IF IT'S NEWS...AND IT HAPPENS IN NORTHVILLE...YOU CAN READ IT IN THE RECORD

Vol. 99, No. 49, 20 Pages, Two Sections • Northville, Michigan — Thursday, April 17, 1969 • 10c Per Copy, $4 Per Year In Advance

GHOST OF THE PAST — Walled Lake Amusement Park, playground for millions over the years, is but a ghost of its past this spring. Closed permanently at the close of last year's season, the park grounds are strangely quiet, slated eventually for housing development. Now, with most of the other ride equipment removed, if you listen closely you can almost hear the screams of delight of those riding the roller coaster that appears ready for the first long climb and heart thumping drop into space.

Property Values To Top Estimates

Fat increases in state equalized valuations of area communities are predicted this week as county taxing officials audit local assessment figures.

A nearly 50-percent increase is likely in Novi where City Manager Harold Ackley estimates a total state equalized valuation of approximately $53 million — up from about $35 million last year.

Novi School Superintendent Thomas Dale predicts an increase of more than $10 million in just the school district portion of Novi.

In Northville Township where Supervisor Gunnar Stromberg has already received Wayne County's preliminary report, the new equalized valuation of the township is put at $30,549,130 — or $4,438,590 over the previous valuation.

How close these estimated increases stack up with actual equalized values will depend upon the county's findings in auditing local assessment figures that are to be submitted to county boards of supervisors for approval in May.

May Fund Drive Eyed for Cavern

A month-long drive with a goal of $6,000 to keep the Cavern, Northville's teen club, in operation will be conducted throughout May by the Cavern Community Fund-Raising Committee, it was revealed this week.

For the first time in its four years of operation the Cavern is seeking financial support from the community. In letters being sent this week to all local organizations the committee explains that the drive is necessary for several reasons.

Due to expanded school needs the club is being forced to vacate its present facility in the former community building and is leasing the basement of the old junior high school starting May 1.

The committee reports that the new facility will be adequate only after needed repairs and renovations are made. The club, which decorated its present quarters extensively to create an Old English atmosphere with darkened timbers and a feminine "posy-patterned" powder room now is making plans to transform the lower-level area of the old junior high into a "real cavern" with dark decor.

Second major need for the funds, the committee stated, is to pay the part-time advisor. The Reverend Timothy Johnson was hired when the programs of the teen-operated club increased so that an adult advisor was needed.

Initial funds for his salary for nine months were secured with a one-time-only grant from the United Community Services.

Specifically, local organizations are being asked by the Cavern fund-raising committee (1) to give expressions of public support for the Cavern to be used as part of the publicity campaign, (2) to stress individual financial support when members of the organizations are contacted in May, and (3) for any financial support the organizations can make. The Cavern is a non-profit, charitable organization with donations being tax deductible.

The committee also announces that speakers are available to speak before the local organizations and that Mrs. Harold L. Wright, Cavern fund-raising chairman, will answer questions.

Serving on the committee are Richard Ambler, Mrs. Louise Angove, Earl Busard, Mrs. John Brown, Robert Cole, Mrs. H. O. Evans, Mrs. Gordon Forrer, Dr. Robert Geake, William Heffner, Mrs. Kalin Johnson, Mrs. Jean Lanphar, Richard Martin, Mr. and Mrs. Samuel McSeveny, Frank Ollendorff, Jan Reef, Mrs. William Secord, Robert Shafer, John Steimel, Mrs. William Switzer, E. O. Weber, Dr. Homer Weir, Mrs. Herbert Weston, John Wisner, Mrs. A. L. Wistert and Mrs. Harold Wright.

Cavern representatives are Reverend Johnson, George Whitesell, president, and David Wright, treasurer.

A separate committee headed by Stan Johnston is seeking a long-range home for the Cavern.

Next meeting of the Cavern Community Fund-Raising Committee is scheduled for 8 p.m. Monday at the Cavern.

From Tax-Free Land

Board Acts to Oust Non-Tuition Students

Sixteen or more students came close to expulsion Monday night as the Northville Board of Education considered a controversial resolution that attempts to squeeze financial support from non-taxable institutions.

In the final analysis, however, the board delayed an inevitable legal confrontation to allow the students, some of whom are seniors, to finish out the school year.

At issue is the "questionable right" of non-taxed institutions to send students to Northville schools without paying tuition. Specifically, youngsters living on state, county and City of Detroit owned lands within the district have been attending schools here for many years without the school receiving any financial assistance from either the parents of these students or the institutions on whose land they live.

Similar situations exist throughout the state.

Trustee Richard Martin vigorously pushed for immediate implementation of the resolution, backing off only after a lengthy debate and a hastily called secret caucus. Initially, he demanded expulsion of all affected students who fail to pay tuition by next week. Following the caucus, called for by Secretary Dr. Orlo Robinson, he offered a revised resolution that provides that no students living on non-taxed lands will be permitted to enter Northville schools next fall without payment of tuition. The revised resolution won quick approval, with only Trustee Glenn Deibert voting no.

Pressed for an explanation from the audience, the board said the resolution included all non-taxed land — including church owned property. This would mean, for example, that ministers living in non-taxed homes would be required to pay tuition for their children attending Northville schools.

Sixteen students reportedly live on institutional property owned by the state, county and Detroit. An estimated six to eight more live in non-taxable church owned homes.

One way or another, the resolution is very likely to spark a major court battle with state-wide ramifications. But that's exactly what Trustee Martin wants. He contends the policy must be challenged. "If we don't take action the situation will continue indefinitely," he asserted.

When Superintendent Raymond Spear suggested that immediate implementation would be unfair to the 16 students at this late date in the school year, Martin argued that fairness demanded equity for the nearly 3,000 other students in the school system.

Other members, except Deibert, favored the resolution but not its immediate implementation. Deibert said he "could not on either the basis of conscience or reason support it."

The issue first came up last year when, at the urging of the board, Spear billed the state, county and Detroit for the tuition and sent explanatory notes to the parents of affected students. It was suggested then that the district might remove the students from school if the bills were not paid. When replies failed to come in, the agencies were notified again. This time, two of them replied negatively.

Meanwhile, although Martin was anxious to bring the matter to a head he "held off" at the suggestion of fellow members and a comment by Spear that the "day of reckoning" would come in April when reports on tuition students are prepared for the state.

When Martin proposed the resolution Monday, Spear suggested a delay until receipt of a written interpretation from the State Attorney General's office. He indicated that an assistant AG had ruled verbally that collection of such tuition is illegal. Furthermore, he suggested that the resolution might imperil the district's state aid.

During the long discussion, it was noted that although residents on non-taxed lands send students to school and pay no taxes or tuition they nevertheless are legally able to vote in school millage elections.

However, it was also noted that the district does receive state aid for the support of these students.

Board Opposes Aid To Non-Public Schools

Parochialism came under fire Monday as the Northville Board of Education adopted a resolution aimed at protecting free public education.

The board also adopted four other resolutions, to be sent to state legislators, concerning summer tax collections, school bond loan, penalization of districts with non-taxable lands, taxation on newly constructed homes.

Asserting that non-public aid would weaken public education by tapping state funds, the board went on record as opposing "any action by the state legislature which would provide support to non-public schools, credit to taxpayers who support non-public schools, or funds for retirement for employees in non-public schools."

