

Ambulance Service Threatened by New Requirements

Ambulance owners throughout the state are faced with another crisis, one which may find many communities without ambulance service come July 1, 1969.

That's when the new state law that outlines minimum standards for ambulance drivers and assistants will go into effect. Among other provisions, the law requires that personnel complete an advanced Red Cross safety course or the equivalent and that they be 21 years of age.

South Lyon is one of those communities that will be without ambulance service. Owner Richard Phillips of Phillips Funeral Home said he will definitely discontinue the service on July 1 because he is unable to find qualified persons.

Fred Casterline, owner of Casterline's Funeral Home in Northville, said that he'll wait to see what other owners will do before making a decision. "If they all go out, I will," he stated.

Harbin's Funeral Home of Novi operates an ambulance on an emergency basis only.

As of January 1 all funeral homes in Monroe and Livingston counties that are still in the ambulance business will quit the ambulance service, it was decided recently by funeral director organizations in both counties.

Recently, in an attempt to resolve some of the nagging financial problems of ambulance operators, the City of Northville and the Village of Novi adopted new subsidizing policies that provide for municipal payment of delinquent bills.

Specifically, in Northville the city agreed to pay delinquent bills for ambulance service requested by the police department. The arrangement is similar in Novi, only there the village has agreed to pay only $25 per call plus 50-cents per mile. In both cases, the municipality attempts to recover the costs from the persons billed.

"I'm not making any money on it," Casterline stated. "It's purely a service to the community." Phillips, likewise, said there was no profit in ambulance calls, that he inherited the service and continued it as a service to the community.

Many ambulance owners, plagued by mounting costs and troubles in collecting fees, are using the new state legislation as an out. One owner said in many instances this was true.

According to Phillips, Pinckney and Brighton will also be without ambulance service after July. McDonald's in Howell has already

Making Way For Clubhouse

Workmen began removing bleachers from Northville Downs this week. They'll be replaced by a three-level modern clubhouse with lounge, dining and betting facilities. Construction will begin next month, said Downs' Executive Manager John Carlo. The $2 million clubhouse will be completed for the 1970 racing season. Tuesday night city planners gave approval to architectural drawings and site plans for the new facility.

Schmidt Steams at Use Of Parochial Aid Letter

Boiling mad over a "deliberate distortion" of a letter to the editor circulated in Livonia just prior to the November election by an organization backing parochial state aid, Representative Louis Schmidt promised Monday to "fight this thing to a finish."

Schmidt, who was defeated for re-election by Democrat Marvin Stempien, Northville city attorney, charged that the Citizens for Education Freedom (CEF) "slashed" the letter and then had the distorted version distributed with Catholic parish bulletins in Livonia just before the election.

(The letter was not distributed here (Rev. Father John Wittstock of Our Lady of Victory Church said).

The Republican legislator said he presented a copy of the distorted reprint to the Fair Elections Campaign Commission before the election but has not heard from them since. "I won't drop it. I'm going back to them if they don't do something soon."

His letter published in The Record outlined his reasons why he could not "consciously support" aid to private education. "All of the rationale — the reasoning for my position was

The CEF, he charged, used the distortion to undermine his re-election bid and throw Catholic support to Stempien.

Schmidt admitted that there is little the fair campaign commission can do at this point beyond "slapping someone on the wrists." The fact the commission did not act promptly is a travesty in view of the obvious distortion, he said.

Schmidt declined to predict the outcome of the parochial aid battle in the next session of the legislature, but he noted that supporters of parochial aid "have one more supporter (Stempien). They lacked only a few votes in the house last time, and I'm afraid other people at Lansing will vote on the basis of pressure — not conscience."

School Board Seeks Help From "VIP" Committee

Letters were to be sent out to some 50 people this week in an attempt by the Northville Board of Education to establish a new citizens committee to serve as a "community sounding board" and a "public relations liaison."

The letters notified prospective committee members of a meeting to be held December 2 for the purpose of establishing the citizens' organization to be called simply, "VIP Committee."

Specifically, the board suggests that the committee be comprised of 40 to 50 persons "who will meet with the board from time to time to review problems and solutions. We hope this committee will become informed about the schools and assist the board as a 'What do you think?' committee."

The board sees the new committee as serving in a capacity similar to "Action Line" or "Contact 10", fielding and answering questions that pertain to schools.

Noting that the Northville school system faces many serious problems over the next few years, the letter states, "How we succeed in overcoming these problems is dependent upon good planning and an informed and understanding public and community."

A host of these problems were discussed in a special workshop by board members and administrators Saturday during a session that lasted from 9 a.m. to 6 p.m.

Perhaps typical of the problems is the estimate that new housing in the school district will generate an additional 500 students for the 1969-70 school year and another 700 by the 1970-71 school year.

The two-year estimated increase represents nearly 50-percent growth over the present school enrollment. Superintendent Raymond Spear has stated, thus challenging the board on matters of facilities and operational costs.

Early Paper Next Week

Deadlines for news and advertising in The Northville Record-Now and South Lyon Herald newspapers will be advanced by one day next week.

Because of the Thanksgiving holiday next Thursday, the newspapers will be published early for Wednesday home delivery.

Deadline for classified advertising will be Monday noon. News and display advertising will be accepted until 4 p.m. Monday. Copy that can be submitted Friday and Saturday morning will be appreciated.

Correspondents are asked to submit their copy no later than Sunday afternoon.

17-25% Hike Projected

City Assessments Going Up Next Year

The city of Northville's "honeymoon" without an equalization factor applied to its assessments is rapidly coming to a close.

County assessing officials have informed Manager Frank Ollendorff that the city can expect a factor of approximately 1.25 in the Oakland county portion of the city and 1.17 in the Wayne County section next year.

It's been three years since the city has had a factor applied to its assessments, so the news didn't come as a surprise to the council.

What it means to the taxpayer is that his property assessment is no longer considered to be equal to 50 per cent of market value. Therefore, all assessments must be equalized, or multiplied by a factor that brings the assessment to the 50 per cent level.

This year's taxes (city, county, school) have been determined by applying the millage rate against the assessment. But next year the millage rates will be applied against the property assessment after the assessment has been multiplied by either 1.17 or 1.25 (depending upon which county the property is located).

Thus city taxpayers know now that next year they will pay $1.17 or $1.25 for every $1.00 in taxes they paid this year.

That's providing, of course, that the millage rate remains the same.

Because the township underwent reappraisal of all property last year, there will be no equalization factor applied to township properties, Wayne county officials have indicated.

Reason for the city factor is because property values have increased during the past three years. And studies show that assessments in the Oakland county portion of the city are more out of line with current values than the Wayne county assessments — thus the larger equalization factor in Oakland.

The council decided not to undertake reappraisal again at this time to bring assessments up to 50 per cent, but to accept the factor until there are indications that it is creating inequities between taxpayers. At this point another city-wide reappraisal program would be in order.

Property owners who believe the application of the equalization factor to their present assessment will raise their assessment above the 50 per cent mark can appeal to the board of review when it conducts its hearings at the city hall in March.

City OK's $1,320 For Appraisals

An expenditure of $1,320 was approved by the city council Monday night for an appraisal of a dozen residential properties in the central business district that are earmarked for offstreet parking under the master plan.

The appraisal was recommended by the city's parking authority, which is attempting to determine the cost as well as a method for assessing parking areas against benefitting business properties.

Still Time to Enter Cabinet Contest

Contestants for the Pick the Cabinet contest introduced by this newspaper last week will have an extra week to enter — thanks to a goof.

Two cabinet posts were not included in the list of 12 cabinet posts last week — one of them was listed twice.

The contest originally slated to end today has been extended to Wednesday, November 27 in fairness to readers. Entries must be postmarked no later than November 28.

Contestants are asked to submit the names of the men or women who they believe President-elect Richard Nixon will choose for his cabinet. The person picking the largest number of correct cabinet selections will win a handsome two-volume edition on United States presidents.

Merchants Plan Open House

The wreaths, greens and lanterns that decorate Northville's downtown area for Christmas will be in place Sunday afternoon as 13 local merchants and antique dealers hold their annual Pre-Thanksgiving Open House from noon to 6 p.m.

The annual preview of Christmas gifts and decorations, a tradition of many years' standing among Main Street merchants, has been expanded this year to include additional merchants and six antique shops.

Northville's Department of Public Works already has taken down and stored the hanging baskets of artificial geraniums that decorated the downtown areas of Center and Main streets during the summer. The holiday decorations being installed are the traditional ones used in previous years.

"Let's take an old-fashioned walk."

This is the invitation from Stone's Gamble Store, Lila's Flowers and Gifts, The Little People Shoppe, Lapham's Men's Shop, Hugh Jarvis Gifts, Hartley-Powers Gallery and Severance Art Supplies who are being joined by six local antique shops in the open house.

Antique shops open will include the Barn Door, Village Pump, Northville Antiques, The Littlest

Gallery, Stone Cellar and Heritage House.

Area residents are invited to drop in to browse and have coffee or punch, cakes and cookies. There will be an old-fashioned welcoming wassail bowl at the Barn Door, which found this hospitality popular last year.

Families especially are invited to stop after church. Stone's Gamble Store Toyland is a mecca for youngsters. The open house tradition was begun by Manager Jerry Stone's father, Roy Stone (now retired and living in Florida) many years ago. Jerry Stone announces that all toys in Gamble's Toyland, which already is open, will be sold at discount this year.

