

Area Officials Hit Decision At Schoolcraft

In an unprecedented move, elected leaders of eight municipalities within Schoolcraft College district have requested the college board of trustees to reconsider its decision last week concerning the five teachers who signed a document containing an obscene word.

Meeting in Plymouth Friday, the eight officials drafted a letter suggesting stronger disciplinary action. It has since been delivered.

Signing the letter were: A. Malcolm Allen, mayor of the City of Northville; Gunnar Stromberg, supervisor of Northville Township; John D. McEwen, supervisor of Plymouth Township; James M. Jabara, mayor of the City of Plymouth; Phillip Dingelday, supervisor of Canton Township; and Timothy J. Murphy, mayor of Garden City.

The letter reads: "We, the mayors and township supervisors of the governments within the Schoolcraft Community College District, strongly urge the Board to reconsider its action in failing to discipline the five teachers who signed the obscene poster which was circulated on campus.

"In our opinion, it is of the utmost importance to take strong disciplinary action in order to preserve the good name of Schoolcraft College and the reputations of the vast majority of its faculty and students. In our opinion, failure to act in this regard is only inviting further unwholesome incidents.

"As the elected heads of government in our respective political jurisdictions, we cannot too strongly emphasize our complete disgust with the type of permissiveness which this incident and your failure to act appears to condone. I am sure that you are aware that each of us bears a responsibility for preserving law and order in our respective communities and we are certain that actions such as this in the name of freedom will only result in hurting the citizens of our entire area.

"Your board can restore public confidence in the policies of the Board of Trustees by taking swift action and dismissing the teachers involved in this incident."

HAROLD FISCHER

Failure of the Schoolcraft college board of trustees to take stronger action against five teachers involved in the signing of a four-letter-word document brought Fischer's resignation from the board. College President Eric Bradner had recommended dismissal. See story on page 12-A.

Overflow Crowd Attends Hearing

Levitt Plan Weighed

There was standing-room-only Tuesday night as more than 150 citizens turned out to hear a battery of Levitt experts outline their plan for converting a 396-acre gravel mining area into a community of 1,625 dwelling units.

The township planning commission moved the site of the public hearing for rezoning from the township hall to the more spacious board of education offices. But the crowd filled the room to overflowing and causing some to observe proceedings from the hallway.

Irwin M. Adler, regional general manager for Levitt and Sons, headed up a team of five specialists who presented renderings, charts and statistics dealing with the proposed development of 400 apartments, 900 "for sale" townhouses and 325 single-family units.

The presentation lasted for more than an hour. Questions from the audience and further discussion continued for two more hours.

Chairman Leonard Klein announced that the planners would not make a decision that evening. But a study session was scheduled for March 11 and it was indicated that a recommendation to approve or deny the rezoning request will be made at the March 25 meeting.

Final decision rests with the township board. Presumably, the board will act upon the recommendation of the planning commission at its April 1 meeting.

About a dozen citizens fired most of the questions at the Levitt team. While some were concerned with drainage problems, sewer capacity and provisions for water service, the most pointed questions were aimed at the impact on the public school system.

Criticism of the Levitt proposal for the Manning & Locklin-Sheldon Hayes mining area located between Seven and Eight Mile roads ranged from: "there's no gain for us... we can't be hurt by leaving it alone"... and "who will pay the school taxes to build schools to educate the children"... and "families living in close proximity produce more problems in education, requiring more specialists and individual attention, thus increasing the expense of education"... to "I'd rather look out across the area and see lakes and pheasants."

Rezoning a slice of industrial property (where the asphalt plant is located) to residential use was also criticized.

Several citizens also suggested that giving the school district a 13-acre site for a school building was not enough. It was proposed that Levitt should also build a school.

Township Attorney John Ashton pointed out to the audience that it was illegal to require a developer to provide any assistance — either land or buildings — for public use. He also noted that the question for township officials to consider was one of rezoning based on density considerations. "A property owner has the right to develop his land," he noted, adding that from a legal standpoint the consideration of economic impact on the school district could not be a factor.

Perhaps the strongest rebuttal to suggestions that the land should be left unchanged came from the township's planning consultant, George Vilican.

He urged citizens to consider the complete picture in Northville township. "Don't expect a single development to solve your school problem." He chided the planning commission for not acting to rezone a proposed industrial corridor along Haggerty road and encouraged citizens to return for public hearings on this issue, which has been opposed in the past by a dozen or more property owners in the area.

He called the gravel pit area "unique" and said the Levitt proposal of planned community development was "a logical use pattern in concept."

And he drew a round of applause by challenging a neighbor of the gravel pit who preferred watching wildlife on the site "to buy the property if you want to watch the pheasants."

In its statistical presentation Levitt spokesmen noted the following:

Total value of the project — $37,250,000 resulting in an assessment for taxing purposes of $18,625,000;

Tax revenues produced from the development for school operating purposes under the present 25.9 operating millage levy would be $482,387 annually, or $14,709 more than the cost of education the 1,187

Bingley Latest Candidate

Deadline Near for Council

Barring late entries, there'll be five candidates seeking two four-year terms on the Northville city council and only Incumbent Mayor A. M. Allen in the race for a two-year term for mayor.

Deadline for filing for the April 7 city election is tomorrow (Friday) at 5 p.m.

Latest entry in the council race is William J. Bingley, 1039 Allen Drive. Bingley was an unsuccessful candidate for council in 1961. He has been a member of the zoning board of appeals for nearly six years and is employed by the Detroit Edison Company.

Other candidates are Incumbent Councilman Del Black, completing his first term; Paul Folino, an insurance agent making his fourth bid for the council; Kenneth Rathert, also an insurance agent; and Paul Vernon, a service development specialist for American Motors.

Sitting out this election at the mid-point of their four-year terms are Councilmen Charles Lapham and Wallace Nichols. Councilwoman Beatrice Carlson will not seek a third term.

Wixom Police Catch Young Abductors

Ordinarily, she is meticulously efficient in caring for her property, but last week a terrorized 74-year-old kidnap victim neglected to have a defective headlight on her car repaired.

This week the distraught widow, Mrs. Otilia H. Thompson of Novi, is thankful for that oversight.

A retired Walled Lake substitute school teacher, Mrs. Thompson was freed unharmed Thursday night when two alert Wixom police officers stopped her car at I-96 and Wixom Road because of the burned out headlight.

Officers Roger DeClercq and Paul Green captured her two accused abductors, escapees from the boys training school near Whitmore Lake, who broke into her home and forced her to accompany them on a "wild" one and a half hour ride in her car.

Both are in custody awaiting court action.

Arraigned in the Walled Lake District Court before Judge Martin Boyle Friday afternoon, Kenneth W.

Owens, 17, of Ionia waived examination and was bound over to Oakland county circuit court on three felony counts — kidnapping, unarmed robbery and auto theft. His companion, a 16-year-old Detroit juvenile, was returned to the training school following a hearing in juvenile court at Pontiac.

The Oakland County prosecutor has petitioned the court for a waiver on the juvenile so that he can be tried as an adult.

Meanwhile, Owens has been remanded to the Oakland County Jail in lieu of three separate bonds totaling $25,000. No date for his circuit court appearance has been set.

Police officers, who lauded Mrs. Thompson for remaining "calm throughout the ordeal", said "there's no telling what they might have done to her if she had resisted. Anyone else might have broken down and excited the hoodlums — but not her. She was alert and calm through it all."

A knife was found in the back seat of the car where the youngest youth, who carried a screw driver in his back pocket, guarded the woman while the other drove the car, police said. The juvenile, police said, had been involved in a string of crimes and, despite attempts by Detroit police to get a waiver for adult trial, was finally committed to the training school on a charge of assault with intent to rape. The other was described as an "incorrigible."

Following booking at the Novi Police Department, which has assumed jurisdiction of the case, late Thursday night, the youths laughed goodbye with the words, "we'll see you again, maybe", as they were taken to jail and the county juvenile home.

The youths told officers that they had walked away Tuesday from the training school where they had been kept in a non-security section, hitch-hiked to Detroit, stole a car from a Bell Telephone Company parking lot, and headed for Lansing when they became lost in Novi and finally ran out of gas "near a lake."

(The car, described as a white four-door station wagon has neither been reported stolen nor has it been found).

They were on foot looking for another car, police said, when they knocked on the door of Mrs. Thompson's house, 45000 West Drive, at about 6 p.m. under the pretense of asking for directions.

Mrs. Thompson, thinking the youths had left, said she returned to the living room to watch television. Police said she heard no noise when the youths removed a storm window from

Policy guidelines governing classroom speakers were endorsed by the Northville Board of Education Monday night in the wake of a controversial appearance here two weeks ago by members of a group calling itself The White Panthers.

While the policy encourages outside resource speakers, it establishes rigid screening guidelines for teachers and administrators.

Discussion of the policy and the incident that triggered it produced a number of comments by parents in the audience, most of whom objected to permitting groups such as the White Panthers, to speak even within the guidelines of a policy.

Particularly offensive to these parents were campus based groups which advocate the overthrow of the government or who "are behind these college riots." One parent suggested that if representatives of such groups are scheduled to speak parents be advised so they can keep their children out of the class on that day.

Recommended by Superintendent Raymond Spear, the policy is expected to be followed shortly by a number of reprimands for teachers and perhaps an administrator involved in the recent incident. Spear told The Record he has not yet recommended any steps but that the disciplining action is likely to range from written disapproval to termination of a contract.

He did not disclose the names of those he will recommend to the board for reprimands.

Members of the White Panthers, invited to speak here, used obscene language in classrooms and distributed unauthorized literature containing obscenities, investigation disclosed. According to officials, the language was "cleaned up" in subsequent sessions of government-public affairs classes at the insistence of the teacher but the "matter got out of hand" when the speakers were invited by another teacher to make an unscheduled appearance in his classroom. Here, said officials, language grew worse.

The White Panthers, counterpart of the Black Panther movement, advocates social changes by lawful or unlawful means.

The new policy, which notes that viewpoints of the speaker "may or may not be the same as those of students, teachers, administrators or the board of education," establishes the following guidelines:

—Speakers cannot use obscenities in speech and must dress appropriately.

—Upon the request of the principal, the speaker must submit an outline of the material to be covered in the speech.

—If an outline is requested, it must be approved by the teacher, appropriate department head, the building administrator, and, if deemed necessary, by the curriculum coordinator. Only materials

Millage Forum Draws 400

An estimated 400 persons turned out Thursday night to hear members of the Northville Board of Education urge support of the 3-mill increase in the face of a financial crisis.

They heard school officials admit the 3-mill operational levy, on which electors will vote March 22, is insufficient to maintain the present school program, that additional operational millage will be needed for the 1970-71 school year, and that bond millage for school construction will be put to the voters later this year.

Sponsored by the Northville Parent-Teacher associations, the public forum in the high school auditorium included a general presentation accompanied by slides given by Board President Stanley Johnston, a lengthy question and answer period, and the distribution of budget material.

Following are some of the dozens of citizens' questions and the resulting board answers:

Is the rate for new home building being considered in this proposal? This is additional revenue for the school system.

A—This is true, but at the rate new homes are being built now we will not feel the impact of this new building revenue until probably the tax year 1970-71. We are actually about one year behind in receiving money from new homes.

Will the 3-mills be the only millage required in 1969-70 school year?

A—The 3-mills will be the only millage required in 1969-70 school year?

Got questions about the school millage request? You can get answers by calling 349-6030 Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursdays from 7-9 p.m. and Saturdays 9 a.m.-noon.

349-6030

A—Right now I would say "no". I would say that we will probably have to have some bonding millage. We feel it will be necessary to ask for bond money to build new buildings.

Remedial reading teachers are state paid for. Why were they cut and why are they not included in the budget?

A—Reimbursement for remedial reading teachers is paid on a percentage to operate the program ... a percentage of their salaries. The state starts off indicating they will reimburse the school system for 75-percent of the teachers' salaries up to $7,000 a year. The state establishes this as a criteria, then they allocate their funds. The school districts then make application for reimbursement, but the state never produces 50-percent of the 75-percent that they say they will because there are inadequate funds. For services that cost $17,000 or $18,000 we will be receiving back somewhere around $4,000 or $5,000. The state does not allocate adequate funds for (total) reimbursement.

about Women and the family

Church Women Join for Prayer

Northville-Novu women from five area churches are cooperating in the World Day of Prayer service to be held at 1 p.m. Friday, March 7, in Northville First Presbyterian Church.

Sponsored internationally by Church Women United, this year's service has been prepared by women from Africa in cooperation with an international committee for the World Day of Prayer. Previously, services were American-planned.

The moving lines of the African spiritual, "Kum-Ba-Ya," will be the service response played by guitar soloist, Chris Becker, Northville High School senior, Mrs. Douglas Smith, coordinator for the host church, announces.

A special choir for the service will be composed of women from the participating churches — Novi United Methodist, Northville Presbyterian, Northville United Methodist, Willowbrook United Methodist and Our Lady of Victory Catholic Church.