A similar resolution was adopted last week by the Wayne County Intermediate School District.

None of the board members voted against the resolution, although Board President Stanley Johnston, a Catholic, emphasized that school officials must recognize the plight of non-public schools and look for ways of cooperating with non-public schools lest thousands of more students be forced back into the public school system and thus put an unbearable strain on public education.

Specifically, Johnston suggested that expansion of shared facilities might be one satisfactory answer.

Multiple Rezoning Opposition in Township

May 6 the Northville township board will hear its first requests for multiple-dwelling rezoning since citizens at the annual meeting took a public stand against additional apartment developments.

Specifically, the board will hear petitions from the Bert L. Smokler company seeking the rezoning of 44 acres on the southwest corner of Franklin and Bradner roads from R-4 (single family dwelling) to M-1 (multiple dwellings) to permit construction of 265 townhouses, and from Ross Northrop to rezone 11 acres from R-2 to M-1 to permit construction of 10 townhouses containing some 60 dwelling units on Sheldon road between Wayne County Child Development Center property and the Northrop-owned Brookland golf course.

Another rezoning item on the May 6 agenda seeks rezoning of a one-acre lot from R-4 to M-1 at First and Meade to allow construction of a three-family dwelling.

A resolution presented at the annual meeting that called for the banning of all multiple rezoning in Northville township was ruled out of order by the township attorney.

Nevertheless, the 83 township residents attending the annual meeting voted nearly unanimously in favor of the proposal knowing that it was not legally binding on the board, but indicating that it reflected public feeling.

Those presenting and supporting the anti-multiple resolution pointed out that they were concerned with the future population density of the township. They noted that the township's master plan calls for some 1,040 multiple dwelling units and that the total already approved exceeds 2,000.

Multiple-dwelling zoning critics point out that a preponderance of apartments increases the population density per acre over single-family dwelling zoning.

Advocates of multiple-dwelling development contend that such projects bring fewer children to the school system and pay a higher tax dividend per acre. They also argue that the modern trend is away from homes and towards townhouse or apartment living.

Presently, the 455-unit Kings Mill development on Northville road is more than half completed; Greenspan developers are underway on a 260-unit project on Five Mile at Bradner; Thompson-Brown plans 477 apartment units in its 911-dwelling development at Six Mile and Bradner; and Levitt and Sons has just won approval for a development on 400 acres between Seven and Eight Mile roads (in Manning-Locklin gravel pits) that will include 900 townhouses, 400 apartment units in addition to 325 single-family dwelling units.

Township Attorney John Ashton said this week that he would submit a written opinion to the township board upholding the opinion given at the annual meeting regarding the resolution prohibiting multiple rezoning.

"Clearly electors at an annual meeting cannot take away the legislative authority granted directly to the board of trustees", Ashton stated. He noted that this opinion has been supported by the attorney general.

Area Man on Downed Plane

A 21-year-old Northville-South Lyon youth was one of 31 U. S. Navy crewmen aboard the Super Constellation aircraft which North Korea claims to have shot down over the Sea of Japan Monday night.

He is Gene K. Graham, son of Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth L. Graham. The Grahams live on Seven Mile road just west of Chubb road.

Mrs. Graham said that a Navy officer reported to her Tuesday morning that her son was aboard the missing craft.

Although one search plane had reported sighting debris some 120 miles off the coast of North Korea Tuesday night, definite identification or signs of survivors were still not reported Wednesday morning.

It has been reported that the huge Navy plane was shot down by two Soviet-built MiG jet fighters. North Korea uses MiG jets in its air force.

Graham, an aviation electronics technician, was graduated from South Lyon high school in 1966. He entered the Navy in December, 1966 and has been in Japan since March, 1968.

Mrs. Graham said her son "always wanted to fly."

"I know it's dangerous. But that's what he wanted to do. He always tells us not to worry... that there's no war on... I picture him coming home all in one piece."

The Grahams have a 16-year-old daughter, Diane, who is a tenth grader at South Lyon high school.

To Dedicate Pool Sunday

Northville's high school swimming pool, in operation since September, will be dedicated Sunday afternoon in a ceremony beginning at 2 p.m.

Called the High School Natatorium, the facility will be dedicated in the memory of the late Edward F. Angove, whose efforts as a member of the board of education were instrumental in the pool's construction.

School officials have indicated that seating capacity around the pool will be approximately 260 persons.

Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Graham were interviewed in their home Tuesday night by TV 7 news commentator, Jim Herrington.

She is Mrs. Kenneth Morse, the club's 1968 "queen" for having lost 51½ pounds last year - all in 38 weeks.

The club's enthusiastic new leader, Margaret Morse, took lunch-hour time from her work on the Northville Board of Education staff to tell how members presently are working on menu plans for their reducing programs. A tall, slim brunette, she proved to be an effective endorsement for the club program.

Any women of the community interested in losing weight are invited to join the group.

"If all you have to lose are pounds," whimsically writes Mrs. Bissa, "come visit us and everyone probably will see less of you!"

Wixom Police Raid Bar for Gambling

Police Thursday night raided a Wixom tavern for alleged gambling offenses. After three months' investigation, Acting Chief Lawrence Beamish and Vice Officer Roger DeClercq of the Wixom Police determined that a raid was necessary. Basis for investigation and raid, DeClercq said, was because the police had received numerous gambling complaints over the past few months including one of a wife complaining that her husband had lost "an entire paycheck of nearly $300" gambling at the pool table in the Continental Bar, 49110 Grand River.

Fred and Beatrice Burleigh, owners of the bar, were cited as a result of the raid for allowing gambling in their establishment. The citation came from a member of the Michigan Liquor Control Commission who accompanied police on the raid.

In addition two men were arrested for gambling. They were both cited for playing pool for money with one of two officers from outside departments the Wixom police planted in the bar. Named were Harold Greer, 57127 Pontiac Trail, New Hudson and Charles R. Kosoky of Detroit. The other planted officer was an observer who watched the gambling in progress and also watched the bartender to see if he was aware that gambling was in progress.

Greer and Kosoky were both released on $25 personal bonds for gambling and will appear before Judge Martin Boyle in Walled Lake District Court later this month. Warrants also are being prepared for Mr. and Mrs. Burleigh, police said. Beamish and DeClercq promise further raids and crackdowns if they prove necessary "to keep Wixom a great place to live."

In Uniform

Duane B. Briggs Jr. is expected home Sunday following completion of basic naval training at Great Lakes Naval Training Center in Illinois. Briggs entered the Navy February 18 and will be assigned to a battle ship in Hawaii following his leave.

The leave will be spent at the home of Briggs' grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Dana Briggs of 327 Yerkes Street.

GREAT LAKES, ILLINOIS (FHTNC) April 4 - Fireman Apprentice J. Anderson, USN, son of Mr. and Mrs. Melvin L. Anderson of 310 West Dunlap, graduated from the Basic Propulsion Engineering training at the U. S. Naval Training Center, Great Lakes, Illinois.

Car Hits Mailbox, Motorist Hurt

Novi's most harrowing accident last week involved Ernest W. Schultz of 53229 West 8-Mile. He was westbound on Eight Mile early Thursday evening when his car knocked over the mailbox at 48948 Eight Mile and continued on, weaving all over the road, police said.