The windows of Lila's Flowers and Gifts shop are covered this week as Dewey Bardner, owner, and his staff create a special Christmas scene. The windows always are a special Christmas feature. For this season, Gardner says, the scene will be a "sugarplum" one and will include a gumdrop tree and angels.

Mrs. Harold Hartley at the Hartley-Power Gallery announces she has the largest stock of imports the gallery has had, including pottery, tinware, wooden items and carved figures and a varied selection of jewelry.

New Ponds, Shanty

Treat for Skaters

Just add the cold weather and Northville area youngsters (and adults) will have plenty of skating surface this year.

City Manager Frank Ollendorff told the council Monday night that two of the ponds at the city-owned fish hatchery property on Seven Mile road would be flooded and made into skating rinks.

What's more, skaters will have a shanty for lacing on their skates and warming up.

The shanty is being renovated as a project of the Northville Rotary Club. And Northville Downs is donating the use of a heater for warmth. Meanwhile, the city will provide gas, water, electrical and sewer service and install lavatories.

SURPRISE VICTORS — Until Sunday Northville's three Colt teams of the Junior Football Association had managed to win only four times and tie two in 21 games. But they walked away with all honors at an invitational tourney in Cadillac Saturday (See page 11-A).

RUTH ANN BARBER

In Our Town

By JEAN DAY

"IN 1968 I don't think we're loving quite enough," observed Mrs. John Shada, of the family life committee of Detroit Catholic Women and chairman of the speakers' bureau, women's division, Detroit Roundtable of Christians and Jews, as she spoke to members and guests of the Northville Woman's Club last Friday.

Declaring that women make "great volunteers" because "God has given women a keen interest in the individual," Mrs. Shada said that it is this sensitivity that makes women respond to needs around them.

She cautioned her audience that this caring must go beyond the circle of family and must be extended even where "we don't get back the response we think we're entitled to."

Acknowledging that today's woman can be "overcommitted," she suggested that it is important for women to know where to direct themselves.

"We could all start on the street where we live," the vivacious mother-of-eight suggested.

"Ask yourself," she said, "Is my door the first door my neighbors would knock on in an emergency — Am I known for my love?"

Mrs. Shada "sugarplummed" her serious message with poetry and light allusions, many to her own family.

"The best-designed woman for 1968," she opined, "wears her heart on her sleeves and her sentiment is showing — so much shows today that it's nice to know this is supposed to."

HOLIDAY DECORATIONS for Thanksgiving and Christmas were the subject of the November meeting of the Northville Branch, Woman's National Farm and Garden Association, last week.

Mrs. P. N. Askounes of Birmingham suggested making "transitional" decorations that would be used with a few changes from the first holiday to the second. As an example she used the pineapple, traditional symbol of hospitality.

A real pineapple first is sprayed with a sealer, then with gold paint. Decorated with gold sprays, it can be surrounded with fruit at Thanksgiving — and will become a Christmas ornament with a wreath of greens next month.

"Evergreens from your own yard make good Christmas decorations for your home," Mrs. Askounes told club members. They need special preparation, however. First, she instructed, wash the cut greens in warm water and detergent, then rinse in clear water. They then may be kept until needed in plastic bags. Washing, she explained makes them lighter in color and cleaner as well as fluffier.

News Around Northville

Howard J. Hancock II, a Main Street Elementary fourth grader, had a special family cheering section as he played in Saturday's Peanut Bowl.

In the stands with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Edward J. Hancock of Eight Mile Road were his grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Howard J. Hancock of Normal, Illinois.

His grandfather, now 73 and a retired professor at Normal College, is an All-American who was captain of the University of Wisconsin football team when it played in the Rose Bowl. He played against the famous Knute Rockne of Notre Dame and has been named to the Sports Hall of Fame.

He and his wife drove through the early-season snowstorm from their home to see their grandson begin his football career.

Mrs. Alma Stead entertained her aunt, Mrs. J. J. Elwing and two cousins, Mrs. Dorothy Parker and Mrs. Dorothy Tompkin of Hazel Park recently.

Word was received here last week that a former Northville resident, Mrs. George Stalker, suffered a heart attack in East Tawas. Mrs. Harold Bloom was notified last Thursday that her close friend had the attack.

It occurred only a month after the Stalkers had moved to the Northern Michigan community from Garden City, Long Island, New York. Mr. Stalker, an attorney, had retired. While Northville residents, they lived on Thayer Boulevard.

Roast turkey will be the main course of the Northville Senior Citizens' cooperative dinner at 6:30 p.m. Tuesday in the fellowship hall of Northville Presbyterian Church. It will be followed by a social meeting.

Robert Prom, Northville recreation director, announced that five turkeys would be supplied for the holiday dinner. They will be cooked by club members. Those attending are asked to bring passing dishes that are not meat.

Attending funeral services last weekend in Saginaw for Joe DeAgostine were his sister-in-law and her husband, the Louis Folinos, and his nephews with their wives, Mr. and Mrs. Steve Folino and Mr. and Mrs. Paul Folino. Also attending were Mrs. Jennie Watson and Mr. and Mrs. Jim Spagnolo.

Mr. and Mrs. Blair Claypool of Portage Point, Onkama, and Mr. and Mrs. Mark Bell spent last week in Kittanning, Pennsylvania, visiting the Sam Heims and James Mellon. Mrs. Claypool is a former Northville kindergarten teacher.

A special decorating tip: Mrs. Askounes suggests buying inexpensive funeral wreaths and stripping off the artificial green covering to have the basic straw wreath to use as a popular centerpiece base.

THE BOOK FAIR held last Friday and Saturday at The Cavern by Northville Mothers' Club was termed a "successful first" by Mrs. Kalin Johnson, co-chairman with Mrs. Halton Axtell, this week as she totaled approximately $130 profit.

She added that 687 children's paperback books had been purchased. These were sold in addition to hard cover books for adults and children. Anyone wishing to place a special order for any book that was on display during the fair or for any other book still may order this week from Mrs. Johnson, 349-3685. Prices are retail — except for publisher's remainders which are discounted — with profits to be used by Mothers' Club for youth projects.

Adding to the attractive atmosphere of Northville's first all-new book fair were tables displaying books by subject. (An old coffee grinder centered the table with books on antiques.) The identifying signs were the work of a club member, Mrs. Frederick Hartt, an art teacher in Nankin Mills.

She also was the artist for the stationery with Northville scenes sold by Mothers' Club. The note stationery with 30 sheets of four different scenes is $2 a box and may be obtained from Mrs. Essie Nirider, 349-0768.

SCOUT CALENDARS — Showing off newly distributed Girl Scout Calendars are Cadette Scouts Sue Altman, left and Judy Miller of Troop 407, and Mrs. Alfred Leonard, calendar chairman. All Northville-area Girl Scout troops are selling the appointment calendars at 30 cents each this week and next. The bright calendars feature Scouting activities in monthly pictures and have spaces for notations. More than half their selling price remains with the selling troop... a "kitty" for its activities.

Calendars on Sale By Area Scouts

Girl Scout appointment calendars for 1969 now are on sale from all Girl Scouts in Northville-area troops. The calendars, priced at 30 cents, have spaces at each date for notations.

Color pictures depict Girl Scout activities.

The calendars are sold by all Girl Scouts, except Brownies, to friends, neighbors and family. Leaders suggest that they make "appreciated gifts" for aunts and grandmothers.

The project also directly benefits each troop with 16 cents of the 30-cent sale price remaining in the treasury of the troop of the Scout selling the calendar. These profits are used for troop projects.

Mrs. Daniel Crishon is in charge of the project for Northville Scouts.

Huron Valley Girl Scout Council announces that George Zerbel has been appointed to the Girl Scout Consulting Commission. Headed by Wyeth Allen of Ann Arbor, University of Michigan professor emeritus, the commission will serve as the steering committee for the capital fund drive to be held in 1970 to raise funds to complete Camp Linden.

Mrs. William F. Schief has accepted the appointment of assistant program services director for the Northville-Plymouth Day Camp. Tentative plans call for three sessions of day camp this summer in Cass Benton Park.

Northville Troop Services Director Mrs. Harley Jester lists the meeting times and locations of the troops under her jurisdiction:

Senior Troop 222, Mrs. Glenn Deibert, Mrs. Fred Sterner, Jr.; Tuesday evenings, Scout-Recreation Building.

Junior Miss Pageant

10 Seniors to Compete for Title

Ten local beauties will be competing for the title of Northville Junior Miss in the third annual pageant sponsored by the Northville Jaycees at 8 p.m. Saturday in the Northville High School auditorium.

Seeking the crown being vacated by Pam Smith, last year's winner who went on to capture the Michigan Junior Miss title also, are Vicki Elkins, Stacey Evans, Linda Gotts, Carol Harper, Sandy Hinkel, Mary Lorenz, Sandy Schwendemann, Leanne Steeper, Rosemary Van Fossen and Pam Witzke. All the girls are seniors at Northville High School.

At the pageant contestants will be judged for talent, and their appearance in sportswear and evening dress. They already were judged on personality and scholastic achievement at a judges' conference earlier.

The judges will choose three finalists Saturday night, selecting the winner after the girls give answers to the traditional "surprise questions."

