

It's First Detroit-Area Development for National Builders

Levitt Proposes Lake-Front Homes On 400-Acre Gravel Mining Site

A 400-acre gravel mining operation in Northville will be turned into a community of lake-front homes and town houses if the proposed development is approved by township officials.

The project will also mark the entrance of one of the nation's largest home-building firms into the Detroit area.

Levitt and Sons, Inc., confirmed this week that it holds options on property owned by Sheldon Hayes between Seven and Eight Mile roads. The 400-acre site now contains sand and gravel mining operations as well as an asphalt plant.

The only obstacle standing in the path of the project is a request for rezoning that will probably come before the township planning commission in the near future.

Levitt officials admit that the pock-marked site presents major problems "that are driving engineering costs out of sight." Consequently, they contend that feasibility studies indicate zoning changes must be made to permit townhouse and apartment construction, as well as single-family residential units.

It is known that Levitt representatives have been meeting privately with township officials in recent weeks and that the Levitt proposal is looked upon favorably.

But company officials are quick to point out that feasibility studies have not been completed, that development costs are still a major factor of consideration and that Northville is but one of "six or seven Detroit area locations" where Levitt holds major land options and is considering developments.

Irwin M. Adler, regional general manager for Levitt in Detroit, and William O. Vose, regional community relations manager, were enthusiastic about the Northville project, however.

Describing the proposed development as "one heck of an engineering problem," the Levitt representatives view the project as unique — even for Levitt.

It is estimated that some 1,600,000 yards of earth would require moving and that the cost of providing all improvements for the building sites would run more than $5,000 per acre. The 400-acre site would contain 80 acres of water — four or five lakes — providing lake-frontage for all living units.

Planning experts reveal that cost studies show a necessity of four dwelling units per acre to make the project financially feasible. This would require rezoning of the area (now R-2) to permit a mixture of single family homes, townhouses and apartments.

It would boost the holding capacity of the land to a population of more than 4,000.

Vose described Levitt townhouses as "sale townhouses" that are individually owned. He noted, however, that rental apartments would also be proposed in the development.

While Levitt officials declined to talk in numbers of units, township officials have indicated that a plan incorporating 250 single family residences and 1,400 townhouse and apartment units has been discussed.

Adler pointed out that Levitt can no longer be described as a builder of low-cost housing units. The firm, which is now a subsidiary of International Telephone & Telegraph Corporation, now sells homes at an average price of $32,000, he stated. But Adler noted that the homes proposed for Northville would run higher in price.

Levitt gained its first fame constructing the sprawling, community-sized "Levittowns" in Pennsylvania, New Jersey and New York. Since those postwar days, Levitt has switched tactics.

"We're the most sophisticated builders in the nation," Adler stated. He noted that the firm employs more than 1,300 specialists without being involved in the actual construction of buildings. The firm has its own planners, architects, legal staff and engineers.

"We're building 6,000 units per year, doing an annual volume of $150 million and moving 150 families into homes each week," Adler claimed.

Adler stated that Hayes' mining and asphalt operations would cease within two years if purchase options are exercised. He indicated that site development would begin immediately and continue during the phasing-out of the mining.

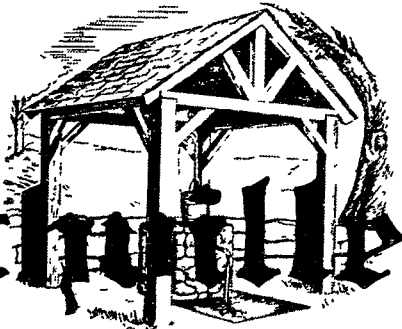

Another project, closely allied to the development, is a proposed industrial project in the Gerald Avenue-city dump area.

This development is being promoted by Hubbard Associates, major industrial developers in the metropolitan area. Levitt's interest, which reportedly includes financial participation in land acquisitions, is chiefly aimed at improving appearances of the area which adjoins their proposed residential development.

Members of the Northville Area Economic Development Corporation, as well as city and township officials, have been quietly assisting in the promotion of the industrial complex.

They view both the Levitt development and the industrial belt as a giant step towards converting relatively low tax-producing land into a major source for tax revenue as well as employment opportunity.

Oakland Denied Added Capacity In Wayne Sewer

Members of the Wayne County Board of Public Works Tuesday axed a proposal of George Bingham, board director, that would have provided additional sewer capacity for Oakland County.

Staman Wins Reappointment

The Oakland county board of supervisors reappointed Novi's Frazer Staman to the three-member county road commission Tuesday by a vote of 59-1.

The lone vote against Staman was cast by Supervisor Hadley Bachert of Novi Township.

Staman, who once served as supervisor of Novi township, is currently chairman of the road commission. The chairmanship is rotated annually. Reappointment of Staman to a six-year term was the only action involving appointments taken Tuesday. All others were tabled until December.

The new 27-member board of county supervisors takes over January 1.

Major benefactors of the proposal would have been Novi and Walled Lake. Novi, which already owns a small share of the interceptor's capacity (4 CFS), hoped to join with Walled Lake in financing the extension of the interceptor arm into Walled Lake. The arm, which already extends two miles inside Novi's boundary, was financed by Novi and built by Oakland County.

Bingham's proposal would have permitted Oakland County to purchase up to 16 additional CFS — provided it agreed to finance and build holding tanks near Walled Lake that would automatically feed stored effluent into the interceptor at low volume periods.

See related story on Page 10-A.

Although the proposal drew vociferous objections from officials of Dearborn Heights and Westland, these objections were by no means indicative of the position of all officials, particularly those in the city and township of Northville.

Councilman Delbert Black and City Manager Frank Ollendorff, who attended the board's meeting to gather more information about the proposal, said the county DPW's decision is a

Apartment Requests Mount Township Decision: Hold Line on Density

The pressure's on Northville township planners and they've turned to the township board for guidance, or at least, reassurance.

Source of the pressure is the population surge to the suburbs and a changing concept of residential land use.

Specifically, township planners — an advisory body that makes recommendations that must be given official approval by the township board — have asked the board "do you want us to stick to the master plan with regard to population density of the township?"

A rash of requests for rezoning to permit construction of apartment dwellings prompted the question.

The board's decision, handed down last week, was to "adhere as closely as possible to the master plan."

This means that the people of Northville township prefer zoning that retains a single family residential identity. As now projected, the township master plan forecasts a population at full development of 47,500. More multiple dwellings and fewer single family residences would increase the population — perhaps nearly double present projections.

It does not mean, however, that planners cannot recommend rezoning where exceptions seem advisable under certain sets of circumstances. It does not mean that the township cannot exceed its proposed ratio of 10 per cent multiple dwellings to single family residential units.

It simply means "use caution, don't establish a precedent that would open the door to a rash of apartment projects, don't do anything you can't defend."

The township planning board is presently faced with three or four rezoning requests for proposed multiple dwelling projects. One is located on Six Mile Road just east of the Farm Crest Farms Thompson-Brown development. Two more are in the Bradner-Franklin Road area.

And another is certain to be the proposed Levitt development in the Hayes' gravel mining area between Seven and Eight Mile Roads (see adjoining story).

With the completion of the Smoker Kings Mill development on Northville Road, Greenspan's apartments on Five Mile near Bradner, and Thompson-Brown's Six Mile Road apartments Northville township will have come very close to the 10 per cent apartment figure, or some 1,100 units. Whether the trend to apartments in the eastern portion of the township can be stemmed remains to be seen.

Planners explain that single family residences are rapidly becoming a luxury that many young families cannot afford. Instead they are turning to apartments. Consequently, one half of the residential building activity is now in multiple dwellings.

As one of the last townships in the metropolitan area with vast tracts of land available for development, Northville will find it increasingly difficult to maintain its "country atmosphere."

But the township's planning consultants, Vilcan-Leman, point out that Northville township is a perfect example of implementing a master plan through zoning. And this zoning, to date, is setting the stage for the kind of community the people have indicated they want.

It would be easy to change, but impossible to turn back.

In one area the township has been urged to take action — specifically in industrial zoning.

Adopt New Rules For City Dump

New regulations aimed at reducing the cost of operating the jointly-used city and township dump (sanitary landfill) will become effective November 23.

Under the streamlined system dump hours will be restricted to Saturdays from 10 a.m. to 4 p.m. and Sundays, noon until 4 p.m.

In addition, all industrial and commercial firms in the township will be prohibited from dumping, while city-located industries and businesses must obtain special permission from the city manager. All residents must have permits cards to gain admittance. Cards may be obtained from the city and township clerks.

Another major change in the operation of the dump will be the manner in which rubbish is handled. Instead of depositing refuse on the dump grounds, special containers will be located near the dump entrance. One will be designated for township residents and the second for city. These portable containers will be hauled to the Salem landfill, emptied and returned to the Northville dump each week.

The new system was recommended by Township Supervisor Gunnar Stromberg and City Manager Frank Ollendorff. Both the township board and the city council approved the change.

Under new state regulations for operating a sanitary landfill costs have jumped sharply. In past years the township has paid the city $2,500 annually for use of the dump. It was anticipated that the cost would more than double this year.

Stromberg estimates that the township's cost under the new system will be between $3,000 and $3,500 per year. This includes cost of the containers, fees for hauling and dumping in Salem and supervisory costs at the dumpsite.

Manager Ollendorff indicated that only city business firms and industries will be allowed to deposit refuse on the city dump grounds. This will be spread, covered and compacted as required by law. All residential users will place rubbish in the portable containers.

No garbage or bulk items, such as stoves, furniture, etc., will be permitted.

School Workshop To Air Problems

With a growing list of pressing problems staring it in the face, the Northville Board of Education will hold a day-long workshop Saturday with the school system's administrative staff.

Most of the matters included on the agenda of the unusual meeting were disclosed in a recent lengthy memorandum from Superintendent of Schools Raymond Spear. Typical are future millage proposals, future building needs, and disposition of the old junior high school.

With the scheduling of Saturday's workshop, the board Monday night decided to cancel its regular special meeting slated later this month.

Several of the pressing problems or challenges of the board were discussed briefly Monday. These included the year-round school study, the fish hatchery property, standardized school specifications, and an open lunch policy.

Concerning the year-round concept, Spear reported that the steering committee met last week and agreed to tackle the study with renewed vigor with an eye towards reaching conclusions and recommendations before the new year.

Miss Florence Pannatoni reported that a preliminary study of the fish hatchery site, recently purchased by the city, reveals that the school could utilize part of the grounds for biological classroom studies without any major capital investment. Basically, it would be ideal, in its natural setting, for the study of plants, small wildlife, and pond growth, she said. Specific proposals are to be suggested to the city.

Concerning school specifications, the board directed the superintendent to obtain a number of manuals available through the state that reportedly show ways of standardizing school construction.

The state does not, however, provide standardized architectural drawings, Spear told board members.

In other business Monday, the board heard a request of Robert Foust, representing the Meadowbrook Civic Association, that bus service be reinstated inside the subdivision. Foust said loading of buses on Seven Mile Road is dangerous, and he pointed out that escapees from the Northville State Hospital represent a threat to children waiting for buses along the highway.

