corrections. And every contestant missed the Houston-Texas game, which ended in a tie.

Few fans were loyal enough to pick the Lions, who had suffered a one-sided defeat in Dallas a week ago.

Steve Bosak's winning entry was nearly perfect. In addition to missing the tie game between Texas and Houston, he only slipped up on the University of Michigan. And you can probably blame that to loyalty.

There's another contest this week. So turn to page 8-B and try again.

As a bonus, here's an inside tip from Ye Olde Contest Editor: Purdue over Notre Dame, Detroit over Green Bay.

U-M Heart Transplant Excites Northville Pair

The progress of Michigan's first heart transplant patient, Philip T. Barnum, at University of Michigan has been of special interest and concern to two Northville residents who are on the hospital staff.

Dr. Charles Wheatley had been serving on the U-M medical team keeping the patient alive until a suitable donor could be found while Mrs. John DaSilva (Judy Nauman), a cardiac surgery nurse, has Barnum among her patients.

Dr. Wheatley, who completed his internist specialized training at the university in June, now is in cardiology.

His entire family found the news of the transplant for the 49-year-old Kalamazoo accountant "extremely exciting" as they knew Dr. Wheatley and other doctors on the hospital medical staff had been awaiting a donor since the patient has been transferred to the coronary care unit August 8 from Ann Arbor Veterans' hospital. They knew that through new drugs that patient had been kept alive for three weeks while a donor whose systems matched was sought.

Dr. Wheatley had met Philip Barnum when he was first a patient at veterans' hospital and was there when the decision was made to give the transplant.

The patient was among Mrs. DaSilva's patients when she returned to duty Sunday night in the cardiac surgery unit. She had been on an eight-day vacation to Hawaii where she had a reunion with her husband, Dr. John DaSilva, who was on rest leave from duty in Vietnam.

He has been serving near Quang Tri where recent casualties have been taken.

Awaiting Trial On Gun Charge

Jerry Cole, who has operated the Mobil service station on Novi Road at I-96, is being held at Oakland County Jail on $2000 bond in the guns and credit cards case that has kept the Novi police force tied up for the past two weeks.

Cole appeared before Justice of Peace Emery Jacques on Thursday, September 19 and had his bond reduced from $5,000, but was returned to county jail to await trial.

The charges against Cole are fraudulent use of credit cards and possession of unregistered gun or guns.

Story Hour To Return

The always popular story hour program, sponsored by the Novi Public Library, will resume on Wednesday, October 2, Librarian Mrs. Robert Flattery announced this week.

Open to all pre-school youngsters of Novi, the story hour will be held weekly at 2 p.m.

The storyteller for the first program will be Mrs. Kalin Johnson. Thereafter, mothers of the children will take turns reading stories.

South Lyon Youth Jailed

Michael Bulmon of South Lyon will be cooling his heels in jail for the next 30 days.

Bulmon, 21, and Lee Mullins, 17, of 128 Maudlin were charged with assault and battery for abducting two juvenile girls and their young brother as they walked home from babysitting on West Lake Drive. The abduction occurred in front of the address where the children had been working, only four houses from their own home.

Novi Corporal Dale Gross and his police dog Banner were called to assist the Wixom police force when the car containing the youths and the three juveniles was forced to the side of the road on Loon Lake Road and the two boys fled on foot. Police were able to capture Bulmon. Mullins is being sought on a Novi police warrant for arraignment.

The incident occurred Monday night, and Justice of Peace Emery Jacques sentenced the Bulmon youth to 30 days in jail upon arraignment Tuesday morning.

MAKING RIGHT DECISIONS ON THE JOB

Both Judy DaSilva and Dr. Wheatley have participated in a new era in medicine that Dr. Wheatley told his family has future significance that might be pointed up by a notation on an EKG heart tracing taken his week on Philip Barnum. It read: "Same man. Different heart."

Rezoning Request Recommended

Northville township planners recommended approval of a rezoning request submitted by the Boron Oil Company to permit construction of a service station at Six Mile and Haggerty.

The action was taken Tuesday evening. Last month the planning board held a public hearing on the request and received a petition containing 35 signatures of residents of the area objecting to the rezoning.

The board's recommendation now goes to the township board of trustees for final action. It will probably be considered at next Tuesday's meeting.

In other business Tuesday night the planners referred two rezoning requests to the township planning consultant for study. One request was submitted by Slavik Realty for RM-1 zoning (multiple dwellings) on 67.79 acres along the north side of Six Mile road near Bradner; the second was also for multiples (RM-2) for condominium apartments on 9.75 acres at Bradner and Franklin roads.

Planners approved a preliminary plat for Roanoke Hills subdivision, a development of 30 homes on three-quarter acre lots on the north side of Seven Mile Road just west of Beck road.

Ex-Northville Business Celebrates 40th Year

A business that operated in Northville during its early days is celebrating its fortieth anniversary this weekend.

Saxton's Garden Center, 587 West Ann Arbor trail, Plymouth, is celebrating its birthday with a three-day sale event and open house today, Friday and Saturday.

Once there were three Saxton stores — "Northville Feed", "Redford Feed" and "Plymouth Feed". The Northville store was located for many years on the northeast corner of Cady and Center streets from 1928 until 1943. In more recent years the corner was the site of Guernsey Farms Dairy.

It, too, has moved and now the corner is used as a parking lot for Northville Lanes bowling alley. Northville Feed was also located at 144 East Main street.

Dean Saxton, original owner of Northville Feed, now shares the business with his son, Bill, who is manager of the Garden Center in Plymouth. Dean says that occasionally one of his original customers from Northville will stop at his Plymouth store for a chat. He hopes more will visit him for refreshments this week.

Often overlooked in the game of football is the little pregame drama in the center of the gridiron. Some games are won or lost there. Not so this time. Novi lost the toss of the coin Friday but won the game easily, 39-6, which by the way was the identical score Northville posted in winning the same day. See details on sports page.

"The words, 'once again' — and only once — imply that the shaking of these created things means their removal, and then what is not shaken will remain. The kingdom we are given is unshakable." Hebrews 12:27-28a.

As we examine our personal lives and the life of our nation and the world, we find men clinging desperately to those things that cannot last. This has been man's condition down through the years. The unknown writer of Hebrews faced such a condition in his day. About the end of the first century, civilization was entering a period of moral and spiritual decay. Corruption was present in all segments of the nation's life. Why was this happening? The writer of Hebrews points out that the things that were being shaken were things that could be shaken. They were the devices of men. Then, as now, the devices of men were not the things in which real happiness could be found. Harry Cotten in the Interpreter's Bible puts it this way:

"By shaken is clearly meant the transient, the visible, the relatively unreal, which will one day be removed that the eternal may stand forth in abiding grandeur."

Men through the centuries have come to rely on those things that are limited by time. They have gained a false sense of security by allowing their affections to cling to the wrong things. So as men refuse to put their trust in God and rely on their own resources, there come times of shaking. These are unpleasant and hard times, but out of them come new insights of God, revealing what cannot be shaken. For instance, Israel's progress was hindered by its failure to respond to the will and purpose of God. They continually wandered from God to other gods. Then came the trying experience of being exiled to Babylon. But even there God made himself known, the result being that the exiles turned from other gods and came to know the only true God.

Many today are reluctant to admit that God doesn't really mean much to them anymore, but that's really how it is for countless numbers. Edward K. Ziegler's rendering of the Twenty-Third

Psalm might illustrate our condition:

"Science is my Shepherd, I shall not want. He maketh me to lie down on foam rubber mattresses; he leadeth me beside six-lane highways; he rejuvenateth my thyroid glands; he leadeth me in the paths of psychoanalysis for peace of mind's sake. Yea, though I walk through the valley of the shadow of the iron curtain, I will fear no communist; for thou art with me; thy radar screen and thy hydrogen bomb, they comfort me. Thou preparest a banquet before me in the presence of the world's billion hungry people. Thou anointest my head with home permanents. My beer glass foameth over. Surely prosperity and pleasure shall follow me all the days of my life; and I will dwell in Shangri-la forever."

In spite of all of this, the writer of Hebrews claims the Kingdom we have been given is unshakable. There are things in life that point to the contrary, but God is alive. God is a loving father, who struggles with us in our daily frustrations. If we suffer, He suffers. In short, he does involve himself in the everyday happenings of life. To turn to God with sincerity and trust and dare to live, one can become aware of that unshakable Kingdom. As you participate in what God is doing, you begin to know God.

THE CHURCH FOR ALL
ALL FOR THE CHURCH
The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the Church. They are: (1) For his own sake. (2) For his children's sake. (3) For the sake of his community and nation. (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.

CALENDAR GIRLS— Cheryl Earehart, 623 Randolph, is featured in the cover photograph (center above) of the Huron Valley Girl Scout calendar for 1968-9. Cheryl, a Junior Scout in troop 361, was photographed while attending resident camp last summer at Camp Linden with

Diane Thomas, left, of Carleton, and Debbie James, Ann Arbor. Theme of the calendar, being distributed to 3,000 adults in the Huron Valley council, is "We're 10 years Old" — age of the council and the three "cover girls."