The Northville service is one of a growing number with Catholic women joining in the global celebration. In many areas, leaders report, this is the first time people of Protestant, Orthodox and Roman Catholic faiths have worshipped together.

Assisting in preparations for the local program are Mrs. William Dyke of the host church, Mrs. Paul Beard, Northville United Methodist; Mrs. Leon Blackburn, Willowbrook United Methodist.

Program leaders next Friday will be Mrs. Warren Fittery of Northville United Methodist Church, Mrs. Gregory Penrod of Our Lady of Victory Church, Mrs. Smith and Mrs. Blackburn.

Purpose of the service, which draws millions of women throughout the world annually, is to further close the gaps — national, racial, economic and religious — that divide.

Church Women United now are holding the observance on the first Friday in March, rather than at the beginning of Lent since, they explain, Lent comes at different times for Orthodox communions.

Offering projects include national urban ministry, ministry in Vietnam and eventually in other lands in the Indochinese peninsula, support for 14 Christian colleges for women in Asia and Africa, hospitality program for international students sponsored by the International Student Service, provision for religious work directors for Indian youth ministry among migrants and the adult literacy program in this country and abroad.

MRS. GLENN CUMMINGS displays a picture of Sarah Bennet Perrin, a family ancestor, painted on cherry wood in 1810, along with family china at the Antiques Day meeting of Northville Woman's Club last Friday.

LIMOGES CHINA shares space with the E. V. Ellison family collection of early-day toys on a handworked coverlet, at the Northville Woman's Club antique display of Mrs. Ellison. Mrs. Ellison, club past president, was one of four program speakers, describing her wild rose-patterned Limoge of the 1870-80 period.

In Our Town

By JEAN DAY

FOUR CAPSULE courses in antique specialties drew a record attendance of 110 members to last Friday's Northville Woman's Club meeting in Presbyterian fellowship hall.

Family treasures that seldom are seen outside their owners' homes were brought to the meeting. In all, 15 members brought antiques that ranged from Oriental export china to Victorian silver water pitchers and now-rare hair jewelry.

Wearing the black-and-white plaid worsted dress made by her great-grandmother, Mrs. Charles Yahne, program chairman, presided. She explained that this ancestor, Jane Montgomery, had come from Ireland to New Jersey and by way of the Erie Canal and oxcart to Michigan in 1834.

In a Scotch-Irish settlement (now Nankin) near Inkster they raised sheep, carded, dyed, loomed and sewed the wool for the gown. Small wonder that in the 1860's a woman had one new dress a year!

Program speakers and their displays included Mrs. Leonard Klein, speaking on Oriental carpets and displaying an acquisition from her parents with a "vase" design; Mrs. E. A. Chapman with examples of both Oriental export china and the "famille rose" design vases that "the Chinese kept for themselves."

Pennsylvania Dutch fractur art examples and crockery of the region were discussed by Mrs. William Crump who had collected them when she and her husband lived in Pennsylvania. Mrs. E. V. Ellison showed a rare Limoges collection and early toys.

She also displayed "a forerunner of the animated story book" belonging to her neighbor and honorary club member, Mrs. T. J. Knapp, whose pitcher collection was among the displays. Other club members displaying were Mrs. James Tellam, wood utensils; Mrs. Orin Hove, ironstone; Mrs. George Kohs, Victoriana; Mrs. A. J. Verschaeve, dolls and pressed glass; Mrs. Laurence Masselink and Mrs. John Blackburn, sharing a table with lamps that included the first kerosene lamp lit in Northville.

This lamp has been handed down in the four-generation Northville Blackburn family with its history recorded by Sarah Ann Cochran.

Mrs. Glenn H. Cummings brought a portrait of great-great grandmother, Sarah Bennet Perrin, done on cherry wood in 1810 and a china service that exists today because Mr. Cummings' great grandmother, Mrs. Charles Bush, hid it under her skirts during a stormy crossing of the St. Lawrence River when all unnecessary items were being tossed overboard. A museum-quality exhibit of Victorian "hair" gold jewelry was brought by Mrs. William J. Siebert.

Mrs. E. M. Starkweather took time out from a special sewing project to bring such Starkweather family silver pieces as the ceramic-lined water pitcher and butter dish to the Woman's Club display.

She is sewing an aqua formal gown to wear to the wedding of Ann Lois Davies and Mitt Romney March 21. A close friend of the E. R. Davies family, Mrs. Starkweather will be attending the home ceremony and reception following at Bloomfield Hills Country Club. She has been a guest at several parties for the bride-elect.

She is delighted with the romance of Ann and the son of Michigan's former governor and already has presented her wedding gift — an heirloom, hand-knitted spread.

JOHN PEER NUGENT, speaking last Thursday at Northville Town Hall, mentioned a former Michigan Governor, G. Mennen Williams, as one of the Americans participating mistakenly in the "giveaway" program in Africa, which he declared was not the business enterprise needed there.

He added that he had made a trip to the Detroit Institute of Arts to see the "very bad" African masks Williams had donated.

Mrs. Robert Lang, Town Hall chairman, announced that TH programs for 1969-70 were set and will be announced at the March 20 program featuring Dr. Kenneth McFarland. He will speak on "Selling America."

CALLING CARD, the business which "welcomes newcomers to the Northville-Novu area on behalf of local stores and businesses, is changing hands. Mrs. Philip Wegeng, 44447 Chedworth Drive, is retiring as official welcomer since the family's summer plans include construction of a summer home and ski lodge on property recently purchased at Birch Lake. Carole expects to be busy with details of construction and furnishing.

Beginning in March Mrs. Dean H. Lenheiser will be calling upon the area's newcomers. Marge Lenheiser and her family have been Connemara subdivision residents of Mayo Court for 12 years. Her husband has an accounting business in Plymouth. They have two sons, Scott, 16, and Reese, 14, both Northville School students.

Mrs. Lenheiser already has begun collecting lists of newcomers to Northville and such adjacent Novi areas as Willowbrook and Meadowbrook Lake subdivisions. She hopes that newcomers not called will call her, 349-0274.

Says Town Hall Speaker

Black Africa on Brink of Development

Black Africa — one step away from primitive violence and with a growing appetite for the bicycles, eyeglasses and whiskey symbols of civilization — was described last Thursday by Political Correspondent John Peer Nugent as a continent of vast resources ready to be developed.

Since he set up Newsweek magazine's first African bureau early in 1961, Nugent has followed closely at first hand the revolutions, violence and developments of the Congo, Ethiopia, Rwanda, Kenya, Zanzibar, South Africa, Guinea and Rhodesia.

He pointed out to Northville Town

Hall members and 75 Northville high school students that there has been "unbelievable cruelty" as 35 nations have gained their independence in a decade.

In many cases, he said, the blacks now are doing to the whites what the whites inflicted under colonialism. He did not dispute atrocities against the Belgians in the Congo but pointed out that under Belgian rule a Negro stealing a cup of sugar from his white employer had "immediate justice" meted out as his hand was chopped off on the town chopping block.

Black versus black violence also is on the increase, Nugent added as he told of widespread genocide in Rwanda as the tall Watusi tribesmen had their legs cut off and their bodies thrown in the crocodile-infested rivers by former serfs, the Hotoos. In a tribal population of 200,000, he said, estimates ranged to 24,000 that were thus murdered with the United Nations conservatively estimating the figure at 15,000.

Africa, he continued, has 5,000 tribes — and few live together. People, then, think in tribal patterns, but new philosophies are emerging, Nugent reported, as he cited the situation in Kenya when it received its independence December 12, 1963. Jomo Kenyatta, the leader, held by the British on the remote Northern Frontier until 1963, was expected to lead a dreaded "Night of the Long Knives" against the white man as he came to power.

AFRICA ORIENTED — Getting a global view of the Dark Continent that is Africa from John Peer Nugent, right, Northville Town Hall speaker last Thursday and former Newsweek magazine African bureau chief and writer, are his TH hostess, Mrs. Jack Scantlin, and Fred Holdsworth, Northville High School principal who introduced him.

She Earns Dehoco Diploma

A 24-year-old mother of two young sons became a "graduating class of one" last Tuesday in a historic ceremony honoring Barbara Ann Johnson for being the first inmate of the women's division of the Detroit House of Correction, Northville Township, to complete her high school credits while in prison.

Mrs. Johnson, now serving a two-to-five year term, finished her high school studies last term under the PEP (Personalized Education Program) set up in 1967 in the women's prison. PEP is taught by sisters from Detroit area high schools who volunteer their services evenings. Twenty-three nuns presently are teaching 19 high school subjects.

Detroit Mayor Jerome Cavanagh helped make the program possible when he appointed a commission for the House. Commissioner Beulah T. Whitby, Mercy College professor, brought greetings to the graduate from the mayor and delivered the commencement address at the ceremony which was a warm-but-impressive tribute to the prison's first girl graduate. Other commissioners are Keith Fraser, Leo I. Franklin and Fred E. Harris.

Barbara Ann's commencement, an afternoon program, began with an introduction by Mrs. Wilma Danielak, the academic school supervisor, who introduced the speakers. The Reverend Richard J. Ward, pastor of St. Aloysius Parish, delivered the invocation with a welcome by Father Francis Wojcik, Dehoco chaplain, following it was Father Ward who had launched the idea of PEP.

Sister Antonita of St. Cletus School spoke for the participating sisters, and presentation of a certificate was made by Sister Carolyn of St. James School who gave it to the honoree's mother, Mrs. Helen Green for the actual awarding.

Four of Barbara's classmates attended the ceremony. They will make up the next graduating class as some need only one credit to meet requirements.

Graduations won't remain small for long, however, as registration for PEP's fourth term already has 103 prisoners signed. Officials feel the program has "made the grade" as they note this increase from the 44 who enrolled for the first semester.

Inside the prison, word of Mrs. Johnson's graduation encouraged others who realize "there really is a chance to get a diploma" while in prison.

For Barbara Ann Johnson the diploma may mean an earlier release as she meets with the parole board in April. She is hoping that a favorable decision will permit her release in May instead of August. This will mean a reunion with her sons, 4 and 5, whom she hopes to get back from their father. She's also hoping a tentative key punch job offer materializes — as part of a new graduate's new life.

The decorated cake at the cake-and-coffee reception following the ceremony symbolized all with a miniature graduation cap and tiny diploma on top.

FIRST GRADUATE — Helen Green (back to camera) presents the first high school diploma ever awarded at Women's Division of Detroit House of Correction to her daughter, Barbara Ann Johnson. Standing in the background between mother and daughter is Sister Carolyn S.S.J., who made the official presentation of the historic document.

Tribute Paid To Help Project

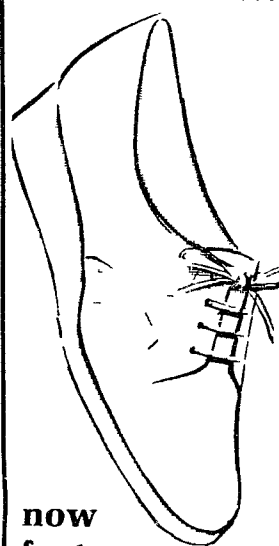

A Detroit inner city project, in which two Northville families have been participating for several months, is receiving official recognition today as Judge Geraldine Ford, Recorder's Court's first Negro woman on the bench, administers oath of office to new officers of Operation Understanding.

A self-help program operated by mothers of the Brewster-Douglas project, it will install its first officers at Stro-Hous, Stroh Brewery meeting place. The brewery, one of its sponsors, will host the ceremony and buffet and plant tour following.

Mrs. Edward Kelly and Mrs. Stanton Schaefer and their families have been exchanging visits with project families in the Operation-Understanding formula of raising the "aspirational levels of the children of Brewster-Douglas by extending their interest and curiosity beyond the range of their environmental limitations." Mrs. Kelly explains that this is done by arranging field trips with suburban Detroit children to "anywhere."

While the project has just received its Michigan charter, it has been in operation since 1965. Mrs. Kelly is hoping, she said, for other support from the Northville area for the project and would welcome calls regarding it, 349-4179.

Levitt & Sons unveiled this rendering at a public hearing Tuesday night, of the community of homes proposed for the 396-acre gravel mining area between Seven and Eight Mile roads in Northville Township. Some 325 single family homes are proposed in the northerly portion of the tract along Eight Mile road and would require R-4 zoning. RM-1 zoning is sought for the 900 townhouse units in the central and northwestern section area of the tract and RM-2 zoning requested for the 400 apartment units for the extreme southwestern corner of the parcel. Roadways are shown winding through the development from Seven to Eight Mile road and to Griswold road. A school site is proposed on the eastern boundary in the center of the development. It was estimated the development would have a population of 5,180 including 1,187 school age children.

Levitt Plan Comments Taped Here's Excerpts on Hearing

Following are tape-recording excerpts taken Tuesday night at a public hearing conducted by the Northville township planning commission. The meeting was called to hear a rezoning request by Levitt and Sons, developers, for proposed 1,625 unit development of homes, apartments and townhouses at the Manning & Locklin gravel filling site. More than 150 citizens filled the board of education to overflowing.

Planners indicated they would postpone their recommendation on the rezoning request until March 25. The township board of trustees will then take official action to grant or deny the petition at its April 1 meeting.