Board members, while agreeing with Foust that the situation does represent a problem, held out little hope that it might change the busing policy. Among other things, they noted that the district is not reimbursed for transportation onto private roads, that any deviation from the present bus schedule could delay buses, and that a change in respect to Meadowbrook would only lead to numerous other requests from other areas for similar adjustment.

Two teachers were granted releases from their contracts — Mrs. Mariann Zander, at the end of the current semester, for maternity reasons, and Mrs. Patricia Black because her husband's employment requires his move to another state.

Formal approval for borrowing $27,731, under the Michigan School Bond Loan Fund program, was voted by the board.

Projects like Kings Mill are Enjoying Success in Northville Township — and More are Awaiting Approval.

Overture-to-Opera Tickets Go on Sale

Although it will be four months until Overture-to-Opera makes its second visit to Northville and six months before the Metropolitan Opera Company visits Detroit for a week, it's the time to order tickets for the seven operas the Met will present and to reserve March 22 for Overture performance and afterglow here.

Ticket reservation forms for those very hard-to-get tickets for Met performances at Masonic Temple auditorium in Detroit now are available from Mrs. Ernest J. Shave, Grand Opera chairman for Northville, and from Mrs. Donald A. Ware, co-chairman and Overture chairman.

Mrs. Ware announced this week that March 22 is the tentative date for the Overture-to-Opera evening with the performance again to be in Northville High School auditorium and the afterglow to be at Meadowbrook Country Club.

The initial appearance of Overture in Northville last year, even though delayed by curfew, was an outstanding success. The 1969 production again will be produced by Dr. David DeChiera. An opera education project of Detroit Grand Opera Association, Overture will present two operas next year, Donizetti's "Il Campanello" and Weill's "Der Jasager."

The seven operas to be presented by the Met May 26-31 include: Verdi's "Rigoletto," Monday; Cilea's "Adriana Lecouvreur," a Detroit premiere, Tuesday; Strauss' "Der Rosenkavalier," a new production, Wednesday; Verdi's "Il Trovatore," a new production, Thursday; Gounod's "Faust," Friday; Rossini's "Il Barbiere di Siviglia," Saturday matinee, and Puccini's "La Boheme," Saturday evening.

Mrs. Ware reports that the Saturday matinee starring Roberta Peters already is proving popular with Northville opera lovers. She suggests that if enough reservations are made, a Northville opera party may be planned.

Student Gains Teaching Skill

A Northville girl is gaining practical classroom experience as a future teacher this semester while completing her directed teaching assignments.

Janis Lynne Butler, a WMU student enrolled in the education curriculum, is conducting classes under skilled supervisors in elementary, secondary and special education areas. During the fall semester, 390 are working in secondary schools, while 244 are teaching in elementary schools.

OPERA-OVERTURE CHAIRMEN from Northville, Mrs. Ernest J. Shave, left, and Mrs. Donald A. Ware, right, hear about the seven operas to be presented by the Metropolitan Opera Company in Detroit May 26-31 from Mrs. Ernest A. Jones of Bloomfield Hills, who will be general chairman of the 1969 season. They were guests at a luncheon given by Mrs. Ralph T. McElvenny, 1968 Grand Opera chairman, at Grosse Pointe Hunt Club.

Town Hall Address

'Face Fear Frankly' Speaker to Advise

"Face fear frankly — it first must be recognized, then ways must be sought to alleviate the condition, as with any problem, physical or mental," advises Dr. Lester Coleman, second speaker of the Northville Town Hall season who will appear at 11 a.m. Thursday, November 21, in the Northville High School auditorium.

His topic will be: "Is It All Psychosomatic?" A columnist and author, Dr. Coleman is past president of the Academy of Psychosomatic Medicine and now is attending surgeon at Manhattan Eye, Ear and Throat Hospital.

Reservations for the celebrity luncheon, following at Plymouth Meeting House must be mailed by this Friday to Northville Town Hall, Box 93. They are $4. Baby sitters can be obtained by calling Mrs. Robert Brueck, 349-2250.

Mrs. Robert Lang, TH chairman, announces that Dr. Coleman will be introduced by Dr. Carolyn Pratt, psychologist for the Northville school system.

Creator and director of the first national television program on medical education, "Here's To Your Health," Dr. Coleman is considered the first surgeon in the country to devise a technique for the psychological preparation of children for surgery. His work in this field has been chronicled by such leading magazines as Look,

By JEAN DAY

"I LIKE coming at Thanksgiving season in the fall when women are beginning their year of activities," commented Mrs. John Shada, first vice-president of the family life committee of the Detroit Council of Catholic Women, as she accepted the invitation of Northville Woman's club to speak here at 1:30 p.m. Friday at the Presbyterian church.

"The Wonderful World of Women" will be her topic. Acknowledged as one of Detroit's outstanding woman speakers, Mrs. Shada has given inspirational talks to clubwomen throughout Michigan.

She has been active in the United Foundation, vice chairman of Detroit Citizens' Youth Committee and presently is chairman of the speakers' bureau of the Round Table of Christians and Jews, Women's Division. She is chairman of the Exceptional Children Committee for the Ferndale PTA Council.

June Hallagan Shada received both her BA and MA degrees from University of Detroit. Alumni named her Woman of the Year in 1954, and coeds named her Mother of the Year in 1957... she is the mother of eight children.

Mrs. Shada will be introduced by Mrs. David LaFond, program chairman for the day. It is a guest day with tea following.

A BOOK FAIR with bargains is in the end for Northville this week end. Fiction (including best sellers), special interest and children's hard cover books as well as an adult selection of paperbacks from Follette's book store in Ann Arbor will be on display and sale from 10 a.m. until 8 p.m. Friday and from 10 a.m. until 4 p.m. Saturday at the Cave'n headquarters on Main Street.

This new-book fair is a "first" for Northville Mothers' Club with profits to be used for school projects. The sale also will include a large selection of inexpensive paperbacks for children as well as bargain "publishers' remainders", mostly non-fiction books on gardening, art and sports.

Mrs. Kalin Johnson and Mrs. Halton Axtell, co-chairmen, stress that all are new books and that ANY book may be purchased or ordered at retail price during the fair.

Mrs. Johnson, Mrs. William Wiley and Mrs. A. L. Wistert personally selected the books. Mrs. Johnson enthusiastically reports, "We have a really good selection of hard cover books — the kind you like to give for Christmas."

In the publishers' remainders, she illustrated, are "a really comprehensive book on annuals and a Picasso coloring book for children, the latter at a $1 is one-third of the original price."

THE UNITED Foundation campaign in the Northville-Novis areas concluded last week with both communities going "over the top" of quotas in the residential collections. Mrs. David Goss, Northville chairman, reported a final total of $2,880, topping her goal by $343, while Mrs. Richard Rusche in Novi collected $1,583 to exceed her goal by $30; she still has a few returns to be reported.

Their returns helped the Western Wayne community report the highest percentage of quota on Residential Report Day. Therefore, it was with some pride that I attended the final report luncheon of the Torch Drive last Wednesday for The Record.

Paid for by the UAW International Union, the luncheon saluted labor's role in the drive. Douglas A. Fraser, executive board member of the union, presided but attention centered on luncheon headliner George Plimpton, author of the "Paper Lion," — and on six bunnies from the Playboy Club.

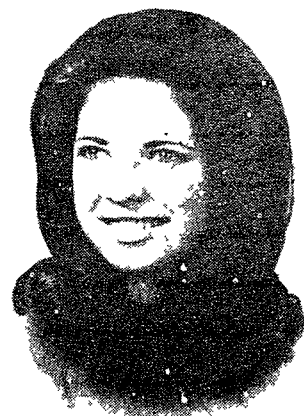

Chaperoning the bunnies were acting Bunny Mother "Jo" and Playboy account representative from the Fred Yaffe public relations company, Mrs. Catharine Colon. Mrs. Colon is the former Catharine Rambeau, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. L. D. Rambeau, 22275 Haggerty Road. She began her career as an 18-year-old writer of locals at The Record.

Plimpton, who has made a successful career writing his experiences as "an amateur in the world of professionals," confessed that his "most agonizing" venture was in the field of music when he clanged the cymbals with such vigor that the New York Philharmonic under Leonard Bernstein paused until the reverberations ceased.

NORTHVILLE SPRING Chapter of China Decorators departed from their hobby of china painting at their November meeting last week at the Plymouth home of Mrs. A.-E. VanOrnum to make holiday pine cone wreaths under the direction of Teacher Goldie Latchford. Unusual additions to the wreaths that members carried home almost completed were horse chestnuts interspersed among large-and-small pine cones.

Luncheon from hand-painted dishes, of course, followed a business meeting. The group now recesses until January 2.

Area Residents Back from Europe

Five Northville residents have just returned from European trips to Italy and to Spain, Portugal and Morocco. Two others leave Saturday for Spain.

Mr. and Mrs. Harry Hartshorne, 1031 Grace Court, flew back last week end from a three-week vacation in Spain, Portugal and Morocco.

Returning Monday night from a trip to Italy with the Western Wayne Deanery of the Catholic Church were Mrs. Dean Lenheiser and the Misses Marjorie and Lillian Kelner.

They flew to Rome, stopping enroute at the Portuguese island of Santa Maria. They also spent two days shopping and sightseeing in Florence before flying home via Shannon, Ireland.

Miss Marjorie Kelner, owner of Margie's Beauty Salon, and her sister also made a side trip to the Isle of mother-in-law, Mrs. C. J. Armstrong of Capri. This was their second visit to Italy.

Also Spain-bound is Mrs. Thomas Armstrong and her 17-year-old daughter Robin. With Mrs. Armstrong's

Westland, they plan to leave Saturday on an eight-day trip with the Michigan Township Association.

Their headquarters in Spain will be Tourmolinos. They expect to make side trips to Tangier, North Africa, and Granada.

Although Mr. Armstrong is the township trustee (making the family eligible for the jaunt), he has chosen to go deer hunting instead with eldest son, Randy. The family will completely scatter as son, Wally, plans to attend a football association meeting in Cadillac.

Lew Coy Backs County Board Committee System

Oakland County Supervisor-elect Lew L. Coy of Wixom has pledged to push for the organization of the new board of supervisors on a committee basis.

Winner of last week's election over Wixom Councilman Ray Lahti, Coy indicated his preference for the committee system rather than having the board of supervisors "sit as a committee of a whole."

Favoring having new board members paid at a rate of $25 per day served, Coy said he would "encourage the rehabilitation, and retraining of welfare recipients in an effort to get these people into the mainstream of the self-supporting."

"The welfare load must be lessened," he added.

Continuing, he said, "I am for the expansion of the county airport, which will encourage industry, which in turn will broaden the tax base."

"I will make every effort to streamline county commissions and agencies to eliminate duplication and waste."

"I will make an effort to establish a pay formula for county employees based on a percentage of the average pay received by the building trades in this area."

"I encourage all citizens in District 27 to take an active interest in their local city, village or township governments. I will be your representative at the county level. I will be polling your local officials to learn of your wishes in making all appointments and decisions."

