CBD-CBP Rezoning Public Hearing Set May 6

A first step towards setting into motion the planning commission's proposed central business district (CBD) plan for the city of Northville will take place at a public hearing Tuesday evening, May 6.

The planning commission has called for two public hearings - one to establish the CBD area, and another to define the CBP (parking) area within the CBD.

The first hearing (both will be held on the same night) is not expected to cause much controversy.

Actually, CBD zoning is more liberal than the existing C-2 zoning within the business district in that it permits barber shops, beauty parlors and several other personal-service type businesses that are not permitted under the present C-2 zoning.

But CBP zoning is another matter.

In an attempt to remove many of the objections levelled at a hearing held on CBD-CBP rezoning in January, 1967, the planners decided to omit from rezoning at this time the two blocks south of Cady street which lie in the proposed CBD area.

This area, with the exception of the track, is presently zoned residential. Under the master plan for the central business district the area south of Cady would come under parking zoning. At the 1967 hearing many residents of the area protested that CBP zoning would reduce the value of their property.

While the area remains in the long-range plan for the total CBD, it will not be included in the rezoning action taken at the May 6 hearing.

Planners hope that the central business district will expand to the area below Cady street eventually, but have decided to preserve the residential zoning temporarily until a definite proposal for commercial and parking development takes place.

But the proposed CBP zoning faces more opposition than just below Cady street.

Specifically, the CBD plan envisions CBP (parking) zoning roughly forming a circle around the center-core shopping area. A ratio of three parking spaces per one square foot of retail floor area is required.

The entire CBD-CBP area is contained within a circular drive that follows Dunlap on the north, a new street projected on the south that is south of the present Cady street and in line with Beal, Wing street on the west and Hutton on the east.

Within the proposed CBP area there are a number of existing structures that would become non-conforming if rezoned. This would mean that buiness in these buildings could continue, but could not be expanded.

A motion was made at the last meeting of the planning commission to remove seven of these buildings from CBP and place them in CBD because cf their proximity to the central core and their soundness of structure.

The motion was voted down 6-2. Planners George Clark and Charles Freydl favored the exception. The specific buildings involved are Del's Shoes, the adjoining "Peterson" property, Brader's, D & C, the P & A Theatre, Spinning Wheel and Northville Insurance.

Those opposing the amendment to remove the seven buildings from CBP contend that the long-range balance of parking within the CBD area would be destroyed. And they objected specifically to pinpointing any changes to the existing plan unless, and until, requested for a specific purpose.

A compromise plan has been proposed, however, It might solve the knotty problem.

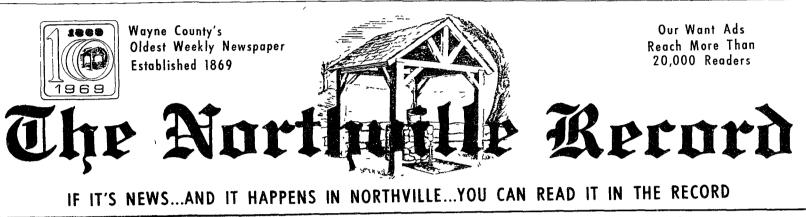

That would be to allow the seven buildings in question to remain zoned "C-2", to complete the rezoning of the remaining area and await developments in the future.

This would remove the "non-conforming" stigma that many hold objectionable.

Whatever action the planning commission takes, the rezoning must still go to the city council for another public hearing before actual rezoning can take place.

It is known, however, that planners are becoming impatient. They have prepared, studied and re-studied the central business district plan with consultants and citizens, in public hearings and private study sessions.

Now they'd like to pass along their ideas to the council so that the plans might become reality.

Incumbent Councilman Black Defeated

Folino, Rathert Elected

THE PLAN - This is how city planners see Northville's central business district of the future. Note the circular drive, shown here as a boulevard but what could become one-way counter-clockwise traffic, using existing streets with the exception of the southern portion which would be Beal street extended. The center dark area represents location of buildings, most as now exist, while the lighter shaded area would provide off-street parking. This map indicates the elimination of Main and Center streets through the business district, creating a shopping mall. But this is an unresolved matter that faces opposition from many merchants. A May 6 rezoning hearing has no bearing on the mall concept.

With 42.2 percent of the city's 2.635 registered voters turning out at the polls Monday, Paul Folino and Kenneth Rathert won election to the Northville City Council as the lone incumbent, Delbert Black, went down to defeat.

Paul Vernon and William Bingley finished fourth and fifth, respectively, behind third-place Black. Mayor A. With Allen, running unopposed, topped the ticket with 700 votes.

Rathert, who ironically was an early choice of Black as a running Precinct 2, which roughly includes that mate, edged the incumbent councilman by five votes -445-440.

But it was Folino, a hard-campaigner who barely lost out in a bid for council election two years ago, who came up with the biggest surprise. By claiming an overwhelming lead in the city's smallest precinct, he turned back strong bids by opponents in the other two precincts to capture the greatest number of council votes -495 for a 50-vote margin over Rathert.

The telling margin occurred in area east of Center Street in the Wayne County portion of the city. There, where 252 of the 705 registered voters cast ballots, Folino polled 162 votes -24 more than were cast for the unopposed mayor. None of the other council candidates could do better than 80 votes in this precinct which includes the area commonly referred to as Bealtown.

Elsewhere Folino was less successful. He finished second in Precinct 1, located west of the Center Street line, and fourth in Precinct 3, located in the Oakland County portion of the city.

Black was first in Precinct 1, Rathert third.

A total of 352 of the 848 registered voters cast ballots in Precinct 1, while 510 of the 1,082 registered electors in Precinct 3 voted.

Vernon, who with Folmo probably campainged the hardest of the candidates, finished lower than most had predicted. However, he did finish second in his own precinct (3) - 12and second in Precinct 2. Black and Bingley, who also live in Precinct 3 as does Rathert, finished at 199 and 139, respectively, in 3 -the largest of the precincts.

Black's upset and the early decision by Councilwoman Mrs. Beatrice Carlson not to seek re-election, means two new members will join Mayor Allen and Councilmen Charles Lapham and Wallace Nichols at the council table.

Both of the newcomers are Northville businessmen, both are in the insurance business, and both have supported the controversial master plan as it pertains to the central business district (CBD).

Monday's election may have been the fastest ever tabulated here. Election workers had the votes counted prior to 9 p.m., Clerk Mrs. Martha Milne reported.

Eighty-one absentee ballots were counted.

This year's turnout was light but not as poor as in 1967 when only 870 or 35 percent of the 2,468 registered

Beatrice Carlson bid fellow members goodby.

Several items on the Tuesday agenda were tabled by Mayor A. M. Allen until the April 21 meeting so that the new members can be involved in any actions that might be considered.

Headlining the short meeting was a report of street conditions in Northville Estates subdivision by City Engineer Harold Penn. Following the report, which showed several streets in need of repair, City Manager Frank Ollendorff was directed to secure bids on sealcoating.

Based on Penn's report, Ollendorff

Pure Zoning Case Heard

Wayne County Circuit Judge Nathan Kaufmann heard arguments from Pure Oil Company and the city of Northville last week and ordered briefs submitted before rendering a decision on the rezoning suit involving a Pure station at Main and Wing streets in Northville.

The company was denied rezoning to modernize and expand the station along Main Street.

In its appeal to the circuit court the oil company has maintained that C-2 zoning prohibiting service stations (and drive-in restaurants) is discriminatory.

While the oil company presented several expert witnesses to uphold their position, City Attorney Philip Ogilvie maintained that on the basis of Pure's argument the issue became a question of law-whether zoning can exclude certain businesses. City Planner Waldemar Johnson testified as to the reasons for excluding service stations from general retail shopping (C-2) areas

Testimony was heard two days last week. Briefs will be submitted by both sides within five weeks.

prepared so that the council can delete or add to the road work on a pro-rata basis. Ollendorff said the bids probably could be secured by early May.