Introductory comments made by the team of Levitt specialists in its presentation:

—the real key to this whole problem is economics... a use must be allowed which will make financial sense to cover the tremendous reclamation costs of this piece of property;

—the alternative to the general type of development proposed, at least in the foreseeable future, is a continuation of the operation now taking place;

—large lake in southern area of tract will serve as natural separation between rental apartments and sale homes;

—designed so that a network of open spaces connects lake areas... also open area surrounds lakes instead of individual lots fronting on lakes;

—single family homes on Eight Mile road overlook development on higher level;

—it's Levitt's intention as part of proposal to make available a school site of at least 10 acres so located that students can walk to school;

—recreation facilities — swim and tennis club — will be provided as part of townhouse development;

—trend is now towards apartments and townhouses — 40 or 50 per cent of construction in metropolitan area now in apartments — also trend towards planned community development which permits crediting of open spaces (and lakes) in density thus permitting smaller lots;

—overall density of entire development based on gross acreage (including lakes and open spaces) is 3.97 dwelling units per acre;

—in regards to traffic 700 cars will be discharged at peak times onto Seven Mile and 1,000 on Eight Mile, which the county road commission has determined to be no problem;

—price range envisioned for houses is $30,000 to $40,000.

Following are questions from audience and planners with answers coming either from Levitt officials, or in some instances, from planning commission members or consultants:

—do houses have basements? Ans. —we build with and without basements depending upon market and engineering;

—site has been called eyesore, but it's sort of nice to live next to — birds, pheasants, rabbits — I've seen Levitt town in New Jersey and I really consider this an eyesore — I'll take the gravel pit the way it is — no question, just a statement;

—how many acres presently zoned industrial will be rezoned residential? Ans. —more than half the industrial area is taken up by water — educated guess approximately 81 acres with lake;

—what are lot sizes of homes on Eight Mile road? Ans. —83 to 90 feet in width by 120 feet in depth;

—do the proposed multiples go beyond the number of multiples called for by the master plan? Ans. —master plan adopted in 1966 calls for 10 percent of developments in multiples;

—this comes up with ultimate population of approximately 50,000 people in township; master plan under review because all of a sudden everyone wants to build multiples; in most areas we feel we must hold to half-acre lots in township; present number of multiple under request, including Levitt proposal, would exceed 10 percent level;

—if this zoning granted and we have more multiples than called for by master plan, could another developer come in and defeat our master plan in court if he were to be denied a request for multiple zoning? Ans. —No, we could explain this particular plan as it fits this particular piece of property; it might serve to fit the opposite purpose for denying another request for multiples because we had already over-loaded our master plan;

—where do you plan to connect to interceptor sewer? Ans. —into existing sewer extending down Seven Mile road? (questioner wondered if subdivision to east of proposed site might connect through Levitt development — this was considered possible if lines installed were larger to accommodate).

—what about sewer capacity? Ans. — this must be provided and paid by developer;

—our school district is desperate and we need industrial base. What will be impact of development on school taxes? Ans. —Here Levitt outlined tax revenues to be generated by development as outlined in story on page one.

—if this area were developed as R-2, how many homes would you come up with? Ans. —752 houses using open space option on gross acreage, producing a taxbase of $12,784,000.

—I understand you are giving 10 acres for a school site. Have you given any serious consideration to also providing a school? Ans. —7 mills will generate $130,000 annually — this is millage currently levied for building purposes.

—What will be sizes of apartments? Ans. —There will be no four-bedroom units — in apartments about 50-50 between one and two-bedroom units.

—What if we don't pass millage to build a school on the free site? Ans. —As far as passing bond issues and building schools, there are people who built and paid for schools that other children have used and this will continue.

—What about related industrial park development? Ans. —There's an unsightly area adjoining our optioned site and we're cooperating financially with Hubbard Associates in attempting to develop this area industrially. We're not industrial developers, but we're helping to provide money to buy options.

—Do we have capacity in the intercept sewer capacity to accommodate this development and future residential, commercial and industrial development? Ans. —We do not own enough for this and other proposed developments in the next three years but we have been assured by Wayne county that it will be made available before we need more.

students the development would produce;

Tax revenues for school buildings based on the present seven mill levy for bonded indebtedness would be $130,000 annually;

Single family development of the total 396-acre area would result in 1,128 students but produce only $331,105 annually in operating tax revenues, or $113,327 less than the education costs.

Woman Abducted

through the inner glass by using a short log.

Cutting the telephone cord in the bedroom, the youths took her car keys and $11 from her purse and then ordered her to accompany them in her car so she couldn't contact police.

For nearly two hours, the youths drove around back roads of southwestern Oakland County looking for the way to Lansing. They had doubled back and were heading north on Wixom Road when the two Wixom officers stopped the car.

Owens quickly got out of the car and met DeClercq, who asked for his operator's license and registration. He said he had none, DeClercq said. During the discussion he noticed the woman and youth in the back seat. She was pounding against the rear window.

"I thought maybe it was an irate mother, complaining about us stopping her son," DeClercq said. But after ordering the other youth into the patrol car, he walked to the other vehicle where the woman had succeeded in rolling down the window part way.

"I'm a hostage... I'm being kidnapped... be careful they have a gun," he quoted her as screaming. DeClercq drew his gun, as did his partner in guarding Owens, and ordered the juvenile from the car. Searching him, he found the screw driver in his pocket, then the sharpened butter knife on the back seat. Neither carried a gun.

Mrs. Thompson told police that the juvenile had warned her that if they were stopped he would kill her if she screamed. "If we are stopped you are our grandmother, see, and that's it," she reported the youth as saying.

"It was my only chance," she told police, "and I wasn't going to let it go by."

Said DeClercq later, "Some people think stopping drivers for defective equipment is terrible. But you'd be surprised how many times it pays off."

Mrs. Thompson, a violator, doesn't think it's terrible.

KIDNAPERS ENTRY—While a 74-year-old woman watched television two escapees from the boys training school at Whitmore Lake smashed through the glass wall of a sun porch, using a chunk of wood held here by Novi Officer Gerald Burnham shortly after the pair's capture. Forced from her home by one of the youths, Mrs. Otilia H. Thompson of 45000 West Drive, was driven about southwestern Oakland County for nearly two hours before two alert Wixom police officers stopped the car at I-96 and Wixom Road because one of the headlights was out. Mrs. Thompson, a retired school teacher, screamed "I'm a hostage... I'm being kidnapped" when one of the officers approached the car. (See story and picture on Page 1-A.)

SMASH SCENE — Drivers of both these vehicles were taken to an Ann Arbor hospital for treatment of cuts and bruises after a collision at the Pontiac Trail-Eight Mile road intersection Saturday night. Bruce R. Engel, driver of the car headed west on Eight Mile road, told police he had stopped for the stop sign, but didn't see the approaching pickup truck driven by William A. Jobe of South Lyon. The truck, headed north on Pontiac Trail, hit the car broadside as it pulled into the intersection. Engel is from Detroit.

Novi Tripped by Mott On Way to Trojan Win

It is a fact that it is difficult to get a team "up" for two games on successive nights.

Novi Coach Jim Ladd was left with no doubts of this last weekend when he was prepared to meet Whitmore Lake's Trojans on Saturday night in their dimly lit gym. To prepare for Whitmore, unfortunately, Ladd had to take a lighter approach to the Friday contest with Waterford Mott, a team his boys had defeated easily in Novi earlier in the season.

The result was a decisive victory for Mott's Corsairs (80-67) and a win for the Wildcats over the Trojans (73-64).

A hot-shooting guard was the most notable feature of the Mott encounter.

Rodger Strader was the big gun as he netted 10 field goals and 10 of 11 from the charity stripe for 30 points. He had a 20 point support from Center Jerry Dillard and his fellow guard, Bill Ziem, added 13.

Quarter scores were (Novi listed first): 17-17, 28-37, 46-54.

Novi started out like an entirely different team against the Trojans. The starting five played quick, aggressive basketball with the only flaw in their performance being turnovers. In passing to and spotting open players, the Wildcats have never performed better.

Tournament-caliber refereeing made the game a complete turnabout from the previous evening as play was well-controlled and even three-second infringements of the center lane were numerous and duly noted. One ref even called Dave Bingham for taking too long to shoot a free throw and turned the ball over to Whitmore Lake.

Quarter scores were (with Novi listed first): 18-12, 33-32, 57-46. Whitmore only had a couple of brief leads — near the end of the second quarter (they would have taken a lead into the dressing room at intermission if not for a desperation basket from long range by Phil McMillan at the buzzer) and early in the third period.

After center and star Mitch Caskey missed a pair of free throws with the Trojans trailing 37-36 early in that third stanza, Whitmore never again threatened. A key to the Novi pull-away was the jump shot artistry of Lee Snow in that key period.

Caskey led the Trojans with 27 points and Guard Ted Caesar pumped in 19. The same trio topped the Wildcats both evenings as Jon Van Wagner hit 19 against Mott and 21 against Whitmore, Bingham added 11 and 19 in the same order and Snow pumped in 13 and 14, also in the same order.

Both teams had 26 free throw attempts, but Novi could not hit from the stripe, meshing only nine (34 per cent) to 14 for the Trojans (54 per cent). Novi's edge came from 32 field goals to 25 for Whitmore Lake.

.500 Season Near As Cats Win Two

Two steps nearer to a .500 season were registered by Milan Obrenovich's Novi JV's over the weekend.

They dropped Waterford Mott 54-48 Friday and then bombed Whitmore Lake 61-29 Saturday to bring the season tally up to 7-9 (6-7 if you omit the three-game Christmas tourney in which they were able to compete only once due to weather conditions) to match the varsity output for the first time all year.

A close game was the Friday affair with Novi's little 'Cats leading 17-15, 28-24, 40-37 at the quarter breaks. Bob Pisha led the scoring with 12 points while Tom Boyer netted 10.

Three little Corsairs hit double figures as Tom Lyons and Jim Drogosch netted 13 and Greg Roberts meshed 12 points.

There was never any doubt of the outcome of the Saturday picnic as Novi led 15-5 in the opening stanza, increased the margin to 31-19 at the half, then held the little Trojans to just two points in the third period to pull away 52-31.

Obrenovich used his entire 13-man traveling squad in the game and 11 of them scored. Only Bob Vivian managed to play long enough to hit double figures with 10. No Trojan meshed more than six points.

Schoolcraft Five Ends Losing Season

Three consecutive season ending losses — two to one-man teams and the other by two points — doomed Schoolcraft to a 3-19 basketball record this year.

The losses came to Flint Community College (97-78) as the conference's top scorer, Lee Palmer, hit 48 points; to Delta College (65-63) at the final buzzer; and to the Highland Lakes campus of Oakland University (96-76) as Frank Russell poured 48 points (see Palmer, above) through the hoops.

Jim Carron notched 23, 21, and 30 points to nail down Schoolcraft's scoring championship for the season (302 in 12 games, an average of 25.2). Mike Kenyon, who was high in the Delta loss with 24 points, finished third with 205 points in 18 games.

Other top season scorers for Schoolcraft were Marvin Lane (lost at midseason) with 222 points in eight games (averaging 27.8), Dan Pavlat (the only player to score in all 22 games) with 173 points for an average of 7.9 per contest, and Nate Luibrand (also lost at midseason) with 143 in nine games (a 16 point-per-game pace).

Coach Tom Roncolli hopes to improve next season and will build his squad around Carron and two other returnees, Gary McVay and Kevin Cronin.

Wrestlers Qualify 3 Mustangs Eye Regionals

Three Northville wrestlers will compete in the regional in Chelsea Saturday.

This was the word from Mustang mat coach, Jack Townsley, following Northville's fourth place finish in the district held in Chelsea last Saturday.

Dexter swept the district crown, but Northville fared well enough to qualify 103-pound Mark Griffin, 154-pound Randy Marburger and 175-pound Brad Conklin for the regional.

Griffin was second-seeded in his weight class, but pinned his favored foe to cop first place. Marburger also finished first in his class, and Conklin nailed down a second, the only other regional-qualifying position. Two Mustangs finished third, narrowly

Stone's Wins 8th Straight

Winning eight straight may be difficult for some basketball teams, but Stone's Hardware made it look easy as they demolished the Plymouth Playboys 90-41 in the Plymouth Men's League action this week.

High pointman for Stone's was Bill Yahne who meshed 28 markers. Next with 18 tallies each came Cap Pethers and Lance Hahn as the Northville quintet completely dominated play.

College Swimmers Head for Florida

How would you like to swim in Miami this weekend?

Six Schoolcraft College swimmers

(plus Coach Jack Washka) left following the basketball and swimming awards banquet last night to do just that.

