

Wallace Backer Sees Landslide over Smart

interview CAMPAIGN

Smart....

While minimizing the Wallace threat in his district, GOP Incumbent Clifford Smart bases his appeal for re-election upon his background in education, upon important educational legislation that he has authored or supported, and upon the fact that he has maintained close contact with his constituents in the 60th Representative District.

He promises no quick solutions to complex educational and social problems and to burdensome property taxes, but he pledges to continue exhaustive study of each and to continue to propose legislation when it offers sound solution.

Improvement in crime control and crime preventative measures is needed, he claims, but he recognizes such measures as temporary stopgaps and not as cure-alls for the social ills of the state's cities.

Noting that he is by nature conservatively cautious, Smart says he nevertheless sees real validity in Walled Lake's bid for a giant domed stadium. He says the state highway department is indeed giving careful consideration for patterning the north-south expressway (along Haggerty) to facilitate the proposed Walled Lake stadium site, and he contends the economic benefits from such a stadium

Todd....

He's running on the Democratic ticket, but William E. Todd of Holly is an avid Governor Wallace backer who sees himself as representing the voice of the people who will give him a landslide victory over his Republican opponent, Clifford Smart of Walled Lake.

Openly supporting Wallace while condemning both Hubert Humphrey and Richard Nixon, Todd claims "an independent poll" gives him 73-percent of the 60th District's vote.

Democratic clubs throughout the district, claims Todd, support him and his Wallace philosophy even though the "Democratic machinery" and "union bosses" are withholding financial and moral support of his candidacy.

Angrily denouncing labels of racist for either himself or for Governor Wallace, Todd says he stands for tax cuts, more aid to education, enforced police protection, overhaul of welfare benefits, and use of prisoners on road "work gangs."

"I have the Democratic support of this district as a Wallace supporter," declared Todd. "Most of the clubs (Democratic clubs) are Wallace. They're backing me. I'm not running on the party of George Wallace - I'm

Third Generation Taking Over Reins

One of Northville's oldest businesses, C. R. Ely and Sons, Inc., officially marked changes in the family ownership Tuesday. They bring a third generation of the Ely family into the business founded by Carl R. Ely in 1919.

His sons, Charles R., Senior, and Ivan, who own the business at 316 North Center Street, Tuesday turned over the fuel oil division to their sons, Charles, Jr., and Ivan, Jr. Charles, Sr., and Ivan, Sr., however, retain ownership of the garden center.

In recent years their sons have been sharing supervisory roles with them at the company, which added a second floor to triple storage space in the headquarters on Center Street during remodeling last year.

Coincidentally, the October 1 date also is the 35th wedding anniversary of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Ely, Sr., and also is Mrs. Ely's birthday. The events were marked at a celebration given by their son and daughter-in-law, the junior Charles Elys, Tuesday evening at their home.

The original purchase of a coal and ice business by Carl Ely in 1919 now is Northville history as he purchased the business "while waiting for a streetcar from Northville to Farmington." Mr. Ely, who had sold his Ford business two years before, made the deal with a Mr. McCann.

The business then was located between Main and Dunlap streets where Schrader Home Furnishings is located today. In the 1930's the elder Elys joined the firm after they graduated. In 1936 it became a partnership. In 1939 the fuel oil business was added. Incorporation followed in 1947.

The garden center business was established in 1961. This year marks the 19th and last year of the coal business, due to distribution difficulties. The years also have seen the expansion of the fuel oil business while coal declined. The firm has six oil delivery trucks.

THREE GENERATIONS - The senior Ivan and Charles Ely pose with their sons, Charles and Ivan, Jr., before the portrait of Carl R. Ely, their father and founder of C. R. Ely and Sons. The occasion Tuesday was the change in family ownership as the younger men assume ownership of the fuel oil portion of the business at 316 North Center Street. The senior Elys retain the garden center.

Chamber Promotion

How About a Country Fair?

Northville's Community Chamber of Commerce hopes to promote an annual "Northville Country Fair" beginning next fall.

Use of the grounds at Northville Downs, formerly the site of the old Wayne county fairs, has been offered by Northville Downs, the Northville Driving Club, and Harley Cole, owner of the adjacent parking area.

Although the vote was not unanimous, the Northville township board Tuesday night joined the city council in advocating continued unification study.

The joint unification feasibility study committee, after holding public hearings on its report, has now been instructed to explore questions raised at the public meetings and report back to city and township bodies on procedures of unification, annexation, etc. Presumably, too, the study committee will have some recommendation concerning a course of action and a timetable on the question of unification.

The vote to continue the study was 5-2. Initially, only Trustee Joseph Straub voted against the proposal. Later Treasurer Alex Lawrence, who had abstained, changed his vote to "no".

In other business Tuesday night the township board:

-decided to earmark some of its monies, approximately $70,000, for a township hall, public works facility and fire protection improvements;

-approved a joint meeting with township planners October 24;

-in reply to a board of education letter promised to take steps to remind motorists to stop when school buses stop; Supervisor Gunnar Stromberg will seek additional reminder signs from the road commission,

-approved selling water to Our Lady of Providence School on Beck road providing DeHoCo officials okay tapping into their Detroit water line;

-announced the hiring of John Kaiser of Livonia as building inspector succeeding Glenn Salow; Supervisor Stromberg said Kaiser would be paid $10,500 plus $600 car expenses for the job, but that he hoped some $2,500 would be paid by the city for joint use of the inspector;

-approved by a 5-2 vote (Clerk Eleanor Hammond and Trustee Straub dissenting) the rezoning of the southwest corner of Six Mile and Haggerty for a service station facility;

-approved the pre-preliminary plat of Roanoke Hills, a 35-home subdivision on the north side of Seven Mile road just west of Beck road;

-heard Attorney John Ashton report that a re-appeal in the Six Mile Road mobile home suit brought by Charles Lapham and decided in favor of the township had been denied;

-reappointed William McDermott to the water and sewer commission.

several basic activities based upon the group's initial success.

These activities include Art Club, cheerleading, debate - including a coach and an assistant, play - including a director and an assistant, Forensic Club, Girls Athletic League (GAL), instrumental music which includes the marching band, Pep Club, and the junior high school Girls Athletic League.

Spear said these particular activities were reinstated first because if they started any later "they wouldn't do the students much good." He said school officials would review the total extra curricular program on October 14. "If they (NPSD) reach the goal we'll probably start the remainder of the activities," he said.

"We are sure that all of you will share our elation at having successfully attained our first plateau, but your contributions are urgently needed to attain our second plateau," representatives of the NPSD said.

"Many of our students are contributing their time, effort and money to help make this program a success," they continued. "Any contribution, large or small, will be gratefully accepted, but quick response to this emergency measure will keep our schools competitive and our students active."

None of the money collected is to be used by the school until the total has been raised. If the campaign falls short of the goal the money will be returned to the donors except for a small amount for expenses incurred in conducting the campaign.

Contributions, which are tax deductible, may be mailed to NPSD, Box 1968, Northville 48167. Contributions also may be made at Lapham's Men's Shop, 120 East Main Street or at Dayton Deal's office, 103 South Center Street.

$20,000 Bonus

Pupil Count Surprises

An unexpected $20,000 school budget bonus is in the offing - thanks to a whopping school enrollment.

A total of 2,804 students were enrolled in the Northville school system on Friday - the official count day used by the state in computing state aid for school districts.

The Northville Board of Education had estimated an enrollment of 2,735 students in its 1968-69 budget and, upon this figure, had based its estimated state aid.

According to Superintendent Raymond Spear, the additional enrollment will mean Northville will receive $20,000 more in state aid than anticipated.

Walled Lake Bid Serious

Domed Stadium's No Pipe Dream

Location of the world's largest stadium in Walled Lake is more than just wishful thinking - it's a distinct possibility.

That's the word from the chairman of a citizens feasibility study committee charged with the responsibility of recommending a site for a proposed domed type stadium and athletic complex that would exceed any athletic plant in the world, including Houston's (Texas) famous Astrodome.

Bruno Leon, chairman of the feasibility study and design committee, told this newspaper Thursday that Walled Lake's presentation before his committee was "an excellent one" and certainly not "windy talk" as some people assumed.

Walled Lake is one of several communities still "in the running," said Leon, who indicated that a number have withdrawn - apparently because of the inability to meet the stiff criteria established by the feasibility committee.

The eight months feasibility and design committee was appointed by 33 interested citizens, including such people as William Clay Ford, owner of the Detroit Lions, and Harry M. Sisson, treasurer of the Detroit Tigers, and Robert Buffmeyer of Walled Lake.

According to Leon, the recommendation will be made to this group of 33 citizens, to the Michigan state legislature, and to the communities that have a direct interest in the location of the proposed stadium.

Arthur A. Hagman, executive secretary of the Metro-Dome Athletic Club, Inc. of Walled Lake that presented the Walled Lake proposal several months ago, said he has been elated by the response given his group's presentation and that he is convinced that Walled Lake "has a better than even chance" of getting the stadium.

A second, more detailed presentation is to be made by the Walled Lake group within weeks.

Pontiac's recent presentation, admitted Hagman, was "professionally done." But aside from the fact that they did a good job of winning and dining the feasibility committee, Pontiac boosters presented no better reasons for locating there than did Walled Lake, he said, and, he added, Detroit will be hard pressed to convince the committee that the fairgrounds would be a good location because of the traffic congestion problem and of inaction on the part of fairgrounds officials to really improve the facility.

Still in the running with Walled Lake are Pontiac, Taylor, and Detroit. The latter, according to Leon, has not yet made a presentation but that separate groups will make two proposals, one advancing the State fairgrounds and the other a waterfront site as possible locations.

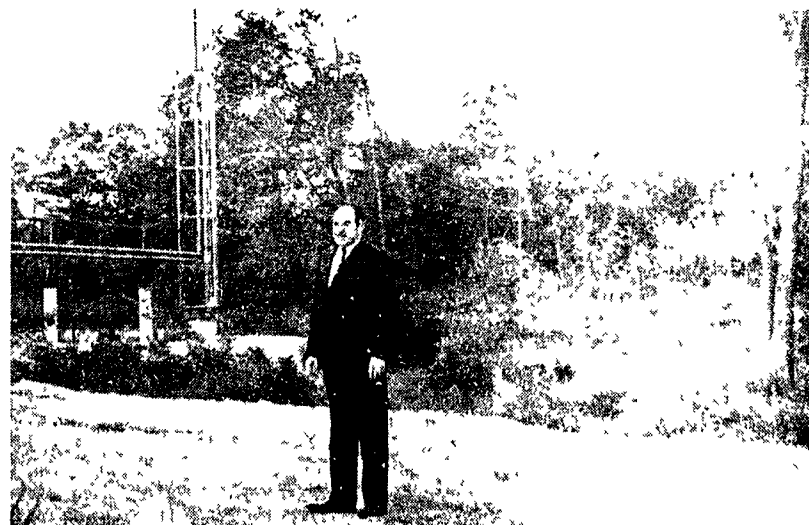

No longer in the running are Troy, Sterling Township, and Dearborn, communities that made presentations, and others who reportedly were considering it.

Leon said his committee will begin detailed evaluation of the presentations in January and that it will reveal its recommendations within six months.

Hagman and Downey told this newspaper that "there's more to this thing than you might imagine." They said sufficient land is available for even longer-range supplementary developments. They identified some of these as possibly being for world's fair and Olympics consideration.

Leon agreed that his committee is looking beyond establishment of a stadium. A future Olympics and fair is within the realm of possibility, he said, and this aspect also is being considered by his committee along with the use of the stadium itself by college and professional teams other than the Detroit Lions and Detroit Tigers. Prime reason for the stadium, however, is to develop a suitable home for the Tigers and Lions, since it is the inadequacy of Tiger Stadium that actually gave

Collector's Home Included Annual House Tour Slated Saturday

A collector's home has been added to the second annual home tour being given by the Northville Presbyterian Woman's Association from 11 a.m. to 5 p.m. this Saturday.