In other business Tuesday, the council approved the proposed public improvement program "in principle" and set a May 5 public hearing to consider the total program. The motion to approve the program carried the added clause that its future enactment be based upon the financial ability of the city to carry it out.

Related discussion centered around establishment of two advisory committees on parks and housing. Members are expected to be appointed by the mayor prior to the public hearing.

HERE TONIGHT - State Attorney General Frank J. Kelley will be the featured speaker tonight at an inter-faith meeting sponsored by the Presbyterian Men's Club. An invitation has been extended to men from all community churches to hear the attorney general. Dinner will be served at the Fellowship Hall of the First Presbyterian church at 6:30 p.m. Ted Heckler, men's club president, is program chairman.

Act to Block Rezoning at Annual Meeting

Township Citizens Oppose Multiples

Eighty-three township voters attended the annual meeting Saturday afternoon forcing a change of location from the township hall to the board of education offices.

* Elected

While approving the budget as presented and the change of board meeting nights from the first to the second Tuesday of the month, the majority also:

-let it be known that it opposes further rezoning for multiple family dwellings;

-that there is a need for additional police service.

The question of police protection came up along with adoption of the budget. Eugene Guido introduced a motion to reduce the $12,000 provision for police to $6,000. He said that he thought that would be enough to pay for enforcement of the township's ordinances. Last year $4,800 was spent for township police service.

The Guido motion lost by a 46-21 vote.

While the supporters of Guido's motion agreed that some sort of additional police protection is needed in the township, they contended that the determination of the type of service should be made from results of a new study to be made by a citizen committee. Meanwhile, they favored a minimal expenditure for an officer to enforce hunting, trash and dog ordinances.

Supervisor Gunnar Stromberg explained that he had added two more members to the existing police study committee, Trustee Richard Mitchell and Wilson Tyler, a former township trustee.

He said that in his opinion one man is needed 40-hours per week to enforce township ordinances and make liquor license inspections. He said the latter would result in annual revenues of $2,000.

The supervisor indicated that the board would consider the study committee's advice in determining how extensive and what type of police protection should be added. Among the alternatives are contracts with the city of Northville, the Wayne County sheriff's department, or creation of a township department.

Opponents to cutting the budget for existing police protection insisted that even enforcement of present ordinances was not adequate within the township.

A Shadbrook resident complained about lack of dog-catcher service;

Donald Thomson pointed out that "the area's growing, we can't go backwards on police protection"; Melvin Mitchell, father of Trustee Richard Mitchell. argued that the township was "wasting time with studies, we need our own policeman and we'll still get assistance from the state police and sheriff". He added that he was against hiring "inefficient policemen from the city of Northville'

After the motion to reduce the police expenditure was defeated Melvin Mitchell moved for adoption of the $164,220 budget with a levy of one mill as provided by law. It passed with only three negative votes recorded.

James Nowka then proposed a resolution that the township attorney ruled out of order at an annual meeting.

Specifically, Nowka called for the prohibition of all multiple rezoning. His original motion limited the area of no multiple rezoning to that section of the township east of Beck Road. Later the majority of citizens caused the resolution to be amended to include the entire township.

Although the audience was obviously in near-unanimous agreement to prohibit further multiple rezoning, Supervisor Stromberg explained that he could not entertain such a motion in the face of advice from the township attorney that it would be illegal.

Trustee Bernard Baldwin also cautioned the citizens that such a resolution would serve to "pre-judge" all rezoning requests. A petitioner for rezoning could claim that he was not given a fair hearing and use the Continued on Page 12-A

One of the first projects of Northville-area Girl Scouts as they return to classes after spring vacation next week will be to distribute the Girl Scout cookies for which orders were taken last month.

A record order of 10,596 boxes is to arrive April 15, Northville cookie captain Mrs. Keith Pixley said, with distribution to begin April 16. This represents an increase of 200 cases, or 2,400 boxes, over last year's order.

The cookies will be turned over to individual troop cookie chairmen at St. Paul's Lutheran church cookie headquarters.

In five varieties - Scot teas, savannahs, chocolate mints, sandwich cremes and fudge cookies - they will be distributed by scouts who will collect 50 cents a box. The troop keeps five cents and the council, 21.

Plans also are being made to have cookies sold at a "cookie cupboard" to anyone wishing to buy and who did not order in advance

The following recipes are suggested by the Girl Scouts this year, using the cookies as a base

By last week Mrs. Slattery had all the usual day-by-day observances lined up for the week of May 18-24 and also had a growing list of women's groups making plans to share in the salute.

All women of the community are invited to attend the salute tea from 1 to 3 p.m. Wednesday, May 21, in the fellowship hall of First Presbyterian Church.

Guest-of-honor Beatrice Carlson will know first-hand that her feminine representation on Northville City Council and, most expecially, her work on Northville beautification are appreciated by her home town. She also is being honored for her years of work in heading the local Red Cross activities and in the founding and support of the Northville Business and Professional Women.

Groups participating in the salute are being invited to have table displays depicting the history and activities of their organizations.

Already working with Mrs. Slattery and representing their organizations are Mrs. Frank Ollendorff, Northville Newcomers Club; Mrs. Joel Rowley, League of Women Voters; Mrs. George Merwin, Sarah Ann Cochrane

Chapter, DAR; Northville Woman's Club, Mrs. C. H. Bryan; Mrs. Leonard Klein, Questers; Mrs. Harold Bloom, King's Daughters; Mrs. William Crump, Historical Society; and representatives of Town Hall, Northville Branch of the Women's National Farm and Garden Association; and

Northville Mothers' Club. A special invitation to attend also has been issued to the Northville Jaycettes, Senior Citizens and Northville State Hospital Auxiliary.

Mrs. Slattery observes happily that the organizations all "welcomed enthusiastically" the idea of such a salute, adding "We have quite a streak of patriotism at both local and national levels, as evidenced by the tribute paid the late President Eisenhower."

Phyllis Slattery's co-workers also must know that they are working with a gracious, talented organizer and that the salute will be a not-to-be-missed occasion. As she chairmaned Town Hall to its capacity crowds, committee workers found the diminutive Mrs. Slattery quietly checked and re-checked every detail to insure smooth operation. ...small wonder she "retired" to head the local garden group ... and now Michigan Week.

LEAGUE OF WOMEN Voters new provisional group for the Northville-Plymouth area is one of the organizations volunteering to participate fully in the Michigan Week celebration. In addition to being one of the sponsors of the Wednesday salute, members are hosting the coffee at city hall Monday, May 19, for guests on Mayor Exchange Day.

The local group is well launched on its first year and is getting acquainted with the league - and with each other - through general meetings, smaller unit meetings and a comprehensive bulletin edited by Mrs. Donald Stacy and supervised by President Rowley.

TOWN HALL's new chairman – Mrs. Nelson Hyatt – is to introduce Mme. Genevieve Dariaux, witty and elegant French fashion expert who will close the series here next 1968-69 Thursday.

Move 'Down the Street' To Mark 20th Anniversary

It was 20 years ago next Monday that a couple of young brothers opened a coin-operated laundro-mat with 17 machines at 144 North Center street.

The same brothers will celebrate their business partnership anniversary by moving down the street to Northville Laundry, 331 North Center street.

"Skip" and Harvey Ritchie have seen their business grow and change with the times.

First it was "Ritchie Bros. Laundromat", a coin-operated, fast-service operation that fit well into relatively close quarters. But as time passed, the public demanded more service and expansion was required.

Rouge Interceptor:

First there was shirt-pressing equipment, then flat-work ironing and dry cleaning service. More space was required so the boys installed equipment on the second floor.

Finally in July, 1967 came the big move. The Ritchie brothers bought out Northville Laundry and became full-fledged launderers.