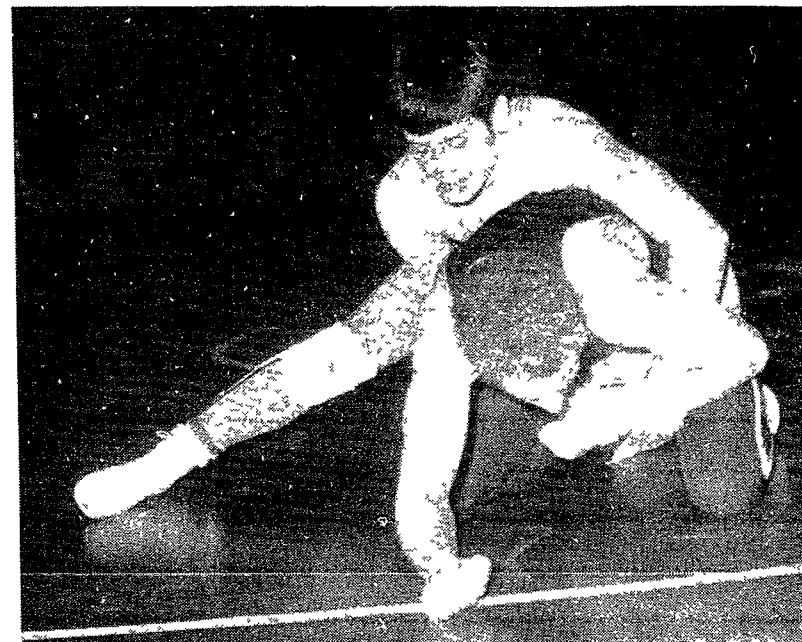

The six, Bill Weier, Greg Arnold, Craig Notebaert from Plymouth, Tim Loughman, Dane Trembath and Bill Palmer, qualified to take part in the National Junior College Athletic Association NJCAA meet which was postponed from last weekend and will be held in sunny Florida tomorrow and Saturday.

After an 8-2 season, Schoolcraft competed recently in the conference swim meet at Kellogg Community College in Battle Creek.

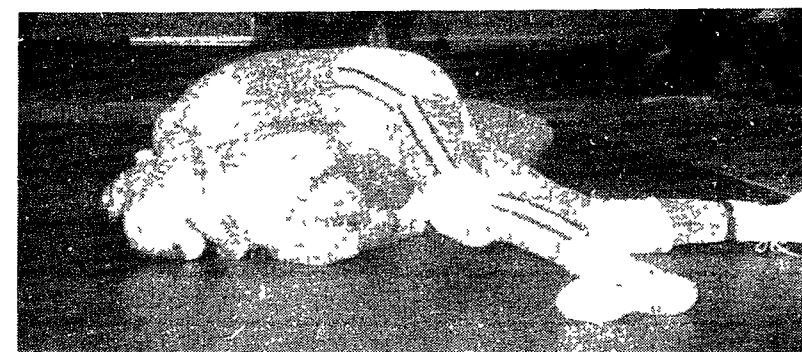

The conference crown was nailed down by Henry Ford CC with Grand Rapids JC finishing second and the host third. Schoolcraft was fourth with one individual winner — Trembath finished first in the 200 yard breast stroke.

Mustangs Lose Twice, Drop to Fourth Place

Dump both West Bloomfield and Bloomfield Hills in Union Lake and chances are you won't find anyone in Northville pitching life preservers.

The two Bloomfields hacked away the bonds of love last weekend by trouncing the Northville Mustangs in back-to-back encounters on the hardwood. And to make matters worse it was the second licking served up by the two Oakland County quintets this season.

West Bloomfield clinched at least a share of the W-O title here Friday night by clipping the Mustangs, 63-49. A win over Bloomfield Hills tomorrow night would sew up an undisputed championship; a loss and the Lakers and Barons would share the title.

After taking it on the chin here Friday, Northville traveled to Bloomfield Hills Andover Saturday night only to suffer a similar blow — this time, 69-47.

The double loss sent Northville spinning from third to fourth place, with Milford moving up to take over the third spot. Just behind Northville is Clarkston with a record of 5-8.

With a little bit o' luck Friday things might have been different. Northville had waged a heated battle into the third quarter, with the two teams repeatedly switching the lead. But the Mustangs faltered later in the third stanza and slipped far off the pace.

Leading by two (17-15) at the end of the first quarter, the Mustangs slipped behind by six at the intermission. The, at one point in the third quarter down by eight, the local five clawed its way back to a tie only to drop behind again at the three-quarter mark, 43-39.

That four-point Laker lead was ballooned to 14 as West Bloomfield staged a last quarter, 20-point blitz. Coach Bob Kucher sent in his subs in the closing minutes when the victory was out of reach.

Several floor mistakes and poor shooting marred the Mustangs' attack. West Bloomfield commanded the boards, although Northville looked good in defense through much of the game. The Mustangs were unable, however, to curb the sharp shooting of Dave Karlson, who pitched in 19 points for the winners. Terry Mills' 14 points were high for Northville

Northville was never really in Saturday's night's running, dropping behind in the first quarter and then eating dust throughout the remainder of the game.

The Barons led 19-13 at the end of the first quarter, left for the shower room at half with a 32-25 lead, and then built up a commanding 51-36 edge at the three-quarter mark.

Stan Nirider led his squad in their losing effort with 13 points, with Ron Hubbard and Mills tied at nine points apiece. An 18-point attack by Dick Souther was tops for Andover, with Tim Weddle taking the runnerup spot with 14 points.

At the free throw line, the Barons flipped in 21 of the 28 tosses for a 75-percent clip. Northville came up with a 64-percent average, pitching in seven of its 11 attempts.

The night before Northville also was edged out at the charity line, with the Lakers netting 11 of 15 for a 73-percent mark and the Mustangs, 17 of 31 for 54 percent.

Season Finales Slated Tomorrow

While Northville faces a ho-hum weekend, Novi is girding for the "Match of the Year."

Northville would need a win over the hapless Captains at Waterford Kettering tomorrow, coupled with a loss by Milford, to finish as high as tied for third in the Wayne-Oakland Conference.

Novi, meanwhile, is preparing to host South Lyon's Lions in a "homecoming" event (many of Novi's faculty, including Principal Gerald Hartman hail from South Lyon).

South Lyon has won three times this year (Novi is 7-9). One of these wins, the season opener, came at the expense of Northville. Northville crushed Novi in December, and nothing could be sweeter for the Wildcats than a win (a double win, as JV Coach Milan Obrenovich was born and raised in South Lyon) over the Lions tomorrow night.

The Lyon-Novi clash will be a

Two More Opponents Fall

Colts One Game Away From Perfect Season

Sweeping a weekend double billing with relative ease, Northville's junior varsity quintet moved to within one game of an undefeated season.

The Colts will travel to Waterford Kettering tomorrow in a determined bid for a superlative 17-game streak.

Northville picked up its 15th and 16th victories Friday and Saturday, dumping West Bloomfield 67-53 and then sailing past Bloomfield Hills 69-55 while the local varsity five was taking it on the chin.

Hosting West Bloomfield, the Colts started slow and then opened up in the final half with Forward Bernie Bach leading the way. Dumping in a half-dozen field goals in the first half, Bach came back even stronger in the final two quarters with six more field goals and three charity shots.

Out front by a single point at the end of the first quarter, 12-11,

Northville had a three-point, 28-25 lead at the intermission. By the three-quarter mark, however, the Colts had built up a commanding 17-point lead, 48-31.

In the final stanza, West Bloomfield fired 22 points in a futile effort to overtake the high-riding Colts.

Tourney Near

Novi got a break in its tournament pairing Tuesday afternoon when it drew a bye in the Dundee Class "C" District.

This means the Wildcats' first tournament action will come at 7:30 p.m. next Thursday (March 6) against the winner of the Ann Arbor St. Thomas — Dundee Tuesday encounter. The other bracket finds Clinton and Ida clashing Monday night with the winner going on to oppose Ottawa Lake Whitford on Wednesday.

Northville was to have the drawings for its Class "B" District yesterday afternoon. Northville will host Clarenceville, Dearborn Riverside, Dearborn Heights Annapolis, Detroit Lutheran West and Livonia Churchill in the district competition. Northville action will get underway at 7 p.m. Tuesday, with the second game slated for 8:45 the same evening. As host, the Mustangs will see action in one of these opening encounters.

At the free-throw line, Northville came up with a 70-percent shooting average, dunking in 19 of its 27 attempts. West Bloomfield, on the other hand, came up with nine of 15 attempts for 60-percent.

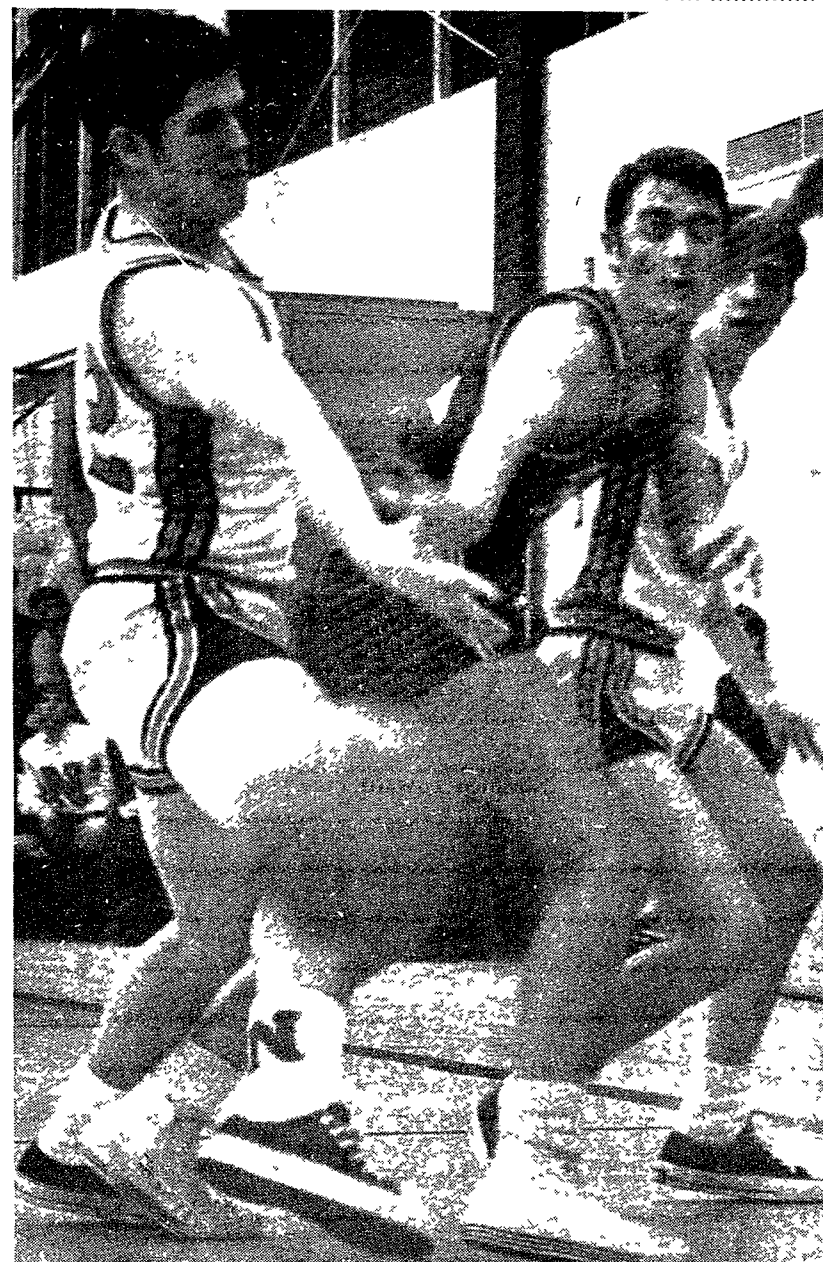

Facing its first 1-3-1 defense this season, the Colts had periodic difficulty in knocking off Bloomfield Hills. But a 24-point fourth-quarter barrage sewed up the victory.

Hills bounced back in the second quarter to claim a 35-35 tie at intermission after trailing by two, 18-16, in the first stanza. The Colts reclaimed the lead in the third, but only by a hair as both squad's found difficulty hitting the net. Northville fire 10 points, Bloomfield Hills just seven.