Northville's new Junior Miss then will compete in the Detroit Regional Pageant December 14 in Redford Township. The 12 regional finalists then will compete for the state crown in Pontiac in January, 1969. The Michigan Junior Miss will appear in national finals in Mobile, Alabama, in March, 1969.

The girl named Northville Junior Miss will receive a Board of Regents' scholarship to Eastern Michigan University as well as the Junior Miss trophy. Second and third place winners will receive financial grants to further their education.

Judges for the contest are Miss Jean Pike, director of student activities at Schoolcraft College; Paul Hunt, dean of Washtenaw Community College, and Frank Ollendorff, Northville City Manager.

Students Compete For Novi Wildcat

Who will win Willie? Willie, the stuffed wildcat and Novi Wildcats' mascot, is the prize offered to the class (Grades 7-12) bringing in the most articles for the Novi Jaycee Christmas project for servicemen overseas.

Carol Bruce, secretary of the Novi

Tickets are $1 each for Saturday's pageant and may be purchased from any Jaycee or at the door. Proceeds from the ticket sale will be used to increase the financial grants to winners, after pageant expenses have been deducted.

Faculty advisor and consultant is Miss Barbara LeBoeuf.

Jaycee co-chairmen of the pageant are Ross Totten, Dave Van Hine and Fred Zillich. Staging director is Bob Hilton. Bob Chapel is master of ceremonies and musical accompaniment is being furnished by the Northville High School jazz band.

Mrs. Donald Ware will be the guest speaker. She will bring examples and illustrate how to make the centerpieces.

The membership committee is in charge of the dinner meeting. Mrs. Hester Gow is chairman, assisted by Mrs. Mabel Cooley and Mrs. Marlene Danol.

Where's History Buffs?

Museum Bus Trip's Idling

"Where's all those history buffs of the Northville area?"

That's the question officials of the Northville Historical Society were asking themselves as they prepared for the Saturday trip to Maumee, Ohio where a special tour of the famous Walcott Museum has been arranged.

"We've had a poor response thus far," admitted a society spokesman, "and frankly we're a little worried — particularly in view of the fact that the bus already has been chartered and officials at Maumee have made arrangements to show us through the museum on a day that it normally is not open."

The trip is a departure from the normal activity of the society which usually meets on the third Tuesday of each month for a brief business meeting and a talk on some aspect of Michigan or local history. This month's regular meeting was scrapped in favor of the trip.

Persons making the trip are asked to bring box lunches for themselves.

Tickets for the round-trip are $3.75 each and may be purchased at the Northville Record. The bus will leave the Northville community building parking lot at 10:45 a.m. and return late Saturday afternoon.

Persons who wish tickets but are unable to call at the Record office are urged to contact either Jack Hoffman (FI 9-4094) or Mrs. Kathleen Edgerton (FI 9-3040).

Northville Society members, who for months have been collecting data concerning museums throughout the midwest, hope to establish a museum in Northville. Their immediate aim is to preserve the 125-year-old township hall building for this purpose.

Officials of the Maumee Historical Society, besides conducting the tour of their facility, will explain how the Ohio group went about establishing their museum.

The Ohio museum is the former home of Judge Wolcott. A large structure, it was built about 1800. The Wolcott family, important in Ohio history, built the Toledo docks.

Award Spurs More Crewel Artistry

Novi Highlights

When your first piece of crewel embroidery, a foot stool cover, garners a blue ribbon at the Michigan State Fair, there's strong incentive to produce more of this embroidery-like needlework done with a special worsted yarn.

Since Mrs. Joseph Rajsigl, 1005 North Center, first purchased what she thought was an embroidery kit in 1965 and decided to try crewel work, she has stiched a steady stream of beautiful crewel work, ranging from chair seat covers to pictures and handbags.

Her hobby of four years have earned her "six or seven" blue ribbons, the most recent at the 1967 Michigan State Fair, her last competition, and also is featured in Women's Household Magazine in its August issue. This issue has been mailed to subscribers but is just now being sold on newstands.

Another Northville resident, Mrs. Harold (Elsie) Price, wrote the magazine article. A member of Detroit Women Writers, she has had articles published often in various publications.

Mrs. Rajsigl has a daughter, Karen, 11. Her husband works for the Southfield Post Office. She finds time to hold a bookkeeper position.

Since beginning this part-time work, she admits, she hasn't had as much time to devote to her crewel work hobby.

She says she has been amazed at how challenging the work is and adds that "in addition to the sense of accomplishment one always derives from needlework, I have the feeling that I have produced something of lasting value."

The speed with which the fancywork is created is illustrated by Patricia Rajsigl's comment:

"The longest time I've spent working on a piece has been about three and a half weeks."

She adds, in the magazine article, she is convinced that this "elegant work can be done by any embroideress who possesses patience and good vision."

PTA Plans Talk on Reading

A special reading program, "Helping Johnny Read," will be presented at the Amerman Elementary School's second PTA meeting of the year at 8 p.m. today in the multipurpose room. It is requested that no children attend the meeting.

Mrs. Ann Chizmar, Amerman

reading consultant, has organized a program showing development of children learning to read, covering pre-school through fifth grade.

She will emphasize the relationship between parent-and-child and teacher-and-child in helping a child to read. Several teachers will demonstrate different methods that can be used in teaching reading.

Teachers who will participate are Mrs. Marilyn Kaestner, Mrs. Virginia Kritzts, Mrs. Jean Tuttle, Mrs. Karen Janchick, Miss Coral Zelma, Mrs. Sue Karschnick, Mrs. Reta Luitink and Mrs. Ann Haase.

Parents of pre-school children interested in helping their children read are invited to attend. Their children do not have to be enrolled in school.

There will be a question-and-answer period at the conclusion of the program.

PTA name tags are being made by Brownie Troop 211 under the leadership of Mrs. Angelo Chinni. Brownie Troop 562, headed by Mrs. Joseph Petro and Mrs. Bruce Griggs, is making the centerpiece for the refreshment table.

Refreshments will be served after the program.

Bid Before Vote

School Asks Change in Procedure

A unique proposal by Northville school officials suggesting that the "bidding procedure" take place before bonding elections on new construction is to be explored with the Michigan Municipal Finance Commission.

Business Manager Earl Busard, directed by the board of education to investigate the legality of such a procedure, has received the "green light" from the Michigan Department of Education and at least some architectural and contracting firms have indicated a willingness to "go along with us."

The only "major stumbling block", explained Busard, appears to be the finance commission which has the final say on all bonding matters. Its approval of the suggestion is necessary because of the time element involved.

A letter has been sent to the commission asking that it meet with local officials to discuss the proposal.

School board members contend that re-arrangement of bonding for new construction will result in less costly, more accurate construction expenses. In the past, school boards have sought "educated estimates" for construction of a new school building then asked voters to approve a bond issue based upon these estimates.

Under the suggested change, voters would know the exact plans of the building being considered and the exact cost of it before they would vote on the bonding issue.

School officials, in turn, would

Extinguishers Go Saturday

Residents of the city and township of Northville were reminded this week of the sale of 140 fire extinguishers at cost by the fire department.

For $5 a 2½-gallon extinguisher, ideal for home and business, may be ordered at Lapham's Men's Shop, 210 East Main. The extinguishers have been cleaned, filled, reconditioned and certified by the Northville Fire Department.

Firemen will be on duty at the fire hall from 8 to 11 a.m. Saturday to distribute the extinguishers ordered and paid for at Lapham's. All proceeds will be used to reimburse the department for its time and expense in reconditioning the extinguishers.

know exact costs of the proposed school building and could budget plans accordingly.

Furthermore, it has been suggested that in the past contractors, knowing how much money the district has approved for a specific building, could bid as close to the total outlay as possible. Under the proposed change contractors would have no idea of how much money is available and would necessarily have to base their bids only on the architectural drawings and specifications.

It is essential that the finance commission agrees with the proposal, officials explained, because it must approve the bond issue and a delay in approving or disapproving it could nullify the bids which remain firm for only a specified period.

Centennial Classification Given Tower Road Farm

A farm owned by Otha M. Cole of 6620 Tower Road, South Lyon, Michigan has been designated as a Centennial Farm by the Michigan Historical Commission. The farm, located in Washtenaw, Salem Township, has been in the possession of the family since 1857. It was originally purchased in 1857 by Jacob Cole, grandfather of the present owner, from Sebrah Perkins.

According to Secretary of State James M. Hare, whose department directs the activities of the Historical Commission, the Centennial Farm program in Michigan was established in 1948. Since that time, certificates and metal markers have been awarded to more than 2,500 Michigan farms.

The program is administered under the direction of the Commission, while markers are provided by Detroit Edison and Consumers Power Companies.

According to Hare, a Centennial Farm is one which has been in the continuous possession of the same family for 100 years or more. For this purpose, the Historical Commission considers a farm to be 10 or more acres having estimated sales of more than $50 yearly, or less than 10 acres but having estimated sales of $250 annually.

Persons owning farms who wish to apply for Centennial Farm certificates are asked to write for an application to Centennial Farm Program, Michigan Historical Commission, Department of State, Lansing, Michigan 48918.

Schoolcraft College Seeks State-Federal Building Funds

Long-range building needs totaling $8,800,000 in the next five years have been identified by Schoolcraft College in a capital outlay appropriation request filed with the Bureau of the Budget in Lansing, to be jointly financed with state, local, and federal funds.