"To be an effective liaison between your local unit and the county you must let your desires be known to them. I further challenge my constituents to watch my attendance and voting record."

TORCH DRIVE VOLUNTEERS are greeted at a Northville area luncheon concluding the campaign by Mrs. Daniel Swayne, left, who welcomes Mrs. Glenn Heim of Kings Mill Townhouses and Mrs. David Goss, Northville residential chairman. Mrs. Swayne was hostess for the luncheon at her Edenderry home. It was a "thank you" to her workers who collected 170 per cent of their quota.

News Around Schoolcraft

A Buster Keaton classic and a Laurel and Hardy comedy comprise a double-feature film program scheduled for the Schoolcraft College Film Series on Friday, November 22 in the Liberal Arts Building Theater. Showings are scheduled at 2 p.m. and 8:30 p.m. Admission is free.

The Keaton film, one of the comedian's most successful, must remain nameless in advance publicity because of a contract stipulation by the distributor of the film to the college.

Laurel and Hardy will be seen in "Double Whoopee," released in 1929, and one of the team's funniest. The film includes a hilarious parody on Erich von Stroheim. Jean Harlow is seen in a bit part.

Kiwanis to Honor Marjorie Watson

Novi Postmaster to Retire Friday After 17 Years at Same Post

One of the community's most familiar well-known women will step out of the spotlight tomorrow when she officially retires as postmaster of the Novi Postoffice.

Retirement will mark the close of 17 years as the chief executive of the local office for Mrs. Harry Watson, 62, who next Tuesday evening will be feted by the Wixom Kiwanis Club.

In those 17 years, the postoffice has grown from a little third-class, one room office to its present quarters on Grand River west of Novi Road with four clerks, two rural carriers and substitute, a janitor, and mountains of mail that dwarf the trickling volume of nearly two decades ago.

Wife of the late Mr. Harry Watson, prominent Novi businessman and community official, Mrs. Watson became acting postmaster under President Harry Truman but did not win official appointment until the start of President Dwight Eisenhower's Republican term three years later.

"It seems a little funny now," laughs Mrs. Watson; "but it wasn't so funny then. The postal inspector came in one day, showed me the office, and then walked out the door — and I didn't know a thing about postoffices."

She had assumed the post of Mrs. Margaret Renwick, who had died, "and I hadn't even worked as a postoffice clerk anywhere before."

When she assumed the top position — "I was the postmaster, clerk and janitor all in one" — the office was located in a little one-room frame building on Grand River just east of 11 Mile Road. It has since been removed.

A couple years later it was moved to the concrete building, where Frazer Staman's insurance office is now located on Novi Road, and then, when this building became too small, her husband had the larger building constructed next door.

Last year the Novi Road building was abandoned and the post office was moved to its present location on Grand River.

Mrs. Watson, who has lived in Novi nearly 35 years, says the earliest postoffice she can recall was located next door to the present office in what is now an antique store. In those days, she explains, it was a grocery store operated by Belle Walters, now living in Florida, who also served as postmaster.

Staman, who had a hand in securing Mrs. Watson's official appointment while he served as township supervisor of Novi, recalls talking to oldtimers who remembered when Farmington, Walled Lake and Northville "owned" the routes in Novi. Some of them became so incensed because Novi could not have its own rural deliveries, he says, that some of them refused to accept mail from "foreign" carriers and instead faithfully traveled to the Novi office to pick up their letters.

The very first postoffice in Novi, according to some historical accounts, was located at the corner of Wixom Road and Grand River — a real swinging place well over a century ago, with several small plants and businesses clustered about the dirt intersection.

Called "West Farmington" in 1827, the area initially included all of Novi. Lyon Township was referred to as "West Farmington, Junior." John Gould reportedly was the first postmaster, Dr. J. C. Emery the second.

Coincidentally, Mrs. Watson will be honored Tuesday by Kiwanians in Aunt Jemima's Restaurant, located at the intersection of Grand River and Wixom Road (now in Wixom) about where the first office supposedly was located.

What's she going to do now? "Oh, I don't know. Just do what I want to, I guess, and maybe get another job someday," she laughs, a little saddened by the fact that so many of the people she has come to know so well will probably drift out of her life.

Mrs. Watson will continue to live at 44350 Grand River. Two sons, Douglas and Harry, are residents of Novi as are her four grandchildren.

No successor has been named but, temporarily, the postoffice clerk, Mrs. Carrie Newbegin, probably will assume the reins until an appointment is made.

NOVI POSTMASTER BIDS GOODBYE TOMORROW

Mailbox 'Bombing' Ends in Arrests

Novi Police Officer Gerald Burnham arrested two youths Saturday evening as they fled from the scene of a mailbox "bombing."

The two 17-year olds, Christian C. Bowman III of 23058 Gilbar and Robert J. Collins, Jr. of 41771 Aspen Drive, were charged with exploding two mailboxes with M-80 firecrackers, one on Grand River belonging to Novi Hardware and the other on Nine Mile Road.

They will be tried by Justice of Peace Emery Jacques today on the charge of malicious destruction of property. The boys, whom police reported as saying they did it "for kicks," also will be subject to federal prosecution.

Firecrackers also led to the arrest of four other Novi youths, one of whom set off a "silver salute" in a locker at Novi High School Thursday morning.

Principal Gerald Hartman said the school has been harassed by firecracker tossing youth for some time, but Hartman said this was the "last straw," and he called in police.

Arrested with three juveniles was David Adema, 17, of 27700 Novi Road. Adema will face court action before Justice of Peace Jacques, probably today. The others will appear in juvenile court. All will be tried as violators of the state fireworks law.

When building a patio right outside large windows or sliding glass doors, make it a weathered fir or cedar deck to prevent the problem of sun glare. Wood decks also can be more easily patched than concrete decks.

It's Angel Gabriel

Christmas Stamp on Sale

A richly-robed Angel Gabriel, with wings of peacock feathers, will be one of the most familiar sights on holiday mail this Christmas, predicts Northville Postmaster John Steimel, who adds he has tripled his order this year for six-cent Christmas stamps.

The stamp, which reproduces a portion of "The Annunciation," by Jan van Eyck, the great 15th century Flemish artist, was placed on sale November 2. It is printed in blocks of 50 in five colors.

Postmaster Steimel cautions residents that all Christmas cards for this country this year, sealed or unsealed, must bear a six-cent stamp. By being sent first class they will receive forwarding service or be returned to sender if undeliverable.

Steimel said he hopes this will avoid the problem of lost cards. Last year, he cited, the Northville post office had to throw away about 10,000 cards that had insufficient addresses. Steimel last December installed a "heartbreak tree" in the post office lobby filled with cards that could not be delivered. He hopes the first class mailing will avoid this.

This year's stamp is a vertical design, reproducing a figure that is one of the major works in the National Gallery of Art in Washington, D.C. It was produced by van Eyck about 1425-30, when he was court painter to Philip the Good of Burgundy.

The red in the Angel Gabriel's brocaded robe dominates the design. Yellow, blue, brown and green are used in the other details. Across the bottom, also in red, is "van Eyck National Gallery of Art - United States."

A Brussels resident sold the small van Eyck painting to William II of the Netherlands in 1819. Czar Nicholas of Russia acquired it in 1850, and the USSR sold it to Andrew Mellon of Pittsburgh in 1937 as part of a $6.5 million purchase. "The Annunciation" was painted on wood and measures 36 1/2 inches tall and 14 3/8 inches wide.

Van Eyck perfected the new technique of oil painting, which displaced tempera method of the Italian school of art. The egg yolk binding the pigment in the tempera dried so quickly that the artist could not blend his paints to achieve subtle graduations. With more flexible oil paint van Eyck revolutionized art. He was able to render the texture of materials, ranging from cold, polished stone to the fragile petals of flowers. Consequently, he is regarded as one of the most important figures in the history of art.

His career preceded by one generation that of Hans Memling, a fellow Flemish artist, whose "Madonna and Child with Angels" was reproduced in last year's highly acclaimed Christmas stamp.

'Skunk Hollow' Happy Valley Now

"I am surprised that the kids were so good this Halloween," Mrs. J. W. Fields of 204 Faywood in Novi. W. Fields of Novi News last week.

She continued, "I am sure that part of it was due to the fine police force we have here in Novi, but it is the first time in five years that my picket fence has not been pulled down."

She did get some eggs on the side of her house the night before Halloween, but she felt this was minor compared to the pranksterism she has withstood in the past at her home in the area known as "The Grove."

"The Grove" has variously been known as "Skunk Hollow" and "Dogpatch" and has been one of the police department's most troublesome areas. Only recently, one of its 17-year-old residents was arrested and jailed for shooting at a school bus.

Why the sudden change? Boys who were with the convicted sniper and who told him not to shoot decided that maybe, if they left people alone, the people would not bother them. Getting together with Detective Sergeant Richard Faulkner, they asked what they could do to get people off their backs.

Faulkner told the youths that good behavior would go a long way toward improving their relationship, and they might begin by not engaging in their previous Halloween pursuits.

"We decided that Sergeant Faulkner had the right idea," one youth told the Novi News, "and we decided to give it a try."

He and another youth, both school dropouts, said they were going into Union Lake Monday morning and hoped to land jobs. The other youths are still in school.

Meanwhile, Mrs. Fields has her fingers crossed, hoping that "Skunk Hollow" has really become "Pleasant Valley."

License Plate Sale Starts

Northville-Nowi area motorists may purchase their 1969 passenger car plates beginning tomorrow.

But they'd better be prepared to shell out a few more bucks than in past years according to officials of the Secretary of State offices in Plymouth, Farmington and Walled Lake.

The 55 cents per 100-pound weight is an increase of 20 cents from the previous rate of 35 cents per 100-pounds. Rates for commercial vehicle and trailer plates, which already are on sale, also were increased.

Plates may be purchased at these offices: In Plymouth at 238 South Main Street, in Farmington at 33304 Grand River, and in Walled Lake at 141 East Walled Lake Drive.

Despite the hike in plate costs, officials at Farmington do not expect much protest, they said, because most citizens are already aware that the state legislature had boosted the costs.

Sewer Use Denial Stings Pollution Cited Communities

Some Wayne County communities may be happy the proposal to stretch the Middle Rouge Interceptor capacity was defeated but there is no joy in Novi and Walled Lake.

The two Oakland County communities are sitting on a major pollution problem, a $1 million grant from the government, and a sewer plan that is nearing its seventh birthday.

Cited for pollution in 1966 by the Water Resources Commission - Walled Lake for dumping raw sewage in the lake and Novi for doing the same in a branch of the Rouge River - they were given until June, 1969 to clean up or face the wrath of the state.

While it never has been clear just what punitive action the state might take, some officials have stated the state might stop all new construction and for perhaps simple order construction of a sewer and bill the two communities for the work.

If the latter became a reality, the state would be accomplishing something that the two communities have not been able to do. A joint sewer study was completed in September of 1962. In the years since, numerous meetings have been held between the communities and Oakland County in attempting to arrive at the least expensive, most satisfactory solution.

Specifically, it was determined that a logical, temporary solution would be construction of a sewage

Gun Discharges, Youth Wounded

A service station employee accidentally shot himself early Monday evening.