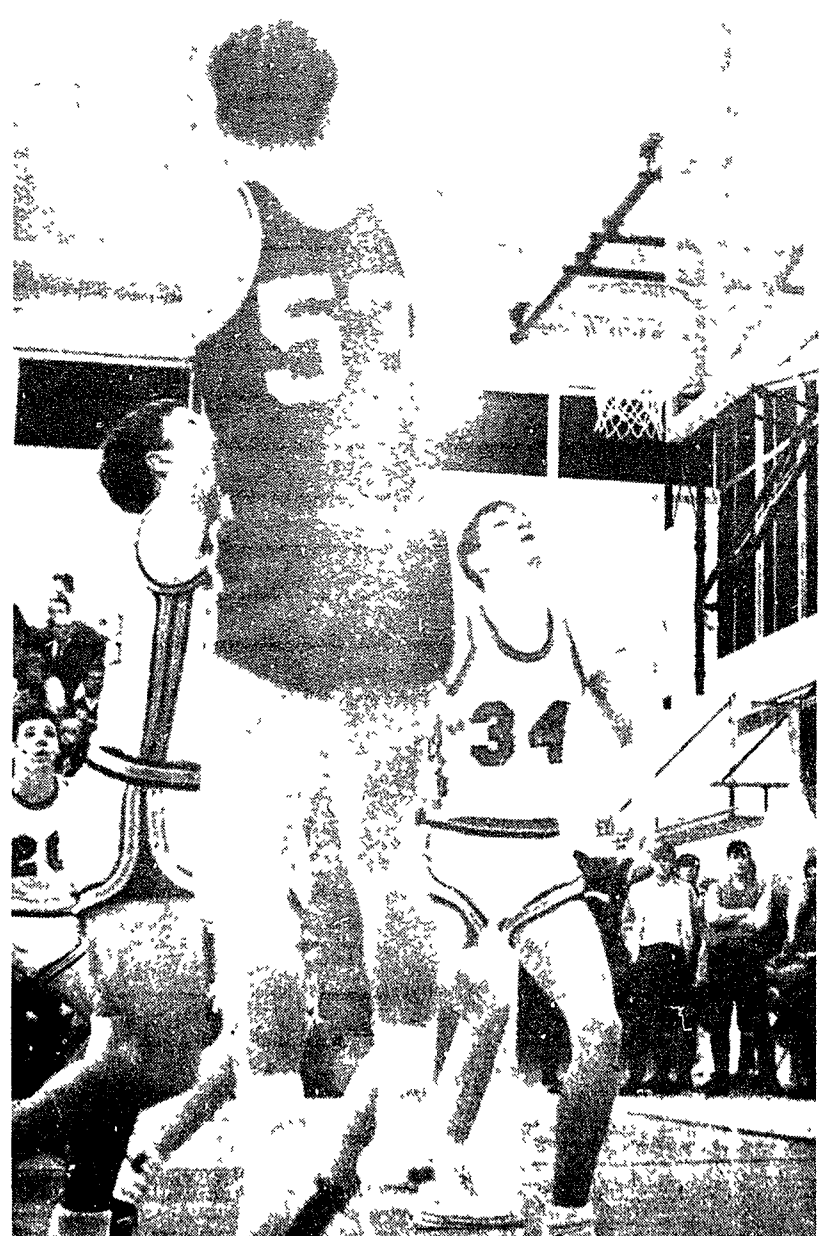

In the final and deciding quarter, however, Northville won going away as its defense held the host squad to 13 points while its offense potted 24 points.

Once again Bach took scoring laurels for the Colts, this time with 25 points. He was followed by Guard Rick Sechler with 18 points and Forward Steve Utley with 15.

Northville was even stronger at the free throw line than it was against West Bloomfield. The Colts picked up 25 points in 31 attempts for a sizzling 80-percent average. Bloomfield Hills came up with 13 of 19 for 68-percent.

Board Approves Tentative Budget For Schools Here

Aside from several citizens' questions pertaining to administrative salaries, Northville's tentative 1969-70 school budget went largely unchallenged Monday night as the board of education approved the $2,551,542 document.

It was apparent, however, that the budget is still far from reality since it is tied directly to the proposed 3-mill hike up for voter approval March 22 and estimated revenues.

Representing a 22.87-percent increase over anticipated expenditures in 1968-69, the budget calls for an increase of $474,979. The bulk of this increase is slated for teacher salary increments spelled out in the district's two-year contract.

Significant anticipated revenue increases are seen in taxes and state aid. Increased state equalized valuation based on existing millage together with the proposed 3-mill hike is expected to produce $1,676,200 or 65.69 percent of the total budget revenue as compared to $1,294,581 or 62.34 percent in the current budget. State aid, based primarily upon the governor's recommendation to the legislature, is pegged at $730,044 or 28.61 of the budget and it represents an increase of $104,456.

Presented to the public in a 16-page package, the line item explanation caught some citizens by surprise in that they expected the board to go over each of the anticipated expenditures. The detailed printed budget was too bulky, said one citizen, to digest in the few minutes before the budget hearing got underway.

Nevertheless, a number of questions were aimed at the proposed administrative outlay, which calls for an increase of $25,803 — from $88,081 to $113,884. Because the administrative outlay provides for a number of expenditures, citizens pressed the point in an attempt to learn proposed salary increases.

Of the total administrative expenditure, it was noted, $13,200 is represented in salary increases. However, the board emphasized that the bulk of this increase will go to yet-to-be-approved personnel director. If approved, this addition to the administrative staff is expected to be hired about December at an approximate salary of $10,300, officials explained. The remaining $2,900 is included in the budget for "possible" salary increases for the superintendent and business manager.

Vice-President Robert Froelich pointed out that increases, if any, for central office administrators and principals have not yet been determined by the board's administrative salary subcommittee. If salary increases are recommended, he explained, they will be based upon comparison of salaries in other districts, salaries of local teachers, and merit.

Concerning the proposed new personnel director, President Stanley Johnston defended the position, pointing out that such a person would be involved in teacher negotiations and with initial interviewing of teaching candidates. The superintendent ought not be put in the position of arguing with teachers at the bargaining table one day and then dealing with them as an educator the next day, he reasoned.

Salaries of principals and the curriculum coordinator are carried within the instructional category of the budget. While specific salaries were not discussed, the budget explanation indicates principal salaries will be increased by $18,900 "due to the elevation of junior high assistant principal from one-half time to full time in order to administer reactivation of the old junior high as a school, plus anticipated salary increase of all principals."

As for a proposed salary increase of $1,900 for the curriculum coordinator, board members explained that the bulk of this increase results because the post last year was filled in mid-year whereas in the new budget the salary is for a full year.

The total instructional outlay, which includes teacher salaries, is pegged at $1,825,036 or 71.53 percent of the total budget.

Other major outlays include: Operation of plant (includes salaries), $282,630 or 11.08 percent; transportation, $107,691 or 4.22 percent; maintenance of plant, $93,826 or 3.68 percent; and fixed charges, $83,400 or 3.27 percent.

The tentative budget anticipates a total state equalized valuation of $58,000,000 as compared to the current SEV of $49,883,910. Total operational millage used in computing income is the existing 25.9 mills plus the proposed 3-mill hike.

In its operational millage, the district also levies 7 mills for debt retirement (payment for buildings) for a grand total of 32.9 mills. The proposed 3 mills would hike this total to 35.9.

Legion Plans '50th' Dance

Northville Lloyd H. Green Post 147 will mark the 50th anniversary of the founding of the American Legion with a birthday dinner and dance at 7 p.m. March 15 at the Legion Home, 100 West Dunlap.

Program speaker is to be John M. Carey of Grand Blanc, a past state commander. Several other state officers and city officials have been invited to participate.

Tickets are being handled by Bob Seiting, 349-4346, or Hazel Wright, 349-9718. The public is invited to help celebrate.

During the national 50th birthday observance, at a banquet honoring the Congress of the United States, the American Legion formally will present its gift to the nation — permanently installed illumination of the Tomb of the Unknown Soldier at Arlington National Cemetery.

To mark the observance locally the Northville Post is planning a window display in Freydl Men's Store. Anyone wishing to lend souvenirs, relics, photographs, uniforms, etc., of the World War I era may call Mrs. Bernice Denune, 349-1355. Articles must be labeled with the owner's name and address.

Double Killing Rocks Plant

An apparent murder and a suicide inside Western Electric Company's Plymouth plant last week Wednesday afternoon stunned disbelieving employees.

Charles B. Spencer, 29, of Inkster reportedly shot and killed his 21-year-old wife and then turned the revolver on himself. Bodies of both were found on the second floor stairwell.

Spencer, out on a $10,000 bond, was awaiting trial for felonious assault on his wife last month.

According to witnesses, Spencer barged into the second-floor shop area and begun arguing with his wife, who was working there. When co-workers tried to intervene, Spencer drew the gun and then dragged his wife to the stairwell, apparently in an attempt to leave the building.

Several shots were heard and the bodies were found moments later on the landing.

The Western Electric plant is located at 909 North Sheldon Road.

Police Nab Drug Suspect

An alert Novi druggist led to the arrest Friday afternoon of a Detroit man accused of possessing marijuana.

Police arrested Lionele Jackson, 23, upon a tip by Norman Somers of Novi Drug that the man was trying to obtain hypnotic drugs with a forged prescription. Somers kept Jackson occupied until police arrived.

Upon searching the suspect, Novi police officers said they found a quantity of marijuana in his possession.

Arraigned before District Court Judge Martin Boyle on the charge of possessing marijuana, Jackson's examination was set for March 7 in the Walled Lake court. He posted a $1,000 bond and was released.

Board Chairman Disgusted

'Dirty Word' Triggers Resignation of Fischer

A "dirty word," coupled with the resulting disciplinary action of fellow members concerning five teachers, sparked the surprise resignation last week of the chairman of the Schoolcraft Community College Board of Trustees.

Angry and disgusted, Harold Fischer of Plymouth resigned "effective immediately" following last week's board meeting in which members voted 6-2 over the college president's recommendation to reprimand rather than fire five teachers who had signed an anti-war student document containing an obscene four-letter word.

Dr. Eric Bradner, college president, had recommended that the contracts of the five teachers be terminated March 1.

Fischer told The Record he had "no other choice" but to resign as chairman and from the board itself. "I just could not any longer be a part of something to which I so violently disagreed," he said his action is "final as of this time."

The board of trustees was slated to meet last night (Wednesday) to decide whether or not to appoint a replacement to serve for Fischer until the June election. Fischer, who had been chairman and a member of the board since the college was organized in 1962, had two years yet to serve.

Mrs. Jane K. Moehle of Plymouth, a trustee at large and vice-chairman of the board, was expected to be moved up to the chairmanship, with one of the other six members taking over her vice-chairman's post.

Other officers are Paul Mutnick of Livonia, secretary, and Clark Oldenburg of Garden City, treasurer. Also on the board are B. William Secord, Northville representative; Sam Hudson of Plymouth, trustee at large; George Martin of Livonia, trustee at large; and James Boswell, Livonia representative.

Besides the post of Fischer, two other board positions will be up for election in June — those of Mrs. Moehle and Hudson.

Joining with Fischer in casting the two dissenting votes was Trustee Boswell. According to Secord, who joined with the majority opinion, Boswell basically favored the board's action but that he voted against the measure primarily because he disagreed with the working of the disciplinary resolution.

Secord said Fischer's resignation came as a complete surprise at the conclusion of the board's meeting.

Secord said that after careful study of the problem — that has sparked non-violent demonstrations by students and teachers — he was sure the action was just. Some board members reportedly feared campus disorder with any stronger action.

The resolution states that "the administration be directed to write a letter to each of the five faculty members, with a copy to the Faculty Forum (teacher union) indicating that the board of trustees considers the action of the five... in signing the statement in question a breach of professional conduct and is not in accordance with the standards of this college."

"The letter shall further indicate that since this is the first offense of this kind and since each of the five faculty members have indicated he had no knowledge that the document was to be circulated on campus and that he or she had no intent to affront those in the student body, faculty, and public at large who object to the language used, the board directs a severe reprimand to all five... and that this be made a part of their permanent records."

"It further refers the two full status faculty members to their peers, the Faculty Forum, for action that they deem appropriate. The three probationary faculty members are referred back to the administration for whatever action the administration deems appropriate."

"The three probationary faculty members are referred back to the administration for whatever action the administration deems appropriate in accordance (with college policy)."

Under college policy, contracts of teachers on standard probationary status are reviewed at their expiration for either renewal or termination.

It was Fischer's contention that referral of the matter to the Faculty Forum was "ridiculous" since, in his opinion, that group would take little or no action.

(Fischer's prediction became a reality Thursday afternoon when the Faculty Forum voted 46-44 in favor of not pursuing the matter any further.)

Three of the teachers are probationary — Evan Garrett, history, who joined the staff in 1968; Arthur Lindenberg, English, 1967; and Mrs. Carolyn Dodge, English, 1966. Others are John Kyriacopoulos, English, 1965, and Michael O'Toole, English, 1964.

The administration policy is that new teachers must serve two-year probationary periods before receiving tenure.

The document signed by the teachers, according to Secord, was neither a poster nor a petition. It was a piece of paper containing just two words, — War, and was shown on a number of occasions by one or both of the students who prepared it.

The students who prepared it have appeared before the Schoolcraft Student-Faculty Disciplinary Committee, which held an eight-hour session and warned the students that the matter was "wrong and in poor taste" and that "continuation of such activity cannot be tolerated," Secord said.

According to the Northville representative, the matter was brought to the attention of the administration by a student who objected to its circulation.

Major Changes Made In New Michigan Map

Just about everything but the name and shape of the state has been changed on the 1969 edition of the Official Michigan Highway Map, the State Highway Commission said this week.

The new map, now available for distribution, has been entirely redrawn, making it neater and easier to read. Red grid lines keyed to the borders have been added, making it easier to find cities listed in the index.

Bordering states and Canada appear in one color, calling more attention to Michigan, and county roads appear in gray instead of black, calling more attention to the state highways.