The request lists projects with a total estimated cost of $3,175,626 during the 1969-70 fiscal year. Of the total, the state contribution could amount to as much as $2,305,827.

subsequent years, based on present cost estimates, are: $2,155,000 in 1970-71; $2,000,000 in 1971-72; and $1,470,000 in 1972-73.

Schoolcraft Vice-President for Business Affairs W. Kenneth Lindner said the capital outlay request "reflects the first long-range step to implement the recent decision of the Board of Trustees to develop a campus capable of accommodating 10,000 full-time equated students on the present site."

After reviewing population studies and projections developed for the Board by Michigan State University Demographer John F. Thaden, the trustees early in 1968 agreed to confine development to the present 145-acre campus on Haggerty Road, aiming at a college of 10,000 full-time students by 1985.

As a result of that decision, Lindner said, three projects — one now under construction and two in the early stages of planning — were sited on the campus. These are the 97,000 square foot physical education plant on which construction began this summer, athletic fields for the physical education program, or which staff planning is well underway, and the proposed Fine Arts building, on which architects are now at work.

The college began its fifth year of operation this fall with a record enrollment of 4,660 students.

One of the projects identified in the 1969-70 capital outlay budget request is a Master Plan in which future building needs and locations would be projected for development of the Haggerty Road campus.

Four Bag Deer

8-Points: A Lucky Number

Four area deer hunters bagged their bucks early — and each deer sported an eight point rack.

A fourteen-year-old boy (bottom left), Randy Armstrong of 46000 Pickford, bagged his first buck while hunting near his father's cabin in Roscommon County near Prudenville. His weighed 165 pounds.

Right is Nick Zander of Plymouth, who owns and operates Nick's Barber Shop on Seven Mile Road. Nick shot his 165-pounder while hunting with a party near Paris. He reports that it is his first "truly worthwhile specimen."

Superintendent of the Record,

Bob Blough of 19171 Clement, gives the eight-point high sign to indicate he has finally ended years of frustration with this fine buck which dressed out at 150 pounds. Bob got his near Midland.

COURT OF HONOR — Troop 903, Boy Scouts of America, held a Court of Honor at the Cabin Wheel cabin on the grounds of the Wayne County Training Home Sunday. The boys of the newly reorganized troop are shown lighting the symbolic candles prior to receiving their Tenderfoot patches from Scoutmaster Herb Nash and Assistant Paul Bailey. Earlier in the afternoon, Detroit area Boy Scout Executive Robert Thornbladh of Plymouth presented the troop charter to Larry Girard, assistant institutional representative. Few parents were present at the ceremony, but Medical Superintendent Dr. Pasquale Buonicontino attended along with Mr. Rube Billingslea and Den Mother Mrs. Leola Smith of the Cub Scout Pack. Rev. Fred Lapham, the institutional representative, and Girard said all the uniforms were donated by Goodwill Industries of Detroit and that the organization gave enough uniforms to serve a larger troop when the idea takes roots and the troop grows.

Colts Battle Blizzard to Sweep All Three 'Peanut Bowl' Contests

A howling blizzard couldn't stop the Northville Colts at Cadillac Saturday night.

The blizzard began with opening of the Freshman contest, and continued through all three games. It didn't daunt the Junior Football players, though, as all three squads emerged snow-covered but victorious.

It was the Colt Freshmen 41, Cadillac CASA Frosh 0, as the young Colts overwhelmed their game but less experienced foes.

The Junior Varsity Colts had more difficulty, but were determined not to suffer a winless season, and ground out a 27-0 victory.

The CASA Varsity was a much more able squad and showed this by holding the Colts to a 7-7 halftime deadlock. Not to be outdone by the other Colt squads, however, the varsity eleven rallied in the second half to post a 21-7 verdict, also their first win of the season.

All in all, the First Annual Peanut Bowl proved a great success and all involved hope to work to make it a permanent fixture.

The president of the local Western Suburban Football Association, according to Kenneth C. Chio, wants to pit the league champs against Cadillac's future champs, perhaps on a home-and-home basis. Northville went this year because they played the biggest role in introducing junior ball to Cadillac through a chance meeting at junior football representatives from the two communities.

The 115 boys arrived in Cadillac early Friday night following their four-hour, 200-mile trip and were immediately honored at a banquet in their behalf, followed by a bonfire and pep rally.

On Saturday, the boys enjoyed a parade and watched a cheerleading contest of Cadillac area cheerleaders before they took the field to exhibit their own prowess.

The boys' efforts were not without support, either, as Chio estimated that between 75 and 100 Northville citizens turned out in the snowstorm so far from home to cheer on the little athletes.

Northville's young footballers were housed and fed by Cadillac Friday night, all day Saturday and Saturday night returning home a most happy group on Sunday.

Cadillac's Naval Training Center was the home away from home for the boys over the weekend.

The success of the venture was further demonstrated when Cadillac announced expansion plans, according to Chio, of its own program. They hope to interest other area cities in making a league more on the level of the Western Suburban undertaking. At present they have only Cadillac squads and were forced to play among themselves this year.

Plymouth Family Hogs Grid Prizes

The Hoffmans and Goulds of Plymouth insist they don't use a crystal ball or a Ouija board — but it's beginning to look like they've got a direct line to the locker room.

For the fourth consecutive week these two families, related by marriage, have won prizes. Craig Hoffman won first place this past week, submitting an entry containing only one mistake, and Mrs. Iva Rinehart, another relative by marriage, took third with two mistakes.

Second place winner was Gary E. Holman, 17961 Beck Road.

"It's really funny," explained Craig's mother this week, "We entered the contests last year and hardly won at all. This year it's become sort of a contest between members of our family to see who will do the best. They buy the paper Wednesday night and start in right away picking out the teams."

She added: "Really, it's just luck."

It may be just luck, but it's sure profitable. Since the start of the 1968 football contest the related families have walked off with $54 in prizes.

Craig, one of the few members of the family who hadn't won before, missed only the Michigan State-Purdue game, having picked the Spartans to win. He picked Minnesota to win, too, but by the whopping score of 30-10.

Gary's two misses included the Illinois victory over Northwestern and USC's narrow triumph over Oregon State. He had Minnesota winning by a score of 17-13.

Mrs. Rinehart picked Detroit to beat Minnesota by a score of 20-10 and had Colorado winning over Nebraska.

BASKETBALL PRACTICE UNDERWAY—With football season in the past, basketball prepares to seize the limelight. Northville Mustang cagers are shown sharpening their reflexes for the opener at bitten the dust. And Schrader Ambulance Service of Plymouth will make a decision soon about discontinuing ambulance service on January 1.

When Phillips calls it quits, people in the South Lyon area will have no recourse but to call Superior Ambulance Service of Ann Arbor or Casterline's Casterline said that he has a backup ambulance that could be used to service South Lyon, if it is available and if he continues in the ambulance business.

Superior has five ambulances, but reportedly is having trouble finding qualified people at the present time to man its vehicles. And even though Washtenaw County subsidizes Superior with $50,000 per year, rising costs are a constant threat.

Casterline explained that ever since passage of federal wage and hour legislation pertaining to ambulance service employees, operating costs have skyrocketed. The legislation became law about one year ago.

Generally, any ambulance business grossing over $250,000 per year comes under the federal legislation, which provides that time and one-half be paid for over 40 hours work and when persons are on call, whether actually working or not.

Hanging like a dark cloud over the impending crisis is the alarming fact that without local service time will be lost in transporting injured or sick persons to the hospital.

125 Display Helping Hands

To date 125 Helping Hand cards have been distributed to Northville-area mothers to display in their windows, but many more are available from the Northville Jaycettes, local sponsors of the project.

The workless symbol of the upraised blue hand signifies to school children that immediate help is available within if they are lost, injured or threatened.

The Jaycettes would like mothers in new subdivisions to display the sign if they will be home during the hours children depart and return. They also ask that children be reminded of the meaning of the signs.

Applications to become a "Helping Hand" mother (or grandmother or friend) are available from Mrs. Peter Lindholm, 349-1596.

Wayne County to Consider State Control of Training School

Should the Wayne County Child Development Center here — a center of controversy over the past two years — be taken over by the state?

That's one of several basic questions that is likely to be explored in a proposed comprehensive study that probably will be authorized next month by the Wayne County Board of supervisors.

The development center (formerly the Wayne County Training School), located near the corner of Sheldon and Five Mile Roads in Northville Township, has come under repeated fire because of alleged mistreatment of retarded or youngsters housed there. Founded in 1925, the 1,000 acre complex is the only county-operated residential school for retarded children in the nation.

The study, recommended by the Wayne County Board of Auditors followed searing criticism by citizen and professional teams investigating complaints of parents and former teachers, was adopted almost in total Friday by the board of supervisors committee dealing with the center.

According to Thomas Turner, chairman of the supervisors' committee, authorization for the study by the full board is a "foregone conclusion." Among those who serve with Turner on the committee is Northville Mayor A. M. Allen.

Turner said a board decision on the study probably will be made December 16. Meanwhile, his committee is expected to discuss again next week a recommendation of a citizens team, headed by Dr. J. Russell Bright of Wayne State University, that Dr. Pasquale Buoniconti, be removed from his post as head of the center.

"I don't want to speak for the whole committee, but I think we ought to consider defining the duties of an administrator as opposed to a medical superintendent rather than remove someone. The school's big enough, I think, that there can be a separation of these posts."