After forcing two eastbound cars off the road, Schultz left the road on the north side and flipped into the air, with his car coming to rest in the field.

One of the witnesses forced from the road told Novi Officer Jack Grubb that he had observed Schultz hide a sack behind a tree. When found, the sack contained two glasses and a partially full bottle of wine.

Schultz was treated at St. Mary Hospital for bruised ribs and cut hands and released.

The case is still under investigation.

A Detroit girl called Novi police last week Wednesday to report that she had been raped by two men in a private driveway on Twelve Mile Road early the previous morning.

Warrants are being issued this week for two males.

Felonious larceny was reported Thursday from the porch of the Ollie Deaton home at 25325 South Wixom Road in Novi.

Two men drove into the driveway and one got out of the car and removed a fish net and a tool box from the porch and got back into the car which then sped away.

The case is under investigation.

Freedom Group Eyes History

Fifty years of work by the Women's International League for Peace and Freedom, which also will be a "bird's-eye view" of relations between nations as they struggled through several wars toward world community, will be reviewed by the league's Northville-Plymouth branch at its annual meeting at 8 p.m. Monday with Mrs. Clara Dickerson, 9571 Summit, Salem.

Mrs. James Perna is to review the book on the work of the league from 1915 to 1965 written by Dr. Gertrude Bussey, former professor of philosophy at Goucher College and former president of the U.S. Section. Mrs. Margaret Tims, member of the British Section of the league, collaborated.

A discussion on current policies in relation to arms control, disarmament, the ABM, and efforts for a cease-fire in Vietnam and toward improved national priorities will follow. Guests are welcome with further information available from Mrs. C. E. Woodruff, 349-1644.

Northville Spoils New Track Debut

South Lyon initiated its new track Tuesday afternoon, but Northville was hardly the cordial guest and the weather didn't cooperate either.

Northville piled up points in the one-mile and two-mile runs and surprisingly in the 100-yard dash to beat South Lyon 63-54 in the first dual meet of the young season for both schools.

South Lyon Coach Lee Donley, who worked Friday night and most of Saturday and Sunday to get the new track in meet condition, said, "I thought they would give us fits in the mile and two mile, but I thought we would win the 100."

Instead, John Stuyvenberg won the 100-yard dash in :10.5, while teammate Glenn Heffner took second. Pat Currier of South Lyon finished a disappointing third.

Stuyvenberg was one of the day's

Netters Defeat Tough W-O Foe

Jack Townsley's Mustang tennis squad couldn't have picked a better time for their first win of the year.

It came Monday at the expense of Bloomfield Hills Andover, in the Wayne-Oakland opener for both squads and was the first time in the memory of current members of the squad that they have ever beaten the Barons in tennis.

Townsley pointed out that Andover's best player was ill and didn't make the trip to Northville, but he hastened to add that his squad was vastly improved over earlier showings and would have battled the Barons all the way in any case.

Winning for Northville were number one and two singles Charley Skene and Bruce Grysiewicz and the number two doubles team comprised of Marc Sheffer and Curt Saurer. Skene beat Dave Lau 4-6, 6-2, 6-2, while Grysiewicz disposed of Kevin Koch 6-2 and 6-4. Sheffer and Saurer beat Charles Frick and Jordie Rosenthal of Andover 6-2, 2-6, 6-3.

Not so fortunate were number three singles Gary Harper who was bounced by Steve McCraw 2-6 and 4-6, and the number one doubles combo of Vince Parent and Mark Gazlay who fell decisively to the Barons' duo of Bob Dedoes and John Neely, 1-6 and 0-6.

Although improvement still must be shown by his squad, Townsley expressed satisfaction with their present progress.

Schoolcraft Wins, Too

Schoolcraft College took its first step toward moving up in the community college all-sports standings Monday when coach Jack Waska's netters topped Monroe Community College 5-2.

Schoolcraft opened at home (at Livonia Stevenson) and lost only two matches - the number one singles and the number one doubles - in netting the victory.

Winners for the local college included two Northville graduates - number two singles Randy Burnett and number five Dave Eberhart. Burnett won a tough match by scores of 4-6, 6-1 and 6-4, while Eberhart breezed to a 6-0, 6-2 victory.

Other Schoolcraft winners were numbers three and four singles Joe Hodges (6-0, 6-0) and Jim Wolnosky (6-3, 6-2). The number two doubles team of Hodges and Wolnosky also won their match, this by scores of 6-2 and 6-0.

The tennis squad goes to Port Huron for a meet with St. Clair Community College tomorrow and returns to Stevenson to host Macomb on Saturday.

Novi Thinclads Thump Milan

Novi's thinclads showed a Class "B" school some real class Monday when they hosted Milan and sent the visitors home on the short end of and 82 2/3 to 35 1/3 score.

The Wildcats shattered three school records and Jon Van Wagner won four individual events in the process of trouncing Milan. Lev Tafraian broke the shot mark by putting 43'2 1/2" as Novi finished 1-2-3 in the event; the 880 relay squad of Gary Boyer, Rick Dale, Don Maki and John Davey posted the record time of 1:37.2; and Ken Osborn jumped 20'5 1/2" in finishing second in the long jump.

Van Wagner won the high jump at six feet, the pole vault at 11 feet, the 120-yard high hurdles (:16.9) and the 180-yard low hurdles (:22.5).

Chase Files Suit Over 'Forced Ouster'

A court move to block efforts to strip him of the presidency of the firm he founded has been launched by William B. Chase of Northville.

The Shatterproof board of directors last week issued a news release (see story Page 3-B) that Chase was retiring as president of Shatterproof Glass Corporation and that the board had elected his son-in-law, E. Jan Hartmann, to succeed him.

However, Chase contends he was forced out in an illegal maneuver by Hartmann, his daughter, Mrs. Patricia Hartmann; his son, William B. Chase II; and Dudley E. Grimes, manufacturing vice-president.

Chase, who contends the board of directors meeting was illegal because proper notification was not given and because a quorum was not present, has filed suit in Wayne County Circuit Court.

Dr. Spock Bombards U.S. for Vietnam Policy

The man who gained prominence and riches by waving diapers and international popularity by waving the flag of controversy struck blows for the nation's so-called peace movement here Thursday.

Dr. Benjamin Spock, facing a jail sentence and a heavy fine for conspiracy to aid and abet draft evasion spared none of his verbal arsenal in attacking the government and its involvement in Vietnam before an enthusiastic audience at Schoolcraft Community College.

The sympathetic, predominantly young audience, which included a sprinkling of angry Vietnam veterans who challenged the speaker, gave Spock their support by their applause and their questions. He returned the favor by lauding the "Spock Generation", a pseudonym for those raised on pabulum and his best seller.

Before he had concluded his talk and answered questions, Spock had — —Labeled the Vietnam war "illegal and immoral."

—Defended and encouraged dissent.

—Condemned police action at the Democratic National Convention in Chicago.

—Scored a number of national leaders — saving his most vehement blasts for former President Johnson.

The United States, said Spock in outlining "illegalities" of the war, was never invited into Vietnam and went there as a result of no commitment — but rather as "a pure power grab."