The reverse side also has a new look with the most helpful change being the addition of color to the city insert maps. This makes them more meaningful, especially for motorists who want to know where the cities leave off and the suburbs begin.

Theme of the 1969 map is tourism, Michigan's booming billion-dollar-a-year-plus business. Colorful photos on the map cover and reverse side call attention to travel and the great variety of things to do and see in Michigan.

The Commission is printing 1.3 million copies of the map, an increase of 300,000. The additional maps will be distributed to potential Michigan vacationers through facilities of the Michigan Tourist Council.

Most of the remaining maps will be distributed in response to mail and telephone requests, and through the nine travel information centers operated by the Commission.

The Commission noted that although the quantity of maps has been increased this year, the supply is still far short of the growing demand. The Commission plans to increase its printing of maps to two million annually beginning with the 1970 edition.

Requests for 1969 maps should be addressed to Official Michigan Highway Map, Michigan Department of State Highways, Post Office Drawer K, Lansing, Michigan, 48904.

Hearing Set On 'Age' Bills

State officials reminded area senior citizens this week of an upcoming public hearing on proposed tax exemption bills.

The hearing will be held Saturday, March 1 at the Westland City Hall on Ford Road beginning at 10 a.m.

Specifically, the two bills to be considered are:

HB 2001 — elderly homestead tax exemption; increases valuation to $15,000 and income to $6,000.

HB 2060 — homestead, senior citizens; property evaluation increase, exemption increase; income limitation increase.

QUINTET TO PERFORM — The University of Michigan Woodwind Quintet consisting of (from left to right) Florian Mueller, oboe; Louis Stout, French horn; Nelson Hauenstein, flute; John Mohler, clarinet and Lewis Cooper, bassoon, will perform tonight (Thursday) at Novi High School. Performing along with the Novi High School Band at the Mid-Winter Concert, the quintet will be heard in the gym. Tickets will be $1 for adults and $.50 for children with the proceeds going toward providing scholarships for summer band camps for Novi bandmen.

PRETTY REMINDER — Michigan's 1968 Miss Universe title holder, Virginia Cliff, reminds area motorists that tomorrow (Friday) is the deadline for purchasing 1969 auto license plates. Virginia, who purchased her plates early to avoid those long lines, is a senior at Novi High School.

Plate Buyers Face Lines

Long lines and bad weather are predicted tomorrow as motorists make last-day purchases of 1969 auto license plates.

That's the word from licensing officials as they brace for the biggest rush for plates in the history of the state. Heavier than usual lines are predicted today and tomorrow — last days for legally driving passenger cars with 1968 license plates.

To make matters worse, the Automobile Club of Michigan reminds motorists that bad weather is in the offing. Suggesting that motorists bring along their raincoats and umbrellas, the club bases its advice on the midwest weather forecast from the "Old Farmer's Almanac."

The Almanac predicts three inches of rain today and tomorrow.

The Auto Club also points out that those who wait until the last minute for their plates should be sure they have the following necessary items when they finally reach the window:

Fifty-seven percent more money than last year; a certificate showing proof of insurance plus $1 for the uninsured motorist fund; $35 for the fund if no certificate or other acceptable proof of insurance is shown; and either a prepared license application from the Secretary of State's office or current car registration or title.

Area motorists may purchase their plates at any one of the following license bureau offices:

Livonia — 32140 Plymouth Road; Plymouth — 238 South Main; Farmington — 33304 Grand River; Walled Lake — 141 East Walled Lake Drive; and South Lyon — 301 South Lafayette Street.

Rev. Roger Merrell
First Methodist Church of South Lyon

Once more we have come to the sacred season of Lent. It is a time for contemplation. The background of the crucifixion of the Son of God must be looked at anew. We must prepare our hearts and minds for the great truths of redemption. We must learn again, through our Lord's suffering and death, that the path of love may lead to the cross, and the reward of faithfulness may be a crown of thorns. We shall need grace to learn these lessons.

In our contemplation of the drama of the Passion, we shall be called upon to witness evil plotting, betrayal, denial, retribution, and repentance. We shall behold a sad processions moving slowly out through a city gate and up a slope called Golgotha — a procession not yet ended. Then we shall stand atop a hill and be moved, in the shadow of a cross, to wonder, to think, to pray to repent. And finally, in a garden, amid flowers and songbirds, we shall hear again the glorious tidings of the Resurrection.

The result of our Lenten contemplation will be a quickened faith and a deepened sense of love and loyalty. How can we prepare ourselves for the fullest measure of spiritual growth and blessing? In a spirit of humility and dedication, let us resolve to make the Lenten Season a time for spiritual meditation, introspection, inspiration, devotion, and growth;

By Bible reading and study every day. A brief, daily devotion will be of inestimable blessing. Why not pause sometime, somewhere, each day and remember Him?

By regular and consistent public worship. Let nothing keep us from the House of God, where, in the shadow of the cross, we may meditate upon our Redeemer's love.

By witnessing as faithful, loyal, devoted followers of Christ among our friends and neighbors, and inviting them to attend church to hear with us the old, old story of God's redeeming love.

By making a daily sacrifice, in self-denial, as an expression of our love and devotion, and dedicating our offering to the extension of Christ's kingdom in the hearts of men.

As we have fellowship with Christ through His experiences of humiliation and sorrow, there shall come to us a knowledge of the secret of His strength and peace even in our darkest hour of trial and anguish, and we shall know the joy and triumph of the Easter victory.

Yes — Lent is the time when the spiritual life in Christians is deepened and strengthened. But during this season don't simply try to be good, but do good — to someone else. The Master needs laborers in His vineyard. He calls you now. Do you hear His voice?

Jesus went about doing good. Will you do as he did? By doing good you become good, and the Lenten season will bring a blessing to you.

"And whosoever would be my disciple let him take up his cross and follow me."

What can you lift?

God has a way of teaching spiritual truths through physical facts.

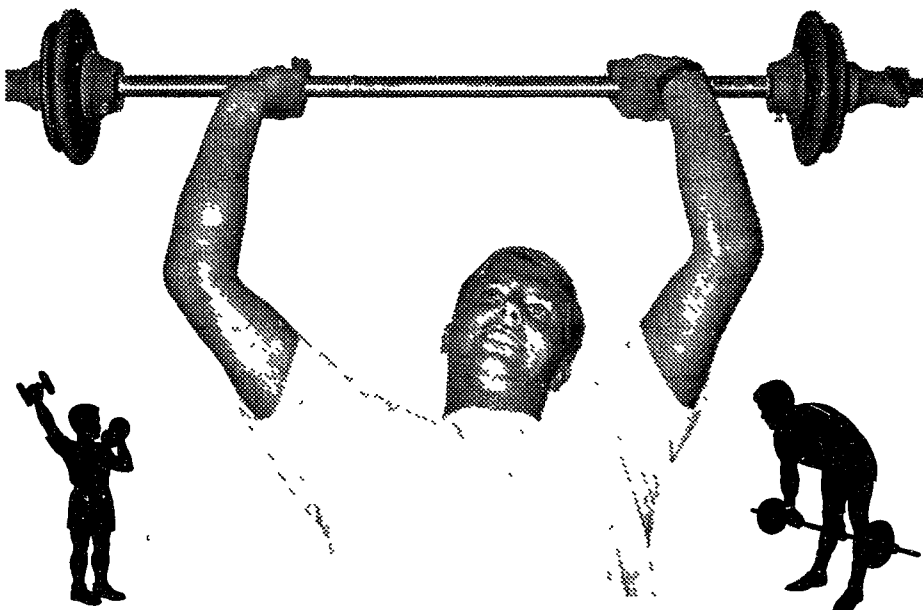

Tom used to have trouble lifting his mother's shopping bag — not any more!

That smile on his face isn't triumph—it's confidence. Given a few weeks, Tom will be lifting even heavier weights.

The first time you try to lift someone's burden, it's an awkward effort. Until you discover that physical development and spiritual growth work the same way.

Only practice makes one a friend, a helper, a partner to others in their troubles . . . and, incidentally, better able to bear your own.

Every Sunday that open church-door is an invitation to you to discover what needs to be lifted . . . and how best to begin.

Out of THE PAST

FIVE YEARS AGO...

...Welfare Director R. Bernard Houston killed a proposal to establish a "halfway house" at Maybury Sanatorium for "hardcore" delinquents and a number of local citizens breathed easier.

...Northville set a series of public hearings on improvements. Primary targets were curb, gutter and storm sewers on West from Randolph to Dunlap; storm and sanitary sewer and water on Maplewood and North Center from Ely north to city limits and curb and gutter on Maplewood.

...The Mustangs appeared destined for fifth place in the conference as they fell to 5-7 with a basketball split over the weekend. Northville edged Milford, fell to Clarenceville.

...Mrs. Ruth M. Chase was elected president of the newly formed Northville Historical Society.

...Primary contests in Wixom were decided with the two top vote-getters in the two contested areas set to meet head-on in April's city election. Included were mayor candidates Wesley McAtee and William Welke (defeated was Mrs. John Chambers) and justice of peace candidates Elwood Grubb and Harry Wimmer (defeated was Joseph Stadnik).

...The 96-voice all-league choir was set to perform at the Northville High School auditorium. Each of the eight schools had 12 voices in the choir.

...Friends of the Library sponsored an Arts and Crafts show at Novi Community Building.

...Village council candidate Herbert Koester asked Novi council to throw out all five of his opponents' petitions for filing errors.

TEN YEARS AGO...

...Despite 349-240 approval, the water bond issue failed as 60 per cent was the required margin for acceptance and 349 of the total votes cast came to only 59 per cent.

...Basketball Coach Stan Johnston announced he was no longer going to coach basketball when the current season ended.

...Two longtime Northville residents died. Willard Ely, father of a former Northville mayor, and Mrs. Carrie E. Litsenberger, matriarch of a large and well-known local family were the pair mourned by the city.

...William Boyd of 44180 Durson was named valedictorian of Northville High School for 1959.

...Incumbents won easily in Novi's primary township election. Three Democrats were nominated to oppose them in April.

...Northville's high school debate squad was set to meet Royal Oak Dondero in the first round of the Michigan High School Forensic state competition to be held at Wayne University.

...The Colts won, but the Mustangs dropped a close decision to Holly's Broncos in basketball.

...The local Easter seal drive was slated to get underway.

...Poor turnouts marred all area elections and were considered a primary factor in the loss of the water bond resolution.

...Tax deadlines in the area drew near as did license renewal time.

FIFTEEN YEARS AGO...

...The question of the day was: who was going to run for village president? Two favorites, incumbent Con Langfield and commissioner Jack Stubenvoll, had both announced they were not candidates, but no one had volunteered for the task.

...Northville lost only its third basketball game of the season when they were beaten by Clarkston. The Mustang loss brought their season record to 10-3 and they were 8-2 in Wayne-Oakland competition.

...Ford Motor Company offered

Ford Field to Northville for $5,500, to help culminate the village's efforts to acquire the property.

...In an effort to combat tuberculosis, the Wayne County Health Department announced that its mobile X-ray unit would be in the Northville area for a four-day period.

...Speaking of mobile units, the Red Cross Bloodmobile rolled out of Northville with 176 more pints of blood than it had when it entered the village.

...Oil drilling continued in the area. The W. C. Taggart Company failed to find any at the Glenn Angell farm at Napier and Seven and had turned its attention to the Ralph Wilson farm on West Seven Mile.

...Two area club presidents were feted at the Frederick Collins home. They were Mrs. George Alexander of the Garden Club and Mrs. Russell Atchison of the Women's Club.

...Northville's spring primary election was imminent. Contests were numerous with three posts being the most hotly sought. Incumbents supervisor Mollie Lawrence, clerk Fred Lyke and treasurer Roy Terrill were opposed by Wilbert Petz, D. Harper Britton and Leslie G. Lee, respectively.

...Young concert violinist Yfrah Neaman was to appear in the final Wayne County Training School concert of the year.

Questions on 3-Mills Answered

On what is the figure $35,000 in increased cost of supplies and materials based?

A—This $35,000 increase is based on current catalogue prices of the items that are used in the school, and prices are compared with the actual invoice for materials that were purchased during the 1968-69 school year. Unless they are influenced by something unforeseen, these costs are realistic.

For how many years is the 3-mill increase?

A—It will be for five years.

Is there any truth that the high school will go on half days?

A—As a board member I would have to say that in the event that there is a millage defeat there undoubtedly will be split sessions.

Whether it is in the high school, the elementary or junior high schools has not been determined.

If 3-mills is approved by the voters will we be asked for additional millage in June?

A—If the question refers to June of 1969 the answer is definitely "no".

If we vote "no" will it speed better methods of financing?

A—I doubt it, really. Consider the size of our district; we are one of the smallest districts in the county. From the state standpoint it would have a very minimal effect.

Where will the sixth graders be attending school in 1969-70?

A—Under the plan of the 3-mills the entire sixth grade will be housed in the old junior high school.

Since the enrollment projection was so accurate why was the junior high school so inadequately sized?

A—There were certain numbers of dollars available and it was a matter of competing for priorities to achieve the square footage and educational objectives at that time.