"I want to make it clear," Austin told The Record Friday, "we're (auditors) not being critical of the center's administration in recommending the study. It's just that there seems to be sufficient evidence to warrant full-scale exploration of better ways to operate the facility."

"We're not saying that the state should operate it — just that it's something that should be considered from a standpoint of economics and how best children can be trained. We don't even know if the state could or would accept the responsibility."

"Actually, we've suggested several alternatives. Maybe it should be turned over to a large school district or perhaps to a university. We'd also like the prosecutor to take a look at the ordinance under which the school operates to see if the school is conforming."

While Austin said the board of auditors is not critical, he nevertheless noted that Juvenile Court Judge James Lincoln has been very outspoken in criticizing the administration's admissions policy, which appears to "lock out" some youngsters who need help.

The center's inpatient population has decreased significantly, said Austin, from 700 in 1960 to 500 last year to 300 this year. "Despite this drop the operating costs continue to rise. As a result the per diem cost has increased from $9.37 to $29.12 per child."

There are a number of "logical explanations" for the drop in population, Austin said. Among these is the fact that public and parochial school systems are providing more and more training for retarded youngsters. Years ago, there was little of this kind of training in these schools so more youngsters were referred to the center, he said.

But Austin also noted that "since the school came under criticism about a year and a half ago for alleged neglect and abuse of children it has been a little shy in taking in the more difficult cases that seem to be at the root of the problem here."

There are some "logical reasons" for the increase in costs, too, he said. For example, wages have been spiraling upward as they have elsewhere. "Then, too, the administration will tell you that they've filled some of the vacant posts that have existed there in an attempt to cope with the problems."

The study, should it be authorized by the board of supervisors, would be conducted by the board of auditors. The auditors' findings and recommendations, however, probably would not be completed until next

Cards Cost More Now

Christmas cards weighing one ounce or less must carry six cents postage — whether they are sealed or unsealed.

That's the reminder from area postal officials as they brace for the annual flood of Christmas mail.

In previous years unsealed cards without a written message (only the signature of the sender) could be sent for one cent less than first class postage.

However, new postage rate legislation, which went into effect last January, raised the single rate-third class postage to six cents for the first two ounces.

One advantage of the higher cost mail, officials noted, is that all greeting cards bearing six cents postage which are undeliverable as addressed will be forwarded if a new address is available.

Commission to Set Date For Charter Vote Tonight

Date for the election on the proposed Novi city charter is expected to be set at tonight's wrap-up session of the charter commission.

According to Commission Chairman Raymond Evans, the election probably will take place late in January or early February — allowing sufficient time for the attorney general's office to hand down its approval or disapproval of the proposed charter.

The commission last week zipped through nearly all of the remaining portions of the charter that had not yet been reviewed. Only minor review is expected to take up the commission's time tonight, and Evans said he is confident that the meeting will mark the formal close of the commission.

Meanwhile, plans are in the making for a public forum on the proposed charter under the sponsorship of the Novi Jaycees. Details have not yet been decided.

Pyramid to Fame

Everyone's aiming for the top in the third annual Northville Junior Miss Pageant sponsored by the Northville Jaycees. Like last year's winner, Pam Smith, who won the state title after taking first place here, each of these 10 finalists has her eyes set on the Northville title and even beyond. One of them will be crowned the Northville Jaycee Miss Saturday evening. (See details on Page 3-A). The finalists are (from the bottom left to the top and down the right side): Linda Gottis, Vicki Elkins, Sandy Hinkel, Leanne Steeper, Sandy Schwenemann, Mary Lorenz, Carol Harper, and Pam Witzke. Challenging Lady Luck beneath the ladder are Rosemary VanFlossen (left) and Stacey Evans.

Paul wrote in his Second Epistle to the Thessalonians that sudden and unexpected, it will not be till after The Apostasy.

What is the Apostasy? It is the "falling away", in which a person called "the man of sin", in the temple of God professes himself to be God, and exalts himself above God. II Thessalonians 2:3, 4, 5.

Paul foretold the rise to Church leadership of ungodly men, traitors and hypocrites, who with a form of godliness, would fill the church with doctrines of devils, speaking perverse things. I Timothy 4:1, 2, 3.

Jesus said, "Beware of False Prophets which come to you in sheep's clothing, but inwardly they are ravaging wolves." Matthew 7:14.

Again, The Coming, there would be in the church a falling away of appalling magnitude and satanic nature.

Peter warns in his Second Epistle as if the false teachers were already at work in the church. He speaks of their destructive heresies, pernicious ways, covertousness, walking in lust, eyes full of adultery, servants of corruption — and these expressions are not referring to the world, but leaders within the church. II Peter 2.

Even within the Apostolic generation, the world and the devil had already begun to corrupt the Gospel and to thwart the work of Christ. The Bible being the only antidote against sin and corruption was pushed aside by the Roman Church, bringing on the Dark Ages. Later Rome fell but came to life again as a World Power in the Name of the Church. Church and State became one, claiming to hold on earth and place of God; to have supreme authority over the human conscience, to forgive sin, to grant indulgences, and that obedience to them became necessary for Salvation. Could anything be more blasphemous? And to think that the City of Rome, first pagan, then papal, has been the dominating power of the world for two thousand years, 200 BC to 1800 AD, according to history.

It is a sorry picture, but even now, after the protestant reformation led by such men as Luther, Wesley and Calvin, we hear again of Ecumenism — a United Church headed up in one person, upsurging to itself authority that belongs only to God.

Even in Churches where there is still a glimpse of the beauty and truth of the Gospel we have the pollution of Worldliness, Pleasure-seeking, lifeless formalism, ignorance to God's word, and indifference to it in the pulpit. I wonder if we are not being ensnared again. Are there no 'Luthers' to sound the Clarion Call? Hear again the words of Paul:

"What communion hath light with darkness? Wherefore came out from among them, and be ye separate, saith the Lord." "...After that we have known God... how turn ye again to the weak and beggarly elements, whereunto ye desire again to be in bondage?" II Corinthians 6:14, 17; Galatians 4:9.

A giant radio telescope picked up bursts of static from a galaxy 2000 light years away. In them, scientists discovered these simple words:

"Earthmen, your planet is in danger. As your morals decay, your great cities slowly crumble. You will see wars and civil strife."

"But we offer you hope," the ancient message continued. "A new world. We can give you knowledge and bring you the peace for which you have searched so long..."

Science-fiction? Not entirely. There is a message that originated in a distant place over 2000 years ago. It describes the world as it is today, and it offers hope for the future.

The Bible, inspired by God, is a very real message, one that you can begin reading today. Then go to church on Sunday and meet the Author there.

Present: Allen, Black, Carlson, Lapham and Nichols; Absent: None.

Minutes of the regular meeting of Oct. 21, 1968 were read. Correction on first page, under "Communications (d) should read as follows: "dedication of right-of-way" instead of "easement". No further corrections and minutes stand approved as corrected.

COMMUNICATIONS: City Manager read communication from Board of Public Works, County of Wayne, regarding request by Oakland County to permit the introduction of sewage into the Rouge Valley System for an interim period of 10 to 15 years. The last paragraph of the letter urges the municipalities to be represented at the next regular meeting of the Board on Tuesday, Nov. 12, at 10:00 a.m. when this matter will be explained and discussed.

City Manager also read letter from City of Dearborn Heights opposing this idea and calling a meeting on Tuesday, Nov. 7th, at 2 p.m.

Mayor Allen stated he would like to have someone attend the meetings and oppose this matter based on past experiences.

City Manager was asked to send copies of letter from Board of Public Works to each of the Council members.

Charles Altman, 866 Grace Street, asked when City is going to fix sidewalk and driveway at his residence, which has been torn up since last spring. City Manager stated City has several asphalt jobs to do and wanted to do them all at one time, but would definitely get it all done before the asphalt plants closed this fall. Mayor Allen ordered that Mr. Altman's sidewalk and driveway be fixed before the plants close.

which refers to the purchase of this property for street widening, a limited portion for CBD development and a major portion for parking.
Councilman Black, Mayor Allen and City Manager will carry on negotiation for this property.

Motion by Black, supported by Lapham that we re-appoint the present committee to recommend publicity campaign for development, with George Clark as chairman. Unanimously carried.

It was further stated that Committee has done an outstanding job and Mayor suggested a letter be sent to these gentlemen in this regard.

Mr. Clark suggested Council might consider the appointment of a Parking Authority Member to this committee.

TRANSFER OF LIQUOR LICENSE: This refers to transfer of liquor license of John Asimacopoulos, 111-113 W. Main Street, Northville, to Vernon L. Huntoon, Jr. and Charles Janssen.

Putting-you-firsts:

(A quick tour of some of the thoughtful new features the 1969 Chevrolets offer that other cars in Chevrolet's field don't.)

Headlight washers

You push the windshield washer knob and hold it, and your headlights come clean.

Fluid is diverted to two jet nozzles at each light lens. (Outer lights only on duals.)

The spray removes up to 80% of accumulated dirt.

The feature is standard on 1969 Corvettes. It comes with the hidden headlights available on Camaro, Caprice and Kingswood Estate Wagons. It is available on all other models except Corvair.

Heated glass

In a moment your rear window will self-defrost.

Because we've built onto it a network of tiny ceramic strips capable of heating the entire surface.

Fog and frost disappear quickly and quietly. You just flick a switch.

The heated rear window is available on the 1969 Caprice Coupe and Impala Custom Coupe.