Inside the low-eaved white farmhouse home of Mr. and Mrs. Howard Meyer, Sr., at 48120 West Eight Mile Road are button, painted china and miniature furniture collections of Victorian era. They are charming accents in the home the Meyers bought in 1941 as a setting for their antique furniture, which is mostly early Victorian.

The home also was open on the association's first tour last year. So many people commented that it was one in which they "would like to linger longer," Mrs. Robert Froelich of the tour committee explains, that when a substitution became necessary on this year's tour itinerary, Mrs. Meyer again was asked to open her home.

The low-lined home blends into the rolling landscape. Original portions date from about 1847. It still is surrounded with typical old Michigan farm outbuildings, including a stone milk house, a large barn and a present-day guest house.

Ruffled white curtains and wallpapered walls form the informal background for such antique pieces as a walnut cupboard, a cherry dining table and chairs with needlepoint seats.

Every room holds treasure collections. Not only has Mrs. Meyer antique dolls but she has their miniature furniture, including a doll-scale Victorian settee.

In a wall niche is a colorful collection of satin glass tumblers. The cupboard contains hand-painted china. Old buttons are conversation-pieces in old picture frame arrangements. There is a collection of bisque baby figurines. The four-seasons French mantel clock also is bisque.

Mrs. Froelich stresses that this is a home where "antiques are lived with and appreciated every day." Anyone who did not visit it last year — and anyone who wished to browse longer — will have the opportunity this Saturday.

It is the fourth home on the tour. Others are the homes of Mrs. Walter Couse, Mrs. William Walker and Mrs. Kathleen Edgerton. Again the flea market (which opens at 10 a.m.) will be at the Robert Froelich home, 369 Maplewood, and the country kitchen will be at the Presbyterian church on Main street.

This year's tour was scheduled for Saturday as many women last year said it would make it possible for husbands to join them. Tickets are available at the church or at homes on the tour at $1.50.

Newcomers Plan Lunch For Women Next Week

Neighborhood coffees and a luncheon outing are coming up this month for Northville Newcomers. Newcomers and all women who have moved to the community recently who would like to join the group are invited to lunch together at 12:30 p.m. Thursday, October 10, at the Centaur restaurant in West Bloomfield.

The novel restaurant features an indoor riding arena where riding exhibits are given for diners.

Reservations deadline is October 6 with reservation checks ($2) to be mailed to Mrs. Russell Anger, 936 Novi Street. Anyone wishing additional information may call her, 349-0068. A free reciprocal baby sitting service is being arranged by Mrs. Keith Ehrenreich, 349-4996, or Mrs. Joseph Petro, 349-3244.

Neighborhood coffees are being planned now to introduce women new to the community to their neighbors. Any new resident not contacted by the club is invited to call Mrs. Daniel Swayne, 349-5682. The concept of area coffees is being introduced to keep the events small enough for women to get to know each other.

Hunting for Treasure's Fun

Treasure hunts are proving to be a "fun" couple party in the Northville area.

Forty-two couples attended the Northville Newcomers treasure hunt party last Saturday evening at which the final clue led them to the Ridge Court home of Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Meyers.

First couple team to complete the hunt were the George Purcells and the Al Wanamakers. Coming in second were Mr. and Mrs. James Fowkes and Mr. and Mrs. Jeff Schoof. Last prize went to Mr. and Mrs. Dennis Roux and Mr. and Mrs. Andy Paredes in consolation.

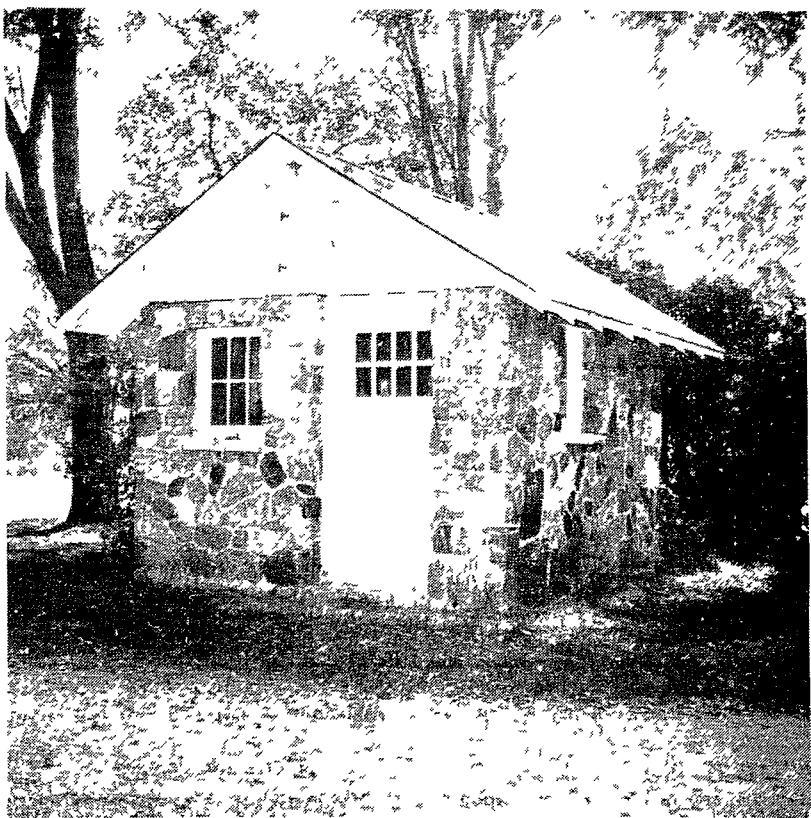

Planning the event were Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Kluesner, Mr. and Mrs. Fred Millard and Mr. and Mrs. Martin Rinehart.

Next couples' event will be "The Great Pumpkin," coming October 26.

The treasure hunt that is an annual Jaycee event has been scheduled for Saturday, October 19.

This year's invitation reads: "The reigning champions of the 1967 Jaycee treasure hunt have extended a challenge to the Jaycees, prospective members and all treasure-hunt enthusiasts to solve their clever clues and dethrone them at this year's event."

Anyone interested in accepting the challenge and joining the fun is asked to contact Mrs. John Malone, 349-9976, by Friday, October 10. Entrance fee is $7 a couple.

MILK HOUSE—A REMINDER OF THE PAST

News Around Northville

Five members of the Mizpah Circle, King's Daughters, were to attend state convention sessions in Jackson Tuesday and Wednesday. They were Mrs. Oscar Hammond, leader, Mrs. Ralph Simons, Mrs. John Litsenberger, Mrs. A. V. Barber and Mrs. Allen Buckley.

Arthur Chadwick of Northville was re-named to the board of directors of the Nomads, Inc., at the club's election meeting September 25.

Judge Joseph A. Gillis, Jr., will serve as president with Joseph T. Benich of Warren, chairman of the board. The Nomads are a private travel club in Detroit, who possess their own DC-7B aircraft, and have more than 1,000 active members who have flown more than 18 million passenger miles on 69 trips in 33 months.

Mrs. Elizabeth Hodges, 345 East Cady, was taken to St. Mary Hospital after suffering a heart attack last week. She still is hospitalized but may have visitors.

Northville Senior Citizens Club will meet at 8 p.m. Tuesday in the Scout-Recreation building.

Northville Spring Chapter of the state federation of china painters is meeting at 11 a.m. today at the Plymouth home of Mrs. Frances Ebert for a workshop-demonstration session, Miss Elizabeth Etz, president, announces.

The new group, which was organized in August, has 21 charter members.

BIRTHS

From Valparaiso, Indiana, comes news of the birth of a daughter, Jennifer Carol, to Mr. and Mrs. Harold C. Schmidt on September 25. The baby, their first child, weighed eight pounds, nine ounces at birth. Grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. Harold W. Schmidt, 20117 Woodhill Road, and Mr. and Mrs. Carl Brauer, Jr., of Ann Arbor.

Mr. and Mrs. John W. Osborne, 29437 Grandon in Livonia, announce the birth of their first child, a daughter, at Sinai Hospital, Detroit on September 21. The eight pound, six ounce baby was named Lori Kay.

The proud father is the athletic director and head football and baseball coach at Novi High School and has taught in Novi for seven years. Mother Linda taught two years in Novi and two more in Livonia before she took a maternity leave.

A daughter, Susanne Theresa, was born to Mr. and Mrs. Paul Zoltan Dorney of 45945 West Seven Mile Road on August 19, at Oakwood Hospital in Dearborn. She weighed eight pounds, eight ounces at birth and joins two sisters, Barbara and Mary at home.

Grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. Stephen S. Deak and Mr. and Mrs. Paul Dorney, all of Detroit.

Mr. and Mrs. John Beechler of Birmingham announce the birth of a daughter, Laura Ellen, September 29 at St. Mary hospital. The baby weighed seven pounds, four ounces at birth.

Grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. Harold Lane, 20172 Whipple Drive, and Mr. and Mrs. Jack Beechler, Birmingham.

Northville BPW Club Names Committee Heads

Committee chairmen for the year were announced at the first fall meeting of the Northville Business and Professional Women's Club Monday.

Mrs. Mildred Cucchetti, president, presided at the dinner meeting at Howard Johnson's in Plymouth.

Committee chairmen are Mrs. Inga Allen, finance; Mrs. Hester Gow, membership; Mrs. Tootie Ely, personal development; Mrs. Beatrice Carlson, world affairs; Mrs. Mazzie Markham, legislation; Mrs. Lucille McKinney, civic participation; Mrs. Mary Donovan, public relations.

For the coming year each committee chairman and her committee will be in charge of a meeting, deciding upon the type of program and where it will be held.

Business or professional women in the community interested in the group are invited to call Mrs. Gow, 349-5282 or 349-0539, evenings.

Nursery School Meeting Planned

Monthly meeting of the Monday-Wednesday-Friday mothers of the Northville Cooperative Nursery will be held at 8 p.m. Monday at the home of Mrs. Richard Lyon, 218 South Ely Drive.

"The Child's Day at Nursery School" will be described by Mrs. Francis Gazlay and Mrs. Glenn Deibert, teachers.

Nursery officers for the year are Mrs. Stanton Schaefer, president; Mrs. Dale Kiser, vice-president; Mrs. Brian Ehrle, secretary; Mrs. Charles Sorenson, treasurer; and Mrs. Robert Discher, 474-8766, and Mrs. Richard Lyon, membership chairmen.

After this month, it is announced, the meetings of the Monday-Wednesday-Friday and the Tuesday-Thursday sections will be combined.

It's First W-O Win

Mustangs Blank Bulldogs, 48-0

BRIGHTON — The Mustangs scored early and often as they rolled to their third straight victory here Friday night, swamping the Bulldogs, 48-0.

Northville's first league game proved an easy conquest for Coach Al Klukach's charges. They scored the first time they had the ball and the Bulldogs, despite their enthusiasm, simply could not hold back the Mustangs.

Northville drove 82 yards in 11 plays to prove it could sustain an opening drive. Barry Deal plunged over from the one for the score, the first of three touchdowns for the hard running halfback. Pat Cayley added the PAT, one of only two he tried (both were perfect) before he was hobbled by a foot injury. The key play in this first drive was a picture 34 yard pass and run play from Quarterback Rich Adams to Flanker Terry Mills, who was forced out of bounds on the one.

The devastating Mustangs offensive and defensive lines were the bane of the Bulldogs. The offense opened cavernous holes for the backs to glide through and the defense time and again forced fumbles and interceptions as they spent most of their time in the Brighton backfield.

Brighton's deepest penetration was to Northville's 44 in the fourth quarter. Previously, they had reached the Mustangs' 45 in the game's opening series. These were their only sallies beyond midfield.