But it took time, and money, to complete the transition. There was the installation of new equipment, particularly for shirt pressing. And the huge laundry building and facilities that they had acquired needed repairs and remodelling.

Now that's been accomplished, so

Monday Skip and Harvey will bid goodbye to 144 North Center street where it all began 20 years ago and centralize their service at Northville Laundry.

It's no longer a matter of providing change and keeping the coin-op machines in running order. Now it's a complete family laundry and dry cleaning service with three trucks covering 10 routes providing pick-up and delivery throughout the area.

And shirts? Well 50 per day was good production in the beginning. Now 900 can be washed, ironed and neatly packaged for customer pick-up or delivery.

1-0 in The Ninth Northville Nine Clips South Lyon

An unearned run in the ninth inning broke a pitching deadlock Tuesday and enabled Northville to post a 1-0 victory over visiting South Lyon in the traditional season opener.

Jeff Taylor scored the winning run on a perfect squeeze bunt by Dave Coe to break up the extra-inning affair. High school teams normally play seven innings

South Lyon errors set up the winning run. Taylor reached first base on an error, advanced to second on a

Caddie Gets University Scholarship

Jeff M. Adams, a Novi senior, has been awarded a Chick Evans college scholarship by the Golf Association of Michigan. He is one of 34 Michigan boys to receive scholarships - 14 to the University of Michigan and 20 to Michigan State University.

Announcement was made by Frank E. Kenney, Jr. of Detroit, chairman of the G.A.M.'s caddie-scholarship committee.

Adams, 17, is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Nat J. Adams of 2300 Shawood.; A caddie out of the Farmington Country Club, his scholarship is to the University of Michigan.

The latest awards bring to 489 the number of scholarships given by the G.A.M. since it affiliated in 1948 with the nationwide Evans Scholars Foundation, administered by the Western Golf Association in Golf, Illinois

The 34 Michigan winners are part of some 230 new Evans Scholars, announced nationwide at the conclusion of 10 selection meetings held throughout the nation.

There will be more than 100 G.A.M. Evans Scholars enrolled this fall at Michigan and Michigan State. These are two of 11 midwest universities at which the Foundation owns chapter houses which are managed and maintained by the scholars.

Each scholarship is valued at approximately $3,500.

Financial support for the program comes from more than 80,000 golfers, including 12,500 in Michigan who contribute annually to the James D. Standish, Jr. Fund.

To qualify for scholarship, a boy must caddie at least two years, must rank in the upper 25-percent of his high school graduating class and must require financial aid to attend college. Scholarships were awarded on a competitive basis using these factors.

sacrifice bunt, and when an attempted pick-off at second base went awry, he advanced to third.

Ironically, those were the only two errors in the ball game.

Tuesday's opening battle was strictly a pitching duel between lean right-hander Larry Roper, ace of the South Lyon pitching staff, and Northville's aces Taylor and Fred Holdsworth. Taylor worked the first four innings.

There were only five hits in the contest. Roper gave up three while going the route. He struck out 10, walked two (one intentionally) and had near-perfect control.

During his four-inning stint, righthander Taylor struck out 8, walked 1 and allowed one hit. Holdsworth, likewise a righthander, struck out 10, walked 1 and gave up one hit.

Tom Amrhein was the only South Lyon batsman with hits. He blooped a single to right field in the second off Taylor, and beat out an infield hit in the eighth inning against Holdsworth.

Stan Nirider led Northville with two hits, both of them sharp line-drive singles down the third base line. Pat Cayley also had a sharp single.

Although hitters were handcuffed, both teams had opportunities to score.

Northville loaded the bases in the sixth inning with only one out but failed to score. Nirider singled, moved to second on a sacrifice and to third on a passed ball. Cayley, who previously had hit loud fouls over the leftfield fence, was walked intentionally and 'Taylor, given nothing good to hit, also walked. But Terry Mills struck out and Coe bounced back to Pitcher Roper for an easy out.

South Lyon had its chance in the eighth inning. Amrhein reached first on an infield hit and Duane Fallot walked to put two men on base with only one out. But Mickey Cole popped to deep short and Dave Perkins went down swinging to end the threat.

South Lyon Coach Dick Moon lauded both teams for playing well in their first outing, especially the pitchers and defenses.

But it was a unique experience for the man who has led South Lyon to two consecutive Southeastern Conference championships. That mark of 18 strikeouts is the most a Moon-coached team has suffered in his 10-year coaching career.

"Northville," Moon stated, "is really a tough ball club. Once they get their batting eye, look out." He added that the same holds true for his varsity ball players.

Volley Ball Fun On Tap

Start of a seven-week women's ass, sponsored by the Northville Recreation Department, was announced this week by Recreation Director Robert Prom. First class will begin at 8 p.m. on Monday. Two hour classes will be held each Monday thereafter until completion at Ida B. Cooke Junior High School.

A workshop program to assist leaders of girl scouts, boy scouts and camp fire girls in the Detroit Metropolitan Area will be held at Kensington Metropolitan Park near New Hudson on Saturday, May 24.

The program will start at 9:30 a.m.

John Stuyvenberg, Fred Hicks Shine

Northville's track squad piled up fewer points than the Mustangs did a year ago at East Lansing but the 1969 edition of thinclads finished higher in the standings.

Competing against 62 Michigan Class "B" teams, Northville finished fifth with nine points - three fewer points than the Mustangs garnered last year in taking seventh place in the state meet

Accounting for all nine Northville points were Sophomore John Stuyvenberg, who took first place in the long jump with a leap of 21' 11/2", and Senior Fred Hicks, who won second in the shot put with a heave of 49' 6%"

The first place was worth five points, second place four points.

The Mustangs took three sixth places - just out of the point category. "Taking into consideration the competition we faced at MSU I can only be pleased with the squad's showing. And had we been a hair closer in a couple of events we might have done even better.

Redmond had special praise for Stuyvenberg who came up with his winning leap on his last try. Until then Curt Shaw of Three Rivers was leading with a jump of $20^{\circ} 10\frac{1}{2}^{\circ}$.

"Normally, a jumper does best early because he's fresh and at his strongest," said Redmond. "But John had to come from behind - and he had to do it while racing in-between in the 60 yard dash finals.

"He was exhausted but determined.3

Stuyvenberg, who took sixth in the dash with a time of 6.8 (he was ninth at Eastern), finished first in the Huron Relays a week ago with a leap of 20' 5½"

Hicks couldn't duplicate his put on 50' 21/2" registered at Eastern, but his second place toss at MSU was nevertheless impressive. First place was won by Tom Witte of Olly with a put of 50' 7"

Besides Stuyvenberg's sixth place in the dash, other sixth places won by Northville included the two-mile relay.

and the mile relay, Greg Marshall, a senior, excelled in both events. He ran a 2:03 half in the two mile and turned in a 53.0 time in the mile relay.

 Triangular Set Today

What originally was slated to be a scrimmage early this week has blossomed into a special triangular meet today involving Northville, Novi and Dearborn Riverside.

Action will get underway in Northville at 4 p.m. Riverside is considered a tough

pponent for the two local squads

The two-mile relay squad, which was clocked at 8:33, included Marshall, Paul Bedford (2:08), Chris Kline (2:13), and Phil Kennedy (2:09).

The mile relay team, clocked at 3:40, included Marshall, Glen Heffner, Al Earehart and Bedford.

Other performances to win praise of the coach included:

-Dave Mitchell, a young sophomore who won his preliminary heat in the 70 yard low hurdles but lost out in the semi-finals.

-Rick Pickren, who finished among the top three in the preliminary heat of the 70 yard high hurdles before elimination in the semi-finals.

-Shuttle relay team (Mitchell, Dave Veresh, Ed Beller and Jeff Dawson), which clipped a second off its EMU time, running 31.5. The squad won in the preliminaries, finishing fast enough to be matched with the four fastest finalists.