Pushbutton tire chains

You press a button on the instrument panel and the rear tires get a shot of "liquid tire chain."

You spin your wheels once, wait a moment, and you're off—with traction you wouldn't believe possible on slick ice, or packed snow.

Available on all 1969 big Chevrolets.

Steering wheel lock

When you own a car as desirable as the 1969 Chevrolet, you don't take chances.

When you leave it, you lock it. Not just the doors.

You lock the ignition, steering wheel and transmission lever, too.

Our new lock on the steering column takes care of all that.

Standard on all 1969 Chevrolets, Chevelles, Chevy Novas, Camaros and Corvettes.

Sorry, car thieves.

Power steering plus

The 1969 Caprice, Impala and Camaro are available with a new type of power steering.

Variable-ratio power steering.

What it does is give you faster steering with fewer turns of the wheel.

Variable-ratio power steering is particularly helpful in short, full turns.

And parking becomes unbelievably easy. You'll see.

Walk-in wagons

The tailgate swings open like a door on most of our 1969 station wagons.

Which in itself is no big deal. But wait, there's more.

We've built a concealed step into the rear bumper.

You simply step up, over, and in.

(The way we build our wagons, you can do it without bumping your head, and without acrobatics.)

Walk into a wagon soon at your Chevrolet dealer's.

Champale. Celebrate nothing with it.

It isn't often you get a chance like this.

You see, Champale® looks, tastes and sparkles like champagne. The proper way to serve it is well-chilled in a champagne glass. That brings out its sparkle, flavor and bouquet.

But it costs only pennies more than beer. And you buy it wherever beer is sold. Which means you can drink it anytime you want to make Something out of Nothing. At a meal. A card game. A Television Watching. A Newspaper Reading. A Corn Popping.

It's a superb mixer, too. We'll send you two free booklets full of mixed-drink and gourmet-food recipes. Just write Champale, Inc., Dept. N-2, Box 2230, Trenton, N.J. 08607.

And if you don't often celebrate Nothing, that's okay. Champale Malt Liquor is also a sparkling way to celebrate Something.

News Around Schoolcraft

An evening of experimental films, all but one of which are products of U.S. film makers, will be presented on the Schoolcraft College Film Series on Friday, December 6, in the Liberal Arts Building Theater. Showings are scheduled at 2 p.m. and 8:30 p.m. Admission is free.

Of the eight films on the program, "La Mort de Cert (Death of the Stag)" is the only one of foreign origin. Produced in France in 1954, the 14-minute film is a satiric look at a conventional stag hunt.

Other films are: "To Parsifal" (U.S., 1963), Bruce Baillie's interpretation of the legendary hero set in the California environment; "Pink Swine," and "Duo Concertantes," both of which use animation and published material for visual source; "Castro Street," (1966), another Bruce Baillie film, this one being impressions of an industrial area in California; "A Movie" (1960), Brian O'Doherty's montage of newsreels and old movies; "2," a parody on art films in general and although U.S.-made, is done in Italian with English subtitles; and "Oh Dem Watermelons," a debunking of the Negro stereotype using the watermelon as its symbol.

The activities of Henry Rowe Schoolcraft as a nineteenth century naturalist will be recalled and up-dated in a slide-illustrated lecture by Dr. Edward G. Voss, associate professor of botany at the University of Michigan, scheduled for 7:30 p.m., Tuesday, November 26, at Schoolcraft College.

Dr. Voss will speak on "Botanical Beachcombing in the Steps of Schoolcraft." The reference is to the work done in this region by the man for whom Schoolcraft College was named.

Curator in vascular plants at the U. of M. Botanical Garden, Dr. Voss has been involved in botanical research, editing of scientific papers and journals, and development of the Garden. He has worked with numerous organizations promoting the fields of botany and conservation.

Dr. Voss' appearance is sponsored by the Schoolcraft College Biology Division, of which Roger A. Sutherland is chairman. The public is invited without charge to the lecture in the Liberal Arts Building theater. Coffee and refreshments will be served in the Biology laboratory, Room F-170 in the Forum, after the program.

Retarded To Display Art Work

Eric Hoffer, the philosopher of the California waterfront, has pointed out that creative expression is not necessarily a function of intelligence, that even the mentally retarded can produce striking art work.

Residents of Livonia and vicinity will have an opportunity to see art work created by a group of mentally retarded children at the Plymouth State Home and Training School at an exhibit which will be on display at the Livonia Mall, Middlebelt and Seven Mile Road from November 21 through November 30.

Featured will be water colors, crayon drawings, mosaics, ceramics, and string collages.

The Plymouth State Home and Training School is one of Michigan's newest facilities for the mentally retarded. Located in Western Wayne County, it has a bed capacity of 1295. Special programs are conducted for the blind retarded and the physically handicapped requiring intensive habilitation work in addition to ongoing programs of education and training.

MEL ANDERSON — THE CLOCK MAN

Business Is Ticking Trucking Company Manager Carries Part-Time Hobby

The alternating ticking sounds of many old clocks — grandfather clocks, wag-on-the-wall clocks, mantel clocks and a little grandmother clock — are the welcome that visitors receive at 310 West Dunlap, home of Mel Anderson and his family.

Mel Anderson, known throughout the Midwest in antique circles as "The Clock Man," is one of nine Northville antique dealers.

The Anderson family moved to the large white house on Dunlap Street from Farmington last June. With them came about 200 clocks, in addition to their household furniture.

The clocks, which fill a basement workshop and decorate the living rooms, mostly are imported from Europe by Anderson, who repairs and sells old clocks. With the assistance of artistic Mrs. Anderson, who refurbishes the clock faces, Anderson puts the clocks in running order and repairs the cases.

They both stress that this is "just a hobby" with his full-time job as general manager for Eastern Michigan operations of Henry Vroom trucking company coming first.

Entering the Anderson front door, there is a fine, old grandfather clock ticking quietly in the entry room. In the adjacent den are three more, one with the desirable brass sun-moon dial, awaiting restoration.

On the first stairway landing hangs a large French clock, its brass face and pendulum having been removed from a case and used as a decorative wall ornament. In the living room is the rare little grandmother's clock, the smaller type of clock known as "tall case clocks."

How did the Andersons begin to acquire their clock collection? Mrs. Anderson answers, "Well, Mel had his hand up at an auction and found he had a clock — in pieces."

Primarily they sell their clocks through antique-loving people seeking them out. They take booths in "two or three shows a year, usually at the big Armory shows." They participated in the Detroit Goodwill show in 1966 and 1967.

In addition to providing more storage room for clocks, the Andersons move to Northville provided more room for their sons, Dan, 16, and Andy, 5. They also have a son, Norman, 18, stationed with the Navy in San Diego.

EVERY BASEMENT CORNER IS A TREASURE

Municipal Court

Municipal Court Judge Philip Ogilvie heard relatively few cases last week.

David D. Smith of 42640 Eight Mile in Novi appeared on the 13th on a charge of failure to present a pistol for safety inspection. While appearing on this charge, Smith also was fined for a March 3 offense at which time he had been stopped by Northville police and found to have had no registration on his person.

Novi School Policies Coming

Novi school board members face review and adoption of up to 100 school policies it was learned last week.

Presenting a purchasing policy to the board for its consideration, Superintendent Thomas Dale advised the board that it was the first of perhaps 100 that he would present to it over the next several months.

The policies — some new, some revisions of existing policies, — represent another concentrated effort by the district to meet requirements for accreditation of its secondary school system.

On the gun charge, Smith paid $22. in fines and costs in lieu of four days in jail. He was assessed $15 or three days on the traffic warrant.

Patricia A. Prasad of 39573 Haggerty Court paid a $40 fine in lieu of eight days in jail when she pleaded guilty to driving 65 MPH in a 35 MPH zone on southbound Main Street November 3.

South Main Street also was the scene of Mirian Peterson's violation on December 15, 1967. For speeding 45 MPH in a 35 MPH zone, she entered a plea of guilty and paid $25.

George R. LaRoque of 257 Hutton Street pleaded guilty to driving while his ability was impaired September 19 on Hutton Street and paid $100 in lieu of 20 days in jail.

Eddie Gates of Brookville, Florida, arrested a week ago Sunday on East Main Street at Hutton for being a disorderly person by being drunk, pleaded guilty and received a suspended fine but was ordered to pay $25 court costs.

A June 26, 1966 offense was finally closed out on Thursday when David A. McIntosh of Plymouth appeared for excessive noise (muffler). His guilty plea brought a $10 fine and $15 costs.

Cadet Schirk Wins Honors

Cadet Keith Schirk, a student in the Roosevelt Military Academy Aledo, Illinois, was cited for excellence at special ceremonies honoring award winners for the first quarter of the school year. Cadet Schirk is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Richard C. Schirk, 164 East Cady.

Cadet Schirk was promoted to the rank of Private.

The Promotion was presented by Colonel Glen G. Millikan, Superintendent of Roosevelt Military Academy which is located in Northwestern Illinois and has an enrollment of 170 Cadets.

Cadet Schirk has attended Roosevelt for one year and is a junior. Roosevelt is one of the outstanding prep schools in the central states.

SPEAKING for The Record

By BILL SLIGER

Northville's chief probation officer, Dennis Dildy, has submitted his resignation effective January 1 when the new district court under Judge Dunbar Davis is slated to replace the present municipal court system.