Harry Hartshorne, scout committeeman; Andy Pelt, assistant scoutmaster; and Mark Van Drie, Ricky Whitesell, Rick Brown, Bill Fiorilli, and Peter Emens.

For Administrators

Plymouth Boosts School Salaries

Northville School District is not alone when it comes to increasing salaries.

On the heels of teacher salary hikes as in Northville the Plymouth Board of Education also boosted the salaries of its school administrators to maintain the marginal difference between teachers and administrators.

The superintendent's salary was jumped from $21,000 to $25,000; assistant business superintendent, from $17,200 to $19,700; assistant elementary superintendent, from $16,000 to $18,500; acting coordinator of secondary education, from $15,000 to $17,750;

Director of buildings and grounds, from $11,550 to $13,200; the senior high school principal, from $15,750 to $18,000; administrative intern, from $10,500 to $12,500; curriculum coordinator, from $11,200 to $13,440; director of libraries, from $14,000 to $16,000;

Director of adult education-recreation, from $14,000 to $16,000; and the assistant director of adult education-recreation, from $7,975 to $9,500.

Salaries of principals and assistant principals also were raised — from 12 to 14 percent. Salaries of principals in Plymouth are higher than in Northville, ranging from $14,336 to $17,536.

Chevrolet introduces 1969.

Caprice. Match this, you other 69's!

There is no joy in the land of our competitors today. But let us ask you this. Should we have made Caprice shorter instead of the longest Chevrolet ever built? Or adorned it with flashy nicknacks to make it look less expensive? Just because competition doesn't, should we not have offered you washers to clean your headlights, new variable-ratio power steering, liquid tire chain you can apply to your rear wheels at the touch of a button?

Should we have given you less power, instead of the largest standard V8 in its field?

Some people think so. Our competitors.

'69 Caprice Coupe

MARK OF EXCELLENCE

'69 Camaro SS Sport Coupe, plus RS equipment

Camaro. Who needs to say "announcing" or "new". The Hugga. And just look how it all hangs together. No gingerbread anywhere.

We've improved the interior, too. Quieted the ride. Made the Astro Ventilation ventilate better. The power range is very impressive.

Standard V8 is 210 hp. SS engines available up to 325 hp. For added SS appeal: sport striping; power disc brakes; wide oval, road-hugging tires.

Your Chevrolet dealer offers this advice: Go on, you other sportsters. Gnash your gears and look tough.

Maybe it will help.

Putting you first, keeps us first.

Daylight Savings Time Up to Voters

5 State Proposals to Appear on November Ballot

Voters in the Presidential election will be confronted with five state propositions when they go to the polls in November.

One of the questions will concern on-again, off again controversial Daylight Savings Time. Public Act 6 provides that Michigan shall be exempted from observing Daylight Savings Time. Purpose of the referendum is to approve or reject this action.

The question, requiring a yes or no vote, is: Shall the state of Michigan observe Daylight Savings Time.

The other proposals include:

1. An income tax at flat rates or graduated as to rate or base may be imposed by the state or any of its subdivisions?
2. Shall the state of Michigan borrow the sum of $335 million and issue general obligation bonds of the state therefor pledging the full faith and credit of the state for the payment of principal and interest thereon for the purpose of planning, acquiring and present restrictions against the adoption of a graduated income tax. Presently, the law permits a flat rate income tax only.
3. Shall the state of Michigan borrow the sum of $100 million and issue general obligation bonds of the state therefor pledging the full faith and credit of the state for the payment of principal and interest thereon for the purpose of planning, acquiring and constructing facilities for the prevention and abatement of water pollution and for the making of grants, loans and advances to municipalities, political subdivisions and agencies of the state for such purposes, the method of repayment of said bonds to be from the general fund of the state?
4. Shall this section (Section 9 of Article IV of the State Constitution) be amended to permit their election to another office?

This proposal seeks permission to elect members of the Legislature during their term of office to other offices.

state therefor pledging the full faith and credit of the state for the payment of principal and interest thereon for public recreation facilities and programs consisting of land acquisition and the development of parks, forest and wildlife areas, fisheries and other facilities used or useful for public recreational purposes and for the making of grants, loans and advances to political subdivisions and agencies of the state for such recreational purposes, the method of repayment of said bonds to be from the general fund of the state?

New officers elected recently by the Faculty Wives of Schoolcraft College for the 1968-69 academic year are Mrs. Grover Niergarth, Farmington, president, Mrs. Marvin Gans, Northville, vice-president, Mrs. Gary Hershoren, Livonia, secretary; Mrs. Kenneth Allen, Livonia, treasurer; Mrs. John Bedford, Livonia, membership chairman; and Mrs. Oscar Poupart, Detroit, publicity chairman.

Faculty Wives is a service and social organization open to wives of faculty and staff members at the college and to women faculty members.

At its September meeting the organization had as guests seven foreign students attending the college. In October, the Livonia Police Dept. will present a self-protection program. The November program includes a holiday home decoration demonstration, and a family Christmas party is scheduled for December.

Ronald F. Tripp, 24, 9254 Marlowe, Plymouth, recently received the mortuary science certificate from Wayne State University and successfully passed the National Conference of Funeral Service Examining Board licensure examination.

He is scheduled to take the Michigan state licensure examination in January upon completion of his internship with an area funeral director.

Tripp is completing work on an Associate in Science degree at Schoolcraft College and will be a candidate for graduation in January. He was the first Schoolcraft student to complete the college's two-year curriculum in mortuary science and transferred last year to Wayne State University.

Associate degrees were awarded to 15 Schoolcraft College students who completed their community college academic requirements during the eight-week summer session which ended last month, Registrar Norman E. Dunn has announced.

Ten of the graduates received the Associate in Arts Degree, two received the Associate in Technology; two received the Associate in General Studies, and one student was awarded the Associate in Science degree.

Dr. Ralph Oesper, emeritus professor of analytical chemistry at the University of Cincinnati, will make two speaking appearances at Schoolcraft College on Thursday, today, as the first lecturer this fall on the college's Humanities Lecture Series.

Dr. Oesper will speak at 3 p.m. on "The Human Side of Scientists," and at 8 p.m. on "The Paths of Glory Lead But to the Grave." Both lectures are scheduled for the new college theater in the Liberal Arts Building, and are open to the public at no charge.

Dr. Oesper is widely known as a speaker on the biographical aspects of scientists, especially chemists. His study of the lives of famous scientists spans a period of 40 years and has produced several hundred papers and translations from German and French articles and books dealing primarily with the history of chemistry.

He has translated about 20 books on important phases of chemistry into English, and recently completed writing his own book entitled: "The Human Side of Scientists."

Out of THE PAST

FIVE YEARS AGO...

...One of the best known and most colorful bandsmen in all of Canada performed for a Northville audience when the Jaycees presented their first "International Band Festival".

He was Pipe Major Jock Copland, M.B.E., original organizer of the Essex and Scottish Pipe Band, and bandmaster of the Pipe Band of Branch 84, Royal Canadian Legion of Leamington.

...New plans for the proposed Northville post office were shown members of the Northville city council.

...New or improved lighting was added in 22 different locations in the city based on the findings of a report submitted to council by Councilmen Richard Ambler and Fred Kester, City Manager Bruce Potthoff and Police Chief Eugene King.

...Northville city council approved the first step in a reorganizational move designed to combine its police and fire forces into a single department of public safety.

...Storing of tons of survival food and equipment was begun in the basements and tunnels of Northville State Hospital buildings.

...The visiting Plymouth Rocks took advantage of the inexperienced Northville eleven and cashed in on two Mustang miscues to win the season opener, 26-12.

TEN YEARS AGO...

...A cool-headed assistant manager and prompt action by the Northville police department foiled an attempted $12,000 robbery at Manufacturers National bank in Northville.

Assistant Manager Leo Kalota called the holdup man's bluff and instructed Receptionist Mrs. Ruth Stroh to ring the burglar alarm. Police arrived in scant minutes to foil the attempt.

...A large area in northeast Northville was being cleared for possible development as a shopping center.

The site was located on Griswold avenue just north of the C & O overpass.

...Families were urged to get their polio shots as soon as possible, Wayne county Health Commissioner Dr. Joseph Molinar announced.

...Mustangs opened their football season against Plymouth expecting a rough contest. It was to be Northville's first victory in an undefeated season.

...Novi voters went to the polls to decide whether or not to adopt proposed village charter. The vote was to climax years of discussion and months of planning that had become the hottest issue of debate in the history of Novi.

...Novi voters were also asked to vote on a proposed solution to the district's long-standing financial problem. Residents were asked to increase the operating millage by 2½ mills for each of the next five years.

FIFTEEN YEARS AGO...

...Northville's long-awaited Community Building began to rise from the ground as builders kept a wary eye on that ever present but unpredictable factor in any construction job - the weather.

Bulldozer and steam shovel operators from the Wallace Construction Company broke ground at the lot on West Main street and the race with winter was on.

...The Village Commission authorized the Finance Committee to begin liquidation of $179,000 worth of bonds in the Public Improvement Fund to provide money for the Community Building under construction.

