

Local Exchange Student 'Visits' Cuba

Arrives Sunday After Skyjacking

After an unscheduled sidetrip to Cuba, Diana Ajo, 17-year-old Argentinean Youth-for-Understanding exchange student, arrived here Sunday night to become the foster daughter of the Eugene Entz family of 20300 Beck Road.

Her arrival was one day late as she was one of the 53 students aboard the Peruvian airliner which was hijacked Saturday on a flight from Buenos Aires, only five minutes before it was scheduled to land in Miami, and forced to fly to Cuba.

The plane was allowed to fly on to Miami, but the passengers were kept in Cuba overnight. Like most of the students, Diana told Mrs. Entz, she thought she was in Miami when she first saw the palm trees of Havana. Surrounded by soldiers, the group was placed in one area of the Havana airport, then put on an army bus and taken on a tour of the city before being taken to a hotel.

They were filmed and interviewed during their brief stay. Diana, whose English is still halting, said her impression of Cuba was "very poor... in poverty."

The students, accompanied by three adult advisers, were flown to Miami the next day in two charter flights arranged by the U.S. State Department from Veradero, 87 miles east of Havana. A Delta charter flight then brought Michigan-area students to Metropolitan Airport.

Mrs. Entz reported Monday that her new foster daughter, who will live with the family for six months, was "completely exhausted" and had not slept since Friday. She rested most of the day and became acquainted with her foster sister, Patty Entz, who is almost 17. Petite and brunette, Diana is from Mendoza, Argentina, and is the daughter of a South American contractor who builds ski lifts and buildings.

In a get-acquainted letter before her arrival she reported she has been a girl scout and has traveled Europe and is most anxious to see this country. She hopes to become an architect. In the Entz household she is replacing their older daughter, Sue, who was a college student in Japan and now is taking graduate work at the University of Southern California.

By Tuesday Diana was ready to visit Northville High School where she will begin classes at the start of the new semester, January 27.

Also visiting at the high school this week were two other exchange students who arrived last week end on the same program. Monica Alsena, 16, from Chile, will be staying for six months with the Frederick Harfts and daughter Mary of 777 Thayer. Because her plane from Chile was six hours' late connecting with the flight to Miami, she missed being on the hijacked flight, arriving in Detroit without incident Saturday.

Valeria Watt, also from Chile, is staying with the Eugene Cook family, 118 South Ely Drive.

The Ann Arbor headquarters of the Youth for Understanding program commented that Northville always had been an active participant in the program as the Northville Rotary has been "avid sponsors — the best participating club in the country."

The headquarters still was placing a few boys this week in the program and said it is taking names of families interested in future participation in the program.

DIANA TRACES HER SURPRISE ROUTE

Wayne Sewer Denial Hurts

Novi Faces Pollution Charge

Unless Wayne County should suddenly change its mind and sell Oakland County additional capacity in the Rouge sewer interceptor, construction of a $1 million "temporary" sewage disposal plant will get underway by June, Oakland County DPW Chief R. J. Alexander revealed this week.

"We have no other choice," Alexander told this newspaper. "We don't dare wait any longer."

Two months ago the Wayne County Board of Public Works axed a proposal that would have granted Oakland County an additional 16 CFS (cubic feet per second) capacity in the interceptor, thus allowing extension of the sewer from 10 Mile Road into Walled Lake. Such an extension would eliminate the need for the disposal plant.

The extension would service properties along the way, homes in the Walled Lake section of Novi and the entire City of Walled Lake. Plans for construction and financing of $3.5 million dollars worth of lateral sewer lines in the Walled Lake area are complete.

Without the interceptor extension, plans call for these laterals to feed into the proposed disposal plant. Sewage, passing through the plant's purification system, would then empty into the Rouge stream that flows south through Novi and Northville.

The $1 million plant would be temporary in the sense that within 10 or more years another interceptor from the east in Oakland County probably will have been built, thus eliminating the need to continue its operation.

Wayne County's refusal to sell additional capacity stemmed from strong objections by member Wayne County communities owning shares of the interceptor. Basically, communities such as Dearborn Heights and Westland protested on grounds that the interceptor is already at or near capacity.

Northville City Manager Frank Ollendorff and Councilman Del Black supported the sale but Mayor A. M. Allen and Northville Township officials were reluctant to back it. The matter never came to a vote in the city, but the township voted to oppose it unless it received written assurances that the Search for "the best" architect to design future Northville schools came to an end Monday as the board of education picked the firm of Ralls, Hamill & Becker of Livonia from a list of 14 candidates.

The firm replaces O'Dell Hewlett & Luckenbach, Inc., which designed Moraine Elementary and Ida B. Cooke Junior High schools.

In addition to visiting schools recently designed by the 14 candidates, local school officials over the past several weeks had studied material submitted by the firms, and had considered comments and conclusions of 18 area school superintendents relative to architects.

Once the candidates had been pared to three, Superintendent Raymond Spear recommended Ralls, Hamill & Becker. He said the final selection, concurred in by the board, was based in part upon the location of the firm, its size, the number and kinds of buildings it has designed, and upon personal interviewing.

Concerning the new Northville architect, officials indicated that it represents a company with the flexibility of designing buildings upon any specifications demanded by the board of education.

It was noted that the firm has demonstrated a capability of designing buildings that represent maximum educational desirability at the least possible cost. In its last two school projects, the firm came up with cost estimates within less than one-percent of the actual costs, one board member added.

According to Trustee Glenn Deibert, the selected firm was not his number one choice but he nevertheless concurred in the final selection.

O'Dell Hewlett & Luckenbach was one of the 14 original firms considered but it was not one of the final three, Spear said. Names of the two other top candidates were not revealed.

Among schools recently designed by Ralls, Hamill & Becker are Dickenson Junior High School in Livonia, Cooper School in Westland, West Senior High School in Garden City, and Forest Elementary School in Farmington.

When quizzed by a member of the audience as to what school or schools the new architect will be called on to design, the board indicated that it had no particular schools in mind.

City Drops Shortcut For Storm Sewer

Although it will cost slightly more, the Northville city council decided Monday night to avoid residential easements along the route of the new Maplewood-Novu storm sewer.

City Manager Frank Ollendorff recommended to the council that it award the bid to O. E. Gooding & company for a low bid of $73,546, instead of Dewey Burrell's bid of $68,820.

The latter's bid would have taken the 42-inch storm sewer line through the yards of five residents along Novi street. A narrow city easement was not considered adequate for the installation. The council decided to accept the low bid over the short route if the city manager could obtain additional working easements from the property owners.

Manager Ollendorff reported Monday night that one property owner had refused and two others were reluctant. Under the circumstances he said he would recommend the longer route — down Novi street to the Eight Mile Road right of way and then east to the Rouge stream.

He said work is scheduled to begin Monday. He also reported that the cost was being reduced by some $3,500 making the difference only slightly more than $1,200 instead of $5,000. The savings were realized through changing from rubber to mastic joints for the storm sewer, not making the contractor haul construction dirt to the city dump and the city obtaining permits from Oakland County for the contractor.

In other business in a brief special meeting Monday night the council established a parking violation bureau ordinance so that all fines for traffic violations that are not serious enough to be taken to the new district court may be paid directly to the city clerk's office.

Previously such fines were paid through the municipal court. Under the new district court system the city would have lost a portion of these revenues if it did not have its own violation bureau. The council adopted the same schedule of fines that had been previously used by the court.

Wixom Councilman Resigns

The resignation of veteran Wixom Councilman R. W. Lahti, effective December 31, was accepted with regret at Tuesday night's council meeting.

Lahti, who had served on the council since the incorporation of Wixom a decade ago stepped down because of a conflict with his newly appointed post on the Oakland County Board of Social Services.

Under the law a councilman cannot also hold the county post.

In his letter of resignation, Lahti, a high school government teacher, explained that the timing of his resignation was such as to legally permit the January 1 start of his new appointment. He was appointed by the old Oakland County Board of Supervisors before it was dissolved.

Meanwhile, recounting of November election votes in which Lahti, a Democrat, lost out to Republican Lew Coy for a District 27 position on the new Oakland County Board of Supervisors was to have begun yesterday. Among the precincts to be recounted was the third precinct (north of Baseline) in Northville.

David Adair, junior high school counselor. Still others joined," she added, "after hearing about it from other students."

"In any case, these are busy young people who truly enjoy their volunteer work," she said, "and who may some day be great teachers as a result."

What are these students doing? According to Miss Panattoni, their jobs are many. In some instances, they may be under the guidance of the instructor, helping an individual child with reading, arithmetic or some other subject. In these cases, the pupil is receiving individualized attention that he might not otherwise receive.

Tom Groom, a 16-year-old sophomore, explained individualized help this way: "I take this little boy into the hall and help him with his reading. He's shy in front of the class. He's not really a bad reader — he just needs to be built up. So when he shows some improvement I tell him and he's proud. He's going to be a good reader."

"We help the teacher, too," said Diane Beason, a 15-year-old sophomore. "We can correct papers and other things so she has more time

They're 'Mini-Volunteers'

Teen Students Find Fun Teaching

"If you enjoy working with children and like the cute things they do and say — and especially if you can see some improvement well, that's when it all seems so worthwhile."

Seventeen-year-old Sue Jarvis, a Northville high school senior, was speaking for three boys and 19 girls who are assisting elementary teachers and their pupils in an exciting new program called the Mini-Volunteers.

Launched in October under the direction of Northville's curriculum coordinator, Miss Florence Panattoni, the program involves volunteer high school students who, after the high school is dismissed, travel the three Northville elementary schools to aid teachers in giving youngsters extra help in the classroom.

(It's possible because the high school is dismissed an hour before the elementary schools).

Teachers are delighted — but more important, pupils receiving help enjoy it and the volunteer high school students "think it's just great."

These high school students, says the proud curriculum coordinator, "are from the ranks of our wonderful but much maligned teenagers. In spite of the many interests of teenagers today, these young people find time after their regular school hours to devote from one to five hours or more a week helping teachers help children."

"Several of the Mini-Volunteers," she explained, "are members of Mrs. Glenn Deibert's senior scout troop who responded to her call for help at a scout meeting last fall. Some are students encouraged to participate by John Hyde, high school counselor, and

Overture-to-Opera Date Announced

Overture-to-Opera will return to Northville March 22, it is announced this week by Mrs. Donald Ware and Mrs. Ernest J. Shave, local chairmen of the Overture project and members of the Detroit Metropolitan Grand Opera Association, who were instrumental in bringing Overture to Northville for the first time last spring.

Because of the outstanding success of Overture's debut here, the program will be repeated. Mrs. Ware reports that last year's committee has agreed to serve for the second season.

Only "drop-out" from the original committee, Mrs. Shave reports, is Mrs. Paul Hughes, who is in England with her husband and sons.

Replacing her are Mrs. Edward Zywiec and Mrs. John Mowat. An addition to the committee is Mrs. Sterling Eaton of Plymouth, who has volunteered to handle arrangements and tickets there.

This year's afterglow is to be at Meadowbrook Country Club with Mrs. Shave in charge of arrangements. Again this season the Overture program will be presented on the Northville high school auditorium stage.

At the committee's first meeting last Thursday at the home of Mrs. Shave, arrangements were made to mail brochures to last year's ticketholders.

Two rarely-seen operas have been selected for the 1969 season by Dr. David DiChiera, general director of Overture-to-Opera and chairman of the music department at Oakland University.

They are "The Choice," known in Germany as "Der Jasager," a two-act opera by Kurt Weill, and "The Night Bell" (Il Campanello) by Donizetti.

In addition to a cast of leading young professional artists from the Great Lakes Region this year's Overture series will be highlighted by the appearance of a leading operatic star, Italo Tajo, an Italian bass, who has sung with both the Metropolitan Opera and La Scala.

Founded in 1960, Overture-to-Opera is a non-profit program dedicated to acquainting the public of all ages with opera

Alvin D. Loving To Speak Again

Dr. Alvin D. Loving, professor of education at the University of Michigan, will share experiences as an exchange professor from the U of M to Maharajah Sayajirao University of Baroda, Gujarat, India, at the International Night meeting of the Plymouth Branch, American Association of University Women, at 7:30 p.m. today at Plymouth Junior High West.

Through slides and discussion Dr. Loving will present a tangible link between some of the problems in India and the United States.

A popular and noted speaker, Dr. Loving spoke earlier this month to Northville Woman's Club. A distinguished educator, he is the first negro promoted to full professor at the University of Michigan. AAUW members invited husbands and special guests to the meeting. Any woman holding a degree from a recognized college is welcome to attend.

Hostesses are Mrs. Richard Fritz, chairman, Mrs. James Smith, Mrs. Albert Stonewood, Mrs. James Hopkins, Mrs. Michael Malmer, Mrs. Hubert Mortensen.

Legislative Seminar Set

A legislative seminar is being sponsored by the Northville-Plymouth Branch of the Women's International League for Peace and Freedom at 8 p.m. Monday in the Plymouth Community Credit Union, 500 South Harvey, Plymouth.

Technics for expressing opinion to government officials and to the press, both by interviews and by letters, will be presented. How a bill becomes a law will be explained and information given on the work of the United Nations. Current issues in the field of peace and human rights will be considered.

There is no charge for the meeting to which the public is invited. For additional information call Mrs. C. E. Woodruff, 349-1644, or Mrs. M. S. Rowe, GL 3-7211.

Through Artist's Eyes

U-M Lecturer to View World

"The World Around Us" will be viewed through an artist's eye when Michael P. Church, assistant director for cultural activities in the University of Michigan's extension service and lecturer in art at the College of Architecture and Design, speaks to Northville Woman's Club at 1:30 p.m. Friday in Northville Presbyterian Church.

As one of Michigan's best-known figures in the creative and cultural arts, he is known personally to thousands of artists, craftsmen and other creative people. Before assuming his present position, Church had been Extension Service supervisor of state-wide and community projects in art, music, theater and creative writing. In both positions he has traveled to all parts of the state.