What millage will be necessary to build the projected new school in the next three years to house the tremendous increase in students?

A—The question is slightly ahead of us at this time. We do anticipate some type of bonded money in a millage issue coming up. I would say with a certain degree of candor that it would probably have to be in the neighborhood of possibly 4 or 5 mills. I would imagine that it is certainly coming up this year.

What is our millage rate now?

A—It is 32.9 mills currently.

What is the state equalized valuation behind each pupil?

A—Currently, it is $17,600.

Does the $2,551,542 proposed budget imply that there will be no cuts in educational staff for 1969-70?

A—No it does not. There will be two librarians cut, there will be a psychologist who spends three-fifths of her time here that will be cut. There will be one remedial reading teacher, one elementary art teacher, and one elementary music teacher cut.

Why do we carry Novi students, such as in Connemara, in the Northville school system?

A—Because there is a portion of Novi that is within the bounds, established many years ago, of the Northville School District. We have an area that extends as far north as 10½ Mile Road that is in our school district but it is also in Novi. We also have children from Lyon Township, Plymouth Township, Northville Township, from Salem Township that attend school in our district because the district boundaries extend into those areas. Just as an informational item, we are also part of three counties. Our district rests in Washtenaw, Oakland and Wayne counties.

Does rental property, such as King's Mills, carry their fair share of taxes related to numbers of students?

A—So far the property, such as King's Mills, are holding true to the prediction of the national multiple housing standard of .6 to .7 children per dwelling unit. This compares with individual or private homes or single family dwelling units of about 2.1 children per dwelling unit. Now, I don't have the numbers to equate that back to the valuation of an area such as King's Mills. However, generally they pay a higher share towards education of the children that come from those areas.

What about the extended racing season in Northville. Has added revenue been considered?

A—There isn't any added revenue to the school district. The only additional revenue that the school district can get from Northville Downs is as the valuation of the property itself goes up. School districts do not participate in any portion of the parimutual return except as money goes into the state general fund and part of it becomes educational money spread throughout the state.

Will increased millage, whatever the amount, have a built-in contingency factor to accommodate the teacher union increase salary demand?

A—Our contract with teachers runs through next year. The budget shows an increase of about $195,000 to cover contractual increases. We also have custodians and others — bus drivers, cafeteria people — covered under contract. So next year we know precisely where we are going to be salary wise.

Why did the previous millage attempts fail?

A—This year we can show you folks the proposed budget. We can show you everything that is in the budget. Last year it was very difficult for this school board to maintain the position that we were giving you sufficient information to back up the request for millage because we were in negotiations. And believe me, negotiations with school teachers nowadays are every bit as tough as in industry. You just cannot play a poker game with all your cards on the table. People just didn't want to believe some of the numbers that were put out. However, this time because the salary question has been settled we can show you complete details of the budget.

Will the book fees be increased next year?

A—It is not recommended.

Why must we always have a single-story school?

A—I don't think there is any requirement that the citizens of this district must go to the one-story school.

By passing the 3-mills increase are we not taking a step backwards?

A—We certainly are not taking a step forward.

If a 3-mill increase is passed will all extra-curricular activities be reinstated — including field trips for elementary children?

A—It is my understanding that the 3-mills will permit us to reinstate all extra-curricular activities.

What will the school situation be if the millage is voted down?

A—It means the elimination of some administrative and clerical services of approximately $18,000. It means a reduction of custodial help, reduction in maintenance personnel, reduction in textbooks, teaching supplies, library book expenditures, audio visual aids, printing and publishing, one speech correctionist, one band director, one additional remedial reading teacher, elimination of extra curricular programs entirely, placing of some grades on half-day sessions, reduction in teachers for a grand total of $174,276.

Can the district save by eliminating all buses and is it legal?

A—If we eliminated all school buses we would probably save around $60,000 because the state reimbursement is based upon the number of pupils carried for the maximum amount. Next year we anticipate it will cost us around $112,000 and we will probably get back around $40,000 to $50,000 from the state. Is it legal? Absolutely, except for one thing: people of Northville would have to vote to discontinue the buses because they voted them in.

What revenue does the school expect per student from the state this coming year?

A—We expect to receive approximately $238 to $240 per student, based either upon the Governor's formula or upon the formula of the State Department of Education.

We are presently bonded at approximately 10-percent of our assessed valuation. Thus by state law, if we are allowed only another 5-percent will this be enough to build all new schools?

A—The state now says it will only approve construction to those districts that without a shadow of a doubt prove that they can operate the schools once they are built. As to the specific question, the limitation is approximately 15-percent. We stand now at about 7½. However, the limitation of 15-percent is placed on the projected valuation of the district when the building is complete — not what it is today.

Has the board considered selling of the community building? Would this provide revenue needed now?

The question of the inadequate size of the junior high was not really answered. It bothers many people.

A—Quite frankly, there are quite a few goofs in that building. You recently read where we had employed a new architect. That's answer enough.

Why can't additions be built on existing educational plants? ... This would eliminate the necessity of additional administrators and duplication of equipment.

A—The board of education IS considering additions to Amerman, Moraine, junior high and the high school. It is under consideration at the present time.

With the reduction of one art teacher and one music teacher in the elementary school, how often will a pupil have art and music next year?

A—The present plan — with approval of the 3 mills — would rotate teachers on a weekly or quarterly basis where the youngsters of one building would have art, another music ... We feel we are not giving the children an adequate program ... but we do feel that a little bit of it is better than none.

Would it be productive to suggest that everyone here tonight write to Lansing?

A—I would say, amen. Write to your state legislator, to your state senator, to the House education committee, to the Senate education committee, to the appropriations committees in both the House and Senate.

Does the 3-mill requirement take into account the expected state equalization factor?

A—We have projected a revenue increase in taxes in Northville, Novi, Lyon, Salem and Northville township of $8 million which is 16.04 percent over this year. This $8 million increase will produce for us a little over $200,000 in taxes. We have taken individually the assessed valuations of each unit of government in our school district and applied all known factors at this time, including the Wayne County portion of Northville of .17 and in Oakland County of .25.

SPEAKING for The Record

By BILL SLIGER

I read recently of a new medical discovery called perso-pills.

From a scientific standpoint perso-pills represent a major breakthrough in the area of human behavioral patterns.

For this reason the research team responsible for the discovery is elated at its success.

But others — sociologists, psychiatrists, psychologists, ministers, etc., — are horrified at the prospect of a world in which perso-pills would be dispensed.

With a perso-pill you can adopt whatever personality you desire, instantly.

Perso-pills come in a variety of models. There's the dynamic, forceful, aggressive personality that gains its objective at all costs. There's the passive, never-rock-the-boat personality that looks at the world through rose-colored glasses. There's the crusader, the moralist, the agitator, the joiner, the loner, the egotist, the Milquetoast — take your pick, there's even a fun-loving, devil-may-care variety.

Experiments have proven beyond a doubt in all cases that perso-pills are immediately effective.

There's just one draw-back. One perso-pill will not counteract another. Once a personality has been selected it cannot be changed.

There's a rumor that Richard Nixon swallowed a "winning personality" perso-pill just before launching his campaign for nomination and election to the presidency.

What of the rest of us when perso-pills go on public sale?

Politicians are already suggesting that the age limit for obtaining perso-pills must be 21. Opponents are shouting "old enough to fight, old enough to take a perso-pill".

Still another group is proposing that only the perso-pills with the good personalities should be dispensed.

They suggest that this be determined by obtaining the Good Housekeeping Seal of Approval.

They also demand that everyone must consume a perso-pill upon reaching the designated age. And this promises to cause problems. Already Jack Hoffman steadfastly refuses. "Why fool around with perfection?", he asks.

The price of perso-pills is being argued. Five cents each was suggested. It's rumored that Senator Kuhn will introduce legislation to slash this to a penny.

Other problems have been encountered.

One of the researchers swallowed a perso-pill containing a prankster personality and changed the labels on all the other pill bottles.

A massive poll will soon be undertaken. Every citizen of the world will be given a form to fill out. He may select whatever personality pill he desires. The cards will then be run through a giant computer so that the personality of the world may be determined prior to actual distribution of the perso-pills.

Las Vegas is giving odds that we'll end up with a world of Frenchmen.

A panel composed of J. Edgar Hoover, DeGaulle, Malcolm X, Walter Reuther and Johnny Carson will decide whether or not the pills should be distributed after reviewing the results of the poll.

If they can't agree, Hayakawa will be brought in as a mediator.

If there's a hopeless deadlock, it's agreed that the formula for perso-pills will be destroyed, all samples burned. The people will have to develop their own personalities.

"What a sad state", lamented one of the scientists who discovered perso-pills.

"Imagine leaving such a responsibility in the hands of the individual".

Some people drive defensively. I eat defensively. And just as in driving, defensive eating is a means of survival, particularly in a house where kids see the icebox as their private stockpile.

There was a time when I would go hungry just to be sure there were enough chops to go around. Not anymore. I get my chops when the chopping's good — not a second later. A two-second delay can be disastrous. And when I say you've got to act quickly, I mean even before the contents of the grocery sack are transferred to the icebox or cupboards.

Our kids can pick a grocery sack quicker and cleaner than Slick Sam can heist a wallet over on Plum Street. There is nothing so unnerving as a kitchen full of kids hovering like vultures over grocery sacks. "Mother, may we help you unpack the groceries?" is a request for plunder. Even the grocery bill isn't safe; it's likely to become fodder for a foster mouse: hidden away in a son's closet.

Three quarters of what comes out of those sacks goes not to the icebox or the kitchen cupboards but to private preserves in our kids' rooms. The doll cupboard in my inbetween daughter's room has enough staples for a full-course banquet. When her doll wets... I mean it wets pure soda pop. If she serves tea... it's tea.

Whole boxes of crackers and cereals share the barracks of toy soldiers. I tried putting away their Tinker Toys once and couldn't find space; the box was filled with spaghetti sticks. My oldest daughter has a fruit bowl — a stolen centerpiece from our dinner table — that would win a prize at the State Fair.

Even the dog's worried. She's starting to hid her Gravey Train behind the davenport.

Grocery sack thieves, to be sure. But certainly not selfish. They are students of the Marshall Plan; they even coined the phrase, "Give 'til It Hurts." They've given away more apples than Johnny Appleseed planted. If the Supreme Court hadn't come up with that stupid ruling, I'd frisk every kid that leaves our house. But by the time I'm finished telling them their rights, the only evidence is a mutilated core.

The crowning blow took place a couple weeks ago when I demanded cream for my coffee. "But you know we don't use cream... just milk," responded my wife. "Okay, then, how about some milk?" "It's gone. The boys drank it. Why don't you try some of the baby's formula."

That did it! I decided right then and there I would fight fire with fire. I empty the sacks now and, like the master sergeant of a mess hall I used to frequent, I get in my licks first; "One can of baby formula for me, the rest for you; these apples for me, those for you..."

Defends Study of Social Change

To the Editor:

The editorial states "Education in a vacuum? We hope it never comes to that." Then why phrases like "unavoidable mistakes", "unfortunate occurrence", and "errors in judgment"? Who is going to decide on "sufficient guidelines", and for goodness sake, what is meant by "suitable reprimands" — and for whom?

Re. the letter to the editor:

1. The writers stated "reportedly", which means that someone must have told them an opinion.

2. There have been attempts at "Utopian societies" all through history. (Even in America we have had the Perfectionists, the Shakers, the Amana group, etc.) Is it "wrong" for people to strive for what they believe is best? If it is, then we have totalitarianism, and not a free society.

3. Isn't it imperative (especially in a sociology or political science class) to observe and study all social changes in order to make intelligent decisions — even if one may not agree with the methods or goals?

4. What is meant by, "obviously revolting looking"? By whose standards? Why does this seem to be such an important issue to the writer? Do we judge a man on his outward appearance?

5. How can teachers on a high-school level possibly serve "in loco-parentis"?

Isn't it possible that our downfall will be more through hate, oppression, greed, and fear — regardless of who or which "group" or "side" advocates it? Maybe we should try to understand why changes are taking place in the society. Maybe we all need a little more compassion.

Many years ago there was one who was sanded, bearded, non-conformist, and "unkempt" by many of His society's standards. He said, "Judge not, that ye be not judged."

Most sincerely,
Marie Bonamici

Volunteers Sought For City Positions

To the Editor:

We are in the midst of what appears to be a good, healthy political contest for Northville City Council seats. It's easy to overlook the fact that besides the highly visible City Council, approximately fifty citizens man positions on eight City Boards and Commissions.

We see no reason why these important posts should not be easily filled with interested concerned citizens. Yet the fact is that nearly as many turn down appointments by the Council as accept these jobs.

Our purpose, therefore, is to request residents of the City to volunteer, either to the Mayor or a Councilman or the Manager. Let us know your willingness to serve. We'll find a spot that meets your specific interests. Don't hesitate to turn in your neighbor's name if you believe he or she could aid the community.

There's no pay and very little thanks passed around, but the satisfaction of taking part, contributing to your town, can be great.