Net, Golf Coaches See Ray of Hope

Tennis Coach Jack Townsley sees hopes for his Mustang netters but has little else to work with after two consecutive early season losses.

Golf Coach Al Jones doesn't face his first match until a week from tomorrow, and he hopes the inconsistency his boys have shown in the past will be erased by maturity.

Northville's tennis squad opened with a 7-0 pasting at the hands of Walled Lake, then finished fourth in he quadrangular meet Saturday at Wayne John Glenn. The latter event gave some evidence of future hopes for Townsley as Northville managed three points and number one singles player Chuck Skene won a tough preliminary match. John Glenn won with 10 points while Ypsilanti scored eight and Apsilanti Roosevelt 7 in the quad. has a fine number two singles player returning in Bruce Grysiewicz. Others from which he must select remaining singles performers and top doubles competitors are Marc Sheffer, Mark Gazlay, Vince Parent and Gary Harper.

Townsley is also giving a long look to Bill Pink, John Balkwill, Curt Saurer and Steve Penrod, especially for his doubles squads.

Jones has everyone back from last year, but their performance was mediocre then and inconsistency was costly. He hopes Seniors Bill Thomas, Dan Condon, Tom Fagan and John Eberhart and Juniors Jim Penrod and Ken Neisch, all of whom saw action last year, have decided to settle down to good consistent golf this year and carry the club to more wins.

Stars On TV

Doug Swiss, former Northville High School catching star, was the star of a half-hour feature on Channel 2 television Monday from 9:30 to 10 p.m.

A catcher in the Detroit Tiger organization, Swiss narrated and was the primary featured player in "The Long Trail to Tiger-Town", a spring training special on a player's progress.

The University of Michigan student is not apt to see much action in the Tiger farm system this year, however, as he leaves April 21 for six months active duty with the Army at Fort Ord, California. He hopes to keep himself in the running for a future major league shot by playing on the Fort Ord post team this summer.

Page 12-A Three Injured In Two Crashes from the Oakland County Juvenile

Three persons required treatment at Botsford Hospital as a result of two separate accidents last week in Novi.

Walter Fox of 347 South Wing Street, westbound on Ten Mile Road on Good Friday, pulled out into the path of a car driven by Robert Mitts who was traveling north on Novi Road. Both cars were extensively damaged and Casterline transported both drivers to Botsford for treatment. There were no passengers in either car.

Thomas J. Starbowki of Detroit. traveling alone, failed to negotiate the 90 degree turn from East Lake Drive onto Novi Road and hit some rocks on the west side of the road. The collision threw him through the windshield and he suffered a deep gash on the right side of his neck which required treatment at Botsford. *****

In a separate accident in which none was injured seriously enough to required hospitalization, Roy W. White of Howell failed to notice the car in front of him, driven by Calvin C. Fix of Mt. Clemens, had stopped on Novi Road preparatory to making a left turn onto the entrance to I-96.

Neither driver nor White's passenger, Jessie White, was badly injured, but White was issued a ticket alleging failure to stop in a safe clear distance. He was to appear in Judge Martin Boyle's court today. *********

Placed on a $1000 personal bond for gross indecency was Fred Knight of 44240 Grand River. The offense occurred on March 31 and Knight awaits his examination before District Court Judge Martin Boyle in Walled Lake.

Two juveniles are missing from Novi homes. Both were reported as missing on March 31, one from Country Cousins Trailer Home (the 16-year old boy had not been seen since four days prior) and the other Home in which he had been placed following his being returned to Novi from California a few days earlier.

It is thought that perhaps the Juvenile Home escapee may have stolen another car to make his getaway. If so, it would be the fifth such theft since he moved to Meadowbrook Lake with his parents recently.

On the happier side of the news, nine Novi police officers and dispatchers received certificates of award from the Police and Juvenile Court Seminar on Michigan Juvenile Court Rules which they attended in February. They were commended for their "untiring efforts" on behalf of juvenile work in the area.

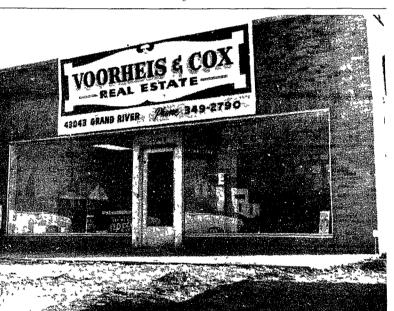

Named were Police Corporal Gordon Nelson, Officers John Johnson, Frank Barabas, Jack Grubb, Robert Starnes and Gerald Burnham and Dispatchers Jean Clarke, Ann Marchewitz and Shirley Yorch.

Money, Tires Stolen Here

Thefts of money from a wallet and tires from a display rack were the most prominent cases under investigation by Northville police last week.

Majorie Louton of 326 East Cady reported her wallet was taken from her purse in the high school kitchen on April 3 probably while she was at lunch. The wallet was found two days later on the grounds of Eastlawn Convalescent Home, but the $74 which had been in it were missing.

The tires were stolen by breaking the padlock and removing all eight of them from the outdoor display rack at Asher Pure Station at Rogers and Seven Mile sometime between the evening of Good Friday and 7 a.m. Saturday.

For Pioneer Golf Bunkers Just Ant Hills

Those bunkers and roughs over Mother sent me to the nearest on Novi's Bob-O-Link Golf Course may seem hazardous today but they're just ant hills compared to the swamps, brush and trees that farmers battled there more than 100 years ago.

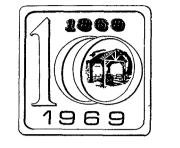

Marvin Bogart, one of the most colorful pioneers of the Novi-Wixom area, told of those battles against nature in a story that appeared in The Northville Record in 1933. It will be published in its entirety in the Record's centennial edition next July.

Bogart, who died in 1938 at the age of 98, was a close friend of the late Henry Ford and grandfather of E. M. Bogart, formerly of Northville and now living in Plymouth. Ford frequently was a visitor at Bogart's Wixom home.

His father settled on what is now Bob-O-Link after selling out an 80-acre farm in the heart of what is now downtown Detroit. "When we came to Novi Township," wrote Bogart in 1933, "we moved into a shack of a house of two rooms with no chamber. It contained a large stone fireplace with a split stick chimney plastered with clay. Matches were a scarce article in those days and one morning when we got up the fire had gone out.

neighbor, a quarter of a mile away, with an old pan to get some coals to start our fire ... ' "In 1867," he wrote, "there was no Wixom, but West Novi was on the map with capital letters. For west Novi had a building that contained a post office, a cabinet room that made and repaired all kinds of furniture, even coffins; and a moulding room and blacksmith shop with two forges which employed three men, constantly shoeing horses. But as soon as the railroad made its appearance and the town of Wixom was born West Novi made its farewell bow leaving only a little red schoolhouse."

Subscribers will receive their special centennial edition free, but all others must pay $1 for each copy. See advertisement on Page

Dale Tells Board ' I Must Have Help'

A Novi Board of Education battle appears to be brewing over the possibility of hiring an assistant school superintendent.

Sparks flared last week when Superintendent Thomas Dale, whose recent illness was attributed in part to overwork, made it clear that he cannot continue in his capacity without assistance.

(The superintendent, who became ill several weeks ago and at the suggestion of the board took a short vacation, has stated the illness was diagnosed as a nervous breakdown. In his absense, High School Principal Gerald Hartman was named acting superintendent and since Dale's return Hartman has been assisting the superintendent).

The matter came up Wednesday when Dale read a memorandum to him (Dale) by Hartman in which the principal suggested that if an additional administrator is contemplated next fall board action should be considered soon. Trustee Vern DeWaard asked whether an administrator was leaving and was told by the superintendent that he (Dale) would be forced to leave unless the board provides for an additional administrator. He reminded the board that it had made a temporary appointment (Hartman), that it had considered hiring an assistant for next year but that it had not yet made its intentions public.