He organized the Upper Peninsula Arts and Crafts Council, the U of M annual regional exhibition; he publishes a cultural newsletter for artists and craftsmen; and he serves as juror for state and regional exhibits and as consultant to agencies and communities concerned with art.

He has served as a member of the Detroit Arts Council, chairman of the Ann Arbor Civic Arts Commission, consultant for the state Chamber of Commerce and was reappointed by Governor George Romney to the Michigan State Council of the Arts.

All these activities have earned for him a gold medal from the Michigan Academy of Science, Arts and Letters.

He is an artist whose works have appeared in many exhibitions.

He studied at the Wicker Art School, Cranbrook Academy of Art, Wayne State University and the University of Michigan and also with New York artists. He served on the staff of the National Music Camp at Interlochen and is active in national organizations, serving on the committee on humanities in the National University Extension association. He has participated in national programs of the Ford Foundation and the Johnson Foundation.

He will be introduced by Mrs. William P. McDermott, program chairman of the day. It is a guest day meeting with tea following the program.

Junior Misses Eye Pam Smith's Crown

The 1969 Northville Junior Miss, Leanne Steeper, will be competing Saturday evening in the Jaycee sponsored Michigan Junior Miss Pageant at Pontiac Northern High School.

Leanne will be joined by 23 other regional winners from throughout the state who seek the crown now held by Northville's Pam Smith — the 1968 Michigan Junior Miss.

A team of six prominent Michigan judges will be examining the scholastic achievements of each contestant, conducting a personal in-depth interview, observing team performance in a youth fitness sketch and evaluating each contestant's ability in her own performing art.

The 24 contestants have been selected from 47 local contests, similar to the one conducted here by the Northville Jaycees, and from two regional contestants in December that narrowed the field from 47 to 24 girls.

Each contestant is staying with a "foster home" in the Pontiac area on Thursday, Friday and Saturday. Rehearsals and judges interviews will be conducted during Friday at various locations in Pontiac.

The Pageant itself will be held at 8 p.m. at the Pontiac Northern High School on Saturday evening. Tickets are available at the door for $2.75 each.

Winner of the state pageant will represent Michigan in 1969 America's Junior Miss Pageant in Mobile, Alabama, in May, and will also receive a $1000 scholarship from the Michigan Jaycees. Additional prizes totaling $2,050 are being awarded to the other finalists and winners in certain specific categories such as scholastic achievement, creative arts and performing arts.

IMPRESSIVE, OVERSIZE invitations to the presidential inauguration in Washington, D.C., were the souvenirs received early this month by local volunteers who worked for the election of Richard Nixon. (An insert of specific events made it clear that most functions are invitational.)

To Republican Wayne II District Chairman E. O. Weber, however, came the standard-size formal invitation that is "for real." The Webers plan to fly to Washington with their son and daughter, Karl and Carol, who also accompanied them when Bud Weber served as delegate to the Republican Convention in Miami.

Also attending the Washington festivities will be William F. McLaughlin from Northville, state vice-chairman in the Republican party. (He is expected to follow Mrs. Ellie Peterson as state chairman as she takes national office.)

Mrs. McLaughlin will not be accompanying her husband but will be home with the family's newest arrival, their fourth son, Sean Thomas, born December 17 at St. Mary hospital. The baby, who weighed eight pounds, one ounce at birth, is doing nicely, but is young to leave.

Mrs. McLaughlin adds there are two gubernatorial dinner events being planned in Michigan — in Lansing January 30 and in Detroit January 31 — which will be nearer for her to attend.

Like Dollie Cole, wife of General Motors President Edward N. Cole, Mrs. Weber is making her inaugural gown and also that of her daughter, Carol, who became a teenager December 31.

They will be attending the inaugural ball at the Smithsonian and will be following specific protocol instructions from Lansing regarding white gloves, etc.

Pearl Weber's sleeveless, demi-sheath is a light jade shade while Carol's princess-line gown is a daffodil yellow with matching floral applique down the seams.

In Washington they also will be attending the Spiro Agnew reception, the distinguished ladies reception, the inaugural gala Saturday night and possibly the inaugural concert Sunday evening.

QUESTER MEMBERS of Base Line Chapter will entertain their husbands at the club's second men's night program at 8 p.m. next Monday at the home of Mrs. Robert Froelich, 369 Maplewood.

"Antique Guns" will be the program topic with local authority James Wood the speaker.

Until retiring to operate his own fishing camp in Canada with Mrs. Wood, he was chief preparator and taxidermist for the University of Michigan Museum of Zoology. He prepared the outstanding outdoor scene backgrounds for the animals on permanent display in their natural habitat.

A Northville high school graduate, he makes his home here during the winter and spends the summer at the camp, located 37 miles north of Thessalon on Lake Wakomata. Gun research has been his hobby. Mrs. George Spencer is program chairman.

FINAL FAREWELL entertainers for the William C. Wileys will be the buffet dinner for 20 friends being given Friday evening by Mr. and Mrs. Blake Couse.

The Wileys were feted Sunday at an open house given by the Gordon Forrers and the A. L. Wisterts. Mrs. Wiley has been honored at several farewell luncheons. He already has assumed his new duties as Assistant General Manager of the Bendix Corporation Vacuum Division in Rochester, New York.

After 12 years as Northville residents, the Wiley family will be moving next Wednesday to a new home in Rochester.

The Delbert Blacks returned last weekend from an 18-day vacation that took them to Los Angeles and Disneyland and then on to the Islands of Hawaii. They first spent six days on the Island of Oahu, touring the outer islands, and then went on to the Kauai Surf, Hawaii and Kona. They stopped over in San Francisco before returning to Northville.

DATE HAS BEEN set for the annual dinner-dance sponsored by Our Ladies League of Our Lady of Victory Catholic Church. Mrs. Robert Brueck, general chairman, announced this week that it will be April 19 at Rota Hall in Livonia. The fifth such event sponsored by the Ladies League, it is a popular one; so members and friends in the community who regularly attend are asked to mark the date.

Co-chairman with Mrs. Brueck is Mrs. Robert Mohr. The Fenby Five orchestra, which played last year, will return. Tickets will be $15 a couple, or $7.50 each.

TEN NEWCOMER COFFEES are being planned for next week. Feeling that it is easier to become acquainted with new residents in smaller groups, the Northville Newcomers Club has scheduled the coffees at homes in different areas of the community. Most will be held next Wednesday and Thursday.

Individual invitations are not sent out but any new resident or Newcomer member is invited and is asked to call Mrs. Daniel Swayne, 349-5682, membership chairman, to see where the coffee in her neighborhood is being held. Mrs. Kent Mathes, 476-4421, also may be contacted.

A SEARCH for the 1969 Michigan Mother is under way. She will be chosen by March 5 with nominations to be in by February 10. Anyone who knows someone in the community she feels is qualified to represent mothers of America, who embodies traits of "courage, cheerfulness, patience, affection, understanding and homemaking ability, who is an active member of a religious body, whose youngest child is more than 15 years" is invited to write the Michigan Mothers Committee, 406 Fifth Street, Traverse City, 49684, for a nomination blank.

News Around Northville

Meeting place for the local Weight-Watchers of Eastern Michigan has been changed from 107 South Wing Street to the Plymouth Community Credit Union, 500 South Harvey at Maple Street in Plymouth. Mrs. Charles Fountain, local leader, announced.

Meetings will continue to be held at 9:30 a.m. every Tuesday.

A post-Christmas dinner and party was held Tuesday in honor of Mr. and Mrs. Jim Spagnuolo's grandson, PFC Gordon E. Melbourne who arrived this week from Korea for a 36-day leave. Following the dinner, friends of the family gathered at the Spagnuolo home, 113 East Main, for a party. After his leave, the soldier will begin a tour of duty in Panama.

Births

A son, James Robert, was born January 8 to Mr. and Mrs. James McLean of Plymouth at St. James Hospital. He weighed six pounds, fourteen ounces at birth.

Grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. William Chizmar, 19360 Maxwell, and Mrs. Magdalene McLean, 429 Beal Street.

Mr. and Mrs. James Allan of Dayton, Ohio, announce the birth of their first child, Cynthia Elizabeth, January 2. Their daughter weighed five pounds, three ounces at birth.

Mrs. Allan is the former Peggy Marz. Maternal grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. Ray Marz, 19511 Maryland. Paternal grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. James H. Allan of Dayton.

Mike Baldwin Takes Bride In Maryland Post Chapel

Of interest locally is the marriage of Michael Ransom Baldwin, son of Major and Mrs. Thaddeus Baldwin, Jr., and Miss Yvonne Rose Asmusen, December 28 at the Post Chapel, Edgewood (Maryland) arsenal.

The bridegroom is the grandson of Mrs. Marjorie Lanning, 214 North Wing, with whom the Baldwin family lived when Major Baldwin was serving overseas. The bride is the daughter of SGM (Ret.) and Mrs. William Asmusen of Edgewood.

Mrs. Lanning went East for the double ring ceremony which was followed by a reception at the Edgewood Arsenal Officers Club.

The bride's gown of peau de soie and chantilly lace was trimmed with seed pearls and extended into a full train. Her fingertip veil of illusion was held by a cap fashioned of bows of peau de soie with seed pearl trim. She carried a colonial bouquet of white and deep red rosebuds.

Doris Wilma Asmusen was honor maid and Constance Hartung and Jeanne Paynter were bridesmaids in cranberry red velvet gowns. Best man was Michael Goldman. Ushers were Donald Breneman, Stephen and Richard Baldwin, W. Dennis Miller.

The bride's mother wore a floor-length gown in melon and orange shades while the bridegroom's mother chose a long gown of aqua crepe. Mrs. Lanning wore dusty pink velvet with matching shoes.

After a honeymoon in Washington, D.C., the newlyweds are making their home in Joppatowne, Maryland.

Echo Valley Slates Dance

Echo Valley's tenth annual dinner-dance, an international smorgasbord last Saturday evening at the Northville American Legion Hall, was attended by 32 couples.

New residents of the subdivision attending were the Paul Balints, Bill Bryants, Lou Campbells and the Don Morans.

Mrs. Edward Brown was general chairman, assisted by Mrs. Judd Belanger, who coordinated the varied menu with Mrs. Russ Smith, Mrs. Darrell Ashley and Mrs. Mickey Frakes.

Mrs. Brown planned the decorations, with each table having a different country portrayed, assisted by Mrs. Joe Howard, Mrs. Homer Whitfield, Mrs. Chuck Stevens and Mrs. Phil Flora. Mexican hat name tags were fashioned by Mrs. Dona Patta, chairman, Mrs. Ray Schoof and Mrs. Arnie Konczal.

Reservations were taken by Mrs. Jim Bishop, Mrs. Ray Evans, Mrs. Flora, Mrs. Judd Goltra, Mrs. Bob Holmes and Mrs. Jerry Wachtel.

A three-piece group led by Ralph Mannisto played for dancing after dinner.

Newlyweds Make Home in Georgia

Following their Christmas-season wedding in Northville Presbyterian Church, newlywed Corporal and Mrs. Robert Richardson III now are making their home in Columbus, Georgia, while he is stationed at Fort Benning. The bride is the former Gwynne Conklin.

Holiday greens, tied with red ribbons, decorated the sanctuary as the Reverend Lloyd Brasure officiated at the 6 o'clock ceremony, December 28.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Bryan Conklin, 19200 Meadowbrook Road, wore an A-line gown of white satin which extended into a full train. Venetian lace appliques, embroidered with seed pearls, adorned the bodice and formed a wide border on the train. The same lace was used for the flaring cuffs. A crystal crown held her shoulder veil. She carried an arrangement of carnations and silver Christmas baubles which descended in a cascade-effect.

The bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Richardson, Jr., 19251 Meadowbrook Road.

Carrying out the holiday theme, bridal attendants wore Christmas red and green velveteen gowns. Mrs. Thomas Brown, the bride's cousin, as matron of honor wore red, fashioned with bell sleeves and a white contrasting front panel.

Attendants, all cousins of the bride, were Bonnie Danboise, Connie Watt and Linda Hermling. They all wore red gowns, matching the honor maid's and carried arrangements of red or white poinsettias and greens. The bride's young sister, Kimberly, was flower girl in a red gown matching the other attendants.

Martin Richardson was best man for his brother. Another brother, Todd, and the bride's brothers, Dan and Bradley Conklin, ushered. Scott Conklin was ring bearer.

For the ceremony and reception following for 150 guests at Botsford

Inn the bride's mother wore a silver-beige ensemble and a corsage of red carnations. The bridegroom's mother chose turquoise with pink carnations.

Guests attended from Chicago and Sebawaing, Utica, Port Austin and Detroit.

For a wedding trip to the Smoky Mountains, the new Mrs. Richardson changed to a green velvet suit. Both she and her husband are 1966 Northville High School graduates.

PASTOR AND FAMILY—Posing before the fireplace in the pastorage provided them by the First Baptist Church at 209 Wing Street (next to the church) are Reverend Cedric Whitcomb and his family. Mrs. Whitcomb (Jean) is standing at the pastor's right hand, while their children Sheri Lynn (4) and Lane (1½) sit on father's knees.

He's Steeped in Youth Work New Baptist Pastor Named

A 34-year-old native of Racine, Wisconsin has assumed the pastorate of the First Baptist Church of Northville.

The Reverend Cedric Whitcomb fills the post formerly held by the Reverend Robert Spradling, who left in September to take the pastorate of the Bible Center Church in Charleston, West Virginia.

Married with two young children, Rev. Whitcomb (he pronounces his first name Ked-rick) comes to Northville from Covington, Kentucky where he was the assistant pastor of the Calvary Baptist Church since 1963.

Prior to taking the post at Covington, Rev. Whitcomb was associated with Youth for Christ International for seven years. He was a rally and club director in Racine and Charleston, West Virginia.

While in Charleston he began an on-the-street program with gangs of delinquent teenage boys. The program branched out into week-night clubs and summer camps for boys who had been in trouble with the law. The program gained recognition of court authorities in the area.