Northville's second touchdown came on a dazzling 27 yard run by Cayley set up by a beautiful fake to the other side by Adams. Deal set up the third touchdown which came on a two-yard Adams to Mills pass. The only PAT missed by the Mustangs came on the last TD of the day when number two kicker Tom Hutcherson had his fifth attempt blocked.

Leading 21-0 at the half, the Mustangs brought the crowd to their feet with a reverse on the kickoff that opened the second half. Mills took Dan Carney's kick on his own 14, handed off to Deal on the reverse and watched the big speedster score the second of his three touchdowns as he raced up the right sideline all the way for the score.

Deal also scored the fifth touchdown as he swept around right end from 12 yards out. After this, the reserves took over.

At first, the Mustangs' second squad didn't appear any less polished than the starters as Fullback Brad Conklin and Halfback Brian Dyke reeled off good games and Dale North mixed in some passes. However, they found the ball harder to hold onto and fumbled away a few scoring chances.

The second unit's big stat turned out to be Flanker and Safety Dave Coe, who scored two touchdowns to round out the Northville attack. His first score came on a very nice 30 yard run with an errant aerial from second string Bulldog Quarterback Ed Gardner. The other was on a nice pass from North who hit him in the left flat.

Coe also carried another North toss 39 yards down the left sideline only to be bounced out of bounds on the nine.

FULLBACK JOE MORRISON ELUDES VIRGIL MCGUIRE

'Best Game in History'

Wildcats Swamp Cougars, 40-0

DEARBORN HEIGHTS — They scored only one more point than during the previous game, but Novi's Wildcats displayed a far more polished brand of ball here Friday afternoon in sweeping to a 40-0 victory over the Annapolis Cougars.

In fact many observers saw it as Novi's finest football game in history.

Playing as if a title was riding on the outcome, Novi repeatedly blasted its way through the Cougars' defense which clamped a lid on the Annapolis offense that barely left breathing space.

The triumph was the second straight for the Wildcats who are playing their first season with a senior class. Two weeks ago Novi throttled Livonia Churchill 39-6 after dropping a squeaker to Hartland in the season opener.

Despite the lopsided score, Annapolis was tough — just greener and less alert. By half-time the Cougars were just two touchdowns behind, but smashing tackles and blocks left them gasping as the Wildcats came back to rip the game wide open. Even the Novi substitutes refused to ease up the attack.

If Annapolis can be granted one or two threats in the game, they were smothered in statistics that were equally overwhelming. At the half the Cougars had failed to penetrate the midstripe, and in the remaining two quarters the closest thing to a threat was a kickoff runback to the Cougars' 46 in the next to last play.

And the last play? Well, Novi snagged an interception, naturally, and scrambled to the 13 before the game ended.

That's how it was all afternoon. Whenever the offense failed to push into the endzone — which didn't occur too often — the defense rose up to force a miscue that either stopped the Cougars cold or turned the error into a Wildcat advantage.

Twice in the first half Novi recovered Annapolis fumbles, and twice Novi struck paydirt.

Doug Schott, second-string quarterback, cracked over the right side of the line for the first TD, and Quarterback Gary Boyer passed to his brother Tom for a 30-yard score. Jon VanWagner added both extra points.

With the opening of the second half, the Cougars were fired up and tough enough to force the Wildcats to punt twice in the first two series of plays.

But on third down on its 37, the Cougars lost possession as Joe Morrison grabbed a loose ball. Then, picking up two first downs enroute, the Wildcats battled to the 3 where Van Wagner smashed over tackle for the TD. This time his extra point kick went wide of the mark.

Seconds later Van Wagner scooped up another Annapolis fumble, scooted 25 yards into the endzone for the touchdown, and then added the PAT.

Next time it got its hand on the ball, Novi picked up two first downs in moving to the 4. At this point Morrison, normally a lineman, took the fullback's slot and smashed over center for the TD. The PAT kick was good.

And the next time was even sooner. Novi grabbed a fumble on the Cougars' first down and pushed to the one-foot line while picking up two more first downs. Boyer pushed over for the TD, and Annapolis blocked the kick to end the scoring.

Point Decides Grid Contest

Guessing the winner and the score of the Detroit Lions-Green Bay Packers gridiron thriller was particularly important in last week's Northville Record-Nowi News football contest.

Just a single point separated the winner from the runnerup.

Ted Marzoni, Jr. of 47005 Dunsany Road almost hit the score on the nose, picking Detroit 24-17. The score was really 23-17.

That kind of guessing is pretty good in anyone's book and it earned Ted, who missed three games, $10 first place money.

Charles J. Kehr, 46090 Norton, taking a tip from his son who finished in the money a week earlier, also missed just three games but picked Detroit 21-17. Taking third with three misses and a score of 24-14 was Paul Boerger, 220 Elm Street.

Kehr won $5, Paul $3. Seven other entries also missed only three games but the Detroit score put them out of the money. These included Steffi Bach, 20336 Woodhill; Hiram Smith, 25003 Novi Road; Mrs.

Kathryn Byren, 860 Spring; Norm Boerger, 220 Elm Street; Philip Ogilvie, 525 Linden Court; Gerald C. Martin, 119 Ely Drive, South; and Michael Hohnec, 529 Randolph.

Most entries — but not the winner — guessed wrong in Texas Tech's upset win over Texas. Other games missed most include; Vanderbilt's triumph over Army and Missouri's victory over Illinois.

Only a half-dozen entries came up

Colts Drop Three to Jets

The trip to Westland Sunday was exciting but not especially profitable for Northville's three junior football clubs.

Nankin's Jets swept all three games, clipping the Frosh 26-6, the JV eleven 27-6, and the Varsity 33-7. There's some consolation in the fact that the Nankin Jets are a more experienced ballclub, however.

Actually, the Jets' varsity victory was the first in two years. The Northville Colts, on the other hand, opened its first season with two wins and a tie last month.

The Colts will travel to Stephenson High School Sunday afternoon with a 1 p.m. dual with the Livonia Orioles as they warm up for their second home contest on Sunday, October 13 against the Garden City Tigers.

Imsland Snags Pass for TD

Northville's Jerry Imsland, starting his second game at split end for the University of Michigan Wolverines, snagged a 23-yard touchdown pass Saturday to open the scoring in Michigan's 31-10 victory at Duke.

It was Imsland's first TD as a Wolverine. The rugged former Mustang caught a total of six passes in the game for 103 yards.

Motorists Ignore School Bus Signals

A rash of stopped school bus passing violations has beset both Northville and Novi police departments.

Apparently some people are in such a hurry they do not recognize the possibility that they might kill or maim children while violating the law, according to police.

Heavy fines are usually the result of passing a school bus while its flashing lights are on and being caught doing so. However, too often no one is caught until a child is struck.

The most recent of these violations occurred Monday when driver Mrs. Iris White, 27540 Novi Road, was releasing some 28 pupils from her Novi bus and a truck passed her on the right. The elderly driver paid no heed to her remonstrations, it was reported by Novi police.

Lawrence A. Karsikas, 29, of Grand Rapids, was returned to Wayne County General Hospital's Psychiatric Ward when he was captured after exhibiting eccentric behavior at Main and Center Streets. He had escaped from the hospital before he had been admitted. Northville police handled the capture and return.

Mrs. Judith A. Fredricks was injured on Friday when Leonard F. King III, according to Northville police, pulled out from Northville Road onto Seven Mile Road in front of her. Both motorists are Plymouth residents.

Firemen were called to 511 West Cady Street Sunday night, where a furnace motor burned out causing more smoke rather than fire in the home of Alex Salow. Firemen were able to arrest the fire by means of an extinguisher, and they used fans to clear the smoke from the house.

DONALD THORPE

In Uniform

Twenty-year-old Private Donald Thorpe is now serving in Vietnam near Chu Lai.

Son of Mr. and Mrs. Donald A. Thorpe of 23951 Willowbrook in Novi, he entered the service in March of this year. Following basic training at Ft. Leonard Wood, Missouri, he took training as an armored personnel carrier driver at Ft. Knox, Kentucky.

The young soldier is a 1965 graduate of Northville High School, and he attended Schoolcraft College before entering the service.

Theatre Buffs To Organize

Formation of a new theatre group for the Northville-Novi area is underway.

Anyone interested in any of the aspects of theatre — from acting to directing, scenery creation or back stage operation — is invited to attend a first meeting at 2 p.m. Sunday, October 13, in the scout-recreation building, 215 West Cady.

Anyone interested who cannot attend is asked to call Gary Webb, 427-5691 before October 13. Calls also will be taken at the building between 1:30 and 4 p.m. Sunday, 349-0203.

Motorist Dies In Novi Crash

A 24-year-old Fowlerville motorist was fatally injured Saturday night — boosting Novi's traffic toll to four for the month of September.

Killed was Ronald Hyde who was driving west on I-96 when his Volkswagen struck a parked car on the shoulder of the expressway a quarter mile west of Beck Road.

According to the Novi investigating officer, Frank Barabas, Hyde died enroute to Botsford General Hospital. Both cars were totally demolished, he said.

PTA Open House Scheduled Tonight

Main Street Elementary school parents are invited to attend the PTA open house at 8 p.m. today (Thursday) to meet their children's teachers. They are to meet first in the downstairs of the present administration building (former junior high gymnasium.) Refreshments are planned.

Negro Beaten, Robbed in Novi

Investigation into a reported armed robbery and perhaps kidnapping of a Detroit man near the eastern limits of Novi continued this week.

Walter J. Benjamin, 27-year-old Negro, reportedly was beaten and robbed on Haggerty Road early Tuesday morning by three white men who had picked him up in Detroit.

According to police, Benjamin was beaten across the face with a chain.

The nine-week old puppy will emphasize the catchy campaign slogan as it travels the campaign trail. The dog, Fireside's V.I.P., was presented to Muskie last Thursday at Wonderland shopping center by the Madonna College (Livonia) chapter of Young Democrats of Michigan.

Chosen partly because the V.I.P. name (originally Very Important Puppy) could be Very Important Person appropriately, the dog was raised by Diane Rossetto, 16-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Andrew Rossetto, 28301 Novi Road, as a 4-H project.

The huskie was bred of American and Canadian champions and was from a litter of six.

After the campaign the mascot will become the pet of Muskie's grandchildren.

Registration Lags For Adult Classes

Enrollment for the Adult Education Classes at Novi High School are lagging far behind expectations, both in the credit and non-credit areas.

This was the word received from Richard Hendrickson, director of the program, early this week.

Final registration will be held tomorrow from 6:30 p.m. to 8 p.m. If these classes are to be held, more interest must be shown.

Schools Eye Conferences

Fall parent conferences will begin next week in Northville elementary schools with Main Street and Moraine schools recessed for the conferences Thursday and Friday, October 10 and 11.

Kindergarten classes only at these schools also will be recessed the following Monday, October 14. The additional day is necessary as there are more parents to have conferences from morning and afternoon kindergartens.

Amerman elementary school will have conference recess the following week, October 17 and 18. Kindergarten only there also will be recessed the following Monday, October 21.

Church Women Mark Charter

A charter meeting of the women of the United Methodist Church of Northville is scheduled for October 8 at the church. It is to begin with chapel moments at noon with luncheon to be served at 12:30 p.m. by the Seeley Circle in fellowship hall. The program will be at 1:30 p.m. in the sanctuary.

Mrs. Warren Fittery, president, especially urges all women of the church to attend and participate in the historic event. Mrs. John Angell, vice-president, and Mrs. Douglas Bolton, membership chairman, are in charge of program arrangements.

• OBITUARIES •

SERGEANT ROBERT GREGORY

Funeral services were held at 1 p.m. Wednesday for Platoon Sergeant Robert A. Gregory, 2760 Hickory Ridge, Milford, who died in Vietnam September 19.

The Reverend Guenther C. Branstner, minister of Northville United Methodist Church, officiated at the service at Casterline Funeral Home. Burial was in Oakland Hills Memorial Gardens.