Hartman, flustered that his memorandum to Dale had been read aloud, quickly emphasized that he was not now nor had he ever asked for a superintendent's role. The purpose of his memorandum, he said, was to point out that if an addition is contemplated the decision should be made soon so that search for the administrator can begin

Asked specifically if he would accept an assistant superintendent post, Hartman declined to answer, suggesting instead that in the event an assistant superintendent post is authorized he might become an applicant along with others.

The principal, however, made it clear that serving as both a principal and an assistant to the superintendent left him with too little time to do justice to his duties as principal.

Then DeWaard pressed for answers on Dale's health. The superintendent indicated his health is now good, but DeWaard was not satisfied even though Trustee William MacDermaid and others supported the superintendent in his remarks.

"I think we should be more concerned for work not done. Since Mr. Dale hasn't been able to perform at 100-percent capacity we should determine what should be done," DeWaard said.

The matter was finally dropped when the board suggested that the superintendent make a recommendation at the next meeting. *****

Earlier in the evening, the board accepted the recommendation of Hartman that Junior High Principal Jack Jordan's work year be extended for five weeks into the summer with an increase in salary of $1,126. His present salary is $12,268. Jordan is to assume the junior high scheduling work preparatory to the opening of school that until now has been handled by the high school principal.

In other personnel matters, the board voted to continue the tenure status of 33 teachers, to advance 14 teachers from probation to tenure status, to change 16 teachers from first year probation to second year probation, to change two teachers from second year probation to third year. and to not offer contract renewals for two teachers.

require a public vote to adopt such a resolution.

Nowka carefully explained that his motion was not intended as a criticism of the planning commission or board of trustees. But he said that the density of population in the township was becoming a matter of concern and that under the township's existing master plan some 1,040 multiple dwelling units had been proposed. "We now have a total of more than 2,000 already approved with more to come", he stated.

He said the resolution represented a reaffirmation of the master plan.

Finally, a "straw vote" was taken and Nowka's resolution opposing multiple rezoning passed nearly unanimously.

It was later pointed out that citizens opposing any rezoning issue may appear at public hearings called by the planning commission and let their objections be known.

Even if such petitions for rezoning are approved, they must still go to the township board for adoption. Although the board does not hold a second public heating, citizens may appear before the board and voice their objections.

additional 2 C.F.S. in sewer capacity in the Middle Rouge system to meet the new building demands and that another 2 C.F.S. may be purchased from Livonia to handle growth until 1985.

The supervisor also pointed out that a contract with the state to provide water for Northville State Hospital was making it possible to install additional water lines. He said survey work was complete and that the system would be in operation by September. The new lines will extend from Eight Mile road to Seven Mile (at Meadowbrook country club) and southwest to Six Mile and then west to Sheldon road. If funds permit, he said the lines would be extended east and west on Six and Seven Mile roads.

As the meeting closed, Melvin Mitchell pointed out that action should have been taken against school officials for permitting four-letter-word literature into the classroom at the high school.

He said they should be removed and that "our lax editor just called it a mistake". When he was told that this was a matter of business for the school board, he said he knew it but wanted the public to be aware of it and point it out "while the editor is here".

Christ is Risen

A bright spring sunlight added to the joy of the occasion Easter Sunday morning as hundreds of area worshipers attended church services marking the Resurrection of Christ. And just as the sunlight seemed to emphasize the joyons occasion, so to an overcast sky that brought heavy rains on Good Fridav reminded Christians of the Crucifixtion of their Savior. Here at Out Lady of Victory, as at dozens of other area churches, worshipers prepare to hear the Easter message.

rare individual who won't pause to watch it, and, to most of us, it is perhaps a symbol of unsurpassed freedom.

Yet, in flying a kite there is need for control, or it will soon crash. What was sheer loveliness will become a crumpled heap of sticks and torn paper. This is true of many things that catch our fanciestrue also of many of our dreams.

In this life, we need to learn the difference between the things that endure and those that are as flimsy as a kite in the wind. We need to learn control, courage and faith. None of these comes easily, but the first step will be found in the teachings of-your church. Have you been going to church lately?

Levitt Breaks Ground in Troy

Levitt and Sons, Incorporated, which soon will develop a large parcel of Northville land, recently broke ground for a new community called Windmill Pointe located at Troy, Michigan - 18 miles north of Detroit.

More than 280 homes are planned for the $9-million project which will open early this summer. First occupancy is scheduled for late summer.

Levitt's Detroit regional manager, Irwin Adler, explained that a prime consideration in the selection of Windmill Pointe as the site of the project was "progressive government by Troy officials who are planning quality expansion and solid tax base for their rapidly growing area." The population of Troy has almost doubled in the last eight years – from 19,000 to 35,000.

Models are being selected for the Windmill Pointe community from the newest and most successful 1968 Levitt designs. All models, which range in price from $27,000 to $35,000, will have fireplaces.

Models being offered include-

The CARLTON: A three-bedroom ranch house selected from Levitt's 60 production designs for Windmill Pointe, was picked from Levitt's 1968 prototype program. Although the Carlton design is only six months old, the house is one of the most popular designs.

The ARLINGTON: A two-story Dutch Colonial that contains three bedrooms, two baths and a powder room. Features of the Arlington include a gambrel roof, 19-foot living room, separate laundry room, and a country-style kitchen with counters that extend from inside the kitchen through sliding windows to outside serving counters.

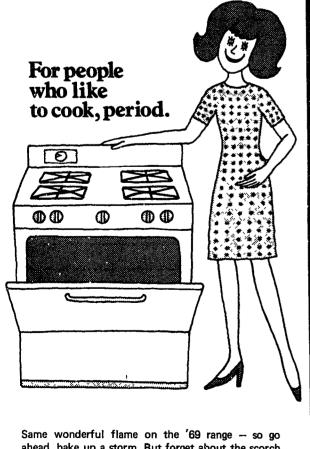

New designs being offered include-

-A four-bedroom ranch house, designed by Levitt specifically for the Windmill Pointe community, has been approved for construction. It is being built now in Levitt's 1969 prototype program at a Long Island site.

-A four-bedroom colonial with a 22-foot living room across the front of the house, a panelled family room with exposed beam ceiling, and two and a half baths. The "island" kitchen has a free-standing counter with seating arrangement in addition to regular dining area.

Novi Schools Face

Financial Crisis

Last week was a busy one for Walled Lake District Court Judge Martin Boyle, especially with Novi offenders as committers of everything from low misdemeanors to felonies paraded before the judge.

Allen L. Penoyer of Dearborn Heights was brought in from Southern Michigan Prison at Jackson where he is. serving time for violation of probation from Wayne County. Penoyer is accused of the rape of a Novi woman in December.

Penoyer's four and one-half hout trial Friday resulted in a charge of assault with attempt to commit rape. He was remanded to Jackson until a Oakland County Circuit Court date can be set.

David L. Greer of Highland Hills Trailer Park on Seeley Road appeared on the charge of felonious assault stemming from March 16 beating of his wife with a shotgun. He pleaded innocent to that charge, but guilty to an added count of assault and battery. He was given 30 days deferred sentencing to seek help and to report back to court to satisfy it that he has done so.

Other trial cases scheduled to be heard were not heard for different reasons – Lionele Jackson's attorney requested and got a three week postponement in his narcotics trial and Lyle Thompson failed to appear for leaving the scene of a property damage accident. A bench warrant was issued for his arrest.

Carrying a concealed weapon on February 27 brought Detroiter Leo R. Dempsey before Judge Boyle. He was assessed $100 or 10 days and jail and was given until today to make payment.

Florence M. Marini of 28180 Dixon learned it can be costly to burn without a permit. A fire she set got out of hand on March 17 and she paid $35 in Judge Boyle's court-last week as a result.

Appearing on Friday for no driver's license, Marion D. Vanover of 227 East Lake Drive was assessed $50 for the March 17 offense.