Rev. Whitcomb has spoken to hundreds of teenagers in churches, youth rallies, banquets and summer camps annually. In addition to this busy schedule, he found time to regularly write Sunday School lessons and articles for the youth division of Baptist Publications in Denver, Colorado.

He attended the University of Wisconsin for a year and received his AB degree from Bob Jones University of Greenville, South Carolina, with a major in Bible study. He also has done graduate work at the University of Cincinnati.

He and Mrs. Whitcomb, also a native of Wisconsin, were married in 1960. They have two children, Sheri Lynn, 4, and Lane, 1. They moved to the Baptist parsonage at 209 Wing Street last week.

Concerning youth, Rev. Whitcomb contends problems of youth are over-emphasized, that "the minority of teens in trouble have captured the headlines and cast a blight on teens who are living clean lives and trying to do what's right."

Attendance all day was excellent, society officers report, with proceeds helping the "save the library fund."

Girl Scout News

Northville Senior Girl Scout Troop 222, with leaders Mrs. Glenn Deibert and Mrs. Fred Sterner, is planning a Valentine card party February 13 at Our Lady of Victory Catholic Church.

The card party is one of the final fund-raising events scheduled by the girls to help fulfill what has been an 11-year dream for some of them. Ever since their first years in Brownies some of the girls have been making plans to spend the spring of 1970 in Europe.

Senior Scouts not planning to take the European trip are looking forward to a windjammer cruise.

Tickets for the card party are $1.25 or $5 a table. Reservations may be made by calling 349-0534. Door prizes, table prizes and refreshments are being planned.

The girls have sponsored different activities for the past few years toward their trips, but cite this as the biggest "single push" toward the goal.

Junior Girl Scouts of Troop 361 enjoyed an ice skating party last Wednesday at the Meadowbrook home of one of the scouts, Bonnie Angell. After skating on the Angell pond, they had refreshments at her home.

State Lawmaker to Speak At Amerman PTA Meeting

Representative Clifford Smart (R-Walled Lake) will be the guest speaker at a public meeting, sponsored by the Amerman Elementary P-T-A, at 8 p.m. Thursday, January 23.

Introducing the 60th District lawmaker will be Superintendent of Schools Raymond Spear, who will be introduced by William Craft.

Smart will speak on pending legislation concerning schools, state financing of schools, aid to private schools, teacher contracts, together with a summary of present legislation.

"We hope all people interested in their school's future will attend," said a P-T-A spokesman. "Here is a chance to find out first-hand what is going on at the state level. Those attending will have an opportunity to ask questions."

Following the question and answer period, refreshments will be served in the main hallway of the school under the direction of Mrs. Arthur Adams. A centerpiece is being made for refreshments by Junior Girl Scout Troop 331 headed by Mrs. Kenneth Dadds.

New guest books will be set up at the school's two entrances and P-T-A officials hope those not members of the organization will sign it.

The meeting itself will be held in the school's multi-purpose room.

OBITUARIES

EBER SNYDER HARRINGTON
Funeral services for Eber Snyder Harrington, 69, were held at 8 p.m. Tuesday from Casterline Funeral Home with the Reverend Ivan Speight of Salem Bible Church officiating.

A Detroit resident at 1340 Hart Street at the time of his death, Mr. Harrington had lived in Northville most of his life. He died Sunday, January 12, at Detroit Metropolitan Hospital after an illness of two weeks. He was born April 20, 1899, to William H. and Mable (Snyder) Harrington. He had retired from Chrysler Motor Car Company after 35 years' service.

Interment was to be at Maple Grove Cemetery, North Branch, at 1 p.m. Wednesday.

He leaves two sisters, Mrs. Fern Parmenter of Northville and Mrs. Addie Taylor of Lapeer.

NORMAN R. HOOD
Norman R. Hood, 67, a 30-year resident of Northville died suddenly Sunday at St. Mary Hospital. The retired Maybury Sanatorium worker and his wife, Leona, lived at 520 Grace Street.

Born November 14, 1901, in Capac, Michigan, to Henry and Friedrika Hood, Hood is survived by his wife, a son Ray F. of New Hudson, a brother Wesley of Detroit and one grandchild.

The funeral was held yesterday at Casterline Funeral Home, Rev. John Wittstock officiating. Burial was in Holy Sepulchre Cemetery in Southfield.

MRS. IRMA ROSS
A former Northville resident, Mrs. Irma Ross of West Lorne, Ontario, Canada, died suddenly January 5 at the age of 60.

Mrs. Ross was the daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. Alonzo Sessions who lived on Wixom Road. She attended Northville High School and worked here. Shortly after her marriage to Orrville Ross they moved to Rodney, Ontario. Her husband preceded her in death 11 years ago.

She is survived by five sons, Earl, John, Archie, James and Bruce; three daughters, Mrs. Anna McCallum, Mrs. Leah Rylett and Mrs. Blanche Van Hee.

all of Canada; a brother, Harry Sessions of Belleville; 31 grandchildren, one great-grandchild and 10 nieces and nephews. The late C. Oscar Hammond was her uncle.

Funeral services were held last Thursday with interment in Rodney Cemetery.

W. TOLBERT KING
W. Tolbert King, 74, a former Northville resident, died January 10 at Union City, Tennessee, where he had retired, after a short illness. Services were held there and interment was in the Old Republic cemetery.

Mr. King spent several years with the fish and wildlife experimental station in Northville, moving back to Tennessee five years after he retired.

He was born in Tennessee December 5, 1894, and was married. He is survived by his wife, Ethel; a son, Richard, daughters Mrs. Lois Sanders and Mrs. Sue Barron, all of Union City; two other daughters, Mrs. Mary Bee of Garden City and Mrs. Dorothy Jean Blyth of Ann Arbor; two brothers, LeRoy of Northville and James P. of Murray, Kentucky; and a sister, Mrs. Raymond Adcox of Novi.

to devote to children who need special attention."

Students also assist young children in putting on their coats when school's out, prepare the room, flash cards and charts and put work on the board, compile picture files, set up simple science experiments, read to small groups, and recently helped with holiday programs.

Sue finds that pupils enjoy "someone new coming into the class. And we enjoy it just as much."

Initially, not too many students seemed interested, the three participants explained. "But now, more and more students want to get into it. Next year it should really go over."

For Tom, being part of one of only three boys in the program means nothing. "I'm really enjoying it. It's not a silly program like some fellows think. If they saw one of these kids smile when you help them it would be different."

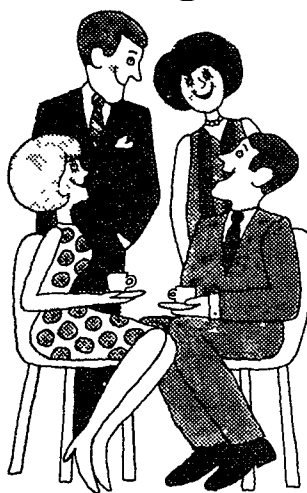

Among the other students involved are: John Pauli and Gary Klotz; Betty Jo Terry, Jan Parsons, Judy Bogart, Sarah Horner, Marilyn Baldwin, Debbie Alexander, Debbie Masson, Bonnie Wilson, Vicki Lobdell, Linda Darnell, Donna Farkas, Ann Sarnes, Lynn Tiilikka, Kathy Yudashkin, Cindy Todd, Sharon Schlieff and Fran Stoddard.

Curriculum Snags Approval

Plan to Move 6th Grade Stalls

Use of the old Northville junior high school for sixth grade classes next fall came within a hair of approval Monday night but was postponed when the board of education declined to accept immediately the related proposed curriculum.

Board members asked for the postponement so that they can study costs involved in the proposed curriculum, which according to the administration, was designed especially for a sixth grade occupying a building separate from either elementary or junior high schools.

(There was little doubt, however, that the board is in accord that the old building, now housing administrative offices, definitely will be used for classrooms next fall. It is considering now where to move the administrative offices. One consideration is the school-owned community building now used by the Cavern Teen Club).

Specifically, members such as Trustee Eugene Cook, questioned the advisability of the proposed curriculum that, in some respects, is educationally richer than in the junior high school.

It's a very ambitious program, similar to the 'program of excellence' that the board backed during last year's millage elections, he said, "but I'm not sure the people of the district are interested in a program of excellence."

Cook's repeated question was, "Can we afford it?"

According to Superintendent Raymond Spear, cost for a minimal educational program for the sixth grade in the old building, would approximate $42,000. However, he argued that since the sixth grade will be separated from educational benefits of facilities in the new junior high, that a special program for the sixth grade be provided. Based upon the curriculum recommendations of Curriculum Coordinator Miss Florence Panattoni, he said the total cost would be nearer $58,000.

Among specific expenditures under question are proposed purchases of some two-dozen typewriters, 60 student carrels, and outdoor cooking equipment.

Subject proposals include humanities, science-math to include a laboratory, physical education, a student-interest program, group counseling and individualized study as requirements. Proposed for electives are foreign language, typing, shop, home economics, and reading (accelerated and remedial).

All subjects, according to Miss Panattoni would be for both girls and boys — including an outdoor cooking class, which she defended as being both practical and sensible in today's society.

During the ensuing discussion, involving both the board and audience over 'cost-versus-public-willingness-to-pay' Miss Panattoni emphasized that the proposed curriculum stresses independent study by students. And, added Spear, training students to think independently is a vitally important educational aspect too often neglected today.

When asked by a citizen what provisions in the program were made for a library, the curriculum coordinator indicated that no physical library is envisioned but that utilization of books in other school libraries, the Wayne County Library, and the local public library is anticipated as part of classroom study.

Concerning proposed equipment purchases, Spear said that equipment once housed in the building has been moved to other schools and is in use there. This means, he said, that the building must be almost completely refurbished.

Cost of modification and refurbishing of the building for classrooms purposes would be minimal, Spear has stated.

The building would house an estimated 283 sixth graders in about 10 sections. If these students were to remain at Ida B. Cooke Junior High School, according to Spear, the enrollment there next year would be some 200 more than the 600-student capacity for which it was designed.

In her written recommendation to Spear, Miss Panattoni concluded that although the sixth grade should be housed in a building separate from the present junior high school, "it should remain a part of the sixth, seventh and eighth grade Middle Concept Structure and should be under the instructional leadership of the same administrators."

$20,000 Grant A Good Possibility

A good possibility existed that the Northville Public Schools would become the recipient today of a $20,000 state grant for year-round school research.

School administrators were to hand-carry an application to Lansing today and, according to Superintendent Raymond Spear, the state board of education may act on it yet today.

The state legislature last year provided $100,000 for year-round research, with a maximum grant provision of $20,000 for any one school district. No grants have been made as yet, according to local school officials.

Northville is given a better than even chance of receiving a grant — perhaps the maximum — because of its pioneering year-round school study during the past year. Only a handful of other school districts in Michigan have been studying the concept and none reportedly have progressed as far as Northville.

Should Northville receive a grant, the money will be used to wrap up the study, employing sophisticated canvassing to weigh reactions of the public, business and industry and parents of school-age children, Spear said. One of the grant requirements, he said, is that 200 copies of local research and findings be made available to the state.

All but one school board member approved asking for the grant. The lone dissenter was Trustee Glenn Deibert, who maintained that Northville is an affluent community that can afford the study without a "handout" from the state. He suggested that there are many poorer districts in the state that can better use the money.

"We do a disservice to ourselves and show a lack of respect for ourselves" by seeking a grant — particularly such a large portion of the total fund. "It bothers me," he said, "and I cannot and would not support it."

Fellow board members strongly disagreed, pointing out: The state encourages application, is particularly anxious to receive an application from Northville because it represents a district with a study that could become the basis of a plan that might eventually be adopted elsewhere in the state, that the local study represents pioneering research desired by the state, and that the state board of education is looking for five different studies utilizing the $100,000 fund — thus accounting for the $20,000 maximum grant provision.

Architect

However, in past meetings officials have pointed out the urgency of an elementary building program to meet anticipated growth in the Thompson-Brown development area near Six Mile and Bradner Roads.

A proposal to "donate" from five to 10 acres of property to the school system from Thompson-Brown was received last year and is nearing fruition.

Whatever school or schools the new firm is asked to design, it will be working within the framework of a totally new concept proposed by the board and tentatively approved by the State Municipal Finance Commission Tuesday.

Basically, the proposal is this: that the architect design a school based upon locally determined specifications and that bids be secured for the proposed school — prior to any voted bond issue.

Under such a program, new to Michigan school districts, voters would know exactly what kind of school is planned and its exact cost before voting to furnish money for it. In the past, bids for a school were not received until after the bonding election. And often plans were revised following high bids.

This new procedure, according to local school officials, also would mean that contractors would not know in advance how much money is available for the proposed new school, thus, possibly, leading to lower competitive bidding.

Concerning this new concept, the board Monday night received a letter from a top executive of Manufacturers National Bank, commending the school district for its initiative in proposing a plan of "great merit."

A member of the audience, however, cautioned the board to be alert to the possibility of a contractor asking a larger than normal contingency fund to cover possible increased labor costs. The board, he suggested, would best seek bids after settlement of labor contracts.

Started on Shoestring 'n Nickle Beer

Papa John Sells Bar-Restaurant

When Papa John drew a five-cent beer for his customers 35 years ago he was never sure he'd have enough money to finance that next glass of suds.

But with the stubborn persistence that has marked his life, John Poulos (his legal name is Asimacopoulos) parlayed his shoestring operation into the financially successful bar-restaurant business that he gave up last week upon retiring.

"We like it," he explained in his broken English, "but we tired, want enjoy now."

Determined to remain in Northville — the community he loves, John sold his business, the Northville Restaurant & Bar, 113 West Main Street, to Vernon D. Huntoon Jr. of Detroit and Charles Janssen of Novi. He still owns the building.

Born and raised in Greece, John's love for his adopted Northville is not one-sided. More than 100 customers, employees and friends feted him at a surprise party Friday at the VFW Hall where the wet-eyed retiree and his wife, Georgia, were showered with gifts.