"If we had allowed the election to go ahead that had been promised the Vietnamese people by the Geneva Accord they would have voted 80-percent for Ho Chi Minh. He (the late President Eisenhower) thought this was a justification for interfering. In other words we couldn't get the country in any legitimate way — we had to steal it and we stole it as a democracy knowing that 80-percent of the people were against what we were trying to impose."

The United States, he said, compounded this "illegal act" by installing Diem — "Our first puppet dictator" — at the head of the government.

"When our president keeps saying we have a commitment and that the people are asking us — it is our own puppets who are asking us, and what kind of a justification is that for being in a country? ... We're not there because of a treaty obligation."

The second illegal act, he said, was that the United States under the late President Kennedy refused to live up to its promise to the United Nations to submit the matter to the UN for arbitration and instead sent in "military advisors".

The third illegality, he continued, was President Johnson's "sudden escalation of the war — carrying the bombing to North Vietnam and beginning the introduction of troops, now a number over 5,000 men." This move, Spock said, was in violation of the U. S. Constitution which says only Congress can declare war. Johnson "lied" and used "fraud" in gaining Congressional support of his action in Vietnam, charged Spock.

Johnson's action was "outrageous", he said, particularly after promising not to escalate the war. "I say this with some bitterness because as probably some of you know I participated in Johnson's campaign."

Fourth, the army, navy and the air force "took to wholesale violations of the laws of wars," he said. "Our government has been destroying crops on a vast scale in South Vietnam — and it's forbidden by the laws of war. Our government has been destroying dwellings wholesale in South Vietnam and in North Vietnam — and this is forbidden..."

"I'm not saying that the war in Vietnam was slightly illegal or slightly immoral, I say it's a total abomination. We have no right whatsoever to be there and we've behaved disgracefully."

Shifting gears, Spock said he and other Americans have a right to oppose the government in Vietnam in view of these illegalities. "What I did and what the other people did who were indicted with me was to sign a call to resist illegitimate authority. It was a simple statement that says we older people believe in those young men, who refuse to go and kill and be killed in a war that they know is illegal and immoral, and we will stand with them morally and we will help to raise funds for their defense.

"We remind people ... that the United States government along with our allies ... put to death, after World War II. German war criminals and Japanese war criminals for committing crimes against humanity. When these so-called war criminals said 'all we were doing was obeying the orders of our superiors' our American judges said that's no excuse, if you knew these orders were illegal and were crimes against humanity you're obligated to refuse to obey those orders."

"So all we were saying is if the Nuremberg principle means anything for Germans and Japanese certainly it must mean something for Americans, too."

Turning to "law and order", Spock said he is "for law and order" but officials who demand it "leave out the question of justice. Law and order can be maintained in the long run only when it's based on justice. We don't have justice in regard to the law in Vietnam; we don't have justice in regard to what's being done to black people."

"I think many Americans forget how large a proportion of social change has been brought about by illegal methods. And in recounting these things it's not that I'm advocating illegality."

"Women suffrage. Women didn't get the vote by writing polite notes to the president ... They did that for years and they got absolutely nowhere and after a while they got mad and they went out and they broke windows and they cut heads off statues and they laid down in Pennsylvania Avenue so that traffic couldn't move ... and then it got through the heads of the senators and the representatives that women were serious about wanting this justice..."

Spock saw nothing wrong with campus revolt so long as it is not violent or destructive. "Where do you draw the line? How far can you, how far should you go in defying law and order? Of course there is no answer to this. It's a mass of relativity."

"The real test of whether you're

County Report Asks Greater War on Crime

A report which declares "we are fighting a losing battle" against crime in Wayne County and recommends major new programs to reverse the trend, has received preliminary approval as the first step toward seeking funds under the Federal Safe Streets and Crime Control Act.

Product of a six-month study, the report was approved "in principle" by the Law Enforcement and Public Safety Committee of the County Board of Supervisors April 9. It will form the basis of Wayne County's bid for part of more than $1-million in Federal anti-crime funds available in Michigan.

Twenty-nine recommendations are made in the report. The study was directed by Hubert G. Locke, former administrative assistant to the Detroit police commissioner, under the auspices of the Wayne County Coordinating Committee on Crime Control.

Four recommendations were given top priority:

—Creation of a metropolitan crime laboratory at the Sheriff's Road Patrol headquarters to serve local police departments outside Detroit. Estimated cost: $77,525.

—A Police-Juvenile Attitude Project to improve relations between police and youngsters 12-16 years old through educational programs for both groups. Cost: $96,500.

—Training of special counselors in two junior and two senior high schools in high crime areas to serve as probation officers for youngsters who have had contact with Juvenile Court. Cost: $110,463.

—A Youth Employment Service to help probationers and parolees 17-21 years old to find jobs and, through special counseling, to hold the jobs and avoid future trouble with the law. Cost was not estimated.

4 Students Cited at LIT

Four area residents have been named to the Dean's honor roll at the Lawrence Institute of Technology for academic excellence during the past term. They maintained better than a 3.5 scholastic average out of a possible 4 points.

They are: Jamie Jameson, 113 East Cady, who is studying industrial management; Kevin Barnes of 860 Allen Drive, who is studying architecture; Dennis Bidwell, 9650 Chubb Road, who is studying architecture; and Steven Tretinink of 40232 Washington, Novi, who is studying electrical and electronic technology.

DR. BENJAMIN SPOCK; WAR'S A TOTAL ABOMINATION

acting wisely in militant dissent 'are you really furthering your cause by your particular brand of militancy?'

Pressed on this point during the lengthy question and answer period, Spock said thousands of laws are in conflict and it sometimes becomes necessary to break those laws to test their validity in the courts.

Although Spock, through his book, has been blamed and praised for today's permissive generation and civil disobedience of youth, he ironically called for stronger parental control.

"For the last 10 years," he said, "I've been trying to tell American parents don't be afraid of alienating your children; give them strong leadership. They won't hate you for this... American parents, especially college educated parents, are getting more afraid of their children every year. They're afraid of giving firm leadership in fear that their children will hate them."

Spock was challenged by the remarks of a young Vietnam veteran who asked, "Have you been to Vietnam yourself, to visit the GI's there?" When the peace advocate answered no, the veteran continued:

"Everything you say I disagree with completely because I've been there for a year and I'm going back next month. I'm proud to say that I'm over there fighting for my country."

After receiving a loud applause, the veteran asked Spock on what he based his contention that about the only support the United States has in Vietnam is the North Vietnam civilian and military leaders. And when Spock began to answer by saying "I'm basing this on the fact", he was interrupted by the veteran who asked, "on the fact?" Spock then continued, carefully using the words "on the observation," noting that with the huge allied army it seems impossible that "we can always be the ones who can be pushed back if the people are on our side."

When another veteran asserted that Spock and his kind are cowards who aid the cause of the enemy while Americans are dying, Spock replied, "I respect soldiers who go over there and fight in a disciplined way. This is not their choice; this is not their war."

"I have great respect for the older people who have kids there, who are resentful of people like myself who talk against the war. Obviously, if you have a son there you must want to believe in the war; you don't want to think your son is there for no purpose."

Spock added that there are many men who come back from Vietnam who are "thoroughly disillusioned by the war and are very active in the peace movement." One veteran in the audience spoke up in defense of Spock.