Two young people pleaded guilty to having been minors in possession of alcoholic beverages. Richard Corpolongo and Diane Cristini paid $25 each.

Otha Housley of Detroit was arrested on two counts on Sunday. He was found innocent Monday of driving while his ability was impaired, but guilty of driving on a revoked license. He was fined $50 costs and three days in Oakland County Jail. He is to receive two additional days in jail if the costs are not paid.

All the above assessments contain the mandatory $3 judgment fee per offense.

Hits $588 Here

Latest count in the 1969 Easter Seal Campaign shows that a total of $588 has been contributed from Northville. The total for communities throughout Western Wayne County has climbed to $32,254.33.

Two school aid bills which would provide special financial relief for the hard-pressed Northville School District have been introduced by State Representative Marvin R. Stempien, Democrat of Livonia.

"The bills," said the former Northville city attorney, "would recognize specialized financial problems "

Specifically, the bills would furnish relief for school districts such as Northville that include in their boundaries excessive amounts of non-taxable state, county or city properties.

Stempien pointed out that between 30 and 40 percent of the land in the Northville district is publicly owned and tax free. "This," he said. "puts a tremendous burden on the taxpayers of the district."

crisis before the year is out.

One of the bills would require the state treasurer to appraise all state owned lands in districts which have a large proportion of their property under public ownership. If the appraisal finds that the state-owned land amounts to ten per cent or more of the state equalized valuation of the school district, an additional amount of state aid would be allowed by the Stempien formula. "In other words," Stempien explained, "this amounts to a payment by the state of the money it would be assessed for local school taxes if its land was on the school district tax rolls.'

The second bill would add to the normal state aid special allocations for pupils who live on state lands but attend school in the public school district. The bill would also include payments. It may borrow - if the children who reside on a county or municipally-owned property in the district. In order to be counted as a state connected pupil the child would have to reside with a parent or legal guardian employed on the publicly-owned property.

The school district would receive a sum equal to the school operating property tax levy per pupil in the district.

"This," Stempien said, "would meet the needs of school districts like Northville which have an obligation to educate children who live on non-taxable properties that provide no income for the district."

The lawmaker also introduced a third bill that would create a $3,305,000 state fund to assist local school districts in the construction of new buildings necessary because of the state's school reorganization act.

A special pancake dinner will be served up by the Wixom Elementary PTA on Tuesday, April 22, Publicity Chairman Jean Lentz announced this week.

Area residents will be able to get a first-hand look at the new Walled Lake Western High School at two open houses set for April 20 and 27.

The new school, located on Beck Road near Pontiac Trail, will be open from 11 a.m. to 4 p.m. on the above dates. Guides will be available and all interested citizens are urged to attend. Opening of the new school, which is set for next fall, hinges on the passage of the April 29 millage proposition.

Guests will be asked to remain at the school, take a look around the building and then have that second or third cup of coffee, the publicity chairman said. At this time Dr. Garver and Clark will present slides and field questions on the April 29 millage issue.

While adults are so occupied, a baby-sitting room will be in operation for the younger children and a movie will be shown to the older children.

"All members of the community are urged to attend and not only enjoy a good meal but be better informed on the millage issue," she said.

system next fall, Superintendent Thomas Dale reported to the board of education last week. But borrowing money with today's prime interest rate, he explained, will be no easy matter. Under the law, said Dale, school districts cannot pay more than 4-percent interest and banking institutions will be chary of making such low-interest loans. Borrowing is an annual necessity of many school districts such as Novi because of the late arrival of state aid and the payment of school taxes. Last year. Novi borrowed $200,000 and had to pay out an interest of $3,300. Ironically, the district is solvent and is expected to end the 1968-69 school year "in the black". But it will start the 1969-70 school year, Dale predicted, with just enough money to pay for summer employment. Until it receives its first state aid payment next fall it will not have sufficient funds to meet its initial bills, he said.

The superintendent reminded the

The concert in Cincinnati Music Hall will include the group from Miami University at Oxford, along with the CSO, Brubeck and selected soloists. Its purpose is to help meet expenses of taking the A Cappela Singers along on the CSO European concert tour which begins May 17.

SPECIAL ADVANCE

Januz Seeks College Seat

A Plymouth Township man has become the second candidate for an at-large seat on the Schoolcraft College Board of Trustees.

Lauren R. Januz, president of the Lake Pointe Homeowners Association, tossed his hat into the political ring this past week with a blast at "student obscenity and faculty disrespect for decency" at Schoolcraft.

A week ago, Dr. Robert Geake of Northville Township, announced his candidacy for an at-large seat.

Trustees at-large represent the five school districts served by the college – Northville, Plymouth, Livonia, Clarenceville, and Garden City. In addition, each school district elects its own representative. Northville's representative, William Secord, was elected two years ago and his term has another four years to run.

Trustees are elected on a non-partisan basis for six years.

Candidates have until April 22 to file petitions for the June 9 election.

In announcing his candidacy, Januz, who lives at 41444 Ivywood Lane, commented:

"We have a fine educational complex at Schoolcraft, but a relatively small number of dissident students and faculty members who are sympathetic to the extreme left-wing student movements have turned Schoolcraft into a near-chaotic situation since January 1st.

"As of today, five faculty members have been disciplined for signing a two-word petition that was alleged to be obscene, one student was kicked out of school for wearing an obscene sweatshirt to class, three students have been brought to trial on obscenity charges for shouting a two-word obscenity at the board of trustees in an open meeting of over 300 people, and a faculty member is awaiting trial in Livonia Police Court for using obscenities at the same public meeting.

"Action taken by the board has not been commensurate with the vile nature of their actions..."

Januz, 30, is sales manager for a major national manufacturing company, and he holds college credits from Lake Forest College, Northwestern University and the University of Detroit.

ENTED MY SUDSCONDUCTION

Because of the number of demonstrations, it isn't surprising that the modern image of a college campus differs sharply from the ancient past when one viewed the scene as three-parts study and one-part fun and football.

But there's more than one kind of revolution taking place on today's campuses. And recently one of the young revolutionists introduced me to his crusade.

His name is Doug Sutherland. He's the son of a longtime friend and advisor to me, Donald Sutherland who heads up a CPA firm in Plymouth.

Doug was graduated this year from Michigan State University with a degree as a civil engineer. Upon graduation he announced to his parents that he was chucking his chosen career, at least for the time being, to become a fulltime revolutionist.

Doug is joining the Campus Crusade for Christ.

His salary won't approach the figure being offered young engineers these days. As a matter of fact, he must seek out his own "sponsors" so that he may become a missionary.

He talks of the compensation in terms that are difficult to relate to the customary means of measuring success.

Right now he is excited about his first assignment - the campus at Eastern Michigan University. And he'll tell everyone who will listen how he became swept up in this revolution.

I recorded some of Doug's remarks. Here they are, verbatim.

$\star \star \star \star$

"I spent the first 20 years of my life not really knowing whether there was a God or not. I thought if there was one, he'd show himself to me.

"My senior year in high school I really started to search for the existance of God. I moved into college still not knowing. It was my junior year in college that I took a girl to a fraternity rush party. Half way through the evening she began to share with me what happened in her life when she let Jesus Christ come in and take control of her life. She just bubbled when she talked about it. I never heard anyone talk about Christ and be that excited.

"So I sat around the fraternity house several hours that night really hoping that what she said was true, because this is what I was looking for... a personal relationship with God. I shared it with my roommate, too, and he got kind of excited about it.

"We went over and talked to a couple of staff members for the Campus Crusade for Christ. They had this same relationship with Christ as the girl. I remembered that I was worried that if I made this commitment, well, there goes all my fun. My conception of Christianity was doing the 10 most things you don't want to do and giving up the 10 most things you want to do.