A letter to Sergeant Gregory's widow from his commanding officer changed and clarified the details of his death, previously received in a telegram. At night, while on a mission in a "hostile environment" with the 11th armored cavalry regiment, Sergeant Gregory was killed in an accident when a tow cable snapped on the tank his platoon was towing.

A life-long resident of the area, Sergeant had served with the U.S. Army 13 years. Born September 30, 1936, in Northville, he would have been 32 years old Monday.

In addition to his widow, the former Ann Louise Shoemaker, he leaves three children, Julie, Teresa and Arthur in Milford; his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Floyd Gregory and Mrs. Elizabeth Gregory, of Northville. He also leaves a sister, Mrs. Patricia Bingham of Novi.

MARGARET M. RAGER
Miss Margaret M. Rager, 51, a Northville resident for 35 years before she moved to Plymouth a year ago, died Monday at St. Mary Hospital. She had been ill for four years.

Funeral services were to be held at 10 a.m. today (Thursday) at Our Lady of Good Counsel Church, Plymouth, with the Reverend Father Francis Byrne officiating. Services were to be conducted at 8 p.m. Wednesday by VFW Post 4012 and Rosary recited at 9 p.m. Wednesday at Casterline Funeral Home. Burial was to be in Rural Hill Cemetery veterans' lot.

Miss Rager, who made her home last at 310 East Liberty Street, Plymouth, worked at Burroughs Corporation.

She was a member of Our Lady of Good Counsel Church, VFW Post 4012 Auxiliary, Lloyd H. Green Post 142 and Northville Business and Professional Women. She was a veteran of the U.S. Marine Corps, World War II.

She was born March 14, 1917, in Detroit to John Light and Frances Rager. She leaves a sister, Mrs. Lee McArthur, Plymouth; two brothers, Frank, Novi, and William of Miramar, Florida.

- Authorized Governor to administer a highway safety program under Federal Act. (H.B. 2239)
- Established certain covenants by the landlord in all residential leases. (H.B. 3395)
- Conveyed right-of-way over State land to Wayne County Road Commission. (H.B. 3740)
- Permits local school districts in Wayne County to pay a county agency to provide special education programs rather than provide its own facilities. (H.B. 3910) — This bill became law without Governor Romney's approval.

The above facts include every bill authored by each candidate which became law (taken from the actual journal entries and other records of the Michigan House of Representatives.)

Concrete ribbons and the first evidences of giant new communities planned by Thompson-Brown and Greenspan developers signal the beginning of the end for Wayne County's "western frontier". A year ago the rolling land between Five and Six Mile roads along Bradner was productive farmland. Today fresh concrete streets rest where grain once grew, and basement holes pock the rolling countryside. Tomorrow a huge community of homes and apartments and people — some say it will double Northville Township's present population — will blanket the area and forever erase the frontier.

from the Pastor's Study

Reverend Lloyd Brasure
First Presbyterian Church of Northville

"Good Lord, give us courage to face all the truth and sort out our prejudices from knowledge; and lead us down a new roadway to cooperation and constructive effort."

I dare to predict that if such a prayer was truly answered in the thoughts and actions of the citizens of any community or nation, a new time of accomplishment could be achieved. So much of what we believe is the result of half a story, or is based on some preconceived idea, or might even be the end product of jealousy. The community in which I live at this time is filled with all manner of ill feeling. As a result of a nation-wide problem that has to do with the material resources of our world and the tax burdens of the world's most powerful country, we are caught in a financial dilemma that attaches itself to the future growth patterns of this city. We are truly a great people, having come into one from many backgrounds, yet presently we appear challenged in our greatness by the cost of learning with its many added extra functions.

I am sure that out of this complex problem, enough good-will yet exists to bring together a strong answer and a reconciling power to bring back friendship and understanding. We must not give up trying to heal old wounds and move forward.

THE WORLD'S STRONGEST MAN

The day little Jimmie admired my muscles I was the strongest man in the whole world. And so I remained until the next morning when I got into an argument with that big kid in the next block. Then a humiliating retreat seemed preferable to a bloody nose.

Life hasn't changed much since I've grown up. Sometimes on Sunday I am so confident of my human might that I glibly pass up the spiritual resources my neighbors are finding in church. And by Monday I'm wondering where to turn for help in some insurmountable difficulty.

Experience is forever teaching me that my own self-confidence is mostly self-delusion. The men I admire seem absolutely honest about their own limitations, and absolutely certain about God's strength.

One Sunday as I sat in a pew and watched others receiving Communion this thought struck me: Among those who kneel reverently before an altar today is undoubtedly the world's strongest man.

Is your home going to turn into a desert this winter?
A lot of homes will.

In wintertime, people in houses with flame type heating wake up mornings with that stuffed-up feeling. With hoarse, dry throats. Furniture dries out and starts creaking. Sound familiar? You bet it does. The best way to stop it is with electric heat. You see, electric heat isn't a dry or drying heat. So you usually don't need a humidifier. The moisture from bathing and cooking is all you need for natural comfort.

An Edison Approved Electric Heating Contractor will be glad to tell you all about comfortable electric heat. He'll figure your operating cost, and explain the guarantee. And now, your contractor's offering a $100 trade in on your old heating system. Call him for a no obligation electric heat survey. Look in the Yellow Pages under "Electric Heating—Equipment and Systems." He'll show you how to turn your desert into an oasis.

A Magical Transformation

Barn to Caddie House to Home

by MARY ELLEN KELLY

A metamorphosis occurred in Northville and it's worth writing about. What once was a barn on the old Yerkes farm, became a caddie shop on what became Meadowbrook Country Club. The barn-turned-caddie-house eventually took a trip out to some naturally wild property belonging to the Walter Couse family and became a house.

The metamorphosis didn't end there. Since then, the emergence of the barn-into-house process has been no overnight thing. For this is the kind of house that isn't easily achieved. Not without time. The time lapse has been 22 years. The house has aged and mellowed and slowly ripened into a simple American Country House. The process has been one of simple creative ingenuity. One whereby the house has been beamed and bolted and braced in an almost primitive fashion... the sum total of which is most certainly a form of authentic magnificence.

Its major achievement is a simplicity that is rich with history, scored and orchestrated with careful attention to detail that is understated sophistication, in the traditional sense of the word. Every ceiling is barn planked and braced with vertically placed logs, both with a white-washed effect. Running alternately... from room to room are heavy rough square beams adding strength and natural beauty throughout. Archways are beamed, the stairs running up to the second floor are actually short cut beams, their ends protruding out from under the carpeting. The handrails running up and along the upstairs hallway are a repeat of the ceiling logs beams but varnished in their natural tone.

As you wander from room to room a sense of satisfaction builds up within. A sort of quiet exhilaration occurs. Indecision sets in: whether to stay in the room you're in or move on. It's that kind of a house.

The front hall sets the tone. Immediately upon entering you're face to face with all that beautiful wood. To your right a small cherry drop leaf table with an old wood framed mirror above it. On into the living room and you're surrounded with rich American beauty. Walls are wood paneled or white washed brick and stone. Mr. Couse's great grandmother's and great grandfather's portraits in oil hang in identical massive gold leaf frames above a large cherry table. Across from them... the old brick fireplace (added after the move) with its beamed mantle graced with an old Seth Thomas clock and pieces of cranberry glass from Mr. Couse's collection... a hobby he enjoyed pursuing for many years. In front of the fireplace sit three mortar and pestle sets; one bronze, one black iron, one of mellow cherry wood.

For comfort, among the many comfortable upholstered pieces of furniture in this room, great grandfather's cherry wood framed rocker, at least a hundred and fifty years old and still inviting. The windows here, as in all the rooms, are small-paned and pretty and look out onto a natural landscape of green, punctuated with the pines the Couses have given one another as gifts over the years. In one corner of the room is a high chest upon which sits a lovely Wedgewood tureen in an Asiatic Pheasant pattern and, curiously enough, nearby hang matching platters... each found separately in different parts of the country.

You'll find pieces of copper, iron and brass hanging from the living room mantelpiece and again in the library where a corner fireplace accommodates Mrs. Couse's pewter collection, including an old pewter hot water bottle that she found in the little town of Banbury Cross, just north of London, along with two elegant five foot copper horns, a water kettle, bedwarmer and more.

Here again, in the library, you'll be warmed by the sight of the abundance of rubbed wood, loads of old leather harness straps, black strap hinges and latches everywhere. And amidst the books the bulk of the cranberry glass collection, backed by old pewter plates... the whole room a gathering of things provocative enough to set your mind to a dizzying sense of history that began perhaps before historians set this country down on paper... and unfolds yet in this marvelous home.

Support for the latter part of that statement can be found in the kitchen. Modernity begins and ends in this room. It functions as any good kitchen should. It shines, it's sleek, it couldn't operate without plenty of electricity. But there's a wise old deacon's bench at least twelve feet long occupying one wall that keeps it in its place; and a very old wood beam, not to mention those white washed logs on the ceiling, to help retain the proper perspective. Moreover... resting on a white pedestal shelf on a white paneled wall of the breakfast room, there's a quaint old Victorian clock that Mr. Couse's aunt in Ohio swapped for a cow and if that isn't a gentle affront to an electric kitchen what is?

Moving up to the guest room you'll find two high twin beds of cherry, converted from what must have been a massive double bed. Surrounding them, a charming collection of cherry tables, chairs, a small writing desk and a high chest with attached wood framed mirror. Dormers and eaves provide added warmth and are found in much the same atmosphere of Mrs. Couse's bedroom, a museum in itself with its Jenny Lind bed (a cherished acquisition from that same enterprising aunt in Ohio), a spooled daybed, another small writing desk and bedside tables of cherry and an old blanket chest of the same beautiful wood. Mrs. Couse has very nearly covered her walls with family. Pictures of those her and dear are assembled together, ever present reminders of the good years in this good house.

Now, twenty two years after the arrival of Mr. and Mrs. Couse and their barn, the Couse property has become, for the most part, the lovely subdivision of Edenderry and Mrs. Couse has gained a parcel of neighbors. All welcome additions to her environment. Yet, while Edenderry is architecturally beautiful and indeed shows signs of having been influenced by the outward appearance of the Couse homestead, it is shining and new.

And so it is, and so it should be, that the oldest house in the area... the barn-turned caddie shop-turned house... offers up a sampling of much of what has happened here since perhaps the first small ship arrived. When you go through the front door and into the past you'll surely see and inevitably feel precisely what I mean.

Justice Court

Claude R. Bentley, 41011 Michigan, was given one year probation and fined $60 for engaging in sexual relations with a 15-year old girl on the complaint of the girl.

This case highlighted the register for Novi Justice Court before Justice Emery Jacques last week.

Speeders also received their due from Justice Jacques.

On September 23, Thomas F. Rawell of Detroit pleaded guilty of having driven 70 MPH in a 55 MPH zone on Grand River east of Beck Road. He paid a fine of $20.

Rick L. James of Farmington also paid a speeding fine upon a plea of guilty before Justice Jacques on Thursday. He paid $10 fine, $5 costs in lieu of 3 days in jail for going 70 MPH in a 50 MPH zone.

Thomas D. Bagwell of 25618 Monroe paid a $15 fine for failure to yield the right of way involving an accident when he appeared before Justice Jacques, also on Thursday.

Wallace Backer Sees Landslide over Smart

Smart....

would be enjoyed by communities throughout the area. (See related story on this page).

Asked what single issue will concern him most if he is returned to office, Smart said, "My primary interest is securing proper appropriations for the educational system."

"I know there are great needs that haven't been met. I know we have problems of exorbitant taxes on property in many school areas. I am hopeful this year that through my efforts in the legislature we will be able to secure more adequate funds for education, and possibly in the long range make some changes in the tax structure which will take a lot of the heat off property taxes for the support of education."