Spock then addressed himself to the "coward" label.

"I think (a person) should be willing to work for his country. I happen to believe that I'm working for my country. I was for America coming to the support of South Korea when there was an attack from North Korea. I was for the United States going to war against Hitler, and I served in the Navy during World War II. I think people owe an obligation to their country. But I think in a democracy people also owe an obligation to their country to decide whether their leaders are wise."

I don't mean they should be quibbling all the time, but they should object when they smell what they take to be a stench of a war, like the war in Vietnam, if they're convinced by reading history that it is not only illegal and immoral but detrimental to the best interest of their country. By this I mean the United States has lost the leadership of the free world by carrying on a war that has caused our country to be despised by neutral people and by our allies around the world."

Soloists for the presentation of the Mendelssohn oratorio, "Elijah" by the Schoolcraft College combined choirs and orchestra on Friday, April 18, have been announced by Bradley Bloom, conductor.

The performance is scheduled for 8 p.m., in the Lois L. Waterman Campus Center. Admission is free.

Soloists named by Bloom are Carol Carlson and L. June Haskett, sopranos, Linda Deater, alto; Richard V. Jaynes, Tenor; and Don Gresch, baritone.

A soloist with the Plymouth Presbyterian Church choir, Mrs. Carlson is a graduate of Duke University where she sang in University Madrigals and the University Choir and sang leads in student musical shows. She has taken graduate work in music at the University of Michigan.

Miss Haskett was permanent guest soloist for three years with the widely known Cocksbutt Male Choir of Brantford, Ontario, and has appeared in concert and television performances of oratorios with the Bach-Elgar Choir of Hamilton, Ontario. She has sung frequently with the Schoolcraft College Choir during the past three years.

Miss Deater, who has aspirations for a professional vocal career, is attending the University of Michigan where she sang a principal role in the university's Gilbert & Sullivan Society's production of "Iolanthe." She is a soloist contestant in the Eistedfod Festival in Llangollen, Wales, this summer, and will participate in a four-week tour of England and Wales with the Mona Shores High School Choir. She is a scholarship winner at both Interlochen and the University of Michigan.

Jaynes has appeared as tenor soloist with the Rackham Choir of Detroit, the Westminster Presbyterian Church choir, Detroit, and with the Grand Rapids Summer Chorale. He is a member and soloist with the Detroit Cantata Academy and has been a frequent soloist in oratorio work with various choral societies.

Former director of music at Timothy Lutheran Church, Livonia, Gresch is presently a doctoral candidate in musicology at the University of Michigan. He has been a music instructor at Luther College (Decorah, Iowa), and at Wisconsin State University, as well as in the Dearborn Heights and Flint school systems.

He has appeared as a soloist in oratorio and cantata works with choirs in Michigan, Indiana, Iowa, and Maryland.

Bloom, who will conduct the combined choirs and orchestra, joined the Schoolcraft College music faculty in the fall of 1968, and is instructor of music theory and conductor of college choirs.

Township Ignores Novi Taxpayers

Although citizens of Novi voted to incorporate their community as a city and dissolve the township, officials of the defunct township believe it is incumbent upon themselves to continue to oppose the will of the people on behalf of the people.

Repeatedly slapped down by the courts, the township struggle goes on in a fairy-tale hope that someday, somewhere city incorporation will be upset. Adamant in their conviction that incorporation is illegal, township officials believe they owe it to the people to fight until the last dog is dead.

That the people of Novi, through the democratic process of election, have said they want a city government — not a township — to represent them apparently is of no concern of township officials. Nor, apparently, are they concerned that their conviction must be paid for by the people.

After spending an untold amount of taxpayers' money to wage their court battles (the exact cost has never been publicly revealed) township officials now say they'll continue the fight without using anymore tax dollars. Instead, contributions will be used; their attorney, Emery Jacques, Jr., will volunteer his services free.

What they're saying is this: Before WE divide the remaining assets of the township with the city, before WE give up our offices, before WE permit the citizens' voice to be heard, WE will continue to wage OUR fight — but WE won't use anymore tax dollars.

Isn't that a magnanimous gesture?

Just who do these township officials believe will foot the bill for the city that they insist on forcing back into the courtroom? Have they forgotten that taxpayers of the defunct township are also taxpayers of the city?

An aroused citizenry recently shouted foul and demanded ouster of free-spending county supervisors. We believe Novi citizens need not look beyond their own boundaries to find similar evidence of unscrupulous spending. They need only look to their township officials, who not only refuse to abide by the citizen's decision at the polls but who insist on dipping again into the citizens pocketbook.

By ROLLY PETERSON

"Faces", John Cassavetes' newest film which received three Academy Award nominations, isn't a pretty picture by any stretch of the imagination, but artistically it's a moving story of lost lives.

What makes "Faces" unsettling is its frank look at life in black and white and specifically, the break-up of a marriage. There is no softening of its blunt message. The camera focuses on faces and people, showing hair follicles, moles and false eyelashes.

The characters are truly grotesque, not that they're wrenched out of shape to fit some pre-conceived notion, or to make them larger than life. They are grotesque in that personalities are life size and they're none too pretty.

All the characters act from a selfish standpoint, hoping to gain for themselves some measure of satisfaction, usually at the expense of others. But, in fact, they only hurt themselves.

Cassavetes' approach to the subject of marital break-up, which does not necessarily end in divorce, is discomfiting and unusual. Though frank, it is tranquil, like a smoothly flowing river, relentlessly pursuing its fateful ending. Man and wife go for the jugular, but with gloves on.

The story centers around a man and wife who have drifted apart as naturally as two pilotless boats. We are never given the reason, except that the problem now manifests itself in the wife's cool attitude toward her husband's advances.

Turned off, he seeks the company of a confused call-girl. She, too, is a pilotless ship, quite lost in a sea of troubles and quite helpless to help anybody else.

The wife's foray is just as unfortunate and pitiful. She seeks her kicks with her coterie of female friends, who, like herself, are well-heeled and socially a part of the upper crust. They visit a psychedelic nightclub, make friends with a young gigolo and compete for his charms in orgiastic fashion.

The extra-marital affair drives the wife to the walls of despair, with guilt as her executioner. She takes an overdose of pills, but fails to kill herself.

Like lost ships with homing devices, the two pilotless vessels return to their ultra-modern house to face each other and the future. Their extra-marital experiences have proven indelicate that marriage is the lesser of life's evils.

SPEAKING for The Record

By BILL SLIGER

A document like the Bill of Rights might have difficulty in winning legislative approval today, State Attorney General Frank J. Kelley told an inter-faith audience of men's club members at the First Presbyterian church here last week.

The smooth-speaking attorney general had a double-barrel message. While emphasizing the moral crisis and the impact of organized crime on our modern society, he warned against over-reaction in the name of restoring law and order.

He had a few unkind words for the communications field, particularly television. He said that the news media were helping to "tear down our confidence in one another" and he blamed TV and the newspapers for causing people to think that the majority of college students were in revolt, "when really it's only one per cent".

"If there'd been five pickets outside the church when I came here tonight to speak, we'd have made all the TV networks. But it's an orderly meeting, so who cares", Kelley asked.

But the attorney general saved his big guns for the crime syndicates.