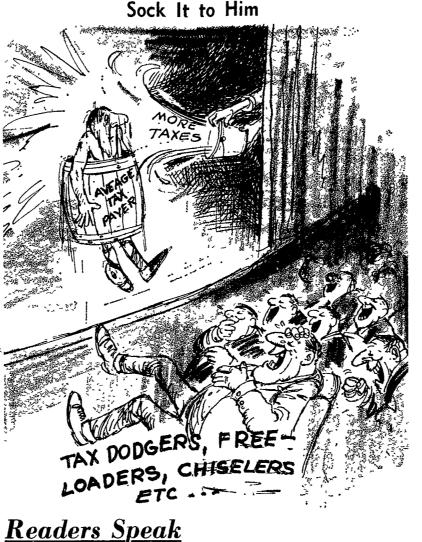

"They asked me if I had ever asked Christ to come into my life. So that night I asked Christ... and my roommate did also. My life was totally changed. I decided to work' fulltime on the staff of the Campus Crusade for Christ. I graduated as a civil engineer... I always wanted to do construction work and I knew there'd be good money in it and yet now I'm doing exactly what I want to do.

"I find this has changed a lot of kids lives at Michigan State, and this includes the radical element, too. That's one reason why I'm so fired up about being part of this because I know what's going on on college campuses. I know there's a lot about it in newspapers, but I think it's even more of an acute problem."

\star \star \star \star

In addition to working on campuses, like EMU, Doug shares his new-found discovery wherever youngsters gather... on the beaches in Florida ("I used to be sitting there with them") ... in fraternity houses... at dances.

It is estimated that more than 90 percent of the 6,400,000 college students in the USA have no active personal contact with Christ and the church. But a survey reports that 80 percent are searching for a faith.

Appreciates Support

To the Editor:

We wish to express our appreciation to the amazingly large number of concerned residents who attended the Northville Township Annual Meeting, lending support to our position against further proliferation of multiple dwelling residential within Northville Township.

It must be understood that there was no intent on our part to criticize or attack any action that has been taken to date by the Planning Commission or Township Board. Our intent was to establish an awareness on the part of the Township residents of a growing problem that has come to severe proportions with the approval of the Levitt development in regard to multiple dwelling residential land use. There may be some who contend that the introduction of our resolution was an over-reaction to the situation. However, as a direct result of that annual meeting, there should be no, question of the unmistakable feeling of the Township residents against more multiple developments.

At this point one might not be aware of the rapid growth of the Township since many parcels of now vacant land are only in the preliminary stages of development. Therefore, it is necessary to visualize what now exists together with what is forthcoming for a total picture of the future Northville Township. The prospect is alarming.

The Master Plan was designed as a

We must not be complacent. We must be constantly aware of the rapid changes occurring in our Township and take active part ourselves in planning for any such change. The future of our community is at stake.

Seeks Names Of Sericemen

To the Editor:

Perhaps I should introduce myself. My name is Blanche Lakish. I have been writing letters to our service men over two years now. I decided to keep up the moral support for our service men. So I thought we would write letters. Since we can not go there in person because we are not actors or comedians so here is our patriotic spirit and willingness to do nice deeds for our military men.

I am running out of names and addresses and wonder if you can help me? I would appreciate it very much if you can help me. We are just an ordinary American family and vote as one. I am sending you an article that one of the newspapers put in the paper of what I am doing and this will also help to verify of who I am.

I thank you very much for taking

What we all like are decisions that are black and white. Unfortunately, most aren't that way, and we end up second guessing ourselves as to whether we indeed took the right action.

In "The Choice," a one-hour TV production that appeared on Channel 4 recently, there is no convenient right or wrong, only the grey of whether a man should live or die.

This is the role usually relegated to generals or military men, whose job it is to decide quite objectively to take the hill in the face of deadly fire or to wait for another day and perhaps save a few lives. In "The Choice", the decision takes place in a hospital and it concerns one of the pulsating moral issues of our day.

That issue is whether a man is indeed dead although his heart may be pumping. But in Sunday's production, a first for TV, "the choice'' was even more complicated. Whether to give the heart to an aging diplomat or to a young pianist, both of whom are terminal heart cases.

Up to Sunday's production, these were largely academic issues with only the semblance of real-life stories. "The Choice" made it dramatically vivid.

Both patients, by all indications, were equally good risks. Chances are that the heart would "take" in either case. All things equal then, it was the task of the doctor to make the decision.

He chose the young pianist as the recipient. At 28, he had barely begun to live. Furthermore, he had a wife and two children. The diplomat, on the other hand, was, old and had many full years to remember.

Still, the terrible burden of the doctor's decision was palpable. For, in essence, he was assuming the role of God, deciding what man will live and what one will die. This is the prospect as man continues his unbelievable progress in medicine and pushes on to new horizons.

"The Choice," however, did not present the ultimate quandry. But it is conceivable that it will arise before man is through. One can only wonder what the doctor's decision would have been if both the prospective recipients had been the same age.

Melvyn Douglas, the erstwhile actor of stage and screen, was the captivating figure in this one-hour drama filmed in Canada and actually containing excerpts of a heart transplant.

Douglas brought to the role of the elderly diplomat a sublime dignity and valor in the face of death that gave him tragic, larger-than-life proportions. Here was a man admittedly in his twilight years, yet one who wanted to live.

The choice was not his, however. But how he would face death was his choice. And he triumphed over it by facing it with human dignity.

Campus Crusade, which began in the early fifties on the campus of UCLA, has now gone international. It is undertaking a Christian crash program aimed at the nation's campuses.

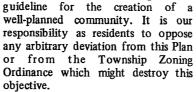

It is not burning draft cards, opposing American foreign policy or pointing up the hypocrisy in the adult world.

It is attempting to introduce Christ into the lives of tomorrow's leaders.

It's a different kind of revolution.

"There's absolutely no problem in placing pure vanilla babies - but finding parents in white neighborhoods for the multi-flavored ones is an extremely difficult task."

Mrs. Donald McDonald, a social worker, wasn't trying to be cute; she was deadly serious about this business of hers of trying to find homes for unwanted babies.

She came into our office last week seeking some help for the Farmington branch of the Michigan Children's Aid Society - a United Fund financed agency - and she left me with the feeling that people would rather buy vari-colored puppies than adopt bi-racial babies.

I'd like to think people prefer puppies to babies because they're less expensive; five bucks will get you a mixture of cocker spaniel and terrier at the county pound and they'll even toss in the vaccinations. But a baby... well a baby always makes demands on your time and pocketbook.

I'd like to think money makes the difference but why kid ourselves. It doesn't. Nobody likes a half-breed - not even the cowboy on my television screen.

******

Take the little guy in the picture for instance. His name's Gregory. He's not quite a year old and he's looking for a home with real parents. But who'd ever want him? Especially here in our area? This kid doesn't know it but he's going to be out of diapers and into long pants and he'll probably still be looking.

Now if I were to carry a picture of a puppy in his place and describe it the way Mrs. McDonald describes Gregory – "cuddly, placid, brown curly hair, an absolute dream" - my phone would dance right off the desk with takers.

Like hundreds of others, Gregory's not all vanilla. He's got an olive-colored skin. His parents were black and white. Others are cowboy half-breeds... you know, the Indian kind, and some of these kids have a mixture of Mexican parentage. They're alike in only one way; they insist on acting like ordinary babies. They love, they cry, they

by JACK W. HOFFMAN

laugh and they even smell like vanilla babies. Believe it or not.

GREGORY...A Demanding Baby "Isn't there someone who could love me?"

And to make matters worse they aren't satisfied with boarding homes and temporary parents. They want the real thing ... white or black or yellow or red... any color but real parents. Imagine that!

******

"We've never placed a bi-racial baby in your area," said Mrs. McDonald. "I may be wrong but I've got a hunch if you get any calls they won't be from people who want Gregory. Bi-racial babies in white homes is touchy.

"Someday, maybe, things will change. Until then, well, we just can't give up on these babies."