...The Wesleyan Service Guild of the First Methodist Church held a Homecoming dinner for guest speaker, Leslie Williams, former pastor of First Methodist. Musical leadership was provided by Mrs. Drake Older, Mrs. Leslie Lee and Mrs. Ivan Hodgson.

...The Village Commission made preliminary moves toward a re-evaluation of water rates after Commissioners agreed that Northville was not getting the price it should have been for water supplied to home and industrial users.

...The Mustangs prepared to meet South Lyon after having defeated Plymouth 21-0.

TWENTY YEARS AGO...

...The Northville Community Concert Association closed its membership drive after assuring its members three concerts.

The Talent Committee, comprised of Mrs. Gladys Connors, Florence Keith, Leslie Lee, William Williams, Carl Bryan, Margaret Fredsell, Henry Schnute, Edmund Yerkes, Ida Blucher, and Esther Lockman had chosen the Don Cossack choir and dancers, Soprano Camilla Williams, and violinist Yfrah Neaman.

...Mustangs played their second football game of the 1948 season against Inkster Roosevelt after having lost their opener 13-6 to Brighton.

...Northville High School class officers elected were: ninth grade, Charles Ely, Wayne Hoffman, Peter Pletsch and George Stalker; tenth grade, Tom Heslip, Denny Winkler, Alice Newton and Geraldine Shames; eleventh grade, Gerald Gelnor, Dick Robinson, June Boyd and Joyce Wick; and twelfth grade, Jack Heslip, Dick Kremkow, Barbara Simpson and Yvonne North.

...Mrs. Myrtle Labbitt, Women's Editor of Radio Station CKLW, spoke before the Northville Woman's Club on "The Little People of Europe".

TWENTY-FIVE YEARS AGO...

...Guest speakers occupied the pulpit at St. Paul's Lutheran Church at the two services conducted in observance of the annual mission festival. Rev. H. Quitmeyer of Detroit and Rev. Carl Brauer of St. Paul's Lutheran Church in Ann Arbor were guest pastors.

...24,715 bottles of milk were distributed to grade school children in the first half of the past year under the Mothers Club Penny Milk Fund. The Club and the government shared the cost of the milk at a penny a bottle for all grade school children in Northville.

...Harry B. Clark, original sponsor of Veteran's Memorial Hall, was named chairman of Special Gifts Committee.

Veteran's Memorial Hall Fund Campaign chairman Ben T. Steers saw 50 per cent of the goal in sight.

...D. H. Van Hove of Beck Road went to Chicago to attend the presentation of the "E" award to the Great Lakes Spring Corporation for outstanding accomplishments in its field.

...A free show was given to those who responded in the Third War Bond Drive at Northville Theatre. Owner Harry Lush scheduled "Mr. Lucky" starring Cary Grant and Laraine Day for the occasion.

...At the board meeting of the Northville Red Cross chapter, President Mrs. E. H. Wood urged local cooperation with Mrs. W. E. Forney in getting registrations for the blood bank.

Bernice Sanford, $575; assistant Beatrice Belford, $450; 8th grade teacher Belle Covert, $400; 7th grade teacher J. Henry Smith was granted $225 for teaching music.

... "Violators will be prosecuted", said the game warden of the new fish and game laws which were little changed from 1901. Some of the provisions given in the synopsis were as follows:

....Deer-open season, November 8 to 30 inclusive, in each year except on the island of Bois Blanc and the counties of Huron, Monroe, Sanilac, Tuscola, Macomb, Lapeer, Allegan, Ottawa and St. Clair, where deer cannot be hunted until 1906 and the counties of Lake, Osceola, Clare, Mason, Manistee, Wexford, Missaukee, Newaygo, Mecosta, Isabella, Benzie, Leelanau, Grand Traverse, Oceana and Gladwin, where the deer cannot be hunted until 1908. Truck Flips, Driver Hurt In Near Crash

A severe personal injury accident highlighted Novi police investigations during the past week.

Laverne F. Wadenstorer of Farmington was hospitalized with a broken shoulder and cuts of the face, ears and arms from shattered window glass when his truck rolled over on 12 Mile Road.

According to police, Wadenstorer was eastbound on 12 Mile in his pickup truck when he came up over the crest of the road near 42053 12 Mile. He swerved the truck to avoid hitting Mrs. Sylvia Kenny, who was backing from her driveway, and lost control.

Officer Jerry Burnham picked up a young woman who seemed "out of place" walking north along Novi Road. It turned out that Christine L. Harris of Pontiac had been listed as a missing person from that city since August 12. She was held until she could be released to the custody of Pontiac police.

An apparent attempted rape has women on 13-Mile Road a little more cautious about whom they allow in their homes. A "good looking boy" of about 17 allegedly asked a woman if he might come in for a drink of water and then made a pass at her after he had been admitted.

John L. Thurman of South Lyon demolished his Porsche when he rolled it over at high speed on the south side of 10-Mile Road east of Wixom Road.

A break-in at the William Dunn residence, 47900 Nine Mile Road, occurred sometime September 18. Patrolman John L. Johnson and Detective Sergeant Richard Faulkner investigated and took several fingerprints. The home was entered via a rear door at the north end of the home and a portable TV and a tool box were missing.

Ellerene Copp of Copp's Riding Stable reported September 17 that a saddle valued at $250 had been stolen.

Oakland County Law Enforcement Association held its first fall meeting of 1968 on September 17 at Saratoga Farms, 42050 Grand River. William K. Hanger spoke on "Rising Crime — Causes, Effects and Solutions".

Novi Justice Court

Justice of Peace Emery Jacques had his usual busy day at Novi Justice Court Thursday, September 19.

Warnings following complaints brought Novi police in to stop Kenneth H. Stone of 24011 Meadowbrook Road from scattering junk and debris on his premises in violation of two Novi ordinances. Since he did clean up the mess, he paid only $10 on each count.

Dave Adema of 27700 Novi Road, who pleaded guilty to simple larceny of an air hose from the Texaco Station at 26666 Novi Road, paid a $35 fine, $15 costs and was ordered to make restitution.

Robert Howe of Plymouth pleaded innocent to a charge of abandoning a vehicle on 10 Mile east of Wixom

Road, but paid a $15 fine for failure to appear at his trial.

Speeding cost three other men fines in varying amounts assessed by Justice Jacques.

Dale C. Andrews of Plymouth was driving 65 in a 50 MPH zone south on Novi Road at Nine Mile Road. His guilty plea brought a $20 fine.

It cost Dale R. Schultz of Plymouth, who pleaded guilty, $45 to go 70 in a 50 MPH zone on Novi Road.

A $30 fine assessed against Robert W. Kosloski of Ypsilanti for driving 90 in a 70 MPH zone on I-96 at Novi Road.

GUEST SPEAKER —
Reverend J. Ronald MacDonald of Spring Lake is the guest speaker during a week of Autumn Revival Services (September 22-29) at the First Baptist Church of Wixom. During nightly services beginning at 7:30 p.m. Rev. MacDonald is presenting "Sermons in Song" and showing slides of his recent trip to the Holy Land.

TALUS (Detroit Regional Transportation and Land Use Study) has announced publication of a 300-page inventory of air, rail, trucking, waterway and pipeline facilities in the seven counties of Southeastern Michigan.

The inventory is an essential part of the TALUS program to develop a plan for the orderly development of the region through 1990, Irving J. Rubin, TALUS director, said.

TALUS, a special project of the Planning Division of the Southeast Michigan Council of Governments (SEMCOG) is a four-year, $4.8 million project financed by two Federal agencies, the Michigan Department of State Highways, the City of Detroit, and the Road Commissions and Boards of Supervisors of Livingston, Macomb, Monroe, Oakland, St. Clair, Washtenaw, and Wayne Counties.

Wayne County Road Commission staff members headed by Robert A. Larson, planning and negotiating engineer, completed the inventory under terms of a special contract with TALUS. The study is one of the first comprehensive region-wide inventories of such facilities in the nation.

The study shows, Rubin said, how technological developments in transportation have affected and helped maintain economic growth in Southeastern Michigan.

"Each transportation mode has a basic level of goods traffic", Rubin said, "whose volume and relationship to other modes is independent of the level of the economy. However, all modes are dependent on the level of new automobile production as a determinant of their total volume."

One of TALUS' conclusions is that even with a six-fold increase in passenger capacity, resulting from planned expansion of facilities and larger planes, Detroit Metropolitan Airport will become inadequate to serve all Regional commercial airport needs sometime in the 1980's.

"At the current rate of growth in airline passenger traffic, which has been averaging 15 percent per year at Metro, an 800 percent increase will occur in about 15 years", TALUS concludes.

"Thus, it is not too early to begin steps towards selection of a location for a second airline airport to serve the Detroit Metropolitan region. Because the existing Willow Run Airport uses essentially the same air space as Detroit Metropolitan, Willow Run is not suitable for consideration as a second airport."

Air cargo growth increased 230 percent between 1955 and 1966 compared with a 124 percent increase in air passenger growth, the survey shows.

Three factors were credited with the air cargo increase:

*Greater capacity of jet-powered planes.

*Increases in jet service and in night flights.