"Organized crime is so treacherous that no one would ever believe it", he exclaimed. In one year, Kelley noted, illegal gambling did a business of $7 billion. The same year General Motors was grossing $1.6 billion. "If this illegal gambling activity were taxed, the nation could afford a 10 per cent income tax reduction".

He said the best way to fight organized crime is not to be one of its customers.

"Don't buy the football or basketball pool tickets. The people who sell them couldn't exist without supporting organized crime", Kelley emphasized.

The attorney general also noted that the crime chiefs running the daily "numbers game" make certain that any number getting a big play doesn't win. "They can't even play an illegal game honestly...they rig the winning number so the payoff will be small".

He pointed to money-lending racket as one of the most vicious of the syndicate-controlled activities. One-hundred per cent interest per month isn't unusual...and the penalty for non-payment is either loss of your business or your life, Kelly stated.

It all seemed a little hopeless when the attorney general tossed out these remarks:

—only one per cent of the crime that takes place is discovered and, of course, not every case is prosecuted successfully;

—in order for organized crime to exist there must be cooperation from public officials...right from the ranks of the police up (he didn't say how far up).

But there is hope. As usual it rests with the people — those who elect the officials, who are willing to pay taxes for more police, better educated police, who are unwilling to tolerate graft in government.

If every guy refused to buy a football pool ticket or take a chance on a lucky number, a big hole would be shot into the profit picture of the organized crime.

Paid to be Killed?

To the Editor:

The Northville Police Association, concerned by the negative thinking of so many people pertaining to the work of their policemen, was impressed with an article written by Martha Hart for the Detroit Police Association's newspaper, TUEBOR, in memory of the slain officer Stanley Rapaski. We would like to share parts of it with you:

"Policemen are paid to take chances and be killed."

These are the words of a top city official — spoken to me in an interview two years ago. My reply was simple, "They're not paid enough to take the chances you suggest to me. Try telling a widow that her husband was paid well to get killed."

Are you quick to criticize them, and yell for their scalp, but ever so slow to give them a pat on the back? Are you one of those who feel that a policeman should take everything that is dished out to him — verbally, mentally, and physically as if he were a mechanical man — a robot — with no feelings?

No matter how diligent you are, you don't always get support — from your own department — your city officials — or even the courts. If you go to make an arrest and someone goes limp; you try to take them into custody and as soon as you touch them, they yell, "Police brutality" — a crowd gathers — all screaming and yelling — not at the criminal — but at you!

How would you feel? Would your original statement still stand? Would you also add to it the following, "If a policeman doesn't like it, he can always quit."

It has been said of a lot of policemen's wives — "you seem so calm. Don't you ever worry about your husband and the job he is doing?"

Don't let the exterior look fool you. We certainly do worry. We know that when we bid our husband goodbye as he goes off to work that he has a good chance — about one in 10 — of being assaulted — that he might be one of the almost 100 a year who are killed in the United States each year.

How do you find the words to tell a woman that the husband she bid goodbye to just a short time ago will never return home again? Do you ease the shock by telling her that he was "paid to take chances and be killed?"

Do you tell her he was killed by a convicted criminal who was out on parole? I wouldn't unless you want her to ask you about the justice in the courts — and the parole boards.

How can you fill the void that is there in the lives of all who knew this slain policeman? There is no one to take his place. No one can quite fill his shoes.

No amount of money in the world can ever replace the man in our home. We'd much rather see him walking up to the house after a tour of duty. We'd welcome again the chance to cheer him up when he comes home after being harassed — threatened — threatened and subjected to all kinds of abuse.

Dear God, I earnestly pray that time has mellowed the heart and the thinking of the one who could only say, "Policemen are paid to take chances and be killed."

Let this not be the policeman's epitaph!

Spring's really here at last. I know because my wife's been sniffing mothballs. I've got this feeling that there's a snake lurking in the folds of our family room couch.

All of which is pretty ordinary stuff around our place.

Anyway, last week to satisfy my wife I checked my son's menagerie. The tadpoles, turtles, kangaroo rat, and the garter snake were tucked safely in the cages, bottles and boxes lined up next to their bed.

"You can come out," I assured the woman hiding in the closet, "I've just checked the boys' room and there's nothing missing."

A terrified eye peered from the crack before she squeezed out, "Oh yes there is. The big one's gone. It's in the couch!"

Those words, 'the big one', were more upsetting than the crying. "What big one?" I asked.

"They only had the one garter snake."

"Not anymore. Joey brought home a big one today," she explained. "He was playing with it on the couch and it got loose."

Just a trifle worried, I looked up our youngest animal trainer — the one with wet shoes and muddy pants — and asked, Did you find another snake? "Yup." Was it a big one? "Yup." What kind? "A brown-ringed crawler." You mean a garter snake, don't you? "Nope. A brown-ringed crawler." It didn't have rattles on its tail, did it? "Nope. Just brown rings." How long was it? "This long," he answered holding his two grubby fists about two feet apart.

A door banged shut and from the other side of the birch plywood our oldest daughter shouted, "If it gets into my room I'll just die."

Joey's older brother — the one with a torn shirt and cut cheek — giggled, their mother moaned some more, and I started getting one of those television headaches.

"Okay, fellows, this is it," I said authoritatively. "I want that snake captured — dead or alive. And if you don't get 'em, out goes everything — turtles, rats, snakes, everything!"

"Why don't you put the boys out, too," chipped in our in-between daughter who doesn't like brothers.

"Does that go for the dog?" asked another daughter.

"Everything and everybody," I shouted.

"The baby, too?"

And from behind the birch plywood, where Glen Campbell continually blabbers about a Texas town, a militant voice said, "Not me. Never. I've got homework."

During the ensuing safari I recuperated on the upstairs couch, occasionally taking in the kindly words between brothers and sisters downstairs, while my wife continued to sniff mothballs. Suddenly the noise was gone and in its place came whispering. In a house with six kids quiet means trouble. So I bounced down the stairs and demanded, "Okay, where's the snake?"

All eyes turned to Joey, who, on the verge of tears, said, "He crawled out the backdoor. Jennifer left it open and it just crawled out before we could catch it. It's gone. Can we keep our animals now?"

Fathers are saps for alibies, even when they're suspicious alibies. So I accepted the explanation, and for the sake of family tranquility saved the menagerie and coaxed their mother from the closet.

Now I've got this feeling. To make matters worse I think my wife's hooked on mothballs, and our encyclopedia doesn't have a word about "brown-ringed crawlers."

'Transplant' Bill Survives Surgery

LANSING — Without major surgery, the state Senate has passed a bill to eliminate the legal-medical maze over human organ transplants in Michigan.

The measure sailed through the Upper Chamber in much the same form it was introduced three months ago by Sen. N. Lorraine Beebe, Dearborn Republican.

Specifically, it designates who may donate a heart, kidney or other organ, and provides protection for physicians performing operations.

Some doctors and hospitals in Michigan are now reluctant to authorize transplant operations because of questions involving the medical, moral and legal aspects of the issue.

Anyone over 18 and of sound mind could will his organs for use after death if Senator Beebe's bill makes it through the House and the Governor's office. Doctors involved in the National Emphasis Switches From Industry to Services

BABSON'S REPORTS, Wellesley Hills, Mass. — When this country was first founded ours was an agrarian society, meaning that most of our production and employment was in agriculture. In the late 1800's and early 1900's we changed over to an industrial society. Now, during the 1960's, we have become the world's first service economy.