Douglas D. Smith, 19, of 42640 Eight Mile Road, treated at St. Mary Hospital for a gunshot wound of the left thigh, faces court for his trouble.

According to police, Smith was working at Clark Service Station, 510 South Main, when, in attempting to place an unregistered revolver under the desk, he accidentally discharged it. The bullet struck him just above the knee. He is charged with possessing an unregistered gun.

In other police cases this past week, a walk-away from Northville Convalescent Home was picked up on West Main Street last week Tuesday disposal plant south of Walled Lake, which would service new lateral sewer lines throughout the city of Walled Lake and the lake area of Novi.

Legal and bonding problems, coupled with a sticky formula for per-capita cost to the homeowners of the two communities led to lengthy delays. Frictions between officials of the two communities also jammed the plan's progress.

Then with the citations hanging fire, a $1 million promise from the government, and the contract between the two communities about settled, Oakland County suggested early last year that the sewer disposal plant idea be placed on the back burner because of the possible use of the Middle Rouge interceptor.

Since the $1 million disposal plant would be only a temporary solution, Novi-Walled Lake officials agreed to wait until the idea of extending the Rouge system from lower Novi into Walled Lake had been explored.

It was felt that it would be far wiser to invest the cost of the terminal disposal plant in the cost of extending the line.

Oakland County DPW Director R. J. Alexander last week said the exploration delay was a "blessing in disguise." With passage of the water pollution state proposition Tuesday, Novi and Walled Lake can expect substantial financial help from the state and federal governments, he said. Alexander told this newspaper that he intended to request aid under the bonding proposal and "expects to get up to 80-percent of the cost of extending the line (through Novi) to 13 Mile Road."

Furthermore, Alexander noted that although the government's $1 million grant was based originally upon the disposal plant concept, he has been given assurances that it "applies equally" to the extension proposal.

The county DPW director said it would be foolish to build an expensive, temporary disposal plant and jeopardize the permanent, longer range interceptor plans if a temporary agreement can be worked out between the two counties.

For Novi, extension of the interceptor to the lake area would have added advantages. It would correct the pollution problem in the stream at Grand River and hasten construction of the proposed "Northland" shopping center near 12 Mile and Novi Roads.

Guernsey Dairy Plans Open House

Guernsey Farms Dairy, 21300 Novi Road, announced that the hours of 11 a.m.-7 p.m. Sunday this week are reserved for its annual open house which has attracted more than 1,000 visitors in each of its two prior years.

The open house at the dairy, which produces its own ice cream as well as milk will consist of tours through the plant. The public will see Guernsey's modern processing facilities and procedures.

John McGuire, the dairy's owner, said it is a worthwhile trip for the public since this area has one of only perhaps 50 small dairy operations in the entire state.

McGuire employs 35 persons, five of whom are members of his family.

Guernsey, which received its name from the cattle which produce its milk, has been a Northville-area business for 28 years.

The plant can produce 150 gallons of ice cream and 500 gallons of milk in an hour. It also makes all types of milk as well as all flavors of ice cream.

Did you know that...

The driving error which causes most accidents is failure to yield right-of-way.

The average fire toll in the United States includes 14 school fires every day.

With the establishment of the National Highway Safety Bureau, Congress has supplied meaningful leadership to America's effort to reduce traffic accidents.

W-O Picks Barry Deal for First Squad

Barry Deal, the Mustangs' ground-gobbling halfback, was the only Northville player on the first team selections of the Wayne-Oakland 1968 all-league football team.

Tackle Fred Hicks and Guard Glenn Heffner were named to the second squad, while Flanker Terry Mills received honorable mention on the dream team released this week.

Champion West Bloomfield and runners-up Bloomfield Hills Andover and Milford each had three members to lead the list. Vanker and Keough were the only juniors named.

First team selections are listed below:

Mark Giegler, end, senior, Milford; Larry Appleby, end, senior, Andover; Larry Cece, tackle, senior, Milford;

Rich Hodsdon, tackle, senior, Andover; Kevin Gawronski, guard, senior, West Bloomfield; Steve Vanker, guard, junior, Andover; Pat Keough, center, junior, Clarenceville;

Bob Clinard, quarterback, senior,

Milford; Terry Conley, back, senior, West Bloomfield; Ed McKenna, back, senior, West Bloomfield; and Barry Deal, back, senior, Northville.

West Bloomfield also led the second team selections with four players, End Steve Westjohn, Tackle Mike Walosin, Guard Ron VanGorder and Quarterback Robin Brennan.

Also named to the second team, in addition to the Mustangs' Hicks and Heffner, were backs Chuck Palaian and Jeff Roley of Andover and Dave Brandemuhl of Clarenceville, End Eric Hood of Clarkston, Guard Ron Waldrup of Waterford Kettering and Center Dennis Wooster, also of Kettering.

Graduation Leaves Gaping Holes

Injuries are bad enough, but when graduation eats away key players football coaches start sweating.

And the way things look in Northville and Novi, some crying towels are needed.

Statistics elsewhere on this page point out the passing, rushing and scoring efforts of the two squads, but they don't show the loss suffered by the Mustangs when Stan Nirider and Pat Cayley were shelved early in the season by injuries. Nor do they show the lessened effectiveness when the Mustangs lost Craig MacDermid or when the Wildcats lost Tom Boyer and the fulltime services of Jon VanWagner who racked up 75 points despite not being able to perform on offense at all in the last two games of the season.

Soon to be shoved aside for indoor activities are the accomplishments of such standout linemen as Dave Bingham, Lev Tafralian, Len Beadle, Dale Pohlman and Doug Keith and the defensive efforts of Bingham, Van Wagner, Gary Boyer, Rick Hill and Doug Schott for Novi and the fine performances of such as Fred Hicks, Scott Butler, Kim Marburger, Fred Holdsworth, Glenn Heffner, and Mark Gazley of Northville.

The Mustangs will be faced with the difficult task of replacing the gaping holes left by 14 departing seniors without the benefit of seasoned junior varsity players since the budget failed to provide for a JV squad. Players who will be missed include all ends except Holdsworth (including

While Northville's most costly graduation losses seem to be linemen, Novi will be most severely depleted in the backfield. Gone will be Jon VanWagner, Gary Boyer, both Fullbacks, Morrison and Ken Osborn, and second team Quarterback Schott (a Junior, Doug is moving from Novi). Few linemen will be lost, but those who are going are key players. Bingham, Keith, Tafralian, Earl and Beadle will graduate along with Paul Faulkner who has also seen a lot of action for the Wildcats.

Colts Leave Friday For Peanut Bowl

Northville's junior footballers ended their regular season Sunday by taking one of three games at Plymouth.

The Colts Freshmen beat the Lions Frosh 20 to 6 in what was termed "their best game of the season."

Northville Varsity also played a hard-fought, well-played game that was probably its best season effort, but lost in the last four minutes to the Lions 21-14.

The Colt Junior Varsity did not fare as well, bowing 19-0 to the Plymouth Juniors.

Although the regular season is behind them, the youngsters are looking ahead to some of the hottest, most exciting action. Saturday night the junior football elevens will play in the much-heralded "Peanut Bowl" at Cadillac, Michigan.

The first annual Peanut Bowl will be sponsored by WWTN in Cadillac and will be played on the Cadillac High School football field.

Parents and players, as well as coaches, managers and cheerleaders will be fêted at a banquet in Cadillac Friday night. The banquet will be followed by a pep rally and bon fire.

Saturday afternoon's highlight will be a parade through the city of Cadillac, followed by a cheerleading contest among participants from a 50-mile radius of Cadillac and, climaxed by the three games in the evening. Cadillac will furnish the entire Northville contingent with food and lodging for Friday and Saturday night.

It is also reported that active junior football program organizers, Jim McDowell and Dick Bloomhuff, who supplied the necessary information to get Cadillac's program started this year, will be presented with keys to the city.

To help finance the trip, the junior football group sold candy at the Downs this summer.

Grid Upsets Spoil Contest Entries

Take two of the top college football teams in the nation, match them with two sleepers, and you've got trouble for contestants in the weekly football contest.

That's what happened this past weekend as only seven entries managed to come up with fewer than four mistakes.

With a mountain of entries on hand, The Record-Nowi News judges could find only two contestants who accurately predicted, for example, Minnesota's upset over fifth ranked Purdue.

And only a few more picked Oklahoma to edge third-ranked Kansas.

As a matter of fact, all three of the top contest winners, each of whom had three bad picks, had picked Purdue to whip the Golden Gophers. Two of them failed to predict Oklahoma's victory.

First place money went to Karen McDonald of 332 Sherrie Lane, who came up with three mistakes but who was just a single point off Baltimore's 27-10 victory over the cascading Detroit Lions.

In second place, was Jeff Jones of 46930 Chigwidden, and taking third place, five points off the professional grid score, was Linda Hoffman of 42350 Hammill, Plymouth.

Another of the tough games that contestants found difficult to pick was Auburn's 28-14 upset over top rated Tennessee. Michigan State's narrow, 24-22, defeat at the hands of Indiana was still another tough one.

Most contestants, however, correctly predicted a victory by front-running University of Southern California (35-17 over California), Ohio State's 43-8 swamping of Wisconsin, and Penn State's 22-7 triumph over Miami (Florida).

Among the other contestants last week who came up with just three mistakes were: Barbara Hoffman, Nancy Adams, Michael Anusbigian, and Virginia Gould.

This week's contest lineup appears on Page 4-B.

FIRST IN TWO YEARS—It may take some bow hunters a dozen or more years before they score, but not for Art Forth of Connemara Subdivision. A student at Central Michigan University, Forth shot a 144 spike buck in his second year of bow hunting on November 2. Using a 48-pound bow, he picked off the whitetail at 25 yards at Standard Products Company Hunting Lodge near Lovells. He was a guest of the A. C. Parmenter family into which he will marry.

SPIRIT DAY—Novi Spirit Day (November 1, of course) was capped by a pep rally in the gym including a skit showing Novi's "Wildcat" knocking out all opponents except opening foe, Hartland. It didn't work, however, as another Wildcat from Flint St. Mary KO'ed Novi 19-0 the following evening. The cheerleaders were actively encouraging victory in this photo prior to the skit.

Out of THE PAST

Five Years Ago . . .

...The Mustangs were held to a 13-13 tie on an icy field here and wound up tied with their opponent, the Clarkston Wolves, for first place in the Wayne-Oakland League. Both sported 5-1-1 league marks.

...Steve Juday, Northville's promising starting soph quarterback at Michigan State, was knocked out of action when he suffered a shoulder separation in the Wisconsin game.

...Steve's brother Bill also had his shoulder injured in Vanderbilt's game with Boston College. Unlike Steve, Bill was expected to be in action in the Commodores' next game.

...Also in sports, former Northville football coach Ron "Skip" Schipper was making a name for himself as Central College of Iowa's head coach. One of his star backs, Dave Hay, had been a Mustang star under Schipper.

...Three Northville United Fund chairmen, Mrs. Paul Hughes, LeRoy Stone and William Keith reported that the fund had passed its goal even though final tabulation had not been completed.