Smart suggested that the state income tax may prove more beneficial to the property owner that was originally believed. Explaining that last year — the first year of the income tax — collections were based on only three months, he said "there are provisions in that tax (income) for property tax credits that the people haven't experienced yet but will experience when they file their returns in January."

"If we are going to properly finance schools, I think we can do some things with the income tax that we can't do with the property tax. Really, what we've done with the property tax is to run it into the ground. I recall when I was superintendent of schools we were dealing with tax rates of $12, $14, $16 a thousand in my earlier experience. But we kept pushing this up a couple mills a year because we had no other place to go. I think we've come to the point now where the rebellion is due largely to the fact that we have run it into the ground."

"Property is no longer a measure of wealth. In fact, it's a liability in lot of instances. If we are concerned with equity then we have to recognize that there are many people in communities that are not against schools but that they have gone as far as they can go with the property tax."

"I think relief for the property owner will come and has to come through income taxes."

However, Smart said he has not yet decided how he will vote on the November ballot proposal that seeks permission for levying a graduated income tax as opposed to the flat income tax already in existence.

As for two other November proposals — one providing monies for combating water pollution and the other to provide more recreational facilities — Smart said he supports both.

Water pollution in the state requires a massive attack, he stated. "We have a lot of communities — and some of them are in the 60th District — that are going to have to do something substantial... in the way of sewers, for example. Walled Lake is under citation by the Water Resources Commission and the cost to local government is almost prohibitive if they have to handle it by themselves. So I think we have to make a massive approach to it and that's the only way we're going to get the things done that have got to be done."

Smart suggested that funds, made available with the passage of the November proposal, will be distributed on the basis of need. "I presume a community that is under citation, for example, will have some priorities where others have not had this experience."

Turning to his party's presidential nominee, Smart said he was "pleased" with the selection of Richard Nixon. However, he indicated that at the outset he favored the nomination of others. He named Governor George Romney and Governor Nelson Rockefeller as two of his earlier choices.

Asked if he was aware that his opponent was a supporter of Wallace, Smart....

... "We've come to the point now where the rebellion is due largely to the fact that we have run it (property tax) into the ground."

... "Relief for the property owner will come and has to come through income taxes."

... "I am opposed to the Wallace philosophy."

... "My primary interest is securing proper appropriations for the educational system."

Todd....

... "I'm not running on the party of George Wallace — I'm running as a Democrat, but I go along with George Wallace on what he says."

... "I am the only man in the state right now who can beat Cliff Smart."

... "Property taxes should be completely eliminated."

... "There is little difference between blacks and whites 'but there is a difference in smell'."

he answered, "I don't know." He said he anticipates no serious split within the Republican party in his district because of Wallace's candidacy. He conceded some Republicans will vote for Wallace, but "at this point in time I think Mr. Wallace is going to take more Democratic votes than he is Republican votes. In the 60th district I'm not anticipating enough Wallace threat to make much difference in the Republican vote."

He continued: "The Wallace vote is a protest vote against the present administration policies in many respects. He is concerned, for example, about crime on the streets. Now the Republicans have some concerns about those things, too."

"...I am opposed to the Wallace philosophy. I think it's divisive. I think he's made an emotional appeal to the people who have some concerns, and he is exploiting those concerns, but I don't think he has the solutions to anything."

"When a presidential candidate says he is going to put 30,000 troops on the street to guarantee safety he's over-simplifying a basic problem."

How then does he, as a candidate, view the "crime on the streets" issue?

"I think you have to approach it in two ways, and I think the 74th Republican legislature has done just that: Number one, I think we have to have law and order even though we have some unresolved problems we are trying to get at. We can't just say, 'we have bad housing or something else that creates dissatisfaction with people and we are going to let them run wild until these are resolved'. We have to keep law and order — this is for the protection of everybody, including the dissenters."

"Now, how do you do this? We've got to have well paid police departments; we've got to have well trained police departments; we've got to have a good state police force; we've got to have competent people who understand the problems; we've got to have good leadership that doesn't take the Wallace approach. You have to start there, and we've done this. We've done some things to make the local police force more effective; there's been legislation passed, both locally and at the state level, to make it possible for people of different ethnic groups to serve on police departments; and there have been good training programs instituted so that the people who wear the uniforms now realize the importance of their job; provisions have been made for better salaries to attract and to keep their people on the police forces."

"Now, these are the kinds of things that we are doing and that have to be done now. But there are a lot of other things that have been done and some that still must be done to get down to the basic causes and trying to eliminate them."

Smart pinpointed some of the solutions advanced thus far in getting at the causes: job training for thousands of unemployed; job opportunities offered by industry; open housing; the state housing authority; and improved educational opportunities, including changes in textbooks in the schools."

"These are all steps that are taken to get at the basic issues. These are the long term solutions. But in the meantime, I think we have to have running as a Democrat, but I go along with George Wallace on what he says. I don't agree with busing students from one district to another and paying it out of taxes. If they want to do this they should do it out of some kind of foundation, not state funds or taxpayer funds. Now the government cannot give you anything before they first take it away from you, and you've got to realize this. We're tired of them taking it away from us."

"I have the support of the Democratic party in the field; I do not have the support of the Democratic party on the executive, county or state central committees. They don't support my program. They've withheld all funds that they can. I'm running my campaign myself and (with the help of the people. I have no union support as far as the AFL-CIO or anything like that. But I have the rank and file support."

Asked if he has the support of Wallace, Todd replied by noting that he had been asked to sit on the speaker's platform during Wallace's visit to Flint this week.

As far as the rank and file union members are concerned, said Todd, "you'll see a big movement in labor this time that when they (union leaders) come up for office they'll be voted out because the rank and file members of labor are going between 65 and — and these are polls, these are not guess work — are going between 65 and 85-percent for Wallace."

"Now in the factory that I work at (GM's V-8 engine plant in Flint) they're going 65-percent. Metal Fab, over on Bristol Road (also in Flint) went, you can figure, 64-percent to Wallace."

Asked how he could claim such a large Democratic vote when he won over Earl St. Aubin of Milford by a scant seven votes in the August primary, and when the unofficial first count showed St. Aubin winning by two votes, Todd said that he had not yet then come out completely for Wallace in the primary. The people, he explained, knew only that "I leaned towards Wallace" and didn't realize fully that he opposed Humphrey. St. Aubin, on the other hand, openly endorsed Humphrey, he said. Republicans (50 percent of those he talked with) in the district, who were unable to split their ticket in the primary, told him, he said, they would vote for him if he received the nomination. "This proves," he concluded, "that there are more Wallace people in this territory that believe like Wallace than there are Humphrey people."

Turning to support in his own district, Todd said he has the majority support of the Democrats and 12-percent of the Republicans "as of now. My chances are wonderful for beating Mr. Smart."

Asked to explain the basis for his confidence of victory, he said "because at the present time I have 73-percent poll-wide of the district going for me."

Pressed to explain the poll, Todd first said it was the work of "10 people" who went out into the field and conducted a survey. Later, he called it simply "an independent poll".

"I am the only man in the state right now who can beat Cliff Smart," declared Todd. "Because he is strictly a Republican, he won't look at anything else but a Republican program and this is against the people."

Asked if he had the support of the John Birch Society, he answered: "I would like to have their support. I don't see anything wrong with the John Birch Society. I don't condemn them — after all they are against communism and we have to have somebody to stand up against communism and the tax structure we now have in the state."

But, added the Democratic candidate, "I don't believe in the John Birch Society's philosophy as a whole because I don't know all of it. I have never made a study of the John Birch Society."

"I have talked to Republicans (in the 60th district), I talked to Democrats, I talked to independents, and Wallace has most of them. You won't hear a Nixon man, you won't hear a Humphrey man. But there are a lot of Democrats who are afraid that Wallace is a racist, which he is not. Now I have been in meetings where the Democrats said there is 85-percent going for Wallace. This is in the Flint region. Senator Levin (Sander M.), the chairman of the state, says don't tell the people this because you will start a landslide. 'We'll tell 'em he's only gettin' 10 or 15 percent.' This is Senator Levin. Now this is a lie from the start, you see. He would say it is alright to lie on one side but it's not alright to lie somewhere else. Wallace has never, that I know of, told any lies. Actually, what you hear of him, he says what he is. But, the Democratic part — the leaders — and the Republican party leaders, both, are just as bigoted."

Todd said he is not a segregationist, although he believes, personally, that whites and blacks should not inter-marry. He blasted Northern "bleeding hearts" as hypocrites who attack the South when, in his opinion — based upon personal experience while living in Alabama and Tennessee, there is more racial harmony in the South than in the North. Specifically, he pointed to Owosso and to Fenton as communities in Michigan that "won't let colored in." Negroes, he said, should "be allowed to live in communities just like the whites... but not to the point of force."

Todd said there is little difference between blacks and whites, but, he added, "there is a difference in smell but this don't make them inferior."

Hitting hard at spiraling taxes, the Holly Democrat declared flatly that "property taxes should be completely eliminated in the state of Michigan" and that they should be substituted by a "state income tax of all the people." But he said he will support no income tax until property taxes are eliminated. He said if he is not elected taxes will go up.

He advocated complete overhaul of Aid to Dependent Children, calling the fathers of some of these children "playboys". "We support this guy, the playboy — the state does. We have to support his family when he leaves them. Now if we had laws to enforce, to make these people keep their kids up, instead of coming back on the taxpayer, this is what I'm suggesting."

The "playboy", he asserted, should be placed on a road gang. In this way, they would be supporting the state which in turn supports his family. "To a certain degree you could say, let's go back to the WPA like we used to have. At least they was working, at least we got something out of them."

On the subject of "work gangs", Todd said the same should be done with the prisoners in the state penal institutions. He envisioned road work gangs that can improve the state's secondary roads that he said are "the worse" in the country. Expressways in Michigan, he contended, cannot be credited to the state because they were built with federal money.

One of his first actions, as a legislator, would be to back legislation to "permit rather force" prisoners to work on road gangs.

Todd said he would also propose legislation that would force local municipalities to protect their citizens from lawlessness. "What I'm talking about is the officials who carry these things out and who promises the people to do something about it and they won't do it. In other words, there should be sentences set up if they don't carry out their duties (of fighting crime)."

Referring to the role of Governor Romney and President Johnson in combating the Detroit riot, Todd said neither acted with dispatch. "I condemn both of them because they played politics. If they were looking after our interests in the first place, they would have gone in there way before it happened — before it got so far out of hand."

As for his stand for more aid to education, Todd argued that the present state aid formula is unfair in that it provides more funds for one district than it does for another. "Taxes should be divided evenly," he declared.

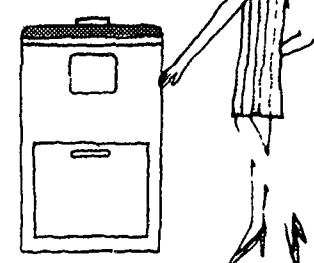

Asked if he had a specific proposal to make the state aid formula more equitable, he said he could not be specific until after giving it more study — "but there are several ways, for instance we've got to get rid of some of this red tape first. In other words get rid of some of the people who are working in there."

News Around Schoolcraft

Eugene McNamara, associate professor of English at the University of Windsor, is the first of two poets who will visit Schoolcraft College during the coming weeks for discussion and poetry reading sessions in the Liberal Arts Building theater.

Both McNamara, who will be on campus on Friday, Oct. 4, and John Logan, who is coming on Friday, November 1, will be presented by the college's fall term Humanities Series. The public is invited on both occasions at no charge.

The schedule for each of the men is identical, calling for an open discussion session at 3 p.m., and a more formal reading at 8 p.m.

McNamara is editor of the University of Windsor Review, and has edited a collection of Marshall McLuhan's writings, "The Interior Landscape: Selected Literary Criticism of Marshall McLuhan," to be published by the University of Toronto Press.