"We'll really miss him," says Mrs. Horace Aenchbacher, who for the past 20 years has been a waitress for him, "but we're happy he will enjoy himself after all those years of work. He's done so many things for the people, especially the old folks who lived in the hotel. Not many know it but he's carried a lot of them on the cuff, and on holidays he'd call in Big John (the cook) to put on a big feed for them."

Papa John — an endearing name his friendly customers used over the years — came to the United States from his native Greece in 1916. In 1932 he moved to Northville and in 1934 obtained his beer license. Two years later he bought the building, constructed in 1922 by Ed Perrin.

By 1936 he had a liquor license.

When he first went into business, the bar side of the building was a pool hall. He converted it to a bar after receiving his license. The hotel, above the restaurant and bar, contained 10 rooms in those days, he recalls.

In 1948, the building was enlarged and the hotel was expanded to 23 rooms.

Business boomed, particularly after the advent of horse racing here, but so too did the overhead, he says. Back in '33 when a day's receipt of $4 was commonplace, waitresses worked for $6 a week plus room and board and the cook received $7 a week.

It was 'nickle beer' in 1934, he says, and soup, too, was five cents. And a beer glass then "was fish bowl," he laughs. When he began selling liquor, a shot went for 15-cents.

He can laugh about those early days now, but they were tough ones. He can remember when he didn't have $6 for another one-half keg of beer and had to borrow a couple bucks from a friend to keep going.

Mr. and Mrs. Poulos have three children: Stella, who is married and lives in St. Louis with her husband and two children; John, a hotel management graduate of Michigan State University who now works for a finance company in Chicago; and Chris, who lives at home here at 795 Thayer Boulevard.

Although he plans to remain in Northville, with perhaps a vacation next spring in Florida, the 69-year-old has one big wish: "I like see brother," the only living member of his family who at 85, still lives in Diocopton, Greece.

Janssen, one of the new owners in the business, will manage it. He is married, has three children, and recently moved with his family to 26445 Novi Road. Huntoon is married and has two children.

GOODBYE 'N HELLO — Mr. and Mrs. John Poulos (center) bid goodbye last week to their restaurant-bar — one of the oldest Northville businesses — following its sale to Charles Janssen of Novi (left) and Vernon Huntoon of Detroit (right). Janssen will manage the business.

During the eight-week course, he received training and orientation in a variety of military subjects, including military law, unit administration and management, supply principles and procedures, and military preventive medicine.

The captain received his commission through the Reserve Officers' Training Corps program at Eastern Michigan University, where he received his B.S. degree in 1968. He is a member of Theta Chi fraternity.

His wife, Karen, lives at 311 North Ely Drive.

Mother's March January 28th

Dimes Campaign Underway

A Boy Scout tag day sale this Saturday heads the list of upcoming events in the all-January fund-raising campaign of the March of Dimes against birth defects, John Steimel, Northville postmaster and local March of Dimes campaign chairman, announced Tuesday.

The scouts from troop 721 at Northville Presbyterian church will sell tags all day Saturday in downtown Northville in a canister collection.

Again this year, said Steimel, the Northville Jaycettes will conduct the Mother's March on January 28. Mrs. Russell Anger is Jaycette chairman of this project.

A new feature of this year's month-long campaign will be a teen-age program (called TAP) to support the drive for funds. Heading the Northville TAPS is Steimel's son, Jon, a tenth grade student at Northville High School.

"Our campaign theme will be 'Teens Go MOD' and by that we mean March of Dimes," Jon explained. A project for all Northville students — a candle sale January 27-31 — was being presented to the school student council Tuesday. The decorative candles would be sold throughout the community during the last week of the campaign.

Repeat benefit events will be a faculty basketball game, with Donald Van Ingen serving as chairman of arrangements, and a Jazz Festival arranged by Bob Williams. Dates have not been set yet.

On December 28 a March of Dimes was sponsored by the Cavern, but severe weather cut back attendance and Steimel estimated that proceeds would be less than last year, probably about $20.

In listing the March of Dimes events, Steimel pointed out that the March of Dimes is not supported by the United Foundation and stressed that the need for funds is urgent "because we know now there is hope — through research and treatment — to overcome the physical and mental afflictions that strike 250,000 American infants each year."

Examples of progress are two new vaccines, one to prevent Rh disease due to blood differences between baby and mother, and the other, now being tested, to prevent German measles which often cripples babies whose mothers contract the disease during pregnancy. March of Dimes supports more than 100 birth defect centers for research and treatment

Timely Income Tax Filing Tips

EDITOR'S NOTE: This is the first of a series of articles prepared by the Michigan Association of CPAs on money-saving tax "tips" in the preparation of the 1968 Federal Individual Income Tax Return.

Did you goof in figuring your tax last year and end up paying the Government more than necessary?

Did you overlook the sick-pay exclusion you were entitled to? Did Aunt Hattie finally turn out to be a bona fide dependent, entitling you to a $600 exemption which you didn't claim?

It's not too late to ask for a refund. Under the three-year statute of limitations, you can file an amended return for any over payment on the 1967 tax year, as well as for overpayments on the 1966 and 1965 tax years, according to C. A. Norton president of the Michigan Association of CPAs.

Ask the Internal Revenue Service for Form 1040X. It's short and sweet, and even provides three-quarters of a page of blank space for explanation of the changes in income, deductions and credits for which a refund is claimed.

New on this year's return is the ten percent surcharge which went into effect last April 1st. Since it was in effect for only three-quarters of the 1968 tax year, the actual surcharge rate is 7.5 percent additional on the tax normally due on or before April 15. Many taxpayers will probably find that their withholding was not enough to cover the additional surcharge, however, and will have to make an additional payment with their return.

Generally, married couples filing a joint return will pay a smaller tax than if they file separately because of the lower tax rate used in figuring the tax due. This isn't always true, however. If both husband and wife had approximately the same income and sold stock or other property which they owned jointly at a loss in 1968, they can deduct up to $2,000 ($1,000 each) as a capital loss from income by filing separate returns. On a joint return, the maximum capital loss allowable would be $1,000 for them both.

In the event that either husband or wife had extraordinary medical expenses in 1968, it might also be to their advantage to file separate returns.

Widows and widowers with a dependent child or children are given a tax break which is sometimes overlooked. If the death occurred in 1968, the surviving spouse is entitled to file a joint return for the 1968 tax year. This not only results in a lower tax, but in the event the child or children remain dependents, entitles the survivor to use the joint return tax table in figuring his tax for two additional years, in this instance for the 1969 and 1970 tax years.

Tests for determining dependency exemptions are tricky and frequently cause confusion in the minds of taxpayers.

According to the IRS, a dependent entitling you to a $600 exemption must meet the following requirements:

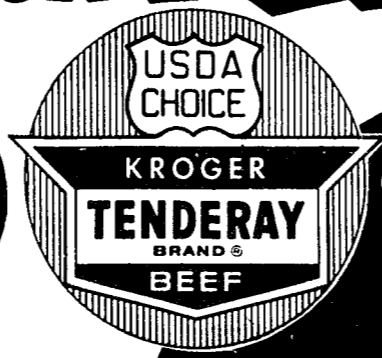

(a) receive more than half his support — food, lodging, clothes, etc. — from you;
(b) have less than $600 in income during the year, unless he is under 19 or is a full-time student attending school or college at least five months during the year;

(c) be related to you by blood (or to your wife in the event you file a joint return) or be a member of the household for the entire taxable year; and
(d) be a citizen of the United States or a resident alien.

Social Security benefit payments are not included in determining whether a dependent had an income of $600 or more. They are included, however, in establishing whether he was dependent on you for more than half his support.

SPEAKING

for The Record

By BILL SLIGER

A couple of court cases pending against the city of Northville involving denials of requests for rezoning to permit construction or expansion of gas station facilities may face delay until someone decides whether or not the city's procedure for considering rezoning requests is proper.

Specifically, the city is being challenged in the courts by Pure Oil for denying rezoning to allow expansion of a station at Main and Wing streets and by Marathon for denying construction of a station at Allen drive and Novi road.

Neither of the rezoning requests reached the council level. And this is why some legal authorities think that the applicants deserve another hearing before having to go to circuit court.

Under present procedure in the city of Northville all rezoning requests go to the council-appointed planning commission.

Planners decide whether or not the request is valid enough to be given a public hearing. In the event it is, planners then call the hearing, weigh the evidence as presented and make a recommendation.

If the recommendation is to deny the rezoning, the applicant has no recourse except to go to circuit court and challenge the action.

If the planning commission favors the rezoning, the proposal then goes to the city council for official action — either approval of the rezoning or denial of the planning commission recommendation.

Some council members, as well as attorneys representing clients who have been denied rezoning, question this procedure.

They wonder if the applicant, denied a hearing or refused a favorable recommendation by the planning commission, shouldn't have the right to make an appeal to the elected governing body of the city before being forced into court.

While the council has the right to over-rule a planning commission recommendation for rezoning, it is never given the opportunity to reverse a decision against rezoning.

Unquestionably, this issue should be finally determined. There's evidence that at least an informal opinion was rendered by the former city attorney that the state law under which the planning commission is created does not provide for a council appeal.

The opinion should be made official. While councilmembers are not seeking the additional responsibility of hearing such appeals, they recognize that "the buck is suppose to stop at their table". And in this instance it isn't getting passed that far.

Councilman Charles Lapham is urging fellow councilmembers to come to grips with the problem of overnight parking for apartment renters in the business district.

He feels there's a city obligation "because building permits were originally issued to allow buildings to cover 100 per cent of the lot". And with regulations prohibiting overnight parking on streets and certain parking lots, renters are hard-pressed to find places to leave their cars.

Councilman Del Black points out unhappily that some of the apartment renters in the business district are using his private customer lot. While he's sympathetic and understands their problem, he notes that it prevents him from having snow removed from the lot at night and takes away valuable customer parking spots during the day.

Several businesses, experiencing the same problem as Black at his lot behind his shoe store, have leased their private lots to the city for one dollar per year.

Under this arrangement city police have the authority to enforce two-hour parking and also act officially in case of accidents or unlawful acts (speeding, etc.) on land that had previously been private property.

City Manager Frank Ollendorff also points out that the city now provides special parking stickers at the rate of $5 per month. These stickers allow unrestricted parking on the city's three metered lots.

He also notes that the unimproved Main street lot near Wing street is unpatrolled and thereby open to unrestricted parking for business district residents as well as employees of the commercial area.

Councilman Lapham thinks the city should take the lead in opening up parking areas for residents of the business district, as well as employees, along Cady street and through to the Northville Downs parking area.

He doesn't suggest that the city should have to foot the entire bill. Commercial building owners, who would stand to benefit most, should be assessed, he admits.

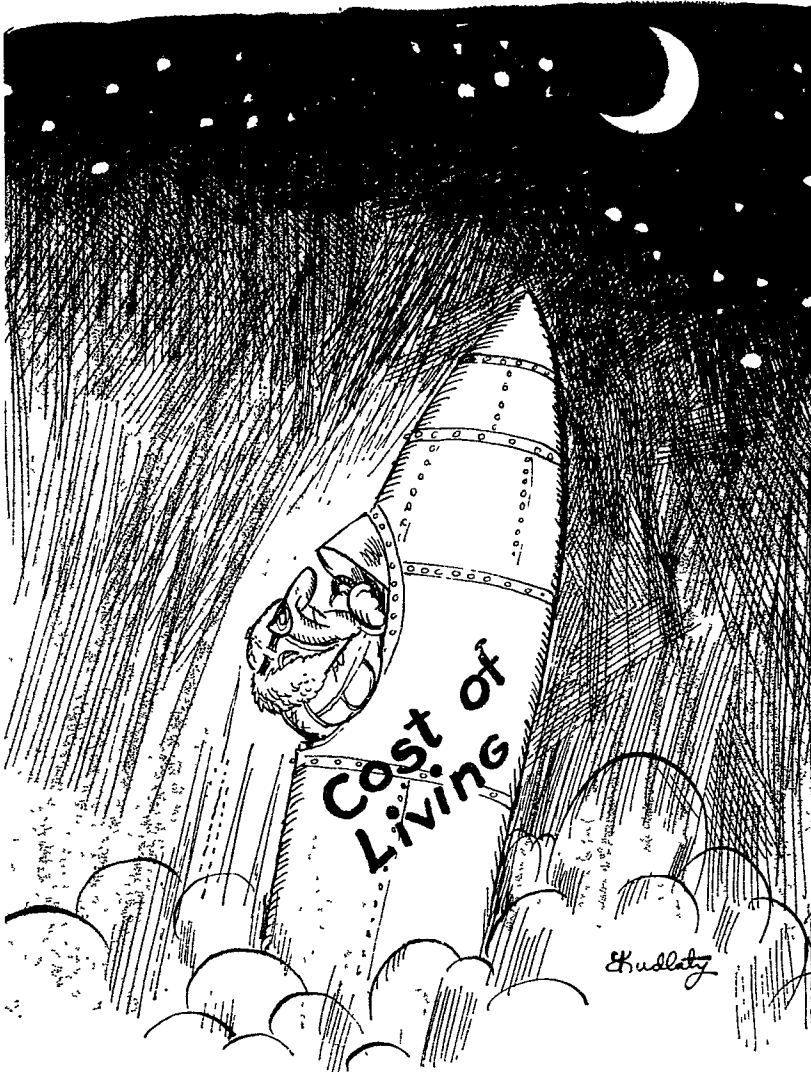

Manager Ollendorff points out that such a plan for acquisition of parking equal to a ratio of three square feet of parking for every one square foot of retail shopping space in the business district has been recommended by the council-appointed Parking Authority.

Appraisals to determine the cost of acquiring the necessary property are now being made. The legality of assessing the cost against business district property owners is also being studied.

Meanwhile, Mayor A. M. Allen wonders aloud "when are we going to get a little building activity started in the business district to go along with the parking".

And which comes first.....

To the Editor:

America was once unpolluted, America was once young. People start out that way too; unpolluted, innocent. Then an unusual thing happens, all man's prejudices begin to spoil the innocence of youth. These prejudices are displayed in many forms from the "pollock" jokes to the great hate of "niggers". This racism, bigotry — whatever the term — has caused some of Black America to have faith in just her own. A new found faith that caused great pride, change and new hope.