...Racing Commissioner Berry Beaman had received a request to bring thoroughbred racing to the Downs for the 1964 season.

...State historical officials lent their support to the fight to keep Northville's library building intact.

...Would Sheldon Hayes get a landfill permit? This was the question of the day, as the township board delayed any decision until a full board could be present.

...The records showed that Northville was feeling growing pains as the population made an unprecedented climb to 4,400 for an increase of 433 in the three years since the 1960 census.

Ten Years Ago . . .

...The Mustangs clinched at least a tie for the Wayne-Oakland League title as they clobbered Clarkston 47-0 for their 24th consecutive win. Northville had climbed to sixth in the state Class B ratings.

...Northville voters failed to name a single winner in the off-year election. From Martha Griffiths, Phil Hart and G. Mennen Williams right on down the slate, the state and local offices were won chiefly by Democrats, while Northvillites voted solidly for Republican candidates.

...A public hearing was set for the necessary zoning change to establish a special multiple family residence district.

...In election issues in neighboring cities, defeats ruled the day. Plymouth failed to vote in liquor by the glass, five of the six points in Livonia's $8 Million Civic Improvement Proposal fell by the wayside with only the new fire station being approved and two incorporation proposals failed as parts of Farmington township were not incorporated into the cities of Clarenceville and Farmington Woods.

...Northville's 1958 Torch Fund drive fell short of its $4,858 goal.

...A review of policy showed that the school board did not permit use of public school buses for private use by parochial schools. Debate was touched off when the board allowed Our Lady of Victory the use of its buses to transport an honor guard to the funeral of Cardinal Mooney.

...The Northville planning commission set a meeting to determine whether to allow wintering of horses at the Downs.

Fifteen Years Ago . . .

...Holly beat the Mustangs 7-6 to cloud the league picture. The loss dropped Northville into a tie for the lead with Keego Harbor at 3-1. Clarenceville was just a step behind at 2-1-1.

...Wheels were set in motion toward construction of a new elementary school building. Eural Clark and Nelson C. Schrader, Jr. were the committee set up to negotiate for a school site.

...$6,000 was pledged to the Retail Merchants Association parking lot fund by businessmen and property owners. Association president Nelson Schrader, Jr. said that oral pledges of another $3,000 had been received toward the projected goal of $16,000.

...Northville marked National Education Week with a series of meetings and open houses designed to better acquaint parents with the work done by public schools.

...No one was spared as all downtown merchants had to go to work to remove the soap Halloween trick-or-treaters used to decorate their windows.

...Commissioner John Stubenvoll of the village water problems. He was to make a review of the rates and to come up with a map detailing the village water system.

...John Haller conducted 15 European scientists on a tour of the Michigan Metal Products Company here. The foreign scientists were in this country to study powder metallurgy.

...The College of Engineering of the University of Michigan honored Walter L. Couse as a distinguished alumnus.

Twenty Years Ago . . .

...The Mustangs registered their fifty victory of the season when they beat Clarenceville 29-7.

...Northville and Novi both voted heavily Republican in a Democratic year which saw Harry S. Truman upset Thomas E. Dewey despite the odds against him.

...The Northville Post Office announced it would begin a three-route system for mail delivery. Including extensions of previous routes, the three were Harry German's of the business section, East Dunlap Street, West Wing and all the streets east of Center Street and west of South Center Street to Wing.

...Joe Litsenberger had the second route bounded on the north by West Dunlap, on the east by Wing and including all portions of the village south of West Dunlap Street.

The new route was given to Elmer Balko and included the north side of town including Oakwood subdivision.

...Twenty four High School and Junior High students were listed on the year's first Honor Roll at Northville school.

...Valentine D. Windt, Associate Professor of speech and director of play production at University of Michigan was to be the Woman's Club's guest speaker at the Village library.

Twenty-five Years Ago . . .

...Charles Bishop of Northville was listed on the all star baseball team in the Oran League in North Africa. Bishop, an infielder, was listed as an outstanding hitter.

...Northville began a drive for the community war chest with a goal set at $3,500. In charge of solicitation in Northville Township was Mrs. Mollie Lawrence, while Mrs. Charles Westphall took charge in the village.

...Most recent inductions into the armed forces were Anthony Bongiovanni and John J. McDonough into the Navy and Wilber M. Bachelor into the Army.

...Freydl's Cleaners were scheduled to move into a new building with the same address, 116 Main Street.

...Happy Acres, the William B. Walker Jr. residence on Eight Mile Road, was to be the scene of the area's first USO party. A barn dance was planned for 25 soldiers who were taking specialized training at the University of Detroit.

Year-Round School Committee Reports

EDITOR'S NOTE—Following is a report of the steering committee of the Citizens Year-Round School Study Committee.

During the recent campaign for local, state and national elections one of the all-pervasive issues was education. Vice-president Humphrey spoke frequently for maximum use of the educational plant. President-elect Nixon, in a recent statement, recommended that with the approval of Congress he will initiate a system of bloc grants to be issued to states in lump sums to be allocated by the states in the field of education.

Obviously, the emphasis is on a higher degree of educational sophistication, revitalization and academic excellence. One of the ways of achieving these goals here in Northville has been selected, after careful study of many systems, for citizen review. This way is known as the Quadrimester approach and will be carefully outlined and detailed for the public in subsequent articles in this newspaper.

The steering committee of the Year-Round School Study met recently in the school board office to hear the reports of the research, concept and implementation committees. These committees agreed that the Quadrimester approach is the most appropriate route for the Northville school system to consider and this agreement was based on the very careful, very extensive study that went on over a long period of time.

Prior to recommendation to the board, however, a careful study on the part of the citizens of Northville might be noteworthy, particularly in view of the fact that there has been much stated concern here over the use of the local tax dollar and the maximum use of the local educational plant. Northville appears to be highly in favor of greater use of the plant. The Quadrimester approach would facilitate that use within realistic limitations of family units and without unreasonable alteration of the present system.

The finance and facilities committee is in the process now of preparing an in-depth report on the feasibility of the Quadrimester concept.

Northville's school system will absorb an anticipated increase of 500 students next year. Additional growth is anticipated beyond that period. It behooves the residents of Northville, then, to plan accordingly for the wise provision of the most practical, most economical, overall use of the local school facilities, to take advantage of all available moneys at state and federal levels to implement new methods as we specifically need them, and to continually increase the quality of education as it is developed and proven effective.

Citizen reaction to the articles outlining the Quadrimester approach will be seriously studied and measured in terms of future recommendations to the board of education and the desirability and feasibility of transition from one system to another.

Oakland Denied

unfortunate one that may one day cost citizens of this area considerably more money.

Neither of the two city officials, nor Township Supervisor Gunnar Stromberg, voiced support for the proposal at the meeting. Black explained, "We did not have the authorization to voice our opinions. We were directed to go there and get information."

Recognizing that Northville Mayor A. M. Allen had earlier voiced strong objections to the plan, Black nevertheless was outspoken. "I don't care what the mayor said; it's a crying shame that this thing was defeated. It just means a tremendous waste of money. We're going to regret it someday — and so is the township."

According to the city manager, the proposal had three distinct benefits for the city:

—It would have guaranteed that Oakland County will share in the cost of another interceptor that will be needed in the not too distant future.

—It would have meant that Oakland County would pay a larger share in the cost of the existing interceptor, thus reducing Northville's cost share.

—It would have provided additional capacity for the city should it someday require it, "but most of all, it would give the township more capacity and they will certainly need it."

Another factor in favor of the proposal, he suggested, is that Walled Lake, which now may be forced to build its own disposal system, will pour its "purified" effluent into the stream that runs through Northville.

The city manager admitted, however, that Wayne County had been assured by the State Health Department that pollution of the stream by the Walled Lake system would not be tolerated.

Basic objection by Dearborn Heights, whose mayor serves as the chairman of the Wayne County Board of supervisors, was that additional use of the Rouge Interceptor will aggravate an already existing problem in Dearborn Heights where "interceptor overflow" reportedly is backing up into that community's sewer lines and creating flooded basements.

Some sewer experts, however, have argued that Dearborn Heights' problem is self-created. They contend that storm water seeping into the sewer from residential weeping tile is the real cause.

Last week the Northville Township Board voted not to agree to any proposal unless it received written assurances that the township would indeed receive additional capacity in the interceptor.

Presently, the township has 2.6 cubic feet per second (CFS) in the interceptor. This capacity is expected to be exhausted with the completion of the Kings Mill, Thompson-Brown and Greenspan developments.

The township board intended to demand two additional CFS in return for its agreement to accept Bingham's plan. The two CFS would serve an estimated 5,000 additional people.

Although the Wayne County DPW voted to deny Oakland County's request for additional capacity, its motion included the clause "until completion of the study" of the proposal.

Township Leads Area Building

Northville Township racked up another $1 million plus construction rate during October to lead the area in building activity — but the big figure was still off the record township clip for the same month last year.

New construction during October of this year was estimated at $1,014,694 in Northville Township and this figure included 24 building permits. Last year, with 23 permits, the township registered an estimated $1,602,368 worth of building.

Actually, last month's figure was dwarfed by the previous two months. In August, the estimated new construction was $2,570,612 and in September, $2,849,916. Much of this late summer activity, according to officials, was the result of the lengthy summer trades strikes that sliced early summer construction here and elsewhere.

In the year since October, 1967, Northville Township has had total estimated construction of $8,493,701 — far more than the other communities in the circulation area of this newspaper.

Second highest construction pace last month was recorded by Novi, where permits were issued for $373,572 of new construction as compared to $359,225 during the same month in 1967.

Total construction for the year since October 1967 in Novi stands at $5,283,277.

Biggest increase in construction was made in Wixom where building estimates rose from $2,835 in October of 1967 to $112,428 in this past October. Since the start of the 1968-69 fiscal year, Wixom has issued permits for a total of $494,286 worth of construction as compared to $438,223 for the entire fiscal year of 1967-68.

In the City of Northville, new construction was estimated at $56,789 last month as compared to $273,302 for the comparable month of 1967. Counting only major repairs and new construction, building estimates since October of last year totals $364,500.

Among the major construction projects that boosted estimates in Northville Township have been additional units at Kings Mills townhouse development on Northville Road, Greenspan apartments and houses near Five Mile Road, and initial development of the giant Thompson-Brown subdivision south of Six Mile Road.

Construction of houses in the rapidly expanding Meadowbrook Lake Subdivision was a key factor in Novi's construction rate.

Three major factors have underlined Wixom's leap forward. One of these was the first industrial lot in the Nick Martin Industrial Subdivision, the other two home permits in two subdivisions, the Ward Ross Palmer Lake Sub and the Caldwell Highgate-on-the-Green sub.

Building Inspector Gets Added Duties

The Northville township board approved a number of recommendations made by its water and sewer commission.

They include:

—Appointment of John Kizer, building inspector, as superintendent of the water and sewer department. Supervisor Gunnar Stromberg explained that Kizer would be paid $2,160 for these duties, $8,000 as building inspector plus $600 for car allowance. The township recently completed its inspection department with the appointment of Russell Fox as electrical inspector at $3,000 annually.