Very truly yours,
A.M. Allen, Mayor
F. Ollendorff,
City Manager

Practice, Not Talk Tells It As It Is

To the Editor:

If William Shakespeare is looked upon as an exemplary model in the use of onomatopoeia; if the news media, in general, believe that they should act like propagandists instead of like reporters; if the Editor of a local religious weekly could stomach most of my vitriolic letters — if all these things are true, then, I thought perhaps that I, a nonentity, might be so bold as to try to intrude upon the sanctum of your "Letter Box."

First, I should like to announce that my family and I moved out here not only because of the financial squeeze but also because we wanted to get away from Detroit; the city that once proudly displayed the following composite slogan: "In Detroit, the Dynamic, Life Is Worth Living (about 1906, 1912)"; but which I lately dubbed, to the dismay of some, the habitat of the rattlesnake. Where a soporific stroll, night or day, is discouraged lest it end in murder; where everything is bolted 24 hours daily, from educational and religious institutions to even homes.

Why even in the religious home for the aged and the infirm, where I lived, a half-inch mesh wire glass was installed on the first and second floors for our protection. And all the while I was under the delusion that we were friends. How foolish can one become?

I also should like to quote a quotation from "The Reader's Digest Great Encyclopedia Dictionary":

"No man who says, 'I am as good as you,' believes it. He would not say it if he did. The Saint Bernard never says it to the toy dog, nor the scholar to the dunce, nor the employable to the bum, nor the pretty woman to the plain. The claim to equality is made only by those who feel themselves to be in some way inferior."

So let the do-gooders and the bleeding-hearts — of whom there are many — sit back and ponder.

In conclusion, this letter is written despite the sanctimonious ones — or, more appropriately, the hypocritical ones, who do not practice what they preach, and who often inadvertently think out loud.

She Found Answers To Problems in Bible

To the Editor:

After Carole Loy and Jim Yoder's letters I want to share with you an experience of mine which had its start 13 years ago this Spring. I was 23 years old and had given birth to my second child in February 1956. Up 'til this point the greatest event in my life had been the birth of my first child some 16 months previous. I knew that it wouldn't last. My children would grow up and live lives of their own and I would wonder: Why am I here? What's life for?

Now I never was a disbeliever in God. My eyes beheld nature and I could not deny that a power other than human set this world in being. But why? Due to selfish and foolish choices I finally found myself in the hardest predicament I had ever faced in my life. One thing after another closed in on me. I talked to people and no one could help. I thought I needed the man from the TV program "The

State Lawmakers Get Off to Slow Start

LANSING — Slow-moving best describes the first two months of the 1969 Michigan legislative session. Senators and Representatives are spending most of their time organizing committees, introducing bills, and preparing for a lengthy time ahead.

Thus far the primary topic of conversation is hallways and cloakrooms about the Capitol is tax aid for Michigan's 1,000 parochial schools.

Legislation proposing $30 million in tax credits for parents of the state's 315,000 nonpublic school children and $40 million in tax subsidies to private school teachers awaits action in the house.

A PORTEND of the stormy battle certain to erupt over the issue was a complaint by anti-parochial forces that backers of the legislation are lobbying unfairly. The protest revolved around a "master plan" for passage of a parochial bill by June 15.

Gov. William G. Milliken says he will further define his position on the politically sensitive subject before the Legislature adopts a tax aid program.

Milliken told lawmakers earlier he would not object to a parochial plan as long as it met constitutional tests and necessary funds were provided.

But the Governor said legislators are entitled to a clearer explanation of his thinking on the matter before too long.

"I intend, so far as what would or would not be acceptable to me, to further define the perimeters," Milliken said. "This is not to say that I will propose a so-called Milliken plan."

FOURTEEN shades of red. That's what Mary Cauhorn, Governor Milliken's receptionist, says she turned recently when a stranger without an appointment walked unannounced into the executive office to see the Governor.

The stranger was understanding when Miss Cauhorn explained that the Governor was tied up in a meeting.

"Believe me," he said, "I know the Governor of Michigan can be a busy, busy man. I used to work here."

"Oh," said Miss Cauhorn, "when were you here?"

"From 1941 to the first part of 1943," answered the stranger. "I'm former Gov. Murry D. Van Wagoner."

MAJOR PROVISIONS of a bipartisan plan to appoint an acting Lieutenant Governor have been scuttled by the 28 Senators sponsoring the proposal.

The reason is that the State Constitution prohibits a legislator from being elected or appointed to another state office while serving in the House or Senate.

Legislation to appoint the president pro-tempore of the Senate acting Lieutenant Governor and extend the line of gubernatorial succession was introduced last month.

For the first time since 1939, Michigan is without a Lieutenant Governor because of the ascendancy of William G. Milliken to the Governor's office to replace resigned Gov. George W. Romney.

Senary majority leader Emil Lockwood, R-St. Louis, and other sponsors of the bill to fill the vacancy said they will revise the proposal to comply with the Constitution.

Eliminated will be provisions in the measure which would make Sen. Thomas F. Schwegert, R-Petoskey, president pro-tem, eligible for the Lieutenant Governor's $22,500 per year salary, and $3,000 expense allowance.

A section adding Schweigert and House Speaker William A. Ryan, D-Detroit, to the line of succession to the Governor's office will also be dropped.

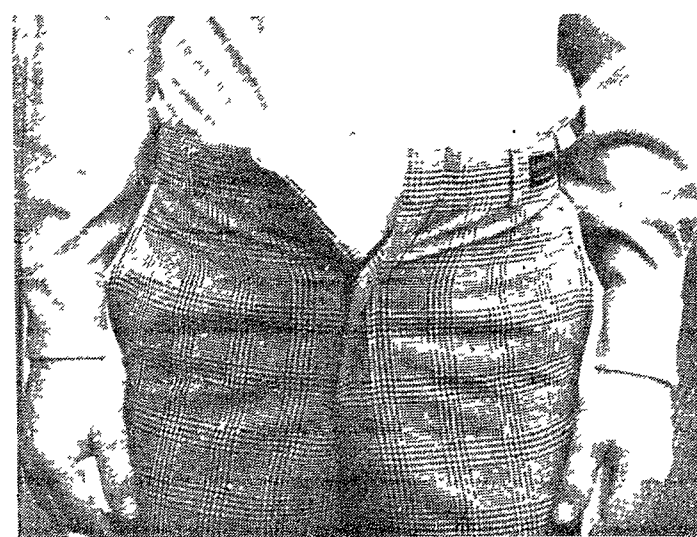

THE BILL will still bestow on Schweigert the "honorary title" of acting Lieutenant Governor so that he can assist Milliken in discharging responsibilities of the executive office.

This could give Schweigert, a nine-year Senate veteran, the inside track on the Republican nomination for Lieutenant Governor in 1970. He is a close personal friend of Milliken's.

Major Oil Jackpot Possible On Canada's Arctic Islands

WELLESLEY HILLS, Massachusetts — Just as Prudhoe Bay, Alaska, was familiar mainly to geographers until recently, so Melville, Bathurst, and Prince Patrick now share the same degree of relative obscurity. These are three of the larger Arctic Islands of Northern Canada at about the latitude of Greenland. Just as Prudhoe Bay gained overnight fame due to a major oil discovery, the Arctic Islands too may soon reveal a jackpot of oil reserves. Two exploratory wells will be drilled soon on Melville Island by Panarctic Oils, Ltd., a combine of 21 participants, including the Canadian Government (45 percent interest).

Showing exceptionally favorable physical characteristics for oil production, the Arctic Islands and their offshore areas could hold an estimated 50 billion barrels of oil and 300 trillion cubic feet of natural gas. Land areas of the south in the Canadian Yukon and Northwest Territories could hold an equal amount of oil and gas. These reserves approach the total production of petroleum to date in United States history! Such tremendous quantities of oil and gas, together with Alaskan crude, could easily alter patterns of production and distribution on a worldwide basis. Even now Venezuela is anxiously viewing its North American market in the light of potential Arctic oil.

TODAY, well before commercial production of Northern Alaskan and Arctic Island oil will begin, studies of markets for the huge reservoir of black gold are taking place. If we examine a polar projection of the world, we note the dream of early mariners, the Northwest Passage. From the Arctic Islands it is possible to reach both the Pacific and the Atlantic by water routes, and the Islands are well centered in relation to the major world petroleum markets. Shipping distance compete favorably with those from the Mideast and South America: Japan — 4700 miles; Western Europe — 3700 miles; U.S. West Coast — 4600 miles; U.S. East Coast — 3600 miles.

However, fabled as it has been in maritime history, the Northwest Passage has not proved a feasible route for general shipping. Obviously, it is a question of ice; thick polar ice, locking the straits for over half their length for more than eleven months of the year.

THE SOLUTION, then, must be unconventional use of a conventional tool. It has been proposed that large supertankers (up to 250,000 DWT) reinforced and equipped with an Alexbow ice plow, could economically transport Arctic and Alaskan oil to world markets. An Alexbow ice plow is a fairly new concept in ice-breaking. A conventional ice-breaker progresses through heavy ice, mostly by riding up on it and breaking through by sheer weight, opening a passageway.

An Alexbow ice plow, on the other hand, is, in fact, a plow-shaped ship's bow which forces the ice up and to the sides as the ship "plows" ahead. This action creates a relatively ice-free lane for following vessels. The ultimate in Arctic shipping, also under study, would be shipment of oil from Prudhoe Bay, Alaska, to Western Europe by a route passing close to the North Pole and north of Greenland.

MANY COMPANIES, mostly Canadian, hold interests in the Arctic Islands. Some have shown substantial advances in the price of their shares as the exploration and development program has progressed. But no wells have as yet been completed. While there is every indication that oil and gas are there, production and marketing problems may not be resolved until the mid-70's. Much the same holds true for the Alaskan North Slope, although production may develop by 1971.

Drug Forum Scheduled In Wixom

Does your son or daughter use drugs?

Do you know whether your son or daughter uses drugs?

Would you like to find out what drugs are dangerous and what to do about them?

All these answers and more can be obtained at a program, entitled "Drug Abuse and You!" to be presented by the Wixom Police Department at 7:30 p.m. Tuesday at Wixom Elementary School.

The program is designed by Wixom Narcotics Officer Roger DeClercq to help stamp out the wide-spread misuse of drugs. It is open to parents throughout the area.

Mayor Wesley McAtee will introduce the speakers for the program. These will include Special Agent O. W. Johnson of the Federal Bureau of Investigation (FBI) Narcotics Bureau; George McCollum, Novi Pharmacist; and Pastor Robert Warren of the Wixom Baptist Church.

Two films will be shown — "Drugs and the Nervous System" and "Insight or Insanity" — and a question and answer panel discussion will follow the speakers' presentations.

Army Awards Novi Man

CLAUDE EARL ACCEPTS ARMY AWARD

A Novi man, Claude O. Earl, has received an award for a Special Act of Benefit to the Government from the U.S. Army Tank-Automotive Command (TACOM), Warren.

Earl, a production planner in the Development and Engineering Directorate, was cited for the original and excellent manner in which he implemented necessary modifications to 35 Truck Tractors. These modifications in addition to adding to the workload, compounded the problem of meeting target schedules. Through his efforts all vehicles of this project were completed successfully, officials stated.

A 25 year employee of the Federal Government, Earl has been with TACOM for 21 years. TACOM is responsible for the engineering development, procurement, maintenance and spare parts supply for tracked and wheeled vehicles assigned to all the military services.

The award was presented by TACOM's Deputy Commander, Colonel George M. Bush.

Earl, a member of the Novi Board of Education, lives at 40670 10 Mile Road.

compass instruction classes were joined by 10 girl scouts of Troop 149 (Cadette) who were encamped nearby under the leadership of Mrs. Miller and Mrs. J. Tymensky. On Saturday all were divided into teams and took part in the night compass course. All the boys had plenty of food. Hot chocolate was served upon their arrival on Friday night at 8:30. Saturday and Sunday meals had bacon and eggs, french toast, venison goulash, hot cereals and milk. When not on scout activities, the boys enjoyed the ice skating and fishing. Also on Saturday they had visitors, Mr. and Mrs. Gerald Roscoe.

"Millionaire."

I was confined to bed and thought: I've tried people — no help. I can't help myself. No one's bring that cashiers check. I have one way I haven't tried. I have nothing to lose. I'd try God.

So that one Sunday for the first time I left the radio alone when a preacher came on and said in so many words if you have hatred in your heart for anyone this is SIN. I didn't argue or rationalize but said I am a sinner because I hate certain people. But he went on and told me there was a solution. God still loved me and was wanting to forgive me. I sought out through my nurse a Pastor to come to see me. I wanted pity but was so glad later I didn't receive it. He showed me in the Bible how Jesus forgave people just like me; that God sent Him in human form to reconcile me to Himself.

Now I saw God almighty had a plan for me. It was the best news I ever had. I read that Jesus fulfilled all the prophecy and His death satisfied God's conditions for righteousness.

It was incomprehensible, but I never was offered a better gift. I couldn't refuse forgiveness.

I took it and never have been sorry. It's not always easy but so rich and great. It's there for anyone.

Sincerely
Gloria Mayer