There's a thought that probation departments, such as established in Northville by Judge Philip Ogilvie, will be continued and expanded under the district set-up to cover the Northville, Plymouth, Canton area.

One suggestion has been to maintain local departments within the individual communities, staffed by volunteers in each community, but directed by a single chief probation officer.

If such a plan is adopted, we cast our vote for Dildy to head up the operation. He's proven that it is a field for which he is well qualified. Further, he has devoted many more hours than any "part-time" assignment deserves, simply because he truly believes that young, first-time offenders can be helped through the efforts of an energetic, volunteer probation department.

Got any old card tables, extension cords or sheets?

According to George Whitesell, president of Northville's popular club for teens — The Cavern — that's just what the club needs for its remodeling project.

The sheets will be dyed and used for tablecloths. The card tables will be under the tablecloths and give non-dancers a place to sit and talk.

And the extension cords? They're needed so that refreshment vending machines can be moved to one end of The Cavern club room.

Just call George at 349-4834 and he'll see that the donated items are picked up.

The National Consumer Finance Association, apparently interested in providing finance companies with an example of how NOT to operate their businesses, is given credit for supplying this letter that was reportedly written by a finance company manager to his home office.

Dear Boss:

I think I'd better send you a report about our branch office No. 37, which has a customer named Sam who seems to have been on the books since the year one.

His record at the credit bureau and the exchange shows that he is constantly living beyond his means and having to borrow from Peter to pay Paul. Our manager reports he hasn't had a payment on the principal since 1960, when Sam paid his interest and $2.

Since then he has been paying "interest only" except that he has had to borrow a little more each year just to pay the interest.

In 1961 he needed $350 more; in 1962 it was $740; in 1963, $470; in 1964, $600; in 1965 he had a good year but still had to add $110 to his principal debt; and he added $370 in 1966.

In 1967, however, he had to borrow $880 more and it looks like he'll need to borrow nearly $2,000 more in 1968.

Now here's my question, boss. Do you think we ought to tighten up on his credit a little?

Anxiously yours,
Joe Manager

Before you start calling "Joe Manager" some kind of a nut for extending so much credit to "Sam" realize that Sam's first name is "Uncle" and just add seven zeros to all the figures in the letter and you have an account of the Federal Government's credit record.

(If you're not doing a better job at home, we're in trouble! Winter taxes go out December 1 and our schools need the money).

Not only does Ernest's Charlie have the same name of the Peanuts comic strip character, but his wife's maiden name was Schultz — just a letter different than the cartoonist's own name.

Police Enforce Varied Laws

To the Editor:

In reading November 7 issue of the Novi News, I notice the article on the Novi Justice Court. This article related that our police force is becoming more efficient. They are really putting the crack down on the many law violators. In your article the violations range from defective exhaust systems to a truck having an uncovered load. I think this proves that our police force is looking for more than just speeding violations. I think they know their business and do it in a knowing and learning way.

TV's success, so to speak, is built in. There's nothing like seeing things happen as they happen. And no amount of writing, no newspaper or magazine coverage, can duplicate what TV can produce just because it is TV.

No great programming is involved. No masterful techniques or originality. It just happens to be a simple fact that TV is or is not on the spot — where the action is.

Sports, of course, is the biggest producer of instant TV action. Take Ron Johnson's unprecedented showing — unprecedented for TV and the game — against Wisconsin last Saturday.

The U of M halfback, looking like a phantom from the past in muddled clothes and helmet, galloped almost at will for five touchdowns and 347 yards. Millions of midwest viewers got in on the action.

It was a television freak, an accident. No one would have predicted, by any stretch of the imagination, that Johnson would take history on his shoulders and toss it around like a malevolent Atlas. Let's face it, the prospects for a good game were mighty slim when the decision was made to cover the Michigan-Wisconsin game.

Wisconsin hadn't won a game since Alan Ameche handed in his shoulder pads, or so it seemed. Michigan, on the other hand, was riding high with a 6-1 record and rolling toward a showdown battle with Ohio State.

Yet, even this fact hardly promised a good show. The Ohio State-Iowa game would have been a better bet to produce electrifying results. After all, Iowa had the most explosive offense in the Big Ten and Ohio State was ranked number two in the nation.

But there was ABC, camera and all on a dreary day in Ann Arbor capturing the exploits of hitherto little known — outside the midwest — Ron Johnson. And surprisingly, Wisconsin made a game of it for one half and led 9-7. Then the Johnson storm broke.

So it goes with television.

The most memorable accident ever pumped through the tube came that tragic weekend in 1963 following the Kennedy assassination. As television cameras followed Lee Harvey Oswald through the Dallas jail corridor, a man jumped out of the crowd and gunned down the alleged assassin. Disbelief.

Another memorable accident occurred in August. The nation was tuned in for an important address from the President. The networks knew that there would be a dramatic decision on Vietnam, but who would have guessed that LBJ would announce he wouldn't run?

TV was lucky. Only by chance did they get in on the action. It works the other way, too. Chance can bypass the tube.

Take, for instance, NBC's goof Sunday. New York was leading Oakland, 32-29, with just 65 seconds left in the game when NBC, because of prior commitments, switched to the special two-hour program, "Heidi." Within those last few seconds, Oakland exploded for two touchdowns and walked off — unseen — with a 43-32 victory.

NBC won't hear the last of the complaints for a long time to come. And although it won't make football fans any happier, it won't be the last time that chance plays a heavy hand in television programming.

I've never lived in a house that has studs on 16-inch centers.

For some diabolical reason, the builders have always erected the walls in a hop-skip-and jump fashion that defies reasonable calculation. I am possibly the only guy around who has driven 102 nails into a single wall without once hitting a solid two-by-four.

Forked stick deviners working the Sahara Desert have better luck.

The closest I've ever come to hitting something solid was the time I impaled a 220-volt line to a water pipe. I knew it was solid the minute the claws on the hammer melted.

I once helped former Northvillite Rod Dahlager build a house over on Grace Street. That the house stands lends credence to the words, "dumb luck". Rod told me after the house was up that if it ever fell down he'd sell the nails for scrap iron and come out even. I'd hammered so many nails into the wall there wasn't room for mice, he insisted.

My wife says I'd have better luck hitting a two-by-four tossing darts at the wall... blindfolded.

She may be right but I prefer to think that someday, somewhere I'll hit one of those illusive studs and forever put to sleep a suspicion that walls can be built without ribs.

Meanwhile, the pictures in our house will hang until the drywall crumbles and the wainscot will stay up until some fool removes the wall plugs.

A half-dozen years ago I tried paneling a hallway and kitchen in a house at South Lyon. After nailing up a storm of nasty words I threw away the hammer and bought a pot of Sure-Stick paneling glue. I wished later I'd stuck to the nails. At least they were consistently useless.

The glue stuck to everything but the walls. We had to chisel the kids from the family room floor.

After holding an eight-foot slab of paneling to the hallway wall with my feet until it stuck I gave up in despair. With the dexterity of a woodworking genius I cut the handle off my wife's broom, and wedged it between the paneling and the opposite, unpaneled wall.

I was cutting the next slab of paneling, mumbling self-praise over my ability to cope with the problem when my wife's scream curdled my blood. The broom handle had punched through the unpaneled wall (missing the stud, of course) and was now smiling at her beneath a picture of her mother in the next room.

She refused to let me remove it until she'd called in the neighbor to admire my handiwork.

I burned the broom handle in the fireplace, using the glue as a starter, and then called in a carpenter. When his first nail hit a stud I insisted he let me pull it out and drive another in the same hole.

Today there's a carpenter in South Lyon who circulates a malicious story about a guy who missed a nail and got his hammer stuck in a quarter-inch piece of walnut.

State Utility Watchdogs Tough But 'Peanut' Size

LANSING — Government watchdogs in Lansing are supposed to see to it that the electric, gas and telephone companies don't gyp their customers.

That's the job of the Michigan Public Service Commission (MPSC), the agency which screens public utility requests for rate increases.

It has the duty to allow rate levels high enough to provide a fair and reasonable return to utility shareholders, but no higher.

The MPSC's accountants, engineers, economists, auditors and other specialists have their hands full most of the time with rate petitions.

"EACH PETITION is given thorough consideration, including a public hearing," said Knight D. McKesson, commission secretary. "The ratepayer's posture is always on the commissioners' mind."

Some utilities file requests for immediate fee increases, with the stipulation they will roll them back if the commission rejects the petition.

But under the law, "partial and immediate" rate relief can be granted only on solid evidence of need, notice to ratepayers and an opportunity for full and complete public hearings.

As state agencies go, the MPSC is peanuts. Before transfer of 89 truck weight regulation workers from the highway department, it employed only 97 of the nearly 44,000 on the state payroll.

The commission's size hasn't changed appreciably in 10 years, and repeated requests for more manpower are routinely rejected in the legislature. Utility lobbyists seldom weep about this.

The commission's chairman, Peter Spivak, a Republican Detroit attorney, draws $20,500. Commissioners Willis Ward of Detroit, a Republican, and William Boos Jr., of Bay City, a Democrat, each get $19,000.

REAL WATCHDOG unit within the commission, the public utilities division — or "staff" as it is known in rate cases — consists of 27 persons.

These include six accountants, two economists, 11 engineers, and engineering technician and seven administrative and clerical personnel. This handful monitors 30 electric utilities counting coops, 11 gas companies, 72 telephone companies, 15 private water companies and, in a limited way, 26 gas pipeline firms.