—Establishing a minimum size for sanitary sewer lines at 10-inch.

—Not to allow unions in copper water pipe of one-inch or less up to 100 feet in length and 1½-inch pipe up to 60 feet.

—To charge cost plus 30 per cent for water service connections to apartments and $175 for installation of one-inch water line on 60-foot streets and an additional $2 per foot over the 60-foot street.

—To increase charge from $10 to $15 for installation of water meters on ¾ to 1½-inch line.

—To install two fire hydrants to serve Edenderry and Shadbrook subdivisions, as petitioned by residents, at a charge to the residents of $500 for each hydrant. Actual cost to the township is estimated at $800 each with the balance to be paid from water and sewer funds.

—Adoption of a $25 use charge to builders using water during building from hydrants.

In other business conducted by the board at its November meeting Donald Boor and J. Craig Bowlby were reappointed to the planning commission and the board agreed to waive the penalty for payment of school, county and township taxes until March 1 when bills are turned over to the county for collection.

The highly acclaimed edition, published by American Heritage, is one of the finest illustrated histories of United States presidents ever published. Presented in rich covers with exceptionally fine printed pages, the two books are loaded with fascinating information about the men who have led this nation.

Challenging the political acumen of its readers, The Northville Record-Now News offers this contest in which readers are asked to pick the names of the men or women that President-elect Richard Nixon will appoint to each of his 11 Cabinet posts. The person selecting the largest number of correct Cabinet appointments will be declared the winner following the President's appointments. In the event a tie still exists, the winner will be determined by a drawing. All entries must be postmarked no later than Thursday, November 21. Only residents of Northville, Novi and Wixom are eligible. Contestants must be adults or high school students, and only one entry per person will be accepted. Write your picks on a blank sheet of paper, designating both the man and the post he will hold, include your name, address and telephone number, mail it to The Northville Record, 101 North Center Street, Northville 48167.

Reverend James Andrews
Full Salvation Union

The opportunity of life consists in the ability and privilege we have to make decisions. The decisions we make determine the kind of a life we live.

In the past the Christian standard has been to turn our lives over to God and allow Him to make all of our decisions for us. Many wonderful Christians have testified to having had a definite experience with God wherein they decided to do this and that since that time they have been conscious of another Person making decisions for them.

This type of a life was pressed upon my father by an experience he had in Kansas many years ago — (around 1903). This experience had a very definite and positive affect upon my father's life. God was very real to him in his inward consciousness and made His will so clear that he was happy in the assurance of doing exactly what God wanted him to do.

If a person could always live in that way today it would be a most wonderful life. But such does not seem to many to be possible today as it has been in the past and this has distressed them greatly as they have wondered why?

today. My decision must be to do the will of God as it is made known in the many-membered Body of Christ being made literally manifested here and now, but not necessarily limited or bound to any particular location or group. However it is clear to us that God is not doing anything anywhere in all the world that will be out of harmony with what He is doing right here. In other words you cannot be in harmony with God anywhere in the world where you may be and at the same time be out of harmony with what He is doing here.

Our only hope is to surrender to the mind of God as it is revealed now in the Body of Christ. If you go on in an independent spirit following your "leadings" or your "understanding as to what the bible teaches" you will die in division.

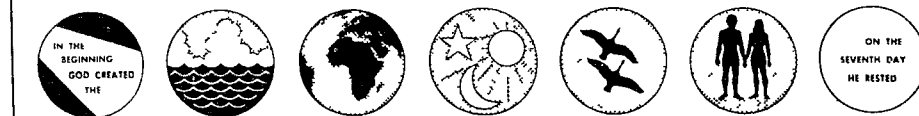

"Turn ye, turn ye, for why will ye die"

I believe the reason for this is the fact that God is bringing into literal manifestation today a many-membered Body of Christ through which He plans to direct those who put their trust in Him now just as in other days He has directed by His Spirit in inward, personal, conscious realization.

Our hope today is not in an attempt to follow the leading of the Spirit in an individualistic manner but it is in recognizing and surrendering to what God is doing

SHORT OF A MIRACLE

Rome's Coliseum, partly tumbled into ruin, is considered one of the wonders of the world. It was built in 80 A. D.—and that is a long time ago, to be sure. Yet it is but a second when measured against the ages that have passed since God created the world.

The Coliseum—wonder that it is—is also visible proof of the limit of man's accomplishments. We consider it nothing short of a miracle that something built by man has endured that long. Yet those things created by God remain endless and eternal.

God's works should, indeed, fill even the wisest of us with wonder, with awe, and with gratitude. We tend to take them all too much for granted. We tend, at times, to forget them—and even to forget Him—entirely.

Discover God again, in the church of your choice and in the process, rediscover yourself.

OPERATION SLEDS, a community project of Northville Girl Scout Cadette Troop 371, is under way as scouts Jill Young, left, and Mimi Merwin paint one of the sleds being reconditioned by the troop for children at Wayne County Training School. Anyone with sleds to donate is asked to call her at 349-3466 or 349-5175. The urgently-needed sleds will be picked up and reconditioned.

Novi Police Department

Thefts, Car Injury Tops Blotter

Three Detroit youths, who fled police in a stolen car early last week, were apprehended at a roadblock near Kensington Park.

The juveniles were turned over to Detroit police. In addition to the car, stolen from Detroit, Novi police also recovered a tape recorder reported stolen in Detroit.

When the youths failed to dim their lights, Novi Officer John L. Johnson tried to get the driver to pull to the side of the road. He refused, made a U-turn and sped west on Grand River.

Johnson gave chase and clocked the vehicle at speeds of up to 110 MPH. Park officers set up a roadblock, the car was stopped and two of the youths quickly apprehended. But it took an assist from Novi Corporal Dale Gross and his police dog, Banner, to arrest the third who tried to escape into a nearby woods.

A breaking and entering at Timber Lane Lumber Company, 42780 Ten Mile Road, was reported last week. The thieves apparently knew their way around, police said, because they broke into the desk in which the cash box containing $100 was kept and touched nothing else in the building. The case is under investigation.

When Officers John Johnson and Frank Barabas of Novi Police attempted to arrest Patrick H. O'Bryan of 204 Endwell for fighting at Dave's Hamburger Stand, he became disorderly. Taken before Justice of Peace Emery Jacques, O'Bryan pleaded guilty to the charge of disorderly person and paid a $50 fine.

Two personal injury accidents were reported by Novi police last week.

Michael Utley of Northville rolled over a truck belonging to the Godwin Sod Farm on Ten Mile Road west of Wixom Road. Utley claims he skidded on the wet road when an unidentified car in front of him suddenly applied its brakes. He suffered multiple facial lacerations when his head went through the passenger's side window.

The other accident involved two cars at the intersection of Grand River and Meadowbrook Road. John Carrier of 40840 Eleven Mile Road suffered minor facial injuries in the mishap.

Police warn that hunting without a permit or hunting in a posted area can result in a $100 fine, 90 days in jail or both. Officer Gerald Burnham told the Novi News that there has been a rash of these offenses.

Police also warn that the rash of dumpings on Novi Streets is going to have to stop or some people are going to be receiving some very stiff penalties.

Novi police investigated a breaking and entering at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Coy Lowman of 1705 East Lake Drive last week, Tuesday morning.

The home was burglarized some time between 1:30 and 6:30 p.m. the previous evening. Among missing items were some $11 in cash, diamond rings valued at $250 and a savings pass book worth $257.

160 E. Main 349-1122

The case is currently under investigation, but Novi police have no leads. The burglar was apparently no stranger to the Lowman's German Shepherd because it was tied outside the window through which the entry was gained, police said.

Transfusion of 10 pints of blood was required for Raymond Barbara of South Lyon following a two-car collision in front of 40033 Eight Mile Road Thursday.

Barbara, driving a Volkswagon, struck the Ford Econoline driven by William Hall of 345 Sherrie in Northville as it was pulling into the driveway at 40033 Eight Mile. Both vehicles were towed from the scene.

Casterline Ambulance transported Barbara to University Hospital in Ann Arbor. Novi police told the Northville Record Barbara suffered a severe open fracture of his right leg that caused massive bleeding.

Novi police apprehended three youths as they were pulling out of a driveway in an attempt to avoid a fight. The youths had all been drinking, but two were underage, police said.

Larry J. Warner of Pontiac and Owen T. Prather of Union Lake, both soldiers, were turned over to military authorities. Randolph F. Siple of Pontiac will appear before Justice of Peace Emery Jacques tomorrow on a charge of minor in possession.

Novi Justice Court

Mrs. James F. Scheets of Livonia became worried and called police last week when her husband and Herman Pehkonen of Detroit did not return to shore at Walled Lake.

Novi sent two patrol cars to the scene and succeeded in getting the men, who appeared intoxicated, safely ashore. Scheets and Pehkonen, however, became disorderly when ashore and had to be restrained forcibly.

Appearing before Justice of Peace Emery Jacques in Novi Justice Court Thursday, the two men pleaded guilty to having been disorderly persons and each paid a fine of $35 and $10 costs in lieu of serving five days in jail.

One Novi man had his case dismissed on the same day. He had been charged with being "abroad at unusual hours."

In other justice court cases William F. Trusty of Walled Lake pleaded guilty to disorderly person for fighting at Dave's Hamburger Stand and paid a $25 fine.

Joseph Smith Jr. of Berkley entered a plea of guilty to speeding 90 MPH in a 70 MPH zone between I-96 and Meadowbrook on December 21, 1967 and paid a fine of $30.

Fined on two counts was John A. Burgess of Detroit in a case originally scheduled before Justice Robert Anderson, since resigned. Pleading guilty to having operated a defective vehicle (no muffler or brake lights, etc.) without a valid operator's license on September 9, 1965, Burgess paid $15 and $10, respectively.

In another old Anderson case, Jeffrey R. Smith of Wayne pleaded guilty to defective exhaust on West Lake and South Lake Drives on June 23, 1966, and paid a $15 fine.

Speeding 60 MPH in a 40 MPH zone in Novi between I-96 and Twelve Mile Road cost Betty D. Bryant of Union Lake $20 when she pleaded guilty.

Two men were fined for driving without operator's licenses on their persons, following their pleas of guilty.

Adolph P. Chabot, Jr. of 40201 Jefferson paid a $10 fine and $5 costs, while Larry E. Freeman of Romulus was assessed a $15 fine

Plymouth Concert Set

The second concert in the 23rd season of the Plymouth Symphony Orchestra will be presented Sunday, November 24.

Open to the public free of charge, the concert will be held in Plymouth High School beginning at 4 p.m.

Included on the program are: Overture to "Tancredi" by Rossini; Songs of a Wayfarer by Mahler (Guest artist, Roma Riddell, soprano); Symphony No. 2 "A London Symphony" by Vaughan Williams; and Variations on a theme of Monteverdi by York.

The guest soloist is a graduate of the faculty of music at the University of Toronto. She holds the Artist's Diploma of the Royal Conservatory.

Miss Riddell has been a leading soprano of the Toronto Opera Festival Company and the Canadian Broadcasting Corporation Opera Company, singing major roles for stage, radio and television.