*A trend toward extensive air shipments of auto parts and accessories as an alternative to large regional warehouses.

Nearly 50 percent of the air cargo to and from the region is comprised of auto parts and accessories, TALUS reports.

A relatively recent advance in rail transport technology has been a major factor in increasing the level of new car production in the TALUS region. The report states:

"Development of the three-level auto-rack car which permits shipments of up to 15 new automobiles in a single flat car came at a time when automobile manufacturers were contemplating the establishment of additional regional assembly plants to reduce the high cost of shipping new automobiles over long distances."

"Introduction of auto-rack car service permitted such drastic reduction in the per vehicle cost of delivering new cars to distant points that the trend towards regional assembly plants was abandoned in favor of increased concentration of automobile manufacturing in Southeastern Michigan."

Another element demonstrating the influence of innovation in transport capability is the "hi-cube" railroad boxcar. Twice as long and half again as high as the standard boxcar, "hi-cube" units provide triple standard boxcar capacity and are being utilized for shipment to out-of-state final assembly plants of sheet metal stampings such as doors and fenders. "Uni-train" freight cars which convert into trailers for trucks are also an influence.

Among the other highlights of the report:

*Intrastate (within Michigan) trucking accounts for 45 percent of all trucks weighed at stations in SEM. When truck movements in Ohio, Pennsylvania, Illinois, and Indiana are added, 90 percent of all truck movements are accounted for, emphasizing the role of heavy trucking as carrier of goods over distances of less than 250 miles.

*Coal comprises 25 percent of the total inbound waterway tonnage (about 94 million tons annually). Diversion of much of this tonnage to rail may occur in the next decade. However, this will not reduce pressures on the region's seven for-hire general cargo port facilities which do not handle coal and bulk commodities, and trends in water-borne movements will bear watching to determine if, and when, an additional general cargo terminal might be required.

*The U.S. Air Force Base at Selfridge Field would make a good location for a second major commercial airport in the 1980's; necessary steps should be taken now to obtain the facility in the event it is abandoned by the USAF.

*Pipelines shipping natural gas and petroleum into the region are not a major problem in land use because these are underground. Nine firms are operating pipelines in the region. Among the data items: natural gas sales in SEM increased 190 percent between 1955 and 1964.

Copies of the report entitled "Inventory of Airports, Harbors, Railroads, Pipelines and Truck Terminals" are available at $7.50 each from TALUS at 1248 Washington Boulevard, Detroit, Michigan, 48226.

Esch, Vivian Attack President's Vietnam Policy

Governor George Wallace is making few inroads into the Second District's Republican vote, but there is a danger that Wallace votes will force the selection of a president into the House of Representatives.

"We may have to put more money into our cities," said Esch. "I believe we will. But more significantly — and this is what this election is all about — are we going to continue on with the programs of the 1930s and 40s which were dominated by the federal government and in which we think money is going to solve the problems?"

"Or are we going to be innovative and creative and admit that the only thing the federal government can do is to form a framework, structure or the pattern through which the local community — the expertise of the local community and the private sector — gets the job done?"

It is in these areas — domestic issues — where the congressman contends he offers a good deal more than his opponent. "The crucial issue facing us domestically is are you going to continue on with more of Johnson and Humphrey? Are you going to have people in Congress that are going to speak out objectively for what they believe in?"

My opponent voted 95-percent of the time for Mr. Johnson. If you want to have the Johnson-Humphrey administration continue you'll vote for Wes Vivian. But if you believe we have other methods through which we can solve some of these problems ... then vote for Marvin Esch."

Asked which nominee best represented his philosophy — Nixon or Rockefeller — Esch did not hesitate: "George Romney. I think the governor is needed in the country and I think the country really could have used George Romney. And I supported him, although I came out in Florida for Mr. Rockefeller because I thought that he was the best alternative that the Republican Party had at the time."

"At the same time, I indicated then and I have indicated since that I support Mr. Nixon. I think he does have the opportunity to unite the country, to be objective and to accept the responsibility for those problems we have."

Referring to the candidacy of Wallace, the Congressman said:

"The most important thing that we can do as candidates is to not dwell on fear. What the country needs are people who speak out — responsibly and objectively and admit that there are problems. And attack the administration whenever it fails. I've done that throughout my two years. But you do it objectively and responsibly, and in that way I'm showing the people — at least I trust I am — that the Wallace candidacy is something that they should negate."

Esch does not believe Wallace's candidacy will make any substantial difference in the Second District "and I don't intend to have it make a difference. But I think there is a danger that people, because of the frustrations, may turn to Wallace as a simple and easy answer when in effect what they may be doing is to push the vote into the House of Representatives, which would be extremely dangerous for the country."

It is difficult to tell who stands to lose most by the governor's candidacy, said Esch, but perhaps "in the South Mr. Nixon may lose, and in the North, Mr. Humphrey."

Despite his opposition to the Johnson Vietnam position, Esch refuses to be cast as a rebel within his own party or as espousing views unlike those of Nixon. The GOP views are not so unlike his own, he indicated.

"What I'm saying is that everyone wants to end the war in the Republican Party like everyone wants to end the war in the Democratic Party. I think there are some philosophical differences, and I'm sure I'm placed more in the category of Percy and Rockefeller and Hatfield. But it's been very convenient (for Democrats) to place Mr. Nixon as the alternative to that, when I'm convinced that he is not."

"The major problem with the President is this: he confuses rigidity in philosophy and rigidity in the standpoint of policy with rigidity in procedure. And this has been his confusion for the last year. He has said that we can only attack the Vietnam situation in one way, whether it be militarily or politically or socially, and he has not been flexible. And we have to have the greatest amount of flexibility, it would appear to me, to get to the conference table meaningfully and to end the war. I don't say we sacrifice policy, but I say we probably are going to have to review our total policy as regards to all our alliance structures."

Because of the nation's Vietnam "Syndrome", the country has not recognized that the "alliance structure has broken down in this world — and Vietnam is sort of a symbol of that." SEATO, for example, is no longer an effective alliance structure, he said.

"We don't have an affirmative policy towards recognizing that the old structures of the post-war period may not be viable."

Turning to Vietnam itself, Esch said "we must accept the fact that the Soviet Union is there and Red China is there" and that total victory for the United States is impossible unless the U.S. is willing to wage war with China and Russia. It is a fallacy to believe differently, he said.

"The same fallacy exists (in believing) that all of the people of South Vietnam are on our side.

"Some statistics, which are fairly valid, show that about 30 to 35 percent of the people in South Vietnam would just as soon support the communists."

How does he suggest that the war be ended?

"...gradual de-escalation of the bombing in Vietnam, parallel by parallel, coupled with a reciprocal action on the part of Hanoi. The major issue, I think, is that both countries need to save face in Vietnam. Both countries need that first."

Esch believes the United States, probably because of the daily coverage given by the press, "has not given as much opportunity for Hanoi to respond unilaterally as what I would hope for. Now, they did release some prisoners if you remember. Well, that for me is an act of reciprocity. And this is what we need — a kind of mutual reciprocal type of activity instead of a polarization."

It is in this area that President Johnson, Esch said, confuses rigidity in policy with rigidity in procedure.

The government of South Vietnam "lacks credibility," he said when speaking about the corruption that exists in Vietnam. "We have poured in aid after aid after aid indiscriminately. There is no question but that our foreign aid program has been very loosely controlled, administratively. And when you talk about corruption (in Vietnam) you are talking about corruption with our money and with our goods."

Education, which Esch sees as one of the answers to reduction of crime on the streets, is an area where new ideas at the federal level are a necessity.

"We need to get in and develop a new structure of funding our educational program. Most people admit that federal aid to education is here to stay. That issue is gone. The question is: how can we best utilize the funding from the federal government to get away from more and more property taxes and yet still allow the decision making and the expertise to be done locally."

"Right now we have 26,000 school boards. We have over 2,000 individual grants that each one of these school boards can put in for. And then there's a man down in Washington making decisions as to who will get the grants and who won't get the grants."

As for demonstrations, the congressman said:

"We have to do two things: we have to protect, to the best of our ability, the person who dissents lawfully, and at the same time we must give the police the capabilities and the training necessary to maintain an orderly society — without over reacting."

Esch said much of the crime in the nation can be traced to the breakdown in the family circle and the breakdown in the church.

"Organized crime," he said, "takes $8 billion a year out of the slums. So they're putting $2 billion in the war on poverty and (crime) is taking $8 billion out."

"We've introduced a package of eight bills that will hit right at this problem of organized crime. But the present administration has failed to attack the problem."

VIVIAN

In the past, he explained, the United States had advocated free elections in Vietnam as a means of assuring democratic self-government. Last year such an election was held in South Vietnam — supported financially and militarily by the United States in the fight against communism — and yet more than 70-percent of the fractional voting populace favored so-called "peace candidates".

"It would seem to me that even if we were to succeed in attaining (Democratic elections), the country would adopt a partially communist government almost immediately afterwards. In other words, even if our stated policy aims for negotiations were to be accepted, as far as I can see the country would be controlled by communists within a year or two."