His articles and short stories have appeared in "America," "Queen's Quarterly," "St. Jude," "Bay Podium," and other periodicals. His poetry has been published by "Canadian Forum," "Caravel," "Meridian," and "Evidence." A collection of McNamara's poetry, "For the Mean Time," was published by Gryphon Press in 1963. He received his B.A. and M.A. degrees from DePaul University and his Ph.D. from Northwestern University.

Logan has published three volumes of poetry; "For Mother Cabrini" (Grove, 1955); "Ghosts of the Heart" (Chicago 1960, 1967); and "Spring of the Thief" (Knopf, 1963).

He has a B.A. from Coe College and an M.A. from the State University of Iowa. He has also attended the University of California, Georgetown University, and Notre Dame.

Logan has taught at San Francisco State, University of Washington and Notre Dame and is now professor of English at the State University of New York at Buffalo. His poetry has appeared in many of the best known anthologies.

He is currently the poetry editor of "Nation," and is editor of "Choice: A Magazine of Poetry and Photography."

Mrs. Jane (John W.) Moehle, vice-chairman of the Schoolcraft College Board of Trustees, is the recipient of a $2,500 doctoral fellowship awarded by the Coordinating Council of the Midwest Community College Leadership Council.

A charter member of the Schoolcraft governing board, Mrs. Moehle has been a trustee-at-large for seven years.

Parents of two children, Mrs. Moehle and her husband live at 1279 West Ann Arbor Trail, Plymouth.

Out of THE PAST

FIVE YEARS AGO...

... Northville's Steve Juday got the starting nod at quarterback in Michigan State's opener with North Carolina. Juday was State's first sophomore starting quarterback since 1949.

... Plans were under way for the Jaycees' International Band Festival. The event was staged at the Northville high school athletic field.

... The Wayne County Road Commission submitted recommendations to the Northville city council for possible correction of the Novi road entrance into the community from the north.

Most sweeping change considered was a completely new road that would have permitted southbound traffic to continue onto old Baseline and Griswold and eastward around the city.

... The city faced the loss of its justice courts due to the elimination of the fee system.

... A final "push" to complete the sale of debentures for the Northville Area Development Corporation's first project was underway.

At the same time the project—a $185,000 expansion of Foundry Flask and Equipment company—was ready for ground breaking.

Tuberculin testing of Northville school children during the school year was begun.

... The city received a welcome envelope from the federal government containing a check for $34,250. The money represented part of the government's share of the city hall-library project.

TEN YEARS AGO...

... Edward Cardinal Mooney, archbishop of Detroit, and 30 priests took part in the colorful ceremony blessing the new nave of Our Lady of Victory church.

Father Lucian Hebert, one-time administrator in the Northville parish and pastor of Queen of Martyrs parish, was the guest speaker.

... Final transactions between the board of education and the Wayne county road commission were completed leaving only minor obstacles in the part of the new Eight Mile road cut-off construction.

... Novi school district voters approved a 2½ mill tax increase by a meager one vote margin — but within 24 hours, to the surprise of no one, a recount was demanded.

... Thirty prize show horses and a large complex of barns and stables were saved by quick action on the part of the Novi fire department. The fire was at Treehaven Farm at Nine Mile and Haggerty roads.

...Northville opened its home grid schedule against a tough Holly team that had good reason for revenge. The Mustangs beat the Broncos 14-13 last year and took first place in the Wayne-Oakland league as a result. This, the Broncos only loss of the season, relegated them to second place.

...Novi voters accepted incorporation and named their first council recently. The five charter commissioners were Walter Tuck, Philip Anderson, Dirk Groeneweg, Russell Button and Dicon Trafaliran.

FIFTEEN YEARS AGO...

...Miss Ruth Knapp, school nurse, reminded Village parents that application forms for toxoid shots and vaccinations for their children were due at her office in the elementary school immediately.

...The Northville Retail Merchants Association voted at a special meeting to raise $16,000 to purchase parking lots for the village.

The sites to be purchased were in the rear of Spagnuolo, C. F. Smith, Gamble, Sally Bell, Merritt and Depositors State Bank properties, and the former DesAutel property at 118 East Dunlap owned by the Northville Record.

...Police Chief Joe Denton warned that Village youngsters could have their bicycles impounded for a week or two if they were caught riding at night without reflectors.

...The First Presbyterian Church of Northville made it possible for two Jamaican girls, Gloria Peart and Kathleen Ferguson to attend Deaconess Hospital and Wayne State University for nurse's training to enable them to return to Jamaica and help their people in this gravely needed area. The Rev. Dr. Harold F. Fredsell, pastor of the church, was in charge of this helping hand form of charity.

...Northville area firemen gave a demonstration of fire fighting techniques on the vacant lot on the corner of First and Fairbrook.

TWENTY YEARS AGO...

...After having defeated Inkster Roosevelt 6-0, the Northville Mustangs football team was preparing to meet Livonia Bentley in the first "Dad's Night" ever scheduled by the school... "Dad's Night" was in honor of all fathers of team members.

...Dr. James B. Edmonson, Dean of the School of Education, University of Michigan, was the speaker at the annual School and Church Night held at the Presbyterian Church House. Parents, teachers and the members of the community were invited to the potluck dinner and the meeting to follow. Honorees were the members of the School Board, the teachers and the secretarial staff of the Northville Schools.

...The week of October 1 through October 8 was designated as national newspaper week. The slogan for the year was "Your Right to Know Is the Key to All Your Liberties"

...Myrtle Labbitt, well known women's editor of radio station CKLW, was the speaker at the opening luncheon of Woman's Club at Botsford Inn. The meeting honored past presidents, charter and honorary members.

...A. Russell Clarke was named chairman of the Sister Kenny Polio Fund Drive.

...Arthur H. Cansfield and his wife, Florence D. Cansfield of Bay City completed transactions with the widow of William H. Cansfield for the joint ownership of the Northville Record.

TWENTY-FIVE YEARS AGO...

...The Mustangs opened the season with a practice game with Cranbrook at Cranbrook.

...Preston W. Slosson, Professor of History at the University of Michigan, was the guest speaker at the annual reception of the staff of the Northville public schools given by the Northville Rotary Club.

...The Detroit Edison Company announced that it would give the War Production Board its full cooperation and support in its program to voluntarily reduce the use of electricity, thereby saving coal and other critical materials and manpower for the war.

...Con Langfield offered his services and the services of Northville Laboratories as campaign headquarters of Veteran's Memorial Fund.

...Novi township mothers of servicemen were requested to send their sons' addresses to Mrs. Charles Trickey of Novi for inclusion on the Novi Blue Star Mothers' Christmas mailing list.

Sam Chizmar Gets Organist Position

Sam Chizmar, son of Mr. and Mrs. William Chizmar, 19360 Maxwell Road, has accepted the position of organist and choirmaster with the First Christian Church of Columbus, Indiana.

The 2,600-member church has been featured nationally for its contemporary architecture, which was a Saarinen design. Built in 1942, it is considered the first contemporary church in the United States.

Mr. Chizmar recently was released from service. He had been serving as chaplain's assistant. A Northville High School graduate of 1961, he received his bachelor of music degree with distinction from the University of Michigan and a master of arts and music degree from the U. of M. also.

While working on his master's degree he served as choir director and organist of the Wayne Methodist Church.

Youths Await Court Trial

Giles Carl Askins, Floyd Kirkendall and William J. Jobe have made their initial appearance before Oakland County Circuit Court Judge William J. Beer.

But no trial date was set immediately for the three South Lyon youths charged in the kidnapping of Novi Policeman Robert Starnes on July 30. Askins and Kirkendall have been returned to the Oakland County Jail in lieu of $100,000 and $50,000 bonds, respectively, while Jobe was freed on $2,000 bond.

The charges against the trio stand as kidnapping against all three and assault with intent to murder against Askins. Jobe and Kirkendall also face the charge of assault with intent to do great bodily harm.

Paul F. Folino Gets Award

Paul F. Folino of Northville, State Farm insurance agent here, has been awarded honors for "superior life insurance performance," for a two year period.

The award, announced by State Farm President E. B. Rust, puts Folino "in the top echelon of our insurance professionals, and is one more reason he deserves your confidence and trust as he helps protect your present and build your future."

GOP to Open Northville Office

The Northville Republican Headquarters will open officially at 9:30 a.m. Saturday, at 149 East Main Street according to Greater Northville Republican Club president William Heffner.

The opening will feature appearances by leading Republican candidates, including Congressmen Jack McDonald and Marvin Esch, and State Representatives Louis Schmidt and Clifford Smart.

In addition to an opportunity to meet these candidates personally, the public will find coffee and doughnuts being served and campaign literature available.

Volunteers are still being sought to help staff the headquarters. These volunteers will help with distributing literature, phone answering, addressing and stuffing envelopes, and helping the public learn more about specific candidates and issues.

Anyone having even a few hours to donate for this interesting work between now and November 5 is invited to call William Heffner at 349-4488.

The headquarters is sponsored jointly by the Second and Nineteenth Congressional District Republican organizations.

Seek Funds For Retarded

The 19th annual Fall Festival and Bazaar of the Lapeer Parents Association for Retarded Children, will be held Saturday, October 5 from 10:00 a.m. to 9:00 p.m., at the I.O.O.F. Hall in Berkley, at 3248 West Twelve Mile Road.

The goal, set at $20,000.00, will benefit the mentally retarded children and adults in the Lapeer State Home and Training School with recreational and research programs.

The booths will have saleable items of aprons, baby and children's clothing, linens, baked goods and candy, games, jewelry, plants, white elephants, cards, parcel post gifts, an outdoor market and snack bar. If unable to come to the bazaar, items for the booths would be appreciated. Also needed are trading stamps and Betty Crocker coupons. Lunch will be served from 11:00 a.m. to 1:00 p.m. and a full course roast beef dinner from 4:00 p.m. to 7:00 p.m. Donation for the dinner is $1.75 adults, .85 cents children. Admission is free.

Information may be obtained from Stuart C. Brown, chairman of the Ways and Means committee, 546-1275 (evenings) or Mrs. Edward Reid, 349-1490 of this area. The Association's mailing address is: Box 329, Lapeer, Michigan 48446.

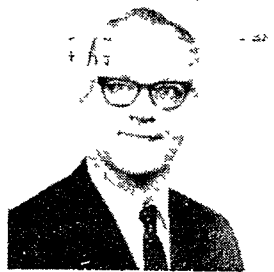

Girls Lie, Boy Wins Freedom

Michael Bulmon of South Lyon is no longer in jail.

Bulmon, 21, and Lee Mullins, 17, of 128 Maudlin were falsely accused by two juvenile girls of assault and battery, Novi police reported this week.

When the girls read that their story had brought a 30-day sentence to Bulmon, they phoned Chief Lee BeGole and admitted that they had lied when they claimed the two youths had abducted them a week ago Monday night.

Putting-you-firsts:

(A quick tour of some of the thoughtful new features the 1969 Chevrolets offer that other cars in Chevrolet's field don't.)

Headlight washers

You push the windshield washer knob and hold it, and your headlights come clean.

Fluid is diverted to two jet nozzles at each light lens. (Outer lights only on duals.)

The spray removes up to 80% of accumulated dirt. The feature is standard on 1969 Corvettes. It comes with the hidden headlights available on Camaro, Caprice and Kingswood Estate Wagons. It is available on all other models except Corvair.

Heated glass

In a moment your rear window will self-defrost.

Because we've built onto it a network of tiny ceramic strips capable of heating the entire surface.

Fog and frost disappear quickly and quietly. You just flick a switch.

The heated rear window is available on the 1969 Caprice Coupe and Impala Custom Coupe.

Pushbutton tire chains

You press a button on the instrument panel and the rear tires get a shot of "liquid tire chain."