As an exponent of contemporary music in programs featuring Schonberg, with Glen Gould, accompanist, she has won critics' praise. She also appeared with Schoolcraft Community College Court Orchestra last summer.

Walter Wynn York, composer of the "Monteverdi Variations", is a member of the Olivet College faculty, and was present at the Plymouth Symphony's rehearsal of his work.

His variations are based on a ritornello from Monteverdi's opera Orfeo which was first performed in 1607. His delightful Rootabaga Suite based on the children's classic by Carl Sandburg was performed by the Plymouth orchestra last winter.

No One Feels Shake Here

The great Midwest earthquake was apparently not felt in the Novi-Northville-Wixom area Saturday afternoon.

A check of the area police stations revealed that they received no complaints of the tremors being felt in this area.

The earthquake registered 5.5 on the 10 point Richter scale and was centered along the Mississippi River near St. Louis. Tremors were reportedly noted as far away as Omaha, Nebraska and Kincheloe AFB in Michigan's Upper Peninsula.

Pat Bubel Visits Mexico

Trip to Olympic Games Caps Dream

"If you love sports, attending the Olympic games always is a goal."

For Miss Pat Bubel, Northville high school girls' physical education teacher, this dream came true last month as she spent two weeks at the summer Olympic games in Mexico City.

Four years ago when it was announced that Mexico City would host the 1968 games, she and a friend who teaches in Oak Park began planning to attend. Then two years ago they corresponded with the Mexican agency running the Olympics. Their tourist cards were issued, and reservations were made at an atmospheric older hotel, considered "Mexican."

This reservation, Miss Bubel relates, was one of the pluses of a thrilling trip. Part of the Italian press corps was headquartered at the same hotel, contributing to the international atmosphere.

The long-planned adventure was not at all disappointing, Pat Bubel adds, for they found the Olympics very well run. There were 109 countries participating. In events such as the high jump and track they watched the United States entries compete with those of all the other countries. It was an exciting moment, Miss Bubel recalls, when the jumper from the United States won. They also saw swimming and gymnastics competitions.

The summer Olympics, the teacher explained, also includes events like basketball with only two countries competing in teams at one time.

"The spectators won medals," Pat Bubel says, "for making transportation efforts. Transportation to all events was practically free as the Mexicans went all out — 150 per cent — as the proud people of a small nation sacrificed to have the Olympics."

The games were played during Mexico's summer season with temperatures averaging 80 degrees. The teachers saw "quite a bit" of Mexico City just attending the various Olympic events as the sports facilities, Miss Bubel explained, are spread out. They also took a couple of side trips.

Even the shacks in the slum areas of this fifth largest city in the world were decorated with the symbolic Olympic rings, Miss Bubel said, describing the downtown area as "like Christmas" with stories-high neon signs, artistic posters and outstanding graphics advertising the Olympics everywhere.

Well expressed, they felt, was the major theme: "Everything is possible in peace."

The theme was most impressively carried out, Miss Bubel said, with a dove emblem. Black Power demonstrators were scorned, she added, not for their stand, but as being out-of-place and in bad taste at the Olympics. On the other hand, she remembered that every Czechoslovakian entrant was loudly applauded as a gesture of sympathy.

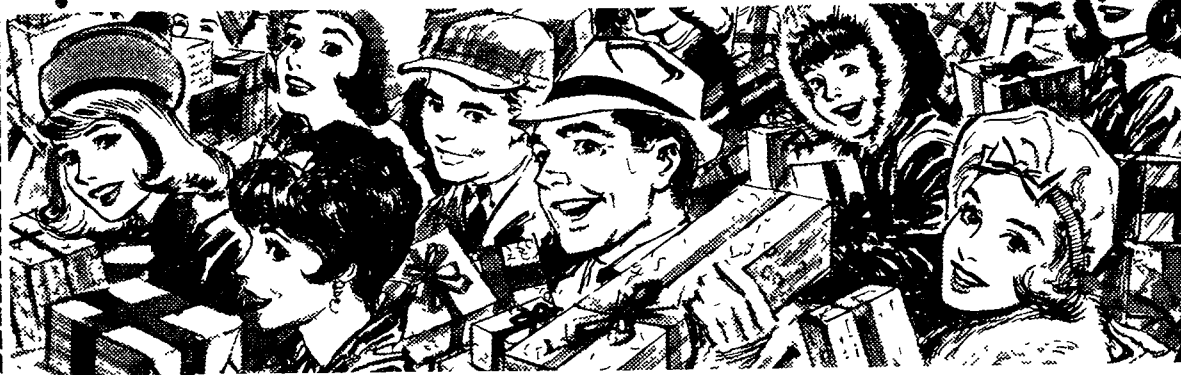

Teachers, Miss Bubel found, are very respected in Mexico and that occupation stated on their tourist cards was noticed — adding luster to the experience that began with a conversation at a meeting of physical education teachers. The next summer Olympics will be in Munich, Germany, and the winter ones in Japan. And Pat Bubel sounds as though she's planning another dream trip.

He Performs With Chorus

Announcement is made by Miami University in Oxford, Ohio, that a Northville-area student, Rick Sabel, 7705 Pontiac Trail, is a member of the university's A Cappella chorus.

Plans are being made for 100 of the A Cappella Singers to accompany the Cincinnati Symphony Orchestra on a tour of major European cities next May and June. The A Cappella Singers have performed with the orchestra almost annually for a number of years. It is pointed out that this is the first time a university choir will have made a European tour with a major symphony orchestra.

An unusual feature of the planned trip, which will begin with a concert May 16 in Philharmonic Hall in New York, is the invitation for friends of the orchestra and alumni of the university to make the journey on a specially arranged Patrons' Tour. Additional information is available from the orchestra or Miami University.

SUITS FOR PATIENTS—Business was brisk during the recent trade-in sales days at Lapham's Men's Shop — and patients at Northville State Hospital were delighted. The sale netted 132 trade-in suits and more than 100 ties, all of which were taken to the hospital by Chris Holman and Chuck Parton, store employees, for use by male patients.

Welfare Law Draws Fire

The Wayne County Board of Supervisors has asked Gov. George Romney to appoint a citizens committee to examine the present welfare system in Michigan and make recommendations for its improvements.

A resolution adopted by the county legislative body described the present system of public welfare in Michigan and the United States as "archaic, punitive, and inadequate to meet human needs."

The supervisors stated further that the present welfare system "is undignified for both clients and social service workers and only contributes to the continuation of the cycle of dependency." In addition, the present welfare system "requires the costly maintenance of a huge policing bureaucracy to supervise the distribution of public assistance," the resolution declared.

Wayne County is required by State law to contribute up to $9.5-million annually to support of welfare recipients. The welfare system is operated by the Michigan State Department of Social Services.

Woodwind Concert Set at Schoolcraft

The Oberlin Woodwind Quintet, an ensemble composed of members of the faculty of the Oberlin College Conservatory of Music, will present a concert at 8 p.m., Tuesday, November 19, in the Schoolcraft College Liberal Arts Building theater. Admission for non-students is $1.

A presentation of the college's Humanities Series, the ensemble will perform works of Haydn, Paul Hindemith, Poulenc, Cambini, and Schuller.

Members of the quintet are Robert Willoughby, flute, professor of flute at the Conservatory and a former member of the Cleveland Orchestra; Wayne Rapier, oboe, formerly associate first oboe in the Philadelphia Orchestra before joining the Conservatory faculty in 1965; George Waln, clarinet, senior member and founder of the Quintet, is professor of woodwind instruments and music education, Robert Fries, French horn, who was co-first horn in the Philadelphia Orchestra before joining the Conservatory faculty in 1965; and Kenneth Moore, bassoon, organizer of the Oberlin Wind Ensemble and a faculty member since 1955.

The program: Quintet III, G. Cambini (1748-1825); Quintet, Gunther Schuller (1925-); Suite Francaise, Francis Poulenc (1899-1963) Trio I in C Major, (flute, oboe, bassoon), Haydn, (1732-1809); Quintet, Opus 24, No. 2, Paul Hindemith (1895-1963).

45-Percent of Your Day Spent Listening to Others

How good a listener are you?

Chances are, not too good.

According to recent research, if you are a salesman, or work in some managerial or supervisory capacity, you spend about 45 percent of your working day listening to other people. And you listen only at about 25 percent efficiency.

In short, about 75 percent of any given conversation or talk is lost because of low listening ability.

Can listening skills be taught, along with other communication skills such as reading, writing, and speaking?

Yes, say the experts.

One technique for teaching listening skills is now available at Schoolcraft College and is currently being evaluated by faculty and staff members.

Called the Effective Listening Program, the technique was developed by Dr. Ralph G. Nichols, professor of rhetoric at the University of Minnesota and a leading authority on communication skills and listening.

As a member of the Michigan Council of Community College Administrators, Schoolcraft College was licensed by the Xerox Corp., to offer the ELP program on campus.

According to LaSalle S. Mayes, chairman of the college English Division, ELP will be opened to Schoolcraft students as well as individuals and groups in the college community after Nov. 16, following the faculty-staff evaluation period.

Mayes explained that ELP is a taped training device. The program takes three hours to complete and will be administered in two 90-minute sessions.

"ELP is a training instrument and is not a test," Mayes said. "It is a taped series of statements designed to train individuals to listen effectively."

"We are interested in the program at Schoolcraft because of the importance of good listening ability in the communicative aspects of the learning process."

"ELP has great value to any business organization seeking to improve the verbal communication skills of its personnel, and it should be of particular help to salesmen, and management and supervisory people."

Mayes said the program will be offered without charge to students and off-campus individuals and groups between Nov. 16 and Dec. 16. After that date a $3.50 fee will be charged.

The fee covers the cost to the college of a specially designed response book used by participants in the two 90-minute training sessions.

The two-session program is offered in the Listening Room of the college library. The first part is presented on Mondays at 10 a.m., Tuesdays at 2 p.m., and Wednesdays at 2 p.m. The second part is offered on Thursdays at 10 a.m., Thursdays, at 2 p.m., and Fridays at 2 p.m.

Persons planning to enroll in the program can make an appointment by calling Miss Gale Buchanan, Audio-Visual Librarian at the college: telephone 591-6400, Extension 335. Details about the ELP program are available from Mayes, Extension 210, or Miss Buchanan.

State's Teachers Now Among The Highest Paid in Nation

LANSING—Final figures from 1968-69 contract negotiating sessions show Michigan teachers this year are among the best paid in the Midwest and the nation.

Only five years ago, a teacher armed with a bachelor's degree could expect to collect $4,985 the first year on the job. This year the average beginning salary is around $6,600.

Detroit claims the highest paid starting teachers in Michigan: $7,500 per year. By contrast, Lake Linden in the Upper Peninsula starts its teachers at $5,855.

The beginning salaries still fall short of the goal set by the 60,000-member Michigan Education Association. It is striving for a starting point of $8,000 a year.

THE MEA also wants $16,000 in 10 years for teachers with master's degrees. Presently Dearborn's District

No. 8 pays the most in this maximum salary category: $13,210 per year.