"And I don't really see the merit in killing additional tens of thousands of Americans during the coming many, many months of combat for the purpose of turning it over to the communists in two or three years instead of one or two."

"I really doubt very much that we have anything significant to offer or to gain for either the American population or the South Vietnamese. And under the circumstances we should admit that our policies have failed and not impose the enormous burden on not only the American society, the American economy, and the American lives but also on the South Vietnamese themselves."

Vivian said he hopes the peace talks in Paris reach a successful conclusion. However, if settlement is not reached by the time he would take office, the Democratic challenger would consider the talks of dubious value and advocate instead the gradual withdrawal of troops from Vietnam.

He defined withdrawal as immediate removal of troops from the exposed areas along the demilitarized zone followed by gradual withdrawal to the coastal areas, halting of the bombing in North Vietnam, and finally the removal of US troops from Vietnam soil.

Vivian's views on Vietnam closely parallel those of the late Senator Robert Kennedy, whom he supported, thus accounting for his preference at Chicago for the nomination of Ted Kennedy.

"I suspect that Mr. McCarthy would have actually been the strongest candidate from my point of view in the sense that in my district, at least, his candidacy would have put spirit, excitement, energy, ambition and a lot of interest into the campaign."

"Mr. McGovern is probably the one who I liked best for the balance of personality, abilities, etc. But I also find Mr. Humphrey to have good credentials. I know him quite well, and he has for many years stood for the things I wanted in domestic issues."

"The only areas of dissatisfaction I might have with Mr. Humphrey is that I can't really decide what his policy in Vietnam is and, secondly, that I wish he would have made more clear his relationship to what took place in Chicago."

Despite his difficulty in understanding Humphrey's Vietnam position, Vivian said he is confident that very shortly the Vice-President will announce a well-defined position closely paralleling his own. "When he does," said Vivian, "he's going to fight much more of the kind of campaign that Harry Truman fought a few years ago."

Regarding the demonstrations and the police actions in Chicago, Vivian takes the position that the police "played into the hands" of anarchists.

"The obvious goal of a portion of those who rioted in Chicago was to create a confrontation with the police. That is what they wanted. They wanted a bloody confrontation. They wanted to prove that American police are arrogant, cruel, and hard. The Chicago police, I regret to say, in part accommodated them. That is to say a small fraction of those police — I would guess about a third — reacted with undue energy and with a considerable degree of enjoyment for the battle."

"From that point of view Mayor Daley has to be criticized for not having the wisdom to understand that he was playing an important role in American political life — not simply in controlling a riot."

Vivian, who lost his bid for re-election two years ago by less than 3,000 votes and who won the two-year seat in 1964 by even fewer votes, admitted that his candidacy is a precarious one in what long has been regarded as a Republican district. And it is even more precarious, he added, because of Wallace's growing popularity in the district. Yet, he vigorously attacked the Alabama governor and even discredited the value of the "knock 'em on the head" theory of combating growing crime — one of Wallace's best liked campaign swords.

"Mr. Wallace has very effectively stated the irritations, and anxieties, the annoyances, and the sense of frustration that a great many Americans feel. When they heard him speak, when they hear him voice their anxieties and concerns, they feel that here is somebody who is not a beatnik, here is somebody who is not a college professor, here is somebody who is not a big Eastern industrialist who is talking our language and they like him."

"I regret to say very sadly that those very same people often don't realize that he proposes no specific actions that would ever do them any good. True, he might run his car over a few demonstrators, but that won't solve their problems. True, he might talk about law and order, but the fact of the matter is that the state of Alabama has nearly twice the crime rate, twice the murder rate of the United States. He's talking about law and order but there is in fact no Federal police force. Law and order has to be brought about by local police forces, and I don't think most of the people want him to come in and control their police forces."

"I find Mr. Wallace a pied-piper of the right, a man who is voicing all the anxieties and irritations but in truth posing practically no solutions. He is, I'm afraid, stealing their votes and will give them nothing; he may satisfy their emotional needs but he will destroy their economic interests."

And Wallace is "pushing Nixon to the right, declared Vivian. "Every vote for Mr. Wallace tends to move Mr. Nixon more to the right, and if that continues I feel very concerned for the future of the nation."

The Wallace vote, admitted Vivian, also is pushing Humphrey more to the right as well — "but less so I'm glad to say."

Why does Vivian, a liberal Democrat, believe he can do a better job in Washington than his opponent, who also has been labeled a liberal?

"Every evidence I can see is that the Democratic Party, for all of its failures, for all of its ineptitudes, has been more successful in bringing about social change in the United States in the last 10, 20 or 30 years than the Republican Party. It isn't, perhaps, because of great wisdom but simply because more Democrats have been willing to try to make a change."

"The Democrats propose a change, and although it's never perfect, within a few years the Republican Party says, 'yes, we've decided it isn't such a bad idea after all but we can do it better.'"

"Mr. Esch in speeches in 1966 said he thought the War on Poverty was a terrible program — greatly mis-managed, misconceived — and they would straighten it out and get rid of all this bad stuff. But the fact of the matter is that after he was down there for a year he began to vote with the Democratic majority because he began to realize that it was in fact something that had to be done and done right."

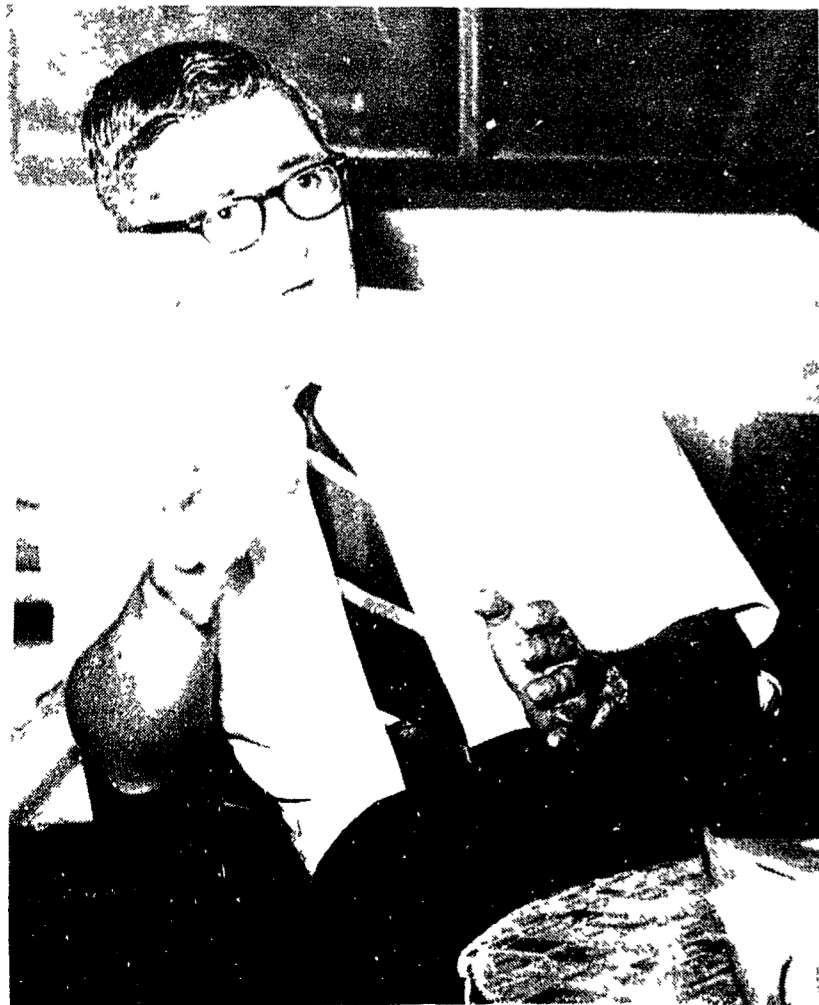

"The same thing occurred on the rent supplement program."

"Beyond that, he is locked into a party which is not only run by Gerald Ford, who is a reasonably conservative man, but its voting strength comes from quite conservative elements in the nation."

"I just don't see any evidence that his party has the internal ability to move ahead. It's too wedded to the ideas of the past."

'68 Vandalism Up 21 Cases In City

Vandalism in Northville is up 450 percent.

Northville police records showed that vandalism occurred nine times in August of this year as opposed to only twice in August 1967. The annual totals, too, bear out what may be an uncomfortable trend. Vandalism for the year is up 21 cases over the 43 reported to this date a year ago.

Although grand larceny ($100 or more) is down this year, petty larceny has almost doubled with 81 incidents as opposed to 47 at this time last year.

Minor in possession offenses were also discouragingly greater this year with three times as many cases reported in August 1968 than in August 1967 (six to two) and more than twice as many (60-28) have been reported to date this year.

Perhaps in keeping with the above statistics, more juveniles were arrested in August this year (29) than from January 1 to August 31 in 1967 (27).

Most other police activities have remained fairly constant, with few major fluctuations. One improvement over August 1967 was noted, however, as only six escapees were reported this time as opposed to 43 then.

Accident statistics, though not up appreciably for the month, showed a decided increase for the year to date in all major areas.

The greatest percentile increase in accidents was in those occurring on foot streets, at 30 against 17 almost a 200 percent increase.