The staff runs a continuous rotating check on the value of utility assets — generators, utility poles, switchboards and pipe lines.

IN A RATE CASE, the value of plant and property used to provide service is a crucial concept. Reasonable returns to investors is figured on a percentage of plant investment.

After the petitioning utility finishes its testimony, the MPSC staff develops an entire case on its own. In 1960 when the MPSC granted its last general rate increase to Michigan Bell Telephone Co. of $4 million, the staff recommended a rate reduction of $4.1 million, and was backed by one commissioner, the late James Lee, a former assistant Detroit Corp. counsel.

WHERE DOES John Q. Ratepayer figure in MPSC proceedings?

He can write the commission a letter or postcard, attend a public hearing in person and give his views, or join with others in submitting a petition.

As one out of 2½ million, his impact is likely to be slight. Rate cases are highly complicated and specialists are almost a necessity. It is not enough merely to say "I don't want to pay more."

ONLY A BIG city with experienced attorneys, engineers and accountants experienced in ratemaking concepts has the know how and financing to conduct a skillful intervention.

Atty. Gen. Frank J. Kelley, who has a staff assistant assigned to the MPSC, can intervene in any rate petition case on behalf of Michigan ratepayers.

The state government directly pays tens of millions of dollars annually in telephone, electric and gas bills, and thus is a leading customer of the major utilities.

And, the state government is comprised of the people.

Sees Nixon as Strong, But Delegating Executive

WELLESLEY HILLS, Massachusetts — Past performance—especially during the recent campaign—indicates that President-elect Nixon will be a strong executive in the sense that he will reserve to himself the big policy decisions... delegating the routine, administrative duties of his office.

Nixon's pre-election stance was meticulously planned. He foresaw the difficulty of topping the Democratic candidate in the East...especially in the populous cities. Hence he set out to woo the Southern conservatives, the basically Republican Midwest, and the disenchanted middle-of-the-roads and liberals in the Far West. But this pre-election stance should not be interpreted to mean that the President-elect is unaware of, or unsympathetic to, the needs of minorities, the plight of the cities, or the legitimate aspirations of the nation's youth. The Nixon campaign posture of coolness and poise, of seeming aloofness from certain of the problems facing the country, was intended to be a vehicle for victory...nothing more nor less.

Even had Mr. Nixon's margin of the popular vote not been so razor-thin, national unity would still have been his primary goal. The degree he will actually achieve will depend in large measure on his approach to the problems of our deeply fragmented society. We may expect that approach to be reasoned and calculated. It will also have to be swift if—as he certainly aims to do—he is to take full advantage of the traditional "honeymoon" which Congress accords new Presidents.

WHILE MR. NIXON is usually considered to be more "hawkish" on Vietnam than either President Johnson or Vice President Humphrey, he is fully as eager as they to bring the conflict to an honorable conclusion—and one which will preserve the integrity and right of self-determination of South Vietnam. If the war is not soon ended look for Nixon, as President, to be a hard bargainer vis-a-vis the North Vietnamese and the Viet Cong.

Should the Paris talks collapse because of bad faith on Hanoi's part, Nixon would feel justified in ordering resumption of the bombing of North Vietnam. In such event, however, he would accelerate training and equipping of South Vietnam troops to permit early and increasing withdrawal of American personnel.

AS CHIEF Executive, Nixon will strongly favor measures to strengthen the dollar as a world currency...realizing that sound, conservative fiscal policy will do more than continued profligate spending to bind the nation's wounds. He will also favor some further cutbacks in foreign aid, and will urge upon Congress some protection for industries hard hit by cheap imports.

But, as he enters the White House, the fires of inflation will still be burning brightly; a thousand-and-one special interests will be clamoring for increased, not decreased, federal spending; and the states, while giving lip service to states' rights, will step up their demands upon Uncle Sam.

THE NEW occupant of the White House must also come to terms with the gathering urban crisis if he is to achieve the type of national unity that he will need to govern effectively. Racial tensions, economic deprivation, educational deficiencies, chronic unemployment, disorder, lawlessness, and voter apathy—all part and parcel of this festering sore termed "urban crisis."

Nixon's prescription for these ills will not be bigger federal programs. He has already indicated he will take a hard look at federal programs with the idea of making them more efficient and less costly. His big assault will be an all-out effort toward greater involvement of the private sector of the economy in the financing of badly needed big-city development.

NATIONAL EDUCATION WEEK ACTIVITIES—Among the activities in area elementary schools in honor of National Education Week were the "trip to the farm" songfest put on by Wixom kindergarten and first grade pupils (above) and the Amerman open house in Northville. Other Novi and Northville schools also held open houses commemorating the week.

Here's An Idea for Eating Breakfast on A Bus Seat

How'd you like to eat your breakfast perched on a school bus seat?

If the idea seems intriguing, readers can ring up Northville Business Manager Earl Busard (FI 9-3400) who is pushing the idea in an attempt to sell 22 used school bus seats.

The seats, upholstered and reported in "good condition", were removed from the wandering school bus that earlier this year when on a driverless trip down the high school drive crashed into the concrete home on Center Street opposite the school.

Impact of the collision with the house, now repaired, split the bus seams and rendered it useless so the school system sold it — but not before Busard had the seats stripped from the interior.

"I just figure that someone might find them valuable — and using them for a breakfast nook seems like a good idea."

The school's selling 'em at seven bucks apiece.

School Board Member Hurt

Four Injured in Novi Accidents

Four persons, including a Novi School Board member, were injured in four accidents last week in Novi.

Laverne DeWard of 72871 Gilbar, the school board member, was taken by General Ambulance to Botsford Hospital on the request of Dr. Lyle Fetting following an accident on I-96 near Novi Road.

Dennise O'Keefe of Farmington apparently ran into the rear of DeWard's car after O'Keefe pulled onto the freeway from the Novi ramp, Police said. DeWard, recuperating from a back operation, complained of a temporary paralysis of his back which prompted Dr. Fetting's request, police said.

On Tuesday a car driven by Troy R. Smallwood of 43089 Grand River was apparently forced off East Lake Drive at Herman Street, went out of control, and hit a large rock and a tree.

A passenger in the vehicle, Stanley F. Otis Jr. of Redford Township, was taken to Botsford Hospital for treatment of a cut on his head.

In one of the three Novi accidents occurring in the heavy rain on Friday, Mary Blocher of Livonia lost control of her car eastbound on Ten Mile Road and hit a tree.

She was treated at Botsford for a nose cut.

Another Friday accident involved a motorcycle at the C&O crossing on Ten Mile Road. Patrick E. McDermott, 17, of Walled Lake was thrown from the motorcycle owned by his father while going over the tracks.

McDermott's left leg was injured, but he refused treatment according to police.

Novi Justice Court

Arlen H. Cline of Westland paid $25 fine and $10 costs on a disorderly conduct charge growing out of a Novi Justice Court sentence in July.

Four persons were fined Friday, November 8.

Soley Banks Jr. of 47375 Grand River appeared for failure to have his vehicle under control involving a property damage accident at Twelve Mile and Beck and paid a $15 fine and $10 costs following his plea of guilty.

Pleading guilty to speeding 70 MPH in a 55 MPH zone on Grand River west of Beck Road cost Thomas Beutner of 29738 South Milford, New Hudson a fine of $20.

A plea of guilty to having had no operator's license on his person on July 10, 1966, cost Charles E. Jones of Flint $20.

Ten dollars was assessed of John M. Riordan III of 43100 Eleven Mile Road when he entered a plea of guilty to failure to stop for an unsigned intersection (Eleven Mile at Grand River).

A jury trial highlighted the cases heard before Justice Emery Jacques Thursday.

Charles E. Klocke of 45601 Nine Mile Road was found guilty of three counts, resisting an officer (following his arrest for the other two offenses), reckless driving and hit and run. The offenses occurred on June 2 when he crossed the center line on Novi Road and struck the southbound car of Charles N. Barber of Plymouth who testified against him at the trial. Also testifying against Klocke was Officer Ronald J. Arbour, who said he was required to use force to arrest the man.

Klocke was fined $50 on each count, with $15 costs on each as well as a 15-day sentence in case any was not paid, for a total fine of $195 or 45 days in jail.

Two youths were fined for malicious destruction of property in connection with their having thrown firecrackers in mailboxes and destroying these boxes.

Robert J. Collins Jr. of 41771 Aspen Drive and Christian C. Bowman III of 23058 Gilbar each paid a $35 fine and $15 costs in lieu of five days in jail following their pleas of guilty. There may be further disposition of the case under federal statutes dealing with the willful destruction of postal receptacles, police said.

John L. Hoffman of Walled Lake appeared on two counts, one of which was dismissed. He was fined $10 for excessive smoke from an auto, but the charge of no registration on his person or in his auto was dismissed. He will also come before Justice Jacques today on a reckless driving complaint signed by a citizen, Leonard Jarosz of Franklin and of Adell Industries.

Minor in possession of alcoholic beverages was the charge to which Randolph F. Siple of Pontiac pleaded guilty. He was assessed a fine of $25.

Robert W. Stosse of Farmington pleaded guilty to driving without an operator's license and was fined $15.

Speeding 65 MPH in a 50 MPH zone cost Emmet H. Dunlap of Hazel Park $20.