The acknowledgement of the many wrongs in America today, not just racism, has caused great dissent in youth, forcing youth to have faith in youth, with only small ties to the older generation. This is why Carl Taylor and Jim Corcoran feel isolated, rejected. They've turned on their own, and they're fools if they didn't expect some rejection. Suppose your neighbor called the police because you were drinking and smoking. But that isn't against the law; you're only hurting yourself. Who are the American tobacco industry and the liquor stores hurting? Themselves?

Suppose I demanded a raid on a VFW bingo party. Wouldn't I be shunted just like your neighbor who doesn't like you drinking and smoking?

How is America's youth supposed to see marahuana, speed, anything, any different? This is an escape just like the older generation has in its liquor. I see a fast world, a world where you may have to step out quick, not by drinking half the night.

But what about the problem? Would you throw a drunkard or a liquor salesman in jail for 20 years?

To eliminate a problem, the cause or causes must be eliminated. The cause would be why they've stepped out and if you can't see why then you've stepped out too.

To the Editor:

Concerning last week's articles in this paper about the widespread usage of drugs, I, in behalf of Northville High would like to apologize for the unfair treatment shown Carl Taylor and Jim Corcoran.

I do not want to glorify or make heroes out of either one of them. But who do we think we are, ridiculing them? Any normal person, who maintains any reasonable amount of integrity would have, and should have done reasonably the same thing. Who are we to call Carl or Jim "squealers" when all they did was accept their responsibility.

Although I personally did not agree with various techniques used in "busting" the five offenders, I feel Carl and Jim should be commended for realizing their responsibility, and having had enough backbone to carry it out.

I would also like to apologize for NHS for the alarmingly growing amount of apathy portrayed by our students. It seems as though in the past 3½ years I've been at Northville High, as each September comes around, our school has lost more ground, and is slowly running downhill. I think the two key words in solving these problems are PRIDE and RESPECT. If the students at NHS would generate PRIDE in our school, then RESPECT would naturally be reactivated.

Thank you,
Daryl Herter

To the Editor:

It was indeed refreshing to see your comments recently in the Record concerning the efficiency of the Northville Police Department. I share the opinion that citizens of Northville enjoy exemplary police protection under the capable guidance of such people as City Manager Ollendorff and Chief Elkins.

My family and I have lived in many communities, both large and small, but never have we felt as secure and comfortable as we do in Northville knowing we have this kind of protection.

Hats off to the Northville Police Department, a fine group of men dedicated to their difficult and challenging responsibilities.

To the Editor:

A $58,000 Exceptional Program for our sixth grade has just been proposed for the 1969-70 school year.

A standard program will cost only $42,000.

The school system started the 1968-69 school year with a bang — a $20,000 deficit, which incidentally was increased by about $12,000 for administrative salaries.

To overcome this deficit, a new concept of school financing was born. It is called "pass the tin cup". And, it worked! The tin cup provided enough money to restore most, but not all, of the ordinary or standard programs that are considered necessary for a minimum program.

It appears to me that we are having difficulty financing our standard programs. Should we even be considering the additional cost of the exceptional programs before all of the standard programs have been restored? It sounds like buying expensive carpeting for the library when you can't afford the books.

"My Friend Tony" won't take the cake as the most innovative television program of the year, and it may not even survive the remainder of the season, but it's one dog that doesn't lack bite.

Starring James Whitmore and Enzo Cerusico, "Tony" made its debut two Sundays ago on NBC as a one-hour stand-in for the Phyllis Diller show, which went kaput when it couldn't close the popularity gap.

Although the title doesn't signify as much, "Tony" is a detective story, but with a unique twist. Whitmore is Professor John Woodruff, well-known criminologist who applies his scientific expertise to solve crimes from the laboratory.

To give the show a few more variations and considerably more action, Professor Woodruff is accompanied by a young cohort, who acts as the disarming legman. They met in occupied Europe when Tony (my friend) was a drifting urchin and the professor was in the military.

No matter what the job, they get it done, the professor by enlightening redoubtable skeptics with his laboratory techniques and "cool" scientific approach to crime, and Tony by disarming his adversaries with Italian guile.

The format won't prompt any oohs, nor will the acting, which is limited by the show's format. After all, there are a million, so it seems, sleuth shows. But the somewhat hackneyed stories have notable zing, aimed at sacred cows.

The first program, for instance, unloaded point blank at special task forces, set up by every state and city, to attack organized crime. Particularly what the program attacked was the penchant of task force leaders to become head hunters, and the penchant of the public to let them go unchecked.

Mat Henderling was such a man. He came to "The City" to wage an all-out war on crime, and pursued his goal with such missionary zeal that he became policeman, judge, jury, prosecutor and executioner all rolled into one.

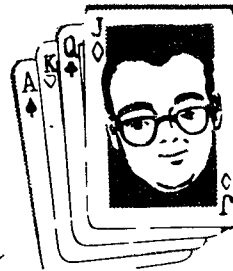

En route to inevitable exposure at the hands of our heroes, Henderling took the posture of most law enforcement men: that politicians are impediments to effective law enforcement and that the nine black robed men of the United States Supreme Court are responsible for today's lawlessness.

The second program was equally as biting, but the issue was different: the duplicity of man who talks peace on the one hand and manufactures bigger and better weapons on the other for the destruction of all mankind.

The story involved theft of bacteria which was manufactured for the military and had the potential of wiping out two million people. The professor and Tony conduct the search for the stolen vial.

Not without opposition, however. An obtuse general, commander of Army reserves, wishes to gain the limelight by deploying his troops in a door-to-door search for the deadly vial. He even suggests evacuating two million people without thought of logistics.

It's these caustic torpedoes, aimed broadside at some sacred vessels, which promise to keep the program afloat, at least long enough to gauge its popularity.

Top of the Deck

by JACK W. HOFFMAN

He disappeared under the hood, twisted a few wires and then extracted himself long enough to ask, "Ballet's okay, I guess, but it's girl's stuff, don'tcha think?"

It wasn't exactly the kind of question you'd expect from a balding mechanic pushing fifty, especially since he was a stranger and all I'd said was, "Will you check the carburetor ... I don't think it's getting gas."

But his opener was intriguing so as he submerged again to examine the car's entrails I told him ballet wasn't really one of my better subjects although I was sure that boys... or men tiptoed around on stages, too.

He bobbed up. "Yah, but they're funny, those guys. Ain't regular, if you know what I mean."

"Could be," I said, "but then I never knew one. Maybe they're alright. After all, they dance up a storm in Russia."

"Who cares what they do in Russia. We're talking about here. It ain't right for men. She oughta know better."

Finally, I asked the obvious. "Who is 'she' and why are you so hopped up about ballet?"

Suddenly, this guy in the greasy overalls grew quiet. It was if I'd tossed a question at him out of the clear blue... me, a stranger, with no reason talking about ballet to a mechanic.

Only after he'd slammed down the hood, wiped the grease off his hands and started writing the bill did he explain: "Gol darn wife's got this kid of mine enrolled in one of those ballet classes. Seven years old... a boy who oughta be playing hockey or something.

"Can't tell her anything. She's got it in her head it's good for him. He don't like it... thinks it's sissy stuff just like me."

"Why don't you put your foot down?"

"What the dickens you think I've been doing? I could hit her on the head with a wrench and she still wouldn't listen. Ever since he got sick she's been like this. He's got trouble with his leg so she thinks flitting around's gonna make it better."

"Kid could play hockey and get the same thing. I think I could get 'em on the team. The coach's a friend. He'd teach him things... put him in there once in awhile just to let him get exercised."

"I'm sorry," I said. "How bad is his leg?"

"Nothin' that you'd notice 'cept when he walks. Kids get on him about it... mostly brats who don't know anything anyway. The last time he comes home and gives her this sob story and she goes right over and signs him up. He's gotta get use to it... so does she. But you can't tell her."

I paid the bill and started to leave.

"Hey, wait a minute. You got any kids?"

"Sure a flock of 'em."

"Well, would you make one take ballet?"

"Maybe ... maybe not. It all depends."

"What do you know. It ain't your kid. Nobody's business but ours. Nobody knows my kid better'n my wife. If she says it's okay, it's okay, see."

"Ya, I guess so," I said opening the door. "Sorry I brought it up."

Michigan Mirror

'Mighty Mac' Tolls Sliced; Tourist Spurt Anticipated

LANSING — It now costs less, much less, to cross the mighty Mackinac Bridge. Effective Jan. 1, toll charges dropped from $3.75 to $1.50 per passenger car from $4.25 to $1.50 for most trucks.

The reason for the lower fare is a new law earmarking a portion of the state gasoline tax for retiring bridge bonds. Heretofore toll receipts were the sole revenue source.

State officials are hopeful the lower rates will spur tourist traffic in the northland during the warm-weather months and ease the financial burden on local residents year-round.

THE MACKINAC Bridge, constructed from 1953 to 1957 at a cost of $100 million, connects Michigan's lower and upper peninsulas across the Straits of Mackinac. It is the longest suspension bridge in the world.

More than 1.3 million vehicles, most of them cars, cross the bridge annually. Plans are to increase the total to five million by 1980.

Toll collections averaged about $1 million a month under the fee system that was in effect from May, 1961, to December, 1968. Before the bridge was erected, the only way to get from the lower to the upper peninsula, or vice versa, was by ferry — and the charge was $2.78.

THE GLEAMING suspended steel cables provide the closest thing yet to the Northwest Passage sought by the explorers of the 16th and 17th centuries — but by land, not by water.

The bridge's completion in the fall of 1957 erased a barrier that had split off the Upper Peninsula from the rest of the state and, to a greater extent, from the nation.

Tourists and vacationers from throughout the United States flock across the bridge in the summer months to seek the quiet of the UP's forested wilderness. Delightful big and little lakes dot the landscape. So do trout streams.

The bridge spreads from St. Ignace on the northern side of the straits to Mackinaw City on the south. Between and through these cities much of early Midwest history passed in review.

Both were fortresses named Michilimackinac, a Chippewa term meaning big turtle. It was derived by the Indians from an island so shaped in the straits and applied to the whole area.

The island, shortened to Mackinac by the French, is an autoless and mosquito-free resort which remains "remote." The bridge does not go there. Only ferries.

Airline Problems Blamed On Industry's Rapid Growth

WELLESLEY HILLS, Mass. — Problems currently afflicting air transportation are the direct results of its rapid growth. True, the industry is gratified by the upzoom in its traffic; but, as contrasted with earlier in this decade, airlines stocks have attracted of the day for Gov. George Romney before he moves to Washington to become U.S. Secretary of Housing and Urban Affairs.

Recently Romney appointed two long-time political advisers, Lenton G. Sculthorp of Marshall and Louis A. Fisher of Grosse Pointe Shores, to the Public Service Commission and Highway Commission, respectively.

Charles E. Harmon, the Governor's press secretary since December, 1964, was named to succeed Sculthorp as director of the State Department of Licensing and Regulation.

Fisher, 59, a retired industrialist, succeeds Ardale W. Ferguson of Benton Harbor, who asked not to be reappointed to the Highway Commission. The appointment is for a four-year term ending June 30, 1972. The position is one of the most prestigious in state government.

Sculthorp, 52, succeeds Peter B. Spivak on the Public Service Commission for a term ending July 2, 1973. Spivak was named last fall to the Detroit Common Pleas Court bench.

Harmon was a member of the Booth Newspapers State Capitol bureau for four years prior to joining Romney's staff. The 34-year-old Flint native was a reporter for the Kalamazoo Gazette from 1956 through 1960.

STATE REP. Frederick J. Marshall of Allen, known in the Michigan Legislature for his folksy, effective manner, has died of cancer.

Marshall, a Republican, served the 41st House district, which covers Branch, Hillsdale and part of Lenawee counties, since 1950. He was sheriff of Hillsdale County from 1938 to 1948.

A native of Allen Township, Marshall was chairman of the House Tourist Industry Relations Committee, and a member of the State Affairs, Military and Veterans' affairs and Public Health committees.

much less investor interest. The vast majority are quoted well below their previous highs.

Although revenues have shown continued gains, costs also have soared. As a result, margins have narrowed so that 1968 produced virtually no profit growth for the nation's airlines. Also, the increase in carrier capacity and the rise in overhead costs associated therewith have taken a toll on profits.

Another factor limiting earnings is the congestion at major airports. While efforts have been made to ease this acute condition by reducing the number of flights during peak hours, this has provided only a partial answer. Much more must be done in traffic control.

A MAJOR difficulty confronting the airlines, and related to the industry's rapid growth, is the necessity of huge capital outlays for new planes. In 1969, the new Boeing 747s will go into operation. These ships have a price tag of over $20 million each, with a passenger capability of 490 per craft ... although most airlines plan to order models which will carry only 350 passengers.

In the 1970's, smaller jumbo jets (the so-called airbuses), the Lockheed 1011, the McDonnell-Douglas DC-10, the supersonic transports and the short-takeoff-and-landing aircrafts will enter service. During the next decade the industry plans to spend approximately $17 billion for new planes and for ground support equipment, of which about $10½ billion must be raised by 1971.

MOST IMPORTANT... the airlines should continue to grow at a fast clip; thus traffic increase will help to narrow the gap of the current excess carrier capacity. But, despite the expected impressive revenue gains in 1969 and beyond, Babson's Reports is convinced that the lush benefits realized from the transition from propeller-driven aircraft to jets will not recur.

Furthermore, size is not the sole determining factor for profitability. Hence, while still reaching for new and lucrative runs, the airlines are trying to stem the erosion on profit margins by cutting back on promotional fares and seeking selective fare increases.

In the Babson view, the industry faces a formidable set of challenges which must be met before the airlines reach a new plateau of profitability. Relief of significant proportion may not be seen in 1969. Indeed, airport congestion and delays, higher labor and operating costs, and excess carrier capacity could prolong the squeeze.