Defining the service sector is rather difficult. It is generally accepted that it consists of the intangibles — i.e., insurance, retail trade, finance; whereas the industrial sector produces the tangibles — automobiles, steel, and the like. Using a broad definition, the service economy is made up of a wide variety of personal, professional, and business services, retail and wholesale, trade, repairs, finance, insurance, and government.

Although the service economy has expanded greatly in terms of employment, it has lagged far behind both agriculture and industry in terms of productivity. Automation in the factory and on the farm has boosted productivity in these areas tremendously; but there has been only limited automation in the service sector. The computer has heightened productivity of the larger service industries, but has had little effect on the smaller-size

State Repairs I-96

Westbound traffic on a short section of Interstate 96 just west of Wixom will be restricted for about three weeks so repairs can be made to a bridge carrying Old Plank Road over the freeway.

Traffic will be reduced from three to two lanes from 8 to 10 a.m. and from 3 to 5 p.m., and to one lane from 10 a.m. to 3 p.m.

transplant procedure would be immune from liability.

Other key provisions designate accredited hospitals, surgeons and medical schools as parties eligible to receive organs for transplant, and allow an adult to make an organ gift by signing a document in the presence of at least two witnesses. There is also a provision for revoking the gift.

University of Michigan medical experts, who have performed three successful heart transplants, strongly supported the bill.

MICHIGAN'S difficulties over the time of day have taken another twist. The Upper Peninsula has been authorized to rejoin the lower part of the state in the Eastern Time Zone.

Congressman Philip E. Ruppe, a Houghton Republican, announced the action by U.S. Transportation Secretary John Volpe.

"Since the summer daylight time is not a legal option in Michigan," Ruppe said, "opinion coming into my office and into the department of transportation ran nearly 10 to 1 in favor of Eastern Zone."

TWO YEARS AGO, the federal government placed the U.P. in the Central Time Zone, saying its economic ties were closer with those in Wisconsin than those in lower Michigan.

But three counties — Chippewa, Mackinac and Luce — at the eastern edge of the Peninsula, had declared themselves in the Eastern Zone.

Now, Ruppe says, "some areas near the Wisconsin border express preference for Central Time." He said there were indications that some areas at the western end of the Peninsula might decide to stay on Central Time.

Ruppe, who represents the entire U.P. as well as several lower Michigan counties, said the zone change will become effective April 27, when most of the nation goes on daylight savings time.

BUT MICHIGAN voters last November decided against going on DST. That means that Michigan, instead of being in time-tune with New York, will be in step with Chicago.

With Volpe's ruling, however, most of the U.P. will move its clocks forward one hour to line up with the Lower Peninsula.

A bill has been introduced in the Michigan House to give cities 80 per cent of the $100 million recreation bond money, and outstate areas 20 per cent.

Rep. James Bradley, Detroit Democrat, chief sponsor of the plan, said the money should go "where Michigan's problems are."

Gov. William G. Milliken has recommended 60 per cent of the funds go to the cities. Conservationists and their friends in the Legislature maintain voters approved the program with the understanding 70 per cent would find its way to outstate areas, and only 30 per cent to the urban centers.

BUT BRADLEY said there are lots of problems in the cities "and the recreation money is a good way of straightening them out. People living in the ghettos have as much right to recreational facilities as those who live in the suburbs and are able to get to state parks and other facilities."

Bradley's bill faces an uphill struggle. The sentiment of the lawmakers seems to be more along the 70-30 division proposed by outdoorsmen.

businesses which make up over 90% of the total industry. And it is difficult to see how the local barber, beautician, or insurance salesman can improve on his output. Hence, while the service segment will undoubtedly enjoy improved productivity in the future, it will be limited.

EMPLOYMENT and income in a service economy are quite different than in an industrial economy. Employment in the former is relatively stable when compared to that of the industrial worker throughout the business cycle. The consumer can put off buying a new automobile indefinitely, but cannot react the same way when he needs a doctor. In the future, the fluctuation of total unemployment will be milder due to the growth of the service economy.

Average wages in the service sector are lower than in the industrial. There are several reasons for this, among them: productivity, unionization, and the general employment mix. There is very little organized labor in the basic service industry, owing to the characteristically small number of persons employed in each company. Recently, however, the services do seem to be getting more organized. Teachers, sanitation personnel, police, and firemen have joined forces to demand better wages. This trend has been gaining momentum, and the future results will be a closing of the gap between their wage structure and that for workers in industry.

The fact that the service industry does not require strong physical endurance has resulted in a high proportion of women and older people in the work force, who have historically faced wage discrimination. Recent regulations which forbid discrimination based on sex or age will bring higher wages for these people.

Employment in the service area, which has grown rapidly over the past 30 years, will continue this trend but at a slower rate. Technology will advance productivity, but its potential is limited by the inherent personalization of the industry. Income has been improving and will continue to as long as the demand for services continues. People are demanding more and more different services — such as interior decorating, income tax assistance, and medical attention — which will account for most of the future growth in the industry. We are now a service economy in terms of employment and should remain so to an even greater degree in the future. But we will still be an industrial economy when production is the basis for comparison.

County Home Rule Bid Headed for Postponement

It appears that another attempt to achieve county home rule in Wayne County will be postponed until the statewide elections in the fall of 1970 because of the high cost of holding a home rule election any sooner.

Spokesmen for organizations which supported the county home rule proposition, which was defeated 362,299 to 316,459 in the general election last November 5, agreed on postponement in a meeting with a committee of the County Board of Supervisors, Wednesday, April 9.

The agreement hinged on a commitment that the Board of Supervisors will place the county home rule proposition on the ballot for the 1970 primary.

The meeting was held by the Supervisors' General Government Committee, which several weeks ago voted in favor of another county home rule election "as soon as practicable."

At the same time, the committee asked for estimates of what a home rule election would cost if held at various times.

It was estimated that a county-wide election held in conjunction with the Detroit municipal elections next fall could cost a total of $496,930. If a special home rule election were required by initiative petition, a resort which has been discussed within the county, the total cost could be $891,930.

In contrast, no extra cost would be involved if the proposition were placed on the county-wide ballot next fall, the committee was told.

At Wednesday's meeting, members of the committee voted unanimously to recommend that the Board of Supervisors adopt a resolution declaring its intention to place county home rule on the ballot next fall.

Adoption of the resolution placing the proposition on the ballot must be delayed until later because the Michigan County Home Rule Act requires that the election be held within 180 days of adoption of the resolution.

Northville District Court

Arraignments again led court activities last week in the Northville branch of Judge Dunbar Davis' District Court.

Three persons, led in amount by Dave F. Buda of 511 West Cady, did pay fines, however.

Buda was assessed a fine and judgment fee of $78 for reckless driving on April 3 and another restitution for a blanket he tore in the city jail.

John W. Krajewski of Wayne waited until he was picked up by Wayne County's Sheriff's Department to appear for defective equipment (exhaust). By waiting for a warrant arrest, he found his fine much larger than it would have been if he had appeared as scheduled — he paid $73 in fine and fee.

Leon Kwek appeared for allowing his dog to run at large. The 615 Baseline Road resident paid $8.