Anyway, Mrs. McDonald and her boss, Mrs. Thelma Bell, are hawking babies, as crude as it may sound. And because there are so many like Gregory with so few takers they are turning to this area for Łelp.

So just in case there's someone who would prefer a baby to a puppy - someone who could satisfy Gregory's demands - call 476-4451. He's had his vaccinations, too!

Michigan Mirror Water Bond Issue 'Pork Barreling' Feared

LANSING - Everyone wants clean water, but there's disagreement in the state Legislature over whose streams should get first priority under the $335 million anti-pollution bond issue.

Attempts are afoot to earmark the funds for individual projects rather than letting the State Water Resources Commission say how the money should be spent.

And Gov. William G. Milliken is visibly upset with apparent attempts to "pork barrel" the bond issue for the voters back home.

"It is absolutely imperative that these (bond) bills move through the Legislature without pork barreling and that they get through in sufficient time so that we can get some of the very critical projects under way this spring," Milliken said.

The Governor wants the lawmakers to authorize the Water Resources Commission to appropriate the money. He says Commission experts are "highly qualified" to determine which projects are needed Roger Babson

first. *****

CHAIRMAN Charles O. Zollar of the Senate Appropriations Committee insisted priorities would be followed in the Legislature as set by the Water Resources Commission.

However, lawmakers apparently are going to try to retain a certain amount of control over the spending. Zollar's committee plans to set up the spending of the bond money along the lines of a capital outlay law.

Under this procedure, final approval must come from the Legislature's Joint Capital Outlay Committee.

*****

THE HASSLE continues, meanwhile, over apportionment of the $100 million recreational bond issue. The Governor is pressing harder than ever for his plan to allot most of the money to the big urban areas, and outstate legislators remain as adamant as ever for the so-called "70-30" formula.

Conservationists and their friends in the Legislature argue that voters approved the bond program last fall with the understanding that at least 70 per cent of the funds would go to outstate projects and only 30 per cent

to the cities. ******

Milliken maintains there was no such promise and that the urban centers need the money more than the rural regions because of population density.

It appears Milliken may be fighting losing war. Even his fellow Republicans are critical of his plan and say they will work against it. *******

REVAMPING the oft-criticized U.S. Electoral College system in Michigan is the aim of a bill before the House. The measure would allow the state to split its 21 electoral votes among the presidential candidates rather than casting all for the nominee who wins a statewide plurality.

Specifically, the bill provides for 19 electors from the state's 19 congressional districts to be picked by each party in the Legislature, plus two statewide or at-large electors.

A congressional district elector would be obligated to cast his ballot for the presidential candidate getting a plurality of the votes within the statewide plurality. ********** FOR LACK of a better name, state officials are calling a seven-story building in the new capitol complex "The Seven Story Building." It's not very original, but it's the best they could come up with in a hurry. The other three buildings in the complex are also aptly named. The Treasury Building, The Highway Building and The Mason Building.

Already, some suggestions have come in to give "The Seven Story Building" a real name like perhaps "The Attorney General Building" because that's who occupies the top two floors or maybe even the "Kelley Building" for Atty. Gen. Frank J.

Airs Advantage, Disadvantages Of Convertibles convertible security is too far above its WELLESLEY HILLS,

Massachusetts - An increasing number of convertible securities have been issued by corporations in recent years. To a great extent, this has reflected the fast pace of merger activity and the tight money situation. Thus, many companies have used convertibles in making acquisitions and consummating mergers, while others have issued convertible securities as a means of raising capital at a cost below prevailing money rates.

Convertible securities possess some of the characteristics of both a senior security and a common stock. Generally, they offer a certain degree of safety, a dependable yield and, through the conversion feature, an opportunity for capital appreciation. Although convertible bonds and convertible preferred stocks represent two different types of senior securities with different features, they are usually viewed as a homogeneous group. This is because their differences tend to be over-shadowed by their common characteristic of convertibility.

AT FIRST glance, it might appear that all convertibles are ideal investments which offer "something for nothing'' through their convertibility feature. Such, however, is not usually the case. Generally, the investor must make some concessions in terms of quality and/or yield (in comparison to other fixed-income securities) as the price for the convertibility feature. If one's investment objectives are safety and stability, then the investor will usually do better in non-convertible bonds or preferreds. The investor who sacrifices quality for convertibility could be making a costly mistake. From a yield standpoint, a convertible holder may also be at a disadvantage. This is because the convertible feature does not automatically guarantee appreciation. If none occurs in the common stock, then the investor has given up the higher return he might have had from a non-convertible fixed-income security. PERHAPS the best opportunities in convertibles arise when they are viewed as an alternative to the purchase of a common stock. In this respect, the investor must look first at a common. If the common stock of a company offers a worthwhile opportunity for capital appreciation and/or growth, then the company's convertible issue (assuming one is available) could be even more attractive.

conversion value, it will have lost any possible advantage. Also, the yield on the convertible issue should be at least equal to, and preferably greater than, that available on the common.

should be purchased as an alternative to a company's common stock... when the convertible is selling at or near its conversion value; and when it has a yield equal to or higher than the common.

EVERY CONVERTIBLE issue is not an attractive investment commitment. Often, the advantages of a convertible exist in form only and prove quite illusionary. Nevertheless, many opportunities do arise for the watchful investor. It is the opinion of the Babson's Reports staff that convertible securities certainly warrant investor consideration in today's investment climate.

WWJ-TV to Salute Wixom Name Pursell To Child Center Subcommittee

Supervisor Carl D. Pursell, Northville representative, of Plymouth, will represent the County Board of Supervisors in deliberations on the feasibility of transferring the Wayne County Child Development Center to the State.

The Child Development Center, the only county-operated residential school for mentally retarded children in the nation, is located on a rolling campus near Northville. It lies within the 26th Supervisor's District, represented by Pursell.

A State take-over of the Child Development Center, a $3.4-million-a-year operation with approximately 300 students, was recommended by the County Board of Auditors after a study of the institution.

Pursell and representatives of the Board of Auditors and the Child Development Center administrative board will meet with State officials to explore the feasibility, and possible terms and conditions, of such a transfer.

Pursell was designated to represent the Board of Supervisors by the Child Development Center subcommittee of the Supervisors' Health, Education and Welfare Committee. First District Supervisor Michael J. Novak, of Detroit, is subcommittee chairman.

Wixom's many advantages will be explored and interesting facts about the city will be aired throughout the day on various WWJ programs.

Among the many WWJ personalities who will salute Wixom on April 14, are: Morrie Carlson, 5:30 to 9 AM; Bob Allison, 9:15 to Noon; Marty McNeeley, 12:30 to 5 PM; and Tom Hemingway, 7 to 11:30 PM.

Novi Man Gets State Police Rank

A Novi man was one of 51 Michigan State Police candidates to become probationary troopers in graduation ceremonies Wednesday afternoon for the 74th recruit school in East Lansing.

He is Trooper James R. Patterson, who lives with his wife and their three children at 44115 Grand River. His parents, Mr. and Mrs. Earl H. Patterson, are residents of Plymouth.

State Senator John F. Toepp of Cadillac was the principle speaker for the occasion. Governor William G. Milliken, originally scheduled to appear, was unable to attend.

Colonel Fredrick E. Davids of Plymouth, department director, administered the oath of office to the troopers, presented their badges and also spoke to the group.

The graduation, second this year, brings the department's enlisted strength to 1,755, the highest it has ever been and only five below the authorized complement of 1,760. The present active complement includes trooper candidates who reported for the 75th recruit school which began March 31. This class will graduate June 25.

"Modern Wixom has been growing rapidly. The location of a major Ford Motor Company assembly plant, as well as several other small industries, within the city has increased its tax base as well as its population. A master plan calling for the complete renewal of the city's business center has been adopted. A new civic center and the development of a 200-acre park point out the resident's hope for recreational as well as industrial development."