But MEA officials say starting salaries aren't the only areas they're interested in. The big teacher organization says it also wants better compensation for experienced hands.

"We're trying to keep teachers in the profession," said Kai Erickson, assistant MEA secretary. "I'm sure the biggest gains this year will be in the middle levels."

Erickson said a large number of teachers are lost to industry and business in the third and fourth years because of the pay difference.

Figures show that Erickson is right about the salary boosts for experienced teachers.

Van Dyke School District is an example of the move to retain teachers. Last year, teachers there with bachelor degrees could expect no more than $10,600 a year. This year, they were given a $816 raise, to $11,417.

Throughout Michigan in 1967-68, experienced teachers were getting a maximum average of $9,589 for a bachelor's degree. They can expect about $10,100 on the average this year.

What gains this year will mean to next year's negotiating sessions is hard to say. A legislative study committee is delving into ways to prevent contract disputes in Michigan.

"OUTDATED, confusing and unduly restrictive" is the way Gov. George Romney describes Michigan's housing code. He wants it revised and has appointed a 20-member blue-ribbon commission to do just that.

The commission includes local housing officials, architects, engineers, builders, trade unionists and attorneys. It also contains the state fire marshal, chairman of the board of plumbing, and chief of the environmental health planning unit.

Romney is hopeful the commission will come up with some recommendations for presentation to the 1969 legislature.

"A modern, uniform code oriented toward performance standards is necessary if we are to be receptive to the technological changes and improvements which are rapidly occurring in the housing industry," he said.

SOUTHERN MICHIGAN'S Grand

River, which snakes some 140 miles from near Jackson to Grand Haven, will be stocked with salmon next year, according to the State Conservation Department.

Fisheries officials say they will decide soon on exactly how many salmon will be planted and where the fish will be released.

They said it appears, however, that about 100,000 young salmon, probably coho, will be stocked in the Grand upstream from the dam at Lyons.

They said this would provide just enough salmon for sport fishing in the stream itself and contribute to off-shore action in the Grand Haven area.

The releases would bring the first runs of "jack" salmon to the river next fall. The fish would weigh about two to three pounds. The adult runs would follow in the fall of 1970, offering fishermen catches in the 15 to 20-pound category.

Continued Help By Business Could Wipe Out Slums

WELLESLEY HILLS, Massachusetts — During the past few years business has shown vastly increased awareness of the nation's urban and farm problems. Steadily the commitment of the business community to social progress has been expanding. If this trend can be encouraged and implemented, urban ghettos and rural slums may actually become but a memory... and without the need for huge additional bites on taxpayers to finance such renewal!

Business is uniquely equipped to make new corporate approaches to public problems. Indeed, the scope and variety of present business involvement in community problems and projects is already encouragingly wide. Large corporations are providing leadership for programs to furnish more job opportunities for economically deprived Negroes and Indians, and for unskilled workers in the larger cities and in the pockets of poverty found in Appalachia and other areas where unemployment is a festering sore.

In many core cities, banks and/or insurance companies have advanced funds for mortgage pools to make home ownership more easily attainable and to build low- and moderate-income housing units. Smaller firms, too, are proving that private sector participation in community planning and projects can pay off handsomely. Some companies underwrite costs of solving local health problems, while others provide day-care centers for working mothers.

PUBLIC HEALTH and public housing programs are among the more expensive services presently being rendered by the federal government. While health and housing needs are quite proper concerns of government, it is questionable whether the huge increases in the federal bureaucracy — and their maintenance costs — can be justified in the face of evidence that private, profit-motivated firms could do the work more efficiently and at less expense.

Actually, it would be very much to the advantage of business to retrieve as many as possible of the balls it has lost to government through default. Instance after instance could be cited of the imposition of government regulations necessitated because business failed in its obligation to the public. For such omissions, business pays a hundredfold since legislative remedies invariably bring controls and higher costs. And all of us pay through the nose for the administering of such government programs.

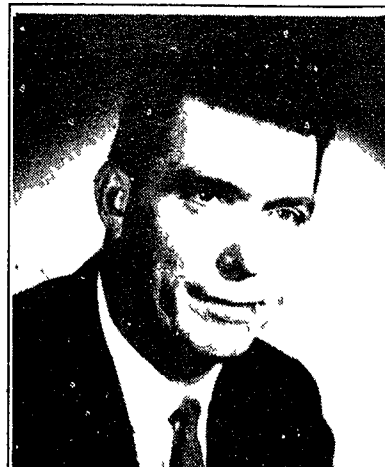

IN AMERICA, and elsewhere in the world, man seeks — as always — a better way of life... economically, politically, and spiritually. But ancient shackles and taboos rankle as he gropes toward that better way. Surely it is up to us to prove that the vaunted freedom, peace, prosperity, and equal rights for all are obtainable goals in our land — and even beyond its borders.

When business has failed to practice self-discipline, it has had discipline thrust upon it and paid dearly in the process. And unless all of us in the private sector renew our faith in the primacy of the individual, curb our acquisitiveness and greed, and stop pressuring the government for handouts and special consideration for specific groups, it is entirely likely we shall wind up a slave state.

Almost certainly, business will continue to interest itself in the solution of community problems, advancing remedies not involving the expenditure of tax dollars. And this will make for a healthier social climate and a vastly improved economy. For the more government gives, the more it takes. The more of our lives it controls because of our failure to practice self-control, the less we have left that we may call our own. Government is always an Indian giver!

Fresh paint smell can be eliminated overnight by placing a teaspoonful of ammonia in a bowl of water in the center of a freshly-painted room. Or you can eliminate paint odors when painting by adding a ounce of vanilla extract to each half-gallon of paint.

Rotary Spotlights Swiss Adventure

"Adventures in Switzerland," second Northville Rotary Club Travel and Adventure Series program of the 1968-69 season, will be presented at 8 p.m. Thursday, November 21, in the Northville High School auditorium.

The film story will be related by Dick Reddy, a native of Texas, who for the first time has made a conscientious effort to trace the coach tracks and footprints of Mark Twain who set sail for Switzerland in 1878.

From the towering peaks of the Jungfrau to the cold, dark dungeons of the Castle of Chillon, the audience is taken on balloon flights, sleigh rides and flights over the Alps.

The speaker's first introduction to Switzerland came after World War II when he commanded one of the first troop trains carrying GI's to Zermatt for an Alpine holiday. Snowball fights with the friendly Swiss and two weeks of winter wonderland, he said, made it impossible not to return. A graduate of the North Texas State University school of journalism, Reddy also holds a master's degree and has served as a teacher and school administrator. He studied cinematography at the University of Southern California.

Like such other early travelers as Elizabeth Barrett Browning, Mark Twain was unable to resist the lure of the Alps. After retracing some of his journey, Reddy takes Rotary travelers across the blue-white glaciers of the Valais in winter and through mountain pastures of Appenzell in the spring. There is a visit with a Swiss family and a Swiss Christmas celebration.

Series tickets still are available for the Rotary travel series of six lectures. Ticketholders may use the six punches all at one program or individually. Series price is $6. Individual tickets are sold at $1.50 for adults and 50 cents for students at the door.

Northville Police Docket Hits Weekly Fall High

Northville Police last week completed what was probably their busiest week since the Downs closed for the season.

Arrests for other police departments, accident investigations, assault and battery charges, missing persons, larcenies, obscene phone calls, driving under the influence of alcohol and other moving violations, open doors, destruction of property, and several other types of offenses kept the police almost constantly on the road.

Highlighting the week was a missing boy, report. Thomas B. Grieves, 15, son of Mr. and Mrs. Loren Grieves of 21099 Novi Road, was reported missing last week Tuesday. The boy reportedly called a friend from Buffalo, New York on Friday, but police there were unable to find any trace of him. His parents told police the boy had a girlfriend in Depew, New York and an aunt in New York City. Investigation continues.

A personal injury accident involved two cars was investigated on West Eight Mile Road. David A. Tarrow of 547 Main Street and Dean F. Daves of Wayne were involved, both complained of minor injuries, but neither requested medical aid.

Assault and battery charges were brought against Charles E. Klocke of 46980 Grand River by his wife, Cynthia E. early Friday morning.

Reportedly, Klocke forced his wife and another woman off the road at the Northville Police Station by hitting Mrs. Klocke's car with his own. She told police he then broke out the window vent of her car and grabbed her arm.

Also under investigation is the malicious destruction of a mailbox, a federal offense. Mattie Leavenworth reported Friday morning that she heard in explosion at her home on 588 Randolph Street and, upon investigating, found that her mailbox had been destroyed by some explosive.

Students Give Edge To Richard Nixon, Too

Even before President-elect Richard Nixon's victory announcement last week Wednesday afternoon, Northville had an inkling of who would be the nation's next president.

Students in Northville, who may or may not have been expressing the political preferences of their parents, gave Nixon the top spot in school elections.

He was the winner at the high school and Main Street and Moraine Elementary schools.

But if votes at these schools were indicative of parental preferences, what happened at Amerman Elementary and Novi High School? In Northville's precinct 3, the area of Amerman, and in Novi Nixon won the adult election handily. At both schools, however, he ran second to Vice-President Hubert Humphrey. schools, however, he ran second to Vice-President Hubert Humphrey.

Wixom Elementary School pupils voted much like their parents. Vice-President Humphrey was the first choice, Governor George Wallace the third. While Wixom adults picked Nixon over Wallace, the Alabama governor nevertheless received a stronger showing than anywhere else in the area.

Students at Northville registered a 75-percent turnout — not much off the percentage turned in by the adults.

Novi students supported all three proposals (Daylight Savings Time, Clean Water, and Recreation) on which they cast ballots. Recreation passed by the narrowest margin, 360-265.

Municipal Court

Municipal Court Judge Philip Ogilvie of Northville returned Detroit House of Correction escapee Douglas R. Honeycutt of Royal Oak to that institution for three days following his appearance on November 2.

On October 31, Judge Ogilvie fined Obey L. Head of Plymouth $100 which he paid in lieu of 20 days in jail. Head had pleaded guilty to driving under the influence of liquor.

Judge Ogilvie also heard these cases on Thursday:

Richard C. Groth of Plymouth was charged with being a disorderly person, drunk on October 13. He stood mute at his arraignment on October 24, and a plea of innocent was entered on his behalf. At his trial, Groth was given the verdict of nolle prosequere upon payment of $25 court costs.

Fount Jones of Westland paid $5 for pleading guilty to violation of a temporary instructor's permit on October 9.

An improper lift turn causing an accident on Center Street on October 28 cost Thomas C. Cogger of South Lyon $15 when he pleaded guilty.

Being drunk enough to be a disorderly person on November 2 cost Alex Barclay of Detroit $20 and $12 costs in lieu of six days in jail. He had entered a plea of guilty.

Two five dollar fines were assessed of Robert E. Lavergne of Detroit for improper license plates and defective equipment (headlights out). He was arrested on October 20 at Hutton and Dunlap and had entered a plea of guilty.

Also pleading guilty to two counts and paying five dollars on each was Sue L. Grant of Detroit. When she was stopped going the wrong way on one way South Main between Beal and Johnson on