Paying $103 in fine and judgment fee was Roy C. Hollis of 516 Randolph for driving under the influence of alcohol. In addition, Hollis surrendered his license which was forwarded to the Michigan Department of State.

Nelson M. Hyatt of 21482 Summerside paid $8 on a traffic warrant for driving on an expired operator's license.

Glen E. Gooch of 430 North Center Street pleaded guilty to a dog ordinance warrant and paid $8.

Annual Meeting Minutes

NORTHVILLE TOWNSHIP ANNUAL MEETING April 5, 1969 107 S. Wing

Meeting opened at 1:00 p.m. by Supervisor Stromberg. The full Board was present as well as acting Township attorney, Mr. Scully, Sliker and Hoffman from the Northville Record, and about eighty Township residents and guests.

Motion by Straub that the meeting temporarily adjourn because of lack of accommodation for the crowd in the Township Hall, and re-convene in the Board room at 405 W. Main, the old Jr. High Building. Baldwin seconded. Ayes: All.

Meeting reopened at 1:12 p.m. at 405 W. Main. The Supervisor extended a welcome to those present and then asked for the minutes of last year's Annual Meeting, March 30, 1968.

Clerk Hammond read the minutes of said meeting. No corrections or questions, the minutes were moved to be approved by Richard Mitchell, Trustee, seconded by Mrs. Woodruff. Ayes: All.

Treasurer Lawrence read the annual Treasurer's report. Mr. C. Hammond moved to accept the report as read, seconded by Mr. J. Moorhead. Ayes: All.

Supervisor Stromberg gave a resume of activity in the Township during the year just past. He reminded us that on April 17, 1968 our Supervisor, Bob Merriam, passed away, and he, Gunnar, was appointed to fill the vacancy until the election in November when he was officially elected for a two year term.

As to Township growth in 1968-69, Smoker's King's Mill has 260 occupied units as of April first, and Greenspan's development has 10 occupied out of a possible 294 individual homes and 24 occupied apartments out of 260. Thompson-Brown had approval of 320 lots, plus zoning approved for the North side of Six Mile Road, with 10 model homes now under construction. Adding a few scattered residences built throughout the area, this meant an addition of $9,484,433 in valuation to the Township from April 1, 1968 to April 1, 1969. Levitt & Sons are coming in with 400 some acres where there will be approximately 1625 homes, townhouses and apartments. This development is due for completion in five to six years.

The water and sewer department of the Township is also growing fast. On July 17th, 1968 a contract was finally signed with the State for a water line to the Northville State Hospital on Seven Mile Road. Most of the surveying is done and the consulting engineer, Mr. Mosher, expects the line should be in operation some time in September. The line is to run from 8 Mile Road up to 7 Mile Road and then turn southwest a little to Six Mile Road and down to Sheldon Road. However, if we are able to get enough bonds, the line will extend on Six Mile Road, west and on 7 Mile Road east.

There have been changes this year in the manner of payment to members of the Building Department. Now the inspectors of building, electric, plumbing and heating are on salary basis instead of receiving a percentage of fees.

With so many large developers busy building in the area, the sewer capacity will soon be used up, according to our engineer. He and the Supervisor were authorized by the Board to begin negotiations to acquire several more CFS's, based on a study by the Planning Commission and consultant as to our future needs. Livonia has extra CFS's that we will probably be able to rent until Wayne County completes their new interceptor to serve this area. The Supervisor concluded his remarks by saying that he was always open for constructive criticism and that people should feel free to contact him at any time.

REQUIRED BUSINESS

1. Township Board Meetings - This represents a change from former years, when the Board Meeting was always held on the first Tuesday of each month. It was moved by W. Sliker, seconded by Mr. Danielson, that Resolution No. 69-4 be adopted to hold regular Township Board Meetings on the second Tuesday of each month at 8:00 p.m. at the Northville Township Hall. Ayes: All.

2. Bank Depository - Mr. E. O. Weber moved that Resolution No. 69-5 be adopted designating the Manufacturer's National Bank, Northville Branch, as the depository for Township funds for the fiscal year 1969-70. Second by Mrs. Wilson. Ayes: All.

3. Budget and One Mill Tax - Mr. Guido made a motion to reduce the Police item (III.2) on the proposed budget from $12,000 to $6,000. Second by J. Tellam. A long discussion followed. In answer to Mrs. Meyer's question, the Supervisor said that the duties of the local policeman were to enforce local ordinances (of which there are 28), concentrating chiefly on the Trash, No Hunting and Dog Ordinances.

Mr. Armstrong explained that the Board had formed a police department about two years ago and had hired Mr. Nisun, part time, to enforce local ordinances only. Mr. Baldwin stated that he felt this part time coverage has been and still is adequate. Trustee Mitchell added that the County Sheriff and the State Police, who constitute our total protection in the Township, do not enforce local ordinances. That is why we must have our own police department. It is a waste of time to enact these ordinances and then not provide an adequate enforcement of them. Mrs. Woodruff felt that this budget item should not be lowered, thereby leaving the Township unable to provide this enforcement.

Mr. Stromberg announced that he has appointed a new Police Study Committee composed of those willing to serve from the former committee, plus Mr. Wilson Tyler and a member from the Township Board, M. R. Mitchell. This committee is to bring the former report up to date, with figures from the City, County, etc. on comparative costs of police protection, along with their recommendation. Mr. D. Thomson remarked that the Northville area is growing fast and we cannot afford to go backward in our policing, we must build it up. The question was asked whether the State and County would reduce services if we hired a full time man. (One man, forty hours a week.)

Vote called for and the motion was defeated. Ayes: 21, Nays: 46.

Mr. Melvin Mitchell moved that the budget be approved as presented, and that one mill be assessed against the Township's assessed valuation. Seconded by Mr. M. Cayley. 3 Nays, Motion passed.

OTHER BUSINESS

Mr. J. Nowka asked for the floor and presented a resolution for the Clerk to read to the meeting regarding the re-zoning of residential areas to multiples, particularly in the Eastern half of the Township. The resolution requested the Board to disallow completely any further multiple building. Mr. Scully, acting Township attorney, stated that the Annual Meeting was not a proper place for such a resolution. The Annual Meeting cannot touch anything as far as zoning matters are concerned. The only recourse the electors have in this matter would be by way of referendum or by coming to a Township Board meeting and giving an advisory opinion. Mr. Nowka said that the point he was trying to get across was simply a guideline for further activity, an assurance that the Board would conform to the existing Master Plan of the Township. Mr. Baldwin said it would be a mistake to have such a resolution on the books. In case of a public hearing, the petitioner would claim that he was not getting a fair hearing. Mr. Moorhead suggested that the Board would be well-advised to adhere to the zoning plan in the original Master Plan.

Mrs. Woodruff suggested that since it was illegal to vote on this matter in the form of a resolution, it would be a good idea to have a straw vote, with just a showing of hands. A straw vote was then taken, based on a motion by Nowka, seconded by Koenig, and the motion carried with only three nay votes.

Mr. Weber moved to adjourn, seconded by Mrs. Wm. Smith. Ayes: All.

Meeting adjourned at 3:05 p.m.

Respectfully submitted, Eleanor W. Hammond, Clerk