The problems of the industry must, however, be viewed as growing pains. The longer-range outlook is still favorable, and continued growth progress is expected. Bear in mind that the airlines are rapidly becoming the dominant mode of intercity passenger movement.

WHILE PROFITS prospects for the current year are not particularly impressive, the air transportation stocks at current prices appear to be reasonably valued in most instances, especially when viewed in terms of the industry's growth potential. Most of its problems seem already to have been discounted by the stock market.

Hence, it is the opinion of Babson's Reports that investors now owning the common shares of such carriers as American Airlines, Delta, Eastern, Flying Tiger, Northeast, Northwest, Pan American, TWA, Western, and United should certainly hold their positions. For purchase now, the common stock of National Airlines looks attractive for growth, along with the Continental Air Lines convertible 3½% bond of 1992 and the Pan American World Airways convertible 4½% bond of 1986.

from the Pastor's Study

Ray Pippins, Minister
Church of Christ, South Lyon

Joe was a good fellow; He provided well for his family. He was a good father and husband. He paid his debts and gave to charity. He was fair and honest in his business dealings. He was a good citizen. He left his family with a good income and a comfortable home.

There were many flowers and lots of friends. The preacher made a nice talk about Joe's good qualities, but he didn't have much to say about Joe's hereafter. You see, Joe was not a christian. Religion was "for little children," or perhaps women, but not for him. So Joe ignored God in his life; he didn't obey his will; he made no effort to become a christian, or to worship and serve as a christian should. If there was a hereafter, he trusted in his goodness to carry him through.

He had no promise that it would. He just figured it out that way.

Joe was a sinner. For all have sinned and come short of the glory of God. (Rom. 3:23) There were some things he did when he was younger that he didn't like to think about, he had tried to avoid those things since then. But those sins were committed and their guilt still stands on Joe's record.

Joe was much like Cornelius, who was in some respects better than Joe. (Acts 10; 1-2) But the goodness of Cornelius was not enough to save him. He had to hear words whereby he and his house could be saved. (Acts 11:14) Neither Joe nor Cornelius could be saved without Christ, for Jesus himself had said, "No man cometh unto the Father but by Me". (Jn. 14:6).

Joe could have put his faith in Christ, repented of his sins, and been baptized into Christ for the forgiveness of his sins. (Acts 2:38) He could have been forgiven by the Son of God who gave his life for that very purpose, to forgive, to blot out sins — but he didn't. He just figured out a way of his own. But man cannot direct his own steps. (Jer. 10:23) Now he is gone — gone to meet his Maker, the one he ignored all his life. Joe had provided for almost everything except the most important thing.

Well it's all over for Joe. His destiny is sealed, nothing we can say or do will alter his condition. But at the funeral there were others Joes and Harrys and Petes and Sues and Marthas and Janes who just like him will some day attend their own funerals. Will they be ready? Will they continue to depend on their own goodness? Proverbs 14:12 says, "There is a way that seemeth right unto a man, but the end thereof is the ways of death."

When the last furrow has been plowed. When the last word has been spoken. When we have drawn our last pay check and our eyes are forever closed in death. Our friends gather around to say goodbye. They will find comfort only in the knowledge that we have obeyed our Lord and worshiped Him. All else will seem so unimportant. No wonder the wise man Solomon would say, "Fear God and keep His commandments for this is the whole duty of man." (Ecc. 12:13). Or the Spirit would tell John to write, "Blessed are the dead that die in The Lord from henceforth: Yea, sayeth the Spirit, that they may rest from their labours; and their works do follow them." (Rev. 14:13).

Careless soul, why will you linger,

wandering from the fold of God,

Hear you not the invitation,
Oh prepare to meet thy God.
Don't be another Joe.

Presbyterian Church Sets Pledge Sunday

March 2 has been chosen as Campaign Sunday for pledges for the new sanctuary for Northville First Presbyterian Church with the building pledge campaign to be conducted the last week of February, it was announced this week.

Donald VanIngen and James Stevens have been named chairmen of the building campaign committee.

Workers who will call on the congregation March 2 are under the chairmanship of Robert Bogart and William Masson. Edwin Langtry and Robert Bretz are in charge of campaign preparations.

Arrangements for a kick-off dinner to be held February 27 are being made by Mrs. James Cowie and Mrs. Donald Hiller.

Other committee chairmen are Mrs. Edwin Langtry and Mrs. Crispin Hammond, arrangements; Joseph Petrock and George Weiss, financial; John Wisner, John Wortman and Mrs. Douglas Day, promotion; Mrs. Philip Nauman and Miss Elizabeth Beard, staff; John Frew, Fred Stefanski and Douglas Slessor, follow-up; and Jack Blackburn, treasurer. The Reverend Lloyd Brasure, pastor, will assist all committees.

Plans for a new sanctuary were approved by the congregation earlier. A new structure was authorized when it was not found feasible to expand the present sanctuary. Preliminary architect's estimates for the new sanctuary were $225,000 plus furnishings.

Service Marks Prayer Week

The annual Week of Prayer for Christian Unity will be marked in Northville with a Bible and prayer service at 8 p.m. Thursday, January 27, at Our Lady of Victory Catholic Church. The Reverend Father John Wittstock will preside and the Reverend Lloyd Brasure, pastor of Northville Presbyterian Church, will give the sermon.

All residents of the community are invited.

fascinating fishes

"See! see!" Amy cries, using one of her new-found words. Her voice trembles with wonder, and suddenly the fish Bob brought her become more than ordinary. They're magical creatures, slashing through the water with a flick of their tails, golden gleams of fascination.

How thrilling is a baby's world—changing, growing. Every day brings a new experience, some added lore to shape the growing personality.

Bob and I know how important these days are in Amy's development. Her acquaintance with the world now will affect her life greatly. That's why we take her to church every Sunday. We want her to learn of God's love from earliest remembrance.

God is the light of the world. His Church offers you and your family the opportunity to make His presence a joyous reality in your lives.

NOVI HIGHLIGHTS

MRS. H. D. HENDERSON 349-2428

During the holidays, Mr. and Mrs. Keith Landerville and daughter, Renee, and sons Miles, Lyle and Mitch spent a week with Mrs. Landerville's mother, Mrs. Lydia Simmons at Cedarville in the upper peninsula.

Sunday, January 12 Robert Orzechowski was twelve years old and Sunday, January 5th his brother, Mike celebrated his 15th birthday. Both Sundays their grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Harold Miller and their uncle and aunt, Mr. and Mrs. William Miller were present to help them celebrate at the home of their parents, Mr. and Mrs. Stanley Orzechowski on Beck road.

Mr. and Mrs. Melvin Lindley and family spent Christmas and New Years with the latter's mother, Mrs. Marie Kramer and other relatives in Jackson, Michigan.

On Monday this week Mrs. Melvin Lindley, den mother for Cub Scout den 5, had a den mother's meeting at her home on Brenda Lane.

Within the next two weeks, Mr. Tom Macaluso will be the manager of the Star Cab Company. He now has Novi and Walled Lake, but several other towns in the area will soon be added to the list. The slogan is "Ride by Star, Better by Far."

Jack Boyd, who recently returned from two years with the Peace Corps in Kenya, Africa, has started back to the University of Ann Arbor for graduate work in Social Work classes. He is staying with his brother and family the Lawrence Boyds.

Last Friday evening Jack showed some of his slides on his work with the Peace Corps in Africa, at a meeting of the Discussion group of the United Methodist Church of Novi at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Edwin Steinberger.

Mrs. Betsy Clarke was the guest of the Louis Clarks during the holidays.

Mr. and Mrs. Homer Kent are back home again from a two weeks vacation spent at Columbia, South Carolina where they visited the latter's relatives. They were there for both Christmas and New Years.

Mrs. Erwin Martin is a patient in St. Mary's Hospital, Livonia, where she underwent major surgery on Tuesday of this week.

Salow's Walnut Hill Association will be holding their semi-annual meeting January 25th at 8 p.m. in the Novi Community Building. New officers for 1969 will be elected at this meeting. Guest speaker of the evening will be from the City Charter Commission. Refreshments will be served.

Mrs. Harold Henderson was the dinner guest of her son and daughter-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Edward Rix in Plymouth this past Sunday.

Mrs. Marie LaFond and members of her family attended funeral services for her only sister, Mrs. Florence Lanning on Saturday, January 11.

Mrs. Lanning lived at 20980 Whitlock, Farmington and was ill in the hospital for two weeks before her death January 8. Services were held for Mrs. Lanning at Heeney Funeral Home in Farmington with interment in Oakland Hills cemetery, Twelve Mile and Novi Road.

Mrs. Charlotte Brooks of Pontiac is the houseguest of her son-in-law and daughter, Rev. and Mrs. John Fricke.

Richard Gorski spent Sunday with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. John Gorski, and his brother-in-law, and sister, Dan and Connie Lauri and family of Livonia at Brighton having sport with their snowmobile.

Mrs. Carolyn Quinlan of Royal Oak was the weekend guest of her cousins, Mr. and Mrs. Floyd Darling.

NEWS FROM WILLOWBROOK

Mr. and Mrs. Arnold Bell and children spent four days recently visiting Mrs. Bell's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Lester Bell at Brevort, in the upper peninsula.

Mr. and Mrs. Kent Mathes and children Michelle and Kent Robert, took a camp trailer and went to Florida where they spent three weeks at Fiesta Key. They were there for both holidays.

Mr. and Mrs. Mike Michaels and family returned January 5 from a seventeen day vacation at Pompano Beach in Florida.

The January meeting of the Willowbrook Association is scheduled for January 27 and will be held at the Denis Berry home on McMahon Circle. The present officers are: Bill Brinker, president; Norm Schollett, vice president; secretary, Lisbeth Berry; treasurer, Evelyn Natzel. The directors for subdivision one are Bob Macomber and Otto Natzel. Subdivision number two, Denis Berry, Chuck Collins and Bob Sale. Subdivision number three, Jim Cherfoli and Jerry LaFaize.

Novi Pollution

clean up this pollution problem, which reportedly is caused by faulty private sewers that are contaminating the Rouge stream crossing Grand River just west of Novi Road.

While the deadline for correcting the problem has not yet been reached, the commission was expected to ask why corrective measures were not at least started.

Village officials were expected to defend Novi's position by pointing out that the village had been assured by Oakland County that extension of the Rouge interceptor was in the works and, since this extension would correct the pollution problem, that Novi should wait.

Similarly, the City of Walled Lake, which was cited for polluting the lake, has been waiting for the extension, even though its pollution problem is considered more serious than Novi's.

Although pollution charges admittedly are forcing Oakland County into moving ahead with the disposal plant proposal, an even more influencing factor is the possible loss of a $1 million federal grant.

Players Crush Matmen, 34-9

Willow Run's wrestlers proved too much to overcome when coupled with the absence of two key Mustang matmen last week. They pinned a 34-9 setback on Northville's squad.

Missing from action were Curt Olewnik, team captain, and Brad Conklin - both with injuries - and Jack Townsley was unable to replace them.

Three boys did win for Northville, while three others gave sound performances in losing. Winners were Jim Armstrong who gave an exceptionally fine performance at 127 pounds, Mark Griffin at 103 pounds and David D'Haene at 175 pounds.

Scrappy losers included Brian Jones who was pinned at 138 pounds, Randy Marburger who made too many early mistakes and came back too late while losing a decision at 154 pounds, and Bill Kris who lost at 112 pounds.

ORDINANCE NO. 6 B

AMENDMENT TO ORDINANCE NO. 6 AS AMENDED KNOWN AS THE BUILDING CODE OF THE TOWNSHIP OF NORTHVILLE, MICHIGAN

AN ORDINANCE ENACTED PURSUANT TO ACT NO. 185, PUBLIC ACTS OF 1943, AS AMENDED, TO REGULATE THE ERECTION, CONSTRUCTION, ENLARGEMENT, EQUIPMENT, ALTERATION, REPAIR, MOVING, REMOVAL, DEMOLITION, CONVERSION, USE, HEIGHT, AREA AND MAINTENANCE OF ALL BUILDINGS AND STRUCTURES IN THE UNINCORPORATED PORTIONS OF THE TOWNSHIP OF NORTHVILLE; TO PROVIDE FOR THE ISSUANCE OF PERMITS AND COLLECTION OF FEES THEREOF; TO PROVIDE PENALTIES FOR THE VIOLATION THEREOF; DECLARING AND ESTABLISHING FIRE LIMITS; DEFINING THE SCOPE AND AUTHORITY OF THE BUILDING INSPECTOR; AND REPEALING ALL ORDINANCES AND PARTS OF ORDINANCES IN CONFLICT THEREWITH EXCEPT THE ORDINANCE KNOWN AS THE ZONING ORDINANCE OF THE TOWNSHIP OF NORTHVILLE.

THE TOWNSHIP OF NORTHVILLE ORDAINS:

PART I. That Ordinance No. 6, as Amended of the Township of Northville, known as the Building Code, is hereby amended by adding the following language to Section 1 thereof:

The Plumbing Code of the City of Detroit, as adopted August 21, 1956, and as amended thereafter together with supplements thereto is hereby referred to, adopted and made a part hereof as if fully set out in this Ordinance, except as herein otherwise stated. Copies of said Plumbing Code of the City of Detroit are on file in the Office of the Clerk of the Township of Northville, available for inspection by and distribution to the public at all times.

PART II. That Ordinance No. 6, as Amended of the Township of Northville, known as the Building Code, is hereby further amended by adding the following Subsections to Section 3 thereof:

(23) The Plumbing Code of the City of Detroit is hereby amended by adding thereto the following mandatory provisions:

A. Fixture Valves. An approved valving device shall be installed to control hot and cold water supply at each plumbing fixture.

B. Kitchen Sinks. All new and remodeled installations shall require two separate waste arms, such wastes to run separately to the stack or vented branch.

C. Multiple Dwellings. Where individual meters are not installed, a separate valved supply for hot and cold water for each apartment or dwelling unit shall be installed at the common manifold or riser. These valves shall be readily accessible and labeled.