Olympics to Open On Columbus Day

The opening of the Olympic Games in Mexico on October 12 coincides with Columbus Day, a holiday celebrated throughout the Americas.

This year the holiday will take on special meaning as Mexican President, Gustavo Diaz Ordaz, inaugurates the 19th Olympic Games in the Olympic Stadium of Mexico City's University City. The Olympic Flame, arriving by ship (accompanied by a direct descendant of Columbus, Cristobal Colon Carvajal), and almost 2,000 torch bearers, will have followed the route of Columbus to the New World.

The inauguration ceremony will feature a parade of participating delegations, headed by Greece, the original Olympic country. The rest of the delegations will follow in alphabetical order, with the hosts bringing up the rear. Pierre Coubertin, who founded the modern Olympic Games in 1894, will be present in voice and spirit, as a recording of his voice will sound in the Stadium, and his ideas of fraternal sports competition among the youth of the world will flash in a message across the electronic board.

At 11 a.m. the traditional opening words of the Olympics will be pronounced by the Mexican President and the Olympic flag will be raised to the strains of the Olympic Hymn, followed by cannon salutes and the release of thousands of gaily colored balloons. Precolonial native Mexican instruments will announce the arrival of the Olympic Torch, carried by an athlete around the Stadium track.

The flags of all the nations will be carried forward in a semi-circle behind the podium as one athlete pronounces the Olympic Oath. At the close of the ceremony, a helicopter will toss out confetti as delegations leave. Airplanes will perform stunts in a stream of color, and 40,000 pigeons will be released as Mexico opens the 19th Olympics and welcomes the world to her door.

'D' Day Friday For Bus Riders

Kids, if you ever ride the bus, be sure you do it on Friday, September 27 (tomorrow).

Business Manager Earl Busard informs the Record that Friday will be the official count day and that all pupils eligible to ride the buses on that day should be on them if the school district is to receive reimbursement from the state for them.

The state bases reimbursement for bus transportation on a formula containing the number of students transported each day.

Moraine PTA Open House Set

Parents who have children at Moraine Elementary School for the first time this fall are invited to take a quick get-acquainted tour of the building and its facilities at 7:30 p.m. today (Thursday). They also will meet Principal Milton Jacobi.

The half-hour tour is planned to precede the PTA Open House scheduled for 8 p.m. All parents are invited to attend and meet their children's teachers. Refreshments will be served.

Mrs. Edward Kelly, Jr., PTA president, explains that the tour will replace the coffee of other years given for new mothers.

Northville Municipal Court

Judge Philip Ogilvie of Northville Municipal Court tried Thomas L. Roberts for larceny from a building on Monday, September 16.

When he was arraigned on August 25 for stealing $200 from the Clark Gas Station at 510 South Main, the South Lyon youth had stood mute and a plea of innocent had been entered for him. At trial, his case was dismissed pending restitution of $222.05 and payment of $50 court costs.

Thursday, September 19, was a busy day for Judge Ogilvie as he heard eight cases, three of which concerned guilty pleas to having escaped from Detroit House of Correction. All three were returned, with Kenneth J. Stoops getting 35 days, Michael Whalen 30 days, and Ivan Cox 20 days. All gave Detroit addresses.

Among the other cases heard Thursday by Judge Ogilvie was one of violation of financial responsibility by Walter E. Adams of 40941 West 8 Mile road who paid $40 fine, $15 costs and served two days in Detroit House of Correction upon pleading guilty.

Henry H. Reimann of 422 Dubuar Street pleaded guilty to two charges when arrested on Dunlap street between Wing and Linden. He had been driving with no operator's license and with his license suspended or revoked. He paid $75 and served three days.

Pleading guilty to careless driving cost Raymond O. Williams of 318 Pennell Street $75 in lieu of 15 days in jail. The incident occurred on eastbound East Main Street.

James E. Youmans of Wayne entered a plea of innocent when arraigned on August 3 for being disorderly, drunk, at Northville Downs. Judge Ogilvie found him guilty at trial and he paid $20 and $2 costs in lieu of serving four days in jail.

Also charged with being disorderly, drunk, at Northville Downs was Lawrence B. Raymond of Gibraltar. He stood mute at arraignment on June 12 and a plea of innocent was entered for him. Charges were dismissed on payment of $30 court costs.

On Tuesday, September 20, Judge Ogilvie heard the two charges brought against Leo R. Sissen of South Lyon following his arrest the previous evening at Eight Mile and Lanthorn. He pleaded guilty to the charges of driving under the influence of alcohol and driving with a revoked license. He was assessed fines totalling $150 and four days in jail and was placed on suspension for one year in addition to the restrictions of no drinking or driving allowed during suspension. Another 30 days will be served if the fines are not paid.

SPEAKING for The Record

By BILL SLIGER

Remember the CBD?

Actually, it's the popularly-used abbreviation for Northville's central business district plan as developed by the planning commission over the past five or six years.

It triggers different reactions whenever discussed among local businessmen. Some view CBD as a monster threatening removal of their building while sowing grass seed on Main street. Others view it as a practical plan for the future, the only salvation of the business district.

Whatever, the plan isn't dead.

Monday night meeting in special session the city announced its intention of moving another step forward in its endorsement of the CBD master plan.

Until now the council had "adopted in principle" the CBD plan. Monday night the members agreed they are ready to endorse and adopt the proposal and start action towards its implementation.

There may be some give and take on the question of rezoning within the four-block CBD area, but there's little doubt that the council has at last made up its mind to move forward on the master plan.

Within its membership the council has "purists" and "moderates". The former would adopt the proposed master plan to the letter — certain interior portions of the four-block CBD area would be zoned for business (CBD) and a periphery area would be strictly zoned for parking (CBP).

The "moderates" like the general plan, but they want more versatility. They don't like the idea of forever zoning a site, which may now contain a building, as a parking lot.

A compromise seems likely. Something that can preserve the necessary parking ratio but offer some opportunity for departure from the now-determined lines of the plan.

Council will act to adopt its rezoning on Monday, October 7. Rezoning hearings will then be scheduled after proper notice.

The council's "move-forward" action has been slow in developing, mainly, I suspect, because it marks a major change in a most important tax-base area of the community.

But the plan is sorely needed if we are to preserve and promote the central business district as it is now located.

It is with considerable apprehension that I lend support to another "initial" plan, namely the "NPSD".

While I cannot help but admire the determination of parents who so desire the extra-curricular activities for their children (and our public school system) that they are willing to solicit and donate funds, I find it difficult to accept the loss of a school system supported by a broad-base public.

The public school system is the greatest thing this country has going for it. It is the personification of democracy... a system of education supported by all the people and benefiting all people equally.

And the system operates under democratic principles. The majority determines at the polls what shall be provided in terms of buildings and programs by their willingness to provide tax support.

It's been a pretty effective system. In general support has been generous and our school programs more than adequate.

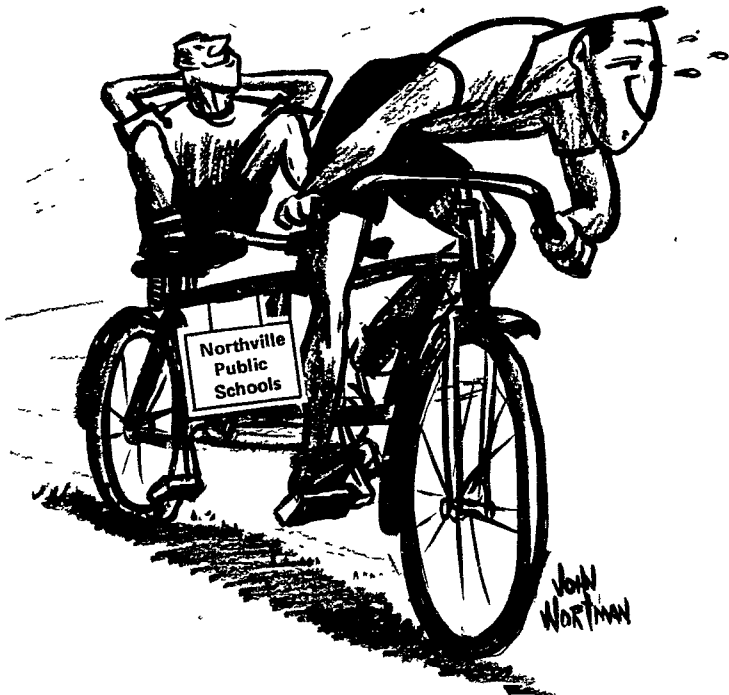

Truthfully, I do not believe we should depart from the basic principles that have proven the system sound.

Perhaps most troublesome to me is the fact that the "NO" voters have proven their point:

We didn't need to pass the two mills... just as they said, "they'll find a way to restore the program... it's only a threat."

No Vote May Be A Blessing

To the Editor:

Being a "yes" voter, the result of the millage vote was at first unbelievable to me. However, in the long run, the seemingly distasteful result may be a blessing in disguise. It may lead to civic and fiscal improvements that lie behind the attitude expressed by the "no" voters.