You spin your wheels once, wait a moment, and you're off—with traction you wouldn't believe on slick ice, or packed snow.

Available on all 1969 big Chevrolets.

Steering wheel lock

When you own a car as desirable as the 1969 Chevrolet, you don't take chances.

When you leave it, you lock it. Not just the doors.

You lock the ignition, steering wheel and transmission lever, too.

Our new lock on the steering column takes care of all that.

Standard on all 1969 Chevrolets, Chevelles, Chevy Novas, Camaros and Corvettes.

Power steering plus

The 1969 Caprice, Impala and Camaro are available with a new type of power steering.

Variable-ratio power steering.

What it does is give you faster steering with fewer turns of the wheel.

Variable-ratio power steering is particularly helpful in short, full turns.

And parking becomes unbelievably easy. You'll see.

Walk-in wagons

The tailgate swings open like a door on most of our 1969 station wagons.

Which in itself is no big deal. But wait, there's more.

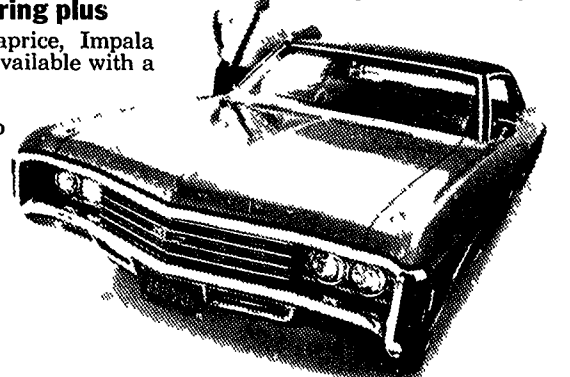

We've built a concealed step into the rear bumper.

You simply step up, over, and in.

(The way we build our wagons, you can do it without bumping your head, and without acrobatics.)

Walk into a wagon soon at your Chevrolet dealer's.

SPEAKING for The Record

By BILL SLIGER

For a change of pace this week... a few brief observations... a little humor... some of it personal... most of it gleaned (journalistic for "lifted").

City officials (planners and councilmen), the economic development committee and Methodist church leaders should get together and work out a plan for eventual purchase of the church property by the city.

The property, located in the heart of the central business district, is vital to future development of the shopping area, if it is to serve the population of the coming decade.

The site should either be sold to, or reserved for, private commercial interests that will contribute to the total improvement of the business district — both as an attraction to shoppers and as an addition to the community tax base.

Running The Gantlet

A LOOSE LEAF

By ROLLY PETERSON

"Rachel, Rachel" is something like an art show in an arcade. The paintings are related through confinement in a small area, but the juxtaposition of disparate pieces, created by artists with different temperaments, attack the senses and leave the aficionado with no distinct one-ness, no harmony of parts.

Like the masterpiece that haunts the memory, however, there is one nugget in "Rachel" which makes the viewing worth while. That is Joanne Woodward, whose blue-eyed blonde softness, feminine sensitivity and dramatic plasticity make the character of Rachel a thing of beauty.

Rachel is a 35-year-old schoolmarm, a spinster emotionally tied to the past, although exactly how is never clear, and fearful that her life as a woman will never be complete. She is at mid-life, without a husband on the horizon.

The return to Small Town, U.S.A. of a male friend provides her with an opportunity to make life complete. Like an apprehensive child, Rachel grabs the sensual straw, only to be frustrated when her lover leaves town.

Although there is no rebirth, no oneness as a woman, there is a significant change in the woman Rachel. At least she has severed the umbilical cord to her mother, has cast aside her timidity and the death grip of her mortician father and now looks with renewed passion to her uncertain future.

Yet, for all the sensual beauty of Miss Woodward and her sensitive portrayal, "Rachel" never is a complete movie, it never congeals into emotional involvement. It is rather like our arcade agglomeration which floods the senses with images, flashbacks, flashforwards and hazy, impressionistic design.

Architect of this "picture hangover" is no less than Paul Newman, who makes his debut as a director. Clearly, he has an artistic flare, a sensitive touch, if you will, but he lacks the tight control necessary to convert a story into an emotion-grIPPING drama.

The movie virtually leaps from the present to the past to the future as Newman puts the elements into motion. But Rachel's psychological hang-over never really crystallizes, there is just the suggestion that she cannot escape her past.

Her past centers around her mortician father, and his funeral home in Small Town. She apparently is obsessed with death, for it physically surrounds her. Rather than the emotional tie that binds, little Rachel sees the bonds of love broken by death.

Her future is a type of wish fulfillment, wherein Rachel sees herself as a romantic heroine, either on her death bed or close to it. Her involvement in the present is the only real thing, but even that is tarnished by the movie's imperfection.

For instance, there is a Holy Roller scene, for some unknown reason, in which Rachel is offered a flower by a flower child who utters one word, "love." The scene seems extraneous and incongruous.

These little discrepancies shake the movie's credibility. We aren't involved emotionally in Rachel's plight. Her anguish, except for moments, is not palpable. There is just Miss Woodward and some brilliant bit parts holding together a loose leaf of disparate parts.

Readers Speak

Says Threat's Invalid

To the Editor:

In answer to the letter submitted by Messrs. Atchinson and Kipfer it might be well to point out a few things.

It seems all proponents of additional taxes attempt to intimidate the opponents with statements intended to make them feel guilty and afraid. Intimating that unless the taxes are raised the kids will; not get into college; be socially deprived; revolt by going dirty and long-haired or become militants for social reform etc. The implied threat is obvious. "Either do as we (the spokesmen) want or we'll find a way to force you."

It is noteworthy that the cutbacks supposedly necessary have nothing to do with education in the classical sense — only with "social awareness." The MEA itself forced legislation to be passed which prohibits laymen from donating time to school activities such as clubs, social activities and lesser sports such as golf, tennis, swimming, etc. Does anyone doubt that such public-spirited citizens exist and that they are much better qualified to handle such activities than a green teacher with no knowledge of or experience in, the activity in question. The people of Northville did not vote "NO" to deny the kids an education. They voted "NO" to the expanding attitudes of coercion, force, social theory and something for nothing. They said "NO" to an ever-increasing cost for an educational system which has not demonstrated its value. What percentage of Northville High Students received academic scholarships last year?

Sincerely,
Scott F. Krause

Here's Bouquet For Students

To The Editor:

We wrote our check for the NPSD and delivered it. Now we'd like to check a few remarks for clarification. The check is endorsement of what young people in our community have done. A thank you for allowing us to observe the always pleasant phenomena of young people working hard for what they want. It's too bad you had to work that hard and that long for what is rightfully yours by virtue of our public education system. But then... you've all done it for so many other good things and causes in this town you needed no dress rehearsal.

You've been an awfully good group. A lot of people think so. Pass it on.

Sincerely,
Two Northville
Well Wishers

EDITOR'S NOTE: This newspaper welcomes letters to the editor. We ask that they be received at this office by Monday noon for publication the same week and that they be limited to 500 words. All letters must contain the signatures of the writer, but names will be withheld on request. This newspaper reserves the right to edit letters for brevity and to avoid profanity or libelous statements.

The trouble with the speed of light is that it gets here too early in the morning...

Or, how about the teenager in church who turned to a friend as the collection plate was being passed up his row and said, "here come the nudge"...

And then there's the sign at the hospital maternity ward... "O.B. Quiet".

Don't take Walled Lake's bid for a domed sports arena lightly. Our neighbors to the north may very well be the leading contenders for the future home of the Detroit Tigers baseball and Lions football teams.

They've made one impressive presentation and they've got location and land accessibility on their side — plus private financing.

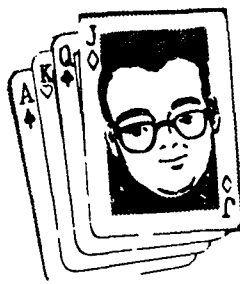

One of the most unique aspects of the proposed Walled Lake sports arena is that it would be located in the median of the new north-south I-275 expressway!

The idea was proposed by Walled Lake City Manager Royce Downey and has caught the fancy of state highway planners. (More details appear in a page one story this week.)

Getting back at the medics — from the Lafayette, Ind., Leader: "Hey Mac", the filling station attendant called to the owner, "Your doctor is here with a flat tire." Replied the owner, "Good. Diagnose the trouble as puncture wounds resulting in a prolapsed perimeter. Prescribe plastic surgery followed by complete treatment with inflatus windus. Charge him accordingly."

From the Marysville, Kans., Advocate: Political oratory is the art of making deep sounds from the chest sound like important messages from the brain.

From The Record: Novi road between Northville and old Grand River is rapidly becoming the most traffic-snarled highway in the area. And that's no joke.

David Liddell Longridge hooked his thumbs into the folds of his pants and berated me for missing the biggest story of the year.

Joining him in dishing out the chastisement was the former Detroit Lion, Ronald Horwath, who once upon a time was almost a carbon copy of Les Bingaman.

"We just might give our story to one of the really big newspapers or perhaps to Chet and David."

What story is that? I asked thinking that maybe the two coaches-turned-principals had found a couple of tickets to the Series.

"Never mind, you'd probably botch it up anyway like most of the things you write."

I've got a duck's back so I slid in under the bouquets and pressed them for the story whereupon they gave me this exclusive:

"We're the original Northville Joggers. There's some others around now but they're johnnie come latelays when it comes to jogging. We've been doing it since way back last spring. Every day, mile after mile."

Both busted their seams in telling me about their superb physical condition, noting with pleasure the tire around my middle.

Lose any weight? I asked trying to ignore the ex-Lion's loose-fitting loincloth. The question obviously hurt worse than the safety pins.

"Let's go see The Free Press," said Longridge, "this guy can't even see let alone write."

Just kidding fellows, I said, how much have you lost?

Together they boasted a net loss of about 40 pounds — the bulk of which was peeled from Horwath who admittedly had more to work with at the outset. They allowed as to how the local tailor shop was doing a landmark business because of them.

Where do you do this jogging? I asked.

"Right here," they explained, pointing across the high school track where, in the median, the Northville football team was jogging circles around Waterford Mott.

"Bring your camera down some night and get a picture. You'd get a beaut."

The invitation's been in my back pocket now for two weeks. It's not that the guy with the long monicker and the ex-Lion wouldn't be good picture material. Not at all. It's just that if I drag myself over to the track and take a picture of those two trim brutes with their rippling muscles there won't be any living at home.

And can you imagine what the other fat guys in this community — guys like (maybe I'd better not mention names, my paycheck might be withheld) — would have to put up with?

Wives are like that, you know.

New Selection Method for Jury Duty in Offing

LANSING—A new system for selecting citizens for jury duty goes into effect next year. More people will be called to serve, but the length of service is cut from three months to a maximum of 30 days.

Prospective jurors are presently selected by township supervisors and city aldermen from property tax roles. They serve for $15 a day. The selection method was designed when Michigan was primarily an agricultural state and is not conducive to present modes of living, charges Lee C. Dramis, a Lansing lawyer who played a leading role in rewriting the jury law.

Workingmen find it difficult to support their families on $15 a day, and many ask to be excused for economic reasons. Persons who do not own real estate are automatically eliminated. This excuses about 80 percent of the men and 60 percent of the women in urbanized counties, Dramis said.

As a result, juries are now composed mainly of retired persons, housewives and persons with little or no regular demands on their time.

The new law specifies that voter registration lists be used instead of property tax roles. A special jury board, appointed by the governor, will make the selection rather than supervisors and aldermen. A special mathematical formula will insure names being picked at random.

Exemptions under the new law are few: physical or mental disability, persons over 70, police officers and lawyers, citizens who do not understand the English language. The presiding judge may make other exceptions, but excusals are expected only rarely under the new system, Dramis contends.

New jurors will be selected by the jury board in May of each year. If lawyers agree, six-member juries may be used for civil cases. In the past, 12-member juries were required for all circuit court cases. Six-member juries will be used for both civil and criminal cases in the new District Courts which replace the present Justice Court system January 1.