PART III. UNLAWFUL ACTS. It shall be unlawful for any person, firm or corporation to erect, construct, enlarge, alter, repair, move, improve, remove, convert or demolish, equip, use, occupy or maintain any building or structure in the Township of Northville or cause the same to be done contrary to or in violation of any the provisions of this Ordinance and Code.

PART IV. PENALTIES. Any person, firm or corporation violating any of the provisions of this Ordinance and Code shall be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor, and each such person shall be deemed guilty of a separate offense for each day or portion thereof during which any violation of any of the provisions of this Ordinance and Code is committed, continued or permitted, and upon the conviction of any such violation, such person shall be punishable by a fine of no more than One Hundred ($100.00) Dollars or Imprisonment for not more than Ninety (90) days or by both such fine and imprisonment.

PART V. REPEAL. All Ordinances or parts of Ordinances in conflict herewith are repealed except where there is conflict between this Ordinance and the Northville Township Zoning Ordinance and where said Zoning Ordinance prescribed a more stringent requirement, the said Zoning Ordinance shall prevail.

PART VI. EFFECTIVE DATE. This Ordinance shall take effect Thirty (30) days from and after its first publication.

I, ELEANOR W. HAMMOND, Clerk of the Township of Northville, do hereby certify that the above Ordinance Amendment was approved and adopted by the Northville Township Board at a regular meeting thereof, duly called and held on the 7 day of January, A. D., 1969, and was ordered to be given publication in the manner prescribed by law.

ORDINANCE NO. 27 REFRIGERATING SYSTEMS ORDINANCE

AN ORDINANCE ENACTED PURSUANT TO ACT 185, PUBLIC ACTS OF 1943, AS AMENDED, ADOPTING THE RECOMMENDED REFRIGERATING SYSTEMS ORDINANCE FOR THE RECIPROCAL REFRIGERATION COUNCIL, INC., REGULATING THE SAFE DESIGN, CONSTRUCTION, INSTALLATION, ALTERATION, INSPECTION, TESTING, MAINTENANCE AND LICENSING OF REFRIGERATING SYSTEMS AND APPURTENANCES THEREOF IN THE TOWNSHIP OF NORTHVILLE, WAYNE COUNTY, MICHIGAN, AND TO REPEAL ALL ORDINANCES AND REGULATIONS INCONSISTENT WITH ANY OF THE PROVISIONS OF THIS ORDINANCE EXCEPT THE ORDINANCE KNOWN AS THE ZONING ORDINANCE OF THE TOWNSHIP OF NORTHVILLE AND TO PROVIDE PENALTIES FOR THE VIOLATION THEREOF.

THE TOWNSHIP OF NORTHVILLE ORDAINS:

SECTION I. ADOPTION OF THE RECOMMENDED REFRIGERATING SYSTEMS ORDINANCE FOR THE RECIPROCAL REFRIGERATION COUNCIL, INC. Certain documents, copies of which are on file in the Office of the Clerk of the Township of Northville, available for inspection and distribution to the public at all times, and which are marked, and designated as the Recommended Refrigerating Systems Ordinance for the Reciprocal Refrigeration Council, Inc., as approved by that body on September 22, 1965, together with any supplements or amendments thereto as may from time to time be promulgated by the Reciprocal Refrigeration Council, Inc., are hereby adopted and are made a part hereof by reference thereto as if fully set out in this Ordinance, except as herein otherwise stated.

SECTION II. PURPOSE. The purpose of this Ordinance and Code is to provide minimum standards to safeguard life and limb, health, property and public welfare, by regulating and controlling the design, construction, quality of materials, use and occupancy, location and maintenance of all buildings and structures within the Township of Northville and certain equipment specifically regulated by this Ordinance.

SECTION III. ADDITIONS, AMENDMENTS AND CLARIFICATION OF REFERENCE ORDINANCE.

(1) Wherever, in this Ordinance, a municipality is mentioned and no name is therein given, said municipality shall be construed to mean the Township of Northville, and wherever in said Reference Ordinance, a State is mentioned without giving the name thereof, such State shall be construed to be the State of Michigan.

(2) Wherever, in this Ordinance, the term "Commissioner" and the word "Department" is used, such terms shall be construed to mean respectively such person, persons or organizations as may be designated by the Northville Township Board as "Building Inspector" or "Building Department".

(3) In place of Section 3.1 of the Recommended Refrigerating Systems Ordinance setting forth provisions for a Board of Examiners, the alternate Section 3.1 as set forth in the Recommended Refrigerating Systems Ordinance is hereby adopted and shall read as follows:

The Township of Northville hereby designates the Board of Examiners of the City of Detroit to serve as its Board of Examiners and the applicant shall pay to the City of Detroit any fees or charges imposed by the City of Detroit for such service.

(4) FEES. In place of Section 8.6 of the Recommended Refrigerating Systems Ordinance the following schedule of fees for permits, licenses, and inspections are hereby established and may be altered from time to time

NORTHVILLE'S RON HUBBARD FIRES A TWO-POINTER

It's Big Weekend For Northville, Novi

Northville led 72-12 through the first quarter, left the floor at intermission with a 32-29 lead, battled back from a deficit in the third quarter to lead 54-46, and then wrapped it up with a seven-point margin.

Northville and Novi both won their games Friday night, but they were allowed no time to gloat over their

FJC Downs Schoolcraft

Sliced to seven players, Schoolcraft's basketball squad fell victim to Flint Junior College's towering quintet Saturday night, 119 to 73.

Coach Tom Roncoli's pared squad traveled to Flint without five of its top players — lost either because of scholastic standing or withdrawal from school.

Missing from Schoolcraft's lineup was Marvin Lane, leading scorer, Nate Louriband, second leading scorer, and Carl Glaser, Bill Puryear and Frank Fisher.

And if that isn't enough to give a coach ulcers consider, also that Gary McVay, another Schoolcraft standout, missed the action because of an injured ankle.

"We just were never in the game, said Roncoli.

"They were much taller... a fast-breaking team. Loss of our key players was just too much."

Flint led at the half, 48-27.

Leading Schoolcraft scorers Saturday were Duane Storm, 20, Jimmy Carron, 19, and Dan Pavlat, 16. Tops for Flint was former all-stater Lee Palmer of Ferndale who potted 32 points.

The Flint quintet will play a second game with Schoolcraft here on February 14. Meanwhile, Schoolcraft, 2-9 for the season, was slated to battle Delta College last night in the first of their two contests this season.

SCHEDULE

victories as both squads were to take to the hardwoods twice this week.

The Mustangs met Bloomfield Hills Andover Tuesday night before clashing with league leading West Bloomfield tomorrow night.

Novi's Wildcats have dates both tomorrow and Saturday night as they travel to Bloomfield Hills to meet Lahser in the Friday night performance and then host Whitmore Lake the following night.

West Bloomfield poses a real challenge to Northville who could move into a first place tie with the mighty Lakers if they could beat them (that is, if they beat Andover Tuesday night).

Steve Westjohn, the fine 6'2" Laker guard, may see little action against the Mustangs due to an ankle sprain suffered in the victory over Brighton. If the three-year team captain is unable to play, 6'3" Center Dave Carlson will switch to guard, with the only non-senior, Sophomore Don Johnston moving into the pivot. Johnston is 6'4".

Other starters will include the team's leading scorer, 6'2" Forwards Jim Bays (83 points in five games) and Curtis Britton. Britton and Johnston are the squad's leading rebounders. John Crowder at 5'10" is the other guard.

Coach Art Paddy, who says his squad never varies from its man-to-man defense, expects a good game from Northville "as always".

Novi expects to meet two foes who appear to have similar teams and records to their own. Novi is 3-5 as is Whitmore Lake, while Lahser stands at 3-3.

Bill Ullenbruch's Lahser Knights, however, have rebounded from three straight losses to post three consecutive victories. They are led by their only starting Senior, 6'5" Forward Bill West who was first team all-Oakland County (Class C) last year. In his best performance to date — Friday nights easy win over Waterford Mott — West canned 27 points and pulled down 22 rebounds.

West's supporting cast includes 6'4" Junior Center Jim Graham, Forward Bernie McPheely and Guards Bob Roehrik and Sophomore Ken Rump. For reserves, Ullenbruch has three of last year's starters, pushed out of jobs by Graham, McPheely and Rump.

Whitmore Lake's Trojans, coached by Robert Ellis, are led by 6'2" Center Mitch Caskey who averages 18 points and 17 rebounds per game. Others in the cast include Guards Ted Caesar (captain) and Ken Malcolm and Forward David Witt. The other forward slot is a tossup among Lester Thiele, Dennis Reed and Gary Winters.

Ellis adds that he expects a real battle as two of each team's victories have come at the expense of mutual foes — Hartland and Ypsilanti Roosevelt.

CLARKSTON—Despite a dazzling early third quarter rally by the Wolves here Friday night, Northville's varsity quintet maintained its poise, recaptured the lead and then carved out a 63-56 triumph over the taller opponents.

The victory, together with a Milford win over Waterford Kettering, kept the Mustangs in a second-place tie going into Tuesday's contest with Bloomfield Hills.

Although Northville wasn't exactly perfect in rebounding — particularly late in the game — and although it found itself on the wrong side of several turnovers, the Mustangs performed well in view of Clarkston's taller club and its home-court advantage.

Until Friday, Northville's performance at Clarkston had been anything but desirable. But this time, even though the Wolves came from behind to go out front by four points in the opening minutes of the third quarter, the Mustangs refused to give up.

Northville led almost continuously — except for the opening minute or two of the first quarter and the brief period in the third stanza.

Clarkston simply could not cope with Northville's fast break and a back-breaking full court press.

Even a mountain of fouls called against Northville, which saw Taylor foul out and three other Mustangs pick up four apiece, could not stop the Mustangs. Northville picked up 19 fouls against Clarkston's 17. But at the free throw line, Northville converted 19 times in 25 attempts for a sizzling 76-percent. Clarkston made only eight of its 19 charity shots.

Leading Northville scorer was Forward Ron Hubbard with 21, followed by Terry Mills with 13 and Jeff Taylor with 12. Chuck Granger led the Wolves with 15 points.

It's Barons In Overtime

Two Bloomfield Hills free throws in the final seconds of overtime Tuesday night cost Northville a heartbreaker as the Barons returned home with a 73-71 victory.

The Mustangs came from nine points down in the final quarter to push ahead only to have the Barons tie the score at 65-65 at the buzzer.

In that thrilling overtime, the point advantage went first to Northville and then jockeyed back and forth to the final seconds.

Northville was leading 71-69 before the Barons tied it at 71-all. Then with 45 seconds to go, a turnover put the ball in Bloomfield's hands. The Barons' big 6'6" center, Ken Weddle, tossed in a free throw, Northville grabbed the rebound only to let it slip away, and once again Weddle stepped to the charity line to net a one-pointer.

The big difference in the game, which saw Northville play a superlative last half, was at the free throw line. The Barons clicked on 25 of its 33 attempts, while Northville hit 17 for 21.

The Colts had no difficulty in knocking off the Bloomfield Hills junior varsity quintet, 60-39.

Colts Make It 7 Straight

Northville Junior Varsity Coach Omar Harrison was mighty happy this week following his basketball squad's 56-49 triumph over Clarkston Friday night.

"They did very well considering the long layoff over the holidays," the coach said. "The offense was especially good."

With Forward Bernie Bach leading the way with 18 points, the Colts grabbed a 20-12 first quarter lead, came away with a 35-25 lead at the intermission, and then settled for a nine-point three quarter lead, 44-35.

Guard John Balkwell, who played what probably was his best game this season, potted 13 points for the Colts, while Center Kerry Cushing added 11 more.

High scorer for Clarkston was Don Brown, who netted 20 points.

The Colts, boasting seven straight victories without a defeat going into yesterday's contest with Bloomfield Hills, came up with 14 of their 20 free shots for a 70-percent average — best yet this season.

Wildcats Top Chargers, 59-46

Two-Platoon Plan Pays Off

Coach Jim Ladd used some military strategy Friday night and it paid off in Novi's first basketball win since Friday the 13th of December.

Ladd used a two-platoon system to defeat the all-Sophomore Chargers of Livonia Winston Churchill 59-46.

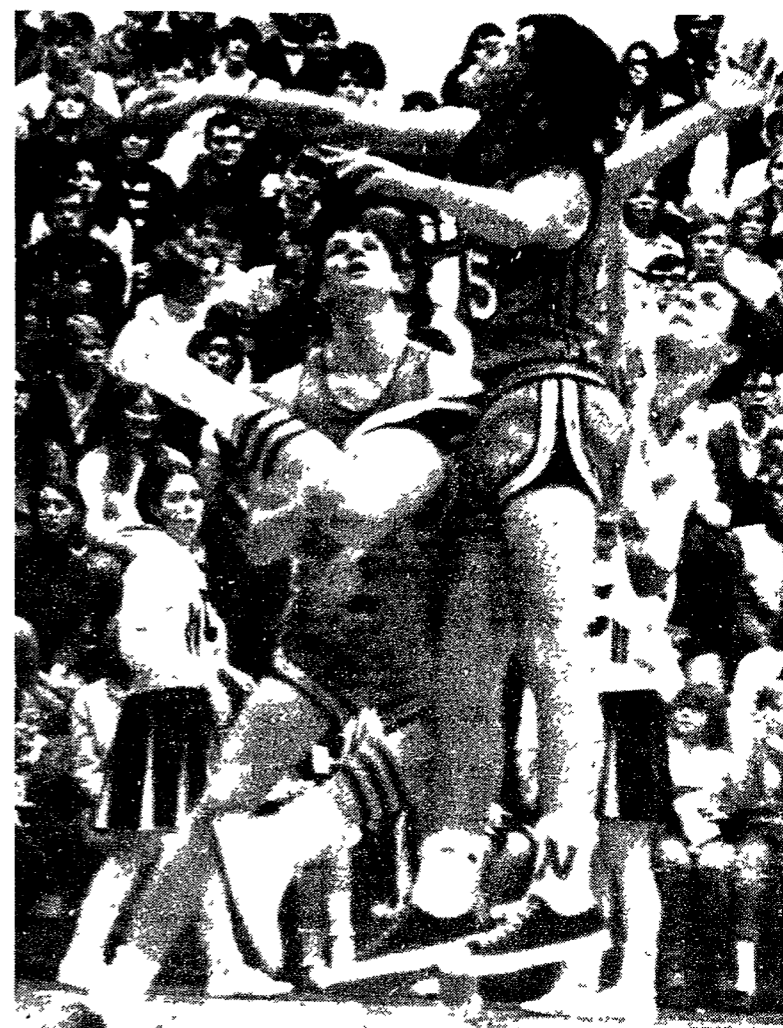

The Wildcats did not look like they would take advantage of Ladd's move in the first half as Platoon A (Gary Boyer, Dave Bingham, Phil McMillan, Ken Osborn and Rick Hill) were outscored 14-11 in the opening period and Platoon B (Don Maki, Rick Dale, Jon Van Wagner, Lee Snow and Tom Boyer plus Doug Keith who subbed for Boyer at the mid-point of the period) were also outscored in the second stanza.