In the first place, to be told by our children, the MEA and the press that a "no" vote would curtail school activities is an anomaly itself. It was the bargaining between the school board and the teachers that gave rise to the vote in the first place. How a "no" vote can affect third parties (the students) is difficult to imagine. It would seem to me that that sort of disenfranchising the students, the board would have held the line on salary increases. I believe the public posture of the school board in such circumstances would be understood and supported. After all, why should the taxpayers' children slip backwards as a result of a hard-core position by the teachers? Quite frankly, there are a lot worse things sometimes than a strike.

This "no" vote will affect a great many things in Northville for a great many years aside from the immediate effect of eliminating extra teacher's income derived from leading the extra-curricular activities and eliminating student participation in such activities.

The voting citizen of Northville did not cast a "no" vote on the millage issue for cost per se. The millage vote — the third and worst from the

Unkind Words Mar Support

To the Editor:

This letter isn't really to the Editor. It is to the woman who spoke to our son on the evening of September 14 in the vicinity of the community building as he was passing out flyers pertaining to the millage election. As you did not identify yourself, we have selected this method of reaching you in the hope you read the Northville Record.

You wanted to know if his parents knew of his whereabouts and his age. You also told him you would be glad when he was old enough to be taxed.

For your information, yes, we knew of his whereabouts, he is 17 years old and he is already paying taxes. He is completely aware that someday he will also be paying more taxes. Before he is accorded this privilege however, he will no doubt be awarded the honor of putting his life on the line in the service of his country in some war that his elders have gotten us into, just as his older brother is now doing. We might even call your attention to the fact that he will pay Social Security tax out of all proportion to what he will receive. This is the American way to help those in need and he isn't complaining.

You are of course entitled to your opinion, but you could have voiced same in a more honorable fashion.

A LOOSE LEAF

By ROLLY PETERSON

The APA Repertory Company walked the fine line between tragedy and farce last week. And the result was a rollicking, yet sympathetic, staging of Moliere's comedy, "The Misanthrope."

In every respect, the accomplishment at the Lydia Mendelssohn Theatre was a tribute to the best in theatre — faithful interpretation and stellar acting and directing.

Which is no mean feat, for Moliere's "Misanthrope," as translated by Richard Wilbur, is an intricate, brilliant piece. There is a myriad of nuances, framed in rhymed couplets, and each must be uttered with mercurial clarity.

Richard Easton as Alceste, the Misanthrope, and Christine Pickles as Celimene, Alceste's beloved, play the major roles in this merry torrent of words, this rapid-fire order of ideas. But it is a supporting cast, replete in talent, that brings the play to its fruition.

The weak part is there were no weak links, no parts that were merely tolerable. Each shone in its own particular manner and was always in character.

Together, the players revived "The Misanthrope" and made the 17th Century comedy a thing of the present. And "Misanthrope," which deals with Alceste's rebellion against society and all that's phoney, could be called a protest play.

With a difference, however. Rather than the lugubrious peal of modern protest drama, "Misanthrope" is a light and laughable thing, a comedy which, in Dryden's words, "delights and instructs" simultaneously.

In a purely theatrical sense, the characters are grotesques. They would hardly be found in real life. It's to the credit of Moliere, of course, but also the players that we suspend our disbelief and laugh at the human strains that run through all the characters, the human strains that we all hold in common.

Alceste feels a compulsion to always tell the truth, no matter how much it hurts. He would tell the masked woman that she is vain, that her eye shadow is part of a false front — all in the name of candor. There is no middle ground for Alceste.

Yet, for all his rectitude, Alceste is no paragon. As his friend, Philinte says, Alceste is blinded by his love for Celimene, the most affectionate coquette in France. Alceste, in short, hates man on his, Alceste's, conditions.

It is Alceste's blind rage, his uncompromising attitude, his garrulous disposition and his inflated speech, which make for conflict and comedy. For he knows no end to his passion for truth, which balloons out of proportion.

But as Eliante says, there is much to admire in Alceste. If all men were like he, this, in all likelihood, would be a better world, a world better rid of the flutulent fops who praise without discrimination.

This is the point. Neither man the fop of Alceste — is desirable, Moliere is saying. For it is just as stupid to accept everything society has to give as it is to reject everything. Somewhere between the extremes, the reasonable man must find his ground.

New houses had sprung up, old ones had grown tired and wrinkled, and the weedy, vacant lots had disappeared. Yet, somehow, it was the same neighborhood despite the changes. Even the little bungalow, pressed too tightly between the encroaching changes, was the same.

But the couple sitting on the screened-in porch of the bungalow was different.

They looked the same — older of course — and their voices stirred some forgotten memories. She wore a printed dress and a soiled apron out of the past that I remembered, and he, well, he wore slippers and suspenders that were as familiar as the stuffed sofa and chair and the paper-thin carpet that still decorated the adjoining living room.

But something was wrong.

Twenty-five years had passed since I last entered the bungalow standing just behind the lilacs, the long-necked sunflowers, and the chicken wire fence that blocked the view of a place called home.

Twenty-five years had passed since two boys, grown up together into their teens, said goodbye as one went the way of a giant moving van. It was the last they saw of each other until in 1952 the Army reunited them briefly before sending one to a place called Sobuk Mountain.

Now, years later, I had hoped to find a couple with whom I could recall some pleasant memories. That they lived in the same house and that they were home when I called was a delightful surprise.

Equally surprising but disappointing was their reaction to my visit. They were cordial but would have none of the nostalgic discussion I tried to generate.

"Remember," I asked, "the tree house we built out there by the garage? We read comic books up there, Jimmy and me, and flew our kites from there."

"How are your parents?" they asked.

"Fine," I said. "Your house still looks the same. Is Jimmy's darkroom still in the basement? Remember the vacation film we ruined for the Harts down the street?"

"You married now?"

"Yes, we have five children. The oldest is 13. Say, isn't that a picture of Jimmy? Yup, that's him. Nicest guy I ever knew."

The silence was shattering. And then she took the picture down from the wall, wiped it with her apron, and said, "No, this isn't Jimmy. This is his boy. He never saw him."

Later, in the attic of my parents, I searched a bundle of letters until I came across one in particular.

In it, a mother wrote 15 years ago: "You won't hear from Jim again. He's gone. They took him away and made him a soldier and they killed him...."

Years have muted but kindly spared a neighborhood and a house. They also have spared a couple. But the same years have failed to erase a couple's bitterness.

Sometimes years spare too many memories... and sometimes, it seems, for every year there is another Sobuk Mountain.

New Teaching Concept Emphasizes Student Output

LANSING — When the teacher believes the student can't learn, chances are good he won't. Educators have found this to be true, and are doing something about it, according to Robert Sternberg, educational consultant, Michigan Department of Education.

Sternberg associates the effects of such "self-prophesying" with past methods of teaching. "Under the traditional methods of educating youngsters," he says, "the teacher sometimes became convinced some of her students could not learn. It didn't take too long to convince these students that she was right. And when they fell behind in class and lost interest in school, the teacher said, 'See, my prophecy was correct.'"

Within the past few years, professional educators became concerned with the dropout of students. They found that about 30 percent left school age left 16, the minimum age allowed by law, and another 20 percent had lost interest in school although they remained enrolled. Intensive investigation uncovered the need for a new approach to education.

EMPHASIS is increasingly placed on "output" rather than "input" factors. Degrees held by teachers, accreditation, student-teacher ratio, tax base per child, formerly were used to gauge effectiveness of a school district.

"Output" considerations include: what a student believes, how he behaves, contributions he makes to society, how he relates to his environment. Sternberg notes that this calls for a "higher discrimination" of teaching skills with less "drowning of the student in information," and more emphasis on the "whole person." The student must be motivated, taught to think for himself, shown that the information has a direct bearing on his life and his present and future well-being, Sternberg points out.

This brings the educator into a whole new concept of learning. He must develop in the student a personal meaning for knowledge. This may involve first establishing confidence in the student that he is able to learn. It may involve satisfying physical depravities: a hungry child has little appetite for learning arithmetic. It has led to the "Community School" idea and has had an effect on every phase of education: curricula, methods of teaching, flexible scheduling, co-op programs, cultural camp-outs, etc.

TEACHERS and administrators have to adjust to the new emphasis on total learning. Many encounter difficulty in making the adjustment. The older teacher who uses the traditional method of asking students to repeat what she has previously told them may be unable to alter her approach. Administrators must motivate their staffs by setting examples rather than dictate new methods, Sternberg believes.

RESULTS of the new approach are startling. A federally-sponsored project in Paw Paw recently established a camp for 54 youngsters with failing grades: 18 from elementary grades, 18 from junior high and 18 from senior high schools. They reported to the school each morning and were bused to camp. The only difference between regular classes and camp, said Sternberg, was, "The students were told they were able to learn and were shown that somebody cared."

By the end of the first marking period almost one-third of these students made the honor roll.

Numerous projects are being conducted in the state. All are totally supported by federal funds. More projects are ready but must be postponed until additional financing is available.

THIS NEW approach to education places much responsibility upon teachers and demands a high level of professionalism. An equal responsibility is placed upon school boards to resolve differences which have previously resulted in teacher strikes.