A special provision in the new law makes an employer who fires a person because of his absence for jury duty guilty of a misdemeanor.

Three "vital" areas will receive concerted attention by the Michigan Congress of Parents and Teachers Association this year, according to the organization's president, A. B. Haist. The areas are sex education; crime prevention; and the relationships between student, parent, teacher, school administrators and school board.

Merchants Fear Surcharge Wallop

WELLESLEY HILLS, MASSACHUSETTS — For some weeks now, retailers have been devoting a great deal of time, money, and energy to preparations for the pre-Christmas buying season. At this writing, both wholesalers and retailers are generally optimistic and enthusiastic about holiday trade prospects. This confidence has been reflected in large initial orders of merchandise for Yuletide display and sale.

The prevailing buoyant attitude stems from the favorable retail sales performance of the past several months versus a year ago. This happy situation reflects the "never-ending" climb of disposable personal income... bolstered by huge wage advances. Indeed the bulge in consumer incomes seems to be almost immune to the depressing influences of the tax surcharge. Then, too, shoppers are boosting their already fat paychecks by going in greater droves to the banks and finance companies to acquire big-ticket items. Teen-agers are getting into the act more vigorously... spending as if there's no tomorrow. Mark it well: The Christmas needs of these teens will account for a substantial portion of this year's total volume.

BUT EVEN the most optimistic merchants will concede that there are flies in the ointment which could limit the prospective upturn in Christmas sales. They are worried about the federal tax surcharge lest it pack a delayed-action wallop that would pare consumer outlays for gifts. They are worried also because installment debt is fairly high and has been rising pretty fast in recent months.

Another factor causing concern is the still rising prices of raw materials, semi-finished goods, and wholesale and retail merchandise. Obviously, this is going to be reflected in higher retail prices between now and Christmas. Toys and dolls have already been marked up and some further upward adjustments on tickets will likely be made this fall. Glassware, gifts, and home furnishings also should have substantially higher tags than was the case a year ago. By comparison, the markup on most clothing items should be somewhat less.

At any rate, there seems no doubt that prices in toto will be quite a bit higher than they were last year. This means that merchants are already tying up more money in inventory than at this time in 1967. For some this can be accomplished only by resort to credit, and the cost of that credit must be reckoned into their pricing, selling, and general business policies.

Break-even points in most retail businesses this year will be higher than ever before. If you operate in the retailing field — whether in a large or in a small operation — we advise measuring your costs carefully all along the line, to make the most effective use of display, shelf, and storage space, and to obtain maximum co-operation from your employees. Only thus can you keep a tight control on costs.

DESPITE the very real uncertainties cited above, as well as the calendar fact that this year's late Thanksgiving leaves retailers with 4 fewer selling days than in 1967 between that holiday and Christmas, we are tremendously impressed with the late-summer consumer buying stampede. Once a surge of this kind gets under way, it is likely to hold its momentum for a few months at least.

safety on the streets and we have to keep it that way until we get the basic problems solved."

Looking at his record, the Walled Lake legislator said he does not keep a tally sheet to wave in the electors' faces as do some lawmakers who "make quite a showing".

As a committee chairman, he said, he is in a position to tack his name on numerous bills thus making him a co-author of many pieces of legislation. "I have not been a person who felt that you're political success depended upon how many bills you could count that your name was on. And I haven't done it that way. I felt that if you sponsored three or four important measures in the course of a legislative year and concentrated on them that this is a better way to go."

"I will have to admit that my major interest has been in the field of education and that the major bills I have sponsored and that have been approved by the legislature have been in the field of education. Let's take the state aid bill for which I was the chief sponsor this year and had considerable to do with the development of a four part formula and more equalization in it, etc. This was one of the major pieces of legislation that came out of that legislature this year. And you know that it is equivalent to almost half of the state budget."

Legislators can squeeze only so much out of state aid bills, admitted Smart. Beyond that it is up to the taxation committee to provide the monies to increase this aid. Nevertheless, he said he can and has urged the taxation committee to consider the plight of education as it establishes ways of providing the money.

As a result of his request, said Smart, "we have, right now, in operation, an interim study committee that is composed of members of the taxation committee and members of the education committee. We're trying to tie the two together. We had our first hearing about 10 days ago in Lansing in the legislative chamber, and there will be other hearings around the state."

"You've probably read some things about that. We've had the attorney general's opinion on what we can do and what we can't do. There's been a proposal made that possibly some changes can be made in the income tax so that we have an educational tax within the income tax structure."

"Right now we are on a fishing expedition. We are trying to get at some of the answers. We are approaching it jointly, now, taxation and education as an interim study committee."

The same kind of thorough examination is being made in the area of teacher negotiations and conflicts between the tenure act and the Hutchinson act, said Smart. Solutions require thorough study; quick answers may come easily but they do little to solve the problems, he concluded.

Jail Conditions Called Deplorable

Strenuous efforts to make improvements at the Wayne County Jail were pledged by county officials after they received a report which described conditions at the jail as deplorable.

Sheriff Roman S. Gribbs, who was appointed last June after the study was completed and while the report was being prepared, said steps had been taken already to implement many of its recommendations.

The study, ordered by the county Board of Supervisors, was conducted by specialists from the National Council on Crime and Delinquency, the Citizens Research Council of Michigan, the Michigan Department of Treasury and the Wayne County Board of Auditors.

In its report, the National Council on Crime and Delinquency stated:

"Inmates are cruelly and inhumanely locked in filthy, ancient steel cells and little attempt is made by jail administration to prevent the physical and mental deterioration and destruction of persons detained. Medical services are inadequate, sanitation standards are non-existent, inmates are not properly segregated, assaults among inmates are frequent, surveillance of inmates by the staff minimal, contraband weapons are prevalent throughout the inmate population, counseling services are unheard of, and deaths classified as suicide are a frequent occurrence."

Robert E. Pickup, executive director of the Citizens Research Council, told the sheriff's committee of the Board of Supervisors that the causes of those conditions "are many and varied."

"A primary problem appears to be the absence of positive goals of detention administration at the jail," he stated. "Other factors adversely affecting the administration and operation of the jail are improper administrative organization; poor administrative procedures; staff problems including poor training; improper classification of personnel; the absence of professional staff; and undermanned guard services; the detention of persons in the jail who could safely be released to the community or who should be served by some other agency or service; and overcrowded and inadequate physical facilities."

"Working with the new sheriff and preliminary reports, we have started on many of the recommendations," said A. E. Vallier, chairman of the Supervisors' Sheriff Committee. "We will conduct an item-by-item review of this report with the sheriff and the Board of Auditors and come up with recommendations for changes as soon as possible."

Vallier added, however, that "it isn't going to be easy." As an example, he said it would cost an estimated $1.5-million merely to bring the plumbing and electricity of the old jail up to code.

The jail was built in 1926. A modern annex was added in 1963, increasing its prisoner capacity from 923 to 1,297.

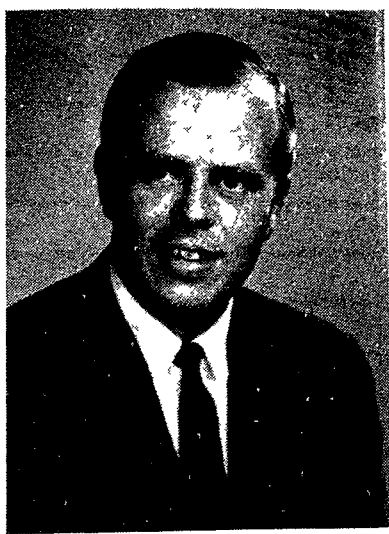

Police Attend FBI Classes

Conferences under the auspices of the Federal Bureau of Investigation were held at various areas around the state between September 17 and September 26. These were concerned with the alarming incidence of robberies and other crimes committed at banking type institutions in 1967 and were conducted on a panel forum basis.

Novi policemen attending the conference in Lansing were officers Gordon Nelson, Richard Faulkner and Gerald Burnham. Chief Lee BeGole, and officers Jack Grubb, John Johnson, Dale Gross and Frank Barabas attended the Detroit conference.

Cecil Kerrison of Detroit reported the theft of a saddle from Newman Stables, 40360 13 Mile, to Novi police last week.

Kerrison, who owned the $197 new English "Park" type saddle, reported that it has been missing at least since September 25, when he went in the tack room at the Newman Stables to look for it. It was last reported as having been seen on September 1.

GM Promotes William Quigley

Appointment of William G. Quigley of Northville as public relations manager of the Southeastern Michigan Region (Pontiac) was announced today by Anthony De Lorenzo, vice president of General Motors in charge of Public Relations Staff. The region covers southeastern Michigan and Canada.

Quigley, who has been staff assistant to plant city and regional activities in GM's Central Office public relations staff, succeeds Norman E. May, who has been appointed general director of public relations and advertising for Fisher Body Division.

Quigley joined General Motors with Fisher Body Division in 1958, as a public relations representative, and subsequently was named a supervisor in 1959. He transferred to the Oldsmobile Division public relations staff in January, 1962. He was named regional representative in GM's public relations Detroit Region in April, 1964, and became assistant regional manager in November, 1965. He was named to his previous post in September, 1967.

A native of Detroit, Quigley is a graduate of University of Detroit high school and holds a bachelor's degree from Wayne State University. He lives at 18350 Edenderry Drive.

Ex-Detroit Lions Player Gets VP Post at Schoolcraft

Dr. Robert Keene, former Detroit Lions and University of Detroit football player and for 19 years an educational consultant with the Wayne County Intermediate School District, has been named vice-president for instruction at Schoolcraft College.

Dr. Keene, whose appointment was announced by college President Dr. Eric J. Bradner, fills a vacancy at the college created by the resignation this summer of John H. Brinn.

The appointment of the 49-year-old Detroit-born educator, was approved by the college board of trustees at their meeting September 25. Dr. Keene will begin his duties November 1.

His appointment also carried the approval of a special faculty committee named by the Faculty Forum at the invitation of Dr. Bradner to assist him in screening candidates for the position which Brinn resigned to return to teaching at Delta College.

Dr. Keene comes to Schoolcraft from Black Hawk College in Moline, Illinois, where he has been vice-president for academic affairs since February, 1967.

Dr. Keene received his bachelor of philosophy degree in Spanish from the University of Detroit in 1942, and joined the Redford Union school system as a teacher in 1944. In 1948 he received the master of education degree from Wayne State University and in that same year he joined the Wayne County Intermediate School District as a supervising teacher.

He was later made an education consultant on the district's staff and in that capacity was named director of the citizens study for the Wayne County Community College.

In 1964 Dr. Keene received the doctor of education degree from Wayne State University.

He was responsible for the preparation and publication in June, 1965, of the final report of the Citizens Participatory Study Committee for the community college study.

The referendum campaign which he directed resulted in approval of the Wayne County Community College District. Voters, however, failed to approve a supporting tax question on the same ballot.

Dr. Keene left his ISD post early in 1967 to join the staff at Black Hawk, at that time a new community college with a main campus at Moline and a branch campus at Kewanee, Illinois.

A member of the U. of D. football team during his undergraduate days, Dr. Keene joined the Detroit Lions as a halfback in August, 1943, and played three seasons with the National Football League entry.

A resident of Redford Township prior to his moving to Illinois, Dr. Keene served as a member of the Northwest Wayne County Community College Steering Committee, which played a leading role in the early organization and development of Schoolcraft College, from 1958 to 1962.

He served as a trustee of the Redford Union Board of Education from 1957 to 1964, was a member of the Livonia Recreation Survey Committee in 1958 and has been a member of the Manpower Development and Training Advisory Board since 1962.

In addition to the Wayne County Community College study report, Dr. Keene has contributed articles on education to professional journals and is a member of a number of professional and education organizations,