Trailing 28-22 as the second half opened, Ladd nevertheless returned to Platoon A. Gary Boyer, Bingham and company completely took charge here and raced to 22-4 pasting of Churchill to lead the Cats into the final period with a 44-32 margin.

As a reward for their showing, Ladd stayed with "A" as the fourth period opened and they stretched the lead to 51-36 with 3:03 gone in the stanza. At this time the coach switched back to Platoon B and they held on (with the late addition of the remainder of the bench) to ice the 59-36 final score.

Novi's scoring was quite well balanced due to the platooning process. Following is the breakdown. Bingham — 11, Gary Boyer 9, Hill 9, McMillan 6, Maki 6, Van Wagner 6, Osborn 5, Tom Boyer 4, Dale 2 and Keith 1.

The Chargers also showed balanced scoring as the five starters of the seven-sophomore squad shared honors. Leading was Joe Watson with 14.

TANGLED LEGS AND ARMS SPOIL JEFF TAYLOR'S SHOT

The win raised Novi's record to 3-5.

Milan Obrenovich's Novi JV's also came up with a win — their first of the season as they wore down the eight-sophomore Charger squad in the fourth period to clinch a come-from-behind 43-37 victory.

Trailing 28-26 at the close of the third quarter, the Kittens struck for 17 points in the final stanza — their finest output of the year — to beat the Charger JV's.

Leading the squad in both playmaking and scoring was Doug Osborn who canned 14 points. Tom Van Wagner showed some flashes of brilliance too, but played a ragged game. Leading the losers was Alex Mills with 10 points.

Meadowbrook Event Attracts Big Crowd

Meadowbrook Country Club's 14th annual sportsman's night attracted 642 sports' enthusiasts and a host of outstanding amateur and professional athletes last Friday.

Hot Dogs For Cold Ice Skaters

Skaters at Northville's fish hatchery rinks can warm up by eating hot dogs and drinking hot chocolate or coffee this Sunday.

Members of Northville's volunteer fire department will sell refreshments inside the warm-up shanty to raise funds for fire department uniforms and activities.

City Manager Frank Ollendorff announced that any non-profit community organization may obtain permission to sell refreshments at the skating shanty. Arrangements may be made through the city manager at the city hall.

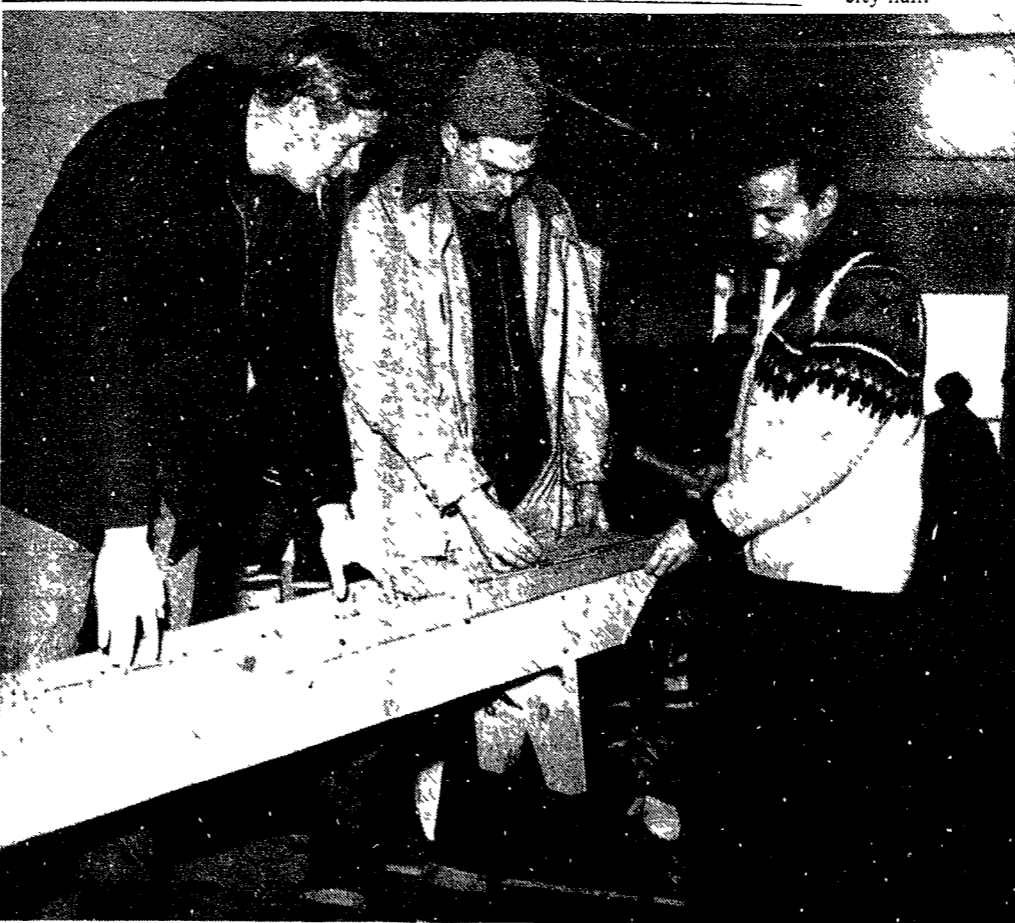

Highlight of the evening was the presentation of the Michigan Amateur of 1968 award to Ron Johnson, University of Michigan halfback and captain of the Wolverine football team.

Presentation was made by Bump Elliot, formerly head coach and recently named associate director of athletics at the U of M.

Principle speaker of the evening was Jesse Owens, famed Olympic track star.

Other sports' notables in attendance were U of D Basketball Coach Bob Calihan and Spencer Haywood, member of the 1968 Olympic championship basketball team and now playing for U of D, Gordie Howe of the Red Wings and Jim Northrup and Mickey Stanley of the Tigers. WJR Sportscaster Bob Reynolds served as master of ceremonies.

Arrangements for the program were made by Tony Skover, chairman, and George Lakotish, George Rice and William Slattery.

BUILD BENCHES — Members of the Northville Optimist Club, under the direction of Harley Cole built and erected six benches for the warming shanty at Northville's popular ice rinks on Seven

GOP Supervisors Force Compromise

By nominating a candidate totally unacceptable to Republicans, the Oakland County Board of Supervisors' Democratic majority was forced Thursday into accepting compromise candidate Charles B. Edwards Jr. of Madison Heights as the new chairman. Edwards thus replaces Delos Hamlin of Farmington who chaired the board for the past 13 years as the

VIP Group To Convene

The filtering facility and flavor of the Northville Schools' VIP Committee will be challenged for the first time Tuesday night, when the new citizen's committee will be presented with a revised report on the population projection of Northville.

The report, presented to the board of education last month by Ray Spear, superintendent of schools, and Earl Busard, business manager, covers the pupil, staff and facility need projection 1968 through 1973-4.

"The facts of the report stand alone as startling testimony to the alarmingly critical prospects faced by the Northville school system in the immediate future," according to Spear.

The report will top the meeting agenda. VIP members will hold general discussion and then carry the message to the community, according to a spokesman.

The Tuesday meeting will be held at 8 p.m. in the board of education offices.

received me most graciously and were most charming in every contact with them. I approached each day's interviews with real pleasure, knowing I would be meeting really interested and helpful people — that is until last Wednesday when I drove up to one home.

When I rang the bell and asked if he would answer some of the questions he told me "Don't bother me and get out of here." I thanked him and left — but it was my misfortune that snowy Wednesday to back into a snowbank in his driveway, with no possibility of getting out of it by myself. I went back to the home to ask if he would help me, or allow me to telephone for help. His answer was a shove with his hand off his porch and "Get out of here. I don't care if you rot there in the driveway. You have no business to go up my driveway."

Fortunately, some youngsters coming home from school and a neighbor showed the true spirit of Northville's residents, and shoveled and pushed my car out of the snowbank. Orchids and my sincere thanks to them. Onions to the man for being a blemish on the good name of the people of Northville.

I wish to thank the Novi Police Department for their many acts of kindness through 1968. It is a fine force of men.

Police Raid Beer Party, Arrest 21

Twenty-one youths, most of them from the Northville-Plymouth area, were arrested Saturday night in a police raid on a beer-liquor party at 21633 Beck Road.

Twenty of the youths were charged with being minors in possession and then released, either on cash bond or their own cognizance, to appear in Oakland County District Court, Walled Lake, on January 23. The other, a 16-year-old girl, was released to her parents pending a hearing in Oakland County juvenile court.

Nine policemen from Novi and Northville, together with two Oakland County deputy sheriffs, made the raid following a complaint of a motorist that some 30 parked cars lining both sides of Beck Road were blocking traffic.

According to Novi Police Corporal Gordon Nelson, who received the initial complaint at 9:50 p.m., an estimated 75 youths escaped through windows and doors as the arrests were being made. He said police had observed the party for a half-hour prior to entering the rented, upstairs apartment of David Meadows, 18.

An estimated 1,000 bottles of beer and 20 bottles of liquor — empty, full or partial empty — were observed on the premises, said Nelson. "There were too many to haul away," he said, "so we took just a token of them for evidence."

Meadows, who was released on $25 cash bond, told police he intended it to be a quiet party involving only four couples in anticipation of his entering the service. The other youths were uninvited, he reported to police.

Because many youths fled leaving their automobiles behind in the roadway, a motorist slammed into one of the cars after the arrests had been made and before the cars could be removed. No one was injured.

The local area youths — except the juvenile — arrested were:

John Brevik, 18, of 920 Ely Court, Joyce Zayti, 18, of 10868 West Seven Mile, Ann Brueck, 18, of 47129 Dunsany, Michael McGuire, 20, of 240 Orchard Drive, Valerie Spiker, 19, 412 West Dunlap, Jan Olewnik, 18, of 46501 West Main, John Gustaf, 18, of 350 Debra Lane, Timothy Zerndt, 19, of 48225 Rushwood, John Pauli, 19, of 508 Gardner, Nelson Hyatt, 19, of 21482 Summerside Lane, all of Northville; and Diane Simmer, 19, of 9640 Warren, Susan Evans, 19, 274 Farmer, Kathi Crawford, 18, of 11822 Priscilla Lane, Bruce Zagor, 20, of 14971 Dogwood, Thomas Peterson, 20, of 14000 Brougham Court, all of Plymouth.

The remaining arrested youths were from Southfield, Hazel Park and Clark Lake.

Tax-Free Land Pinches

Property Tax Relief Sought

A formal petition requesting special property tax relief was approved Monday by the Northville Board of Education and subsequently sent to lawmakers in Lansing.

The petition represents the second attempt by local school officials to win tax relief because of the many acres of untaxed state, county and City of Detroit lands within the Northville school district.

Specifically, the board asks that the state provide in new legislation a formula that would boost state aid to Northville in lieu of financial support from tax-free land.

Tax Collections Reported Good

An appeal by school officials to large taxpayers to pay their winter tax bills early so that school borrowing might be reduced seems to have proved effective.

Both city and township officials report collections approximately two-thirds complete.

In the city, where the deadline for payment of school and county taxes without penalty is February 15, collections stand at 65 per cent. Township taxpayers are doing better. They've paid 66.7 per cent of the total levy for school, county and township taxes. In the township the penalty for late payment is not imposed until March 1.

Township Treasurer Alex Lawrence reports a total of $762,669.83 collected against a total levy of $1,143,234.03. Lawrence estimates collections are up some 14 per cent over the same date last year.

Collections in the city stand at $542,089.60 out of a total levy of $828,110.42. The total levy in the Wayne county portion of the city is $575,683.17 and $252,427.25 against Oakland county property in the city.

School officials have noted that of the 6,000 acres of developed land in Northville Township, some 49.5 percent of it represents governmental institutions not subject to taxation, "thereby placing an untenable burden upon persons owning property and paying taxes in our district."

In other action Monday, the board accepted the resignations of two teachers and approved contracts for four replacement teachers.

Leaving the school system are Miss Karen Hanna, who is marrying a man who lives in western Michigan, and Harold Hooten, who will enter the University of Michigan to obtain his doctorate degree.

The new teachers and their salaries are:

Mrs. Cathy Van Horn of Dearborn, January graduate of Central Michigan University, high school English-French, $3,418; Miss Susan Barrie of Detroit, December graduate of Western Michigan University, junior high English, $3,562; Mrs. Judith Higbee of Ypsilanti, January graduate of Eastern Michigan University, elementary, $3,562; and Judith Matrundola of Detroit, December graduate of Western Michigan University, high school commercial, $3,562.

Purchase of $2,900 worth of closed circuit TV equipment was approved also, thus ending board consideration dating back more than a year. The contract is to be awarded to General Television Network of Ferndale, with money to come from the school district's building and site fund.

In a report to the board, Business Manager Earl Busard indicated that tax collections to date far exceed those of last year. By Monday a total of $650,000 or 40-percent of the total tax levy had been collected as compared to $380,000 or 27-percent through January of last year.