A system of grievance and negotiation must be developed which will allow teachers to retain the dignity of professionals, yet assure their freedom to bargain for economic gains.

Unless both school systems and teachers maintain this level of operation, students will suffer.

Continuation of Business Expansion Depends on Monetary, Fiscal Policy

WELLESLEY HILLS, MASS. — On the eve of the vital fourth quarter, business expansion (with a strong assist from inflation) is continuing. In most instances, comparisons with a year ago are favorable. The duration and extent of this expansion will depend on fiscal and monetary policy, the trend of capital outlays, the income and attitudes of consumers, and the course of our involvement in Vietnam.

For the October-December period, our Babson Forecast for the economy is moderately bullish. Careful analysis of pertinent factors points to more pluses than minuses, even though much of the gain over a year ago will reflect inflationary pressures.

INDUSTRIAL PRODUCTION — While digestion of heavy strike-hedge steel inventories, a less exuberant advance in total outlays for plant and equipment, and other selected economic dislocations or setbacks will likely curb the upturn in the Federal Reserve Index of Production over the next three months, we feel the trend will still be up. Fourth-quarter comparisons with the 1967 period should approximate — and could even somewhat exceed — the current 5% increase over a year ago.

GROSS NATIONAL PRODUCT — This economic measuring gauge will edge higher in coming months. We are sticking to our earlier prediction that the GNP will round out the year by showing an average increase over 1967 of better than 8%. The fourth-quarter gains will provide additional stimulus for retail trade in the pre-holiday buying season.

MONEY SUPPLY AND INTEREST RATES — Failure of the tax surcharge to cool the inflationary fires — plus the unwillingness of LBJ and the Congress to slash federal spending — practically assures a powerful demand for loans of all kinds this autumn. Once again the money managers, the Federal Reserve, are left standing alone to blunt the onslaughts of rising costs and prices. But we look for no determined action by the Fed until after elections. And any move toward curtailment could hardly have an impact on the economy until 1969. Hence, we expect interest rates to hold around historically high levels. Any decline will be moderate. However, availability of accommodations — at a price — should present no problem for sound borrowers.

CAPITAL OUTLAYS — Despite probable cutbacks from earlier expectations, business spending for new plant and equipment promises to continue expanding through the closing months of this year. Best bet is that for 1968 as a whole the increase in capital outlays versus a year earlier will be about 4%, the federal tax surcharge notwithstanding. A plus, but no strong support for the economy.

FOREIGN AFFAIRS OUTLOOK — Despite heavy casualties inflicted this summer on the North Viets and the Viet Cong, their resolve to fight on appears strong. The odds favor no immediate easing, but President Johnson will certainly push for a dramatic pre-election breakthrough. An agreement with Hanoi calling for mutual de-escalation or perhaps even a cease-fire should certainly not be ruled out. But even if peace — or the early promise of peace — should come, cutbacks in military spending would be slow to follow. The Czechoslovak occupation by Russia, the increasingly hostile attitudes of Israelis and Arabs, and our commitments in other areas dictate a continued firm U.S. military posture and continued high defense expenditures.

IMPACT OF TAX SURCHARGE — So far, the braking effect upon the economy of the 10% federal tax surcharge has been but faintly discernible. Inflation predominates, unleashed by the upsurging of wages and prices, a still rising money supply, and expanding total government expenditures. During the coming three months the impact of the tax surcharge on business will be minimal. Ultimately the effect on individuals will be more noticeable, though it will vary depending upon size of income and other considerations, including the ratio of debt to assets. At any rate, the tax surcharge will do no more than slow the advance in business during the October-December period.

EMPLOYMENT, WAGES, AND PRICES — Currently, the number of employed in the nation tops the year-ago figure by 1.3 million, and only about 3½% of the labor force is unemployed. For the final three months of the year, we are forecasting at least a normal seasonal rise in employment, and we predict that unemployment will be somewhat further down-shaded. Salary and wage income will trend moderately higher, but the outlook for prices is less encouraging. Wholesale quotes, on balance, are edging upward, propelled by higher costs.

CONSUMER INCOME AND PURCHASING POWER — Among the more favorable aspects of general business (especially as it affects retailers) is the continued smart uptrend in total personal income — an uptrend which makes consumer buying the most important single factor in the still sizable forward momentum of the economy. Personal income rose $5.5 billion in July to a seasonally adjusted annual rate of $689.2 billion — a boost of 9.4% in a year. Preliminary appraisal suggests that additional gains were made in August. Still further boosts are assured for the fourth quarter. Purchasing power was never higher... but it could be at or near a cyclical top.

INSTALLMENT DEBT — We view with misgiving the nation's installment debt, which has been moving up at what may prove to be too fast a clip.

However, we do not feel that the danger point will be reached this year. Large though the increase has been — and likely as further advances are — we are still some distance from a total that would be out of line with rising employment and disposable personal income. However, soaring installment debt could well be a serious problem sometime in 1969.

protagonists point of view — was slammed down for many other and more far reaching reasons. First, the voters resented the fact that the teachers took their salary increase out of existing funds and then forced the issue of extracting 2 mills from the voters to save their own extra-curricular activities and thereby further increase teacher income. The voters resented being told what was going to happen to them if they didn't come up with the money. But more importantly, the voters went to the polling place with other things on their minds, such as:

Cheerleaders Deflect Blow

To the Editor:

It was a beautiful Friday evening on the Northville football field and the team won walking away. But it wasn't the same. There was no band and that was sad. Who can ever remember a football game without a band? And no cute cheer leaders. At first, that is. Before long kids began leading cheers up in the stands. Then some of the cheer leaders stood on seats and gave a bit more form to the enthusiasm. And suddenly they were down where they belonged all in formation going through all the motions and stimulating a happy response from the crowd. They weren't dressed up in their colorful cheerleading uniforms but in their own shorts and shirts they were beautiful. Surely, this is just one of the first evidences of the way these great kids will use their initiative to deflect the blow from the electorate. "I'll do it myself, then," said the little red hen and she did" and they will, too, with the help and encouragement of the thousand and more who voted for them.

Sincerely,
Gladys Weiss

(2) The new State Income Tax is not yet digested but here and payable.

(3) The 10% Federal Income Tax Surcharge is here and payable.

(4) The Cost of Living has increased 16% in 2 years.

(5) Industry and business in general have tightened their belts and cut costs to maintain real growth with diminishing profit. There was no evidence presented during the millage election that the Northville school system had taken the same course.

(6) Percentage wise in relation to the average wage earner, Northville teachers have progressed well. With this in mind, the militancy expressed by the teacher bargaining team was all out of proportion to the tenor of life in Northville and quite frankly was a major irritant.

Northville citizens, rather than voting yes to a make-shift, stop-gap, operational expenditure millage increase, which was in reality being forced down their throats, decided to hold up and wait. They may be waiting for the City and Township fathers to react to a number of excellent considerations that have kicked around our town for a long time; considerations that will attempt to solve our financial problems while levelling out the taxpayer's load over the long haul. Some of these considerations off-hand have been:

(1) An action study of the tax and fiscal advantage of the City and Township Coalition idea.

(2) Purchase of property by the coalesced municipality for industrial parks, businesses and professional buildings for broader and controlled tax bases.

(3) Press for elimination of low-cost housing area plans.

(4) Strengthen residential zoning so that a clear and concise cleavage is maintained, thus eliminating the fear of commercial erosion.

(5) A thorough study of cost control procedures for the educational system.

(6) A pooling of administrative service charges between the educational and town administrative systems of Plymouth — South Lyon — Novi, etc., for payrolls, purchasing, traffic, forms and procedures, printing, binding, data processing, etc.

Northville citizens are beginning to realize that their real property cannot continue to be the sole tax base. They realize, I believe, that Northville must control its residential growth until it has established a better overall tax base. The 2 mill vote was defeated because it was not the end but only one step toward a future Northville tax load the average citizen will not be able to handle.

I fear that without positive leadership quickly by the civic leaders in Northville to reconstruct the revenue-producing apparatus of the city, I will, as the majority did this time, be disinclined to increase my contribution in the future.

Very truly yours,
Frank W. Angle

148 Students To See 'Romeo'

For the eighth consecutive year Northville high school English classes are traveling to Stratford, Ontario, Canada, to attend a Shakespearean performance. This year there will be four busloads of 148 students seeing a student, matinee of "Romeo and Juliet" Saturday.

The outing is under the direction of Miss Patricia Dorrian, head of the high school English department, with other staff members acting as chaperones.

A highlight of the performance, Miss Dorrian said, is the after-show interview with a member of the cast, who appears in full costume to answer youngsters' questions.

She points out that, while Northville is one of the smallest high schools participating, it has one of the largest attendances at the performances. The number going this year, she explained, is slightly less than last as some of the students already had seen the play done by the Old Vic company.

The group goes by chartered Greyhound buses, returning about 10 p.m. the same day. Students attending pay $10 for show and transportation.

Miss Dorrian added that response of the students has been so enthusiastic that she feels it is well worth the effort to sponsor the project. She recalls one boy afterward commenting, "Miss Dorrian, you said it would be great, but it was marvelous!"
